12 destroy all the land thereof. Let Egypt mourn, and the foundations thereof, for the plague of the chastisement and the punishment that God shall bring 13 upon it. Let the husbandmen that till the ground mourn: for their seeds shall fail and their trees shall be laid waste through the blasting and hail, and a 14 terrible star. Woe to the world and 15 them that dwell therein! for the sword and their destruction draweth nigh, and nation shall rise up against nation to battle with weapons in their hands.
16 For there shall be sedition among men; and waxing strong one against another, they shall not regard their king nor the chief of their great ones, in their
17 might. For a man shall desire to go
18 into a city, and shall not be able. For because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be de-19 stroyed, and men shall be afraid. A man shall have no pity upon his neighbour, but shall make an assault on their houses with the sword, and spoil their goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation.

20 Behold, saith God, I call together all the kings of the earth, to stir up them that are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things 21 that they have done to them. Like as they do yet this day unto my chosen, so will I do also, and recompense in their bosom. Thus saith the 22 Lord God: My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shall not cease over them that shed inno-
23 cent blood upon the earth. And a fire is gone forth from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners, like the straw 24 that is kindled. Woe to them that sin, and keep not my commandments!
25 saith the Lord. I will not spare them: go your way, ye rebellious children, 26 defile not my sanctuary. For the Lord knoweth all them that trespass against him, therefore hath he delivered them unto death and destruc-
27 tion. For now are the evils come upon the whole earth, and ye shall remain in them: for God shall not deliver you, because ye have sinned against him.

28 Behold, a vision horrible, and the appearance thereof from the east!
29 And the nations of the dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and from the day that they set forth the hissing of them is carried over the earth, so that all they which shall hear them may fear also and 30 tremble. Also the Carmonians raging in wrath shall go forth as the wild boars of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and join battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians with their 31 teeth. And then shall the dragons have the upper hand, remembering their <sup>1</sup>nature; and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in 32 great power to persecute them, then these shall be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall 33 turn and flee. And from the land of the Assyrians shall the lie in wait besiege them, and consume one of them, and upon their host shall be fear and trembling, and sedition against their 34 kings. Behold, clouds from the east and from the north unto the south, and they are very horrible to look 35 upon, full of wrath and storm. They shall dash one against another, and they shall pour out a plentiful <sup>2</sup>storm upon the earth, even their own star; and there shall be blood from the 36 sword unto the horse's belly, and to the thigh of man, and to the camel's

37 hough. And there shall be fearfulness and great trembling upon earth: and they that see that wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall take hold 38 upon them. And after this shall there be stirred up great storms from the south, and from the north, and another part from the west. And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall shut it up, even the cloud which he raised in wrath; and the star that was to cause destruction by the east wind shall be violently driven toward 40 the south and west. And great clouds and mighty and full of wrath shall be lifted up, and the star, that they may destroy all the earth, and them that dwell therein; and they shall pour out over every high and eminent one 41 a terrible star, fire, and hail, and flying swords, and many waters, that all plains may be full, and all rivers, with the abundance of those waters.
 42 And they shall break down the cities and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the meadows,
 43 and their corn. And they shall go on stedfastly unto Babylon, and destroy 44 her. They shall come unto her, and compass her about; the star and all wrath shall they pour out upon her: then shall the dust and smoke go up unto the heaven, and all they that be 45 about her shall bewail her. And they that remain shall do service unto them that have put her in fear.
 46 And thou, Asia, that art partaker in the beauty of Babylon, and in the 47 glory of her person: woe unto thee, thou wretch, because thou hast made thyself like unto her; thou hast decked thy daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in thy lovers, which have always desired thee to come 48 mit whoredom withal! Thou hast followed her that is hateful in all her works and inventions: therefore saith
 49 God, I will send evils upon thee; widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste thy houses
 50 unto destruction and death. And the glory of thy power shall be dried up as a flower, when the heat shall arise 51 that is sent over thee. Thou shalt be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastised with wounds, so that thy mighty ones and thy lovers thou shalt not be able to 52 receive. Would I with jealousy have so proceeded against thee, saith the 53 Lord, if thou hadst not always slain my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine hands, and saying over thy 54 <sup>1</sup> dead, when thou wast drunken, Set forth the beauty of thy countenance?
 55 The reward of a harlot shall be in thy bosom, therefore shalt thou receive 56 recompense. Like as thou shalt do unto my chosen, saith the Lord, even so shall God do unto thee, and shall 57 deliver thee into mischief. And thy children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall by the sword: and thy cities shall be broken down, and all thine shall perish by the sword in the field.

 58 And they that be in the mountains shall die of hunger, and eat their own flesh, and drink their own blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of 59 water. Thou unhappy above all shalt come and shalt again receive evils.
 60 And in the passage they shall rush on the <sup>2</sup> idle city, and shall destroy some portion of thy land, and mar part of thy glory, and shall return again to Babylon that was destroyed.
 61 And thou shalt be cast down by them as stubble, and they shall be unto thee
 62 as fire; and shall devour thee, and thy cities, thy land, and thy mountains; all thy woods and thy fruitful trees
 63 shall they burn up with fire. They shall carry thy children away captive, and shall spoil thy wealth, and mar the glory of thy face.
 16 Woe unto thee, Babylon, and Asia! woe unto thee, Egypt, and Syria!
 2 Gird up yourselves with sackcloth and garments of hair, and bewail your children, and lament; for your destruction is at hand. A sword is sent upon you, and who is he that may turn 4 it back? A fire is sent upon you, and 5 who is he that may quench it? Evils are sent upon you, and who is he that 6 may drive them away? May one drive away a hungry lion in the wood? or 7 may one quench the fire in stubble, when it hath once begun to burn? May 8 one turn again the arrow that is shot
 8 of a strong archer? The Lord God sendeth the evils, and who shall drive 9 them away? A fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that 10 may quench it? He shall cast lightning, and who shall not fear? he shall 11 thunder, and who shall not tremble?
 11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly broken in pieces at his 12 presence? The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof; the sea ariseth up with waves from the deep, and the waves of it shall be troubled, and the fishes thereof also, at the presence of 13 the Lord, and before the glory of his power: for strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrows that he shooteth are sharp, and shall not miss, when they begin to be shot into 14 the ends of the world. Behold, the evils are sent forth, and shall not return again, until they come upon the 15 earth. The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the 16 foundations of the earth. Like as an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer returneth not backward, even so the evils that are sent forth upon earth

17 shall not return again. Woe is me! woe is me! who will deliver me in those days?

18 The beginning of sorrows, and there shall be great mournings; the beginning of famine, and many shall perish; the beginning of wars, and the powers shall stand in fear; the beginning of evils, and all shall tremble! what shall they do in all this when the evils shall

19 come? Behold, famine and plague, tribulation and anguish! they are sent

20 as scourges for amendment. But for all these things they shall not turn them from their wickedness, nor be

21 alway mindful of the scourges. Behold, victuals shall be so good cheap upon earth, that they shall think themselves to be in good case, and even then shall evils grow upon earth, sword,

22 famine, and great confusion. For many of them that dwell upon earth shall perish of famine; and the other, that escape the famine, shall the sword

23 destroy. And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be left desolate, and the cities thereof

24 shall be cast down. There shall be no husbandman left to till the earth, and

25 to sow it. The trees shall give fruit, and who shall gather them? The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread

26 them? for in all places there shall be a great forsaking: for one man shall desire to see another, or to hear his

28 voice. For of a city there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which have hidden themselves in the thick groves, and in the clefts of the rocks.

29 As in an orchard of olives upon every tree there be left three or four olives,

30 or as when a vineyard is gathered there be some clusters left by them that diligently seek through the vine-

31 yard; even so in those days there shall be three or four left by them that search

32 their houses with the sword. And the earth shall be left desolate, and the fields thereof shall be for <sup>1</sup>briers, and her ways and all her paths shall bring forth thorns, because no sheep shall

33 pass therethrough. The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms; the women shall mourn, having no husbands; their daughters shall mourn, 34 having no helpers. In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine.

35 Hear now these things, and understand them, ye servants of the Lord.

36 Behold, the word of the Lord, receive it: disbelieve not the things whereof

37 the Lord speaketh. Behold, the evils draw nigh, and are not slack. Like as a woman with child in the ninth month, when the hour of her delivery draweth near, within two or three hours doleful pains compass her womb, and when the child cometh forth from the womb, there shall be no tarrying for a mo-

39 ment: even so shall not the evils be slack to come upon the earth, and the world shall groan, and sorrows shall

40 take hold of it on every side. O my people, hear my word: make you ready to the battle, and in those evils be even

41 as pilgrims upon the earth. He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth away: and he that buyeth, as one that

42 will lose: he that occupieth merchandise, as he that hath no profit by it: and he that buildeth, as he that shall

43 not dwell therein: he that soweth, as if he should not reap: so also he that pruneth the vines, as he that shall not

44 gather the grapes: they that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as the widowed.

45 Inasmuch as they that labour labour in vain; for strangers shall reap their fruits, and spoil their goods, overthrow their houses, and take their children

46 captive, for in captivity and famine shall they beget their children: and they that traffick traffick to become a

47 spoil: the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and

48 their own persons, the more will I hate them for their sins, saith the Lord.

49 Like as a right honest and virtuous woman hateth a harlot, so shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decketh herself, and shall accuse her to her face, when he cometh that shall defend him that diligently searcheth out every sin upon earth.

50 Therefore be ye not like thereunto, nor to the works thereof. For yet a little while, and iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousness shall reign over us. Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned: for he shall burn coals of fire upon his head, which saith, I have not sinned

51 before God and his glory. Behold, the Lord knoweth all the works of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, 52 and their hearts. Who said, Let the earth be made; and it was made: Let the heaven be made; and it was made.

53 And at his word were the stars established, and he knoweth the number of

54 the stars. Who searcheth the deep, and the treasures thereof; he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth. Who hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word hath he langed the earth upon

55 the waters. Who spreadeth out the heaven like a vault; upon the waters hath he founded it. Who hath made in the desert springs of water, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, to send forth rivers from the height to 56 water the earth. Who framed man, and put a heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life, and

62 understanding, yea, the spirit of God Almighty. He who made all things, and searcheth out hidden things in 63 hidden places, surely he knoweth your imagination, and what ye think in your hearts. Woe to them that sin, and 64 would fain hide their sin! Forasmuch as the Lord will exactly search out all your works, and he will put you all 65 to shame. And when your sins are brought forth before men, ye shall be ashamed, and your own iniquities shall stand as your accusers in that day. 66 What will ye do? or how will ye hide your sins before God and his angels? 67 Behold, God is the judge, fear him: leave off from your sins, and forget your iniquities, to meddle no more with them for ever: so shall God lead you forth, and deliver you from all tribulation. 68 For, behold, the burning wrath of a great multitude is kindled over you, and they shall take away certain of you, and feed you with that which is 69 slain unto idols. And they that consent unto them shall be had in derision and in reproach, and be trodden under 70 foot of them. For there shall be <sup>1</sup>in divers places, and in the next cities, a great insurrection upon those that 71 fear the Lord. They shall be like mad men, sparing none, but spoiling and destroying them that still fear the 72 Lord. For they shall waste and take away their goods, and cast them out 73 of their houses. Then shall be manifest the trial of mine elect; even as the gold that is tried in the fire. 74 Hear, O ye mine elect, saith the Lord: behold, the days of tribulation are at hand, and I will deliver you from 75 them. Be ye not afraid, neither doubt; 76 for God is your guide: and ye who keep my commandments and precepts, saith the Lord God, let not your sins weigh you down, and let not your 77 iniquities lift up themselves. Woe unto them that are fast bound with their sins, and covered with their iniquities, like as a field is fast bound with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thorns, that no man 78 may travel through! <sup>2</sup>It is even shut off, and given up to be consumed of fire.

TOBIT.

1 THE book of the words of Tobit, the son of Tobiel, the son of Ananiel, the son of Aduel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Asiel, of the tribe of Naphtali; 2 who in the days of <sup>1</sup>Enemessar king of the Assyrians was carried away captive out of Thisbe, which is on the right hand of Kedesh Naphtali in Galilee above Asher. 3 I Tobit walked in the ways of truth and righteousness all the days of my life, and I did many almsdeeds to my brethren and my nation, who went with me into the land of the Assyrians, 4 to Nineveh. And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, while I was yet young, all the tribe of Naphtali my father fell away from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, and the temple of the habitation of the Most High was hallowed and built 5 therein for all ages. And all the tribes which fell away together sacrificed to the heifer Baal, and so did the house 6 of Naphtali my father. And I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it hath been ordained unto all Israel by an everlasting decree, having the firstfruits and the tenths of mine increase, and that which was first shorn; and I gave them at the altar 7 to the priests the sons of Aaron. The tenth part of all mine increase I gave to the sons of Levi, who ministered at Jerusalem: and the second tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it 8 each year at Jerusalem: and the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, as Deborah my father's mother had commanded me, because I was 9 left an orphan by my father. And when I became a man, I took to wife Anna of the seed of our own family, 10 and of her I begat Tobias. And when I was carried away captive to Nineveh, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat of the bread of the 11 Gentiles: but I kept myself from eating, because I remembered God with 12 all my soul. And the Most High gave me grace, and <sup>2</sup>favour in the sight of Enemessar, and I was his purveyor. 14 And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias,

20 blotted out of thy mind. And now I shew thee of the ten talents of silver, which I left in trust with Gabael the son of Gabrias at Rages of Media. And fear not, my child, because we are made poor: thou hast much wealth, if thou fear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

5 And Tobias answered and said unto him, Father, I will do all things, whatsoever thou hast commanded me: but how shall I be able to receive the money, seeing I know him not? And he gave him the handwriting, and said unto him, Seek thee a man which shall go with thee, and I will give him wages, whiles I yet live: and go and receive the money. And he went to seek a man, and found Raphael which was an angel; and he knew it not; and he said unto him, Can I go with thee to Rages of Media? and knowest thou the places well? And the angel said unto him, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: and I have lodged with our brother Gabael. And Tobias said unto him, Wait for me, and I will tell my father. And he said unto him, Go, and tarry not. And he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. But he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with thee.

9 And he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another. And Tobit said unto him, Brother, of what tribe and of what family art thou? Shew me. And he said unto him, Seekest thou a tribe and a family, or a hired man which shall go with thy son? And Tobit said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and thy name. And he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, and thy brethren. And he said unto him, Welcome, brother; and be not angry with me, because I sought to know thy tribe and family: and thou art my brother, of an honest and good lineage: for I knew Ananias and Jathan, the sons of Shemaiah the great, when we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the firstborn, and the tenths of our increase; and they went not astray in the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a great stock. But tell me, what wages shall I give thee? a drachma a day, and those things that be necessary for thee, as unto my son? And moreover, if ye return safe and sound, I will add something to thy wages. And so they consented. And he said to Tobias, Prepare thyself for the journey, and God prosper you. And his son prepared what was needful for the journey, and his father said unto him, Go thou with this man; but God, which dwelleth in heaven, shall prosper your journey; and may his angel go with you. And they both went forth to depart, and the young man's dog with them.

17 But Anna his mother wept, and said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our child? is he not the staff of our hand, in going in and out before us? Be not greedy to add money to money: but let it be as refuse in respect of our child. For as the Lord hath given us to live, so doth it suffice us. And Tobit said to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return safe and sound, and thine eyes shall see him. For a good angel shall go with him, and his journey shall be prospered, and he shall return safe and sound. And she made an end of weeping.

6 Now as they went on their journey, they came at eventide to the river Tigris, and they lodged there. But the young man went down to wash himself, and a fish leaped out of the river, and would have swallowed up the young man. But the angel said unto him, Take hold on the fish. And the young man caught hold of the fish, and cast it up on the land. And the angel said unto him, Cut the fish open, and take the heart and the liver and the gall, and put them up safely. And the young man did as the angel commanded him; but they roasted the fish, and ate it. And they both went on their way, till they drew near to Ecbatana. And the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the gall of the fish? And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a <sup>1</sup>devil or an evil spirit trouble any, we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed. But as for the gall, it is good to anoint a man that hath white films in his eyes, and he shall be healed.

9 But when they drew nigh unto Rages, the angel said to the young man, Brother, to-day we shall lodge with Raguel, and he is thy kinsman; and he hath an only daughter, named Sarah. I will speak for her, that she should be given thee for a wife. For to thee doth the inheritance of her appertain, and thou only art of her kindred: and the maid is fair and wise. And now hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raguel may in no wise marry her to another according to the law of Moses, or else he shall be liable to death, because it appertaineth unto thee to take the inheritance, rather than any other. Then the young man said unto the angel, Brother Azarias, I have heard that this maid hath been given to seven men, and that they all 14 perished in the bride-chamber. And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest I go in and die, even as those before me; for a <sup>1</sup>devil loveth her, which hurteth no man, but those which come unto her: and now I fear lest I die, and bring my father's and my mother's life to the grave with sorrow because of me: and they have 15 no other son to bury them. But the angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the words which thy father commanded thee, that thou shouldst take a wife of thine own kindred? and now hear me, brother; for she shall be thy wife; and make thou no reckoning of the devil; for this night shall she be 16 given thee to wife. And <sup>2</sup>when thou shalt come into the bride-chamber, thou shalt take the ashes of incense, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shalt make a smoke 17 therewith: and the devil shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more. But when thou goest nigh unto her, rise up both of you, and cry unto God which is merciful, and he shall save you, and have mercy on you.

 Fear not, for she was prepared for thee from the beginning; and thou shalt save her, and she shall go with thee.
 And I suppose that thou shalt have children of her. And when Tobias heard these things, he loved her, and his soul clave to her exceedingly.

7 And they came to Ecbatana, and arrived at the house of Raguel. But Sarah met them; and she saluted them,
 and they her; and she brought them 2 into the house. And he said to Edna his wife, How like is the young man to 3 Tobit my cousin. And Raguel asked them, From whence are ye, brethren?
 And they said unto him, We are of the sons of Naphtali, which are captives 4 in Nineveh. And he said unto them, Know ye Tobit our brother? But they said, We know him. And he said 5 unto them, Is he in good health? But they said, He is both alive, and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my 6 father. And Raguel sprang up, and 7 kissed him, and wept, and blessed him, and said unto him, Thou art the son of an honest and good man. And when he had heard that Tobit had lost his 8 sight, he was grieved, and wept; and Edna his wife and Sarah his daughter wept. And they received them gladly; and they killed a ram of the flock, and set store of meat before them.

But Tobias said to Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let the 9 matter be finished. And he communicated the thing to Raguel: and Ra-guel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and 10 make merry: for it appertaineth unto thee to take my child. Howbeit I will 11 shew thee the truth. I have given my child to seven men, and whosoever they came in unto her, they died in the night. But for the present be merry.

 And Tobias said, I will taste nothing here, until ye make covenant and enter 12 into covenant with me. And Raguel said, Take her to thyself from henceforth according to the manner: thou art her brother, and she is thine: but the merciful God shall give all good 13 success to you. And he called his daughter Sarah, and took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, and said, Behold, take her to thyself after the law of Moses, and lead her away to thy father. And he 14 blessed them; and he called Edna his wife, and took a book, and wrote an 15 instrument, and sealed it. And they began to eat.

16 And Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare the other chamber, and bring her in thither.
 17 And she did as he bade her, and brought her in thither: and she wept, and she received the tears of her 18 daughter, and said unto her, Be of good comfort, my child; the Lord of heaven and earth give thee <sup>3</sup>favour for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

8 And when they had finished their supper, they brought Tobias in unto 2 her. But as he went, he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the ashes of the incense, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, 3 and made a smoke therewith. But when the <sup>4</sup>devil smelled the smell, he fled into the uppermost parts of Egypt, 4 and the angel bound him. But after they were both shut in together, Tobias rose up from the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that the Lord 5 may have mercy on us. And Tobias began to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy crea-6 tures. Thou madest Adam, and gavest him Eve his wife for a helper and a stay: of them came the seed of men:
 thou didst say, It is not good that the man should be alone; let us make him
 7 a helper like unto him. And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but in truth: command that I may find mercy and grow old with 8 her. And she said with him, Amen.
 9 And they slept both that night.

And Raguel arose, and went and 10 digged a grave, saying, Lest he also 11 should die. And Raguel came into 12 his house, and said to Edna his wife, Send one of the maidservants, and let them see whether he be alive: but if not, that we may bury him, and no

13 man know it. So the maidservant opened the door, and went in, and 14 found them both sleeping, and came forth, and told them that he was alive.

15 And Raguel blessed God, saying, Blessed art thou, O God, with all pure and holy blessing; and let thy saints bless thee, and all thy creatures; and let all thine angels and thine elect 16 bless thee for ever. Blessed art thou, because thou hast made me glad; and it hath not befallen me as I suspected; but thou hast dealt with us according 17 to thy great mercy. Blessed art thou, because thou hast had mercy on two that were the only begotten children of their parents: shew them mercy, O Lord; accomplish their life in health with gladness and mercy.

18 But he commanded his servants to 19 fill the grave. And he kept the wedding feast for them fourteen days. 20 And before the days of the wedding feast were finished, Raguel sware unto him, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the wedding feast 21 were fulfilled; and that then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and the rest, said he, when I and my wife shall die.

9 And Tobias called Raphael, and said 2 unto him, Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant, and two camels, and go to Rages of Media to Gabael, and receive the money for me, and bring 3 him to the wedding feast: because Raguel hath sworn that I shall not 4 depart; and my father counteth the days; and if I tarry long, he will be 5 sorely grieved. And Raphael went on his way, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him the handwriting: but he brought forth the bags with their seals, 6 and gave them to him. And they rose up early in the morning together, and came to the wedding feast: and Tobias blessed his wife.

10 And Tobit his father made his count every day: and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came 2 not, he said, <sup>1</sup>Is he perchance detained? or is Gabael perchance dead, and there is no man to give him the 3 money? And he was sorely grieved. 4 But his wife said unto him, The child hath perished, seeing he tarrieth long; and she began to bewail him, and said, 5 <sup>2</sup>I care for nothing, my child, since I have let thee go, the light of mine eyes. 6 And Tobit saith unto her, Hold thy peace, take no care; he is in good 7 health. And she said unto him, Hold thy peace, deceive me not; my child hath perished. And she went out every day into the way by which they went, and did eat no bread in the daytime, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until the fourteen days of the wedding feast were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there.

But Tobias said unto Raguel, Send me away, for my father and my mother 8 look no more to see me. But his father in law said unto him, Abide with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things 9 go with thee. And Tobias saith, No; 10 but send me away to my father. But Raguel arose, and gave him Sarah his wife, and half his goods, servants and 11 cattle and money; and he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heaven shall prosper you, my children, before I die. And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law; they are now thy parents; let me hear a good report of thee. And he kissed her. And Edna said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, dear brother, and grant to me that I may see thy children of my daughter Sarah, that I may rejoice before the Lord: and, behold, I commit my daughter unto thee in special trust: vex her not.

11 After these things Tobias also went his way, blessing God because he had prospered his journey; and he blessed Raguel and Edna his wife. And he went on his way till they drew near 2 unto Nineveh. And Raphael said to Tobias, Knowest thou not, brother, how 3 thou didst leave thy father? Let us run forward before thy wife, and prepare 4 the house. But take in thy hand the gall of the fish. And they went their 5 way, and the dog went after them. And Anna sat looking about toward the way 6 for her son. And she espied him coming, and said to his father, Behold, thy son cometh, and the man that went with 7 him. And Raphael said, I know, Tobias, 8 that thy father will open his eyes. Do thou therefore anoint his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and shall make the white films to fall away, and he shall see thee.

9 And Anna ran unto him, and fell upon the neck of her son, and said unto him, I have seen thee, my child; from henceforth I will die. And they wept both. 10 And Tobit went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his son ran unto 11 him, and took hold of his father: and he strake the gall on his father's eyes, saying, Be of good cheer, my father. 12 But when his eyes began to smart, 13 he rubbed them; and the white films scaled away from the corners of his eyes; and he saw his son, and fell up- 14 on his neck. And he wept, and said, Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever, and blessed are 15 all thy holy angels; for thou didst scourge, and didst have mercy on me: behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

16 And Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law at the gate of Nineveh, rejoicing, and blessing God: and they which saw him go marvelled, because

17 he had received his sight. And Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had shewed mercy on him. And when Tobit came near to Sarah his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, Welcome, daughter: blessed is God which hath brought thee unto us, and blessed are thy father and thy mother. And there was joy to all his brethren which

18 were at Nineveh. And Achiacharus, and Nasbas his brother's son, came:

19 and Tobias' wedding feast was kept seven days with great gladness.

20 And Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, See, my child, that the man which went with thee have his wages, and thou must give him more.

21 And he said unto him, Father, it is no harm to me to give him the half of

22 those things which I have brought: for he hath led me for thee in safety, and he cured my wife, and brought my

23 money, and likewise cured thee. And the old man said, It is due unto him.

24 And he called the angel, and said unto him, Take the half of all that ye have

25 brought. Then he called them both privily, and said unto them,

Bless God, and give him thanks, and magnify him, and give him thanks in the sight of all that live, for the things which he hath done with you. It is good to bless God and exalt his name, shewing forth with honour the works of God; and be not slack to give him

26 thanks. It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. Do good, and evil shall not find you. Good is

27 prayer with fasting and alms and righteousness. A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give alms

28 than to lay up gold: alms doth deliver from death, and it shall purge away all sin. They that do alms and righteousness shall be filled with life; but they

29 that sin are enemies to their own life.

30 Surely I will keep close nothing from you. I have said, It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal

31 gloriously the works of God. And now, when thou didst pray, and Sarah thy daughter in law, I did bring the memorial of your prayer before the Holy One: and when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise.

32 And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner, that thou mightest go and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but

33 I was with thee. And now God did send me to heal thee and Sarah thy 14 daughter in law. I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and go in before the glory of the Holy One.

15 And they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces; for they were afraid.

16 And he said unto them, Be not afraid, ye shall have peace; but bless God for 17 ever. For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of your God I came;

18 wherefore bless him for ever. All these days did I appear unto you; and I did

19 neither eat nor drink, but ye saw a

20 vision. And now give God thanks: because I ascend to him that sent me: and write in a book all the things

21 which have been done. And they rose

22 up, and saw him no more. And they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

23 And Tobit wrote a prayer for rejoicing, and said,

Blessed is God that liveth for ever, And blessed is his kingdom.

24 For he scourgeth, and sheweth mercy:

He leadeth down to <sup>1</sup>the grave, and bringeth up again:

And there is none that shall escape his hand.

25 Give thanks unto him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel:

For he hath scattered us among them.

26 There declare his greatness, And extol him before all the living:

Because he is our Lord, And God is our Father for ever.

27 And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will again shew mercy, And will gather us out of all the nations among whom ye are scattered.

28 If ye turn to him with your whole heart and with your whole soul,

To do truth before him, Then will he turn unto you,

And will not hide his face from you. And see what he will do with you,

And give him thanks with your whole mouth,

And bless the Lord of righteousness, And exalt the everlasting King.

I in the land of my captivity give him thanks,

And shew his strength and majesty to a nation of sinners.

Turn, ye sinners, and do righteousness before him:

Who can tell if he will accept you and have mercy on you?

29 I exalt my God, And my soul doth exalt the King of heaven,

And it shall rejoice in his greatness.

30 Let all men speak, and let them give him thanks in Jerusalem.

9 O Jerusalem, the holy city,
He will scourge thee for the works of thy sons,
And will again have mercy on the sons of the righteous.

10 Give thanks to the Lord with goodness,
And bless the everlasting King,
That his tabernacle may be builded
in thee again with joy,
And that he may make glad in thee
those that are captives,
And love in thee for ever those that are miserable.

11 Many nations shall come from far to the name of the Lord God With gifts in their hands, even gifts to the King of heaven; Generations of generations shall praise thee,
And sing songs of rejoicing.

12 Cursed are all they that hate thee; Blessed shall be all they that love thee for ever.

13 Rejoice and be exceeding glad for the sons of the righteous:
For they shall be gathered together and shall bless the Lord of the righteous.

14 O blessed are they that love thee;
They shall rejoice for thy peace:
Blessed are all they that sorrowed
for all thy scourges:
Because they shall rejoice for thee,
When they have seen all thy glory;
And they shall be made glad for ever.

15 Let my soul bless God the great King.

16 For Jerusalem shall be builded with sapphires and emeralds and precious stones;
Thy walls and towers and battlements with pure gold.

17 And the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beryl and carbuncle and stones of Ophir.

18 And all her streets shall say, Hal-lelujah, and give praise, Saying, Blessed is God, which hath exalted thee for ever.

14 And Tobit made an end of giving 2 thanks. And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight; and after eight years he received it again:
and he gave alms, and he feared the Lord God more and more, and gave thanks unto him.

3 Now he grew very old; and he called his son, and the six sons of his son,
and said unto him,
My child, take thy sons: behold, I am grown old, and am ready to depart 4 out of this life. Go into Media, my child, for I surely believe all the things which Jonah the prophet spake of Nineveh, that it shall be overthrown,

but in Media there shall rather be peace for a season; and that our brethren shall be scattered in the earth from the good land; and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned up, and shall be deso-5 late for a time; and God shall again have mercy on them, and bring them back into the land, and they shall build the house, but not like to the former house, until the times of that age be fulfilled; and afterward they shall return from the places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem with honour, and the house of God shall be built in it for ever with a glorious building, even as the prophets spake concerning 6 it. And all the nations shall turn to fear the Lord God truly, and shall 7 bury their idols. And all the nations shall bless the Lord, and his people shall give thanks unto God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all they that love the Lord God in truth and righteousness shall rejoice, shew-8 ing mercy to our brethren. And now, my child, depart from Nineveh, because those things which the prophet Jonah spake shall surely come to pass.

9 But keep thou the law and the ordinances, and shew thyself merciful and righteous, that it may be well with thee.

10 And bury me decently, and thy mother with me; and dwell ye no longer at Nineveh. See, my child, what Aman did to Achiacharus that nourished him, how out of light he brought him into darkness, and all the recompense that he made him: and Achiacharus was saved, but the other had his recompense, and he went down into darkness. Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snare of death which he set for him: but Aman fell into the 11 snare, and perished. And now, my children, consider what alms doeth, and how righteousness doth deliver.

And while he was saying these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed; but he was a hundred and eight and fifty years old; and he buried him magni-12 ficently. And when Anna died, he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and his sons to Ecbatana unto Raguel his fa-13 ther in law, and he grew old in honour, and he buried his father and mother in law magnificently, and he inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's.

14 And he died at Ecbatana of Media, being a hundred and seven and twenty 15 years old. And before he died he heard of the destruction of Nineveh, which Nebuchadnezzar and Ahasuerus took captive; and before his death he rejoiced over Nineveh.

JUDITH.

1 In the twelfth year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, who reigned over the Assyrians in Nineveh, the great city ;
in the days of Arphaxad, who reigned 2 over the Medes in Ecbatana, and built at Ecbatana and round about it walls of hewn stones three cubits broad and six cubits long, and made the height 3 of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits; and set the towers thereof at the gates thereof, a hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation threescore 4 cubits; and made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty hosts, and the setting in array of his footmen:
5 even in those days king Nebuchadnezzar made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain: this plain is in the 6 borders of Ragau. And there came to meet him all that dwelt in the hill country, and all that dwelt by Euphrates, and Tigris, and Hydaspes, and in the plain of Arioch the king of the Elymæans; and many nations of the sons of Chelod assembled themselves to the battle.

7 And Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians sent unto all that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt westward,
to those that dwelt in Cilicia and Damascus and Libanus and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt over against the 8 sea coast, and to those among the nations that were of Carmel and Gilead, and to the higher Galilee and the 9 great plain of Esdraelon, and to all that were in Samaria and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalem, and Betane, and Chellus, and Kadesh,
and the river of Egypt, and Tahpanhes, and Rameses, and all the 10 land of Goshen, until thou comest above Tanis and Memphis, and to all that dwelt in Egypt, until thou comest 11 to the borders of Ethiopia. And all they that dwelt in all the land made light of the commandment of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, and went not with him to the war; for they were not afraid of him, but he was before them as one man; and they turned away his messengers from their presence without effect, and with disgrace.

12 And Nebuchadnezzar was exceeding wroth with all this land, and he swore by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all the coasts of Cilicia and Damascus and Syria, that he would slay with his sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judæa, and all that were in Egypt, until thou comest to the borders of 13 the two seas. And he set the battle in array with his host against king Arphaxad in the seventeenth year; and he prevailed in his battle, and turned to fight all the host of Arphaxad, and 14 all his horse, and all his chariots; and he became master of his cities, and he came even unto Ecbatana, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof 15 into shame. And he took Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly, unto this day.

16 And he returned with them to Nineveh,
he and all his company of sundry nations,
an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host, a hundred and twenty days.

2 And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, that he should be avenged on all the land, even 2 as he spake. And he called together all his servants, and all his great men, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and concluded the afflicting of all the land out of his own mouth.

3 And they decreed to destroy all flesh which followed not the word of his 4 mouth. And it came to pass, when he had ended his counsel, Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians called Holofernes the chief captain of his host, which was next after himself, and said unto him, 5 Thus saith the great king, the lord of all the earth, Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their strength, unto a hundred and twenty thousand footmen; and the number of horses 6 with their riders twelve thousand: and thou shalt go forth against all the west country, because they disobeyed the 7 commandment of my mouth. And thou shalt declare unto them, that they prepare earth and water; because I will go forth in my wrath against them, and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of my host,
and I will give them for a spoil unto them:
8 and their slain shall fill their valleys and brooks, and the river shall be filled 9 with their dead, till it overflow: and I will lead them captives to the 10 most parts of all the earth. But thou shalt go forth, and take beforehand

for me all their coasts; and <sup>1</sup>if they shall yield themselves unto thee, then shalt thou reserve them for me till the 11 day of their reproof. But as for them that are disobedient, thine eye shall not spare; but thou shalt give them up to be slain and to be spoiled in all thy 12 land. For as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, I have spoken, and I 13 will do this with my hand. And thou, moreover, shalt not transgress aught of the commandments of thy lord, but thou shalt surely accomplish them, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt not defer to do them.

14 And Holofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the governors and the captains and officers of the host of Asshur; and he numbered chosen men for the battle, as his lord had commanded him, unto a hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horseback; 16 and he ranged them, as a great multitude is ordered for the war. And he took camels and asses and mules for their baggage, an exceeding great multitude; and sheep and oxen and goats without number for their provision; 18 and great store of victual for every man, and exceeding much gold and 19 silver out of the king's house. And he went forth, he and all his host, on their journey, to go before king Nebuchadnezzar, and to cover all the face of the earth westward with their chariots and horsemen and chosen 20 footmen. And a great company of sundry nations went forth with them like locusts, and like the sand of the earth: for they could not be numbered by reason of their multitude.

22 And he took all his host, his footmen and horsemen and chariots, and went away from thence into the hill country, and destroyed Put and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rassas, and the children of Ishmael, which were over against the wilderness to the south of the land of the Chelians. And he went over Euphrates, and went through Mesopotamia, and brake down all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, until 25 thou comest to the sea. And he took possession of the borders of Cilicia, and slew all that resisted him, and came unto the borders of Japheth, which were toward the south, over 26 against Arabia. And he compassed about all the children of Midian, and set on fire their tents, and spoiled 27 their sheepcotes. And he went down into the plain of Damascus in the days of wheat harvest, and set on fire all their fields, and utterly destroyed their flocks and herds, and spoiled their cities, and laid their plains waste, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

28 And the fear and the dread of him fell upon them that dwelt on the sea coast, upon them that were in Sidon and Tyre, and them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Jemnaan; and they that dwelt in Azotus and Ascalon feared him exceedingly.

3 And they sent unto him messengers with words of peace, saying, Behold, we the servants of Nebuchadnezzar the great king lie before thee: use us 3 as it is pleasing in thy sight. Behold, our dwellings, and all our country, and all our fields of wheat, and our flocks and herds, and all the sheepcotes of our tents, lie before thy face: 4 use them as it may please thee. Behold, even our cities and they that dwell in them are thy servants: come and deal with them as it is good in 5 thine eyes. And the men came to Holofernes, and declared unto him according to these words.

6 And he came down toward the sea coast, he and his host, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out 7 of them chosen men for allies. And they received him, they and all the country round about them, with garlands and dances and timbrels. And he cast down all their borders, and cut down their groves: and it had been given unto him to destroy all the gods of the land, that all the nations should worship Nebuchadnezzar only, and that all their tongues and their tribes 9 should call upon him as god. And he came towards Esdraelon nigh unto Dotæa, which is over against the 10 great ridge of Judæa. And he encamped between Geba and Scythopolis, and he was there a whole month, that he might gather together all the baggage of his host.

4 And the children of Israel that dwelt in Judæa heard all that Holofernes the chief captain of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and 2 destroyed them utterly. And they were exceedingly afraid before him, and were troubled for Jerusalem, and for the temple of the Lord their God: 3 because they were newly come up from the captivity, and all the people of Judæa were lately gathered together; and the vessels, and the altar, and the house, were sanctified after the profanation.

4 And they sent into every coast of Samaria, and to Konæ, and to Bethoron, and Belmaim, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Æsora, and to the valley of Salem; and they possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victual for the provision of war: for their fields were newly reaped. And Joakim the high priest, which was in those days at Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia, and Betomesthaim, which is over against Esdraelon toward the plain that is nigh unto Dothaim, charging them to seize upon the ascents of the hill country; because by them was the entrance into Judæa, and it was easy to stop them from approaching, inasmuch as the approach was narrow, with space for two men at the most.

And the children of Israel did as Joakim the high priest had commanded them, and the senate of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

And every man of Israel cried to God with great earnestness, and with great earnestness did they humble their souls. They, and their wives, and their babes, and their cattle, and every sojourner and hireling and servant bought with their money, put sackcloth upon their loins. And every man and woman of Israel, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, fell before the temple, and cast ashes upon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the Lord; and they put sackcloth about the altar: and they cried to the God of Israel earnestly with one consent, that he would not give their babes for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, for the nations to rejoice at. And the Lord heard their voice, and looked upon their affliction: and the people continued fasting many days in all Judæa and Jerusalem before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty. And Joakim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they that ministered unto the Lord, had their loins girt about with sackcloth, and offered the continual burnt offering, and the vows and the free gifts of the people; and they had ashes on their mitres: and they cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel for good.

And it was told Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, that the children of Israel had prepared for war, and had shut up the passages of the hill country, and had fortified all the tops of the high hills, and had laid impediments in the plains: and he was exceeding wroth, and he called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the governors of the sea coast, and he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Canaan, who is this people, that dwelleth in the hill country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their host, and wherein is their power and their strength, and what king is set over them, to be the leader of their army; and why have they turned their backs, that they should not come and meet me, more than all that dwell in the west.

And Achior, the leader of all the children of Ammon, said unto him, Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will tell thee the truth concerning this people, which dwelleth in this hill country, nigh unto the place where thou dwellest: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy servant.

This people are descended of the Chaldeans: and they sojourned heretofore in Mesopotamia, because they were not minded to follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of the Chaldeans. And they departed from the way of their parents, and worshipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: and they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days. And their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Canaan: and they dwelt there, and were increased with gold and silver, and with exceeding much cattle. And they went down into Egypt, for a famine covered all the land of Canaan; and there they sojourned, until they were grown up; and they became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation. And the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt subtly with them, and brought them low, making them to labour in brick, and made them slaves. And they cried unto their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: and the Egyptians cast them out of their sight. And God dried up the Red sea before them, and brought them into the way of Sinai, and Kadesh-Barnea, and they cast out all that dwelt in the wilderness. And they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Heshbon, and passing over Jordan they possessed all the hill country. And they cast out before them the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Shechemite, and all the Girschites, and they dwelt in that country many days. And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because God that hateth iniquity was 18 with them. But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were 19 taken by their adversaries. And now they are returned to their God, and are come up from the dispersion where they were dispersed, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill

 20 country: for it was desolate. And now, my lord and master, if there is any error in this people, and they sin against their God, we will consider what this thing is wherein they stumble, and we will go up and overcome 21 them. But if there is no lawlessness in their nation, let my lord now pass by, lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we shall be a reproach before all the earth.
 22 And it came to pass, when Achior had finished speaking these words, all the people that compassed the tent and stood round about it murmured; and the great men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea side, and in Moab, spake that he should kill him.
 23 For, said they, we will not be afraid of the children of Israel: for, lo, it is a people that hath no power nor might 24 to make the battle strong. Wherefore now we will go up, and they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thine army, lord Holofernes.
 6 And when the tumult of the men that were about the council was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain of the host of Asshur said unto Achior and to all the children of <sup>1</sup>Moab before all the people of the aliens,
 2 And who art thou, Achior, and the hirelings of <sup>1</sup>Ephraim, that thou hast prophesied among us as to-day, and hast said, that we should not make war with the race of Israel, because their God will defend them? And
 3 who is God but Nebuchadnezzar? He shall send forth his might, and shall destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliver them: but we his servants shall smite them as one man; and they shall not
 4 sustain the might of our horses. For with them we shall burn them up, and their mountains shall be drunken with their blood, and their plains shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not stand before us, but they shall surely perish, saith king Nebuchadnezzar, lord of all the earth: for he said, The words that 2 I have spoken shall not be in vain.
 5 But thou, Achior, hireling of Ammon, which hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, until I shall be avenged of the race of those 6 that came out of Egypt. And thou shalt the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, when I shall return.

 7 And my servants shall bring thee back into the hill country, and shall set thee in one of the cities of the ascents:
 8 and thou shalt not perish, till thou
 9 be destroyed with them. And if thou hopest in thy heart that they shall not be taken, let not thy countenance fall. I have spoken it, and none of my words shall fall to the ground.
 10 And Holofernes commanded his servants, that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him back to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands
 11 of the children of Israel. And his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they removed from the midst of the plain country into the hill country, and came unto the fountains that 12 were under Bethulia. And when the men of the city saw them on the top of the hill, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city against them to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling kept them from coming up, and cast stones against 13 them. And they gat them privily under the hill, and bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and went away unto 14 their lord. But the children of Israel descended from their city, and came upon him, and loosed him, and led him away into Bethulia, and presented 15 him to the rulers of their city; which were in those days Ozias the son of Micah, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothoniel, and 16 Charmis the son of Melchiel. And they called together all the elders of the city; and all their young men ran together, and their women, to the assembly; and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. And Ozias asked him of that which had happened:
 17 and he answered and declared unto them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of the children of Asshur, and all the great words that Holofernes had spoken against the house of Israel.
 18 And the people fell down and worshipped God, and cried, saying, O Lord God of heaven, behold their arrogance, and pity the low estate of our race, and look upon the face of those that are sanctified unto thee this day.
 20 And they comforted Achior, and

21 praised him exceedingly. And Ozias took him out of the assembly into his house, and made a feast to the elders; and they called on the God of Israel for help all that night.

7 But the next day Holofernes gave command to all his army, and to all his people which were come to be his allies, that they should remove their camp toward Bethulia, and take beforehand the ascents of the hill country, and make war against the children of Israel. And every mighty man of them removed that day, and the host of their men of war was a hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, beside the baggage, and the men that were afoot among them, an exceeding great multitude. And they encamped in the valley near unto Bethulia, by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over Dothaim even to Belmains, and in length from Bethulia unto Cyamon, which is over against Esdraelon.

4 But the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were troubled exceedingly, and said every one to his neighbour, Now shall these men lick up the face of all the earth; and neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills, shall be able to bear their weight. And every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But on the second day Holofernes led out all his horse in the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethulia, and viewed the ascents to their city, and searched out the fountains of the waters, and seized upon them, and set garrisons of men of war over them, and himself departed to his people.

8 And there came unto him all the rulers of the children of Esau, and all the leaders of the people of Moab, and the captains of the sea coast, and said, 9 Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in thy host.

10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, for it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains.

11 And now, my lord, fight not against them as men fight who join battle, and there shall not so much as one man of 12 thy people perish. Remain in thy camp, and keep safe every man of thy host, and let thy servants get possession of the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain:

13 because all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; and thirst shall kill them, and they shall give up their city: and we and our people will go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will encamp upon them, to watch that not one man go out of the city. And they shall be consumed with famine, they and their wives and their children, and before the sword come against them they shall be laid low in the streets where they dwell.

15 And thou shalt render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not thy face in peace.

16 And their words were pleasing in the sight of Holofernes and in the sight of all his servants; and he appointed to 17 do as they had spoken. And the army of the children of Ammon removed, and with them five thousand of the children of Asshur, and they encamped in the valley, and seized upon the waters and the fountains of the waters

18 of the children of Israel. And the children of Esau went up with the children of Ammon, and encamped in the hill country over against Dothaim: and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east, over against Ekrebel, which is near unto Chusi, that is upon the brook Mochmur; and the rest of the army of the Assyrians encamped in the plain, and covered all the face of the land; and their tents and baggage were pitched upon it in a great crowd, and they were an exceeding great multitude.

19 And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, for their spirit fainted; for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among 20 them. And all the army of Asshur remained about them, their footmen and their chariots and their horsemen, four and thirty days; and all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants

21 of Bethulia. And the cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day: for they 22 gave them drink by measure. And their young children were out of heart, and the women and the young men fainted for thirst, and they fell down in the streets of the city, and in the passages of the gates, and there was 23 no longer any strength in them. And all the people were gathered together against Ozias, and against the rulers of the city, the young men and the women and the children, and they cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders,

24 God be judge between you and us: because ye have done us great wrong, in that ye have not spoken words of peace 25 with the children of Asshur. And now we have no helper: but God hath sold us into their hands, that we should be laid low before them with thirst and 26 great destruction. And now call them unto you, and deliver up the whole city for a prey to the people of Holofernes, 27 and to all his host. For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them: for we shall be servants, and our souls shall live, and we shall not see the death of our babes before our eyes, and our wives and our children fainting in 28 death. We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our God and the Lord of our fathers, which punisheth us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.

29 And there was great weeping of all with one consent in the midst of the assembly; and they cried unto the 30 Lord God with a loud voice. And Ozias said to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five days, in the which space the Lord our God shall turn his mercy toward us; 31 for he will not forsake us utterly. But if these days pass, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to 32 your words. And he dispersed the people, every man to his own camp;
and they went away unto the walls and towers of their city; and he sent the women and children into their houses: and they were brought very low in the city.

8 And in those days Judith heard thereof, the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elkiah, the son of Ananias, the son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Ahitub, the son of Elihu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of Salamiel, the son of Salasadaï, the son of Israel.
2 And her husband was Manasses, of her tribe and of her family, and he died in 3 the days of barley harvest. For he stood over them that bound sheaves in the field, and the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in his city Bethulia: and they buried him with his fathers in the field which is between Dothaim and Bala-4 mon. And Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months.
5 And she made her a tent upon the roof of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loins; and the garments of 6 her widowhood were upon her. And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts and joyful days of the house 7 of Israel. And she was of a goodly countenance, and exceeding beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and men-servants, and maidservants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon 8 them. And there was none that gave her an evil word; for she feared God exceedingly.

9 And she heard the evil words of the people against the governor, because they fainted for lack of water; and Judith heard all the words that Ozias spake unto them, how he sware to them that he would deliver the city unto the 10 Assyrians after five days. And she sent her maid, that was over all things that she had, to call Ozias and Char-bris and Charmis, the elders of her 11 city. And they came unto her, and she said unto them,

Hear me now, O ye rulers of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your word that ye have spoken before the people this day is not right, and ye have set the oath which ye have pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn 12 to help you. And now who are ye that have tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of 13 men? And now try the Lord Almighty, and ye shall never know any-14 thing. For ye shall not find the depth of the heart of man, and ye shall not perceive the things that he thinketh:
and how shall ye search out God, which hath made all these things, and know his mind, and comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, provoke 15 not the Lord our God to anger. For if he be not minded to help us within these five days, he hath power to defend us in such time as he will, or to destroy us before the face of our 16 enemies. But do not ye pledge the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he should be threatened; neither as the son of man,
that he should be turned by intreaty.
17 Wherefore let us wait for the salvation that cometh from him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our 18 voice, if it please him. For there arose none in our age, neither is there any of us to-day, tribe, or kindred, or family, or city, which worship gods made with hands, as it was in the 19 former days; for the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and fell with a great fall 20 before our enemies. But we know none other god beside him, wherefore
we hope that he will not despise us, 21 nor any of our race. For if we be taken so, all Judæa shall sit upon the ground, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled; and of our blood shall he 22 require the profanation thereof. And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the land, and the desolation of our inheritance, shall he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoever we shall be in bondage;
and we shall be an offence and a reproach before them that take us for 23 a possession. For our bondage shall not be ordered to favour: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonour.

21 And now, brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their soul hangeth upon us, and the sanctuary and the house and the altar rest upon us. Besides all this let us give thanks to the Lord our God, which trieth us, even as he did our fathers also.

22 Remember all the things which he did to Abraham, and all the things in which he trieth Isaac, and all the things which happened to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother. For he hath not tried us in the fire, as he did them, to search out their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us; but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him, to admonish them.

23 And Ozias said to her, All that thou hast spoken hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that shall gainsay thy words. For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thine understanding, because the disposition of thy heart is good. But the people were exceeding thirsty, and compelled us to do as we spake to them, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break.

24 And now pray thou for us, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord shall send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more. And Judith said unto them, Hear me, and I will do a thing, which shall go down to all generations among the children of our race. Ye shall stand at the gate this night, and I will go forth with my maid: and, within the days after which ye said that ye would deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord shall visit Israel by my hand. But ye shall not inquire of mine act: for I will not declare it unto you, till the things be finished that I do. And Ozias and the rulers said unto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies. And they returned from the tent, and went to their stations.

25 And Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed; and the incense of that evening was now being offered at Jerusalem in the house of God, and Judith cried unto the Lord with a loud voice, and said,

26 O Lord God of my father Simeon, into whose hand thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a virgin to defile her, and uncovered the thigh to her shame, and profaned the womb to her reproach; for thou saidst, It shall

3 not be so; and they did so: wherefore thou gavest their rulers to be slain, and their bed, which was ashamed for her that was deceived, to be dyed in blood, and smothered the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones; and gavest their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among thy dear children; which were moved with zeal for thee, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon thee for aid: O God, O my God, hear me also that am a widow. For thou wroughtest the things that were before those things, and those things, and such as ensued after; and thou didst devise the things which are now, and the things which are to come: and the things which thou didst devise came to pass; yea, the things which thou didst determine stood before thee, and said, Lo, we are here: for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgement is with foreknowledge. For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power; they are exalted with horse and rider; they have gloried in the strength of their footmen; they have trusted in shield and spear and bow and sling; and they know not that thou art the Lord that breaketh the battles: the Lord is thy name.

4 Dash thou down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath: for they have purposed to profane thy sanctuary, and to defile the tabernacle where thy glorious name resteth, and to cast down with the sword the horn of thine altar. Look upon their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into my hand, which am a widow, the might that I have conceived. Smite by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with his servant: break down their stateliness by the hand of a woman. For thy power standeth not in multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou art a God of the afflicted, thou art a helper of the oppressed, an upholder of the weak, a protector of the forlorn, a saviour of them that are without hope. Yea, yea, God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and of the earth, Creator of the waters, King of every creature, hear thou my prayer: and make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, who have purposed hard things against thy covenant, and thy hallowed house, and the top of Sion, and the house of the possession of thy children. And make every nation and tribe of thine to know that thou art God, the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the race of Israel but thou.

10 And it came to pass, when she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words, 2 that she rose up where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, in the which she was wont to abide on the sabbath days 3 and on her feast days, and pulled off the sackcloth which she had put on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed herself with rich ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put a tire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, where-with she was wont to be clad in the days of the life of Manasses her husband. 4 And she took sandals for her feet, and put her chains about her, and her bracelets, and her rings, and her earrings, and all her ornaments, and decked herself bravely, to beguile the eyes of all men that should see her. 5 And she gave her maid a leathern bottle of wine, and a cruse of oil, and filled a bag with parched corn and lumps of figs and <sup>1</sup> fine bread; and she packed all her vessels together, and laid them upon her. 6 And they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing thereby Ozias, and the elders of the 7 city, Chabris and Charmis. But when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beauty very exceedingly, and said unto her, 8 The God of our fathers give thee favour, and accomplish thy purposes to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem. And 9 she worshipped God, and said unto them, Command that they open unto me the gate of the city, and I will go forth to accomplish the things where-of ye spake with me. And they commanded the young men to open unto 10 her, as she had spoken: and they did so.

And Judith went out, she, and her handmaid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, until she had passed the valley, and they could 11 see her no more. And they went straight onward in the valley; and the 12 watch of the Assyrians met her; and they took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a daughter of the Hebrews, and I flee away from their presence; because they are about to 13 be given you to be consumed: and I am coming into the presence of Holofernes the chief captain of your host, to declare words of truth; and I will shew before him a way, whereby he shall go, and win all the hill country, and there shall not be lacking of his 14 men one person, nor one life. Now when the men heard her words, and considered her countenance, the beauty thereof was exceeding marvellous in their eyes, and they said unto her, 15 Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hastened to come down to the presence of our lord: and now come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they shall deliver thee into 16 his hands. But <sup>2</sup> when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart, but declare unto him according to thy words; and he shall entreat 17 thee well. And they chose out of them a hundred men, and appointed them to accompany her and her maid; and they brought them to the tent of Holofernes.

18 And there was a concourse throughout all the camp, for her coming was noised among the tents; and they came and compassed her about, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, 19 until they told him of her. And they marvelled at her beauty, and marvelled at the children of Israel because of her, and each one said to his neighbour, Who shall despise this people, that have among them such women? for it is not good that one man of them be left, seeing that, if they are let go, they shall be able to deceive the whole 20 earth. And they that lay near Holofernes, and all his servants, went forth 21 and brought her into the tent. And Holofernes was resting upon his bed under the canopy, which was woven with purple and gold and emeralds and 22 precious stones. And they told him of her; and he came forth into the space before his tent, with silver lamps going before him. But when Judith was come before him and his servants, they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants raised her up.

11 And Holofernes said unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thy heart: for I never hurt any that hath chosen to serve Nebuchadnezzar, 2 the king of all the earth. And now, if thy people that dwelleth in the hill country had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done 3 these things to themselves. And now tell me wherefore thou didst flee from them, and camest unto us: for thou art come to save thyself; be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and 4 hereafter: for there is none that shall wrong thee, but all shall entreat thee well, as is done unto the servants of 5 king Nebuchadnezzar my lord. And Judith said unto him,

Receive the words of thy servant, and let thy handmaid speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie unto my lord 6 this night. And if thou shalt follow the words of thy handmaid, God shall bring the thing to pass perfectly with thee; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes. As Nebuchadnezzar king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the preservation of every living thing, not only do men serve him by thee, but also the beasts of the field and the cattle and the birds of the heaven shall live through thy strength, in the time of Nebuchadnezzar and of all his house. 8 For we have heard of thy wisdom and the subtil devices of thy soul, and it hath been reported in all the earth, that thou only art brave in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, 9 and wonderful in feats of war. And now as concerning the matter, which Achior did speak in thy council, we have heard his words: for the men of Bethulia saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken 10 before thee. Wherefore, O lord and master, neglect not his word; but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true; for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, 11 except they sin against thy God. And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, and that death may fall upon them, their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they shall provoke their God to anger, whensoever they shall do wickedness. 12 Since their victuals failed them, and all their water was scant, they took counsel to lay hands upon their cattle, and determined to consume all those things, which God charged them by his laws 13 that they should not eat: and they are resolved to spend the firstfruits of the corn, and the tenths of the wine and the oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that stand before the face of our God in Jerusalem; the which things it is not fitting for any of the people so much as to touch 14 with their hands. And they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done this thing, to bring them a licence from the 15 senate. And it shall be, when one shall bring them word, and they shall do it, they shall be given thee to be destroyed the same day. Wherefore I thy servant, knowing all this, fled away from their presence; and God sent me to work things with thee, wherewith all the earth shall be astonished, even as 17 many as shall hear it. For thy servant is religious, and scrveth the God of heaven day and night: and now, my lord, I will abide with thee, and thy servant will go forth by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he shall tell me when they have committed their sins: and I will come and shew it also unto thee; and thou shalt go forth with all thy host, and there shall be none of them that shall resist 19 thee. And I will lead thee through the midst of Judæa, until thou comest over against Jerusalem; and I will set thy seat in the midst thereof; and thou shalt drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as open his mouth before thee: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and were declared unto me, and I was sent to tell thee.

20 And her words were pleasing in the sight of Holofernes and of all his servants; and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said, There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, for beauty of face, and wisdom 22 of words. And Holofernes said unto her, God did well to send thee before the people, that might should be in our hands, and destruction among them 23 that lightly regarded my lord. And now thou art beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: for if thou shalt do as thou hast spoken, thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of king Nebuchadnezzar, and shall be renowned through the whole earth.

12 And he commanded to bring her in where his silver vessels were set, and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should 2 drink of his own wine. And Judith said, I will not eat thereof, lest there be an occasion of stumbling: but provision shall be made for me of the 3 things that are come with me. And Holofernes said unto her, But if the things that be with thee should fail, whence shall we be able to give thee the like? for there is none of thy race 4 with us. And Judith said unto him, As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy servant shall not spend those things that be with me, until the Lord work by my hand the things that he hath determined. And the servants of Holofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she rose up 6 toward the morning watch, and sent to Holofernes, saying, Let my lord now command that they suffer thy servant 7 to go forth unto prayer. And Holofernes commanded his guards that they should not stay her: and she abode in the camp three days, and went out every night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed herself at the fountain of 8 water in the camp. And when she came up, she besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way to the raising 9 up of the children of his people. And she came in clean, and remained in

- the tent, until she took her meat toward evening.
- 10 And it came to pass on the fourth day, Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet. And he said to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us. For, lo, it is a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not unto us, she shall laugh us to scorn. And Bagoas went from the presence of Holofernes, and came in to her, and said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and to drink wine and be merry with us, and to be made this day as one of the daughters of the children of Asshur, which wait in the house of Nebuchadnezzar. And Judith said unto him, And who am I, that I should gainsay my lord? for whatsoever shall be pleasing in his eyes I will do speedily, and this shall be my joy unto the day of my death. And she arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her woman's attire; and her servant went and laid fleeces on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them. And Judith came in and sat down, and Holofernes' heart was ravished with her, and his soul was moved, and he desired exceedingly her company: and he was watching for a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her.
- 17 And Holofernes said unto her, Drink now, and be merry with us. And Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. And she took and ate and drank before him what her servant had prepared. And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank exceeding much wine, more than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.
- 13 But when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut the tent without, and dismissed them that waited from the presence of his lord; and they went away to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long. But Judith was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed: for he was overflowed with wine. And Judith had said to her servant that she should stand without her bedchamber, and wait for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth to her prayer; and she spake to Bagoas according to the same words.
- 4 And all went away from her presence, and none was left in the bedchamber, neither small nor great. And Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, look in this hour upon the works of my hands for the exaltation of Jerusalem. For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to do the thing that I have purposed to the destruction of the enemies which are risen up against us. And she came to the rail of the bed, which was at Holofernes' head, and took down his scimitar from thence; and she drew near unto the bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day.
- 8 And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and took away his head from him, and tumbled his body down from the bed, and took down the canopy from the pillars; and after a little while she went forth, and gave Holofernes' head to her maid; and she put it in her bag of victuals: and they twain went forth together unto prayer, according to their custom: and they passed through the camp, and compassed that valley, and went up to the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.
- 11 And Judith said afar off to the watchmen at the gates, Open, open now the gate: God is with us, even our God, to shew his power yet in Israel, and his might against the enemy, as he hath done even this day. And it came to pass, when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called together the elders of the city. And they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: and they opened the gate, and received them, making a fire to give light, and compassed them round about. And she said to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise him: praise God, who hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hand this night. And she took forth the head out of the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, Behold, the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, and behold, the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord smote him by the hand of a woman.
- 16 And as the Lord liveth, who preserved me in my way that I went, my countenance deceived him to his destruction, and he did not commit sin with me, to defile and shame me. And all the people were exceedingly amazed, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed art thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of 18 thy people. And Ozias said unto her, Blessed art thou, daughter, in the sight of the Most High God, above all the women upon the earth; and blessed is the Lord God, who created the heavens and the earth, who directed thee to the smiting of the head of the prince of our 19 enemies. For thy hopes shall not depart from the heart of men that remember the strength of God for ever. And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee with good things, because thou didst not spare thy life by reason of the affliction of our race, but didst avenge our fall, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

14 And Judith said unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it upon the battlement
2 of your wall. And it shall be, so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, ye shall take up every one his weapons of war, and go forth every valiant man of you out of the city, and ye shall set a captain over them, as though ye would go down to the plain toward the watch of the children of Asshur; and
3 ye shall not go down. And these shall take up their panoplies, and shall go into their camp, and rouse up the captains of the host of Asshur, and they shall run together to the tent of Holofernes, and they shall not find him: and fear shall fall upon them, and 4 they shall flee before your face. And ye, and all that inhabit every coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and over-
5 throw them as they go. But before ye do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us, as it were to death.
6 And they called Achior out of the house of Ozias; but when he came, and saw the head of Holofernes in a man's hand in the assembly of the people, he fell upon his face, and his spirit
7 failed. But when <sup>1</sup>they had recovered him, he fell at Judith's feet, and did reverence unto her, and said, Blessed art thou in every tent of Judah, and in every nation, which hearing thy name 8 shall be troubled. And now tell me all the things that thou hast done in these days. And Judith declared unto him in the midst of the people all the things that she had done, from the day that she went forth until the time
9 that she spake unto them. But when she left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful
10 noise in their city. But when Achior saw all the things that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God exceedingly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joined unto the house of Israel, unto this day.

11 But as soon as the morning arose, they lauged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took up his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the ascents of the mountain.
12 But when the children of Asshur saw them, they sent hither and thither to their leaders; but they went to their captains and tribunes, and to every 13 one of their rulers. And they came to Holofernes' tent, and said to him that was over all that he had, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, that 14 they may be utterly destroyed. And Bagoas went in, and knocked at the outer door of the tent; for he supposed that he was sleeping with Judith.
15 But when none hearkened to him, he opened it, and went into the bed-chamber, and found him cast upon the threshold dead, and his head had been 16 taken from him. And he cried with a loud voice, with weeping and groaning and a mighty cry, and rent his garments. And he entered into the tent where Judith lodged: and he found her not, and he leaped out to the people, 18 and cried aloud, The slaves have dealt treacherously: one woman of the Hebrews hath brought shame upon the house of king Nebuchadnezzar; for, behold, Holofernes lieth upon the ground, and his head is not on him.
19 But when the rulers of the host of Asshur heard the words, they rent their coats, and their soul was troubled exceedingly, and there was a cry and an exceeding great noise in the midst of the camp.
15 And when they that were in the tents heard, they were amazed at the
2 thing that was come to pass. And trembling and fear fell upon them, and no man durst abide any more in the sight of his neighbour, but rushing out with one accord, they fled into every way of the plain and of the hill country.
3 And they that had encamped in the hill country round about Bethulia fled away. And then the children of Israel, every one that was a warrior among 4 them, rushed out upon them. And Ozias sent to Betomasthaim, and Ecbai, and Chobai, and Chola, and to every coast of Israel, such as should tell concerning the things that had been accomplished, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy 5 them. But when the children of Israel heard, they all fell upon them with one accord, and smote them unto Chobai: yea, and in like manner also they of Jerusalem and of all the hill country came (for men had told them what things were come to pass in the camp of their enemies), and they that were in Gilead and in Galilee fell upon their flank with a great slaughter, until they were past Damascus and the borders thereof. But the residue, that dwelt at Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Asshur, and spoiled them, and were enriched exceedingly. But the children of Israel returned from the slaughter, and gat possession of that which remained; and the villages and the cities, that were in the hill country and in the plain country, took many spoils: for there was an exceeding great store.

8 And Joakim the high priest, and the senate of the children of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to behold the good things which the Lord had shewed to Israel, and to see Judith, and to salute her. But when they came unto her, they all blessed her with one accord, and said unto her, Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel, thou art the great rejoicing of our race: thou hast done all these things by thy hand: thou hast done with Israel the things that are good, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou with the Almighty Lord for evermore. And all the people

11 said, So be it. And the people spoiled the camp for the space of thirty days: and they gave unto Judith Holofernes' tent, and all his silver cups, and his beds, and his vessels, and all his furniture: and she took them, and placed them on her mule, and made ready her wagons, and heaped them thereon.

12 And all the women of Israel ran together to see her; and they blessed her, and made a dance among them for her; and she took branches in her hand, and gave to the women that were with her. And they made themselves garlands of olive, she and they that were with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with garlands, and with songs in their mouths. And Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang with loud voices this song of praise.

2 And Judith said,

Begin unto my God with timbrels,
Sing unto my Lord with cymbals:
Tune unto him psalm and praise:
Exalt him, and call upon his name.

3 For the Lord is the God that breaketh the battles:

For in his armies in the midst of the people
He delivered me out of the hand of them that persecuted me.

4 Asshur came out of the mountains from the north,

He came with ten thousands of his host,
The multitude whereof stopped the torrents,

And their horsemen covered the hills.

5 He said that he would burn up my borders,

And kill my young men with the sword,

And throw my sucking children to the ground,

And give mine infants for a prey,
And make my virgins a spoil.

6 The Almighty Lord brought them to nought by the hand of a woman.

7 For their mighty one did not fall by young men,

Neither did sons of the Titans smite him,

Nor did high giants set upon him:
But Judith the daughter of Merari made him weak with the beauty of her countenance.

8 For she put off the apparel of her widowhood

For the exaltation of those that were distressed in Israel,

She anointed her face with ointment,

And bound her hair in a tire,
And took a linen garment to deceive him.

9 Her sandal ravished his eye,
And her beauty took his soul prisoner:

The scimitar passed through his neck.

10 The Persians quaked at her daring,
And the Medes were daunted at her boldness.

11 Then my lowly ones shouted aloud,
And my weak ones were terrified and crouched for fear:

They lifted up their voice, and they were turned to flight.

12 The sons of damsels pierced them through,
And wounded them as runagates' children;

They perished by the battle of my Lord.

13 I will sing unto my God a new song:
O Lord, thou art great and glorious,
Marvellous in strength, invincible.

14 Let all thy creation serve thee:
For thou spakest, and they were made,

Thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it builded them,
And there is none that shall resist thy voice.

15 For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters,
And the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence:

But thou art yet merciful to them that fear thee.

16 For all sacrifice is little for a sweet savour,
And all the fat is very little for a whole burnt offering to thee:

But he that feareth the Lord is great continually.

17 Woe to the nations that rise up against my race:
The Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgement,
To put fire and worms in their flesh;
And they shall weep and feel their pain for ever.

18 Now when they came to Jerusalem, they worshipped God; and when the people were purified, they offered their whole burnt offerings, and their free-will offerings, and their gifts. And Judith dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken for herself out of his bedchamber, for a gift unto the Lord. And the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for the space of three months, and Judith remained with them. But after these days every one departed to his own inheritance, and Judith went away to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was honourable in her time in all the land. And many desired her, and no man knew her all the days of her life, from the day that Manasses her husband died and was gathered to his people. And she increased in greatness exceedingly; and she waxed old in her husband's house, unto a hundred and five years, and let her maid go free; and she died in Bethulia; and they buried her in the cave of her husband Manasses. And the house of Israel mourned for her seven days; and she distributed her goods before she died to all them that were nearest of kin to Manasses her husband, and to them that were nearest of her own kindred. And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the days of Judith, nor a long time after her death.

PART OF THE TENTH CHAPTER AFTER THE GREEK.

10 Then Mardocheus said, These things are of God. For I remember the dream<sup>1</sup> which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed. As for the little fountain that became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water, the river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen: and the two dragons are I and Aman: and the nations are those that were assembled to destroy the name of the Jews: and my nation, this is Israel, which cried to God, and were saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all these evils, and God hath wrought signs and great wonders, which have not been done among the 10 nations. Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and 11 another for all the nations. And these two lots came at the hour, and time, and day of judgement, before God 12 among all the nations. So God remembered his people, and justified 13 his inheritance. Therefore these days shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before God, throughout the generations for ever among his people Israel.

11 In the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemy and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemy his son, brought the epistle of Phrurai here set forth, which they said was the same, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemy, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.

2<sup>2</sup> In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great, in the first day of the month Nisan, Mardocheus the son of Jairus, the son of Semeias, the son of Kiseus, of the tribe of Benjamin, had a dream; who was a Jew, and dwelt in the city of Susa, a great man, being a servitor in the 4 king's court; and he was of the captivity, which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon carried from Jerusalem with Jechonias king of Judaea; and 5 this was his dream: Behold, <sup>8</sup> noise and tumult, thunderings and earthquake, and uproar upon the earth,<sup>1</sup> 6 and, behold, two great dragons came forth, both of them ready to fight,<sup>2</sup> 7 and their cry was great. And at th<sup>is</sup> cry all nations were ready to bat<sup>tle</sup> cent that they might fight against<sup>3</sup> 8 righteous nation. And, lo, a d<sup>ay</sup> with darkness and gloominess, tribu<sup>tion</sup><sup>4</sup>

 and anguish, affliction and great uproar 9 upon the earth. And the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing<sup>5</sup> the evils that should befall them, and were 10 ready to perish. Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, there came a 11 great river, even much water. The light and the sun rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glori-12 ous. Now when Mardocheus, who had seen this dream, and what God had determined to do, was awake, he bare it in mind, and until night by all 12 means was desirous to know it. And Mardocheus took his rest in the court with Gabatha and Tharra, the two eunuchs of the king, that were keepers 2 of the court. And he heard their communings, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king; and he certified the king of 3 them. Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were led to execu-4 tion. And the king wrote these things for a memorial; Mardocheus also wrote 5 concerning these things. So the king commanded Mardocheus to serve in the court, and for this he gave him 6 gifts. Howbeit Aman the son of Amadathus, a Bugean, who was in great honour with the king, sought to molest Mardocheus and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king.
 13 <sup>2</sup> Now this is the copy of the letter:
 The great king Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes of a hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and to the governors that are set under 2 them. After that I became lord over many nations, and had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying myself always with equity and mildness.
 I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost coasts, to renew peace, which is desired of all men.
 3 Now when I asked my counsellors how this might be brought to pass, Aman, that excelled in wisdom among us,
 and was approved for his constant good will and stedfast fidelity, and had the honour of the second place 4 in the kingdom, declared unto us, that in all nations throughout the world
 there was scattered a certain malignant

15 Macedonians. But we find that the Jews, whom this most ungracious wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evil-doers, but live 16 by most just laws: and that they be children of the most high and most mighty living God, who hath ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our <sup>1</sup> ancestors in a most excellent manner, and a life which shall do well not laws, and evil affecte letters sent un-working all the mischief of Amadathus.
 our kingdom may not vorker of these 6 lished: therefore have gates of Susa that they that are signi<sup>al</sup>, who ruleth unto you by Aman, whiling venge-over the affairs, and is a o his deserts.
 unto us, shall all, with<sup>in</sup> openly the
 and children, be utterly l places, and the sword of their en<sup>emy</sup> own laws, all mercy and pity, the fo<sup>ll</sup>at even the
 of the twelfth month eenth day of 7 present year: that they<sup>re</sup>, they ma<sup>y</sup> and now also are malicious, those vne day with violence go down to <sup>the</sup> grave, and so ever hereafter cause our affairs
 to be well settled, and without trouble.
 8 <sup>4</sup> Then Mardocheus made his prayer unto the Lord, calling to remembrance 9 all the works of the Lord, and said,
 O Lord, Lord, thou King Almighty:
 for the whole world is in thy power,
 and if it be thy will to save Israel,
 there is no man that can gainst thee:
 10 for thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things that are 11 beneath the heaven: and thou art Lord of all, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord.
 12 Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that I did not bow down to 13 proud Aman. For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel to kiss the soles of his 14 feet. But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God; neither will I bow down unto any but to thee, which art
 my Lord, neither will I do it in pride.
 15 And now, O Lord, thou God and King,
 the God of Abraham, spare thy people:
 for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought, and they desire to destroy the heritage, that hath been thine from 16 the beginning. Despise not thy portion, which thou didst redeem out of the land of Egypt for thine own self.
 17 Hear my prayer, and be merciful unto thine inheritance: and turn our mourning into feasting, that we may live, O
 Lord, and sing praises to thy name:
 and destroy not the mouth of them that praise thee, O Lord.
 18 And all Israel cried out mightily, because their death was before their eyes.
 14 <sup>3</sup> Queen Esther also, being seized as it

lifelnd upon the third day, when she huld ended her prayer, she laid away her garments of service, and put on her 2 glorious apparel. And being majestically adorned, after she had called upon the all-seeing God and saviour,

3 she took her two maids with her: and upon the one she leaned, as carrying 4 herself delicately; and the other fol- 5 lowed, bearing up her train. And she was ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerful and right amiable: but her 6 heart was in anguish for fear. Then having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king, who sat upon his royal throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones; and 7 he was very dreadful. Then lifting up his countenance that was flushed with glory, he looked upon her in fierce anger: and the queen fell down, and turned pale, and fainted, and she bowed herself upon the head of the 8 maid that went before. Then God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who in an agony leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with soothing words,

9 and said unto her, Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good 10 cheer: thou shalt not die, for 2 our commandment is for our subjects: 11 come near. So he held up his golden 12 sceptre, and laid it upon her neck, and embraced her, and said, Speak unto 13 me. Then said she unto him, I saw thee, my lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy 14 glory. For wonderful art thou, my lord, and thy countenance is full of 15 grace. And as she was speaking, she 16 fell down for faintness. Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her.<sup>3</sup> escape the evil-hating justice of God, 5 who alway seeth all things. Oftentimes also fair speech of those that are put in trust to manage their friends' affairs, hath caused many that are in authority to be partakers of innocent blood, and hath unwrapped them in 6 remediless calamities: beguiling with the false deceit of their lewd disposition the innocent good will of princes.

 7 Now ye may see this, as we have declared, not so much by more ancient histories, as ye may, if ye search what hath been wickedly done of late through the pestilent behaviour of them that are 8 unworthily placed in authority. And we must take care for the time to come, to render our kingdom quiet and 9 peaceable for all men, both by changing our purposes, and always judging things that come before our eyes with 10 more equal proceeding. For Aman, a Macedonian, the son of Amadathus, an alien in truth from the Persian blood, and far distant from our goodness, being as a guest received of us, 11 had so far forth obtained the favour that we shew toward every nation, as that he was called our father, and was continually honoured of all men, as the next person unto the royal throne.
 12 But he, not bearing his high estate, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and our life; having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction, as well of Mardocheus, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of Esther the blameless partaker of our kingdom,
 14 together with their whole nation. For by these means he thought, finding us destitute of friends, to have translated the kingdom of the Persians to the 15 Macedonians. But we find that the Jews, whom this most ungracious wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evil-doers, but live

 16 by most just laws: and that they be children of the most high and most mighty living God, who hath ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner. Wherefore ye shall do well not to put in execution the letters sent unto you by Aman the son of Amadathus.
 18 For he, that was the worker of these things, is hanged at the gates of Susa with all his family: God, who ruleth all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts.
 19 Therefore ye shall publish openly the copy of this letter in all places, and let the Jews live after their own laws, 20 and ye shall aid them, that even the same day, being the thirteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may defend themselves against those who set upon them in the time of their 21 affliction. For Almighty God hath made this day to be a joy unto them, instead of the destruction of the 22 chosen people. And ye shall therefore among your commemorative feasts keep it a high day with all feasting:
 23 that both now and hereafter there may be safety to us, and the well affected Persians; but to those which do conspire against us a memorial of destruction. Therefore every city or country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be utterly destroyed without mercy with <sup>1</sup>fire and sword; it shall be made not only unpassable for men, but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls forever.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

1 LOVE righteousness, ye that be judges of the earth,
 Think ye of the Lord <sup>1</sup>with a good mind,
 And in singleness of heart seek ye him;
 2 Because he is found of them that tempt him not,
 And is manifested to them that do not distrust him.
 3 For crooked thoughts separate from God;
 And the supreme Power, when it is brought to the proof, <sup>2</sup>putteth to confusion the foolish:

 4 Because wisdom will not enter into a soul that deviseth evil,
 Nor dwell in a body that is held in pledge by sin.
 5 For a holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit.
 And will start away from thoughts that are without understanding,
 And will be <sup>3</sup>put to confusion when unrighteousness hath come in.

And she will not hold a <sup>1</sup>blasphemer
guiltless for his lips;
Because God beareth witness of his reins,
And is a true overseer of his heart,
And a hearer of his tongue:

7 Because the spirit of the Lord hath filled <sup>2</sup>the world,
And that which holdeth all things together hath knowledge of every voice.

8 Therefore no man that uttereth unrighteous things shall be unseen; <sup>3</sup>Neither shall Justice, when it convicteth, pass him by.

9 For in the midst of his counsels the ungodly shall be searched out;
And the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord
To bring to conviction his lawless deeds:

10 Because there is an ear of jealousy
that listeneth to all things,
And the noise of murmurings is not hid.

11 Beware then of unprofitable murmuring,
And refrain your tongue from back-biting;
Because no secret utterance shall go
on its way void,
And a mouth that beliieth destroyeth a soul.

12 Court not death in the error of your life;
Neither draw upon yourselves destruction by the works of your hands:

13 Because God made not death;
Neither delighteth he when the living perish:

14 For he created all things that they might have being:
And <sup>4</sup>the generative powers of the world are healthsome,
And there is no poison of destruction
in them:

Nor hath Hades <sup>5</sup>royal dominion upon earth,

15 For righteousness is immortal: 16 But ungodly men by their hands and their words called <sup>6</sup>death unto them:
Deeming him a friend they <sup>7</sup>consumed
away,

And they made a covenant with him, Because they are worthy to be of his portion.

2 For they said <sup>8</sup>within themselves,
reasoning not aright,
Short and sorrowful is our life;
And there is no healing when a man
cometh to his end,
And none was ever known that <sup>9</sup>gave release from Hades.

2 Because by mere chance were we born,
And hereafter we shall be as though we had never been:
Because the breath in our nostrils is smoke,
And <sup>10</sup>while our heart beateth reason is a spark,

3 Which being extinguished, the body
shall be turned into ashes,
And the spirit shall be dispersed as thin air;

4 And our name shall be forgotten in time,
And no man shall remember our works;
And our life shall pass away as the traces of a cloud,
And shall be scattered as is a mist,
When it is chased by the beams of the sun,
And <sup>11</sup>overcome by the heat thereof.

5 For our allotted time is the passing of a shadow,
And <sup>12</sup>our end retreateth not;
Because it is fast sealed, and none
<sup>13</sup>turneth it back.

6 Come therefore and let us enjoy the good things <sup>14</sup>that now are;
And let us use the creation <sup>15</sup>with all our soul <sup>16</sup>as youth's possession.

7 Let us fill ourselves with costly wine and perfumes;
And let no flower of <sup>17</sup>spring pass us
by:

8 Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds,
before they be withered:

9 Let none of us go without his share in our proud revelry:
Everywhere let us leave tokens of our mirth:

Because this is our portion, and our lot is this.

10 Let us oppress the righteous poor;
Let us not spare the widow,
Nor reverence the hairs of the old man
gray for length of years.

11 But let our strength be to us a law of righteousness;
For that which is weak is <sup>18</sup>found to be of no service.

12 But let us lie in wait for the righteous man,

Because he is of disservice to us,
And is contrary to our works,
And upbraideth us with sins against <sup>19</sup>the law,

And layeth to our charge sins against our discipline.

13 He professeth to have knowledge of God,
And nameth himself <sup>20</sup>servant of the Lord.

14 He became to us a reproof of our thoughts.

15 He is grievous unto us even to behold,
Because his life is unlike other men's,
And his paths are of strange fashion.

16 We were accounted of him as base metal,
And he abstaineth from our ways as from uncleannesses.

The latter end of the righteous he calleteth happy;

And he vaunteth that God is his father.

17 Let us see if his words be true,
And let us try what shall befall in the ending of his life.

18 For if the righteous man is God's son,
he will uphold him,
And he will deliver him out of the hand of his adversaries.

19 With outrage and torture let us put him to the test,
That we may learn his gentleness,
And may prove his patience under wrong.

20 Let us condemn him to a shameful
death;
For <sup>1</sup>he shall be visited according to his words.

21 Thus reasoned they, and they were led astray;
For their <sup>2</sup>wickedness blinded them,

22 And they knew not the mysteries of God,
Neither hoped they for wages of holiness,
Nor did they judge that there is a prize for blameless souls.

23 Because God created man for incor-ruption,
And made him an image of his own <sup>3</sup>proper being;

24 But by the envy of the devil death
entered into the world,
And they that are of his portion make trial thereof.

3 But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God,
And no torment shall touch them.

2 In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died;
And their departure was accounted to be their hurt,

3 And their journeying away from us
to be their ruin;
But they are in peace.

4 For even if in the sight of men they be punished,
Their hope is full of immortality;

5 And having borne a little chastening,
they shall receive great good;
Because God made trial of them, and found them worthy of himself.

6 As gold in the furnace he proved them,
And as a whole burnt offering he accepted them.

7 And in the time of their visitation they shall shine forth,
And as sparks among stubble they shall run to and fro.

8 They shall judge nations, and have dominion over peoples;
And the Lord shall reign over them
for evermore.

9 They that trust on him shall understand truth,
And <sup>4</sup>the faithful shall abide with him
in love;
Because grace and mercy are to his chosen.

10 But the ungodly shall be requited even as they reasoned,

They which lightly regarded <sup>5</sup>the righteous man, and revolted from
the Lord;

11 (For he that setteth at nought wisdom and discipline is miserable;)
And void is their hope and their toils unprofitable,
And useless are their works:

12 Their wives are foolish, and wicked
are their children;

13 Accused is their begetting.
Because happy is the barren that is undefiled,
She who hath not conceived in transgression;
She shall have fruit when God visiteth souls.

14 And happy is the eunuch which hath wrought no lawless deed with his hands,
Nor imagined wicked things against
the Lord;
For there shall be given him for his faithfulness <sup>6</sup>a peculiar favour,
And a lot in the sanctuary of the Lord more delightful than wife or children.

15 For good labours have fruit of great renown;
And the root of understanding cannot fail.

16 But children of adulterers shall not come to maturity,
And the seed of an unlawful bed shall vanish away.

17 For if they live long, they shall be held in no account,
And at the last their old age shall be without honour.

18 And if they die quickly, they <sup>7</sup>shall have no hope,
Nor in the day of decision shall they have consolation.

19 For <sup>8</sup>the end of an unrighteous generation is always grievous.

4 Better than this is childlessness with virtue;
For in the memory <sup>9</sup>of virtue is immortality:
Because it is recognised both before
God and before men.

2 When it is present, men imitate it;
And they long after it when it is departed:
And <sup>10</sup>throughout all time it marcheth
crowned in triumph, Victorious in the strife for the prizes that are undefiled.

3 But the multiplying brood of the un-godly shall be of no profit,
And <sup>11</sup>with bastard <sup>12</sup>slips they shall not strike deep root,
Nor shall they establish a sure hold.

4 For even if these <sup>13</sup>put forth boughs and flourish for a season, Yet, standing unsure, they shall be shaken by the wind,
And by the violence of winds they shall be rooted out.

5 Their branches shall be broken off before they come to maturity, And their fruit shall be useless, Never ripe to eat, and fit for nothing.

6 For children unlawfully begotten are witnesses of wickedness Against parents when God searcheth them out.

7 But a righteous man, though he die before his time, shall be at rest.

8 (For honourable old age is not that which standeth in length of time, Nor is its measure given by number of years:

9 But understanding is gray hairs unto men, And an unspotted life is ripe old age.)

10 Being found well-pleasing unto God he was beloved of him, And while living among sinners he was translated:

11 He was caught away, lest <sup>1</sup>wickedness should change his understanding, Or guile deceive his soul.

12 (For the bewitching of naughtiness be-dimmeth the things which are good, And the giddy whirl of desire perverteth an innocent mind.)

13 Being made perfect in a little while, he fulfilled long <sup>2</sup>years;

14 For his soul was pleasing unto the Lord: Therefore <sup>3</sup>hasted he out of the midst of wickedness.

15 But as for the peoples, seeing and understanding not, Neither laying <sup>4</sup>this to heart, That grace and mercy are with his chosen, And that <sup>5</sup>he visiteth his holy ones:—

16 But a righteous man that is dead shall condemn the ungodly that are living, And youth that is quickly perfected the many years of an unrighteous man's old age;

17 For the ungodly shall see a wise man's end, And shall not understand what the Lord purposed concerning him, And for what he safely kept him:—

18 They shall see, and they shall despise; But them the Lord shall laugh to scorn. And after this they shall become a dishonoured carcase, And <sup>6</sup>a reproach among the dead for ever;

19 Because he shall dash them speechless to the ground, And shall shake them from the foundations, And they shall <sup>7</sup>lie utterly waste, and they shall be in anguish, And their memory shall perish.

20 They shall come, <sup>8</sup>when their sins are reckoned up, with coward fear; And their lawless deeds shall convict them to their face.

5 Then shall the righteous man stand in great boldness Before the face of them that afflicted him, And them that make his labours of no account.

2 When they see <sup>9</sup>it, they shall be troubled with terrible fear, And shall be amazed at the marvel of God's salvation.

3 They shall say <sup>10</sup>within themselves repenting, And for distress of spirit shall they groan, This was he whom aforesaid we had in derision, And made a parable of <sup>11</sup>reproach:

4 We fools accounted his life madness, And his end without honour:

5 How was he numbered among sons of God? And how is his lot among saints?

6 Verily we went astray from the way of truth, And the light of righteousness shined not for us, And the sun rose not for us.

7 We <sup>12</sup>took our fill of the paths of lawlessness and destruction, And we journeyed through trackless deserts, But the way of the Lord we knew not.

8 What did our arrogancy profit us? And what good have riches <sup>13</sup>and vaunting brought us?

9 Those things all passed away as a shadow, And as a message that runneth by:

10 As a ship passing through the billowy water, Whereof, when it is gone by, there is no trace to be found, Neither pathway of its keel in the billows:

11 Or as when a bird flieth through the air, No token of her passage is found, But the light wind, lashed with the stroke of her pinions, And rent asunder <sup>14</sup>with the violent rush of the moving wings, is passed through, And afterwards no sign of her coming is found therein:

12 Or as when an arrow is shot at a mark, The bow parted closeth up again immediately, So that men know not where it passed through:

13 So we also, as soon as we were born, <sup>15</sup>ceased to be; And of virtue we had no sign to shew, But in our wickedness we were utterly consumed.

14 Because the hope of the ungodly man is as chaff carried by the wind, And <sup>16</sup>as <sup>17</sup>foam vanishing before a tempest;

And is scattered as smoke is scattered

And passeth by as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.

15 But the righteous live for ever,
And in the Lord is their reward,
And the care for them with the Most High.

16 Therefore shall they receive the crown of royal dignity
And the diadem of beauty from the Lord's hand;
Because with his right hand shall he cover them,
And with his arm shall he shield them.

17 He shall take his jealousy as complete armour,
And shall make the whole creation his weapons <sup>1</sup>for vengeance on his enemies:

18 He shall put on righteousness as a breastplate,
And shall array himself with judgement unfeigned as with a helmet;

19 He shall take holiness as an invincible shield,

20 And he shall sharpen stern wrath for a sword:

And the world shall go forth with him to fight against his insensate foes.

21 Shafts of lightning shall fly with true aim,
And from the clouds, as from a well drawn bow, shall they leap to the mark.

22 And as from an engine of war shall be hurled hailstones full of wrath;
The water of the sea shall be angered against them,
And rivers shall sternly overwhelm
them;

23 A mighty blast shall encounter them,
And as a tempest shall it winnow them
away:
And so shall lawlessness make all the land desolate,
And their evil-doing shall overturn the thrones of princes.

6 Hear therefore, ye kings, and understand;
Learn, ye judges of the ends of the earth:

2 Give ear, ye that have dominion over much people,
And make your boast <sup>2</sup>in multitudes of nations.

3 Because your dominion was given you from the Lord,
And your sovereignty from the Most High;
Who shall search out your works,
And shall make inquisition of your counsels:

4 Because being officers of his kingdom
ye did not judge aright, Neither kept ye <sup>3</sup>law, nor walked after the counsel of God.

5 Awfully and swiftly shall he come upon you;

Because a stern judgement befalleth
them that be in high place:

6 For the man of low estate may be pardoned in mercy,
But mighty men shall be <sup>4</sup>searched out mightily.

7 For the Sovereign Lord of all will not refrain himself for any man's person,
Neither will he reverence greatness;
Because it is he that made both small and great,

And alike he taketh thought for all;
8 But <sup>5</sup>strict is the scrutiny that cometh upon the powerful.

9 Unto you therefore, O princes, are my words,
That ye may learn wisdom and <sup>6</sup>fall not from the right way.

10 For they that have kept holily the things that are holy shall themselves
be <sup>7</sup>hallowed;
And they that have been taught them
shall find what to answer;

11 Set your desire therefore on my words;
Long for them, and ye shall be <sup>8</sup>trained by their discipline.

12 Wisdom is radiant and fadeth not away;
And easily is she beheld of them that love her,

And found of them that seek her.

13 She forestalleth them that desire to know her, making herself first known.

14 He that riseth up early to seek her shall have no toil,
For he shall find her sitting at his gates.

15 For to think upon her is perfectness
of understanding,
And he that watcheth for her sake shall quickly be free from care.

16 Because she goeth about, herself seeking them that are worthy of her,
And in their paths she appeareth unto them graciously,
And in every purpose she meeteth
them.

17 For <sup>9</sup>her <sup>10</sup>true beginning is desire of discipline;
And the care for discipline is love of
her;

18 And love of her is observance of her laws;
And to give heed to her laws con-
firmeth incorruption;

19 And incorruption <sup>11</sup>bringeth near unto God;

20 So then desire of wisdom promoteth to a kingdom.

21 If therefore ye delight in thrones and sceptres, ye princes of peoples, Honour wisdom, that ye may reign for ever.

22 But what wisdom is, and how she came into being, I will declare,
And I will not hide mysteries from you;

23 Neither indeed will I take <sup>2</sup>pining envy for my companion in the way, Because <sup>3</sup>envy shall have no fellowship with wisdom.

24 But a multitude of wise men is salvation to the world,
And an understanding king is tranquillity to his people.

25 Wherefore be disciplined by my words, and thereby shall ye profit.

7 I myself also am <sup>4</sup>mortal, like to all,
And am sprung from one born of the earth, the man first formed,

2 And in the womb of a mother was I moulded into flesh in the time of ten months,
Being compacted in blood of the seed of man and pleasure that came with sleep.

3 And I also, when I was born, drew in the common air,
And fell upon the <sup>5</sup>kindred earth,
Uttering, like all, for my first voice, the selfsame wail:

5 For no king had any other first beginning;

6 But all men have one entrance into life, and a like departure.

7 For this cause I prayed, and understanding was given me:
I called upon God, and there came to me a spirit of wisdom.

8 I preferred her before sceptres and thrones,
And riches I esteemed nothing in comparison of her.

9 Neither did I liken to her any priceless gem,
Because all the gold of the earth in her presence is a little sand,
And silver shall be accounted as clay before her.

10 Above health and comeliness I loved her,
And I chose to have her rather than light,
Because her bright shining is never laid to sleep.

11 But with her there came to me all good things together,
And in her hands innumerable riches:

12 And I rejoiced over them all because wisdom leadeth them;
Though I knew not that she was the <sup>7</sup>mother of them.

13 As I learned without guile, I impart without grudging;
I do not hide her riches.

14 For she is unto men a treasure that faileth not,
And they that use it <sup>8</sup>obtain friendship with God,

Commended to him <sup>9</sup>by the gifts which they through discipline present to him.

15 But to me may God give to speak <sup>10</sup>with judgement,

And to conceive thoughts worthy of what <sup>11</sup>hath been given me;

Because himself is one that guideth even wisdom and that correcteth the wise.

16 For in his hand are both we and our words;

All understanding, and all acquaintance with divers crafts.

17 For himself gave me an unerring knowledge of the things that are,

To know the constitution of the world, and the operation of the elements;

18 The beginning and end and middle of times,

The alternations of the solstices and the changes of seasons,

19 The circuits of years and the <sup>12</sup>positions of stars;

<sup>12</sup> Or, constellations

20 The natures of living creatures and the ragings of wild beasts,

The violences of <sup>13</sup>winds and the thoughts of men,

<sup>13</sup> Or, spirits

The diversities of plants and the virtues of roots:

21 All things that are either secret or manifest I learned,

22 For she that is the artificer of all things taught me, even wisdom.

For there is in her a spirit quick of understanding, holy,

<sup>14</sup> Alone in kind, manifold, Subtil, freely moving,

Clear in utterance, unpolled,
Distinct, unharmed,

Loving what is good, keen, unhindered,

23 Beneficent, loving toward man,
Stedfast, sure, free from care,

All-powerful, all-surveying,
And penetrating through all spirits

That are quick of understanding, pure, most subtil:

24 For wisdom is more mobile than any motion;

Yea, she pervadeth and penetrateth all things by reason of her pureness.

25 For she is a <sup>15</sup>breath of the power of God,

And a clear effluence of the glory of the Almighty;

Therefore can nothing defiled find entrance into her.

26 For she is an effulgence from everlasting light,

And an unspotted mirror of the working of God,

And an image of his goodness.

27 And she, being one, hath power to do all things;

And remaining in herself, reneweth all things:

And from generation to generation passing into holy souls

She maketh men friends of God and prophets.

28 For nothing doth God love save him that dwelleth with wisdom.

29 For she is fairer than the sun, And above <sup>1</sup> all the constellations of the stars:

Being compared with light, she is found to be before it;

30 For <sup>2</sup> to the light of day succeedeth night,

But against wisdom evil doth not prevail;

8 But she <sup>3</sup> reacheth from one end of the world to the other with full strength,

And ordereth all things <sup>4</sup> graciously.

2 Her I loved and sought out from my youth,

And I sought to take her for my bride,

And I became enamoured of her beauty.

3 She glorifieth her noble birth in that it is given her to live with God,

And the Sovereign Lord of all loved her.

4 For she is initiated into the knowledge of God,

And she <sup>5</sup> chooseth out for him his works.

5 But if riches are a desired possession in life,

What is richer than wisdom, which worketh all things?

6 <sup>6</sup> And if understanding worketh, Who more than <sup>7</sup> wisdom is an artificer of the things that are?

7 And if a man loveth righteousness,

<sup>8</sup> The fruits of wisdom's labour are virtues,

For she teacheth soberness and understanding, righteousness and courage;

And there is nothing in life for men more profitable than these.

8 And if a man longeth even for much experience,

She knoweth <sup>9</sup> the things of old, and <sup>10</sup> divineth the things to come:

She understandeth subtilties of speeches and interpretations of dark sayings;

She foreseeth signs and wonders, and the issues of seasons and times.

9 I determined therefore to take her unto me to live with me,

Knowing that she is one who would <sup>11</sup> give me good thoughts for counsel,

And <sup>12</sup> encourage me in cares and grief.

10 Because of her I shall have glory among multitudes,

And honour in the sight of elders, though I be young.

11 I shall be found of a quick conceit when I give judgement,

And in the presence of <sup>13</sup> princes I shall be admired.

12 When I am silent, they shall wait for me;

And when I open my lips, they shall give heed unto me;

And if I continue speaking, they shall lay their hand upon their mouth.

13 Because of her I shall have immortality,

And leave behind an eternal memory to them that come after me.

14 I shall govern peoples, And nations shall be subjected to me.

15 Dread princes shall fear me when they hear of me:

Among my <sup>14</sup> people I shall shew myself a good ruler, and in war courageous.

16 When I am come into my house, I shall find rest with her;

For converse with her hath no bitterness,

And to live with her hath no pain, but gladness and joy.

17 When I considered these things in myself,

And took thought in my heart how that in kinship unto wisdom is immortality,

18 And in her friendship is good delight, And in the labours of her hands is wealth that faileth not,

And in <sup>15</sup> assiduous communing with her is understanding,

And great renown in having fellowship with her words,

I went about seeking how to take her unto myself.

19 Now I was <sup>16</sup> a child of parts, and a good soul fell to my lot;

20 Nay rather, being good, I came into a body undefiled.

21 But perceiving that I could not otherwise <sup>17</sup> possess wisdom except God gave her me

(Yet and to know <sup>15</sup> by whom the grace is given, this too came of understanding),

I pleaded with the Lord and besought him,

And with my whole heart I said,

9 O God of the fathers, and <sup>19</sup> Lord who keepest thy mercy,

Who madest all things <sup>20</sup> by thy word;

2 And by thy wisdom thou formedst man,

That he should have dominion over the creatures that were made by thee,

3 And rule the world in holiness and righteousness,

And execute judgement in uprightness of soul;

4 Give me wisdom, her that sitteth by thee on thy <sup>21</sup> throne;

And reject me not from among thy <sup>22</sup> servants;

5 Because I am thy bondman and the son of thy handmaid,

A man weak and short-lived, And of small power to understand judgement and laws.

7 Thou didst choose me before my brethren to be king of thy people,
And to do judgement for thy sons and daughters.

8 Thou gavest command to build a sanctuary in thy holy mountain,
And <sup>1</sup>an altar in the city of thy <sup>2</sup>habitation,

A copy of the holy tabernacle which thou preparedst aforehand from the beginning.

9 And with thee is wisdom, which knoweth thy works,
And was present when thou wast making the world,
And which understandeth what is pleasing in thine eyes,

And what is right <sup>3</sup>according to thy commandments.

10 Send her forth out of the holy heavens,
And from the throne of thy glory bid her come,

That being present with me she may toil with me,

And that I may learn what is well-pleasing before thee.

11 For she knoweth all things and hath understanding thereof,

And in my doings she shall guide me in ways of soberness,
And she shall guard me in her glory.

12 And so shall my works be acceptable,
And I shall judge thy people righteously,

And I shall be worthy of my father's <sup>4</sup>throne.

13 For what man shall know the counsel of God?

Or who shall conceive what the Lord willeth?

14 For the thoughts of mortals are <sup>5</sup>timorous,

And our devices are prone to fail.

15 For a corruptible body weigheth down the soul,

And the earthy frame lieth heavy on a mind that <sup>6</sup>is full of cares.

16 And hardly do we <sup>7</sup>divine the things that are on earth,

And the things that are close at hand we find with labour;

But the things that are in the heavens who ever yet traced out?

17 And who ever gained knowledge of thy counsel, except thou <sup>8</sup>gavest wisdom,

And sentest thy holy spirit <sup>9</sup>from on high?

18 And it was thus that the ways of them which are on earth were corrected,

And men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee;

And through wisdom were they saved.

10 <sup>10</sup>Wisdom guarded to the end the first formed father of the world, that was created alone,

And delivered him out of his own transgression,

2 And gave him strength to get dominion over all things.

3 But when an unrighteous man fell away from her in his anger,
He perished himself in the rage where-with he slew his brother.

4 And when for his cause the earth was drowning with a flood,

Wisdom again saved it,
Guiding the righteous man's course by a poor piece of wood.

5 Moreover, when nations consenting together in wickedness had been confounded,

<sup>10</sup>Wisdom knew the righteous man, and preserved him blameless unto God,
And kept him strong when his heart yearned toward his child.

6 While the ungodly were perishing,

When he fled from the fire that descended out of heaven on <sup>11</sup>Pentapolis.

7 To whose wickedness a smoking waste still witnesseth,

And plants bearing fair fruit that cometh not to ripeness;

Yea and a <sup>12</sup>disbelieving soul hath a memorial there, a pillar of salt still standing.

8 For having passed wisdom by,

Not only were they disabled from recognising the things which are good,

But they also left behind them <sup>13</sup>for human life a monument of their folly;

To the end that <sup>14</sup>where they <sup>15</sup>went astray they might fail even to be unseen:

9 But wisdom delivered out of troubles those that waited on her.

10 When a righteous man was a fugitive from a brother's wrath, <sup>16</sup>wisdom guided him in straight paths;

She shewed him God's kingdom, and gave him knowledge of holy things;

She prospered him in his toils, and multiplied the fruits of his labour;

11 When in their covetousness men dealt hardly with him,

She stood by him and made him rich;

12 She guarded him from enemies,
And from those that lay in wait she kept him safe,

And over his sore conflict she watched as judge,

2 Gr. she.	13 When a righteous man was sold, <sup>2</sup> wisdom forsook him not, But <sup>3</sup> from sin she delivered him; She went down with him into a dungeon,	8 Having shewn them by <sup>9</sup> the thirst which they had suffered how thou didst punish the adversaries.	9 Gr. the then thirst.
3 Or, from the sin of his brethren ... into a pit	14 And in bonds she left him not, Till she brought him the sceptre of a kingdom, And authority over those that dealt tyrannously with him; She shewed them also to be false that had mockingly accused him, And gave him eternal glory.	9 For when they were tried, albeit but in mercy chastened, They learned how the ungodly were tormented, being judged with wrath:
4 Gr. She.	15 <sup>4</sup> Wisdom delivered a holy people and a blameless seed from a nation of oppressors.	10 For these, as a father, admonishing them, thou didst prove;
	16 She entered into the soul of a servant of the Lord, And withstood terrible kings in wonders and signs.	But those, as a stern king, condemning them, thou didst search out.
	17 She rendered unto holy men a reward of their toils; She guided them along a marvellous way, And became unto them a covering in the day-time, And a flame of stars through the night.	11 Yea and whether they were far off from the righteous or near them, they were alike distressed;
	18 She brought them over the Red sea, And led them through much water;	12 For a double grief took hold on them, And a groaning at the remembrance of things past.
	19 But their enemies she drowned, And out of the bottom of the deep she cast them up.	13 For when they heard that through their own punishments the others <sup>10</sup> had been benefited, They felt the presence of the Lord;	10 Some authorities read were being.
	20 Therefore the righteous spoiled the ungodly; And they sang praise to thy holy name, O Lord, And extolled with one accord thy hand that fought for them;	14 For him who long before was <sup>11</sup> cast forth and exposed they left off mocking: In the last issue of what came to pass <sup>12</sup> they marvelled, Having thirsted in another manner than the righteous.	11 Some authorities read cast forth in hundred they.
	21 Because wisdom opened the mouth of the dumb, And made the tongues of babes to speak clearly.	15 But in requital of the senseless imaginings of their unrighteousness, Wherein they were led astray to worship irrational reptiles and wretched vermin, Thou didst send upon them a multitude of irrational creatures for vengeance;	12 Or, they mar- velled at him
	11 She prospered their works in the hand of a holy prophet.	16 That they might learn, that by what things a man sinneth, by these he is punished.
	2 They journeyed through a desert without inhabitant, And in trackless regions they pitched their tents.	17 For thine all-powerful hand, That created the world out of formless matter, Lacked not means to send upon them a multitude of bears, or fierce lions,	13 Some authorities read un- known wild beasts, full of new- created rage.
5 Or, took venge- ance on foes	3 They withstood enemies, and <sup>6</sup> repelled foes.	18 Or <sup>13</sup> new-created wild beasts, full of rage, of unknown kind, Either breathing out a blast of fiery breath, Or blowing forth from their nostrils noisome smoke, Or flashing dreadful sparkles from their eyes;
	4 They thirsted, and they called upon thee, And there was given them water out of <sup>6</sup> the <sup>7</sup> flinty rock, And healing of their thirst out of the hard stone.	19 Which had power not only to consume them by their <sup>14</sup> violence, But to destroy them even by the terror of their sight.
6 Or, the steep rock	7 See Deut. viii. 15; Ps. cxiv. 8.	20 Yea and without these might they have fallen by a single breath, Being pursued by Justice, and scattered abroad by the breath of thy power. But by measure and number and weight thou didst order all things.
8 The text of this verse is perhaps corrupt.	5 For by what things their foes were punished, By these they in their need were benefited.	21 For to be greatly strong is thine at all times;	14 Gr. harm- fulness.
	6 <sup>8</sup> When the enemy were troubled with clotted blood instead of a river's ever-flowing fountain,

And the might of thine arm who shall withstand?

22 Because the whole world before thee is as <sup>1</sup>a grain <sup>2</sup>in a balance, And as a drop of dew that at morning cometh down upon the earth.

23 But thou hast mercy on all men, because thou hast power to do all things, And thou overlookest the sins of men to the end they may repent.

24 For thou lovest all things that are, And abhorrest none of the things which thou didst make;

For never wouldest thou have formed anything if thou didst hate it.

25 And how would anything have endured, except thou hadst willed it? Or that which was not called by thee, how would it have been preserved?

26 But thou sparest all things, because they are thine, O Sovereign Lord, thou lover of men's <sup>3</sup>lives;

12 For thine incorruptible spirit is in all things.

2 Wherefore thou convictest by little and little them that <sup>4</sup>fall from the right way,

And, putting them in remembrance by the very things wherein they sin, dost thou admonish them,

That escaping from their wickedness they may believe on thee, O Lord.

3 For verily the old inhabitants of thy holy land,

4 Hating them because they practised detestable works of enchantments and unholy rites

5 <sup>5</sup>Merciless slayers of children, And sacrificial banquets of men's flesh and of blood),

6 Confederates in an impious fellowship, And murderers of their own helpless babes,

It was thy counsel to destroy by the hands of our fathers;

7 That the land which in thy sight is most precious of all lands

Might receive a worthy colony of God's <sup>6</sup>servants.

8 Nevertheless even these thou didst spare as being men,

And thou sentest <sup>7</sup>hornets as fore-runners of thy host,

To cause them to perish by little and little;

9 Not that thou wast unable to subdue the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battle,

Or by terrible beasts or by one stern word to make away with them at once;

10 But judging them by little and little thou gavest them a place of repentance,

Not being ignorant that their nature

by birth was evil, and their wickedness inborn,

And that their manner of thought would in no wise ever be changed, 11 For they were a seed accursed from the beginning:

Neither was it through fear of any that thou didst leave them then unpunished for their sins.

12 For who shall say, What hast thou done?

Or who shall withstand thy judgement?

And who shall accuse thee for the perishing of nations which thou didst make?

Or who shall come and stand before thee as an avenger for unrighteous men?

13 For neither is there any God beside thee that careth for all, That thou mightest shew unto him that thou didst not judge unrighteously:

14 Neither shall king or prince be able to look thee in the face to plead for those whom thou hast punished.

15 But being righteous thou rulest all things righteously, Deeming it a thing alien from thy power

To condemn one that doth not himself deserve to be punished.

