They speak with flattering lips, and with a double heart.

³ May the LORD cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that boasts,

⁴ who have said, "With our tongue we will prevail.

Our lips are our own.

Who is lord over us?"

⁵ "Because of the oppression of the weak and because of the groaning of the needy,

I will now arise," says the LORD;

"I will set him in safety from those who malign him."

⁶ The LORD's words are flawless words, as silver refined in a clay furnace, purified seven times.

⁷ You will keep them, LORD.

You will preserve them from this generation forever.

⁸ The wicked walk on every side, when what is vile is exalted among the sons of men.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

Will you forget me forever?

How long will you hide your face from me?

² How long shall I take counsel in my soul, having sorrow in my heart every day?

How long shall my enemy triumph over me?

³ Behold, and answer me, LORD, my God.

Give light to my eyes, lest I sleep in death;

⁴ lest my enemy say, "I have prevailed against him;"

lest my adversaries rejoice when I fall.

⁵ But I trust in your loving kindness.

My heart rejoices in your salvation.

⁶ I will sing to the LORD, because he has been good to me.

For the Chief Musician. By David.

¹ The fool has said in his heart, "There is no God."

They are corrupt.

They have done abominable deeds.

There is no one who does good.

² The LORD looked down from heaven on the children of men, to see if there were any who understood, who sought after God.

³ They have all gone aside.

They have together become corrupt.

There is no one who does good, no, not one.

⁴ Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge,
who eat up my people as they eat bread,

- and don't call on the LORD?
⁵ There they were in great fear,
 for God is in the generation of the righteous.
⁶ You frustrate the plan of the poor,
 because the LORD is his refuge.
⁷ Oh that the salvation of Israel would come out of Zion!
 When the LORD restores the fortunes of his people, then Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

A Psalm by David.

- ¹ LORD, who shall dwell in your sanctuary?
 Who shall live on your holy hill?
² He who walks blamelessly and does what is right, and speaks truth in his heart;
³ he who doesn't slander with his tongue, nor does evil to his friend,
 nor casts slurs against his fellow man;
⁴ in whose eyes a vile man is despised,
 but who honors those who fear the LORD;
 he who keeps an oath even when it hurts, and doesn't change;
⁵ he who doesn't lend out his money for usury, nor take a bribe against the innocent.

He who does these things shall never be shaken.

16

A Poem by David.

- ¹ Preserve me, God, for I take refuge in you.
² My soul, you have said to the LORD, "You are my Lord.
 Apart from you I have no good thing."
³ As for the saints who are in the earth, they are the excellent ones in whom is all my delight.
⁴ Their sorrows shall be multiplied who give gifts to another god.
 Their drink offerings of blood I will not offer,
 nor take their names on my lips.
⁵ The LORD assigned my portion and my cup.
 You made my lot secure.
⁶ The lines have fallen to me in pleasant places.
 Yes, I have a good inheritance.
⁷ I will bless the LORD, who has given me counsel.
 Yes, my heart instructs me in the night seasons.
⁸ I have set the LORD always before me.
 Because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.
⁹ Therefore my heart is glad, and my tongue rejoices.
 My body shall also dwell in safety.
¹⁰ For you will not leave my soul in Sheol,* neither will you allow your holy one to see corruption.

* 16:10 Sheol is the place of the dead.

¹¹ You will show me the path of life.
In your presence is fullness of joy.
In your right hand there are pleasures forever more.

A Prayer by David.

Give ear to my prayer that doesn't go out of deceitful lips.
² Let my sentence come out of your presence.
Let your eyes look on equity.
³ You have proved my heart.
You have visited me in the night.
You have tried me, and found nothing.
I have resolved that my mouth shall not disobey.
⁴ As for the deeds of men, by the word of your lips,
I have kept myself from the ways of the violent.
⁵ My steps have held fast to your paths.
My feet have not slipped.
⁶ I have called on you, for you will answer me, God.
Turn your ear to me.
Hear my speech.
⁷ Show your marvelous loving kindness, you who save those who take refuge by your right hand from their enemies.
⁸ Keep me as the apple of your eye.
Hide me under the shadow of your wings,
⁹ from the wicked who oppress me,
my deadly enemies, who surround me.
¹⁰ They close up their callous hearts.
With their mouth they speak proudly.
¹¹ They have now surrounded us in our steps.
They set their eyes to cast us down to the earth.
¹² He is like a lion that is greedy of his prey,
as it were a young lion lurking in secret places.
¹³ Arise, LORD, confront him.
Cast him down.
Deliver my soul from the wicked by your sword, ¹⁴ from men by your hand, LORD, from men of the world, whose portion is in this life.
You fill the belly of your cherished ones.
Your sons have plenty,
and they store up wealth for their children.
¹⁵ As for me, I shall see your face in righteousness.
I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with seeing your form.

For the Chief Musician. By David the servant of the LORD, who spoke to the LORD the words of this song in the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul. He said, ¹ I love you, LORD, my strength.

² The LORD is my rock, my fortress, and my deliverer;

- my God, my rock, in whom I take refuge;
my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower.
- ³ I call on the LORD, who is worthy to be praised;
and I am saved from my enemies.
- ⁴ The cords of death surrounded me.
The floods of ungodliness made me afraid.
- ⁵ The cords of Sheol* were around me.
The snares of death came on me.
- ⁶ In my distress I called on the LORD,
and cried to my God.
He heard my voice out of his temple.
My cry before him came into his ears.
- ⁷ Then the earth shook and trembled.
The foundations also of the mountains quaked and were shaken, because he was angry.
- ⁸ Smoke went out of his nostrils.
Consuming fire came out of his mouth.
Coals were kindled by it.
- ⁹ He bowed the heavens also, and came down.
Thick darkness was under his feet.
- ¹⁰ He rode on a cherub, and flew.
Yes, he soared on the wings of the wind.
- ¹¹ He made darkness his hiding place, his pavilion around him, darkness of waters, thick clouds of the skies.
- ¹² At the brightness before him his thick clouds passed,
hailstones and coals of fire.
- ¹³ The LORD also thundered in the sky.
The Most High uttered his voice:
hailstones and coals of fire.
- ¹⁴ He sent out his arrows, and scattered them.
He routed them with great lightning bolts.
- ¹⁵ Then the channels of waters appeared.
The foundations of the world were laid bare at your rebuke, LORD,
at the blast of the breath of your nostrils.
- ¹⁶ He sent from on high.
He took me.
He drew me out of many waters.
- ¹⁷ He delivered me from my strong enemy, from those who hated me; for they were too mighty for me.
- ¹⁸ They came on me in the day of my calamity,
but the LORD was my support.
- ¹⁹ He brought me out also into a large place.
He delivered me, because he delighted in me.
- ²⁰ The LORD has rewarded me according to my righteousness.
According to the cleanness of my hands, he has recompensed me.
- ²¹ For I have kept the ways of the LORD,
and have not wickedly departed from my God.
- ²² For all his ordinances were before me.
I didn't put away his statutes from me.

* 18:5 Sheol is the place of the dead.

- 23 I was also blameless with him.
I kept myself from my iniquity.
- 24 Therefore the LORD has rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in his eyesight.
- 25 With the merciful you will show yourself merciful.
With the perfect man, you will show yourself perfect.
- 26 With the pure, you will show yourself pure.
With the crooked you will show yourself shrewd.
- 27 For you will save the afflicted people,
but the arrogant eyes you will bring down.
- 28 For you will light my lamp, LORD.
My God will light up my darkness.
- 29 For by you, I advance through a troop.
By my God, I leap over a wall.
- 30 As for God, his way is perfect.
The LORD's word is tried.
He is a shield to all those who take refuge in him.
- 31 For who is God, except the LORD?
Who is a rock, besides our God,
32 the God who arms me with strength, and makes my way perfect?
- 33 He makes my feet like deer's feet,
and sets me on my high places.
- 34 He teaches my hands to war,
so that my arms bend a bow of bronze.
- 35 You have also given me the shield of your salvation.
Your right hand sustains me.
Your gentleness has made me great.
- 36 You have enlarged my steps under me,
My feet have not slipped.
- 37 I will pursue my enemies, and overtake them.
I won't turn away until they are consumed.
- 38 I will strike them through, so that they will not be able to rise.
They shall fall under my feet.
- 39 For you have armed me with strength to the battle.
You have subdued under me those who rose up against me.
- 40 You have also made my enemies turn their backs to me, that I might cut off those who hate me.
- 41 They cried, but there was no one to save;
even to the LORD, but he didn't answer them.
- 42 Then I beat them small as the dust before the wind.
I cast them out as the mire of the streets.
- 43 You have delivered me from the strivings of the people.
You have made me the head of the nations.
A people whom I have not known shall serve me.
- 44 As soon as they hear of me they shall obey me.
The foreigners shall submit themselves to me.
- 45 The foreigners shall fade away,
and shall come trembling out of their strongholds.
- 46 The LORD lives! Blessed be my rock.
Exalted be the God of my salvation,

- ⁴⁷ even the God who executes vengeance for me,
and subdues peoples under me.
- ⁴⁸ He rescues me from my enemies.
Yes, you lift me up above those who rise up against me.
You deliver me from the violent man.
- ⁴⁹ Therefore I will give thanks to you, LORD, among the nations, and will sing praises to your name.
- ⁵⁰ He gives great deliverance to his king,
and shows loving kindness to his anointed,
to David and to his offspring,[†] forever more.

19

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- ¹ The heavens declare the glory of God.
The expanse shows his handiwork.
- ² Day after day they pour out speech, and night after night they display knowledge.
- ³ There is no speech nor language where their voice is not heard.
- ⁴ Their voice has gone out through all the earth,
their words to the end of the world.
In them he has set a tent for the sun,
⁵ which is as a bridegroom coming out of his room, like a strong man rejoicing to run his course.
- ⁶ His going out is from the end of the heavens,
his circuit to its ends.
There is nothing hidden from its heat.
- ⁷ The LORD's law is perfect, restoring the soul.
The LORD's covenant is sure, making wise the simple.
- ⁸ The LORD's precepts are right, rejoicing the heart.
The LORD's commandment is pure, enlightening the eyes.
- ⁹ The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring forever.
The LORD's ordinances are true, and righteous altogether.
- ¹⁰ They are more to be desired than gold, yes, than much fine gold, sweeter also than honey and the extract of the honeycomb.
- ¹¹ Moreover your servant is warned by them.
In keeping them there is great reward.
- ¹² Who can discern his errors?
Forgive me from hidden errors.
- ¹³ Keep back your servant also from presumptuous sins.
Let them not have dominion over me.
Then I will be upright.
I will be blameless and innocent of great transgression.
- ¹⁴ Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in your sight,
LORD, my rock, and my redeemer.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

[†] 18:50 or, seed

- ¹ May the LORD answer you in the day of trouble.
May the name of the God of Jacob set you up on high,
² send you help from the sanctuary,
grant you support from Zion, ³ remember all your offerings, and accept your burned sacrifice.

Selah.

- ⁴ May he grant you your heart's desire,
and fulfill all your counsel.
⁵ We will triumph in your salvation.
In the name of our God, we will set up our banners.
May the LORD grant all your requests.
⁶ Now I know that the LORD saves his anointed.
He will answer him from his holy heaven,
with the saving strength of his right hand.
⁷ Some trust in chariots, and some in horses,
but we trust in the name of the LORD our God.
⁸ They are bowed down and fallen,
but we rise up, and stand upright.
⁹ Save, LORD!
Let the King answer us when we call!

21

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- ¹ The king rejoices in your strength, LORD!
How greatly he rejoices in your salvation!
² You have given him his heart's desire,
and have not withheld the request of his lips.
- Selah.
- ³ For you meet him with the blessings of goodness.
You set a crown of fine gold on his head.
⁴ He asked life of you and you gave it to him, even length of days forever and ever.
⁵ His glory is great in your salvation.
You lay honor and majesty on him.
⁶ For you make him most blessed forever.
You make him glad with joy in your presence.
⁷ For the king trusts in the LORD.
Through the loving kindness of the Most High, he shall not be moved.
⁸ Your hand will find out all of your enemies.
Your right hand will find out those who hate you.
⁹ You will make them as a fiery furnace in the time of your anger.
The LORD will swallow them up in his wrath.
The fire shall devour them.
¹⁰ You will destroy their descendants from the earth, their posterity from among the children of men.
¹¹ For they intended evil against you.
They plotted evil against you which cannot succeed.
¹² For you will make them turn their back,
when you aim drawn bows at their face.

- ¹³ Be exalted, LORD, in your strength,
so we will sing and praise your power.

For the Chief Musician; set to "The Doe of the Morning." A Psalm by David.

- ¹ My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?
Why are you so far from helping me, and from the words of my groaning?
- ² My God, I cry in the daytime, but you don't answer;
in the night season, and am not silent.
- ³ But you are holy,
you who inhabit the praises of Israel.
- ⁴ Our fathers trusted in you.
They trusted, and you delivered them.
- ⁵ They cried to you, and were delivered.
They trusted in you, and were not disappointed.
- ⁶ But I am a worm, and no man;
a reproach of men, and despised by the people.
- ⁷ All those who see me mock me.
They insult me with their lips. They shake their heads, saying,
⁸ "He trusts in the LORD.
Let him deliver him.
Let him rescue him, since he delights in him."
- ⁹ But you brought me out of the womb.
You made me trust while at my mother's breasts.
- ¹⁰ I was thrown on you from my mother's womb.
You are my God since my mother bore me.
- ¹¹ Don't be far from me, for trouble is near.
For there is no one to help.
- ¹² Many bulls have surrounded me.
Strong bulls of Bashan have encircled me.
- ¹³ They open their mouths wide against me,
lions tearing prey and roaring.
- ¹⁴ I am poured out like water.
All my bones are out of joint.
My heart is like wax.
It is melted within me.
- ¹⁵ My strength is dried up like a potsherd.
My tongue sticks to the roof of my mouth.
You have brought me into the dust of death.
- ¹⁶ For dogs have surrounded me.
A company of evildoers have enclosed me.
They have pierced my hands and feet.*
- ¹⁷ I can count all of my bones.
They look and stare at me.
- ¹⁸ They divide my garments among them.
They cast lots for my clothing.
- ¹⁹ But don't be far off, LORD.

* 22:16 So Dead Sea Scrolls. Masoretic Text reads, "Like a lion, they pin my hands and feet."

You are my help. Hurry to help me!

²⁰ Deliver my soul from the sword,
my precious life from the power of the dog.

²¹ Save me from the lion's mouth!
Yes, you have rescued me from the horns of the wild oxen.

²² I will declare your name to my brothers.
Among the assembly, I will praise you.

²³ You who fear the LORD, praise him!
All you descendants of Jacob, glorify him!
Stand in awe of him, all you descendants of Israel!

²⁴ For he has not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted, neither has he hidden his face from him;
but when he cried to him, he heard.

²⁵ My praise of you comes in the great assembly.
I will pay my vows before those who fear him.

²⁶ The humble shall eat and be satisfied.
They shall praise the LORD who seek after him.
Let your hearts live forever.

²⁷ All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn to the LORD.
All the relatives of the nations shall worship before you.

²⁸ For the kingdom is the LORD's.
He is the ruler over the nations.

²⁹ All the rich ones of the earth shall eat and worship.
All those who go down to the dust shall bow before him, even he who can't keep his soul alive.

³⁰ Posterity shall serve him.
Future generations shall be told about the Lord.

³¹ They shall come and shall declare his righteousness to a people that shall be born,
for he has done it.

A Psalm by David.

¹ The LORD is my shepherd;
I shall lack nothing.

² He makes me lie down in green pastures.
He leads me beside still waters.

³ He restores my soul.
He guides me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

⁴ Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil, for you are with me.

Your rod and your staff,
they comfort me.

⁵ You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies.

You anoint my head with oil.
My cup runs over.

⁶ Surely goodness and loving kindness shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the LORD's house forever.

A Psalm by David.

- ¹ The earth is the LORD's, with its fullness;
the world, and those who dwell in it.
- ² For he has founded it on the seas,
and established it on the floods.
- ³ Who may ascend to the LORD's hill?
Who may stand in his holy place?
- ⁴ He who has clean hands and a pure heart;
who has not lifted up his soul to falsehood,
and has not sworn deceitfully.
- ⁵ He shall receive a blessing from the LORD, righteousness from the God of his salvation.
- ⁶ This is the generation of those who seek Him, who seek your face—even Jacob.

Selah.

- ⁷ Lift up your heads, you gates!
Be lifted up, you everlasting doors,
and the King of glory will come in.
- ⁸ Who is the King of glory?
The LORD strong and mighty,
the LORD mighty in battle.
- ⁹ Lift up your heads, you gates;
yes, lift them up, you everlasting doors,
and the King of glory will come in.
- ¹⁰ Who is this King of glory?
The LORD of Armies is the King of glory!

Selah.

25

By David.

- ¹ To you, LORD, I lift up my soul.
- ² My God, I have trusted in you.
Don't let me be shamed.
Don't let my enemies triumph over me.
- ³ Yes, no one who waits for you will be shamed.
They will be shamed who deal treacherously without cause.
- ⁴ Show me your ways, LORD.
Teach me your paths.
- ⁵ Guide me in your truth, and teach me,
for you are the God of my salvation.
I wait for you all day long.
- ⁶ LORD, remember your tender mercies and your loving kindness, for they are from old times.
- ⁷ Don't remember the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions.
Remember me according to your loving kindness,
for your goodness' sake, LORD.
- ⁸ Good and upright is the LORD,

therefore he will instruct sinners in the way.

9 He will guide the humble in justice.

He will teach the humble his way.

10 All the paths of the LORD are loving kindness and truth to such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.

11 For your name's sake, LORD, pardon my iniquity, for it is great.

12 What man is he who fears the LORD?

He shall instruct him in the way that he shall choose.

13 His soul will dwell at ease.

His offspring will inherit the land.

14 The friendship of the LORD is with those who fear him.
He will show them his covenant.

15 My eyes are ever on the LORD, for he will pluck my feet out of the net.

16 Turn to me, and have mercy on me,
for I am desolate and afflicted.

17 The troubles of my heart are enlarged.
Oh bring me out of my distresses.

18 Consider my affliction and my travail.
Forgive all my sins.

19 Consider my enemies, for they are many.
They hate me with cruel hatred.

20 Oh keep my soul, and deliver me.

Let me not be disappointed, for I take refuge in you.

21 Let integrity and uprightness preserve me, for I wait for you.

22 God, redeem Israel out of all his troubles.

By David.

1 Judge me, LORD, for I have walked in my integrity.
I have trusted also in the LORD without wavering.

2 Examine me, LORD, and prove me.
Try my heart and my mind.

3 For your loving kindness is before my eyes.
I have walked in your truth.

4 I have not sat with deceitful men, neither will I go in with hypocrites.

5 I hate the assembly of evildoers, and will not sit with the wicked.

6 I will wash my hands in innocence,
so I will go about your altar, LORD,

7 that I may make the voice of thanksgiving to be heard and tell of all your wondrous deeds.

8 LORD, I love the habitation of your house,
the place where your glory dwells.

9 Don't gather my soul with sinners, nor my life with bloodthirsty men

¹⁰ in whose hands is wickedness;
their right hand is full of bribes.

¹¹ But as for me, I will walk in my integrity.

Redeem me, and be merciful to me.

¹² My foot stands in an even place.

In the congregations I will bless the LORD.

27

By David.

¹ The LORD is my light and my salvation.

Whom shall I fear?

The LORD is the strength of my life.

Of whom shall I be afraid?

² When evildoers came at me to eat up my flesh, even my adversaries and my foes, they stumbled and fell.

³ Though an army should encamp against me,
my heart shall not fear.

Though war should rise against me,
even then I will be confident.

⁴ One thing I have asked of the LORD, that I will seek after:
that I may dwell in the LORD's house all the days of my life,
to see the LORD's beauty,
and to inquire in his temple.

⁵ For in the day of trouble, he will keep me secretly in his pavilion.
In the secret place of his tabernacle, he will hide me.
He will lift me up on a rock.

⁶ Now my head will be lifted up above my enemies around me.
I will offer sacrifices of joy in his tent.
I will sing, yes, I will sing praises to the LORD.

⁷ Hear, LORD, when I cry with my voice.
Have mercy also on me, and answer me.

⁸ When you said, "Seek my face," my heart said to you, "I will seek your face, LORD."

⁹ Don't hide your face from me.
Don't put your servant away in anger.

You have been my help.
Don't abandon me,
neither forsake me, God of my salvation.

¹⁰ When my father and my mother forsake me, then the LORD will take me up.

¹¹ Teach me your way, LORD.
Lead me in a straight path, because of my enemies.

¹² Don't deliver me over to the desire of my adversaries, for false witnesses have risen up against me,
such as breathe out cruelty.

¹³ I am still confident of this:
I will see the goodness of the LORD in the land of the living.

¹⁴ Wait for the LORD.
Be strong, and let your heart take courage.

Yes, wait for the LORD.

28

By David.

¹ To you, LORD, I call.

My rock, don't be deaf to me,
lest, if you are silent to me,
I would become like those who go down into the pit.

² Hear the voice of my petitions, when I cry to you, when I lift up my hands toward your Most Holy Place.

³ Don't draw me away with the wicked, with the workers of iniquity who speak peace with their neighbors, but mischief is in their hearts.

⁴ Give them according to their work, and according to the wickedness of their doings.

Give them according to the operation of their hands.
Bring back on them what they deserve.

⁵ Because they don't respect the works of the LORD, nor the operation of his hands,
he will break them down and not build them up.

⁶ Blessed be the LORD, because he has heard the voice of my petitions.

⁷ The LORD is my strength and my shield.
My heart has trusted in him, and I am helped.

Therefore my heart greatly rejoices.

With my song I will thank him.

⁸ The LORD is their strength.

He is a stronghold of salvation to his anointed.

⁹ Save your people,
and bless your inheritance.

Be their shepherd also,
and bear them up forever.

A Psalm by David.

¹ Ascribe to the LORD, you sons of the mighty,
ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.

² Ascribe to the LORD the glory due to his name.
Worship the LORD in holy array.

³ The LORD's voice is on the waters.

The God of glory thunders, even the LORD on many waters.

⁴ The LORD's voice is powerful.

The LORD's voice is full of majesty.

⁵ The LORD's voice breaks the cedars.

Yes, the LORD breaks in pieces the cedars of Lebanon.

⁶ He makes them also to skip like a calf;

Lebanon and Sirion like a young, wild ox.

⁷ The LORD's voice strikes with flashes of lightning.

⁸ The LORD's voice shakes the wilderness.

The LORD shakes the wilderness of Kadesh.

- ⁹ The LORD's voice makes the deer calve, and strips the forests bare.
In his temple everything says, "Glory!"

- ¹⁰ The LORD sat enthroned at the Flood.
Yes, the LORD sits as King forever.

- ¹¹ The LORD will give strength to his people.
The LORD will bless his people with peace.

A Psalm. A Song for the Dedication of the Temple. By David.

- ¹ I will extol you, LORD, for you have raised me up,
and have not made my foes to rejoice over me.
- ² LORD my God, I cried to you,
and you have healed me.
- ³ LORD, you have brought up my soul from Sheol.*
You have kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit.
- ⁴ Sing praise to the LORD, you saints of his.
Give thanks to his holy name.
- ⁵ For his anger is but for a moment.
His favor is for a lifetime.
Weeping may stay for the night,
but joy comes in the morning.
- ⁶ As for me, I said in my prosperity,
"I shall never be moved."
- ⁷ You, LORD, when you favored me, made my mountain stand strong;
but when you hid your face, I was troubled.
- ⁸ I cried to you, LORD.
I made supplication to the Lord:
- ⁹ "What profit is there in my destruction, if I go down to the pit?
Shall the dust praise you?
Shall it declare your truth?"
- ¹⁰ Hear, LORD, and have mercy on me.
LORD, be my helper."
- ¹¹ You have turned my mourning into dancing for me.
You have removed my sackcloth, and clothed me with gladness,
¹² to the end that my heart may sing praise to you, and not be silent.
LORD my God, I will give thanks to you forever!

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- ¹ In you, LORD, I take refuge.
Let me never be disappointed.
Deliver me in your righteousness.
- ² Bow down your ear to me.
Deliver me speedily.
Be to me a strong rock,
a house of defense to save me.
- ³ For you are my rock and my fortress,

* 30:3 Sheol is the place of the dead.

- therefore for your name's sake lead me and guide me.
- 4 Pluck me out of the net that they have laid secretly for me,
for you are my stronghold.
- 5 Into your hand I commend my spirit.
You redeem me, LORD, God of truth.
- 6 I hate those who regard lying vanities,
but I trust in the LORD.
- 7 I will be glad and rejoice in your loving kindness,
for you have seen my affliction.
You have known my soul in adversities.
- 8 You have not shut me up into the hand of the enemy.
You have set my feet in a large place.
- 9 Have mercy on me, LORD, for I am in distress.
My eye, my soul, and my body waste away with grief.
- 10 For my life is spent with sorrow,
my years with sighing.
My strength fails because of my iniquity.
My bones are wasted away.
- 11 Because of all my adversaries I have become utterly contemptible to my neighbors,
a horror to my acquaintances.
Those who saw me on the street fled from me.
- 12 I am forgotten from their hearts like a dead man.
I am like broken pottery.
- 13 For I have heard the slander of many, terror on every side,
while they conspire together against me,
they plot to take away my life.
- 14 But I trust in you, LORD.
I said, "You are my God."
- 15 My times are in your hand.
Deliver me from the hand of my enemies, and from those who persecute me.
- 16 Make your face to shine on your servant.
Save me in your loving kindness.
- 17 Let me not be disappointed, LORD, for I have called on you.
Let the wicked be disappointed.
Let them be silent in Sheol.*
- 18 Let the lying lips be mute, which speak against the righteous insolently, with pride and contempt.
- 19 Oh how great is your goodness, which you have laid up for those who fear you,
which you have worked for those who take refuge in you,
before the sons of men!
- 20 In the shelter of your presence you will hide them from the plotting of man.
You will keep them secretly in a dwelling away from the strife of tongues.
- 21 Praise be to the LORD, for he has shown me his marvelous loving kindness in a strong city.
- 22 As for me, I said in my haste, "I am cut off from before your eyes."

* 31:17 Sheol is the place of the dead.

Nevertheless you heard the voice of my petitions when I cried to you.

²³ Oh love the LORD, all you his saints!

The LORD preserves the faithful, and fully recompenses him who behaves arrogantly.

²⁴ Be strong, and let your heart take courage, all you who hope in the LORD.

By David. A contemplative psalm.

¹ Blessed is he whose disobedience is forgiven, whose sin is covered.

² Blessed is the man to whom the LORD doesn't impute iniquity, in whose spirit there is no deceit.

³ When I kept silence, my bones wasted away through my groaning all day long.

⁴ For day and night your hand was heavy on me.
My strength was sapped in the heat of summer.

Selah.

⁵ I acknowledged my sin to you.
I didn't hide my iniquity.

I said, I will confess my transgressions to the LORD,
and you forgave the iniquity of my sin.

Selah.

⁶ For this, let everyone who is godly pray to you in a time when you may be found.

Surely when the great waters overflow, they shall not reach to him.

⁷ You are my hiding place.

You will preserve me from trouble.

You will surround me with songs of deliverance.

Selah.

⁸ I will instruct you and teach you in the way which you shall go.
I will counsel you with my eye on you.

⁹ Don't be like the horse, or like the mule, which have no understanding, who are controlled by bit and bridle, or else they will not come near to you.

¹⁰ Many sorrows come to the wicked, but loving kindness shall surround him who trusts in the LORD.

¹¹ Be glad in the LORD, and rejoice, you righteous!
Shout for joy, all you who are upright in heart!

Praise is fitting for the upright.

² Give thanks to the LORD with the lyre.
Sing praises to him with the harp of ten strings.

³ Sing to him a new song.
Play skillfully with a shout of joy!

⁴ For the LORD's word is right.
All his work is done in faithfulness.

⁵ He loves righteousness and justice.
The earth is full of the loving kindness of the LORD.

- 6 By the LORD's word, the heavens were made:
all their army by the breath of his mouth.
- 7 He gathers the waters of the sea together as a heap.
He lays up the deeps in storehouses.
- 8 Let all the earth fear the LORD.
Let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.
- 9 For he spoke, and it was done.
He commanded, and it stood firm.
- 10 The LORD brings the counsel of the nations to nothing.
He makes the thoughts of the peoples to be of no effect.
- 11 The counsel of the LORD stands fast forever,
the thoughts of his heart to all generations.
- 12 Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD,
the people whom he has chosen for his own inheritance.
- 13 The LORD looks from heaven.
He sees all the sons of men.
- 14 From the place of his habitation he looks out on all the inhabitants of the earth, 15 he who fashions all of their hearts;
and he considers all of their works.
- 16 There is no king saved by the multitude of an army.
A mighty man is not delivered by great strength.
- 17 A horse is a vain thing for safety, neither does he deliver any by his great power.
- 18 Behold, the LORD's eye is on those who fear him,
on those who hope in his loving kindness, 19 to deliver their soul from death,
to keep them alive in famine.
- 20 Our soul has waited for the LORD.
He is our help and our shield.
- 21 For our heart rejoices in him, because we have trusted in his holy name.
- 22 Let your loving kindness be on us, LORD, since we have hoped in you.

By David; when he pretended to be insane before Abimelech, who drove him away, and he departed.

- 1 * I will bless the LORD at all times.
His praise will always be in my mouth.
- 2 My soul shall boast in the LORD.
The humble shall hear of it and be glad.
- 3 Oh magnify the LORD with me.
Let's exalt his name together.
- 4 I sought the LORD, and he answered me,
and delivered me from all my fears.
- 5 They looked to him, and were radiant.
Their faces shall never be covered with shame.
- 6 This poor man cried, and the LORD heard him,

* 34:1 Psalm 34 is an acrostic poem, with each verse starting with a letter of the alphabet (ordered from Alef to Tav).

- and saved him out of all his troubles.
7 The LORD's angel encamps around those who fear him,
and delivers them.
8 Oh taste and see that the LORD is good.
Blessed is the man who takes refuge in him.
9 Oh fear the LORD, you his saints, for there is no lack with those who fear him.
10 The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger;
but those who seek the LORD shall not lack any good thing.
11 Come, you children, listen to me.
I will teach you the fear of the LORD.
12 Who is someone who desires life,
and loves many days, that he may see good?
13 Keep your tongue from evil,
and your lips from speaking lies.
14 Depart from evil, and do good.
Seek peace, and pursue it.
15 The LORD's eyes are toward the righteous.
His ears listen to their cry.
16 The LORD's face is against those who do evil, to cut off their memory from the earth.
17 The righteous cry, and the LORD hears,
and delivers them out of all their troubles.
18 The LORD is near to those who have a broken heart, and saves those who have a crushed spirit.
19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous,
but the LORD delivers him out of them all.
20 He protects all of his bones.
Not one of them is broken.
21 Evil shall kill the wicked.
Those who hate the righteous shall be condemned.
22 The LORD redeems the soul of his servants.
None of those who take refuge in him shall be condemned.

35

By David.

- 1 Contend, LORD, with those who contend with me.
Fight against those who fight against me.
2 Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for my help.
3 Brandish the spear and block those who pursue me.
Tell my soul, "I am your salvation."
4 Let those who seek after my soul be disappointed and brought to dishonor.
Let those who plot my ruin be turned back and confounded.
5 Let them be as chaff before the wind,
the LORD's angel driving them on.
6 Let their way be dark and slippery,
the LORD's angel pursuing them.
7 For without cause they have hidden their net in a pit for me.
Without cause they have dug a pit for my soul.

- ⁸ Let destruction come on him unawares.
Let his net that he has hidden catch himself.
Let him fall into that destruction.
- ⁹ My soul shall be joyful in the LORD.
It shall rejoice in his salvation.
- ¹⁰ All my bones shall say, "LORD, who is like you, who delivers the poor from him who is too strong for him;
yes, the poor and the needy from him who robs him?"
- ¹¹ Unrighteous witnesses rise up.
They ask me about things that I don't know about.
- ¹² They reward me evil for good,
to the bereaving of my soul.
- ¹³ But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth.
I afflicted my soul with fasting.
My prayer returned into my own bosom.
- ¹⁴ I behaved myself as though it had been my friend or my brother.
I bowed down mourning, as one who mourns his mother.
- ¹⁵ But in my adversity, they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together.
The attackers gathered themselves together against me, and I didn't know it.
They tore at me, and didn't cease.
- ¹⁶ Like the profane mockers in feasts,
they gnashed their teeth at me.
- ¹⁷ Lord, how long will you look on?
Rescue my soul from their destruction,
my precious life from the lions.
- ¹⁸ I will give you thanks in the great assembly.
I will praise you among many people.
- ¹⁹ Don't let those who are my enemies wrongfully rejoice over me;
neither let those who hate me without a cause wink their eyes.
- ²⁰ For they don't speak peace,
but they devise deceitful words against those who are quiet in the land.
- ²¹ Yes, they opened their mouth wide against me.
They said, "Aha! Aha! Our eye has seen it!"
- ²² You have seen it, LORD. Don't keep silent.
Lord, don't be far from me.
- ²³ Wake up! Rise up to defend me, my God!
My Lord, contend for me!
- ²⁴ Vindicate me, LORD my God, according to your righteousness.
Don't let them gloat over me.
- ²⁵ Don't let them say in their heart, "Aha! That's the way we want it!"
Don't let them say, "We have swallowed him up!"
- ²⁶ Let them be disappointed and confounded together who rejoice at my calamity.
Let them be clothed with shame and dishonor who magnify themselves against me.
- ²⁷ Let those who favor my righteous cause shout for joy and be glad.
Yes, let them say continually, "May the LORD be magnified, who has pleasure in the prosperity of his servant!"

²⁸ My tongue shall talk about your righteousness and about your praise all day long.

For the Chief Musician. By David, the servant of the LORD.

¹ A revelation is within my heart about the disobedience of the wicked:

There is no fear of God before his eyes.

² For he flatters himself in his own eyes, too much to detect and hate his sin.

³ The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit.
He has ceased to be wise and to do good.

⁴ He plots iniquity on his bed.
He sets himself in a way that is not good.
He doesn't abhor evil.

⁵ Your loving kindness, LORD, is in the heavens.
Your faithfulness reaches to the skies.

⁶ Your righteousness is like the mountains of God.
Your judgments are like a great deep.
LORD, you preserve man and animal.

⁷ How precious is your loving kindness, God!
The children of men take refuge under the shadow of your wings.

⁸ They shall be abundantly satisfied with the abundance of your house.
You will make them drink of the river of your pleasures.

⁹ For with you is the spring of life.
In your light we will see light.

¹⁰ Oh continue your loving kindness to those who know you, your righteousness to the upright in heart.

¹¹ Don't let the foot of pride come against me.
Don't let the hand of the wicked drive me away.

¹² There the workers of iniquity are fallen.
They are thrust down, and shall not be able to rise.

By David.

¹ Don't fret because of evildoers, neither be envious against those who work unrighteousness.

² For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and wither like the green herb.

³ Trust in the LORD, and do good.
Dwell in the land, and enjoy safe pasture.

⁴ Also delight yourself in the LORD, and he will give you the desires of your heart.

⁵ Commit your way to the LORD.
Trust also in him, and he will do this:

⁶ he will make your righteousness shine out like light, and your justice as the noon day sun.

⁷ Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for him.
Don't fret because of him who prospers in his way, because of the man who makes wicked plots happen.

- ⁸ Cease from anger, and forsake wrath.
Don't fret; it leads only to evil doing.
- ⁹ For evildoers shall be cut off, but those who wait for the LORD shall inherit the land.
- ¹⁰ For yet a little while, and the wicked will be no more.
Yes, though you look for his place, he isn't there.
- ¹¹ But the humble shall inherit the land,
and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.
- ¹² The wicked plots against the just,
and gnashes at him with his teeth.
- ¹³ The LORD will laugh at him,
for he sees that his day is coming.
- ¹⁴ The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy,
to kill those who are upright on the path.
- ¹⁵ Their sword shall enter into their own heart.
Their bows shall be broken.
- ¹⁶ Better is a little that the righteous has,
than the abundance of many wicked.
- ¹⁷ For the arms of the wicked shall be broken,
but the LORD upholds the righteous.
- ¹⁸ The LORD knows the days of the perfect.
Their inheritance shall be forever.
- ¹⁹ They shall not be disappointed in the time of evil.
In the days of famine they shall be satisfied.
- ²⁰ But the wicked shall perish.
The enemies of the LORD shall be like the beauty of the fields.
They will vanish—
vanish like smoke.
- ²¹ The wicked borrow, and don't pay back,
but the righteous give generously.
- ²² For such as are blessed by him shall inherit the land.
Those who are cursed by him shall be cut off.
- ²³ A man's steps are established by the LORD.
He delights in his way.
- ²⁴ Though he stumble, he shall not fall,
for the LORD holds him up with his hand.
- ²⁵ I have been young, and now am old,
yet I have not seen the righteous forsaken,
nor his children begging for bread.
- ²⁶ All day long he deals graciously, and lends.
His offspring is blessed.
- ²⁷ Depart from evil, and do good.
Live securely forever.
- ²⁸ For the LORD loves justice, and doesn't forsake his saints.
They are preserved forever,
but the children of the wicked shall be cut off.
- ²⁹ The righteous shall inherit the land,
and live in it forever.

- 30 The mouth of the righteous talks of wisdom.
His tongue speaks justice.
- 31 The law of his God is in his heart.
None of his steps shall slide.
- 32 The wicked watch the righteous, and seek to kill him.
- 33 The LORD will not leave him in his hand,
nor condemn him when he is judged.
- 34 Wait for the LORD, and keep his way,
and he will exalt you to inherit the land.
When the wicked are cut off, you shall see it.
- 35 I have seen the wicked in great power, spreading himself like a green tree in its native soil.
- 36 But he passed away, and behold, he was not.
Yes, I sought him, but he could not be found.
- 37 Mark the perfect man, and see the upright,
for there is a future for the man of peace.
- 38 As for transgressors, they shall be destroyed together.
The future of the wicked shall be cut off.
- 39 But the salvation of the righteous is from the LORD.
He is their stronghold in the time of trouble.
- 40 The LORD helps them and rescues them.
He rescues them from the wicked and saves them, because they have taken refuge in him.

A Psalm by David, for a memorial.

- 1 LORD, don't rebuke me in your wrath, neither chasten me in your hot displeasure.
- 2 For your arrows have pierced me,
your hand presses hard on me.
- 3 There is no soundness in my flesh because of your indignation, neither is there any health in my bones because of my sin.
- 4 For my iniquities have gone over my head.
As a heavy burden, they are too heavy for me.
- 5 My wounds are loathsome and corrupt because of my foolishness.
- 6 I am in pain and bowed down greatly.
I go mourning all day long.
- 7 For my waist is filled with burning.
There is no soundness in my flesh.
- 8 I am faint and severely bruised.
I have groaned by reason of the anguish of my heart.
- 9 Lord, all my desire is before you.
My groaning is not hidden from you.
- 10 My heart throbs.
My strength fails me.
As for the light of my eyes, it has also left me.
- 11 My lovers and my friends stand aloof from my plague.

My kinsmen stand far away.

¹² They also who seek after my life lay snares.

Those who seek my hurt speak mischievous things,
and meditate deceits all day long.

¹³ But I, as a deaf man, don't hear.

I am as a mute man who doesn't open his mouth.

¹⁴ Yes, I am as a man who doesn't hear,

in whose mouth are no reproofs.

¹⁵ For I hope in you, LORD.

You will answer, Lord my God.

¹⁶ For I said, "Don't let them gloat over me, or exalt themselves over me when my foot slips."

¹⁷ For I am ready to fall.

My pain is continually before me.

¹⁸ For I will declare my iniquity.

I will be sorry for my sin.

¹⁹ But my enemies are vigorous and many.

Those who hate me without reason are numerous.

²⁰ They who render evil for good are also adversaries to me, because I follow what is good.

²¹ Don't forsake me, LORD.

My God, don't be far from me.

²² Hurry to help me,

Lord, my salvation.

For the Chief Musician. For Jeduthun. A Psalm by David.

¹ I said, "I will watch my ways, so that I don't sin with my tongue.

I will keep my mouth with a bridle while the wicked is before me."

² I was mute with silence.

I held my peace, even from good.

My sorrow was stirred.

³ My heart was hot within me.

While I meditated, the fire burned.

I spoke with my tongue:

⁴ "LORD, show me my end,

what is the measure of my days.

Let me know how frail I am.

⁵ Behold, you have made my days hand widths.

My lifetime is as nothing before you.

Surely every man stands as a breath."

Selah.

⁶ "Surely every man walks like a shadow.

Surely they busy themselves in vain.

He heaps up, and doesn't know who shall gather.

⁷ Now, Lord, what do I wait for?

My hope is in you.

⁸ Deliver me from all my transgressions.

Don't make me the reproach of the foolish.

⁹ I was mute.

I didn't open my mouth,

because you did it.

¹⁰ Remove your scourge away from me.

I am overcome by the blow of your hand.

¹¹ When you rebuke and correct man for iniquity, you consume his wealth like a moth.

Surely every man is but a breath.”

Selah.

¹² “Hear my prayer, LORD, and give ear to my cry.

Don't be silent at my tears.

For I am a stranger with you,
a foreigner, as all my fathers were.

¹³ Oh spare me, that I may recover strength, before I go away and exist no more.”

40

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

¹ I waited patiently for the LORD.

He turned to me, and heard my cry.

² He brought me up also out of a horrible pit, out of the miry clay.

He set my feet on a rock,
and gave me a firm place to stand.

³ He has put a new song in my mouth, even praise to our God.
Many shall see it, and fear, and shall trust in the LORD.

⁴ Blessed is the man who makes the LORD his trust, and doesn't respect the proud, nor such as turn away to lies.

⁵ Many, LORD, my God, are the wonderful works which you have done, and your thoughts which are toward us.

They can't be declared back to you.

If I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be counted.

⁶ Sacrifice and offering you didn't desire.

You have opened my ears.

You have not required burnt offering and sin offering.

⁷ Then I said, “Behold, I have come.

It is written about me in the book in the scroll.

⁸ I delight to do your will, my God.

Yes, your law is within my heart.”

⁹ I have proclaimed glad news of righteousness in the great assembly.

Behold, I will not seal my lips, LORD, you know.

¹⁰ I have not hidden your righteousness within my heart.

I have declared your faithfulness and your salvation.

I have not concealed your loving kindness and your truth from the great assembly.

¹¹ Don't withhold your tender mercies from me, LORD.

Let your loving kindness and your truth continually preserve me.

¹² For innumerable evils have surrounded me.

My iniquities have overtaken me, so that I am not able to look up.

They are more than the hairs of my head.

My heart has failed me.

¹³ Be pleased, LORD, to deliver me.

Hurry to help me, LORD.

- ¹⁴ Let them be disappointed and confounded together who seek after my soul to destroy it.
Let them be turned backward and brought to dishonor who delight in my hurt.
- ¹⁵ Let them be desolate by reason of their shame that tell me, "Aha! Aha!"
- ¹⁶ Let all those who seek you rejoice and be glad in you.
Let such as love your salvation say continually, "Let the LORD be exalted!"
- ¹⁷ But I am poor and needy.
May the Lord think about me.
You are my help and my deliverer.
Don't delay, my God.

41

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- ¹ Blessed is he who considers the poor.
The LORD will deliver him in the day of evil.
- ² The LORD will preserve him, and keep him alive.
He shall be blessed on the earth, and he will not surrender him to the will of his enemies.
- ³ The LORD will sustain him on his sickbed, and restore him from his bed of illness.
- ⁴ I said, "LORD, have mercy on me!
Heal me, for I have sinned against you."
- ⁵ My enemies speak evil against me:
"When will he die, and his name perish?"
- ⁶ If he comes to see me, he speaks falsehood.
His heart gathers iniquity to itself.
When he goes abroad, he tells it.
- ⁷ All who hate me whisper together against me.
They imagine the worst for me.
- ⁸ "An evil disease", they say, "has afflicted him.
Now that he lies he shall rise up no more."
- ⁹ Yes, my own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, who ate bread with me,
has lifted up his heel against me.
- ¹⁰ But you, LORD, have mercy on me, and raise me up,
that I may repay them.
- ¹¹ By this I know that you delight in me, because my enemy doesn't triumph over me.
- ¹² As for me, you uphold me in my integrity, and set me in your presence forever.
- ¹³ Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting and to everlasting!
Amen and amen.

42

For the Chief Musician. A contemplation by the sons of Korah.

- ¹ As the deer pants for the water brooks,

so my soul pants after you, God.*

² My soul thirsts for God, for the living God.

When shall I come and appear before God?

³ My tears have been my food day and night,
while they continually ask me, "Where is your God?"

⁴ These things I remember, and pour out my soul within me, how I used to go with the crowd, and led them to God's house, with the voice of joy and praise, a multitude keeping a holy day.

⁵ Why are you in despair, my soul?
Why are you disturbed within me?

Hope in God!

For I shall still praise him for the saving help of his presence.

⁶ My God, my soul is in despair within me.

Therefore I remember you from the land of the Jordan,
the heights of Hermon, from the hill Mizar.

⁷ Deep calls to deep at the noise of your waterfalls.
All your waves and your billows have swept over me.

⁸ GOD† will command his loving kindness in the daytime.
In the night his song shall be with me:
a prayer to the God of my life.

⁹ I will ask God, my rock, "Why have you forgotten me?
Why do I go mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?"

¹⁰ As with a sword in my bones, my adversaries reproach me,
while they continually ask me, "Where is your God?"

¹¹ Why are you in despair, my soul?
Why are you disturbed within me?

Hope in God! For I shall still praise him,
the saving help of my countenance, and my God.

¹ Vindicate me, God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation.
Oh, deliver me from deceitful and wicked men.

² For you are the God of my strength. Why have you rejected me?
Why do I go mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

³ Oh, send out your light and your truth.
Let them lead me.
Let them bring me to your holy hill,
to your tents.

⁴ Then I will go to the altar of God,
to God, my exceeding joy.
I will praise you on the harp, God, my God.

⁵ Why are you in despair, my soul?
Why are you disturbed within me?

Hope in God!

For I shall still praise him:
my Savior, my helper, and my God.

For the Chief Musician. By the sons of Korah. A contemplative psalm.

- ¹ We have heard with our ears, God;
our fathers have told us what work you did in their days,
in the days of old.
- ² You drove out the nations with your hand,
but you planted them.
You afflicted the peoples,
but you spread them abroad.
- ³ For they didn't get the land in possession by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them;
but your right hand, your arm, and the light of your face,
because you were favorable to them.
- ⁴ God, you are my King.
Command victories for Jacob!
- ⁵ Through you, we will push down our adversaries.
Through your name, we will tread down those who rise up against us.
- ⁶ For I will not trust in my bow, neither will my sword save me.
- ⁷ But you have saved us from our adversaries,
and have shamed those who hate us.
- ⁸ In God we have made our boast all day long.
We will give thanks to your name forever.

Selah.

- ⁹ But now you rejected us, and brought us to dishonor, and don't go out with our armies.
- ¹⁰ You make us turn back from the adversary.
Those who hate us take plunder for themselves.
- ¹¹ You have made us like sheep for food,
and have scattered us among the nations.
- ¹² You sell your people for nothing,
and have gained nothing from their sale.
- ¹³ You make us a reproach to our neighbors,
a scoffing and a derision to those who are around us.
- ¹⁴ You make us a byword among the nations,
a shaking of the head among the peoples.
- ¹⁵ All day long my dishonor is before me,
and shame covers my face, ¹⁶ at the taunt of one who reproaches and verbally abuses, because of the enemy and the avenger.
- ¹⁷ All this has come on us,
yet we haven't forgotten you.
We haven't been false to your covenant.
- ¹⁸ Our heart has not turned back,
neither have our steps strayed from your path, ¹⁹ though you have crushed us in the haunt of jackals, and covered us with the shadow of death.
- ²⁰ If we have forgotten the name of our God, or spread out our hands to a strange god, ²¹ won't God search this out?

- For he knows the secrets of the heart.
²² Yes, for your sake we are killed all day long.
 We are regarded as sheep for the slaughter.
²³ Wake up!
 Why do you sleep, Lord?*
- Arise!
 Don't reject us forever.
²⁴ Why do you hide your face, and forget our affliction and our oppression?
²⁵ For our soul is bowed down to the dust.
 Our body clings to the earth.
²⁶ Rise up to help us.
 Redeem us for your loving kindness' sake.

45

For the Chief Musician. Set to "The Lilies." A contemplation by the sons of Korah. A wedding song.

- ¹ My heart overflows with a noble theme.
 I recite my verses for the king.
 My tongue is like the pen of a skillful writer.
² You are the most excellent of the sons of men.
 Grace has anointed your lips,
 therefore God has blessed you forever.
³ Strap your sword on your thigh, O mighty one,
 in your splendor and your majesty.
⁴ In your majesty ride on victoriously on behalf of truth, humility, and righteousness.
 Let your right hand display awesome deeds.
⁵ Your arrows are sharp.
 The nations fall under you, with arrows in the heart of the king's enemies.
⁶ Your throne, God, is forever and ever.
 A scepter of equity is the scepter of your kingdom.
⁷ You have loved righteousness, and hated wickedness.
 Therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness above your fellows.
⁸ All your garments smell like myrrh, aloes, and cassia.
 Out of ivory palaces stringed instruments have made you glad.
⁹ Kings' daughters are among your honorable women.
 At your right hand the queen stands in gold of Ophir.
¹⁰ Listen, daughter, consider, and turn your ear.
 Forget your own people, and also your father's house.
¹¹ So the king will desire your beauty, honor him, for he is your lord.
¹² The daughter of Tyre comes with a gift.
 The rich among the people entreat your favor.
¹³ The princess inside is all glorious.
 Her clothing is interwoven with gold.
¹⁴ She shall be led to the king in embroidered work.

* 44:23 The word translated "Lord" is "Adonai."

The virgins, her companions who follow her, shall be brought to you.

¹⁵ With gladness and rejoicing they shall be led.

They shall enter into the king's palace.

¹⁶ Your sons will take the place of your fathers.

You shall make them princes in all the earth.

¹⁷ I will make your name to be remembered in all generations.

Therefore the peoples shall give you thanks forever and ever.

For the Chief Musician. By the sons of Korah. According to Alamoth.*

¹ God is our refuge and strength,
a very present help in trouble.

² Therefore we won't be afraid, though the earth changes, though the mountains are shaken into the heart of the seas;

³ though its waters roar and are troubled, though the mountains tremble with their swelling.

Selah.

⁴ There is a river, the streams of which make the city of God glad,
the holy place of the tents of the Most High.

⁵ God is within her. She shall not be moved.
God will help her at dawn.

⁶ The nations raged. The kingdoms were moved.
He lifted his voice and the earth melted.

⁷ The LORD of Armies is with us.
The God of Jacob is our refuge.

Selah.

⁸ Come, see the LORD's works,
what desolations he has made in the earth.

⁹ He makes wars cease to the end of the earth.
He breaks the bow, and shatters the spear.

He burns the chariots in the fire.

¹⁰ "Be still, and know that I am God.
I will be exalted among the nations.
I will be exalted in the earth."

¹¹ The LORD of Armies is with us.
The God of Jacob is our refuge.

Selah.

47

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

¹ Oh clap your hands, all you nations.
Shout to God with the voice of triumph!

² For the LORD Most High is awesome.
He is a great King over all the earth.

³ He subdues nations under us,
and peoples under our feet.

⁴ He chooses our inheritance for us,
the glory of Jacob whom he loved.

* 46: Alamoth is a musical term.

Selah.

- ⁵ God has gone up with a shout,
the LORD with the sound of a trumpet.
⁶ Sing praises to God! Sing praises!
Sing praises to our King! Sing praises!
⁷ For God is the King of all the earth.
Sing praises with understanding.
⁸ God reigns over the nations.
God sits on his holy throne.
⁹ The princes of the peoples are gathered together,
the people of the God of Abraham.
For the shields of the earth belong to God.
He is greatly exalted!

48

A Song. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

- ¹ Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised,
in the city of our God, in his holy mountain.
² Beautiful in elevation, the joy of the whole earth, is Mount Zion, on the north sides,
the city of the great King.
³ God has shown himself in her citadels as a refuge.
⁴ For, behold, the kings assembled themselves,
they passed by together.
⁵ They saw it, then they were amazed.
They were dismayed.
They hurried away.
⁶ Trembling took hold of them there, pain, as of a woman in travail.
⁷ With the east wind, you break the ships of Tarshish.
⁸ As we have heard, so we have seen, in the city of the LORD of Armies, in the city of our God.
God will establish it forever.

Selah.

- ⁹ We have thought about your loving kindness, God,
in the middle of your temple.
¹⁰ As is your name, God,
so is your praise to the ends of the earth.
Your right hand is full of righteousness.
¹¹ Let Mount Zion be glad!
Let the daughters of Judah rejoice because of your judgments.
¹² Walk about Zion, and go around her.
Number its towers.
¹³ Notice her bulwarks.
Consider her palaces,
that you may tell it to the next generation.
¹⁴ For this God is our God forever and ever.
He will be our guide even to death.

49

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

- ¹ Hear this, all you peoples.
Listen, all you inhabitants of the world,
² both low and high,
rich and poor together.
- ³ My mouth will speak words of wisdom.
My heart will utter understanding.
- ⁴ I will incline my ear to a proverb.
I will solve my riddle on the harp.
- ⁵ Why should I fear in the days of evil,
when iniquity at my heels surrounds me?
- ⁶ Those who trust in their wealth, and boast in the multitude of their riches—⁷ none of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give God a ransom for him.
- ⁸ For the redemption of their life is costly,
no payment is ever enough, ⁹ that he should live on forever,
that he should not see corruption.
- ¹⁰ For he sees that wise men die;
likewise the fool and the senseless perish,
and leave their wealth to others.
- ¹¹ Their inward thought is that their houses will endure forever, and their dwelling places to all generations.
They name their lands after themselves.
- ¹² But man, despite his riches, doesn't endure.
He is like the animals that perish.
- ¹³ This is the destiny of those who are foolish,
and of those who approve their sayings.
- ¹⁴ They are appointed as a flock for Sheol.*
Death shall be their shepherd.
The upright shall have dominion over them in the morning.
Their beauty shall decay in Sheol,[†] far from their mansion.
- ¹⁵ But God will redeem my soul from the power of Sheol,[‡] for he will receive me.
- ¹⁶ Don't be afraid when a man is made rich,
when the glory of his house is increased;
¹⁷ for when he dies he will carry nothing away.
His glory won't descend after him.
- ¹⁸ Though while he lived he blessed his soul—
and men praise you when you do well for yourself—¹⁹ he shall go to the generation of his fathers.
They shall never see the light.
- ²⁰ A man who has riches without understanding,
is like the animals that perish.

Selah.

Selah.

* 49:14 Sheol is the place of the dead. † 49:14 Sheol is the place of the dead. ‡ 49:15 Sheol is the place of the dead.

50

A Psalm by Asaph.

- ¹ The Mighty One, God, the LORD, speaks, and calls the earth from sunrise to sunset.
² Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty,
God shines out.
³ Our God comes, and does not keep silent.
A fire devours before him.
It is very stormy around him.
⁴ He calls to the heavens above,
to the earth, that he may judge his people:
⁵ “Gather my saints together to me,
those who have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.”
⁶ The heavens shall declare his righteousness, for God himself is judge.

Selah.

- ⁷ “Hear, my people, and I will speak.
Israel, I will testify against you.
I am God, your God.
⁸ I don’t rebuke you for your sacrifices.
Your burnt offerings are continually before me.
⁹ I have no need for a bull from your stall, nor male goats from your pens.
¹⁰ For every animal of the forest is mine,
and the livestock on a thousand hills.
¹¹ I know all the birds of the mountains.
The wild animals of the field are mine.
¹² If I were hungry, I would not tell you,
for the world is mine, and all that is in it.
¹³ Will I eat the meat of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?
¹⁴ Offer to God the sacrifice of thanksgiving.
Pay your vows to the Most High.
¹⁵ Call on me in the day of trouble.
I will deliver you, and you will honor me.”
¹⁶ But to the wicked God says,
“What right do you have to declare my statutes, that you have taken my covenant on your lips, ¹⁷ since you hate instruction, and throw my words behind you?
¹⁸ When you saw a thief, you consented with him,
and have participated with adulterers.
¹⁹ “You give your mouth to evil.
Your tongue frames deceit.
²⁰ You sit and speak against your brother.
You slander your own mother’s son.
²¹ You have done these things, and I kept silent.
You thought that I was just like you.
I will rebuke you, and accuse you in front of your eyes.

- 22 "Now consider this, you who forget God, lest I tear you into pieces, and there be no one to deliver.
23 Whoever offers the sacrifice of thanksgiving glorifies me, and prepares his way so that I will show God's salvation to him."

51

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David, when Nathan the prophet came to him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba.

- 1 Have mercy on me, God, according to your loving kindness.
According to the multitude of your tender mercies, blot out my transgressions.
2 Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity.
Cleanse me from my sin.
3 For I know my transgressions.
My sin is constantly before me.
4 Against you, and you only, I have sinned,
and done that which is evil in your sight,
so you may be proved right when you speak,
and justified when you judge.
5 Behold, I was born in iniquity.
My mother conceived me in sin.
6 Behold, you desire truth in the inward parts.
You teach me wisdom in the inmost place.
7 Purify me with hyssop, and I will be clean.
Wash me, and I will be whiter than snow.
8 Let me hear joy and gladness, that the bones which you have broken may rejoice.
9 Hide your face from my sins,
and blot out all of my iniquities.
10 Create in me a clean heart, O God.
Renew a right spirit within me.
11 Don't throw me from your presence, and don't take your Holy Spirit from me.
12 Restore to me the joy of your salvation.
Uphold me with a willing spirit.
13 Then I will teach transgressors your ways.
Sinners will be converted to you.
14 Deliver me from the guilt of bloodshed, O God, the God of my salvation.
My tongue will sing aloud of your righteousness.
15 Lord, open my lips.
My mouth will declare your praise.
16 For you don't delight in sacrifice, or else I would give it.
You have no pleasure in burnt offering.
17 The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit.
O God, you will not despise a broken and contrite heart.
18 Do well in your good pleasure to Zion.
Build the walls of Jerusalem.
19 Then you will delight in the sacrifices of righteousness, in burnt offerings and in whole burnt offerings.
Then they will offer bulls on your altar.

52

For the Chief Musician. A contemplation by David, when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, "David has come to Ahimelech's house."

¹ Why do you boast of mischief, mighty man?

God's loving kindness endures continually.

² Your tongue plots destruction, like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.

³ You love evil more than good, lying rather than speaking the truth.

Selah.

⁴ You love all devouring words,
you deceitful tongue.

⁵ God will likewise destroy you forever.
He will take you up, and pluck you out of your tent,
and root you out of the land of the living.

Selah.

⁶ The righteous also will see it, and fear,
and laugh at him, saying,

⁷ "Behold, this is the man who didn't make God his strength, but trusted in the abundance of his riches,
and strengthened himself in his wickedness."

⁸ But as for me, I am like a green olive tree in God's house.
I trust in God's loving kindness forever and ever.

⁹ I will give you thanks forever, because you have done it.
I will hope in your name, for it is good,
in the presence of your saints.

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Mahalath." A contemplation by David.

¹ The fool has said in his heart, "There is no God."

They are corrupt, and have done abominable iniquity.
There is no one who does good.

² God looks down from heaven on the children of men, to see if there are any who understood,
who seek after God.

³ Every one of them has gone back.
They have become filthy together.
There is no one who does good, no, not one.

⁴ Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge,
who eat up my people as they eat bread,
and don't call on God?

⁵ There they were in great fear, where no fear was,
for God has scattered the bones of him who encamps against you.
You have put them to shame,
because God has rejected them.

⁶ Oh that the salvation of Israel would come out of Zion!
When God brings back his people from captivity,
then Jacob shall rejoice,
and Israel shall be glad.

54

For the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments. A contemplation by David, when the Ziphites came and said to Saul, "Isn't David hiding himself among us?"

- ¹ Save me, God, by your name.
Vindicate me in your might.
- ² Hear my prayer, God.
Listen to the words of my mouth.
- ³ For strangers have risen up against me.
Violent men have sought after my soul.
They haven't set God before them.

Selah.

- ⁴ Behold, God is my helper.
The Lord is the one who sustains my soul.
- ⁵ He will repay the evil to my enemies.
Destroy them in your truth.
- ⁶ With a free will offering, I will sacrifice to you.
I will give thanks to your name, LORD, for it is good.
- ⁷ For he has delivered me out of all trouble.
My eye has seen triumph over my enemies.

55

For the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments. A contemplation by David.

- ¹ Listen to my prayer, God.
Don't hide yourself from my supplication.
- ² Attend to me, and answer me.
I am restless in my complaint,
and moan ³ because of the voice of the enemy,
because of the oppression of the wicked.

For they bring suffering on me.
In anger they hold a grudge against me.

- ⁴ My heart is severely pained within me.
The terrors of death have fallen on me.
- ⁵ Fearfulness and trembling have come on me.
Horror has overwhelmed me.
- ⁶ I said, "Oh that I had wings like a dove!
Then I would fly away, and be at rest.
- ⁷ Behold, then I would wander far off.
I would lodge in the wilderness."

Selah.

- ⁸ "I would hurry to a shelter from the stormy wind and storm."
- ⁹ Confuse them, Lord, and confound their language, for I have seen violence and strife in the city.
- ¹⁰ Day and night they prowl around on its walls.
Malice and abuse are also within her.
- ¹¹ Destructive forces are within her.
Threats and lies don't depart from her streets.
- ¹² For it was not an enemy who insulted me,
then I could have endured it.
Neither was it he who hated me who raised himself up against me, then I would have hidden myself from him.

- 13 But it was you, a man like me,
 my companion, and my familiar friend.
 14 We took sweet fellowship together.
 We walked in God's house with company.
 15 Let death come suddenly on them.
 Let them go down alive into Sheol.*
 For wickedness is among them, in their dwelling.
 16 As for me, I will call on God.
 The LORD will save me.
 17 Evening, morning, and at noon, I will cry out in distress.
 He will hear my voice.
 18 He has redeemed my soul in peace from the battle that was against me, although there are many who oppose me.
 19 God, who is enthroned forever, will hear and answer them.

Selah.

- They never change
 and don't fear God.
 20 He raises his hands against his friends.
 He has violated his covenant.
 21 His mouth was smooth as butter,
 but his heart was war.
 His words were softer than oil,
 yet they were drawn swords.
 22 Cast your burden on the LORD and he will sustain you.
 He will never allow the righteous to be moved.
 23 But you, God, will bring them down into the pit of destruction.
 Bloodthirsty and deceitful men shall not live out half their days, but I will trust in you.

56

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Silent Dove in Distant Lands." A poem by David, when the Philistines seized him in Gath.

- 1 Be merciful to me, God, for man wants to swallow me up.
 All day long, he attacks and oppresses me.
 2 My enemies want to swallow me up all day long,
 for they are many who fight proudly against me.
 3 When I am afraid,
 I will put my trust in you.
 4 In God, I praise his word.
 In God, I put my trust.
 I will not be afraid.
 What can flesh do to me?
 5 All day long they twist my words.
 All their thoughts are against me for evil.
 6 They conspire and lurk, watching my steps.
 They are eager to take my life.

* 55:15 Sheol is the place of the dead.

- 7 Shall they escape by iniquity?
In anger cast down the peoples, God.
- 8 You count my wanderings.
You put my tears into your container.
Aren't they in your book?
- 9 Then my enemies shall turn back in the day that I call.
I know this: that God is for me.
- 10 In God, I will praise his word.
In the LORD, I will praise his word.
- 11 I have put my trust in God.
I will not be afraid.
What can man do to me?
- 12 Your vows are on me, God.
I will give thank offerings to you.
- 13 For you have delivered my soul from death,
and prevented my feet from falling,
that I may walk before God in the light of the living.

57

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A poem by David, when he fled from Saul, in the cave.

- 1 Be merciful to me, God, be merciful to me,
for my soul takes refuge in you.
Yes, in the shadow of your wings, I will take refuge,
until disaster has passed.
- 2 I cry out to God Most High,
to God who accomplishes my requests for me.
- 3 He will send from heaven, and save me,
he rebukes the one who is pursuing me.

Selah.

God will send out his loving kindness and his truth.

- 4 My soul is among lions.
I lie among those who are set on fire,
even the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows,
and their tongue a sharp sword.
- 5 Be exalted, God, above the heavens!
Let your glory be above all the earth!

- 6 They have prepared a net for my steps.
My soul is bowed down.
They dig a pit before me.
They fall into the middle of it themselves.

Selah.

- 7 My heart is steadfast, God.
My heart is steadfast.
I will sing, yes, I will sing praises.
- 8 Wake up, my glory! Wake up, lute and harp!
I will wake up the dawn.
- 9 I will give thanks to you, Lord, among the peoples.
I will sing praises to you among the nations.
- 10 For your great loving kindness reaches to the heavens, and your truth to the skies.

- ¹¹ Be exalted, God, above the heavens.
Let your glory be over all the earth.

58

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A poem by David.

- ¹ Do you indeed speak righteousness, silent ones?
Do you judge blamelessly, you sons of men?
- ² No, in your heart you plot injustice.
You measure out the violence of your hands in the earth.
- ³ The wicked go astray from the womb.
They are wayward as soon as they are born, speaking lies.
- ⁴ Their poison is like the poison of a snake,
like a deaf cobra that stops its ear,
⁵ which doesn't listen to the voice of charmers, no matter how skillful the charmer may be.
- ⁶ Break their teeth, God, in their mouth.
Break out the great teeth of the young lions, LORD.
- ⁷ Let them vanish like water that flows away.
When they draw the bow, let their arrows be made blunt.
- ⁸ Let them be like a snail which melts and passes away,
like the stillborn child, who has not seen the sun.
- ⁹ Before your pots can feel the heat of the thorns,
he will sweep away the green and the burning alike.
- ¹⁰ The righteous shall rejoice when he sees the vengeance.
He shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked,
- ¹¹ so that men shall say, "Most certainly there is a reward for the righteous.
Most certainly there is a God who judges the earth."

59

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A poem by David, when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

- ¹ Deliver me from my enemies, my God.
Set me on high from those who rise up against me.
- ² Deliver me from the workers of iniquity.
Save me from the bloodthirsty men.
- ³ For, behold, they lie in wait for my soul.
The mighty gather themselves together against me,
not for my disobedience, nor for my sin, LORD.
- ⁴ I have done no wrong, yet they are ready to attack me.
Rise up, behold, and help me!
- ⁵ You, LORD God of Armies, the God of Israel, rouse yourself to punish the nations.
Show no mercy to the wicked traitors.

Selah.

- ⁶ They return at evening, howling like dogs,
and prowl around the city.
- ⁷ Behold, they spew with their mouth.
Swords are in their lips,
"For", they say, "who hears us?"
- ⁸ But you, LORD, laugh at them.
You scoff at all the nations.

- ⁹ Oh, my Strength, I watch for you,
for God is my high tower.
- ¹⁰ My God will go before me with his loving kindness.
God will let me look at my enemies in triumph.
- ¹¹ Don't kill them, or my people may forget.
Scatter them by your power, and bring them down, Lord our shield.
- ¹² For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips,
let them be caught in their pride,
for the curses and lies which they utter.
- ¹³ Consume them in wrath.
Consume them, and they will be no more.
Let them know that God rules in Jacob,
to the ends of the earth.
- Selah.
- ¹⁴ At evening let them return.
Let them howl like a dog, and go around the city.
- ¹⁵ They shall wander up and down for food,
and wait all night if they aren't satisfied.
- ¹⁶ But I will sing of your strength.
Yes, I will sing aloud of your loving kindness in the morning.
For you have been my high tower,
a refuge in the day of my distress.
- ¹⁷ To you, my strength, I will sing praises.
For God is my high tower, the God of my mercy.

60

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "The Lily of the Covenant." A teaching poem by David, when he fought with Aram Naharaim and with Aram Zobah, and Joab returned, and killed twelve thousand of Edom in the Valley of Salt.

- ¹ God, you have rejected us.
You have broken us down.
You have been angry.
Restore us, again.
- ² You have made the land tremble.
You have torn it.
Mend its fractures,
for it quakes.
- ³ You have shown your people hard things.
You have made us drink the wine that makes us stagger.
- ⁴ You have given a banner to those who fear you,
that it may be displayed because of the truth.

Selah.

- ⁵ So that your beloved may be delivered,
save with your right hand, and answer us.
- ⁶ God has spoken from his sanctuary:
"I will triumph.
I will divide Shechem,
and measure out the valley of Succoth.
- ⁷ Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine.
Ephraim also is the defense of my head.

- Judah is my scepter.
8 Moab is my wash basin.
I will throw my sandal on Edom.
I shout in triumph over Philistia.”
- 9 Who will bring me into the strong city?
Who has led me to Edom?
10 Haven't you, God, rejected us?
You don't go out with our armies, God.
11 Give us help against the adversary,
for the help of man is vain.
12 Through God we will do valiantly, for it is he who will tread down our adversaries.

61

For the Chief Musician. For a stringed instrument. By David.

- 1 Hear my cry, God.
Listen to my prayer.
2 From the end of the earth, I will call to you when my heart is overwhelmed.
Lead me to the rock that is higher than I.
3 For you have been a refuge for me,
a strong tower from the enemy.
4 I will dwell in your tent forever.
I will take refuge in the shelter of your wings.
- Selah.
- 5 For you, God, have heard my vows.
You have given me the heritage of those who fear your name.
6 You will prolong the king's life.
His years will be for generations.
7 He shall be enthroned in God's presence forever.
Appoint your loving kindness and truth, that they may preserve him.
8 So I will sing praise to your name forever, that I may fulfill my vows daily.

62

For the Chief Musician. To Jeduthun. A Psalm by David.

- 1 My soul rests in God alone.
My salvation is from him.
2 He alone is my rock, my salvation, and my fortress.
I will never be greatly shaken.
3 How long will you assault a man?
Would all of you throw him down,
like a leaning wall, like a tottering fence?
4 They fully intend to throw him down from his lofty place.
They delight in lies.
They bless with their mouth, but they curse inwardly.
- Selah.
- 5 My soul, wait in silence for God alone,
for my expectation is from him.
6 He alone is my rock and my salvation, my fortress.
I will not be shaken.

- ⁷ My salvation and my honor is with God.
The rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.
⁸ Trust in him at all times, you people.
Pour out your heart before him.
God is a refuge for us.

Selah.

- ⁹ Surely men of low degree are just a breath,
and men of high degree are a lie.
In the balances they will go up.
They are together lighter than a breath.
¹⁰ Don't trust in oppression.
Don't become vain in robbery.
If riches increase,
don't set your heart on them.
¹¹ God has spoken once;
twice I have heard this,
that power belongs to God.
¹² Also to you, Lord, belongs loving kindness, for you reward every man according to his work.

63

A Psalm by David, when he was in the desert of Judah.

- ¹ God, you are my God.
I will earnestly seek you.
My soul thirsts for you.
My flesh longs for you,
in a dry and weary land, where there is no water.
² So I have seen you in the sanctuary, watching your power and your glory.
³ Because your loving kindness is better than life,
my lips shall praise you.
⁴ So I will bless you while I live.
I will lift up my hands in your name.
⁵ My soul shall be satisfied as with the richest food.
My mouth shall praise you with joyful lips,
⁶ when I remember you on my bed,
and think about you in the night watches.
⁷ For you have been my help.
I will rejoice in the shadow of your wings.
⁸ My soul stays close to you.
Your right hand holds me up.
⁹ But those who seek my soul to destroy it shall go into the lower parts of the earth.
¹⁰ They shall be given over to the power of the sword.
They shall be jackal food.
¹¹ But the king shall rejoice in God.
Everyone who swears by him will praise him, for the mouth of those who speak lies shall be silenced.

64

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- ¹ Hear my voice, God, in my complaint.
Preserve my life from fear of the enemy.
- ² Hide me from the conspiracy of the wicked,
from the noisy crowd of the ones doing evil;
- ³ who sharpen their tongue like a sword,
and aim their arrows, deadly words,
⁴ to shoot innocent men from ambushes.
They shoot at him suddenly and fearlessly.
- ⁵ They encourage themselves in evil plans.
They talk about laying snares secretly.
They say, "Who will see them?"
- ⁶ They plot injustice, saying, "We have made a perfect plan!"
Surely man's mind and heart are cunning.
- ⁷ But God will shoot at them.
They will be suddenly struck down with an arrow.
- ⁸ Their own tongues shall ruin them.
All who see them will shake their heads.
- ⁹ All mankind shall be afraid.
They shall declare the work of God,
and shall wisely ponder what he has done.
- ¹⁰ The righteous shall be glad in the LORD,
and shall take refuge in him.
All the upright in heart shall praise him!

65

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David. A song.

- ¹ Praise waits for you, God, in Zion.
Vows shall be performed to you.
- ² You who hear prayer,
all men will come to you.
- ³ Sins overwhelmed me,
but you atoned for our transgressions.
- ⁴ Blessed is the one whom you choose and cause to come near,
that he may live in your courts.
We will be filled with the goodness of your house,
your holy temple.
- ⁵ By awesome deeds of righteousness, you answer us,
God of our salvation.
You who are the hope of all the ends of the earth,
of those who are far away on the sea.
- ⁶ By your power, you form the mountains,
having armed yourself with strength.
- ⁷ You still the roaring of the seas,
the roaring of their waves,
and the turmoil of the nations.
- ⁸ They also who dwell in faraway places are afraid at your wonders.
You call the morning's dawn and the evening with songs of joy.
- ⁹ You visit the earth, and water it.
You greatly enrich it.
The river of God is full of water.
You provide them grain, for so you have ordained it.

- ¹⁰ You drench its furrows.
You level its ridges.
You soften it with showers.
You bless it with a crop.
- ¹¹ You crown the year with your bounty.
Your carts overflow with abundance.
- ¹² The wilderness grasslands overflow.
The hills are clothed with gladness.
- ¹³ The pastures are covered with flocks.
The valleys also are clothed with grain.
- They shout for joy!
They also sing.

66

For the Chief Musician. A song. A Psalm.

- ¹ Make a joyful shout to God, all the earth!
² Sing to the glory of his name!
Offer glory and praise!
- ³ Tell God, "How awesome are your deeds!
Through the greatness of your power, your enemies submit themselves to you.
- ⁴ All the earth will worship you,
and will sing to you;
they will sing to your name."
- Selah.
- ⁵ Come, and see God's deeds—awesome work on behalf of the children of men.
- ⁶ He turned the sea into dry land.
They went through the river on foot.
There, we rejoiced in him.
- ⁷ He rules by his might forever.
His eyes watch the nations.
Don't let the rebellious rise up against him.
- Selah.
- ⁸ Praise our God, you peoples!
Make the sound of his praise heard,
⁹ who preserves our life among the living, and doesn't allow our feet to be moved.
- ¹⁰ For you, God, have tested us.
You have refined us, as silver is refined.
- ¹¹ You brought us into prison.
You laid a burden on our backs.
- ¹² You allowed men to ride over our heads.
We went through fire and through water,
but you brought us to the place of abundance.
- ¹³ I will come into your temple with burnt offerings.
I will pay my vows to you, ¹⁴ which my lips promised,
and my mouth spoke, when I was in distress.
- ¹⁵ I will offer to you burnt offerings of fat animals,
with the offering of rams,
I will offer bulls with goats.
- Selah.

- 16 Come and hear, all you who fear God.
I will declare what he has done for my soul.
- 17 I cried to him with my mouth.
He was extolled with my tongue.
- 18 If I cherished sin in my heart,
the Lord wouldn't have listened.
- 19 But most certainly, God has listened.
He has heard the voice of my prayer.
- 20 Blessed be God, who has not turned away my prayer, nor his loving kindness from me.

For the Chief Musician. With stringed instruments. A Psalm. A song.

- 1 May God be merciful to us, bless us, and cause his face to shine on us. Selah.
- 2 That your way may be known on earth,
and your salvation among all nations,
- 3 let the peoples praise you, God.
Let all the peoples praise you.
- 4 Oh let the nations be glad and sing for joy,
for you will judge the peoples with equity,
and govern the nations on earth. Selah.
- 5 Let the peoples praise you, God.
Let all the peoples praise you.
- 6 The earth has yielded its increase.
God, even our own God, will bless us.
- 7 God will bless us.
All the ends of the earth shall fear him.

68

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David. A song.

- 1 Let God arise!
Let his enemies be scattered!
Let them who hate him also flee before him.
- 2 As smoke is driven away,
so drive them away.
As wax melts before the fire,
so let the wicked perish at the presence of God.
- 3 But let the righteous be glad.
Let them rejoice before God.
Yes, let them rejoice with gladness.
- 4 Sing to God! Sing praises to his name!
Extol him who rides on the clouds:
to the LORD,* his name!
Rejoice before him!
- 5 A father of the fatherless, and a defender of the widows, is God in his holy habitation.
- 6 God sets the lonely in families.
He brings out the prisoners with singing,

* 68:4 Hebrew: יהוה Yah

but the rebellious dwell in a sun-scorched land.

⁷ God, when you went out before your people, when you marched through the wilderness...

Selah.

⁸ The earth trembled.

The sky also poured down rain at the presence of the God of Sinai—at the presence of God, the God of Israel.

⁹ You, God, sent a plentiful rain.

You confirmed your inheritance when it was weary.

¹⁰ Your congregation lived therein.

You, God, prepared your goodness for the poor.

¹¹ The Lord announced the word.

The ones who proclaim it are a great company.

¹² “Kings of armies flee! They flee!”

She who waits at home divides the plunder,

¹³ while you sleep among the camp fires,
the wings of a dove sheathed with silver,
her feathers with shining gold.

¹⁴ When the Almighty scattered kings in her,
it snowed on Zalmon.

¹⁵ The mountains of Bashan are majestic mountains.

The mountains of Bashan are rugged.

¹⁶ Why do you look in envy, you rugged mountains, at the mountain where God chooses to reign?

Yes, the LORD[†] will dwell there forever.

¹⁷ The chariots of God are tens of thousands and thousands of thousands.

The Lord is among them, from Sinai, into the sanctuary.

¹⁸ You have ascended on high.

You have led away captives.

You have received gifts among people,
yes, among the rebellious also, that the LORD[‡] God might dwell there.

¹⁹ Blessed be the Lord, who daily bears our burdens, even the God who is our salvation.

Selah.

²⁰ God is to us a God of deliverance.

To GOD,[§] the Lord, belongs escape from death.

²¹ But God will strike through the head of his enemies, the hairy scalp of such a one as still continues in his guiltiness.

²² The Lord said, “I will bring you again from Bashan,

I will bring you again from the depths of the sea,

²³ that you may crush them, dipping your foot in blood, that the tongues of your dogs may have their portion from your enemies.”

²⁴ They have seen your processions, God, even the processions of my God, my King, into the sanctuary.

[†] 68:16 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה Yah. [‡] 68:18 Hebrew: יה Yah [§] 68:20 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, “LORD” or “GOD” is the translation of God’s Proper Name (Hebrew “יהוה”, usually pronounced Yahweh).

- 25 The singers went before, the minstrels followed after,
among the ladies playing with tambourines, 26 “Bless God in the congregations, even the Lord in the assembly of Israel!”
27 There is little Benjamin, their ruler,
the princes of Judah, their council,
the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.
28 Your God has commanded your strength.
Strengthen, God, that which you have done for us.
29 Because of your temple at Jerusalem, kings shall bring presents to you.
30 Rebuke the wild animal of the reeds,
the multitude of the bulls with the calves of the peoples.
Trample under foot the bars of silver.
Scatter the nations who delight in war.
31 Princes shall come out of Egypt.
Ethiopia shall hurry to stretch out her hands to God.
32 Sing to God, you kingdoms of the earth!
Sing praises to the Lord—
Selah—
33 to him who rides on the heaven of heavens, which are of old;
behold, he utters his voice, a mighty voice.
34 Ascribe strength to God!
His excellency is over Israel,
his strength is in the skies.
35 You are awesome, God, in your sanctuaries.
The God of Israel gives strength and power to his people.
Praise be to God!

69

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of “Lilies.” By David.

- 1 Save me, God,
for the waters have come up to my neck!
2 I sink in deep mire, where there is no foothold.
I have come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.
3 I am weary with my crying.
My throat is dry.
My eyes fail looking for my God.
4 Those who hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of my head.
Those who want to cut me off, being my enemies wrongfully, are mighty.
I have to restore what I didn't take away.
5 God, you know my foolishness.
My sins aren't hidden from you.
6 Don't let those who wait for you be shamed through me, Lord GOD of Armies.
Don't let those who seek you be brought to dishonor through me, God of Israel.
7 Because for your sake, I have borne reproach.
Shame has covered my face.
8 I have become a stranger to my brothers, an alien to my mother's children.

⁹ For the zeal of your house consumes me.

The reproaches of those who reproach you have fallen on me.

¹⁰ When I wept and I fasted, that was to my reproach.

¹¹ When I made sackcloth my clothing,
I became a byword to them.

¹² Those who sit in the gate talk about me.
I am the song of the drunkards.

¹³ But as for me, my prayer is to you, LORD, in an acceptable time.
God, in the abundance of your loving kindness, answer me in the truth of your salvation.

¹⁴ Deliver me out of the mire, and don't let me sink.
Let me be delivered from those who hate me, and out of the deep waters.

¹⁵ Don't let the flood waters overwhelm me, neither let the deep swallow me up.
Don't let the pit shut its mouth on me.

¹⁶ Answer me, LORD, for your loving kindness is good.
According to the multitude of your tender mercies, turn to me.

¹⁷ Don't hide your face from your servant,
for I am in distress.
Answer me speedily!

¹⁸ Draw near to my soul and redeem it.
Ransom me because of my enemies.

¹⁹ You know my reproach, my shame, and my dishonor.
My adversaries are all before you.

²⁰ Reproach has broken my heart, and I am full of heaviness.
I looked for some to take pity, but there was none;
for comforters, but I found none.

²¹ They also gave me poison for my food.
In my thirst, they gave me vinegar to drink.

²² Let their table before them become a snare.
May it become a retribution and a trap.

²³ Let their eyes be darkened, so that they can't see.
Let their backs be continually bent.

²⁴ Pour out your indignation on them.
Let the fierceness of your anger overtake them.

²⁵ Let their habitation be desolate.
Let no one dwell in their tents.

²⁶ For they persecute him whom you have wounded.
They tell of the sorrow of those whom you have hurt.

²⁷ Charge them with crime upon crime.
Don't let them come into your righteousness.

²⁸ Let them be blotted out of the book of life,
and not be written with the righteous.

²⁹ But I am in pain and distress.
Let your salvation, God, protect me.

³⁰ I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving.

³¹ It will please the LORD better than an ox, or a bull that has horns and hoofs.

³² The humble have seen it, and are glad.

You who seek after God, let your heart live.

³³ For the LORD hears the needy, and doesn't despise his captive people.

³⁴ Let heaven and earth praise him;
the seas, and everything that moves therein!

³⁵ For God will save Zion, and build the cities of Judah.
They shall settle there, and own it.

³⁶ The children also of his servants shall inherit it.
Those who love his name shall dwell therein.

70

For the Chief Musician. By David. A reminder.

¹ Hurry, God, to deliver me.

Come quickly to help me, LORD.

² Let them be disappointed and confounded who seek my soul.
Let those who desire my ruin be turned back in disgrace.

³ Let them be turned because of their shame who say, "Aha! Aha!"

⁴ Let all those who seek you rejoice and be glad in you.
Let those who love your salvation continually say,
"Let God be exalted!"

⁵ But I am poor and needy.
Come to me quickly, God.

You are my help and my deliverer.
LORD, don't delay.

¹ In you, LORD, I take refuge.

Never let me be disappointed.

² Deliver me in your righteousness, and rescue me.
Turn your ear to me, and save me.

³ Be to me a rock of refuge to which I may always go.
Give the command to save me,
for you are my rock and my fortress.

⁴ Rescue me, my God, from the hand of the wicked,
from the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

⁵ For you are my hope, Lord GOD,
my confidence from my youth.

⁶ I have relied on you from the womb.
You are he who took me out of my mother's womb.
I will always praise you.

⁷ I am a marvel to many,
but you are my strong refuge.

⁸ My mouth shall be filled with your praise, with your honor all day long.

⁹ Don't reject me in my old age.
Don't forsake me when my strength fails.

¹⁰ For my enemies talk about me.
Those who watch for my soul conspire together,

- 11 saying, "God has forsaken him.
Pursue and take him, for no one will rescue him."
12 God, don't be far from me.
My God, hurry to help me.
13 Let my accusers be disappointed and consumed.
Let them be covered with disgrace and scorn who want to harm me.
14 But I will always hope,
and will add to all of your praise.
15 My mouth will tell about your righteousness, and of your salvation all day,
though I don't know its full measure.
16 I will come with the mighty acts of the Lord GOD.
I will make mention of your righteousness, even of yours alone.
17 God, you have taught me from my youth.
Until now, I have declared your wondrous works.
18 Yes, even when I am old and gray-haired, God, don't forsake me, until I have declared your strength to the next generation, your might to everyone who is to come.
19 God, your righteousness also reaches to the heavens.
You have done great things.
God, who is like you?
20 You, who have shown us many and bitter troubles,
you will let me live.
You will bring us up again from the depths of the earth.
21 Increase my honor and comfort me again.
22 I will also praise you with the harp for your faithfulness, my God.
I sing praises to you with the lyre, Holy One of Israel.
23 My lips shall shout for joy!
My soul, which you have redeemed, sings praises to you!
24 My tongue will also talk about your righteousness all day long,
for they are disappointed, and they are confounded, who want to harm me.

72

By Solomon.

- 1 God, give the king your justice;
your righteousness to the royal son.
2 He will judge your people with righteousness, and your poor with justice.
3 The mountains shall bring prosperity to the people.
The hills bring the fruit of righteousness.
4 He will judge the poor of the people.
He will save the children of the needy,
and will break the oppressor in pieces.
5 They shall fear you while the sun endures;
and as long as the moon, throughout all generations.
6 He will come down like rain on the mown grass, as showers that water the earth.
7 In his days, the righteous shall flourish, and abundance of peace, until the moon is no more.

- 8 He shall have dominion also from sea to sea,
from the River to the ends of the earth.
- 9 Those who dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him.
His enemies shall lick the dust.
- 10 The kings of Tarshish and of the islands will bring tribute.
The kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.
- 11 Yes, all kings shall fall down before him.
All nations shall serve him.
- 12 For he will deliver the needy when he cries;
the poor, who has no helper.
- 13 He will have pity on the poor and needy.
He will save the souls of the needy.
- 14 He will redeem their soul from oppression and violence.
Their blood will be precious in his sight.
- 15 He will live; and Sheba's gold will be given to him.
Men will pray for him continually.
They will bless him all day long.
- 16 Abundance of grain shall be throughout the land.
Its fruit sways like Lebanon.
Let it flourish, thriving like the grass of the field.
- 17 His name endures forever.
His name continues as long as the sun.
Men shall be blessed by him.
All nations will call him blessed.
- 18 Praise be to the LORD God, the God of Israel, who alone does marvelous deeds.
- 19 Blessed be his glorious name forever!
Let the whole earth be filled with his glory!
Amen and amen.

20 This ends the prayers by David, the son of Jesse.

73

A Psalm by Asaph.

- 1 Surely God* is good to Israel,
to those who are pure in heart.
- 2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone.
My steps had nearly slipped.
- 3 For I was envious of the arrogant,
when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.
- 4 For there are no struggles in their death,
but their strength is firm.
- 5 They are free from burdens of men, neither are they plagued like other men.
- 6 Therefore pride is like a chain around their neck.
Violence covers them like a garment.
- 7 Their eyes bulge with fat.
Their minds pass the limits of conceit.

* 73:1 The Hebrew word rendered "God" is "אֱלֹהִים" (Elohim).

- ⁸ They scoff and speak with malice.
In arrogance, they threaten oppression.
- ⁹ They have set their mouth in the heavens.
Their tongue walks through the earth.
- ¹⁰ Therefore their people return to them,
and they drink up waters of abundance.
- ¹¹ They say, "How does God know?
Is there knowledge in the Most High?"
- ¹² Behold, these are the wicked.
Being always at ease, they increase in riches.
- ¹³ Surely I have cleansed my heart in vain,
and washed my hands in innocence,
- ¹⁴ For all day long I have been plagued,
and punished every morning.
- ¹⁵ If I had said, "I will speak thus", behold, I would have betrayed the generation of your children.
- ¹⁶ When I tried to understand this,
it was too painful for me—
- ¹⁷ until I entered God's sanctuary, and considered their latter end.
- ¹⁸ Surely you set them in slippery places.
You throw them down to destruction.
- ¹⁹ How they are suddenly destroyed!
They are completely swept away with terrors.
- ²⁰ As a dream when one wakes up,
so, Lord,[†] when you awake, you will despise their fantasies.
- ²¹ For my soul was grieved.
I was embittered in my heart.
- ²² I was so senseless and ignorant.
I was a brute beast before you.
- ²³ Nevertheless, I am continually with you.
You have held my right hand.
- ²⁴ You will guide me with your counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.
- ²⁵ Whom do I have in heaven?
There is no one on earth whom I desire besides you.
- ²⁶ My flesh and my heart fails,
but God is the strength of my heart and my portion forever.
- ²⁷ For, behold, those who are far from you shall perish.
You have destroyed all those who are unfaithful to you.
- ²⁸ But it is good for me to come close to God.
I have made the Lord GOD[‡] my refuge, that I may tell of all your works.

A contemplation by Asaph.

¹ God, why have you rejected us forever?

[†] 73:20 The word translated "Lord" is "Adonai." [‡] 73:28 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh).

- Why does your anger smolder against the sheep of your pasture?
- ² Remember your congregation, which you purchased of old,
which you have redeemed to be the tribe of your inheritance:
Mount Zion, in which you have lived.
- ³ Lift up your feet to the perpetual ruins,
all the evil that the enemy has done in the sanctuary.
- ⁴ Your adversaries have roared in the middle of your assembly.
They have set up their standards as signs.
- ⁵ They behaved like men wielding axes, cutting through a thicket of trees.
- ⁶ Now they break all its carved work down with hatchet and hammers.
⁷ They have burned your sanctuary to the ground.
They have profaned the dwelling place of your Name.
- ⁸ They said in their heart, "We will crush them completely."
They have burned up all the places in the land where God was worshipped.
- ⁹ We see no miraculous signs.
There is no longer any prophet,
neither is there among us anyone who knows how long.
- ¹⁰ How long, God, shall the adversary reproach?
Shall the enemy blaspheme your name forever?
- ¹¹ Why do you draw back your hand, even your right hand?
Take it from your chest and consume them!
- ¹² Yet God is my King of old, working salvation throughout the earth.
- ¹³ You divided the sea by your strength.
You broke the heads of the sea monsters in the waters.
- ¹⁴ You broke the heads of Leviathan in pieces.
You gave him as food to people and desert creatures.
- ¹⁵ You opened up spring and stream.
You dried up mighty rivers.
- ¹⁶ The day is yours, the night is also yours.
You have prepared the light and the sun.
- ¹⁷ You have set all the boundaries of the earth.
You have made summer and winter.
- ¹⁸ Remember this, that the enemy has mocked you, LORD.
Foolish people have blasphemed your name.
- ¹⁹ Don't deliver the soul of your dove to wild beasts.
Don't forget the life of your poor forever.
- ²⁰ Honor your covenant,
for haunts of violence fill the dark places of the earth.
- ²¹ Don't let the oppressed return ashamed.
Let the poor and needy praise your name.
- ²² Arise, God! Plead your own cause.
Remember how the foolish man mocks you all day.
- ²³ Don't forget the voice of your adversaries.
The tumult of those who rise up against you ascends continually.

75

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A Psalm by Asaph. A song.

¹ We give thanks to you, God.

We give thanks, for your Name is near.
Men tell about your wondrous works.

² When I choose the appointed time,
I will judge blamelessly.

³ The earth and all its inhabitants quake.
I firmly hold its pillars.

Selah.

⁴ I said to the arrogant, "Don't boast!"
I said to the wicked, "Don't lift up the horn.

⁵ Don't lift up your horn on high.
Don't speak with a stiff neck."

⁶ For neither from the east, nor from the west, nor yet from the south, comes exaltation.

⁷ But God is the judge.
He puts down one, and lifts up another.

⁸ For in the LORD's hand there is a cup, full of foaming wine mixed with spices.

He pours it out.
Indeed the wicked of the earth drink and drink it to its very dregs.

⁹ But I will declare this forever:
I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.

¹⁰ I will cut off all the horns of the wicked,
but the horns of the righteous shall be lifted up.

For the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments. A Psalm by Asaph. A song.

¹ In Judah, God is known.
His name is great in Israel.

² His tabernacle is also in Salem.
His dwelling place in Zion.

³ There he broke the flaming arrows of the bow,
the shield, and the sword, and the weapons of war.

Selah.

⁴ Glorious are you, and excellent,
more than mountains of game.

⁵ Valiant men lie plundered,
they have slept their last sleep.
None of the men of war can lift their hands.

⁶ At your rebuke, God of Jacob, both chariot and horse are cast into a dead sleep.

⁷ You, even you, are to be feared.
Who can stand in your sight when you are angry?

⁸ You pronounced judgment from heaven.
The earth feared, and was silent,

⁹ when God arose to judgment, to save all the afflicted ones of the earth.

Selah.

¹⁰ Surely the wrath of man praises you.

The survivors of your wrath are restrained.

¹¹ Make vows to the LORD your God, and fulfill them!

Let all of his neighbors bring presents to him who is to be feared.

¹² He will cut off the spirit of princes.

He is feared by the kings of the earth.

77

For the Chief Musician. To Jeduthun. A Psalm by Asaph.

¹ My cry goes to God!

Indeed, I cry to God for help, and for him to listen to me.

² In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord.

My hand was stretched out in the night, and didn't get tired.
My soul refused to be comforted.

³ I remember God, and I groan.

I complain, and my spirit is overwhelmed.

Selah.

⁴ You hold my eyelids open.

I am so troubled that I can't speak.

⁵ I have considered the days of old,
the years of ancient times.

⁶ I remember my song in the night.

I consider in my own heart;
my spirit diligently inquires:

⁷ "Will the Lord reject us forever?

Will he be favorable no more?

⁸ Has his loving kindness vanished forever?

Does his promise fail for generations?

⁹ Has God forgotten to be gracious?

Has he, in anger, withheld his compassion?"

Selah.

¹⁰ Then I thought, "I will appeal to this:
the years of the right hand of the Most High."

¹¹ I will remember the LORD's deeds;
for I will remember your wonders of old.

¹² I will also meditate on all your work,
and consider your doings.

¹³ Your way, God, is in the sanctuary.

What god is great like God?

¹⁴ You are the God who does wonders.

You have made your strength known among the peoples.

¹⁵ You have redeemed your people with your arm,
the sons of Jacob and Joseph.

Selah.

¹⁶ The waters saw you, God.

The waters saw you, and they writhed.
The depths also convulsed.

- 17 The clouds poured out water.
The skies resounded with thunder.
Your arrows also flashed around.
- 18 The voice of your thunder was in the whirlwind.
The lightnings lit up the world.
The earth trembled and shook.
- 19 Your way was through the sea,
your paths through the great waters.
Your footsteps were not known.
- 20 You led your people like a flock,
by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

78

A contemplation by Asaph.

- 1 Hear my teaching, my people.
Turn your ears to the words of my mouth.
- 2 I will open my mouth in a parable.
I will utter dark sayings of old,
- 3 which we have heard and known,
and our fathers have told us.
- 4 We will not hide them from their children, telling to the generation to come the praises of the LORD,
his strength, and his wondrous deeds that he has done.
- 5 For he established a covenant in Jacob,
and appointed a teaching in Israel,
which he commanded our fathers,
that they should make them known to their children;
- 6 that the generation to come might know, even the children who should be born;
who should arise and tell their children,
- 7 that they might set their hope in God,
and not forget God's deeds,
but keep his commandments,
- 8 and might not be as their fathers—
a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation that didn't make their hearts loyal,
whose spirit was not steadfast with God.
- 9 The children of Ephraim, being armed and carrying bows, turned back in the day of battle.
- 10 They didn't keep God's covenant,
and refused to walk in his law.
- 11 They forgot his doings,
his wondrous deeds that he had shown them.
- 12 He did marvelous things in the sight of their fathers,
in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.
- 13 He split the sea, and caused them to pass through.
He made the waters stand as a heap.
- 14 In the daytime he also led them with a cloud,
and all night with a light of fire.

- 15 He split rocks in the wilderness,
and gave them drink abundantly as out of the depths.
- 16 He brought streams also out of the rock,
and caused waters to run down like rivers.
- 17 Yet they still went on to sin against him,
to rebel against the Most High in the desert.
- 18 They tempted God in their heart
by asking food according to their desire.
- 19 Yes, they spoke against God.
They said, "Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?
- 20 Behold, he struck the rock, so that waters gushed out,
and streams overflowed.
Can he give bread also?
Will he provide meat for his people?"
- 21 Therefore the LORD heard, and was angry.
A fire was kindled against Jacob,
anger also went up against Israel,
- 22 because they didn't believe in God,
and didn't trust in his salvation.
- 23 Yet he commanded the skies above,
and opened the doors of heaven.
- 24 He rained down manna on them to eat,
and gave them food from the sky.
- 25 Man ate the bread of angels.
He sent them food to the full.
- 26 He caused the east wind to blow in the sky.
By his power he guided the south wind.
- 27 He also rained meat on them as the dust,
winged birds as the sand of the seas.
- 28 He let them fall in the middle of their camp, around their habitations.
- 29 So they ate, and were well filled.
He gave them their own desire.
- 30 They didn't turn from their cravings.
Their food was yet in their mouths,
31 when the anger of God went up against them, killed some of their strongest,
and struck down the young men of Israel.
- 32 For all this they still sinned,
and didn't believe in his wondrous works.
- 33 Therefore he consumed their days in vanity,
and their years in terror.
- 34 When he killed them, then they inquired after him.
They returned and sought God earnestly.
- 35 They remembered that God was their rock,
the Most High God, their redeemer.
- 36 But they flattered him with their mouth,
and lied to him with their tongue.
- 37 For their heart was not right with him, neither were they faithful in his covenant.
- 38 But he, being merciful, forgave iniquity, and didn't destroy them.

Yes, many times he turned his anger away,
and didn't stir up all his wrath.

- 39 He remembered that they were but flesh,
a wind that passes away, and doesn't come again.
- 40 How often they rebelled against him in the wilderness,
and grieved him in the desert!
- 41 They turned again and tempted God,
and provoked the Holy One of Israel.
- 42 They didn't remember his hand,
nor the day when he redeemed them from the adversary;
- 43 how he set his signs in Egypt,
his wonders in the field of Zoan,
- 44 he turned their rivers into blood,
and their streams, so that they could not drink.
- 45 He sent among them swarms of flies, which devoured them;
and frogs, which destroyed them.
- 46 He also gave their increase to the caterpillar,
and their labor to the locust.
- 47 He destroyed their vines with hail,
their sycamore fig trees with frost.
- 48 He also gave over their livestock to the hail,
and their flocks to hot thunderbolts.
- 49 He threw on them the fierceness of his anger, wrath, indignation, and trouble,
and a band of angels of evil.
- 50 He made a path for his anger.
He didn't spare their soul from death,
but gave their life over to the pestilence,
- 51 and struck all the firstborn in Egypt,
the chief of their strength in the tents of Ham.
- 52 But he led out his own people like sheep,
and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.
- 53 He led them safely, so that they weren't afraid,
but the sea overwhelmed their enemies.
- 54 He brought them to the border of his sanctuary,
to this mountain, which his right hand had taken.
- 55 He also drove out the nations before them, allotted them for an inheritance by line,
and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.
- 56 Yet they tempted and rebelled against the Most High God,
and didn't keep his testimonies,
- 57 but turned back, and dealt treacherously like their fathers.
They were twisted like a deceitful bow.
- 58 For they provoked him to anger with their high places,
and moved him to jealousy with their engraved images.
- 59 When God heard this, he was angry,
and greatly abhorred Israel,
- 60 so that he abandoned the tent of Shiloh,
the tent which he placed among men,
- 61 and delivered his strength into captivity,
his glory into the adversary's hand.

- 62 He also gave his people over to the sword,
and was angry with his inheritance.
- 63 Fire devoured their young men.
Their virgins had no wedding song.
- 64 Their priests fell by the sword,
and their widows couldn't weep.
- 65 Then the Lord awakened as one out of sleep,
like a mighty man who shouts by reason of wine.
- 66 He struck his adversaries backward.
He put them to a perpetual reproach.
- 67 Moreover he rejected the tent of Joseph,
and didn't choose the tribe of Ephraim,
- 68 But chose the tribe of Judah,
Mount Zion which he loved.
- 69 He built his sanctuary like the heights,
like the earth which he has established forever.
- 70 He also chose David his servant,
and took him from the sheepfolds;
- 71 from following the ewes that have their young,
he brought him to be the shepherd of Jacob, his people,
and Israel, his inheritance.
- 72 So he was their shepherd according to the integrity of his heart, and guided them by the skillfulness of his hands.

A Psalm by Asaph.

- 1 God, the nations have come into your inheritance.
They have defiled your holy temple.
They have laid Jerusalem in heaps.
- 2 They have given the dead bodies of your servants to be food for the birds of the sky,
the flesh of your saints to the animals of the earth.
- 3 They have shed their blood like water around Jerusalem.
There was no one to bury them.
- 4 We have become a reproach to our neighbors,
a scoffing and derision to those who are around us.
- 5 How long, LORD?
Will you be angry forever?
Will your jealousy burn like fire?
- 6 Pour out your wrath on the nations that don't know you,
on the kingdoms that don't call on your name,
- 7 for they have devoured Jacob,
and destroyed his homeland.
- 8 Don't hold the iniquities of our forefathers against us.
Let your tender mercies speedily meet us,
for we are in desperate need.
- 9 Help us, God of our salvation, for the glory of your name.
Deliver us, and forgive our sins, for your name's sake.
- 10 Why should the nations say, "Where is their God?"
Let it be known among the nations, before our eyes, that vengeance for your servants' blood is being poured out.

¹¹ Let the sighing of the prisoner come before you.

According to the greatness of your power, preserve those who are sentenced to death.

¹² Pay back to our neighbors seven times into their bosom their reproach with which they have reproached you, Lord.

¹³ So we, your people and sheep of your pasture, will give you thanks forever.
We will praise you forever, to all generations.

80

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "The Lilies of the Covenant." A Psalm by Asaph.

¹ Hear us, Shepherd of Israel, you who lead Joseph like a flock,
you who sit above the cherubim, shine out.

² Before Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh, stir up your might!
Come to save us!

³ Turn us again, God.
Cause your face to shine,
and we will be saved.

⁴ LORD God of Armies,
how long will you be angry against the prayer of your people?

⁵ You have fed them with the bread of tears, and given them tears to drink in large measure.

⁶ You make us a source of contention to our neighbors.
Our enemies laugh among themselves.

⁷ Turn us again, God of Armies.
Cause your face to shine,
and we will be saved.

⁸ You brought a vine out of Egypt.
You drove out the nations, and planted it.

⁹ You cleared the ground for it.
It took deep root, and filled the land.

¹⁰ The mountains were covered with its shadow.
Its boughs were like God's cedars.

¹¹ It sent out its branches to the sea,
its shoots to the River.

¹² Why have you broken down its walls,
so that all those who pass by the way pluck it?

¹³ The boar out of the wood ravages it.
The wild animals of the field feed on it.

¹⁴ Turn again, we beg you, God of Armies.
Look down from heaven, and see, and visit this vine,

¹⁵ the stock which your right hand planted,
the branch that you made strong for yourself.

¹⁶ It's burned with fire.
It's cut down.
They perish at your rebuke.

- ¹⁷ Let your hand be on the man of your right hand,
on the son of man whom you made strong for yourself.
¹⁸ So we will not turn away from you.
Revive us, and we will call on your name.
¹⁹ Turn us again, LORD God of Armies.
Cause your face to shine, and we will be saved.

81

For the Chief Musician. On an instrument of Gath. By Asaph.

- ¹ Sing aloud to God, our strength!
Make a joyful shout to the God of Jacob!
² Raise a song, and bring here the tambourine,
the pleasant lyre with the harp.
³ Blow the trumpet at the New Moon,
at the full moon, on our feast day.
⁴ For it is a statute for Israel, an ordinance of the God of Jacob.
⁵ He appointed it in Joseph for a covenant,
when he went out over the land of Egypt,
I heard a language that I didn't know.
⁶ "I removed his shoulder from the burden.
His hands were freed from the basket.
⁷ You called in trouble, and I delivered you.
I answered you in the secret place of thunder.
I tested you at the waters of Meribah."

Selah.

- ⁸ "Hear, my people, and I will testify to you,
Israel, if you would listen to me!
⁹ There shall be no strange god in you, neither shall you worship any foreign god.
¹⁰ I am the LORD, your God, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt.
Open your mouth wide, and I will fill it.
¹¹ But my people didn't listen to my voice.
Israel desired none of me.
¹² So I let them go after the stubbornness of their hearts, that they might walk in their own counsels.
¹³ Oh that my people would listen to me,
that Israel would walk in my ways!
¹⁴ I would soon subdue their enemies,
and turn my hand against their adversaries.
¹⁵ The haters of the LORD would cringe before him,
and their punishment would last forever.
¹⁶ But he would have also fed them with the finest of the wheat.
I will satisfy you with honey out of the rock."

82

A Psalm by Asaph.

- ¹ God presides in the great assembly.
He judges among the gods.

² “How long will you judge unjustly, and show partiality to the wicked?”

Selah.

³ “Defend the weak, the poor, and the fatherless.
Maintain the rights of the poor and oppressed.

⁴ Rescue the weak and needy.
Deliver them out of the hand of the wicked.”

⁵ They don’t know, neither do they understand.
They walk back and forth in darkness.

All the foundations of the earth are shaken.

⁶ I said, “You are gods,
all of you are sons of the Most High.

⁷ Nevertheless you shall die like men,
and fall like one of the rulers.”

⁸ Arise, God, judge the earth, for you inherit all of the nations.

83

A song. A Psalm by Asaph.

¹ God, don’t keep silent.
Don’t keep silent,
and don’t be still, God.

² For, behold, your enemies are stirred up.
Those who hate you have lifted up their heads.

³ They conspire with cunning against your people.
They plot against your cherished ones.

⁴ “Come,” they say, “let’s destroy them as a nation, that the name of Israel may be remembered no more.”

⁵ For they have conspired together with one mind.
They form an alliance against you.

⁶ The tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites;
Moab, and the Hagrites;

⁷ Gebal, Ammon, and Amalek;
Philistia with the inhabitants of Tyre;

⁸ Assyria also is joined with them.
They have helped the children of Lot.

Selah.

⁹ Do to them as you did to Midian, as to Sisera, as to Jabin, at the river Kishon;

¹⁰ who perished at Endor,
who became as dung for the earth.

¹¹ Make their nobles like Oreb and Zeeb, yes, all their princes like Zebah and Zalmunna,

¹² who said, “Let’s take possession of God’s pasture lands.”

¹³ My God, make them like tumbleweed, like chaff before the wind.

¹⁴ As the fire that burns the forest,
as the flame that sets the mountains on fire,

¹⁵ so pursue them with your tempest, and terrify them with your storm.

- ¹⁶ Fill their faces with confusion,
that they may seek your name, LORD.
¹⁷ Let them be disappointed and dismayed forever.
Yes, let them be confounded and perish;
¹⁸ that they may know that you alone, whose name is the LORD,*
are the Most High over all the earth.

84

For the Chief Musician. On an instrument of Gath. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

- ¹ How lovely are your dwellings,
LORD of Armies!
² My soul longs, and even faints for the courts of the LORD.
My heart and my flesh cry out for the living God.
³ Yes, the sparrow has found a home, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may have her young,
near your altars, LORD of Armies, my King, and my God.
⁴ Blessed are those who dwell in your house.
They are always praising you.

Selah.

- ⁵ Blessed are those whose strength is in you,
who have set their hearts on a pilgrimage.
⁶ Passing through the valley of Weeping, they make it a place of springs.
Yes, the autumn rain covers it with blessings.
⁷ They go from strength to strength.
Every one of them appears before God in Zion.
⁸ LORD, God of Armies, hear my prayer.
Listen, God of Jacob.

Selah.

- ⁹ Behold, God our shield,
look at the face of your anointed.
¹⁰ For a day in your courts is better than a thousand.
I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God,
than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.
¹¹ For the LORD God is a sun and a shield.
The LORD will give grace and glory.
He withholds no good thing from those who walk blamelessly.
¹² LORD of Armies,
blessed is the man who trusts in you.

85

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

- ¹ LORD, you have been favorable to your land.
You have restored the fortunes of Jacob.
² You have forgiven the iniquity of your people.
You have covered all their sin.
³ You have taken away all your wrath.
You have turned from the fierceness of your anger.

Selah.

* 83:18 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה Yah.

- ⁴ Turn us, God of our salvation, and cause your indignation toward us to cease.
- ⁵ Will you be angry with us forever?
Will you draw out your anger to all generations?
- ⁶ Won't you revive us again,
that your people may rejoice in you?
- ⁷ Show us your loving kindness, LORD.
Grant us your salvation.
- ⁸ I will hear what God, the LORD, will speak, for he will speak peace to his people, his saints;
but let them not turn again to folly.
- ⁹ Surely his salvation is near those who fear him,
that glory may dwell in our land.
- ¹⁰ Mercy and truth meet together.
Righteousness and peace have kissed each other.
- ¹¹ Truth springs out of the earth.
Righteousness has looked down from heaven.
- ¹² Yes, the LORD will give that which is good.
Our land will yield its increase.
- ¹³ Righteousness goes before him,
and prepares the way for his steps.

86

A Prayer by David.

- ¹ Hear, LORD, and answer me,
for I am poor and needy.
- ² Preserve my soul, for I am godly.
You, my God, save your servant who trusts in you.
- ³ Be merciful to me, Lord,
for I call to you all day long.
- ⁴ Bring joy to the soul of your servant,
for to you, Lord, do I lift up my soul.
- ⁵ For you, Lord, are good, and ready to forgive, abundant in loving kindness to all those who call on you.
- ⁶ Hear, LORD, my prayer.
Listen to the voice of my petitions.
- ⁷ In the day of my trouble I will call on you,
for you will answer me.
- ⁸ There is no one like you among the gods, Lord,
nor any deeds like your deeds.
- ⁹ All nations you have made will come and worship before you, Lord.
They shall glorify your name.
- ¹⁰ For you are great, and do wondrous things.
You are God alone.
- ¹¹ Teach me your way, LORD.
I will walk in your truth.
Make my heart undivided to fear your name.
- ¹² I will praise you, Lord my God, with my whole heart.
I will glorify your name forever more.
- ¹³ For your loving kindness is great toward me.

You have delivered my soul from the lowest Sheol.*

¹⁴ God, the proud have risen up against me.

A company of violent men have sought after my soul,
and they don't hold regard for you before them.

¹⁵ But you, Lord, are a merciful and gracious God, slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness and truth.

¹⁶ Turn to me, and have mercy on me!
Give your strength to your servant.
Save the son of your servant.

¹⁷ Show me a sign of your goodness, that those who hate me may see it, and be shamed, because you, LORD, have helped me, and comforted me.

87

A Psalm by the sons of Korah; a Song.

² The LORD loves the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob.

³ Glorious things are spoken about you, city of God.

Selah.

⁴ I will record Rahab* and Babylon among those who acknowledge me.
Behold, Philistia, Tyre, and also Ethiopia:
"This one was born there."

⁵ Yes, of Zion it will be said, "This one and that one was born in her;"
the Most High himself will establish her.

⁶ The LORD will count, when he writes up the peoples,
"This one was born there."

Selah.

⁷ Those who sing as well as those who dance say,
"All my springs are in you."

88

A Song. A Psalm by the sons of Korah. For the Chief Musician. To the tune of
"The Suffering of Affliction." A contemplation by Heman, the Ezrahite.

¹ LORD, the God of my salvation,
I have cried day and night before you.

² Let my prayer enter into your presence.
Turn your ear to my cry.

³ For my soul is full of troubles.
My life draws near to Sheol.*

⁴ I am counted among those who go down into the pit.
I am like a man who has no help,
⁵ set apart among the dead,
like the slain who lie in the grave,
whom you remember no more.
They are cut off from your hand.

⁶ You have laid me in the lowest pit,
in the darkest depths.

⁷ Your wrath lies heavily on me.
You have afflicted me with all your waves.

* 86:13 Sheol is the place of the dead.

* 87:4 Rahab is a reference to Egypt.

* 88:3 Sheol is the place of the dead.

Selah.

⁸ You have taken my friends from me.
 You have made me an abomination to them.
 I am confined, and I can't escape.

⁹ My eyes are dim from grief.
 I have called on you daily, LORD.
 I have spread out my hands to you.

¹⁰ Do you show wonders to the dead?
 Do the departed spirits rise up and praise you?

Selah.

¹¹ Is your loving kindness declared in the grave?
 Or your faithfulness in Destruction?

¹² Are your wonders made known in the dark?
 Or your righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?

¹³ But to you, LORD, I have cried.
 In the morning, my prayer comes before you.

¹⁴ LORD, why do you reject my soul?
 Why do you hide your face from me?

¹⁵ I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up.
 While I suffer your terrors, I am distracted.

¹⁶ Your fierce wrath has gone over me.
 Your terrors have cut me off.

¹⁷ They came around me like water all day long.
 They completely engulfed me.

¹⁸ You have put lover and friend far from me, and my friends into darkness.

89

A contemplation by Ethan, the Ezrahite.

¹ I will sing of the loving kindness of the LORD forever.
 With my mouth, I will make known your faithfulness to all generations.

² I indeed declare, "Love stands firm forever.
 You established the heavens.
 Your faithfulness is in them."

³ "I have made a covenant with my chosen one,
 I have sworn to David, my servant,
⁴ 'I will establish your offspring forever, and build up your throne to all generations.' "

Selah.

⁵ The heavens will praise your wonders, LORD, your faithfulness also in the assembly of the holy ones.

⁶ For who in the skies can be compared to the LORD?
 Who among the sons of the heavenly beings is like the LORD,

⁷ a very awesome God in the council of the holy ones,
 to be feared above all those who are around him?

⁸ LORD,* God of Armies, who is a mighty one, like you?
 LORD,† your faithfulness is around you.

* 89:8 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה Yah. † 89:8 Hebrew: יה Yah

- ⁹ You rule the pride of the sea.
When its waves rise up, you calm them.
- ¹⁰ You have broken Rahab in pieces, like one of the slain.
You have scattered your enemies with your mighty arm.
- ¹¹ The heavens are yours.
The earth also is yours,
the world and its fullness.
You have founded them.
- ¹² You have created the north and the south.
Tabor and Hermon rejoice in your name.
- ¹³ You have a mighty arm.
Your hand is strong, and your right hand is exalted.
- ¹⁴ Righteousness and justice are the foundation of your throne.
Loving kindness and truth go before your face.
- ¹⁵ Blessed are the people who learn to acclaim you.
They walk in the light of your presence, LORD.
- ¹⁶ In your name they rejoice all day.
In your righteousness, they are exalted.
- ¹⁷ For you are the glory of their strength.
In your favor, our horn will be exalted.
- ¹⁸ For our shield belongs to the LORD,
our king to the Holy One of Israel.
- ¹⁹ Then you spoke in vision to your saints,
and said, "I have given strength to the warrior.
I have exalted a young man from the people."
- ²⁰ I have found David, my servant.
I have anointed him with my holy oil,
- ²¹ with whom my hand shall be established.
My arm will also strengthen him.
- ²² No enemy will tax him.
No wicked man will oppress him.
- ²³ I will beat down his adversaries before him,
and strike those who hate him.
- ²⁴ But my faithfulness and my loving kindness will be with him.
In my name, his horn will be exalted.
- ²⁵ I will set his hand also on the sea,
and his right hand on the rivers.
- ²⁶ He will call to me, 'You are my Father,
my God, and the rock of my salvation!'
- ²⁷ I will also appoint him my firstborn,
the highest of the kings of the earth.
- ²⁸ I will keep my loving kindness for him forever more.
My covenant will stand firm with him.
- ²⁹ I will also make his offspring endure forever,
and his throne as the days of heaven.
- ³⁰ If his children forsake my law,
and don't walk in my ordinances;
- ³¹ if they break my statutes,
and don't keep my commandments;
- ³² then I will punish their sin with the rod, and their iniquity with stripes.

33 But I will not completely take my loving kindness from him, nor allow my faithfulness to fail.

34 I will not break my covenant,
nor alter what my lips have uttered.

35 Once I have sworn by my holiness,
I will not lie to David.

36 His offspring will endure forever, his throne like the sun before me.

37 It will be established forever like the moon,
the faithful witness in the sky.”

Selah.

38 But you have rejected and spurned.
You have been angry with your anointed.

39 You have renounced the covenant of your servant.
You have defiled his crown in the dust.

40 You have broken down all his hedges.
You have brought his strongholds to ruin.

41 All who pass by the way rob him.
He has become a reproach to his neighbors.

42 You have exalted the right hand of his adversaries.
You have made all of his enemies rejoice.

43 Yes, you turn back the edge of his sword, and haven't supported him in battle.

44 You have ended his splendor, and thrown his throne down to the ground.

45 You have shortened the days of his youth.
You have covered him with shame.

Selah.

46 How long, LORD?
Will you hide yourself forever?
Will your wrath burn like fire?

47 Remember how short my time is,
for what vanity you have created all the children of men!

48 What man is he who shall live and not see death, who shall deliver his soul from the power of Sheol?‡

Selah.

49 Lord, where are your former loving kindnesses, which you swore to David in your faithfulness?

50 Remember, Lord, the reproach of your servants, how I bear in my heart the taunts of all the mighty peoples,

51 With which your enemies have mocked, LORD, with which they have mocked the footsteps of your anointed one.

52 Blessed be the LORD forever more.
Amen, and Amen.

BOOK 4

‡ 89:48 Sheol is the place of the dead.

90

A Prayer by Moses, the man of God.*

- ¹ Lord,[†] you have been our dwelling place for all generations.
² Before the mountains were born, before you had formed the earth and the world,
 even from everlasting to everlasting, you are God.
- ³ You turn man to destruction, saying,
 "Return, you children of men."
- ⁴ For a thousand years in your sight are just like yesterday when it is past, like a watch in the night.
- ⁵ You sweep them away as they sleep.
 In the morning they sprout like new grass.
- ⁶ In the morning it sprouts and springs up.
 By evening, it is withered and dry.
- ⁷ For we are consumed in your anger.
 We are troubled in your wrath.
- ⁸ You have set our iniquities before you,
 our secret sins in the light of your presence.
- ⁹ For all our days have passed away in your wrath.
 We bring our years to an end as a sigh.
- ¹⁰ The days of our years are seventy,
 or even by reason of strength eighty years;
 yet their pride is but labor and sorrow,
 for it passes quickly, and we fly away.
- ¹¹ Who knows the power of your anger,
 your wrath according to the fear that is due to you?
- ¹² So teach us to count our days,
 that we may gain a heart of wisdom.
- ¹³ Relent, LORD![‡]
 How long?
 Have compassion on your servants!
- ¹⁴ Satisfy us in the morning with your loving kindness, that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.
- ¹⁵ Make us glad for as many days as you have afflicted us,
 for as many years as we have seen evil.
- ¹⁶ Let your work appear to your servants,
 your glory to their children.
- ¹⁷ Let the favor of the Lord our God be on us.
 Establish the work of our hands for us.
 Yes, establish the work of our hands.

- ¹ He who dwells in the secret place of the Most High will rest in the shadow of the Almighty.
- ² I will say of the LORD, "He is my refuge and my fortress;
 my God, in whom I trust."
- ³ For he will deliver you from the snare of the fowler,

* 90: The Hebrew word rendered "God" is "אֱלֹהִים" (Elohim). † 90:1 The word translated "Lord" is "Adonai." ‡ 90:13 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh).

- and from the deadly pestilence.
4 He will cover you with his feathers.
Under his wings you will take refuge.
His faithfulness is your shield and rampart.
5 You shall not be afraid of the terror by night,
nor of the arrow that flies by day,
6 nor of the pestilence that walks in darkness,
nor of the destruction that wastes at noonday.
7 A thousand may fall at your side,
and ten thousand at your right hand;
but it will not come near you.
8 You will only look with your eyes, and see the recompense of the wicked.
9 Because you have made the LORD your refuge, and the Most High your dwelling place, 10 no evil shall happen to you,
neither shall any plague come near your dwelling.
11 For he will put his angels in charge of you,
to guard you in all your ways.
12 They will bear you up in their hands,
so that you won't dash your foot against a stone.
13 You will tread on the lion and cobra.
You will trample the young lion and the serpent underfoot.
14 "Because he has set his love on me, therefore I will deliver him.
I will set him on high, because he has known my name.
15 He will call on me, and I will answer him.
I will be with him in trouble.
I will deliver him, and honor him.
16 I will satisfy him with long life,
and show him my salvation."

92

A Psalm. A song for the Sabbath day.

- 1 It is a good thing to give thanks to the LORD, to sing praises to your name, Most High,
2 to proclaim your loving kindness in the morning,
and your faithfulness every night,
3 with the ten-stringed lute, with the harp,
and with the melody of the lyre.
4 For you, LORD, have made me glad through your work.
I will triumph in the works of your hands.
5 How great are your works, LORD!
Your thoughts are very deep.
6 A senseless man doesn't know, neither does a fool understand this:
7 though the wicked spring up as the grass, and all the evildoers flourish,
they will be destroyed forever.
8 But you, LORD, are on high forever more.
9 For behold, your enemies, LORD,

- for behold, your enemies shall perish.
 All the evildoers will be scattered.
 10 But you have exalted my horn like that of the wild ox.
 I am anointed with fresh oil.
 11 My eye has also seen my enemies.
 My ears have heard of the wicked enemies who rise up against me.
 12 The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree.
 He will grow like a cedar in Lebanon.
 13 They are planted in the LORD's house.
 They will flourish in our God's courts.
 14 They will still produce fruit in old age.
 They will be full of sap and green,
 15 to show that the LORD is upright.
 He is my rock,
 and there is no unrighteousness in him.

93

- 1 The LORD reigns!
 He is clothed with majesty!
 The LORD is armed with strength.
 The world also is established.
 It can't be moved.
 2 Your throne is established from long ago.
 You are from everlasting.
 3 The floods have lifted up, LORD,
 the floods have lifted up their voice.
 The floods lift up their waves.
 4 Above the voices of many waters,
 the mighty breakers of the sea,
 the LORD on high is mighty.
 5 Your statutes stand firm.
 Holiness adorns your house,
 LORD, forever more.

94

- 1 LORD, * you God to whom vengeance belongs,
 you God to whom vengeance belongs, shine out.
 2 Rise up, you judge of the earth.
 Pay back the proud what they deserve.
 3 LORD, how long will the wicked,
 how long will the wicked triumph?
 4 They pour out arrogant words.
 All the evildoers boast.
 5 They break your people in pieces, LORD,
 and afflict your heritage.
 6 They kill the widow and the alien,
 and murder the fatherless.
 7 They say, "The LORD† will not see, neither will Jacob's God consider."

* 94:1 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה Yah. † 94:7 Hebrew: יה Yah

- 8 Consider, you senseless among the people;
you fools, when will you be wise?
9 He who implanted the ear, won't he hear?
He who formed the eye, won't he see?
10 He who disciplines the nations, won't he punish?
He who teaches man knows.
11 The LORD knows the thoughts of man,
that they are futile.
12 Blessed is the man whom you discipline, LORD,[‡]
and teach out of your law, 13 that you may give him rest from the days of adversity, until the pit is dug for the wicked.
14 For the LORD won't reject his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.
15 For judgment will return to righteousness.
All the upright in heart shall follow it.
16 Who will rise up for me against the wicked?
Who will stand up for me against the evildoers?
17 Unless the LORD had been my help,
my soul would have soon lived in silence.
18 When I said, "My foot is slipping!"
Your loving kindness, LORD, held me up.
19 In the multitude of my thoughts within me, your comforts delight my soul.
20 Shall the throne of wickedness have fellowship with you,
which brings about mischief by statute?
21 They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood.
22 But the LORD has been my high tower,
my God, the rock of my refuge.
23 He has brought on them their own iniquity, and will cut them off in their own wickedness.
The LORD, our God, will cut them off.

95

- 1 Oh come, let's sing to the LORD.
Let's shout aloud to the rock of our salvation!
2 Let's come before his presence with thanksgiving.
Let's extol him with songs!
3 For the LORD is a great God,
a great King above all gods.
4 In his hand are the deep places of the earth.
The heights of the mountains are also his.
5 The sea is his, and he made it.
His hands formed the dry land.
6 Oh come, let's worship and bow down.
Let's kneel before the LORD, our Maker,
7 for he is our God.
We are the people of his pasture,

[‡] 94:12 Hebrew: יְיָ Yah

- and the sheep in his care.
Today, oh that you would hear his voice!
8 Don't harden your heart, as at Meribah,
as in the day of Massah in the wilderness, 9 when your fathers tempted me, tested me, and saw my work.
10 Forty long years I was grieved with that generation, and said, "They are a people who err in their heart.
They have not known my ways."
11 Therefore I swore in my wrath,
"They won't enter into my rest."

96

- 1 Sing to the LORD a new song!
Sing to the LORD, all the earth.
2 Sing to the LORD!
Bless his name!
Proclaim his salvation from day to day!
3 Declare his glory among the nations,
his marvelous works among all the peoples.
4 For the LORD is great, and greatly to be praised!
He is to be feared above all gods.
5 For all the gods of the peoples are idols,
but the LORD made the heavens.
6 Honor and majesty are before him.
Strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.
7 Ascribe to the LORD, you families of nations,
ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.
8 Ascribe to the LORD the glory due to his name.
Bring an offering, and come into his courts.
9 Worship the LORD in holy array.
Tremble before him, all the earth.
10 Say among the nations, "The LORD reigns."
The world is also established.
It can't be moved.
He will judge the peoples with equity.
11 Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice.
Let the sea roar, and its fullness!
12 Let the field and all that is in it exult!
Then all the trees of the woods shall sing for joy 13 before the LORD; for he comes,
for he comes to judge the earth.
He will judge the world with righteousness,
the peoples with his truth.

97

- 1 The LORD reigns!
Let the earth rejoice!
Let the multitude of islands be glad!
2 Clouds and darkness are around him.
Righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne.
3 A fire goes before him,

and burns up his adversaries on every side.

⁴ His lightning lights up the world.

The earth sees, and trembles.

⁵ The mountains melt like wax at the presence of the LORD,
at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

⁶ The heavens declare his righteousness.

All the peoples have seen his glory.

⁷ Let all them be shamed who serve engraved images, who boast in their idols.

Worship him, all you gods!*

⁸ Zion heard and was glad.

The daughters of Judah rejoiced because of your judgments, LORD.

⁹ For you, LORD, are most high above all the earth.

You are exalted far above all gods.

¹⁰ You who love the LORD, hate evil!

He preserves the souls of his saints.

He delivers them out of the hand of the wicked.

¹¹ Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart.

¹² Be glad in the LORD, you righteous people!
Give thanks to his holy Name.

98

A Psalm.

¹ Sing to the LORD a new song,

for he has done marvelous things!

His right hand and his holy arm have worked salvation for him.

² The LORD has made known his salvation.

He has openly shown his righteousness in the sight of the nations.

³ He has remembered his loving kindness and his faithfulness toward the house of Israel.

All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

⁴ Make a joyful noise to the LORD, all the earth!

Burst out and sing for joy, yes, sing praises!

⁵ Sing praises to the LORD with the harp, with the harp and the voice of melody.

⁶ With trumpets and sound of the ram's horn, make a joyful noise before the King, the LORD.

⁷ Let the sea roar with its fullness;
the world, and those who dwell therein.

⁸ Let the rivers clap their hands.

Let the mountains sing for joy together.

⁹ Let them sing before the LORD,
for he comes to judge the earth.

He will judge the world with righteousness,
and the peoples with equity.

* 97:7 LXX reads "angels" instead of "gods".

- ¹ The LORD reigns! Let the peoples tremble.
He sits enthroned among the cherubim.
Let the earth be moved.
- ² The LORD is great in Zion.
He is high above all the peoples.
- ³ Let them praise your great and awesome name.
He is Holy!
- ⁴ The King's strength also loves justice.
You establish equity.
You execute justice and righteousness in Jacob.
- ⁵ Exalt the LORD our God.
Worship at his footstool.
He is Holy!
- ⁶ Moses and Aaron were among his priests,
Samuel was among those who call on his name.
They called on the LORD, and he answered them.
- ⁷ He spoke to them in the pillar of cloud.
They kept his testimonies,
the statute that he gave them.
- ⁸ You answered them, LORD our God.
You are a God who forgave them,
although you took vengeance for their doings.
- ⁹ Exalt the LORD, our God.
Worship at his holy hill, for the LORD, our God, is holy!

100

A Psalm of thanksgiving.

- ¹ Shout for joy to the LORD, all you lands!
² Serve the LORD with gladness.
Come before his presence with singing.
- ³ Know that the LORD, he is God.
It is he who has made us, and we are his.
We are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.
- ⁴ Enter into his gates with thanksgiving,
and into his courts with praise.
Give thanks to him, and bless his name.
- ⁵ For the LORD is good.
His loving kindness endures forever,
his faithfulness to all generations.

101

A Psalm by David.

- ¹ I will sing of loving kindness and justice.
To you, LORD, I will sing praises.
- ² I will be careful to live a blameless life.
When will you come to me?
I will walk within my house with a blameless heart.
- ³ I will set no vile thing before my eyes.

- I hate the deeds of faithless men.
They will not cling to me.
- 4 A perverse heart will be far from me.
I will have nothing to do with evil.
- 5 I will silence whoever secretly slanders his neighbor.
I won't tolerate one who is arrogant and conceited.
- 6 My eyes will be on the faithful of the land,
that they may dwell with me.
- He who walks in a perfect way,
he will serve me.
- 7 He who practices deceit won't dwell within my house.
He who speaks falsehood won't be established before my eyes.
- 8 Morning by morning, I will destroy all the wicked of the land, to cut off all the workers of iniquity from the LORD's city.

102

A Prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed and pours out his complaint before the LORD.

- 1 Hear my prayer, LORD!*
- Let my cry come to you.
- 2 Don't hide your face from me in the day of my distress.
Turn your ear to me.
Answer me quickly in the day when I call.
- 3 For my days consume away like smoke.
My bones are burned as a torch.
- 4 My heart is blighted like grass, and withered,
for I forget to eat my bread.
- 5 By reason of the voice of my groaning,
my bones stick to my skin.
- 6 I am like a pelican of the wilderness.
I have become as an owl of the waste places.
- 7 I watch, and have become like a sparrow that is alone on the housetop.
- 8 My enemies reproach me all day.
Those who are mad at me use my name as a curse.
- 9 For I have eaten ashes like bread,
and mixed my drink with tears,
10 because of your indignation and your wrath;
for you have taken me up and thrown me away.
- 11 My days are like a long shadow.
I have withered like grass.
- 12 But you, LORD, will remain forever;
your renown endures to all generations.
- 13 You will arise and have mercy on Zion, for it is time to have pity on her.
Yes, the set time has come.
- 14 For your servants take pleasure in her stones,
and have pity on her dust.
- 15 So the nations will fear the LORD's name,

* 102:1 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה Yah.

- all the kings of the earth your glory.
- 16 For the LORD has built up Zion.
He has appeared in his glory.
- 17 He has responded to the prayer of the destitute,
and has not despised their prayer.
- 18 This will be written for the generation to come.
A people which will be created will praise the LORD,[†]
- 19 for he has looked down from the height of his sanctuary.
From heaven, the LORD saw the earth, 20 to hear the groans of the prisoner,
to free those who are condemned to death, 21 that men may declare the LORD's name in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem, 22 when the peoples are gathered together,
the kingdoms, to serve the LORD.
- 23 He weakened my strength along the course.
He shortened my days.
- 24 I said, "My God, don't take me away in the middle of my days.
Your years are throughout all generations.
- 25 Of old, you laid the foundation of the earth.
The heavens are the work of your hands.
- 26 They will perish, but you will endure.
Yes, all of them will wear out like a garment.
You will change them like a cloak, and they will be changed.
- 27 But you are the same.
Your years will have no end.
- 28 The children of your servants will continue.
Their offspring will be established before you."

103

By David.

- 1 Praise the LORD, my soul!
All that is within me, praise his holy name!
- 2 Praise the LORD, my soul,
and don't forget all his benefits,
- 3 who forgives all your sins,
who heals all your diseases,
- 4 who redeems your life from destruction,
who crowns you with loving kindness and tender mercies,
- 5 who satisfies your desire with good things,
so that your youth is renewed like the eagle's.
- 6 The LORD executes righteous acts, and justice for all who are oppressed.
- 7 He made known his ways to Moses,
his deeds to the children of Israel.
- 8 The LORD is merciful and gracious,
slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness.
- 9 He will not always accuse;
neither will he stay angry forever.

[†] 102:18 Hebrew: יְיָ Yah

- 10 He has not dealt with us according to our sins, nor repaid us for our iniquities.
- 11 For as the heavens are high above the earth,
so great is his loving kindness toward those who fear him.
- 12 As far as the east is from the west,
so far has he removed our transgressions from us.
- 13 Like a father has compassion on his children,
so the LORD has compassion on those who fear him.
- 14 For he knows how we are made.
He remembers that we are dust.
- 15 As for man, his days are like grass.
As a flower of the field, so he flourishes.
- 16 For the wind passes over it, and it is gone.
Its place remembers it no more.
- 17 But the LORD's loving kindness is from everlasting to everlasting with those who fear him,
his righteousness to children's children, 18 to those who keep his covenant,
to those who remember to obey his precepts.
- 19 The LORD has established his throne in the heavens.
His kingdom rules over all.
- 20 Praise the LORD, you angels of his,
who are mighty in strength, who fulfill his word,
obeying the voice of his word.
- 21 Praise the LORD, all you armies of his,
you servants of his, who do his pleasure.
- 22 Praise the LORD, all you works of his,
in all places of his dominion.
Praise the LORD, my soul!

104

- 1 Bless the LORD, * my soul.
The LORD, my God, you are very great.
You are clothed with honor and majesty.
- 2 He covers himself with light as with a garment.
He stretches out the heavens like a curtain.
- 3 He lays the beams of his rooms in the waters.
He makes the clouds his chariot.
He walks on the wings of the wind.
- 4 He makes his messengers† winds, and his servants flames of fire.
- 5 He laid the foundations of the earth,
that it should not be moved forever.
- 6 You covered it with the deep as with a cloak.
The waters stood above the mountains.
- 7 At your rebuke they fled.
At the voice of your thunder they hurried away.
- 8 The mountains rose,
the valleys sank down,

* 104:1 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה Yah. † 104:4 or, angels

- to the place which you had assigned to them.
- ⁹ You have set a boundary that they may not pass over,
that they don't turn again to cover the earth.
- ¹⁰ He sends springs into the valleys.
They run among the mountains.
- ¹¹ They give drink to every animal of the field.
The wild donkeys quench their thirst.
- ¹² The birds of the sky nest by them.
They sing among the branches.
- ¹³ He waters the mountains from his rooms.
The earth is filled with the fruit of your works.
- ¹⁴ He causes the grass to grow for the livestock, and plants for man to cultivate,
that he may produce food out of the earth:
- ¹⁵ wine that makes the heart of man glad,
oil to make his face to shine,
and bread that strengthens man's heart.
- ¹⁶ The LORD's trees are well watered,
the cedars of Lebanon, which he has planted,
- ¹⁷ where the birds make their nests.
The stork makes its home in the cypress trees.
- ¹⁸ The high mountains are for the wild goats.
The rocks are a refuge for the rock badgers.
- ¹⁹ He appointed the moon for seasons.
The sun knows when to set.
- ²⁰ You make darkness, and it is night,
in which all the animals of the forest prowl.
- ²¹ The young lions roar after their prey,
and seek their food from God.
- ²² The sun rises, and they steal away,
and lie down in their dens.
- ²³ Man goes out to his work,
to his labor until the evening.
- ²⁴ LORD, how many are your works!
In wisdom, you have made them all.
The earth is full of your riches.
- ²⁵ There is the sea, great and wide,
in which are innumerable living things,
both small and large animals.
- ²⁶ There the ships go,
and leviathan, whom you formed to play there.
- ²⁷ These all wait for you,
that you may give them their food in due season.
- ²⁸ You give to them; they gather.
You open your hand; they are satisfied with good.
- ²⁹ You hide your face; they are troubled.
You take away their breath; they die and return to the dust.
- ³⁰ You send out your Spirit and they are created.
You renew the face of the ground.
- ³¹ Let the LORD's glory endure forever.
Let the LORD rejoice in his works.

- 32 He looks at the earth, and it trembles.
He touches the mountains, and they smoke.
- 33 I will sing to the LORD as long as I live.
I will sing praise to my God while I have any being.
- 34 Let my meditation be sweet to him.
I will rejoice in the LORD.
- 35 Let sinners be consumed out of the earth.
Let the wicked be no more.
Bless the LORD,[‡] my soul.
Praise the LORD![§]

105

- 1 Give thanks to the LORD!^{*} Call on his name!
Make his doings known among the peoples.
- 2 Sing to him, sing praises to him!
Tell of all his marvelous works.
- 3 Glory in his holy name.
Let the heart of those who seek the LORD rejoice.
- 4 Seek the LORD and his strength.
Seek his face forever more.
- 5 Remember his marvelous works that he has done:
his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth,
- 6 you offspring of Abraham, his servant,
you children of Jacob, his chosen ones.
- 7 He is the LORD, our God.
His judgments are in all the earth.
- 8 He has remembered his covenant forever,
the word which he commanded to a thousand generations,
- 9 the covenant which he made with Abraham,
his oath to Isaac,
- 10 and confirmed it to Jacob for a statute;
to Israel for an everlasting covenant,
- 11 saying, "To you I will give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance,"
- 12 when they were but a few men in number,
yes, very few, and foreigners in it.
- 13 They went about from nation to nation,
from one kingdom to another people.
- 14 He allowed no one to do them wrong.
Yes, he reproved kings for their sakes,
- 15 "Don't touch my anointed ones!
Do my prophets no harm!"
- 16 He called for a famine on the land.
He destroyed the food supplies.
- 17 He sent a man before them.
Joseph was sold for a slave.
- 18 They bruised his feet with shackles.

[‡] 104:35 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה Yah. [§] 104:35 Hebrew: יה Yah ^{*} 105:1 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה Yah.

- His neck was locked in irons, 19 until the time that his word happened,
and the LORD's word proved him true.
- 20 The king sent and freed him,
even the ruler of peoples, and let him go free.
- 21 He made him lord of his house,
and ruler of all of his possessions, 22 to discipline his princes at his pleasure,
and to teach his elders wisdom.
- 23 Israel also came into Egypt.
Jacob lived in the land of Ham.
- 24 He increased his people greatly,
and made them stronger than their adversaries.
- 25 He turned their heart to hate his people,
to conspire against his servants.
- 26 He sent Moses, his servant,
and Aaron, whom he had chosen.
- 27 They performed miracles among them,
and wonders in the land of Ham.
- 28 He sent darkness, and made it dark.
They didn't rebel against his words.
- 29 He turned their waters into blood,
and killed their fish.
- 30 Their land swarmed with frogs,
even in the rooms of their kings.
- 31 He spoke, and swarms of flies came,
and lice in all their borders.
- 32 He gave them hail for rain,
with lightning in their land.
- 33 He struck their vines and also their fig trees,
and shattered the trees of their country.
- 34 He spoke, and the locusts came with the grasshoppers, without number.
- 35 They ate up every plant in their land,
and ate up the fruit of their ground.
- 36 He struck also all the firstborn in their land,
the first fruits of all their manhood.
- 37 He brought them out with silver and gold.
There was not one feeble person among his tribes.
- 38 Egypt was glad when they departed,
for the fear of them had fallen on them.
- 39 He spread a cloud for a covering,
fire to give light in the night.
- 40 They asked, and he brought quails,
and satisfied them with the bread of the sky.
- 41 He opened the rock, and waters gushed out.
They ran as a river in the dry places.
- 42 For he remembered his holy word,
and Abraham, his servant.
- 43 He brought his people out with joy,
his chosen with singing.

- 44 He gave them the lands of the nations.
They took the labor of the peoples in possession, 45 that they might keep his statutes, and observe his laws.
Praise the LORD![†]

106

- 1 Praise the LORD!*
- Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good,
for his loving kindness endures forever.
- 2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD, or fully declare all his praise?
- 3 Blessed are those who keep justice.
Blessed is one who does what is right at all times.
- 4 Remember me, LORD, with the favor that you show to your people.
Visit me with your salvation,
- 5 that I may see the prosperity of your chosen,
that I may rejoice in the gladness of your nation,
that I may glory with your inheritance.
- 6 We have sinned with our fathers.
We have committed iniquity.
We have done wickedly.
- 7 Our fathers didn't understand your wonders in Egypt.
They didn't remember the multitude of your loving kindnesses, but were rebellious at the sea, even at the Red Sea.
- 8 Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake,
that he might make his mighty power known.
- 9 He rebuked the Red Sea also, and it was dried up;
so he led them through the depths, as through a desert.
- 10 He saved them from the hand of him who hated them,
and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
- 11 The waters covered their adversaries.
There was not one of them left.
- 12 Then they believed his words.
They sang his praise.
- 13 They soon forgot his works.
They didn't wait for his counsel, 14 but gave in to craving in the desert,
and tested God in the wasteland.
- 15 He gave them their request,
but sent leanness into their soul.
- 16 They envied Moses also in the camp,
and Aaron, the LORD's saint.
- 17 The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.
- 18 A fire was kindled in their company.
The flame burned up the wicked.

[†] 105:45 Hebrew: יהי־יָה Yah * 106:1 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה־יָה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יהי־יָה Yah.

- 19 They made a calf in Horeb, and worshiped a molten image.
- 20 Thus they exchanged their glory for an image of a bull that eats grass.
- 21 They forgot God, their Savior,
who had done great things in Egypt, 22 wondrous works in the land of Ham,
and awesome things by the Red Sea.
- 23 Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had Moses, his chosen, not stood before him in the breach,
to turn away his wrath, so that he wouldn't destroy them.
- 24 Yes, they despised the pleasant land.
They didn't believe his word,
25 but murmured in their tents,
and didn't listen to the LORD's voice.
- 26 Therefore he swore to them that he would overthrow them in the wilderness, 27 that he would overthrow their offspring among the nations, and scatter them in the lands.
- 28 They joined themselves also to Baal Peor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead.
- 29 Thus they provoked him to anger with their deeds.
The plague broke in on them.
- 30 Then Phinehas stood up and executed judgment,
so the plague was stopped.
- 31 That was credited to him for righteousness,
for all generations to come.
- 32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah,
so that Moses was troubled for their sakes;
- 33 because they were rebellious against his spirit,
he spoke rashly with his lips.
- 34 They didn't destroy the peoples,
as the LORD commanded them, 35 but mixed themselves with the nations,
and learned their works.
- 36 They served their idols,
which became a snare to them.
- 37 Yes, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters to demons.
38 They shed innocent blood,
even the blood of their sons and of their daughters,
whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan.
The land was polluted with blood.
- 39 Thus they were defiled with their works,
and prostituted themselves in their deeds.
- 40 Therefore the LORD burned with anger against his people.
He abhorred his inheritance.
- 41 He gave them into the hand of the nations.
Those who hated them ruled over them.
- 42 Their enemies also oppressed them.
They were brought into subjection under their hand.
- 43 He rescued them many times,
but they were rebellious in their counsel,

- and were brought low in their iniquity.
 44 Nevertheless he regarded their distress,
 when he heard their cry.
 45 He remembered for them his covenant,
 and repented according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses.
 46 He made them also to be pitied by all those who carried them captive.
 47 Save us, LORD, our God, gather us from among the nations,
 to give thanks to your holy name,
 to triumph in your praise!
 48 Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting even to everlasting!
 Let all the people say, "Amen."

107

- 1 Give thanks to the LORD,* for he is good,
 for his loving kindness endures forever.
 2 Let the redeemed by the LORD say so,
 whom he has redeemed from the hand of the adversary, 3 and gathered out of the lands,
 from the east and from the west,
 from the north and from the south.
 4 They wandered in the wilderness in a desert way.
 They found no city to live in.
 5 Hungry and thirsty,
 their soul fainted in them.
 6 Then they cried to the LORD in their trouble,
 and he delivered them out of their distresses.
 7 He led them also by a straight way, that they might go to a city to live in.
 8 Let them praise the LORD for his loving kindness,
 for his wonderful deeds to the children of men!
 9 For he satisfies the longing soul.
 He fills the hungry soul with good.
 10 Some sat in darkness and in the shadow of death,
 being bound in affliction and iron, 11 because they rebelled against the words of God,† and condemned the counsel of the Most High.
 12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labor.
 They fell down, and there was no one to help.
 13 Then they cried to the LORD in their trouble,

† 106:48 Hebrew: יהי Yah * 107:1 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh). † 107:11 The Hebrew word rendered "God" is "אֱלֹהִים" (Elohim).

and he saved them out of their distresses.

14 He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and broke away their chains.

15 Let them praise the LORD for his loving kindness,
for his wonderful deeds to the children of men!

16 For he has broken the gates of bronze, and cut through bars of iron.

17 Fools are afflicted because of their disobedience, and because of their iniquities.

18 Their soul abhors all kinds of food.
They draw near to the gates of death.

19 Then they cry to the LORD in their trouble,
and he saves them out of their distresses.

20 He sends his word, and heals them,
and delivers them from their graves.

21 Let them praise the LORD for his loving kindness,
for his wonderful deeds to the children of men!

22 Let them offer the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his deeds with singing.

23 Those who go down to the sea in ships, who do business in great waters, 24 these see the LORD's deeds,
and his wonders in the deep.

25 For he commands, and raises the stormy wind, which lifts up its waves.

26 They mount up to the sky; they go down again to the depths.
Their soul melts away because of trouble.

27 They reel back and forth, and stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wits' end.

28 Then they cry to the LORD in their trouble,
and he brings them out of their distress.

29 He makes the storm a calm,
so that its waves are still.

30 Then they are glad because it is calm,
so he brings them to their desired haven.

31 Let them praise the LORD for his loving kindness,
for his wonderful deeds for the children of men!

32 Let them exalt him also in the assembly of the people, and praise him in the seat of the elders.

33 He turns rivers into a desert,
water springs into a thirsty ground, 34 and a fruitful land into a salt waste,
for the wickedness of those who dwell in it.

35 He turns a desert into a pool of water,
and a dry land into water springs.

36 There he makes the hungry live,

- that they may prepare a city to live in, ³⁷ sow fields, plant vineyards, and reap the fruits of increase.
- ³⁸ He blesses them also, so that they are multiplied greatly.
 He doesn't allow their livestock to decrease.
- ³⁹ Again, they are diminished and bowed down through oppression, trouble, and sorrow.
- ⁴⁰ He pours contempt on princes, and causes them to wander in a trackless waste.
- ⁴¹ Yet he lifts the needy out of their affliction,
 and increases their families like a flock.
- ⁴² The upright will see it, and be glad.
 All the wicked will shut their mouths.
- ⁴³ Whoever is wise will pay attention to these things.
 They will consider the loving kindnesses of the LORD.

A Song. A Psalm by David.

- ¹ My heart is steadfast, God.
 I will sing and I will make music with my soul.
- ² Wake up, harp and lyre!
 I will wake up the dawn.
- ³ I will give thanks to you, LORD, among the nations.
 I will sing praises to you among the peoples.
- ⁴ For your loving kindness is great above the heavens.
 Your faithfulness reaches to the skies.
- ⁵ Be exalted, God, above the heavens!
 Let your glory be over all the earth.
- ⁶ That your beloved may be delivered,
 save with your right hand, and answer us.
- ⁷ God has spoken from his sanctuary: "In triumph,
 I will divide Shechem, and measure out the valley of Succoth.
- ⁸ Gilead is mine. Manasseh is mine.
 Ephraim also is my helmet.
 Judah is my scepter.
- ⁹ Moab is my wash pot.
 I will toss my sandal on Edom.
 I will shout over Philistia."
- ¹⁰ Who will bring me into the fortified city?
 Who will lead me to Edom?
- ¹¹ Haven't you rejected us, God?
 You don't go out, God, with our armies.
- ¹² Give us help against the enemy,
 for the help of man is vain.
- ¹³ Through God, we will do valiantly, for it is he who will tread down our enemies.

109

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- ¹ God of my praise, don't remain silent,
² for they have opened the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of deceit against me.

- They have spoken to me with a lying tongue.
3 They have also surrounded me with words of hatred,
and fought against me without a cause.
4 In return for my love, they are my adversaries;
but I am in prayer.
5 They have rewarded me evil for good,
and hatred for my love.
6 Set a wicked man over him.
Let an adversary stand at his right hand.
7 When he is judged, let him come out guilty.
Let his prayer be turned into sin.
8 Let his days be few.
Let another take his office.
9 Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.
10 Let his children be wandering beggars.
Let them be sought from their ruins.
11 Let the creditor seize all that he has.
Let strangers plunder the fruit of his labor.
12 Let there be no one to extend kindness to him, neither let there be anyone to have pity on his fatherless children.
13 Let his posterity be cut off.
In the generation following let their name be blotted out.
14 Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered by the LORD.
Don't let the sin of his mother be blotted out.
15 Let them be before the LORD continually, that he may cut off their memory from the earth;
16 because he didn't remember to show kindness, but persecuted the poor and needy man,
the broken in heart, to kill them.
17 Yes, he loved cursing, and it came to him.
He didn't delight in blessing, and it was far from him.
18 He clothed himself also with cursing as with his garment.
It came into his inward parts like water,
like oil into his bones.
19 Let it be to him as the clothing with which he covers himself, for the belt that is always around him.
20 This is the reward of my adversaries from the LORD, of those who speak evil against my soul.
21 But deal with me, GOD the Lord,* for your name's sake, because your loving kindness is good, deliver me;
22 for I am poor and needy.
My heart is wounded within me.
23 I fade away like an evening shadow.
I am shaken off like a locust.
24 My knees are weak through fasting.
My body is thin and lacks fat.
25 I have also become a reproach to them.

* 109:21 The word translated "Lord" is "Adonai."

When they see me, they shake their head.

²⁶ Help me, LORD, my God.

Save me according to your loving kindness;

²⁷ that they may know that this is your hand;
that you, LORD, have done it.

²⁸ They may curse, but you bless.

When they arise, they will be shamed,
but your servant shall rejoice.

²⁹ Let my adversaries be clothed with dishonor.

Let them cover themselves with their own shame as with a robe.

³⁰ I will give great thanks to the LORD with my mouth.

Yes, I will praise him among the multitude.

³¹ For he will stand at the right hand of the needy, to save him from those who judge his soul.

110

A Psalm by David.

¹ The LORD says to my Lord, "Sit at my right hand, until I make your enemies your footstool for your feet."

² The LORD will send out the rod of your strength out of Zion.
Rule among your enemies.

³ Your people offer themselves willingly in the day of your power, in holy array.

Out of the womb of the morning, you have the dew of your youth.

⁴ The LORD has sworn, and will not change his mind:
"You are a priest forever in the order of Melchizedek."

⁵ The Lord is at your right hand.

He will crush kings in the day of his wrath.

⁶ He will judge among the nations.

He will heap up dead bodies.

He will crush the ruler of the whole earth.

⁷ He will drink of the brook on the way;
therefore he will lift up his head.

I will give thanks to the LORD† with my whole heart,
in the council of the upright, and in the congregation.

² The LORD's works are great, pondered by all those who delight in them.

³ His work is honor and majesty.

His righteousness endures forever.

⁴ He has caused his wonderful works to be remembered.

The LORD is gracious and merciful.

⁵ He has given food to those who fear him.

He always remembers his covenant.

⁶ He has shown his people the power of his works,

* 111:1 Hebrew: יהי יה. - in giving them the heritage of the nations.
 7 The works of his hands are truth and justice.
 All his precepts are sure.
 8 They are established forever and ever.
 They are done in truth and uprightness.
 9 He has sent redemption to his people.
 He has ordained his covenant forever.
 His name is holy and awesome!
 10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom.
 All those who do his work have a good understanding.
 His praise endures forever!

112

- 1 Praise the LORD!*
 Blessed is the man who fears the LORD,[†]
 who delights greatly in his commandments.
 2 His offspring will be mighty in the land.
 The generation of the upright will be blessed.
 3 Wealth and riches are in his house.
 His righteousness endures forever.
 4 Light dawns in the darkness for the upright, gracious, merciful, and righteous.
 5 It is well with the man who deals graciously and lends.
 He will maintain his cause in judgment.
 6 For he will never be shaken.
 The righteous will be remembered forever.
 7 He will not be afraid of evil news.
 His heart is steadfast, trusting in the LORD.
 8 His heart is established.
 He will not be afraid in the end when he sees his adversaries.
 9 He has dispersed, he has given to the poor.
 His righteousness endures forever.
 His horn will be exalted with honor.
 10 The wicked will see it, and be grieved.
 He shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away.
 The desire of the wicked will perish.

113

- 1 Praise the LORD!*
 Praise, you servants of the LORD,[†]
 praise the LORD's name.
 2 Blessed be the LORD's name,
 from this time forward and forever more.
 3 From the rising of the sun to its going down,
 the LORD's name is to be praised.
 4 The LORD is high above all nations,

his glory above the heavens.

⁵ Who is like the LORD, our God, who has his seat on high,

⁶ who stoops down to see in heaven and in the earth?

⁷ He raises up the poor out of the dust,
and lifts up the needy from the ash heap,

⁸ that he may set him with princes, even with the princes of his people.

⁹ He settles the barren woman in her home
as a joyful mother of children.

¹ When Israel went out of Egypt,
the house of Jacob from a people of foreign language,

² Judah became his sanctuary,
Israel his dominion.

³ The sea saw it, and fled.
The Jordan was driven back.

⁴ The mountains skipped like rams,
the little hills like lambs.

⁵ What was it, you sea, that you fled?
You Jordan, that you turned back?

⁶ You mountains, that you skipped like rams?
You little hills, like lambs?

⁷ Tremble, you earth, at the presence of the Lord,
at the presence of the God of Jacob,

⁸ who turned the rock into a pool of water,
the flint into a spring of waters.

115

¹ Not to us, LORD,* not to us,
but to your name give glory,
for your loving kindness, and for your truth's sake.

² Why should the nations say,
"Where is their God, now?"

³ But our God is in the heavens.
He does whatever he pleases.

⁴ Their idols are silver and gold,
the work of men's hands.

⁵ They have mouths, but they don't speak.
They have eyes, but they don't see.

⁶ They have ears, but they don't hear.
They have noses, but they don't smell.

⁷ They have hands, but they don't feel.
They have feet, but they don't walk,
neither do they speak through their throat.

⁸ Those who make them will be like them;
yes, everyone who trusts in them.

‡ 113:9 Hebrew: יהי Yah * 115:1 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יהי Yah.

- ⁹ Israel, trust in the LORD!
He is their help and their shield.
- ¹⁰ House of Aaron, trust in the LORD!
He is their help and their shield.
- ¹¹ You who fear the LORD, trust in the LORD!
He is their help and their shield.
- ¹² The LORD remembers us. He will bless us.
He will bless the house of Israel.
He will bless the house of Aaron.
- ¹³ He will bless those who fear the LORD, both small and great.
- ¹⁴ May the LORD increase you more and more,
you and your children.
- ¹⁵ Blessed are you by the LORD,
who made heaven and earth.
- ¹⁶ The heavens are the LORD's heavens, but he has given the earth to the children of men.
- ¹⁷ The dead don't praise the LORD,[†]
nor any who go down into silence,
- ¹⁸ but we will bless the LORD,[‡]
from this time forward and forever more.
Praise the LORD![§]

116

- ¹ I love the LORD,^{*} because he listens to my voice,
and my cries for mercy.
- ² Because he has turned his ear to me,
therefore I will call on him as long as I live.
- ³ The cords of death surrounded me,
the pains of Sheol[†] got a hold of me.
I found trouble and sorrow.
- ⁴ Then I called on the LORD's name:
"LORD, I beg you, deliver my soul."
- ⁵ The LORD is gracious and righteous.
Yes, our God is merciful.
- ⁶ The LORD preserves the simple.
I was brought low, and he saved me.
- ⁷ Return to your rest, my soul,
for the LORD has dealt bountifully with you.
- ⁸ For you have delivered my soul from death,
my eyes from tears,
and my feet from falling.
- ⁹ I will walk before the LORD in the land of the living.
- ¹⁰ I believed, therefore I said,
"I was greatly afflicted."
- ¹¹ I said in my haste,
"All people are liars."
- ¹² What will I give to the LORD for all his benefits toward me?

- ¹³ I will take the cup of salvation, and call on the LORD's name.
¹⁴ I will pay my vows to the LORD,
 yes, in the presence of all his people.
¹⁵ Precious in the LORD's sight is the death of his saints.
¹⁶ LORD, truly I am your servant.
 I am your servant, the son of your servant girl.
 You have freed me from my chains.
¹⁷ I will offer to you the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call on the LORD's name.
¹⁸ I will pay my vows to the LORD,
 yes, in the presence of all his people,
¹⁹ in the courts of the LORD's house,
 in the middle of you, Jerusalem.

- ¹ Praise the LORD,* all you nations!
 Extol him, all you peoples!
² For his loving kindness is great toward us.
 The LORD's faithfulness endures forever.
 Praise the LORD!†

118

- ¹ Give thanks to the LORD,* for he is good,
 for his loving kindness endures forever.
² Let Israel now say
 that his loving kindness endures forever.
³ Let the house of Aaron now say
 that his loving kindness endures forever.
⁴ Now let those who fear the LORD say
 that his loving kindness endures forever.
⁵ Out of my distress, I called on the LORD.†
 The LORD‡ answered me with freedom.
⁶ The LORD is on my side. I will not be afraid.
 What can man do to me?
⁷ The LORD is on my side among those who help me.
 Therefore I will look in triumph at those who hate me.
⁸ It is better to take refuge in the LORD,
 than to put confidence in man.
⁹ It is better to take refuge in the LORD,
 than to put confidence in princes.
¹⁰ All the nations surrounded me,
 but in the LORD's name I cut them off.
¹¹ They surrounded me, yes, they surrounded me.
 In the LORD's name I indeed cut them off.
¹² They surrounded me like bees.

 "The right hand of the LORD does valiantly.
- 16 The right hand of the LORD is exalted!
 The right hand of the LORD does valiantly!"
- 17 I will not die, but live,
 and declare the LORD's works.
- 18 The LORD* has punished me severely,
 but he has not given me over to death.
- 19 Open to me the gates of righteousness.
 I will enter into them.
 I will give thanks to the LORD.†
- 20 This is the gate of the LORD;
 the righteous will enter into it.
- 21 I will give thanks to you, for you have answered me,
 and have become my salvation.
- 22 The stone which the builders rejected has become the cornerstone.‡
- 23 This is the LORD's doing.
 It is marvelous in our eyes.
- 24 This is the day that the LORD has made.
 We will rejoice and be glad in it!
- 25 Save us now, we beg you, LORD!
 LORD, we beg you, send prosperity now.
- 26 Blessed is he who comes in the LORD's name!
 We have blessed you out of the LORD's house.
- 27 The LORD is God, and he has given us light.
 Bind the sacrifice with cords, even to the horns of the altar.
- 28 You are my God, and I will give thanks to you.
 You are my God, I will exalt you.
- 29 Oh give thanks to the LORD, for he is good,
 for his loving kindness endures forever.

ALEPH

- 1 Blessed are those whose ways are blameless, who walk according to the LORD's law.
- 2 Blessed are those who keep his statutes, who seek him with their whole heart.
- 3 Yes, they do nothing wrong.
 They walk in his ways.
- 4 You have commanded your precepts, that we should fully obey them.
- 5 Oh that my ways were steadfast

§ 118:14 Hebrew: יה־י Yah * 118:18 Hebrew: יה־י Yah † 118:19 Hebrew: יה־י Yah ‡ 118:22
 Literally, head of the corner to obey your statutes!

- ⁶ Then I wouldn't be disappointed,
when I consider all of your commandments.
⁷ I will give thanks to you with uprightness of heart,
when I learn your righteous judgments.

- ⁸ I will observe your statutes.
Don't utterly forsake me.

BETH

- ⁹ How can a young man keep his way pure?
By living according to your word.
¹⁰ With my whole heart I have sought you.
Don't let me wander from your commandments.
¹¹ I have hidden your word in my heart,
that I might not sin against you.
¹² Blessed are you, LORD.
Teach me your statutes.

- ¹³ With my lips,
I have declared all the ordinances of your mouth.
¹⁴ I have rejoiced in the way of your testimonies,
as much as in all riches.
¹⁵ I will meditate on your precepts, and consider your ways.
¹⁶ I will delight myself in your statutes.
I will not forget your word.

GIMEL

- ¹⁷ Do good to your servant.
I will live and I will obey your word.
¹⁸ Open my eyes,
that I may see wondrous things out of your law.
¹⁹ I am a stranger on the earth.
Don't hide your commandments from me.
²⁰ My soul is consumed with longing for your ordinances at all times.
²¹ You have rebuked the proud who are cursed,
who wander from your commandments.
²² Take reproach and contempt away from me,
for I have kept your statutes.
²³ Though princes sit and slander me,
your servant will meditate on your statutes.
²⁴ Indeed your statutes are my delight, and my counselors.

DALETH

- ²⁵ My soul is laid low in the dust.
Revive me according to your word!
²⁶ I declared my ways, and you answered me.
Teach me your statutes.
²⁷ Let me understand the teaching of your precepts!
Then I will meditate on your wondrous works.
²⁸ My soul is weary with sorrow;
strengthen me according to your word.
²⁹ Keep me from the way of deceit.
Grant me your law graciously!

³⁰ I have chosen the way of truth.
I have set your ordinances before me.

³¹ I cling to your statutes, LORD.
Don't let me be disappointed.

³² I run in the path of your commandments, for you have set my heart free.

HE
³³ Teach me, LORD, the way of your statutes.
I will keep them to the end.

³⁴ Give me understanding, and I will keep your law.
Yes, I will obey it with my whole heart.

³⁵ Direct me in the path of your commandments, for I delight in them.

³⁶ Turn my heart toward your statutes, not toward selfish gain.

³⁷ Turn my eyes away from looking at worthless things.
Revive me in your ways.

³⁸ Fulfill your promise to your servant,
that you may be feared.

³⁹ Take away my disgrace that I dread, for your ordinances are good.

⁴⁰ Behold, I long for your precepts!
Revive me in your righteousness.

VAV
⁴¹ Let your loving kindness also come to me, LORD, your salvation, according to your word.

⁴² So I will have an answer for him who reproaches me, for I trust in your word.

⁴³ Don't snatch the word of truth out of my mouth, for I put my hope in your ordinances.

⁴⁴ So I will obey your law continually, forever and ever.

⁴⁵ I will walk in liberty,
for I have sought your precepts.

⁴⁶ I will also speak of your statutes before kings, and will not be disappointed.

⁴⁷ I will delight myself in your commandments, because I love them.

⁴⁸ I reach out my hands for your commandments, which I love.
I will meditate on your statutes.

ZAYIN
⁴⁹ Remember your word to your servant,
because you gave me hope.

⁵⁰ This is my comfort in my affliction, for your word has revived me.

⁵¹ The arrogant mock me excessively,
but I don't swerve from your law.

⁵² I remember your ordinances of old, LORD, and have comforted myself.

⁵³ Indignation has taken hold on me,

because of the wicked who forsake your law.

54 Your statutes have been my songs
in the house where I live.

55 I have remembered your name, LORD, in the night, and I obey your law.

56 This is my way,
that I keep your precepts.

HETH

57 The LORD is my portion.
I promised to obey your words.

58 I sought your favor with my whole heart.
Be merciful to me according to your word.

59 I considered my ways,
and turned my steps to your statutes.

60 I will hurry, and not delay,
to obey your commandments.

61 The ropes of the wicked bind me,
but I won't forget your law.

62 At midnight I will rise to give thanks to you,
because of your righteous ordinances.

63 I am a friend of all those who fear you,
of those who observe your precepts.

64 The earth is full of your loving kindness, LORD.
Teach me your statutes.

TETH

65 You have treated your servant well, according to your word, LORD.

66 Teach me good judgment and knowledge,
for I believe in your commandments.

67 Before I was afflicted, I went astray;
but now I observe your word.

68 You are good, and do good.
Teach me your statutes.

69 The proud have smeared a lie upon me.
With my whole heart, I will keep your precepts.

70 Their heart is as callous as the fat,
but I delight in your law.

71 It is good for me that I have been afflicted, that I may learn your statutes.

72 The law of your mouth is better to me than thousands of pieces of gold and silver.

YODH

73 Your hands have made me and formed me.
Give me understanding, that I may learn your commandments.

74 Those who fear you will see me and be glad,
because I have put my hope in your word.

75 LORD, I know that your judgments are righteous, that in faithfulness you have afflicted me.

76 Please let your loving kindness be for my comfort, according to your word to your servant.

77 Let your tender mercies come to me, that I may live;

for your law is my delight.

78 Let the proud be disappointed, for they have overthrown me wrongfully.
I will meditate on your precepts.

79 Let those who fear you turn to me.
They will know your statutes.

80 Let my heart be blameless toward your decrees, that I may not be disappointed.

KAPF

81 My soul faints for your salvation.
I hope in your word.

82 My eyes fail for your word.
I say, "When will you comfort me?"

83 For I have become like a wineskin in the smoke.
I don't forget your statutes.

84 How many are the days of your servant?
When will you execute judgment on those who persecute me?

85 The proud have dug pits for me,
contrary to your law.

86 All of your commandments are faithful.
They persecute me wrongfully.
Help me!

87 They had almost wiped me from the earth,
but I didn't forsake your precepts.

88 Preserve my life according to your loving kindness, so I will obey the statutes of your mouth.

LAMEDH

89 LORD, your word is settled in heaven forever.

90 Your faithfulness is to all generations.
You have established the earth, and it remains.

91 Your laws remain to this day,
for all things serve you.

92 Unless your law had been my delight,
I would have perished in my affliction.

93 I will never forget your precepts, for with them, you have revived me.

94 I am yours.
Save me, for I have sought your precepts.

95 The wicked have waited for me, to destroy me.
I will consider your statutes.

96 I have seen a limit to all perfection, but your commands are boundless.

MEM

97 How I love your law!
It is my meditation all day.

98 Your commandments make me wiser than my enemies, for your commandments are always with me.

99 I have more understanding than all my teachers, for your testimonies are my meditation.

100 I understand more than the aged,
because I have kept your precepts.

101 I have kept my feet from every evil way, that I might observe your word.

¹⁰² I have not turned away from your ordinances, for you have taught me.

¹⁰³ How sweet are your promises to my taste,
more than honey to my mouth!

¹⁰⁴ Through your precepts, I get understanding;
therefore I hate every false way.

NUN

¹⁰⁵ Your word is a lamp to my feet, and a light for my path.

¹⁰⁶ I have sworn, and have confirmed it,
that I will obey your righteous ordinances.

¹⁰⁷ I am afflicted very much.
Revive me, LORD, according to your word.

¹⁰⁸ Accept, I beg you, the willing offerings of my mouth.
LORD, teach me your ordinances.

¹⁰⁹ My soul is continually in my hand,
yet I won't forget your law.

¹¹⁰ The wicked have laid a snare for me,
yet I haven't gone astray from your precepts.

¹¹¹ I have taken your testimonies as a heritage forever, for they are the joy of my heart.

¹¹² I have set my heart to perform your statutes forever, even to the end.

SAMEKH

¹¹³ I hate double-minded men,
but I love your law.

¹¹⁴ You are my hiding place and my shield.
I hope in your word.

¹¹⁵ Depart from me, you evildoers, that I may keep the commandments of my God.

¹¹⁶ Uphold me according to your word, that I may live.
Let me not be ashamed of my hope.

¹¹⁷ Hold me up, and I will be safe, and will have respect for your statutes continually.

¹¹⁸ You reject all those who stray from your statutes, for their deceit is in vain.

¹¹⁹ You put away all the wicked of the earth like dross.
Therefore I love your testimonies.

¹²⁰ My flesh trembles for fear of you.
I am afraid of your judgments.

AYIN

¹²¹ I have done what is just and righteous.
Don't leave me to my oppressors.

¹²² Ensure your servant's well-being.
Don't let the proud oppress me.

¹²³ My eyes fail looking for your salvation, for your righteous word.

¹²⁴ Deal with your servant according to your loving kindness.
Teach me your statutes.

- 125 I am your servant. Give me understanding, that I may know your testimonies.
- 126 It is time to act, LORD,
for they break your law.
- 127 Therefore I love your commandments more than gold,
yes, more than pure gold.
- 128 Therefore I consider all of your precepts to be right.
I hate every false way.

PE

- 129 Your testimonies are wonderful, therefore my soul keeps them.
- 130 The entrance of your words gives light.
It gives understanding to the simple.
- 131 I opened my mouth wide and panted, for I longed for your commandments.
- 132 Turn to me, and have mercy on me,
as you always do to those who love your name.
- 133 Establish my footsteps in your word.
Don't let any iniquity have dominion over me.
- 134 Redeem me from the oppression of man,
so I will observe your precepts.
- 135 Make your face shine on your servant.
Teach me your statutes.
- 136 Streams of tears run down my eyes, because they don't observe your law.

TZADHE

- 137 You are righteous, LORD.
Your judgments are upright.
- 138 You have commanded your statutes in righteousness.
They are fully trustworthy.
- 139 My zeal wears me out, because my enemies ignore your words.
- 140 Your promises have been thoroughly tested, and your servant loves them.
- 141 I am small and despised.
I don't forget your precepts.
- 142 Your righteousness is an everlasting righteousness.
Your law is truth.
- 143 Trouble and anguish have taken hold of me.
Your commandments are my delight.
- 144 Your testimonies are righteous forever.
Give me understanding, that I may live.

QOPH

- 145 I have called with my whole heart.
Answer me, LORD!
I will keep your statutes.
- 146 I have called to you. Save me!
I will obey your statutes.
- 147 I rise before dawn and cry for help.
I put my hope in your words.
- 148 My eyes stay open through the night watches, that I might meditate on your word.

149 Hear my voice according to your loving kindness.

Revive me, LORD, according to your ordinances.

150 They draw near who follow after wickedness.

They are far from your law.

151 You are near, LORD.

All your commandments are truth.

152 Of old I have known from your testimonies, that you have founded them forever.

RESH

153 Consider my affliction, and deliver me,

for I don't forget your law.

154 Plead my cause, and redeem me!

Revive me according to your promise.

155 Salvation is far from the wicked,

for they don't seek your statutes.

156 Great are your tender mercies, LORD.

Revive me according to your ordinances.

157 Many are my persecutors and my adversaries.

I haven't swerved from your testimonies.

158 I look at the faithless with loathing, because they don't observe your word.

159 Consider how I love your precepts.

Revive me, LORD, according to your loving kindness.

160 All of your words are truth.

Every one of your righteous ordinances endures forever.

SIN AND SHIN

161 Princes have persecuted me without a cause, but my heart stands in awe of your words.

162 I rejoice at your word,

as one who finds great plunder.

163 I hate and abhor falsehood.

I love your law.

164 Seven times a day, I praise you,

because of your righteous ordinances.

165 Those who love your law have great peace.

Nothing causes them to stumble.

166 I have hoped for your salvation, LORD.

I have done your commandments.

167 My soul has observed your testimonies.

I love them exceedingly.

168 I have obeyed your precepts and your testimonies,

for all my ways are before you.

TAV

169 Let my cry come before you, LORD.

Give me understanding according to your word.

170 Let my supplication come before you.

Deliver me according to your word.

171 Let my lips utter praise, for you teach me your statutes.

- ¹⁷² Let my tongue sing of your word,
for all your commandments are righteousness.
- ¹⁷³ Let your hand be ready to help me,
for I have chosen your precepts.
- ¹⁷⁴ I have longed for your salvation, LORD.
Your law is my delight.
- ¹⁷⁵ Let my soul live, that I may praise you.
Let your ordinances help me.
- ¹⁷⁶ I have gone astray like a lost sheep.
Seek your servant, for I don't forget your commandments.

120

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹ In my distress, I cried to the LORD.
He answered me.
- ² Deliver my soul, LORD, from lying lips,
from a deceitful tongue.
- ³ What will be given to you, and what will be done more to you,
you deceitful tongue?
- ⁴ Sharp arrows of the mighty,
with coals of juniper.
- ⁵ Woe is me, that I live in Meshech, that I dwell among the tents of Kedar!
- ⁶ My soul has had her dwelling too long with him who hates peace.
- ⁷ I am for peace,
but when I speak, they are for war.

121

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹ I will lift up my eyes to the hills.
Where does my help come from?
- ² My help comes from the LORD,
who made heaven and earth.
- ³ He will not allow your foot to be moved.
He who keeps you will not slumber.
- ⁴ Behold, he who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.
- ⁵ The LORD is your keeper.
The LORD is your shade on your right hand.
- ⁶ The sun will not harm you by day,
nor the moon by night.
- ⁷ The LORD will keep you from all evil.
He will keep your soul.
- ⁸ The LORD will keep your going out and your coming in,
from this time forward, and forever more.

122

A Song of Ascents. By David.

- ¹ I was glad when they said to me,

“Let’s go to the LORD’s house!”

2 Our feet are standing within your gates, Jerusalem!

3 Jerusalem is built as a city that is compact together,

4 where the tribes go up, even the LORD’s tribes,
according to an ordinance for Israel,
to give thanks to the LORD’s name.

5 For there are set thrones for judgment,
the thrones of David’s house.

6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem.

Those who love you will prosper.

7 Peace be within your walls, and prosperity within your palaces.

8 For my brothers’ and companions’ sakes,
I will now say, “Peace be within you.”

9 For the sake of the house of the LORD our God,
I will seek your good.

123

A Song of Ascents.

1 I lift up my eyes to you,
you who sit in the heavens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of servants look to the hand of their master, as the eyes of a maid to the hand of her mistress, so our eyes look to the LORD, our God,
until he has mercy on us.

3 Have mercy on us, LORD, have mercy on us,
for we have endured much contempt.

4 Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scoffing of those who are at ease, with the contempt of the proud.

124

A Song of Ascents. By David.

1 If it had not been the LORD who was on our side,
let Israel now say,

2 if it had not been the LORD who was on our side,
when men rose up against us,

3 then they would have swallowed us up alive,
when their wrath was kindled against us,

4 then the waters would have overwhelmed us,
the stream would have gone over our soul.

5 Then the proud waters would have gone over our soul.

6 Blessed be the LORD, who has not given us as a prey to their teeth.

7 Our soul has escaped like a bird out of the fowler’s snare.
The snare is broken, and we have escaped.

8 Our help is in the LORD’s name,
who made heaven and earth.

125

A Song of Ascents.

1 Those who trust in the LORD are as Mount Zion, which can't be moved, but remains forever.

- ² As the mountains surround Jerusalem, so the LORD surrounds his people from this time forward and forever more.
- ³ For the scepter of wickedness won't remain over the allotment of the righteous, so that the righteous won't use their hands to do evil.
- ⁴ Do good, LORD, to those who are good,
to those who are upright in their hearts.
- ⁵ But as for those who turn away to their crooked ways, the LORD will lead them away with the workers of iniquity.
- Peace be on Israel.

126

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹ When the LORD brought back those who returned to Zion,
we were like those who dream.
- ² Then our mouth was filled with laughter,
and our tongue with singing.
Then they said among the nations,
"The LORD has done great things for them."
- ³ The LORD has done great things for us, and we are glad.
- ⁴ Restore our fortunes again, LORD,
like the streams in the Negev.
- ⁵ Those who sow in tears will reap in joy.
⁶ He who goes out weeping, carrying seed for sowing,
will certainly come again with joy, carrying his sheaves.

127

A Song of Ascents. By Solomon.

- ¹ Unless the LORD builds the house,
they who build it labor in vain.
Unless the LORD watches over the city,
the watchman guards it in vain.
- ² It is vain for you to rise up early,
to stay up late,
eating the bread of toil,
for he gives sleep to his loved ones.
- ³ Behold, children are a heritage of the LORD.
The fruit of the womb is his reward.
- ⁴ As arrows in the hand of a mighty man,
so are the children of youth.
- ⁵ Happy is the man who has his quiver full of them.
They won't be disappointed when they speak with their enemies in the gate.

128

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹ Blessed is everyone who fears the LORD,
who walks in his ways.
- ² For you will eat the labor of your hands.

You will be happy, and it will be well with you.

³ Your wife will be as a fruitful vine in the innermost parts of your house, your children like olive shoots around your table.

⁴ Behold, this is how the man who fears the LORD is blessed.

⁵ May the LORD bless you out of Zion, and may you see the good of Jerusalem all the days of your life.

⁶ Yes, may you see your children's children.

Peace be upon Israel.

129

A Song of Ascents.

¹ Many times they have afflicted me from my youth up.

Let Israel now say:

² many times they have afflicted me from my youth up,
yet they have not prevailed against me.

³ The plowers plowed on my back.
They made their furrows long.

⁴ The LORD is righteous.
He has cut apart the cords of the wicked.

⁵ Let them be disappointed and turned backward,
all those who hate Zion.

⁶ Let them be as the grass on the housetops, which withers before it grows up,

⁷ with which the reaper doesn't fill his hand,
nor he who binds sheaves, his bosom.

⁸ Neither do those who go by say,
"The blessing of the LORD be on you.
We bless you in the LORD's name."

130

A Song of Ascents.

¹ Out of the depths I have cried to you, LORD.*

² Lord, hear my voice.

Let your ears be attentive to the voice of my petitions.

³ If you, LORD,[†] kept a record of sins,
Lord, who could stand?

⁴ But there is forgiveness with you, therefore you are feared.

⁵ I wait for the LORD.
My soul waits.
I hope in his word.

⁶ My soul longs for the Lord more than watchmen long for the morning, more than watchmen for the morning.

⁷ Israel, hope in the LORD,
for there is loving kindness with the LORD.
Abundant redemption is with him.

⁸ He will redeem Israel from all their sins.

131

A Song of Ascents. By David.

- ¹ LORD, my heart isn't arrogant, nor my eyes lofty;
nor do I concern myself with great matters,
or things too wonderful for me.
- ² Surely I have stilled and quieted my soul,
like a weaned child with his mother;
like a weaned child is my soul within me.
- ³ Israel, hope in the LORD,
from this time forward and forever more.

132

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹ LORD, remember David and all his affliction, ² how he swore to the LORD,
and vowed to the Mighty One of Jacob:
- ³ "Surely I will not come into the structure of my house,
nor go up into my bed;
- ⁴ I will not give sleep to my eyes,
or slumber to my eyelids,
- ⁵ until I find out a place for the LORD,
a dwelling for the Mighty One of Jacob."
- ⁶ Behold, we heard of it in Ephrathah.
We found it in the field of Jaar.
- ⁷ "We will go into his dwelling place.
We will worship at his footstool."
- ⁸ Arise, LORD, into your resting place, you, and the ark of your strength.
- ⁹ Let your priests be clothed with righteousness.
Let your saints shout for joy!
- ¹⁰ For your servant David's sake, don't turn away the face of your anointed one.
- ¹¹ The LORD has sworn to David in truth.
He will not turn from it:
"I will set the fruit of your body on your throne.
- ¹² If your children will keep my covenant,
my testimony that I will teach them, their children also will sit on your throne forever more."
- ¹³ For the LORD has chosen Zion.
He has desired it for his habitation.
- ¹⁴ "This is my resting place forever.
I will live here, for I have desired it.
- ¹⁵ I will abundantly bless her provision.
I will satisfy her poor with bread.
- ¹⁶ I will also clothe her priests with salvation.
Her saints will shout aloud for joy.
- ¹⁷ I will make the horn of David to bud there.
I have ordained a lamp for my anointed.
- ¹⁸ I will clothe his enemies with shame, but on himself, his crown will shine."