16 For thy strength is the beginning of righteousness, And thy sovereignty over all maketh thee to forbear all.

17 For when men believe not that thou art perfect in power, thou shewest thy strength,

18 But thou, being sovereign over thy strength, judgest in gentleness, And with great forbearance dost thou govern us;

For the power is thine whensoever thou hast the will.

19 But thou didst teach thy people by such works as these,

How that the righteous must be a lover of men;

And thou didst make thy sons to be of good hope,

Because thou givest repentance when men have sinned.

20 For if on them that were enemies of thy <sup>6</sup>servants and due to death

Thou didst take vengeance with so great heedfulness and indulgence,

Giving them times and place whereby they might escape from their wickedness;

21 With how great carefulness didst thou judge thy sons,

<sup>9</sup> Or, in them

To whose fathers thou gavest oaths and covenants of good promises!

22 While therefore thou dost chasten us, thou scourgest our enemies ten thousand times more,

To the intent that we may ponder thy goodness when we judge, And when we are judged may look for mercy.

23 Wherefore also the unrighteous that lived in folly of life

Thou didst torment through their own abominations.

24 For verily they went astray very far<sup>1</sup> in the ways of error,

Taking as gods those<sup>2</sup> animals which even among their enemies were held in dishonour, Deceived like foolish babes.

25 Therefore, as unto unreasoning children, thou didst send thy judgement to mock them.

26 But they that would not be admonished<sup>3</sup> by a mocking correction as of children

Shall have experience of a judgement worthy of God.

27 For through the sufferings wherewith they were indignant,

Being punished in these creatures which they supposed to be gods,

They saw, and recognised as the true God him whom before they<sup>4</sup> refused to know:

Wherefore also the last end of condemnation came upon them.

13 For verily all men by nature<sup>5</sup> were but vain who had no perception of God,

And from the good things that are seen they gained not power to know him that is,

Neither by giving heed to the works did they recognise the artificer;

2 But either fire, or wind, or swift air, Or<sup>6</sup> circling stars, or raging water, or

<sup>7</sup>luminaries of heaven,

They thought to be gods that rule the world.

3 And if it was through delight in their beauty that they took them to be gods,

Let them know how much better than these is their Sovereign Lord;

For the first author of beauty created them:

4 But if it was through astonishment at their power and<sup>8</sup> influence,

Let them understand from them how much more powerful is he that formed them;

5 For from the<sup>9</sup> greatness of the beauty<sup>10</sup> even of created things

6 But yet for these<sup>13</sup> men there is but small blame,

For they too peradventure do but go astray

While they are seeking God and desiring to find him.

7 For<sup>14</sup> living among his works they make diligent search,

And they<sup>15</sup> yield themselves up to sight, because the things that they look upon are beautiful.

8 But again even they are not to be excused.

9 For if they had power to know so much,

That they should be able to explore<sup>16</sup> the course of things,

How is it that they did not sooner find the Sovereign Lord of these his works?

10 But miserable<sup>5</sup> were they, and<sup>17</sup> in dead things<sup>5</sup> were their hopes,

Who called them gods which are works of men's hands,

Gold and silver, wrought with careful art, and likenesses of animals,

Or a useless stone, the work of an ancient hand.

11 Yea and if some<sup>18</sup> woodcutter, having sawn down a<sup>19</sup> tree that is easily moved,

13 And taking the very refuse thereof which served to no use,

A crooked piece of wood and full of knots,

Carveth it with the diligence of his idleness,

And shapeth it by the skill of his<sup>20</sup> indolence;

14 Or maketh it like some paltry animal, Smearing it with vermilion, and with

<sup>22</sup>paint colouring it red,

And smearing over every stain that is therein;

15 And having made for it a chamber worthy of it,

19 And for gaining and <sup>1</sup>getting and good success of his hands
He asketh ability of that which with its hands is most unable.

14 Again, one preparing to sail, and about to journey over raging waves, Calleth upon a piece of wood more rotten than the vessel that carrieth him;

2 For that vessel the hunger for gains devised,

And an artificer, even wisdom, built it;
3 And thy providence, O Father, guideth it along,

Because even in the sea thou gavest a way,

And in the waves a sure path,

4 Shewing that thou canst save out of every danger,

That so even without art a man may put to sea;

5 And it is thy will that the works of thy wisdom should not be idle;

Therefore also do men intrust their lives to a little piece of wood,

And passing through the surge <sup>2</sup> on a raft are brought safe to land.

6 For <sup>3</sup> in the old time also, when proud giants were perishing,

The hope of the world, taking refuge on a raft,

Left to <sup>4</sup> the race of men a seed of generations to come,

Thy hand guiding the helm.

7 For blessed <sup>5</sup> hath been wood through which cometh righteousness:

8 But the idol made with hands is accursed, itself and he that made it;

Because his was the working, and the corruptible thing was named a god:

9 For both the ungodly doer and his ungodliness are alike hateful to God;

10 For verily the deed shall be punished together with him that committed it.

11 Therefore also <sup>6</sup> among the idols of the nations shall there be a visitation,

Because, though formed of things which God created, they were made an abomination,

And stumblingblocks to the souls of men,

And a snare to the feet of the foolish.

12 For the devising of idols was the beginning of fornication,

And the invention of them the corruption of life:

13 For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be for ever;

14 For by the vaingloriousness of men they entered into the world,

And therefore was a speedy end devised for them.

15 For a father wroth with untimely grief,

Making an image of the child quickly taken away,

Now honoured him as a god which was then a dead man,

And delivered to those that were under him mysteries and solemn rites.

16 Afterward the ungodly custom, in process of time grown strong, was kept as a law,

And by the commandments of princes the graven images received worship.

17 And when men could not honour them in presence because they dwelt far off,

Imagining the likeness from afar,
They made a visible image of the king whom they honoured,

That by their zeal they might flatter the absent as if present.

18 But unto a yet higher pitch was worship raised even by them that knew him not,

Urged forward by the ambition of the artificer:

19 For he, wishing peradventure to please one in authority,

Used his art to force the likeness to ward a greater beauty;

20 And the multitude, allured by reason of the grace of his handywork,

Now accounted as an object of devotion him that a little before was honoured as a man.

21 And this became <sup>7</sup> a hidden danger unto life,

Because men, in bondage either to calamity or to tyranny,

Invested stones and stocks with the incommunicable Name.

22 Afterward it was not enough for them to go astray as touching the knowledge of God;

But also, while they live <sup>8</sup> in <sup>9</sup> sore conflict through ignorance of him,

That multitude of evils they call peace.

23 For either slaughtering children in solemn rites, or celebrating secret mysteries,

Or holding frantic revels of strange ordinances,

24 No longer do they <sup>10</sup> guard either life or purity of marriage,

But one brings upon another either death by treachery, or anguish by adulterate offspring.

25 And all things confusedly are filled with blood and murder, theft and deceit,

Corruption, faithlessness, tumult, perjury, <sup>11</sup> turmoil,

Ingratitude for benefits received,
Defiling of souls, confusion of <sup>12</sup> sex,

Disorder in marriage, adultery and wantonness.

27 For the worship of <sup>13</sup> those <sup>14</sup> nameless idols

Is a beginning and cause and end of every evil.

28 For their worshippers either make merry unto madness, or prophesy lies,

Or live unrighteously, or lightly forswear themselves.

29 For putting their trust in lifeless idols, When they have sworn a wicked oath, they expect not to suffer harm.

30 But for both sins shall the just doom pursue them, Because they had evil thoughts of God by giving heed to idols, And swore unrighteously in deceit through contempt for holiness.

31 For it is not the power of them by whom men swear, But it is <sup>1</sup>that Justice which hath regard to them that sin, That visiteth always the transgression of the unrighteous.

15 But thou, our God, art gracious and true, Longsuffering, and in mercy ordering all things.

2 For even if we sin, we are thine, knowing thy dominion;

But we shall not sin, knowing that we have been accounted thine:

3 For to be acquainted with thee is <sup>2</sup>perfect righteousness, And to know thy dominion is the root of immortality.

4 For neither were we led astray by any evil device of men's art, Nor yet by painters' fruitless labour, A form stained with varied colours;

5 The sight whereof leadeth fools into <sup>3</sup>lust:

6 Lovers of evil things, and worthy of such hopes as these, Are both they that do, and they that desire, and they that worship.

7 For a potter, kneading soft earth, Laboriously mouldeth each several vessel for our service: Nay, out of the same clay doth he fashion

Both the vessels that minister to clean uses, and those of a contrary sort, All in like manner; But what shall be the use of each vessel of either sort,

The <sup>4</sup>craftsman himself is the judge.

8 And also, labouring to an evil end, he mouldeth a vain god out of the same clay,

He who, having but a little before been made of earth,

After a short space goeth his way to the earth out of which he was taken, When he is required to render back the <sup>5</sup>soul which was lent him.

9 Howbeit he hath anxious care, Not because his powers must fail,

Nor because his span of life is short; But he matcheth himself against goldsmiths and <sup>6</sup>silversmiths, And he imitateth moulders in <sup>7</sup>brass, And esteemeth it glory that he mouldeth counterfeits.

10 His heart is ashes, And his hope of less value than earth, And his life of less honour than clay:

11 Because he was ignorant of him that moulded him,

And of him that inspired into him <sup>8</sup>an active <sup>5</sup>soul.

And breathed into him a vital spirit.

12 But <sup>9</sup>he accounted our very life to be a <sup>10</sup>plaything,

And our <sup>11</sup>lifetime a gainful <sup>12</sup>fair; For, saith he, one must get gain whence one can, though it be by evil.

13 For this man beyond all others knoweth that he sinneth,

Out of earthy matter making brittle vessels and graven images.

14 But most foolish <sup>13</sup>were they all, and <sup>14</sup>of feebler soul than a babe,

The enemies of thy people, who oppressed them;

15 Because they even accounted all the idols of the nations to be gods;

Which have neither the use of eyes for seeing,

Nor nostrils for drawing breath, Nor ears to hear,

Nor fingers for handling, And their feet are helpless for walking.

16 For a man made them, And one whose own spirit is borrowed moulded them;

For no one hath power, being a man, to mould a god like unto himself,

17 But, being mortal, he maketh a dead thing by the work of lawless hands;

For he is better than the objects of his worship,

<sup>15</sup>Forasmuch as he indeed had life, but they never.

18 Yea, and the creatures that are most hateful do they worship,

<sup>16</sup>For, being compared as to want of sense, these are worse than all others;

19 Neither, as seen beside other creatures, are they beautiful, so that one should desire them,

But they have escaped both the praise of God and his blessing.

16 For this cause were these men worthily punished through creatures like those which they worship,

And tormented through a multitude of vermin.

2 Instead of which punishment, thou, bestowing benefits on thy people,

Preparedst quails for food,

Food of <sup>17</sup>rare taste, to satisfy the desire of their appetite;

Might for the hideousness of the creatures sent among them

Loathe even the necessary appetite;
But these, thy people, having for a short space suffered wait,
Might even partake of food of <sup>1</sup>rare taste.

4 For it was needful that upon those should come inexorable wait in their tyrannous dealing,
But that to these it should only be shewed how their enemies were tormented.

5 For even when terrible raging of wild beasts came upon <sup>2</sup>thy people,
And they were perishing by the bites of crooked serpents,
Thy wrath continued not to the uttermost;

6 But for admonition were they troubled for a short space,
Having a token of salvation,
To put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law:

7 For he that turned toward it was not saved because of that which was beheld,
But because of thee, the Saviour of all.

8 Yea, and in this didst thou persuade our enemies,
That thou art he that delivereth out of every evil.

9 For them verily the bites of locusts and flies did slay,
And there was not found a healing for their life,
Because they were worthy to be punished by such as these;

10 But thy sons not the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame,
For thy mercy passed by where they were, and healed them.

11 For they were <sup>3</sup>bitten, to put them in remembrance of thine oracles;
And were quickly saved, lest, falling into deep forgetfulness,

They should become <sup>4</sup>unable to be <sup>5</sup>roused by thy beneficence:

12 For of a truth it was neither herb nor mollifying plaister that cured them,
But thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things;

13 For thou hast authority over life and death,
And thou ledest down to the gates of Hades, and ledest up again.

14 But though a man may slay by his <sup>6</sup>wickedness,

Yet the spirit that is gone forth he turneth not again,
Neither giveth release to the soul that Hades hath received.

15 But thy hand it is not possible to escape;

16 For ungodly men, <sup>7</sup>refusing to know thee, were scourged in the strength of thine arm,

Pursued with strange rains and hails and showers inexorable,
And utterly consumed with fire;

17 For, what was most marvellous of all,
In the water which quenqueth all things the fire wrought yet more mightily;

For the world fighteth for the righteous.

18 For at one time the flame lost its fierceness,
That it might not burn up the creatures sent against the ungodly,
But that these themselves as they looked might <sup>8</sup>see that they were chased through the judgement of God:

19 And at another time even in the midst of water it burneth above the power of fire,
That it may destroy the <sup>9</sup>fruits of an unrighteous land.

20 Instead whereof thou gavest thy people angels' food to eat,
And bread ready for their use didst thou provide for them from heaven without their toil,
Bread having the virtue of every pleasant savour,
And agreeing to every taste;

21 For <sup>10</sup>thy <sup>11</sup>nature manifested thy sweetness toward thy children;
While that bread, ministering to the desire of the eater,
Tempered itself according to every man's choice.

22 But snow and ice endured fire, and melted not,
That men might know that fire was destroying the fruits of the enemies,
Burning in the hail and flashing in the rains;

23 And <sup>12</sup>that this element again, in order that righteous men may be nourished, Hath even forgotten its own power.

24 For the creation, ministering to thee its maker,
Straineth its force against the unrighteous, for punishment,
And slackeneth it in behalf of them that trust in thee, for beneficence.

25 Therefore at that time also, converting itself into all forms,
It ministered to thine all-nourishing bounty,
According to the desire of them that <sup>13</sup>made supplication;

26 That thy sons, whom thou lovedst, O Lord, might learn
That it is not the <sup>14</sup>growth of the earth's fruits that nourisheth a man,
But that thy word preserveth them that trust thee.

rise before the sun to give thee thanks,
And must plead with thee at the dawning of the light:

29 For the hope of the unthankful shall melt as the winter's hoar frost,
And shall flow away as water that hath no use.

17 For great are thy judgements, and hard to <sup>1</sup>interpret;
Therefore souls undisciplined went astray.

2 For when lawless men had supposed that they held a holy nation in their power,
They themselves, prisoners of darkness, and bound in the fetters of a long night,
Close kept beneath their roofs,
Lay exiled from the eternal providence.

3 For while they thought that they were unseen in their secret sins,
They were <sup>2</sup>sundered one from another by a dark curtain of forgetfulness, Stricken with terrible awe, and sore troubled by spectral forms.

4 For neither did <sup>3</sup>the dark recesses that held them guard them from fears,
But sounds <sup>4</sup>rushing down rang around them,
And phantoms appeared, cheerless with unsmiling faces.

5 And no force of fire prevailed to give them light,
Neither were the brightest flames of the stars strong enough to illumine that gloomy night:

6 But only there appeared to them the glimmering of a fire self-kindled, full of fear;
And in terror they deemed the things which they saw
To be worse than that sight, on which they could not gaze.

7 <sup>5</sup>And they lay helpless, made the sport of magic art,
And a shameful rebuke of their vaunts of understanding:

8 For they that promised to drive away terrors and troublings from a sick soul,
These were themselves sick with a ludicrous fearfulness:

9 For even if no troublous thing affrighted them, Yet, scared with the creepings of vermin and hissings of serpents, they

10 perished <sup>6</sup>for very trembling,
Refusing even to look on the air, which could on no side be escaped.

11 <sup>7</sup>For wickedness, condemned by a witness within, is a coward thing,
And, being pressed hard by conscience, always <sup>8</sup>forecasteth the worst lot:

12 For fear is nothing else but a surrender of the succours which reason offereth;

13 And from within the heart the expectation of them being less maketh of greater account the ignorance of the cause that bringeth the torment.

14 But they, all through the night which was powerless indeed,
And which came upon them out of the recesses of powerless Hades,

All sleeping the same sleep,

15 Now were haunted by monstrous apparitions,

And now were paralysed by their soul's surrendering;

For fear sudden and unlooked for <sup>9</sup>came upon them.

16 So then every man, whosoever it might be, sinking down <sup>10</sup>in his place,
Was kept in ward shut up in that prison which was barred not with iron:

17 For whether he were a husbandman, or a shepherd,
Or a labourer whose toils were in the wilderness,

He was overtaken, and endured that inevitable necessity,

For with one chain of darkness were they all bound.

18 Whether there were a whistling wind, or a melodious noise of birds among the spreading branches,

Or a measured fall of water running violently,

19 Or a harsh crashing of rocks hurled down,

Or the swift course of animals bounding along unseen,

Or the voice of wild beasts harshly roaring,

Or an echo rebounding from <sup>11</sup>the hollows of the mountains,

All these things paralysed them with terror.

20 For the whole world beside was enlightened with clear light,

And was occupied with unhindered works;

21 While over them alone was spread a heavy night,

An image of the darkness that should afterward receive them;

But yet heavier than darkness were they unto themselves.

18 But for thy holy ones there was great light;

And the Egyptians, hearing their voice but seeing not their form,

Counted it a happy thing that they too had suffered,

2 Yet for that they do not hurt them now, though wronged by them before, they are thankful;

And because they had been at variance with them, they made supplication to them.

And withal a <sup>1</sup>kindly sun for their <sup>2</sup>proud exile.

4 For well did <sup>3</sup>the Egyptians deserve to be deprived of light and imprisoned by darkness,

They who had kept in close ward thy sons,

Through whom the incorruptible light of the law was to be given to <sup>4</sup>the race of men.

5 After they had taken counsel to slay the babes of the holy ones,
And when a single child had been cast forth and saved <sup>5</sup>to convict them of their sin,

Thou tookest away from them their multitude of children,
And destroyedst all their host together in a mighty flood.

6 Of that night were our fathers made aware beforehand,
That, having sure knowledge, they might be cheered by the oaths which they had trusted:

7 So by thy people was expected salvation of the righteous and destruction of the enemies;

8 For as thou didst take vengeance on the adversaries,

<sup>6</sup>By the same means, calling us unto thyself, thou didst glorify us.

9 For holy children <sup>7</sup>of good men offered sacrifice in secret,
And with one consent they took upon themselves the covenant of the <sup>8</sup>divine law,

That <sup>9</sup>they would partake alike in the same good things and the same perils;

The fathers already leading the sacred songs of praise.

10 But there sounded back in discord the cry of the enemies,

11 And servant along with master punished with a like just doom,
And commoner suffering the same as king,

12 Yea, all the people together, under one form of death,

Had with them corpses without number;
For the living were not sufficient even to bury them,

Since at a single <sup>11</sup>stroke <sup>12</sup>their <sup>12</sup>nobler offspring was consumed.

13 For while they were disbelieving all things by reason of the enchantments,

Upon the destruction of the firstborn they confessed the people to be God's son.

14 For while peaceful silence enwrapped all things,

And night in her own swiftness was in mid course,

15 Thine all-powerful word leaped from heaven out of <sup>13</sup>the royal <sup>14</sup>throne,

A stern warrior, into the midst of the <sup>15</sup>doomed land,

16 Bearing as a sharp sword thine unfeigned commandment;
And standing it filled all things with death;

And while it touched the heaven it trode upon the earth.

17 Then forthwith apparitions in dreams terribly troubled them,

And fears came upon them unlooked for:
18 And each, one thrown here half dead, another there,

Made manifest wherefore he was dying:
19 For the dreams, perturbing them, did foreshew this,

That they might not perish without knowing why they were afflicted.

20 But it <sup>16</sup>befell the righteous also to make trial of death,

And a multitude were stricken in the wilderness:

Howbeit the wrath endured not for long.

21 For a blameless man hastened to be their champion:

Bringing the weapon of his own ministry,

Even prayer and the propitiation of incense,

He withstood the indignation, and set an end to the calamity,

Shewing that he was thy servant.

22 And he overcame the <sup>17</sup>anger,
Not by strength of body, not by efficacy of weapons;

But <sup>18</sup>by word did he subdue <sup>19</sup>the minister of punishment,

By bringing to remembrance oaths and covenants made with the fathers.

23 For when the dead were already fallen in heaps one upon another,

Standing between he stopped the advancing wrath,
And <sup>20</sup>cut off the way to the living.

24 For upon his long high-priestly robe was the whole world,

And the glories of the fathers were upon the gravings of the four rows of <sup>21</sup>precious stones,

And thy majesty was upon the diadem of his head.

25 To these the destroyer gave place, and these <sup>22</sup>the people feared;

For it was enough only to make trial of the wrath.

19 But upon the ungodly there came unto the end indignation without mercy;

For their future also God foreknew,

2 How that, having changed their minds to let thy people go,

And having speeded them eagerly on their way,

They would repent themselves and pursue them.

3 For while they were yet in the midst of their mourning,

17 The word rendered anger differs only by the transposition of two letters from the reading of the Greek text, which here yields no sense.

18 Or. to a word did he subject

19 Gr. him who was punishing.

20 Gr. self-assunder.

21 Gr. stone.

22 Some authorities read he feared.

And making lamentation at the graves of the dead,

They drew upon themselves another counsel of folly,

And pursued as fugitives those whom with intreaties they had cast out.

4 For <sup>1</sup>the doom which they deserved was drawing them <sup>2</sup>unto this end, And it made them forget the things that had befallen them,

That they might fill up the punishment which was yet wanting to their torments,

5 And that thy people might <sup>3</sup>journey on by a marvellous road, But they themselves might find a strange death.

6 For the whole creation, each part in its several kind, was fashioned again anew,

Ministering to thy several commandments,

That thy <sup>4</sup>servants might be guarded free from hurt.

7 Then was beheld the cloud that shadowed the camp, And dry land rising up out of what before was water,

Out of the Red sea an unhindered highway,

And a grassy plain out of the violent surge;

8 <sup>5</sup>By which they passed over with all their hosts,

These that were covered with thy hand, Having beheld strange marvels.

9 For like horses they roamed at large, And they skipped about like lambs, Praising thee, O Lord, who wast their deliverer.

10 For they still remembered the things that came to pass in the time of their sojourning,

How that instead of <sup>6</sup>bearing <sup>7</sup>cattle the land brought forth <sup>8</sup>lice,

And instead of <sup>9</sup>fish the river cast up a multitude of frogs.

11 But afterwards they saw also a new <sup>10</sup>race of birds,

When, led on by desire, they asked for luxurious dainties;

12 For, to solace them, there came up for them quails from the sea.

13 And upon the sinners came the punishments

Not without the tokens that were given

<sup>11</sup>beforehand by the force of the thunders;

For justly did they suffer through their own wickednesses,

For <sup>12</sup>grievous indeed was the hatred which they practised toward guests.

14 <sup>13</sup>For whereas the men of Sodom received not <sup>14</sup>the strangers when they came among them;

15 And not only so, but God shall <sup>16</sup>visit <sup>17</sup>the men of Sodom after another sort,

Since they received as enemies them that were aliens;

16 Whereas these first welcomed with feastings, And then afflicted with dreadful toils, Them that had already shared with them in the same rights.

17 And moreover they were stricken with loss of sight (Even as were those others at the righteous man's doors),

When, being compassed about with yawning darkness,

They sought every one the passage through his own door.

18 For as the notes of a psalter vary the character of the rhythm,

Even so did the elements, changing their order one with another,

Continuing always the same, each in its several sound;

As may clearly be <sup>18</sup>divined from the sight of the things that are come to pass.

19 For creatures of the dry land were turned into creatures of the waters, And creatures that swim trode now upon the earth:

20 Fire kept the mastery of its own power in the midst of water, And water forgat its quenching nature:

21 Contrariwise, flames wasted not the flesh of perishable creatures that walked among them;

Neither <sup>19</sup>melted they the <sup>20</sup>ice-like grains of ambrosial food, that were of nature apt to melt.

22 For in all things, O Lord, thou didst magnify thy people, And thou didst glorify them and not lightly regard them;

Standing by their side in every time and place.

*The Prologue of the Wisdom of Jesus
the Son of Sirach.*

WHEREAS many and great things have been delivered unto us by the law and the prophets, and by the others that have followed in their steps, for the which things we must give Israel the praise of instruction and wisdom; and since not only the readers must needs become skilful themselves, but also they that love learning must be able to profit them which are without, both by speaking and writing; my grandfather Jesus, having much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and the other books of our fathers, and having gained great familiarity therein, was drawn on also himself to write somewhat pertaining to instruction and wisdom; in order that those who love learning, and are addicted to these things, might make progress much more by living according to the law. Ye are intreated therefore to read with favour and attention, and to pardon us, if in any parts of what we have laboured to interpret, we may seem to fail in some of the phrases. For things originally spoken in Hebrew have not the same force in them, when they are translated into another tongue: and not only these, but the law itself, and the prophecies, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their original language. For having come into Egypt in the eight and thirtieth year of Energetes the king, and having continued there some time, I found <sup>1</sup>a copy affording no small instruction. I thought it therefore most necessary for me to apply some diligence and travail to interpret this book; applying indeed much watchfulness and skill in that space of time to bring the book to an end, and set it forth for them also, who in the land of their sojourning are desirous to learn, fashioning their manners beforehand, so as to live according to the law.

- 1 ALL wisdom cometh from the Lord,
And is with him for ever.
- 2 The sand of the seas, and the drops of rain,
And the days of eternity, who shall number?
- 3 The height of the heaven, and the breadth of the earth,

And the deep, and wisdom, who shall search them out?

- 4 Wisdom hath been created before all things,
And the understanding of prudence from everlasting.<sup>2</sup>
- 6 To whom hath the root of wisdom been revealed?
And who hath known her shrewd counsels?<sup>2</sup>
- 8 There is one wise, greatly to be feared,
The Lord sitting upon his throne:
9 He created her,
And saw, and numbered her.
And poured her out upon all his works.
- 10 She is with all flesh according to his gift;
And he gave her freely to them that love him.
- 11 The fear of the Lord is glory, and exultation,
And gladness, and a crown of rejoicing.
- 12 The fear of the Lord shall delight the heart,
And shall give gladness, and joy, and length of days.
- 13 Whoso feareth the Lord, it shall go well with him at the last.
And in the day of his death he shall be blessed.
- 14 To fear the Lord is the beginning of wisdom;
And it was created together with the faithful in the womb.
- 15 With men she <sup>3</sup>laid an eternal foundation;
And with their seed shall she be had in trust.
- 16 To fear the Lord is the fulness of wisdom;
And she satiateth men with her fruits.
- 17 She shall fill all her house with desirable things,
And her garners with her produce.
- 18 The fear of the Lord is the crown of
wisdom,
Making peace and <sup>4</sup>perfect health to flourish.<sup>5</sup>
- 19 He both saw and numbered her;
He rained down skill and knowledge
of understanding,
And exalted the honour of them that hold her fast.
- 20 To fear the Lord is the root of wisdom;
And her branches are length of days.<sup>6</sup>
- 22 Unjust wrath can never be justified;

- For the sway of his wrath is his downfall.
- 23 A man that is longsuffering will <sup>1</sup>bear <sup>2</sup>for a season,
And afterward gladness shall spring up unto him;
- 24 He will hide his words <sup>2</sup>for a season,
And the lips of many shall tell forth his understanding.
- 25 A parable of knowledge is in the treasures of wisdom;
But godliness is an abomination to a sinner.
- 26 If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments,
And the Lord shall give her unto thee freely:
- 27 For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction;
And in faith and meekness is his good pleasure.
- 28 Disobey not the fear of the Lord<sup>3</sup>;
And come not unto him with a double heart.
- 29 Be not a hypocrite in the mouths of men;
And take good heed to thy lips.
- 30 Exalt not thyself, lest thou fall,
And bring dishonour upon thy soul;
And so the Lord shall reveal thy secrets,
And shall cast thee down in the midst of the congregation;
Because thou camest not unto the fear of the Lord,
And thy heart was full of deceit.

- 3 Hear me your father, O my children,
And do thereafter, that ye may be saved.
- 2 For the Lord hath given the father glory as touching the children,
And hath confirmed the judgement of the mother as touching the sons.
- 3 He that honoureth his father shall make atonement for sins:
- 4 And he that giveth glory to his mother is as one that layeth up treasure.
- 5 Whoso honoureth his father shall have joy of his children;

- 6 He that giveth glory to his father shall have length of days;

- 10 Glorify not thyself in the dishonour of thy father;
For thy father's dishonour is no glory unto thee.

11 For the glory of a man is from the honour of his father;
And a mother in dishonour is a reproach to her children.

12 My son, help thy father in his old age;
And grieve him not as long as he liveth.

13 And if he fail in understanding, have patience with him;
And dishonour him not while thou art in thy full strength.

14 For the relieving of thy father shall not be forgotten:
And instead of sins it shall be added to build thee up.

15 In the day of thine affliction it shall remember thee;
As fair weather upon ice,
So shall thy sins also melt away.

16 He that forsaketh his father is as a blasphemer;
And he that provoketh his mother is cursed of the Lord.

17 My son, go on with thy business in meekness;
So shalt thou be beloved of an acceptable man.

18 The greater thou art, humble thyself the more,
And thou shalt find favour before the Lord.<sup>1</sup>

20 For great is the potency of the Lord,
And he is glorified of them that are lowly.

21 Seek not things that are too hard for thee,
And search not out things that are above thy strength.

22 The things that have been commanded thee, think thereupon;
For thou hast no need of the things that are secret.

23 Be not over busy in thy superfluous works:
For more things are shewed unto thee than men can understand.

24 For the conceit of many hath led them astray;
And evil surmising hath caused their judgement to slip.<sup>2</sup>

26 A stubborn heart shall fare ill at the last;
And he that loveth danger shall perish therein.

27 A stubborn heart shall be laden with troubles;
And the sinner shall heap sin upon <sup>3</sup>sin.

28 The calamity of the proud is no healing;
For a plant of wickedness hath taken root in him.

29 The heart of the prudent will understand a parable;
And the ear of a listener is the desire of a wise man.

30 Water will quench a flaming fire;

And almsgiving will make atonement for sins.

31 He that requiteth good turns is mindful of that which cometh afterward;
And in the time of his falling he shall find a support.

4 My son, deprive not the poor of his living,
And make not the needy eyes to wait long.

2 Make not a hungry soul sorrowful;
Neither provoke a man in his distress.

3 To a heart that is provoked add not more trouble;
And defer not to give to him that is in need.

4 Reject not a suppliant in his affliction;
And turn not away thy face from a poor man.

5 Turn not away thine eye from one that asketh of thee,
And give none occasion to a man to curse thee:

6 For if he curse thee in the bitterness of his soul,
He that made him will hear his supplication.

7 Get thyself the love of the congregation;
And to a great man bow thy head.

8 Incline thine ear to a poor man,
And answer him with peaceable words in meekness.

9 Deliver him that is wronged from the hand of him that wrongeth him;
And be not fainthearted in giving judgement.

10 Be as a father unto the fatherless,
And instead of a husband unto their mother:
So shalt thou be as a son of the Most High,
And he shall love thee more than thy mother doth.

11 Wisdom exalteth her sons,
And taketh hold of them that seek her.

And where <sup>4</sup>he entereth, the Lord will bless.

14 They that do her service shall minister to the Holy One;
And them that love her the Lord doth love.

15 He that giveth ear unto her shall judge the nations;

way unto him,

And will gladden him, and reveal to him her secrets.

19 If he go astray, she will forsake him,
And give him over <sup>1</sup>to his fall.

20 Observe the opportunity, and beware of <sup>2</sup>evil;

And be not ashamed concerning thy soul.

21 For there is a shame that bringeth sin;
And there is a shame that is glory and 25 Speak not against the truth;

And be ashamed for thine ignorance.

26 Be not ashamed to make confession of thy sins;

And force not the current of the river.

27 Lay not thyself down for a fool to 5 Concerning atonement, be not without fear,

To add sin upon sins:

6 And say not, His compassion is great;
He will be pacified for the multitude of my sins:

For mercy and wrath are with him,
And his indignation will rest upon sinners.

7 Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord;
And put not off from day to day:

For suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord come forth;<sup>9</sup>

And thou shalt perish in the time of vengeance.

8 Set not thine heart upon unrighteous gains:

For thou shalt profit nothing in the day of calamity.

9 Winnow not with every wind,
And walk not in every path:

Thus doeth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

10 Be stedfast in thy understanding;

13 Glory and dishonour is in talk:

And the tongue of a man is his fall.

14 Be not called a whisperer;
And lie not in wait with thy tongue:

For upon the thief there is shame,
And an evil condemnation upon him
that hath a double tongue.

15 In a great matter and in a small, be not ignorant;

6 And instead of a friend become not an enemy;

For an evil name shall inherit shame
and reproach:

Even so shall the sinner that hath a double tongue.

2 Exalt not thyself in the counsel of thy soul;

That thy soul be not torn in pieces as a bull:

3 Thou shalt eat up thy leaves, and destroy thy fruits,

And leave thyself as a dry tree.

4 A wicked soul shall destroy him that hath gotten it,

And shall make him <sup>11</sup>a laughingstock to his enemies.

5 <sup>12</sup>Sweet words will multiply <sup>13</sup>a man's

For thou knowest not what <sup>1</sup>he will bring forth.
- 19 Open not thine heart to every man;
And let him not return thee a favour.
- 9 Be not jealous over the wife of thy bosom,
And teach her not an evil lesson against thyself.
- 2 Give not thy soul unto a woman,
That she should set her foot upon thy strength.
- 3 Go not to meet a woman that playeth the harlot,
Lest haply thou fall into her snares.
- 4 Use not the company of a woman that is a singer,
Lest haply thou be caught by her attempts.
- 5 Gaze not on a maid, lest haply thou be trapped in her penalties.
- 6 Give not thy soul unto harlots,
That thou lose not thine inheritance.
- 7 Look not round about thee in the streets of the city,
Neither wander thou in the solitary places thereof.
- 8 Turn away thine eye from a comely woman,
And gaze not on another's beauty:
By the beauty of a woman many have been led astray;
And herewith love is kindled as a fire.
- 9 Sit not at all with a woman that hath a husband;<sup>2</sup>
And revel not with her at the wine;
Lest haply thy soul turn aside unto her,
And with thy spirit thou slide into destruction.
- 10 Forsake not an old friend;
For the new is not comparable to him:
As new wine, so is a new friend;
If it become old, thou shalt drink it with gladness.
- 11 Envy not the glory of a sinner;
For thou knowest not what shall be his overthrow.

And if thou come unto him, commit no fault,
Lest he take away thy life:
Know surely that thou goest about in the midst of snares,
And walkest upon the battlements of a city.
- 14 As well as thou canst, guess at thy neighbours;
And take counsel with the wise.
- 15 Let thy converse be with men of understanding;
And let all thy discourse be in the law of the Most High.
- 16 Let just men be the companions of thy board;
And let thy glorying be in the fear of the Lord.
- 17 For the hand of the artificers a work shall be commended:
And he that ruleth the people shall be counted wise for his speech.
- 18 A man full of tongue is dangerous in his city;
And he that is headlong in his speech shall be hated.
- 10 A wise judge will instruct his people;
And the government of a man of understanding shall be well ordered.
- 2 As is the judge of his people, so are his ministers;
And as is the ruler of the city, such are all they that dwell therein.
- 3 An uninstructed king will destroy his people;
And a city will be established through the understanding of the powerful.
- 4 In the hand of the Lord is the authority of the earth;
And in due time he will raise up over it one that is profitable.
- 5 In the hand of the Lord is the prosperity of a man;
And upon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.
- 6 Be not wroth with thy neighbour for every wrong;
And do nothing by works of violence.
- 7 Pride is hateful before the Lord and before men;
And in the judgement of both will unrighteousness err.
- 8 Sovereignty is transferred from nation to nation,

9<sup>1</sup> Why is earth and ashes proud? <sup>2</sup>
Because in his life he hath cast away his bowels.

10 It is a long disease; the physician
mocketh:
And he is a king to-day, and to-morrow
he shall die.

11 For when a man is dead,
He shall inherit creeping things, and beasts, and worms.

12 It is the beginning of pride when a man departeth from the Lord;
And his heart is departed from him that made him.

13 For the beginning of pride is sin;
And he that keepeth it will pour forth abomination.
For this cause the Lord brought upon them strange calamities,
And overthrew them utterly.

14 The Lord cast down the thrones of rulers,
And set the meek in their stead.

15 The Lord plucked up the roots of nations,
And planted the lowly in their stead.

16 The Lord overthrew the lands of nations,
And destroyed them unto the foundations of the earth.

17 He took some of them away, and destroyed them,
And made their memorial to cease from the earth.

18 Pride hath not been created for men,
Nor wrathful anger for the offspring of women.

19<sup>3</sup> What manner of seed hath honour?
the seed of man.
What manner of seed hath honour?
they that fear the Lord.
What manner of seed hath no honour?
the seed of man.
What manner of seed hath no honour?
they that transgress the commandments.

20 In the midst of brethren he that ruleth them hath honour;
And in the eyes of the Lord they that fear him.<sup>4</sup>

22 The rich man, and the honourable,
and the poor,
Their glorying is the fear of the Lord.

23 It is not right to dishonour a poor man that hath understanding;
And it is not fitting to glorify a man that is a sinner.

24 The great man, and the judge, and the mighty man, shall be glorified;
And there is not one of them greater than he that feareth the Lord.

25 Free men shall minister unto a wise servant;
And a man that hath knowledge will not murmur thereat.

26 Be not over wise in doing thy work;
And glorify not thyself in the time of thy distress.

27<sup>5</sup> Better is he that laboureth, and aboundeth in all things,
Than he that glorifieth himself, and lacketh bread.

28 My son, glorify thy soul in meekness,
And give it honour according to the worthiness thereof.

29 Who will justify him that sinneth against his own soul?
And who will glorify him that dishonoureth his own life?

30 A poor man is glorified for his knowledge;
And a rich man is glorified for his riches.

31 But he that is glorified in poverty,
how much more in riches?
And he that is inglorious in riches, how much more in poverty?

11 The wisdom of the lowly shall lift up his head,
And make him to sit in the midst of great men.

2 Commend not a man for his beauty;
And abhor not a man for his outward appearance.

3 The bee is little among such as fly;
And her fruit is the chief of sweetmeats.

4 Glory not in the putting on of raiment,
And exalt not thyself in the day of honour;
For the works of the Lord are wonderful,
And his works are hidden among men.

5 Many<sup>6</sup> kings have sat down upon the ground;
And one that was never thought of hath worn a diadem.

6 Many mighty men have been greatly disgraced;
And men of renown have been delivered into other men's hands.

7 Blame not before thou hast examined:
Understand first, and then rebuke.

8 Answer not before thou hast heard;
And interrupt not in the midst of speech.

9 Strive not in a matter that concerneth thee not;
And where sinners judge, sit not thou with them.

10 My son, be not busy about many matters:
For if thou meddle much, thou shalt not be unpunished;
And if thou pursue, thou shalt not overtake;
And thou shalt not escape by fleeing.

And is so much the more behind.

12 There is one that is sluggish, and hath need of help,

Lacking in strength, and that aboundeth in poverty;
 And the eyes of the Lord looked upon him for good,
 And he set him up from his low estate,
 13 And lifted up his head;
 And many marvelled at him.

14 Good things and evil, life and death,
 Poverty and riches, are from the Lord.<sup>1</sup>
 17 The gift of the Lord remaineth with the godly,
 And his good pleasure shall prosper for ever.

18 There is that waxeth rich by his wariness and pinching,
 And this is the portion of his reward:
 19 When he saith, I have found rest,
 And now will I eat of my goods;
 Yet he knoweth not what time shall pass,
 And he shall leave them to others, and die.

20 Be stedfast in thy covenant, and be conversant therein,
 And wax old in thy work.

21 Marvel not at the works of a sinner;
 But trust the Lord, and abide in thy labour:
 For it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord swiftly on the sudden to make a poor man rich.

22 The blessing of the Lord is in the reward of the godly;
 And in an hour that cometh swiftly he maketh his blessing to flourish.

23 Say not, What use is there of me?
 And what from henceforth shall my good things be?

24 Say not, I have sufficient,
 And from henceforth what harm shall happen unto me?

25 In the day of good things there is a forgetfulness of evil things;
 And in the day of evil things a man will not remember things that are good.

26 For it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord
 To reward a man in the day of death according to his ways.

27 The affliction of an hour causeth forgetfulness of delight;
 And in the last end of a man is the revelation of his deeds.

28 Call no man blessed before his death;
 And a man shall be known in his children.

29 Bring not every man into thine house;
 For many are the plots of the deceitful man.

30 As a decoy partridge in a cage, so is the heart of a proud man;
 And as one that is a spy, he looketh upon thy falling.

31 For he lieth in wait to turn things that are good into evil;

And in things that are praiseworthy he will lay blame.

32 From a spark of fire a heap of many coals is kindled;
 And a sinful man lieth in wait for blood.

33 Take heed of an evil-doer, for he contriveth wicked things;
 Lest haply he bring upon thee blame for ever.

34 Receive a stranger into thine house, and he will distract thee with brawls, and estrange thee from thine own.

12 If thou do good, know to whom thou doest it;
 And thy good deeds shall have thanks.

2 Do good to a godly man, and thou shalt find a recompense;
 And if not from him, yet from the Most High.

3 There shall no good come to him that continueth to do evil,
 Nor to him that giveth no alms.

4 Give to the godly man,
 And help not the sinner.

5 Do good to one that is lowly,
 And give not to an ungodly man:
 Keep back his bread, and give it not to him,
 Lest he overmaster thee thereby:
 For thou shalt receive twice as much evil
 For all the good thou shalt have done unto him.

6 For the Most High also hateth sinners,
 And will repay vengeance unto the ungodly.<sup>2</sup>

7 Give to the good man,
 And help not the sinner.

8 A man's friend will not be <sup>8</sup>fully tried in prosperity;
 And his enemy will not be hidden in adversity.

9 In a man's prosperity his enemies are grieved;
 And in his adversity even his friend will be separated from him.

10 Never trust thine enemy:
 For like as the brass rusteth, so is his wickedness.

11 Though he humble himself, and go crouching,
 Yet take good heed, and beware of him,
 And thou shalt be unto him as one that hath wiped a mirror,
 And thou shalt know that <sup>4</sup>he hath not utterly rusted it.

12 Set him not by thee,
 Lest he overthrow thee and stand in thy place;
 Let him not sit on thy right hand,
 Lest he seek to take thy seat,
 And at the last thou acknowledge my words,
 And be pricked with my sayings.

<sup>4</sup> Or, it hath not utterly rusted him

14 Even so who will pity him that goeth to a sinner,
And is mingled with him in his sins?
15 For a while he will abide with thee,
And if thou give way, he will not hold out.
16 And the enemy will speak sweetly with his lips,
And in his heart take counsel how to overthrow thee into a pit:
The enemy will weep with his eyes,
And if he find opportunity, he will not be satiated with blood.
17 If adversity meet thee, thou shalt find him there before thee;
And as though he would help thee, he will trip up thy heel.
18 He will shake his head, and clap his hands,
And whisper much, and change his countenance.

13 He that toucheth pitch shall be defiled;
And he that hath fellowship with a proud man shall become like unto him.
2 Take not up a burden above thy strength;
And have no fellowship with one that is mightier and richer than thyself.
What fellowship shall the earthen pot have with the kettle?
This shall smite, and that shall be dashed in pieces.
3 The rich man doeth a wrong, and he threateneth withal:
The poor is wronged, and he shall in-treat withal.
4 If thou be profitable, he will make merchandise of thee;
And if thou be in want, he will forsake thee.
5 If thou have substance, he will live with thee;
And he will make thee bare, and will not be sorry.
6 Hath he had need of thee? then he will deceive thee,
And smile upon thee, and give thee hope:
He will speak thee fair, and say, What needest thou?
7 And he will shame thee by his meats,
Until he have made thee bare twice or thrice,
And at the last he will laugh thee to scorn:
Afterward will he see thee, and will forsake thee,
And shake his head at thee.
8 Beware that thou be not deceived, and brought low in thy mirth.
9 If a mighty man invite thee, be retiring,
And so much the more will he invite thee.
10 Press not upon him, lest thou be thrust back;

And stand not far off, lest thou be forgotten.
11 Affect not to speak with him as an equal,
And believe not his many words:
For with much talk will he try thee,
And in a smiling manner will search thee out.
12 He that keepeth not to himself words spoken is unmerciful;
And he will not spare to hurt and to bind.
13 Keep them to thyself, and take earnest heed,
For thou walkest <sup>1</sup>in peril of thy falling.<sup>2</sup>

15 Every living creature loveth his like,
And every man loveth his neighbour.
16 All flesh consorteth according to kind,
And a man will cleave to his like.
17 What fellowship shall the wolf have with the lamb?
So is the sinner unto the godly.
18 What peace is there between the hyena and the dog?
And what peace between the rich man and the poor?
19 Wild asses are the prey of lions in the wilderness;
So poor men are pasture for the rich.
20 Lowliness is an abomination to a proud man;
So a poor man is an abomination to the rich.

21 A rich man when he is shaken is held up of his friends;
But one of low degree being down is thrust away also by his friends.
22 When a rich man is fallen, there are many helpers;
He speaketh <sup>3</sup>things not to be spoken, and men justify him:
A man of low degree falleth, and men rebuke him withal;
He uttereth wisdom, and no place is allowed him.
23 A rich man speaketh, and all keep silence;
And what he saith they extol to the clouds:
A poor man speaketh, and they say, Who is this?
And if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.

24 Riches are good that have no sin;
And poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.
25 The heart of a man changeth his countenance,
Whether it be for good or for evil.<sup>4</sup>
26 A cheerful countenance is a token of a heart that is in prosperity;
And the finding out of parables is a weariness of thinking.
14 Blessed is the man that hath not slipped with his mouth,

- 3 Riches are not comely for a niggard;
And what should an envious man do with money?
- 4 He that gathereth by taking from his own soul gathereth for others;
And others shall revel in his goods.
- 5 He that is evil to himself, to whom will he be good?
And he shall not rejoice in his possessions.
- 6 There is none more evil than he that envieth himself;
And this is a recompense of his wickedness.
- 7 Even if he doeth good, he doeth it in forgetfulness;
And at the last he sheweth forth his wickedness.
- 8 Evil is he that envieth with his eye,
Turning away the face, and despising the souls of men.
- 9 A covetous man's eye is not satisfied with his portion;
And wicked injustice drieth up his soul.
- 10 An evil eye is grudging of bread,
And he is miserly at his table.
- 11 My son, according as thou hast, do well unto thyself,

1 Gr. him . 2 Verse 5 is omitted by the best authorities.	4 He put the fear of <sup>1</sup> man upon all flesh, And gave him to have dominion over beasts and fowls. <sup>2</sup> 6 Counsel, and tongue, and eyes, Ears, and heart, gave he them to understand withal. 7 He filled them with the knowledge of wisdom, And shewed them good and evil. 8 He set his eye upon their hearts, To shew them the majesty of his works. <sup>3</sup>	And his forgiveness unto them that turn unto him! 30 For all things cannot be in men, Because the son of man is not immortal. 31 What is brighter than the sun? yet this faileth: And an evil man will think on flesh and blood. 32 He looketh upon the power of the height of heaven: And all men are earth and ashes.
3 Verse 9 is omitted by the best authorities.	10 And they shall praise the name of his holiness, 4 That they may declare the majesty of his works. 11 He added unto them knowledge, And gave them a law of life for a heritage. 12 He made an everlasting covenant with them, And shewed them his judgements. 13 Their eyes saw the majesty of his glory; And their ear heard the glory of <sup>6</sup> his voice.	18 He that liveth for ever created all things in common. 2 The Lord alone shall be justified. <sup>11</sup> 4 To none hath he given power to declare his works: And who shall trace out his mighty deeds? 5 Who shall number the strength of his majesty? And who shall also tell out his mercies? 6 As for the wondrous works of the Lord, it is not possible to take from them nor add to them, Neither is it possible to track them out. 7 When a man hath finished, then he is but at the beginning; And when he ceaseth, then shall he be in perplexity. 8 What is man, and whereto serveth he? What is his good, and what is his evil? 9 The number of man's days at the most are a hundred years.
4 This line is added by the best authorities.	14 And he said unto them, Beware of all unrighteousness; And he gave them commandment, each man concerning his neighbour. 15 Their ways are ever before him; They shall not be hid from his eyes. <sup>6</sup> 17 For every nation he appointed a ruler; And Israel is the Lord's portion. <sup>6</sup> 19 All their works are as the sun before him; And his eyes are continually upon their ways.	5 Who shall number the strength of his majesty? And who shall also tell out his mercies? 6 As for the wondrous works of the Lord, it is not possible to take from them nor add to them, Neither is it possible to track them out. 7 When a man hath finished, then he is but at the beginning; And when he ceaseth, then shall he be in perplexity. 8 What is man, and whereto serveth he? What is his good, and what is his evil? 9 The number of man's days at the most are a hundred years. 10 As a drop of water from the sea, and a pebble from the sand; So are a few years in the day of eternity. 11 For this cause the Lord was long-suffering over them, And poured out his mercy upon them. 12 He saw and perceived their end, that it is evil; Therefore he multiplied his forgiveness.	11 The remainder of verse 2, and verse 3, are omitted by the best authorities.
5 Some ancient authorities read their .	20 Their iniquities are not hid from him; And all their sins are before the Lord. <sup>6</sup> 22 With him the alms of a man is as a signet; And he will keep the bounty of a man as the apple of the eye. <sup>8</sup> 23 Afterwards he will rise up and recompense them, And render their recompense upon their head. 24 Howbeit unto them that repent he granteth a return; And he comforteth them that are losing patience.	11 For this cause the Lord was long-suffering over them, And poured out his mercy upon them. 12 He saw and perceived their end, that it is evil; Therefore he multiplied his forgiveness. 13 The mercy of a man is upon his neighbour; But the mercy of the Lord is upon all flesh; Reproving, and chastening, and teaching, And bringing again, as a shepherd doth his flock. 14 He hath mercy on them that accept chastening, And that diligently seek after his judgements.
6 Verses 16, 18, and 21 are omitted by the best authorities.	25 Return unto the Lord, and forsake sins: Make thy prayer before his face, and lessen the offence. 26 Turn again to the Most High, and turn away from iniquity; <sup>9</sup> And greatly hate the abominable thing. 27 Who shall give praise to the Most High in <sup>10</sup> the grave, Instead of them which live and return thanks? 28 Thanksgiving perisheth from the dead, as from one that is not: He that is in life and health shall praise the Lord.	15 My son, to thy good deeds add no blemish; And no grief of words in any of thy giving. 16 Shall not the dew assuage the scorching heat? So is a word better than a gift. 17 Lo, is not a word better than a gift? And both are with a gracious man. 18 A fool will upbraid ungraciously;

10 Gr. Hades .

And the gift of an envious man consumeth the eyes.

- 19 Learn before thou speak ;
And have a care of thy health or ever thou be sick.
- 20 Before judgement examine thyself ;
And in the hour of visitation thou shalt find forgiveness.
- 21 Humble thyself before thou be sick ;
And in the time of sins shew repentance.
- 22 Let nothing hinder thee to pay thy vow in due time ;
And wait not until death to be justified.
- 23 Before thou makest a vow, prepare thyself ;
And be not as a man that tempteth the Lord.
- 24 Think upon the wrath that shall be in the days of the end,
And the time of vengeance, when he turneth away his face.
- 25 In the days of fulness remember the time of hunger,
And poverty and want in the days of wealth.
- 26 From morning until evening the time changeth ;
And all things are speedy before the Lord.
- 27 A wise man will fear in everything ;
And in days of sinning he will beware of offence.<sup>1</sup>
- 28 Every man of understanding knoweth wisdom ;
And he will give thanks unto him that found her.
- 29 They that were of understanding in sayings became also wise themselves,
And poured forth apt proverbs.
- 30 Go not after thy lusts ;
And refrain thyself from thine appetites.
- 31 If thou give fully to thy soul the delight of her desire,
She will make thee <sup>2</sup>the laughingstock of thine enemies.
- 32 Make not merry in much luxury ;
Neither be tied to the expense thereof.
- 33 Be not made a beggar by banqueting upon borrowing,
When thou hast nothing in thy purse.<sup>1</sup>
- 19 A workman that is a drunkard shall not become rich :
He that despiseth small things shall fall by little and little.
- 2 Wine and women will make men of understanding to fall away :
And he that cleaveth to harlots will be the more reckless.
- 3 Moths and worms shall have him to heritage ;
And a reckless soul shall be taken away.
- 4 He that is hasty to trust is light-minded ;

And he that sinneth shall offend against his own soul.

- 5 He that maketh merry in his heart shall be condemned :<sup>1</sup>
- 6 <sup>3</sup>And he that hateth talk hath the less wickedness.
- 7 Never repeat what is told thee,
And thou shalt fare never the worse.
- 8 Whether it be of friend or foe, tell it not ;
And unless it is a sin to thee, reveal it not.
- 9 For he hath heard thee, and observed thee,
And when the time cometh he will hate thee.
- 10 Hast thou heard a word ? let it die with thee :
Be of good courage, it will not burst thee.
- 11 A fool will travail in pain with a word,
As a woman in labour with a child.
- 12 As an arrow that sticketh in the <sup>4</sup>flesh of the thigh,
So is a word in a fool's belly.
- 13 Reprove a friend ; it may be he did it not :
And if he did something, that he may do it no more.
- 14 Reprove thy neighbour ; it may be he said it not :
And if he hath said it, that he may not say it again.
- 15 Reprove a friend ; for many times there is slander :
And trust not every word.
- 16 There is one that slippeth, and not from the heart :
And who is he that hath not sinned with his tongue ?
- 17 Reprove thy neighbour before thou threaten him ;
And give place to the law of the Most High.<sup>5</sup>
- 20 All wisdom is the fear of the Lord ;
And in all wisdom is the doing of the law.<sup>6</sup>
- 22 And the knowledge of wickedness is not wisdom ;
And the prudence of sinners is not counsel.
- 23 There is a wickedness, and the same is abomination ;
And there is a fool wanting in wisdom.
- 24 Better is one that hath small understanding, and feareth,
Than one that hath much prudence, and transgresseth the law.
- 25 There is an exquisite subtilty, and the same is unjust ;
And there is one that perverteth favour <sup>7</sup>to gain a judgement.<sup>1</sup>
- 26 There is one that doeth wickedly, that hangeth down his head with mourning ;
But inwardly he is full of deceit,
- 27 Bowing down his face, and making as if he were deaf of one ear :

<sup>2</sup> Or, a rejoicing to

Where he is not known, he will be beforehand with thee.

23 And if for want of power he be hindered from sinning,
If he find opportunity, he will do mischief.

29 A man shall be known by his look,
And one that hath understanding shall be known by his face, when thou meetest him.

30 A man's attire, and <sup>1</sup>grinning laughter,
And gait, shew what he is.

20 There is a reproof that is not comely;
And there is a man that keepeth silence, and he is wise.

2 How good is it to reprove, rather than to be wroth;
And he that maketh confession shall be kept back from hurt.<sup>2</sup>

4 As is the lust of an eunuch to deflower a virgin;
So is he that executeth judgements with violence.

5 There is one that keepeth silence, and is found wise;
And there is one that is hated for his much talk.

6 There is one that keepeth silence, for he hath no answer to make;
And there is that keepeth silence, as knowing his time.

7 A wise man will be silent till his time come;
But the braggart and fool will overpass his time.

8 He that useth many words shall be abhorred;
And he that taketh to himself authority therein shall be hated.

9 There is a prosperity that a man findeth in misfortunes;
And there is a gain that turneth to loss.

10 There is a gift that shall not profit thee;
And there is a gift whose recompense is double.

11 There is an abasement because of glory;
And there is that hath lifted up his head from a low estate.

12 There is that buyeth much for a little,
And payeth for it again sevenfold.

13 He that is wise in words shall make himself beloved;
But the pleasantries of fools shall be wasted.

14 The gift of a fool shall not profit thee<sup>3</sup>;
For his eyes are many instead of one.

15 He will give little, and upbraid much;
And he will open his mouth like a crier:

To-day he will lend, and to-morrow he will ask it again:
Such an one is a hateful man.

16 The fool will say, I have no friend,
And I have no thanks for my good deeds;

They that eat my bread are of evil tongue.

17 How oft, and of how many, shall he be laughed to scorn!<sup>4</sup>

18 A slip on a pavement is better than a slip with the tongue;
So the fall of the wicked shall come speedily.

19 A man without grace is as a tale out of season:
It will be continually in the mouth of the ignorant.

20 A <sup>5</sup>wise sentence from a fool's mouth will be rejected;
For he will not speak it in its season.

21 There is that is hindered from sinning through want;
And when he taketh rest, he shall not be troubled.

22 There is that destroyeth his soul through bashfulness;
And by a foolish countenance he will destroy it.

23 There is that for bashfulness promiseth to his friend;
And he maketh him his enemy for nothing.

24 A lie is a foul blot in a man:
It will be continually in the mouth of the ignorant.

25 A thief is better than a man that is continually lying:
But they both shall inherit destruction.

26 The disposition of a liar is dishonour;
And his shame is with him continually.

27 He that is wise in words shall advance himself;
And one that is prudent will please great men.

28 He that tilleth his land shall raise his heap high;
And he that pleaseth great men shall get pardon for iniquity.

29 Presents and gifts blind the eyes of the wise,
And as a muzzle on the mouth, turn away reproofs.

30 Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is out of sight,

What profit is in them both?
31 Better is a man that hideth his folly Than a man that hideth his wisdom.<sup>6</sup>

21 My son, hast thou sinned? add no more thereto;
And make supplication for thy former sins.

2 Flee from sin as from the face of a serpent;
For if thou draw nigh it will bite thee:
The teeth thereof are the teeth of a lion,
Slaying the souls of men.

3 All iniquity is as a two-edged sword;
Its stroke hath no healing.

4 Terror and violence will lay waste
riches;
So the house of a haughty man shall be laid waste.

5 Supplication from a poor man's mouth
reacheth to the ears of <sup>1</sup>God,
And his judgement cometh speedily.

6 One that hateth reproof is in the path of the sinner;
And he that feareth the Lord will turn again in his heart.

7 He that is mighty in tongue is known afar off:
But the man of understanding knoweth
when he slippeth.

8 He that buildeth his house with other men's money
Is like one that gathereth himself stones against winter.

9 The congregation of wicked men is as tow wrapped together;

10 The way of sinners is made smooth with stones;
And at the last end thereof is the pit of Hades.

11 He that keepeth the law becometh master of the intent thereof;
And the end of the fear of the Lord is wisdom.

12 He that is not clever will not be instructed;
And there is a cleverness which maketh bitterness to abound.

13 The knowledge of a wise man shall be made to abound as a flood;
And his counsel as a fountain of life.

14 The inward parts of a fool are like a broken vessel;
And he will hold no knowledge.

15 If a man of knowledge hear a wise word,
He will commend it, and add unto it:
The dissolute man heareth it, and it
displeaseth him,
And he putteth it away behind his back.

16 The discourse of a fool is like a burden in the way;
But grace shall be found on the lips of the wise.

17 The mouth of the prudent man shall be sought for in the congregation;
And they will ponder his words in their heart.

18 As a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool;
And the knowledge of an unwise man is as <sup>2</sup>talk without sense.

19 Instruction is as fetters on the feet of an unwise man,
And as manacles on the right hand.

20 A fool lifteth up his voice with laughter;
But a clever man will scarce smile quietly.

21 Instruction is to a prudent man as an ornament of gold,
And as a bracelet upon his right arm.

22 The foot of a fool is soon in another man's house;
But a man of experience will be ashamed of entering.

23 A foolish man peepeth in from the door of another man's house;
But a man that is instructed will stand without.

24 It is a want of instruction in a man to listen at the door;
But the prudent man will be grieved with the disgrace.

25 <sup>3</sup>The lips of strangers will be grieved at these things;
But the words of prudent men will be weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fools is in their mouth;
But the mouth of wise men is their
heart.

27 When the ungodly curseth Satan,
He curseth his own soul.

28 A whisperer defileth his own soul,
And shall be hated wheresoever he sojourneth.

22 A slothful man is compared to a stone that is defiled;
And every one will hiss him out in his disgrace.

2 A slothful man is compared to the filth of a dunghill:
Every man that taketh it up will shake out his hand.

3 A father hath shame in having begotten an uninstructed son;
And a foolish daughter is born to his loss.

4 A prudent daughter shall inherit a husband of her own;
And she that bringeth shame is the grief of him that begat her.

5 She that is bold bringeth shame upon father and husband;
And she shall be despised of them both.

6 Unseasonable discourse is as music in mourning;
But stripes and correction are wisdom
at every season.

7 He that teacheth a fool is as one that glueth a potsherd together;
Even as one that waketh a sleeper out of a deep sleep.

8 He that discourseth to a fool is as one discoursing to a man that slumber-

11 Weep for the dead, for light hath failed him;
And weep for a fool, for understanding hath failed him:
Weep more sweetly for the dead, because he hath found rest;
But the life of the fool is worse than death.

12 Seven days are the days of mourning for the dead;
But for a fool and an ungodly man, all the days of his life.

13 Talk not much with a foolish man,
And go not to one that hath no understanding:
Beware of him, lest thou have trouble;
And so thou shalt not be <sup>1</sup>defiled in his onslaught:
Turn aside from him, and thou shalt find rest;
And so thou shalt not be wearied in his madness.

14 What shall be heavier than lead?
And what is the name thereof, but a fool?

15 Sand, and salt, and a mass of iron, is easier to bear,
Than a man without understanding.

16 Timber girt and bound into a building shall not be loosed with shaking:
So a heart established in due season on well advised counsel shall not be afraid.

17 A heart settled upon a thoughtful understanding
Is as an ornament of plaister on a polished wall.

18 Pales set on a high place will not stand against the wind:
So a fearful heart in the imagination of a fool will not stand against any fear.

19 He that pricketh the eye will make tears to fall;
And he that pricketh the heart maketh it to shew feeling.

20 Whoso casteth a stone at birds frayeth them away;
And he that upbraideth a friend will dissolve friendship.

21 If thou hast drawn a sword against a friend, despair not;
For there may be a returning.

22 If thou hast opened thy mouth against a friend, fear not;
For there may be a reconciling;
Except it be for upbraiding, and arrogance, and disclosing of a secret, and a treacherous blow:
For these things every friend will flee.

23 Gain trust with thy neighbour in his poverty,
That in his prosperity thou mayest have gladness:
Abide steadfast unto him in the time of his affliction,

<sup>1</sup> Or, defiled; in his onslaught turn

That thou mayest be heir with him in his inheritance.<sup>2</sup>

24 Before fire is the vapour and smoke of a furnace;
So revilings before bloodshed.

25 I will not be ashamed to shelter a friend;
And I will not hide myself from his face:

26 And if any evil happen unto me because of him,
Every one that heareth it will beware of him.

27 Who shall set a watch over my mouth,
And a seal of shrewdness upon my lips,
That I fall not from it, and that my tongue destroy me not?

28 O Lord, Father and Master of my life,
Abandon me not to their counsel:
Suffer me not to fall by them.

29 Who will set scourges over my thought,
And a discipline of wisdom over mine heart?
That they spare me not for mine ignorances,
And my heart pass not by their sins:

30 That mine ignorances be not multiplied,
And my sins abound not;
And I shall fall before mine adversaries,
And mine enemy rejoice over me.<sup>3</sup>

40 Lord, Father and God of my life,
Give me not a <sup>3</sup>proud look,<sup>2</sup>

5 And turn away concupiscence from me.<sup>2</sup>

6 Let not <sup>4</sup>greediness and chambering overtake me;
And give me not over to a shameless mind.

7 Hear ye, my children, the discipline of the mouth;
And he that keepeth it shall not be taken.

8 The sinner shall be <sup>5</sup>overtaken in his lips;
And the reviler and the proud man shall stumble therein.

9 Accustom not thy mouth to an oath;
And be not accustomed to the naming of the Holy One.

10 For as a servant that is continually scourged shall not lack a bruise,
So he also that sweareth and nameth God continually shall not be cleansed from sin.

11 A man of many oaths shall be filled with iniquity;
And the scourge shall not depart from his house:
If he shall offend, his sin shall be upon him;
And if he disregard it, he hath sinned doubly;
And if he hath sworn in vain, he shall not be justified;
For his house shall be filled with calamities.

- 12 There is a manner of speech that is clothed about with death:
Let it not be found in the heritage of Jacob;
For all these things shall be far from the godly,
And they shall not wallow in sins.
- 13 Accustom not thy mouth to gross rudeness,
For therein is the word of sin.
- 14 Remember thy father and thy mother,
For thou sittest in the midst of great men;
That thou be not forgetful before them,
And become a fool by thy custom;
So shalt thou wish that thou hadst not been born,
And curse the day of thy nativity.
- 15 A man that is accustomed to words of reproach
Will not be corrected all the days of his life.
- 16 Two sorts of men multiply sins,
And the third will bring wrath:
A hot mind, as a burning fire, will not be quenched till it be consumed:
A fornicator in the body of his flesh will never cease till he hath<sup>1</sup> burned out the fire.
- 17 All bread is sweet to a fornicator:
He will not leave off till he die.
- 18 A man that goeth astray from his own bed,

Darkness is round about me, and the walls hide me,
And no man seeth me; of whom am I afraid?
The Most High will not remember my sins;
- 19—And the eyes of men are his terror,
And he knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter than the sun,
Beholding all the ways of men,
And looking into secret places.
- 20 All things were known unto him or ever they were created;
And in like manner also after they were perfected.
- 21 This man shall be punished in the streets of the city;
And where he suspected not he shall be taken.
- 22 So also a wife that leaveth her husband,
And bringeth in an heir by a stranger.
- 23 For first, she was disobedient in the law of the Most High;
And secondly, she trespassed against her own husband;
And thirdly, she played the adulteress in whoredom,
And brought in children by a stranger.
- 24 She shall be brought out into the congregation;
And upon her children shall there be visitation.
- 25 Her children shall not spread into roots,
And her branches shall bear no fruit.
- 26 She shall leave her memory for a curse;
And her reproach shall not be blotted out.
- 27 And they that are left behind shall know that there is nothing better than the fear of the Lord,
And nothing sweeter than to take heed unto the commandments of the Lord.<sup>2</sup>
- 24 Wisdom shall praise<sup>3</sup> herself,
And shall glory in the midst of her people.
- 2 In the congregation of the Most High shall she open her mouth,
And glory in the presence of his power.
- 3 I came forth from the mouth of the Most High,
And covered the earth as a mist.
- 4 I dwelt in high places,
And my throne is in the pillar of the cloud.
- 5 Alone I compassed the circuit of heaven,
And walked in the depth of the abyss.
- 6 In the waves of the sea, and in all the earth,
And in every people and nation, I got a possession.
- 7 With all these I sought rest;
And in whose inheritance shall I lodge?
- 8 Then the Creator of all things gave me a commandment;
And he that created me made my tabernacle to rest,
And said, Let thy tabernacle be in Jacob,
And thine inheritance in Israel.
- 9 He created me from the beginning before the world;
And to the end I shall not fail.
- 10 In the holy tabernacle I ministered before him;
And so was I established in Sion.
- 11 In the beloved city likewise he gave me rest;
And in Jerusalem was my authority.
- 12 And I took root in a people that was glorified,
Even in the portion of the Lord's own inheritance.
- 13 I was exalted like a cedar in Libanus,
And as a cypress tree on the mountains of Hermon.
- 14 I was exalted like a palm tree on the sea shore,
And as rose plants in Jericho,
And as a fair olive tree in the plain;
And I was exalted as a plane tree.

And my flowers are the fruit of glory and riches.<sup>2</sup>

19 Come unto me, ye that are desirous of me,

And be ye filled with my produce.

20 For my memorial is sweeter than honey,

And mine inheritance than the honeycomb.

21 They that eat me shall yet be hungry;
And they that drink me shall yet be thirsty.

22 He that obeyeth me shall not be ashamed;

And they that work in me shall not do amiss.

23 All these things are the book of the covenant of the Most High God,
Even the law which Moses commanded us for a heritage unto the assemblies of Jacob.<sup>3</sup>

25 It is he that maketh wisdom abundant,
as Pishon,

And as Tigris in the days of new fruits;

26 That maketh understanding full as Euphrates,

And as Jordan in the days of harvest;

27 That maketh instruction to shine forth
as the light,

As Gihon in the days of vintage.

28 The first man knew her not perfectly;
And in like manner the last hath not traced her out.

29 For her thoughts are filled from the sea,

And her counsels from the great deep.

30 And I came out as a <sup>4</sup> stream from a river,

And as a conduit into a garden.

31 I said, I will water my garden,
And will water abundantly my garden bed;

And, lo, my stream became a river,

And my river became a sea.

32 I will yet bring instruction to light as the morning,

And will make <sup>5</sup> these things to shine forth afar off.

33 I will yet pour out doctrine as prophecy,
And leave it unto generations of ages.

34 Behold that I have not laboured for myself only,

But for all them that diligently seek
her.

25 In three things I was beautified,
And stood up beautiful before the Lord and men:

The concord of brethren, and friendship of neighbours,

And a woman and her husband that walk together in agreement.

2 But three sorts of men my soul hateth,
And I am greatly offended at their life:

A poor man that is haughty, and a rich man that is a liar,

And an old man that is an adulterer lacking understanding.

3 In thy youth thou hast not gathered,
And how shouldest thou find in thine old age?

4 How beautiful a thing is judgement
for gray hairs,

And for elders to know counsel!

5 How beautiful is the wisdom of old men,
And thought and counsel to men that are in honour!

6 Much experience is the crown of old men;

And their glorying is the fear of the Lord.

7 There be nine things that I have thought of, and in mine heart counted happy;

And the tenth I will utter with my tongue:

A man that hath joy of his children;

A man that liveth and looketh upon the fall of his enemies:

8 Happy is he that dwelleth with a wife
of understanding;

And he that hath not slipped with his
tongue;

And he that hath not served a man
that is unworthy of him:

9 Happy is he that hath found prudence;
And he that discourseth in the ears of them that listen.

10 How great is he that hath found wisdom!

Yet is there none above him that feareth
the Lord.

11 The fear of the Lord passeth all things:
He that holdeth it, to whom shall he be likened?<sup>6</sup>

13 Give me any plague but the plague of the heart;

And any wickedness but the wickedness of a woman;

14 Any calamity, but a calamity from them that hate me;

And any vengeance, but the vengeance of enemies.

15 There is no head above the head of a serpent;

And there is no wrath above the wrath of an enemy.

16 I will rather dwell with a lion and a dragon,

Than keep house with a wicked woman.

17 The wickedness of a woman changeth her look,

And darkeneth her countenance as a bear doth.

18 Her husband shall sit at meat among his neighbours,
And when he heareth it he sigheth bitterly.

19 All malice is but little to the malice of a woman:
Let the portion of a sinner fall on her.

20 As the going up a sandy way is to the feet of the aged,
So is a wife full of words to a quiet man.

21 Throw not thyself upon the beauty of a woman;
And desire not a woman for her beauty.

22 There is anger, and impudence, and great reproach,
If a woman maintain her husband.

23 A wicked woman is abasement of heart,
And sadness of countenance, and a wounded heart:
A woman that will not make her husband happy
Is as hands that hang down, and palsied knees.

24 From a woman was the beginning of sin;
And because of her we all die.

25 Give not water an outlet;
Neither to a wicked woman freedom of speech.

26 If she go not <sup>1</sup>as thou wouldest have her,
Cut her off from thy flesh.<sup>2</sup>

26 Happy is the husband of a good wife;
And the number of his days shall be twofold.

2 A brave woman rejoiceth her husband;
And he shall fulfil his years in peace.

3 A good wife is a good portion:
She shall be given in the portion of such as fear the Lord.

4 Whether a man be rich or poor,
A good heart maketh at all times a cheerful countenance.

5 Of three things my heart was afraid;
And concerning the fourth <sup>3</sup>kind I made supplication:
The slander of a city, and the assembly of a multitude, and a false accusation:
All these are more grievous than death.

6 A grief of heart and sorrow is a woman that is jealous of another woman,
And the scourge of a tongue communicating to all.

7 A wicked woman is as a yoke of oxen shaken to and fro:
He that taketh hold of her is as one that graspeth a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman causeth great wrath;
And she will not cover her own shame.

9 The whoredom of a woman is in the lifting up of her eyes;
And it shall be known by her eyelids.

10 Keep strict watch on a headstrong daughter,
Lest she find liberty for herself, and use it.

11 Look well after an impudent eye;
And marvel not if it trespass against thee.

12 She will open her mouth, as a thirsty traveller,
And drink of every water that is near:
At every post will she sit down,
And open her quiver against any arrow.

13 The grace of a wife will delight her husband;
And her knowledge will fatten his bones.

14 A silent woman is a gift of the Lord;
And there is nothing so much worth as a well-instructed soul.

15 A shamefast woman is grace upon grace;
And there is no <sup>4</sup>price worthy of a continent soul.

16 As the sun when it ariseth in the highest places of the Lord,
So is the beauty of a good wife in the ordering of <sup>5</sup>a man's house.

17 As the lamp that shineth upon the holy candlestick,
So is the beauty of the face in ripe age.

18 As the golden pillars are upon a base of silver,
So are beautiful feet with the breasts of one that is stedfast.<sup>6</sup>

28 For two things my heart is grieved;
And for the third anger cometh upon me:
A man of war that suffereth for poverty;
And men of understanding that are counted as refuse:
One that turneth back from righteousness to sin;
The Lord shall prepare him for the sword.

29 A merchant shall hardly keep himself from wrong doing;
And a huckster shall not be acquitted of sin.

27 Many have sinned for a thing indifferent;
And he that seeketh to multiply gain will turn his eye away.

2 A nail will stick fast between the joinings of stones;
And sin will <sup>7</sup>thrust itself in between buying and selling.

3 Unless a man hold on diligently in the fear of the Lord,
His house shall soon be overthrowen.

- 5 The furnace will prove the potter's vessels;
And the trial of a man is in his reasoning.
- 6 The fruit of a tree declareth the husbandry thereof;
So is the utterance of the thought of the heart of a man.
- 7 Praise no man before thou hearest him reason;
For this is the trial of men.
- 8 If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt obtain her,
And put her on, as a long robe of glory.
- 9 Birds will resort unto their like;
And truth will return unto them that practise her.
- 10 The lion lieth in wait for prey;
So doth sin for them that work iniquity.
- 11 The discourse of a godly man is always wisdom:
But the foolish man changeth as the moon.
- 12 Among men void of understanding observe the opportunity;
But stay continually among the thoughtful.
- 13 The discourse of fools is an offence;
And their laughter is in the wantonness of sin.
- 14 The talk of a man of many oaths will make the hair stand upright;
And their strife maketh one stop his ears.
- 15 The strife of the proud is a shedding of blood;
And their reviling of each other is a grievous thing to hear.
- 16 He that revealeth secrets destroyeth credit,
And shall not find a friend to his mind.
- 17 Love a friend, and keep faith with him:
But if thou reveal his secrets,
Thou shalt not pursue after him;
- 18 For as a man hath destroyed his enemy,
So hast thou destroyed the friendship of thy neighbour.
- 19 And as a bird which thou hast loosed out of thy hand,
So hast thou let thy neighbour go, and thou wilt not catch him again:
- 20 Pursue him not, for he is gone far away,
And hath escaped as a gazelle out of the snare.
- 21 For a wound may be bound up, and after reviling there may be a reconciliation;
But he that revealeth secrets hath lost hope.
- 22 One that winketh with the eye contriveth evil things;
And no man will remove him from it.
- 23 When thou art present, he will speak sweetly,
And will admire thy words;
But afterward he will writhe his mouth,
And set a trap for thee in thy words.
- 24 I have hated many things, but nothing like him;
And the Lord will hate him.
- 25 One that casteth a stone on high casteth it on his own head;
And a deceitful stroke will open wounds.
- 26 He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it;
And he that setteth a snare shall be taken therein.
- 27 He that doeth evil things, they shall roll upon him,
And he shall not know whence they have come to him.
- 28 Mockery and reproach are from the haughty;
And vengeance, as a lion, shall lie in wait for him.
- 29 They that rejoice at the fall of the godly shall be taken in a snare;
And anguish shall consume them before they die.
- 30 Wrath and anger, these also are abominations;
And a sinful man shall possess them.
- 28 He that taketh vengeance shall find vengeance from the Lord;
And he will surely make firm his sins.
- 2 Forgive thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done thee;
And then thy sins shall be pardoned when thou prayest.
- 3 Man cherisheth anger against man;
And doth he seek healing from the Lord?
- 4 Upon a man like himself he hath no mercy;
And doth he make supplication for his own sins?
- 5 He being himself flesh nourisheth wrath:
Who shall make atonement for his sins?
- 6 Remember thy last end, and cease from enmity:
Remember corruption and death, and abide in the commandments.
- 7 Remember the commandments, and be not wroth with thy neighbour;
And remember the covenant of the Highest, and wink at ignorance.
- 8 Abstain from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sins:
For a passionate man will kindle strife;
- 9 And a man that is a sinner will trouble friends,
And will make debate among them that be at peace.
- 10<sup>1</sup> As is the fuel of the fire, so will it burn;
And as the stoutness of the strife is, so will it burn:

<sup>1</sup> The order of the lines in this verse is uncertain.

- As is the strength of the man, so will be his wrath;
And as is his wealth, so will he exalt his anger.
- 11 A contention begun in haste kindleth a fire;
And a hasty fighting sheddeth blood.
- 12 If thou blow a spark, it shall burn;
And if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched:
And both these shall come out of thy mouth.
- 13 Curse the whisperer and double-tongued:
For he hath destroyed many that were at peace.
- 14 A third person's tongue hath shaken many,
And dispersed them from nation to nation;
And it hath pulled down strong cities,
And overthrown the houses of great men.
- 15 A third person's tongue hath cast out brave women,
And deprived them of their labours.
- 16 He that hearkeneth unto it shall not find rest,
Nor shall he dwell quietly.
- 17 The stroke of a whip maketh a mark in the flesh;
But the stroke of a tongue will break bones.
- 18 Many have fallen by the edge of the sword:
Yet not so many as they that have fallen because of the tongue.
- 19 Happy is he that is sheltered from it,
That hath not passed through the wrath thereof;
That hath not drawn its yoke,
And hath not been bound with its bands.
- 20 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of iron,
And the bands thereof are bands of brass.
- 21 The death thereof is an evil death;
And Hades were better than it.
- 22 It shall not have rule over godly men;
And they shall not be burned in its flame.
- 23 They that forsake the Lord shall fall into it;
And it shall burn among them, and shall not be quenched:
It shall be sent forth upon them as a lion;
And as a leopard it shall destroy them.
- 24 Look that thou hedge thy possession about with thorns;
Bind up thy silver and thy gold;
- 25 And make a balance and a weight for thy words;
And make a door and a bar for thy mouth.
- 26 Take heed lest thou slip therein;
Lest thou fall before one that lieth in wait.
- 29 He that sheweth mercy will lend unto his neighbour;
And he that strengtheneth him with his hand keepeth the commandments.
- 2 Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need;
And pay thou thy neighbour again in due season.
- 3 Confirm thy word, and keep faith with him;
And at all seasons thou shalt find what thou needest.
- 4 Many have reckoned a loan as a windfall,
And have given trouble to those that helped them.
- 5 Till he hath received, he will kiss a man's hands;
And for his neighbour's money he will speak submissly:
And when payment is due, he will prolong the time,
And return words of heaviness, and complain of <sup>1</sup> the times.
- 6 If he prevail, he shall hardly receive the half;
And he will count it as a windfall:
If not, he hath deprived him of his money,
And he hath gotten him for an enemy without cause:
He will pay him with cursings and railings;
And for honour he will pay him disgrace.
- 7 <sup>2</sup> Many on account of men's ill-dealing have turned away;
They have feared to be defrauded for nought.
- 8 Howbeit with a man in poor estate be longsuffering;
And let him not wait for thine alms.
- 9 Help a poor man for the commandment's sake;
And according to his need send him not empty away.
- 10 Lose thy money for a brother and a friend;
And let it not rust under the stone to be lost.
- 11 Bestow thy treasure according to the commandments of the Most High;
And it shall profit thee more than gold.
- 12 Shut up abns in thy store-chambers;
And it shall deliver thee out of all affliction:
- 13 It shall fight for thee against thine enemy
Better than a mighty shield and a ponderous spear.
- 14 A good man will be surety for his neighbour;
And he that hath lost shame will fail him.
- 15 Forget not the good offices of thy surety;
For he hath given his life for thee.
- 16 A sinner will overthrow the good estate of his surety;

- 17 And he that is of an unthankful mind will fail him that delivered him.
- 18 Suretiship hath undone many that were prospering,
And shaken them as a wave of the sea:
Mighty men hath it driven from their homes;
And they wandered among strange
nations.
- 19 A sinner that falleth into suretiship,
And undertaketh contracts for work,
shall fall into lawsuits.
- 20 Help thy neighbour according to thy power,
And take heed to thyself that thou fall
not to the same.
- 21 The chief thing for life is water, and bread,
And a garment, and a house to cover shame.
- 22 Better is the life of a poor man under a shelter of logs,
Than sumptuous fare in another man's house.
- 23 With little or with much, be well satisfied.<sup>1</sup>
- 24 It is a miserable life to go from house
to house:
And where thou art a sojourner, thou shalt not dare to open thy mouth.
- 25 Thou shalt entertain, and give to drink, and have no thanks:
And besides this thou shalt hear bitter words.
- 26 Come hither, thou sojourner, furnish a table,
And if thou hast aught in thy hand,
feed me with it.
- 27 Go forth, thou sojourner, from the face of honour;
My brother is come to be my guest; I have need of my house.
- 28 These things are grievous to a man of understanding;
The upbraiding of house-room, and the reproaching of the money-lender.
- 30 He that loveth his son will continue to lay stripes upon him,
That he may have joy of him in the end.
- 2 He that chastiseth his son shall have profit of him,
And shall glory of him among his acquaintance.
- 3 He that teacheth his son shall provoke his enemy to jealousy;
And before friends he shall rejoice of
him.
- 4 His father dieth, and is as though he had not died;
For he hath left one behind him like himself.
- 5 In his life, he saw and rejoiced in him;
And when he died, he sorrowed not:
- 6 He left behind him an avenger against his enemies,
And one to requite kindness to his friends.

- 7 He that maketh too much of his son shall bind up his wounds;
And his heart will be troubled at every cry.
- 8 An unbroken horse becometh stubborn;
And a son left at large becometh headstrong.
- 9 Cocker thy child, and he shall make thee afraid:
Play with him, and he will grieve thee.
- 10 Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him;
And thou shalt gnash thy teeth in the end.
- 11 Give him no liberty in his youth,
<sup>2</sup> And wink not at his follies.
- 12 <sup>2</sup> Bow down his neck in his youth,
And beat him on the sides while he is a child,
Lest he wax stubborn, and be disobedient unto thee;
<sup>2</sup> And there shall be sorrow to thy soul.
- 13 Chastise thy son, and take pains with
him, Lest his shameless behaviour be an offence unto thee.
- 14 Better is a poor man, being sound and strong of constitution,
Than a rich man that is plagued in his body.
- 15 Health and a good constitution are better than all gold;
And a strong body than wealth without measure.
- 16 There is no riches better than health of body;
And there is no gladness above the joy of the heart.
- 17 Death is better than a bitter life, <sup>3</sup> And <sup>4</sup> eternal rest than a continual sickness.
- 18 Good things poured out upon a mouth
that is closed
Are as messes of meat laid upon a grave.
- 19 What doth an offering profit an idol?
For neither shall it eat nor smell:
So is he that is afflicted of the Lord,
- 20 Seeing with his eyes and groaning,
As an eunuch embracing a virgin and groaning.
- 21 Give not over thy soul to sorrow;
And afflict not thyself in thine own counsel.
- 22 Gladness of heart is the life of a man;
And the joyfulness of a man is length of days.
- 23 Love thine own soul, and comfort thy
heart:
And remove sorrow far from thee;
For sorrow hath destroyed many,
And there is no profit therein.
- 24 Envy and wrath shorten a man's days;
And care bringeth old age before the time.
- 25 A cheerful and good heart
Will have a care of his meat and diet.

- 31 Wakefulness that cometh of riches
consumeth the flesh,
And the anxiety thereof putteth away
sleep.
- 2 Wakeful anxiety will crave slumber;
And <sup>1</sup>in a sore disease sleep will be broken.
- 3 A rich man toileth in gathering money together;
And when he resteth, he is filled with his good things.
- 4 A poor man toileth in lack of substance;
And when he resteth, he becometh needy.
- 5 He that loveth gold shall not be justified;
And he that followeth destruction shall himself have his fill of it.
- 6 Many have been given over to ruin for the sake of gold;
And their perdition <sup>2</sup>meeteth them face

- 7 It is a stumblingblock unto them that sacrifice unto it;
And every fool shall be taken there-

- 8 Blessed is the rich that is found without blemish,
And that goeth not after gold.
- 9 Who is he? and we will call him blessed:
For wonderful things hath he done
among his people.
- 10 Who hath been tried thereby, and found perfect?
Then let him glory.
Who hath had the power to transgress,
and hath not transgressed?
And to do evil, and hath not done
it?
- 11 His goods shall be made sure,
And the congregation shall declare his alms.
- 12 Sittest thou at a great table? <sup>3</sup>be not

- 13 Remember that an evil eye is a wicked thing:
What hath been created more evil than an eye?
Therefore it sheddeth tears from every face.
- 14 Stretch not thine hand whithersoever
it looketh,
And thrust not thyself with it into the dish.
- 15 Consider thy neighbour's liking by thine own;
And be discreet in every point.
- 16 Eat, as becometh a man, those things which are set before thee;
And eat not greedily, lest thou be hated.
- 17 Be first to leave off for manners' sake;
And be not insatiable, lest thou offend.
- 18 And if thou sittest among many,

Reach not out thy hand before them.

- 19 How sufficient to a well-mannered man is a very little,
And he doth not breathe hard upon his bed.
- 20 Healthy sleep cometh of moderate
eating;
He riseth early, and his wits are with
him:
The pain of wakefulness, and colic,
And griping, are with an insatiable
man.
- 21 And if thou hast been forced to eat,
Rise up in the midst thereof, and thou shalt have rest.
- 22 Hear me, my son, and despise me not,
And at the last thou shalt find my words true:
In all thy works be quick,
And no disease shall come unto thee.
- 23 Him that is liberal of his meat the lips shall bless;
And the testimony of his excellence shall be believed.
- 24 Him that is a niggard of his meat the city shall murmur at;
And the testimony of his niggardness shall be sure.
- 25 Shew not thyself valiant in wine;
For wine hath destroyed many.
- 26 The furnace proveth the temper of steel by dipping;
So doth wine prove hearts in the quar-
relling of the proud.
- 27 Wine is as good as life to men,
If thou drink it in its measure:
What life is there to a man that is without wine?
And it hath been created to make men glad.
- 28 Wine drunk in season and to satisfy
Is joy of heart, and gladness of soul:
- 29 Wine drunk largely is bitterness of
soul,
With provocation and conflict.
- 30 Drunkenness increaseth the rage of a fool unto his hurt;
It diminisheth strength, and addeth wounds.
- 31 Rebuke not thy neighbour at a ban-

<sup>3</sup> Gr. open not thy throat upon it.

- That thou mayest be gladdened on their account,
And receive a crown for thy well ordering.
- 3 Speak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound knowledge;
And hinder not music.
- 4 Pour not out talk where there is a performance of music,
And display not thy wisdom out of season.
- 5 As a signet of carbuncle in a setting of gold,
So is a concert of music in a banquet of wine.
- 6 As a signet of emerald in a work of gold,
So is a strain of music with pleasant wine.
- 7 Speak, young man, if there be need of thee;
Yet scarcely if thou be twice asked.
- 8 Sum up thy speech, many things in few words;
Be as one that knoweth and yet holdeth his tongue.
- 9 If thou be among great men, behave not as their equal;
And when another is speaking, make not much babbling.
- 10 Before thunder speedeth lightning;
And before a shamefast man favour shall go forth.
- 11 Rise up betimes, and be not the last;
Get thee home quickly and loiter not:
- 12 There take thy pastime, and do what is in thy heart;
And sin not by proud speech:
- 13 And for these things bless him that made thee,
And giveth thee to drink freely of his good things.
- 14 He that feareth the Lord will receive his discipline;
And they that seek him early shall find favour.
- 15 He that seeketh the law shall be filled therewith:
But the hypocrite shall stumble thereat.
- 16 They that fear the Lord shall find judgement,
And shall kindle righteous acts as a light.
- 17 A sinful man shunneth reproof,
And will find a judgement according to his will.
- 18 A man of counsel will not neglect a thought;
A strange and proud man will not crouch in fear,
Even after he hath done a thing by himself without counsel.
- 19 Do nothing without counsel;
And when thou hast once done, repent not.
- 20 Go not in a way of conflict;
And stumble not in stony places.
- 21 Be not confident in a <sup>1</sup>smooth way.
- 22 And beware of thine own children.
- 23 In every work trust thine own soul;
For this is the keeping of the commandments.
- 24 He that believeth the law giveth heed to the commandment;
And he that trusteth in the Lord shall suffer no loss.
- 33 There shall no evil happen unto him that feareth the Lord;
But in temptation once and again will he deliver him.
- 2 A wise man will not hate the law;
But he that is a hypocrite therein is as a ship in a storm.
- 3 A man of understanding will put his trust in the law;
And the law is faithful unto him, as when one asketh at the oracle.
- 4 Prepare thy speech, and so shalt thou be heard;
Bind up instruction, and make thine answer.
- 5 The heart of a fool is as a cartwheel;
And his thoughts like a rolling axletree.
- 6 A stallion horse is as a mocking friend;
He neigheth upon every one that sitteth upon him.
- 7 Why doth one day excel another,
When all the light of every day in the year is of the sun?
- 8 By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished;
And he varied seasons and feasts:
- 9 Some of them he exalted and hallowed,
And some of them hath he made ordinary days.
- 10 And all men are from the ground,
And Adam was created of earth.
- 11 In the abundance of his knowledge the Lord distinguished them,
And made their ways various:
- 12 Some of them he blessed and exalted,
And some of them he hallowed and brought nigh to himself:
Some of them he cursed and brought low,
And overthrew them from their place.
- 13 As the clay of the potter in his hand,
All his ways are according to his good pleasure;
So men are in the hand of him that made them,
To render unto them according to his judgement.
- 14 Good is set over against evil,
And life over against death:
So is <sup>2</sup>the sinner over against the godly.
- 15 And thus look upon all the works of the Most High;
Two and two, one against another.
- 16 And I awaked up last,

- As one that gleaneth after the grape-gatherers:
By the blessing of the Lord I got before them,
And filled my winepress as one that gathereth grapes.
- 17 Consider that I laboured not for myself alone,
But for all them that seek instruction.
- 18 Hear me, ye great men of the people,
And hearken with your ears, ye rulers of the congregation.
- 19 To son and wife, to brother and friend,
Give not power over thee while thou livest;
And give not thy goods to another,
Lest thou repent and make supplication for them again.
- 20 Whilst thou yet livest, and breath is in thee,
Give not thyself over to anybody.
- 21 For better it is that thy children should supplicate thee,
Than that thou shouldest look to the hand of thy sons.
- 22 In all thy works keep the upper hand;
Bring not a stain on thine honour.
- 23 In the day that thou endest the days of thy life,
And in the time of death, distribute thine inheritance.
- 24 Fodder, a stick, and burdens, for an ass;
Bread, and discipline, and work, for a servant.
- 25 Set thy servant to work, and thou shalt find rest:
Leave his hands idle, and he will seek liberty.
- 26 Yoke and thong will bow the neck:
And for an evil servant there are racks and tortures.
- 27 Send him to labour, that he be not idle;
For idleness teacheth much mischief.
- 28 Set him to work, as is fit for him;
And if he obey not, make his fetters heavy.
- 29 And be not excessive toward any;
And without judgement do nothing.
- 30 If thou hast a servant, let him be as thyself,
Because thou hast bought him with blood.
- 31 If thou hast a servant, treat him as thyself;
For as thine own soul wilt thou have need of him:
If thou treat him ill, and he depart and run away,
Which way wilt thou go to seek him?
- 34 Vain and false hopes are for a man void of understanding;
And dreams give winks to fools.
- 2 As one that catcheth at a shadow, and followeth after the wind,
So is he that setteth his mind on dreams.
- 3 The vision of dreams is as this thing against that,
The likeness of a face over against a face.
- 4 Of an unclean thing what shall be cleansed?
And of that which is false what shall be true?
- 5 Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain:
And the heart fancieth, as a woman's in travail.
- 6 If they be not sent from the Most High in thy visitation, Give not thy heart unto them.
- 7 For dreams have led many astray:
And they have failed by putting their hope in them.
- 8 Without lying shall the law be accomplished;
And wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.
- 9 A well-instructed man knoweth many things;
And he that hath much experience will declare understanding.
- 10 He that hath no experience knoweth few things:
But he that hath wandered shall increase his skill.
- 11 In my wandering I have seen many things;
And more than my words is my understanding.
- 12 Ofttimes was I in danger even unto death;
And I was preserved because of these things.
- 13 The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live;
For their hope is upon him that saveth them.
- 14 Whoso feareth the Lord shall not be afraid, and shall not play the coward;
For he is his hope.
- 15 Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord:
To whom doth he give heed? and who is his stay?
- 16 The eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him,
A mighty protection and strong stay,
A cover from the hot blast, and a cover from the noonday,
A guard from stumbling, and a succour from falling.
- 17 He raiseth up the soul, and enlighteneth the eyes:
He giveth healing, life, and blessing.
- 18 He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is made in mockery;

<sup>1</sup> The Greek text of this line is probably corrupt.

- And the mockeries of wicked men are not well-pleasing.
- 19 The Most High hath no pleasure in the offerings of the ungodly; Neither is he pacified for sins by the multitude of sacrifices.
- 20 As one that killeth the son before his father's eyes
Is he that bringeth a sacrifice from the goods of the poor.
- 21 The bread of the needy is the life of the poor:
He that depriveth him thereof is a man of blood.
- 22 As one that slayeth his neighbour is he that taketh away his living;
And as a shedder of blood is he that depriveth a hireling of his hire.
- 23 One building, and another pulling down,
What profit have they had but toil?
- 24 One praying, and another cursing, Whose voice will the Lord listen to?
- 25 He that washeth himself after touching a dead body, and toucheth it again,
What profit hath he in his washing?
- 26 Even so a man fasting for his sins,
And going again, and doing the same;
Who will listen to his prayer?
And what profit hath he in his humiliation?
- 35 He that keepeth the law multiplieth offerings;
He that taketh heed to the commandments sacrificeth a peace offering.
- 2 He that requiteth a good turn offereth fine flour;
And he that giveth alms sacrificeth a thank offering.
- 3 To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord;
And to depart from unrighteousness is a propitiation.
- 4 See that thou appear not in the presence of the Lord empty.
- 5 For all these things are to be done because of the commandment.
- 6 The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat;
And the sweet savour thereof is before the Most High.
- 7 The sacrifice of a righteous man is acceptable;
And the memorial thereof shall not be forgotten.
- 8 Glorify the Lord with a good eye,
And stint not the firstfruits of thine hands.
- 9 In every gift shew a cheerful countenance,
And dedicate thy tithe with gladness.
- 10 Give unto the Most High according as he hath given;
And as thy hand hath found, give with a good eye.
- 11 For the Lord recompenseth,
- And he will recompense thee sevenfold.
- 12 Think not to corrupt with gifts; for he will not receive them:
And set not thy mind on an unrighteous sacrifice;
For the Lord is judge,
And with him is no respect of persons.
- 13 He will not accept any person against a poor man;
And he will listen to the prayer of him that is wronged.
- 14 He will in no wise despise the supplication of the fatherless;
Nor the widow, <sup>1</sup> when she poureth out her tale.
- 15 Do not the tears of the widow run down her cheek?
And is not her cry against him that hath caused them to fall?
- 16 He that serveth God according to his good pleasure shall be accepted,
And his supplication shall reach unto the clouds.
- 17 The prayer of the humble pierceth the clouds;
And till it come nigh, he will not be comforted;
And he will not depart, till the Most High shall visit;
And he shall judge <sup>2</sup>righteously, and execute judgement.
- 18 And the Lord will not be slack, neither will he be longsuffering toward them,
Till he have crushed the loins of the unmerciful;
And he shall repay vengeance to the heathen;
Till he have taken away the multitude of the haughty,
And broken in pieces the sceptres of the unrighteous;
- 19 Till he have rendered to every man according to his doings,
And to the works of men according to their devices;
Till he have judged the cause of his people;
And he shall make them to rejoice in his mercy.
- 20 Mercy is seasonable in the time of his afflicting them,
As clouds of rain in the time of drought.
- 36 Have mercy upon us, O Lord the God of all, and behold;
2 And send thy fear upon all the nations:<sup>3</sup>
3 Lift up thy hand against the strange nations;
And let them see thy mighty power.
4 As thou wast sanctified in us before them,
So be thou magnified in them before us.
5 And let them know thee, as we also have known thee,

2 Some ancient authorities read for the righteous.

3 The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities.

That there is no God but only thou,
O God.

6 Shew new signs, and work divers wonders;

Glorify thy hand and thy right arm.<sup>1</sup>

7 Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath;

Take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy.

8 Hasten the time, and remember the oath;

And let them declare thy mighty works.

9 Let him that escapeth be devoured by the rage of fire;

And may they that harm thy people find destruction.

10 Crush the heads of the rulers of the enemies,

That say, There is none but we.

11 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together,

And <sup>2</sup>take them for thine inheritance, as from the beginning.

12 O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy name,

And upon Israel, whom thou didst liken unto a firstborn.

13 Have compassion upon the city of thy sanctuary,

Jerusalem, the place of thy rest.

14 Fill Sion; exalt thine oracles,

And fill thy people with thy glory.

15 Give testimony unto those that were thy creatures in the beginning,

And raise up the prophecies that have been in thy name.

16 Give reward unto them that wait for thee:

And men shall put their trust in thy prophets.

17 Hearken, O Lord, to the prayer of thy suppliants,

According to the blessing of Aaron concerning thy people;

And all they that are on the earth shall know

That thou art the Lord, the <sup>3</sup>eternal God.

18 The belly will eat any meat;

Yet is one meat better than another.

19 The <sup>4</sup>mouth tasteth meats taken in hunting:

So doth an understanding heart false speeches.

20 A froward heart will cause heaviness: And a man of experience will recompense him.

21 A woman will receive any man; But one daughter is better than another.

22 The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance;

And a man desireth nothing so much.

23 If there is on her tongue mercy and meekness,
Her husband is not like the sons of men.

24 He that getteth a wife entereth upon a possession;

A help meet for him, and a pillar of rest.

25 Where no hedge is, the possession will be laid waste:

And he that hath no wife will mourn as he wandereth up and down.

26 For who will trust a nimble robber, that skippeth from city to city?

Even so who shall trust a man that hath no nest, and lodgeth wheresoever he findeth himself at nightfall?

27 Every friend will say, I also am his friend:

But there is a friend, which is only a friend in name.

2 Is there not a grief in it even unto death,

When a companion and friend is turned to enmity?

3 O wicked imagination, whence comest thou rolling in

To cover the dry land with deceitfulness?

4 There is a companion, which rejoiceth in the gladness of a friend,

But in time of affliction will be against him.

5 There is a companion, which for the belly's sake laboureth with his friend,

In the face of battle will take up the buckler.

6 Forget not a friend in thy soul;

And be not unmindful of him in thy riches.

7 Every counsellor extollet counsel;

But there is that counsellet for himself.

8 Let thy soul beware of a counsellor,

And know thou before what is his interest

(For he will take counsel for himself);

Lest he cast the lot upon thee,

9 And say unto thee, Thy way is good:

And he will stand over against thee, to see what shall befall thee.

10 Take not counsel with one that looketh askance at thee;

And hide thy counsel from such as are jealous of thee.

11 Take not counsel with a woman about her rival;

Neither with a coward about war;

Nor with a merchant about exchange;

Nor with a buyer about selling;

Nor with an envious man about thankfulness;

Nor with an unmerciful man about kindness;

Nor with a sluggard about any kind of work;

Nor with a hireling in thy house about finishing his work;

Nor with an idle servant about much business:

- Give not heed to these in any matter of counsel.
- 12 But rather be continually with a godly man,
Whom thou shalt have known to be a keeper of the commandments,
Who in his soul is as thine own soul,
And who will grieve with thee, if thou shalt miscarry.
- 13 And make the counsel of thy heart to stand;
For there is none more faithful unto thee than it.
- 14 For a man's soul is sometime wont to bring him tidings,
More than seven watchmen that sit on high on a watch-tower.
- 15 And above all this intreat the Most High,
That he may direct thy way in truth.
- 16 Let reason be the beginning of every work,
And let counsel go before every action.
- 17 As a token of the changing of the heart,
18 four manner of things do rise up,
Good and evil, life and death;
And that which ruleth over them continually is the tongue.
- 19 There is one that is shrewd and the instructor of many,
And yet is unprofitable to his own soul.
- 20 There is one that is subtil in words,
and is hated;
He shall be destitute of all food:
- 21 For grace was not given him from the Lord;
Because he is deprived of all wisdom.
- 22 There is one that is wise to his own soul;
And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy in the mouth.
- 23 A wise man will instruct his own people;
And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy.
- 24 A wise man shall be filled with blessing;
And all they that see him shall call him happy.
- 25 The life of man is numbered by days;
And the days of Israel are innumerable.
- 26 The wise man shall inherit confidence among his people,
And his name shall live for ever.
- 27 My son, prove thy soul in thy life,
And see what is evil for it, and give not that unto it.
- 28 For all things are not profitable for all men,
Neither hath every soul pleasure in every thing.
- 29 Be not insatiable in any luxury,
And be not greedy on the things that thou eatest.
- 30 For in multitude of meats there shall be disease,
And surfeiting shall come nigh unto colic.
- 31 Because of surfeiting have many perished;
But he that taketh heed shall prolong his life.
- 38 Honour a physician according to thy need of him with the honours due unto him:
For verily the Lord hath created him.
- 2 For from the Most High cometh healing;
And from the king he shall receive a gift.
- 3 The skill of the physician shall lift up his head;
And in the sight of great men he shall be admired.
- 4 The Lord created medicines out of the earth;
And a prudent man will have no disgust at them.
- 5 Was not water made sweet with wood,
That the virtue thereof might be known?
- 6 And he gave men skill,
That <sup>1</sup>they might be glorified in his marvellous works.
- 7 With them doth he heal a man,
And taketh away his pain.
- 8 With these will the apothecary make a confection;
And his works shall not be brought to an end;
And from him is peace upon the face of the earth.
- 9 My son, in thy sickness be not negligent;
But pray unto the Lord, and he shall heal thee.
- 10 Put away wrong doing, and order thine hands aright,
And cleanse thy heart from all manner of sin.
- 11 Give a sweet savour, and a memorial of fine flour;
And make fat thine offering, as one that is not.
- 12 Then give place to the physician, for verily the Lord hath created him;
And let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him.
- 13 There is a time when in their very hands is the issue for good.
- 14 For they also shall beseech the Lord,
That he may prosper them in giving relief and in healing for the maintenance of life.
- 15 He that sinneth before his Maker,
Let him fall into the hands of the physician.
- 16 My son, let thy tears fall over the dead,
And as one that suffereth grievously begin lamentation;
And wind up his body according to his due,
And neglect not his burial.
- 17 Make bitter weeping, and make passionate wailing,

1 Or, he

And let thy mourning be according to his desert,
For one day or two, lest thou be evil spoken of:

And so be comforted for thy sorrow.

18 For of sorrow cometh death,
And sorrow of heart will bow down the strength.

19 In calamity sorrow also remaineth:
And the poor man's life is <sup>1</sup>grievous to the heart.

20 Give not thy heart unto sorrow:
Put it away, remembering the last end:

21 Forget it not, for there is no returning again:

Him thou shalt not profit, and thou wilt hurt thyself.

22 Remember the sentence upon him;
for so also shall thine be;

Yesterday for me, and to-day for thee.

23 When the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest;
And be comforted for him, when his spirit departeth from him.

24 The wisdom of the scribe cometh by opportunity of leisure;

And <sup>2</sup>he that hath little business shall become wise.

25 How shall he become wise that holdeth the plough,

That glorieth in the shaft of the goad,

That driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labours,

And whose discourse is of the stock of bulls?

26 He will set his heart upon turning his furrows;

And his wakefulness is to give his heifers their fodder.

27 So is every artificer and workmaster,
That passeth his time by night as by day;

They that cut gravings of signets,
And his diligence is to make great variety;

He will set his heart to preserve likeness in his portraiture,

And will be wakeful to finish his work.

28 So is the smith sitting by the anvil,
And considering the unwrought iron:

The vapour of the fire will waste his flesh;

And in the heat of the furnace will he wrestle with his work:

The noise of the hammer will <sup>3</sup>be ever in his ear,

And his eyes are upon the pattern of the vessel;

He will set his heart upon perfecting his works,

And he will be wakeful to adorn them perfectly.

29 So is the potter sitting at his work,
And turning the wheel about with his feet,

Who is alway anxiously set at his work,
And all his handywork is by number;

30 He will fashion the clay with his arm,
And will bend its strength in front of his feet;

He will apply his heart to finish the glazing;

And he will be wakeful to make clean the furnace.

31 All these put their trust in their hands;
And each becometh wise in his own work.

32 Without these shall not a city be inhabited,

And men shall not sojourn nor walk up and down therein.

33 <sup>4</sup>They shall not be sought for in the council of the people,

And in the assembly they shall not mount on high;

They shall not sit on the seat of the judge,

And they shall not understand the covenant of judgement:

Neither shall they declare instruction and judgement;

And where parables are they shall not be found.

34 But they will maintain the fabric of the <sup>5</sup>world;

And in the handywork of their craft is their prayer.

39 <sup>6</sup>Not so he that hath applied his soul,
And meditateth in the law of the Most High;

He will seek out the wisdom of all the ancients,

And will be occupied in prophecies.

2 He will keep the discourse of the men of renown,

And will enter in amidst the subtilties of parables.

3 He will seek out the hidden meaning of proverbs,

And be conversant in the dark sayings of parables.

4 He will serve among great men,
And appear before him that ruleth:

He will travel through the land of strange nations;

For he hath tried good things and evil among men.

5 He will apply his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him,

And will make supplication before the Most High,

And will open his mouth in prayer,
And will make supplication for his sins.

6 If the great Lord will,
He shall be filled with the spirit of understanding:

He shall pour forth the words of his wisdom,

And in prayer give thanks unto the Lord.

7 He shall direct his counsel and knowledge,
And in his secrets shall he meditate.

- 8 He shall shew forth the instruction
which he hath been taught,
And shall glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.
- 9 Many shall commend his understanding;
And so long as the world endureth, it shall not be blotted out:
His memorial shall not depart,
And his name shall live from generation to generation.
- 10 Nations shall declare his wisdom,
And the congregation shall tell out his praise.
- 11 If he continue, he shall leave a greater name than a thousand:
And if he <sup>1</sup>die, he addeth thereto.
- 12 Yet more will I utter, which I have thought upon;
And I am filled as the moon at the full.
- 13 Hearken unto me, ye holy children,
And bud forth as a rose growing by a brook of water:
- 14 And give ye a sweet savour as frankincense,
And put forth flowers as a lily,
Spread abroad a sweet smell, and sing
a song of praise;
Bless ye the Lord for all his works.
- 15 Magnify his name,
And give utterance to his praise
With the songs of your lips, and with harps;
And thus shall ye say when ye utter his praise:
- 16 All the works of the Lord are exceeding good,
And every command shall be accomplished in his season.
- 17 None can say, What is this? wherefore is that?
For in his season they shall all be sought out.
At his word the waters stood as a heap,
And the receptacles of waters at the word of his mouth.
- 18 At his command is all his good pleasure done;
And there is none that shall hinder his salvation.
- 19 The works of all flesh are before him;
And it is not possible to be hid from his eyes.
- 20 He beholdeth from everlasting to everlasting;
And there is nothing wonderful before
him.
- 21 None can say, What is this? wherefore is that?
For all things are created for their uses.
- 22 His blessing covered the dry land as a river,
And saturated it as a flood.
- 23 As he hath turned the waters into salt-
ness;
So shall the heathen inherit his wrath.
- 24 His ways are plain unto the holy;
So are they stumblingblocks unto the wicked.
- 25 Good things are created from the beginning for the good;
So are evil things for sinners.
- 26 The chief of all things necessary for the life of man
Are water, and fire, and iron, and salt,
And flour of wheat, and honey, and milk,
The blood of the grape, and oil, and clothing.
- 27 All these things are for good to the godly;
So to the sinners they shall be turned into evil.
- 28 There be winds that are created for
vengeance,
And in their fury lay on their scourges heavily;
In the time of consummation they pour out their strength,

And he will supply every need in its

that:
For they shall all be well approved in their season.
- 35 And now with all your heart and mouth
sing ye praises,
And bless the name of the Lord.
- 40 Great travail is created for every man,
And a heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam,
From the day of their coming forth
from their mother's womb,
Until the day for their burial in the

- Even unto him that is humbled in earth and ashes;
 4 From him that weareth purple and a crown,
 Even unto him that is clothed with a hempen frock.
 5 There is wrath, and jealousy, and trouble, and disquiet,
 And fear of death, and anger, and strife;
 And in the time of rest upon his bed
 His night sleep doth change his knowledge.
 6 A little or nothing is his resting,
 And afterward in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch,
 He is troubled in the vision of his heart,
 As one that hath escaped from the front of battle.
 7 In the very time of his deliverance he awaketh,
 And marvelleth that the fear is nought.
 8 It is thus with all flesh, from man to beast,
 And upon sinners sevenfold more.
 9 Death, and bloodshed, and strife, and sword,
 Calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge;
 10 All these things were created for the wicked,
 And because of them came the flood.
 11 All things that are of the earth turn to the earth again:
 And all things that are of the waters return into the sea.
 12 All bribery and injustice shall be blotted out;
 And good faith shall stand for ever.
 13 The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river,
 And like a great thunder in rain shall go off in noise.
 14 In opening his hands a man shall be made glad:
 So shall transgressors utterly fail.
 15 The children of the ungodly shall not put forth many branches;
 And are as unclean roots upon a sheer rock.
 16 The sedge that groweth upon every water and bank of a river
 Shall be plucked up before all grass.
 17 Bounty is as a garden <sup>1</sup> of blessings,
 And almsgiving endureth for ever.
 18 The life of one that laboureth, and is contented, shall be made sweet;
 And he that findeth a treasure is above both.
 19 Children and the building of a city establish a man's name;
 And a blameless wife is counted above both.
 20 Wine and music rejoice the heart;
 And the love of wisdom is above both.
- 21 The pipe and the psaltery make pleasant melody;
 And a pleasant tongue is above both.
 22 Thine eye shall desire grace and beauty;
 And above both the green blade of corn.
 23 A friend and a companion never meet amiss;
 And a wife with her husband is above both.
 24 Brethren and succour are for a time of affliction;
 And almsgiving is a deliverer above both.
 25 Gold and silver will make the foot stand sure;
 And counsel is esteemed above them both.
 26 Riches and strength will lift up the heart;
 And the fear of the Lord is above both:
 There is nothing wanting in the fear of the Lord,
 And there is no need to seek help therein.
 27 The fear of the Lord is as a garden of blessing,
 And covereth <sup>2</sup> a man above all glory.
- 28 My son, lead not a beggar's life;
 Better it is to die than to beg.
 29 A man that looketh unto the table of another,
 His life is not to be counted for a life;
 He will pollute his soul with another man's meats:
 But a man wise and well-instructed will beware thereof.
 30 In the mouth of the shameless begging will be sweet;
 And in his belly a fire shall be kindled.
- 41 O death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that is at peace in his possessions,
 Unto the man that hath nothing to distract him, and hath prosperity in all things,
 And that still hath strength to receive meat!
 2 O death, acceptable is thy sentence unto a man that is needy, and that faileth in strength,
 That is in extreme old age, and is distracted about all things,
 And is perverse, and hath lost patience!
 3 Fear not the sentence of death;
 Remember them that have been before thee, and that come after:
 This is the sentence from the Lord over all flesh.
 4 And why dost thou refuse, when it is the good pleasure of the Most High?
 Whether it be ten, or a hundred, or a thousand years,

5 The children of sinners are abominable children,
And they frequent the dwellings of the ungodly.

6 The inheritance of sinners' children shall perish,
And with their posterity shall be a perpetual reproach.

7 Children will complain of an ungodly father,
Because they shall be reproached for his sake.

8 Wee unto you, ungodly men,
Which have forsaken the law of the Most High God! <sup>2</sup>

9 If ye be born, ye shall be born to a curse;

If ye die, a curse shall be your portion.

10 All things that are of the earth shall go back to the earth:
So the ungodly shall go from a curse unto perdition.

11 The mourning of men is about their bodies:
But the name of sinners being evil shall be blotted out.

12 Have regard to thy name;
For it continueth with thee longer than a thousand great treasures of gold.

13 A good life hath its number of days;
And a good name continueth for ever.

14 My children, keep instruction in peace:
But wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seen,
What profit is in them both?

15 Better is a man that hideth his foolishness
Than a man that hideth his wisdom.

16 Wherefore shew reverence to my word:
For it is not good to retain every kind of shame;
And not all things are approved by all in good faith.

17 Be ashamed of whoredom before father and mother:
And of a lie before a prince and a mighty man;

18 Of an offence before a judge and ruler;
Of iniquity before the congregation and the people;
Of unjust dealing before a partner and friend;

19 And of theft in regard of the place where thou sojournest,
And in regard of the truth of God and his covenant;
And of leaning with thine elbow at meat;

And of scurrility in the matter of giving and taking;

20 And of silence before them that salute thee;

And of looking upon a woman that is a harlot;

21 And of turning away <sup>3</sup>thy face from a kinsman;
Of taking away a portion or a gift;
And of gazing upon a woman that hath a husband;

22 Of being over busy with his maid; and come not near her bed;
Of upbraiding speeches before friends;
And after thou hast given, upbraid not;

23 Of repeating and speaking what thou hast heard;
And of revealing of secrets.

24 So shalt thou be truly shamefast,
And find favour in the sight of every man.

42 Of these things be not ashamed,
And accept no man's person to sin thereby;

2 Of the law of the Most High, and his covenant;
And of judgement to do justice to the ungodly;

3 Of reckoning with a partner and with travellers;
And of a gift from the heritage of friends;

4 Of exactness of balance and weights;
And of getting much or little;

5 Of indifferent selling of merchants;
And of much correction of children;
And of making the side of an evil servant to bleed.

6 <sup>4</sup>Sure keeping is good, where an evil wife is;
And where many hands are, shut thou close.

7 Whatsoever thou handest over, let it be by number and weight;
And in giving and receiving let all be in writing.

8 Be not ashamed to instruct the unwise and foolish,
And one of extreme old age that contendeth with those that are young;
And so shalt thou be well instructed indeed,
And approved in the sight of every man living.

9 A daughter is a secret cause of wakefulness to a father;
And the care for her putteth away sleep;
In her youth, lest she pass the flower of her age;

15 I will make mention now of the works of the Lord,
And will declare the things that I have seen:

In the words of the Lord are his works.

16 The sun that giveth light looketh upon all things;
And the work of the Lord is full of his glory.

17 The Lord hath not given power to the saints to declare all his marvellous works;

Which the Almighty Lord firmly settled,

That whatsoever is might be established in his glory.

18 He searcheth out the deep, and the heart,

And he hath understanding of their cunning devices:

For the Most High knoweth all knowledge,

And he looketh into the <sup>3</sup>signs of the world,

19 Declaring the things that are past, and the things that shall be,
And revealing the traces of hidden things.

20 No thought escapeth him;
There is not a word hid from him.

21 The mighty works of his wisdom he hath ordered,
Who is from everlasting to everlasting:

Nothing hath been added unto them, nor diminished from them;

And he had no need of any counsellor.

22 How desirable are all his works!
One may behold this even unto a spark.

23 All these things live and remain for ever in all manner of uses,
And they are all obedient.

And sendeth swiftly the lightnings of his judgement.

14 By reason thereof the treasure-houses are opened;

And clouds fly forth as fowls.

And the sum of our words is, He is all.
28 How shall we have strength to glorify him?
For he is himself the great one above all his works.
29 The Lord is terrible and exceeding great;
And marvellous is his power.
30 When ye glorify the Lord, exalt him as much as ye can;
For even yet will he exceed:
And when ye exalt him, put forth your full strength:
Be not weary; for ye will never attain.
31 Who hath seen him, that he may declare him?
And who shall magnify him as he is?

- That all flesh should no more be blotted out by a flood.
- 19 Abraham was a great father of a multitude of nations;
And there was none found like him in glory;
- 20 Who kept the law of the Most High,
And was taken into covenant with him:
In his flesh he established the covenant;
And when he was proved, he was found faithful.
- 21 Therefore he assured him by an oath,
That the nations should be blessed in his seed;
That he would multiply him as the dust of the earth,
And exalt his seed as the stars,
And cause them to inherit from sea to sea,
And from the River unto the utmost part of the earth.
- 22 In Isaac also did he establish likewise, for Abraham his father's sake,
The blessing of all men, and the covenant:
- 23 And he made it rest upon the head of Jacob;
He acknowledged him in his blessings,
And gave to him by inheritance,
And divided his portions;
Among twelve tribes did he part them.
- 45 And he brought out of him a man of mercy,
Which found favour in the sight of all flesh;
A man beloved of God and men, even Moses,
Whose memorial is blessed.
- 2 He made him like to the glory of the saints,
And magnified him in the fears of his enemies.
- 3 By his words he caused the wonders to cease;
He glorified him in the sight of kings;
He gave him commandment for his people,
And shewed him part of his glory.
- 4 He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness;
He chose him out of all flesh.
- 5 He made him to hear his voice,
And led him into the thick darkness,
And gave him commandments face to face,
Even the law of life and knowledge,
That he might teach Jacob the covenant,
And Israel his judgements.
- 6 He exalted Aaron, a holy man like unto him,
Even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.
- 7 He established for him an everlasting covenant,
- And gave him the priesthood of the people;
He <sup>1</sup>baufitied him with comely ornaments,
And girded him about with a robe of glory.
- 8 He clothed him with the perfection of exultation;
And strengthened him with apparel of <sup>2</sup>honour,
The linen breeches, the long robe, and the ephod.
- 9 And he compassed him with pomegranates of gold,
And with many bells round about,
To send forth a sound as he went,
To make a sound that might be heard in the temple,
For a memorial to the children of his people;
- 10 With a holy garment, with gold and blue and purple, the work of the embroiderer,
With an oracle of judgement, even with the Urim and Thummim;
- 11 With twisted scarlet, the work of the craftsman;
With precious stones graven like a signet, in a setting of gold, the work of the jeweller,
For a memorial engraved in writing, after the number of the tribes of Israel;
- 12 With a crown of gold upon the mitre, <sup>3</sup>having graven on it, as on a signet, HOLINESS,
An ornament of honour, a work of might,
The desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.
- 13 Before him there never have been any such;
No stranger put them on, but his sons only, and his offspring perpetually.
- 14 His sacrifices shall be wholly consumed
Every day twice continually.
- 15 Moses <sup>4</sup>consecrated him,
And anointed him with holy oil:
It was unto him for an everlasting covenant,
And to his seed, all the days of heaven,
To minister unto him, and to execute also the priest's office,
And bless his people in his name.
- 16 He chose him out of all living
To offer sacrifice to the Lord,
Incense, and a sweet savour, for a memorial,
To make reconciliation for thy people.
- 17 He gave unto him in his commandments,
Yea, authority in the covenants of judgements,
To teach Jacob the testimonies,
And to enlighten Israel in his law.
- 18 Strangers gathered themselves together against him,
And envied him in the wilderness,

 And in the wrath of his anger they were destroyed:
 He did wonders upon them,
 To consume them with flaming fire.
 20 And he added glory to Aaron,
 And gave him a heritage:
 He divided unto him the firstfruits of the increase;
 And first did he prepare bread in abundance:
 21 For they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord,
 Which he gave unto him and to his seed.
 22 Howbeit in the land of the people he shall have no inheritance,

 23 And Phineas the son of Eleazar is the third in glory,
 In that he was zealous in the fear of the Lord,

46 Joshua the son of <sup>2</sup>Nun was valiant in war,
 And was the successor of Moses in prophecies:
 Who according to his name was made great
 For the saving of <sup>3</sup>God's elect,
 To take vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them,
 That he might give Israel their inheritance.
 2 How was he glorified in the lifting up his hands,
 And in stretching out his sword against the cities!
 3 Who before him so stood fast?

For the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.
 4 Did not the sun go back by his hand?
 And did not one day become as two?
 5 He called upon the Most High and Mighty One,
 When his foes pressed him round about;
 And the great Lord heard him.
 6 With hailstones of mighty power
 He caused war to break violently upon the nation,
 And <sup>4</sup>in the going down he destroyed them that resisted;
 That the nations might know his <sup>5</sup>armour,
 How that he fought in the sight of the Lord;
 For he followed after the Mighty One.
 7 Also in the time of Moses he did a work of mercy,
 He and Caleb the son of Jephunneh,
 In that they withstood the adversary,
 Hindered the people from sin,
 And stilled the murmuring of wickedness.
 8 And of six hundred thousand people on foot, they two alone were preserved
 To bring them into the heritage,
 Even into a land flowing with milk and honey.
 9 Also the Lord gave strength unto Caleb,
 And it remained with him unto his old age;
 So that he entered upon the height of the land,
 And his seed obtained it for a heritage:
 10 That all the children of Israel might see
 That it is good to walk after the Lord.
 11 Also the judges, every one by his name,
 All whose hearts went not a whoring,
 And who turned not away from the Lord,
 May their memorial be blessed.
 12 May their bones flourish again out of their place,
 And may the name of them that have been honoured be renewed upon their children.

13 Samuel, the prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord,
 Established a kingdom, and anointed princes over his people.
 14 By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation,
 And the Lord visited Jacob.
 15 By his faithfulness he was proved to be a prophet,
 And by his words he was known to be faithful in vision.

19 Also before the time of his <sup>1</sup>long sleep He made protestations in the sight of the Lord and his anointed,

I have not taken any man's goods, so much as a shoe;

And no man did accuse him.

20 And after he fell asleep he prophesied, And shewed the king his end,

And lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy,

To blot out the wickedness of the people.

47 And after him rose up Nathan

To prophesy in the days of David.

2 As is the fat when it is separated from the peace offering,

So was David separated from the children of Israel.

4 In his youth did he not slay a giant, And take away reproach from the people,

When he lifted up his hand with a sling stone,

And beat down the boasting of Goliath?

5 For he called upon the Most High Lord;

And he gave him strength in his right hand,

To slay a man mighty in war,

To exalt the horn of his people.

6 So they glorified him for his ten thousands,

And praised him for the blessings of the Lord,

In that there was given him a diadem of glory.

7 For he destroyed the enemies on every side,

And brought to nought the Philistines his adversaries,

Break their horn in pieces unto this day.

8 In every work of his he gave thanks to the Holy One Most High with words of glory;

With his whole heart he sang praise,

And loved him that made him.

9 Also he set singers before the altar, And to make sweet melody by their music.<sup>2</sup>

10 He gave comeliness to the feasts, And set in order the seasons to perfection,

While they praised his holy name, And the sanctuary sounded from early morning.

11 The Lord took away his sins, And exalted his horn for ever;

And gave him a covenant of kings,

And a throne of glory in Israel.

12 After him rose up a son, a man of understanding;

And for his sake he dwelt at large.

13 Solomon reigned in days of peace;

And to him God gave rest round about,

That he might set up a house for his name,

And prepare a sanctuary for ever.

14 How wise wast thou made in thy youth, And filled as a river with understanding!

15 Thy soul covered the earth, And thou filledst it with <sup>3</sup>dark parables.

16 Thy name reached unto the isles afar off;

And for thy peace thou wast beloved.

17 For thy songs and proverbs and parables,

And for thine interpretations, the countries marvelled at thee.

18 By the name of the Lord God, Which is called the God of Israel,

Thou didst gather gold as tin,

And didst multiply silver as lead.

19 Thou didst bow thy loins unto women, And in thy body thou wast brought into subjection.

20 Thou didst blemish thine honour, And profane thy seed,

To bring wrath upon thy children;

And I was grieved for thy folly:

21 So that the sovereignty was divided, And out of Ephraim ruled a disobedient kingdom.

22 But the Lord will never forsake his mercy;

And he will not destroy any of his works,

Nor blot out the posterity of his elect;

And the seed of him that loved him he will not take away;

And he gave a remnant unto Jacob, And unto David a root out of him.

23 And so rested Solomon with his fathers;

And of his seed he left behind him Rehoboam,

Even the foolishness of the people, and one that lacked understanding,

Who made the people to revolt by his counsel.

Also Jeroboam the son of Nebat, Who made Israel to sin,

And gave unto Ephraim a way of sin.

24 And their sins were multiplied exceedingly,

To remove them from their land.

25 For they sought out all manner of wickedness,

Till vengeance should come upon them.

48 Also there arose Elijah the prophet as fire,

And his word burned like a torch:

2 Who brought a famine upon them, And by his zeal made them few in number.

3 By the word of the Lord he shut up the heaven:
Thrice did he thus bring down fire.
4 How wast thou glorified, O Elijah, in thy wondrous deeds!
And who shall glory like unto thee?
5 Who did raise up a dead man from
death,
And from <sup>1</sup>the place of the dead, by the word of the Most High:
6 Who brought down kings to destruction,
And honourable men from their bed:
7 Who heard rebuke in Sinai,
And judgements of vengeance in Horeb:
8 Who anointed kings for retribution,
And prophets to succeed after him:
9 Who was taken up in a tempest of fire,
In a chariot of fiery horses:
10 Who was recorded for reproofs in their seasons,
To pacify anger, before it brake forth
into wrath;
To turn the heart of the father unto
the son,
And to restore the tribes of Jacob.
11 Blessed are they that saw thee,
And they that have been beautified with love;
For we also shall surely live.

12 Elijah it was, who was wrapped in a tempest;
And Elisha was filled with his spirit;
And in all his days he was not moved by the fear of any ruler,
And no one brought him into subjection.

13<sup>2</sup> Nothing was too high for him;
And when he was laid on sleep his body prophesied.

14 As in his life he did wonders,
So in death were his works marvellous.

15 For all this the people repented not,
And they departed not from their sins,
Till they were carried away as a spoil
from their land,
And were scattered through all the earth;
And the people was left very few in number,
And a ruler was left in the house of David.

16 Some of them did that which was pleasing to God,
And some multiplied sins.

17 Hezekiah fortified his city,
And brought in <sup>3</sup>water into the midst of them:

He digged the sheer rock with iron,
And builded up wells for waters.

18 In his days Sennacherib came up,
And sent Rabshakeh, and departed;
And he lifted up his hand against Sion,
And boasted great things in his arrogancy.

19 Then were their hearts and their hands shaken,
And they were in pain, as women in travail;

20 And they called upon the Lord which is merciful,
Spreading forth their hands unto him:
And the Holy One heard them speedily out of heaven,

And delivered them by the hand of Isaiah.

21 He smote the camp of the Assyrians,
And his angel utterly destroyed them.

22 For Hezekiah did that which was pleasing to the Lord,

And was strong in the ways of David
his father,

Which Isaiah the prophet commanded,
Who was great and faithful in his vision.

23 In his days the sun went backward;
And he added life to the king.

24 He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last;
And he comforted them that mourned in Sion.

25 He shewed the things that should be to the end of time,
And the hidden things or ever they came.

49 The memorial of Josiah is like the composition of incense

Prepared by the work of the apothecary:

It shall be sweet as honey in every mouth,
And as music at a banquet of wine.

2 He behaved himself uprightly in the conversion of the people,
And took away the abominations of iniquity.

3 He set his heart right toward the Lord;
In the days of wicked men he made godliness to prevail.

4 Except David and Hezekiah and Josiah,

All committed trespass:
For they forsook the law of the Most High;
The kings of Judah failed.

5 For they gave their <sup>4</sup>power unto others,

And their glory to a strange nation.

6 They set on fire the chosen city of the sanctuary,
And made her streets desolate, as it was written by the hand of Jeremiah.

7 For they entreated him evil;
And yet he was sanctified in the womb
to be a prophet,

To root out, and to afflict, and to destroy;
And in like manner to build and to plant.

11 When he took up the robe of glory,
And put on the perfection of exultation,
In the ascent of the holy altar,
He made glorious the precinct of the sanctuary.

12 And when he received the portions out of the priests' hands,
Himself also standing by the hearth of the altar,
His brethren as a garland round about him,
He was as a young cedar in Libanus;
And as stems of palm trees compassed they him round about,

13 And all the sons of Aaron in their glory,

14 And finishing the service at the altars,
That he might adorn the offering of the Most High, the Almighty,

15 He stretched out his hand to the <sup>8</sup> cup,
And poured of the blood of the grape;
He poured out at the foot of the altar
A sweet-smelling savour unto the Most High, the King of all.

16 Then shouted the sons of Aaron,
They sounded the trumpets of beaten work,
They made a great noise to be heard,
For a remembrance before the Most High.

17 Then all the people together hasted,
And fell down upon the earth on their faces

A Prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

51 I will give thanks unto thee, O
Lord, O King,
And will praise thee, God my Saviour:
I do give thanks unto thy name:

2 For thou wast my protector and helper,
And didst deliver my body out of destruction,
And out of the snare of a slanderous
tongue,
From lips that forge lies,
And wast my helper before them that stood by;

3 And didst deliver me, according to the abundance of thy mercy, and great- ness of thy name,
From the gnashings of teeth ready to devour,
Out of the hand of such as sought my life,
Out of the manifold afflictions which I had;

4 From the choking of a fire on every side,
And out of the midst of fire which I kindled not;

5 Out of the depth of the belly of <sup>5</sup>the grave,
And from an unclean tongue,
And from lying words,

6 The slander of an unrighteous tongue unto the king.
My soul drew near even unto death,
And my life was near to <sup>5</sup>the grave beneath.

7 They compassed me on every side,
And there was none to help me.
I was looking for the succour of men,
And it was not.

8 And I remembered thy mercy, O Lord,
And thy working which hath been from everlasting,

How thou deliverest them that wait
for thee,
And savest them out of the hand of the enemies.

9 And I lifted up my supplication from
the earth,
And prayed for deliverance from death.

10 I called upon the Lord, the Father of my Lord,
That he would not forsake me in the days of affliction,

In the time when there was no help against the proud.

11 I will praise thy name continually,
And will sing praise with thanksgiving;

And my supplication was heard:

12 For thou savedst me from destruction,
And deliveredst me from the evil time:
Therefore will I give thanks and praise unto thee,
And bless the name of the Lord.

13 When I was yet young,
Or ever I went abroad,
I sought wisdom openly in my prayer.

14 Before the temple I asked for her,
And I will seek her out even to the end.

15 From her flower as from the ripening grape my heart delighted in her:
My foot trod in uprightness,
From my youth I tracked her out.

16 I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her,
And found for myself much instruction.

17 I profited in her:
Unto him that giveth me wisdom I will give glory.

18 For I purposed to practise her,
And I was zealous for that which is good;

And I shall never be put to shame.

19 My soul hath wrestled in her,
And in my doing I was exact:
I spread forth my hands to the heaven
above,
And bewailed my ignorances of her.

20 I set my soul aright unto her,
And in pureness I found her.
I gat me a heart joined with her from the beginning:

Therefore shall I not be forsaken.

21 My inward part also was troubled to seek her:

Therefore have I gotten a good possession.

22 The Lord gave me a tongue for my reward;
And I will praise him therewith.

BARUCH.

1 AND these are the words of the book, which Baruch the son of Nerias, the son of Maaseas, the son of Sedekias, the son of Asadias, the son of Helkias, 2 wrote in Babylon, in the fifth year, and in the seventh day of the month, what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire. And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of Jeconias the son of Joakim king of Judah, and in the hearing of all the people that 4 came to hear the book, and in the hearing of the mighty men, and of the kings' sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and in the hearing of all the people, from the least unto the greatest, even of all them that dwelt 5 at Babylon by the river Sud. And they wept, and fasted, <sup>1</sup>and prayed 6 before the Lord; they made also a collection of money according to every 7 man's power: and they sent it to Jerusalem unto Joakim the high priest, the son of Helkias, the son of Salom, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem, at the same time when he took the vessels of the house of the Lord, that had been carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Judah, the tenth day of the month Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which Sedekias the son of Josias king of Judah had 9 made, after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away Jeconias, and the princes, and the captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land, from Jerusalem, and brought 10 them unto Babylon. And they said, Behold, we have sent you money; buy you therefore with the money burnt offerings, and sin offerings, and incense, and prepare an oblation, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our 11 God; and pray for the life of Nabu-

chodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his son, that their days may be <sup>2</sup>as the days of heaven 12 above the earth: and the Lord will give us strength, and lighten our eyes, and we shall live under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and under the shadow of Baltasar his son, and we shall serve them many days, 13 and find favour in their sight. Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God; and unto this day the wrath of the Lord and his indignation is not 14 turned from us. And ye shall read this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon the day of the feast and on the days of the solemn assembly.
 15 And ye shall say, To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day, unto the men of Judah, and to the 16 inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to 17 our fathers: for that we have sinned 18 before the Lord, and disobeyed him, and have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments of the Lord 19 that he hath set before us: since the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have dealt unadvisedly in not 20 hearkening unto his voice. Wherefore the plagues came unto us, and the curse, which the Lord commanded Moses his servant to pronounce in the day that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land that floweth with milk and honey, as at 21 this day. Nevertheless we hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, whom he sent unto us: 22 but we walked every man in the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do that which is evil in the sight of the Lord our God. 2 Therefore the Lord hath made good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the 2 men of Israel and Judah, to bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, 3 as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that are written 3 in the law of Moses; that we should eat every man the flesh of his own son, and every man the flesh of his own 4 daughter. Moreover he hath given them to be in subjection to all the kingdoms that are round about us, to be a reproach and a desolation among all the people round about, where the 5 Lord hath scattered them. Thus were they cast down, and not exalted, because we sinned against the Lord our God, in not hearkening unto his voice. 6 To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness: but unto us and to our fathers confusion of face, as at this day. 7 For all these plagues are come upon us, which the Lord hath pronounced 8 against us. Yet have we not intreated the favour of the Lord, in turning every one from the thoughts of his 9 wicked heart. Therefore hath the Lord kept watch over the plagues, and the Lord hath brought them upon us; for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us. 10 Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us. 11 And now, O Lord, thou God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and with a high arm, and hast gotten thyself a name, 12 as at this day: O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all 13 thine ordinances. Let thy wrath turn from us: for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast 14 scattered us. Hear our prayer, O Lord, and our petition, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us 15 away captive: that all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because Israel and his posterity is 16 called by thy name. O Lord, look down from thine holy house, and consider us: incline thine ear, O Lord, 17 and hear: open thine eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in <sup>2</sup>the grave, whose breath is taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord 18 neither glory nor righteousness: but the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will give thee glory and righteousness, 19 O Lord. For we do not present our supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our 20 fathers, and of our kings. For thou hast sent thy wrath and thine indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying, 21 Thus saith the Lord, Bow your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon, and remain in the land that I gave unto 22 your fathers. But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the 23 king of Babylon, I will cause to cease out of the cities of Judah, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: and the whole land shall be 24 desolate without inhabitant. But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good thy words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their places. 25 And, lo, they are cast out to the heat by day, and to the frost by night, and they died in great miseries by famine, 26 by sword, and by <sup>3</sup>pestilence. And the house which is called by thy name hast thou laid waste, as at this day, for the wickedness of the house of 27 Israel and the house of Judah. Yet, O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy kindness, and according to all that great mercy of thine, as thou spakest by thy servant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of 29 Israel, saying, If ye will not hear my voice, surely this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter 30 them. For I know that they will not hear me, because it is a stiffnecked people: but in the land of their captivity they shall lay it to heart, and shall know that I am the Lord their God: and I will give them a heart, 32 and ears to hear: and they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and 33 think upon my name, and shall return from their stiff neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned 34 before the Lord. And I will bring them again into the land which I swore unto their fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, 35 and they shall not be diminished. And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more remove my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

3 O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, the soul in anguish, the troubled spirit, 2 crieth unto thee. Hear, O Lord, and have mercy; for thou art a merciful God: yea, have mercy upon us, because we have sinned before thee. For thou sittest as king for ever, and we

4 perish evermore. O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, hear now the prayer of <sup>1</sup>the dead Israelites, and of the children of them which were sinners before thee, that hearkened not unto the voice of thee their God: for the which cause these plagues came

5 unto us. Remember not the iniquities of our fathers: but remember thy power and thy name now at this time. 6 For thou art the Lord our God, and 7 thee, O Lord, will we praise. For for this cause thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, <sup>2</sup>to the intent that we should call upon thy name: and we will praise thee in our captivity, for we have <sup>3</sup>called to mind all the iniquity of our fathers, that sinned before thee.

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered us, for a reproach and a curse, and to be subject to penalty, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.

9 Hear, O Israel, the commandments of life: give ear to understand wisdom.

10 How happeneth it, O Israel, that thou art in thine enemies' land, that thou art waxen old in a strange country, that thou art defiled with the dead,

11 that thou art counted with them that <sup>12</sup>go down into <sup>4</sup>the grave? Thou hast

13 forsaken the fountain of wisdom. For if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldst have dwelled in 14 peace for ever. Learn where is <sup>5</sup>wisdom, where is strength, where is understanding; that thou mayest know also where is length of days, and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace.

15 Who hath found out her place? and who hath come into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen, and such as ruled the beasts that are

17 upon the earth; they that had their pastime with the fowls of the air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold, wherein men trust; and of whose get-

18 ting there is no end? For they that <sup>6</sup>wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are past finding

19 out, they are vanished and gone down to <sup>4</sup>the grave, and others are come up

20 in their steads. Younger men have seen the light, and dwelt upon the earth: but the way of knowledge have 21 they not known, neither understood they the paths thereof: neither have their children laid hold of it: they are

22 far off from <sup>7</sup>their way. It hath not been heard of in Canaan, neither hath

23 it been seen in Teman. The sons also of Agar that seek understanding, which are in the land, the merchants of Mer-

24 ran and Teman, and the authors of fables, and the searchers out of under-

25 standing; none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remembered

26 her paths. O Israel, how great is the house of God! and how large is the 27 place of his possession! great, and hath none end; high, and unmeasur-

28 able. There were the giants born that were famous of old, great of stature,

29 and expert in war. These did not God choose, neither gave he the way of 30 knowledge unto them: so they perished, because they had no <sup>5</sup>wisdom, they perished through their own fool-

31 ishness. Who hath gone up into heaven, and taken her, and brought 32 her down from the clouds? Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and 33 will bring her for choice gold? There is none that knoweth her way, nor any that comprehendeth her path.

34 But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, he found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore hath filled it with

35 threefooted beasts: he that sendeth forth the light, and it goeth; he called

36 it, and it obeyed him with fear: and the stars shined in their watches, and were glad: when he called them, they said, Here we be; they shined with gladness unto him that made them.

37 This is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of 38 him. He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel that 39 is beloved of him. Afterward did she appear upon earth, and was conversant with men.

40 This is the book of the commandments of God, and the law that endureth for ever: all they that hold it fast are appointed to life; but such as

41 leave it shall die. Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it: walk towards her shining in the presence of the light

42 thereof. Give not thy glory to another, nor the things that are profitable unto

43 thee to a strange nation. O Israel, happy are we: for the things that are pleasing to God are made known unto 44 us. Be of good cheer, my people, the 6 memorial of Israel. Ye were sold to the nations, but not for destruction: because ye moved God to wrath, ye were delivered unto your adversaries.

45 For ye provoked him that made you by sacrificing unto demons, and not to 8 God. Ye forgot the everlasting God, that brought you up; ye grieved also 9 Jerusalem, that nursed you. For she saw the wrath that is come upon you from God, and said, Hearken, ye women that dwell about Sion: for God hath brought upon me great mourning;

 10 for I have seen the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them. For with joy did I nourish them; but sent them away with weeping and mourning.
 11 Let no man rejoice over me, a widow, and forsaken of many: for the sins of my children am I left desolate; because they turned aside from the 12 law of God, and had no regard to his statutes, neither walked they in the ways of God's commandments, nor trod in the paths of discipline in his 13 righteousness. Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought 14 upon them. For he hath brought a nation upon them from far, a shameless nation, and of a strange language, 15 who neither revered old man, nor pitied child. And they have carried away the dear beloved sons of the widow, and left her that was alone 16 desolate of her daughters. But I, what can I help you? For he that brought these plagues upon you will deliver you from the hand of your 17 enemies. Go your way, O my children, go your way: for I am left desolate.
 18 I have put off the garment of peace, and put upon me the sackcloth of my petition: I will cry unto the Everlasting as long as I live. Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto God, and he shall deliver you from the 19 power and hand of the enemies. For I have trusted in the Everlasting, that he will save you; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you 20 from the Everlasting your Saviour.
 21 For I sent you out with mourning and weeping; but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness for ever.
 22 For like as now they that dwell about Sion have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your salvation from 23 our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting. My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee; but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread 24 upon their necks. My delicate ones have gone rough ways; they were taken away as a flock carried off by 25 the enemies. Be of good cheer, O my children, and cry unto God: for ye shall be remembered of him that hath 26 brought these things upon you. For as it was your mind to go astray from God: so, return and seek him ten 27 times more. For he that brought these plagues upon you shall bring you everlasting joy again with your 28 salvation. Be of good cheer, O Jerusalem: for he that called thee by name 29 will comfort thee. Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy 30 fall. Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she 31 that received thy sons. For as she rejoiced at thy fall, and was glad of thy ruin: so shall she be grieved for her 32 own desolation. And I will take away her exultation in her great multitude, and her boasting shall be turned into 33 mourning. For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure; and she shall be inhabited of 34 devils for a great time.

35 O Jerusalem, look about thee toward the east, and behold the joy that 36 cometh unto thee from God. Lo, thy sons come, whom thou sentest away, they come gathered together from the east to the west at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing in the glory of 37 God. Put off, O Jerusalem, the garment of thy mourning and affliction, and put on the comeliness of the glory 38 that cometh from God for ever. Cast about thee the robe of the righteousness which cometh from God; set a diadem on thine head of the glory of 39 the Everlasting. For God will shew thy brightness unto every region under 40 heaven. For thy name shall be called of God for ever The peace of righteousness, and The glory of godliness.
 41 Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand upon the height, and look about thee toward the east, and behold thy children gathered from the going down of the sun unto the rising thereof at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing that God 42 hath remembered them. For they went from thee on foot, being led away of their enemies: but God bringeth them in unto thee borne on high with 43 glory, <sup>5</sup>as on a royal throne. For God hath appointed that every high mountain, and the everlasting hills, should be made low, and the valleys filled up, to make plain the ground, that Israel may go safely in the glory of 44 God. Moreover the woods and every sweet-smelling tree have overshadowed Israel by the commandment of God.
 45 For God shall lead Israel with joy in the light of his glory with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

THE EPISTLE OF JEREMY.

<sup>2</sup>Or, from your everlasting Saviour

the Babylonians, to certify them, as it was commanded him of God.

2 Because of the sins which ye have committed before God, ye shall be led away captives into Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians.

3 So when ye be come unto Babylon, ye shall remain there many years, and for a long season, even for seven generations: and after that I will bring you out peaceably from thence.

4 But now shall ye see in Babylon gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, borne upon shoulders, which cause the nations to fear. Beware therefore that ye in no wise become like unto the strangers, neither let fear take hold upon you because of them, when ye see the multitude before them and behind them, worshipping them. But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee. For mine angel is with you, <sup>1</sup>and I myself do care for your <sup>2</sup>souls. For their tongue is polished by the workman, and they themselves are overlaid with gold and with silver; yet are they but false, and cannot speak. And taking gold, as it were for a virgin that loveth to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods: and sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves; and will even give thereof to the common harlots: and they deck them as men with garments, even the gods of silver, and gods of gold, and of wood. Yet cannot these gods save themselves from rust and moths, though they be covered with purple raiment. They wipe their faces because of the dust of the temple, which is thick upon them. And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth against him holdeth a sceptre, as though he were judge of a country.

15 He hath also a dagger in his right hand, and an axe: but cannot deliver himself from war and robbers. Whereby they are known not to be gods: therefore fear them not. For like as a vessel that a man useth is nothing worth when it is broken; even so it is with their gods: when they be set up in the temples their eyes be full of dust through the feet of them that come in. And as the courts are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death; even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, lest they be carried off by robbers. They light them candles, yea, more than for themselves, whereof they cannot see <sup>20</sup>one. They are as one of the beams of the temple; and men say their hearts are eaten out, when things creeping out of the earth devour both them and their raiment: they feel it not when their faces are blacked through the smoke that cometh out of the temple: upon their bodies and heads alight bats, swallows, and birds; and in like manner the cats also.

23 Whereby ye may know that they are no gods: therefore fear them not.

24 Notwithstanding the gold wherewith they are beset to make them beautiful, except one wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for not even when they were molten did they feel it. Things wherein there is no breath are bought at any cost. Having no feet, they are borne upon shoulders, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth. They also that serve them are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither, if they be set awry, can they make themselves straight: but the offerings are set before them, as if they were dead men. And the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and spend; and in like manner their wives also lay up part thereof in salt; but unto the poor and to the impotent will they give nothing thereof. The menstruous woman and the woman in childbed touch their sacrifices: knowing therefore by these things that they are no gods, fear them not. For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before the gods of silver, gold, and wood. And in their temples the priests <sup>3</sup>sit on seats, having their clothes rent, and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads. They roar and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead. The priests also take off garments from them, and clothe their wives and children withal.

34 Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set up a king, nor put him down. In like manner, they can neither give riches nor money: though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will never exact it. They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty. They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor deliver any that is in distress. They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless. They are like the stones that be hewn out of the mountain, these gods of wood, and that are overlaid with gold and with silver: they that minister unto them shall be confounded. How should a man then think or say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them? Who if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they bring him, and intreat him to call upon Bel, as though he were able 42 to understand. Yet they cannot perceive this themselves, and forsake them: for they have no understand-43 ing. The women also with cords about them sit in the ways, burning bran for incense: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, 44 nor her cord broken. Whatsoever is done among them is false: how should a man then think or say that they 45 are gods? They are fashioned by carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen 46 will have them to be. And they themselves that fashioned them can never continue long; how then should the things that are fashioned by them?

 47 For they have left lies and reproaches
 48 to them that come after. For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with 49 them. How then cannot men understand that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war, 50 nor from plague? For seeing they be but of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver, it shall be known
 51 hereafter that they are false: and it shall be manifest to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but the works of men's hands, and that there 52 is no work of God in them. Who then may not know that they are 53 no gods? For neither can they set up a king in a land, nor give rain
 54 unto men. Neither can they judge their own cause, nor <sup>1</sup>redress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crows 55 between heaven and earth. For even when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or overlaid with gold or with silver, their priests will flee away, and escape, but they themselves shall 56 be burnt asunder like beams. Moreover they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how should a man then allow or think that they be gods?
 57 Neither are those gods of wood, and overlaid with silver or with gold, able to escape either from thieves or robbers.

58 Whose gold, and silver, and garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong will take from them, and go away withal: neither shall they be 59 able to help themselves. Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his manhood, or else a vessel in a house profitable for that whereof the owner shall have need, than such false gods; or even a door in a house, to keep the things safe that be therein, than such false gods; or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods.
 60 For sun, and moon, and stars, being bright and sent to do their offices, are 61 obedient. Likewise also the lightning when it glittereth is fair to see; and after the same manner the wind also 62 bloweth in every country. And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are 63 bidden. And the fire sent from above to consume mountains and woods doeth as it is commanded: but these are to be likened unto them neither in shew 64 nor power. Wherefore a man should neither think nor say that they are gods, seeing they are able neither to judge causes, nor to do good unto men.
 65 Knowing therefore that they are no
 66 gods, fear them not. For they can neither curse nor bless kings: neither can they shew signs in the heavens among the nations, nor shine as the 68 sun, nor give light as the moon. The beasts are better than they: for they can get under a covert, and help themselves. In no wise then is it manifest 69 unto us that they are gods: therefore
 70 fear them not. For as a scarecrow in a garden of cucumbers that keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver.
 71 Likewise also their gods of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that every bird sitteth upon; as also to a dead body, that is cast forth into 72 the dark. And ye shall know them to be no gods by the <sup>2</sup>bright purple that rotteth upon them: and they themselves afterward shall be consumed, and shall be a reproach in the 73 country. Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

THE SONG OF THE THREE HOLY CHILDREN,

Which followeth in the third Chapter of DANIEL after this place,—fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.—Verse 23. That which followeth is not in the Hebrew, to wit, And they walked—unto these words, Then Nebuchadnezzar—verse 24.

1 AND they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the 2 Lord. Then Azarias stood, and prayed on this manner; and opening his mouth
3 in the midst of the fire said, Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers, and worthy to be praised; and thy name is glorified for evermore:
4 for thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done; yea, true are all thy works, and thy ways are right,
5 and all thy judgements truth. In all the things that thou hast brought upon us, and upon the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgements: for according to truth and justice hast thou brought all these things upon us because of our sins. For we have sinned and committed iniquity, in departing 7 from thee. In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, that 8 it might go well with us. Wherefore all that thou hast brought upon us, and everything that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgement. And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, and most hateful forsakers of God, and to an unjust king, and the most wicked
10 in all the world. And now we cannot open our mouth; shame and reproach have befallen thy servants, and them
11 that worship thee. Deliver us not up utterly, for thy name's sake, neither 12 disannul thou thy covenant: and cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for the sake of Abraham that is beloved of thee, and for the sake of Isaac thy 13 servant, and Israel thy holy one; to whom thou didst promise, that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that
14 is upon the sea shore. For we, O Lord, are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world
15 because of our sins. Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to offer before thee, and to find mercy.
16 Nevertheless in a contrite heart and

a humble spirit let us be accepted;
17 like as in the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs; so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee, for they shall not be ashamed that put 18 their trust in thee. And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear 19 thee, and seek thy face. Put us not to shame: but deal with us after thy kindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercy. Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do thy servants 21 hurt be confounded; and let them be ashamed of all their <sup>2</sup>power and might,
22 and let their strength be broken; and let them know that thou art the Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world.
23 And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the furnace hot with naphtha, pitch, tow, and 24 small wood; so that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine 25 cubits. And it spread, and burned those Chaldeans whom it found about 26 the furnace. But the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace together with Azarias and his fellows, and he smote the flame of the fire out 27 of the furnace; and made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them.
28 Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, and glorified, and blessed God
29 in the furnace, saying, Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers: and to be praised and exalted above all for 30 ever. And blessed is thy glorious and holy name: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. Blessed art thou in the temple of thine holy glory: and to be praised and glorified above

THE # HISTORY OF SUSANNA,

Set apart from the beginning of DANIEL, because it is not in the Hebrew, as neither the Narration of Bel and the Dragon.

1 THERE dwelt a man in Babylon, and 2 his name was Joakim: and he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, a very fair woman, 3 and one that feared the Lord. Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the law of 4 Moses. Now Joakim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews; because he was more honour- 5 able than all others. And the same year there were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be judges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who were accounted to govern 6 the people. These kept much at Joakim's house: and all that had any suits 7 in law came unto them. Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden 8 to walk. And the two elders beheld her going in every day, and walking; and they were inflamed with love for 9 her. And they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgements. And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief. For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her. Yet they watched jealously from day to day to see her. And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner time. So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place; and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: and then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone. And it fell out, as they watched a fit day, she went in as aforetime with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in the garden: for it was hot. And there was nobody there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, and watched her. Then she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing balls, and shut the garden doors, that I may wash me. And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at the side doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: and they saw not the elders, because they were hid. Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying, Behold, the garden doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee; therefore consent unto us, and be with us. If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee. Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am straitened on every side: for if I do this thing, it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands. It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord. With that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried out against her. Then ran the one, and opened the garden doors. So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the side door, to see what had befallen her. But when the elders had told their tale, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there was never such a report made of Susanna. And it came to pass on the morrow, when the people assembled to her husband Joakim, the two elders came full of their wicked intent against Susanna to put her to death; and said before the people, Send for Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, Joakim's wife. So they sent; and she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred. Now

Susanna was a very delicate woman, and beautiful to behold. And these wicked men commanded her to be unveiled, (for she was veiled) that they might be filled with her beauty. Therefore her friends and all that saw her wept. Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands upon her head. And she weeping looked up toward heaven: for her heart trusted in the Lord. And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away. Then a young man, who there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her. And we, being in a corner of the garden, saw this wickedness, and ran unto them. And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold: for he was stronger than we, and opened the doors, and leaped out. But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: these things do we testify. Then the assembly believed them, as those that were elders of the people and judges: so they condemned her to death. Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, O everlasting God, that knowest the secrets, that knowest all things before they be: thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me, and, behold, I must die; whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me. And the Lord heard her voice. Therefore when she was led away to be put to death, God raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel: and he cried with a loud voice, I am clear from the blood of this woman. Then all the people turned them toward him, and said, What mean these words that thou hast spoken? So he standing in the midst of them said, Are ye such fools, ye sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth ye have condemned a daughter of Israel? Return again to the place of judgement: for these have borne false witness against her. Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder. Then said Daniel unto them, Put them asunder one far from another, and I will examine them. So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforetime, in pronouncing unjust judgement, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. 54 Now then, if thou sawest her, tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, 55 Under a mastick tree. And Daniel said, Right well hast thou lied against thine own head; for even now the angel of God hath received the sentence of God and shall cut thee in 56 two. So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou seed of Canaan, and not of Judah, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust hath perverted thine 57 heart. Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companyed with you: but the daughter of Judah would not abide your wicked- 58 ness. Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered, 59 Under a holm tree. Then said Daniel unto him, Right well hast thou also lied against thine own head: for the angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you. With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and blessed God, who saveth them that hope in 61 him. And they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness out of their own 62 mouth: and according to the law of Moses they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour: and they put them to death, and the innocent blood 63 was saved the same day. Therefore Helkias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joakim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found 64 in her. And from that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

BEL AND THE DRAGON.

1 AND king Astyages was gathered to his fathers, and Cyrus the Persian received his kingdom. And Daniel lived with the king, and was honoured above 3 all his friends. Now the Babylonians had an idol, called Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve great measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, 4 and six firkins of wine. And the king did honour to it, and went daily to worship it: but Daniel worshipped his own God. And the king said unto him, Why dost thou not worship Bel? 5 And he said, Because I may not do honour to idols made with hands, but to the living God, who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath 6 sovereignty over all flesh. Then said the king unto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living god? or seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh 7 every day? Then Daniel laughed, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, and did never eat or drink anything. 8 So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who this is that devoureth 9 these expenses, ye shall die. But if ye can shew me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, Let it 10 be according to thy word. Now the priests of Bel were threescore and ten, beside their wives and children. And the king went with Daniel into the 11 temple of Bel. So Bel's priests said, Lo, we will get us out: but thou, O king, set on the meat, and mingle the wine and set it forth, and shut the door fast, and seal it with thine own 12 signet; and when thou comest in the morning, if thou find not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death: or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely 13 against us. And they little regarded it: for under the table they had made a privy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed those 14 things. And it came to pass, when they were gone forth, the king set the meat before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and they strewed all the temple 15 with them in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the door, and sealed it with the king's 16 signet, and so departed. Now in the night came the priests with their wives and children, as they were wont to do, 17 and did eat and drink up all. In the morning betime the king arose, and 18 Daniel with him. And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole. And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at 19 all. Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these.

20 And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children. And 21 then the king was angry, and took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things
 22 as were upon the table. Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who overthrew him and his temple.
 23 And in that same place there was a great <sup>1</sup>dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped. And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, and eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship
 25 him. Then said Daniel, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is a living
 26 God. But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king said, I give thee
 27 leave. Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, so the dragon did eat and burst in sunder: and Daniel said, Lo, these are the gods
 28 ye worship. When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he hath pulled down Bel, and slain the dragon, 29 and put the priests to the sword. So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy 30 thee and thine house. Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, the king delivered 31 Daniel unto them: who cast him into the lions' den: where he was six days.

 32 And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day two carcases, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel.
 33 Now there was in Jewry the prophet <sup>2</sup>Habakkuk, who had made pottage, and had broken bread into a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it
 34 to the reapers. But the angel of the Lord said unto Habakkuk, Go carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon 35 unto Daniel, in the lions' den. And Habakkuk said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know where the 36 den is. Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and lifted him up by the hair of his head, and with the blast of his breath set him in 37 Babylon over the den. And Habakkuk cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner which God hath sent 38 thee. And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: neither hast 39 thou forsaken them that love thee. So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of God set Habakkuk in his 40 own place again immediately. Upon the seventh day the king came to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and behold, Daniel 41 was sitting. Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord, thou God of Daniel, and there is 42 none other beside thee. And he drew him out, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

My transgressions are multiplied, <sup>1</sup>O Lord: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up mine head <sup>2</sup>by reason of my sins, neither have I any respite: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done that which is evil before thee: <sup>3</sup>I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied <sup>4</sup>detestable things. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: but, I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou, <sup>5</sup>O Lord, art the God of them that repent; and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. ## MACCABEES.

1 AND it came to pass, after that Alexander the Macedonian, the son of Philip, who came out of the land of Chittim, and smote Darius king of the Persians and Medes, it came to pass, after he had smitten him, that he reigned in his stead, in former time, 2 over <sup>1</sup>Greece. And he fought many battles, and won many strongholds, 3 and slew the kings of the earth, and went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of a multitude of nations. And the earth was quiet before him, and he was exalted, and his heart 4 was lifted up, and he gathered together an exceeding strong host, and ruled over countries and nations and principalities, and they became tributary 5 unto him. And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he should 6 die. And he called his servants, which were honourable, which had been brought up with him from his youth, and he divided unto them his kingdom, 7 while he was yet alive. And Alexander reigned twelve years, and he 8 died. And his servants bare rule, each 9 one in his place. And they did all put diadems upon themselves after that he was dead, and so did their sons after them many years: and they multiplied evils in the earth.

10 And there came forth out of them a sinful root, Antiochus Epiphanes, son of Antiochus the king, who had been a hostage at Rome, and he reigned in <sup>2</sup>the hundred and thirty and seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks.

11 In those days came there forth out of Israel transgressors of the law, and persuaded many, saying, Let us go and make a covenant with the <sup>3</sup>Gentiles that are round about us; for since we were parted from them many evils 12 have befallen us. And the saying was 13 good in their eyes. And certain of the people were forward herein and went to the king, and he gave them licence to do after the ordinances of the 14 <sup>3</sup>Gentiles. And <sup>4</sup>they built a place of exercise in Jerusalem according to 15 the laws of the <sup>3</sup>Gentiles; and they made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joined themselves to the <sup>3</sup>Gentiles, and sold themselves to do evil.

16 And the kingdom was well ordered in the sight of Antiochus, and he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might reign over the two kingdoms.

17 And he entered into Egypt with a <sup>5</sup>great multitude, with chariots, and with elephants, and with horsemen, 18 and with a great <sup>6</sup>navy; and he made war against Ptolemy king of Egypt; and Ptolemy was put to shame before him, and fled; and many fell wounded 19 to death. And they got possession of the strong cities in the land of Egypt; and he took the spoils of Egypt.

20 And Antiochus, after that he had smitten Egypt, returned in <sup>7</sup>the hundred and forty and third year, and went up against Israel and Jerusalem 21 with a <sup>5</sup>great multitude, and entered presumptuously into the sanctuary, and took the golden altar, and the candlestick of the light, and all that 22 pertained thereto, and the table of the shewbread, and the cups to pour withal, and the bowls, and the golden censers, and the veil, and the crowns, and the adorning of gold which was on the face of the temple, and he scaled it all off.

 23 And he took the silver and the gold and the precious vessels; and he took the hidden treasures which he found.
 24 And when he had taken all, he went away into his own land, and he made a great slaughter, and spake very pretiously. And there came great mourning upon Israel, in every place
 26 where they were; and the rulers and elders groaned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty
 27 of the women was changed. Every bridegroom took up lamentation, she that sat in the marriage chamber was 28 in heaviness. And the land was moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was clothed with shame.
 29 And <sup>1</sup>after <sup>2</sup>two full years the king sent a chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Judah, and he came unto Jerusalem with a <sup>3</sup>great multitude.
 30 And he spake words of peace unto them in subtilty, and they gave him credence: and he fell upon the city suddenly, and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people out of Israel.
 31 And he took the spoils of the city, and set it on fire, and pulled down the houses thereof and the walls thereof 32 on every side. And they led captive the women and the children, and the 33 cattle they took in possession. And they builded the city of David with a great and strong wall, with strong towers, and it became unto them a 34 citadel. And they put there a sinful nation, transgressors of the law, and they strengthened themselves therein.
 35 And they stored up arms and victuals, and gathering together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there,
 36 and they became a sore snare: and it became a place to lie in wait against the sanctuary, and an evil adversary
 37 to Israel continually. And they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled the sanctuary.
 38 And the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them; and she became a habitation of strangers, and she became strange to them that were born in her,
 39 and her children forsook her. Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, <sup>4</sup>her feasts were turned into mourning, her sabbaths into reproach, 40 her honour into contempt. According to her glory, so was her dishonour multiplied, and her high estate was turned into mourning.
 41 And king Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all should be one 42 people, and that each should forsake his own laws. And all the nations agreed according to the word of the 43 king; and many of Israel consented to his worship, and sacrificed to the idols, 44 and profaned the sabbath. And the king sent letters by the hand of messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, that they should follow laws 45 strange to the land, and should forbid whole burnt offerings and sacrifice and drink offerings in the sanctuary; and should profane the sabbaths and feasts, 46 and pollute the sanctuary and them that were holy; that they should build

 47 altars, and temples, and shrines for idols, and should sacrifice swine's flesh 48 and unclean beasts: and that they should leave their sons uncircumcised, that they should make their souls abominable with all manner of un-
 49 cleanness and profanation; so that they might forget the law, and change
 50 all the ordinances. And whosoever shall not do according to the word of 51 the king, he shall die. According to all these words wrote he to his whole kingdom; and he appointed overseers over all the people, and he commanded the cities of Judah to sacrifice, city by 52 city. And from the people were gathered together unto them many, every one that had forsaken the law; and 53 they did evil things in the land; and they made Israel to hide themselves in every place of refuge which they had.
 54 And on the fifteenth day of Chislew, in <sup>5</sup>the hundred and forty and fifth year, they builded an abomination of desolation upon the <sup>6</sup>altar, and in the cities of Judah on every side they 55 builded idol <sup>6</sup>altars. And at the doors of the houses and in the streets they 56 burnt incense. And they rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, 57 and set them on fire. And wheresoever was found with any a book of the covenant, and if any consented to the law, the king's sentence delivered him
 58 to death. Thus did they in their might unto Israel, to those that were found 59 month by month in the cities. And on the five and twentieth day of the month they sacrificed upon the idol <sup>6</sup>altar, which was upon the <sup>6</sup>altar of God.
 60 And <sup>7</sup>the women that had circumcised their children they put to death according to the commandment. And they hanged their babes about their necks, and destroyed their houses, and 62 them that had circumcised them. And many in Israel were fully resolved and confirmed in themselves not to eat un-
 63 clean things. And <sup>8</sup>they chose to die, that they might not be defiled with the meats, and that they might not profane 64 the holy covenant: and they died. And there came exceeding great wrath upon Israel.

- 2 In those days rose up Mattathias the son of John, the son of Simeon, a priest of the sons of Joarib, from Jerusalem; and he dwelt at Modin. And he had five sons, <sup>1</sup>John, who was surnamed 3 Gaddis; Simon, who was called Thassi; 4 Judas, who was called Maccabæus; 5 Eleazar, who was called Avaran; Jonathan, who was called Apphus. 6 And he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Judah and in Jerusalem, and he said,

Woe is me! wherefore was I born to see the destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was given into the hand of the enemy, the sanctuary into 8 the hand of aliens? Her temple is become as a man <sup>2</sup>that was glorious: her vessels of glory are carried away into captivity, her infants are slain in her streets, her young men with the sword 10 of the enemy. What nation hath not inherited her palaces, and gotten possession of her spoils? her adorning is all taken away; instead of a free woman 12 she is become a bond woman: and, behold, our holy things and our beauty and our glory are laid waste, and the 13 Gentiles have profaned them. Wherefore should we live any longer?

14 And Mattathias and his sons rent their clothes, and put on sackcloth, and mourned exceedingly.

15 And the king's officers, that were enforcing the apostasy, came into the 16 city Modin to sacrifice. And many of Israel came unto them, and Mattathias and his sons were gathered together. 17 And the king's officers answered and spake to Mattathias, saying, Thou art a ruler and an honourable and great man in this city, and strengthened 18 with sons and brethren: now therefore come thou first and do the commandment of the king, as all the nations have done, and the men of Judah, and they that remain in Jerusalem: and thou and thy house shall be in the number of the king's <sup>3</sup>Friends, and thou and thy sons shall be honoured with

19 silver and gold and many gifts. And Mattathias answered and said with a loud voice, If all the nations that are in the house of the king's dominion hearken unto him, to fall away each one from the worship of his fathers, and have made choice to follow his 20 commandments, yet will I and my sons and my brethren walk in the covenant 21 of our fathers. <sup>4</sup>Heaven forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances. We will not hearken to the king's words, to go aside from our worship, on the right hand, or on the left. 22 And when he had left speaking these words, there came a Jew in the sight of all to sacrifice on the altar which was at Modin, according to the king's 24 commandment. And Mattathias saw it, and his zeal was kindled, and his reins trembled, and he shewed forth his wrath according to judgement, and 25 ran, and slew him upon the altar. And the king's officer, who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and 26 pulled down the altar. And he was zealous for the law, even as Phinehas 27 did unto Zimri the son of Salu. And Mattathias cried out in the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous for the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him come forth after me. And he and his sons fled into the mountains, and forsook all that they had in the city.

29 Then many that sought after justice and judgement went down into the 30 wilderness, to dwell there, they, and their sons, and their wives, and their cattle; because evils were multiplied 31 upon them. And it was told the king's officers, and the forces that were in Jerusalem, the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, were gone down into the 32 secret places in the wilderness; and many pursued after them, and having overtaken them, they encamped against them, and set the battle in array against 33 them on the sabbath day. And they said unto them, Thus far. Come forth, and do according to the word of the 34 king, and ye shall live. And they said, We will not come forth, neither will we do the word of the king, to profane 35 the sabbath day. And they hasted to 36 give them battle. And they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped up the secret places, 37 saying, Let us die all in our innocency: heaven and earth witness over us, that 38 ye put us to death without trial. And they rose up against them in battle on the sabbath, and they died, they and their wives and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand <sup>5</sup>souls.

39 And Mattathias and his friends knew it, and they mourned over them exceedingly. And one said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not against the Gentiles for our lives and our ordinances, they will now quickly destroy us from off the 41 earth. And they took counsel on that day, saying, Whosoever shall come against us to battle on the sabbath day, let us fight against him, and we shall in no wise all die, as our brethren 42 died in the secret places. Then were gathered together unto them a company of <sup>6</sup>Hasidæans, mighty men of Israel, every one that offered himself 43 willingly for the law. And all they that fled from the evils were added to them, and became a stay unto them.

 44 And they mustered a host, and smote sinners in their anger, and lawless men in their wrath: and the rest fled to the 45 Gentiles for safety. And Mattathias and his friends went round about, and 46 pulled down the altars; and they circumcised by force the children that were uncircumcised, as many as they 47 found in the coasts of Israel. And they pursued after the sons of pride, and 48 the work prospered in their hand. And they rescued the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of the kings, neither <sup>1</sup>suffered they the sinner to triumph.

49 And the days of Mattathias drew near that he should die, and he said unto his sons,

Now have pride and rebuke gotten strength, and a season of overthrow,
 50 and wrath of indignation. And now, my children, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant
 51 of your fathers. And call to remembrance the deeds of our fathers which they did in their generations; and receive great glory and an everlasting

 66 be a father unto you. And Judas Maccabeus, he hath been strong and mighty from his youth: he shall be your captain, and <sup>2</sup>shall fight the 67 battle of the people. And take ye unto you all the doers of the law, and avenge

68 the wrong of your people. Render a recompense to the Gentiles, and take heed to the commandments of the law.
 69 And he blessed them, and was gathered
 70 to his fathers. And he died in <sup>3</sup>the hundred and forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchres of his fathers at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

3 And his son Judas, who was called
 2 Maccabeus, rose up in his stead. And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that clave unto his father, and they fought with gladness the battle of 3 Israel. And he gat his people great glory, and put on a breastplate as a giant, and girt his warlike harness about him, and set battles in array, protecting the army with his sword.
 4 And he was like a lion in his deeds, and as a lion's whelp roaring for prey.
 5 And he pursued the lawless, seeking them out, and he burnt up those that 6 troubled his people. And the lawless shrunk for fear of him, and all the workers of lawlessness were sore troubled, and salvation prospered in his 7 hand. And he angered many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and 8 his memorial is blessed for ever. And he went about among the cities of Judah, and destroyed the ungodly <sup>4</sup>out of the land, and turned away wrath
 9 from Israel: and he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he gathered together such as were ready to perish.

10 And Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host from Samaria, to fight against Israel. And Judas perceived it, and he went forth to meet him, and smote him, and slew him: and many fell wounded to death, 12 and the rest fled. And they took their spoils, and Judas took the sword of Apollonius, and therewith he fought all his days.

13 And Seron, the commander of the host of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered a gathering and a congregation of faithful men with him,
 14 and of such as went out to war; and he said, I will make myself a name and get me glory in the kingdom; and I will fight against Judas and them that are with him, that set at nought
 15 the word of the king. And there went up with him also a mighty army of the ungodly to help him, to take vengeance on the children of Israel.

16 And he came near unto the going up of Bethhoron, and Judas went forth to 17 meet him with a small company. But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said unto Judas, What? shall we be able, being a small company, to fight against so great and strong a multitude? and we for our part are faint, having tasted no food

18 this day. And Judas said, It is an easy thing for many to be shut up in the hands of a few; and with <sup>1</sup>heaven it is all one, to save by many or by few: for victory in battle standeth not in the multitude of a host; but strength 20 is from heaven. They come unto us in fulness of insolence and lawlessness, to destroy us and our wives and our 21 children, for to spoil us: but we fight 22 for our lives and our laws. And he himself will discomfit them before our face: but as for you, be ye not afraid of them.

23 Now when he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly upon them, and Seron and his army were discomfited 24 before him. And they pursued them in the going down of Bethhoron unto the plain, and there fell of them about eight hundred men; but the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

25 And the fear of Judas and his brethren, and the dread of them, began to fall upon the nations round about 26 them: and his name came near even unto the king, and every nation told of the battles of Judas.

27 But when king Antiochus heard these words, he was full of indignation: and he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, an exceeding strong 28 army. And he opened his treasury, and gave his forces pay for a year, and commanded them to be ready for 29 every need. And he saw that the money failed from his treasures, and that the tributes of the country were small, because of the dissension and plague which he had brought upon the land, to the end that he might take away the laws which had been from 30 the first days; and he feared that he should not have enough as at other times for the charges and the gifts which he gave aforetime with a liberal hand, and he abounded above the kings 31 that were before him. And he was exceedingly perplexed in his mind, and he determined to go into Persia, and to take the tributes of the countries, 32 and to gather much money. And he left Lysias, an honourable man, and one of the seed royal, to be over the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto the borders of Egypt, 33 and to bring up his son Antiochus, 34 until he came again. And he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all the things that he would have done, and concerning them that dwell in 35 Judæa and in Jerusalem, that he should send a host against them, to root out and destroy the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memorial from 36 the place; and that he should make strangers to dwell in all their coasts, and should divide their land to them 37 by lot. And the king took the half that remained of the forces, and removed from Antioch, from his royal city, <sup>2</sup>the hundred and forty and seventh year; and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went through the upper countries.

38 And Lysias chose Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the king's <sup>3</sup>Friends; 39 and with them he sent forty thousand footmen, and seven thousand horse, to go into the land of Judah, and to destroy it, according to the word of the 40 king. And they removed with all their host, and came and pitched near unto 41 Emmaus in the plain country. And the merchants of the country heard the fame of them, and took silver and gold exceeding much, with <sup>4</sup>fetters, and came into the camp to take the children of Israel for servants: and there were added unto them the forces of Syria and of the land of the <sup>5</sup>Philistines.

42 And Judas and his brethren saw that evils were multiplied, and that the forces were encamping in their borders; and they took knowledge of the king's words which he had commanded, to destroy the people and make an end 43 of them; and they said each man to his neighbour, Let us raise up the ruin of our people, and let us fight for our 44 people and the holy place. And the congregation was gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask for 45 mercy and compassion. And Jerusalem was without inhabitant as a wilderness, there was none of her offspring that went in or went out; and the sanctuary was trodden down, and the sons of strangers were in the citadel, the Gentiles lodged therein; and joy was taken away from Jacob, and the 46 pipe and the harp ceased. And they gathered themselves together, and came to Mizpeh, over against Jerusalem; for in Mizpeh was there a place 47 of prayer aforetime for Israel. And they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and put ashes upon their heads, 48 and rent their clothes, and laid open the book of the law, concerning which the Gentiles were wont to inquire, seeking 49 the likenesses of their idols. And they brought the priests' garments, and the firstfruits, and the tithes: and they stirred up the Nazrites, who had accomplished their days. And they cried aloud toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these men, and whether shall we carry them away? And thy holy place is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness and brought low. And, behold, the Gentiles are assembled together against us to destroy us: thou knowest what things they imagine against us. How shall we be able to stand before them, except thou be our help? And they sounded with the trumpets, and cried with a loud voice. And after this Judas appointed leaders of the people, captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties, and captains of tens. And he said to them that were building houses, and were betrothing wives, and were planting vineyards, and were fearful, that they should return, each man to his own house, according to the law. And the army removed, and encamped upon the south side of Emmaus. And Judas said, Gird yourselves, and be valiant men, and be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these Gentiles, that are assembled together against us to destroy us, and our holy place: for it is better for us to die in battle, than to look upon the evils of our nation and the holy place. Nevertheless, as may be the will in heaven, so shall he do.

4 And Gorgias took five thousand footmen, and a thousand chosen horse, and the army removed by night, that it might fall upon the army of the Jews and smite them suddenly: and the men of the citadel were his guides.

3 And Judas heard thereof, and removed, he and the valiant men, that he might smite the king's host which was at Emmaus, while as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp. And Gorgias came into the camp of Judas by night, and found no man; and he sought them in the mountains; for he said, These men flee from us. And as soon as it was day, Judas appeared in the plain with three thousand men: howbeit they had not armour nor swords to their minds. And they saw the camp of the Gentiles strong and fortified, and horsemen compassing it round about; and these were expert in war.

8 And Judas said to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their onset.

9 Remember how our fathers were saved in the Red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with a host. And now let us cry unto heaven, if he will have us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this army before our face to-day: and all the Gentiles shall know that there is one who redeemeth and saveth Israel. And the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming over against them: and they went out of the camp to battle.

And they that were with Judas sounded their trumpets, and joined battle, and the Gentiles were discomfited, and fled into the plain. But all the hindmost fell by the sword: and they pursued them unto Gazara, and unto the plains of Idumæa and Azotus and Jamnia, and there fell of them about three thousand men. And Judas and his host returned from pursuing after 17 them, and he said unto the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, inasmuch as there is a battle before us; and Gorgias and his host are nigh unto us in the mountain. But stand ye now against our enemies, and fight against them, and afterwards take the spoils with boldness. While Judas was yet making an end of these words, there appeared a part of them looking out from the mountain: and they saw that their host had been put to flight, and that the Jews were burning the camp; for the smoke that was seen declared what was done. But when they perceived these things, they were sore afraid; and perceiving also the army of Judas in the plain ready for battle, they fled all of them into the land of the Philistines. And Judas returned to spoil the camp, and they got much gold, and silver, and blue, and sea purple, and great riches. And they returned home, and sang a song of thanksgiving, and gave praise unto heaven; because his mercy is good, because his mercy endureth for ever. And Israel had a great deliverance that day.

26 But the strangers, as many as had escaped, came and told Lysias all the things that had happened: but when he heard thereof, he was confounded and discouraged, because neither had such things as he would been done unto Israel, nor had such things as the king commanded him come to pass.

28 And in the next year he gathered together threescore thousand chosen footmen, and five thousand horse, that he might subdue them. And they came into Idumæa, and encamped at Bethsura; and Judas met them with ten thousand men. And he saw that the army was strong, and he prayed and said,

Blessed art thou, O Saviour of Israel, who didst quell the onset of the mighty man by the hand of thy servant David, and didst deliver the army of the Philistines into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and of his armour-bearer: shut up this army in the hand of thy people Israel, and let them be ashamed for their host and their horsemen: give them faintness of heart, and cause the boldness of their strength to melt away, and let them quake at their destruction: cast them down with the sword of them that love thee, and let all that know thy name praise thee with thanksgiving.

34 And they joined battle; and there fell of the army of Lysias about five thousand men, and they fell down over 35 against them. But when Lysias saw that his array was put to flight, and the boldness that had come upon them that were with Judas, and how they were ready either to live or to die nobly, he removed to Antioch, and gathered together hired soldiers, that he might come again into Judæa with even a greater company.

36 But Judas and his brethren said, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let us go up to cleanse the holy place, 37 and to dedicate it afresh. And all the army was gathered together, and they 38 went up unto<sup>1</sup> mount Zion. And they saw the sanctuary laid desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burned up, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest or as on one of the mountains, and the priests' cham- 39 bers pulled down; and they rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, 40 and put ashes upon their heads, and fell on their faces to the ground, and 41 <sup>1</sup>blew with the <sup>2</sup>solemn trumpets, and cried toward heaven. Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against those that were in the citadel, until he should have cleansed the holy place.

42 And he chose blameless priests, such 43 as had pleasure in the law: and they cleansed the holy place, and bare out the stones of defilement into an un- 44 clean place. And they took counsel concerning the altar of burnt offerings, which had been profaned, what they 45 should do with it: and there came into their mind a good counsel, that they should pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it: and they pulled down 46 the altar, and laid up the stones in the mountain of the house in a convenient place, until there should come a prophet to give an answer concerning 47 them. And they took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar after the fashion of the former; 48 and they built the holy place, and the inner parts of the house; and they 49 hallowed the courts. And they made the holy vessels new, and they brought the candlestick, and the altar of burnt offerings and of incense, and the table, 50 into the temple. And they burned incense upon the altar, and they lighted the lamps that were upon the candlestick, and they gave light in the 51 temple. And they set loaves upon the table, and spread out the veils, and finished all the works which they made.

52 And they rose up early in the morning, on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is the month Chislew, in <sup>3</sup>the hundred and forty 53 and eighth year, and offered sacrifice according to the law upon the new altar of burnt offerings which they 54 had made. At what time and on what day the Gentiles had profaned it, even on that day was it dedicated afresh, with songs and harps and lutes, and 55 with cymbals. And all the people fell upon their faces, and worshipped, and <sup>4</sup>gave praise unto heaven, which had 56 given them good success. And they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and sacrificed a sacrifice of 57 deliverance and praise. And they decked the forefront of the temple with crowns of gold and small shields, and dedicated afresh the gates and the priests' chambers, and made doors for 58 them. And there was exceeding great gladness among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned 59 away. And Judas and his brethren and the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their seasons from year to year by the space of eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month Chislew, 60 with gladness and joy. And at that season they builded up the mount Zion with high walls and strong towers round about, lest haply the Gentiles should come and tread them down, as 61 they had done aforetime. And he set there a force to keep it, and they fortified Bethsura to keep it; that the people might have a stronghold over against Idumæa.

5 And it came to pass, when the Gentiles round about heard that the altar was built, and the sanctuary dedicated as aforetime, they were exceeding 2 wroth. And they took counsel to destroy the race of Jacob that was in the midst of them, and they began to slay 3 and destroy among the people. And Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumæa at Akrabattine, because they besieged Israel: and he smote them with a great slaughter, and brought down their pride, and 4 took their spoils. And he remembered the wickedness of the children of <sup>5</sup>Beaan, who were unto the people a snare and a stumblingblock, lying in 5 wait for them in the ways. And they were shut up by him in the towers; and he encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burned with fire the towers of the place, with 6 all that were therein. And he passed over to the children of Ammon, and found a mighty band, and much people, with Timotheus for their 7 leader. And he fought many battles with them, and they were discomfited before his face; and he smote them, 8 and gat possession of Jazer, and the <sup>6</sup>villages thereof, and returned again into Judæa.

9 And the Gentiles that were in Gilead gathered themselves together against the Israelites that were on their borders, to destroy them. And they fled
10 to the stronghold of Dathema, and sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, saying, The Gentiles that are round about us are gathered together 11 against us to destroy us: and they are preparing to come and get possession of the stronghold whereunto we are fled for refuge, and Timotheus is the 12 leader of their host. Now therefore come and deliver us from their hand, 13 for many of us are fallen. And all our brethren that were in the land of 14 <sup>1</sup>Tubias have been put to death; and they have carried into captivity their wives and their children and their stuff; and they destroyed there about 15 a thousand men. While the letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with their clothes rent, bringing a report
16 after this wise, saying, That there were gathered together against them those of Ptolemais, and of Tyre, and of Sidon, and all Galilee of the <sup>2</sup>Gentiles, to consume them.
17 Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled together a great congregation, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in tribulation, and 18 were assaulted of them. And Judas said unto Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in Galilee, but I and Jonathan my brother will go into the 19 land of Gilead. And he left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, as leaders of the people, with the remnant of the host, in Judæa, for to keep 20 it. And he gave commandment unto them, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and fight no battle with the Gentiles until that we come again.
21 And unto Simon were divided three thousand men to go into Galilee, but unto Judas eight thousand men to go into the land of Gilead.
22 And Simon went into Galilee, and fought many battles with the Gentiles, and the Gentiles were discomfited before him. And he pursued them unto the gate of Ptolemais; and there fell of the Gentiles about three thousand men, and he took their 23 spoils. And they took to them those that were in Galilee, and in Arbatta, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Judæa with great gladness.
24 And Judas Maccabæus and his brother Jonathan passed over Jordan, and went three days' journey in the wilderness; and they met with the Nabathæans, and these met them in a peaceable manner, and told them all things that had befallen their brethren

25 in the land of Gilead: and how that many of them were shut up in Bosora, and Bosor, and Alema, <sup>3</sup>Casphor, Maked, and <sup>4</sup>Carnaim; all these cities
26 are strong and great: and how that they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the land of Gilead, and that to-morrow they have appointed to encamp against the strongholds, and to take them, and to destroy all these 27 men in one day. And Judas and his army turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness unto Bosora; and he took the city, and slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burned the city
28 with fire. And he removed from thence by night, and went till he came 29 to the stronghold. And the morning came, and they lifted up their eyes, and, behold, much people which could not be numbered, bearing ladders and engines of war, to take the stronghold; and they were fighting against them.
30 And Judas saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets and 31 a great sound, and he said unto the men of his host, Fight this day for 32 your brethren. And he went forth behind them in three companies, and they sounded with their trumpets, and 33 cried out in prayer. And the army of Timotheus perceived that it was Maccabæus, and they fled from before him: and he smote them with a great slaughter; and there fell of them on that day about eight thousand men.
34 And he turned aside to Mizpeh and fought against it, and took it, and slew all the males thereof, and took the spoils thereof, and burned it with 35 fire. From thence he removed, and took <sup>5</sup>Casphor, Maked, Bosor, and the other cities of the land of Gilead.
36 Now after these things Timotheus gathered another army, and encamped over against Raphon beyond the 37 brook. And Judas sent men to espy the army; and they brought him word, saying, All the Gentiles that be round about us are gathered together unto 38 them, an exceeding great host. And they have hired Arabians to help them, and are encamping beyond the brook, ready to come against thee to battle. And Judas went to meet them.
39 And Timotheus said unto the captains of his host, when Judas and his army drew nigh unto the brook of water, If he pass over first unto us, we shall not be able to withstand him; for he 40 will mightily prevail against us: but if he be afraid, and encamp beyond the river, we will cross over unto him, 41 and prevail against him. Now when Judas came nigh unto the brook of water, he caused the scribes of the people to remain by the brook, and gave commandment unto them, saying, Suffer no man to encamp, but let all 43 come to the battle. And he crossed over the first against them, and all the people after him; and all the Gentiles were discomfited before his face, and cast away their arms, and fled unto 44 the temple at <sup>1</sup>Carnaim. And they took the city, and burned the temple with fire, together with all that were therein. And Carnaim was subdued, neither could they stand any longer before the face of Judas.

 45 And Judas gathered together all Israel, them that were in the land of Gilead, from the least unto the greatest, and their wives, and their children, and their stuff, an exceeding great army, that they might come into 46 the land of Judah. And they came as far as Ephron, and this same city was great, and it was in the way as they should go, exceeding strong; they could not turn aside from it on the right hand or on the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it.
 47 And they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones.
 48 And Judas sent unto them with words of peace, saying, We will pass through thy land to go into our own land, and none shall do you any hurt, we will only pass by on our feet. And they 49 would not open unto him. And Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the army, that each man should encamp in the place where he was.
 50 And the men of the host encamped, and fought against the city all that day and all that night, and the city
 51 was delivered into his hands; and he destroyed all the males with the edge of the sword, and rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were 52 slain. And they went over Jordan into the great plain over against Beth-53 shan. And Judas gathered together those that lagged behind, and encouraged the people all the way through, until he came into the land 54 of Judah. And they went up to mount Sion with gladness and joy, and offered whole burnt offerings, because not so much as one of them was slain until they returned in peace.
 55 And in the days when Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Gilead, and Simon his brother in Galilee be-56 fore Ptolemæis, Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, rulers of the host, heard of their exploits and of the war, what things they had done;
 57 and they said, Let us also get us a name, and let us go fight against the 58 Gentiles that are round about us. And they gave charge unto the men of the host that was with them, and went

59 toward Jamnia. And Gorgias and his men came out of the city to meet 60 them in battle. And Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and were pursued unto the borders of Judea; and there fell on that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men.
 61 And there was a great overthrow among the people, because they hearkened not unto Judas and his brethren,
 62 thinking to do some exploit. But they were not of the seed of those men, by whose hand deliverance was given unto Israel.
 63 And the man Judas and his brethren were glorified exceedingly in the sight of all Israel, and of all the Gentiles, wheresoever their name was heard of;
 64 and men gathered together unto them, acclaiming them.
 65 And Judas and his brethren went forth, and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the south; and he smote Hebron and the <sup>2</sup>villages thereof, and pulled down the strongholds thereof, and burned the towers
 66 thereof round about. And he removed to go into the land of the <sup>3</sup>Philistines, 67 and he went through <sup>4</sup>Samaria. In that day certain priests, desiring to do exploits there, were slain in battle, when as <sup>5</sup>he went out to battle unad-
 68 visedly. And Judas turned aside to Azotus, to the land of the <sup>6</sup>Philistines, and pulled down their altars, and burned the carved images of their gods with fire, and took the spoil of their cities, and returned into the land of Judah.
 6 And king Antiochus was journeying through the upper countries; and he heard say, that in Elymais in Persia there was a city renowned for riches,
 2 for silver and gold; and that the temple which was in it was rich exceedingly, and that therein were golden shields, and breastplates, and arms, which Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Greeks, left behind there.
 3 And he came and sought to take the city, and to pillage it; and he was not able, because the thing was known to 4 them of the city, and they rose up against him to battle: and he fled, and removed thence with great heaviness, to return unto Babylon.
 5 And there came one bringing him tidings into Persia, that the armies, which went against the land of Judah,
 6 had been put to flight; and that Lysias went first with a strong host, and was put to shame before them; and that they had waxed strong by reason of arms and power, and with store of spoils, which they took from 7 the armies that they had cut off; and that they had pulled down the abomination which he had built upon the altar that was in Jerusalem; and that they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls, as before, and 8 Bethsura, his city. And it came to pass, when the king heard these words, he was astonished and moved exceedingly; and he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not befallen him as he 9 looked for. And he was there many days, because great grief was renewed upon him, and he made account that 10 he should die. And he called for all his <sup>1</sup>Friends, and said unto them, Sleep departeth from mine eyes, and my 11 heart faileth for care. And I said in my heart, Unto what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood is it, wherein I now am! for I was gracious 12 and beloved in my power. But now I remember the evils which I did at Jerusalem, and that I took all the vessels of silver and gold that were therein, and sent forth to destroy the inhabitants of Judah without a cause. 13 I perceive that on this account these evils are come upon me, and, behold, I perish through great grief in a 14 strange land. And he called for Philip, one of his <sup>1</sup>Friends, and set him 15 over all his kingdom, and gave him his diadem, and his robe, and his signet-ring, to the end he should bring Antiochus his son, and nourish him 16 up that he might be king. And king Antiochus died there in <sup>2</sup>the hundred 17 and forty and ninth year. And Lysias knew that the king was dead, and he set up Antiochus his son to reign, whom he had nourished up being young, and he called his name Eupator.

18 And they that were in the citadel shut up Israel round about the sanctuary, and sought always their hurt, and the strengthening of the Gentiles. 19 And Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to 20 besiege them. And they were gathered together, and besieged them in <sup>3</sup>the hundred and fiftieth year, and he made mounds to shoot from, and engines of 21 war. And there came forth some of them that were shut up, and there were joined unto them certain ungodly 22 men of Israel. And they went unto the king, and said, How long wilt thou not execute judgement, and avenge our 23 brethren? We were willing to serve thy father, and to walk after his words, 24 and to follow his commandments; and for this cause the children of our people besieged <sup>4</sup>the citadel, and were alienated from us; but as many of us as they could light on they slew, and 25 spoiled our inheritances. And not against us only did they stretch out their hand, but also against all their 26 borders. And, behold, they are encamped this day against the citadel at Jerusalem, to take it: and the sanctuary and Bethsura have they fortified, 27 And if ye are not beforehand with them quickly, they will do greater things than these, and thou shalt not be able to control them.

28 And when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his <sup>1</sup>Friends, even the rulers of his host, and them that were over the horse.

29 And there came unto him from other kingdoms, and from isles of the sea, 30 bands of hired soldiers. And the number of his forces was a hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty 31 elephants trained for war. And they went through Idumæa, and encamped against Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war; and they of Bethsura came out, and burned them with fire, and fought 32 valiantly. And Judas removed from the citadel, and encamped at Bethzacharias, over against the king's camp.

33 And the king rose early in the morning, and removed his army <sup>5</sup>at full speed along the road to Bethzacharias, and his forces made them ready to battle, 34 and sounded with the trumpets. And they shewed the elephants the blood of grapes and mulberries, that they might prepare them for the battle.

35 And they divided the beasts among the phalanxes, and they set by each elephant a thousand men armed with coats of mail, and helmets of brass on their heads; and for each beast were appointed five hundred chosen horsemen. These were ready beforehand, wheresoever the beast was; and whithersoever the beast went, they went with him; they departed not 37 from him. And towers of wood were upon them, strong and covered, one upon each beast, girt fast upon him with cunning contrivances; and upon each beast were two and thirty valiant men that fought upon them, beside 38 his Indian (and the residue of the horsemen he set on this side and that side at the two parts of the army), striking terror into the enemy, and 39 protected by the phalanxes. Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains shone therewith, and blazed like torches of 40 fire. And a part of the king's army was spread upon the high mountains, and some on the low ground, and they 41 went on firmly and in order. And all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the multitude, and the rattling of the arms, did quake: for the army was exceeding great and 42 strong. And Judas and his army drew near for battle, and there fell of the 43 king's army six hundred men. And

Eleazar, who was called Avaran, saw one of the beasts armed with royal breastplates, and he was higher than all the beasts, and the king seemed 44 to be upon him; and he gave himself to deliver his people, and to get him 45 an everlasting name; and he ran upon him courageously into the midst of the phalanx, and slew on the right hand and on the left, and they parted asunder from him on this side and on that.
 46 And he crept under the elephant, and thrust him from beneath, and slew him; and the elephant fell to the earth 47 upon him, and he died there. And they saw the strength of the kingdom, and the fierce onset of the hosts, and turned away from them.
 48 But they of the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king encamped toward Judæa, and 49 toward mount Sion. And he made peace with them of Bethsura; and he came out of the city, because they had no food there to endure the siege, because it was a sabbath to the land.
 50 And the king took Bethsura, and appointed a garrison there to keep it.
 51 And he encamped against the sanctuary many days; and set there mounds to shoot from, and engines of war, and instruments for casting fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts, and slings.
 52 And they also made engines against their engines, and fought for many 53 days. But there were no victuals in the sanctuary, because it was the seventh year, and they that fled for safety into Judæa from among the Gentiles had eaten up the residue of 54 the store; and there were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine prevailed against them, and they were scattered, each man to his own place.
 55 And Lysias heard say, that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, whiles he was yet alive, appointed to nourish up his son Antiochus, that he might 56 be king, was returned from Persia and Media, and with him the forces that went with the king, and that he was seeking to take unto him the govern-57 ment. And he made haste, and gave consent to depart; and he said to the king and the leaders of the host and to the men, We decay daily, and our food is scant, and the place where we encamp is strong, and the affairs of 58 the kingdom lie upon us: now therefore let us give the right hand to these men, and make peace with them and 59 with all their nation, and covenant with them, that they shall walk after their own laws, as aforetime: for because of their laws which we abolished they were angered, and did all these 60 things. And the saying pleased the king and the princes, and he sent unto them to make peace; and they accepted 61 thereof. And the king and the princes swore unto them: thereupon they came 62 forth from the stronghold. And the king entered into mount Sion; and he saw the strength of the place, and set at nought the oath which he had sworn, and gave commandment to pull down

 63 the wall round about. And he removed in haste, and returned unto Antioch, and found Philip master of the city; and he fought against him, and took the city by force.

7 In <sup>1</sup>the hundred and one and fiftieth year Demetrius the son of Seleucus came forth from Rome, and went up with a few men unto a city by the sea, and reigned there. And it came to pass, when he would go into the house of the kingdom of his fathers, that the army laid hands on Antiochus and 3 Lysias, to bring them unto him. And the thing was known to him, and he said, Shew me not their faces.
 4 And the army slew them. And Demetrius sat upon the throne of his 5 kingdom. And there came unto him all the lawless and ungodly men of Israel; and Alcimus was their leader, desiring
 6 to be high priest; and they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have destroyed all thy friends, and have scattered us
 7 from our own land. Now therefore send a man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see all the havock which he hath made of us, and of the king's country, and how he hath punished them and all that helped
 8 them. And the king chose Bacchides, one of the king's <sup>2</sup>Friends, who was ruler in the country beyond the river, and was a great man in the kingdom, 9 and faithful to the king. And he sent him, and that ungodly Alcimus, and made sure to him the high priesthood, and he commanded him to take vengeance upon the children of Israel.
 10 And they removed, and came with a great host into the land of Judah, and he sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with words of peace 11 deceitfully. And they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they 12 were come with a great host. And there were gathered together unto Alcimus and Bacchides a company of 13 scribes, to seek for justice. And the <sup>3</sup>Hasidæans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace
 14 of them; for they said, One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with the forces, and he will do us no
 15 wrong. And he spake with them words of peace, and swore unto them, saying, We will seek the hurt neither 16 of you nor your friends. And they gave him credence: and he laid hands on threescore men of them, and slew them in one day, according to the word which the psalmist wrote, 17 <sup>1</sup>The flesh of thy saints did they cast out,

And their blood did they shed round about Jerusalem;

And there was no man to bury them.

18 And the fear and the dread of them fell upon all the people, for they said, There is neither truth nor judgement in them; for they have broken the covenant and the oath which they sware.

19 And Bacchides removed from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bezeth; and he sent and took many of the deserters that were with him, and certain of the people, and he slew them, and cast 20 them into the great pit. And he made sure the country to Alcimus, and left with him a force to aid him; and Bacchides went away unto the king.

21 And Alcimus strove for his high 22 priesthood. And there were gathered unto him all they that troubled their people, and they got the mastery of the land of Judah, and did great hurt

23 in Israel. And Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the children of Israel,

24 even above the Gentiles, and he went out into all the coasts of Judæa round about, and took vengeance on the men that had deserted from him, and they were restrained from going forth into 25 the country. But when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company waxed strong, and knew that he was not able to withstand them, he returned to the king, and brought evil accusations against them.

26 <sup>2</sup>And the king sent Nicanor, one of his honourable princes, a man that hated Israel and was their enemy, and commanded him to destroy the people.

27 And Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great host; and he sent unto Judas and his brethren deceitfully with words

28 of peace, saying, Let there be no battle between me and you; I will come with a few men, that I may see your 29 faces in peace. And he came to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. And the enemies were ready to

30 take away Judas by violence. And the thing was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, and he was sore afraid of him, and

31 would see his face no more. And Nicanor knew that his counsel was discovered; and he went out to meet Judas in battle beside Capharsalama;

32 and there fell of Nicanor's side about <sup>3</sup>five hundred men, and they fled into the city of David.

33 And after these things Nicanor went up to mount Sion: and there came some of the priests out of the sanctuary, and some of the elders of the people, to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the whole burnt sacrifice that was being offered for the king.

34 And he mocked them, and laughed at them, and <sup>4</sup>entreated them shamefully,

35 and spake haughtily, and sware in a rage, saying, Unless Judas and his army be now delivered into my hands, it shall be that, if I come again in peace, I will burn up this house: and

36 he went out in a great rage. And the priests entered in, and stood before the altar and the temple; and they

37 wept, and said, Thou didst choose this house to be called by thy name, to be a house of prayer and supplica-

38 tion for thy people: take vengeance on this man and his army, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to live any longer.

39 And Nicanor went forth from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bethoron, and there met him the host of Syria.

40 And Judas encamped in Adasa with three thousand men: and Judas prayed

41 and said, When they that came from the king blasphemed, thine angel went out, and smote among them a hundred

42 and fourscore and five thousand. Even so discomfit thou this army before us to-day, and let all the rest know that he hath spoken wickedly against thy sanctuary, and judge thou him ac-

43 cording to his wickedness. And on the thirteenth day of the month Adar the armies joined battle: and Nicanor's army was discomfited, and he himself was the first to fall in

44 the battle. Now when his army saw that Nicanor was fallen, they cast 45 away their arms, and fled. And they pursued after them a day's journey from Adasa until thou comest to

46 And they came forth out of all the villages of Judæa round about, and <sup>7</sup>closed them in; and these turned them back on those, and they all fell by the sword, and there was not one

47 of them left. And they took the spoils, and the booty, and they smote off Nicanor's head, and his right hand, which he stretched out so haughtily, and brought them, and <sup>8</sup>hanged them

48 up beside Jerusalem. And the people was exceeding glad, and they kept that 49 day as a day of great gladness. And <sup>9</sup>they ordained to keep this day year by year, to wit, the thirteenth day

50 of Adar. And the land of Judah had rest <sup>10</sup>a little while.

8 And Judas heard of the fame of the Romans, that they are valiant men, and have pleasure in all that join themselves unto them, and make amity

2 with all such as come unto them, and that they are valiant men. And they told him of their wars and exploits which they do among the Gauls, and how that they conquered them, and 3 brought them under tribute; and what things they did in the land of Spain, that they might become masters of the mines of silver and gold which were 4 there; and how that by their policy and persistence they conquered all the place (and the place was exceeding far from them), and the kings that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, until they had discomfited them, and smitten them very sore; and how the rest give them 5 tribute year by year: and Philip, and Perseus, king of Chittim, and them that lifted up themselves against them, did they discomfit in battle, and conquered them: Antiochus also, the great king of Asia, who came against them to battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horse, and chariots, and an exceeding great host, and he 7 was discomfited by them, and they took him alive, and appointed that both he and such as reigned after him should give them a great tribute, and should give hostages, and a parcel of 8 land, to wit, the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest of their countries; and they took them from him, and gave them to king 9 Eumenes: and how they of Greece took counsel to come and destroy 10 them; and the thing was known to them, and they sent against them a captain, and fought against them, and many of them fell down wounded to death, and they made captive their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and conquered their land, and pulled down their strongholds, and spoiled them, and brought them into 11 bondage unto this day: and the residue of the kingdoms and of the isles, as many as rose up against them at any time, they destroyed and made them 12 to be their servants; but with their friends and such as relied upon them they kept amity; and they conquered the kingdoms that were nigh and those that were far off, and all that heard of 13 their fame were afraid of them: moreover, whomsoever they will to succour and to make kings, these do they make kings; and whomsoever they will, do they depose; and they are exalted exceedingly: and for all this none of 14 them did ever put on a diadem, neither did they clothe themselves with purple, to be magnified thereby: and how they had made for themselves a senate house, and day by day three hundred and twenty men sat in council, consulting alway for the people, to the end they might be well ordered: 15 and how they commit their government to one man year by year, that he should rule over them, and be lord over all their country, and all are obedient to that one, and there is neither envy nor emulation among them.

17 And Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and 18 confederacy with them, and that they should take the yoke from them; for they saw that the kingdom of the Greeks did keep Israel in bondage. 19 And they went to Rome (and the way was exceeding long), and they entered into the senate house, and answered 20 and said, Judas, who is also called Maccabæus, and his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends. 21 And the thing was well-pleasing in 22 their sight. And this is the copy of the writing which they wrote back again on tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that it might be with them there for a memorial of peace and confederacy: 23 Good success be to the Romans, and to the nation of the Jews, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and 24 the enemy be far from them. But if war arise for Rome first, or any of their confederates in all their dominion, 25 the nation of the Jews shall help them as confederates, as the occasion shall prescribe to them, with all their heart: 26 and unto them that make war upon them they shall not give, neither supply, food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome, and they shall keep their ordinances without taking anything therefore: In the 27 same manner, moreover, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them as confederates with all their soul, as the occasion 28 shall prescribe to them: and to them that are confederates with their foes there shall not be given food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome; and they shall keep these ordinances, and that without deceit. According to these words have 29 the Romans made a covenant thus 30 with the people of the Jews. But if hereafter the one party and the other shall take counsel to add or diminish anything, they shall do it at their pleasure, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be established. 31 And as touching the evils which king Demetrius doeth unto them, we have written to him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy yoke heavy upon our friends and confederates the Jews? 32 If therefore they plead any more against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

9 And Demetrius heard that Nicanor was fallen with his forces in battle, and he sent Bacchides and Alcimus again into the land of Judah a second time, and the right wing of his army with 2 them: and they went by the way that leadeth to Gilgal, and encamped against Mesaloth, which is in Arbela, and gat possession of it, and destroyed much 3 people. And the first month of <sup>1</sup>the hundred and fifty and second year they encamped against Jerusalem: 4 and they removed, and went to Berea, with twenty thousand footmen and 5 two thousand horse. And Judas was encamped at Elasa, and three thousand 6 chosen men with him: and they saw the multitude of the forces, that they were many, and they feared exceedingly: and many slipped away out of the army; there were not left of them 7 more than eight hundred men. And Judas saw that his army slipped away, and that the battle pressed upon him, and he was sore troubled in heart, for that he had no time to gather them 8 together, and he waxed faint. And he said to them that were left, Let us arise and go up against our adversaries, if peradventure we may be able 9 to fight with them. And they would have dissuaded him, saying, We shall in no wise be able: but let us rather save our lives now: let us return again, we and our brethren, and fight 10 against them: but we are few. And Judas said, Let it not be so that I should do this thing, to flee from them: and if our time is come, let us die manfully for our brethren's sake, and not leave a cause of reproach against 11 our glory. And the host removed from the camp, and stood to encounter them, and the horse was parted into two companies, and the slingers and the archers went before the host, and all the mighty men that fought in the 12 front of the battle. But Bacchides was in the right wing; and the phalanx drew near on the two parts, and they 13 blew with their trumpets. And the men of Judas' side, even they sounded with their trumpets, and the earth shook with the shout of the armies, and the battle was joined, and continued from morning until evening. 14 And Judas saw that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, and there went with him all 15 that were brave in heart, and the right wing was discomfited by them, and he pursued after them unto the mount 16 Azotus. And they that were on the left wing saw that the right wing was discomfited, and they turned and followed upon the footsteps of Judas and 17 of those that were with him: and the battle waxed sore, and many on both 18 parts fell wounded to death. And 19 Judas fell, and the rest fled. And Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers at Modin. And they bewailed him, and all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned 21 many days, and said, How is the mighty fallen, the saviour of Israel! 22 And the rest of the acts of Judas, and his wars, and the valiant deeds which he did, and his greatness, they are not written; for they were exceeding many.

23 And it came to pass after the death of Judas, that the lawless put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and all they that wrought iniquity rose 24 up (in those days was there an exceeding great famine), and the country 25 went over with them. And Bacchides chose out the ungodly men, and made 26 them lords of the country. And they sought out and searched for the friends of Judas, and brought them unto Bacchides, and he took vengeance on them, 27 and used them despitefully. And there was great tribulation in Israel, such as was not since the time that no prophet appeared unto them. And all the friends of Judas were gathered together, and they said unto Jonathan, 29 Since thy brother Judas hath died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies and Bacchides, and among them of our nation that 30 hate us. Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince and leader in his stead, that thou mayest 31 fight our battles. And Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and rose up in the stead of his brother Judas.

32 And Bacchides knew it, and he sought 33 to slay him. And Jonathan, and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, knew it; and they fled into the wilderness of Tekoah, and encamped 34 by the water of the pool Asphar. And Bacchides knew it on the sabbath day, and came, he and all his army, over 35 Jordan. And Jonathan sent his brother, a leader of the multitude, and besought his friends the Nabathæans, that they might leave with them their 36 baggage, which was much. And the children of Jambri came out of Medaba, and took John, and all that he had, and went their way with it.

37 But after these things they brought word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri were making a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from Nadabath with a great train, a daughter of one of the 38 great nobles of Canaan. And they remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under

39 the covert of the mountain: and they lifted up their eyes, and saw, and, behold, a great ado and much baggage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and his brethren, to meet them with timbrels, and minstrels, and 40 many weapons. And they rose up against them from their ambush, and slew them, and many fell wounded to death, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their spoils.
41 And the marriage was turned into mourning, and the voice of their minstrels into lamentation. And they avenged fully the blood of their brother, and turned back to the marsh of Jordan.
42
43 And Bacchides heard it, and he came on the sabbath day unto the banks of 44 Jordan with a great host. And Jonathan said to his company, Let us stand up now and fight for our lives, for it is not with us to-day, as yesterday and 45 the day before. For, behold, the battle is before us and behind us; moreover the water of the Jordan is on this side and on that side, and marsh and wood; and there is no place to turn aside.
46 Now therefore cry unto heaven, that ye may be delivered out of the hand 47 of your enemies. And the battle was joined, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, and he 48 turned away back from him. And Jonathan and they that were with him leapt into the Jordan, and swam over to the other side; and they did not 49 pass over Jordan against them. And there fell of Bacchides' company that 50 day about a thousand men; and he returned to Jerusalem. And they builded strong cities in Judæa, the stronghold that was in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Bethoron, and Bethel, and Timnath, Pharathon, and Tephon, with high 51 walls and gates and bars. And in them he set a garrison, to vex Israel.
52 And he fortified the city Bethsura, and Gazara, and the citadel, and put forces
53 in them, and store of victuals. And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, and put them in ward in the citadel at Jerusalem.
54 And in <sup>1</sup>the hundred and fifty and third year, in the second month, Alcimus commanded to pull down the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary; he pulled down also the works
55 of the prophets; and he began to pull down. At that time was Alcimus stricken, and his works were hindered; and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, and he could no more speak anything and give order 56 concerning his house. And Alcimus died at that time with great torment.
57 And Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, and he returned to the king: and the land of Judah had rest two years.

58 And all the lawless men took counsel, saying, Behold, Jonathan and they of his part are dwelling at ease, and in security: now therefore we will bring Bacchides, and he shall lay hands on 59 them all in one night. And they went 60 and consulted with him. And he removed, and came with a great host, and sent letters privily to all his confederates that were in Judæa, that they should lay hands on Jonathan and those that were with him; and they could not, because their counsel was 61 known unto them. And they that were of Jonathan's part laid hands on about fifty of the men of the country, that were authors of the wickedness, and 62 he slew them. And Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, gat them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and he built up that which had been pulled down thereof, 63 and they made it strong. And Bacchides knew it, and he gathered together all his multitude, and sent word 64 to them that were of Judæa. And he went and encamped against Bethbasi, and fought against it many days, and 65 made engines of war. And Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the country, and he 66 went with a few men. And he smote Odomera and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent.
67 And they began to smite them, and to go up with their forces. And Simon and they that were with him went out of the city, and set on fire the engines
68 of war, and fought against Bacchides, and he was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore; for his counsel
69 was in vain, and his inroad. And they were very wroth with the lawless men that gave him counsel to come into the country, and they slew many of them. And he took counsel to depart 70 into his own land. And Jonathan had knowledge thereof, and sent ambassadors unto him, to the end that they should make peace with him, and that he should restore unto them the captives.
71 And he accepted the thing, and did according to his words, and sware unto him that he would not seek his 72 hurt all the days of his life. And he restored unto him the captives which he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judah, and he returned and departed into his own land, and came not any 73 more into their borders. And the sword ceased from Israel. And Jonathan dwelt at Michmash; and Jonathan began to judge the people; and he destroyed the ungodly out of Israel.
10 And in <sup>2</sup>the hundred and sixtieth year Alexander Epiphanes, the son of Antiochus, went up and took possession of Ptolemais: and they received
2 him, and he reigned there. And king

Demetrius heard thereof, and he gathered together exceeding great forces, and went forth to meet him in battle.

3 And Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with words of peace, so as 4 to magnify him. For he said, Let us be beforehand to make peace with them, ere he make peace with Alexander against us: for he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and unto his brethren 6 and unto his nation. And he gave him authority to gather together forces, and to provide arms, and that he should be his confederate: and he commanded that they should deliver up to him the hostages that were in the citadel.

7 And Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were 8 in the citadel: and they were sore afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather 9 together a host. And they of the citadel delivered up the hostages unto Jonathan, and he restored them unto 10 their parents. And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem, and began to build and 11 renew the city. And he commanded them that did the work to build the walls and the mount Sion round about with <sup>1</sup>square stones for defence; and 12 they did so. And the strangers, that were in the strongholds which Bacchides had built, fled away; and each man left his place, and departed into 14 his own land. Only at Bethsura were there left certain of those that had forsaken the law and the commandments; for it was a place of refuge unto them.

15 And king Alexander heard all the promises which Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: and they told him of the battles and the valiant deeds which he and his brethren had done, and of 16 the toils which they had endured; and he said, Shall we find such another man? and now we will make him our 17 <sup>2</sup>Friend and confederate. And he wrote letters, and sent them unto him, according to these words, saying,

18 King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, greeting: We have heard of thee, that thou art a mighty man of valour, 20 and meet to be our <sup>2</sup>Friend. And now we have appointed thee this day to be high priest of thy nation, and to be called the king's <sup>2</sup>Friend (and he sent unto him a purple robe and a crown of gold), and to take our part, and to keep friendship with us.

21 And Jonathan put on the holy garments in the seventh month of <sup>3</sup>the hundred and sixtieth year, at the feast of tabernacles, and he gathered together forces, and provided arms in abundance.