133

A Song of Ascents. By David.

- ¹ See how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to live together in unity!
- ² It is like the precious oil on the head,
that ran down on the beard,
even Aaron's beard,
that came down on the edge of his robes,
- ³ like the dew of Hermon,
that comes down on the hills of Zion;
for there the LORD gives the blessing, even life forever more.

134

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹ Look! Praise the LORD, all you servants of the LORD, who stand by night in the LORD's house!
- ² Lift up your hands in the sanctuary.
Praise the LORD!
- ³ May the LORD bless you from Zion, even he who made heaven and earth.

- ¹ Praise the LORD!*
Praise the LORD's† name!
Praise him, you servants of the LORD,
- ² you who stand in the LORD's house,
in the courts of our God's house.
- ³ Praise the LORD,‡ for the LORD is good.
Sing praises to his name, for that is pleasant.
- ⁴ For the LORD§ has chosen Jacob for himself,
Israel for his own possession.
- ⁵ For I know that the LORD is great,
that our Lord is above all gods.
- ⁶ Whatever the LORD pleased, that he has done,
in heaven and in earth, in the seas and in all deeps.
- ⁷ He causes the clouds to rise from the ends of the earth.
He makes lightnings with the rain.
He brings the wind out of his treasuries.
- ⁸ He struck the firstborn of Egypt,
both of man and animal.
- ⁹ He sent signs and wonders into the middle of you, Egypt, on Pharaoh, and on all his servants.
- ¹⁰ He struck many nations,
and killed mighty kings—
- ¹¹ Sihon king of the Amorites,
Og king of Bashan,
and all the kingdoms of Canaan—
- ¹² and gave their land for a heritage,

* 135:1 Hebrew: יה׃ Yah † 135:1 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה׃ Yah. ‡ 135:3 Hebrew: יה׃ Yah § 135:4 Hebrew: יה׃ Yah a heritage to Israel, his people.

¹³ Your name, LORD, endures forever;
your renown, LORD, throughout all generations.

¹⁴ For the LORD will judge his people and have compassion on his servants.

¹⁵ The idols of the nations are silver and gold,
the work of men's hands.

¹⁶ They have mouths, but they can't speak.
They have eyes, but they can't see.

¹⁷ They have ears, but they can't hear,
neither is there any breath in their mouths.

¹⁸ Those who make them will be like them,
yes, everyone who trusts in them.

¹⁹ House of Israel, praise the LORD!
House of Aaron, praise the LORD!

²⁰ House of Levi, praise the LORD!
You who fear the LORD, praise the LORD!

²¹ Blessed be the LORD from Zion, who dwells in Jerusalem.

Praise the LORD!*

136

¹ Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good,
for his loving kindness endures forever.

² Give thanks to the God of gods,
for his loving kindness endures forever.

³ Give thanks to the Lord of lords,
for his loving kindness endures forever;

⁴ to him who alone does great wonders,
for his loving kindness endures forever;

⁵ to him who by understanding made the heavens,
for his loving kindness endures forever;

⁶ to him who spread out the earth above the waters,
for his loving kindness endures forever;

⁷ to him who made the great lights,
for his loving kindness endures forever;

⁸ the sun to rule by day,
for his loving kindness endures forever;

⁹ the moon and stars to rule by night,
for his loving kindness endures forever;

¹⁰ to him who struck down the Egyptian firstborn,
for his loving kindness endures forever;

¹¹ and brought out Israel from among them,
for his loving kindness endures forever;

¹² with a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm,
for his loving kindness endures forever;

¹³ to him who divided the Red Sea apart,
for his loving kindness endures forever;

* 135:21 Hebrew: יְיָ Yah

- 14 and made Israel to pass through the middle of it,
for his loving kindness endures forever;
15 but overthrew Pharaoh and his army in the Red Sea,
for his loving kindness endures forever;
16 to him who led his people through the wilderness,
for his loving kindness endures forever;
17 to him who struck great kings,
for his loving kindness endures forever;
18 and killed mighty kings,
for his loving kindness endures forever;
19 Sihon king of the Amorites,
for his loving kindness endures forever;
20 Og king of Bashan,
for his loving kindness endures forever;
21 and gave their land as an inheritance,
for his loving kindness endures forever;
22 even a heritage to Israel his servant,
for his loving kindness endures forever;
23 who remembered us in our low estate,
for his loving kindness endures forever;
24 and has delivered us from our adversaries,
for his loving kindness endures forever;
25 who gives food to every creature,
for his loving kindness endures forever.
26 Oh give thanks to the God of heaven,
for his loving kindness endures forever.

137

- 1 By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down.
Yes, we wept, when we remembered Zion.
2 On the willows in that land,
we hung up our harps.
3 For there, those who led us captive asked us for songs.
Those who tormented us demanded songs of joy:
"Sing us one of the songs of Zion!"
4 How can we sing the LORD's song in a foreign land?
5 If I forget you, Jerusalem,
let my right hand forget its skill.
6 Let my tongue stick to the roof of my mouth if I don't remember you,
if I don't prefer Jerusalem above my chief joy.
7 Remember, LORD, against the children of Edom in the day of Jerusalem, who said, "Raze it!
Raze it even to its foundation!"
8 Daughter of Babylon, doomed to destruction, he will be happy who repays you,
as you have done to us.
9 Happy shall he be,
who takes and dashes your little ones against the rock.

138

By David.

- ¹ I will give you thanks with my whole heart.
Before the gods,* I will sing praises to you.
- ² I will bow down toward your holy temple, and give thanks to your Name for your loving kindness and for your truth;
for you have exalted your Name and your Word above all.
- ³ In the day that I called, you answered me.
You encouraged me with strength in my soul.
- ⁴ All the kings of the earth will give you thanks, LORD, for they have heard the words of your mouth.
- ⁵ Yes, they will sing of the ways of the LORD,
for the LORD's glory is great!
- ⁶ For though the LORD is high, yet he looks after the lowly;
but he knows the proud from afar.
- ⁷ Though I walk in the middle of trouble, you will revive me.
You will stretch out your hand against the wrath of my enemies.
Your right hand will save me.
- ⁸ The LORD will fulfill that which concerns me.
Your loving kindness, LORD, endures forever.
Don't forsake the works of your own hands.

139

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- ¹ LORD, you have searched me,
and you know me.
- ² You know my sitting down and my rising up.
You perceive my thoughts from afar.
- ³ You search out my path and my lying down,
and are acquainted with all my ways.
- ⁴ For there is not a word on my tongue,
but behold, LORD, you know it altogether.
- ⁵ You hem me in behind and before.
You laid your hand on me.
- ⁶ This knowledge is beyond me.
It's lofty.
I can't attain it.
- ⁷ Where could I go from your Spirit?
Or where could I flee from your presence?
- ⁸ If I ascend up into heaven, you are there.
If I make my bed in Sheol,* behold, you are there!
- ⁹ If I take the wings of the dawn,
and settle in the uttermost parts of the sea,
- ¹⁰ even there your hand will lead me,
and your right hand will hold me.
- ¹¹ If I say, "Surely the darkness will overwhelm me.
The light around me will be night,"

* 138:1 The word elohim, used here, usually means "God" but can also mean "gods", "princes", or "angels". * 139:8 Sheol is the place of the dead.

- ¹² even the darkness doesn't hide from you,
but the night shines as the day.
The darkness is like light to you.
- ¹³ For you formed my inmost being.
You knit me together in my mother's womb.
- ¹⁴ I will give thanks to you,
for I am fearfully and wonderfully made.
Your works are wonderful.
My soul knows that very well.
- ¹⁵ My frame wasn't hidden from you,
when I was made in secret,
woven together in the depths of the earth.
- ¹⁶ Your eyes saw my body.
In your book they were all written,
the days that were ordained for me,
when as yet there were none of them.
- ¹⁷ How precious to me are your thoughts, God!
How vast is their sum!
- ¹⁸ If I would count them, they are more in number than the sand.
When I wake up, I am still with you.
- ¹⁹ If only you, God, would kill the wicked.
Get away from me, you bloodthirsty men!
- ²⁰ For they speak against you wickedly.
Your enemies take your name in vain.
- ²¹ LORD, don't I hate those who hate you?
Am I not grieved with those who rise up against you?
- ²² I hate them with perfect hatred.
They have become my enemies.
- ²³ Search me, God, and know my heart.
Try me, and know my thoughts.
- ²⁴ See if there is any wicked way in me,
and lead me in the everlasting way.

140

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- ¹ Deliver me, LORD, from evil men.
Preserve me from violent men:
² those who devise mischief in their hearts.
They continually gather themselves together for war.
³ They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent.
Viper's poison is under their lips.

Selah.

- ⁴ LORD, keep me from the hands of the wicked.
Preserve me from the violent men who have determined to trip my feet.
⁵ The proud have hidden a snare for me, they have spread the cords of a net by the path.
They have set traps for me.

Selah.

- ⁶ I said to the LORD, "You are my God."
Listen to the cry of my petitions, LORD.
⁷ LORD, the Lord, the strength of my salvation,

you have covered my head in the day of battle.

⁸ LORD, don't grant the desires of the wicked.

Don't let their evil plans succeed, or they will become proud.

Selah.

⁹ As for the head of those who surround me, let the mischief of their own lips cover them.

¹⁰ Let burning coals fall on them.

Let them be thrown into the fire,
into miry pits, from where they never rise.

¹¹ An evil speaker won't be established in the earth.

Evil will hunt the violent man to overthrow him.

¹² I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and justice for the needy.

¹³ Surely the righteous will give thanks to your name.
The upright will dwell in your presence.

141

A Psalm by David.

¹ LORD, I have called on you.

Come to me quickly!

Listen to my voice when I call to you.

² Let my prayer be set before you like incense;
the lifting up of my hands like the evening sacrifice.

³ Set a watch, LORD, before my mouth.

Keep the door of my lips.

⁴ Don't incline my heart to any evil thing, to practice deeds of wickedness with men who work iniquity.
Don't let me eat of their delicacies.

⁵ Let the righteous strike me, it is kindness;
let him reprove me, it is like oil on the head;
don't let my head refuse it;
Yet my prayer is always against evil deeds.

⁶ Their judges are thrown down by the sides of the rock.
They will hear my words, for they are well spoken.

⁷ "As when one plows and breaks up the earth,
our bones are scattered at the mouth of Sheol."*

⁸ For my eyes are on you, LORD, the Lord.
I take refuge in you.
Don't leave my soul destitute.

⁹ Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me,
from the traps of the workers of iniquity.

¹⁰ Let the wicked fall together into their own nets while I pass by.

142

A contemplation by David, when he was in the cave. A Prayer.

¹ I cry with my voice to the LORD.

With my voice, I ask the LORD for mercy.

² I pour out my complaint before him.
I tell him my troubles.

* 141:7 Sheol is the place of the dead.

- ³ When my spirit was overwhelmed within me,
you knew my route.
On the path in which I walk,
they have hidden a snare for me.
- ⁴ Look on my right, and see;
for there is no one who is concerned for me.
Refuge has fled from me.
No one cares for my soul.
- ⁵ I cried to you, LORD.
I said, "You are my refuge,
my portion in the land of the living."
- ⁶ Listen to my cry,
for I am in desperate need.
Deliver me from my persecutors,
for they are too strong for me.
- ⁷ Bring my soul out of prison,
that I may give thanks to your name.
The righteous will surround me,
for you will be good to me.

143

A Psalm by David.

- ¹ Hear my prayer, LORD.
Listen to my petitions.
In your faithfulness and righteousness, relieve me.
- ² Don't enter into judgment with your servant,
for in your sight no man living is righteous.
- ³ For the enemy pursues my soul.
He has struck my life down to the ground.
He has made me live in dark places, as those who have been long dead.
- ⁴ Therefore my spirit is overwhelmed within me.
My heart within me is desolate.
- ⁵ I remember the days of old.
I meditate on all your doings.
I contemplate the work of your hands.
- ⁶ I spread out my hands to you.
My soul thirsts for you, like a parched land.
- ⁷ Hurry to answer me, LORD.
My spirit fails.
Don't hide your face from me,
so that I don't become like those who go down into the pit.
- ⁸ Cause me to hear your loving kindness in the morning, for I trust in you.
Cause me to know the way in which I should walk,
for I lift up my soul to you.
- ⁹ Deliver me, LORD, from my enemies.
I flee to you to hide me.
- ¹⁰ Teach me to do your will,
for you are my God.

Selah.

Your Spirit is good.

Lead me in the land of uprightness.

¹¹ Revive me, LORD, for your name's sake.

In your righteousness, bring my soul out of trouble.

¹² In your loving kindness, cut off my enemies, and destroy all those who afflict my soul,
for I am your servant.

144

By David.

¹ Blessed be the LORD, my rock, who trains my hands to war,
and my fingers to battle—

² my loving kindness, my fortress,
my high tower, my deliverer,
my shield, and he in whom I take refuge,
who subdues my people under me.

³ LORD, what is man, that you care for him?
Or the son of man, that you think of him?

⁴ Man is like a breath.
His days are like a shadow that passes away.

⁵ Part your heavens, LORD, and come down.
Touch the mountains, and they will smoke.

⁶ Throw out lightning, and scatter them.
Send out your arrows, and rout them.

⁷ Stretch out your hand from above, rescue me, and deliver me out of great waters,
out of the hands of foreigners, ⁸ whose mouths speak deceit,
whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

⁹ I will sing a new song to you, God.
On a ten-stringed lyre, I will sing praises to you.

¹⁰ You are he who gives salvation to kings, who rescues David, his servant, from the deadly sword.

¹¹ Rescue me, and deliver me out of the hands of foreigners, whose mouths speak deceit,
whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

¹² Then our sons will be like well-nurtured plants,
our daughters like pillars carved to adorn a palace.

¹³ Our barns are full, filled with all kinds of provision.
Our sheep produce thousands and ten thousands in our fields.

¹⁴ Our oxen will pull heavy loads.
There is no breaking in, and no going away,
and no outcry in our streets.

¹⁵ Happy are the people who are in such a situation.
Happy are the people whose God is the LORD.

145

A praise psalm by David.*

- ¹ I will exalt you, my God, the King.
I will praise your name forever and ever.
- ² Every day I will praise you.
I will extol your name forever and ever.
- ³ Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised!
His greatness is unsearchable.
- ⁴ One generation will commend your works to another,
and will declare your mighty acts.
- ⁵ I will meditate on the glorious majesty of your honor,
on your wondrous works.
- ⁶ Men will speak of the might of your awesome acts.
I will declare your greatness.
- ⁷ They will utter the memory of your great goodness,
and will sing of your righteousness.
- ⁸ The LORD is gracious, merciful, slow to anger, and of great loving kindness.
- ⁹ The LORD is good to all.
His tender mercies are over all his works.
- ¹⁰ All your works will give thanks to you, LORD.
Your saints will extol you.
- ¹¹ They will speak of the glory of your kingdom,
and talk about your power,
- ¹² to make known to the sons of men his mighty acts,
the glory of the majesty of his kingdom.
- ¹³ Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom.
Your dominion endures throughout all generations.
- The LORD is faithful in all his words, and loving in all his deeds.†
- ¹⁴ The LORD upholds all who fall,
and raises up all those who are bowed down.
- ¹⁵ The eyes of all wait for you.
You give them their food in due season.
- ¹⁶ You open your hand,
and satisfy the desire of every living thing.
- ¹⁷ The LORD is righteous in all his ways, and gracious in all his works.
- ¹⁸ The LORD is near to all those who call on him,
to all who call on him in truth.
- ¹⁹ He will fulfill the desire of those who fear him.
He also will hear their cry, and will save them.
- ²⁰ The LORD preserves all those who love him,
but he will destroy all the wicked.
- ²¹ My mouth will speak the praise of the LORD.
Let all flesh bless his holy name forever and ever.

* 145: This is an acrostic psalm, with every verse (including the second half of verse 13) starting with a consecutive letter of the Hebrew alphabet. † 145:13 Some manuscripts omit these last two lines.

- ¹ Praise the LORD!*
- Praise the LORD,† my soul.
- ² While I live, I will praise the LORD.
I will sing praises to my God as long as I exist.
- ³ Don't put your trust in princes, in a son of man in whom there is no help.
- ⁴ His spirit departs, and he returns to the earth.
In that very day, his thoughts perish.
- ⁵ Happy is he who has the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the LORD, his God,
- ⁶ who made heaven and earth,
the sea, and all that is in them;
who keeps truth forever;
- ⁷ who executes justice for the oppressed;
who gives food to the hungry.
- The LORD frees the prisoners.
- ⁸ The LORD opens the eyes of the blind.
The LORD raises up those who are bowed down.
The LORD loves the righteous.
- ⁹ The LORD preserves the foreigners.
He upholds the fatherless and widow,
but he turns the way of the wicked upside down.
- ¹⁰ The LORD will reign forever;
your God, O Zion, to all generations.

- ¹ Praise the LORD,*
for it is good to sing praises to our God;
for it is pleasant and fitting to praise him.
- ² The LORD† builds up Jerusalem.
He gathers together the outcasts of Israel.
- ³ He heals the broken in heart,
and binds up their wounds.
- ⁴ He counts the number of the stars.
He calls them all by their names.
- ⁵ Great is our Lord, and mighty in power.
His understanding is infinite.
- ⁶ The LORD upholds the humble.
He brings the wicked down to the ground.
- ⁷ Sing to the LORD with thanksgiving.
Sing praises on the harp to our God,
- ⁸ who covers the sky with clouds,
who prepares rain for the earth,
who makes grass grow on the mountains.

- 9 He provides food for the livestock,
 and for the young ravens when they call.
 10 He doesn't delight in the strength of the horse.
 He takes no pleasure in the legs of a man.
 11 The LORD takes pleasure in those who fear him,
 in those who hope in his loving kindness.
 12 Praise the LORD, Jerusalem!
 Praise your God, Zion!
 13 For he has strengthened the bars of your gates.
 He has blessed your children within you.
 14 He makes peace in your borders.
 He fills you with the finest of the wheat.
 15 He sends out his commandment to the earth.
 His word runs very swiftly.
 16 He gives snow like wool,
 and scatters frost like ashes.
 17 He hurls down his hail like pebbles.
 Who can stand before his cold?
 18 He sends out his word, and melts them.
 He causes his wind to blow, and the waters flow.
 19 He shows his word to Jacob,
 his statutes and his ordinances to Israel.
 20 He has not done this for just any nation.
 They don't know his ordinances.
 Praise the LORD!‡

148

- 1 Praise the LORD!*
 Praise the LORD† from the heavens!
 Praise him in the heights!
 2 Praise him, all his angels!
 Praise him, all his army!
 3 Praise him, sun and moon!
 Praise him, all you shining stars!
 4 Praise him, you heavens of heavens,
 you waters that are above the heavens.
 5 Let them praise the LORD's name, for he commanded, and they were created.
 6 He has also established them forever and ever.
 He has made a decree which will not pass away.
 7 Praise the LORD from the earth,
 you great sea creatures, and all depths, 8 lightning and hail, snow and clouds, stormy wind, fulfilling his word, 9 mountains and all hills,
 fruit trees and all cedars, 10 wild animals and all livestock,
 small creatures and flying birds,

‡ 147:20 Hebrew: יה׃ Yah * 148:1 Hebrew: יה׃ Yah † 148:1 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה׃ Yah.

- 11 kings of the earth and all peoples, princes and all judges of the earth, 12 both young men and maidens,
 old men and children.
 13 Let them praise the LORD's name, for his name alone is exalted.
 His glory is above the earth and the heavens.
 14 He has lifted up the horn of his people,
 the praise of all his saints,
 even of the children of Israel, a people near to him.

149

- 1 Praise the LORD!*
 Sing to the LORD a new song,
 his praise in the assembly of the saints.
 2 Let Israel rejoice in him who made them.
 Let the children of Zion be joyful in their King.
 3 Let them praise his name in the dance!
 Let them sing praises to him with tambourine and harp!
 4 For the LORD takes pleasure in his people.
 He crowns the humble with salvation.
 5 Let the saints rejoice in honor.
 Let them sing for joy on their beds.
 6 May the high praises of God be in their mouths,
 and a two-edged sword in their hand, 7 to execute vengeance on the nations,
 and punishments on the peoples;
 8 to bind their kings with chains,
 and their nobles with fetters of iron;
 9 to execute on them the written judgment.
 All his saints have this honor.
 Praise the LORD!†

150

- 1 Praise the LORD!*
 Praise God in his sanctuary!
 Praise him in his heavens for his acts of power!
 2 Praise him for his mighty acts!
 Praise him according to his excellent greatness!
 3 Praise him with the sounding of the trumpet!
 Praise him with harp and lyre!
 4 Praise him with tambourine and dancing!
 Praise him with stringed instruments and flute!
 5 Praise him with loud cymbals!
 Praise him with resounding cymbals!
 6 Let everything that has breath praise the LORD!†

The Proverbs

- ¹ The proverbs of Solomon, the son of David, king of Israel:
² to know wisdom and instruction;
to discern the words of understanding;
³ to receive instruction in wise dealing,
in righteousness, justice, and equity;
⁴ to give prudence to the simple, knowledge and discretion to the young man—⁵ that the wise man may hear, and increase in learning;
that the man of understanding may attain to sound counsel;
⁶ to understand a proverb and parables,
the words and riddles of the wise.
- ⁷ The fear of the LORD* is the beginning of knowledge,
but the foolish despise wisdom and instruction.
⁸ My son, listen to your father's instruction,
and don't forsake your mother's teaching;
⁹ for they will be a garland to grace your head,
and chains around your neck.
¹⁰ My son, if sinners entice you,
don't consent.
¹¹ If they say, "Come with us.
Let's lie in wait for blood.
Let's lurk secretly for the innocent without cause.
¹² Let's swallow them up alive like Sheol,[†] and whole, like those who go down into the pit.
¹³ We'll find all valuable wealth.
We'll fill our houses with plunder.
¹⁴ You shall cast your lot among us.
We'll all have one purse"—
¹⁵ my son, don't walk on the path with them.
Keep your foot from their path,
¹⁶ for their feet run to evil.
They hurry to shed blood.
¹⁷ For the net is spread in vain in the sight of any bird;
¹⁸ but these lay in wait for their own blood.
They lurk secretly for their own lives.
¹⁹ So are the ways of everyone who is greedy for gain.
It takes away the life of its owners.
- ²⁰ Wisdom calls aloud in the street.
She utters her voice in the public squares.
²¹ She calls at the head of noisy places.
At the entrance of the city gates, she utters her words:
²² "How long, you simple ones, will you love simplicity?

* 1:7 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh). † 1:12 Sheol is the place of the dead.

How long will mockers delight themselves in mockery, and fools hate knowledge?

23 Turn at my reproof.

Behold,[‡] I will pour out my spirit on you.
I will make known my words to you.

24 Because I have called, and you have refused;
I have stretched out my hand, and no one has paid attention;

25 but you have ignored all my counsel, and wanted none of my reproof;

26 I also will laugh at your disaster.

I will mock when calamity overtakes you,

27 when calamity overtakes you like a storm,
when your disaster comes on like a whirlwind,
when distress and anguish come on you.

28 Then they will call on me, but I will not answer.

They will seek me diligently, but they will not find me,

29 because they hated knowledge, and didn't choose the fear of the LORD.

30 They wanted none of my counsel.

They despised all my reproof.

31 Therefore they will eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own schemes.

32 For the backsliding of the simple will kill them.
The careless ease of fools will destroy them.

33 But whoever listens to me will dwell securely, and will be at ease, without fear of harm."

2

1 My son, if you will receive my words,
and store up my commandments within you,

2 so as to turn your ear to wisdom,
and apply your heart to understanding;

3 yes, if you call out for discernment, and lift up your voice for understanding;

4 if you seek her as silver,
and search for her as for hidden treasures;

5 then you will understand the fear of the LORD, and find the knowledge of God.*

6 For the LORD gives wisdom.

Out of his mouth comes knowledge and understanding.

7 He lays up sound wisdom for the upright.

He is a shield to those who walk in integrity,

8 that he may guard the paths of justice, and preserve the way of his saints.

9 Then you will understand righteousness and justice, equity and every good path.

10 For wisdom will enter into your heart.

Knowledge will be pleasant to your soul.

[‡] 1:23 "Behold," from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection. * 2:5 The Hebrew word rendered "God" is "אֱלֹהִים" (Elohim).

- 11 Discretion will watch over you.
Understanding will keep you,
12 to deliver you from the way of evil,
from the men who speak perverse things, 13 who forsake the paths of uprightness, to walk in the ways of darkness, 14 who rejoice to do evil,
and delight in the perverseness of evil, 15 who are crooked in their ways,
and wayward in their paths, 16 to deliver you from the strange woman,
even from the foreigner who flatters with her words, 17 who forsakes the friend of her youth,
and forgets the covenant of her God;
18 for her house leads down to death,
her paths to the departed spirits.
19 None who go to her return again,
neither do they attain to the paths of life.
20 Therefore walk in the way of good men,
and keep the paths of the righteous.
21 For the upright will dwell in the land.
The perfect will remain in it.
22 But the wicked will be cut off from the land.
The treacherous will be rooted out of it.

3

- 1 My son, don't forget my teaching,
but let your heart keep my commandments,
2 for they will add to you length of days,
years of life, and peace.
3 Don't let kindness and truth forsake you.
Bind them around your neck.
Write them on the tablet of your heart.
4 So you will find favor,
and good understanding in the sight of God and man.
5 Trust in the LORD with all your heart, and don't lean on your own understanding.
6 In all your ways acknowledge him,
and he will make your paths straight.
7 Don't be wise in your own eyes.
Fear the LORD, and depart from evil.
8 It will be health to your body,
and nourishment to your bones.
9 Honor the LORD with your substance, with the first fruits of all your increase;
10 so your barns will be filled with plenty,
and your vats will overflow with new wine.
11 My son, don't despise the LORD's discipline, neither be weary of his correction;
12 for whom the LORD loves, he corrects, even as a father reproves the son in whom he delights.

- 13 Happy is the man who finds wisdom,
the man who gets understanding.
- 14 For her good profit is better than getting silver,
and her return is better than fine gold.
- 15 She is more precious than rubies.
None of the things you can desire are to be compared to her.
- 16 Length of days is in her right hand.
In her left hand are riches and honor.
- 17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness.
All her paths are peace.
- 18 She is a tree of life to those who lay hold of her.
Happy is everyone who retains her.
- 19 By wisdom the LORD founded the earth.
By understanding, he established the heavens.
- 20 By his knowledge, the depths were broken up,
and the skies drop down the dew.
- 21 My son, let them not depart from your eyes.
Keep sound wisdom and discretion,
- 22 so they will be life to your soul,
and grace for your neck.
- 23 Then you shall walk in your way securely.
Your foot won't stumble.
- 24 When you lie down, you will not be afraid.
Yes, you will lie down, and your sleep will be sweet.
- 25 Don't be afraid of sudden fear, neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it comes;
- 26 for the LORD will be your confidence, and will keep your foot from being taken.
- 27 Don't withhold good from those to whom it is due,
when it is in the power of your hand to do it.
- 28 Don't say to your neighbor, "Go, and come again;
tomorrow I will give it to you,"
when you have it by you.
- 29 Don't devise evil against your neighbor,
since he dwells securely by you.
- 30 Don't strive with a man without cause,
if he has done you no harm.
- 31 Don't envy the man of violence.
Choose none of his ways.
- 32 For the perverse is an abomination to the LORD,
but his friendship is with the upright.
- 33 The LORD's curse is in the house of the wicked,
but he blesses the habitation of the righteous.
- 34 Surely he mocks the mockers,
but he gives grace to the humble.
- 35 The wise will inherit glory,
but shame will be the promotion of fools.

- ¹ Listen, sons, to a father's instruction.
Pay attention and know understanding;
- ² for I give you sound learning.
Don't forsake my law.
- ³ For I was a son to my father, tender and an only child in the sight of my mother.
- ⁴ He taught me, and said to me:
"Let your heart retain my words.
Keep my commandments, and live."
- ⁵ Get wisdom.
Get understanding.
Don't forget, and don't deviate from the words of my mouth.
- ⁶ Don't forsake her, and she will preserve you.
Love her, and she will keep you.
- ⁷ Wisdom is supreme.
Get wisdom.
Yes, though it costs all your possessions, get understanding.
- ⁸ Esteem her, and she will exalt you.
She will bring you to honor when you embrace her.
- ⁹ She will give to your head a garland of grace.
She will deliver a crown of splendor to you."
- ¹⁰ Listen, my son, and receive my sayings.
The years of your life will be many.
- ¹¹ I have taught you in the way of wisdom.
I have led you in straight paths.
- ¹² When you go, your steps will not be hampered.
When you run, you will not stumble.
- ¹³ Take firm hold of instruction.
Don't let her go.
Keep her, for she is your life.
- ¹⁴ Don't enter into the path of the wicked.
Don't walk in the way of evil men.
- ¹⁵ Avoid it, and don't pass by it.
Turn from it, and pass on.
- ¹⁶ For they don't sleep unless they do evil.
Their sleep is taken away, unless they make someone fall.
- ¹⁷ For they eat the bread of wickedness and drink the wine of violence.
- ¹⁸ But the path of the righteous is like the dawning light that shines more and more until the perfect day.
- ¹⁹ The way of the wicked is like darkness.
They don't know what they stumble over.
- ²⁰ My son, attend to my words.
Turn your ear to my sayings.
- ²¹ Let them not depart from your eyes.
Keep them in the center of your heart.
- ²² For they are life to those who find them,
and health to their whole body.

- 23 Keep your heart with all diligence,
for out of it is the wellspring of life.
- 24 Put away from yourself a perverse mouth.
Put corrupt lips far from you.
- 25 Let your eyes look straight ahead.
Fix your gaze directly before you.
- 26 Make the path of your feet level.
Let all of your ways be established.
- 27 Don't turn to the right hand nor to the left.
Remove your foot from evil.

5

- 1 My son, pay attention to my wisdom.
Turn your ear to my understanding,
- 2 that you may maintain discretion,
that your lips may preserve knowledge.
- 3 For the lips of an adulteress drip honey.
Her mouth is smoother than oil,
- 4 but in the end she is as bitter as wormwood,
and as sharp as a two-edged sword.
- 5 Her feet go down to death.
Her steps lead straight to Sheol.*
- 6 She gives no thought to the way of life.
Her ways are crooked, and she doesn't know it.
- 7 Now therefore, my sons, listen to me.
Don't depart from the words of my mouth.
- 8 Remove your way far from her.
Don't come near the door of her house,
- 9 lest you give your honor to others,
and your years to the cruel one;
- 10 lest strangers feast on your wealth,
and your labors enrich another man's house.
- 11 You will groan at your latter end,
when your flesh and your body are consumed,
- 12 and say, "How I have hated instruction, and my heart despised reproof.
- 13 I haven't obeyed the voice of my teachers,
nor turned my ear to those who instructed me!
- 14 I have come to the brink of utter ruin, among the gathered assembly."
- 15 Drink water out of your own cistern, running water out of your own well.
- 16 Should your springs overflow in the streets, streams of water in the public squares?
- 17 Let them be for yourself alone,
not for strangers with you.
- 18 Let your spring be blessed.

* 5:5 Sheol is the place of the dead.

Rejoice in the wife of your youth.

- ¹⁹ A loving doe and a graceful deer—
let her breasts satisfy you at all times.
Be captivated always with her love.
- ²⁰ For why should you, my son, be captivated with an adulteress?
Why embrace the bosom of another?
- ²¹ For the ways of man are before the LORD's eyes.
He examines all his paths.
- ²² The evil deeds of the wicked ensnare him.
The cords of his sin hold him firmly.
- ²³ He will die for lack of instruction.
In the greatness of his folly, he will go astray.

6

- ¹ My son, if you have become collateral for your neighbor,
if you have struck your hands in pledge for a stranger,
- ² you are trapped by the words of your mouth;
you are ensnared with the words of your mouth.
- ³ Do this now, my son, and deliver yourself,
since you have come into the hand of your neighbor.
Go, humble yourself.
Press your plea with your neighbor.
- ⁴ Give no sleep to your eyes,
nor slumber to your eyelids.
- ⁵ Free yourself, like a gazelle from the hand of the hunter,
like a bird from the snare of the fowler.
- ⁶ Go to the ant, you sluggard.
Consider her ways, and be wise;
- ⁷ which having no chief, overseer, or ruler,
⁸ provides her bread in the summer,
and gathers her food in the harvest.
- ⁹ How long will you sleep, sluggard?
When will you arise out of your sleep?
- ¹⁰ A little sleep, a little slumber,
a little folding of the hands to sleep—
- ¹¹ so your poverty will come as a robber, and your scarcity as an armed man.
- ¹² A worthless person, a man of iniquity, is he who walks with a perverse mouth,
- ¹³ who winks with his eyes, who signals with his feet,
who motions with his fingers,
- ¹⁴ in whose heart is perverseness,
who devises evil continually,
who always sows discord.
- ¹⁵ Therefore his calamity will come suddenly.
He will be broken suddenly, and that without remedy.
- ¹⁶ There are six things which the LORD hates;
yes, seven which are an abomination to him:

- 17 arrogant eyes, a lying tongue,
hands that shed innocent blood, 18 a heart that devises wicked schemes, feet that are swift in running to mischief, 19 a false witness who utters lies,
and he who sows discord among brothers.
- 20 My son, keep your father's commandment,
and don't forsake your mother's teaching.
21 Bind them continually on your heart.
Tie them around your neck.
22 When you walk, it will lead you.
When you sleep, it will watch over you.
When you awake, it will talk with you.
23 For the commandment is a lamp,
and the law is light.
Reproofs of instruction are the way of life,
24 to keep you from the immoral woman,
from the flattery of the wayward wife's tongue.
25 Don't lust after her beauty in your heart,
neither let her captivate you with her eyelids.
26 For a prostitute reduces you to a piece of bread.
The adulteress hunts for your precious life.
27 Can a man scoop fire into his lap,
and his clothes not be burned?
28 Or can one walk on hot coals,
and his feet not be scorched?
29 So is he who goes in to his neighbor's wife.
Whoever touches her will not be unpunished.
30 Men don't despise a thief
if he steals to satisfy himself when he is hungry, 31 but if he is found, he shall restore seven times.
He shall give all the wealth of his house.
32 He who commits adultery with a woman is void of understanding.
He who does it destroys his own soul.
33 He will get wounds and dishonor.
His reproach will not be wiped away.
34 For jealousy arouses the fury of the husband.
He won't spare in the day of vengeance.
35 He won't regard any ransom, neither will he rest content, though you give many gifts.

7

- 1 My son, keep my words.
Lay up my commandments within you.
2 Keep my commandments and live!
Guard my teaching as the apple of your eye.
3 Bind them on your fingers.
Write them on the tablet of your heart.
4 Tell wisdom, "You are my sister."
Call understanding your relative,

- ⁵ that they may keep you from the strange woman,
from the foreigner who flatters with her words.
- ⁶ For at the window of my house,
I looked out through my lattice.
- ⁷ I saw among the simple ones.
I discerned among the youths a young man void of understanding,
- ⁸ passing through the street near her corner,
he went the way to her house,
- ⁹ in the twilight, in the evening of the day,
in the middle of the night and in the darkness.
- ¹⁰ Behold, there a woman met him with the attire of a prostitute, and with crafty intent.
- ¹¹ She is loud and defiant.
Her feet don't stay in her house.
- ¹² Now she is in the streets, now in the squares, and lurking at every corner.
- ¹³ So she caught him, and kissed him.
With an impudent face she said to him:
- ¹⁴ "Sacrifices of peace offerings are with me.
Today I have paid my vows.
- ¹⁵ Therefore I came out to meet you,
to diligently seek your face,
and I have found you.
- ¹⁶ I have spread my couch with carpets of tapestry, with striped cloths of the yarn of Egypt.
- ¹⁷ I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.
- ¹⁸ Come, let's take our fill of loving until the morning.
Let's solace ourselves with loving.
- ¹⁹ For my husband isn't at home.
He has gone on a long journey.
- ²⁰ He has taken a bag of money with him.
He will come home at the full moon."
- ²¹ With persuasive words, she led him astray.
With the flattering of her lips, she seduced him.
- ²² He followed her immediately,
as an ox goes to the slaughter,
as a fool stepping into a noose.
- ²³ Until an arrow strikes through his liver,
as a bird hurries to the snare,
and doesn't know that it will cost his life.
- ²⁴ Now therefore, sons, listen to me.
Pay attention to the words of my mouth.
- ²⁵ Don't let your heart turn to her ways.
Don't go astray in her paths,
- ²⁶ for she has thrown down many wounded.
Yes, all her slain are a mighty army.
- ²⁷ Her house is the way to Sheol,*
going down to the rooms of death.

* 7:27 Sheol is the place of the dead.

- 1 Doesn't wisdom cry out?
Doesn't understanding raise her voice?
- 2 On the top of high places by the way,
where the paths meet, she stands.
- 3 Beside the gates, at the entry of the city,
at the entry doors, she cries aloud:
- 4 "I call to you men!
I send my voice to the sons of mankind.
- 5 You simple, understand prudence!
You fools, be of an understanding heart!
- 6 Hear, for I will speak excellent things.
The opening of my lips is for right things.
- 7 For my mouth speaks truth.
Wickedness is an abomination to my lips.
- 8 All the words of my mouth are in righteousness.
There is nothing crooked or perverse in them.
- 9 They are all plain to him who understands,
right to those who find knowledge.
- 10 Receive my instruction rather than silver, knowledge rather than choice gold.
- 11 For wisdom is better than rubies.
All the things that may be desired can't be compared to it.
- 12 "I, wisdom, have made prudence my dwelling.
Find out knowledge and discretion.
- 13 The fear of the LORD is to hate evil.
I hate pride, arrogance, the evil way, and the perverse mouth.
- 14 Counsel and sound knowledge are mine.
I have understanding and power.
- 15 By me kings reign,
and princes decree justice.
- 16 By me princes rule,
nobles, and all the righteous rulers of the earth.
- 17 I love those who love me.
Those who seek me diligently will find me.
- 18 With me are riches, honor, enduring wealth, and prosperity.
- 19 My fruit is better than gold, yes, than fine gold,
my yield than choice silver.
- 20 I walk in the way of righteousness,
in the middle of the paths of justice,
- 21 that I may give wealth to those who love me.
I fill their treasuries.
- 22 "The LORD possessed me in the beginning of his work, before his deeds of old.
- 23 I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning,
before the earth existed.
- 24 When there were no depths, I was born,
when there were no springs abounding with water.

- 25 Before the mountains were settled in place,
before the hills, I was born;
26 while as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the beginning of the dust of the world.
27 When he established the heavens, I was there.
When he set a circle on the surface of the deep, 28 when he established the clouds above,
when the springs of the deep became strong, 29 when he gave to the sea its boundary, that the waters should not violate his commandment,
when he marked out the foundations of the earth,
30 then I was the craftsman by his side.
I was a delight day by day,
always rejoicing before him,
31 rejoicing in his whole world.
My delight was with the sons of men.
32 "Now therefore, my sons, listen to me,
for blessed are those who keep my ways.
33 Hear instruction, and be wise.
Don't refuse it.
34 Blessed is the man who hears me, watching daily at my gates,
waiting at my door posts.
35 For whoever finds me finds life,
and will obtain favor from the LORD.
36 But he who sins against me wrongs his own soul.
All those who hate me love death."

- 1 Wisdom has built her house.
She has carved out her seven pillars.
2 She has prepared her meat.
She has mixed her wine.
She has also set her table.
3 She has sent out her maidens.
She cries from the highest places of the city:
4 "Whoever is simple, let him turn in here!"
As for him who is void of understanding, she says to him,
5 "Come, eat some of my bread,
Drink some of the wine which I have mixed!
6 Leave your simple ways, and live.
Walk in the way of understanding."
7 One who corrects a mocker invites insult.
One who reproves a wicked man invites abuse.
8 Don't reprove a scoffer, lest he hate you.
Reprove a wise person, and he will love you.
9 Instruct a wise person, and he will be still wiser.
Teach a righteous person, and he will increase in learning.
10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom.
The knowledge of the Holy One is understanding.

- 11 For by me your days will be multiplied.
The years of your life will be increased.
- 12 If you are wise, you are wise for yourself.
If you mock, you alone will bear it.
- 13 The foolish woman is loud, undisciplined, and knows nothing.
- 14 She sits at the door of her house,
on a seat in the high places of the city,
- 15 to call to those who pass by,
who go straight on their ways,
- 16 “Whoever is simple, let him turn in here.”
As for him who is void of understanding, she says to him,
- 17 “Stolen water is sweet.
Food eaten in secret is pleasant.”
- 18 But he doesn’t know that the departed spirits are there, that her guests are in the depths of Sheol.*

10

- 1 The proverbs of Solomon.
A wise son makes a glad father;
but a foolish son brings grief to his mother.
- 2 Treasures of wickedness profit nothing,
but righteousness delivers from death.
- 3 The LORD will not allow the soul of the righteous to go hungry,
but he thrusts away the desire of the wicked.
- 4 He becomes poor who works with a lazy hand,
but the hand of the diligent brings wealth.
- 5 He who gathers in summer is a wise son,
but he who sleeps during the harvest is a son who causes shame.
- 6 Blessings are on the head of the righteous,
but violence covers the mouth of the wicked.
- 7 The memory of the righteous is blessed,
but the name of the wicked will rot.
- 8 The wise in heart accept commandments,
but a chattering fool will fall.
- 9 He who walks blamelessly walks surely,
but he who perverts his ways will be found out.
- 10 One who winks with the eye causes sorrow,
but a chattering fool will fall.
- 11 The mouth of the righteous is a spring of life,
but violence covers the mouth of the wicked.
- 12 Hatred stirs up strife,
but love covers all wrongs.
- 13 Wisdom is found on the lips of him who has discernment, but a rod is for the back of him who is void of understanding.
- 14 Wise men lay up knowledge,
but the mouth of the foolish is near ruin.
- 15 The rich man’s wealth is his strong city.

* 9:18 Sheol is the place of the dead.

- The destruction of the poor is their poverty.
16 The labor of the righteous leads to life.
The increase of the wicked leads to sin.
17 He is in the way of life who heeds correction, but he who forsakes reproof leads others astray.
18 He who hides hatred has lying lips.
He who utters a slander is a fool.
19 In the multitude of words there is no lack of disobedience, but he who restrains his lips does wisely.
20 The tongue of the righteous is like choice silver.
The heart of the wicked is of little worth.
21 The lips of the righteous feed many,
but the foolish die for lack of understanding.
22 The LORD's blessing brings wealth, and he adds no trouble to it.
23 It is a fool's pleasure to do wickedness,
but wisdom is a man of understanding's pleasure.
24 What the wicked fear will overtake them,
but the desire of the righteous will be granted.
25 When the whirlwind passes, the wicked is no more;
but the righteous stand firm forever.
26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes,
so is the sluggard to those who send him.
27 The fear of the LORD prolongs days,
but the years of the wicked shall be shortened.
28 The prospect of the righteous is joy,
but the hope of the wicked will perish.
29 The way of the LORD is a stronghold to the upright,
but it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity.
30 The righteous will never be removed,
but the wicked will not dwell in the land.
31 The mouth of the righteous produces wisdom,
but the perverse tongue will be cut off.
32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable, but the mouth of the wicked is perverse.

11

- 1 A false balance is an abomination to the LORD,
but accurate weights are his delight.
2 When pride comes, then comes shame,
but with humility comes wisdom.
3 The integrity of the upright shall guide them,
but the perverseness of the treacherous shall destroy them.
4 Riches don't profit in the day of wrath,
but righteousness delivers from death.
5 The righteousness of the blameless will direct his way,
but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness.
6 The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them,
but the unfaithful will be trapped by evil desires.
7 When a wicked man dies, hope perishes,

- and expectation of power comes to nothing.
- 8 A righteous person is delivered out of trouble,
and the wicked takes his place.
- 9 With his mouth the godless man destroys his neighbor,
but the righteous will be delivered through knowledge.
- 10 When it goes well with the righteous, the city rejoices.
When the wicked perish, there is shouting.
- 11 By the blessing of the upright, the city is exalted,
but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.
- 12 One who despises his neighbor is void of wisdom,
but a man of understanding holds his peace.
- 13 One who brings gossip betrays a confidence, but one who is of a trustworthy spirit is one who keeps a secret.
- 14 Where there is no wise guidance, the nation falls,
but in the multitude of counselors there is victory.
- 15 He who is collateral for a stranger will suffer for it,
but he who refuses pledges of collateral is secure.
- 16 A gracious woman obtains honor,
but violent men obtain riches.
- 17 The merciful man does good to his own soul,
but he who is cruel troubles his own flesh.
- 18 Wicked people earn deceitful wages,
but one who sows righteousness reaps a sure reward.
- 19 He who is truly righteous gets life.
He who pursues evil gets death.
- 20 Those who are perverse in heart are an abomination to the LORD,
but those whose ways are blameless are his delight.
- 21 Most certainly, the evil man will not be unpunished,
but the offspring* of the righteous will be delivered.
- 22 Like a gold ring in a pig's snout, is a beautiful woman who lacks discretion.
- 23 The desire of the righteous is only good.
The expectation of the wicked is wrath.
- 24 There is one who scatters, and increases yet more.
There is one who withholds more than is appropriate, but gains poverty.
- 25 The liberal soul shall be made fat.
He who waters shall be watered also himself.
- 26 People curse someone who withholds grain,
but blessing will be on the head of him who sells it.
- 27 He who diligently seeks good seeks favor,
but he who searches after evil, it shall come to him.
- 28 He who trusts in his riches will fall,
but the righteous shall flourish as the green leaf.
- 29 He who troubles his own house shall inherit the wind.
The foolish shall be servant to the wise of heart.
- 30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life.
He who is wise wins souls.
- 31 Behold, the righteous shall be repaid in the earth,
how much more the wicked and the sinner!

* 11:21 or, seed

12

- 1 Whoever loves correction loves knowledge,
but he who hates reproof is stupid.
- 2 A good man shall obtain favor from the LORD,
but he will condemn a man of wicked plans.
- 3 A man shall not be established by wickedness,
but the root of the righteous shall not be moved.
- 4 A worthy woman is the crown of her husband,
but a disgraceful wife is as rottenness in his bones.
- 5 The thoughts of the righteous are just,
but the advice of the wicked is deceitful.
- 6 The words of the wicked are about lying in wait for blood,
but the speech of the upright rescues them.
- 7 The wicked are overthrown, and are no more,
but the house of the righteous shall stand.
- 8 A man shall be commended according to his wisdom,
but he who has a warped mind shall be despised.
- 9 Better is he who is little known, and has a servant,
than he who honors himself and lacks bread.
- 10 A righteous man respects the life of his animal,
but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.
- 11 He who tills his land shall have plenty of bread,
but he who chases fantasies is void of understanding.
- 12 The wicked desires the plunder of evil men,
but the root of the righteous flourishes.
- 13 An evil man is trapped by sinfulness of lips,
but the righteous shall come out of trouble.
- 14 A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth.
The work of a man's hands shall be rewarded to him.
- 15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes,
but he who is wise listens to counsel.
- 16 A fool shows his annoyance the same day,
but one who overlooks an insult is prudent.
- 17 He who is truthful testifies honestly,
but a false witness lies.
- 18 There is one who speaks rashly like the piercing of a sword,
but the tongue of the wise heals.
- 19 Truth's lips will be established forever,
but a lying tongue is only momentary.
- 20 Deceit is in the heart of those who plot evil,
but joy comes to the promoters of peace.
- 21 No mischief shall happen to the righteous,
but the wicked shall be filled with evil.
- 22 Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD,
but those who do the truth are his delight.
- 23 A prudent man keeps his knowledge,
but the hearts of fools proclaim foolishness.
- 24 The hands of the diligent ones shall rule, but laziness ends in slave labor.
- 25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs it down,

but a kind word makes it glad.

- 26 A righteous person is cautious in friendship,
but the way of the wicked leads them astray.
27 The slothful man doesn't roast his game,
but the possessions of diligent men are prized.
28 In the way of righteousness is life;
in its path there is no death.

13

- 1 A wise son listens to his father's instruction,
but a scoffer doesn't listen to rebuke.
2 By the fruit of his lips, a man enjoys good things,
but the unfaithful crave violence.
3 He who guards his mouth guards his soul.
One who opens wide his lips comes to ruin.
4 The soul of the sluggard desires, and has nothing, but the desire of the diligent shall be fully satisfied.
5 A righteous man hates lies,
but a wicked man brings shame and disgrace.
6 Righteousness guards the way of integrity,
but wickedness overthrows the sinner.
7 There are some who pretend to be rich, yet have nothing.
There are some who pretend to be poor, yet have great wealth.
8 The ransom of a man's life is his riches,
but the poor hear no threats.
9 The light of the righteous shines brightly, but the lamp of the wicked is snuffed out.
10 Pride only breeds quarrels,
but wisdom is with people who take advice.
11 Wealth gained dishonestly dwindles away,
but he who gathers by hand makes it grow.
12 Hope deferred makes the heart sick,
but when longing is fulfilled, it is a tree of life.
13 Whoever despises instruction will pay for it,
but he who respects a command will be rewarded.
14 The teaching of the wise is a spring of life,
to turn from the snares of death.
15 Good understanding wins favor,
but the way of the unfaithful is hard.
16 Every prudent man acts from knowledge,
but a fool exposes folly.
17 A wicked messenger falls into trouble,
but a trustworthy envoy gains healing.
18 Poverty and shame come to him who refuses discipline,
but he who heeds correction shall be honored.
19 Longing fulfilled is sweet to the soul,
but fools detest turning from evil.
20 One who walks with wise men grows wise,
but a companion of fools suffers harm.
21 Misfortune pursues sinners,
but prosperity rewards the righteous.

- 22 A good man leaves an inheritance to his children's children, but the wealth of the sinner is stored for the righteous.
- 23 An abundance of food is in poor people's fields,
but injustice sweeps it away.
- 24 One who spares the rod hates his son,
but one who loves him is careful to discipline him.
- 25 The righteous one eats to the satisfying of his soul,
but the belly of the wicked goes hungry.

14

- 1 Every wise woman builds her house,
but the foolish one tears it down with her own hands.
- 2 He who walks in his uprightness fears the LORD,
but he who is perverse in his ways despises him.
- 3 The fool's talk brings a rod to his back,
but the lips of the wise protect them.
- 4 Where no oxen are, the crib is clean,
but much increase is by the strength of the ox.
- 5 A truthful witness will not lie,
but a false witness pours out lies.
- 6 A scoffer seeks wisdom, and doesn't find it,
but knowledge comes easily to a discerning person.
- 7 Stay away from a foolish man,
for you won't find knowledge on his lips.
- 8 The wisdom of the prudent is to think about his way,
but the folly of fools is deceit.
- 9 Fools mock at making atonement for sins, but among the upright there is good will.
- 10 The heart knows its own bitterness and joy;
he will not share these with a stranger.
- 11 The house of the wicked will be overthrown,
but the tent of the upright will flourish.
- 12 There is a way which seems right to a man,
but in the end it leads to death.
- 13 Even in laughter the heart may be sorrowful,
and mirth may end in heaviness.
- 14 The unfaithful will be repaid for his own ways;
likewise a good man will be rewarded for his ways.
- 15 A simple man believes everything,
but the prudent man carefully considers his ways.
- 16 A wise man fears and shuns evil,
but the fool is hot headed and reckless.
- 17 He who is quick to become angry will commit folly,
and a crafty man is hated.
- 18 The simple inherit folly,
but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.
- 19 The evil bow down before the good,
and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.
- 20 The poor person is shunned even by his own neighbor,
but the rich person has many friends.

- 21 He who despises his neighbor sins,
but he who has pity on the poor is blessed.
- 22 Don't they go astray who plot evil?
But love and faithfulness belong to those who plan good.
- 23 In all hard work there is profit,
but the talk of the lips leads only to poverty.
- 24 The crown of the wise is their riches,
but the folly of fools crowns them with folly.
- 25 A truthful witness saves souls,
but a false witness is deceitful.
- 26 In the fear of the LORD is a secure fortress,
and he will be a refuge for his children.
- 27 The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life,
turning people from the snares of death.
- 28 In the multitude of people is the king's glory,
but in the lack of people is the destruction of the prince.
- 29 He who is slow to anger has great understanding, but he who has a quick temper displays folly.
- 30 The life of the body is a heart at peace,
but envy rots the bones.
- 31 He who oppresses the poor shows contempt for his Maker,
but he who is kind to the needy honors him.
- 32 The wicked is brought down in his calamity,
but in death, the righteous has a refuge.
- 33 Wisdom rests in the heart of one who has understanding, and is even made known in the inward part of fools.
- 34 Righteousness exalts a nation,
but sin is a disgrace to any people.
- 35 The king's favor is toward a servant who deals wisely, but his wrath is toward one who causes shame.

15

- 1 A gentle answer turns away wrath,
but a harsh word stirs up anger.
- 2 The tongue of the wise commends knowledge,
but the mouths of fools gush out folly.
- 3 The LORD's eyes are everywhere, keeping watch on the evil and the good.
- 4 A gentle tongue is a tree of life,
but deceit in it crushes the spirit.
- 5 A fool despises his father's correction,
but he who heeds reproof shows prudence.
- 6 In the house of the righteous is much treasure,
but the income of the wicked brings trouble.
- 7 The lips of the wise spread knowledge;
not so with the heart of fools.
- 8 The sacrifice made by the wicked is an abomination to the LORD,
but the prayer of the upright is his delight.
- 9 The way of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD,
but he loves him who follows after righteousness.

- 10 There is stern discipline for one who forsakes the way.
Whoever hates reproof shall die.
- 11 Sheol* and Abaddon are before the LORD—
how much more then the hearts of the children of men!
- 12 A scoffer doesn't love to be reproved;
he will not go to the wise.
- 13 A glad heart makes a cheerful face,
but an aching heart breaks the spirit.
- 14 The heart of one who has understanding seeks knowledge,
but the mouths of fools feed on folly.
- 15 All the days of the afflicted are wretched,
but one who has a cheerful heart enjoys a continual feast.
- 16 Better is little, with the fear of the LORD,
than great treasure with trouble.
- 17 Better is a dinner of herbs, where love is,
than a fattened calf with hatred.
- 18 A wrathful man stirs up contention,
but one who is slow to anger appeases strife.
- 19 The way of the sluggard is like a thorn patch,
but the path of the upright is a highway.
- 20 A wise son makes a father glad,
but a foolish man despises his mother.
- 21 Folly is joy to one who is void of wisdom,
but a man of understanding keeps his way straight.
- 22 Where there is no counsel, plans fail;
but in a multitude of counselors they are established.
- 23 Joy comes to a man with the reply of his mouth.
How good is a word at the right time!
- 24 The path of life leads upward for the wise, to keep him from going downward to Sheol.†
- 25 The LORD will uproot the house of the proud,
but he will keep the widow's borders intact.
- 26 The LORD detests the thoughts of the wicked,
but the thoughts of the pure are pleasing.
- 27 He who is greedy for gain troubles his own house,
but he who hates bribes will live.
- 28 The heart of the righteous weighs answers,
but the mouth of the wicked gushes out evil.
- 29 The LORD is far from the wicked,
but he hears the prayer of the righteous.
- 30 The light of the eyes rejoices the heart.
Good news gives health to the bones.
- 31 The ear that listens to reproof lives,
and will be at home among the wise.
- 32 He who refuses correction despises his own soul,
but he who listens to reproof gets understanding.
- 33 The fear of the LORD teaches wisdom.
Before honor is humility.

* 15:11 Sheol is the place of the dead. † 15:24 Sheol is the place of the dead.

16

- 1 The plans of the heart belong to man,
but the answer of the tongue is from the LORD.
- 2 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes,
but the LORD weighs the motives.
- 3 Commit your deeds to the LORD,
and your plans shall succeed.
- 4 The LORD has made everything for its own end—
yes, even the wicked for the day of evil.
- 5 Everyone who is proud in heart is an abomination to the LORD;
they shall certainly not be unpunished.
- 6 By mercy and truth iniquity is atoned for.
By the fear of the LORD men depart from evil.
- 7 When a man's ways please the LORD,
he makes even his enemies to be at peace with him.
- 8 Better is a little with righteousness, than great revenues with injustice.
- 9 A man's heart plans his course,
but the LORD directs his steps.
- 10 Inspired judgments are on the lips of the king.
He shall not betray his mouth.
- 11 Honest balances and scales are the LORD's;
all the weights in the bag are his work.
- 12 It is an abomination for kings to do wrong,
for the throne is established by righteousness.
- 13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings.
They value one who speaks the truth.
- 14 The king's wrath is a messenger of death,
but a wise man will pacify it.
- 15 In the light of the king's face is life.
His favor is like a cloud of the spring rain.
- 16 How much better it is to get wisdom than gold!
Yes, to get understanding is to be chosen rather than silver.
- 17 The highway of the upright is to depart from evil.
He who keeps his way preserves his soul.
- 18 Pride goes before destruction, and an arrogant spirit before a fall.
- 19 It is better to be of a lowly spirit with the poor,
than to divide the plunder with the proud.
- 20 He who heeds the Word finds prosperity.
Whoever trusts in the LORD is blessed.
- 21 The wise in heart shall be called prudent.
Pleasantness of the lips promotes instruction.
- 22 Understanding is a fountain of life to one who has it,
but the punishment of fools is their folly.
- 23 The heart of the wise instructs his mouth,
and adds learning to his lips.
- 24 Pleasant words are a honeycomb,
sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.
- 25 There is a way which seems right to a man,

but in the end it leads to death.

²⁶ The appetite of the laboring man labors for him,
for his mouth urges him on.

²⁷ A worthless man devises mischief.
His speech is like a scorching fire.

²⁸ A perverse man stirs up strife.
A whisperer separates close friends.

²⁹ A man of violence entices his neighbor, and leads him in a way that is not good.

³⁰ One who winks his eyes to plot perversities, one who compresses his lips, is bent on evil.

³¹ Gray hair is a crown of glory.
It is attained by a life of righteousness.

³² One who is slow to anger is better than the mighty;
one who rules his spirit, than he who takes a city.

³³ The lot is cast into the lap,
but its every decision is from the LORD.

¹ Better is a dry morsel with quietness, than a house full of feasting with strife.

² A servant who deals wisely will rule over a son who causes shame, and shall have a part in the inheritance among the brothers.

³ The refining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold, but the LORD tests the hearts.

⁴ An evildoer heeds wicked lips.
A liar gives ear to a mischievous tongue.

⁵ Whoever mocks the poor reproaches his Maker.
He who is glad at calamity shall not be unpunished.

⁶ Children's children are the crown of old men;
the glory of children is their parents.

⁷ Excellent speech isn't fitting for a fool, much less do lying lips fit a prince.

⁸ A bribe is a precious stone in the eyes of him who gives it;
wherever he turns, he prospers.

⁹ He who covers an offense promotes love;
but he who repeats a matter separates best friends.

¹⁰ A rebuke enters deeper into one who has understanding than a hundred lashes into a fool.

¹¹ An evil man seeks only rebellion;
therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.

¹² Let a bear robbed of her cubs meet a man, rather than a fool in his folly.

¹³ Whoever rewards evil for good,
evil shall not depart from his house.

¹⁴ The beginning of strife is like breaching a dam, therefore stop contention before quarreling breaks out.

¹⁵ He who justifies the wicked, and he who condemns the righteous, both of them alike are an abomination to the LORD.

¹⁶ Why is there money in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom, since he has no understanding?

- 17 A friend loves at all times;
and a brother is born for adversity.
- 18 A man void of understanding strikes hands,
and becomes collateral in the presence of his neighbor.
- 19 He who loves disobedience loves strife.
One who builds a high gate seeks destruction.
- 20 One who has a perverse heart doesn't find prosperity,
and one who has a deceitful tongue falls into trouble.
- 21 He who becomes the father of a fool grieves.
The father of a fool has no joy.
- 22 A cheerful heart makes good medicine,
but a crushed spirit dries up the bones.
- 23 A wicked man receives a bribe in secret, to pervert the ways of justice.
- 24 Wisdom is before the face of one who has understanding, but the eyes of a fool wander to the ends of the earth.
- 25 A foolish son brings grief to his father;
and bitterness to her who bore him.
- 26 Also to punish the righteous is not good,
nor to flog officials for their integrity.
- 27 He who spares his words has knowledge.
He who is even tempered is a man of understanding.
- 28 Even a fool, when he keeps silent, is counted wise.
When he shuts his lips, he is thought to be discerning.

18

- 1 A man who isolates himself pursues selfishness, and defies all sound judgment.
- 2 A fool has no delight in understanding, but only in revealing his own opinion.
- 3 When wickedness comes, contempt also comes,
and with shame comes disgrace.
- 4 The words of a man's mouth are like deep waters.
The fountain of wisdom is like a flowing brook.
- 5 To be partial to the faces of the wicked is not good,
nor to deprive the innocent of justice.
- 6 A fool's lips come into strife,
and his mouth invites beatings.
- 7 A fool's mouth is his destruction,
and his lips are a snare to his soul.
- 8 The words of a gossip are like dainty morsels:
they go down into a person's innermost parts.
- 9 One who is slack in his work is brother to him who is a master of destruction.
- 10 The LORD's name is a strong tower:
the righteous run to him, and are safe.
- 11 The rich man's wealth is his strong city,
like an unscalable wall in his own imagination.
- 12 Before destruction the heart of man is proud,

but before honor is humility.

- 13 He who answers before he hears,
that is folly and shame to him.
- 14 A man's spirit will sustain him in sickness,
but a crushed spirit, who can bear?
- 15 The heart of the discerning gets knowledge.
The ear of the wise seeks knowledge.
- 16 A man's gift makes room for him,
and brings him before great men.
- 17 He who pleads his cause first seems right—
until another comes and questions him.
- 18 The lot settles disputes, and keeps strong ones apart.
- 19 A brother offended is more difficult than a fortified city.
Disputes are like the bars of a fortress.
- 20 A man's stomach is filled with the fruit of his mouth.
With the harvest of his lips he is satisfied.
- 21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue;
those who love it will eat its fruit.
- 22 Whoever finds a wife finds a good thing,
and obtains favor of the LORD.
- 23 The poor plead for mercy,
but the rich answer harshly.
- 24 A man of many companions may be ruined,
but there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother.

19

- 1 Better is the poor who walks in his integrity than he who is perverse in his lips and is a fool.
- 2 It isn't good to have zeal without knowledge,
nor being hasty with one's feet and missing the way.
- 3 The foolishness of man subverts his way;
his heart rages against the LORD.
- 4 Wealth adds many friends,
but the poor is separated from his friend.
- 5 A false witness shall not be unpunished.
He who pours out lies shall not go free.
- 6 Many will entreat the favor of a ruler, and everyone is a friend to a man who gives gifts.
- 7 All the relatives of the poor shun him;
how much more do his friends avoid him!
He pursues them with pleas, but they are gone.
- 8 He who gets wisdom loves his own soul.
He who keeps understanding shall find good.
- 9 A false witness shall not be unpunished.
He who utters lies shall perish.
- 10 Delicate living is not appropriate for a fool, much less for a servant to have rule over princes.
- 11 The discretion of a man makes him slow to anger.
It is his glory to overlook an offense.

- 12 The king's wrath is like the roaring of a lion,
but his favor is like dew on the grass.
- 13 A foolish son is the calamity of his father.
A wife's quarrels are a continual dripping.
- 14 House and riches are an inheritance from fathers,
but a prudent wife is from the LORD.
- 15 Slothfulness casts into a deep sleep.
The idle soul shall suffer hunger.
- 16 He who keeps the commandment keeps his soul,
but he who is contemptuous in his ways shall die.
- 17 He who has pity on the poor lends to the LORD;
he will reward him.
- 18 Discipline your son, for there is hope;
don't be a willing party to his death.
- 19 A hot-tempered man must pay the penalty, for if you rescue him, you must do it again.
- 20 Listen to counsel and receive instruction,
that you may be wise in your latter end.
- 21 There are many plans in a man's heart,
but the LORD's counsel will prevail.
- 22 That which makes a man to be desired is his kindness.
A poor man is better than a liar.
- 23 The fear of the LORD leads to life, then contentment;
he rests and will not be touched by trouble.
- 24 The sluggard buries his hand in the dish;
he will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.
- 25 Flog a scoffer, and the simple will learn prudence;
rebuke one who has understanding, and he will gain knowledge.
- 26 He who robs his father and drives away his mother is a son who causes shame and brings reproach.
- 27 If you stop listening to instruction, my son,
you will stray from the words of knowledge.
- 28 A corrupt witness mocks justice,
and the mouth of the wicked gulps down iniquity.
- 29 Penalties are prepared for scoffers, and beatings for the backs of fools.

20

- 1 Wine is a mocker and beer is a brawler.
Whoever is led astray by them is not wise.
- 2 The terror of a king is like the roaring of a lion.
He who provokes him to anger forfeits his own life.
- 3 It is an honor for a man to keep aloof from strife,
but every fool will be quarreling.
- 4 The sluggard will not plow by reason of the winter;
therefore he shall beg in harvest, and have nothing.
- 5 Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water,
but a man of understanding will draw it out.
- 6 Many men claim to be men of unfailing love,

- but who can find a faithful man?
- ⁷ A righteous man walks in integrity.
Blessed are his children after him.
- ⁸ A king who sits on the throne of judgment scatters away all evil with his eyes.
- ⁹ Who can say, "I have made my heart pure.
I am clean and without sin"?
- ¹⁰ Differing weights and differing measures,
both of them alike are an abomination to the LORD.
- ¹¹ Even a child makes himself known by his doings, whether his work is pure, and whether it is right.
- ¹² The hearing ear, and the seeing eye,
the LORD has made even both of them.
- ¹³ Don't love sleep, lest you come to poverty.
Open your eyes, and you shall be satisfied with bread.
- ¹⁴ "It's no good, it's no good," says the buyer;
but when he is gone his way, then he boasts.
- ¹⁵ There is gold and abundance of rubies,
but the lips of knowledge are a rare jewel.
- ¹⁶ Take the garment of one who puts up collateral for a stranger;
and hold him in pledge for a wayward woman.
- ¹⁷ Fraudulent food is sweet to a man,
but afterwards his mouth is filled with gravel.
- ¹⁸ Plans are established by advice;
by wise guidance you wage war!
- ¹⁹ He who goes about as a tale-bearer reveals secrets;
therefore don't keep company with him who opens wide his lips.
- ²⁰ Whoever curses his father or his mother,
his lamp shall be put out in blackness of darkness.
- ²¹ An inheritance quickly gained at the beginning won't be blessed in the end.
- ²² Don't say, "I will pay back evil."
Wait for the LORD, and he will save you.
- ²³ The LORD detests differing weights, and dishonest scales are not pleasing.
- ²⁴ A man's steps are from the LORD;
how then can man understand his way?
- ²⁵ It is a snare to a man to make a rash dedication,
then later to consider his vows.
- ²⁶ A wise king winnows out the wicked,
and drives the threshing wheel over them.
- ²⁷ The spirit of man is the LORD's lamp, searching all his innermost parts.
- ²⁸ Love and faithfulness keep the king safe.
His throne is sustained by love.
- ²⁹ The glory of young men is their strength.
The splendor of old men is their gray hair.
- ³⁰ Wounding blows cleanse away evil,
and beatings purge the innermost parts.

21

- 1 The king's heart is in the LORD's hand like the watercourses.
He turns it wherever he desires.
- 2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes,
but the LORD weighs the hearts.
- 3 To do righteousness and justice is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.
- 4 A high look and a proud heart,
the lamp of the wicked, is sin.
- 5 The plans of the diligent surely lead to profit;
and everyone who is hasty surely rushes to poverty.
- 6 Getting treasures by a lying tongue is a fleeting vapor for those who seek death.
- 7 The violence of the wicked will drive them away,
because they refuse to do what is right.
- 8 The way of the guilty is devious,
but the conduct of the innocent is upright.
- 9 It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop than to share a house with a contentious woman.
- 10 The soul of the wicked desires evil;
his neighbor finds no mercy in his eyes.
- 11 When the mocker is punished, the simple gains wisdom.
When the wise is instructed, he receives knowledge.
- 12 The Righteous One considers the house of the wicked, and brings the wicked to ruin.
- 13 Whoever stops his ears at the cry of the poor,
he will also cry out, but shall not be heard.
- 14 A gift in secret pacifies anger,
and a bribe in the cloak, strong wrath.
- 15 It is joy to the righteous to do justice;
but it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity.
- 16 The man who wanders out of the way of understanding shall rest in the assembly of the departed spirits.
- 17 He who loves pleasure will be a poor man.
He who loves wine and oil won't be rich.
- 18 The wicked is a ransom for the righteous,
the treacherous for the upright.
- 19 It is better to dwell in a desert land,
than with a contentious and fretful woman.
- 20 There is precious treasure and oil in the dwelling of the wise, but a foolish man swallows it up.
- 21 He who follows after righteousness and kindness finds life, righteousness, and honor.
- 22 A wise man scales the city of the mighty,
and brings down the strength of its confidence.
- 23 Whoever guards his mouth and his tongue keeps his soul from troubles.
- 24 The proud and arrogant man—"Scoffer" is his name—
he works in the arrogance of pride.
- 25 The desire of the sluggard kills him,

for his hands refuse to labor.

26 There are those who covet greedily all day long;
but the righteous give and don't withhold.

27 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination—
how much more, when he brings it with a wicked mind!

28 A false witness will perish.
A man who listens speaks to eternity.

29 A wicked man hardens his face;
but as for the upright, he establishes his ways.

30 There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the LORD.

31 The horse is prepared for the day of battle;
but victory is with the LORD.

22

1 A good name is more desirable than great riches, and loving favor is better than silver and gold.

2 The rich and the poor have this in common:
The LORD is the maker of them all.

3 A prudent man sees danger and hides himself;
but the simple pass on, and suffer for it.

4 The result of humility and the fear of the LORD is wealth, honor, and life.

5 Thorns and snares are in the path of the wicked;
whoever guards his soul stays far from them.

6 Train up a child in the way he should go,
and when he is old he will not depart from it.

7 The rich rule over the poor.
The borrower is servant to the lender.

8 He who sows wickedness reaps trouble, and the rod of his fury will be destroyed.

9 He who has a generous eye will be blessed,
for he shares his food with the poor.

10 Drive out the mocker, and strife will go out;
yes, quarrels and insults will stop.

11 He who loves purity of heart and speaks gracefully is the king's friend.

12 The LORD's eyes watch over knowledge,
but he frustrates the words of the unfaithful.

13 The sluggard says, "There is a lion outside!
I will be killed in the streets!"

14 The mouth of an adulteress is a deep pit.
He who is under the LORD's wrath will fall into it.

15 Folly is bound up in the heart of a child;
the rod of discipline drives it far from him.

16 Whoever oppresses the poor for his own increase and whoever gives to the rich,
both come to poverty.

17 Turn your ear, and listen to the words of the wise.

Apply your heart to my teaching.

¹⁸ For it is a pleasant thing if you keep them within you,
if all of them are ready on your lips.

¹⁹ I teach you today, even you,
so that your trust may be in the LORD.

²⁰ Haven't I written to you thirty excellent things of counsel and knowledge,

²¹ To teach you truth, reliable words,
to give sound answers to the ones who sent you?

²² Don't exploit the poor because he is poor;
and don't crush the needy in court;

²³ for the LORD will plead their case,
and plunder the life of those who plunder them.

²⁴ Don't befriend a hot-tempered man.

Don't associate with one who harbors anger,

²⁵ lest you learn his ways and ensnare your soul.

²⁶ Don't you be one of those who strike hands,
of those who are collateral for debts.

²⁷ If you don't have means to pay,
why should he take away your bed from under you?

²⁸ Don't move the ancient boundary stone which your fathers have set up.

²⁹ Do you see a man skilled in his work?
He will serve kings.
He won't serve obscure men.

consider diligently what is before you;

² put a knife to your throat
if you are a man given to appetite.

³ Don't be desirous of his dainties, since they are deceitful food.

⁴ Don't weary yourself to be rich.
In your wisdom, show restraint.

⁵ Why do you set your eyes on that which is not?
For it certainly sprouts wings like an eagle and flies in the sky.

⁶ Don't eat the food of him who has a stingy eye,
and don't crave his delicacies,

⁷ for as he thinks about the cost, so he is.

"Eat and drink!" he says to you,
but his heart is not with you.

⁸ You will vomit up the morsel which you have eaten and waste your pleasant words.

- ⁹ Don't speak in the ears of a fool,
for he will despise the wisdom of your words.
- ¹⁰ Don't move the ancient boundary stone.
Don't encroach on the fields of the fatherless,
- ¹¹ for their Defender is strong.
He will plead their case against you.
- ¹² Apply your heart to instruction, and your ears to the words of knowledge.
- ¹³ Don't withhold correction from a child.
If you punish him with the rod, he will not die.
- ¹⁴ Punish him with the rod, and save his soul from Sheol.*
- ¹⁵ My son, if your heart is wise,
then my heart will be glad, even mine.
- ¹⁶ Yes, my heart will rejoice
when your lips speak what is right.
- ¹⁷ Don't let your heart envy sinners,
but rather fear the LORD all day long.
- ¹⁸ Indeed surely there is a future hope,
and your hope will not be cut off.
- ¹⁹ Listen, my son, and be wise,
and keep your heart on the right path!
- ²⁰ Don't be among ones drinking too much wine,
or those who gorge themselves on meat;
- ²¹ for the drunkard and the glutton shall become poor;
and drowsiness clothes them in rags.
- ²² Listen to your father who gave you life,
and don't despise your mother when she is old.
- ²³ Buy the truth, and don't sell it.
Get wisdom, discipline, and understanding.
- ²⁴ The father of the righteous has great joy.
Whoever fathers a wise child delights in him.
- ²⁵ Let your father and your mother be glad!
Let her who bore you rejoice!
- ²⁶ My son, give me your heart;
and let your eyes keep in my ways.
- ²⁷ For a prostitute is a deep pit;
and a wayward wife is a narrow well.
- ²⁸ Yes, she lies in wait like a robber,
and increases the unfaithful among men.
- ²⁹ Who has woe?
Who has sorrow?
Who has strife?
Who has complaints?
Who has needless bruises?
Who has bloodshot eyes?

* 23:14 Sheol is the place of the dead.

- 30 Those who stay long at the wine;
those who go to seek out mixed wine.
- 31 Don't look at the wine when it is red,
when it sparkles in the cup,
when it goes down smoothly.
- 32 In the end, it bites like a snake,
and poisons like a viper.
- 33 Your eyes will see strange things,
and your mind will imagine confusing things.
- 34 Yes, you will be as he who lies down in the middle of the sea,
or as he who lies on top of the rigging:
- 35 "They hit me, and I was not hurt!
They beat me, and I don't feel it!
When will I wake up? I can do it again.
I will look for more."

24

- 1 Don't be envious of evil men,
neither desire to be with them;
- 2 for their hearts plot violence and their lips talk about mischief.
- 3 Through wisdom a house is built;
by understanding it is established;
- 4 by knowledge the rooms are filled with all rare and beautiful treasure.
- 5 A wise man has great power.
A knowledgeable man increases strength,
- 6 for by wise guidance you wage your war,
and victory is in many advisors.
- 7 Wisdom is too high for a fool.
He doesn't open his mouth in the gate.
- 8 One who plots to do evil will be called a schemer.
- 9 The schemes of folly are sin.
The mocker is detested by men.
- 10 If you falter in the time of trouble,
your strength is small.
- 11 Rescue those who are being led away to death!
Indeed, hold back those who are staggering to the slaughter!
- 12 If you say, "Behold, we didn't know this," doesn't he who weighs the hearts consider it?
He who keeps your soul, doesn't he know it?
Shall he not render to every man according to his work?
- 13 My son, eat honey, for it is good,
the droppings of the honeycomb, which are sweet to your taste;
- 14 so you shall know wisdom to be to your soul.
If you have found it, then there will be a reward:
Your hope will not be cut off.
- 15 Don't lay in wait, wicked man, against the habitation of the righteous.
Don't destroy his resting place;

- ¹⁶ for a righteous man falls seven times and rises up again,
but the wicked are overthrown by calamity.
¹⁷ Don't rejoice when your enemy falls.
Don't let your heart be glad when he is overthrown, ¹⁸ lest the LORD see it, and it displease him,
and he turn away his wrath from him.
¹⁹ Don't fret yourself because of evildoers, neither be envious of the wicked;
²⁰ for there will be no reward to the evil man.
The lamp of the wicked will be snuffed out.
²¹ My son, fear the LORD and the king.
Don't join those who are rebellious,
²² for their calamity will rise suddenly.
Who knows what destruction may come from them both?

²³ These also are sayings of the wise:

To show partiality in judgment is not good.

- ²⁴ He who says to the wicked, "You are righteous," peoples will curse him, and nations will abhor him—²⁵ but it will go well with those who convict the guilty, and a rich blessing will come on them.
²⁶ An honest answer
is like a kiss on the lips.
²⁷ Prepare your work outside,
and get your fields ready.
Afterwards, build your house.
²⁸ Don't be a witness against your neighbor without cause.
Don't deceive with your lips.
²⁹ Don't say, "I will do to him as he has done to me;
I will repay the man according to his work."
³⁰ I went by the field of the sluggard, by the vineyard of the man void of understanding.
³¹ Behold, it was all grown over with thorns.
Its surface was covered with nettles,
and its stone wall was broken down.
³² Then I saw, and considered well.
I saw, and received instruction:
³³ a little sleep, a little slumber,
a little folding of the hands to sleep,
³⁴ so your poverty will come as a robber and your want as an armed man.

¹ These also are proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out.

- ² It is the glory of God to conceal a thing, but the glory of kings is to search out a matter.
³ As the heavens for height, and the earth for depth,
so the hearts of kings are unsearchable.
⁴ Take away the dross from the silver,

- and material comes out for the refiner.
- ⁵ Take away the wicked from the king's presence, and his throne will be established in righteousness.
- ⁶ Don't exalt yourself in the presence of the king,
or claim a place among great men;
- ⁷ for it is better that it be said to you, "Come up here," than that you should be put lower in the presence of the prince, whom your eyes have seen.
- ⁸ Don't be hasty in bringing charges to court.
What will you do in the end when your neighbor shames you?
- ⁹ Debate your case with your neighbor,
and don't betray the confidence of another, ¹⁰ lest one who hears it put you to shame,
and your bad reputation never depart.
- ¹¹ A word fitly spoken
is like apples of gold in settings of silver.
- ¹² As an earring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold,
so is a wise reprover to an obedient ear.
- ¹³ As the cold of snow in the time of harvest,
so is a faithful messenger to those who send him;
for he refreshes the soul of his masters.
- ¹⁴ As clouds and wind without rain,
so is he who boasts of gifts deceptively.
- ¹⁵ By patience a ruler is persuaded.
A soft tongue breaks the bone.
- ¹⁶ Have you found honey?
Eat as much as is sufficient for you,
lest you eat too much, and vomit it.
- ¹⁷ Let your foot be seldom in your neighbor's house,
lest he be weary of you, and hate you.
- ¹⁸ A man who gives false testimony against his neighbor is like a club, a sword, or a sharp arrow.
- ¹⁹ Confidence in someone unfaithful in time of trouble is like a bad tooth or a lame foot.
- ²⁰ As one who takes away a garment in cold weather,
or vinegar on soda,
so is one who sings songs to a heavy heart.
- ²¹ If your enemy is hungry, give him food to eat.
If he is thirsty, give him water to drink;
- ²² for you will heap coals of fire on his head,
and the LORD will reward you.
- ²³ The north wind produces rain;
so a backbiting tongue brings an angry face.
- ²⁴ It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop
than to share a house with a contentious woman.
- ²⁵ Like cold water to a thirsty soul,
so is good news from a far country.
- ²⁶ Like a muddied spring and a polluted well, so is a righteous man who gives way before the wicked.
- ²⁷ It is not good to eat much honey,

nor is it honorable to seek one's own honor.

- ²⁸ Like a city that is broken down and without walls is a man whose spirit is without restraint.

26

- ¹ Like snow in summer, and as rain in harvest,
so honor is not fitting for a fool.
- ² Like a fluttering sparrow,
like a darting swallow,
so the undeserved curse doesn't come to rest.
- ³ A whip is for the horse,
a bridle for the donkey,
and a rod for the back of fools!
- ⁴ Don't answer a fool according to his folly,
lest you also be like him.
- ⁵ Answer a fool according to his folly,
lest he be wise in his own eyes.
- ⁶ One who sends a message by the hand of a fool is cutting off feet and drinking violence.
- ⁷ Like the legs of the lame that hang loose,
so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
- ⁸ As one who binds a stone in a sling,
so is he who gives honor to a fool.
- ⁹ Like a thorn bush that goes into the hand of a drunkard,
so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
- ¹⁰ As an archer who wounds all,
so is he who hires a fool or he who hires those who pass by.
- ¹¹ As a dog that returns to his vomit,
so is a fool who repeats his folly.
- ¹² Do you see a man wise in his own eyes?
There is more hope for a fool than for him.
- ¹³ The sluggard says, "There is a lion in the road!
A fierce lion roams the streets!"
- ¹⁴ As the door turns on its hinges,
so does the sluggard on his bed.
- ¹⁵ The sluggard buries his hand in the dish.
He is too lazy to bring it back to his mouth.
- ¹⁶ The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes than seven men who answer with discretion.
- ¹⁷ Like one who grabs a dog's ears is one who passes by and meddles in a quarrel not his own.
- ¹⁸ Like a madman who shoots torches, arrows, and death, ¹⁹ is the man who deceives his neighbor and says, "Am I not joking?"
- ²⁰ For lack of wood a fire goes out.
Without gossip, a quarrel dies down.
- ²¹ As coals are to hot embers,
and wood to fire,
so is a contentious man to kindling strife.
- ²² The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels,
they go down into the innermost parts.

- 23 Like silver dross on an earthen vessel are the lips of a fervent one with an evil heart.
- 24 A malicious man disguises himself with his lips,
but he harbors evil in his heart.
- 25 When his speech is charming, don't believe him,
for there are seven abominations in his heart.
- 26 His malice may be concealed by deception,
but his wickedness will be exposed in the assembly.
- 27 Whoever digs a pit shall fall into it.
Whoever rolls a stone, it will come back on him.
- 28 A lying tongue hates those it hurts;
and a flattering mouth works ruin.

27

- 1 Don't boast about tomorrow;
for you don't know what a day may bring.
- 2 Let another man praise you,
and not your own mouth;
a stranger, and not your own lips.
- 3 A stone is heavy,
and sand is a burden;
but a fool's provocation is heavier than both.
- 4 Wrath is cruel,
and anger is overwhelming;
but who is able to stand before jealousy?
- 5 Better is open rebuke
than hidden love.
- 6 The wounds of a friend are faithful,
although the kisses of an enemy are profuse.
- 7 A full soul loathes a honeycomb;
but to a hungry soul, every bitter thing is sweet.
- 8 As a bird that wanders from her nest,
so is a man who wanders from his home.
- 9 Perfume and incense bring joy to the heart;
so does earnest counsel from a man's friend.
- 10 Don't forsake your friend and your father's friend.
Don't go to your brother's house in the day of your disaster.
A neighbor who is near is better than a distant brother.
- 11 Be wise, my son,
and bring joy to my heart,
then I can answer my tormentor.
- 12 A prudent man sees danger and takes refuge;
but the simple pass on, and suffer for it.
- 13 Take his garment when he puts up collateral for a stranger.
Hold it for a wayward woman!
- 14 He who blesses his neighbor with a loud voice early in the morning,
it will be taken as a curse by him.
- 15 A continual dropping on a rainy day
and a contentious wife are alike:
16 restraining her is like restraining the wind,
or like grasping oil in his right hand.

- 17 Iron sharpens iron;
so a man sharpens his friend's countenance.
- 18 Whoever tends the fig tree shall eat its fruit.
He who looks after his master shall be honored.
- 19 Like water reflects a face,
so a man's heart reflects the man.
- 20 Sheol* and Abaddon are never satisfied;
and a man's eyes are never satisfied.
- 21 The crucible is for silver,
and the furnace for gold;
but man is refined by his praise.
- 22 Though you grind a fool in a mortar with a pestle along with grain, yet his foolishness will not be removed from him.
- 23 Know well the state of your flocks,
and pay attention to your herds,
- 24 for riches are not forever,
nor does the crown endure to all generations.
- 25 The hay is removed, and the new growth appears,
the grasses of the hills are gathered in.
- 26 The lambs are for your clothing,
and the goats are the price of a field.
- 27 There will be plenty of goats' milk for your food,
for your family's food,
and for the nourishment of your servant girls.

28

- 1 The wicked flee when no one pursues;
but the righteous are as bold as a lion.
- 2 In rebellion, a land has many rulers, but order is maintained by a man of understanding and knowledge.
- 3 A needy man who oppresses the poor is like a driving rain which leaves no crops.
- 4 Those who forsake the law praise the wicked;
but those who keep the law contend with them.
- 5 Evil men don't understand justice;
but those who seek the LORD understand it fully.
- 6 Better is the poor who walks in his integrity than he who is perverse in his ways, and he is rich.
- 7 Whoever keeps the law is a wise son;
but he who is a companion of gluttons shames his father.
- 8 He who increases his wealth by excessive interest gathers it for one who has pity on the poor.
- 9 He who turns away his ear from hearing the law,
even his prayer is an abomination.
- 10 Whoever causes the upright to go astray in an evil way,
he will fall into his own trap;
but the blameless will inherit good.
- 11 The rich man is wise in his own eyes;

* 27:20 Sheol is the place of the dead.

- but the poor who has understanding sees through him.
- 12 When the righteous triumph, there is great glory;
but when the wicked rise, men hide themselves.
- 13 He who conceals his sins doesn't prosper,
but whoever confesses and renounces them finds mercy.
- 14 Blessed is the man who always fears;
but one who hardens his heart falls into trouble.
- 15 As a roaring lion or a charging bear,
so is a wicked ruler over helpless people.
- 16 A tyrannical ruler lacks judgment.
One who hates ill-gotten gain will have long days.
- 17 A man who is tormented by blood guilt will be a fugitive until death.
No one will support him.
- 18 Whoever walks blamelessly is kept safe;
but one with perverse ways will fall suddenly.
- 19 One who works his land will have an abundance of food;
but one who chases fantasies will have his fill of poverty.
- 20 A faithful man is rich with blessings;
but one who is eager to be rich will not go unpunished.
- 21 To show partiality is not good,
yet a man will do wrong for a piece of bread.
- 22 A stingy man hurries after riches,
and doesn't know that poverty waits for him.
- 23 One who rebukes a man will afterward find more favor than one who flatters with the tongue.
- 24 Whoever robs his father or his mother and says, "It's not wrong," is a partner with a destroyer.
- 25 One who is greedy stirs up strife;
but one who trusts in the LORD will prosper.
- 26 One who trusts in himself is a fool;
but one who walks in wisdom is kept safe.
- 27 One who gives to the poor has no lack;
but one who closes his eyes will have many curses.
- 28 When the wicked rise, men hide themselves;
but when they perish, the righteous thrive.

29

- 1 He who is often rebuked and stiffens his neck
will be destroyed suddenly, with no remedy.
- 2 When the righteous thrive, the people rejoice;
but when the wicked rule, the people groan.
- 3 Whoever loves wisdom brings joy to his father;
but a companion of prostitutes squanders his wealth.
- 4 The king by justice makes the land stable,
but he who takes bribes tears it down.
- 5 A man who flatters his neighbor spreads a net for his feet.
- 6 An evil man is snared by his sin, but the righteous can sing and be glad.
- 7 The righteous care about justice for the poor.
The wicked aren't concerned about knowledge.

- ⁸ Mockers stir up a city,
but wise men turn away anger.
- ⁹ If a wise man goes to court with a foolish man,
the fool rages or scoffs, and there is no peace.
- ¹⁰ The bloodthirsty hate a man of integrity;
and they seek the life of the upright.
- ¹¹ A fool vents all of his anger,
but a wise man brings himself under control.
- ¹² If a ruler listens to lies,
all of his officials are wicked.
- ¹³ The poor man and the oppressor have this in common:
The LORD gives sight to the eyes of both.
- ¹⁴ The king who fairly judges the poor,
his throne shall be established forever.
- ¹⁵ The rod of correction gives wisdom,
but a child left to himself causes shame to his mother.
- ¹⁶ When the wicked increase, sin increases;
but the righteous will see their downfall.
- ¹⁷ Correct your son, and he will give you peace;
yes, he will bring delight to your soul.
- ¹⁸ Where there is no revelation, the people cast off restraint;
but one who keeps the law is blessed.
- ¹⁹ A servant can't be corrected by words.
Though he understands, yet he will not respond.
- ²⁰ Do you see a man who is hasty in his words?
There is more hope for a fool than for him.
- ²¹ He who pampers his servant from youth will have him become a son in the end.
- ²² An angry man stirs up strife,
and a wrathful man abounds in sin.
- ²³ A man's pride brings him low,
but one of lowly spirit gains honor.
- ²⁴ Whoever is an accomplice of a thief is an enemy of his own soul.
He takes an oath, but dares not testify.
- ²⁵ The fear of man proves to be a snare,
but whoever puts his trust in the LORD is kept safe.
- ²⁶ Many seek the ruler's favor,
but a man's justice comes from the LORD.
- ²⁷ A dishonest man detests the righteous, and the upright in their ways detest the wicked.

- ¹ The words of Agur the son of Jakeh, the revelation:
the man says to Ithiel,
to Ithiel and Ucal:
- ² "Surely I am the most ignorant man,
and don't have a man's understanding.
- ³ I have not learned wisdom,
neither do I have the knowledge of the Holy One.
- ⁴ Who has ascended up into heaven, and descended?
Who has gathered the wind in his fists?

Who has bound the waters in his garment?
Who has established all the ends of the earth?
What is his name, and what is his son's name, if you know?

- 5 "Every word of God is flawless.
He is a shield to those who take refuge in him.
- 6 Don't you add to his words,
lest he reprove you, and you be found a liar.
- 7 "Two things I have asked of you.
Don't deny me before I die.
- 8 Remove far from me falsehood and lies.
Give me neither poverty nor riches.
Feed me with the food that is needful for me,
- 9 lest I be full, deny you, and say, 'Who is the LORD?'
or lest I be poor, and steal,
and so dishonor the name of my God.
- 10 "Don't slander a servant to his master,
lest he curse you, and you be held guilty.
- 11 There is a generation that curses their father,
and doesn't bless their mother.
- 12 There is a generation that is pure in their own eyes, yet are not washed from their filthiness.
- 13 There is a generation, oh how lofty are their eyes!
Their eyelids are lifted up.
- 14 There is a generation whose teeth are like swords,
and their jaws like knives,
to devour the poor from the earth, and the needy from among men.
- 15 "The leech has two daughters:
'Give, give.'
- "There are three things that are never satisfied;
four that don't say, 'Enough!': 16 Sheol,*
the barren womb,
the earth that is not satisfied with water,
and the fire that doesn't say, 'Enough!'
- 17 "The eye that mocks at his father,
and scorns obedience to his mother,
the ravens of the valley shall pick it out,
the young eagles shall eat it.
- 18 "There are three things which are too amazing for me,
four which I don't understand:
19 The way of an eagle in the air,
the way of a serpent on a rock,

* 30:16 Sheol is the place of the dead.

the way of a ship in the middle of the sea,
and the way of a man with a maiden.

- ²⁰ “So is the way of an adulterous woman:
She eats and wipes her mouth,
and says, ‘I have done nothing wrong.’
- ²¹ “For three things the earth trembles, and under four, it can’t bear up:
²² For a servant when he is king,
a fool when he is filled with food, ²³ for an unloved woman when she is married,
and a servant who is heir to her mistress.
- ²⁴ “There are four things which are little on the earth,
but they are exceedingly wise:
²⁵ The ants are not a strong people,
yet they provide their food in the summer.
²⁶ The hyraxes are but a feeble folk,
yet make they their houses in the rocks.
²⁷ The locusts have no king,
yet they advance in ranks.
²⁸ You can catch a lizard with your hands,
yet it is in kings’ palaces.
- ²⁹ “There are three things which are stately in their march,
four which are stately in going:
³⁰ The lion, which is mightiest among animals, and doesn’t turn away for any;
³¹ the greyhound;
the male goat;
and the king against whom there is no rising up.
- ³² “If you have done foolishly in lifting up yourself, or if you have thought evil,
put your hand over your mouth.
³³ For as the churning of milk produces butter,
and the wringing of the nose produces blood, so the forcing of wrath produces strife.”

¹ The words of King Lemuel—the revelation which his mother taught him:

- ² “Oh, my son!
Oh, son of my womb!
Oh, son of my vows!
- ³ Don’t give your strength to women,
nor your ways to that which destroys kings.
- ⁴ It is not for kings, Lemuel,
it is not for kings to drink wine,
nor for princes to say, ‘Where is strong drink?’

- 5 lest they drink, and forget the law,
and pervert the justice due to anyone who is afflicted.
6 Give strong drink to him who is ready to perish,
and wine to the bitter in soul.
7 Let him drink, and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more.
8 Open your mouth for the mute,
in the cause of all who are left desolate.
9 Open your mouth, judge righteously, and serve justice to the poor and needy.”

- 10 * Who can find a worthy woman?
For her value is far above rubies.
11 The heart of her husband trusts in her.
He shall have no lack of gain.
12 She does him good, and not harm,
all the days of her life.
13 She seeks wool and flax,
and works eagerly with her hands.
14 She is like the merchant ships.
She brings her bread from afar.
15 She rises also while it is yet night, gives food to her household,
and portions for her servant girls.
16 She considers a field, and buys it.
With the fruit of her hands, she plants a vineyard.
17 She arms her waist with strength, and makes her arms strong.
18 She perceives that her merchandise is profitable.
Her lamp doesn't go out by night.
19 She lays her hands to the distaff, and her hands hold the spindle.
20 She opens her arms to the poor;
yes, she extends her hands to the needy.
21 She is not afraid of the snow for her household, for all her household are clothed with scarlet.
22 She makes for herself carpets of tapestry.
Her clothing is fine linen and purple.
23 Her husband is respected in the gates,
when he sits among the elders of the land.
24 She makes linen garments and sells them,
and delivers sashes to the merchant.
25 Strength and dignity are her clothing.
She laughs at the time to come.
26 She opens her mouth with wisdom.
Kind instruction is on her tongue.
27 She looks well to the ways of her household, and doesn't eat the bread of idleness.
28 Her children rise up and call her blessed.

* 31:10 Proverbs 31:10-31 form an acrostic, with each verse starting with each letter of the Hebrew alphabet, in order.

Her husband also praises her:

²⁹ “Many women do noble things,
but you excel them all.”

³⁰ Charm is deceitful, and beauty is vain;
but a woman who fears the LORD, she shall be praised.

³¹ Give her of the fruit of her hands!
Let her works praise her in the gates!

Ecclesiastes or, The Preacher

¹ The words of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem:

² “Vanity of vanities,” says the Preacher; “Vanity of vanities, all is vanity.”

³ What does man gain from all his labor in which he labors under the sun?

¹² I, the Preacher, was king over Israel in Jerusalem. ¹³ I applied my heart to seek and to search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under the sky. It is a heavy burden that God† has given to the sons of men to be afflicted with. ¹⁴ I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and behold, all is vanity and a chasing after wind. ¹⁵ That which is crooked can’t be made straight; and that which is lacking can’t be counted. ¹⁶ I said to myself, “Behold, I have obtained for myself great wisdom above all who were before me in Jerusalem. Yes, my heart has had great experience of wisdom and knowledge.” ¹⁷ I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly. I perceived that this also was a chasing after wind. ¹⁸ For in much wisdom is much grief; and he who increases knowledge increases sorrow.

¹ I said in my heart, “Come now, I will test you with mirth; therefore enjoy pleasure;” and behold, this also was vanity. ² I said of laughter, “It is foolishness;” and of mirth, “What does it accomplish?”

I got myself male and female singers, and the delights of the sons of men: musical instruments of all sorts. ⁹ So I was great, and increased more than all who were before me in Jerusalem. My wisdom also remained with me.

¹⁰ Whatever my eyes desired, I didn't keep from them. I didn't withhold my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced because of all my labor, and this was my portion from all my labor. ¹¹ Then I looked at all the works that my hands had worked, and at the labor that I had labored to do; and behold, all was vanity and a chasing after wind, and there was no profit under the sun.

¹² I turned myself to consider wisdom, madness, and folly; for what can the king's successor do? Just that which has been done long ago. ¹³ Then I saw that wisdom excels folly, as far as light excels darkness. ¹⁴ The wise man's eyes are in his head, and the fool walks in darkness—and yet I perceived that one event happens to them all. ¹⁵ Then I said in my heart, "As it happens to the fool, so will it happen even to me; and why was I then more wise?" Then I said in my heart that this also is vanity. ¹⁶ For of the wise man, even as of the fool, there is no memory forever, since in the days to come all will have been long forgotten. Indeed, the wise man must die just like the fool!

²⁰ Therefore I began to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labor in which I had labored under the sun. ²¹ For there is a man whose labor is with wisdom, with knowledge, and with skillfulness; yet he shall leave it for his portion to a man who has not labored for it. This also is vanity and a great evil. ²² For what does a man have of all his labor and of the striving of his heart, in which he labors under the sun? ²³ For all his days are sorrows, and his travail is grief; yes, even in the night his heart takes no rest. This also is vanity. ²⁴ There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and make his soul enjoy good in his labor. This also I saw, that it is from the hand of God. ²⁵ For who can eat, or who can have enjoyment, more than I? ²⁶ For to the man who pleases him, God gives wisdom, knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he gives travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him who pleases God. This also is vanity and a chasing after wind.

¹ For everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under heaven:

- ² a time to be born,
and a time to die;
a time to plant,
and a time to pluck up that which is planted;
- ³ a time to kill,
and a time to heal;
a time to break down,
and a time to build up;
- ⁴ a time to weep,
and a time to laugh;
a time to mourn,

and a time to dance;
5 a time to cast away stones,
and a time to gather stones together;
a time to embrace,
and a time to refrain from embracing;
6 a time to seek,
and a time to lose;
a time to keep,
and a time to cast away;
7 a time to tear,
and a time to sew;
a time to keep silence,
and a time to speak;
8 a time to love,
and a time to hate;
a time for war,
and a time for peace.

9 What profit has he who works in that in which he labors? 10 I have seen the burden which God has given to the sons of men to be afflicted with. 11 He has made everything beautiful in its time. He has also set eternity in their hearts, yet so that man can't find out the work that God has done from the beginning even to the end. 12 I know that there is nothing better for them than to rejoice, and to do good as long as they live. 13 Also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy good in all his labor, is the gift of God. 14 I know that whatever God does, it shall be forever. Nothing can be added to it, nor anything taken from it; and God has done it, that men should fear before him. 15 That which is has been long ago, and that which is to be has been long ago. God seeks again that which is passed away.

16 Moreover I saw under the sun, in the place of justice, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there. 17 I said in my heart, "God will judge the righteous and the wicked; for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work." 18 I said in my heart, "As for the sons of men, God tests them, so that they may see that they themselves are like animals. 19 For that which happens to the sons of men happens to animals. Even one thing happens to them. As the one dies, so the other dies. Yes, they have all one breath; and man has no advantage over the animals, for all is vanity. 20 All go to one place. All are from the dust, and all turn to dust again. 21 Who knows the spirit of man, whether it goes upward, and the spirit of the animal, whether it goes downward to the earth?"

22 Therefore I saw that there is nothing better than that a man should rejoice in his works, for that is his portion; for who can bring him to see what will be after him?

1 Then I returned and saw all the oppressions that are done under the sun: and behold, the tears of those who were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power; but they had no comforter. 2 Therefore I praised the dead who have been long dead more than the living who are yet alive. 3 Yes, better than them both is him who has not yet been, who has not seen the evil work that is done under the

sun. ⁴ Then I saw all the labor and achievement that is the envy of a man's neighbor. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

⁵ The fool folds his hands together and ruins himself. ⁶ Better is a handful, with quietness, than two handfuls with labor and chasing after wind.

⁷ Then I returned and saw vanity under the sun. ⁸ There is one who is alone, and he has neither son nor brother. There is no end to all of his labor; neither are his eyes satisfied with wealth. "For whom then do I labor and deprive my soul of enjoyment?" This also is vanity. Yes, it is a miserable business.

¹³ Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king who doesn't know how to receive admonition any more. ¹⁴ For out of prison he came out to be king; yes, even in his kingdom he was born poor. ¹⁵ I saw all the living who walk under the sun, that they were with the youth, the other, who succeeded him. ¹⁶ There was no end of all the people, even of all them over whom he was—yet those who come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a chasing after wind.

¹ Guard your steps when you go to God's house; for to draw near to listen is better than to give the sacrifice of fools, for they don't know that they do evil. ² Don't be rash with your mouth, and don't let your heart be hasty to utter anything before God; for God is in heaven, and you on earth. Therefore let your words be few. ³ For as a dream comes with a multitude of cares, so a fool's speech with a multitude of words. ⁴ When you vow a vow to God, don't defer to pay it; for he has no pleasure in fools. Pay that which you vow. ⁵ It is better that you should not vow, than that you should vow and not pay. ⁶ Don't allow your mouth to lead you into sin. Don't protest before the messenger that this was a mistake. Why should God be angry at your voice, and destroy the work of your hands? ⁷ For in the multitude of dreams there are vanities, as well as in many words; but you must fear God.

¹⁰ He who loves silver shall not be satisfied with silver, nor he who loves abundance, with increase. This also is vanity. ¹¹ When goods increase, those who eat them are increased; and what advantage is there to its owner, except to feast on them with his eyes?

¹² The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eats little or much; but the abundance of the rich will not allow him to sleep.

¹³ There is a grievous evil which I have seen under the sun: wealth kept by its owner to his harm. ¹⁴ Those riches perish by misfortune, and if he has fathered a son, there is nothing in his hand. ¹⁵ As he came out of his mother's womb, naked shall he go again as he came, and shall take nothing for his labor, which he may carry away in his hand. ¹⁶ This also is a grievous evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go. And what profit does he have who labors for the wind? ¹⁷ All his days he also eats in darkness, he is frustrated, and has sickness and wrath.

¹⁹ Every man also to whom God has given riches and wealth, and has given him power to eat of it, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labor—this is the gift of God. ²⁰ For he shall not often reflect on the days of his life, because God occupies him with the joy of his heart.

⁵ Moreover it has not seen the sun nor known it. This has rest rather than the other. ⁶ Yes, though he live a thousand years twice told, and yet fails to enjoy good, don't all go to one place? ⁷ All the labor of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled. ⁸ For what advantage has the wise more than the fool? What has the poor man, that knows how to walk before the living? ⁹ Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire. This also is vanity and a chasing after wind. ¹⁰ Whatever has been, its name was given long ago; and it is known what man is; neither can he contend with him who is mightier than he. ¹¹ For there are many words that create vanity. What does that profit man? ¹² For who knows what is good for man in life, all the days of his vain life which he spends like a shadow? For who can tell a man what will be after him under the sun?

¹ A good name is better than fine perfume; and the day of death better than the day of one's birth. ² It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting; for that is the end of all men, and the living should take this to heart. ³ Sorrow is better than laughter; for by the sadness of the face the heart is made good. ⁴ The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth. ⁵ It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise than for a man to hear the song of fools. ⁶ For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool. This also is vanity. ⁷ Surely extortion makes the wise man foolish; and a bribe destroys the understanding. ⁸ Better is the end of a thing than its beginning.

The patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit. ⁹ Don't be hasty in your spirit to be angry, for anger rests in the bosom of fools. ¹⁰ Don't say, "Why were the former days better than these?" For you do not ask wisely about this.

¹¹ Wisdom is as good as an inheritance. Yes, it is more excellent for those who see the sun. ¹² For wisdom is a defense, even as money is a defense; but the excellency of knowledge is that wisdom preserves the life of him who has it.

¹³ Consider the work of God, for who can make that straight which he has made crooked? ¹⁴ In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider; yes, God has made the one side by side with the other, to the end that man should not find out anything after him.

¹⁵ All this I have seen in my days of vanity: there is a righteous man who perishes in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man who lives long in his evildoing. ¹⁶ Don't be overly righteous, neither make yourself overly wise. Why should you destroy yourself? ¹⁷ Don't be too wicked, neither be foolish. Why should you die before your time? ¹⁸ It is good that you should take hold of this. Yes, also don't withdraw your hand from that; for he who fears God will come out of them all. ¹⁹ Wisdom is a strength to the wise man more than ten rulers who are in a city. ²⁰ Surely there is not a righteous man on earth who does good and doesn't sin. ²¹ Also don't take heed to all words that are spoken, lest you hear your servant curse you; ²² for often your own heart knows that you yourself have likewise cursed others. ²³ All this I have proved in wisdom. I said, "I will be wise;" but it was far from me. ²⁴ That which is, is far off and exceedingly deep. Who can find it out? ²⁵ I turned around, and my heart sought to know and to search out, and to seek wisdom and the scheme of things, and to know that wickedness is stupidity, and that foolishness is madness.

²⁷ "Behold, I have found this," says the Preacher, "to one another, to find an explanation ²⁸ which my soul still seeks, but I have not found. I have found one man among a thousand, but I have not found a woman among all those. ²⁹ Behold, I have only found this: that God made mankind upright; but they search for many inventions."

¹ Who is like the wise man? And who knows the interpretation of a thing? A man's wisdom makes his face shine, and the hardness of his face is changed.

⁹ All this I have seen, and applied my mind to every work that is done under the sun. There is a time in which one man has power over another to his hurt. ¹⁰ So I saw the wicked buried. Indeed they came also from holiness.

They went and were forgotten in the city where they did this. This also is vanity. ¹¹ Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil. ¹² Though a sinner commits crimes a hundred times, and lives long, yet surely I know that it will be better with those who fear God, who are reverent before him. ¹³ But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he lengthen days like a shadow, because he doesn't fear God.

¹⁴ There is a vanity which is done on the earth, that there are righteous men to whom it happens according to the work of the wicked. Again, there are wicked men to whom it happens according to the work of the righteous. I said that this also is vanity. ¹⁵ Then I commended mirth, because a man has no better thing under the sun than to eat, to drink, and to be joyful: for that will accompany him in his labor all the days of his life which God has given him under the sun.

¹⁶ When I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done on the earth (even though eyes see no sleep day or night), ¹⁷ then I saw all the work of God, that man can't find out the work that is done under the sun, because however much a man labors to seek it out, yet he won't find it. Yes even though a wise man thinks he can comprehend it, he won't be able to find it.

¹ For all this I laid to my heart, even to explore all this: that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God; whether it is love or hatred, man doesn't know it; all is before them. ² All things come alike to all. There is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good, to the clean, to the unclean, to him who sacrifices, and to him who doesn't sacrifice. As is the good, so is the sinner; he who takes an oath, as he who fears an oath. ³ This is an evil in all that is done under the sun, that there is one event to all. Yes also, the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead. ⁴ For to him who is joined with all the living there is hope; for a living dog is better than a dead lion. ⁵ For the living know that they will die, but the dead don't know anything, neither do they have any more a reward; for their memory is forgotten. ⁶ Also their love, their hatred, and their envy has perished long ago; neither do they any longer have a portion forever in anything that is done under the sun.

⁷ Go your way—eat your bread with joy, and drink your wine with a merry heart; for God has already accepted your works. ⁸ Let your garments be always white, and don't let your head lack oil. ⁹ Live joyfully with the wife whom you love all the days of your life of vanity, which he has given you under the sun, all your days of vanity, for that is your portion in life, and in your labor in which you labor under the sun. ¹⁰ Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with your might; for there is no work, nor plan, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in Sheol,* where you are going.

¹¹ I returned and saw under the sun that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favor to men of skill; but time and chance happen to them all. ¹² For man also doesn't know his time. As the fish that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, even so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falls suddenly on them.

¹³ I have also seen wisdom under the sun in this way, and it seemed great to me. ¹⁴ There was a little city, and few men within it; and a great king came against it, besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it. ¹⁵ Now a poor wise man was found in it, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man. ¹⁶ Then I said, "Wisdom is better than strength." Nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard. ¹⁷ The words of the wise heard in quiet are better than the cry of him who rules among fools. ¹⁸ Wisdom is better than weapons of war; but one sinner destroys much good.

¹ Dead flies cause the oil of the perfumer to produce an evil odor; so does a little folly outweigh wisdom and honor.

² A wise man's heart is at his right hand, but a fool's heart at his left. ³ Yes also when the fool walks by the way, his understanding fails him, and he says to everyone that he is a fool. ⁴ If the spirit of the ruler rises up against you, don't leave your place; for gentleness lays great offenses to rest.

Man doesn't know what will be; and that which will be after him, who can tell him? ¹⁵ The labor of fools wearies every one of them; for he doesn't know how to go to the city.

¹⁶ Woe to you, land, when your king is a child, and your princes eat in the morning!

¹⁷ Happy are you, land, when your king is the son of nobles, and your princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkenness!

¹⁸ By slothfulness the roof sinks in; and through idleness of the hands the house leaks.

¹⁹ A feast is made for laughter, and wine makes the life glad; and money is the answer for all things.

²⁰ Don't curse the king, no, not in your thoughts; and don't curse the rich in your bedroom, for a bird of the sky may carry your voice, and that which has wings may tell the matter.

- ¹ Cast your bread on the waters;
for you shall find it after many days.
- ² Give a portion to seven, yes, even to eight;
for you don't know what evil will be on the earth.
- ³ If the clouds are full of rain, they empty themselves on the earth;
and if a tree falls toward the south, or toward the north,
in the place where the tree falls, there shall it be.
- ⁴ He who observes the wind won't sow;
and he who regards the clouds won't reap.
- ⁵ As you don't know what is the way of the wind, nor how the bones grow in the womb of her who is with child;
even so you don't know the work of God who does all.
- ⁶ In the morning sow your seed,
and in the evening don't withhold your hand;
for you don't know which will prosper, whether this or that,
or whether they both will be equally good.
- ⁷ Truly the light is sweet, and it is a pleasant thing for the eyes to see the sun.
- ⁸ Yes, if a man lives many years, let him rejoice in them all;
but let him remember the days of darkness, for they shall be many.
All that comes is vanity.
- ⁹ Rejoice, young man, in your youth, and let your heart cheer you in the days of your youth,
and walk in the ways of your heart,
and in the sight of your eyes;
but know that for all these things God will bring you into judgment.
- ¹⁰ Therefore remove sorrow from your heart, and put away evil from your flesh;
for youth and the dawn of life are vanity.

12

- ¹ Remember also your Creator in the days of your youth, before the evil days come, and the years draw near,
when you will say, "I have no pleasure in them;"
- ² Before the sun, the light, the moon, and the stars are darkened, and the clouds return after the rain;
- ³ in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble,
and the strong men shall bow themselves,
and the grinders cease because they are few,
and those who look out of the windows are darkened,
- ⁴ and the doors shall be shut in the street;
when the sound of the grinding is low,
and one shall rise up at the voice of a bird,
and all the daughters of music shall be brought low;
- ⁵ yes, they shall be afraid of heights,
and terrors will be on the way;
and the almond tree shall blossom,
and the grasshopper shall be a burden,
and desire shall fail;

because man goes to his everlasting home,
and the mourners go about the streets;

- ⁶ before the silver cord is severed,
or the golden bowl is broken,
or the pitcher is broken at the spring,
or the wheel broken at the cistern, ⁷ and the dust returns to the earth as it was,
and the spirit returns to God who gave it.
⁸ "Vanity of vanities," says the Preacher.
"All is vanity!"

⁹ Further, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge. Yes, he pondered, sought out, and set in order many proverbs.

¹⁰ The Preacher sought to find out acceptable words, and that which was written blamelessly, words of truth. ¹¹ The words of the wise are like goads; and like nails well fastened are words from the masters of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd. ¹² Furthermore, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

¹³ This is the end of the matter. All has been heard. Fear God and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. ¹⁴ For God will bring every work into judgment, with every hidden thing, whether it is good, or whether it is evil.

The Song of Solomon

Beloved

² Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth;
for your love is better than wine.

³ Your oils have a pleasing fragrance.
Your name is oil poured out,
therefore the virgins love you.

⁴ Take me away with you.
Let's hurry.
The king has brought me into his rooms.

Friends

We will be glad and rejoice in you.
We will praise your love more than wine!

Beloved

They are right to love you.

⁵ I am dark, but lovely,
you daughters of Jerusalem,
like Kedar's tents,
like Solomon's curtains.

⁶ Don't stare at me because I am dark, because the sun has scorched me.
My mother's sons were angry with me.
They made me keeper of the vineyards.
I haven't kept my own vineyard.

⁷ Tell me, you whom my soul loves,
where you graze your flock,
where you rest them at noon;
for why should I be as one who is veiled beside the flocks of your companions?

Lover

⁸ If you don't know, most beautiful among women, follow the tracks of the sheep.
Graze your young goats beside the shepherds' tents.

⁹ I have compared you, my love, to a steed in Pharaoh's chariots.

¹⁰ Your cheeks are beautiful with earrings, your neck with strings of jewels.

Friends

¹¹ We will make you earrings of gold, with studs of silver.

Beloved

¹² While the king sat at his table, my perfume spread its fragrance.

¹³ My beloved is to me a sachet of myrrh, that lies between my breasts.

¹⁴ My beloved is to me a cluster of henna blossoms from the vineyards of En Gedi.

Lover

¹⁵ Behold,* you are beautiful, my love.
Behold, you are beautiful.
Your eyes are like doves.

Beloved

¹⁶ Behold, you are beautiful, my beloved, yes, pleasant;
and our couch is verdant.

Lover

¹⁷ The beams of our house are cedars.
Our rafters are firs.

2

Beloved

¹ I am a rose of Sharon, a lily of the valleys.

Lover

² As a lily among thorns,
so is my love among the daughters.

Beloved

³ As the apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons.

I sat down under his shadow with great delight,
his fruit was sweet to my taste.

⁴ He brought me to the banquet hall.
His banner over me is love.

⁵ Strengthen me with raisins, refresh me with apples;
for I am faint with love.

⁶ His left hand is under my head.
His right hand embraces me.

⁷ I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,
by the roes, or by the hinds of the field,
that you not stir up, nor awaken love,
until it so desires.

⁸ The voice of my beloved!
Behold, he comes,
leaping on the mountains,
skipping on the hills.

⁹ My beloved is like a roe or a young deer.
Behold, he stands behind our wall!

He looks in at the windows.
He glances through the lattice.

¹⁰ My beloved spoke, and said to me,
“Rise up, my love, my beautiful one, and come away.

¹¹ For behold, the winter is past.
The rain is over and gone.

¹² The flowers appear on the earth.
The time of the singing has come,

* 1:15 “Behold”, from “הִנֵּה”, means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

and the voice of the turtledove is heard in our land.

- ¹³ The fig tree ripens her green figs.
The vines are in blossom.
They give out their fragrance.

Arise, my love, my beautiful one,
and come away."

Lover

- ¹⁴ My dove in the clefts of the rock,
in the hiding places of the mountainside,
let me see your face.
Let me hear your voice;
for your voice is sweet and your face is lovely.

- ¹⁵ Catch for us the foxes,
the little foxes that plunder the vineyards;
for our vineyards are in blossom.

Beloved

- ¹⁶ My beloved is mine, and I am his.
He browses among the lilies.
- ¹⁷ Until the day is cool, and the shadows flee away, turn, my beloved,
and be like a roe or a young deer on the mountains of Bether.

3

- ¹ By night on my bed,
I sought him whom my soul loves.
I sought him, but I didn't find him.
- ² I will get up now, and go about the city;
in the streets and in the squares I will seek him whom my soul loves.
I sought him, but I didn't find him.
- ³ The watchmen who go about the city found me;
"Have you seen him whom my soul loves?"
- ⁴ I had scarcely passed from them,
when I found him whom my soul loves.
I held him, and would not let him go,
until I had brought him into my mother's house,
into the room of her who conceived me.
- ⁵ I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,
by the roes, or by the hinds of the field,
that you not stir up nor awaken love,
until it so desires.
- ⁶ Who is this who comes up from the wilderness like pillars of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
with all spices of the merchant?
- ⁷ Behold, it is Solomon's carriage!
Sixty mighty men are around it,
of the mighty men of Israel.
- ⁸ They all handle the sword, and are expert in war.
Every man has his sword on his thigh,
because of fear in the night.

- ⁹ King Solomon made himself a carriage of the wood of Lebanon.
¹⁰ He made its pillars of silver, its bottom of gold, its seat of purple,
the middle of it being paved with love,
from the daughters of Jerusalem.
¹¹ Go out, you daughters of Zion, and see King Solomon, with the crown with which his mother has crowned him,
in the day of his weddings,
in the day of the gladness of his heart.

4

Lover

- ¹ Behold, you are beautiful, my love.
Behold, you are beautiful.
Your eyes are like doves behind your veil.
Your hair is as a flock of goats,
that descend from Mount Gilead.
² Your teeth are like a newly shorn flock,
which have come up from the washing,
where every one of them has twins.
None is bereaved among them.
³ Your lips are like scarlet thread.
Your mouth is lovely.
Your temples are like a piece of a pomegranate behind your veil.
⁴ Your neck is like David's tower built for an armory, on which a thousand shields hang,
all the shields of the mighty men.
⁵ Your two breasts are like two fawns
that are twins of a roe,
which feed among the lilies.
⁶ Until the day is cool, and the shadows flee away,
I will go to the mountain of myrrh,
to the hill of frankincense.
⁷ You are all beautiful, my love.
There is no spot in you.
⁸ Come with me from Lebanon, my bride, with me from Lebanon.
Look from the top of Amana,
from the top of Senir and Hermon,
from the lions' dens,
from the mountains of the leopards.
⁹ You have ravished my heart, my sister, my bride.
You have ravished my heart with one of your eyes,
with one chain of your neck.
¹⁰ How beautiful is your love, my sister, my bride!
How much better is your love than wine,
the fragrance of your perfumes than all kinds of spices!

- ¹¹ Your lips, my bride, drip like the honeycomb.
Honey and milk are under your tongue.
The smell of your garments is like the smell of Lebanon.
- ¹² My sister, my bride, is a locked up garden;
a locked up spring,
a sealed fountain.
- ¹³ Your shoots are an orchard of pomegranates, with precious fruits, henna with spikenard plants, ¹⁴ spikenard and saffron,
calamus and cinnamon, with every kind of incense tree;
myrrh and aloes, with all the best spices, ¹⁵ a fountain of gardens,
a well of living waters,
flowing streams from Lebanon.

Beloved

- ¹⁶ Awake, north wind, and come, you south!
Blow on my garden, that its spices may flow out.
Let my beloved come into his garden,
and taste his precious fruits.

5*Lover*

- ¹ I have come into my garden, my sister, my bride.
I have gathered my myrrh with my spice;
I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey;
I have drunk my wine with my milk.

Friends

Eat, friends!

Drink, yes, drink abundantly, beloved.

Beloved

- ² I was asleep, but my heart was awake.
It is the voice of my beloved who knocks:
“Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled;
for my head is filled with dew,
and my hair with the dampness of the night.”
- ³ I have taken off my robe. Indeed, must I put it on?
I have washed my feet. Indeed, must I soil them?
- ⁴ My beloved thrust his hand in through the latch opening.
My heart pounded for him.
- ⁵ I rose up to open for my beloved.
My hands dripped with myrrh,
my fingers with liquid myrrh,
on the handles of the lock.
- ⁶ I opened to my beloved;
but my beloved left, and had gone away.
My heart went out when he spoke.
I looked for him, but I didn't find him.
I called him, but he didn't answer.
- ⁷ The watchmen who go about the city found me.
They beat me.
They bruised me.

The keepers of the walls took my cloak away from me.

- ⁸ I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,
If you find my beloved,
that you tell him that I am faint with love.

Friends

- ⁹ How is your beloved better than another beloved,
you fairest among women?
How is your beloved better than another beloved,
that you do so adjure us?

Beloved

- ¹⁰ My beloved is white and ruddy.
The best among ten thousand.
¹¹ His head is like the purest gold.
His hair is bushy, black as a raven.
¹² His eyes are like doves beside the water brooks, washed with milk, mounted like jewels.
¹³ His cheeks are like a bed of spices with towers of perfumes.
His lips are like lilies, dropping liquid myrrh.
¹⁴ His hands are like rings of gold set with beryl.
His body is like ivory work overlaid with sapphires.
¹⁵ His legs are like pillars of marble set on sockets of fine gold.
His appearance is like Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.
¹⁶ His mouth is sweetness;
yes, he is altogether lovely.
This is my beloved, and this is my friend, daughters of Jerusalem.

6

Friends

- ¹ Where has your beloved gone, you fairest among women?
Where has your beloved turned, that we may seek him with you?

Beloved

- ² My beloved has gone down to his garden,
to the beds of spices,
to pasture his flock in the gardens, and to gather lilies.
³ I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine.
He browses among the lilies.

Lover

- ⁴ You are beautiful, my love, as Tirzah, lovely as Jerusalem,
awesome as an army with banners.
⁵ Turn away your eyes from me,
for they have overcome me.
Your hair is like a flock of goats,
that lie along the side of Gilead.
⁶ Your teeth are like a flock of ewes,
which have come up from the washing,
of which every one has twins;
not one is bereaved among them.
⁷ Your temples are like a piece of a pomegranate behind your veil.

⁸ There are sixty queens, eighty concubines, and virgins without number.
⁹ My dove, my perfect one, is unique.
She is her mother's only daughter.
She is the favorite one of her who bore her.
The daughters saw her, and called her blessed.
The queens and the concubines saw her, and they praised her.

¹⁰ Who is she who looks out as the morning, beautiful as the moon,
clear as the sun,
and awesome as an army with banners?

¹¹ I went down into the nut tree grove, to see the green plants of the valley,
to see whether the vine budded,
and the pomegranates were in flower.

¹² Without realizing it,
my desire set me with my royal people's chariots.

Friends

¹³ Return, return, Shulammite!
Return, return, that we may gaze at you.

Lover

Why do you desire to gaze at the Shulammite, as at the dance of Mahanaim?

¹ How beautiful are your feet in sandals, prince's daughter!
Your rounded thighs are like jewels,
the work of the hands of a skillful workman.

² Your body is like a round goblet, no mixed wine is wanting.

Your waist is like a heap of wheat, set about with lilies.

³ Your two breasts are like two fawns,
that are twins of a roe.

⁴ Your neck is like an ivory tower.

Your eyes are like the pools in Heshbon by the gate of Bathrabbim.

Your nose is like the tower of Lebanon which looks toward Damascus.

⁵ Your head on you is like Carmel.

The hair of your head like purple.

The king is held captive in its tresses.

⁶ How beautiful and how pleasant you are,
love, for delights!

⁷ This, your stature, is like a palm tree,
your breasts like its fruit.

⁸ I said, "I will climb up into the palm tree.
I will take hold of its fruit."

Let your breasts be like clusters of the vine,
the smell of your breath like apples.

⁹ Your mouth is like the best wine, that goes down smoothly for my beloved,

gliding through the lips of those who are asleep.

Beloved

¹⁰ I am my beloved's.

His desire is toward me.

¹¹ Come, my beloved! Let's go out into the field.

Let's lodge in the villages.

¹² Let's go early up to the vineyards.

Let's see whether the vine has budded,

its blossom is open,

and the pomegranates are in flower.

There I will give you my love.

¹³ The mandrakes produce fragrance.

At our doors are all kinds of precious fruits, new and old,
which I have stored up for you, my beloved.

8

¹ Oh that you were like my brother, who nursed from the breasts of my mother!

If I found you outside, I would kiss you;

yes, and no one would despise me.

² I would lead you, bringing you into the house of my mother, who would instruct me.

I would have you drink spiced wine, of the juice of my pomegranate.

³ His left hand would be under my head.

His right hand would embrace me.

⁴ I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,

that you not stir up, nor awaken love,

until it so desires.

Friends

⁵ Who is this who comes up from the wilderness, leaning on her beloved?

Beloved

Under the apple tree I awakened you.

There your mother conceived you.

There she was in labor and bore you.

⁶ Set me as a seal on your heart,

as a seal on your arm;

for love is strong as death.

Jealousy is as cruel as Sheol.*

Its flashes are flashes of fire,

a very flame of the LORD.†

⁷ Many waters can't quench love, neither can floods drown it.

If a man would give all the wealth of his house for love,

he would be utterly scorned.

Brothers

⁸ We have a little sister.

* 8:6 Sheol is the place of the dead. † 8:6 Hebrew: יְיָ Yah

She has no breasts.
What shall we do for our sister in the day when she is to be spoken for?

⁹ If she is a wall,
we will build on her a turret of silver.
If she is a door,
we will enclose her with boards of cedar.

Beloved

¹⁰ I am a wall, and my breasts like towers, then I was in his eyes like one who found peace.

¹¹ Solomon had a vineyard at Baal Hamon.
He leased out the vineyard to keepers.
Each was to bring a thousand shekels[‡] of silver for its fruit.

¹² My own vineyard is before me.
The thousand are for you, Solomon,
two hundred for those who tend its fruit.

Lover

¹³ You who dwell in the gardens, with friends in attendance, let me hear your voice!

Beloved

¹⁴ Come away, my beloved!
Be like a gazelle or a young stag on the mountains of spices!

[‡] 8:11 A shekel is about 10 grams or about 0.35 ounces, so 1000 shekels is about 10 kilograms or about 22 pounds.

The Book of the Prophet Isaiah

¹ The vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

² Hear, heavens,

and listen, earth; for the LORD* has spoken:

“I have nourished and brought up children and they have rebelled against me.

³ The ox knows his owner, and the donkey his master’s crib;
but Israel doesn’t know.
My people don’t consider.”

⁴ Ah sinful nation,
a people loaded with iniquity,
offspring† of evildoers, children who deal corruptly!

They have forsaken the LORD.

They have despised the Holy One of Israel.
They are estranged and backward.

⁵ Why should you be beaten more,
that you revolt more and more?

The whole head is sick,
and the whole heart faint.

⁶ From the sole of the foot even to the head there is no soundness in it, but wounds, welts, and open sores.
They haven’t been closed, bandaged, or soothed with oil.

⁷ Your country is desolate.

Your cities are burned with fire.
Strangers devour your land in your presence and it is desolate,
as overthrown by strangers.

⁸ The daughter of Zion is left like a shelter in a vineyard, like a hut in a field of melons,
like a besieged city.

⁹ Unless the LORD of Armies had left to us a very small remnant,
we would have been as Sodom.
We would have been like Gomorrah.

¹⁰ Hear the LORD’s word, you rulers of Sodom!

Listen to the law of our God,‡ you people of Gomorrah!

¹¹ “What are the multitude of your sacrifices to me?”, says the LORD.

“I have had enough of the burnt offerings of rams and the fat of fed animals.

I don’t delight in the blood of bulls,

* 1:2 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, “LORD” or “GOD” is the translation of God’s Proper Name (Hebrew “יהוה”, usually pronounced Yahweh). † 1:4 or, seed ‡ 1:10 The Hebrew word rendered “God” is “אֱלֹהִים” (Elohim).

or of lambs,
or of male goats.

12 When you come to appear before me, who has required this at your hand, to trample my courts?

13 Bring no more vain offerings.
Incense is an abomination to me.
New moons, Sabbaths, and convocations—
I can't stand evil assemblies.

14 My soul hates your New Moons and your appointed feasts.
They are a burden to me.
I am weary of bearing them.

15 When you spread out your hands, I will hide my eyes from you.
Yes, when you make many prayers, I will not hear.
Your hands are full of blood.

16 Wash yourselves. Make yourself clean.
Put away the evil of your doings from before my eyes.
Cease to do evil.

17 Learn to do well.
Seek justice.
Relieve the oppressed.

Defend the fatherless.
Plead for the widow.”

18 “Come now, and let's reason together,” says the LORD:
“Though your sins are as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow.
Though they are red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

19 If you are willing and obedient,
you will eat the good of the land;
20 but if you refuse and rebel, you will be devoured with the sword;
for the LORD's mouth has spoken it.”

21 How the faithful city has become a prostitute!
She was full of justice.

Righteousness lodged in her,
but now there are murderers.

22 Your silver has become dross,
your wine mixed with water.

23 Your princes are rebellious and companions of thieves.
Everyone loves bribes and follows after rewards.
They don't defend the fatherless,
neither does the cause of the widow come to them.

24 Therefore the Lord, § GOD of Armies,
the Mighty One of Israel, says:
“Ah, I will get relief from my adversaries, and avenge myself on my enemies.

25 I will turn my hand on you, thoroughly purge away your dross,
and will take away all your tin.*

§ 1:24 The word translated “Lord” is “Adonai.” * 1:25 tin is a metal that is separated from silver during the refining and purification process.

²⁶ I will restore your judges as at the first,
and your counselors as at the beginning.
Afterward you shall be called 'The city of righteousness, a faithful town.'
²⁷ Zion shall be redeemed with justice, and her converts with righteousness.
²⁸ But the destruction of transgressors and sinners shall be together, and those who forsake the LORD shall be consumed.
²⁹ For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which you have desired, and you shall be confounded for the gardens that you have chosen.
³⁰ For you shall be as an oak whose leaf fades, and as a garden that has no water.
³¹ The strong will be like tinder,
and his work like a spark.
They will both burn together,
and no one will quench them."

¹ This is what Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.
² It shall happen in the latter days, that the mountain of the LORD's house shall be established on the top of the mountains, and shall be raised above the hills;
and all nations shall flow to it.
³ Many peoples shall go and say,
"Come, let's go up to the mountain of the LORD,
to the house of the God of Jacob;
and he will teach us of his ways,
and we will walk in his paths."
For the law shall go out of Zion,
and the LORD's word from Jerusalem.
⁴ He will judge between the nations,
and will decide concerning many peoples.
They shall beat their swords into plowshares,
and their spears into pruning hooks.
Nation shall not lift up sword against nation,
neither shall they learn war any more.
⁵ House of Jacob, come, and let's walk in the light of the LORD.
⁶ For you have forsaken your people, the house of Jacob, because they are filled from the east,
with those who practice divination like the Philistines,
and they clasp hands with the children of foreigners.
⁷ Their land is full of silver and gold,
neither is there any end of their treasures.
Their land also is full of horses,
neither is there any end of their chariots.
⁸ Their land also is full of idols.
They worship the work of their own hands,
that which their own fingers have made.
⁹ Man is brought low,
and mankind is humbled;

therefore don't forgive them.

- ¹⁰ Enter into the rock,
and hide in the dust,
from before the terror of the LORD,
and from the glory of his majesty.
- ¹¹ The lofty looks of man will be brought low,
the arrogance of men will be bowed down,
and the LORD alone will be exalted in that day.
- ¹² For there will be a day of the LORD of Armies for all that is proud and arrogant, and for all that is lifted up,
and it shall be brought low—¹³ for all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, for all the oaks of Bashan, ¹⁴ for all the high mountains,
for all the hills that are lifted up, ¹⁵ for every lofty tower,
for every fortified wall, ¹⁶ for all the ships of Tarshish, and for all pleasant imagery.
- ¹⁷ The loftiness of man shall be bowed down,
and the arrogance of men shall be brought low;
and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.
- ¹⁸ The idols shall utterly pass away.
- ¹⁹ Men shall go into the caves of the rocks,
and into the holes of the earth,
from before the terror of the LORD,
and from the glory of his majesty,
when he arises to shake the earth mightily.
- ²⁰ In that day, men shall cast away their idols of silver and their idols of gold, which have been made for themselves to worship,
to the moles and to the bats,
²¹ to go into the caverns of the rocks,
and into the clefts of the ragged rocks,
from before the terror of the LORD,
and from the glory of his majesty,
when he arises to shake the earth mightily.
- ²² Stop trusting in man, whose breath is in his nostrils;
for of what account is he?

3

- ¹ For, behold,* the Lord, GOD† of Armies, takes away from Jerusalem and from Judah supply and support,
the whole supply of bread,
and the whole supply of water;
² the mighty man,

* 3:1 "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection. † 3:1 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh).

the man of war,
the judge,
the prophet,
the diviner,
the elder,
³ the captain of fifty,
the honorable man,
the counselor,
the skilled craftsman,
and the clever enchanter.

⁴ I will give boys to be their princes, and children shall rule over them.

⁵ The people will be oppressed, everyone by another,
and everyone by his neighbor.

The child will behave himself proudly against the old man, and the wicked against the honorable.

⁶ Indeed a man shall take hold of his brother in the house of his father, saying,
“You have clothing, you be our ruler;
and let this ruin be under your hand.”

⁷ In that day he will cry out, saying, “I will not be a healer;
for in my house is neither bread nor clothing.
You shall not make me ruler of the people.”

⁸ For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen;
because their tongue and their doings are against the LORD,[‡] to provoke the eyes of his glory.

⁹ The look of their faces testify against them.
They parade their sin like Sodom.
They don't hide it.
Woe to their soul!
For they have brought disaster upon themselves.

¹⁰ Tell the righteous that it will be well with them, for they will eat the fruit of their deeds.

¹¹ Woe to the wicked!
Disaster is upon them,
for the deeds of their hands will be paid back to them.

¹² As for my people, children are their oppressors,
and women rule over them.
My people, those who lead you cause you to err,
and destroy the way of your paths.

¹³ The LORD stands up to contend, and stands to judge the peoples.

¹⁴ The LORD will enter into judgment with the elders of his people and their leaders:

“It is you who have eaten up the vineyard.
The plunder of the poor is in your houses.

¹⁵ What do you mean that you crush my people,

[‡] 3:8 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, “LORD” or “GOD” is the translation of God’s Proper Name (Hebrew “יהוה”, usually pronounced Yahweh).

and grind the face of the poor?” says the Lord, GOD^S of Armies.

- ¹⁶ Moreover the LORD said, “Because the daughters of Zion are arrogant, and walk with outstretched necks and flirting eyes, walking daintily as they go, jingling ornaments on their feet;
¹⁷ therefore the Lord brings sores on the crown of the head of the women of Zion, and the LORD will make their scalps bald.”
¹⁸ In that day the Lord will take away the beauty of their anklets, the headbands, the crescent necklaces, ¹⁹ the earrings, the bracelets, the veils, ²⁰ the headdresses, the ankle chains, the sashes, the perfume containers, the charms, ²¹ the signet rings, the nose rings, ²² the fine robes, the capes, the cloaks, the purses, ²³ the hand mirrors, the fine linen garments, the tiaras, and the shawls.
²⁴ It shall happen that instead of sweet spices, there shall be rotteness; instead of a belt, a rope; instead of well set hair, baldness; instead of a robe, a wearing of sackcloth; and branding instead of beauty.
²⁵ Your men shall fall by the sword, and your mighty in the war.
²⁶ Her gates shall lament and mourn. She shall be desolate and sit on the ground.

- ¹ Seven women shall take hold of one man in that day, saying, “We will eat our own bread, and wear our own clothing. Just let us be called by your name. Take away our reproach.”
² In that day, the LORD’s branch will be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land will be the beauty and glory of the survivors of Israel. ³ It will happen that he who is left in Zion and he who remains in Jerusalem shall be called holy, even everyone who is written among the living in Jerusalem, ⁴ when the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from within it, by the spirit of justice and by the spirit of burning. ⁵ The LORD will create over the whole habitation of Mount Zion and over her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night, for over all the glory will be a canopy. ⁶ There will be a pavilion for a shade in the daytime from the heat, and for a refuge and for a shelter from storm and from rain.

- ¹ Let me sing for my well beloved a song of my beloved about his vineyard. My beloved had a vineyard on a very fruitful hill.
² He dug it up, gathered out its stones, planted it with the choicest vine, built a tower in the middle of it,

^S 3:15 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, “LORD” or “GOD” is the translation of God’s Proper Name (Hebrew “יהוה”, usually pronounced Yahweh).

and also cut out a wine press in it.
He looked for it to yield grapes,
but it yielded wild grapes.

3 “Now, inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, please judge between me and my vineyard.

4 What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it?

Why, when I looked for it to yield grapes, did it yield wild grapes?

5 Now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard.

I will take away its hedge, and it will be eaten up.

I will break down its wall, and it will be trampled down.

6 I will lay it a wasteland.

It won't be pruned or hoed,
but it will grow briars and thorns.

I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain on it.”

7 For the vineyard of the LORD of Armies is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant.

He looked for justice, but behold, oppression,
for righteousness, but behold, a cry of distress.

8 Woe to those who join house to house, who lay field to field, until there is no room,
and you are made to dwell alone in the middle of the land!

9 In my ears, the LORD of Armies says: “Surely many houses will be desolate, even great and beautiful, unoccupied.

10 For ten acres* of vineyard shall yield one bath,† and a homer‡ of seed shall yield an ephah.”§

11 Woe to those who rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink,
who stay late into the night, until wine inflames them!

12 The harp, lyre, tambourine, and flute, with wine, are at their feasts;
but they don't respect the work of the LORD,
neither have they considered the operation of his hands.

13 Therefore my people go into captivity for lack of knowledge.
Their honorable men are famished,
and their multitudes are parched with thirst.

14 Therefore Sheol* has enlarged its desire, and opened its mouth without measure;
and their glory, their multitude, their pomp, and he who rejoices among them, descend into it.

15 So man is brought low,
mankind is humbled,
and the eyes of the arrogant ones are humbled;

16 but the LORD of Armies is exalted in justice,

* 5:10 literally, ten yokes, or the amount of land that ten yokes of oxen can plow in one day, which is about 10 acres or 4 hectares. † 5:10 1 bath is about 22 liters or 5.8 U.S. gallons ‡ 5:10 1 homer is about 220 liters or 6 bushels § 5:10 1 ephah is about 22 liters or 0.6 bushels or about 2 pecks—only one tenth of what was sown. * 5:14 Sheol is the place of the dead.

and God the Holy One is sanctified in righteousness.

- 17 Then the lambs will graze as in their pasture, and strangers will eat the ruins of the rich.
- 18 Woe to those who draw iniquity with cords of falsehood, and wickedness as with cart rope, 19 who say, "Let him make haste, let him hasten his work, that we may see it;
let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw near and come,
that we may know it!"
- 20 Woe to those who call evil good, and good evil;
who put darkness for light,
and light for darkness;
who put bitter for sweet,
and sweet for bitter!
- 21 Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes,
and prudent in their own sight!
- 22 Woe to those who are mighty to drink wine,
and champions at mixing strong drink;
23 who acquit the guilty for a bribe,
but deny justice for the innocent!
- 24 Therefore as the tongue of fire devours the stubble,
and as the dry grass sinks down in the flame,
so their root shall be as rottenness,
and their blossom shall go up as dust,
because they have rejected the law of the LORD of Armies, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.
- 25 Therefore the LORD's anger burns against his people, and he has stretched out his hand against them and has struck them.
The mountains tremble,
and their dead bodies are as refuse in the middle of the streets.
For all this, his anger is not turned away,
but his hand is still stretched out.
- 26 He will lift up a banner to the nations from far away,
and he will whistle for them from the end of the earth.
Behold, they will come speedily and swiftly.
- 27 No one shall be weary nor stumble among them;
no one shall slumber nor sleep,
neither shall the belt of their waist be untied,
nor the strap of their sandals be broken,
- 28 whose arrows are sharp,
and all their bows bent.
Their horses' hoofs will be like flint,
and their wheels like a whirlwind.
- 29 Their roaring will be like a lioness.
They will roar like young lions.
Yes, they shall roar,
and seize their prey and carry it off,
and there will be no one to deliver.
- 30 They will roar against them in that day like the roaring of the sea.
If one looks to the land, behold, darkness and distress.

The light is darkened in its clouds.

¹In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting on a throne, high and lifted up; and his train filled the temple. ²Above him stood the seraphim. Each one had six wings. With two he covered his face. With two he covered his feet. With two he flew. ³One called to another, and said, "Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of Armies!

The whole earth is full of his glory!"

⁴The foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him who called, and the house was filled with smoke. ⁵Then I said, "Woe is me! For I am undone, because I am a man of unclean lips and I live among a people of unclean lips, for my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of Armies!"

⁶Then one of the seraphim flew to me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar. ⁷He touched my mouth with it, and said, "Behold, this has touched your lips; and your iniquity is taken away, and your sin forgiven."

⁸I heard the Lord's voice, saying, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?"

Then I said, "Here I am. Send me!"

⁹He said, "Go, and tell this people, 'You hear indeed, but don't understand. You see indeed, but don't perceive.'

¹⁰Make the heart of this people fat. Make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, hear with their ears, understand with their heart, and turn again, and be healed."

¹¹Then I said, "Lord, how long?"

He answered, "Until cities are waste without inhabitant, houses without man, the land becomes utterly waste, ¹²and the LORD has removed men far away, and the forsaken places are many within the land.

¹³If there is a tenth left in it, that also will in turn be consumed, as a terebinth, and as an oak whose stump remains when they are cut down, so the holy seed is its stump."

¹In the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, Rezin the king of Syria and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to war against it, but could not prevail against it. ²David's house was told, "Syria is allied with Ephraim." His heart trembled, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest tremble with the wind.

³Then the LORD said to Isaiah, "Go out now to meet Ahaz, you, and Shearjashub your son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, on the highway of the fuller's field. ⁴Tell him, 'Be careful, and keep calm. Don't be afraid, neither let your heart be faint because of these two tails of smoking torches, for the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria, and of the son of Remaliah.⁵ Because Syria, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah, have plotted evil against you, saying, ⁶“Let’s go up against Judah, and tear it apart, and let’s divide it among ourselves, and set up a king within it, even the son of Tabeel.” ⁷This is what the Lord GOD says: “It shall not stand, neither shall it happen.” ⁸For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin. Within sixty-five years Ephraim shall be broken in pieces, so that it shall not be a people. ⁹The head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah’s son. If you will not believe, surely you shall not be established.’”

¹⁰The LORD spoke again to Ahaz, saying, ¹¹“Ask a sign of the LORD your God; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above.”

¹²But Ahaz said, “I won’t ask. I won’t tempt the LORD.”

¹³He said, “Listen now, house of David. Is it not enough for you to try the patience of men, that you will try the patience of my God also? ¹⁴Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign. Behold, the virgin will conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel.* ¹⁵He shall eat butter and honey when he knows to refuse the evil and choose the good. ¹⁶For before the child knows to refuse the evil and choose the good, the land whose two kings you abhor shall be forsaken. ¹⁷The LORD will bring on you, on your people, and on your father’s house days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah, even the king of Assyria.

¹⁸It will happen in that day that the LORD will whistle for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria. ¹⁹They shall come, and shall all rest in the desolate valleys, in the clefts of the rocks, on all thorn hedges, and on all pastures.

²⁰In that day the Lord will shave with a razor that is hired in the parts beyond the River, even with the king of Assyria, the head and the hair of the feet; and it shall also consume the beard.

²³It will happen in that day that every place where there were a thousand vines worth a thousand silver shekels,† will be for briers and thorns. ²⁴People will go there with arrows and with bow, because all the land will be briers and thorns. ²⁵All the hills that were cultivated with the hoe, you shall not come there for fear of briers and thorns; but it shall be for the sending out of oxen, and for sheep to tread on.”

8

¹The LORD said to me, “Take a large tablet, and write on it with a man’s pen, ‘For Maher Shalal Hash Baz’;* ²and I will take for myself faithful witnesses to testify: Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.”

³I went to the prophetess, and she conceived, and bore a son. Then the LORD said to me, “Call his name ‘Maher Shalal Hash Baz.’ ⁴For before the child knows how to say, 'My father' and 'My mother,' the riches of Damascus and the plunder of Samaria will be carried away by the king of Assyria."

* 7:14 “Immanuel” means “God with us.” † 7:23 A shekel is about 10 grams or about 0.35 ounces, so 1000 shekels is about 10 kilograms or 22 pounds. * 8:1 “Maher Shalal Hash Baz” means “quick to the plunder, swift to the prey”.

⁵ The LORD spoke to me yet again, saying, ⁶ "Because this people has refused the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin and Remaliah's son; ⁷ now therefore, behold, the Lord brings upon them the mighty flood waters of the River: the king of Assyria and all his glory. It will come up over all its channels, and go over all its banks. ⁸ It will sweep onward into Judah. It will overflow and pass through. It will reach even to the neck. The stretching out of its wings will fill the width of your land, O Immanuel.

¹¹ For the LORD spoke this to me with a strong hand, and instructed me not to walk in the way of this people, saying, ¹² "Don't call a conspiracy all that this people call a conspiracy. Don't fear their threats or be terrorized. ¹³ The LORD of Armies is who you must respect as holy. He is the one you must fear. He is the one you must dread. ¹⁴ He will be a sanctuary, but for both houses of Israel, he will be a stumbling stone and a rock that makes them fall. For the people of Jerusalem, he will be a trap and a snare. ¹⁵ Many will stumble over it, fall, be broken, be snared, and be captured."

¹⁹ When they tell you, "Consult with those who have familiar spirits and with the wizards, who chirp and who mutter," shouldn't a people consult with their God? Should they consult the dead on behalf of the living? ²⁰ Turn to the law and to the covenant! If they don't speak according to this word, surely there is no morning for them. ²¹ They will pass through it, very distressed and hungry. It will happen that when they are hungry, they will worry, and curse their king and their God. They will turn their faces upward, ²² then look to the earth and see distress, darkness, and the gloom of anguish. They will be driven into thick darkness.

¹ But there shall be no more gloom for her who was in anguish. In the former time, he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali; but in the latter time he has made it glorious, by the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

² The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light.

The light has shined on those who lived in the land of the shadow of death.

³ You have multiplied the nation.

You have increased their joy.

They rejoice before you according to the joy in harvest, as men rejoice when they divide the plunder. ⁴ For the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, you have broken as in the day of Midian. ⁵ For all the armor of the armed man in the noisy battle, and the garments rolled in blood, will be for burning, fuel for the fire. ⁶ For a child is born to us. A son is given to us; and the government will be on his shoulders. His name will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. ⁷ Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end, on David's throne, and on his kingdom, to establish it, and to uphold it with justice and with righteousness from that time on, even forever. The zeal of the LORD of Armies will perform this.

⁸ The Lord sent a word into Jacob, and it falls on Israel.

⁹ All the people will know, including Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria, who say in pride and in arrogance of heart,

¹⁰ "The bricks have fallen,
but we will build with cut stone.
The sycamore fig trees have been cut down,
but we will put cedars in their place."

¹¹ Therefore the LORD will set up on high against him the adversaries of Rezin, and will stir up his enemies, ¹² The Syrians in front, and the Philistines behind;
and they will devour Israel with open mouth.

For all this, his anger is not turned away,
but his hand is stretched out still.

¹³ Yet the people have not turned to him who struck them, neither have they sought the LORD of Armies.

¹⁴ Therefore the LORD will cut off from Israel head and tail, palm branch and reed, in one day.

¹⁵ The elder and the honorable man is the head, and the prophet who teaches lies is the tail.

¹⁶ For those who lead this people lead them astray;
and those who are led by them are destroyed.

¹⁷ Therefore the Lord will not rejoice over their young men, neither will he have compassion on their fatherless and widows;
for everyone is profane and an evildoer,
and every mouth speaks folly.

For all this his anger is not turned away,
but his hand is stretched out still.

¹⁸ For wickedness burns like a fire.
It devours the briars and thorns;
yes, it kindles in the thickets of the forest,
and they roll upward in a column of smoke.

¹⁹ Through the LORD of Armies' wrath, the land is burned up;
and the people are the fuel for the fire.
No one spares his brother.

²⁰ One will devour on the right hand, and be hungry;
and he will eat on the left hand, and they will not be satisfied.
Everyone will eat the flesh of his own arm:

²¹ Manasseh eating Ephraim and Ephraim eating Manasseh, and they together will be against Judah.
For all this his anger is not turned away,
but his hand is stretched out still.

¹ Woe to those who decree unrighteous decrees, and to the writers who write oppressive decrees ²to deprive the needy of justice, and to rob the poor among my people of their rights, that widows may be their plunder, and that they may make the fatherless their prey! ³ What will you do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which will come from afar? To whom will you flee for help? Where will you leave your wealth?

⁴ They will only bow down under the prisoners, and will fall under the slain.
For all this his anger is not turned away,
but his hand is stretched out still.

⁵ Alas Assyrian, the rod of my anger, the staff in whose hand is my indignation! ⁶ I will send him against a profane nation, and against the people who anger me I will give him a command to take the plunder and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets. ⁷ However, he doesn't mean so, neither does his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy, and to cut off not a few nations. ⁸ For he says, "Aren't all of my princes kings? ⁹ Isn't Calno like Carchemish? Isn't Hamath like Arpad? Isn't Samaria like Damascus?" ¹⁰ As my hand has found the kingdoms of the idols, whose engraved images exceeded those of Jerusalem and of Samaria, ¹¹ shall I not, as I have done to Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?

¹² Therefore it will happen that when the Lord has performed his whole work on Mount Zion and on Jerusalem, I will punish the fruit of the willful proud heart of the king of Assyria, and the insolence of his arrogant looks. ¹³ For he has said, "By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom, for I have understanding. I have removed the boundaries of the peoples, and have robbed their treasures. Like a valiant man I have brought down their rulers. ¹⁴ My hand has found the riches of the peoples like a nest, and like one gathers eggs that are abandoned, I have gathered all the earth. There was no one who moved their wing, or that opened their mouth, or chirped."

¹⁵ Should an ax brag against him who chops with it? Should a saw exalt itself above him who saws with it? As if a rod should lift those who lift it up, or as if a staff should lift up someone who is not wood. ¹⁶ Therefore the Lord, GOD* of Armies, will send among his fat ones leanness; and under his glory a burning will be kindled like the burning of fire. ¹⁷ The light of Israel will be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame; and it will burn and devour his thorns and his briars in one day. ¹⁸ He will consume the glory of his forest and of his fruitful field, both soul and body. It will be as when a standard bearer faints. ¹⁹ The remnant of the trees of his forest shall be few, so that a child could write their number.

²⁰ It will come to pass in that day that the remnant of Israel, and those who have escaped from the house of Jacob will no more again lean on him who struck them, but shall lean on the LORD,[†] the Holy One of Israel, in truth. ²¹ A remnant will return, even the remnant of Jacob, to the mighty God. ²² For though your people, Israel, are like the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them will return. A destruction is determined, overflowing with righteousness. ²³ For the Lord, GOD[‡] of Armies, will make a full end, and that determined, throughout all the earth.

²⁴ Therefore the Lord, GOD of Armies, says, “My people who dwell in Zion, don’t be afraid of the Assyrian, though he strike you with the rod, and lift up his staff against you, as Egypt did. ²⁵ For yet a very little while, and the indignation against you will be accomplished, and my anger will be directed to his destruction.” ²⁶ The LORD of Armies will stir up a scourge against him, as in the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb. His rod will be over the sea, and he will lift it up like he did against Egypt. ²⁷ It will happen in that day that his burden will depart from off your shoulder, and his yoke from off your neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing oil.

²⁸ He has come to Aiath. He has passed through Migron. At Michmash he stores his baggage. ²⁹ They have gone over the pass. They have taken up their lodging at Geba. Ramah trembles. Gibeah of Saul has fled. ³⁰ Cry aloud with your voice, daughter of Gallim! Listen, Laishah! You poor Anathoth! ³¹ Madmenah is a fugitive. The inhabitants of Gebim flee for safety. ³² This very day he will halt at Nob. He shakes his hand at the mountain of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

³³ Behold, the Lord, GOD of Armies, will lop the boughs with terror. The tall will be cut down, and the lofty will be brought low. ³⁴ He will cut down the thickets of the forest with iron, and Lebanon will fall by the Mighty One.

¹ A shoot will come out of the stock of Jesse,
and a branch out of his roots will bear fruit.

² The LORD’s Spirit will rest on him:
the spirit of wisdom and understanding,
the spirit of counsel and might,
the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the LORD.

³ His delight will be in the fear of the LORD.

He will not judge by the sight of his eyes,
neither decide by the hearing of his ears;

⁴ but he will judge the poor with righteousness,
and decide with equity for the humble of the earth.
He will strike the earth with the rod of his mouth;
and with the breath of his lips he will kill the wicked.

⁵ Righteousness will be the belt around his waist, and faithfulness the belt around his waist.

⁶ The wolf will live with the lamb, and the leopard will lie down with the young goat,

the calf, the young lion, and the fattened calf together;
and a little child will lead them.

⁷ The cow and the bear will graze.

Their young ones will lie down together.

The lion will eat straw like the ox.

⁸ The nursing child will play near a cobra's hole, and the weaned child will put his hand on the viper's den.

⁹ They will not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain;

for the earth will be full of the knowledge of the LORD,
as the waters cover the sea.

¹⁰ It will happen in that day that the nations will seek the root of Jesse, who stands as a banner of the peoples; and his resting place will be glorious.

¹¹ It will happen in that day that the Lord will set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant that is left of his people from Assyria, from Egypt, from Pathros, from Cush, from Elam, from Shinar, from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea. ¹² He will set up a banner for the nations, and will assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth. ¹³ The envy also of Ephraim will depart, and those who persecute Judah will be cut off. Ephraim won't envy Judah, and Judah won't persecute Ephraim. ¹⁴ They will fly down on the shoulders of the Philistines on the west. Together they will plunder the children of the east. They will extend their power over Edom and Moab, and the children of Ammon will obey them. ¹⁵ The LORD will utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with his scorching wind he will wave his hand over the River, and will split it into seven streams, and cause men to march over in sandals. ¹⁶ There will be a highway for the remnant that is left of his people from Assyria, like there was for Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

¹ In that day you will say, "I will give thanks to you, the LORD,* for though you were angry with me, your anger has turned away and you comfort me. ² Behold, God is my salvation. I will trust, and will not be afraid; for the LORD,† the LORD,‡ is my strength and song; and he has become my salvation." ³ Therefore with joy you will draw water out of the wells of salvation. ⁴ In that day you will say, "Give thanks to the LORD! Call on his name! Declare his doings among the peoples! Proclaim that his name is exalted! ⁵ Sing to the LORD, for he has done excellent things! Let this be known in all the earth! ⁶ Cry aloud and shout, you inhabitant of Zion, for the Holy One of Israel is great among you!"

² Set up a banner on the bare mountain! Lift up your voice to them! Wave your hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles. ³ I have commanded my consecrated ones; yes, I have called my mighty men for my anger, even my proudly exulting ones. ⁴ The noise of a multitude is in the mountains, as of a great people; the noise of an uproar of the kingdoms of the nations gathered together! The LORD of Armies is mustering the army for the battle. ⁵ They come from a far country, from the uttermost part of heaven, even the LORD, and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land.

⁶ Wail, for the LORD's day is at hand! It will come as destruction from the Almighty. ⁷ Therefore all hands will be feeble, and everyone's heart will melt. ⁸ They will be dismayed. Pangs and sorrows will seize them. They will be in pain like a woman in labor. They will look in amazement one at another. Their faces will be faces of flame. ⁹ Behold, the day of the LORD comes, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger; to make the land a desolation, and to destroy its sinners out of it. ¹⁰ For the stars of the sky and its constellations will not give their light. The sun will be darkened in its going out, and the moon will not cause its light to shine. ¹¹ I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity. I will cause the arrogance of the proud to cease, and will humble the arrogance of the terrible. ¹² I will make people more rare than fine gold, even a person than the pure gold of Ophir. ¹³ Therefore I will make the heavens tremble, and the earth will be shaken out of its place in the LORD of Armies' wrath, and in the day of his fierce anger. ¹⁴ It will happen that like a hunted gazelle and like sheep that no one gathers, they will each turn to their own people, and will each flee to their own land. ¹⁵ Everyone who is found will be thrust through. Everyone who is captured will fall by the sword. ¹⁶ Their infants also will be dashed in pieces before their eyes. Their houses will be ransacked, and their wives raped.

¹⁷ Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, who will not value silver, and as for gold, they will not delight in it. ¹⁸ Their bows will dash the young men in pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb. Their eyes will not spare children. ¹⁹ Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldeans' pride, will be like when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah. ²⁰ It will never be inhabited, neither will it be lived in from generation to generation. The Arabian will not pitch a tent there, neither will shepherds make their flocks lie down there. ²¹ But wild animals of the desert will lie there, and their houses will be full of jackals. Ostriches will dwell there, and wild goats will frolic there. ²² Hyenas will cry in their fortresses, and jackals in the pleasant palaces. Her time is near to come, and her days will not be prolonged.

¹ For the LORD will have compassion on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land. The foreigner will join himself with them, and they will unite with the house of Jacob. ² The peoples will take them, and bring them to their place. The house of Israel will possess them in the LORD's land for servants and for handmaids. They will take as captives those whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors.

³ It will happen in the day that the LORD will give you rest from your sorrow, from your trouble, and from the hard service in which you were made to serve, ⁴ that you will take up this parable against the king of Babylon, and say, "How the oppressor has ceased! The golden city has ceased!" ⁵ The LORD has broken the staff of the wicked, the scepter of the rulers, ⁶ who struck the peoples in wrath with a continual stroke, who ruled the nations in anger, with a persecution that no one restrained. ⁷ The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet. They break out in song. ⁸ Yes, the cypress trees rejoice with you, with the cedars of Lebanon, saying, "Since you are humbled, no lumberjack has come up against us." ⁹ Sheol* from beneath has moved for you to meet you at your coming. It stirs up the departed spirits for you, even all the rulers of the earth. It has raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations. ¹⁰ They all will answer and ask you, "Have you also become as weak as we are? Have you become like us?" ¹¹ Your pomp is brought down to Sheol,† with the sound of your stringed instruments. Maggots are spread out under you, and worms cover you.

¹² How you have fallen from heaven, shining one, son of the dawn! How you are cut down to the ground, who laid the nations low! ¹³ You said in your heart, "I will ascend into heaven! I will exalt my throne above the stars of God! I will sit on the mountain of assembly, in the far north! ¹⁴ I will ascend above the heights of the clouds! I will make myself like the Most High!" ¹⁵ Yet you shall be brought down to Sheol,‡ to the depths of the pit. ¹⁶ Those who see you will stare at you. They will ponder you, saying, "Is this the man who made the earth to tremble, who shook kingdoms, ¹⁷ who made the world like a wilderness, and overthrew its cities, who didn't release his prisoners to their home?"

¹⁸ All the kings of the nations sleep in glory, everyone in his own house. ¹⁹ But you are cast away from your tomb like an abominable branch, clothed with the slain who are thrust through with the sword, who go down to the stones of the pit; like a dead body trodden under foot. ²⁰ You will not join them in burial, because you have destroyed your land. You have killed your people. The offspring of evildoers will not be named forever.

²⁴ The LORD of Armies has sworn, saying, "Surely, as I have thought, so shall it happen; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand: ²⁵ that I will break the Assyrian in my land, and tread him under foot on my mountains. Then his yoke will leave them, and his burden leave their shoulders. ²⁶ This is the plan that is determined for the whole earth. This is the hand that is stretched out over all the nations. ²⁷ For the LORD of Armies has planned, and who can stop it? His hand is stretched out, and who can turn it back?"

²⁸ This burden was in the year that King Ahaz died.

²⁹ Don't rejoice, O Philistia, all of you, because the rod that struck you is broken; for out of the serpent's root an adder will emerge, and his fruit will be a fiery flying serpent. ³⁰ The firstborn of the poor will eat, and the needy will lie down in safety; and I will kill your root with famine, and your remnant will be killed.

* 14:9 Sheol is the place of the dead. † 14:11 Sheol is the place of the dead. ‡ 14:15 Sheol is the place of the dead.

³¹ Howl, gate! Cry, city! You are melted away, Philistia, all of you; for smoke comes out of the north, and there is no straggler in his ranks.

³² What will they answer the messengers of the nation? That the LORD has founded Zion, and in her the afflicted of his people will take refuge.

For in a night, Ar of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nothing. For in a night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nothing. ² They have gone up to Bayith, and to Dibon, to the high places, to weep. Moab wails over Nebo and over Medeba. Baldness is on all of their heads. Every beard is cut off. ³ In their streets, they clothe themselves in sackcloth. In their streets and on their housetops, everyone wails, weeping abundantly. ⁴ Heshbon cries out with Elealeh. Their voice is heard even to Jahaz. Therefore the armed men of Moab cry aloud. Their souls tremble within them. ⁵ My heart cries out for Moab! Her nobles flee to Zoar, to Eglath Shelishiyah; for they go up by the ascent of Luhith with weeping; for on the way to Horonaim, they raise up a cry of destruction. ⁶ For the waters of Nimrim will be desolate; for the grass has withered away, the tender grass fails, there is no green thing. ⁷ Therefore they will carry away the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have stored up, over the brook of the willows. ⁸ For the cry has gone around the borders of Moab, its wailing to Eglaim, and its wailing to Beer Elim. ⁹ For the waters of Dimon are full of blood; for I will bring yet more on Dimon, a lion on those of Moab who escape, and on the remnant of the land.

¹ Send the lambs for the ruler of the land from Selah to the wilderness, to the mountain of the daughter of Zion. ² For it will be that as wandering birds, as a scattered nest, so will the daughters of Moab be at the fords of the Arnon. ³ Give counsel! Execute justice! Make your shade like the night in the middle of the noonday! Hide the outcasts! Don't betray the fugitive! ⁴ Let my outcasts dwell with you! As for Moab, be a hiding place for him from the face of the destroyer. For the extortionist is brought to nothing. Destruction ceases. The oppressors are consumed out of the land. ⁵ A throne will be established in loving kindness. One will sit on it in truth, in the tent of David, judging, seeking justice, and swift to do righteousness.

⁶ We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; even of his arrogance, his pride, and his wrath. His boastings are nothing. ⁷ Therefore Moab will wail for Moab. Everyone will wail. You will mourn for the raisin cakes of Kir Hareseth, utterly stricken. ⁸ For the fields of Heshbon languish with the vine of Sibmah. The lords of the nations have broken down its choice branches, which reached even to Jazer, which wandered into the wilderness. Its shoots were spread abroad. They passed over the sea. ⁹ Therefore I will weep with the weeping of Jazer for the vine of Sibmah. I will water you with my tears, Heshbon, and Elealeh: for on your summer fruits and on your harvest the battle shout has fallen. ¹⁰ Gladness is taken away, and joy out of the fruitful field; and in the vineyards there will be no singing, neither joyful noise. Nobody will tread out wine in the presses. I have made the shouting stop. ¹¹ Therefore my heart sounds like a harp for Moab, and my inward parts for Kir Heres. ¹² It will happen that when Moab presents himself, when he wearies himself on the high place, and comes to his sanctuary to pray, that he will not prevail.

¹³ This is the word that the LORD spoke concerning Moab in time past.

¹⁴ But now the LORD has spoken, saying, "Within three years, as a worker bound by contract would count them, the glory of Moab shall be brought into contempt, with all his great multitude; and the remnant will be very small and feeble."

"Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it will be a ruinous heap. ² The cities of Aroer are forsaken. They will be for flocks, which shall lie down, and no one shall make them afraid. ³ The fortress shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Syria. They will be as the glory of the children of Israel," says the LORD of Armies.

⁴ "It will happen in that day that the glory of Jacob will be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh will become lean. ⁵ It will be like when the harvester gathers the wheat, and his arm reaps the grain. Yes, it will be like when one gleanes grain in the valley of Rephaim. ⁶ Yet gleanings will be left there, like the shaking of an olive tree, two or three olives in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five in the outermost branches of a fruitful tree," says the LORD, the God of Israel. ⁷ In that day, people will look to their Maker, and their eyes will have respect for the Holy One of Israel. ⁸ They will not look to the altars, the work of their hands; neither shall they respect that which their fingers have made, either the Asherah poles or the incense altars. ⁹ In that day, their strong cities will be like the forsaken places in the woods and on the mountain top, which were forsaken from before the children of Israel; and it will be a desolation. ¹⁰ For you have forgotten the God of your salvation, and have not remembered the rock of your strength. Therefore you plant pleasant plants, and set out foreign seedlings. ¹¹ In the day of your planting, you hedge it in. In the morning, you make your seed blossom, but the harvest flees away in the day of grief and of desperate sorrow.

¹² Ah, the uproar of many peoples who roar like the roaring of the seas; and the rushing of nations that rush like the rushing of mighty waters! ¹³ The nations will rush like the rushing of many waters, but he will rebuke them, and they will flee far off, and will be chased like the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like the whirling dust before the storm. ¹⁴ At evening, behold, terror! Before the morning, they are no more. This is the portion of those who plunder us, and the lot of those who rob us.

⁴ For the LORD said to me, "I will be still, and I will see in my dwelling place, like clear heat in sunshine, like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest."

⁵ For before the harvest, when the blossom is over, and the flower becomes a ripening grape, he will cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks, and he will cut down and take away the spreading branches. ⁶ They will be left together for the ravenous birds of the mountains, and for the animals of the earth. The ravenous birds will eat them in the summer, and all the animals of the earth will eat them in the winter. ⁷ In that time, a present will be brought to the LORD of Armies from a people tall and smooth, even from a people awesome from their beginning onward, a nation that measures out and treads down, whose land the rivers divide, to the place of the name of the LORD of Armies, Mount Zion.

“Behold, the LORD rides on a swift cloud, and comes to Egypt. The idols of Egypt will tremble at his presence; and the heart of Egypt will melt within it. ² I will stir up the Egyptians against the Egyptians, and they will fight everyone against his brother, and everyone against his neighbor; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom. ³ The spirit of the Egyptians will fail within them. I will destroy their counsel. They will seek the idols, the charmers, those who have familiar spirits, and the wizards. ⁴ I will give over the Egyptians into the hand of a cruel lord. A fierce king will rule over them,” says the Lord, GOD* of Armies.

⁵ The waters will fail from the sea, and the river will be wasted and become dry. ⁶ The rivers will become foul. The streams of Egypt will be diminished and dried up. The reeds and flags will wither away. ⁷ The meadows by the Nile, by the brink of the Nile, and all the sown fields of the Nile, will become dry, be driven away, and be no more. ⁸ The fishermen will lament, and all those who fish in the Nile will mourn, and those who spread nets on the waters will languish. ⁹ Moreover those who work in combed flax, and those who weave white cloth, will be confounded. ¹⁰ The pillars will be broken in pieces. All those who work for hire will be grieved in soul.

¹¹ The princes of Zoan are utterly foolish. The counsel of the wisest counselors of Pharaoh has become stupid. How do you say to Pharaoh, “I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings”? ¹² Where then are your wise men? Let them tell you now; and let them know what the LORD of Armies has purposed concerning Egypt. ¹³ The princes of Zoan have become fools. The princes of Memphis are deceived. They have caused Egypt to go astray, those who are the cornerstone of her tribes. ¹⁴ The LORD has mixed a spirit of perverseness in the middle of her; and they have caused Egypt to go astray in all of its works, like a drunken man staggers in his vomit. ¹⁵ Neither shall there be any work for Egypt, which head or tail, palm branch or rush, may do. ¹⁶ In that day the Egyptians will be like women. They will tremble and fear because of the shaking of the LORD of Armies’s hand, which he shakes over them. ¹⁷ The land of Judah will become a terror to Egypt. Everyone to whom mention is made of it will be afraid, because of the plans of the LORD of Armies, which he determines against it. ¹⁸ In that day, there will be five cities in the land of Egypt that speak the language of Canaan, and swear to the LORD of Armies. One will be called “The city of destruction.”

¹⁹ In that day, there will be an altar to the LORD in the middle of the land of Egypt, and a pillar to the LORD at its border. ²⁰ It will be for a sign and for a witness to the LORD of Armies in the land of Egypt; for they will cry to the LORD because of oppressors, and he will send them a savior and a defender, and he will deliver them. ²¹ The LORD will be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians will know the LORD in that day. Yes, they will worship with sacrifice and offering, and will vow a vow to the LORD, and will perform it. ²² The LORD will strike Egypt, striking and healing. They will return to the LORD, and he will be entreated by them, and will heal them.

²³ In that day there will be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria; and the Egyptians will worship with the Assyrians.

²⁴ In that day, Israel will be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, a blessing within the earth; ²⁵ because the LORD of Armies has blessed them, saying, “Blessed be Egypt my people, Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel my inheritance.”

¹ In the year that Tartan came to Ashdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him, and he fought against Ashdod and took it; ² at that time the LORD spoke by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, “Go, and loosen the sackcloth from off your waist, and take your sandals from off your feet.” He did so, walking naked and barefoot. ³ The LORD said, “As my servant Isaiah has walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign and a wonder concerning Egypt and concerning Ethiopia, ⁴ so the king of Assyria will lead away the captives of Egypt and the exiles of Ethiopia, young and old, naked and barefoot, and with buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt. ⁵ They will be dismayed and confounded, because of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory. ⁶ The inhabitants of this coast land will say in that day, ‘Behold, this is our expectation, where we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria. And we, how will we escape?’ ”

As whirlwinds in the South sweep through, it comes from the wilderness, from an awesome land. ² A grievous vision is declared to me. The treacherous man deals treacherously, and the destroyer destroys. Go up, Elam; attack! I have stopped all of Media’s sighing. ³ Therefore my thighs are filled with anguish. Pains have seized me, like the pains of a woman in labor. I am in so much pain that I can’t hear. I am so dismayed that I can’t see. ⁴ My heart flutters. Horror has frightened me. The twilight that I desired has been turned into trembling for me. ⁵ They prepare the table. They set the watch. They eat. They drink. Rise up, you princes, oil the shield! ⁶ For the Lord said to me, “Go, set a watchman. Let him declare what he sees. ⁷ When he sees a troop, horsemen in pairs, a troop of donkeys, a troop of camels, he shall listen diligently with great attentiveness.” ⁸ He cried like a lion: “Lord, I stand continually on the watchtower in the daytime, and every night I stay at my post. ⁹ Behold, here comes a troop of men, horsemen in pairs.” He answered, “Fallen, fallen is Babylon; and all the engraved images of her gods are broken to the ground.

¹⁰ You are my threshing, and the grain of my floor!” That which I have heard from the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, I have declared to you.

¹¹ The burden of Dumah.

One calls to me out of Seir, “Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?” ¹² The watchman said, “The morning comes, and also the night. If you will inquire, inquire. Come back again.”

¹³ The burden on Arabia.

You will lodge in the thickets in Arabia, you caravans of Dedanites. ¹⁴ They brought water to him who was thirsty. The inhabitants of the land of Tema met the fugitives with their bread. ¹⁵ For they fled away from the swords, from the drawn sword, from the bent bow, and from the heat of battle. ¹⁶ For the LORD said to me, “Within a year, as a worker bound by contract would count it, all the glory of Kedar will fail, ¹⁷ and the residue of the number of the archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, will be few; for the LORD, the God of Israel, has spoken it.”

What ails you now, that you have all gone up to the housetops? ² You that are full of shouting, a tumultuous city, a joyous town, your slain are not slain with the sword, neither are they dead in battle. ³ All your rulers fled away together. They were bound by the archers. All who were found by you were bound together. They fled far away. ⁴ Therefore I said, “Look away from me. I will weep bitterly. Don’t labor to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

⁵ For it is a day of confusion, and of treading down, and of perplexity from the Lord, GOD* of Armies, in the valley of vision, a breaking down of the walls, and a crying to the mountains.” ⁶ Elam carried his quiver, with chariots of men and horsemen; and Kir uncovered the shield. ⁷ Your choicest valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen set themselves in array at the gate. ⁸ He took away the covering of Judah; and you looked in that day to the armor in the house of the forest. ⁹ You saw the breaches of David’s city, that they were many; and you gathered together the waters of the lower pool. ¹⁰ You counted the houses of Jerusalem, and you broke down the houses to fortify the wall. ¹¹ You also made a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool. But you didn’t look to him who had done this, neither did you have respect for him who planned it long ago.

¹² In that day, the Lord, GOD† of Armies, called to weeping, to mourning, to baldness, and to dressing in sackcloth; ¹³ and behold, there is joy and gladness, killing cattle and killing sheep, eating meat and drinking wine: “Let’s eat and drink, for tomorrow we will die.” ¹⁴ The LORD‡ of Armies revealed himself in my ears, “Surely this iniquity will not be forgiven you until you die,” says the Lord, GOD of Armies.

* 22:5 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, “LORD” or “GOD” is the translation of God’s Proper Name (Hebrew “יהוה”, usually pronounced Yahweh). † 22:12 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, “LORD” or “GOD” is the translation of God’s Proper Name (Hebrew “יהוה”, usually pronounced Yahweh). ‡ 22:14 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, “LORD” or “GOD” is the translation of God’s Proper Name (Hebrew “יהוה”, usually pronounced Yahweh).

¹⁵ The Lord, GOD of Armies says, “Go, get yourself to this treasurer, even to Shebna, who is over the house, and say, ¹⁶ ‘What are you doing here? Who has you here, that you have dug out a tomb here?’ Cutting himself out a tomb on high, chiseling a habitation for himself in the rock!” ¹⁷ Behold, the LORD will overcome you and hurl you away violently. Yes, he will grasp you firmly. ¹⁸ He will surely wind you around and around, and throw you like a ball into a large country. There you will die, and there the chariots of your glory will be, you disgrace of your lord’s house. ¹⁹ I will thrust you from your office. You will be pulled down from your station.

²⁰ It will happen in that day that I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, ²¹ and I will clothe him with your robe, and strengthen him with your belt. I will commit your government into his hand; and he will be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah. ²² I will lay the key of David’s house on his shoulder. He will open, and no one will shut. He will shut, and no one will open. ²³ I will fasten him like a nail in a sure place. He will be for a throne of glory to his father’s house. ²⁴ They will hang on him all the glory of his father’s house, the offspring and the issue, every small vessel, from the cups even to all the pitchers. ²⁵ “In that day,” says the LORD of Armies, “the nail that was fastened in a sure place will give way. It will be cut down and fall. The burden that was on it will be cut off, for the LORD has spoken it.”

Howl, you ships of Tarshish! For it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in. From the land of Kittim it is revealed to them. ² Be still, you inhabitants of the coast, you whom the merchants of Sidon that pass over the sea have replenished. ³ On great waters, the seed of the Shihor, the harvest of the Nile, was her revenue. She was the market of nations. ⁴ Be ashamed, Sidon; for the sea has spoken, the stronghold of the sea, saying, “I have not travailed, nor given birth, neither have I nourished young men, nor brought up virgins.” ⁵ When the report comes to Egypt, they will be in anguish at the report of Tyre. ⁶ Pass over to Tarshish! Wail, you inhabitants of the coast! ⁷ Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is of ancient days, whose feet carried her far away to travel?

⁸ Who has planned this against Tyre, the giver of crowns, whose merchants are princes, whose traders are the honorable of the earth? ⁹ The LORD of Armies has planned it, to stain the pride of all glory, to bring into contempt all the honorable of the earth. ¹⁰ Pass through your land like the Nile, daughter of Tarshish. There is no restraint any more. ¹¹ He has stretched out his hand over the sea. He has shaken the kingdoms. The LORD has ordered the destruction of Canaan’s strongholds. ¹² He said, “You shall rejoice no more, you oppressed virgin daughter of Sidon. Arise, pass over to Kittim. Even there you will have no rest.”

you ships of Tarshish, for your stronghold is laid waste! ¹⁵ It will come to pass in that day that Tyre will be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king. After the end of seventy years it will be to Tyre like in the song of the prostitute. ¹⁶ Take a harp; go about the city, you prostitute that has been forgotten. Make sweet melody. Sing many songs, that you may be remembered. ¹⁷ It will happen after the end of seventy years that the LORD will visit Tyre. She will return to her wages, and will play the prostitute with all the kingdoms of the world on the surface of the earth. ¹⁸ Her merchandise and her wages will be holiness to the LORD. It will not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise will be for those who dwell before the LORD, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing.

¹ Behold, the LORD makes the earth empty, makes it waste, turns it upside down, and scatters its inhabitants. ² It will be as with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the creditor, so with the debtor; as with the taker of interest, so with the giver of interest. ³ The earth will be utterly emptied and utterly laid waste; for the LORD has spoken this word. ⁴ The earth mourns and fades away. The world languishes and fades away. The lofty people of the earth languish. ⁵ The earth also is polluted under its inhabitants, because they have transgressed the laws, violated the statutes, and broken the everlasting covenant. ⁶ Therefore the curse has devoured the earth, and those who dwell therein are found guilty. Therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men are left. ⁷ The new wine mourns. The vine languishes. All the merry-hearted sigh. ⁸ The mirth of tambourines ceases. The sound of those who rejoice ends. The joy of the harp ceases. ⁹ They will not drink wine with a song. Strong drink will be bitter to those who drink it. ¹⁰ The confused city is broken down. Every house is shut up, that no man may come in. ¹¹ There is a crying in the streets because of the wine. All joy is darkened. The mirth of the land is gone. ¹² The city is left in desolation, and the gate is struck with destruction. ¹³ For it will be so within the earth among the peoples, as the shaking of an olive tree, as the gleanings when the vintage is done.

But I said, "I pine away! I pine away! woe is me!" The treacherous have dealt treacherously. Yes, the treacherous have dealt very treacherously. ¹⁷ Fear, the pit, and the snare are on you who inhabit the earth. ¹⁸ It will happen that he who flees from the noise of the fear will fall into the pit; and he who comes up out of the middle of the pit will be taken in the snare; for the windows on high are opened, and the foundations of the earth tremble. ¹⁹ The earth is utterly broken. The earth is torn apart. The earth is shaken violently. ²⁰ The earth will stagger like a drunken man, and will sway back and forth like a hammock. Its disobedience will be heavy on it, and it will fall and not rise again.

²¹ It will happen in that day that the LORD will punish the army of the high ones on high, and the kings of the earth on the earth. ²² They will be gathered together, as prisoners are gathered in the pit, and will be shut up in the prison; and after many days they will be visited. ²³ Then the moon will be confounded, and the sun ashamed; for the LORD of Armies will reign on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem; and glory will be before his elders.

¹ The LORD, you are my God. I will exalt you! I will praise your name, for you have done wonderful things, things planned long ago, in complete faithfulness and truth. ² For you have made a city into a heap, a fortified city into a ruin, a palace of strangers to be no city. It will never be built. ³ Therefore a strong people will glorify you. A city of awesome nations will fear you. ⁴ For you have been a stronghold to the poor, a stronghold to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shade from the heat, when the blast of the dreaded ones is like a storm against the wall. ⁵ As the heat in a dry place you will bring down the noise of strangers; as the heat by the shade of a cloud, the song of the dreaded ones will be brought low.

⁹ It shall be said in that day, "Behold, this is our God! We have waited for him, and he will save us! This is the LORD! We have waited for him. We will be glad and rejoice in his salvation!" ¹⁰ For the LORD's hand will rest in this mountain.

Moab will be trodden down in his place, even like straw is trodden down in the water of the dunghill. ¹¹ He will spread out his hands in the middle of it, like one who swims spreads out hands to swim, but his pride will be humbled together with the craft of his hands. ¹² He has brought the high fortress of your walls down, laid low, and brought to the ground, even to the dust.

¹ In that day, this song will be sung in the land of Judah:
"We have a strong city.

God appoints salvation for walls and bulwarks.

² Open the gates, that the righteous nation may enter:
the one which keeps faith.

³ You will keep whoever's mind is steadfast in perfect peace, because he trusts in you.

⁴ Trust in the LORD* forever;
for in the LORD,† the LORD, is an everlasting Rock.

⁵ For he has brought down those who dwell on high, the lofty city.

* 25:6 literally, fat things * 26:4 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה Yah. † 26:4 Hebrew: יה Yah

He lays it low.
He lays it low even to the ground.
He brings it even to the dust.

⁶ The foot shall tread it down, even the feet of the poor and the steps of the needy.”

⁷ The way of the just is uprightness.
You who are upright make the path of the righteous level.

⁸ Yes, in the way of your judgments, LORD, we have waited for you.
Your name and your renown are the desire of our soul.

⁹ With my soul I have desired you in the night.
Yes, with my spirit within me I will seek you earnestly;
for when your judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world learn righteousness.

¹⁰ Let favor be shown to the wicked,
yet he will not learn righteousness.
In the land of uprightness he will deal wrongfully,
and will not see the LORD’s majesty.

¹¹ LORD, your hand is lifted up, yet they don’t see;
but they will see your zeal for the people and be disappointed.
Yes, fire will consume your adversaries.

¹² LORD, you will ordain peace for us,
for you have also done all our work for us.

¹³ LORD our God, other lords besides you have had dominion over us, but we will only acknowledge your name.

¹⁴ The dead shall not live.
The departed spirits shall not rise.

Therefore you have visited and destroyed them,
and caused all memory of them to perish.

¹⁵ You have increased the nation, O LORD.
You have increased the nation!

You are glorified!
You have enlarged all the borders of the land.

¹⁶ LORD, in trouble they have visited you.
They poured out a prayer when your chastening was on them.

¹⁷ Just as a woman with child, who draws near the time of her delivery, is in pain and cries out in her pangs,
so we have been before you, LORD.

¹⁸ We have been with child.
We have been in pain.

We gave birth, it seems, only to wind.
We have not worked any deliverance in the earth;
neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen.

¹⁹ Your dead shall live.
Their dead bodies shall arise.

Awake and sing, you who dwell in the dust;
for your dew is like the dew of herbs,
and the earth will cast out the departed spirits.

²⁰ Come, my people, enter into your rooms, and shut your doors behind you.

Hide yourself for a little moment, until the indignation is past.

²¹ For, behold, the LORD comes out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity.

The earth also will disclose her blood, and will no longer cover her slain.

¹ In that day, the LORD with his hard and great and strong sword will punish leviathan, the fleeing serpent, and leviathan, the twisted serpent; and he will kill the dragon that is in the sea.

² In that day, sing to her, "A pleasant vineyard! ³ I, the LORD, am its keeper.
I will water it every moment. Lest anyone damage it, I will keep it night and day. ⁴ Wrath is not in me, but if I should find briars and thorns, I would do battle! I would march on them and I would burn them together. ⁵ Or else let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me. Let him make peace with me."

⁶ In days to come, Jacob will take root. Israel will blossom and bud. They will fill the surface of the world with fruit. ⁷ Has he struck them as he struck those who struck them? Or are they killed like those who killed them were killed? ⁸ In measure, when you send them away, you contend with them.
He has removed them with his rough blast in the day of the east wind.
⁹ Therefore by this the iniquity of Jacob will be forgiven, and this is all the fruit of taking away his sin: that he makes all the stones of the altar as chalk stones that are beaten in pieces, so that the Asherah poles and the incense altars shall rise no more. ¹⁰ For the fortified city is solitary, a habitation deserted and forsaken, like the wilderness. The calf will feed there, and there he will lie down, and consume its branches. ¹¹ When its boughs are withered, they will be broken off. The women will come and set them on fire, for they are a people of no understanding. Therefore he who made them will not have compassion on them, and he who formed them will show them no favor.

¹² It will happen in that day that the LORD will thresh from the flowing stream of the Euphrates to the brook of Egypt; and you will be gathered one by one, children of Israel.

¹³ It will happen in that day that a great trumpet will be blown; and those who were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and those who were outcasts in the land of Egypt, shall come; and they will worship the LORD in the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

¹ Woe to the crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim, and to the fading flower of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fertile valley of those who are overcome with wine! ² Behold, the Lord has one who is mighty and strong. Like a storm of hail, a destroying storm, and like a storm of mighty waters overflowing, he will cast them down to the earth with his hand. ³ The crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim will be trodden under foot. ⁴ The fading flower of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fertile valley, shall be like the first-ripe fig before the summer, which someone picks and eats as soon as he sees it. ⁵ In that day, the LORD of Armies will become a crown of glory and a diadem of beauty to the residue of his people, ⁶ and a spirit of justice to him who sits in judgment, and strength to those who turn back the battle at the gate.

⁷ They also reel with wine, and stagger with strong drink. The priest and the prophet reel with strong drink. They are swallowed up by wine. They stagger with strong drink. They err in vision. They stumble in judgment.

⁸ For all tables are completely full of filthy vomit and filthiness.

¹⁴ Therefore hear the LORD's word, you scoffers, that rule this people in Jerusalem: ¹⁵ "Because you have said, 'We have made a covenant with death, and we are in agreement with Sheol.* When the overflowing scourge passes through, it won't come to us; for we have made lies our refuge, and we have hidden ourselves under falsehood.' " ¹⁶ Therefore the Lord GOD says, "Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious cornerstone of a sure foundation. He who believes shall not act hastily. ¹⁷ I will make justice the measuring line, and righteousness the plumb line. The hail will sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters will overflow the hiding place. ¹⁸ Your covenant with death shall be annulled, and your agreement with Sheol† shall not stand. When the overflowing scourge passes through, then you will be trampled down by it. ¹⁹ As often as it passes through, it will seize you; for morning by morning it will pass through, by day and by night; and it will be nothing but terror to understand the message." ²⁰ For the bed is too short to stretch out on, and the blanket is too narrow to wrap oneself in. ²¹ For the LORD will rise up as on Mount Perazim. He will be angry as in the valley of Gibeon; that he may do his work, his unusual work, and bring to pass his act, his extraordinary act. ²² Now therefore don't be scoffers, lest your bonds be made strong; for I have heard a decree of destruction from the Lord, GOD‡ of Armies, on the whole earth.

²³ Give ear, and hear my voice! Listen, and hear my speech! ²⁴ Does he who plows to sow plow continually? Does he keep turning the soil and breaking the clods? ²⁵ When he has leveled its surface, doesn't he plant the dill, and scatter the cumin seed, and put in the wheat in rows, the barley in the appointed place, and the spelt in its place? ²⁶ For his God instructs him in right judgment and teaches him. ²⁷ For the dill isn't threshed with a sharp instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned over the cumin; but the dill is beaten out with a stick, and the cumin with a rod. ²⁸ Bread flour must be ground; so he will not always be threshing it. Although he drives the wheel of his threshing cart over it, his horses don't grind it. ²⁹ This also comes out from the LORD of Armies, who is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in wisdom.

* 28:15 Sheol is the place of the dead. † 28:18 Sheol is the place of the dead. ‡ 28:22 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh).

¹ Woe to Ariel! Ariel, the city where David encamped! Add year to year; let the feasts come around; ² then I will distress Ariel, and there will be mourning and lamentation. She shall be to me as an altar hearth.* ³ I will encamp against you all around you, and will lay siege against you with posted troops. I will raise siege works against you. ⁴ You will be brought down, and will speak out of the ground. Your speech will mumble out of the dust. Your voice will be as of one who has a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and your speech will whisper out of the dust.

⁵ But the multitude of your foes will be like fine dust, and the multitude of the ruthless ones like chaff that blows away. Yes, it will be in an instant, suddenly. ⁶ She will be visited by the LORD of Armies with thunder, with earthquake, with great noise, with whirlwind and storm, and with the flame of a devouring fire. ⁷ The multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all who fight against her and her stronghold, and who distress her, will be like a dream, a vision of the night. ⁸ It will be like when a hungry man dreams, and behold, he eats; but he awakes, and his hunger isn't satisfied; or like when a thirsty man dreams, and behold, he drinks; but he awakes, and behold, he is faint, and he is still thirsty. The multitude of all the nations that fight against Mount Zion will be like that.

⁹ Pause and wonder! Blind yourselves and be blind! They are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink. ¹⁰ For the LORD has poured out on you a spirit of deep sleep, and has closed your eyes, the prophets; and he has covered your heads, the seers. ¹¹ All vision has become to you like the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one who is educated, saying, "Read this, please;" and he says, "I can't, for it is sealed;" ¹² and the book is delivered to one who is not educated, saying, "Read this, please;" and he says, "I can't read."

¹³ The Lord said, "Because this people draws near with their mouth and honors me with their lips, but they have removed their heart far from me, and their fear of me is a commandment of men which has been taught; ¹⁴ therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvelous work among this people, even a marvelous work and a wonder; and the wisdom of their wise men will perish, and the understanding of their prudent men will be hidden."

¹⁷ Isn't it yet a very little while, and Lebanon will be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field will be regarded as a forest? ¹⁸ In that day, the deaf will hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind will see out of obscurity and out of darkness. ¹⁹ The humble also will increase their joy in the LORD, and the poor among men will rejoice in the Holy One of Israel.

²⁰ For the ruthless is brought to nothing, and the scoffer ceases, and all those who are alert to do evil are cut off— ²¹ who cause a person to be indicted by a word, and lay a snare for one who reproves in the gate, and who deprive the innocent of justice with false testimony.

²² Therefore the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, says concerning the house of Jacob: “Jacob shall no longer be ashamed, neither shall his face grow pale. ²³ But when he sees his children, the work of my hands, in the middle of him, they will sanctify my name. Yes, they will sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and will stand in awe of the God of Israel. ²⁴ They also who err in spirit will come to understanding, and those who grumble will receive instruction.”

¹ “Woe to the rebellious children”, says the LORD, “who take counsel, but not from me; and who make an alliance, but not with my Spirit, that they may add sin to sin; ² who set out to go down into Egypt without asking for my advice, to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to take refuge in the shadow of Egypt! ³ Therefore the strength of Pharaoh will be your shame, and the refuge in the shadow of Egypt your confusion. ⁴ For their princes are at Zoan, and their ambassadors have come to Hanes. ⁵ They shall all be ashamed because of a people that can’t profit them, that are not a help nor profit, but a shame, and also a reproach.”

⁶ The burden of the animals of the South.

Through the land of trouble and anguish, of the lioness and the lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they carry their riches on the shoulders of young donkeys, and their treasures on the humps of camels, to an unprofitable people. ⁷ For Egypt helps in vain, and to no purpose; therefore I have called her Rahab who sits still. ⁸ Now go, write it before them on a tablet, and inscribe it in a book, that it may be for the time to come forever and ever. ⁹ For it is a rebellious people, lying children, children who will not hear the LORD’s law; ¹⁰ who tell the seers, “Don’t see!” and the prophets, “Don’t prophesy to us right things. Tell us pleasant things. Prophecy deceits. ¹¹ Get out of the way. Turn away from the path. Cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us.” ¹² Therefore the Holy One of Israel says, “Because you despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and rely on it, ¹³ therefore this iniquity shall be to you like a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking comes suddenly in an instant. ¹⁴ He will break it as a potter’s vessel is broken, breaking it in pieces without sparing, so that there won’t be found among the broken pieces a piece good enough to take fire from the hearth, or to dip up water out of the cistern.”

¹⁵ For thus said the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel, “You will be saved in returning and rest. Your strength will be in quietness and in confidence.” You refused, ¹⁶ but you said, “No, for we will flee on horses;” therefore you will flee; and, “We will ride on the swift;” therefore those who pursue you will be swift. ¹⁷ One thousand will flee at the threat of one. At the threat of five, you will flee until you are left like a beacon on the top of a mountain, and like a banner on a hill.

¹⁸ Therefore the LORD will wait, that he may be gracious to you; and therefore he will be exalted, that he may have mercy on you, for the LORD is a God of justice. Blessed are all those who wait for him. ¹⁹ For the people will dwell in Zion at Jerusalem. You will weep no more. He will surely be gracious to you at the voice of your cry. When he hears you, he will answer you. ²⁰ Though the Lord may give you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet your teachers won't be hidden any more, but your eyes will see your teachers; ²¹ and when you turn to the right hand, and when you turn to the left, your ears will hear a voice behind you, saying, "This is the way. Walk in it." ²² You shall defile the overlaying of your engraved images of silver, and the plating of your molten images of gold. You shall cast them away as an unclean thing. You shall tell it, "Go away!"

²³ He will give the rain for your seed, with which you will sow the ground; and bread of the increase of the ground will be rich and plentiful. In that day, your livestock will feed in large pastures. ²⁴ The oxen likewise and the young donkeys that till the ground will eat savory feed, which has been winnowed with the shovel and with the fork. ²⁵ There will be brooks and streams of water on every lofty mountain and on every high hill in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall. ²⁶ Moreover the light of the moon will be like the light of the sun, and the light of the sun will be seven times brighter, like the light of seven days, in the day that the LORD binds up the fracture of his people, and heals the wound they were struck with.

²⁷ Behold, the LORD's name comes from far away, burning with his anger, and in thick rising smoke. His lips are full of indignation. His tongue is as a devouring fire. ²⁸ His breath is as an overflowing stream that reaches even to the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of destruction. A bridle that leads to ruin will be in the jaws of the peoples. ²⁹ You will have a song, as in the night when a holy feast is kept, and gladness of heart, as when one goes with a flute to come to the LORD's mountain, to Israel's Rock. ³⁰ The LORD will cause his glorious voice to be heard, and will show the descent of his arm, with the indignation of his anger and the flame of a devouring fire, with a blast, storm, and hailstones. ³¹ For through the LORD's voice the Assyrian will be dismayed. He will strike him with his rod. ³² Every stroke of the rod of punishment, which the LORD will lay on him, will be with the sound of tambourines and harps. He will fight with them in battles, brandishing weapons. ³³ For his burning place has long been ready. Yes, it is prepared for the king. He has made its pyre deep and large with fire and much wood. The LORD's breath, like a stream of sulfur, kindles it.

- ¹ Woe to those who go down to Egypt for help,
and rely on horses,
and trust in chariots because they are many,
and in horsemen because they are very strong,
but they don't look to the Holy One of Israel,
and they don't seek the LORD!
- ² Yet he also is wise, and will bring disaster, and will not call back his words, but will arise against the house of the evildoers,
and against the help of those who work iniquity.
- ³ Now the Egyptians are men, and not God;
and their horses flesh, and not spirit.
When the LORD stretches out his hand, both he who helps shall stumble, and he who is helped shall fall,

and they all shall be consumed together.

- ⁴For the LORD says to me,
“As the lion and the young lion growling over his prey,
if a multitude of shepherds is called together against him,
will not be dismayed at their voice,
nor abase himself for their noise,
so the LORD of Armies will come down to fight on Mount Zion and on its heights.
- ⁵As birds hovering, so the LORD of Armies will protect Jerusalem.
He will protect and deliver it.
He will pass over and preserve it.”
- ⁶Return to him from whom you have deeply revolted, children of Israel.
⁷For in that day everyone shall cast away his idols of silver and his idols of gold—sin which your own hands have made for you.
- ⁸“The Assyrian will fall by the sword, not of man;
and the sword, not of mankind, shall devour him.
He will flee from the sword,
and his young men will become subject to forced labor.
- ⁹His rock will pass away by reason of terror, and his princes will be afraid of the banner,”
says the LORD, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

32

- ¹Behold, a king shall reign in righteousness,
and princes shall rule in justice.
- ²A man shall be as a hiding place from the wind,
and a covert from the storm,
as streams of water in a dry place,
as the shade of a large rock in a weary land.
- ³The eyes of those who see will not be dim,
and the ears of those who hear will listen.
- ⁴The heart of the rash will understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers will be ready to speak plainly.
- ⁵The fool will no longer be called noble,
nor the scoundrel be highly respected.
- ⁶For the fool will speak folly,
and his heart will work iniquity,
to practice profanity,
and to utter error against the LORD,
to make empty the soul of the hungry,
and to cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.
- ⁷The ways of the scoundrel are evil.
He devises wicked plans to destroy the humble with lying words, even when the needy speaks right.
- ⁸But the noble devises noble things,
and he will continue in noble things.
- ⁹Rise up, you women who are at ease! Hear my voice!

- You careless daughters, give ear to my speech!
10 For days beyond a year you will be troubled, you careless women;
for the vintage will fail.
The harvest won't come.
11 Tremble, you women who are at ease!
Be troubled, you careless ones!
Strip yourselves, make yourselves naked,
and put sackcloth on your waist.
12 Beat your breasts for the pleasant fields,
for the fruitful vine.
13 Thorns and briers will come up on my people's land;
yes, on all the houses of joy in the joyous city.
14 For the palace will be forsaken.
The populous city will be deserted.
The hill and the watchtower will be for dens forever,
a delight for wild donkeys,
a pasture of flocks,
15 until the Spirit is poured on us from on high,
and the wilderness becomes a fruitful field,
and the fruitful field is considered a forest.
16 Then justice will dwell in the wilderness;
and righteousness will remain in the fruitful field.
17 The work of righteousness will be peace,
and the effect of righteousness, quietness and confidence forever.
18 My people will live in a peaceful habitation,
in safe dwellings,
and in quiet resting places, 19 though hail flattens the forest,
and the city is leveled completely.
20 Blessed are you who sow beside all waters, who send out the feet of the ox and the donkey.

33

- 1 Woe to you who destroy, but you weren't destroyed, and who betray, but nobody betrayed you!
When you have finished destroying, you will be destroyed;
and when you have finished betrayal, you will be betrayed.
2 LORD, be gracious to us. We have waited for you.
Be our strength every morning,
our salvation also in the time of trouble.
3 At the noise of the thunder, the peoples have fled.
When you lift yourself up, the nations are scattered.
4 Your plunder will be gathered as the caterpillar gathers.
Men will leap on it as locusts leap.
5 The LORD is exalted, for he dwells on high.
He has filled Zion with justice and righteousness.
6 There will be stability in your times, abundance of salvation, wisdom, and knowledge.
The fear of the LORD is your treasure.

- 7 Behold, their valiant ones cry outside;
the ambassadors of peace weep bitterly.
- 8 The highways are desolate.
The traveling man ceases.
The covenant is broken.
He has despised the cities.
He doesn't respect man.
- 9 The land mourns and languishes.
Lebanon is confounded and withers away.
Sharon is like a desert, and Bashan and Carmel are stripped bare.
- 10 "Now I will arise," says the LORD.
"Now I will lift myself up.
Now I will be exalted.
- 11 You will conceive chaff.
You will give birth to stubble.
Your breath is a fire that will devour you.
- 12 The peoples will be like the burning of lime, like thorns that are cut down and burned in the fire.
- 13 Hear, you who are far off, what I have done;
and, you who are near, acknowledge my might."
- 14 The sinners in Zion are afraid.
Trembling has seized the godless ones.
Who among us can live with the devouring fire?
Who among us can live with everlasting burning?
- 15 He who walks righteously and speaks blamelessly,
he who despises the gain of oppressions,
who gestures with his hands, refusing to take a bribe,
who stops his ears from hearing of bloodshed,
and shuts his eyes from looking at evil—
- 16 he will dwell on high.
His place of defense will be the fortress of rocks.
His bread will be supplied.
His waters will be sure.
- 17 Your eyes will see the king in his beauty.
They will see a distant land.
- 18 Your heart will meditate on the terror.
Where is he who counted?
Where is he who weighed?
Where is he who counted the towers?
- 19 You will no longer see the fierce people,
a people of a deep speech that you can't comprehend,
with a strange language that you can't understand.
- 20 Look at Zion, the city of our appointed festivals.
Your eyes will see Jerusalem, a quiet habitation,
a tent that won't be removed.
Its stakes will never be plucked up,
nor will any of its cords be broken.
- 21 But there the LORD will be with us in majesty,
a place of wide rivers and streams,

in which no galley with oars will go,
neither will any gallant ship pass by there.

- 22 For the LORD is our judge.
The LORD is our lawgiver.
The LORD is our king.
He will save us.

- 23 Your rigging is untied.
They couldn't strengthen the foot of their mast.
They couldn't spread the sail.
Then the prey of a great plunder was divided.
The lame took the prey.

- 24 The inhabitant won't say, "I am sick."
The people who dwell therein will be forgiven their iniquity.

34

- 1 Come near, you nations, to hear!
Listen, you peoples.
Let the earth and all it contains hear,
the world, and everything that comes from it.
- 2 For the LORD is enraged against all the nations,
and angry with all their armies.
He has utterly destroyed them.
He has given them over for slaughter.
- 3 Their slain will also be cast out,
and the stench of their dead bodies will come up.
The mountains will melt in their blood.
- 4 All of the army of the sky will be dissolved.
The sky will be rolled up like a scroll,
and all its armies will fade away,
as a leaf fades from off a vine or a fig tree.
- 5 For my sword has drunk its fill in the sky.
Behold, it will come down on Edom, and on the people of my curse, for judgment.
- 6 The LORD's sword is filled with blood.
It is covered with fat, with the blood of lambs and goats,
with the fat of the kidneys of rams;
for the LORD has a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.
- 7 The wild oxen will come down with them,
and the young bulls with the mighty bulls;
and their land will be drunken with blood,
and their dust made greasy with fat.
- 8 For the LORD has a day of vengeance,
a year of recompense for the cause of Zion.
- 9 Its streams will be turned into pitch, its dust into sulfur,
and its land will become burning pitch.
- 10 It won't be quenched night or day.
Its smoke will go up forever.

- From generation to generation, it will lie waste.
 No one will pass through it forever and ever.
- ¹¹ But the pelican and the porcupine will possess it.
 The owl and the raven will dwell in it.
 He will stretch the line of confusion over it,
 and the plumb line of emptiness.
- ¹² They shall call its nobles to the kingdom, but none shall be there;
 and all its princes shall be nothing.
- ¹³ Thorns will come up in its palaces, nettles and thistles in its fortresses;
 and it will be a habitation of jackals,
 a court for ostriches.
- ¹⁴ The wild animals of the desert will meet with the wolves,
 and the wild goat will cry to his fellow.
 Yes, the night creature* shall settle there,
 and shall find herself a place of rest.
- ¹⁵ The arrow snake will make her nest there,
 and lay, hatch, and gather under her shade.
 Yes, the kites will be gathered there, every one with her mate.
- ¹⁶ Search in the book of the LORD, and read:
 not one of these will be missing.
 None will lack her mate.
 For my mouth has commanded,
 and his Spirit has gathered them.
- ¹⁷ He has cast the lot for them,
 and his hand has divided it to them with a measuring line.
 They shall possess it forever.
 From generation to generation they will dwell in it.

35

- ¹ The wilderness and the dry land will be glad.
 The desert will rejoice and blossom like a rose.
- ² It will blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing.
 Lebanon's glory will be given to it,
 the excellence of Carmel and Sharon.
 They will see the LORD's glory,
 the excellence of our God.
- ³ Strengthen the weak hands,
 and make the feeble knees firm.
- ⁴ Tell those who have a fearful heart, "Be strong!
 Don't be afraid!
 Behold, your God will come with vengeance, God's retribution.
 He will come and save you.
- ⁵ Then the eyes of the blind will be opened,
 and the ears of the deaf will be unstopped.

* 34:14 literally, lilith, which could also be a night demon or night monster

- ⁶ Then the lame man will leap like a deer, and the tongue of the mute will sing;
for waters will break out in the wilderness,
and streams in the desert.
- ⁷ The burning sand will become a pool,
and the thirsty ground springs of water.
Grass with reeds and rushes will be in the habitation of jackals, where they lay.
- ⁸ A highway will be there, a road,
and it will be called "The Holy Way".
The unclean shall not pass over it,
but it will be for those who walk in the Way.
Wicked fools shall not go there.
- ⁹ No lion will be there,
nor will any ravenous animal go up on it.
They will not be found there;
but the redeemed will walk there.
- ¹⁰ Then the LORD's ransomed ones will return,
and come with singing to Zion;
and everlasting joy will be on their heads.
They will obtain gladness and joy,
and sorrow and sighing will flee away."

⁴ Rabshakeh said to them, "Now tell Hezekiah, 'The great king, the king of Assyria, says, "What confidence is this in which you trust? ⁵ I say that your counsel and strength for the war are only vain words. Now in whom do you trust, that you have rebelled against me? ⁶ Behold, you trust in the staff of this bruised reed, even in Egypt, which if a man leans on it, it will go into his hand and pierce it. So is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who trust in him. ⁷ But if you tell me, 'We trust in the LORD our God,' isn't that he whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah has taken away, and has said to Judah and to Jerusalem, 'You shall worship before this altar?' ⁸ Now therefore, please make a pledge to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give you two thousand horses, if you are able on your part to set riders on them. ⁹ How then can you turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put your trust in Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? ¹⁰ Have I come up now without the LORD against this land to destroy it? The LORD said to me, "Go up against this land, and destroy it." ' ' "

¹¹ Then Eliakim, Shebna and Joah said to Rabshakeh, "Please speak to your servants in Aramaic, for we understand it. Don't speak to us in the Jews' language in the hearing of the people who are on the wall."

¹² But Rabshakeh said, "Has my master sent me only to your master and to you, to speak these words, and not to the men who sit on the wall, who will eat their own dung and drink their own urine with you?" ¹³ Then Rabshakeh stood, and called out with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, "Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria! ¹⁴ The king says, 'Don't let Hezekiah deceive you; for he will not be able to deliver you. ¹⁵ Don't let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, "The LORD will surely deliver us. This city won't be given into the hand of the king of Assyria." ' ¹⁶ Don't listen to Hezekiah, for the king of Assyria says, 'Make your peace with me, and come out to me; and each of you eat from his vine, and each one from his fig tree, and each one of you drink the waters of his own cistern; ¹⁷ until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards. ¹⁸ Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, "The LORD will deliver us." Have any of the gods of the nations delivered their lands from the hand of the king of Assyria? ¹⁹ Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? Have they delivered Samaria from my hand? ²⁰ Who are they among all the gods of these countries that have delivered their country out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?' "

²¹ But they remained silent, and said nothing in reply, for the king's commandment was, "Don't answer him."

²² Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, the son of Asaph the recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes torn, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

¹ When King Hezekiah heard it, he tore his clothes, covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the LORD's house. ² He sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz. ³ They said to him, "Hezekiah says, 'Today is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of rejection; for the children have come to the birth, and there is no strength to give birth. ⁴ It may be the LORD your God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master has sent to defy the living God, and will rebuke the words which the LORD your God has heard. Therefore lift up your prayer for the remnant that is left.' "

⁵ So the servants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

⁶ Isaiah said to them, "Tell your master, 'The LORD says, "Don't be afraid of the words that you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me. ⁷ Behold, I will put a spirit in him and he will hear news, and will return to his own land. I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land." ' "

⁸ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah, for he heard that he had departed from Lachish. ⁹ He heard news concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, "He has come out to fight against you." When he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying, ¹⁰ "Thus you shall speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, 'Don't let your God in whom you trust deceive you, saying, "Jerusalem won't be given into the hand of the king of Assyria." ¹¹ Behold, you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly. Shall you be delivered? ¹² Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my fathers have destroyed, Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the children of Eden who were in Telassar? ¹³ Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivvah?"

¹⁴ Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers and read it. Then Hezekiah went up to the LORD's house, and spread it before the LORD. ¹⁵ Hezekiah prayed to the LORD, saying, ¹⁶ "LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, who is enthroned among the cherubim, you are the God, even you alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth. You have made heaven and earth. ¹⁷ Turn your ear, LORD, and hear. Open your eyes, LORD, and behold. Hear all of the words of Sennacherib, who has sent to defy the living God. ¹⁸ Truly, LORD, the kings of Assyria have destroyed all the countries and their land, ¹⁹ and have cast their gods into the fire; for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; therefore they have destroyed them. ²⁰ Now therefore, LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you are the LORD, even you only."

²¹ Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, "The LORD, the God of Israel says, 'Because you have prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria, ²² this is the word which the LORD has spoken concerning him: The virgin daughter of Zion has despised you and ridiculed you. The daughter of Jerusalem has shaken her head at you. ²³ Whom have you defied and blasphemed? Against whom have you exalted your voice and lifted up your eyes on high? Against the Holy One of Israel. ²⁴ By your servants, you have defied the Lord, and have said, "With the multitude of my chariots I have come up to the height of the mountains, to the innermost parts of Lebanon. I will cut down its tall cedars and its choice cypress trees. I will enter into its farthest height, the forest of its fruitful field. ²⁵ I have dug and drunk water, and with the sole of my feet I will dry up all the rivers of Egypt."

²⁶ "Have you not heard how I have done it long ago, and formed it in ancient times? Now I have brought it to pass, that it should be yours to destroy fortified cities, turning them into ruinous heaps. ²⁷ Therefore their inhabitants had little power. They were dismayed and confounded. They were like the grass of the field, and like the green herb, like the grass on the housetops, and like a field before its crop has grown. ²⁸ But I know your sitting down, your going out, your coming in, and your raging against me. ²⁹ Because of your raging against me, and because your arrogance has come up into my ears, therefore I will put my hook in your nose and my bridle in your lips, and I will turn you back by the way by which you came.

³⁰ "This shall be the sign to you: You will eat this year that which grows of itself, and in the second year that which springs from it; and in the third year sow and reap and plant vineyards, and eat their fruit. ³¹ The remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah will again take root downward, and bear fruit upward. ³² For out of Jerusalem a remnant will go out, and survivors will escape from Mount Zion. The zeal of the LORD of Armies will perform this.'

³³ "Therefore the LORD says concerning the king of Assyria, 'He will not come to this city, nor shoot an arrow there, neither will he come before it with shield, nor cast up a mound against it. ³⁴ He will return the way that he came, and he won't come to this city,' says the LORD. ³⁵ 'For I will defend this city to save it, for my own sake, and for my servant David's sake.'

³⁶ Then the LORD's angel went out and struck one hundred and eighty-five thousand men in the camp of the Assyrians. When men arose early in the morning, behold, these were all dead bodies. ³⁷ So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, went away, returned to Nineveh, and stayed there. ³⁸ As he was worshiping in the house of Nisroch his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons struck him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Ararat. Esar Haddon his son reigned in his place.

¹ In those days Hezekiah was sick and near death. Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, came to him, and said to him, "The LORD* says, 'Set your house in order, for you will die, and not live.' "

² Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to the LORD, ³ and said, "Remember now, the LORD, I beg you, how I have walked before you in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in your sight." Then Hezekiah wept bitterly.

⁴ Then the LORD's word came to Isaiah, saying, ⁵ "Go, and tell Hezekiah, 'The LORD, the God of David your father, says, "I have heard your prayer. I have seen your tears. Behold, I will add fifteen years to your life. ⁶ I will deliver you and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city. ⁷ This shall be the sign to you from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he has spoken. ⁸ Behold, I will cause the shadow on the sundial, which has gone down on the sundial of Ahaz with the sun, to return backward ten steps." ' " So the sun returned ten steps on the sundial on which it had gone down.

⁹ The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and had recovered of his sickness:

¹⁰ I said, "In the middle of my life I go into the gates of Sheol.†
I am deprived of the residue of my years."

¹¹ I said, "I won't see the LORD,‡
the LORD§ in the land of the living.
I will see man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

¹² My dwelling is removed,
and is carried away from me like a shepherd's tent.

I have rolled up my life like a weaver.
He will cut me off from the loom.
From day even to night you will make an end of me.

¹³ I waited patiently until morning.
He breaks all my bones like a lion.
From day even to night you will make an end of me.

¹⁴ I chattered like a swallow or a crane.
I moaned like a dove.
My eyes weaken looking upward.
Lord, I am oppressed.
Be my security."

¹⁵ What will I say?
He has both spoken to me, and himself has done it.
I will walk carefully all my years because of the anguish of my soul.

¹⁶ Lord, men live by these things;

* 38:1 LORD or GOD in all caps is from the Hebrew יהוה Yahweh except when otherwise noted as being from the short form יה Yah. † 38:10 Sheol is the place of the dead. ‡ 38:11 Hebrew: יה Yah § 38:11 Hebrew: יה Yah and my spirit finds life in all of them.

You restore me, and cause me to live.

¹⁷ Behold, for peace I had great anguish, but you have in love for my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption;
for you have cast all my sins behind your back.

¹⁸ For Sheol* can't praise you.
Death can't celebrate you.

Those who go down into the pit can't hope for your truth.

¹⁹ The living, the living, he shall praise you, as I do today.
The father shall make known your truth to the children.

²⁰ The LORD will save me.

Therefore we will sing my songs with stringed instruments all the days of our life in the LORD's house.

²¹ Now Isaiah had said, "Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a poultice on the boil, and he shall recover." ²² Hezekiah also had said, "What is the sign that I will go up to the LORD's house?"

¹ At that time, Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah, for he heard that he had been sick, and had recovered. ² Hezekiah was pleased with them, and showed them the house of his precious things, the silver, the gold, the spices, and the precious oil, and all the house of his armor, and all that was found in his treasures.
There was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah didn't show them. ³ Then Isaiah the prophet came to King Hezekiah, and asked him, "What did these men say? From where did they come to you?"

Hezekiah said, "They have come from a country far from me, even from Babylon."

⁴ Then he asked, "What have they seen in your house?"

Hezekiah answered, "They have seen all that is in my house. There is nothing among my treasures that I have not shown them."

⁵ Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, "Hear the word of the LORD of Armies:

⁶ 'Behold, the days are coming when all that is in your house, and that which your fathers have stored up until today, will be carried to Babylon. Nothing will be left,' says the LORD. ⁷ 'They will take away your sons who will issue from you, whom you shall father, and they will be eunuchs in the king of Babylon's palace.'"

⁸ Then Hezekiah said to Isaiah, "The LORD's word which you have spoken is good." He said moreover, "For there will be peace and truth in my days."

¹ "Comfort, comfort my people," says your God. ² "Speak comfortably to Jerusalem, and call out to her that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned, that she has received of the LORD's hand double for all her sins."

³ The voice of one who calls out,

"Prepare the way of the LORD in the wilderness!
Make a level highway in the desert for our God.

⁴ Every valley shall be exalted,
and every mountain and hill shall be made low.

* 38:18 Sheol is the place of the dead.

The uneven shall be made level,
and the rough places a plain.

- 5 The LORD's glory shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together;
for the mouth of the LORD has spoken it."

- 6 The voice of one saying, "Cry out!"
One said, "What shall I cry?"

"All flesh is like grass, and all its glory is like the flower of the field.

- 7 The grass withers,
the flower fades,
because the LORD's breath blows on it.
Surely the people are like grass.

- 8 The grass withers,
the flower fades;
but the word of our God stands forever."

- 9 You who tell good news to Zion, go up on a high mountain.
You who tell good news to Jerusalem, lift up your voice with strength!
Lift it up! Don't be afraid!

Say to the cities of Judah, "Behold, your God!"

- 10 Behold, the Lord GOD will come as a mighty one,
and his arm will rule for him.
Behold, his reward is with him,
and his recompense before him.

- 11 He will feed his flock like a shepherd.
He will gather the lambs in his arm,
and carry them in his bosom.
He will gently lead those who have their young.

- 12 Who has measured the waters in the hollow of his hand,
and marked off the sky with his span,
and calculated the dust of the earth in a measuring basket,
and weighed the mountains in scales,
and the hills in a balance?

- 13 Who has directed the LORD's Spirit, or has taught him as his counselor?

- 14 Who did he take counsel with,
and who instructed him,
and taught him in the path of justice,
and taught him knowledge,
and showed him the way of understanding?

- 15 Behold, the nations are like a drop in a bucket, and are regarded as a speck of dust on a balance.
Behold, he lifts up the islands like a very little thing.

- 16 Lebanon is not sufficient to burn,
nor its animals sufficient for a burnt offering.

- 17 All the nations are like nothing before him.
They are regarded by him as less than nothing, and vanity.

- 18 To whom then will you liken God?

Or what likeness will you compare to him?

- 19 A workman has cast an image,
and the goldsmith overlays it with gold,
and casts silver chains for it.
- 20 He who is too impoverished for such an offering chooses a tree that will not rot.
He seeks a skillful workman to set up a carved image for him that will not be moved.
- 21 Haven't you known?
Haven't you heard?
Haven't you been told from the beginning?
Haven't you understood from the foundations of the earth?
- 22 It is he who sits above the circle of the earth,
and its inhabitants are like grasshoppers;
who stretches out the heavens like a curtain,
and spreads them out like a tent to dwell in, 23 who brings princes to nothing, who makes the judges of the earth meaningless.
- 24 They are planted scarcely.
They are sown scarcely.
Their stock has scarcely taken root in the ground.
He merely blows on them, and they wither,
and the whirlwind takes them away as stubble.
- 25 "To whom then will you liken me?
Who is my equal?" says the Holy One.
- 26 Lift up your eyes on high,
and see who has created these,
who brings out their army by number.
He calls them all by name.
By the greatness of his might,
and because he is strong in power,
not one is lacking.
- 27 Why do you say, Jacob,
and speak, Israel,
"My way is hidden from the LORD,
and the justice due me is disregarded by my God"?
- 28 Haven't you known?
Haven't you heard?
The everlasting God, the LORD,
the Creator of the ends of the earth, doesn't faint.
He isn't weary.
His understanding is unsearchable.
- 29 He gives power to the weak.
He increases the strength of him who has no might.
- 30 Even the youths faint and get weary,
and the young men utterly fall;
31 but those who wait for the LORD will renew their strength.
They will mount up with wings like eagles.
They will run, and not be weary.

They will walk, and not faint.

41

- ¹ “Keep silent before me, islands,
and let the peoples renew their strength.
Let them come near,
then let them speak.
Let’s meet together for judgment.
- ² Who has raised up one from the east?
Who called him to his feet in righteousness?
He hands over nations to him
and makes him rule over kings.
He gives them like the dust to his sword,
like the driven stubble to his bow.
- ³ He pursues them
and passes by safely,
even by a way that he had not gone with his feet.
- ⁴ Who has worked and done it,
calling the generations from the beginning?
I, the LORD, the first, and with the last, I am he.”
- ⁵ The islands have seen, and fear.
The ends of the earth tremble.
They approach, and come.
- ⁶ Everyone helps his neighbor.
They say to their brothers, “Be strong!”
- ⁷ So the carpenter encourages the goldsmith.
He who smooths with the hammer encourages him who strikes the anvil, saying of the soldering, “It is good;”
and he fastens it with nails, that it might not totter.
- ⁸ “But you, Israel, my servant,
Jacob whom I have chosen,
the offspring of Abraham my friend,
⁹ you whom I have taken hold of from the ends of the earth, and called from its corners, and said to you, ‘You are my servant. I have chosen you and have not cast you away.’
- ¹⁰ Don’t you be afraid, for I am with you.
Don’t be dismayed, for I am your God.
I will strengthen you.
Yes, I will help you.
Yes, I will uphold you with the right hand of my righteousness.
- ¹¹ Behold, all those who are incensed against you will be disappointed and confounded.
Those who strive with you will be like nothing, and shall perish.
- ¹² You will seek them, and won’t find them,
even those who contend with you.
Those who war against you will be as nothing,
as a nonexistent thing.
- ¹³ For I, the LORD your God, will hold your right hand, saying to you, 'Don't be afraid.

I will help you.'

¹⁴ Don't be afraid, you worm Jacob, and you men of Israel.

I will help you," says the LORD.

"Your Redeemer is the Holy One of Israel.

¹⁵ Behold, I have made you into a new sharp threshing instrument with teeth.
You will thresh the mountains, and beat them small,
and will make the hills like chaff.

¹⁶ You will winnow them,
and the wind will carry them away,
and the whirlwind will scatter them.
You will rejoice in the LORD.

You will glory in the Holy One of Israel.

¹⁷ The poor and needy seek water, and there is none.
Their tongue fails for thirst.

I, the LORD, will answer them.

I, the God of Israel, will not forsake them.

¹⁸ I will open rivers on the bare heights, and springs in the middle of the valleys.
I will make the wilderness a pool of water,
and the dry land springs of water.

¹⁹ I will put cedar, acacia, myrtle, and oil trees in the wilderness.
I will set cypress trees, pine, and box trees together in the desert;
²⁰ that they may see, know, consider, and understand together;
that the LORD's hand has done this,
and the Holy One of Israel has created it.

²¹ Produce your cause," says the LORD.

"Bring out your strong reasons!" says the King of Jacob.

²² "Let them announce and declare to us what will happen!

Declare the former things, what they are,
that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them;
or show us things to come.

²³ Declare the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that you are gods.

Yes, do good, or do evil,
that we may be dismayed,
and see it together.

²⁴ Behold, you are nothing,
and your work is nothing.
He who chooses you is an abomination.

²⁵ "I have raised up one from the north, and he has come, from the rising of the sun, one who calls on my name,
and he shall come on rulers as on mortar,
and as the potter treads clay.

²⁶ Who has declared it from the beginning, that we may know?
and before, that we may say, 'He is right'?
Surely, there is no one who declares.

Surely, there is no one who shows.
Surely, there is no one who hears your words.

- ²⁷ I am the first to say to Zion, 'Behold, look at them,' and I will give one who brings good news to Jerusalem.
- ²⁸ When I look, there is no man, even among them there is no counselor who, when I ask, can answer a word.
- ²⁹ Behold, all of their deeds are vanity and nothing.
Their molten images are wind and confusion.

42

- ¹ "Behold, my servant, whom I uphold,
my chosen, in whom my soul delights:
I have put my Spirit on him.
He will bring justice to the nations.
- ² He will not shout,
nor raise his voice,
nor cause it to be heard in the street.
- ³ He won't break a bruised reed.
He won't quench a dimly burning wick.
He will faithfully bring justice.
- ⁴ He will not fail nor be discouraged,
until he has set justice in the earth, and the islands wait for his law."
- ⁵ God the LORD,
he who created the heavens and stretched them out,
he who spread out the earth and that which comes out of it, he who gives breath to its people and spirit to those who walk in it, says:
- ⁶ "I, the LORD, have called you in righteousness.
I will hold your hand.
I will keep you,
and make you a covenant for the people,
as a light for the nations,
- ⁷ to open the blind eyes,
to bring the prisoners out of the dungeon,
and those who sit in darkness out of the prison.
- ⁸ "I am the LORD.
That is my name.
I will not give my glory to another,
nor my praise to engraved images.
- ⁹ Behold, the former things have happened and I declare new things.
I tell you about them before they come up."
- ¹⁰ Sing to the LORD a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth,
you who go down to the sea,
and all that is therein,
the islands and their inhabitants.
- ¹¹ Let the wilderness and its cities raise their voices,

- with the villages that Kedar inhabits.
Let the inhabitants of Sela sing.
Let them shout from the top of the mountains!
- 12 Let them give glory to the LORD,
and declare his praise in the islands.
- 13 The LORD will go out like a mighty man.
He will stir up zeal like a man of war.
He will raise a war cry.
Yes, he will shout aloud.
He will triumph over his enemies.
- 14 "I have been silent a long time.
I have been quiet and restrained myself.
Now I will cry out like a travailing woman. I will both gasp and pant.
- 15 I will destroy mountains and hills,
and dry up all their herbs.
I will make the rivers islands,
and will dry up the pools.
- 16 I will bring the blind by a way that they don't know.
I will lead them in paths that they don't know.
I will make darkness light before them,
and crooked places straight.
I will do these things,
and I will not forsake them.
- 17 "Those who trust in engraved images,
who tell molten images,
'You are our gods,'
will be turned back.
They will be utterly disappointed.
- 18 "Hear, you deaf,
and look, you blind,
that you may see.
- 19 Who is blind, but my servant?
Or who is as deaf as my messenger whom I send?
Who is as blind as he who is at peace,
and as blind as the LORD's servant?
- 20 You see many things, but don't observe.
His ears are open, but he doesn't listen.
- 21 It pleased the LORD, for his righteousness' sake, to magnify the law and make it honorable.
- 22 But this is a robbed and plundered people.
All of them are snared in holes,
and they are hidden in prisons.
They have become captives, and no one delivers, and a plunder, and no one says, 'Restore them!'
- 23 Who is there among you who will give ear to this?
Who will listen and hear for the time to come?
- 24 Who gave Jacob as plunder,
and Israel to the robbers?
Didn't the LORD, he against whom we have sinned?

For they would not walk in his ways,
and they disobeyed his law.

²⁵ Therefore he poured the fierceness of his anger on him, and the strength of battle.

It set him on fire all around, but he didn't know.
It burned him, but he didn't take it to heart."

43

¹ But now the LORD who created you, Jacob, and he who formed you, Israel, says:

"Don't be afraid, for I have redeemed you.
I have called you by your name.

You are mine.

² When you pass through the waters, I will be with you,
and through the rivers, they will not overflow you.

When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned,
and flame will not scorch you.

³ For I am the LORD your God,
the Holy One of Israel,
your Savior.

I have given Egypt as your ransom,
Ethiopia and Seba in your place.

⁴ Since you have been precious and honored in my sight,
and I have loved you,
therefore I will give people in your place,
and nations instead of your life.

⁵ Don't be afraid, for I am with you.
I will bring your offspring from the east,
and gather you from the west.

⁶ I will tell the north, 'Give them up!'
and tell the south, 'Don't hold them back!
Bring my sons from far away,
and my daughters from the ends of the earth—

⁷ everyone who is called by my name, and whom I have created for my glory, whom I have formed,
yes, whom I have made.' "

⁸ Bring out the blind people who have eyes, and the deaf who have ears.

⁹ Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the peoples be assembled.

Who among them can declare this,
and show us former things?

Let them bring their witnesses, that they may be justified, or let them hear, and say, "That is true."

¹⁰ "You are my witnesses," says the LORD,
"With my servant whom I have chosen;
that you may know and believe me,
and understand that I am he.

Before me there was no God formed, neither will there be after me.

¹¹ I myself am the LORD.

Besides me, there is no savior.

¹² I have declared, I have saved, and I have shown,
and there was no strange god among you.

Therefore you are my witnesses", says the LORD, "and I am God.

¹³ Yes, since the day was, I am he.

There is no one who can deliver out of my hand.

I will work, and who can hinder it?"

¹⁴ The LORD, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel says: "For your sake, I have sent to Babylon, and I will bring all of them down as fugitives, even the Chaldeans, in the ships of their rejoicing. ¹⁵ I am the LORD, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King."

¹⁶ The LORD, who makes a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters,

¹⁷ who brings out the chariot and horse,
the army and the mighty man (they lie down together; they shall not rise;
they are extinct, they are quenched like a wick) says:

¹⁸ "Don't remember the former things,
and don't consider the things of old.

¹⁹ Behold, I will do a new thing.

It springs out now.

Don't you know it?

I will even make a way in the wilderness,
and rivers in the desert.

²⁰ The animals of the field, the jackals and the ostriches, shall honor me, because I give water in the wilderness and rivers in the desert,
to give drink to my people, my chosen,

²¹ the people which I formed for myself,
that they might declare my praise.

²² Yet you have not called on me, Jacob; but you have been weary of me, Israel.

²³ You have not brought me any of your sheep for burnt offerings, neither have you honored me with your sacrifices.

I have not burdened you with offerings,
nor wearied you with frankincense.

²⁴ You have bought me no sweet cane with money, nor have you filled me with the fat of your sacrifices,
but you have burdened me with your sins.

You have wearied me with your iniquities.

²⁵ I, even I, am he who blots out your transgressions for my own sake;
and I will not remember your sins.

²⁶ Put me in remembrance.

Let us plead together.

Declare your case,
that you may be justified.

²⁷ Your first father sinned,
and your teachers have transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I will profane the princes of the sanctuary;
and I will make Jacob a curse,
and Israel an insult."

44

1 Yet listen now, Jacob my servant, and Israel, whom I have chosen.

2 This is what the LORD who made you,
and formed you from the womb,
who will help you says:

"Don't be afraid, Jacob my servant;
and you, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen.

3 For I will pour water on him who is thirsty, and streams on the dry ground.

I will pour my Spirit on your descendants,
and my blessing on your offspring;

4 and they will spring up among the grass, as willows by the watercourses.

5 One will say, 'I am the LORD's.'

Another will be called by the name of Jacob;
and another will write with his hand 'to the LORD,'
and honor the name of Israel."

6 This is what the LORD, the King of Israel, and his Redeemer, the LORD of Armies, says:

"I am the first, and I am the last;
and besides me there is no God.

7 Who is like me?

Who will call,
and will declare it,
and set it in order for me,
since I established the ancient people?

Let them declare the things that are coming,
and that will happen.

8 Don't fear,
neither be afraid.

Haven't I declared it to you long ago,
and shown it?

You are my witnesses.

Is there a God besides me?

Indeed, there is not.

I don't know any other Rock."

9 Everyone who makes a carved image is vain.

The things that they delight in will not profit.

Their own witnesses don't see, nor know, that they may be disappointed.

10 Who has fashioned a god, or molds an image that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all his fellows will be disappointed;

and the workmen are mere men.

Let them all be gathered together.

Let them stand up.

They will fear.

They will be put to shame together.

¹² The blacksmith takes an ax, works in the coals,
fashions it with hammers,
and works it with his strong arm.

He is hungry,
and his strength fails;
he drinks no water,
and is faint.

¹³ The carpenter stretches out a line.
He marks it out with a pencil.
He shapes it with planes.
He marks it out with compasses, and shapes it like the figure of a man,
with the beauty of a man,
to reside in a house.

¹⁴ He cuts down cedars for himself, and takes the cypress and the oak,
and strengthens for himself one among the trees of the forest.
He plants a cypress tree,
and the rain nourishes it.

¹⁵ Then it will be for a man to burn;
and he takes some of it and warms himself.
Yes, he burns it and bakes bread.

Yes, he makes a god and worships it;
he makes it a carved image, and falls down to it.

¹⁶ He burns part of it in the fire.
With part of it, he eats meat.
He roasts a roast and is satisfied.

Yes, he warms himself and says, "Aha! I am warm. I have seen the fire."

¹⁷ The rest of it he makes into a god, even his engraved image.

He bows down to it and worships, and prays to it, and says, "Deliver me, for you are my god!"

¹⁸ They don't know, neither do they consider, for he has shut their eyes, that they can't see,
and their hearts, that they can't understand.

¹⁹ No one thinks,
neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say,
"I have burned part of it in the fire.
Yes, I have also baked bread on its coals.
I have roasted meat and eaten it.
Shall I make the rest of it into an abomination?
Shall I bow down to a tree trunk?"

²⁰ He feeds on ashes.
A deceived heart has turned him aside;
and he can't deliver his soul,
nor say, "Isn't there a lie in my right hand?"

²¹ Remember these things, Jacob and Israel, for you are my servant.

I have formed you.

You are my servant.

Israel, you will not be forgotten by me.

²² I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, your transgressions, and, as a cloud, your sins.

Return to me, for I have redeemed you.

²³ Sing, you heavens, for the LORD has done it!

Shout, you lower parts of the earth!

Break out into singing, you mountains, O forest, all of your trees, for the LORD has redeemed Jacob, and will glorify himself in Israel.

²⁴ The LORD, your Redeemer, and he who formed you from the womb says:

“I am the LORD, who makes all things;

who alone stretches out the heavens;

who spreads out the earth by myself;

²⁵ who frustrates the signs of the liars,

and makes diviners mad;

who turns wise men backward,

and makes their knowledge foolish;

²⁶ who confirms the word of his servant,

and performs the counsel of his messengers;

who says of Jerusalem, ‘She will be inhabited;’

and of the cities of Judah, ‘They will be built,’

and ‘I will raise up its waste places;’

²⁷ who says to the deep, ‘Be dry,’

and ‘I will dry up your rivers,’

²⁸ who says of Cyrus, ‘He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure,’ even saying of Jerusalem, ‘She will be built;’

and of the temple, ‘Your foundation will be laid.’ ”

45

¹ The LORD says to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have held to subdue nations before him and strip kings of their armor, to open the doors before him, and the gates shall not be shut:

² “I will go before you and make the rough places smooth.

I will break the doors of bronze in pieces and cut apart the bars of iron.

³ I will give you the treasures of darkness and hidden riches of secret places, that you may know that it is I, the LORD, who calls you by your name, even the God of Israel.

⁴ For Jacob my servant’s sake, and Israel my chosen,

I have called you by your name.

I have given you a title,

though you have not known me.

⁵ I am the LORD, and there is no one else.
Besides me, there is no God.

I will strengthen* you,
though you have not known me,
⁶ that they may know from the rising of the sun,
and from the west,
that there is no one besides me.
I am the LORD, and there is no one else.

⁷ I form the light and create darkness.
I make peace
and create calamity.
I am the LORD,
who does all these things.

⁸ Rain, you heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness.
Let the earth open, that it may produce salvation,
and let it cause righteousness to spring up with it.
I, the LORD, have created it.

⁹ Woe to him who strives with his Maker—
a clay pot among the clay pots of the earth!
Shall the clay ask him who fashions it, 'What are you making?'
or your work, 'He has no hands'?

¹⁰ Woe to him who says to a father, 'What have you become the father of?'
or to a mother, 'What have you given birth to?' "

¹¹ The LORD, the Holy One of Israel and his Maker says:
"You ask me about the things that are to come, concerning my sons,
and you command me concerning the work of my hands!

¹² I have made the earth, and created man on it.
I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens.
I have commanded all their army.

¹³ I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will make all his ways straight.
He shall build my city,
and he shall let my exiles go free,
not for price nor reward," says the LORD of Armies.

¹⁴ The LORD says: "The labor of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia,
and the Sabeans, men of stature, will come over to you,
and they will be yours.

They will go after you.
They shall come over in chains.
They will bow down to you.
They will make supplication to you:
'Surely God is in you; and there is no one else.
There is no other god.

¹⁵ Most certainly you are a God who has hidden yourself,

* 45:5 or, equip

God of Israel, the Savior.' "

16 They will be disappointed,
yes, confounded, all of them.

Those who are makers of idols will go into confusion together.

17 Israel will be saved by the LORD with an everlasting salvation.
You will not be disappointed nor confounded to ages everlasting.

18 For the LORD who created the heavens,
the God who formed the earth and made it,
who established it and didn't create it a waste,
who formed it to be inhabited says:

"I am the LORD.

There is no other.

19 I have not spoken in secret,
in a place of the land of darkness.

I didn't say to the offspring of Jacob, 'Seek me in vain.'
I, the LORD, speak righteousness.
I declare things that are right.

20 "Assemble yourselves and come.

Draw near together, you who have escaped from the nations.

Those have no knowledge who carry the wood of their engraved image, and pray to a god that can't save.

21 Declare and present it.

Yes, let them take counsel together.

Who has shown this from ancient time?

Who has declared it of old?

Haven't I, the LORD?

There is no other God besides me, a just God and a Savior.

There is no one besides me.

22 "Look to me, and be saved, all the ends of the earth;
for I am God, and there is no other.

23 I have sworn by myself.

The word has gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and will not be revoked,

that to me every knee shall bow,
every tongue shall take an oath.

24 They will say of me,

"There is righteousness and strength only in the LORD.' "

Even to him will men come.

All those who raged against him will be disappointed.

25 All the offspring of Israel will be justified in the LORD, and will rejoice!

46

1 Bel bows down.

Nebo stoops.

Their idols are carried by animals,
and on the livestock.

The things that you carried around are heavy loads,
a burden for the weary.

2 They stoop and they bow down together.

They could not deliver the burden,
but they have gone into captivity.

³ “Listen to me, house of Jacob,
and all the remnant of the house of Israel,
that have been carried from their birth,
that have been carried from the womb.

⁴ Even to old age I am he,
and even to gray hairs I will carry you.
I have made, and I will bear.
Yes, I will carry, and will deliver.

⁵ “To whom will you compare me, and consider my equal,
and compare me, as if we were the same?

⁶ Some pour out gold from the bag, and weigh silver in the balance.

They hire a goldsmith,
and he makes it a god.

They fall down—
yes, they worship.

⁷ They bear it on their shoulder.
They carry it, and set it in its place, and it stands there.
It cannot move from its place.

Yes, one may cry to it, yet it can not answer.
It cannot save him out of his trouble.

⁸ “Remember this, and show yourselves men.
Bring it to mind again, you transgressors.

⁹ Remember the former things of old;
for I am God, and there is no other.
I am God, and there is none like me.

¹⁰ I declare the end from the beginning, and from ancient times things that are not yet done.
I say: My counsel will stand,
and I will do all that I please.

¹¹ I call a ravenous bird from the east,
the man of my counsel from a far country.
Yes, I have spoken.
I will also bring it to pass.

I have planned.
I will also do it.

¹² Listen to me, you stubborn-hearted, who are far from righteousness!

¹³ I bring my righteousness near.
It is not far off,
and my salvation will not wait.

I will grant salvation to Zion,
my glory to Israel.

47

¹ “Come down and sit in the dust, virgin daughter of Babylon.

Sit on the ground without a throne, daughter of the Chaldeans.
For you will no longer be called tender and delicate.

² Take the millstones and grind flour.

Remove your veil, lift up your skirt, uncover your legs,
and wade through the rivers.

³ Your nakedness will be uncovered.

Yes, your shame will be seen.

I will take vengeance,
and will spare no one.”

⁴ Our Redeemer, the LORD of Armies is his name, is the Holy One of Israel.

⁵ “Sit in silence, and go into darkness, daughter of the Chaldeans.

For you shall no longer be called the mistress of kingdoms.

⁶ I was angry with my people.

I profaned my inheritance and gave them into your hand.

You showed them no mercy.

You laid a very heavy yoke on the aged.

⁷ You said, ‘I will be a princess forever,’ so that you didn’t lay these things to your heart, nor did you remember the results.

⁸ “Now therefore hear this, you who are given to pleasures, who sit securely,

who say in your heart,

‘I am, and there is no one else besides me.

I won’t sit as a widow,

neither will I know the loss of children.’

⁹ But these two things will come to you in a moment in one day:

the loss of children and widowhood.

They will come on you in their full measure,

in the multitude of your sorceries,

and the great abundance of your enchantments.

¹⁰ For you have trusted in your wickedness.

You have said, ‘No one sees me.’

Your wisdom and your knowledge has perverted you.

You have said in your heart, ‘I am, and there is no one else besides me.’

¹¹ Therefore disaster will come on you.

You won’t know when it dawns.

Mischief will fall on you.

You won’t be able to put it away.

Desolation will come on you suddenly,
which you don’t understand.

¹² “Stand now with your enchantments and with the multitude of your sorceries,

in which you have labored from your youth,

as if you might profit,

as if you might prevail.

¹³ You are wearied in the multitude of your counsels.

Now let the astrologers, the stargazers, and the monthly prognosticators stand up and save you from the things that will happen to you.

¹⁴ Behold, they are like stubble.

The fire will burn them.

They won't deliver themselves from the power of the flame.

It won't be a coal to warm at or a fire to sit by.

¹⁵ The things that you labored in will be like this:

those who have trafficked with you from your youth will each wander in his own way.

There will be no one to save you.

¹ "Hear this, house of Jacob,

you who are called by the name of Israel,
and have come out of the waters of Judah.

You swear by the LORD's name, and make mention of the God of Israel,

but not in truth, nor in righteousness—

² for they call themselves citizens of the holy city, and rely on the God of Israel;

the LORD of Armies is his name.

³ I have declared the former things from of old.

Yes, they went out of my mouth, and I revealed them.

I did them suddenly, and they happened.

⁴ Because I knew that you are obstinate, and your neck is an iron sinew,

and your brow bronze;

⁵ therefore I have declared it to you from of old;

before it came to pass I showed it to you;

lest you should say, 'My idol has done them.

My engraved image and my molten image has commanded them.'

⁶ You have heard it.

Now see all this.

And you, won't you declare it?

"I have shown you new things from this time,

even hidden things, which you have not known.

⁷ They are created now, and not from of old.

Before today, you didn't hear them, lest you should say, 'Behold, I knew them.'

⁸ Yes, you didn't hear.

Yes, you didn't know.

Yes, from of old your ear was not opened,

for I knew that you dealt very treacherously, and were called a transgressor from the womb.

⁹ For my name's sake, I will defer my anger, and for my praise, I hold it back for you so that I don't cut you off.

¹⁰ Behold, I have refined you,
but not as silver.
I have chosen you in the furnace of affliction.

¹¹ For my own sake,
for my own sake, I will do it;
for how would my name be profaned?
I will not give my glory to another.

¹² "Listen to me, O Jacob, and Israel my called:
I am he.

I am the first.
I am also the last.

¹³ Yes, my hand has laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand has spread out the heavens.
when I call to them, they stand up together.

¹⁴ "Assemble yourselves, all of you, and hear!
Who among them has declared these things?
He whom the LORD loves will do what he likes to Babylon, and his arm will be against the Chaldeans.

¹⁵ I, even I, have spoken.
Yes, I have called him.

I have brought him
and he shall make his way prosperous.

¹⁶ "Come near to me and hear this:

"From the beginning I have not spoken in secret;
from the time that it happened, I was there."

Now the Lord GOD has sent me with his Spirit.

¹⁷ The LORD,
your Redeemer,
the Holy One of Israel, says:

"I am the LORD your God,
who teaches you to profit,
who leads you by the way that you should go.

¹⁸ Oh that you had listened to my commandments!
Then your peace would have been like a river and your righteousness like the waves of the sea.

¹⁹ Your offspring also would have been as the sand and the descendants of your body like its grains.
His name would not be cut off nor destroyed from before me."

²⁰ Leave Babylon!

Flee from the Chaldeans!

With the sound of joyful shouting announce this,
tell it even to the end of the earth;
say, "The LORD has redeemed his servant Jacob!"

²¹ They didn't thirst when he led them through the deserts.
He caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them.
He also split the rock and the waters gushed out.

²² "There is no peace", says the LORD, "for the wicked."

Listen, you peoples, from afar:
the LORD has called me from the womb;
from the inside of my mother, he has mentioned my name.

² He has made my mouth like a sharp sword.
He has hidden me in the shadow of his hand.
He has made me a polished shaft.
He has kept me close in his quiver.

³ He said to me, "You are my servant,
Israel, in whom I will be glorified."

⁴ But I said, "I have labored in vain.
I have spent my strength in vain for nothing;
yet surely the justice due to me is with the LORD,
and my reward with my God."

⁵ Now the LORD, he who formed me from the womb to be his servant, says to bring Jacob again to him,
and to gather Israel to him,
for I am honorable in the LORD's eyes,
and my God has become my strength.

⁶ Indeed, he says, "It is too light a thing that you should be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob,
and to restore the preserved of Israel.
I will also give you as a light to the nations, that you may be my salvation to the end of the earth."

⁷ The LORD, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, says to him whom man despises, to him whom the nation abhors, to a servant of rulers:
"Kings shall see and rise up,
princes, and they shall worship, because of the LORD who is faithful, even the Holy One of Israel, who has chosen you."

⁸ The LORD says, "I have answered you in an acceptable time.
I have helped you in a day of salvation.
I will preserve you and give you for a covenant of the people, to raise up the land, to make them inherit the desolate heritage,

⁹ saying to those who are bound, 'Come out!';
to those who are in darkness, 'Show yourselves!'
"They shall feed along the paths, and their pasture shall be on all treeless heights.

¹⁰ They shall not hunger nor thirst;
neither shall the heat nor sun strike them,
for he who has mercy on them will lead them.
He will guide them by springs of water.

- ¹¹ I will make all my mountains a road,
and my highways shall be exalted.
- ¹² Behold, these shall come from afar;
and behold, these from the north and from the west,
and these from the land of Sinim.”
- ¹³ Sing, heavens, and be joyful, earth!
Break out into singing, mountains!
For the LORD has comforted his people,
and will have compassion on his afflicted.
- ¹⁴ But Zion said, “The LORD has forsaken me, and the Lord has forgotten me.”
- ¹⁵ “Can a woman forget her nursing child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb?
Yes, these may forget,
yet I will not forget you!
- ¹⁶ Behold, I have engraved you on the palms of my hands.
Your walls are continually before me.
- ¹⁷ Your children hurry.
Your destroyers and those who devastated you will leave you.
- ¹⁸ Lift up your eyes all around, and see:
all these gather themselves together, and come to you.
As I live,” says the LORD, “you shall surely clothe yourself with them all as with an ornament,
and dress yourself with them, like a bride.
- ¹⁹ “For, as for your waste and your desolate places, and your land that has been destroyed, surely now that land will be too small for the inhabitants, and those who swallowed you up will be far away.
- ²⁰ The children of your bereavement will say in your ears,
‘This place is too small for me.
Give me a place to live in.’
- ²¹ Then you will say in your heart, ‘Who has conceived these for me, since I have been bereaved of my children and am alone, an exile, and wandering back and forth?
Who has brought these up?
Behold, I was left alone. Where were these?’ ”
- ²² The Lord GOD says, “Behold, I will lift up my hand to the nations, and lift up my banner to the peoples.
They shall bring your sons in their bosom,
and your daughters shall be carried on their shoulders.
- ²³ Kings shall be your foster fathers, and their queens your nursing mothers.
They will bow down to you with their faces to the earth,
and lick the dust of your feet.
Then you will know that I am the LORD;
and those who wait for me won’t be disappointed.”
- ²⁴ Shall the plunder be taken from the mighty,
or the lawful captives be delivered?

²⁵ But the LORD says, "Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the plunder retrieved from the fierce,
for I will contend with him who contends with you and I will save your children.
²⁶ I will feed those who oppress you with their own flesh;
and they will be drunk on their own blood, as with sweet wine.
Then all flesh shall know that I, the LORD, am your Savior and your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob."

¹ The LORD says, "Where is the bill of your mother's divorce, with which I have put her away?
Or to which of my creditors have I sold you?
Behold, you were sold for your iniquities,
and your mother was put away for your transgressions.
² Why, when I came, was there no one?
When I called, why was there no one to answer?
Is my hand shortened at all, that it can't redeem?
Or have I no power to deliver?
Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea.
I make the rivers a wilderness.
Their fish stink because there is no water, and die of thirst.
³ I clothe the heavens with blackness.
I make sackcloth their covering."

⁴ The Lord GOD has given me the tongue of those who are taught, that I may know how to sustain with words him who is weary.
He awakens morning by morning,
he awakens my ear to hear as those who are taught.
⁵ The Lord GOD has opened my ear.
I was not rebellious.
I have not turned back.
⁶ I gave my back to those who beat me,
and my cheeks to those who plucked off the hair.
I didn't hide my face from shame and spitting.
⁷ For the Lord GOD will help me.
Therefore I have not been confounded.
Therefore I have set my face like a flint,
and I know that I won't be disappointed.
⁸ He who justifies me is near.
Who will bring charges against me?
Let us stand up together.
Who is my adversary?
Let him come near to me.
⁹ Behold, the Lord GOD will help me!
Who is he who will condemn me?
Behold, they will all grow old like a garment.
The moths will eat them up.

¹⁰ Who among you fears the LORD and obeys the voice of his servant?
He who walks in darkness and has no light,

let him trust in the LORD's name,
and rely on his God.

¹¹ Behold, all you who kindle a fire,
who adorn yourselves with torches around yourselves,
walk in the flame of your fire,
and among the torches that you have kindled.
You will have this from my hand:
you will lie down in sorrow.

51

¹ "Listen to me, you who follow after righteousness, you who seek the LORD.

Look to the rock you were cut from,
and to the quarry you were dug from.

² Look to Abraham your father;
and to Sarah who bore you;
for when he was but one I called him,
I blessed him,
and made him many.

³ For the LORD has comforted Zion.
He has comforted all her waste places,
and has made her wilderness like Eden,
and her desert like the garden of the LORD.
Joy and gladness will be found in them,
thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.

⁴ "Listen to me, my people;
and hear me, my nation,
for a law will go out from me,
and I will establish my justice for a light to the peoples.

⁵ My righteousness is near.
My salvation has gone out,
and my arms will judge the peoples.

The islands will wait for me,
and they will trust my arm.

⁶ Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look at the earth beneath;
for the heavens will vanish away like smoke,
and the earth will wear out like a garment.
Its inhabitants will die in the same way,
but my salvation will be forever,
and my righteousness will not be abolished.

⁷ "Listen to me, you who know righteousness,
the people in whose heart is my law.
Don't fear the reproach of men,
and don't be dismayed at their insults.

⁸ For the moth will eat them up like a garment, and the worm will eat them like wool;
but my righteousness will be forever,
and my salvation to all generations."

⁹ Awake, awake, put on strength, arm of the LORD!

Awake, as in the days of old,
the generations of ancient times.

Isn't it you who cut Rahab in pieces,
who pierced the monster?

¹⁰ Isn't it you who dried up the sea,
the waters of the great deep;
who made the depths of the sea a way for the redeemed to pass over?

¹¹ Those ransomed by the LORD will return,
and come with singing to Zion.
Everlasting joy shall be on their heads.

They will obtain gladness and joy.
Sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

¹² "I, even I, am he who comforts you.

Who are you, that you are afraid of man who shall die,
and of the son of man who will be made as grass?

¹³ Have you forgotten the LORD your Maker, who stretched out the heavens,
and laid the foundations of the earth?

Do you live in fear continually all day because of the fury of the oppressor, when he prepares to destroy?
Where is the fury of the oppressor?

¹⁴ The captive exile will speedily be freed.
He will not die and go down into the pit.
His bread won't fail.

¹⁵ For I am the LORD your God, who stirs up the sea
so that its waves roar.
the LORD of Armies is his name.

¹⁶ I have put my words in your mouth and have covered you in the shadow of my hand, that I may plant the heavens,
and lay the foundations of the earth, and tell Zion, 'You are my people.' "

¹⁷ Awake, awake!

Stand up, Jerusalem,
you who have drunk from the LORD's hand the cup of his wrath.

You have drunken the bowl of the cup of staggering, and drained it.

¹⁸ There is no one to guide her among all the sons to whom she has given birth;
and there is no one who takes her by the hand among all the sons whom she has brought up.

¹⁹ These two things have happened to you—who will grieve with you?—

desolation and destruction, and famine and the sword.
How can I comfort you?

²⁰ Your sons have fainted.
They lie at the head of all the streets,
like an antelope in a net.

They are full of the LORD's wrath,
the rebuke of your God.

²¹ Therefore now hear this, you afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine:

²² Your Lord GOD,
your God who pleads the cause of his people, says,
"Behold, I have taken out of your hand the cup of staggering,
even the bowl of the cup of my wrath.
You will not drink it any more.

²³ I will put it into the hand of those who afflict you, who have said to your soul, 'Bow down, that we may walk over you;'
and you have laid your back as the ground, like a street to those who walk over."

¹ Awake, awake! Put on your strength, Zion.
Put on your beautiful garments, Jerusalem, the holy city, for from now on the uncircumcised and the unclean will no more come into you.

² Shake yourself from the dust!
Arise, sit up, Jerusalem!
Release yourself from the bonds of your neck, captive daughter of Zion!

³ For the LORD says, "You were sold for nothing;
and you will be redeemed without money."

⁴ For the Lord GOD says:
"My people went down at the first into Egypt to live there;
and the Assyrian has oppressed them without cause.

⁵ "Now therefore, what do I do here," says the LORD,
"seeing that my people are taken away for nothing?
Those who rule over them mock," says the LORD,
"and my name is blasphemed continually all day long.

⁶ Therefore my people shall know my name.
Therefore they shall know in that day that I am he who speaks.
Behold, it is I."

⁷ How beautiful on the mountains are the feet of him who brings good news, who publishes peace,
who brings good news,
who proclaims salvation,
who says to Zion, "Your God reigns!"

⁸ Your watchmen lift up their voice.
Together they sing;
for they shall see eye to eye when the LORD returns to Zion.

⁹ Break out into joy!
Sing together, you waste places of Jerusalem;
for the LORD has comforted his people.
He has redeemed Jerusalem.

¹⁰ The LORD has made his holy arm bare in the eyes of all the nations.

All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

- ¹¹ Depart! Depart! Go out from there! Touch no unclean thing!
Go out from among her!
Cleanse yourselves, you who carry the LORD's vessels.
- ¹² For you shall not go out in haste,
neither shall you go by flight;
for the LORD will go before you,
and the God of Israel will be your rear guard.
- ¹³ Behold, my servant will deal wisely.
He will be exalted and lifted up,
and will be very high.
- ¹⁴ Just as many were astonished at you—his appearance was marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men—
- ¹⁵ so he will cleanse* many nations.
Kings will shut their mouths at him;
for they will see that which had not been told them,
and they will understand that which they had not heard.

53

- ¹ Who has believed our message?
To whom has the LORD's arm been revealed?
- ² For he grew up before him as a tender plant,
and as a root out of dry ground.
He has no good looks or majesty.
When we see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.
- ³ He was despised and rejected by men,
a man of suffering
and acquainted with disease.
He was despised as one from whom men hide their face;
and we didn't respect him.
- ⁴ Surely he has borne our sickness and carried our suffering;
yet we considered him plagued,
struck by God, and afflicted.
- ⁵ But he was pierced for our transgressions.
He was crushed for our iniquities.
The punishment that brought our peace was on him;
and by his wounds we are healed.
- ⁶ All we like sheep have gone astray.
Everyone has turned to his own way;
and the LORD has laid on him the iniquity of us all.
- ⁷ He was oppressed,
yet when he was afflicted he didn't open his mouth.
As a lamb that is led to the slaughter,
and as a sheep that before its shearers is silent,

* 52:15 or, sprinkle

so he didn't open his mouth.

⁸ He was taken away by oppression and judgment.

As for his generation, who considered that he was cut off out of the land of the living and stricken for the disobedience of my people?

⁹ They made his grave with the wicked, and with a rich man in his death,
although he had done no violence,
nor was any deceit in his mouth.

¹⁰ Yet it pleased the LORD to bruise him.

He has caused him to suffer.

When you make his soul an offering for sin,

he will see his offspring.

He will prolong his days and the LORD's pleasure will prosper in his hand.

¹¹ After the suffering of his soul,

he will see the light* and be satisfied.

My righteous servant will justify many by the knowledge of himself;
and he will bear their iniquities.

¹² Therefore I will give him a portion with the great.

He will divide the plunder with the strong,

because he poured out his soul to death and was counted with the transgressors;

yet he bore the sins of many and made intercession for the transgressors.

Break out into singing, and cry aloud, you who didn't travail with child!

For more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married wife," says the LORD.

² "Enlarge the place of your tent, and let them stretch out the curtains of your habitations;

don't spare; lengthen your cords, and strengthen your stakes.

³ For you will spread out on the right hand and on the left;

and your offspring will possess the nations and settle in desolate cities.

⁴ "Don't be afraid, for you will not be ashamed.

Don't be confounded, for you will not be disappointed.

For you will forget the shame of your youth.

You will remember the reproach of your widowhood no more.

⁵ For your Maker is your husband; the LORD of Armies is his name.

The Holy One of Israel is your Redeemer.

He will be called the God of the whole earth.

⁶ For the LORD has called you as a wife forsaken and grieved in spirit, even a wife of youth, when she is cast off," says your God.

* 53:11 So read the Dead Sea Scrolls and Septuagint. Masoretic Text omits "the light".

- ⁷ “For a small moment I have forsaken you,
but I will gather you with great mercies.
- ⁸ In overflowing wrath I hid my face from you for a moment, but with everlasting loving kindness I will have mercy on you,” says the LORD your Redeemer.
- ⁹ “For this is like the waters of Noah to me;
for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah will no more go over the earth,
so I have sworn that I will not be angry with you, nor rebuke you.
- ¹⁰ For the mountains may depart, and the hills be removed,
but my loving kindness will not depart from you,
and my covenant of peace will not be removed,”
says the LORD who has mercy on you.
- ¹¹ “You afflicted, tossed with storms, and not comforted, behold, I will set your stones in beautiful colors,
and lay your foundations with sapphires.
- ¹² I will make your pinnacles of rubies,
your gates of sparkling jewels,
and all your walls of precious stones.
- ¹³ All your children will be taught by the LORD, and your children’s peace will be great.
- ¹⁴ You will be established in righteousness.
You will be far from oppression,
for you will not be afraid,
and far from terror,
for it shall not come near you.
- ¹⁵ Behold, they may gather together, but not by me.
Whoever gathers together against you will fall because of you.
- ¹⁶ “Behold, I have created the blacksmith who fans the coals into flame, and forges a weapon for his work;
and I have created the destroyer to destroy.
- ¹⁷ No weapon that is formed against you will prevail;
and you will condemn every tongue that rises against you in judgment.
This is the heritage of the LORD’s servants,
and their righteousness is of me,” says the LORD.

55

- ¹ “Hey! Come, everyone who thirsts, to the waters!
Come, he who has no money, buy, and eat!
Yes, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.
- ² Why do you spend money for that which is not bread,
and your labor for that which doesn’t satisfy?
Listen diligently to me, and eat that which is good,
and let your soul delight itself in richness.
- ³ Turn your ear, and come to me.
Hear, and your soul will live.
I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David.

- ⁴ Behold, I have given him for a witness to the peoples,
a leader and commander to the peoples.
- ⁵ Behold, you shall call a nation that you don't know;
and a nation that didn't know you shall run to you,
because of the LORD your God,
and for the Holy One of Israel;
for he has glorified you."
- ⁶ Seek the LORD while he may be found.
Call on him while he is near.
- ⁷ Let the wicked forsake his way,
and the unrighteous man his thoughts.
Let him return to the LORD, and he will have mercy on him,
to our God, for he will freely pardon.
- ⁸ "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, and your ways are not my ways," says the LORD.
- ⁹ "For as the heavens are higher than the earth,
so are my ways higher than your ways,
and my thoughts than your thoughts.
- ¹⁰ For as the rain comes down and the snow from the sky,
and doesn't return there, but waters the earth,
and makes it grow and bud,
and gives seed to the sower and bread to the eater;
- ¹¹ so is my word that goes out of my mouth:
it will not return to me void,
but it will accomplish that which I please,
and it will prosper in the thing I sent it to do.
- ¹² For you shall go out with joy,
and be led out with peace.
- The mountains and the hills will break out before you into singing;
and all the trees of the fields will clap their hands.
- ¹³ Instead of the thorn the cypress tree will come up;
and instead of the brier the myrtle tree will come up.
It will make a name for the LORD,
for an everlasting sign that will not be cut off."

56

- ¹ The LORD says:
"Maintain justice
and do what is right,
for my salvation is near
and my righteousness will soon be revealed.
- ² Blessed is the man who does this,
and the son of man who holds it fast;
who keeps the Sabbath without profaning it and keeps his hand from doing any evil."
- ³ Let no foreigner who has joined himself to the LORD speak, saying,
"The LORD will surely separate me from his people."
Do not let the eunuch say, "Behold, I am a dry tree."

- ⁴ For the LORD says, "To the eunuchs who keep my Sabbaths, choose the things that please me,
and hold fast to my covenant,
⁵ I will give them in my house and within my walls a memorial and a name better than of sons and of daughters.
I will give them an everlasting name that will not be cut off.
- ⁶ Also the foreigners who join themselves to the LORD to serve him,
and to love the LORD's name,
to be his servants,
everyone who keeps the Sabbath from profaning it,
and holds fast my covenant,
⁷ I will bring these to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer.
Their burnt offerings and their sacrifices will be accepted on my altar;
for my house will be called a house of prayer for all peoples."
⁸ The Lord GOD, who gathers the outcasts of Israel, says,
"I will yet gather others to him,
in addition to his own who are gathered."
- ⁹ All you animals of the field,
come to devour,
all you animals in the forest.
¹⁰ His watchmen are blind.
They are all without knowledge.
They are all mute dogs.
They can't bark—
dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber.
¹¹ Yes, the dogs are greedy.
They can never have enough.
They are shepherds who can't understand.
They have all turned to their own way,
each one to his gain, from every quarter.
¹² "Come," they say, "I will get wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink;
and tomorrow will be as today,
great beyond measure."

- ¹ The righteous perish,
and no one lays it to heart.
Merciful men are taken away,
and no one considers that the righteous is taken away from the evil.
² He enters into peace.
They rest in their beds,
each one who walks in his uprightness.
- ³ "But draw near here, you sons of a sorceress,
you offspring of adulterers and prostitutes.
⁴ Whom do you mock?
Against whom do you make a wide mouth

- and stick out your tongue?
Aren't you children of disobedience and offspring of falsehood, 5 you who inflame yourselves among the oaks,
under every green tree;
who kill the children in the valleys,
under the clefts of the rocks?
6 Among the smooth stones of the valley is your portion.
They, they are your lot.
You have even poured a drink offering to them.
You have offered an offering.
Shall I be appeased for these things?
7 On a high and lofty mountain you have set your bed.
You also went up there to offer sacrifice.
8 You have set up your memorial behind the doors and the posts, for you have exposed yourself to someone besides me,
and have gone up.
You have enlarged your bed
and made you a covenant with them.
You loved what you saw on their bed.
9 You went to the king with oil,
increased your perfumes,
sent your ambassadors far off,
and degraded yourself even to Sheol.*
10 You were wearied with the length of your ways; yet you didn't say, 'It is in vain.'
You found a reviving of your strength;
therefore you weren't faint.
11 "Whom have you dreaded and feared,
so that you lie,
and have not remembered me, nor laid it to your heart?
Haven't I held my peace for a long time,
and you don't fear me?
12 I will declare your righteousness;
and as for your works, they will not benefit you.
13 When you cry,
let those whom you have gathered deliver you,
but the wind will take them.
A breath will carry them all away,
but he who takes refuge in me will possess the land,
and will inherit my holy mountain."
14 He will say, "Build up, build up, prepare the way!
Remove the stumbling-block out of the way of my people."
15 For the high and lofty One who inhabits eternity, whose name is Holy, says:
"I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also who is of a contrite and humble spirit,

* 57:9 Sheol is the place of the dead.

- to revive the spirit of the humble,
and to revive the heart of the contrite.
- 16 For I will not contend forever, neither will I always be angry;
for the spirit would faint before me,
and the souls whom I have made.
- 17 I was angry because of the iniquity of his covetousness and struck him.
I hid myself and was angry;
and he went on backsliding in the way of his heart.
- 18 I have seen his ways, and will heal him.
I will lead him also,
and restore comforts to him and to his mourners.
- 19 I create the fruit of the lips:
Peace, peace, to him who is far off and to him who is near,"
says the LORD; "and I will heal them."
- 20 But the wicked are like the troubled sea;
for it can't rest and its waters cast up mire and mud.
- 21 "There is no peace", says my God,
"for the wicked."

58

- 1 "Cry aloud! Don't spare!
Lift up your voice like a trumpet!
Declare to my people their disobedience,
and to the house of Jacob their sins.
- 2 Yet they seek me daily,
and delight to know my ways.
As a nation that did righteousness,
and didn't forsake the ordinance of their God,
they ask of me righteous judgments.
They delight to draw near to God.
- 3 'Why have we fasted,' they say, 'and you don't see?
Why have we afflicted our soul, and you don't notice?'
- "Behold, in the day of your fast you find pleasure, and oppress all your laborers.
- 4 Behold, you fast for strife and contention,
and to strike with the fist of wickedness.
You don't fast today so as to make your voice to be heard on high.
- 5 Is this the fast that I have chosen?
A day for a man to humble his soul?
Is it to bow down his head like a reed,
and to spread sackcloth and ashes under himself?
Will you call this a fast,
and an acceptable day to the LORD?
- 6 "Isn't this the fast that I have chosen:
to release the bonds of wickedness,
to undo the straps of the yoke,
to let the oppressed go free,
and that you break every yoke?
- 7 Isn't it to distribute your bread to the hungry, and that you bring the poor who are cast out to your house?

When you see the naked,
that you cover him;
and that you not hide yourself from your own flesh?

⁸ Then your light will break out as the morning, and your healing will appear quickly;
then your righteousness shall go before you,
and the LORD's glory will be your rear guard.

⁹ Then you will call, and the LORD will answer.
You will cry for help, and he will say, 'Here I am.'

"If you take away from among you the yoke, finger pointing,
and speaking wickedly;

¹⁰ and if you pour out your soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul,
then your light will rise in darkness,
and your obscurity will be as the noonday;

¹¹ and the LORD will guide you continually, satisfy your soul in dry places,
and make your bones strong.

You will be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water whose waters don't fail.

¹² Those who will be of you will build the old waste places.
You will raise up the foundations of many generations.
You will be called Repairer of the Breach,
Restorer of Paths with Dwellings.

¹³ "If you turn away your foot from the Sabbath, from doing your pleasure on my holy day,
and call the Sabbath a delight,
and the holy of the LORD honorable,
and honor it,
not doing your own ways,
nor finding your own pleasure,
nor speaking your own words,

¹⁴ then you will delight yourself in the LORD, and I will make you to ride on the high places of the earth, and I will feed you with the heritage of Jacob your father;"
for the LORD's mouth has spoken it.

nor his ear dull, that it can't hear.

² But your iniquities have separated you and your God,
and your sins have hidden his face from you,
so that he will not hear.

³ For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity.

Your lips have spoken lies.
Your tongue mutters wickedness.

- ⁴ No one sues in righteousness, and no one pleads in truth.
They trust in vanity and speak lies.
They conceive mischief
and give birth to iniquity.
- ⁵ They hatch adders' eggs and weave the spider's web.
He who eats of their eggs dies;
and that which is crushed breaks out into a viper.
- ⁶ Their webs won't become garments.
They won't cover themselves with their works.
Their works are works of iniquity,
and acts of violence are in their hands.
- ⁷ Their feet run to evil,
and they hurry to shed innocent blood.
Their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity.
Desolation and destruction are in their paths.
- ⁸ They don't know the way of peace;
and there is no justice in their ways.
They have made crooked paths for themselves;
whoever goes in them doesn't know peace.
- ⁹ Therefore justice is far from us,
and righteousness doesn't overtake us.
We look for light, but see darkness;
for brightness, but we walk in obscurity.
- ¹⁰ We grope for the wall like the blind.
Yes, we grope as those who have no eyes.
We stumble at noon as if it were twilight.
Among those who are strong, we are like dead men.
- ¹¹ We all roar like bears and moan sadly like doves.
We look for justice, but there is none,
for salvation, but it is far off from us.
- ¹² For our transgressions are multiplied before you,
and our sins testify against us;
for our transgressions are with us,
and as for our iniquities, we know them:
- ¹³ transgressing and denying the LORD,
and turning away from following our God,
speaking oppression and revolt,
conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.
- ¹⁴ Justice is turned away backward,
and righteousness stands far away;
for truth has fallen in the street,
and uprightness can't enter.
- ¹⁵ Yes, truth is lacking;
and he who departs from evil makes himself a prey.

The LORD saw it,
and it displeased him that there was no justice.

¹⁶ He saw that there was no man,
and wondered that there was no intercessor.
Therefore his own arm brought salvation to him;
and his righteousness sustained him.

¹⁷ He put on righteousness as a breastplate, and a helmet of salvation on his head.
He put on garments of vengeance for clothing,
and was clad with zeal as a mantle.

¹⁸ According to their deeds,
he will repay as appropriate:
wrath to his adversaries,
recompense to his enemies.
He will repay the islands their due.

¹⁹ So they will fear the LORD's name from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun;
for he will come as a rushing stream,
which the LORD's breath drives.

²⁰ "A Redeemer will come to Zion, and to those who turn from disobedience in Jacob," says the LORD.

²¹ "As for me, this is my covenant with them," says the LORD. "My Spirit who is on you, and my words which I have put in your mouth shall not depart out of your mouth, nor out of the mouth of your offspring, nor out of the mouth of your offspring's offspring," says the LORD, "from now on and forever."

¹ "Arise, shine; for your light has come,
and the LORD's glory has risen on you!

² For behold, darkness will cover the earth, and thick darkness the peoples;
but the LORD will arise on you,
and his glory shall be seen on you.

³ Nations will come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising.

⁴ "Lift up your eyes all around, and see:
they all gather themselves together.
They come to you.

Your sons will come from far away,
and your daughters will be carried in arms.

⁵ Then you shall see and be radiant, and your heart will thrill and be enlarged;
because the abundance of the sea will be turned to you.
The wealth of the nations will come to you.

⁶ A multitude of camels will cover you,
the dromedaries of Midian and Ephah.
All from Sheba will come.

They will bring gold and frankincense,
and will proclaim the praises of the LORD.

⁷ All the flocks of Kedar will be gathered together to you.
The rams of Nebaioth will serve you.
They will be accepted as offerings on my altar;
and I will beautify my glorious house.

⁸ “Who are these who fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows?

⁹ Surely the islands will wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish first,
to bring your sons from far away,
their silver and their gold with them,
for the name of the LORD your God,
and for the Holy One of Israel,
because he has glorified you.

¹⁰ “Foreigners will build up your walls, and their kings will serve you;
for in my wrath I struck you,
but in my favor I have had mercy on you.

¹¹ Your gates also shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night, that men may bring to you the wealth of the nations, and their kings led captive.

¹² For that nation and kingdom that will not serve you shall perish; yes, those nations shall be utterly wasted.

¹³ “The glory of Lebanon shall come to you, the cypress tree, the pine, and the box tree together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious.

¹⁴ The sons of those who afflicted you will come bowing to you;
and all those who despised you will bow themselves down at the soles of your feet.

They will call you the LORD’s City,
the Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

¹⁵ “Whereas you have been forsaken and hated,
so that no one passed through you,
I will make you an eternal excellency,
a joy of many generations.

¹⁶ You will also drink the milk of the nations, and will nurse from royal breasts.

Then you will know that I, the LORD, am your Savior,
your Redeemer,
the Mighty One of Jacob.

¹⁷ For bronze I will bring gold;
for iron I will bring silver;
for wood, bronze,
and for stones, iron.

I will also make peace your governor, and righteousness your ruler.

¹⁸ Violence shall no more be heard in your land,
nor desolation or destruction within your borders;

but you will call your walls Salvation,
and your gates Praise.

19 The sun will be no more your light by day, nor will the brightness of the moon give light to you,
but the LORD will be your everlasting light,
and your God will be your glory.

20 Your sun will not go down any more,
nor will your moon withdraw itself;
for the LORD will be your everlasting light,
and the days of your mourning will end.

21 Then your people will all be righteous.
They will inherit the land forever,
the branch of my planting,
the work of my hands,
that I may be glorified.

22 The little one will become a thousand,
and the small one a strong nation.
I, the LORD, will do this quickly in its time.”

61

1 The Lord GOD's Spirit is on me, because the LORD has anointed me to preach good news to the humble.
He has sent me to bind up the broken hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives and release to those who are bound,*

2 to proclaim the year of the LORD's favor and the day of vengeance of our God,
to comfort all who mourn,

3 to provide for those who mourn in Zion,
to give to them a garland for ashes,
the oil of joy for mourning,
the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness,
that they may be called trees of righteousness,
the planting of the LORD,
that he may be glorified.

4 They will rebuild the old ruins.
They will raise up the former devastated places.
They will repair the ruined cities that have been devastated for many generations.

5 Strangers will stand and feed your flocks.
Foreigners will work your fields and your vineyards.

6 But you will be called the LORD's priests.
Men will call you the servants of our God.
You will eat the wealth of the nations.
You will boast in their glory.

7 Instead of your shame you will have double.
Instead of dishonor, they will rejoice in their portion.
Therefore in their land they will possess double.

* 61:1 LXX and DSS add: recovery of sight to the blind

Everlasting joy will be to them.

⁸ “For I, the LORD, love justice.

I hate robbery and iniquity.

I will give them their reward in truth and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

⁹ Their offspring will be known among the nations, and their offspring among the peoples.

All who see them will acknowledge them,

that they are the offspring which the LORD has blessed.”

¹⁰ I will greatly rejoice in the LORD!

My soul will be joyful in my God,

for he has clothed me with the garments of salvation.

He has covered me with the robe of righteousness,

as a bridegroom decks himself with a garland and as a bride adorns herself with her jewels.

¹¹ For as the earth produces its bud, and as the garden causes the things that are sown in it to spring up, so the Lord GOD will cause righteousness and praise to spring up before all the nations.

¹ For Zion's sake I will not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest,

until her righteousness shines out like the dawn,

and her salvation like a burning lamp.

² The nations will see your righteousness, and all kings your glory.

You will be called by a new name, which the LORD's mouth will name.

³ You will also be a crown of beauty in the LORD's hand, and a royal diadem in your God's hand.

⁴ You will not be called Forsaken any more,

nor will your land be called Desolate any more;

but you will be called Hephzibah,* and your land Beulah;†

for the LORD delights in you, and your land will be married.

⁵ For as a young man marries a virgin,

so your sons will marry you.

As a bridegroom rejoices over his bride,

so your God will rejoice over you.

⁶ I have set watchmen on your walls, Jerusalem.

They will never be silent day nor night.

You who call on the LORD, take no rest,

⁷ and give him no rest until he establishes,

and until he makes Jerusalem a praise in the earth.

⁸ The LORD has sworn by his right hand,

* 62:4 Hephzibah means “I delight in her”. † 62:4 Beulah means “married” and by the arm of his strength,

"Surely I will no more give your grain to be food for your enemies, and foreigners will not drink your new wine, for which you have labored,

⁹ but those who have harvested it will eat it, and praise the LORD.
Those who have gathered it will drink it in the courts of my sanctuary."

¹⁰ Go through, go through the gates!
Prepare the way of the people!
Build up, build up the highway!
Gather out the stones!
Lift up a banner for the peoples.

¹¹ Behold, the LORD has proclaimed to the end of the earth:
"Say to the daughter of Zion,
'Behold, your salvation comes!
Behold, his reward is with him,
and his recompense before him!' "

¹² They will call them "The Holy People,
The LORD's Redeemed".
You will be called "Sought Out,
A City Not Forsaken".

¹ Who is this who comes from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah?
Who is this who is glorious in his clothing, marching in the greatness of his strength?
"It is I who speak in righteousness, mighty to save."

² Why is your clothing red, and your garments like him who treads in the wine vat?

³ "I have trodden the wine press alone.
Of the peoples, no one was with me.
Yes, I trod them in my anger and trampled them in my wrath.
Their lifeblood is sprinkled on my garments,
and I have stained all my clothing.

⁴ For the day of vengeance was in my heart, and the year of my redeemed has come.

⁵ I looked, and there was no one to help;
and I wondered that there was no one to uphold.
Therefore my own arm brought salvation to me.
My own wrath upheld me.

⁶ I trod down the peoples in my anger and made them drunk in my wrath.
I poured their lifeblood out on the earth."

⁷ I will tell of the loving kindnesses of the LORD and the praises of the LORD,
according to all that the LORD has given to us,
and the great goodness toward the house of Israel,

which he has given to them according to his mercies,
and according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses.

⁸ For he said, "Surely, they are my people, children who will not deal falsely;"
so he became their Savior.

⁹ In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them.
In his love and in his pity he redeemed them.
He bore them,
and carried them all the days of old.

¹⁰ But they rebelled and grieved his Holy Spirit.
Therefore he turned and became their enemy,
and he himself fought against them.

¹¹ Then he remembered the days of old,
Moses and his people, saying,
"Where is he who brought them up out of the sea with the shepherds of his flock?
Where is he who put his Holy Spirit among them?"

¹² Who caused his glorious arm to be at Moses' right hand?
Who divided the waters before them, to make himself an everlasting name?

¹³ Who led them through the depths,
like a horse in the wilderness,
so that they didn't stumble?

¹⁴ As the livestock that go down into the valley,
the LORD's Spirit caused them to rest.
So you led your people to make yourself a glorious name.

¹⁵ Look down from heaven, and see from the habitation of your holiness and of your glory.
Where are your zeal and your mighty acts?
The yearning of your heart and your compassion is restrained toward me.

¹⁶ For you are our Father, though Abraham doesn't know us,
and Israel does not acknowledge us.
You, LORD, are our Father.
Our Redeemer from everlasting is your name.

¹⁷ O LORD, why do you make us wander from your ways, and harden our heart from your fear?
Return for your servants' sake,
the tribes of your inheritance.

¹⁸ Your holy people possessed it but a little while.
Our adversaries have trodden down your sanctuary.

¹⁹ We have become like those over whom you never ruled,
like those who were not called by your name.

¹ Oh that you would tear the heavens,

- that you would come down,
that the mountains might quake at your presence—2 as when fire kindles the brushwood, and the fire causes the water to boil.
Make your name known to your adversaries,
that the nations may tremble at your presence!
3 When you did awesome things which we didn't look for,
you came down, and the mountains quaked at your presence.
4 For from of old men have not heard,
nor perceived by the ear,
nor has the eye seen a God besides you,
who works for him who waits for him.
5 You meet him who rejoices and does righteousness,
those who remember you in your ways.
Behold, you were angry, and we sinned.
We have been in sin for a long time.
Shall we be saved?
6 For we have all become like one who is unclean,
and all our righteousness is like a polluted garment.
We all fade like a leaf;
and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away.
7 There is no one who calls on your name, who stirs himself up to take hold of you;
for you have hidden your face from us,
and have consumed us by means of our iniquities.
8 But now, LORD, you are our Father.
We are the clay and you our potter.
We all are the work of your hand.
9 Don't be furious, LORD.
Don't remember iniquity forever.
Look and see, we beg you,
we are all your people.
10 Your holy cities have become a wilderness.
Zion has become a wilderness,
Jerusalem a desolation.
11 Our holy and our beautiful house where our fathers praised you is burned with fire.
All our pleasant places are laid waste.
12 Will you hold yourself back for these things, LORD?
Will you keep silent and punish us very severely?

65

- 1 "I am inquired of by those who didn't ask.
I am found by those who didn't seek me.
I said, 'See me, see me,' to a nation that was not called by my name.
2 I have spread out my hands all day to a rebellious people, who walk in a way that is not good,
after their own thoughts;
3 a people who provoke me to my face continually, sacrificing in gardens,
and burning incense on bricks;

⁴ who sit among the graves, and spend nights in secret places;
who eat pig's meat,
and broth of abominable things is in their vessels;

⁵ who say, 'Stay by yourself,
don't come near to me,
for I am holier than you.'

These are smoke in my nose,
a fire that burns all day.

⁶ "Behold, it is written before me:

I will not keep silence,
but will repay,
yes, I will repay into their bosom

⁷ your own iniquities and the iniquities of your fathers together", says the LORD,

"who have burned incense on the mountains,
and blasphemed me on the hills.

Therefore I will first measure their work into their bosom."

⁸ The LORD says,

"As the new wine is found in the cluster,
and one says, 'Don't destroy it, for a blessing is in it:'

so I will do for my servants' sake, that I may not destroy them all.

⁹ I will bring offspring out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains.

My chosen will inherit it,
and my servants will dwell there.

¹⁰ Sharon will be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down in,
for my people who have sought me.

¹¹ "But you who forsake the LORD, who forget my holy mountain, who prepare a table for Fortune,
and who fill up mixed wine to Destiny;

¹² I will destine you to the sword, and you will all bow down to the slaughter;
because when I called, you didn't answer.

When I spoke, you didn't listen;
but you did that which was evil in my eyes,
and chose that in which I didn't delight."

¹³ Therefore the Lord GOD says,

"Behold, my servants will eat,
but you will be hungry;
behold, my servants will drink,
but you will be thirsty.

Behold, my servants will rejoice,
but you will be disappointed.

¹⁴ Behold, my servants will sing for joy of heart, but you will cry for sorrow of heart,

and will wail for anguish of spirit.

¹⁵ You will leave your name for a curse to my chosen, and the Lord GOD will kill you.

He will call his servants by another name,

¹⁶ so that he who blesses himself in the earth will bless himself in the God of truth;

and he who swears in the earth will swear by the God of truth;

because the former troubles are forgotten,

and because they are hidden from my eyes.

¹⁷ “For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth;
and the former things will not be remembered,
nor come into mind.

¹⁸ But be glad and rejoice forever in that which I create;
for, behold, I create Jerusalem to be a delight,
and her people a joy.

¹⁹ I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and delight in my people;

and the voice of weeping and the voice of crying will be heard in her no more.

²⁰ “No more will there be an infant who only lives a few days, nor an old man who has not filled his days;
for the child will die one hundred years old,
and the sinner being one hundred years old will be accursed.

²¹ They will build houses and inhabit them.

They will plant vineyards and eat their fruit.

²² They will not build and another inhabit.

They will not plant and another eat;

for the days of my people will be like the days of a tree, and my chosen will long enjoy the work of their hands.

²³ They will not labor in vain
nor give birth for calamity;

for they are the offspring of the LORD's blessed and their descendants with them.

²⁴ It will happen that before they call, I will answer;
and while they are yet speaking, I will hear.

²⁵ The wolf and the lamb will feed together.

The lion will eat straw like the ox.

Dust will be the serpent's food.

They will not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain,”
says the LORD.

66

¹ The LORD says:

“Heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool.

What kind of house will you build to me?

Where will I rest?

² For my hand has made all these things, and so all these things came to be,” says the LORD:

“but I will look to this man, even to he who is poor and of a contrite spirit,

and who trembles at my word.

³ He who kills an ox is as he who kills a man;
he who sacrifices a lamb, as he who breaks a dog's neck;
he who offers an offering, as he who offers pig's blood;
he who burns frankincense, as he who blesses an idol.

Yes, they have chosen their own ways,
and their soul delights in their abominations.

⁴ I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears on them,
because when I called, no one answered;
when I spoke, they didn't listen,
but they did that which was evil in my eyes,
and chose that in which I didn't delight."

⁵ Hear the LORD's word, you who tremble at his word:
"Your brothers who hate you,
who cast you out for my name's sake, have said,
'Let the LORD be glorified, that we may see your joy;'
but it is those who shall be disappointed.

⁶ A voice of tumult from the city,
a voice from the temple,
a voice of the LORD that repays his enemies what they deserve.

⁷ "Before she travailed, she gave birth.
Before her pain came, she delivered a son.

⁸ Who has heard of such a thing?
Who has seen such things?
Shall a land be born in one day?
Shall a nation be born at once?

For as soon as Zion travailed,
she gave birth to her children.

⁹ Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to be delivered?" says the LORD.
"Shall I who cause to give birth shut the womb?" says your God.

¹⁰ "Rejoice with Jerusalem, and be glad for her, all you who love her.
Rejoice for joy with her, all you who mourn over her;

¹¹ that you may nurse and be satisfied at the comforting breasts;
that you may drink deeply,
and be delighted with the abundance of her glory."

¹² For the LORD says, "Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the nations like an overflowing stream,
and you will nurse.

You will be carried on her side,
and will be dandled on her knees.

¹³ As one whom his mother comforts,
so I will comfort you.
You will be comforted in Jerusalem."

¹⁴ You will see it, and your heart shall rejoice, and your bones will flourish like the tender grass.
The LORD's hand will be known among his servants;
and he will have indignation against his enemies.

¹⁵ For, behold, the LORD will come with fire, and his chariots will be like the whirlwind;
to render his anger with fierceness,
and his rebuke with flames of fire.

¹⁶ For the LORD will execute judgment by fire and by his sword on all flesh;
and those slain by the LORD will be many.

¹⁸ "For I know their works and their thoughts. The time comes that I will gather all nations and languages, and they will come, and will see my glory.

²² "For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me," says the LORD, "so your offspring and your name shall remain. ²³ It shall happen that from one new moon to another, and from one Sabbath to another, all flesh will come to worship before me," says the LORD. ²⁴ "They will go out, and look at the dead bodies of the men who have transgressed against me; for their worm will not die, nor will their fire be quenched, and they will be loathsome to all mankind."

The Book of Jeremiah

¹ The words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, one of the priests who were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin. ² The LORD's* word came to him in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign. ³ It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, to the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, to the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month. ⁴ Now the LORD's word came to me, saying,

⁵ "Before I formed you in the womb, I knew you.

Before you were born, I sanctified you.

I have appointed you a prophet to the nations."

⁶ Then I said, "Ah, Lord† GOD! Behold,‡ I don't know how to speak; for I am a child."

⁷ But the LORD said to me, "Don't say, 'I am a child;' for you must go to whomever I send you, and you must say whatever I command you. ⁸ Don't be afraid because of them, for I am with you to rescue you," says the LORD.

⁹ Then the LORD stretched out his hand and touched my mouth. Then the LORD said to me, "Behold, I have put my words in your mouth. ¹⁰ Behold, I have today set you over the nations and over the kingdoms, to uproot and to tear down, to destroy and to overthrow, to build and to plant."

¹¹ Moreover the LORD's word came to me, saying, "Jeremiah, what do you see?"

I said, "I see a branch of an almond tree."

¹² Then the LORD said to me, "You have seen well; for I watch over my word to perform it."

¹³ The LORD's word came to me the second time, saying, "What do you see?"

I said, "I see a boiling cauldron; and it is tipping away from the north."

¹⁴ Then the LORD said to me, "Out of the north, evil will break out on all the inhabitants of the land. ¹⁵ For behold, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north," says the LORD.

"They will come, and they will each set his throne at the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all its walls all around, and against all the cities of Judah.

¹⁶ I will utter my judgments against them concerning all their wickedness, in that they have forsaken me, and have burned incense to other gods, and worshiped the works of their own hands.

¹⁷ "You therefore put your belt on your waist, arise, and say to them all that I command you. Don't be dismayed at them, lest I dismay you before them. ¹⁸ For behold, I have made you today a fortified city, an iron pillar, and bronze walls against the whole land—against the kings of Judah, against its princes, against its priests, and against the people of the land. ¹⁹ They will fight against you, but they will not prevail against you; for I am with you", says the LORD, "to rescue you."

¹ The LORD's word came to me, saying, ² "Go and proclaim in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, 'The LORD says, 'I remember for you the kindness of your youth, your love as a bride,

how you went after me in the wilderness,
in a land that was not sown.

³ Israel was holiness to the LORD,
the first fruits of his increase.

All who devour him will be held guilty.
Evil will come on them," ' says the LORD."

⁴ Hear the LORD's word, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel! ⁵ The LORD says,

"What unrighteousness have your fathers found in me,
that they have gone far from me,
and have walked after worthless vanity,
and have become worthless?

⁶ They didn't say, 'Where is the LORD who brought us up out of the land of Egypt, who led us through the wilderness,
through a land of deserts and of pits,
through a land of drought and of the shadow of death, through a land that no one passed through,
and where no man lived?'

⁷ I brought you into a plentiful land to eat its fruit and its goodness;
but when you entered, you defiled my land,
and made my heritage an abomination.

⁸ The priests didn't say, 'Where is the LORD?'
and those who handle the law didn't know me.
The rulers also transgressed against me,
and the prophets prophesied by Baal
and followed things that do not profit.

⁹ "Therefore I will yet contend with you," says the LORD,
"and I will contend with your children's children.

¹⁰ For pass over to the islands of Kittim, and see.
Send to Kedar, and consider diligently,
and see if there has been such a thing.

¹¹ Has a nation changed its gods, which really are no gods?
But my people have changed their glory for that which doesn't profit.

¹² "Be astonished, you heavens, at this and be horribly afraid.
Be very desolate," says the LORD.

¹³ "For my people have committed two evils:
they have forsaken me, the spring of living waters, and cut out cisterns for themselves: broken cisterns that can't hold water.

14 Is Israel a slave?

Is he born into slavery?

Why has he become a captive?

15 The young lions have roared at him and raised their voices.

They have made his land waste.

His cities are burned up, without inhabitant.

16 The children also of Memphis and Tahpanhes have broken the crown of your head.

17 "Haven't you brought this on yourself, in that you have forsaken the LORD your God,* when he led you by the way?

18 Now what do you gain by going to Egypt, to drink the waters of the Shihor?

Or why do you go on the way to Assyria, to drink the waters of the River?†

19 "Your own wickedness will correct you, and your backsliding will rebuke you.

Know therefore and see that it is an evil and bitter thing, that you have forsaken the LORD your God,

and that my fear is not in you," says the Lord, GOD‡ of Armies.

20 "For long ago I broke off your yoke, and burst your bonds.

You said, 'I will not serve;'

for on every high hill and under every green tree you bowed yourself, playing the prostitute.

21 Yet I had planted you a noble vine, a pure and faithful seed.

How then have you turned into the degenerate branches of a foreign vine to me?

22 For though you wash yourself with lye, and use much soap,

yet your iniquity is marked before me," says the Lord GOD.

23 "How can you say, 'I am not defiled.

I have not gone after the Baals'?

See your way in the valley.

Know what you have done.

You are a swift dromedary traversing her ways, 24 a wild donkey used to the wilderness, that sniffs the wind in her craving.

When she is in heat, who can turn her away?

All those who seek her will not weary themselves. In her month, they will find her.

25 "Keep your feet from being bare,

and your throat from thirst.

But you said, 'It is in vain.

No, for I have loved strangers,

and I will go after them.'

26 As the thief is ashamed when he is found,

so the house of Israel is ashamed—

- they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, 27 who tell wood, 'You are my father,' and a stone, 'You have given birth to me,' for they have turned their back to me,
and not their face,
but in the time of their trouble they will say, 'Arise, and save us!'
28 "But where are your gods that you have made for yourselves?
Let them arise, if they can save you in the time of your trouble, for you have as many gods as you have towns, O Judah.
29 "Why will you contend with me?
You all have transgressed against me," says the LORD.
30 "I have struck your children in vain.
They received no correction.
Your own sword has devoured your prophets,
like a destroying lion.
31 Generation, consider the LORD's word.
Have I been a wilderness to Israel?
Or a land of thick darkness?
Why do my people say, 'We have broken loose.
We will come to you no more'?
32 "Can a virgin forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire?
Yet my people have forgotten me for days without number.
33 How well you prepare your way to seek love!
Therefore you have even taught the wicked women your ways.
34 Also the blood of the souls of the innocent poor is found in your skirts.
You didn't find them breaking in,
but it is because of all these things.
35 "Yet you said, 'I am innocent.
Surely his anger has turned away from me.'
"Behold, I will judge you,
because you say, 'I have not sinned.'
36 Why do you go about so much to change your ways?
You will be ashamed of Egypt also,
as you were ashamed of Assyria.
37 You will also leave that place with your hands on your head;
for the LORD has rejected those in whom you trust,
and you won't prosper with them.

1 "They say, 'If a man puts away his wife, and she goes from him, and becomes another man's, should he return to her again?' Wouldn't that land be greatly polluted? But you have played the prostitute with many lovers; yet return again to me," says the LORD.

2 "Lift up your eyes to the bare heights, and see! Where have you not been lain with? You have sat waiting for them by the road, as an Arabian in the wilderness. You have polluted the land with your prostitution and with your wickedness. 3 Therefore the showers have been withheld and there has been no latter rain; yet you have had a prostitute's forehead and you refused to be ashamed. 4 Will you not from this time cry to me, 'My Father, you are the guide of my youth!'

5 “Will he retain his anger forever? Will he keep it to the end?” Behold, you have spoken and have done evil things, and have had your way.”

6 Moreover, the LORD said to me in the days of Josiah the king, “Have you seen that which backsliding Israel has done? She has gone up on every high mountain and under every green tree, and has played the prostitute there. ⁷ I said after she had done all these things, ‘She will return to me;’ but she didn’t return, and her treacherous sister Judah saw it. ⁸ I saw when, for this very cause, that backsliding Israel had committed adultery, I had put her away and given her a certificate of divorce, yet treacherous Judah, her sister, had no fear, but she also went and played the prostitute. ⁹ Because she took her prostitution lightly, the land was polluted, and she committed adultery with stones and with wood. ¹⁰ Yet for all this her treacherous sister, Judah, has not returned to me with her whole heart, but only in pretense,” says the LORD.

11 The LORD said to me, “Backsliding Israel has shown herself more righteous than treacherous Judah. ¹² Go, and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, ‘Return, you backsliding Israel,’ says the LORD; ‘I will not look in anger on you, for I am merciful,’ says the LORD. ‘I will not keep anger forever. ¹³ Only acknowledge your iniquity, that you have transgressed against the LORD your God, and have scattered your ways to the strangers under every green tree, and you have not obeyed my voice,’ ” says the LORD. ¹⁴ “Return, backsliding children,” says the LORD, “for I am a husband to you. I will take one of you from a city, and two from a family, and I will bring you to Zion. ¹⁵ I will give you shepherds according to my heart, who will feed you with knowledge and understanding. ¹⁶ It will come to pass, when you are multiplied and increased in the land in those days,” says the LORD, “they will no longer say, ‘the ark of the LORD’s covenant!’ It will not come to mind. They won’t remember it. They won’t miss it, nor will another be made. ¹⁷ At that time they will call Jerusalem ‘The LORD’s Throne;’ and all the nations will be gathered to it, to the LORD’s name, to Jerusalem. They will no longer walk after the stubbornness of their evil heart. ¹⁸ In those days the house of Judah will walk with the house of Israel, and they will come together out of the land of the north to the land that I gave for an inheritance to your fathers.

19 “But I said, ‘How I desire to put you among the children, and give you a pleasant land, a goodly heritage of the armies of the nations!’ and I said, ‘You shall call me “My Father”, and shall not turn away from following me.’

20 “Surely as a wife treacherously departs from her husband, so you have dealt treacherously with me, house of Israel,” says the LORD. ²¹ A voice is heard on the bare heights, the weeping and the petitions of the children of Israel; because they have perverted their way, they have forgotten the LORD their God. ²² Return, you backsliding children, and I will heal your backsliding.

“Behold, we have come to you; for you are the LORD our God. ²³ Truly help from the hills, the tumult on the mountains, is in vain. Truly the salvation of Israel is in the LORD our God. ²⁴ But the shameful thing has devoured the labor of our fathers from our youth, their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters. ²⁵ Let us lie down in our shame, and let our confusion cover us; for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even to this day. We have not obeyed the LORD our God’s voice.”

1 “If you will return, Israel,” says the LORD, “if you will return to me, and if you will put away your abominations out of my sight; then you will not be removed; ² and you will swear, ‘As the LORD lives,’ in truth, in justice, and in righteousness. The nations will bless themselves in him, and they will glory in him.”

³ For the LORD says to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem, “Break up your fallow ground, and don’t sow among thorns. ⁴ Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and take away the foreskins of your heart, you men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my wrath go out like fire, and burn so that no one can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. ⁵ Declare in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem; and say, ‘Blow the trumpet in the land!’ Cry aloud and say, ‘Assemble yourselves! Let’s go into the fortified cities!’ ⁶ Set up a standard toward Zion. Flee for safety! Don’t wait; for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction.”

¹⁰ Then I said, “Ah, Lord GOD! Surely you have greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, ‘You will have peace;’ whereas the sword reaches to the heart.”

¹¹ At that time it will be said to this people and to Jerusalem, “A hot wind blows from the bare heights in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to winnow, nor to cleanse. ¹² A full wind from these will come for me. Now I will also utter judgments against them.”

¹³ Behold, he will come up as clouds, and his chariots will be as the whirlwind. His horses are swifter than eagles. Woe to us! For we are ruined.

¹⁹ My anguish, my anguish! I am pained at my very heart! My heart trembles within me. I can’t hold my peace, because you have heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war. ²⁰ Destruction on destruction is decreed, for the whole land is laid waste. Suddenly my tents are destroyed, and my curtains gone in a moment. ²¹ How long will I see the standard and hear the sound of the trumpet?

²² “For my people are foolish. They don’t know me. They are foolish children, and they have no understanding. They are skillful in doing evil, but they don’t know how to do good.” ²³ I saw the earth and, behold, it was waste and void, and the heavens, and they had no light. ²⁴ I saw the mountains, and behold, they trembled, and all the hills moved back and forth. ²⁵ I saw, and behold, there was no man, and all the birds of the sky had fled. ²⁶ I saw, and behold, the fruitful field was a wilderness, and all its cities were broken down at the presence of the LORD, before his fierce anger. ²⁷ For the LORD says, "The whole land will be a desolation; yet I will not make a full end. ²⁸ For this the earth will mourn, and the heavens above be black, because I have spoken it. I have planned it, and I have not repented, neither will I turn back from it."

²⁹ Every city flees for the noise of the horsemen and archers. They go into the thickets and climb up on the rocks. Every city is forsaken, and not a man dwells therein. ³⁰ You, when you are made desolate, what will you do? Though you clothe yourself with scarlet, though you deck yourself with ornaments of gold, though you enlarge your eyes with makeup, you make yourself beautiful in vain. Your lovers despise you. They seek your life. ³¹ For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, the anguish as of her who gives birth to her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion, who gasps for breath, who spreads her hands, saying, "Woe is me now! For my soul faints before the murderers."

³ O LORD, don't your eyes look on truth? You have stricken them, but they were not grieved. You have consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction. They have made their faces harder than a rock. They have refused to return.

⁴ Then I said, "Surely these are poor. They are foolish; for they don't know the LORD's way, nor the law of their God. ⁵ I will go to the great men and will speak to them, for they know the way of the LORD, and the law of their God." But these with one accord have broken the yoke, and burst the bonds. ⁶ Therefore a lion out of the forest will kill them. A wolf of the evenings will destroy them. A leopard will watch against their cities. Everyone who goes out there will be torn in pieces, because their transgressions are many and their backsliding has increased.

⁷ "How can I pardon you? Your children have forsaken me, and sworn by what are no gods. When I had fed them to the full, they committed adultery, and assembled themselves in troops at the prostitutes' houses. ⁸ They were as fed horses roaming at large. Everyone neighed after his neighbor's wife. ⁹ Shouldn't I punish them for these things?" says the LORD. "Shouldn't my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?"

¹⁰ "Go up on her walls, and destroy, but don't make a full end. Take away her branches, for they are not the LORD's. ¹¹ For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me," says the LORD.

¹² They have denied the LORD, and said, "It is not he. Evil won't come on us. We won't see sword or famine. ¹³ The prophets will become wind, and the word is not in them. Thus it will be done to them."

¹⁴ Therefore the LORD, the God of Armies says, "Because you speak this word, behold, I will make my words in your mouth fire, and this people wood, and it will devour them. ¹⁵ Behold, I will bring a nation on you from far away, house of Israel,” says the LORD. “It is a mighty nation. It is an ancient nation, a nation whose language you don’t know and don’t understand what they say. ¹⁶ Their quiver is an open tomb. They are all mighty men. ¹⁷ They will eat up your harvest and your bread, which your sons and your daughters should eat. They will eat up your flocks and your herds. They will eat up your vines and your fig trees. They will beat down your fortified cities in which you trust with the sword.

¹⁸ “But even in those days,” says the LORD, “I will not make a full end of you. ¹⁹ It will happen when you say, ‘Why has the LORD our God done all these things to us?’ Then you shall say to them, ‘Just as you have forsaken me and served foreign gods in your land, so you will serve strangers in a land that is not yours.’

²⁰ “Declare this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying, ²¹ ‘Hear this now, foolish people without understanding, who have eyes, and don’t see, who have ears, and don’t hear: ²² Don’t you fear me?’ says the LORD; ‘Won’t you tremble at my presence, who have placed the sand for the bound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it can’t pass it? Though its waves toss themselves, yet they can’t prevail. Though they roar, they still can’t pass over it.’

²³ “But this people has a revolting and a rebellious heart. They have revolted and gone. ²⁴ They don’t say in their heart, ‘Let’s now fear the LORD our God, who gives rain, both the former and the latter, in its season, who preserves to us the appointed weeks of the harvest.’

²⁵ “Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withheld good from you. ²⁶ For wicked men are found among my people. They watch, as fowlers lie in wait. They set a trap. They catch men. ²⁷ As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit. Therefore they have become great, and grew rich. ²⁸ They have grown fat. They shine; yes, they excel in deeds of wickedness. They don’t plead the cause, the cause of the fatherless, that they may prosper; and they don’t defend the rights of the needy.

²⁹ “Shouldn’t I punish for these things?” says the LORD. “Shouldn’t my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

³⁰ “An astonishing and horrible thing has happened in the land. ³¹ The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests rule by their own authority; and my people love to have it so. What will you do in the end of it?

⁴ “Prepare war against her! Arise! Let’s go up at noon. Woe to us! For the day declines, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out. ⁵ Arise! Let’s go up by night, and let’s destroy her palaces.” ⁶ For the LORD of Armies said, “Cut down trees, and cast up a mound against Jerusalem. This is the city to be visited. She is filled with oppression within herself. ⁷ As a well produces its waters, so she produces her wickedness. Violence and destruction is heard in her. Sickness and wounds are continually before me. ⁸ Be instructed, Jerusalem, lest my soul be alienated from you, lest I make you a desolation, an uninhabited land."

⁹ The LORD of Armies says, "They will thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel like a vine. Turn again your hand as a grape gatherer into the baskets."

¹⁰ To whom should I speak and testify, that they may hear? Behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they can't listen. Behold, the LORD's word has become a reproach to them. They have no delight in it. ¹¹ Therefore I am full of the LORD's wrath. I am weary with holding it in.

"Pour it out on the children in the street, and on the assembly of young men together;
for even the husband with the wife will be taken,
the aged with him who is full of days.

¹² Their houses will be turned to others, their fields and their wives together;

for I will stretch out my hand on the inhabitants of the land, says the LORD."

¹³ "For from their least even to their greatest, everyone is given to covetousness.

From the prophet even to the priest, everyone deals falsely.

¹⁴ They have healed also the hurt of my people superficially, saying, 'Peace, peace!' when there is no peace.

¹⁵ Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination?
No, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush.

Therefore they will fall among those who fall.

When I visit them, they will be cast down," says the LORD.

¹⁶ The LORD says, "Stand in the ways and see, and ask for the old paths, 'Where is the good way?' and walk in it, and you will find rest for your souls. But they said, 'We will not walk in it.' ¹⁷ I set watchmen over you, saying, 'Listen to the sound of the trumpet!' But they said, 'We will not listen!' ¹⁸ Therefore hear, you nations, and know, congregation, what is among them. ¹⁹ Hear, earth! Behold, I will bring evil on this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not listened to my words; and as for my law, they have rejected it. ²⁰ To what purpose does frankincense from Sheba come to me, and the sweet cane from a far country? Your burnt offerings are not acceptable, and your sacrifices are not pleasing to me."

²⁷ “I have made you a tester of metals and a fortress among my people, that you may know and try their way. ²⁸ They are all grievous rebels, going around to slander. They are bronze and iron. All of them deal corruptly. ²⁹ The bellows blow fiercely. The lead is consumed in the fire. In vain they go on refining, for the wicked are not plucked away. ³⁰ Men will call them rejected silver, because the LORD has rejected them.”

³ The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel says, “Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place. ⁴ Don’t trust in lying words, saying, ‘The LORD’s temple, the LORD’s temple, the LORD’s temple, are these.’ ⁵ For if you thoroughly amend your ways and your doings, if you thoroughly execute justice between a man and his neighbor; ⁶ if you don’t oppress the foreigner, the fatherless, and the widow, and don’t shed innocent blood in this place, and don’t walk after other gods to your own hurt, ⁷ then I will cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, from of old even forever more. ⁸ Behold, you trust in lying words that can’t profit. ⁹ Will you steal, murder, commit adultery, swear falsely, burn incense to Baal, and walk after other gods that you have not known, ¹⁰ then come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, ‘We are delivered,’ that you may do all these abominations? ¹¹ Has this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, I myself have seen it,” says the LORD.

¹² “But go now to my place which was in Shiloh, where I caused my name to dwell at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel. ¹³ Now, because you have done all these works,” says the LORD, “and I spoke to you, rising up early and speaking, but you didn’t hear; and I called you, but you didn’t answer; ¹⁴ therefore I will do to the house which is called by my name, in which you trust, and to the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I did to Shiloh. ¹⁵ I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brothers, even the whole offspring* of Ephraim.

¹⁶ “Therefore don’t pray for this people. Don’t lift up a cry or prayer for them or make intercession to me; for I will not hear you. ¹⁷ Don’t you see what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? ¹⁸ The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough, to make cakes to the queen of the sky, and to pour out drink offerings to other gods, that they may provoke me to anger. ¹⁹ Do they provoke me to anger?” says the LORD. “Don’t they provoke themselves, to the confusion of their own faces?”

²⁰ Therefore the Lord GOD says: “Behold, my anger and my wrath will be poured out on this place, on man, on animal, on the trees of the field, and on the fruit of the ground; and it will burn and will not be quenched.”

²¹ The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel says: “Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices and eat meat. ²² For I didn’t speak to your fathers or command them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices; ²³ but this thing I commanded them, saying, 'Listen to my voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be my people. Walk in all the way that I command you, that it may be well with you.' ²⁴ But they didn't listen or turn their ear, but walked in their own counsels and in the stubbornness of their evil heart, and went backward, and not forward. ²⁵ Since the day that your fathers came out of the land of Egypt to this day, I have sent to you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them. ²⁶ Yet they didn't listen to me or incline their ear, but made their neck stiff. They did worse than their fathers.

²⁷ "You shall speak all these words to them, but they will not listen to you. You shall also call to them, but they will not answer you. ²⁸ You shall tell them, 'This is the nation that has not listened to the LORD their God's voice, nor received instruction. Truth has perished, and is cut off from their mouth.' ²⁹ Cut off your hair, and throw it away, and take up a lamentation on the bare heights; for the LORD has rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

³⁰ "For the children of Judah have done that which is evil in my sight," says the LORD. "They have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. ³¹ They have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire, which I didn't command, nor did it come into my mind. ³² Therefore behold, the days come", says the LORD, "that it will no more be called 'Topheth' or 'The valley of the son of Hinnom', but 'The valley of Slaughter'; for they will bury in Topheth until there is no place to bury. ³³ The dead bodies of this people will be food for the birds of the sky, and for the animals of the earth. No one will frighten them away. ³⁴ Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Judah and from the streets of Jerusalem the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride; for the land will become a waste."

¹ "At that time," says the LORD, "they will bring the bones of the kings of Judah, the bones of his princes, the bones of the priests, the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves. ² They will spread them before the sun, the moon, and all the army of the sky, which they have loved, which they have served, after which they have walked, which they have sought, and which they have worshiped. They will not be gathered or be buried. They will be like dung on the surface of the earth. ³ Death will be chosen rather than life by all the residue that remain of this evil family, that remain in all the places where I have driven them," says the LORD of Armies. ⁴ "Moreover you shall tell them, 'The LORD says:

" 'Do men fall, and not rise up again?

Does one turn away, and not return?

⁵ Why then have the people of Jerusalem fallen back by a perpetual backsliding?

They cling to deceit.

They refuse to return.

⁶ I listened and heard, but they didn't say what is right.

No one repents of his wickedness, saying, 'What have I done?'"

Everyone turns to his course,
as a horse that rushes headlong in the battle.

7 Yes, the stork in the sky knows her appointed times.
The turtledove, the swallow, and the crane observe the time of their coming;
but my people don't know the LORD's law.

8 "How do you say, "We are wise, and the LORD's law is with us"?
But, behold, the false pen of the scribes has made that a lie.

9 The wise men are disappointed.
They are dismayed and trapped.
Behold, they have rejected the LORD's word.
What kind of wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore I will give their wives to others and their fields to those who will possess them.

For everyone from the least even to the greatest is given to covetousness;
from the prophet even to the priest everyone deals falsely.

11 They have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying,
"Peace, peace," when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination?
No, they were not at all ashamed.
They couldn't blush.

Therefore they will fall among those who fall.
In the time of their visitation they will be cast down, says the LORD.

13 "I will utterly consume them, says the LORD.
No grapes will be on the vine,
no figs on the fig tree,
and the leaf will fade.

The things that I have given them will pass away from them.' "

14 "Why do we sit still?
Assemble yourselves!
Let's enter into the fortified cities,
and let's be silent there;
for the LORD our God has put us to silence,
and given us poisoned water to drink,
because we have sinned against the LORD.

15 We looked for peace, but no good came;
and for a time of healing, and behold, dismay!

16 The snorting of his horses is heard from Dan.
The whole land trembles at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones;
for they have come, and have devoured the land and all that is in it,
the city and those who dwell therein."

17 "For, behold, I will send serpents, adders among you,
which will not be charmed;
and they will bite you," says the LORD.

18 Oh that I could comfort myself against sorrow!
My heart is faint within me.

19 Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people from a land that is very far off:
“Isn’t the LORD in Zion?
Isn’t her King in her?”

“Why have they provoked me to anger with their engraved images, and with foreign idols?”

20 “The harvest is past.
The summer has ended,
and we are not saved.”

21 For the hurt of the daughter of my people, I am hurt.
I mourn.
Dismay has taken hold of me.

22 Is there no balm in Gilead?
Is there no physician there?

Why then isn’t the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

9

1 Oh that my head were waters, and my eyes a spring of tears,
that I might weep day and night
for the slain of the daughter of my people!

2 Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men, that I might leave my people and go from them!

For they are all adulterers,
an assembly of treacherous men.

3 “They bend their tongue,
as their bow, for falsehood.
They have grown strong in the land,
but not for truth;
for they proceed from evil to evil,
and they don’t know me,” says the LORD.

4 “Everyone beware of his neighbor, and don’t trust in any brother;
for every brother will utterly supplant,
and every neighbor will go around like a slanderer.

5 Friends deceive each other,
and will not speak the truth.
They have taught their tongue to speak lies.
They weary themselves committing iniquity.

6 Your habitation is in the middle of deceit.
Through deceit, they refuse to know me,” says the LORD.

7 Therefore the LORD of Armies says, “Behold, I will melt them and test them;
for how should I deal with the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is a deadly arrow.
It speaks deceit.
One speaks peaceably to his neighbor with his mouth,

but in his heart, he waits to ambush him.

⁹ Shouldn't I punish them for these things?" says the LORD.
"Shouldn't my soul be avenged on a nation such as this?"

¹⁰ I will weep and wail for the mountains, and lament for the pastures of the wilderness, because they are burned up, so that no one passes through;
Men can't hear the voice of the livestock.
Both the birds of the sky and the animals have fled.
They are gone.

¹¹ "I will make Jerusalem heaps,
a dwelling place of jackals.
I will make the cities of Judah a desolation,
without inhabitant."

¹² Who is wise enough to understand this? Who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD has spoken, that he may declare it? Why has the land perished and burned up like a wilderness, so that no one passes through?

¹³ The LORD says, "Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice or walked in my ways, ¹⁴ but have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart and after the Baals, which their fathers taught them." ¹⁵ Therefore the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says, "Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood and give them poisoned water to drink. ¹⁶ I will scatter them also among the nations, whom neither they nor their fathers have known. I will send the sword after them, until I have consumed them."

¹⁷ The LORD of Armies says,
"Consider, and call for the mourning women, that they may come.
Send for the skillful women, that they may come.

¹⁸ Let them make haste and take up a wailing for us,
that our eyes may run down with tears and our eyelids gush out with waters.

¹⁹ For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion,
'How we are ruined!
We are greatly confounded because we have forsaken the land, because they have cast down our dwellings.' "

²⁰ Yet hear the LORD's word, you women.
Let your ear receive the word of his mouth.
Teach your daughters wailing.
Everyone teach her neighbor a lamentation.

²¹ For death has come up into our windows.
It has entered into our palaces to cut off the children from outside, and the young men from the streets.

²² Speak, "The LORD says,
" 'The dead bodies of men will fall as dung on the open field,
and as the handful after the harvester.
No one will gather them.' "

²³ The LORD says,

“Don’t let the wise man glory in his wisdom.
Don’t let the mighty man glory in his might.
Don’t let the rich man glory in his riches.

²⁴ But let him who glories glory in this,
that he has understanding, and knows me, that I am the LORD who exercises loving kindness, justice, and righteousness in the earth,
for I delight in these things,” says the LORD.

²⁵ “Behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will punish all those who are circumcised only in their flesh: ²⁶ Egypt, Judah, Edom, the children of Ammon, Moab, and all who have the corners of their hair cut off, who dwell in the wilderness, for all the nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in heart.”

¹ Hear the word which the LORD speaks to you, house of Israel! ² The LORD says,

“Don’t learn the way of the nations,
and don’t be dismayed at the signs of the sky;
for the nations are dismayed at them.

³ For the customs of the peoples are vanity;
for one cuts a tree out of the forest,
the work of the hands of the workman with the ax.

⁴ They deck it with silver and with gold.
They fasten it with nails and with hammers,
so that it can’t move.

⁵ They are like a palm tree, of turned work,
and don’t speak.

They must be carried,
because they can’t move.

Don’t be afraid of them;
for they can’t do evil,
neither is it in them to do good.”

⁶ There is no one like you, LORD.
You are great,
and your name is great in might.

⁷ Who shouldn’t fear you,
King of the nations?
For it belongs to you.

Because among all the wise men of the nations,
and in all their royal estate,
there is no one like you.

⁸ But they are together brutish and foolish, instructed by idols!
It is just wood.

⁹ There is silver beaten into plates, which is brought from Tarshish, and gold from Uphaz,
the work of the engraver and of the hands of the goldsmith.
Their clothing is blue and purple.
They are all the work of skillful men.

¹⁰ But the LORD is the true God.
He is the living God,

and an everlasting King.

At his wrath, the earth trembles.

The nations aren't able to withstand his indignation.

¹¹ "You shall say this to them: 'The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth will perish from the earth, and from under the heavens.'"

¹² God has made the earth by his power.

He has established the world by his wisdom,
and by his understanding has he stretched out the heavens.

¹³ When he utters his voice,
the waters in the heavens roar,
and he causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth.

He makes lightnings for the rain,
and brings the wind out of his treasuries.

¹⁴ Every man has become brutish and without knowledge.
Every goldsmith is disappointed by his engraved image;
for his molten image is falsehood,
and there is no breath in them.

¹⁵ They are vanity, a work of delusion.
In the time of their visitation they will perish.

¹⁶ The portion of Jacob is not like these;
for he is the maker of all things;
and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance.
The LORD of Armies is his name.

¹⁷ Gather up your wares out of the land,
you who live under siege.

¹⁸ For the LORD says,
"Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this time, and will distress them, that they may feel it."

¹⁹ Woe is me because of my injury!

My wound is serious;
but I said,
"Truly this is my grief, and I must bear it."

²⁰ My tent has been destroyed, and all my cords are broken.

My children have gone away from me, and they are no more.
There is no one to spread my tent any more,
to set up my curtains.

²¹ For the shepherds have become brutish, and have not inquired of the LORD.

Therefore they have not prospered,
and all their flocks have scattered.

²² The voice of news, behold, it comes,
and a great commotion out of the north country,
to make the cities of Judah a desolation,
a dwelling place of jackals.

²³ LORD, I know that the way of man is not in himself.
It is not in man who walks to direct his steps.

²⁴ LORD, correct me, but gently;
not in your anger,
lest you reduce me to nothing.

²⁵ Pour out your wrath on the nations that don't know you,

and on the families that don't call on your name;
for they have devoured Jacob.
Yes, they have devoured him, consumed him,
and have laid waste his habitation.

¹ The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ² "Hear the words of this covenant, and speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem; ³ and say to them, the LORD, the God of Israel says: 'Cursed is the man who doesn't hear the words of this covenant, ⁴ which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the iron furnace,' saying, 'Obey my voice and do them, according to all which I command you; so you shall be my people, and I will be your God; ⁵ that I may establish the oath which I swore to your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey,' as it is today."

Then I answered, and said, "Amen, LORD."

⁶ The LORD said to me, "Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, 'Hear the words of this covenant, and do them. ⁷ For I earnestly protested to your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even to this day, rising early and protesting, saying, "Obey my voice." ⁸ Yet they didn't obey, nor turn their ear, but everyone walked in the stubbornness of their evil heart. Therefore I brought on them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they didn't do them.' "

⁹ The LORD said to me, "A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ¹⁰ They have turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, who refused to hear my words. They have gone after other gods to serve them. The house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers. ¹¹ Therefore the LORD says, 'Behold, I will bring evil on them which they will not be able to escape; and they will cry to me, but I will not listen to them. ¹² Then the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem will go and cry to the gods to which they offer incense, but they will not save them at all in the time of their trouble. ¹³ For according to the number of your cities are your gods, Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem you have set up altars to the shameful thing, even altars to burn incense to Baal.'

¹⁴ "Therefore don't pray for this people. Don't lift up cry or prayer for them; for I will not hear them in the time that they cry to me because of their trouble.

¹⁵ What has my beloved to do in my house, since she has behaved lewdly with many,
and the holy flesh has passed from you?
When you do evil,
then you rejoice."

¹⁶ The LORD called your name, "A green olive tree, beautiful with goodly fruit."
With the noise of a great roar he has kindled fire on it,
and its branches are broken.

¹⁷ For the LORD of Armies, who planted you, has pronounced evil against you, because of the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have done to themselves in provoking me to anger by offering incense to Baal.

¹⁸ The LORD gave me knowledge of it, and I knew it. Then you showed me their doings. ¹⁹ But I was like a gentle lamb that is led to the slaughter. I didn't know that they had devised plans against me, saying,

"Let's destroy the tree with its fruit, and let's cut him off from the land of the living,
that his name may be no more remembered."

²⁰ But, LORD of Armies, who judges righteously, who tests the heart and the mind,

I will see your vengeance on them;
for to you I have revealed my cause.

²¹ "Therefore the LORD says concerning the men of Anathoth, who seek your life, saying, 'You shall not prophesy in the LORD's name, that you not die by our hand'—²² therefore the LORD of Armies says, 'Behold, I will punish them. The young men will die by the sword. Their sons and their daughters will die by famine. ²³ There will be no remnant to them, for I will bring evil on the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.' "

when I contend with you;
yet I would like to plead a case with you.
Why does the way of the wicked prosper?
Why are they all at ease who deal very treacherously?

² You have planted them. Yes, they have taken root.
They grow. Yes, they produce fruit.
You are near in their mouth,
and far from their heart.

³ But you, LORD, know me.
You see me, and test my heart toward you.
Pull them out like sheep for the slaughter,
and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

⁴ How long will the land mourn,
and the herbs of the whole country wither?
Because of the wickedness of those who dwell therein,
the animals and birds are consumed;
because they said,
"He won't see our latter end."

⁵ "If you have run with the footmen, and they have wearied you,
then how can you contend with horses?
Though in a land of peace you are secure,
yet how will you do in the pride of the Jordan?

⁶ For even your brothers, and the house of your father,
even they have dealt treacherously with you!
Even they have cried aloud after you!
Don't believe them,
though they speak beautiful words to you.

- ⁷ “I have forsaken my house.
I have cast off my heritage.
I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.
⁸ My heritage has become to me as a lion in the forest.
She has uttered her voice against me.
Therefore I have hated her.
⁹ Is my heritage to me as a speckled bird of prey?
Are the birds of prey against her all around?
Go, assemble all the animals of the field.
Bring them to devour.
¹⁰ Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard.
They have trodden my portion under foot.
They have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.
¹¹ They have made it a desolation.
It mourns to me, being desolate.
The whole land is made desolate,
because no one cares.
¹² Destroyers have come on all the bare heights in the wilderness; for the sword of the LORD devours from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land.
No flesh has peace.
¹³ They have sown wheat,
and have reaped thorns.
They have exhausted themselves,
and profit nothing.
You will be ashamed of your fruits,
because of the LORD’s fierce anger.”

¹⁴ The LORD says, “Concerning all my evil neighbors, who touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit: Behold, I will pluck them up from off their land, and will pluck up the house of Judah from among them. ¹⁵ It will happen that after I have plucked them up, I will return and have compassion on them. I will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land. ¹⁶ It will happen, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, ‘As the LORD lives;’ even as they taught my people to swear by Baal, then they will be built up in the middle of my people. ¹⁷ But if they will not hear, then I will pluck up that nation, plucking up and destroying it,” says the LORD.

¹ The LORD said to me, “Go, and buy yourself a linen belt, and put it on your waist, and don’t put it in water.”

² So I bought a belt according to the LORD’s word, and put it on my waist.

³ The LORD’s word came to me the second time, saying, ⁴ “Take the belt that you have bought, which is on your waist, and arise, go to the Euphrates, and hide it there in a cleft of the rock.”

⁵ So I went and hid it by the Euphrates, as the LORD commanded me.

⁶ After many days, the LORD said to me, “Arise, go to the Euphrates, and take the belt from there, which I commanded you to hide there.”

⁷ Then I went to the Euphrates, and dug, and took the belt from the place where I had hidden it; and behold, the belt was ruined. It was profitable for nothing.

⁸ Then the LORD's word came to me, saying, ⁹ "The LORD says, 'In this way I will ruin the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem. ¹⁰ This evil people, who refuse to hear my words, who walk in the stubbornness of their heart, and have gone after other gods to serve them and to worship them, will even be as this belt, which is profitable for nothing. ¹¹ For as the belt clings to the waist of a man, so I have caused the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah to cling to me,' says the LORD; 'that they may be to me for a people, for a name, for praise, and for glory; but they would not hear.'

¹³ Then tell them, 'The LORD says, "Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings who sit on David's throne, the priests, the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, with drunkenness. ¹⁴ I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together," says the LORD: "I will not pity, spare, or have compassion, that I should not destroy them." ' "

¹⁵ Hear, and give ear.

Don't be proud,
for the LORD has spoken.

¹⁶ Give glory to the LORD your God, before he causes darkness,
and before your feet stumble on the dark mountains,
and while you look for light,
he turns it into the shadow of death,
and makes it deep darkness.

¹⁷ But if you will not hear it,
my soul will weep in secret for your pride.
My eye will weep bitterly,
and run down with tears,
because the LORD's flock has been taken captive.

¹⁸ Say to the king and to the queen mother,
"Humble yourselves.
Sit down, for your crowns have come down,
even the crown of your glory.

¹⁹ The cities of the South are shut up,
and there is no one to open them.
Judah is carried away captive: all of them.
They are wholly carried away captive.

²⁰ Lift up your eyes,
and see those who come from the north.
Where is the flock that was given to you,
your beautiful flock?

²¹ What will you say when he sets over you as head those whom you have yourself taught to be friends to you?
Won't sorrows take hold of you, as of a woman in travail?

²² If you say in your heart,

“Why have these things come on me?”

Your skirts are uncovered because of the greatness of your iniquity, and your heels suffer violence.

²³ Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots?

Then may you also do good,
who are accustomed to do evil.

²⁴ “Therefore I will scatter them as the stubble that passes away by the wind of the wilderness.

²⁵ This is your lot,
the portion measured to you from me,” says the LORD, “because you have forgotten me,
and trusted in falsehood.”

²⁶ Therefore I will also uncover your skirts on your face, and your shame will appear.

²⁷ I have seen your abominations, even your adulteries and your neighing, the lewdness of your prostitution, on the hills in the field.

Woe to you, Jerusalem!
You will not be made clean.
How long will it yet be?”

¹ This is the LORD’s word that came to Jeremiah concerning the drought:

² “Judah mourns,
and its gates languish.
They sit in black on the ground.
The cry of Jerusalem goes up.

³ Their nobles send their little ones to the waters.
They come to the cisterns,
and find no water.

They return with their vessels empty.
They are disappointed and confounded,
and cover their heads.

⁴ Because of the ground which is cracked, because no rain has been in the land,
the plowmen are disappointed.
They cover their heads.

⁵ Yes, the doe in the field also calves and forsakes her young,
because there is no grass.

⁶ The wild donkeys stand on the bare heights.
They pant for air like jackals.
Their eyes fail,
because there is no vegetation.

⁷ Though our iniquities testify against us, work for your name’s sake, LORD;
for our rebellions are many.
We have sinned against you.

⁸ You hope of Israel,

its Savior in the time of trouble,
why should you be as a foreigner in the land,
and as a wayfaring man who turns aside to stay for a night?

⁹ Why should you be like a scared man,
as a mighty man who can't save?

Yet you, LORD, are in the middle of us,
and we are called by your name.
Don't leave us.

¹⁰ The LORD says to this people:
"Even so they have loved to wander.
They have not restrained their feet.
Therefore the LORD does not accept them.
Now he will remember their iniquity,
and punish them for their sins."

¹¹ The LORD said to me, "Don't pray for this people for their good. ¹² When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and meal offering, I will not accept them; but I will consume them by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence."

¹³ Then I said, "Ah, Lord GOD! Behold, the prophets tell them, 'You will not see the sword, neither will you have famine; but I will give you assured peace in this place.'"

¹⁴ Then the LORD said to me, "The prophets prophesy lies in my name. I didn't send them. I didn't command them. I didn't speak to them. They prophesy to you a lying vision, divination, and a thing of nothing, and the deceit of their own heart. ¹⁵ Therefore the LORD says concerning the prophets who prophesy in my name, but I didn't send them, yet they say, 'Sword and famine will not be in this land.' Those prophets will be consumed by sword and famine. ¹⁶ The people to whom they prophesy will be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword. They will have no one to bury them—they, their wives, their sons, or their daughters, for I will pour their wickedness on them.

¹⁷ "You shall say this word to them:
" 'Let my eyes run down with tears night and day,
and let them not cease;
for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach,
with a very grievous wound.

¹⁸ If I go out into the field, then behold, the slain with the sword!
If I enter into the city,
then behold, those who are sick with famine!
For both the prophet and the priest go about in the land,
and have no knowledge.'"

¹⁹ Have you utterly rejected Judah?
Has your soul loathed Zion?
Why have you struck us, and there is no healing for us?

We looked for peace, but no good came;
and for a time of healing, and behold, dismay!

²⁰ We acknowledge, LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers;
for we have sinned against you.

- ²¹ Do not abhor us, for your name's sake.
Do not disgrace the throne of your glory.
Remember, and don't break your covenant with us.
- ²² Are there any among the vanities of the nations that can cause rain?
Or can the sky give showers?
Aren't you he, the LORD our God?
- Therefore we will wait for you;
for you have made all these things.

¹ Then the LORD said to me, "Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind would not turn toward this people. Cast them out of my sight, and let them go out! ² It will happen when they ask you, 'Where shall we go out?' then you shall tell them, 'The LORD says:

"Such as are for death, to death;
such as are for the sword, to the sword;
such as are for the famine, to the famine;
and such as are for captivity, to captivity." '

³ "I will appoint over them four kinds," says the LORD: "the sword to kill, the dogs to tear, the birds of the sky, and the animals of the earth, to devour and to destroy. ⁴ I will cause them to be tossed back and forth among all the kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh, the son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem.

⁵ For who will have pity on you, Jerusalem?

Who will mourn you?

Who will come to ask of your welfare?

⁶ You have rejected me," says the LORD.

"You have gone backward.

Therefore I have stretched out my hand against you and destroyed you.

I am weary of showing compassion.

⁷ I have winnowed them with a fan in the gates of the land.

I have bereaved them of children.

I have destroyed my people.

They didn't return from their ways.

⁸ Their widows are increased more than the sand of the seas.

I have brought on them against the mother of the young men a destroyer at noonday.

I have caused anguish and terrors to fall on her suddenly.

⁹ She who has borne seven languishes.

She has given up the spirit.

Her sun has gone down while it was yet day.

She has been disappointed and confounded.

I will deliver their residue to the sword before their enemies," says the LORD.

¹⁰ Woe is me, my mother; that you have borne me, a man of strife, and a man of contention to the whole earth!

I have not lent, neither have men lent to me;
yet every one of them curses me.

¹¹ The LORD said,

“Most certainly I will strengthen you for good.

Most certainly I will cause the enemy to make supplication to you in the time of evil
and in the time of affliction.

¹² Can one break iron,
even iron from the north, and bronze?

¹³ I will give your substance and your treasures for a plunder without price, and that for all your sins,
even in all your borders.

¹⁴ I will make them to pass with your enemies into a land which you don't know;
for a fire is kindled in my anger,
which will burn on you.”

¹⁵ LORD, you know.

Remember me, visit me,
and avenge me of my persecutors.

You are patient, so don't take me away.

Know that for your sake I have suffered reproach.

¹⁶ Your words were found,
and I ate them.

Your words were to me a joy and the rejoicing of my heart, for I am called by your name, LORD, God of Armies.

¹⁷ I didn't sit in the assembly of those who make merry and rejoice.
I sat alone because of your hand,
for you have filled me with indignation.

¹⁸ Why is my pain perpetual,
and my wound incurable,
which refuses to be healed?

Will you indeed be to me as a deceitful brook,
like waters that fail?

¹⁹ Therefore the LORD says,

“If you return, then I will bring you again,
that you may stand before me;

and if you take out the precious from the vile,
you will be as my mouth.

They will return to you,
but you will not return to them.

²⁰ I will make you to this people a fortified bronze wall.

They will fight against you,
but they will not prevail against you;

for I am with you to save you and to deliver you,” says the LORD.

²¹ “I will deliver you out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem you out of the hand of the terrible.”

16

¹ Then the LORD's word came to me, saying, ² “You shall not take a wife, neither shall you have sons or daughters, in this place.” ³ For the LORD says concerning the sons and concerning the daughters who are born in this place, and concerning their mothers who bore them, and concerning their fathers who became their father in this land: ⁴ “They will die grievous deaths. They will not be lamented, neither will they be buried. They will be as dung on the surface of the ground. They will be consumed by the sword and by famine. Their dead bodies will be food for the birds of the sky and for the animals of the earth."

¹⁴ "Therefore behold, the days come," says the LORD, "that it will no more be said, 'As the LORD lives, who brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;' ¹⁵ but, 'As the LORD lives, who brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the countries where he had driven them.' I will bring them again into their land that I gave to their fathers.

¹⁶ "Behold, I will send for many fishermen," says the LORD, "and they will fish them up. Afterward I will send for many hunters, and they will hunt them from every mountain, from every hill, and out of the clefts of the rocks. ¹⁷ For my eyes are on all their ways. They are not hidden from my face. Their iniquity isn't concealed from my eyes. ¹⁸ First I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double, because they have polluted my land with the carcasses of their detestable things, and have filled my inheritance with their abominations."

¹⁹ LORD, my strength, my stronghold, and my refuge in the day of affliction,
the nations will come to you from the ends of the earth,
and will say,

"Our fathers have inherited nothing but lies,
vanity and things in which there is no profit.

²⁰ Should a man make to himself gods which yet are no gods?"

21 “Therefore behold, I will cause them to know, this once I will cause them to know my hand and my might.
Then they will know that my name is the LORD.”

17

1 “The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron,
and with the point of a diamond.
It is engraved on the tablet of their heart,
and on the horns of your altars.

2 Even their children remember their altars and their Asherah poles by the green trees on the high hills.

3 My mountain in the field,
I will give your substance and all your treasures for a plunder, and your high places, because of sin, throughout all your borders.

4 You, even of yourself, will discontinue from your heritage that I gave you.
I will cause you to serve your enemies in the land which you don't know, for you have kindled a fire in my anger which will burn forever.”

5 The LORD says:

“Cursed is the man who trusts in man, relies on strength of flesh,
and whose heart departs from the LORD.

6 For he will be like a bush in the desert, and will not see when good comes,
but will inhabit the parched places in the wilderness,
an uninhabited salt land.

7 “Blessed is the man who trusts in the LORD,
and whose confidence is in the LORD.

8 For he will be as a tree planted by the waters, who spreads out its roots by the river,
and will not fear when heat comes,
but its leaf will be green,
and will not be concerned in the year of drought.
It won't cease from yielding fruit.

9 The heart is deceitful above all things and it is exceedingly corrupt.
Who can know it?

10 “I, the LORD, search the mind.
I try the heart,
even to give every man according to his ways,
according to the fruit of his doings.”

11 As the partridge that sits on eggs which she has not laid,
so is he who gets riches, and not by right.
In the middle of his days, they will leave him.
At his end, he will be a fool.

12 A glorious throne, set on high from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary.

13 LORD, the hope of Israel,
all who forsake you will be disappointed.
Those who depart from me will be written in the earth,

because they have forsaken the LORD,
the spring of living waters.

¹⁴ Heal me, O LORD, and I will be healed.
Save me, and I will be saved;
for you are my praise.

¹⁵ Behold, they ask me,
“Where is the LORD’s word?
Let it be fulfilled now.”

¹⁶ As for me, I have not hurried from being a shepherd after you.
I haven’t desired the woeful day. You know.
That which came out of my lips was before your face.

¹⁷ Don’t be a terror to me.
You are my refuge in the day of evil.

¹⁸ Let them be disappointed who persecute me, but don’t let me be disappointed.

Let them be dismayed,
but don’t let me be dismayed.

Bring on them the day of evil,
and destroy them with double destruction.

¹⁹ The LORD said this to me: “Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, through which the kings of Judah come in and by which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem. ²⁰ Tell them, ‘Hear the LORD’s word, you kings of Judah, all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates: ²¹ The LORD says, “Be careful, and bear no burden on the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem. ²² Don’t carry a burden out of your houses on the Sabbath day. Don’t do any work, but make the Sabbath day holy, as I commanded your fathers. ²³ But they didn’t listen. They didn’t turn their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, and might not receive instruction. ²⁴ It will happen, if you diligently listen to me,” says the LORD, “to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the Sabbath day, but to make the Sabbath day holy, to do no work therein; ²⁵ then there will enter in by the gates of this city kings and princes sitting on David’s throne, riding in chariots and on horses, they and their princes, the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and this city will remain forever. ²⁶ They will come from the cities of Judah, and from the places around Jerusalem, from the land of Benjamin, from the lowland, from the hill country, and from the South, bringing burnt offerings, sacrifices, meal offerings, and frankincense, and bringing sacrifices of thanksgiving to the LORD’s house. ²⁷ But if you will not listen to me to make the Sabbath day holy, and not to bear a burden and enter in at the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day, then I will kindle a fire in its gates, and it will devour the palaces of Jerusalem. It will not be quenched.” ’ ’ ”

⁵ Then the LORD's word came to me, saying, ⁶ "House of Israel, can't I do with you as this potter?" says the LORD. "Behold, as the clay in the potter's hand, so are you in my hand, house of Israel. ⁷ At the instant I speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up and to break down and to destroy it, ⁸ if that nation, concerning which I have spoken, turns from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do to them. ⁹ At the instant I speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it, ¹⁰ if they do that which is evil in my sight, that they not obey my voice, then I will repent of the good with which I said I would benefit them.

¹¹ "Now therefore, speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, 'The LORD says: "Behold, I frame evil against you, and devise a plan against you. Everyone return from his evil way now, and amend your ways and your doings."' ¹² But they say, 'It is in vain; for we will walk after our own plans, and we will each follow the stubbornness of his evil heart.' "

¹³ Therefore the LORD says:
"Ask now among the nations,
'Who has heard such things?'"

The virgin of Israel has done a very horrible thing.

¹⁴ Will the snow of Lebanon fail from the rock of the field?
Will the cold waters that flow down from afar be dried up?

¹⁵ For my people have forgotten me.
They have burned incense to false gods.
They have been made to stumble in their ways
in the ancient paths,
to walk in byways, in a way not built up,

¹⁶ to make their land an astonishment, and a perpetual hissing.
Everyone who passes by it will be astonished,
and shake his head.

¹⁷ I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy.
I will show them the back, and not the face,
in the day of their calamity.

¹⁸ Then they said, "Come! Let's devise plans against Jeremiah; for the law won't perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let's strike him with the tongue, and let's not give heed to any of his words."

¹⁹ Give heed to me, LORD, and listen to the voice of those who contend with me.

²⁰ Should evil be recompensed for good?

For they have dug a pit for my soul.

Remember how I stood before you to speak good for them,
to turn away your wrath from them.

²¹ Therefore deliver up their children to the famine,
and give them over to the power of the sword.

Let their wives become childless and widows.

Let their men be killed and their young men struck by the sword in battle.

²² Let a cry be heard from their houses
when you bring a troop suddenly on them;

for they have dug a pit to take me and hidden snares for my feet.

²³ Yet, LORD, you know all their counsel against me to kill me.

Don't forgive their iniquity.

Don't blot out their sin from your sight,

Let them be overthrown before you.

Deal with them in the time of your anger.

¹⁰ "Then you shall break the container in the sight of the men who go with you, ¹¹ and shall tell them, 'The LORD of Armies says: "Even so I will break this people and this city as one breaks a potter's vessel, that can't be made whole again. They will bury in Topheth until there is no place to bury. ¹² This is what I will do to this place," says the LORD, "and to its inhabitants, even making this city as Topheth. ¹³ The houses of Jerusalem and the houses of the kings of Judah, which are defiled, will be as the place of Topheth, even all the houses on whose roofs they have burned incense to all the army of the sky and have poured out drink offerings to other gods." ' "

¹⁴ Then Jeremiah came from Topheth, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy, and he stood in the court of the LORD's house, and said to all the people: ¹⁵ "The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel says, 'Behold, I will bring on this city and on all its towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it, because they have made their neck stiff, that they may not hear my words.' "

struck Jeremiah the prophet and put him in the stocks that were in the upper gate of Benjamin, which was in the LORD's house. ³ On the next day, Pashhur released Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then Jeremiah said to him, "The LORD has not called your name Pashhur, but Magormissabib.* ⁴ For the LORD says, 'Behold, I will make you a terror to yourself and to all your friends. They will fall by the sword of their enemies, and your eyes will see it. I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he will carry them captive to Babylon, and will kill them with the sword. ⁵ Moreover I will give all the riches of this city, and all its gains, and all its precious things, yes, I will give all the treasures of the kings of Judah into the hand of their enemies. They will make them captives, take them, and carry them to Babylon. ⁶ You, Pashhur, and all who dwell in your house will go into captivity. You will come to Babylon, and there you will die, and there you will be buried, you, and all your friends, to whom you have prophesied falsely.' "

⁷ LORD, you have persuaded me, and I was persuaded.

You are stronger than I, and have prevailed.

I have become a laughingstock all day.

Everyone mocks me.

⁸ For as often as I speak, I cry out;

I cry, "Violence and destruction!"

because the LORD's word has been made a reproach to me, and a derision, all day.

⁹ If I say that I will not make mention of him, or speak any more in his name,

then there is in my heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones.

I am weary with holding it in.

I can't.

¹⁰ For I have heard the defaming of many:

"Terror on every side!

Denounce, and we will denounce him!"

say all my familiar friends,

those who watch for my fall.

"Perhaps he will be persuaded,

and we will prevail against him,

and we will take our revenge on him."

¹¹ But the LORD is with me as an awesome mighty one.

Therefore my persecutors will stumble,

and they won't prevail.

They will be utterly disappointed

because they have not dealt wisely, even with an everlasting dishonor which will never be forgotten.

¹² But the LORD of Armies, who tests the righteous, who sees the heart and the mind,

let me see your vengeance on them,

for I have revealed my cause to you.

¹³ Sing to the LORD!

Praise the LORD,

for he has delivered the soul of the needy from the hand of evildoers.

¹⁴ Cursed is the day in which I was born.

* 20:3 "Magormissabib" means "surrounded by terror"

Don't let the day in which my mother bore me be blessed.

¹⁵ Cursed is the man who brought news to my father, saying,
"A boy is born to you," making him very glad.

¹⁶ Let that man be as the cities which the LORD overthrew, and didn't repent.

Let him hear a cry in the morning,
and shouting at noontime,

¹⁷ because he didn't kill me from the womb.
So my mother would have been my grave,
and her womb always great.

¹⁸ Why did I come out of the womb to see labor and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

¹ The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, when King Zedekiah sent to him Pashhur the son of Malchijah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, saying, ² "Please inquire of the LORD for us; for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon makes war against us. Perhaps the LORD will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may withdraw from us."

³ Then Jeremiah said to them, "Tell Zedekiah: ⁴ 'The LORD, the God of Israel says, "Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, with which you fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans who besiege you outside the walls; and I will gather them into the middle of this city. ⁵ I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, in wrath, and in great indignation. ⁶ I will strike the inhabitants of this city, both man and animal. They will die of a great pestilence. ⁷ Afterward," says the LORD, "I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, his servants, and the people, even those who are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those who seek their life. He will strike them with the edge of the sword. He will not spare them, have pity, or have mercy." '

⁸ "You shall say to this people, 'The LORD says: "Behold, I set before you the way of life and the way of death. ⁹ He who remains in this city will die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, but he who goes out and passes over to the Chaldeans who besiege you, he will live, and he will escape with his life. ¹⁰ For I have set my face on this city for evil, and not for good," says the LORD. "It will be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he will burn it with fire." '

¹¹ "Concerning the house of the king of Judah, hear the LORD's word:

¹² House of David, the LORD says,

'Execute justice in the morning, and deliver him who is robbed out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my wrath go out like fire,

and burn so that no one can quench it,

because of the evil of your doings.

¹³ Behold, I am against you, O inhabitant of the valley, and of the rock of the plain,' says the LORD.

'You that say, "Who would come down against us?"

or, "Who would enter into our homes?"

¹⁴ I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings,' says the LORD;
'and I will kindle a fire in her forest, and it will devour all that is around her.' "

³ The LORD says: "Execute justice and righteousness, and deliver him who is robbed out of the hand of the oppressor. Do no wrong. Do no violence to the foreigner, the fatherless, or the widow. Don't shed innocent blood in this place. ⁴ For if you do this thing indeed, then kings sitting on David's throne will enter in by the gates of this house, riding in chariots and on horses—they, their servants, and their people. ⁵ But if you will not hear these words, I swear by myself," says the LORD, "that this house will become a desolation." ' "

⁶ For the LORD says concerning the house of the king of Judah:

"You are Gilead to me,
the head of Lebanon.

Yet surely I will make you a wilderness, cities which are not inhabited.

⁷ I will prepare destroyers against you,
everyone with his weapons,
and they will cut down your choice cedars,
and cast them into the fire.

⁸ "Many nations will pass by this city, and they will each ask his neighbor, 'Why has the LORD done this to this great city?' ⁹ Then they will answer, 'Because they abandoned the covenant of the LORD their God, worshiped other gods, and served them.' "

¹⁰ Don't weep for the dead.

Don't bemoan him;
but weep bitterly for him who goes away,
for he will return no more,
and not see his native country.

¹¹ For the LORD says touching Shallum the son of Josiah, king of Judah, who reigned instead of Josiah his father, and who went out of this place: "He won't return there any more. ¹² But he will die in the place where they have led him captive. He will see this land no more."

¹³ "Woe to him who builds his house by unrighteousness, and his rooms by injustice;
who uses his neighbor's service without wages,
and doesn't give him his hire;

¹⁴ who says, 'I will build myself a wide house and spacious rooms,' and cuts out windows for himself, with a cedar ceiling,
and painted with red.

¹⁵ "Should you reign because you strive to excel in cedar?

Didn't your father eat and drink,
and do justice and righteousness?
Then it was well with him.

¹⁶ He judged the cause of the poor and needy;

so then it was well.
Wasn't this to know me?"
says the LORD.

¹⁷ But your eyes and your heart are only for your covetousness, for shedding innocent blood,
for oppression, and for doing violence."

¹⁸ Therefore the LORD says concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah:

"They won't lament for him,
saying, 'Ah my brother!' or, 'Ah sister!'

They won't lament for him, saying 'Ah lord!' or, 'Ah his glory!'

¹⁹ He will be buried with the burial of a donkey, drawn and cast out beyond the gates of Jerusalem."

²⁰ "Go up to Lebanon, and cry out.
Lift up your voice in Bashan, and cry from Abarim;
for all your lovers have been destroyed.

²¹ I spoke to you in your prosperity,
but you said, 'I will not listen.'
This has been your way from your youth, that you didn't obey my voice.

²² The wind will feed all your shepherds, and your lovers will go into captivity.
Surely then you will be ashamed and confounded for all your wickedness.

²³ Inhabitant of Lebanon, who makes your nest in the cedars,
how greatly to be pitied you will be when pangs come on you,
the pain as of a woman in travail!

²⁴ "As I live," says the LORD, "though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet on my right hand, I would still pluck you from there. ²⁵ I would give you into the hand of those who seek your life, and into the hand of them of whom you are afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans. ²⁶ I will cast you out with your mother who bore you into another country, where you were not born; and there you will die. ²⁷ But to the land to which their soul longs to return, there they will not return."

²⁸ Is this man Coniah a despised broken vessel?
Is he a vessel in which no one delights?
Why are they cast out, he and his offspring,
and cast into a land which they don't know?

²⁹ O earth, earth, earth, hear the LORD's word!

³⁰ The LORD says,
"Record this man as childless,
a man who will not prosper in his days;
for no more will a man of his offspring prosper, sitting on David's throne and ruling in Judah."

1 “Woe to the shepherds who destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture!” says the LORD. 2 Therefore the LORD, the God of Israel, says against the shepherds who feed my people: “You have scattered my flock, driven them away, and have not visited them. Behold, I will visit on you the evil of your doings,” says the LORD. 3 “I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the countries where I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds; and they will be fruitful and multiply. 4 I will set up shepherds over them who will feed them. They will no longer be afraid or dismayed, neither will any be lacking,” says the LORD.

5 “Behold, the days come,” says the LORD,
“that I will raise to David a righteous Branch;
and he will reign as king and deal wisely,
and will execute justice and righteousness in the land.

6 In his days Judah will be saved,
and Israel will dwell safely.
This is his name by which he will be called:
The LORD our righteousness.

7 “Therefore, behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that they will no more say, ‘As the LORD lives, who brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;’ 8 but, ‘As the LORD lives, who brought up and who led the offspring of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all the countries where I had driven them.’ Then they will dwell in their own land.”

9 Concerning the prophets:
My heart within me is broken.
All my bones shake.

I am like a drunken man,
and like a man whom wine has overcome,
because of the LORD,
and because of his holy words.

10 “For the land is full of adulterers;
for because of the curse the land mourns.
The pastures of the wilderness have dried up.
Their course is evil,
and their might is not right;

11 for both prophet and priest are profane.
Yes, in my house I have found their wickedness,” says the LORD.

12 Therefore their way will be to them as slippery places in the darkness.
They will be driven on,
and fall therein;
for I will bring evil on them,
even the year of their visitation,” says the LORD.

13 “I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria.
They prophesied by Baal,
and caused my people Israel to err.

14 In the prophets of Jerusalem I have also seen a horrible thing:
they commit adultery and walk in lies.
They strengthen the hands of evildoers,
so that no one returns from his wickedness.
They have all become to me as Sodom,
and its inhabitants as Gomorrah.”

- ¹⁵ Therefore the LORD of Armies says concerning the prophets:
“Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink poisoned water;
for from the prophets of Jerusalem ungodliness has gone out into all the land.”
- ¹⁶ The LORD of Armies says, “Don’t listen to the words of the prophets who prophesy to you.
They teach you vanity.
They speak a vision of their own heart,
and not out of the mouth of the LORD.
- ¹⁷ They say continually to those who despise me,
‘The LORD has said, “You will have peace;”’ and to everyone who walks in the stubbornness of his own heart they say, ‘No evil will come on you.’
- ¹⁸ For who has stood in the council of the LORD, that he should perceive and hear his word?
Who has listened to my word, and heard it?
- ¹⁹ Behold, the LORD’s storm, his wrath, has gone out.
Yes, a whirling storm!
It will burst on the head of the wicked.
- ²⁰ The LORD’s anger will not return until he has executed and performed the intents of his heart.
In the latter days, you will understand it perfectly.
- ²¹ I didn’t send these prophets, yet they ran.
I didn’t speak to them, yet they prophesied.
- ²² But if they had stood in my council,
then they would have caused my people to hear my words,
and would have turned them from their evil way,
and from the evil of their doings.
- ²³ “Am I a God at hand,” says the LORD,
“and not a God afar off?”
- ²⁴ Can anyone hide himself in secret places
so that I can’t see him?” says the LORD.
“Don’t I fill heaven and earth?” says the LORD.
- ²⁵ “I have heard what the prophets have said, who prophesy lies in my name, saying, ‘I had a dream! I had a dream!’” ²⁶ How long will this be in the heart of the prophets who prophesy lies, even the prophets of the deceit of their own heart? ²⁷ They intend to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they each tell his neighbor, as their fathers forgot my name because of Baal. ²⁸ The prophet who has a dream, let him tell a dream; and he who has my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the straw to the wheat?” says the LORD. ²⁹ “Isn’t my word like fire?” says the LORD; “and like a hammer that breaks the rock in pieces?”
- ³⁰ “Therefore behold, I am against the prophets,” says the LORD, “who each steal my words from his neighbor. ³¹ Behold, I am against the prophets,” says the LORD, “who use their tongues, and say, ‘He says.’” ³² Behold, I am against those who prophesy lying dreams,” says the LORD, “who tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their vain boasting; yet I didn’t send them or command them. They don’t profit this people at all,” says the LORD.

³³ “When this people, or the prophet, or a priest, asks you, saying, ‘What is the message from the LORD?’ Then you shall tell them, ‘What message? I will cast you off,’ says the LORD.” ³⁴ As for the prophet, the priest, and the people, who say, ‘The message from the LORD,’ I will even punish that man and his household. ³⁵ You will say everyone to his neighbor, and everyone to his brother, ‘What has the LORD answered?’ and, ‘What has the LORD said?’ ³⁶ You will mention the message from the LORD no more, for every man’s own word has become his message; for you have perverted the words of the living God, of the LORD of Armies, our God. ³⁷ You will say to the prophet, ‘What has the LORD answered you?’ and, ‘What has the LORD spoken?’ ³⁸ Although you say, ‘The message from the LORD,’ therefore the LORD says: ‘Because you say this word, “The message from the LORD,” and I have sent to you, telling you not to say, “The message from the LORD,”’ ³⁹ therefore behold, I will utterly forget you, and I will cast you off with the city that I gave to you and to your fathers, away from my presence. ⁴⁰ I will bring an everlasting reproach on you, and a perpetual shame, which will not be forgotten.’”

¹ The LORD showed me, and behold, two baskets of figs were set before the LORD’s temple, after Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the craftsmen and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon. ² One basket had very good figs, like the figs that are first-ripe; and the other basket had very bad figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad.

³ Then the LORD asked me, “What do you see, Jeremiah?”

I said, “Figs. The good figs are very good, and the bad are very bad, so bad that they can’t be eaten.”

⁴ The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ⁵ “The LORD, the God of Israel says: ‘Like these good figs, so I will regard the captives of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans, as good. ⁶ For I will set my eyes on them for good, and I will bring them again to this land. I will build them, and not pull them down. I will plant them, and not pluck them up. ⁷ I will give them a heart to know me, that I am the LORD. They will be my people, and I will be their God; for they will return to me with their whole heart.

⁸ “As the bad figs, which can’t be eaten, they are so bad,’ surely the LORD says, ‘So I will give up Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the remnant of Jerusalem who remain in this land, and those who dwell in the land of Egypt. ⁹ I will even give them up to be tossed back and forth among all the kingdoms of the earth for evil, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places where I will drive them. ¹⁰ I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, until they are consumed from off the land that I gave to them and to their fathers.’”

¹ The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah (this was the first year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon), ² which Jeremiah the prophet spoke to all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem:

³ From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, even to this day, these twenty-three years, the LORD's word has come to me, and I have spoken to you, rising up early and speaking; but you have not listened.

⁴ The LORD has sent to you all his servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them (but you have not listened or inclined your ear to hear),
⁵ saying, "Return now everyone from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD has given to you and to your fathers, from of old and even forever more." ⁶ Don't go after other gods to serve them or worship them, and don't provoke me to anger with the work of your hands; then I will do you no harm."

⁷ "Yet you have not listened to me," says the LORD, "that you may provoke me to anger with the work of your hands to your own hurt."

⁸ Therefore the LORD of Armies says: "Because you have not heard my words, ⁹ behold, I will send and take all the families of the north," says the LORD, "and I will send to Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against its inhabitants, and against all these nations around. I will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and a hissing, and perpetual desolations. ¹⁰ Moreover I will take from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, and the light of the lamp. ¹¹ This whole land will be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations will serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

¹² "It will happen, when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon and that nation," says the LORD, "for their iniquity. I will make the land of the Chaldeans desolate forever. ¹³ I will bring on that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah has prophesied against all the nations. ¹⁴ For many nations and great kings will make bondservants of them, even of them. I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the work of their hands."

¹⁵ For the LORD, the God of Israel, says to me: "Take this cup of the wine of wrath from my hand, and cause all the nations to whom I send you to drink it. ¹⁶ They will drink, and reel back and forth, and be insane, because of the sword that I will send among them."

¹⁷ Then I took the cup at the LORD's hand, and made all the nations to drink, to whom the LORD had sent me: ¹⁸ Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, with its kings and its princes, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, a hissing, and a curse, as it is today; ¹⁹ Pharaoh king of Egypt, with his servants, his princes, and all his people; ²⁰ and all the mixed people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, all the kings of the Philistines, Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod; ²¹ Edom, Moab, and the children of Ammon; ²² and all the kings of Tyre, all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the isle which is beyond the sea; ²³ Dedan, Tema, Buz, and all who have the corners of their beard cut off; ²⁴ and all the kings of Arabia, all the kings of the mixed people who dwell in the wilderness; ²⁵ and all the kings of Zimri, all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes; ²⁶ and all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another; and all the kingdoms of the world, which are on the surface of the earth. The king of Sheshach will drink after them.

²⁷ “You shall tell them, ‘The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel says: “Drink, and be drunk, vomit, fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you.” ’” ²⁸ It shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at your hand to drink, then you shall tell them, ‘The LORD of Armies says: “You shall surely drink. ²⁹ For, behold, I begin to work evil at the city which is called by my name; and should you be utterly unpunished? You will not be unpunished; for I will call for a sword on all the inhabitants of the earth, says the LORD of Armies.” ’”

³⁰ “Therefore prophesy against them all these words, and tell them, “The LORD will roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation.

He will mightily roar against his fold.

He will give a shout, as those who tread grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

³¹ A noise will come even to the end of the earth;
for the LORD has a controversy with the nations.

He will enter into judgment with all flesh.

As for the wicked, he will give them to the sword,” ’ says the LORD.”

³² The LORD of Armies says,

“Behold, evil will go out from nation to nation, and a great storm will be raised up from the uttermost parts of the earth.”

³³ The slain of the LORD will be at that day from one end of the earth even to the other end of the earth. They won’t be lamented. They won’t be gathered or buried. They will be dung on the surface of the ground.

³⁴ Wail, you shepherds, and cry.

Wallow in dust, you leader of the flock;

for the days of your slaughter and of your dispersions have fully come,
and you will fall like fine pottery.

³⁵ The shepherds will have no way to flee.

The leader of the flock will have no escape.

³⁶ A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and the wailing of the leader of the flock,
for the LORD destroys their pasture.

³⁷ The peaceful folds are brought to silence because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

³⁸ He has left his covert, as the lion;

for their land has become an astonishment because of the fierceness of the oppression,

and because of his fierce anger.

¹ In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came from the LORD: ² “The LORD says: ‘Stand in the court of the LORD’s house, and speak to all the cities of Judah which come to worship in the LORD’s house, all the words that I command you to speak to them. Don’t omit a word. ³ It may be they will listen, and every man turn from his evil way, that I may relent from the evil which I intend to do to them because of the evil of their doings.’ ” ⁴ You shall tell them, “The LORD says: ‘If you will not listen to me, to walk in my law which I have set before you, ⁵ to listen to the words of my servants the prophets whom I send to you, even rising up early and sending them—but you have not listened— ⁶ then I will make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.’ ”

⁷ The priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the LORD’s house. ⁸ When Jeremiah had finished speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak to all the people, the priests and the prophets and all the people seized him, saying, “You shall surely die! ⁹ Why have you prophesied in the LORD’s name, saying, ‘This house will be like Shiloh, and this city will be desolate, without inhabitant?’” All the people were crowded around Jeremiah in the LORD’s house.

¹⁰ When the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king’s house to the LORD’s house; and they sat in the entry of the new gate of the LORD’s house. ¹¹ Then the priests and the prophets spoke to the princes and to all the people, saying, “This man is worthy of death, for he has prophesied against this city, as you have heard with your ears.”

¹² Then Jeremiah spoke to all the princes and to all the people, saying, “The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that you have heard. ¹³ Now therefore amend your ways and your doings, and obey the LORD your God’s voice; then the LORD will relent from the evil that he has pronounced against you. ¹⁴ But as for me, behold, I am in your hand. Do with me what is good and right in your eyes. ¹⁵ Only know for certain that if you put me to death, you will bring innocent blood on yourselves, on this city, and on its inhabitants; for in truth the LORD has sent me to you to speak all these words in your ears.”

¹⁶ Then the princes and all the people said to the priests and to the prophets: “This man is not worthy of death; for he has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.”

¹⁷ Then certain of the elders of the land rose up, and spoke to all the assembly of the people, saying, ¹⁸ “Micah the Morashtite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah; and he spoke to all the people of Judah, saying, ‘The LORD of Armies says:

“ ‘Zion will be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem will become heaps,
and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.’ ”

¹⁹ Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him to death? Didn’t he fear the LORD, and entreat the favor of the LORD, and the LORD relented of the disaster which he had pronounced against them? We would commit great evil against our own souls that way!”

²⁰ There was also a man who prophesied in the LORD’s name, Uriah the son of Shemaiah of Kiriath Jearim; and he prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah. ²¹ When Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men and all the princes heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Uriah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt. ²² Then Jehoiakim the king sent Elnathan the son of Achbor and certain men with him into Egypt. ²³ They fetched Uriah out of Egypt and brought him to Jehoiakim the king, who killed him with the sword and cast his dead body into the graves of the common people.

²⁴ But the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, so that they didn’t give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

¹² I spoke to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, "Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live. ¹³ Why will you die, you and your people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the LORD has spoken concerning the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? ¹⁴ Don't listen to the words of the prophets who speak to you, saying, 'You shall not serve the king of Babylon;' for they prophesy a lie to you. ¹⁵ For I have not sent them," says the LORD, "but they prophesy falsely in my name; that I may drive you out, and that you may perish, you, and the prophets who prophesy to you."

¹⁶ Also I spoke to the priests and to all this people, saying, the LORD says, "Don't listen to the words of your prophets who prophesy to you, saying, 'Behold, the vessels of the LORD's house will now shortly be brought again from Babylon;' for they prophesy a lie to you. ¹⁷ Don't listen to them. Serve the king of Babylon, and live. Why should this city become a desolation? ¹⁸ But if they are prophets, and if the LORD's word is with them, let them now make intercession to the LORD of Armies, that the vessels which are left in the LORD's house, in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, don't go to Babylon. ¹⁹ For the LORD of Armies says concerning the pillars, concerning the sea, concerning the bases, and concerning the rest of the vessels that are left in this city, ²⁰ which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon didn't take when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem— ²¹ yes, the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says concerning the vessels that are left in the LORD's house, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem: ²² 'They will be carried to Babylon, and there they will be, until the day that I visit them,' says the LORD; 'then I will bring them up, and restore them to this place.' "

⁵ Then the prophet Jeremiah said to the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people who stood in the LORD's house, ⁶ even the prophet Jeremiah said, "Amen! May the LORD do so. May the LORD perform your words which you have prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the LORD's house, and all those who are captives, from Babylon to this place. ⁷ Nevertheless listen now to this word that I speak in your ears, and in the ears of all the people: ⁸ The prophets who have been before me and before you of old prophesied against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, of evil, and of pestilence. ⁹ As for the prophet who prophesies of peace, when the word of the prophet happens, then the prophet will be known, that the LORD has truly sent him."

¹⁰ Then Hananiah the prophet took the bar from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and broke it. ¹¹ Hananiah spoke in the presence of all the people, saying, "The LORD says: 'Even so I will break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from off the neck of all the nations within two full years.' " Then the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

¹² Then the LORD's word came to Jeremiah, after Hananiah the prophet had broken the bar from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying, ¹³ "Go, and tell Hananiah, saying, 'The LORD says, "You have broken the bars of wood, but you have made in their place bars of iron." ¹⁴ For the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel says, "I have put a yoke of iron on the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they will serve him. I have also given him the animals of the field." ' " "

¹⁵ Then the prophet Jeremiah said to Hananiah the prophet, "Listen, Hananiah! The LORD has not sent you, but you make this people trust in a lie. ¹⁶ Therefore the LORD says, 'Behold, I will send you away from off the surface of the earth. This year you will die, because you have spoken rebellion against the LORD.' "

¹⁷ So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

captive from Jerusalem to Babylon, ² (after Jeconiah the king, the queen mother, the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, the craftsmen, and the smiths had departed from Jerusalem), ³ by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent to Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon). It said:

⁴ The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says to all the captives whom I have caused to be carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon: ⁵ “Build houses and dwell in them. Plant gardens and eat their fruit. ⁶ Take wives and father sons and daughters. Take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters. Multiply there, and don’t be diminished. ⁷ Seek the peace of the city where I have caused you to be carried away captive, and pray to the LORD for it; for in its peace you will have peace.” ⁸ For the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel says: “Don’t let your prophets who are among you and your diviners deceive you. Don’t listen to your dreams which you cause to be dreamed. ⁹ For they prophesy falsely to you in my name. I have not sent them,” says the LORD. ¹⁰ For the LORD says, “After seventy years are accomplished for Babylon, I will visit you and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place. ¹¹ For I know the thoughts that I think toward you,” says the LORD, “thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you hope and a future. ¹² You shall call on me, and you shall go and pray to me, and I will listen to you. ¹³ You shall seek me and find me, when you search for me with all your heart. ¹⁴ I will be found by you,” says the LORD, “and I will turn again your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places where I have driven you, says the LORD. I will bring you again to the place from where I caused you to be carried away captive.”

¹⁵ Because you have said, “The LORD has raised us up prophets in Babylon,” ¹⁶ the LORD says concerning the king who sits on David’s throne, and concerning all the people who dwell in this city, your brothers who haven’t gone with you into captivity, ¹⁷ the LORD of Armies says: “Behold, I will send on them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like rotten figs that can’t be eaten, they are so bad. ¹⁸ I will pursue after them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will deliver them to be tossed back and forth among all the kingdoms of the earth, to be an object of horror, an astonishment, a hissing, and a reproach among all the nations where I have driven them, ¹⁹ because they have not listened to my words,” says the LORD, “with which I sent to them my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but you would not hear,” says the LORD.