22 And Demetrius heard these things,

23 and he was grieved, and said, What is this that we have done, that Alexander hath been beforehand with us in establishing friendship with the Jews, to 24 strengthen himself? I also will write unto them words of encouragement and of honour and of gifts, that they 25 may be with me to aid me. And he sent unto them according to these words:

King Demetrius unto the nation of 26 the Jews, greeting: Forasmuch as ye have kept your covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, and have not joined yourselves to our enemies, we have heard hereof, and 27 are glad. And now continue ye still to keep faith with us, and we will recompense unto you good things in return 28 for your dealings with us, and will grant you many immunities, and give 29 you gifts. And now do I free you, and release all the Jews, from the tributes, and from the customs of salt, and from 30 the crowns. And instead of the third part of the seed, and instead of the half of the fruit of the trees, which falleth to me to receive, I release it from this day and henceforth, so that I will not take it from the land of Judah, and from the three governments which are added therunto from the country of Samaria and Galilee, from 31 this day forth and for all time. And let Jerusalem be holy and free, and her borders; the tenths and the tolls 32 also. I yield up also my authority over the citadel which is at Jerusalem, and give it to the high priest, that he may appoint in it such men as he shall 33 choose to keep it. And every soul of the Jews, that hath been carried captive from the land of Judah into any part of my kingdom, I set at liberty without price; and let all remit the 34 tributes of their cattle also. And all the feasts, and the sabbaths, and new moons, and appointed days, and three days before a feast, and three days after a feast, let them all be days of immunity and release for all the Jews 35 that are in my kingdom. And no man shall have authority to exact from any of them, or to trouble them concerning 36 any matter. And let there be enrolled among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, and pay shall be given unto them, as belongeth 37 to all the king's forces. And of them some shall be placed in the king's great strongholds, and some of them shall be placed over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust; and let those that are over them, and their rulers, be of themselves, and let them walk after their own laws, even as the king hath 38 commanded in the land of Judah. And the three governments that have been added to Judæa from the country of Samaria, let them be added to Judæa, that they may be reckoned to be under one, that they may not obey other authority than the high priest's. As for Ptolemais, and the land pertaining thereto, I have given it as a gift to the sanctuary that is at Jerusalem, for the expenses that befit the sanctuary. And I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver from the king's revenues from the places that are convenient. And all the overplus, which they that manage the king's affairs paid not in as in the first years, they shall give from henceforth toward the works of the house. And beside this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they received from the uses of the sanctuary from the revenue year by year, this also is released, because it appertaineth to the priests that minister. And whosoever shall flee unto the temple that is at Jerusalem, and be found within all the borders thereof, whether one owe moneys to the king, or any other matter, let them go free, and all that they have in my kingdom. And for the building and renewing of the works of the sanctuary the expense shall be given also out of the king's revenue. And for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, shall the expense be given also out of the king's revenue, and for the building of the walls in Judæa.

46 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credence unto them, nor received them, because they remembered the great evil which he had done in Israel, and that he had afflicted them very sore.

47 And they were well pleased with Alexander, because he was the first that spake words of peace unto them, and they were confederate with him always.

48 And king Alexander gathered together great forces, and encamped over against Demetrius. And the two kings joined battle, and the army of Alexander fled; and Demetrius followed after him, and prevailed against them. And he strengthened the battle exceedingly until the sun went down: and Demetrius fell that day.

51 And Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemy king of Egypt according to these words, saying, Forasmuch as I am returned to my kingdom, and am set on the throne of my fathers, and have gotten the dominion, and have overthrown Demetrius, and have gotten possession of our country; yea, I joined battle with him, and he and his army were discomfited by us, and we sat upon the throne of his kingdom: now also let us establish amity one with the other, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will make affinity with thee, and will give both thee and her gifts worthy of thee.

55 And Ptolemy the king answered, saying, Happy is the day wherein thou didst return unto the land of thy fathers, and didst sit on the throne of their kingdom. And now will I do to thee, as thou hast written: but meet me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another; and I will make affinity with thee, even as thou hast said. And Ptolemy went out of Egypt, himself and Cleopatra his daughter, and came unto Ptolemais in the hundred and threescore and second year: and king Alexander met him, and he bestowed on him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great pomp, as the manner of kings is.

59 And king Alexander wrote unto Jonathan, that he should come to meet him. And he went with pomp to Ptolemais, and met the two kings, and gave them and their Friends silver and gold, and many gifts, and found favour in their sight. And there were gathered together against him certain pestilent fellows out of Israel, men that were transgressors of the law, to complain against him: and the king gave no heed to them. And the king commanded, and they took off Jonathan's garments, and clothed him in purple: and thus they did. And the king made him sit with him, and said unto his princes, Go forth with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and let no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 And it came to pass, when they that complained against him saw his glory according as the herald made proclamation, and saw him clothed in purple, they all fled away. And the king gave him honour, and wrote him among his Chief Friends, and made him a captain, and governor of a province.

66 And Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

67 And in the hundred and threescore and fifth year came Demetrius, son of Demetrius, out of Crete into the land of his fathers: and king Alexander heard thereof, and he was grieved exceedingly, and returned unto Antioch.

69 And Demetrius appointed Apollonius, who was over Cœlesyria, and he gathered together a great host, and encamped in Jammia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying,

70 Thou alone liftest up thyself against us, but I am had in derision and in reproach because of thee. And why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains? Now therefore, if thou trustest in thy forces, come down to us into the plain, and there let us try the matter together; for with me is the 72 power of the cities. Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that help us; and they say, Your foot cannot stand before our face; for thy fathers have been twice put to flight in their own land.

 73 And now thou shalt not be able to abide the horse and such a host as this in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.
 74 Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and he chose out ten thousand men, and went forth from Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to 75 help him. And he encamped against Joppa: and they of the city shut him out, because Apollonius had a garrison 76 in Joppa: and they fought against it.
 And they of the city were afraid, and opened unto him: and Jonathan be-77 came master of Joppa. And Apollonius heard, and he gathered an army of three thousand horse, and a great host, and went to Azotus as though he were on a journey, and therewithal drew onward into the plain, because he had a multitude of horse, and trusted therein.
 78 And he pursued after him to Azotus, 79 and the armies joined battle<sup>1</sup>. And Apollonius had left a thousand horse 80 behind them privily. And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him. And they compassed round his army, and cast their darts at the people, from morning until 81 evening: but the people stood still, as Jonathan commanded them: and their 82 horses were wearied. And Simon drew forth his host, and joined battle with the phalanx (for the horsemen were spent), and they were discomfited by 83 him, and fled. And the horsemen were scattered in the plain, and they fled to Azotus, and entered into Beth-dagon, their idol's temple, to save themselves.
 84 And Jonathan burned Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils; and the temple of Dagon, and them that fled into it, he burned with 85 fire. And they that had fallen by the sword, with them that were burned, 86 were about eight thousand men. And from thence Jonathan removed, and encamped against Ascalon, and they of the city came forth to meet him with 87 great pomp. And Jonathan, with them that were on his side, returned unto 88 Jerusalem, having many spoils. And it came to pass, when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Jona-89 than yet more; and he sent unto him a buckle of gold, as the use is to give to such as are of the kindred of the kings: and he gave him Ekron and all the coasts thereof for a possession.
 11 And the king of Egypt gathered together great forces, as the sand which is by the sea shore, and many ships,

<sup>1</sup> Most of the authorities here repeat after him.

and sought to make himself master of Alexander's kingdom by deceit, and 2 to add it to his own kingdom. And he went forth into Syria with words of peace, and they of the cities opened unto him, and met him; for king Alexander's commandment was that they should meet him, because he was 3 his father in law. Now as he entered into the cities of Ptolemais, he set his forces for a garrison in each city.
 4 But when he came near to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon burned with fire, and Azotus and the suburbs thereof pulled down, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that had been burned, whom he burned in the war, for they had made heaps of them 5 in his way. And they told the king what things Jonathan had done, that they might cast blame on him: and 6 the king held his peace. And Jonathan met the king with pomp at Joppa, and they saluted one another, and 7 they slept there. And Jonathan went with the king as far as the river that is called Eleutherus, and returned to 8 Jerusalem. But king Ptolemy became master of the cities upon the sea coast, unto Seleucia which is by the sea,
 and he devised evil devices concerning 9 Alexander. And he sent ambassadors unto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a covenant with one another, and I will give thee my daughter whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt 10 reign over thy father's kingdom; for I have repented that I gave my daughter unto him, for he sought to 11 slay me. And he cast blame on him, 12 because he coveted his kingdom. And taking his daughter from him, he gave her to Demetrius, and was estranged from Alexander, and their enmity was 13 openly seen. And Ptolemy entered into Antioch, and put on himself the diadem of Asia; and he put two diadems upon his head, the diadem of 14 Egypt and that of Asia. But king Alexander was in Cilicia at that season, because they of those parts were in 15 revolt. And Alexander heard of it, and he came against him in war: and Ptolemy led forth his host, and met him with a strong force, and put him 16 to flight. And Alexander fled into Arabia, that he might be sheltered there; but king Ptolemy was exalted.
 17 And Zabdiel the Arabian took off Alexander's head, and sent it to Ptolemy.
 18 And king Ptolemy died the third day after, and they that were in his strongholds were slain by them that were 19 in the strongholds. And Demetrius reigned in <sup>2</sup> the hundred and threescore and seventh year.
 20 In those days Jonathan gathered together them of Judæa, to take the citadel that was at Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it.

 21 And certain that hated their own nation, men that transgressed the law, went unto the king, and reported to him that Jonathan was besieging the 22 citadel. And he heard, and was angered; but when he heard it, he set forth immediately, and came to Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not besiege it, and that he should meet him and speak with him
 23 at Ptolemais with all speed. But when Jonathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel and of the priests, and put himself in peril, 24 and taking silver and gold and raiment and divers presents besides, went to Ptolemais unto the king. And he 25 found favour in his sight. And certain lawless men of them that were of the nation made complaints against 26 him, and the king did unto him even as his predecessors had done unto him, and exalted him in the sight of 27 all his <sup>1</sup> Friends, and confirmed to him the high priesthood, and all the other honours that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his <sup>2</sup> Chief 28 Friends. And Jonathan requested of the king, that he would make Judæa free from tribute, and the three <sup>3</sup> provinces, and the country of Samaria; and promised him three hundred ta-
 29 lents. And the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan concerning all these things after this manner:
 30 King Demetrius unto his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the 31 Jews, greeting: The copy of the letter which we wrote unto Lasthenes our kinsman concerning you, we have written also unto you, that ye may see 32 it. King Demetrius unto Lasthenes his father, greeting: We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews, who are our friends, and observe what is just toward us, because 34 of their good will toward us. We have confirmed therefore unto them the borders of Judæa, and also the three governments of Apherema and Lydda and Ramathaim (these were added unto Judæa from the country of Samaria), and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the king's dues which the king received of them yearly 35 aforetime from the produce of the earth and the fruits of trees. And as for the other things that pertain unto us from henceforth, of the tenths and the tolls that pertain unto us, and the salt-pits, and the crowns that pertain unto us, all these we will bestow upon 36 them. And not one of these things shall be annulled from this time forth 37 and for ever. Now therefore be careful to make a copy of these things, and let it be given unto Jonathan, and let it be set up on the holy mount in a meet and conspicuous place.

38 And king Demetrius saw that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made to him, and he sent away all his forces, each man to his own place, except the foreign forces, which he had raised from the isles of the Gentiles: and all the forces
 39 of his fathers hated him. Now Tryphon was of those who aforetime had been of Alexander's part, and he saw that all the forces murmured against Demetrius, and he went to Imalce the Arabian, who was nourishing up 40 Antiochus the young child of Alexander, and pressed sore upon him that he should deliver him unto him, that he might reign in his father's stead: and he told him all that Demetrius had done, and the hatred wherewith his forces hated him; and he abode there many days.

41 And Jonathan sent unto king Demetrius, that he should cast out of Jerusalem them of the citadel, and them that were in the strongholds; for they fought against Israel continually. And Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy nation, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if I find fair occasion. Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men who shall fight for me; for 44 all my forces are revolted. And Jonathan sent him three thousand valiant men unto Antioch: and they came to the king, and the king was glad at 45 their coming. And they of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and they were minded to slay the 46 king. And the king fled into the court of the palace, and they of the city seized the passages of the city, and 47 began to fight. And the king called the Jews to help him, and they were gathered together unto him all at once, and they dispersed themselves in the city, and slew that day to the number
 48 of a hundred thousand. And they set the city on fire, and gat many spoils 49 that day, and saved the king. And they of the city saw that the Jews had made themselves masters of the city as they would, and they waxed faint in their hearts, and they cried out to the king with supplication, saying,
 50 Give us thy right hand, and let the Jews cease from fighting against us 51 and the city. And they cast away their arms, and made peace; and the Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and before all that were in his kingdom; and they returned to Jerusalem, having many spoils. And king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet 53 before him. And he lied in all that he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, and recompensed him not according to the benefits with which he had recompensed him, and afflicted him exceedingly.

54 Now after this Tryphon returned, and with him the young child Antiochus; and he reigned, and put on a diadem.

55 And there were gathered unto him all the forces which Demetrius had sent away with disgrace, and they fought against him, and he fled and was put

56 to the rout. And Tryphon took the elephants, and became master of An-

57 tioch. And the young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, I confirm unto thee the high priesthood, and appoint thee over the four governments, and

58 to be one of the king's <sup>1</sup>Friends. And he sent unto him golden vessels and furniture for the table, and gave him leave to drink in golden vessels, and to be clothed in purple, and to have a

59 golden buckle. And his brother Simon he made captain from the Ladder of 60 Tyre unto the borders of Egypt. And Jonathan went forth, and took his journey beyond the river and through the cities; and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to be his confederates. And he came to

Ascalon, and they of the city met him

61 honourably. And he departed thence to Gaza, and they of Gaza shut him out; and he laid siege unto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire,

62 and spoiled them. And they of Gaza made request unto Jonathan, and he gave them his right hand, and took the sons of their princes for hostages, and sent them away to Jerusalem; and he passed through the country as far as Damascus.

63 And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to Kedesh, which is in Galilee, with a great host, purposing

64 to remove him from his office; and he went to meet them, but Simon his 65 brother he left in the country. And Simon encamped against Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and shut

66 it up: and they made request to him that he would give them his right hand, and he gave it to them; and he put them out from thence, and took possession of the city, and set a gar-

67 rison over it. And Jonathan and his army encamped at the water of Genesareth, and early in the morning they gat them to the plain of Hazor.

68 And, behold, an army of strangers met him in the plain, and they laid an ambush for him in the mountains, but

69 themselves met him face to face. But they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joined battle; and all they that were of Jonathan's side 70 fled: not one of them was left, except Mattathias the son of Absalom, and Judas the son of Chalphi, captains of 71 the forces. And Jonathan rent his clothes, and put earth upon his head,

72 and prayed. And he turned again unto them in battle, and put them to the

73 rout, and they fled. And they of his side that fled saw it, and returned unto him, and pursued with him unto Kedesh unto their camp, and they 74 encamped there. And there fell of the strangers on that day about three thousand men: and Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

12 And Jonathan saw that the time served him, and he chose men, and sent them to Rome, to confirm and renew the friendship that they had

2 with them. And to the Spartans, and to other places, he sent letters after

3 the same manner. And they went unto Rome, and entered into the senate house, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the nation of the Jews, have sent us, to renew for them the friendship and the confederacy, as in 4 former time. And they gave them letters unto the men in every place, that they should bring them on their way to the land of Judah in peace.

5 And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans: 6 Jonathan the high priest, and the senate of the nation, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews, unto their brethren the Spartans, greet-

7 ing: Even before this time were letters sent unto Onias the high priest from <sup>2</sup>Arius, who was reigning among you, to signify that ye are our brethren, as the copy here underwritten sheweth.

8 And Onias entreated honourably the man that was sent, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made

9 of confederacy and friendship. Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, having for our encouragement the holy books which are in our

10 hands, have assayed to send that we might renew our brotherhood and friendship with you, to the end that we should not become estranged from you altogether: for long time is passed

11 since ye sent unto us. We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our feasts, and on the other convenient days, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as it is right and meet to 12 be mindful of brethren: and moreover 13 are glad for your glory. But as for ourselves, many afflictions and many wars have encompassed us, and the kings that are round about us have

14 fought against us. We were not minded therefore to be troublesome unto you, and to the rest of our confederates

15 and friends, in these wars; for we have the help which is from heaven to help us, and we have been delivered from our enemies, and our enemies 16 have been brought low. We chose therefore Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and have sent them unto the Romans, to renew the friendship that we had with them, and the former confederacy. 17 We commanded them therefore to go also unto you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of friendship and our 18 brotherhood. And now ye shall do well if ye give us an answer thereto. 19 And this is the copy of the letters which they sent to Onias: 20 Arius king of the Spartans to Onias 21 the chief priest, greeting: It hath been found in writing, concerning the Spartans and the Jews, that they are brethren, and that they are of the 22 stock of Abraham: and now, since this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well to write unto us of your 23 <sup>1</sup>prosperity. And we moreover do write on our part to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore that they make report unto you on this wise. 24 And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were returned to fight against him with a greater host than afore, 25 and he removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the country of Hamath; for he gave them no respite to set foot 26 in his country. And he sent spies into his camp, and they came again, and reported to him that they were appointed in such and such a way to fall upon them in the night season. 27 But so soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready for battle: and he put forth sentinels 28 round about the camp. And the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, and they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camp<sup>2</sup>. 29 But Jonathan and his men knew it not till the morning; for they saw the 30 lights burning. And Jonathan pursued after them, and overtook them not; for they were gone over the river 31 Eleutherus. And Jonathan turned aside to the Arabians, who are called Zabadeans, and smote them, and took 32 their spoils. And he set out from thence, and came to Damascus, and took his journey through all the coun- 33 try. And Simon went forth, and took his journey as far as Ascalon, and the strongholds that were near unto it. And he turned aside to Joppa, and 34 took possession of it; for he had heard that they were minded to deliver the stronghold unto the men of Demetrius; and he set a garrison there to keep it. 35 And Jonathan returned, and called the elders of the people together; and he took counsel with them to build 36 strongholds in Judæa, and to make the walls of Jerusalem higher, and to raise a great mound between the citadel and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be all alone, that men might neither 37 buy nor sell. And they were gathered together to build the city, and there fell down part of the wall of the brook that is on the east side, and he repaired that which is called Chapphenatha. 38 And Simon also built Adida in the <sup>3</sup>plain country, and made it strong, and set up gates and bars. 39 And Tryphon sought to reign over Asia and to put on himself the diadem, and to stretch forth his hand against 40 Antiochus the king. And he was afraid lest haply Jonathan should not suffer him, and lest he should fight against him; and he sought a way how to take him, that he might destroy him. And he removed, and came to Bethshan. 41 And Jonathan came forth to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for 42 battle, and came to Bethshan. And Tryphon saw that he came with a great host, and he was afraid to stretch 43 forth his hand against him: and he received him honourably, and commended him unto all his <sup>4</sup>Friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his forces to be obedient unto him, as unto 44 himself. And he said unto Jonathan, Why hast thou put all this people to trouble, seeing there is no war 45 betwixt us? And now send them away to their homes, but choose for thyself a few men who shall be with thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, and I will give it up to thee, and the rest of the strongholds and the rest of the forces, and all the king's officers: and I will return and depart; for this is the cause of my 46 coming. And he put trust in him, and did even as he said, and sent away his forces, and they departed 47 into the land of Judah. But he reserved to himself three thousand men, of whom he left two thousand in Galilee, but one thousand went with 48 him. Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and laid hands on him; and all them that came in with him they 49 slew with the sword. And Tryphon sent forces and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plain, to destroy all 50 Jonathan's men. And they perceived that he was taken and had perished, and they that were with him; and they encouraged one another, and went on their way close together, 51 prepared to fight. And they that followed upon them saw that they were ready to fight for their lives, and 52 turned back again. And they all came in peace into the land of Judah, and they mourned for Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid; and all Israel mourned with 53 a great mourning. And all the Gentiles that were round about them sought to destroy them utterly: for they said, They have no ruler, nor any to help them: now therefore let us fight against them, and take away their memorial from among men.

13 And Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a mighty host to come into the land of Judah, and 2 destroy it utterly. And he saw that the people trembled and was in great fear; and he went up to Jerusalem, 3 and gathered the people together; and he encouraged them, and said unto them, Ye yourselves know all the things that I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, and the battles and the distresses which we have seen: 4 by reason hereof all my brethren have perished for Israel's sake, and I am 5 left alone. And now be it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of affliction; for I am not 6 better than my brethren. Howbeit I will take vengeance for my nation, and for the sanctuary, and for our wives and children; because all the Gentiles are gathered to destroy us of 7 very hatred. And the spirit of the people revived, as soon as they heard 8 these words. And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou art our leader instead of Judas and Jonathan 9 thy brother. Fight thou our battles, and all that thou shalt say unto us, 10 that will we do. And he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste to finish the walls of Jerusalem, 11 and he fortified it round about. And he sent Jonathan the son of Absalom, and with him a great host, to Joppa: and he cast out them that were therein, and abode there in it.

12 And Tryphon removed from Ptolemais with a mighty host to enter into the land of Judah, and Jonathan was 13 with him in ward. But Simon encamped at Adida, over against the 14 plain. And Tryphon knew that Simon was risen up instead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to join battle with him, and he sent ambassadors 15 unto him, saying, It is for money which Jonathan thy brother owed unto the king's treasure, by reason of the offices which he had, that we hold 16 him fast. And now send a hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for hostages, that when he is set at liberty he may not revolt from us, 17 and we will set him at liberty. And Simon knew that they spake unto him deceitfully; and he sendeth the money and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himself great hatred 18 of the people, and they should say, Because I sent him not the money and 19 the children, he perished. And he sent the children and the hundred talents. And he dealt falsely, and did 20 not set Jonathan at liberty. And after this Tryphon came to invade the land, and destroy it, and he went round about by the way that leadeth unto Adora: and Simon and his army marched over against him to every 21 place, wheresoever he went. Now they of the citadel sent unto Tryphon ambassadors, hastening him to come unto them through the wilderness, and 22 to send them victuals. And Tryphon made ready all his horse to come: and on that night there fell a very great snow, and he came not by reason of the snow. And he removed, and came 23 into the country of Gilead. But when he came near to Bascama, he slew Jonathan, and he was buried there. 24 And Tryphon returned, and went away into his own land.

25 And Simon sent, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried him at Modin, the city of his fathers. 26 And all Israel made great lamentation over him, and mourned for him 27 many days. And Simon built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the sight, with polished stone behind 28 and before. And he set up seven pyramids, one over against another, for his father, and his mother, and his 29 four brethren. And for these he made cunning devices, setting about them great pillars, and upon the pillars he fashioned<sup>1</sup> all manner of arms for a perpetual memory, and beside the<sup>1</sup> arms ships carved, that they should be seen 30 of all that sail on the sea. This is the sepulchre which he made at Modin, and it is there unto this day.

31 Now Tryphon dealt deceitfully with the young king Antiochus, and slew 32 him, and reigned in his stead, and put on himself the diadem of Asia, and brought a great calamity upon the 33 land. And Simon built the strongholds of Judaea, and fenced them about with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and bars; and he laid up victuals in the strongholds. 34 And Simon chose men, and sent to king Demetrius, to the end he should give the country an immunity, because all that Tryphon did was to plunder. 35 And king Demetrius sent unto him according to these words, and an-

36 King Demetrius unto Simon the high priest and <sup>1</sup>Friend of kings, and unto the elders and nation of the Jews, 37 greeting: The golden crown, and the palm branch, which ye sent, we have received: and we are ready to make a <sup>2</sup>stedfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our officers, to grant immunities unto you. And whatsoever things we confirmed unto you, they are confirmed; and the strongholds, which ye have builded, let them be 39 your own. As for any oversights and faults committed unto this day, we forgive them, and the crown which ye owed us: and if there were any other toll exacted in Jerusalem, let it be 40 exacted no longer. And if there be any among you meet to be enrolled in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace betwixt us.

41 In <sup>3</sup>the hundred and seventieth year was the yoke of the heathen taken 42 away from Israel. And the people began to write in their instruments and contracts, In the first year of Simon the great high priest and captain and leader of the Jews.

<sup>4</sup> See ver. 53 (compare ver. 43); ch. xv. 7, 34; xv. 28; xvi. 1; also Josephus. All the authorities read Gaza in this verse.

43 In those days he encamped against <sup>4</sup>Gazara, and compassed it round about with armies; and he made an engine of siege, and brought it up to the city,

44 and smote a tower, and took it. And they that were in the engine leaped forth into the city; and there was

45 a great uproar in the city: and they of the city rent their clothes, and went up on the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, making request to Simon to give them

46 <sup>5</sup>his right hand. And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickednesses, but according to thy mercy.

47 And Simon was reconciled unto them, and did not fight against them: and he put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were, and so entered into it with singing and giving praise. And he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed in it such men as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein a dwelling place for himself.

49 But they of the citadel in Jerusalem were hindered from going forth, and from going into the country, and from buying and selling; and they hungered exceedingly, and a great number of 50 them perished through famine. And they cried out to Simon, that he should give them his right hand; and he gave it to them: and he put them out from thence, and he cleansed the citadel 51 from its pollutions. And he entered into it on the three and twentieth day of the second month, in <sup>6</sup>the hundred and seventy and first year, with praise and palm branches, and with harps, and with cymbals, and with viols, and with hymns, and with songs: because a great enemy was destroyed out of 52 Israel. And he ordained that they should keep that day every year with gladness. And the hill of the temple that was by the citadel he made stronger than before, and there he 53 dwelt, himself and his men. And Simon saw that John his son was a valiant man, and he made him leader of all his forces: and he dwelt in Gazara.

14 And in <sup>7</sup>the hundred and seventy and second year king Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into Media, to get him help, that he might 2 fight against Tryphon. And Arsaces, the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was come into his borders, and he sent one of his princes 3 to take him alive: and he went and smote the army of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to Arsaces; and he put him in ward.

4 And the land had rest all the days of Simon: and he sought the good of his nation; and his authority and his glory was well-pleasing to them all his days.

5 And amid all his glory he took Joppa for a haven, and made it an entrance 6 for the isles of the sea; and he enlarged the borders of his nation, and

7 gat possession of the country; and he gathered together a great number of captives, and gat the dominion of Gazara, and Bethsura, and the citadel, and he took away from it its uncleanness; and there was none that re-

8 sisted him. And they tilled their land in peace, and the land gave her increase, and the trees of the plains their fruit.

9 The ancient men sat in the streets, they communed all of them together of good things, and the young men put 10 on glorious and warlike apparel. He provided victuals for the cities, and furnished them with <sup>8</sup>all manner of munition, until the name of his glory was named unto the end of the earth.

11 He made peace in the land, and Israel 12 rejoiced with great joy: and they sat each man under his vine and his fig tree, and there was none to make

13 them afraid: and there ceased in the land any that fought against them: and the kings were discomfited in those

14 days. And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every lawless and wicked person he took 15 away. He glorified the sanctuary, and the vessels of the temple he multiplied.

16 And it was heard at Rome that Jonathan was dead, and even unto Sparta, 17 and they were exceeding sorry. But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the 18 cities therein, they wrote unto him on tables of brass, to renew with him the friendship and the confederacy which they had confirmed with Judas and 19 Jonathan his brethren; and they were read before the congregation at 20 Jerusalem. And this is the copy of the letters which the Spartans sent:

The rulers of the Spartans, and the city, unto Simon the high priest, and unto the elders, and the priests, and the residue of the people of the Jews, 21 our brethren, greeting: The ambassadors that were sent unto our people made report to us of your glory and honour: and we were glad for their 22 coming, and we did register the things that were spoken by them in the public records after this manner: Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the 23 friendship they had with us. And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their words in the public records, to the end that the people of the Spartans might have a memorial thereof: moreover they wrote a copy of these things unto Simon the high priest.

24 After this Simon sent Numenius to Rome with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight, in order to confirm the confederacy with them.

25 But when the people heard these things, they said, What thanks shall 26 we give to Simon and his sons? for he and his brethren and the house of his father have made themselves strong, and have chased away in fight the enemies of Israel from them, and 27 confirmed liberty to Israel. And they wrote on tables of brass, and set them upon pillars in mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing:

On the eighteenth day of Elul, in 4 the hundred and seventy and second year, and this is the third year of 28 Simon the high priest, 5 in Asaramel, in a great congregation of priests and people and princes of the nation, and of the elders of the country, 6 was it notified unto us: Forasmuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, but Simon the son of Mattathias, the son of the sons of Joarib, and his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and withstood the enemies of their nation, that their sanctuary and the law might be established, and glorified their nation with great glory: 30 and Jonathan assembled their nation together, and became their high priest, and was gathered to his people: 31 and their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy their country utterly, and stretch forth their hands against their sanctuary: then rose up Simon, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gave them 33 wages: and he fortified the cities of Judaea, and Bethsura that lieth upon the borders of Judaea, where the arms of the enemies were aforesaid, and 34 set there a garrison of Jews: and he fortified Joppa which is upon the sea, and Gazara which is upon the borders of Azotus, wherein the enemies dwelt aforesaid, and placed Jews there, and set therein all things convenient for 35 the reparation thereof: and the people saw the faith of Simon, and the glory which he thought to bring unto his nation, and they made him their leader and high priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and the faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by 36 all means to exalt his people: and in his days things prospered in his hands, so that the Gentiles were taken away out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David, which that were in Jerusalem, who had made themselves a citadel, out of which they issued, and polluted all things round about the sanctuary, and did 37 great hurt unto its purity; and he placed Jews therein, and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and made high the walls of Jerusalem: and king Demetrius confirmed to him the high priesthood according 38 to these things, and made him one of his Friends, and honoured him with 40 great honour; for he had heard say, that the Jews had been called by the Romans friends and confederates and brethren, and that they had met the ambassadors of Simon honourably; 41 and that the Jews and the priests were well pleased that Simon should be their leader and high priest for ever, until there should arise a faithful prophet; and that he should be captain over them, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the arms, and over the strongholds; and that he should take 43 charge of the sanctuary, and that he should be obeyed by all, and that all instruments in the country should be written in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and wear 44 gold; and that it should not be lawful for any of the people or of the priests to set at nought any of these things, or to gainsay the words that he should speak, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear a buckle of gold;

45 but whosoever should do otherwise, or set at nought any of these things, he should be liable to punishment.
46 All the people consented to ordain for Simon that he should do according to 47 these words; and Simon accepted hereof, and consented to be high priest, and to be captain and <sup>1</sup>governor of the Jews and of the priests, and to be protector of all.

48 And they commanded to put this writing on tables of brass, and to set them up within the precinct of the 49 sanctuary in a conspicuous place; and moreover to put the copies thereof in the treasury, to the end that Simon and his sons might have them.

15 And Antiochus son of Demetrius the king sent letters from the isles of the sea unto Simon the priest and <sup>1</sup>governor of the Jews, and to all the nation; <sup>2</sup>and the contents thereof were after this manner:

King Antiochus to Simon the chief priest and <sup>1</sup>governor, and to the 3 nation of the Jews, greeting: Forasmuch as certain pestilent fellows have made themselves masters of the kingdom of our fathers, but my purpose is to claim the kingdom, that I may restore it as it was before; and moreover I have raised a multitude of foreign soldiers, and have prepared
4 ships of war; moreover I am minded to land in the country, that I may punish them that have destroyed our country, and them that have made many cities in the kingdom desolate:

5 Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the exactions which the kings that were before me remitted unto thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they

6 remitted unto thee: and I give thee leave to coin money for thy country

7 with thine own stamp, but that Jerusalem and the sanctuary should be free: and all the arms that thou hast prepared, and the strongholds that thou hast built, which thou hast in thy possession, let them remain unto

8 thee: and everything owing to the king, and the things that shall be owing to the king from henceforth and for evermore, let them be remit-

9 ted unto thee: moreover, when we shall have established our kingdom, we will glorify thee and thy nation and the temple with great glory, so that your glory shall be made manifest in all the earth.

10 In <sup>2</sup>the hundred and seventy and fourth year went Antiochus forth into the land of his fathers; and all the forces came together unto him, so that

11 there were few men with Tryphon. And king Antiochus pursued him, and <sup>3</sup>he came, as he fled, unto Dor, which is 12 by the sea: for he knew that troubles were come upon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him.

13 And Antiochus encamped against Dor, and with him a hundred and twenty thousand men of war, and eight thousand horse. And he compassed the city round about, and the ships joined in the attack from the sea; and he vexed the city by land and sea, and suffered no man to go out or in.

15 And Numenius and his company came from Rome, having letters to the kings and to the countries, wherein were written these things:

16 Lucius, consul of the Romans, unto 17 king Ptolemy, greeting: The Jews' ambassadors came unto us as our friends and confederates, to renew the old friendship and confederacy, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Jews:

18 moreover they brought a shield of 19 gold of a thousand pound. It pleased us therefore to write unto the kings and unto the countries, that they should not seek their hurt, nor fight against them, and their cities, and their country, nor be confederates with such as fight against them.

20 Moreover it seemed good to us to 21 receive the shield of them. If therefore any pestilent fellows have fled from their country unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may take vengeance on them according to their law.

22 And the same things wrote he to Demetrius the king, and to Attalus, 23 and to Arathes, and to Arsaces, and unto all the countries, and to <sup>4</sup>Sampsames, and to the Spartans, and unto Delos, and unto Myndos, and unto Sicyon, and unto Caria, and unto Samos, and unto Pamphylia, and unto Lycia, and unto Halicarnassus, and unto Rhodes, and unto Phaselis, and unto Cos, and unto Side, and unto Aradus, and Gortyna, and Cnidus, and 24 Cyprus, and Cyrene. But the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

25 But Antiochus the king encamped against Dor the second day, bringing his forces up to it continually, and making engines of war, and he shut up

26 Tryphon from going in or out. And Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to fight on his side; and silver, and gold, and instruments of war in

27 abundance. And he would not receive them, but set at nought all the covenants which he had made with him aforetime, and was estranged from 28 him. And he sent unto him Athenobius, one of his <sup>5</sup>Friends, to commune with him, saying,

Ye hold possession of Joppa and Gazara, and the citadel that is in 29 Jerusalem, cities of my kingdom. The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of many places in my 30 kingdom. Now therefore deliver up the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof ye have gotten dominion without the 31 borders of Judæa: or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver;

and for the harm that ye have done,
and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: or else we will come and subdue you.

32 And Athenobius the king's <sup>1</sup>Friend came to Jerusalem; and he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver vessels, and his great attendance, and he was amazed; and he reported to him the king's words.

33 And Simon answered, and said unto
him,

We have neither taken other men's land, nor have we possession of that which appertaineth to others, but of the inheritance of our fathers; howbeit, it was had in possession of our enemies wrongfully for a certain time.

34 But we, having opportunity, hold fast 35 the inheritance of our fathers. But as touching Joppa and Gazara, which thou demandest, they did great harm among the people throughout our country, we will give a hundred talents for them.

And he answered him not a word, 36 but returned in a rage to the king,
and reported unto him these words,
and the glory of Simon, and all that he had seen: and the king was ex-37 ceeding wroth. But Tryphon embarked on board a ship, and fled to Orthosia.

38 And the king appointed Cendebeus chief captain of the sea coast, and gave him forces of foot and horse:
39 and he commanded him to encamp before Judæa, and he commanded him to build up Kidron, and to fortify the gates, and that he should fight against the people: but the king pursued Try-40 phon. And Cendebeus came to Jamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judæa, and to take the 41 people captive, and to slay them. And he built Kidron, and set horsemen
there, and forces of foot, to the end that issuing out they might make out-roads upon the ways of Judæa, according as the king commanded him.

16 And John went up from Gazara, and told Simon his father what Cendebeus 2 was doing. And Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and John, and said unto them, I and my brethren and my father's house have fought the battles of Israel from our youth, even unto this day; and things have prospered in our hands, that we should deliver 3 Israel oftentimes. But now I am old, and ye moreover, by his mercy, are of a sufficient age: be ye instead of me and my brother, and go forth and fight for our nation; but let the help 4 which is from heaven be with you. And he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war and horsemen, and they went against Cendebeus, 5 and slept at Modin. And rising up in the morning, they went into the plain,

and, behold, a great host came to meet them, of footmen and horsemen: and 6 there was a brook betwixt them. And he encamped over against them, he and his people: and he saw that the people were afraid to pass over the brook, and he passed over first, and the men
saw him, and passed over after him.

7 And he divided the people, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen:
but the enemies' horsemen were ex-8 ceeding many. And they sounded with the trumpets; and Cendebeus and his army were put to the rout, and there fell of them many wounded to death, but they that were left fled 9 to the stronghold: at that time was Judas John's brother wounded: but John pursued after them, till he came unto Kidron, which Cendebeus had 10 built; and they fled unto the towers that are in the fields of Azotus; and he burned it with fire; and there fell of them about two thousand men.
And he returned into Judæa in peace.

11 And Ptolemy the son of Abubus had been appointed captain for the plain of Jericho, and he had much silver and 12 gold; for he was the high priest's son in 13 law. And his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel de-ceitfully against Simon and his sons, 14 to make away with them. Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to Jericho, himself and Mattathias and Judas his sons, in <sup>2</sup>the hundred and seventy and seventh year, in the eleventh month, the same is the month

15 Sebat: and the son of Abubus received them deceitfully into the little stronghold that is called Dok, which he had built, and made them a great banquet, 16 and hid men there. And when Simon and his sons had drunk freely, Ptolemy and his men rose up, and took their arms, and came in upon Simon into the banqueting place, and slew him, and his two sons, and certain of his 17 servants. And he committed a great iniquity, and recompensed evil for 18 good. And Ptolemy wrote these things, and sent to the king, that he should send him forces to aid him, and should deliver him their country and the 19 cities. And he sent others to Gazara to make away with John: and unto the captains of thousands he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them silver and gold and 20 gifts. And others he sent to take possession of Jerusalem, and the mount 21 of the temple. And one ran before to Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were perished, and he 22 hath sent to slay thee also. And when he heard, he was sore amazed; and he laid hands on the men that came to destroy him, and slew them; for he perceived that they were seeking to destroy him.

23 And the rest of the acts of John, and of his wars, and of his valiant deeds which he did, and of the building of the walls which he built, and of his 24 doings, behold, they are written in the <sup>1</sup>chronicles of his high priesthood, from the time that he was made high priest after his father.

1 THE brethren, the Jews that are in Jerusalem and they that are in the country of Judæa, send greeting to the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, and wish them good peace: 2 and may God do good unto you, and remember his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, his faithful servants; and give you all a heart to worship him and do his <sup>1</sup>pleasure with 4 a great heart and a willing soul; and open your heart in his law and in his 5 statutes, and make peace, and hearken to your supplications, and be reconciled with you, and not forsake you in 6 an evil time. And now we here are 7 praying for you. In the reign of Demetrius, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews have already written unto you in the tribulation and in the extremity that hath come upon us in these years, from the time that Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and 8 the kingdom, and set the <sup>2</sup>gate on fire, and shed innocent blood: and we besought the Lord, and were heard; and we offered sacrifice and meal offering, and we lighted the lamps, and we set 9 forth the <sup>3</sup>shewbread. And now see that ye keep the days of the feast of tabernacles of the month Chislev. 10 Written in the hundred fourscore and eighth year.

THEY that are in Jerusalem and they that are in Judæa and the senate and Judas, unto Aristobulus, king Ptolemy's teacher, who is also of the stock of the anointed priests, and unto the Jews that are in Egypt, send greeting 11 and health. Having been saved by God out of great perils, as men arrayed against a king, we thank him greatly. 12 For himself cast forth into Persia them that arrayed themselves <sup>4</sup>against us in the holy city. For when the prince was come there, and the army with him that seemed irresistible, they were cut to pieces in the temple of Nanea by the treachery of Nanea's 14 priests. For Antiochus, on the pretence that he would marry her, came into the place, he and his <sup>5</sup>Friends that were with him, that they might take a great part of the treasures in 15 name of a dowry. And when the priests of Nanea's temple had set <sup>6</sup>the treasures forth, and he was come there with a small company within the wall of the precincts, they shut to the temple when Antiochus was come in: and opening the secret door of the panelled ceiling, they threw stones and <sup>7</sup>struck down the prince, and they hewed <sup>8</sup>him and his company in pieces, and smote off their heads, and cast them to those 17 that were without. Blessed be our God in all things, who gave for a prey them that had committed impiety. 18 Whereas we are now about to keep the purification of the temple in the month Chislev, on the five and twentieth day, we thought it necessary to certify you thereof, that <sup>9</sup>ye also may keep a feast of tabernacles, and a memorial of the fire which was given when Nehemiah offered sacrifices, after that he had builded both the 19 temple and the altar. For indeed when our fathers were about to be led into the land of Persia, the godly priests of that time took of the fire of the altar, and hid it privily in the hollow of a well that was without water, wherein they made it sure, so that the place was unknown to all 20 men. Now after many years, when it pleased God, Nehemiah, having received a charge from the king of Persia, sent in quest of the fire the descendants of the priests that hid it. When they declared to us that they had 21 found no fire, but thick water, he commanded them to draw out thereof and bring to him: and when <sup>1</sup>the sacrifices had been offered on the altar, Nehemiah commanded the priests to sprinkle with the water both the wood and the 22 things laid thereupon. And when it was done, and some time had passed, and the sun shone out, which before was hid with clouds, there was kindled a great blaze, so that all men marvel- 23 led. And the priests made a prayer while the sacrifice was consuming, both the priests and all others, Jonathan leading and the rest answering, 24 as Nehemiah did. And the prayer was after this manner:

O Lord, Lord God, the Creator of all things, who art terrible and strong and righteous and merciful, who alone 25 art King and gracious, who alone suppliest every need, who alone art righteous and almighty and eternal, thou that savest Israel out of all evil, who madest the fathers thy chosen, and 26 didst sanctify them: accept the sacrifice for all thy people Israel, and guard thine own portion, and consecrate it. 27 Gather together our Dispersion, set at liberty them that are in bondage among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that thou art our 28 God. Torment them that oppress us and in arrogancy shamefully entreat 29 us. Plant thy people in thy holy place, even as Moses said.

2 It is also found in the records, that Jeremiah the prophet commanded them that were carried away to take of the fire, as hath been signified above: 2 and how that the prophet charged them that were carried away, having given them the law, that they should not forget the statutes of the Lord, neither be led astray in their minds, when they saw images of gold and silver, and the adornment thereof. 3 And with other such words exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their heart. And it was contained in the writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should follow with him, <sup>5</sup>when he went forth into the mountain where Moses went up and beheld the heritage of 5 God. And Jeremiah came and found <sup>6</sup>a chamber in the rock, and there he brought in the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense; and he made 6 fast the door. And some of those that followed with him came there that they might mark the way, and could 7 not find it. But when Jeremiah perceived it, he blamed them, saying, Yea and the place shall be unknown until God <sup>7</sup>gather the people again together, 8 and mercy come: and then shall the Lord disclose these things, and the glory of the Lord shall be seen, and the <sup>8</sup>cloud.

As also it was shewed with Moses; as also Solomon besought that the place might be consecrated greatly, 9 and it was also declared that he, having wisdom, offered a sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple; so we would have it now. 10 As Moses prayed unto the Lord, and fire came down out of heaven and consumed the sacrifice, even so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came down and consumed the burnt offerings; 11 (<sup>9</sup>and Moses said, Because the sin offering had not been eaten, it was consumed in like manner with the rest;) 12 and Solomon kept the eight days.

13 And the same things were related <sup>10</sup>both in the public archives and in <sup>11</sup>the records that concern Nehemiah; and how he, founding a library, gathered together the books about the kings and prophets, and the books of David, and letters of kings about sacred 14 gifts. And in like manner Judas also gathered together for us all those writings that had been scattered by reason of the war that befell, and they 15 are still with us. If therefore ye have need thereof, send some to fetch them unto you.

16 Seeing then that we are about to keep the purification, we write unto you; ye will therefore do well if ye 17 keep the days. Now God, who saved

19 Now the things concerning Judas Maccabæus and his brethren, and the purification of the <sup>2</sup>great temple, and 20 the dedication of the altar, and further the wars against Antiochus Epiphanes, 21 and Eupator his son, and the manifestations that came from heaven unto those that vied with one another in manifold deeds for the religion of the Jews; so that, being but a few, they <sup>3</sup>rescued the whole country, and chased 22 the barbarous multitudes, and recovered again the temple renowned all the world over, and freed the city, and restored the laws which were like to be overthrown, seeing the Lord became <sup>4</sup>gracious unto them with all 23 forbearance: these things, I say, which have been declared by Jason of Cyrene in five books, we will assay to abridge 24 in one work. For having in view the confused mass of the numbers, and the <sup>5</sup>difficulty which awaiteth them that would enter into the narratives of the history, by reason of the abundance of the matter, we were careful that they who choose to read may be attracted, and that they who wish well to our cause may find it easy to recall <sup>6</sup>what we have written, and that all 26 readers may have profit. And although to us, who have taken upon us the painful labour of the abridgement, the task is not easy, but a matter of sweat 27 and watching (even as it is no light thing unto him that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others); yet for the sake of the gratitude of the many we will gladly endure the painful 28 labour, leaving to the historian the exact handling of every particular, and again <sup>7</sup>having no strength to <sup>8</sup>fill in 29 the outlines of our abridgement. 30 even so I think it is also with us. To occupy the ground, and to <sup>11</sup>indulge in long discussions, and to be curious in particulars, becometh the first author of the history: but to strive after brevity of expression, and to avoid a laboured fulness in the treatment, is to be granted to him that would bring a 32 writing into a new form. Here then let us begin the narration, only adding thus much to that which hath been already <sup>12</sup>said; for it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue to the history, and to abridge the history itself.

3 WHEN the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of Onias the high priest, and his hatred 2 of wickedness, it came to pass that even the kings themselves did honour the place, and glorify the temple with 3 the noblest presents; insomuch that even Seleucus the king of Asia of his own revenues bare all the costs belonging to the services of the sacrifices. 4 But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, having been made guardian of the temple, fell out with the high priest about the <sup>13</sup>ruling of the market in the 5 city. And when he could not overcome Onias, he gat him to Apollonius the son of <sup>14</sup>Thraseus, who at that time was governor of Coelesyria and 6 Phœnicia: and he brought him word how that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of untold sums of money, so that the multitude of the funds was innumerable, and that they did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices, but that it was possible that these should fall under the king's power. 7 And when Apollonius met the king, he informed him of the money whereof he had been told; and the king appointed Heliodorus, who was his chancellor, and sent him with a commandment to accomplish the removal of the 8 aforesaid money. So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Coelesyria and Phœnicia, but in fact to execute the 9 king's purpose. And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received by the high priest <sup>15</sup>of the city, he laid before <sup>16</sup>them an account of the information which had been given him, and declared wherefore he was come; and he inquired if 10 in truth these things were so. And the high priest explained to him that there were in the treasury deposits of 11 widows and orphans, and moreover some money belonging to Hyrcanus the son of Tobias, a man in very high place, <sup>17</sup>and that the case was not as that impious Simon falsely alleged;

The Greek text is probably corrupt. Perhaps the true reading is Apollonius of Tarsus.

and that in all there were four hundred talents of silver and two hundred 12 of gold; and that it was altogether impossible that wrong should be done unto them that had put trust in the holiness of the place, and in the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honoured over all the world.

13 But <sup>1</sup> Heliodorus, because of the king's commandments given him, said that in any case this money must be confiscated for the king's treasury.

14 So having appointed a day, he entered in to direct the inquiry concerning these matters; and there was no small distress throughout the whole city.

15 And the priests, prostrating themselves before the altar in their priestly garments, and looking toward heaven, called upon him that gave the law concerning deposits, that he should preserve these treasures safe for those that had

16 deposited them. And whosoever saw the mien of the high priest was wounded in mind; for his countenance and the change of his colour betrayed the

17 distress of his soul. For a terror and a shuddering of the body had come over the man, whereby the pain that was in his heart was plainly shewn to

18 them that looked upon him. And they that were in the houses rushed flocking out to make a universal supplication, because the place was like to come into

19 contempt. And the women, girt with sackcloth under their breasts, thronged the streets, and the virgins that were kept in ward ran together, some to the

20 <sup>2</sup> gates, others to the walls, and some looked out through the windows. And all, stretching forth their hands toward heaven, made their solemn supplica-

21 tion. Then it would have pitied a man to see the multitude prostrating themselves all mingled together, and the expectation of the high priest in his sore distress.

22 While therefore they called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things intrusted to them <sup>3</sup> safe and sure for those

23 that had intrusted them, Heliodorus went on to execute that which had

24 been decreed. But when he was already present there with his guards over against the treasury, the Sovereign of spirits and of all authority caused a great <sup>4</sup> apparition, so that all that had presumed to come in with him, stricken with dismay at the power of God, fainted and were sore afraid.

25 For there was seen by them a horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with beautiful trappings, and he rushed fiercely and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse had

26 complete armour of gold. Two other also appeared unto him, young men notable in their strength, and beautiful in their glory, and splendid in their apparel, who stood by him on either side, and scourged him unceasingly, inflicting on him many sore stripes.

27 And when he had fallen suddenly unto the ground, and great darkness had come over him, his guards caught him

28 up and put him into a litter, and carried him, him that had just now entered with a great train and all his guard into the aforesaid treasury, himself now brought to utter helplessness, manifestly made to recognise the sovereignty of God. And so, while he, through the working of God, speechless and bereft of all hope and deliver-

29 ance, lay prostrate, they blessed the Lord, that made marvellous his own place; and the temple, which a little afore was full of terror and alarm, was filled with joy and gladness after the Almighty Lord appeared.

31 But quickly certain of Heliodorus's familiar friends besought Onias to call upon the Most High, and grant life to him who lay quite at the last gasp.

32 And the high priest, secretly fearing lest the king might come to think that some treachery toward Heliodorus had been perpetrated by the Jews, brought a sacrifice for the deliverance of the man.

33 But as the high priest was making the propitiation, the same young men appeared again to Heliodorus, arrayed in the same garments; and they stood and said, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, for for his sake the Lord

34 hath granted thee life; and do thou, since thou hast been scourged from heaven, publish unto all men the sovereign majesty of God. And when they had spoken these words, they vanished

35 out of sight. So Heliodorus, having offered a sacrifice unto the Lord and vowed <sup>5</sup> great vows unto him that had saved his life, and having graciously received Onias, returned with his host 36 to the king. And he testified to all men the works of the <sup>6</sup> great God which he had beheld with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, what manner of man was fit to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, he said,

38 If thou hast any enemy or conspirator against the state, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him back well scourged, if he even escape with his life; because of a truth there is about

39 the place a power of God. For he that hath his dwelling in heaven himself hath his eyes upon that place, and helpeth it; and them that come to hurt it he smiteth and destroyeth.

40 And such was the history of Heliodorus and the keeping of the treasury.

41 But the aforesaid Simon, he who had given information of the money, and had betrayed his country, slandered Onias, saying that it was he who had incited Heliodorus, and made himself 2 the author of these evils. And him that was the benefactor of the city, and the guardian of his fellow-countrymen, and a zealot for the laws, he 3 dared to call a conspirator against the state. But when the growing enmity between them waxed so great, that even murders were perpetrated through one 4 of <sup>1</sup>Simon's trusted followers, Onias, seeing the <sup>2</sup>danger of the contention, and that <sup>3</sup>Apollonius the son of Me-

nesteus, the governor of Cœlesyria and Phœnicia, was increasing Simon's 5 malice, betook himself to the king, not to be an accuser of his fellow-citizens, but looking to the good of all the 6 <sup>4</sup>people, both public and private; for he saw that without the king's providence it was impossible for the state to obtain peace any more, and that Simon would not cease from his madness.

7 But when Seleucus was deceased, and Antiochus, who was called Epi-phanes, succeeded to the kingdom,
 Jason the brother of Onias supplanted
 8 his brother in the high priesthood, having promised unto the king at an audience three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and out of another 9 fund eighty talents; and beside this, he undertook to assign a hundred and fifty more, if it might be allowed him 5 through the king's authority to set him up a Greek place of exercise and form a body of youths to be trained therein, and to register the inhabitants of Jerusalem as citizens of Antioch.

10 And when the king had given assent, and he had gotten possession of the office, he forthwith brought over them of his own race to the Greek fashion.

11 And setting aside the royal ordinances of special favour to the Jews, granted by the means of John the father of Eupolemus, who went on the ambassa-ge to the Romans for friendship and alliance, and seeking to overthrow the lawful modes of life, he brought in new 12 customs forbidden by the law: for he eagerly established a Greek place of exercise under the citadel itself; and caused the noblest of the young men 13 to wear the Greek cap. And thus there was an extreme of Greek fashions, and an advance of an alien religion, by reason of the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly man and no high 14 priest; so that the priests had no more any zeal for the services of the altar:
 but despising the sanctuary, and neglecting the sacrifices, they hastened to <sup>6</sup>enjoy that which was unlawfully provided in the palæstra, after the 15 summons <sup>7</sup>of the discus; making of no account the honours of their fathers, and thinking the glories of the Greeks 16 best of all. By reason whereof sore calamity beset them; and the men whose ways of living they earnestly followed, and unto whom they desired to be made like in all things, these they had to be their enemies and to punish 17 them. For it is not a light thing to do impiously against the laws of God:

 but <sup>8</sup>these things the time following shall declare.

18 Now when certain games that came every fifth year were kept at Tyre, and 19 the king was present, the vile Jason sent sacred envoys, <sup>9</sup>as being Anti-ochians of Jerusalem, bearing three hundred drachmas of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought not right to use for any sacrifice, because it was not fit, but to <sup>10</sup>expend on another 20 charge. And though in the purpose of the sender this money was for the sacrifice of Hercules, yet on account of <sup>11</sup>present circumstances it went to the equipment of the galleys.

21 Now when Apollonius the son of Menesteus was sent into Egypt for the <sup>12</sup>enthronement of Ptolemy Philo-metor as king, Antiochus, learning that Ptolemy had shewn himself ill affected toward his state, took thought for the security of his realm; wherefore, going by sea to Joppa, he travelled 22 on to Jerusalem. And being magnificently received by Jason and the city, he was brought in with torches and shoutings. This done, he afterward led his army down into Phœnicia.

23 Now after a space of three years
 Jason sent Menelaus, the aforesaid Simon's brother, to bear the money unto the king, and to <sup>13</sup>make reports concerning some necessary matters.

24 But he being commended to the king, and <sup>14</sup>having glorified <sup>15</sup>himself <sup>16</sup>by the display of his authority, got the high priesthood for himself, outbidding Jason by three hundred talents of silver.

25 And having received the royal mandates he came to Jerusalem, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood,
 but having the passion of a cruel tyrant, 26 and the rage of a savage beast. And whereas Jason, who had supplanted his own brother, was supplanted by another and driven as a fugitive into 27 the country of the Ammonites, Menelaus had possession of the office: but of the money that had been promised to the king nothing <sup>17</sup>was duly paid, and that though Sostratus the governor 28 of the citadel demanded it (for unto him appertained the gathering of the revenues); for which cause they were both called by the king to his presence.

29 And Menelaus left his own brother Lysimachus for his <sup>18</sup>deputy in the high priesthood; and Sostratus left Crates, who was over the Cyprians.

things, it came to pass that they of Tarsus and Mallus made insurrection, because they were to be given as a present to Antiochis, the king's concubine. The king therefore came to Cilicia in all haste to settle matters, leaving for his <sup>1</sup>deputy Andronicus, <sup>2</sup>a man of high rank. And Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a favourable opportunity, presented to Andronicus certain vessels of gold belonging to the temple, which he had stolen: other vessels also he had already sold into Tyre and the cities round about.

<sup>3</sup>And when Onias had sure knowledge of this, he sharply reproved him, having withdrawn himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by Antioch.

<sup>5</sup>For the which cause not only Jews, but many also of the other nations, had indignation and displeasure at the unjust murder of the man. And when the king was come back again from the places in Cilicia, the Jews that were <sup>5</sup>in the city pleaded before him against Andronicus (the Greeks also joining with them in hatred of the wickedness), urging that Onias had been wrongfully slain. Antiochus therefore was heartily sorry, and was moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and well ordered life of him that was dead; and being inflamed with passion, forthwith he stripped off Andronicus's purple robe, and <sup>6</sup>rent off his under garments, and when he had led him round through the whole city unto that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there he put the murderer out of the way, the Lord rendering to him the punishment he had deserved.

<sup>7</sup>Now when many sacrileges had been committed in the city by Lysimachus with the consent of Menelaus, and when the bruit thereof was spread abroad outside, the people gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, after many vessels of gold had <sup>8</sup>been already dispersed. And when the multitudes were rising against him, and were filled with anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and with unrighteous violence began the conflict, one Hauran, a man far gone in years and no less also in madness, leading the attack. But when they perceived the assault of Lysimachus, some caught up stones, others logs of wood, and some took handfuls of the ashes that lay near, and they flung them all pell-mell upon Lysimachus and them that were with him; <sup>9</sup>by reason of which they wounded many of them, and some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee, but the author of the sacrilege himself they killed beside the treasury.

<sup>12</sup>But Menelaus, seeing himself now defeated, promised much money to Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, that he might win over the king. Whereupon Ptolemy taking the king aside into a cloister, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another mind: <sup>13</sup>and him that was the cause of all the evil, Menelaus, he discharged from the accusations; but those hapless men, who, if they had pleaded even before Scythians, would have been discharged uncondemned, them he <sup>14</sup>sentenced to death. Soon then did they that were spokesmen for the city and the families of Israel and the holy vessels suffer that unrighteous <sup>15</sup>penalty. For which cause even certain Tyrians, moved with hatred of the wickedness, provided magnificently for <sup>16</sup>their burial. But Menelaus through the covetous dealings of them that were in power remained still in his office, <sup>17</sup>cleaving to wickedness, <sup>18</sup>as a great conspirator against his fellow-citizens.

<sup>25</sup>But when a false rumour had arisen that Antiochus was deceased, Jason took not less than a thousand men, and suddenly <sup>26</sup>made an assault upon the city; and they that were upon the wall being routed, and the city being now at length well nigh taken, Menelaus took refuge in the citadel. But Jason slaughtered his own citizens without mercy, not considering that good success against kinsmen is the greatest ill success, but supposing himself to be setting up trophies over enemies, and not over fellow-countrymen. The office however he did not get, but, receiving shame as the end of his conspiracy, he passed again a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites. At the last therefore he met with a miserable end: having been <sup>1</sup>shut up at the court of Aretas the prince of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated as an apostate from the laws, and held in abomination as the butcher of his country and his fellow-citizens, he was <sup>9</sup>cast forth into Egypt; and he that had driven many from their own country into strange lands perished himself in a strange land, having crossed the sea to the Lacedæmonians, as thinking to find shelter there because they were <sup>2</sup>near of kin; and he that had cast out a multitude unburied had none to mourn for him, nor had he any funeral at all, or place in the sepulchre of his fathers.

11 Now when tidings came to the king concerning that which was done, he thought that Judæa was in revolt; whereupon setting out from Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by <sup>12</sup>force of arms, and commanded his soldiers to cut down without mercy such as came in their way, and to slay <sup>13</sup>such as went up upon the houses; and there was killing of young and old, making away of boys, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants. And in all the three days of the slaughter there were destroyed fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in close combat, and <sup>15</sup>no fewer were sold than slain. But not content with this he presumed to enter into the most holy temple of all the earth, having Menelaus for his guide (him that had proved himself a traitor both to the laws and to his country), even taking the sacred vessels with his polluted hands, and dragging down with his profane hands the offerings that had been dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory and honour of the place.

17 And Antiochus was lifted up in mind, not seeing that because of the sins of them that dwelt in the city the Sovereign Lord had been provoked to anger a little while, and therefore his eye was then turned away from the <sup>18</sup>place. But had it not so been that they were already holden by many sins, this man, even as Heliodorus who was sent by Seleucus the king to view the treasury, would, so soon as he pressed forward, have been scourged and turned back from his daring deed.

19 Howbeit the Lord did not choose the nation for the place's sake, but the <sup>20</sup>place for the nation's sake. Wherefore also the place itself, having partaken in the calamities that befell the nation, did afterward share in its benefits; and the place which was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty was, at the reconciliation of the great Sovereign, restored again with all glory.

21 As for Antiochus, when he had carried away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste unto Antioch, weening in his arrogance to make the land navigable and the sea passable by foot, <sup>22</sup>because his heart was lifted up. And moreover he left governors to afflict the race: at Jerusalem, Philip, by race a Phrygian, and in character more barbarous than him that set him <sup>23</sup>there; and at Gerizim, Andronicus; and besides these, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest exalted himself against his fellow-citizens. And having a malicious mind <sup>3</sup>toward the Jews <sup>24</sup>whom he had made his citizens, he sent that <sup>5</sup>lord of pollutions Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were of full age, and to sell the women and the younger men.

25 And he coming to Jerusalem, and playing the man of peace, waited till the holy day of the sabbath, and finding the Jews at rest from work, he commanded his men to parade in <sup>26</sup>arms. And he put to the sword all them that came forth to the spectacle; and running into the city with the armed men he slew great multitudes.

27 But Judas, who is also called Maccabæus, with nine others or thereabout, withdrew himself, and with his company kept himself alive in the mountains after the manner of wild beasts; and they continued feeding on <sup>6</sup>such poor herbs as grew there, that they might not be partakers of the threatened pollution.

6 And not long after this the king sent forth <sup>7</sup>an old man of Athens to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the <sup>2</sup>laws of God; and also to pollute the sanctuary in Jerusalem, and to call it by the name of <sup>8</sup>Jupiter Olympius, and to call the sanctuary in Gerizim by the name of <sup>8</sup>Jupiter the Protector of strangers, even as they <sup>9</sup>were that <sup>3</sup>dwelt in the place. But sore and utterly grievous was the visitation of <sup>4</sup>this evil. For the temple was filled with riot and revellings by the heathen, who <sup>10</sup>dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the sacred precincts, and moreover brought inside <sup>5</sup>things that were not befitting; and <sup>11</sup>the place of sacrifice was filled with those abominable things which had

6 been prohibited by the laws. And a man could neither keep the sabbath, nor observe the feasts of the fathers, nor so much as confess himself to be a 7 Jew. And on the day of the king's birth every month they were led along with bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices; and when the <sup>1</sup>feast of Bacchus came, they were compelled to go in procession in honour of <sup>2</sup>Bacchus, wearing wreaths of ivy. And there went out a decree to the neighbouring Greek cities, by the suggestion of Ptolemy, that they should observe the same conduct against the Jews, and should make them eat of the 9 sacrifices; and that they should slay such as did not choose to go over to the Greek rites. So the present misery 10 was for all to see: for two women were brought up for having circumcised their children; and these, when they had led them publicly round about the city, with the babes hung from their breasts, they cast down headlong 11 from the wall. And others, that had run together into the caves near by to keep the seventh day secretly, being betrayed to Philip were all burnt together, because they scrupled to defend themselves, from regard to the honour of that most solemn day.

12 I beseech therefore those that read this book, that they be not discouraged because of the calamities, but account that these punishments were not for the destruction, but for the chastening of our race. For indeed that those who act impiously be not let alone any long time, but straightway meet with retribution, is a sign of great 14 beneficence. For in the case of the other nations the Sovereign Lord doth with longsuffering forbear, until that he punish them when they have attained unto the full measure of their sins; but not so judged he as touching 15 us, that he may not take vengeance on us afterward, <sup>3</sup>when we be come 16 unto the <sup>4</sup>height of our sins. Wherefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us; but though he chasteneth with calamity, yet doth he not forsake 17 his own people. Howbeit let this that we have spoken suffice to put you in remembrance; but after these few words we must come to the narrative.

21 But they that had the charge of that forbidden sacrificial feast took the man aside, for the acquaintance which of old times they had with him, and privately besought him to bring flesh of his own providing, such as was befitting for him to use, and to make as if he did eat of the flesh from the sacrifice, as had been commanded by 22 the king; that by so doing he might be delivered from death, and for his ancient friendship with them might be 23 treated kindly. But he, having formed a high resolve, and one that became his years, and the dignity of old age, and the gray hairs <sup>5</sup>which he had reached with honour, and his excellent <sup>6</sup>education from a child, <sup>7</sup>or rather that became the holy <sup>8</sup>laws of God's ordaining, declared his mind accordingly, bidding them quickly send him 24 unto Hades. For it becometh not our years to dissemble, said he, that through this many of the young should suppose that Eleazar, the man of fourscore years and ten, had gone over unto an 25 alien religion; and so they, by reason of my dissimulation, and for the sake of this brief and momentary life, should be led astray because of me, <sup>9</sup>and thus I get to myself a pollution and a stain 26 of mine old age. For even if for the present time I shall remove from me the punishment of men, yet shall I not escape the hands of the Almighty, 27 either living or dead. Wherefore, by manfully parting with my life now, I will shew myself worthy of mine 28 old age, and <sup>10</sup>leave behind a noble ensample to the young to die willingly and nobly a glorious death for the reverend and holy laws. And when he had said these words, he went straightway to the instrument of torture. <sup>11</sup>And when they changed the good will they bare him a little before into ill will, because <sup>12</sup>these words of his were, as they thought, sheer madness, and when he was at the point to die with the <sup>13</sup>stripes, he groaned aloud and said, To the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, it is manifest that, whereas I might have been delivered from death, I endure sore pains in my body by being scourged; but in soul I gladly suffer these things for my fear 31 of him. So this man also died after this manner, leaving his death for an ensample of nobleness and a memorial of virtue, not only to the young but also to the great body of his nation.

7 And it came to pass that seven brethren also with their mother were at the king's command taken and shamefully handled with scourges and cords, to compel them to taste of the 2 abominable swine's flesh. But one of them made himself the spokesman and said, What wouldest thou ask and learn

3 And the king fell into a rage, and commanded to heat pans and caldrons:

4 and when these forthwith were heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had been their spokesman, and to scalp him, and to cut off his extremities, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on. And when he was utterly <sup>1</sup>maimed, the king commanded to bring him to the fire, being yet alive, and to fry him in the pan. And as the vapour of the pan spread far, they and their mother also exhorted one another to die nobly, saying

6 thus: The Lord God beholdeth, and in truth is <sup>2</sup>intreated for us, as Moses declared in <sup>3</sup>his song, which witnesseth against the people to their faces, saying, And he shall be <sup>2</sup>intreated for his servants.

7 And when the first had died after this manner, they brought the second to the mocking; and they pulled off the skin of his head with the hair and asked him, Wilt thou eat, before thy

8 body be punished in every limb? But he answered in the language of his fathers and said to them, No. Wherefore he also underwent the next torture in succession, as the first had done.

9 And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou, miscreant, dost release us out of this present life, but the King of the world shall raise up us, who have died for his laws, unto an eternal renewal of life.

10 And after him was the third made a mocking-stock. And when he was required, he quickly put out his tongue, and stretched forth his hands courageously, and nobly said, From heaven I possess these; and for his laws' sake I contemn these; and from him I hope

12 to receive these back again: inasmuch that the king himself and they that were with him were astonished at the young man's soul, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

13 And when he too was dead, they shamefully handled and tortured the 14 fourth in like manner. And being come near unto death he said thus: It is good to die at the hands of men and look for the hopes which are given by God, that we shall be raised up again by him; for as for thee, thou shalt have no resurrection unto life.

15 And next after him they brought the fifth, and shamefully handled him.

16 But he looked toward <sup>4</sup>the king and said, Because thou hast authority among men, though thou art thyself corruptible, thou doest what thou wilt; yet think not that our race hath been

17 forsaken of God; but hold thou on thy way, and behold his sovereign majesty, how it will torture thee and thy seed.

18 And after him they brought the sixth. And when he was at the point to die he said, Be not vainly deceived, for we suffer these things for our own doings, as sinning against our own God: marvellous things are come to 19 pass; but think not thou that thou shalt be unpunished, having assayed to fight against God.

20 But above all was the mother marvellous and worthy of honourable memory; for when she looked on seven sons perishing within the space of one day, she bare the sight with a good courage for the hopes that she had

21 set on the Lord. And she exhorted each one of them in the language of their fathers, filled with a noble temper and stirring up her womanish thought with manly passion, saying unto them,

22 I know not how ye came into my womb, neither was it I that bestowed on you your <sup>5</sup>spirit and your life, and it was not I that brought into order the first elements of each one of you.

23 Therefore the Creator of the world, who fashioned the <sup>6</sup>generation of man and devised the <sup>6</sup>generation of all things, in mercy giveth back to you again both your <sup>5</sup>spirit and your life, as ye now contemn your own selves

24 for his laws' sake. But Antiochus, thinking himself to be despised, and suspecting the reproachful voice, whilst the youngest was yet alive did not only make his appeal to him by words, but also at the same time promised with oaths that he would enrich him and <sup>7</sup>raise him to high estate, if he would turn from the customs of his fathers, and that he would take him for his <sup>8</sup>Friend and intrust him with

25 affairs. But when the young man would in no wise give heed, the king called unto him his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the

26 lad to save himself. And when he had exhorted her with many words, she

27 undertook to persuade her son. But bending toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, she spake thus in the language of her fathers: My son, have pity upon me that carried thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished and brought thee up unto this

28 age, and sustained thee. I beseech thee, my child, to lift thine eyes unto the heaven and the earth, and to see all things that are therein, and thus to recognise that God made them not of things that were, and that the race of men in this wise cometh into being.

29 Fear not this butcher, but, proving thyself worthy of thy brethren, accept thy death, that in the mercy of God I may receive thee again with thy brethren.

ing, the young man said, Whom wait ye for? I obey not the commandment of the king, but I hearken to the commandment of the law that was given 31 to our fathers through Moses. But thou, that hast devised all manner of evil against the Hebrews, shalt in no 32 wise escape the hands of God. For we are suffering because of our own 33 sins; and if for rebuke and chastening our living Lord hath been angered a little while, yet shall he again be re-
 34 conciled with his own servants. But thou, O unholly man and of all most vile, be not vainly lifted up in thy wild pride with uncertain hopes, raising thy hand against the heavenly children;
 35 for not yet hast thou escaped the judgement of the Almighty God that seeth
 36 all things. For these our brethren, having endured a <sup>1</sup>short pain that bringeth everlasting life, have now
 37 <sup>2</sup>died under God's covenant; but thou, through the judgement of God, shalt receive in just measure the penalties
 38 of thine arrogancy. But I, as my brethren, give up both body and soul for the laws of our fathers, calling upon God that he may speedily become 39 <sup>3</sup>gracious to the nation; and that thou amidst trials and plagues mayest confess that he alone is God; and that in me and my brethren <sup>4</sup>thou mayest stay the wrath of the Almighty, which hath been justly brought upon our 40 whole race. But the king, falling into a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, being exasperated at his mocking. So he also died pure from pollu-
 41 tion, putting his whole trust in the Lord. And last of all after her sons the mother died.
 42 Let it then suffice to have said thus much concerning the enforcement of sacrificial feasts and the king's exceeding barbarities.
 8 But Judas, who is also called Maccabæus, and they that were with him, making their way privily into the villages, called unto them their kinsfolk; and taking unto them such as had continued in the Jews' religion, gathered together as many as six thousand.
 2 And they called upon the Lord, beseeching him to look upon the people that was oppressed by all; and to have compassion on the sanctuary also that had
 3 been profaned by the ungodly men; and to have pity on the city also that was suffering ruin and ready to be made even with the ground; and to hearken
 4 to the blood that cried unto him; and to remember also the lawless <sup>5</sup>slaughter of the innocent infants, and <sup>6</sup>the blasphemies that had been committed against his name; and to shew his hatred
 5 of wickedness. And when Maccabæus had trained his men for service, the heathen at once found him irresistible, for that the wrath of the Lord

 6 was turned into pity. <sup>7</sup>And coming unawares he set fire to cities and villages. And in winning back the most important positions, putting to flight
 7 no small number of the enemies, he specially took advantage of the nights for such assaults. And his courage was loudly talked of everywhere.
 8 But when Philip saw the man gaining ground by little and little, and increasing more and more in his prosperity, he wrote unto Ptolemy, the governor of Cœlesyria and Phœnicia, that he should support the king's cause.
 9 And Ptolemy quickly appointed Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of the king's <sup>8</sup>Chief Friends, and sent him, in command of no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations, to destroy the whole race of Judæa; and with him he joined Gorgias also, a captain and one that had experience in matters of 10 war. And Nicanor <sup>9</sup>undertook by the sale of the captive Jews to make up for the king the tribute of two thousand talents which he was to pay to 11 the Romans. And immediately he sent unto the cities upon the sea coast, inviting them to buy Jewish <sup>10</sup>slaves, promising to allow fourscore and ten 12 slaves for a talent, not expecting the judgement that was to follow upon him from the Almighty.
 12 But tidings came to Judas concerning the inroad of Nicanor; and when he communicated to them that were with him the presence of the army, 13 they that were cowardly and distrustful of the judgement of God <sup>11</sup>ran away and 14 left the country. And others sold all that was left over to them, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them that had been sold as slaves by the impious Nicanor or ever he met them;
 15 and this, if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants made with their fathers, and because he had called them by his reverend and glorious name.
 16 And Maccabæus gathered his men together, six thousand in number, and exhorted them not to be stricken with dismay at the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen who came wrongfully against them; but
 17 to contend nobly, setting before their eyes the outrage that had been lawlessly perpetrated upon the holy place, and the shameful handling of the city that had been turned to mockery, and further the overthrow of the mode of 18 life received from their ancestors. For they, said he, trust to arms, and withal to deeds of daring; but we trust on the Almighty God, since he is able at a beck to cast down them that are coming against us, and even the whole 19 world. And moreover he recounted unto them the help given from time to time in the days of their ancestors, both the help given in the days of Sennacherib, how that a hundred four-20 score and five thousand perished, and the help given in the land of Babylon, even the battle that was fought against the <sup>1</sup>Gauls, how that they came to the engagement eight thousand in all, with four thousand Macedonians, and how that, the Macedonians being hard pressed, the <sup>2</sup>six thousand destroyed the hundred and twenty thousand, because of the succour which they had from heaven, and took great booty.

 21 And when he had with these words made them of good courage, and ready to die for the laws and their country, he divided his army into four parts;
 22 <sup>3</sup>appointing his brethren to be with himself leaders of the several bands, to wit, Simon and Joseph and Jonathan, giving each the command of <sup>23</sup>fifteen hundred men, and moreover Eleazar also: then, having read aloud the sacred book, and having given as watchword, THE HELP OF GOD, leading the first band himself, he joined battle
 24 with Nicanor. And, since the Almighty fought on their side, they slew of the enemy above nine thousand, and wounded and <sup>4</sup>disabled the more part of Nicanor's army, and compelled 25 all to flee; and they took the money of those that had come there to buy them. And after they had pursued them for some <sup>5</sup>distance, they returned, being constrained by the time
 26 of the day; for it was the day before the sabbath, and for this cause they made no effort to chase them far.
 27 <sup>6</sup>And when they had gathered <sup>7</sup>the arms of the enemy together, and had stripped off their spoils, they occupied themselves about the sabbath, blessing and thanking the Lord exceedingly, who had saved them unto this day, for that he had caused a beginning of 28 mercy to distil upon them. And after the sabbath, when they had given of the spoils to the <sup>8</sup>maimed, and to the widows and orphans, the residue they distributed among themselves and their
 29 children. And when they had accomplished these things, and had made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord to be wholly reconciled with his servants.
 30 And having had an encounter with the forces of Timotheus and Bacchides, they killed above twenty thousand of them, and made themselves masters of strongholds exceeding high, and divided very much plunder, giving the <sup>9</sup>maimed and orphans and widows, and moreover the aged also, an equal 31 share with themselves. <sup>6</sup>And when they had gathered the arms <sup>9</sup>of the enemy together, they stored them all up carefully in the most important positions, and the residue of the spoils

 32 they carried to Jerusalem. And they killed the <sup>10</sup>phylarch of Timotheus's forces, a most unholy man, and one who had done the Jews much hurt.
 33 <sup>11</sup>And as they kept the feast of victory in the <sup>12</sup>city of their fathers, they burned those that had set the sacred <sup>13</sup>gates on fire, and among them Callisthenes, who had fled into <sup>14</sup>an out-house; and so they received the meet reward of their impiety.
 34 And the thrice-accursed Nicanor, who had brought the thousand merchants
 35 to buy the Jews for slaves, being through the help of the Lord humbled by them who in his eyes were held to be of least account, put off his glorious apparel, and passing through the midland, <sup>15</sup>shunning all company like a fugitive slave, arrived at Antioch, <sup>16</sup>having, as he thought, had the greatest possible good fortune, though his 36 host was destroyed. And he that had taken upon him to make tribute sure for the Romans by the captivity of the men of Jerusalem published abroad that the Jews had One who fought for them, and that <sup>17</sup>because this was so the Jews were invulnerable, because they followed the laws ordained by him.
 9 Now about that time it befell that Antiochus had returned <sup>18</sup>in disorder
 2 from the region of Persia. For he had entered into the city called Persepolis, and he assayed to rob <sup>19</sup>a temple and to hold down the city. Whereupon there was an onset of the multitudes, and <sup>20</sup>Antiochus and his men turned to make defence with arms; and it came to pass that Antiochus was put to fight by the people of the country and 3 broke up his camp with disgrace. And while he was at Ecbatana, news was brought him what had happened unto Nicanor and the forces of Timotheus.
 4 And being lifted up <sup>21</sup>by his passion he thought to make the Jews suffer even for the evil-doing of those that had put him to rout. Wherefore, the judgement from heaven even now accompanying him, he gave order to his charioteer to drive without ceasing and despatch the journey; for thus he arrogantly spake: I will make Jerusalem a common graveyard of Jews,
 5 when I come there. But the All-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, smote him with a <sup>22</sup>fatal and invisible stroke; and as soon as he had ceased speaking this word, an incurable pain of the bowels seized him, and bitter torments of the 6 inner parts; and that most justly, for he had tormented other men's bowels
 7 with many and strange sufferings. But he in no wise ceased from his rude insolence; nay, still more was he filled with arrogance, breathing fire in his passion against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey. But it came to pass moreover that he fell from his chariot as it rushed along, and having a grievous fall was racked 8 in all the members of his body. And he that but now supposed himself to have the waves of the sea at his bidding, so vainglorious was he beyond the condition of a man, and that thought to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, was now brought to the ground and carried in a litter, <sup>1</sup>shewing 9 festly God's; so that out of the body of the impious man worms swarmed, and while he was still living in anguish and pains, his flesh fell off, and by reason of the stench all the army turned with loathing from his corruption. And the man that a little afore supposed himself to touch the stars of heaven, no one could endure to carry 11 for his intolerable stench. Hereupon therefore he began in great part to cease from his arrogance, being broken in spirit, and to come to knowledge under the scourge of God, his pains 12 increasing every moment. And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words: It is right to be subject unto God, and that one who is mortal should not 13 <sup>2</sup>be minded arrogantly. And the vile man vowed unto the Sovereign Lord, who now no more would have pity 14 upon him, saying on this wise: that the holy city, to the which he was going in haste, to lay it even with the ground and to <sup>3</sup>make it a common 15 graveyard, he would declare free; and as touching the Jews, whom he had decided not even to count worthy of burial, but to cast them out to the beasts with their infants, for the birds to devour, he would make them all equal to 16 citizens of Athens; and the holy sanctuary, which before he had spoiled, he would adorn with goodliest offerings, and would restore all the sacred vessels many times multiplied, and out of his own revenues would defray the charges that were required for the 17 sacrifices; and, beside all this, that he would become a Jew, and would visit every inhabited place, publishing 18 abroad the might of God. But when his sufferings did in no wise cease, for the judgement of God had come upon him in righteousness, having given up all hope of himself, he wrote unto the Jews the letter written below, having the nature of a supplication, to this effect:

19 To the worthy Jews, his fellow-citizens, Antiochus, king and general, wisheth much joy and health and prosperity. <sup>4</sup>May ye and your children fare well; and your affairs shall be to your mind. Having my hope in 21 heaven, I remembered with affection your honour and good will toward me. Returning out of the region of Persia, and being taken with a noisome sickness, I deemed it necessary to take thought for the common safety of all, 22 not despairing of myself, but having great hope to escape from the sickness. 23 But considering that my father also, at what time he led an army into the upper country, appointed his successor, 24 to the end that, if anything fell out contrary to expectation, or if any unwelcome tidings were brought, they that remained in the country, knowing to whom the state had been left, might 25 not be troubled; and, beside all this, observing how that the princes that are borderers and neighbours unto my kingdom watch opportunities, and look for the future event, I have appointed my son Antiochus to be king, whom I often committed and commended to most of you, when I was hastening unto the upper provinces; and I have written to him what is written below. 26 I exhort you therefore and beseech you, having in your remembrance the benefits done to you in common and severally, to preserve each of you your present good will toward me and my 27 son. For I am persuaded that he in gentleness and kindness will follow my purpose and treat you with indulgence.

28 So the murderer and blasphemer, having endured the sorest sufferings, even as he had dealt with other men, ended his life among the mountains by a most piteous fate in a strange 29 land. And Philip his foster-brother conveyed the body home; and then, fearing the son of Antiochus, he betook himself to Ptolemy Philometor in Egypt.

10 And Maccabæus and they that were with him, the Lord leading them on, recovered the temple and the city; 2 and they pulled down the altars that had been built in the marketplace by the aliens, and also the walls of sacred 3 inclosures. And having cleansed the sanctuary they made another altar of sacrifice; and <sup>5</sup>striking stones and taking fire out of them, they offered sacrifices, after they had ceased for two years, and burned incense, and lighted lamps, and set forth the shew- 4 bread. And when they had done these things, they fell prostrate and besought the Lord that they might fall no more into such evils; but that, if ever they should sin, they might be chastened by him with forbearance, and not be delivered unto blaspheming and barbarous heathen. Now on the same day that the sanctuary was profaned by aliens, upon that very day did it come to pass that the cleansing of the sanctuary was made, even on the five and twentieth day of the same month, 6 which is Chislew. And they kept eight days with gladness in the manner of the feast of tabernacles, remembering how that <sup>1</sup>not long afore, during the feast of tabernacles, they were wandering in the mountains and in the caves after the manner of wild beasts.

7 Wherefore bearing wands wreathed with leaves, and fair boughs, and palms also, they offered up hymns of thanksgiving to him that had prosperously brought to pass the cleansing of his 8 own place. They ordained also with a common statute and decree, for all the nation of the Jews, that they should keep these days every year.

9 And <sup>2</sup>such was the end of Antiochus, 10 who was called Epiphanes. But now will we declare what came to pass under Antiochus named <sup>3</sup>Eupator, who proved himself a true son of that ungodly man, and will gather up briefly 11 the <sup>4</sup>successive evils of the wars. For this man, when he succeeded to the kingdom, appointed one Lysias to be chancellor, and supreme governor of 12 Cœlesyria and Phœnicia. For Ptolemy that was called Macron, setting an example of observing justice toward the Jews because of the wrong that had been done unto them, endeavoured to <sup>5</sup>conduct his dealings 13 with them on peaceful terms. Whereupon being accused by the king's <sup>6</sup>Friends before Eupator, and hearing himself called traitor at every turn, because he had abandoned Cyprus which Philometor had intrusted to him, and had withdrawn himself unto Antiochus called Epiphanes, and <sup>7</sup>failing to uphold the honour of his office, he took poison and made away with himself.

14 But Gorgias, when he was made governor of the district, maintained a force of mercenaries, and at every turn kept 15 up war with the Jews. And together with him the Idumæans also, being masters of important strongholds, harassed the Jews; and receiving unto them those that had taken refuge there from Jerusalem, they assayed to 16 keep up war. But Maccabæus and his men, having made solemn supplication and besought God to fight on their side, rushed upon the strongholds of 17 the Idumæans; and assaulting them vigorously they made themselves masters of the positions, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew those that fell in their way, and killed 18 no fewer than twenty thousand. And because no less than nine thousand were fled into two towers exceeding strong and having all things needed for 19 a siege, Maccabæus, having left Simon and Joseph, and Zacchæus besides and them that were with him, a force sufficient to besiege them, departed himself unto places where he was most needed.

20 But Simon and they that were with him, yielding to covetousness, were bribed by certain of those that were in the towers, and receiving seventy thousand drachmas let some of them 21 slip away. But when word was brought to Maccabæus of what was done, he gathered the leaders of the people together, and accused those men of having sold their brethren for money, by setting their enemies free to fight 22 against them. So he slew these men for having turned traitors, and forthwith took possession of the two towers.

23 And prospering with his arms in all things he took in hand, he destroyed in the two strongholds more than twenty thousand.

24 Now Timotheus, who had been before defeated by the Jews, having gathered together foreign forces in great multitudes, and having collected the <sup>8</sup>horsemen which belonged to Asia, not a few, came as though he would take Judæa 25 by force of arms. But as he drew near, Maccabæus and his men sprinkled earth upon their heads and girded their loins with sackcloth, in supplication to God, 26 and falling down upon the step in front of the altar, besought him to become <sup>9</sup>gracious to them, and <sup>10</sup>be an enemy to their enemies and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth.

27 And rising from their prayer they took up their arms, and advanced some distance from the city; and when they had come near to their enemies they 28 <sup>11</sup>halted. And when the dawn was now spreading, the two armies joined battle; the one part having this, beside their virtue, for a pledge of success and victory, that they had fled unto the Lord for refuge, the others making their passion their leader in the strife.

29 But when the battle waxed strong, there appeared out of heaven unto their adversaries five men on horses with bridles of gold, in splendid array; <sup>12</sup>and two of them, leading on the Jews, 30 and taking Maccabæus in the midst of them, and covering him with their own armour, guarded him from wounds, while on the adversaries they shot forth arrows and thunderbolts; by reason whereof they were blinded and thrown into confusion, and were cut to pieces, filled with bewilderment.

31 And there were slain twenty thousand and five hundred, beside six hundred horsemen.

32 But Timotheus himself fled into a stronghold called Gazara, a fortress of exceeding strength, <sup>13</sup>Chereas being in 33 command there. But Maccabæus and his men were glad and laid siege to the fortress four and twenty days.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and hurled forth impious words. But at dawn of the five and twentieth day certain young men of the company of Maccabæus, inflamed with passion because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall with masculine force and with <sup>1</sup> furious passion, and cut down whosoever came in their way. And others climbing up in like manner, while the besieged were distracted with them that had made their way within, set fire to the towers, and kindling fires burned the blasphemers alive; while others broke open the gates, and, having given entrance to the rest of the band, occupied the city.

37 And they slew Timotheus, who was hidden in a cistern, and his brother 38 Chareas, and Apollphanes. And when they had accomplished these things, they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgivings, him who doeth great benefits unto Israel, and giveth them the victory.

11 Now after a very little time Lysias, the king's guardian and kinsman and chancellor, being sore displeased for the things that had come to pass, collected about fourscore thousand footmen and all his horsemen and came against the Jews, thinking to make the city a place for Greeks to dwell in, and to levy tribute on the temple, as <sup>2</sup> on the other sacred places of the nations, and to put up the high priesthood to sale every year; holding in no account the might of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and 5 his fourscore elephants. And coming into Judæa and drawing near to Bethsuron, which was a strong place and distant from Jerusalem about <sup>3</sup> five leagues, he pressed it hard. But when Maccabæus and his men learned that he was besieging the strongholds, they and all the people with lamentations and tears made supplication unto the Lord to send a good angel to save 7 Israel. And Maccabæus himself took up arms first, and exhorted the others to jeopard themselves together with him and succour their brethren; and they sallied forth with him right willingly. And as they were there, close to Jerusalem, there appeared at their head one on horseback in white apparel, brandishing <sup>4</sup> weapons of gold.

9 And they all together praised the merciful God, and were yet more strengthened in heart: being ready to <sup>5</sup> assail not men only but the wildest 10 beasts, and walls of iron, they advanced in array, having him that is in heaven to fight on their side, for the 11 Lord had mercy on them. And hurling themselves like lions upon the enemy, they slew of them eleven thousand footmen and sixteen hundred horsemen, and forced all the rest to flee. But the more part of them escaped wounded and naked; and Lysias also himself escaped by shameful flight. But as he was a man not void of understanding, weighing with himself the defeat which had befallen him, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God fought on their side, he sent again 14 unto them, and persuaded them to come to terms on condition that all their rights were acknowledged, and <sup>6</sup> promised that he would also persuade 15 the king to become their friend. And Maccabæus gave consent upon all the conditions which Lysias proposed to him, being careful of the common good; for whatsoever requests Maccabæus delivered in writing unto Lysias concerning the Jews the king allowed.

Lysias unto the <sup>7</sup> people of the Jews, 17 greeting. John and Absalom, who were sent from you, having delivered the <sup>8</sup> petition written below, made request concerning the things signified therein. What things soever therefore had need to be brought before the king I declared to him, and what things were possible he allowed.

19 If then ye will preserve your good will toward the state, henceforward also will I endeavour to contribute to your 20 good. <sup>9</sup> And on this behalf I have given order in detail, both to these men and to those that are sent from 21 me, to confer with you. Fare ye well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the four and twentieth day of the month <sup>10</sup> Dioscorinthius.

22 And the king's letter was in these words:

King Antiochus unto his brother 23 Lysias, greeting. Seeing that our father passed unto the gods having the wish that the subjects of his kingdom <sup>11</sup> should be undisturbed and give themselves to the care of their own 24 affairs, we, having heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's purpose to turn them unto the customs of the Greeks, but choose rather their own manner of living, and make request that the customs of their law be allowed unto them,—choosing therefore that this nation also should be free from <sup>12</sup> disturbance, we determine that their temple be restored to them, and that they live according to the customs that were in the days of their 26 ancestors. 27 And unto the nation the king's letter was after this manner:

King Antiochus to the senate of the Jews and to the other Jews, greeting.

28 If ye fare well, we have our desire: we ourselves also are in good health.

29 Menelaus informed us that your desire was to return home and follow your

30 own business. They therefore that depart home up to the thirtieth day of Xanthicus shall have <sup>1</sup>our friend-observe their own laws, even as heretofore; and none of them shall be in any way molested for the things that have 32 been ignorantly done. Moreover I have sent Menelaus also, that he may 33 encourage you. Fare ye well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus.

34 And the Romans also sent unto them a letter in these words:

Quintus Memmius and Titus Manius, ambassadors of the Romans, unto the 35 people of the Jews, greeting. In regard to the things which Lysias the king's kinsman granted you, we also 36 give consent. But as for the things which he judged should be referred to the king, send one forthwith, after ye have advised thereof, that we may publish such decrees as befit your case; for we are on our way to An-fifteenth day of Xanthicus.

12 So when these covenants had been made, Lysias departed unto the king, and the Jews went about their husbandry.

2 But certain of the governors of districts, Timotheus and Apollonius the son of Gennaëus, and Hieronymus also and Demophon, and beside them Nicanor

the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to enjoy tranquillity and 3 live in peace. And men of Joppa perpetrated this great impiety: they invited the Jews that dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had provided, as though they had no ill will

4 towards them; and when <sup>5</sup>the Jews, <sup>4</sup>relying on the common decree of the city, accepted the invitation, as men desiring to live in peace and suspecting nothing, they took them out to sea and drowned them, in number not

5 less than two hundred. But when Judas heard of the cruelty done unto his fellow-countrymen, giving command 6 to the men that were with him and calling upon God the righteous Judge, he came against the murderers of his brethren, and set the haven on fire by night, and burned the boats, and put

7 to the sword those that had fled thither. But when the town was closed against him, he withdrew, intending to come again to root out the whole community of the men of Joppa.

8 But learning that the men of Jamnia were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that sojourned among them, 9 he fell upon the Jamnites also by night, and set fire to the haven together with the fleet, so that the glare of the light was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs distant.

10 Now when they had drawn off nine furlongs from thence, as they marched against Timotheus, a host of Arabians attacked him, no fewer than five thousand 11 footmen and five hundred horsemen. And when a sore battle had been fought, and Judas and his company by the help of God had good success, the nomads being overcome besought Judas to grant them friendship, promising to give him cattle, and to help <sup>6</sup>his people in all other ways.

12 So Judas, thinking that they would indeed be profitable in many things, agreed to live in peace with them; and receiving pledges of friendship they 13 departed to their tents. And he also fell upon a certain city <sup>6</sup>Gephyrun, strong and fenced about with walls, and inhabited by a mixed multitude of divers nations; and it was named 14 Caspin. But they that were within, trusting to the strength of the walls and to their store of provisions, behaved themselves rudely toward Judas and them that were with him, railing, and furthermore blaspheming and 15 speaking impious words. But Judas and his company, calling upon the great Sovereign of the world, who without rams and cunning engines of war hurled down Jericho in the times of Joshua, rushed wildly against the 16 wall; and having taken the city by the will of God, they made unspeakable slaughter, inasmuch that the adjoining lake, which was two furlongs broad, appeared to be filled with the deluge of blood.

17 And when they had drawn off seven hundred and fifty furlongs from thence, they made their way to Charax, unto the Jews that are called <sup>7</sup>Tubieni.

18 And Timotheus they found not in occupation of that district, for he had then departed from the district without accomplishing anything, but had left behind a garrison, and that a very 19 strong one, in a certain post. But

and destroyed those that had been left by Timotheus in the stronghold,

- 13 In the hundred forty and ninth year tidings were brought to Judas and his company that Antiochus Eupator was coming with great multitudes against 2 Judæa, and with him Lysias his guardian and chancellor, <sup>3</sup>each having a Greek force, a hundred and ten thousand footmen, and five thousand and three hundred horsemen, and two and twenty elephants, and three hundred chariots armed with scythes.
- 3 And Menelaus also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the saving of his country, but because he thought that he would be set over the 4 government. But the King of kings stirred up the <sup>4</sup>passion of Antiochus against the wicked wretch; and when Lysias informed him that this man was the cause of all the evils, the king commanded to bring him unto Bercea, and <sup>5</sup>to put him to death after the 5 manner of that place. Now there is in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had all round it a <sup>6</sup>gallery <sup>7</sup>descending sheer on every 6 side into the ashes. Here him that is guilty of sacrilege, or hath attained a preeminence in any other evil deeds, they <sup>8</sup>all push forward into destruction.
- 7 By such a fate it befell the breaker of the law, Menelaus, to die, without obtaining so much as a grave in the earth, 8 and that right justly; for inasmuch as he had perpetrated many sins <sup>9</sup>against the altar, whose fire and whose ashes were holy, in ashes did he receive his death.
- 9 Now the king, <sup>10</sup>infuriated in spirit, was coming with intent to inflict on the Jews the very worst of the sufferings that had befallen them in his father's 10 time. But when Judas heard of these things, he gave charge to the multitude to call upon the Lord day and night, beseeching him, if ever at any other time, so now to succour them that were at the point to be deprived of the law and their country and the holy temple.
- 11 and not to suffer the people that had been but now a little while revived to fall into the hands of those profane 12 heathen. So when they had all done the same thing together, <sup>11</sup>beseeching the merciful Lord with weeping and fastings and prostration for three days without ceasing, Judas exhorted them and commanded they should join him 13 for service. And having gone apart with the elders he resolved that, before the king's army should enter into Judæa and make themselves masters of the

- 14 And committing the decision to the <sup>13</sup>Lord of the world, and exhorting them that were with him to contend nobly even unto death for laws, temple, city, country, <sup>14</sup>commonwealth, he pitched 15 his camp by Modin. And having given out to his men the watchword, victory is God's, with a chosen body of the bravest young men he fell upon the camp by night and penetrated to the king's <sup>15</sup>tent, and slew <sup>8</sup>of the <sup>16</sup>army as many as two thousand men, and <sup>8</sup>brought down the chiefest elephant with him that was in the <sup>17</sup>tower upon 16 him. And at last they filled the <sup>16</sup>army with terror and alarm, and departed 17 with good success. And this had been accomplished when the day was but now dawning, because of the Lord's protection that gave <sup>18</sup>Judas help.
- 18 But the king, having had a taste of the exceeding boldness of the Jews, made attempts by stratagem upon their 19 positions, and upon a strong fortress of the Jews at Bethsura; he advanced, was turned back, failed, was defeated.
- 20 And Judas conveyed such things as were necessary unto them that were 21 within. But Rhodocus, from the Jewish ranks, made known to the enemy the secrets of his countrymen. He was sought out, and taken, and shut up in 22 prison. The king treated with them in Bethsura the second time, gave his hand, took theirs, departed, attacked the forces of Judas, was put to the 23 worse, heard that Philip who had been left as chancellor in Antioch had become reckless, was confounded, made to the Jews an overture of peace, submitted himself and swore to acknowledge all their rights, came to terms with them and offered sacrifice, honoured the sanctuary and the place, 24 shewed kindness and graciously received Maccabæus, left Hegemonides governor from Ptolemais even unto the 25 <sup>19</sup>Gerrenians, came to Ptolemais. The men of Ptolemais were displeased at the treaty, for they had exceeding great indignation against the Jews: they desired to annul the articles of the agreement. Lysias <sup>20</sup>came forward to speak, made the best defence that was possible, persuaded, pacified, made them well affected, departed unto Antioch. This was the issue of the inroad and departure of the king.
- 14 Now after a space of three years tidings were brought to Judas and his company that Demetrius the son of Seleucus, having sailed into the haven of Tripolis with a mighty host and a 2 fleet, had gotten possession of the country, having made away with Antiochus and Lysias his guardian.
- 3 But one Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest, and had wilfully polluted himself in the times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, considering that there was no deliverance for him in any way, nor any more access unto the holy altar, came to king Demetrius in about the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting to him a chaplet of gold and a palm, and beside these some of the festal olive boughs of the temple. And for that 5 day he held his peace; but having gotten opportunity to further his own madness, being called by Demetrius into a meeting of his council, and asked how the Jews stood affected and what they purposed, he answered thereunto,

6 Those of the Jews that be called <sup>1</sup>Hasidæans, whose leader is Judas Maccabæus, keep up war, and are seditious, not suffering the kingdom to find tranquillity. Wherefore, having laid aside mine ancestral glory, I mean the high priesthood, I am now come <sup>2</sup>hither; 8 first for the unfeigned care I have for the things that concern the king, and secondly because I have regard also to mine own fellow-citizens: for, through the unadvised dealing of those of whom I spake before, our whole race is in no 9 small misfortune. But do thou, O king, having informed thyself of these things severally, take thought both for our country and for our race, which <sup>3</sup>is surrounded by foes, according to the gracious kindness with which thou receivest all. For as long as Judas remaineth alive, it is impossible that the 11 state should find peace. And when he had spoken such words as these, at once <sup>4</sup>the rest of the king's <sup>5</sup>Friends, having ill will against Judas, inflamed 12 Demetrius yet more. And forthwith appointing Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor of Judæa, he sent him 13 forth, giving him written instructions to make away with Judas himself and to scatter them that were with him, and to set up Alcimus as high priest 14 of the <sup>6</sup>great temple. And <sup>7</sup>those in Judæa that <sup>8</sup>had before driven Judas into exile thronged to Nicanor in flocks, supposing that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would be successes to themselves.

15 But when the Jews heard of Nicanor's inroad and the assault of the heathen, they sprinkled earth upon their heads and made solemn supplication to him who had established his own people for evermore, and who always, making manifest his presence, upholdeth them that are his own portion. 16 And when the leader had given his commands, he straightway setteth out from thence, and joincth battle with them at a village called Lessau. 17 But Simon, the brother of Judas, had

18 Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of them that were with Judas, and their courage in fighting for their country, shrank from bringing the matter to the decision of the 19 sword. Wherefore he sent Posidonius and Theodotus and Mattathias to give 20 and receive pledges of friendship. So when these proposals had been long considered, and the leader had made the <sup>11</sup>troops acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of like mind, they consented to the covenants. 21 And they appointed a day on which to meet together by themselves. And a litter was borne forward from each 22 army; they set chairs of state; Judas stationed armed men ready in convenient places, lest haply there should suddenly be treachery on the part of the enemy; they held such conference 23 as was meet. Nicanor tarried in Jerusalem, and did nothing to cause disturbance, but dismissed the flocks of people that had gathered together. 24 And he kept Judas always in his presence; he had gained a hearty affection for the man; he urged him to marry and beget children; he married, settled quietly, took part in common life.

26 But Alcimus, perceiving the good will that was betwixt them, <sup>12</sup>and having got possession of the covenants that had been made, came unto Demetrius and told him that Nicanor was ill affected toward the state, for he had appointed that conspirator against his kingdom, Judas, to be his successor. 27 And the king, falling into a rage, and being exasperated by the calumnies of that most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was displeased at the covenants, and commanding him to send Maccabæus prisoner unto Antioch in all haste. And when this message came to Nicanor, he was confounded, and was sore troubled at the thought of annulling the articles that had been agreed upon, the man having 29 done no wrong; but because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to execute this purpose by 30 stratagem. But Maccabæus, when he perceived that Nicanor was behaving more harshly in his dealings with him, and that he had become ruder in his customary bearing, understanding that this harshness came not of good, gathered together not a few of his men, and concealed himself from Nicanor.

31 But the other, <sup>13</sup>when he became aware that he had been bravely defeated by the stratagem of <sup>14</sup>Judas, came to the <sup>6</sup>great and holy temple, while the priests were offering the usual sacrifices, and commanded them 32 to deliver up the man. And when they declared with oaths that they had no knowledge where the man was whom 33 he sought, he stretched forth his right hand toward the sanctuary, and swore this oath: If ye will not deliver up to me Judas as a prisoner, I will lay this 1 temple of God even with the ground, and will break down the altar, and I will erect here a temple unto 2 Baechus 34 for all to see. And having said this he departed. But the priests, stretching forth their hands toward heaven, called upon him that ever fighteth for 35 our nation, in these words: Thou, 3 O Lord of the universe, who in thyself hast need of nothing, wast well pleased that a sanctuary of thy 4 habitation 36 should be set among us; so now, O holy Lord of all hallowing, keep undefiled for ever this house that hath been lately cleansed.

37 Now information was given to Nicanor against one Razis, an elder of Jerusalem, 5 as being a lover of his countrymen and a man of very good report, and one called Father of the Jews for his good will toward them.

38 For in the former times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles he had been accused of clearing to the Jews' religion, and had jeopardized body and life with all earnestness for the 39 religion of the Jews. And Nicanor, wishing to make evident the ill will that he bare unto the Jews, sent above 40 five hundred soldiers to take him; for he thought by taking him to inflict a 41 calamity upon them. But when the 6 troops were on the point of taking the tower, and were forcing the door of the court, and bade bring fire and burn the doors, he being surrounded on every side fell upon his sword, 42 choosing rather to die nobly than to fall into the hands of the wicked wretches, and suffer outrage unworthy 43 of his own nobleness: but since he missed his stroke through the excitement of the struggle, and the crowds were now rushing within the door, he ran bravely up to the wall and cast himself down manfully among the 44 crowds. But as they quickly gave back, a space was made, and he fell 45 on the middle of 7 his side. And having yet breath within him, and being inflamed with passion, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out in streams and his wounds were grievous, he ran through the crowds, and standing 46 upon a steep rock, when as his blood was now well nigh spent, he drew forth his bowels through the wound, and taking them in both his hands he shook them at the crowds; and calling upon him who is Lord of 8 the life and the 9 spirit to restore him 10 these again, he thus died.

15 But Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in the region of Samaria, resolved to set upon them with all security on the day of rest.

2 And when the Jews that were compelled to follow him said, O destroy not so savagely and barbarously, but give due glory to the day which he that beholdeth all things hath 11 honoured and hallowed above other days; 3 then the thrice-accursed wretch asked if there were a Sovereign in heaven that had commanded to keep the sabbath day. And when they declared, There is the Lord, living himself a Sovereign in heaven, who bade us observe the seventh day; then saith the other, I also am a sovereign upon the earth, 12 who now command to take up arms and execute the king's business. Nevertheless he prevailed not to execute his 13 cruel purpose.

6 And Nicanor, 14 bearing himself haughtily in all vaingloriousness, had determined to set up a monument of complete victory over Judas and all 7 them that were with him: but Maccabæus still trusted unceasingly, with all hope that he should obtain help from 8 the Lord. And he exhorted his company not to be fearful at the 15 inroad of the heathen, but, keeping in mind the help which of old they had oft-times received from heaven, so now also to look for the victory which would come unto them from the Al- 9 mighty; and comforting them out of the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the conflicts that they had maintained, he made 10 them more eager for the battle. And when he had roused their 16 spirit, he gave them his commands, at the same time pointing out the perfidiousness of the heathen and their breach of their 11 oaths. And arming each one of them, not so much with the sure defence of shields and spears as with the encouragement that lieth in good words, and moreover relating to them a dream 17 worthy to be believed, he made them 12 all exceeding glad. And the vision of that dream was this: He saw Onias, him that was high priest, a noble and good man, reverend in bearing, yet gentle in manner and well-spoken, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, with outstretched hands invoking blessings on the whole body of 13 the Jews: thereupon he saw a man appear, of venerable age and exceeding glory, and wonderful and most majestic was the dignity around him: 14 and Onias answered and said, This is the lover of the brethren, he who prayeth much for the people and the holy city, Jeremiah the prophet of

17 And being encouraged by the words of Judas, which were of a lofty strain, and able to incite unto virtue and to stir the souls of the young unto manly courage, they determined <sup>1</sup> not to carry on a campaign, but nobly to bear down upon the enemy, and fighting hand to hand with all courage bring the matter to an issue, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in 18 danger. For their fear for wives and children, and furthermore for brethren and kinsfolk, was in less account with them; but greatest and first was their fear for the consecrated sanctuary.

19 And they also that were shut up in the city were in no light distress, being troubled because of the encounter in the open ground.

20 And when all were now waiting for the decision of the issue, and the enemy had already joined battle, and the army had been set in array, and the <sup>2</sup>elephants <sup>3</sup>brought back to a convenient post, and the horsemen drawn

21 up <sup>4</sup> on the flank, Maccabæus, perceiving the presence of the <sup>5</sup>troops, and the various arms with which they were equipped, and the savageness of the <sup>2</sup>elephants, holding up his hands unto heaven called upon the Lord that worketh wonders, recognising that success cometh not by arms, but that, according as the Lord shall judge, he gaineth the victory for them that are

22 worthy. And calling upon God he said after this manner: Thou, O Sovereign Lord, didst send thine angel in the time of Hezekiah king of Judæa, and he slew of the <sup>6</sup>host of Sennacherib as many as a hundred fourscore and

23 five thousand; so now also, O Sovereign of the heavens, send a good angel before us to bring terror and

24 trembling: through the greatness of thine arm let them be stricken with dismay that with blasphemy are come hither against thy holy people. And as he ended with these words, Nicanor and his company advanced with trumpets and peans; but Judas and his company joined battle with the enemy

27 with invocation and prayers. And contending with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men, being made exceeding glad by the manifestation of God.

28 And when the engagement was over, and they were returning again with joy, they recognised Nicanor lying dead in full armour; and there arose a shout and <sup>7</sup>tumult, and then they blessed the Sovereign Lord in the 30 language of their fathers. And he that in all things was in body and soul the foremost champion of his fellow-citizens, he that kept through life the good will of his youth toward his countrymen, commanded to cut off Nicanor's head, and his hand with the shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem.