²⁰ Hear therefore the LORD’s word, all you captives whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon. ²¹ The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says concerning Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, who prophesy a lie to you in my name: “Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and he will kill them before your eyes. ²² A curse will be taken up about them by all the captives of Judah who are in Babylon, saying, ‘The LORD make you like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire;’ ²³ because they have done foolish things in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbors’ wives, and have spoken words in my name falsely, which I didn't command them. I am he who knows, and am witness," says the LORD.

²⁴ Concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite you shall speak, saying, ²⁵ "The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says, 'Because you have sent letters in your own name to all the people who are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, and to all the priests, saying, ²⁶ "The LORD has made you priest in the place of Jehoiada the priest, that there may be officers in the LORD's house, for every man who is crazy and makes himself a prophet, that you should put him in the stocks and in shackles. ²⁷ Now therefore, why have you not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth, who makes himself a prophet to you, ²⁸ because he has sent to us in Babylon, saying, The captivity is long. Build houses, and dwell in them. Plant gardens, and eat their fruit?' " "

²⁹ Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the hearing of Jeremiah the prophet. ³⁰ Then the LORD's word came to Jeremiah, saying, ³¹ "Send to all of the captives, saying, 'The LORD says concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite: "Because Shemaiah has prophesied to you, and I didn't send him, and he has caused you to trust in a lie," ³² therefore the LORD says, "Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite and his offspring. He will not have a man to dwell among this people. He won't see the good that I will do to my people," says the LORD, "because he has spoken rebellion against the LORD." ' " "

¹ The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ² "The LORD, the God of Israel, says, 'Write all the words that I have spoken to you in a book. ³ For, behold, the days come,' says the LORD, 'that I will reverse the captivity of my people Israel and Judah,' says the LORD. 'I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they will possess it.' " "

⁴ These are the words that the LORD spoke concerning Israel and concerning Judah. ⁵ For the LORD says:

"We have heard a voice of trembling;
a voice of fear, and not of peace.

⁶ Ask now, and see whether a man travails with child.

Why do I see every man with his hands on his waist, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned pale?

⁷ Alas, for that day is great, so that none is like it!

It is even the time of Jacob's trouble;
but he will be saved out of it.

⁸ It will come to pass in that day, says the LORD of Armies, that I will break his yoke from off your neck, and will burst your bonds.

Strangers will no more make them their bondservants;

⁹ but they will serve the LORD their God,
and David their king,
whom I will raise up to them.

¹⁰ Therefore don't be afraid, O Jacob my servant, says the LORD.

Don't be dismayed, Israel.

For, behold, I will save you from afar,

and save your offspring from the land of their captivity.

Jacob will return,

and will be quiet and at ease.

No one will make him afraid.

¹¹ For I am with you, says the LORD, to save you;
for I will make a full end of all the nations where I have scattered you,
but I will not make a full end of you;
but I will correct you in measure,
and will in no way leave you unpunished.”

¹² For the LORD says,
“Your hurt is incurable.
Your wound is grievous.

¹³ There is no one to plead your cause,
that you may be bound up.
You have no healing medicines.

¹⁴ All your lovers have forgotten you.
They don't seek you.

For I have wounded you with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one,
for the greatness of your iniquity,
because your sins were increased.

¹⁵ Why do you cry over your injury?
Your pain is incurable.

For the greatness of your iniquity,
because your sins have increased,
I have done these things to you.

¹⁶ Therefore all those who devour you will be devoured.
All your adversaries, everyone of them, will go into captivity.
Those who plunder you will be plunder.
I will make all who prey on you become prey.

¹⁷ For I will restore health to you, and I will heal you of your wounds,” says the LORD, “because they have called you an outcast, saying, ‘It is Zion, whom no man seeks after.’ ”

¹⁸ The LORD says:

“Behold, I will reverse the captivity of Jacob's tents,
and have compassion on his dwelling places.
The city will be built on its own hill,
and the palace will be inhabited in its own place.

¹⁹ Thanksgiving will proceed out of them with the voice of those who make merry.

I will multiply them,
and they will not be few;

I will also glorify them,
and they will not be small.

²⁰ Their children also will be as before,
and their congregation will be established before me.
I will punish all who oppress them.

²¹ Their prince will be one of them,
and their ruler will proceed from among them.

I will cause him to draw near;
and he will approach me;
for who is he who has had boldness to approach me?” says the LORD.

- ²² “You shall be my people,
and I will be your God.
²³ Behold, the LORD’s storm, his wrath, has gone out,
a sweeping storm;
it will burst on the head of the wicked.
²⁴ The fierce anger of the LORD will not return until he has accomplished, and until he has performed the intentions of his heart.
In the latter days you will understand it.”

31

¹ “At that time,” says the LORD, “I will be the God of all the families of Israel, and they will be my people.”

² The LORD says, “The people who survive the sword found favor in the wilderness; even Israel, when I went to cause him to rest.”

³ The LORD appeared of old to me, saying,
“Yes, I have loved you with an everlasting love.
Therefore I have drawn you with loving kindness.

⁴ I will build you again,
and you will be built, O virgin of Israel.
You will again be adorned with your tambourines,
and will go out in the dances of those who make merry.

⁵ Again you will plant vineyards on the mountains of Samaria.
The planters will plant,
and will enjoy its fruit.

⁶ For there will be a day that the watchmen on the hills of Ephraim cry, ‘Arise! Let’s go up to Zion to the LORD our God.’ ”

⁷ For the LORD says, “Sing with gladness for Jacob,
and shout for the chief of the nations.

Publish, praise, and say,
‘LORD, save your people,
the remnant of Israel!’

⁸ Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the uttermost parts of the earth,
along with the blind and the lame,
the woman with child and her who travails with child together.
They will return as a great company.

⁹ They will come with weeping.
I will lead them with petitions.
I will cause them to walk by rivers of waters,
in a straight way in which they won’t stumble;
for I am a father to Israel.
Ephraim is my firstborn.

¹⁰ “Hear the LORD’s word, you nations, and declare it in the distant islands. Say,
‘He who scattered Israel will gather him,
and keep him, as a shepherd does his flock.’

¹¹ For the LORD has ransomed Jacob, and redeemed him from the hand of him who was stronger than he.

¹² They will come and sing in the height of Zion, and will flow to the goodness of the LORD,

to the grain, to the new wine, to the oil,
and to the young of the flock and of the herd.
Their soul will be as a watered garden.

They will not sorrow any more at all.

¹³ Then the virgin will rejoice in the dance,
the young men and the old together;
for I will turn their mourning into joy,
and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow.

¹⁴ I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people will be satisfied with my goodness," says the LORD.

¹⁵ The LORD says:

"A voice is heard in Ramah,
lamentation and bitter weeping,
Rachel weeping for her children.
She refuses to be comforted for her children, because they are no more."

¹⁶ The LORD says:

"Refrain your voice from weeping,
and your eyes from tears,
for your work will be rewarded," says the LORD.
"They will come again from the land of the enemy.

¹⁷ There is hope for your latter end," says the LORD.
"Your children will come again to their own territory.

¹⁸ "I have surely heard Ephraim grieving thus,
'You have chastised me,
and I was chastised, as an untrained calf.
Turn me, and I will be turned,
for you are the LORD my God.

¹⁹ Surely after that I was turned,
I repented.

After that I was instructed,
I struck my thigh.

I was ashamed, yes, even confounded,
because I bore the reproach of my youth.'

²⁰ Is Ephraim my dear son?
Is he a darling child?

For as often as I speak against him,
I still earnestly remember him.

Therefore my heart yearns for him.
I will surely have mercy on him," says the LORD.

²¹ "Set up road signs.
Make guideposts.

Set your heart toward the highway,
even the way by which you went.

Turn again, virgin of Israel.
Turn again to these your cities.

²² How long will you go here and there,
you backsliding daughter?

For the LORD has created a new thing in the earth:
a woman will encompass a man.”

²³ The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: “Yet again they will use this speech in the land of Judah and in its cities, when I reverse their captivity: ‘The LORD bless you, habitation of righteousness, mountain of holiness.’

²⁴ Judah and all its cities will dwell therein together, the farmers, and those who go about with flocks. ²⁵ For I have satiated the weary soul, and I have replenished every sorrowful soul.”

²⁶ On this I awakened, and saw; and my sleep was sweet to me.

²⁷ “Behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man and with the seed of animal. ²⁸ It will happen that, like as I have watched over them to pluck up and to break down and to overthrow and to destroy and to afflict, so I will watch over them to build and to plant,” says the LORD. ²⁹ “In those days they will say no more,

“ ‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes,
and the children’s teeth are set on edge.’

³⁰ But everyone will die for his own iniquity. Every man who eats the sour grapes, his teeth will be set on edge.

³¹ “Behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah, ³² not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, which covenant of mine they broke, although I was a husband to them,” says the LORD. ³³ “But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days,” says the LORD:

“I will put my law in their inward parts, and I will write it in their heart.

I will be their God,
and they shall be my people.

³⁴ They will no longer each teach his neighbor, and every man teach his brother, saying, ‘Know the LORD;’

for they will all know me,
from their least to their greatest,” says the LORD,

“for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.”

³⁵ The LORD, who gives the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, who stirs up the sea, so that its waves roar—
the LORD of Armies is his name, says:

³⁶ “If these ordinances depart from before me,” says the LORD, “then the offspring of Israel also will cease from being a nation before me forever.”

³⁷ The LORD says: “If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, then I will also cast off all the offspring of Israel for all that they have done,” says the LORD.

³⁸ “Behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that the city will be built to the LORD from the tower of Hananel to the gate of the corner. ³⁹ The measuring line will go out further straight onward to the hill Gareb, and will turn toward Goah. ⁴⁰ The whole valley of the dead bodies and of the ashes, and all the fields to the brook Kidron, to the corner of the horse gate toward the east, will be holy to the LORD. It will not be plucked up or thrown down any more forever.”

32

¹ This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar.

² Now at that time the king of Babylon's army was besieging Jerusalem. Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the guard, which was in the king of Judah's house.

³ For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, “Why do you prophesy, and say, ‘The LORD says, “Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he will take it;’ ⁴ and Zedekiah king of Judah won't escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but will surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and will speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes will see his eyes; ⁵ and he will bring Zedekiah to Babylon, and he will be there until I visit him,” says the LORD, “though you fight with the Chaldeans, you will not prosper”?’”

⁸ “So Hanamel my uncle's son came to me in the court of the guard according to the LORD's word, and said to me, ‘Please buy my field that is in Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin; for the right of inheritance is yours, and the redemption is yours. Buy it for yourself.’

“Then I knew that this was the LORD's word. ⁹ I bought the field that was in Anathoth of Hanamel my uncle's son, and weighed him the money, even seventeen shekels* of silver. ¹⁰ I signed the deed, sealed it, called witnesses, and weighed the money in the balances to him. ¹¹ So I took the deed of the purchase, both that which was sealed, containing the terms and conditions, and that which was open; ¹² and I delivered the deed of the purchase to Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the presence of Hanamel my uncle's son, and in the presence of the witnesses who signed the deed of the purchase, before all the Jews who sat in the court of the guard.

¹³ “I commanded Baruch before them, saying, ¹⁴ the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: ‘Take these deeds, this deed of the purchase which is sealed, and this deed which is open, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may last many days.’ ¹⁵ For the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel says: ‘Houses and fields and vineyards will yet again be bought in this land.’

¹⁶ Now after I had delivered the deed of the purchase to Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed to the LORD, saying,

¹⁷ “Ah Lord GOD! Behold, you have made the heavens and the earth by your great power and by your outstretched arm. There is nothing too hard for you. ¹⁸ You show loving kindness to thousands, and repay the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them. The great, the mighty God, the LORD of Armies is your name: ¹⁹ great in counsel, and mighty in work; whose eyes are open to all the ways of the children of men, to give everyone according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings; ²⁰ who performed signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even to this day, both in Israel and among other men; and made yourself a name, as it is today; ²¹ and brought your people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, with wonders, with a strong hand, with an outstretched arm, and with great terror; ²² and gave them this land, which you swore to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey. ²³ They came in and possessed it, but they didn't obey your voice and didn't walk in your law. They have done nothing of all that you commanded them to do. Therefore you have caused all this evil to come upon them.

²⁴ "Behold, siege ramps have been built against the city to take it. The city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans who fight against it, because of the sword, of the famine, and of the pestilence. What you have spoken has happened. Behold, you see it. ²⁵ You have said to me, Lord GOD, 'Buy the field for money, and call witnesses;' whereas the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans."

²⁶ Then the LORD's word came to Jeremiah, saying, ²⁷ "Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh. Is there anything too hard for me? ²⁸ Therefore the LORD says: Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he will take it. ²⁹ The Chaldeans, who fight against this city, will come and set this city on fire, and burn it with the houses on whose roofs they have offered incense to Baal, and poured out drink offerings to other gods, to provoke me to anger.

³⁰ "For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have done only that which was evil in my sight from their youth; for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, says the LORD. ³¹ For this city has been to me a provocation of my anger and of my wrath from the day that they built it even to this day, so that I should remove it from before my face, ³² because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger—they, their kings, their princes, their priests, their prophets, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ³³ They have turned their backs to me, and not their faces. Although I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not listened to receive instruction. ³⁴ But they set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. ³⁵ They built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through fire to Molech, which I didn't command them. It didn't even come into my mind, that they should do this abomination, to cause Judah to sin."

³⁶ Now therefore the LORD, the God of Israel, says concerning this city, about which you say, "It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence:" ³⁷ "Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries where I have driven them in my anger, and in my wrath, and in great indignation; and I will bring them again to this place. I will cause them to dwell safely. ³⁸ Then they will be my people, and I will be their God. ³⁹ I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me forever, for their good and the good of their children after them. ⁴⁰ I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from following them, to do them good. I will put my fear in their hearts, that they may not depart from me. ⁴¹ Yes, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul.”

⁴² For the LORD says: “Just as I have brought all this great evil on this people, so I will bring on them all the good that I have promised them.

⁴³ Fields will be bought in this land, about which you say, ‘It is desolate, without man or animal. It is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.’ ⁴⁴ Men will buy fields for money, sign the deeds, seal them, and call witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, and in the places around Jerusalem, in the cities of Judah, in the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South; for I will cause their captivity to be reversed,” says the LORD.

¹ Moreover the LORD’s word came to Jeremiah the second time, while he was still locked up in the court of the guard, saying, ² “The LORD who does it, the LORD who forms it to establish it—the LORD is his name, says: ³ ‘Call to me, and I will answer you, and will show you great and difficult things, which you don’t know.’ ⁴ For the LORD, the God of Israel, says concerning the houses of this city and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are broken down to make a defense against the mounds and against the sword: ⁵ ‘While men come to fight with the Chaldeans, and to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have killed in my anger and in my wrath, and for all whose wickedness I have hidden my face from this city, ⁶ behold, I will bring it health and healing, and I will cure them; and I will reveal to them abundance of peace and truth. ⁷ I will restore the fortunes of Judah and Israel, and will build them as at the first. ⁸ I will cleanse them from all their iniquity by which they have sinned against me. I will pardon all their iniquities by which they have sinned against me and by which they have transgressed against me. ⁹ This city will be to me for a name of joy, for praise, and for glory, before all the nations of the earth, which will hear all the good that I do to them, and will fear and tremble for all the good and for all the peace that I provide to it.’ ”

¹² The LORD of Armies says: “Yet again there will be in this place, which is waste, without man and without animal, and in all its cities, a habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down. ¹³ In the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowland, in the cities of the South, in the land of Benjamin, in the places around Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, the flocks will again pass under the hands of him who counts them,” says the LORD.

¹⁴ “Behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will perform that good word which I have spoken concerning the house of Israel and concerning the house of Judah.

¹⁵ “In those days and at that time,

I will cause a Branch of righteousness to grow up to David.

He will execute justice and righteousness in the land.

¹⁶ In those days Judah will be saved, and Jerusalem will dwell safely.

This is the name by which she will be called:

The LORD our righteousness.”

¹⁹ The LORD’s word came to Jeremiah, saying, ²⁰ “The LORD says: ‘If you can break my covenant of the day and my covenant of the night, so that there will not be day and night in their time, ²¹ then my covenant could also be broken with David my servant, that he won’t have a son to reign on his throne; and with the Levitical priests, my ministers. ²² As the army of the sky can’t be counted, and the sand of the sea can’t be measured, so I will multiply the offspring of David my servant and the Levites who minister to me.’ ”

²³ The LORD’s word came to Jeremiah, saying, ²⁴ “Don’t consider what this people has spoken, saying, ‘Has the LORD cast off the two families which he chose?’ Thus they despise my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.” ²⁵ The LORD says: “If my covenant of day and night fails, if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth, ²⁶ then I will also cast away the offspring of Jacob, and of David my servant, so that I will not take of his offspring to be rulers over the offspring of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; for I will cause their captivity to be reversed and will have mercy on them.”

³ You won’t escape out of his hand, but will surely be taken and delivered into his hand. Your eyes will see the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he will speak with you mouth to mouth. You will go to Babylon.” ’

⁴ “Yet hear the LORD’s word, O Zedekiah king of Judah. The LORD says concerning you, ‘You won’t die by the sword. ⁵ You will die in peace; and with the burnings of your fathers, the former kings who were before you, so they will make a burning for you. They will lament you, saying, “Ah Lord!” for I have spoken the word,’ says the LORD.”

¹² Therefore the LORD's word came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ¹³ "The LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying: ¹⁴ At the end of seven years, every man of you shall release his brother who is a Hebrew, who has been sold to you, and has served you six years. You shall let him go free from you. But your fathers didn't listen to me, and didn't incline their ear. ¹⁵ You had now turned, and had done that which is right in my eyes, in every man proclaiming liberty to his neighbor. You had made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name; ¹⁶ but you turned and profaned my name, and every man caused his servant and every man his handmaid, whom you had let go free at their pleasure, to return. You brought them into subjection, to be to you for servants and for handmaids.' "

¹⁷ Therefore the LORD says: "You have not listened to me, to proclaim liberty, every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbor. Behold, I proclaim to you a liberty," says the LORD, "to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine. I will make you be tossed back and forth among all the kingdoms of the earth. ¹⁸ I will give the men who have transgressed my covenant, who have not performed the words of the covenant which they made before me when they cut the calf in two and passed between its parts: ¹⁹ the princes of Judah, the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, the priests, and all the people of the land, who passed between the parts of the calf. ²⁰ I will even give them into the hand of their enemies and into the hand of those who seek their life. Their dead bodies will be food for the birds of the sky and for the animals of the earth.

²¹ "I will give Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes into the hands of their enemies, into the hands of those who seek their life and into the hands of the king of Babylon's army, who has gone away from you. ²² Behold, I will command," says the LORD, "and cause them to return to this city. They will fight against it, take it, and burn it with fire. I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant."

¹ The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, ² "Go to the house of the Rechabites, and speak to them, and bring them into the LORD's house, into one of the rooms, and give them wine to drink."

³ Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, with his brothers, all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites; ⁴ and I brought them into the LORD's house, into the room of the sons of Hanan the son of Igddaliah, the man of God, which was by the room of the princes, which was above the room of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the threshold. ⁵ I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites bowls full of wine, and cups; and I said to them, "Drink wine!"

⁶ But they said, "We will drink no wine; for Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, commanded us, saying, 'You shall drink no wine, neither you nor your children, forever. ⁷ You shall not build a house, sow seed, plant a vineyard, or have any; but all your days you shall dwell in tents, that you may live many days in the land in which you live as nomads.' ⁸ We have obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, in all that he commanded us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, or our daughters; ⁹ and not to build houses for ourselves to dwell in. We have no vineyard, field, or seed; ¹⁰ but we have lived in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us. ¹¹ But when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, we said, 'Come! Let's go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Syrians; so we will dwell at Jerusalem.' "

¹² Then the LORD's word came to Jeremiah, saying, ¹³ "The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: 'Go and tell the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, "Will you not receive instruction to listen to my words?"' says the LORD. ¹⁴ "The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab that he commanded his sons, not to drink wine, are performed; and to this day they drink none, for they obey their father's commandment; but I have spoken to you, rising up early and speaking, and you have not listened to me. ¹⁵ I have sent also to you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, 'Every one of you must return now from his evil way, amend your doings, and don't go after other gods to serve them. Then you will dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers;' but you have not inclined your ear, nor listened to me. ¹⁶ The sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father which he commanded them, but this people has not listened to me.' "

¹⁷ "Therefore the LORD, the God of Armies, the God of Israel, says: 'Behold, I will bring on Judah and on all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them, because I have spoken to them, but they have not heard; and I have called to them, but they have not answered.' "

¹⁸ Jeremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, "The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: 'Because you have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according to all that he commanded you,' ¹⁹ therefore the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: 'Jonadab the son of Rechab will not lack a man to stand before me forever.' "

⁴ Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah; and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the LORD's words, which he had spoken to him, on a scroll of a book. ⁵ Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, "I am restricted. I can't go into the LORD's house. ⁶ Therefore you go, and read from the scroll which you have written from my mouth, the LORD's words, in the ears of the people in the LORD's house on the fast day. Also you shall read them in the ears of all Judah who come out of their cities. ⁷ It may be they will present their supplication before the LORD, and will each return from his evil way; for the LORD has pronounced great anger and wrath against this people."

⁸ Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the LORD's words in the LORD's house. ⁹ Now in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, all the people in Jerusalem and all the people who came from the cities of Judah to Jerusalem, proclaimed a fast before the LORD. ¹⁰ Then Baruch read the words of Jeremiah from the book in the LORD's house, in the room of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court, at the entry of the new gate of the LORD's house, in the ears of all the people.

¹¹ When Micaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the LORD's words, ¹² he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's room; and behold, all the princes were sitting there, Elishama the scribe, Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, Elnathan the son of Achbor, Gemariah the son of Shaphan, Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes. ¹³ Then Micaiah declared to them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people. ¹⁴ Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, to Baruch, saying, "Take in your hand the scroll in which you have read in the ears of the people, and come."

So Baruch the son of Neriah took the scroll in his hand, and came to them.

¹⁵ They said to him, "Sit down now, and read it in our hearing."

So Baruch read it in their hearing.

¹⁶ Now when they had heard all the words, they turned in fear one toward another, and said to Baruch, "We will surely tell the king of all these words."

¹⁷ They asked Baruch, saying, "Tell us now, how did you write all these words at his mouth?"

¹⁸ Then Baruch answered them, "He dictated all these words to me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book."

¹⁹ Then the princes said to Baruch, "You and Jeremiah go hide. Don't let anyone know where you are."

²⁰ They went in to the king into the court, but they had laid up the scroll in the room of Elishama the scribe. Then they told all the words in the hearing of the king. ²¹ So the king sent Jehudi to get the scroll, and he took it out of the room of Elishama the scribe. Jehudi read it in the hearing of the king, and in the hearing of all the princes who stood beside the king. ²² Now the king was sitting in the winter house in the ninth month, and there was a fire in the brazier burning before him. ²³ When Jehudi had read three or four columns, the king cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was in the brazier, until all the scroll was consumed in the fire that was in the brazier. ²⁴ The king and his servants who heard all these words were not afraid, and didn't tear their garments. ²⁵ Moreover Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah had made intercession to the king that he would not burn the scroll; but he would not listen to them. ²⁶ The king commanded Jerahmeel the king's son, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to arrest Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet; but the LORD hid them.

²⁷ Then the LORD's word came to Jeremiah, after the king had burned the scroll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, saying, ²⁸ "Take again another scroll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first scroll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah has burned. ²⁹ Concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah you shall say, 'The LORD says: "You have burned this scroll, saying, 'Why have you written therein, saying, "The king of Babylon will certainly come and destroy this land, and will cause to cease from there man and animal?"' " ³⁰ Therefore the LORD says concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: "He will have no one to sit on David's throne. His dead body will be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost. ³¹ I will punish him, his offspring, and his servants for their iniquity. I will bring on them, on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and on the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they didn't listen." ' "

³² Then Jeremiah took another scroll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah, who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire; and many similar words were added to them.

⁴ Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people, for they had not put him into prison. ⁵ Pharaoh's army had come out of Egypt; and when the Chaldeans who were besieging Jerusalem heard news of them, they withdrew from Jerusalem.

⁶ Then the LORD's word came to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, ⁷ "The LORD, the God of Israel, says, 'You shall tell the king of Judah, who sent you to me to inquire of me: "Behold, Pharaoh's army, which has come out to help you, will return to Egypt into their own land. ⁸ The Chaldeans will come again, and fight against this city. They will take it and burn it with fire." ' "

⁹ "The LORD says, 'Don't deceive yourselves, saying, "The Chaldeans will surely depart from us;" for they will not depart. ¹⁰ For though you had struck the whole army of the Chaldeans who fight against you, and only wounded men remained among them, they would each rise up in his tent and burn this city with fire.' "

¹¹ When the army of the Chaldeans had withdrawn from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's army, ¹² then Jeremiah went out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to receive his portion there, in the middle of the people.

¹³ When he was in Benjamin's gate, a captain of the guard was there, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah; and he seized Jeremiah the prophet, saying, "You are defecting to the Chaldeans!"

¹⁴ Then Jeremiah said, "That is false! I am not defecting to the Chaldeans."

But he didn't listen to him; so Irijah seized Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes. ¹⁵ The princes were angry with Jeremiah, and struck him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe; for they had made that the prison.

¹⁶ When Jeremiah had come into the dungeon house and into the cells, and Jeremiah had remained there many days, ¹⁷ then Zedekiah the king sent and had him brought out. The king asked him secretly in his house, "Is there any word from the LORD?"

Jeremiah said, "There is." He also said, "You will be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon."

¹⁸ Moreover Jeremiah said to King Zedekiah, "How have I sinned against you, against your servants, or against this people, that you have put me in prison? ¹⁹ Now where are your prophets who prophesied to you, saying, 'The king of Babylon will not come against you, nor against this land'? ²⁰ Now please hear, my lord the king: please let my supplication be presented before you, that you not cause me to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there."

¹ Shephatiah the son of Mattan, Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchijah heard the words that Jeremiah spoke to all the people, saying, ² "The LORD says, 'He who remains in this city will die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, but he who goes out to the Chaldeans will live. He will escape with his life and he will live.' ³ The LORD says, 'This city will surely be given into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon, and he will take it.' "

⁴ Then the princes said to the king, "Please let this man be put to death, because he weakens the hands of the men of war who remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words to them; for this man doesn't seek the welfare of this people, but harm."

⁵ Zedekiah the king said, "Behold, he is in your hand; for the king can't do anything to oppose you."

⁶ Then they took Jeremiah and threw him into the dungeon of Malchijah the king's son, that was in the court of the guard. They let down Jeremiah with cords. In the dungeon there was no water, but mire; and Jeremiah sank in the mire.

⁷ Now when Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, a eunuch, who was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon (the king was then sitting in Benjamin's gate), ⁸ Ebedmelech went out of the king's house, and spoke to the king, saying, ⁹ "My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon. He is likely to die in the place where he is, because of the famine; for there is no more bread in the city."

¹⁰ Then the king commanded Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, saying, "Take from here thirty men with you, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he dies."

¹¹ So Ebedmelech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took from there rags and worn-out garments, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah. ¹² Ebedmelech the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah, "Now put these rags and worn-out garments under your armpits under the cords."

Jeremiah did so. ¹³ So they lifted Jeremiah up with the cords, and took him up out of the dungeon; and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

¹⁴ Then Zedekiah the king sent and took Jeremiah the prophet to himself into the third entry that is in the LORD's house. Then the king said to Jeremiah, "I will ask you something. Hide nothing from me."

¹⁵ Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, "If I declare it to you, will you not surely put me to death? If I give you counsel, you will not listen to me."

¹⁶ So Zedekiah the king swore secretly to Jeremiah, saying, "As the LORD lives, who made our souls, I will not put you to death, neither will I give you into the hand of these men who seek your life."

¹⁷ Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, "The LORD, the God of Armies, the God of Israel, says: 'If you will go out to the king of Babylon's princes, then your soul will live, and this city will not be burned with fire. You will live, along with your house. ¹⁸ But if you will not go out to the king of Babylon's princes, then this city will be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they will burn it with fire, and you won't escape out of their hand.' "

¹⁹ Zedekiah the king said to Jeremiah, "I am afraid of the Jews who have defected to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me."

²⁰ But Jeremiah said, "They won't deliver you. Obey, I beg you, the LORD's voice, in that which I speak to you; so it will be well with you, and your soul will live. ²¹ But if you refuse to go out, this is the word that the LORD has shown me: ²² 'Behold, all the women who are left in the king of Judah's house will be brought out to the king of Babylon's princes, and those women will say,

"Your familiar friends have turned on you,
and have prevailed over you.

Your feet are sunk in the mire,
they have turned away from you."

²³ They will bring out all your wives and your children to the Chaldeans. You won't escape out of their hand, but will be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon. You will cause this city to be burned with fire.' "

²⁴ Then Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, "Let no man know of these words, and you won't die. ²⁵ But if the princes hear that I have talked with you, and they come to you, and tell you, 'Declare to us now what you have said to the king; don't hide it from us, and we will not put you to death; also tell us what the king said to you;' ²⁶ then you shall tell them, 'I presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house, to die there.' "

²⁷ Then all the princes came to Jeremiah, and asked him; and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they stopped speaking with him, for the matter was not perceived.

²⁸ So Jeremiah stayed in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken.

⁸ The Chaldeans burned the king's house and the people's houses with fire and broke down the walls of Jerusalem. ⁹ Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the rest of the people who remained in the city, the deserters also who fell away to him, and the rest of the people who remained. ¹⁰ But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people, who had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

¹¹ Now Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon commanded Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard concerning Jeremiah, saying, ¹² "Take him and take care of him. Do him no harm; but do to him even as he tells you."

¹³ So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, Nebushazban, Rabsaris, and Nergal Sharezer, Rabmag, and all the chief officers of the king of Babylon ¹⁴ sent and took Jeremiah out of the court of the guard, and committed him to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, that he should bring him home. So he lived among the people.

¹⁵ Now the LORD's word came to Jeremiah while he was shut up in the court of the guard, saying, ¹⁶ "Go, and speak to Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, saying, 'The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: "Behold, I will bring my words on this city for evil, and not for good; and they will be accomplished before you in that day. ¹⁷ But I will deliver you in that day," says the LORD; "and you will not be given into the hand of the men of whom you are afraid. ¹⁸ For I will surely save you. You won't fall by the sword, but you will escape with your life, because you have put your trust in me," says the LORD.' "

¹ The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah who were carried away captive to Babylon. ² The captain of the guard took Jeremiah and said to him, "The LORD your God pronounced this evil on this place; ³ and the LORD has brought it, and done according as he spoke. Because you have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing has come on you. ⁴ Now, behold, I release you today from the chains which are on your hand. If it seems good to you to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will take care of you; but if it seems bad to you to come with me into Babylon, don't. Behold, all the land is before you. Where it seems good and right to you to go, go there." ⁵ Now while he had not yet gone back, "Go back then," he said, "to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon has made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people; or go wherever it seems right to you to go."

So the captain of the guard gave him food and a present, and let him go. ⁶ Then Jeremiah went to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and lived with him among the people who were left in the land.

⁷ Now when all the captains of the forces who were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed to him men, women, children, and of the poorest of the land, of those who were not carried away captive to Babylon, ⁸ then Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of the Maacathite, they and their men came to Gedaliah to Mizpah. ⁹ Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan swore to them and to their men, saying, "Don't be afraid to serve the Chaldeans. Dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it will be well with you. ¹⁰ As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah, to stand before the Chaldeans who will come to us; but you, gather wine and summer fruits and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that you have taken."

¹¹ Likewise when all the Jews who were in Moab, and among the children of Ammon, and in Edom, and who were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, ¹² then all the Jews returned out of all places where they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, to Mizpah, and gathered very much wine and summer fruits.

¹³ Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces who were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, ¹⁴ and said to him, "Do you know that Baalis the king of the children of Ammon has sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take your life?"

But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam didn't believe them.

¹⁵ Then Johanan the son of Kareah spoke to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, "Please let me go, and I will kill Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man will know it. Why should he take your life, that all the Jews who are gathered to you should be scattered, and the remnant of Judah perish?"

¹⁶ But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said to Johanan the son of Kareah, "You shall not do this thing, for you speak falsely of Ishmael."

¹ Now in the seventh month, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the royal offspring and one of the chief officers of the king, and ten men with him, came to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah; and there they ate bread together in Mizpah. ² Then Ishmael the son of Nethaniah arose, and the ten men who were with him, and struck Gedaliah the son of

Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword and killed him, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land. ³ Ishmael also killed all the Jews who were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Chaldean men of war who were found there.

⁴ The second day after he had killed Gedaliah, and no man knew it, ⁵ men came from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even eighty men, having their beards shaved and their clothes torn, and having cut themselves, with meal offerings and frankincense in their hand, to bring them to the LORD's house. ⁶ Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went out from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went, and as he met them, he said to them, "Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam." ⁷ It was so, when they came into the middle of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah killed them, and cast them into the middle of the pit, he, and the men who were with him. ⁸ But ten men were found among those who said to Ishmael, "Don't kill us; for we have stores hidden in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey."

So he stopped, and didn't kill them among their brothers. ⁹ Now the pit in which Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had killed, by the side of Gedaliah (this was that which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel), Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with those who were killed.

¹¹ But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces who were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, ¹² then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon. ¹³ Now when all the people who were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces who were with him, then they were glad. ¹⁴ So all the people who Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah turned about and came back, and went to Johanan the son of Kareah. ¹⁵ But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the children of Ammon.

¹⁶ Then Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces who were with him took all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after he had killed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam—the men of war, with the women, the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought back from Gibeon. ¹⁷ They departed and lived in Geruth Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt ¹⁸ because of the Chaldeans; for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had killed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor over the land.

¹ Then all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, came near, ² and said to Jeremiah the prophet, "Please let our supplication be presented before you, and pray for us to the LORD your God, even for all this remnant, for we are left but a few of many, as your eyes see us,³ that the LORD your God may show us the way in which we should walk, and the things that we should do.”

⁴ Then Jeremiah the prophet said to them, “I have heard you. Behold, I will pray to the LORD your God according to your words; and it will happen that whatever thing the LORD answers you, I will declare it to you. I will keep nothing back from you.”

⁵ Then they said to Jeremiah, “May the LORD be a true and faithful witness among us, if we don’t do according to all the word with which the LORD your God sends you to tell us. ⁶ Whether it is good, or whether it is bad, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send you; that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God.”

⁷ After ten days, the LORD’s word came to Jeremiah. ⁸ Then he called Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces who were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, ⁹ and said to them, “The LORD, the God of Israel, to whom you sent me to present your supplication before him, says: ¹⁰ ‘If you will still live in this land, then I will build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up; for I grieve over the distress that I have brought on you. ¹¹ Don’t be afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom you are afraid. Don’t be afraid of him,’ says the LORD, ‘for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand. ¹² I will grant you mercy, that he may have mercy on you, and cause you to return to your own land.

¹³ “ ‘But if you say, “We will not dwell in this land,” so that you don’t obey the LORD your God’s voice, ¹⁴ saying, “No, but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we will see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread; and there we will dwell;” ’ ¹⁵ now therefore hear the LORD’s word, O remnant of Judah! The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says, ‘If you indeed set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to live there, ¹⁶ then it will happen that the sword, which you fear, will overtake you there in the land of Egypt; and the famine, about which you are afraid, will follow close behind you there in Egypt; and you will die there. ¹⁷ So will it be with all the men who set their faces to go into Egypt to live there. They will die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence. None of them will remain or escape from the evil that I will bring on them.’ ¹⁸ For the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: ‘As my anger and my wrath has been poured out on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so my wrath will be poured out on you, when you enter into Egypt; and you will be an object of horror, an astonishment, a curse, and a reproach; and you will see this place no more.’

¹⁹ “The LORD has spoken concerning you, remnant of Judah, ‘Don’t go into Egypt!’ Know certainly that I have testified to you today. ²⁰ For you have dealt deceitfully against your own souls; for you sent me to the LORD your God, saying, ‘Pray for us to the LORD our God; and according to all that the LORD our God says, so declare to us, and we will do it.’ ²¹ I have declared it to you today; but you have not obeyed the LORD your God’s voice in anything for which he has sent me to you. ²² Now therefore know certainly that you will die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence in the place where you desire to go to live.”

¹ When Jeremiah had finished speaking to all the people all the words of the LORD their God, with which the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words, ² then Azariah the son of Hoshaiiah, Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men spoke, saying to Jeremiah, “You speak falsely. The LORD our God has not sent you to say, ‘You shall not go into Egypt to live there;’ ³ but Baruch the son of Neriah has turned you against us, to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death or carry us away captive to Babylon.”

⁸ Then the LORD’s word came to Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying, ⁹ “Take great stones in your hand and hide them in mortar in the brick work which is at the entry of Pharaoh’s house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah. ¹⁰ Tell them, the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: ‘Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will set his throne on these stones that I have hidden; and he will spread his royal pavilion over them. ¹¹ He will come, and will strike the land of Egypt; such as are for death will be put to death, and such as are for captivity to captivity, and such as are for the sword to the sword. ¹² I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt. He will burn them, and carry them away captive. He will array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd puts on his garment; and he will go out from there in peace. ¹³ He will also break the pillars of Beth Shemesh that is in the land of Egypt; and he will burn the houses of the gods of Egypt with fire.’ ”

¹ The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews who lived in the land of Egypt, who lived at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Memphis, and in the country of Pathros, saying, ² “The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: ‘You have seen all the evil that I have brought on Jerusalem, and on all the cities of Judah. Behold, today they are a desolation, and no man dwells in them, ³ because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger; in that they went to burn incense, to serve other gods that they didn’t know, neither they, nor you, nor your fathers. ⁴ However I sent to you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, “Oh, don’t do this abominable thing that I hate.” ⁵ But they didn’t listen and didn’t incline their ear. They didn’t turn from their wickedness, to stop burning incense to other gods. ⁶ Therefore my wrath and my anger was poured out, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are wasted and desolate, as it is today.’ ”

⁷ “Therefore now the LORD, the God of Armies, the God of Israel, says: ‘Why do you commit great evil against your own souls, to cut off from yourselves man and woman, infant and nursing child out of the middle of Judah, to leave yourselves no one remaining, ⁸ in that you provoke me to anger with the works of your hands, burning incense to other gods in the land of Egypt where you have gone to live, that you may be cut off, and that you may be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth? ⁹ Have you forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, the wickedness of the kings of Judah, the wickedness of their wives, your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives which they committed in the land of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? ¹⁰ They are not humbled even to this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.’

¹¹ “Therefore the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: ‘Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, even to cut off all Judah. ¹² I will take the remnant of Judah that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to live there, and they will all be consumed. They will fall in the land of Egypt. They will be consumed by the sword and by the famine. They will die, from the least even to the greatest, by the sword and by the famine. They will be an object of horror, an astonishment, a curse, and a reproach. ¹³ For I will punish those who dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; ¹⁴ so that none of the remnant of Judah, who have gone into the land of Egypt to live there, will escape or be left to return into the land of Judah, to which they have a desire to return to dwell there; for no one will return except those who will escape.’”

¹⁵ Then all the men who knew that their wives burned incense to other gods, and all the women who stood by, a great assembly, even all the people who lived in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying, ¹⁶ “As for the word that you have spoken to us in the LORD’s name, we will not listen to you. ¹⁷ But we will certainly perform every word that has gone out of our mouth, to burn incense to the queen of the sky and to pour out drink offerings to her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; for then we had plenty of food, and were well, and saw no evil. ¹⁸ But since we stopped burning incense to the queen of the sky, and pouring out drink offerings to her, we have lacked all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.”

²⁰ Then Jeremiah said to all the people—to the men and to the women, even to all the people who had given him an answer, saying, ²¹ “The incense that you burned in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, you and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, didn’t the LORD remember them, and didn’t it come into his mind? ²² Thus the LORD could no longer bear it, because of the evil of your doings and because of the abominations which you have committed. Therefore your land has become a desolation, an astonishment, and a curse, without inhabitant, as it is today. ²³ Because you have burned incense and because you have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the LORD's voice, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies; therefore this evil has happened to you, as it is today."

²⁴ Moreover Jeremiah said to all the people, including all the women, "Hear the LORD's word, all Judah who are in the land of Egypt! ²⁵ The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says, 'You and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and with your hands have fulfilled it, saying, "We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of the sky, and to pour out drink offerings to her."

" 'Establish then your vows, and perform your vows.'

²⁶ "Therefore hear the LORD's word, all Judah who dwell in the land of Egypt: 'Behold, I have sworn by my great name,' says the LORD, 'that my name will no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, "As the Lord GOD lives." ²⁷ Behold, I watch over them for evil, and not for good; and all the men of Judah who are in the land of Egypt will be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until they are all gone. ²⁸ Those who escape the sword will return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah few in number. All the remnant of Judah, who have gone into the land of Egypt to live there, will know whose word will stand, mine or theirs.

²⁹ " 'This will be the sign to you,' says the LORD, 'that I will punish you in this place, that you may know that my words will surely stand against you for evil.' ³⁰ The LORD says, 'Behold, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies and into the hand of those who seek his life, just as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, who was his enemy and sought his life.' "

¹ The message that Jeremiah the prophet spoke to Baruch the son of Neriah, when he wrote these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, ² "The LORD, the God of Israel, says to you, Baruch: ³ 'You said, "Woe is me now! For the LORD has added sorrow to my pain! I am weary with my groaning, and I find no rest." '

⁴ "You shall tell him, the LORD says: 'Behold, that which I have built, I will break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up; and this in the whole land. ⁵ Do you seek great things for yourself? Don't seek them; for, behold, I will bring evil on all flesh,' says the LORD, 'but I will let you escape with your life wherever you go.' "

² Of Egypt: concerning the army of Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon struck in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah.

³ "Prepare the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle!

⁴ Harness the horses, and get up, you horsemen, and stand up with your helmets.

Polish the spears,
put on the coats of mail.

5 Why have I seen it?

They are dismayed and are turned backward.
Their mighty ones are beaten down,
have fled in haste,
and don't look back.
Terror is on every side,"
says the LORD.

6 "Don't let the swift flee away,
nor the mighty man escape.
In the north by the river Euphrates
they have stumbled and fallen.

7 "Who is this who rises up like the Nile,
like rivers whose waters surge?

8 Egypt rises up like the Nile,
like rivers whose waters surge.
He says, 'I will rise up. I will cover the earth.
I will destroy cities and its inhabitants.'

9 Go up, you horses!
Rage, you chariots!
Let the mighty men go out:
Cush and Put, who handle the shield;
and the Ludim, who handle and bend the bow.

10 For that day is of the Lord, GOD of Armies,
a day of vengeance,
that he may avenge himself of his adversaries.
The sword will devour and be satiated,
and will drink its fill of their blood;
for the Lord, GOD* of Armies, has a sacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates.

11 Go up into Gilead, and take balm, virgin daughter of Egypt.
You use many medicines in vain.
There is no healing for you.

12 The nations have heard of your shame,
and the earth is full of your cry;
for the mighty man has stumbled against the mighty,
they both fall together."

13 The word that the LORD spoke to Jeremiah the prophet, how that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon should come and strike the land of Egypt:

14 "Declare in Egypt, publish in Migdol,
and publish in Memphis and in Tahpanhes;
say, 'Stand up, and prepare,
for the sword has devoured around you.'

15 Why are your strong ones swept away?

* 46:10 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh).

They didn't stand, because the LORD pushed them.

¹⁶ He made many to stumble.

Yes, they fell on one another.

They said, 'Arise! Let's go again to our own people, and to the land of our birth,
from the oppressing sword.'

¹⁷ They cried there, 'Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise;
he has let the appointed time pass by.'

¹⁸ "As I live," says the King, whose name is the LORD of Armies,
"surely like Tabor among the mountains,
and like Carmel by the sea,
so he will come.

¹⁹ You daughter who dwells in Egypt, furnish yourself to go into captivity;
for Memphis will become a desolation,
and will be burned up,
without inhabitant.

²⁰ "Egypt is a very beautiful heifer;
but destruction out of the north has come.
It has come.

²¹ Also her hired men in the middle of her are like calves of the stall, for they also are turned back.
They have fled away together.

They didn't stand,
for the day of their calamity has come on them,
the time of their visitation.

²² Its sound will go like the serpent, for they will march with an army,
and come against her with axes, as wood cutters.

²³ They will cut down her forest," says the LORD,
"though it can't be searched;
because they are more than the locusts,
and are innumerable.

²⁴ The daughter of Egypt will be disappointed;
she will be delivered into the hand of the people of the north."

²⁵ The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: "Behold, I will punish Amon of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with her gods and her kings, even Pharaoh, and those who trust in him. ²⁶ I will deliver them into the hand of those who seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants. Afterwards it will be inhabited, as in the days of old," says the LORD.

²⁷ "But don't you be afraid, Jacob my servant.

Don't be dismayed, Israel;

for, behold, I will save you from afar,

and your offspring from the land of their captivity.

Jacob will return,

and will be quiet and at ease.

No one will make him afraid.

²⁸ Don't be afraid, O Jacob my servant," says the LORD,

“for I am with you;
 for I will make a full end of all the nations where I have driven you,
 but I will not make a full end of you,
 but I will correct you in measure,
 and will in no way leave you unpunished.”

47

¹ The LORD's word that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines, before Pharaoh struck Gaza.

² The LORD says:

“Behold, waters rise up out of the north,
 and will become an overflowing stream,
 and will overflow the land and all that is therein,
 the city and those who dwell therein.

The men will cry,
 and all the inhabitants of the land will wail.

³ At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong ones, at the rushing of his chariots,
 at the rumbling of his wheels,

the fathers don't look back for their children because their hands are so feeble,

⁴ because of the day that comes to destroy all the Philistines, to cut off from Tyre and Sidon every helper who remains;
 for the LORD will destroy the Philistines,
 the remnant of the isle of Caphtor.

⁵ Baldness has come on Gaza;
 Ashkelon is brought to nothing.

You remnant of their valley,
 how long will you cut yourself?

⁶ “You sword of the LORD, how long will it be before you are quiet?
 Put yourself back into your scabbard;
 rest, and be still.”

⁷ “How can you be quiet,
 since the LORD has given you a command?
 Against Ashkelon, and against the seashore,
 there he has appointed it.”

48

¹ Of Moab. The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says:
 “Woe to Nebo!

For it is laid waste.
 Kiriathaim is disappointed.
 It is taken.

Misgab* is put to shame and broken down.

² The praise of Moab is no more.
 In Heshbon they have devised evil against her:
 ‘Come! Let's cut her off from being a nation.’
 You also, Madmen, will be brought to silence.

* 48:1 or, The stronghold

The sword will pursue you.

³ The sound of a cry from Horonaim, desolation and great destruction!

⁴ Moab is destroyed.

Her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.

⁵ For they will go up by the ascent of Luhith with continual weeping.
For at the descent of Horonaim they have heard the distress of the cry of destruction.

⁶ Flee! Save your lives!

Be like the juniper bush in the wilderness.

⁷ For, because you have trusted in your works and in your treasures, you also will be taken.

Chemosh will go out into captivity,
his priests and his princes together.

⁸ The destroyer will come on every city,
and no city will escape;
the valley also will perish,
and the plain will be destroyed, as the LORD has spoken.

⁹ Give wings to Moab,
that she may fly and get herself away:
and her cities will become a desolation,
without anyone to dwell in them.

¹⁰ “Cursed is he who does the work of the LORD negligently;
and cursed is he who keeps back his sword from blood.

¹¹ “Moab has been at ease from his youth,
and he has settled on his dregs,
and has not been emptied from vessel to vessel,
neither has he gone into captivity;
therefore his taste remains in him,
and his scent is not changed.

¹² Therefore behold, the days come,” says the LORD,
“that I will send to him those who pour off,
and they will pour him off;
and they will empty his vessels,
and break their containers in pieces.

¹³ Moab will be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel, their confidence.

¹⁴ “How do you say, ‘We are mighty men, and valiant men for the war’?

¹⁵ Moab is laid waste, and they have gone up into his cities,
and his chosen young men have gone down to the slaughter;”
says the King, whose name is the LORD of Armies.

¹⁶ “The calamity of Moab is near to come,
and his affliction hurries fast.

¹⁷ All you who are around him, bemoan him;
and all you who know his name, say, ‘How the strong staff is broken,
the beautiful rod!’

- 18 “You daughter who dwells in Dibon,
come down from your glory,
and sit in thirst;
for the destroyer of Moab has come up against you.
He has destroyed your strongholds.
- 19 Inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way and watch.
Ask him who flees, and her who escapes;
say, ‘What has been done?’
- 20 Moab is disappointed;
for it is broken down.
Wail and cry!
Tell it by the Arnon, that Moab is laid waste.
- 21 Judgment has come on the plain country—
on Holon, on Jahzah, on Mephaath, 22 on Dibon, on Nebo, on Beth Diblathaim,
23 on Kiriathaim, on Beth Gamul, on Beth Meon, 24 on Kerioth, on Bozrah, and on all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near.
- 25 The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken,” says the LORD.
- 26 “Make him drunk,
for he magnified himself against the LORD.
Moab will wallow in his vomit,
and he also will be in derision.
- 27 For wasn’t Israel a derision to you?
Was he found among thieves?
For as often as you speak of him,
you shake your head.
- 28 You inhabitants of Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rock.
Be like the dove that makes her nest over the mouth of the abyss.
- 29 “We have heard of the pride of Moab.
He is very proud in his loftiness, his pride,
his arrogance, and the arrogance of his heart.
- 30 I know his wrath,” says the LORD, “that it is nothing;
his boastings have done nothing.
- 31 Therefore I will wail for Moab.
Yes, I will cry out for all Moab.
They will mourn for the men of Kir Heres.
- 32 With more than the weeping of Jazer
I will weep for you, vine of Sibmah.
Your branches passed over the sea.
They reached even to the sea of Jazer.
The destroyer has fallen on your summer fruits and on your vintage.
- 33 Gladness and joy is taken away from the fruitful field and from the land of Moab.
I have caused wine to cease from the wine presses.
No one will tread with shouting.
The shouting will be no shouting.
- 34 From the cry of Heshbon even to Elealeh,

- even to Jahaz they have uttered their voice,
from Zoar even to Horonaim, to Eglath Shelishiyah;
for the waters of Nimrim will also become desolate.
- 35 Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab," says the LORD,
"him who offers in the high place,
and him who burns incense to his gods.
- 36 Therefore my heart sounds for Moab like flutes, and my heart sounds like flutes for the men of Kir Heres.
Therefore the abundance that he has gotten has perished.
- 37 For every head is bald,
and every beard clipped.
There are cuttings on all the hands,
and sackcloth on the waist.
- 38 On all the housetops of Moab,
and in its streets, there is lamentation everywhere;
for I have broken Moab like a vessel in which no one delights," says the LORD.
- 39 "How it is broken down!
How they wail!
How Moab has turned the back with shame!
So will Moab become a derision and a terror to all who are around him."
- 40 For the LORD says: "Behold, he will fly as an eagle, and will spread out his wings against Moab.
- 41 Kerioth is taken,
and the strongholds are seized.
The heart of the mighty men of Moab at that day will be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.
- 42 Moab will be destroyed from being a people, because he has magnified himself against the LORD.
- 43 Terror, the pit, and the snare are on you, inhabitant of Moab," says the LORD.
- 44 "He who flees from the terror will fall into the pit;
and he who gets up out of the pit will be taken in the snare,
for I will bring on him, even on Moab,
the year of their visitation," says the LORD.
- 45 "Those who fled stand without strength under the shadow of Heshbon;
for a fire has gone out of Heshbon,
and a flame from the middle of Sihon,
and has devoured the corner of Moab,
and the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones.
- 46 Woe to you, O Moab!
The people of Chemosh are undone;
for your sons are taken away captive,
and your daughters into captivity.
- 47 "Yet I will reverse the captivity of Moab in the latter days,"
says the LORD.
Thus far is the judgment of Moab.

49

¹ Of the children of Ammon. The LORD says:

“Has Israel no sons?

Has he no heir?

Why then does Malcam possess Gad, and his people dwell in its cities?

² Therefore behold, the days come,”
says the LORD,

“that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard against Rabbah of the children of Ammon,

and it will become a desolate heap,

and her daughters will be burned with fire;

then Israel will possess those who possessed him,”
says the LORD.

³ “Wail, Heshbon, for Ai is laid waste!

Cry, you daughters of Rabbah!

Clothe yourself in sackcloth.

Lament, and run back and forth among the fences;

for Malcam will go into captivity,

his priests and his princes together.

⁴ Why do you boast in the valleys, your flowing valley, backsliding daughter?

You trusted in her treasures, saying, ‘Who will come to me?’

⁵ Behold, I will bring a terror on you,”

says the Lord, GOD of Armies,

“from all who are around you.

All of you will be driven completely out, and there will be no one to gather together the fugitives.

⁶ “But afterward I will reverse the captivity of the children of Ammon,”
says the LORD.

⁷ Of Edom, the LORD of Armies says:

“Is wisdom no more in Teman?

Has counsel perished from the prudent?

Has their wisdom vanished?

⁸ Flee! Turn back!

Dwell in the depths, inhabitants of Dedan;

for I will bring the calamity of Esau on him when I visit him.

⁹ If grape gatherers came to you, would they not leave some gleaned grapes?

If thieves came by night,

wouldn't they steal until they had enough?

¹⁰ But I have made Esau bare,

I have uncovered his secret places,

and he will not be able to hide himself.

His offspring is destroyed, with his brothers and his neighbors;

and he is no more.

¹¹ Leave your fatherless children.

I will preserve them alive.

Let your widows trust in me.”

¹²For the LORD says: “Behold, they to whom it didn’t pertain to drink of the cup will certainly drink; and are you he who will altogether go unpunished? You won’t go unpunished, but you will surely drink. ¹³For I have sworn by myself,” says the LORD, “that Bozrah will become an astonishment, a reproach, a waste, and a curse. All its cities will be perpetual wastes.”

¹⁴I have heard news from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, “Gather yourselves together!
Come against her!
Rise up to the battle!”

¹⁵“For, behold, I have made you small among the nations, and despised among men.

¹⁶As for your terror,
the pride of your heart has deceived you,
O you who dwell in the clefts of the rock,
who hold the height of the hill,
though you should make your nest as high as the eagle,
I will bring you down from there,” says the LORD.

¹⁷“Edom will become an astonishment.
Everyone who passes by it will be astonished,
and will hiss at all its plagues.

¹⁸As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and its neighbor cities,” says the LORD,
“no man will dwell there,
neither will any son of man live therein.

¹⁹“Behold, he will come up like a lion from the pride of the Jordan against the strong habitation;
for I will suddenly make them run away from it,
and whoever is chosen,
I will appoint him over it.
For who is like me?
Who will appoint me a time?
Who is the shepherd who will stand before me?”

²⁰Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD, that he has taken against Edom, and his purposes that he has purposed against the inhabitants of Teman:
Surely they will drag them away,
the little ones of the flock.
Surely he will make their habitation desolate over them.

²¹The earth trembles at the noise of their fall;
there is a cry, the noise which is heard in the Red Sea.

²²Behold, he will come up and fly as the eagle, and spread out his wings against Bozrah.
The heart of the mighty men of Edom at that day will be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

²³Of Damascus: “Hamath and Arpad are confounded, for they have heard evil news.
They have melted away.

There is sorrow on the sea.

It can't be quiet.

²⁴ Damascus has grown feeble,
she turns herself to flee,
and trembling has seized her.

Anguish and sorrows have taken hold of her,
as of a woman in travail.

²⁵ How is the city of praise not forsaken,
the city of my joy?

²⁶ Therefore her young men will fall in her streets, and all the men of war will be brought to silence in that day," says the LORD of Armies.

²⁷ "I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it will devour the palaces of Ben Hadad."

²⁸ Of Kedar, and of the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon struck, The LORD says:

"Arise, go up to Kedar,
and destroy the children of the east.

²⁹ They will take their tents and their flocks.
they will carry away for themselves their curtains,
all their vessels, and their camels;
and they will cry to them, "Terror on every side!"

³⁰ Flee!
Wander far off!

Dwell in the depths, you inhabitants of Hazor," says the LORD;
"for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has taken counsel against you,
and has conceived a purpose against you.

³¹ Arise! Go up to a nation that is at ease, that dwells without care," says the LORD;
"that has neither gates nor bars,
that dwells alone.

³² Their camels will be a booty, and the multitude of their livestock a plunder.

I will scatter to all winds those who have the corners of their beards cut off;
and I will bring their calamity from every side of them,"
says the LORD.

³³ Hazor will be a dwelling place of jackals, a desolation forever.

No man will dwell there,
neither will any son of man live therein."

³⁴ The LORD's word that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying, ³⁵ "The LORD of Armies says:

'Behold, I will break the bow of Elam,
the chief of their might.

³⁶ I will bring on Elam the four winds from the four quarters of the sky, and will scatter them toward all those winds.
There will be no nation where the outcasts of Elam will not come.

³⁷ I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before those who seek their life.

I will bring evil on them, even my fierce anger,' says the LORD;
'and I will send the sword after them,
until I have consumed them.
38 I will set my throne in Elam, and will destroy from there king and princes,' says the LORD.
39 'But it will happen in the latter days that I will reverse the captivity of Elam,' says the LORD."

1 The word that the LORD spoke concerning Babylon, concerning the land of the Chaldeans, by Jeremiah the prophet.
2 "Declare among the nations and publish,
and set up a standard;
publish, and don't conceal;
say, 'Babylon has been taken,
Bel is disappointed,
Merodach is dismayed!
Her images are disappointed.
Her idols are dismayed.'
3 For a nation comes up out of the north against her,
which will make her land desolate,
and no one will dwell in it.
They have fled.
They are gone,
both man and animal.
4 "In those days, and in that time," says the LORD,
"the children of Israel will come,
they and the children of Judah together;
they will go on their way weeping,
and will seek the LORD their God.
5 They will inquire concerning Zion with their faces turned toward it, saying, 'Come, and join yourselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant that will not be forgotten.'
6 My people have been lost sheep.
Their shepherds have caused them to go astray.
They have turned them away on the mountains.
They have gone from mountain to hill.
They have forgotten their resting place.
7 All who found them have devoured them.
Their adversaries said, 'We are not guilty,
because they have sinned against the LORD,
the habitation of righteousness,
even the LORD, the hope of their fathers.'
8 "Flee out of the middle of Babylon!
Go out of the land of the Chaldeans,
and be as the male goats before the flocks.
9 For, behold, I will stir up

- and cause to come up against Babylon a company of great nations from the north country;
and they will set themselves in array against her.
She will be taken from there.
Their arrows will be as of an expert mighty man.
None of them will return in vain.
- 10 Chaldea will be a prey.
All who prey on her will be satisfied," says the LORD.
- 11 "Because you are glad,
because you rejoice,
O you who plunder my heritage,
because you are wanton as a heifer that treads out the grain,
and neigh as strong horses,
- 12 your mother will be utterly disappointed.
She who bore you will be confounded.
Behold, she will be the least of the nations,
a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert.
- 13 Because of the LORD's wrath she won't be inhabited,
but she will be wholly desolate.
Everyone who goes by Babylon will be astonished,
and hiss at all her plagues.
- 14 Set yourselves in array against Babylon all around,
all you who bend the bow;
shoot at her.
Spare no arrows,
for she has sinned against the LORD.
- 15 Shout against her all around.
She has submitted herself.
Her bulwarks have fallen.
Her walls have been thrown down,
for it is the vengeance of the LORD.
Take vengeance on her.
As she has done, do to her.
- 16 Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him who handles the sickle in the time of harvest.
For fear of the oppressing sword,
they will each return to their own people,
and they will each flee to their own land.
- 17 "Israel is a hunted sheep.
The lions have driven him away.
First, the king of Assyria devoured him, and now at last Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has broken his bones."
- 18 Therefore the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says:
"Behold, I will punish the king of Babylon and his land,
as I have punished the king of Assyria.
- 19 I will bring Israel again to his pasture,
and he will feed on Carmel and Bashan.
His soul will be satisfied on the hills of Ephraim and in Gilead.
- 20 In those days, and in that time," says the LORD,
"the iniquity of Israel will be sought for,

and there will be none,
also the sins of Judah,
and they won't be found;
for I will pardon them whom I leave as a remnant.

21 "Go up against the land of Merathaim, even against it, and against the inhabitants of Pekod.
Kill and utterly destroy after them," says the LORD,
"and do according to all that I have commanded you.

22 A sound of battle is in the land,
and of great destruction.

23 How the hammer of the whole earth is cut apart and broken!
How Babylon has become a desolation among the nations!

24 I have laid a snare for you, and you are also taken, Babylon,
and you weren't aware.

You are found,
and also caught,
because you have fought against the LORD.

25 The LORD has opened his armory, and has brought out the weapons of his indignation;
for the Lord, GOD* of Armies, has a work to do in the land of the Chaldeans.

26 Come against her from the farthest border.
Open her storehouses.
Cast her up as heaps.

Destroy her utterly.
Let nothing of her be left.

27 Kill all her bulls.
Let them go down to the slaughter.
Woe to them! For their day has come,
the time of their visitation.

28 Listen to those who flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God,
the vengeance of his temple.

29 "Call together the archers against Babylon, all those who bend the bow.
Encamp against her all around.
Let none of it escape.
Pay her back according to her work.
According to all that she has done, do to her;
for she has been proud against the LORD,
against the Holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore her young men will fall in her streets.
All her men of war will be brought to silence in that day," says the LORD.

31 "Behold, I am against you, you proud one," says the Lord, GOD of Armies;
"for your day has come,
the time that I will visit you.

* 50:25 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh).

- ³² The proud one will stumble and fall, and no one will raise him up.
I will kindle a fire in his cities,
and it will devour all who are around him.”
- ³³ The LORD of Armies says: “The children of Israel and the children of Judah are oppressed together.
All who took them captive hold them fast.
They refuse to let them go.
- ³⁴ Their Redeemer is strong.
The LORD of Armies is his name.
He will thoroughly plead their cause,
that he may give rest to the earth,
and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.
- ³⁵ “A sword is on the Chaldeans,” says the LORD,
“and on the inhabitants of Babylon, on her princes,
and on her wise men.
- ³⁶ A sword is on the boasters,
and they will become fools.
A sword is on her mighty men,
and they will be dismayed.
- ³⁷ A sword is on their horses,
on their chariots,
and on all the mixed people who are in the middle of her;
and they will become as women.
A sword is on her treasures,
and they will be robbed.
- ³⁸ A drought is on her waters,
and they will be dried up;
for it is a land of engraved images,
and they are mad over idols.
- ³⁹ Therefore the wild animals of the desert
with the wolves will dwell there.
The ostriches will dwell therein.
It will be inhabited no more forever,
neither will it be lived in from generation to generation.
- ⁴⁰ As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah and its neighbor cities,”
says the LORD,
“so no man will dwell there,
neither will any son of man live therein.
- ⁴¹ “Behold, a people comes from the north.
A great nation and many kings will be stirred up from the uttermost parts of the earth.
- ⁴² They take up bow and spear.
They are cruel, and have no mercy.
Their voice roars like the sea.
They ride on horses,
everyone set in array,
as a man to the battle,
against you, daughter of Babylon.
- ⁴³ The king of Babylon has heard the news of them,

and his hands become feeble.
Anguish has taken hold of him,
pains as of a woman in labor.
44 Behold, the enemy will come up like a lion from the thickets of the Jordan against the strong habitation;
for I will suddenly make them run away from it.
Whoever is chosen,
I will appoint him over it,
for who is like me?
Who will appoint me a time?
Who is the shepherd who can stand before me?"
45 Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD that he has taken against Babylon;
and his purposes
that he has purposed against the land of the Chaldeans:
Surely they will drag them away,
even the little ones of the flock.
Surely he will make their habitation desolate over them.
46 The earth trembles at the noise of the taking of Babylon.
The cry is heard among the nations.

51

1 The LORD says:
"Behold, I will raise up against Babylon,
and against those who dwell in Lebkamai, a destroying wind.
2 I will send to Babylon strangers, who will winnow her.
They will empty her land;
for in the day of trouble they will be against her all around.
3 Against him who bends, let the archer bend his bow, also against him who lifts himself up in his coat of mail.
Don't spare her young men!
Utterly destroy all her army!
4 They will fall down slain in the land of the Chaldeans, and thrust through in her streets.
5 For Israel is not forsaken, nor Judah, by his God,
by the LORD of Armies;
though their land is full of guilt against the Holy One of Israel.
6 "Flee out of the middle of Babylon!
Everyone save his own life!
Don't be cut off in her iniquity,
for it is the time of the LORD's vengeance.
He will render to her a recompense.
7 Babylon has been a golden cup in the LORD's hand, who made all the earth drunk.
The nations have drunk of her wine;
therefore the nations have gone mad.
8 Babylon has suddenly fallen and been destroyed!
Wail for her!
Take balm for her pain.
Perhaps she may be healed.

- 9 “We would have healed Babylon,
but she is not healed.
Forsake her,
and let’s each go into his own country;
for her judgment reaches to heaven,
and is lifted up even to the skies.
- 10 ‘The LORD has produced our righteousness.
Come, and let’s declare in Zion the work of the LORD our God.’
- 11 “Make the arrows sharp!
Hold the shields firmly!
The LORD has stirred up the spirit of the kings of the Medes, because his purpose is against Babylon, to destroy it;
for it is the vengeance of the LORD,
the vengeance of his temple.
- 12 Set up a standard against the walls of Babylon!
Make the watch strong!
Set the watchmen,
and prepare the ambushes;
for the LORD has both purposed and done that which he spoke concerning the inhabitants of Babylon.
- 13 You who dwell on many waters, abundant in treasures, your end has come, the measure of your covetousness.
- 14 The LORD of Armies has sworn by himself, saying, ‘Surely I will fill you with men,
as with locusts,
and they will lift up a shout against you.’
- 15 “He has made the earth by his power.
He has established the world by his wisdom.
By his understanding he has stretched out the heavens.
- 16 When he utters his voice,
there is a roar of waters in the heavens,
and he causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth.
He makes lightning for the rain,
and brings the wind out of his treasuries.
- 17 “Every man has become stupid and without knowledge.
Every goldsmith is disappointed by his image,
for his molten images are falsehood,
and there is no breath in them.
- 18 They are vanity,
a work of delusion.
In the time of their visitation, they will perish.
- 19 The portion of Jacob is not like these,
for he formed all things,
including the tribe of his inheritance.
The LORD of Armies is his name.
- 20 “You are my battle ax and weapons of war.
With you I will break the nations into pieces.
With you I will destroy kingdoms.

- 21 With you I will break in pieces
the horse and his rider.
- 22 With you I will break in pieces
the chariot and him who rides therein.
With you I will break in pieces
man and woman.
With you I will break in pieces
the old man and the youth.
With you I will break in pieces
the young man and the virgin.
- 23 With you I will break in pieces
the shepherd and his flock.
With you I will break in pieces
the farmer and his yoke.
With you I will break in pieces
governors and deputies.
- 24 "I will render to Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight," says the LORD.
- 25 "Behold, I am against you, destroying mountain," says the LORD,
"which destroys all the earth.
I will stretch out my hand on you,
roll you down from the rocks,
and will make you a burned mountain.
- 26 They won't take a cornerstone from you,
nor a stone for foundations;
but you will be desolate forever," says the LORD.
- 27 "Set up a standard in the land!
Blow the trumpet among the nations!
Prepare the nations against her!
Call together against her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz!
Appoint a marshal against her!
Cause the horses to come up as the swarming locusts!
- 28 Prepare against her the nations, the kings of the Medes, its governors, and all its deputies, and all the land of their dominion!
- 29 The land trembles and is in pain;
for the purposes of the LORD against Babylon stand,
to make the land of Babylon a desolation, without inhabitant.
- 30 The mighty men of Babylon have stopped fighting, they remain in their strongholds.
Their might has failed.
They have become as women.
Her dwelling places are set on fire.
Her bars are broken.
- 31 One runner will run to meet another,
and one messenger to meet another,
to show the king of Babylon that his city is taken on every quarter.
- 32 So the passages are seized.
They have burned the reeds with fire.
The men of war are frightened."
- 33 For the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel says:

"The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floor at the time when it is trodden.

Yet a little while, and the time of harvest comes for her."

³⁴ "Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon has devoured me.

He has crushed me.

He has made me an empty vessel.

He has, like a monster, swallowed me up.

He has filled his mouth with my delicacies.

He has cast me out.

³⁵ May the violence done to me and to my flesh be on Babylon!"

the inhabitant of Zion will say; and,

"May my blood be on the inhabitants of Chaldea!"
will Jerusalem say.

³⁶ Therefore the LORD says:

"Behold, I will plead your cause,

and take vengeance for you.

I will dry up her sea,

and make her fountain dry.

³⁷ Babylon will become heaps,

a dwelling place for jackals, an astonishment, and a hissing,

without inhabitant.

³⁸ They will roar together like young lions.

They will growl as lions' cubs.

³⁹ When they are inflamed, I will make their feast, and I will make them drunk,

that they may rejoice,

and sleep a perpetual sleep,

and not wake up," says the LORD.

⁴⁰ "I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with male goats.

⁴¹ "How Sheshach is taken!

How the praise of the whole earth is seized!

How Babylon has become a desolation among the nations!

⁴² The sea has come up on Babylon.

She is covered with the multitude of its waves.

⁴³ Her cities have become a desolation,

a dry land, and a desert,

a land in which no man dwells.

No son of man passes by it.

⁴⁴ I will execute judgment on Bel in Babylon, and I will bring out of his mouth that which he has swallowed up.

The nations will not flow any more to him.

Yes, the wall of Babylon will fall.

⁴⁵ "My people, go away from the middle of her, and each of you save yourselves from the LORD's fierce anger.

⁴⁶ Don't let your heart faint.

Don't fear for the news that will be heard in the land.
For news will come one year,
and after that in another year news will come,
and violence in the land,
ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore behold, the days come that I will execute judgment on the engraved images of Babylon;
and her whole land will be confounded.
All her slain will fall in the middle of her.

48 Then the heavens and the earth,
and all that is therein,
will sing for joy over Babylon;
for the destroyers will come to her from the north," says the LORD.

49 "As Babylon has caused the slain of Israel to fall, so the slain of all the land will fall at Babylon.

50 You who have escaped the sword, go!
Don't stand still!
Remember the LORD from afar,
and let Jerusalem come into your mind."

51 "We are confounded because we have heard reproach.
Confusion has covered our faces,
for strangers have come into the sanctuaries of the LORD's house."

52 "Therefore behold, the days come," says the LORD,
"that I will execute judgment on her engraved images;
and through all her land the wounded will groan.

53 Though Babylon should mount up to the sky, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet destroyers will come to her from me," says the LORD.

54 "The sound of a cry comes from Babylon, and of great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans!

55 For the LORD lays Babylon waste, and destroys out of her the great voice!
Their waves roar like many waters.
The noise of their voice is uttered.

56 For the destroyer has come on her,
even on Babylon.
Her mighty men are taken.
Their bows are broken in pieces,
for the LORD is a God of retribution.
He will surely repay.

57 I will make her princes, her wise men,
her governors, her deputies, and her mighty men drunk.
They will sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake up,"
says the King, whose name is the LORD of Armies.

58 The LORD of Armies says:
"The wide walls of Babylon will be utterly overthrown.

Her high gates will be burned with fire.
The peoples will labor for vanity,
and the nations for the fire;
and they will be weary."

⁵⁹ The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. Now Seraiah was chief quartermaster. ⁶⁰ Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come on Babylon, even all these words that are written concerning Babylon. ⁶¹ Jeremiah said to Seraiah, "When you come to Babylon, then see that you read all these words, ⁶² and say, 'LORD, you have spoken concerning this place, to cut it off, that no one will dwell in it, neither man nor animal, but that it will be desolate forever.' ⁶³ It will be, when you have finished reading this book, that you shall bind a stone to it, and cast it into the middle of the Euphrates. ⁶⁴ Then you shall say, 'Thus will Babylon sink, and will not rise again because of the evil that I will bring on her; and they will be weary.' "

Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. ⁴ In the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and encamped against it; and they built forts against it round about. ⁵ So the city was besieged to the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.

⁶ In the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was severe in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land. ⁷ Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war fled, and went out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden. Now the Chaldeans were against the city all around. The men of war went toward the Arabah, ⁸ but the army of the Chaldeans pursued the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him. ⁹ Then they took the king, and carried him up to the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; and he pronounced judgment on him. ¹⁰ The king of Babylon killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes. He also killed all the princes of Judah in Riblah. ¹¹ He put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in fetters, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison until the day of his death.

¹² Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, who stood before the king of Babylon, came into Jerusalem. ¹³ He burned the LORD's house, and the king's house; and all the houses of Jerusalem, even every great house, he burned with fire. ¹⁴ All the army of the Chaldeans, who were with the captain of the guard, broke down all the walls of Jerusalem all around. ¹⁵ Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the poorest of the people, and the rest of the people who were left in the city, and those who fell away, who defected to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the multitude. ¹⁶ But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poorest of the land to be vineyard keepers and farmers.

¹⁷ The Chaldeans broke the pillars of bronze that were in the LORD's house and the bases and the bronze sea that were in the LORD's house in pieces, and carried all of their bronze to Babylon. ¹⁸ They also took away the pots, the shovels, the snuffers, the basins, the spoons, and all the vessels of bronze with which they ministered. ¹⁹ The captain of the guard took away the cups, the fire pans, the basins, the pots, the lamp stands, the spoons, and the bowls; that which was of gold, as gold, and that which was of silver, as silver.

²⁴ The captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the threshold, ²⁵ and out of the city he took an officer who was set over the men of war; and seven men of those who saw the king's face, who were found in the city; and the scribe of the captain of the army, who mustered the people of the land; and sixty men of the people of the land, who were found in the middle of the city. ²⁶ Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah. ²⁷ The king of Babylon struck them, and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath.

So Judah was carried away captive out of his land. ²⁸ This is the number of the people whom Nebuchadnezzar carried away captive:

in the seventh year, three thousand twenty-three Jews;

²⁹ in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar, he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirty-two persons;

³¹ In the thirty-seventh year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the twenty-fifth day of the month, Evilmerodach king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and released him from prison. ³² He spoke kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings who were with him in Babylon, ³³ and changed his prison garments. Jehoiachin ate bread before him continually

all the days of his life. ³⁴ For his allowance, there was a continual allowance given him by the king of Babylon, every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

The Lamentations of Jeremiah

- ¹ How the city sits solitary, that was full of people!
She has become as a widow,
who was great among the nations!
She who was a princess among the provinces has become a slave!
- ² She weeps bitterly in the night.
Her tears are on her cheeks.
Among all her lovers
she has no one to comfort her.
All her friends have dealt treacherously with her.
They have become her enemies.
- ³ Judah has gone into captivity because of affliction and because of great servitude.
She dwells among the nations.
She finds no rest.
All her persecutors overtook her in her distress.
- ⁴ The roads to Zion mourn,
because no one comes to the solemn assembly.
All her gates are desolate.
Her priests sigh.
Her virgins are afflicted,
and she herself is in bitterness.
- ⁵ Her adversaries have become the head.
Her enemies prosper;
for the LORD* has afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions.
Her young children have gone into captivity before the adversary.
- ⁶ All majesty has departed from the daughter of Zion.
Her princes have become like deer that find no pasture.
They have gone without strength before the pursuer.
- ⁷ Jerusalem remembers in the days of her affliction and of her miseries all her pleasant things that were from the days of old;
when her people fell into the hand of the adversary,
and no one helped her.
The adversaries saw her.
They mocked at her desolations.
- ⁸ Jerusalem has grievously sinned.

* 1:5 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh).

Therefore she has become unclean.
All who honored her despise her,
because they have seen her nakedness.
Yes, she sighs and turns backward.

⁹ Her filthiness was in her skirts.
She didn't remember her latter end.
Therefore she has come down astoundingly.
She has no comforter.
"See, LORD, my affliction;
for the enemy has magnified himself."

¹⁰ The adversary has spread out his hand on all her pleasant things;
for she has seen that the nations have entered into her sanctuary, concerning whom you commanded that they should not enter into your assembly.

¹¹ All her people sigh.
They seek bread.
They have given their pleasant things for food to refresh their soul.
"Look, LORD, and see,
for I have become despised."

¹² "Is it nothing to you, all you who pass by?
Look, and see if there is any sorrow like my sorrow,
which is brought on me,
with which the LORD has afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.

¹³ "From on high has he sent fire into my bones, and it prevails against them.
He has spread a net for my feet.
He has turned me back.
He has made me desolate and I faint all day long.

¹⁴ "The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand.
They are knit together.
They have come up on my neck.
He made my strength fail.
The Lord[†] has delivered me into their hands, against whom I am not able to stand.

¹⁵ "The Lord has set at nothing all my mighty men within me.
He has called a solemn assembly against me to crush my young men.
The Lord has trodden the virgin daughter of Judah as in a wine press.

¹⁶ "For these things I weep.
My eye, my eye runs down with water,
because the comforter who should refresh my soul is far from me.
My children are desolate,
because the enemy has prevailed."

¹⁷ Zion spreads out her hands.

[†] 1:14 The word translated "Lord" is "Adonai."

There is no one to comfort her.
The LORD has commanded concerning Jacob, that those who are around him should be his adversaries.
Jerusalem is among them as an unclean thing.

18 “The LORD is righteous, for I have rebelled against his commandment.
Please hear all you peoples,
and see my sorrow.
My virgins and my young men have gone into captivity.

19 “I called for my lovers,
but they deceived me.
My priests and my elders gave up the spirit in the city, while they sought food for themselves to refresh their souls.

20 “Look, LORD; for I am in distress.
My heart is troubled.
My heart turns over within me,
for I have grievously rebelled.
Abroad, the sword bereaves.
At home, it is like death.

21 “They have heard that I sigh.
There is no one to comfort me.
All my enemies have heard of my trouble.
They are glad that you have done it.
You will bring the day that you have proclaimed,
and they will be like me.

22 “Let all their wickedness come before you.
Do to them as you have done to me for all my transgressions.
For my sighs are many,
and my heart is faint.

1 How has the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger!
He has cast the beauty of Israel down from heaven to the earth, and hasn't remembered his footstool in the day of his anger.

2 The Lord has swallowed up all the dwellings of Jacob without pity.
He has thrown down in his wrath the strongholds of the daughter of Judah.
He has brought them down to the ground.
He has profaned the kingdom and its princes.

3 He has cut off all the horn of Israel in fierce anger.
He has drawn back his right hand from before the enemy.
He has burned up Jacob like a flaming fire, which devours all around.

4 He has bent his bow like an enemy.
He has stood with his right hand as an adversary.

He has killed all that were pleasant to the eye.

In the tent of the daughter of Zion, he has poured out his wrath like fire.

⁵ The Lord has become as an enemy.

He has swallowed up Israel.

He has swallowed up all her palaces.

He has destroyed his strongholds.

He has multiplied mourning and lamentation in the daughter of Judah.

⁶ He has violently taken away his tabernacle,
as if it were a garden.

He has destroyed his place of assembly.

The LORD has caused solemn assembly and Sabbath to be forgotten in Zion.

In the indignation of his anger, he has despised the king and the priest.

⁷ The Lord has cast off his altar.

He has abhorred his sanctuary.

He has given the walls of her palaces into the hand of the enemy.

They have made a noise in the LORD's house,
as in the day of a solemn assembly.

⁸ The LORD has purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion.

He has stretched out the line.

He has not withdrawn his hand from destroying;

He has made the rampart and wall lament.

They languish together.

⁹ Her gates have sunk into the ground.

He has destroyed and broken her bars.

Her king and her princes are among the nations where the law is not.

Yes, her prophets find no vision from the LORD.

¹⁰ The elders of the daughter of Zion sit on the ground.

They keep silence.

They have cast up dust on their heads.

They have clothed themselves with sackcloth.

The virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.

¹¹ My eyes fail with tears.

My heart is troubled.

My bile is poured on the earth,

because of the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the young children and the infants swoon in the streets of the city.

¹² They ask their mothers,

"Where is grain and wine?"

when they swoon as the wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul is poured out into their mothers' bosom.

¹³ What shall I testify to you?

What shall I liken to you, daughter of Jerusalem?

What shall I compare to you,
that I may comfort you, virgin daughter of Zion?
For your breach is as big as the sea.
Who can heal you?

14 Your prophets have seen false and foolish visions for you.
They have not uncovered your iniquity,
to reverse your captivity,
but have seen for you false revelations and causes of banishment.

15 All that pass by clap their hands at you.
They hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying,
“Is this the city that men called ‘The perfection of beauty,
the joy of the whole earth?’”

16 All your enemies have opened their mouth wide against you.
They hiss and gnash their teeth.
They say, “We have swallowed her up.
Certainly this is the day that we looked for.
We have found it.
We have seen it.”

17 The LORD has done that which he planned.
He has fulfilled his word that he commanded in the days of old.
He has thrown down,
and has not pitied.
He has caused the enemy to rejoice over you.
He has exalted the horn of your adversaries.

18 Their heart cried to the Lord.
O wall of the daughter of Zion,
let tears run down like a river day and night.
Give yourself no relief.
Don't let your eyes rest.

19 Arise, cry out in the night,
at the beginning of the watches!
Pour out your heart like water before the face of the Lord.
Lift up your hands toward him for the life of your young children, who faint for hunger at the head of every street.

20 “Look, LORD, and see to whom you have done thus!
Should the women eat their offspring,
the children that they held and bounced on their knees?
Should the priest and the prophet be killed in the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 “The youth and the old man lie on the ground in the streets.
My virgins and my young men have fallen by the sword.
You have killed them in the day of your anger.
You have slaughtered, and not pitied.

- 22 “You have called, as in the day of a solemn assembly, my terrors on every side.
There was no one that escaped or remained in the day of the LORD’s anger.
My enemy has consumed those whom I have cared for and brought up.

3

- 1 I am the man who has seen affliction
by the rod of his wrath.
2 He has led me and caused me to walk in darkness,
and not in light.
3 Surely he turns his hand against me again and again all day long.
4 He has made my flesh and my skin old.
He has broken my bones.
5 He has built against me,
and surrounded me with bitterness and hardship.
6 He has made me dwell in dark places,
as those who have been long dead.
7 He has walled me about, so that I can’t go out.
He has made my chain heavy.
8 Yes, when I cry, and call for help,
he shuts out my prayer.
9 He has walled up my ways with cut stone.
He has made my paths crooked.
10 He is to me as a bear lying in wait,
as a lion in hiding.
11 He has turned away my path,
and pulled me in pieces.
He has made me desolate.
12 He has bent his bow,
and set me as a mark for the arrow.
13 He has caused the shafts of his quiver to enter into my kidneys.
14 I have become a derision to all my people,
and their song all day long.
15 He has filled me with bitterness.
He has stuffed me with wormwood.
16 He has also broken my teeth with gravel.
He has covered me with ashes.
17 You have removed my soul far away from peace.
I forgot prosperity.
18 I said, “My strength has perished, along with my expectation from the LORD.”
19 Remember my affliction and my misery,
the wormwood and the bitterness.
20 My soul still remembers them,
and is bowed down within me.

- 21 This I recall to my mind;
therefore I have hope.
- 22 It is because of the LORD's loving kindnesses that we are not consumed, because his mercies don't fail.
- 23 They are new every morning.
Great is your faithfulness.
- 24 "The LORD is my portion," says my soul.
"Therefore I will hope in him."
- 25 The LORD is good to those who wait for him,
to the soul who seeks him.
- 26 It is good that a man should hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the LORD.
- 27 It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.
- 28 Let him sit alone and keep silence, because he has laid it on him.
- 29 Let him put his mouth in the dust,
if it is so that there may be hope.
- 30 Let him give his cheek to him who strikes him.
Let him be filled full of reproach.
- 31 For the Lord will not cast off forever.
32 For though he causes grief, yet he will have compassion according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses.
- 33 For he does not afflict willingly, nor grieve the children of men.
- 34 To crush under foot all the prisoners of the earth, 35 to turn away the right of a man before the face of the Most High,
36 to subvert a man in his cause, the Lord doesn't approve.
- 37 Who is he who says, and it comes to pass,
when the Lord doesn't command it?
- 38 Doesn't evil and good come out of the mouth of the Most High?
39 Why should a living man complain,
a man for the punishment of his sins?
- 40 Let us search and try our ways,
and turn again to the LORD.
- 41 Let's lift up our heart with our hands to God* in the heavens.
42 "We have transgressed and have rebelled.
You have not pardoned.
- 43 "You have covered us with anger and pursued us.
You have killed.
You have not pitied.
- 44 You have covered yourself with a cloud,

* 3:41 The Hebrew word rendered "God" is "אֱלֹהִים" (Elohim).

so that no prayer can pass through.

45 You have made us an off-scouring and refuse in the middle of the peoples.

46 “All our enemies have opened their mouth wide against us.

47 Terror and the pit have come on us, devastation and destruction.”

48 My eye runs down with streams of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 My eye pours down and doesn't cease,
without any intermission,

50 until the LORD looks down, and sees from heaven.

51 My eye affects my soul,
because of all the daughters of my city.

52 They have chased me relentlessly like a bird,
those who are my enemies without cause.

53 They have cut off my life in the dungeon, and have cast a stone on me.

54 Waters flowed over my head.
I said, “I am cut off.”

55 I called on your name, LORD, out of the lowest dungeon.

56 You heard my voice:
“Don't hide your ear from my sighing, and my cry.”

57 You came near in the day that I called on you.
You said, “Don't be afraid.”

58 Lord, you have pleaded the causes of my soul.
You have redeemed my life.

59 LORD, you have seen my wrong.
Judge my cause.

60 You have seen all their vengeance
and all their plans against me.

61 You have heard their reproach, LORD,
and all their plans against me,

62 the lips of those that rose up against me,
and their plots against me all day long.

63 You see their sitting down and their rising up.
I am their song.

64 You will pay them back, LORD,
according to the work of their hands.

65 You will give them hardness of heart, your curse to them.

66 You will pursue them in anger, and destroy them from under the heavens of the LORD.

4

1 How the gold has become dim!
The most pure gold has changed!
The stones of the sanctuary are poured out at the head of every street.

2 The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold,
how they are esteemed as earthen pitchers,
the work of the hands of the potter!

3 Even the jackals offer their breast.
They nurse their young ones.
But the daughter of my people has become cruel,
like the ostriches in the wilderness.

4 The tongue of the nursing child clings to the roof of his mouth for thirst.
The young children ask for bread, and no one breaks it for them.

5 Those who ate delicacies are desolate in the streets.
Those who were brought up in purple embrace dunghills.

6 For the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the sin of Sodom,
which was overthrown as in a moment.
No hands were laid on her.

7 Her nobles were purer than snow.
They were whiter than milk.
They were more ruddy in body than rubies.
Their polishing was like sapphire.

8 Their appearance is blacker than a coal.
They are not known in the streets.
Their skin clings to their bones.
It is withered.
It has become like wood.

9 Those who are killed with the sword are better than those who are killed with hunger;
for these pine away, stricken through,
for lack of the fruits of the field.

10 The hands of the pitiful women have boiled their own children.
They were their food in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The LORD has accomplished his wrath.
He has poured out his fierce anger.
He has kindled a fire in Zion, which has devoured its foundations.

¹² The kings of the earth didn't believe,
neither did all the inhabitants of the world, that the adversary and the enemy would enter into the gates of Jerusalem.

¹³ It is because of the sins of her prophets and the iniquities of her priests, that have shed the blood of the just in the middle of her.

¹⁴ They wander as blind men in the streets.
They are polluted with blood,
So that men can't touch their garments.

¹⁵ "Go away!" they cried to them.
"Unclean! Go away! Go away! Don't touch!
When they fled away and wandered, men said among the nations,
"They can't live here any more."

¹⁶ The LORD's anger has scattered them.
He will not pay attention to them any more.
They didn't respect the persons of the priests.
They didn't favor the elders.

¹⁷ Our eyes still fail, looking in vain for our help.
In our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save.

¹⁸ They hunt our steps,
so that we can't go in our streets.
Our end is near.
Our days are fulfilled,
for our end has come.

¹⁹ Our pursuers were swifter than the eagles of the sky.
They chased us on the mountains.
They set an ambush for us in the wilderness.

²⁰ The breath of our nostrils,
the anointed of the LORD,
was taken in their pits;
of whom we said,
under his shadow we will live among the nations.

²¹ Rejoice and be glad, daughter of Edom, who dwells in the land of Uz.
The cup will pass through to you also.
You will be drunken,
and will make yourself naked.

²² The punishment of your iniquity is accomplished, daughter of Zion.
He will no more carry you away into captivity.

He will visit your iniquity, daughter of Edom.
He will uncover your sins.

5

- ¹ Remember, LORD, what has come on us.
Look, and see our reproach.
- ² Our inheritance has been turned over to strangers,
our houses to aliens.
- ³ We are orphans and fatherless.
Our mothers are as widows.
- ⁴ We must pay for water to drink.
Our wood is sold to us.
- ⁵ Our pursuers are on our necks.
We are weary, and have no rest.
- ⁶ We have given our hands to the Egyptians,
and to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.
- ⁷ Our fathers sinned, and are no more.
We have borne their iniquities.
- ⁸ Servants rule over us.
There is no one to deliver us out of their hand.
- ⁹ We get our bread at the peril of our lives, because of the sword in the wilderness.
- ¹⁰ Our skin is black like an oven, because of the burning heat of famine.
- ¹¹ They ravished the women in Zion,
the virgins in the cities of Judah.
- ¹² Princes were hanged up by their hands.
The faces of elders were not honored.
- ¹³ The young men carry millstones.
The children stumbled under loads of wood.
- ¹⁴ The elders have ceased from the gate,
and the young men from their music.
- ¹⁵ The joy of our heart has ceased.
Our dance is turned into mourning.
- ¹⁶ The crown has fallen from our head.
Woe to us, for we have sinned!
- ¹⁷ For this our heart is faint.
For these things our eyes are dim:
- ¹⁸ for the mountain of Zion, which is desolate.
The foxes walk on it.
- ¹⁹ You, LORD, remain forever.
Your throne is from generation to generation.
- ²⁰ Why do you forget us forever,
and forsake us for so long a time?
- ²¹ Turn us to yourself, LORD, and we will be turned.
Renew our days as of old.
- ²² But you have utterly rejected us.
You are very angry against us.

The Book of Ezekiel

¹ Now in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the captives by the river Chebar, the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God.*

² In the fifth of the month, which was the fifth year of King Jehoiachin's captivity, ³ the LORD's† word came to Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar; and the LORD's hand was there on him.

¹⁵ Now as I saw the living creatures, behold, there was one wheel on the earth beside the living creatures, for each of the four faces of it. ¹⁶ The appearance of the wheels and their work was like a beryl. The four of them had one likeness. Their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel within a wheel. ¹⁷ When they went, they went in their four directions. They didn't turn when they went. ¹⁸ As for their rims, they were high and dreadful; and the four of them had their rims full of eyes all around.

¹⁹ When the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them. When the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up. ²⁰ Wherever the spirit was to go, they went. The spirit was to go there. The wheels were lifted up beside them; for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels. ²¹ When those went, these went. When those stood, these stood.

* 1:1 The Hebrew word rendered "God" is "אֱלֹהִים" (Elohim). † 1:3 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh). ‡ 1:4 "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

When those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up beside them; for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

²³ Under the expanse, their wings were straight, one toward the other. Each one had two which covered on this side, and each one had two which covered their bodies on that side. ²⁴ When they went, I heard the noise of their wings like the noise of great waters, like the voice of the Almighty, a noise of tumult like the noise of an army. When they stood, they let down their wings.

²⁵ There was a voice above the expanse that was over their heads. When they stood, they let down their wings. ²⁶ Above the expanse that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire[§] stone. On the likeness of the throne was a likeness as the appearance of a man on it above. ²⁷ I saw as it were glowing metal, as the appearance of fire within it all around, from the appearance of his waist and upward; and from the appearance of his waist and downward I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and there was brightness around him. ²⁸ As the appearance of the rainbow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness all around.

This was the appearance of the likeness of the LORD's glory. When I saw it, I fell on my face, and I heard a voice of one that spoke.

¹ He said to me, "Son of man, stand on your feet, and I will speak with you."

² The Spirit entered into me when he spoke to me, and set me on my feet; and I heard him who spoke to me.

³ He said to me, "Son of man, I send you to the children of Israel, to a nation of rebels who have rebelled against me. They and their fathers have transgressed against me even to this very day. ⁴ The children are impudent and stiff-hearted. I am sending you to them, and you shall tell them, 'This is what the Lord* GOD says.' ⁵ They, whether they will hear, or whether they will refuse—for they are a rebellious house—yet they will know that there has been a prophet among them. ⁶ You, son of man, don't be afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though briars and thorns are with you, and you dwell among scorpions. Don't be afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they are a rebellious house. ⁷ You shall speak my words to them, whether they will hear or whether they will refuse; for they are most rebellious. ⁸ But you, son of man, hear what I tell you. Don't be rebellious like that rebellious house. Open your mouth, and eat that which I give you."

⁹ When I looked, behold, a hand was stretched out to me; and behold, a scroll of a book was in it. ¹⁰ He spread it before me. It was written within and without; and lamentations, mourning, and woe were written in it.

¹ He said to me, "Son of man, eat what you find. Eat this scroll, and go, speak to the house of Israel."

[§] 1:26 or, lapis lazuli * 2:4 The word translated "Lord" is "Adonai."

² So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat the scroll.

³ He said to me, "Son of man, eat this scroll that I give you and fill your belly and your bowels with it."

Then I ate it. It was as sweet as honey in my mouth.

⁴ He said to me, "Son of man, go to the house of Israel, and speak my words to them. ⁵ For you are not sent to a people of a strange speech and of a hard language, but to the house of Israel— ⁶ not to many peoples of a strange speech and of a hard language, whose words you can't understand. Surely, if I sent you to them, they would listen to you. ⁷ But the house of Israel will not listen to you, for they will not listen to me; for all the house of Israel are obstinate* and hard-hearted. ⁸ Behold, I have made your face hard against their faces, and your forehead hard against their foreheads. ⁹ I have made your forehead as a diamond, harder than flint. Don't be afraid of them, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they are a rebellious house."

¹² Then the Spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me the voice of a great rushing, saying, "Blessed be the LORD's glory from his place." ¹³ I heard the noise of the wings of the living creatures as they touched one another, and the noise of the wheels beside them, even the noise of a great rushing. ¹⁴ So the Spirit lifted me up, and took me away; and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit; and the LORD's hand was strong on me. ¹⁵ Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel Aviv who lived by the river Chebar, and to where they lived; and I sat there overwhelmed among them seven days.

¹⁶ At the end of seven days, the LORD's word came to me, saying, ¹⁷ "Son of man, I have made you a watchman to the house of Israel. Therefore hear the word from my mouth, and warn them from me. ¹⁸ When I tell the wicked, 'You will surely die;' and you give him no warning, nor speak to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life, that wicked man will die in his iniquity; but I will require his blood at your hand. ¹⁹ Yet if you warn the wicked, and he doesn't turn from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he will die in his iniquity; but you have delivered your soul."

²⁰ "Again, when a righteous man turns from his righteousness and commits iniquity, and I lay a stumbling block before him, he will die. Because you have not given him warning, he will die in his sin, and his righteous deeds which he has done will not be remembered; but I will require his blood at your hand. ²¹ Nevertheless if you warn the righteous man, that the righteous not sin, and he does not sin, he will surely live, because he took warning; and you have delivered your soul."

²² The LORD's hand was there on me; and he said to me, "Arise, go out into the plain, and I will talk with you there."

²³ Then I arose, and went out into the plain, and behold, the LORD's glory stood there, like the glory which I saw by the river Chebar. Then I fell on my face.

²⁴ Then the Spirit entered into me and set me on my feet. He spoke with me, and said to me, "Go, shut yourself inside your house. ²⁵ But you, son of

* 3:7 Literally, have a hard forehead man, behold, they will put ropes on you, and will bind you with them, and you will not go out among them. ²⁶ I will make your tongue stick to the roof of your mouth so that you will be mute and will not be able to correct them, for they are a rebellious house. ²⁷ But when I speak with you, I will open your mouth, and you shall tell them, 'This is what the Lord GOD says.' He who hears, let him hear; and he who refuses, let him refuse; for they are a rebellious house."

⁴ "Moreover lie on your left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel on it. According to the number of the days that you shall lie on it, you shall bear their iniquity. ⁵ For I have appointed the years of their iniquity to be to you a number of days, even three hundred ninety days. So you shall bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

⁹ "Take for yourself also wheat, barley, beans, lentils, millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel. Make bread of it. According to the number of the days that you will lie on your side, even three hundred ninety days, you shall eat of it. ¹⁰ Your food which you shall eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels* a day. From time to time you shall eat it. ¹¹ You shall drink water by measure, the sixth part of a hin.† From time to time you shall drink. ¹² You shall eat it as barley cakes, and you shall bake it in their sight with dung that comes out of man." ¹³ The LORD said, "Even thus will the children of Israel eat their bread unclean, among the nations where I will drive them."

¹⁴ Then I said, "Ah Lord GOD! Behold, my soul has not been polluted; for from my youth up even until now I have not eaten of that which dies of itself, or is torn of animals. No abominable meat has come into my mouth!"

¹⁵ Then he said to me, "Behold, I have given you cow's dung for man's dung, and you shall prepare your bread on it."

¹⁶ Moreover he said to me, "Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem. They will eat bread by weight, and with fearfulness. They will drink water by measure, and in dismay; ¹⁷ that they may lack bread and water, be dismayed one with another, and pine away in their iniquity.

* 4:10 A shekel is about 10 grams or about 0.35 ounces. † 4:11 A hin is about 6.5 liters or 1.7 gallons.

⁷ “Therefore the Lord GOD says: ‘Because you are more turbulent than the nations that are around you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my ordinances, neither have followed the ordinances of the nations that are around you; ⁸ therefore the Lord GOD says: ‘Behold, I, even I, am against you; and I will execute judgments among you in the sight of the nations. ⁹ I will do in you that which I have not done, and which I will not do anything like it any more, because of all your abominations. ¹⁰ Therefore the fathers will eat the sons within you, and the sons will eat their fathers. I will execute judgments on you; and I will scatter the whole remnant of you to all the winds. ¹¹ Therefore as I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘surely, because you have defiled my sanctuary with all your detestable things, and with all your abominations, therefore I will also diminish you. My eye won’t spare, and I will have no pity. ¹² A third part of you will die with the pestilence, and they will be consumed with famine within you. A third part will fall by the sword around you. A third part I will scatter to all the winds, and will draw out a sword after them.

¹⁴ “ ‘Moreover I will make you a desolation and a reproach among the nations that are around you, in the sight of all that pass by. ¹⁵ So it will be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment, to the nations that are around you, when I execute judgments on you in anger and in wrath, and in wrathful rebukes—I, the LORD, have spoken it— ¹⁶ when I send on them the evil arrows of famine that are for destruction, which I will send to destroy you. I will increase the famine on you and will break your staff of bread. ¹⁷ I will send on you famine and evil animals, and they will bereave you. Pestilence and blood will pass through you. I will bring the sword on you. I, the LORD, have spoken it.’ ”

¹ The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ² “Son of man, set your face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy to them, ³ and say, ‘You mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD! The Lord GOD says to the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys: “Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword on you, and I will destroy your high places. ⁴ Your altars will become desolate, and your incense altars will be broken. I will cast down your slain men before your idols. ⁵ I will lay the dead bodies of the children of Israel before their idols. I will scatter your bones around your altars. ⁶ In all your dwelling places, the cities will be laid waste and the high places will be desolate, so that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your incense altars may be cut down, and your works may be abolished. ⁷ The slain will fall among you, and you will know that I am the LORD.

⁸ “ ‘Yet I will leave a remnant, in that you will have some that escape the sword among the nations, when you are scattered through the countries. ⁹ Those of you that escape will remember me among the nations where they are carried captive, how I have been broken with their lewd heart, which has departed from me, and with their eyes, which play the prostitute after their idols. Then they will loathe themselves in their own sight for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations. ¹⁰ They will know that I am the LORD. I have not said in vain that I would do this evil to them.’ ”

¹¹ “The Lord GOD says: ‘Strike with your hand, and stamp with your foot, and say, “Alas!”, because of all the evil abominations of the house of Israel; for they will fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence. ¹² He who is far off will die of the pestilence. He who is near will fall by the sword. He who remains and is besieged will die by the famine. Thus I will accomplish my wrath on them. ¹³ You will know that I am the LORD when their slain men are among their idols around their altars, on every high hill, on all the tops of the mountains, under every green tree, and under every thick oak—the places where they offered pleasant aroma to all their idols. ¹⁴ I will stretch out my hand on them and make the land desolate and waste, from the wilderness toward Diblah, throughout all their habitations. Then they will know that I am the LORD.’ ”

¹ Moreover the LORD’s word came to me, saying, ² “You, son of man, the Lord GOD says to the land of Israel, ‘An end! The end has come on the four corners of the land. ³ Now the end is on you, and I will send my anger on you, and will judge you according to your ways. I will bring on you all your abominations. ⁴ My eye will not spare you, neither will I have pity; but I will bring your ways on you, and your abominations will be among you. Then you will know that I am the LORD.’ ”

⁵ “The Lord GOD says: ‘A disaster! A unique disaster! Behold, it comes. ⁶ An end has come. The end has come! It awakes against you. Behold, it comes. ⁷ Your doom has come to you, inhabitant of the land! The time has come! The day is near, a day of tumult, and not of joyful shouting, on the mountains. ⁸ Now I will shortly pour out my wrath on you, and accomplish my anger against you, and will judge you according to your ways. I will bring on you all your abominations. ⁹ My eye won’t spare, neither will I have pity. I will punish you according to your ways. Your abominations will be among you. Then you will know that I, the LORD, strike.

their wealth. There will be nothing of value among them. ¹² The time has come! The day draws near. Don't let the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn; for wrath is on all its multitude. ¹³ For the seller won't return to that which is sold, although they are still alive; for the vision concerns the whole multitude of it. None will return. None will strengthen himself in the iniquity of his life. ¹⁴ They have blown the trumpet, and have made all ready; but no one goes to the battle, for my wrath is on all its multitude.

¹⁵ “The sword is outside, and the pestilence and the famine within. He who is in the field will die by the sword. He who is in the city will be devoured by famine and pestilence. ¹⁶ But of those who escape, they will escape and will be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them moaning, everyone in his iniquity. ¹⁷ All hands will be feeble, and all knees will be weak as water. ¹⁸ They will also clothe themselves with sackcloth, and horror will cover them. Shame will be on all faces, and baldness on all their heads. ¹⁹ They will cast their silver in the streets, and their gold will be as an unclean thing. Their silver and their gold won't be able to deliver them in the day of the LORD's wrath. They won't satisfy their souls or fill their bellies; because it has been the stumbling block of their iniquity. ²⁰ As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty; but they made the images of their abominations and their detestable things therein. Therefore I have made it to them as an unclean thing. ²¹ I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a plunder; and they will profane it. ²² I will also turn my face from them, and they will profane my secret place. Robbers will enter into it, and profane it.

²³ “Make chains, for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence. ²⁴ Therefore I will bring the worst of the nations, and they will possess their houses. I will also make the pride of the strong to cease. Their holy places will be profaned. ²⁵ Destruction comes! They will seek peace, and there will be none. ²⁶ Mischief will come on mischief, and rumor will be on rumor. They will seek a vision of the prophet; but the law will perish from the priest, and counsel from the elders. ²⁷ The king will mourn, and the prince will be clothed with desolation. The hands of the people of the land will be troubled. I will do to them after their way, and according to their own judgments I will judge them. Then they will know that I am the LORD.’ ”

¹ In the sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in my house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, the Lord GOD's hand fell on me there. ² Then I saw, and behold, a likeness as the appearance of fire—from the appearance of his waist and downward, fire, and from his waist and upward, as the appearance of brightness, as it were glowing metal. ³ He stretched out the form of a hand, and took me by a lock of my head; and the Spirit lifted me up between earth and the sky, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the gate of the inner court that looks toward the north, where there was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provokes to jealousy. ⁴ Behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the appearance that I saw in the plain.

⁵ Then he said to me, “Son of man, lift up your eyes now the way toward the north.”

So I lifted up my eyes the way toward the north, and saw, northward of the gate of the altar this image of jealousy in the entry.

⁶ He said to me, "Son of man, do you see what they do? Even the great abominations that the house of Israel commit here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? But you will again see yet other great abominations."

⁷ He brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold, a hole in the wall. ⁸ Then he said to me, "Son of man, dig now in the wall."

When I had dug in the wall, I saw a door.

⁹ He said to me, "Go in, and see the wicked abominations that they do here."

¹² Then he said to me, "Son of man, have you seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in his rooms of imagery? For they say, 'The LORD doesn't see us. The LORD has forsaken the land.' " ¹³ He said also to me, "You will again see more of the great abominations which they do."

¹⁴ Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD's house which was toward the north; and I saw the women sit there weeping for Tammuz.

¹⁵ Then he said to me, "Have you seen this, son of man? You will again see yet greater abominations than these."

¹⁷ Then he said to me, "Have you seen this, son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? For they have filled the land with violence, and have turned again to provoke me to anger. Behold, they put the branch to their nose. ¹⁸ Therefore I will also deal in wrath. My eye won't spare, neither will I have pity. Though they cry in my ears with a loud voice, yet I will not hear them."

³ The glory of the God of Israel went up from the cherub, whereupon it was, to the threshold of the house; and he called to the man clothed in linen, who had the writer's inkhorn by his side. ⁴ The LORD said to him, "Go through the middle of the city, through the middle of Jerusalem, and set a mark on the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry over all the abominations that are done within it."

⁵ To the others he said in my hearing, "Go through the city after him, and strike. Don't let your eye spare, neither have pity. ⁶ Kill utterly the old man, the young man, the virgin, little children and women; but don't come near any man on whom is the mark. Begin at my sanctuary."

Then they began at the old men who were before the house.

⁷ He said to them, "Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain. Go out!"

They went out, and struck in the city.

⁸ While they were killing, and I was left, I fell on my face, and cried, and said, "Ah Lord GOD! Will you destroy all the residue of Israel in your pouring out of your wrath on Jerusalem?"

⁹ Then he said to me, "The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceedingly great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of perversion; for they say, 'The LORD has forsaken the land, and the LORD doesn't see.'

¹⁰ As for me also, my eye won't spare, neither will I have pity, but I will bring their way on their head."

¹¹ Behold, the man clothed in linen, who had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, "I have done as you have commanded me."

He went in as I watched. ³ Now the cherubim stood on the right side of the house when the man went in; and the cloud filled the inner court. ⁴ The LORD's glory mounted up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD's glory. ⁵ The sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of God Almighty when he speaks.

⁶ It came to pass, when he commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, "Take fire from between the whirling wheels, from between the cherubim," that he went in and stood beside a wheel. ⁷ The cherub stretched out his hand from between the cherubim to the fire that was between the cherubim, and took some of it, and put it into the hands of him who was clothed in linen, who took it and went out. ⁸ The form of a man's hand appeared here in the cherubim under their wings.

⁹ I looked, and behold, there were four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub. The appearance of the wheels was like a beryl stone. ¹⁰ As for their appearance, the four of them had one likeness, like a wheel within a wheel. ¹¹ When they went, they went in their four directions. They didn't turn as they went, but to the place where the head looked they followed it. They didn't turn as they went. ¹² Their whole body, including their backs, their hands, their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes all around, even the wheels that the four of them had. ¹³ As for the wheels, they were called in my hearing, "the whirling wheels". ¹⁴ Every one of them had four faces. The first face was the face of the cherub. The second face was the face of a man. The third face was the face of a lion. The fourth was the face of an eagle.

¹⁵ The cherubim mounted up. This is the living creature that I saw by the river Chebar. ¹⁶ When the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them; and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels also didn't turn from beside them. ¹⁷ When they stood, these stood. When they mounted up, these mounted up with them; for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

²⁰ This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar; and I knew that they were cherubim. ²¹ Every one had four faces, and every one four wings. The likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings. ²² As for the likeness of their faces, they were the faces which I saw by the river Chebar, their appearances and themselves. They each went straight forward.

⁷ "Therefore the Lord GOD says: "Your slain whom you have laid in the middle of it, they are the meat, and this is the cauldron; but you will be brought out of the middle of it. ⁸ You have feared the sword; and I will bring the sword on you," says the Lord GOD. ⁹ "I will bring you out of the middle of it, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you. ¹⁰ You will fall by the sword. I will judge you in the border of Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD. ¹¹ This will not be your cauldron, neither will you be the meat in the middle of it. I will judge you in the border of Israel. ¹² You will know that I am the LORD, for you have not walked in my statutes. You have not executed my ordinances, but have done after the ordinances of the nations that are around you." ' "

¹³ When I prophesied, Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then I fell down on my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, "Ah Lord GOD! Will you make a full end of the remnant of Israel?"

¹⁴ The LORD's word came to me, saying, ¹⁵ "Son of man, your brothers, even your brothers, the men of your relatives, and all the house of Israel, all of them, are the ones to whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, 'Go far away from the LORD. This land has been given to us for a possession.'

¹⁶ "Therefore say, 'The Lord GOD says: "Whereas I have removed them far off among the nations, and whereas I have scattered them among the countries, yet I will be to them a sanctuary for a little while in the countries where they have come."'

¹⁷ "Therefore say, 'The Lord GOD says: "I will gather you from the peoples, and assemble you out of the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel."

¹⁸ " 'They will come there, and they will take away all its detestable things and all its abominations from there. ¹⁹ I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within them. I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh, ²⁰ that they may walk in my statutes, and keep my ordinances, and do them. They will be my people, and I will be their God. ²¹ But as for them whose heart walks after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, I will bring their way on their own heads,' says the Lord GOD."

²² Then the cherubim lifted up their wings, and the wheels were beside them. The glory of the God of Israel was over them above. ²³ The LORD's glory went up from the middle of the city, and stood on the mountain which is on the east side of the city. ²⁴ The Spirit lifted me up, and brought me in the vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea, to the captives.

So the vision that I had seen went up from me. ²⁵ Then I spoke to the captives all the things that the LORD had shown me.

¹ The LORD's word also came to me, saying, ² "Son of man, you dwell in the middle of the rebellious house, who have eyes to see, and don't see, who have ears to hear, and don't hear; for they are a rebellious house.

³ "Therefore, you son of man, prepare your baggage for moving, and move by day in their sight. You shall move from your place to another place in their sight. It may be they will consider, though they are a rebellious house. ⁴ You shall bring out your baggage by day in their sight, as baggage for moving. You shall go out yourself at evening in their sight, as when men go out into exile. ⁵ Dig through the wall in their sight, and carry your baggage out that way. ⁶ In their sight you shall bear it on your shoulder, and carry it out in the dark. You shall cover your face, so that you don't see the land, for I have set you for a sign to the house of Israel."

⁷ I did so as I was commanded. I brought out my baggage by day, as baggage for moving, and in the evening I dug through the wall with my hand. I brought it out in the dark, and bore it on my shoulder in their sight.

⁸ In the morning, the LORD's word came to me, saying, ⁹ "Son of man, hasn't the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said to you, 'What are you doing?'

¹⁰ "Say to them, 'The Lord GOD says: "This burden concerns the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel among whom they are."'

¹¹ "Say, 'I am your sign. As I have done, so will it be done to them. They will go into exile, into captivity.

¹² " 'The prince who is among them will bear his baggage on his shoulder in the dark, and will go out. They will dig through the wall to carry things out that way. He will cover his face, because he will not see the land with his eyes. ¹³ I will also spread my net on him, and he will be taken in my snare. I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans; yet he will not see it, though he will die there. ¹⁴ I will scatter toward every wind all who are around him to help him, and all his bands. I will draw out the sword after them.

¹⁵ “They will know that I am the LORD when I disperse them among the nations and scatter them through the countries. ¹⁶ But I will leave a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all their abominations among the nations where they come. Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

¹⁷ Moreover the LORD’s word came to me, saying, ¹⁸ “Son of man, eat your bread with quaking, and drink your water with trembling and with fearfulness. ¹⁹ Tell the people of the land, ‘The Lord GOD says concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem and the land of Israel: “They will eat their bread with fearfulness and drink their water in dismay, that her land may be desolate, and all that is therein, because of the violence of all those who dwell therein. ²⁰ The cities that are inhabited will be laid waste, and the land will be a desolation. Then you will know that I am the LORD.”’”

²¹ The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ²² “Son of man, what is this proverb that you have in the land of Israel, saying, ‘The days are prolonged, and every vision fails?’ ²³ Tell them therefore, ‘The Lord GOD says: “I will make this proverb to cease, and they will no more use it as a proverb in Israel;”’ but tell them, ‘“The days are at hand, and the fulfillment of every vision. ²⁴ For there will be no more any false vision nor flattering divination within the house of Israel. ²⁵ For I am the LORD. I will speak, and the word that I speak will be performed. It will be no more deferred; for in your days, rebellious house, I will speak the word and will perform it,” says the Lord GOD.’”

²⁶ Again the LORD’s word came to me, saying, ²⁷ “Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, ‘The vision that he sees is for many days to come, and he prophesies of times that are far off.’

²⁸ “Therefore tell them, ‘The Lord GOD says: “None of my words will be deferred any more, but the word which I speak will be performed,” says the Lord GOD.’”

¹ The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ² “Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel who prophesy, and say to those who prophesy out of their own heart, ‘Hear the LORD’s word: ³ The Lord GOD says, “Woe to the foolish prophets, who follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing! ⁴ Israel, your prophets have been like foxes in the waste places. ⁵ You have not gone up into the gaps or built up the wall for the house of Israel, to stand in the battle in the LORD’s day. ⁶ They have seen falsehood and lying divination, who say, ‘The LORD says;’ but the LORD has not sent them. They have made men to hope that the word would be confirmed. ⁷ Haven’t you seen a false vision, and haven’t you spoken a lying divination, in that you say, ‘The LORD says;’ but I have not spoken?”

⁸ “Therefore the Lord GOD says: “Because you have spoken falsehood and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you,” says the Lord GOD. ⁹ “My hand will be against the prophets who see false visions and who utter lying divinations. They will not be in the council of my people, neither will they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither will they enter into the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the Lord GOD.”

¹⁰ “ ‘Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, “Peace;” and there is no peace. When one builds up a wall, behold, they plaster it with whitewash. ¹¹ Tell those who plaster it with whitewash that it will fall. There will be an overflowing shower; and you, great hailstones, will fall. A stormy wind will tear it. ¹² Behold, when the wall has fallen, won’t it be said to you, “Where is the plaster with which you have plastered it?”’ ”

¹³ “ ‘Therefore the Lord GOD says: “I will even tear it with a stormy wind in my wrath. There will be an overflowing shower in my anger, and great hailstones in wrath to consume it. ¹⁴ So I will break down the wall that you have plastered with whitewash, and bring it down to the ground, so that its foundation will be uncovered. It will fall, and you will be consumed in the middle of it. Then you will know that I am the LORD. ¹⁵ Thus I will accomplish my wrath on the wall, and on those who have plastered it with whitewash. I will tell you, ‘The wall is no more, nor those who plastered it— ¹⁶ to wit, the prophets of Israel who prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and who see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace,’ ” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

²⁰ “Therefore the Lord GOD says: ‘Behold, I am against your magic bands, with which you hunt the souls to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms. I will let the souls fly free, even the souls whom you ensnare like birds. ²¹ I will also tear your veils and deliver my people out of your hand; and they will no longer be in your hand to be ensnared. Then you will know that I am the LORD. ²² Because with lies you have grieved the heart of the righteous, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, and be saved alive. ²³ Therefore you shall no more see false visions nor practice divination. I will deliver my people out of your hand. Then you will know that I am the LORD.’ ”

¹ Then some of the elders of Israel came to me and sat before me. ² The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ³ “Son of man, these men have taken their idols into their heart, and put the stumbling block of their iniquity before their face. Should I be inquired of at all by them? ⁴ Therefore speak to them and tell them, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Every man of the house of Israel who takes his idols into his heart and puts the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face then comes to the prophet, I the LORD will answer him there according to the multitude of his idols, ⁵ that I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols.”’ ”

⁷ “ “For everyone of the house of Israel, or of the strangers who live in Israel, who separates himself from me and takes his idols into his heart, and puts the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and comes to the prophet to inquire for himself of me, I the LORD will answer him by myself.

⁸ I will set my face against that man and will make him an astonishment, for a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from among my people. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

⁹ “ “If the prophet is deceived and speaks a word, I, the LORD, have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand on him, and will destroy him from among my people Israel. ¹⁰ They will bear their iniquity. The iniquity of the prophet will be even as the iniquity of him who seeks him, ¹¹ that the house of Israel may no more go astray from me, neither defile themselves any more with all their transgressions; but that they may be my people, and I may be their God,” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

¹⁵ “If I cause evil animals to pass through the land, and they ravage it and it is made desolate, so that no man may pass through because of the animals— ¹⁶ though these three men were in it, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “they would deliver neither sons nor daughters. They only would be delivered, but the land would be desolate.

¹⁷ “Or if I bring a sword on that land, and say, ‘Sword, go through the land, so that I cut off from it man and animal’— ¹⁸ though these three men were in it, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “they would deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only would be delivered themselves.

¹⁹ “Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my wrath on it in blood, to cut off from it man and animal— ²⁰ though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “they would deliver neither son nor daughter; they would deliver only their own souls by their righteousness.”

²¹ For the Lord GOD says: “How much more when I send my four severe judgments on Jerusalem—the sword, the famine, the evil animals, and the pestilence—to cut off from it man and animal! ²² Yet, behold, there will be left a remnant in it that will be carried out, both sons and daughters. Behold, they will come out to you, and you will see their way and their doings. Then you will be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought on Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought on it. ²³ They will comfort you, when you see their way and their doings; then you will know that I have not done all that I have done in it without cause,” says the Lord GOD.

¹ The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ² “Son of man, what is the vine tree more than any tree, the vine branch which is among the trees of the forest?

³ Will wood be taken of it to make anything? Will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel on it? ⁴ Behold, it is cast into the fire for fuel; the fire has devoured both its ends, and the middle of it is burned. Is it profitable for any work?⁵ Behold, when it was whole, it was suitable for no work. How much less, when the fire has devoured it, and it has been burned, will it yet be suitable for any work?"

⁶ Therefore the Lord GOD says: "As the vine wood among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so I will give the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ⁷ I will set my face against them. They will go out from the fire, but the fire will still devour them. Then you will know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them. ⁸ I will make the land desolate, because they have acted unfaithfully," says the Lord GOD.

⁶ " "When I passed by you, and saw you wallowing in your blood, I said to you, 'Though you are in your blood, live!' Yes, I said to you, 'Though you are in your blood, live!' ⁷ I caused you to multiply as that which grows in the field, and you increased and grew great, and you attained to excellent beauty. Your breasts were formed, and your hair grew; yet you were naked and bare.

⁸ " "Now when I passed by you, and looked at you, behold, your time was the time of love; and I spread my garment over you and covered your nakedness. Yes, I pledged myself to you and entered into a covenant with you," says the Lord GOD, "and you became mine.

⁹ " "Then I washed you with water. Yes, I thoroughly washed away your blood from you, and I anointed you with oil. ¹⁰ I clothed you also with embroidered work and put leather sandals on you. I dressed you with fine linen and covered you with silk. ¹¹ I decked you with ornaments, put bracelets on your hands, and put a chain on your neck. ¹² I put a ring on your nose, earrings in your ears, and a beautiful crown on your head. ¹³ Thus you were decked with gold and silver. Your clothing was of fine linen, silk, and embroidered work. You ate fine flour, honey, and oil. You were exceedingly beautiful, and you prospered to royal estate. ¹⁴ Your renown went out among the nations for your beauty; for it was perfect, through my majesty which I had put on you," says the Lord GOD.

¹⁵ " "But you trusted in your beauty, and played the prostitute because of your renown, and poured out your prostitution on everyone who passed by. It was his. ¹⁶ You took some of your garments, and made for yourselves high places decked with various colors, and played the prostitute on them. This shouldn't happen, neither shall it be. ¹⁷ You also took your beautiful jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given you, and made for yourself images of men, and played the prostitute with them. ¹⁸ You took your embroidered garments, covered them, and set my oil and my incense before them. ¹⁹ My bread also which I gave you, fine flour, oil, and honey, with which I fed you, you even set it before them for a pleasant aroma; and so it was," says the Lord GOD.

²⁰ " "Moreover you have taken your sons and your daughters, whom you have borne to me, and you have sacrificed these to them to be devoured. Was your prostitution a small matter, ²¹ that you have slain my children and delivered them up, in causing them to pass through the fire to them? ²² In all your abominations and your prostitution you have not remembered the days of your youth, when you were naked and bare, and were wallowing in your blood.

²³ " "It has happened after all your wickedness—woe, woe to you!" says the Lord GOD— ²⁴ "that you have built for yourselves a vaulted place, and have made yourselves a lofty place in every street. ²⁵ You have built your lofty place at the head of every way, and have made your beauty an abomination, and have opened your feet to everyone who passed by, and multiplied your prostitution. ²⁶ You have also committed sexual immorality with the Egyptians, your neighbors, great of flesh; and have multiplied your prostitution, to provoke me to anger. ²⁷ See therefore, I have stretched out my hand over you, and have diminished your portion, and delivered you to the will of those who hate you, the daughters of the Philistines, who are ashamed of your lewd way. ²⁸ You have played the prostitute also with the Assyrians, because you were insatiable; yes, you have played the prostitute with them, and yet you weren't satisfied. ²⁹ You have moreover multiplied your prostitution to the land of merchants, to Chaldea; and yet you weren't satisfied with this.

³² " "Adulterous wife, who takes strangers instead of her husband! ³³ People give gifts to all prostitutes; but you give your gifts to all your lovers, and bribe them, that they may come to you on every side for your prostitution. ³⁴ You are different from other women in your prostitution, in that no one follows you to play the prostitute; and whereas you give hire, and no hire is given to you, therefore you are different."

³⁵ "Therefore, prostitute, hear the LORD's word: ³⁶ 'The Lord GOD says, "Because your filthiness was poured out, and your nakedness uncovered through your prostitution with your lovers; and because of all the idols of your abominations, and for the blood of your children, that you gave to them; ³⁷ therefore see, I will gather all your lovers, with whom you have taken pleasure, and all those whom you have loved, with all those whom you have hated. I will even gather them against you on every side, and will uncover your nakedness to them, that they may see all your nakedness. ³⁸ I will judge you as women who break wedlock and shed blood are judged; and I will bring on you the blood of wrath and jealousy. ³⁹ I will also give you into their hand, and they will throw down your vaulted place, and break down your lofty places. They will strip you of your clothes and take your beautiful jewels. They will leave you naked and bare. ⁴⁰ They will also bring up a company against you, and they will stone you with stones, and thrust you through with their swords. ⁴¹ They will burn your houses with fire, and execute judgments on you in the sight of many women. I will cause you to cease from playing the prostitute, and you will also give no hire any more.⁴² So I will cause my wrath toward you to rest, and my jealousy will depart from you. I will be quiet, and will not be angry any more.

⁴³ “ ‘Because you have not remembered the days of your youth, but have raged against me in all these things; therefore, behold, I also will bring your way on your head,’ says the Lord GOD: “and you shall not commit this lewdness with all your abominations.

⁵⁹ “ ‘For the Lord GOD says: “I will also deal with you as you have done, who have despised the oath in breaking the covenant.⁶⁰ Nevertheless I will remember my covenant with you in the days of your youth, and I will establish an everlasting covenant with you.⁶¹ Then you will remember your ways and be ashamed when you receive your sisters, your elder sisters and your younger; and I will give them to you for daughters, but not by your covenant.⁶² I will establish my covenant with you. Then you will know that

I am the LORD; ⁶³ that you may remember, and be confounded, and never open your mouth any more because of your shame, when I have forgiven you all that you have done,” says the Lord GOD.”

⁵ “ “He also took some of the seed of the land and planted it in fruitful soil. He placed it beside many waters. He set it as a willow tree. ⁶ It grew and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and its roots were under him. So it became a vine, produced branches, and shot out sprigs.

⁷ “ “There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers. Behold, this vine bent its roots toward him, and shot out its branches toward him, from the ground where it was planted, that he might water it. ⁸ It was planted in a good soil by many waters, that it might produce branches and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a good vine.”

⁹ “Say, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Will it prosper? Won’t he pull up its roots and cut off its fruit, that it may wither, that all its fresh springing leaves may wither? It can’t be raised from its roots by a strong arm or many people. ¹⁰ Yes, behold, being planted, will it prosper? Won’t it utterly wither when the east wind touches it? It will wither in the ground where it grew.”

¹⁹ “Therefore the Lord GOD says: ‘As I live, I will surely bring on his own head my oath that he has despised and my covenant that he has broken. ²⁰ I will spread my net on him, and he will be taken in my snare. I will bring him to Babylon, and will enter into judgment with him there for his trespass that he has trespassed against me. ²¹ All his fugitives in all his bands will fall by the sword, and those who remain will be scattered toward every wind. Then you will know that I, the LORD, have spoken it.’

²² “The Lord GOD says: ‘I will also take some of the lofty top of the cedar, and will plant it. I will crop off from the topmost of its young twigs a tender one, and I will plant it on a high and lofty mountain. ²³ I will plant it in the mountain of the height of Israel; and it will produce boughs, and bear fruit, and be a good cedar. Birds of every kind will dwell in the shade of its branches. ²⁴ All the trees of the field will know that I, the LORD, have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree flourish.

¹ The LORD’s word came to me again, saying, ² “What do you mean, that you use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying,

‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes,
and the children’s teeth are set on edge’?

³ “As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “you shall not use this proverb any more in Israel. ⁴ Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine. The soul who sins, he shall die.

⁵ “But if a man is just,
and does that which is lawful and right,

⁶ and has not eaten on the mountains, hasn’t lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel,
hasn’t defiled his neighbor’s wife, hasn’t come near a woman in her impurity,

⁷ and has not wronged any,
but has restored to the debtor his pledge,
has taken nothing by robbery,
has given his bread to the hungry,
and has covered the naked with a garment;

⁸ he who hasn’t lent to them with interest, hasn’t taken any increase from them,
who has withdrawn his hand from iniquity,
has executed true justice between man and man,

⁹ has walked in my statutes, and has kept my ordinances,
to deal truly;

he is just,
he shall surely live,” says the Lord GOD.

¹⁰ “If he fathers a son who is a robber who sheds blood, and who does any one of these things, ¹¹ or who does not do any of those things but has eaten at the mountain shrines and defiled his neighbor’s wife,

¹² has wronged the poor and needy,
has taken by robbery,
has not restored the pledge,
and has lifted up his eyes to the idols,
has committed abomination,

¹³ has lent with interest, and has taken increase from the poor, shall he then live? He shall not live. He has done all these abominations. He shall surely die. His blood will be on him.

¹⁴ “Now, behold, if he fathers a son who sees all his father’s sins which he has done, and fears, and doesn’t do likewise,

¹⁵ who hasn’t eaten on the mountains, hasn’t lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hasn’t defiled his neighbor’s wife,

¹⁶ hasn’t wronged any, hasn’t taken anything to pledge, hasn’t taken by robbery, but has given his bread to the hungry, and has covered the naked with a garment;

¹⁷ who has withdrawn his hand from the poor, who hasn’t received interest or increase, has executed my ordinances, has walked in my statutes;

he shall not die for the iniquity of his father. He shall surely live. ¹⁸ As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, robbed his brother, and did that which is not good among his people, behold, he will die in his iniquity.

¹⁹ “Yet you say, ‘Why doesn’t the son bear the iniquity of the father?’ When the son has done that which is lawful and right, and has kept all my statutes, and has done them, he will surely live. ²⁰ The soul who sins, he shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father; neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be on him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be on him.

²¹ “But if the wicked turns from all his sins that he has committed, and keeps all my statutes, and does that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live. He shall not die. ²² None of his transgressions that he has committed will be remembered against him. In his righteousness that he has done, he shall live. ²³ Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked?” says the Lord GOD, “and not rather that he should return from his way, and live?”

²⁴ “But when the righteous turns away from his righteousness, and commits iniquity, and does according to all the abominations that the wicked man does, should he live? None of his righteous deeds that he has done will be remembered. In his trespass that he has transgressed, and in his sin that he has sinned, in them he shall die.

²⁵ “Yet you say, ‘The way of the Lord is not equal.’ Hear now, house of Israel: Is my way not equal? Aren’t your ways unequal? ²⁶ When the righteous man turns away from his righteousness, and commits iniquity, and dies in it, then he dies in his iniquity that he has done. ²⁷ Again, when the wicked man turns away from his wickedness that he has committed, and does that which is lawful and right, he will save his soul alive. ²⁸ Because he considers, and turns away from all his transgressions that he has committed, he shall surely live. He shall not die. ²⁹ Yet the house of Israel says, ‘The way of the Lord is not fair.’ House of Israel, aren’t my ways fair? Aren’t your ways unfair?

³⁰ “Therefore I will judge you, house of Israel, everyone according to his ways,” says the Lord GOD. “Return, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions, so iniquity will not be your ruin. ³¹ Cast away from you all your transgressions in which you have transgressed; and make yourself a new heart and a new spirit. For why will you die, house of Israel? ³² For

I have no pleasure in the death of him who dies,” says the Lord GOD.
“Therefore turn yourselves, and live!

¹ “Moreover, take up a lamentation for the princes of Israel, ² and say,
‘What was your mother?

A lioness.

She couched among lions,
in the middle of the young lions she nourished her cubs.

³ She brought up one of her cubs.

He became a young lion.

He learned to catch the prey.

He devoured men.

⁴ The nations also heard of him.

He was taken in their pit;

and they brought him with hooks to the land of Egypt.

⁵ “ ‘Now when she saw that she had waited,

and her hope was lost,

then she took another of her cubs,

and made him a young lion.

⁶ He went up and down among the lions.

He became a young lion.

He learned to catch the prey.

He devoured men.

⁷ He knew their palaces, and laid waste their cities.

The land was desolate with its fullness, because of the noise of his roaring.

⁸ Then the nations attacked him on every side from the provinces.

They spread their net over him.

He was taken in their pit.

⁹ They put him in a cage with hooks, and brought him to the king of Babylon.

They brought him into strongholds,

so that his voice should no more be heard on the mountains of Israel.

¹⁰ “ ‘Your mother was like a vine in your blood, planted by the waters.

It was fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters.

¹¹ It had strong branches for the scepters of those who ruled.

Their stature was exalted among the thick boughs.

They were seen in their height with the multitude of their branches.

¹² But it was plucked up in fury.

It was cast down to the ground, and the east wind dried up its fruit.

Its strong branches were broken off and withered.

The fire consumed them.

¹³ Now it is planted in the wilderness,

in a dry and thirsty land.

¹⁴ Fire has gone out of its branches.

It has devoured its fruit,

so that there is in it no strong branch to be a scepter to rule.’
This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.”

² The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ³ “Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel, and tell them, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Is it to inquire of me that you have come? As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will not be inquired of by you.”’

⁴ “Will you judge them, son of man? Will you judge them? Cause them to know the abominations of their fathers. ⁵ Tell them, ‘The Lord GOD says: “In the day when I chose Israel, and swore to the offspring of the house of Jacob, and made myself known to them in the land of Egypt, when I swore to them, saying, ‘I am the LORD your God;’ ⁶ in that day I swore to them to bring them out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had searched out for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands. ⁷ I said to them, ‘Each of you throw away the abominations of his eyes. Don’t defile yourselves with the idols of Egypt. I am the LORD your God.’

⁸ “ “But they rebelled against me and wouldn’t listen to me. They didn’t all throw away the abominations of their eyes. They also didn’t forsake the idols of Egypt. Then I said I would pour out my wrath on them, to accomplish my anger against them in the middle of the land of Egypt. ⁹ But I worked for my name’s sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations among which they were, in whose sight I made myself known to them in bringing them out of the land of Egypt. ¹⁰ So I caused them to go out of the land of Egypt and brought them into the wilderness. ¹¹ I gave them my statutes and showed them my ordinances, which if a man does, he will live in them. ¹² Moreover also I gave them my Sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD who sanctifies them.

¹³ “ “But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness. They didn’t walk in my statutes and they rejected my ordinances, which if a man keeps, he shall live in them. They greatly profaned my Sabbaths. Then I said I would pour out my wrath on them in the wilderness, to consume them. ¹⁴ But I worked for my name’s sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought them out. ¹⁵ Moreover also I swore to them in the wilderness that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands, ¹⁶ because they rejected my ordinances, and didn’t walk in my statutes, and profaned my Sabbaths; for their heart went after their idols. ¹⁷ Nevertheless my eye spared them, and I didn’t destroy them. I didn’t make a full end of them in the wilderness. ¹⁸ I said to their children in the wilderness, ‘Don’t walk in the statutes of your fathers. Don’t observe their ordinances or defile yourselves with their idols. ¹⁹ I am the LORD your God. Walk in my statutes, keep my ordinances, and do them. ²⁰ Make my Sabbaths holy. They shall be a sign between me and you, that you may know that I am the LORD your God.’

²¹ “ “But the children rebelled against me. They didn’t walk in my statutes, and didn’t keep my ordinances to do them, which if a man does, he shall live in them. They profaned my Sabbaths. Then I said I would pour out my wrath on them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness. ²² Nevertheless I withdrew my hand and worked for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought them out. ²³ Moreover I swore to them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the nations and disperse them through the countries, ²⁴ because they had not executed my ordinances, but had rejected my statutes, and had profaned my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers' idols. ²⁵ Moreover also I gave them statutes that were not good, and ordinances in which they couldn't live. ²⁶ I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused all that opens the womb to pass through the fire, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I am the LORD.”

²⁷ “Therefore, son of man, speak to the house of Israel, and tell them, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Moreover, in this your fathers have blasphemed me, in that they have committed a trespass against me. ²⁸ For when I had brought them into the land which I swore to give to them, then they saw every high hill and every thick tree, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering. There they also made their pleasant aroma, and there they poured out their drink offerings. ²⁹ Then I said to them, ‘What does the high place where you go mean?’ So its name is called Bamah* to this day.”’

³⁰ “Therefore tell the house of Israel, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Do you pollute yourselves in the way of your fathers? Do you play the prostitute after their abominations? ³¹ When you offer your gifts, when you make your sons pass through the fire, do you pollute yourselves with all your idols to this day? Should I be inquired of by you, house of Israel? As I live, says the Lord GOD, I will not be inquired of by you!

³² “ ‘That which comes into your mind will not be at all, in that you say, ‘We will be as the nations, as the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone.’ ³³ As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “surely with a mighty hand, with an outstretched arm, and with wrath poured out, I will be king over you. ³⁴ I will bring you out from the peoples, and will gather you out of the countries in which you are scattered with a mighty hand, with an outstretched arm, and with wrath poured out. ³⁵ I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there I will enter into judgment with you face to face. ³⁶ Just as I entered into judgment with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so I will enter into judgment with you,” says the Lord GOD. ³⁷ “I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant. ³⁸ I will purge out from among you the rebels and those who disobey me. I will bring them out of the land where they live, but they shall not enter into the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD.”

³⁹ “ ‘As for you, house of Israel, the Lord GOD says: “Go, everyone serve his idols, and hereafter also, if you will not listen to me; but you shall no more profane my holy name with your gifts and with your idols. ⁴⁰ For in my holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel,” says the Lord GOD, “there all the house of Israel, all of them, shall serve me in the land. There I will accept them, and there I will require your offerings and the first fruits of your offerings, with all your holy things. ⁴¹ I will accept you as a pleasant aroma when I bring you out from the peoples and gather you out of the countries in which you have been scattered. I will be sanctified in you in the sight of the nations. ⁴² You will know that I am the LORD when I bring you into the land of Israel, into the country which I swore to give to your fathers. ⁴³ There you will remember your ways, and all your deeds in which you have polluted yourselves. Then you will loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that you have committed. ⁴⁴ You will know that I am the LORD, when I have dealt with you for my name's sake, not according to your evil ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, you house of Israel," says the Lord GOD. " "

⁴⁵ The LORD's word came to me, saying, ⁴⁶ "Son of man, set your face toward the south, and preach toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the field in the south. ⁴⁷ Tell the forest of the south, 'Hear the LORD's word: The Lord GOD says, "Behold, I will kindle a fire in you, and it will devour every green tree in you, and every dry tree. The burning flame will not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north will be burned by it. ⁴⁸ All flesh will see that I, the LORD, have kindled it. It will not be quenched." ' "

⁶ "Therefore sigh, you son of man. You shall sigh before their eyes with a broken heart* and with bitterness. ⁷ It shall be, when they ask you, 'Why do you sigh?' that you shall say, 'Because of the news, for it comes! Every heart will melt, all hands will be feeble, every spirit will faint, and all knees will be weak as water. Behold, it comes, and it shall be done, says the Lord GOD.' " "

⁸ The LORD's word came to me, saying, ⁹ "Son of man, prophesy, and say, 'The LORD says:

"A sword! A sword!

It is sharpened,
and also polished.

¹⁰ It is sharpened that it may make a slaughter.

It is polished that it may be as lightning.

Should we then make mirth?

The rod of my son condemns every tree.

¹¹ It is given to be polished, that it may be handled.

The sword is sharpened.

Yes, it is polished

to give it into the hand of the killer." ' "

¹² Cry and wail, son of man;

* 21:6 literally, the breaking of your thighs

for it is on my people.
It is on all the princes of Israel.
They are delivered over to the sword with my people.
Therefore beat your thigh.

¹³ “For there is a trial. What if even the rod that condemns will be no more?” says the Lord GOD.

¹⁴ “You therefore, son of man, prophesy, and strike your hands together.

Let the sword be doubled the third time,
the sword of the fatally wounded.

It is the sword of the great one who is fatally wounded, which enters into their rooms.

¹⁵ I have set the threatening sword against all their gates, that their heart may melt,
and their stumblings be multiplied.

Ah! It is made as lightning.

It is pointed for slaughter.

¹⁶ Gather yourselves together.

Go to the right.

Set yourselves in array.

Go to the left,

wherever your face is set.

¹⁷ I will also strike my hands together, and I will cause my wrath to rest.
I, the LORD, have spoken it.”

¹⁸ The LORD’s word came to me again, saying, ¹⁹ “Also, you son of man, appoint two ways, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come. They both will come out of one land, and mark out a place. Mark it out at the head of the way to the city. ²⁰ You shall appoint a way for the sword to come to Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and to Judah in Jerusalem the fortified.

²⁴ “Therefore the Lord GOD says: ‘Because you have caused your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are uncovered, so that in all your doings your sins appear; because you have come to memory, you will be taken with the hand.

²⁵ “ ‘You, deadly wounded wicked one, the prince of Israel, whose day has come, in the time of the iniquity of the end, ²⁶ the Lord GOD says: “Remove the turban, and take off the crown. This will not be as it was. Exalt that which is low, and humble that which is high. ²⁷ I will overturn, overturn, overturn it. This also will be no more, until he comes whose right it is; and I will give it.” ’

[†] 21:21 teraphim were household idols that may have been associated with inheritance rights to the household property.

²⁸ “You, son of man, prophesy and say, ‘The Lord GOD says this concerning the children of Ammon, and concerning their reproach:

“A sword! A sword is drawn!

It is polished for the slaughter,
to cause it to devour,

that it may be as lightning;

²⁹ while they see for you false visions,

while they divine lies to you,

to lay you on the necks of the wicked who are deadly wounded, whose day has come in the time of the iniquity of the end.

³⁰ Cause it to return into its sheath.

In the place where you were created,

in the land of your birth, I will judge you.

³¹ I will pour out my indignation on you.

I will blow on you with the fire of my wrath.

I will deliver you into the hand of brutish men, skillful to destroy.

³² You will be for fuel to the fire.

Your blood will be in the middle of the land.

You will be remembered no more;

for I, the LORD, have spoken it.” ’ ’ ”

¹ Moreover the LORD’s word came to me, saying, ² “You, son of man, will you judge? Will you judge the bloody city? Then cause her to know all her abominations. ³ You shall say, ‘The Lord GOD says: “A city that sheds blood within herself, that her time may come, and that makes idols against herself to defile her! ⁴ You have become guilty in your blood that you have shed, and are defiled in your idols which you have made! You have caused your days to draw near, and have come to the end of your years. Therefore I have made you a reproach to the nations, and a mocking to all the countries. ⁵ Those who are near and those who are far from you will mock you, you infamous one, full of tumult.

⁶ “ ‘Behold, the princes of Israel, everyone according to his power, have been in you to shed blood. ⁷ In you have they treated father and mother with contempt.* Among you they have oppressed the foreigner. In you they have wronged the fatherless and the widow. ⁸ You have despised my holy things, and have profaned my Sabbaths. ⁹ Slanderous men have been in you to shed blood. In you they have eaten on the mountains. They have committed lewdness among you. ¹⁰ In you have they uncovered their fathers’ nakedness. In you have they humbled her who was unclean in her impurity. ¹¹ One has committed abomination with his neighbor’s wife, and another has lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law. Another in you has humbled his sister, his father’s daughter. ¹² In you have they taken bribes to shed blood. You have taken interest and increase, and you have greedily gained of your neighbors by oppression, and have forgotten me,” says the Lord GOD.

¹³ “ ‘Behold, therefore I have struck my hand at your dishonest gain which you have made, and at the blood which has been shed within you.

¹⁴ Can your heart endure, or can your hands be strong, in the days that I will deal with you? I, the LORD, have spoken it, and will do it. ¹⁵ I will scatter you among the nations, and disperse you through the countries. I will purge your filthiness out of you. ¹⁶ You will be profaned in yourself in the sight of the nations. Then you will know that I am the LORD.”’ ”

¹⁷ The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ¹⁸ “Son of man, the house of Israel has become dross to me. All of them are bronze, tin, iron, and lead in the middle of the furnace. They are the dross of silver. ¹⁹ Therefore the Lord GOD says: ‘Because you have all become dross, therefore, behold, I will gather you into the middle of Jerusalem. ²⁰ As they gather silver, bronze, iron, lead, and tin into the middle of the furnace, to blow the fire on it, to melt it, so I will gather you in my anger and in my wrath, and I will lay you there and melt you. ²¹ Yes, I will gather you, and blow on you with the fire of my wrath, and you will be melted in the middle of it. ²² As silver is melted in the middle of the furnace, so you will be melted in the middle of it; and you will know that I, the LORD, have poured out my wrath on you.’ ”

²³ The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ²⁴ “Son of man, tell her, ‘You are a land that is not cleansed nor rained on in the day of indignation.’ ²⁵ There is a conspiracy of her prophets within it, like a roaring lion ravening the prey. They have devoured souls. They take treasure and precious things. They have made many widows within it. ²⁶ Her priests have done violence to my law and have profaned my holy things. They have made no distinction between the holy and the common, neither have they caused men to discern between the unclean and the clean, and have hidden their eyes from my Sabbaths. So I am profaned among them. ²⁷ Her princes within it are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood and to destroy souls, that they may get dishonest gain. ²⁸ Her prophets have plastered for them with whitewash, seeing false visions, and divining lies to them, saying, ‘The Lord GOD says,’ when the LORD has not spoken. ²⁹ The people of the land have used oppression and exercised robbery. Yes, they have troubled the poor and needy, and have oppressed the foreigner wrongfully.

¹ The LORD’s word came again to me, saying, ² “Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother. ³ They played the prostitute in Egypt. They played the prostitute in their youth. Their breasts were fondled there, and their youthful nipples were caressed there. ⁴ Their names were Oholah the elder, and Oholibah her sister. They became mine, and they bore sons and daughters. As for their names, Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem Oholibah.

⁵ “Oholah played the prostitute when she was mine. She doted on her lovers, on the Assyrians her neighbors, ⁶ who were clothed with blue—governors and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding on horses. ⁷ She gave herself as a prostitute to them, all of them the choicest men of Assyria. She defiled herself with the idols of whomever she lusted after. ⁸ She hasn’t left her prostitution since leaving Egypt; for in her youth they lay with her. They caressed her youthful nipples and they poured out their prostitution on her.

¹¹ “Her sister Oholibah saw this, yet she was more corrupt in her lusting than she, and in her prostitution which was more depraved than the prostitution of her sister. ¹² She lusted after the Assyrians, governors and rulers—her neighbors, clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding on horses, all of them desirable young men. ¹³ I saw that she was defiled. They both went the same way.

²² “Therefore, Oholibah, the Lord GOD says: ‘Behold, I will raise up your lovers against you, from whom your soul is alienated, and I will bring them against you on every side: ²³ the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod, Shoa, Koa, and all the Assyrians with them; all of them desirable young men, governors and rulers, princes and men of renown, all of them riding on horses. ²⁴ They will come against you with weapons, chariots, and wagons, and with a company of peoples. They will set themselves against you with buckler, shield, and helmet all around. I will commit the judgment to them, and they will judge you according to their judgments. ²⁵ I will set my jealousy against you, and they will deal with you in fury. They will take away your nose and your ears. Your remnant will fall by the sword. They will take your sons and your daughters; and the rest of you will be devoured by the fire. ²⁶ They will also strip you of your clothes and take away your beautiful jewels. ²⁷ Thus I will make your lewdness to cease from you, and remove your prostitution from the land of Egypt, so that you will not lift up your eyes to them, nor remember Egypt any more.’

²⁸ “For the Lord GOD says: ‘Behold, I will deliver you into the hand of them whom you hate, into the hand of them from whom your soul is alienated. ²⁹ They will deal with you in hatred, and will take away all your labor, and will leave you naked and bare. The nakedness of your prostitution will be uncovered, both your lewdness and your prostitution. ³⁰ These things will be done to you because you have played the prostitute after the nations, and because you are polluted with their idols. ³¹ You have walked in the way of your sister; therefore I will give her cup into your hand.'

³² "The Lord GOD says:

'You will drink of your sister's cup,
which is deep and large.

You will be ridiculed and held in derision.
It contains much.

³³ You will be filled with drunkenness and sorrow,
with the cup of astonishment and desolation,
with the cup of your sister Samaria.

³⁴ You will even drink it and drain it out.
You will gnaw the broken pieces of it,
and will tear your breasts;

for I have spoken it,' says the Lord GOD.

³⁵ "Therefore the Lord GOD says: 'Because you have forgotten me and cast me behind your back, therefore you also bear your lewdness and your prostitution.' "

³⁶ The LORD said moreover to me: "Son of man, will you judge Oholah and Oholibah? Then declare to them their abominations. ³⁷ For they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands. They have committed adultery with their idols. They have also caused their sons, whom they bore to me, to pass through the fire to them to be devoured. ³⁸ Moreover this they have done to me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my Sabbaths. ³⁹ For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and behold, they have done this in the middle of my house.

⁴⁶ "For the Lord GOD says: 'I will bring up a mob against them, and will give them to be tossed back and forth and robbed. ⁴⁷ The company will stone them with stones and dispatch them with their swords. They will kill their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

⁴⁸ " "Thus I will cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to be lewd like you. ⁴⁹ They will recompense your lewdness on you, and you will bear the sins of your idols. Then you will know that I am the Lord GOD.' "

¹ Again, in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the LORD's word came to me, saying, ² "Son of man, write the name of the day, this same day. The king of Babylon drew close to Jerusalem this same day. ³ Utter a parable to the rebellious house, and tell them, 'The Lord GOD says,

"Put the cauldron on the fire.

Put it on,

and also pour water into it.

⁴ Gather its pieces into it,
even every good piece:
the thigh and the shoulder.
Fill it with the choice bones.

⁵ Take the choice of the flock, and also a pile of wood for the bones under the cauldron.
Make it boil well.

Yes, let its bones be boiled within it."

⁶ "Therefore the Lord GOD says:

"Woe to the bloody city,
to the cauldron whose rust is in it,
and whose rust hasn't gone out of it!

Take out of it piece after piece without casting lots for it.

⁷ " "For the blood she shed is in the middle of her.
She set it on the bare rock.
She didn't pour it on the ground,
to cover it with dust.

⁸ That it may cause wrath to come up to take vengeance,
I have set her blood on the bare rock,
that it should not be covered."

⁹ "Therefore the Lord GOD says:

"Woe to the bloody city!
I also will make the pile great.

¹⁰ Heap on the wood.

Make the fire hot.

Boil the meat well.

Make the broth thick,
and let the bones be burned.

¹¹ Then set it empty on its coals, that it may be hot,
and its bronze may burn,
and that its filthiness may be molten in it,
that its rust may be consumed.

¹² She is weary with toil;
yet her great rust,
rust by fire, doesn't leave her.

¹³ " "In your filthiness is lewdness. Because I have cleansed you and you weren't cleansed, you won't be cleansed from your filthiness any more, until I have caused my wrath toward you to rest.

¹⁴ " "I, the LORD, have spoken it. It will happen, and I will do it. I won't go back. I won't spare. I won't repent. According to your ways and according to your doings, they will judge you," says the Lord GOD.' "

¹⁵ Also the LORD's word came to me, saying, ¹⁶ "Son of man, behold, I will take away from you the desire of your eyes with one stroke; yet you shall neither mourn nor weep, neither shall your tears run down. ¹⁷ Sigh, but not aloud. Make no mourning for the dead. Bind your headress on you, and put your sandals on your feet. Don't cover your lips, and don't eat mourner's bread."

¹⁸ So I spoke to the people in the morning, and at evening my wife died. So I did in the morning as I was commanded.

²⁰ Then I said to them, "The LORD's word came to me, saying, ²¹ 'Speak to the house of Israel, "The Lord GOD says: 'Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the pride of your power, the desire of your eyes, and that which your soul pities; and your sons and your daughters whom you have left behind will fall by the sword. ²² You will do as I have done. You won't cover your lips or eat mourner's bread. ²³ Your turbans will be on your heads, and your sandals on your feet. You won't mourn or weep; but you will pine away in your iniquities, and moan one toward another. ²⁴ Thus Ezekiel will be a sign to you; according to all that he has done, you will do. When this comes, then you will know that I am the Lord GOD.' " " " "

²⁵ "You, son of man, shouldn't it be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that whereupon they set their heart—their sons and their daughters— ²⁶ that in that day he who escapes will come to you, to cause you to hear it with your ears? ²⁷ In that day your mouth will be opened to him who has escaped, and you will speak and be no more mute. So you will be a sign to them. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

¹ The LORD's word came to me, saying, ² "Son of man, set your face toward the children of Ammon, and prophesy against them. ³ Tell the children of Ammon, 'Hear the word of the Lord GOD! The Lord GOD says, "Because you said, 'Aha!' against my sanctuary when it was profaned, and against the land of Israel when it was made desolate, and against the house of Judah when they went into captivity, ⁴ therefore, behold, I will deliver you to the children of the east for a possession. They will set their encampments in you and make their dwellings in you. They will eat your fruit and they will drink your milk. ⁵ I will make Rabbah a stable for camels and the children of Ammon a resting place for flocks. Then you will know that I am the LORD." ⁶ For the Lord GOD says: "Because you have clapped your hands, stamped with the feet, and rejoiced with all the contempt of your soul against the land of Israel, ⁷ therefore, behold, I have stretched out my hand on you, and will deliver you for a plunder to the nations. I will cut you off from the peoples, and I will cause you to perish out of the countries. I will destroy you. Then you will know that I am the LORD."

possession, that the children of Ammon may not be remembered among the nations. ¹¹ I will execute judgments on Moab. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

¹² "The Lord GOD says: "Because Edom has dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and has greatly offended, and taken revenge on them," ¹³ therefore the Lord GOD says, "I will stretch out my hand on Edom, and will cut off man and animal from it; and I will make it desolate from Teman. They will fall by the sword even to Dedan. ¹⁴ I will lay my vengeance on Edom by the hand of my people Israel. They will do in Edom according to my anger and according to my wrath. Then they will know my vengeance," says the Lord GOD.

¹⁵ "The Lord GOD says: "Because the Philistines have taken revenge, and have taken vengeance with contempt of soul to destroy with perpetual hostility," ¹⁶ therefore the Lord GOD says, "Behold, I will stretch out my hand on the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites, and destroy the remnant of the sea coast. ¹⁷ I will execute great vengeance on them with wrathful rebukes. Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I lay my vengeance on them." "

¹ In the eleventh year, in the first of the month, the LORD's word came to me, saying, ² "Son of man, because Tyre has said against Jerusalem, 'Aha! She is broken! She who was the gateway of the peoples has been returned to me. I will be replenished, now that she is laid waste;' ³ therefore the Lord GOD says, 'Behold, I am against you, Tyre, and will cause many nations to come up against you, as the sea causes its waves to come up. ⁴ They will destroy the walls of Tyre, and break down her towers. I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her a bare rock. ⁵ She will be a place for the spreading of nets in the middle of the sea; for I have spoken it,' says the Lord GOD. 'She will become plunder for the nations. ⁶ Her daughters who are in the field will be slain with the sword. Then they will know that I am the LORD.'

⁷ "For the Lord GOD says: 'Behold, I will bring on Tyre Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, king of kings, from the north, with horses, with chariots, with horsemen, and an army with many people. ⁸ He will kill your daughters in the field with the sword. He will make forts against you, cast up a mound against you, and raise up the buckler against you. ⁹ He will set his battering engines against your walls, and with his axes he will break down your towers. ¹⁰ By reason of the abundance of his horses, their dust will cover you. Your walls will shake at the noise of the horsemen, of the wagons, and of the chariots, when he enters into your gates, as men enter into a city which is broken open. ¹¹ He will tread down all your streets with the hoofs of his horses. He will kill your people with the sword. The pillars of your strength will go down to the ground. ¹² They will make a plunder of your riches and make a prey of your merchandise. They will break down your walls and destroy your pleasant houses. They will lay your stones, your timber, and your dust in the middle of the waters. ¹³ I will cause the noise of your songs to cease. The sound of your harps won't be heard any more. ¹⁴ I will make you a bare rock. You will be a place for the spreading of nets. You will be built no more; for I the LORD have spoken it,' says the Lord GOD.

¹⁶ Then all the princes of the sea will come down from their thrones, and lay aside their robes, and strip off their embroidered garments. They will clothe themselves with trembling. They will sit on the ground, and will tremble every moment, and be astonished at you. ¹⁷ They will take up a lamentation over you, and tell you,

“How you are destroyed, who were inhabited by seafaring men,

the renowned city,

who was strong in the sea,
she and her inhabitants,

who caused their terror to be on all who lived there!”

¹⁸ Now the islands will tremble in the day of your fall.

Yes, the islands that are in the sea will be dismayed at your departure.’

¹⁹ “For the Lord GOD says: ‘When I make you a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited, when I bring up the deep on you, and the great waters cover you, ²⁰ then I will bring you down with those who descend into the pit, to the people of old time, and will make you dwell in the lower parts of the earth, in the places that are desolate of old, with those who go down to the pit, that you be not inhabited; and I will set glory in the land of the living. ²¹ I will make you a terror, and you will no more have any being. Though you are sought for, yet you will never be found again,’ says the Lord GOD.”

¹ The LORD’s word came again to me, saying, ² “You, son of man, take up a lamentation over Tyre; ³ and tell Tyre, ‘You who dwell at the entry of the sea, who are the merchant of the peoples to many islands, the Lord GOD says:

“You, Tyre, have said,

‘I am perfect in beauty.’

⁴ Your borders are in the heart of the seas.

Your builders have perfected your beauty.

⁵ They have made all your planks of cypress trees from Senir.

They have taken a cedar from Lebanon to make a mast for you.

⁶ They have made your oars of the oaks of Bashan.

They have made your benches of ivory inlaid in cypress wood from the islands of Kittim.

⁷ Your sail was of fine linen with embroidered work from Egypt, that it might be to you for a banner.

Blue and purple from the islands of Elishah was your awning.

⁸ The inhabitants of Sidon and Arvad were your rowers.

Your wise men, Tyre, were in you.

They were your pilots.

⁹ The old men of Gebal and its wise men were your repairers of ship seams in you.

All the ships of the sea with their mariners were in you to deal in your merchandise.

¹⁰ “ ‘Persia, Lud, and Put were in your army, your men of war.

They hung the shield and helmet in you.

They showed your beauty.

¹¹ The men of Arvad with your army were on your walls all around,
and valiant men were in your towers.
They hung their shields on your walls all around.

They have perfected your beauty.

¹² “ “Tarshish was your merchant by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches. They traded for your wares with silver, iron, tin, and lead.

¹³ “ “Javan, Tubal, and Meshech were your traders. They traded the persons of men and vessels of bronze for your merchandise.

¹⁴ “ “They of the house of Togarmah traded for your wares with horses, war horses, and mules.

¹⁵ “ “The men of Dedan traded with you. Many islands were the market of your hand. They brought you horns of ivory and ebony in exchange.

¹⁶ “ “Syria was your merchant by reason of the multitude of your handiworks. They traded for your wares with emeralds, purple, embroidered work, fine linen, coral, and rubies.

¹⁷ “ “Judah and the land of Israel were your traders. They traded wheat of Minnith, confections, honey, oil, and balm for your merchandise.

¹⁸ “ “Damascus was your merchant for the multitude of your handiworks by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches, with the wine of Helbon, and white wool.

¹⁹ “ “Vedan and Javan traded with yarn for your wares; wrought iron, cassia, and calamus were among your merchandise.

²⁰ “ “Dedan was your merchant in precious saddle blankets for riding.

²¹ “ “Arabia and all the princes of Kedar were your favorite dealers in lambs, rams, and goats. In these, they were your merchants.

²² “ “The traders of Sheba and Raamah were your traders. They traded for your wares with the best of all spices, all precious stones, and gold.

²³ “ “Haran, Canneh, Eden, the traders of Sheba, Asshur and Chilmad, were your traders. ²⁴ These were your traders in choice wares, in wrappings of blue and embroidered work, and in cedar chests of rich clothing bound with cords, among your merchandise.

²⁵ “ “The ships of Tarshish were your caravans for your merchandise.
You were replenished

and made very glorious in the heart of the seas.

²⁶ Your rowers have brought you into great waters.

The east wind has broken you in the heart of the seas.

²⁷ Your riches, your wares, your merchandise, your mariners, your pilots, your repairers of ship seams,
the dealers in your merchandise,

and all your men of war who are in you,
with all your company which is among you, will fall into the heart of the seas in the day of your ruin.

²⁸ At the sound of the cry of your pilots,
the pasture lands will shake.

²⁹ All who handle the oars,
the mariners and all the pilots of the sea,
will come down from their ships.

They will stand on the land,

³⁰ and will cause their voice to be heard over you,

and will cry bitterly.
 They will cast up dust on their heads.
 They will wallow in the ashes.
³¹ They will make themselves bald for you,
 and clothe themselves with sackcloth.
 They will weep for you in bitterness of soul,
 with bitter mourning.
³² In their wailing they will take up a lamentation for you,
 and lament over you, saying,
 ‘Who is there like Tyre, like her who is brought to silence in the middle of the sea?’
³³ When your wares came from the seas,
 you filled many peoples.
 You enriched the kings of the earth with the multitude of your riches and of your merchandise.
³⁴ In the time that you were broken by the seas,
 in the depths of the waters,
 your merchandise and all your company fell within you.
³⁵ All the inhabitants of the islands are astonished at you,
 and their kings are horribly afraid.
 They are troubled in their face.
³⁶ The merchants among the peoples hiss at you.
 You have come to a terrible end,
 and you will be no more.” ’ ’ ’

¹ The LORD’s word came again to me, saying, ² “Son of man, tell the prince of Tyre, ‘The Lord GOD says:
 “Because your heart is lifted up,
 and you have said, ‘I am a god,
 I sit in the seat of God,
 in the middle of the seas;’
 yet you are man,
 and no god,
 though you set your heart as the heart of a god—
³ behold, you are wiser than Daniel.
 There is no secret that is hidden from you.
⁴ By your wisdom and by your understanding you have gotten yourself riches,
 and have gotten gold and silver into your treasuries.
⁵ By your great wisdom and by your trading you have increased your riches, and your heart is lifted up because of your riches—”
⁶ “ therefore the Lord GOD says:
 “Because you have set your heart as the heart of God,
⁷ therefore, behold, I will bring strangers on you,
 the terrible of the nations.
 They will draw their swords against the beauty of your wisdom.
 They will defile your brightness.
⁸ They will bring you down to the pit.
 You will die the death of those who are slain

in the heart of the seas.

⁹ Will you yet say before him who kills you, 'I am God'?

But you are man, and not God,
in the hand of him who wounds you.

¹⁰ You will die the death of the uncircumcised
by the hand of strangers;
for I have spoken it," says the Lord GOD.' "

¹¹ Moreover the LORD's word came to me, saying, ¹² "Son of man, take up a lamentation over the king of Tyre, and tell him, 'The Lord GOD says:

"You were the seal of full measure,
full of wisdom,
and perfect in beauty.

¹³ You were in Eden,
the garden of God.

Every precious stone adorned you:
ruby, topaz, emerald,
chrysolite, onyx, jasper,
sapphire,* turquoise, and beryl.

Gold work of tambourines
and of pipes was in you.
They were prepared in the day that you were created.

¹⁴ You were the anointed cherub who covers.
Then I set you up on the holy mountain of God.
You have walked up and down in the middle of the stones of fire.

¹⁵ You were perfect in your ways from the day that you were created, until unrighteousness was found in you.

¹⁶ By the abundance of your commerce, your insides were filled with violence,
and you have sinned.

Therefore I have cast you as profane out of God's mountain.
I have destroyed you, covering cherub,
from the middle of the stones of fire.

¹⁷ Your heart was lifted up because of your beauty.
You have corrupted your wisdom by reason of your splendor.

I have cast you to the ground.
I have laid you before kings,
that they may see you.

¹⁸ By the multitude of your iniquities, in the unrighteousness of your commerce,
you have profaned your sanctuaries.

Therefore I have brought out a fire from the middle of you.
It has devoured you.

I have turned you to ashes on the earth
in the sight of all those who see you.

¹⁹ All those who know you among the peoples will be astonished at you.
You have become a terror, and you will exist no more." ' "

* 28:13 or, lapis lazuli

²⁰ The LORD's word came to me, saying, ²¹ "Son of man, set your face toward Sidon, and prophesy against it, ²² and say, 'The Lord GOD says: "Behold, I am against you, Sidon.

I will be glorified among you.

Then they will know that I am the LORD,
when I have executed judgments in her,
and am sanctified in her.

²³ For I will send pestilence into her,
and blood into her streets.

The wounded will fall within her,
with the sword on her on every side.
Then they will know that I am the LORD.

²⁴ " "There will no longer be a pricking brier to the house of Israel, nor a hurting thorn of any that are around them that scorned them. Then they will know that I am the Lord GOD."

²⁵ "The Lord GOD says: "When I have gathered the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and am shown as holy among them in the sight of the nations, then they will dwell in their own land which I gave to my servant Jacob. ²⁶ They will dwell in it securely. Yes, they will build houses, plant vineyards, and will dwell securely when I have executed judgments on all those around them who have treated them with contempt. Then they will know that I am the LORD their God." ' "

¹ In the tenth year, in the tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month, the LORD's word came to me, saying, ² "Son of man, set your face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him and against all Egypt.

³ Speak and say, 'The Lord GOD says:

"Behold, I am against you, Pharaoh king of Egypt,
the great monster that lies in the middle of his rivers,
that has said, 'My river is my own,
and I have made it for myself.'

⁴ I will put hooks in your jaws, and I will make the fish of your rivers stick to your scales.
I will bring you up out of the middle of your rivers, with all the fish of your rivers which stick to your scales.

⁵ I'll cast you out into the wilderness,
you and all the fish of your rivers.
You'll fall on the open field.

You won't be brought together or gathered.
I have given you for food to the animals of the earth and to the birds of the sky.

⁶ " "All the inhabitants of Egypt will know that I am the LORD, because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel. ⁷ When they took hold of you by your hand, you broke and tore all their shoulders. When they leaned on you, you broke and paralyzed all of their thighs."

⁸ "Therefore the Lord GOD says: "Behold, I will bring a sword on you, and will cut off man and animal from you. ⁹ The land of Egypt will be a desolation and a waste. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

" "Because he has said, 'The river is mine, and I have made it,' ¹⁰ therefore, behold, I am against you and against your rivers. I will make the land of Egypt an utter waste and desolation, from the tower of Seveneh even to the border of Ethiopia. ¹¹ No foot of man will pass through it, nor will any animal foot pass through it. It won't be inhabited for forty years. ¹² I will make the land of Egypt a desolation in the middle of the countries that are desolate. Her cities among the cities that are laid waste will be a desolation forty years. I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries."

¹³ "For the Lord GOD says: "At the end of forty years I will gather the Egyptians from the peoples where they were scattered. ¹⁴ I will reverse the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their birth. There they will be a lowly kingdom. ¹⁵ It will be the lowest of the kingdoms. It won't lift itself up above the nations any more. I will diminish them so that they will no longer rule over the nations. ¹⁶ It will no longer be the confidence of the house of Israel, bringing iniquity to memory, when they turn to look after them. Then they will know that I am the Lord GOD." "

¹⁷ It came to pass in the twenty-seventh year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the LORD's word came to me, saying, ¹⁸ "Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyre. Every head was made bald, and every shoulder was worn; yet he had no wages, nor did his army, from Tyre, for the service that he had served against it. ¹⁹ Therefore the Lord GOD says: 'Behold, I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. He will carry off her multitude, take her plunder, and take her prey. That will be the wages for his army. ²⁰ I have given him the land of Egypt as his payment for which he served, because they worked for me,' says the Lord GOD.

²¹ "In that day I will cause a horn to sprout for the house of Israel, and I will open your mouth among them. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

¹ The LORD's word came again to me, saying, ² "Son of man, prophesy, and say, 'The Lord GOD says:

"Wail, 'Alas for the day!'

³ For the day is near,
even the LORD's day is near.

It will be a day of clouds,
a time of the nations.

⁴ A sword will come on Egypt, and anguish will be in Ethiopia,
when the slain fall in Egypt.

They take away her multitude,
and her foundations are broken down.

⁵ " "Ethiopia, Put, Lud, all the mixed people, Cub, and the children of the land that is allied with them, will fall with them by the sword."

⁶ "The LORD says:

"They also who uphold Egypt will fall.

The pride of her power will come down.

They will fall by the sword in it from the tower of Seveneh,"
says the Lord GOD.

7 “They will be desolate in the middle of the countries that are desolate.
Her cities will be among the cities that are wasted.

8 They will know that I am the LORD
when I have set a fire in Egypt, and all her helpers are destroyed.

9 “ “In that day messengers will go out from before me in ships to make the careless Ethiopians afraid. There will be anguish on them, as in the day of Egypt; for, behold, it comes.”

10 “ The Lord GOD says:
“I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease,
by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon.

11 He and his people with him,
the terrible of the nations,
will be brought in to destroy the land.
They will draw their swords against Egypt,
and fill the land with the slain.

12 I will make the rivers dry, and will sell the land into the hand of evil men.
I will make the land desolate,
and all that is therein,
by the hand of foreigners.
I, the LORD, have spoken it.”

13 “ The Lord GOD says:
“I will also destroy the idols,
and I will cause the images to cease from Memphis.
There will be no more a prince from the land of Egypt.
I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.

14 I will make Pathros desolate, and will set a fire in Zoan,
and will execute judgments on No.

15 I will pour my wrath on Sin,
the stronghold of Egypt.
I will cut off the multitude of No.

16 I will set a fire in Egypt
Sin will be in great anguish.
No will be broken up.

Memphis will have adversaries in the daytime.
17 The young men of Aven and of Pibeseth will fall by the sword.
They will go into captivity.

18 At Tehaphnehes also the day will withdraw itself, when I break the yokes of Egypt there.
The pride of her power will cease in her.

As for her, a cloud will cover her,
and her daughters will go into captivity.

19 Thus I will execute judgments on Egypt.
Then they will know that I am the LORD.” ’ ’ ”

20 In the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, the LORD's word came to me, saying, ²¹ “Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt. Behold, it has not been bound up, to apply medicines, to put a bandage to bind it, that it may become strong to hold the sword. ²²Therefore the Lord GOD says: 'Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong arm, and that which was broken. I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand. ²³I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. ²⁴I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand; but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he will groan before the king of Babylon with the groaning of a mortally wounded man. ²⁵I will hold up the arms of the king of Babylon, but the arms of Pharaoh will fall down. Then they will know that I am the LORD when I put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he stretches it out on the land of Egypt. ²⁶I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them through the countries. Then they will know that I am the LORD.'

¹In the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, the LORD's word came to me, saying, ²"Son of man, tell Pharaoh king of Egypt and his multitude:

'Whom are you like in your greatness?

³Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with beautiful branches, and with a forest-like shade,
of high stature;
and its top was among the thick boughs.

⁴The waters nourished it.

The deep made it to grow.
Its rivers ran all around its plantation.

It sent out its channels to all the trees of the field.

⁵Therefore its stature was exalted above all the trees of the field;
and its boughs were multiplied.

Its branches became long by reason of many waters,
when it spread them out.

⁶All the birds of the sky made their nests in its boughs.
Under its branches, all the animals of the field gave birth to their young.
All great nations lived under its shadow.

⁷Thus it was beautiful in its greatness,
in the length of its branches;
for its root was by many waters.

⁸The cedars in the garden of God could not hide it.
The cypress trees were not like its branches.

The pine trees were not like its branches;
nor was any tree in the garden of God like it in its beauty.

⁹I made it beautiful by the multitude of its branches,
so that all the trees of Eden,
that were in the garden of God, envied it.'

¹⁰"Therefore thus said the Lord GOD: 'Because he is exalted in stature, and he has set his top among the thick branches, and his heart is lifted up in his height, ¹¹I will deliver him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations. He will surely deal with him. I have driven him out for his wickedness.

¹²Foreigners, the tyrants of the nations, have cut him off and have left him. His branches have fallen on the mountains and in all the valleys, and his boughs are broken by all the watercourses of the land. All the peoples of the earth have gone down from his shadow and have left him. ¹³ All the birds of the sky will dwell on his ruin, and all the animals of the field will be on his branches, ¹⁴ to the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, and don't set their top among the thick boughs. Their mighty ones don't stand up on their height, even all who drink water; for they are all delivered to death, to the lower parts of the earth, among the children of men, with those who go down to the pit.'

¹⁵ "The Lord GOD says: 'In the day when he went down to Sheol,* I caused a mourning. I covered the deep for him, and I restrained its rivers. The great waters were stopped. I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him. ¹⁶ I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to Sheol† with those who descend into the pit. All the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, were comforted in the lower parts of the earth. ¹⁷ They also went down into Sheol with him to those who are slain by the sword; yes, those who were his arm, who lived under his shadow in the middle of the nations.

¹⁸ " 'To whom are you thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? Yet you will be brought down with the trees of Eden to the lower parts of the earth. You will lie in the middle of the uncircumcised, with those who are slain by the sword.

" 'This is Pharaoh and all his multitude,' says the Lord GOD."

¹ In the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, "the LORD's word came to me, saying, ² 'Son of man, take up a lamentation over Pharaoh king of Egypt, and tell him, "You were likened to a young lion of the nations; yet you are as a monster in the seas.

You broke out with your rivers, and troubled the waters with your feet,
and fouled their rivers."

³ The Lord GOD says:

"I will spread out my net on you with a company of many peoples.
They will bring you up in my net.

⁴ I will leave you on the land.

I will cast you out on the open field,
and will cause all the birds of the sky to settle on you.
I will satisfy the animals of the whole earth with you.

⁵ I will lay your flesh on the mountains, and fill the valleys with your height.

⁶ I will also water the land in which you swim with your blood, even to the mountains.
The watercourses will be full of you.

⁷ When I extinguish you, I will cover the heavens and make its stars dark.

I will cover the sun with a cloud,
and the moon won't give its light.

⁸ I will make all the bright lights of the sky dark over you, and set darkness on your land," says the Lord GOD.

* 31:15 Sheol is the place of the dead. † 31:16 Sheol is the place of the dead.

⁹ “I will also trouble the hearts of many peoples, when I bring your destruction among the nations,
into the countries which you have not known.

¹⁰ Yes, I will make many peoples amazed at you,
and their kings will be horribly afraid for you,
when I brandish my sword before them.

They will tremble at every moment,
every man for his own life,
in the day of your fall.”

¹¹ For the Lord GOD says:

“The sword of the king of Babylon will come on you.

¹² I will cause your multitude to fall by the swords of the mighty.
They are all the ruthless of the nations.

They will bring the pride of Egypt to nothing, and all its multitude will be destroyed.

¹³ I will destroy also all its animals from beside many waters.

The foot of man won't trouble them any more,
nor will the hoofs of animals trouble them.

¹⁴ Then I will make their waters clear, and cause their rivers to run like oil,”
says the Lord GOD.

¹⁵ “When I make the land of Egypt desolate and waste, a land destitute of that of which it was full,
when I strike all those who dwell therein,
then they will know that I am the LORD.

¹⁶ “ “This is the lamentation with which they will lament. The daughters of the nations will lament with this. They will lament with it over Egypt, and over all her multitude,” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

¹⁷ Also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, the LORD's word came to me, saying, ¹⁸ “Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her and the daughters of the famous nations, to the lower parts of the earth, with those who go down into the pit. ¹⁹ Whom do you pass in beauty? Go down, and be laid with the uncircumcised. ²⁰ They will fall among those who are slain by the sword. She is delivered to the sword. Draw her away with all her multitudes. ²¹ The strong among the mighty will speak to him out of the middle of Sheol* with those who help him. They have gone down. The uncircumcised lie still, slain by the sword.

²² “Asshur is there with all her company. Her graves are all around her.
All of them are slain, fallen by the sword, ²³ whose graves are set in the uttermost parts of the pit, and her company is around her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who caused terror in the land of the living.

²⁴ “There is Elam and all her multitude around her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who have gone down uncircumcised into the lower parts of the earth, who caused their terror in the land of the living, and have borne their shame with those who go down to the pit. ²⁵ They have made Elam a bed among the slain with all her multitude. Her graves are around her, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for their terror

* 32:21 Sheol is the place of the dead.

was caused in the land of the living, and they have borne their shame with those who go down to the pit. He is put among those who are slain.

²⁶ “There is Meshech, Tubal, and all their multitude. Their graves are around them, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for they caused their terror in the land of the living. ²⁷ They will not lie with the mighty who are fallen of the uncircumcised, who have gone down to Sheol with their weapons of war and have laid their swords under their heads. Their iniquities are on their bones; for they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.

²⁸ “But you will be broken among the uncircumcised, and will lie with those who are slain by the sword.

³⁰ “There are the princes of the north, all of them, and all the Sidonians, who have gone down with the slain. They are put to shame in the terror which they caused by their might. They lie uncircumcised with those who are slain by the sword, and bear their shame with those who go down to the pit.

³¹ “Pharaoh will see them and will be comforted over all his multitude, even Pharaoh and all his army, slain by the sword,” says the Lord GOD.

³² “For I have put his terror in the land of the living. He will be laid among the uncircumcised, with those who are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude,” says the Lord GOD.

¹ The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ² “Son of man, speak to the children of your people, and tell them, ‘When I bring the sword on a land, and the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their watchman, ³ if, when he sees the sword come on the land, he blows the trumpet and warns the people, ⁴ then whoever hears the sound of the trumpet and doesn’t heed the warning, if the sword comes and takes him away, his blood will be on his own head. ⁵ He heard the sound of the trumpet and didn’t take warning. His blood will be on him; whereas if he had heeded the warning, he would have delivered his soul. ⁶ But if the watchman sees the sword come and doesn’t blow the trumpet, and the people aren’t warned, and the sword comes and takes any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood I will require at the watchman’s hand.’

⁷ “So you, son of man, I have set you a watchman to the house of Israel. Therefore hear the word from my mouth, and give them warnings from me. ⁸ When I tell the wicked, ‘O wicked man, you will surely die,’ and you don’t speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man will die in his iniquity, but I will require his blood at your hand. ⁹ Nevertheless, if you warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, and he doesn’t turn from his way; he will die in his iniquity, but you have delivered your soul.

¹⁰ “You, son of man, tell the house of Israel: ‘You say this, “Our transgressions and our sins are on us, and we pine away in them. How then can we live?”’ ¹¹ Tell them, ‘ “As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live. Turn, turn from your evil ways! For why will you die, house of Israel?”’

¹² “You, son of man, tell the children of your people, ‘The righteousness of the righteous will not deliver him in the day of his disobedience. And as for the wickedness of the wicked, he will not fall by it in the day that he turns from his wickedness; neither will he who is righteous be able to live by it in the day that he sins. ¹³ When I tell the righteous that he will surely live, if he trusts in his righteousness and commits iniquity, none of his righteous deeds will be remembered; but he will die in his iniquity that he has committed. ¹⁴ Again, when I say to the wicked, ‘You will surely die,’ if he turns from his sin and does that which is lawful and right, ¹⁵ if the wicked restore the pledge, give again that which he had taken by robbery, walk in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity, he will surely live. He will not die. ¹⁶ None of his sins that he has committed will be remembered against him. He has done that which is lawful and right. He will surely live.

²¹ In the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, one who had escaped out of Jerusalem came to me, saying, “The city has been defeated!” ²² Now the LORD’s hand had been on me in the evening, before he who had escaped came; and he had opened my mouth until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no longer mute.

²³ The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ²⁴ “Son of man, those who inhabit the waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, ‘Abraham was one, and he inherited the land; but we are many. The land is given us for inheritance.’ ²⁵ Therefore tell them, ‘The Lord GOD says: “You eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes to your idols, and shed blood. So should you possess the land? ²⁶ You stand on your sword, you work abomination, and every one of you defiles his neighbor’s wife. So should you possess the land?”’ ”

²⁷ “You shall tell them, ‘The Lord GOD says: “As I live, surely those who are in the waste places will fall by the sword. I will give whoever is in the open field to the animals to be devoured, and those who are in the strongholds and in the caves will die of the pestilence. ²⁸ I will make the land a desolation and an astonishment. The pride of her power will cease. The mountains of Israel will be desolate, so that no one will pass through. ²⁹ Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment because of all their abominations which they have committed.’ ”

³⁰ “As for you, son of man, the children of your people talk about you by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak to one another, everyone to his brother, saying, ‘Please come and hear what the word is that comes out from the LORD.’ ³¹ They come to you as the people come, and they sit before you as my people, and they hear your words, but don’t do them; for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goes after their gain. ³² Behold, you are to them as a very lovely song of one who has a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument; for they hear your words, but they don’t do them.

33 “When this comes to pass—behold, it comes—then they will know that a prophet has been among them.”

¹¹ “For the Lord GOD says: ‘Behold, I myself, even I, will search for my sheep, and will seek them out. ¹² As a shepherd seeks out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered abroad, so I will seek out my sheep. I will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. ¹³ I will bring them out from the peoples, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land. I will feed them on the mountains of Israel, by the watercourses, and in all the inhabited places of the country. ¹⁴ I will feed them with good pasture, and their fold will be on the mountains of the height of Israel. There they will lie down in a good fold. They will feed on rich pasture on the mountains of Israel. ¹⁵ I myself will be the shepherd of my sheep, and I will cause them to lie down,” says the Lord GOD. ¹⁶ “I will seek that which was lost, and will bring back that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick; but I will destroy the fat and the strong. I will feed them in justice.”’

¹⁷ “As for you, O my flock, the Lord GOD says: ‘Behold, I judge between sheep and sheep, the rams and the male goats. ¹⁸ Does it seem a small thing to you to have fed on the good pasture, but you must tread down with your feet the residue of your pasture? And to have drunk of the clear waters, but must you foul the residue with your feet? ¹⁹ As for my sheep, they eat that which you have trodden with your feet, and they drink that which you have fouled with your feet.’

and with shoulder, and push all the diseased with your horns, until you have scattered them abroad, ²² therefore I will save my flock, and they will no more be a prey. I will judge between sheep and sheep. ²³ I will set up one shepherd over them, and he will feed them, even my servant David. He will feed them, and he will be their shepherd. ²⁴ I, the LORD, will be their God, and my servant David prince among them. I, the LORD, have spoken it.