31 And when he had arrived there, and had called his countrymen together and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were in the

32 citadel; and shewing the head of the vile Nicanor, and the hand of that profane man, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy

33 house of the Almighty, and cutting out the tongue of the impious Nicanor, he said that he would give <sup>8</sup>it by pieces to the birds, and hang up the <sup>9</sup>rewards of his madness over against the sanc-

34 tuary. And they all looking up unto heaven blessed <sup>10</sup>the Lord who had manifested himself, saying, Blessed be he that hath preserved his own place

35 undefiled. And he hanged Nicanor's head and shoulder from the citadel, a sign, evident unto all and manifest, of 36 the help of the Lord. And they all ordained with a common decree in no wise to let this day pass undistinguished, but to mark with honour the thirteenth day of the twelfth month (it is called Adar in the Syrian tongue), the day before the day of Mordecai.

37 THIS then having been the issue of the attempt of Nicanor, and the city having from those times been held by the Hebrews, I also will here make an

38 end of my book. And if I have written well and to the point in my story, this is what I myself desired; but if meanly and indifferently, this is all I could at-39 tain unto. For as it is <sup>11</sup>distasteful to drink wine alone and in like manner again to drink water alone, <sup>12</sup>while the mingling of wine with water at once <sup>13</sup>giveth full pleasantness to the flavour; so also the fashioning of the language delighteth the ears of them that read the story.

PREFACE.

THE English Version of the New Testament here presented to the reader is a Revision of the Translation published in the year of Our Lord 1611, and commonly known by the name of the Authorised Version.

That Translation was the work of many hands and of several generations. The foundation was laid by William Tyndale. His translation of the New Testament was the true primary Version. The Versions that followed were either substantially reproductions of Tyndale's translation in its final shape, or revisions of Versions that had been themselves almost entirely based on it. Three successive stages may be recognised in this continuous work of authoritative revision: first, the publication of the Great Bible of 1539-41 in the reign of Henry VIII; next, the publication of the Bishops' Bible of 1568 and 1572 in the reign of Elizabeth; and lastly, the publication of the King's Bible of 1611 in the reign of James I. Besides these, the Genevan Version of 1560, itself founded on Tyndale's translation, must here be named; which, though not put forth by authority, was widely circulated in this country, and largely used by King James' Translators. Thus the form in which the English New Testament has now been read for 270 years was the result of various revisions made between 1525 and 1611; and the present Revision is an attempt, after a long interval, to follow the example set by a succession of honoured predecessors.

I. Of the many points of interest connected with the Translation of 1611, two require special notice; first, the Greek Text which it appears to have represented; and secondly, the character of the Translation itself.

1. With regard to the Greek Text, it would appear that, if to some extent the Translators exercised an independent judgement, it was mainly in choosing amongst readings contained in the principal editions of the Greek Text that had appeared in the sixteenth century. Wherever they seem to have followed a reading which is not found in any of those editions, their rendering may probably be traced to the Latin Vulgate. Their chief guides appear to have been the later editions of Stephanus and of Beza, and also, to a certain extent, the Complutensian Polyglott. All these were founded for the most part on manuscripts of late date, few in number, and used with little critical skill. But in those days it could hardly have been otherwise. Nearly all the more ancient of the documentary authorities have become known only within the last two centuries; some of the most important of them, indeed, within the last few years. Their publication has called forth not only improved editions of the Greek Text, but a succession of instructive discussions on the variations which have been brought to light, and on the best modes of distinguishing original readings from changes introduced in the course of transcription. While therefore it has long been the opinion of all scholars that the commonly received text needed thorough revision, it is but recently that materials have been acquired for executing such a work with even approximate completeness.

2. The character of the Translation itself will be best estimated by considering the leading rules under which it was made, and the extent to which these rules appear to have been observed.

The primary and fundamental rule was expressed in the following terms:—‘The ordinary Bible read in the Church, commonly called the Bishops’ Bible, to be followed, and as little altered as the truth of the Original will permit.’ There was, however, this subsequent provision:—‘These translations to be used, when they agree better with the text than the Bishops’ Bible: Tindale’s, Matthew’s, Coverdale’s, Whitchurch’s, Geneva.’ The first of these rules, which was substantially the same as that laid down at the revision of the Great Bible in the reign of Elizabeth, was strictly observed. The other rule was but partially followed. The Translators made much use of the Genevan Version. They do not however appear to have frequently returned to the renderings of the other Versions named in the rule, where those Versions differed from the Bishops’ Bible. On the other hand, their work shews evident traces of the influence of a Version not specified in the rules, the Rhemish, made from the Latin Vulgate, but by scholars conversant with the Greek Original.

Another rule, on which it is stated that those in authority laid great stress, related to the rendering of words that admitted of different interpretations. It was as follows:—‘When a word hath divers significations, that to be kept which hath been most commonly used by the most of the ancient fathers, being agreeable to the propriety of the place and the analogy of the faith.’ With this rule was associated the following, on which equal stress appears to have been laid:—‘The old ecclesiastical words to be kept, viz. the word Church not to be translated Congregation, &c.’ This latter rule was for the most part carefully observed; but it may be doubted whether, in the case of words that admitted of different meanings, the instructions were at all closely followed. In dealing with the more difficult words of this class, the Translators appear to have paid much regard to traditional interpretations, and especially to the authority of the Vulgate; but, as to the large residue of words which might properly fall under the rule, they used considerable freedom. Moreover they profess in their Preface to have studiously adopted a variety of expression which would now be deemed hardly consistent with the requirements of faithful translation. They seem to have been guided by the feeling that their Version would secure for the words they used a lasting place in the language; and they express a fear lest they should ‘be charged (by scoffers) with some unequal dealing towards a great number of good English words,’ which, without this liberty on their part, would not have a place in the pages of the English Bible. Still it cannot be doubted that they carried this liberty too far, and that the studied avoidance of uniformity in the rendering of the same words, even when occurring in the same context, is one of the blemishes in their work.

A third leading rule was of a negative character, but was rendered necessary by the experience derived from former Versions. The words of the rule are as follows:—‘No marginal notes at all to be affixed, but only for the explanation of the Hebrew or Greek words which cannot without some circumlocution so briefly and fitly be expressed in the text.’ Here again the Translators used some liberty in their application of the rule. Out of more than 760 marginal notes originally appended to the Authorised Version of the New Testament, only a seventh part consists of explanations or literal renderings; the great majority of the notes being devoted to the useful and indeed necessary purpose of placing before the reader alternative renderings which it was judged that the passage or the words would fairly admit. The notes referring to variations in the Greek Text amount to about thirty-five.

Of the remaining rules it may be sufficient to notice one, which was for the most part consistently followed:—'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as high as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' The Translators had also the liberty, in 'any place of special obscurity,' to consult those who might be qualified to give an opinion.

Passing from these fundamental rules, which should be borne in mind by any one who would rightly understand the nature and character of the Authorised Version, we must call attention to the manner in which the actual work of the translation was carried on. The New Testament was assigned to two separate Companies, the one consisting of eight members, sitting at Oxford, the other consisting of seven members, sitting at Westminster. There is no reason to believe that these Companies ever sat together. They communicated to each other, and likewise to the four Companies to which the Old Testament and the Apocrypha had been committed, the results of their labours; and perhaps afterwards reconsidered them: but the fact that the New Testament was divided between two separate bodies of men involved a grave inconvenience, and was beyond all doubt the cause of many inconsistencies. These probably would have been much more serious, had it not been provided that there should be a final supervision of the whole Bible, by selected members from Oxford, Cambridge, and Westminster, the three centres at which the work had been carried on. These supervisors are said by one authority to have been six in number, and by another twelve. When it is remembered that this supervision was completed in nine months, we may wonder that the incongruities which remain are not more numerous.

The Companies appear to have been occupied in the actual business of revision about two years and three quarters.

Such, so far as can be gathered from the rules and modes of procedure, is the character of the time-honoured Version which we have been called upon to revise. We have had to study this great Version carefully and minutely, line by line; and the longer we have been engaged upon it the more we have learned to admire its simplicity, its dignity, its power, its happy turns of expression, its general accuracy, and, we must not fail to add, the music of its cadences, and the felicities of its rhythm. To render a work that had reached this high standard of excellence still more excellent, to increase its fidelity without destroying its charm, was the task committed to us. Of that task, and of the conditions under which we have attempted its fulfilment, it will now be necessary for us to speak.

II. The present Revision had its origin in action taken by the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in February 1870, and it has been conducted throughout on the plan laid down in Resolutions of both Houses of the Province, and, more particularly, in accordance with Principles and Rules drawn up by a special Committee of Convocation in the following May. Two Companies, the one for the revision of the Authorised Version of the Old Testament, and the other for the revision of the same Version of the New Testament, were formed in the manner specified in the Resolutions, and the work was commenced on the twenty-second day of June 1870. Shortly afterwards, steps were taken, under a resolution passed by both Houses of Convocation, for inviting the co-operation of American scholars; and eventually two Committees were formed in America, for the purpose of acting with the two English Companies, on the basis of the Principles and Rules drawn up by the Committee of Convocation.

The fundamental Resolutions adopted by the Convocation of Canterbury on the third and fifth days of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. That it is desirable that a revision of the Authorised Version of the Holy Scriptures be undertaken.

'2. That the revision be so conducted as to comprise both marginal renderings and such emendations as it may be found necessary to insert in the text of the Authorised Version.

'3. That in the above resolutions we do not contemplate any new translation of the Bible, or any alteration of the language, except where in the judgement of the most competent scholars such change is necessary.

'4. That in such necessary changes, the style of the language employed in the existing Version be closely followed.

'5. That it is desirable that Convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent for scholarship, to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.'

The Principles and Rules agreed to by the Committee of Convocation on the twenty-fifth day of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. To introduce as few alterations as possible into the Text of the Authorised Version consistently with faithfulness.

'2. To limit, as far as possible, the expression of such alterations to the language of the Authorised and earlier English Versions.

'3. Each Company to go twice over the portion to be revised, once provisionally, the second time finally, and on principles of voting as hereinafter is provided.

'4. That the Text to be adopted be that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating; and that when the Text so adopted differs from that from which the Authorised Version was made, the alteration be indicated in the margin.

'5. To make or retain no change in the Text on the second final revision by each Company, except two thirds of those present approve of the same, but on the first revision to decide by simple majorities.

'6. In every case of proposed alteration that may have given rise to discussion, to defer the voting thereupon till the next Meeting, whensoever the same shall be required by one third of those present at the Meeting, such intended vote to be announced in the notice for the next Meeting.

'7. To revise the headings of chapters and pages, paragraphs, italics, and punctuation.

'8. To refer, on the part of each Company, when considered desirable, to Divines, Scholars, and Literary Men, whether at home or abroad, for their opinions.'

These rules it has been our endeavour faithfully and consistently to follow. One only of them we found ourselves unable to observe in all particulars. In accordance with the seventh rule, we have carefully revised the paragraphs, italics, and punctuation. But the revision of the headings of chapters and pages would have involved so much of indirect, and indeed frequently of direct interpretation, that we judged it best to omit them altogether.

Our communications with the American Committee have been of the following nature. We transmitted to them from time to time each several portion of our First Revision, and received from them in return their criticisms and suggestions. These we considered with much care and attention during the time we were engaged on our Second Revision. We then sent over to them the various portions of the Second Revision as they were completed, and received further suggestions, which, like the former, were closely and carefully considered. Last of all, we forwarded to them the Revised Version in its final form; and a list of those passages in which they desire to place on record their preference of other readings and renderings will be found at the end of the volume. We gratefully acknowledge their care, vigilance, and accuracy; and we humbly pray that their labours and our own, thus happily united, may be permitted to bear a blessing to both countries, and to all English-speaking people throughout the world.

The whole time devoted to the work has been ten years and a half. The First Revision occupied about six years; the Second, about two years and a half. The remaining time has been spent in the consideration of the suggestions from America on the Second Revision, and of many details and reserved questions arising out of our own labours. As a rule, a session of four days has been held every month (with the exception of August and September) in each year from the commencement of the work in June 1870. The average attendance for the whole time has been sixteen each day; the whole Company consisting at first of twenty-seven, but for the greater part of the time of twenty-four members, many of them residing at great distances from London. Of the original number four have been removed from us by death.

At an early stage in our labours, we entered into an agreement with the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge for the conveyance to them of our copyright in the work. This arrangement provided for the necessary expenses of the undertaking; and procured for the Revised Version the advantage of being published by Bodies long connected with the publication of the Authorised Version.

III. We now pass onward to give a brief account of the particulars of the present work. This we propose to do under the four heads of Text, Translation, Language, and Marginal Notes.

1. A revision of the Greek text was the necessary foundation of our work; but it did not fall within our province to construct a continuous and complete Greek text. In many cases the English rendering was considered to represent correctly either of two competing readings in the Greek, and then the question of the text was usually not raised. A sufficiently laborious task remained in deciding between the rival claims of various readings which might properly affect the translation. When these were adjusted, our deviations from the text presumed to underlie the Authorised Version had next to be indicated, in accordance with the fourth rule; but it proved inconvenient to record them in the margin. A better mode however of giving them publicity has been found, as the University Presses have undertaken to print them in connexion with complete Greek texts of the New Testament.

In regard of the readings thus approved, it may be observed that the fourth rule, by requiring that 'the text to be adopted' should be 'that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating,' was in effect an instruction to follow the authority of documentary evidence without deference to any printed text of modern times, and therefore to employ the best resources of criticism for estimating the value of evidence. Textual criticism, as applied to the Greek New Testament, forms a special study of much intricacy and difficulty, and even now leaves room for considerable variety of opinion among competent critics. Different schools of criticism have been represented among us, and have together contributed to the final result. In the early part of the work every various reading requiring consideration was discussed and voted on by the Company. After a time the precedents thus established enabled the process to be safely shortened; but it was still at the option of every one to raise a full discussion on any particular reading, and the option was freely used. On the first revision, in accordance with the fifth rule, the decisions were arrived at by simple majorities. On the second revision, at which a majority of two thirds was required to retain or introduce a reading at variance with the reading presumed to underlie the Authorised Version, many readings previously adopted were brought again into debate, and either re-affirmed or set aside.

Many places still remain in which, for the present, it would not be safe to accept one reading to the absolute exclusion of others. In these cases we have given alternative readings in the margin, wherever they seem to be of sufficient importance or interest to deserve notice. In the introductory formula, the phrases 'many ancient authorities,' 'some ancient authorities,' are used with some latitude to denote a greater or lesser proportion of those authorities which have a distinctive right to be called ancient. These ancient authorities comprise not only Greek manuscripts, some of which were written in the fourth and fifth centuries, but versions of a still earlier date in different languages, and also quotations by Christian writers of the second and following centuries.

2. We pass now from the Text to the Translation. The character of the Revision was determined for us from the outset by the first rule, 'to introduce as few alterations as possible, consistently with faithfulness.' Our task was revision, not re-translation.

In the application however of this principle to the many and intricate details of our work, we have found ourselves constrained by faithfulness to introduce changes which might not at first sight appear to be included under the rule.

The alterations which we have made in the Authorised Version may be roughly grouped in five principal classes. First, alterations positively required by change of reading in the Greek Text. Secondly, alterations made where the Authorised Version appeared either to be incorrect, or to have chosen the less probable of two possible renderings. Thirdly, alterations of obscure or ambiguous renderings into such as are clear and express in their import. For it has been our principle not to leave any translation, or any arrangement of words, which could adapt itself to one or other of two interpretations, but rather to express as plainly as was possible that interpretation which seemed best to deserve a place in the text, and to put the other in the margin.

There remain yet two other classes of alterations which we have felt to be required by the same principle of faithfulness. These are,—Fourthly, alterations of the Authorised Version in cases where it was inconsistent with itself in the rendering of two or more passages confessedly alike or parallel. Fifthly, alterations rendered necessary by consequence, that is, arising out of changes already made, though not in themselves required by the general rule of faithfulness. Both these classes of alterations call for some further explanation.

The frequent inconsistencies in the Authorised Version have caused us much embarrassment from the fact already referred to, namely, that a studied variety of rendering, even in the same chapter and context, was a kind of principle with our predecessors, and was defended by them on grounds that have been mentioned above. The problem we had to solve was to discriminate between varieties of rendering which were compatible with fidelity to the true meaning of the text, and varieties which involved inconsistency, and were suggestive of differences that had no existence in the Greek. This problem we have solved to the best of our power, and for the most part in the following way.

Where there was a doubt as to the exact shade of meaning, we have looked to the context for guidance. If the meaning was fairly expressed by the word or phrase that was before us in the Authorised Version, we made no change, even where rigid adherence to the rule of translating, as far as possible, the same Greek word by the same English word might have prescribed some modification.

There are however numerous passages in the Authorised Version in which, whether regard be had to the recurrence (as in the first three Gospels) of identical clauses and sentences, to the repetition of the same word in the same passage, or to the characteristic use of particular words by the same writer, the studied variety adopted by the Translators of 1611 has produced a degree of inconsistency that cannot be reconciled with the principle of faithfulness. In such cases we have not hesitated to introduce alterations, even though the sense might not seem to the general reader to be materially affected.

The last class of alterations is that which we have described as rendered necessary by consequence; that is, by reason of some foregoing alteration. The cases in which these consequential changes have been found necessary are numerous and of very different kinds. Sometimes the change has been made to avoid tautology; sometimes to obviate an unpleasing alliteration or some other infelicity of sound; sometimes, in the case of smaller words, to preserve the familiar rhythm; sometimes for a convergence of reasons which, when explained, would at once be accepted, but until so explained might never be surmised even by intelligent readers.

This may be made plain by an example. When a particular word is found to recur with characteristic frequency in any one of the Sacred Writers, it is obviously desirable to adopt for it some uniform rendering. Again, where, as in the case of the first three Evangelists, precisely the same clauses or sentences are found in more than one of the Gospels, it is no less necessary to translate them in every place in the same way. These two principles may be illustrated by reference to a word that perpetually recurs in St. Mark's Gospel, and that may be translated either 'straightway,' 'forthwith,' or 'immediately.' Let it be supposed that the first rendering is chosen, and that the word, in accordance with the first of the above principles, is in that Gospel uniformly translated 'straightway.' Let it be further supposed that one of the passages of St. Mark in which it is so translated is found, word for word, in one of the other Gospels, but that there the rendering of the Authorised Version happens to be 'forthwith' or 'immediately.' That rendering must be changed on the second of the above principles; and yet such a change would not have been made but for this concurrence of two sound principles, and the consequent necessity of making a change on grounds extraneous to the passage itself.

This is but one of many instances of consequential alterations which might at first sight appear unnecessary, but which nevertheless have been deliberately made, and are not at variance with the rule of introducing as few changes in the Authorised Version as faithfulness would allow.

There are some other points of detail which it may be here convenient to notice. One of these, and perhaps the most important, is the rendering of the Greek aorist. There are numerous cases, especially in connexion with particles ordinarily expressive of present time, in which the use of the indefinite past tense in Greek and English is altogether different; and in such instances we have not attempted to violate the idiom of our language by forms of expression which it could not bear. But we have often ventured to represent the Greek aorist by the English preterite, even where the reader may find some passing difficulty in such a rendering, because we have felt convinced that the true meaning of the original was obscured by the presence of the familiar auxiliary. A remarkable illustration may be found in the seventeenth chapter of St. John's Gospel, where the combination of the aorist and the perfect shews, beyond all reasonable doubt, that different relations of time were intended to be expressed.

Changes of translation will also be found in connexion with the aorist participle, arising from the fact that the usual periphrasis of this participle in the Vulgate, which was rendered necessary by Latin idiom, has been largely reproduced in the Authorised Version by 'when' with the past tense (as for example in the second chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel), even where the ordinary participial rendering would have been easier and more natural in English.

In reference to the perfect and the imperfect tenses but little needs to be said. The correct translation of the former has been for the most part, though with some striking exceptions, maintained in the Authorised Version: while with regard to the imperfect, clear as its meaning may be in the Greek, the power of expressing it is so limited in English, that we have been frequently compelled to leave the force of the tense to be inferred from the context. In a few instances, where faithfulness imperatively required it, and especially where, in the Greek, the significance of the imperfect tense seemed to be additionally marked by the use of the participle with the auxiliary verb, we have introduced the corresponding form in English. Still, in the great majority of cases we have been obliged to retain the English preterite, and to rely either on slight changes in the order of the words, or on prominence given to the accompanying temporal particles, for the indication of the meaning which, in the Greek, the imperfect tense was designed to convey.

On other points of grammar it may be sufficient to speak more briefly.

Many changes, as might be anticipated, have been made in the case of the definite article. Here again it was necessary to consider the peculiarities of English idiom, as well as the general tenor of each passage. Sometimes we have felt it enough to prefix the article to the first of a series of words to all of which it is prefixed in the Greek, and thus, as it were, to impart the idea of definiteness to the whole series, without running the risk of overloading the sentence. Sometimes, conversely, we have had to tolerate the presence of the definite article in our Version, when it is absent from the Greek, and perhaps not even grammatically latent; simply because English idiom would not allow the noun to stand alone, and because the introduction of the indefinite article might have introduced an idea of oneness or individuality, which was not in any degree traceable in the original. In a word, we have been careful to observe the use of the article wherever it seemed to be idiomatically possible: where it did not seem to be possible, we have yielded to necessity.

As to the pronouns and the place they occupy in the sentence, a subject often overlooked by our predecessors, we have been particularly careful; but here again we have frequently been baffled by structural or idiomatic peculiarities of the English language which precluded changes otherwise desirable.

In the case of the particles we have met with less difficulty, and have been able to maintain a reasonable amount of consistency. The particles in the Greek Testament are, as is well known, comparatively few, and they are commonly used with precision. It has therefore been the more necessary here to preserve a general uniformity of rendering, especially in the case of the particles of causality and inference, so far as English idiom would allow.

Lastly, many changes have been introduced in the rendering of the prepositions, especially where ideas of instrumentality or of mediate agency, distinctly marked in the original, had been confused or obscured in the translation. We have however borne in mind the comprehensive character of such prepositions as 'of' and 'by,' the one in reference to agency and the other in reference to means, especially in the English of the seventeenth century; and have rarely made any change where the true meaning of the original as expressed in the Authorised Version would be apparent to a reader of ordinary intelligence.

3. We now come to the subject of Language.

The second of the rules, by which the work has been governed, prescribed that the alterations to be introduced should be expressed, as far as possible, in the language of the Authorised Version or of the Versions that preceded it.

To this rule we have faithfully adhered. We have habitually consulted the earlier Versions; and in our sparing introduction of words not found in them or in the Authorised Version we have usually satisfied ourselves that such words were employed by standard writers of nearly the same date, and had also that general hue which justified their introduction into a Version which has held the highest place in the classical literature of our language. We have never removed any archaisms, whether in structure or in words, except where we were persuaded either that the meaning of the words was not generally understood, or that the nature of the expression led to some misconception of the true sense of the passage. The frequent inversions of the strict order of the words, which add much to the strength and variety of the Authorised Version, and give an archaic colour to many felicities of diction, have been seldom modified. Indeed, we have often adopted the same arrangement in our own alterations; and in this, as in other particulars, we have sought to assimilate the new work to the old.

In a few exceptional cases we have failed to find any word in the older stratum of our language that appeared to convey the precise meaning of the original. There, and there only, we have used words of a later date; but not without having first assured ourselves that they are to be found in the writings of the best authors of the period to which they belong.

In regard of Proper Names no rule was prescribed to us. In the case of names of frequent occurrence we have deemed it best to follow generally the rule laid down for our predecessors. That rule, it may be remembered, was to this effect, 'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' Some difficulty has been felt in dealing with names less familiarly known. Here our general practice has been to follow the Greek form of names, except in the case of persons and places mentioned in the Old Testament: in this case we have followed the Hebrew.

4. The subject of the Marginal Notes deserves special attention. They represent the results of a large amount of careful and elaborate discussion, and will, perhaps, by their very presence, indicate to some extent the intricacy of many of the questions that have almost daily come before us for decision. These Notes fall into four main groups: first, notes specifying such differences of reading as were judged to be of sufficient importance to require a particular notice; secondly, notes indicating the exact rendering of words to which, for the sake of English idiom, we were obliged to give a less exact rendering in the text; thirdly, notes, very few in number, affording some explanation which the original appeared to require; fourthly, alternative renderings in difficult or debateable passages. The notes of this last group are numerous, and largely in excess of those which were admitted by our predecessors. In the 270 years that have passed away since their labours were concluded, the Sacred Text has been minutely examined, discussed in every detail, and analysed with a grammatical precision unknown in the days of the last Revision. There has thus been accumulated a large amount of materials that have prepared the way for different renderings, which necessarily came under discussion. We have therefore placed before the reader in the margin other renderings than those which were adopted in the text, wherever such renderings seemed to deserve consideration. The rendering in the text, where it agrees with the Authorised Version, was supported by at least one third, and, where it differs from the Authorised Version, by at least two thirds of those who were present at the second revision of the passage in question.

A few supplementary matters have yet to be mentioned. These may be thus enumerated,—the use of Italics, the arrangement in Paragraphs, the mode of printing Quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament, the Punctuation, and, last of all, the Titles of the different Books that make up the New Testament,—all of them particulars on which it seems desirable to add a few explanatory remarks.

(a) The determination, in each place, of the words to be printed in italics

has not been by any means easy; nor can we hope to be found in all cases perfectly consistent. In the earliest editions of the Authorised Version the use of a different type to indicate supplementary words not contained in the original was not very frequent, and cannot easily be reconciled with any settled principle. A review of the words so printed was made, after a lapse of some years, for the editions of the Authorised Version published at Cambridge in 1629 and 1638. Further, though slight, modifications were introduced at intervals between 1638 and the more systematic revisions undertaken respectively by Dr. Paris in the Cambridge Edition of 1762, and by Dr. Blayney in the Oxford Edition of 1769. None of them however rest on any higher authority than that of the persons who from time to time superintended the publication. The last attempt to bring the use of italics into uniformity and consistency was made by Dr. Scrivener in the Paragraph Bible published at Cambridge in 1870-73. In succeeding to these labours, we have acted on the general principle of printing in italics words which did not appear to be necessarily involved in the Greek. Our tendency has been to diminish rather than to increase the amount of italic printing; though, in the case of difference of readings, we have usually marked the absence of any words in the original which the sense might nevertheless require to be present in the Version; and again, in the case of inserted pronouns, where the reference did not appear to be perfectly certain, we have similarly had recourse to italics. Some of these cases, especially when there are slight differences of reading, are of singular intricacy, and make it impossible to maintain rigid uniformity.

(b) We have arranged the Sacred Text in paragraphs, after the precedent of the earliest English Versions, so as to assist the general reader in following the current of narrative or argument. The present arrangement will be found, we trust, to have preserved the due mean between a system of long portions which must often include several separate topics, and a system of frequent breaks which, though they may correctly indicate the separate movements of thought in the writer, often seriously impede a just perception of the true continuity of the passage. The traditional division into chapters, which the Authorised Version inherited from Latin Bibles of the later middle ages, is an illustration of the former method. These paragraphs, for such in fact they are, frequently include several distinct subjects. Moreover they sometimes, though rarely, end where there is no sufficient break in the sense. The division of chapters into verses, which was introduced into the New Testament for the first time in 1551, is an exaggeration of the latter method, with its accompanying inconveniences. The serious obstacles to the right understanding of Holy Scripture, which are interposed by minute subdivision, are often overlooked; but if any one will consider for a moment the injurious effect that would be produced by breaking up a portion of some great standard work into separate verses, he will at once perceive how necessary has been an alteration in this particular. The arrangement by chapters and verses undoubtedly affords facilities for reference: but this advantage we have been able to retain by placing the numerals on the inside margin of each page.

(c) A few words will suffice as to the mode of printing quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament. Wherever the quotation extends to two or more lines, our practice has been to recognise the parallelism of their structure by arranging the lines in a manner that appears to agree with the metrical divisions of the Hebrew original. Such an arrangement will be found helpful to the reader; not only as directing his attention to the poetical character of the quotation, but as also tending to make its force and pertinence more fully felt. We have treated in the same way the hymns in the first two chapters of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

(d) Great care has been bestowed on the punctuation. Our practice has been to maintain what is sometimes called the heavier system of stopping, or, in other words, that system which, especially for convenience in reading aloud, suggests such pauses as will best ensure a clear and intelligent setting forth of the true meaning of the words. This course has rendered necessary, especially in the Epistles, a larger use of colons and semicolons than is customary in modern English printing.

(e) We may in the last place notice one particular to which we were not expressly directed to extend our revision, namely, the titles of the Books of the New Testament. These titles are no part of the original text; and the titles found in the most ancient manuscripts are of too short a form to be convenient for use. Under these circumstances, we have deemed it best to leave unchanged the titles which are given in the Authorised Version as printed in 1611.

We now conclude, humbly commending our labours to Almighty God, and praying that his favour and blessing may be vouchsafed to that which has been done in his name. We recognised from the first the responsibility of the undertaking; and through our manifold experience of its abounding difficulties we have felt more and more, as we went onward, that such a work can never be accomplished by organised efforts of scholarship and criticism, unless assisted by Divine help.

We know full well that defects must have their place in a work so long and so arduous as this which has now come to an end. Blemishes and imperfections there are in the noble Translation which we have been called upon to revise; blemishes and imperfections will assuredly be found in our own Revision. All endeavours to translate the Holy Scriptures into another tongue must fall short of their aim, when the obligation is imposed of producing a Version that shall be alike literal and idiomatic, faithful to each thought of the original, and yet, in the expression of it, harmonious and free. While we dare to hope that in places not a few of the New Testament the introduction of slight changes has cast a new light upon much that was difficult and obscure, we cannot forget how often we have failed in expressing some finer shade of meaning which we recognised in the original, how often idiom has stood in the way of a perfect rendering, and how often the attempt to preserve a familiar form of words, or even a familiar cadence, has only added another perplexity to those which already beset us.

Thus, in the review of the work which we have been permitted to complete, our closing words must be words of mingled thanksgiving, humility, and prayer. Of thanksgiving, for the many blessings vouchsafed to us throughout the unbroken progress of our corporate labours; of humility, for our failings and imperfections in the fulfilment of our task; and of prayer to Almighty God, that the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ may be more clearly and more freshly shewn forth to all who shall be readers of this Book.

1 THE book of the <sup>2</sup>generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

2 Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judah and 3 his brethren; and Judah begat Perez and Zerah of Tamar; and Perez begat 4 Hezron; and Hezron begat <sup>5</sup>Ram; and <sup>5</sup>Ram begat Amminadab; and Amminadab begat Nahshon; and Nahshon begat Salmon; and Salmon begat Boaz of Rahab; and Boaz begat Obed of 6 Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse; and Jesse begat David the king.

And David begat Solomon of her that had been the wife of Uriah; and Solomon begat Rehoboam; and Rehoboam begat Abijah; and Abijah begat <sup>4</sup>Asa; and <sup>4</sup>Asa begat Jehoshaphat; and Jehoshaphat begat Joram; and Joram begat Uzziah; and Uzziah begat Jotham; and Jotham begat Ahaz; and Ahaz begat Hezekiah; and Hezekiah begat Manasseh; and Manasseh begat <sup>5</sup>A-11 mon; and <sup>5</sup>Amon begat Josiah; and Josiah begat Jechoniah and his brethren, at the time of the <sup>6</sup>carrying away to Babylon.

12 And after the <sup>6</sup>carrying away to Babylon, Jechoniah begat <sup>7</sup>Shealtiel; and <sup>7</sup>Shealtiel begat Zerubbabel; and Zerubbabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat 14 Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor; and Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat 15 Achim; and Achim begat Eliud; and Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthan; and Matthan begat Jacob; 16 and Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham unto David are fourteen generations; and from David unto the <sup>6</sup>carrying away to Babylon fourteen generations; and from the <sup>6</sup>carrying away to Babylon unto the Christ fourteen generations.

18 Now the <sup>8</sup>birth <sup>9</sup>of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When his mother Mary had been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together she was found with 19 child of the <sup>10</sup>Holy Ghost. And Joseph her husband, being a righteous man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away 20 privily. But when he thought on these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is <sup>11</sup>conceived in her is of the 21 Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a son; and thou shalt call his name Jesus; for it is he that shall save his 22 people from their sins. Now all this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, which is, being interpreted, God with 24 us. And Joseph arose from his sleep, and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took unto him his 25 wife; and knew her not till she had brought forth a son: and he called his name JESUS.

23 Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, And they shall call his name <sup>12</sup>Immanuel;

2 Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, <sup>13</sup>wise men from the east 2 came to Jerusalem, saying, <sup>14</sup>Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we saw his star in the east, and are 3 come to worship him. And when Herod the king heard it, he was troubled, and 4 all Jerusalem with him. And gathering together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where 5 the Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judaea: for thus it is written <sup>15</sup>by the prophet,

6 And thou Bethlehem, land of Judah, Art in no wise least among the princes of Judah:

For out of thee shall come forth a governor, Which shall be shepherd of my people Israel.

7 Then Herod privily called the <sup>13</sup>wise men, and learned of them carefully 8 <sup>16</sup>what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search out carefully concerning the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word, that I also may 9 come and worship him. And they, having heard the king, went their way; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And they came into the house and saw the young child with Mary his mother; and they fell down and worshipped him; and opening their treasures they offered unto him gifts, gold and

13 Now when they were departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I tell thee: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. And he arose and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt; and was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,

16 Out of Egypt did I call my son. Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the <sup>1</sup>wise men, was exceeding wrath, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had carefully learned of the <sup>1</sup>wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken <sup>2</sup>by Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

18 A voice was heard in Ramah,
Weeping and great mourning,
Rachel weeping for her children;
And she would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream

20 to Joseph in Egypt, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead that sought the young child's

21 life. And he arose and took the young child and his mother, and came into 22 the land of Israel. But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judæa in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; and being warned of God in a dream, he with-

23 drew into the parts of Galilee, and came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>2</sup>by the prophets, that he should be called a Nazarene.

3 And in those days cometh John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness 2 of Judea, saying, Repeat ye; for the 3 kingdom of heaven is at hand. For this is he that was spoken of <sup>2</sup>by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

The voice of one crying in the wilderness,

Make ye ready the way of the Lord,
Make his paths straight.

4 Now John himself had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his food was locusts and wild honey. Then went out unto him Jerusalem, and all Judæa,

5 and all the region round about Jordan; and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.

7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said unto them, Ye offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from 8 the wrath to come? Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of <sup>3</sup>repentance: and think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. And even now is the axe laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

11 I indeed baptize you <sup>4</sup>with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not <sup>5</sup>worthy to bear: he shall baptize you <sup>4</sup>with the Holy Ghost and 12 with fire: whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing-floor; and he will gather his wheat into the garner, but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire.

13 Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to the Jordan unto John, to be baptized

14 of him. But John would have hindered him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?

15 But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer <sup>6</sup>it now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then

16 he suffereth him. And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway from the water: and lo, the heavens were opened <sup>7</sup>unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending as a

17 dove, and coming upon him; and lo, a voice out of the heavens, saying, <sup>8</sup>This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

4 Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of 2 the devil. And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he afterward hungered. And the tempter came and said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, command that these stones be-

4 come <sup>9</sup>bread. But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil taketh him into the holy city; and he set him on the <sup>10</sup> pinnacle of the temple, and saith unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written,

He shall give his angels charge concerning thee:

And on their hands they shall bear thee up,

Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, Again it is written, Thou shalt not tempt the

8 Lord thy God. Again, the devil taketh him unto an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the

Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. Then the devil leaveth him; and behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

12 Now when he heard that John was delivered up, he withdrew into Galilee; and leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is by the sea, in the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali: 14 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>1</sup> by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

15 The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali,
 2 Toward the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the <sup>3</sup> Gentiles, 16 The people which sat in darkness Saw a great light,
 And to them which sat in the region and shadow of death,
 To them did light spring up.

17 From that time began Jesus to preach, and to say, Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 And walking by the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers.

19 And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway left the nets, and 21 followed him. And going on from thence he saw other two brethren, <sup>4</sup> James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called 22 them. And they straightway left the boat and their father, and followed him.

23 And <sup>5</sup> Jesus went about in all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the <sup>6</sup> gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the 24 people. And the report of him went forth into all Syria: and they brought unto him all that were sick, holden with divers diseases and torments, <sup>7</sup> possessed with devils, and epileptic, and palsied; and he healed them. And there followed him great multitudes from Galilee and Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judæa and from beyond Jordan.

5 And seeing the multitudes, he went up into the mountain: and when he had sat down, his disciples came unto him: 2 and he opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 <sup>8</sup> Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called sons of God.

10 Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for so great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is therefore good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men. Ye are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot

15 be hid. Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth unto all that are 16 in the house. Even so let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfil. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from the law, till all things be ac-

19 complished. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great in the kingdom 20 of heaven. For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in dan-

22 ger of the judgement: but I say unto you, that every one who is angry with his brother <sup>9</sup> shall be in danger of the judgement; and whosoever shall say to his brother, <sup>10</sup> Raca, shall be in danger of the council; and whosoever shall say,

24 against thee, leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come 25 and offer thy gift. Agree with thine adversary quickly, while thou art with him in the way; lest haply the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge <sup>14</sup> deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast 26 into prison. Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou have paid the last farthing.

27 Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt not commit adultery: but I say unto you, that every one that looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. And if thy right eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not

30 thy whole body be cast into hell. And if thy right hand causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body go into hell. It was said also, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorce: but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress: and whosoever shall marry her when she is put away committeth adultery.

33 Again, ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths: but I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by the heaven, for it is the throne of God; nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, for thou canst not make one hair white or black. But let your speech be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: and whatsoever is more than these is of the evil one.

38 Ye have heard that it was said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: but I say unto you, Resist not him that is evil: but whosoever smiteth thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

40 And if any man would go to law with thee, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloke also. And whosoever shall compel thee to go one mile, go with him twain. Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and thou shalt hate thine enemy: but I say unto you, Love your enemies, and pray for them that persecute you; that ye may be sons of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sendeth rain on the just and the unjust. For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same? And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the Gentiles the same? Ye therefore shall be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

6 Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men, to be seen of them: else ye have no reward with your Father which is in heaven.

2 When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: that thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

5 And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites: for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thine inner chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee. And in praying use not vain repetitions, as the Gentiles do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth.

11 Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. And bring us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 Moreover when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may be seen of men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thy head, and wash thy face; that thou be not seen of men to fast, but of thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall recompense thee.

19 Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and rust doth consume, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: for where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. The lamp of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is the darkness!

24 No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God

25 and mammon. Therefore I say unto you, Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and

26 the body than the raiment? Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not ye of much more

27 value than they? And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit

28 unto his stature? And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:

29 yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed

30 like one of these. But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more

31 clothe you, O ye of little faith? Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be

32 clothed? For after all these things do the Gentiles seek; for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have

33 need of all these things. But seek ye first his kingdom, and his righteousness; and all these things shall 34 be added unto you. Be not therefore anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

7 Judge not, that ye be not judged.

2 For with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured

3 unto you. And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in

4 thine own eye? Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me cast out the mote out of thine eye; and lo,

5 the beam is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast your pearls before the swine, lest haply they trample them under their feet, and turn and rend you.

7 Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it

9 shall be opened. Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for a loaf, will give him a stone;

10 or if he shall ask for a fish, will

11 give him a serpent? If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that 12 ask him? All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is the law and the prophets.

13 Enter ye in by the narrow gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many be 14 they that enter in thereby. <sup>3</sup> For narrow is the gate, and straitened the way, that leadeth unto life, and few be they that find it.

15 Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly

16 are ravening wolves. By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes

17 of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but the corrupt tree bringeth forth

18 evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree

19 bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn

20 down, and cast into the fire. Therefore

21 by their fruits ye shall know them. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord,

Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my 22 Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy by thy name, and by thy name cast out <sup>4</sup> devils, and by thy 23 name do many <sup>5</sup> mighty works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work

24 iniquity. Every one therefore which heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man,

25 which built his house upon the rock: and the rain descended, and the floods came,

and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded

26 upon the rock. And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand:

27 and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.

28 And it came to pass, when Jesus ended these words, the multitudes were asto-

29 nished at his teaching: for he taught them as one having authority, and not as their scribes.

8 And when he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed

2 him. And behold, there came to him a leper and worshipped him, saying,

Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make

3 me clean. And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I commanded, for a testimony unto

5 And when he was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a cen-6 turion, beseeching him, and saying,
Lord, my <sup>1</sup>servant lieth in the house sick of the palsy, grievously tor-7 mented. And he saith unto him, I

8 will come and heal him. And the cen-turion answered and said, Lord, I am not <sup>2</sup>worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof: but only say

<sup>3</sup>the word, and my <sup>4</sup>servant shall be 9 healed. For I also am a man <sup>4</sup>under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my <sup>5</sup>servant, Do

10 this, and he doeth it. And when Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, <sup>6</sup>I have not found so great faith,

11 no, not in Israel. And I say unto you, that many shall come from the east and the west, and shall <sup>7</sup>sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob,

12 in the kingdom of heaven: but the sons of the kingdom shall be cast forth into the outer darkness: there shall be 13 the weeping and gnashing of teeth. And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And the <sup>1</sup>servant was healed in that hour.

14 And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother lying 15 sick of a fever. And he touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she arose, 16 and ministered unto him. And when even was come, they brought unto him many <sup>8</sup>possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with a word,

17 and healed all that were sick: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>9</sup>by Isaiah the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases.

18 Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to de-19 part unto the other side. And there came <sup>10</sup>a scribe, and said unto him, <sup>11</sup>Master,
I will follow thee whithersoever thou

20 goest. And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have <sup>12</sup>nests; but the Son of man

21 hath not where to lay his head. And another of the disciples said unto him,
Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my 22 father. But Jesus saith unto him, Follow me; and leave the dead to bury their own dead.

23 And when he was entered into a boat,
24 his disciples followed him. And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea,

insomuch that the boat was covered 25 with the waves: but he was asleep. And they came to him, and awoke him, say-26 ing, Save, Lord; we perish. And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and 27 there was a great calm. And the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?

28 And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gadarenes, there met him two <sup>8</sup>possessed with devils, coming forth out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man could pass by 29 that way. And behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee,

thou Son of God? art thou come hither

30 to torment us before the time? Now there was afar off from them a herd of 31 many swine feeding. And the <sup>13</sup>devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, send us away into the herd of 32 swine. And he said unto them, Go.

And they came out, and went into the swine: and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep into the sea,

33 and perished in the waters. And they that fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, and what was befallen to them that were <sup>8</sup>pos-34 sessed with devils. And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart from their borders.

⊙ And he entered into a boat, and crossed 2 over, and came into his own city. And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy, <sup>14</sup>Son, be of good cheer; thy

3 sins are forgiven. And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves,
4 This man blasphemeth. And Jesus

<sup>15</sup>knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and walk?

6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath <sup>16</sup>power on earth to forgive sins (then saith he to the sick of the palsy), Arise, and take up thy bed, and 7 go unto thy house. And he arose, and 8 departed to his house. But when the multitudes saw it, they were afraid, and glorified God, which had given such <sup>16</sup>power unto men.

9 And as Jesus passed by from thence, he saw a man, called Matthew, sitting at the place of toll: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed
him.

10 And it came to pass, as he <sup>17</sup>sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees saw it,
they said unto his disciples, Why

14 Then come to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast <sup>3</sup>oft, but thy disciples 15 fast not? And Jesus said unto them, Can the sons of the bride-chamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then will they 16 fast. And no man putteth a piece of undressed cloth upon an old garment; for that which should fill it up taketh from the garment, and a worse rent is 17 made. Neither do men put new wine into old <sup>4</sup>wine-skins: else the skins burst, and the wine is spilled, and the skins perish: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins, and both are preserved.

18 While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came <sup>5</sup>a ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall 19 live. And Jesus arose, and followed 20 him, and so did his disciples. And behold, a woman, who had an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: for she said within herself, If I do but touch his garment, I shall be 22 <sup>6</sup>made whole. But Jesus turning and seeing her said, Daughter, be of good cheer; thy faith hath <sup>7</sup>made thee whole. And the woman was <sup>6</sup>made 23 whole from that hour. And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the flute-players, and the crowd 24 making a tumult, he said, Give place: for the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. 25 But when the crowd was put forth, he entered in, and took her by the 26 hand; and the damsel arose. And <sup>8</sup>the fame hereof went forth into all that land.

27 And as Jesus passed by from thence, two blind men followed him, crying out, and saying, Have mercy on us, 28 thou son of David. And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They say unto him, Yea, 29 Lord. Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it 30 done unto you. And their eyes were opened. And Jesus <sup>9</sup>strictly charged them, saying, See that no man know it. 31 But they went forth, and spread abroad his fame in all that land.

32 And as they went forth, behold, there was brought to him a dumb man possessed with a <sup>10</sup>devil. And when the <sup>10</sup>devil was cast out, the dumb man spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel. 34 But the Pharisees said, <sup>11</sup>By the prince of the <sup>12</sup>devils casteth he out <sup>12</sup>devils. 35 And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness. But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and scattered, as 37 sheep not having a shepherd. Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few. 38 Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into 10 his harvest. And he called unto him his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of disease and all manner of sickness.

2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the publican; James 4 the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddeus; Simon the <sup>13</sup>Cananean, and Judas Iscariot, who also <sup>14</sup>betrayed him. These twelve Jesus sent forth, and charged them, saying,

Go not into any way of the Gentiles, and enter not into any city of the Samaritans: but go rather to the lost sheep 7 of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven 8 is at hand. Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out <sup>12</sup>devils: freely ye received, freely give. Get you no gold, nor silver, nor brass in your 10 <sup>15</sup>purses; no wallet for your journey, neither two coats, nor shoes, nor staff: for the labourer is worthy of his food. 11 And into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, search out who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go forth. And 13 as ye enter into the house, salute it. And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let 14 your peace return to you. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, as ye go forth out of that house or that city, shake off the dust of your 15 feet. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgement, than for that city.

16 Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as 17 serpents, and <sup>16</sup>harmless as doves. But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to councils, and in their synagogues 18 they will scourge you; yea and before governors and kings shall ye be brought for my sake, for a testimony to them 19 and to the Gentiles. But when they deliver you up, be not anxious how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that hour what ye 20 shall speak. For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father 21 that speaketh in you. And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child: and children shall rise up against parents, and 22<sup>1</sup> cause them to be put to death. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved.

 23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee into the next: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone through the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come.
 26 his household! Fear them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known. What I tell you in the darkness, speak ye in the light: and what ye hear in the ear, 28 proclaim upon the housetops. And be not afraid of them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body 29 in <sup>5</sup>hell. Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and not one of them shall fall on the ground without your 30 Father: but the very hairs of your 31 head are all numbered. Fear not therefore; ye are of more value than many 32 sparrows. Every one therefore who shall confess <sup>6</sup>me before men, <sup>7</sup>him will I also confess before my Father which 33 is in heaven. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.
 34 Think not that I came to <sup>8</sup>send peace on the earth: I came not to <sup>8</sup>send 35 peace, but a sword. For I came to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law a-36 gainst her mother in law: and a man's foes shall be they of his own house-37 hold. He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me.
 38 And he that doth not take his cross and follow after me, is not worthy of me.
 39 He that <sup>9</sup>findeth his <sup>10</sup>life shall lose it; and he that <sup>11</sup>loseth his <sup>10</sup>life for my sake shall find it.
 40 He that receiveth you receiveth me, and he that receiveth me receiveth him

 41 that sent me. He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward. And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.
 11 And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and preach in their cities.
 2 Now when John heard in the prison the works of the Christ, he sent by his
 3 disciples, and said unto him, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another?
 4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Go your way and tell John the things
 5 which ye do hear and see: the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have <sup>12</sup>good tidings preached to them.
 6 And blessed is he, whosoever shall find
 7 none occasion of stumbling in me. And as these went their way, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to behold? a reed shaken with 8 the wind? But what went ye out for to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft raiment are in 9 kings' houses. <sup>13</sup>But wherefore went ye out? to see a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. This is he, of whom it is written,
 Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
 Who shall prepare thy way before thee.
 11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist: yet he that is <sup>14</sup>but little in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he. And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and men of violence take it by force.
 13 For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. And if ye are willing to receive <sup>15</sup>it, this is Elijah, which 15 is to come. He that hath ears <sup>16</sup>to hear,
 16 let him hear. But wherunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the marketplaces, 17 which call unto their fellows, and say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did not <sup>17</sup>mourn. For John came neither eating nor drinking, 19 and they say, He hath a <sup>18</sup>devil. The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners! And wisdom <sup>19</sup>is justified by her <sup>20</sup>works.

12 At that season Jesus went on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples were an hundred, and began to pluck ears of corn, and to eat.

2 But the Pharisees, when they saw it, said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which it is not lawful to do upon

3 the sabbath. But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungred, and they that were

4 with him; how he entered into the house of God, and <sup>5</sup>did eat the shewbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them that were with him,

5 but only for the priests? Or have ye not read in the law, how that on the sabbath day the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are

7 But if ye had known what this meaneth, I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the 11 accuse him. And he said unto them, What man shall there be of you, that shall have one sheep, and if this fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then is a man of more value than a sheep! Wherefore it is lawful

13 to do good on the sabbath day. Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, as the 14 other. But the Pharisees went out, and took counsel against him, how

15 they might destroy him. And Jesus perceiving it withdrew from thence: and many followed him; and he healed

16 them all, and charged them that they

17 should not make him known: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>7</sup>by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

<sup>46</sup> While he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, seeking to <sup>47</sup> speak to him. <sup>7</sup> And one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, seeking to speak to thee.

<sup>48</sup> But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who <sup>49</sup> are my brethren? And he stretched forth his hand towards his disciples, and said, Behold, my mother and my <sup>50</sup> brethren! For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, he is my brother, and sister, and mother.

<sup>13</sup> On that day went Jesus out of the <sup>2</sup> house, and sat by the sea side. And there were gathered unto him great multitudes, so that he entered into a boat, and sat; and all the multitude <sup>3</sup> stood on the beach. And he spake to them many things in parables, saying, Behold, the sower went forth to sow; <sup>4</sup> and as he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured them: and others fell upon the rocky places, where they had not much earth: and straightway they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth: <sup>6</sup> and when the sun was risen, they were scorched; and because they had no root, <sup>7</sup> they withered away. And others fell upon the thorns; and the thorns grew up, and choked them: and others fell upon the good ground, and yielded fruit, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some <sup>9</sup> thirty. He that hath ears <sup>8</sup>, let him hear. <sup>10</sup> And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in <sup>11</sup> parables? And he answered and said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, <sup>12</sup> but to them it is not given. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken <sup>13</sup> away even that which he hath. Therefore speak I to them in parables; because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand. And unto them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which saith,

By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand;

And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:

<sup>15</sup> For this people's heart is waxed gross, And their ears are dull of hearing, And their eyes they have closed; Least haply they should perceive with their eyes,

And hear with their ears, And understand with their heart,

And should turn again, And I should heal them.

<sup>16</sup> But blessed are your eyes, for they see; <sup>17</sup> and your ears, for they hear. For verily I say unto you, that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and <sup>18</sup> heard them not. Hear then ye the parable of the sower. When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the evil one, and snatcheth away that which hath been sown in his heart. This is he that was sown by the way side. <sup>20</sup> And he that was sown upon the rocky places, this is he that heareth the word, and straightway with joy receiveith it; yet hath he not root in himself, but endureth for a while; and when tribulation or persecution ariseth

because of the word, straightway he 22 stumblenth. And he that was sown among the thorns, this is he that heareth
the word; and the care of the <sup>1</sup> world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke
the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

23 And he that was sown upon the good ground, this is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; who verily beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

24 Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man that sowed good 25 seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed <sup>2</sup>tares
also among the wheat, and went away.

26 But when the blade sprang up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared 27 the tares also. And the <sup>3</sup>servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? whence then

28 hath it tares? And he said unto them, <sup>4</sup>An enemy hath done this. And the <sup>3</sup>servants say unto him, Wilt thou then 29 that we go and gather them up? But he saith, Nay; lest haply while ye gather up the tares, ye root up the wheat with 30 them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of the harvest

I will say to the reapers, Gather up first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

31 Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a 32 man took, and sowed in his field: which indeed is less than all seeds; but when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33 Another parable spake he unto them;
The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three <sup>5</sup>measures of meal, till it was all leavened.

34 All these things spake Jesus in parables unto the multitudes; and without a parable spake he nothing unto them:
35 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>6</sup>by the prophet, saying,

I will open my mouth in parables;
I will utter things hidden from the foundation <sup>7</sup>of the world.

36 Then he left the multitudes, and went into the house; and his disciples came unto him, saying, Explain unto us the 37 parable of the tares of the field. And he answered and said, He that soweth 38 the good seed is the Son of man; and the field is the world; and the goodseed, these are the sons of the kingdom; and the tares are the sons of the evil one;

39 and the enemy that sowed them is the devil: and the harvest is <sup>8</sup>the end of the 40 world; and the reapers are angels. As therefore the tares are gathered up and burned with fire; so shall it be in <sup>8</sup>the 41 end of the world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that cause stumbling, and them that do ini-42 quity, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping 43 and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He that hath ears, let him hear.

44 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hidden in the field; which a man found, and hid; and <sup>9</sup>in his joy he goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a merchant seeking 46 goodly pearls: and having found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a <sup>10</sup>net, that was cast into the sea, 48 and gathered of every kind: which,
when it was filled, they drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but the bad they

49 cast away. So shall it be in <sup>8</sup>the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the 50 righteous, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

51 Have ye understood all these things?
52 They say unto him, Yea. And he said unto them, Therefore every scribe who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

53 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed 54 thence. And coming into his own country he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they were astonished,
and said, Whence hath this man this 55 wisdom, and these <sup>11</sup>mighty works? Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren,

James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Ju-56 das? And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man

57 all these things? And they were <sup>12</sup>offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in 58 his own house. And he did not many <sup>11</sup>mighty works there because of their unbelief.

14 At that season Herod the tetrarch
2 heard the report concerning Jesus, and said unto his servants, This is John the therefore do these powers work in him.

5 is not lawful for thee to have her. And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they 6 counted him as a prophet. But when Herod's birthday came, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst, and 7 pleased Herod. Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her what-8 soever she should ask. And she, being put forward by her mother, saith,
Give me here in a charger the head 9 of John the Baptist. And the king was grieved; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them which sat at meat with him, he commanded it to be given;
10 and he sent, and beheaded John in the 11 prison. And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: 12 and she brought it to her mother. And his disciples came, and took up the corpse, and buried him; and they went and told Jesus.

13 Now when Jesus heard it, he withdrew from thence in a boat, to a desert place apart: and when the multitudes heard thereof, they followed him <sup>1</sup> on foot 14 from the cities. And he came forth, and saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, and healed their 15 sick. And when even was come, the disciples came to him, saying, The place is desert, and the time is already past;
send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages, and buy them-16 selves food. But Jesus said unto them,
They have no need to go away; give ye 17 them to eat. And they say unto him,
We have here but five loaves, and two 18 fishes. And he said, Bring them hither 19 to me. And he commanded the multitudes to <sup>2</sup> sit down on the grass; and he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake and gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples to 20 the multitudes. And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the bro-21 ken pieces, twelve baskets full. And they that did eat were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

22 And straightway he constrained the disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side, till he 23 should send the multitudes away. And after he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into the mountain apart to pray: and when even was come, he was 24 there alone. But the boat <sup>3</sup> was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the 25 waves; for the wind was contrary. And in the fourth watch of the night he came 26 unto them, walking upon the sea. And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is an apparition; and they cried out for 27 fear. But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I; 28 be not afraid. And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me 29 come unto thee upon the waters. And he said, Come. And Peter went down from the boat, and walked upon the 30 waters, <sup>4</sup> to come to Jesus. But when he saw the wind <sup>5</sup>, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, 31 Lord, save me. And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and took hold of him, and saith unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?

32 And when they were gone up into the 33 boat, the wind ceased. And they that were in the boat worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.

34 And when they had crossed over, they 35 came to the land, unto Genesaret. And when the men of that place knew him, they sent into all that region round about, and brought unto him all that 36 were sick; and they besought him that they might only touch the border of his garment: and as many as touched were made whole.

15 Then there come to Jesus from Jerusalem Pharisees and scribes, saying, 2 Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not 3 their hands when they eat bread. And he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment 4 of God because of your tradition? For God said, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him <sup>6</sup> die the death.
5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by 6 me is given to God; he shall not honour his father <sup>7</sup>. And ye have made void the <sup>8</sup> word of God because of your tra-7 dition. Ye hypocrites, well did Isaiah prophecy of you, saying, 8 This people honoureth me with their lips;
But their heart is far from me.
9 But in vain do they worship me,
Teaching as their doctrines the precepts of men.

10 And he called to him the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand: 11 Not that which entereth into the mouth
defileth the man; but that which proceedeth out of the mouth, this defileth 12 the man. Then came the disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were <sup>9</sup> offended, when they 13 heard this saying? But he answered and said, Every <sup>10</sup> plant which my heavenly Father planted not, shall be rooted up.
14 Let them alone: they are blind guides.
And if the blind guide the blind, both 15 shall fall into a pit. And Peter answered and said unto him, Declare unto us the 16 parable. And he said, Are ye also 17 even yet without understanding? Perceive ye not, that whatsoever goeth into the mouth passeth into the belly, and 18 is cast out into the draught? But the things which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of the heart; and they 19 defile the man. For out of the heart come forth evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false 20 witness, railings: these are the things which defile the man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not the man. 21 And Jesus went out thence, and withdrew into the parts of Tyre and Sidon. 22 And behold, a Canaanitish woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously 23 vexed with a <sup>1</sup> devil. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her 24 away; for she crieth after us. But he answered and said, I was not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of 25 Israel. But she came and worshipped 26 him, saying, Lord, help me. And he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's <sup>2</sup> bread and cast it to 27 the dogs. But she said, Yea, Lord: for even the dogs eat of the crumbs which 28 fall from their masters' table. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it done unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was healed from that hour. 29 And Jesus departed thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and he went up into the mountain, and sat 30 there. And there came unto him great multitudes, having with them the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and they cast them down at his feet; and 31 he healed them: insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed whole, and the lame walking, and the blind seeing: and they glorified the God of Israel. 32 And Jesus called unto him his disciples, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat: and I would not send them away fasting, lest haply they faint in the way. 33 And the disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so many loaves in a desert place, as to fill so great a multitude? 34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, 35 and a few small fishes. And he commanded the multitude to sit down on 36 the ground; and he took the seven loaves and the fishes; and he gave thanks and brake, and gave to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes. And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the broken pieces, 37 38 seven baskets full. And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside 39 women and children. And he sent away the multitudes, and entered into the boat, and came into the borders of Magadan.

16 And the Pharisees and Sadducees came, and tempting him asked him to 2 shew them a sign from heaven. But he answered and said unto them, <sup>3</sup> When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the heaven is red. And in the morning, It will be foul weather to-day: for the heaven is red and lowring. Ye know how to discern the face of the heaven; but ye cannot discern the signs 4 of the times. An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of Jonah. And he left them, and departed.

5 And the disciples came to the other 6 side and forgot to take <sup>4</sup> bread. And Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees 7 and Sadducees. And they reasoned among themselves, saying, <sup>5</sup> We took no <sup>4</sup> bread. And Jesus perceiving it said, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have no <sup>4</sup> bread? 9 Do ye not yet perceive, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many <sup>6</sup> baskets ye took up?

10 Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many <sup>6</sup> baskets ye 11 took up? How is it that ye do not perceive that I spake not to you concerning <sup>4</sup> bread? But beware of the leaven 12 of the Pharisees and Sadducees. Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of <sup>4</sup> bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13 Now when Jesus came into the parts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Who do men say <sup>7</sup> that the 14 Son of man is? And they said, Some say John the Baptist; some, Elijah: and others, Jeremiah, or one of the 15 prophets. He saith unto them, But who 16 say ye that I am? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, 17 the Son of the living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jonah: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. 18 And I also say unto thee, that thou art <sup>8</sup> Peter, and upon this <sup>9</sup> rock I will build my church; and the gates of Hades 19 shall not prevail against it. I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth 20 shall be loosed in heaven. Then charged he the disciples that they should tell no man that he was the Christ.

must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and 22 the third day be raised up. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, 23 Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall never be unto thee. But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art a stumblingblock unto me: for thou mindest not the things of 24 God, but the things of men. Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow 25 me. For whosoever would save his <sup>2</sup>life shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose 26 his <sup>2</sup>life for my sake shall find it. For what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and forfeit his <sup>2</sup>life? or what shall a man give in exchange for his <sup>2</sup>life? For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then shall he render unto every man according 28 to his <sup>3</sup>deeds. Verily I say unto you, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

17 And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a 2 high mountain apart: and he was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his garments became white as the light. And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and 4 Elijah talking with him. And Peter answered, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, I will make here three <sup>4</sup>tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for 5 Elijah. While he was yet speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him. 6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. 7 And Jesus came and touched them and 8 said, Arise, and be not afraid. And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jesus only.

9 And as they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen from the dead. 10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Elijah 11 must first come? And he answered and said, Elijah indeed cometh, and 12 shall restore all things: but I say unto you, that Elijah is come already, and they knew him not, but did unto him whatsoever they listed. Even so shall the Son of man also 13 suffer of them. Then understood the disciples that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

14 And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying, Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is epileptic, and suffereth grievously: for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft-times into 16 the water. And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him. 17 And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him hither to me. 18 And Jesus rebuked him; and the <sup>5</sup>demon went out from him: and the boy was 19 cured from that hour. Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why 20 could not we cast it out? And he saith unto them, Because of your little faith: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.<sup>6</sup>

22 And while they <sup>7</sup>abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be delivered up into the hands of 23 men; and they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised up. And they were exceeding sorry.

24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received the <sup>8</sup>half-shekel came to Peter, and said, Doth not 25 your <sup>9</sup>master pay the <sup>8</sup>half-shekel? He saith, Yea. And when he came into the house, Jesus spake first to him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? the kings of the earth, from whom do they receive toll or tribute? from their sons, or from 26 strangers? And when he said, From strangers, Jesus said unto him, Therefore the sons are free. But, lest we cause them to stumble, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a <sup>10</sup>shekel: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

18 In that hour came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who then is <sup>11</sup>greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And he called to him a little child, and set him in the 3 midst of them, and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye turn, and become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter 4 into the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the <sup>12</sup>greatest in the kingdom of heaven. And whoso shall receive one such little child 6 in my name receiveth me: but whoso shall cause one of these little ones which believe on me to stumble, it is profitable for him that <sup>13</sup>a great millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be sunk in the 7 depth of the sea. 8 And if thy hand or thy foot causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed or halt, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into the 9 eternal fire. And if thine eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the <sup>1</sup>hell of 10 fire. See that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, that in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.<sup>2</sup>

12 How think ye? if any man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and go unto the mountains, and 13 seek that which goeth astray? And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety and nine which 14 have not gone astray. Even so it is not <sup>3</sup>the will of <sup>4</sup>your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 And if thy brother sin <sup>5</sup>against thee, go, shew him his fault between thee and him alone: if he hear thee, thou hast 16 gained thy brother. But if he hear thee not, take with thee one or two more, that at the mouth of two witnesses or three 17 every word may be established. And if he refuse to hear them, tell it unto the <sup>6</sup>church: and if he refuse to hear the <sup>6</sup>church also, let him be unto thee as the Gentile and the publican.

18 Verily I say unto you, What things soever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and what things soever ye shall loose on earth shall 19 be loosed in heaven. Again I say unto you, that if two of you shall agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my 20 Father which is in heaven. For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 Then came Peter, and said to him, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? until 22 seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; 23 but, Until <sup>7</sup>seventy times seven. Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would make 24 a reckoning with his <sup>8</sup>servants. And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten 25 thousand <sup>9</sup>talents. But forasmuch as he had not wherewith to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and 26 payment to be made. The <sup>10</sup>servant therefore fell down and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with 27 me, and I will pay thee all. And the lord of that <sup>10</sup>servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him 28 the <sup>11</sup>debt. But that <sup>10</sup>servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him a hundred <sup>12</sup>pence: and he laid hold on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay what thou owest.

29 So his fellow-servant fell down and besought him, saying, Have patience with 30 me, and I will pay thee. And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay that which was due.

31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were exceeding sorry, and came and told unto their lord all 32 that was done. Then his lord called him unto him, and saith to him, Thou wicked <sup>10</sup>servant, I forgave thee all that debt, 33 because thou besoughtest me: shouldst not thou also have had mercy on thy fellow-servant, even as I had mercy on 34 thee? And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he 35 should pay all that was due. So shall also my heavenly Father do unto you, if ye forgive not every one his brother from your hearts.

19 And it came to pass when Jesus had finished these words, he departed from Galilee, and came into the borders of 2 Judaea beyond Jordan; and great multitudes followed him; and he healed them there.

3 And there came unto him <sup>13</sup>Pharisees, tempting him, and saying, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every 4 cause? And he answered and said, Have ye not read, that he which <sup>14</sup>made them from the beginning made them 5 male and female, and said, For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and 6 the twain shall become one flesh? So that they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined 7 together, let not man put asunder. They say unto him, Why then did Moses command to give a bill of divorcement, and 8 to put her away? He saith unto them, Moses for your hardness of heart suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it hath not been so.

9 And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, <sup>15</sup>except for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: <sup>16</sup>and he that marrieth her when she is put away committeth 10 adultery. The disciples say unto him, If the case of the man is so with his wife, 11 it is not expedient to marry. But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, but they to whom it is given.

12 For there are eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are eunuchs, which were made eunuchs by men: and there are eunuchs, which made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should lay his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them. But Jesus said, Suffer the little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven. And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 And behold, one came to him and said, <sup>12</sup> Master, what good thing shall I do, <sup>17</sup> that I may have eternal life? And he said unto him, <sup>3</sup> Why askest thou me concerning that which is good? One there is who is good: but if thou wouldst enter into life, keep the commandments. He saith unto him, Which? And Jesus said, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. The young man saith unto him, All these things have I observed: what <sup>21</sup> lack I yet? Jesus said unto him, If thou wouldst be perfect, go, sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, <sup>22</sup> follow me. But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

23 And Jesus said unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, It is hard for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of <sup>24</sup> heaven. And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to <sup>25</sup> enter into the kingdom of God. And when the disciples heard it, they were astonished exceedingly, saying, Who <sup>26</sup> then can be saved? And Jesus looking upon them said to them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things <sup>27</sup> are possible. Then answered Peter and said unto him, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee; what then shall we <sup>28</sup> have? And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit on the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve <sup>29</sup> tribes of Israel. And every one that hath left houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, <sup>4</sup> or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive <sup>5</sup> a hundredfold, and shall inherit eternal life. But many shall be last that <sup>20</sup> are first; and first that are last. For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. And when he had agreed with the labourers for a <sup>6</sup> penny a day, he sent them into his <sup>3</sup> vineyard. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing in <sup>4</sup> the marketplace idle; and to them he said, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And <sup>5</sup> they went their way. Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour, and <sup>6</sup> did likewise. And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing; and he saith unto them, Why <sup>7</sup> stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the <sup>8</sup> vineyard. And when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and pay them their hire, beginning from the last <sup>9</sup> unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they <sup>10</sup> received every man a <sup>6</sup> penny. And when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise <sup>11</sup> received every man a <sup>6</sup> penny. And when they received it, they murmured against <sup>12</sup> the householder, saying, These last have spent but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden of the day and the <sup>7</sup> scorching heat. But he answered and said to one of them, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a <sup>14</sup> <sup>6</sup> penny? Take up that which is thine, and go thy way; it is my will to give unto this last, even as unto thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? or is thine eye evil, because <sup>16</sup> I am good? So the last shall be first, and the first last.

17 And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples apart, and in the way he said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and scribes; and they shall <sup>19</sup> condemn him to death, and shall deliver him unto the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify: and the third day he shall be raised up.

20 Then came to him the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, worshipping him, and asking a certain thing of <sup>21</sup> him. And he said unto her, What wouldst thou? She saith unto him, Command that these my two sons may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, <sup>22</sup> in thy kingdom. But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink the cup that I am about to drink? They say unto him, We are <sup>23</sup> able. He saith unto them, My cup indeed ye shall drink: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to give, but it is for them for whom it <sup>24</sup> hath been prepared of my Father. And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two <sup>25</sup> brethren. But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over <sup>26</sup> them. Not so shall it be among you: but whosoever would become great among

27 you shall be your <sup>1</sup>minister; and whosoever would be first among you shall 28 be your <sup>2</sup>servant: even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

29 And as they went out from Jericho, 30 a great multitude followed him. And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou son of 31 David. And the multitude rebuked them, that they should hold their peace: but they cried out the more, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou 32 son of David. And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will 33 ye that I should do unto you? They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may 34 be opened. And Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes: and straightway they received their sight, and followed him.

21 And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and came unto Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then Jesus sent 2 two disciples, saying unto them, Go into the village that is over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, 3 and bring them unto me. And if any one say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straight- 4 way he will send them. Now this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>3</sup>by the prophet, saying,

5 Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, Meek, and riding upon an ass, And upon a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did even as 7 Jesus appointed them, and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their 8 garments; and he sat thereon. And the most part of the multitude spread their garments in the way; and others cut branches from the trees, and spread 9 them in the way. And the multitudes that went before him, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the 10 highest. And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this? And the multitudes said, This is the prophet, Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee.

12 And Jesus entered into the temple <sup>4</sup>of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the 13 seats of them that sold the doves; and he saith unto them, It is written, My house shall be called a house of prayer: 14 but ye make it a den of robbers. And the blind and the lame came to him in 15 the temple: and he healed them. But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children that were crying in the temple and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were moved 16 with indignation, and said unto him, Hearest thou what these are saying? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea: did ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise? And he left them, and went forth out of the city to Bethany, and lodged there.

18 Now in the morning as he returned to 19 the city, he hungered. And seeing <sup>5</sup>a fig tree by the way side, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only; and he saith unto it, Let there be no fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And immediately the fig tree withered 20 away. And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How did the fig 21 tree immediately wither away? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do what is done to the fig tree, but even if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou taken up and cast into the sea, it shall 22 be done. And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23 And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee 24 this authority? And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one <sup>6</sup>question, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority

25 I do these things. The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why then 26 did ye not believe him? But if we shall say, From men; we fear the multitude; 27 for all hold John as a prophet. And they answered Jesus, and said, We know not. He also said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I 28 do these things. But what think ye? A man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, <sup>7</sup>Son, go work to-day in 29 the vineyard. And he answered and said, I will not: but afterward he repented himself, and went. And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and 31 went not. Whether of the twain did the will of his father? They say, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, that the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before 32 you. For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye saw it, did not even repent yourselves afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 Hear another parable: There was a man that was a householder, which planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into another country.

34 And when the season of the fruits drew near, he sent his <sup>1</sup>servants to the husbandmen, to receive <sup>2</sup>his fruits. And the husbandmen took his <sup>1</sup>servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another. Again, he sent other <sup>1</sup>servants more than the first: and they did unto them in like manner. But afterward he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son. But the husbandmen, when they saw the son, said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and take his inheritance. And they took him, and cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. When therefore the lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do unto those husbandmen?

41 They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and will let out the vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons. Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures,

The stone which the builders rejected,

The same was made the head of the corner:

This was from the Lord,

And it is marvellous in our eyes?

43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken away from you, and shall be given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. <sup>3</sup>And he that falleth on this stone shall be broken to pieces: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will scatter him as dust. And when the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them. And when they sought to lay hold on him, they feared the multitudes, because they took him for a prophet.

22 And Jesus answered and spake again in parables unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a certain king, which made a marriage feast for his son, and sent forth his <sup>1</sup>servants to call them that were bidden to the marriage feast: and they would not come.

4 Again he sent forth other <sup>1</sup>servants, saying, Tell them that are bidden, Behold, I have made ready my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come to the marriage feast. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise: and the rest laid hold on his <sup>1</sup>servants, and entreated them shamefully, and killed

7 them. But the king was wroth; and he sent his armies, and destroyed those 8 murderers, and burned their city. Then saith he to his <sup>1</sup>servants, The wedding is ready, but they that were bidden were 9 not worthy. Go ye therefore unto the partings of the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage 10 feast. And those <sup>1</sup>servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was filled with 11 guests. But when the king came in to behold the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding-garment: 12 and he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding-garment? And he was speech- 13 less. Then the king said to the <sup>4</sup>servants, Bind him hand and foot, and cast him out into the outer darkness; there shall be the weeping and gnashing 14 of teeth. For many are called, but few chosen.

15 Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might ensnare him in 16 his talk. And they send to him their disciples, with the Herodians, saying, <sup>5</sup>Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one: for thou re- 17 gardest not the person of men. Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Cæsar, or 18 not? But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye 19 hypocrites? Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a <sup>6</sup>penny.

20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this 21 image and superscription? They say unto him, Cæsar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's; and unto God 22 the things that are God's. And when they heard it, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

23 On that day there came to him Sadducees, <sup>7</sup>which say that there is no resurrection: and they asked him, saying, <sup>5</sup>Master, Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother <sup>8</sup>shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first married and deceased, and having no seed left his wife 26 unto his brother; in like manner the second also, and the third, unto the 27 <sup>9</sup>seventh. And after them all the woman 28 died. In the resurrection therefore whose wife shall she be of the seven? 29 for they all had her. But Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God. 30 For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but 31 are as angels <sup>10</sup>in heaven. But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying,

32 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but 33 of the living. And when the multitudes heard it, they were astonished at his teaching.

34 But the Pharisees, when they heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, 35 gathered themselves together. And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question, 36 tempting him, <sup>1</sup>Master, which is the 37 great commandment in the law? And he said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the great and first commandment. <sup>2</sup>And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hangeth the whole law, and the prophets.

41 Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, saying, What think ye of the Christ? whose son is he? They say 43 unto him, The son of David. He saith unto them, How then doth David in the Spirit call him Lord, saying,

44 The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, Till I put thine enemies underneath thy feet?

45 If David then calleth him Lord, how is 46 he his son? And no one was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

23 Then spake Jesus to the multitudes <sup>2</sup>and to his disciples, saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat: 3 all things therefore whatsoever they bid you, these do and observe: but do not ye after their works; for they say, 4 and do not. Yea, they bind heavy burdens <sup>3</sup>and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with

5 their finger. But all their works they do for to be seen of men: for they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge 6 the borders of their garments, and love the chief place at feasts, and the chief 7 seats in the synagogues, and the salutations in the marketplaces, and to be 8 called of men, Rabbi. But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your teacher,

9 and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father on the earth: for one is your 10 Father, <sup>4</sup>which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters: for one is your 11 master, even the Christ. But he that is <sup>6</sup>greatest among you shall be your 12 <sup>6</sup>servant. And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled; and whosoever shall humble himself shall be exalted.

13 But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye shut the kingdom of heaven <sup>7</sup>against men: for ye enter not in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering in to enter.<sup>8</sup>

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte; and when he is become so, ye make him twofold more a son of <sup>9</sup>hell than yourselves.

16 Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the <sup>10</sup>temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the <sup>10</sup>temple, 17 he is <sup>11</sup>a debtor. Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the <sup>10</sup>temple that hath sanctified the gold?

18 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gift that is upon it, he is 19 <sup>11</sup>a debtor. Ye blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift? He therefore that sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it,

21 and by all things thereon. And he that sweareth by the <sup>10</sup>temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.

22 And he that sweareth by the heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye tithe mint and <sup>12</sup>anise and cummin, and have left undone the weightier matters of the law, judgement, and mercy, and faith: but these ye ought to have done, and not to have 24 left the other undone. Ye blind guides, which strain out the gnat, and swallow the camel.

25 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full from extortion and excess.

26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first the inside of the cup and of the platter, that the outside thereof may become clean also.

27 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which outwardly appear beautiful, but inwardly are full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness.

28 Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but inwardly ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and garnish the tombs of 30 the righteous, and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we should not have been partakers with them in 31 the blood of the prophets. Wherefore ye witness to yourselves, that ye are sons of them that slew the prophets.

32 Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers. Ye serpents, ye offspring of vipers, how shall ye escape the judgement cify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute from city to city: that upon you may come all the righteous blood shed on the earth, from the blood of Abel the righteous unto the blood of Zachariah son of Barachiah, whom ye slew between the sanctuary and the altar. Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.

37 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you<sup>1</sup> desolate. For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

24 And Jesus went out from the temple, and was going on his way; and his disciples came to him to shew him the buildings of the temple. But he answered and said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy<sup>2</sup> coming, and of<sup>3</sup> the end of the world?

4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man lead you astray. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am the Christ; and shall lead many astray. And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for these things must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines and earthquakes in divers places. But all these things are the beginning of travail.

9 Then shall they deliver you up unto tribulation, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all the nations for my name's sake. And then shall many stumble, and shall deliver up one another, and shall hate one another. And many false prophets shall arise, and shall lead many astray. And because iniquity shall be multiplied, the love of the many shall wax cold. But he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. And<sup>4</sup> this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the whole<sup>5</sup> world for a testimony unto all the nations; and then shall the end come.

15 When therefore ye see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of<sup>6</sup> by Daniel the prophet, standing in<sup>7</sup> the holy place (let him that readeth understand), then let them that are in

17 Judæa flee unto the mountains: let him that is on the housetop not go down to take out the things that are in his house: and let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloke. But woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days!

20 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on a sabbath: for then shall be great tribulation, such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened. Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ, or, Here; believe<sup>8</sup> it not. For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. Behold, I have told you before-
26 hand. If therefore they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the wilderness; go not forth: Behold, he is in the inner chambers; believe<sup>9</sup> it not. For as the lightning cometh forth from the east, and is seen even unto the west; so shall be the<sup>10</sup> coming of the Son of man. Wheresoever the carcase is, there will the<sup>11</sup> eagles be gathered together.

29 But immediately, after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: and then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. And he shall send forth his angels<sup>12</sup> with<sup>13</sup> a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh: even so ye also, when ye see all these things, know ye that<sup>14</sup> he is nigh, even at the doors. Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all these things be accomplished. Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. But of that day and hour knoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven,<sup>15</sup> neither the Son, but the Father only. And as were the days of Noah, so shall be the<sup>10</sup> coming of the Son of man. For as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and they knew not until the flood came, and foolish, when they took their <sup>6</sup>lamps, 4 took no oil with them: but the wise took oil in their vessels with their

5 <sup>6</sup>lamps. Now while the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept.
6 But at midnight there is a cry, Behold,
the bridegroom! Come ye forth to meet

7 him. Then all those virgins arose, and 8 trimmed their <sup>6</sup>lamps. And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your 9 oil; for our <sup>6</sup>lamps are going out. But the wise answered, saying, Peradventure there will not be enough for us and you: go ye rather to them that 10 sell, and buy for yourselves. And while they went away to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage feast: and the door was shut.

11 Afterward come also the other virgins, 12 saying, Lord, Lord, open to us. But he answered and said, Verily I say

13 unto you, I know you not. Watch therefore, for ye know not the day nor the hour.

14 For it is as when a man, going into another country, called his own <sup>7</sup>ser-

15 goods. And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one;

16 and he went on his journey. Straightway he that received the five talents went and traded with them, and made 17 other five talents. In like manner he also that received the two gained other

18 two. But he that received the one went away and digged in the earth, and hid 19 his lord's money. Now after a long time the lord of those <sup>7</sup>servants cometh, and 20 maketh a reckoning with them. And he that received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliverdest unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other five 21 talents. His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful <sup>4</sup>servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter 22 thou into the joy of thy lord. And he also that received the two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliverdest unto me two talents: lo, I have gained other

Well done, good and faithful <sup>4</sup>servant:

thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: 24 enter thou into the joy of thy lord. And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou didst not sow, and gathering where 25 thou didst not scatter: and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the 26 earth: lo, thou hast thine own. But his lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful <sup>4</sup>servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not,

and gather where I did not scatter; 27 thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back mine

28 own with interest. Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him that hath the ten talents.

29 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance:
but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away.

30 And cast ye out the unprofitable <sup>4</sup>ser-

31 But when the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the angels with him, then shall he sit on the throne of 32 his glory: and before him shall be ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and 36 ye took me in; naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me:

I was in prison, and ye came unto me.
 37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or athirst, and 38 gave thee drink? And when saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or 39 naked, and clothed thee? And when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and 40 came unto thee? And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these my brethren, even 41 these least, ye did it unto me. Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, <sup>1</sup>Depart from me, ye cursed, into the eternal fire which is prepared
 42 for the devil and his angels: for I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no
 43 drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me not in; naked, and ye clothed me not; sick, and in prison, and ye visited me
 44 not. Then shall they also answer, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee? Then shall he answer
 45 them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not unto one of these least, ye did it not unto me.
 46 And these shall go away into eternal punishment: but the righteous into eternal life.
 26 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these words, he said unto his
 2 disciples, Ye know that after two days the passover cometh, and the Son of man is delivered up to be crucified.
 3 Then were gathered together the chief priests, and the elders of the people, unto the court of the high priest, who was 4 called Caiaphas; and they took counsel together that they might take Jesus by 5 subtilty, and kill him. But they said, Not during the feast, lest a tumult arise among the people.
 6 Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in 7 the house of Simon the leper, there came unto him a woman having <sup>2</sup>an alabaster cruse of exceeding precious ointment, and she poured it upon his head, as he 8 sat at meat. But when the disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To 9 what purpose is this waste? For this ointment might have been sold for much,
 10 and given to the poor. But Jesus perceiving it said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought 11 a good work upon me. For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have 12 not always. For in that she <sup>3</sup>poured this ointment upon my body, she did 13 it to prepare me for burial. Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever <sup>4</sup>this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.
 14 Then one of the twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief 15 priests, and said, What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they weighed unto him

 16 thirty pieces of silver. And from that time he sought opportunity to deliver him unto them.
 17 Now on the first day of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying, Where wilt thou that we make ready 18 for thee to eat the passover? And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The <sup>5</sup>Master saith, My time is at hand; I keep the passover at 19 thy house with my disciples. And the disciples did as Jesus appointed them; and they made ready the passover. Now 20 when even was come, he was sitting at 21 meat with the twelve <sup>6</sup>disciples; and as they were eating, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray 22 me. And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began to say unto him every 23 one, Is it I, Lord? And he answered and said, He that dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray 24 me. The Son of man goeth, even as it is written of him: but woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it <sup>7</sup>for that man
 25 if he had not been born. And Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Is it I, Rabbi? He saith unto him, Thou 26 hast said. And as they were eating, Jesus took <sup>8</sup>bread, and blessed, and brake it; and he gave to the disciples, and 27 said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took <sup>9</sup>a cup, and gave thanks, and gave to them, saying, Drink ye all of 28 it; for this is my blood of <sup>10</sup>the <sup>11</sup>covenant, which is shed for many unto remission of sins. But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.
 30 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out unto the mount of Olives.
 31 Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be <sup>12</sup>offended in me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad. But after I am raised up, 32 I will go before you into Galilee. But Peter answered and said unto him, If all shall be <sup>13</sup>offended in thee, I will never 33 be <sup>14</sup>offended. Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny 34 me thrice. Peter saith unto him, Even if I must die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.
 36 Then cometh Jesus with them unto 37 a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I go yonder and pray. And he took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and sore

And he went forward a little, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass away from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, What, could ye not watch with me one hour? <sup>1</sup> Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. Again a second time he went away, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cannot pass away, except I drink it, thy will be done. And he came again and found them sleeping, for their eyes were heavy. And he left them again, and went away, and prayed a third time, saying again the same words. Then cometh he to the disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed unto the hands of sinners. Arise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me. And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people. Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he: take him. And straightway he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, Rabbi; and <sup>2</sup> kissed him. And Jesus said unto him, Friend, do that for which thou art come. Then they came and laid hands on Jesus, and took him. And behold, one of them that were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and smote the <sup>3</sup> servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. Then saith Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into its place: for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. Or thinkest thou that I cannot beseech my Father, and he shall even now send me more than twelve legions of angels? How then should the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be? In that hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and staves to seize me? I sat daily in the temple teaching, and ye took me not. But all this is come to pass, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples left him, and fled. And they that had taken Jesus led him away to the house of Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were gathered together. But Peter followed him afar off, unto the court of the high priest, and entered in, and sat with the officers, to see the end. Now the chief priests and the whole council sought false witness against Jesus, that they might put him to death; and they found it not, though many false witnessses came. But afterward came two, and said, This man said, I am able to destroy the <sup>4</sup> temple of God, and to build it in three days. And the high priest stood up, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God. Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Henceforth ye shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming on the clouds of heaven. Then the high priest rent his garments, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy: what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? They answered and said, He is <sup>5</sup> worthy of death. Then did they spit in his face and buffet him: and some smote him with the palms of their hands, saying, Prophecy unto us, thou Christ: who is he that struck thee? Now Peter was sitting without in the court: and a maid came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilean. But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and saith unto them that were there, This man also was with Jesus the Nazarene. And again he denied with an oath, I know not the man. And after a little while they that stood by came and said to Peter, Of a truth thou also art one of them; for thy speech bewarayeth thee. Then began he to curse and to swear, I know not the man. And straightway the cock crew. And Peter remembered the word which Jesus had said, Before the cock crew, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly. Now when morning was come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: and they bound him, and led him away, and delivered him up to Pilate the governor. Then Judas, which betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, saying, I have sinned in that I betrayed <sup>7</sup> innocent blood. But they said, What is that to us? see thou to it. And he cast down the pieces of silver into the sanctuary, and departed; and he went away and hanged himself. And the chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, It is not lawful to put them into the <sup>1</sup> treasury, since it is the price of blood. And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field was called, The 9 field of blood, unto this day. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken <sup>2</sup> by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, And <sup>3</sup> they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was priced, <sup>4</sup> whom certain 10 of the children of Israel did price; and <sup>5</sup> they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 Now Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And 12 Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest. And when he was accused by the chief priests 13 and elders, he answered nothing. Then saith Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against 14 thee? And he gave him no answer, not even to one word: insomuch that the 15 governor marvelled greatly. Now at <sup>6</sup> the feast the governor was wont to release unto the multitude one prisoner, 16 whom they would. And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. 17 When therefore they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ? 18 For he knew that for envy they had 19 delivered him up. And while he was sitting on the judgement-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that righteous man: for I have suffered many things this day 20 in a dream because of him. Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes that they should ask for 21 Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. But the governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? And they said, Barab- 22 bas. Pilate saith unto them, What then shall I do unto Jesus which is called Christ? They all say, Let him be cru- 23 cified. And he said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified. 24 So when Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that a tumult was arising, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent <sup>7</sup> of the blood of this righteous man: see ye to it. And all the people answered and said, His blood be 26 on us, and on our children. Then released he unto them Barabbas: but Jesus he scourged and delivered to be crucified. 27 Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the <sup>8</sup> palace, and gathered 28 unto him the whole <sup>9</sup> band. And they <sup>10</sup> stripped him, and put on him a scarlet 29 robe. And they plaited a crown of thorns and put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they kneeled down before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! And they spat upon him, and took the reed and 31 smote him on the head. And when they had mocked him, they took off from him the robe, and put on him his garments, and led him away to crucify him.

32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they <sup>11</sup> compelled to go with them, that 33 he might bear his cross. And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, The place of a 34 skull, they gave him wine to drink mingled with gall: and when he had 35 tasted it, he would not drink. And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments among them, casting lots: 36 and they sat and watched him there. 37 And they set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE 38 KING OF THE JEWS. Then are there crucified with him two robbers, one on the right hand, and one on the left. 39 And they that passed by railed on him, 40 wagging their heads, and saying, Thou that destroyest the <sup>12</sup> temple, and build- est it in three days, save thyself: if thou art the Son of God, come down 41 from the cross. In like manner also the chief priests mocking him, with 42 the scribes and elders, said, He saved others; <sup>13</sup> himself he cannot save. He is the King of Israel; let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe on him. He trusteth on God; let him deliver him now, if he desireth him: 44 for he said, I am the Son of God. And the robbers also that were crucified with him cast upon him the same reproach.

45 Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the <sup>14</sup> land until the 46 ninth hour. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, my God, <sup>15</sup> why hast thou forsaken 47 me? And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This 48 man calleth Elijah. And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a 49 reed, and gave him to drink. And the rest said, Let be; let us see whether 50 Elijah cometh to save him. <sup>16</sup> And Jesus cried again with a loud voice, and 51 yielded up his spirit. And behold, the veil of the <sup>12</sup> temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake; and the rocks were 52 rent; and the tombs were opened; and many bodies of the saints that had 53 fallen asleep were raised; and coming forth out of the tombs after his resurrection they entered into the holy city 54 and appeared unto many. the earthquake, and the things that were done, feared exceedingly, saying,

55 Truly this was <sup>1</sup>the Son of God. And many women were there beholding from afar, which had followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him: among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

57 And when even was come, there came a rich man from Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' 58 disciple: this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded it to be given up.

59 And Joseph took the body, and wrapped 60 it in a clean linen cloth, and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the door of the tomb, and 61 departed. And Mary Magdalene was there, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 Now on the morrow, which is the day after the Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees were gathered together unto Pilate, saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, After three days I 64 rise again. Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest haply his disciples come and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last error will be worse than the 65 first. Pilate said unto them, <sup>2</sup>Ye have a guard: go your way, <sup>3</sup>make it as sure 66 as ye can. So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, the guard being with them.

28 Now late on the sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it.

3 His appearance was as lightning, and 4 his raiment white as snow: and for fear of him the watchers did quake, and

5 became as dead men. And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek 6 Jesus, which hath been crucified. He is not here; for he is risen, even as he said. Come, see the place <sup>4</sup>where the 7 Lord lay. And go quickly, and tell his disciples, He is risen from the dead; and lo, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have 8 told you. And they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word. 9 And behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and took hold of his feet, and worshipped him. 10 Then saith Jesus unto them, Fear not: go tell my brethren that they depart into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 Now while they were going, behold, some of the guard came into the city, and told unto the chief priests all the 12 things that were come to pass. And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we 14 slept. And if this <sup>5</sup>come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, 15 and rid you of care. So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying was spread abroad among the Jews, and continueth until this day.

16 But the eleven disciples went into Galilee, unto the mountain where Jesus 17 had appointed them. And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but 18 some doubted. And Jesus came to them and spake unto them, saying, All authority hath been given unto me in 19 heaven and on earth. Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy 20 Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you <sup>6</sup>always, even unto <sup>7</sup>the end of the world.

THE GOSPEL

ACCORDING TO

S. MARK.

1 THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, <sup>1</sup>the Son of God.

2 Even as it is written <sup>2</sup>in Isaiah the prophet,

Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
Who shall prepare thy way;

3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness,

Make ye ready the way of the Lord,
Make his paths straight;

4 John came, who baptized in the wilderness and preached the baptism of repentance unto remission of sins. And there went out unto him all the country of Judæa, and all they of Jerusalem; and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.

6 And John was clothed with camel's hair, and had a leathern girdle about his loins, and did eat locusts and wild

7 honey. And he preached, saying, There cometh after me he that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not <sup>3</sup>worthy to stoop down and 8 unloose. I baptized you <sup>4</sup>with water; but he shall baptize you <sup>4</sup>with the <sup>5</sup>Holy Ghost.

9 And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John <sup>6</sup>in

10 the Jordan. And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens rent asunder, and the Spirit as a dove

11 descending upon him: and a voice came out of the heavens, Thou art my beloved Son, in thee I am well pleased.

12 And straightway the Spirit driveth

13 him forth into the wilderness. And he was in the wilderness forty days tempted of Satan; and he was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.

14 Now after that John was delivered up, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe in the gospel.

16 And passing along by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew the brother of Simon casting a net in the

17 sea: for they were fishers. And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of 18 men. And straightway they left the 19 nets, and followed him. And going on a little further, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the boat mending the nets.

20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him.

21 And they go into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue and taught.

22 And they were astonished at his teaching: for he taught them as having au-

23 thority, and not as the scribes. And straightway there was in their syna-

24 gogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us?

I know thee who thou art, the Holy

25 One of God. And Jesus rebuked <sup>7</sup>him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out

26 of him. And the unclean spirit, <sup>8</sup>tearing him and crying with a loud voice,

27 came out of him. And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What is this? a new teaching! with authority he

28 commandeth even the unclean spirits, and they obey him. And the report of him went out straightway everywhere into all the region of Galilee round about.

29 And straightway, <sup>9</sup>when they were come out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew,

30 with James and John. Now Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and 31 straightway they tell him of her: and he came and took her by the hand, and raised her up; and the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were <sup>10</sup>possessed

33 with devils. And all the city was gathered together at the door. And he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many <sup>11</sup>devils; and he suffered not the <sup>11</sup>devils to speak, because they knew him<sup>12</sup>.

35 And in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and there

36 prayed. And Simon and they that were with him followed after him; and they found him, and say unto him, All are seeking thee. And he saith unto them, Let us go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also; for 39 to this end came I forth. And he went into their synagogues throughout all Galilee, preaching and casting out

34 <sup>11</sup>devils.

40 And there cometh to him a leper, beseeching him, <sup>13</sup>and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me

35 like unto them.

36 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, and said, I will, be thou clean. And immediately he was cleansed.

37 And he charged him, saying, See that thou tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift of the law, as a testimony.

38 And he went out, and preached in many towns.

39 And he came to Jericho.

40 And as he went out of Jericho, a multitude followed him.

41 And he came to Bethsaida, and there many followed him.

42 And he said unto them, I will send you forth, two by two, into every town and city whither ye shall come.

43 And he said unto them, Behold, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves.

44 And he said unto them, He that will take the foxglove seed, and scatter it on the clean ground, shall reap a good harvest.

45 And he said unto them, He that will scatter the seed on the thorns, shall reap the same, because the thorns shall choke it.

46 And he said unto them, He that will scatter the seed on the good ground, shall reap a hundred fold.

And he <sup>1</sup>strictly charged him, and straightway sent him 44 out, and saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing the things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. 45 But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to spread abroad the <sup>2</sup>matter, insomuch that <sup>3</sup>Jesus could no more openly enter into <sup>4</sup>a city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

2 And when he entered again into Capernaum after some days, it was noised 2 that he was <sup>5</sup>in the house. And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room for them, no, not even about the door: and he spake the 3 word unto them. And they come, bringing unto him a man sick of the palsy, 4 borne of four. And when they could not <sup>6</sup>come nigh unto him for the crowd, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed whereon the sick of the 5 palsy lay. And Jesus seeing their faith saith unto the sick of the palsy, <sup>7</sup>Son, 6 thy sins are forgiven. But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and 7 reasoning in their hearts, Why doth this man thus speak? he blasphemeth: who can forgive sins but one, even God? 8 And straightway Jesus, perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, saith unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts? 9 Whether is easier, to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and 10 walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath <sup>8</sup>power on earth to forgive sins (he saith to the sick of the 11 palsy), I say unto thee, Arise, take up 12 thy bed, and go unto thy house. And he arose, and straightway took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

13 And he went forth again by the sea side; and all the multitude resorted 14 unto him, and he taught them. And as he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the place of toll, and he saith unto him, Follow me. And 15 he arose and followed him. And it came to pass, that he was sitting at meat in his house, and many <sup>9</sup>publicans and sinners sat down with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, 16 and they followed him. And the scribes <sup>10</sup>of the Pharisees, when they saw that he was eating with the sinners and publicans, said unto his disciples, <sup>11</sup>He eateth <sup>12</sup>and drinketh with publicans 17 and sinners. And when Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are <sup>13</sup>whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.

18 And John's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting: and they come and say unto him, Why do John's disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but 19 thy disciples fast not? And Jesus said unto them, Can the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, 21 and then will they fast in that day. No man seweth a piece of undressed cloth on an old garment: else that which should fill it up taketh from it, the new from the old, and a worse rent is made. 22 And no man putteth new wine into old <sup>14</sup>wine-skins: else the wine will burst the skins, and the wine perisheth, and the skins: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins.

23 And it came to pass, that he was going on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples <sup>15</sup>began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn.

24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath day 25 that which is not lawful? And he said unto them, Did ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was an hungry, he, and they that were with 26 him? How he entered into the house of God <sup>16</sup>when Abiathar was high priest, and did eat the shewbread, which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests, and gave also to them that were with 27 him? And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man 28 for the sabbath: so that the Son of man is lord even of the sabbath.

3 And he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there 2 which had his hand withered. And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day; that they 3 might accuse him. And he saith unto the man that had his hand withered, 4 <sup>17</sup>Stand forth. And he saith unto them, Is it lawful on the sabbath day to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or 5 to kill? But they held their peace. And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved at the hardening of their heart, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth: and his hand 6 was restored. And the Pharisees went out, and straightway with the Herodians took counsel against him, how they might destroy him.

titude from Galilee followed: and from 8 Judæa, and from Jerusalem, and from Idumæa, and beyond Jordan, and about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, hearing <sup>1</sup> what great things he did, came unto him. And he spake to his disciples, that a little boat should wait on him because of the crowd, lest they should 10 throng him: for he had healed many; insomuch that as many as had <sup>2</sup> plagues <sup>3</sup> pressed upon him that they might touch 11 him. And the unclean spirits, whensoever they beheld him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son 12 of God. And he charged them much that they should not make him known. 13 And he goeth up into the mountain, and calleth unto him whom he himself 14 would: and they went unto him. And he appointed twelve,<sup>4</sup> that they might be with him, and that he might send 15 them forth to preach, and to have authority to cast out <sup>5</sup> devils: <sup>6</sup> and Simon 17 he surnamed Peter; and James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James; and them he surnamed Boanerges, which is, Sons of thunder: and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphæus, and Thaddæus, and 19 Simon the <sup>7</sup> Cananæan, and Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him. 20 And he cometh <sup>8</sup> into a house. And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread. 21 And when his friends heard it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He 22 is beside himself. And the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, He hath Beelzebub, and, <sup>9</sup> By the prince of the <sup>5</sup> devils casteth he out the <sup>5</sup> devils. 23 And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan 24 cast out Satan? And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. And if a house be divided against itself, that house will not be able 26 to stand. And if Satan hath risen up against himself, and is divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end. But no one can enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man; and then he will 28 spoil his house. Verily I say unto you, All their sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and their blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme: but whosoever shall blaspheme against the Holy Spirit hath never forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin: 30 because they said, He hath an unclean spirit. 31 And there come his mother and his brethren; and, standing without, they 32 sent unto him, calling him. And a multitude was sitting about him; and they say unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee. 33 And he answereth them, and saith,

Who is my mother and my brethren? 34 And looking round on them which sat round about him, he saith, Behold, my 35 mother and my brethren! For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother. 4 And again he began to teach by the sea side. And there is gathered unto him a very great multitude, so that he entered into a boat, and sat in the sea; and all the multitude were by the sea on 2 the land. And he taught them many things in parables, and said unto them 3 in his teaching, Hearken: Behold, the 4 sower went forth to sow: and it came to pass, as he sowed, some seed fell by the way side, and the birds came and 5 devoured it. And other fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth; and straightway it sprang up, because 6 it had no deepness of earth: and when the sun was risen, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away. 7 And other fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, 8 and it yielded no fruit. And others fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and brought forth, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and a 9 hundredfold. And he said, Who hath ears to hear, let him hear. 10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked him 11 the parables. And he said unto them, Unto you is given the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all things are done in parables: that seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest haply they should turn again, and it should 13 be forgiven them. And he saith unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how shall ye know all the parables? 14 The sower soweth the word. And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; and when they have heard, straightway cometh Satan, and taketh away the word which hath been 16 sown in them. And these in like manner are they that are sown upon the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, straightway receive it with 17 joy; and they have no root in themselves, but endure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway they 18 stumble. And others are they that are sown among the thorns; these are they 19 that have heard the word, and the cares of the <sup>10</sup> world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful. And those are they that were sown upon the good ground; such as hear the word, and accept it, and bear fruit, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and a hundredfold.

21 And he said unto them, Is the lamp brought to be put under the bushel, or under the bed, and not to be put on the 22 stand? For there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested; neither was anything made secret, but that it
23 should come to light. If any man hath 24 ears to hear, let him hear. And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: with what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you: and more shall be 25 given unto you. For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath.

26 And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed upon the 27 earth; and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up
28 and grow, he knoweth not how. The earth <sup>1</sup> beareth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn 29 in the ear. But when the fruit <sup>2</sup> is ripe, straightway he <sup>3</sup> putteth forth the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 And he said, How shall we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable
31 shall we set it forth? <sup>4</sup> It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown upon the earth, though it be less than all the seeds that are upon the earth, 32 yet when it is sown, groweth up, and becometh greater than all the herbs, and putteth out great branches; so that the birds of the heaven can lodge under the shadow thereof.

33 And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to 34 hear it: and without a parable spake he not unto them: but privately to his own disciples he expounded all things.

35 And on that day, when even was come, he saith unto them, Let us go over unto 36 the other side. And leaving the multitude, they take him with them, even as he was, in the boat. And other boats 37 were with him. And there ariseth a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the boat, insomuch that the boat 38 was now filling. And he himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion: and they awake him, and say unto him,

39 And he awoke, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a 40 great calm. And he said unto them, Why are ye fearful? have ye not yet 41 faith? And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

5 And they came to the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gerasenes.
2 And when he was come out of the boat, straightway there met him out of the 3 tombs a man with an unclean spirit, who had his dwelling in the tombs: and no man could any more bind him, no, not

4 with a chain; because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been rent asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: and no man had strength to tame him.

5 And always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones.

6 And when he saw Jesus from afar, he
7 ran and worshipped him; and crying out with a loud voice, he saith, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the Most High God? I adjure thee
8 by God, torment me not. For he said unto him, Come forth, thou unclean spi-

9 rit, out of the man. And he asked him, What is thy name? And he saith unto him, My name is Legion; for we are 10 many. And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the 11 country. Now there was there on the mountain side a great herd of swine

12 feeding. And they besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may 13 enter into them. And he gave them leave. And the unclean spirits came out, and entered into the swine: and the herd 14 rushed down the steep into the sea, in number about two thousand; and they

15 were choked in the sea. And they that fed them fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they came to see

16 what it was that had come to pass. And they came to Jesus, and behold <sup>6</sup> him that was possessed with devils sitting, clothed and in his right mind, even him that had the legion; and they were 17 afraid. And they that saw it declared unto them how it befell <sup>6</sup> him that was possessed with devils, and concerning

18 him to depart from their borders. And as he was entering into the boat, he that had been possessed with <sup>7</sup> devils besought him that he might be with him.

19 And he suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go to thy house unto thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and how he had 20 mercy on thee. And he went his way, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

21 And when Jesus had crossed over again in the boat unto the other side, a great multitude was gathered unto him: and 22 he was by the sea. And there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and seeing him, he

23 falleth at his feet, and beseecheth him much, saying, My little daughter is at the point of death: I pray thee, that thou come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be <sup>8</sup> made whole, and live.

24 And he went with him; and a great multitude followed him, and they thronged him.

ferred many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, 27 having heard the things concerning Jesus, came in the crowd behind, and 28 touched his garment. For she said, If I touch but his garments, I shall be made 29 whole. And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of her 30 plague. And straightway Jesus, perceiving in himself that the power proceeding from him had gone forth, turned him about in the crowd, and said, Who 31 touched my garments? And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, 32 Who touched me? And he looked round about to see her that had done this 33 thing. But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, came and fell down before him, 34 and told him all the truth. And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague. 35 While he yet spake, they come from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Master any further? But Jesus, not heeding the word spoken, saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, 37 Fear not, only believe. And he suffered no man to follow with him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of 38 James. And they come to the house of the ruler of the synagogue; and he beholdeth a tumult, and many weeping and 39 wailing greatly. And when he was entered in, he saith unto them, Why make ye a tumult, and weep? the child is not 40 dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. But he, having put them all forth, taketh the father of the child and her mother and them that were with him, and goeth in where the child 41 was. And taking the child by the hand, he saith unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto 42 thee, Arise. And straightway the damsel rose up, and walked; for she was twelve years old. And they were amazed straightway with a great amazement. And he charged them much that no man should know this: and he commanded that something should be given her to eat. 6 And he went out from thence; and he cometh into his own country; and his 2 disciples follow him. And when the sabbath was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, Whence hath this man these things? and, What is the wisdom that is given unto this man, and what mean such mighty 3 works wrought by his hands? Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, and brother of James, and Joses, and Judas, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended in him. And Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and among his 5 own kin, and in his own house. And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick 6 folk, and healed them. And he marvelled because of their unbelief.

And he went round about the villages teaching.

7 And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and he gave them authority 8 over the unclean spirits; and he charged them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no bread, no wallet, no money in their 9 purse; but to go shod with sandals; and, said he, put not on two coats. 10 And he said unto them, Whosoever ye enter into a house, there abide till ye 11 depart thence. And whatsoever place shall not receive you, and they hear you not, as ye go forth thence, shake off the dust that is under your feet for a testimony unto them. And they went out, and preached that men should repent. 12 And they cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.

14 And king Herod heard thereof; for his name had become known: and he said, John the Baptist is risen from the dead, and therefore do these powers 15 work in him. But others said, It is Elijah. And others said, It is a prophet, 16 even as one of the prophets. But Herod, when he heard thereof, said, John, whom 17 I beheaded, he is risen. For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's 18 wife: for he had married her. For John said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee 19 to have thy brother's wife. And Herodias set herself against him, and desired 20 to kill him; and she could not; for Herod feared John, knowing that he was a righteous man and a holy, and kept him safe. And when he heard him, he was much perplexed; and he heard him 21 gladly. And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birthday made a supper to his lords, and the high captains, and the chief men of 22 Galilee; and when the daughter of Herodias herself came in and danced, she pleased Herod and them that sat at meat with him; and the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever 23 thou wilt, and I will give it thee. And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto 24 the half of my kingdom. And she went out, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head 25 of John the Baptist. And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou forthwith give me in a charger the head of John<sup>1</sup> the Baptist. And the king was exceeding sorry; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them that sat at meat, he would not reject her. And straightway the king sent forth a soldier of his guard, and commanded to bring his head; and he went and beheaded him in the prison, and brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother. And when his disciples heard thereof, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

30 And the apostles gather themselves together unto Jesus; and they told him all things, whatsoever they had done, 31 and whatsoever they had taught. And he saith unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while. For there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat. And they went away in the 32 boat to a desert place apart. And the people saw them going, and many knew them, and they ran there together<sup>2</sup> on foot from all the cities, and outwent 34 them. And he came forth and saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to 35 teach them many things. And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, The place is desert, and the day is now far spent: 36 send them away, that they may go into the country and villages round about, and buy themselves somewhat to eat. 37 But he answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred<sup>3</sup> pennyworth of bread, and give them to 38 eat? And he saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and 39 two fishes. And he commanded them that all should<sup>4</sup> sit down by companies 40 upon the green grass. And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties. 41 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake the loaves; and he gave to the disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among 42 them all. And they did all eat, and were 43 filled. And they took up broken pieces, twelve basketfuls, and also of the fishes. 44 And they that ate the loaves were five thousand men. 45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side to Bethsaida, while he himself sendeth the 46 multitude away. And after he had taken leave of them, he departed into the 47 mountain to pray. And when even was come, the boat was in the midst of the

And seeing them distressed in rowing, for the wind was contrary unto them, about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking on the sea; and he would have passed by them: but they, when they saw him walking on the sea, supposed that it was an apparition, and 50 cried out: for they all saw him, and were troubled. But he straightway spake with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I; be not 51 afraid. And he went up unto them into the boat; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves; for they understood not concerning the loaves, but their heart was hardened.