²⁵ “I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause evil animals to cease out of the land. They will dwell securely in the wilderness and sleep in the woods. ²⁶ I will make them and the places around my hill a blessing. I will cause the shower to come down in its season. There will be showers of blessing. ²⁷ The tree of the field will yield its fruit, and the earth will yield its increase, and they will be secure in their land. Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bars of their yoke, and have delivered them out of the hand of those who made slaves of them. ²⁸ They will no more be a prey to the nations, neither will the animals of the earth devour them; but they will dwell securely, and no one will make them afraid. ²⁹ I will raise up to them a plantation for renown, and they will no more be consumed with famine in the land, and not bear the shame of the nations any more. ³⁰ They will know that I, the LORD, their God am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, says the Lord GOD. ³¹ You my sheep, the sheep of my pasture, are men, and I am your God,’ says the Lord GOD.”

¹ Moreover the LORD’s word came to me, saying, ² “Son of man, set your face against Mount Seir, and prophesy against it, ³ and tell it, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Behold, I am against you, Mount Seir, and I will stretch out my hand against you. I will make you a desolation and an astonishment. ⁴ I will lay your cities waste, and you will be desolate. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

⁵ “ “Because you have had a perpetual hostility, and have given over the children of Israel to the power of the sword in the time of their calamity, in the time of the iniquity of the end, ⁶ therefore, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will prepare you for blood, and blood will pursue you. Since you have not hated blood, therefore blood will pursue you. ⁷ Thus I will make Mount Seir an astonishment and a desolation. I will cut off from it him who passes through and him who returns. ⁸ I will fill its mountains with its slain. The slain with the sword will fall in your hills and in your valleys and in all your watercourses. ⁹ I will make you a perpetual desolation, and your cities will not be inhabited. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

¹⁰ “ “Because you have said, ‘These two nations and these two countries will be mine, and we will possess it,’ although the LORD was there, ¹¹ therefore, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will do according to your anger, and according to your envy which you have shown out of your hatred against them; and I will make myself known among them when I judge you. ¹² You will know that I, the LORD, have heard all your insults which you have spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, ‘They have been laid desolate. They have been given to us to devour.’ ¹³ You have magnified yourselves against me with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against me. I have heard it.” ¹⁴ The Lord GOD says: “When the whole earth rejoices, I will make you desolate. ¹⁵ As you rejoiced over the inheritance of the house of Israel because it was desolate, so I will do to you. You will be desolate, Mount Seir, and all Edom, even all of it. Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

¹ You, son of man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel, and say, “You mountains of Israel, hear the LORD’s word. ² The Lord GOD says: ‘Because the enemy has said against you, “Aha!” and, “The ancient high places are ours in possession!”’ ³ therefore prophesy, and say, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Because, even because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that you might be a possession to the residue of the nations, and you are taken up in the lips of talkers, and the evil report of the people;” ⁴ therefore, you mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD: The Lord GOD says to the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which have become a prey and derision to the residue of the nations that are all around; ⁵ therefore the Lord GOD says: “Surely in the fire of my jealousy I have spoken against the residue of the nations, and against all Edom, that have appointed my land to themselves for a possession with the joy of all their heart, with despite of soul, to cast it out for a prey.”’ ⁶ Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and tell the mountains, the hills, the watercourses and the valleys, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my wrath, because you have borne the shame of the nations.”’ ⁷ Therefore the Lord GOD says: “I have sworn, ‘Surely the nations that are around you will bear their shame.’”

¹³ “ ‘The Lord GOD says: “Because they say to you, ‘You are a devourer of men, and have been a bereaver of your nation;’” ¹⁴ therefore you shall devour men no more, and not bereave your nation any more,” says the Lord GOD. ¹⁵ “I won’t let you hear the shame of the nations any more. You won’t bear the reproach of the peoples any more, and you won’t cause your nation to stumble any more,” says the Lord GOD.”

¹⁶ Moreover the LORD’s word came to me, saying, ¹⁷ “Son of man, when the house of Israel lived in their own land, they defiled it by their ways and by their deeds. Their way before me was as the uncleanness of a woman in her impurity. ¹⁸ Therefore I poured out my wrath on them for the blood which they had poured out on the land, and because they had defiled it with their idols. ¹⁹ I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries. I judged them according to their way and according to their deeds. ²⁰ When they came to the nations where they went, they profaned my holy name, in that men said of them, ‘These are the LORD’s people, and have left his land.’ ²¹ But I had respect for my holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations where they went.

²² “Therefore tell the house of Israel, ‘The Lord GOD says: “I don’t do this for your sake, house of Israel, but for my holy name, which you have profaned among the nations where you went. ²³ I will sanctify my great name, which has been profaned among the nations, which you have profaned among them. Then the nations will know that I am the LORD,” says the Lord GOD, “when I am proven holy in you before their eyes.

²⁴ “ “For I will take you from among the nations and gather you out of all the countries, and will bring you into your own land. ²⁵ I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you will be clean. I will cleanse you from all your filthiness and from all your idols. ²⁶ I will also give you a new heart, and I will put a new spirit within you. I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh. ²⁷ I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes. You will keep my ordinances and do them. ²⁸ You will dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers. You will be my people, and I will be your God. ²⁹ I will save you from all your uncleanness. I will call for the grain and will multiply it, and lay no famine on you. ³⁰ I will multiply the fruit of the tree and the increase of the field, that you may receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations.

³¹ “ “Then you will remember your evil ways, and your deeds that were not good; and you will loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. ³² I don’t do this for your sake,” says the Lord GOD. “Let it be known to you. Be ashamed and confounded for your ways, house of Israel.”

³³ “The Lord GOD says: “In the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will cause the cities to be inhabited and the waste places will be built. ³⁴ The land that was desolate will be tilled instead of being a desolation in the sight of all who passed by. ³⁵ They will say, ‘This land that was desolate has become like the garden of Eden. The waste, desolate, and ruined cities are fortified and inhabited.’ ³⁶ Then the nations that are left around you will know that I, the LORD, have built the ruined places and planted that which was desolate. I, the LORD, have spoken it, and I will do it.”

³⁷ “The Lord GOD says: “For this, moreover, I will be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them: I will increase them with men like a flock. ³⁸ As the flock for sacrifice, as the flock of Jerusalem in her appointed feasts, so the waste cities will be filled with flocks of men. Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

¹ The LORD’s hand was on me, and he brought me out in the LORD’s Spirit, and set me down in the middle of the valley; and it was full of bones. ² He caused me to pass by them all around; and behold, there were very many in the open valley, and behold, they were very dry. ³ He said to me, “Son of man, can these bones live?”

I answered, “Lord GOD, you know.”

⁴ Again he said to me, “Prophecy over these bones, and tell them, ‘You dry bones, hear the LORD’s word. ⁵ The Lord GOD says to these bones: “Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and you will live. ⁶ I will lay sinews on you, and will bring up flesh on you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and you will live. Then you will know that I am the LORD.” ’ ’

⁷ So I prophesied as I was commanded. As I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold, there was an earthquake. Then the bones came together, bone to its bone. ⁸ I saw, and, behold, there were sinews on them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them above; but there was no breath in them.

⁹ Then he said to me, “Prophesy to the wind, prophesy, son of man, and tell the wind, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Come from the four winds, breath, and breathe on these slain, that they may live.” ’ ”

¹⁰ So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up on their feet, an exceedingly great army.

¹¹ Then he said to me, “Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, ‘Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost. We are completely cut off.’ ¹² Therefore prophesy, and tell them, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Behold, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, my people; and I will bring you into the land of Israel. ¹³ You will know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves and caused you to come up out of your graves, my people. ¹⁴ I will put my Spirit in you, and you will live. Then I will place you in your own land; and you will know that I, the LORD, have spoken it and performed it,” says the LORD.’ ”

¹⁸ “When the children of your people speak to you, saying, ‘Won’t you show us what you mean by these?’ ¹⁹ tell them, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his companions; and I will put them with it, with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they will be one in my hand. ²⁰ The sticks on which you write will be in your hand before their eyes.” ’ ²¹ Say to them, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations where they have gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land. ²² I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel. One king will be king to them all. They will no longer be two nations. They won’t be divided into two kingdoms any more at all. ²³ They won’t defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions; but I will save them out of all their dwelling places in which they have sinned, and will cleanse them. So they will be my people, and I will be their God.

²⁴ “ ‘ “My servant David will be king over them. They all will have one shepherd. They will also walk in my ordinances and observe my statutes, and do them. ²⁵ They will dwell in the land that I have given to Jacob my servant, in which your fathers lived. They will dwell therein, they, and their children, and their children’s children, forever. David my servant will be their prince forever. ²⁶ Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them. It will be an everlasting covenant with them. I will place them, multiply them, and will set my sanctuary among them forever more. ²⁷ My tent also will be with them. I will be their God, and they will be my people.

²⁸ The nations will know that I am the LORD who sanctifies Israel, when my sanctuary is among them forever more.” ’ ’ ”

¹⁰ “The Lord GOD says: “It will happen in that day that things will come into your mind, and you will devise an evil plan. ¹¹ You will say, ‘I will go up to the land of unwallled villages. I will go to those who are at rest, who dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates, ¹² to take the plunder and to take prey; to turn your hand against the waste places that are inhabited, and against the people who are gathered out of the nations, who have gotten livestock and goods, who dwell in the middle of the earth.’ ¹³ Sheba, Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all its young lions, will ask you, ‘Have you come to take the plunder? Have you assembled your company to take the prey, to carry away silver and gold, to take away livestock and goods, to take great plunder?’ ” ’

¹⁴ “Therefore, son of man, prophesy, and tell Gog, ‘The Lord GOD says: “In that day when my people Israel dwells securely, will you not know it? ¹⁵ You will come from your place out of the uttermost parts of the north, you, and many peoples with you, all of them riding on horses, a great company and a mighty army. ¹⁶ You will come up against my people Israel as a cloud to cover the land. It will happen in the latter days that I will bring you against my land, that the nations may know me when I am sanctified in you, Gog, before their eyes.”

¹⁷ “The Lord GOD says: “Are you he of whom I spoke in old time by my servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days for years that I would bring you against them? ¹⁸ It will happen in that day, when Gog comes against the land of Israel,” says the Lord GOD, “that my wrath will come up into my nostrils. ¹⁹ For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath I have spoken. Surely in that day there will be a great shaking in the land of Israel, ²⁰ so that the fish of the sea, the birds of the sky, the animals of the field, all creeping things who creep on the earth, and all the men who are on the surface of the earth will shake at my presence. Then the mountains will be thrown down, the steep places will fall, and every wall will fall to the ground. ²¹ I will call for a sword against him to all my mountains,” says the Lord GOD. “Every man’s sword will be against his brother. ²² I will enter into judgment with him with pestilence and with blood. I will rain on him, on his hordes, and on the many peoples who are with him, torrential rains with great hailstones, fire, and sulfur. ²³ I will magnify myself and sanctify myself, and I will make myself known in the eyes of many nations. Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

¹ “You, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, ‘The Lord GOD says: “Behold, I am against you, Gog, prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal. ² I will turn you around, will lead you on, and will cause you to come up from the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring you onto the mountains of Israel. ³ I will strike your bow out of your left hand, and will cause your arrows to fall out of your right hand. ⁴ You will fall on the mountains of Israel, you, and all your hordes, and the peoples who are with you. I will give you to the ravenous birds of every sort and to the animals of the field to be devoured. ⁵ You will fall on the open field, for I have spoken it,” says the Lord GOD. ⁶ “I will send a fire on Magog and on those who dwell securely in the islands. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

⁹ “ “Those who dwell in the cities of Israel will go out and will make fires of the weapons and burn them, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the war clubs and the spears, and they will make fires with them for seven years; ¹⁰ so that they will take no wood out of the field, and not cut down any out of the forests; for they will make fires with the weapons. They will plunder those who plundered them, and rob those who robbed them,” says the Lord GOD.

¹¹ “ “It will happen in that day, that I will give to Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of those who pass through on the east of the sea; and it will stop those who pass through. They will bury Gog and all his multitude there, and they will call it ‘The valley of Hamon Gog’.

¹² “ “The house of Israel will be burying them for seven months, that they may cleanse the land. ¹³ Yes, all the people of the land will bury them; and they will become famous in the day that I will be glorified,” says the Lord GOD.

¹⁴ “ “They will set apart men of continual employment who will pass through the land. Those who pass through will go with those who bury those who remain on the surface of the land, to cleanse it. After the end of seven months they will search. ¹⁵ Those who search through the land will pass through; and when anyone sees a man’s bone, then he will set up a sign by it, until the undertakers have buried it in the valley of Hamon Gog. ¹⁶ Hamonah will also be the name of a city. Thus they will cleanse the land.”

yourselves on every side to my sacrifice that I sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice on the mountains of Israel, that you may eat meat and drink blood. ¹⁸ You shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bulls, all of them fatlings of Bashan. ¹⁹ You shall eat fat until you are full, and drink blood until you are drunk, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you. ²⁰ You shall be filled at my table with horses and charioteers, with mighty men, and with all men of war," says the Lord GOD.'

²¹ "I will set my glory among the nations. Then all the nations will see my judgment that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid on them. ²² So the house of Israel will know that I am the LORD their God, from that day and forward. ²³ The nations will know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity, because they trespassed against me, and I hid my face from them; so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they all fell by the sword. ²⁴ I did to them according to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions. I hid my face from them.

²⁵ "Therefore the Lord GOD says: 'Now I will reverse the captivity of Jacob and have mercy on the whole house of Israel. I will be jealous for my holy name. ²⁶ They will forget their shame and all their trespasses by which they have trespassed against me, when they dwell securely in their land. No one will make them afraid ²⁷ when I have brought them back from the peoples, gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am shown holy among them in the sight of many nations. ²⁸ They will know that I am the LORD their God, in that I caused them to go into captivity among the nations, and have gathered them to their own land. Then I will leave none of them captive any more. ²⁹ I won't hide my face from them any more, for I have poured out my Spirit on the house of Israel,' says the Lord GOD."

¹ In the twenty-fifth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after the city was struck, in the same day, the LORD's hand was on me, and he brought me there. ² In the visions of God he brought me into the land of Israel, and set me down on a very high mountain, on which was something like the frame of a city to the south. ³ He brought me there; and, behold, there was a man whose appearance was like the appearance of bronze, with a line of flax in his hand and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. ⁴ The man said to me, "Son of man, see with your eyes, and hear with your ears, and set your heart on all that I will show you; for you have been brought here so that I may show them to you. Declare all that you see to the house of Israel."

* 40:5 A normal cubit is the length from the tip of the middle finger to the elbow on a man's arm, or about 18 inches or 46 centimeters. A handbreadth is about 4.3 inches or 11 centimeters, so the long cubit described here would be about 22.3 inches or 57 centimeters long. Thus, a 6 long cubit measuring reed would have been about 3 yards 26.6 inches or about 3.42 meters long.

⁶ Then he came to the gate which looks toward the east, and went up its steps. He measured the threshold of the gate, one reed wide; and the other threshold, one reed wide. ⁷ Every lodge was one reed long and one reed wide. Between the lodges was five cubits. The threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate toward the house was one reed.

⁸ He measured also the porch of the gate toward the house, one reed. ⁹ Then he measured the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and its posts, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was toward the house.

¹⁰ The side rooms of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side. The three of them were of one measure. The posts had one measure on this side and on that side. ¹¹ He measured the width of the opening of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits; ¹² and a border before the lodges, one cubit on this side, and a border, one cubit on that side; and the side rooms, six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side. ¹³ He measured the gate from the roof of the one side room to the roof of the other, a width of twenty-five cubits, door against door. ¹⁴ He also made posts, sixty cubits; and the court reached to the posts, around the gate. ¹⁵ From the forefront of the gate at the entrance to the forefront of the inner porch of the gate were fifty cubits. ¹⁶ There were closed windows to the side rooms, and to their posts within the gate all around, and likewise to the arches. Windows were around inward. Palm trees were on each post.

¹⁷ Then he brought me into the outer court. Behold, there were rooms and a pavement made for the court all around. Thirty rooms were on the pavement. ¹⁸ The pavement was by the side of the gates, corresponding to the length of the gates, even the lower pavement. ¹⁹ Then he measured the width from the forefront of the lower gate to the forefront of the inner court outside, one hundred cubits, both on the east and on the north.

²⁴ He led me toward the south; and behold, there was a gate toward the south. He measured its posts and its arches according to these measurements. ²⁵ There were windows in it and in its arches all around, like the other windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the width twenty-five cubits. ²⁶ There were seven steps to go up to it, and its arches were before them. It had palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side, on its posts. ²⁷ There was a gate to the inner court toward the south. He measured one hundred cubits from gate to gate toward the south.

²⁸ Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate. He measured the south gate according to these measurements; ²⁹ with its lodges, its posts, and its arches, according to these measurements. There were windows in it and in its arches all around. It was fifty cubits long, and twenty-five cubits wide. ³⁰ There were arches all around, twenty-five cubits long and five cubits wide. ³¹ Its arches were toward the outer court. Palm trees were on its posts. The ascent to it had eight steps.

³² He brought me into the inner court toward the east. He measured the gate according to these measurements; ³³ with its lodges, its posts, and its arches, according to these measurements. There were windows in it and in its arches all around. It was fifty cubits long, and twenty-five cubits wide.

³⁴ Its arches were toward the outer court. Palm trees were on its posts on this side and on that side. The ascent to it had eight steps.

³⁵ He brought me to the north gate, and he measured it according to these measurements— ³⁶ its lodges, its posts, and its arches. There were windows in it all around. The length was fifty cubits and the width twenty-five cubits.

³⁸ A room with its door was by the posts at the gates. They washed the burnt offering there. ³⁹ In the porch of the gate were two tables on this side and two tables on that side, on which to kill the burnt offering, the sin offering, and the trespass offering. ⁴⁰ On the one side outside, as one goes up to the entry of the gate toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side, which belonged to the porch of the gate, were two tables. ⁴¹ Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate: eight tables, on which they killed the sacrifices. ⁴² There were four cut stone tables for the burnt offering, a cubit and a half long, a cubit and a half wide, and one cubit high. They laid the instruments with which they killed the burnt offering and the sacrifice on them. ⁴³ The hooks, a hand width long, were fastened within all around. The meat of the offering was on the tables.

⁴⁸ Then he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side. The width of the gate was three cubits on this side and three cubits on that side. ⁴⁹ The length of the porch was twenty cubits and the width eleven cubits, even by the steps by which they went up to it. There were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

¹ He brought me to the nave and measured the posts, six cubits wide on the one side and six cubits wide on the other side, which was the width of the tent. ² The width of the entrance was ten cubits,* and the sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side. He measured its length, forty cubits, and the width, twenty cubits.

³ Then he went inward and measured each post of the entrance, two cubits; and the entrance, six cubits; and the width of the entrance, seven cubits. ⁴ He measured its length, twenty cubits, and the width, twenty cubits, before the nave. He said to me, "This is the most holy place."

⁵ Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the width of every side room, four cubits, all around the house on every side. ⁶ The side rooms were in three stories, one over another, and thirty in each story. They entered into the wall which belonged to the house for the side rooms all around, that they might be supported and not penetrate the wall of the house. ⁷ The side rooms were wider on the higher levels, because the walls were narrower at the higher levels. Therefore the width of the house increased upward; and so one went up from the lowest level to the highest through the middle level.

⁸ I saw also that the house had a raised base all around. The foundations of the side rooms were a full reed of six great cubits. ⁹ The thickness of the outer wall of the side rooms was five cubits. That which was left was the place of the side rooms that belonged to the house. ¹⁰ Between the rooms was a width of twenty cubits around the house on every side. ¹¹ The doors of the side rooms were toward an open area that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south. The width of the open area was five cubits all around.

¹⁵ He measured the length of the building before the separate place which was at its back, and its galleries on the one side and on the other side, one hundred cubits from the inner temple, and the porches of the court, ¹⁶ the thresholds, and the closed windows, and the galleries around on their three stories, opposite the threshold, with wood ceilings all around, and from the ground up to the windows, (now the windows were covered), ¹⁷ to the space above the door, even to the inner house, and outside, and by all the wall all around inside and outside, by measure. ¹⁸ It was made with cherubim and palm trees. A palm tree was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub had two faces, ¹⁹ so that there was the face of a man toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side. It was made like this through all the house all around. ²⁰ Cherubim and palm trees were made from the ground to above the door. The wall of the temple was like this.

²¹ The door posts of the nave were squared. As for the face of the nave, its appearance was as the appearance of the temple. ²² The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and its length two cubits. Its corners, its base, and its walls were of wood. He said to me, "This is the table that is before the LORD."

²³ The temple and the sanctuary had two doors. ²⁴ The doors had two leaves each, two turning leaves: two for the one door, and two leaves for the other.

²⁵ There were made on them, on the doors of the nave, cherubim and palm trees, like those made on the walls. There was a threshold of wood on the face of the porch outside. ²⁶ There were closed windows and palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch. This is how the side rooms of the temple and the thresholds were arranged.

¹³ Then he said to me, "The north rooms and the south rooms, which are opposite the separate place, are the holy rooms, where the priests who are near to the LORD shall eat the most holy things. There they shall lay the most holy things, with the meal offering, the sin offering, and the trespass offering; for the place is holy. ¹⁴ When the priests enter in, then they shall not go out of the holy place into the outer court until they lay their garments in which they minister there; for they are holy. Then they shall put on other garments, and shall approach that which is for the people."

¹⁵ Now when he had finished measuring the inner house, he brought me out by the way of the gate which faces toward the east, and measured it all around. ¹⁶ He measured on the east side with the measuring reed five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed all around. ¹⁷ He measured on the north side five hundred reeds with the measuring reed all around. ¹⁸ He measured on the south side five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. ¹⁹ He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. ²⁰ He measured it on the four sides. It had a wall around it, the length five hundred cubits, and the width five hundred cubits, to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was common.

⁶ I heard one speaking to me out of the house, and a man stood by me. ⁷ He said to me, "Son of man, this is the place of my throne and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell among the children of Israel forever. The house of Israel will no more defile my holy name, neither they nor their kings, by their prostitution and by the dead bodies of their kings in their high places; ⁸ in their setting of their threshold by my threshold and their door post beside my door post. There was a wall between me and them; and they have defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed. Therefore I have consumed them in my anger. ⁹ Now let them put away their prostitution, and the dead bodies of their kings far from me. Then I will dwell among them forever.

¹⁰ "You, son of man, show the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities; and let them measure the pattern. ¹¹ If they are ashamed of all that they have done, make known to them the form of the house, its fashion, its exits, its entrances, its structure, all its ordinances, all its forms, and all its laws; and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole form of it, and all its ordinances, and do them.

¹² "This is the law of the house. On the top of the mountain the whole limit around it shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

¹⁸ He said to me, "Son of man, the Lord GOD says: 'These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they make it, to offer burnt offerings on it, and to sprinkle blood on it. ¹⁹ You shall give to the Levitical priests who are of the offspring of Zadok, who are near to me, to minister to me,' says the Lord GOD, 'a young bull for a sin offering. ²⁰ You shall take of its blood and put it on its four horns, and on the four corners of the ledge, and on the border all around. You shall cleanse it and make atonement for it that way. ²¹ You shall also take the bull of the sin offering, and it shall be burned in the appointed place of the house, outside of the sanctuary.

²² “On the second day you shall offer a male goat without defect for a sin offering; and they shall cleanse the altar, as they cleansed it with the bull. ²³ When you have finished cleansing it, you shall offer a young bull without defect and a ram out of the flock without defect. ²⁴ You shall bring them near to the LORD, and the priests shall cast salt on them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering to the LORD.

²⁵ “Seven days you shall prepare every day a goat for a sin offering. They shall also prepare a young bull and a ram out of the flock, without defect. ²⁶ Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it. So shall they consecrate it. ²⁷ When they have accomplished the days, it shall be that on the eighth day and onward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings on the altar and your peace offerings. Then I will accept you,” says the Lord GOD.”

¹ Then he brought me back by the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, which looks toward the east; and it was shut. ² The LORD said to me, “This gate shall be shut. It shall not be opened, no man shall enter in by it; for the LORD, the God of Israel, has entered in by it. Therefore it shall be shut. ³ As for the prince, he shall sit in it as prince to eat bread before the LORD. He shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out the same way.”

⁴ Then he brought me by the way of the north gate before the house; and I looked, and behold, the LORD’s glory filled the LORD’s house; so I fell on my face.

⁵ The LORD said to me, “Son of man, mark well, and see with your eyes, and hear with your ears all that I tell you concerning all the ordinances of the LORD’s house and all its laws; and mark well the entrance of the house, with every exit of the sanctuary. ⁶ You shall tell the rebellious, even the house of Israel, ‘The Lord GOD says: “You house of Israel, let that be enough of all your abominations, ⁷ in that you have brought in foreigners, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to profane it, even my house, when you offer my bread, the fat and the blood; and they have broken my covenant, to add to all your abominations. ⁸ You have not performed the duty of my holy things; but you have set performers of my duty in my sanctuary for yourselves.” ⁹ The Lord GOD says, “No foreigner, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any foreigners who are among the children of Israel.

¹⁰ “ “But the Levites who went far from me when Israel went astray, who went astray from me after their idols, they will bear their iniquity. ¹¹ Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house. They shall kill the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister to them. ¹² Because they ministered to them before their idols, and became a stumbling block of iniquity to the house of Israel, therefore I have lifted up my hand against them,” says the Lord GOD, “and they will bear their iniquity.

¹³ They shall not come near to me, to execute the office of priest to me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, to the things that are most holy; but they will bear their shame and their abominations which they have committed.

¹⁴ Yet I will make them performers of the duty of the house, for all its service and for all that will be done therein.

¹⁵ “ “But the Levitical priests, the sons of Zadok, who performed the duty of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, shall come near to me to minister to me. They shall stand before me to offer to me the fat and the blood,” says the Lord GOD. ¹⁶ “They shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to my table, to minister to me, and they shall keep my instruction.

²⁴ “ “In a controversy they shall stand to judge. They shall judge it according to my ordinances. They shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts. They shall make my Sabbaths holy.

²⁵ “ “They shall go in to no dead person to defile themselves; but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister who has had no husband, they may defile themselves. ²⁶ After he is cleansed, they shall reckon to him seven days. ²⁷ In the day that he goes into the sanctuary, into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering,” says the Lord GOD.

²⁸ “ “They shall have an inheritance: I am their inheritance; and you shall give them no possession in Israel. I am their possession. ²⁹ They shall eat the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; and every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs. ³⁰ The first of all the first fruits of every thing, and every offering of everything, of all your offerings, shall be for the priest. You shall also give to the priests the first of your dough, to cause a blessing to rest on your house. ³¹ The priests shall not eat of anything that dies of itself or is torn, whether it is bird or animal.

¹ “ “Moreover, when you divide by lot the land for inheritance, you shall offer an offering to the LORD, a holy portion of the land. The length shall be the length of twenty-five thousand reeds, and the width shall be ten thousand. It shall be holy in all its border all around. ² Of this there shall be a five hundred by five hundred square for the holy place, and fifty cubits* for its pasture lands all around. ³ Of this measure you shall measure a length of twenty-five thousand, and a width of ten thousand. In it shall be the sanctuary, which is most holy. ⁴ It is a holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, who come near to minister to the LORD. It shall be a place for their houses and a holy place for the sanctuary. ⁵ Twenty-five thousand cubits in length and ten thousand in width shall be for the Levites, the ministers of the house, as a possession for themselves, for twenty rooms.

⁶ “You shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand cubits wide and twenty-five thousand long, side by side with the offering of the holy portion. It shall be for the whole house of Israel.

⁹ “The Lord GOD says: “Enough you, princes of Israel! Remove violence and plunder, and execute justice and righteousness! Stop dispossessing my people!” says the Lord GOD. ¹⁰ “You shall have just balances, a just ephah,† and a just bath. ¹¹ The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain one tenth of a homer;‡ and the ephah one tenth of a homer. Its measure shall be the same as the homer. ¹² The shekel§ shall be twenty gerahs.* Twenty shekels plus twenty-five shekels plus fifteen shekels shall be your mina.†

¹³ “This is the offering that you shall offer: the sixth part of an ephah from a homer of wheat, and you shall give the sixth part of an ephah from a homer of barley, ¹⁴ and the set portion of oil, of the bath of oil, one tenth of a bath out of the cor, which is ten baths, even a homer (for ten baths are a homer),‡ ¹⁵ and one lamb of the flock out of two hundred, from the well-watered pastures of Israel—for a meal offering, for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, to make atonement for them,” says the Lord GOD. ¹⁶ “All the people of the land shall give to this offering for the prince in Israel. ¹⁷ It shall be the prince’s part to give the burnt offerings, the meal offerings, and the drink offerings, in the feasts, and on the new moons, and on the Sabbaths, in all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel. He shall prepare the sin offering, the meal offering, the burnt offering, and the peace offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel.”

¹⁸ “The Lord GOD says: “In the first month, on the first day of the month, you shall take a young bull without defect, and you shall cleanse the sanctuary. ¹⁹ The priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering and put it on the door posts of the house, and on the four corners of the ledge of the altar, and on the posts of the gate of the inner court. ²⁰ So you shall do on the seventh day of the month for everyone who errs, and for him who is simple. So you shall make atonement for the house.

²¹ “ “In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, you shall have the Passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten. ²² On that day the prince shall prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bull for a sin offering. ²³ The seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the LORD, seven bulls and seven rams without defect daily the seven days; and a male goat daily for a sin offering. ²⁴ He shall prepare a meal offering, an ephah[§] for a bull, an ephah for a ram, and a hin^{*} of oil to an ephah.

²⁵ “ “In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month, during the feast, he shall do like that for seven days. He shall make the same provision for sin offering, the burnt offering, the meal offering, and the oil.”

¹ “ The Lord GOD says: “The gate of the inner court that looks toward the east shall be shut the six working days; but on the Sabbath day it shall be opened, and on the day of the new moon it shall be opened. ² The prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate outside, and shall stand by the post of the gate; and the priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate. Then he shall go out, but the gate shall not be shut until the evening. ³ The people of the land shall worship at the door of that gate before the LORD on the Sabbaths and on the new moons. ⁴ The burnt offering that the prince shall offer to the LORD shall be on the Sabbath day, six lambs without defect and a ram without defect; ⁵ and the meal offering shall be an ephah for the ram, and the meal offering for the lambs as he is able to give, and a hin^{*} of oil to an ephah. [†] ⁶ On the day of the new moon it shall be a young bull without defect, six lambs, and a ram. They shall be without defect. ⁷ He shall prepare a meal offering: an ephah for the bull, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs according as he is able, and a hin of oil to an ephah. ⁸ When the prince enters, he shall go in by the way of the porch of the gate, and he shall go out by its way.

¹¹ “ “In the feasts and in the appointed holidays, the meal offering shall be an ephah[‡] for a bull, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs as he is able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah. ¹² When the prince prepares a free will offering, a burnt offering or peace offerings as a free will offering to the LORD, one shall open for him the gate that looks toward the east; and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he does on the Sabbath day. Then he shall go out; and after his going out one shall shut the gate.

¹³ “ ‘You shall prepare a lamb a year old without defect for a burnt offering to the LORD daily. Morning by morning you shall prepare it. ¹⁴ You shall prepare a meal offering with it morning by morning, the sixth part of an ephah,[§] and the third part of a hin of oil to moisten the fine flour; a meal offering to the LORD continually by a perpetual ordinance. ¹⁵ Thus they shall prepare the lamb, the meal offering, and the oil, morning by morning, for a continual burnt offering.”

²¹ Then he brought me out into the outer court and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court. ²² In the four corners of the court there were courts enclosed, forty cubits* long and thirty wide. These four in the corners were the same size. ²³ There was a wall around in them, around the four, and boiling places were made under the walls all around. ²⁴ Then he said to me, “These are the boiling houses, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.”

¹ He brought me back to the door of the temple; and behold, waters flowed out from under the threshold of the temple eastward, for the front of the temple faced toward the east. The waters came down from underneath, from the right side of the temple, on the south of the altar. ² Then he brought me out by the way of the gate northward, and led me around by the way outside to the outer gate, by the way of the gate that looks toward the east. Behold, waters ran out on the right side.

³ When the man went out eastward with the line in his hand, he measured one thousand cubits,* and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. ⁴ Again he measured one thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured one thousand, and caused me to pass through waters that were to the waist. ⁵ Afterward he measured one thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through, for the waters had risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be walked through.

Then he brought me and caused me to return to the bank of the river. ⁷ Now when I had returned, behold, on the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other. ⁸ Then he said to me, "These waters flow out toward the eastern region and will go down into the Arabah. Then they will go toward the sea and flow into the sea which will be made to flow out; and the waters will be healed. ⁹ It will happen that every living creature which swarms, in every place where the rivers come, will live. Then there will be a very great multitude of fish; for these waters have come there, and the waters of the sea will be healed, and everything will live wherever the river comes. ¹⁰ It will happen that fishermen will stand by it. From En Gedi even to En Eglaim will be a place for the spreading of nets. Their fish will be after their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceedingly many. ¹¹ But its swamps and marshes will not be healed. They will be given up to salt. ¹² By the river banks, on both sides, will grow every tree for food, whose leaf won't wither, neither will its fruit fail. It will produce new fruit every month, because its waters issue out of the sanctuary. Its fruit will be for food, and its leaf for healing."

¹³ The Lord GOD says: "This shall be the border by which you shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel. Joseph shall have two portions. ¹⁴ You shall inherit it, one as well as another; for I swore to give it to your fathers. This land will fall to you for inheritance.

¹⁵ "This shall be the border of the land:

"On the north side, from the great sea, by the way of Hethlon, to the entrance of Zedad; ¹⁶ Hamath, Berothah, Sibram (which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath), to Hazer Hatticon, which is by the border of Hauran. ¹⁷ The border from the sea shall be Hazar Enon at the border of Damascus; and on the north northward is the border of Hamath. This is the north side.

²⁰ "The west side shall be the great sea, from the south border as far as opposite the entrance of Hamath. This is the west side.

²¹ "So you shall divide this land to yourselves according to the tribes of Israel. ²² You shall divide it by lot for an inheritance to you and to the aliens who live among you, who will father children among you. Then they shall be to you as the native-born among the children of Israel. They shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. ²³ In whatever tribe the stranger lives, there you shall give him his inheritance," says the Lord GOD.

² “By the border of Dan, from the east side to the west side, Asher, one portion.

³ “By the border of Asher, from the east side even to the west side, Naphtali, one portion.

⁴ “By the border of Naphtali, from the east side to the west side, Manasseh, one portion.

⁵ “By the border of Manasseh, from the east side to the west side, Ephraim, one portion.

⁶ “By the border of Ephraim, from the east side even to the west side, Reuben, one portion.

⁷ “By the border of Reuben, from the east side to the west side, Judah, one portion.

⁹ “The offering that you shall offer to the LORD shall be twenty-five thousand reeds in length, and ten thousand in width. ¹⁰ For these, even for the priests, shall be the holy offering: toward the north twenty-five thousand in length, and toward the west ten thousand in width, and toward the east ten thousand in width, and toward the south twenty-five thousand in length; and the sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the middle of it. ¹¹ It shall be for the priests who are sanctified of the sons of Zadok, who have kept my instruction, who didn't go astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray. ¹² It shall be to them an offering from the offering of the land, a most holy thing, by the border of the Levites.

¹⁵ “The five thousand cubits that are left in the width, in front of the twenty-five thousand, shall be for common use, for the city, for dwelling and for pasture lands; and the city shall be in the middle of it. ¹⁶ These shall be its measurements: the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred. ¹⁷ The city shall have pasture lands: toward the north two hundred fifty, and toward the south two hundred fifty, and toward the east two hundred fifty, and toward the west two hundred fifty. ¹⁸ The remainder of the length, alongside the holy offering, shall be ten thousand eastward and ten thousand westward; and it shall be alongside the holy offering. Its increase shall be for food to those who labor in the city. ¹⁹ Those who labor in the city, out of all the tribes of Israel, shall cultivate it. ²⁰ All the offering shall be a square of twenty-five thousand by twenty-five thousand. You shall offer it as a holy offering, with the possession of the city.

²¹ “The remainder shall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy offering and of the possession of the city; in front of the twenty-five thousand of the offering toward the east border, and westward in front of the twenty-five thousand toward the west border, alongside the portions, it shall be for the prince. The holy offering and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the middle of it. ²² Moreover, from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the middle of that which is the prince's, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.

²³ “As for the rest of the tribes: from the east side to the west side, Benjamin, one portion.

²⁴ “By the border of Benjamin, from the east side to the west side, Simeon, one portion.

²⁵ “By the border of Simeon, from the east side to the west side, Issachar, one portion.

²⁶ “By the border of Issachar, from the east side to the west side, Zebulun, one portion.

²⁷ “By the border of Zebulun, from the east side to the west side, Gad, one portion.

²⁸ “By the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be even from Tamar to the waters of Meribath Kadesh, to the brook, to the great sea.

²⁹ “This is the land which you shall divide by lot to the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their several portions, says the Lord GOD.

³² “At the east side four thousand five hundred reeds, and three gates: even the gate of Joseph, one; the gate of Benjamin, one; the gate of Dan, one.

³³ “At the south side four thousand five hundred reeds by measure, and three gates: the gate of Simeon, one; the gate of Issachar, one; the gate of Zebulun, one.

³⁴ “At the west side four thousand five hundred reeds, with their three gates: the gate of Gad, one; the gate of Asher, one; the gate of Naphtali, one.

³⁵ “It shall be eighteen thousand reeds in circumference; and the name of the city from that day shall be, ‘The LORD is there.’

The Book of Daniel

¹In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and besieged it. ²The Lord* gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with some of the vessels of the house of God;† and he carried them into the land of Shinar to the house of his god. He brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god.

⁶Now among these of the children of Judah were Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. ⁷The prince of the eunuchs gave names to them: to Daniel he gave the name Belfeshazzar; to Hananiah, Shadrach; to Mishael, Meshach; and to Azariah, Abednego.

¹⁷Now as for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams.

¹⁸At the end of the days which the king had appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. ¹⁹The king talked with them; and among them all was found no one like

Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. Therefore stood they before the king. ²⁰In every matter of wisdom and understanding concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters who were in all his realm.

²¹Daniel continued even to the first year of King Cyrus.

¹In the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams; and his spirit was troubled, and his sleep went from him. ²Then the king commanded that the magicians, the enchanters, the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans be called to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king. ³The king said to them, "I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream."

⁵The king answered the Chaldeans, "The thing has gone from me. If you don't make known to me the dream and its interpretation, you will be cut in pieces, and your houses will be made a dunghill. ⁶But if you show the dream and its interpretation, you will receive from me gifts, rewards, and great honor. Therefore show me the dream and its interpretation."

¹⁰The Chaldeans answered the king and said, "There is not a man on the earth who can show the king's matter, because no king, lord, or ruler has asked such a thing of any magician, enchanter, or Chaldean. ¹¹It is a rare thing that the king requires, and there is no other who can show it before the king except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh."

¹²Because of this, the king was angry and very furious, and commanded that all the wise men of Babylon be destroyed. ¹³So the decree went out, and the wise men were to be slain. They sought Daniel and his companions to be slain.

¹⁴Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, who had gone out to kill the wise men of Babylon.

¹⁵He answered Arioch the king's captain, "Why is the decree so urgent from the king?" Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. ¹⁶Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would appoint him a time, and he would show the king the interpretation.

¹⁷Then Daniel went to his house and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions: ¹⁸that they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret, that Daniel and his companions would not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. ¹⁹Then the secret was revealed to Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven. ²⁰Daniel answered, "Blessed be the name of God forever and ever; for wisdom and might are his.

²¹ He changes the times and the seasons.

He removes kings and sets up kings.

He gives wisdom to the wise,

and knowledge to those who have understanding.

²² He reveals the deep and secret things.

He knows what is in the darkness,

and the light dwells with him.

²³ I thank you and praise you,

O God of my fathers,

who have given me wisdom and might,

and have now made known to me what we desired of you;

for you have made known to us the king's matter."

²⁷ Daniel answered before the king, and said, "The secret which the king has demanded can't be shown to the king by wise men, enchanters, magicians, or soothsayers; ²⁸ but there is a God in heaven who reveals secrets, and he has made known to King Nebuchadnezzar what will be in the latter days. Your dream and the visions of your head on your bed are these:

²⁹ "As for you, O king, your thoughts came on your bed, what should happen hereafter; and he who reveals secrets has made known to you what will happen. ³⁰ But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that you may know the thoughts of your heart.

³¹ "You, O king, saw, and behold,* a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was excellent, stood before you; and its appearance was terrifying. ³² As for this image, its head was of fine gold, its chest and its arms of silver; its belly and its thighs of bronze, ³³ its legs of iron, its feet part of iron and part of clay. ³⁴ You saw until a stone was cut out without hands, which struck the image on its feet that were of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces. ³⁵ Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold were broken in pieces together; and became like the chaff of the summer threshing floors. The wind carried them away, so that no place was found for them. The stone that struck the image became a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

³⁶ "This is the dream; and we will tell its interpretation before the king.

³⁷ You, O king, are king of kings, to whom the God of heaven has given the kingdom, the power, the strength, and the glory. ³⁸ Wherever the children of men dwell, he has given the animals of the field and the birds of the sky into your hand, and has made you rule over them all. You are the head of gold.

³⁹ “After you, another kingdom will arise that is inferior to you; and another third kingdom of bronze, which will rule over all the earth. ⁴⁰ The fourth kingdom will be strong as iron, because iron breaks in pieces and subdues all things; and as iron that crushes all these, it will break in pieces and crush. ⁴¹ Whereas you saw the feet and toes, part of potters’ clay and part of iron, it will be a divided kingdom; but there will be in it of the strength of the iron, because you saw the iron mixed with miry clay. ⁴² As the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom will be partly strong and partly brittle. ⁴³ Whereas you saw the iron mixed with miry clay, they will mingle themselves with the seed of men; but they won’t cling to one another, even as iron does not mix with clay.

⁴⁸ Then the king made Daniel great and gave him many great gifts, and made him rule over the whole province of Babylon and to be chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. ⁴⁹ Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego over the affairs of the province of Babylon, but Daniel was in the king’s gate.

¹⁹ Then Nebuchadnezzar was full of fury, and the form of his appearance was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. He spoke, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was usually heated. ²⁰ He commanded certain mighty men who were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. ²¹ Then these men were bound in their pants, their tunics, and their mantles, and their other clothes, and were cast into the middle of the burning fiery furnace. ²² Therefore because the king's commandment was urgent and the furnace exceedingly hot, the flame of the fire killed those men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. ²³ These three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell down bound into the middle of the burning fiery furnace.

²⁴ Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished and rose up in haste. He spoke and said to his counselors, “Didn't we cast three men bound into the middle of the fire?”

They answered the king, “True, O king.”

²⁵ He answered, "Look, I see four men loose, walking in the middle of the fire, and they are unharmed. The appearance of the fourth is like a son of the gods.[†]"

²⁶ Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace. He spoke and said, "Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, you servants of the Most High God, come out, and come here!"

Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came out of the middle of the fire. ²⁷ The local governors, the deputies, and the governors, and the king's counselors, being gathered together, saw these men, that the fire had no power on their bodies. The hair of their head wasn't singed. Their pants weren't changed. The smell of fire wasn't even on them.

²⁸ Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said, "Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who has sent his angel and delivered his servants who trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god except their own God. ²⁹ Therefore I make a decree that every people, nation, and language which speak anything evil against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill, because there is no other god who is able to deliver like this."

to all the peoples, nations, and languages, who dwell in all the earth:
Peace be multiplied to you.

² It has seemed good to me to show the signs and wonders that the Most High God has worked toward me.

³ How great are his signs!

How mighty are his wonders!

His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom.

His dominion is from generation to generation.

⁴ I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace. ⁵ I saw a dream which made me afraid; and the thoughts on my bed and the visions of my head troubled me. ⁶ Therefore I made a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known to me the interpretation of the dream. ⁷ Then the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers came in; and I told them the dream, but they didn't make known to me its interpretation. ⁸ But at last, Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods. I told the dream before him, saying,

⁹ "Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in you and no secret troubles you, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and its interpretation. ¹⁰ These were the visions of my head on my bed: I saw, and behold, a tree in the middle of the earth; and its height was great. ¹¹ The tree grew and was strong. Its height reached to the sky and its sight to the end of all the earth. ¹² Its leaves were beautiful, and it had much fruit, and in it was food for all. The animals of the field had shade under it, and the birds of the sky lived in its branches, and all flesh was fed from it.

¹³ “I saw in the visions of my head on my bed, and behold, a holy watcher came down from the sky. ¹⁴ He cried aloud and said this: ‘Cut down the tree, and cut off its branches! Shake off its leaves and scatter its fruit! Let the animals get away from under it and the birds from its branches. ¹⁵ Nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and bronze, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of the sky. Let his portion be with the animals in the grass of the earth. ¹⁶ Let his heart be changed from man’s, and let an animal’s heart be given to him. Then let seven times pass over him.

Belteshazzar answered, “My lord, may the dream be for those who hate you, and its interpretation to your adversaries. ²⁰ The tree that you saw, which grew and was strong, whose height reached to the sky and its sight to all the earth; ²¹ whose leaves were beautiful and its fruit plentiful, and in it was food for all; under which the animals of the field lived, and on whose branches the birds of the sky had their habitation— ²² it is you, O king, that have grown and become strong; for your greatness has grown, and reaches to the sky, and your dominion to the end of the earth.

²⁴ “This is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which has come on my lord the king: ²⁵ You will be driven from men and your dwelling shall be with the animals of the field. You will be made to eat grass as oxen, and will be wet with the dew of the sky, and seven times shall pass over you, until you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomever he will. ²⁶ Whereas it was commanded to leave the stump of the roots of the tree, your kingdom shall be sure to you after you know that Heaven rules. ²⁷ Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to you, and break off your sins by righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the poor. Perhaps there may be a lengthening of your tranquility.”

³¹ While the word was in the king's mouth, a voice came from the sky, saying, "O King Nebuchadnezzar, to you it is spoken: 'The kingdom has departed from you. ³² You shall be driven from men, and your dwelling shall be with the animals of the field. You shall be made to eat grass like oxen. Seven times shall pass over you, until you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomever he will.' "

³⁴ At the end of the days I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted up my eyes to heaven, and my understanding returned to me; and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honored him who lives forever, for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom from generation to generation.

³⁶ At the same time my understanding returned to me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and brightness returned to me. My counselors and my lords sought me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent greatness was added to me. ³⁷ Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honor the King of heaven; for all his works are truth, and his ways justice; and those who walk in pride he is able to abase.

¹ Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand. ² Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded that the golden and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem be brought to him, that the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, might drink from them. ³ Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of God's house which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, drank from them. ⁴ They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver; of bronze, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

⁸ Then all the king's wise men came in; but they could not read the writing, and couldn't make known to the king the interpretation. ⁹ Then King Belshazzar was greatly troubled, and his face was changed in him, and his lords were perplexed.

¹³ Then Daniel was brought in before the king. The king spoke and said to Daniel, "Are you that Daniel of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? ¹⁴ I have heard of you, that the spirit of the gods is in you and that light, understanding, and excellent wisdom are found in you. ¹⁵ Now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known to me its interpretation; but they could not show the interpretation of the thing. ¹⁶ But I have heard of you, that you can give interpretations and dissolve doubts. Now if you can read the writing and make known to me its interpretation, you shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold around your neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom."

¹⁷ Then Daniel answered before the king, "Let your gifts be to yourself, and give your rewards to another. Nevertheless, I will read the writing to the king, and make known to him the interpretation."

²² "You, his son, Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart, though you knew all this, ²³ but have lifted up yourself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before you, and you and your lords, your wives, and your concubines, have drunk wine from them. You have praised the gods of silver and gold, of bronze, iron, wood, and stone, which don't see, or hear, or know; and you have not glorified the God in whose hand your breath is, and whose are all your ways. ²⁴ Then the part of the hand was sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed."

²⁵ "This is the writing that was inscribed: 'MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UP-HARSIN.'

²⁶ "This is the interpretation of the thing:
MENE: God has counted your kingdom, and brought it to an end.

²⁷ TEKEL: you are weighed in the balances, and are found wanting.

²⁸ PERES: your kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.”

²⁹ Then Belshazzar commanded, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

⁶ Then these presidents and local governors assembled together to the king, and said this to him, “King Darius, live forever! ⁷ All the presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the local governors, the counselors and the governors, have consulted together to establish a royal statute and to make a strong decree, that whoever asks a petition of any god or man for thirty days, except of you, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. ⁸ Now, O king, establish the decree and sign the writing, that it not be changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which doesn't alter.” ⁹ Therefore King Darius signed the writing and the decree.

¹⁰ When Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house (now his windows were open in his room toward Jerusalem) and he kneeled on his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did before. ¹¹ Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. ¹² Then they came near, and spoke before the king concerning the king's decree: “Haven't you signed a decree that every man who makes a petition to any god or man within thirty days, except to you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions?”

¹³ Then they answered and said before the king, “That Daniel, who is of the children of the captivity of Judah, doesn't respect you, O king, nor the decree that you have signed, but makes his petition three times a day.” ¹⁴ Then the king, when he heard these words, was very displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him; and he labored until the going down of the sun to rescue him.

¹⁶ Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel and cast him into the den of lions. The king spoke and said to Daniel, “Your God whom you serve continually, he will deliver you.”

¹⁹ Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste to the den of lions. ²⁰ When he came near to the den to Daniel, he cried with a troubled voice. The king spoke and said to Daniel, "Daniel, servant of the living God, is your God, whom you serve continually, able to deliver you from the lions?"

²¹ Then Daniel said to the king, "O king, live forever! ²² My God has sent his angel, and has shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me, because innocence was found in me before him; and also before you, O king, I have done no harm."

²³ Then the king was exceedingly glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no kind of harm was found on him, because he had trusted in his God.

²⁴ The king commanded, and they brought those men who had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions—they, their children, and their wives; and the lions mauled them, and broke all their bones in pieces before they came to the bottom of the den.

²⁵ Then King Darius wrote to all the peoples, nations, and languages who dwell in all the earth:

"Peace be multiplied to you.

²⁶ "I make a decree that in all the dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel.

"For he is the living God,

and steadfast forever.

His kingdom is that which will not be destroyed.

His dominion will be even to the end.

²⁷ He delivers and rescues.

He works signs and wonders in heaven and in earth,

who has delivered Daniel from the power of the lions."

²⁸ So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

⁴ "The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings. I watched until its wings were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth and made to stand on two feet as a man. A man's heart was given to it.

⁷ “After this I saw in the night visions, and, behold, there was a fourth animal, awesome, powerful, and exceedingly strong. It had great iron teeth. It devoured and broke in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet. It was different from all the animals that were before it. It had ten horns.

⁸ “I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots; and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking arrogantly.

⁹ “I watched until thrones were placed,
and one who was Ancient of Days sat.
His clothing was white as snow,
and the hair of his head like pure wool.
His throne was fiery flames,
and its wheels burning fire.

¹⁰ A fiery stream issued and came out from before him.
Thousands of thousands ministered to him.
Ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him.
The judgment was set.
The books were opened.

¹¹ “I watched at that time because of the voice of the arrogant words which the horn spoke. I watched even until the animal was slain, and its body destroyed, and it was given to be burned with fire. ¹² As for the rest of the animals, their dominion was taken away; yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time.

¹³ “I saw in the night visions, and behold, there came with the clouds of the sky one like a son of man, and he came even to the Ancient of Days, and they brought him near before him. ¹⁴ Dominion was given him, and glory, and a kingdom, that all the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion, which will not pass away, and his kingdom one that will not be destroyed.

¹⁵ “As for me, Daniel, my spirit was grieved within my body, and the visions of my head troubled me. ¹⁶ I came near to one of those who stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this.

“So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

¹⁹ “Then I desired to know the truth concerning the fourth animal, which was different from all of them, exceedingly terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and its nails of bronze; which devoured, broke in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet; ²⁰ and concerning the ten horns that were on its head and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell, even that horn that had eyes and a mouth that spoke arrogantly, whose look was more stout than its fellows. ²¹ I saw, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them, ²² until the Ancient of Days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High, and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

²³ “So he said, ‘The fourth animal will be a fourth kingdom on earth, which will be different from all the kingdoms, and will devour the whole earth, and will tread it down and break it in pieces. ²⁴ As for the ten horns, ten kings

will arise out of this kingdom. Another will arise after them; and he will be different from the former, and he will put down three kings. ²⁵ He will speak words against the Most High, and will wear out the saints of the Most High. He will plan to change the times and the law; and they will be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time.

²⁶ “But the judgment will be set, and they will take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it to the end. ²⁷ The kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole sky, will be given to the people of the saints of the Most High. His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions will serve and obey him.”

¹³ Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said to that certain one who spoke, “How long will the vision about the continual burnt offering, and the disobedience that makes desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the army to be trodden under foot be?”

¹⁴ He said to me, “To two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings. Then the sanctuary will be cleansed.”

¹⁵ When I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, I sought to understand it. Then behold, there stood before me someone with the appearance of a man.

¹⁷ So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was frightened, and fell on my face; but he said to me, “Understand, son of man, for the vision belongs to the time of the end.”

¹⁹ He said, “Behold, I will make you know what will be in the latter time of the indignation, for it belongs to the appointed time of the end. ²⁰ The ram which you saw, that had the two horns, they are the kings of Media and Persia. ²¹ The rough male goat is the king of Greece. The great horn that is between his eyes is the first king. ²² As for that which was broken, in the place where four stood up, four kingdoms will stand up out of the nation, but not with his power.

²⁴ His power will be mighty, but not by his own power. He will destroy awesomely, and will prosper in what he does. He will destroy the mighty ones and the holy people. ²⁵ Through his policy he will cause deceit to prosper in his hand. He will magnify himself in his heart, and he will destroy many in their security. He will also stand up against the prince of princes, but he will be broken without human hands.

¹ In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the offspring of the Medes, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans— ² in the first year of his reign I, Daniel, understood by the books the number of the years about which the LORD’s* word came to Jeremiah the prophet for the accomplishing of the desolations of Jerusalem, even seventy years. ³ I set my face to the Lord God, to seek by prayer and petitions, with fasting and sackcloth and ashes.

“Oh, Lord, the great and dreadful God, who keeps covenant and loving kindness with those who love him and keep his commandments, ⁵ we have sinned, and have dealt perversely, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even turning aside from your precepts and from your ordinances. ⁶ We haven’t listened to your servants the prophets, who spoke in your name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

⁷ “Lord, righteousness belongs to you, but to us confusion of face, as it is today; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, who are near and who are far off, through all the countries where you have driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against you. ⁸ Lord, to us belongs confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against you. ⁹ To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgiveness, for we have rebelled against him. ¹⁰ We haven’t obeyed the LORD our God’s voice, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets. ¹¹ Yes, all Israel have transgressed your law, turning aside, that they should not obey your voice.

²⁰ While I was speaking, praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for the holy mountain of my God— ²¹ yes, while I was speaking in prayer—the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening offering. ²² He instructed me and talked with me, and said, “Daniel, I have now come to give you wisdom and understanding. ²³ At the beginning of your petitions the commandment went out, and I have come to tell you, for you are greatly beloved. Therefore consider the matter and understand the vision.

²⁴ “Seventy weeks are decreed on your people and on your holy city, to finish disobedience, to make an end of sins, to make reconciliation for iniquity, to bring in everlasting righteousness, to seal up vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most holy.

25 “Know therefore and discern that from the going out of the commandment to restore and build Jerusalem to the Anointed One,[†] the prince, will be seven weeks and sixty-two weeks. It will be built again, with street and moat, even in troubled times. 26 After the sixty-two weeks the Anointed One[‡] will be cut off, and will have nothing. The people of the prince who come will destroy the city and the sanctuary. Its end will be with a flood, and war will be even to the end. Desolations are determined. 27 He will make a firm covenant with many for one week. In the middle of the week he will cause the sacrifice and the offering to cease. On the wing of abominations will come one who makes desolate; and even to the decreed full end, wrath will be poured out on the desolate.”

1 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a message was revealed to Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the message was true, even a great warfare. He understood the message, and had understanding of the vision.

2 In those days I, Daniel, was mourning three whole weeks. 3 I ate no pleasant food. No meat or wine came into my mouth. I didn't anoint myself at all, until three whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 In the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is Hiddekel, * 5 I lifted up my eyes and looked, and behold, there was a man clothed in linen, whose waist was adorned with pure gold of Uphaz. 6 His body also was like beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as flaming torches. His arms and his feet were like burnished bronze. The voice of his words was like the voice of a multitude.

7 I, Daniel, alone saw the vision, for the men who were with me didn't see the vision, but a great quaking fell on them, and they fled to hide themselves.

8 So I was left alone and saw this great vision. No strength remained in me; for my face grew deathly pale, and I retained no strength. 9 Yet I heard the voice of his words. When I heard the voice of his words, then I fell into a deep sleep on my face, with my face toward the ground.

10 Behold, a hand touched me, which set me on my knees and on the palms of my hands. 11 He said to me, “Daniel, you greatly beloved man, understand the words that I speak to you, and stand upright, for I have been sent to you, now.” When he had spoken this word to me, I stood trembling.

12 Then he said to me, “Don't be afraid, Daniel; for from the first day that you set your heart to understand, and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard. I have come for your words' sake. 13 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me twenty-one days; but, behold, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me because I remained there with the kings of Persia. 14 Now I have come to make you understand what will happen to your people in the latter days, for the vision is yet for many days.”

15 When he had spoken these words to me, I set my face toward the ground and was mute. 16 Behold, one in the likeness of the sons of men touched my lips. Then I opened my mouth, and spoke and said to him who stood before me, “My lord, by reason of the vision my sorrows have overtaken me, and

[†] 9:25 “Anointed One” can also be translated “Messiah” (same as “Christ”). [‡] 9:26 “Anointed One” can also be translated “Messiah” (same as “Christ”). * 10:4 or, Tigris River

I retain no strength. ¹⁷ For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? For as for me, immediately there remained no strength in me. There was no breath left in me."

¹⁸ Then one like the appearance of a man touched me again, and he strengthened me. ¹⁹ He said, "Greatly beloved man, don't be afraid. Peace be to you. Be strong. Yes, be strong."

When he spoke to me, I was strengthened, and said, "Let my lord speak, for you have strengthened me."

²⁰ Then he said, "Do you know why I have come to you? Now I will return to fight with the prince of Persia. When I go out, behold, the prince of Greece will come. ²¹ But I will tell you that which is inscribed in the writing of truth. There is no one who holds with me against these but Michael your prince.

¹ "As for me, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him.

² "Now I will show you the truth. Behold, three more kings will stand up in Persia. The fourth will be far richer than all of them. When he has grown strong through his riches, he will stir up all against the realm of Greece.

⁵ "The king of the south will be strong. One of his princes will become stronger than him, and have dominion. His dominion will be a great dominion. ⁶ At the end of years they will join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south will come to the king of the north to make an agreement, but she will not retain the strength of her arm. He will also not stand, nor will his arm; but she will be given up, with those who brought her, and he who became the father of her, and he who strengthened her in those times.

¹¹ "The king of the south will be moved with anger and will come out and fight with him, even with the king of the north. He will send out a great multitude, and the multitude will be given into his hand. ¹² The multitude will be carried off, and his heart will be exalted. He will cast down tens of thousands, but he won't prevail. ¹³ The king of the north will return, and will send out a multitude greater than the former. He will come on at the end of the times, even of years, with a great army and with abundant supplies.

the vision, but they will fall. ¹⁵ So the king of the north will come and cast up a mound, and take a well-fortified city. The forces of the south won't stand, neither will his select troops, neither will there be any strength to stand. ¹⁶ But he who comes against him will do according to his own will, and no one will stand before him. He will stand in the glorious land, and destruction will be in his hand. ¹⁷ He will set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, and with him equitable conditions. He will perform them. He will give him the daughter of women, to destroy the kingdom, but she will not stand, and won't be for him. ¹⁸ After this he will turn his face to the islands, and will take many, but a prince will cause the reproach offered by him to cease. Yes, moreover, he will cause his reproach to turn on him. ¹⁹ Then he will turn his face toward the fortresses of his own land; but he will stumble and fall, and won't be found.

²⁰ "Then one who will cause a tax collector to pass through the kingdom to maintain its glory will stand up in his place; but within few days he shall be destroyed, not in anger, and not in battle.

²¹ "In his place a contemptible person will stand up, to whom they had not given the honor of the kingdom; but he will come in time of security, and will obtain the kingdom by flatteries. ²² The overwhelming forces will be overwhelmed from before him, and will be broken. Yes, also the prince of the covenant. ²³ After the treaty made with him he will work deceitfully; for he will come up and will become strong with few people. ²⁴ In time of security he will come even on the fattest places of the province. He will do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers. He will scatter among them prey, plunder, and wealth. Yes, he will devise his plans against the strongholds, but only for a time.

³¹ "Forces from him will profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and will take away the continual burnt offering. Then they will set up the abomination that makes desolate. ³² He will corrupt those who do wickedly against the covenant by flatteries; but the people who know their God will be strong and take action.

³³ "Those who are wise among the people will instruct many; yet they will fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by plunder, many days. ³⁴ Now when they fall, they will be helped with a little help; but many will join themselves to them with flatteries. ³⁵ Some of those who are wise will fall—to refine them, and to purify, and to make them white, even to the time of the end, because it is yet for the time appointed.

³⁶ “The king will do according to his will. He will exalt himself and magnify himself above every god, and will speak marvelous things against the God of gods. He will prosper until the indignation is accomplished, for that which is determined will be done. ³⁷ He won’t regard the gods of his fathers, or the desire of women, or regard any god; for he will magnify himself above all. ³⁸ But in their place, he will honor the god of fortresses. He will honor a god whom his fathers didn’t know with gold, silver, and with precious stones and pleasant things. ³⁹ He will deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a foreign god. He will increase with glory whoever acknowledges him. He will cause them to rule over many, and will divide the land for a price.

⁴⁰ “At the time of the end the king of the south will contend with him; and the king of the north will come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, with horsemen, and with many ships. He will enter into the countries, and will overflow and pass through. ⁴¹ He will enter also into the glorious land, and many countries will be overthrown; but these will be delivered out of his hand: Edom, Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon. ⁴² He will also stretch out his hand on the countries. The land of Egypt won’t escape. ⁴³ But he will have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt. The Libyans and the Ethiopians will follow his steps. ⁴⁴ But news out of the east and out of the north will trouble him; and he will go out with great fury to destroy and utterly to sweep away many. ⁴⁵ He will plant the tents of his palace between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he will come to his end, and no one will help him.

¹ “At that time Michael will stand up, the great prince who stands for the children of your people; and there will be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time. At that time your people will be delivered, everyone who is found written in the book. ² Many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth will awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. ³ Those who are wise will shine as the brightness of the expanse. Those who turn many to righteousness will shine as the stars forever and ever. ⁴ But you, Daniel, shut up the words and seal the book, even to the time of the end. Many will run back and forth, and knowledge will be increased.”

⁸ I heard, but I didn’t understand. Then I said, “My lord, what will be the outcome of these things?”

⁹ He said, “Go your way, Daniel; for the words are shut up and sealed until the time of the end. ¹⁰ Many will purify themselves, and make themselves white, and be refined, but the wicked will do wickedly; and none of the wicked will understand, but those who are wise will understand.

¹¹ “From the time that the continual burnt offering is taken away and the abomination that makes desolate set up, there will be one thousand two hundred ninety days. ¹² Blessed is he who waits, and comes to the one thousand three hundred thirty-five days.

¹³ “But go your way until the end; for you will rest, and will stand in your inheritance at the end of the days.”

The Book of Hosea

¹ The LORD's* word that came to Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

² When the LORD spoke at first by Hosea, the LORD said to Hosea, "Go, take for yourself a wife of prostitution and children of unfaithfulness; for the land commits great adultery, forsaking the LORD."

³ So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived, and bore him a son.

⁴ The LORD said to him, "Call his name Jezreel, for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel on the house of Jehu, and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease. ⁵ It will happen in that day that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel."

⁶ She conceived again, and bore a daughter.

Then he said to him, "Call her name Lo-Ruhamah,† for I will no longer have mercy on the house of Israel, that I should in any way pardon them. ⁷ But I will have mercy on the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God,‡ and will not save them by bow, sword, battle, horses, or horsemen."

⁸ Now when she had weaned Lo-Ruhamah, she conceived, and bore a son.

⁹ He said, "Call his name Lo-Ammi,§ for you are not my people, and I will not be yours. ¹⁰ Yet the number of the children of Israel will be as the sand of the sea, which can't be measured or counted; and it will come to pass that, in the place where it was said to them, 'You are not my people,' they will be called 'sons of the living God.' ¹¹ The children of Judah and the children of Israel will be gathered together, and they will appoint themselves one head, and will go up from the land; for great will be the day of Jezreel.

¹ "Say to your brothers, 'My people!'^{*} and to your sisters, 'My loved one!'[†]

² Contend with your mother!

Contend, for she is not my wife,
neither am I her husband;

and let her put away her prostitution from her face,
and her adulteries from between her breasts;

³ lest I strip her naked, and make her bare as in the day that she was born,

and make her like a wilderness,
and set her like a dry land,
and kill her with thirst.

⁴ Indeed, on her children I will have no mercy, for they are children of unfaithfulness.

* 1:1 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh). † 1:6 Lo-Ruhamah means "not loved". ‡ 1:7 The Hebrew word rendered "God" is "אֱלֹהִים" (Elohim). § 1:9 Lo-Ammi means "not my people".

* 2:1 'Ammi' in Hebrew † 2:1 'Ruhamah' in Hebrew

- ⁵ For their mother has played the prostitute.
She who conceived them has done shamefully;
for she said, 'I will go after my lovers,
who give me my bread and my water,
my wool and my flax,
my oil and my drink.'
- ⁶ Therefore behold,[‡] I will hedge up your way with thorns, and I will build a wall against her,
that she can't find her way.
- ⁷ She will follow after her lovers,
but she won't overtake them;
and she will seek them,
but won't find them.
- Then she will say, 'I will go and return to my first husband, for then it was better with me than now.'
- ⁸ For she didn't know that I gave her the grain, the new wine, and the oil, and multiplied to her silver and gold, which they used for Baal.
- ⁹ Therefore I will take back my grain in its time,
and my new wine in its season, and will pluck away my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness.
- ¹⁰ Now I will uncover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers,
and no one will deliver her out of my hand.
- ¹¹ I will also cause all her celebrations to cease:
her feasts, her new moons, her Sabbaths, and all her solemn assemblies.
- ¹² I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees, about which she has said, 'These are my wages that my lovers have given me,'
and I will make them a forest,
and the animals of the field shall eat them.
- ¹³ I will visit on her the days of the Baals, to which she burned incense when she decked herself with her earrings and her jewels, and went after her lovers and forgot me," says the LORD.
- ¹⁴ "Therefore behold, I will allure her,
and bring her into the wilderness,
and speak tenderly to her.
- ¹⁵ I will give her vineyards from there,
and the valley of Achor for a door of hope;
and she will respond there
as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.
- ¹⁶ It will be in that day," says the LORD,
"that you will call me 'my husband,' and no longer call me 'my master.'
- ¹⁷ For I will take away the names of the Baals out of her mouth, and they will no longer be mentioned by name.
- ¹⁸ In that day I will make a covenant for them with the animals of the field, and with the birds of the sky,

[‡] 2:6 "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

- and with the creeping things of the ground.
I will break the bow, the sword, and the battle out of the land,
and will make them lie down safely.
- ¹⁹ I will betroth you to me forever.
Yes, I will betroth you to me in righteousness, in justice, in loving kindness, and in compassion.
- ²⁰ I will even betroth you to me in faithfulness;
and you shall know the LORD.
- ²¹ It will happen in that day, that I will respond," says the LORD.
"I will respond to the heavens, and they will respond to the earth;
²² and the earth will respond to the grain, and the new wine, and the oil;
and they will respond to Jezreel.
- ²³ I will sow her to me in the earth;
and I will have mercy on her who had not obtained mercy;
and I will tell those who were not my people, 'You are my people;'
and they will say, 'You are My God!' "

¹ The LORD said to me, "Go again, love a woman loved by another; and an adulteress, even as the LORD loves the children of Israel, though they turn to other gods, and love cakes of raisins."

² So I bought her for myself for fifteen pieces of silver and a homer* and a half of barley. ³ I said to her, "You shall stay with me many days. You shall not play the prostitute, and you shall not be with any other man. I will also be so toward you."

⁴ For the children of Israel shall live many days without king, without prince, without sacrifice, without sacred stone, and without ephod or idols.

⁵ Afterward the children of Israel shall return and seek the LORD their God, and David their king, and shall come with trembling to the LORD and to his blessings in the last days.

¹ Hear the LORD's word, you children of Israel, for the LORD has a charge against the inhabitants of the land:
"Indeed there is no truth, nor goodness,
nor knowledge of God in the land.

² There is cursing, lying, murder, stealing, and committing adultery;
they break boundaries, and bloodshed causes bloodshed.

³ Therefore the land will mourn, and everyone who dwells in it will waste away,
with all living things in her,
even the animals of the field and the birds of the sky;
yes, the fish of the sea also die.

⁴ "Yet let no man bring a charge, neither let any man accuse;
for your people are like those who bring charges against a priest.

⁵ You will stumble in the day, and the prophet will also stumble with you in the night;
and I will destroy your mother.

* 3:2 1 homer is about 220 liters or 6 bushels

- ⁶ My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge.
Because you have rejected knowledge, I will also reject you,
that you may be no priest to me.
Because you have forgotten your God's law,
I will also forget your children.
- ⁷ As they were multiplied, so they sinned against me.
I will change their glory into shame.
- ⁸ They feed on the sin of my people,
and set their heart on their iniquity.
- ⁹ It will be like people, like priest;
and I will punish them for their ways,
and will repay them for their deeds.
- ¹⁰ They will eat, and not have enough.
They will play the prostitute, and will not increase;
because they have abandoned listening to the LORD.
- ¹¹ Prostitution, wine, and new wine take away understanding.
¹² My people consult with their wooden idol,
and answer to a stick of wood.
Indeed the spirit of prostitution has led them astray,
and they have been unfaithful to their God.
- ¹³ They sacrifice on the tops of the mountains, and burn incense on the hills, under oaks, poplars, and terebinths, because its shade is good.
Therefore your daughters play the prostitute,
and your brides commit adultery.
- ¹⁴ I will not punish your daughters when they play the prostitute, nor your brides when they commit adultery;
because the men consort with prostitutes,
and they sacrifice with the shrine prostitutes;
so the people without understanding will come to ruin.
- ¹⁵ "Though you, Israel, play the prostitute, yet don't let Judah offend;
and don't come to Gilgal,
neither go up to Beth Aven,
nor swear, 'As the LORD lives.'
- ¹⁶ For Israel has behaved extremely stubbornly, like a stubborn heifer.
Then how will the LORD feed them like a lamb in a meadow?
- ¹⁷ Ephraim is joined to idols.
Leave him alone!
- ¹⁸ Their drink has become sour.
They play the prostitute continually.
Her rulers dearly love their shameful way.
- ¹⁹ The wind has wrapped her up in its wings;
and they shall be disappointed because of their sacrifices.

- ¹ "Listen to this, you priests!
Listen, house of Israel,
and give ear, house of the king!
For the judgment is against you;

for you have been a snare at Mizpah,
and a net spread on Tabor.

² The rebels are deep in slaughter, but I discipline all of them.

³ I know Ephraim,
and Israel is not hidden from me;
for now, Ephraim, you have played the prostitute.
Israel is defiled.

⁴ Their deeds won't allow them to turn to their God,
for the spirit of prostitution is within them,
and they don't know the LORD.

⁵ The pride of Israel testifies to his face.
Therefore Israel and Ephraim will stumble in their iniquity.
Judah also will stumble with them.

⁶ They will go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD,
but they won't find him.
He has withdrawn himself from them.

⁷ They are unfaithful to the LORD;
for they have borne illegitimate children.
Now the new moon will devour them with their fields.

⁸ "Blow the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah!
Sound a battle cry at Beth Aven, behind you, Benjamin!

⁹ Ephraim will become a desolation in the day of rebuke.
Among the tribes of Israel, I have made known that which will surely be.

¹⁰ The princes of Judah are like those who remove a landmark.
I will pour out my wrath on them like water.

¹¹ Ephraim is oppressed,
he is crushed in judgment,
because he is intent in his pursuit of idols.

¹² Therefore I am to Ephraim like a moth, and to the house of Judah like rotteness.

¹³ "When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah his wound,
then Ephraim went to Assyria,
and sent to King Jareb:

but he is not able to heal you,
neither will he cure you of your wound.

¹⁴ For I will be to Ephraim like a lion, and like a young lion to the house of Judah.

I myself will tear in pieces and go away.
I will carry off, and there will be no one to deliver.

¹⁵ I will go and return to my place, until they acknowledge their offense,
and seek my face.
In their affliction they will seek me earnestly."

6

- 1 “Come! Let’s return to the LORD;
for he has torn us to pieces,
and he will heal us;
he has injured us,
and he will bind up our wounds.
2 After two days he will revive us.
On the third day he will raise us up,
and we will live before him.
3 Let’s acknowledge the LORD.
Let’s press on to know the LORD.
As surely as the sun rises,
the LORD will appear.
He will come to us like the rain,
like the spring rain that waters the earth.”
- 4 “Ephraim, what shall I do to you?
Judah, what shall I do to you?
For your love is like a morning cloud,
and like the dew that disappears early.
5 Therefore I have cut them to pieces with the prophets;
I killed them with the words of my mouth.
Your judgments are like a flash of lightning.
6 For I desire mercy, and not sacrifice;
and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.
7 But they, like Adam, have broken the covenant.
They were unfaithful to me there.
8 Gilead is a city of those who work iniquity;
it is stained with blood.
9 As gangs of robbers wait to ambush a man,
so the company of priests murder on the path toward Shechem, committing shameful crimes.
10 In the house of Israel I have seen a horrible thing.
There is prostitution in Ephraim.
Israel is defiled.
11 “Also, Judah, there is a harvest appointed for you,
when I restore the fortunes of my people.

7

- 1 When I would heal Israel,
then the iniquity of Ephraim is uncovered,
also the wickedness of Samaria;
for they commit falsehood,
and the thief enters in,
and the gang of robbers ravages outside.
2 They don’t consider in their hearts that I remember all their wickedness.
Now their own deeds have engulfed them.
They are before my face.
3 They make the king glad with their wickedness,
and the princes with their lies.
4 They are all adulterers.

They are burning like an oven that the baker stops stirring,
from the kneading of the dough, until it is leavened.

5 On the day of our king, the princes made themselves sick with the heat of wine.

He joined his hand with mockers.

6 For they have prepared their heart like an oven,
while they lie in wait.

Their anger smolders all night.

In the morning it burns as a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges.

All their kings have fallen.

There is no one among them who calls to me.

8 Ephraim mixes himself among the nations.

Ephraim is a pancake not turned over.

9 Strangers have devoured his strength,
and he doesn't realize it.

Indeed, gray hairs are here and there on him,
and he doesn't realize it.

10 The pride of Israel testifies to his face;
yet they haven't returned to the LORD their God, nor sought him, for all this.

11 "Ephraim is like an easily deceived dove, without understanding.

They call to Egypt.

They go to Assyria.

12 When they go, I will spread my net on them.

I will bring them down like the birds of the sky.

I will chastise them, as their congregation has heard.

13 Woe to them!

For they have wandered from me.

Destruction to them!

For they have trespassed against me.

Though I would redeem them,

yet they have spoken lies against me.

14 They haven't cried to me with their heart, but they howl on their beds.

They assemble themselves for grain and new wine.

They turn away from me.

15 Though I have taught and strengthened their arms, yet they plot evil against me.

16 They return, but not to the Most High.

They are like a faulty bow.

Their princes will fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue.

This will be their derision in the land of Egypt.

8

1 "Put the trumpet to your lips!

Something like an eagle is over the LORD's house, because they have broken my covenant and rebelled against my law.

- ² They cry to me, 'My God, we, Israel, acknowledge you!'
³ Israel has cast off that which is good.
The enemy will pursue him.
- ⁴ They have set up kings, but not by me.
They have made princes, and I didn't approve.
Of their silver and their gold they have made themselves idols,
that they may be cut off.
- ⁵ Let Samaria throw out his calf idol!
My anger burns against them!
How long will it be until they are capable of purity?
- ⁶ For this is even from Israel!
The workman made it, and it is no God;
indeed, the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.
- ⁷ For they sow the wind,
and they will reap the whirlwind.
He has no standing grain.
The stalk will yield no head.
If it does yield, strangers will swallow it up.
- ⁸ Israel is swallowed up.
Now they are among the nations like a worthless thing.
- ⁹ For they have gone up to Assyria,
like a wild donkey wandering alone.
Ephraim has hired lovers for himself.
- ¹⁰ But although they sold themselves among the nations,
I will now gather them;
and they begin to waste away because of the oppression of the king of mighty ones.
- ¹¹ Because Ephraim has multiplied altars for sinning, they became for him altars for sinning.
- ¹² I wrote for him the many things of my law,
but they were regarded as a strange thing.
- ¹³ As for the sacrifices of my offerings,
they sacrifice meat and eat it,
but the LORD doesn't accept them.
Now he will remember their iniquity,
and punish their sins.
They will return to Egypt.
- ¹⁴ For Israel has forgotten his Maker and built palaces;
and Judah has multiplied fortified cities;
but I will send a fire on his cities,
and it will devour its fortresses."

9

- ¹ Don't rejoice, Israel, to jubilation like the nations;
for you were unfaithful to your God.
You love the wages of a prostitute at every grain threshing floor.
- ² The threshing floor and the wine press won't feed them,
and the new wine will fail her.
- ³ They won't dwell in the LORD's land;
but Ephraim will return to Egypt,

and they will eat unclean food in Assyria.

- ⁴ They won't pour out wine offerings to the LORD,
neither will they be pleasing to him.
Their sacrifices will be to them like the bread of mourners;
all who eat of it will be polluted;
for their bread will be for their appetite.
It will not come into the LORD's house.

- ⁵ What will you do in the day of solemn assembly, and in the day of the feast of the LORD?

- ⁶ For, behold, when they flee destruction,
Egypt will gather them up.
Memphis will bury them.
Nettles will possess their pleasant things of silver.
Thorns will be in their tents.

- ⁷ The days of visitation have come.
The days of reckoning have come.

Israel will consider the prophet to be a fool,
and the man who is inspired to be insane,
because of the abundance of your sins,
and because your hostility is great.

- ⁸ A prophet watches over Ephraim with my God.
A fowler's snare is on all of his paths,
and hostility in the house of his God.

- ⁹ They have deeply corrupted themselves,
as in the days of Gibeah.
He will remember their iniquity.
He will punish them for their sins.

- ¹⁰ I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness.
I saw your fathers as the first ripe in the fig tree at its first season;
but they came to Baal Peor, and consecrated themselves to the shameful thing,
and became abominable like that which they loved.

- ¹¹ As for Ephraim, their glory will fly away like a bird.
There will be no birth, no one with child, and no conception.

- ¹² Though they bring up their children,
yet I will bereave them, so that not a man shall be left.
Indeed, woe also to them when I depart from them!

- ¹³ I have seen Ephraim, like Tyre, planted in a pleasant place;
but Ephraim will bring out his children to the murderer.

- ¹⁴ Give them—LORD what will you give?
Give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts.

- ¹⁵ "All their wickedness is in Gilgal;
for there I hated them.
Because of the wickedness of their deeds, I will drive them out of my house!
I will love them no more.
All their princes are rebels.

- ¹⁶ Ephraim is struck.
Their root has dried up.
They will bear no fruit.

Even though they give birth, yet I will kill the beloved ones of their womb."

- 17 My God will cast them away, because they didn't listen to him; and they will be wanderers among the nations.

10

- 1 Israel is a luxuriant vine that produces his fruit.
According to the abundance of his fruit he has multiplied his altars.
As their land has prospered, they have adorned their sacred stones.
- 2 Their heart is divided.
Now they will be found guilty.
He will demolish their altars.
He will destroy their sacred stones.
- 3 Surely now they will say, "We have no king; for we don't fear the LORD;
and the king, what can he do for us?"
- 4 They make promises, swearing falsely in making covenants.
Therefore judgment springs up like poisonous weeds in the furrows of the field.
- 5 The inhabitants of Samaria will be in terror for the calves of Beth Aven, for its people will mourn over it,
along with its priests who rejoiced over it,
for its glory, because it has departed from it.
- 6 It also will be carried to Assyria for a present to a great king.
Ephraim will receive shame,
and Israel will be ashamed of his own counsel.
- 7 Samaria and her king float away
like a twig on the water.
- 8 The high places also of Aven, the sin of Israel, will be destroyed.
The thorn and the thistle will come up on their altars.
They will tell the mountains, "Cover us!" and the hills, "Fall on us!"
- 9 "Israel, you have sinned from the days of Gibeah.
There they remained.
The battle against the children of iniquity doesn't overtake them in Gibeah.
- 10 When it is my desire, I will chastise them;
and the nations will be gathered against them
when they are bound to their two transgressions.
- 11 Ephraim is a trained heifer that loves to thresh,
so I will put a yoke on her beautiful neck.
I will set a rider on Ephraim.
Judah will plow.
Jacob will break his clods.
- 12 Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap according to kindness.
Break up your fallow ground,
for it is time to seek the LORD,
until he comes and rains righteousness on you.
- 13 You have plowed wickedness.
You have reaped iniquity.
You have eaten the fruit of lies,

for you trusted in your way, in the multitude of your mighty men.

- ¹⁴ Therefore a battle roar will arise among your people,
and all your fortresses will be destroyed,
as Shalman destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of battle.
The mother was dashed in pieces with her children.
- ¹⁵ So Bethel will do to you because of your great wickedness.
At daybreak the king of Israel will be destroyed.

11

- ¹ “When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt.
- ² They called to them, so they went from them.
They sacrificed to the Baals,
and burned incense to engraved images.
- ³ Yet I taught Ephraim to walk.
I took them by their arms,
but they didn’t know that I healed them.
- ⁴ I drew them with cords of a man, with ties of love;
and I was to them like those who lift up the yoke on their necks;
and I bent down to him and I fed him.
- ⁵ “They won’t return into the land of Egypt;
but the Assyrian will be their king,
because they refused to repent.
- ⁶ The sword will fall on their cities,
and will destroy the bars of their gates,
and will put an end to their plans.
- ⁷ My people are determined to turn from me.
Though they call to the Most High,
he certainly won’t exalt them.
- ⁸ “How can I give you up, Ephraim?
How can I hand you over, Israel?
How can I make you like Admah?
How can I make you like Zeboiim?
My heart is turned within me,
my compassion is aroused.
- ⁹ I will not execute the fierceness of my anger.
I will not return to destroy Ephraim, for I am God, and not man—the Holy One among you.
I will not come in wrath.
- ¹⁰ They will walk after the LORD,
who will roar like a lion;
for he will roar, and the children will come trembling from the west.
- ¹¹ They will come trembling like a bird out of Egypt, and like a dove out of the land of Assyria;
and I will settle them in their houses,” says the LORD.
- ¹² Ephraim surrounds me with falsehood, and the house of Israel with deceit.
Judah still strays from God,

and is unfaithful to the Holy One.

12

- ¹ Ephraim feeds on wind,
and chases the east wind.
He continually multiplies lies and desolation.
They make a covenant with Assyria, and oil is carried into Egypt.
- ² The LORD also has a controversy with Judah, and will punish Jacob according to his ways;
according to his deeds he will repay him.
- ³ In the womb he took his brother by the heel,
and in his manhood he contended with God.
- ⁴ Indeed, he struggled with the angel, and prevailed;
he wept, and made supplication to him.
He found him at Bethel, and there he spoke with us—
⁵ even the LORD, the God of Armies.
The LORD is his name of renown!
- ⁶ Therefore turn to your God.
Keep kindness and justice,
and wait continually for your God.
- ⁷ A merchant has dishonest scales in his hand.
He loves to defraud.
- ⁸ Ephraim said, “Surely I have become rich.
I have found myself wealth.
In all my wealth they won’t find in me any iniquity that is sin.”
- ⁹ “But I am the LORD your God from the land of Egypt.
I will yet again make you dwell in tents,
as in the days of the solemn feast.
- ¹⁰ I have also spoken to the prophets,
and I have multiplied visions;
and by the ministry of the prophets I have used parables.
- ¹¹ If Gilead is wicked, surely they are worthless.
- In Gilgal they sacrifice bulls.
Indeed, their altars are like heaps in the furrows of the field.
- ¹² Jacob fled into the country of Aram.
Israel served to get a wife.
For a wife he tended flocks and herds.
- ¹³ By a prophet the LORD brought Israel up out of Egypt, and by a prophet he was preserved.
- ¹⁴ Ephraim has bitterly provoked anger.
Therefore his blood will be left on him,
and his Lord* will repay his contempt.

13

- ¹ When Ephraim spoke, there was trembling.
He exalted himself in Israel,

* 12:14 The word translated “Lord” is “Adonai.”

but when he became guilty through Baal, he died.

- ² Now they sin more and more,
and have made themselves molten images of their silver,
even idols according to their own understanding,
all of them the work of the craftsmen.
They say of them, 'They offer human sacrifice and kiss the calves.'
- ³ Therefore they will be like the morning mist, like the dew that passes away early,
like the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the threshing floor,
and like the smoke out of the chimney.
- ⁴ "Yet I am the LORD your God from the land of Egypt;
and you shall acknowledge no god but me,
and besides me there is no savior.
- ⁵ I knew you in the wilderness,
in the land of great drought.
- ⁶ According to their pasture, so were they filled;
they were filled, and their heart was exalted.
Therefore they have forgotten me.
- ⁷ Therefore I am like a lion to them.
Like a leopard, I will lurk by the path.
- ⁸ I will meet them like a bear that is bereaved of her cubs,
and will tear the covering of their heart.
There I will devour them like a lioness.
The wild animal will tear them.
- ⁹ You are destroyed, Israel, because you are against me, against your helper.
- ¹⁰ Where is your king now, that he may save you in all your cities?
And your judges, of whom you said, 'Give me a king and princes'?
- ¹¹ I have given you a king in my anger,
and have taken him away in my wrath.
- ¹² The guilt of Ephraim is stored up.
His sin is stored up.
- ¹³ The sorrows of a traveling woman will come on him.
He is an unwise son,
for when it is time, he doesn't come to the opening of the womb.
- ¹⁴ I will ransom them from the power of Sheol.*
I will redeem them from death!
Death, where are your plagues?
Sheol, where is your destruction?
- "Compassion will be hidden from my eyes.
- ¹⁵ Though he is fruitful among his brothers, an east wind will come,
the breath of the LORD coming up from the wilderness;
and his spring will become dry,
and his fountain will be dried up.
He will plunder the storehouse of treasure.
- ¹⁶ Samaria will bear her guilt,
for she has rebelled against her God.
They will fall by the sword.

* 13:14 Sheol is the place of the dead.

Their infants will be dashed in pieces,
and their pregnant women will be ripped open.”

14

- ¹ Israel, return to the LORD your God;
for you have fallen because of your sin.
- ² Take words with you, and return to the LORD.
Tell him, “Forgive all our sins,
and accept that which is good;
so we offer bulls as we vowed of our lips.
- ³ Assyria can’t save us.
We won’t ride on horses;
neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, ‘Our gods!’
for in you the fatherless finds mercy.”
- ⁴ “I will heal their waywardness.
I will love them freely;
for my anger is turned away from them.
- ⁵ I will be like the dew to Israel.
He will blossom like the lily,
and send down his roots like Lebanon.
- ⁶ His branches will spread,
and his beauty will be like the olive tree,
and his fragrance like Lebanon.
- ⁷ Men will dwell in his shade.
They will revive like the grain,
and blossom like the vine.
Their fragrance will be like the wine of Lebanon.
- ⁸ Ephraim, what have I to do any more with idols?
I answer, and will take care of him.
I am like a green cypress tree;
from me your fruit is found.”
- ⁹ Who is wise, that he may understand these things?
Who is prudent, that he may know them?
For the ways of the LORD are right,
and the righteous walk in them,
but the rebellious stumble in them.

The Book of Joel

- ¹ The LORD's* word that came to Joel, the son of Pethuel.
- ² Hear this, you elders,
and listen, all you inhabitants of the land!
Has this ever happened in your days,
or in the days of your fathers?
- ³ Tell your children about it,
and have your children tell their children,
and their children, another generation.
- ⁴ What the swarming locust has left, the great locust has eaten.
What the great locust has left, the grasshopper has eaten.
What the grasshopper has left, the caterpillar has eaten.
- ⁵ Wake up, you drunkards, and weep!
Wail, all you drinkers of wine, because of the sweet wine,
for it is cut off from your mouth.
- ⁶ For a nation has come up on my land, strong, and without number.
His teeth are the teeth of a lion,
and he has the fangs of a lioness.
- ⁷ He has laid my vine waste,
and stripped my fig tree.
He has stripped its bark, and thrown it away.
Its branches are made white.
- ⁸ Mourn like a virgin dressed in sackcloth for the husband of her youth!
- ⁹ The meal offering and the drink offering are cut off from the LORD's house.
The priests, the LORD's ministers, mourn.
- ¹⁰ The field is laid waste.
The land mourns, for the grain is destroyed,
The new wine has dried up,
and the oil languishes.
- ¹¹ Be confounded, you farmers!
Wail, you vineyard keepers,
for the wheat and for the barley;
for the harvest of the field has perished.
- ¹² The vine has dried up, and the fig tree withered—
the pomegranate tree, the palm tree also, and the apple tree, even all of the trees of the field are withered;
for joy has withered away from the sons of men.
- ¹³ Put on sackcloth and mourn, you priests!
Wail, you ministers of the altar.
Come, lie all night in sackcloth, you ministers of my God,[†] for the meal offering and the drink offering are withheld from your God's house.

* 1:1 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh). † 1:13 The Hebrew word rendered "God" is "אֱלֹהִים" (Elohim).

- ¹⁴ Sanctify a fast.
Call a solemn assembly.
Gather the elders and all the inhabitants of the land to the house of the LORD, your God,
and cry to the LORD.
- ¹⁵ Alas for the day!
For the day of the LORD is at hand,
and it will come as destruction from the Almighty.
- ¹⁶ Isn't the food cut off before our eyes,
joy and gladness from the house of our God?
- ¹⁷ The seeds rot under their clods.
The granaries are laid desolate.
The barns are broken down, for the grain has withered.
- ¹⁸ How the animals groan!
The herds of livestock are perplexed, because they have no pasture.
Yes, the flocks of sheep are made desolate.
- ¹⁹ LORD, I cry to you,
for the fire has devoured the pastures of the wilderness,
and the flame has burned all the trees of the field.
- ²⁰ Yes, the animals of the field pant to you,
for the water brooks have dried up,
and the fire has devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

- ¹ Blow the trumpet in Zion,
and sound an alarm in my holy mountain!
Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble, for the day of the LORD comes,
for it is close at hand:
- ² A day of darkness and gloominess,
a day of clouds and thick darkness.
As the dawn spreading on the mountains,
a great and strong people;
there has never been the like,
neither will there be any more after them,
even to the years of many generations.
- ³ A fire devours before them,
and behind them, a flame burns.
The land is as the garden of Eden before them,
and behind them, a desolate wilderness.
Yes, and no one has escaped them.
- ⁴ Their appearance is as the appearance of horses,
and they run as horsemen.
- ⁵ Like the noise of chariots on the tops of the mountains, they leap,
like the noise of a flame of fire that devours the stubble, like a strong people set in battle array.
- ⁶ At their presence the peoples are in anguish.
All faces have grown pale.
- ⁷ They run like mighty men.
They climb the wall like warriors.

They each march in his line, and they don't swerve off course.

⁸ One doesn't jostle another.

They each march in their own path.

They burst through the defenses and don't break ranks.

⁹ They rush on the city.

They run on the wall.

They climb up into the houses.

They enter in at the windows like thieves.

¹⁰ The earth quakes before them.

The heavens tremble.

The sun and the moon are darkened,

and the stars withdraw their shining.

¹¹ The LORD thunders his voice before his army, for his forces are very great;

for he is strong who obeys his command;

for the day of the LORD is great and very awesome, and who can endure it?

¹² "Yet even now," says the LORD, "turn to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning."

¹³ Tear your heart and not your garments, and turn to the LORD, your God;

for he is gracious and merciful,

slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness,

and relents from sending calamity.

¹⁴ Who knows? He may turn and relent, and leave a blessing behind him, even a meal offering and a drink offering to the LORD, your God.

¹⁵ Blow the trumpet in Zion!

Sanctify a fast.

Call a solemn assembly.

¹⁶ Gather the people.

Sanctify the assembly.

Assemble the elders.

Gather the children, and those who nurse from breasts.

Let the bridegroom go out of his room,

and the bride out of her chamber.

¹⁷ Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, "Spare your people, LORD,

and don't give your heritage to reproach,

that the nations should rule over them.

Why should they say among the peoples,

"Where is their God?" "

¹⁸ Then the LORD was jealous for his land, and had pity on his people.

¹⁹ The LORD answered his people,

"Behold, * I will send you grain, new wine, and oil,

and you will be satisfied with them;

and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations.

* 2:19 "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

20 But I will remove the northern army far away from you,
and will drive it into a barren and desolate land,
its front into the eastern sea,
and its back into the western sea;
and its stench will come up,
and its bad smell will rise.”

Surely he has done great things.

21 Land, don't be afraid.

Be glad and rejoice, for the LORD has done great things.

22 Don't be afraid, you animals of the field;
for the pastures of the wilderness spring up,
for the tree bears its fruit.
The fig tree and the vine yield their strength.

23 “Be glad then, you children of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD, your God;
for he gives you the early rain in just measure,
and he causes the rain to come down for you,
the early rain and the latter rain, as before.

24 The threshing floors will be full of wheat, and the vats will overflow with new wine and oil.

25 I will restore to you the years that the swarming locust has eaten, the great locust, the grasshopper, and the caterpillar,
my great army, which I sent among you.

26 You will have plenty to eat and be satisfied, and will praise the name of the LORD, your God,
who has dealt wondrously with you;
and my people will never again be disappointed.

27 You will know that I am among Israel, and that I am the LORD, your God, and there is no one else;
and my people will never again be disappointed.

28 “It will happen afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit on all flesh;
and your sons and your daughters will prophesy.
Your old men will dream dreams.
Your young men will see visions.

29 And also on the servants and on the handmaids in those days,
I will pour out my Spirit.

30 I will show wonders in the heavens and in the earth:
blood, fire, and pillars of smoke.

31 The sun will be turned into darkness,
and the moon into blood,
before the great and terrible day of the LORD comes.

32 It will happen that whoever will call on the LORD's name shall be saved;
for in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there will be those who escape, as the LORD has said,
and among the remnant, those whom the LORD calls.

1 “For, behold, in those days,
and in that time,

when I restore the fortunes of Judah and Jerusalem,

² I will gather all nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat;
and I will execute judgment on them there for my people, and for my heritage, Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations.

They have divided my land,

³ and have cast lots for my people,
and have given a boy for a prostitute,
and sold a girl for wine, that they may drink.

⁴ “Yes, and what are you to me, Tyre and Sidon, and all the regions of Philistia?

Will you repay me?

And if you repay me,

I will swiftly and speedily return your repayment on your own head.

⁵ Because you have taken my silver and my gold,
and have carried my finest treasures into your temples,

⁶ and have sold the children of Judah and the children of Jerusalem to the sons of the Greeks, that you may remove them far from their border.

⁷ Behold, I will stir them up out of the place where you have sold them,
and will return your repayment on your own head;

⁸ and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hands of the children of Judah,
and they will sell them to the men of Sheba,
to a faraway nation,
for the LORD has spoken it.”

⁹ Proclaim this among the nations:

“Prepare for war!

Stir up the mighty men.

Let all the warriors draw near.

Let them come up. ¹⁰ Beat your plowshares into swords, and your pruning hooks into spears.

Let the weak say, ‘I am strong.’

¹¹ Hurry and come, all you surrounding nations, and gather yourselves together.”

Cause your mighty ones to come down there, LORD.

¹² “Let the nations arouse themselves, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat;
for there I will sit to judge all the surrounding nations.

¹³ Put in the sickle;
for the harvest is ripe.

Come, tread, for the wine press is full,
the vats overflow, for their wickedness is great.”

¹⁴ Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision!
For the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision.

¹⁵ The sun and the moon are darkened,
and the stars withdraw their shining.

¹⁶ The LORD will roar from Zion, and thunder from Jerusalem;

and the heavens and the earth will shake;
but the LORD will be a refuge to his people,
and a stronghold to the children of Israel.

¹⁷ “So you will know that I am the LORD, your God, dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain.

Then Jerusalem will be holy,
and no strangers will pass through her any more.

¹⁸ It will happen in that day,
that the mountains will drop down sweet wine,
the hills will flow with milk,
all the brooks of Judah will flow with waters;
and a fountain will flow out from the LORD’s house,
and will water the valley of Shittim.

¹⁹ Egypt will be a desolation and Edom will be a desolate wilderness, for the violence done to the children of Judah,
because they have shed innocent blood in their land.

²⁰ But Judah will be inhabited forever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.

²¹ I will cleanse their blood that I have not cleansed, for the LORD dwells in Zion.”

The Book of Amos

¹ The words of Amos, who was among the herdsmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

² He said:

“The LORD* will roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem;
and the pastures of the shepherds will mourn,
and the top of Carmel will wither.”

³ The LORD says:

“For three transgressions of Damascus, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron;

⁴ but I will send a fire into the house of Hazael,
and it will devour the palaces of Ben Hadad.

⁵ I will break the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the valley of Aven,
and him who holds the scepter from the house of Eden;
and the people of Syria shall go into captivity to Kir,”
says the LORD.

⁶ The LORD says:

“For three transgressions of Gaza, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
because they carried away captive the whole community,
to deliver them up to Edom;

⁷ but I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza,
and it will devour its palaces.

⁸ I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him who holds the scepter from Ashkelon;
and I will turn my hand against Ekron;
and the remnant of the Philistines will perish,”
says the Lord† GOD.

⁹ The LORD says:

“For three transgressions of Tyre, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because they delivered up the whole community to Edom,
and didn’t remember the brotherly covenant;

¹⁰ but I will send a fire on the wall of Tyre,
and it will devour its palaces.”

¹¹ The LORD says:

“For three transgressions of Edom, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment,
because he pursued his brother with the sword and cast off all pity,
and his anger raged continually,

* 1:2 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, “LORD” or “GOD” is the translation of God’s Proper Name (Hebrew “יהוה”, usually pronounced Yahweh). † 1:8 The word translated “Lord” is “Adonai.”

- and he kept his wrath forever;
¹² but I will send a fire on Teman, and it will devour the palaces of Bozrah.”
¹³ The LORD says:
 “For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, yes, for four,
 I will not turn away its punishment,
 because they have ripped open the pregnant women of Gilead,
 that they may enlarge their border.
¹⁴ But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah,
 and it will devour its palaces,
 with shouting in the day of battle,
 with a storm in the day of the whirlwind;
¹⁵ and their king will go into captivity, he and his princes together,”
 says the LORD.

2

- ¹ The LORD says:
 “For three transgressions of Moab, yes, for four,
 I will not turn away its punishment,
 because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime;
² but I will send a fire on Moab, and it will devour the palaces of Kerioth;
 and Moab will die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet;
³ and I will cut off the judge from among them,
 and will kill all its princes with him,”
 says the LORD.
⁴ The LORD says:
 “For three transgressions of Judah, yes, for four,
 I will not turn away its punishment,
 because they have rejected the LORD’s law,
 and have not kept his statutes,
 and their lies have led them astray,
 after which their fathers walked;
⁵ but I will send a fire on Judah, and it will devour the palaces of Jerusalem.”
⁶ The LORD says:
 “For three transgressions of Israel, yes, for four,
 I will not turn away its punishment,
 because they have sold the righteous for silver,
 and the needy for a pair of sandals;
⁷ They trample the heads of the poor into the dust of the earth and deny justice to the oppressed.
 A man and his father use the same maiden, to profane my holy name.
⁸ They lay themselves down beside every altar on clothes taken in pledge.
 In the house of their God* they drink the wine of those who have been fined.

* 2:8 The Hebrew word rendered “God” is “אֱלֹהִים” (Elohim).

- ⁹ Yet I destroyed the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars,
 and he was strong as the oaks;
 yet I destroyed his fruit from above,
 and his roots from beneath.
- ¹⁰ Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt and led you forty years in the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite.
- ¹¹ I raised up some of your sons for prophets,
 and some of your young men for Nazirites.
 Isn't this true,
 you children of Israel?" says the LORD.
- ¹² "But you gave the Nazirites wine to drink, and commanded the prophets, saying, 'Don't prophesy!'
- ¹³ Behold,[†] I will crush you in your place,
 as a cart crushes that is full of grain.
- ¹⁴ Flight will perish from the swift.
 The strong won't strengthen his force.
 The mighty won't deliver himself.
- ¹⁵ He who handles the bow won't stand.
 He who is swift of foot won't escape.
 He who rides the horse won't deliver himself.
- ¹⁶ He who is courageous among the mighty will flee away naked on that day,"
 says the LORD.

3

- ¹ Hear this word that the LORD has spoken against you, children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying:
- ² "I have only chosen you of all the families of the earth.
 Therefore I will punish you for all of your sins."
- ³ Do two walk together,
 unless they have agreed?
- ⁴ Will a lion roar in the thicket,
 when he has no prey?
 Does a young lion cry out of his den,
 if he has caught nothing?
- ⁵ Can a bird fall in a trap on the earth,
 where no snare is set for him?
 Does a snare spring up from the ground,
 when there is nothing to catch?
- ⁶ Does the trumpet alarm sound in a city,
 without the people being afraid?
 Does evil happen to a city,
 and the LORD hasn't done it?
- ⁷ Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, unless he reveals his secret to his servants the prophets.
- ⁸ The lion has roared.
 Who will not fear?

[†] 2:13 "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

The Lord GOD has spoken.

Who can but prophesy?

⁹ Proclaim in the palaces at Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt,
and say, "Assemble yourselves on the mountains of Samaria, and see what unrest is in her,
and what oppression is among them."

¹⁰ "Indeed they don't know to do right," says the LORD,
"Who hoard plunder and loot in their palaces."

¹¹ Therefore the Lord GOD says:

"An adversary will overrun the land;
and he will pull down your strongholds,
and your fortresses will be plundered."

¹² The LORD says:

"As the shepherd rescues out of the mouth of the lion two legs,
or a piece of an ear,
so shall the children of Israel be rescued who sit in Samaria on the corner of a couch,
and on the silken cushions of a bed."

¹³ "Listen, and testify against the house of Jacob," says the Lord GOD, the God of Armies.

¹⁴ "For in the day that I visit the transgressions of Israel on him,
I will also visit the altars of Bethel;
and the horns of the altar will be cut off,
and fall to the ground.

¹⁵ I will strike the winter house with the summer house;
and the houses of ivory will perish,
and the great houses will have an end,"
says the LORD.

¹ Listen to this word, you cows of Bashan, who are on the mountain of Samaria, who oppress the poor, who crush the needy, who tell their husbands, "Bring us drinks!"

² The Lord GOD has sworn by his holiness,
"Behold, the days shall come on you that they will take you away with hooks,
and the last of you with fish hooks.

³ You will go out at the breaks in the wall, everyone straight before her;
and you will cast yourselves into Harmon," says the LORD.

⁴ "Go to Bethel, and sin;
to Gilgal, and sin more.

Bring your sacrifices every morning,
your tithes every three days,

⁵ offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of that which is leavened, and proclaim free will offerings and brag about them;
for this pleases you, you children of Israel," says the Lord GOD.

⁶ "I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and lack of bread in every town;
yet you haven't returned to me," says the LORD.

- 7 "I also have withheld the rain from you,
when there were yet three months to the harvest;
and I caused it to rain on one city,
and caused it not to rain on another city.
One field was rained on,
and the field where it didn't rain withered.
- 8 So two or three cities staggered to one city to drink water,
and were not satisfied;
yet you haven't returned to me," says the LORD.
- 9 "I struck you with blight and mildew many times in your gardens and your vineyards, and the swarming locusts have devoured your fig trees and your olive trees;
yet you haven't returned to me," says the LORD.
- 10 "I sent plagues among you like I did Egypt.
I have slain your young men with the sword,
and have carried away your horses.
I filled your nostrils with the stench of your camp,
yet you haven't returned to me," says the LORD.
- 11 "I have overthrown some of you,
as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and you were like a burning stick plucked out of the fire;
yet you haven't returned to me," says the LORD.
- 12 "Therefore I will do this to you, Israel;
because I will do this to you,
prepare to meet your God, Israel.
- 13 For, behold, he who forms the mountains, creates the wind, declares to man what is his thought,
who makes the morning darkness, and treads on the high places of the earth:
The LORD, the God of Armies, is his name."

5

1 Listen to this word which I take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel:

2 "The virgin of Israel has fallen;
She shall rise no more.
She is cast down on her land;
there is no one to raise her up."

3 For the Lord GOD says:
"The city that went out a thousand shall have a hundred left, and that which went out one hundred shall have ten left to the house of Israel."

4 For the LORD says to the house of Israel:
"Seek me, and you will live;

5 but don't seek Bethel,
nor enter into Gilgal,
and don't pass to Beersheba;
for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity,
and Bethel shall come to nothing.

6 Seek the LORD, and you will live, lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph,

and it devour, and there be no one to quench it in Bethel.

7 You who turn justice to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth!

8 Seek him who made the Pleiades and Orion, and turns the shadow of death into the morning,
and makes the day dark with night;
who calls for the waters of the sea,
and pours them out on the surface of the earth, the LORD is his name,

9 who brings sudden destruction on the strong,
so that destruction comes on the fortress.

10 They hate him who reproves in the gate, and they abhor him who speaks blamelessly.

11 Therefore, because you trample on the poor and take taxes from him of wheat,
you have built houses of cut stone, but you will not dwell in them.

You have planted pleasant vineyards,
but you shall not drink their wine.

12 For I know how many are your offenses, and how great are your sins—
you who afflict the just,
who take a bribe,
and who turn away the needy in the courts.

13 Therefore a prudent person keeps silent in such a time,
for it is an evil time.

14 Seek good, and not evil,
that you may live;
and so the LORD, the God of Armies, will be with you,
as you say.

15 Hate evil, love good,
and establish justice in the courts.

It may be that the LORD, the God of Armies, will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph."

16 Therefore the LORD, the God of Armies, the Lord, says:
"Wailing will be in all the wide ways.

They will say in all the streets, 'Alas! Alas!'

They will call the farmer to mourning, and those who are skillful in lamentation to wailing.

17 In all vineyards there will be wailing, for I will pass through the middle of you," says the LORD.

18 "Woe to you who desire the day of the LORD!
Why do you long for the day of the LORD?

It is darkness,
and not light.

19 As if a man fled from a lion,
and a bear met him;

or he went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall,
and a snake bit him.

20 Won't the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light?
Even very dark, and no brightness in it?

21 I hate, I despise your feasts, and I can't stand your solemn assemblies.

22 Yes, though you offer me your burnt offerings and meal offerings,

I will not accept them;
neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat animals.

²³ Take away from me the noise of your songs!

I will not listen to the music of your harps.

²⁴ But let justice roll on like rivers, and righteousness like a mighty stream.

²⁵ "Did you bring to me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, house of Israel? ²⁶ You also carried the tent of your king and the shrine of your images, the star of your god, which you made for yourselves.

²⁷ Therefore I will cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus," says the LORD, whose name is the God of Armies.

¹ Woe to those who are at ease in Zion, and to those who are secure on the mountain of Samaria,
the notable men of the chief of the nations,
to whom the house of Israel come!

² Go to Calneh, and see.

From there go to Hamath the great.

Then go down to Gath of the Philistines.

Are they better than these kingdoms?

Is their border greater than your border?

³ Alas for you who put far away the evil day,
and cause the seat of violence to come near,

⁴ who lie on beds of ivory,
and stretch themselves on their couches,
and eat the lambs out of the flock,
and the calves out of the middle of the stall,

⁵ who strum on the strings of a harp, who invent for themselves instruments of music, like David;

⁶ who drink wine in bowls,
and anoint themselves with the best oils,
but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph.

⁷ Therefore they will now go captive with the first who go captive.
The feasting and lounging will end.

⁸ "The Lord GOD has sworn by himself," says the LORD, the God of Armies:
"I abhor the pride of Jacob,
and detest his fortresses.

Therefore I will deliver up the city with all that is in it.

⁹ It will happen that if ten men remain in one house,
they will die.

¹⁰ "When a man's relative carries him, even he who burns him, to bring bodies out of the house, and asks him who is in the innermost parts of the house, 'Is there yet any with you?' And he says, 'No,' then he will say, 'Hush! Indeed we must not mention the LORD's name.'

¹¹ "For, behold, the LORD commands, and the great house will be smashed to pieces, and the little house into bits.

¹² Do horses run on the rocky crags?

Does one plow there with oxen?

But you have turned justice into poison,

and the fruit of righteousness into bitterness, ¹³ you who rejoice in a thing of nothing, who say,
 'Haven't we taken for ourselves horns by our own strength?'
¹⁴ For, behold, I will raise up against you a nation, house of Israel," says the LORD, the God of Armies;
 "and they will afflict you from the entrance of Hamath to the brook of the Arabah."

¹ Thus the Lord GOD showed me: behold, he formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and behold, it was the latter growth after the king's harvest. ² When they finished eating the grass of the land, then I said, "Lord GOD, forgive, I beg you! How could Jacob stand? For he is small."

³ The LORD relented concerning this. "It shall not be," says the LORD.

⁴ Thus the Lord GOD showed me: behold, the Lord GOD called for judgment by fire; and it dried up the great deep, and would have devoured the land. ⁵ Then I said, "Lord GOD, stop, I beg you! How could Jacob stand? For he is small."

⁶ The LORD relented concerning this. "This also shall not be," says the Lord GOD.

⁷ Thus he showed me: behold, the Lord stood beside a wall made by a plumb line, with a plumb line in his hand. ⁸ The LORD said to me, "Amos, what do you see?"

I said, "A plumb line."

Then the Lord said, "Behold, I will set a plumb line in the middle of my people Israel. I will not again pass by them any more. ⁹ The high places of Isaac will be desolate, the sanctuaries of Israel will be laid waste; and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword."

¹⁰ Then Amaziah the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, "Amos has conspired against you in the middle of the house of Israel. The land is not able to bear all his words. ¹¹ For Amos says, 'Jeroboam will die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.' "

¹² Amaziah also said to Amos, "You seer, go, flee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there, ¹³ but don't prophesy again any more at Bethel; for it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a royal house!"

¹⁴ Then Amos answered Amaziah, "I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet's son, but I was a herdsman, and a farmer of sycamore figs; ¹⁵ and the LORD took me from following the flock, and the LORD said to me, 'Go, prophesy to my people Israel.' ¹⁶ Now therefore listen to the LORD's word: 'You say, Don't prophesy against Israel, and don't preach against the house of Isaac.' ¹⁷ Therefore the LORD says: 'Your wife shall be a prostitute in the city, and your sons and your daughters shall fall by the sword, and your land shall be divided by line; and you yourself shall die in a land that is unclean, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.' "

¹ Thus the Lord GOD showed me: behold, a basket of summer fruit.

² He said, "Amos, what do you see?"

I said, "A basket of summer fruit."

Then the LORD said to me,

“The end has come on my people Israel.

I will not again pass by them any more.

³ The songs of the temple will be wailing in that day,” says the Lord GOD.

“The dead bodies will be many. In every place they will throw them out with silence.

⁴ Hear this, you who desire to swallow up the needy, and cause the poor of the land to fail,

⁵ saying, ‘When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell grain?

And the Sabbath, that we may market wheat, making the ephah* small, and the shekel† large,

and dealing falsely with balances of deceit;

⁶ that we may buy the poor for silver,

and the needy for a pair of sandals,

and sell the sweepings with the wheat?”

⁷ The LORD has sworn by the pride of Jacob,

“Surely I will never forget any of their works.

⁸ Won’t the land tremble for this,

and everyone mourn who dwells in it?

Yes, it will rise up wholly like the River;

and it will be stirred up and sink again, like the River of Egypt.

⁹ It will happen in that day,” says the Lord GOD,

“that I will cause the sun to go down at noon,

and I will darken the earth in the clear day.

¹⁰ I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation;

and I will make you wear sackcloth on all your bodies,

and baldness on every head.

I will make it like the mourning for an only son,

and its end like a bitter day.

¹¹ Behold, the days come,” says the Lord GOD,

“that I will send a famine in the land,

not a famine of bread,

nor a thirst for water,

but of hearing the LORD’s words.

¹² They will wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east;

they will run back and forth to seek the LORD’s word, and will not find it.

¹³ In that day the beautiful virgins and the young men will faint for thirst.

¹⁴ Those who swear by the sin of Samaria, and say, ‘As your god, Dan, lives,’

and, ‘As the way of Beersheba lives,’ they will fall, and never rise up again.”

¹ I saw the Lord standing beside the altar, and he said, “Strike the tops of the pillars, that the thresholds may shake. Break them in pieces on the head of all of them. I will kill the last of them with the sword. Not one of them will flee away. Not one of them will escape. ² Though they dig into Sheol,* there my hand will take them; and though they climb up to heaven, there I will bring them down. ³ Though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out from there; and though they be hidden from my sight in the bottom of the sea, there I will command the serpent, and it will bite them. ⁴ Though they go into captivity before their enemies, there I will command the sword, and it will kill them. I will set my eyes on them for evil, and not for good. ⁵ For the Lord, the GOD† of Armies, is he who touches the land and it melts, and all who dwell in it will mourn; and it will rise up wholly like the River, and will sink again, like the River of Egypt. ⁶ It is he who builds his rooms in the heavens, and has founded his vault on the earth; he who calls for the waters of the sea, and pours them out on the surface of the earth—the LORD is his name. ⁷ Are you not like the children of the Ethiopians to me, children of Israel?” says the LORD. “Haven’t I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir? ⁸ Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD are on the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the surface of the earth, except that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob,” says the LORD. ⁹ “For behold, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all the nations as grain is sifted in a sieve, yet not the least kernel will fall on the earth. ¹⁰ All the sinners of my people will die by the sword, who say, ‘Evil won’t overtake nor meet us.’ ¹¹ In that day I will raise up the tent of David who is fallen and close up its breaches, and I will raise up its ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old, ¹² that they may possess the remnant of Edom and all the nations who are called by my name,” says the LORD who does this. ¹³ “Behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the one treading grapes him who sows seed; and sweet wine will drip from the mountains, and flow from the hills. ¹⁴ I will bring my people Israel back from captivity, and they will rebuild the ruined cities, and inhabit them; and they will plant vineyards, and drink wine from them. They shall also make gardens, and eat their fruit. ¹⁵ I will plant them on their land, and they will no more be plucked up out of their land which I have given them,” says the LORD your God.

The Book of Obadiah

¹ The vision of Obadiah. This is what the Lord* GOD† says about Edom. We have heard news from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, “Arise, and let’s rise up against her in battle.” ² Behold,‡ I have made you small among the nations. You are greatly despised. ³ The pride of your heart has deceived you, you who dwell in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high, who says in his heart, “Who will bring me down to the ground?” ⁴ Though you mount on high as the eagle, and though your nest is set among the stars, I will bring you down from there,” says the LORD. ⁵ “If thieves came to you, if robbers by night—oh, what disaster awaits you—wouldn’t they only steal until they had enough? If grape pickers came to you, wouldn’t they leave some gleaning grapes?” ⁶ How Esau will be ransacked! How his hidden treasures are sought out! ⁷ All the men of your alliance have brought you on your way, even to the border. The men who were at peace with you have deceived you, and prevailed against you. Friends who eat your bread lay a snare under you. There is no understanding in him.”

⁸ “Won’t I in that day”, says the LORD, “destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mountain of Esau?” ⁹ Your mighty men, Teman, will be dismayed, to the end that everyone may be cut off from the mountain of Esau by slaughter. ¹⁰ For the violence done to your brother Jacob, shame will cover you, and you will be cut off forever. ¹¹ In the day that you stood on the other side, in the day that strangers carried away his substance and foreigners entered into his gates and cast lots for Jerusalem, even you were like one of them. ¹² But don’t look down on your brother in the day of his disaster, and don’t rejoice over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction. Don’t speak proudly in the day of distress. ¹³ Don’t enter into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity. Don’t look down on their affliction in the day of their calamity, neither seize their wealth on the day of their calamity. ¹⁴ Don’t stand in the crossroads to cut off those of his who escape. Don’t deliver up those of his who remain in the day of distress. ¹⁵ For the day of the LORD is near all the nations! As you have done, it will be done to you. Your deeds will return upon your own head. ¹⁶ For as you have drunk on my holy mountain, so all the nations will drink continually. Yes, they will drink, swallow down, and will be as though they had not been. ¹⁷ But in Mount Zion, there will be those who escape, and it will be holy. The house of Jacob will possess their possessions. ¹⁸ The house of Jacob will be a fire, the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble. They will burn among them and devour them. There will not be any remaining to the house of Esau.” Indeed, the LORD has spoken.

¹⁹ Those of the South will possess the mountain of Esau, and those of the lowland, the Philistines. They will possess the field of Ephraim, and the field of Samaria. Benjamin will possess Gilead. ²⁰ The captives of this army of the children of Israel, who are among the Canaanites, will possess even to Zarephath; and the captives of Jerusalem, who are in Sepharad, will possess the cities of the Negev. ²¹ Saviors will go up on Mount Zion to judge the mountains of Esau, and the kingdom will be the LORD's.

The Book of Jonah

⁴ But the LORD sent out a great wind on the sea, and there was a mighty storm on the sea, so that the ship was likely to break up. ⁵ Then the mariners were afraid, and every man cried to his god. They threw the cargo that was in the ship into the sea to lighten the ship. But Jonah had gone down into the innermost parts of the ship and he was laying down, and was fast asleep. ⁶ So the ship master came to him, and said to him, "What do you mean, sleeper? Arise, call on your God!† Maybe your God‡ will notice us, so that we won't perish."

⁷ They all said to each other, "Come! Let's cast lots, that we may know who is responsible for this evil that is on us." So they cast lots, and the lot fell on Jonah. ⁸ Then they asked him, "Tell us, please, for whose cause this evil is on us. What is your occupation? Where do you come from? What is your country? Of what people are you?"

⁹ He said to them, "I am a Hebrew, and I fear the LORD, the God§ of heaven, who has made the sea and the dry land."

¹⁰ Then the men were exceedingly afraid, and said to him, "What have you done?" For the men knew that he was fleeing from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them. ¹¹ Then they said to him, "What shall we do to you, that the sea may be calm to us?" For the sea grew more and more stormy.

¹² He said to them, "Take me up, and throw me into the sea. Then the sea will be calm for you; for I know that because of me this great storm is on you."

¹³ Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not, for the sea grew more and more stormy against them. ¹⁴ Therefore they cried to the LORD, and said, "We beg you, LORD, we beg you, don't let us die for this man's life, and don't lay on us innocent blood; for you, LORD, have done as it pleased you." ¹⁵ So they took up Jonah and threw him into the sea; and the sea ceased its raging. ¹⁶ Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly; and they offered a sacrifice to the LORD and made vows.

¹ Then Jonah prayed to the LORD, his God, out of the fish's belly. ² He said,

* 1:1 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh). † 1:6 or, gods ‡ 1:6 or, gods § 1:9 The Hebrew word rendered "God" is "אלהים" (Elohim).

"I called because of my affliction to the LORD.

He answered me.

Out of the belly of Sheol* I cried.

You heard my voice.

³ For you threw me into the depths,
in the heart of the seas.

The flood was all around me.

All your waves and your billows passed over me.

⁴ I said, 'I have been banished from your sight;
yet I will look again toward your holy temple.'

⁵ The waters surrounded me, even to the soul.

The deep was around me.

The weeds were wrapped around my head.

⁶ I went down to the bottoms of the mountains.

The earth barred me in forever;

yet you have brought my life up from the pit, LORD my God.

⁷ "When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD.
My prayer came in to you, into your holy temple.

⁸ Those who regard vain idols forsake their own mercy.

⁹ But I will sacrifice to you with the voice of thanksgiving.

I will pay that which I have vowed.

Salvation belongs to the LORD."

¹⁰ Then the LORD spoke to the fish, and it vomited out Jonah on the dry land.

¹ The LORD's word came to Jonah the second time, saying, ² "Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and preach to it the message that I give you."

³ So Jonah arose, and went to Nineveh, according to the LORD's word. Now Nineveh was an exceedingly great city, three days' journey across. ⁴ Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried out, and said, "In forty days, Nineveh will be overthrown!"

⁵ The people of Nineveh believed God; and they proclaimed a fast and put on sackcloth, from their greatest even to their least. ⁶ The news reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, took off his royal robe, covered himself with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. ⁷ He made a proclamation and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, "Let neither man nor animal, herd nor flock, taste anything; let them not feed, nor drink water; ⁸ but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and animal, and let them cry mightily to God. Yes, let them turn everyone from his evil way and from the violence that is in his hands. ⁹ Who knows whether God will not turn and relent, and turn away from his fierce anger, so that we might not perish?"

¹⁰ God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way. God relented of the disaster which he said he would do to them, and he didn't do it.

4

¹ But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry. ² He prayed to the LORD, and said, "Please, LORD, wasn't this what I said when I was still in my own country? Therefore I hurried to flee to Tarshish, for I knew that you are a gracious God and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness, and you relent of doing harm. ³ Therefore now, LORD, take, I beg you, my life from me, for it is better for me to die than to live."

⁴ The LORD said, "Is it right for you to be angry?"

⁵ Then Jonah went out of the city and sat on the east side of the city, and there made himself a booth and sat under it in the shade, until he might see what would become of the city. ⁶ The LORD God prepared a vine and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shade over his head to deliver him from his discomfort. So Jonah was exceedingly glad because of the vine. ⁷ But God prepared a worm at dawn the next day, and it chewed on the vine so that it withered. ⁸ When the sun arose, God prepared a sultry east wind; and the sun beat on Jonah's head, so that he was faint and requested for himself that he might die. He said, "It is better for me to die than to live."

⁹ God said to Jonah, "Is it right for you to be angry about the vine?"

He said, "I am right to be angry, even to death."

¹⁰ The LORD said, "You have been concerned for the vine, for which you have not labored, neither made it grow; which came up in a night and perished in a night. ¹¹ Shouldn't I be concerned for Nineveh, that great city, in which are more than one hundred twenty thousand persons who can't discern between their right hand and their left hand, and also many animals?"

The Book of Micah

¹ The LORD's* word that came to Micah of Morasheth in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

² Hear, you peoples, all of you!
Listen, O earth, and all that is therein.
Let the Lord† GOD be witness against you,
the Lord from his holy temple.

³ For behold,‡ the LORD comes out of his place, and will come down and tread on the high places of the earth.

⁴ The mountains melt under him,
and the valleys split apart like wax before the fire,
like waters that are poured down a steep place.

⁵ "All this is for the disobedience of Jacob,
and for the sins of the house of Israel.
What is the disobedience of Jacob?
Isn't it Samaria?
And what are the high places of Judah?
Aren't they Jerusalem?"

⁶ Therefore I will make Samaria like a rubble heap of the field, like places for planting vineyards;
and I will pour down its stones into the valley,
and I will uncover its foundations.

⁷ All her idols will be beaten to pieces,
all her temple gifts will be burned with fire,
and I will destroy all her images;
for of the hire of a prostitute has she gathered them,
and to the hire of a prostitute shall they return."

⁸ For this I will lament and wail.
I will go stripped and naked.
I will howl like the jackals and mourn like the ostriches.

⁹ For her wounds are incurable;
for it has come even to Judah.
It reaches to the gate of my people,
even to Jerusalem.

¹⁰ Don't tell it in Gath.
Don't weep at all.
At Beth Ophrah§ I have rolled myself in the dust.

¹¹ Pass on, inhabitant of Shaphir, in nakedness and shame.
The inhabitant of Zaanai won't come out.

* 1:1 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh). † 1:2 The word translated "Lord" is "Adonai."

‡ 1:3 "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection. § 1:10 Beth Ophrah means literally "House of Dust."

- The wailing of Beth Ezel will take from you his protection.
12 For the inhabitant of Maroth waits anxiously for good, because evil has come down from the LORD to the gate of Jerusalem.
13 Harness the chariot to the swift steed, inhabitant of Lachish.
She was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion;
for the transgressions of Israel were found in you.
14 Therefore you will give a parting gift to Moresheth Gath.
The houses of Achzib will be a deceitful thing to the kings of Israel.
15 I will yet bring a conqueror to you, inhabitants of Mareshah.
The glory of Israel will come to Adullam.
16 Shave your heads,
and cut off your hair for the children of your delight.
Enlarge your baldness like the vulture,
for they have gone into captivity from you!

2

- 1 Woe to those who devise iniquity and work evil on their beds!
When the morning is light, they practice it,
because it is in the power of their hand.
2 They covet fields and seize them,
and houses, then take them away.
They oppress a man and his house,
even a man and his heritage.
3 Therefore the LORD says:
“Behold, I am planning against these people a disaster, from which you will not remove your necks,
neither will you walk haughtily,
for it is an evil time.
4 In that day they will take up a parable against you,
and lament with a doleful lamentation, saying,
‘We are utterly ruined!
My people’s possession is divided up.
Indeed he takes it from me and assigns our fields to traitors!’ ”
5 Therefore you will have no one who divides the land by lot in the LORD’s assembly.
6 “Don’t prophesy!”—they prophesy—
“Don’t prophesy about these things.
Disgrace won’t overtake us.”
7 Shall it be said, O house of Jacob,
“Is the LORD’s Spirit angry?
Are these his doings?
Don’t my words do good to him who walks blamelessly?”
8 But lately my people have risen up as an enemy.
You strip the robe and clothing from those who pass by without a care, returning from battle.
9 You drive the women of my people out from their pleasant houses;
from their young children you take away my blessing forever.
10 Arise, and depart!
For this is not your resting place,

because of uncleanness that destroys,
even with a grievous destruction.

11 If a man walking in a spirit of falsehood lies, saying,
“I will prophesy to you of wine and of strong drink,” he would be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely assemble all of you, Jacob.
I will surely gather the remnant of Israel.

I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah,
as a flock in the middle of their pasture.

They will swarm with people.

13 He who breaks open the way goes up before them.

They break through the gate, and go out.

Their king passes on before them, with the LORD at their head.

3

1 I said,

“Please listen, you heads of Jacob,
and rulers of the house of Israel:
Isn’t it for you to know justice?”

2 You who hate the good,
and love the evil;
who tear off their skin,
and their flesh from off their bones;
3 who also eat the flesh of my people,
and peel their skin from off them,
and break their bones,
and chop them in pieces, as for the pot,
and as meat within the cauldron.

4 Then they will cry to the LORD,
but he will not answer them.

Yes, he will hide his face from them at that time,
because they made their deeds evil.”

5 The LORD says concerning the prophets who lead my people astray—for those who feed their teeth, they proclaim, “Peace!” and whoever doesn’t provide for their mouths, they prepare war against him:

6 “Therefore night is over you, with no vision, and it is dark to you, that you may not divine;
and the sun will go down on the prophets,
and the day will be black over them.

7 The seers shall be disappointed, and the diviners confounded.

Yes, they shall all cover their lips,

for there is no answer from God.”*

8 But as for me, I am full of power by the LORD’s Spirit, and of judgment, and of might,
to declare to Jacob his disobedience,
and to Israel his sin.

9 Please listen to this, you heads of the house of Jacob,
and rulers of the house of Israel,

* 3:7 The Hebrew word rendered “God” is “אֱלֹהִים” (Elohim).

- who abhor justice,
and pervert all equity,
¹⁰ who build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.
- ¹¹ Her leaders judge for bribes,
and her priests teach for a price,
and her prophets of it tell fortunes for money;
yet they lean on the LORD, and say, “Isn’t the LORD among us?
No disaster will come on us.”
- ¹² Therefore Zion for your sake will be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem will become heaps of rubble,
and the mountain of the temple like the high places of a forest.

- ¹ But in the latter days,
it will happen that the mountain of the LORD’s temple will be established on the top of the mountains, and it will be exalted above the hills;
and peoples will stream to it.
- ² Many nations will go and say,
“Come! Let’s go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob;
and he will teach us of his ways,
and we will walk in his paths.”
- For the law will go out of Zion,
and the LORD’s word from Jerusalem;
- ³ and he will judge between many peoples,
and will decide concerning strong nations afar off.
They will beat their swords into plowshares,
and their spears into pruning hooks.
- Nation will not lift up sword against nation, neither will they learn war any more.
- ⁴ But every man will sit under his vine and under his fig tree.
No one will make them afraid, for the mouth of the LORD of Armies has spoken. ⁵ Indeed all the nations may walk in the name of their gods, but we will walk in the name of the LORD our God forever and ever.
- ⁶ “In that day,” says the LORD,
“I will assemble that which is lame,
and I will gather that which is driven away,
and that which I have afflicted;
⁷ and I will make that which was lame a remnant,
and that which was cast far off a strong nation:
and the LORD will reign over them on Mount Zion from then on, even forever.”
- ⁸ You, tower of the flock, the hill of the daughter of Zion, to you it will come.
- Yes, the former dominion will come,
the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.

- ⁹ Now why do you cry out aloud?
Is there no king in you?
Has your counselor perished, that pains have taken hold of you as of a woman in travail?
- ¹⁰ Be in pain, and labor to give birth, daughter of Zion,
like a woman in travail;
for now you will go out of the city,
and will dwell in the field,
and will come even to Babylon.
There you will be rescued.
There the LORD will redeem you from the hand of your enemies.
- ¹¹ Now many nations have assembled against you, that say, “Let her be defiled, and let our eye gloat over Zion.”
- ¹² But they don't know the thoughts of the LORD, neither do they understand his counsel;
for he has gathered them like the sheaves to the threshing floor.
- ¹³ Arise and thresh, daughter of Zion, for I will make your horn iron,
and I will make your hoofs bronze.
You will beat in pieces many peoples.
I will devote their gain to the LORD,
and their substance to the Lord of the whole earth.

5

- ¹ Now you shall gather yourself in troops, daughter of troops.
He has laid siege against us.
They will strike the judge of Israel with a rod on the cheek.
- ² But you, Bethlehem Ephrathah, being small among the clans of Judah, out of you one will come out to me who is to be ruler in Israel;
whose goings out are from of old, from ancient times.
- ³ Therefore he will abandon them until the time that she who is in labor gives birth.
Then the rest of his brothers will return to the children of Israel.
- ⁴ He shall stand, and shall shepherd in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God.
They will live, for then he will be great to the ends of the earth.
- ⁵ He will be our peace when Assyria invades our land and when he marches through our fortresses, then we will raise against him seven shepherds,
and eight leaders of men.
- ⁶ They will rule the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in its gates.
He will deliver us from the Assyrian,
when he invades our land,
and when he marches within our border.
- ⁷ The remnant of Jacob will be among many peoples

like dew from the LORD,
like showers on the grass,
that don't wait for man
nor wait for the sons of men.

- 8 The remnant of Jacob will be among the nations,
among many peoples,
like a lion among the animals of the forest,
like a young lion among the flocks of sheep;
who, if he goes through, treads down and tears in pieces,
and there is no one to deliver.
- 9 Let your hand be lifted up above your adversaries,
and let all of your enemies be cut off.
- 10 "It will happen in that day", says the LORD,
"that I will cut off your horses from among you
and will destroy your chariots.
- 11 I will cut off the cities of your land and will tear down all your strongholds.
- 12 I will destroy witchcraft from your hand.
You shall have no soothsayers.
- 13 I will cut off your engraved images and your pillars from among you;
and you shall no more worship the work of your hands.
- 14 I will uproot your Asherah poles from among you;
and I will destroy your cities.
- 15 I will execute vengeance in anger and wrath on the nations that didn't listen."

6

- 1 Listen now to what the LORD says:
"Arise, plead your case before the mountains, and let the hills hear what you have to say.
- 2 Hear, you mountains, the LORD's indictment,
and you enduring foundations of the earth;
for the LORD has a case against his people,
and he will contend with Israel.
- 3 My people, what have I done to you?
How have I burdened you?
Answer me!
- 4 For I brought you up out of the land of Egypt,
and redeemed you out of the house of bondage.
I sent before you Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.
- 5 My people, remember now what Balak king of Moab devised, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him from Shittim to Gilgal, that you may know the righteous acts of the LORD."
- 6 How shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the exalted God?
Shall I come before him with burnt offerings,
with calves a year old?
- 7 Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams?
With tens of thousands of rivers of oil?
Shall I give my firstborn for my disobedience?

The fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

⁸ He has shown you, O man, what is good.

What does the LORD require of you, but to act justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God?

⁹ The LORD's voice calls to the city—and wisdom fears your name—

“Listen to the rod,

and he who appointed it.

¹⁰ Are there yet treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and a short ephah* that is accursed?

¹¹ Shall I tolerate dishonest scales, and a bag of deceitful weights?

¹² Her rich men are full of violence,

her inhabitants speak lies,

and their tongue is deceitful in their speech.

¹³ Therefore I also have struck you with a grievous wound.

I have made you desolate because of your sins.

¹⁴ You shall eat, but not be satisfied.

Your hunger will be within you.

You will store up, but not save,

and that which you save I will give up to the sword.

¹⁵ You will sow, but won't reap.

You will tread the olives, but won't anoint yourself with oil;

and crush grapes, but won't drink the wine.

¹⁶ For the statutes of Omri are kept,

and all the works of Ahab's house.

You walk in their counsels,

that I may make you a ruin,

and your inhabitants a hissing.

You will bear the reproach of my people.”

Indeed, I am like one who gathers the summer fruits, as gleanings of the vineyard.

There is no cluster of grapes to eat.

My soul desires to eat the early fig.

² The godly man has perished out of the earth, and there is no one upright among men.

They all lie in wait for blood;

every man hunts his brother with a net.

³ Their hands are on that which is evil to do it diligently.

The ruler and judge ask for a bribe.

The powerful man dictates the evil desire of his soul.

Thus they conspire together.

⁴ The best of them is like a brier.

* 6:10 An ephah is a measure of volume (about 22 liters or about 2/3 of a bushel), and a short ephah is made smaller than a full ephah for the purpose of cheating customers.

- The most upright is worse than a thorn hedge.
The day of your watchmen,
even your visitation, has come;
now is the time of their confusion.
- ⁵ Don't trust in a neighbor.
Don't put confidence in a friend.
With the woman lying in your embrace,
be careful of the words of your mouth!
- ⁶ For the son dishonors the father,
the daughter rises up against her mother,
the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law;
a man's enemies are the men of his own house.
- ⁷ But as for me, I will look to the LORD.
I will wait for the God of my salvation.
My God will hear me.
- ⁸ Don't rejoice against me, my enemy.
When I fall, I will arise.
When I sit in darkness, the LORD will be a light to me.
- ⁹ I will bear the indignation of the LORD,
because I have sinned against him,
until he pleads my case and executes judgment for me.
He will bring me out to the light.
I will see his righteousness.
- ¹⁰ Then my enemy will see it,
and shame will cover her who said to me,
"Where is the LORD your God?"
My eyes will see her.
Now she will be trodden down like the mire of the streets.
- ¹¹ A day to build your walls!
In that day, he will extend your boundary.
- ¹² In that day they will come to you from Assyria and the cities of Egypt, and from Egypt even to the River,
and from sea to sea,
and mountain to mountain.
- ¹³ Yet the land will be desolate because of those who dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings.
- ¹⁴ Shepherd your people with your staff,
the flock of your heritage,
who dwell by themselves in a forest.
Let them feed in the middle of fertile pasture land,
in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old.
- ¹⁵ "As in the days of your coming out of the land of Egypt,
I will show them marvelous things."
- ¹⁶ The nations will see and be ashamed of all their might.
They will lay their hand on their mouth.
Their ears will be deaf.
- ¹⁷ They will lick the dust like a serpent.
Like crawling things of the earth, they will come trembling out of their dens.
They will come with fear to the LORD our God,
and will be afraid because of you.

- 18 Who is a God like you, who pardons iniquity, and passes over the disobedience of the remnant of his heritage?
He doesn't retain his anger forever,
because he delights in loving kindness.
- 19 He will again have compassion on us.
He will tread our iniquities under foot.
You will cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.
- 20 You will give truth to Jacob,
and mercy to Abraham,
as you have sworn to our fathers from the days of old.

The Book of Nahum

¹ A revelation about Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite. ² The LORD* is a jealous God† and avenges. The LORD avenges and is full of wrath. The LORD takes vengeance on his adversaries, and he maintains wrath against his enemies. ³ The LORD is slow to anger, and great in power, and will by no means leave the guilty unpunished. The LORD has his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet. ⁴ He rebukes the sea and makes it dry, and dries up all the rivers. Bashan and Carmel languish. The flower of Lebanon languishes. ⁵ The mountains quake before him, and the hills melt away. The earth trembles at his presence, yes, the world, and all who dwell in it. ⁶ Who can stand before his indignation? Who can endure the fierceness of his anger? His wrath is poured out like fire, and the rocks are broken apart by him. ⁷ The LORD is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and he knows those who take refuge in him. ⁸ But with an overflowing flood, he will make a full end of her place, and will pursue his enemies into darkness. ⁹ What do you plot against the LORD? He will make a full end. Affliction won't rise up the second time. ¹⁰ For entangled like thorns, and drunken as with their drink, they are consumed utterly like dry stubble. ¹¹ One has gone out of you who devises evil against the LORD, who counsels wickedness.

¹² The LORD says: "Though they are in full strength and likewise many, even so they will be cut down and pass away. Though I have afflicted you, I will afflict you no more. ¹³ Now I will break his yoke from off you, and will burst your bonds apart."

¹⁴ The LORD has commanded concerning you: "No more descendants will bear your name. Out of the house of your gods, I will cut off the engraved image and the molten image. I will make your grave, for you are vile."

¹⁵ Behold,‡ on the mountains the feet of him who brings good news, who publishes peace! Keep your feasts, Judah! Perform your vows, for the wicked one will no more pass through you. He is utterly cut off.

¹ He who dashes in pieces has come up against you. Keep the fortress! Watch the way! Strengthen your waist! Fortify your power mightily!

² For the LORD restores the excellency of Jacob as the excellency of Israel, for the destroyers have destroyed them and ruined their vine branches.

³ The shield of his mighty men is made red. The valiant men are in scarlet. The chariots flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and the pine spears are brandished. ⁴ The chariots rage in the streets. They rush back and forth in the wide ways. Their appearance is like torches. They run like the lightnings. ⁵ He summons his picked troops. They stumble on their way. They dash to its wall, and the protective shield is put in place. ⁶ The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace is dissolved. ⁷ It is decreed: she is uncovered, she is carried away; and her servants moan as with the voice of doves, beating on their breasts. ⁸ But Nineveh has been from of old like a pool of water; yet they flee away. “Stop! Stop!” they cry, but no one looks back. ⁹ Take the plunder of silver. Take the plunder of gold, for there is no end of treasure, an abundance of every precious thing. ¹⁰ She is empty, void, and waste. The heart melts, the knees knock together, their bodies and faces have grown pale. ¹¹ Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion and the lioness walked with the lion’s cubs, and no one made them afraid? ¹² The lion tore in pieces enough for his cubs, and strangled prey for his lionesses, and filled his caves with the kill and his dens with prey. ¹³ “Behold, I am against you,” says the LORD of Armies, “and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword will devour your young lions; and I will cut off your prey from the earth, and the voice of your messengers will no longer be heard.”

⁸ Are you better than No-Amon,* who was situated among the rivers,† who had the waters around her, whose rampart was the sea, and her wall was of the sea? ⁹ Cush and Egypt were her boundless strength. Put and Libya were her helpers. ¹⁰ Yet was she carried away. She went into captivity. Her young children also were dashed in pieces at the head of all the streets, and they cast lots for her honorable men, and all her great men were bound in chains. ¹¹ You also will be drunken. You will be hidden. You also will seek a stronghold because of the enemy. ¹² All your fortresses will be like fig trees with the first-ripe figs. If they are shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater. ¹³ Behold, your troops among you are women. The gates of your land are set wide open to your enemies. The fire has devoured your bars.

¹⁴ Draw water for the siege. Strengthen your fortresses. Go into the clay, and tread the mortar. Make the brick kiln strong. ¹⁵ There the fire will devour you. The sword will cut you off. It will devour you like the grasshopper. Multiply like grasshoppers. Multiply like the locust. ¹⁶ You have increased your merchants more than the stars of the skies. The grasshopper strips and flees away. ¹⁷ Your guards are like the locusts, and your officials like the swarms of locusts, which settle on the walls on a cold day, but when the sun appears, they flee away, and their place is not known where they are.

¹⁸ Your shepherds slumber, king of Assyria. Your nobles lie down. Your people are scattered on the mountains, and there is no one to gather them.

¹⁹ There is no healing your wound, for your injury is fatal. All who hear the report of you clap their hands over you, for who hasn't felt your endless cruelty?

The Book of Habakkuk

¹ The revelation which Habakkuk the prophet saw. ² LORD,* how long will I cry, and you will not hear? I cry out to you “Violence!” and will you not save? ³ Why do you show me iniquity, and look at perversity? For destruction and violence are before me. There is strife, and contention rises up. ⁴ Therefore the law is paralyzed, and justice never prevails; for the wicked surround the righteous; therefore justice comes out perverted.

⁵ “Look among the nations, watch, and wonder marvelously; for I am working a work in your days which you will not believe though it is told you. ⁶ For, behold,† I am raising up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation who march through the width of the earth, to possess dwelling places that are not theirs. ⁷ They are feared and dreaded. Their judgment and their dignity proceed from themselves. ⁸ Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves. Their horsemen press proudly on. Yes, their horsemen come from afar. They fly as an eagle that hurries to devour. ⁹ All of them come for violence. Their hordes face forward. They gather prisoners like sand. ¹⁰ Yes, they scoff at kings, and princes are a derision to them. They laugh at every stronghold, for they build up an earthen ramp and take it. ¹¹ Then they sweep by like the wind and go on. They are indeed guilty, whose strength is their god.”

¹² Aren’t you from everlasting, LORD my God,‡ my Holy One? We will not die. LORD, you have appointed them for judgment. You, Rock, have established him to punish. ¹³ You who have purer eyes than to see evil, and who cannot look on perversity, why do you tolerate those who deal treacherously and keep silent when the wicked swallows up the man who is more righteous than he, ¹⁴ and make men like the fish of the sea, like the creeping things that have no ruler over them? ¹⁵ He takes up all of them with the hook. He catches them in his net and gathers them in his dragnet. Therefore he rejoices and is glad. ¹⁶ Therefore he sacrifices to his net and burns incense to his dragnet, because by them his life is luxurious and his food is good. ¹⁷ Will he therefore continually empty his net, and kill the nations without mercy?

* 1:2 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, “LORD” or “GOD” is the translation of God’s Proper Name (Hebrew “יהוה”, usually pronounced Yahweh). † 1:6 “Behold”, from “הִנֵּה”, means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection. ‡ 1:12 The Hebrew word rendered “God” is “אֱלֹהִים” (Elohim).

⁶ Won't all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, 'Woe to him who increases that which is not his, and who enriches himself by extortion! How long?' ⁷ Won't your debtors rise up suddenly, and wake up those who make you tremble, and you will be their victim? ⁸ Because you have plundered many nations, all the remnant of the peoples will plunder you because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all who dwell in it.

⁹ Woe to him who gets an evil gain for his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil! ¹⁰ You have devised shame to your house by cutting off many peoples, and have sinned against your soul. ¹¹ For the stone will cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the woodwork will answer it.

¹⁵ "Woe to him who gives his neighbor drink, pouring your inflaming wine until they are drunk, so that you may gaze at their naked bodies! ¹⁶ You are filled with shame, and not glory. You will also drink and be exposed! The cup of the LORD's right hand will come around to you, and disgrace will cover your glory. ¹⁷ For the violence done to Lebanon will overwhelm you, and the destruction of the animals will terrify you, because of men's blood and for the violence done to the land, to every city and to those who dwell in them.

¹⁸ "What value does the engraved image have, that its maker has engraved it; the molten image, even the teacher of lies, that he who fashions its form trusts in it, to make mute idols? ¹⁹ Woe to him who says to the wood, 'Awake!' or to the mute stone, 'Arise!' Shall this teach? Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all within it. ²⁰ But the LORD is in his holy temple. Let all the earth be silent before him!"

¹ A prayer of Habakkuk, the prophet, set to victorious music.

² LORD, I have heard of your fame.

I stand in awe of your deeds, LORD.

Renew your work in the middle of the years.

In the middle of the years make it known.

In wrath, you remember mercy.

³ God came from Teman,
the Holy One from Mount Paran.

Selah.

His glory covered the heavens,
and his praise filled the earth.

⁴ His splendor is like the sunrise.

Rays shine from his hand, where his power is hidden.

* ^{2:5} Sheol is the place of the dead.

- ⁵ Plague went before him,
and pestilence followed his feet.
- ⁶ He stood, and shook the earth.
He looked, and made the nations tremble.
The ancient mountains were crumbled.
The age-old hills collapsed.
His ways are eternal.
- ⁷ I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction.
The dwellings of the land of Midian trembled.
- ⁸ Was the LORD displeased with the rivers?
Was your anger against the rivers,
or your wrath against the sea,
that you rode on your horses,
on your chariots of salvation?
- ⁹ You uncovered your bow.
You called for your sworn arrows.

Selah.

You split the earth with rivers.

- ¹⁰ The mountains saw you, and were afraid.
The storm of waters passed by.
The deep roared and lifted up its hands on high.
- ¹¹ The sun and moon stood still in the sky at the light of your arrows as they went,
at the shining of your glittering spear.
- ¹² You marched through the land in wrath.
You threshed the nations in anger.
- ¹³ You went out for the salvation of your people,
for the salvation of your anointed.
- You crushed the head of the land of wickedness.
You stripped them head to foot.

Selah.

- ¹⁴ You pierced the heads of his warriors with their own spears.
They came as a whirlwind to scatter me, gloating as if to devour the wretched in secret.
- ¹⁵ You trampled the sea with your horses,
churning mighty waters.
- ¹⁶ I heard, and my body trembled.
My lips quivered at the voice.
Rottenness enters into my bones, and I tremble in my place because I must wait quietly for the day of trouble, for the coming up of the people who invade us.
- ¹⁷ For even though the fig tree doesn't flourish,
nor fruit be in the vines,
the labor of the olive fails,
the fields yield no food,
the flocks are cut off from the fold,
and there is no herd in the stalls,
- ¹⁸ yet I will rejoice in the LORD.
I will be joyful in the God of my salvation!

He makes my feet like deer's feet,
and enables me to go in high places.

The Book of Zephaniah

¹ The LORD's* word which came to Zephaniah, the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah, the son of Amon, king of Judah.

⁷ Be silent at the presence of the Lord† GOD, for the day of the LORD is at hand. For the LORD has prepared a sacrifice. He has consecrated his guests. ⁸ It will happen in the day of the LORD's sacrifice that I will punish the princes, the king's sons, and all those who are clothed with foreign clothing. ⁹ In that day, I will punish all those who leap over the threshold, who fill their master's house with violence and deceit.

¹⁰ In that day, says the LORD, there will be the noise of a cry from the fish gate, a wailing from the second quarter, and a great crashing from the hills. ¹¹ Wail, you inhabitants of Maktesh, for all the people of Canaan are undone! All those who were loaded with silver are cut off. ¹² It will happen at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with lamps, and I will punish the men who are settled on their dregs, who say in their heart, "The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evil." ¹³ Their wealth will become a plunder, and their houses a desolation. Yes, they will build houses, but won't inhabit them. They will plant vineyards, but won't drink their wine.

¹⁴ The great day of the LORD is near. It is near and hurries greatly, the voice of the day of the LORD. The mighty man cries there bitterly. ¹⁵ That day is a day of wrath, a day of distress and anguish, a day of trouble and ruin, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and blackness, ¹⁶ a day of the trumpet and alarm against the fortified cities and against the high battlements. ¹⁷ I will bring such distress on men that they will walk like blind men because they have sinned against the LORD. Their blood will be poured out like dust and their flesh like dung. ¹⁸ Neither their silver nor their gold will be able to deliver them in the day of the LORD's wrath, but the whole land will be devoured by the fire of his jealousy; for he will make an end, yes, a terrible end, of all those who dwell in the land.

¹ Gather yourselves together, yes, gather together, you nation that has no shame, ² before the appointed time when the day passes as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the LORD comes on you, before the day of the LORD's anger comes on you. ³ Seek the LORD, all you humble of the land, who have kept his ordinances. Seek righteousness. Seek humility. It may be that you will be hidden in the day of the LORD's anger. ⁴ For Gaza will be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation. They will drive out Ashdod at noonday, and Ekron will be rooted up. ⁵ Woe to the inhabitants of the sea coast, the nation of the Cherethites! The LORD's word is against you, Canaan, the land of the Philistines. I will destroy you until there is no inhabitant. ⁶ The sea coast will be pastures, with cottages for shepherds and folds for flocks. ⁷ The coast will be for the remnant of the house of Judah. They will find pasture. In the houses of Ashkelon, they will lie down in the evening, for the LORD, their God,* will visit them and restore them. ⁸ I have heard the reproach of Moab and the insults of the children of Ammon, with which they have reproached my people and magnified themselves against their border. ⁹ Therefore, as I live, says the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, surely Moab will be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, a possession of nettles and salt pits, and a perpetual desolation. The remnant of my people will plunder them, and the survivors of my nation will inherit them. ¹⁰ This they will have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of Armies. ¹¹ The LORD will be awesome to them, for he will famish all the gods of the land. Men will worship him, everyone from his place, even all the shores of the nations.

¹² You Cushites also, you will be killed by my sword.

¹³ He will stretch out his hand against the north, destroy Assyria, and will make Nineveh a desolation, as dry as the wilderness. ¹⁴ Herds will lie down in the middle of her; all kinds of animals. Both the pelican and the porcupine will lodge in its capitals. Their calls will echo through the windows. Desolation will be in the thresholds, for he has laid bare the cedar beams. ¹⁵ This is the joyous city that lived carelessly, that said in her heart, "I am, and there is no one besides me." How she has become a desolation, a place for animals to lie down in! Everyone who passes by her will hiss and shake their fists.

¹ Woe to her who is rebellious and polluted, the oppressing city! ² She didn't obey the voice. She didn't receive correction. She didn't trust in the LORD. She didn't draw near to her God.

³ Her princes within her are roaring lions. Her judges are evening wolves. They leave nothing until the next day. ⁴ Her prophets are arrogant and treacherous people. Her priests have profaned the sanctuary. They have done violence to the law. ⁵ The LORD, within her, is righteous. He will do no wrong. Every morning he brings his justice to light. He doesn't fail, but the unjust know no shame.

⁶ I have cut off nations. Their battlements are desolate. I have made their streets waste, so that no one passes by. Their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, so that there is no inhabitant. ⁷ I said, "Just fear me. Receive correction,” so that her dwelling won’t be cut off, according to all that I have appointed concerning her. But they rose early and corrupted all their doings.

⁸ “Therefore wait for me”, says the LORD, “until the day that I rise up to the prey, for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms to pour on them my indignation, even all my fierce anger, for all the earth will be devoured with the fire of my jealousy.

⁹ For then I will purify the lips of the peoples, that they may all call on the LORD’s name, to serve him shoulder to shoulder. ¹⁰ From beyond the rivers of Cush, my worshipers, even the daughter of my dispersed people, will bring my offering. ¹¹ In that day you will not be disappointed for all your doings in which you have transgressed against me; for then I will take away out from among you your proudly exulting ones, and you will no more be arrogant in my holy mountain. ¹² But I will leave among you an afflicted and poor people, and they will take refuge in the LORD’s name. ¹³ The remnant of Israel will not do iniquity nor speak lies, neither will a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth, for they will feed and lie down, and no one will make them afraid.”

¹⁴ Sing, daughter of Zion! Shout, Israel! Be glad and rejoice with all your heart, daughter of Jerusalem. ¹⁵ The LORD has taken away your judgments. He has thrown out your enemy. The King of Israel, the LORD, is among you. You will not be afraid of evil any more. ¹⁶ In that day, it will be said to Jerusalem, “Don’t be afraid, Zion. Don’t let your hands be weak.” ¹⁷ The LORD, your God, is among you, a mighty one who will save. He will rejoice over you with joy. He will calm you in his love. He will rejoice over you with singing. ¹⁸ I will remove those who grieve about the appointed feasts from you. They are a burden and a reproach to you. ¹⁹ Behold,* at that time I will deal with all those who afflict you; and I will save those who are lame and gather those who were driven away. I will give them praise and honor, whose shame has been in all the earth. ²⁰ At that time I will bring you in, and at that time I will gather you; for I will give you honor and praise among all the peoples of the earth when I restore your fortunes before your eyes, says the LORD.

* 3:19 “Behold”, from “הִנֵּה”, means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

The Book of Haggai

¹ In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, the LORD's* word came by Haggai the prophet, to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying, ² "This is what the LORD of Armies says: These people say, 'The time hasn't yet come, the time for the LORD's house to be built.' "

³ Then the LORD's word came by Haggai the prophet, saying, ⁴ "Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, while this house lies waste? ⁵ Now therefore this is what the LORD of Armies says: 'Consider your ways. ⁶ You have sown much, and bring in little. You eat, but you don't have enough. You drink, but you aren't filled with drink. You clothe yourselves, but no one is warm; and he who earns wages earns wages to put them into a bag with holes in it.'

⁷ "This is what the LORD of Armies says: 'Consider your ways. ⁸ Go up to the mountain, bring wood, and build the house. I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified," says the LORD. ⁹ "You looked for much, and, behold,† it came to little; and when you brought it home, I blew it away. Why?" says the LORD of Armies, "Because of my house that lies waste, while each of you is busy with his own house. ¹⁰ Therefore for your sake the heavens withhold the dew, and the earth withholds its fruit. ¹¹ I called for a drought on the land, on the mountains, on the grain, on the new wine, on the oil, on that which the ground produces, on men, on livestock, and on all the labor of the hands."

¹² Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the LORD their God's‡ voice, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people feared the LORD.

¹³ Then Haggai, the LORD's messenger, spoke the LORD's message to the people, saying, "I am with you," says the LORD.

¹⁴ The LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and worked on the house of the LORD of Armies, their God, ¹⁵ in the twenty-fourth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

it in your eyes as nothing? ⁴ Yet now be strong, Zerubbabel,' says the LORD. 'Be strong, Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest. Be strong, all you people of the land,' says the LORD, 'and work, for I am with you,' says the LORD of Armies. ⁵ This is the word that I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt, and my Spirit lived among you. 'Don't be afraid.' ⁶ For this is what the LORD of Armies says: 'Yet once more, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, the earth, the sea, and the dry land; ⁷ and I will shake all nations. The treasure of all nations will come, and I will fill this house with glory, says the LORD of Armies. ⁸ The silver is mine, and the gold is mine,' says the LORD of Armies. ⁹ 'The latter glory of this house will be greater than the former,' says the LORD of Armies; 'and in this place I will give peace,' says the LORD of Armies."

¹⁰ In the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, the LORD's word came by Haggai the prophet, saying, ¹¹ "The LORD of Armies says: Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying, ¹² 'If someone carries holy meat in the fold of his garment, and with his fold touches bread, stew, wine, oil, or any food, will it become holy?' "

The priests answered, "No."

¹³ Then Haggai said, "If one who is unclean by reason of a dead body touches any of these, will it be unclean?"

The priests answered, "It will be unclean."

¹⁴ Then Haggai answered, " 'So is this people, and so is this nation before me,' says the LORD; 'and so is every work of their hands. That which they offer there is unclean. ¹⁵ Now, please consider from this day and backward, before a stone was laid on a stone in the LORD's temple. ¹⁶ Through all that time, when one came to a heap of twenty measures, there were only ten. When one came to the wine vat to draw out fifty, there were only twenty. ¹⁷ I struck you with blight, mildew, and hail in all the work of your hands; yet you didn't turn to me,' says the LORD. ¹⁸ 'Consider, please, from this day and backward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, since the day that the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid, consider it. ¹⁹ Is the seed yet in the barn? Yes, the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree haven't produced. From today I will bless you.' "

²⁰ The LORD's word came the second time to Haggai in the twenty-fourth day of the month, saying, ²¹ "Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, 'I will shake the heavens and the earth. ²² I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms. I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations. I will overthrow the chariots and those who ride in them. The horses and their riders will come down, everyone by the sword of his brother. ²³ In that day, says the LORD of Armies, I will take you, Zerubbabel my servant, the son of Shealtiel,' says the LORD, 'and will make you like a signet ring, for I have chosen you,' says the LORD of Armies."

The Book of Zechariah

¹ In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, the LORD's* word came to the prophet Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, saying, ² "The LORD was very displeased with your fathers. ³ Therefore tell them, the LORD of Armies says: 'Return to me,' says the LORD of Armies, 'and I will return to you,' says the LORD of Armies. ⁴ Don't you be like your fathers, to whom the former prophets proclaimed, saying: The LORD of Armies says, 'Return now from your evil ways and from your evil doings;' but they didn't hear nor listen to me, says the LORD. ⁵ Your fathers, where are they? And the prophets, do they live forever? ⁶ But my words and my decrees, which I commanded my servants the prophets, didn't they overtake your fathers?

"Then they repented and said, 'Just as the LORD of Armies determined to do to us, according to our ways and according to our practices, so he has dealt with us.'"

⁷ On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, the LORD's word came to the prophet Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, saying, ⁸ "I had a vision in the night, and behold,† a man riding on a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in a ravine; and behind him there were red, brown, and white horses. ⁹ Then I asked, 'My lord, what are these?' "

The angel who talked with me said to me, "I will show you what these are."

¹⁰ The man who stood among the myrtle trees answered, "They are the ones the LORD has sent to go back and forth through the earth."

¹¹ They reported to the LORD's angel who stood among the myrtle trees, and said, "We have walked back and forth through the earth, and behold, all the earth is at rest and in peace."

¹² Then the LORD's angel replied, "O LORD of Armies, how long will you not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which you have had indignation these seventy years?"

¹³ The LORD answered the angel who talked with me with kind and comforting words. ¹⁴ So the angel who talked with me said to me, "Proclaim, saying, 'The LORD of Armies says: "I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy. ¹⁵ I am very angry with the nations that are at ease; for I was but a little displeased, but they added to the calamity." ¹⁶ Therefore the LORD says: "I have returned to Jerusalem with mercy. My house shall be built in it," says the LORD of Armies, "and a line shall be stretched out over Jerusalem." "

¹⁷ "Proclaim further, saying, "The LORD of Armies says: "My cities will again overflow with prosperity, and the LORD will again comfort Zion, and will again choose Jerusalem." "

¹⁸ I lifted up my eyes and saw, and behold, four horns. ¹⁹ I asked the angel who talked with me, "What are these?"

* 1:1 When rendered in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS, "LORD" or "GOD" is the translation of God's Proper Name (Hebrew "יהוה", usually pronounced Yahweh). † 1:8 "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

He answered me, "These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem."

²⁰ The LORD showed me four craftsmen. ²¹ Then I asked, "What are these coming to do?"

He said, "These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man lifted up his head; but these have come to terrify them, to cast down the horns of the nations that lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it."

¹ I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and behold, a man with a measuring line in his hand. ² Then I asked, "Where are you going?"

He said to me, "To measure Jerusalem, to see what is its width and what is its length."

³ Behold, the angel who talked with me went out, and another angel went out to meet him, ⁴ and said to him, "Run, speak to this young man, saying, 'Jerusalem will be inhabited as villages without walls, because of the multitude of men and livestock in it. ⁵ For I,' says the LORD, 'will be to her a wall of fire around it, and I will be the glory in the middle of her.

⁶ Come! Come! Flee from the land of the north,' says the LORD; 'for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the sky,' says the LORD. ⁷ 'Come, Zion! Escape, you who dwell with the daughter of Babylon.' ⁸ For the LORD of Armies says: 'For honor he has sent me to the nations which plundered you; for he who touches you touches the apple of his eye. ⁹ For, behold, I will shake my hand over them, and they will be a plunder to those who served them; and you will know that the LORD of Armies has sent me. ¹⁰ Sing and rejoice, daughter of Zion! For behold, I come and I will dwell within you,' says the LORD. ¹¹ Many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people; and I will dwell among you, and you shall know that the LORD of Armies has sent me to you. ¹² The LORD will inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and will again choose Jerusalem. ¹³ Be silent, all flesh, before the LORD; for he has roused himself from his holy habitation!"

¹ He showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the LORD's angel, and Satan standing at his right hand to be his adversary. ² The LORD said to Satan, "The LORD rebuke you, Satan! Yes, the LORD who has chosen Jerusalem rebuke you! Isn't this a burning stick plucked out of the fire?"

³ Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and was standing before the angel. ⁴ He answered and spoke to those who stood before him, saying, "Take the filthy garments off him." To him he said, "Behold, I have caused your iniquity to pass from you, and I will clothe you with rich clothing."

⁵ I said, "Let them set a clean turban on his head."

So they set a clean turban on his head, and clothed him; and the LORD's angel was standing by.

⁶ The LORD's angel solemnly assured Joshua, saying, ⁷ "The LORD of Armies says: 'If you will walk in my ways, and if you will follow my instructions, then you also shall judge my house, and shall also keep my courts, and I will give you a place of access among these who stand by. ⁸ Hear now, Joshua the high priest, you and your fellows who sit before you, for they are men who are a sign; for, behold, I will bring out my servant, the Branch.

⁹ For, behold, the stone that I have set before Joshua: on one stone are seven eyes; behold, I will engrave its inscription,' says the LORD of Armies, 'and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. ¹⁰ In that day,' says the LORD of Armies, 'you will invite every man his neighbor under the vine and under the fig tree.' "

¹ The angel who talked with me came again and wakened me, as a man who is wakened out of his sleep. ² He said to me, "What do you see?"

I said, "I have seen, and behold, a lamp stand all of gold, with its bowl on the top of it, and its seven lamps on it; there are seven pipes to each of the lamps which are on the top of it; ³ and two olive trees by it, one on the right side of the bowl, and the other on the left side of it."

⁴ I answered and spoke to the angel who talked with me, saying, "What are these, my lord?"

⁵ Then the angel who talked with me answered me, "Don't you know what these are?"

I said, "No, my lord."

⁶ Then he answered and spoke to me, saying, "This is the LORD's word to Zerubbabel, saying, 'Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit,' says the LORD of Armies. ⁷ Who are you, great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you are a plain; and he will bring out the capstone with shouts of 'Grace, grace, to it!'"

⁸ Moreover the LORD's word came to me, saying, ⁹ "The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house. His hands shall also finish it; and you will know that the LORD of Armies has sent me to you. ¹⁰ Indeed, who despises the day of small things? For these seven shall rejoice, and shall see the plumb line in the hand of Zerubbabel. These are the LORD's eyes, which run back and forth through the whole earth."

¹¹ Then I asked him, "What are these two olive trees on the right side of the lamp stand and on the left side of it?"

¹² I asked him the second time, "What are these two olive branches, which are beside the two golden spouts that pour the golden oil out of themselves?"

¹³ He answered me, "Don't you know what these are?"

I said, "No, my lord."

¹⁴ Then he said, "These are the two anointed ones who stand by the Lord* of the whole earth."

¹ Then again I lifted up my eyes and saw, and behold, a flying scroll. ² He said to me, "What do you see?"

I answered, "I see a flying scroll; its length is twenty cubits,* and its width ten cubits."

³ Then he said to me, "This is the curse that goes out over the surface of the whole land, for everyone who steals shall be cut off according to it on the one side; and everyone who swears falsely shall be cut off according to it on the other side. ⁴ I will cause it to go out," says the LORD of Armies, "and it will enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him who swears falsely by my name; and it will remain in the middle of his house, and will destroy it with its timber and its stones.”

* 4:14 The word translated "Lord" is "Adonai." * 5:2 A cubit is the length from the tip of the middle finger to the elbow on a man's arm, or about 18 inches or 46 centimeters.

⁵ Then the angel who talked with me came forward and said to me, “Lift up now your eyes and see what this is that is appearing.”

⁶ I said, “What is it?”

He said, “This is the ephah[†] basket that is appearing.” He said moreover, “This is their appearance in all the land—⁷ and behold, a lead cover weighing one talent[‡] was lifted up—and there was a woman sitting in the middle of the ephah[§] basket.” ⁸ He said, “This is Wickedness;” and he threw her down into the middle of the ephah basket; and he threw the lead weight on its mouth.

⁹ Then I lifted up my eyes and saw, and behold, there were two women; and the wind was in their wings. Now they had wings like the wings of a stork, and they lifted up the ephah basket between earth and the sky. ¹⁰ Then I said to the angel who talked with me, “Where are these carrying the ephah basket?”

¹¹ He said to me, “To build her a house in the land of Shinar. When it is prepared, she will be set there in her own place.”

⁸ Then he called to me, and spoke to me, saying, “Behold, those who go toward the north country have quieted my spirit in the north country.”

⁹ The LORD’s word came to me, saying, ¹⁰ “Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah; and come the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, where they have come from Babylon. ¹¹ Yes, take silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them on the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest; ¹² and speak to him, saying, ‘The LORD of Armies says, “Behold, the man whose name is the Branch! He will grow up out of his place; and he will build the LORD’s temple. ¹³ He will build the LORD’s temple. He will bear the glory, and will sit and rule on his throne. He will be a priest on his throne. The counsel of peace will be between them both. ¹⁴ The crowns shall be to Helem, to Tobijah, to Jedaiah, and to Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the LORD’s temple.’”

¹⁵ Those who are far off shall come and build in the LORD's temple; and you shall know that the LORD of Armies has sent me to you. This will happen, if you will diligently obey the LORD your God's voice." ' ' *"

⁴ Then the word of the LORD of Armies came to me, saying, ⁵ "Speak to all the people of the land and to the priests, saying, 'When you fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh month for these seventy years, did you at all fast to me, really to me?' ⁶ When you eat and when you drink, don't you eat for yourselves and drink for yourselves? ⁷ Aren't these the words which the LORD proclaimed by the former prophets when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and its cities around her, and the South and the lowland were inhabited?" "

⁸ The LORD's word came to Zechariah, saying, ⁹ "Thus has the LORD of Armies spoken, saying, 'Execute true judgment, and show kindness and compassion every man to his brother. ¹⁰ Don't oppress the widow, the fatherless, the foreigner, nor the poor; and let none of you devise evil against his brother in your heart.' ¹¹ But they refused to listen, and turned their backs, and stopped their ears, that they might not hear. ¹² Yes, they made their hearts as hard as flint, lest they might hear the law and the words which the LORD of Armies had sent by his Spirit by the former prophets. Therefore great wrath came from the LORD of Armies. ¹³ It has come to pass that, as he called and they refused to listen, so they will call and I will not listen," said the LORD of Armies; ¹⁴ "but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all the nations which they have not known. Thus the land was desolate after them, so that no man passed through nor returned; for they made the pleasant land desolate."

¹ The word of the LORD of Armies came to me. ² The LORD of Armies says: "I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great wrath."

³ The LORD says: "I have returned to Zion, and will dwell in the middle of Jerusalem. Jerusalem shall be called 'The City of Truth;' and the mountain of the LORD of Armies, 'The Holy Mountain.' "

⁴ The LORD of Armies says: "Old men and old women will again dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in his hand because of their old age. ⁵ The streets of the city will be full of boys and girls playing in its streets."

⁶ The LORD of Armies says: "If it is marvelous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvelous in my eyes?" says the LORD of Armies.

* 6:15 The Hebrew word rendered "God" is "אֱלֹהִים" (Elohim).

⁷ The LORD of Armies says: “Behold, I will save my people from the east country and from the west country. ⁸ I will bring them, and they will dwell within Jerusalem. They will be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.”

⁹ The LORD of Armies says: “Let your hands be strong, you who hear in these days these words from the mouth of the prophets who were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of Armies was laid, even the temple, that it might be built. ¹⁰ For before those days there was no wages for man nor any wages for an animal, neither was there any peace to him who went out or came in, because of the adversary. For I set all men everyone against his neighbor. ¹¹ But now I will not be to the remnant of this people as in the former days,” says the LORD of Armies. ¹² “For the seed of peace and the vine will yield its fruit, and the ground will give its increase, and the heavens will give their dew. I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit all these things. ¹³ It shall come to pass that, as you were a curse among the nations, house of Judah and house of Israel, so I will save you, and you shall be a blessing. Don’t be afraid. Let your hands be strong.”

¹⁴ For the LORD of Armies says: “As I thought to do evil to you when your fathers provoked me to wrath,” says the LORD of Armies, “and I didn’t repent, ¹⁵ so again I have thought in these days to do good to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. Don’t be afraid. ¹⁶ These are the things that you shall do: speak every man the truth with his neighbor. Execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates, ¹⁷ and let none of you devise evil in your hearts against his neighbor, and love no false oath; for all these are things that I hate,” says the LORD.

²⁰ The LORD of Armies says: “Many peoples and the inhabitants of many cities will yet come. ²¹ The inhabitants of one will go to another, saying, ‘Let’s go speedily to entreat the favor of the LORD, and to seek the LORD of Armies. I will go also.’ ²² Yes, many peoples and strong nations will come to seek the LORD of Armies in Jerusalem and to entreat the favor of the LORD.” ²³ The LORD of Armies says: “In those days, ten men out of all the languages of the nations will take hold of the skirt of him who is a Jew, saying, ‘We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.’”

The LORD’s word is against the land of Hadrach, and will rest upon Damascus—
for the eye of man and of all the tribes of Israel is toward the LORD—

² and Hamath, also, which borders on it,
Tyre and Sidon, because they are very wise.

³ Tyre built herself a stronghold, and heaped up silver like the dust,
and fine gold like the mire of the streets.

⁴ Behold, the Lord will dispossess her,

and he will strike her power in the sea;
and she will be devoured with fire.

⁵ Ashkelon will see it, and fear;
Gaza also, and will writhe in agony;
as will Ekron, for her expectation will be disappointed;
and the king will perish from Gaza,
and Ashkelon will not be inhabited.

⁶ Foreigners will dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

⁷ I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth;
and he also will be a remnant for our God;
and he will be as a chieftain in Judah,
and Ekron as a Jebusite.

⁸ I will encamp around my house against the army,
that no one pass through or return;
and no oppressor will pass through them any more:
for now I have seen with my eyes.

⁹ Rejoice greatly, daughter of Zion!
Shout, daughter of Jerusalem!
Behold, your King comes to you!
He is righteous, and having salvation;
lowly, and riding on a donkey,
even on a colt, the foal of a donkey.

¹⁰ I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim and the horse from Jerusalem.
The battle bow will be cut off;
and he will speak peace to the nations.
His dominion will be from sea to sea,
and from the River to the ends of the earth.

¹¹ As for you also,
because of the blood of your covenant,
I have set free your prisoners from the pit in which is no water.

¹² Turn to the stronghold, you prisoners of hope!
Even today I declare that I will restore double to you.

¹³ For indeed I bend Judah as a bow for me.
I have loaded the bow with Ephraim.
I will stir up your sons, Zion, against your sons, Greece,
and will make you like the sword of a mighty man.

¹⁴ The LORD will be seen over them.
His arrow will flash like lightning.
The Lord GOD will blow the trumpet, and will go with whirlwinds of the south.

¹⁵ The LORD of Armies will defend them.
They will destroy and overcome with sling stones.
They will drink, and roar as through wine.
They will be filled like bowls,

like the corners of the altar.

¹⁶ The LORD their God will save them in that day as the flock of his people;
for they are like the jewels of a crown, lifted on high over his land.

¹⁷ For how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty!
Grain will make the young men flourish,
and new wine the virgins.

¹ Ask of the LORD rain in the spring time,
the LORD who makes storm clouds, and he gives rain showers to everyone for the plants in the field.

² For the teraphim* have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie;
and they have told false dreams.

They comfort in vain.

Therefore they go their way like sheep.
They are oppressed, because there is no shepherd.

³ My anger is kindled against the shepherds, and I will punish the male goats,
for the LORD of Armies has visited his flock, the house of Judah,
and will make them as his majestic horse in the battle.

⁴ From him will come the cornerstone,
from him the tent peg,
from him the battle bow,
from him every ruler together.

⁵ They will be as mighty men,
treading down muddy streets in the battle.

They will fight, because the LORD is with them.
The riders on horses will be confounded.

⁶ “I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph.

I will bring them back,

for I have mercy on them.

They will be as though I had not cast them off, for I am the LORD their God, and I will hear them.

⁷ Ephraim will be like a mighty man,
and their heart will rejoice as through wine.

Yes, their children will see it and rejoice.
Their heart will be glad in the LORD.

⁸ I will signal for them and gather them,
for I have redeemed them.
They will increase as they were before.

⁹ I will sow them among the peoples.
They will remember me in far countries.
They will live with their children and will return.

* 10:2 teraphim were household idols that may have been associated with inheritance rights to the household property.

- ¹⁰ I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria.
I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon;
and there won't be room enough for them.
- ¹¹ He will pass through the sea of affliction,
and will strike the waves in the sea,
and all the depths of the Nile will dry up;
and the pride of Assyria will be brought down,
and the scepter of Egypt will depart.
- ¹² I will strengthen them in the LORD.
They will walk up and down in his name," says the LORD.

- ¹ Open your doors, Lebanon, that the fire may devour your cedars.
- ² Wail, cypress tree, for the cedar has fallen,
because the stately ones are destroyed.
Wail, you oaks of Bashan,
for the strong forest has come down.
- ³ A voice of the wailing of the shepherds!
For their glory is destroyed—a voice of the roaring of young lions!
For the pride of the Jordan is ruined.
- ⁴ The LORD my God says: "Feed the flock of slaughter. ⁵ Their buyers slaughter them and go unpunished. Those who sell them say, 'Blessed be the LORD, for I am rich;' and their own shepherds don't pity them. ⁶ For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land," says the LORD; "but, behold, I will deliver every one of the men into his neighbor's hand and into the hand of his king. They will strike the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them."
- ⁷ So I fed the flock to be slaughtered, especially the oppressed of the flock. I took for myself two staffs. The one I called "Favor" and the other I called "Union", and I fed the flock. ⁸ I cut off the three shepherds in one month; for my soul was weary of them, and their soul also loathed me. ⁹ Then I said, "I will not feed you. That which dies, let it die; and that which is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let those who are left eat each other's flesh." ¹⁰ I took my staff Favor and cut it apart, that I might break my covenant that I had made with all the peoples. ¹¹ It was broken in that day; and thus the poor of the flock that listened to me knew that it was the LORD's word. ¹² I said to them, "If you think it best, give me my wages; and if not, keep them." So they weighed for my wages thirty pieces of silver. ¹³ The LORD said to me, "Throw it to the potter—the handsome price that I was valued at by them!" I took the thirty pieces of silver and threw them to the potter in the LORD's house. ¹⁴ Then I cut apart my other staff, Union, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.
- ¹⁵ The LORD said to me, "Take for yourself yet again the equipment of a foolish shepherd. ¹⁶ For, behold, I will raise up a shepherd in the land who will not visit those who are cut off, neither will seek those who are scattered, nor heal that which is broken, nor feed that which is sound; but he will eat the meat of the fat sheep, and will tear their hoofs in pieces. ¹⁷ Woe to the worthless shepherd who leaves the flock! The sword will strike his arm and his right eye. His arm will be completely withered, and his right eye will be totally blinded!"

⁷ The LORD also will save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of David's house and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem not be magnified above Judah. ⁸ In that day the LORD will defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem. He who is feeble among them at that day will be like David, and David's house will be like God, like the LORD's angel before them. ⁹ It will happen in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

¹⁰ I will pour on David's house and on the inhabitants of Jerusalem the spirit of grace and of supplication. They will look to me* whom they have pierced; and they shall mourn for him as one mourns for his only son, and will grieve bitterly for him as one grieves for his firstborn. ¹¹ In that day there will be a great mourning in Jerusalem, like the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddo. ¹² The land will mourn, every family apart; the family of David's house apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; ¹³ the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of the Shimeites apart, and their wives apart; ¹⁴ all the families who remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

² It will come to pass in that day, says the LORD of Armies, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they will be remembered no more. I will also cause the prophets and the spirit of impurity to pass out of the land. ³ It will happen that when anyone still prophesies, then his father and his mother who bore him will tell him, 'You must die, because you speak lies in the LORD's name;' and his father and his mother who bore him will stab him when he prophesies. ⁴ It will happen in that day that the prophets will each be ashamed of his vision when he prophesies; they won't wear a hairy mantle to deceive, ⁵ but he will say, 'I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondservant from my youth.' ⁶ One will say to him, 'What are these wounds between your arms?' Then he will answer, 'Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.'

⁷ "Awake, sword, against my shepherd, and against the man who is close to me," says the LORD of Armies.
"Strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered;
and I will turn my hand against the little ones.

⁸ It shall happen that in all the land," says the LORD,
"two parts in it will be cut off and die;
but the third will be left in it.

⁹ I will bring the third part into the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined,
and will test them like gold is tested.
They will call on my name, and I will hear them.
I will say, 'It is my people;'
and they will say, 'The LORD is my God.' "

¹ Behold, a day of the LORD comes, when your plunder will be divided within you. ² For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city will be taken, the houses rifled, and the women ravished. Half of the city will go out into captivity, and the rest of the people will not be cut off from the city. ³ Then the LORD will go out and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle. ⁴ His feet will stand in that day on the Mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east; and the Mount of Olives will be split in two from east to west, making a very great valley. Half of the mountain will move toward the north, and half of it toward the south. ⁵ You shall flee by the valley of my mountains, for the valley of the mountains shall reach to Azel. Yes, you shall flee, just like you fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah. The LORD my God will come, and all the holy ones with you. *

⁶ It will happen in that day that there will not be light, cold, or frost. ⁷ It will be a unique day which is known to the LORD—not day, and not night; but it will come to pass that at evening time there will be light.

⁸ It will happen in that day that living waters will go out from Jerusalem, half of them toward the eastern sea, and half of them toward the western sea. It will be so in summer and in winter.

⁹ The LORD will be King over all the earth. In that day the LORD will be one, and his name one.

¹⁰ All the land will be made like the Arabah, from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem; and she will be lifted up and will dwell in her place, from Benjamin's gate to the place of the first gate, to the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananel to the king's wine presses. ¹¹ Men will dwell therein, and there will be no more curse; but Jerusalem will dwell safely.

* 14:5 Septuagint reads "him" instead of "you".

¹² This will be the plague with which the LORD will strike all the peoples who have fought against Jerusalem: their flesh will consume away while they stand on their feet, and their eyes will consume away in their sockets, and their tongue will consume away in their mouth. ¹³ It will happen in that day that a great panic from the LORD will be among them; and they will each seize the hand of his neighbor, and his hand will rise up against the hand of his neighbor. ¹⁴ Judah also will fight at Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the surrounding nations will be gathered together: gold, silver, and clothing, in great abundance.

¹⁶ It will happen that everyone who is left of all the nations that came against Jerusalem will go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of Armies, and to keep the feast of booths. ¹⁷ It will be that whoever of all the families of the earth doesn't go up to Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of Armies, on them there will be no rain. ¹⁸ If the family of Egypt doesn't go up and doesn't come, neither will it rain on them. This will be the plague with which the LORD will strike the nations that don't go up to keep the feast of booths. ¹⁹ This will be the punishment of Egypt and the punishment of all the nations that don't go up to keep the feast of booths.

²⁰ In that day there will be inscribed on the bells of the horses, "HOLY TO THE LORD"; and the pots in the LORD's house will be like the bowls before the altar. ²¹ Yes, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah will be holy to the LORD of Armies; and all those who sacrifice will come and take of them, and cook in them. In that day there will no longer be a Canaanite[†] in the house of the LORD of Armies.