53 And when they had<sup>5</sup> crossed over, they came to the land unto Gennesaret, and 54 moored to the shore. And when they were come out of the boat, straightway 55 the people knew him, and ran round about that whole region, and began to carry about on their beds those that were 56 sick, where they heard he was. And wheresoever he entered, into villages, or into cities, or into the country, they laid the sick in the marketplaces, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched<sup>6</sup> him were made whole.

7 And there are gathered together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which had come from Jerusalem, and had seen that some of his disciples ate their bread with<sup>7</sup> defiled, that 3 is, unwashed, hands. For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands<sup>8</sup> diligently, eat not, holding the 4 tradition of the elders: and when they come from the marketplace, except they<sup>9</sup> wash themselves, they eat not: and many other things there be, which they have received to hold, <sup>10</sup> washings of cups, and pots, and brasen vessels<sup>11</sup>.

5 And the Pharisees and the scribes ask him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat 6 their bread with<sup>7</sup> defiled hands? And he said unto them, Well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written, father or his mother. That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is Corban, that is to say, Given to 12 God; ye no longer suffer him to do aught for his father or his mother; 13 making void the word of God by your tradition, which ye have delivered: and 14 many such like things ye do. And he called to him the multitude again, and said unto them, Hear me all of you, 15 and understand: there is nothing from without the man, that going into him can defile him: but the things which proceed out of the man are those that 17 defile the man.<sup>1</sup> And when he was entered into the house from the multitude, his disciples asked of him the 18 parable. And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Perceive ye not, that whatsoever from without goeth into the man, it cannot 19 defile him; because it goeth not into his heart, but into his belly, and goeth out into the draught? This he said, 20 making all meats clean. And he said, That which proceedeth out of the man, 21 that defileth the man. For from within, out of the heart of men, <sup>2</sup>evil thoughts proceed, fornications, thefts, murders, adulteries, covetings, wickednesses, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, railing, 23 pride, foolishness: all these evil things proceed from within, and defile the man.

This people honoureth me with their lips,

24 And from thence he arose, and went away into the borders of Tyre<sup>3</sup> and Sidon. And he entered into a house, and would have no man know it: and he 25 could not be hid. But straightway a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, 26 came and fell down at his feet. Now the woman was a <sup>4</sup>Greek, a Syrophenician by race. And she besought him that he would cast forth the <sup>5</sup>devil out 27 of her daughter. And he said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's <sup>6</sup>bread and cast it to the dogs. But she answered and saith unto him, Yea, Lord: even the dogs under the table eat of 29 the children's crumbs. And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way; the <sup>5</sup>devil is gone out of thy daughter. 30 And she went away unto her house, and found the child laid upon the bed, and the <sup>5</sup>devil gone out.

31 And again he went out from the borders of Tyre, and came through Sidon unto the sea of Galilee, through the 32 midst of the borders of Decapolis. And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to lay his hand 33 upon him. And he took him aside from the multitude privately, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spat, and 34 touched his tongue; and looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, 35 Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. And his ears were opened, and the bond of his tongue was loosed, and he spake 36 plain. And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great 37 deal they published it. And they were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh even the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

8 In those days, when there was again a great multitude, and they had nothing to eat, he called unto him his disciples, 2 and saith unto them, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and if I send them away fasting to their home, they will faint in the way; and some of them are come 4 from far. And his disciples answered him, Whence shall one be able to fill these men with <sup>7</sup>bread here in a desert 5 place? And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven. 6 And he commandeth the multitude to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and having given thanks, he brake, and gave to his disciples, to set before them; and they set 7 them before the multitude. And they had a few small fishes: and having blessed them, he commanded to set 8 these also before them. And they did eat, and were filled: and they took up, of broken pieces that remained over, seven baskets. And they were about four thousand: and he 10 sent them away. And straightway he entered into the boat with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

11 And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him. 12 And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation.

13 And he left them, and again entering into the boat departed to the other side.

14 And they forgot to take bread; and they had not in the boat with them 15 more than one loaf. And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven 16 of Herod. And they reasoned one with another, <sup>8</sup>saying, <sup>9</sup>We have no bread.

17 And Jesus perceiving it saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? do ye not yet perceive, neither understand? have ye your heart hardened? Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye 19 not remember? When I brake the five loaves among the five thousand, how many<sup>10</sup>baskets full of broken pieces took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve.

22 And they come unto Bethsaida. And they bring to him a blind man, and beseech him to touch him. And he took hold of the blind man by the hand, and brought him out of the village; and when he had spit on his eyes, and laid his hands upon him, he asked him, 24 Seest thou aught? And he looked up, and said, I see men; for I behold them
25 as trees, walking. Then again he laid his hands upon his eyes; and he looked stedfastly, and was restored, and saw 26 all things clearly. And he sent him away to his home, saying, Do not even enter into the village.
27 And Jesus went forth, and his disciples, into the villages of Cæsarea Philippi: and in the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Who do 28 men say that I am? And they told him, saying, John the Baptist: and others, Elijah; but others, One of the prophets.
29 And he asked them, But who say ye that I am? Peter answereth and saith 30 unto him, Thou art the Christ. And he charged them that they should tell no 31 man of him. And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders, and the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and after three 32 days rise again. And he spake the saying openly. And Peter took him, and 33 began to rebuke him. But he turning about, and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, and saith, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou mindest not the things 34 of God, but the things of men. And he called unto him the multitude with his disciples, and said unto them, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and 35 follow me. For whosoever would save his <sup>2</sup> life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his <sup>2</sup> life for my sake and the 36 gospel's shall save it. For what doth it profit a man, to gain the whole world, 37 and forfeit his <sup>2</sup> life? For what should a man give in exchange for his <sup>2</sup> life?
38 For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of man also shall be ashamed of him, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels. And he said unto them,
9 Verily I say unto you, There be some here of them that stand by, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God come with power.
2 And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was trans-
3 figured before them: and his garments became glistening, exceeding white; so as no fuller on earth can whiten them.

4 And there appeared unto them Elijah with Moses: and they were talking 5 with Jesus. And Peter answereth and saith to Jesus, Rabbi, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three <sup>3</sup> tabernacles; one for thee, and one for 6 Moses, and one for Elijah. For he wist not what to answer; for they became 7 sore afraid. And there came a cloud overshadowing them; and there came a voice out of the cloud, This is my 8 beloved Son; hear ye him. And suddenly looking round about, they saw no one any more, save Jesus only with themselves.
9 And as they were coming down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, save when the Son of man should have risen again from the 10 dead. And they kept the saying, questioning among themselves what the rising again from the dead should mean.
11 And they asked him, saying, <sup>4</sup> The scribes say that Elijah must first come.
12 And he said unto them, Elijah indeed cometh first, and restoreth all things: and how is it written of the Son of man, that he should suffer many things and 13 be set at nought? But I say unto you, that Elijah is come, and they have also done unto him whatsoever they listed, even as it is written of him.
14 And when they came to the disciples, they saw a great multitude about them, 15 and scribes questioning with them. And straightway all the multitude, when they saw him, were greatly amazed, and 16 running to him saluted him. And he asked them, What question ye with 17 them? And one of the multitude answered him, <sup>5</sup> Master, I brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit;
18 and wheresoever it taketh him, it <sup>6</sup> dasheth him down: and he foameth, and grindeth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast it out; and they were not
19 able. And he answereth them and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with 20 you? bring him unto me. And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit <sup>7</sup> tare him grievously; and he fell on the 21 ground, and wallowed foaming. And he asked his father, How long time is it since this hath come unto him? And 22 he said, From a child. And oft-times it hath cast him both into the fire and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do anything, have compas-23 sion on us, and help us. And Jesus said unto him, If thou canst! All things are

tude came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee, come out of him, and enter 26 no more into him. And having cried out, and <sup>1</sup>torn him much, he came out: and the child became as one dead: in-somuch that the more part said, He is 27 dead. But Jesus took him by the hand, 28 and raised him up; and he arose. And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, <sup>2</sup>saying, 29 We could not cast it out. And he said unto them, This kind can come out by nothing, save by prayer<sup>3</sup>.

30 And they went forth from thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would 31 not that any man should know it. For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and when he is killed, after 32 three days he shall rise again. But they understood not the saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 And they came to Capernaum: and when he was in the house he asked them, What were ye reasoning in the way? 34 But they held their peace: for they had disputed one with another in the way, 35 who was the <sup>4</sup>greatest. And he sat down, and called the twelve; and he saith unto them, If any man would be first, he shall be last of all, and minis- 36 ter of all. And he took a little child, and set him in the midst of them: and taking him in his arms, he said unto 37 them, Whosoever shall receive one of such little children in my name, receiveth me: and whosoever receiveth me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

38 John said unto him, <sup>6</sup>Master, we saw one casting out <sup>6</sup>devils in thy name: and we forbade him, because he followed 39 not us. But Jesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man which shall do a <sup>7</sup>mighty work in my name, and be 40 able quickly to speak evil of me. For 41 he that is not against us is for us. For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink, <sup>8</sup>because ye are Christ's, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose 42 his reward. And whosoever shall cause one of these little ones that believe <sup>9</sup>on me to stumble, it were better for him if <sup>10</sup>a great millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

43 And if thy hand cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed, rather than having thy two hands to go into <sup>11</sup>hell, into the 44 unquenchable fire.<sup>12</sup> And if thy foot cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life halt, rather than having thy two feet to be 47 cast into <sup>11</sup>hell. And if thine eye cause thee to stumble, cast it out: it is good for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than having 48 two eyes to be cast into <sup>11</sup>hell; where their worm dieth not; and the fire is 49 not quenched. For every one shall be 50 salted with fire<sup>13</sup>. Salt is good: but if the salt have lost its saltness, where-with will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace one with another.

10 And he arose from thence, and cometh into the borders of Judæa and beyond Jordan: and multitudes come together unto him again; and, as he was wont, 2 he taught them again. And there came unto him Pharisees, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? 3 tempting him. And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses com- 4 mand you? And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and 5 to put her away. But Jesus said unto them, For your hardness of heart he 6 wrote you this commandment. But from the beginning of the creation, 7 Male and female made he them. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, <sup>14</sup>and shall cleave to his 8 wife; and the twain shall become one flesh: so that they are no more twain, 9 but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put 10 asunder. And in the house the disci- 11 ples asked him again of this matter. 11 And he saith unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against 12 her: and if she herself shall put away her husband, and marry another, she committeth adultery.

13 And they brought unto him little children, that he should touch them: and 14 the disciples rebuked them. But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me; forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom 15 of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise 16 enter therein. And he took them in his arms, and blessed them, laying his hands upon them.

17 And as he was going forth <sup>15</sup>into the way, there ran one to him, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good <sup>5</sup>Master, what shall I do that I may inherit 18 eternal life? And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none 19 is good save one, even God. Thou knowest the commandments, Do not kill, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honour thy father and 20 mother. And he said unto him, <sup>6</sup>Master, all these things have I observed 21 from my youth. And Jesus looking upon him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have he was one that had great possessions.

 23 And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into 24 the kingdom of God! And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it <sup>1</sup>for them that trust in riches to enter into the king-25 dom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of 26 God. And they were astonished exceedingly, saying <sup>2</sup>unto him, Then who 27 can be saved? Jesus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for all things are 28 possible with God. Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have 29 followed thee. Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or mother, or father, or children, or lands,
 for my sake, and for the gospel's sake, 30 but he shall receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the 31 <sup>3</sup>world to come eternal life. But many that are first shall be last; and the last first.
 32 And they were in the way, going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus was going before them: and they were amazed; <sup>4</sup>and they took that followed were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them the things that were to hap-33 pen unto him, saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and the scribes; and they shall condem-34 him unto the Gentiles: and they shall mock him, and shall spit upon him, and shall scourge him, and shall kill him;
 and after three days he shall rise again.
 35 And there come near unto him James and John, the sons of Zebedee, saying unto him, <sup>5</sup>Master, we would that thou shouldst do for us whatsoever we shall 36 ask of thee. And he said unto them,
 What would ye that I should do for 37 you? And they said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, 38 in thy glory. But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink the cup that I drink? or to be baptized with the baptism that I am 39 baptized with? And they said unto him, We are able. And Jesus said unto them, The cup that I drink ye shall drink; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized:
 40 but to sit on my right hand or on my left hand is not mine to give: but it is for them for whom it hath been pre-41 pared. And when the ten heard it, they began to be moved with indigna-42 tion concerning James and John. And Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles lord

 it over them; and their great ones exer-43 cise authority over them. But it is not so among you: but whosoever would become great among you, shall be your 44 <sup>6</sup>minister: and whosoever would be first among you, shall be <sup>7</sup>servant of 45 all. For verily the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.
 46 And they come to Jericho: and as he went out from Jericho, with his disciples and a great multitude, the son of Timæus, Bartimæus, a blind beggar, 47 was sitting by the way side. And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth,
 he began to cry out, and say, Jesus,
 thou son of David, have mercy on me.
 48 And many rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, 49 have mercy on me. And Jesus stood still, and said, Call ye him. And they call the blind man, saying unto him,
 Be of good cheer: rise, he calleth 50 thee. And he, casting away his garment, sprang up, and came to Jesus.
 51 And Jesus answered him, and said,
 What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And the blind man said unto him,

 11 And when they draw nigh unto Jeruye enter into it, ye shall find a colt tied,

 say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye, The Lord hath need of him; and straightway he <sup>10</sup>will send him <sup>11</sup>back a colt tied at the door without in the 11 And he entered into Jerusalem, into the temple; and when he had looked round about upon all things, it being now eventide, he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

12 And on the morrow, when they were come out from Bethany, he hungered.

13 And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find anything thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for 14 it was not the season of figs. And he answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And his disciples heard it.

15 And they come to Jerusalem: and he entered into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and them that bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold the doves;

16 and he would not suffer that any man should carry a vessel through the temple.

17 And he taught, and said unto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations? but ye have made it a den of 18 robbers. And the chief priests and the scribes heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, for all the multitude was astonished at his teaching.

19 And <sup>1</sup>every evening <sup>2</sup>he went forth out of the city.

20 And as they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered away

21 from the roots. And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, Rabbi, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst

22 is withered away. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Have faith in God.

23 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou taken up and cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that what he saith cometh to pass; he

24 shall have it. Therefore I say unto you, All things whatsoever ye pray and ask for, believe that ye have received

25 them, and ye shall have them. And whosoever ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have aught against any one; that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.<sup>3</sup>

27 And they come again to Jerusalem: and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and

28 the scribes, and the elders; and they said unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? or who gave thee

29 this authority to do these things? And Jesus said unto them, I will ask of you one <sup>4</sup>question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these 30 things. The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men? answer me.

31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe

32 him? <sup>5</sup>But should we say, From men— they feared the people: <sup>6</sup>for all verily

33 held John to be a prophet. And they answered Jesus and say, We know not. And Jesus saith unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

12 And he began to speak unto them in parables. A man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a pit for the winepress, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went

2 into another country. And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a <sup>7</sup>servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruits of the vine-

3 yard. And they took him, and beat him,

4 and sent him away empty. And again he sent unto them another <sup>7</sup>servant: and him they wounded in the head, and 5 handled shamefully. And he sent another; and him they killed: and many others; beating some, and killing some.

6 He had yet one, a beloved son: he sent him last unto them, saying, They will

7 reverence my son. But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours. And they took him, and killed him, and cast him forth

9 out of the vineyard. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

10 Have ye not read even this scripture; The stone which the builders rejected,

The same was made the head of the corner:

11 This was from the Lord, And it is marvellous in our eyes?

12 And they sought to lay hold on him; and they feared the multitude; for they perceived that he spake the parable against them: and they left him, and went away.

13 And they send unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, that

14 they might catch him in talk. And when they were come, they say unto him, <sup>8</sup>Master, we know that thou art true, and earnest not for any one: for thou regardest not the person of men, but of a truth teachest the way of God: Is it lawful to give tribute unto Cæsar,

15 or not? Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a <sup>9</sup>penny, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, 17 Cæsar's. And Jesus said unto them, Render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's. And they marvelled greatly at him.

Teacher

18 And there come unto him Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection; 19 and they asked him, saying, <sup>1</sup>Master, Moses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave a wife behind him, and leave no child, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed 20 unto his brother. There were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and 21 dying left no seed; and the second took her, and died, leaving no seed behind 22 him; and the third likewise: and the seven left no seed. Last of all the 23 woman also died. In the resurrection whose wife shall she be of them? for 24 the seven had her to wife. Jesus said unto them, Is it not for this cause that ye err, that ye know not the scriptures, 25 nor the power of God? For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but 26 are as angels in heaven. But as touching the dead, that they are raised; have ye not read in the book of Moses, in the place concerning the Bush, how God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, 27 and the God of Jacob? He is not the God of the dead, but of the living: ye do greatly err. 28 And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered them well, asked him, What commandment 29 is the first of all? Jesus answered, The first is, Hear, O Israel; <sup>2</sup>The Lord our 30 God, the Lord is one: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God <sup>3</sup>with all thy heart, and <sup>3</sup>with all thy soul, and <sup>3</sup>with all thy mind, and <sup>3</sup>with all thy strength. 31 The second is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these. 32 And the scribe said unto him, Of a truth, <sup>1</sup>Master, thou hast well said that he is one; and there is none other but 33 he: and to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is much more than all whole burnt offerings and sa- 34 crifices. And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 And Jesus answered and said, as he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that the Christ is the son of 36 David? David himself said in the Holy Spirit,

The Lord said unto my Lord,
Sit thou on my right hand,
Till I make thine enemies <sup>4</sup>the foot-stool of thy feet.

37 David himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he his son? And <sup>5</sup>the common people heard him gladly.

38 And in his teaching he said, Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and to have salutations in 39 the marketplaces, and chief seats in the synagogues, and chief places at feasts: 40 they which devour widows' houses, <sup>6</sup>and for a pretence make long prayers; these shall receive greater condemnation.

41 And he sat down over against the treasury, and beheld how the multitude cast <sup>7</sup>money into the treasury: and 42 many that were rich cast in much. And there came <sup>8</sup>a poor widow, and she cast in two mites, which make a farthing. 43 And he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, This poor widow cast in more than all they which are casting into the trea- 44 sury: for they all did cast in of their superfluity; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

13 And as he went forth out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, <sup>1</sup>Master, behold, what manner of stones and what manner of 2 buildings! And Jesus said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left here one stone upon another, which shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on the mount of Olives over against the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him 4 privately, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things are all about to be 5 accomplished? And Jesus began to say unto them, Take heed that no man lead 6 you astray. Many shall come in my name, saying, I am he; and shall lead 7 many astray. And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be not troubled: these things must needs come 8 to pass; but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: there shall be earthquakes in divers places; there shall be famines: these things are the beginning of travail.

9 But take ye heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in synagogues shall ye be beaten: and before governors and kings shall ye stand for my sake, for a testimony 10 unto them. And the gospel must first 11 be preached unto all the nations. And when they lead you to judgement, and deliver you up, be not anxious beforehand what ye shall speak: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that 12 speak, but the Holy Ghost. And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child; and children shall rise up against parents, and <sup>9</sup>cause them to be put to death. 13 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that

14 But when ye see the abomination of desolation standing where he ought not (let him that readeth understand), then let them that are in Judea flee unto

15 the mountains: and let him that is on the housetop not go down, nor enter in, to take anything out of his house:

16 and let him that is in the field not re- turn back to take his cloke. But woe unto them that are with child and to 18 them that give suck in those days! And pray ye that it be not in the winter.

19 For those days shall be tribulation, such as there hath not been the like from the beginning of the creation which God created until now, and never 20 shall be. And except the Lord had shortened the days, no flesh would have been saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he chose, he shortened the days.

21 And then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ; or, Lo,

<sup>1</sup>Or, him 22 there; believe <sup>1</sup>it not: for there shall arise false Christs and false prophets, and shall shew signs and wonders, that they may lead astray, if 23 possible, the elect. But take ye heed: behold, I have told you all things beforehand.

24 But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and

25 the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall be falling from heaven, and the powers that are in the heavens

26 shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in clouds

27 with great power and glory. And then shall he send forth the angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.

14 Now after two days was the feast of the passover and the unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him with

2 subtilty, and kill him: for they said, Not during the feast, lest haply there shall be a tumult of the people.

3 And while he was in Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having <sup>5</sup>an alabaster cruse of ointment of <sup>6</sup>spike-nard very costly; and she brake the cruse, and poured it over his head. But there were some that had indignation among themselves, saying, To what purpose hath this waste of the ointment been made? For this ointment might have been sold for above three hundred <sup>7</sup>pence, and given to the poor.

6 And they murmured against her. But Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work

7 on me. For ye have the poor always with you, and whosoever ye will ye can do them good: but me ye have not

8 always. She hath done what she could: she hath anointed my body aforehand

9 for the burying. And verily I say unto you, Whosoever the gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

10 And Judas Iscariot, <sup>8</sup>he that was one of the twelve, went away unto the chief priests, that he might deliver

11 him unto them. And they, when they heard it, were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently deliver him unto them.

12 And on the first day of unleavened bread, when they sacrificed the passover, his disciples say unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and make ready that thou mayest eat the passover?

13 And he sendeth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing

14 a pitcher of water: follow him; and whosoever he shall enter in, say to the goodman of the house, The <sup>9</sup>Master saith, Where is my guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my 15 disciples? And he will himself shew you a large upper room furnished and ready: and there make ready for us.

16 And the disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

17 And when it was evening he cometh

18 with the twelve. And as they <sup>10</sup>sat and were eating, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you shall betray me, even he

21 dippeth with me in the dish. For the Son of man goeth, even as it is written of him: but woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it <sup>1</sup> for that man if he had not been born.

22 And as they were eating, he took <sup>2</sup> bread, and when he had blessed, he brake it, and gave to them, and said,
23 Take ye: this is my body. And he took a cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave to them: and they all 24 drank of it. And he said unto them, This is my blood of <sup>3</sup> the <sup>4</sup> covenant, 25 which is shed for many. Verily I say unto you, I will no more drink of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

26 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out unto the mount of Olives.

27 And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be <sup>5</sup> offended: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered abroad. Howbeit, after I am raised up, I will go before 29 you into Galilee. But Peter said unto him, Although all shall be <sup>5</sup> offended, yet will not I. And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that thou to-day, even this night, before the cock 31 crow twice, shalt deny me thrice. But he spake exceeding vehemently, If I must die with thee, I will not deny thee. And in like manner also said they all.

32 And they come unto <sup>6</sup> a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I 33 pray. And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be greatly amazed, and sore troubled.

34 And he saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful even unto death:
35 abide ye here, and watch. And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the 36 hour might pass away from him. And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; remove this cup from me: howbeit not what I will, but 37 what thou wilt. And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest 38 thou not watch one hour? <sup>7</sup> Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the 39 flesh is weak. And again he went away, and prayed, saying the same words.

40 And again he came, and found them sleeping, for their eyes were very heavy; and they wist not what to answer him. And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough; the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of 42 sinners. Arise, let us be going: behold, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 And straightway, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the 44 scribes and the elders. Now he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he; take him, and lead him away 45 safely. And when he was come, straightway he came to him, and saith, Rabbi;
46 and <sup>8</sup> kissed him. And they laid hands 47 on him, and took him. But a certain one of them that stood by drew his sword, and smote the <sup>9</sup> servant of the 48 high priest, and struck off his ear. And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves to seize me?
49 I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but this is done that the scriptures might be 50 fulfilled. And they all left him, and fled.

51 And a certain young man followed with him, having a linen cloth cast about him, over his naked body: and 52 they lay hold on him; but he left the linen cloth, and fled naked.

53 And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and there come together with him all the chief priests and the elders 54 and the scribes. And Peter had followed him afar off, even within, into the court of the high priest; and he was sitting with the officers, and warming himself in the light of the fire. Now the chief priests and the whole council sought witness against Jesus to put 56 him to death; and found it not. For many bare false witness against him, and their witness agreed not together.

57 And there stood up certain, and bare 58 false witness against him, saying, We heard him say, I will destroy this 59 temple that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another 59 made without hands. And not even so did their witness agree together.

60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which 61 these witness against thee? But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and saith unto him, Art thou the 62 Christ, the Son of the Blessed? And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming with the 63 clouds of heaven. And the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What further need have we of witnesses? Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him

66 And as Peter was beneath in the court, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest; and seeing Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and saith, Thou also wast with the Nazarene, even

68 Jesus. But he denied, saying, <sup>2</sup>I neither know, nor understand what thou sayest: and he went out into the <sup>3</sup>porch; <sup>4</sup>and the cock crew. And the maid saw him, and began again to say to them that stood by, This is one of them. But he again denied it. And after a little while again they that stood by said to Peter, Of a truth thou art one of them;

71 for thou art a Galilæan. But he began to curse, and to swear, I know not this man of whom ye speak. And straightway the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word, how that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. <sup>5</sup>And when he thought thereon, he wept.

15 And straightway in the morning the chief priests with the elders and scribes, and the whole council, held a consultation, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him up to Pilate.

2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering saith unto him, Thou sayest. And the chief priests accused him of many things. And Pilate again asked him, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they accuse thee of. But Jesus no more answered anything; insomuch that Pilate marvelled.

6 Now at <sup>6</sup>the feast he used to release unto them one prisoner, whom they asked of him. And there was one called Barabbas, lying bound with them that had made insurrection, men who in the insurrection had committed murder.

8 And the multitude went up and began to ask him to do as he was wont to do unto them. And Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you

10 the King of the Jews? For he perceived that for envy the chief priests had delivered him up. But the chief priests stirred up the multitude, that he should rather release Barabbas

12 unto them. And Pilate again answered and said unto them, What then shall I do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews? And they cried out a-

14 gain, Crucify him. And Pilate said unto them, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, Crucify him. And Pilate, wishing to content the multitude, released unto them Barabbas, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.

16 And the soldiers led him away within the court, which is the <sup>7</sup>Prætorium; and they call together the whole <sup>8</sup>band.

17 And they clothe him with purple, and plaiting a crown of thorns, they put it on him; and they began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews! And they smote his head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees

20 worshipped him. And when they had mocked him, they took off from him the purple, and put on him his garments. And they lead him out to crucify him.

21 And they <sup>9</sup>compel one passing by, Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to go with them, that he might bear his cross. And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull. 23 And they offered him wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not.

24 And they crucify him, and part his garments among them, casting lots upon them, what each should take. And it was the third hour, and they crucified

26 him. And the superscription of his accusation was written over, the KING OF THE JEWS. And with him they crucify two robbers; one on his right

29 hand, and one on his left. <sup>10</sup> And they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ha! thou that destroyed the <sup>11</sup>temple, and buiddest

30 it in three days, save thyself, and come down from the cross. In like manner also the chief priests mocking him among themselves with the scribes said, He saved others; <sup>12</sup>himself he cannot 32 save. Let the Christ, the King of Israel, now come down from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him reproached him.

33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole <sup>13</sup>land until the ninth hour. And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, <sup>14</sup>why hast thou forsaken

35 me? And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elijah. And one ran, and filling a sponge full of vinegar, put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let be; let us see whether

37 Elijah cometh to take him down. And Jesus uttered a loud voice, and gave up the ghost. And the veil of the <sup>15</sup>temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom. And when the centurion, which stood by over against him, saw that he <sup>16</sup>so gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was <sup>16</sup>the Son of God. And there were also women beholding from afar: among whom were both Mary Magdalene, and

42 And when even was now come, because it was the Preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath, there came Joseph of Arimathæa, a councillor of honourable estate, who also himself was looking for the kingdom of God; and he boldly went in unto Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he <sup>2</sup>had been any while dead.

45 And when he learned it of the centurion, he granted the corpse to Joseph. And he bought a linen cloth, and taking him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb which had been hewn out of a rock; and he rolled a stone against the door of the tomb. And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses beheld where he was laid.

16 And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, bought spices, that they might come and anoint him.

2 And very early on the first day of the week, they come to the tomb when the sun was risen. And they were saying among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the tomb? and looking up, they see that the stone is rolled back: for it was exceeding great. And entering into the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, arrayed in a white robe; and they were amazed. And he saith unto them, Be not amazed: ye seek Jesus, the Nazarene, which hath been crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold, the place where they laid him! But go, tell his disciples and Peter, He goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye

8 see him, as he said unto you. And they went out, and fled from the tomb; for trembling and astonishment had come upon them: and they said nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

9 <sup>3</sup>Now when he was risen early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom he had cast out seven <sup>4</sup>devils. She went and told them that had been with him, and they mourned and wept. And they, when they heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, disbelieved.

12 And after these things he was manifested in another form unto two of them, as they walked, on their way into the country. And they went away and told it unto the rest: neither believed they them.

14 And afterward he was manifested unto the eleven themselves as they sat at meat; and he upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation.

16 He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that disbelieveth shall be condemned. And these signs shall follow them that believe: in my name shall they cast out <sup>4</sup>devils; they shall speak with <sup>5</sup>new tongues; they shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall in no wise hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 So then the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken unto them, was received up into heaven, and sat down at the right hand of God. And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word by the signs that followed. Amen.

THE GOSPEL

S. L U K E.

1 FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to draw up a narrative concerning those matters which have been <sup>2</sup>fulfilled among us, even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eyewitnesses and ministers of the word, it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus; that thou mightest know the certainty concerning the <sup>2</sup>things <sup>3</sup>wherein thou wast instructed.

5 THERE was in the days of Herod, king of Judæa, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abijah: and he had a wife of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

8 Now it came to pass, while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course, according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to enter into the <sup>2</sup>temple of the Lord and burn incense. And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the hour of incense. And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. And Zacharias was troubled when he saw him, and fear fell upon him. But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: because thy supplication is heard, and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and he shall drink no wine nor <sup>8</sup>strong drink; and he shall be filled with the <sup>4</sup>Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb.

16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turn unto the Lord thy God. And he shall <sup>5</sup>go before his face in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to walk in the wisdom of the just; to make ready for the Lord a people prepared for him. And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife <sup>6</sup>well stricken in years. And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and I was sent to speak unto thee, and to bring thee these good tidings. And behold, thou shalt be silent and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall come to pass, because thou believedst not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and they marvelled <sup>7</sup>while he tarried in the <sup>2</sup>temple. And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the <sup>2</sup>temple: and he continued making signs unto them, and remained dumb. And it came to pass, when the days of his ministration were fulfilled, he departed unto his house.

24 And after these days Elisabeth his wife conceived; and she hid herself 25 five months, saying, Thus hath the Lord done unto me in the days wherein he looked upon me, to take away my reproach among men.

26 Now in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the 28 virgin's name was Mary. And he came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art <sup>8</sup>highly favoured, the Lord is with thee<sup>9</sup>. But she was greatly troubled at the saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this might be. And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found <sup>10</sup>favour with God. And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS.

32 He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Most High: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: and he shall reign over the house of Jacob <sup>11</sup>for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. And Mary said unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee: wherefore also <sup>12</sup>that which <sup>13</sup>is to be born <sup>14</sup>shall be called holy, the Son of God. And behold, Elisabeth thy kinswoman, she also hath conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her that <sup>15</sup>was called barren. For no word from God shall be void of power. And Mary said, Behold, the <sup>16</sup>handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

39 And Mary arose in these days and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Judah; and entered into the house of Zacharias and saluted Elisabeth. And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost; and she lifted up her voice with a loud cry, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come unto me? For behold, when the voice of thy salutation came into mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.

45 And blessed is she that <sup>17</sup>believed; for there shall be a fulfilment of the things which have been spoken to her from the Lord. And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

48 For he hath looked upon the low estate of his <sup>18</sup>handmaiden: For behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name.

 And the rich he hath sent empty away.
 54 He hath holpen Israel his servant,
 That he might remember mercy
 55 (As he spake unto our fathers)
 Toward Abraham and his seed for ever.
 56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned unto her house.
 57 Now Elisabeth's time was fulfilled that she should be delivered; and she 58 brought forth a son. And her neighbours and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord had magnified his mercy towards 59 her; and they rejoiced with her. And it came to pass on the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him Zacharias, 60 after the name of his father. And his mother answered and said, Not so; but 61 he shall be called John. And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred 62 that is called by this name. And they made signs to his father, what he would 63 have him called. And he asked for a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they marvelled all.
 64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake,
 65 blessing God. And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout 66 all the hill country of Judæa. And all that heard them laid them up in their heart, saying, What then shall this child be? For the hand of the Lord was with him.
 67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying,
 68 Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel;
 For he hath visited and wrought redemption for his people,
 69 And hath raised up a horn of salvation for us
 In the house of his servant David 70 (As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets which have been since the world began), 71 Salvation from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us;
 72 To shew mercy towards our fathers, And to remember his holy covenant;
 73 The oath which he sware unto Abraham our father,
 74 To grant unto us that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies
 Should serve him without fear,
 75 In holiness and righteousness before him all our days.
 76 Yea and thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Most High:

For thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to make ready his ways;
 77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people
 In the remission of their sins,
 78 Because of the <sup>1</sup>tender mercy of our God,

 79 To shine upon them that sit in darkness and the shadow of death;
 To guide our feet into the way of peace.
 80 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.
 2 Now it came to pass in those days, there went out a decree from Cesar Augustus, that all <sup>4</sup>the world should be enrolled. This was the first enrolment made when Quirinius was governor of 3 Syria. And all went to enrol themselves, every one to his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judæa, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and 5 family of David; to enrol himself with Mary, who was betrothed to him, being 6 great with child. And it came to pass, while they were there, the days were fulfilled that she should be delivered.
 7 And she brought forth her firstborn son; and she wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.
 8 And there were shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, and keeping <sup>5</sup>watch by night over their flock.
 9 And an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.
 10 And the angel said unto them, Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to 11 all the people: for there is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, 12 which is <sup>6</sup>Christ the Lord. And this is the sign unto you; Ye shall find a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, and 13 lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, 14 Glory to God in the highest,
 And on earth <sup>7</sup>peace among <sup>8</sup>men in whom he is well pleased.
 15 And it came to pass, when the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this <sup>9</sup>thing that is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and this man was righteous and devout, looking for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Spirit was upon him. And it had been revealed unto him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ. And he came in the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, that they might do concerning him after the custom of the law, then he received him into his arms, and blessed God, and said, 29 Now lettest thou thy servant depart, O Lord, 30 According to thy word, in peace; 31 For mine eyes have seen thy salvation, 32 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all peoples; 33 A light for revelation to the Gentiles, And the glory of thy people Israel. 34 And his father and his mother were marvelling at the things which were spoken concerning him; and Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the falling and rising up of many in Israel; and for a sign which is spoken against; yea and a sword shall pierce through thine own soul; that thoughts out of many hearts may be revealed. And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanneel, of the tribe of Asher (she was of a great age, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity, and she had been a widow even for fourscore and four years), which departed not from the temple, worshipping with fastings and supplications night and day. 38 And coming up at that very hour she gave thanks unto God, and spake of him to all them that were looking for the redemption of Jerusalem. And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions: and all that heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers. And when they saw him, they were astonished: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I sought thee sorrowing. And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be in my Father's house? And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them. tudes that went out to be baptized of him, Ye offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the wrath to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of <sup>1</sup>repentance, and begin now to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children 9 unto Abraham. And even now is the axe also laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast 10 into the fire. And the multitudes asked him, saying, What then must we do? 11 And he answered and said unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that 12 hath food, let him do likewise. And there came also <sup>2</sup>publicans to be baptized, and they said unto him, <sup>3</sup>Master, 13 what must we do? And he said unto them, Extort no more than that which 14 is appointed you. And <sup>4</sup>soldiers also asked him, saying, And we, what must we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither <sup>5</sup>exact anything wrongfully; and be content with your wages. 15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men reasoned in their hearts concerning John, whether haply he were 16 the Christ; John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but there cometh he that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not <sup>6</sup>worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you <sup>7</sup>with the Holy Ghost 17 and with fire: whose fan is in his hand, thoroughly to cleanse his threshing-floor, and to gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire. 18 With many other exhortations therefore preached he <sup>8</sup>good tidings unto the 19 people; but Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother's wife, and for all the evil things 20 which Herod had done, added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison. 21 Now it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, that, Jesus also having been baptized, and praying, the 22 heaven was opened, and the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily form, as a dove, upon him, and a voice came out of heaven, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased. 23 And Jesus himself, when he began to teach, was about thirty years of age, being the son (as was supposed) 24 of Joseph, the son of Heli, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, the son of Melchi, the son of Jannai, the son of 25 Joseph, the son of Mattathias, the son of Amos, the son of Nahum, the son of 26 Eshi, the son of Naggal, the son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Semein, 27 the son of Josech, the son of Joda, the son of Joanan, the son of Rhesa, the son

4 And Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and was led <sup>2</sup><sup>13</sup> by the Spirit in the wilderness during forty days, being tempted of the devil. And he did eat nothing in those days: and when they were completed, he <sup>3</sup>hungered. And the devil said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, command this stone that it become <sup>14</sup>bread.

4 And Jesus answered unto him, It is written, Man shall not live by bread 5 alone. And he led him up, and shewed him all the kingdoms of <sup>15</sup>the 6 world in a moment of time. And the devil said unto him, To thee will I give all this authority, and the glory of them: for it hath been delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I 7 give it. If thou therefore wilt worship 8 before me, it shall all be thine. And Jesus answered and said unto him, It is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt 9 thou serve. And he led him to Jeru- 10 salem, and set him on the <sup>16</sup>pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down

10 from hence: for it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee, to guard thee:

11 and, On their hands they shall bear thee up, Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

of the Spirit into Galilee: and a fame went out concerning him through all the 15 region round about. And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and he entered, as his custom was, into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up to read.

17 And there was delivered unto him <sup>1</sup> the book of the prophet Isaiah. And he opened the <sup>2</sup> book, and found the place where it was written,

18 The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, <sup>3</sup> Because he anointed me to preach <sup>4</sup> good tidings to the poor:

He hath sent me to proclaim release to the captives,

And recovering of sight to the blind, To set at liberty them that are bruised,

19 To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the <sup>2</sup> book, and gave it back to the attendant, and sat down: and the eyes of all in the synagogue were

21 fastened on him. And he began to say unto them, To-day hath this scripture

22 been fulfilled in your ears. And all bare him witness, and wondered at the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth: and they said, Is not this

23 Joseph's son? And he said unto them, Doubtless ye will say unto me this parable, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done at Capernaum, do

24 also here in thine own country. And he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet

25 is acceptable in his own country. But of a truth I say unto you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there came a great

26 famine over all the land; and unto none of them was Elijah sent, but only to 27 a woman that was a widow. And there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, but only Naaman the 28 Syrian. And they were all filled with wrath in the synagogue, as they heard

29 these things; and they rose up, and cast him forth out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might throw

30 him down headlong. But he passing through the midst of them went his way.

31 And he came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee. And he was teaching

32 them on the sabbath day: and they were astonished at his teaching; for

33 his word was with authority. And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean <sup>6</sup> devil; and he

34 cried out with a loud voice, <sup>7</sup> Ah! what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us?

I know thee who thou art, the Holy One 35 of God. And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the <sup>6</sup> devil had thrown him

36 down in the midst, he came out of him, having done him no hurt. And amazement came upon all, and they spake

37 together, one with another, saying, What is <sup>8</sup> this word? for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean

38 spirits, and they come out. And there went forth a rumour concerning him

39 into every place of the region round about.

40 And he rose up from the synagogue, and entered into the house of Simon.

And Simon's wife's mother was holden with a great fever; and they besought

41 him for her. And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she rose up and ministered unto them.

42 And when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he

43 laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. And <sup>9</sup> devils also came

44 out from many, crying out, and saying, Thou art the Son of God. And rebuking

45 them, he suffered them not to speak, because they knew that he was the Christ.

46 And when it was day, he came out and went into a desert place: and the multitude sought after him, and came unto 47 him, and would have stayed him, that he should not go from them. But he

48 said unto them, I must preach the <sup>10</sup> good tidings of the kingdom of God to the 49 other cities also: for therefore was I sent.

50 And he was preaching in the synagogues of <sup>11</sup> Galilee.

51 Now it came to pass, while the multitude pressed upon him and heard

52 the word of God, that he was standing by the lake of Genesaret; and

53 he saw two boats standing by the lake: but the fishermen had gone out of

54 them, and were washing their nets. 55 And he entered into one of the boats, which was Simon's, and asked him to put out a little from the land.

56 And he sat down and taught the multitudes out of the boat. And when 57 he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Put out into the deep, and let 58 down your nets for a draught. And Simon answered and said, Master, we 59 toiled all night, and took nothing: but at thy word I will let down the 60 nets. And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of 61 fishes; and their nets were breaking; and they beckoned unto their 62 partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. And

63 they came, and filled both the boats, 64 so that they began to sink. But Simon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord.

9 For he was amazed, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes

10 which they had taken; and so were also James and Johu, sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from 11 henceforth thou shalt <sup>1</sup> catch men. And when they had brought their boats to land, they left all, and followed him.

12 And it came to pass, while he was in one of the cities, behold, a man full of leprosy: and when he saw Jesus, he fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make

13 me clean. And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway

14 the leprosy departed from him. And he charged him to tell no man: but go thy way, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for

15 a testimony unto them. But so much the more went abroad the report concerning him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed

16 of their infirmities. But he withdrew himself in the deserts, and prayed.

17 And it came to pass on one of those days, that he was teaching; and there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every village of Galilee and Judea and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord

18 was with him <sup>2</sup> to heal. And behold, men bring on a bed a man that was palsied: and they sought to bring him

19 in, and to lay him before him. And not finding by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went up to the housetop, and let him down through the tiles with his

20 couch into the midst before Jesus. And seeing their faith, he said, Man, thy sins

21 are forgiven thee. And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone?

22 But Jesus perceiving their reasonings, answered and said unto them, <sup>3</sup> What

23 reason ye in your hearts? Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven

24 thee; or to say, Arise and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath <sup>4</sup> power on earth to forgive sins (he said unto him that was palsied), I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch,

25 and go unto thy house. And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed

26 to his house, glorifying God. And amazement took hold on all, and they glorified God; and they were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

27 And after these things he went forth, and beheld a publican, named Levi, sitting at the place of toll, and said

28 unto him, Follow me. And he forsook

29 all, and rose up and followed him. And Levi made him a great feast in his house: and there was a great multitude of publicans and of others that

30 were sitting at meat with them. And <sup>5</sup> the Pharisees and their scribes murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with the publicans and sinners? And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole have no need of a physician; but

32 they that are sick. I am not come to call the righteous but sinners to

33 repentance. And they said unto him, The disciples of John fast often, and make supplications; likewise also the 34 disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink. And Jesus said unto them, Can ye make the sons of the 35 bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? But the days will come; and when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, then

36 will they fast in those days. And he spake also a parable unto them; No man rendeth a piece from a new garment and putteth it upon an old garment; else he will rend the new, and also the piece from the new will not

37 agree with the old. And no man putteth new wine into old <sup>6</sup> wine-skins; else the new wine will burst the skins, and itself will be spilled, and the skins

38 will perish. But new wine must be put 39 into fresh wine-skins. And no man having drunk old wine desireth new: for he saith, The old is <sup>7</sup> good.

6 Now it came to pass on a <sup>8</sup> sabbath, that he was going through the cornfields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing

2 them in their hands. But certain of the Pharisees said, Why do ye that which it is not lawful to do on the sabbath day? And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read even this, what David did, when he was an hungred, he, and they that were with him; how he entered into the house of God, and did take and eat the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; which it is not lawful to eat save for 5 the priests alone? And he said unto them, The Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

6 And it came to pass on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man there, and his right hand was

7 withered. And the scribes and the Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath; that they

8 might find how to accuse him. But he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man that had his hand withered, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst.

9 And he arose and stood forth. And Jesus said unto them, I ask you, Is it lawful on the sabbath to do good, or to do harm? to 10 save a life, or to destroy it? And he looked round about on them all, and said unto him, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored.

11 But they were filled with <sup>1</sup>madness; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to pass in these days, that he went out into the mountain to pray; and he continued all night in prayer to 13 God. And when it was day, he called his disciples: and he chose from them twelve, whom also he named apostles;

14 Simon, whom he also named Peter, and Andrew his brother, and James and 15 John, and Philip and Bartholomew, and Matthew and Thomas, and James the son of Alphæus, and Simon which was 16 called the Zealot, and Judas the <sup>2</sup>son of James, and Judas Iscariot, which was 17 the traitor; and he came down with them, and stood on a level place, and a great multitude of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judæa and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases;

18 and they that were troubled with un- 19 clean spirits were healed. And all the multitude sought to touch him: for power came forth from him, and healed them all.

20 And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed are ye poor: 21 for yours is the kingdom of God. Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now: 22 for ye shall laugh. Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake.

23 Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the same manner did 24 their fathers unto the prophets. But woe unto you that are rich! for ye have 25 received your consolation. Woe unto you, ye that are full now! for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you, ye that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep.

26 Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for in the same manner did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them that hate 28 you, bless them that curse you, pray for 29 them that despitefully use you. To him that smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other; and from him that taketh away thy cloke withhold not thy coat 30 also. Give to every one that asketh thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods 31 ask them not again. And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to 32 them likewise. And if ye love them that love you, what thank have ye? for even 33 sinners love those that love them. And if ye do good to them that do good to you, what thank have ye? for even 34 sinners do the same. And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? even sinners lend to 35 sinners, to receive again as much. But love your enemies, and do them good, and lend, <sup>3</sup>never despairing; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be sons of the Most High: for he is kind 36 toward the unthankful and evil. Be ye merciful, even as your Father is 37 merciful. And judge not, and ye shall not be judged: and condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: release, 38 and ye shall be released: give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, shall they give into your bosom. For with what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again.

39 And he spake also a parable unto them, Can the blind guide the blind? shall they not both fall into a pit? 40 The disciple is not above his <sup>4</sup>master: but every one when he is perfected shall 41 be as his <sup>4</sup>master. And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Or how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me cast out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote that is in thy 43 brother's eye. For there is no good tree that bringeth forth corrupt fruit; nor again a corrupt tree that bringeth 44 forth good fruit. For each tree is known by its own fruit. For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble 45 bush gather they grapes. The good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and the evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth that which is evil: for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and 47 do not the things which I say? Every one that cometh unto me, and heareth my words, and doeth them, I will shew 48 you to whom he is like: he is like a man building a house, who digged and went deep, and laid a foundation upon the rock: and when a flood arose, the stream brake against that house, and could not shake it: <sup>5</sup>because it had 49 been well builded. But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that built a house upon the earth without a foundation; against which the stream brake, and straightway it fell in; and the ruin of that house was great.

7 After he had ended all his sayings in the ears of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurion's <sup>1</sup>servant, who was <sup>2</sup>dear unto him, was sick and

3 at the point of death. And when he heard concerning Jesus, he sent unto him elders of the Jews, asking him that he would come and save his <sup>1</sup>servant.

4 And they, when they came to Jesus, besought him earnestly, saying, He is worthy that thou shouldst do

5 this for him: for he loveth our nation, and himself built us our synagogue.

6 And Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not <sup>3</sup>worthy that thou

7 shouldst come under my roof: wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but <sup>4</sup>say the word,

8 and my <sup>5</sup>servant shall be healed. For I also am a man set under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my <sup>1</sup>servant, Do this, and he

9 doeth it. And when Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned and said unto the multitude that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the <sup>1</sup>servant whole.

11 And it came to pass <sup>6</sup>soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Nain; and his disciples went with him, and a

12 great multitude. Now when he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, there was carried out one that was dead, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city

13 was with her. And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And he came nigh and touched the bier: and the bearers stood still. And he said, Young man, 14 I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak.

15 And he gave him to his mother. And fear took hold on all: and they glorified God, saying, A great prophet is arisen among us: and, God hath visited his

16 people. And this report went forth concerning him in the whole of Judæa, and all the region round about.

17 And the disciples of John told him 19 of all these things. And John calling unto him <sup>7</sup>two of his disciples sent them to the Lord, saying, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another?

20 And when the men were come unto him, they said, John the Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another?

21 In that hour he cured many of diseases and <sup>8</sup>plagues and evil spirits; and on many that were blind he bestowed sight.

22 And he answered and said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have <sup>9</sup>good tidings

23 preached to them. And blessed is he, whosoever shall find none occasion of stumbling in me.

24 And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to behold? a

25 reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, 26 are in kings' courts. But what went ye out to see? a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet.

27 This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, 28 I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there is none greater than John: yet he that is <sup>10</sup>but little in the kingdom of God is greater than he.

29 And all the people when they heard, and the publicans, justified God, <sup>11</sup>being

30 baptized with the baptism of John. But the Pharisees and the lawyers rejected for themselves the counsel of God, <sup>12</sup>being 31 not baptized of him. Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation, and to what are they like?

32 They are like unto children that sit in the marketplace, and call one to another; which say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did

33 not weep. For John the Baptist is come eating no bread nor drinking wine; and

34 ye say, He hath a <sup>13</sup>devil. The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and 35 sinners! And wisdom <sup>14</sup>is justified of all her children.

36 And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he entered into the Pharisee's house,

37 and sat down to meat. And behold, a woman which was in the city, a sinner; and when she knew that he was sitting at meat in the Pharisee's house, she brought <sup>15</sup>an alabaster cruse of ointment, and standing behind at his feet, weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears, and wiped them with the hair of her head, and <sup>16</sup>kissed his feet, and

38 anointed them with the ointment. Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he were <sup>17</sup>a prophet, would have perceived who and what manner of woman this is which toucheth

39 him, that she is a sinner. And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And 41 he saith, <sup>1</sup>Master, say on. A certain lender had two debtors: the one owed five hundred <sup>2</sup>pence, and the other fifty. 42 When they had not wherewith to pay, he forgave them both. Which of them 43 therefore will love him most? Simon answered and said, He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged. 44 And turning to the woman, he said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath wetted my feet with her tears, and wiped 45 them with her hair. Thou gavest me no kiss: but she, since the time I came in, 46 hath not ceased to <sup>3</sup>kiss my feet. My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment. Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is 48 forgiven, the same loveth little. And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven. 49 And they that sat at meat with him began to say <sup>4</sup>within themselves, Who 50 is this that even forgiveth sins? And he said unto the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.

8 And it came to pass soon afterwards, that he went about through cities and villages, preaching and bringing the <sup>5</sup>good tidings of the kingdom of God, 2 and with him the twelve, and certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary that was called Magdalene, from whom seven <sup>6</sup> devils had gone out, and Joanna the wife of Chuza Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministered unto <sup>7</sup>them of their substance.

4 And when a great multitude came together, and they of every city resorted 5 unto him, he spake by a parable: The sower went forth to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden under foot, and the 6 birds of the heaven devoured it. And other fell on the rock; and as soon as it grew, it withered away, because 7 it had no moisture. And other fell amidst the thorns; and the thorns 8 grew with it, and choked it. And other fell into the good ground, and grew, and brought forth fruit a hundredfold. As he said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 And his disciples asked him what this 10 parable might be. And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God; but to the rest in parables; that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand.

11 Now the parable is this: The seed is the 12 word of God. And those by the way side are they that have heard; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word from their heart, that they may not believe and be saved. And those on the rock are they which, when they have heard, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall 14 away. And that which fell among the thorns, these are they that have heard, and as they go on their way they are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit 15 to perfection. And that in the good ground, these are such as in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, hold it fast, and bring forth fruit with patience.

16 And no man, when he hath lighted a lamp, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but putteth it on a stand, that they which enter in may see 17 the light. For nothing is hid, that shall not be made manifest; nor anything secret, that shall not be known and come 18 to light. Take heed therefore how ye hear: for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he <sup>8</sup>thinketh he hath.

19 And there came to him his mother and brethren, and they could not come 20 to him for the crowd. And it was told him, Thy mother and thy brethren 21 stand without, desiring to see thee. But he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

22 Now it came to pass on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples; and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake: and they launched forth. 23 But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filling with water, 24 and were in jeopardy. And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. And he awoke, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was 25 a calm. And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And being afraid they marvelled, saying one to another, Who then is this, that he commandeth even the winds and the water, and they obey him?

26 And they arrived at the country of the 27 Galilee. And when he was come forth upon the land, there met him a certain man out of the city, who had <sup>6</sup> devils; and for a long time he had worn no clothes, and abode not in any house, 28 but in the tombs. And when he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the Most High God? I be-

29 seeth thee, torment me not. For he commanded the unclean spirit to come out from the man. For <sup>1</sup> oftentimes it had seized him: and he was kept under guard, and bound with chains and fetters; and breaking the bands asunder, he was driven of the <sup>2</sup> devil into the desert. And Jesus asked him, What is thy name? And he said, Legion; for many <sup>3</sup> devils were entered into him. 31 And they intreated him that he would not command them to depart into the <sup>3</sup> abyss. Now there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they intreated him that he would give them leave to enter into them. And <sup>3</sup> he gave them leave. And the <sup>3</sup> devils came out from the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the lake, and were choked. 34 And when they that fed them saw what had come to pass, they fled, and told it <sup>3</sup> in the city and in the country. And they went out to see what had come to pass; and they came to Jesus, and found the man, from whom the <sup>3</sup> devils were gone out, sitting, clothed and in his right mind, at the feet of Jesus: and they <sup>3</sup> were afraid. And they that saw it told them how he that was possessed with <sup>3</sup> devils was <sup>4</sup> made whole. And all the people of the country of the Gerasenes round about asked him to depart from them; for they were holden with great fear: and he entered into a boat, and returned. But the man from whom the <sup>3</sup> devils were gone out prayed him that he might be with him: but he sent him <sup>3</sup> away, saying, Return to thy house, and declare how great things God hath done for thee. And he went his way, publishing throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done for him. 40 And as Jesus returned, the multitude welcomed him; for they were all waiting for him. And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him to come <sup>3</sup> into his house; for he had an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the multitudes thronged him. 43 And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which <sup>5</sup> had spent all her living upon physicians, and could not be <sup>3</sup> healed of any, came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately the issue of her blood <sup>3</sup> stanch'd. And Jesus said, Who is it that touched me? And when all denied, Peter said, <sup>6</sup> and they that were with him, Master, the multitudes press <sup>3</sup> thee and crush thee. But Jesus said, Some one did touch me: for I perceived that power had gone forth from me. 47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him declared in the presence of all the people for what cause she touched him, and how she was healed <sup>3</sup> immediately. And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath <sup>7</sup> made thee whole; go in peace.

49 While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead; trouble <sup>3</sup> not the <sup>8</sup> Master. But Jesus hearing it, answered him, Fear not: only believe, and she shall be <sup>4</sup> made whole. 51 And when he came to the house, he suffered not any man to enter in with him, save Peter, and John, and James, and the father of the maiden and her <sup>3</sup> mother. And all were weeping, and bewailing her: but he said, Weep not; <sup>3</sup> for she is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laugh'd him to scorn, knowing that <sup>3</sup> she was dead. But he, taking her by the hand, call'd, saying, Maiden, arise. 55 And her spirit return'd, and she rose up immediately: and he commanded that <sup>3</sup> something be given her to eat. And her parents were amazed: but he charged them to tell no man what had been done.

9 And he called the twelve together, and gave them power and authority over <sup>2</sup> all <sup>3</sup> devils, and to cure diseases. And he sent them forth to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal <sup>9</sup> the sick. 3 And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staff, nor wallet, nor bread, nor money; neither <sup>4</sup> have two coats. And into whatsoever house ye enter, there abide, and thence <sup>3</sup> depart. And as many as receive you not, when ye depart from that city, shake off the dust from your feet for a <sup>6</sup> testimony against them. And they departed, and went throughout the villages, preaching the gospel, and healing everywhere.

7 Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done; and he was much perplexed, because that it was said by some, <sup>8</sup> that John was risen from the dead; and by some, that Elijah had appeared; and by others, that one of the old prophets <sup>9</sup> was risen again. And Herod said, John I beheaded: but who is this, about whom I hear such things? And he sought to see him.

10 And the apostles, when they were returned, declared unto him what things they had done. And he took them, and withdrew apart to a city called Bethsaida. But the multitudes perceiving it followed him: and he welcomed them, and spake to them of the kingdom of God, and them that had need of healing <sup>3</sup> he healed. And the day began to wear away; and the twelve came, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we

13 are here in a desert place. But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more than five loaves and two fishes; except we should 14 go and buy food for all this people. For they were about five thousand men. And he said unto his disciples, Make them
 1 sit down in companies, about fifty each.
 15 And they did so, and made them all 1 sit 16 down. And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake; and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.
 17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up that which remained over to them of broken pieces, twelve baskets.
 18 And it came to pass, as he was praying alone, the disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Who do the multitudes say that I am? And they answering said, John the Baptist; but others say, Elijah; and others, that one of the 20 old prophets is risen again. And he said unto them, But who say ye that I am? And Peter answering said, The Christ of 21 God. But he charged them, and commanded them to tell this to no man; saying, The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, 23 and the third day be raised up. And he said unto all, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take 24 up his cross daily, and follow me. For whosoever would save his 2 life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his
 2 life for my sake, the same shall save
 25 it. For what is a man profited, if he gain the whole world, and lose or forfeit 26 his own self? For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in his own glory, and the glory of the Father, and of the holy an-27 gels. But I tell you of a truth, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.
 28 And it came to pass about eight days after these sayings, he took with him Peter and John and James, and went 29 up into the mountain to pray. And as he was praying, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment be-30 came white and dazzling. And behold, there talked with him two men, which 31 were Moses and Elijah; who appeared in glory, and spake of his 3 decease which he was about to accomplish at 32 Jerusalem. Now Peter and they that were with him were heavy with sleep: but 4 when they were fully awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that 33 stood with him. And it came to pass, as they were parting from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three 5 tabernacles; one for thee, and one for

Moses, and one for Elijah: not knowing what he said. And while he said these things, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared 35 as they entered into the cloud. And a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is 6 my Son, my chosen: hear ye 36 him. And when the voice 7 came, Jesus was found alone. And they held their peace, and told no man in those days any of the things which they had seen.
 37 And it came to pass, on the next day, when they were come down from the mountain, a great multitude met him.
 38 And behold, a man from the multitude cried, saying, 8 Master, I beseech thee to look upon my son; for he is mine only
 39 child: and behold, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it 9 tearth him that he foameth, and it hardly departeth from him, bruising 40 him sorely. And I besought thy disciples to cast it out; and they could not.
 41 And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and bear with 42 you? bring hither thy son. And as he was yet a coming, the 10 devil 11 dashed him down, and 12 tare him grievously. But Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the boy, and gave him back 43 to his father. And they were all astonished at the majesty of God.

But while all were marvelling at all the things which he did, he said 44 unto his disciples, Let these words sink into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered up into the 45 hands of men. But they understood not this saying, and it was concealed from them, that they should not perceive it: and they were afraid to ask him about this saying.

46 And there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be 13 great-47 est. But when Jesus saw the reasoning of their heart, he took a little 48 child, and set him by his side, and said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this little child in my name receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for he that is 14 least among you all, the same is great.

49 And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out 15 devils in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us. But Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against you is for you.
 51 And it came to pass, when the days 16 were well-nigh come that he should be received up, he stedfastly set his face
 52 to go to Jerusalem, and sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to 53 make ready for him. And they did not receive him, because his face was as though 54 he were going to Jerusalem. And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we bid fire to come down from heaven, and 55 consume them<sup>1</sup>? But he turned, and 56 rebuked them<sup>2</sup>. And they went to another village.

57 And as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, I will follow 58 thee whithersoever thou goest. And Jesus said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have<sup>3</sup> nests; but the Son of man hath not

59 where to lay his head. And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

60 But he said unto him, Leave the dead to bury their own dead; but go thou and publish abroad the kingdom of God.

61 And another also said, I will follow thee. Lord; but first suffer me to bid farewell 62 to them that are at my house. But Jesus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

10 Now after these things the Lord appointed seventy<sup>4</sup> others, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself was 2 about to come. And he said unto them,

The harvest is plenteous, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into his harvest. Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lambs in the 4 midst of wolves. Carry no purse, no wallet, no shoes: and salute no man on the 5 way. And into whatsoever house ye shall<sup>5</sup> enter, first say, Peace be to this 6 house. And if a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon<sup>6</sup> him: but 7 if not, it shall turn to you again. And in that same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go

8 not from house to house. And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set 9 before you: and heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The king-

10 dom of God is come nigh unto you. But into whatsoever city ye shall enter, and they receive you not, go out into the 11 streets thereof and say, Even the dust from your city, that cleaveth to our feet, we do wipe off against you: howbeit know this, that the kingdom of God is 12 come nigh. I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, 13 than for that city. Woe unto thee, Chozazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the<sup>7</sup> mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which were done in you, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. Howbeit it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the judgement, than for you.

15 And thou, Capernaum, shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt be 16 brought down unto Hades. He that heareth you heareth me; and he that rejecteth you rejecteth me; and he that rejecteth me rejecteth him that sent me.

17 And the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, even the<sup>8</sup> devils are subject unto us in thy name. And he said unto them, I beheld Satan fallen as 19 lightning from heaven. Behold, I have given you authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall 20 in any wise hurt you. Howbeit in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.

21 In that same hour he rejoiced<sup>9</sup> in the Holy Spirit, and said, I<sup>10</sup> thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes: yea, Father; <sup>11</sup>for so it was well-pleasing in thy sight.

22 All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, save the Father; and who the Father is, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal 23 him. And turning to the disciples, he said privately, Blessed are the eyes 24 which see the things that ye see: for I say unto you, that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

25 And behold, a certain lawyer stood up and tempted him, saying,<sup>12</sup> Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

26 And he said unto him, What is written 27 in the law? how readest thou? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God<sup>13</sup> with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and 28 thy neighbour as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: 29 this do, and thou shalt live. But he, desiring to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour?

30 Jesus made answer and said, A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, which both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving

31 him half dead. And by chance a certain priest was going down that way: and when he saw him, he passed by 32 on the other side. And in like manner a Levite also, when he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on

33 the other side. But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he was 34 moved with compassion, and came to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring on them oil and wine; and he set him on his own beast, and brought him 35 to an inn, and took care of him. And 37 robbers? And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. And Jesus said unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received

39 him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at the Lord's feet, and heard his word.

40 But Martha was <sup>2</sup>cumbered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

41 But the Lord answered and said unto her, <sup>3</sup>Martha, Martha, thou art anxious and troubled about many things: <sup>4</sup>but one thing is needful: for Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

11 And it came to pass, as he was praying in a certain place, that when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, even as

2 John also taught his disciples. And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, <sup>5</sup>Father, Hallowed be thy name.

6 Friend, lend me three loaves; for a friend of mine is come to me from a journey, and I have nothing to set

7 before him; and he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and

8 give thee? I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him

9 <sup>9</sup>as many as he needeth. And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it

14 And he was casting out a <sup>11</sup>devil which was dumb. And it came to pass, when the <sup>11</sup>devil was gone out, the dumb man spake; and the multitudes marvelled.

15 But some of them said, <sup>12</sup>By Beelzebub the prince of the <sup>13</sup>devils casteth he itself is brought to desolation; <sup>14</sup>and a house divided against a house falleth.

18 And if Satan also is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out <sup>13</sup>devils

19 <sup>13</sup>by Beelzebub. And if I <sup>12</sup>by Beelzebub cast out <sup>13</sup>devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they

20 be your judges. But if I by the finger of God cast out <sup>13</sup>devils, then is the 26 and garnished. Then goeth <sup>15</sup>he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more evil than <sup>16</sup>himself; and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man becometh worse than the first.

27 And it came to pass, as he said these things, a certain woman out of the multitude lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that

29 And when the multitudes were gathering together unto him, he began to say, This generation is an evil generation: it seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but

31 be to this generation. The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, <sup>17</sup>a greater than Solomon is here.

34 The lamp of thy body is thine eye: when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when it is evil, thy body also is full of darkness. Look therefore whether the light that is in thee be not darkness. If therefore thy whole body be full of light, having no part dark, it shall be wholly full of light, as when the lamp with its bright shining doth give thee light.

37 Now as he spake, a Pharisee asketh him to <sup>1</sup>dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat. And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before <sup>1</sup>dinner.

39 And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter; but your inward part is full of extortion and wickedness.

40 Ye foolish ones, did not he that made <sup>1</sup>the outside make the inside also? Howbeit give for alms those things which <sup>2</sup>are within; and behold, all things are clean unto you.

42 But woe unto you Pharisees! for ye tithe the mint and rue and every herb, and pass over judgement and the love of God: but these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

43 Woe unto you Pharisees! for ye love the chief seats in the synagogues, and the salutations in the marketplaces.

44 Woe unto you! for ye are as the tombs which appear not, and the men that walk over them know it not.

45 And one of the lawyers answering saith unto him, <sup>3</sup>Master, in saying this thou reproachest us also. And he said, Woe unto you lawyers also! for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers. Woe unto you! for ye build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed <sup>4</sup>them. So ye are witnesses and consent unto the works of your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build their tombs. Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send unto them prophets and apostles; and some of them they shall kill and persecute; that the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation; from the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zachariah, who perished between the altar and the <sup>4</sup>sanctuary: yea, I say unto you, it shall be required of this generation. Woe unto you lawyers! for ye took away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

53 And when he was come out from thence, the scribes and the Pharisees

12 In the mean time, when <sup>7</sup>the many thousands of the multitude were gathered together, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to <sup>8</sup>say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which <sup>2</sup>is hypocrisy. But there is nothing covered up, that shall not be revealed: and hid, that shall not be known.

3 Wherefore whatsoever ye have said in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and what ye have spoken in the ear in the inner chambers shall be proclaimed <sup>4</sup>upon the housetops. And I say unto you my friends, Be not afraid of them which kill the body, and after that have <sup>5</sup>no more that they can do. But I will warn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath <sup>9</sup>power to cast into <sup>10</sup>hell; yea, I say <sup>6</sup>unto you, Fear him. Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings? and not one of them is forgotten in the sight of <sup>7</sup>God. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not: ye are of more value than many sparrows.

8 And I say unto you, Every one who shall confess <sup>11</sup>me before men, <sup>12</sup>him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God: but he that denieth me in the presence of men shall be denied in the presence of the <sup>10</sup>angels of God. And every one who shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit it shall not be forgiven.

13 And one out of the multitude said unto him, <sup>3</sup>Master, bid my brother <sup>14</sup>divide the inheritance with me. But he said unto him, Man, who made me <sup>15</sup>a judge or a divider over you? And he said unto them, Take heed, and keep yourselves from all covetousness: <sup>13</sup>for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully: <sup>17</sup>and he reasoned within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have not <sup>18</sup>where to bestow my fruits? And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will <sup>19</sup>I bestow all my corn and my goods. 22 And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Be not anxious for your <sup>3</sup> life, what ye shall eat; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put

23 on. For the <sup>3</sup> life is more than the food, and the body than the raiment. Consider the ravens, that they sow not, neither reap; which have no store-chamber nor barn; and God feedeth them: of how much more value are ye

24 than the birds! And which of you by being anxious can add a cubit unto his

25 stature? If then ye are not able to do even that which is least, why are ye

26 anxious concerning the rest? Consider the lilies, how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin; yet I say unto you, Even Solomon in all his glory was

27 not arrayed like one of these. But if God doth so clothe the grass in the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how much more shall he

28 clothe you, O ye of little faith? And seek not ye what ye shall eat, and what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful

29 mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: but your Father knoweth that ye have need of 30 these things. Howbeit seek ye <sup>5</sup> his kingdom, and these things shall be added

31 unto you. Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give

32 you the kingdom. Sell that ye have, and give alms; make for yourselves purses which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief draweth near, neither moth de-

34 Let your loins be girded about, and your lamps burning; and be ye yourselves like unto men looking for their lord, when he shall return from the marriage feast; that, when he cometh and knocketh, they may straightway

35 open unto him. Blessed are those <sup>6</sup> servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them sit down to meat, and shall come

36 and serve them. And if he shall come in the second watch, and if in the third, and find them so, blessed are those ser-

38 house to be <sup>8</sup> broken through. Be ye also ready: for in an hour that ye think not the Son of man cometh.

39 And Peter said, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even unto 40 all? And the Lord said, Who then is <sup>9</sup> the faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall set over his household, to give them their portion of food

41 in due season? Blessed is that <sup>10</sup> servant, whom his lord when he cometh

42 shall find so doing. Of a truth I say unto you, that he will set him over all

43 that he hath. But if that <sup>10</sup> servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and the maidservants, and to eat and drink, and to be drunk-

44 en; the lord of that <sup>10</sup> servant shall come in a day when he expecteth not, and in an hour when he knoweth not, and shall

45 cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the unfaithful. And that <sup>10</sup> servant, which knew his lord's will, and made not ready, nor did according to his will, shall be beaten with many

46 stripes; but he that knew not, and did things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. And to whomsoever much is given, of him shall much be required: and to whom they commit much, of him will they ask the more.

47 I came to cast fire upon the earth; and I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished! Think ye that I am come to give peace in the earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division: for there shall be from henceforth five in one house divided, three against two, and two 48 against three. They shall be divided, father against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against her mother; mother in law against her daughter in law, and daughter in law against her mother in law.

49 And he said to the multitudes also, When ye see a cloud rising in the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it cometh

50 and pass. And when ye see a south wind blowing, ye say, There will be a <sup>12</sup> scorching heat; and it cometh

51 and pass. Ye hypocrites, ye know how to <sup>13</sup> interpret the face of the earth and the heaven; but how is it that ye know not how to <sup>13</sup> interpret this

52 time? And why even of yourselves judge ye not what is right? For as thou art going with thine adversary before the magistrate, on the way give diligence to be quit of him; lest haply he hale thee unto the judge, and the judge shall deliver thee to the <sup>14</sup> officer, and the <sup>14</sup> officer shall 53 cast thee into prison. I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou have paid the very last mite.

Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and killed them, think ye that they were offenders above all the men that dwell in Jerusalem? I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 And he spake this parable; A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit thereon, and found none. And he said unto the vinedresser, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it down; why doth it also cumber the ground? And he answering saith unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it: and if it bear fruit thenceforth, well; but if not, thou shalt cut it down.

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath day. And behold, a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years; and she was bowed together, and could in no wise lift herself up. And when Jesus saw her, he called her, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands upon her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. And the ruler of the synagogue, being moved with indignation because Jesus had healed on the sabbath, answered and said to the multitude, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the day of the sabbath. But the Lord answered him, and said, Ye hypocrites, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering? And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bound, lo, these eighteen years, to have been loosed from this bond on the day of the sabbath? And as he said these things, all his adversaries were put to shame: and all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 He said therefore, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and wheremunto shall I liken it? It is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his own garden; and it grew, and became a tree; and the birds of the heaven lodged in the branches thereof. And again he said, Wheremunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? It is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till it was all leavened.

22 And he went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and journeying on unto Jerusalem. And one said unto him, Lord, are they few that be saved?

24 And he said unto them, Strive to enter in by the narrow door: for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be able. When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, open to us; and he shall answer and say to you, I know you not whence ye are; then shall ye begin to say, We did eat and drink in thy presence, and thou didst teach in our streets; and he shall say, I tell you, I know not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. There shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and yourselves cast forth without. And they shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and shall be shut down in the kingdom of God. And behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

31 In that very hour there came certain Pharisees, saying to him, Get thee out, and go hence: for Herod would fain kill thee. And he said unto them, Go and say to that fox, Behold, I cast out devils and perform cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day I am perfected. Howbeit I must go on my way to-day and to-morrow and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet be shut out of Jerusalem. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killeth the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto her! how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her own brood under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 And it came to pass, when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a sabbath to eat bread, that they were watching him. 2 And behold, there was before him a certain man which had the dropsy. 3 And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath, or not? 4 But they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go. 5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a well, and will not straightway draw him up on a sabbath day? 6 And they could not answer again unto these things.

those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief seats; saying unto them, When thou art bidden of any man to a marriage feast, <sup>1</sup> sit not down in the chief seat; lest haply a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him, and he that bade thee and him shall come and say to thee, Give this man place; and then thou shalt begin with shame to take the lowest place. But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place; that when he that hath bidden thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have glory in the presence of all that sit at meat with thee. For every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

And he said to him also that had bidden him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor rich neighbours; lest haply they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. But when thou makest a feast, bid the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: and thou shalt be blessed; because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed in the resurrection of the just.

And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.

But he said unto him, A certain man made a great supper; and he bade many: and he sent forth his <sup>2</sup> servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and I must needs go out and see it: I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. And the <sup>2</sup> servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his <sup>2</sup> servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and blind and lame. And the <sup>2</sup> servant said, Lord, what thou didst command is done, and yet there is room. And the lord said unto the <sup>2</sup> servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and constrain them to come in, that my house may be filled. For I say unto you, that none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

Now there went with him great multitudes: and he turned, and said unto them, If any man cometh unto me, and hateth not his own father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.

Whosoever doth not bear his own cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doth not first sit down and count the cost, whether he have wherewith to complete it? Lest haply, when he hath laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, all that behold begin to mock him, saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish. Or what king, as he goeth to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and take counsel whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassador, and asketh conditions of peace. So therefore whosoever he be of you that renounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple.

Salt therefore is good: but if even the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned? It is fit neither for the land nor for the dunghill: men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

Now all the publicans and sinners were drawing near unto him for to hear him. And both the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

And he spake unto them this parable, saying, What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it? And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and his neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost. I say unto you, that even so there shall be joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine righteous persons, which need no repentance.

Or what woman having ten <sup>3</sup> pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a lamp, and sweep the house, and seek diligently until she find it? And when she hath found it, she calleth together her friends and neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the piece which I had lost. Even so, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

And he said, A certain man had two sons: and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of <sup>1</sup>thy substance that falleth to me. And he divided unto <sup>13</sup>him his living. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country; and there he wasted his <sup>14</sup>substance with riotous living. And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that country; and <sup>15</sup>he began to be in want. And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country; and he sent him into <sup>16</sup>his fields to feed swine. And he would fain have been filled with <sup>2</sup>the husks that the swine did eat: and no man <sup>17</sup>gave unto him. But when he came to himself he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish here with <sup>18</sup>hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in <sup>19</sup>thy sight: I am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of <sup>20</sup>thy hired servants. And he arose, and came to his father. But while he was yet afar off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and <sup>3</sup>kissed him. <sup>21</sup>And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight: I am no more worthy to be <sup>22</sup>called thy son<sup>4</sup>. But the father said to his <sup>5</sup>servants, Bring forth quickly the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on <sup>23</sup>his feet: and bring the fatted calf, and kill it, and let us eat, and make merry: <sup>24</sup>for this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And <sup>25</sup>they began to be merry. Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard <sup>26</sup>music and dancing. And he called to him one of the <sup>5</sup>servants, and inquired <sup>27</sup>what these things might be. And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe <sup>28</sup>and sound. But he was angry, and would not go in: and his father came <sup>29</sup>out, and intreated him. But he answered and said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, and I never transgressed a commandment of thine: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with <sup>30</sup>my friends: but when this thy son came, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou killedst for him the <sup>31</sup>fatted calf. And he said unto him, <sup>6</sup>Son, thou art ever with me, and all <sup>32</sup>that is mine is thine. But it was meet to make merry and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found. <sup>16</sup>And he said also unto the disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he was wasting <sup>2</sup>his goods. And he called him, and said unto him, What is this that I hear of thee? render the account of thy stewardship; for thou canst be no <sup>3</sup>longer steward. And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, seeing that my lord taketh away the stewardship from me? I have not strength to dig; to beg I am ashamed. <sup>4</sup>I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they <sup>5</sup>may receive me into their houses. And calling to him each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How <sup>6</sup>much owest thou unto my lord? And he said, A hundred <sup>7</sup>measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy <sup>8</sup>bond, and sit down quickly and write fifty. <sup>7</sup>Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred <sup>9</sup>measures of wheat. He saith unto him, Take thy <sup>8</sup>bond, and write <sup>8</sup>four score. And his lord commended <sup>10</sup>the unrighteous steward because he had done wisely: for the sons of this <sup>11</sup>world are for their own generation <sup>9</sup>wiser than the sons of the light. And I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends <sup>12</sup>by means of the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when it shall fail, they may receive you into the <sup>10</sup>eternal tabernacles. He that is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much: and he that is unrighteous in a very <sup>11</sup>little is unrighteous also in much. If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? <sup>12</sup>And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you <sup>13</sup>that which is <sup>13</sup>your own? No <sup>14</sup>servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

<sup>14</sup>And the Pharisees, who were lovers of money, heard all these things; and <sup>15</sup>they scoffed at him. And he said unto them, Ye are they that justify yourselves in the sight of men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is exalted among men is an abomination in the <sup>16</sup>sight of God. The law and the prophets were until John: from that time the gospel of the kingdom of God is preached, and every man entereth violently <sup>17</sup>into it. But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one <sup>18</sup>straw of the law to fall. Every one that putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth one that is put away from a husband committeth adultery. <sup>19</sup>Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, <sup>16</sup>faring sumptuously every day: and a certain beggar named Lazarus was laid at his 21 gate, full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table; yea, even the dogs 22 came and licked his sores. And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by the angels into Abraham's bosom: and the rich man also died, and was 23 buried. And in Hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in 24 his bosom. And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am in anguish in 25 this flame. But Abraham said, <sup>1</sup> Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou 26 art in anguish. And <sup>2</sup> beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they which would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross over from thence 27 to us. And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send 28 him to my father's house; for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this 29 place of torment. But Abraham saith, They have Moses and the prophets; 30 let them hear them. And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one go to them 31 from the dead, they will repent. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.

17 And he said unto his disciples, It is impossible but that occasions of stumbling should come: but woe unto him, 2 through whom they come! It were well for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble.

3 Take heed to yourselves: if thy brother sin, rebuke him; and if he repent, for- 4 give him. And if he sin against thee seven times in the day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, 6 Increase our faith. And the Lord said, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye would say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and be thou planted in the sea; and it would have 7 obeyed you. But who is there of you, having a <sup>3</sup> servant plowing or keeping sheep, that will say unto him, when he is come in from the field, Come 8 straightway and sit down to meat; and will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou

9 shalt eat and drink? Doth he thank the <sup>3</sup> servant because he did the things that 10 were commanded? Even so ye also, when ye shall have done all the things that are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable <sup>4</sup> servants; we have done that which it was our duty to do.

11 And it came to pass, <sup>5</sup> as they were on the way to Jerusalem, that he was passing <sup>6</sup> through the midst of Samaria 12 and Galilee. And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar 13 off: and they lifted up their voices, saying, Jesus, Master, have mercy on 14 us. And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go and shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, as 15 they went, they were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, with a loud voice 16 glorifying God; and he fell upon his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and 17 he was a Samaritan. And Jesus answering said, Were not the ten cleansed? but where are the nine? <sup>7</sup> Were there none found that returned to give 19 glory to God, save this <sup>8</sup> stranger? And he said unto him, Arise, and go thy way: thy faith hath <sup>9</sup> made thee whole.

20 And being asked by the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God cometh, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God 21 cometh not with observation: neither shall they say, Lo, here! or, There! for lo, the kingdom of God is <sup>10</sup> within you.

22 And he said unto the disciples, The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son 23 of man, and ye shall not see it. And they shall say to you, Lo, there! Lo, here! go not away, nor follow after 24 them: for as the lightning, when it lighteneth out of the one part under the heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall the Son 25 of man be <sup>11</sup> in his day. But first must he suffer many things and be 26 rejected of this generation. And as it came to pass in the days of Noah, even so shall it be also in the days 27 of the Son of man. They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, 28 and destroyed them all. Likewise even as it came to pass in the days of Lot; they ate, they drank, they bought, they 29 sold, they planted, they builded; but in the day that Lot went out from Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, 30 and destroyed them all: after the same manner shall it be in the day that the 31 Son of man is revealed. In that day, he which shall be on the housetop, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away: and let him that is in the field likewise not 32 return back. Remember Lot's wife.

I say unto you, In that night there shall be two men on one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. There shall be two women grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.<sup>3</sup> And they answering say unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, Where the body is, thither will the <sup>4</sup> eagles also be gathered together.

18 And he spake a parable unto them to the end that they ought always to pray, and not to faint; saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, and regarded not man: and there was a widow in that city; and she came oft unto him, saying, <sup>5</sup> Avenge me of mine adversary. And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man; yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest she <sup>6</sup> wear me out by her continual coming. And the Lord said, Hear what <sup>7</sup> the unrighteous judge saith. And shall not God avenge his elect, which cry to him day and night, and he is long-suffering over them? I say unto you, that he will avenge them speedily. Howbeit when the Son of man cometh, shall he find <sup>8</sup> faith on the earth?

9 And he spake also this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and set <sup>9</sup> all others at nought: Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

11 The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. I fast twice in the week; I give tithes of all that I get. But the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote his breast, saying, God, <sup>10</sup> be merciful to me <sup>11</sup> a sinner.

14 I say unto you, This man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; but he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

15 And they brought unto him also their babes, that he should touch them: but when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them. But Jesus called them unto him, saying, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein.

18 And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good <sup>12</sup> Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good?

20 none is good, save one, even God. Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and mother. And he said, All these things have I observed from my youth up. And when Jesus heard it, he said unto him, One thing thou lackest yet: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. But when he heard these things, he became exceeding sorrowful; for he was very rich. And Jesus seeing him said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God! For it is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. And they that heard it said, Then who can be saved? But he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God. And Peter said, Lo, we have left <sup>13</sup> our own, and followed thee. And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or wife, or brethren, or parents, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, who shall not receive manifold more in this time, and in the <sup>14</sup> world to come eternal life.

31 And he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all the things that are written <sup>15</sup> by the prophets shall be accomplished unto the Son of man.

32 For he shall be delivered up unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and shamefully entreated, and spit upon: and they shall scourge and kill him: and the third day he shall rise again.

34 And they understood none of these things; and this saying was hid from them, and they perceived not the things that were said.

35 And it came to pass, as he drew nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging; and hearing a multitude going by, he inquired what this meant. And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by. And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me. And they that went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me. And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

42 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath <sup>16</sup> made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

19 And he entered and was passing
2 through Jericho. And behold, a man
3 called by name Zacchæus; and he was rich. And 4 he sought to see Jesus who he was;
5 and could not for the crowd, because he 6 was little of stature. And he ran on 7 before, and climbed up into a sycamore
8 tree to see him: for he was to pass
9 that way. And when Jesus came to the 10 place, he looked up, and said unto him,
11 Zacchæus, make haste, and come down;
12 for to-day I must abide at thy house.
13 And he made haste, and came down, and 14 received him joyfully. And when they 15 saw it, they all murmured, saying, He 16 is gone in to lodge with a man that is a 17 sinner. And Zacchæus stood, and said
18 unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half 19 of my goods I give to the poor; and if I 20 have wrongfully exacted aught of any 21 man, I restore fourfold. And Jesus said 22 unto him, To-day is salvation come to 23 this house, forasmuch as he also is a son 24 of Abraham. For the Son of man came 25 to seek and to save that which was lost.
26 And as they heard these things, he 27 added and spake a parable, because he 28 was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they 29 supposed that the kingdom of God was 30 immediately to appear. He said there-31 fore, A certain nobleman went into a 32 far country, to receive for himself a 33 kingdom, and to return. And he called 34 ten <sup>1</sup> servants of his, and gave them ten 35 pounds, and said unto them, Trade ye 36 herewith till I come. But his citizens 37 hated him, and sent an ambassage after 38 him, saying, We will not that this man
39 reign over us. And it came to pass, 40 when he was come back again, having 41 received the kingdom, that he com-42 manded these <sup>1</sup> servants, unto whom 43 he had given the money, to be called 44 to him, that he might know what they 45 had gained by trading. And the first 46 came before him, saying, Lord, thy 47 pound hath made ten pounds more.
48 And he said unto him, Well done, thou 49 good <sup>2</sup> servant: because thou wast found
50 faithful in a very little, have thou 51 authority over ten cities. And the 52 second came, saying, Thy pound, Lord,
53 hath made five pounds. And he said
54 unto him also, Be thou also over five 55 cities. And <sup>4</sup> another came, saying, 56 Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which 57 I kept laid up in a napkin: for I feared 58 thee, because thou art an austere man:
59 thou takest up that thou laydest not 60 down, and reapest that thou didst not 61 sow. He saith unto him, Out of thine
62 own mouth will I judge thee, thou 63 wicked <sup>3</sup> servant. Thou knewest that 64 I am an austere man, taking up that 65 I laid not down, and reaping that I 66 did not sow; then wherefore gavest
67 thou not my money into the bank,
68 and <sup>5</sup> I at my coming should have

69 required it with interest? And he said
70 unto them that stood by, Take away
71 from him the pound, and give it unto 72 him that hath the ten pounds. And 73 they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten 74 pounds. I say unto you, that unto 75 every one that hath shall be given; but 76 from him that hath not, even that which 77 he hath shall be taken away from him.
78 Howbeit these mine enemies, which 79 would not that I should reign over them, 80 bring hither, and slay them before me.
81 And when he had thus spoken, he
82 went on before, going up to Jerusalem.
83 And it came to pass, when he drew 84 nigh unto Bethphage and Bethany, at 85 the mount that is called the mount of 86 Olives, he sent two of the disciples, say-87 ing, Go your way into the village over 88 against you; in the which as ye enter
89 ye shall find a colt tied, whereon no
90 man ever yet sat: loose him, and bring 91 him. And if any one ask you, Why 92 do ye loose him? thus shall ye say, The 93 Lord hath need of him. And they that 94 were sent went away, and found even 95 as he had said unto them. And as they 96 were loosing the colt, the owners thereof
97 said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?
98 And they said, The Lord hath need of 99 his. And they brought him to Jesus:
100 and they threw their garments upon the 101 colt, and set Jesus thereon. And as he 102 went, they spread their garments in the 103 way. And as he was now drawing nigh, 104 even at the descent of the mount of 105 Olives, the whole multitude of the dis-
106 ciples began to rejoice and praise God
107 with a loud voice for all the <sup>6</sup> mighty 108 works which they had seen; saying, 109 Blessed is the King that cometh in the 110 name of the Lord: peace in heaven, 111 and glory in the highest. And some of 112 the Pharisees from the multitude said
113 unto him, <sup>7</sup> Master, rebuke thy disciples.
114 And he answered and said, I tell you 115 that, if these shall hold their peace, the 116 stones will cry out.
117 And when he drew nigh, he saw the 118 city and wept over it, saying, <sup>8</sup> If thou 119 hadst known in this day, even thou, the 120 things which belong unto peace! but 121 now they are hid from thine eyes. For 122 the days shall come upon thee, when 123 thine enemies shall cast up a <sup>9</sup> bank
124 about thee, and compass thee round, 125 and keep thee in on every side, and 126 shall dash thee to the ground, and thy 127 children within thee; and they shall 128 not leave in thee one stone upon 129 another; because thou knewest not the 130 time of thy visitation.
131 And he entered into the temple, and 132 began to cast out them that sold, say-133 ing unto them, It is written, And my 134 house shall be a house of prayer: but 135 ye have made it a den of robbers.
136 And he was teaching daily in the 137 temple. But the chief priests and the scribes and the principal men of the 48 people sought to destroy him; and they could not find what they might do; for the people all hung upon him, listening.

20 And it came to pass, on one of the days, as he was teaching the people in the temple, and preaching the gospel, there came upon him the chief priests and the scribes with the elders; and they spake, saying unto him, Tell us: By what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority? And he answered and said unto them, I also will ask you a question; and tell me: The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why did ye not believe him? But if we shall say, From men; all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was a prophet. And they answered, that they knew not whence it was. And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 And he began to speak unto the people this parable: A man planted a vineyard, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into another country for a long time. And at the season he sent unto the husbandmen a servant, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty. And he sent yet another servant: and him also they beat, and handled him shamefully, and sent him away empty. And he sent yet a third: and him also they wounded, and cast him forth. And the lord of the vineyard said, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him. But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned one with another, saying, This is the heir: let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours. And they cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do unto them? He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid. But he looked upon them, and said, What then is this that is written,

The stone which the builders rejected,
The same was made the head of the corner?

18 Every one that falleth on that stone shall be broken to pieces; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will scatter him as dust.

19 And the scribes and the chief priests sought to lay hands on him in that very hour; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he spake this parable against them. And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which feigned themselves to be righteous, that they might take hold of his speech, so as to deliver him up to the rule and to the authority of the governor. And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, and acceptest not the person of any, but of a truth teachest the way of God: Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Caesar, or not? But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Shew me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? And they said, Caesar's. And he said unto them, Then render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's. And they were not able to take hold of the saying before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 And there came to him certain of the Sadducees, they which say that there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying, Master, Moses wrote unto us, that if a man's brother die, having a wife, and he be childless, his brother should take the wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died childless; and the second; and the third took her; and likewise the seven also left no children, and died. Afterward the woman also died. 33 In the resurrection therefore whose wife of them shall she be? for the seven had her to wife. And Jesus said unto them, The sons of this world marry, and are given in marriage: but they that are accounted worthy to attain to that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage: for neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection. 37 But that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed, in the place concerning the Bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Now he is not the God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him. And certain of the scribes answering said, Master, thou hast well said. For they durst not any more ask him any question.

41 And he said unto them, How say they that the Christ is David's son? For David himself saith in the book of Psalms,

The Lord said unto my Lord,
Sit thou on my right hand,

43 Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet.

44 David therefore calleth him Lord, and how is he his son?

45 And in the hearing of all the people he said unto his disciples, 46 Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love salutations in the marketplaces, and chief seats in the synagogues, and chief 47 places at feasts; which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater condemnation.

21 And he looked up, <sup>1</sup> and saw the rich men that were casting their gifts into 2 the treasury. And he saw a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites. 3 And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, This poor widow cast in more than 4 they all: for all these did of their superfluity cast in unto the gifts: but she of her want did cast in all the living that she had.

5 And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and 6 offerings, he said, As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in which there shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be 7 thrown down. And they asked him, saying, <sup>2</sup> Master, when therefore shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things are about to 8 come to pass? And he said, Take heed that ye be not led astray: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am he; and, The time is at hand: go ye 9 not after them. And when ye shall hear of wars and tumults, be not terrified: for these things must needs come to pass first; but the end is not immediately.

10 Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom 11 against kingdom: and there shall be great earthquakes, and in divers places famines and pestilences; and there shall be terrors and great signs from 12 heaven. But before all these things, they shall lay their hands on you, and shall persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues and prisons, <sup>3</sup> bringing you before kings and governors for 13 my name's sake. It shall turn unto you 14 for a testimony. Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate beforehand 15 how to answer: for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to with-

16 stand or to gainsay. But ye shall be delivered up even by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolk, and friends; and some of you <sup>4</sup> shall they cause to 17 be put to death. And ye shall be hated 18 of all men for my name's sake. And 19 not a hair of your head shall perish. In your patience ye shall win your <sup>5</sup> souls.

20 But when ye see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that her desolation is at hand. Then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains; and let them that are in the midst of her depart out; and let not them that are in the country enter therein. 22 For these are days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be

23 fulfilled. Woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! for there shall be great distress upon the <sup>6</sup>land, and wrath 24 unto this people. And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led captive into all the nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles 25 be fulfilled. And there shall be signs in sun and moon and stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, in perplexity for the roaring of the sea and 26 the billows; men <sup>7</sup> fainting for fear, and for expectation of the things which are coming on <sup>8</sup> the world: for the powers of 27 the heavens shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great 28 glory. But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads; because your redemption draweth nigh.

29 And he spake to them a parable: Be- 30 hold the fig tree, and all the trees: when they now shoot forth, ye see it and know of your own selves that the summer is 31 now nigh. Even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh. 32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all things be 33 accomplished. Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

34 But take heed to yourselves, lest haply your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and that day come on you suddenly 35 as a snare: for so shall it come upon all them that dwell on the face of all the 36 earth. But watch ye at every season, making supplication, that ye may prevail to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.

37 And every day he was teaching in the temple; and every night he went out, and lodged in the mount that is called 38 the mount of Olives. And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, to hear him.

22 Now the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover. 2 And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might put him to death; for they feared the people. 3 And Satan entered into Judas who was called Iscariot, being of the 4 number of the twelve. And he went away, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might 5 deliver him unto them. And they were glad, and covenanted to give him 6 money. And he consented, and sought opportunity to deliver him unto them <sup>9</sup> in the absence of the multitude.

And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house whereinto he goeth. And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, The <sup>1</sup> Master saith unto thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? And he will shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready. And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14 And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the apostles with him. And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: for I say unto you, I will not eat it, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. And he received a cup, and when he had given thanks, he said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: for I say unto you, I will not drink from henceforth of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come. And he took <sup>2</sup> bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave to them, saying, This is my body <sup>3</sup> which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me.

20 And the cup in like manner after supper, saying, This cup is the new <sup>4</sup> covenant in my blood, even that which is poured out for you. But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table. For the Son of man indeed goeth, as it hath been determined: but woe unto that man through whom he is betrayed! And they began to question among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

24 And there arose also a contention among them, which of them is accounted to be <sup>5</sup> greatest. And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles have lordship over them; and they that have authority over them are called Benefactors. But ye shall not be so: but he that is the greater among you, let him become as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve. For whether is greater, he that <sup>6</sup> sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that <sup>6</sup> sitteth at meat? but I am in the midst of you as he that serveth. But ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations; and <sup>7</sup> I appoint unto you a kingdom, even as my Father appointed unto me a kingdom, that ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom; and ye shall sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

31 Simon, Simon, behold, Satan <sup>8</sup> asked to have you, that he might sift you as wheat: but I made supplication for thee, that thy faith fail not: and do thou, when once thou hast turned again, stablish thy brethren. And he said unto him, Lord, with thee I am ready to go both to prison and to death. And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, until thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 And he said unto them, When I sent you forth without purse, and wallet, and shoes, lacked ye anything? And they said, Nothing. And he said unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise a wallet: <sup>9</sup> and he that hath none, let him sell his cloke, and buy a sword. For I say unto you, that this which is written must be fulfilled in me, And he was reckoned with transgressors: for that which concerneth me hath <sup>10</sup> fulfilled. And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

39 And he came out, and went, as his custom was, unto the mount of Olives; and the disciples also followed him.

40 And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation. And he was parted from them about a stone's cast; and he kneeled down and prayed, saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done. <sup>11</sup> And there appeared unto him an angel from heaven, strengthening him. And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the ground. And when he rose up from his prayer, he came unto the disciples, and found them sleeping for sorrow, and said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, that ye enter not into temptation.

47 While he yet spake, behold, a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them; and he drew near unto Jesus to kiss him. But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? And when they that were about him saw what would follow, they said, Lord, shall we smite with the sword? And a certain one of them smote the <sup>12</sup> servant of the high priest, and struck off his right ear. But Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him. And Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and elders, which were come against him, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves? When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched not forth your hands against me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

54 And they seized him, and led him away, and brought him into the high priest's house. But Peter followed 55 afar off. And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the court, and had sat down together, Peter sat in 56 the midst of them. And a certain maid seeing him as he sat in the light of the fire, and looking stedfastly upon him, said, This man also was 57 with him. But he denied, saying, 58 Woman, I know him not. And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou also art one of them. 59 But Peter said, Man, I am not. And after the space of about one hour another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this man also was with 60 him: for he is a Galilaean. But Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he 61 yet spake, the cock crew. And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said unto him, Before the cock crow this day, 62 thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

63 And the men that held <sup>1</sup> Jesus mocked him, and beat him. And they blindfolded him, and asked him, saying, Prophecy: who is he that struck thee? 65 And many other things spake they against him, reviling him.

66 And as soon as it was day, the assembly of the elders of the people was gathered together, both chief priests and scribes; and they led him away 67 into their council, saying, If thou art the Christ, tell us. But he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe: and if I ask you, ye will not 69 answer. But from henceforth shall the Son of man be seated at the right 70 hand of the power of God. And they all said, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them, <sup>2</sup>Ye say 71 that I am. And they said, What further need have we of witness? for we ourselves have heard from his own mouth.

23 And the whole company of them rose up, and brought him before Pilate. 2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this man perverting our nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cæsar, and saying that he himself is 3<sup>3</sup> Christ a king. And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou 4 sayest. And Pilate said unto the chief priests and the multitudes, I find no 5 fault in this man. But they were the more urgent, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Judea, and beginning from Galilee even unto 6 this place. But when Pilate heard it, he asked whether the man were a Galilean. And when he knew that he was of Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him unto Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem in these days.

8 Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was of a long time desirous to see him, because he had heard concerning him; and he hoped to see some <sup>4</sup>miracle done by him. And he questioned him in many words; but 10 he answered him nothing. And the chief priests and the scribes stood, vehemently accusing him. And Herod with his soldiers set him at nought, and mocked him, and arraying him in gorgeous apparel sent him back to Pilate. 12 And Herod and Pilate became friends with each other that very day: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

13 And Pilate called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, 14 and said unto them, Ye brought unto me this man, as one that perverteth the people: and behold, I, having examined him before you, found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye 15 accuse him: no, nor yet Herod: for he sent him back unto us; and behold, nothing worthy of death hath been done 16 by him. I will therefore chastise him, 18 and release him.<sup>5</sup> But they cried out all together, saying, Away with this 19 man, and release unto us Barabbas: one who for a certain insurrection made in the city, and for murder, was cast into 20 prison. And Pilate spake unto them 21 again, desiring to release Jesus; but they shouted, saying, Crucify, crucify 22 him. And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath this man done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him 23 and release him. But they were instant with loud voices, asking that he might be crucified. And their voices prevailed. 24 And Pilate gave sentence that what 25 they asked for should be done. And he released him that for insurrection and murder had been cast into prison, whom they asked for; but Jesus he delivered up to their will.

26 And when they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and laid on him the cross, to bear it after Jesus.

27 And there followed him a great multitude of the people, and of women who 28 bewailed and lamented him. But Jesus turning unto them said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children. For behold, the days are coming, in which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the breasts that 30 never gave suck. Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us. 31 For if they do these things in the green tree, what shall be done in the dry?

32 And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 And when they came unto the place which is called <sup>1</sup> The skull, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand and the other on the left.

34 <sup>2</sup> And Jesus said, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And parting his garments among them,

35 they cast lots. And the people stood beholding. And the rulers also scoffed at him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if this is the Christ of God, his chosen. And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, offering him vinegar, and saying, If thou art King of the Jews, save thyself. And there was also a superscription over him, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, Art not thou the Christ? save thyself and us.

40 But the other answered, and rebuking him said, Dost thou not even fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss. And he said, Jesus, remember me when thou comest <sup>3</sup> in thy kingdom. And he said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

44 And it was now about the sixth hour, and a darkness came over the whole 45 land until the ninth hour, <sup>4</sup> the sun's light failing: and the veil of the <sup>5</sup> temple was rent in the midst. <sup>7</sup> And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said this, he gave up the ghost. And when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man. And all the multitudes that came together to this sight, when they beheld the things that were done, returned smiting their breasts. And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed with him from Galilee, stood afar off, seeing these things.

50 And behold, a man named Joseph, who was a counsellor, a good man and

51 a righteous (he had not consented to their counsel and deed), a man of Arimathæa, a city of the Jews, who was looking for the kingdom of God:

52 this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. And he took it down, and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb that was hewn in stone, where never man

54 had yet lain. And it was the day of the Preparation, and the sabbath

55 <sup>8</sup> drew on. And the women, which had come with him out of Galilee, followed after, and beheld the tomb, and 56 how his body was laid. And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments.

24 And on the sabbath they rested according to the commandment. But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they came unto the tomb, bringing the spices which they had

2 prepared. And they found the stone rolled away from the tomb. And they entered in, and found not the body

4 <sup>9</sup> of the Lord Jesus. And it came to pass, while they were perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them

5 in dazzling apparel: and as they were affrighted, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye <sup>10</sup> the living among the dead? <sup>11</sup> He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee,

7 saying that the Son of man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third

8 day rise again. And they remembered his words, and returned <sup>12</sup> from the tomb, and told all these things to the eleven, and to all the rest. Now they were Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James: and the other women with them told these

11 things unto the apostles. And these words appeared in their sight as idle talk; and they disbelieved them.

12 <sup>13</sup> But Peter arose, and ran unto the tomb; and stooping and looking in, he seeth the linen cloths by themselves; and he <sup>14</sup> departed to his home, wondering at that which was come to pass.

13 And behold, two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which was threescore furlongs

14 from Jerusalem. And they communed with each other of all these things which had happened. And it came to pass, while they communed and questioned together, that Jesus himself

16 drew near, and went with them. But their eyes were holden that they should not know him. And he said unto them, <sup>15</sup> What communications are these that ye have one with another, as ye walk? And they stood

18 still, looking sad. And one of them, named Cleopas, answering said unto him, <sup>16</sup> Dost thou alone sojourn in Jerusalem and not know the things which are come to pass there in these days?

19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, The things concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people: and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him. But we hoped that it was he which should redeem Israel. Yea and beside all this, it is now the third day since these things came to company amazed us, having been early 23 at the tomb; and when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which 24 said that he was alive. And certain of them that were with us went to the tomb, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw 25 not. And he said unto them, O foolish men, and slow of heart to believe <sup>1</sup>in 26 all that the prophets have spoken! Behaved it not the Christ to suffer these things, and to enter into his glory?

 27 And beginning from Moses and from all the prophets, he interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things con-28 cerning himself. And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they were going; and he made as though he would 29 go further. And they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is now far spent.
 And he went in to abide with them.
 30 And it came to pass, when he had sat down with them to meat, he took the <sup>2</sup>bread, and blessed it, and brake, and 31 gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he 32 vanished out of their sight. And they said one to another, Was not our heart burning within us, while he spake to us in the way, while he opened to us 33 the scriptures? And they rose up that very hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and 35 hath appeared to Simon. And they rehearsed the things that happened in the way, and how he was known of them in the breaking of the bread.
 36 And as they spake these things, he himself stood in the midst of them, <sup>3</sup>and saith unto them, Peace be unto 37 you. But they were terrified and af-frightened, and supposed that they be-38 held a spirit. And he said unto them,

 Why are ye troubled? and wherefore 39 do reasonings arise in your heart? See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye behold 40 me having. <sup>4</sup>And when he had said this, he shewed them his hands and his 41 feet. And while they still disbelieved for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here anything to eat?
 42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled 43 fish <sup>5</sup>. And he took it, and did eat before them.
 44 And he said unto them, These are my words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, how that all things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Moses, and the prophets, and the psalms, concerning me.
 45 Then opened he their mind, that they 46 might understand the scriptures; and he said unto them, Thus it is written,
 that the Christ should suffer, and rise 47 again from the dead the third day; and that repentance <sup>6</sup>and remission of sins should be preached in his name unto all the <sup>7</sup>nations, beginning from Jeru-48 salem. Ye are witnesses of these things.
 49 And behold, I send forth the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city, until ye be clothed with power from on high.
 50 And he led them out until they were over against Bethany: and he lifted 51 up his hands, and blessed them. And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he parted from them, <sup>8</sup>and was carried up into heaven. And they <sup>9</sup>worshipped him, and returned to Jerusa-

THE GOSPEL

S. JOHN.

1 IN the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word 2 was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made <sup>1</sup>by him; and without him <sup>2</sup>was not anything made that hath been 4 made. In him was life; and the life
 5 was the light of men. And the light shineth in the darkness; and the dark-6 ness <sup>3</sup>apprehended it not. There came a man, sent from God, whose name 7 was John. The same came for witness, that he might bear witness of the light, that all might believe through 8 him. He was not the light, but came that he might bear witness of the light.
 9 <sup>4</sup>There was the true light, even the light which lighteth <sup>5</sup>every man, com-10 ing into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made <sup>1</sup>by 11 him, and the world knew him not. He came unto <sup>6</sup>his own, and they that were 12 his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he the right to become children of God, even to them that believe on his name: 13 which were <sup>7</sup>born, not of <sup>8</sup>blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will 14 of man, but of God. And the Word became flesh, and <sup>9</sup>dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, glory as of <sup>10</sup>the only begotten from the Fa-15 ther), full of grace and truth. John saying, <sup>1</sup>This was he of whom I said, He that cometh after me is become before me: for he was <sup>2</sup>before me. For of his fullness we all received, and grace for grace.

17 For the law was given <sup>3</sup>by Moses; grace and truth came <sup>4</sup>by Jesus Christ. No man hath seen God at any time; <sup>4</sup>the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.
19 And this is the witness of John, when the Jews sent unto him from Jerusalem priests and Levites to ask him, 20 Who art thou? And he confessed, and denied not; and he confessed, I am not the Christ. And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elijah? And he saith, I am not. Art thou the prophet? And <sup>2</sup>he answered, No. They said therefore unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us.
23 What sayest thou of thyself? He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the 24 Lord, as said Isaiah the prophet. <sup>5</sup>And they had been sent from the Pharisees.
25 And they asked him, and said unto him, Why then baptizest thou, if thou art not the Christ, neither Elijah, neither the 26 prophet? John answered them, saying, I baptize <sup>6</sup>with water: in the midst of you standeth one whom ye know not,
27 even he that cometh after me, the latchet of whose shoe I am not worthy to 28 unloose. These things were done in <sup>7</sup>Bethany beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.
29 On the morrow he seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold, the Lamb of God, which <sup>8</sup>taketh away the sin of 30 the world! This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is become 31 before me: for he was <sup>2</sup>before me. And I knew him not; but that he should be made manifest to Israel, for this cause 32 came I baptizing <sup>6</sup>with water. And John bare witness, saying, I have beheld the Spirit descending as a dove out of heaven; and it abode upon him.
33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize <sup>6</sup>with water, he said unto me, Upon whomsoever thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and abiding upon him, the same is he that baptizeth <sup>6</sup>with 34 the Holy Spirit. And I have seen, and have borne witness that this is the Son of God.
35 Again on the morrow John was standing, and two of his disciples; and he looked upon Jesus as he walked, and 37 saith, Behold, the Lamb of God! And the two disciples heard him speak, and 38 they followed Jesus. And Jesus turned, and beheld them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? And they said unto him, Rabbi (which is to say, being interpreted, <sup>9</sup>Master), where 39 abidest thou? He saith unto them, Come, and ye shall see. They came therefore and saw where he abode; and they abode with him that day: it was <sup>40</sup>about the tenth hour. One of the two that heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother.