The Book of Malachi

² "I have loved you," says the LORD.

Yet you say, "How have you loved us?"

"Wasn't Esau Jacob's brother?" says the LORD, "Yet I loved Jacob; ³ but Esau I hated, and made his mountains a desolation, and gave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness." ⁴ Whereas Edom says, "We are beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places," the LORD of Armies says, "They shall build, but I will throw down; and men will call them 'The Wicked Land,' even the people against whom the LORD shows wrath forever."

⁵ Your eyes will see, and you will say, "The LORD is great—even beyond the border of Israel!"

⁶ "A son honors his father, and a servant his master. If I am a father, then where is my honor? And if I am a master, where is the respect due me?" says the LORD of Armies to you priests who despise my name. "You say, 'How have we despised your name?' ⁷ You offer polluted bread on my altar. You say, 'How have we polluted you?' In that you say, 'The LORD's table is contemptible.' ⁸ When you offer the blind for sacrifice, isn't that evil? And when you offer the lame and sick, isn't that evil? Present it now to your governor! Will he be pleased with you? Or will he accept your person?" says the LORD of Armies.

⁹ "Now, please entreat the favor of God,† that he may be gracious to us. With this, will he accept any of you?" says the LORD of Armies.

¹⁰ "Oh that there were one among you who would shut the doors, that you might not kindle fire on my altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you," says the LORD of Armies, "neither will I accept an offering at your hand. ¹¹ For from the rising of the sun even to its going down, my name is great among the nations, and in every place incense will be offered to my name, and a pure offering; for my name is great among the nations," says the LORD of Armies. ¹² "But you profane it when you say, 'The LORD's table is polluted, and its fruit, even its food, is contemptible.' ¹³ You say also, 'Behold,‡ what a weariness it is!' And you have sniffed at it", says the LORD of Armies; "and you have brought that which was taken by violence, the lame, and the sick; thus you bring the offering. Should I accept this at your hand?" says the LORD.

¹⁴ "But the deceiver is cursed who has in his flock a male, and vows and sacrifices to the Lord§ a defective thing; for I am a great King," says the LORD of Armies, "and my name is awesome among the nations."

¹ "Now, you priests, this commandment is for you. ² If you will not listen, and if you will not take it to heart, to give glory to my name," says the

LORD of Armies, “then I will send the curse on you, and I will curse your blessings. Indeed, I have cursed them already, because you do not take it to heart. ³ Behold, I will rebuke your offspring,* and will spread dung on your faces, even the dung of your feasts; and you will be taken away with it. ⁴ You will know that I have sent this commandment to you, that my covenant may be with Levi,” says the LORD of Armies. ⁵ “My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him that he might be reverent toward me; and he was reverent toward me, and stood in awe of my name. ⁶ The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips. He walked with me in peace and uprightness, and turned many away from iniquity. ⁷ For the priest’s lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth; for he is the messenger of the LORD of Armies. ⁸ But you have turned away from the path. You have caused many to stumble in the law. You have corrupted the covenant of Levi,” says the LORD of Armies. ⁹ “Therefore I have also made you contemptible and wicked before all the people, according to the way you have not kept my ways, but have had respect for persons in the law. ¹⁰ Don’t we all have one father? Hasn’t one God created us? Why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the covenant of our fathers? ¹¹ Judah has dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah has profaned the holiness of the LORD which he loves, and has married the daughter of a foreign god. ¹² The LORD will cut off the man who does this, him who wakes and him who answers, out of the tents of Jacob and him who offers an offering to the LORD of Armies.

¹³ “This again you do: you cover the LORD’s altar with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, because he doesn’t regard the offering any more, neither receives it with good will at your hand. ¹⁴ Yet you say, ‘Why?’ Because the LORD has been witness between you and the wife of your youth, against whom you have dealt treacherously, though she is your companion and the wife of your covenant. ¹⁵ Did he not make you one, although he had the residue of the Spirit? Why one? He sought godly offspring. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let no one deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. ¹⁶ One who hates and divorces”, says the LORD, the God of Israel, “covers his garment with violence!” says the LORD of Armies. “Therefore pay attention to your spirit, that you don’t be unfaithful.

¹⁷ You have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet you say, ‘How have we wearied him?’ In that you say, ‘Everyone who does evil is good in the LORD’s sight, and he delights in them;’ or ‘Where is the God of justice?’

¹ “Behold, I send my messenger, and he will prepare the way before me! The Lord, whom you seek, will suddenly come to his temple. Behold, the messenger of the covenant, whom you desire, is coming!” says the LORD of Armies. ² “But who can endure the day of his coming? And who will stand when he appears? For he is like a refiner’s fire, and like launderers’ soap; ³ and he will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he will purify the sons of Levi, and refine them as gold and silver; and they shall offer to the LORD offerings in righteousness. ⁴ Then the offering of Judah and Jerusalem will be pleasant to the LORD as in the days of old and as in ancient years.

⁵ I will come near to you to judgment. I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, against the adulterers, against the perjurers, and against those who oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and who deprive the foreigner of justice, and don't fear me," says the LORD of Armies.

⁶ "For I, the LORD, don't change; therefore you, sons of Jacob, are not consumed. ⁷ From the days of your fathers you have turned away from my ordinances and have not kept them. Return to me, and I will return to you," says the LORD of Armies. "But you say, 'How shall we return?'

⁸ Will a man rob God? Yet you rob me! But you say, 'How have we robbed you?' In tithes and offerings. ⁹ You are cursed with the curse; for you rob me, even this whole nation. ¹⁰ Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house, and test me now in this," says the LORD of Armies, "if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there will not be enough room for. ¹¹ I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast its fruit before its time in the field," says the LORD of Armies. ¹² "All nations shall call you blessed, for you will be a delightful land," says the LORD of Armies.

¹⁶ Then those who feared the LORD spoke one with another; and the LORD listened and heard, and a book of memory was written before him for those who feared the LORD and who honored his name. ¹⁷ They shall be mine," says the LORD of Armies, "my own possession in the day that I make. I will spare them, as a man spares his own son who serves him. ¹⁸ Then you shall return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him who serves God and him who doesn't serve him.

¹ "For behold, the day comes, burning like a furnace, when all the proud and all who work wickedness will be stubble. The day that comes will burn them up," says the LORD of Armies, "so that it will leave them neither root nor branch. ² But to you who fear my name shall the sun of righteousness arise with healing in its wings. You will go out and leap like calves of the stall. ³ You shall tread down the wicked; for they will be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I make," says the LORD of Armies.

⁴ "Remember the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded to him in Horeb for all Israel, even statutes and ordinances.

⁵ Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and terrible day of the LORD comes. ⁶ He will turn the hearts of the fathers to the children and the hearts of the children to their fathers, lest I come and strike the earth with a curse."

Tobit

Tobit is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Russian Orthodox Churches.

³ I, Tobit walked in the ways of truth and righteousness all the days of my life, and I did many alms deeds to my kindred and my nation, who went with me into the land of the Assyrians, to Nineveh. ⁴ When I was in my own country, in the land of Israel, while I was yet young, all the tribe of Naphtali my father fell away from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, and the temple of the habitation of the Most High was hallowed and built therein for all ages. ⁵ All the tribes which fell away together sacrificed to the heifer Baal, and so did the house of Naphtali my father. ⁶ I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it has been ordained to all Israel by an everlasting decree, having the first fruits and the tenths of my increase, and that which was first shorn; and I gave them at the altar to the priests the sons of Aaron. ⁷ I gave a tenth part of all my increase to the sons of Levi, who ministered at Jerusalem. A second tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it each year at Jerusalem. ⁸ A third tenth I gave to them to whom it was appropriate, as Deborah my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father. ⁹ When I became a man, I took as wife Anna of the seed of our own family. With her, I became the father of Tobias. ¹⁰ When I was carried away captive to Nineveh, all my kindred and my relatives ate of the bread of the Gentiles; ¹¹ but I kept myself from eating, ¹² because I remembered God with all my soul. ¹³ So the Most High gave me grace and favor† in the sight of Enemessar, and I was his purchasing agent. ¹⁴ And I went into Media, and left ten talents of silver in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, at Rages of Media.

¹⁵ And when Enemessar was dead, Sennacherib his son reigned in his place. In his time, the highways were troubled,‡ and I could no longer go into Media. ¹⁶ In the days of Enemessar, I did many alms deeds to my kindred: I gave my bread to the hungry, ¹⁷ and my garments to the naked. If I saw any of my race dead, and thrown out on§ the wall of Ninevah, I buried him. ¹⁸ If Sennacherib the king killed any, when he came fleeing from Judea, I buried them privately; for in his wrath he killed many; and the bodies were sought for by the king, and were not found. ¹⁹ But one of the Ninevites went and showed to the king concerning me, how I buried them, and hid myself; and when I knew that I was sought for to be put to death, I withdrew myself for fear. ²⁰ And all my goods were forcibly taken away, and there was nothing left to me, save my wife Anna and my son Tobias. ²¹ No more than fifty five days passed before two of his sons killed him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararat. And Sarchedonus* his son reigned in his place; and he appointed Achiacharus my brother Anael's son over all the accounts of his kingdom, and over all his affairs. ²² Achiacharus requested me, and I came to Nineveh. Now Achiacharus was cupbearer, keeper of the signet, steward, and overseer of the accounts. Sarchedonus appointed him next to himself, but he was my brother's son.

¹ Now when I had come home again, and my wife Anna was restored to me, and my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared for me, and I sat down to eat. ² I saw abundance of meat, and I said to my son, "Go and bring whatever poor man you find of our kindred, who is mindful of the Lord. Behold, I wait for you."

³ Then he came, and said, "Father, one of our race is strangled, and has been cast out in the marketplace." ⁴ Before I had tasted anything, I sprang up, and took him up into a chamber until the sun had set. ⁵ Then I returned, washed myself, ate my bread in heaviness, ⁶ and remembered the prophecy of Amos, as he said,

☆ "Your feasts will be turned into mourning, and all your mirth into lamentation.

⁷ So I wept: and when the sun had set, I went and dug a grave, and buried him. ⁸ My neighbors mocked me, and said, "He is no longer afraid to be put to death for this matter; and yet he fled away. Behold, he buries the dead again." ⁹ The same night I returned from burying him, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, being polluted; and my face was uncovered. ¹⁰ I didn't know that there were sparrows in the wall. My eyes were open and the sparrows dropped warm dung into my eyes, and white films came over my eyes. I went to the physicians, and they didn't help me; but Achiacharus nourished me, until I went* into Elymais.

¹¹ My wife Anna wove cloth in the women's chambers, ¹² and sent the work back to the owners. They on their part paid her wages, and also gave her a kid. ¹³ But when it came to my house, it began to cry, and I said to her, "Where did this kid come from? Is it stolen? Give it back to the owners; for it is not lawful to eat anything that is stolen." ¹⁴ But she said, "It has been given to me for a gift more than the wages."

I didn't believe her, and I asked her to return it to the owners; and I was ashamed of her.

But she answered and said to me, "Where are your alms and your righteous deeds? Behold, you and all your works are known.†"

¹ I was grieved and wept, and prayed in sorrow, saying,

² "O Lord, you are righteous, and all your works and all your ways are mercy and truth, and you judge true and righteous judgment forever. ³ Remember me, and look at me. Don't take vengeance on me for my sins and my ignorances, and the sins of my fathers who sinned before you. ⁴ For they disobeyed your commandments. You gave us as plunder, for captivity, for death, and for a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed. ⁵ Now your judgments are many and true, that you should deal with me according to my sins and the sins of my fathers, because we didn't keep your commandments, for we didn't walk in truth before you. ⁶ Now deal with me according to that which is pleasing in your sight. Command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be released, and become earth. For it is more profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and there is much sorrow in me. Command that I be released from my mistress, now, and go to the everlasting place. Don't turn your face away from me."

* 1:21 That is, Esar-haddon, and so in verse 22. ☆ 2:6 Amos 8:10 * 2:10 Some authorities read until he went. † 2:14 Gr. all things are known with you.

⁷ The same day it happened to Sarah the daughter of Raguel in Ecbatana of Media, that she also was reproached by her father's maidservants; ⁸ because that she had been given to seven husbands, and Asmodaeus the evil spirit* killed them, before they had lain with her. And they said to her, "Do you not know that you strangle your husbands? You have had already seven husbands, and you haven't borne the name of any one of them. ⁹ Why do you scourge us? If they are dead, go your ways with them. Let us never see either son or daughter from you." ¹⁰ When she heard these things, she was grieved exceedingly, so that she thought about hanging herself. Then she said, "I am the only daughter of my father. If I do this, it will be a reproach to him, and I will bring down his old age with sorrow to the grave.†" ¹¹ Then she prayed by the window, and said, "Blessed are you, O Lord my God, and blessed is your holy and honorable name forever! Let all your works praise you forever! ¹² And now, Lord, I have set my eyes and my face toward you. ¹³ Command that I be released from the earth, and that I no longer hear reproach. ¹⁴ You know, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man, ¹⁵ and that I never polluted my name or the name of my father in the land of my captivity. I am the only daughter of my father, and he has no child that will be his heir, nor brother near him, nor son belonging to him, that I should keep myself for a wife to him. Seven husbands of mine are dead already. Why should I live? If it doesn't please you to kill me, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, and that I hear no more reproach."

¹⁶ The prayer of both was heard before the glory of the great God. ¹⁷ Raphael also was sent to heal them both, to scale away the white films from Tobit's eyes, and to give Sarah the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the son of Tobit; and to bind Asmodaeus the evil spirit‡; because it belonged to Tobias that he should inherit her. At that very time, Tobit returned and entered into his house, and Sarah the daughter of Raguel came down from her upper chamber.

¹ In that day Tobit remembered the money which he had left in trust with Gabael in Rages of Media, ² and he said to himself, I have asked for death; why do I not call my son Tobias, that I may explain to him about the money before I die? ³ And he called him, and said,

* 3:8 Gr. demon. † 3:10 Gr. Hades. ‡ 3:17 Gr. demon.

“My child, if I die, bury me. Don’t despise your mother. Honor her all the days of your life, and do that which is pleasing to her, and don’t grieve her. ⁴ Remember, my child, that she has seen many dangers for you, when you were in her womb. When she is dead, bury her by me in one grave. ⁵ My child, be mindful of the Lord our God all your days, and don’t let your will be set to sin and to transgress his commandments: do righteousness all the days of your life, and don’t follow the ways of unrighteousness. ⁶ For if you do what is true, your deeds will prosperously succeed for you, and for all those who do righteousness. ⁷ Give alms from your possessions. When you give alms, don’t let your eye be envious. Don’t turn away your face from any poor man, and the face of God won’t be turned away from you. ⁸ As your possessions are, give alms of it according to your abundance. If you have little, don’t be afraid to give alms according to that little; ⁹ for you lay up a good treasure for yourself against the day of necessity; ¹⁰ because almsgiving delivers from death, and doesn’t allow you to come into darkness. ¹¹ Alms is a good gift in the sight of the Most High for all that give it. ¹² Beware, my child, of all fornication, and take first a wife of the seed of your fathers. Don’t take a strange wife, who is not of your father’s tribe; for we are the descendants of the prophets. Remember, my child, that Noah, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, our fathers of old time, all took wives of their kindred, and were blessed in their children, and their seed will inherit the land. ¹³ And now, my child, love your kindred, and don’t scorn your kindred and the sons and the daughters of your people in your heart, to take a wife of them; for in scornfulness is destruction and much trouble, and in idleness is decay and great lack; for idleness is the mother of famine. ¹⁴ Don’t let the wages of any man who works for you wait with you, but give it to him out of hand. If you serve God, you will be rewarded. Take heed to yourself, my child, in all your works, and be discreet in all your behavior. ¹⁵ And what you yourself hate, do to no man. Don’t drink wine to drunkenness, and don’t let drunkenness go with you on your way. ¹⁶ Give of your bread to the hungry, and of your garments to those who are naked. Give alms from all your abundance. Don’t let your eye be envious when you give alms. ¹⁷ Pour out your bread on the burial* of the just, and give nothing to sinners. ¹⁸ Ask counsel of every man who is wise, and don’t despise any counsel that is profitable. ¹⁹ Bless the Lord your God at all times, and ask of him that your ways may be made straight, and that all your paths and counsels may prosper; for every nation has no counsel; but the Lord himself gives all good things, and he humbles whom he will, as he will. And now, my child, remember my commandments, and let them not be blotted out of your mind. ²⁰ And now I explain to you about the ten talents of silver, which I left in trust with Gabael the son of Gabrias at Rages of Media. ²¹ And fear not, my child, because we are made poor. You have much wealth, if you fear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.”

¹ Then Tobias answered and said to him, “Father, I will do all things, whatever you have commanded me. ² But how could I receive the money, since I don’t know him?”

* 4:17 Or, tomb

³ He gave him the handwriting, and said to him, "Seek a man who will go with you, and I will give him wages, while I still live; and go and receive the money."

⁴ He went to seek a man, and found Raphael who was an angel; ⁵ and he didn't know it. He said to him, "Can I go with you to Rages of Media? Do you know those places well?"

⁶ The angel said to him, "I will go with you. I know the way well. I have lodged with our brother Gabael."

⁷ Tobias said to him, "Wait for me, and I will tell my father."

⁸ He said to him, "Go, and don't wait. And he went in and said to his father, "Behold, I have found someone who will go with me."

But he said, "Call him to me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trustworthy man to go with you."

⁹ So he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another. ¹⁰ And Tobit said to him, "Brother, of what tribe and of what family are you? Tell me."

¹¹ He said to him, "Do you seek a tribe and a family, or a hired man which will go with your son?"

And Tobit said to him, "I want to know, brother, your kindred and your name."

¹² And he said, "I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, of your kindred."

¹³ And he said to him, "Welcome, brother. Don't be angry with me, because I sought to know your tribe and family. You are my brother, of an honest and good lineage; for I knew Ananias and Jathan, the sons of Shemaiah the great, when we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the firstborn, and the tenths of our increase; and they didn't go astray in the error of our kindred. My brother, you are of a great stock. ¹⁴ But tell me, what wages shall I give you? A drachma a day, and those things that be necessary for you, as to my son? ¹⁵ And moreover, if you both return safe and sound, I will add something to your wages."

¹⁶ And so they agreed. And he said to Tobias, "Prepare yourself for the journey. May God prosper you." So his son prepared what was needful for the journey, and his father said to him, "Go with this man; but God, who dwells in heaven, will prosper your journey. May his angel go with you."

Then they both departed, and the young man's dog went with them. ¹⁷ But Anna his mother wept, and said to Tobit, "Why have you sent away our child? Isn't he the staff of our hand, in going in and out before us? ¹⁸ Don't be greedy to add money to money; but let it be as refuse compared to our child. ¹⁹ For what the Lord has given us to live is enough for us."

²⁰ Tobit said to her, "Don't worry, my sister. He will return safe and sound, and your eyes will see him. ²¹ For a good angel will go with him. His journey will be prospered, and he will return safe and sound."

²² So she stopped weeping.

¹ Now as they went on their journey, they came at evening to the river Tigris, and they lodged there. ² But the young man went down to wash himself, and a fish leaped out of the river, and would have swallowed up the young man. ³ But the angel said to him, "Grab the fish!"

So the young man grabbed the fish, and hauled it up onto the land.

⁴ And the angel said to him, "Cut the fish open, and take the heart, the liver, and the bile, and keep them with you." ⁵ And the young man did as the angel commanded him; but they roasted the fish, and ate it. And they both went on their way, till they drew near to Ecbatana.

⁷ He said to him, "About the heart and the liver: If a demon or an evil spirit troubles anyone, we must burn those and make smoke of them before the man or the woman, and the affliction will flee. ⁸ But as for the bile, it is good to anoint a man that has white films in his eyes, and he will be healed."

⁹ But when they drew near to Rages, ¹⁰ the angel said to the young man, "Brother, today we will lodge with Raguel. He is your kinsman. He has an only daughter named Sarah. I will speak about her, that she should be given to you for a wife. ¹¹ For her inheritance belongs to you, and you only are of her kindred. ¹² The maid is fair and wise. And now hear me, and I will speak to her father. When we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage; for I know that Raguel may in no way marry her to another according to the law of Moses, or else he would be liable to death, because it belongs to you to take the inheritance, rather than any other."

¹⁵ But the angel said to him, "Don't you remember the words which your father commanded you, that you should take a wife of your own kindred? Now hear me, brother; for she will be your wife. Don't worry about the demon; for this night she will be given you as wife. ¹⁶ And when* you come into the bride-chamber, you shall take the ashes of incense, and shall lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shall make smoke with them. ¹⁷ The demon will smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more. But when you go near to her, both of you rise up, and cry to God who is merciful. He will save you, and have mercy on you. Don't be afraid, for she was prepared for you from the beginning; and you will save her; and she will go with you. And I suppose that you will have children with her."

When Tobias heard these things, he loved her; and his soul was strongly joined to her.

¹ They came to Ecbatana, and arrived at the house of Raguel. But Sarah met them; and she greeted them, and they her. Then she brought them into the house. ² Raguel said to Edna his wife, "This young man really resembles Tobit my cousin!" ³ And Raguel asked them, "Where are you two from, kindred?"

They said to him, "We are of the sons of Naphtali, who are captives in Nineveh."

⁴ He said to them, "Do you know Tobit our brother?"

They said, "We know him."

* 6:16 Gr. if.

Then he said to them, "Is he in good health?"

⁵ They said, "He is both alive, and in good health." Tobias said, "He is my father."

⁶ And Raguel sprang up, and kissed him, wept, ⁷ blessed him, and said to him, "You are the son of an honest and good man." When he had heard that Tobit had lost his sight, he was grieved, and wept; ⁸ and Edna his wife and Sarah his daughter wept. They received them gladly; and they killed a ram of the flock, and served them meat.

But Tobias said to Raphael, "Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which you talked about in the way, and let the matter be finished."

⁹ So he communicated the thing to Raguel. Raguel said to Tobias, "Eat, drink, and make merry: ¹⁰ for it belongs to you to take my child. However I will tell you the truth. ¹¹ I have given my child to seven men of our relatives, and whenever they came in to her, they died in the night. But for the present be merry."

And Tobias said, "I will taste nothing here, until you all make a covenant and enter into that covenant with me."

¹² Raguel said, "Take her to yourself from now on according to custom. You are her relative, and she is yours. The merciful God will give all good success to you." ¹³ And he called his daughter Sarah, and took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife of Tobias, and said, "Behold, take her to yourself after the law of Moses, and lead her away to your father." And he blessed them. ¹⁴ He called Edna his wife, then took a book, wrote a contract, and sealed it. ¹⁵ Then they began to eat.

¹⁶ And Raguel called his wife Edna, and said to her, "Sister, prepare the other chamber, and bring her in there." ¹⁷ She did as he asked her, and brought her in there. She wept, and she received the tears of her daughter, and said to her, ¹⁸ "Be comforted, my child. May the Lord of heaven and earth give you favor* for this your sorrow. Be comforted, my daughter."

¹ When they had finished their supper, they brought Tobias in to her. ² But as he went, he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the ashes of the incense, and put the heart and the liver of the fish on them, and made smoke with them. ³ When the demon smelled that smell, it fled into the uppermost parts of Egypt, and the angel bound him. ⁴ But after they were both shut in together, Tobias rose up from the bed, and said, "Sister, arise, and let's pray that the Lord may have mercy on us." ⁵ And Tobias began to say, "Blessed are you, O God of our fathers, and blessed is your holy and glorious name forever. Let the heavens bless you, and all your creatures. ⁶ You made Adam, and gave him Eve his wife for a helper and support. From them came the seed of men. You said, it is not good that the man should be alone. Let's make him a helper like him. ⁷ And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but in truth. Command that I may find mercy and grow old with her."

⁸ She said with him, "Amen." And they both slept that night.

⁹ Raguel arose, and went and dug a grave, ¹⁰ saying, "Lest he also should die." ¹¹ And Raguel came into his house, ¹² and said to Edna his wife, "Send one of the maidservants, and let them see if he is alive. If not, we will bury him, and no man will know it.”

* 7:18 Many ancient authorities read joy.

¹³ So the maidservant opened the door, and went in, and found them both sleeping, ¹⁴ and came out, and told them that he was alive.

¹⁸ He commanded his servants to fill the grave. ¹⁹ He kept the wedding feast for them fourteen days. ²⁰ Before the days of the wedding feast were finished, Raguel swore to him, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the wedding feast were fulfilled; ²¹ and that then he should take half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and the rest, said he, when my wife and I die.

¹ And Tobias called Raphael, and said to him, ² “Brother Azarias, take with you a servant and two camels, and go to Rages of Media to Gabael, and receive the money for me, and bring him to the wedding feast, ³ because Raguel has sworn that I must not depart. ⁴ My father counts the days; and if I wait long, he will be very grieved. ⁵ So Raphael went on his way, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him the handwriting; so he brought forth the bags with their seals, and gave them to him. ⁶ Then they rose up early in the morning together, and came to the wedding feast. Tobias blessed his wife.

⁴ But his wife said to him, “The child has perished, seeing he waits long.” She began to bewail him, and said, ⁵ “I care about nothing,† my child, since I have let you go, the light of my eyes.” ⁶ Tobit said to her, “Hold your peace. Don’t worry. He is in good health.”

⁷ And she said to him, “Hold your peace. Don’t deceive me. My child has perished.” And she went out every day into the way by which they went, and ate no bread in the day-time, and didn’t stop bewailing her son Tobias for whole nights, until the fourteen days of the wedding feast were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there.

Then Tobias said to Raguel, “Send me away, for my father and my mother look no more to see me.” ⁸ But his father-in-law said to him, “Stay with me, and I will send to your father, and they will declare to him how things go with you.” ⁹ Tobias said, “No. Send me away to my father.”

¹⁰ Raguel arose, and gave him Sarah his wife, and half his goods, servants and cattle and money; ¹¹ and he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, "The God of heaven will prosper you, my children, before I die." ¹² And he said to his daughter, "Honor your father-in-law and your mother-in-law. They are now your parents. Let me hear a good report of you." Then he kissed her.

Edna said to Tobias, "May the Lord of heaven restore you, dear brother, and grant to me that I may see your children of my daughter Sarah, that I may rejoice before the Lord. Behold, I commit my daughter to you in special trust. Don't cause her grief.

⁵ Anna sat looking around toward the path for her son. ⁶ She saw him coming, and said to his father, "Behold, your son is coming with the man that went with him!"

⁷ Raphael said, "I know, Tobias, that your father will open his eyes. ⁸ Therefore anoint his eyes with the bile, and being pricked with it, he will rub, and will make the white films fall away. Then he will see you."

⁹ Anna ran to him, and fell upon the neck of her son, and said to him, "I have seen you, my child! I am ready to die." They both wept.

¹⁰ Tobit went toward the door and stumbled; but his son ran to him, ¹¹ and took hold of his father. He rubbed the bile on his father's eyes, saying, "Cheer up, my father." ¹² When his eyes began to hurt, he rubbed them. ¹³ Then the white films peeled away from the corners of his eyes; and he saw his son, and fell upon his neck.

¹⁴ He wept, and said, "Blessed are you, O God, and blessed is your name forever! Blessed are all your holy angels! ¹⁵ For you scourged, and had mercy on me. Behold, I see my son Tobias." And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

¹⁶ Tobit went out to meet his daughter-in-law at the gate of Nineveh, rejoicing and blessing God. Those who saw him go marveled, because he had received his sight. ¹⁷ Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had shown mercy on him. When Tobit came near to Sarah his daughter-in-law, he blessed her, saying, "Welcome, daughter! Blessed is God who has brought you to us, and blessed are your father and your mother." And there was joy among all his kindred who were at Nineveh. ¹⁸ Achiacharus and Nasbas his brother's son came. ¹⁹ Tobias' wedding feast was kept seven days with great gladness.

¹ And Tobit called his son Tobias, and said to him, "See, my child, that the man which went with you have his wages, and you must give him more."

² And he said to him, "Father, it is no harm to me to give him the half of those things which I have brought; ³ for he has led me for you in safety, and he cured my wife, and brought my money, and likewise cured you."

⁴ The old man said, "It is due to him."

⁵ And he called the angel, and said to him, "Take half of all that you have brought."

⁶ Then he called them both privately, and said to them, "Bless God, and give him thanks, and magnify him, and give him thanks in the sight of all that live, for the things which he has done with you. It is good to bless God and exalt his name, showing forth with honor the works of God. Don't be slack to give him thanks. ⁷ It is good to conceal the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. Do good, and evil won't find you. ⁸ Good is prayer with fasting, alms, and righteousness. A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give alms than to lay up gold. ⁹ Alms delivers from death, and it purges away all sin. Those who give alms and do righteousness will be filled with life; ¹⁰ but those who sin are enemies to their own life. ¹¹ Surely I will conceal nothing from you. I have said, 'It is good to conceal the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God.' ¹² And now, when you prayed, and Sarah your daughter-in-law, I brought the memorial of your prayer before the Holy One. When you buried the dead, I was with you likewise. ¹³ And when you didn't delay to rise up, and leave your dinner, that you might go and cover the dead, your good deed was not hidden from me. I was with you. ¹⁴ And now God sent me to heal you and Sarah your daughter-in-law. ¹⁵ I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels which present the prayers of the saints and go in before the glory of the Holy One."

¹⁶ And they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces; for they were afraid. ¹⁷ And he said to them, "Don't be afraid. You will all have peace; but bless God forever. ¹⁸ For I came not of any favor of my own, but by the will of your God. Therefore bless him forever. ¹⁹ All these days I appeared to you. I didn't eat or drink, but you all saw a vision. ²⁰ Now give God thanks, because I ascend to him who sent me. Write in a book all the things which have been done." ²¹ Then they rose up, and saw him no more. ²² They confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared to them.

¹ And Tobit wrote a prayer for rejoicing, and said,
"Blessed is God who lives forever!
Blessed is his kingdom!

² For he scourges, and shows mercy.

He leads down to the grave,* and brings up again.
There is no one who will escape his hand.

³ Give thanks to him before the Gentiles, all you children of Israel!
For he has scattered us among them.

⁴ Declare his greatness, there.

Extol him before all the living,
because he is our Lord,
and God is our Father forever.

* 13:2 Gr. Hades.

- ⁵ He will scourge us for our iniquities, and will again show mercy, and will gather us out of all the nations among whom you are all scattered.
- ⁶ If you turn to him with your whole heart and with your whole soul,
to do truth before him,
then he will turn to you,
and won't hide his face from you.
See what he will do with you.
Give him thanks with your whole mouth.
Bless the Lord of righteousness.
Exalt the everlasting King.
I give him thanks in the land of my captivity,
and show his strength and majesty to a nation of sinners.
Turn, you sinners, and do righteousness before him.
Who can tell if he will accept you and have mercy on you?
- ⁷ I exalt my God.
My soul exalts the King of heaven,
and rejoices in his greatness.
- ⁸ Let all men speak,
and let them give him thanks in Jerusalem.
- ⁹ O Jerusalem, the holy city,
he will scourge you for the works of your sons,
and will again have mercy on the sons of the righteous.
- ¹⁰ Give thanks to the Lord with goodness, and bless the everlasting King,
that his tabernacle may be built in you again with joy,
and that he may make glad in you those who are captives,
and love in you forever those who are miserable.
- ¹¹ Many nations will come from afar to the name of the Lord God with gifts in their hands, even gifts to the King of heaven.
Generations of generations will praise you,
and sing songs of rejoicing.
- ¹² All those who hate you are cursed.
All those who love you forever will be blessed.
- ¹³ Rejoice and be exceedingly glad for the sons of the righteous;
for they will be gathered together and will bless the Lord of the righteous.
- ¹⁴ Oh blessed are those who love you.
They will rejoice for your peace.
Blessed are all those who mourned for all your scourges;
because they will rejoice for you when they have seen all your glory.
They will be made glad forever.
- ¹⁵ Let my soul bless God the great King.
- ¹⁶ For Jerusalem will be built with sapphires, emeralds, and precious stones;
your walls and towers and battlements with pure gold.
- ¹⁷ The streets of Jerusalem will be paved with beryl, carbuncle, and stones of Ophir.
¹⁸ All her streets will say, "Hallelujah!"
and give praise, saying, "Blessed be God, who has exalted you forever!"

³ Now he grew very old; and he called his son with the six sons of his son, and said to him, "My child, take your sons. Behold, I have grown old, and am ready to depart out of this life. ⁴ Go into Media, my child, for I surely believe all the things which Jonah the prophet spoke of Nineveh, that it will be overthrown, but in Media there will rather be peace for a season. Our kindred will be scattered in the earth from the good land. Jerusalem will be desolate, and the house of God in it will be burned up, and will be desolate for a time. ⁵ God will again have mercy on them, and bring them back into the land, and they will build the house, but not like to the former house, until the times of that age are fulfilled. Afterward they will return from the places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem with honor. The house of God will be built in it forever with a glorious building, even as the prophets spoke concerning it. ⁶ And all the nations will turn to fear the Lord God truly, and will bury their idols. ⁷ All the nations will bless the Lord, and his people will give thanks to God, and the Lord will exalt his people; and all those who love the Lord God in truth and righteousness will rejoice, showing mercy to our kindred. ⁸ And now, my child, depart from Nineveh, because those things which the prophet Jonah spoke will surely come to pass. ⁹ But you must keep the law and the ordinances, and show yourself merciful and righteous, that it may be well with you. ¹⁰ Bury me decently, and your mother with me. Don't stay at Nineveh. See, my child, what Aman did to Achiacharus who nourished him, how out of light he brought him into darkness, and all the recompense that he made him. Achiacharus was saved, but the other had his recompense, and he went down into darkness. Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snare of death which he set for him; but Aman fell into the snare, and perished. ¹¹ And now, my children, consider what alms does, and how righteousness delivers."

While he was saying these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed; but he was one hundred fifty eight years old. Tobias buried him magnificently.

¹⁴ He died at Ecbatana of Media, being one hundred twenty seven years old. ¹⁵ Before he died, he heard of the destruction of Nineveh, which Nebuchadnezzar and Ahasuerus took captive. Before his death, he rejoiced over Nineveh.

Judith

Judith is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Russian Orthodox Churches.

⁷ And Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians sent to all who lived in Persia, and to all who lived westward, to those who lived in Cilicia, Damascus, Libanus, Antilibanus, and to all who lived along the sea coast, ⁸ and to those among the nations that were of Carmel and Gilead, and to the higher Galilee and the great plain of Esdraelon, ⁹ and to all who were in Samaria and its cities, and beyond Jordan to Jerusalem, Betane, Chellus, Kadesh, the river of Egypt, Tahpanhes, Rameses, and all the land of Goshen, ¹⁰ until you come above Tanis and Memphis, and to all that lived in Egypt, until you come to the borders of Ethiopia. ¹¹ All those who lived in all the land made light of the commandment of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, and didn't go with him to the war; for they were not afraid of him, but he was before them as one man. They turned away his messengers from their presence without effect, and with disgrace.

¹² And Nebuchadnezzar was exceedingly angry with all this land, and he swore by his throne and kingdom that he would surely be avenged upon all the coasts of Cilicia, Damascus, and Syria, that he would kill with his sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, the children of Ammon, all Judea, and all who were in Egypt, until you come to the borders of the two seas. ¹³ And he set the battle in array with his army against King Arphaxad in the seventeenth year; and he prevailed in his battle, and turned to flight all the army of Arphaxad, with all his horses and all his chariots. ¹⁴ He took possession of his cities. He came to Ecbatana and took the towers, plundered its streets, and turned its beauty into shame. ¹⁵ He took Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, struck him through with his darts, and utterly destroyed him to this day. ¹⁶ He returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations—an exceedingly great multitude of men of war. There he took his ease and banqueted, he and his army, for one hundred twenty days.

⁴ It came to pass, when he had ended his counsel, Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians called Holofernes the chief captain of his army, who was second to himself, and said to him, ⁵ "The great king, the lord of all the earth, says: 'Behold, you shall go out from my presence, and take with you men who trust in their strength, to one hundred twenty thousand footmen and twelve thousand horses with their riders. ⁶ And you shall go out against all the west country, because they disobeyed the commandment of my mouth. ⁷ You shall declare to them that they should prepare earth and water, because I will go out in my wrath against them, and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of my army, who will plunder them. ⁸ Their slain will fill their valleys and brooks, and the river will be filled with their dead until it overflows. ⁹ I will lead them as captives to the utmost parts of all the earth. ¹⁰ But you shall go forth, and take all their coasts for me first. If they will yield themselves to you, * then you must reserve them for me until the day of their reproof. ¹¹ As for those who resist, your eye shall not spare; but you shall give them up to be slain and to be plundered in all your land. ¹² For as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, I have spoken, and I will do this with my hand. ¹³ Moreover, you shall not transgress anything of the commandments of your lord, but you shall surely accomplish them, as I have commanded you. You shall not defer to do them.' "

¹⁴ So Holofernes went out from the presence of his lord, and called all the governors, the captains, and officers of the army of Asshur. ¹⁵ He counted chosen men for the battle, as his lord had commanded him, to one hundred twenty thousand, with twelve thousand archers on horseback. ¹⁶ He arranged them as a great multitude is ordered for the war. ¹⁷ He took camels, donkeys, and mules for their baggage, an exceedingly great multitude, and sheep, oxen, and goats without number for their provision, ¹⁸ and a large supply of rations for every man, and a huge amount of gold and silver out of the king's house. ¹⁹ He went out, he and all his army, on their journey, to go before King Nebuchadnezzar, and to cover all the face of the earth westward with their chariots, horsemen, and chosen footmen. ²⁰ A great company of various nations went out with them like locusts and like the sand of the earth. For they could not be counted by reason of their multitude.

²¹ And they departed out of Nineveh three days' journey toward the plain of Bectileth, and encamped from Bectileth near the mountain which is at the left hand of the Upper Cilicia. ²² And he took all his army, his footmen, horsemen, and chariots, and went away from there into the hill country, ²³ and destroyed Put and Lud, and plundered all the children of Rassas and the children of Ishmael, which were along the wilderness to the south of the land of the Chellians. ²⁴ And he went over Euphrates, and went through Mesopotamia, and broke down all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, until you come to the sea. ²⁵ And he took possession of the borders of Cilicia, and killed all who resisted him, and came to the borders of Japheth, which were toward the south, opposite Arabia. ²⁶ He surrounded all the children of Midian, and set their tents on fire, and plundered their sheepfolds. ²⁷ He went down into the plain of Damascus in the days of wheat harvest, and set all their fields on fire, and utterly destroyed their flocks and herds, plundered their cities, laid their plains waste, and struck all their young men with the edge of the sword.

²⁸ And the fear and the dread of him fell upon those who lived on the sea coast, upon those who were in Sidon and Tyre, those who lived in Sur and Ocina, and all who lived in Jemnaan. Those who lived in Azotus and Ascalon feared him exceedingly.

¹ And they sent to him messengers with words of peace, saying, ² “Behold, we the servants of Nebuchadnezzar the great king lie before you. Use us as it is pleasing in your sight. ³ Behold, our dwellings, and all our country, and all our fields of wheat, and our flocks and herds, and all the sheepfolds of our tents, lie before your face. Use them as it may please you. ⁴ Behold, even our cities and those who dwell in them are your servants. Come and deal with them as it is good in your eyes.”

⁵ So the men came to Holofernes, and declared to him according to these words.

⁶ He came down toward the sea coast, he and his army, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for allies. ⁷ They received him, they and all the country round about them, with garlands and dances and timbrels. ⁸ He cast down all their borders, and cut down their sacred groves. It had been given to him to destroy all the gods of the land, that all the nations would worship Nebuchadnezzar only, and that all their tongues and their tribes would call upon him as a god.

⁹ Then he came toward Esdraelon near to Dotaea, which is opposite the great ridge of Judea. ¹⁰ He encamped between Geba and Scythopolis. He was there a whole month, that he might gather together all the baggage of his army.

¹ The children of Israel who lived in Judea heard all that Holofernes the chief captain of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and how he had plundered all their temples and destroyed them utterly. ² They were exceedingly afraid at his approach, and were troubled for Jerusalem and for the temple of the Lord their God; ³ because they had newly come up from the captivity, and all the people of Judea were recently gathered together; and the vessels, the altar, and the house were sanctified after being profaned.

is opposite Esdraelon toward the plain that is near to Dothaim, ⁷ charging them to seize upon the ascents of the hill country; because by them was the entrance into Judea, and it was easy to stop them from approaching, inasmuch as the approach was narrow, with space for two men at the most. ⁸ And the children of Israel did as Joakim the high priest had commanded them, as did the senate of all the people of Israel, which was in session at Jerusalem.

⁹ And every man of Israel cried to God with great earnestness, and with great earnestness they humbled their souls. ¹⁰ They, their wives, their children, their cattle, and every sojourner, hireling, and servant bought with their money put sackcloth on their loins. ¹¹ Every man and woman of Israel, including the little children and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, fell prostrate before the temple, cast ashes upon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the Lord. They put sackcloth around the altar. ¹² They cried to the God of Israel earnestly with one consent, that he would not give their children as prey, their wives as plunder, the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to being profaned and being made a reproach, for the nations to rejoice at. ¹³ The Lord heard their voice, and looked at their affliction. The people continued fasting many days in all Judea and Jerusalem before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty. ¹⁴ And Joakim the high priest, and all the priests who stood before the Lord, and those who ministered to the Lord, had their loins dressed in sackcloth and offered the continual burnt offering, the vows, and the free gifts of the people. ¹⁵ They had ashes on their turbans. They cried to the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel for good.

⁵ Then Achior, the leader of all the children of Ammon, said to him, "Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of your servant, and I will tell you the truth concerning these people who dwell in this hill country, near to the place where you dwell. No lie will come out of the mouth of your servant. ⁶ These people are descended from the Chaldeans. ⁷ They sojourned before this in Mesopotamia, because they didn't want to follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of the Chaldeans. ⁸ They departed from the way of their parents, and worshiped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew. Their parents cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia and sojourned there many days. ⁹ Then their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Canaan. They lived there, and prospered with gold and silver, and with exceedingly much cattle. ¹⁰ Then they went down into

Egypt, for a famine covered all the land of Canaan. They sojourned there until they had grown up. They became a great multitude there, so that one could not count the population of their nation. ¹¹ Then the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt subtly with them, and brought them low, making them labor in brick,* and made them slaves. ¹² They cried to their God, and he struck all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues; so the Egyptians cast them out of their sight. ¹³ God dried up the Red sea before them, ¹⁴ and brought them into the way of Sinai Kadesh-Barnea and they cast out all that lived in the wilderness. ¹⁵ They lived in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength everyone in Heshbon. Passing over Jordan, they possessed all the hill country. ¹⁶ They cast out before them the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, the Shechemite, and all the Gergashites, and they lived in that country many days.

¹⁷ And while they didn't sin before their God, they prospered, because God who hates iniquity was with them. ¹⁸ But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many severe battles, and were led captives into a land that was not theirs. The temple of their God was razed to the ground, and their cities were taken by their adversaries. ¹⁹ And now they have returned to their God, and have come up from the dispersion where they were dispersed, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are settled in the hill country; for it was desolate.

²² It came to pass, when Achior had finished speaking these words, all the people standing around the tent complained. The great men of Holofernes, and all who lived by the sea side and in Moab, said that he should be cut to pieces. ²³ For, they said, "We will not be afraid of the children of Israel, because, behold, they are a people that has no power nor might to make the battle strong. ²⁴ Therefore now we will go up, and they will be a prey to be devoured by all your army, Lord Holofernes."

² "And who are you, Achior, and the mercenaries of Ephraim,† that you have prophesied among us as today, and have said that we should not make war with the race of Israel, because their God will defend them? And who is God but Nebuchadnezzar? ³ He will send forth his might, and will destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God will not deliver them; but we his servants will strike them as one man. They will not sustain the might of our cavalry. ⁴ For with them we will burn them up. Their mountains will be drunken with their blood. Their plains will be filled with their dead bodies.

* 5:11 Some authorities read and he brought them low with clay and brick, etc.
 authorities read Ammon. Compare ver. 5. † 6:2 Some authorities read Ammon. Compare ver. 5.

* 6:1 Some

Their footsteps will not stand before us, but they will surely perish, says King Nebuchadnezzar, lord of all the earth; for he said, ‘The words that I have spoken[‡] will not be in vain.’

⁵ But you, Achior, hireling of Ammon, who have spoken these words in the day of your iniquity, will see my face no more from this day, until I am avenged of the race of those that came out of Egypt. ⁶ And then the sword of my army, and the multitude of those who serve me, will pass through your sides, and you will fall among their slain when I return. ⁷ Then my servants will bring you back into the hill country, and will set you in one of the cities by the passes. ⁸ You will not perish until you are destroyed with them. ⁹ And if you hope in your heart that they will not be taken, don’t let your countenance fall. I have spoken it, and none of my words will fall to the ground.”

¹⁴ But the children of Israel descended from their city, and came to him, untied him, led him away into Bethulia, and presented him to the rulers of their city, ¹⁵ which were in those days Ozias the son of Micah, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothoniell, and Charmis the son of Melchiel. ¹⁶ Then they called together all the elders of the city; and all their young men ran together, with their women, to the assembly. They set Achior in the midst of all their people. Then Ozias asked him what had happened. ¹⁷ He answered and declared to them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of the children of Asshur, and all the great words that Holofernes had spoken against the house of Israel. ¹⁸ Then the people fell down and worshiped God, and cried, saying, ¹⁹ “O Lord God of heaven, behold their arrogance, and pity the low estate of our race. Look upon the face of those who are sanctified to you this day.” ²⁰ They comforted Achior, and praised him exceedingly. ²¹ Then Ozias took him out of the assembly into his house, and made a feast for the elders. They called on the God of Israel for help all that night.

¹ The next day Holofernes commanded all his army and all the people who had come to be his allies, that they should move their camp toward Bethulia, seize the passes of the hill country, and make war against the children of Israel. ² Every mighty man of them moved that day. The army of their men of war was one hundred seventy thousand footmen, plus twelve thousand horsemen, besides the baggage and the men who were on foot among them—an exceedingly great multitude. ³ They encamped in the valley near Bethulia, by the fountain. They spread themselves in breadth over

[‡] 6:4 Gr. he has spoken.

Dothaim even to Belmaim, and in length from Bethulia to Cyamon, which is near Esdraelon.

⁴ But the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were terrified, and everyone said to his neighbor, "Now these men will lick up the face of all the earth. Neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills will be able to bear their weight. ⁵ Every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

⁸ All the rulers of the children of Esau, all the leaders of the people of Moab, and the captains of the sea coast came to him and said, ⁹ "Let our lord now hear a word, that there not be losses in your army. ¹⁰ For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, for it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains. ¹¹ And now, my lord, don't fight against them as men fight who join battle, and there will not so much as one man of your people perish. ¹² Remain in your camp, and keep every man of your army safe. Let your servants get possession of the water spring, which flows from the foot of the mountain, ¹³ because all the inhabitants of Bethulia get their water from there. Then thirst will kill them, and they will give up their city. Then we and our people will go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will camp upon them, to watch that not one man gets out of the city. ¹⁴ They will be consumed with famine—they, their wives, and their children. Before the sword comes against them they will be laid low in the streets where they dwell. ¹⁵ And you will pay them back with evil, because they rebelled, and didn't meet your face in peace."

down in the streets of the city, and in the passages of the gates. There was no longer any strength in them.

²³ All the people, including the young men, the women, and the children, were gathered together against Ozias, and against the rulers of the city. They cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders, ²⁴ "God be judge between all of you and us, because you have done us great wrong, in that you have not spoken words of peace with the children of Asshur. ²⁵ Now we have no helper; but God has sold us into their hands, that we should be laid low before them with thirst and great destruction. ²⁶ And now summon them, and deliver up the whole city as prey to the people of Holofernes, and to all his army. ²⁷ For it is better for us to be captured by them. For we will be servants, and our souls will live, and we will not see the death of our babies before our eyes, and our wives and our children fainting in death. ²⁸ We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our God and the Lord of our fathers, who punishes us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers. Do what we have said today!"

²⁹ And there was great weeping of all with one consent in the midst of the assembly; and they cried to the Lord God with a loud voice. ³⁰ And Ozias said to them, "Brethren, be of good courage! Let us endure five more days, during which the Lord our God will turn his mercy toward us; for he will not forsake us utterly. ³¹ But if these days pass, and no help comes to us, I will do what you say." ³² Then he dispersed the people, every man to his own camp; and they went away to the walls and towers of their city. He sent the women and children into their houses. They were brought very low in the city.

¹ In those days Judith heard about this. She was the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Eliah, the son of Ananias, the son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Ahitub, the son of Elihu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of Salamiel, the son of Salasadai, the son of Israel. ² Her husband was Manasses, of her tribe and of her family. He died in the days of barley harvest. ³ For he stood over those who bound sheaves in the field, and was overcome by the burning heat, and he fell on his bed, and died in his city Bethulia. So they buried him with his fathers in the field which is between Dothaim and Balamon. ⁴ Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months. ⁵ She made herself a tent upon the roof of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loins. The garments of her widowhood were upon her. ⁶ And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, except the eves of the Sabbaths, the Sabbaths, the eves of the new moons, the new moons, and the feasts and joyful days of the house of Israel. ⁷ She was beautiful in appearance, and lovely to behold. Her husband Manasses had left her gold, silver, menservants, maidservants, cattle, and lands. She remained on those lands. ⁸ No one said anything evil about her, for she feared God exceedingly.

of Bethulia! For your word that you have spoken before the people this day is not right. You have set the oath which you have pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turns to help you. ¹² Now who are you that you have tested God this day, and stand in the place of God among the children of men? ¹³ Now try the Lord Almighty, and you will never know anything. ¹⁴ For you will not find the depth of the heart of man, and you will not perceive the things that he thinks. How will you search out God, who has made all these things, and know his mind, and comprehend his purpose? No, my kindred, don't provoke the Lord our God to anger! ¹⁵ For if he has not decided to help us within these five days, he has power to defend us in such time as he will, or to destroy us before the face of our enemies. ¹⁶ But don't you pledge the counsels of the Lord our God! For God is not like a human being, that he should be threatened, neither is he like a son of man, that he should be won over by pleading. ¹⁷ Therefore let's wait for the salvation that comes from him, and call upon him to help us. He will hear our voice, if it pleases him. ¹⁸ For there arose none in our age, neither is there any of us today, tribe, or kindred, or family, or city, which worship gods made with hands, as it was in the former days; ¹⁹ for which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for plunder, and fell with a great destruction before our enemies. ²⁰ But we know no other god beside him. Therefore we hope that he will not despise us, nor any of our race. ²¹ For if we are captured, all Judea will be captured and our sanctuary will be plundered; and he will require our blood for profaning it. ²² The slaughter of our kindred, the captivity of the land, and the desolation of our inheritance, he will bring on our heads among the Gentiles, wherever we will be in bondage. We will be an offense and a reproach to those who take us for a possession. ²³ For our bondage will not be ordered to favor; but the Lord our God will turn it to dishonor. ²⁴ And now, kindred, let's show an example to our kindred, because their soul depends on us, and the sanctuary, the house, and the altar depend on us. ²⁵ Besides all this let's give thanks to the Lord our God, who tries us, even as he did our fathers also. ²⁶ Remember all the things which he did to Abraham, and all the things in which he tried Isaac, and all the things which happened to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother. ²⁷ For he has not tried us in the fire, as he did them, to search out their hearts, neither has he taken vengeance on us; but the Lord scourges those who come near to him, to admonish them."

²⁸ And Ozias said to her, "All that you have spoken, you have spoken with a good heart. There is no one who will deny your words. ²⁹ For this is not the first day wherein your wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of your days all the people have known your understanding, because the disposition of your heart is good. ³⁰ But the people were exceedingly thirsty, and compelled us to do as we spoke to them, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break. ³¹ And now pray for us, because you are a godly woman, and the Lord will send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we will faint no more."

³² Then Judith said to them, "Hear me, and I will do a thing, which will go down to all generations among the children of our race. ³³ You shall all stand at the gate tonight. I will go out with my maid. Within the days after which you said that you would deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord will deliver Israel by my hand. ³⁴ But you shall not inquire of my act; for I will not tell you until the things are finished that I will do.”

³⁵ Then Ozias and the rulers said to her, “Go in peace. May the Lord God be before you, to take vengeance on our enemies.” ³⁶ So they returned from the tent, and went to their stations.

¹ But Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth with which she was clothed. The incense of that evening was now being offered at Jerusalem in the house of God, and Judith cried to the Lord with a loud voice, and said, ² “O Lord God of my father Simeon, into whose hand you gave a sword to take vengeance on the strangers who loosened the belt of a virgin to defile her, uncovered her thigh to her shame, and profaned her womb to her reproach; for you said, ‘It shall not be so;’ and they did so. ³ Therefore you gave their rulers to be slain, and their bed, which was ashamed for her who was deceived,* to be dyed in blood, and struck the servants with their masters, and the masters upon their thrones; ⁴ and gave their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among your dear children; which were moved with zeal for you, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon you for aid. O God, O my God, hear me also who am a widow. ⁵ For you did the things that were before those things, and those things, and such as come after; and you planned the things which are now, and the things which are to come. The things which you planned came to pass. ⁶ Yes, the things which you determined stood before you, and said, ‘Behold, we are here; for all your ways are prepared, and your judgment is with foreknowledge.’ ⁷ For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power. They are exalted with horse and rider. They were proud of the strength of their footmen. They have trusted in shield, spear, bow, and sling. They don’t know that you are the Lord who breaks the battles. ‘The Lord’ is your name. ⁸ Break their strength in your power, and bring down their force in your wrath; for they intend to profane your sanctuary, and to defile the tabernacle where your glorious name rests, and to destroy the horn of your altar with the sword. ⁹ Look at their pride, and send your wrath upon their heads. Give into my hand, which am a widow, the might that I have conceived. ¹⁰ Strike by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with his servant. Break down their arrogance by the hand of a woman. ¹¹ For your power stands not in numbers, nor your might in strong men, but you are a God of the afflicted. You are a helper of the oppressed, a helper of the weak, a protector of the forsaken, a savior of those who are without hope. ¹² Please, please, God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and of the earth, Creator of the waters, King of all your creation, hear my prayer. ¹³ Make my speech and deceit to be their wound and bruise, who intend hard things against your covenant, your holy house, the top of Zion, and the house of the possession of your children. ¹⁴ Make every nation and tribe of yours to know that you are God, the God of all power and might, and that there is no other who protects the race of Israel but you.”

¹ It came to pass, when she had ceased to cry to the God of Israel, and had finished saying all these words, ² that she rose up where she had fallen down, called her maid, and went down into the house that she lived on the Sabbath days and on her feast days. ³ She pulled off the sackcloth which she had put on, took off the garments of her widowhood, washed her body all over with water, anointed herself with rich ointment, braided the hair of her head, and put a tiara upon it. She put on her garments of gladness, which she used to wear in the days of the life of Manasses her husband. ⁴ She took sandals for her feet, and put on her anklet, bracelets, rings, earrings, and all her jewelry. She made herself very beautiful to deceive the eyes of all men who would see her. ⁵ She gave her maid a leather container of wine and a flask of oil, and filled a bag with roasted grain, lumps of figs, and fine bread. She packed all her vessels together, and laid them upon her.

⁶ They went out to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found Ozias and the elders of the city, Chabris and Charmis standing by it. ⁷ But when they saw her, that her countenance was altered and her apparel was changed, they were greatly astonished by her beauty and said to her, ⁸ "May the God of our fathers give you favor, and accomplish your purposes to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem."

Then she worshiped God, ⁹ and said to them, "Command that they open the gate of the city for me, and I will go out to accomplish the things you spoke with me about."

And they commanded the young men to open to her, as she had spoken; ¹⁰ and they did so.

Then Judith went out, she, and her handmaid with her. The men of the city watched her until she had gone down the mountain, until she had passed the valley, and they could see her no more. ¹¹ They went straight onward in the valley. The watch of the Assyrians met her; ¹² and they took her, and asked her, "Of what people are you? Where are you coming from? Where are you going?"

She said, "I am a daughter of the Hebrews. I am fleeing away from their presence, because they are about to be given you to be consumed. ¹³ I am coming into the presence of Holofernes the chief captain of your army, to declare words of truth. I will show him a way that he can go and win all the hill country, and there will not be lacking of his men one person, nor one life."

¹⁴ Now when the men heard her words, and considered her countenance, the beauty thereof was exceedingly marvelous in their eyes. They said to her, ¹⁵ "You have saved your life, in that you have hurried to come down to the presence of our master. Now come to his tent. Some of us will guide you until they deliver you into his hands. ¹⁶ But when* you stand before him, don't be afraid in your heart, but declare to him what you just said, and he will treat you well." ¹⁷ They chose out of them a hundred men, and appointed them to accompany her and her maid; and they brought them to the tent of Holofernes.

¹⁸ And there was great excitement throughout all the camp, for her coming was reported among the tents. They came and surrounded her as she stood outside Holofernes' tent, until they told him about her. ¹⁹ They marveled at her beauty, and marveled at the children of Israel because of her. Each one said to his neighbor, "Who would despise these people, who have among them such women? For it is not good that one man of them be left, seeing that, if they are let go, they will be able to deceive the whole earth.

²⁰ Then the guards of Holofernes and all his servants came out and brought her into the tent. ²¹ And Holofernes was resting upon his bed under the canopy, which was woven with purple, gold, emeralds, and precious stones. ²² And they told him about her; and he came out into the space before his tent, with silver lamps going before him. ²³ But when Judith had come before him and his servants, they all marveled at the beauty of her countenance. She fell down upon her face and bowed down to him, but his servants raised her up.

¹ Holofernes said to her, "Woman, take courage. Don't be afraid in your heart; for I never hurt anyone who has chosen to serve Nebuchadnezzar, the king of all the earth. ² And now, if your people who dwell in the hill country had not slighted me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them; but they have done these things to themselves. ³ And now tell me why you fled from them and came to us; for you have come to save yourself. Take courage! You will live tonight, and hereafter; ⁴ for there is no one that will wrong you, but all will treat you well, as is done to the servants of King Nebuchadnezzar my lord."

⁵ And Judith said to him, "Receive the words of your servant, and let your handmaid speak in your presence, and I won't lie to my lord tonight. ⁶ If you will follow the words of your handmaid, God will bring the thing to pass perfectly with you; and my lord will not fail to accomplish his purposes. ⁷ As Nebuchadnezzar king of all the earth lives, and as his power lives, who has sent you for the preservation of every living thing, not only do men serve him by you, but also the beasts of the field, the cattle, and the birds of the sky will live through your strength, in the time of Nebuchadnezzar and of all his house. ⁸ For we have heard of your wisdom and the subtle plans of your soul. It has been reported in all the earth that you only are brave in all the kingdom, mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war. ⁹ And now as concerning the matter which Achior spoke in your council, we have heard his words; for the men of Bethulia saved him, and he declared to them all that he had spoken before you. ¹⁰ Therefore, O lord and master, don't neglect his word, but lay it up in your heart, for it is true; for our race will not be punished, neither will the sword prevail against them, unless they sin against their God. ¹¹ And now, that my lord may not be defeated and frustrated in his purpose, and that death may fall upon them, their sin has overtaken them, wherewith they will provoke their God to anger, whenever they do wickedness. ¹² Since their food failed them, and all their water was scant, they took counsel to kill their livestock, and determined to consume all those things which God charged them by his laws that they should not eat. ¹³ They are resolved to spend the first fruits of the grain and the tithes of the wine and the oil, which they had sanctified and reserved for the priests who stand before the face of our God in Jerusalem, which it is not fitting for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands. ¹⁴ They have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done this thing, to bring them permission from the council of elders. ¹⁵ When these instructions come to them and they do it, they will be given to you to be destroyed the same day. ¹⁶ Therefore I your servant, knowing all this, fled away from their presence. God sent me to work things with you, at which all the earth will be astonished, even as many as hear it. ¹⁷ For your servant is religious, and serves the God of heaven day and night. Now, my lord, I will stay with you; and your servant will go out by night into the valley. I will pray to God, and he will tell me when they have committed their sins. ¹⁸ Then I will come and tell you. Then you can go out with all your army, and there will be none of them that will resist you. ¹⁹ And I will lead you through the midst of Judea, until you come to Jerusalem. I will set your throne in the midst of it. You will drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog will not so much as open his mouth before you; for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and were declared to me, and I was sent to tell you."

²² Holofernes said to her, "God did well to send you before the people, that might would be in our hands, and destruction among those who slighted my lord. ²³ And now you are beautiful in your countenance, and wise in your words. If you will do as you have spoken, your God will be my God, and you will dwell in the palace of King Nebuchadnezzar, and will be renowned through the whole earth."

² And Judith said, "I can't eat of it, lest there be an occasion of stumbling; but provision will be made for me from the things that have come with me."

³ And Holofernes said to her, "But if the things that are with you should run out, from where will we be able to give you more like it? For there is none of your race with us."

⁴ And Judith said to him, "As your soul lives, my lord, your servant will not use up those things that are with me until the Lord works by my hand the things that he has determined." ⁵ Then Holofernes' servants brought her into the tent, and she slept until midnight. Then she rose up toward the morning watch, ⁶ and sent to Holofernes, saying, "Let my lord now command that they allow your servant to go out to pray."

⁷ Holofernes commanded his guards that they should not stop her. She stayed in the camp three days, and went out every night into the valley of Bethulia and washed herself at the fountain of water in the camp. ⁸ And when she came up, she implored the Lord God of Israel to direct her way to the triumph of the children of his people. ⁹ She came in clean and remained in the tent until she ate her food toward evening.

¹⁰ It came to pass on the fourth day, that Holofernes made a feast for his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet. ¹¹ And he said to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, "Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman who is with you that she come to us, and eat and drink with us. ¹² For behold, it would be a disgrace if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we don't draw her to ourselves, she will laugh us to scorn."

¹³ Bagoas went from the presence of Holofernes, and came in to her, and said, "Let this fair lady not fear to come to my lord, and to be honored in his presence, and to drink wine and be merry with us, and to be made this day as one of the daughters of the children of Asshur who serve in Nebuchadnezzar's palace."

¹⁴ Judith said to him, "Who am I, that I should contradict my lord? For whatever would be pleasing in his eyes, I will do speedily, and this will be my joy to the day of my death." ¹⁵ She arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her woman's attire; and her servant went and laid fleeces on the ground for her next to Holofernes, which she had received from Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them.

¹⁶ Judith came in and sat down, and Holofernes' heart was ravished with her. His passion was aroused, and he exceedingly desired her company. He was watching for a time to deceive her from the day that he had seen her.

¹⁷ Holofernes said to her, "Drink now, and be merry with us."

¹⁸ Judith said, "I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born." ¹⁹ Then she took and ate and drank before him what her servant had prepared. ²⁰ Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank exceedingly much wine, more than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

¹ But when the evening had come, his servants hurried to depart. Bagoas shut the tent outside, and dismissed those who waited from the presence of his lord. They went away to their beds; for they were all weary, because the feast had been long. ² But Judith was left alone in the tent, with Holofernes lying along upon his bed; for he was drunk with wine. ³ Judith had said to her servant that she should stand outside her bedchamber, and wait for her to come out, as she did daily; for she said she would go out to her prayer. She spoke to Bagoas according to the same words. ⁴ All went away from her presence, and none was left in the bedchamber, small or great. Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, look in this hour upon the works of my hands for the exaltation of Jerusalem. ⁵ For now is the time to help your inheritance, and to do the thing that I have purposed to the destruction of the enemies which have risen up against us. ⁶ She came to the bedpost which was at Holofernes' head, and took down his sword from there. ⁷ She drew near to the bed, took hold of the hair of his head, and said, "Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day." ⁸ She struck twice upon his neck with all her might and cut off his head, ⁹ tumbled his body down from the bed, and took down the canopy from the posts. After a little while she went out, and gave Holofernes' head to her maid; ¹⁰ and she put it in her bag of food. They both went out together to prayer, according to their custom. They passed through the camp, circled around that valley, and went up to the mountain of Bethulia, and came to its gates.

¹² It came to pass, when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called together the elders of the city. ¹³ They all ran together, both small and great, for it seemed unbelievable to them that she had come. They opened the gate and received them, making a fire to give light, and surrounded them. ¹⁴ She said to them with a loud voice, "Praise God! Praise him! Praise God, who has not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but has destroyed our enemies by my hand tonight!"

¹⁵ Then she took the head out of the bag and showed it, and said to them, "Behold, the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of Asshur, and behold, the canopy under which he laid in his drunkenness. The Lord struck him by the hand of a woman. ¹⁶ And as the Lord lives, who preserved me in my way that I went, my countenance deceived him to his destruction, and he didn't commit sin with me, to defile and shame me."

¹⁷ All the people were exceedingly amazed, and bowed themselves, and worshiped God, and said with one accord, "Blessed are you, O our God, who have this day humiliated the enemies of your people."

¹⁸ Ozias said to her, "Blessed are you, daughter, in the sight of the Most High God, above all the women upon the earth; and blessed is the Lord God, who created the heavens and the earth, who directed you to cut off the head of the prince of our enemies. ¹⁹ For your hope will not depart from the heart of men that remember the strength of God forever. ²⁰ May God turn these things to you for a perpetual praise, to visit you with good things, because you didn't spare your life by reason of the affliction of our race, but prevented our ruin, walking a straight way before our God."

And all the people said, "Amen! Amen!"

¹ Judith said to them, "Hear me now, my kindred, and take this head, and hang it upon the battlement of your wall. ² It will be, so soon as the morning appears, and the sun comes up on the earth, you shall each take up his weapons of war, and every valiant man of you go out of the city. You shall set a captain over them, as though you would go down to the plain toward the watch of the children of Asshur; but you men shall not go down. ³ These will take up their full armor, and shall go into their camp and rouse up the captains of the army of Asshur. They will run together to Holofernes' tent. They won't find him. Fear will fall upon them, and they will flee before your face. ⁴ You men, and all that inhabit every border of Israel, shall pursue them and overthrow them as they go. ⁵ But before you do these things, summon Achior the Ammonite to me, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us, as it were to death.

⁶ And they called Achior out of the house of Ozias; but when he came, and saw the head of Holofernes in a man's hand in the assembly of the people, he fell upon his face, and his spirit failed. ⁷ But when they had recovered him,* he fell at Judith's feet, bowed down to her, and said, "Blessed are you in every tent of Judah! In every nation, those who hear your name will be troubled.

⁸ Now tell me all the things that you have done in these days.”

And Judith declared to him in the midst of the people all the things that she had done, from the day that she went out until the time that she spoke to them. ⁹ But when she finished speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city. ¹⁰ But when Achior saw all the things that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God exceedingly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joined to the house of Israel, to this day.

¹¹ But as soon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took up his weapons, and they went forth by bands to the ascents of the mountain. ¹² But when the children of Asshur saw them, they sent word to their leaders, and they went to their captains and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers. ¹³ They came to Holofernes' tent, and said to him that was over all that he had, “Wake our lord up, now, for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, that they may be utterly destroyed.”

¹ When those who were in the tents heard, they were amazed at what happened. ² Trembling and fear fell upon them, and no man dared stay any more in the sight of his neighbor, but rushing out with one accord, they fled into every way of the plain and of the hill country. ³ Those who had encamped in the hill country round about Bethulia fled away. And then the children of Israel, every one who was a warrior among them, rushed out upon them. ⁴ Ozias sent to Betomasthaim, Bebai, Chobai, and Chola, and to every border of Israel, to tell about the things that had been accomplished, and that all should rush upon their enemies to destroy them. ⁵ But when the children of Israel heard this, they all fell upon them with one accord, and struck them to Chobai. Yes, and in like manner also, people from Jerusalem and from all the hill country came (for men had told them about what happened in their enemies' camp), and those who were in Gilead and in Galilee fell upon their flank with a great slaughter, until they were past Damascus and its borders. ⁶ The rest of the people who lived at Bethulia fell upon the camp of Asshur, and plundered them, and were enriched exceedingly. ⁷ The children of Israel returned from the slaughter, and got possession of that which remained. The villages and the cities that were in the hill country and in the plain country took many spoils; for there was an exceedingly great supply.

⁸Joakim the high priest, and the elders of the children of Israel who lived in Jerusalem, came to see the good things which the Lord had showed to Israel, and to see Judith and to greet her. ⁹When they came to her, they all blessed her with one accord, and said to her, "You are the exaltation of Jerusalem! You are the great glory of Israel! You are the great rejoicing of our race! ¹⁰You have done all these things by your hand. You have done with Israel the things that are good, and God is pleased with it. May you be blessed by the Almighty Lord forever!"

And all the people said, "Amen!"

¹¹And the people plundered the camp for thirty days; and they gave Holofernes' tent to Judith, along with all his silver cups, his beds, his bowls, and all his furniture. She took them, placed them on her mule, prepared her wagons, and piled them on it.

¹²And all the women of Israel ran together to see her; and they blessed her, and made a dance among them for her. She took branches in her hand, and distributed them to the women who were with her.* ¹³Then they made themselves garlands of olive, she and those who were with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women. All the men of Israel followed in their armor with garlands, and with songs in their mouths.

¹And Judith began to sing this song of thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang with loud voices this song of praise. ²Judith said, "Begin a song to my God with timbrels.

Sing to my Lord with cymbals.

Make melody to him with psalm and praise.

Exalt him, and call upon his name.

³For the Lord is the God that crushes battles.

For in his armies in the midst of the people, he delivered me out of the hand of those who persecuted me.

⁴Asshur came out of the mountains from the north.

He came with ten thousands of his army.

Its multitude stopped the torrents.

Their horsemen covered the hills.

⁵He said that he would burn up my borders, kill my young men with the sword,

throw my nursing children to the ground,

give my infants up as prey,

and make my virgins a plunder.

⁶"The Almighty Lord brought them to nothing by the hand of a woman.

⁷For their mighty one didn't fall by young men, neither did sons of the Titans strike him.

Tall giants didn't attack him,

but Judith the daughter of Merari made him weak with the beauty of her countenance.

⁸"For she put off the apparel of her widowhood

- for the exaltation of those who were distressed in Israel.
She anointed her face with ointment,
bound her hair in a tiara,
and took a linen garment to deceive him.
- 9 Her sandal ravished his eye.
Her beauty took his soul prisoner.
The sword passed through his neck.
- 10 "The Persians quaked at her daring.
The Medes were daunted at her boldness.
- 11 "Then my lowly ones shouted aloud.
My oppressed people were terrified and trembled for fear.
They lifted up their voices and the enemy fled.
- 12 The children of slave-girls pierced them through,
and wounded them as fugitives' children.
They perished by the army of my Lord.
- 13 "I will sing to my God a new song:
O Lord, you are great and glorious,
marvelous in strength, invincible.
- 14 Let all your creation serve you;
for you spoke, and they were made.
You sent out your spirit, and it built them.
There is no one who can resist your voice.
- 15 For the mountains will be moved from their foundations with the waters,
and the rocks will melt as wax at your presence:
But you are yet merciful to those who fear you.
- 16 For all sacrifice is little for a sweet savor, and all the fat is very little for a whole burnt offering to you;
but he who fears the Lord is great continually.
- 17 "Woe to the nations who rise up against my race!
The Lord Almighty will take vengeance on them in the day of judgment and put fire and worms in their flesh;
and they will weep and feel their pain forever."
- 18 Now when they came to Jerusalem, they worshiped God. When the people were purified, they offered their whole burnt offerings, their free will offerings, and their gifts. 19 Judith dedicated all Holofernes' stuff, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken for herself out of his bedchamber, for a gift to the Lord.
- 20 And the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for three months, and Judith remained with them.
- 21 After these days, everyone departed to his own inheritance. Judith went away to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was honorable in her time in all the land. 22 Many desired her, but no man knew her all the days of her life from the day that Manasses her husband died and was gathered to his people. 23 She increased in greatness exceedingly; and she grew old in her husband's house, to one hundred five years. She let her maid go free. Then she died in Bethulia. They buried her in the cave of her husband Manasses. 24 The house of Israel mourned for her seven days. She distributed her goods before she died to all those who were nearest of kin to Manasses her husband, and to those who were nearest of her own kindred.

²⁵ There was no one who made the children of Israel afraid any more in the days of Judith, nor for a long time after her death.

Esther translated from the Greek Septuagint

Introduction

The book of Esther in the Greek Septuagint contains 5 additions that the traditional Hebrew text doesn't have. These additions are recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Russian Orthodox Churches. Those additions are enclosed in [square brackets]. Because the additions by themselves make little sense without the broader context of the book, we present here a translation of the whole book of Esther from the Greek.

We have chosen not to distract the reader with confusing out-of-order chapter numbers that would result from using the KJV versification, but rather merge these 5 additions as extensions at the beginning of 1:1 and after 3:13, 4:17, 8:12, and 10:3. This makes some verses (1:1, 5:1, and 8:12) really long, but it also makes the verses line up with the same verse numbers in Esther as translated from the traditional Hebrew text. Some of the proper names in this book have been changed to the more familiar Hebrew form instead of the direct transliteration from the Greek.

¹ [In the second year of the reign of Ahasuerus the great king, on the first day of Nisan, Mordecai the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Jew dwelling in the city Susa, a great man, serving in the king's palace, saw a vision. Now he was one of the captives whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried captive from Jerusalem with Jeconiah the king of Judea. This was his dream: Behold, voices and a noise, thunders and earthquake, tumult upon the earth. And, behold, two great serpents came out, both ready for conflict. A great voice came from them. Every nation was prepared for battle by their voice, even to fight against the nation of the just. Behold, a day of darkness and blackness, suffering and anguish, affection and tumult upon the earth. And all the righteous nation was troubled, fearing their own afflictions. They prepared to die, and cried to God. Something like a great river from a little spring with much water, came from their cry. Light and the sun arose, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the honorable.]

Mordecai, who had seen this vision and what God desired to do, having arisen, kept it in his heart, and desired by all means to interpret it, even until night.

Mordecai rested quietly in the palace with Gabatha and Tharrha the king's two chamberlains, eunuchs who guarded the palace. He heard their conversation and searched out their plans. He learned that they were preparing to lay hands on King Ahasuerus; and he informed the king concerning them. The king examined the two chamberlains. They confessed, and were led away and executed. The king wrote these things for a record. Mordecai also wrote concerning these matters. The king commanded Mordecai to serve in the palace, and gave gifts for this service. But Haman the son of Hammedatha the Bougean was honored in the sight of the king, and he endeavored to harm Mordecai and his people, because of the king's two chamberlains.]

* And it came to pass after these things[†] in the days of Ahasuerus, —(this Ahasuerus ruled over one hundred twenty-seven provinces from India)—² in those days, when King Ahasuerus was on the throne in the city of Susa, ³ in the third year of his reign, he made a feast for his friends, for people from the rest of the nations, for the nobles of the Persians and Medes, and for the chief of the local governors. ⁴ After this—after he had shown them the wealth of his kingdom and the abundant glory of his wealth during one hundred eighty days—⁵ when the days of the wedding feast were completed, the king made a banquet lasting six days for the people of the nations who were present in the city, in the court of the king's house, ⁶ which was adorned with fine linen and flax on cords of fine linen and purple, fastened to golden and silver studs on pillars of white marble and stone. There were golden and silver couches on a pavement of emerald stone, and of mother-of-pearl, and of white marble, with transparent coverings variously flowered, having roses arranged around it. ⁷ There were gold and silver cups, and a small cup of carbuncle set out, of the value of thirty thousand talents, with abundant and sweet wine, which the king himself drank. ⁸ This banquet was not according to the appointed law, but as the king desired to have it. He charged the stewards to perform his will and that of the company.

¹⁴ So Arkesaeus, Sarsathaeus, and Malisear, the princes of the Persians and Medes, who were near the king, who sat chief in rank by the king, drew near to him, ¹⁵ and reported to him according to the laws what it was proper to do to queen Vashti, because she had not done the things commanded by the king through the chamberlains. ¹⁶ And Memucan said to the king and to the princes, “Queen Vashti has not wronged the king only, but also all the king's rulers and princes; ¹⁷ for he has told them the words of the queen, and how she[§] disobeyed the king. As she then refused to obey King Ahasuerus, ¹⁸ so this day the other wives of the chiefs of the Persians and Medes, having heard what she said to the king, will dare in the same way to dishonor their husbands. ¹⁹ If then it seems good to the king, let him make a royal decree, and let it be written according to the laws of the Medes and Persians, and let him not alter it: ‘Don't allow the queen to come in to him any more. Let the king give her royalty to a woman better than she.’ ²⁰ Let the law of the king which he will have made be widely proclaimed in his kingdom. Then all the women will give honor to their husbands, from the poor even to the rich.” ²¹ This advice pleased the king and the princes; and the king did as Memucan had said, ²² and sent into all his kingdom through the several provinces, according to their language, so that men might be feared in their own houses.

² Then the servants of the king said, "Let chaste, beautiful young virgins be sought for the king. ³ Let the king appoint local governors in all the provinces of his kingdom, and let them select beautiful, chaste young ladies and bring them to the city Susa, into the women's apartment. Let them be consigned to the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the women. Then let things for purification and other needs be given to them. ⁴ Let the woman who pleases the king be queen instead of Vashti."

This thing pleased the king; and he did so.

⁵ Now there was a Jew in the city Susa, and his name was Mordecai, the son of Jairus, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, of the tribe of Benjamin. ⁶ He had been brought as a prisoner from Jerusalem, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried into captivity. ⁷ He had a foster child, daughter of Aminadab his father's brother. Her name was Esther. When her parents died, he brought her up to womanhood as his own. This lady was beautiful. ⁸ And because the king's ordinance was published, many ladies were gathered to the city of Susa under the hand of Hegai; and Esther was brought to Hegai, the keeper of the women. ⁹ The lady pleased him, and she found favor in his sight. He hurried to give her the things for purification, her portion, and the seven maidens appointed her out of the palace. He treated her and her maidens well in the women's apartment. ¹⁰ But Esther didn't reveal her family or her kindred, for Mordecai had charged her not to tell. ¹¹ But Mordecai used to walk every day by the women's court, to see what would become of Esther.

¹² Now this was the time for a virgin to go into the king, when she had completed twelve months; for so are the days of purification fulfilled, six months while they are anointing themselves with oil of myrrh, and six months with spices and women's purifications. ¹³ And then the lady goes in to the king. The officer that he commands to do so will bring her to come in with him from the women's apartment to the king's chamber. ¹⁴ She enters in the evening, and in the morning she departs to the second women's apartment, where Hegai the king's chamberlain is keeper of the women. She doesn't go in to the king again, unless she is called by name. ¹⁵ And when the time was fulfilled for Esther the daughter of Aminadab the brother of Mordecai's father to go in to the king, she neglected nothing which the chamberlain, the women's keeper, commanded; for Esther found grace in the sight of all who looked at her. ¹⁶ So Esther went in to King Ahasuerus in the twelfth month, which is Adar, in the seventh year of his reign. ¹⁷ The king loved Esther, and she found favor beyond all the other virgins. He put the queen's crown on her. ¹⁸ The king made a banquet for all his friends and great men for seven days, and he highly celebrated the marriage of Esther; and he granted a remission of taxes to those who were under his dominion.

²¹ Two chamberlains of the king, the chiefs of the body-guard, were grieved, because Mordecai was promoted; and they sought to kill King Ahasuerus. ²² And the matter was discovered by Mordecai, and he made it known to Esther, and she declared to the king the matter of the conspiracy. ²³ And the king examined the two chamberlains and hanged them. Then the king gave orders to make a note for a memorial in the royal library of the goodwill shown by Mordecai, as a commendation.

¹⁰ So the king took off his ring, and gave it into the hands of Haman to seal the decrees against the Jews. ¹¹ The king said to Haman, "Keep the silver, and treat the nation as you will." ¹² So the king's recorders were called in the first month, on the thirteenth day, and they wrote as Haman commanded to the captains and governors in every province, from India even to Ethiopia, to one hundred twenty-seven provinces; and to the rulers of the nations according to their languages, in the name of King Ahasuerus. ¹³ The message was sent by couriers throughout the kingdom of Ahasuerus, to utterly destroy the race of the Jews on the first day of the twelfth month, which is Adar, and to plunder their goods.* [The following is the copy of the letter: "From the great King Ahasuerus to the rulers and the governors under them of one hundred twenty-seven provinces, from India even to Ethiopia, who hold authority under him:

"Ruling over many nations and having obtained dominion over the whole world, I was determined (not elated by the confidence of power, but ever conducting myself with great moderation and gentleness) to make the lives of my subjects continually tranquil, desiring both to maintain the kingdom quiet and orderly to its utmost limits, and to restore the peace desired by all men. When I had asked my counselors how this should be brought to pass, Haman, who excels in soundness of judgment among us, and has been manifestly well inclined without wavering and with unshaken fidelity, and had obtained the second post in the kingdom, informed us that a certain ill-disposed people is scattered among all the tribes throughout the world, opposed in their law to every other nation, and continually neglecting the commands of the king, so that the united government blamelessly administered by us is not quietly established. Having then conceived that this nation is continually set in opposition to every man, introducing as a change a foreign code of laws, and injuriously plotting to accomplish the worst of evils against our interests, and against the happy establishment of the monarchy, we instruct you in the letter written by Haman, who is set over the public affairs and is our second governor, to destroy them all utterly with their wives and children by the swords of the enemies, without pitying or sparing any, on the fourteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, of the present year; that the people aforesaid and now ill-disposed to us having been violently consigned to death in one day, may hereafter secure to us continually a well constituted and quiet state of affairs.”] ¹⁴ Copies of the letters were published in every province; and an order was given to all the nations to be ready for that day. ¹⁵ This business was hastened also in Susa. The king and Haman began to drink, but the city was confused.

* 3:13 Note: The part in brackets is not in Hebrew

⁹ So Hathach went in and told her all these words. ¹⁰ Esther said to Hathach, “Go to Mordecai, and say, ¹¹ ‘All the nations of the empire know that any man or woman who goes in to the king into the inner court without being called, that person must die, unless the king stretches out his golden sceptre; then he shall live. I haven’t been called to go into the king for thirty days.’”

¹² So Hathach reported to Mordecai all the words of Esther. ¹³ Then Mordecai said to Hathach, “Go, and say to her, ‘Esther, don’t say to yourself that you alone will escape in the kingdom, more than all the other Jews.

¹⁴ For if you keep quiet on this occasion, help and protection will come to the Jews from another place; but you and your father's house will perish. Who knows if you have been made queen for this occasion?" "

¹⁵ And Esther sent the messenger who came to her to Mordecai, saying, ¹⁶ "Go and assemble the Jews that are in Susa, and all of you fast for me. Don't eat or drink for three days, night and day. My maidens and I will also fast. Then I will go in to the king contrary to the law, even if I must die."

¹⁷ So Mordecai went and did all that Esther commanded him.* ¹⁸ [He prayed to the Lord, making mention of all the works of the Lord. ¹⁹ He said, "Lord† God, you are king ruling over all, for all things are in your power, and there is no one who can oppose you in your purpose to save Israel; ²⁰ for you have made the heaven and the earth and every wonderful thing under heaven. ²¹ You are Lord of all, and there is no one who can resist you, Lord. ²² You know all things. You know, Lord, that it is not in insolence, nor arrogance, nor love of glory, that I have done this, to refuse to bow down to the arrogant Haman. ²³ For I would gladly have kissed the soles of his feet for the safety of Israel. ²⁴ But I have done this that I might not set the glory of man above the glory of God. I will not worship anyone except you, my Lord, and I will not do these things in arrogance. ²⁵ And now, O Lord God, the King, the God of Abraham, spare your people, for our enemies are planning our destruction, and they have desired to destroy your ancient inheritance. ²⁶ Do not overlook your people, whom you have redeemed for yourself out of the land of Egypt. ²⁷ Listen to my prayer. Have mercy on your inheritance and turn our mourning into gladness, that we may live and sing praise to your name, O Lord. Don't utterly destroy the mouth of those who praise you, O Lord."

I abhor it as a menstruous cloth, and I don't wear it in the days of my tranquility. ⁴⁵ Your handmaid has not eaten at Haman's table, and I have not honored the banquet of the king, neither have I drunk wine of libations. ⁴⁶ Neither has your handmaid rejoiced since the day of my promotion until now, except in you, O Lord God of Abraham. ⁴⁷ O god, who has power over all, listen to the voice of the desperate, and deliver us from the hand of those who devise mischief. Deliver me from my fear.]

¹ * It came to pass on the third day, when she had ceased praying, that she took off her servant's dress and put on her glorious apparel. Being splendidly dressed and having called upon God the Overseer and Preserver of all things, she took her two maids, and she leaned upon one, as a delicate female, and the other followed bearing her train. She was blooming in the perfection of her beauty. Her face was cheerful and looked lovely, but her heart was filled with fear. Having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king. He was sitting on his royal throne. He had put on all his glorious apparel, covered all over with gold and precious stones, and was very terrifying. And having raised his face resplendent with glory, he looked with intense anger. The queen fell, and changed her color as she fainted. She bowed herself upon the head of the maid who went before her. But God changed the spirit of the king to gentleness, and in intense feeling, he sprang from off his throne, and took her into his arms, until she recovered. He comforted her with peaceful words, and said to her, "What is the matter, Esther? I am your relative. Cheer up! You shall not die, for our command is openly declared to you: 'Draw near.'"

² And having raised the golden sceptre, he laid it upon her neck, and embraced her. He said, "Speak to me."

So she said to him, "I saw you, my lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of your glory; for you, my lord, are to be wondered at, and your face is full of grace." While she was speaking, she fainted and fell.

Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her. ³ The king said, "What do you desire, Esther? What is your request? Ask even to the half of my kingdom, and it shall be yours."

⁴ Esther said, "Today is a special day. So if it seems good to the king, let both him and Haman come to the feast which I will prepare this day."

⁵ The king said, "Hurry and bring Haman here, that we may do as Esther said." So they both came to the feast about which Esther had spoken. ⁶ At the banquet, the king said to Esther, "What is your request, queen Esther? You shall have all that you require."

⁷ She said, "My request and my petition is: ⁸ if I have found favor in the king's sight, let the king and Haman come again tomorrow to the feast which I shall prepare for them, and tomorrow I will do as I have done today."

⁹ So Haman went out from the king very glad and merry; but when Haman saw Mordecai the Jew in the court, he was greatly enraged. ¹⁰ Having gone into his own house, he called his friends, and his wife Zeresh. ¹¹ He showed them his wealth and the glory with which the king had invested him, and how he had promoted him to be chief ruler in the kingdom. ¹² Haman said, "The queen has called no one to the feast with the king but me, and I am invited tomorrow. ¹³ But these things don't please me while I see Mordecai the Jew in the court."

¹⁴ Then Zeresh his wife and his friends said to him, "Let a fifty cubit tall[†] gallows be made for you. In the morning you speak to the king, and let Mordecai be hanged on the gallows; but you go in to the feast with the king, and be merry."

The saying pleased Haman, and the gallows was prepared.

¹ The Lord removed sleep from the king that night; so he told his servant to bring in the^{*} books, the registers of daily events, to read to him. ² And he found the[†] records written concerning Mordecai, how he had told the king about the king's two chamberlains, when they were keeping guard, and sought to lay hands on Ahasuerus. ³ The king said, "What honor or favor have we done for Mordecai?"

The king's servants said, "You haven't done anything for him."

⁴ And while the king was enquiring about the kindness of Mordecai, behold, Haman was in the court. The king said, "Who is in the court? Now Haman had come in to speak to the king about hanging Mordecai on the gallows which he had prepared. ⁵ The king's servants said, "Behold, Haman stands in the court."

And the king said, "Call him!"

⁶ The king said to Haman, "What should I do for the man whom I wish to honor?"

Haman said within himself, "Whom would the king honor but myself?"

⁷ He said to the king, "As for the man whom the king wishes to honor, ⁸ let the king's servants bring the robe of fine linen which the king puts on, and the horse on which the king rides, ⁹ and let him give it to one of the king's noble friends, and let him dress the man whom the king loves. Let him mount him on the horse, and proclaim through the[‡] streets of the city, saying, "This is what will be done for every man whom the king honors!"

¹⁰ Then the king said to Haman, "You have spoken well. Do so for Mordecai the Jew, who waits in the palace, and let not a word of what you have spoken be neglected!"

¹¹ So Haman took the robe and the horse, dressed Mordecai, mounted him on the horse, and went through the streets of the city, proclaiming, "This is what will be done for every man whom the king wishes to honor." ¹² Then Mordecai returned to the palace; but Haman went home mourning, with his head covered.

¹³ Haman related the events that had happened to him to Zeresh his wife and to his friends. His friends and his wife said to him, "If Mordecai is of the race of the Jews, and you have begun to be humbled before him, you will assuredly fall; and you will not be able to withstand him, for the living God is with him." ¹⁴ While they were still speaking, the chamberlains arrived to rush Haman to the banquet which Esther had prepared.

¹ So the king and Haman went in to drink with the queen. ² The king said to Esther at the banquet on the second day, "What is it, queen Esther? What is your request? What is your petition? It shall be done for you, up to half of my kingdom."

³ She answered and said, "If I have found favor in the sight of the king, let my life be granted as my petition, and my people as my request. ⁴ For both I and my people are sold for destruction, pillage, and genocide. If both we and our children were sold for male and female slaves, I would not have bothered you, for this* isn't worthy of the king's palace."

⁵ The king said, "Who has dared to do this thing?"

⁶ Esther said, "The enemy is Haman, this wicked man!"

Then Haman was terrified in the presence of the king and the queen. ⁷ The king rose up from the banquet to go into the garden. Haman began to beg the queen for mercy, for he saw that he was in serious trouble. ⁸ The king returned from the garden; and Haman had fallen upon the couch, begging the queen for mercy. The king said, "Will you even assault my wife in my house?"

And when Haman heard it, he changed countenance. ⁹ And Bugathan, one of the chamberlains, said to the king, "Behold, Haman has also prepared a gallows for Mordecai, who spoke concerning the king, and a fifty cubit high gallows has been set up on Haman's property."

The king said, "Let him be† hanged on it!" ¹⁰ So Haman was hanged on the gallows that had been prepared for Mordecai. Then the king's wrath was abated.

¹ On that day, King Ahasuerus gave to Esther all that belonged to Haman the slanderer. The king called Mordecai, for Esther had told that he was related to her. ² The king took the ring which he had taken away from Haman and gave it to Mordecai. Esther appointed Mordecai over all that had been Haman's. ³ She spoke yet again to the king, and fell at his feet, and implored him to undo Haman's mischief and all that he had done against the Jews. ⁴ Then the king extended the golden sceptre to Esther; and Esther arose to stand near the king. ⁵ Esther said, "If it seems good to you, and I have found favor in your sight, let an order be sent that the letters sent by Haman may be reversed—letters that were written for the destruction of the Jews who are in your kingdom. ⁶ For how could I see the affliction of my people, and how could I survive the destruction of my* kindred?"

* 7:4 see Hebrew: slanderer † 7:9 Or, impaled. * 8:6 Greek country.

⁷ Then the king said to Esther, “If I have given and freely granted you all that was Haman’s, and hanged him on a gallows because he laid his hands upon the Jews, what more do you seek? ⁸ Write in my name whatever seems good to you, and seal it with my ring; for whatever is written at the command of the king, and sealed with my ring, cannot be countermanded. ⁹ So the scribes were called in the first month, which is Nisan, on the twenty-third day of the same year; and orders were written to the Jews, whatever the king had commanded to the[†] local governors and chiefs of the local governors, from India even to Ethiopia—one hundred twenty-seven local governors, according to the several provinces, in their own languages. ¹⁰ They were written by order of the king, sealed with his ring, and the letters were sent by the couriers. ¹¹ In them, he charged them to use their own laws in every city, to help each other, and to treat their adversaries and those who attacked them as they pleased, ¹² on one day in all the kingdom of Ahasuerus, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is Adar. ¹³ Let the copies be posted in conspicuous places throughout the kingdom. Let all the Jews be ready against this day, to fight against their enemies. The following is a copy of the letter containing orders:

‡ [The great King Ahasuerus sends greetings to the rulers of provinces in one hundred twenty-seven local governance regions, from India to Ethiopia, even to those who are faithful to our interests. Many who have been frequently honored by the most abundant kindness of their[§] benefactors have conceived ambitious designs, and not only endeavor to hurt our subjects, but moreover, not being able to bear prosperity, they also endeavor to plot against their own benefactors. They not only would utterly abolish gratitude from among men, but also, elated by the boastings of men who are strangers to all that is good, they supposed that they would escape the sin-hating vengeance of the ever-seeing God. And oftentimes evil exhortation has made partakers of the guilt of shedding innocent blood, and has involved in irremediable calamities many of those who had been appointed to offices of authority, who had been entrusted with the management of their friends’ affairs; while men, by the false sophistry of an evil disposition, have deceived the simple goodwill of the ruling powers. And it is possible to see this, not so much from more ancient traditional accounts, as it is immediately in your power to see it by examining what things have been wickedly^{*} perpetrated by the baseness of men unworthily holding power. It is right to take heed with regard to the future, that we may maintain the government in undisturbed peace for all men, adopting needful changes, and ever judging those cases which come under our notice with truly equitable decisions. For whereas Haman, a Macedonian, the son of Hammedatha, in reality an alien from the blood of the Persians, and differing widely from our mild course of government, having been hospitably entertained by us, obtained so large a share of our universal kindness as to be called our father, and to continue the person next to the royal throne, revered of all; he however, overcome by[†] pride, endeavored to deprive us of our dominion, and our life;‡ having by various and subtle artifices demanded for destruction both Mordecai

our deliverer and perpetual benefactor, and Esther the blameless consort of our kingdom, along with their whole nation. For by these methods he thought, having surprised us in a defenseless state, to transfer the dominion of the Persians to the Macedonians. But we find that the Jews, who have been consigned to destruction by the[§] most abominable of men, are not malefactors, but living according to the most just laws, and being the sons of the living God, the most high and* mighty, who maintains the kingdom, to us as well as to our forefathers, in the most excellent order. You will therefore do well in refusing to obey the letter sent by Haman the son of Hammedatha, because he who has done these things has been hanged with his whole family at the gates of Susa, Almighty God having swiftly returned to him a worthy punishment. We enjoin you then, having openly published a copy of this letter in every place, to give the Jews permission to use their own lawful customs and to strengthen them, that on the thirteenth of the twelfth month Adar, on the self-same day, they may defend themselves against those who attack them in a time of affliction. For in the place of the destruction of the chosen race, Almighty God has granted them this time of gladness. Therefore you also, among your notable feasts, must keep a distinct day with all festivity, that both now and hereafter it may be a day of deliverance to us and who are well disposed toward the Persians, but to those that plotted against us a memorial of destruction. And every city and province collectively, which shall not do accordingly, shall be consumed with vengeance by spear and fire. It shall be made not only inaccessible to men, but most hateful to wild beasts and birds forever.] Let the copies be posted in conspicuous places throughout the kingdom and let all the Jews be ready against this day, to fight against their enemies. ¹⁴ So the horsemen went forth with haste to perform the king's commands. The ordinance was also published in Susa.

¹⁵ Mordecai went out robed in royal apparel, wearing a golden crown and a diadem of fine purple linen. The people in Susa saw it and rejoiced. ¹⁶ The Jews had light and gladness ¹⁷ in every city and province where the ordinance was published. Wherever the proclamation took place, the Jews had joy and gladness, feasting and mirth. Many of the Gentiles were circumcised and became Jews for fear of the Jews.

¹ Now in the twelfth month, on the thirteenth day of the month, which is Adar, the letters written by the king arrived. ² In that day, the adversaries of the Jews perished; for no one resisted, through fear of them. ³ For the chiefs of the local governors, and the princes and the royal scribes, honored the Jews; for the fear of Mordecai was upon them. ⁴ For the order of the king was in force, that he should be celebrated in all the kingdom. ⁶ In the city Susa the Jews killed five hundred men, ⁷ including Pharsannes, Delphon, Phasga, ⁸ Pharadatha, Barea, Sarbaca, ⁹ Marmasima, Ruphaeus, Arsaesus, and Zabuthaeus, ¹⁰ the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha the Bugaeon, the enemy of the Jews; and they plundered their property on the same day. ¹¹ The number of those who perished in Susa was reported to the king.

¹² Then the king said to Esther, “The Jews have slain five hundred men in the city Susa. What do you think they have done in the rest of the country? What more do you ask, that it may be done for you?”

¹³ Esther said to the king, “Let it be granted to the Jews to do the same to them tomorrow. Also, hang the bodies of the ten sons of Haman.”

¹⁴ He permitted it to be done; and he gave up to the Jews of the city the bodies of the sons of Haman to hang. ¹⁵ The Jews assembled in Susa on the fourteenth day of Adar and killed three hundred men, but plundered no property.

¹⁸ The Jews in the city of Susa assembled also on the fourteenth day and rested; and they also observed the fifteenth with joy and gladness. ¹⁹ On this account then, the Jews dispersed in every foreign land keep the fourteenth of Adar as a^{*} holy day with joy, each sending gifts of food to his neighbor.

²⁰ Mordecai wrote these things in a book and sent them to the Jews, as many as were in the kingdom of Ahasuerus, both those who were near and those who were far away, ²¹ to establish these as joyful days and to keep the fourteenth and fifteenth of Adar; ²² for on these days the Jews obtained rest from their enemies; and in that month, which was Adar, in which a change was made for them from mourning to joy, and from sorrow to a holiday, to spend the whole of it in good days off[†] feasting and gladness, sending portions to their friends and to the poor. ²³ And the Jews consented to this as Mordecai wrote to them, ²⁴ showing how Haman the son of Hammedatha the Macedonian fought against them, how he made a decree and cast[‡] lots to destroy them utterly; ²⁵ also how he went in to the king, telling him to hang Mordecai; but all the calamities he tried to bring upon the Jews came upon himself, and he was hanged, along with his children. ²⁶ Therefore these days were called Purim, because of the lots (for in their language they are called Purim) because of the words of this letter, and because of all they suffered on this account, and all that happened to them. ²⁷ Mordecai established it, and the Jews took upon themselves, upon their offspring, and upon those who were joined to them to observe it, neither would they on any account behave differently; but these days were to be a memorial kept in every generation, city, family, and province. ²⁸ These days of Purim shall be kept forever, and their memorial shall not fail in any generation.

²⁹ Queen Esther the daughter of Aminadab and Mordecai the Jew wrote all that they had done, and gave the confirmation of the letter about Purim. ³¹ Mordecai and Esther the queen established this decision on their own, pledging their own well-being to their plan. ³² And Esther established it by a command forever, and it was written for a memorial.

³ Mordecai* was viceroy to King Ahasuerus, and was a great man in the kingdom, honored by the Jews, and lived his life loved by all his nation.†

⁴ [Mordecai said, "These things have come from God. ⁵ For I remember the dream which I had concerning these matters; for not one detail of them has failed. ⁶ There was the little spring which became a river, and there was light, and the sun and much water. The river is Esther, whom the king married and made queen. ⁷ The two serpents are Haman and me. ⁸ The nations are those which combined to destroy the name of the Jews. ⁹ But as for my nation, this is Israel, even those who cried to God and were delivered; for the Lord delivered his people. The Lord rescued us out of all these calamities; and God worked such signs and great wonders as have not been done among the nations. ¹⁰ Therefore he ordained two lots. One for the people of God, and one for all the other nations. ¹¹ And these two lots came for an appointed season, and for a day of judgment, before God, and for all the nations. ¹² God remembered his people and vindicated his inheritance.

¹³ They shall observe these days in the month Adar, on the fourteenth and on the fifteenth day of the month, with an assembly, joy, and gladness before God, throughout the generations forever among his people Israel. ¹⁴ In the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemeus and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemeus his son brought this letter of Purim, which they said was authentic, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemeus, who was in Jerusalem, had interpreted.]

The Book of Daniel with Greek Portions

³ The king spoke to Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring in some of the children of Israel, even of the royal offspring‡ and of the nobles— ⁴ youths in whom was no defect, but well-favored, and skillful in all wisdom, and endowed with knowledge, and understanding science, and who had the ability to serve in the king's palace; and that he should teach them the learning and the language of the Chaldeans. ⁵ The king appointed for them a daily portion of the king's delicacies, and of the wine which he drank, and that they should be nourished three years; that at its end they should serve the king.

¹¹ Then Daniel said to the steward whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: ¹² "Test your servants, I beg you, ten days; and let them give us vegetables to eat and water to drink. ¹³ Then let our faces be examined before you, and the face of the youths who eat of the king's delicacies; and as you see, deal with your servants." ¹⁴ So he listened to them in this matter, and tested them for ten days.

¹⁷ Now as for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams.

¹⁸ At the end of the days which the king had appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. ¹⁹ The king talked with them; and among them all was found no one like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. Therefore they served the king. ²⁰ In every matter of wisdom and understanding concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters who were in all his realm.

²¹ Daniel continued serving even to the first year of King Cyrus.

⁵ The king answered the Chaldeans, "The thing has gone from me. If you don't make known to me the dream and its interpretation, you will be cut in pieces, and your houses will be made a dunghill. ⁶ But if you show the dream and its interpretation, you will receive from me gifts, rewards, and great honor. Therefore show me the dream and its interpretation."

¹⁰ The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, "There is not a man on the earth who can show the king's matter, because no king, lord, or ruler, has asked such a thing of any magician, enchanter, or Chaldean. ¹¹ It is a rare thing that the king requires, and there is no other who can show it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh."

¹² Because of this, the king was angry and very furious, and commanded that all the wise men of Babylon be destroyed. ¹³ So the decree went out, and the wise men were to be slain. They sought Daniel and his companions to be slain.

¹⁴ Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, who had gone out to kill the wise men of Babylon.

¹⁵ He answered Arioch the king's captain, "Why is the decree so urgent from the king?" Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. ¹⁶ Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would appoint him a time, and he would show the king the interpretation.

¹⁷ Then Daniel went to his house and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions, ¹⁸ that they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret, and that Daniel and his companions would not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. ¹⁹ Then the secret was revealed to Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven. ²⁰ Daniel answered, "Blessed be the name of God forever and ever;

for wisdom and might are his.

²¹ He changes the times and the seasons.

He removes kings and sets up kings.

He gives wisdom to the wise,
and knowledge to those who have understanding.

²² He reveals the deep and secret things.

He knows what is in the darkness,
and the light dwells with him.

²³ I thank you and praise you,

O God of my fathers,

who have given me wisdom and might,

and have now made known to me what we desired of you;

for you have made known to us the king's matter."

²⁷ Daniel answered before the king, and said, "The secret which the king has demanded can't be shown to the king by wise men, enchanters, magicians, or soothsayers; ²⁸ but there is a God in heaven who reveals secrets, and he has made known to King Nebuchadnezzar what will be in the latter days. Your dream, and the visions of your head on your bed, are these:

²⁹ "As for you, O king, your thoughts came on your bed, what should happen hereafter; and he who reveals secrets has made known to you what will happen. ³⁰ But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that you may know the thoughts of your heart.

³¹ "You, O king, saw, and behold,* a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was excellent, stood before you; and its appearance was terrifying. ³² As for this image, its head was of fine gold, its chest and its arms of silver, its belly and its thighs of bronze, ³³ its legs of iron, its feet part of iron, and part of clay. ³⁴ You saw until a stone was cut out without hands, which struck the image on its feet that were of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces. ³⁵ Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold were broken in pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing floors. The wind carried them away, so that no place was found for them. The stone that struck the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

³⁶ "This is the dream; and we will tell its interpretation before the king.

³⁷ You, O king, are king of kings, to whom the God of heaven has given the kingdom, the power, the strength, and the glory. ³⁸ Wherever the children of men dwell, he has given the animals of the field and the birds of the sky into your hand, and has made you rule over them all. You are the head of gold.

³⁹ “After you, another kingdom will arise that is inferior to you; and a third kingdom of bronze, which will rule over all the earth. ⁴⁰ The fourth kingdom will be strong as iron, because iron breaks in pieces and subdues all things; and as iron that crushes all these, it will break in pieces and crush.

⁴¹ Whereas you saw the feet and toes, part of potters’ clay, and part of iron, it will be a divided kingdom; but there will be in it of the strength of the iron, because you saw the iron mixed with miry clay. ⁴² As the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom will be partly strong, and partly brittle. ⁴³ Whereas you saw the iron mixed with miry clay, they will mingle themselves with the seed of men; but they won’t cling to one another, even as iron does not mix with clay.

⁴⁴ “In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, nor will its sovereignty be left to another people; but it will break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it will stand forever. ⁴⁵ Because you saw that a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold. The great God has made known to the king what will happen hereafter. The dream is certain, and its interpretation sure.”

⁴⁷ The king answered to Daniel, and said, “Of a truth your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, since you have been able to reveal this secret.”

⁴⁸ Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him rule over the whole province of Babylon, and to be chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. ⁴⁹ Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego over the affairs of the province of Babylon; but Daniel was in the king’s gate.

¹⁹ Then Nebuchadnezzar was full of fury, and the form of his appearance was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. He spoke, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was usually heated. ²⁰ He commanded certain mighty men who were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. ²¹ Then these men were bound in their pants, their tunics, their mantles, and their other clothes, and were cast into the middle of the burning fiery furnace. ²² Therefore because the king’s commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceedingly hot, the flame of the fire killed those men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. ²³ These three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell down bound into the middle of the burning fiery furnace.

THE SONG OF THE THREE HOLY CHILDREN†

²⁴ They walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord. ²⁵ Then Azarias stood, and prayed like this. Opening his mouth in the midst of the fire he said, ²⁶ “Blessed are you, O Lord, you God of our fathers! Your name is worthy to be praised and glorified for evermore; ²⁷ for you are righteous in all the things that you have done. Yes, all your works are true. Your ways are right, and all your judgments are truth. ²⁸ In all the things that you have brought upon us, and upon the holy city of our fathers, Jerusalem, you have executed true judgments. For according to truth and justice you have brought all these things upon us because of our sins. ²⁹ For we have sinned and committed iniquity in departing from you. ³⁰ In all things we have trespassed, and not obeyed your commandments or kept them. We haven’t done as you have commanded us, that it might go well with us. ³¹ Therefore all that you have brought upon us, and everything that you have done to us, you have done in true judgment. ³² You delivered us into the hands of lawless enemies, most hateful rebels, and to an unjust king who is the most wicked in all the world. ³³ And now we can’t open our mouth. Shame and reproach have come on your servants and those who worship you. ³⁴ Don’t utterly deliver us up, for your name’s sake. Don’t annul your covenant. ³⁵ Don’t cause your mercy to depart from us, for the sake of Abraham who is loved by you, and for the sake of Isaac your servant, and Israel your holy one, ³⁶ to whom you promised that you would multiply their offspring as the stars of the sky, and as the sand that is on the sea shore. ³⁷ For we, O Lord, have become less than any nation, and are brought low this day in all the world because of our sins. ³⁸ There isn’t at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to offer before you, and to find mercy. ³⁹ Nevertheless in a contrite heart and a humble spirit let us be accepted, ⁴⁰ like the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like ten thousands of fat lambs. So let our sacrifice be in your sight this day, that we may wholly go after you, for they shall not be ashamed who put their trust in you. ⁴¹ And now we follow you with all our heart. We fear you, and seek your face. ⁴² Put us not to shame; but deal with us after your kindness, and according to the multitude of your mercy. ⁴³ Deliver us also according to your marvelous works, and give glory to your name, O Lord. Let all those who harm your servants be confounded. ⁴⁴ Let them be ashamed of all their power and might, and let their strength be broken. ⁴⁵ Let them know that you are the Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world.”

⁴⁶ The king’s servants who put them in didn’t stop making the furnace hot with naphtha, pitch, tinder, and small wood, ⁴⁷ so that the flame streamed out forty nine cubits above the furnace. ⁴⁸ It spread and burned those Chaldeans whom it found around the furnace. ⁴⁹ But the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace together with Azarias and his fellows, and he struck the flame of the fire out of the furnace, ⁵⁰ and made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist whistling wind, so that the fire didn't touch them at all. It neither hurt nor troubled them.

⁵¹ Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying, ⁵² "Blessed are you, O Lord, you God of our fathers, to be praised and exalted above all forever! ⁵³ Blessed is your glorious and holy name, to be praised and exalted above all forever! ⁵⁴ Blessed are you in the temple of your holy glory, to be praised and glorified above all forever! ⁵⁵ Blessed are you who see the depths and sit upon the cherubim, to be praised and exalted above all forever. ⁵⁶ Blessed are you on the throne of your kingdom, to be praised and extolled above all forever! ⁵⁷ Blessed are you in the firmament of heaven, to be praised and glorified forever!

⁵⁸ O all you works of the Lord, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁵⁹ O you heavens, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all for ever! ⁶⁰ O you angels of the Lord, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁶¹ O all you waters that are above the sky, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁶² O all you powers of the Lord, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁶³ O you sun and moon, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁶⁴ O you stars of heaven, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁶⁵ O every shower and dew, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁶⁶ O all you winds, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁶⁷ O you fire and heat, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁶⁸ O you dews and storms of snow, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁶⁹ O you nights and days, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁷⁰ O you light and darkness, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁷¹ O you cold and heat, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁷² O you frost and snow, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁷³ O you lightnings and clouds, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁷⁴ O let the earth bless the Lord! Let it praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁷⁵ O you mountains and hills, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁷⁶ O all you things that grow on the earth, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁷⁷ O sea and rivers, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁷⁸ O you springs, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁷⁹ O you whales and all that move in the waters, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁸⁰ O all you birds of the air, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁸¹ O all you beasts and cattle, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁸² O you children of men, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁸³ O let Israel bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever. ⁸⁴ O you priests of the Lord, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁸⁵ O you servants of the Lord, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁸⁶ O you spirits and souls of the righteous, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁸⁷ O you who are holy and humble of heart, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! ⁸⁸ O Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever; for he has rescued us from Hades, and saved us from the hand of death! He has delivered us out of the midst of the furnace and burning flame. He has delivered us out of the midst of the fire. ⁸⁹ O give thanks to the Lord, for he is good; for his mercy is forever. ⁹⁰ O all you who worship the Lord, bless the God of gods, praise him, and give him thanks; for his mercy is forever!"

Deliverance from the Furnace

⁹¹ § Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished and rose up in haste. He spoke and said to his counselors, "Didn't we cast three men bound into the middle of the fire?"

They answered the king, "True, O king."

⁹² He answered, "Look, I see four men loose, walking in the middle of the fire, and they are unharmed. The appearance of the fourth is like a son of the gods."

⁹³ Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace. He spoke and said, "Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, you servants of the Most High God, come out, and come here!"

Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came out of the middle of the fire. ⁹⁴ The local governors, the deputies, and the governors, and the king's counselors, being gathered together, saw these men, that the fire had no power on their bodies. The hair of their head wasn't singed. Their pants weren't changed. The smell of fire wasn't even on them.

⁹⁵ Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said, "Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who has sent his angel and delivered his servants who trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God. ⁹⁶ Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, who speak anything evil against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill, because there is no other god who is able to deliver like this."

⁹⁷ Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the province of Babylon.

to all the peoples, nations, and languages, who dwell in all the earth:
Peace be multiplied to you.

² It has seemed good to me to show the signs and wonders that the Most High God has worked toward me.

³ How great are his signs!

How mighty are his wonders!

His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom.

His dominion is from generation to generation.

⁴ I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace. ⁵ I saw a dream which made me afraid; and the thoughts on my bed and the visions of my head troubled me. ⁶ Therefore I made a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known to me the interpretation of the dream. ⁷ Then the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers came in; and I told the dream before them; but they didn't make known to me its interpretation.

⁸ But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods. I told the dream before him, saying,

¹³ “I saw in the visions of my head on my bed, and behold, a watcher and a holy one came down from the sky. ¹⁴ He cried aloud, and said this, ‘Cut down the tree and cut off its branches! Shake off its leaves and scatter its fruit! Let the animals get away from under it, and the fowls from its branches. ¹⁵ Nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and bronze, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of the sky. Let his portion be with the animals in the grass of the earth. ¹⁶ Let his heart be changed from man’s, and let an animal’s heart be given to him. Then let seven times pass over him.

Belteshazzar answered, “My lord, may the dream be for those who hate you, and its interpretation to your adversaries. ²⁰ The tree that you saw, which grew and was strong, whose height reached to the sky, and its sight to all the earth; ²¹ whose leaves were beautiful, and its fruit plentiful, and in it was food for all; under which the animals of the field lived, and on whose branches the birds of the sky had their habitation— ²² it is you, O king, who have grown and become strong; for your greatness has grown, and reaches to the sky, and your dominion to the end of the earth.

kingdom of men, and gives it to whomever he will. ²⁶ Their command to leave the stump of the roots of the tree means your kingdom will be sure to you, after you will have known that the heavens do rule. ²⁷ Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to you, and break off your sins by righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the poor. Perhaps there may be a lengthening of your tranquility.”

³¹ While the word was in the king’s mouth, a voice came from the sky, saying, “O King Nebuchadnezzar, to you it is spoken: ‘The kingdom has departed from you. ³² You shall be driven from men, and your dwelling shall be with the animals of the field. You shall be made to eat grass as oxen. Seven times shall pass over you, until you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomever he will.’ ”

³⁴ At the end of the days I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted up my eyes to heaven, and my understanding returned to me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honored him who lives forever.

For his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom from generation to generation.

³⁵ All the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing;

and he does according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth;

and no one can stop his hand,

or ask him, “What are you doing?”

³⁶ At the same time my understanding returned to me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and brightness returned to me. My counselors and my lords sought me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent greatness was added to me. ³⁷ Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honor the King of heaven; for all his works are right and his ways just; and those who walk in pride he is able to humble.

¹ Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand. ² Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded that the golden and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem be brought to him, that the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, might drink from them. ³ Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of God’s house which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, drank from them. ⁴ They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver; of bronze, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

⁵ In the same hour, the fingers of a man’s hand came out and wrote near the lamp stand on the plaster of the wall of the king’s palace. The king saw the part of the hand that wrote. ⁶ Then the king’s face was changed in him, and his thoughts troubled him; and the joints of his thighs were loosened, and his knees struck one against another.

⁸ Then all the king’s wise men came in; but they could not read the writing and couldn’t make known to the king the interpretation. ⁹ Then King Belshazzar was greatly troubled. His face was changed in him, and his lords were perplexed.

¹³ Then Daniel was brought in before the king. The king spoke and said to Daniel, “Are you that Daniel of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? ¹⁴ I have heard of you, that the spirit of the gods is in you, and that light, understanding, and excellent wisdom are found in you. ¹⁵ Now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me to read this writing, and make known to me its interpretation; but they could not show the interpretation of the thing. ¹⁶ But I have heard of you, that you can give interpretations and dissolve doubts. Now if you can read the writing, and make known to me its interpretation, you shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold around your neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.”

¹⁷ Then Daniel answered the king, “Let your gifts be to yourself, and give your rewards to another. Nevertheless, I will read the writing to the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

¹⁸ “To you, king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty. ¹⁹ Because of the greatness that he gave him, all the peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him. He killed whom he wanted to, and he kept alive whom he wanted to. He raised up whom he wanted to, and he put down whom he wanted to. ²⁰ But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened so that he dealt proudly, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him. ²¹ He was driven from the sons of men and his heart was made like the animals’, and his dwelling was with the wild donkeys. He was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the sky, until he knew that the Most High God rules in the kingdom of men, and that he sets up over it whomever he will.

they have brought the vessels of his house before you, and you and your lords, your wives, and your concubines, have drunk wine from them. You have praised the gods of silver, gold, bronze, iron, wood, and stone, which don't see, hear, or know; and you have not glorified the God in whose hand is your breath and whose are all your ways. ²⁴ Then the part of the hand was sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed.

²⁶ "This is the interpretation of the thing:

MENE: God has counted your kingdom, and brought it to an end.

²⁷ TEKEL: you are weighed in the balances, and are found wanting.

²⁸ PERES: your kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians."

²⁹ Then Belshazzar commanded, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and proclaimed that he should be the third highest ruler in the kingdom.

⁶ Then these presidents and local governors assembled together to the king, and said this to him, "King Darius, live forever! ⁷ All the presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the local governors, the counselors and the governors, have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a strong decree, that whoever asks a petition of any god or man for thirty days, except of you, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. ⁸ Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it not be changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which doesn't alter." ⁹ Therefore King Darius signed the writing and the decree.

¹⁰ When Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house (now his windows were open in his room toward Jerusalem) and he kneeled on his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did before. ¹¹ Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. ¹² Then they came near, and spoke before the king concerning the king's decree: "Haven't you signed a decree that every man who makes a petition to any god or man within thirty days, except to you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions?"

The king answered, "This thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which doesn't alter."

¹³ Then they answered and said before the king, “That Daniel, who is of the children of the captivity of Judah, doesn’t respect you, O king, nor the decree that you have signed, but makes his petition three times a day.” ¹⁴ Then the king, when he heard these words, was very displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him; and he labored until the going down of the sun to rescue him.

¹⁶ Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. The king spoke and said to Daniel, “Your God whom you serve continually, he will deliver you.”

¹⁹ Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste to the den of lions. ²⁰ When he came near to the den to Daniel, he cried with a troubled voice. The king spoke and said to Daniel, “Daniel, servant of the living God, is your God, whom you serve continually, able to deliver you from the lions?”

²¹ Then Daniel said to the king, “O king, live forever! ²² My God has sent his angel, and has shut the lions’ mouths, and they have not hurt me; because I am innocent in his sight. Also before you, O king, I have done no harm.”

²³ Then the king was exceedingly glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no kind of harm was found on him, because he had trusted in his God.

²⁴ The king commanded, and they brought those men who had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions—they, their children, and their wives; and the lions mauled them and broke all their bones in pieces before they came to the bottom of the den.

²⁵ Then King Darius wrote to all the peoples, nations, and languages, who dwell in all the earth:

“Peace be multiplied to you.

²⁶ “I make a decree that in all the dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel;
“for he is the living God,
and steadfast forever.

His kingdom is that which will not be destroyed.

His dominion will be even to the end.

²⁷ He delivers and rescues.

He works signs and wonders in heaven and in earth,
who has delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.”

²⁸ So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

¹ In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream and visions of his head on his bed. Then he wrote the dream and told the sum of the matters.

² Daniel spoke and said, "I saw in my vision by night and behold, the four winds of the sky broke out on the great sea. ³ Four great animals came up from the sea, different from one another.

⁴ "The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings. I watched until its wings were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand on two feet as a man. A man's heart was given to it.

⁷ "After this I saw in the night visions, and, behold, there was a fourth animal, awesome and powerful, and exceedingly strong. It had great iron teeth. It devoured and broke in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet. It was different from all the animals that were before it. It had ten horns.

⁸ "I considered the horns, and behold, another horn came up among them, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots: and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things.

⁹ "I watched until thrones were placed,
and one who was Ancient of Days sat.
His clothing was white as snow,
and the hair of his head like pure wool.
His throne was fiery flames,
and its wheels burning fire.

¹⁰ A fiery stream issued and came out from before him.
Thousands of thousands ministered to him.
Ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him.
The judgment was set.
The books were opened.

¹¹ "I watched at that time because of the voice of the great words which the horn spoke. I watched even until the animal was slain, its body destroyed, and it was given to be burned with fire. ¹² As for the rest of the animals, their dominion was taken away; yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time.

¹³ "I saw in the night visions, and behold, one like a son of man came with the clouds, and he came to the Ancient of Days, and they brought him near before him. ¹⁴ Dominion was given him, with glory and a kingdom, that all the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion, which will not pass away, and his kingdom will not be destroyed.

¹⁵ "As for me, Daniel, my spirit was grieved within my body, and the visions of my head troubled me. ¹⁶ I came near to one of those who stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this.

"So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

²⁶ “ ‘But the judgment will be set, and they will take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it to the end. ²⁷ The kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole sky, will be given to the people of the saints of the Most High. His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions will serve and obey him.’

⁵ As I was considering, behold, a male goat came from the west over the surface of the whole earth, and didn't touch the ground. The goat had a notable horn between his eyes. ⁶ He came to the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and ran on him in the fury of his power. ⁷ I saw him come close to the ram, and he was moved with anger against him, and struck the ram, and broke his two horns. There was no power in the ram to stand before him; but he cast him down to the ground, and trampled on him. There was no one who could deliver the ram out of his hand. ⁸ The male goat magnified himself exceedingly. When he was strong, the great horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four notable horns toward the four winds of the sky.

¹³ Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said to that certain one who spoke, "How long will the vision about the continual burnt offering, and the disobedience that makes desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the army to be trodden under foot be?"

¹⁴ He said to me, "To two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings. Then the sanctuary will be cleansed."

¹⁵ When I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, I sought to understand it. Then behold, there stood before me something like the appearance of a man.

¹⁷ So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was frightened, and fell on my face; but he said to me, "Understand, son of man; for the vision belongs to the time of the end."

¹⁹ He said, "Behold, I will make you know what will be in the latter time of the indignation; for it belongs to the appointed time of the end. ²⁰ The ram which you saw, that had the two horns, they are the kings of Media and Persia. ²¹ The rough male goat is the king of Greece. The great horn that is between his eyes is the first king. ²² As for that which was broken, in the place where four stood up, four kingdoms will stand up out of the nation, but not with his power.

²³ "In the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors have come to the full, a king of fierce face, and understanding dark sentences, will stand up. ²⁴ His power will be mighty, but not by his own power. He will destroy awesomely, and will prosper in what he does. He will destroy the mighty ones and the holy people. ²⁵ Through his policy he will cause deceit to prosper in his hand. He will magnify himself in his heart, and he will destroy many in their security. He will also stand up against the prince of princes; but he will be broken without human power.

¹ In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the offspring of the Medes, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans, ² in the first year of his reign I, Daniel, understood by the books the number of the years about which the LORD's* word came to Jeremiah the prophet, for the accomplishing of the desolations of Jerusalem, even seventy years. ³ I set my face to the Lord God, to seek by prayer and petitions, with fasting in sackcloth and ashes.

⁴ I prayed to the LORD my God, and made confession, and said,

"Oh, Lord, the great and dreadful God, who keeps covenant and loving kindness with those who love him and keep his commandments, ⁵ we have sinned, and have dealt perversely, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even turning aside from your precepts and from your ordinances. ⁶ We haven't listened to your servants the prophets, who spoke in your name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

⁷ "Lord, righteousness belongs to you, but to us confusion of face, as it is today—to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, who are near, and who are far off, through all the countries where you have driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against you. ⁸ Lord, to us belongs confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against you. ⁹ To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgiveness; for we have rebelled against him. ¹⁰ We haven't obeyed the LORD our God's voice, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets. ¹¹ Yes, all Israel have transgressed your law, turning aside, that they wouldn't obey your voice.

¹² He has confirmed his words, which he spoke against us, and against our judges who judged us, by bringing on us a great evil; for under the whole sky, such has not been done as has been done to Jerusalem. ¹³ As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil has come on us. Yet we have not entreated the favor of the LORD our God, that we should turn from our iniquities and have discernment in your truth. ¹⁴ Therefore the LORD has watched over the evil, and brought it on us; for the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he does, and we have not obeyed his voice.

¹⁷ "Now therefore, our God, listen to the prayer of your servant, and to his petitions, and cause your face to shine on your sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. ¹⁸ My God, turn your ear and hear. Open your eyes and see our desolations and the city which is called by your name; for we don't present our petitions before you for our righteousness, but for your great mercies' sake. ¹⁹ Lord, hear. Lord, forgive. Lord, listen and do. Don't defer, for your own sake, my God, because your city and your people are called by your name."

²⁰ While I was speaking, praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for the holy mountain of my God—²¹ yes, while I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening offering. ²² He instructed me and talked with me, and said, “Daniel, I have now come to give you wisdom and understanding. ²³ At the beginning of your petitions the commandment went out and I have come to tell you, for you are greatly beloved. Therefore consider the matter and understand the vision.

²⁵ “Know therefore and discern that from the going out of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem to the Anointed One,[†] the prince, will be seven weeks and sixty-two weeks. It will be built again with street and moat, even in troubled times. ²⁶ After the sixty-two weeks the Anointed One[‡] will be cut off and will have nothing. The people of the prince who come will destroy the city and the sanctuary. Its end will be with a flood, and war will be even to the end. Desolations are determined. ²⁷ He will make a firm covenant with many for one week. In the middle of the week he will cause the sacrifice and the offering to cease. On the wing of abominations will come one who makes desolate. Even to the full end that is decreed, wrath will be poured out on the desolate.”

² In those days I, Daniel, was mourning three whole weeks. ³ I ate no pleasant bread. No meat or wine came into my mouth. I didn’t anoint myself at all, until three whole weeks were fulfilled.

⁴ In the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is Hiddekel, ⁵ I lifted up my eyes and looked, and behold, there was a man clothed in linen, whose thighs were adorned with pure gold of Uphaz. ⁶ His body also was like beryl, and his face like the appearance of lightning, and his eyes like flaming torches. His arms and his feet were like burnished bronze. The voice of his words was like the voice of a multitude.

¹⁰ Behold, a hand touched me, which set me on my knees and on the palms of my hands. ¹¹ He said to me, “Daniel, you greatly beloved man, understand the words that I speak to you. Stand upright, for I have been sent to you, now.” When he had spoken this word to me, I stood trembling.

¹² Then he said to me, “Don’t be afraid, Daniel; for from the first day that you set your heart to understand, and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard. I have come for your words’ sake. ¹³ But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me twenty-one days; but, behold, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me because I remained there with the kings of Persia. ¹⁴ Now I have come to make you understand what will happen to your people in the latter days; for the vision is yet for many days.”

¹⁵ When he had spoken these words to me, I set my face toward the ground, and was mute. ¹⁶ Behold, one in the likeness of the sons of men touched my lips. Then I opened my mouth, and spoke and said to him who stood before me, “My lord, by reason of the vision my sorrows have overtaken me, and I retain no strength. ¹⁷ For how can the servant of my lord talk with my lord? For as for me, immediately there remained no strength in me. There was no breath left in me.”

¹⁸ Then one like the appearance of a man touched me again, and he strengthened me. ¹⁹ He said, “Greatly beloved man, don’t be afraid. Peace be to you. Be strong. Yes, be strong.”

When he spoke to me, I was strengthened, and said, “Let my lord speak; for you have strengthened me.”

²⁰ Then he said, “Do you know why I have come to you? Now I will return to fight with the prince of Persia. When I go out, behold, the prince of Greece will come. ²¹ But I will tell you what is inscribed in the writing of truth. There is no one who supports me against these except Michael, your prince.

² “Now I will show you the truth. Behold, three more kings will stand up in Persia. The fourth will be far richer than all of them. When he has grown strong through his riches, he will stir up all against the realm of Greece.

³ A mighty king will stand up who will rule with great dominion, and do according to his will. ⁴ When he stands up, his kingdom will be broken, and will be divided toward the four winds of the sky, but not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion with which he ruled; for his kingdom will be plucked up, even for others besides these.

⁷ “But out of a shoot from her roots one will stand up in his place who will come to the army and will enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and will deal against them and will prevail. ⁸ He will also carry their gods, with their molten images and their precious vessels of silver and of gold, captive into Egypt. He will refrain some years from the king of the north. ⁹ He will come into the realm of the king of the south, but he will return into his own land. ¹⁰ His sons will wage war and will assemble a multitude of great forces which will keep coming and overflow and pass through. They will return and wage war, even to his fortress.

¹¹ “The king of the south will be moved with anger and will come out and fight with him, even with the king of the north. He will send out a great multitude, and the multitude will be given into his hand. ¹² The multitude will be lifted up, and his heart will be exalted. He will cast down tens of thousands, but he won’t prevail. ¹³ The king of the north will return, and will send out a multitude greater than the former. He will come on at the end of the times, even of years, with a great army and with abundant supplies.

¹⁴ “In those times many will stand up against the king of the south. Also the children of the violent among your people will lift themselves up to establish the vision; but they will fall. ¹⁵ So the king of the north will come and cast up a mound, and take a well-fortified city. The forces of the south won’t stand, neither will his chosen people, neither will there be any strength to stand. ¹⁶ But he who comes against him will do according to his own will, and no one will stand before him. He will stand in the glorious land, and destruction will be in his hand. ¹⁷ He will set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, and with him equitable conditions. He will perform them. He will give him the daughter of women to corrupt her; but she will not stand, and won’t be for him. ¹⁸ After this he will turn his face to the islands, and will take many; but a prince will cause the reproach offered by him to cease. Yes, moreover, he will cause his reproach to turn on him. ¹⁹ Then he will turn his face toward the fortresses of his own land; but he will stumble and fall, and won’t be found.

²¹ “In his place, a contemptible person will stand up, to whom they had not given the honor of the kingdom; but he will come in time of security, and will obtain the kingdom by flatteries. ²² The overwhelming forces will be overwhelmed from before him, and will be broken. Yes, also the prince of the covenant. ²³ After the treaty is made with him, he will work deceitfully; for he will come up, and will become strong with a small people. ²⁴ In time of security, he will come even on the fattest places of the province. He will do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers’ fathers. He will scatter among them prey, plunder, and substance. Yes, he will devise his plans against the strongholds, even for a time.

²⁹ “He will return at the appointed time and come into the south; but it won’t be in the latter time as it was in the former. ³⁰ For ships of Kittim will come against him. Therefore he will be grieved, and will return, and have indignation against the holy covenant, and will take action. He will even return, and have regard to those who forsake the holy covenant.

³¹ “Forces will stand on his part and they will profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and will take away the continual burnt offering. Then they will set up the abomination that makes desolate. ³² He will corrupt those who do wickedly against the covenant by flatteries; but the people who know their God will be strong and take action.

³⁴ Now when they fall, they will be helped with a little help; but many will join themselves to them with flatteries. ³⁵ Some of those who are wise will fall, to refine them, and to purify, and to make them white, even to the time of the end; because it is yet for the appointed time.

⁴⁰ “At the time of the end, the king of the south will contend with him; and the king of the north will come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, with horsemen, and with many ships. He will enter into the countries, and will overflow and pass through. ⁴¹ He will enter also into the glorious land, and many countries will be overthrown; but these will be delivered out of his hand: Edom, Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon. ⁴² He will also stretch out his hand against the countries. The land of Egypt won’t escape.

⁴³ But he will have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt. The Libyans and the Ethiopians will be at his steps. ⁴⁴ But news out of the east and out of the north will trouble him; and he will go out with great fury to destroy and utterly to sweep away many.

⁴⁵ He will plant the tents of his palace between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he will come to his end, and no one will help him.

¹ “At that time Michael will stand up, the great prince who stands for the children of your people. There will be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time. At that time, your people will be delivered—everyone who is found written in the book. ² Many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth will awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. ³ Those who are wise will shine as the brightness of the expanse. Those who turn many to righteousness will shine like the stars forever and ever. ⁴ But you, Daniel, shut up the words and seal the book, even to the time of the end. Many will run back and forth, and knowledge will be increased.”

⁸ I heard, but I didn't understand. Then I said, "My lord, what will be the outcome of these things?"

⁹ He said, "Go your way, Daniel; for the words are shut up and sealed until the time of the end. ¹⁰ Many will purify themselves, make themselves white, and be refined; but the wicked will do wickedly. None of the wicked will understand; but those who are wise will understand.

¹¹ "From the time that the continual burnt offering is taken away and the abomination that makes desolate set up, there will be one thousand two hundred ninety days. ¹² Blessed is he who waits and comes to the one thousand three hundred thirty-five days.

¹³ "But go your way until the end; for you will rest and will stand in your inheritance at the end of the days."

THE HISTORY OF SUSANNA

⁷ When the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk. ⁸ The two elders saw her going in every day and walking; and they were inflamed with lust for her. ⁹ They perverted their own mind and turned away their eyes, that they might not look to heaven, nor remember just judgments. ¹⁰ And although they both were wounded with lust for her, yet dared not show the other his grief. ¹¹ For they were ashamed to declare their lust, what they desired to do with her. ¹² Yet they watched eagerly from day to day to see her. ¹³ The one said to the other, "Let's go home, now; for it is dinner time." ¹⁴ So when they had gone out, they parted company, and turning back again, they came to the same place. After they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust. Then they appointed a time both together, when they might find her alone.

¹⁵ It happened, as they watched on an opportune day, she went in as before with only two maids, and she desired to wash herself in the garden; for it was hot. ¹⁶ There was nobody there except the two elders who had hid themselves and watched her. ¹⁷ Then she said to her maids, "Bring me olive oil and ointment, and shut the garden doors, that I may wash myself." ¹⁸ They did as she asked them and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at the side doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them. They didn't see the elders, because they were hidden.

¹⁹ Now when the maids had gone out, the two elders rose up and ran to her, saying, ²⁰ "Behold, the garden doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with you. Therefore consent to us, and lie with us. ²¹ If you will not, we will testify against you, that a young man was with you; therefore you sent your maids away from you."

²² Then Susanna sighed, and said, "I am trapped; for if I do this thing, it is death to me. If I don't do it, I can't escape your hands. ²³ It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord."

²⁴ With that Susanna cried with a loud voice; and the two elders cried out against her. ²⁵ Then one of them ran and opened the garden doors.

²⁶ So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the side door to see what had happened to her. ²⁷ But when the elders had told their tale, the servants were greatly ashamed; for there was never such a report made of Susanna.

²⁸ It came to pass on the next day, when the people assembled to her husband Joakim, the two elders came full of their wicked intent against Susanna to put her to death, ²⁹ and said before the people, "Send for Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, Joakim's wife." So they sent; ³⁰ and she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred. ³¹ Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and beautiful to behold. ³² These wicked men commanded her to be unveiled, for she was veiled, that they might be filled with her beauty. ³³ Therefore her friends and all who saw her wept. ³⁴ Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people and laid their hands upon her head. ³⁵ She, weeping, looked up toward heaven; for her heart trusted in the Lord.

³⁶ The elders said, "As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away. ³⁷ Then a young man who was hidden there came to her and lay with her. ³⁸ And we, being in a corner of the garden, saw this wickedness and ran to them. ³⁹ And when we saw them together, we couldn't hold the man; for he was stronger than we, and opened the doors, and leaped out. ⁴⁰ But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us. We testify these things.

⁴¹ Then the assembly believed them, as those who were elders of the people and judges; so they condemned her to death.

⁴² Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, "O everlasting God, you know the secrets, and know all things before they happen. ⁴³ You know that they have testified falsely against me. Behold, I must die, even though I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me."

⁴⁴ The Lord heard her voice. ⁴⁵ Therefore when she was led away to be put to death, God raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel. ⁴⁶ He cried with a loud voice, "I am clear from the blood of this woman!"

⁴⁷ Then all the people turned them toward him, and said, "What do these words that you have spoken mean?"

⁴⁸ So he, standing in the midst of them, said, "Are you all such fools, you sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth you have condemned a daughter of Israel? ⁴⁹ Return again to the place of judgment; for these have testified falsely against her."

⁵⁰ Therefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said to him, "Come, sit down among us, and show it to us, seeing God has given you the honor of an elder."

⁵¹ Then Daniel said to them, "Put them far apart from each another, and I will examine them." ⁵² So when they were put apart one from another, he called one of them, and said to him, "O you who have become old in wickedness, now your sins have returned which you have committed before, ⁵³ in pronouncing unjust judgment, condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; although the Lord says, 'You shall not kill the innocent and righteous.' ⁵⁴ Now then, if you saw her, tell me, under which tree did you see them companying together?"

He answered, "Under a mastick tree."

⁵⁵ And Daniel said, "You have certainly lied against your own head; for even now the angel of God has received the sentence of God and will cut you in two." ⁵⁶ So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said to him, "O you seed of Canaan, and not of Judah, beauty has deceived you, and lust has perverted your heart. ⁵⁷ Thus you have dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear were intimate with you; but the daughter of Judah would not tolerate your wickedness. ⁵⁸ Now therefore tell me, under which tree did you take them being intimate together?"

He answered, "Under an evergreen oak tree."

⁵⁹ Then Daniel said to him, "You have also certainly lied against your own head; for the angel of God waits with the sword to cut you in two, that he may destroy you."

⁶⁰ With that, all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and blessed God, who saves those who hope in him. ⁶¹ Then they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false testimony out of their own mouth. ⁶² According to the law of Moses they did to them what they maliciously intended to do to their neighbor. They put them to death, and the innocent blood was saved the same day. ⁶³ Therefore Helkias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joakim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her. ⁶⁴ And from that day forth, Daniel had a great reputation in the sight of the people.

⁴ The king honored it and went daily to worship it; but Daniel worshiped his own God. The king said to him, "Why don't you worship Bel?"

⁵ He said, "Because I may not honor idols made with hands, but only the living God, who has created the sky and the earth, and has sovereignty over all flesh."

⁶ Then the king said to him, "Don't you think that Bel is a living god? Don't you see how much he eats and drinks every day?"

⁷ Then Daniel laughed, and said, "O king, don't be deceived; for this is just clay inside, and brass outside, and never ate or drank anything."

⁸ So the king was angry, and called for his priests, and said to them, "If you don't tell me who this is who devours these expenses, you shall die. ⁹ But if you can show me that Bel devours them, then Daniel shall die; for he has spoken blasphemy against Bel."

Daniel said to the king, "Let it be according to your word."

¹⁰ Now there were seventy priests of Bel, besides their wives and children. The king went with Daniel into Bel's temple. ¹¹ So Bel's priests said, "Behold, we will leave; but you, O king, set out the food, and mix the wine and set it out, shut the door securely, and seal it with your own signet. ¹² When you come in the morning, if you don't find that Bel has eaten everything, we will suffer death, or else Daniel, who speaks falsely against us."

¹³ They weren't concerned, for under the table they had made a secret entrance, by which they entered in continually, and consumed those things.

¹⁴ It happened, when they had gone out, the king set the food before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and they scattered them all over the temple in the presence of the king alone. Then they went out, shut the door, sealed it with the king's signet, and so departed.

¹⁵ Now in the night, the priests came with their wives and children, as they usually did, and ate and drank it all. ¹⁶ In the morning, the king arose, and Daniel with him. ¹⁷ The king said, "Daniel, are the seals whole?"

He said, "Yes, O king, they are whole."

¹⁸ And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked at the table, and cried with a loud voice, "You are great, O Bel, and with you is no deceit at all!"

¹⁹ Then Daniel laughed, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, "Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps these are."

²³ In that same place there was a great dragon which the people of Babylon worshiped. ²⁴ The king said to Daniel, "Will you also say that this is of brass?"

* 14:1 Bel and the Dragon is translated from chapter 14 of Daniel in the Greek Septuagint. It is not found in the traditional Hebrew text of Daniel. Bel and the Dragon is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Russian Orthodox Churches. [†] 14:3 a firkin is about 41 liters or 11 gallons.

Behold, he lives, eats and drinks. You can't say that he is no living god. Therefore worship him."

²⁵ Then Daniel said, "I will worship the Lord my God; for he is a living God.

²⁶ But allow me, O king, and I will kill this dragon without sword or staff." The king said, "I allow you."

²⁷ Then Daniel took pitch, fat, and hair, and melted them together, and made lumps of them. He put these in the dragon's mouth, so the dragon ate and burst apart. Daniel said, "Behold, these are the gods you all worship."

²⁸ When the people of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, "The king has become a Jew. He has pulled down Bel, slain the dragon, and put the priests to the sword." ²⁹ So they came to the king, and said, "Deliver Daniel to us, or else we will destroy you and your house."

³⁰ Now when the king saw that they trapped him, being constrained, the king delivered Daniel to them. ³¹ They cast him into the lion's den, where he was six days. ³² There were seven lions in the den, and they had been giving them two carcasses and two sheep every day, which then were not given to them, intending that they would devour Daniel.

³³ Now there was in Jewry the prophet Habakkuk,[‡] who had made stew, and had broken bread into a bowl. He was going into the field to bring it to the reapers. ³⁴ But the angel of the Lord said to Habakkuk, "Go carry the dinner that you have into Babylon to Daniel, in the lions' den."

³⁵ Habakkuk said, "Lord, I never saw Babylon. I don't know where the den is."

³⁷ Habakkuk cried, saying, "O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner which God has sent you."

³⁸ Daniel said, "You have remembered me, O God! You haven't forsaken those who love you!" ³⁹ So Daniel arose and ate; and the angel of God set Habakkuk in his own place again immediately. ⁴⁰ On the seventh day, the king came to mourn for Daniel. When he came to the den, he looked in, and, behold, Daniel was sitting. ⁴¹ Then the king cried with a loud voice, saying, "Great are you, O Lord, you God of Daniel, and there is none other beside you!" ⁴² So he drew him out, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den; and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

The Wisdom of Solomon

The Wisdom of Solomon is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Russian Orthodox Churches.

1

- 1 Love righteousness, all you who are judges of the earth.
Think of the Lord* with a good mind.
Seek him in singleness of heart,
- 2 because he is found by those who don't put him to the test,
and is manifested to those who trust him.
- 3 for crooked thoughts separate from God.
His Power convicts when it is tested,
and exposes the foolish;
- 4 because wisdom will not enter into a soul that devises evil,
nor dwell in a body that is enslaved by sin.
- 5 For a holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit,
and will depart from thoughts that are without understanding,
and will be ashamed when unrighteousness has come in.
- 6 For† wisdom is a spirit who loves man,
and she will not hold a‡ blasphemer guiltless for his lips, because God is witness of his inmost self,
and is a true overseer of his heart,
and a hearer of his tongue.
- 7 Because the spirit of the Lord has filled§ the world,
and that which holds all things together knows what is said.
- 8 Therefore no one who utters unrighteous things will be unseen;
neither will Justice, when it convicts, pass him by.
- 9 For in his counsels the ungodly will be searched out, and the sound of his words will come to the Lord to bring his lawless deeds to conviction;
- 10 because a jealous ear listens to all things,
and the noise of murmurings is not hidden.
- 11 Beware then of unprofitable murmuring, and keep your tongue from slander;
because no secret utterance will go on its way void,
and a lying mouth destroys a soul.
- 12 Don't court death in the error of your life.
Don't draw destruction upon yourselves by the works of your hands;
13 because God didn't make death, neither does he delight when the living perish.
- 14 For he created all things that they might have being.
The generative powers of the world are wholesome,
and there is no poison of destruction in them,
nor has Hades* royal dominion upon earth;
- 15 for righteousness is immortal,

* 1:1 Gr. in goodness. † 1:6 Some authorities read the spirit of wisdom is loving to man. ‡ 1:6 Or, reviler § 1:7 Gr. the inhabited earth. * 1:14 Or, a royal house

16 but ungodly men by their hands and their words summon death;
 deeming him a friend they† pined away.
 They made a covenant with him, because they are worthy to belong with him.

2

1 For they said* within themselves, with unsound reasoning,
 “Our life is short and sorrowful.
 There is no healing when a man comes to his end,
 and no one was ever known who‡ was released from Hades.

2 Because we were born by mere chance, and hereafter we will be as though we had never been,
 because the breath in our nostrils is smoke,
 and reason is a spark kindled by the beating of our heart, 3 which being extinguished, the body will be turned into ashes,
 and the spirit will be dispersed as thin air.

4 Our name will be forgotten in time.
 No one will remember our works.
 Our life will pass away as the traces of a cloud,
 and will be scattered as is a mist,
 when it is chased by the rays of the sun,
 and§ overcome by its heat.

5 For our allotted time is the passing of a shadow, and our end doesn’t retreat,
 because it is securely sealed, and no one§ turns it back.

6 “Come therefore and let’s enjoy the good things that exist.
 Let’s use the creation earnestly as in our youth.

7 Let’s fill ourselves with costly wine and perfumes, and let no spring flower pass us by.

8 Let’s crown ourselves with rosebuds before they wither.

9 Let none of us go without his share in our proud revelry.
 Let’s leave tokens of mirth everywhere,
 because this is our portion, and this is our lot.

10 Let’s oppress the righteous poor.
 Let’s not spare the widow,
 nor regard the gray hair of the old man.

11 But let our strength be a law of righteousness;
 for that which is weak is proven useless.

12 But let’s lie in wait for the righteous man, because he annoys us,
 is contrary to our works,
 reproaches us with sins against the law,
 and charges us with sins against our training.

13 He professes to have knowledge of God, and calls himself a child of the Lord.

14 He became to us a reproof of our thoughts.

15 He is grievous to us even to look at,

† 1:16 Or, were consumed with love of him * 2:1 Or, among † 2:1 Or, returned out of Hades

‡ 2:4 Gr. weighed down. § 2:5 Or, comes again

- because his life is unlike other men's,
and his paths are strange.
- 16 We were regarded by him as something worthless,
and he abstains from our ways as from uncleanness.
He calls the latter end of the righteous happy.
He boasts that God is his father.
- 17 Let's see if his words are true.
Let's test what will happen at the end of his life.
- 18 For if the righteous man is God's son, he will uphold him, and he will deliver him out of the hand of his adversaries.
- 19 Let's test him with insult and torture, that we may find out how gentle he is,
and test his patience.
- 20 Let's condemn him to a shameful death,
for he will be protected, according to his words."
- 21 Thus they reasoned, and they were led astray;
for their wickedness blinded them,
- 22 and they didn't know the mysteries of God,
neither did they hope for wages of holiness,
nor did they discern that there is a prize for blameless souls.
- 23 Because God created man for incorruption, and made him an image of his own everlastingness;
- 24 but death entered into the world by the envy of the devil,
and those who belong to him experience it.

3

- 1 But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God,
and no torment will touch them.
- 2 In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died.
Their departure was considered a disaster,
3 and their travel away from us ruin,
but they are in peace.
- 4 For even if in the sight of men they are punished, their hope is full of immortality.
- 5 Having borne a little chastening, they will receive great good;
because God tested them, and found them worthy of himself.
- 6 He tested them like gold in the furnace, and he accepted them as a whole burnt offering.
- 7 In the time of their visitation they will shine.
They will run back and forth like sparks among stubble.
- 8 They will judge nations and have dominion over peoples.
The Lord will reign over them forever.
- 9 Those who trust him will understand truth.
The faithful will live with him in love,
because grace and mercy are with his chosen ones.
- 10 But the ungodly will be punished even as their reasoning deserves, those who neglected righteousness and revolted from the Lord;
11 for he who despises wisdom and discipline is miserable.
Their hope is void and their toils unprofitable.

Their works are useless.

¹² Their wives are foolish and their children are wicked.

¹³ Their descendants are cursed.

For the barren woman who is undefiled is happy,
she who has not conceived in transgression.

She will have fruit when God examines souls.

¹⁴ So is the eunuch which has done no lawless deed with his hands, nor imagined wicked things against the Lord;
for a precious gift will be given to him for his faithfulness,
and a delightful inheritance in the Lord's sanctuary.

¹⁵ For good labors have fruit of great renown.
The root of understanding can't fail.

¹⁶ But children of adulterers will not come to maturity.
The seed of an unlawful union will vanish away.

¹⁷ For if they live long, they will not be esteemed, and in the end, their old age will be without honor.

¹⁸ If they die young, they will have no hope,
nor consolation in the day of judgment.

¹⁹ For the end of an unrighteous generation is always grievous.

¹ It is better to be childless with virtue, for immortality is in the memory of virtue,
because it is recognized both before God and before men.

² When it is present, people imitate it.

They long after it when it has departed.

Throughout all time it marches, crowned in triumph, victorious in the competition for the prizes that are undefiled.

³ But the multiplying brood of the ungodly will be of no profit, and their illegitimate offshoots won't take deep root,
nor will they establish a sure hold.

⁴ For even if they grow branches and flourish for a season, standing unsure, they will be shaken by the wind.
They will be uprooted by the violence of winds.

⁵ Their branches will be broken off before they come to maturity.
Their fruit will be useless,
never ripe to eat, and fit for nothing.

⁶ For unlawfully conceived children are witnesses of wickedness against parents when they are investigated.

⁷ But a righteous man, even if he dies before his time, will be at rest.

⁸ For honorable old age is not that which stands in length of time, nor is its measure given by number of years,

⁹ but understanding is gray hair to men,
and an unspotted life is ripe old age.

¹⁰ Being found well-pleasing to God, someone was loved.
While living among sinners he was transported.

¹¹ He was caught away, lest evil should change his understanding, or guile deceive his soul.

¹² For the fascination of wickedness obscures the things which are good, and the whirl of desire perverts an innocent mind.

¹³ Being made perfect quickly,
he filled a long time;

¹⁴ for his soul was pleasing to the Lord.

Therefore he hurried out of the midst of wickedness.

¹⁵ But the peoples saw and didn't understand, not considering this, that grace and mercy are with his chosen,
and that he visits his holy ones;

¹⁶ but a righteous man who is dead will condemn the ungodly who are living, and youth who is quickly perfected will condemn the many years of an unrighteous man's old age.

¹⁷ For the ungodly will see a wise man's end,
and won't understand what the Lord planned for him,
and why he safely kept him.

¹⁸ They will see, and they will despise;
but the Lord will laugh them to scorn.

After this, they will become a dishonored carcass and a reproach among the dead forever;

¹⁹ because he will dash them speechless to the ground, and will shake them from the foundations.

They will lie utterly waste.

They will be in anguish and their memory will perish.

²⁰ They will come with coward fear when their sins are counted.
Their lawless deeds will convict them to their face.

¹ Then the righteous man will stand in great boldness before the face of those who afflicted him, and those who make his labors of no account.

² When they see him, they will be troubled with terrible fear, and will be amazed at the marvel of salvation.

³ They will speak among themselves repenting, and for distress of spirit they will groan,
"This was he whom we used to hold in derision,
as a parable of reproach.

⁴ We fools considered his life madness, and his end without honor.

⁵ How was he counted among sons of God?
How is his lot among saints?

⁶ Truly we went astray from the way of truth.
The light of righteousness didn't shine for us.
The sun didn't rise for us.

⁷ We* took our fill of the paths of lawlessness and destruction.
We traveled through trackless deserts,
but we didn't know the Lord's way.

⁸ What did our arrogance profit us?
What good have riches and boasting brought us?

* 5:7 See Proverbs 14:14.

- ⁹ Those things all passed away as a shadow,
 like a rumor that runs by,
¹⁰ like a ship passing through the billowy water, which, when it has gone by, there is no trace to be found,
 no pathway of its keel in the waves.
- ¹¹ Or it is like when a bird flies through the air,
 no evidence of its passage is found,
 but the light wind, lashed with the stroke of its pinions, and torn apart with the violent rush of the moving wings, is passed through.
 Afterwards no sign of its coming remains.
- ¹² Or it is like when an arrow is shot at a mark,
 the air it divided closes up again immediately, so that men don't know where it passed through.
- ¹³ So we also, as soon as we were born, ceased to be;
 and we had no sign of virtue to show,
 but we were utterly consumed in our wickedness."
- ¹⁴ Because the hope of the ungodly man is like chaff carried by the wind, and[†] as[‡] foam vanishing before a tempest;
 and is scattered like smoke by the wind, and passes by as the remembrance of a guest who stays just a day.
- ¹⁵ But the righteous live forever.
 Their reward is in the Lord,
 and the care for them with the Most High.
- ¹⁶ Therefore they will receive the crown of royal dignity and the diadem of beauty from the Lord's hand, because he will cover them with his right hand,
 and he will shield them with his arm.
- ¹⁷ He will take his zeal as complete armor, and will make the whole creation his weapons to punish his enemies:
- ¹⁸ He will put on righteousness as a breastplate, and will wear impartial judgment as a helmet.
- ¹⁹ He will take holiness as an invincible shield.
²⁰ He will sharpen stern wrath for a sword.
 The universe will go with him to fight against his frenzied foes.
- ²¹ Shafts of lightning will fly with true aim.
 They will leap to the mark from the clouds, as from a well-drawn bow.
- ²² Hailstones full of wrath will be hurled as from a catapult.
 The water of the sea will be angered against them.
 Rivers will sternly overwhelm them.
- ²³ A mighty wind will encounter them.
 It will winnow them away like a tempest.
 So lawlessness will make all the land desolate.
 Their evil-doing will overturn the thrones of princes.

6

- ¹ Hear therefore, you kings, and understand.
 Learn, you judges of the ends of the earth.

[†] 5:14 Gr. like foam chased to thinness: or, as thin foam chased.
 read hoar frost: some authorities, perhaps rightly, a spider's web.

[‡] 5:14 Most Greek authorities

- ² Give ear, you rulers who have dominion over many people,
and make your boast* in multitudes of nations,
³ because your dominion was given to you from the Lord,
and your sovereignty from the Most High.
He will search out your works,
and will inquire about your plans,
⁴ because being officers of his kingdom, you didn't judge rightly, nor did you keep the law,
nor did you walk according to God's counsel.
⁵ He will come upon you awfully and swiftly, because a stern judgment comes on those who are in high places.
⁶ For the man of low estate may be pardoned in mercy,
but mighty men will be mightily tested.
⁷ For the Sovereign Lord of all will not be impressed with anyone, neither will he show deference to greatness;
because it is he who made both small and great,
and cares about them all;
⁸ but the scrutiny that comes upon the powerful is strict.
⁹ Therefore, my words are to you, O princes, that you may learn wisdom and not fall away.
¹⁰ For those who have kept the things that are holy in holiness will be made holy.
Those who have been taught them will find what to say in defense.
¹¹ Therefore set your desire on my words.
Long for them, and you princes will be instructed.
- ¹² Wisdom is radiant and doesn't fade away;
and is easily seen by those who love her,
and found by those who seek her.
¹³ She anticipates those who desire her, making herself known.
¹⁴ He who rises up early to seek her won't have difficulty, for he will find her sitting at his gates.
¹⁵ For to think upon her is perfection of understanding, and he who watches for her will quickly be free from care;
¹⁶ because she herself goes around, seeking those who are worthy of her,
and in their paths she appears to them graciously,
and in every purpose she meets them.
¹⁷ For her true beginning is desire for instruction;
and desire for instruction is love.
¹⁸ And love is observance of her laws.
To give heed to her laws confirms immortality.
¹⁹ Immortality brings closeness to God.
²⁰ So then desire for wisdom promotes to a kingdom.
- ²¹ If therefore you delight in thrones and sceptres, you princes of peoples, honor wisdom, that you may reign forever.
²² But what wisdom is, and how she came into being, I will declare.
I won't hide mysteries from you;
but I will explore from her first beginning,

* 6:2 Or, in the multitudes of your nations bring the knowledge of her into clear light, and I will not pass by the truth.

- ²³ Indeed, I won't travel with consuming envy, because envy will have no fellowship with wisdom.
²⁴ But a multitude of wise men is salvation to the world,
and an understanding king is stability for his people.
²⁵ Therefore be instructed by my words, and you will profit.

7

- ¹ I myself am also* mortal, like everyone else,
and am a descendant of one formed first and born of the earth.
² I molded into flesh in the time of ten months in my mother's womb, being compacted in blood from the seed of man and pleasure of marriage.
³ I also, when I was born, drew in the common air, and fell upon the kindred earth,
uttering, like all, for my first voice, the same cry.
⁴ I was nursed with care in swaddling clothes.
⁵ For no king had a different beginning,
⁶ but all men have one entrance into life, and a common departure.
⁷ For this cause I prayed, and understanding was given to me.
I asked, and a spirit of wisdom came to me.
⁸ I preferred her before sceptres and thrones.
I considered riches nothing in comparison to her.
⁹ Neither did I liken to her any priceless gem, because all gold in her presence is a little sand,
and silver will be considered as clay before her.
¹⁰ I loved her more than health and beauty,
and I chose to have her rather than light,
because her bright shining is never laid to sleep.
¹¹ All good things came to me with her,
and innumerable riches are in her hands.
¹² And I rejoiced over them all because wisdom leads them;
although I didn't know that she was their mother.
¹³ As I learned without guile, I impart without grudging.
I don't hide her riches.
¹⁴ For she is a treasure for men that doesn't fail, and those who use it obtain friendship with God,
commended by the gifts which they present through discipline.
¹⁵ But may God grant that I may speak his judgment, and to conceive thoughts worthy of what has been given me;
because he is one who guides even wisdom and who corrects the wise.
¹⁶ For both we and our words are in his hand,
with all understanding and skill in various crafts.
¹⁷ For he himself gave me an unerring knowledge of the things that are,
to know the structure of the universe and the operation of the elements; ¹⁸ the beginning, end, and middle of times;
the alternations of the solstices and the changes of seasons;

* 7:1 Many authorities read a mortal man.

- 19 the circuits of years and the positions of stars;
 20 the natures of living creatures and the raging of wild beasts;
 the violence of[†] winds and the thoughts of men;
 the diversities of plants and the virtues of roots.
 21 All things that are either secret or manifest I learned,
 22 for wisdom, that is the architect of all things, taught me.

For there is in her a spirit that is quick to understand, holy, unique, manifold, subtle, freely moving, clear in utterance, unpolluted, distinct, invulnerable, loving what is good, keen, unhindered, 23 beneficent, loving toward man, steadfast, sure, free from care, all-powerful, all-surveying, and penetrating through all spirits that are quick to understand, pure, most subtle.

24 For wisdom is more mobile than any motion.
 Yes, she pervades and penetrates all things by reason of her purity.

25 For she is a breath of the power of God,
 and a pure emanation of the glory of the Almighty.

Therefore nothing defiled can find entrance into her.

26 For she is a reflection of everlasting light, an unspotted mirror of the working of God,
 and an image of his goodness.

27 Although she is one, she has power to do all things.
 Remaining in herself, she renews all things.

From generation to generation passing into holy souls,
 she makes friends of God and prophets.

28 For God loves nothing as much as one who dwells with wisdom.

29 For she is fairer than the sun,
 and above all the constellations of the stars.
 She is better than light.

30 For daylight yields to night,
 but evil does not prevail against wisdom.

8

1 But she reaches from one end to the other with full strength, and orders all things well.

2 I loved her and sought her from my youth.
 I sought to take her for my bride.
 I became enamoured by her beauty.

3 She glorifies her noble birth by living with God.
 The Sovereign Lord of all loves her.

4 For she is initiated into the knowledge of God,
 and she chooses his works.

5 But if riches are a desired possession in life,
 what is richer than wisdom, which makes all things?

6 And if understanding is effective, who more than^{*} wisdom is an architect of the things that exist?

7 If a man loves righteousness,

[†] 7:20 Or, spirits ^{*} 8:6 Gr. she.

the fruits of wisdom's labor[†] are virtues,
for she teaches soberness, understanding, righteousness, and courage.
There is nothing in life more profitable for people than these.

- 8 And if anyone longs for wide experience,
she knows the things of old, and infers the things to come.
She understands subtleties of speeches and interpretations of dark sayings.
She foresees signs and wonders, and the issues of seasons and times.

- 9 Therefore I determined to take her to live with me, knowing that she is one who would give me good counsel,
and encourage me in cares and grief.
- 10 Because of her, I will have glory among multitudes, and honor in the sight of elders, though I am young.
- 11 I will be found keen when I give judgment.
I will be admired in the presence of rulers.
- 12 When I am silent, they will wait for me.
When I open my lips, they will heed what I say.
If I continue speaking, they will put their hands on their mouths.
- 13 Because of her, I will have immortality, and leave behind an eternal memory to those who come after me.
- 14 I will govern peoples.
Nations will be subjected to me.
- 15 Dreaded monarchs will fear me when they hear of me.
Among the people, I will show myself to be good, and courageous in war.
- 16 When I come into my house, I will find rest with her.
For conversation with her has no bitterness, and living with her has no pain, but gladness and joy.
- 17 When I considered these things in myself, and thought in my heart how immortality is in kinship to wisdom,
- 18 and in her friendship is good delight,
and in the labors of her hands is wealth that doesn't fail,
and understanding is in her companionship,
and great renown in having fellowship with her words,
I went about seeking how to take her to myself.
- 19 Now I was a clever child, and received a good soul.
20 Or rather, being good, I came into an undefiled body.
- 21 But perceiving that I could not otherwise possess wisdom unless God gave her to me—
yes, and to know and understand by whom the grace is given—
I pleaded with the Lord and implored him, and with my whole heart I said:

9

- 1 "O God of my ancestors and Lord of mercy,
who made all things by your word;
2 and by your wisdom you formed man, that he should have dominion over the creatures that were made by you, 3 and rule the world in holiness and righteousness, and execute judgment in uprightness of soul,

[†] 8:7 Gr. her labors

- ⁴ give me wisdom, her who sits by you on your thrones.
 Don't reject me from among your^{*} servants,
⁵ because I am your servant and the son of your handmaid,
 a weak and short-lived man,
 with little power to understand judgment and laws.
⁶ For even if a man is perfect among the sons of men, if the wisdom that comes from you is not with him, he will count for nothing.
⁷ You chose me to be king of your people,
 and a judge for your sons and daughters.
⁸ You gave a command to build a sanctuary on your holy mountain, and[†] an altar in the city where you live,
 a copy of the holy tent which you prepared from the beginning.
⁹ Wisdom is with you and knows your works,
 and was present when you were making the world,
 and understands what is pleasing in your eyes,
 and what is right according to your commandments.
¹⁰ Send her from the holy heavens, and ask her to come from the throne of your glory,
 that being present with me she may work,
 and I may learn what pleases you well.
¹¹ For she knows all things and understands,
 and she will guide me prudently in my actions.
 She will guard me in her glory.
¹² So my works will be acceptable.
 I will judge your people righteously,
 and I will be worthy of my father's[‡] throne.
¹³ For what man will know the counsel of God?
 Or who will conceive what the Lord wills?
¹⁴ For the thoughts of mortals are unstable, and our plans are prone to fail.
¹⁵ For a corruptible body weighs down the soul.
 The earthy tent burdens a mind that is full of cares.
¹⁶ We can hardly guess the things that are on earth, and we find the things that are close at hand with labor;
 but who has traced out the things that are in the heavens?
¹⁷ Who gained knowledge of your counsel, unless you gave wisdom, and sent your holy spirit from on high?
¹⁸ It was thus that the ways of those who are on earth were corrected, and men were taught the things that are pleasing to you.
 They were saved through wisdom."

- ¹ Wisdom^{*} guarded to the end the first formed father of the world, who was created alone,
 and delivered him out of his own transgression,
² and gave him strength to rule over all things.
³ But when an unrighteous man fell away from her in his anger, ^{} 9:4 Or, children [†] 9:8 Or, a place of sacrifice [‡] 9:12 Gr. thrones. ^{} 10:1 Gr. She.

he perished himself in the rage with which he killed his brother.

4 When for his cause the earth was drowning with a flood, wisdom again saved it,
guiding the righteous man's course by a paltry piece of wood.

5 Moreover, when nations consenting together in wickedness had been confounded,
wisdom[†] knew the righteous man, and preserved him blameless to God, and kept him strong when his heart yearned toward his child.

6 While the ungodly were perishing, wisdom[‡] delivered a righteous man, when he fled from the fire that descended out of heaven on the five cities.

7 To whose wickedness a smoking waste still witnesses, and plants bearing fair fruit that doesn't ripen,
a disbelieving soul has a memorial: a standing pillar of salt.

8 For having passed wisdom by, not only were they disabled from recognising the things which are good,
but they also left behind them for their life a monument of their folly, to the end that where they stumbled, they might fail even to be unseen;

9 but wisdom delivered those who waited on her out of troubles.

10 When a righteous man was a fugitive from a brother's wrath,[§] wisdom guided him in straight paths.

She showed him God's kingdom, and gave him knowledge of holy things.
She prospered him in his toils, and multiplied the fruits of his labor.

11 When in their covetousness men dealt harshly with him, she stood by him and made him rich.

12 She guarded him from enemies, and she kept him safe from those who lay in wait.
Over his severe conflict, she watched as judge, that he might know that godliness is more powerful than every one.

13 When a righteous man was sold,^{*} wisdom didn't forsake him, but she delivered him from sin.

She went down with him into a dungeon,

14 and in bonds she didn't depart from him, until she brought him the sceptre of a kingdom,
and authority over those that dealt like a tyrant with him.
She also showed those who had mockingly accused him to be false, and gave him eternal glory.

15 Wisdom[†] delivered a holy people and a blameless seed from a nation of oppressors.

16 She entered into the soul of a servant of the Lord, and withstood terrible kings in wonders and signs.

17 She rendered to holy men a reward of their toils.
She guided them along a marvelous way,
and became to them a covering in the day-time,

† 10:5 Gr. she ‡ 10:6 Gr. she § 10:10 Gr. she. * 10:13 Gr. she. † 10:15 Gr. she.

- and a starry flame through the night.
18 She brought them over the Red sea,
and led them through much water;
19 but she drowned their enemies, and she cast them up from the bottom of the deep.
20 Therefore the righteous plundered the ungodly, and they sang praise to your holy name, O Lord,
and extolled with one accord your hand that fought for them, 21 because wisdom opened the mouth of the mute,
and made the tongues of babes to speak clearly.

11

- 1 Wisdom prospered their works in the hand of a holy prophet.
2 They traveled through a desert without inhabitant, and they pitched their tents in trackless regions.
3 They withstood enemies and repelled foes.
4 They thirsted, and they called upon you,
and water was given to them out of the * flinty rock,
and healing of their thirst out of the hard stone.
5 For by what things their foes were punished,
by these they in their need were benefited.
6 When enemies were troubled with clotted blood instead of a river's ever-flowing fountain, 7 to rebuke the decree for the slaying of babies,
you gave them abundant water beyond all hope, 8 having shown by the thirst which they had suffered how you punished the adversaries.
9 For when they were tried, although chastened in mercy, they learned how the ungodly were tormented, being judged with wrath.
10 For you tested these as a father admonishing them;
but you searched out those as a stern king condemning them.
11 Yes and whether they were far off or near,
they were equally distressed;
12 for a double grief seized them,
and a groaning at the memory of things past.
13 For when they heard that through their own punishments the others benefited,
they recognized the Lord.
14 For him who long before was thrown out and exposed they stopped mocking.
In the end of what happened, they marveled,
having thirsted in another manner than the righteous.
15 But in return for the senseless imaginings of their unrighteousness, wherein they were led astray to worship irrational reptiles and wretched vermin,
you sent upon them a multitude of irrational creatures to punish them,

* 11:4 See Deuteronomy 8:15; Psalms 114:8.

- ¹⁶ that they might learn that by what things a man sins, by these he is punished.
- ¹⁷ For your all-powerful hand that created the world out of formless matter didn't lack means to send upon them a multitude of bears, fierce lions, ¹⁸ or newly-created and unknown wild beasts, full of rage, either breathing out a blast of fiery breath,
or belching out smoke,
or flashing dreadful sparks from their eyes;
- ¹⁹ which had power not only to consume them by their violence,
but to destroy them even by the terror of their sight.
- ²⁰ Yes and without these they might have fallen by a single breath, being pursued by Justice, and scattered abroad by the breath of your power;
but you arranged all things by measure, number, and weight.
- ²¹ For to be greatly strong is yours at all times.
Who could withstand the might of your arm?
- ²² Because the whole world before you is as a grain in a balance, and as a drop of dew that comes down upon the earth in the morning.
- ²³ But you have mercy on all men, because you have power to do all things, and you overlook the sins of men to the end that they may repent.
- ²⁴ For you love all things that are,
and abhor none of the things which you made;
For you never would have formed anything if you hated it.
- ²⁵ How would anything have endured unless you had willed it?
Or that which was not called by you, how would it have been preserved?
- ²⁶ But you spare all things, because they are yours,
O Sovereign Lord, you who love the living.

12

- ¹ For your incorruptible spirit is in all things.
- ² Therefore you convict little by little those who fall from the right way, and, putting them in remembrance by the things wherein they sin, you admonish them,
that escaping from their wickedness they may believe in you, O Lord.
- ³ For truly the old inhabitants of your holy land,
⁴ hating them because they practiced detestable works of enchantments and unholy rites—
⁵ merciless slaughters of children and sacrificial banquets of men's flesh and of blood—⁶ allies in an impious fellowship, and murderers of their own helpless babes,
it was your counsel to destroy by the hands of our fathers;
⁷ that the land which in your sight is most precious of all might receive a worthy colony of God's servants.*
- ⁸ Nevertheless you even spared these as men,
and you sent hornets† as forerunners of your army,

* 12:7 Or, children † 12:8 Or, wasps to cause them to perish little by little.

⁹ Not that you were unable to subdue the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battle, or by terrible beasts or by a stern word to make away with them at once,

¹⁰ but judging them little by little you gave them a chance to repent, not being ignorant that their nature by birth was evil,

their wickedness inborn,

and that their manner of thought would never be changed.

¹¹ For they were a cursed seed from the beginning.

It wasn't through fear of any that you left them unpunished for their sins.

¹² For who will say, "What have you done?"

Or "Who will withstand your judgment?"

Who will accuse you for the perishing of nations which you caused?

Or who will come and stand before you as an avenger for unrighteous men?

¹³ For there isn't any God beside you that cares for all, that you might show that you didn't judge unrighteously.

¹⁴ No king or prince will be able to confront you about those whom you have punished.

¹⁵ But being righteous, you rule all things righteously, deeming it a thing alien from your power to condemn one who doesn't deserve to be punished.

¹⁶ For your strength is the source of righteousness, and your sovereignty over all makes you to forbear all.

¹⁷ For when men don't believe that you are perfect in power, you show your strength, and in dealing with those who think this, you confuse their boldness.

¹⁸ But you, being sovereign in strength, judge in gentleness, and with great forbearance you govern us;

for the power is yours whenever you desire it.

¹⁹ But you taught your people by such works as these,

how the righteous must be kind.

You made your sons to have good hope,

because you give repentance when men have sinned.

²⁰ For if on those who were enemies of your servants[‡] and deserving of death, you took vengeance with so great deliberation and indulgence, giving them times and opportunities when they might escape from their wickedness,

²¹ with how great care you judged your sons, to whose fathers you gave oaths and covenants of good promises!

²² Therefore while you chasten us, you scourge our enemies ten thousand times more, to the intent that we may ponder your goodness when we judge,

and when we are judged may look for mercy.

²³ Therefore also the unrighteous that lived in a life of folly, you tormented through their own abominations.

²⁴ For truly they went astray very far in the ways of error,

[‡] 12:20 Or, children

Taking as gods those animals[§] which even among their enemies were held in dishonor, deceived like foolish babes.

²⁵ Therefore, as to unreasoning children, you sent your judgment to mock them.

²⁶ But those who would not be admonished by mild correction will experience the deserved judgment of God.

²⁷ For through the sufferings they were indignant of, being punished in these creatures which they supposed to be gods, they saw and recognized as the true God him whom they previously refused to know.

Therefore also the result of extreme condemnation came upon them.

¹ For truly all men who had no perception of God were foolish by nature, and didn't gain power to know him who exists from the good things that are seen.

They didn't recognize the architect from his works.

² But they thought that either fire, or wind, or swift air, or circling stars, or raging water, or luminaries of heaven were gods that rule the world.

³ If it was through delight in their beauty that they took them to be gods, let them know how much better their Sovereign Lord is than these, for the first author of beauty created them.

⁴ But if it was through astonishment at their power and influence, then let them understand from them how much more powerful he who formed them is.

⁵ For from the greatness of the beauty of created things, mankind forms the corresponding perception of their Maker.*

⁶ But yet for these men there is but small blame, for they too perhaps go astray while they are seeking God and desiring to find him.

⁷ For they diligently search while living among his works, and they trust their sight that the things that they look at are beautiful.

⁸ But again even they are not to be excused.

⁹ For if they had power to know so much, that they should be able to explore the world, how is it that they didn't find the Sovereign Lord sooner?

¹⁰ But they were miserable, and their hopes were in dead things, who called them gods which are works of men's hands, gold and silver, skillfully made, and likenesses of animals, or a useless stone, the work of an ancient hand.

¹¹ Yes and some† woodcutter might saw down a tree that is easily moved, skillfully strip away all its bark, and fashion it in attractive form, make a useful vessel to serve his life's needs.

¹² Burning the scraps from his handiwork to cook his food,

§ 12:24 Gr. living creatures: and so elsewhere in this book. * 13:5 Gr. is the first maker of them seen. † 13:11 Gr. carpenter who is a woodcutter.

he eats his fill.

- ¹³ Taking a discarded scrap which served no purpose,
a crooked piece of wood and full of knots,
he carves it with the diligence of his idleness,
and shapes it by the skill of his idleness.

He shapes it in the image of a man,

¹⁴ or makes it like some worthless animal, smearing it with something red, painting it red,
and smearing over every stain in it.

- ¹⁵ Having made a worthy chamber for it,
he sets it in a wall, securing it with iron.

- ¹⁶ He plans for it that it may not fall down,
knowing that it is unable to help itself (for truly it is an image, and needs help).

- ¹⁷ When he makes his prayer concerning goods and his marriage and children,

he is not ashamed to speak to that which has no life.

- ¹⁸ Yes, for health, he calls upon that which is weak.

For life, he implores that which is dead.

For aid, he supplicates that which has no experience.

For a good journey, he asks that which can't so much as move a step.

- ¹⁹ And for profit in business and good success of his hands,
he asks ability from that which has hands with no ability.

14

- ¹ Again, one preparing to sail, and about to journey over raging waves, calls upon a piece of wood more fragile than the vessel that carries him.

- ² For the hunger for profit planned it,
and wisdom was the craftsman who built it.

- ³ Your providence, O Father, guides it along, because even in the sea you gave a way,
and in the waves a sure path,

- ⁴ showing that you can save out of every danger,
that even a man without skill may put to sea.

- ⁵ It is your will that the works of your wisdom should not be ineffective.
Therefore men also entrust their lives to a little piece of wood, and passing through the surge on a raft come safely to land.

- ⁶ For* in the old time also, when proud giants were perishing,
the hope of the world, taking refuge on a raft, your hand guided the seed of generations of the race of men.

- ⁷ For blessed is wood through which comes righteousness;

⁸ but the idol made with hands is accursed, itself and he that made it;
because his was the working, and the corruptible thing was called a god.

- ⁹ For both the ungodly and his ungodliness are alike hateful to God;

¹⁰ for truly the deed will be punished together with him who committed it.

¹¹ Therefore also there will be a visitation among the idols of the nation, because, though formed of things which God created, they were made an abomination,

* 14:6 The Greek text here may be corrupt.

stumbling blocks to the souls of men,
and a snare to the feet of the foolish.

- ¹² For the devising of idols was the beginning of fornication, and the invention of them the corruption of life.
- ¹³ For they didn't exist from the beginning, and they won't exist forever.
- ¹⁴ For by the boastfulness of men they entered into the world,
and therefore a speedy end was planned for them.
- ¹⁵ For a father worn with untimely grief, making an image of the child quickly taken away,
now honored him as a god which was then a dead human being,
and delivered to those that were under him mysteries and solemn rites.
- ¹⁶ Afterward the ungodly custom, in process of time grown strong, was kept as a law,
and the engraved images received worship by the commandments of princes.
- ¹⁷ And when men could not honor them in presence because they lived far off,
imagining the likeness from afar,
they made a visible image of the king whom they honored, that by their zeal they might flatter the absent as if present.
- ¹⁸ But worship was raised to a yet higher pitch, even by those who didn't know him,
urged forward by the ambition of the architect;
- ¹⁹ for he, wishing perhaps to please his ruler, used his art to force the likeness toward a greater beauty.
- ²⁰ So the multitude, allured by reason of the grace of his handiwork, now consider an object of devotion him that a little before was honored as a man.
- ²¹ And this became an ambush, because men, in bondage either to calamity or to tyranny, invested stones and stocks with the Name that shouldn't be shared.
- ²² Afterward it was not enough for them to go astray concerning the knowledge of God,
but also, while they live in a great war of ignorance, they call a multitude of evils peace.
- ²³ For either slaughtering children in solemn rites, or celebrating secret mysteries,
or holding frenzied revels of strange customs,
- ²⁴ no longer do they guard either life or purity of marriage, but one brings upon another either death by treachery, or anguish by adultery.
- ²⁵ And all things confusedly are filled with blood and murder, theft and deceit,
corruption, faithlessness, tumult, perjury,
- ²⁶ confusion about what is good, forgetfulness of favors, ingratitude for benefits,
defiling of souls, confusion of sex, disorder in marriage, adultery and wantonness.

- 27 For the worship of idols that may not be named [☆] is a beginning and cause and end of every evil.
- 28 For their worshipers either make merry to madness, or prophesy lies, or live unrighteously, or lightly commit perjury.
- 29 For putting their trust in lifeless idols, when they have sworn a wicked oath, they expect not to suffer harm.
- 30 But on both counts, the just doom will pursue them, because they had evil thoughts of God by giving heed to idols, and swore unrighteously in deceit through contempt for holiness.
- 31 For it is not the power of things by which men swear, but it is the just penalty for those who sin that always visits the transgression of the unrighteous.

- 1 But you, our God, are gracious and true, patient, and in mercy ordering all things.
- 2 For even if we sin, we are yours, knowing your dominion; but we will not sin, knowing that we have been accounted yours.
- 3 For to be acquainted with you is ^{*} perfect righteousness, and to know your dominion is the root of immortality.
- 4 For we weren't led astray by any evil plan of men's, nor yet by painters' fruitless labor, a form stained with varied colors, ⁵ the sight of which leads fools into [†] lust. Their desire is for the breathless form of a dead image.
- 6 Lovers of evil things, and worthy of such hopes, are those who make, desire, and worship them.
- 7 For a potter, kneading soft earth, laboriously molds each article for our service. He fashions out of the same clay both the vessels that minister to clean uses, and those of a contrary sort, all in like manner. What shall be the use of each article of either sort, the potter is the judge.
- 8 Also, laboring to an evil end, he molds a vain god out of the same clay, he who, having but a little before been made of earth, after a short space goes his way to the earth out of which he was taken, when he is required to render back the [‡] soul which was lent him.
- 9 However he has anxious care, not because his powers must fail, nor because his span of life is short; But he compares himself with goldsmiths and silversmiths, and he imitates molders in [§] brass, and considers it great that he molds counterfeit gods.
- 10 His heart is ashes. His hope is of less value than earth.

[☆] 14:27 Exodus 23:13; Psalms 16:4; Hosea 2:17; Wisdom 14:21 ^{*} 15:3 Gr. entire. [†] 15:5 Some authorities read reproach. [‡] 15:8 Or, life [§] 15:9 Or, copper

- His life is of less honor than clay, 11 because he was ignorant of him who molded him,
 and of him that inspired into him* an active† soul,
 and breathed into him a vital spirit.
 12 But‡ he accounted our life to be a game,
 and our§ lifetime a festival for profit;
 for, he says, one must get gain however one can, even if it is by evil.
 13 For this man, beyond all others, knows that he sins, out of earthy matter making brittle vessels and engraved images.
 14 But most foolish and more miserable than a baby,
 are the enemies of your people, who oppressed them;
 15 because they even considered all the idols of the nations to be gods, which have neither the use of eyes for seeing,
 nor nostrils for drawing breath,
 nor ears to hear,
 nor fingers for handling,
 and their feet are helpless for walking.
 16 For a man made them,
 and one whose own spirit is borrowed molded them;
 for no one has power as a man to mold a god like himself.
 17 But, being mortal, he makes a dead thing by the work of lawless hands;
 for he is better than the objects of his worship,
 since he indeed had life, but they never did.
 18 Yes, and they worship the creatures that are most hateful, for, being compared as to lack of sense, these are worse than all others;
 19 Neither, as seen beside other creatures, are they beautiful, so that one should desire them, but they have escaped both the praise of God and his blessing.

16

- 1 For this cause, they were deservedly punished through creatures like those which they worship,
 and tormented through a multitude of vermin.
 2 Instead of this punishment, you, giving benefits to your people, prepared quails for food,
 a delicacy to satisfy the desire of their appetite,
 3 to the end that your enemies, desiring food, might for the hideousness of the creatures sent among them, loathe even the necessary appetite;
 but these, your people, having for a short time suffered lack,
 might even partake of delicacies.
 4 For it was necessary that inescapable lack should come upon those oppressors,
 but that to these it should only be showed how their enemies were tormented.
 5 For even when terrible raging of wild beasts came upon your people,
 and they were perishing by the bites of crooked serpents,

* 15:11 Gr. a soul that moves to activity. † 15:11 Or, life ‡ 15:12 Some authorities read they accounted. § 15:12 Or, way of life

- your wrath didn't continue to the uttermost;
6 but for admonition were they troubled for a short time, having a token of salvation to put them in remembrance of the commandment of your law;
- 7 for he who turned toward it was not saved because of that which was seen,
but because of you, the Savior of all.
- 8 Yes, and in this you persuaded our enemies that you are he who delivers out of every evil.
- 9 For the bites of locusts and flies truly killed them.
No healing for their life was found,
because they were worthy to be punished by such things.
- 10 But your children weren't overcome by the very fangs of venomous dragons,
for your mercy passed by where they were and healed them.
- 11 For they were bitten to put them in remembrance of your oracles, and were quickly saved, lest, falling into deep forgetfulness, they should become unable to respond to your kindness.
- 12 For truly it was neither herb nor poultice that cured them,
but your word, O Lord, which heals all people.
- 13 For you have authority over life and death, and you lead down to the gates of Hades, and lead up again.
- 14 But though a man kills by his wickedness,
he can't retrieve the spirit that has departed or release the imprisoned soul.
- 15 But it is not possible to escape your hand;
- 16 for ungodly men, refusing to know you, were scourged in the strength of your arm,
pursued with strange rains and hails and relentless storms,
and utterly consumed with fire.
- 17 For, what was most marvelous, in the water which quenches all things, the fire burned hotter;
for the world fights for the righteous.
- 18 For at one time the flame was restrained, that it might not burn up the creatures sent against the ungodly, but that these themselves as they looked might see that they were chased by the judgment of God.
- 19 At another time even in the midst of water it burns more intensely than fire,
that it may destroy the produce of an unrighteous land.
- 20 Instead of these things, you gave your people angels' food to eat, and you provided ready-to-eat bread for them from heaven without toil, having the virtue of every pleasant flavor,
and agreeable to every taste.
- 21 For your nature showed your sweetness toward your children, while that bread, serving the desire of the eater, changed itself according to every man's choice.
- 22 But snow and ice endured fire, and didn't melt, that people might know that fire was destroying the fruits of the enemies,

- burning in the hail and flashing in the rains;
23 and that this fire, again, in order that righteous people may be nourished, has even forgotten its own power.
24 For the creation, ministering to you, its maker, strains its force against the unrighteous for punishment and in kindness, slackens it on behalf of those who trust in you.
25 Therefore at that time also, converting itself into all forms, it ministered to your all-nourishing bounty,
according to the desire of those who had need, 26 that your children, whom you loved, O Lord, might learn that it is not the growth of crops that nourishes a man, but that your word preserves those who trust you.
27 For that which was not destroyed by fire, melted away when it was simply warmed by a faint sunbeam, 28 that it might be known that we must rise before the sun to give you thanks, and must pray to you at the dawning of the light; 29 for the hope of the unthankful will melt as the winter's hoar frost, and will flow away as water that has no use.

17

- 1 For your judgments are great, and hard to interpret;
therefore undisciplined souls went astray.
2 For when lawless men had supposed that they held a holy nation in their power,
they, prisoners of darkness, and bound in the fetters of a long night,
kept close beneath their roofs,
lay exiled from the eternal providence.
3 For while they thought that they were unseen in their secret sins, they were divided from one another by a dark curtain of forgetfulness, stricken with terrible awe, and very troubled by apparitions.
4 For neither did the dark recesses that held them guard them from fears, but terrifying sounds rang around them,
and dismal phantoms appeared with unsmiling faces.
5 And no power of fire prevailed to give light, neither were the brightest flames of the stars strong enough to illuminate that gloomy night;
6 but only the glimmering of a self-kindled fire appeared to them, full of fear.
In terror, they considered the things which they saw to be worse than that sight, on which they could not gaze.
7 The mockeries of their magic arts were powerless, now,
and a shameful rebuke of their boasted understanding:
8 For those who promised to drive away terrors and disorders from a sick soul,
these were sick with a ludicrous fearfulness.
9 For even if no troubling thing frightened them, yet, scared with the creeping of vermin and hissing of serpents, 10 they perished trembling in fear, refusing even to look at the air, which could not be escaped on any side.
11 For wickedness, condemned by a witness within, is a coward thing, and, being pressed hard by conscience, always has added forecasts of the worst.

¹² For fear is nothing else but a surrender of the help which reason offers;

¹³ and from within, the expectation of being less prefers ignorance of the cause that brings the torment.

¹⁴ But they, all through the night which was powerless indeed, and which came upon them out of the recesses of powerless Hades, sleeping the same sleep,

¹⁵ now were haunted by monstrous apparitions, and now were paralyzed by their soul's surrendering; for sudden and unexpected fear came upon them.

¹⁶ So then whoever it might be, sinking down in his place, was kept captive, shut up in that prison which was not barred with iron;

¹⁷ for whether he was a farmer, or a shepherd, or a laborer whose toils were in the wilderness, he was overtaken, and endured that inescapable sentence; for they were all bound with one chain of darkness.

¹⁸ Whether there was a whistling wind, or a melodious sound of birds among the spreading branches, or a measured fall of water running violently,

²⁰ For the whole world was illuminated with clear light, and was occupied with unhindered works,

²¹ while over them alone was spread a heavy night, an image of the darkness that should afterward receive them; but to themselves, they were heavier than darkness.

¹ But for your holy ones there was great light.

Their enemies, hearing their voice but not seeing their form, counted it a happy thing that they too had suffered,

² yet for that they do not hurt them, though wronged by them before, they are thankful; and because they had been at variance with them, they begged for pardon.

³ Therefore you provided a burning pillar of fire, to be a guide for your people's unknown journey, and a harmless sun for their glorious exile.

⁴ For the Egyptians well deserved to be deprived of light and imprisoned by darkness, they who had imprisoned your children, through whom the incorruptible light of the law was to be given to the race of men.

⁵ After they had taken counsel to kill the babes of the holy ones,

- and when a single child had been abandoned and saved to convict them of their sin,
you took away from them their multitude of children,
and destroyed all their army together in a mighty flood.
- ⁶ Our fathers were made aware of that night beforehand, that, having sure knowledge, they might be cheered by the oaths which they had trusted.
- ⁷ Salvation of the righteous and destruction of the enemies was expected by your people.
- ⁸ For as you took vengeance on the adversaries, by the same means, calling us to yourself, you glorified us.
- ⁹ For holy children of good men offered sacrifice in secret, and with one consent they agreed to the covenant of the divine law, that they would partake alike in the same good things and the same perils,
the fathers already leading the sacred songs of praise.
- ¹⁰ But the discordant cry of the enemies echoed back,
and a pitiful voice of lamentation for children was spread abroad.
- ¹¹ Both servant and master were punished with the same just doom, and the commoner suffering the same as king;
- ¹² Yes, they all together, under one form of death,
had corpses without number.
- For the living were not sufficient even to bury them,
Since at a single stroke, their most cherished offspring was consumed.
- ¹³ For while they were disbelieving all things by reason of the enchantments, upon the destruction of the firstborn they confessed the people to be God's children.
- ¹⁴ For while peaceful silence wrapped all things, and night in her own swiftness was half spent,
- ¹⁵ your all-powerful word leaped from heaven, from the royal throne,
a stern warrior, into the midst of the doomed land,
- ¹⁶ bearing as a sharp sword your authentic commandment,
and standing, it filled all things with death,
and while it touched the heaven it stood upon the earth.
- ¹⁷ Then immediately apparitions in dreams terribly troubled them,
and unexpected fears came upon them.
- ¹⁸ And each, one thrown here half dead, another there,
made known why he was dying;
- ¹⁹ for the dreams, disturbing them, forewarned them of this,
that they might not perish without knowing why they were afflicted.
- ²⁰ The experience of death also touched the righteous, and a multitude were destroyed in the wilderness,
but the wrath didn't last long.
- ²¹ For a blameless man hurried to be their champion, bringing the weapon of his own ministry,
prayer, and the atoning sacrifice of incense.
He withstood the indignation and set an end to the calamity, showing that he was your servant.
- ²² And he overcame the anger,

not by strength of body, not by force of weapons,
but by his word, he subdued the avenger
by bringing to remembrance oaths and covenants made with the fathers.

²³ For when the dead had already fallen in heaps one upon another, he intervened and stopped the wrath,
and cut off its way to the living.

²⁴ For the whole world was pictured on his long robe, and the glories of the fathers were upon the engraving of the four rows of precious stones,
and your majesty was upon the diadem on his head.

²⁵ The destroyer yielded to these, and they feared;
for it was enough only to test the wrath.

¹ But indignation without mercy came upon the ungodly to the end;
for God also foreknew their future,

² how, having changed their minds to let your people go,
and having sped them eagerly on their way,
they would change their minds and pursue them.

³ For while they were yet in the midst of their mourning, and lamenting at the graves of the dead,
they made another foolish decision, and pursued as fugitives those whom they had begged to leave and driven out.

⁴ For the doom which they deserved was drawing them to this end, and it made them forget the things that had happened to them, that they might fill up the punishment which was yet lacking from their torments,
⁵ and that your people might journey on by a marvelous road,
but they themselves might find a strange death.

⁶ For the whole creation, each part in its diverse kind, was made new again, complying with your commandments,
that your servants might be kept unharmed.

⁷ Then the cloud that overshadowed the camp was seen,
and dry land rising up out of what had been water,
out of the Red sea an unhindered highway,
and a grassy plain out of the violent surge, ⁸ by which they passed over with all their army,
these who were covered with your hand,
having seen strange marvels.

⁹ For like horses they roamed at large,
and they skipped about like lambs, praising you, O Lord, who was their deliverer.

¹⁰ For they still remembered the things that happened in the time of their sojourning,
how instead of bearing cattle, the land brought forth lice,
and instead of fish, the river spewed out a multitude of frogs.

¹¹ But afterwards, they also saw a new kind of birds,

- when, led on by desire, they asked for luxurious dainties;
12 for, to comfort them, quails came up for them from the sea.
- 13 Punishments came upon the sinners, not without the signs that were given beforehand by the violence of the thunder,
for they justly suffered through their own wickednesses, for the hatred which they practiced toward guests was grievous indeed.
- 14 For while the others didn't receive the strangers when they came to them, the Egyptians made slaves of guests who were their benefactors.
- 15 And not only so, but while punishment of some sort will come upon the former,
since they received as enemies those who were aliens;
16 because these first welcomed with feastings, and then afflicted with dreadful toils,
those who had already shared with them in the same rights.
- 17 And moreover they were stricken with loss of sight (even as were those others at the righteous man's doors), when, being surrounded with yawning darkness,
they each looked for the passage through his own door.
- 18 For as the notes of a lute vary the character of the rhythm, even so the elements, changing their order one with another, continuing always in its sound, as may clearly be conjectured from the sight of the things that have happened.
- 19 For creatures of the dry land were turned into creatures of the waters, and creatures that swim moved upon the land.
- 20 Fire kept the mastery of its own power in water,
and water forgot its quenching nature.
- 21 On the contrary, flames didn't consume flesh of perishable creatures that walked among them, neither did they melt the crystalline grains of ambrosial food that were melted easily.
- 22 For in all things, O Lord, you magnified your people,
and you glorified them and didn't lightly regard them,
standing by their side in every time and place.

The Wisdom of Jesus the Son of Sirach, or Ecclesiasticus

The Wisdom of Jesus the Son of Sirach, also called Ecclesiasticus, is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Russian Orthodox Churches.

The Prologue of the Wisdom of Jesus the Son of Sirach.

WHEREAS many and great things have been delivered to us by the law and the prophets, and by the others that have followed in their steps, for which we must give Israel the praise for instruction and wisdom; and since not only the readers need to become skillful themselves, but also those who love learning must be able to profit those who are outside, both by speaking and writing; my grandfather Jesus, having much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and the other books of our fathers, and having gained great familiarity with them, was also drawn on himself to write somewhat pertaining to instruction and wisdom, in order that those who love learning, and are devoted to these things, might make progress much more by living according to the law. You are entreated therefore to read with favor and attention, and to pardon us, if in any parts of what we have labored to interpret, we may seem to fail in some of the phrases. For things originally spoken in Hebrew don't have the same force in them when they are translated into another language. Not only these, but the law itself, and the prophecies, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their original language. For having come into Egypt in the thirty-eighth year of Energetes the king, and having continued there some time, I found a copy giving no small instruction. I thought it therefore most necessary for me to apply some diligence and travail to translate this book, applying indeed much watchfulness and skill in that space of time to bring the book to an end and publish for them also, who in the land of their travels are desiring to learn, preparing their character in advance, so as to live according to the law.

- ¹ All wisdom comes from the Lord, and is with him forever.
- ² Who can count the sand of the seas,
the drops of rain,
and the days of eternity?
- ³ Who will search out the height of the sky,
the breadth of the earth, the deep,
and wisdom?
- ⁴ Wisdom has been created before all things, and the understanding of prudence from everlasting. ⁵*
- ⁶ To whom has the root of wisdom been revealed?

* 1:5 Verse 5 is omitted by the best authorities: The source of wisdom is God's word in the highest heaven, and her ways are the eternal commandments.

- Who has known her shrewd counsels? ^{7 †}
- ⁸ There is one wise, greatly to be feared, sitting upon his throne: the Lord.
- ⁹ He created her.
He saw and measured her.
He poured her out upon all his works.
- ¹⁰ She is with all flesh according to his gift.
He gave her freely to those who love him.
- ¹¹ The fear of the Lord is glory, exultation, gladness, and a crown of rejoicing.
- ¹² The fear of the Lord will delight the heart, and will give gladness, joy, and length of days.
- ¹³ Whoever fears the Lord, it will go well with him at the last.
He will be blessed in the day of his death.
- ¹⁴ To fear the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.
It was created together with the faithful in the womb.
- ¹⁵ She[‡] laid an eternal foundation with men.
She will be trusted among their offspring.
- ¹⁶ To fear the Lord is the fullness of wisdom.
She inebriates men with her fruits.
- ¹⁷ She will fill all her house with desirable things,
and her storehouses with her produce.
- ¹⁸ The fear of the Lord is the crown of wisdom, making peace and[§] perfect health to flourish.*
- ¹⁹ He both saw and measured her.
He rained down skill and knowledge of understanding,
and exalted the honor of those who hold her fast.
- ²⁰ To fear the Lord is the root of wisdom.
Her branches are length of days. ^{21 †}
- ²² Unjust wrath can never be justified, for his wrath tips the scale to his downfall.
- ²³ A man that is patient will resist for a season,
and afterward gladness will spring up to him.
- ²⁴ He will hide his words until the right moment,
and the lips of many will tell of his understanding.
- ²⁵ A wise saying is in the treasures of wisdom;
but godliness is an abomination to a sinner.
- ²⁶ If you desire wisdom, keep the commandments and the Lord will give her to you freely;
- ²⁷ for the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction.
Faith and humility are his good pleasure.

[†] 1:7 Verse 7 is omitted by the best authorities: To whom was the knowledge of wisdom manifested? Who has understood her abundant experience? [‡] 1:15 Gr. nested. [§] 1:18 Gr. health of cure.

* 1:18 The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities: Both are gifts of God for peace; glory opens out for those who love him. He saw her and took her measure. [†] 1:21 Verse 21 is omitted by the best authorities: The fear of the Lord drives away sins. Where it resides, it will turn away all anger.

- 28 Don't disobey the fear of the Lord.
Don't come to him with a double heart.
- 29 Don't be a hypocrite in men's sight.
Keep watch over your lips.
- 30 Don't exalt yourself,
lest you fall and bring dishonor upon your soul.
- The Lord will reveal your secrets and will cast you down in the midst of the congregation, because you didn't come to the fear of the Lord and your heart was full of deceit.

2

- 1 My son, if you come to serve the Lord,
prepare your soul for temptation.
- 2 Set your heart aright, constantly endure,
and don't make haste in time of calamity.
- 3 Cling to him, and don't depart, that you may be increased at your latter end.
- 4 Accept whatever is brought upon you,
and be patient when you suffer humiliation.
- 5 For gold is tried in the fire,
and acceptable men in the furnace of humiliation.
- 6 Put your trust in him, and he will help you.
Make your ways straight, and set your hope on him.
- 7 All you who fear the Lord, wait for his mercy.
Don't turn aside, lest you fall.
- 8 All you who fear the Lord, put your trust in him,
and your reward will not fail.
- 9 All you who fear the Lord, hope for good things,
and for eternal gladness and mercy.
- 10 Look at the generations of old, and see:
Who ever put his trust in the Lord, and was ashamed?
Or who remained in his fear, and was forsaken?
Or who called upon him, and he neglected him?
- 11 For the Lord is full of compassion and mercy.
He forgives sins and saves in time of affliction.
- 12 Woe to fearful hearts, to faint hands,
and to the sinner who goes two ways!
- 13 Woe to the faint heart! For it doesn't believe.
Therefore it won't be defended.
- 14 Woe to you who have lost your patience!
And what will you all do when the Lord visits you?
- 15 Those who fear the Lord will not disobey his words.
Those who love him will keep his ways.
- 16 Those who fear the Lord will seek his good pleasure.
Those who love him will be filled with the law.
- 17 Those who fear the Lord will prepare their hearts, and will humble their souls in his sight.

- 18 We will fall into the hands of the Lord,
and not into the hands of men;
for as his majesty is,
so also is his mercy.

3

- 1 Hear me, your father, O my children,
and do what you hear, that you all may be safe.
- 2 For the Lord honors the father over the children, and has confirmed the judgment of the mother over her sons.
- 3 He who honors his father will make atonement for sins.
4 He who gives glory to his mother is as one who lays up treasure.
- 5 Whoever honors his father will have joy in his own children.
He will be heard in the day of his prayer.
- 6 He who gives glory to his father will have length of days.
He who listens to the Lord will bring rest to his mother,
- 7* and will serve under his parents, as to masters.
- 8 Honor your father in deed and word,
that a blessing may come upon you from him.
- 9 For the blessing of the father establishes the houses of children,
but the curse of the mother roots out the foundations.
- 10 Don't glorify yourself in the dishonor of your father, for your father's dishonor is no glory to you.
- 11 For the glory of a man is from the honor of his father, and a mother in dishonor is a reproach to her children.
- 12 My son, help your father in his old age,
and don't grieve him as long as he lives.
- 13 If he fails in understanding, have patience with him.
Don't dishonor him in your full strength.
- 14 For the kindness to your father will not be forgotten.
Instead of sins it will be added to build you up.
- 15 In the day of your affliction it will be remembered for you,
as fair weather upon ice,
so your sins will also melt away.
- 16 He who forsakes his father is as a blasphemer.
He who provokes his mother is cursed by the Lord.
- 17 My son, go on with your business in humility;
so you will be loved by an acceptable man.
- 18 The greater you are, humble yourself the more,
and you will find favor before the Lord. 19†
- 20 For the power of the Lord is great,
and he is glorified by those who are lowly.
- 21 Don't seek things that are too hard for you,
and don't search out things that are above your strength.

* 3:7 Some manuscripts add those who fear the Lord honor their father, † 3:19 Some manuscripts add Many are lofty and renowned, but he reveals his secrets to the humble.

- 22 Think about the things that have been commanded you, for you have no need of the things that are secret.
- 23 Don't be overly busy in tasks that are beyond you,
for more things are shown to you than men can understand.
- 24 For the conceit of many has led them astray.
Evil opinion has caused their judgment to slip.
- 25 ‡ There is no light without eyes.
There is no wisdom without knowledge.
- 26 A stubborn heart will do badly at the end.
He who loves danger will perish in it.
- 27 A stubborn heart will be burdened with troubles.
The sinner will heap sin upon sins.
- 28 The calamity of the proud has no healing,
for a weed of wickedness has taken root in him.
- 29 The heart of the prudent will understand a proverb.
A wise man desires the ear of a listener.
- 30 Water will quench a flaming fire;
almsgiving will make atonement for sins.
- 31 He who repays good turns is mindful of that which comes afterward.
In the time of his falling he will find a support.

4

- 1 My son, don't deprive the poor of his living.
Don't make the needy eyes wait long.
- 2 Don't make a hungry soul sorrowful, or provoke a man in his distress.
- 3 Don't add more trouble to a heart that is provoked.
Don't put off giving to him who is in need.
- 4 Don't reject a suppliant in his affliction.
Don't turn your face away from a poor man.
- 5 Don't turn your eye away from one who asks.
Give no occasion to a man to curse you.
- 6 For if he curses you in the bitterness of his soul,
he who made him will hear his supplication.
- 7 Endear yourself to the assembly.
Bow your head to a great man.
- 8 Incline your ear to a poor man.
Answer him with peaceful words in humility.
- 9 Deliver him who is wronged from the hand of him who wrongs him;
Don't be hesitant in giving judgment.
- 10 Be as a father to the fatherless,
and like a husband to their mother.
So you will be as a son of the Most High,
and he will love you more than your mother does.
- 11 Wisdom exalts her sons,

- and takes hold of those who seek her.
12 He who loves her loves life.
Those who seek her early will be filled with gladness.
13 He who holds her fast will inherit glory.
Where* he enters, the Lord will bless.
14 Those who serve her minister to the Holy One.
The Lord loves those who love her.
15 He who listens to her will judge the nations.
He who heeds her will dwell securely.
16 If he trusts her, he will inherit her,
and his generations will possess her.
17 For at the first she will walk with him in crooked ways,
and will bring fear and dread upon him,
and torment him with her discipline,
until she may trust his soul, and try him by her judgments.
18 Then she will return him again to the straight way,
and will gladden him, and reveal to him her secrets.
19 If he goes astray, she will forsake him,
and hand him over to his fall.
20 Watch for the opportunity, and beware of evil.
Don't be ashamed of your soul.
21 For there is a shame that brings sin,
and there is a shame that is glory and grace.
22 Don't show partiality, discrediting your soul.
Don't revere any man to your falling.
23 Don't refrain from speaking when it is for safety.
†Don't hide your wisdom for the sake of seeming fair.
24 For wisdom will be known by speech, and instruction by the word of the tongue.
25 Don't speak against the truth and be shamed for your ignorance.
26 Don't be ashamed to confess your sins.
Don't fight the river's current.
27 Don't lay yourself down for a fool to tread upon.
Don't be partial to one who is mighty.
28 Strive for the truth to death,
and the Lord God will fight for you.
29 Don't be hasty with your tongue,
or slack and negligent in your deeds.
30 Don't be like a lion in your house, or suspicious of your servants.
31 Don't let your hand be stretched out to receive,
and closed when you should repay.

5

- 1 Don't set your heart upon your goods.
Don't say, "They are sufficient for me."

* 4:13 Or, she † 4:23 Some manuscripts omit this line.

- ² Don't follow your own mind and your strength to walk in the desires of your heart.
- ³ Don't say, "Who will have dominion over me?"
for the Lord will surely take vengeance on you.
- ⁴ Don't say, "I sinned, and what happened to me?"
for the Lord is patient.
- ⁵ Don't be so confident of atonement that you add sin upon sins.
- ⁶ Don't say, "His compassion is great.
He will be pacified for the multitude of my sins," for mercy and wrath are with him,
and his indignation will rest on sinners.
- ⁷ Don't wait to turn to the Lord.
Don't put off from day to day;
for suddenly the wrath of the Lord will come on you,
and you will perish in the time of vengeance.
- ⁸ Don't set your heart upon unrighteous gains,
for you will profit nothing in the day of calamity.
- ⁹ Don't winnow with every wind.
Don't walk in every path.
This is what the sinner who has a double tongue does.
- ¹⁰ Be steadfast in your understanding.
Let your speech be consistent.
- ¹¹ Be swift to hear
and answer with patience.
- ¹² If you have understanding, answer your neighbor;
but if not, put your hand over your mouth.
- ¹³ Glory and dishonor is in talk.
A man's tongue may be his downfall.
- ¹⁴ Don't be called a whisperer.
Don't lie in wait with your tongue;
for shame is on the thief,
and an evil condemnation is on him who has a double tongue.
- ¹⁵ Don't be ignorant in a great or small matter.

- ¹ Don't become an enemy instead of a friend;
for an evil name will inherit shame and reproach.
So it is with the sinner who has a double tongue.
- ² Don't exalt yourself in the counsel of your soul, that your soul not be torn in pieces like a bull.
- ³ You will eat up your leaves, destroy your fruit,
and leave yourself like a dry tree.
- ⁴ A wicked soul will destroy him who has it,
and will make him a laughing stock to his enemies.
- ⁵ Sweet words will multiply a man's friends.

A gracious tongue will multiply courtesies.

⁶ Let those that are at peace with you be many,
but your advisers one of a thousand.

⁷ If you want to gain a friend, get him in a time of testing, and don't be in a hurry to trust him.

⁸ For there is a friend just for an occasion.

He won't continue in the day of your affliction.

⁹ And there is a friend who turns into an enemy.

He will discover strife to your reproach.

¹⁰ And there is a friend who is a companion at the table,
but he won't continue in the day of your affliction.

¹¹ In your prosperity he will be as yourself, and will be bold over your servants.

¹² If you are brought low, he will be against you,
and will hide himself from your face.

¹³ Separate yourself from your enemies, and beware of your friends.

¹⁴ A faithful friend is a strong defense.

He who has found him has found a treasure.

¹⁵ There is nothing that can be taken in exchange for a faithful friend.
His excellency is beyond price.

¹⁶ A faithful friend is a life-saving medicine.

Those who fear the Lord will find him.

¹⁷ He who fears the Lord directs his friendship properly;
for as he is, so is his neighbor also.

¹⁸ My son, gather instruction from your youth up.

Even when you have gray hair you will find wisdom.

¹⁹ Come to her as one who plows and sows and wait for her good fruit;

for your toil will be little in her cultivation,
and you will soon eat of her fruit.

²⁰ How exceedingly harsh she is to the unlearned!

He who is without understanding will not remain in her.

²¹ She will rest upon him as a mighty stone of trial.

He won't hesitate to cast her from him.

²² For wisdom is according to her name.
She isn't manifest to many.

²³ Give ear, my son, and accept my judgment.

Don't refuse my counsel.

²⁴ Bring your feet into her fetters, and your neck into her chain.

²⁵ Put your shoulder under her and bear her.
Don't be grieved with her bonds.

²⁶ Come to her with all your soul.

Keep her ways with your whole power.

²⁷ Search and seek, and she will be made known to you.
When you get hold of her, don't let her go.

- 28 For at the last you will find her rest;
and she will be turned for you into gladness.
- 29 Her fetters will be to you for a covering of strength, and her chains for a robe of glory.
- 30 For there is a golden ornament upon her,
and her bands are ✧ a purple cord.
- 31 You shall put her on as a robe of glory,
and shall put her on as a crown of rejoicing.
- 32 My son, if you are willing, you will be instructed.
If you will yield your soul, you will be prudent.
- 33 If you love to hear, you will receive.
If you incline your ear, you will be wise.
- 34 Stand in the multitude of the elders.
Attach yourself to whomever is wise.
- 35 Be willing to listen to every godly discourse.
Don't let the proverbs of understanding escape you.
- 36 If you see a man of understanding, get to him early.
Let your foot wear out the steps of his doors.
- 37 Let your mind dwell on the ordinances of the Lord and meditate continually on his commandments.
He will establish your heart and your desire for wisdom will be given to you.

- 1 Do no evil,
so no evil will overtake you.
- 2 Depart from wrong,
and it will turn away from you.
- 3 My son, don't sow upon the furrows of unrighteousness, and you won't reap them sevenfold.
- 4 Don't seek preeminence from the Lord,
nor the seat of honor from the king.
- 5 Don't justify yourself in the presence of the Lord,
and don't display your wisdom before the king.
- 6 Don't seek to be a judge,
lest you not be able to take away iniquities,
lest perhaps you fear the person of a mighty man,
and lay a stumbling block in the way of your uprightness.
- 7 Don't sin against the multitude of the city.
Don't disgrace yourself in the crowd.
- 8 Don't commit a sin twice,
for even in one you will not be unpunished.
- 9 Don't say, "He will look upon the multitude of my gifts.
When I make an offering to the Most High God, he will accept it."

- 10 Don't be faint-hearted in your prayer.
Don't neglect to give alms.
- 11 Don't laugh a man to scorn when he is in the bitterness of his soul, for there is one who humbles and exalts.
- 12 Don't devise* a lie against your brother, or do the same to a friend.
- 13 Refuse to utter a lie,
for that habit results in no good.
- 14 Don't babble in the assembly of elders.
Don't repeat your words in your prayer.
- 15 Don't hate hard labor or farm work, which the Most High has created.
- 16 Don't number yourself among the multitude of sinners.
Remember that wrath will not wait.
- 17 Humble your soul greatly,
for the punishment of the ungodly man is fire and the worm.
- 18 Don't exchange a friend for something,
neither a true brother for the gold of Ophir.
- 19 Don't deprive yourself of a wise and good wife,
for her grace is worth more than gold.
- 20 Don't abuse a servant who works faithfully, or a hireling who gives you his life.
- 21 Let your soul love a wise servant.
Don't defraud him of liberty.
- 22 Do you have cattle? Look after them.
If they are profitable to you, let them stay by you.
- 23 Do you have children? Correct them, and make them obedient from their youth.
- 24 Do you have daughters? Take care of their bodies, and don't be overly indulgent toward them.
- 25 Give your daughter in marriage, and you will have accomplished a great matter.
Give her to a man of understanding.
- 26 Do you have a wife who pleases you? Don't cast her out.
† But don't trust yourself to one who is hateful.
- 27 Honor your father with your whole heart,
and don't forget the birth pangs of your mother.
- 28 Remember that you were born of them.
What will you repay them for the things that they have done for you?
- 29 Fear the Lord with all your soul;
and revere his priests.
- 30 With all your strength love him who made you.
Don't forsake his ministers.

* 7:12 Gr. Don't plow † 7:26 Many authorities omit this line

- ³¹ Fear the Lord and honor the priest.
Give him his portion, even as it is commanded you:
the first fruits, the trespass offering, the gift of the shoulders, the sacrifice of sanctification, and the first fruits of holy things.
- ³² Also stretch out your hand to the poor man, that your blessing may be complete.
- ³³ A gift has grace in the sight of every living man.
Don't withhold grace for a dead man.
- ³⁴ Don't avoid those who weep,
and mourn with those who mourn.
- ³⁵ Don't be slow to visit a sick man,
for by such things you will gain love.
- ³⁶ In all your words, remember eternity, and you will never sin.

- ¹ Don't contend with a mighty man, lest perhaps you fall into his hands.
- ² Don't strive with a rich man, lest perhaps he overpower you;
for gold has destroyed many,
and turned away the hearts of kings.
- ³ Don't argue with a loudmouthed man.
Don't heap wood upon his fire.
- ⁴ Don't make fun of a rude man,
lest your ancestors be dishonored.
- ⁵ Don't reproach a man when he turns from sin.
Remember that we are all worthy of punishment.
- ⁶ Don't dishonor a man in his old age,
for some of us are also growing old.
- ⁷ Don't rejoice over anyone's death.
Remember that we all die.
- ⁸ Don't neglect the discourse of the wise.
Be conversant with their proverbs;
for from them you will learn discipline and how to serve great men.
- ⁹ Don't miss the discourse of the aged,
for they also learned from their parents,
because from them you will learn understanding,
and to give an answer in time of need.
- ¹⁰ Don't kindle the coals of a sinner,
lest you be burned with the flame of his fire.
- ¹¹ Don't rise up from the presence of an insolent man, lest he lie in wait as an ambush for your mouth.
- ¹² Don't lend to a man who is stronger than you;
and if you lend, count it as a loss.
- ¹³ Don't be surety beyond your means.

If you give surety, think as one who will have to pay.

- 14 Don't go to law with a judge;
for according to his honor they will give judgment for him.
- 15 Don't travel with a reckless man,
lest he be burdensome to you;
for he will do as he pleases,
and you will perish with his folly.
- 16 Don't fight with a wrathful man.
Don't travel with him through the desert,
for blood is as nothing in his sight.
Where there is no help, he will overthrow you.
- 17 Don't consult with a fool,
for he will not be able to keep a secret.
- 18 Do no secret thing before a stranger,
for you don't know what it will cause.
- 19 Don't open your heart to every man.
Don't let him return you a favor.

9

- 1 Don't be jealous over the wife of your bosom,
and don't teach her an evil lesson against yourself.
- 2 Don't give your soul to a woman and let her trample down your strength.
- 3 Don't go to meet a woman who plays the prostitute,
lest perhaps you fall into her snares.
- 4 Don't associate with a woman who is a singer,
lest perhaps you be caught by her tricks.
- 5 Don't gaze at a virgin,
lest perhaps you stumble and incur penalties for her.
- 6 Don't give your soul to prostitutes, that you not lose your inheritance.
- 7 Don't look around in the streets of the city.
Don't wander in its deserted places.
- 8 Turn your eye away from a beautiful woman,
and don't gaze at another's beauty.
- Many have been led astray by the beauty of a woman;
and with this, passion is kindled like a fire.
- 9 Don't dine at all with a woman who has a husband,
or revel with her at wine,*
lest perhaps your soul turn away to her,
and with your spirit you slide into destruction.
- 10 Don't forsake an old friend;
for a new one is not comparable to him.
- A new friend is like new wine:
if it becomes old, you will drink it with gladness.

* 9:9 The preceding line of this verse is omitted by the best authorities.

- ¹¹ Don't envy the success of a sinner;
for you don't know what his end will be.
- ¹² Don't delight in the delights of the ungodly.
Remember they will not go unpunished to[†] the grave.
- ¹³ Keep yourself far from the man who has[‡] power to kill,
and you will not be troubled by the fear of death.
If you come to him, commit no fault,
lest he take away your life.
Know surely that you go about in the midst of snares,
and walk upon the battlements of a city.
- ¹⁴ As well as you can, aim to know your neighbors, and take counsel with the wise.
- ¹⁵ Let your conversation be with men of understanding.
Let all your discourse be in the law of the Most High.
- ¹⁶ Let righteous people be companions at your table.
Let your glorying be in the fear of the Lord.
- ¹⁷ A work is commended because of the skill of the artisan;
so he who rules the people will be considered wise for his speech.
- ¹⁸ A loudmouthed man is dangerous in his city.
He who is reckless in his speech will be hated.

10

- ¹ A wise judge will instruct his people.
The government of a man of understanding will be well ordered.
- ² As is the judge of his people, so are his officials.
As the city's ruler is, so are all those who dwell in it.
- ³ An undisciplined king will destroy his people.
A city will be established through the understanding of the powerful.
- ⁴ The government of the earth is in the Lord's hand.
In due time, he will raise up over it the right person at the right time.
- ⁵ A man's prosperity is in the Lord's hand.
He will lay his honor upon the person of the scribe.
- ⁶ Don't be angry with your neighbor for every wrong.
Do nothing by works of violence.
- ⁷ Pride is hateful before the Lord and men.
Arrogance is abhorrent in the judgment of both.
- ⁸ Sovereignty is transferred from nation to nation because of injustice, violence, and greed for money.
- ⁹ Why are dirt and ashes proud?*
- Because in life, my body decays.
- ¹⁰ A long disease mocks the physician.
The king of today will die tomorrow.

* 10:9 Two lines of this verse are here omitted by the best authorities.

- ¹² It is the beginning of pride when a man departs from the Lord.
His heart has departed from him who made him.
- ¹³ For the beginning of pride is sin.
He who keeps it will pour out abomination.
For this cause the Lord brought upon them strange calamities and utterly overthrew them.
- ¹⁴ The Lord cast down the thrones of rulers and set the lowly in their place.
- ¹⁵ The Lord plucked up the roots of nations and planted the lowly in their place.
- ¹⁶ The Lord overthrew the lands of nations and destroyed them to the foundations of the earth.
- ¹⁷ He took some of them away and destroyed them,
and made their memory to cease from the earth.
- ¹⁸ Pride has not been created for men,
nor wrathful anger for the offspring of women.
- ¹⁹ Whose offspring has honor?
Human offspring who fear the Lord.
Whose offspring has no honor?
Human offspring who break the commandments.
- ²⁰ In the midst of kindred he who rules them has honor.
Those who fear the Lord have honor in his eyes. ²¹ †
- ²² The rich man, the honorable, and the poor
all glory in the fear of the Lord.
- ²³ It is not right to dishonor a poor man who has understanding.
It is not fitting to glorify a man who is a sinner.
- ²⁴ The prince, the judge, and the mighty man will be honored.
There is not one of them greater than he who fears the Lord.
- ²⁵ Free men will minister to a wise servant.
A man who has knowledge will not complain.
- ²⁶ Don't flaunt your wisdom in doing your work.
Don't boast in the time of your distress.
- ²⁷ Better is he who labors and abounds in all things,
than he who boasts and lacks bread.
- ²⁸ My son, glorify your soul in humility, and ascribe to yourself honor according to your worthiness.
- ²⁹ Who will justify him who sins against his own soul?
Who will honor him who dishonors his own life?
- ³⁰ A poor man is honored for his knowledge.
A rich man is honored for his riches.
- ³¹ But he who is honored in poverty, how much more in riches?
He who is dishonored in riches, how much more in poverty?

Don't interrupt while someone else is speaking.

⁹ Don't argue about a matter that doesn't concern you.
Don't sit with sinners when they judge.

¹⁰ My son, don't be busy about many matters;
for if you meddle much, you will not be unpunished.
If you pursue, you will not overtake,
and you will not escape by fleeing.

¹¹ There is one who toils, labors, and hurries,
and is even more behind.

¹² There is one who is sluggish, and needs help, lacking in strength, and who abounds in poverty,

to reward a man in the day of death according to his ways.
- 27 The affliction of an hour causes delights to be forgotten.
In the end, a man's deeds are revealed.
- 28 Call no man happy before his death.
A man will be known in his children.
- 29 Don't bring every man into your house,
for many are the tricks of a deceitful man.
- 30 Like a decoy partridge in a cage, so is the heart of a proud man.
Like a spy, he looks for your weakness.
- 31 For he lies in wait to turn things that are good into evil,
and assigns blame in things that are praiseworthy.
- 32 From a spark of fire, a heap of many coals is kindled,
and a sinful man lies in wait to shed blood.
- 33 Take heed of an evil-doer, for he plans wicked things, lest perhaps he ruin your reputation forever.
- 34 Receive a stranger into your house, and he will distract you with arguments and estrange you from your own family.

- 1 If you do good, know to whom you do it,
and your good deeds will have thanks.
- 2 Do good to a godly man, and you will find a reward—
if not from him, then from the Most High.
- 3 No good will come to him who continues to do evil,
nor to him who gives no alms.
- 4 Give to the godly man,
and don't help the sinner.
- 5 Do good to one who is lowly.
Don't give to an ungodly man.
Keep back his bread, and don't give it to him,
lest he subdue you with it;
for you would receive twice as much evil for all the good you would have done to him.
- 6 For the Most High also hates sinners, and will repay vengeance to the ungodly.*

- ¹⁸ What peace is there between a hyena and a dog?
What peace is there between a rich man and the poor?
- ¹⁹ Wild donkeys are the prey of lions in the wilderness;
likewise poor men are feeding grounds for the rich.
- ²⁰ Lowliness is an abomination to a proud man;
likewise a poor man is an abomination to the rich.
- ²¹ When a rich man is shaken, he is supported by his friends, but when the humble is down, he is pushed away even by his friends.
- ²² When a rich man falls, there are many helpers.
He speaks things not to be spoken, and men justify him.
A humble man falls, and men rebuke him.
He utters wisdom, and is not listened to.
- ²³ A rich man speaks, and all keep silence.
They extol what he says to the clouds.

He won't enjoy his possessions.
⁶ There is none more evil than he who is grudging to himself.
This is a punishment for his wickedness.
⁷ Even if he does good, he does it in forgetfulness.
In the end, he reveals his wickedness.

According to your ability, reach out and give to them.
¹⁴ Don't deprive yourself of a good day.
Don't let your share of a desired good pass you by.
¹⁵ Won't you leave your labors to another,
and your toils be divided by lot?
¹⁶ Give, take, and treat yourself well, because there is no seeking of luxury in Hades.
¹⁷ All flesh grows old like a garment, for the covenant from the beginning is, "You must die!"
¹⁸ Like the leaves flourishing on a thick tree,
some it sheds, and some grow,
so also are the generations of flesh and blood:
one comes to an end and another is born.
¹⁹ Every work rots and falls away,
and its builder will depart with it.

Sinners will not see her.
- 8 She is far from pride.
Liars will not remember her.
- 9 Praise is not attractive in the mouth of a sinner;
for it was not sent to him from the Lord.
- 10 For praise will be spoken in wisdom;
The Lord will prosper it.
- 11 Don't say, "It is through the Lord that I fell away;"
for you shall not do the things that he hates.
- 12 Don't say, "It is he that caused me to err;"
for he has no need of a sinful man.
- 13 The Lord hates every abomination;
and those who fear him don't love them.
- 14 He himself made man from the beginning

- 4 For from one who has understanding, a city will be populated,
but a race of wicked men will be made desolate.
- 5 I have seen many such things with my eyes.
My ear has heard mightier things than these.
- 6 In a congregation of sinners, a fire will be kindled.
In a disobedient nation, wrath is kindled.
- 7 He was not pacified toward the giants of old time,
who revolted in their strength.
- 8 He didn't spare Lot's neighbors, whom he abhorred for their pride.
- 9 He didn't pity the people of perdition who were taken away in their sins, 10 or in like manner, the six hundred thousand footmen who were gathered together in the hardness of their hearts.
- 11 Even if there is one stiff-necked person,
it is a marvel if he will be unpunished;
for mercy and wrath are both with him who is mighty to forgive,
and he pours out wrath.
- 12 As his mercy is great, so is his correction also.
He judges a man according to his works.
- 13 The sinner will not escape with plunder.
The perseverance of the godly will not be frustrated.
- 14 He will make room for every work of mercy.
Each man will receive according to his works. 15-16 *
- 17 Don't say, "I will be hidden from the Lord,"
and "Who will remember me from on high?"
I will not be known among so many people,
for what is my soul in a boundless creation?

- 18 Behold, the heaven, the heaven of heavens,
the deep, and the earth, will be moved when he visits.
- 19 The mountains and the foundations of the earth together are shaken with trembling when he looks at them.
- 20 No heart will think about these things.
Who could comprehend his ways?
- 21 Like a tempest which no man can see,
so, the majority of his works are[†] hidden.
- 22 Who will declare his works of righteousness?
Who will wait for them?
For his covenant is afar off.[‡]
- 23 He who is lacking in[§] understanding thinks about these things.
An unwise and erring man thinks foolishly.
- 24 My son, listen to me, learn knowledge, and heed my words with your heart.
- 25 I will impart instruction with precision, and declare knowledge exactly.
- 26 In the judgment of the Lord are his works from the beginning.
From the making of them he determined their boundaries.
- 27 He arranged his works for all time,
and their beginnings to their generations.
They aren't hungry or weary,
and they don't cease from their works.
- 28 No one pushes aside his neighbor.
They will never disobey his word.
- 29 After this also the Lord looked at the earth and filled it with his blessings.
- 30 All manner of living things covered its surface,
and they return into it.

- 1 The Lord created mankind out of earth,
and turned them back to it again.
- 2 He gave them days by number, and a set time,
and gave them authority over the things that are on it.
- 3 He endowed them with strength proper to them,
and made them according to his own image.
- 4 He put the fear of man upon all flesh, and gave him dominion over beasts and birds. 5^{*}
- 6 He gave them counsel, tongue, eyes, ears, and heart to have understanding.
- 7 He filled them with the knowledge of wisdom,
and showed them good and evil.
- 8 He set his eye upon their hearts, to show them the majesty of his works. 9[†]

- 12 He made an everlasting covenant with them,
 and showed them his decrees.
- 13 Their eyes saw the majesty of his glory.
 Their ears heard the glory of his voice.
- 14 He said to them, "Beware of all unrighteousness."
 So he gave them commandment, each man concerning his neighbor.
- 15 Their ways are ever before him.
 They will not be hidden from his eyes. 16 §
- 17 * For every nation he appointed a ruler,

- 19 All their works are as clear as the sun before him.
 His eyes are continually upon their ways.
- 20 Their iniquities are not hidden from him.
 All their sins are before the Lord. 21 ‡
- 22 With him the alms of a man is as a signet.
 He will keep a man's kindness as the pupil of the eye. §
- 23 Afterwards he will rise up and repay them,
 and render their repayment upon their head.
- 24 However to those who repent he grants a return.
 He comforts those who are losing hope.
- 25 Return to the Lord, and forsake sins.
 Make your prayer before his face offend less.
- 26 Turn again to the Most High, and turn away from iniquity.*
 Greatly hate the abominable thing.
- 27 Who will give praise to the Most High in Hades,
 in place of the living who return thanks?
- 28 Thanksgiving perishes from the dead, as from one who doesn't exist.
 He who is in life and health will praise the Lord.
- 29 How great is the mercy of the Lord,
 and his forgiveness to those who turn to him!
- 30 For humans are not capable of everything, because the son of man is not immortal.
- 31 What is brighter than the sun? Yet even this can be eclipsed.
 So flesh and blood devise evil.
- 32 He looks upon the power of the height of heaven,
 while all men are earth and ashes.

- ¹ He who lives forever created the whole universe.
² The Lord alone is just. ³*
- ⁴ He has given power to declare his works to no one.
Who could trace out his mighty deeds?
- ⁵ Who could measure the strength of his majesty?
Who could also proclaim his mercies?
- ⁶ As for the wondrous works of the Lord, it is not possible to take from them nor add to them,
neither is it possible to explore them.
- ⁷ When a man has finished, then he is just at the beginning.
When he stops, then he will be perplexed.
- ⁸ What is mankind, and what purpose do they serve?
What is their good, and what is their evil?
- ⁹ The number of man's days at the most are a hundred years.
- ¹⁰ As a drop of water from the sea, and a pebble from the sand,
so are a few years in the day of eternity.
- ¹¹ For this cause the Lord was patient over them,
and poured out his mercy upon them.
- ¹² He saw and perceived their end, that it is evil.
Therefore he multiplied his forgiveness.
- ¹³ The mercy of a man is on his neighbor;
but the mercy of the Lord is on all flesh:
reproving, chastening, teaching,
and bringing back, as a shepherd does his flock.
- ¹⁴ He has mercy on those who accept chastening, and that diligently seek after his judgments.
- ¹⁵ My son, don't add reproach to your good deeds, and no harsh words in any of your giving.
- ¹⁶ Doesn't the dew relieve the scorching heat?
So a word is better than a gift.
- ¹⁷ Behold, isn't a word better than a gift?
Both are with a gracious person.
- ¹⁸ A fool is ungracious and abusive.
The gift of an grudging person consumes the eyes.
- ¹⁹ Learn before you speak.
Take care of your health before you get sick.
- ²⁰ Before judgment, examine yourself,
and in the hour of scrutiny you will find forgiveness.
- ²¹ Humble yourself before you get sick.
In the time of sins, repent.
- ²² Let nothing hinder you to pay your vow in due time.
Don't wait until death to be released.
- ²³ Before you make a vow, prepare yourself.
Don't be like a man who tests the Lord.
- ²⁴ Think about the wrath coming in the days of the end, and the time of vengeance, when he turns away his face.

- ²⁵ In the days of fullness remember the time of hunger.
Remember poverty and lack in the days of wealth.
- ²⁶ From morning until evening, the time changes.
All things are speedy before the Lord.
- ²⁷ A wise man is cautious in everything.
In days of sinning, he will beware of offense.[†]
- ²⁸ Every man of understanding knows wisdom.
He will give thanks to him who found her.
- ²⁹ They who were of understanding in sayings also became wise themselves, and poured out apt proverbs.
- ³⁰ Don't go after your lusts.
Restrain your appetites.
- ³¹ If you give fully to your soul the delight of her desire,
she will make you[‡] the laughing stock of your enemies.
- ³² Don't make merry in much luxury,
and don't be tied to its expense.
- ³³ Don't be made a beggar by banqueting with borrowed money when you have nothing in your purse.[§]

- ¹ A worker who is a drunkard will not become rich.
He who despises small things will fall little by little.
- ² Wine and women will make men of understanding go astray.
He who joins with prostitutes is reckless.
- ³ Decay and worms will have him as their heritage.
A reckless soul will be taken away.
- ⁴ He who is hasty to trust is shallow-hearted.
He who sins offends against his own soul.
- ⁵ He who rejoices in wickedness will be condemned.*
- ⁶ [†] He who hates gossip has less wickedness.
- ⁷ Never repeat what is told you,
and you won't lose anything.
- ⁸ Whether it is of friend or foe, don't tell it.
Unless it is a sin to you, don't reveal it.
- ⁹ For if he has heard you and observed you,
when the time comes, he will hate you.
- ¹⁰ Have you heard something? Let it die with you.
Be brave: it will not make you burst!
- ¹¹ A fool will travail in pain with a word,
as a woman in labor with a child.
- ¹² As an arrow that sticks in the flesh of the thigh,
so is gossip in a fool.

Who is he who hasn't sinned with his tongue?
- 17 Reprove your neighbor before you threaten him;

- 20 All wisdom is the fear of the Lord.
In all wisdom is the doing of the law. 21 §
- 22 The knowledge of wickedness is not wisdom.
The prudence of sinners is not counsel.
- 23 There is a wickedness, and it is an abomination.
There is a fool lacking in wisdom.
- 24 Better is one who has little understanding, and fears God,
than one who has much intelligence and transgresses the law.
- 25 There is an exquisite subtlety, and it is unjust.
And there is one who perverts favor to gain a judgment.*
- 26 There is one who does wickedly, who hangs down his head with mourning;
but inwardly he is full of deceit,

Where he isn't known, he will take advantage of you.
- 28 And if for lack of power he is hindered from sinning,
if he finds opportunity, he will do mischief.
- 29 A man will be known by his appearance.
One who has understanding will be known by his face when you meet him.
- 30 A man's attire, grinning laughter, and the way he walks show what he is.

20

- 1 There is a reproof that is not timely;
and there is a person who is wise enough to keep silent.
- 2 How good is it to reprove, rather than to be angry.
He who confesses will be kept back from harm. 3 *
- 4 As is the lust of a eunuch to deflower a virgin,
so is he who executes judgments with violence.
- 5 There is one who keeps silent and is found wise;
and there is one who is hated for his much talk.
- 6 There is one who keeps silent, for he has no answer to make;
And there is one who keeps silent, knowing when to speak.
- 7 A wise man will be silent until his time has come,
but the braggart and fool will miss his time.

- ⁸ He who uses many words will be abhorred.
He who takes authority for himself will be hated in it.
- ⁹ There is a prosperity that a man finds in misfortunes;
and there is a gain that turns to loss.
- ¹⁰ There is a gift that will not profit you;
and there is a gift that pays back double.
- ¹¹ There are losses because of glory;
and there is one who has lifted up his head from a low estate.
- ¹² There is one who buys much for a little,
and pays for it again sevenfold.
- ¹³ He who is wise in words will make himself beloved;
but the pleasantries of fools will be wasted.
- ¹⁴ The gift of a fool will not profit you,[†] for he looks for repayment many times instead of one.
- ¹⁵ He will give little and insult much.
He will open his mouth like a crier.
Today he will lend, and tomorrow he will ask for it back.
Such a one is a hateful man.
- ¹⁶ The fool will say, "I have no friend,
and I have no thanks for my good deeds.
Those who eat my bread have an evil tongue."
- ¹⁷ How often, and of how many, will he be laughed to scorn![‡]
- ¹⁸ A slip on a pavement is better than a slip with the tongue.

- ¹⁹ A man without grace is a tale out of season.
It will be continually in the mouth of the ignorant.
- ²⁰ A parable from a fool's mouth will be rejected;

- ²¹ There is one who is hindered from sinning through lack.
When he rests, he will not be troubled.
- ²² There is one who destroys his soul through bashfulness.
By a foolish countenance, he will destroy it.
- ²³ There is one who for bashfulness makes promises to his friend;
and he makes him his enemy for nothing.
- ²⁴ A lie is an ugly blot on a person.
It will be continually in the mouth of the ignorant.
- ²⁵ A thief is better than a man who is continually lying,
but they both will inherit destruction.
- ²⁶ The destination of a liar is dishonor.

- He who pleases great men will get pardon for iniquity.
 29 Favors and gifts blind the eyes of the wise,
 and as a muzzle on the mouth, turn away reproofs.
 30 Wisdom that is hidden, and treasure that is out of sight—what profit is in either of them?
 31 Better is a man who hides his folly than a man who hides his wisdom. 32 §

21

- 1 My son, have you sinned?
 Do it no more;
 and ask forgiveness for your past sins.
 2 Flee from sin as from the face of a snake;
 for if you go near, it will bite you.
 Its teeth are like lion's teeth,
 slaying people's souls.
 3 All iniquity is as a two-edged sword.
 Its stroke has no healing.
 4 Terror and violence will waste away riches.
 So the house of an arrogant man will be laid waste.
 5 Supplication from a poor man's mouth reaches to the ears of* God,
 and his judgment comes speedily.
 6 One who hates reproof is in the path of the sinner.
 He who fears the Lord will repent in his heart.
 7 He who is mighty in tongue is known far away;
 but the man of understanding knows when he slips.
 8 He who builds his house with other men's money is like one who gathers stones for his own tomb.
 9 The congregation of wicked men is as a bundle of tow with a flame of fire at the end of them.
 10 The way of sinners is paved with stones;
 and at the end of it is the pit of Hades.
 11 He who keeps the law becomes master of its intent.
 The fulfilment of the fear of the Lord is wisdom.
 12 He who is not clever will not be instructed.
 There is a cleverness which makes bitterness abound.
 13 The knowledge of a wise man will be made to abound as a flood,
 and his counsel as a fountain of life.
 14 The inward parts of a fool are like a broken vessel.
 He will hold no knowledge.
 15 If a man of knowledge hears a wise word,
 he will commend it and add to it.
 The wanton man hears it, and it displeases him,
 so he throws it away behind his back.
 16 The chatter of a fool is like a burden in the way, but grace will be found on the lips of the wise.

17 The utterance of the prudent man will be sought for in the congregation.
They will ponder his words in their heart.

18 As a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool.
The knowledge of an unwise man is talk without sense.†

19 Instruction is as fetters on the feet of an unwise man, and as manacles on the right hand.

20 A fool lifts up his voice with laughter,
but a clever man smiles quietly.

21 Instruction is to a prudent man as an ornament of gold, and as a bracelet upon his right arm.

22 The foot of a fool rushes into a house,
but a man of experience will be ashamed of entering.

23 A foolish man peers into the door of a house,
but a man who is instructed will stand outside.

24 It is rude for someone to listen at a door,
but a prudent person will be grieved with the disgrace.

25 The lips of strangers will be grieved at these things, but the words of prudent men will be weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fools is in their mouth,
but the mouth of wise men is their heart.

27 When the ungodly curses an adversary,
he curses his own soul.

28 A whisperer defiles his own soul,
and will be hated wherever he travels.

22

1 A slothful man is compared to a stone that is defiled.
Everyone will at hiss at him in his disgrace.

2 A slothful man is compared to the filth of a dunghill.
Anyone who picks it up will shake it out of his hand.

3 An undisciplined child is a disgrace to his father, and a foolish daughter is born to his loss.

4 A prudent daughter will inherit a husband of her own.
She who brings shame is the grief of her father.

5 She who is arrogant brings shame on father and husband.
She will be despised by both of them.

6 Ill-timed conversation is like music in mourning,
but stripes and correction are wisdom in every season.

7 He who teaches a fool is like one who glues potsherds together, even like one who wakes a sleeper out of a deep sleep.

8 He who teaches a fool is as one who teaches a man who slumbers.
In the end he will say, "What is it?" 9-10*

- Weep for a fool, for he lacks understanding.
Weep more sweetly for the dead, because he has found rest,
but the life of the fool is worse than death.
- ¹² Mourning for the dead lasts seven days, but for a fool and an ungodly man, it lasts all the days of his life.
- ¹³ Don't talk much with a foolish man,
and don't go to one who has no understanding.
Beware of him, lest you have trouble and be defiled in his onslaught.
Turn away from him, and you will find rest,
and you won't be wearied in his madness.
- ¹⁴ What would be heavier than lead?
What is its name, but "Fool"?
- ¹⁵ Sand, salt, and a mass of iron is easier to bear than a man without understanding.
- ¹⁶ Timber girded and bound into a building will not be released with shaking.
So a heart established in due season on well advised counsel will not be afraid.
- ¹⁷ A heart settled upon a thoughtful understanding is as an ornament of plaster on a polished wall.
- ¹⁸ Fences set on a high place will not stand against the wind;
so a fearful heart in the imagination of a fool will not stand against any fear.
- ¹⁹ He who pricks the eye will make tears fall.
He who pricks the heart makes it show feeling.
- ²⁰ Whoever casts a stone at birds scares them away.
He who insults a friend will dissolve friendship.
- ²¹ If you have drawn a sword against a friend, don't despair, for there may be a way back.
- ²² If you have opened your mouth against a friend, don't be afraid, for there may be reconciliation, unless it is for insulting, arrogance, disclosing of a secret, or a treacherous blow—for these things any friend will flee.
- ²³ Gain trust with your neighbor in his poverty,
that in his prosperity you may have gladness.
Stay steadfast to him in the time of his affliction, that you may be heir with him in his inheritance.†
- ²⁴ Before fire is the vapor and smoke of a furnace,
so insults precede bloodshed.
- ²⁵ I won't be ashamed to shelter a friend.
I won't hide myself from his face.

and a discipline of wisdom over my heart,
that they spare me not for my errors,
and not overlook their sins?
- ³ Otherwise my errors might be multiplied,
and my sins abound,
I fall before my adversaries,
and my enemy rejoice over me.*
- ⁴ O Lord, Father and God of my life, don't give me a haughty eyes,[†]
⁵ and turn away evil desire from me.‡
- ⁶ Let neither gluttony nor lust overtake me.
Don't give me over to a shameless mind.
- ⁷ Listen, my children, to the discipline of the mouth.
He who keeps it will not be caught.
- ⁸ The sinner will be overpowered through his lips.
By them, the insulter and the arrogant will stumble.
- ⁹ Don't accustom your mouth to an oath, and don't be accustomed to naming the Holy One,
- ¹⁰ for as a servant who is continually scourged will not lack bruises, so he also who swears and continually utters the Name will not be cleansed from sin.
- ¹¹ A man of many oaths will be filled with iniquity.
The scourge will not depart from his house.
If he offends, his sin will be upon him.
If he disregards it, he has sinned doubly.
If he has sworn falsely, he will not be justified,
for his house will be filled with calamities.
- ¹² There is a manner of speech that is clothed with death.
Let it not be found in the heritage of Jacob,
for all these things will be far from the godly,
and they will not wallow in sins.
- ¹³ Don't accustom your mouth to gross rudeness,
for it involves sinful speech.
- ¹⁴ Remember your father and your mother,
for you sit in the midst of great men,

Second, she trespassed against her own husband.
Third, she played the adulteress in fornication,

as Gihon in the days of vintage.
28 The first man didn't know her perfectly.
In like manner, the last has not explored her.
29 For her thoughts are filled from the sea,
and her counsels from the great deep.

32 I will yet bring instruction to light as the morning, and will make these things clear from far away.
33 I will continue to pour out teaching like prophecy, and leave it to all generations.
34 See that I have not labored for myself only,
but for all those who diligently seek wisdom.

25

- 1 I enjoy three things,
and they are beautiful before the Lord and men:
the agreement of kindred,
the friendship of neighbors,
and a woman and her husband who walk together in agreement.
- 2 But my soul hates three sorts of people,
and I am greatly offended at their life:
a poor man who is arrogant,
a rich man who is a liar,
and an old fool who is an adulterer.
- 3 If you gathered nothing in your youth,
how could you find anything in your old age?
- 4 How beautiful a thing is judgment in the gray-haired,
and for elders to know good counsel!
- 5 How beautiful is the wisdom of old men,
and understanding and counsel to men who are in honor!
- 6 Much experience is the crown of the aged.
Their glory is the fear of the Lord.
- 7 There are nine things that I have thought of, and in my heart counted happy, and the tenth I will utter with my tongue:
a man who has joy with his children,
and a man who lives and sees the fall of his enemies.
- 8 Happy is he who dwells with a wife of understanding,
he who has not slipped with his tongue,
and he who has not served a man who is unworthy of him.

- ⁹ Happy is he who has found prudence, and he who speaks in the ears of those who listen.
- ¹⁰ How great is he who has found wisdom!
Yet is there none above him who fears the Lord.
- ¹¹ The fear of the Lord surpasses all things.
To whom shall he who holds it be likened? ¹²*
- ¹³ Any wound but a wound of the heart!
Any wickedness but the wickedness of a woman!
- ¹⁴ Any calamity but a calamity from those who hate me!
Any vengeance but the vengeance of enemies!
- ¹⁵ There is no venom worse than a snake's venom.
There is no wrath worse than an enemy's wrath.
- ¹⁶ I would rather dwell with a lion and a dragon than keep house with a wicked woman.
- ¹⁷ The wickedness of a woman changes her appearance, and darkens her countenance like that of a bear.
- ¹⁸ Her husband will sit among his neighbors, and when he hears it, he sighs bitterly.
- ¹⁹ All malice is small compared to the malice of a woman.
Let the portion of a sinner fall on her.
- ²⁰ As walking up a sandy hill is to the feet of the aged,
so is a wife full of words to a quiet man.
- ²¹ Don't be ensnared by a woman's beauty.
Don't desire a woman for her beauty.
- ²² There is anger, impudence, and great reproach
if a woman supports her husband.
- ²³ A wicked woman is abasement of heart,
sadness of countenance, and a wounded heart.
A woman who won't make her husband happy is like hands that hang down, and weak knees.
- ²⁴ The beginning of sin came from a woman.
Because of her, we all die.
- ²⁵ Don't give water an outlet,
and don't give a wicked woman freedom of speech.
- ²⁶ If she doesn't go as you direct,
cut her away from your flesh.†

- ¹ Happy is the husband of a good wife.
The number of his days will be doubled.
- ² A faithful wife gives joy to her husband.
He will fulfill his years in peace.
- ³ A good wife is a great gift.
She will be given to those who fear the Lord.
- ⁴ Whether a man is rich or poor,

* 25:12 Verse 12 is omitted by the best authorities. † 25:26 The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities.

a good heart makes a cheerful face at all times.

- ⁵ Of three things my heart was afraid,
and concerning the fourth* kind I made supplication:
The slander of a city, the assembly of a mob, and a false accusation.
All these are more grievous than death.
- ⁶ A grief of heart and sorrow is a woman who is jealous of another woman.
Her tongue-lashing makes it known to all.
- ⁷ A wicked woman is like a chafing yoke.
He who takes hold of her is like one who grasps a scorpion.
- ⁸ A drunken woman causes great wrath.
She will not cover her own shame.
- ⁹ The fornication of a woman is in the lifting up of her eyes;
it will be known by her eyelids.
- ¹⁰ Keep strict watch on a headstrong daughter,
lest she find liberty for herself, and use it.
- ¹¹ Watch out for an impudent eye,
and don't be surprised if it sins against you.
- ¹² She will open her mouth like a thirsty traveller, and drink from every water that is near.
She will sit down at every post,
and open her quiver to any arrow.
- ¹³ The grace of a wife will delight her husband.
Her knowledge will strengthen† his bones.
- ¹⁴ A silent woman is a gift of the Lord.
There is nothing worth so much as a well-instructed soul.
- ¹⁵ A modest woman is grace upon grace.
There are no scales that can weigh the value of a self-controlled soul.
- ¹⁶ As the sun when it arises in the highest places of the Lord, so is the beauty of a good wife in her well-organized home.
- ¹⁷ As the lamp that shines upon the holy lampstand,
so is the beauty of the face on a well-proportioned body.
- ¹⁸ As the golden pillars are upon a base of silver, so are beautiful feet with the breasts of one who is steadfast. ¹⁹⁻²⁷‡
- ²⁸ For two things my heart is grieved, and for the third anger comes upon me:
a warrior who suffers for poverty,
men of understanding who are counted as garbage,
and one who turns back from righteousness to sin—
the Lord will prepare him for the sword!
- ²⁹ It is difficult for a merchant to keep himself from wrong doing,
and for a retailer to be acquitted of sin.

27

- ¹ Many have sinned for profit.
He who seeks to multiply wealth will turn his eye away.

* 26:5 Gr. countenance. † 26:13 or, fatten ‡ 26:19-27 Verses 19-27 are omitted by the best authorities.

- ² As a nail will stick fast between the joinings of stones, so sin will thrust itself in between buying and selling.
- ³ Unless a person holds on diligently to the fear of the Lord,
his house will be overthrown quickly.
- ⁴ In the shaking of a sieve, the refuse remains,
so does the filth of man in his thoughts.
- ⁵ The furnace tests the potter's vessels;
so the test of a person is in his thoughts.
- ⁶ The fruit of a tree discloses its cultivation,
so is the utterance of the thought of a person's heart.
- ⁷ Praise no man before you hear his thoughts,
for this is how people are tested.
- ⁸ If you follow righteousness, you will obtain it,
and put it on like a long robe of glory.
- ⁹ Birds will return to their own kind,
so truth will return to those who practice it.
- ¹⁰ The lion lies in wait for prey.
So does sin for those who do evil.
- ¹¹ The discourse of a godly man is always wise,
but the fool changes like the moon.
- ¹² Limit your time among people void of understanding, but persevere among the thoughtful.
- ¹³ The talk of fools is offensive.
Their laughter is wantonly sinful.
- ¹⁴ Their talk with much swearing makes hair stand upright.
Their strife makes others plug their ears.
- ¹⁵ The strife of the proud leads to bloodshed.
Their abuse of each other is a grievous thing to hear.
- ¹⁶ He who reveals secrets destroys trust,
and will not find a close friend.
- ¹⁷ Love a friend, and keep faith with him;
but if you reveal his secrets,
you shall not follow him;
- ¹⁸ for as a man has destroyed his enemy,
so you have destroyed the friendship of your neighbor.
- ¹⁹ As a bird which you have released out of your hand, so you have let your neighbor go, and you will not catch him again.
- ²⁰ Don't pursue him, for he has gone far away,
and has escaped like a gazelle out of the snare.
- ²¹ For a wound may be bound up, and after abuse there may be reconciliation;
but he who reveals secrets is without hope.
- ²² One who winks the eye contrives evil things;
and those who know him will keep their distance.
- ²³ When you are present, he will speak sweetly,
and will admire your words;

but afterward he will twist his speech and set a trap in your words.

²⁴ I have hated many things, but nothing like him.
The Lord will hate him.

²⁵ One who casts a stone straight up casts it on his own head.
A deceitful blow opens wounds.

²⁶ He who digs a pit will fall into it.
He who sets a snare will be caught in it.

²⁷ He who does evil things, they will roll back upon him, and he will not know where they came from.

²⁸ Mockery and reproach are from the arrogant.
Vengeance lies in wait for them like a lion.

²⁹ Those who rejoice at the fall of the godly will be caught in a snare.
Anguish will consume them before they die.

³⁰ Wrath and anger, these also are abominations.
A sinner will possess them.

28

¹ He who takes vengeance will find vengeance from the Lord, and he will surely make his sins firm.

² Forgive your neighbor the hurt that he has done, and then your sins will be pardoned when you pray.

³ Does anyone harbor anger against another and expect healing from the Lord?

⁴ Upon a man like himself he has no mercy, and does he make supplication for his own sins?

⁵ He himself, being flesh, nourishes wrath.
Who will make atonement for his sins?

⁶ Remember your last end, and stop enmity.
Remember corruption and death, and be true to the commandments.

⁷ Remember the commandments, and don't be angry with your neighbor.
Remember the covenant of the Highest, and overlook ignorance.

⁸ Abstain from strife, and you will diminish your sins,
for a passionate man will kindle strife.

⁹ A man who is a sinner will trouble friends and sow discord among those who are at peace.

¹⁰ As is the fuel of the fire, so it will burn;
and as the stoutness of the strife is, so it will burn.

As is the strength of the man, so will be his wrath;
and as is his wealth, so he will exalt his anger.

¹¹ A contention begun in haste kindles a fire;
and hasty fighting sheds blood.

¹² If you blow on a spark, it will burn;
and if you spit upon it, it will be quenched.
Both of these come out of your mouth.

¹³ Curse the whisperer and double-tongued,

- for he has destroyed many who were at peace.
- 14 A slanderer has shaken many,
and dispersed them from nation to nation.
It has pulled down strong cities and overthrown the houses of great men.
- 15 A slanderer has cast out brave women and deprived them of their labors.
- 16 He who listens to it will not find rest,
nor will he live quietly.
- 17 The stroke of a whip makes a mark in the flesh,
but the stroke of a tongue will break bones.
- 18 Many have fallen by the edge of the sword, yet not so many as those who have fallen because of the tongue.
- 19 Happy is he who is sheltered from it,
who has not passed through its wrath,
who has not drawn its yoke,
and has not been bound with its bands.
- 20 For its yoke is a yoke of iron,
and its bands are bands of brass.
- 21 Its death is an evil death,
and Hades is better than it.
- 22 It will not have rule over godly men.
They will not be burned in its flame.
- 23 Those who forsake the Lord will fall into it.
It will burn among them, and won't be quenched.
It will be sent against them like a lion.
It will destroy them like a leopard.
- 24 As you hedge your possession about with thorns,
and secure your silver and your gold, 25 so make a balance and a weight for your words,
and make a door and a bar for your mouth.
- 26 Take heed lest you slip with it,
lest you fall before one who lies in wait.

29

- 1 He who shows mercy will lend to his neighbor.
He who strengthens him with his hand keeps the commandments.
- 2 Lend to your neighbor in time of his need.
Repay your neighbor on time.
- 3 Confirm your word, and keep faith with him;
and at all seasons you will find what you need.
- 4 Many have considered a loan to be a windfall,
and have given trouble to those who helped them.
- 5 Until he has received, he will kiss a man's hands.
For his neighbor's money he will speak submissively.
Then when payment is due, he will prolong the time,
return excuses, and complain about the season.
- 6 If he prevails, the creditor will hardly receive half;
and he will count it as a windfall.
If not, he has deprived him of his money,

- and he has gotten him for an enemy without cause.
He will pay him with cursing and railing.
Instead of honor, he will pay him disgrace.
- 7 Many on account of fraud have turned away.
They are afraid of being defrauded for nothing.
- 8 However be patient with a man in poor estate.
Don't keep him waiting for your alms.
- 9 Help a poor man for the commandment's sake.
According to his need don't send him empty away.
- 10 Lose your money for a brother and a friend.
Don't let it rust under a stone and be lost.
- 11 Allocate your treasure according to the commandments of the Most High and it will profit you more than gold.
- 12 Store up almsgiving in your store-chambers and it will deliver you out of all affliction.
- 13 It will fight for you against your enemy better than a mighty shield and a ponderous spear.
- 14 A good man will be surety for his neighbor.
He who has lost shame will fail him.
- 15 Don't forget the kindness of your guarantor, for he has given his life for you.
- 16 A sinner will waste the property of his guarantor.
17 He who is thankless will fail him who delivered him.
- 18 Being surety has undone many who were prospering and shaken them as a wave of the sea.
It has driven mighty men from their homes.
They wandered among foreign nations.
- 19 A sinner who falls into suretiship and undertakes contracts for work will fall into lawsuits.
- 20 Help your neighbor according to your power,
and be careful not to fall yourself.
- 21 The essentials of life are water, bread,
a garment, and a house for privacy.
- 22 Better is the life of a poor man under a shelter of logs than sumptuous fare in another man's house.
- 23 With little or with much, be well satisfied.*
- 24 It is a miserable life to go from house to house.
Where you are a guest, you dare not open your mouth.
- 25 You will entertain, serve drinks, and have no thanks.
In addition to this, you will hear bitter words.
- 26 "Come here, you sojourner, set a table, and if you have anything in your hand, feed me with it."
- 27 "Leave, you sojourner, for an honored guest is here.
My brother has come to be my guest. I need my house."
- 28 These things are grievous to a man of understanding:
The scolding about lodging and the insults of creditors.

30

- ¹ He who loves his son will continue to lay stripes upon him, that he may have joy from him in the end.
- ² He who chastises his son will have profit from him,
and will brag about him among his acquaintances.
- ³ He who teaches his son will provoke his enemy to jealousy.
Before friends, he will rejoice in him.
- ⁴ His father dies, and is as though he had not died;
for he has left one behind him like himself.
- ⁵ In his life, he saw his son and rejoiced.
When he died, it was without regret.
- ⁶ He left behind him an avenger against his enemies,
and one to repay kindness to his friends.
- ⁷ He who makes too much of his son will bind up his wounds.
His heart will be troubled at every cry.
- ⁸ An unbroken horse becomes stubborn.
An unrestrained son becomes headstrong.
- ⁹ Pamper your child, and he will make you afraid.
Play with him, and he will grieve you.
- ¹⁰ Don't laugh with him, lest you have sorrow with him,
and you gnash your teeth in the end.
- ¹¹ Give him no liberty in his youth,
and don't ignore his follies.*
- ¹² †Bow down his neck in his youth, and beat him on the sides while he is a child,
lest he become stubborn, and be disobedient to you,
and there be sorrow to your soul.‡
- ¹³ Chastise your son, and give him work, lest his shameless behavior be an offense to you.
- ¹⁴ Better is a poor man who is healthy and fit,
than a rich man who is afflicted in his body.
- ¹⁵ Health and fitness are better than all gold,
and a strong body better than wealth without measure.
- ¹⁶ There is no wealth better than health of body.
There is no gladness above the joy of the heart.
- ¹⁷ Death is better than a bitter life,
and eternal rest than a continual sickness.
- ¹⁸ Good things poured out upon a mouth that is closed are like food offerings laid upon a grave.
- ¹⁹ What does an offering profit an idol?
For it can't eat or smell.
- So is he who is punished by the Lord, ²⁰ seeing with his eyes and groaning, like a eunuch embracing a virgin and groaning.

- ²¹ Don't give your soul to sorrow.
Don't afflict yourself deliberately.
- ²² Gladness of heart is the life of a man.
Cheerfulness of a man lengthens his days.
- ²³ Love your own soul, and comfort your heart.
Remove sorrow far from you,
for sorrow has destroyed many,
and there is no profit in it.
- ²⁴ Envy and wrath shorten life.
Anxiety brings old age before its time.
- ²⁵ Those who are cheerful and merry will benefit from their food.

31

- ¹ Wakefulness that comes from riches consumes the flesh,
and anxiety about it takes away sleep.
- ² Wakeful anxiety will crave slumber.
In a severe disease, sleep will be broken.
- ³ A rich man toils in gathering money together.
When he rests, he is filled with his good things.
- ⁴ A poor man toils in lack of substance.
When he rests, he becomes needy.
- ⁵ He who loves gold won't be justified.
He who follows destruction will himself have his fill of it.
- ⁶ Many have been given over to ruin for the sake of gold.
Their destruction meets them face to face.
- ⁷ It is a stumbling block to those who sacrifice to it.
Every fool will be taken by it.
- ⁸ Blessed is the rich person who is found blameless, and who doesn't go after gold.
- ⁹ Who is he, that we may call him blessed?
For he has done wonderful things among his people.
- ¹⁰ Who has been tried by it, and found perfect?
Then let him boast.
Who has had the power to transgress, and has not transgressed?
And to do evil, and has not done it?
- ¹¹ His prosperity will be made sure.
The congregation will proclaim his alms.
- ¹² Do you sit at a great table? Don't be greedy there.
Don't say, "There is a lot of food on it!"
- ¹³ Remember that a greedy eye is a wicked thing.
What has been created more greedy than an eye?
Therefore it sheds tears from every face.
- ¹⁴ Don't stretch your hand wherever it looks.
Don't thrust yourself with it into the dish.
- ¹⁵ Consider your neighbor's feelings by your own.
Be discreet in every point.
- ¹⁶ Eat like a human being those things which are set before you.
Don't eat greedily, lest you be hated.

- ¹⁷ Be first to stop for manners' sake.
Don't be insatiable, lest you offend.
- ¹⁸ And if you sit among many,
Don't reach out your hand before them.
- ¹⁹ How sufficient to a well-mannered man is a very little.
He doesn't breathe heavily in his bed.
- ²⁰ Healthy sleep comes from moderate eating.
He rises early, and his wits are with him.
- The pain of wakefulness, colic,
and griping are with an insatiable man.
- ²¹ And if you have been forced to eat, rise up in the middle of it, and you shall have rest.
- ²² Hear me, my son, and don't despise me,
and in the end you will appreciate my words.
- In all your works be skillful,
and no disease will come to you.
- ²³ People bless him who is liberal with his food.
The testimony of his excellence will be believed.
- ²⁴ The city will murmur at him who is a stingy with his food.
The testimony of his stinginess will be accurate.
- ²⁵ Don't show yourself valiant in wine, for wine has destroyed many.
- ²⁶ The furnace tests the temper of steel by dipping;
so does wine test hearts in the quarreling of the proud.
- ²⁷ Wine is as good as life to men,
if you drink it in moderation.
- What life is there to a man who is without wine?
It has been created to make men glad.
- ²⁸ Wine drunk in season and in moderation is joy of heart and gladness of soul:
- ²⁹ Wine drunk excessively is bitterness of soul,
with provocation and conflict.
- ³⁰ Drunkenness increases the rage of a fool to his hurt.
It diminishes strength and adds wounds.
- ³¹ Don't rebuke your neighbor at a banquet of wine.
Don't despise him in his mirth.
- Don't speak a word of reproach to him.
Don't distress him by making demands of him.

32

- ¹ Have they made you ruler of a feast?
Don't be lifted up.
Be among them as one of them.
Take care of them first, and then sit down.
- ² And when you have done all your duties, take your place,
that you may be gladdened on their account,
and receive a wreath for your good service.

- ³ Speak, you who are older, for it's your right, but with sound knowledge;
and don't interrupt the music.
- ⁴ Don't pour out talk where there is a performance of music.
Don't display your wisdom at the wrong time.
- ⁵ As a ruby signet in a setting of gold,
so is a music concert at a wine banquet.
- ⁶ As an emerald signet in a work of gold,
so is musical melody with pleasant wine.
- ⁷ Speak, young man, if you are obliged to,
but no more than twice, and only if asked.
- ⁸ Sum up your speech, many things in few words.
Be as one who knows and yet holds his tongue.
- ⁹ When among great men, don't behave as their equal.
When another is speaking, don't babble.
- ¹⁰ Lightning speeds before thunder.
Approval goes before one who is modest.
- ¹¹ Rise up in good time, and don't be last.
Go home quickly and don't loiter
- ¹² Amuse yourself there and do what is in your heart.
Don't sin by proud speech.
- ¹³ For these things bless your Maker, who gives you to drink freely of his good things.
- ¹⁴ He who fears the Lord will receive discipline.
Those who seek him early will find favor.
- ¹⁵ He who seeks the law shall be filled with it,
but the hypocrite will stumble at it.
- ¹⁶ Those who fear the Lord will find true judgment,
and will kindle righteous acts like a light.
- ¹⁷ A sinful man shuns reproof, and will find a judgment according to his will.
- ¹⁸ A sensible person won't neglect a thought.
An insolent and proud man won't crouch in fear, even after he has done a thing by himself without counsel.
- ¹⁹ Do nothing without counsel,
but when you have acted, don't regret it.
- ²⁰ Don't go in a way of conflict.
Don't stumble in stony places.
- ²¹ Don't be overconfident on a smooth road.
²² Beware of your own children.
- ²³ In every work guard your own soul,
for this is the keeping of the commandments.
- ²⁴ He who believes the law gives heed to the commandment.
He who trusts in the Lord will suffer no loss.

33

- ¹ No evil will happen to him who fears the Lord,

- but in trials once and again he will deliver him.
- ² A wise man will not hate the law,
but he who is a hypocrite about it is like a boat in a storm.
- ³ A man of understanding will put his trust in the law.
And the law is faithful to him, as when one asks a divine oracle.
- ⁴ Prepare your speech, and so you will be heard.
Bind up instruction, and make your answer.
- ⁵ The heart of a fool is like a cartwheel.
His thoughts are like a rolling axle.
- ⁶ A stallion horse is like a mocking friend.
He neighs under every one who sits upon him.
- ⁷ Why does one day excel another,
when all the light of every day in the year is from the sun?
- ⁸ They were distinguished by the Lord's knowledge, and he varied seasons and feasts.
- ⁹ Some of them he exalted and hallowed, and some of them he has made ordinary days.
- ¹⁰ And all men are from the ground.
Adam was created from dust.
- ¹¹ In the abundance of his knowledge the Lord distinguished them,
and made their ways different.
- ¹² Some of them he blessed and exalted,
and some of them he made holy and brought near to himself.
Some of them he cursed and brought low,
and overthrew them from their place.
- ¹³ As the clay of the potter in his hand,
all his ways are according to his good pleasure,
so men are in the hand of him who made them,
to render to them according to his judgment.
- ¹⁴ Good is the opposite of evil,
and life is the opposite of death;
so * the sinner is the opposite of the godly.
- ¹⁵ Look upon all the works of the Most High like this,
they come in pairs, one against another.
- ¹⁶ I was the last on watch,
like one who gleanes after the grape gatherers.
- ¹⁷ By the Lord's blessing I arrived before them,
and filled my winepress like one who gathers grapes.
- ¹⁸ Consider that I labored not for myself alone,
but for all those who seek instruction.
- ¹⁹ Hear me, you great men of the people,
and listen with your ears, you rulers of the congregation.
- ²⁰ To son and wife, to brother and friend,
don't give power over yourself while you live,
and don't give your goods to another,

* 33:14 A line of this verse is here omitted by the best authorities.

- lest you regret it and must ask for them.
- 21 While you still live and breath is in you,
don't give yourself over to anybody.
- 22 For it is better that your children should ask from you than that you should look to the hand of your children.
- 23 Excel in all your works.
Don't bring a stain on your honor.
- 24 In the day that you end the days of your life,
in the time of death, distribute your inheritance.
- 25 Fodder, a stick, and burdens are for a donkey.
Bread, discipline, and work are for a servant.
- 26 Set your slave to work, and you will find rest.
Leave his hands idle, and he will seek liberty.
- 27 Yoke and whip will bow the neck.
For an evil slave there are racks and tortures.
- 28 Send him to labor, that he not be idle,
for idleness teaches much mischief.
- 29 Set him to work, as is fit for him.
If he doesn't obey, make his fetters heavy.
- 30 Don't be excessive toward any.
Do nothing unjust.
- 31 If you have a slave, treat him like yourself,
because you have bought him with blood.
- 32 If you have a slave, treat him like yourself.
For like your own soul, you will need him.
- If you treat him ill, and he departs and runs away,
33 which way will you go to seek him?

34

- 1 Vain and false hopes are for a man void of understanding.
Dreams give wings to fools.
- 2 As one who grasps at a shadow and follows after the wind,
so is he who sets his mind on dreams.
- 3 The vision of dreams is a reflection,
the likeness of a face near a face.
- 4 From an unclean thing what can be cleansed?
From that which is false what can be true?
- 5 Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain.
The heart has fantasies like a woman in labor.
- 6 If they are not sent in a visitation from the Most High,
don't give your heart to them.
- 7 For dreams have led many astray.
They have failed by putting their hope in them.
- 8 Without lying the law will be fulfilled.
Wisdom is complete in a faithful mouth.
- 9 A well-instructed man knows many things.
He who has much experience will declare understanding.

- 10 He who has no experience knows few things.
But he who has traveled increases cleverness.
- 11 I have seen many things in my travels.
My understanding is more than my words.
- 12 I was often in danger even to death.
I was preserved because of these experiences.
- 13 The spirit of those who fear the Lord will live,
for their hope is in him who saves them.
- 14 Whoever fears the Lord won't be afraid, and won't be a coward, for he is his hope.
- 15 Blessed is the soul of him who fears the Lord.
To whom does he give heed? Who is his support?
- 16 The eyes of the Lord are on those who love him,
a mighty protection and strong support,
a cover from the hot blast, a shade from the noonday sun,
a guard from stumbling, and a help from falling.
- 17 He raises up the soul, and enlightens the eyes.
He gives health, life, and blessing.
- 18 He who sacrifices a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is made in mockery.
The mockeries of wicked men are not acceptable.
- 19 The Most High has no pleasure in the offerings of the ungodly, Neither is he pacified for sins by the multitude of sacrifices.
- 20 Like one who kills a son before his father's eyes is he who brings a sacrifice from the goods of the poor.
- 21 The bread of the needy is the life of the poor.
He who deprives him of it is a man of blood.
- 22 Like one who murders his neighbor is he who takes away his living.
Like a shedder of blood is he who deprives a hireling of his hire.
- 23 When one builds, and another pulls down,
what profit do they have but toil?
- 24 When one prays, and another curses, whose voice will the Lord listen to?
- 25 He who washes himself after touching a dead body, and touches it again, what does he gain by his washing?
- 26 Even so a man fasting for his sins,
and going again, and doing the same,
who will listen to his prayer?
What profit does he have in his humiliation?

35

- 1 He who keeps the law multiplies offerings.
He who heeds the commandments sacrifices a peace offering.
- 2 He who returns a kindness offers fine flour.
He who gives alms sacrifices a thank offering.
- 3 To depart from wickedness pleases the Lord.
To depart from unrighteousness is an atoning sacrifice.
- 4 See that you don't appear in the presence of the Lord empty.

- ⁵ For all these things are done because of the commandment.
⁶ The offering of the righteous enriches the altar.
The sweet fragrance of it is before the Most High.
⁷ The sacrifice of a righteous man is acceptable.
It won't be forgotten.
⁸ Glorify the Lord with generosity.
Don't reduce the first fruits of your hands.
⁹ In every gift show a cheerful countenance,
And dedicate your tithe with gladness.
¹⁰ Give to the Most High according as he has given.
As your hand has found, give generously.
¹¹ For the Lord repays, and he will repay you sevenfold.
¹² Don't plan to bribe him with gifts, for he will not receive them.
Don't set your mind on an unrighteous sacrifice,
For the Lord is the judge,
and with him is no respect of persons.
¹³ He won't accept any person against a poor man.
He will listen to the prayer of him who is wronged.
¹⁴ He will in no way despise the supplication of the fatherless or the widow, when she pours out her tale.
¹⁵ Don't the tears of the widow run down her cheek?
Isn't her cry against him who has caused them to fall?
¹⁶ He who serves God according to his good pleasure will be accepted.
His supplication will reach to the clouds.
¹⁷ The prayer of the humble pierces the clouds.
until it comes near, he will not be comforted.
He won't depart until the Most High visits and he judges righteously and executes judgment.
¹⁸ And the Lord will not be slack, neither will he be patient toward them, until he has crushed the loins of the unmerciful.
He will repay vengeance to the heathen until he has taken away the multitude of the arrogant and broken in pieces the sceptres of the unrighteous, ¹⁹ until he has rendered to every man according to his deeds, and repaid the works of men according to their plans,
until he has judged the cause of his people,
and he will make them rejoice in his mercy.
²⁰ Mercy is as welcome in the time of his affliction, as clouds of rain in the time of drought.

36

- ¹ Have mercy upon us, O Lord the God of all, and look at us with favor;
² and send your fear upon all the nations.*
³ Lift up your hand against the foreign nations and let them see your mighty power.

* 36:2 The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities.

- ⁴ As you showed your holiness in us before them,
so be magnified in them before us.
- ⁵ Let them know you, as we also have known you,
that there is no God but only you, O God.
- ⁶ Show new signs, and work various wonders.
Glorify your hand and your right arm.[†]
- ⁷ Raise up indignation and pour out wrath.
Take away the adversary and destroy the enemy.
- ⁸ Hasten the time and remember your oath.
Let them declare your mighty works.
- ⁹ Let him who escapes be devoured by raging fire.
May those who harm your people find destruction.
- ¹⁰ Crush the heads of the rulers of the enemies who say, "There is no one but ourselves."
- ¹¹ Gather all the tribes of Jacob together, and[‡] take them for your inheritance, as from the beginning.
- ¹² O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by your name, and upon Israel, whom you likened to a firstborn.
- ¹³ Have compassion upon the city of your sanctuary,
Jerusalem, the place of your rest.
- ¹⁴ Fill Zion. Exalt your oracles and fill your people with your glory.
- ¹⁵ Give testimony to those who were your creatures in the beginning, and fulfill the prophecies that have been spoken in your name.
- ¹⁶ Reward those who wait for you,
and men will put their trust in your prophets.
- ¹⁷ Listen, O Lord, to the prayer of your servants,
according to the blessing of Aaron concerning your people;
and all those who are on the earth will know that you are the Lord, the[§] eternal God.
- ¹⁸ The belly will eat any food,
but one food is better than another.
- ¹⁹ The mouth tastes meats taken in hunting,
so does an understanding heart detect false speech.
- ²⁰ A contrary heart will cause heaviness.
A man of experience will pay him back.
- ²¹ A woman will receive any man,
but one daughter is better than another.
- ²² The beauty of a woman cheers the countenance.
A man desires nothing more.
- ²³ If kindness and humility are on her tongue,
her husband is not like other sons of men.
- ²⁴ He who gets a wife gets his richest treasure,
a help meet for him and a pillar of support.
- ²⁵ Where no hedge is, the property will be plundered.
He who has no wife will mourn as he wanders.

[†] 36:6 The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities. [‡] 36:11 The ancient authorities read I took them for my inheritance: but the Greek text is here very confused. [§] 36:17 Gr. God of the ages.

- 26 For who would trust a nimble robber who skips from city to city?
Even so, who would trust a man who has no nest, and lodges wherever he finds himself at nightfall?

37

- 1 Every friend will say, "I also am his friend";
but there is a friend which is only a friend in name.
- 2 Isn't there a grief in it even to death
when a companion and friend is turned into an enemy?
- 3 O wicked imagination, why were you formed to cover the dry land with deceit?
- 4 There is a companion who rejoices in the gladness of a friend,
but in time of affliction will be against him.
- 5 There is a companion who for the belly's sake labors with his friend, yet in the face of battle will carry his buckler.
- 6 Don't forget a friend in your soul.
Don't be unmindful of him in your riches.
- 7 Every counselor extols counsel,
but some give counsel in their own interest.
- 8 Let your soul beware of a counselor,
and know in advance what is his interest (for he will take counsel for himself), lest he cast the lot against you,
9 and say to you, "Your way is good."
Then he will stand near you, to see what will happen to you.
- 10 Don't take counsel with one who looks askance at you.
Hide your counsel from those who are jealous of you.
- 11 Don't consult with a woman about her rival,
with a coward about war,
with a merchant about business,
with a buyer about selling,
with an envious man about thankfulness,
with an unmerciful man about kindness,
with a sluggard about any kind of work,
with a hireling in your house about finishing his work,
or with an idle servant about much business.
Pay no attention to these in any matter of counsel.
- 12 But rather be continually with a godly man, whom you know to be a keeper of the commandments,
who in his soul is as your own soul,
and who will grieve with you, if you fail.
- 13 Make the counsel of your heart stand, for there is no one more faithful to you than it.
- 14 For a man's soul is sometimes inclined to inform him better than seven watchmen who sit on high on a watch-tower.
- 15 Above all this ask the Most High that he may direct your way in truth.
- 16 Let reason be the beginning of every work.

Let counsel go before every action.

¹⁷ As a token of the changing of the heart,

¹⁸ four kinds of things rise up:

good and evil, life and death.

That which rules over them continually is the tongue.

¹⁹ There is one who is clever and the instructor of many,

and yet is unprofitable to his own soul.

²⁰ There is one who is subtle in words, and is hated.

He will be destitute of all food.

²¹ For grace was not given to him from the Lord, because he is deprived of all wisdom.

²² There is one who is wise to his own soul;

and the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy in the mouth.

²³ A wise man will instruct his own people.

The fruits of his understanding are trustworthy.

²⁴ A wise man will be filled with blessing.

All those who see him will call him happy.

²⁵ The life of a man is counted by days.

The days of Israel are innumerable.

²⁶ The wise man will inherit confidence among his people.

His name will live forever.

²⁷ My son, test your soul in your life.

See what is evil for it, and don't give in to it.

²⁸ For not all things are profitable for all men.

Not every soul has pleasure in everything.

²⁹ Don't be insatiable in any luxury.

Don't be greedy in the things that you eat.

³⁰ For overeating brings disease, and gluttony causes nausea.

³¹ Because of gluttony, many have perished,

but he who takes heed shall prolong his life.

38

¹ Honor a physician according to your need with the honors due to him, for truly the Lord has created him.

² For healing comes from the Most High,
and he shall receive a gift from the king.

³ The skill of the physician will lift up his head.
He will be admired in the sight of great men.

⁴ The Lord created medicines out of the earth.
A prudent man will not despise them.

⁵ Wasn't water made sweet with wood, that its power might be known?

⁶ He gave men skill
that he might be glorified in his marvelous works.

⁷ With them he heals and takes away pain.

⁸ With these, the pharmacist makes a mixture.

God's works won't be brought to an end.
From him, peace is upon the face of the earth.

- ⁹ My son, in your sickness don't be negligent,
but pray to the Lord, and he will heal you.
- ¹⁰ Put away wrong doing, and direct your hands in righteousness.
Cleanse your heart from all sin.
- ¹¹ Give a sweet savor and a memorial of fine flour,
and pour oil on your offering, according to your means.
- ¹² Then give place to the physician, for truly the Lord has created him.
Don't let him leave you, for you need him.
- ¹³ There is a time when in recovery is in their hands.
¹⁴ For they also shall ask the Lord to prosper them in diagnosis and in healing for the maintenance of life.
- ¹⁵ He who sins before his Maker,
let him fall into the hands of the physician.
- ¹⁶ My son, let your tears fall over the dead,
and as one who suffers grievously, begin lamentation.
Wind up his body with due honor.
Don't neglect his burial.
- ¹⁷ Make bitter weeping and make passionate wailing.
Let your mourning be according to his merit, for one day or two, lest you be spoken evil of;
and so be comforted for your sorrow.
- ¹⁸ For from sorrow comes death.
Sorrow of heart saps one's strength.
- ¹⁹ In calamity, sorrow also remains.
A poor man's life is grievous to the heart.
- ²⁰ Don't give your heart to sorrow.
Put it away, remembering the end.
- ²¹ Don't forget it, for there is no returning again.
You do him no good, and you would harm yourself.
- ²² Remember his end, for so also will yours be:
yesterday for me, and today for you.
- ²³ When the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest.
Be comforted for him when his spirit departs from him.
- ²⁴ The wisdom of the scribe comes by the opportunity of leisure.
He who has little business can become wise.
- ²⁵ How could he become wise who holds the plow,
who glories in the shaft of the goad,
who drives oxen and is occupied in their labors,
and who mostly talks about bulls?
- ²⁶ He will set his heart upon turning his furrows.
His lack of sleep is to give his heifers their fodder.
- ²⁷ So is every craftsman and master artisan who passes his time by night as by day,
those who cut engravings of signets.
His diligence is to make great variety.
He sets his heart to preserve likeness in his portraiture,

- and is careful to finish his work.
28 So too is the smith sitting by the anvil and considering the unwrought iron.
The smoke of the fire will waste his flesh.
He toils in the heat of the furnace.
The noise of the hammer deafens his ear.
His eyes are upon the pattern of the object.
He will set his heart upon perfecting his works.
He will be careful to adorn them perfectly.
29 So is the potter sitting at his work and turning the wheel around with his feet, who is always anxiously set at his work.
He produces his handiwork in quantity.
30 He will fashion the clay with his arm and will bend its strength in front of his feet.
He will apply his heart to finish the glazing.
He will be careful to clean the kiln.
31 All these put their trust in their hands.
Each becomes skillful in his own work.
32 Without these no city would be inhabited.
Men wouldn't reside as foreigners or walk up and down there.
33 They won't be sought for in the council of the people.
They won't mount on high in the assembly.
They won't sit on the seat of the judge.
They won't understand the covenant of judgment.
Neither will they declare instruction and judgment.
They won't be found where parables are.
34 But they will maintain the fabric of the age.
Their prayer is in the handiwork of their craft.

39

- 1 Not so he who has applied his soul
and meditates in the law of the Most High.
He will seek out the wisdom of all the ancients and will be occupied with prophecies.
2 He will keep the sayings of the men of renown and will enter in amidst the subtleties of parables.
3 He will seek out the hidden meaning of proverbs and be conversant in the dark sayings of parables.
4 He will serve among great men and appear before him who rules.
He will travel through the land of foreign nations,
for he has learned what is good and evil among men.
5 He will apply his heart to return early to the Lord who made him, and will make supplication before the Most High,
and will open his mouth in prayer,
and will ask for pardon for his sins.
6 If the great Lord wills,

he will be filled with the spirit of understanding;
he will pour forth the words of his wisdom and in prayer give thanks to the Lord.

7 He will direct his counsel and knowledge, and he will meditate in his secrets.

8 He will show the instruction which he has been taught and will glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.

9 Many will commend his understanding.
So long as the world endures, it won't be blotted out.
His memory won't depart.

His name will live from generation to generation.

10 Nations will declare his wisdom.
The congregation will proclaim his praise.

11 If he continues, he will leave a greater name than a thousand.
If he finally rests, it is enough for him.

12 Yet more I will utter, which I have thought about.
I am filled like the full moon.

13 Listen to me, you holy children, and bud forth like a rose growing by a brook of water.

14 Give a sweet fragrance like frankincense.
Put forth flowers like a lily.
Scatter a sweet smell and sing a song of praise.
Bless the Lord for all his works!

15 Magnify his name and give utterance to his praise with the songs on your lips and with harps!
Say this when you utter his praise:

16 All the works of the Lord are exceedingly good,
and every command will be done in its time.

17 No one can say, "What is this?" "Why is that?"
for at the proper time they will all be sought out.
At his word, the waters stood as a heap,
as did the reservoirs of water at the word of his mouth.

18 At his command all his good pleasure is fulfilled.
There is no one who can hinder his salvation.

19 The works of all flesh are before him.
It's impossible to be hidden from his eyes.

20 He sees from everlasting to everlasting.
There is nothing too wonderful for him.

21 No one can say, "What is this?" "Why is that?"
for all things are created for their own uses.

22 His blessing covered the dry land as a river and saturated it as a flood.

23 As he has made the waters salty,
so the heathen will inherit his wrath.

24 His ways are plain to the holy.
They are stumbling blocks to the wicked.

25 Good things are created from the beginning for the good.

So are evil things for sinners.

²⁶ The main things necessary for the life of man are water, fire, iron, salt, wheat flour, and honey, milk,
the blood of the grape, oil, and clothing.

²⁷ All these things are for good to the godly,
but for sinners, they will be turned into evils.

²⁸ There are winds that are created for vengeance, and in their fury they lay on their scourges heavily.
In the time of reckoning, they pour out their strength, and will appease the wrath of him who made them.

²⁹ Fire, hail, famine, and death—
all these are created for vengeance—³⁰ wild beasts' teeth, scorpions, adders, and a sword punishing the ungodly to destruction.

³¹ They will rejoice in his commandment, and will be made ready upon earth when needed.
In their seasons, they won't disobey his command.

³² Therefore from the beginning I was convinced, and I thought it through and left it in writing:

³³ All the works of the Lord are good.
He will supply every need in its time.

³⁴ No one can say, "This is worse than that,"
for they will all be well approved in their time.

³⁵ Now with all your hearts and voices, sing praises and bless the Lord's name!

A heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam,
from the day of their coming forth from their mother's womb, until the day for their burial in the mother of all things.

² The expectation of things to come, and the day of death, trouble their thoughts, and cause fear in their hearts.

³ From him who sits on a throne of glory,
even to him who is humbled in earth and ashes,

⁴ from him who wears purple and a crown,
even to him who is clothed in burlap,

⁵ there is wrath, jealousy, trouble, unrest, fear of death, anger, and strife.

In the time of rest upon his bed,
his night sleep changes his knowledge.

⁶ He gets little or no rest, and afterward in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch,
he is troubled in the vision of his heart,
as one who has escaped from the front of battle.

⁷ In the very time of his deliverance, he awakens, and marvels that the fear is nothing.

- ⁸ To all creatures, human and animal,
and upon sinners sevenfold more,
⁹ come death, bloodshed, strife, sword, calamities, famine, suffering, and plague.
- ¹⁰ All these things were created for the wicked, and because of them the flood came.
- ¹¹ All things that are of the earth turn to the earth again.
All things that are of the waters return into the sea.
- ¹² All bribery and injustice will be blotted out.
Good faith will stand forever.
- ¹³ The goods of the unjust will be dried up like a river, and like a great thunder in rain will go off in noise.
- ¹⁴ In opening his hands, a man will be made glad;
so lawbreakers will utterly fail.
- ¹⁵ The children of the ungodly won't grow many branches, and are as unhealthy roots on a sheer rock.
- ¹⁶ The reeds by every water or river bank will be plucked up before all grass.
- ¹⁷ Kindness is like a garden of blessings.
Almsgiving endures forever.
- ¹⁸ The life of one who labors and is content will be made sweet.
He who finds a treasure is better than both.
- ¹⁹ Children and the building of a city establish a name.
A blameless wife is better than both.
- ²⁰ Wine and music rejoice the heart.
The love of wisdom is better than both.
- ²¹ The pipe and the lute make pleasant melody.
A pleasant tongue is better than both.
- ²² Your eye desires grace and beauty,
but the green shoots of grain more than both.
- ²³ A friend and a companion is always welcome, and a wife with her husband is better than both.
- ²⁴ Relatives and helpers are for a time of affliction, but almsgiving rescues better than both.
- ²⁵ Gold and silver will make the foot stand sure,
and counsel is esteemed better than both.
- ²⁶ Riches and strength will lift up the heart.
The fear of the Lord is better than both.
There is nothing lacking in the fear of the Lord.
In it, there is no need to seek help.
- ²⁷ The fear of the Lord is like a garden of blessing and covers a man more than any glory.
- ²⁸ My son, don't lead a beggar's life.
It is better to die than to beg.
- ²⁹ A man who looks to the table of another,
his life is not to be considered a life.
He will pollute his soul with another person's food, but a wise and well-instructed person will beware of that.

- ³⁰ Begging will be sweet in the mouth of the shameless, but it kindles a fire in his belly.

41

- ¹ O death, how bitter is the memory of you to a man who is at peace in his possessions, to the man who has nothing to distract him and has prosperity in all things, and who still has strength to enjoy food!
- ² O death, your sentence is acceptable to a man who is needy and who fails in strength, who is in extreme old age, is distracted about all things, is perverse, and has lost patience!
- ³ Don't be afraid of the sentence of death.
Remember those who have been before you and who come after.
This is the sentence from the Lord over all flesh.
- ⁴ And why do you refuse when it is the good pleasure of the Most High?
Whether life lasts ten, or a hundred, or a thousand years, there is no inquiry about life in Hades.*
- ⁵ The children of sinners are abominable children and they frequent the dwellings of the ungodly.
- ⁶ The inheritance of sinners' children will perish and with their posterity will be a perpetual disgrace.
- ⁷ Children will complain of an ungodly father, because they suffer disgrace because of him.
- ⁸ Woe to you, ungodly men, who have forsaken the law of the Most High God!†
- ⁹ If you are born, you will be born to a curse.
If you die, a curse will be your portion.
- ¹⁰ All things that are of the earth will go back to the earth;
so the ungodly will go from a curse to perdition.
- ¹¹ The mourning of men is about their bodies;
but the evil name of sinners will be blotted out.
- ¹² Have regard for your name, for it continues with you longer than a thousand great treasures of gold.
- ¹³ A good life has its number of days,
but a good name continues forever.
- ¹⁴ My children, follow instruction in peace.
But wisdom that is hidden and a treasure that is not seen,
what benefit is in them both?
- ¹⁵ Better is a man who hides his foolishness
than a man who hides his wisdom.
- ¹⁶ Therefore show respect for my words;
for it is not good to retain every kind of shame.
Not everything is approved by all in good faith.

* 41:4 or, the place of the dead or; Sheol † 41:8 The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities.

- ¹⁷ Be ashamed of sexual immorality before father and mother, of a lie before a prince and a mighty man, ¹⁸ of an offense before a judge and ruler, of iniquity before the congregation and the people,
of unjust dealing before a partner and friend,
¹⁹ and of theft in the place where you sojourn.

Be ashamed in regard of the truth of God and his covenant,
of leaning on your elbow at dinner,
of contemptuous behavior in the matter of giving and taking,
²⁰ of silence before those who greet you,
of looking at a woman who is a prostitute, ²¹ of turning away your face from a kinsman, of taking away a portion or a gift,
of gazing at a woman who has a husband, ²² of meddling with his maid—and don't come near her bed, of abusive speech to friends—and after you have given, don't insult, ²³ of repeating and speaking what you have heard,
and of revealing of secrets.

²⁴ So you will be ashamed of the right things and find favor in the sight of every man.

42

- ¹ Don't be ashamed of these things,
and don't sin to save face:
² of the law of the Most High and his covenant,
of judgment to do justice to the ungodly,
³ of reckoning with a partner and with travellers, of a gift from the inheritance of friends, ⁴ of exactness of scales and weights, of getting much or little,
⁵ of bargaining dealing with merchants, of frequent correction of children,
and of making the back of an evil slave to bleed.
- ⁶ A seal is good where an evil wife is.
Where there are many hands, lock things up.
- ⁷ Whatever you hand over, let it be by number and weight.
In giving and receiving, let all be in writing.
- ⁸ Don't be ashamed to instruct the unwise and foolish, and one of extreme old age who contends with those who are young.
So you will be well instructed indeed and approved in the sight of every living man.
- ⁹ A daughter is a secret cause of wakefulness to a father.
Care for her takes away sleep—
in her youth, lest she pass the flower of her age;
when she is married, lest she should be hated;
¹⁰ in her virginity, lest she should be defiled and be with child in her father's house;
when she has a husband, lest she should transgress;

- and when she is married, lest she should be barren.
- ¹¹ Keep a strict watch over a headstrong daughter,
lest she make you a laughingstock to your enemies,
a byword in the city and notorious among the people,
and shame you in public.
- ¹² Don't gaze at every beautiful body.
Don't sit in the midst of women.
- ¹³ For from garments comes a moth,
and from a woman comes a woman's wickedness.
- ¹⁴ Better is the wickedness of a man than a pleasant woman,
a woman who puts you to shame and disgrace.
- ¹⁵ I will make mention now of the works of the Lord, and will declare the things that I have seen.
The Lord's works are in his words.
- ¹⁶ The sun that gives light looks at all things.
The Lord's work is full of his glory.
- ¹⁷ The Lord has not given power to the saints to declare all his marvelous works,
which the Almighty Lord firmly settled,
that the universe might be established in his glory.
- ¹⁸ He searches out the deep and the heart.
He has understanding of their secrets.
For the Most High knows all knowledge.
He sees the signs of the world.
- ¹⁹ He declares the things that are past and the things that shall be,
and reveals the traces of hidden things.
- ²⁰ No thought escapes him.
There is not a word hidden from him.
- ²¹ He has ordered the mighty works of his wisdom.
He is from everlasting to everlasting.
Nothing has been added to them, nor diminished from them.
He had no need of any counselor.
- ²² How desirable are all his works!
One may see this even in a spark.
- ²³ All these things live and remain forever in all manner of uses.
They are all obedient.
- ²⁴ All things are in pairs, one opposite the other.
He has made nothing imperfect.
- ²⁵ One thing establishes the good things of another.
Who could ever see enough of his glory?

43

- ¹ The pride of the heavenly heights is the clear sky,
the appearance of heaven, in the spectacle of its glory.
- ² The sun, when it appears, bringing tidings as it rises, is a marvelous instrument, the work of the Most High.
- ³ At noon, it dries up the land.
Who can stand against its burning heat?

- ⁴ A man tending a furnace is in burning heat,
but the sun three times more, burning up the mountains,
breathing out fiery vapors,
and sending out bright beams, it blinds the eyes.
- ⁵ Great is the Lord who made it.
At his word, he hastens on its course.
- ⁶ The moon marks the changing seasons,
declares times, and is a sign for the world.
- ⁷ From the moon is the sign of feast days,
a light that wanes when it completes its course.
- ⁸ The month is called after its name, increasing wonderfully in its changing—an instrument of the army on high, shining in the structure of heaven,
⁹ the beauty of heaven, the glory of the stars, an ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.
- ¹⁰ At the word of the Holy One, they will stand in due order.
They won't faint in their watches.
- ¹¹ Look at the rainbow, and praise him who made it.
It is exceedingly beautiful in its brightness.
- ¹² It encircles the sky with its glorious circle.
The hands of the Most High have stretched it out.
- ¹³ By his commandment, he makes the snow fall and swiftly sends the lightnings of his judgment.
- ¹⁴ Therefore the storehouses are opened,
and clouds fly out like birds.
- ¹⁵ By his mighty power, he makes the clouds strong and the hailstones are broken in pieces.
- ¹⁶ At his appearing, the mountains will be shaken.
At his will, the south wind will blow.
- ¹⁷ The voice of his thunder rebukes the earth.
So does the northern storm and the whirlwind.
Like birds flying down, he sprinkles the snow.
It falls down like the lighting of locusts.
- ¹⁸ The eye is dazzled at the beauty of its whiteness.
The heart is amazed as it falls.
- ¹⁹ He also pours out frost on the earth like salt.
When it is freezes, it has points like thorns.
- ²⁰ The cold north wind blows and ice freezes on the water.
It settles on every pool of water.
The water puts it on like it was a breastplate.
- ²¹ It will devour the mountains, burn up the wilderness, and consume the green grass like fire.
- ²² A mist coming speedily heals all things.
A dew coming after heat brings cheerfulness.
- ²³ By his counsel, he has calmed the deep and planted islands in it.

²⁴ Those who sail on the sea tell of its dangers.

We marvel when we hear it with our ears.

²⁵ There are also those strange and wondrous works in it—variety of all that has life and the huge creatures of the sea.

²⁶ Because of him, his messengers succeed.

By his word, all things hold together.

²⁷ We may say many things, but couldn't say enough.

The summary of our words is, "He is everything!"

²⁸ How could we have strength to glorify him?

For he is himself the greater than all his works.

²⁹ The Lord is awesome and exceedingly great!

His power is marvelous!

³⁰ Glorify the Lord and exalt him as much as you can!

For even yet, he will surpass that.

When you exalt him, summon your full strength.

Don't be weary, because you can't praise him enough.

³¹ Who has seen him, that he may describe him?

Who can magnify him as he is?

³² Many things greater than these are hidden,

for we have seen just a few of his works.

³³ For the Lord made all things.

He gave wisdom to the godly.

¹ Let us now praise famous men,
our ancestors in their generations.

² The Lord created great glory in them—his mighty power from the beginning.

³ Some ruled in their kingdoms and were men renowned for their power, giving counsel by their understanding.

Some have spoken in prophecies,

⁴ leaders of the people by their counsels, and by their understanding, giving instruction for the people.
Their words in their instruction were wise.

⁵ Some composed musical tunes,
and set forth verses in writing,

⁶ rich men endowed with ability, living peaceably in their homes.

⁷ All these were honored in their generations, and were outstanding in their days.

⁸ Some of them have left a name behind them, so that others declare their praises.

⁹ But of others, there is no memory.

They perished as though they had not been.

They become as though they had not been born,
they and their children after them.

¹⁰ But these were men of mercy,

- whose righteous deeds have not been forgotten.
- ¹¹ A good inheritance remains with their offspring.
Their children are within the covenant.
- ¹² Their offspring stand fast,
with their children, for their sakes.
- ¹³ Their offspring will remain forever.
Their glory won't be blotted out.
- ¹⁴ Their bodies were buried in peace.
Their name lives to all generations.
- ¹⁵ People will declare their wisdom.
The congregation proclaims their praise.
- ¹⁶ Enoch pleased the Lord, and was taken up,
an example of repentance to all generations.
- ¹⁷ Noah was found perfect and righteous.
In the season of wrath, he kept the race alive.
Therefore a remnant was left on the earth
when the flood came.
- ¹⁸ Everlasting covenants were made with him, that all flesh should no more be blotted out by a flood.
- ¹⁹ Abraham was a great father of a multitude of nations.
There was none found like him in glory,
²⁰ who kept the law of the Most High,
and was taken into covenant with him.
In his flesh he established the covenant.
When he was tested, he was found faithful.
- ²¹ Therefore he assured him by an oath that the nations would be blessed through his offspring, that he would multiply him like the dust of the earth,
exalt his offspring like the stars,
and cause them to inherit from sea to sea,
and from the Euphrates River to the utmost parts of the earth.
- ²² In Isaac also, he established the same assurance for Abraham his father's sake,
the blessing of all men, and the covenant.
- ²³ He made it rest upon the head of Jacob.
He acknowledged him in his blessings, gave to him by inheritance,
and divided his portions.
He distributed them among twelve tribes.

45

- ¹ He brought out of him a man of mercy,
who found favor in the sight of all people,
a man loved by God and men, even Moses,
whose memory is blessed.
- ² He made him equal to the glory of the saints,
and magnified him in the fears of his enemies.
- ³ By his words he caused the wonders to cease.

- God glorified him in the sight of kings.
He gave him commandments for his people and showed him part of his glory.
- ⁴ He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness.
He chose him out of all people.
- ⁵ He made him to hear his voice,
led him into the thick darkness,
and gave him commandments face to face,
even the law of life and knowledge,
that he might teach Jacob the covenant,
and Israel his judgments.
- ⁶ He exalted Aaron, a holy man like Moses,
even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.
- ⁷ He established an everlasting covenant with him,
and gave him the priesthood of the people.
He blessed him with stateliness,
and dressed him in a glorious robe.
- ⁸ He clothed him in perfect splendor,
and strengthened him with symbols of authority:
the linen trousers, the long robe, and the ephod.
- ⁹ He encircled him with pomegranates;
with many golden bells around him,
to make a sound as he went,
to make a sound that might be heard in the temple,
for a reminder for the children of his people;
- ¹⁰ with a holy garment, with gold, blue, and purple, the work of the embroiderer;
with an oracle of judgment—Urim and Thummim;
- ¹¹ with twisted scarlet, the work of the craftsman;
with precious stones engraved like a signet, in a setting of gold, the work of the jeweller;
for a reminder engraved in writing, after the number of the tribes of Israel;
- ¹² with a crown of gold upon the mitre, having engraved on it, as on a signet, “HOLINESS”, an ornament of honor, the work of an expert,
the desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.
- ¹³ Before him there never have been anything like it.
No stranger put them on, but only his sons and his offspring perpetually.
- ¹⁴ His sacrifices shall be wholly burned, twice every day continually.
- ¹⁵ Moses consecrated him,
and anointed him with holy oil.
It was an everlasting covenant with him and to his offspring, all the days of heaven, to minister to the Lord, to serve as a priest,
and to bless his people in his name.
- ¹⁶ He chose him out of all living to offer sacrifice to the Lord—incense, and a sweet fragrance, for a memorial, to make atonement for your people.

¹⁷ He gave to him in his commandments, authority in the covenants of judgments,
to teach Jacob the testimonies,
and to enlighten Israel in his law.

¹⁸ Strangers conspired against him and envied him in the wilderness:
Dathan and Abiram with their company,
and the congregation of Korah, with wrath and anger.

¹⁹ The Lord saw it, and it displeased him.
In the wrath of his anger, they were destroyed.
He did wonders upon them,
to consume them with flaming fire.

²⁰ He added glory to Aaron, and gave him a heritage.

He divided to him the first fruits of the increase,
and prepared bread of first fruits in abundance.

²¹ For they eat the sacrifices of the Lord, which he gave to him and to his offspring.

²² However, in the land of the people, he has no inheritance, and he has no portion among the people,
for the Lord himself is your portion and inheritance.

²³ Phinehas the son of Eleazar is the third in glory, in that he was zealous in the fear of the Lord,
and stood fast when the people turned away,
and he made atonement for Israel.

²⁴ Therefore, a covenant of peace was established for him, that he should be leader of the sanctuary and of his people, that he and his offspring should have the dignity of the priesthood forever.

²⁵ Also he made a covenant with David the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah.
The inheritance of the king is his alone from son to son.
So the inheritance of Aaron is also to his seed.

²⁶ May God give you wisdom in your heart to judge his people in righteousness, that their good things may not be abolished,
and that their glory may endure for all their generations.

¹ Joshua the son of Nun was valiant in war,
and was the successor of Moses in prophecies.
He was made great according to his name for the saving of* God's elect, to take vengeance on the enemies that rose up against them,

that he might give Israel their inheritance.

² How was he glorified in the lifting up his hands, and in stretching out his sword against the cities!

* 46:1 Gr. his.

- ³ Who before him stood so firm?
For the Lord himself brought his enemies to him.
- ⁴ Didn't the sun go back by his hand?
Didn't one day become as two?
- ⁵ He called upon the Most High, the Mighty One,
when his foes pressed in all around him,
and the great Lord heard him.
- ⁶ With hailstones of mighty power,
he caused war to break violently upon the nation,
and[†] on the slope he destroyed those who resisted,
so that the nations might know his armor,
how he fought in the sight of the Lord;
for he followed the Mighty One.
- ⁷ Also in the time of Moses, he did a work of mercy—
he and Caleb the son of Jephunneh—in that they withstood the adversary, hindered the people from sin,
and stilled their wicked complaining.
- ⁸ And of six hundred thousand people on foot, they two alone were preserved to bring them into their inheritance, into a land flowing with milk and honey.
- ⁹ The Lord gave strength to Caleb, and it remained with him to his old age,
so that he entered the hill country,
and his offspring obtained it for an inheritance,
¹⁰ that all the children of Israel might see that it is good to follow the Lord.
- ¹¹ Also the judges, every one by his name,
all whose hearts didn't engage in immorality,
and who didn't turn away from the Lord—may their memory be blessed!
- ¹² May their bones flourish again out of their place.
May the name of those who have been honored be renewed in their children.
- ¹³ Samuel, the prophet of the Lord, loved by his Lord, established a kingdom and anointed princes over his people.
- ¹⁴ By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation, and the Lord watched over Jacob.
- ¹⁵ By his faithfulness he was proved to be a prophet.
By his words he was known to be faithful in vision.
- ¹⁶ When his enemies pressed on him on every side,
he called upon the Lord, the Mighty One,
with the offering of the suckling lamb.
- ¹⁷ Then the Lord thundered from heaven.
He made his voice heard with a mighty sound.
- ¹⁸ He utterly destroyed the rulers of the Tyrians and all the princes of the Philistines.
- ¹⁹ Before the time of his age-long sleep,

[†] 46:6 See Joshua 10:11

he testified in the sight of the lord and his anointed, “I have not taken any man’s goods, so much as a sandal;”
and no one accused him.

- ²⁰ Even after he fell asleep, he prophesied,
and showed the king his end,
and lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy,
to blot out the wickedness of the people.

47

- ¹ After him, Nathan rose up to prophesy in the days of David.
² As is the fat when it is separated from the peace offering,
so was David separated from the children of Israel.
³ He played with lions as with kids,
and with bears as with lambs of the flock.
⁴ In his youth didn’t he kill a giant,
and take away reproach from the people
when he lifted up his hand with a sling stone, and beat down the boasting Goliath?
⁵ For he called upon the Most High Lord, and he gave him strength in his right hand
to kill a man mighty in war,
to exalt the horn of his people.
⁶ So they glorified him for his tens of thousands, and praised him for the blessings of the Lord,
in that a glorious diadem was given to him.
⁷ For he destroyed the enemies on every side,
and defeated the Philistines his adversaries.
He broke their horn in pieces to this day.
⁸ In every work of his he gave thanks to the Holy One Most High with words of glory.
He sang praise with his whole heart,
and loved him who made him.
⁹ He set singers before the altar,
to make sweet melody by their music.*
¹⁰ He gave beauty to the feasts, and set in order the seasons to completion
while they praised his holy name,
and the sanctuary resounded from early morning.
¹¹ The Lord took away his sins,
and exalted his horn forever.
He gave him a covenant of kings,
and a glorious throne in Israel.
¹² After him a wise son rose up,
who because of him lived in security.
¹³ Solomon reigned in days of peace.
God gave him rest all around,

* 47:9 The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities.

- that he might set up a house for his name,
and prepare a sanctuary forever.
- 14 How wise you were made in your youth,
and filled as a river with understanding!
- 15 Your influence covered the earth,
and you filled it with parables and riddles.
- 16 Your name reached to the far away islands,
and you were loved for your peace.
- 17 For your songs, proverbs, parables,
and interpretations, the countries marveled at you.
- 18 By the name of the Lord God, who is called the God of Israel,
you gathered gold like tin,
and multiplied silver like lead.
- 19 You bowed your loins to women,
and in your body you were brought into subjection.
- 20 You blemished your honor,
and defiled your offspring,
to bring wrath upon your children.
I was grieved for your folly,
21 because the sovereignty was divided,
and a disobedient kingdom ruled out of Ephraim.
- 22 But the Lord will never forsake his mercy.
He won't destroy any of his works,
nor blot out the posterity of his elect.
He won't take away the offspring him who loved him.
He gave a remnant to Jacob,
and to David a root from his own family.
- 23 So Solomon rested with his fathers.
Of his offspring, he left behind him Rehoboam,
the foolishness of the people, and one who lacked understanding,
who made the people revolt by his counsel.
- Also Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin,
and gave a way of sin to Ephraim.
- 24 Their sins were multiplied exceedingly,
until they were removed from their land.
- 25 For they sought out all manner of wickedness,
until vengeance came upon them.

48

- 1 Then Elijah arose, the prophet like fire.
His word burned like a torch.
- 2 He brought a famine upon them,
and by his zeal made them few in number.
- 3 By the word of the Lord he shut up the heavens.
He brought down fire three times.
- 4 How you were glorified, O Elijah, in your wondrous deeds!
Whose glory is like yours?

- 5 You raised up a dead man from death,
from Hades, by the word of the Most High.
- 6 You brought down kings to destruction,
and honorable men from their sickbeds.
- 7 You heard rebuke in Sinai,
and judgments of vengeance in Horeb.
- 8 You anointed kings for retribution,
and prophets to succeed after you.
- 9 You were taken up in a tempest of fire,
in a chariot of fiery horses.
- 10 You were recorded for reproofs in their seasons,
to pacify anger, before it broke out into wrath,
to turn the heart of the father to the son,
and to restore the tribes of Jacob.
- 11 Blessed are those who saw you,
and those who have been beautified with love;
for we also shall surely live.
- 12 Elijah was wrapped in a whirlwind.
Elisha was filled with his spirit.
In his days he was not moved by the fear of any ruler,
and no one brought him into subjection.
- 13 Nothing was too hard for him.
When he was buried, his body prophesied.
- 14 As in his life he did wonders,
so his works were also marvelous in death.
- 15 For all this the people didn't repent.
They didn't depart from their sins, until they were carried away as a plunder from their land,
and were scattered through all the earth.
- The people were left very few in number,
but with a ruler from the house of David.
- 16 Some of them did that which was right,
but some multiplied sins.
- 17 Hezekiah fortified his city,
and brought water into its midst.
He tunneled through rock with iron,
and built cisterns for water.
- 18 In his days Sennacherib invaded,
and sent Rabshakeh, and departed.
He lifted up his hand against Zion,
and boasted great things in his arrogance.
- 19 Then their hearts and their hands were shaken,
and they were in pain, as women in labor.
- 20 But they called upon the Lord who is merciful, spreading out their hands to him.
- The Holy One quickly heard them out of Heaven, and delivered them by the hand of Isaiah.
- 21 He struck the camp of the Assyrians, and his angel utterly destroyed them.

- ²² For Hezekiah did that which was pleasing to the Lord, and was strong in the ways of his ancestor David,
which Isaiah the prophet commanded,
who was great and faithful in his vision.
- ²³ In his days the sun went backward.
He prolonged the life of the king.
- ²⁴ He saw by an excellent spirit what would come to pass in the future;
and he comforted those who mourned in Zion.
- ²⁵ He showed the things that would happen through the end of time, and the hidden things before they came.

49

- ¹ The memory of Josiah is like the composition of incense prepared by the work of the perfumer.
It will be sweet as honey in every mouth,
and like music at a banquet of wine.
- ² He did what was right in the reforming of the people,
and took away the abominations of iniquity.
- ³ He set his heart right toward the Lord.
In lawless days, he made godliness prevail.
- ⁴ Except David, Hezekiah, and Josiah,
all were wicked,
because they abandoned the law of the Most High.
The kings of Judah came to an end.
- ⁵ They gave their power to others,
and their glory to a foreign nation.
- ⁶ They set the chosen city of the sanctuary on fire and made her streets desolate, as it was written by the hand of Jeremiah.
- ⁷ For they mistreated him;
yet he was sanctified in the womb to be a prophet, to root out, to afflict, to destroy and likewise to build and to plant.
- ⁸ Ezekiel saw the vision of glory,
which God showed him on the chariot of the cherubim.
- ⁹ For truly he remembered the enemies in rainstorm, and to do good to those who directed their ways aright.
- ¹⁰ Also of the twelve prophets,*
may their bones flourish again out of their place.
He comforted the people of Jacob,
and delivered them by confident hope.
- ¹¹ How shall we magnify Zerubbabel?
He was like a signet ring on the right hand.
- ¹² So was Jesus the son of Josedek, who in their days built the house,

* 49:10 The remainder of this line is omitted by the best authorities.

and exalted a† people holy to the Lord, prepared for everlasting glory.

13 Also of Nehemiah the memory is great.

He raised up for us fallen walls,
set up the gates and bars,
and rebuilt our houses.

14 No man was created upon the earth like Enoch,
for he was taken up from the earth.

15 Nor was there a man born like Joseph,
a leader of his kindred, a supporter of the people.
Even his bones were cared for.

16 Shem and Seth were honored among men, but above every living thing in the creation was Adam.

50

1 It was Simon, the son of Onias, the high priest, who in his life repaired the house,
and in his days strengthened the temple.

2 The foundation was built by him to the height of the double walls, the lofty retaining walls of the temple enclosure.

3 In his days, a water cistern was dug,
the brazen vessel like the sea in circumference.

4 He planned to save his people from ruin,
and fortified the city against siege.

5 How glorious he was when the people gathered around him as he came out of the house of the veil!

6 He was like the morning star among clouds,
like the full moon,

7 like the sun shining on the temple of the Most High,
like the rainbow shining in clouds of glory,

8 like roses in the days of first fruits,
like lilies by a water spring,

like the shoot of the frankincense tree in summer time,

9 like fire and incense in the censer, like a vessel of beaten gold adorned with all kinds of precious stones,

10 like an olive tree loaded with fruit, and like a cypress growing high among the clouds.

11 When he put on his glorious robe,
and clothed himself in perfect splendor, ascending to the holy altar,
he made the court of the sanctuary glorious.

12 When he received the portions out of the priests' hands,
as he stood by the hearth of the altar;
with his kindred like a garland around him,
he was like a young cedar in Lebanon surrounded by the trunks of palm trees.

13 All the sons of Aaron in their glory,

† 49:12 Some ancient authorities read temple.

- held the Lord's offering in their hands before all the congregation of Israel.
- 14 Finishing the service at the altars, that he might arrange the offering of the Most High, the Almighty, 15 he stretched out his hand to the cup of libation, and poured out the cup of the grape.
He poured it out at the foot of the altar,
a sweet smelling fragrance to the Most High, the King of all.
- 16 Then the sons of Aaron shouted.
They sounded the trumpets of beaten work.
They made a great fanfare to be heard,
for a reminder before the Most High.
- 17 Then all the people together hurried,
and fell down to the ground on their faces to worship their Lord, the Almighty, God Most High.
- 18 The singers also praised him with their voices.
There was a sweet melody in the whole house.
- 19 And the people implored the Lord Most High,
in prayer before him who is merciful,
until the worship of the Lord was finished,
and so they accomplished his service.
- 20 Then he went down, and lifted up his hands over the whole congregation of the children of Israel, to give blessing to the Lord with his lips,
and to glory in his name.
- 21 He bowed himself down in worship the second time, to declare the blessing from the Most High.
- 22 Now bless the God of all,
who everywhere does great things,
who exalts our days from the womb,
and deals with us according to his mercy.
- 23 May he grant us joyfulness of heart, and that peace may be in our days in Israel for the days of eternity, 24 to entrust his mercy with us,
and let him deliver us in his time!
- 25 With two nations my soul is vexed,
and the third is no nation:
26 Those who sit on the mountain of* Samaria, the Philistines, and the foolish people who live in Shechem.
- 27 I have written in this book the instruction of understanding and knowledge,
I Jesus, the son of Sirach Eleazar, of Jerusalem, who out of his heart poured forth wisdom.
- 28 Blessed is he who will exercise these things.
He who lays them up in his heart will become wise.
- 29 For if he does them, he will be strong in all things,

* 50:26 According to some ancient versions, Seir.

for the light of the Lord is his guide.[†]

51

A Prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

¹ I will give thanks to you, O Lord, O King, and will praise you, O God my Savior.

I give thanks to your name,

² for you have been my protector and helper,
and delivered my body out of destruction,
and out of the snare of a slanderous tongue,
from lips that fabricate lies.

You were my helper before those who stood by,

³ and delivered me, according to the abundance of your mercy and of your name,

from the gnashings of teeth ready to devour,
out of the hand of those seeking my life,
out of the many afflictions I endured,

⁴ from the choking of a fire on every side, and out of the midst of fire that I hadn't kindled,

⁵ out of the depth of the belly of Hades,
from an unclean tongue,
and from lying words—

⁶ the slander of an unrighteous tongue to the king.

My soul drew near to death.

My life was near to Hades.

⁷ They surrounded me on every side.

There was no one to help me.

I was looking for human help,
and there was none.

⁸ Then I remembered your mercy, O Lord, and your working which has been from everlasting,
how you deliver those who wait for you,
and save them out of the hand of their enemies.

⁹ I lifted up my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliverance from death.

¹⁰ I called upon the Lord, the Father of my Lord, that he would not forsake me in the days of affliction,
in the time when there was no help against the proud.

¹¹ I will praise your name continually.
I will sing praise with thanksgiving.
My prayer was heard.

¹² You saved me from destruction and delivered me from the evil time.

Therefore I will give thanks and praise to you,
and bless the name of the Lord.

¹³ When I was yet young,
before I went abroad,
I sought wisdom openly in my prayer.

[†] 50:29 The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities.

- 14 Before the temple I asked for her.
I will seek her out even to the end.
- 15 From the first flower to the ripening grape my heart delighted in her.
My foot walked in uprightness.
From my youth I followed her steps.
- 16 I inclined my ear a little, and received her,
and found for myself much instruction.
- 17 I profited in her.
I will give glory to him who gives me wisdom.
- 18 For I determined to practice her.
I was zealous for that which is good.
I will never be put to shame.
- 19 My soul has wrestled with her.
In my conduct I was exact.
- I spread out my hands to the heaven above,
and bewailed my ignorances of her.
- 20 I directed my soul to her.
In purity I found her.
- I got myself a heart joined with her from the beginning.
Therefore I won't be forsaken.
- 21 My belly also was troubled to seek her.
Therefore I have gained a good possession.
- 22 The Lord gave me a tongue for my reward.
I will praise him with it.
- 23 Draw near to me, all you who are uneducated, and live in the house of instruction.
- 24 Why therefore are you all lacking in these things,
and your souls are very thirsty?
- 25 I opened my mouth and spoke,
"Get her for yourselves without money."
- 26 Put your neck under the yoke,
and let your soul receive instruction.
She is near to find.
- 27 See with your eyes
how that I labored just a little and found for myself much rest.
- 28 Get instruction with a great sum of silver,
and gain much gold by her.
- 29 May your soul rejoice in his mercy, and may you all not be put to shame in praising him.
- 30 Work your work before the time comes,
and in his time he will give you your reward.

Baruch

The book of Baruch is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Russian Orthodox Churches. In some Bibles, Baruch chapter 6 is listed as a separate book called The Letter of Jeremiah, reflecting its separation from Baruch in some copies of the Greek Septuagint.

¹⁰ And they said: Behold, we have sent you money; therefore buy with the money burnt offerings, sin offerings, and incense, and prepare an oblation, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God; ¹¹ and pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his son, that their days may be† as the days of heaven above the earth. ¹² The Lord will give us strength and light to our eyes. We will live under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon and under the shadow of Baltasar his son, and we shall serve them many days, and find favor in their sight. ¹³ Pray for us also to the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God. To this day the wrath of the Lord and his indignation is not turned from us. ¹⁴ You shall read this book which we have sent to you, to make confession in the house of the Lord upon the day of the feast and on the days of the solemn assembly.

¹⁵ You shall say: To the Lord our God belongs righteousness, but to us confusion of face, as at this day—to the men of Judah, to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, ¹⁶ to our kings, to our princes, to our priests, to our prophets, and to our fathers, ¹⁷ because we have sinned before the Lord. ¹⁸ We have disobeyed him and have not listened to the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he has set before us. ¹⁹ Since the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt to this present day, we have been disobedient to the Lord our God, and we have been negligent in not listening to his voice. ²⁰ Therefore the plagues have clung to us, along with the curse which the Lord declared through Moses his servant in the day that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt to give us a land that flows with milk and honey, as at this day. ²¹ Nevertheless we didn't listen to the voice of the Lord our God, according to all the words of the prophets whom he sent to us, ²² but we each walked in the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods and to do what is evil in the sight of the Lord our God.

¹¹ And now, O Lord, you God of Israel who have brought your people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, with signs, with wonders, with great power, and with a high arm, and have gotten yourself a name, as at this day: ¹² O Lord our God, we have sinned. We have been ungodly. We have done wrong in all your ordinances. ¹³ Let your wrath turn from us, for we are but a few left among the heathen where you have scattered us. ¹⁴ Hear our prayer, O Lord, and our petition, and deliver us for your own sake. Give us favor in the sight of those who have led us away captive, ¹⁵ that all the earth may know that you are the Lord our God, because Israel and his posterity is called by your name. ¹⁶ O Lord, look down from your holy house and consider us. Incline your ear, O Lord, and hear. ¹⁷ Open your eyes, and see; for the dead that are in Hades, whose breath is taken from their bodies, will give to the Lord neither glory nor righteousness; ¹⁸ but the soul who is greatly vexed, who goes stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will declare your glory and righteousness, O Lord.

¹⁹ For we do not present our supplication before you, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers and of our kings. ²⁰ For you have sent your wrath and your indignation upon us, as you have spoken by your servants the prophets, saying, ²¹ "The Lord says, 'Bow your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon, and remain in the land that I gave to your fathers. ²² But if you won't hear the voice of the Lord to serve the king of Babylon, ²³ I will cause to cease out of the cities of Judah and from the region near Jerusalem the voice of mirth, the voice of gladness, voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride. The whole land will be desolate without inhabitant.' " ²⁴ But we wouldn't listen to your voice, to serve the king of Babylon. Therefore you have made good your words that you spoke by your servants the prophets, that the bones of our kings and the bones of our fathers would be taken out of their places. ²⁵ Behold, they are cast out to the heat by day and to the frost by night. They died in great miseries by famine, by sword, and by† pestilence. ²⁶ You have made the house that is called by your name as it is today because of the wickedness of the house of Israel and the house of Judah.

²⁷ Yet, O Lord our God, you have dealt with us after all your kindness and according to all your great mercy, ²⁸ as you spoke by your servant Moses in the day when you commanded him to write your law in the presence of the children of Israel, saying, ²⁹ "If you won't hear my voice, surely this very great multitude will be turned into a small number among the nations where I will scatter them. ³⁰ For I know that they will not hear me, because they are a stiff-necked people; but in the land of their captivity they will take it to heart, ³¹ and will know that I am the Lord their God. I will give them a heart and ears to hear. ³² Then they will praise me in the land of their captivity, and think about my name, ³³ and will return from their stiff neck and from their wicked deeds; for they will remember the way of their fathers who sinned before the Lord. ³⁴ I will bring them again into the land which I promised to their fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, and they will rule over it. I will increase them, and they won't be diminished. ³⁵ And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they will be my people. I will no more remove my people Israel out of the land that I have given them."

¹ O Lord Almighty, you God of Israel, the soul in anguish and the troubled spirit cries to you. ² Hear, O Lord, and have mercy; for you are a merciful God. Yes, have mercy upon us, because we have sinned before you. ³ For you are enthroned forever, and we keep perishing. ⁴ O Lord Almighty, you God of Israel, hear now the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of the children of those who were sinners before you, who didn't listen to the voice of you their God; because of this, these plagues cling to us. ⁵ Don't remember the iniquities of our fathers, but remember your power and your name at this time. ⁶ For you are the Lord our God, and we will praise you, O Lord. ⁷ For this cause, you have put your fear in our hearts, to the intent that we should call upon your name. We will praise you in our captivity, for we have called to mind all the iniquity of our fathers who sinned before you. ⁸ Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity where you have scattered us, for a reproach and a curse, and to be subject to penalty according to all the iniquities of our fathers who departed from the Lord our God.

⁹ Hear, O Israel, the commandments of life! Give ear to understand wisdom! ¹⁰ How is it, O Israel, that you are in your enemies' land, that you have become old in a strange country, that you are defiled with the dead,

† 2:25 See Jeremiah 32:36.

¹¹ that you are counted with those who are in Hades? ¹² You have forsaken the fountain of wisdom. ¹³ If you had walked in the way of God, you would have dwelled in peace forever. ¹⁴ Learn where there is wisdom, where there is strength, and where there is understanding, that you may also know where there is length of days and life, where there is the light of the eyes and peace. ¹⁵ Who has found out her place? Who has come into her treasures? ¹⁶ Where are the princes of the heathen, and those who ruled the beasts that are on the earth, ¹⁷ those who had their pastime with the fowls of the air, and those who hoarded up silver and gold, in which people trust, and of their getting there is no end? ¹⁸ For those who diligently sought silver, and were so anxious, and whose works are past finding out, ¹⁹ they have vanished and gone down to Hades, and others have come up in their place.

²⁴ O Israel, how great is the house of God! How large is the place of his possession! ²⁵ It is great and has no end. It is high and unmeasurable. ²⁶ Giants were born that were famous of old, great of stature, and expert in war. ²⁷ God didn't choose these, nor did he give the way of knowledge to them, ²⁸ so they perished, because they had no wisdom. They perished through their own foolishness. ²⁹ Who has gone up into heaven, taken her, and brought her down from the clouds? ³⁰ Who has gone over the sea, found her, and will bring her for choice gold? ³¹ There is no one who knows her way, nor any who comprehend her path. ³² But he that knows all things knows her; he found her out with his understanding. He who prepared the earth for all time has filled it with four-footed beasts. ³³ It is he who sends forth the light, and it goes. He called it, and it obeyed him with fear. ³⁴ The stars shone in their watches, and were glad. When he called them, they said, "Here we are." They shone with gladness to him who made them. ³⁵ This is our God. No other can be compared to him. ³⁶ He has found out all the way of knowledge, and has given it to Jacob his servant and to Israel who is loved by him. ³⁷ Afterward she appeared upon earth, and lived with men.

⁵ Be of good cheer, my people, the memorial of Israel. ⁶ You were not sold to the nations for destruction, but because you moved God to wrath, you were delivered to your adversaries. ⁷ For you provoked him who made you by sacrificing to demons and not to God. ⁸ You forgot the everlasting God who brought you up. You also grieved Jerusalem, who nursed you. ⁹ For she saw the wrath that came upon you from God, and said, "Listen, you who dwell near Zion; for God has brought upon me great mourning. ¹⁰ For I have seen the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting has brought upon them. ¹¹ For with joy I nourished them, but sent them away with weeping and mourning. ¹² Let no man rejoice over me, a widow and forsaken by many. For the sins of my children, I am left desolate, because they turned away from the law of God ¹³ and had no regard for his statutes. They didn't walk in the ways of God's commandments or tread in the paths of discipline in his righteousness. ¹⁴ Let those who dwell near Zion come and remember the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting has brought upon them. ¹⁵ For he has brought a nation upon them from afar, a shameless nation with a strange language, who didn't respect old men or pity children. ¹⁶ They have carried away the dear beloved sons of the widow, and left her who was alone desolate of her daughters."

¹⁷ But I—how can I help you? ¹⁸ For he who brought these calamities upon you will deliver you from the hand of your enemies. ¹⁹ Go your way, O my children. Go your way, for I am left desolate. ²⁰ I have put off the garment of peace, and put on the sackcloth of my petition. I will cry to the Everlasting as long as I live.

²¹ Take courage, my children. Cry to God, and he will deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies. ²² For I have trusted in the Everlasting, that he will save you; and joy has come to me from the Holy One, because of the mercy that will soon come to you from your Everlasting Savior. ²³ For I sent you out with mourning and weeping, but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness forever. ²⁴ For as now those who dwell near Zion have seen your captivity, so they will shortly see your salvation from our God which will come upon you with great glory and brightness of the Everlasting. ²⁵ My children, suffer patiently the wrath that has come upon you from God, for your enemy has persecuted you; but shortly you will see his destruction and will tread upon their necks. ²⁶ My delicate ones have traveled rough roads. They were taken away like a flock carried off by enemies.

²⁷ Take courage, my children, and cry to God; for you will be remembered by him who has brought this upon you. ²⁸ For as it was your decision to go astray from God, return and seek him ten times more. ²⁹ For he who brought these calamities upon you will bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation. ³⁰ Take courage, O Jerusalem, for he who called you by name will comfort you. ³¹ Miserable are those who afflicted you and rejoiced at your fall. ³² Miserable are the cities which your children served. Miserable is she who received your sons. ³³ For as she rejoiced at your fall and was glad of your ruin, so she will be grieved at her own desolation. ³⁴ And I will take away her pride in her great multitude and her boasting will be turned into mourning. ³⁵ For fire will come upon her from the Everlasting for many days; and she will be inhabited by demons for a long time.

¹ Take off the garment of your mourning and affliction, O Jerusalem, and put on forever the beauty of the glory from God. ² Put on the robe of the righteousness from God. Set on your head a diadem of the glory of the Everlasting. ³ For God will show your splendor everywhere under heaven. ⁴ For your name will be called by God forever "Righteous Peace, Godly Glory".

⁵ Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand upon the height. Look around you toward the east and see your children gathered from the going down of the sun to its rising at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing that God has remembered them. ⁶ For they went from you on foot, being led away by their enemies, but God brings them in to you carried on high with glory, on a royal throne. ⁷ For God has appointed that every high mountain and the everlasting hills should be made low, and the valleys filled up to make the ground level, that Israel may go safely in the glory of God. ⁸ Moreover the woods and every sweet smelling tree have shaded Israel by the commandment of God. ⁹ For God will lead Israel with joy in the light of his glory with the mercy and righteousness that come from him.

The Letter of Jeremy (Jeremiah)

² Because of the sins which you have committed before God, you will be led away captives to Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians. ³ So when you come to Babylon, you will remain there many years, and for a long season, even for seven generations. After that, I will bring you out peacefully from there. ⁴ But now you will see in Babylon gods of silver, gold, wood carried on shoulders, which cause the nations to fear. ⁵ Beware therefore that you in no way become like these foreigners. Don't let fear take hold of you because of them when you see the multitude before them and behind them, worshipping them. ⁶ But say in your hearts, "O Lord, we must worship you." ⁷ For my angel is with you, and I myself care for your souls. ⁸ For their tongue is polished by the workman, and they themselves are overlaid with gold and with silver; yet they are only fake, and can't speak. ⁹ And taking gold, as if it were for a virgin who loves to be happy, they make crowns for the heads of their gods. ¹⁰ Sometimes also the priests take gold and silver from their gods, and spend it on themselves. ¹¹ They will even give some of it to the common prostitutes. They dress them like men with garments, even the gods of silver, gods of gold, and gods of wood. ¹² Yet these gods can't save themselves from rust and moths, even though they are covered with purple garments. ¹³ They wipe their faces because of the dust of the temple, which is thick upon them. ¹⁴ And he who can't put to death one who offends against him holds a sceptre, as though he were judge of a country. ¹⁵ He has also a dagger in his right hand, and an axe, but can't deliver himself from war and robbers. ¹⁶ By this they are known not to be gods. Therefore don't fear them. ¹⁷ For like a vessel that a man uses is worth nothing when it is broken, even so it is with their gods. When they are set up in the temples, their eyes are full of dust through the feet of those who come in. ¹⁸ As the courts are secured on every side upon him who offends the king, as being committed to suffer death, even so the priests secure their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, lest they be carried off by robbers. ¹⁹ They light candles for them, yes, more than for themselves, even though they can't see one. ²⁰ They are like one of the beams of the temple. Men say their hearts are eaten out when things creeping out of the earth devour both them and their clothing. They don't feel it ²¹ when their faces are blackened through the smoke that comes out of the temple. ²² Bats, swallows, and birds land on their bodies and heads. So do the cats. ²³ By this you may know that they are no gods. Therefore don't fear them. ²⁴ Notwithstanding the gold with which they are covered to make them beautiful, unless someone wipes off the tarnish, they won't shine; for they didn't even feel it when they were molten. ²⁵ Things in which there is no breath are bought at any cost. ²⁶ Having no feet, they are carried upon shoulders. By this, they declare to men that they are worth nothing. ²⁷ Those who serve them are also ashamed, for if they fall to the ground at any time, they can't rise up again by themselves. If they are bowed down, they can't make themselves straight; but the offerings are set before them, as if they were dead men. ²⁸ And the things that are sacrificed to them, their priests sell and spend. In like manner, their wives also lay up part of it in salt; but to the poor and to the impotent they give none of it. ²⁹ The menstruous woman and the woman in childbed touch their sacrifices, knowing therefore by these things that they are no gods. Don't fear them. ³⁰ For how can they be called gods? Because women set food before the gods of silver, gold, and wood. ³¹ And in their temples the priests sit on seats, having their clothes torn and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing on their heads. ³² They roar and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead. ³³ The priests also take off garments from them and clothe their wives and children with them. ³⁴ Whether it is evil or good what one does to them, they are not able to repay it. They can't set up a king or put him down. ³⁵ In like manner, they can neither give riches nor money. Though a man make a vow to them and doesn't keep it, they will never exact it. ³⁶ They can save no man from death. They can't deliver the weak from the mighty. ³⁷ They can't restore a blind man to his sight, or deliver anyone who is in distress. ³⁸ They can show no mercy to the widow, or do good to the fatherless. ³⁹ They are like the stones that are cut out of the mountain, these gods of wood that are overlaid with gold and with silver. Those who minister to them will be confounded.

⁴⁰ How could a man then think or say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonor them? ⁴¹ If they shall see one mute who can't speak, they bring him and ask him to call upon Bel, as though he were able to understand. ⁴² Yet they can't perceive this themselves, and forsake them; for they have no understanding. ⁴³ The women also with cords around them sit in the ways, burning bran for incense; but if any of them, drawn by someone who passes by, lies with him, she reproaches her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself and her cord wasn't broken. ⁴⁴ Whatever is done among them is false. How could a man then think or say that they are gods? ⁴⁵ They are fashioned by carpenters and goldsmiths. They can be nothing else than what the workmen make them to be. ⁴⁶ And they themselves who fashioned them can never continue long. How then should the things that are fashioned by them? ⁴⁷ For they have left lies and reproaches to those who come after. ⁴⁸ For when there comes any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them. ⁴⁹ How then can't men understand that they are no gods, which can't save themselves from war or from plague? ⁵⁰ For seeing they are only wood and overlaid with gold and silver, it will be known hereafter that they are false. ⁵¹ It will be manifest to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but the works of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them. ⁵² Who then may not know that they are not gods?

⁵³ For they can't set up a king in a land or give rain to men. ⁵⁴ They can't judge their own cause, or redress a wrong, being unable; for they are like crows between heaven and earth. ⁵⁵ For even when fire falls upon the house of gods of wood overlaid with gold or with silver, their priests will flee away, and escape, but they themselves will be burned apart like beams. ⁵⁶ Moreover they can't withstand any king or enemies. How could a man then admit or think that they are gods? ⁵⁷ Those gods of wood overlaid with silver or with gold aren't able to escape from thieves or robbers. ⁵⁸ The gold, silver, and garments with which they are clothed—those who are strong will take from them, and go away with them. They won't be able to help themselves. ⁵⁹ Therefore it is better to be a king who shows his manhood, or else a vessel in a house profitable for whatever the owner needs, than such false gods—or even a door in a house, to keep the things safe that are in it, than such false gods; or better to be a pillar of wood in a palace than such false gods.

⁶⁰ For sun, moon, and stars, being bright and sent to do their jobs, are obedient. ⁶¹ Likewise also the lightning when it flashes is beautiful to see. In the same way, the wind also blows in every country. ⁶² And when God commands the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are told. ⁶³ And the fire sent from above to consume mountains and woods does as it is commanded; but these are to be compared to them neither in show nor power. ⁶⁴ Therefore a man shouldn't think or say that they are gods, seeing they aren't able to judge causes or to do good to men. ⁶⁵ Knowing therefore that they are no gods, don't fear them. ⁶⁶ For they can neither curse nor bless kings. ⁶⁷ They can't show signs in the heavens among the nations, or shine as the sun, or give light as the moon. ⁶⁸ The beasts are better than they; for they can get under a covert, and help themselves. ⁶⁹ In no way then is it manifest to us that they are gods. Therefore don't fear them. ⁷⁰ For as a scarecrow in a garden of cucumbers that keeps nothing, so are their gods of wood overlaid with gold and silver. ⁷¹ Likewise also their gods of wood overlaid with gold and with silver, are like a white thorn in an orchard that every bird sits upon. They are also like a dead body that is thrown out into the dark. ⁷² You will know them to be no gods by the bright purple that rots upon them. They themselves will be consumed afterwards, and will be a reproach in the country. ⁷³ Better therefore is the just man who has no idols; for he will be far from reproach.

The First Book of the Maccabees

The First Book of the Maccabees is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Russian Orthodox Churches.

¹ After Alexander the Macedonian, the son of Philip, who came out of the land of Chittim, and struck Darius king of the Persians and Medes, it came to pass, after he had struck him, that he reigned in his place, in former time, over* Greece. ² He fought many battles, won many strongholds, killed the kings of the earth, ³ went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of a multitude of nations. The earth was quiet before him. He was exalted. His heart was lifted up. ⁴ He gathered together an exceedingly strong army and ruled over countries, nations, and principalities, and they paid him tribute.

⁵ After these things he fell sick, and perceived that he was going to die. ⁶ He called his honorable servants, which had been brought up with him from his youth, and he divided to them his kingdom while he was still alive. ⁷ Alexander reigned twelve years, then he died. ⁸ Then his servants ruled, each one in his place. ⁹ They all put crowns upon themselves after he was dead, and so did their sons after them many years; and they multiplied evils in the earth.

¹¹ In those days transgressors of the law came out of Israel and persuaded many, saying, "Let's go make a covenant with the‡ Gentiles around us; for since we were separated from them many evils have befallen us." ¹² That proposal was good in their eyes. ¹³ Some of the people eagerly went to the king, and he authorized them to observe the ordinances of the§ Gentiles. ¹⁴ So* they built a gymnasium in Jerusalem according to the laws of the† Gentiles. ¹⁵ They made themselves uncircumcised, forsook the holy covenant, joined themselves to the‡ Gentiles, and sold themselves to do evil.

table of the show bread, the cups for the drink offerings, the bowls, the golden censers, the veil, the crowns, and the gold decoration on the front of the temple. He peeled it all off. ²³ He took the silver, the gold, and the precious vessels. He took the hidden treasures which he found. ²⁴ When he had taken all of these, he went away into his own land. He made a great slaughter, and spoke very arrogantly. ²⁵ Great mourning came upon Israel, in every place where they were. ²⁶ The rulers and elders groaned. The virgins and young men were made feeble. The beauty of the women was changed. ²⁷ Every bridegroom took up lamentation. She who sat in the marriage chamber was mourning. ²⁸ The land was moved for its inhabitants, and all the house of Jacob was clothed with shame.

²⁹ § After two full years, the king sent a chief collector of tribute to the cities of Judah, and he came to Jerusalem with a ^{*} great multitude. ³⁰ He spoke words of peace to them in subtlety, and they believed him. Then he fell upon the city suddenly, struck it very severely, and destroyed many people of Israel. ³¹ He took the spoils of the city, set it on fire, and pulled down its houses and its walls on every side. ³² They led captive the women and the children, and seized the livestock. ³³ Then they fortified the city of David with a large, strong wall and with strong towers, and it became their citadel. ³⁴ They put a sinful nation, transgressors of the law, there, and they strengthened themselves in it. ³⁵ They stored up weapons and food, and gathering together the spoils of Jerusalem, they stored them there, and they became a great menace. ³⁶ It became a place to lie in wait against the sanctuary, and an evil adversary to Israel continually. ³⁷ They shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled the sanctuary. ³⁸ The inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them. She became a habitation of foreigners. She became foreign to those who were born in her, and her children forsook her. ³⁹ Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness,† her feasts were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproach, and her honor into contempt. ⁴⁰ According to her glory, so was her dishonor multiplied, and her exaltation was turned into mourning.

⁴¹ King Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom that all should be one people, ⁴² and that each should forsake his own laws. All the nations agreed according to the word of the king. ⁴³ Many of Israel consented to his worship, sacrificed to the idols, and profaned the Sabbath. ⁴⁴ The king sent letters by the hand of messengers to Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, that they should follow laws strange to the land, ⁴⁵ and should forbid whole burnt offerings and sacrifice and drink offerings in the sanctuary; and should profane the Sabbaths and feasts, ⁴⁶ and pollute the sanctuary and those who were holy; ⁴⁷ that they should build altars, and temples, and shrines for idols, and should sacrifice swine's flesh and unclean animals; ⁴⁸ and that they should leave their sons uncircumcised, that they should make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation; ⁴⁹ so that they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances. ⁵⁰ Whoever doesn't do according to the word of the king, he shall die. ⁵¹ According to all these words wrote he to his whole kingdom. He appointed overseers over all the people, and he commanded the cities of Judah to sacrifice, city by city. ⁵² From the people were gathered together to them many, everyone who had forsaken the law; and they did evil things in the land. ⁵³ They made Israel to hide themselves in every place of refuge which they had.

⁵⁴ On the fifteenth day of Chislew, in[‡] the one hundred forty fifth year, they built an abomination of desolation upon the altar,[§] and in the cities of Judah on every side they built idol altars.* ⁵⁵ At the doors of the houses and in the streets they burned incense. ⁵⁶ They tore the books of the law which they found in pieces and set them on fire. ⁵⁷ Anyone who was found with any a book of the covenant, and if any consented to the law, the king's sentence delivered him to death. ⁵⁸ Thus did they in their might to Israel, to those who were found month by month in the cities. ⁵⁹ On the twenty-fifth day of the month they sacrificed upon the idol altar that was on top of the altar of burnt offering. ⁶⁰ †They put to death women who had circumcised their children, according to the commandment. ⁶¹ They hung their babies around their necks, and their houses, and those who had circumcised them. ⁶² Many in Israel were fully resolved and confirmed in themselves not to eat unclean things. ⁶³ ‡They chose to die, that they might not be defiled with the food, and that they might not profane the holy covenant; and they died. ⁶⁴ Exceedingly great wrath came upon Israel.

¹ In those days Mattathias the son of John, the son of Simeon, a priest of the sons of Joarib, from Jerusalem rose up; and he lived at Modin. ² And he had five sons:* John, who was surnamed Gaddis; ³ Simon, who was called Thassi; ⁴ Judas, who was called Maccabaeus; ⁵ Eleazar, who was called Avaran; and Jonathan, who was called Apphus.

⁶ He saw the blasphemies that were committed in Judah and in Jerusalem, ⁷ and he said, "Woe is me! Why was I born to see the destruction of my people and the destruction of the holy city, and to dwell there when it was given into the hand of the enemy, the sanctuary into the hand of foreigners? ⁸ Her temple has become like a man who was glorious. ⁹ Her vessels of glory are carried away into captivity. Her infants are slain in her streets. Her young men are slain with the enemy's sword. ¹⁰ What nation has not inherited her palaces and taken possession of her spoils? ¹¹ Her adornment has all been taken away. Instead of a free woman, she has become a slave. ¹² Behold, our holy things, our beauty, and our glory are laid waste. The Gentiles have profaned them. ¹³ Why should we live any longer?"

¹⁴ Mattathias and his sons tore their clothes, put on sackcloth, and mourned exceedingly.

¹⁵ And the king's officers who were enforcing the apostasy came into the city Modin to sacrifice. ¹⁶ Many of Israel came to them, and Mattathias and his sons were gathered together. ¹⁷ The king's officers answered and spoke to Mattathias, saying, "You are a ruler and an honorable and great man in this city, and strengthened with sons and kindred. ¹⁸ Now therefore come first and do the commandment of the king, as all the nations have done, including the men of Judah and those who remain in Jerusalem. You and your house will be numbered among the king's[†] friends, and you and your sons will be honored with silver and gold and many gifts."

¹⁹ And Mattathias answered and said with a loud voice, "If all the nations that are in the house of the king's dominion listen to him, to fall away each one from the worship of his fathers, and have made choice to follow his commandments, ²⁰ yet I and my sons and my kindred will walk in the covenant of our fathers. ²¹ Far be it from us that we should forsake the law and the ordinances. ²² We will not listen to the king's words, to turn aside from our worship, to the right hand, or to the left."

²³ When he had finished speaking these words, a Jew came in the sight of all to sacrifice on the altar which was at Modin, according to the king's commandment. ²⁴ Mattathias saw it, so his zeal was kindled, and his guts trembled, and he vented his wrath according to judgment, and ran and killed him upon the altar. ²⁵ He killed the king's officer, who compelled men to sacrifice, at the same time, and pulled down the altar. ²⁶ He was zealous for the law, even as Phinehas did to Zimri the son of Salu.

²⁹ Then many who sought justice and judgment went down into the wilderness to live there— ³⁰ they, their children, their wives, and their livestock—because evils were multiplied upon them. ³¹ It was told the king's officers and the forces that were in Jerusalem, the city of David, that certain men who had broken the king's commandment had gone down into the secret places in the wilderness; ³² and many pursued after them, and having overtaken them, they encamped against them and set the battle in array against them on the Sabbath day. ³³ They said to them, "Enough of this! Come out and do according to the word of the king, and you will all live!"

³⁴ They said, "We won't come out. We won't do the word of the king, to profane the Sabbath day."

³⁵ Then the enemy hurried to attack them.

³⁸ So they attacked them on the Sabbath, and they died—they, their wives, their children, and their livestock—in number a thousand souls of men.

³⁹ When Mattathias and his friends found out about it, and they mourned over them exceedingly. ⁴⁰ One said to another, "If we all do as our kindred have done, and don't fight against the Gentiles for our lives and our ordinances, they will quickly destroy us from off the earth." ⁴¹ So they decided that day, saying, "Whoever comes against us to battle on the Sabbath day, let's fight against him, and we will in no way all die, as our kindred died in the secret places."

⁴² Then a company of the Hasidaeans,[‡] mighty men of Israel, everyone who offered himself willingly for the law, were gathered together to them.

⁴⁹ The days of Mattathias drew near that he should die, and he said to his sons, "Now pride and scorn have gained strength. It is a season of overthrow and indignant wrath. ⁵⁰ Now, my children, be zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers. ⁵¹ Call to remembrance the deeds of our fathers which they did in their generations; and receive great glory and an everlasting name. ⁵² Wasn't Abraham found faithful in temptation, and it was reckoned to him for righteousness? ⁵³ Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment, and became lord of Egypt. ⁵⁴ Phinehas our father, because he was exceedingly zealous, obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood. ⁵⁵ Joshua became a judge in Israel for fulfilling the word. ⁵⁶ Caleb obtained a heritage in the land for testifying in the congregation. ⁵⁷ David inherited the throne of a kingdom forever and ever for being merciful. ⁵⁸ Elijah was taken up into heaven because he was exceedingly zealous for the law. ⁵⁹ Hananiah, Azariah, and Mishael believed, and were saved out of the flame. ⁶⁰ Daniel was delivered from the mouth of lions for his innocence.

⁶¹ "Thus consider from generation to generation that no one who put their trust in him will lack for strength. ⁶² Don't be afraid of the words of a sinful man; for his glory will be dung and worms. ⁶³ Today he will be lifted up, and tomorrow he will in no way be found, because he has returned to dust, and his thought has perished. ⁶⁴ You, my children, be strong, and show yourselves men on behalf of the law; for in it you will obtain glory. ⁶⁵ Behold, Simon your brother, whom I know to be a man of counsel. Always listen to him. He shall be a father to you. ⁶⁶ Judas Maccabaeus has been strong and mighty from his youth. He shall be your captain and shall fight[§] the battle of the people. ⁶⁷ Rally around all the doers of the law, and avenge the wrong done to your people. ⁶⁸ Repay the Gentiles, and obey the commandments of the law."

¹ His son Judas, who was called Maccabaeus, rose up in his place. ² All his kindred helped him, and so did all those who joined with his father, and they fought with gladness the battle of Israel. ³ He got his people great glory, and put on a breastplate like a giant, and bound his warlike harness around him, and set battles in array, protecting the army with his sword. ⁴ He was like a lion in his deeds, and like a lion's cub roaring for prey. ⁵ He hunted and pursued the lawless, and he burned up those who troubled his people. ⁶ The lawless shrunk back for fear of him, and all the workers of lawlessness were very troubled, and deliverance prospered in his hand. ⁷ He angered many kings and made Jacob glad with his acts. His memory is blessed forever. ⁸ He went through the cities of Judah, destroyed the ungodly* out of the land, and turned away wrath from Israel. ⁹ He was renowned to the utmost part of the earth. He gathered together those who were ready to perish.

¹³ Seron, the commander of the army of Syria, heard that Judas had gathered a large company, including a body of faithful men who stayed with him, went out to war. ¹⁴ He said, "I will make myself a name and get myself glory in the kingdom. I will fight against Judas and those who are with him, who despise the king's command. ¹⁵ A mighty army of the ungodly went up with him to help him, to take vengeance on the children of Israel.

¹⁶ He came near to the ascent of Bethhoron, and Judas went out to meet him with a small company. ¹⁷ But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said to Judas, "What? Shall we be able, being a small company, to fight against so great and strong a multitude? We for our part are faint, having tasted no food this day."

¹⁸ Judas said, "It is an easy thing for many to be hemmed in by the hands of a few. With† heaven it is all one, to save by many or by few; ¹⁹ for victory in battle stands not in the multitude of an army, but strength is from heaven. ²⁰ They come to us in fullness of insolence and lawlessness, to destroy us and our wives and our children, and to plunder us, ²¹ but we fight for our lives and our laws. ²² He himself will crush them before our face; but as for you, don't be afraid of them.

²³ Now when he had finished speaking, he rushed suddenly against Seron and his army, and they were defeated before him. ²⁴ They pursued them down the descent of Bethhoron to the plain, and about eight hundred men of them fell; but the rest fled into the land of the Philistines.

²⁵ The fear of Judas and his kindred, and the dread of them, began to fall on the nations around them. ²⁶ His fame reached the king, and every nation told of the battles of Judas.

²⁷ But when King Antiochus heard these words, he was full of indignation; and he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, an exceedingly strong army. ²⁸ He opened his treasury and gave his forces pay for a year, and commanded them to be ready for every need. ²⁹ He saw that the money was gone from his treasures, and that the tributes of the country were small, because of the dissension and disaster which he had brought upon the land, to the end that he might take away the laws which had been from the first days. ³⁰ He was afraid that he wouldn't have enough as at other times for the charges and the gifts which he used to give with a liberal hand, more abundantly than the kings who were before him. ³¹ And he was exceedingly perplexed in his mind, and he determined to go into Persia, and to take the tributes of those countries, and to gather much money. ³² He left Lysias, an honorable man, and one of royal lineage, to be over the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates to the borders of Egypt, ³³ and to bring up his son Antiochus, until he came again. ³⁴ He delivered to Lysias half of his forces and the elephants, and gave him charge of all the things that he would have done, and concerning those who lived in Judea and in Jerusalem, ³⁵ that he should send an army against them to root out and destroy the strength of Israel and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memory from the place, ³⁶ and that he should make foreigners live in all their territory, and should divide their land to them by lot. ³⁷ The king took the half that remained of the forces, and left Antioch, his royal city, in the one hundred forty seventh year;[‡] and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went through the upper countries.

³⁸ Lysias chose Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the king's friends;[§] ³⁹ and with them, he sent forty thousand infantry and seven thousand cavalry to go into the land of Judah and to destroy it, according to the word of the king. ⁴⁰ They set out with all their army, and came and encamped near Emmaus in the plain country. ⁴¹ The merchants of the country heard of their fame, and took silver and gold in large quantities, and fetters,* and came into the camp to take the children of Israel for slaves. Forces of Syria and of the land of the Philistines[†] joined with them.

⁴² Judas and his kindred saw that evils were multiplied, and that the forces were encamping in their borders. They learned about the king's words which he had commanded, to destroy the people and make an end of them. ⁴³ Then they each said to his neighbor, "Let's repair the ruins of our people. Let's fight for our people and the holy place." ⁴⁴ The congregation was gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray and ask for mercy and compassion. ⁴⁵ Jerusalem was without inhabitant like a wilderness. There was none of her offspring who went in or went out. The sanctuary was trampled down. Children of foreigners were in the citadel. The Gentiles lived there. Joy was taken away from Jacob, and the pipe and the harp ceased. ⁴⁶ They gathered themselves together, and came to Mizpeh, near Jerusalem; for in Mizpeh there used to be a place of prayer for Israel. ⁴⁷ They fasted that day, put on sackcloth, put ashes on their heads, tore their clothes, ⁴⁸ and opened the book of the law, to learn about the things for which the Gentiles consulted the images of their idols. ⁴⁹ They brought the priests' garments, the first fruits, and the tithes. They stirred up the Nazarites, who had accomplished their days. ⁵⁰ They cried aloud toward heaven, saying, "What should we do with these men? Where should we carry them away? ⁵¹ Your holy place is trampled down and profaned. Your priests mourn in humiliation. ⁵² Behold, the Gentiles are assembled together against us to destroy us. You know what things they imagine against us. ⁵³ How will we be able to stand against them, unless you help us?" ⁵⁴ They sounded with the trumpets, and gave a loud shout.

⁵⁵ And after this Judas appointed leaders of the people: captains of thousands, captains of hundreds, captains of fifties, and captains of tens.

⁵⁶ He said to those who were building houses, were betrothing wives, were planting vineyards, and were fearful, that they should return, each man to his own house, according to the law. ⁵⁷ The army marched out and encamped upon the south side of Emmaus. ⁵⁸ Judas said, "Arm yourselves and be valiant men! Be ready in the morning to fight with these Gentiles who are assembled together against us to destroy us and our holy place. ⁵⁹ For it is better for us to die in battle than to see the calamities of our nation and the holy place. ⁶⁰ Nevertheless, as may be the will in heaven, so shall he do.

⁶ As soon as it was day, Judas appeared in the plain with three thousand men. However they didn't have the armor and swords they desired. ⁷ They saw the camp of the Gentiles strong and fortified, with cavalry all around it; and these were expert in war. ⁸ Judas said to the men who were with him, "Don't be afraid of their numbers, or when they charge. ⁹ Remember how our fathers were saved in the Red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with an army. ¹⁰ Now let's cry to heaven, if he will have us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this army before our face today. ¹¹ Then all the Gentiles will know that there is one who redeems and saves Israel.

¹² The foreigners lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming near them. ¹³ They went out of the camp to battle. Those who were with Judas sounded their trumpets ¹⁴ and joined battle. The Gentiles were defeated, and fled into the plain. ¹⁵ But all those in the rear fell by the sword. They pursued them to ^{*} Gazara, and to the plains of Idumaea, Azotus, and Jamnia. About three thousand of those men fell. ¹⁶ Then Judas and his army returned from pursuing them; ¹⁷ and he said to the people, "Don't be greedy for the spoils, because there is a battle before us. ¹⁸ Gorgias and his army are near us on the mountain. But stand now against our enemies and fight against them, and afterwards take the spoils with boldness." ¹⁹ While Judas was finishing this speech, a part of them appeared looking out from the mountain. ²⁰ They saw that their army had been put to flight, and that the Jews were burning the camp; for the smoke that was seen declared what was done. ²¹ But when they perceived these things, they were very afraid. Perceiving also the army of Judas in the plain ready for battle, ²² they all fled into the land of the [†] Philistines. ²³ Judas returned to plunder the camp, and they took much gold, silver, blue, sea purple, and great riches. ²⁴ Then they returned home, and sang a song of thanksgiving, and gave praise to heaven, because he is good, because his mercy endures forever. ²⁵ Israel had a great deliverance that day.

^{*} 4:15 Gr. Gazera. [†] 4:22 Gr. foreigners.

²⁶ The foreigners who had escaped came and told Lysias all the things that had happened. ²⁷ When he heard of it, he was confounded and discouraged, because the things he desired had not been done to Israel, nor had such things happened as the king commanded him.

²⁸ In the next year, he gathered together sixty thousand chosen infantry and five thousand cavalry, that he might subdue them. ²⁹ They came into Idumaea and encamped at Bethsura. Judas met them with ten thousand men. ³⁰ He saw that the army was strong, and he prayed and said, "Blessed are you, O Savior of Israel, who defeated the attack of the mighty warrior by the hand of your servant David, and delivered the army of the[‡] Philistines into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and of his armor bearer. ³¹ Hem in this army in the hand of your people Israel, and let them be ashamed for their army and their cavalry. ³² Give them faintness of heart. Cause the boldness of their strength to melt away, and let them quake at their destruction. ³³ Strike them down with the sword of those who love you, and let all who know your name praise you with thanksgiving."

³⁴ They joined in battle; and about five thousand men of Lysias' army fell. They fell down near them. ³⁵ But when Lysias saw that his troops were put to flight, and the boldness that had come upon those who were with Judas, and how they were ready either to live or to die nobly, he withdrew to Antioch, and gathered together hired soldiers, that he might come again into Judea with an even greater army.

⁴² He chose blameless priests who were devoted to the law; ⁴³ and they cleansed the holy place and carried the defiled stones out to an unclean place. ⁴⁴ They deliberated what to do with the altar of burnt offerings, which had been profaned. ⁴⁵ A good plan came into their mind, that they should pull it down, lest it would be a reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it. So they pulled down the altar ⁴⁶ and laid up the stones on the temple hill in a convenient place, until a prophet would come to give an answer concerning them. ⁴⁷ They took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar like the former. ⁴⁸ They built the holy place and the inner parts of the house; and they consecrated the courts. ⁴⁹ They made new holy vessels, and they brought the lampstand, the altar of incense, and the table into the temple. ⁵⁰ They burned incense on the altar, and they lit the lamps that were upon the lampstand, and they gave light in the temple. ⁵¹ They set loaves upon the table, hung up the curtains, and finished all the work which they had done.

⁵² They rose up early in the morning, on the twenty-fifth day of the ninth month, which is the month Chislev, in[†] the one hundred forty eighth year, ⁵³ and offered sacrifice according to the law on the new altar of burnt offerings which they had made. ⁵⁴ At the time and day the Gentiles had profaned it, even then it was dedicated with songs, harps, lutes, and with cymbals. ⁵⁵ All the people fell on their faces, worshiped, and gave praise toward heaven, which had given them good success. ⁵⁶ They celebrated the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and sacrificed a sacrifice of deliverance and praise. ⁵⁷ They decorated the front of the temple with crowns of gold and small shields. They dedicated the gates and the priests' chambers, and made doors for them. ⁵⁸ There was exceedingly great gladness among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away.

⁵⁹ Judas and his kindred and the whole congregation of Israel ordained that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their seasons from year to year for eight days, from the twenty-fifth day of the month Chislev, with gladness and joy.

¹ It came to pass, when the Gentiles all around heard that the altar had been rebuilt and the sanctuary dedicated as before, they were exceedingly angry. ² They took counsel to destroy the race of Jacob that was in the midst of them, and they began to kill and destroy among the people. ³ Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumaea at Akrabattine, because they besieged Israel. He struck them with a great slaughter; humbled them, and took their spoils. ⁴ He remembered the wickedness of the children of^{*} Baeon, who were a snare and a stumbling block to the people, lying in wait for them on the highways. ⁵ They were shut up by him in the towers. He encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burned with fire the towers of the place with all who were in them. ⁶ He passed over to the children of Ammon, and found a mighty band and many people, with Timotheus for their leader. ⁷ He fought many battles with them, and they were defeated before his face. He struck them, ⁸ and took possession of Jazer and its villages,[†] and returned again into Judea.

⁹ The Gentiles who were in Gilead gathered themselves together against the Israelites who were on their borders, to destroy them. They fled to the stronghold of Dathema, ¹⁰ and sent letters to Judas and his kindred, saying, "The Gentiles who are around us are gathered together against us to destroy us. ¹¹ They are preparing to come and get possession of the stronghold where we fled for refuge, and Timotheus is the leader of their army. ¹² Now therefore come and deliver us from their hand, for many of us have fallen. ¹³ All our kindred who were in the land of[‡] Tubias have been put to death.

They have carried their wives, their children, and their stuff into captivity. They destroyed about a thousand men there.”

¹⁶ Now when Judas and the people heard these words, a great congregation assembled together to determine what they should do for their kindred who were in distress and under attack. ¹⁷ Judas said to Simon his brother, “Choose men and go deliver your kindred who are in Galilee, but Jonathan my brother and I will go into the land of Gilead.” ¹⁸ He left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, as leaders of the people, with the remnant of the army, in Judea, to guard it. ¹⁹ He commanded them, saying, “Take charge of this people, and fight no battle with the Gentiles until we return.” ²⁰ Then three thousand men were assigned to go into Galilee with Simon, but eight thousand men were assigned to Judas to go into the land of Gilead.

²¹ Simon went into Galilee and fought many battles with the Gentiles, and the Gentiles were defeated before him. ²² He pursued them to the gate of Ptolemais. About three thousand men of the Gentiles fell, and he took their spoils. ²³ They took to them those who were in Galilee and in Arbatta, with their wives, their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Judea with great gladness. ²⁴ Judas Maccabaeus and his brother Jonathan passed over the Jordan, and went three days’ journey in the wilderness. ²⁵ They met with the Nabathaeans, and these met them in a peaceful manner and told them all things that had happened to their kindred in the land of Gilead, ²⁶ and how many of them were shut up in Bosora, Bosor, Alema,* Casphor, Maked, and† Carnaim—all these cities are strong and large—²⁷ and how they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the land of Gilead, and that tomorrow they planned to encamp against the strongholds, and to take them, and to destroy all these men in one day.

⁴⁰ Timotheus said to the captains of his army when Judas and his army drew near to the brook of water, "If he crosses over to us first, we won't be able to withstand him, for he will certainly defeat us; ⁴¹ but if he is afraid, and encamps beyond the river, we will cross over to him, and defeat him."

⁴² Now when Judas came near to the water brook, he caused the scribes of the people to remain by the brook, and commanded them, saying, "Allow no man to encamp, but let all come to the battle." ⁴³ Then he crossed over the first against them, and all the people after him; and all the Gentiles were defeated before his face, and threw away their weapons, and fled to the temple at [§]Carnaim. ⁴⁴ They took the city and burned the temple with fire, together with all who were in it. Carnaim was subdued. They couldn't stand any longer before the face of Judas.

⁴⁸ Judas sent to them with words of peace, saying, "We will pass through your land to go into our own land, and no one will harm you. We will only pass by on our feet." But they wouldn't open to him. ⁴⁹ Then Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the army, that each man should encamp in the place where he was. ⁵⁰ So the men of the army encamped, and fought against the city all that day and all that night, and the city was delivered into his hands. ⁵¹ He destroyed all the males with the edge of the sword, razed the city, took its plunder, and passed through the city over those who were slain.

⁵² They went over the Jordan into the great plain near Bethshan. ⁵³ And Judas gathered together those who lagged behind and encouraged the people all the way through, until he came into the land of Judah. ⁵⁴ They went up to mount Zion with gladness and joy, and offered whole burnt offerings, because not so much as one of them was slain until they returned in peace.

⁵⁵ In the days when Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Gilead, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemais, ⁵⁶ Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, rulers of the army, heard of their exploits and of the war, and what things they had done. ⁵⁷ They said, "Let's also get us a name, and let's go fight against the Gentiles who are around us." ⁵⁸ So they gave orders to the men of the army that was with them, and went toward Jamnia.

⁵⁹ Gorgias and his men came out of the city to meet them in battle. ⁶⁰ Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and were pursued to the borders of Judea. About two thousand men of Israel fell on that day. ⁶¹ There was a great overthrow among the people, because they didn't listen to Judas and his kindred, thinking to do some exploit. ⁶² But they were not of the family of those men by whose hand deliverance was given to Israel.

⁶⁵ Judas and his kindred went out and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the south. He struck Hebron and its villages,* pulled down its strongholds, and burned its towers all around. ⁶⁶ He marched to go into the land of the[†] Philistines, and he went through[‡] Samaria. ⁶⁷ In that day certain priests, desiring to do exploits there, were slain in battle, when they went out to battle unadvisedly. ⁶⁸ But Judas turned toward Azotus, to the land of the[§] Philistines, pulled down their altars, burned the carved images of their gods with fire, took the plunder of their cities, and returned into the land of Judah.

¹ King Antiochus was traveling through the upper countries; and he heard that in Elymais in Persia there was a city renowned for riches, for silver and gold, ² and that the temple which was in it was exceedingly rich, and that in it were golden shields, breastplates, and weapons which Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Greeks, left behind there. ³ So he came and tried to take the city and to pillage it; and he was not able, because his plan was known to them of the city, ⁴ and they rose up against him in battle. He fled and returned to Babylon with great disappointment.

⁵ Then someone came into Persia bringing him news that the armies which went against the land of Judah had been put to flight, ⁶ and that Lysias went first with a strong army and was put to shame before them, and that they had grown strong because of weapons, power, and a supply of plunder which they took from the armies that they had cut off, ⁷ and that they had pulled down the abomination which he had built upon the altar that was in Jerusalem, and that they had surrounded the sanctuary with high walls, as before, and also Bethsura, his city.

⁸ It came to pass, when the king heard these words, he was astonished and moved exceedingly. He laid himself down on his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not turned out for him as he had planned. ⁹ He was there many days, because great grief continually gripped him, and he realized that he would die. ¹⁰ He called for all his* friends, and said to them, "Sleep departs from my eyes, and my heart fails because of worry. ¹¹ I said in my heart, 'To what suffering I have come! How great a flood it is that I'm in, now! For I was gracious and loved in my power.' ¹² But now I remember the evils which I did at Jerusalem, and that I took all the vessels of silver and gold that were in it, and sent out to destroy the inhabitants of Judah without a cause. ¹³ I perceive that it is because of this that these evils have come upon me. Behold, I am perishing through great grief in a strange land."

¹⁴ Then he called for Philip, one of his[†] friends, and set him over all his kingdom. ¹⁵ He gave him his crown, his robe, and his signet ring, so that he could guide Antiochus his son, and nourish him up that he might be king.

¹⁶ Then King Antiochus died there in the one hundred forty-ninth year.[‡]

¹⁷ When Lysias learned that the king was dead, he set up Antiochus his son to reign, whom he had nourished up being young, and he called his name Eupator.

¹⁸ Those who were in the citadel kept hemming Israel in around the sanctuary, and always sought to harm them and to strengthen the Gentiles.

²¹ Some of those who were hemmed in came out, and some of the ungodly men of Israel were joined to them. ²² They went to the king, and said, "How long will you not execute judgment, and avenge our kindred?"

²³ We were willing to serve your father and to live by his words, and to follow his commandments. ²⁴ Because of this, the children of our people besieged the citadel^{*} and were alienated from us; but as many of us as they could catch, they killed, and plundered our inheritances.

²⁵ Not against us only did they stretch out their hand, but also against all their borders. ²⁶ Behold, they are encamped this day against the citadel at Jerusalem to take it. They have fortified the sanctuary and Bethsura. ²⁷ If you don't quickly prevent them, they will do greater things than these, and you won't be able to control them.

³² Judas marched away from the citadel and encamped at Bethzacharias, near the king's camp. ³³ The king rose early in the morning, and marched his army[‡] at full speed along the road to Bethzacharias. His forces made themselves ready to battle and sounded their trumpets.

³⁶ These were ready beforehand, wherever the elephant was. Wherever the elephant went, they went with it. They didn't leave it.

³⁷ Strong, covered wooden towers were upon them, one upon each elephant, fastened upon it with secure harnesses. Upon each were four valiant men who fought upon them, beside his Indian driver.

³⁸ The rest of the cavalry he set on this side and that side on the two flanks of the army, striking terror into the enemy, and protected by the phalanxes. ³⁹ Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains lit up, and blazed like flaming torches.