41 He findeth first his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messiah (which is, being 42 interpreted, <sup>10</sup>Christ). He brought him unto Jesus. Jesus looked upon him, and said, Thou art Simon the son of 43 <sup>11</sup>John: thou shalt be called Cephas (which is by interpretation, <sup>12</sup>Peter).
43 On the morrow he was minded to go forth into Galilee, and he findeth Philip: and Jesus saith unto him, Follow me.
44 Now Philip was from Bethsaida, of the city of Andrew and Peter. Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus 46 of Nazareth, the son of Joseph. And Nathanael said unto him, Can any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip 47 saith unto him, Come and see. Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold, an Israelite indeed, in 48 whom is no guile! Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before 49 Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee. Nathanael answered him, Rabbi, thou art the Son
50 of God; thou art King of Israel. Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee underneath the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt 51 see greater things than these. And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye shall see the heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.
2 And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: and Jesus also was bidden, and his disciples, to the 3 marriage. And when the wine failed, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, 4 They have no wine. And Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.
5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.
6 Now there were six waterpots of stone set there after the Jews' manner of purifying, containing two or three firkins apiece. Jesus saith unto them,
7 Fill the waterpots with water. And 8 they filled them up to the brim. And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the <sup>13</sup>ruler of the feast. And 9 they bare it. And when the ruler of the feast tasted the water <sup>14</sup>now become wine, and knew not whence it was (but the servants which had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the feast 10 calleth the bridegroom, and saith unto him, Every man setteth on first the good wine; and when men have drunk freely, then that which is worse:

<sup>14</sup> Or, that it had become

11 This beginning of his signs did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: and there they abode not many days.

13 And the passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

14 And he found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the 15 changers of money sitting: and he made a scourge of cords, and cast all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen;

and he poured out the changers' money, and overthrew their tables; and to them

16 that sold the doves he said, Take these things hence; make not my Father's

17 house a house of merchandize. His disciples remembered that it was written,

The zeal of thine house shall eat me up.

18 The Jews therefore answered and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this <sup>1</sup> temple, and in three days

20 I will raise it up. The Jews therefore said, Forty and six years was this <sup>1</sup> temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up

21 in three days? But he spake of the <sup>2</sup> temple of his body. When therefore he was 22 raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he spake this; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, during the feast, many believed

24 on his name, beholding his signs which he did. But Jesus did not trust

25 himself unto them, for that he knew all men, and because he needed not that

26 any one should bear witness concerning <sup>2</sup> man; for he himself knew what was in man.

3 Now there was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the

2 Jews: the same came unto him by night, and said to him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these signs that thou

3 doest, except God be with him. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily,

3 verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born <sup>3</sup> anew, he cannot see the kingdom

4 of God. Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old?

4 can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born? Jesus answered,

Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and the 5 Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the 6 flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not that I

7 said unto thee, Ye must be born <sup>3</sup> anew. <sup>4</sup> The wind bloweth where it listeth, and

8 thou hearest the voice thereof, but knowest not whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is 9 born of the Spirit. Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these 10 things be? Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou the teacher of Israel, and understandest not these things?

11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and bear witness of 12 that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness. If I told you earthly 13 things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you heavenly things?

14 And no man hath ascended into heaven, but he that descended out of heaven,

15 even the Son of man, <sup>5</sup> which is in heaven. And as Moses lifted up the 16 serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: that whoso-

17 ever <sup>6</sup> believeth may in him have eternal life.

18 For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whoso-

19 ever believeth on him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God sent

20 not the Son into the world to judge the world; but that the world should be

21 saved through him. He that believeth on him is not judged: he that believ-

22 eth not hath been judged already, because he hath not believed on the name

23 of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the judgement, that the light is 24 come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the light; for their

25 works were evil. For every one that

26 doeth ill hateth the light, and cometh not to the light, lest his works should be

27 <sup>7</sup> reproved. But he that doeth the truth cometh to the light, that his works may 28 be made manifest, <sup>8</sup> that they have been wrought in God.

29 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judæa; and 30 there he tarried with them, and baptized. And John also was baptizing in

31 Ænon near to Salim, because there <sup>10</sup> was much water there: and they came, and

32 were baptized. For John was not yet cast into prison. There arose therefore 33 a questioning on the part of John's disciples with a Jew about purifying. And

34 they came unto John, and said to him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond

35 Jordan, to whom thou hast borne witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all

36 men come to him. John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except 37 it have been given him from heaven. Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, 38 I am not the Christ, but, that I am sent before him. He that hath the bride is 39 the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and hear-

40 eth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy

41 therefore is fulfilled. He must increase, but I must decrease.

of the earth, and of the earth he speaketh: <sup>1</sup> he that cometh from heaven is 32 above all. What he hath seen and heard, of that he beareth witness; and 33 no man receiveth his witness. He that hath received his witness hath set his 34 seal to this, that God is true. For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for he giveth not the 35 Spirit by measure. The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things 36 into his hand. He that believeth on the Son hath eternal life; but he that <sup>2</sup>obeyeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

4 When therefore the Lord knew how that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus was making and baptizing more <sup>2</sup>disciples than John (although Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples), 3 he left Judea, and departed again into 4 Galilee. And he must needs pass 5 through Samaria. So he cometh to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to 6 his son Joseph: and Jacob's <sup>3</sup>well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat <sup>4</sup>thus by the <sup>3</sup>well.

7 It was about the sixth hour. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me 8 to drink. For his disciples were gone 9 away into the city to buy food. The Samaritan woman therefore saith unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a Samaritan woman? (<sup>5</sup>For Jews have no 10 dealings with Samaritans.) Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.

11 The woman saith unto him, <sup>6</sup>Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou 12 that living water? Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and 13 his sons, and his cattle? Jesus answered and said unto her, Every one that drinketh of this water shall thirst 14 again; but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall become in him a well of water 15 springing up unto eternal life. The woman saith unto him, <sup>6</sup>Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come 16 all the way hither to draw. Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and 17 come hither. The woman answered and said unto him, I have no husband. Jesus saith unto her, Thou saidst well, 18 I have no husband: for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: this hast thou 19 said truly. The woman saith unto him,

27 And upon this came his disciples; and they marvelled that he was speaking with a woman; yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why speakest thou with her? So the woman left her waterpot, and went away into the city, and saith to the men, Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I 30 did: can this be the Christ? They went out of the city, and were coming 31 to him. In the mean while the disciples prayed him, saying, Rabbi, eat. 32 But he said unto them, I have meat 33 to eat that ye know not. The disciples therefore said one to another, Hath any 34 man brought him ought to eat? Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to accomplish his work. Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh the harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, that they are <sup>9</sup>white already unto harvest. 36 He that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal; that he that soweth and he that reapeth may 37 rejoice together. For herein is the saying true, One soweth, and another 38 reapeth. I sent you to reap that whereon ye have not laboured: others have laboured, and ye are entered into their labour.

39 And from that city many of the Samaritans believed on him because of the word of the woman, who testified, He 40 told me all things that ever I did. So when the Samaritans came unto him, they besought him to abide with them: 41 and he abode there two days. And many more believed because of his 42 word; and they said to the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy speaking: for we have heard for ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Saviour of the world.

43 And after the two days he went 44 forth from thence into Galilee. For <sup>7</sup> Or, for such the Father also seeketh

<sup>8</sup> Or, God is spirit

<sup>9</sup> Or, white unto harvest. Already he that reapeth &c.

Jesus himself testified, that a prophet 45 hath no honour in his own country. So when he came into Galilee, the Galilæans received him, having seen all the things that he did in Jerusalem at the feast: for they also went unto the feast.

46 He came therefore again unto Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain <sup>1</sup>nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum.

47 When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judæa into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son; for he was at the point of death. Jesus therefore said unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will in no wise believe.

48 The <sup>1</sup>nobleman saith unto him, <sup>2</sup>Sir, 50 come down ere my child die. Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. The man believed the word that Jesus spake unto him, and he went

51 his way. And as he was now going down, his <sup>3</sup>servants met him, saying, 52 that his son lived. So he inquired of them the hour when he began to amend. They said therefore unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour

53 the fever left him. So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his 54 whole house. This is again the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Judæa into Galilee.

5 After these things there was <sup>4</sup>a feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2 Now there is in Jerusalem by the sheep gate a pool, which is called in Hebrew

3 <sup>5</sup>Bethesda, having five porches. In these lay a multitude of them that were 5 sick, blind, halt, withered<sup>6</sup>. And a certain man was there, which had been thirty and eight years in his infirmity.

6 When Jesus saw him lying, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wouldest thou 7 be made whole? The sick man answered him, <sup>2</sup>Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another

8 steppeth down before me. Jesus saith unto him, Arise, take up thy bed, and 9 walk. And straightway the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked.

Now it was the sabbath on that day. 10 So the Jews said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath, and it is not

11 lawful for thee to take up thy bed. But he answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up 12 thy bed, and walk. They asked him, Who is the man that said unto thee,

13 Take up thy bed, and walk? But he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a

14 multitude being in the place. Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse

15 thing befall thee. The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus 16 which had made him whole. And for this cause did the Jews persecute Jesus, because he did these things on the sab-

17 bath. But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh even until now, and I 18 work. For this cause therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only brake the sabbath, but also called God his own Father, making himself equal with God.

19 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you. The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father doing: for what things soever he doeth, these the Son

20 also doeth in like manner. For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and greater works than these will he shew 21 him, that ye may marvel. For as the Father raiseth the dead and quickeneth them, even so the Son also quickeneth whom he will. For neither doth the Father judge any man, but he hath

22 given all judgement unto the Son; that all may honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honour-eth not the Son honour-eth not the Fa-

23 ther which sent him. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth him that sent me, hath eternal life, and cometh not into judgement, but hath passed out of 25 death into life. Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour cometh, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear 26 shall live. For as the Father hath life in himself, even so gave he to the Son 27 also to have life in himself: and he gave him authority to execute judgement, because he is <sup>7</sup>the Son of man.

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour cometh, in which all that are in the tombs 29 shall hear his voice, and shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have <sup>8</sup>done ill, unto the resurrection of judgement.

30 I can of myself do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgement is righteous; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

31 If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true. It is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth 33 of me is true. Ye have sent unto John, and he hath borne witness unto the 34 truth. But the witness which I receive is not from man: howbeit I say these 35 things, that ye may be saved. He was the lamp that burneth and shineth :

 and ye were willing to rejoyce for a 36 season in his light. But the witness which I have is greater than that of John : for the works which the Father hath given me to accomplish, the very works that I do, bear witness of me, 37 that the Father hath sent me. And the Father which sent me, he hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen 38 his form. And ye have not his word abiding in you : for whom he sent, him 39 ye believe not. <sup>1</sup> Ye search the scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life ; and these are they 40 which bear witness of me ; and ye will not come to me, that ye may have life.
 41 I receive not glory from men. But 42 I know you, that ye have not the love of God in yourselves. I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not : if another shall come in his own 44 name, him ye will receive. How can ye believe, which receive glory one of another, and the glory that cometh from 45 <sup>2</sup> the only God ye seek not ? Think not that I will accuse you to the Father :
 there is one that accuseth you, even
 Moses, on whom ye have set your hope.
 46 For if ye believed Moses, ye would 47 believe me ; for he wrote of me. But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words ?
 6 After these things Jesus went away
 to the other side of the sea of Galilee, 2 which is the sea of Tiberias. And a great multitude followed him, because they beheld the signs which he did on 3 them that were sick. And Jesus went up into the mountain, and there he sat 4 with his disciples. Now the passover, the feast of the Jews, was at hand.
 5 Jesus therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude cometh unto him, saith unto Philip,
 Whence are we to buy <sup>3</sup> bread, that 6 these may eat ? And this he said to prove him : for he himself knew what 7 he would do. Philip answered him,
 Two hundred <sup>4</sup> pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every 8 one may take a little. One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, 9 saith unto him, There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two fishes : but what are these among so 10 many ? Jesus said, Make the people sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in 11 number about five thousand. Jesus therefore took the loaves ; and having given thanks, he distributed to them that were set down ; likewise also of 12 the fishes as much as they would. And when they were filled, he saith unto his disciples, Gather up the broken pieces which remain over, that no-13 thing be lost. So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which remained over unto them 14 that had eaten. When therefore the people saw the <sup>5</sup> sign which he did, they said, This is of a truth the prophet that cometh into the world.

 15 Jesus therefore perceiving that they were about to come and take him by force, to make him king, withdrew again into the mountain himself alone.
 16 And when evening came, his disciples 17 went down unto the sea ; and they entered into a boat, and were going over the sea unto Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus had not yet 18 come to them. And the sea was rising by reason of a great wind that blew.
 19 When therefore they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they beheld Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the boat : and they 20 were afraid. But he saith unto them, 21 It is I ; be not afraid. They were willing therefore to receive him into the boat : and straightway the boat was at the land whither they were going.
 22 On the morrow the multitude which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other <sup>6</sup> boat there, save one, and that Jesus entered not with his disciples into the boat, but that 23 his disciples went away alone (howbeit there came <sup>7</sup> boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they ate the bread after the Lord had given thanks) :
 24 when the multitude therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they themselves got into the 7 boats, and came to Capernaum, seek-25 ing Jesus. And when they found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou 26 hither ? Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw signs, but because ye ate of the loaves, and 27 were filled. Work not for the meat which perisheth, but for the meat which abideth unto eternal life, which the Son of man shall give unto you :
 for him the Father, even God, hath 28 sealed. They said therefore unto him, What must we do, that we may 29 work the works of God ? Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him 30 whom <sup>8</sup> he hath sent. They said therefore unto him, What then doest thou for a sign, that we may see, and be-31 lieve thee ? what workest thou ? Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness ; as it is written, He gave them 32 bread out of heaven to eat. Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, It was not Moses that gave you the bread out of heaven ; but my Father giveth you the true bread out

33 of heaven. For the bread of God is that which cometh down out of heaven, 34 and giveth life unto the world. They said therefore unto him, Lord, ever- 35 more give us this bread. Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on me shall never 36 thirst. But I said unto you, that ye 37 have seen me, and yet believe not. All that which the Father giveth me shall come unto me; and him that cometh 38 to me I will in no wise cast out. For I am come down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him 39 that sent me. And this is the will of him that sent me, that of all that which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up at the 40 last day. For this is the will of my Father, that every one that beholdeth the Son, and believeth on him, should have eternal life; and <sup>1</sup>I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, I am the bread which came down out of heaven. 42 And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how doth he now say, I am 43 come down out of heaven? Jesus answered and said unto them, Murmur 44 not among yourselves. No man can come to me, except the Father which sent me draw him: and I will raise 45 him up in the last day. It is written in the prophets, And they shall all be taught of God. Every one that hath heard from the Father, and hath learned 46 it, cometh unto me. Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is from God, he hath seen the Father. 47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that 48 believeth hath eternal life. I am the 49 bread of life. Your fathers did eat the manna in the wilderness, and they 50 died. This is the bread which cometh down out of heaven, that a man may 51 eat thereof, and not die. I am the living bread which came down out of heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: yea and the bread which I will give is my flesh, for the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore strove one with another, saying, How can this man 53 give us his flesh to eat? Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, 54 ye have not life in yourselves. He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood hath eternal life; and I will 55 raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is <sup>2</sup>meat indeed, and my 56 blood is <sup>3</sup>drink indeed. He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood 57 abideth in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father; so he that eateth me, he also shall live because 58 of me. This is the bread which came down out of heaven: not as the fathers did eat, and died: he that eateth this bread shall live for ever. 59 These things said he in <sup>4</sup>the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they heard this, said, This is a 61 hard saying; who can hear <sup>5</sup>it? But Jesus knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said unto them, Doth this cause you to stumble? What then if ye should behold the Son of man ascending where 63 he was before? It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I have spoken 64 unto you are spirit, and are life. But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who it was that should betray 65 him. And he said, For this cause have I said unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it be given unto him of the Father.

66 Upon this many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. 67 Jesus said therefore unto the twelve, 68 Would ye also go away? Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou <sup>6</sup>hast the words of eternal 69 life. And we have believed and know that thou art the Holy One of God. 70 Jesus answered them, Did not I choose you the twelve, and one of you is a 71 devil? Now he spake of Judas the son of Simon Iscariot, for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

7 And after these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Judæa, because the Jews sought to kill him. 2 Now the feast of the Jews, the feast of 3 tabernacles, was at hand. His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judæa, that thy disciples also may behold thy works which 4 thou doest. For no man doeth anything in secret, <sup>7</sup>and himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou doest these things, manifest thyself to the 5 world. For even his brethren did not 6 believe on him. Jesus therefore saith unto them, My time is not yet come; 7 but your time is always ready. The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that its works 8 are evil. Go ye up unto the feast: I go not up <sup>8</sup>yet unto this feast; because 9 my time is not yet fulfilled. And having said these things unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 But when his brethren were gone up unto the feast, then went he also up, not publicly, but as it were in 11 secret. The Jews therefore sought him at the feast, and said, Where is 12 he? And there was much murmuring among the multitudes concerning him: some said, He is a good man; others said, Not so, but he leadeth the multitude astray. Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews.

14 But when it was now the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. The Jews therefore marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned? Jesus therefore answered them, and said, My teaching is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man willet to do his will, he shall know of the teaching, whether it be of God, or whether I speak from myself. He that speaketh from himself seeketh his own glory; but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you doeth the law? Why seek ye to kill me?

20 The multitude answered, Thou hast a <sup>1</sup> devil: who seeketh to kill thee? Jesus answered and said unto them, I did one work, and ye all <sup>2</sup> marvel. For this cause hath Moses given you circumcision (not that it is of Moses, but of the fathers); and on the sabbath ye circumsise a man. If a man receiveth circumcision on the sabbath, that the law of Moses may not be broken; are ye wroth with me, because I made a man every whit whole on the sabbath? Judge not according to appearance, but judge righteous judgement.

25 Some therefore of them of Jerusalem said, Is not this he whom they seek to kill? And lo, he speaketh openly, and they say nothing unto him. Can it be that the rulers indeed know that this is the Christ? Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when the Christ cometh, no one knoweth whence he is. Jesus therefore cried in the temple, teaching and saying, Ye both know me, and know whence I am; and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not. I know him; because I am from him, and he sent me. They sought therefore to take him: and no man laid his hand on him, because his hour was not yet come. But of the multitude many believed on him; and they said, When the Christ shall come, will he do more signs than those which this man hath done? The Pharisees heard the multitude murmuring these things concerning him; and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent officers to take him.

33 Jesus therefore said, Yet a little while am I with you, and I go unto him that sent me. Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come. The Jews therefore said among themselves, Whither will this man go that we shall not find him? will he go unto the Dispersion<sup>3</sup> among the Greeks, and teach the Greeks? What is this word that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come?

37 Now on the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believed on him were to receive: <sup>4</sup> for the Spirit was not yet given; because Jesus was not yet glorified. Some of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, This is of a truth the prophet. Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, What, doth the Christ come out of Galilee? Hath not the scripture said that the Christ cometh of the seed of David, and from Bethlehem, the village where David was? So there arose a division in the multitude because of him. And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why did ye not bring him? The officers answered, Never man so spake. The Pharisees therefore answered them, Are ye also led astray? Hath any of the rulers believed on him, or of the Pharisees? But this multitude which knoweth not the law are accursed. Nicodemus saith unto them (he that came to him before, being one of them), Doth our law judge a man, except it first hear from himself and know what he doeth? They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and <sup>5</sup> see that out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 <sup>6</sup> And they went every man unto his own house: but Jesus went unto the mount of Olives. And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them. And the scribes and the Pharisees bring a woman taken in adultery; and having set her in the midst, they say unto him, <sup>7</sup> Master, this woman hath been taken in adultery, in the very act. Now in the law Moses commanded us to stone such: <sup>8</sup> what then sayest thou of her? And this they said, <sup>8</sup> tempting him, that they might have whereof to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. But when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her. And again he heard it, went out one by one, begin-and Jesus was left alone, and the wo-

10 And Jesus lifted up himself, and said unto her, Woman, where are they? did 11 no man condemn thee? And she said,
No man, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn thee: go thy way; from henceforth sin no more.]

12 Again therefore Jesus spake unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the 13 light of life. The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest witness of 14 thyself; thy witness is not true. Jesus answered and said unto them, Even if I bear witness of myself, my witness is true; for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye know not whence 15 I come, or whither I go. Ye judge 16 after the flesh; I judge no man. Yea and if I judge, my judgement is true;
for I am not alone, but I and the Father 17 that sent me. Yea and in your law it is written, that the witness of two men 18 is true. I am he that beareth witness of myself, and the Father that sent me 19 beareth witness of me. They said therefore unto him, Where is thy Father?
Jesus answered, Ye know neither me,
nor my Father: if ye knew me, ye 20 would know my Father also. These words spake he in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man took him; because his hour was not yet come.
21 He said therefore again unto them, I go away, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sin: whither I go, ye cannot 22 come. The Jews therefore said, Will he kill himself, that he saith, Whither 23 I go, ye cannot come? And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I 24 am not of this world. I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins:
for except ye believe that <sup>1</sup>I am he, 25 ye shall die in your sins. They said therefore unto him, Who art thou?
Jesus said unto them, <sup>2</sup>Even that which I have also spoken unto you from the 26 beginning. I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you:
howbeit he that sent me is true; and the things which I heard from him, 27 these speak I <sup>3</sup>unto the world. They perceived not that he spake to them of 28 the Father. Jesus therefore said, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that <sup>4</sup>I am he, and that I do nothing of myself, but as the Father taught me, I speak these things.
29 And he that sent me is with me;

he hath not left me alone; for I do always the things that are pleasing to 30 him. As he spake these things, many believed on him.
31 Jesus therefore said to those Jews which had believed him, If ye abide in my word, then are ye truly my disciples; 32 and ye shall know the truth, and the 33 truth shall make you free. They answered unto him, We be Abraham's seed, and have never yet been in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye 34 shall be made free? Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Every one that committeth sin is the 35 bondservant of sin. And the bondservant abideth not in the house for ever:
36 the son abideth for ever. If therefore the Son shall make you free, ye shall be 37 free indeed. I know that ye are Abraham's seed; yet ye seek to kill me, because my word <sup>5</sup>hath not free course in 38 you. I speak the things which I have seen with <sup>6</sup>my Father: and ye also do the things which ye heard from your 39 father. They answered and said unto him, Our father is Abraham. Jesus saith unto them, If ye <sup>7</sup>were Abraham's children, <sup>8</sup>ye would do the works of 40 Abraham. But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth,
which I heard from God: this did not 41 Abraham. Ye do the works of your father. They said unto him, We were not born of fornication; we have one 42 Father, even God. Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I came forth and am come from God; for neither have 43 I come of myself, but he sent me. Why do ye not <sup>9</sup>understand my speech?
Even because ye cannot hear my word.
44 Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father it is your will to do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and <sup>10</sup>stood not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. <sup>11</sup>When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father 45 thereof. But because I say the truth, 46 ye believe me not. Which of you convicteth me of sin? If I say truth, why 47 do ye not believe me? He that is of God heareth the words of God: for this cause ye hear them not, because ye are 48 not of God. The Jews answered and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a <sup>12</sup>devil?
49 Jesus answered, I have not a <sup>12</sup>devil;
but I honour my Father, and ye dis-50 honour me. But I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: 54 whom makest thou thyself? Jesus answered, If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing: it is my Father that glorifieth me; of whom ye say, that he is 55 your God; and ye have not known him: but I know him; and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be like unto you, a liar: but I know him, and 56 keep his word. Your father Abraham rejoiced<sup>1</sup> to see my day; and he saw 57 it, and was glad. The Jews therefore said unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham? 58 Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham<sup>2</sup> was, I 59 am. They took up stones therefore to cast at him: but Jesus<sup>3</sup> hid himself, and went out of the temple<sup>4</sup>.

9 And as he passed by, he saw a man 2 blind from his birth. And his disciples asked him, saying, Rabbi, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he should 3 be born blind? Jesus answered, Neither did this man sin, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made 4 manifest in him. We must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man 5 can work. When I am in the world, 6 I am the light of the world. When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, 6 and anointed his eyes with the clay, 7 and said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent). He went away therefore, and 8 washed, and came seeing. The neighbours therefore, and they which saw him aforetime, that he was a beggar, said, Is not this he that sat and begged? 9 Others said, It is he: others said, No, but he is like him. He said, I am he.

10 They said therefore unto him, How 11 then were thine eyes opened? He answered, The man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to Siloam, and wash: so I went away and washed, 12 and I received sight. And they said unto him, Where is he? He saith, I know not.

13 They bring to the Pharisees him 14 that aforetime was blind. Now it was the sabbath on the day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. 15 Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. And he said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do 16 see. Some therefore of the Pharisees said, This man is not from God, because he keepeth not the sabbath. But others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such signs? And there was a 17 division among them. They say therefore unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, in that he opened thine eyes? And he said, He is a 18 prophet. The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that 19 had received his sight, and asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he 20 now see? His parents answered and said, We know that this is our son, and 21 that he was born blind: but how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he is of age; he shall speak for himself.

22 These things said his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man should confess him to be Christ, he should be 23 put out of the synagogue. Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him. 24 So they called a second time the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give glory to God: we know that this man 25 is a sinner. He therefore answered, Whether he be a sinner, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was 26 blind, now I see. They said therefore unto him, What did he to thee? how 27 opened he thine eyes? He answered them, I told you even now, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? would ye also become his dis- 28 ciples? And they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are dis- 29 ciples of Moses. We know that God hath spoken unto Moses: but as for this man, we know not whence he is.

30 The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is the marvel, that ye know not whence he is, and yet he opened 31 mine eyes. We know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and do his will, 32 him he heareth. Since the world began it was never heard that any one opened 33 the eyes of a man born blind. If this man were not from God, he could do 34 nothing. They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and finding him, he said, Dost thou believe on<sup>6</sup> the Son of God? He answered and said, And who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him? 37 Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and he it is that speaketh 38 with thee. And he said, Lord, I 39 believe. And he worshipped him. And Jesus said, For judgement came I into this world, that they which see not may see; and that they which see may 40 become blind. Those of the Pharisees which were with him heard these things, and said unto him, Are we also blind? 41 Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye would have no sin: but now ye say, We see: your sin remaineth.

10 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. But he that entereth in by the door is <sup>1</sup>the shepherd of the sheep.

3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth 4 them out. When he hath put forth all his own, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know 5 his voice. And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they 6 know not the voice of strangers. This <sup>2</sup>parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Jesus therefore said unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am 8 the door of the sheep. All that came before me are thieves and robbers: but 9 the sheep did not hear them. I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and go 10 out, and shall find pasture. The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and kill, and destroy: I came that they may have life, and may <sup>3</sup>have it 11 abundantly. I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd layeth down his life 12 for the sheep. He that is a hireling, and not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, beholdeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the wolf snatcheth them, 13 and scattereth them: he fleeth because he is a hireling, and careth not for the 14 sheep. I am the good shepherd; and I know mine own, and mine own know 15 me, even as the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father; and I lay down 16 my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must <sup>4</sup>bring, and they shall hear my voice; and <sup>5</sup>they shall become one 17 flock, one shepherd. Therefore doth the Father love me, because I lay down 18 my life, that I may take it again. No one <sup>6</sup>taketh it away from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have <sup>7</sup>power to lay it down, and I have <sup>7</sup>power to take it again. This commandment received I from my Father.

19 There arose a division again among 20 the Jews because of these words. And many of them said, He hath a <sup>8</sup>devil, 21 and is mad; why hear ye him? Others said, These are not the sayings of one possessed with a <sup>8</sup>devil. Can a <sup>8</sup>devil open the eyes of the blind?

22 <sup>9</sup>And it was the feast of the dedication at Jerusalem: it was winter; 23 and Jesus was walking in the temple 24 in Solomon's porch. The Jews therefore came round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou hold us in suspense? If thou art the 25 Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believe not: the works that I do in my Father's 26 name, these bear witness of me. But ye believe not, because ye are not of 27 my sheep. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: 28 and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, and no one shall snatch them out of my hand.

29 <sup>10</sup>My Father, which hath given them unto me, is greater than all; and no one is able to snatch <sup>11</sup>them out of the 30 Father's hand. I and the Father are 31 one. The Jews took up stones again 32 to stone him. Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from the Father; for which of those 33 works do ye stone me? The Jews answered him, For a good work we stone thee not, but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, 34 makest thyself God. Jesus answered them. Is it not written in your law, I 35 said, Ye are gods? If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came (and the scripture cannot be broken), 36 say ye of him, whom the Father <sup>12</sup>sanctified and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the 37 Son of God? If I do not the works of 38 my Father, believe me not. But if I do them, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know and understand that the Father is in me, and I in 39 the Father. They sought again to take him: and he went forth out of their hand.

40 And he went away again beyond Jordan unto the place where John was at the 41 first baptizing; and there he abode. And many came unto him; and they said, John indeed did no sign: but all things whatsoever John spake of this man were 42 true. And many believed on him there.

43 Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of Mary and 44 her sister Martha. And it was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.

45 The sisters therefore sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou 46 lovest is sick. But when Jesus heard it, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of 47 God may be glorified thereby. Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and 48 Lazarus. When therefore he heard that he was sick, he abode at that time two days in the place where he was.

49 Then after this he saith to the disciples, 50 Let us go into Judæa again. The disciples say unto him, Rabbi, the Jews were but now seeking to stone thee; and 51 goest thou thither again? Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the 52 light of this world. But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, be-

The disciples therefore said unto him, Lord, if he is fallen asleep, he will <sup>1</sup>recover. Now Jesus had spoken of his death: but they thought that he spake of taking rest in sleep. Then Jesus therefore said unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead. And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him.

16 Thomas therefore, who is called <sup>2</sup> Dilymus, said unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 So when Jesus came, he found that he had been in the tomb four days already. Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off; and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, to console them concerning their brother. Martha therefore, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary still sat in the house. Martha therefore said unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. And even now I know that, whatsoever thou shalt ask of God, God will give thee. Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth on me, though he die, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth on me shall never die. Believest thou this? She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I have believed that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, even he that cometh into the world. And when she had said this, she went away, and called Mary <sup>3</sup> her sister secretly, saying, The <sup>4</sup> Master is here, and calleth thee.

20 And she, when she heard it, arose quickly, and went unto him. (Now Jesus was not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha met him.) The Jews then which were with her in the house, and were comforting her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going unto the tomb to <sup>5</sup> weep there. Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was, and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 When Jesus therefore saw her <sup>6</sup> weeping, and the Jews also <sup>6</sup> weeping which came with her, he <sup>7</sup> groaned in the spirit, and <sup>8</sup> was troubled, and said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see. Jesus wept. The Jews therefore said, Behold how he loved 37 him! But some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of him that was blind, have caused that 38 this man also should not die? Jesus therefore again <sup>9</sup> groaning in himself cometh to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone lay <sup>10</sup> against it. Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.

40 Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou believedst, thou shouldst see the glory of God? So they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hearest me. And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the multitude which standeth around I said it, that they may believe that thou didst send me.

43 And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. He that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with <sup>11</sup> grave-clothes; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 Many therefore of the Jews, which came to Mary and beheld <sup>12</sup> that which he did, believed on him. But some of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them the things which Jesus had done.

47 The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many signs. If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation. But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all, nor do ye take account that it is expedient for you that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. Now this he said not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation; and not for the nation only, but that he might also gather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad. So from that day forth they took counsel that they might put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews, but departed thence into the country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim; and there he tarried with the disciples. Now the passover of the Jews was at hand: and many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, to purify themselves. They sought therefore for Jesus, and spake one with another, as they stood in the temple, What think ye? That he will not come to the feast?

57 Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given commandment, that, if any man knew where he was, he should shew it, that they might take him.

12 Jesus therefore six days before the passover came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus raised from the dead. So they made him a supper there: and Martha served; but Lazarus was one of them that sat at meat with him. Mary therefore took a pound of ointment of <sup>1</sup>spikenard, very precious, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment. But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples, which should betray him, saith, Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred <sup>2</sup>pence, and given to the poor? Now this he said, not because he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and having the <sup>3</sup>bag <sup>4</sup>took away what was put therein.

7 Jesus therefore said, <sup>5</sup>Suffer her to keep it against the day of my burying.

8 For the poor ye have always with you; but me ye have not always.

9 The common people therefore of the Jews learned that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom they had raised from the dead. But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death; because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

12 On the morrow <sup>6</sup>a great multitude that had come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, took the branches of the palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried out, Hosanna: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, even the King of Israel. And Jesus, having found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, Fear not, daughter of Zion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. These things understood not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him. The multitude therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb, and raised him from the dead, bare witness. For this cause also the multitude went and met him, for that they heard that he had done this sign. The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, <sup>7</sup>Behold how ye prevail nothing: lo, the world is gone after him.

20 Now there were certain Greeks among those that went up to worship at the feast: these therefore came to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: Andrew cometh, and Philip, and they tell Jesus. And Jesus answereth them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a grain of wheat fall into the earth and die, it abideth by itself alone; but if it die, it beareth much fruit. He that loveth his <sup>8</sup>life loseth it; and he that hateth his <sup>8</sup>life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal. If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will the Father honour. Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this <sup>9</sup>hour. But for this cause came I unto this hour. Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore a voice out of heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

29 The multitude therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it had thundered: others said, An angel hath spoken to him. Jesus answered and said, This voice hath not come for my sake, but for your sakes. Now is <sup>10</sup>the judgement of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. And I, if I be lifted up <sup>11</sup>from the earth, shall draw all men unto myself. But this he said, signifying by what manner <sup>12</sup>of death he should die. The multitude therefore answered him, We have heard out of the law that the Christ abideth forever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? Jesus therefore said unto them, Yet a little while is the light <sup>13</sup>among you. Walk while ye have the light, that darkness overtake you not: and he that walketh in the darkness <sup>14</sup>knoweth not whither he goeth. While ye have the light, believe on the light, that ye may become sons of light.

These things spake Jesus, and he departed and <sup>15</sup>hid himself from them.

37 But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they believed not on him: that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake,

Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 For this cause they could not believe, for that Isaiah said again,

40 He hath blinded their eyes, and he hath hardened their heart;

Least they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart, and should turn,

And I should heal them.

41 These things said Isaiah, because he saw his glory; and he spake of him.

42 Nevertheless even of the rulers many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess <sup>14</sup>it, lest they should be put out of the synagogue: for they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God.

47 And if any man hear my sayings, and keep them not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save 48 the world. He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I spake, the 49 same shall judge him in the last day. For I spake not from myself; but the Father which sent me, he hath given me a commandment, what I should say, and what 50 I should speak. And I know that his commandment is life eternal: the things therefore which I speak, even as the Father hath said unto me, so I speak.

13 Now before the feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them
21 unto the end. And during supper, the devil having already put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray
3 him, Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he came forth from God, and goeth unto 4 God, riseth from supper, and layeth aside his garments; and he took a towel,
5 and girded himself. Then he poureth water into the bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with 6 the towel wherewith he was girded. So he cometh to Simon Peter. He saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?
7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but 8 thou shalt understand hereafter. Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and 10 my head. Jesus saith to him, He that is bathed needeth not <sup>2</sup>save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ye 11 are clean, but not all. For he knew him that should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So when he had washed their feet, and taken his garments, and <sup>3</sup>sat down again, he said unto them, Know ye 13 what I have done to you? Ye call me, <sup>4</sup>Master, and, Lord: and ye say well;
14 for so I am. If I then, the Lord and the <sup>4</sup>Master, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's 15 feet. For I have given you an example, that ye also should do as I have done 16 to you. Verily, verily, I say unto you.

A <sup>5</sup>servant is not greater than his lord; neither <sup>6</sup>one that is sent greater than he that sent him. If ye know these things, blessed are ye if ye do them.
18 I speak not of you all: I know whom I 7 have chosen: but that the scripture

may be fulfilled, He that eateth <sup>8</sup>my bread lifted up his heel against me.
19 From henceforth I tell you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that <sup>9</sup>I am he.
20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

21 When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in the spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, that 22 one of you shall betray me. The disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom 23 he spake. There was at the table reclining in Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, 24 whom Jesus loved. Simon Peter therefore beckoneth to him, and saith unto him, Tell us who it is of whom he speaketh.
25 He leaning back, as he was, on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who 26 is it? Jesus therefore answereth, He it is, for whom I shall dip the sop, and give it him. So when he had dipped the sop, he taketh and giveth it to Judas, the 27 son of Simon Iscariot. And after the sop, then entered Satan into him. Jesus therefore saith unto him, That thou 28 doest, do quickly. Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this 29 unto him. For some thought, because Judas had the <sup>10</sup>bag, that Jesus said unto him, Buy what things we have need of for the feast; or, that he should give 30 something to the poor. He then having received the sop went out straightway: and it was night.

31 When therefore he was gone out, Jesus saith, Now <sup>11</sup>is the Son of man glorified, and God <sup>12</sup>is glorified in him; and God shall glorify him in himself, and straight-
33 way shall he glorify him. Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; and now I say unto you, A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another; <sup>12</sup>even as I have loved you, 35 that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow afterwards.
37 Peter saith unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee even now? I will lay down 38 my life for thee. Jesus answereth, Wilt thou lay down thy life for me? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

14 Let not your heart be troubled: <sup>13</sup>ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many <sup>14</sup>mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you; for I go to prepare a place for you.
3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I come again, and will receive you unto myself; that where I am, there

 loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love

 22 Judas (not Iscariot) saith unto him, Lord, what is come to pass that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not said unto him, If a man love me, he will

I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be 28 troubled, neither let it be fearful. Ye heard how I said to you, I go away, and I come unto you. If ye loved me, ye would have rejoiced, because I go unto the Father: for the Father is greater 29 than I. And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to 30 pass, ye may believe. I will no more speak much with you, for the prince of the world cometh: and he hath no-31 thing in me; but that the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

15 I am the true vine, and my Father is 2 the husbandman. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh it away:
 and every branch that beareth fruit, he cleanseth it, that it may bear more 3 fruit. Already ye are clean because of the word which I have spoken unto you.
 4 Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, 5 except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit: for apart from me ye can 6 do nothing. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and they gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are 7 burned. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you.
 8 Herein <sup>8</sup>is my Father glorified, <sup>9</sup>that ye bear much fruit; and so shall ye be 9 my disciples. Even as the Father hath loved me, I also have loved you: abide 10 ye in my love. If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's command-11 ments, and abide in his love. These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy may be in you, and that your 12 joy may be fulfilled. This is my commandment, that ye love one another, 13 even as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay 14 down his life for his friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do the things which I 15 command you. No longer do I call you <sup>10</sup>servants; for the <sup>11</sup>servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I heard from my Father I have made 16 known unto you. Ye did not choose me, but I chose you, and appointed you, that ye should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should abide: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father 17 in my name, he may give it you. These things I command you, that ye may 18 love one another. If the world hateth you, <sup>12</sup>ye know that it hath hated 19 me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love its own: but because ye are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you. Remember the word that I said unto you, A <sup>1</sup>servant is not greater than his lord. If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they kept my word, they will keep yours also. But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent me. If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no excuse for their sin. He that hateth me hateth my Father also. If I had not done among them the works which none other did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father. But this cometh to pass, that the word may be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a cause. But when the <sup>2</sup>Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which <sup>3</sup>proceedeth from the Father, he shall bear witness of me: <sup>4</sup>and ye also bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

16 These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be made to stumble. They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the hour cometh, that whosoever killeth you shall think that he offereth service unto God. And these things will they do, because they have not known the Father, nor me. But these things have I spoken unto you, that when their hour is come, ye may remember them, how that I told you. And these things I said not unto you from the beginning, because I was with you. But now I go unto him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? But because I have spoken these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart. Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the <sup>2</sup>Comforter will not come unto you; but if I go, I will send him unto you. And he, when he is come, will convict the world in respect of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgement: of sin, because they believe not on me; of righteousness, because I go to the Father, and ye behold me no more; of judgement, because the prince of this world hath been judged. I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he shall guide you into all the truth: for he shall not speak from himself; but what things soever he shall hear, these shall he speak: and he shall declare unto you the things that are to come. He shall glorify me: for he shall take of mine, and shall declare it unto you. All things whatsoever

the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he taketh of mine, and shall declare it unto you. A little while, and ye behold me no more; and again a little while, and ye shall see me. Some of his disciples therefore said one to another, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye behold me not; and again a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father? They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? We know not what he saith. Jesus perceived that they were desirous to ask him, and he said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves concerning this, that I said, A little while, and ye behold me not, and again a little while, and ye shall see me? Verily, verily, I say unto you, that ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy. A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but when she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for the joy that a man is born into the world. And ye therefore now have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one taketh away from you.

23 And in that day ye shall <sup>5</sup>ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, If ye shall ask anything of the Father, he will give it you in my name. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be fulfilled.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in <sup>6</sup>parables: the hour cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in <sup>6</sup>parables, but shall tell you plainly of the Father. In that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will <sup>7</sup>pray the Father for you; for the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go unto the Father. His disciples say, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no <sup>8</sup>parab. Now know we that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou earnest forth from God. Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe? Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. These things have I spoken unto you, that in me ye may have peace. In the world ye have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.

17 These things spake Jesus; and lifting up his eyes to heaven, he said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that the Son may glorify thee :

 2 even as thou gavest him authority over all flesh, that whatsoever thou hast given him, to whom he should give eter-3 nal life. And this is life eternal, that they should know thee the only true
 God, and him whom thou didst send,
 4 even Jesus Christ. I glorified thee on the earth, having accomplished the work which thou hast given me to do.
 5 And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I 6 had with thee before the world was. I manifested thy name unto the men whom thou gavest me out of the world :
 thine they were, and thou gavest them
 to me; and they have kept thy word.
 7 Now they know that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are from thee :
 8 for the words which thou gavest me I have given unto them; and they received them, and knew of a truth that I came forth from thee, and they be-9 lieved that thou didst send me. I <sup>1</sup>pray for them: I <sup>1</sup>pray not for the world, but for those whom thou hast given 10 me; for they are thine: and all things that are mine are thine, and thine are mine: and I am glorified in them.
 11 And I am no more in the world, and these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy name which thou hast given me, that 12 they may be one, even as we are. While I was with them, I kept them in thy name which thou hast given me: and I guarded them, and not one of them perished, but the son of perdition; that 13 the scripture might be fulfilled. But now I come to thee; and these things
 I speak in the world, that they may 14 have my joy fulfilled in themselves. I have given them thy word; and the world hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the 15 world. I <sup>1</sup>pray not that thou shouldst take them <sup>2</sup>from the world, but that thou shouldst keep them <sup>2</sup>from <sup>3</sup>the 16 evil one. They are not of the world, 17 even as I am not of the world. <sup>4</sup>Sanctify them in the truth: thy word is truth.
 18 As thou didst send me into the world, 19 even so sent I them into the world. And for their sakes I <sup>4</sup>sanctify myself, that they themselves also may be sanctified 20 in truth. Neither for these only do I <sup>1</sup>pray, but for them also that believe on 21 me through their word; that they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us: that the world may believe 22 that thou didst send me. And the glory which thou hast given me I have given unto them; that they may be one, even 23 as we are one; I in them, and thou in me, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that thou didst send me, and lovedst them,

which thou hast given me, I will that,
 where I am, they also may be with me; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the 25 world. O righteous Father, the world knew thee not, but I knew thee; and these knew that thou didst send me;
 26 and I made known unto them thy name,
 and will make it known; that the love wherewith thou lovedst me may be in them, and I in them.
 18 When Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the <sup>6</sup>brook <sup>7</sup>Kidron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, himself 2 and his disciples. Now Judas also, which betrayed him, knew the place:
 for Jesus oft-times resorted thither 3 with his disciples. Judas then, having received the <sup>8</sup>band of soldiers, and officers from the chief priests and the Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns 4 and torches and weapons. Jesus therefore, knowing all the things that were coming upon him, went forth, and saith 5 unto them, Whom seek ye? They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, was standing 6 with them. When therefore he said unto them, I am he, they went back-7 ward, and fell to the ground. Again therefore he asked them, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.
 8 Jesus answered, I told you that I am
he: if therefore ye seek me, let these 9 go their way: that the word might be fulfilled which he spake, Of those whom thou hast given me I lost not one.
 10 Simon Peter therefore having a sword drew it, and struck the high priest's 9 servant, and cut off his right ear. Now 11 the <sup>9</sup>servant's name was Malchus. Jesus therefore said unto Peter, Put up the sword into the sheath: the cup which the Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?
 12 So the <sup>8</sup>band and the <sup>10</sup>chief captain, and the officers of the Jews, seized Jesus 13 and bound him, and led him to Annas first; for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was high priest that year.
 14 Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.
 15 And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. Now that disciple was known unto the high priest, and entered in with Jesus into the court of the high priest; 16 but Peter was standing at the door without. So the other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, went out and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in 17 Peter. The maid therefore that kept the door saith unto Peter, Art thou also one of this man's disciples? He 18 saith, I am not. Now the <sup>1</sup>servants and the officers were standing there, having made <sup>2</sup>a fire of coals; for it was cold; and they were warming themselves: and Peter also was with them, standing and warming himself.

19 The high priest therefore asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his teaching.

20 Jesus answered him, I have spoken openly to the world; I ever taught in <sup>2</sup>synagogues, and in the temple, where all the Jews come together; and in

21 secret spake I nothing. Why askest thou me? ask them that have heard me, what I spake unto them: behold, these

22 know the things which I said. And when he had said this, one of the officers standing by struck Jesus <sup>4</sup>with his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high 23 priest so? Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?

24 Annas therefore sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.

25 Now Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said therefore unto him, Art thou also one of his disciples? He denied, and said, I am not.

26 One of the <sup>1</sup>servants of the high priest, being a kinsman of him whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee

27 in the garden with him? Peter therefore denied again: and straightway the cock crew.

28 They lead Jesus therefore from Caiaphas into the <sup>6</sup>palace: and it was early; and they themselves entered not into the <sup>5</sup>palace, that they might not be defiled, but might eat the passover.

29 Pilate therefore went out unto them, and saith, What accusation bring ye

30 against this man? They answered and said unto him, If this man were not an evil-doer, we should not have delivered 31 him up unto thee. Pilate therefore said unto them, Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law. The Jews said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:

32 that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying by what manner of death he should die.

33 Pilate therefore entered again into the <sup>5</sup>palace, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the

34 Jews? Jesus answered, Sayest thou this of thyself, or did others tell it thee concerning me? Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests delivered thee unto

36 me: what hast thou done? Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my <sup>6</sup>servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom

37 not from hence. Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end have I been born, and to this end am I come into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the <sup>3</sup>truth heareth my voice. Pilate saith unto him, What is truth?

And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find no crime in him.

39 But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto 40 you the King of the Jews? They cried out therefore again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

19 Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him. And the soldiers plaited a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and arrayed him in a purple

3 garment; and they came unto him, and said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they

4 struck him <sup>8</sup>with their hands. And Pilate went out again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him out to you, that ye may know that I find no crime

5 in him. Jesus therefore came out, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple garment. And Pilate saith unto

6 them, Behold, the man! When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take him yourselves, and crucify him: for I find no crime in him.

7 The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by that law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of 8 God. When Pilate therefore heard this saying, he was the more afraid; and he entered into the <sup>5</sup>palace again, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer.

10 Pilate therefore saith unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have <sup>9</sup>power to release thee, and have <sup>9</sup>power to crucify thee?

11 Jesus answered him, Thou wouldest have no <sup>9</sup>power against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee

12 hath greater sin. Upon this Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou release this man, thou art not Cæsar's friend: every one that maketh himself a king

13 <sup>10</sup>speaketh against Cæsar. When Pilate therefore heard these words, he brought Jesus out, and sat down on the judgment-seat at a place called The Pavement, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha. Now it was the Preparation of the passover: it was about the sixth hour. And he saith unto the Jews, Behold, your King!

15 They therefore cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered,

17 They took Jesus therefore: and he went out, bearing the cross for himself, unto the place called The place of a skull, which is called in Hebrew

18 Golgotha: where they crucified him, and with him two others, on either

19 side one, and Jesus in the midst. And Pilate wrote a title also, and put it on the cross. And there was written, JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE 20 JEWS. This title therefore read many of the Jews: <sup>1</sup> for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and in 21 Latin, and in Greck. The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but, that he said, I am King of the Jews.

22 Pilate answered, What I have written I have written.

23 The soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the <sup>2</sup> coat: now the <sup>2</sup> coat was without seam, woven from the top

24 throughout. They said therefore one to another, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith,

They parted my garments among them,

And upon my vesture did they cast lots.

These things therefore the soldiers 25 did. But there were standing by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of 26 Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Wo-

27 man, behold, thy son! Then saith he to the disciple, Behold, thy mother! And from that hour the disciple took her unto his own home.

28 After this Jesus, knowing that all things are now finished, that the scripture might be accomplished, saith, I

29 thirst. There was set there a vessel full of vinegar: so they put a sponge full of the vinegar upon hyssop, and brought it

30 to his mouth. When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up his spirit.

31 The Jews therefore, because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not remain on the cross upon the sabbath (for the day of that sabbath was a high day), asked of Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might

32 be taken away. The soldiers therefore came, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified

33 with him: but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead

34 already, they brake not his legs: howbeit one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and straightway there 35 came out blood and water. And he that hath seen hath borne witness, and his witness is true: and he knoweth

36 that he saith true, that ye also may believe. For these things came to pass, that the scripture might be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be <sup>3</sup> broken.

37 And again another scripture saith, They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 And after these things Joseph of Arimathæa, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews, asked of Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him

39 leave. He came therefore, and took away his body. And there came also Nicodemus, he who at the first came to him by night, bringing a <sup>4</sup> mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound

40 weight. So they took the body of Jesus, and bound it in linen cloths with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to

41 bury. Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new tomb wherein was never 42 man yet laid. Then there because of the Jews' Preparation (for the tomb was nigh at hand) they laid Jesus.

20 Now on the first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, while it was yet dark, unto the tomb, and seeth the stone taken away from the tomb.

2 She runneth therefore, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we know not where they

3 have laid him. Peter therefore went forth, and the other disciple, and they 4 went toward the tomb. And they ran both together: and the other disciple outran Peter, and came first to the

5 tomb; and stooping and looking in, he seeth the linen cloths lying; yet entered 6 he not in. Simon Peter therefore also cometh, following him, and entered into the tomb; and he beholdeth the linen

7 cloths lying, and the napkin, that was upon his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but rolled up in a place by itself.

8 Then entered in therefore the other disciple also, which came first to the tomb, 9 and he saw, and believed. For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he

10 must rise again from the dead. So the disciples went away again unto their own home.

11 But Mary was standing without at the tomb weeping: so, as she wept, she 12 stooped and looked into the tomb; and she beholdeth two angels in white sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

13 And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they

14 have laid him. When she had thus said, she turned herself back, and beholdeth Jesus standing, and knew 15 not that it was Jesus. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and 16 I will take him away. Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turneth herself, and saith unto him in Hebrew, Rabboni;
 17 which is to say, <sup>1</sup>Master. Jesus saith to her, <sup>2</sup>Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended unto the Father: but go unto my brethren, and say to them, I ascend unto my Father and your Father, and my God and your God. Mary Magdalene cometh and telleth the disciples, I have seen the Lord; and how that he had said these things unto her.
 19 When therefore it was evening, on that day, the first day of the week, and when the doors were shut where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto 20 you. And when he had said this, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. The disciples therefore were glad,
 21 when they saw the Lord. Jesus therefore said to them again, Peace be unto you: as the Father hath sent me, 22 even so send I you. And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the <sup>3</sup>Holy 23 Ghost: whose soever sins ye forgive, they are forgiven unto them; whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.
 24 But Thomas, one of the twelve, called <sup>4</sup>Didymus, was not with them when 25 Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe.
 26 And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Jesus cometh, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, 27 Peace be unto you. Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and see my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and put it into my side: and 28 be not faithless, but believing. Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord 29 and my God. Jesus saith unto him, Because thou hast seen me, <sup>5</sup>thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.
 30 Many other signs therefore did Jesus in the presence of the disciples, which 31 are not written in this book: but these are written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye may have life in his name.

21 After these things Jesus manifested himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias; and he manifested himself
 2 on this wise. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called <sup>6</sup>Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and 3 two other of his disciples. Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also come with thee. They went forth, and entered into the boat; and that night they 4 took nothing. But when day was now breaking, Jesus stood on the beach: howbeit the disciples knew not that 5 it was Jesus. Jesus therefore saith unto them, Children, have ye aught to 6 eat? They answered him, No. And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the 7 multitude of fishes. That disciple therefore whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his coat about him (for he was naked),
 8 and cast himself into the sea. But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits off),
 9 dragging the net full of fishes. So when they got out upon the land, they see <sup>6a</sup>a fire of coals there, and <sup>7</sup>fish
 10 laid thereon, and <sup>8</sup>bread. Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye 11 have now taken. Simon Peter therefore went <sup>9</sup>up, and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three; and for all there were so 12 many, the net was not rent. Jesus saith unto them, Come and break your fast. And none of the disciples durst inquire of him, Who art thou? knowing 13 that it was the Lord. Jesus cometh, and taketh the <sup>10</sup>bread, and giveth them, and the fish likewise.
 14 This is now the third time that Jesus was manifested to the disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.
 15 So when they had broken their fast, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of <sup>11</sup>John, <sup>12</sup>lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I <sup>13</sup>love thee. He 16 saith unto him, Feed my lambs. He saith to him again a second time, Simon, son of <sup>11</sup>John, <sup>12</sup>lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I <sup>13</sup>love thee. He saith unto him, 17 Tend my sheep. He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of <sup>11</sup>John, <sup>12</sup>lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, <sup>13</sup>Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou <sup>14</sup>knowest that I <sup>13</sup>love thee. Jesus saith unto him, 18 Feed my sheep. Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou gird-edst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee 19 whither thou wouldest not. Now this he spake, signifying by what manner of death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto 20 him, Follow me. Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following; which also leaned back on his breast at the supper, and said, Lord, who is he that betrayeth thee? 21 Peter therefore seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this 22 man do? Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that 23 to thee? follow thou me. This saying therefore went forth among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, that he should not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? 24 This is the disciple which beareth witness of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his witness is true. 25 And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself would not contain the books that should be written.

THE ## ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

1 THE <sup>1</sup>former treatise I made, O Theophilus, concerning all that Jesus 2 began both to do and to teach, until the day in which he was received up, after that he had given commandment through the <sup>2</sup>Holy Ghost unto the 3 apostles whom he had chosen: to whom he also <sup>3</sup>shewed himself alive after his passion by many proofs, appearing unto them by the space of forty days, and speaking the things 4 concerning the kingdom of God: and, <sup>4</sup>being assembled together with them, he charged them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the promise of the Father, which, said he, ye heard 5 from me: for John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized <sup>5</sup>with the Holy Ghost not many days hence. 6 They therefore, when they were come together, asked him, saying, Lord, dost thou at this time restore 7 the kingdom to Israel? And he said unto them, It is not for you to know times or seasons, which the Father hath <sup>6</sup>set within his own authority. 8 But ye shall receive power, when the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judæa and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the 9 earth. And when he had said these things, as they were looking, he was taken up; and a cloud received him 10 out of their sight. And while they were looking stedfastly into heaven as he went, behold, two men stood by them 11 in white apparel; which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye looking into heaven? this Jesus, which was received up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye beheld him going into heaven. 12 Then returned they unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is nigh unto Jerusalem, a 13 sabbath day's journey off. And when they were come in, they went up into the upper chamber, where they were abiding; both Peter and John and James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon the Zealot, and Judas the <sup>7</sup>son of 14 James. These all with one accord continued stedfastly in prayer, <sup>8</sup>with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren. 15 And in these days Peter stood up in the midst of the brethren, and said (and there was a multitude of <sup>9</sup>persons gathered together, about a hundred 16 and twenty). Brethren, it was needful that the scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost spake before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, who was guide to them that took Jesus. 17 For he was numbered among us, and received his <sup>10</sup>portion in this ministry. (Now this man obtained a field with the reward of his iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels 18 gushed out. And it became known to all the dwellers at Jerusalem; in- 19 somuch that in their language that field was called Akeldama, that is, 20 The field of blood.) For it is written in the book of Psalms, Let his habitation be made desolate, And let no man dwell therein: and, His <sup>11</sup>office let another take. 21 Of the men therefore which have accompanied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and went out 22 <sup>12</sup>among us, beginning from the baptism of John, unto the day that he was received up from us, of these must one become a witness with

And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew of these two the one whom thou hast chosen, to take the place in this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas fell away, that he might go to his own place. And they gave lots <sup>1</sup>for them; and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

2 And when the day of Pentecost <sup>2</sup>was now come, they were all together in one place. And suddenly there came from heaven a sound as of the rushing of a mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them tongues <sup>3</sup>parting asunder, like as of fire; and it sat upon each one of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, from every nation under heaven. And when this sound was heard, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speaking in his own language. And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying, Behold, are not all these which speak Galileans? And how hear we, every man in our own language, wherein we were born? Parthians and Medes and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, in Judæa and Cappadocia, in Pontus and Asia, in Phrygia and Pamphylia, in Egypt and the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and sojourners from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, Cretans and Arabians, we do hear them speaking in our tongues the mighty works of God. And they were all amazed, and were perplexed, saying one to another, What meaneth this? But others mocking said, They are filled with new wine.

14 But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spake forth unto them, saying, Ye men of Judæa, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and give ear unto my words. For these are not drunken, as ye suppose; seeing it is but the third hour of the day; but this is that which hath been spoken <sup>4</sup>by the prophet Joel;

17 And it shall be in the last days, saith God,
I will pour forth of my Spirit upon all flesh:
And your sons and your daughters shall prophesy,
And your young men shall see visions,
And your old men shall dream dreams:

18 Yea and on my <sup>5</sup>servants and on my

<sup>6</sup>handmaidens in those days
Will I pour forth of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy.

19 And I will shew wonders in the heaven above,

And signs on the earth beneath;
Blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:
20 The sun shall be turned into darkness,
And the moon into blood,
Before the day of the Lord come,
That great and notable day:

21 And it shall be, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God unto you by <sup>7</sup>mighty works and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, even as ye yourselves know; him, being delivered up by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye by the hand of

24 whom God raised up, having loosed the pangs of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

25 For David saith concerning him, I beheld the Lord always before my face;

For he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:

26 Therefore my heart was glad, and my tongue rejoiced;
Moreover my flesh also shall <sup>9</sup>dwell in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in Hades,
Neither wilt thou give thy Holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou madest known unto me the ways of life;
Thou shalt make me full of gladness <sup>10</sup>with thy countenance.

29 Brethren, I may say unto you freely of the patriarch David, that he both died and was buried, and his tomb is with us

30 unto this day. Being therefore a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins <sup>11</sup>he would set one upon his throne; he foreseeing this spake of the resurrection of the Christ, that neither was he left in Hades, nor did his flesh

32 see corruption. This Jesus did God raise up, <sup>12</sup>whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Being therefore <sup>13</sup>by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath poured forth this, which ye see and hear. For David ascended not into the heavens: but he saith himself,

The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,

35 Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet.

36 Let <sup>14</sup>all the house of Israel therefore know assuredly, that God hath made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom ye crucified.

37 Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and the rest of the apostles, Brethren, what shall we do? And Peter said unto them, Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For to you is the promise, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call unto him. And with many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying, Save yourselves from this crooked generation. They then <sup>1</sup>that received his word were baptized: and there were added unto them in that day about three thousand souls. And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' teaching and <sup>2</sup>fellowship, in the breaking of bread and the prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signs were done <sup>3</sup>by the apostles <sup>4</sup>. And all that believed were together, and had all things common; and they sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all, according as any man had need. And day by day, continuing stedfastly with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread at home, they did take their food with gladness and singleness of heart, praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added <sup>5</sup>to them day by day those that were being saved.

3 Now Peter and John were going up into the temple at the hour of prayer, <sup>2</sup>being the ninth hour. And a certain man that was lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the door of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple; who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked to receive an alms. And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him, with John, said, Look on us. And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something from them. But Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but what I have, that give I thee. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk. And he took him by the right hand, and raised him up; and immediately his feet and his ankle-bones received strength. And leaping up, he stood, and began to walk; and he entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saw him walking and <sup>10</sup>praising God: and they took knowledge of him, that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful Gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 And as he held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the <sup>6</sup>porch that is called Solomon's, great-

12ly wondering. And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this <sup>7</sup>man? or why fasten ye your eyes on us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made him to walk?

13 The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his <sup>8</sup>Servant Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied before the face of Pilate, when he had determined to release him. But ye denied the Holy and Righteous One, and asked for a murderer to be granted unto you, and killed the <sup>9</sup>Prince of life; whom God raised from the <sup>10</sup>dead; <sup>10</sup>whereof we are witnesses. And <sup>11</sup>by faith in his name hath his name made this man strong, whom ye behold and know: yea, the faith which is through him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all. And now, brethren, I wot that in ignorance ye did it, as did also <sup>18</sup>your rulers. But the things which God foreshewed by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ should suffer, he thus fulfilled. Repent ye therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, that so there may come seasons of refreshing from the presence of the Lord; and that he may send the Christ who hath been appointed for you, even Jesus: whom the heaven must receive until the times of restoration of all things, whereof God spake by the mouth of his holy prophets which have been since the world began. Moses indeed said, A prophet shall the Lord God raise up unto you from among your brethren, <sup>12</sup>like unto me; to him shall ye hearken in all things whatsoever he shall speak unto you. And it shall be, that every soul, which shall not hearken to that prophet, shall be utterly destroyed <sup>24</sup>from among the people. Yea and all the prophets from Samuel and them that followed after, as many as have spoken, they also told of these days. <sup>25</sup>Ye are the sons of the prophets, and of the covenant which God <sup>13</sup>made with your fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the <sup>26</sup>families of the earth be blessed. Unto you first God, having raised up his Servant, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from your iniquities.

4 And as they spake unto the people, <sup>14</sup>the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came upon <sup>2</sup>them, being sore troubled because they taught the people, and proclaimed in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. <sup>3</sup>And they laid hands on them, and put them in ward unto the morrow: <sup>4</sup>for it was now eventide. lieved; and the number of the men came to be about five thousand.

5 And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers and elders and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem; and Annas the high priest was there, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they inquired, By what power, or in what name, have ye done this?

8 Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of

9 the people, and elders, if we this day are examined concerning a good deed done to an impotent man, <sup>1</sup>by what

10 means this man is <sup>2</sup>made whole; be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even in <sup>3</sup>him doth this man stand

11 here before you whole. He is the stone which was set at nought of you the builders, which was made the head of 12 the corner. And in none other is there salvation: for neither is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved.

13 Now when they beheld the boldness of Peter and John, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with

14 Jesus. And seeing the man which was healed standing with them, they could

15 say nothing against it. But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among

16 themselves, saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable <sup>4</sup>miracle hath been wrought through them, is manifest to all that dwell in Je-

17 rusalem; and we cannot deny it. But that it spread no further among the people, let us threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this

18 name. And they called them, and charged them not to speak at all nor

19 teach in the name of Jesus. But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you rather than unto 20 God, judge ye: for we cannot but speak the things which we saw and heard.

21 And they, when they had further threatened them, let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people; for all men glorified

22 God for that which was done. For the man was more than forty years old, on whom this <sup>4</sup>miracle of healing was wrought.

23 And being let go, they came to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and the elders had said

24 unto them. And they, when they heard it, lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, O <sup>5</sup>Lord, <sup>6</sup>thou that didst make the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is: <sup>25</sup>who by the Holy Ghost, by the mouth of our father David thy servant, didst say,

Why did the Gentiles rage, And the peoples <sup>8</sup>imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth set themselves in array,

And the rulers were gathered together,

Against the Lord, and against his <sup>9</sup>Anointed:

27 for of a truth in this city against thy holy Servant Jesus, whom thou didst anoint, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the peoples of Israel,

28 were gathered together, to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel forceth

29 dained to come to pass. And now, Lord, look upon their threatenings: and grant unto thy <sup>10</sup>servants to speak thy word

30 with all boldness, while thou stretchest forth thy hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done through the

31 name of thy holy Servant Jesus. And when they had prayed, the place was shaken wherein they were gathered together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.

32 And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and soul: and not one of them said that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but

33 they had all things common. And with great power gave the apostles their witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus <sup>11</sup>: and great grace was upon them

34 all. For neither was there among them any that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things

35 that were sold, and laid them at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto each, according as any one had need.

36 And Joseph, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas (which is, being interpreted, Son of <sup>12</sup>exhortation), a 37 Levite, a man of Cyprus by race, having a field, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

5 But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession, and kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at

3 the apostles' feet. But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thy heart to <sup>13</sup>lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, did it not remain thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thy power? How is it that thou hast conceived this thing in thy heart? thou hast not lied unto

5 men, but unto God. And Ananias hearing these words fell down and gave up the ghost: and great fear came upon all that heard it. And the <sup>1</sup> young men arose and wrapped him round, and they carried him out and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in. And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she said, Yea, for so much. But Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and they shall carry thee out. And she fell down immediately at his feet, and gave up the ghost: and the young men came in and found her dead, and they carried her out and buried her by her husband. And great fear came upon the whole church, and upon all that heard these things.

12 And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.

13 But of the rest durst no man join himself to them: howbeit the people magnified them; and believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes

15 both of men and women; insomuch that they even carried out the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that, as Peter came by, at the least his shadow might overshadow some one of them. And there also came together the multitude from the cities round about Jerusalem, bringing sick folk, and them that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17 But the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees), and they were

18 filled with jealousy, and laid hands on the apostles, and put them in public ward. But an angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and

20 brought them out, and said, Go ye, and stand and speak in the temple to the 21 people all the words of this Life. And when they heard this, they entered into the temple about daybreak, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison-house to have them brought.

22 But the officers that came found them not in the prison; and they returned,

23 and told, saying, The prison-house we found shut in all safety, and the keepers standing at the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man

24 within. Now when the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these words, they were much perplexed concerning them whereunto this would 25 grow. And there came one and told them, Behold, the men whom ye put in the prison are in the temple standing 26 and teaching the people. Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them, but without violence; for they feared the people, lest they 27 should be stoned. And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest asked 28 them, saying, We straitly charged you not to teach in this name: and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and intend to bring this man's 29 blood upon us. But Peter and the apostles answered and said, We must obey 30 God rather than men. The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew, 31 hanging him on a tree. Him did God exalt <sup>3</sup> with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance 32 to Israel, and remission of sins. And we are witnesses <sup>4</sup> of these <sup>5</sup> things; and so is the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 But they, when they heard this, were cut to the heart, and were minded to

34 slay them. But there stood up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, had in honour of all the people, and commanded to 35 put the men forth a little while. And he said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves as touching these men, what ye are about to do.

36 For before these days rose up Theudas, giving himself out to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were dispersed, and came to nought.

37 After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of the enrolment, and drew away some of the people after him: he also perished; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men,

39 it will be overthrown: but if it is of God, ye will not be able to overthrow them; lest haply ye be found even to be 40 fighting against God. And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles unto them, they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name

41 of Jesus, and let them go. They therefore departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonour for the 42 Name. And every day, in the temple and at home, they ceased not to teach and to preach Jesus as the Christ.

6 Now in these days, when the number of the disciples was multiplying, there arose a murmuring of the <sup>1</sup>Grecian Jews against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.

2 And the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not <sup>2</sup>fit that we should forsake the word of God, and <sup>3</sup>serve tables.

3 <sup>4</sup>Look ye out therefore, brethren, from among you seven men of good report, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we may appoint over this busi-
4 ness. But we will continue steadfastly in prayer, and in the ministry of the 5 word. And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas
6 a proselyte of Antioch: whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

7 And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem exceedingly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

8 And Stephen, full of grace and power, wrought great wonders and signs among 9 the people. But there arose certain of them that were of the synagogue called the synagogue of the Libertines, and of the Cyrenians, and of the Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and Asia, dispu-10 ting with Stephen. And they were not able to withstand the wisdom and the 11 Spirit by which he spake. Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words a-12 gainst Moses, and against God. And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and seized him, and brought him into 13 the council, and set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak words against this holy place, and 14 the law: for we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered unto 15 us. And all that sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

7 And the high priest said, Are these 2 things so? And he said,
Brethren and fathers, hearken. The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopo-
3 tania, before he dwelt in Haran, and said unto him, Get thee out of thy land, and from thy kindred, and come into the 4 land which I shall shew thee. Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Haran: and from thence, when his father was dead, God removed him
5 into this land, wherein ye now dwell: and he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: and he promised that he would give it to him in possession, and to his seed after him,

6 when as yet he had no child. And God spake on this wise, that his seed should sojourn in a strange land, and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil, four hundred years.

7 And the nation to which they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and 8 serve me in this place. And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begat Isaac, and circum-
9 cised him the eighth day; and Isaac begat Jacob, and Jacob the twelve 9 patriarchs. And the patriarchs, moved with jealousy against Joseph, sold him into Egypt: and God was with him, 10 and delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom before Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and 11 all his house. Now there came a famine over all Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction: and our fathers 12 found no sustenance. But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent forth our fathers the first time.

13 And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's race became manifest unto 14 Pharaoh. And Joseph sent, and called to him Jacob his father, and all his kin-15 dred, threescore and fifteen souls. And Jacob went down into Egypt; and he 16 died, himself, and our fathers; and they were carried over unto Shechem, and laid in the tomb that Abraham bought for a price in silver of the sons 17 of <sup>5</sup>Hamor in Shechem. But as the time of the promise drew nigh, which 18 God vouchsafed unto Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt.
19 till there arose another king over Egypt, which knew not Joseph. The same dealt subtilly with our race, and evil entreated our fathers, that <sup>6</sup>they 20 should cast out their babes to the end they might not <sup>7</sup>live. At which season
21 Moses was born, and was <sup>8</sup>exceeding fair; and he was nourished three months
22 in his father's house: and when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own 23 son. And Moses was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians; and he was 24 mighty in his words and works. But when he was well-nigh forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren
25 the children of Israel. And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, 26 smiting the Egyptian: and he supposed that his brethren understood how that God by his hand was giving them <sup>9</sup>de-
27 liverance; but they understood not. And the day following he appeared unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong 27 one to another? But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge 28 over us? Wouldest thou kill me, as thou 29 killedst the Egyptian yesterday? And Moses fled at this saying, and became a sojourner in the land of Midian, 30 where he begat two sons. And when forty years were fulfilled, an angel appeared to him in the wilderness of mount 31 Sinai, in a flame of fire in a bush. And when Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold, 32 there came a voice of the Lord, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob. And Moses 33 trembled, and durst not behold. And the Lord said unto him, Loose the shoes from thy feet: for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground.

 34 I have surely seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and have heard their groaning, and I am come down to deliver them: and now come, I will send thee into Egypt.
 35 This Moses whom they refused, saying,
 Who made thee a ruler and a judge?
 him hath God sent to be both a ruler and a <sup>1</sup>deliverer with the hand of the angel which appeared to him 36 in the bush. This man led them forth, having wrought wonders and signs in Egypt, and in the Red sea,
 and in the wilderness forty years.
 37 This is that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, A prophet shall God raise up unto you from among 38 your brethren, <sup>2</sup>like unto me. This is he that was in the <sup>3</sup>church in the wilderness with the angel which spake to him in the mount Sinai, and with our fathers: who received living oracles 39 to give unto us: to whom our fathers would not be obedient, but thrust him from them, and turned back in 40 their hearts unto Egypt, saying unto Aaron, Make us gods which shall go before us: for as for this Moses, which led us forth out of the land of Egypt,
 we wot not what is become of him.
 41 And they made a calf in those days,
 and brought a sacrifice unto the idol,
 and 42 rejoiced in the works of their hands.
 But God turned, and gave them up to serve the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, Did ye offer unto me slain beasts and sacrifices
 Forty years in the wilderness, O
 house of Israel?
 43 And ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch,
 And the star of the god Rephan,
 The figures which ye made to worship
 them:
 And I will carry you away beyond Babylon.
 44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of the testimony in the wilderness, even as he appointed who spake unto Moses,

that he should make it according to the 45 figure that he had seen. Which also our fathers, in their turn, brought in with 46 Joshua when they entered on the possession of the nations, which God thrust out before the face of our fathers, unto 47 the days of David; who found favour in the sight of God, and asked to find a 48 habitation for the God of Jacob. But Solomon built him a house. Howbeit the Most High dwelleth not in houses made with hands; as saith the prophet, 49 The heaven is my throne,
 And the earth the footstool of my feet:
 What manner of house will ye build me? saith the Lord:
 Or what is the place of my rest?
 50 Did not my hand make all these things?
 51 Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do 52 ye. Which of the prophets did not your fathers persecute? and they killed them which shewed before of the coming of the Righteous One; of whom ye have now become betrayers and murderers; 53 ye who received the law <sup>5</sup>as it was ordained by angels, and kept it not.
 54 Now when they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they 55 gnashed on him with their teeth. But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on 56 the right hand of God, and said, Behold,
 I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of 57 God. But they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and rushed 58 upon him with one accord; and they cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their garments at the feet of a young man 59 named Saul. And they stoned Stephen, calling upon the Lord, and saying, 60 Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he 61 fell asleep. And Saul was consenting unto his death.
 And there arose on that day a great persecution against the church which was in Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judæa and Samaria, except the apo-62 stles. And devout men buried Stephen, and made great lamentation over him.
 63 But Saul laid waste the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.
 64 They therefore that were scattered abroad went about preaching 65 the word. And Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and proclaim-66 ed unto them the Christ. And the multitudes gave heed with one accord unto the things that were spoken

9 But there was a certain man, Simon by name, which beforetime in the city used sorcery, and amazed the <sup>2</sup> people of Samaria, giving out that himself was 10 some great one: to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is that power of God 11 which is called Great. And they gave heed to him, because that of long time he had amazed them with his sorceries. 12 But when they believed Philip preaching good tidings concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and wo-

13 men. And Simon also himself believed: and being baptized, he continued with Philip; and beholding signs and great <sup>3</sup> miracles wrought, he was amazed. 14 Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto 15 them Peter and John: who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that 16 they might receive the Holy Ghost: for as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they had been baptized into the 17 name of the Lord Jesus. Then laid they their hands on them, and they re-

Thou hast neither part nor lot in this <sup>5</sup> matter: for 22 thy heart is not right before God. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray the Lord, if perhaps the thought of thy heart shall be forgiven 23 thee. For I see that thou <sup>6</sup> art in the gall of bitterness and in the bond of 24 iniquity. And Simon answered and said, Pray ye for me to the Lord, that none of the things which ye have spoken come upon me.

<sup>6</sup> Or, will become gall (or, a gall root) of bitterness and a bond of iniquity.

25 They therefore, when they had testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel to many villages of the Samaritans.

26 But an angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go <sup>7</sup> toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza: the 27 same is desert. And he arose and went: and behold, a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasure, who had come to Jerusalem for to worship; and he was returning and sitting in his chariot, and was reading the 29 prophet Isaiah. And the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself 30 to this chariot. And Philip ran to him, and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, Understandest thou 31 what thou readest? And he said, How can I, except some one shall guide me? And he besought Philip to come up 32 and sit with him. Now the place of the scripture which he was reading was this,

He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; And as a lamb before his shearer is dumb,

So he openeth not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgement was taken away:

His generation who shall declare?

For his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of 35 some other? And Philip opened his month, and beginning from this scripture, preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on the way, they came unto a certain water; and the eunuch saith, Behold, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized? <sup>8</sup>

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they both went down into the water, both Philip and the 39 eunuch; and he baptized him. And when they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip; and the eunuch saw him no more, for he went on his 40 way rejoicing. But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached the gospel to all the cities, till he came to Caesarea.

9 But Saul, yet breathing threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest,

2 and asked of him letters to Damascus unto the synagogues, that if he found any that were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them

3 bound to Jerusalem. And as he journeyed, it came to pass that he drew nigh unto Damascus: and suddenly there shone round about him a light out

4 of heaven: and he fell upon the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou

6 persecutest: but rise, and enter into the city, and it shall be

7 told thee what thou must do. And the men that journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing the 8 <sup>9</sup> voice, but beholding no man. And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw nothing; and they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

 9 And he was three days without sight, and did neither eat nor drink.
 10 Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias; and the Lord said unto him in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.
 11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go to the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one named Saul, a man of Tarsus: for 12 behold, he prayeth; and he hath seen a man named Ananias coming in, and laying his hands on him, that he 13 might receive his sight. But Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard from many of this man, how much evil he 14 did to thy saints at Jerusalem: and here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call upon thy name.
 15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a <sup>1</sup>chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles and kings, and the children of 16 Israel: for I will shew him how many things he must suffer for my name's
 17 sake. And Ananias departed, and entered into the house; and laying his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, who appeared unto thee in the way which thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mayest receive thy sight, 18 and be filled with the Holy Ghost. And straightway there fell from his eyes as it were scales, and he received his sight; and he arose and was baptized; and he took food and was strengthened.
 And he was certain days with the 20 disciples which were at Damascus. And straightway in the synagogues he proclaimed Jesus, that he is the Son of God.
 21 And all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he that in Jerusalem made havock of them which called on this name? and he had come hither for this intent, that he might bring them bound before the chief 22 priests. But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is the Christ.
 23 And when many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel together to kill 24 him: but their plot became known to Saul. And they watched the gates also day and night that they might kill him;
 25 but his disciples took him by night, and let him down through the wall, lowering him in a basket.
 26 And when he was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: and they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple.
 27 But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how at Damascus he had preached boldly in the name of Jesus.

<sup>1</sup> Gr. vessel of election.

28 And he was with them going in and 29 going out at Jerusalem, preaching boldly in the name of the Lord: and he spake and disputed against the 2 Grecian Jews; but they went about 30 to kill him. And when the brethren knew it, they brought him down to Cæsarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.
 31 So the church throughout all Judæa and Galilee and Samaria had peace, being <sup>3</sup>edified; and, walking <sup>4</sup>in the fear of the Lord and <sup>4</sup>in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, was multiplied.
 32 And it came to pass, as Peter went throughout all parts, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.
 33 And there he found a certain man named Æneas, which had kept his bed eight years; for he was palsied.
 34 And Peter said unto him, Æneas, Jesus Christ healeth thee: arise, and make thy 35 bed. And straightway he arose. And all that dwell at Lydda and in Sharon saw him, and they turned to the Lord.
 36 Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called <sup>5</sup>Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and 37 almsdeeds which she did. And it came to pass in those days, that she fell sick, and died: and when they had washed her, they laid her in an 38 upper chamber. And as Lydda was nigh unto Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men unto him, intreating him, Delay not to 39 come on unto us. And Peter arose and went with them. And when he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with 40 them. But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning to the body, he said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes; and when she saw Peter, she sat up.
 41 And he gave her his hand, and raised her up; and calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive.
 42 And it became known throughout all Joppa: and many believed on the Lord.
 43 And it came to pass, that he abode many days in Joppa with one Simon a tanner.
 10 Now there was a certain man in Cæsarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of the band called the Italian
 2<sup>o</sup> band, a devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, who gave much alms to the people, and prayed to 3 God alway. He saw in a vision openly, as it were about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in unto him,
 4 and saying to him, Cornelius. And he, fastening his eyes upon him, and being affrighted, said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are gone up for a

5 memorial before God. And now send men to Joppa, and fetch one Simon, who 6 is surnamed Peter: he lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the 7 sea side. And when the angel that spake unto him was departed, he called two of his household-servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually; and having rehearsed all things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

9 Now on the morrow, as they were on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the housetop to pray, about the sixth hour: and he became hungry, and desired to eat: but while they made ready, he fell into a 11 trance; and he beholdeth the heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet, let down by four 12 corners upon the earth: wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts and creeping things of the earth and fowls of 13 the heaven. And there came a voice to 14 him, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. But Peter said, Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten any thing that is common and un- 15 clean. And a voice came unto him again the second time, What God hath cleans- 16 ed, make not thou common. And this word was done thrice: and straightway the vessel was received up into heaven.

17 Now while Peter was much perplexed in himself what the vision which he had seen might mean, behold, the men that were sent by Cornelius, having made inquiry for Simon's house, stood before 18 the gate, and called and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, 19 were lodging there. And while Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee. 20 But arise, and get thee down, and go with them, nothing doubting: for I 21 have sent them. And Peter went down to the men, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause 22 wherefore ye are come? And they said, Cornelius a centurion, a righteous man and one that feareth God, and well reported of by all the nation of the Jews, was warned of God by a holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear 23 words from thee. So he called them in and lodged them.

And on the morrow he arose and went forth with them, and certain of the brethren from Joppa accompanied him. 24 And on the morrow<sup>1</sup> they entered into Caesarea. And Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his 25 kinsmen and his near friends. And when it came to pass that Peter entered, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him. 26 But Peter raised him up, saying, Stand up; I myself also am a man. 27 And as he talked with him, he went in, 28 and findeth many come together: and he said unto them, Ye yourselves know<sup>2</sup> how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to join himself or come unto one of another nation; and yet unto me hath God shewed that I should not call any man com- 29 mon or unclean: wherefore also I came without gainsaying, when I was sent for. I ask therefore with what intent 30 ye sent for me. And Cornelius said, Four days ago, until this hour, I was keeping the ninth hour of prayer in my house; and behold, a man stood before me in 31 bright apparel, and saith, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God. 32 Send therefore to Joppa, and call unto thee Simon, who is surnamed Peter; he lodgeth in the house of Simon a tanner, 33 by the sea side. Forthwith therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of God, to hear all things that have been com- 34 manded thee of the Lord. And Peter opened his mouth, and said,

Of a truth I perceive that God is no 35 respecter of persons: but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to him. 36<sup>3</sup> The word which he sent unto the children of Israel, preaching<sup>4</sup> good tidings of peace by Jesus Christ (he is 37 Lord of all)—that saying ye yourselves know, which was published throughout all Judæa, beginning from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached; even 38 Jesus of Nazareth, how that God anointed him with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him. 39 And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom also they slew, 40 hanging him on a tree. Him God raised up the third day, and gave him to be 41 made manifest, not to all the people, but unto witnesses that were chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from 42 the dead. And he charged us to preach unto the people, and to testify that this is he which is ordained of God to be the 43 Judge of quick and dead. To him bear all the prophets witness, that through his name every one that believeth on him shall receive remission of sins. 44 While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which 45 heard the word. And they of the circumcision which believed were amazed, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost. For they heard them speak with tongues, and 47 magnify God. Then answered Peter, Can any man forbid the water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we? And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

11 Now the apostles and the brethren that were in Judæa heard that the Gentiles also had received the word of God. And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended with him, saying, Thou wentest into men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them. But Peter began, and expounded the matter unto them in order, saying, I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even unto me: upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw the fourfooted beasts of the earth and wild beasts and creeping things and fowls of the heaven. And I heard also a voice saying unto me, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath ever entered into my mouth. But a voice answered the second time out of heaven, What God hath cleansed, make not thou common. 10 And this was done thrice: and all were drawn up again into heaven. And behold, forthwith three men stood before the house in which we were, having been sent from Cæsarea unto me. And the Spirit bade me go with them, making no distinction. And these six brethren also accompanied me; and we entered into the man's house: and he told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying, Send to Joppa, and fetch Simon, whose surname is Peter; who shall speak unto thee words, whereby thou shalt be saved, thou and all thy house. And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, even as on us at the beginning. 16 And I remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost. If then God gave unto them the like gift as he did also unto us, when we believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I, that I could withstand God? And when they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then to the Gentiles also hath God granted repentance unto life.

19 They therefore that were scattered abroad upon the tribulation that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phœnicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to none save only to Jews.

20 But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the Greeks also, preaching the Lord Jesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number that believed turned unto the Lord. And the report concerning them came to the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas as far as Antioch: who, when he was come, and had seen the grace of God, was glad; and he exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord: for he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people was added unto the Lord. And he went forth to Tarsus to seek for Saul: and when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that even for a whole year they were gathered together with the church, and taught much people; and that the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

27 Now in these days there came down prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch. 28 And there stood up one of them named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be a great famine over all the world: which came to pass in the days of Claudius. And the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren that dwell in Judæa: which also they did, sending it to the elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

12 Now about that time Herod the king put forth his hands to afflict certain of the church. And he killed James the brother of John with the sword. And when he saw that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Peter also. And those were the days of unleavened bread. And when he had taken him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quarters of soldiers to guard him; intending after the Passover to bring him forth to the people. Peter therefore was kept in the prison: but prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for him. And when Herod was about to bring him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and guards before the door kept the prison. And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shined in the cell: and he smote Peter on the side, and awoke him, saying, Rise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And he did so. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. And he went out, and followed; and he wist not that it was true which was done by the angel, but thought he saw a vision.

10 And when they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth into the city; which opened to them of its own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and straightway the angel departed from 11 him. And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a truth, that the Lord hath sent forth his angel and delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of 12 the people of the Jews. And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together and were pray- 13 ing. And when he knocked at the door of the gate, a maid came to answer, 14 named Rhoda. And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for joy, but ran in, and told that Peter 15 stood before the gate. And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she confidently affirmed that it was even so. 16 And they said, It is his angel. But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened, they saw him, and were 17 amazed. But he, beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him forth out of the prison. And he said, Tell these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he de- 18 parted, and went to another place. Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was 19 become of Peter. And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the guards, and commanded that they should be <sup>1</sup>put to death. And he went down from Judaea to Cae- 20 sarea, and tarried there. Now he was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: and they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, they asked for peace, be- cause their country was fed from the 21 king's country. And upon a set day Herod arrayed himself in royal apparel, and sat on the <sup>2</sup>throne, and made an 22 oration unto them. And the people shouted, saying, The voice of a god, and 23 not of a man. And immediately an angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost. 24 But the word of God grew and multi- 25 plied. And Saul returned <sup>3</sup>from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministry, taking with them John whose surname was Mark. 13 Now there were at Antioch, in the church that was there, prophets and teachers, Barnabas, and Symeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen the foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. And as they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barna- 2 and Saul for the work whereunto 3 I have called them. Then, when they had fasted and prayed and laid their hands on them, they sent them away. 4 So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, went down to Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus. 5 And when they were at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had 6 also John as their attendant. And when they had gone through the whole island unto Paphos, they found a cer- 7 tain <sup>4</sup>sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-Jesus; which was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding. <sup>5</sup>The same called unto him Barnabas and Saul, and 8 sought to hear the word of God. But Elymas the <sup>4</sup>sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn aside the pro- 9 consul from the faith. But Saul, who is also called Paul, filled with the Holy 10 Ghost, fastened his eyes on him, and said, O full of all guile and all villany, thou son of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to 11 pervert the right ways of the Lord? And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, 12 not seeing the sun <sup>6</sup>for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand. 13 Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the teaching of the Lord. 14 Now Paul and his company set sail from Paphos, and came to Perga in Pamphylia: and John departed from 15 them and returned to Jerusalem. But they, passing through from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia; and they went into the synagogue on the sab- 16 bath day, and sat down. And after the reading of the law and the prophets the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 moved him, he raised up David to be their king; to whom also he bare witness, and said, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after my heart, who 23 shall do all my <sup>1</sup> will. Of this man's seed hath God according to promise brought unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus;

 24 when John had first preached <sup>2</sup> before his coming the baptism of repentance
 25 to all the people of Israel. And as John was fulfilling his course, he said, What suppose ye that I am? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me, the shoes of whose feet I am not worthy 26 to unloose. Brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and those among you that fear God, to us is the word of this 27 salvation sent forth. For they that dwell in Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him. And though they found no cause of death in him, yet asked they of Pilate that he should be slain.
 29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a 30 tomb. But God raised him from the 31 dead: and he was seen for many days of them that came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are now his 32 witnesses unto the people. And we bring you good tidings of the promise
 33 made unto the fathers, how that God hath fulfilled the same unto our children, in that he raised up Jesus; as also it is written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten 34 thee. And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he hath spoken on this wise, I will give you the holy and 35 sure  blessings  of David. Because he saith also in another  psalm , Thou wilt not give thy Holy One to see corruption.
 36 For David, after he had <sup>3</sup> in his own generation served the counsel of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his 37 fathers, and saw corruption: but he whom God raised up saw no corruption.
 38 Be it known unto you therefore, brethren, that through this man is proclaimed unto you remission of sins:
 39 and by him every one that believeth is justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of 40 Moses. Beware therefore, lest that come upon  you , which is spoken in the prophets;
 41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and <sup>4</sup> perish;
 For I work a work in your days, A work which ye shall in no wise believe, if one declare it unto you.
 42 And as they went out, they besought that these words might be spoken to 43 them the next sabbath. Now when the synagogue broke up, many of the Jews and of the devout proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, urged them to continue in the grace of God.

 44 And the next sabbath almost the whole city was gathered together to hear the 45 word of <sup>5</sup> God. But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul, and <sup>6</sup> blasphemed. And Paul and Barnabas spake out boldly, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you. Seeing ye thrust it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles.
 47 For so hath the Lord commanded us,  saying ,
 I have set thee for a light of the Gentiles,
 That thou shouldest be for salvation unto the uttermost part of the earth.
 48 And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of <sup>5</sup> God: and as many as were ordained to 49 eternal life believed. And the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout 50 all the region. But the Jews urged on the devout women of honourable estate, and the chief men of the city, and stirred up a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and cast them out of their bor-51 ders. But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto 52 Iconium. And the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Ghost.
 14 And it came to pass in Iconium, that they entered together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of Jews and of
 2 Greeks believed. But the Jews that were disobedient stirred up the souls of the Gentiles, and made them evil affect-
 3 ed against the brethren. Long time therefore they tarried  there  speaking boldly in the Lord, which bare witness unto the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their 4 hands. But the multitude of the city was divided; and part held with the 5 Jews, and part with the apostles. And when there was made an onset both of the Gentiles and of the Jews with their rulers, to entreat them shamefully, 6 and to stone them, they became aware of it, and fled unto the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra and Derbe, and the 7 region round about: and there they preached the gospel.
 8 And at Lystra there sat a certain man, impotent in his feet, a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked.
 9 The same heard Paul speaking: who, fastening his eyes upon him, and seeing that he had faith to be <sup>7</sup> made whole, 10 said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped up and walked.
 11 And when the multitudes saw what

Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men. And they called Barnabas, <sup>1</sup>Jupiter; and Paul, <sup>2</sup>Mereury, because he was the chief speaker.

13 And the priest of <sup>1</sup>Jupiter whose temple was before the city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the 14 multitudes. But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they rent their garments, and sprang forth

15 among the multitude, crying out and saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like <sup>3</sup>passions with you, and bring you good tidings, that ye should turn from these vain things unto the living God, who made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and

16 all that in them is: who in the generations gone by suffered all the nations

17 to walk in their own ways. And yet he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave you from heaven rains and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and glad-

18 ness. And with these sayings scarce restrained they the multitudes from doing sacrifice unto them.

19 But there came Jews thither from Antioch and Iconium: and having persuaded the multitudes, they stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, <sup>20</sup>supposing that he was dead. But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and entered into the city: and on the morrow he went forth with Bar-

21 nabas to Derbe. And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to

22 Antioch, confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that through many tribulations we must enter into the 23 kingdom of God. And when they had appointed for them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord,

24 on whom they had believed. And they passed through Pisidia, and came

25 to Pamphylia. And when they had spoken the word in Perga, they went

26 down to Attalia; and thence they sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been committed to the grace of God for the work which they had

27 fulfilled. And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all things that God had done with them, and how that he had opened a door of faith unto the 28 Gentiles. And they tarried no little time with the disciples.

15 And certain men came down from Judaea and taught the brethren, saying, Except ye be circumcised after the custom of Moses, ye cannot be saved.

2 And when Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and questioning with them, the brethren appointed that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and elders about this question. They therefore, being brought on their way by the church, passed through both Phenicia and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto

4 all the brethren. And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church and the apostles and the elders, and they rehearsed all things

5 that God had done with them. But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees who believed, saying, It is needful to circumcise them, and to charge them to keep the law of Moses.

6 And the apostles and the elders were gathered together to consider of this

7 matter. And when there had been much questioning, Peter rose up, and said unto them,

Brethren, ye know how that <sup>4</sup>a good while ago God made choice among you, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel, and believe. And God, which knoweth the heart, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto

9 us; and he made no distinction between us and them, cleansing their hearts by 10 faith. Now therefore why tempt ye God, that ye should put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

11 But we believe that we shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, in like manner as they.

12 And all the multitude kept silence; and they hearkened unto Barnabas and Paul rehearsing what signs and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles

13 by them. And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying,

14 Brethren, hearken unto me: Symeon hath rehearsed how first God did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a 15 people for his name. And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 After these things I will return, And I will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen; And I will build again the ruins thereof, And I will set it up:

17 That the residue of men may seek after the Lord, And all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called,

18 Saith the Lord, <sup>5</sup>who maketh these things known from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my judgement is, that we trouble not them which from among the Gentiles turn to God;

20 but that we <sup>1</sup>write unto them, that they abstain from the pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from 21 what is strangled, and from blood. For Moses from generations of old hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath.
 22 Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company, and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas called Barsabbas, and Silas, chief men among 23 the brethren: and they wrote thus by them, The apostles and the elder brethren unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and 24 Cilicia, greeting: Forasmuch as we have heard that certain <sup>2</sup>which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls; to whom 25 we gave no commandment; it seemed good unto us, having come to one accord, to choose out men and send them unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord
 27 Jesus Christ. We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who themselves also shall tell you the same things by word 29 of mouth. For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary 29 things; that ye abstain from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication; from which if ye keep yourselves, it shall be well with you. Fare ye well.
 30 So they, when they were dismissed, came down to Antioch; and having gathered the multitude together, they 31 delivered the epistle. And when they had read it, they rejoiced for the <sup>3</sup>consolation. And Judas and Silas, being themselves also prophets, <sup>4</sup>exhorted the brethren with many words, and 33 confirmed them. And after they had spent some time there, they were dismissed in peace from the brethren unto 35 those that had sent them forth.<sup>5</sup> But Paul and Barnabas tarried in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.
 36 And after some days Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us return now and visit the brethren in every city wherein we proclaimed the word of the Lord, 37 and see how they fare. And Barnabas was minded to take with them John 38 also, who was called Mark. But Paul thought not good to take with them him who withdrew from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them
 39 to the work. And there arose a sharp contention, so that they parted asunder one from the other, and Barnabas took Mark with him, and sailed away 40 unto Cyprus; but Paul chose Silas,

<sup>2</sup> Some ancient authorities omit which went out.

<sup>5</sup> Some ancient authorities insert, with variations, ver. 34. But it seemed good unto Silas to abide there and went forth, being commended by the brethren to the grace of the Lord.

 41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

16 And he came also to Derbe and to Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timothy, the son of a Jewess which believed; but his
 2 father was a Greek. The same was well reported of by the brethren that
 3 were at Lystra and Iconium. Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and he took and circumcised him because of the Jews that were in those parts: for they all knew that his father
 4 was a Greek. And as they went on their way through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, which had been ordained of the apostles
 5 and elders that were at Jerusalem. So the churches were strengthened in the faith, and increased in number daily.
 6 And they went through the region of Phrygia and Galatia, having been forbidden of the Holy Ghost to speak
 7 the word in Asia; and when they were come over against Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia; and the Spirit of 8 Jesus suffered them not; and passing by Mysia, they came down to Troas.
 9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There was a man of Macedonia standing, beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.
 10 And when he had seen the vision, straightway we sought to go forth into Macedonia, concluding that God had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.
 11 Setting sail therefore from Troas, we made a straight course to Samothrace, 12 and the day following to Neapolis; and from thence to Philippi, which is a city of Macedonia, the first of the district, a Roman colony: and we were in this 13 city tarrying certain days. And on the sabbath day we went forth without the gate by a river side, where we supposed there was a place of prayer; and we sat down, and spake unto the women
 14 which were come together. And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, one that worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, to give heed unto the things which were spoken by 15 Paul. And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.
 16 And it came to pass, as we were going to the place of prayer, that a certain maid having <sup>6</sup>a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by sooth-
 17 saying. The same following after Paul and us cried out, saying, These men are <sup>7</sup>servants of the Most High

God, which proclaim unto you <sup>1</sup> the way of salvation. And this she did for many days. But Paul, being sore troubled, turned and said to the spirit, I charge thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And it came out that very hour.

20 rulers, and when they had brought them into the <sup>3</sup> magistrates, they said, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble

21 our city, and set forth customs which it is not lawful for us to receive, or

22 to observe, being Romans. And the multitude rose up together against them: and the <sup>3</sup> magistrates rent their

23 garments off them, and commanded to beat them with rods. And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the 24 jailor to keep them safely: who, having received such a charge, cast them into the inner prison, and made their feet

25 fast in the stocks. But about midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing

26 hymns unto God, and the prisoners were listening to them; and suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison-house

27 were shaken: and immediately all the doors were opened; and every one's

28 bands were loosed. And the jailor being roused out of sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, drew his sword, and was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here.

29 And he called for lights, and sprang in, and, trembling for fear, fell down before Paul and Silas, and brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must 30 I do to be saved? And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house.

31 And they spake the word of <sup>4</sup> the Lord unto him, with all that were in his

32 house. And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all

33 his, immediately. And he brought them up into his house, and set <sup>5</sup> meat before them, and rejoiced greatly, with all

34 his house, <sup>6</sup> having believed in God. But when it was day, the <sup>3</sup> magistrates sent the <sup>7</sup> serjeants, saying, Let those

35 men go. And the jailor reported the words to Paul, saying, The <sup>3</sup> magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore come forth, and go in peace.

36 men go. And the jailor reported the words to Paul, saying, The <sup>3</sup> magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore come forth, and go in peace. But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us publicly, uncondemned, men that are Romans, and have cast us into prison; and do they now cast us out privily? nay verily; but let them come themselves and bring us

38 out. And the <sup>7</sup> serjeants reported these words unto the <sup>3</sup> magistrates; and they feared, when they heard that they were

39 Romans; and they came and besought them; and when they had brought them out, they asked them to go away from 40 the city. And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of Lydia; and when they had seen the brethren, they <sup>8</sup> comforted them, and departed.

<sup>8</sup> Or, exhorted

17 Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a syna-

2 gogue of the Jews: and Paul, as his custom was, went in unto them, and for three <sup>9</sup> sabbath days reasoned with

3 them from the scriptures, opening and alleging, that it behoved the Christ to suffer, and to rise again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom, said he, I

4 proclaim unto you, is the Christ. And some of them were persuaded, and consorted with Paul and Silas; and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few. 5 But the Jews, being moved with jealousy, took unto them certain vile fellows of the rabble, and gathering a crowd, set the city on an uproar; and assaulting the house of Jason, they sought to bring them forth to the

6 people. And when they found them not, they dragged Jason and certain brethren before the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned <sup>10</sup> the world upside down are come hither

7 also; whom Jason hath received: and these all act contrary to the decrees of Cæsar, saying that there is another

8 king, one Jesus. And they troubled the multitude and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken security from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

10 And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who when they were come thither went into the synagogue of 11 the Jews. Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, examining the scriptures daily, whether these things were so.

12 Many of them therefore believed; also of the Greek women of honourable estate, and of men, not a few.

13 But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was proclaimed of Paul at Berea also, they came thither likewise, stirring up and troubling the mul-

14 titudes. And then immediately the brethren sent forth Paul to go as far as to the sea: and Silas and Timothy abode there still. But they that conducted Paul brought him as far as Athens: and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timothy that they should come to him with all speed, they departed.

16 Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was provoked within him, as he beheld the city full of idols.

17 So he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with 18 them that met with him. And certain also of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers encountered him. And some said, What would this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange <sup>1</sup>gods: because he preached Jesus and the resurrection.

19 And they took hold of him, and brought him <sup>2</sup>unto <sup>3</sup>the Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new teaching

20 is, which is spoken by thee? For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what

21 these things mean. (Now all the Athenians and the strangers sojourning there <sup>4</sup>spent their time in nothing else, 22 but either to tell or to hear some new thing.) And Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus, and said,

Ye men of Athens, in all things I perceive that ye are somewhat <sup>5</sup>super-

23 stitions. For as I passed along, and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription,

<sup>6</sup>TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. What therefore ye worship in ignorance, this

24 set I forth unto you. The God that made the world and all things therein, he, being Lord of heaven and earth,

25 dwelleth not in <sup>7</sup>temples made with hands; neither is he served by men's

26 hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he himself giveth to all life,

27 and breath, and all things; and he made of one every nation of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth,

28 having determined their appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek God, if

29 haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he is not far from each one of us: for in him we live,

30 and move, and have our being; as certain even of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

31 Being then the offspring of God, we ought not to think that <sup>8</sup>the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone,

32 graven by art and device of man. The times of ignorance therefore God overlooked; but now he <sup>9</sup>commandeth men that they should all everywhere repent:

33 inasmuch as he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge <sup>10</sup>the world in righteousness <sup>11</sup>by <sup>12</sup>the man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

34 Now when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked; but others said, We will hear thee

35 concerning this yet again. Thus Paul <sup>13</sup>went out from among them. But certain men clave unto him, and believed: among whom also was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

18 After these things he departed from <sup>2</sup>Athens, and came to Corinth. And he found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome: and <sup>3</sup>he came unto them; and because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their <sup>4</sup>trade they were tentmakers. And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and <sup>14</sup>persuaded Jews and Greeks.

5 But when Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by the word, testifying to the 6 Jews that Jesus was the Christ. And when they opposed themselves, and <sup>15</sup>blasphemed, he shook out his raiment, and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads; I am clean:

from henceforth I will go unto the <sup>7</sup>Gentiles. And he departed thence, and went into the house of a certain man named Titus Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined

8 hard to the synagogue. And Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, <sup>16</sup>believed in the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed,

9 and were baptized. And the Lord said unto Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy

10 peace: for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to harm thee: for I <sup>11</sup>have much people in this city. And he dwelt there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul, and brought him before the judgement-seat, saying, This man persuadeth men to worship God

13 contrary to the law. But when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If indeed it were a matter of wrong or of wicked villany, O ye Jews, reason would that I should

14 bear with you: but if they are questions about words and names and your own law, look to it yourselves; I am not minded to be a judge of these matters.

15 And he drave them from the judgement-seat. And they all laid hold on Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgement-seat. And Gallio cared for none of these things.

16 And Paul, having tarried after this yet many days, took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence for Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila; having shorn his head

20 And when they asked him to abide a 21 longer time, he consented not; but taking his leave of them, and saying, I will return again unto you, if God will, 22 he set sail from Ephesus. And when he had landed at Cæsarea, he went up and saluted the church, and went down 23 to Antioch. And having spent some time there, he departed, and went through the region of Galatia and Phrygia in order, establishing all the disciples.

24 Now a certain Jew named Apollos, an Alexandrian by race, <sup>1</sup>a learned man, came to Ephesus; and he was mighty 25 in the scriptures. This man had been <sup>2</sup>instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in spirit, he spake and taught carefully the things concerning Jesus, knowing only the baptism of 26 John: and he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way 27 of God more carefully. And when he was minded to pass over into Achaia, the brethren encouraged him, and wrote to the disciples to receive him: and when he was come, he <sup>3</sup>helped them much which had believed through 28 grace: for he powerfully confuted the Jews, <sup>4</sup>and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

19 And it came to pass, that, while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper country came to Ephesus, and found certain disciples: 2 and he said unto them, Did ye receive the Holy Ghost when ye believed? And they said unto him, Nay, we did not so much as hear whether <sup>5</sup>the Holy Ghost 3 was given. And he said, Into what then were ye baptized? And they said, Into 4 John's baptism. And Paul said, John baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should 5 come after him, that is, on Jesus. And when they heard this, they were baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus.

6 And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied. And they were in all about twelve men.

8 And he entered into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, reasoning and persuading as to the things concerning the kingdom of 9 God. But when some were hardened and disobedient, speaking evil of the Way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyran-

And God wrought special <sup>6</sup>miracles by the hands 12 of Paul: inasmuch that unto the sick were carried away from his body handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits 13 went out. But certain also of the strolling Jews, exorcists, took upon them to name over them which had the evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, I adjure you by Jesus whom Paul 14 preacheth. And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, a chief priest, 15 which did this. And the evil spirit answered and said unto them, Jesus I <sup>7</sup>know, and Paul I know; but who are 16 ye? And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and mastered both of them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked 17 and wounded. And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, that dwell at Ephesus; and fear fell upon them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was 18 magnified. Many also of them that had believed came, confessing, and declaring their deeds. And not a few of them that practised <sup>8</sup>curious arts brought their books together, and burned them in the sight of all: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver. So mightily grew the word of the Lord and prevailed.

21 Now after these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have 22 been there, I must also see Rome. And having sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timothy and Erastus, he himself stayed in Asia for a while.