⁴⁰ A part of the king's army was spread upon the high hills and some on the low ground, and they went on firmly and in order. ⁴¹ All who heard the noise of their multitude, the marching of the multitude, and the rattling of the weapons trembled; for the army was exceedingly great and strong. ⁴² Judas and his army drew near for battle, and six hundred men of the king's army fell. ⁴³ Eleazar, who was called Avaran, saw one of the animals armed with royal breastplates, and it was taller than all the animals, and the king seemed to be on it. ⁴⁴ He gave his life to deliver his people, and to get himself an everlasting name. ⁴⁵ He ran upon him courageously into the midst of the phalanx, and killed on the right hand and on the left, and they parted away from him on this side and on that. ⁴⁶ He crept under the elephant, and stabbed it from beneath, and killed it. The elephant fell to the earth upon him, and he died there. ⁴⁷ They saw the strength of the kingdom and the fierce attack of the army, and turned away from them.

⁴⁸ But the soldiers of the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king encamped toward Judea and toward mount Zion. ⁴⁹ He made peace with the people of Bethsura. He came out of the city because they had no food there to endure the siege, because it was a Sabbath to the land. ⁵⁰ The king took Bethsura, and appointed a garrison there to keep it. ⁵¹ He encamped against the sanctuary many days; and set there mounds to shoot from, and engines of war, and machines for throwing fire and stones, and weapons to throw darts, and slings. ⁵² The Jews also made engines of war against their engines, and fought for many days. ⁵³ But there was no food in the sanctuary, because it was the seventh year, and those who fled for safety into Judea from among the Gentiles had eaten up the rest of the stores. ⁵⁴ There were only a few people left in the sanctuary, because the famine prevailed against them, and they were scattered, each man to his own place.

⁵⁵ Lysias heard that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, while he was yet alive, appointed to raise his son Antiochus to be king, ⁵⁶ had returned from Persia and Media, and with him the forces that went with the king, and that he was seeking to take control of the government. ⁵⁷ He made haste, and gave orders to depart. He said to the king and the leaders of the army and to the men, "We get weaker daily, our food is scant, the place where we encamp is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us. ⁵⁸ Now therefore let's negotiate with these men, and make peace with them and with all their nation, ⁵⁹ and covenant with them, that they may walk after their own laws, as before; for because of their laws which we abolished they were angered, and did all these things."

⁶⁰ The speech pleased the king and the princes, and he sent to them to make peace; and they accepted it. ⁶¹ The king and the princes swore to them. On these conditions, they came out from the stronghold. ⁶² Then the king entered into mount Zion. He saw the strength of the place, and broke the oath which he had sworn, and gave orders to pull down the wall all around. ⁶³ Then he left in haste and returned to Antioch, and found Philip master of the city. He fought against him, and took the city by force.

⁵ All the lawless and ungodly men of Israel came to him. Alcimus was their leader, desiring to be high priest. ⁶ They accused the people to the king, saying, "Judas and his kindred have destroyed all your friends, and have scattered us from our own land. ⁷ Now therefore send a man whom you trust, and let him go and see all the destruction which he has brought on us and the king's country, and how he has punished them and all who helped them." ⁸ So the king chose Bacchides, one of the king's† friends, who was ruler in the country beyond the river, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful to the king. ⁹ He sent him and that ungodly Alcimus, whom he made the high priest; and he commanded him to take vengeance upon the children of Israel.

¹⁰ They marched away and came with a great army into the land of Judah. He sent messengers to Judas and his kindred with words of peace deceitfully. ¹¹ They paid no attention to their words; for they saw that they had come with a great army. ¹² A group of scribes gathered together to Alcimus and Bacchides to seek just terms. ¹³ The‡ Hasidaeans were the first among the children of Israel who sought peace from them, ¹⁴ for they said, "One who is a priest of the seed of Aaron has come with the army, and he will do us no wrong." ¹⁵ He spoke with them words of peace, and swore to them, saying, "We won't seek to harm you or your friends." ¹⁶ They trusted him. Then he seized sixty men of them, and killed them in one day, according to the word which was written,

¹⁷ § The flesh of your saints and their blood was shed all around Jerusalem, and there was no one to bury them.

¹⁸ The fear and the dread of them fell upon all the people, for they said, "There is neither truth nor justice in them; for they have broken the covenant and the oath which they swore." ¹⁹ Bacchides withdrew from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bezeth. He sent and seized many of the deserters who were with him, and some of the people, and he killed them, throwing them into a large pit. ²⁰ He placed Alcimus in charge of the country and left with him a force to aid him. Then Bacchides went away to the king.

²¹ Alcimus struggled to maintain his high priesthood. ²² All those who troubled their people joined him, and they took control of the land of Judah, and did great damage in Israel. ²³ Judas saw all the wrongs that Alcimus and his company had done among the children of Israel, even more than the Gentiles. ²⁴ He went out into all the borders of Judea and took vengeance on the men who had deserted from him, and they were restrained from going out into the country. ²⁵ But when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company had grown strong, and knew that he was not able to withstand them, he returned to the king, and brought evil accusations against them.

²⁶ *Then the king sent Nicanor, one of his honorable princes, a man who hated Israel and was their enemy, and commanded him to destroy the people. ²⁷ Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great army. He sent to Judas and his kindred deceitfully with words of peace, saying, ²⁸ "Let there be no battle between me and you; I will come with a few men, that I may see your faces in peace." ²⁹ He came to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. The enemies were ready to seize Judas by violence. ³⁰ This was known to Judas, that he came to him with deceit, and he was very afraid of him, and would see his face no more. ³¹ Nicanor found out that his plan was disclosed; and he went out to meet Judas in battle beside Capharsalama. ³² About five hundred men of Nicanor's army fell, and the rest fled into the city of David.

³⁹ Then Nicanor went out from Jerusalem and encamped in Bethhoron, and there the Syrian army met him. ⁴⁰ Judas encamped in Adasa with three thousand men. Judas prayed and said, ⁴¹ "When those who came from the king blasphemed, your angel went out, and struck among them one hundred eighty-five thousand. ⁴² Even so, crush this army before us today, and let all the rest know that he has spoken wickedly against your sanctuary. Judge him according to his wickedness." ⁴³ On the thirteenth day of the month Adar, the armies met in battle. Nicanor's army was defeated, and he himself was the first to fall in the battle. ⁴⁴ Now when his army saw that Nicanor had fallen, they threw away their weapons and fled. ⁴⁵ They pursued them a day's journey from Adasa until you come to‡ Gazara, and they sounded an alarm after them with the signal trumpets. ⁴⁶ Men came out of all the surrounding villages of Judea, and outflanked them. These turned them back on those, and they all fell by the sword. There wasn't one of them left. ⁴⁷ The Jews took the spoils and the booty, and they cut off Nicanor's head and his right hand, which he had stretched out so arrogantly, and brought them, and hung them up beside Jerusalem. ⁴⁸ The people were exceedingly glad, and they kept that day as a day of great gladness. ⁴⁹ §They ordained to keep this day year by year on the thirteenth day of Adar. ⁵⁰ So the land of Judah had rest a few days.

¹ Judas heard of the fame of the Romans, that they are valiant men, and have pleasure in all who join themselves to them, and make friends with all who come to them, ² and that they are valiant men. They told him of their wars and exploits which they do among the Gauls, and how they conquered them, and forced them to pay tribute; ³ and what things they did in the land of Spain, that they might take control of the silver and gold mines which were there; ⁴ and how by their policy and persistence they conquered all the place (and the place was exceedingly far from them), and the kings who came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, until they had defeated them, and struck them severely; and how the rest give them tribute year by year. ⁵ Philip, and Perseus, king of Chittim, and those who lifted up themselves against them, they defeated in battle, and conquered them. ⁶ Antiochus also, the great king of Asia, came against them to battle, having one hundred twenty elephants, with cavalry, chariots, and an exceedingly great army, and he was defeated by them. ⁷ They took him alive, and decreed that both he and those who reigned after him should give them a great tribute, and should give hostages, and a parcel of land from the best of their provinces: ⁸ the countries of India, Media, and Lydia. They took them from him, and gave them to King Eumenes. ⁹ Judas heard how the Greeks planned to come and destroy them, ¹⁰ but this became known to them, and they sent against them a general who fought against them, and many of them fell down wounded to death, and they made captive their wives and their children, and plundered them, and conquered their land, and pulled down their strongholds, and plundered them, and brought them into bondage to this day. ¹¹ The remaining kingdoms and islands, as many as rose up against them at any time, they destroyed and made them to be their servants; ¹² but with their friends and those who relied on them they stayed friends. They conquered the kingdoms that were near and those that were far off, and all that heard of their fame were afraid of them. ¹³ Moreover, whoever they desired to help and to make kings, these they make kings; and whoever they desired, they depose. They are exalted exceedingly. ¹⁴ For all this, none of them ever put on a crown, neither did they clothe themselves with purple, as a display of grandeur. ¹⁵ Judas heard how they had made for themselves a senate house, and day by day, three hundred twenty men sat in council, consulting always for the people, to the end they might be well governed, ¹⁶ and how they commit their government to one man year by year, that he should rule over them, and control all their country, and all are obedient to that one, and there is neither envy nor emulation among them.

¹⁷ So Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to establish friendship and alliance with them, ¹⁸ and that they should free the yoke from themselves; for they saw that the kingdom of the Greeks kept Israel in bondage. ¹⁹ Then they went to Rome, a very long journey, and they entered into the senate house, and said, ²⁰ "Judas, who is also called Maccabaeus, and his kindred, and the people of the Jews, have sent us to you, to make an alliance and peace with you, and that we might be registered as your allies and friends."

²¹ This thing was pleasing to them. ²² This is the copy of the writing which they wrote back again on tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that it might be with them there for a memorial of peace and alliance:

²³ “Good success be to the Romans, and to the nation of the Jews, by sea and by land forever. May the sword and the enemy be far from them. ²⁴ But if war arises for Rome first, or any of their allies in all their dominion, ²⁵ the nation of the Jews shall help them as allies, as the occasion shall indicate to them, with all their heart. ²⁶ To those who make war upon them, they shall not give supplies, food, weapons, money, or ships, as it has seemed good to Rome, and they shall keep their ordinances without taking anything in return. ²⁷ In the same way, moreover, if war comes first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall willingly help them as allies, as the occasion shall indicate to them; ²⁸ and to those who are fighting with them, there shall not be given food, weapons, money, or ships, as it has seemed good to Rome. They shall keep these ordinances, and that without deceit. ²⁹ According to these terms, the Romans made a treaty with the Jewish people. ³⁰ But if hereafter the one party and the other shall determine to add or diminish anything, they shall do it at their pleasure, and whatever they add or take away shall be ratified.

³¹ Concerning the evils which King Demetrius is doing to them, we have written to him, saying, ‘Why have you made your yoke heavy on our friends and allies the Jews? ³² If therefore they plead any more against you, we will do them justice, and fight with you on sea and on land.’ ”

⁷ Judas saw that his army slipped away and that the battle pressed upon him, and he was very troubled in spirit, because he had no time to gather them together, and he became faint. ⁸ He said to those who were left, “Let’s arise and go up against our adversaries, if perhaps we may be able to fight with them.”

⁹ They tried to dissuade him, saying, “There is no way we are able; but let’s rather save our lives now. Let’s return again with our kindred, and fight against them; but we are too few.”

¹⁰ Judas said, “Let it not be so that I should do this thing, to flee from them. If our time has come, let’s die in a manly way for our kindred’s sake, and not leave a cause of reproach against our honor.”

¹¹ The army marched out from the camp, and stood to encounter them. The cavalry was divided into two companies, and the slingers and the archers went before the army, and all the mighty men that fought in the front of the battle. ¹² Bacchides was in the right wing. The phalanx advanced on the two parts, and they blew with their trumpets. ¹³ The men by Judas’ side sounded with their trumpets, and the earth shook with the shout of the armies, and the battle was joined, and continued from morning until evening.

* 9:3 circa B.C. 161.

²³ It came to pass after the death of Judas, that the lawless emerged within all the borders of Israel. All those who did iniquity rose up. ²⁴ In those days there was an exceedingly great famine, and the country went over to their side. ²⁵ Bacchides chose the ungodly men and made them rulers of the country. ²⁶ They inquired and searched for the friends of Judas, and brought them to Bacchides, and he took vengeance on them and used them spitefully. ²⁷ There was great suffering in Israel, such as was not since the time prophets stopped appearing to them.

²⁸ All the friends of Judas were gathered together, and they said to Jonathan, ²⁹ "Since your brother Judas has died, we have no man like him to go out against our enemies and Bacchides, and among those of our nation who hate us. ³⁰ Now therefore we have chosen you this day to be our prince and leader in his place, that you may fight our battles." ³¹ So Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and rose up in the place of his brother Judas.

³² When Bacchides found out, he tried to kill him. ³³ Jonathan, and Simon his brother, and all who were with him, knew it; and they fled into the wilderness of Tekoah, and encamped by the water of the pool of Asphar. ³⁴ Bacchides found this out on the Sabbath day, and came—he and all his army—over the Jordan.

³⁷ But after these things, they brought word to Jonathan and Simon his brother that the children of Jambri were celebrating a great wedding, and were bringing the bride, a daughter of one of the great nobles of Canaan, from Nadabath with a large escort. ³⁸ They remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under the cover of the mountain. ³⁹ They lifted up their eyes and looked, and saw a great procession with much baggage. The bridegroom came out with his friends and his kindred to meet them with timbrels, musicians, and many weapons. ⁴⁰ They rose up against them from their ambush and killed them, and many fell wounded to death.

The remnant fled into the mountain, and the Jews took all their spoils. ⁴¹ So the wedding was turned into mourning, and the voice of their musicians into lamentation. ⁴² They avenged fully the blood of their brother, and turned back to the marshes of the Jordan.

⁴³ Bacchides heard it, and he came on the Sabbath day to the banks of Jordan with a great army. ⁴⁴ Jonathan said to his company, "Let's stand up now and fight for our lives, for things are different today than they were yesterday and the day before. ⁴⁵ For, behold, the battle is before us and behind us. Moreover the water of the Jordan is on this side and on that side, and marsh and thicket. There is no place to escape. ⁴⁶ Now therefore cry to heaven, that you may be delivered out of the hand of your enemies."

⁴⁷ So the battle was joined, and Jonathan stretched out his hand to strike Bacchides, and he turned away back from him. ⁴⁸ Jonathan and those who were with him leapt into the Jordan, and swam over to the other side. The enemy didn't pass over the Jordan against them. ⁴⁹ About a thousand men of Bacchides' company fell that day; ⁵⁰ and he returned to Jerusalem. They built strong cities in Judea, the stronghold that was in Jericho, and Emmaus, Bethhoron, Bethel, Timnath, Pharathon, and Tephon, with high walls and gates and bars. ⁵¹ He set garrisons in them to harass Israel. ⁵² He fortified the city Bethsura, Gazara, and the citadel, and put troops and stores of food in them. ⁵³ He took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, and put them under guard in the citadel at Jerusalem.

⁵⁴ And in the one hundred fifty-third year,[†] in the second month, Alcimus gave orders to pull down the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary. He also pulled down the works of the prophets. ⁵⁵ He began to pull down. At that time was Alcimus stricken, and his works were hindered; and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, and he could no more speak anything and give orders concerning his house. ⁵⁶ Alcimus died at that time with great torment. ⁵⁷ Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, and he returned to the king. Then the land of Judah had rest for two years.

⁵⁸ Then all the lawless men took counsel, saying, "Behold, Jonathan and his men are dwelling at ease and in security. Now therefore we will bring Bacchides, and he will capture them all in one night. ⁵⁹ They went and consulted with him. ⁶⁰ He marched out and came with a great army, and sent letters secretly to all his allies who were in Judea, that they should seize Jonathan and those who were with him; but they couldn't, because their plan was known to them. ⁶¹ Jonathan's men seized about fifty of the men of the country who were authors of the wickedness, and he killed them. ⁶² Jonathan, Simon, and those who were with him, went away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and he built up that which had been pulled down, and they made it strong. ⁶³ Bacchides found out about it, and he gathered together all his multitude, and sent orders to those who were of Judea. ⁶⁴ He went and encamped against Bethbasi and fought against it many days, and made engines of war.

⁶⁵ Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went out into the country, and he went with a few men. ⁶⁶ He struck Odomera and his kindred, and the children of Phasiron in their tents. ⁶⁷ They began to strike them, and to go up with their forces. Then Simon and those who were with him went out of the city, and set the engines of war on fire, ⁶⁸ and fought against Bacchides, and he was defeated by them. They afflicted him severely; for his counsel and expedition was in vain. ⁶⁹ They were very angry with the lawless men who gave him counsel to come into the country, and they killed many of them. Then he decided to depart into his own land.

⁷⁰ Jonathan learned of this and sent ambassadors to him, to the end that they should make peace with him, and that he should restore to them the captives. ⁷¹ He accepted the thing, and did according to his words, and swore to him that he would not seek his harm all the days of his life. ⁷² He restored to him the captives which he had taken before out of the land of Judah, and he returned and departed into his own land, and didn't come any more into their borders. ⁷³ Thus the sword ceased from Israel. Jonathan lived at Michmash. Jonathan began to judge the people; and he destroyed the ungodly out of Israel.

³ Demetrius sent a letter to Jonathan with words of peace, so as to honor him. ⁴ For he said, "Let's go beforehand to make peace with them, before he makes peace with Alexander against us; ⁵ for he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and to his kindred and to his nation." ⁶ So he gave him authority to gather together forces, and to provide weapons, and that he should be his ally. He also commanded that they should release the hostages that were in the citadel to him.

⁷ Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letter in the hearing of all the people, and of those who were in the citadel. ⁸ They were very afraid when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together an army. ⁹ Those in the citadel released the hostages to Jonathan, and he restored them to their parents.

¹⁵ King Alexander heard all the promises which Demetrius had sent to Jonathan. They told him of the battles and the valiant deeds which he and his kindred had done, and of the troubles which they had endured. ¹⁶ So he said, "Could we find another man like him? Now we will make him our‡ friend and ally." ¹⁷ He wrote a letter and sent it to him, in these words, saying, ¹⁸ "King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, greetings. ¹⁹ We have heard of you, that you are a mighty man of valour, and worthy to be our§ friend. ²⁰ Now we have appointed you this day to be high priest of your nation, and to be called the king's* friend, and to take our side, and to keep friendship with us." He also sent to him a purple robe and a golden crown.

²¹ And Jonathan put on the holy garments in the seventh month of the one hundred sixtieth year,[†] at the feast of tabernacles; and he gathered together forces and provided weapons in abundance.

²² When Demetrius heard these things, he was grieved and said, ²³ "What is this that we have done, that Alexander has gotten ahead of us in establishing friendship with the Jews to strengthen himself? ²⁴ I also will write to them words of encouragement and of honor and of gifts, that they may be with me to aid me." ²⁵ So he sent to them this message:

"King Demetrius to the nation of the Jews, greetings. ²⁶ Since as you have kept your covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, and have not joined yourselves to our enemies, we have heard of this, and are glad. ²⁷ Now continue still to keep faith with us, and we will repay you with good in return for your dealings with us. ²⁸ We will grant you many immunities and give you gifts.

²⁹ "Now I free you and release all the Jews from the tributes, from the salt tax, and from the crown levies. ³⁰ Instead of the third part of the seed, and instead of half of the fruit of the trees, which falls to me to receive, I release it from this day and henceforth, so that I will not take it from the land of Judah, and from the three districts which are added to it from the country of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth and for all time. ³¹ Let Jerusalem be holy and free, with her borders, tithes, and taxes. ³² I yield up also my authority over the citadel which is at Jerusalem, and give it to the high priest, that he may appoint in it men whom he chooses to keep it. ³³ Every soul of the Jews who has been carried captive from the land of Judah into any part of my kingdom, I set at liberty without payment. Let all officials also cancel the taxes on their livestock.

³⁴ "All the feasts, the Sabbaths, new moons, appointed days, three days before a feast, and three days after a feast, let them all be days of immunity and release for all the Jews who are in my kingdom. ³⁵ No man shall have authority to exact anything from any of them, or to trouble them concerning any matter.

³⁸ "The three districts that have been added to Judea from the country of Samaria, let them be annexed to Judea, that they may be reckoned to be under one ruler, that they may not obey any other authority than the high priest's. ³⁹ As for Ptolemais and its land, I have given it as a gift to the sanctuary that is at Jerusalem, for the expenses of the sanctuary. ⁴⁰ I also give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver from the king's revenues from the places that are appropriate. ⁴¹ And all the additional funds which those who manage the king's affairs didn't pay as in the first years, they shall give from now on toward the works of the temple. ⁴² Besides this, the five thousand shekels of silver which they received from the uses of the sanctuary from the revenue year by year is also released, because it belongs to the priests who minister there. ⁴³ Whoever flees to the temple that is at Jerusalem, and within all of its borders, whether one owe money to the king, or any other matter, let them go free, along with all that they have in my kingdom. ⁴⁴ For the building and renewing of the structures of the sanctuary, the expense shall also be given out of the king's revenue. ⁴⁵ For the building of the walls of Jerusalem and fortifying it all around, the expense shall also be given out of the king's revenue, also for the building of the walls in Judea."

⁴⁶ Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credence to them, and didn't accept them, because they remembered the great evil which he had done in Israel, and that he had afflicted them very severely. ⁴⁷ They were well pleased with Alexander, because he was the first who spoke words of peace to them, and they were allies with him always.

⁵¹ Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemy king of Egypt with this message: ⁵² "Since I have returned to my kingdom, and am seated on the throne of my fathers, and have established my dominion, and have overthrown Demetrius, and have taken possession of our country— ⁵³ yes, I joined the battle with him, and he and his army were defeated by us, and we sat on the throne of his kingdom— ⁵⁴ now also let's make friends with one another. Give me now your daughter as my wife. I will be joined with you, and will give both you and her gifts worthy of you."

⁵⁵ Ptolemy the king answered, saying, "Happy is the day you returned to the land of your ancestors and sat on the throne of their kingdom. ⁵⁶ Now I will do to you as you have written, but meet me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another; and I will join with you, even as you have said." ⁵⁷ So Ptolemy went out of Egypt, himself and Cleopatra his daughter, and came to Ptolemais in the one hundred sixty-second year.† ⁵⁸ King Alexander met him, and he gave him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her wedding at Ptolemais with great pomp, as kings do.

⁵⁹ King Alexander wrote to Jonathan, that he should come to meet him. ⁶⁰ He went with pomp to Ptolemais, and met the two kings. He gave them and their friends§ silver and gold, and many gifts, and found favor in their sight. ⁶¹ Some malcontents out of Israel, men who were transgressors of the law, gathered together against him to complain against him; but the king paid no attention to them. ⁶² The king commanded that they take off Jonathan's garments and clothe him in purple, and they did so. ⁶³ The king made him sit with him, and said to his princes, "Go out with him into the midst of the city, and proclaim that no man may complain against him of any matter, and let no man trouble him for any reason." ⁶⁴ It came to pass, when those who complained against him saw his honor according to the proclamation, and saw him clothed in purple, they all fled away. ⁶⁵ The king gave him honor, and enrolled him among his chief friends,* and made him a captain and governor of a province. ⁶⁶ Then Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

⁶⁷ In the one hundred sixty-fifth year,† Demetrius, son of Demetrius, came out of Crete into the land of his ancestors. ⁶⁸ When King Alexander heard of it, he grieved exceedingly and returned to Antioch. ⁶⁹ Demetrius appointed Apollonius, who was over Coelesyria, and he gathered together a great army, and encamped against Jamnia, and sent to Jonathan the high priest, saying, ⁷⁰ “You alone lift up yourself against us, but I am ridiculed and in reproach because of you. Why do you assume authority against us in the mountains?

⁷¹ Now therefore, if you trust in your forces, come down to us into the plain, and let’s match strength with each other there; for the power of the cities is with me. ⁷² Ask and learn who I am, and the rest who help us. They say, ‘Your foot can’t stand before our face; for your ancestors have been put to flight twice in their own land.’ ⁷³ Now you won’t be able to withstand the cavalry and such an army as this in the plain, where there is no stone or pebble, or place to flee.”

⁷⁴ Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and he chose ten thousand men, and went out from Jerusalem; and Simon his brother met him to help him. ⁷⁵ Then he encamped against Joppa. The people of the city shut him out, because Apollonius had a garrison in Joppa. ⁷⁶ So they fought against it. The people of the city were afraid, and opened to him; and Jonathan became master of Joppa.

⁷⁷ Apollonius heard about that, and he gathered an army of three thousand cavalry, and a great army, and went to Azotus as though he were on a journey, and at the same time advanced onward into the plain, because he had a multitude of cavalry which he trusted. ⁷⁸ He pursued him to Azotus, and the armies joined battle.‡ ⁷⁹ Apollonius had secretly left a thousand cavalry behind them. ⁸⁰ Jonathan learned that there was an ambush behind him. They surrounded his army, and shot their arrows at the people, from morning until evening; ⁸¹ but the people stood fast, as Jonathan commanded them; and the enemy’s horses grew tired.

⁸² Then Simon brought forward his army and joined battle with the phalanx (for the cavalry were exhausted), and they were defeated by him and fled. ⁸³ The cavalry were scattered in the plain. They fled to Azotus and entered into Beth-dagon, their idol’s temple, to save themselves. ⁸⁴ Jonathan burned Azotus and the cities around it and took their spoils. He burned the temple of Dagon and those who fled into it with fire. ⁸⁵ Those who had fallen by the sword plus those who were burned were about eight thousand men.

⁴ But when he came near to Azotus, they showed him the temple of Dagon burned with fire, and Azotus and its pasture lands destroyed, and the bodies cast out, and those who had been burned, whom he burned in the war, for they had made heaps of them in his way. ⁵ They told the king what Jonathan had done, that they might cast blame on him; but the king kept silent. ⁶ Jonathan met the king with pomp at Joppa, and they greeted one another, and they slept there. ⁷ Jonathan went with the king as far as the river that is called Eleutherus, then returned to Jerusalem.

⁸ But King Ptolemy took control of the cities along the sea coast, to Selucia which is by the sea, and he devised evil plans concerning Alexander. ⁹ He sent ambassadors to King Demetrius, saying, "Come! Let's make a covenant with one another, and I will give you my daughter whom Alexander has, and you shall reign over your father's kingdom; ¹⁰ for I regret that I gave my daughter to him, for he tried to kill me. ¹¹ He accused him, because he coveted his kingdom. ¹² Taking his daughter from him, he gave her to Demetrius, and was estranged from Alexander, and their enmity was openly seen.

¹³ Ptolemy entered into Antioch, and put on himself the crown of Asia. He put two crowns upon his head, the crown of Egypt and that of Asia. ¹⁴ But King Alexander was in Cilicia at that time, because the people of that region were in revolt. ¹⁵ When Alexander heard of it, he came against him in war. Ptolemy marched out and met him with a strong force, and put him to flight. ¹⁶ Alexander fled into Arabia, that he might be sheltered there; but King Ptolemy was triumphant. ¹⁷ Zabdiel the Arabian took off Alexander's head, and sent it to Ptolemy. ¹⁸ King Ptolemy died the third day after, and those who were in his strongholds were slain by the inhabitants of the strongholds. ¹⁹ Demetrius became king in the one hundred sixty-seventh year.*

²⁰ In those days Jonathan gathered together the Judeans to take the citadel that was at Jerusalem. He made many engines of war to use against it. ²¹ Some lawless men who hated their own nation went to the king and reported to him that Jonathan was besieging the citadel. ²² He heard, and was angry, but when he heard it, he set out immediately, and came to Ptolemais, and wrote to Jonathan, that he should not besiege it, and that he should meet him and speak with him at Ptolemais with all speed.

²³ But when Jonathan heard this, he gave orders to continue the siege. He chose some of the elders of Israel and of the priests, and put himself in peril ²⁴ by taking silver, gold, clothing, and various other presents, and went to Ptolemais to the king. Then he found favor in his sight. ²⁵ Some lawless men of those who were of the nation made complaints against him, ²⁶ and the king did to him even as his predecessors had done to him, and exalted him in the sight of all his[†] friends, ²⁷ and confirmed to him the high priesthood, and all the other honors that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his[‡] chief friends. ²⁸ And Jonathan requested of the king that he would make Judea free from tribute, along with the three[§] provinces and the country of Samaria, and promised him three hundred talents. ²⁹ The king consented, and wrote letters to Jonathan concerning all these things as follows:

³⁰ “King Demetrius to his brother Jonathan, and to the nation of the Jews, greetings. ³¹ The copy of the letter which we wrote to Lasthenes our kinsman concerning you, we have written also to you, that you may see it. ³² ‘King Demetrius to Lasthenes his father, greetings. ³³ We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews, who are our friends, and observe what is just toward us, because of their good will toward us. ³⁴ We have confirmed therefore to them the borders of Judea, and also the three governments of Aphaerema, Lydda, and Ramathaim (these were added to Judea from the country of Samaria), and all their territory to them, for all who do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the king’s dues which the king received of them yearly before from the produce of the earth and the fruits of trees. ³⁵ As for the other payments to us from henceforth, of the tithes and the taxes that pertain to us, and the salt pits, and the crown taxes due to us, all these we will give back to them. ³⁶ Not one of these grants shall be annulled from this time forth and forever. ³⁷ Now therefore be careful to make a copy of these things, and let it be given to Jonathan, and let it be set up on the holy mountain in a suitable and conspicuous place.’”

³⁸ When King Demetrius saw that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made to him, he sent away all his troops, each man to his own place, except the foreign troops, which he had raised from the islands of the Gentiles. So all the troops of his fathers hated him. ³⁹ Now Tryphon was one of those who previously had been on Alexander’s side, and he saw that all the forces murmured against Demetrius. So he went to Imalcue the Arabian, who was raising up Antiochus the young child of Alexander; ⁴⁰ and urgently insisted to him that he should deliver him to him, that he might reign in his father’s place. He told him all that Demetrius had done, and the hatred with which his forces hated him; and he stayed there many days.

⁴¹ Now Jonathan sent to King Demetrius, that he should remove the troops of the citadel from Jerusalem, and the troops who were in the strongholds; for they fought against Israel continually. ⁴² Demetrius sent to Jonathan, saying, “I will not only do this for you and your nation, but I will greatly honor you and your nation, if I find an opportunity. ⁴³ Now therefore you shall do well if you send me men who will fight for me; for all my forces have revolted.” ⁴⁴ So Jonathan sent him three thousand valiant men to Antioch. They came to the king, and the king was glad at their coming.

⁴⁵ The people of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of one hundred and twenty thousand men, and they wanted to kill the king. ⁴⁶ The king fled into the court of the palace, and the people of the city seized the main streets of the city and began to fight. ⁴⁷ The king called the Jews to help him, and they were gathered together to him all at once, and they dispersed themselves in the city, and killed that day

about one hundred thousand. ⁴⁸ They set the city on fire, and seized many spoils that day, and saved the king. ⁴⁹ The people of the city saw that the Jews had taken control of the city as they pleased, and they became faint in their hearts, and they cried out to the king with supplication, saying, ⁵⁰ "Give us your right hand, and let the Jews cease from fighting against us and the city." ⁵¹ They threw away their weapons and made peace. The Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and before all who were in his kingdom. Then they returned to Jerusalem, having much plunder. ⁵² So King Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him. ⁵³ He lied in all that he spoke, and estranged himself from Jonathan, and didn't repay him according to the benefits with which he had repaid him, and treated him very harshly.

⁶⁰ Jonathan went out and took his journey beyond the river and through the cities. All the forces of Syria gathered themselves to him to be his allies. He came to Ascalon, and the people of the city met him honorably. ⁶¹ He departed from there to Gaza, and the people of Gaza shut him out. So he besieged it and burned its pasture lands with fire, and plundered them. ⁶² The people of Gaza pleaded with Jonathan, and he gave them his right hand, and took the sons of their princes for hostages, and sent them away to Jerusalem. Then he passed through the country as far as Damascus.

⁶⁷ Jonathan and his army encamped at the water of Gennesareth, and early in the morning they marched to the plain of Hazor. ⁶⁸ Behold, an army of foreigners met him in the plain. They laid an ambush for him in the mountains, but they themselves met him face to face. ⁶⁹ But those who lay in ambush rose out of their places and joined battle. All those who were on Jonathan's side fled. ⁷⁰ Not one of them was left, except Mattathias the son of Absalom, and Judas the son of Chalphi, captains of the forces. ⁷¹ Jonathan tore his clothes, put dirt on his head, and prayed. ⁷² He turned again to them in battle, and routed them, and they fled. ⁷³ When the men on his side who had fled saw this, they returned to him and pursued with him to Kedesh to their camp, and they encamped there. ⁷⁴ About three thousand men of the foreigners fell on that day. Then Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

¹ Jonathan saw that the time was favorable for him, so he chose men and sent them to Rome to confirm and renew the friendship that they had with them. ² He also sent similar letters to the Spartans, and to other places. ³ They went to Rome, entered into the senate house, and said, "Jonathan the high priest and the nation of the Jews have sent us to renew for them the friendship and the alliance, as in former time." ⁴ They gave them letters to the men in every place, that they should provide safe conduct for them on their way to the land of Judah. ⁵ This is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans:

⁶ "Jonathan the high priest, and the senate of the nation, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews, to their kindred the Spartans, greetings. ⁷ Even before this time letters were sent to Onias the high priest from Arius,* who was reigning among you, to signify that you are our kindred, as the copy written below shows. ⁸ Onias welcomed honorably the man who was sent and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of alliance and friendship. ⁹ Therefore we also, even though we need none of these things, having for our encouragement the holy books which are in our hands, ¹⁰ have undertaken to send that we might renew our brotherhood and friendship with you, to the end that we should not become estranged from you altogether; for a long time has passed since you sent your letter to us. ¹¹ We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our feasts, and on the other convenient days, remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as it is right and proper to be mindful of kindred. ¹² Moreover, we are glad for your glory. ¹³ But as for ourselves, many afflictions and many wars have encompassed us, and the kings who are around us have fought against us. ¹⁴ We were unwilling to be troublesome to you, and to the rest of our allies and friends, in these wars; ¹⁵ for we have the help which is from heaven to help us, and we have been delivered from our enemies, and our enemies have been humbled. ¹⁶ We chose therefore Numenius the son of Antiochus and Antipater the son of Jason, and have sent them to the Romans, to renew the friendship that we had with them, and the former alliance. ¹⁷ We commanded them therefore to go also to you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of friendship and our brotherhood. ¹⁸ And now you will do well if you give us a reply."

¹⁹ And this is the copy of the letters which they sent to Onias:

²⁰ "Arius king of the Spartans to Onias the chief priest, greetings. ²¹ It has been found in writing, concerning the Spartans and the Jews, that they are kindred, and that they are of the descendants of Abraham. ²² Now, since this has come to our knowledge, you will do well to write to us of your† prosperity. ²³ We moreover write on our part to you, that your livestock and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore that they make report to you accordingly."

²⁴ Now Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes had returned to fight against him with a greater army than before, ²⁵ so he marched away from Jerusalem, and met them in the country of Hamath; for he gave them no opportunity to set foot in his country. ²⁶ He sent spies into his camp, and they came again, and reported to him that they were preparing to attack them at night. ²⁷ But as soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be armed, that all the night long they might be ready for battle. He stationed sentinels around the camp. ²⁸ The adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, and they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camp then withdrew. ²⁹ But Jonathan and his men didn't know it until the morning; for they saw the fires burning. ³⁰ Jonathan pursued after them, but didn't overtake them; for they had gone over the river Eleutherus. ³¹ Then Jonathan turned toward the Arabians, who are called Zabadaeans, and struck them, and took their spoils. ³² He came out from there, and came to Damascus, and took his journey through all the country.

³³ Simon went out, and took his journey as far as Ascalon, and the strongholds that were near it. Then he turned toward Joppa and took possession of it; ³⁴ for he had heard that they were planning to hand over the stronghold to Demetrius' men. He set a garrison there to guard it.

³⁵ Then Jonathan returned and called the elders of the people together. He planned with them to build strongholds in Judea, ³⁶ and to make the walls of Jerusalem higher, and to raise a great mound between the citadel and the city, to separate it from the city, that so it might be isolated, that its garrison might neither buy nor sell. ³⁷ They were gathered together to build the city. Part of the wall of the brook that is on the east side fell down, and he repaired the section called Chapphenatha. ³⁸ Simon also built Adida in the[‡] plain country, made it strong, and set up gates and bars.

³⁹ And Tryphon sought to reign over Asia and to crown himself, and to stretch out his hand against Antiochus the king. ⁴⁰ He was afraid that Jonathan wouldn't allow him, and that he would fight against him; and he sought a way to seize him, that he might destroy him. So he marched out and came to Bethshan. ⁴¹ Jonathan came out to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for battle, and came to Bethshan. ⁴² Tryphon saw that he came with a great army, and he was afraid to stretch out his hand against him. ⁴³ He received him honorably, and commended him to all his[§] friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his forces to be obedient to him, as to himself. ⁴⁴ He said to Jonathan, "Why have you put all this people to so much trouble, seeing there is no war between us?" ⁴⁵ Now send them away to their homes, but choose for yourself a few men who shall be with you, and come with me to Ptolemais, and I will give it to you, and the rest of the strongholds and the rest of the forces, and all the king's officers. Then I will turn around and depart; for this is why I came."

⁴⁶ He put his trust in him, and did even as he said, and sent away his forces, and they departed into the land of Judah. ⁴⁷ But he reserved to himself three thousand men, of whom he left two thousand in Galilee, but one thousand went with him. ⁴⁸ Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, the people of Ptolemais shut the gates and seized him. They killed all those who came in with him with the sword.

⁴⁹ Tryphon sent troops and cavalry into Galilee, and into the Great Plain, to destroy all Jonathan's men. ⁵⁰ They perceived that he had been seized and had perished, along with those who were with him. They encouraged one another and went on their way close together, prepared to fight. ⁵¹ Those who followed them saw that they were ready to fight for their lives, and turned back again. ⁵² They all came in peace into the land of Judah, and they mourned for Jonathan and those who were with him, and they were very afraid. All Israel mourned with a great mourning. ⁵³ And all the Gentiles who were around them sought to destroy them utterly; for they said, "They have no ruler nor anyone to help them. Now therefore let's fight against them, and take away their memory from among men."

¹ Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a mighty army to come into the land of Judah and destroy it utterly. ² He saw that the people were trembling in great fear. So he went up to Jerusalem and gathered the people together. ³ He encouraged them, and said to them, "You yourselves know all the things that I, my kindred, and my father's house have done for the laws and the sanctuary, and the battles and the distresses which we have seen. ⁴ Because of this, all my brothers have perished for Israel's sake, and I am left alone. ⁵ Now be it far from me, that I should spare my own life in any time of affliction, for I am not better than my kindred. ⁶ However, I will take vengeance for my nation, for the sanctuary, and for our wives and children, because all the Gentiles have gathered out of hatred to destroy us."

⁷ The spirit of the people revived as soon as they heard these words. ⁸ They answered with a loud voice, saying, "You are our leader in the place of Judas and Jonathan your brothers. ⁹ Fight our battles, and we will do all that you tell us to do."

¹⁰ He gathered together all the men of war, and hurried to finish the walls of Jerusalem. He fortified it all around. ¹¹ He sent Jonathan the son of Absalom, and with him a great army, to Joppa. He threw out those who were in it, and lived there.

²⁰ After this, Tryphon came to invade the land and destroy it, and he went around by the way that leads to Adora. Simon and his army marched near him to every place, wherever he went. ²¹ Now the people of the citadel sent to Tryphon ambassadors, urging him to come to them through the wilderness, and to send them food. ²² So Tryphon prepared all his cavalry to come, but on that night a very heavy snow fell, and he didn't come because of the snow. He marched off and went into the land of Gilead. ²³ When he came near to Bascama, he killed Jonathan, and he was buried there. ²⁴ Then Tryphon turned back, and went away into his own land.

³⁶ "King Demetrius to Simon the high priest and friend* of kings, and to the elders and nation of the Jews, greetings. ³⁷ The golden crown and the palm branch, which you sent, we have received. We are ready to make a steadfast peace with you, yes, and to write to our officers to release you from tribute. ³⁸ Whatever things we confirmed to you, they are confirmed. The strongholds, which you have built, let them be your own. ³⁹ As for any oversights and faults committed to this day, we forgive them, and the crown tax which you owed us. If there were any other tax collected in Jerusalem, let it be collected no longer. ⁴⁰ If any among you are qualified to be enrolled in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace between us."

⁴¹ In the one hundred seventieth year,† the yoke of the Gentiles was taken away from Israel. ⁴² The people began to write in their instruments and contracts, "In the first year of Simon, the great high priest and captain and leader of the Jews."

⁴³ In those days Simon encamped against‡ Gazara, and surrounded it with troops. He made a siege engine, and brought it up to the city, and struck a tower, and captured it. ⁴⁴ Those who were in the engine leaped out into the city; and there was a great uproar in the city. ⁴⁵ The people of the city tore their clothes, and went up on the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, asking Simon to give them§ his right hand. ⁴⁶ They said, "Don't deal with us according to our wickednesses, but according to your mercy." ⁴⁷ So Simon was reconciled to them, and didn't fight against them; but he expelled them from the city and cleansed the houses where the idols were, and then entered into it with singing and giving praise. ⁴⁸ He removed all uncleanness out of it, and placed in it men who would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built a dwelling place for himself in it.

⁴⁹ But the people of the citadel in Jerusalem were hindered from going out and from going into the country, and from buying and selling. So they were very hungry, and a great number of them perished from famine. ⁵⁰ Then they cried out to Simon, that he should give them his right hand; and he gave it to them; but he expelled them from there, and he cleansed the citadel from its pollutions. ⁵¹ He entered into it on the twenty-third day of the second month, in the one hundred seventy-first year,* with praise and palm branches, with harps, with cymbals, and with stringed instruments, with hymns, and with songs, because a great enemy had been destroyed out of Israel. ⁵² Simon ordained that they should keep that day every year with gladness. He made the hill of the temple that was by the citadel stronger than before, and he lived there with his men. ⁵³ Simon saw that his son John was a man, so he made him leader of all his forces; and he lived in Gazara.

¹⁶ It was heard at Rome that Jonathan was dead, and even in Sparta, and they were exceedingly grieved. ¹⁷ But as soon as they heard that his brother

Simon was made high priest in his place, and ruled the country and the cities in it, ¹⁸ they wrote to him on brass tablets to renew with him the friendship and the alliance which they had confirmed with his brothers Judas and Jonathan. ¹⁹ These were read before the congregation at Jerusalem.

²⁰ This is the copy of the letters which the Spartans sent:

“The rulers and the city of the Spartans, to Simon the high priest, to the elders, the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews, our kindred, greetings. ²¹ The ambassadors who were sent to our people reported to us about your glory and honor. We were glad for their coming, ²² and we registered the things that were spoken by them in the public records[†] as follows: ‘Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews’ ambassadors, came to us to renew the friendship they had with us. ²³ It pleased the people to entertain the men honorably, and to put the copy of their words in the public records,[‡] to the end that the people of the Spartans might have a record of them. Moreover they wrote a copy of these things to Simon the high priest.’ ”

²⁴ After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome with a great shield of gold of weighing one thousand minas,[§] in order to confirm the alliance with them.

²⁵ But when the people heard these things, they said, “What thanks shall we give to Simon and his sons? ²⁶ For he and his brothers and the house of his father have made themselves strong, and have fought and chased away Israel’s enemies, and confirmed liberty to Israel.*” ²⁷ So they wrote on tablets of brass, and set them on pillars on mount Zion. This is the copy of the writing:

“On the eighteenth day of Elul, in the one hundred seventy-second year,[†] which is the third year of Simon the high priest, ²⁸ in Asaramel, in a great congregation of priests and people and princes of the nation, and of the elders of the country, it was proclaimed to us:[‡] ²⁹ ‘Since wars often occurred in the country, Simon the son of Mattathias, the son of the sons of Joarib, and his brothers, put themselves in jeopardy and withstood the enemies of their nation, that their sanctuary and the law might be established, and glorified their nation with great glory. ³⁰ Jonathan rallied the nation, became their high priest, and was gathered to his people. ³¹ Their enemies planned to invade their country, that they might destroy their country utterly, and stretch out their hands against their sanctuary. ³² Then Simon rose up and fought for his nation. He spent much of his own money to arm the valiant men of his nation and give them wages. ³³ He fortified the cities of Judea and Bethsura that lies on the borders of Judea, where the weapons of the enemies were had been stored, and there he placed a garrison of Jews. ³⁴ He fortified Joppa which is upon the sea, and Gazara which is upon the borders of Azotus, where the enemies used to live, and placed Jews there, and set in there all things necessary for their restoration. ³⁵ The people saw Simon’s faith,[§] and the glory which he resolved to bring to his nation, and they made him their leader and high priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and the faith which he kept to his nation, and because he sought by all means to exalt his people. ³⁶ In his days, things prospered in his hands, so that the Gentiles were taken away out of their country, and they also who were in the city of David, those who were in Jerusalem, who had made themselves a citadel, out of which they used to go, and polluted everything around the sanctuary, and did great damage to its purity. ³⁷ He placed Jews in it and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and made high the walls of Jerusalem. ³⁸ King Demetrius confirmed to him the high priesthood according to these things, ³⁹ and made him one of his friends,* and honored him with great honor; ⁴⁰ for he had heard that the Jews had been called by the Romans friends, allies, and kindred, and that they had met the ambassadors of Simon honorably; ⁴¹ and that the Jews and the priests were well pleased that Simon should be their leader and high priest forever, until there should arise a faithful prophet; ⁴² and that he should be governor over them, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the weapons, and over the strongholds; and that he should take charge of the sanctuary, ⁴³ and that he should be obeyed by all, and that all contracts in the country should be written in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and wear gold; ⁴⁴ and that it should not be lawful for any of the people or of the priests to nullify any of these things, or to oppose the words that he should speak, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear a buckle of gold; ⁴⁵ but whoever should do otherwise, or nullify any of these things, he will be liable to punishment.' " ⁴⁶ All the people consented to ordain for Simon that he should do according to these words. ⁴⁷ So Simon accepted this, and consented to be high priest, and to be captain and governor† of the Jews and of the priests, and to be protector of all.

⁴⁸ They commanded to put this writing on tablets of brass, and to set them up within the precinct of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place, ⁴⁹ and moreover to put copies of them in the treasury, so that Simon and his sons might have them.

¹ Antiochus son of Demetrius the king sent a letter from the islands of the sea to Simon the priest and* governor of the Jews, and to all the nation. ² Its contents follow:

"King Antiochus to Simon the chief priest and† governor, and to the nation of the Jews, greetings. ³ Whereas certain troublemakers have made themselves masters of the kingdom of our fathers, but my purpose is to claim the kingdom, that I may restore it as it was before; and moreover I have raised a multitude of foreign soldiers, and have prepared warships; ⁴ moreover I plan to land in the country, that I may punish those who have destroyed our country, and those who have made many cities in the kingdom desolate; ⁵ now therefore I confirm to you all the tax remissions which the kings who were before me remitted to you, and whatever gifts besides they remitted to you, ⁶ and I permit you to coin money for your country with your own stamp, ⁷ but that Jerusalem and the sanctuary should be free. All the weapons that you have prepared, and the strongholds that you have built, which you have in your possession, let them remain yours. ⁸ Every debt owed to the king, and the things that will be owed to the king from henceforth and for evermore, let them be remitted to you. ⁹ Moreover, when we have established our kingdom, we will glorify you and your nation and the temple with great glory, so that your glory will be made manifest in all the earth.

¹⁰ In the one hundred seventy-fourth year,[‡] Antiochus went into the land of his fathers; and all the forces came together to him, so that there were few men with Tryphon. ¹¹ King Antiochus pursued him, and he came, as he fled, to Dor, which is by the sea; ¹² for he knew that troubles had come upon him all at once, and that his forces had deserted him. ¹³ Antiochus encamped against Dor, and with him one hundred twenty thousand men of war and eight thousand cavalry. ¹⁴ He surrounded the city, and the ships joined in the attack from the sea. He harassed the city by land and sea, and permitted no one to go out or in.

¹⁵ Numenius and his company came from Rome, having letters to the kings and to the countries, in which were written these things:

¹⁶ "Lucius, consul of the Romans, to King Ptolemy, greetings. ¹⁷ The Jews' ambassadors came to us as our friends and allies, to renew the old friendship and alliance, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Jews. ¹⁸ Moreover they brought a shield of gold weighing one thousand minas. [§] ¹⁹ It pleased us therefore to write to the kings and to the countries, that they should not seek their harm or fight against them, their cities, and their country, or be allies with those who fight against them. ²⁰ Moreover, it seemed good to us to receive the shield from them. ²¹ If therefore any troublemakers have fled from their country to you, deliver them to Simon the high priest, that he may take vengeance on them according to their law."

²² He wrote the same things to King Demetrius, to Attalus, to Arathes, to Arsaces, ²³ to all the countries, to^{*} Sampsames, to the Spartans, to Delos, to Myndos, to Sicyon, to Caria, to Samos, to Pamphylia, to Lycia, to Halicarnassus, to Rhodes, to Phaselis, to Cos, to Side, to Aradus, Gortyna, Cnidus, Cyprus, and Cyrene. ²⁴ They also wrote this copy to Simon the high priest.

²⁵ But King Antiochus encamped against Dor the second day, bringing his forces up to it continually, and making engines of war; and he shut up Tryphon from going in or out. ²⁶ Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to fight on his side, with silver, gold, and instruments of war in abundance. ²⁷ He would not receive them, but nullified all the covenants which he had made with him before, and was estranged from him. ²⁸ He sent to him Athenobius, one of his friends,[†] to confer with him, saying, "You hold possession of Joppa, Gazara, and the citadel that is in Jerusalem, cities of my kingdom. ²⁹ You have devastated their territory, and done great harm in the land, and control of many places in my kingdom. ³⁰ Now therefore hand over the cities which you have taken, and the tributes of the places which you have taken control of outside of the borders of Judea; ³¹ or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that you have done, and the tributes of the cities, another five hundred talents. Otherwise we will come and subdue you.”

³² Athenobius, the king's friend,[‡] came to Jerusalem. When he saw the glory of Simon, the cupboard of gold and silver vessels, and his great attendance, he was amazed. He reported to him the king's words. ³³ Simon answered, and said to him, “We have not taken other men's land nor do we have possession of that which belongs to others, but of the inheritance of our fathers. However, it had been in possession of our enemies wrongfully for a while. ³⁴ But we, having opportunity, firmly hold the inheritance of our fathers. ³⁵ As for Joppa and Gazara, which you demand, they did great harm among the people throughout our country. We will give one hundred talents for them.”

Athenobius didn't answer even one word, ³⁶ but returned in a rage to the king, and reported to him these words, and the glory of Simon, and all that he had seen; and the king was exceedingly angry. ³⁷ Meanwhile, Tryphon embarked on board a ship, and fled to Orthosia.

³⁸ The king appointed Cendebaeus chief captain of the sea coast, and gave him troops of infantry and cavalry. ³⁹ He commanded him to encamp against Judea, and he commanded him to build up Kidron, and to fortify the gates, and that he should fight against the people; but the king pursued Tryphon. ⁴⁰ So Cendebaeus came to Jamnia and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judea, and to take the people captive and kill them. ⁴¹ He built Kidron and stationed cavalry and infantry there, to the end that going out they might make raids on the highways of Judea, as the king had commanded him.

¹ John went up from Gazara and told Simon his father what Cendebaeus was doing. ² Simon called his two oldest sons, Judas and John, and said to them, “I and my brothers and my father's house have fought the battles of Israel from our youth, even to this day; and things have prospered in our hands, that we have often delivered Israel. ³ But now I am old, and you moreover, by his mercy, are of a sufficient age. Take the place of me and my brother, and go out and fight for our nation; and let the help which is from heaven be with you.

⁴ He chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war and cavalry, and they went against Cendebaeus, and slept at Modin. ⁵ Rising up in the morning, they went into the plain, and, behold, a great army of infantry and cavalry came to meet them. There was a brook between them. ⁶ He encamped near them, he and his people. He saw that the people were afraid to pass over the brook, and he passed over first. When the men saw him, they passed over after him. ⁷ He divided the people, and placed the calvary in the midst of the infantry; but the enemies' cavalry were exceedingly many. ⁸ They sounded the trumpets; and Cendebaeus and his army were put to flight, and many of them fell wounded to death, but those who were left fled to the stronghold. ⁹ At that time Judas, John's brother, was wounded; but John pursued after them until he came to Kidron, which Cendebaeus had built. ¹⁰ They fled to the towers that are in the fields of Azotus; and he burned it with fire. About two thousand men of them fell. Then he returned into Judea in peace.

¹¹ Ptolemy the son of Abubus had been appointed governor over the plain of Jericho, and he had much silver and gold; ¹² for he was the high priest's son-in-law. ¹³ His heart was lifted up, and he planned to make himself master of the country, and he made deceitful plans against Simon and his sons, to do away with them. ¹⁴ Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and attending to their needs. He went down to Jericho—himself with Mattathias and Judas his sons—in the one hundred seventy-seventh year,* in the eleventh month, which is the month Sebat. ¹⁵ The son of Abubus received them deceitfully into the little stronghold that is called Dok, which he had built, and made them a great banquet, and hid men there. ¹⁶ When Simon and his sons had drunk freely, Ptolemy and his men rose up, took their weapons, rushed in against Simon in the banqueting place, and killed him, his two sons, and some of his servants. ¹⁷ He committed a great iniquity, and repaid evil for good.

¹⁸ Ptolemy wrote these things and sent to the king, that he should send him forces to aid him, and should deliver him their country and the cities. ¹⁹ He sent others to Gazara to do away with John. To the captains of thousands, he sent letters to come to him, that he might give them silver, gold, and gifts. ²⁰ He sent others to take possession of Jerusalem and the temple hill. ²¹ One ran before to Gazara, and told John that his father and kindred had perished, and he has sent to kill you also. ²² When he heard, he was greatly shocked. He seized the men who came to destroy him and killed them; for he perceived that they were seeking to destroy him.

²³ And the rest of the acts of John and of his wars and of his valiant deeds which he did, and of the building of the walls which he built, and of his achievements, ²⁴ behold, they are written in the chronicles† of his high priesthood, from the time that he was made high priest after his father.

The Second Book of the Maccabees

The Second Book of the Maccabees is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Russian Orthodox Churches.

¹ The kindred, the Jews who are in Jerusalem and those who are in the country of Judea, send greetings and good peace to the kindred, the Jews who are throughout Egypt. ² May God do good to you, and remember his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, his faithful servants, ³ and give you all a heart to worship him and do his will with a strong heart and a willing soul. ⁴ May God open your heart to his law and his statutes, and make peace, ⁵ and listen to your requests, and be reconciled with you, and not forsake you in an evil time. ⁶ Now we are praying for you here.

⁷ In the reign of Demetrius, in the one hundred sixty-ninth year, we the Jews have already written to you in the suffering and in the distress that has come upon us in these years, from the time that Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and the kingdom, ⁸ and set the gate on fire, and shed innocent blood. We prayed to the Lord, and were heard. We offered sacrifices and meal offerings. We lit the lamps. We set out the show bread.*

⁹ Now see that you keep the days of the feast of tabernacles in the month Chislev in the one hundred eighty-eighth year.

¹⁰ The people of Jerusalem and those who are in Judea, with the senate and Judas, to Aristobulus, King Ptolemy's teacher, who is also of the stock of the anointed priests, and to the Jews who are in Egypt, we send greetings and health.

¹¹ Having been saved by God out of great perils, as men arrayed against a king, we thank him greatly. ¹² For he threw out into Persia those who fought against us in the holy city. ¹³ For when the prince had come there, with an army that seemed irresistible, they were cut to pieces in the temple of Nanaea by the treachery of Nanaea's priests. ¹⁴ For Antiochus, on the pretense that he would marry her, came into the place, he and his friends who were with him, that they might take a large part of the treasures as a dowry. ¹⁵ And when the priests of Nanaea's temple had set the treasures out, and he had come there with a small company within the wall of the sacred precinct, they locked the temple when Antiochus had come in. ¹⁶ Opening the secret door of the panelled ceiling, they threw stones and struck down the prince. They cut him and his company in pieces, and cut off their heads, and threw them to the people who were outside. ¹⁷ Blessed be our God in all things, who handed over those who had committed impiety.

¹⁸ Since we are now about to celebrate the purification of the temple in the month Chislev, on the twenty-fifth day, we thought it necessary to notify you, so that you may also keep a feast of tabernacles, and remember the fire which was given when Nehemiah offered sacrifices, after he had built both the temple and the altar.

¹⁹ For indeed when our fathers were about to be led into the land of Persia, the godly priests of that time took some of the fire of the altar, and hid it secretly in the hollow of a well that was without water, where they made sure that the place was unknown to anyone. ²⁰ Now after many years, when it pleased God, Nehemiah, having received a charge from the king of Persia, sent in quest of the fire the descendants of the priests who hid it. When they declared to us that they had found no fire, but thick liquid, ²¹ he commanded them to draw some of it out and bring it to him. When the sacrifices had been offered, Nehemiah commanded the priests to sprinkle with that liquid both the wood and the things laid on it. ²² When that was done and some time had passed, and the sun shone out, which before was hidden with clouds, a great blaze was kindled, so that all men marveled. ²³ The priests made a prayer while the sacrifice was being consumed—both the priests and all the others. Jonathan led and the rest responded, as Nehemiah did.

* 1:8 Gr. loaves

²⁴ The prayer was like this: “O Lord, Lord God, the Creator of all things, who are awesome, strong, righteous, and merciful, who alone are King and gracious, ²⁵ who alone supply every need, who alone are righteous, almighty, and eternal, you who save Israel out of all evil, who chose the ancestors and sanctified them, ²⁶ accept the sacrifice for all your people Israel, and preserve your own portion, and consecrate it. ²⁷ Gather together our scattered people, set at liberty those who are in bondage among the heathen, look upon those who are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that you are our God. ²⁸ Punish those who oppress us and in arrogance shamefully entreat us. ²⁹ Plant your people in your holy place, even as Moses said.”

³⁰ Then the priests sang the hymns. ³¹ As soon as the sacrifice was consumed, then Nehemiah commanded that the rest of the liquid be poured on large stones. ³² When this was done, a flame was kindled; but when the light from the altar shone back, it went out. ³³ When the matter became known, and it was told the king of the Persians that, in the place where the priests who were led away had hid the fire, the liquid appeared which Nehemiah and those who were with him purified the sacrifice, ³⁴ then the king enclosed the place and made it sacred after he had investigated the matter. ³⁵ When the king would show favor to any, he would exchange many presents and give them some of this liquid. ³⁶ Nehemiah and those who were with him called this thing “Nephthar”, which is by interpretation, “Cleansing”; but most men call it Nephthai.

¹ It is also found in the records that Jeremiah the prophet commanded those who were carried away to take some of the fire, as has been mentioned, ² and how that the prophet charged those who were carried away, having given them the law, that they should not forget the statutes of the Lord or be led astray in their minds when they saw images of gold and silver; and their adornment. ³ With other such words exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their hearts.

⁴ It was in the writing that the prophet, being warned by God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should follow with him, ^{*} when he went out to the mountain where Moses had gone up and saw God’s inheritance. ⁵ Jeremiah came and found a cave, he brought the tabernacle, the ark, and the altar of incense into it; then he sealed the entrance. ⁶ Some of those who followed with him came there that they might mark the way, and could not find it. ⁷ But when Jeremiah learned about that, he rebuked them, saying, "The place shall be unknown until God gathers the people together again and shows mercy. ⁸ Then the Lord will disclose these things, and the glory of the Lord shall be seen with the cloud, as it was also shown to Moses, also as Solomon implored that the place might be consecrated greatly, ⁹ and it was also declared that he, having wisdom, offered a sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple. ¹⁰ As Moses prayed to the Lord and fire came down out of heaven and consumed the sacrifice, even so Solomon also prayed, and the fire came down and consumed the burnt offerings. ¹¹ Moses said, 'Because the sin offering had not been eaten, it was consumed in like manner.' ¹² Likewise Solomon kept the eight days."

¹³ The same things were reported both in the public archives and in Nehemiah's records, and also how he, founding a library, gathered together the books about the kings and prophets, and the writings of David, and letters of kings about sacred gifts. ¹⁴ In like manner Judas also gathered together for us all those books that had been scattered by reason of the war, and they are still with us. ¹⁵ If therefore you have need of them, send some people to bring them to you.

¹⁶ Seeing then that we are about to celebrate the purification, we write to you. You will therefore do well if you celebrate the days. ¹⁷ Now God, who saved all his people, and restored the heritage to all, with the kingdom, the priesthood, and the consecration, ¹⁸ even as he promised through the law—in God have we hope, that he will soon have mercy upon us, and gather us together out of everywhere under heaven into his holy place; for he delivered us out of great evils, and purified the place.

¹⁹ Now the things concerning Judas Maccabaeus and his brothers, the purification of the greatest temple, the dedication of the altar, ²⁰ and further the wars against Antiochus Epiphanes and Eupator his son, ²¹ and the manifestations that came from heaven to those who fought with one another in brave deeds for the religion of the Jews; so that, being but a few, they seized the whole country, chased the barbarous multitudes, ²² recovered again the temple renowned all the world over, freed the city, and restored the laws which were about to be overthrown, seeing the Lord became gracious to them with all kindness. ²³ These things which have been declared by Jason of Cyrene in five books, we will attempt to abridge in one book. ²⁴ For having in view the confused mass of the numbers, and the[‡] difficulty which awaits those who would enter into the narratives of the history, by reason of the abundance of the matter, ²⁵ we were careful that those who choose to read may be attracted, and that those who wish us well may find it easy to recall, and that all readers may benefit. ²⁶ Although to us, who have taken upon ourselves the painful labor of the abridgement, the task is not easy, but a matter of sweat and sleeplessness, ²⁷ even as it is no light thing to him who prepares a banquet, and seeks the benefit of others. Nevertheless, for the sake of the gratitude of the many we will gladly endure the painful labor,²⁸ leaving to the historian the exact handling of every particular, and again having no strength to fill in the outlines of our abridgement.²⁹ For as the masterbuilder of a new house must care for the whole structure, and again he who undertakes to decorate and paint it must seek out the things fit for its adorning; even so I think it is also with us.³⁰ To occupy the ground, and to indulge in long discussions, and to be curious in particulars, is fitting for the first author of the history;³¹ but to strive after brevity of expression, and to avoid a labored fullness in the treatment, is to be granted to him who would bring a writing into a new form.³² Here then let's begin the narration, only adding this much to that which has already been said; for it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue to the history, and to abridge the history itself.

¹ When the holy city was inhabited with unbroken peace and the laws were kept very well because of the godliness of Onias the high priest and his hatred of wickedness,² it came to pass that even the kings themselves honored the place and glorified the temple with the noblest presents,³ so that even King Seleucus of Asia bore all the costs belonging to the services of the sacrifices out of his own revenues.⁴ But a man named Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, having been made guardian of the temple, disagreed with the high priest about the ruling of the market in the city.⁵ When he couldn't overcome Onias, he went to Apollonius of *Tarsus, who at that time was governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia.⁶ He brought him word how that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of untold sums of money, so that the multitude of the funds was innumerable, and that they didn't pertain to the account of the sacrifices, but that it was possible that these should fall under the king's power.⁷ When Apollonius met the king, he informed him of the money about which he had been told. So the king appointed Heliodorus, who was his chancellor, and sent him with a command to accomplish the removal of the reported money.⁸ So Heliodorus set out on his journey at once, ostensibly to visit the cities of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, but in fact to execute the king's purpose.

⁹ When he had come to Jerusalem and had been courteously received by the high priest of the city, he told him about the information which had been given, and declared why he had come; and he inquired if in truth these things were so.¹⁰ The high priest explained to him that there were in the treasury deposits of widows and orphans,¹¹ and moreover some money belonging to Hyrcanus the son of Tobias, a man in very high place, not as that impious Simon falsely alleged; and that in all there were four hundred talents of silver and two hundred of gold,¹² and that it was altogether impossible that wrong should be done to those who had put trust in the holiness of the place, and in the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honored over all the world.¹³ But Heliodorus, because of the king's command given him, said that in any case this money must be confiscated for the king's treasury.

¹⁴ So having appointed a day, he entered in to direct the inquiry concerning these matters; and there was no small distress throughout the whole city. ¹⁵ The priests, prostrating themselves before the altar in their priestly garments, and called toward heaven upon him who gave the law concerning deposits, that he should preserve these treasures safe for those who had deposited them. ¹⁶ Whoever saw the appearance of the high priest was wounded in mind; for his countenance and the change of his color betrayed the distress of his soul. ¹⁷ For a terror and a shuddering of the body had come over the man, by which the pain that was in his heart was plainly shown to those who looked at him. ¹⁸ Those who were in the houses rushed out in crowds to make a universal supplication, because the place was about to come into dishonor. ¹⁹ The women, girded with sackcloth under their breasts, thronged the streets. The virgins who were kept indoors ran together, some to the gates, others to the walls, and some looked out through the windows. ²⁰ All, stretching out their hands toward heaven, made their solemn supplication. ²¹ Then it was pitiful to see the multitude prostrating themselves all mixed together, and the anxiety of the high priest in his great distress.

²² While therefore they called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things entrusted to them † safe and secure for those who had entrusted them, ²³ Heliodorus went on to execute that which had been decreed. ²⁴ But when he was already present there with his guards near the treasury, the Sovereign of spirits and of all authority caused a great manifestation, so that all who had presumed to come with him, stricken with dismay at the power of God, fainted in terror. ²⁵ For they saw a horse with a frightening rider, adorned with beautiful trappings, and he rushed fiercely and struck at Heliodorus with his forefeet. It seemed like he who sat on the horse had complete armor of gold. ²⁶ Two others also appeared to him, young men notable in their strength, and beautiful in their glory, and splendid in their apparel, who stood by him on either side, and scourged him unceasingly, inflicting on him many sore stripes. ²⁷ When he had fallen suddenly to the ground, and great darkness had come over him, his guards picked him up and put him on a stretcher, ²⁸ and carried him—this man who had just now entered with a great retinue and all his guard into the aforesaid treasury, himself now brought to utter helplessness, manifestly made to recognize the sovereignty of God. ²⁹ So, while he, through the working of God, speechless and bereft of all hope and deliverance, lay prostrate, ³⁰ they blessed the Lord who acted marvelously for his own place. The temple, which a little before was full of terror and alarm, was filled with joy and gladness after the Almighty Lord appeared.

³¹ But quickly some of Heliodorus's familiar friends implored Onias to call upon the Most High to grant life to him who lay quite at the last gasp. ³² The high priest, secretly fearing lest the king might come to think that some treachery toward Heliodorus had been perpetrated by the Jews, brought a sacrifice for the recovery of the man. ³³ But as the high priest was making the atoning sacrifice, the same young men appeared again to Heliodorus, arrayed in the same garments. They stood and said, "Give Onias the high priest great thanks, for for his sake the Lord has granted you life. ³⁴ See that you, since you have been scourged from heaven, proclaim to all men the sovereign majesty of God." When they had spoken these words, they vanished out of sight. ³⁵ So Heliodorus, having offered a sacrifice to the Lord and vowed †great vows to him who had saved his life, and having bidden Onias farewell, returned with his army to the king. ³⁶ He testified to all men the works of the greatest God, which he had seen with his eyes.

³⁷ When the king asked Heliodorus what sort of man was fit to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, he said, ³⁸ “If you have any enemy or conspirator against the state, send him there, and you will receive him back well scourged, if he even escapes with his life; because truly there is some power of God in that place. ³⁹ For he who has his dwelling in heaven himself has his eyes on that place and helps it. Those who come to hurt it, he strikes and destroys.”

⁴⁰ This was the history of Heliodorus and the keeping of the treasury.

⁷ When Seleucus was deceased, and Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes, succeeded to the kingdom, Jason the brother of Onias supplanted his brother in the high priesthood, ⁸ having promised to the king at an audience three hundred sixty talents of silver, and out of another fund eighty talents. ⁹ In addition to this, he undertook to assign one hundred fifty more, if it might be allowed him ‡through the king's authority to set him up a gymnasium and a body of youths to be trained in it, and to register the inhabitants of Jerusalem as citizens of Antioch. ¹⁰ When the king had assented, and Jason had taken possession of the office, he immediately shifted those of his own race to the Greek way of life. ¹¹ Setting aside the royal ordinances of special favor to the Jews, granted by the means of John the father of Eupolemus, who went on the mission to the Romans to establish friendship and alliance, and seeking to overthrow the lawful ways of living, he brought in new customs forbidden by the law. ¹² For he eagerly established a gymnasium under the citadel itself, and caused the noblest of the young men to wear the Greek hat. ¹³ Thus there was an extreme of hellenization, and an advance of a foreign religion, by reason of the exceeding profaneness of Jason, who was an ungodly man and not a high priest; ¹⁴ so that the priests had no more any zeal for the services of the altar; but despising the sanctuary and neglecting the sacrifices, they hastened to enjoy that which was unlawfully provided in the wrestling arena, after the summons to the discus-throwing. ¹⁵ They despised the honors of their fathers, and valued the prestige of the Greeks best of all. ¹⁶ For this reason, severe calamity overtook them. The men whose ways of living they earnestly followed, and to whom they desired to be made like in all things, these became their enemies and punished them. ¹⁷ For it is not a light thing to show irreverence to God's laws, but later events will make this clear.

¹⁸ Now when certain games that came every fifth year were kept at Tyre, and the king was present, ¹⁹ the vile Jason sent sacred envoys,[§] as being Antiochians of Jerusalem, bearing three hundred drachmas of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought not right to use for any sacrifice, because it was not fit, but to spend it for another purpose. ²⁰ Although the intended purpose of the sender this money was for the sacrifice of Hercules, yet on account of *present circumstances it went to the construction of trireme warships.

²¹ Now when Apollonius the son of Menestheus was sent into Egypt for the † enthronement of Philometor as king, Antiochus, learning that Philometor had shown himself hostile toward the government, took precautions for the security of his realm. Therefore, going to Joppa, he travelled on to Jerusalem. ²² Being magnificently received by Jason and the city, he was brought in with torches and shouting. Then he led his army down into Phoenicia.

²³ Now after a space of three years, Jason sent Menelaus, the previously mentioned Simon's brother, to carry the money to the king, and to make reports concerning some necessary matters. ²⁴ But he being commended to the king, and having been glorified by the display of his authority, secured the high priesthood for himself, outbidding Jason by three hundred talents of silver. ²⁵ After receiving the royal mandates, he returned bringing nothing worthy of the high priesthood, but having the passion of a cruel tyrant and the rage of a savage animal. ²⁶ So Jason, who had supplanted his own brother, was supplanted by another and driven as a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites, ²⁷ Menelaus had possession of the office; but of the money that had been promised to the king nothing was regularly paid, even though Sostratus the governor of the citadel demanded it—²⁸ for his job was the gathering of the revenues—so they were both called by the king to his presence. ²⁹ Menelaus left his own brother Lysimachus for his‡ deputy in the high priesthood; and Sostratus left Crates, who was over the Cyprians.

³⁰ Now while this was the state of things, it came to pass that the people of Tarsus and Mallus revolted because they were to be given as a present to Antiochis, the king's concubine. ³¹ The king therefore quickly came to settle matters, leaving for his §deputy Andronicus, a man of high rank. ³² Then Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a favorable opportunity, presented to Andronicus certain vessels of gold belonging to the temple, which he had stolen. He had already sold others into Tyre and the neighboring cities. ³³ When Onias had sure knowledge of this, he sharply reproved him, having withdrawn himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lies by Antioch. ³⁴ Therefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus aside, asked him to kill Onias.

§ 4:19 See ver. 9. * 4:20 Some authorities read the bearers. † 4:21 The exact meaning of the Greek word is uncertain. ‡ 4:29 Gr. successor. § 4:31 Gr. successor.

Coming to Onias, and being persuaded to use treachery, and being received as a friend, Andronicus gave him his right hand with oaths and, though he was suspicious, persuaded him to come out of the sanctuary. Then, with no regard for justice, he immediately put him to death. ³⁵ For this reason not only Jews, but many also of the other nations, had indignation and displeasure at the unjust murder of the man. ³⁶ And when the king had come back from the places in Cilicia, the Jews who were in the city appealed to him against Andronicus (the Greeks also joining with them in hatred of the wickedness), urging that Onias had been wrongfully slain. ³⁷ Antiochus therefore was heartily sorry, and was moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and well ordered life of him who was dead. ³⁸ Being inflamed with anger, he immediately stripped off Andronicus's purple robe, and tore off his under garments, and when he had led him round through the whole city to that very place where he had committed the outrage against Onias, there he put the murderer out of the way, the Lord rendering to him the punishment he had deserved.

³⁹ Now when many sacrileges had been committed in the city by Lysimachus with the consent of Menelaus, and when the report of them had spread abroad outside, the people gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, after many vessels of gold had already been stolen. ⁴⁰ When the multitudes were rising against him and were filled with anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and with unrighteous violence began the attack under the leadership of Hauran, a man far gone in years and no less also in folly. ⁴¹ But when they perceived the assault of Lysimachus, some caught up stones, others logs of wood, and some took handfuls of the ashes that lay near, and they flung them all in wild confusion at Lysimachus and those who were with him. ⁴² As a result, they wounded many of them, they killed some, and they forced the rest of them to flee, but the author of the sacrilege himself they killed beside the treasury.

⁴³ But about these matters, there was an accusation laid against Menelaus. ⁴⁴ When the king had come to Tyre, the three men who were sent by the senate pleaded the cause before him. ⁴⁵ But Menelaus, seeing himself now defeated, promised much money to Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, that he might win over the king. ⁴⁶ Therefore Ptolemy taking the king aside into a cloister, as if to get some fresh air, convinced him to change his mind. ⁴⁷ He who was the cause of all the evil, Menelaus, he discharged from the accusations; but these hapless men, who, if they had pleaded even before Scythians, would have been discharged uncondemned, them he sentenced to death. ⁴⁸ Those who were spokesmen for the city and the families of Israel and the holy vessels soon suffered that unrighteous penalty. ⁴⁹ Therefore even certain Tyrians, moved with hatred of the wickedness, provided magnificently for their burial. ⁵⁰ But Menelaus, through the covetous dealings of those who were in power, remained still in his office, growing in wickedness, established as a great conspirator against his fellow-citizens.

¹ Now about this time Antiochus made his second invasion into Egypt. ² It happened that throughout all the city, for almost forty days, cavalry appeared in the midst of the sky in swift motion, wearing robes woven with gold and carrying spears, equipped with troops for battle— ³ drawing swords, squadrons of cavalry in array, encounters and pursuits of both armies, shaking shields, multitudes of lances, throwing of missiles, flashing of golden trappings, and putting on all sorts of armor. ⁴Therefore everyone prayed that the manifestation might have been given for good.

⁵ When a false rumor had arisen that Antiochus was dead, Jason took not less than a thousand men, and suddenly made an assault upon the city. When those who were on the wall were being routed, and the city was at length nearly taken, Menelaus took refuge in the citadel. ⁶ But Jason slaughtered his own citizens without mercy, not considering that good success against kinsmen is the greatest misfortune, but supposing himself to be setting up trophies over enemies, and not over fellow-countrymen. ⁷ He didn't win control of the government, but receiving shame as the result of his conspiracy, he fled again as a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites. ⁸ At last therefore he met with a miserable end. Having been imprisoned at the court of Aretas the prince of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued by all men, hated as an rebel against the laws, and abhorred as the executioner of his country and his fellow citizens, he was cast ashore in Egypt. ⁹ He who had driven many from their own country into exile perished in exile, having crossed the sea to the Lacedaemonians, hoping to find shelter there because they were* near of kin. ¹⁰ He who had thrown out a multitude unburied had none to mourn for him. He didn't have any funeral at all and no place in the tomb of his ancestors.

¹¹ Now when news came to the king concerning that which was done, he thought that Judea was in revolt. So, setting out from Egypt in a rage, he took the city by force of weapons, ¹² and commanded his soldiers to cut down without mercy those who came in their way, and to kill those who went into their houses. ¹³ Then there was killing of young and old, destruction of boys, women, and children, and slaying of virgins and infants. ¹⁴ In a total of three days, eighty thousand were destroyed, of which forty thousand were slain in close combat, and no fewer were sold into slavery than slain.

¹⁵ Not content with this, he presumed to enter into the most holy temple of all the earth, having Menelaus for his guide (who had proved himself a traitor both to the laws and to his country), ¹⁶ even taking the sacred vessels with his polluted hands, and dragging down with his profane hands the offerings that had been dedicated by other kings to enhance the glory and honor of the place. ¹⁷ Antiochus was lifted up in mind, not seeing that because of the sins of those who lived in the city the Sovereign Lord had been provoked to anger a little while, and therefore his eye was turned away from the place. ¹⁸ But had it not been so that they were already bound by many sins, this man, even as Heliodorus who was sent by King Seleucus to view the treasury, would, as soon as he came forward, have been scourged and turned back from his daring deed. ¹⁹ However the Lord didn't choose the nation for the place's sake, but the place for the nation's sake. ²⁰ Therefore also the place itself, having shared in the calamities that happened to the nation, did afterward share in its benefits; and the place which was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty was, at the reconciliation of the great Sovereign, restored again with all glory.

* 5:9 See 1 Maccabees 12:7.

²¹ As for Antiochus, when he had carried away out of the temple one thousand eight hundred talents, he hurried away to Antioch, thinking in his arrogance that he could sail on land and walk on the sea, because his heart was lifted up. ²² Moreover he left governors to afflict the race: at Jerusalem, Philip, by race a Phrygian, and in character more barbarous than him who set him there; ²³ and at Gerizim, Andronicus; and besides these, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest, exalted himself against his fellow-citizens. Having a malicious mind[†] toward the Jews[‡] whom he had made his citizens, ²⁴ he sent that[§] lord of pollutions Apollonius with an army of twenty-two thousand, commanding him to kill all those who were of full age, and to sell the women and the boys as slaves. ²⁵ He came to Jerusalem, and pretending to be a man of peace, waited till the holy day of the Sabbath, and finding the Jews at rest from work, he commanded his men to parade fully armed. ²⁶ He put to the sword all those who came out to the spectacle. Running into the city with the armed men, he killed great multitudes. ²⁷ But Judas, who is also called Maccabaeus, with about nine others, withdrew himself, and with his company kept himself alive in the mountains like wild animals do. They continued feeding on what grew wild, that they might not be partakers of the defilement.

¹² I urge those who read this book to not be discouraged because of the calamities, but recognize that these punishments were not for the destruction, but for the chastening of our race. ¹³ For indeed it is a sign of great kindness that those who act impiously are not let alone for a long time, but immediately meet with retribution. ¹⁴ For in the case of the other nations, the Sovereign Lord waits patiently to punish them until they have attained to the full measure of their sins; but not with us, ¹⁵ that he may not take vengeance on us afterward,[‡] when we have come to the[§] height of our sins. ¹⁶ Therefore he never withdraws his mercy from us; but though he chastens with calamity, he doesn't forsake his own people. ¹⁷ However let this that we have spoken suffice to remind you; but after a few words, we must come to the narrative.

²¹ But those who had the charge of that forbidden sacrificial feast took the man aside, for the acquaintance which of old times they had with him, and privately implored him to bring flesh of his own providing, such as was proper for him to use, and to make as if he did eat of the flesh from the sacrifice, as had been commanded by the king; ²² that by so doing he might be delivered from death, and so his ancient friendship with them might be treated kindly. ²³ But he, having formed a high resolve, and one that became his years, the dignity of old age, and the gray hairs* which he had reached with honor, and his excellent[†] education from a child, or rather the holy laws[‡] of God's ordaining, declared his mind accordingly, bidding them to quickly send him to Hades.

²⁴ "For it doesn't become our years to dissemble," he said, "that many of the young should suppose that Eleazar, the man of ninety years, had gone over to an alien religion; ²⁵ and so they, by reason of my deception, and for the sake of this brief and momentary life, would be led astray because of me, and I defile and disgrace myself in my old age. ²⁶ For even if for the present time I would remove from me the punishment of men, yet whether I live or die, I wouldn't escape the hands of the Almighty. ²⁷ Therefore, by bravely parting with my life now, I will show myself worthy of my old age, ²⁸ and I leave behind a noble example to the young to die willingly and nobly a glorious death for the revered and holy laws."

When he had said these words, he went immediately to the instrument of torture. ²⁹* When they changed the good will they bore toward him a little before into ill will because these words of his were, as they thought, sheer madness, ³⁰ and when he was at the point to die with the[†] blows, he groaned aloud and said, "To the Lord, who has the holy knowledge, it is manifest that, while I might have been delivered from death, I endure severe pains in my body by being scourged; but in soul I gladly suffer these things because of my fear of him."

³¹ So this man also died like this, leaving his death for an example of nobleness and a memorial of virtue, not only to the young but also to the great body of his nation.

³ The king fell into a rage, and commanded that pans and caldrons be heated. ⁴ When these were immediately heated, he gave orders to cut out the tongue of him who had been their spokesman, and to scalp him, and to cut off his extremities, with the rest of his brothers and his mother looking on. ⁵ And when he was utterly* maimed, the king gave orders to bring him to the fire, being yet alive, and to fry him in the pan. And as the smoke from the pan spread far, they and their mother also exhorted one another to die nobly, saying this: ⁶ "The Lord God sees, and in truth is† entreated for us, as Moses declared in ‡his song, which witnesses against the people to their faces, saying, 'And he will have compassion on his servants.' "

⁸ But he answered in the language of his ancestors and said to them, "No." Therefore he also underwent the next torture in succession, as the first had done. ⁹ When he was at the last gasp, he said, "You, miscreant, release us out of this present life, but the King of the world will raise us who have died for his laws up to an everlasting renewal of life."

¹⁰ After him, the third was made a victim of their mocking. When he was required, he quickly put out his tongue, and stretched out his hands courageously, ¹¹ and nobly said, "I got these from heaven. For his laws' sake I treat these with contempt. From him, I hope to receive these back again."

¹² As a result, the king himself and those who were with him were astonished at the young man's soul, for he regarded the pains as nothing.

¹³ When he too was dead, they shamefully handled and tortured the fourth in the same way. ¹⁴ Being near to death he said this: "It is good to die at the hands of men and look for the hope which is given by God, that we will be raised up again by him. For as for you, you will have no resurrection to life."

¹⁵ Next after him, they brought the fifth and shamefully handled him.

¹⁶ But he looked toward §the king and said, "Because you have authority among men, though you are corruptible, you do what you please. But don't think that our race has been forsaken by God. ¹⁷ But hold on to your ways, and see how his sovereign majesty will torture you and your descendants!"

* 7:5 Gr. useless. † 7:6 Or, comforted in ‡ 7:6 See Deuteronomy 31:21 and 32:36. § 7:16 Gr. him.

¹⁸ After him they brought the sixth. When he was about to die, he said, "Don't be vainly deceived, for we suffer these things for our own doings, as sinning against our own God. Astounding things have come to pass; ¹⁹ but don't think you that you will be unpunished, having tried to fight against God!"

²⁴ But Antiochus, thinking himself to be despised, and suspecting the reproachful voice, while the youngest was yet alive didn't only make his appeal to him by words, but also at the same time promised with oaths that he would enrich him and [‡]raise him to high honor if he would turn from the ways of his ancestors, and that he would take him for his [§]friend and entrust him with public affairs. ²⁵ But when the young man would in no way listen, the king called to him his mother, and urged her to advise the youth to save himself. ²⁶ When he had urged her with many words, she undertook to persuade her son. ²⁷ But bending toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, she spoke this in the language of her fathers: "My son, have pity upon me who carried you nine months in my womb, and nursed you three years, and nourished and brought you up to this age, and sustained you. ²⁸ I beg you, my child, to lift your eyes to the sky and the earth, and to see all things that are in it, and thus to recognize that God made them not of things that were, and that the race of men in this way comes into being. ²⁹ Don't be afraid of this butcher, but, proving yourself worthy of your brothers, accept your death, that in God's mercy I may receive you again with your brothers."

³⁰ But before she had finished speaking, the young man said, "What are you all waiting for? I don't obey the commandment of the king, but I listen to the commandment of the law that was given to our fathers through Moses.

³¹ But you, who have devised all kinds of evil against the Hebrews, will in no way escape God's hands. ³² For we are suffering because of our own sins. ³³ If for rebuke and chastening, our living Lord has been angered a little while, yet he will again be reconciled with his own servants. ³⁴ But you, O unholy man and of all most vile, don't be vainly lifted up in your wild pride with uncertain hopes, raising your hand against the heavenly children. ³⁵ For you have not yet escaped the judgment of the Almighty God who sees all things. ³⁶ For these our brothers, having endured a ^{*} short pain that brings everlasting life, have now [†] died under God's covenant. ³⁹ But the king, falling into a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, being exasperated at his mocking. ⁴⁰ So he also died pure, putting his whole trust in the Lord.

⁴¹ Last of all, after her sons, the mother died.

⁴² Let it then suffice to have said thus much concerning the sacrificial feasts and the extreme tortures.

¹ But Judas, who is also called Maccabaeus, and those who were with him, making their way secretly into the villages, called to them their kindred. Taking to them those who had continued in the Jews' religion, gathered together about six thousand. ² They called upon the Lord to look at the people who were oppressed by all, and to have compassion on the sanctuary that had been profaned by the ungodly men, ³ and to have pity on the city that was suffering ruin and ready to be leveled to the ground, and to listen to the blood that cried out to him, ⁴ and to remember the lawless destruction of the innocent infants, and concerning the blasphemies that had been committed against his name, and to show his hatred of wickedness.

¹² News came to Judas concerning Nicanor's invasion. When he communicated to those who were with him the presence of the army, ¹³ those who were cowardly and distrustful of God's judgment *ran away and left the country. ¹⁴ Others sold all that they had left, and at the same time implored the Lord to deliver those who had been sold as slaves by the impious Nicanor before he ever met them, ¹⁵ if not for their own sakes, then for the covenants made with their ancestors, and because he had called them by his holy and glorious name. ¹⁶ So Maccabaeus gathered his men together, six thousand in number, and exhorted them not to be frightened by the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen who came wrongfully against them, but to fight nobly, ¹⁷ setting before their eyes the outrage that had been lawlessly perpetrated upon the holy place, and the torture of the city that had been turned to mockery, and further the overthrow of the way of life received from their ancestors. ¹⁸ "For they," he said, "trust their weapons and daring deeds, but we trust in the almighty God, since he is able at a nod to cast down those who are coming against us, and even the whole world." ¹⁹ Moreover, he recounted to them the help given from time to time in the days of their ancestors, both in the days of Sennacherib, when one hundred eighty-five thousand perished, ²⁰ and in the land of Babylon, in the battle that was fought against the[†] Gauls, how they came to the battle with eight thousand in all, with four thousand Macedonians, and how, the Macedonians being hard pressed, the[‡] six thousand destroyed the hundred and twenty thousand because of the help which they had from heaven, and took a great deal of plunder.

²¹ And when he had with these words filled them with courage and made them ready to die for the laws and their country, he divided his army into four parts. ²² He appointed his brothers, Simon, Joseph, and Jonathan, to be leaders of the divisions with him, giving each the command of one thousand five hundred men. ²³ Moreover Eleazer also, having read aloud the sacred book, and having given as watchword, "THE HELP OF GOD", leading the first band himself, joined battle with Nicanor.

²⁴ Since the Almighty fought on their side, they killed more than nine thousand of the enemy, and wounded and[§] disabled most of Nicanor's army, and compelled them all to flee. ²⁵ They took the money of those who had come there to buy them as slaves. After they had pursued them for some^{*} distance, they returned, being constrained by the time of the day; ²⁶ for it was the day before the Sabbath, and for this reason they made no effort to chase them far. ²⁷ [†] When they had gathered [‡]the weapons of the enemy together, and had stripped off their spoils, they kept the Sabbath, greatly blessing and thanking the Lord who had saved them to this day, because he had begun to show mercy to them. ²⁸ After the Sabbath, when they had given some of the spoils to the[§] maimed, and to the widows and orphans, they distributed the rest among themselves and their children. ²⁹ When they had accomplished these things and had made a common supplication, they implored the merciful Lord to be wholly reconciled with his servants.

³⁰ Having had an encounter with the forces of Timotheus and Bacchides, they killed more than twenty thousand of them, and made themselves masters of exceedingly high strongholds, and divided very much plunder, giving the *maimed, orphans, widows, and the aged an equal share with themselves. ³¹ † When they had gathered the weapons ‡ of the enemy together, they stored them all up carefully in the most strategic positions, and they carried the rest of the spoils to Jerusalem. ³² They killed the Sphylarch of Timotheus's forces, a most unholy man, and one who had done the Jews much harm. ³³ * As they celebrated the feast of victory in the † city of their fathers, they burned those who had set the sacred ‡ gates on fire, including Callisthenes, who had fled into Sa little house. So they received the proper reward for their impiety.

³⁴ The thrice-acursed Nicanor, who had brought the thousand merchants to buy the Jews as slaves, ³⁵ being through the help of the Lord humbled by them who in his eyes were held to be of least account, took off his glorious apparel, and passing through the country, *shunning all company like a fugitive slave, arrived at Antioch, † having, as he thought, had the greatest possible good fortune, though his army was destroyed. ³⁶ He who had taken upon himself to make tribute sure for the Romans by the captivity of the men of Jerusalem published abroad that the Jews had One who fought for them, and that ‡because this was so, the Jews were invulnerable, because they followed the laws ordained by him.

¹ Now about that time, Antiochus retreated *in disorder from the region of Persia. ² For he had entered into the city called Persepolis, and he attempted to rob †a temple and to control the city. Therefore the multitudes rushed in and the people of the country turned to defend themselves with weapons; and it came to pass that Antiochus was put to flight by the people of the country and broke his camp with disgrace. ³ While he was at Ecbatana, news was brought to him about what had happened to Nicanor and the forces of Timotheus. ⁴ Being overcome by his anger, he planned to make the Jews suffer for the evil deeds of those who had put him to flight. Therefore, with judgment from heaven even now accompanying him, he ordered his charioteer to drive without ceasing until he completed the journey; for he arrogantly said this: "I will make Jerusalem a common graveyard of Jews when I come there."

⁵ But the All-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, struck him with a ‡fatal and invisible stroke. As soon as he had finished speaking this word, an incurable pain of the bowels seized him, with bitter torments of the inner parts—⁶ and that most justly, for he had tormented other men's bowels with many and strange sufferings. ⁷ But he in no way ceased from his rude insolence. No, he was filled with even more arrogance, breathing fire in his passion against the Jews, and giving orders to hasten the journey. But it came to pass moreover that he fell from his chariot as it rushed along, and having a grievous fall was tortured in all of the members of his body. ⁸ He who had just supposed himself to have the waves of the sea at his bidding because he was so superhumanly arrogant, and who thought to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, was now brought to the ground and carried in a litter, ⁹ showing to all that the power was obviously God's, so that worms swarmed out of the impious man's body, and while he was still living in anguish and pains, his flesh fell off, and by reason of the stench all the army turned with loathing from his decay. ¹⁰ The man who a little before supposed himself to touch the stars of heaven, no one could endure to carry because of his intolerable stench. ¹¹ Therefore he began in great part to cease from his arrogance, being broken in spirit, and to come to knowledge under the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment. ¹² When he himself could not stand his own smell, he said these words: "It is right to be subject to God, and that one who is mortal should not think they are equal to God."

¹³ The vile man vowed to the sovereign Lord, who now no more would have pity upon him, saying ¹⁴ that the holy city, to which he was going in haste to lay it even with the ground and to ^{*}make it a common graveyard, he would declare free. ¹⁵ Concerning the Jews, whom he had decided not even to count worthy of burial, but to cast them out to the animals with their infants for the birds to devour, he would make them all equal to citizens of Athens. ¹⁶ The holy sanctuary, which before he had plundered, he would adorn with best offerings, and would restore all the sacred vessels many times multiplied, and out of his own revenues would defray the charges that were required for the sacrifices. ¹⁷ Beside all this, he said that he would become a Jew and would visit every inhabited place, proclaiming the power of God. ¹⁸ But when his sufferings did in no way cease, for the judgment of God had come upon him in righteousness, having given up all hope for himself, he wrote to the Jews the letter written below, having the nature of a supplication, to this effect:

¹⁹ "To the worthy Jewish citizens, Antiochus, king and general, wishes much joy and health and prosperity. ²⁰ May you and your children fare well, and may your affairs be as you wish. Having my hope in heaven, ²¹ I remembered with affection your honor and good will. Returning out of the region of Persia, and being taken with an annoying sickness, I deemed it necessary to take thought for the common safety of all, ²² not despairing of myself, but having great hope to escape from the sickness. ²³ But considering that my father also, at the time he led an army into the upper country, appointed his successor, ²⁴ to the end that, if anything fell out contrary to expectation, or if any unwelcome tidings were brought, the people in the country, knowing to whom the state had been left, might not be troubled, ²⁵ and, moreover, observing how the princes who are along the borders and neighbors to my kingdom watch for opportunities and look for the future event, I have appointed my son Antiochus to be king, whom I often entrusted and commended to most of you when I was hurrying to the upper provinces. I have written to him what is written below. ²⁶ I therefore urge you and beg you, having in your remembrance the benefits done to you in common and severally, to preserve your present good will, each of you, toward me and my son. ²⁷ For I am persuaded that he in gentleness and kindness will follow my purpose and treat you with moderation and kindness.

§ 9:8 Or, showing manifestly to all the power of God * 9:14 Gr. build.

²⁸ So the murderer and blasphemer, having endured the most intense sufferings, even as he had dealt with other men, ended his life among the mountains by a most piteous fate in a strange land. ²⁹ Philip his foster brother took the body home and then, fearing the son of Antiochus, he withdrew himself to Ptolemy Philometor in Egypt.

¹ Then Maccabaeus and those who were with him, the Lord leading them on, recovered the temple and the city. ² They pulled down the altars that had been built in the marketplace by the foreigners, and also the sacred enclosures. ³ Having cleansed the sanctuary, they made another altar of sacrifice. ^{*}Striking flint and starting a fire, they offered sacrifices after they had ceased for two years, burned incense, lit lamps, and set out the show bread. ⁴ When they had done these things, they fell prostrate and implored the Lord that they might fall no more into such evils; but that, if they ever did sin, they might be chastened by him with forbearance, and not be delivered to blaspheming and barbarous heathen. ⁵ Now on the same day that the sanctuary was profaned by foreigners, upon that very day it came to pass that the sanctuary was cleansed, even on the twenty-fifth day of the same month, which is Chislew. ⁶ They observed eight days with gladness in the manner of the feast of tabernacles, remembering how [†]not long before, during the feast of tabernacles, they were wandering in the mountains and in the caves like wild animals. ⁷ Therefore carrying wands wreathed with leaves, and beautiful branches, and palm fronds also, they offered up hymns of thanksgiving to him who had successfully brought to pass the cleansing of his own place. ⁸ They ordained also with a public statute and decree, for all the nation of the Jews, that they should observe these days every year.

⁹ Such were the events of the end of Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes.

¹⁰ Now we will declare what came to pass under Antiochus [‡]Eupator, who proved himself a son of that ungodly man, and will summarize the main evils of the wars. ¹¹ For this man, when he succeeded to the kingdom, appointed one Lysias to be chancellor and supreme governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia. ¹² For Ptolemy who was called Macron, setting an example of observing justice toward the Jews because of the wrong that had been done to them, endeavored to deal with them on peaceful terms. ¹³ Whereupon being accused by the king's [§]friends before Eupator, and hearing himself called traitor at every turn because he had abandoned Cyprus which Philometor had entrusted to him, and had withdrawn himself to Antiochus Epiphanes, and ^{*}failing to uphold the honor of his office, he took poison and did away with himself.

¹⁴ But when Gorgias was made governor of the district, he maintained a force of mercenaries, and at every turn kept up war with the Jews. ¹⁵ Together with him the Idumaeans also, being masters of important strongholds, harassed the Jews; and received those who had taken refuge from Jerusalem, they endeavored to keep up the war. ¹⁶ But Maccabaeus and his men, having made solemn supplication and having implored God to fight on their side, rushed upon the strongholds of the Idumaeans. ¹⁷ Assaulting them vigorously, they took control of the positions, and kept off all who fought upon the wall, and killed those whom they encountered, killing no fewer than twenty thousand.

¹⁸ Because no fewer than nine thousand had fled into two very strong towers having everything needed for a siege, ¹⁹ Maccabaeus, having left Simon and Joseph, and also Zacchaeus and those who were with him, a force sufficient to besiege them, departed himself to places where he was most needed. ²⁰ But Simon and those who were with him, yielding to covetousness, were bribed by some of those who were in the towers, and receiving seventy thousand drachmas, let some of them slip away. ²¹ But when word was brought to Maccabaeus of what was done, he gathered the leaders of the people together, and accused those men of having sold their kindred for money by setting their enemies free to fight against them. ²² So he killed these men for having turned traitors, and immediately took possession of the two towers. ²³ Prospering with his weapons in everything he undertook, he destroyed more than twenty thousand in the two strongholds.

²⁴ Now Timotheus, who had been defeated by the Jews before, having gathered together foreign forces in great multitudes, and having collected the cavalry which belonged to Asia, not a few, came as though he would take Judea by force of weapons. ²⁵ But as he drew near, Maccabaeus and his men sprinkled dirt on their heads and girded their loins with sackcloth, in supplication to God, ²⁶ and falling down upon the step in front of the altar, implored him to become †gracious to them, and ‡be an enemy to their enemies and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declares. ²⁷ Rising from their prayer they took up their weapons, and advanced some distance from the city. When they had come near to their enemies, they[§] halted. ²⁸ When the dawn was now breaking, the two armies joined in battle, the one part having this, beside virtue, for a pledge of success and victory, that they had fled to the Lord for refuge, the others making their passion their leader in the fight.

³² Timotheus himself fled into a stronghold called Gazara, a fortress of great strength, †where Chaereas was in command. ³³ Then Maccabaeus and his men were glad and laid siege to the fortress for four days. ³⁴ Those who were within, trusting in the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and hurled out impious words. ³⁵ But at dawn of the fifth day, certain young men of Maccabaeus' company, inflamed with anger because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall with masculine force and with [‡]furious anger; and cut down whoever came in their way. ³⁶ Others climbing up in the same way, while the enemies were distracted with those who had made their way within, set fire to the towers, and kindled fires that burned the blasphemers alive, while others broke open the gates, and, having given entrance to the rest of the band, occupied the city. ³⁷ They killed Timotheus, who was hidden in a cistern, and his brother Chaereas, and Apollophanes. ³⁸ When they had accomplished these things, they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgiving, blessing him who provides great benefits to Israel and gives them the victory.

¹ Now after a very little time, Lysias, the king's guardian, kinsman, and chancellor, being very displeased about the things that had happened, ² collected about eighty thousand infantry and all his cavalry and came against the Jews, planing to make the city a home for Greeks, ³ and to levy tribute on the temple, as ^{*} on the other sacred places of the nations, and to put up the high priesthood for sale every year. ⁴ He took no account of God's power, but was puffed up with his ten thousands of infantry, his thousands of cavalry, and his eighty elephants. ⁵ Coming into Judea and approaching Bethsuron, which was a strong place and about five stadia[†] away from Jerusalem, he pressed it hard.

⁶ When Maccabaeus and his men learned that he was besieging the strongholds, they and all the people with lamentations and tears made supplication to the Lord to send a good angel to save Israel. ⁷ Maccabaeus himself took up weapons first, and exhorted the others to put themselves in jeopardy together with him and help their kindred; and they went out with him very willingly. ⁸ As they were there, close to Jerusalem, a horseman appeared at their head in white apparel, brandishing[§] weapons of gold. ⁹ They all together praised the merciful God, and were yet more strengthened in heart, being ready to [§]assail not only men but the wildest animals and walls of iron, ¹⁰ they advanced in array, having him who is in heaven to fight on their side, for the Lord had mercy on them. ¹¹ Hurling themselves like lions against the enemy, they killed eleven thousand infantry and one thousand six hundred cavalry, and forced all the rest to flee. ¹² Most of them escaped wounded and naked. Lysias himself also escaped by shameful flight. ¹³ But as he was a man not void of understanding, pondering the defeat which had befallen him, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome because the Almighty God fought on their side, he sent again ¹⁴ and persuaded them to come to terms on condition that all their rights were acknowledged, and ^{*} promised that he would also persuade the king to become their friend. ¹⁵ Maccabaeus gave consent upon all the conditions which Lysias proposed to him, being careful of the common good; for whatever requests Maccabaeus delivered in writing to Lysias concerning the Jews the king allowed.

¹⁶ The letter written to the Jews from Lysias was to this effect:

“Lysias to the †people of the Jews, greetings. ¹⁷ John and Absalom, who were sent from you, having delivered the document written below, made request concerning the things written therein. ¹⁸ Whatever things therefore needed to be brought before the king I declared to him, and what things were possible he allowed. ¹⁹ If then you will all preserve your good will toward the government, I will also endeavor in the future to contribute to your good. ²⁰ Concerning this, I have given order in detail, both to these men and to those who are sent from me, to confer with you. ²¹ Farewell. Written in the one hundred forty-eighth year, on the twenty-fourth day of the month ‡Dioscorinthius.”

²² And the king's letter contained these words:

“King Antiochus to his brother Lysias, greetings. ²³ Seeing that our father passed to the gods having the wish that the subjects of his kingdom §should be undisturbed and give themselves to the care of their own affairs, ²⁴ we, having heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's purpose to turn them to the customs of the Greeks, but choose rather their own way of living, and make request that the customs of their law be allowed to them—²⁵ choosing therefore that this nation also should be free from disturbance, we determine that their temple is to be restored to them, and that they live according to the customs that were in the days of their ancestors. ²⁶ You will therefore do well to send messengers to them and give them the right hand of friendship, that they, knowing our mind, may be of good heart, and gladly occupy themselves with the conduct of their own affairs.”

²⁷ And to the nation, the king's letter was as follows:

“King Antiochus to the senate of the Jews and to the other Jews, greetings. ²⁸ If you are all well, it is as we desire. We ourselves also are in good health. ²⁹ Menelaus informed us that your desire was to return home and follow your own business. ³⁰ They therefore who depart home up to the thirtieth day of Xanthicus shall have our *friendship, with full permission ³¹ that the Jews use their own foods and observe their own laws, even as formerly. None of them shall be in any way molested for the things that have been done in ignorance. ³² Moreover I have sent Menelaus also, that he may encourage you. ³³ Farewell. Written in the one hundred forty-eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus.”

³⁴ The Romans also sent to them a letter in these words:

“Quintus Memmius and Titus Manius, ambassadors of the Romans, to the people of the Jews, greetings. ³⁵ In regard to the things which Lysias the king's kinsman granted you, we also give consent. ³⁶ But as for the things which he judged should be referred to the king, send someone promptly, after you have considered them, that we may publish such decrees as are appropriate for your case; for we are on our way to Antioch. ³⁷ Therefore send someone with speed, that we also may learn what is your mind.

¹ So when this agreement had been made, Lysias departed to the king, and the Jews went about their farming.

² But some of the governors of districts, Timotheus and Apollonius the son of Gennaesus, and also Hieronymus and Demophon, and beside them Nicanor the governor of Cyprus, would not allow them to enjoy tranquillity and live in peace. ³ Men of Joppa perpetrated this great impiety: they invited the Jews who lived among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had provided, as though they had no ill will toward them. ⁴ When* the Jews,† relying on the public vote of the city, accepted the invitation, as men desiring to live in peace and suspecting nothing, they took them out to sea and drowned not less than two hundred of them. ⁵ When Judas heard of the cruelty done to his fellow-countrymen, giving command to the men that were with him ⁶ and calling upon God the righteous Judge, he came against the murderers of his kindred, and set the harbor on fire at night, burned the boats, and put to the sword those who had fled there. ⁷ But when the town gates were closed, he withdrew, intending to come again to root out the whole community of the men of Joppa. ⁸ But learning that the men of Jamnia intended to do the same thing to the Jews who lived among them, ⁹ he attacked the Jamnites at night, and set fire to the harbor together with the fleet, so that the glare of the light was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred forty furlongs‡ distant.

¹³ He also attacked a certain city, strong and fenced with earthworks and walls, and inhabited by a mixed multitude of various nations. It was named Caspin. ¹⁴ Those who were within, trusting in the strength of the walls and their store of provisions, behaved themselves rudely toward Judas and those who were with him, railing, and furthermore blaspheming and speaking impious words. ¹⁵ But Judas and his company, calling upon the great Sovereign of the world, who without rams and cunning engines of war hurled down Jericho in the times of Joshua, rushed wildly against the wall. ¹⁶ Having taken the city by the will of God, they made unspeakable slaughter, so much that the adjoining lake, which was two furlongs[†] broad, appeared to be filled with the deluge of blood.

¹⁷ When they had gone seven hundred fifty furlongs[‡] from there, they made their way to Charax, to the Jews that are called [§]Tubieni. ¹⁸ They didn't find Timotheus in that district, for he had by then departed from the district without accomplishing anything, but had left behind a very strong garrison in one place. ¹⁹ But Dositheus and Sosipater, who were captains under Maccabaeus, went out and destroyed those who had been left by Timotheus in the stronghold, more than ten thousand men. ²⁰ Maccabaeus, arranging his own army in divisions, set ^{*}these two over the bands, and marched in haste against Timotheus, who had with him one hundred twenty thousand infantry and two thousand five hundred cavalry. ²¹ When Timotheus heard of the approach of Judas, he at once sent away the women and the children with the baggage into the fortress called [†]Carnion; for the place was hard to besiege and difficult of access by reason of the narrowness of the approaches on all sides. ²² When the band of Judas, who led the first division, appeared in sight, and when terror and fear came upon the enemy, because the manifestation of him who sees all things came upon them, they fled in every direction, carried this way and that, so that they were often injured by their own men, and pierced with the points of their own swords. ²³ Judas continued the pursuit more vigorously, putting the wicked wretches to the sword, and he destroyed as many as thirty thousand men.

²⁴ Timotheus himself, falling in with the company of Dositheus and Sosipater, implored them with much crafty guile to let him go with his life, because he had in his power the parents of many of them and the kindred of some. [‡] "Otherwise, he said, little regard will [§]be shown to these." ²⁵ So when he had with many words confirmed the agreement to restore them without harm, they let him go that they might save their kindred.

²⁶ Then Judas, marching against ^{}Carnion and the temple of Atergatis, killed twenty-five thousand people. ²⁷ After he had put these to flight and destroyed them, he marched against Ephron also, a strong city, [†]wherein were multitudes of people of all nations. Stalwart young men placed [‡]on the walls made a vigorous defense. There were great stores of war engines and darts there. ²⁸ But calling upon the Sovereign who with might shatters the [§]strength of ^{}the enemy, they took the city into their hands, and killed as many as twenty-five thousand of those who were in it.

²⁹ Setting out from there, they marched in haste against Scythopolis, which is six hundred furlongs[†] away from Jerusalem. ³⁰ But when the Jews who were settled there testified of the good will that the Scythopolitans had shown toward them, and of their kind treatment of them in the times of their misfortune, ³¹ they gave thanks, and further exhorted them to remain well disposed toward the race for the future. Then they went up to Jerusalem, the feast of weeks being close at hand.

³² But after the feast called Pentecost, they marched in haste against Gorgias the governor of Idumaea. ³³ He came out with three thousand infantry and four hundred cavalry. ³⁴ When they had set themselves in array, it came to pass that a few of the Jews fell. ³⁵ A certain Dositheus, one † of Bacenor's company, who was on horseback and was a strong man, pressed hard on Gorgias, and taking hold of his cloke dragged him along by main force. While he planned to take the accursed man alive, one of the Thracian cavalry bore down on him and disabled his shoulder, and so Gorgias escaped to ṠMarisa.

³⁶ When those who were with Esdris had been fighting long and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord to show himself, fighting on their side and leading in the battle. ³⁷ Then in the language of his ancestors he raised the battle cry joined with hymns. Then he rushed against Gorgias' troops when they were not expecting it, and put them to flight.

³⁸ Judas gathered his army and came to the city of *Adullam. As the seventh day was coming on, they purified themselves according to the custom, and kept the Sabbath there.

³⁹ On the following day, †when it had become necessary, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of those who had fallen, ‡and in company with their kinsmen to bring them back to the sepulchres of their ancestors. ⁴⁰ But under the garments of each one of the dead they found Ṡconsecrated tokens of the idols of Jamnia, which the law forbids the Jews to have anything to do with. It became clear to all that it was for this cause that they had fallen. ⁴¹ All therefore, blessing the ways of the Lord, the righteous Judge, who makes manifest the things that are hidden, ⁴² turned themselves to supplication, praying that the sin committed might be wholly blotted out. The noble Judas exhorted the multitude to keep themselves from sin, for they had seen with their own eyes what happened because of the sin of those who had fallen. ⁴³ When he had made a collection man by man to the sum of two thousand drachmas of silver, he sent to Jerusalem to offer a sacrifice for sin, doing very well and honorably in this, in that he took thought for the resurrection. ⁴⁴ For if he wasn't expecting that those who had fallen would rise again, it would be superfluous and idle to pray for the dead. ⁴⁵ But if he was looking forward to an honorable memorial of gratitude laid up for those who *die †in godliness, then the thought was holy and godly. Therefore he made the atoning sacrifice for those who had died, that they might be released from their sin.

¹ In the one hundred forty-ninth year, news was brought to Judas and his company that Antiochus Eupator was coming with multitudes against Judea, ² and with him Lysias his guardian and chancellor, each having a Greek force of one hundred ten thousand infantry, five thousand three hundred cavalry, twenty-two elephants, and three hundred chariots armed with scythes.

³ And Menelaus also joined himself with them, and with great hypocrisy encouraged Antiochus, not for the saving of his country, but because he thought that he would be set over the government. ⁴ But the King of kings stirred up the anger of Antiochus against the wicked wretch. When Lysias informed him that this man was the cause of all the evils, the king commanded to bring him to Beroea, and to put him to death in the way customary in that place. ⁵ Now there is in that place a tower that is fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had all around it a *circular rim sloping steeply on every side into the ashes. ⁶ Here one who is guilty of sacrilege or notorious for other crimes is pushed down to destruction. ⁷ By such a fate it happened that the breaker of the law, Menelaus, died, without obtaining so much as a grave in the earth, and that justly; ⁸ for inasmuch as he had perpetrated many sins † against the altar, whose fire and whose ashes were holy, he received his death in ashes.

⁹ Now the king,‡ infuriated in spirit, was coming with intent to inflict on the Jews the very worst of the sufferings that had been done in his father's time. ¹⁰ But when Judas heard of these things, he commanded the multitude to call upon the Lord day and night, if ever at any other time, so now to help those who were at the point of being deprived of the law, their country, and the holy temple, ¹¹ and not to allow the people who had just begun to be revived to fall into the hands of those profane heathen. ¹² So when they had all done the same thing together, § begging the merciful Lord with weeping and fastings and prostration for three days without ceasing, Judas exhorted them and commanded they should join him.

¹³ Having consulted privately with the elders, he resolved that before the king's army entered into Judea and made themselves masters of the city, they should go out and decide the matter by the help of *God. ¹⁴ And committing the decision to the †Lord of the world, and exhorting those who were with him to contend nobly even to death for laws, temple, city, country, and way of life, he pitched his camp by Modin. ¹⁵ He gave out to his men the watchword, "VICTORY IS GOD'S", with a chosen force of the bravest young men he attacked by the king's pavilion by night, and killed of his army as many as two thousand men, and ‡brought down the leading elephant with him who was in the §tower on him. ¹⁶ At last they filled the *army with terror and alarm, and departed with good success. ¹⁷ This had been accomplished when the day was just dawning, because of the Lord's protection that gave †Judas help.

¹⁸ But the king, having had a taste of the exceeding boldness of the Jews, made strategic attacks on their positions, ¹⁹ and on a strong fortress of the Jews at Bethsura. He advanced, was turned back, failed, and was defeated. ²⁰ Judas sent the things that were necessary to those who were within. ²¹ But Rhodocus, from the Jewish ranks, made secrets known to the enemy. He was sought out, arrested, and shut up in prison. ²² The king negotiated with them in Bethsura the second time, gave his hand, took theirs, departed, attacked the forces of Judas, was put to the worse, ²³ heard that Philip who had been left as chancellor in Antioch had become reckless, was confounded, made to the Jews an overture of peace, submitted himself and swore to acknowledge all their rights, came to terms with them and offered sacrifice, honored the sanctuary and the place, ²⁴ showed kindness and graciously received Maccabaeus, left Hegemonides governor from Ptolemais even to the † Gerrenians, ²⁵ and came to Ptolemais. The men of Ptolemais were displeased at the treaty, for they had exceedingly great indignation against the Jews. They desired to annul the articles of the agreement. ²⁶ Lysias † came forward to speak, made the best defense that was possible, persuaded, pacified, gained their good will, and departed to Antioch. This was the issue of the attack and departure of the king.

³ But one Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest, and had willfully polluted himself in the times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, considering that there was no deliverance for him in any way, nor any more access to the holy altar, ⁴ came to King Demetrius in about the one hundred fifty-first year, presenting to him a crown of gold and a palm, and beside these some of the festal olive boughs of the temple. For that day, he held his peace; ⁵ but having gotten opportunity to further his own madness, being called by Demetrius into a meeting of his council, and asked how the Jews stood affected and what they intended, he answered:

⁶ “Those of the Jews called *Hasidaeans, whose leader is Judas Macabaeus, keep up war and are seditious, not allowing the kingdom to find tranquillity. ⁷ Therefore, having laid aside my ancestral glory—I mean the high priesthood—I have now come †here, ⁸ first for the genuine care I have for the things that concern the king, and secondly because I have regard also to my own fellow citizens. For through the unadvised dealing of those of whom I spoke before, our whole race is in no small misfortune. ⁹ O king, having informed yourself of these things, take thought both for our country and for our race, which is surrounded by enemies, according to the gracious kindness with which you receive all. ¹⁰ For as long as Judas remains alive, it is impossible for the government to find peace. ¹¹ When he had spoken such words as these, at once †the rest of the king’s †friends, having ill will against Judas, inflamed Demetrius yet more. ¹² He immediately appointed Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and made him governor of Judea. He sent him out, ¹³ giving him written instructions to kill Judas himself and to scatter those who were with him, and to set up Alcimus as high priest of the *great temple. ¹⁴ Those in Judea who †had driven Judas into exile thronged to Nicanor in flocks, supposing that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would be successes to themselves.

¹⁵ But when the Jews heard of Nicanor's advance and the assault of the heathen, they sprinkled dirt on their heads and made solemn prayers to him who had established his own people for evermore, and who always, making manifest his presence, upholds those who are his own heritage. ¹⁶ ‡When the leader had given orders, he immediately set out from there and joined battle with them at a village called Lessau. ¹⁷ But Simon, the brother of Judas, had encountered Nicanor, yet not till late, having been delayed by reason of the sudden consternation caused by his adversaries.

¹⁸ Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the valor of those who were with Judas, and their courage in fighting for their country, shrank from bringing the matter to the decision of the sword. ¹⁹ Therefore he sent Posidonius, Theodotus, and Mattathias to give and receive pledges of friendship. ²⁰ So when these proposals had been long considered, and the leader had made the Stroops acquainted with them, and it appeared that they were all of like mind, they consented to the covenants. ²¹ They appointed a day on which to meet together by themselves. A chariot came forward from each army. They set up seats of honor. ²² Judas stationed armed men ready in convenient places, lest perhaps there should suddenly be treachery on the part of the enemy. They held a conference as was appropriate. ²³ Nicanor waited in Jerusalem, and did nothing to cause disturbance, but dismissed the flocks of people that had gathered together. ²⁴ He kept Judas always in his presence. He had gained a hearty affection for the man. ²⁵ He urged him to marry and have children. He married, settled quietly, and took part in common life.

²⁶ But Alcimus, perceiving the good will that was between them, *and having taken possession of the covenants that had been made, came to Demetrius and told him that Nicanor was disloyal to the government, for he had appointed that conspirator against his kingdom, Judas, to be his successor. ²⁷ The king, falling into a rage, and being exasperated by the false accusations of that most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was displeased at the covenants, and commanding him to send Maccabaeus prisoner to Antioch in all haste. ²⁸ When this message came to Nicanor, he was confounded, and was very troubled at the thought of annulling the articles that had been agreed upon, the man having done no wrong; ²⁹ but because there was no opposing the king, he watched his time to execute this purpose by strategy. ³⁰ But Maccabaeus, when he perceived that Nicanor was behaving more harshly in his dealings with him, and that he had become ruler in his customary bearing, understanding that this harshness came not of good, gathered together not a few of his men, and concealed himself from Nicanor.

³¹ But the other, † when he became aware that he had been bravely defeated by the strategy of Judas, ‡ came to the great § and holy temple, while the priests were offering the usual sacrifices, and commanded them to hand over the man. ³² When they declared with oaths that they had no knowledge where the man was whom he sought, ³³ he stretched out his right hand toward the sanctuary, and swore this oath: "If you won't deliver up to me Judas as a prisoner, I will level this *temple of God even with the ground, break down the altar, and I will erect here a temple to Dionysus for all to see.

³⁴ And having said this, he departed. But the priests, stretching forth their hands toward heaven, called upon him who always fights for our nation, in these words: ³⁵ "You, O Lord of the universe, who in yourself have need of nothing, were well pleased that a sanctuary of your habitation† should be set among us. ³⁶ So now, O holy Lord of all holiness, keep undefiled forever this house that has been recently cleansed."

³⁷ Now information was given to Nicanor against one Razis, an elder of Jerusalem, who was a lover of his countrymen and a man of very good report, and one called Father of the Jews for his good will. ³⁸ For in the former times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, he had been accused of following the Jews' religion, and had risked body and life with all earnestness for the religion of the Jews. ³⁹ Nicanor, wishing to make evident the ill will that he bore against the Jews, sent above five hundred soldiers to seize him; ⁴⁰ for he thought by seizing him to inflict an injury on them. ⁴¹ But when the ‡troops were at the point of taking the tower, and were forcing the door of the court, and asked for fire to burn the doors, he, being surrounded on every side, fell upon his sword, ⁴² choosing rather to die nobly than to fall into the hands of the wicked wretches, and suffer outrage unworthy of his own nobleness. ⁴³ But since he missed his stroke through the excitement of the struggle, and the crowds were now rushing within the door, he ran bravely up to the wall and cast himself down bravely among the crowds. ⁴⁴ But as they quickly gave back, a space was made, and he fell on the middle of §his side. ⁴⁵ Still having breath within him, and being inflamed with anger, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out in streams and his wounds were grievous, he ran through the crowds, and standing upon a steep rock, ⁴⁶ when as his blood was now well near spent, he drew forth his bowels through the wound, and taking them in both his hands he shook them at the crowds. Calling upon him who is Lord of life and spirit to restore him *these again, he died like this.

¹ But Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in the region of Samaria, resolved to attack them with complete safety on the day of rest.

² When the Jews who were compelled to follow him said, "Don't destroy so savagely and barbarously, but give due glory to the day which he who sees all things has honored and hallowed above other days."

³ Then the thrice-accursed wretch asked if there were a Sovereign in heaven who had commanded to keep the Sabbath day.

⁴ When they declared, "There is the Lord, living himself as Sovereign in heaven, who told us observe the seventh day."

⁵ He replied, "I also am a sovereign on the earth, who commands you to take up weapons and execute the king's business." Nevertheless he didn't prevail to execute his cruel plan.

¹⁷ Being encouraged by the words of Judas, which were noble and effective, and able to incite to virtue and to stir the souls of the young to manly courage, they determined not to carry on a campaign, but nobly to bear down upon the enemy, and fighting hand to hand with all courage bring the matter to a conclusion, because the city, the sanctuary, and the temple were in danger. ¹⁸ For their fear for wives and children, and furthermore for family and relatives, was less important to them; but greatest and first was their fear for the consecrated sanctuary. ¹⁹ Also those who were shut up in the city were in no light distress, being troubled because of the encounter in the open country.

²⁰ When all were now waiting for the decision of the issue, and the enemy had already joined battle, and the army had been set in array, and the elephants[†] brought back to a convenient post,[‡] and the cavalry deployed on the flanks, ²¹ Maccabaeus, perceiving the presence of the [§]troops, and the various weapons with which they were equipped, and the savageness of the ^{*}elephants, holding up his hands to heaven called upon the Lord who works wonders, knowing that success comes not by weapons, but that, according to how the Lord judges, he gains the victory for those who are worthy. ²² And calling upon God, he said this: "You, O Sovereign Lord, sent your angel in the time of King Hezekiah of Judea, and he killed of the [†]army of Sennacherib as many as one hundred eighty-five thousand. ²³ So now also, O Sovereign of the heavens, send a good angel before us to bring terror and trembling. ²⁴ Through the greatness of your arm let them be stricken with dismay who with blasphemy have come here against your holy people.” As he finished these words, ²⁵ Nicanor and his company advanced with trumpets and victory songs; ²⁶ but Judas and his company joined battle with the enemy with invocation and prayers. ²⁷ Fighting with their hands and praying to God with their hearts, they killed no less than thirty-five thousand men, being made exceedingly glad by the manifestation of God.

²⁸ When the engagement was over and they were returning again with joy, they recognized Nicanor lying dead in full armor. ²⁹ Then there was shouting and noise, and they blessed the Sovereign Lord in the language of their ancestors. ³⁰ He who in all things was in body and soul the foremost champion of his fellow-citizens, he who kept through life the good will of his youth toward his countrymen, ordered that Nicanor’s head be cut off with his hand and arm, and that they be brought to Jerusalem. ³¹ When he had arrived there and had called his countrymen together and set the priests before the altar, he sent for those who were in the citadel. ³² Showing the head of the vile Nicanor and the hand of that profane man, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy house of the Almighty, ³³ and cutting out the tongue of the impious Nicanor, he said that he would give it in pieces to the birds, and hang up these rewards of his folly near the sanctuary. ³⁴ They all, looking up to heaven, blessed the Lord who had manifested himself, saying, “Blessed is he who has preserved his own place undefiled!” ³⁵ He hung Nicanor’s head and shoulder from the citadel, a clear sign evident to all of the help of the Lord. ³⁶ They all ordained with a common decree to in no way let this day pass undistinguished, but to mark with honor the thirteenth day of the twelfth month (it is called Adar in the Syrian language), the day before the day of Mordecai.

³⁷ This then having been the account of the attempt of Nicanor, and the city having from those times been held by the Hebrews, I also will here make an end of my book. ³⁸ If I have written well and to the point in my story, this is what I myself desired; but if its poorly done and mediocre, this is the best I could do. ³⁹ For as it is [‡]distasteful to drink wine alone and likewise to drink water alone, [§]while the mingling of wine with water at once gives full pleasantness to the flavor; so also the fashioning of the language delights the ears of those who read the story.

Here is the end.

The First Book of Esdras

The First Book of Esdras is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Greek Orthodox and Russian Orthodox Churches. It is not recognized by the Roman Catholic Church, but 1 Esdras is placed as an appendix to the Latin Vulgate Bible.

¹ ✧ Josias held the Passover in Jerusalem to his Lord, and offered the Passover the fourteenth day of the first month, ² having set the priests according to their daily courses, being arrayed in their vestments, in the Lord's temple. ³ He spoke to the Levites, ✧ the temple servants of Israel, that they should make themselves holy to the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord in the house that King Solomon the son of David had built. ⁴ He said, "You no longer need to carry it on your shoulders. Now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister to his people Israel, and prepare yourselves by your fathers' houses and kindred, ⁵ according to the writing of King David of Israel, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son. Stand in the holy place according to the divisions of your Levite families who minister in the presence of your kindred the descendants of Israel. ⁶ Offer the Passover in order, prepare the sacrifices for your kindred, and keep the Passover according to the Lord's commandment, which was given to Moses.

⁷ To the people which were present, Josias gave thirty thousand lambs and kids, and three thousand calves. These things were given from the king's possessions, as he promised, to the people and to the priests and Levites.

¹⁰ When these things were done, the priests and Levites, having the unleavened bread, stood in proper order according to the kindred, ¹¹ and according to the several divisions by fathers' houses, before the people, to offer to the Lord as it is written in the book of Moses. They did this in the morning. ¹² They roasted the Passover lamb with fire, as required. They boiled the sacrifices in the brazen vessels and caldrons with a pleasing smell, ¹³ and set them before all the people. Afterward they prepared for themselves and for their kindred the priests, the sons of Aaron. ¹⁴ For the priests offered the fat until night. The Levites prepared for themselves and for their kindred the priests, the sons of Aaron. ¹⁵ The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David: Asaph, Zacharias, and Eddinus, who represented the king. ¹⁶ Moreover the gatekeepers were at every gate. No one needed to depart from his daily duties, for their kindred the Levites prepared for them.

¹⁷ So the things that belonged to the Lord's sacrifices were accomplished in that day, in holding the Passover, ¹⁸ and offering sacrifices on the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of King Josias. ¹⁹ So the children of Israel which were present at that time held the Passover and the feast of unleavened bread seven days. ²⁰ Such a Passover had not been held in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel. ²¹ Indeed, none of the kings of Israel held such a Passover as Josias with the priests, the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were present in their dwelling place at Jerusalem. ²² This Passover was held in the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias. ²³ The works of Josias were upright before his Lord with a heart full of godliness. ²⁴ Moreover the things that came to pass in his days have been written in times past, concerning those who sinned and did wickedly against the Lord more than any other people or kingdom, and how they grieved him [†]exceedingly, so that the Lord's words were confirmed against Israel.

²⁵ ✧ Now after all these acts of Josias, it came to pass that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to make war at Carchemish on the Euphrates; and Josias went out against him. ²⁶ But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, "What do I have to do with you, O king of Judea?" ²⁷ I wasn't sent out from the Lord God against you, for my war is against the Euphrates. Now the Lord is with me, yes, the Lord is with me hastening me forward. Depart from me, and don't be against the Lord."

²⁸ However, Josias didn't turn back to his chariot, but tried to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremy from the Lord's mouth, ²⁹ but joined battle with him in the plain of Megiddo, and the commanders came down against King Josias. ³⁰ Then the king said to his servants, "Carry me away out of the battle, for I am very weak!" Immediately his servants carried him away out of the army. ³¹ Then he got into his second chariot. After he was brought back to Jerusalem he died, and was buried in the tomb of his ancestors. ³² All Judea mourned for Josias. Jeremy the prophet lamented for Josias, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him to this day. This was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel. ³³ These things are written in the book of the histories of the kings of Judea, and every one of the acts that Josias did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now told, are reported in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

³⁴ ✧ The people took [‡]Joachaz the son of Josias, and made him king instead of Josias his father, when he was twenty-three years old. ³⁵ He reigned in Judah and Jerusalem for three months. Then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem. ³⁶ He set a tax upon the people of one hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold. ³⁷ The king of Egypt also made King Joakim his brother king of Judea and Jerusalem. ³⁸ And Joakim imprisoned the nobles and apprehended his brother Zarakes, and brought him up out of Egypt.

³⁹ ✧ Joakim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign in Judea and Jerusalem. He did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord. ⁴⁰ King Nabuchodonosor of Babylon came up against him, bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him to Babylon. ⁴¹ Nabuchodonosor also took some of the Lord's holy vessels, carried them away, and stored them in his own temple at Babylon. ⁴² But those things that are reported of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings.

⁴³ Then Joakim his son reigned in his place. When he was made king, he was eighteen years old. ⁴⁴ He reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem. He did that which was evil before the Lord.

⁴⁵ So after a year Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought to Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord, ⁴⁶ and made Sedekias king of Judea and Jerusalem when he was twenty-one years old. He reigned eleven years. ⁴⁷ He also did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and didn't heed the words that were spoken by Jeremy the prophet from the Lord's mouth. ⁴⁸ After King Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he broke his oath and rebelled. Hardening his neck and his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Lord, the God of Israel. ⁴⁹ Moreover the governors of the people and of the priests did many things wickedly, exceeding all the defilements of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem. ⁵⁰ The God of their ancestors sent by his messenger to call them back, because he had compassion on them and on his dwelling place. ⁵¹ But they mocked his messengers. In the day when the Lord spoke, they scoffed at his prophets ⁵² until he, being angry with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded to bring up the kings of the Chaldeans against them. ⁵³ They killed their young men with the sword around their holy temple, and spared neither young man or young woman, old man or child; but he delivered all of them into their hands. ⁵⁴ They took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with the treasure chests of the Lord's ark and the king's treasures, and carried them away to Babylon. ⁵⁵ They burned the Lord's house, broke down Jerusalem's walls, and burned its towers with fire. ⁵⁶ As for her glorious things, they didn't stop until they had brought them all to nothing. He carried the people who weren't slain with the sword to Babylon. ⁵⁷ They were servants to him and to his children until the Persians reigned, to fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy: ⁵⁸ "Until the land has enjoyed its Sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she keep Sabbath, to fulfill seventy years.

¹ In the ✠first year of King Cyrus of the Persians, that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy might be accomplished, ² the Lord stirred up the spirit of King Cyrus of the Persians, and he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and also by writing, ³ saying, "Cyrus king of the Persians says: The Lord of Israel, the Most High Lord, has made me king of the whole world, ⁴ and commanded me to build him a house at Jerusalem that is in Judea. ⁵ If therefore there are any of you that are of his people, let the Lord, even his Lord, be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem that is in Judea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel. He is the Lord who dwells in Jerusalem. ⁶ Therefore, of those who dwell in various places, let those who are in his own place help each one with gold, with silver, ⁷ with gifts, with horses, and cattle, beside the other things which have been added by vow for the temple of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

⁸ Then the chief of the families of Judah and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up, with the priests, the Levites, and all whose spirit the Lord had stirred to go up, to build the house for the Lord which is in Jerusalem. ⁹ Those who lived around them helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with very many gifts that were vowed by a great number whose minds were so moved.

¹⁰ King Cyrus also brought out the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem and had stored in his temple of idols. ¹¹ Now when King Cyrus of the Persians had brought them out, he delivered them to Mithradates his treasurer, ¹² and by him they were delivered to *Sanabassar the governor of Judea. ¹³ This was the number of them: one thousand gold cups, one thousand silver cups, twenty-nine silver censers, thirty gold bowls, two thousand four hundred ten silver bowls, and one thousand other vessels. ¹⁴ So all the vessels of gold and of silver were brought up, even five thousand four hundred seventy-nine, ¹⁵ and were carried back by Sanabassar, together with the returning exiles, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

¹⁷ "To King Artaxerxes our Lord, from your servants, Rathumus the recorder, Samellius the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges who are in Coelesyria and Phoenicia: ¹⁸ Let it now be known to our lord the king, that the Jews that have come up from you to us, having come to Jerusalem, are building that rebellious and wicked city, and are repairing its marketplaces and walls, and are laying the foundation of a temple. ¹⁹ Now if this city is built and its walls are finished, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but will even stand up against kings. ²⁰ Since the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it appropriate not to neglect such a matter, ²¹ but to speak to our lord the king, to the intent that, if it is your pleasure, search may be made in the books of your ancestors. ²² You will find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and will understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities, ²³ and that the Jews were rebellious, and kept starting wars there in the past. For this cause, this city was laid waste. ²⁴ Therefore now we do declare to you, O lord the king, that if this city is built again, and its walls set up again, you will from then on have no passage into Coelesyria and Phoenicia."

²⁵ Then the king wrote back again to Rathumus the recorder, Beeltethmus, Samellius the scribe, and to the rest that of their associates who lived in Samaria, Syria, and Phoenicia, as follows:

²⁶ "I have read the letter which you have sent to me. Therefore I commanded to make search, and it has been found that that city of old time has fought against kings, ²⁷ and the men were given to rebellion and war in it, and that mighty and fierce kings were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tribute in Coelesyria and Phoenicia. ²⁸ Now therefore I have commanded to prevent those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be nothing done contrary to this order, ²⁹ and that those wicked doings proceed no further to the annoyance of kings." ³⁰ Then King Artaxerxes, his letters being read, Rathumus, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest of their associates, went in haste to Jerusalem with cavalry and a multitude of people in battle array, and began to hinder the builders. So the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of King Darius of the Persians.

⁴ Then the three young men of the bodyguard, who guarded the king, spoke one to another: ⁵ "Let every one of us state what one thing is strongest. King Darius will give he whose statement seems wiser than the others great gifts and great honors in token of victory. ⁶ He shall be clothed in purple, drink from gold cups, sleep on a gold bed, and have a chariot with bridles of gold, a fine linen turban, and a chain around his neck. ⁷ He shall sit next to Darius because of his wisdom, and shall be called cousin of Darius."

⁸ Then they each wrote his sentence, sealed them, and laid them under King Darius' pillow, ⁹ and said, "When the king wakes up, someone will give him the writing. Whoever the king and the three princes of Persia judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as it is written."

¹⁰ The first wrote, "Wine is the strongest." ¹¹ The second wrote, "The king is strongest." ¹² The third wrote, "Women are strongest, but above all things Truth is the victor."

¹³ Now when the king woke up, they took the writing and gave it to him, so he read it. ¹⁴ Sending out, he called all the princes of Persia and of Media, the local governors, the captains, the governors, and the chief officers ¹⁵ and sat himself down in the royal seat of judgment; and the writing was read before them. ¹⁶ He said, "Call the young men, and they shall explain their own sentences. So they were called and came in. ¹⁷ They said to them, "Explain what you have written."

Then the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine, began ¹⁸ and said this: "O sirs, how exceedingly strong wine is! It causes all men who drink it to go astray. ¹⁹ It makes the mind of the king and of the fatherless child to be the same, likewise of the bondman and of the freeman, of the poor man and of the rich. ²⁰ It also turns every thought into cheer and mirth, so that a man remembers neither sorrow nor debt. ²¹ It makes every heart rich, so that a man remembers neither king nor local governor. It makes people say things in large amounts. ²² When they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and kindred, and before long draw their swords. ²³ But when they awake from their wine, they don't remember what they have done. ²⁴ O sirs, isn't wine the strongest, seeing that it forces people to do this?" And when he had said this, he stopped speaking.

out against the enemies, they go, and conquer mountains, walls, and towers. ⁵ They kill and are killed, and don't disobey the king's commandment. If they win the victory, they bring everything to the king—all the plunder and everything else. ⁶ Likewise for those who are not soldiers, and don't have anything to do with wars, but farm, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring some to the king and compel one another to pay tribute to the king. ⁷ He is just one man! If he commands people to kill, they kill. If he commands them to spare, they spare. ⁸ If he commands them to strike, they strike. If he commands them to make desolate, they make desolate. If he commands to build, they build. ⁹ If he commands them to cut down, they cut down. If he commands them to plant, they plant. ¹⁰ So all his people and his armies obey him. Furthermore, he lies down, he eats and drinks, and takes his rest; ¹¹ and these keep watch around him. None of them may depart and do his own business. They don't disobey him in anything. ¹² O sirs, how could the king not be the strongest, seeing that he is obeyed like this?" Then he stopped talking.

¹³ Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of truth, (this was Zorobabel) began to speak: ¹⁴ "O sirs, isn't the king great, and men are many, and isn't wine strong? Who is it then who rules them, or has the lordship over them? Aren't they women? ¹⁵ Women have given birth to the king and all the people who rule over sea and land. ¹⁶ They came from women. Women nourished up those who planted the vineyards, from where the wine comes. ¹⁷ Women also make garments for men. These bring glory to men. Without women, men can't exist. ¹⁸ Yes, and if men have gathered together gold and silver and any other beautiful thing, and see a woman who is lovely in appearance and beauty, ¹⁹ they let all those things go and gape at her, and with open mouth stare at her. They all have more desire for her than for gold, or silver, or any other beautiful thing. ²⁰ A man leaves his own father who brought him up, leaves his own country, and joins with his wife. ²¹ With his wife he ends his days, with no thought for his father, mother, or country. ²² By this also you must know that women have dominion over you. Don't you labor and toil, and bring it all to give to women? ²³ Yes, a man takes his sword and goes out to travel, to rob, to steal, and to sail on the sea and on rivers. ²⁴ He sees a lion and walks in the darkness. When he has stolen, plundered, and robbed, he brings it to the woman he loves. ²⁵ Therefore a man loves his wife better than father or mother. ²⁶ Yes, there are many who have lost their minds for women, and become slaves for their sakes. ²⁷ Many also have perished, have stumbled, and sinned, for women. ²⁸ Now don't you believe me? Isn't the king great in his power? Don't all regions fear to touch him? ²⁹ Yet I saw him and Apame the king's concubine, the daughter of the illustrious Baticus, sitting at the right hand of the king, ³⁰ and taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head. Yes, she struck the king with her left hand. ³¹ At this, the king gaped and gazed at her with open mouth. If she smiles at him, he laughs. But if she takes any displeasure at him, he flatters her, that she might be reconciled to him again. ³² O sirs, how can it not be that women are strong, seeing they do this?"

³³ Then the king and the nobles looked at one another. So he began to speak concerning truth. ³⁴ "O sirs, aren't women strong? The earth is great. The sky is high. The sun is swift in its course, for it circles around the sky, and returns on its course again in one day. ³⁵ Isn't he who makes these things great? Therefore the truth is great, and stronger than all things. ³⁶ All the earth calls upon truth, and the sky blesses truth. All works shake and tremble, but with truth there is no unrighteous thing. ³⁷ Wine is unrighteous. The king is unrighteous. Women are unrighteous. All the children of men are unrighteous, and all their works are unrighteous. There is no truth in them. They shall also perish in their unrighteousness. ³⁸ But truth remains, and is strong forever. Truth lives and conquers forevermore. ³⁹ With truth there is no partiality toward persons or rewards, but truth does the things that are just, instead of any unrighteous or wicked things. All men approve truth's works. ⁴⁰ In truth's judgment is not any unrighteousness. Truth is the strength, the kingdom, the power, and the majesty of all ages. Blessed be the God of truth!"

⁴¹ With that, he stopped speaking. Then all the people shouted and said, "Great is truth, and strong above all things!"

⁴² Then the king said to him, "Ask what you wish, even more than is appointed in writing, and we will give it to you, because you are found wisest. You shall sit next me, and shall be called my cousin."

⁴³ Then he said to the king, "Remember your vow, which you vowed to build Jerusalem, in the day when you came to your kingdom, ⁴⁴ and to send back all the vessels that were taken out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and vowed to send them back there. ⁴⁵ You also vowed to build the temple which the Edomites burned when Judea was made desolate by the Chaldeans. ⁴⁶ Now, O lord the king, this is what I request, and what I desire of you, and this is the princely generosity that may proceed from you: I ask therefore that you make good the vow, the performance of which you have vowed to the King of Heaven with your own mouth."

⁴⁷ Then King Darius stood up, kissed him, and wrote letters for him to all the treasurers and governors and captains and local governors, that they should safely bring on their way both him, and all those who would go up with him to build Jerusalem. ⁴⁸ He wrote letters also to all the governors who were in Coesylria and Phoenicia, and to them in Libanus, that they should bring cedar wood from Libanus to Jerusalem, and that they should help him build the city. ⁴⁹ Moreover he wrote for all the Jews who would go out of his realm up into Judea concerning their freedom, that no officer, no governor, no local governor, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors, ⁵⁰ and that all the country which they occupied should be free to them without tribute, and that the Edomites should give up the villages of the Jews which they held at that time, ⁵¹ and that there should be given twenty talents yearly toward the building of the temple, until the time that it was built, ⁵² and another ten talents yearly for burnt offerings to be presented upon the altar every day, as they had a commandment to make seventeen offerings, ⁵³ and that all those who would come from Babylonia to build the city should have their freedom—they and their descendants, and all the priests that came. ⁵⁴ He wrote also to give them their support and the priests' vestments in which they minister. ⁵⁵ For the Levites he wrote that their support should be given them until the day that the house was finished and Jerusalem built up. ⁵⁶ He commanded that land and wages should be given to all who guarded the city. ⁵⁷ He also sent away all the vessels from Babylon that Cyrus had set apart, and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, he commanded also to be done and to be sent to Jerusalem.

⁵⁸ Now when this young man had gone out, he lifted up his face to heaven toward Jerusalem, and praised the King of heaven, ⁵⁹ and said, "From you comes victory. From you comes wisdom. Yours is the glory, and I am your servant. ⁶⁰ Blessed are you, who have given me wisdom. I give thanks to you, O Lord of our fathers. ⁶¹ So he took the letters, went out, came to Babylon, and told it all his kindred. ⁶² They praised the God of their ancestors, because he had given them freedom and liberty ⁶³ to go up and to build Jerusalem and the temple which is called by his name. They feasted with instruments of music and gladness seven days.

⁴¹ So all those of Israel, from twelve years old and upward, beside menseservants and women servants, were in number forty two thousand three hundred sixty. ⁴² Their menservants and handmaids were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven; the minstrels and singers, two hundred forty five; ⁴³ four hundred thirty and five camels, seven thousand thirty six horses, two hundred forty five mules, and five thousand five hundred twenty five beasts of burden.

⁴⁴ And some of the chief men of their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Jerusalem, vowed to set up the house again in its own place according to their ability, ⁴⁵ and to give into the holy treasury of the works one thousand minas‡ of gold, five thousand minas of silver, and one hundred priestly vestments.

⁴⁶ The priests and the Levites and some of the people lived in Jerusalem and the country. The holy singers also and the gatekeepers and all Israel lived in their villages.

⁴⁷ But when the seventh month was at hand, and when the children of Israel were each in their own place, they all came together with one purpose into the broad place before the first porch which is toward the east. ⁴⁸ Then Jesus the son of Josedek, his kindred the priests, Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and his kindred stood up and made the altar of the God of Israel ready ⁴⁹ to offer burned sacrifices upon it, in accordance with the express commands in the book of Moses the man of God. ⁵⁰ Some people joined them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon its own place, because all the nations of the land were hostile to them and oppressed them; and they offered sacrifices at the proper times and burnt offerings to the Lord both morning and evening. ⁵¹ They also held the feast of tabernacles, as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as appropriate. ⁵² After that, they offered the continual oblations and the sacrifices of the Sabbaths, of the new moons, and of all the consecrated feasts. ⁵³ All those who had made any vow to God began to offer sacrifices to God from the new moon of the seventh month, although the temple of God was not yet built. ⁵⁴ They gave money, food, and drink to the masons and carpenters. ⁵⁵ They also gave carts to the people of Sidon and Tyre, that they should bring cedar trees from Libanus, and convey them in rafts to the harbor of Joppa, according to the commandment which was written for them by Cyrus king of the Persians.

⁵⁶ In the second year after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, Jesus the son of Josedek, their kindred, the Levitical priests, and all those who had come to Jerusalem out of the captivity began work. ⁵⁷ They laid the foundation of God's temple on the new moon of the second month, in the second year after they had come to Judea and Jerusalem. ⁵⁸ ✧ They appointed the Levites who were at least twenty years old over the Lord's works. Then Jesus, with his sons and kindred, Kadmiel his brother, the sons of Jesus, Emadabun, and the sons of Joda the son of Iliadun, and their sons and kindred, all the Levites, with one accord stood up and started the business, laboring to advance the works in the house of God. So the builders built the Lord's temple.

⁶⁶ ✧ Therefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets meant. ⁶⁷ They learned that those who returned from captivity built the temple for the Lord, the God of Israel. ⁶⁸ So they went to Zorobabel and Jesus, and to the chief men of the families, and said to them, "We will build together with you. ⁶⁹ For we, just like you, obey your Lord, and sacrifice to him from the days of King § Asbasareth of the Assyrians, who brought us here."

⁷⁰ Then Zorobabel, Jesus and the chief men of the families of Israel said to them, "It is not for you to build the house for the Lord our God. ⁷¹ We ourselves alone will build for the Lord of Israel, as King Cyrus of the Persians has commanded us." ⁷² But the heathen of the land pressed hard upon the inhabitants of Judea, cut off their supplies, and hindered their building. ⁷³ By their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that King Cyrus lived. So they were hindered from building for two years, until the reign of Darius.

¹ Now ^{}in the second year of the reign of Darius, Aggaeus and Zacharius the son of ^{}Addo, the prophets, prophesied to the Jews in Judea and Jerusalem in the name of the Lord, the God of Israel. ² Then Zorobabel the son of Salathiel and Jesus the son of Josedek stood up and began to build the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, the prophets of the Lord being with them and helping them.

⁷ A copy of the letter which Sisinnus, governor of Syria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, the rulers in Syria and Phoenicia, wrote and sent to Darius:

⁸ "To King Darius, greetings. Let it be fully known to our lord the king, that having come into the country of Judea, and entered into the city of Jerusalem, we found in the city of Jerusalem the elders of the Jews that were of the captivity ⁹ building a great new house for the Lord of hewn and costly stones, with timber laid in the walls. ¹⁰ Those works are being done with great speed. The work goes on prosperously in their hands, and it is being accomplished with all glory and diligence. ¹¹ Then asked we these elders, saying, 'By whose authority are you building this house and laying the foundations of these works?' ¹² Therefore, to the intent that we might give knowledge to you by writing who were the leaders, we questioned them, and we required of them the names in writing of their principal men. ¹³ So they gave us this answer, 'We are the servants of the Lord who made heaven and earth. ¹⁴ As for this house, it was built many years ago by a great and strong king of Israel, and was finished. ¹⁵ But when our fathers sinned against the Lord of Israel who is in heaven, and provoked him to wrath, he gave them over into the hands of King Nabuchodonosor of Babylon, king of the Chaldeans. ¹⁶ They pulled down the house, burned it, and carried away the people captive to Babylon. ¹⁷ But in the first year that Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, King Cyrus wrote that this house should be rebuilt. ¹⁸ The holy vessels of gold and of silver that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem and had set up in his own temple, those King Cyrus brought out of the temple in Babylonia, and they were delivered to Zorobabel and to [§]Sanabassar the governor, ¹⁹ with commandment that he should carry away all these vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem, and that the Lord's temple should be built on its site. ²⁰ Then Sanabassar, having come here, laid the foundations of the Lord's house which is in Jerusalem. From that time to this we are still building. It is not yet fully completed.' ²¹ Now therefore, if it seems good, O king, let a search be made among the royal archives of our lord the king that are in Babylon. ²² If it is found that the building of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem has been done with the consent of King Cyrus, and it seems good to our lord the king, let him send us directions concerning these things."

²³ *Then King Darius commanded that a search be made among the archives that were laid up at Babylon. So at Ekbatana the palace, which is in the country of Media, a scroll was found where these things were recorded:

²⁷ Also he commanded that Sisinnes the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those who were appointed rulers in Syria and Phoenicia, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but allow Zorobabel, the servant of the Lord, and governor of Judea, and the elders of the Jews, to build that house of the Lord in its place. ²⁸ "I also command to have it built up whole again; and that they look diligently to help those who are of the captivity of Judea, until the house of the Lord is finished, ²⁹ and that out of the tribute of Coelesyria and Phoenicia a portion shall be carefully given to these men for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zorobabel the governor for bulls, rams, and lambs, ³⁰ and also corn, salt, wine and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests who are in Jerusalem may direct to be daily spent, ³¹ that drink offerings may be made to the Most High God for the king and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives." ³² He commanded that whoever should transgress, yes, or neglect anything written here, a beam shall be taken out of his own house, and he shall be hanged on it, and all his goods seized for the king. ³³ "Therefore may the Lord, whose name is called upon there, utterly destroy every king and nation that stretches out his hand to hinder or damage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem. ³⁴ I, King Darius have ordained that these things be done with diligence."

year of King Darius. ⁶ The children of Israel, the priests, the Levites, and the others who returned from captivity who joined them did what was written in the book of Moses. ⁷ For the dedication of the Lord's temple, they offered one hundred bulls, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, ⁸ and twelve male goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the twelve princes of the tribes of Israel. ⁹ The priests and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their kindred, for the services of the Lord, the God of Israel, according to the book of Moses. The gatekeepers were at every gate.

¹⁰ The children of Israel who came out of captivity held the Passover the fourteenth day of the first month, when the priests and the Levites were sanctified together, ¹¹ with all those who returned from captivity; for they were sanctified. For the Levites were all sanctified together, ¹² and they offered the Passover for all who returned from captivity, for their kindred the priests, and for themselves. ¹³ The children of Israel who came out of the captivity ate, even all those who had separated themselves from the abominations of the heathen of the land, and sought the Lord. ¹⁴ They kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, rejoicing before the Lord, ¹⁵ because he had turned the counsel of the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord, the God of Israel.

¹ ☆ After these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reigned, Esdras came, who was the son of Azaraias, the son of Zechrias, the son of Helkias, the son of Salem, ² the son of Sadduk, the son of Ahitob, the son of Amarias, the son of Ozias, ^{*} the son of Memeroth, the son of Zariaias, the son of Savias, the son of Boccas, the son of Abisne, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, the chief priest. ³ This Esdras went up from Babylon as a skilled scribe in the law of Moses, which was given by the God of Israel. ⁴ The king honored him, for he found favor in his sight in all his requests. ⁵ There went up with him also some of the children of Israel, and of the priests, Levites, holy singers, gatekeepers, and temple servants to Jerusalem ⁶ in the seventh year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the fifth month (this was the king's seventh year); for they left Babylon on the new moon of the first month and came to Jerusalem, by the prosperous journey which the Lord gave them[†] for his sake. ⁷ For Esdras had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the law and commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the ordinances and judgments.

⁸ Now the commission, which was written from King Artaxerxes, came to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, was as follows:

⁹ "King Artaxerxes to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, greetings. ¹⁰ Having determined to deal graciously, I have given orders that those of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests and Levites, and of those within our realm who are willing and freely choose to, should go with you to Jerusalem. ¹¹ As many therefore as are so disposed, let them depart with you, as it has seemed good both to me and my seven friends the counselors, ¹² that they may look to the affairs of Judea and Jerusalem, in accordance with what is in the Lord's law, ¹³ and carry the gifts to the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed, and that all the gold and silver that can be found in the country of Babylonia for the Lord in Jerusalem, ¹⁴ with that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Lord their God that is at Jerusalem, be collected: even the gold and silver for bulls, rams, and lambs, and what goes with them, ¹⁵ to the end that they may offer sacrifices to the Lord upon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem. ¹⁶ Whatever you and your kindred decide to do with gold and silver, do that according to the will of your God. ¹⁷ The holy vessels of the Lord, which are given you for the use of the temple of your God, which is in Jerusalem, ¹⁸ and whatever else you shall remember for the use of the temple of your God, you shall give it out of the king's treasury. ¹⁹ I, King Artaxerxes, have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phoenicia, that whatever Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Most High God shall send for, they should give it to him with all diligence, ²⁰ to the sum of one hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to one hundred cors[‡], and one hundred firkins[§] of wine, and^{*} salt in abundance. ²¹ Let all things be performed after God's law diligently to the most high God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons. ²² I command you also that no tax, nor any other imposition, be laid upon any of the priests, or Levites, or holy singers, or gatekeepers, or temple servants, or any that have employment in this temple, and that no man has authority to impose any tax on them. ²³ You, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God, ordain judges and justices that they may judge in all Syria and Phoenicia all those who know the law of your God; and those who don't know it, you shall teach. ²⁴ Whoever transgresses the law of your God and of the king shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by imprisonment."

²⁵ Then Esdras the scribe said, "Blessed be the only Lord, the God of my fathers, who has put these things into the heart of the king, to glorify his house that is in Jerusalem, ²⁶ and has honored me in the sight of the king, his counselors, and all his friends and nobles. ²⁷ Therefore I was encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together out of Israel men to go up with me.

²⁸ These are the chief according to their families and their several divisions, who went up with me from Babylon in the reign of King Artaxerxes: ²⁹ of the sons of Phinees, Gerson; of the sons of Ithamar, Gamael; of the sons of David,[†] Attus[‡] the son of Sechenias; ³⁰ of the sons of Phoros, Zacharais; and with him were counted one hundred fifty men; ³¹ of the sons of Phaath Moab, Eliaonias the son of[§] Zariaias, and with him two hundred men; ³² ^{*} of the sons of Zathoes, Sechenias the son of Jezelus, and with him three hundred men; of the sons of Adin, Obeth the son of Jonathan, and with him two hundred fifty men; ³³ of the sons of Elam, Jesias son of Gotholias, and with him seventy men; ³⁴ of the sons of Saphatias, Zariaias son of Michael, and with him seventy men; ³⁵ of the sons of Joab, Abadiah son of Jehiel. and with him two hundred twelve men; ³⁶ † of the sons of Banias, Salimoth son of Josaphias, and with him one hundred sixty men; ³⁷ of the sons of Babi, Zacharias son of Bebai, and with him twenty-eight men; ³⁸ of the sons of Azgad: Astath, Joannes son of Hakkatan Akatan, and with him one hundred ten men; ³⁹ of the sons of Adonikam, the last, and these are the names of them, Eliphalat, Jeuel, and Samaïas, and with them seventy men; ⁴⁰ of the sons of Bago, Uthi the son of Istalcurus, and with him seventy men.

⁴¹ I gathered them together to the river called Theras. There we pitched our tents three days, and I inspected them. ⁴² When I had found there none of the priests and Levites, ⁴³ then sent I to Eleazar, Iduel, Maasmas, ⁴⁴ Elnathan, Samaïas, Joribus, Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharias, and Mosollamus, principal men and men of understanding. ⁴⁵ I asked them to go to Loddeus the captain, who was in the place of the treasury, ⁴⁶ and commanded them that they should speak to Loddeus, to his kindred, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priests' office in our Lord's house. ⁴⁷ By the mighty hand of our Lord, they brought to us men of understanding of the sons of ‡ Mooli the son of Levi, the son of Israel, § Asebebias, and his sons, and his kindred, who were eighteen, ⁴⁸ and * Asebias, Annuus, and Osaïas his brother, of the sons of Chanuneus, and their sons were twenty men; ⁴⁹ and of the temple servants whom David and the principal men had appointed for the servants of the Levites, two hundred twenty temple servants. The list of all their names was reported.

⁵⁰ There I vowed a fast for the young men before our Lord, to seek from him a prosperous journey both for us and for our children and livestock that were with us; ⁵¹ for I was ashamed to ask of the king infantry, cavalry, and an escort for protection against our adversaries. ⁵² For we had said to the king that the power of our Lord would be with those who seek him, to support them in all ways. ⁵³ Again we prayed to our lord about these things, and found him to be merciful.

⁵⁴ Then I set apart twelve men of the chiefs of the priests, † Eserebias, Assamias, and ten men of their kindred with them. ⁵⁵ I weighed out to them the silver, the gold, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, his counselors, the nobles, and all Israel had given. ⁵⁶ When I had weighed it, I delivered to them six hundred fifty talents of silver, silver vessels weighing one hundred talents, one hundred talents of gold, ⁵⁷ twenty golden vessels, and twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold. ⁵⁸ I said to them, "You are holy to the Lord, the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver are a vow to the Lord, the Lord of our fathers. ⁵⁹ Watch and keep them until you deliver them to the chiefs of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel in Jerusalem, in the chambers of our Lord's house. ⁶⁰ So the priests and the Levites who received the silver, the gold, and the vessels which were in Jerusalem, brought them into the temple of the Lord.

⁶¹ We left the river Theras on the twelfth day of the first month. We came to Jerusalem by the mighty hand of our Lord which was upon us. The Lord delivered us from every enemy on the way, and so we came to Jerusalem. ⁶² When we had been there three days, the silver and gold was weighed and delivered in our Lord's house on the fourth day to[‡] Marmoth the priest the son of[§] Urias. ⁶³ With him was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and with them were Josabodus the son of Jesus and^{*} Moeth the son of Sabannus, the Levites. All was delivered to them by number and weight. ⁶⁴ All the weight of them was recorded at the same hour. ⁶⁵ Moreover those who had come out of captivity offered sacrifices to the Lord, the God of Israel, even twelve bulls for all Israel, ninety-six rams, ⁶⁶ seventy-two lambs, and twelve goats for a peace offering—all of them a sacrifice to the Lord. ⁶⁷ They delivered the king's commandments to the king's stewards and to the governors of Coelesyria and Phoenicia; and they honored the people and the temple of the Lord.

⁶⁸ Now when these things were done, the principal men came to me and said, ⁶⁹ "The nation of Israel, the princes, the priests, and the Levites haven't put away from themselves the foreign people of the land nor the uncleannesses of the Gentiles—the Canaanites, Hittites, Pherezites, Jebusites, Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites. ⁷⁰ For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the foreign people of the land. From the beginning of this matter the rulers and the nobles have been partakers of this iniquity."

⁷¹ And as soon as I had heard these things, I tore my clothes and my holy garment, and plucked the hair from off my head and beard, and sat down sad and full of heaviness. ⁷² So all those who were moved at the word of the Lord, the God of Israel, assembled to me while I mourned for the iniquity, but I sat still full of heaviness until the evening sacrifice. ⁷³ Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and my holy garment torn, and bowing my knees and stretching out my hands to the Lord, ⁷⁴ I said, "O Lord, I am ashamed and confounded before your face, ⁷⁵ for our sins are multiplied above our heads, and our errors have reached up to heaven ⁷⁶ ever since the time of our fathers. We are in great sin, even to this day. ⁷⁷ For our sins and our fathers' we with our kindred, our kings, and our priests were given up to the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and for a prey with shame, to this day. ⁷⁸ Now in some measure mercy has been shown to us from you, O Lord, that there should be left us a root and a name in the place of your sanctuary, ⁷⁹ and to uncover a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us food in the time of our servitude. ⁸⁰ Yes, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken by our Lord, but he gave us favor before the kings of Persia, so that they gave us food, ⁸¹ glorified the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Zion, to give us a sure dwelling in Judea and Jerusalem.

⁸² "Now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? For we have transgressed your commandments which you gave by the hand of your servants the prophets, saying, ⁸³ 'The land, which you enter into to possess as an inheritance, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the foreigners of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness. ⁸⁴ Therefore now you shall not join your daughters to their sons, neither shall you take their daughters for your sons. ⁸⁵ You shall never seek to have peace with them, that you may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that you may leave it for an inheritance to your children for evermore.’ ⁸⁶ All that has happened is done to us for our wicked works and great sins, for you, O Lord, made our sins light, ⁸⁷ and gave to us such a root; but we have turned back again to transgress your law in mingling ourselves with the uncleanness of the heathen of the land. ⁸⁸ You weren’t angry with us to destroy us until you had left us neither root, seed, nor name. ⁸⁹ O Lord of Israel, you are true, for we are left a root this day. ⁹⁰ Behold, now we are before you in our iniquities, for we can’t stand any longer before you because of these things.”

⁹¹ ✧ As Esdras in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and lying flat on the ground before the temple, a very great throng of men, women, and children gathered to him from Jerusalem; for there was great weeping among the multitude. ⁹² Then Jechonias the son of Jeelus, one of the sons of Israel, called out, and said, “O Esdras, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married foreign women of the heathen of the land, but there is still hope for Israel. ⁹³ Let’s make an oath to the Lord about this, that we will put away all our foreign wives with their children, ⁹⁴ as seems good to you, and to as many as obey the Lord’s Law. ⁹⁵ Arise, and take action, for this is your task, and we will be with you to do valiantly.” ⁹⁶ So Esdras arose, and took an oath from the chief of the priests and Levites of all Israel to do these things; and they swore to it.

⁵ Within three days, all those of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem. This was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month. ⁶ All the multitude sat together shivering in the broad place before the temple because of the present foul weather. ⁷ So Esdras arose up and said to them, “You have transgressed the law and married foreign wives, increasing the sins of Israel. ⁸ Now make confession and give glory to the Lord, the God of our fathers, ⁹ and do his will, and separate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the foreign women.”

¹⁰ Then the whole multitude cried out, and said with a loud voice, “Just as you have spoken, so we will do. ¹¹ But because the multitude is great, and it is foul weather, so that we can’t stand outside, and this is not a work of one day or two, seeing our sin in these things has spread far, ¹² therefore let the rulers of the multitude stay, and let all those of our settlements that have foreign wives come at the time appointed, ¹³ and with them the rulers and judges of every place, until we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us for this matter.”

¹⁴ So Jonathan the son of Azazel and *Ezekias the son of Thocanus took the matter on themselves. Mosollamus and Levis and Sabbateus were judges with them. ¹⁵ Those who returned from captivity did according to all these things.

¹⁸ Of the priests who had come together and had foreign wives, there were found ¹⁹ of the sons of Jesus the son of Josedek, and his kindred, † Mathelas, Eleazar, and ‡ Joribus, and § Joadanus. ²⁰ They gave their hands to put away their wives, and to offer rams to make reconciliation for their error. ²¹ Of the sons of Emmer: Ananias, Zabdeus, *Manes, †Sameus, ‡Hiereel, and §Azarias. ²² Of the sons of *Phaisur: Elionas, Massias, Ishmael, Nathanael, †Ocidelus, and ‡Saloas.

Of the sons of Ezora: Sesis, Ezril, Azaelus, Samatus, Zambri, and Josephus. ³⁵ Of the sons of Nooma: Mazitias, Zabadeas, Edos, Juel, and Banaias. ³⁶ All these had taken foreign wives, and they put them away with their children.

³⁷ The priests and Levites, and those who were of Israel, lived in Jerusalem and in the country, on the new moon of the seventh month, and the children of Israel in their settlements.

³⁸ The whole multitude gathered together with one accord into the broad place before the porch of the temple toward the east. ³⁹ They said to Esdras the priest and reader, “Bring the law of Moses that was given by the Lord, the God of Israel.”

⁴⁰ So Esdras the chief priest brought the law to the whole multitude both of men and women, and to all the priests, to hear the law on the new moon of the seventh month. ⁴¹ He read in the broad place before the porch of the temple from morning until midday, before both men and women; and all the multitude gave attention to the law. ⁴² Esdras the priest and reader of the law stood up upon the pulpit of wood which had been prepared. ⁴³ Beside him stood Mattathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, [§]Ezekias, and Baalsamus on the right hand, ⁴⁴ and on his left hand, ^{*}Phaldeus, Misael, Melchias, [†]Lothasubus, Nabarias, and Zacharias. ⁴⁵ Then Esdras took the book of the law before the multitude, and sat honorably in the first place before all. ⁴⁶ When he opened the law, they all stood straight up. So Esdras blessed the Lord God Most High, the God of armies, the Almighty. ⁴⁷ All the people answered, “Amen.” Lifting up their hands, they fell to the ground and worshiped the Lord. ⁴⁸ Also Jesus, Annus, Sarabias, Iadinus, Jacobus, Sabateus, [‡]Auteas, Maiannas, Calitas, Azarias, Jozabdus, Ananias, and Phalias, the Levites, taught the law of the Lord, [§]and read to the multitude the law of the Lord, explaining what was read.

⁴⁹ Then Attharates said to Esdras the chief priest and reader, and to the Levites who taught the multitude, even to all, ⁵⁰ “This day is holy to the Lord—now they all wept when they heard the law—⁵¹ go then, eat the fat, drink the sweet, and send portions to those who have nothing; ⁵² for the day is holy to the Lord. Don’t be sorrowful, for the Lord will bring you to honor.” ⁵³ So the Levites commanded all things to the people, saying, “This day is holy. Don’t be sorrowful.” ⁵⁴ Then they went their way, every one to eat, drink, enjoy themselves, to give portions to those who had nothing, and to rejoice greatly, ⁵⁵ because they ^{*}understood the words they were instructed with, and for which they had been assembled.

The Prayer of Manasses King of Judah,

When He Was Held Captive in Babylon

The Prayer of Manasses is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Greek Orthodox and Russian Orthodox Churches. It is included in an appendix to the Latin Vulgate Bible.

¹ O LORD Almighty in heaven, God of our fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous offspring, ² you who have made heaven and earth, with all their order, ³ who have bound the sea by the word of your commandment, who have shut up the deep, and sealed it by your terrible and glorious name, ⁴ whom all things fear, yes, tremble before your power, ⁵ for the majesty of your glory can't be borne, and the anger of your threatening toward sinners is unbearable. ⁶ Your merciful promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable, ⁷ for you are the Lord Most High, of great compassion, patient and abundant in mercy, and relent at human suffering. ⁸ *You, O Lord, according to your great goodness have promised repentance and forgiveness to those who have sinned against you. Of your infinite mercies, you have appointed repentance to sinners, that they may be saved. You therefore, O Lord, who are the God of the just, have not appointed repentance to the just, to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against you, but you have appointed repentance to me, a sinner. ⁹ For I have sinned more than the number of the sands of the sea. My transgressions are multiplied,† O Lord, my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of my iniquities. ¹⁰ I am bowed down with many iron bands, so that I can't lift up my head by reason of my sins,‡ neither have I any relief; for I have provoked your wrath, and done that which is evil before you:§ I didn't do your will, neither did I keep your commandments. I have set up abominations, and have multiplied detestable things. ¹¹ Now therefore I bow the knee of my heart, asking you for grace. ¹² I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge my iniquities; ¹³ but, I humbly ask you, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and please don't destroy me with my iniquities. Don't be angry with me forever, by reserving evil for me. Don't condemn me into the lower parts of the earth. For you, O Lord, are the God of those who repent. ¹⁴ In me you will show all your goodness, for you will save me, even though I am unworthy, according to your great mercy. ¹⁵ Then I will praise you forever all the days of my life; for all the army of heaven sings your praise, and yours is the glory forever and ever. Amen.

Psalm 151

Psalm 151 is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Greek Orthodox and Russian Orthodox Churches.

This Psalm is a genuine one of David, though extra,* composed when he fought in single combat with Goliath.

¹ I was small among my brothers, and youngest in my father's house.

I tended my father's sheep.

² My hands formed a musical instrument, and my fingers tuned a lyre.

³ Who shall tell my Lord?

The Lord himself, he himself hears.

⁴ He sent forth his angel and took me from my father's sheep, and he anointed me with his anointing oil.

⁵ My brothers were handsome and tall;
but the Lord didn't take pleasure in them.

⁶ I went out to meet the Philistine, and he cursed me by his idols.

⁷ But I drew his own sword and beheaded him,
and removed reproach from the children of Israel.

The Third Book of the Maccabees

The Third Book of the Maccabees is recognized as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Greek Orthodox and Russian Orthodox Churches. It is considered to be apocrypha by most other church traditions.

¹ Now Philopater, on learning from those who came back that Antiochus had made himself master of the places which belonged to himself, sent orders to all his infantry and cavalry, took with him his sister Arsinoe, and marched out as far as the parts of Raphia, where Antiochus and his forces encamped. ² And one Theodotus, intending to carry out his design, took with him the bravest of the armed men who had been before committed to his trust by Ptolemy, and got through at night to the tent of Ptolemy, to kill him on his own responsibility, and so to end the war. ³ But Dositheus, called the son of Drimulus, by birth a Jew, afterward a renegade from the laws and observances of his country, conveyed Ptolemy away, and made an obscure person lie down in his stead in the tent. It turned out that this man received the fate which was meant for the other. ⁴ A fierce battle then took place. The men of Antiochus were prevailing. Arsinoe continually went up and down the ranks, and with dishevelled hair, with tears and entreaties, begged the soldiers to fight bravely for themselves, their children, and wives, and promised that if they proved conquerors, she would give them each two minas of gold. ⁵ It thus fell out that their enemies were defeated in hand-to-hand encounter, and that many of them were taken prisoners. ⁶ Having vanquished this attempt, the king then decided to proceed to the neighboring cities, and encourage them. ⁷ By doing this, and by making donations to their temples, he inspired his subjects with confidence.

⁸ The Jews sent some of their council and of their elders to him. The greetings, welcoming gifts, and congratulations of the past, given by them, filled him with the greater eagerness to visit their city. ⁹ Having arrived at Jerusalem, sacrificed, and offered thank-offerings to the Greatest God, and done whatever else was suitable to the sanctity of the place, and entered the inner court, ¹⁰ he was so impressed with the magnificence of the place, and so wondered at the orderly arrangements of the temple, that he considered entering the sanctuary itself. ¹¹ When they told him that this was not permissible, none of the nation, not even the priests in general, but only the supreme high priest of all, and he only once in a year, was allowed to go in, he would by no means give way. ¹² Then they read the law to him, but he persisted in intruding, exclaiming that he ought to be allowed. He said, "Even if they were deprived of this honor, I shouldn't be." ¹³ He asked why, when he entered all the other temples, did none of the priests who were present forbid him. ¹⁴ He was thoroughly answered by someone, that he did wrong to boast of this. ¹⁵ "Well, since I have done this," said he, "be the cause what it may, shall I not enter with or without your consent?"

¹⁶ When the priests fell down in their sacred vestments imploring the Greatest God to come and help in time of need, and to avert the violence of the fierce aggressor, and when they filled the temple with lamentations and tears, ¹⁷ then those who had been left behind in the city were scared, and rushed out, uncertain of the event. ¹⁸ Virgins, who had been shut up within their chambers, came out with their mothers, scattering dust and ashes on their heads, and filling the streets with outcries. ¹⁹ Women who had recently been arrayed for marriage left their bridal chambers, left the reserve that befitted them, and ran around the city in a disorderly manner. ²⁰ New-born babes were deserted by the mothers or nurses who waited upon them—some here, some there, in houses, or in fields; these now, with an ardor which could not be checked, swarmed into the Most High temple. ²¹ Various prayers were offered up by those who assembled in this place because of the unholy attempt of the king. ²² Along with these there were some of the citizens who took courage and would not submit to his obstinacy and his intention of carrying out his purpose. ²³ Calling out to arms, and to die bravely in defense of the law of their fathers, they created a great uproar in the place, and were with difficulty brought back by the aged and the elders to the station of prayer which they had occupied before. ²⁴ During this time, the multitude kept on praying. ²⁵ The elders who surrounded the king tried in many ways to divert his arrogant mind from the design which he had formed. ²⁶ He, in his hardened mood, insensible to all persuasion, was going onward with the view of carrying out this design. ²⁷ Yet even his own officers, when they saw this, joined the Jews in an appeal to Him who has all power to aid in the present crisis, and not wink at such haughty lawlessness. ²⁸ Such was the frequency and the vehemence of the cry of the assembled crowd, that an indescribable noise ensued. ²⁹ Not the men only, but the very walls and floor seemed to sound out, all things preferring death rather than to see the place defiled.

¹ Now it was that the high priest Simon bowed his knees near the holy place, spread out his hands in reverent form, and uttered the following prayer: ² “O Lord, Lord, King of the heavens, and Ruler of the whole creation, Holy among the holy, sole Governor, Almighty, give ear to us who are oppressed by a wicked and profane one, who celebrates in his confidence and strength. ³ It is you, the Creator of all, the Lord of the universe, who are a righteous Governor, and judge all who act with pride and insolence. ⁴ It was you who destroyed the former workers of unrighteousness, among whom were the giants, who trusted in their strength and daring, by covering them with a measureless flood. ⁵ It was you who made the Sodomites, those workers of exceedingly iniquity, men notorious for their vices, an example to later generations, when you covered them with fire and brimstone* . ⁶ You made known your power when you caused the bold Pharaoh, the enslaver of your people, to pass through the ordeal of many and diverse afflictions. ⁷ You rolled the depths of the sea over him when he pursued with chariots and with a multitude of followers, and gave a safe passage to those who put their trust in you, the Lord of the whole creation. ⁸ These saw and felt the works of your hands, and praised you, the Almighty. ⁹ You, O King, when you created the immeasurable and measureless earth, chose this city. You made this place sacred to your name, even though you need nothing. You glorified it with your illustrious presence, after constructing it to the glory of your great and honorable name. ¹⁰ You promised, out of love for the people of Israel, that if we fall away from you, become afflicted, and then come to this house and pray, you would hear our prayer. ¹¹ Truly you are faithful and true. ¹² When you often aided our fathers when hard pressed and humiliated, and delivered them out of great dangers, ¹³ see now, holy King, how through our many and great sins we are crushed and made subject to our enemies, and have become weak and powerless. ¹⁴ In our low condition, this bold and profane man seeks to dishonor this your holy place, consecrated out of the earth to the name of your Majesty. ¹⁵ Your dwelling place, the heaven of heavens, is indeed unapproachable to men. ¹⁶ But since it seemed good to you to exhibit your glory among your people Israel, you sanctified this place. ¹⁷ Don't punish us by means of the uncleanness of their men, and don't chastise us by means of their profanity, lest the lawless ones should boast in their rage, and exult in exuberant pride of speech, and say, ¹⁸ 'We have trampled upon the holy house, as idolatrous houses are trampled upon.' ¹⁹ Blot out our iniquities, do away with our errors, and show your compassion in this hour. ²⁰ Let your mercies quickly go before us. Grant us peace, that the downcast and broken hearted may praise you with their mouth."

²¹ At that time God, who sees all things, who is beyond all Holy among the holy, heard that prayer, so suitable, and scourged the man who was greatly uplifted with scorn and insolence. ²² Shaking him back and forth as a reed is shaken with the wind, he threw him down on the pavement, powerless, with limbs paralyzed, and by a righteous judgment deprived of the ability to speak. ²³ His friends and bodyguards, seeing the swift recompense which had suddenly overtaken him, struck with exceeding terror, and fearing that he would die, speedily removed him. ²⁴ When in course of time he had come to himself, this severe punishment caused no repentance within him, but he departed with bitter threatenings.

²⁵ He proceeded to Egypt, grew worse in wickedness through his previously mentioned companions in wine, who were lost to all goodness, ²⁶ and not satisfied with countless acts of impiety, his audacity so increased that he raised evil reports there, and many of his friends, watching his purpose attentively, joined in furthering his will. ²⁷ His purpose was to inflict a public stigma upon our race. Therefore he erected a stone pillar in the courtyard, and caused the following inscription to be engraved upon it: ²⁸ "Entrance to this temple is to be refused to all those who would not sacrifice. All the Jews were to be registered among the slaves. Those who resisted are to be forcibly seized and put to death. ²⁹ Those who are thus registered are to be marked on their persons by the ivy-leaf symbol of Dionysus, and to be reduced to these limited rights." ³⁰ To do away with the appearance of hating them all, he had it written underneath, that if any of them should elect to enter the community of those initiated in the rites, these should have equal rights with the Alexandrians.

³¹ Some of those who were over the city, therefore, abhorring any approach to the city of piety, unhesitatingly gave in to the king, and expected to derive some great honor from a future connection with him. ³² A nobler spirit, however, prompted the majority to cling to their religious observances, and by paying money that they might live unmolested, these sought to escape the registration, ³³ cheerfully looking forward to future aid, they abhorred their own apostates, considering them to be national foes, and depriving them of common fellowship and mutual help.

² While this was going on, a hostile rumor was uttered abroad by men who had banded together to injure the Jewish race. The pretext of their charge was that the Jews kept them away from the ordinances of the law. ³ Now the Jews always maintained a feeling of unwavering loyalty toward the kings, ⁴ yet, as they worshiped God and observed his law, they made certain distinctions, and avoided certain things. Hence they appeared hateful to some people, ⁵ although, as they adorned their conversation with works of righteousness, they had established themselves in the good opinion of the world. ⁶ What all the rest of mankind said was, however, disregarded by the foreigners, ⁷ who said much of the exclusiveness of the Jews with regard to their worship and meats. They alleged that they were unsociable men, hostile to the king's interests, refusing to associate with him or his troops. By this way of speaking, they brought much hatred on them. ⁸ This unexpected uproar and sudden gathering of people was observed by the Greeks who lived in the city, concerning men who had never harmed them. Yet to aid them was not in their power, since all was oppression around, but they encouraged them in their troubles, and expected a favorable turn of affairs. ⁹ He who knows all things will not, they said, disregard so great a people. ¹⁰ Some of the neighbors, friends, and business associates of the Jews even called them secretly to an interview, pledged them their assistance, and promised to do their very utmost for them.

¹¹ Now the king, elated with his prosperous fortune, and not regarding the superior power of God, but thinking to persevere in his present purpose, wrote the following letter to the prejudice of the Jews: ¹² "King Ptolemy Philopater, to the commanders and soldiers in Egypt, and in all places, health and happiness! ¹³ I am doing well, and so, too, are my affairs. ¹⁴ Since our Asiatic campaign, the particulars of which you know, and which by the aid of the gods, not lightly given, and by our own vigor, has been brought to a successful conclusion according to our expectation, ¹⁵ we resolved, not with strength of spear, but with gentleness and much humanity, as it were to nurse the inhabitants of Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, and to be their willing benefactors. ¹⁶ So, having bestowed considerable sums of money upon the temples of the several cities, we proceeded even as far as Jerusalem, and went up to honor the temple of these wretched beings who never cease from their folly. ¹⁷ To outward appearance they received us willingly, but belied that appearance by their deeds. When we were eager to enter their temple, and to honor it with the most beautiful and exquisite gifts, ¹⁸ they were so carried away by their old arrogance as to forbid us the entrance, while we, out of our forbearance toward all men, refrained from exercising our power upon them. ¹⁹ Thus, exhibiting their enmity against us, they alone among the nations lift up their heads against kings and benefactors, as men unwilling to submit to any reasonable thing. ²⁰ We then, having endeavored to make allowance for the madness of these people, and on our victorious return treating all people in Egypt courteously, acted in a manner which was befitting. ²¹ Accordingly, bearing no ill will against their kinsmen, but rather remembering our connection with them, and the numerous matters with sincere heart from a remote period entrusted to them, we wished to venture a total alteration of their state, by giving them the rights of citizens of Alexandria, and to admit them to the everlasting rites of our solemnities. ²² All this, however, they have taken in a very different spirit. With their innate malignity, they have spurned the fair offer, and constantly inclining to evil, ²³ have rejected the inestimable rights. Not only so, but by using speech, and by refraining from speech, they abhor the few among them who are heartily disposed toward us, ever deeming that their infamous way of life will force us to do away with our reform. ²⁴ Having then received certain proofs that these Jews bear us every sort of ill will, we must look forward to the possibility of some sudden tumult among ourselves when these impious men may turn traitors and barbarous enemies. ²⁵ Therefore, as soon as the contents of this letter become known to you, in that same hour we order those Jews who dwell among you, with wives and children, to be sent to us, vilified and abused, in chains of iron, to undergo a cruel and shameful death, suitable to enemies. ²⁶ For by the punishment of them in one body we perceive that we have found the only means of establishing our affairs for the future on a firm and satisfactory basis. ²⁷ Whoever protects a Jew, whether it be old man, child, or nursing baby, shall with his whole house be tortured to death. ²⁸ Whoever informs against the Jews, besides receiving the property of the person charged, shall be presented with two thousand drachmas* from the royal treasury, shall be made free, and shall be crowned. ²⁹ Whatever place shelters a Jew shall be made unapproachable and shall be put under the ban of fire, and be forever rendered useless to every living being for all time to come." ³⁰ The king's letter was written in the above form.

¹ Wherever this decree was received, the people kept up a revelry of joy and shouting, as if their long-pent-up, hardened hatred would now show itself openly. ² The Jews suffered great throes of sorrow and wept much, while their hearts, all things around being lamentable, were set on fire as they bewailed the sudden destruction which was decreed against them. ³ What home, or city, or any inhabited place, or what streets were there, which their condition didn't fill with wailing and lamentation? ⁴ They were sent out unanimously by the generals in various cities, with such stern and pitiless feeling that the exceptional nature of the infliction moved even some of their enemies. These, influenced by sentiments of common humanity, and reflecting upon the uncertain issue of life, shed tears at their miserable expulsion. ⁵ A multitude of aged hoary-haired old men were driven along with halting bending feet, urged onward by the impulse of a violent, shameless force to quick speed. ⁶ Girls who had entered the bridal chamber quite lately, to enjoy the partnership of marriage, exchanged

* 3:28 a drachma was about a day's pay for an agricultural laborer pleasure for misery; and with dust scattered upon their myrrh-anointed heads, were hurried along unveiled; and, in the midst of outlandish insults, set up with one accord a lamentable cry instead of the marriage hymn. ⁷ Bound and exposed to public gaze, they were hurried violently on board ship. ⁸ The husbands of these, in the prime of their youthful vigor, instead of crowns, wore ropes round their necks. Instead of feasting and youthful celebration, they spent the rest of their nuptial days in wailing, and saw only the grave at hand. ⁹ They were dragged along by unyielding chains, like wild animals. Of these, some had their necks thrust into the benches of the rowers, while the feet of others were enclosed in hard fetters. ¹⁰ The planks of the deck above them blocked out the light and shut out the day on every side, so that they might be treated like traitors during the whole voyage.