23 And about that time there arose no 24 small stir concerning the Way. For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines of <sup>9</sup>Diana, brought no little business unto the 25 craftsmen; whom he gathered together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this 26 business we have our wealth. And ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no gods, which are made with 27 hands: and not only is there danger that this our trade come into disrepute; but also that the temple of the great goddess <sup>10</sup>Diana be made of no account, and that she should even be deposited from her magnificence, whom all Asia and <sup>10</sup>the world worship- 28 peth. And when they heard this, they were filled with wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is <sup>9</sup>Diana of the

29 Ephesians. And the city was filled with the confusion: and they rushed with one accord into the theatre, having seized Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in 30 travel. And when Paul was minded to enter in unto the people, the disciples 31 suffered him not. And certain also of the <sup>1</sup>chief officers of Asia, being his friends, sent unto him, and besought him not to adventure himself into the 32 theatre. Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was in confusion; and the more part knew not wherefore they were 33 come together. <sup>2</sup>And they brought Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made a defence unto the 34 people. But when they perceived that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great 35 is <sup>3</sup>Diana of the Ephesians. And when the townclerk had quieted the multitude, he saith, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there who knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of the great <sup>3</sup>Diana, and of the image which fell down from <sup>4</sup>Jupiter? 36 Seeing then that these things cannot be gainsaid, ye ought to be quiet, and to 37 do nothing rash. For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of temples nor blasphemers of our 38 goddess. If therefore Demetrius, and the craftsmen that are with him, have a matter against any man, <sup>5</sup>the courts are open, and there are proconsuls: let 39 them accuse one another. But if ye seek anything about other matters, it shall be settled in the regular assembly. 40 For indeed we are in danger to be <sup>6</sup>accused concerning this day's riot, there being no cause for it: and as touching it we shall not be able to give account 41 of this concourse. And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly. 20 And after the uproar was ceased, Paul having sent for the disciples and exhorted them, took leave of them, and 2 departed for to go into Macedonia. And when he had gone through those parts, and had given them much exhortation, 3 he came into Greece. And when he had spent three months there, and a plot was laid against him by the Jews, as he was about to set sail for Syria, he determined to return through Macedonia. And there accompanied him <sup>7</sup>as far as Asia Sopater of Berea, the son of Pyrrhus; and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus; and Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy; and of 5 Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus. But these <sup>8</sup>had gone before, and were waiting for us at Troas. And we sailed away from Philippi after the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five days; where we tarried seven days. 7 And upon the first day of the week, when we were gathered together to break bread, Paul discoursed with them, intending to depart on the morrow; and prolonged his speech until midnight. 8 And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where we were gathered 9 together. And there sat in the window a certain young man named Eutychus, borne down with deep sleep; and as Paul discoursed yet longer, being borne down by his sleep he fell down from the third story, and was taken up dead. 10 And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, Make ye no 11 ado; for his life is in him. And when he was gone up, and had broken the bread, and eaten, and had talked with them a long while, even till break of day, so 12 he departed. And they brought the lad alive, and were not a little comforted. 13 But we, going before to the ship, set sail for Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, intending himself to go <sup>9</sup>by land. And when he met us at Assos, we took him 15 in, and came to Mitylene. And sailing from thence, we came the following day over against Chios; and the next day we touched at Samos; and <sup>10</sup>the day after 16 we came to Miletus. For Paul had determined to sail past Ephesus, that he might not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hastening, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem the day of Pentecost. 17 And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called to him the <sup>11</sup>elders of the 18 church. And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye yourselves know, from the first day that I set foot in Asia, after what manner I was with you all the time, serving the Lord with all lowliness of mind, and with tears, and with trials which 20 befell me by the plots of the Jews: how that I shrank not from declaring unto you anything that was profitable, and teaching you publicly, and from house 21 to house, testifying both to Jews and to Greeks repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus <sup>12</sup>Christ. 22 And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the 23 things that shall befall me there: save that the Holy Ghost testifieth unto me in every city, saying that bonds and 24 afflictions abide me. But I hold not my life of any account, as dear unto myself, <sup>13</sup>so that I may accomplish my course, and the ministry which I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel 25 of the grace of God. And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I went about preaching the kingdom, shall see my face no more. 26 Wherefore I testify unto you this day, that I am pure from the blood of 27 all men. For I shrank not from declaring unto you the whole counsel of God.

 28 Take heed unto yourselves, and to all the flock, in the which the Holy Ghost hath made you <sup>1</sup> bishops, to feed the church of <sup>2</sup> God, which he <sup>3</sup> purchased with his 29 own blood. I know that after my departing grievous wolves shall enter in 30 among you, not sparing the flock; and from among your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw 31 away the disciples after them. Wherefore watch ye, remembering that by the space of three years I ceased not to admonish every one night and day with 32 tears. And now I commend you to <sup>4</sup> God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you the inheritance among all them that are 33 sanctified. I coveted no man's silver, 34 or gold, or apparel. Ye yourselves know that these hands ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with 35 me. In all things I gave you an example, how that so labouring ye ought to help the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he himself said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.
 36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all.
 37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's 38 neck, and kissed him, sorrowing most of all for the word which he had spoken, that they should behold his face no more. And they brought him on his way unto the ship.
 21 And when it came to pass that we were parted from them, and had set sail, we came with a straight course unto Cos, and the next day unto Rhodes, and from 2 thence unto Patara: and having found a ship crossing over unto Phenicia, we 3 went aboard, and set sail. And when we had come in sight of Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed unto Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship 4 was to unlade her burden. And having found the disciples, we tarried there seven days: and these said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not 5 set foot in Jerusalem. And when it came to pass that we had accomplished the days, we departed and went on our journey; and they all, with wives and children, brought us on our way, till we were out of the city: and kneeling 6 down on the beach, we prayed, and bade each other farewell; and we went on board the ship, but they returned home again.
 7 And when we had finished the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais;
 and we saluted the brethren, and abode
 8 with them one day. And on the morrow we departed, and came unto Cesa-rea: and entering into the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of 9 the seven, we abode with him. Now this man had four daughters, virgins, which 10 did prophesy. And as we tarried there <sup>5</sup> many days, there came down from Judæa a certain prophet, named Aga-11 bus. And coming to us, and taking Paul's girdle, he bound his own feet and hands, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of 12 the Gentiles. And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place besought him not to go up to 13 Jerusalem. Then Paul answered, What do ye, weeping and breaking my heart?

 for I am ready not to be bound only,
 but also to die at Jerusalem for the 14 name of the Lord Jesus. And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.
 15 And after these days we <sup>6</sup> took up our baggage, and went up to Jerusalem.
 16 And there went with us also certain of the disciples from Cæsarea, bringing with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we should lodge.
 17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, 18 the brethren received us gladly. And the day following Paul went in with us unto James; and all the elders were 19 present. And when he had saluted them, he rehearsed one by one the things which God had wrought among 20 the Gentiles by his ministry. And they, when they heard it, glorified God;
 and they said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many <sup>7</sup> thousands there are among the Jews of them which have believed; and they are all zealous for 21 the law: and they have been informed concerning thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, telling them not to circumcise their children, neither to 22 walk after the customs. What is it therefore? they will certainly hear that 23 thou art come. Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men 24 which have a vow on them; these take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges for them, that they may shave their heads: and all shall know that there is no truth in the things whereof they have been informed concerning thee; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, keeping the law.
 25 But as touching the Gentiles which have believed, we <sup>8</sup> wrote, giving judgement that they should keep themselves from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from what is strangled, 26 and from fornication. Then Paul <sup>9</sup> took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them went into the temple, declaring the fulfilment of the days of purification,

until the offering was offered for every one of them.

- 27 And when the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude, and laid hands on him, 28 crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that teacheth all men everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place: and moreover he brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath 29 defiled this holy place. For they had before seen with him in the city Trophimus the Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the 30 temple. And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they laid hold on Paul, and dragged him out of the temple: and straightway the 31 doors were shut. And as they were seeking to kill him, tidings came up to the <sup>1</sup>chief captain of the <sup>2</sup>band, that 32 all Jerusalem was in confusion. And forthwith he took soldiers and centurions, and ran down upon them: and they, when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, left off beating Paul. 33 Then the chief captain came near, and laid hold on him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and inquired who he was, and what he had 34 done. And some shouted one thing, some another, among the crowd: and when he could not know the certainty for the uproar, he commanded him to 35 be brought into the castle. And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the 36 violence of the crowd; for the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, Away with him. 37 And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he saith unto the chief captain, May I say something unto thee? And he said, Dost thou know 38 Greek? Art thou not then the Egyptian, which before these days stirred up to sedition and led out into the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins? 39 But Paul said, I am a Jew, of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, give me leave to 40 speak unto the people. And when he had given him leave, Paul, standing on the stairs, beckoned with the hand unto the people; and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew language, saying,

22 Brethren and fathers, hear ye the defence which I now make unto you.

2 And when they heard that he spake unto them in the Hebrew language, they were the more quiet: and he saith,

3 I am a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamahel, instructed according to the strict manner of the law of our fathers, being zealous for God.

4 even as ye all are this day: and I persecuted this Way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both 5 men and women. As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders: from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and journeyed to Damascus, to bring them also which were there unto Jerusalem in 6 bonds, for to be punished. And it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and drew nigh unto Damascus, about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me. 7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, 8 why persecutest thou me? And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, 9 whom thou persecutest. And they that were with me beheld indeed the light, but they heard not the voice of 10 him that spake to me. And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed 11 for thee to do. And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were 12 with me, I came unto Damascus. And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, well reported of by all the 13 Jews that dwelt there, came unto me, and standing by me said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And in that very hour I <sup>3</sup>looked up on him. 14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee to know his will, and to see the Righteous One, and to 15 hear a voice from his mouth. For thou shalt be a witness for him unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard. 16 And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, 17 calling on his name. And it came to pass, that, when I had returned to Jerusalem, and while I prayed in the 18 temple, I fell into a trance, and saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: because they will not receive of thee 19 testimony concerning me. And I said, Lord, they themselves know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue 20 them that believed on thee: and when the blood of Stephen thy witness was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting, and keeping the garments 21 of them that slew him. And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee forth far hence unto the Gentiles.

22 And they gave him audience unto this word; and they lifted up their voice, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not 23 fit that he should live. And as they cried out, and threw off their gar-

24 ments, and cast dust into the air, the chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, bidding that he should be examined by scourging, that he might know for what cause they 25 so shouted against him. And when they had tied him up <sup>1</sup> with the thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned? And when the centurion heard it, he went to the chief captain, and told him, saying, What art thou about to 27 do? for this man is a Roman. And the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? And 28 he said, Yea. And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this citizenship. And Paul said, But I 29 am a Roman born. They then which were about to examine him straightway departed from him: and the chief captain also was afraid, when he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

30 But on the morrow, desiring to know the certainty, wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

23 And Paul, looking stedfastly on the council, said, Brethren, I have lived before God in all good conscience until 2 this day. And the high priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him 3 to smite him on the mouth. Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whitened wall: and sittest thou to judge me according to the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary 4 to the law? And they that stood by said, Revilest thou God's high priest? 5 And Paul said, I wist not, brethren, that he was high priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil of a ruler 6 of thy people. But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Brethren, I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees: touching the hope and resurrection of the dead I am 7 called in question. And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and Sadducees: 8 and the assembly was divided. For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: 9 but the Pharisees confess both. And there arose a great clamour: and some of the scribes of the Pharisees' part stood up, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: and what if a spirit hath spoken to him, or an angel? 10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer: for as thou hast testified concerning me at Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. And they were more than 14 forty which made this conspiracy. And they came to the chief priests and the elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, to taste nothing until we have killed Paul. Now therefore do ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you, as though ye would judge of his case more exactly: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to 16 slay him. But Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, <sup>2</sup> and he came and entered into the castle, and told 17 Paul. And Paul called unto him one of the centurions, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for 18 he hath something to tell him. So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and saith, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and asked me to bring this young man unto thee, who 19 hath something to say to thee. And the chief captain took him by the hand, and going aside asked him privately, What is that thou hast to tell me? 20 And he said, The Jews have agreed to ask thee to bring down Paul to-morrow unto the council, as though thou wouldest inquire somewhat more exactly concerning him. Do not thou therefore yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves under a curse, neither to eat nor to drink till they have slain him: and now are they ready, looking for the 22 promise from thee. So the chief captain let the young man go, charging him, Tell no man that thou hast signified these things to me. And he called unto him two of the centurions, and said, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go as far as Cæsarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the 24 night: and he bade them provide beasts, that they might set Paul thereon, and bring him safe unto Felix the governor. And he wrote a letter after this form:

26 Claudius Lysias unto the most excellent governor Felix, greeting. This man was seized by the Jews, and was about to be slain of them, when I came upon them with the soldiers, and rescued him, having learned that he was a Roman. 28 And desiring to know the cause wherefore they accused him, <sup>1</sup> I brought him down unto their council: whom I found to be accused about questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.

<sup>30</sup> And when it was shewn to me that there would be a plot against the man, I sent him to thee forthwith, charging his accusers also to speak against him before thee.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>31</sup> So the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by <sup>32</sup> night to Antipatris. But on the morrow they left the horsemen to go with <sup>33</sup> him, and returned to the castle: and they, when they came to Cæsarea, and delivered the letter to the governor, <sup>34</sup> presented Paul also before him. And when he had read it, he asked of what province he was; and when he understood that he was of Cilicia, I will hear thy cause, said he, when thine accusers also are come: and he commanded him to be kept in Herod's <sup>3</sup> palace.

<sup>24</sup> And after five days the high priest Ananias came down with certain elders, and with an orator, one Tertullus; and they informed the governor <sup>2</sup> against Paul. And when he was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying,

Seeing that by thee we enjoy much peace, and that by thy providence evils <sup>3</sup> are corrected for this nation, we accept it in all ways and in all places, most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness.

<sup>10</sup> And when the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, Paul answered,

Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do cheerfully make my defence: seeing that thou canst take knowledge, that it is not more than twelve days since I went up to worship

<sup>12</sup> at Jerusalem: and neither in the temple did they find me disputing with any man or stirring up a crowd, nor in the <sup>13</sup> synagogues, nor in the city. Neither can they prove to thee the things <sup>14</sup> whereof they now accuse me. But this

I confess unto thee, that after the Way which they call <sup>6</sup> a sect, so serve I the God of our fathers, believing all things which are according to the law, and which are written in the prophets:

15 having hope toward God, which these also themselves <sup>7</sup> look for, that there shall be a resurrection both of the just <sup>16</sup> and unjust. Herein do I also exercise myself to have a conscience void of

<sup>17</sup> fence toward God and men alway. Now after <sup>8</sup> many years I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings: <sup>9</sup> amidst which they found me purified in the temple, with no crowd, nor yet with tumult: but there were certain Jews

<sup>19</sup> from Asia—who ought to have been here before thee, and to make accusation, if they had aught against me. <sup>20</sup> Or else let these men themselves say what wrong-doing they found, when I

<sup>21</sup> stood before the council, except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question before you this day. <sup>22</sup> But Felix, having more exact knowledge concerning the Way, deferred them, saying, When Lysias the chief captain shall come down, I will determine your matter. And he gave order to the centurion that he should be kept in charge, and should have indulgence; and not to forbid any of his friends to minister unto him.

<sup>24</sup> But after certain days, Felix came with Drusilla, <sup>10</sup> his wife, which was a Jewess, and sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ

<sup>25</sup> Jesus. And as he reasoned of righteousness, and <sup>11</sup> temperance, and the judgement to come, Felix was terrified, and answered, Go thy way for this time; and when I have a convenient <sup>26</sup> season, I will call thee unto me. He hoped withal that money would be given him of Paul: wherefore also he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him. But when two years were fulfilled, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus; and desiring to gain favour with the Jews, Felix left Paul in bonds.

<sup>25</sup> Festus therefore, <sup>12</sup> having come into the province, after three days went up to Jerusalem from Cæsarea. And the chief priests and the principal men of the Jews informed him against Paul; <sup>3</sup> and they besought him, asking favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem; laying wait to kill

<sup>4</sup> him on the way. Howbeit Festus answered, that Paul was kept in charge at Cæsarea, and that he himself was <sup>5</sup> about to depart thither shortly. Let them therefore, saith he, which are of power among you, go down with me, and if there is anything amiss in the man, let them accuse him.

<sup>6</sup> And when he had tarried among them not more than eight or ten days, he went down unto Cæsarea; and on the morrow he sat on the judgement-seat, and commanded

7 Paul to be brought. And when he was come, the Jews which had come down from Jerusalem stood round about him, bringing against him many and grievous charges, which they could not 8 prove; while Paul said in his defence, Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against 9 Cæsar, have I sinned at all. But Festus, desiring to gain favour with the Jews, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be 10 judged of these things before me? But Paul said, I am standing before Cæsar's judgement-seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou also very well 11 knowest. If then I am a wrong-doer, and have committed anything worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if none of those things is true, whereof these accuse me, no man can <sup>1</sup>give me up unto 12 them. I appeal unto Cæsar. Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Thou hast appealed unto Cæsar: unto Cæsar shalt thou go. 13 Now when certain days were passed, Agrippa the king and Bernice arrived 14 at Cæsarea, <sup>2</sup>and saluted Festus. And as they tarried there many days, Festus laid Paul's case before the king, saying, There is a certain man left a 15 prisoner by Felix: about whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, asking for sentence against him. 16 To whom I answered, that it is not the custom of the Romans to give up any man, before that the accused have the accusers face to face, and have had opportunity to make his defence concerning the matter laid against him. 17 When therefore they were come together here, I made no delay, but on the next day sat down on the judgement-seat, and commanded the man to be 18 brought. Concerning whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought no charge of such evil things as I supposed; but had certain questions against him of their own <sup>3</sup>religion, and of one Jesus, who was dead, whom Paul 20 affirmed to be alive. And I, being perplexed how to inquire concerning these things, asked whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged 21 of these matters. But when Paul had appealed to be kept for the decision of <sup>4</sup>the emperor, I commanded him to be kept till I should send him to Cæsar. 22 And Agrippa said unto Festus, I also <sup>5</sup>could wish to hear the man myself. Tomorrow, saith he, thou shalt hear him. 23 So on the morrow, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and they were entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and the principal men of the city, at the command of Festus Paul was

24 brought in. And Festus saith, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye behold this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews made suit to me, both at Jerusalem and here, crying that he ought not to live 25 any longer. But I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death: and as he himself appealed to <sup>6</sup>the emperor I determined to send him. Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I may have somewhat 27 to write. For it seemeth to me unreasonable, in sending a prisoner, not withal to signify the charges against him. 28 And Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth his hand, and made his defence: 29 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, that I am to make my defence before thee this day touching all the things 30 whereof I am accused by the Jews: <sup>6</sup>especially because thou art expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to 31 hear me patiently. My manner of life then from my youth up, which was from the beginning among mine own nation, and at Jerusalem, know all the Jews; 32 having knowledge of me from the first, if they be willing to testify, how that after the straitest sect of our religion I 33 lived a Pharisee. And now I stand here to be judged for the hope of the promise 34 made of God unto our fathers; unto which promise our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God night and day, hope to attain. And concerning this hope I 35 am accused by the Jews, O king! Why is it judged incredible with you, if God 36 doth raise the dead? I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of 37 Nazareth. And this I also did in Jerusalem: and I both shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were put to death, I gave my vote 38 against them. And punishing them oftentimes in all the synagogues, I strove to make them blasphemous; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto foreign cities. 39 Whereupon as I journeyed to Damascus with the authority and commission 40 of the chief priests, at midday, O king, I saw on the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them that 41 journeyed with me. And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice saying unto me in the Hebrew language, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee 42 to kick against <sup>8</sup>the goad. And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. But arise, and stand upon thy feet: for to this end have I appeared unto thee, to appoint thee a minister and a witness both of the things<sup>1</sup> wherein thou hast seen me, and of the things wherein I will appear unto thee; delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom I send thee, to open their eyes,<sup>2</sup> that they may turn from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive remission of sins and an inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith in me. Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision: but declared both to them of Damascus first, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judæa, and also to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, doing works worthy of<sup>3</sup> repentance. For this cause the Jews seized me in the temple, and assayed to kill me. Having therefore obtained the help that is from God, I stand unto this day testifying both to small and great, saying nothing but what the prophets and Moses did say should come; <sup>4</sup>how that the Christ<sup>5</sup> must suffer, and <sup>4</sup>how that he first by the resurrection of the dead should proclaim light both to the people and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus made his defence, Festus saith with a loud voice, Paul, thou art mad; thy much learning doth turn thee to madness. But Paul saith, I am not mad, most excellent Festus; but speak forth words of truth and soberness. For the king knoweth of these things, unto whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things is hidden from him; for this hath not been done in a corner. King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest. And Agrippa said unto Paul, With but little persuasion thou wouldest fain make me a Christian. And Paul said, I would to God, that whether with little or with much, not thou only, but also all that hear me this day, might become such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them: and when they had withdrawn, they spake one to another, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds. And Agrippa said unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Cæsar.

27 And when it was determined that we should sail for Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the Augustan<sup>6</sup> band. And embarking in a ship of Adramyttium, which was about to sail unto the places on the coast of Asia, we put to sea, Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us. 3 And the next day we touched at Sidon: and Julius treated Paul kindly, and gave him leave to go unto his friends 4 and refresh himself. And putting to sea from thence, we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. And when we had sailed across the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of 6 Lycia. And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing for Italy; 7 and he put us therein. And when we had sailed slowly many days, and were come with difficulty over against Cnidus, the wind not<sup>8</sup> further suffering us, we sailed under the lee of 8 Crete, over against Salmone; and with difficulty coasting along it we came unto a certain place called Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 And when much time was spent, and the voyage was now dangerous, because the Fast was now already gone by, Paul admonished them, and said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with injury and much loss, not only of the lading and the ship, but also of our 11 lives. But the centurion gave more heed to the master and to the owner of the ship, than to those things which were 12 spoken by Paul. And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to put to sea from thence, if by any means they could reach Phœnix, and winter there; which is a haven of Crete, looking<sup>9</sup> north-east and 13 south-east. And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and sailed along Crete, close in 14 shore. But after no long time there beat down from it a tempestuous wind, which 15 is called Euraquilo: and when the ship was caught, and could not face the wind, we gave way to it, and were driven. 16 And running under the lee of a small island called<sup>10</sup> Cauda, we were able, with 17 difficulty, to secure the boat: and when they had hoisted it up, they used helps, under-girding the ship; and, fearing lest they should be cast upon the Syrtis, they lowered the gear, and so were 18 driven. And as we laboured exceedingly with the storm, the next day they began to throw the freight overboard; 19 and the third day they cast out with their own hands the<sup>11</sup> tackling of the 20 ship. And when neither sun nor stars shone upon us for many days, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was now taken away. 21 And when they had been long without food, then Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have set sail from Crete, and have gotten this injury and loss. And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship. For there stood by me this night an angel of the God whose I am, whom also I serve, saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must stand before Caesar: and lo, God hath granted thee all them that sail with thee. Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even so as it hath been spoken unto me. Howbeit we must be cast upon a certain island.

But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven to and fro in the sea of Adria, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were drawing near to some country; and they sounded, and found twenty fathoms: and after a little space, they sounded again, and found fifteen fathoms. And fearing lest haply we should be cast ashore on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and wished for the day. And as the sailors were seeking to flee out of the ship, and had lowered the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would lay out anchors from the foreship, Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved. Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off. And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take some food, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye wait and continue fasting, having taken nothing. Wherefore I beseech you to take some food: for this is for your safety: for there shall not a hair perish from the head of any of you. And when he had said this, and had taken bread, he gave thanks to God in the presence of all: and he brake it, and began to eat. Then were they all of good cheer, and themselves also took food. And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen souls. And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, throwing out the wheat into the sea. And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they perceived a certain bay with a beach, and they took counsel whether they could drive the ship upon it. And casting off the anchors, they left them in the sea, at the same time loosing the bands of the rudders; and hoisting up the foresail to the wind, they made for the beach. But lighting upon a place where two seas met, they ran the vessel aground; and the foreship struck and remained unmovable, but the stern began to break up by the violence of the waves. And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape. But the centurion, desiring to save Paul, stayed them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves overboard, and get first to the land: and the rest, some on planks, and some on other things from the ship. And so it came to pass, that they all escaped safe to the land.

And when we were escaped, then we knew that the island was called <sup>4</sup> Melita. And the barbarians shewed us no common kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us all, because of the present rain, and because of the cold. But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, a viper came out <sup>5</sup> by reason of the heat, and fastened on his hand. And when the barbarians saw the beast hanging from his hand, they said one to another, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped from the sea, yet Justice hath not suffered to live. Howbeit he shook off the beast into the fire, and took no harm. But they expected that he would have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but when they were long in expectation, and beheld nothing amiss come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god. Now in the neighbourhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief man of the island, named Publius; who received us, and entertained us three days courteously. And it was so, that the father of Publius lay sick of fever and dysentery: unto whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laying his hands on him healed him. And when this was done, the rest also which had diseases in the island came, and were cured: who also honoured us with many honours; and when we sailed, they put on board such things as we needed.

And after three months we set sail in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the island, whose sign was <sup>6</sup> The Twin Brothers. And touching at Syracuse, we tarried there three days. And from thence we made a circuit, and arrived at Rhegium: and after one day a south wind sprang up, and on the second day we came to Puteoli: where we found brethren, and were intreated to tarry with them seven days: and so we came to Rome. And from thence the brethren, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Appius, and The Three Taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.

And when we entered into Rome, Paul was suffered to abide by himself with the soldier that guarded him. And it came to pass, that after three days he called together those that were the chief of the Jews: and when they were come together, he said unto them, I, brethren, though

I had done nothing against the people, or the customs of our fathers, yet was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans: who, when they had examined me, desired to set me at liberty, because there was no cause of death in me. But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to appeal unto Cæsar; not that I had aught to accuse my nation of. For this cause therefore did I intreat you to see and to speak with me: for because of the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain. And they said unto him, We neither received letters from Judea concerning thee, nor did any of the brethren come hither and report or speak any harm of thee. But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, it is known to us that everywhere it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, they came to him into his lodging in great number; to whom he expounded the matter, testifying the kingdom of God, and persuading them concerning Jesus, both from the law of Moses and from the prophets, from morning till evening. And some believed the things which were spoken, and some

And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Isaiah the prophet unto your fathers, saying, Go thou unto this people, and say, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand; And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:

27 For this people's heart is waxed gross, And their ears are dull of hearing, And their eyes they have closed; Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes, And hear with their ears, And understand with their heart, And should turn again, And I should heal them.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE ROMANS.

1 PAUL, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God, which he promised afore by his prophets in the holy scriptures, concerning his Son, who was born of the seed of David according to the flesh, who was declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection of the dead; even Jesus Christ our Lord, through whom we received grace and apostleship, unto obedience of faith among all the nations, for his name's sake: among whom are ye also, called to be Jesus Christ's: to all that are in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8 First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is proclaimed throughout the whole world. For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of his Son, how unceasingly I make mention of you, always in my prayers making request, if by any means now at length I may be prospered by the will of God to come unto you. For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established; that is, that I with you may be comforted in you, each of us by the other's faith, both yours and mine.

13 And I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you (and was hindered hitherto), that I might have some fruit in you also, even as in the rest of the Gentiles.

14 I am debtor both to Greeks and to Barbarians, both to the wise and to the foolish. So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you also that are in Rome. For I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and 17 also to the Greek. For therein is revealed a righteousness of God by faith unto faith: as it is written, But the righteous shall live by faith.

18 For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold down the truth in unrighteousness; because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God manifested it unto them.

are clearly seen, being perceived through the things that are made, even his everlasting power and divinity; <sup>21</sup> that they may be without excuse: because that, knowing God, they glorified him not as God, neither gave thanks; but became vain in their reasonings, and their senseless heart was darkened.

<sup>24</sup> Wherefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts unto uncleanness, that their bodies should be dishonoured <sup>25</sup> among themselves: for that they exchanged the truth of God for a lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed <sup>26</sup> for ever. Amen.

<sup>27</sup> For this cause God gave them up unto <sup>28</sup> vile passions: for their women changed the natural use into that which is against nature: and likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another, men with men working unseemliness, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was due.

<sup>29</sup> And even as they <sup>30</sup> refused to have God in their knowledge, God gave them up unto a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not fitting; being filled with all unrighteousness, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, malignity; <sup>31</sup> whisperers, backbiters, <sup>32</sup> hateful to God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, unmerciful: who, knowing the ordinance of God, that they which practise such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also consent with them that practise them.

<sup>4</sup> And we know that the judgement of God is according to truth against them <sup>5</sup> that practise such things. And reckonest thou this, O man, who judgest them that practise such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgement of God? Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering, not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? but after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up for thyself wrath in the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgement of <sup>6</sup> God; who will render to every man ac-ording to his works: to them that by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honour and incorruption, eternal <sup>8</sup> life: but unto them that are factious, and obey not the truth, but obey unrighteousness, shall be wrath and indignation, tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that worketh evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Greek; <sup>10</sup> but glory and honour and peace to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, <sup>11</sup> and also to the Greek: for there is no <sup>12</sup> respect of persons with God. For as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned under law shall be <sup>13</sup> judged by law; for not the hearers of a law are <sup>14</sup> just before God, but the doers of a law shall be <sup>15</sup> justified: for when Gentiles which have no law do by nature the things of the law, these, having no law, are a law unto themselves; <sup>16</sup> in that they shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness therewith, and their <sup>17</sup> thoughts one with another accusing or else excusing them; in the day when God <sup>18</sup> shall judge the secrets of men, according to my gospel, by Jesus Christ.

<sup>29</sup> God? For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you, <sup>30</sup> even as it is written. For circumcision indeed profiteth, if thou be a doer of the law: but if thou be a transgressor of the law, thy circumcision

<sup>31</sup> is become uncircumcision. If therefore the uncircumcision keep the ordinances of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be reckoned for circumcision? and shall not the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who with the letter and circumcision art a transgressor

<sup>32</sup> of the law? For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh: <sup>33</sup> but he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

3 What advantage then hath the Jew? or what is the profit of circumcision?
 2 Much every way: first of all, that they were intrusted with the oracles of God.
 3 For what if some were without faith? shall their want of faith make of none effect the faithfulness of God? <sup>1</sup>God forbid: yea, let God be found true, but every man a liar; as it is written,
 That thou mightest be justified in thy words,
 And mightest prevail when thou comest into judgement.
 5 But if our unrighteousness commendeth the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who visiteth with wrath? (I speak after the 6 manner of men.) God forbid: for then 7 how shall God judge the world? <sup>2</sup>But if the truth of God through my lie abounded unto his glory, why am I 8 also still judged as a sinner? and why not (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), Let us do evil, that good may come? whose condemnation is just.
 9 What then? <sup>3</sup>are we in worse case than they? No, in no wise: for we before laid to the charge both of Jews and Greeks, that they are all under 10 sin; as it is written,
 There is none righteous, no, not one; 11 There is none that understandeth,
 There is none that seeketh after God;
 12 They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable; There is none that doeth good, no, not so much as one:
 13 Their throat is an open sepulchre; With their tongues they have used deceit:
 The poison of asps is under their lips:
 14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:
 15 Their feet are swift to shed blood;
 16 Destruction and misery are in their ways;
 17 And the way of peace have they not known:
 18 There is no fear of God before their eyes.
 19 Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it speaketh to them that are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may be brought under the 20 judgement of God: because <sup>4</sup>by <sup>5</sup>the works of the law shall no flesh be <sup>6</sup>justified in his sight: for <sup>7</sup>through the law cometh the knowledge of sin.
 21 But now apart from the law a righteousness of God hath been manifested, being witnessed by the law 22 and the prophets; even the righteousness of God through faith <sup>8</sup>in Jesus Christ unto all <sup>9</sup>them that believe; for there is no distinction; for all have sinned, and fall short of the 24 glory of God; being justified freely by his grace through the redemption 25 that is in Christ Jesus: whom God <sup>10</sup>set forth <sup>11</sup>to be a propitiation, through <sup>12</sup>faith, by his blood, to shew his righteousness, because of the passing over of the sins done aforetime, 26 in the forbearance of God; for the shewing, I say, of his righteousness at this present season: that he might himself be <sup>13</sup>just, and the <sup>13</sup>justifier of him that <sup>14</sup>hath faith <sup>8</sup>in Jesus.

 27 Where then is the glorying? It is excluded. By what manner of law? of works? Nay: but by a law of faith.
 28 <sup>15</sup>We reckon therefore that a man is justified by faith apart from <sup>6</sup>the works 29 of the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yea, of Gentiles also: if so be that God is one, and he shall justify the circumcision <sup>4</sup>by faith, and the uncircumcision <sup>16</sup>through faith. Do we then make <sup>17</sup>the law of none effect <sup>16</sup>through faith? God forbid: nay, we establish <sup>17</sup>the law.
 4 What then shall we say <sup>18</sup>that Abraham, our forefather according to the 2 flesh, hath found? For if Abraham was justified <sup>4</sup>by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not toward God. For what saith the scripture? And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. Now to him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned as of grace, but as of debt.
 5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is reckoned for righteousness. Even as David also pronounceth blessing upon the man, unto whom God reckoneth righteousness 7 apart from works, saying,
 Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven,
 And whose sins are covered.
 8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not reckon sin.
 9 Is this blessing then pronounced upon the circumcision, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say, To Abraham his faith was reckoned for righteousness. How then was it reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision: and he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be in uncircumcision, that righteousness might be reckoned unto 12 them; and the father of circumcision to them who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham which 13 he had in uncircumcision. For not <sup>7</sup>through the law was the promise to Abraham or to his seed, that he should be heir of the world, but through the right-

14 consens of faith. For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is made of none effect: for the law worketh wrath; but where there is no law, neither is there 15 transgression. For this cause it is of faith, that it may be according to grace; to the end that the promise may be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who 17 is the father of us all (as it is written, A father of many nations have I made thee) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth the things that are not, as 18 though they were. Who in hope believed against hope, to the end that he might become a father of many nations, according to that which had been spoken, So shall thy seed be. 19 And without being weakened in faith he considered his own body <sup>1</sup>now as good as dead (he being about a hundred years old), and the deadness of Sarah's 20 womb: yea, looking unto the promise of God, he wavered not through unbelief, but waxed strong through faith, giving 21 glory to God, and being fully assured that, what he had promised, he was able 22 also to perform. Wherefore also it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. 23 Now it was not written for his sake a- 24 lone, that it was reckoned unto him; but for our sake also, unto whom it shall be reckoned, who believe on him that raised Jesus our Lord from the dead, 25 who was delivered up for our trespasses, and was raised for our justification.

5 Being therefore justified <sup>2</sup>by faith, <sup>3</sup>let us have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; through whom also we have had our access <sup>4</sup>by faith into this grace wherein we stand; and <sup>5</sup>let us <sup>6</sup>rejoice in hope of the glory of 3 God. And not only so, but <sup>7</sup>let us also <sup>8</sup>rejoice in our tribulations: knowing 4 that tribulation worketh patience; and patience, probation; and probation, 5 hope: and hope putteth not to shame; because the love of God hath been shed abroad in our hearts through the <sup>8</sup>Holy 6 Ghost which was given unto us. For while we were yet weak, in due season 7 Christ died for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: for peradventure for <sup>9</sup>the good man 8 some one would even dare to die. But God commendeth his own love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, 9 Christ died for us. Much more then, being now justified <sup>10</sup>by his blood, shall we be saved from the wrath of God 10 through him. For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, shall we be 11 saved <sup>10</sup>by his life; and not only so, <sup>11</sup>but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the reconciliation. 12 Therefore, as through one man sin entered into the world, and death through sin; and so death passed unto 13 all men, for that all sinned:—for until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law. 14 Nevertheless death reigned from Adam until Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the likeness of Adam's transgression, who is a figure of him that was to come. But not as the trespass, so also is the free gift. For if by the trespass of the one the many died, much more did the grace of God, and the gift by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, abound unto the many. 16 And not as through one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgement came of one unto condemnation, but the free gift came of many trespasses unto 17 <sup>12</sup>justification. For if, by the trespass of the one, death reigned through the one; much more shall they that receive the abundance of grace and <sup>13</sup>of the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one, even Jesus Christ. So then as through one trespass the judgement came unto all men to condemnation; even so through one act of righteousness the free gift came unto all men to justification of life. For as through the one man's disobedience the many were made sinners, even so through the obedience of the one shall the many be made righteous. And <sup>14</sup>the law came in beside, that the trespass might abound; but where sin abounded, grace did a- 21 bound more exceedingly: that, as sin reigned in death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. 6 What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound? 2 God forbid. We who died to sin, how 3 shall we any longer live therein? Or are ye ignorant that all we who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized 4 into his death? We were buried therefore with him through baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in newness 5 of life. For if we have become <sup>15</sup>united with him by the likeness of his death, we shall be also by the likeness of his resurrection; knowing this, that our old man was crucified with him, that the body of sin might be done away, that so we should no longer be in bondage to sin; 7 for he that hath died is justified from sin. 8 But if we died with Christ, we believe 9 that we shall also live with him; knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death no more hath 10 dominion over him. For <sup>16</sup>the death that he died, he died unto sin <sup>17</sup>once: but <sup>16</sup>the life that he liveth, he liveth

11 eth unto God. Even so reckon ye also yourselves to be dead unto sin, but alive unto God in Christ Jesus.

12 Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey the lusts thereof: neither present your members unto sin as <sup>1</sup>instruments of unrighteousness; but present yourselves unto God, as alive from the dead, and your members as <sup>1</sup>instruments of righteousness unto God. For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under law, but under grace.

15 What then? shall we sin, because we are not under law, but under grace?

16 God forbid. Know ye not, that to whom ye present yourselves as <sup>2</sup>servants unto obedience, his <sup>2</sup>servants ye are whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness? But thanks be to God, <sup>3</sup>that, whereas ye were <sup>2</sup>servants of sin, ye became obedient from the heart to that <sup>4</sup>form of teaching whereunto ye were delivered;

18 and being made free from sin, ye became <sup>2</sup>servants of righteousness. I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye presented your members as servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity, even so now present your members as servants to righteousness unto 20 sanctification. For when ye were <sup>2</sup>servants of sin, ye were free in regard of righteousness. What fruit then had ye at that time in the things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those

22 things is death. But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto sanctifi-

23 cation, and the end eternal life. For the wages of sin is death; but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

7 Or are ye ignorant, brethren (for I speak to men that know <sup>5</sup>the law), how that the law hath dominion over a man for so long time as he liveth?

2 For the woman that hath a husband is bound by law to the husband while he liveth; but if the husband die, she is discharged from the law of the husband.

3 So then if, while the husband liveth, she be joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if the husband die, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though

4 she be joined to another man. Wherefore, my brethren, ye also were made dead to the law through the body of Christ; that ye should be joined to another, even to him who was raised from the dead, that we might bring

5 forth fruit unto God. For when we were in the flesh, the <sup>6</sup>sinful passions, which were through the law, wrought in our members to bring forth fruit unto

6 death. But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that wherein we were holden; so that we serve in newness of the spirit, and not in oldness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Howbeit, I had not known sin, except through <sup>5</sup>the law: for I had not known <sup>7</sup>coveting, except the law had said, Thou shalt not <sup>7</sup>covet:

8 but sin, finding occasion, wrought in me through the commandment all manner of <sup>7</sup>coveting: for apart from <sup>5</sup>the law

9 sin is dead. And I was alive apart from <sup>5</sup>the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died;

10 and the commandment, which was unto life, this I found to be unto death: for sin, finding occasion, through the commandment beguiled me, and through it

12 slew me. So that the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous,

13 and good. Did then that which is good become death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might be shewn to be sin, by working death to me through that which is good;—that through the commandment sin might become ex-

14 ceeding sinful. For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold

15 under sin. For that which I <sup>8</sup>do I know not: for not what I would, that do I practise; but what I hate, that I do.

16 But if what I would not, that I do, I consent unto the law that it is good. So now it is no more I that <sup>8</sup>do it, but sin

18 which dwelleth in me. For I know that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but to <sup>8</sup>do that which is good is not.

19 For the good which I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do practise. But if what I would not, that I do, it is no more I that <sup>8</sup>do it, but sin

21 which dwelleth in me. I find then <sup>9</sup>the law, that, to me who would do good, evil

22 is present. For I delight <sup>10</sup>in the law of God after the inward man: but I see a different law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity <sup>11</sup>under the law of 24 sin which is in my members. O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me

25 out of <sup>12</sup>the body of this death? <sup>13</sup>I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I myself with the mind serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

8 There is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus.

2 For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus made me free from the law of sin

3 and of death. For what the law could not do, <sup>14</sup>in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending his own Son in the likeness of <sup>15</sup>sinful flesh <sup>16</sup>and as an offering for sin, condemned sin in the flesh:

4 that the <sup>17</sup>ordinance of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the

5 flesh, but after the spirit. For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the 6 spirit the things of the spirit. For the 7 mind of the flesh is death; but the mind

 8 of the spirit is life and peace: because 9 the mind of the flesh is enmity against 10 God; for it is not subject to the law of 11 God, neither indeed can it be: and they 12 that are in the flesh cannot please God.
 13 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the 14 spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God
 15 dwelleth in you. But if any man hath 16 not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of 17 his. And if Christ is in you, the body 18 is dead because of sin; but the spirit is 19 life because of righteousness. But if 20 the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus 21 from the dead dwelleth in you, he that 22 raised up Christ Jesus from the dead
 23 shall quicken also your mortal bodies
 24 through his Spirit that dwelleth in you.
 25 So then, brethren, we are debtors, not 26 to the flesh, to live after the flesh: for 27 if ye live after the flesh, ye must die;
 28 but if by the spirit ye mortify the 29 deeds of the body, ye shall live. For 30 as many as are led by the Spirit of God,
 31 these are sons of God. For ye received 32 not the spirit of bondage again into 33 fear; but ye received the spirit of adop-34 tion, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.
 35 The Spirit himself beareth witness with 36 our spirit, that we are children of God:
 37 and if children, then heirs; heirs of 38 God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so 39 be that we suffer with him, that we 40 may be also glorified with him.
 41 For I reckon that the sufferings of 42 this present time are not worthy to be 43 compared with the glory which shall 44 be revealed to us-ward. For the ear-
 45 nest expectation of the creation waiteth
 46 for the revealing of the sons of God.
 47 For the creation was subjected to 48 vanity, not of its own will, but by reason 49 of him who subjected it, in hope that 50 the creation itself also shall be delivered 51 from the bondage of corruption into 52 the liberty of the glory of the children
 53 of God. For we know that the whole 54 creation groaneth and travaileth in 55 pain together until now. And not 56 only so, but ourselves also, which 57 have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even 58 we ourselves groan within ourselves, 59 waiting for our adoption, to wit, the 60 redemption of our body. For by hope 61 we were saved: but hope that is seen 62 is not hope; for who hopeth for 63 that which he seeth? But if we hope 64 for that which we see not, then do
 65 we with patience wait for it.
 66 And in like manner the Spirit also 67 helpeth our infirmity: for we know not 68 how to pray as we ought; but the 69 Spirit himself maketh intercession for 70 us with groanings which cannot be 71 uttered; and he that searcheth the 72 hearts knoweth what is the mind of 73 the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the saints according to the 28 will of God. And we know that to 29 them that love God all things work

 30 together for good, even to them that 31 are called according to his purpose.
 32 For whom he foreknew, he also fore-
 33 ordained to be conformed to the image
 34 of his Son, that he might be the first-35 born among many brethren: and whom 36 he foreordained, them he also called:
 37 and whom he called, them he also 38 justified: and whom he justified, them
 39 he also glorified.
 40 What then shall we say to these 41 things? If God is for us, who is against 42 us? He that spared not his own Son, but 43 delivered him up for us all, how shall he 44 not also with him freely give us all 45 things? Who shall lay anything to the 46 charge of God's elect? It is God that 47 justifieth; who is he that shall con-
 48 demn? It is Christ Jesus that died, yea
 49 rather, that was raised from the dead, 50 who is at the right hand of God, who 51 also maketh intercession for us. Who 52 shall separate us from the love of 53 Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or 54 persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or 55 peril, or sword? Even as it is written, 56 For thy sake we are killed all the 57 day long;
 58 We were accounted as sheep for the 59 slaughter.
 60 Nay, in all these things we are more 61 than conquerors through him that 62 loved us. For I am persuaded, that 63 neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor 64 principalities, nor things present, nor 65 things to come, nor powers, nor height, 66 nor depth, nor any other creature, shall 67 be able to separate us from the love of 68 God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.
 69 I say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my 70 conscience bearing witness with me in 71 the Holy Ghost, that I have great 72 sorrow and unceasing pain in my heart.
 73 For I could wish that I myself were 74 anathema from Christ for my brethren's
 75 sake, my kinsmen according to the flesh:
 76 who are Israelites; whose is the adop-
 77 tion, and the glory, and the covenants,
 78 and the giving of the law, and the service
 79 of God, and the promises; whose are the 80 fathers, and of whom is Christ as con-
 81 cerning the flesh, who is over all, God
 82 blessed for ever. Amen. But it is not 83 as though the word of God hath come to 84 nought. For they are not all Israel, 85 which are of Israel: neither, because 86 they are Abraham's seed, are they all 87 children: but, In Isaac shall thy seed
 88 be called. That is, it is not the children
 89 of the flesh that are children of God;
 90 but the children of the promise are 91 reckoned for a seed. For this is a word
 92 of promise, According to this season
 93 will I come, and Sarah shall have 94 a son. And not only so; but Rebecca 95 also having conceived by one, even

11 by our father Isaac—for the children being not yet born, neither having done anything good or bad, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that 12 calleth, it was said unto her, The elder 13 shall serve the younger. Even as it is written, Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated.
 14 What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid.
 15 For he saith to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion.
 16 So then it is not of him that will eth, nor of him that runneth, but of God
 17 that hath mercy. For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, For this very purpose did I raise thee up, that I might shew in thee my power, and that my name might be published abroad in all the 18 earth. So then he hath mercy on whom he will, and whom he will he hardeneth.
 19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he still find fault? For who withstandeth 20 his will? Nay, but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it,
 21 Why didst thou make me thus? Or hath not the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make one part a vessel unto honour, and another unto dis-
 22 honour? What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering vessels of wrath fitted unto destruction: <sup>1</sup> and that he might make known the riches of his glory upon vessels of mercy, which he afore prepared unto 24 glory, even us, whom he also called, not from the Jews only, but also from the 25 Gentiles? As he saith also in Hosea,
 I will call that my people, which was not my people;
 And her beloved, which was not beloved.
 26 And it shall be, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people,
 There shall they be called sons of the living God.
 27 And Isaiah crieth concerning Israel, If the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, it is the remnant that shall be saved: for the Lord will execute his word upon the earth, 29 finishing it and cutting it short. And, as Isaiah hath said before,
 Except the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed,
 We had become as Sodom, and had been made like unto Gomorrah..
 30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is 31 of faith: but Israel, following after a law of righteousness, did not arrive at 32 that law. Wherefore? <sup>2</sup> Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by works. They stumbled at the stone 33 of stumbling; even as it is written,

 Behold, I lay in Zion a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence:
 And he that believeth on <sup>3</sup> him shall not be put to shame.
 10 Brethren, my heart's <sup>4</sup> desire and my supplication to God is for them, that
 2 they may be saved. For I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, 3 but not according to knowledge. For being ignorant of God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own, they did not subject themselves to the right-
 4 eousness of God. For Christ is the end of the law unto righteousness to every 5 one that believeth. For Moses writeth that the man that doeth the righteousness which is of the law shall live
 6 thereby. But the righteousness which is of faith saith thus, Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend unto heaven?
 7 (that is, to bring Christ down:) or, Who shall descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead.)
 8 But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we 9 preach: <sup>5</sup> because if thou shalt <sup>6</sup> confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt believe in thy heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be 10 saved: for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth
 11 confession is made unto salvation. For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be put to shame.
 12 For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek: for the same Lord is Lord of all, and is rich unto all that call upon 13 him: for, Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.
 14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him whom they have not heard? and how shall they 15 hear without a preacher? and how shall they preach, except they be sent? even as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that bring <sup>7</sup> glad tidings of good things!
 16 But they did not all hearken to the 17 glad tidings. For Isaiah saith, Lord, who hath believed our report? So believeth cometh of hearing, and hearing 18 by the word of Christ. But I say, Did they not hear? Yea, verily, Their sound went out into all the earth,
 And their words unto the ends of 9 the world.
 19 But I say, Did Israel not know? First Moses saith,
 I will provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation,
 With a nation void of understanding will I anger you.
 20 And Isaiah is very bold, and saith,
 I was found of them that sought me not;

I became manifest unto them that asked not of me.

21 But as to Israel he saith, All the day long did I spread out my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

11 I say then, Did God cast off his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. God did not cast off his people which he foreknew. Or wot ye not what the scripture saith

3 against Israel, Lord, they have killed thy prophets, they have digged down thine altars: and I am left alone, and 4 they seek my life. But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have left for myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to Baal.

5 Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the

6 election of grace. But if it is by grace, it is no more of works: otherwise grace

7 is no more grace. What then? That which Israel seeketh for, that he obtained not; but the election obtained it,

8 and the rest were hardened: according as it is written, God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that they should not see,

and ears that they should not hear, unto 9 this very day. And David saith, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap,

And a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see,

And bow thou down their back alway.

11 I say then, Did they stumble that they might fall? God forbid: but by their

12 Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fullness?

13 But I speak to you that are Gentiles. Inasmuch then as I am an apostle of 14 Gentiles, I glorify my ministry: if by any means I may provoke to jealousy them that are my flesh, and may save 15 some of them. For if the casting away of them is the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but 16 life from the dead? And if the first-fruit is holy, so is the lump: and if the 17 root is holy, so are the branches. But if some of the branches were broken off, and thou, being a wild olive, wast grafted in among them, and didst become partaker with them <sup>3</sup> of the root

18 of the fatness of the olive tree; glory not over the branches: but if thou gloriest, it is not thou that bearest the root, but the root thee. Thou wilt say then, Branches were broken off, that 20 I might be grafted in. Well; by their unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by thy faith. Be not high-

21 minded, but fear: for if God spared not the natural branches, neither will he

22 spare thee. Behold then the goodness and severity of God: toward them that fell, severity; but toward thee, God's goodness, if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut

23 off. And they also, if they continue not in their unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in 24 again. For if thou wast cut out of that which is by nature a wild olive tree, and wast grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant of this mystery, lest ye be wise in your own conceits, that a hardening in part hath befallen Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles be come

26 in; and so all Israel shall be saved: even as it is written,

There shall come out of Zion the Deliverer;

He shall turn away <sup>4</sup> ungodliness from Jacob:

27 And this is <sup>5</sup> my covenant unto them, When I shall take away their sins.

28 As touching the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the 29 fathers' sake. For the gifts and the calling of God are <sup>6</sup> without repentance.

30 For as ye in time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained mercy

31 by their disobedience, even so have these also now been disobedient, that by the mercy shewn to you they also

32 may now obtain mercy. For God hath shut up all unto disobedience, that he might have mercy upon all.

33 O the depth <sup>7</sup> of the riches <sup>8</sup> both of the wisdom and the knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgements,

34 and his ways past tracing out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord?

35 or who hath given his counsellor? or who hath first been to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?

36 For of him, and through him, and unto him, are all things. To him be the glory <sup>9</sup> for ever. Amen.

12 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, <sup>10</sup> acceptable to God, which is your <sup>11</sup> reason-

2 able <sup>12</sup> service. And be not fashioned according to this <sup>13</sup> world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is <sup>14</sup> the good and <sup>10</sup> acceptable and perfect will of God.

according as God hath dealt to each 4 man a measure of faith. For even as we have many members in one body,
and all the members have not the same 5 office: so we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and severally members 6 one of another. And having gifts differing according to the grace that was given to us, whether prophecy, let us
prophecy according to the proportion of 7<sup>1</sup> our faith; or ministry, let us give our- selves to our ministry; or he that teach-8 eth, to his teaching; or he that exhort-eth, to his exhorting; he that giveth, let him do it with <sup>2</sup>liberality; he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth 9 mercy, with cheerfulness. Let love be without hypocrisy. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.
10 In love of the brethren be tenderly affectioned one to another; in honour 11 preferring one another; in diligence not slothful; fervent in spirit; serving <sup>3</sup>the 12 Lord; rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing stedfastly in 13 prayer; communicating to the necessities of the saints; <sup>4</sup>given to hospitality.
14 Bless them that persecute you; bless,
15 and curse not. Rejoice with them that 16 rejoice; weep with them that weep. Be of the same mind one toward another.
Set not your mind on high things, but 15 condescend to <sup>6</sup>things that are lowly.
Be not wise in your own conceits.
17 Render to no man evil for evil. Take thought for things honourable in the 18 sight of all men. If it be possible, as much as in you lieth, be at peace with 19 all men. Avenge not yourselves, beloved, but give place unto <sup>7</sup>wrath: for it is written, Vengeance belongeth unto me; I will recompense, saith the 20 Lord. But if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him to drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire 21 upon his head. Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.
13 Let every soul be in subjection to the higher powers: for there is no power but of God; and the powers that be are 2 ordained of God. Therefore he that resisteth the power, withstandeth the ordinance of God: and they that withstand shall receive to themselves judge-3 ment. For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. And wouldest thou have no fear of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise from the same:
4 for <sup>8</sup>he is a minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for <sup>8</sup>he beareth not the sword in vain: for <sup>8</sup>he is a minister of God, an avenger for wrath to him that 5 doeth evil. Wherefore ye must needs be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also for conscience sake.
6 For for this cause ye pay tribute also;
for they are ministers of God's service, attending continually upon this very 7 thing. Render to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear;

honour to whom honour.
8 Owe no man anything, save to love one another: for he that loveth <sup>9</sup>his neigh-9 bour hath fulfilled <sup>10</sup>the law. For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not covet, and if there be any other commandment, it is summed up in this word, namely, Thou shalt love thy 10 neighbour as thyself. Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: love therefore is the fulfilment of <sup>10</sup>the law.
11 And this, knowing the season, that now it is high time for you to awake out of sleep: for now is <sup>11</sup>salvation nearer to us than when we first believed.
12 The night is far spent, and the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the 13 armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in revelling and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and jealousy.
14 But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.
14 But him that is weak in faith receive ye, yet not <sup>12</sup>to doubtful disputations.
2 One man hath faith to eat all things:
3 but he that is weak eateth herbs. Let not him that eateth set at nought him that eateth not; and let not him that eateth not judge him that eateth:
4 for God hath received him. Who art thou that judgest the <sup>13</sup>servant of another? to his own lord he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be made to stand; for the Lord hath power to 5 make him stand. One man esteemeth one day above another; another esteem-eth every day alike. Let each man be 6 fully assured in his own mind. He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord: and he that eateth, eateth unto the Lord, for he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, unto the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God
7 thanks. For none of us liveth to him-8 self, and none dieth to himself. For whether we live, we live unto the Lord;
or whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or 9 die, we are the Lord's. For to this end Christ died, and lived again, that he might be Lord of both the dead and 10 the living. But thou, why dost thou judge thy brother? or thou again, why dost thou set at nought thy brother?
for we shall all stand before the 11 judgement-seat of God. For it is written,
As I live, saith the Lord, to me
every knee shall bow,
And every tongue shall <sup>14</sup>confess to God.

12 So then each one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge ye this rather, that no man put a stumbling-block in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling. I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself: save that to him who accounteth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean. For if because of meat thy brother is grieved, thou walkest no longer in love. Destroy not with thy meat him for whom Christ died.

16 Let not then your good be evil spoken of: for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost.

18 For he that herein serveth Christ is well-pleasing to God, and approved of men. So then <sup>1</sup>let us follow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may edify one another. Overthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. All things indeed are clean; howbeit it is evil for that man who eateth with offence. It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth <sup>2</sup>. The faith which thou hast, have thou to thyself before God. Happy is he that judgeth not himself in that which he <sup>3</sup>approveth.

23 But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith; and whatsoever is not of faith is sin. <sup>4</sup>

15 Now we that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. Let each one of us please his neighbour for that which is good, unto edifying. For Christ also pleased not himself; but, as it is written, The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell upon me. For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that through patience and through comfort of the scriptures we might have hope. Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you to be of the same mind one with another according to Christ Jesus: that with one accord ye may with one mouth glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. Wherefore receive ye one another, even as Christ also received <sup>5</sup>you, to the glory of God. For I say that Christ hath been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, that he might confirm the promises given unto the fathers, and that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written,

Therefore will I <sup>6</sup>give praise unto thee among the Gentiles,
And sing unto thy name.

10 And again he saith,
Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And again,
Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles;
And let all the peoples praise him.

12 And again, Isaiah saith,
There shall be the root of Jesse,
And he that ariseth to rule over the Gentiles;
On him shall the Gentiles hope.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Ghost.

14 And I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another. But I write the more boldly unto you in some measure, as putting you again in remembrance, because of the grace that was given me of God, that I should be a minister of Christ Jesus unto the Gentiles, <sup>7</sup>ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost. I have therefore my glorying in Christ Jesus in things pertaining to God. For I will not dare to speak of any <sup>8</sup>things save those which Christ wrought through me, for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and deed, in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of <sup>9</sup>the Holy Ghost; so that from Jerusalem, and round about even unto Illyricum, I have <sup>10</sup>fully preached the gospel of Christ; yea, <sup>11</sup>making it my aim so to preach the gospel, not where Christ was already named, that I might not build upon another man's foundation; but, as it is written,
They shall see, to whom no tidings of him came,
And they who have not heard shall understand.

22 Wherefore also I was hindered <sup>12</sup>these many times from coming to you: but now, having no more any place in these regions, and having these many years <sup>13</sup>a longing to come unto you, whensoever I go unto Spain (for I hope to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first in some measure I shall have been satisfied with your company)—but now, I say, I go unto Jerusalem, ministering <sup>14</sup>unto the saints. For it hath been the good pleasure of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the saints that are at Jerusalem. Yea, it hath been their good pleasure; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, they owe it to them also to minister unto them in <sup>15</sup>28 carnal things. When therefore I have accomplished this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will go on by you unto <sup>16</sup>29 Spain. And I know that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of Christ.

30 Now I beseech you, brethren, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together with 31 me in your prayers to God for me; that I may be delivered from them that are disobedient in Judæa, and that my ministration which I have for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints;
 32 that I may come unto you in joy through the will of God, and together
 33 with you find rest. Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

16 I commend unto you Phœbe our sister, who is a <sup>1</sup> servant of the church that
 2 is at Cenchreæ: that ye receive her in the Lord, worthy of the saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever matter she may have need of you: for she herself also hath been a succourer of many, and of mine own self.

17 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which are causing the divisions and occasions of stumbling, contrary to the <sup>3</sup> doctrine which ye learned: and 18 turn away from them. For they that are such serve not our Lord Christ, but their own belly; and by their smooth and fair speech they beguile the hearts 19 of the innocent. For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I rejoice therefore over you: but I would have you wise unto that which is good, and 20 simple unto that which is evil. And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS.

1 PAUL, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and 2 Sosthenes <sup>1</sup> our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, even them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, their Lord
 3 and ours: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I thank <sup>2</sup> my God always concerning you, for the grace of God which was 5 given you in Christ Jesus; that in everything ye were enriched in him, in all <sup>3</sup> utterance and all knowledge; even as the testimony of Christ was 7 confirmed in you: so that ye come behind in no gift; waiting for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ; who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye be unproveable in the day of 9 our Lord Jesus Christ. God is faithful, through whom ye were called into the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

- 10 Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgement.
- 11 For it hath been signified unto me concerning you, my brethren, by them which are of the household of Chloe, that there are contentions among you. Now this I mean, that each one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ. <sup>1</sup>Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized into the name of Paul? <sup>2</sup>I thank God that I baptized none of you, save Crispus and Gaius; <sup>3</sup>lest any man should say that ye were baptized into my name. And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other. For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: not in wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made void.

- 18 For the word of the cross is to them that are perishing foolishness; but unto us which are being saved it is the power of God. For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, And the prudence of the prudent will I reject.

- 20 Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of the world? For seeing that in the wisdom of God the world through its wisdom knew not God, it was God's good pleasure through the foolishness of the <sup>4</sup>preaching to save them that believe. Seeing that Jews ask for signs, and Greeks seek after wisdom: <sup>5</sup>but we preach <sup>6</sup>Christ crucified, unto Jews a stumblingblock, and unto Gentiles foolishness; but unto <sup>6</sup>them that are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God. Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

- 26 For <sup>7</sup>behold your calling, brethren, how that not many wise after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, <sup>8</sup>are called: but God chose the foolish things of the world, that he might put to shame them that are wise; and God chose the weak things of the world, that he might put to shame the things that are strong; and the base things of the world, and the things that are despised, did God choose, yea <sup>9</sup>and the things that are not, that he might bring to nought the things that are: that no flesh should glory before God. But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who was made unto us wisdom from God, <sup>10</sup>and righteousness and sanctification, and redemption: that, according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

- 2 And I, brethren, when I came unto you, came not with excellency of <sup>11</sup>speech or of wisdom, proclaiming <sup>12</sup>to you the <sup>12</sup>mystery of God. For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified. And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much <sup>13</sup>trembling. And my <sup>14</sup>speech and my <sup>15</sup>preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power: that your faith should not <sup>16</sup>stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.
- 6 Howbeit we speak wisdom among the <sup>17</sup>perfect: yet a wisdom not of this <sup>18</sup>world, nor of the rulers of this <sup>19</sup>world, which are coming to nought: <sup>20</sup>but we speak God's wisdom in a mystery, even the wisdom that hath been hidden, which God foreordained before the worlds unto our glory: which none of the rulers of this world knoweth: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory: but as it is written,

Things which eye saw not, and ear heard not,

And which entered not into the heart of man,

Whatever things God prepared for them that love him.

- 10 <sup>16</sup>But unto us God revealed <sup>17</sup>them through the Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. For who among men knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of the man, which is in him? even so the things of God none knoweth, save the Spirit of God. But we received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are <sup>18</sup>freely given to us by God. Which things also we speak, not in words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Spirit teacheth; <sup>19</sup>and <sup>20</sup>comparing spiritual things with spiritual.
- 14 Now the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him; and he cannot know them, because they are <sup>21</sup>spiritually <sup>22</sup>judged. But he that is spiritual <sup>23</sup>judgeth all things, and he himself is <sup>24</sup>judged of no man. For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he should instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

- 3 And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, as unto babes in Christ. I fed you with milk, not with meat; for ye were not yet able to bear it: nay, not even now are ye able; for ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you jealousy and strife, are ye not carnal, and walk after the manner of men? For when one saith, I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos; 5 are ye not men? What then is Apollos? and what is Paul? Ministers through whom ye believed; and each as the 6 Lord gave to him, I planted, Apollos watered; but God gave the increase. 7 So then neither is he that planteth anything, neither he that watereth; but 8 God that giveth the increase. Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: but each shall receive his own reward according to his own labour. For we are God's fellow-workers: ye are God's <sup>1</sup>husbandry, God's building.

10 According to the grace of God which was given unto me, as a wise master-builder I laid a foundation; and another buildeth thereon. But let each man take heed how he buildeth thereon. For other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, which is 12 Jesus Christ. But if any man buildeth on the foundation gold, silver, costly 13 stones, wood, hay, stubble; each man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it is revealed in fire; <sup>2</sup>and the fire itself shall prove each man's work of what sort it 14 is. If any man's work shall abide which he built thereon, he shall receive a reward. If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as through fire. 16 Know ye not that ye are a <sup>3</sup>temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth 17 in you? If any man destroyeth the <sup>4</sup>temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the <sup>3</sup>temple of God is holy, <sup>4</sup>which temple ye are.

18 Let no man deceive himself. If any man thinketh that he is wise among you in this <sup>5</sup>world, let him become a 19 fool, that he may become wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He that taketh 20 the wise in their craftiness: and again, The Lord knoweth the reasonings of the 21 wise, that they are vain. Wherefore let no one glory in men. For all things are 22 yours; whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are 23 yours; and ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.

4 Let a man so account of us, as of ministers of Christ, and stewards of the 2 mysteries of God. Here, moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be 3 found faithful. But with me it is a very small thing that I should be <sup>6</sup>judged of you, or of man's <sup>7</sup>judgement: yea, I <sup>4</sup>judge not mine own self. For I know nothing against myself; yet am I not hereby justified: but he that <sup>9</sup>judgeth 5 me is the Lord. Wherefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and then shall each man have his praise from God.

6 Now these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and Apollos for your sakes; that in us ye might learn not to go beyond the things which are written; that no one of you be puffed 7 up for the one against the other. For who maketh thee to differ? and what hast thou that thou didst not receive? but if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received 8 it? Already are ye filled, already ye are become rich, ye have reigned without us: yea and I would that ye did reign, 9 that we also might reign with you. For, I think, God hath set forth us the apostles last of all, as men doomed to death: for we are made a spectacle unto the world, <sup>10</sup>and to angels, and to men. 10 We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; we are weak, but ye are strong; ye have glory, but we have 11 dishonour. Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no 12 certain dwellingplace; and we toil, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we 13 endure; being defamed, we intreat: we are made as the <sup>11</sup>filth of the world, the offscouring of all things, even until now.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but to admonish you as my beloved 15 children. For though ye should have ten thousand tutors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus I begat you through the gospel. 16 I beseech you therefore, be ye imitators 17 of me. For this cause have I sent unto you Timothy, who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who shall put you in remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, even as I teach everywhere in every church. 18 Now some are puffed up, as though I 19 were not coming to you. But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will; and I will know, not the word of them which are puffed up, but the power. 20 For the kingdom of God is not in 21 word, but in power. What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of meekness?

5 It is actually reported that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not even among the Gentiles, that one of you hath his father's 2 wife. And <sup>12</sup>ye are puffed up, and <sup>13</sup>did not rather mourn, that he that had done this deed might be taken 3 away from among you. For I verily, being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him that hath so 4 wrought this thing, in the name of our Lord Jesus, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus, to deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord<sup>1</sup> Jesus. Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, even as ye are unleavened. For our passover also hath been sacrificed, even Christ: wherefore let us<sup>2</sup> keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in my epistle to have no company with fornicators; <sup>3</sup>not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous and extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out of the world: but <sup>4</sup>now I write unto you not to keep company, if any man that is named a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a reviler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one no, not to eat. For what have I to do with judging them that are without? Do not ye judge them that are within, whereas them that are without God judgeth? Put away the wicked man from among yourselves.

6 Dare any of you, having a matter against <sup>5</sup>his neighbour, go to law before the unrighteous, and not before the saints? Or know ye not that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world is judged by you, are ye unworthy <sup>6</sup>to judge the smallest matters? Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more, things that pertain to this life? If then ye have <sup>7</sup>to judge things pertaining to this life, <sup>8</sup>do ye set them to judge who are of no account in the church? I say this to move you to shame. Is it so, that there cannot be found among you one wise man, who shall be able to decide between his brethren, but brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers?

7 Nay, already it is altogether <sup>9</sup>a defect in you, that ye have lawsuits one with another. Why not rather take wrong? why not rather be defrauded? Nay, but ye yourselves do wrong, and defraud, and that your brethren. Or know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with men, nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. And such were some of you: but ye <sup>10</sup>were washed, but ye were sanctified, but ye were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God.

12 All things are lawful for me; but not all things are expedient. All things are lawful for me; but I will not be brought under the power of any. Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall bring to nought both it and them. But the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body: 14 and God both raised the Lord, and will <sup>15</sup>raise up us through his power. Know ye not that your bodies are members of Christ? shall I then take away the members of Christ, and make them members of a harlot? (God forbid. Or know ye not that he that is joined to a harlot is one body? for, The twain, saith he, shall become one flesh. But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit. 18 Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against <sup>19</sup>his own body. Or know ye not that your body is a <sup>14</sup>temple of the <sup>12</sup>Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have from God? and ye are not your own; <sup>20</sup>for ye were bought with a price: glorify God therefore in your body.

7 Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote: It is good for a man not to touch a woman. But, because of fornications, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband. Let the husband render unto the wife her due: and likewise also the wife <sup>4</sup>unto the husband. The wife hath not power over her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power over his own body, <sup>5</sup>but the wife. Defraud ye not one the other, except it be by consent for a season, that ye may give yourselves unto prayer, and may be together again, that Satan tempt you not because <sup>6</sup>of your incontinency. But this I say by way of permission, not of commandment. <sup>13</sup>Yet I would that all men were even as I myself. Howbeit each man hath his own gift from God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 But I say to the unmarried and to widows, It is good for them if they abide even as I. But if they have not continency, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. <sup>10</sup>But unto the married I give charge, yea not I, but the Lord, That the wife depart not from her husband (but and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband); and that the husband leave <sup>12</sup>not his wife. But to the rest say I, not the Lord: If any brother hath an unbelieving wife, and she is content to dwell with him, let him not <sup>13</sup>leave her. And the woman which hath an unbelieving husband, and he is content to dwell with her, let her not 14 leave her husband. For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified

 in the brother: else were your children 15 unclean; but now are they holy. Yet if the unbelieving departeth, let him depart: the brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases: but 16 God hath called <sup>1</sup>us in peace. For how knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how know-est thou, O husband, whether thou 17 shalt save thy wife? Only, as the Lord hath distributed to each man, as God hath called each, so let him walk. And 18 so ordain I in all the churches. Was any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Hath any been called in uncircumcision?
 19 let him not be circumcised. Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing; but the keeping of the 20 commandments of God. Let each man abide in that calling wherein he 21 was called. Wast thou called being a bondservant? care not for it: <sup>2</sup>but if thou canst become free, use it rather.
 22 For he that was called in the Lord, being a bondservant, is the Lord's freedman: likewise he that was called,
 being free, is Christ's bondservant.
 23 Ye were bought with a price; become 24 not bondservants of men. Brethren, let each man, wherein he was called,
 therein abide with God.
 25 Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord; but I give my judgement, as one that hath obtain-26 ed mercy of the Lord to be faithful. I think therefore that this is good by reason of the present distress, namely, that it is good for a man <sup>3</sup>to be as he 27 is. Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from 28 a wife? seek not a wife. But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned.
 Yet such shall have tribulation in the 29 flesh; and I would spare you. But this I say, brethren, the time <sup>4</sup>is shortened, that henceforth both those that have wives may be as though they had none; 30 and those that weep, as though they wept not; and those that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and those that buy, as though they possessed not;
 31 and those that use the world, as not <sup>5</sup>abusing it: for the fashion of this 32 world passeth away. But I would have you to be free from cares. He that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, how he may please the 33 Lord: but he that is married is careful for the things of the world, how he may 34 please his <sup>6</sup>wife. And there is a difference also between the wife and the virgin. She that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit:

 but she that is married is careful for the things of the world, how she may 35 please her husband. And this I say for your own profit; not that I may cast a <sup>7</sup>snare upon you, but for that which is seemly, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distrac-36 tion. But if any man thinketh that he behaveth himself unseemly toward his <sup>8</sup>virgin daughter, if she be past the flower of her age, and if need so requireth, let him do what he will; he 37 sinneth not; let them marry. But he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power as touching his own will, and hath determined this in his own heart, to keep his own <sup>8</sup>virgin daughter, shall do well.
 38 So then both he that giveth his own <sup>8</sup>virgin daughter in marriage doeth well; and he that giveth her not in mar-39 riage shall do better. A wife is bound for so long time as her husband liveth;
 but if the husband be <sup>9</sup>dead, she is free to be married to whom she will; <sup>9</sup>only 40 in the Lord. But she is happier if she abide as she is, after my judgement:
 and I think that I also have the Spirit of God.
 8 Now concerning things sacrificed to idols: We know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, but love 2 <sup>10</sup>edifieth. If any man thinketh that he knoweth anything, he knoweth not 3 yet as he ought to know; but if any man loveth God, the same is known of 4 him. Concerning therefore the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that no idol is anything in the world, 5 and that there is no God but one. For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or on earth; as there 6 are gods many, and lords many; yet to us there is one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we unto him; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom are all things, and we through him.
 7 Howbeit in all men there is not that knowledge: but some, being used until now to the idol, eat as of a thing sacrificed to an idol; and their conscience 8 being weak is defiled. But meat will not commend us to God: neither, if we eat not, <sup>11</sup>are we the worse; nor, if we 9 eat, <sup>12</sup>are we the better. But take heed lest by any means this <sup>13</sup>liberty of yours become a stumblingblock to the 10 weak. For if a man see thee which hast knowledge sitting at meat in an idol's temple, will not his conscience, if he is weak, <sup>14</sup>be emboldened to eat things sac-11 rificed to idols? For <sup>15</sup>through thy knowledge he that is weak perisheth, the bro-12 ther for whose sake Christ died. And thus, sinning against the brethren, and wounding their conscience when it is 13 weak, ye sin against Christ. Wherefore, if meat maketh my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh for evermore, that I make not my brother to stumble.

- 9 Am I not free? am I not an apostle? have I not seen Jesus our Lord? are not 2 ye my work in the Lord? If to others I am not an apostle, yet at least I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship 3 are ye in the Lord. My defence to them 4 that examine me is this. Have we no 5 right to eat and to drink? Have we no right to lead about a wife that is a <sup>1</sup>believer, even as the rest of the apostles, and the brethren of the Lord, and 6 Cephas? Or I only and Barnabas, have we not a right to forbear working? 7 What soldier ever serveth at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the 8 milk of the flock? Do I speak these things after the manner of men? or 9 saith not the law also the same? For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. Is it for the oxen 10 that God careth, or <sup>2</sup>saith he it altogether for our sake? Yea, for our sake it was written: because he that ploweth ought to plow in hope, and he that thresheth, to thresh in hope of partaking. 11 If we sowed unto you spiritual things, is it a great matter if we shall 12 reap your carnal things? If others partake of this right over you, do not we yet more? Nevertheless we did not use this right; but we bear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the 13 gospel of Christ. Know ye not that they which minister about sacred things eat of the things of the temple, and they which wait upon the altar have their 14 portion with the altar? Even so did the Lord ordain that they which proclaim the gospel should live of the gospel. 15 But I have used none of these things: and I write not these things that it may be so done in my case: for it were good for me rather to die, than that any man 16 should make my glorying void. For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of; for necessity is laid upon me; for woe is unto me, if I preach not 17 the gospel. For if I do this of mine own will, I have a reward: but if not of mine own will, I have a stewardship intrusted 18 to me. What then is my reward? That, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel without charge, so as not to use to the full my right in the gospel. 19 For though I was free from all men, I brought myself under bondage to all, 20 that I might gain the more. And to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, not being myself under the law, that I might gain them that are under the 21 law; to them that are without law, as without law, not being without law to God, but under law to Christ, that I might gain them that are without 22 law. To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak: I am become all things to all men, that I may by all 23 means save some. And I do all things for the gospel's sake, that I may be a 24 joint partaker thereof. Know ye not that they which run in a <sup>3</sup>race run all, but one receiveth the prize? Even so 25 run, that ye may attain. And every man that striveth in the games is temperate in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown; but 26 we an incorruptible. I therefore so run, as not uncertainly; so <sup>4</sup>fight I, 27 as not beating the air: but I <sup>5</sup>buffet my body, and bring it into bondage: lest by any means, after that I have preached to others, I myself should be rejected.

2 Or, saith he it, as he doubtless doth, for our sake!

3 Cr. riva-course.

4 Cr. box. 5 Cr. brute.

10 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant, how that our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed 2 through the sea; and were all baptized <sup>6</sup>unto Moses in the cloud and in 3 the sea; and did all eat the same 4 spiritual meat; and did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of a spiritual rock that followed them: and 5 the rock was Christ. Howbeit with most of them God was not well pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness. 6 Now <sup>7</sup>these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after 7 evil things, as they also lusted. Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. 8 Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand. 9 Neither let us tempt the <sup>8</sup>Lord, as some of them tempted, and perished by the 10 serpents. Neither murmur ye, as some of them murmured, and perished 11 by the destroyer. Now these things happened unto them <sup>9</sup>by way of example; and they were written for our admonition, upon whom the ends 12 of the ages are come. Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth 13 take heed lest he fall. There hath no temptation taken you but such as man can bear: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation make also the way of escape, that ye may be able to endure it.

Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do 32 all to the glory of God. Give no occasion of stumbling, either to Jews, or to 33 Greeks, or to the church of God: even as I also please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of the many, that they may be 11 saved. Be ye imitators of me, even as I also am of Christ. 2 Now I praise you that ye remember me in all things, and hold fast the traditions, even as I delivered them to you. 3 But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ; and the head of the woman is the man; and the 4 head of Christ is God. Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head. 5 But every woman praying or prophesying with her head unveiled dishonoureth her head: for it is one and the same 6 thing as if she were shaven. For if a woman is not veiled, let her also be shorn: but if it is a shame to a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be veiled. 7 For a man indeed ought not to have his head veiled, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman 8 is the glory of the man. For the man is not of the woman; but the woman of 9 the man: for neither was the man created for the woman; but the woman 10 for the man: for this cause ought the woman to <sup>5</sup> have a sign of authority on 11 her head, because of the angels. Howbeit neither is the woman without the man, nor the man without the woman, 12 in the Lord. For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman; 13 but all things are of God. Judge ye <sup>6</sup> in yourselves: is it seemly that a woman 14 pray unto God unveiled? Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a dishonour to him? 15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given 16 her for a covering. But if any man seemeth to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God. 17 But in giving you this charge, I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better but for the worse. For first of all, when ye come together <sup>7</sup> in the church, I hear that <sup>8</sup> divisions exist among you; and I partly believe it. 19 For there must be also <sup>9</sup> heresies among you, that they which are approved may 20 be made manifest among you. When therefore ye assemble yourselves together, it is not possible to eat the Lord's 21 supper: for in your eating each one taketh before other his own supper; and one is hungry, and another is drunken. 22 What? have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye the <sup>10</sup> church of God, and put them to shame that <sup>11</sup> have not? What shall I say to you? <sup>12</sup> shall I praise you in this? I praise you 23 not. For I received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, how that the Lord Jesus in the night in which 24 he was betrayed took bread; and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, This is my body, which <sup>13</sup> is for you: this do in remembrance of me. 25 In like manner also the cup, after supper, saying, This cup is the new <sup>14</sup> covenant in my blood: this do, as oft as ye 26 drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink the cup, ye proclaim the Lord's death 27 till he come. Wherefore whosoever shall eat the bread or drink the cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and the blood of the Lord. 28 But let a man prove himself, and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the 29 cup. For he that eateth and drinketh, eateth and drinketh judgement unto himself, if he <sup>15</sup> discern not the body. 30 For this cause many among you are weak and sickly, and not a few sleep. 31 But if we <sup>16</sup> discerned ourselves, we 32 should not be judged. But <sup>17</sup> when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we may not be condemned with 33 the world. Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, wait one 34 for another. If any man is hungry, let him eat at home; that your coming together be not unto judgement. And 12 Now concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

2 Ye know that when ye were Gentiles ye were led away unto those dumb idols, howsoever ye might be led.

3 Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking in the Spirit of God saith, Jesus is anathema; and no man can say, Jesus is Lord, but in the Holy Spirit.

4 Now there are diversities of gifts, but 5 the same Spirit. And there are diversities of ministrations, and the same

6 Lord. And there are diversities of workings, but the same God, who worketh all things in all. But to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit

8 to profit withal. For to one is given through the Spirit the word of wisdom; and to another the word of knowledge;

9 according to the same Spirit: to another faith, in the same Spirit; and to another

10 gifts of healings, in the one Spirit; and to another workings of <sup>1</sup>miracles; and to another prophecy; and to another discernings of spirits: to another divers kinds of tongues; and to another the 11 interpretation of tongues: but all these worketh the one and the same Spirit, dividing to each one severally even as he will.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, being many, are one body; so also 13 is Christ. For in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and were all made to drink of one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but 15 many. If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body.

16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; it 17 is not therefore not of the body. If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, 18 where were the smelling? But now hath God set the members each one of them in the body, even as it pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where 20 were the body? But now they are 21 many members, but one body. And the eye cannot say to the hand, I have no need of thee: or again the head to the

22 feet, I have no need of you. Nay, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble are necessary: and those parts of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we <sup>2</sup>bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have

24 more abundant comeliness; whereas our comely parts have no need: but God tempered the body together, giving more abundant honour to that part

25 which lacked; that there should be no

schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for 26 another. And whether one member suffereth, all the members suffer with it; or one member is <sup>3</sup>honoured, all the 27 members rejoice with it. Now ye are the body of Christ, and <sup>4</sup>severally members thereof. And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers, then <sup>1</sup>miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, <sup>5</sup>governments, divers kinds of tongues.

29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of <sup>1</sup>miracles? have all gifts of healings? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But desire earnestly the greater gifts. And a still more excellent way shew I unto you.

13 If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a clanging

2 cymbal. And if I have the gift of prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not

3 love, I am nothing. And if I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and if I give my body <sup>6</sup>to be burned, but have not

4 love, it profiteth me nothing. Love suffereth long, and is kind; love envieth not; love vaunteth not itself, is not

5 puffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not its own, is not provoked, taketh not account of evil; 6 rejoiceth not in unrighteousness, but

7 rejoiceth with the truth; <sup>7</sup>beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. Love never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall be done away; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it

9 shall be done away. For we know in 10 part, and we prophesy in part: but when that which is perfect is come, that which

11 is in part shall be done away. When I was a child, I spake as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child: now that I am become a man, I have put away

12 childish things. For now we see in a mirror, <sup>8</sup>darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I <sup>9</sup>know even as also I have been 13 <sup>10</sup>known. But now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; <sup>11</sup>and the <sup>12</sup>greatest of these is love.

14 Follow after love; yet desire earnestly spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may

2 prophesy. For he that speaketh in a tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God; for no man <sup>13</sup>understandeth; but in

3 the spirit he speaketh mysteries. But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men edification, and comfort, and consolation.

4 He that speaketh in a tongue <sup>14</sup>edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth <sup>14</sup>edifieth the church. Now I would have you all speak with tongues, but rather that ye should prophesy: and greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying. But now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I speak to you either by way of revelation, or of knowledge, or of prophesying, or of teaching?

7 Even things without life, giving a voice, whether pipe or harp, if they give not a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or 8 harped? For if the trumpet give an uncertain voice, who shall prepare himself for war? So also ye, unless ye utter by the tongue speech easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye will be speaking into the air.

10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and <sup>1</sup>no kind is 11 without signification. And if then I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be to him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh will be a barbarian <sup>2</sup>unto me. So also ye, since ye are zealous of <sup>3</sup>spiritual gifts, seek that ye may abound unto the edifying of the 13 church. Wherefore let him that speaketh in a tongue pray that he may interpret. For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is 15 unfruitful. What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also; I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also. Else if thou bless with the spirit, how shall he that filleth the place of <sup>4</sup>the unlearned say the Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but 18 the other is not <sup>5</sup>edified. I thank God, I speak with tongues more than you all: 19 howbeit in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in mind: howbeit in malice be ye babes, but in 21 mind be <sup>6</sup>men. In the law it is written, By men of strange tongues and by the lips of strangers will I speak unto this people; and not even thus will 22 they hear me, saith the Lord. Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to the unbelieving: but prophesying is for a 23 sign, not to the unbelieving, but to them that believe. If therefore the whole church be assembled together, and all speak with tongues, and there come in men unlearned or unbelieving, will they not say that ye are mad? 24 But if all prophesy, and there come in one unbelieving or unlearned, he is <sup>7</sup>reproved by all, he is judged by all; 25 the secrets of his heart are made manifest; and so he will fall down on his face and worship God, declaring that God is <sup>8</sup>among you indeed.

26 What is it then, brethren? When ye come together, each one hath a psalm, hath a teaching, hath a revelation, hath a tongue, hath an interpretation. Let 27 all things be done unto edifying. If any man speaketh in a tongue, let it be by two, or at the most three, and that 28 in turn; and let one interpret: but if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak 29 to himself, and to God. And let the prophets speak by two or three, and 30 let the others <sup>9</sup>discern. But if a revelation be made to another sitting by, let 31 the first keep silence. For ye all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, 32 and all may be <sup>10</sup>comforted; and the spirits of the prophets are subject to 33 the prophets; for God is not a God of confusion, but of peace; as in all the churches of the saints.

34 Let the women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but let them be in 35 subjection, as also saith the law. And if they would learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home: for it is shameful for a woman to speak in 36 the church. What? was it from you that the word of God went forth? or came it unto you alone?

37 If any man thinketh himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him take knowledge of the things which I write unto you, that they are the commandment of the Lord. <sup>11</sup>But if any man is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, my brethren, desire earnestly to prophesy, and forbid not to 40 speak with tongues. But let all things be done decently and in order.

15 Now I make known unto you, brethren, the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye received, wherein 2 also ye stand, by which also ye are <sup>12</sup>saved; I make known, I say, <sup>13</sup>in what words I preached it unto you, if ye hold it fast, except ye believed <sup>14</sup>in vain.

3 For I delivered unto you first of all that which also I received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried; and that he hath been raised on the third day according to the scriptures; and that he appeared to Cephas; then to the 6 twelve; then he appeared to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain until now, but 7 some are fallen asleep; then he appeared to James; then to all the 8 apostles; and last of all, as unto one born out of due time, he appeared to me also. For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I 10 persecuted the church of God. But by the grace of God I am what

I am; and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not found <sup>1</sup>vain; but I laboured more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of 11 God which was with me. Whether then it be I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

12 Now if Christ is preached that he hath been raised from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection 13 of the dead? But if there is no resurrection of the dead, neither hath Christ 14 been raised: and if Christ hath not been raised, then is our preaching <sup>1</sup>vain,

15 <sup>2</sup>your faith also is <sup>1</sup>vain. Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because we witnessed of God that he raised up <sup>3</sup>Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead are not raised.

16 For if the dead are not raised, neither 17 hath Christ been raised: and if Christ hath not been raised, your faith is vain; 18 ye are yet in your sins. Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ have 19 perished. <sup>4</sup>If in this life only we have hoped in Christ, we are of all men most pitiable.

20 But now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of them that are 21 asleep. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of 22 the dead. For as in Adam all die, so also in <sup>5</sup>Christ shall all be made alive.

23 But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; then they that are Christ's, 24 at his <sup>6</sup>coming. Then cometh the end, when he shall deliver up the kingdom to <sup>6</sup>God, even the Father; when he shall have abolished all rule and all authori-

25 ty and power. For he must reign, till he hath put all his enemies under his 26 feet. The last enemy that shall be abolished is death. For, He put all things in subjection under his feet. <sup>7</sup>But when he saith, All things are put in subjection, it is evident that he is excepted who did subject all things unto him.

28 And when all things have been subjected unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subjected to him that did subject all things unto him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why then are they baptized for them? why do we also stand in 30 jeopardy every hour? I protest by <sup>8</sup>that glorying in you, brethren, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.

32 If after the manner of men I fought with beasts at Ephesus, <sup>9</sup>what doth it profit me? If the dead are not raised, let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die.

33 Be not deceived: Evil company doth 34 corrupt good manners. <sup>10</sup>Awake up righteously, and sin not; for some have no knowledge of God: I speak this to move you to shame.

35 But some one will say, How are the dead raised? and with what manner of 36 body do they come? Thou foolish one, that which thou thyself sowest is not 37 quickened, except it die: and that which thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that shall be, but a bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other kind; 38 but God giveth it a body even as it pleased him, and to each seed a body of its 39 own. All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another flesh of 40 birds, and another of fishes. There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is 41 another. There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star 42 differeth from another star in glory. So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption: it is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weak- 43 ness; it is raised in power: it is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there 44 is also a spiritual body. So also it is written, The first man Adam became a living soul. The last Adam became a 45 life-giving spirit. Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; then that which is spiritual. 46 The first man is of the earth, earthy: the 47 second man is of heaven. As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are 48 they also that are heavenly. And as we have borne the image of the earthy, <sup>11</sup>we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption 51 inherit incorruption. Behold, I tell you a mystery: We shall not all sleep, 52 but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be chang-

53 ed. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must 54 put on immortality. But when <sup>12</sup>this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written, Death is swal-

55 lowed up <sup>13</sup>in victory. O death, where is thy victory? O death, where is 56 thy sting? The sting of death is sin; 57 and the power of sin is the law: but thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

58 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not <sup>1</sup>vain in the Lord.

16 Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I gave order to the churches of Galatia, so also do ye. Upon the first day of the week let each one of you lay by him in store, as he may prosper, that no collections be made when I come.

17 And when I arrive, <sup>1</sup>whomsoever ye shall approve by letters, them will I send to carry your bounty unto Jerusalem: and if it be meet for me to go also, they shall go with me. But I will come unto you, when I shall have passed through Macedonia; for I do pass through Macedonia; but with you it may be that I shall abide, or even winter, that ye may set me forward on my journey whithersoever I go. For I do not wish to see you now by the way; for I hope to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit. But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost; for a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.

18 Now if Timothy come, see that he be with you without fear; for he worketh in the work of the Lord, as I also do: let no man therefore despise him. But set him forward on his journey in peace, that he may come unto me: for I expect him with the brethren. But as touching Apollos the brother, I besought him much to come unto you with the brethren: and it was not at all <sup>2</sup>his will to come now; but he will come when he shall have opportunity.

19 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit ye like men, be strong. Let all that ye do be done in love.

20 Now I beseech you, brethren (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the firstfruits of Achaia, and that they have set themselves to minister unto the saints), that ye also be in subjection unto such, and to every one that helpeth in the work and labour. And I rejoice at the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus: for that which was lacking on your part they supplied. For they refreshed my spirit and yours: acknowledge ye therefore them that are such.

21 The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Prisca salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house. All the brethren salute you. Salute one another with a holy kiss.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in the whole of Achaia: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort; who comforteth us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort them that are in any affliction, through the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God. For as the sufferings of Christ abound unto us, even so our comfort also aboundeth through Christ. But whether we be afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; or whether we be comforted, it is for your comfort, which worketh in the patient enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: and our hope for you is steadfast; knowing that, as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so also are ye of the comfort. For we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning our affliction which befell us in Asia, that we were weighed down exceedingly, beyond our power, insomuch that we despaired even of life: <sup>2</sup>yea, we ourselves have had the answer of death within ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead: who delivered us out of so great a death, and will deliver: on whom we have <sup>4</sup>set our hope that he will also still deliver us; ye also helping together on our behalf by your supplication; that, for the gift bestowed upon us by means of many, thanks may be given by many persons on our behalf.

12 For our glorying is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in holiness and sincerity of God, not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God, we behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward. For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or even acknowledge, and I hope ye will acknowledge unto the end: as also ye did acknowledge us in part, that we are your glorying, even as ye also are ours, in the day of our Lord Jesus.

- 15 And in this confidence I was minded to come before unto you, that ye might have a second<sup>1</sup> benefit; and by you to pass into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come unto you, and of you to be set forward on my journey unto 17 Judea. When I therefore was thus minded, did I shew fickleness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be the yea yea and the nay nay? 18 But as God is faithful, our word toward 19 you is not yea and nay. For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you<sup>2</sup> by us, even<sup>2</sup> by me and Silvanus and Timothy, was not yea and nay, but in him is yea. For how many soever be the promises of God, in him is the yea: wherefore also through him is the Amen, unto the glory of God 21 through us. Now he that stablisheth us with you<sup>3</sup> in Christ, and anointed 22 us, is God; <sup>4</sup> who also sealed us, and gave us the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.
- 23 But I call God for a witness upon my soul, that to spare you I forbore to come 24 unto Corinth. Not that we have lordship over your faith, but are helpers of 2 your joy: for by<sup>5</sup> faith ye stand. <sup>6</sup> But I determined this for myself, that I would not come again to you with sorrow. For if I make you sorry, who then is he that maketh me glad, but he that 3 is made sorry by me? And I wrote this very thing, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, 4 that my joy is the joy of you all. For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be made sorry, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.
- 5 But if any hath caused sorrow, he hath caused sorrow, not to me, but in part (that I press not too heavily) to you all. 6 Sufficient to such a one is this punishment which was inflicted by<sup>7</sup> the many; 7 so that contrariwise ye should<sup>8</sup> rather forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed up with his overmuch sorrow. Wherefore I beseech you to confirm your love 9 toward him. For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, <sup>9</sup> whether ye are obedient in all 10 things. But to whom ye forgive anything, I forgive also; for what I also have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, for your sakes have I forgiven it 11 in the<sup>10</sup> person of Christ; that no advantage may be gained over us by Satan: for we are not ignorant of his devices.
- 12 Now when I came to Troas for the gospel of Christ, and when a door was

- 13 opened unto me in the Lord, I had no relief for my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went forth into Macedonia. 14 But thanks be unto God, which always leadeth us in triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest through us the savour 15 of his knowledge in every place. For we are a sweet savour of Christ unto God, in them that are being saved, and 16 in them that are perishing; to the one a savour from death unto death; to the other a savour from life unto life. And 17 who is sufficient for these things? For we are not as the many,<sup>11</sup> corrupting the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, speak we in Christ.
- 3 Are we beginning again to commend ourselves? or need we, as do some, epistles of commendation to you or from 2 you? Ye are our epistle, written in our hearts, known and read of all men; 3 being made manifest that ye are an epistle of Christ, ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in tables that are hearts of 4 flesh. And such confidence have we 5 through Christ to God-ward: not that we are sufficient of ourselves, to account anything as from ourselves; but our 6 sufficiency is from God; who also made us sufficient as ministers of a new<sup>12</sup> covenant; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the 7 spirit giveth life. But if the ministration of death,<sup>13</sup> written, and engraven on stones, came<sup>14</sup> with glory, so that the children of Israel could not look steadfastly upon the face of Moses for the glory of his face; which glory<sup>15</sup> was 8 passing away: how shall not rather the ministration of the spirit be with glory? 9<sup>16</sup> For if the ministration of condemnation is glory, much rather doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in 10 glory. For verily that which hath been made glorious hath not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the 11 glory that surpasseth. For if that which<sup>17</sup> passeth away was<sup>18</sup> with glory, much more that which remaineth is in glory.
- 12 Having therefore such a hope, we use 13 great boldness of speech, and are not as Moses, who put a veil upon his face, that the children of Israel should not look steadfastly<sup>19</sup> on the end of that 14 which<sup>15</sup> was passing away: but their<sup>20</sup> minds were hardened: for until this very day at the reading of the old<sup>12</sup> covenant the same veil<sup>21</sup> remaineth unlifted; which veil is done away in 15 Christ. But unto this day, whensoever Moses is read, a veil lieth upon 16 their heart. But whensoever<sup>22</sup> it shall turn to the Lord, the veil is 17 taken away. Now the Lord is the Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. But we all, with unveiled face reflecting as a mirror the glory of the Lord, are transformed into the same image from glory to glory, even as from <sup>2</sup>the Lord the Spirit.

4 Therefore seeing we have this ministry, even as we obtained mercy, we faint <sup>2</sup>not; but we have renounced the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by the manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of <sup>3</sup>God. But and if our gospel is veiled, it <sup>4</sup>is veiled in them that are perishing: in whom the god of this <sup>3</sup>world hath blinded the <sup>4</sup>minds of the unbelieving, <sup>5</sup>that the <sup>6</sup>light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should <sup>5</sup>not dawn upon them. For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves as your <sup>7</sup>servants <sup>8</sup>for <sup>6</sup>Jesus' sake. Seeing it is God, that said, Light shall shine out of darkness, who shined in our hearts, to give the <sup>6</sup>light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the exceeding greatness of the power may be of God, and not from <sup>8</sup>ourselves; we are pressed on every side, yet not straitened; perplexed, yet not <sup>9</sup>unto despair; pursued, yet not <sup>9</sup>forsaken; smitten down, yet not destroyed; always bearing about in the body the <sup>10</sup>dying of Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our body. <sup>11</sup>For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our <sup>12</sup>mortal flesh. So then death worketh <sup>13</sup>in us, but life in you. But having the same spirit of faith, according to that which is written, I believed, and therefore did I speak; we also believe, and <sup>14</sup>therefore also we speak; knowing that he which raised up <sup>11</sup>the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also with Jesus, and <sup>15</sup>shall present us with you. For all things are for your sakes, that the grace, being multiplied through <sup>12</sup>the many, may cause the thanksgiving to abound unto the glory of God.

5 For we know that if the earthly house of our <sup>13</sup>tabernacle be dissolved, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal, in the heavens. For verily in this we groan, longing to be clothed upon with our habitation which is from heaven: if so be that being clothed we shall not be <sup>4</sup>found naked. For indeed we that are in this <sup>13</sup>tabernacle do groan, <sup>14</sup>being burdened; not for that we would be unclothed, but that we would be clothed upon, that what is mortal may be <sup>5</sup>swallowed up of life. Now he that wrought us for this very thing is God, who gave unto us the earnest of the <sup>6</sup>Spirit. Being therefore always of good courage, and knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent <sup>7</sup>from the Lord (for we walk by faith, <sup>8</sup>not by <sup>15</sup>sight); we are of good courage, I say, and are willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be at home <sup>9</sup>with the Lord. Wherefore also we <sup>16</sup>make it our aim, whether at home or absent, to be well-pleasing unto him. <sup>10</sup>For we must all be made manifest before the judgement-seat of Christ; that each one may receive the things done <sup>17</sup>in the body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

<sup>11</sup>Knowing therefore the fear of the Lord, we persuade men, but we are made manifest unto God; and I hope that we are made manifest also in <sup>12</sup>your consciences. We are not again commending ourselves unto you, but speak as giving you occasion of glorying on our behalf, that ye may have wherewith to answer them that glory <sup>13</sup>in appearance, and not in heart. For whether we <sup>18</sup>are beside ourselves, it is unto God; or whether we are of sober <sup>14</sup>mind, it is unto you. For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that one died for all, <sup>15</sup>therefore all died; and he died for all, that they which live should no longer live unto themselves, but unto him who for their sakes died and rose <sup>16</sup>again. Wherefore we henceforth know no man after the flesh: even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know him so no more. <sup>17</sup>Wherefore if any man is in Christ, <sup>19</sup>he is a new creature: the old things are passed away; behold, they are <sup>18</sup>become new. But all things are of God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ, and gave unto us the <sup>19</sup>ministry of reconciliation; to wit, that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself, not reckoning unto them their trespasses, and having <sup>20</sup>committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

<sup>20</sup>We are ambassadors therefore on behalf of Christ, as though God were intreating by us: we beseech you on behalf of Christ, be ye reconciled to God. Him who knew no sin he made to be sin on our behalf; that we might become the

At an acceptable time I hearkened unto thee,

And in a day of salvation did I succour thee:

behold, now is the acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation): giving no occasion of stumbling in anything, that our ministration be not 4 blamed; but in everything commending ourselves, as ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in 5 distresses, in stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in 6 fastings; in pureness, in knowledge, in longsuffering, in kindness, in the <sup>1</sup>Holy 7 Ghost, in love unfeigned, in the word of truth, in the power of God; <sup>2</sup>by the armour of righteousness on the right 8 hand and on the left, by glory and dishonour, by evil report and good report; 9 as deceivers, and yet true; as unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and behold, we live; as chastened, and not 10 killed; as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 Our mouth is open unto you, O Corinthians, our heart is enlarged. Ye are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in 13 your own affections. Now for a recompense in like kind (I speak as unto my children), be ye also enlarged.

14 Be not unequally yoked with unbelievers: for what fellowship have righteousness and iniquity? or what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with <sup>3</sup>Belial? or what portion hath a believer with an 16 unbeliever? And what agreement hath a <sup>4</sup>temple of God with idols? for we are a <sup>4</sup>temple of the living God; even as God said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and 17 they shall be my people. Wherefore

Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord,

And touch no unclean thing;

And I will receive you,

18 And will be to you a Father, And ye shall be to me sons and daughters,

7 saith the Lord Almighty. Having therefore these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 <sup>5</sup>Open your hearts to us: we wronged no man, we corrupted no man, we took 3 advantage of no man. I say, we took to condemn you: for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die together and 4 live together. Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying on your behalf: I am filled with comfort, I overflow with joy in all our affliction.

5 For even when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side; without

6 were fightings, within were fears. Nevertheless he that comforteth the lowly, even God, comforted us by the <sup>6</sup>coming

7 of Titus; and not by his <sup>6</sup>coming only, but also by the comfort wherewith he was comforted in you, while he told us your longing, your mourning, your zeal 8 for me; so that I rejoiced yet more. For though I made you sorry with my epistle, I do not regret it, though I did regret;

7 for I see that that epistle made you 9 sorry, though but for a season. Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye were made sorry unto repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly sort, that ye might suffer loss by

10 us in nothing. For godly sorrow worketh repentance <sup>8</sup>unto salvation, a repentance which bringeth no regret; but the 11 sorrow of the world worketh death. For behold, this selfsame thing, that ye were made sorry after a godly sort, what earnest care it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what longing, yea, what zeal, yea, what avenging!

In everything ye approved yourselves to be pure in the matter. So although I wrote unto you, I wrote not for his cause that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be made manifest unto you in the sight

13 of God. Therefore we have been comforted: and in our comfort we joyed the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit hath been refreshed

14 by you all. For if in anything I have gloried to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame; but as we spake all things to you in truth, so our glorying also, which I made before Titus,

15 was found to be truth. And his inward affection is more abundantly toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and 16 trembling ye received him. I rejoice that in everything I am of good courage concerning you.

8 Moreover, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God which hath been given in the churches of Macedonia;

how that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their <sup>9</sup>liberality.

3 For according to their power, I bear witness, yea and beyond their power, 4 they gave of their own accord, beseeching us with much intreaty in regard of this grace and the fellowship in the ministering to the saints: 5 and this, not as we had hoped, but first they gave their own selves to the Lord,

6 and to us by the will of God. In-7 so-much that we exhorted Titus, that as he had made a beginning before, so he would also complete in you this grace 7 also. But as ye abound in everything, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all earnestness, and in<sup>1</sup> your love
 to us, see that ye abound in this grace 8 also. I speak not by way of commandment, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of 9 your love. For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might 10 become rich. And herein I give my judgement: for this is expedient for you, who were the first to make a beginning a year ago, not only to do, 11 but also to will. But now complete the doing also; that as there was the readiness to will, so there may be the com-12 pletion also out of your ability. For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable
 according as a man hath, not according 13 as he hath not. For I say not this, that others may be eased, and ye dis-14 tressed: but by equality; your abundance being a supply at this present time for their want, that their abundance also may become a supply for your 15 want; that there may be equality: as it is written, He that gathered much had nothing over; and he that gathered little had no lack.
 16 But thanks be to God, which putteth the same earnest care for you into the 17 heart of Titus. For indeed he accepted our exhortation; but being himself very earnest, he went forth unto you of 18 his own accord. And we have sent together with him the brother whose praise in the gospel is spread through 19 all the churches; and not only so, but who was also appointed by the churches to travel with us in the matter of this grace, which is ministered by us to the glory of the Lord, and to shew our 20 readiness: avoiding this, that any man should blame us in the matter of this 21 bounty which is ministered by us: for we take thought for things honourable, not only in the sight of the Lord, but 22 also in the sight of men. And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have many times proved earnest in many things, but now much more earnest, by reason of the great confidence 23 which he hath in you. Whether any inquire about Titus, he is my partner and my fellow-worker to you-ward; or our brethren, they are the <sup>2</sup> messengers of the churches, they are the glory of 24 Christ. <sup>3</sup> Shew ye therefore unto them in the face of the churches the proof of your love, and of our glorying on your behalf.
 9 For as touching the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me

<sup>3</sup> Or, Shew ye therefore in the face . . . on your behalf unto them

2 to write to you: for I know your readiness, of which I glory on your behalf to them of Macedonia, that Achaia hath been prepared for a year past; and <sup>4</sup> your zeal hath stirred up 3 <sup>5</sup> very many of them. But I have sent the brethren, that our glorying on your behalf may not be made void in this respect; that, even as I said, ye may 4 be prepared: lest by any means, if there come with me any of Macedonia, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be put to shame in 5 this confidence. I thought it necessary therefore to intreat the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your aforeprom-6 ised <sup>6</sup> bounty, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not of <sup>7</sup> extortion.

6 But this I say, He that soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that soweth <sup>8</sup> bountifully shall reap also 7 <sup>8</sup> bountifully. Let each man do according as he hath purposed in his heart;
 and not <sup>9</sup> grudgingly, or of necessity: for 8 God loveth a cheerful giver. And God is able to make all grace abound unto you; that ye, having always all sufficiency in everything, may abound unto 9 every good work: as it is written,

He hath scattered abroad, he hath given to the poor;

His righteousness abideth for ever.

10 And he that supplieth seed to the sower and bread for food, shall supply and multiply your seed for sowing, and increase the fruits of your righteousness:
 11 ye being enriched in everything unto all <sup>10</sup> liberality, which worketh through 12 us thanksgiving to God. For the ministration of this service not only filleth up the measure of the wants of the saints, but aboundeth also through 13 many thanksgivings unto God; seeing that through the proving of you by this ministration they glorify God for the obedience of your confession unto the gospel of Christ, and for the <sup>10</sup> liberality of your contribution unto 14 them and unto all; while they themselves also, with supplication on your behalf, long after you by reason of the exceeding grace of God in 15 you. Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift.

10 Now I Paul myself intreat you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, I who in your presence am lowly among you, but being absent am of good courage toward you:
 2 yea, I beseech you, that I may not when present shew courage with the confidence wherewith I count to be bold against some,
 which count of us as if we walked 3 according to the flesh. For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war

pons of our warfare are not of the flesh, but mighty before God to the casting down of strong holds; casting down imaginations, and every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ; and being in readiness to avenge all disobedience, when your obedience shall be fulfilled. <sup>2</sup>Ye look at the things that are before your face. If any man trusteth in himself that he is Christ's, let him consider this again with himself, that, even as he is Christ's, so also we are. For though I should glory somewhat abundantly concerning our authority (which the Lord gave for building you up, and not for casting you down), I shall not be put to shame: that I may not seem as if I would terrify you by my letters. For, His letters, they say, are weighty and strong; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech of no account. Let such a one reckon this, that, what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such are we also in deed when we are present. For we are not bold <sup>3</sup>to number or compare ourselves with certain of them that commend themselves: but they themselves, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are without understanding. But we will not glory beyond our measure, but according to the measure of the <sup>4</sup>province which God apportioned to us as a measure, to reach even unto you. For we stretch not ourselves overmuch, as though we reached not unto you: for we <sup>5</sup>came even as far as unto you in the gospel of Christ: not glorying beyond our measure, that is, in other men's labours; but having hope that, as your faith groweth, we shall be magnified in you according to our <sup>4</sup>province unto further abundance, so as to preach the gospel even unto the parts beyond you, and not to glory in another's <sup>4</sup>province in regard of things ready to our hand. But he that glorioth, let him glory in the Lord. For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth.

11 Would that ye could bear with me in a little foolishness: <sup>6</sup>may indeed bear with me. For I am jealous over you with <sup>7</sup>a godly jealousy: for I espoused you to one husband, that I might present you as a pure virgin to Christ. <sup>3</sup>But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve in his craftiness, your <sup>8</sup>minds should be corrupted from the simplicity and the purity that is toward Christ. For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we did not preach, or if ye receive a different spirit, which ye did not receive, or a different gospel, which ye did not accept, ye do well to bear with him. For I reckon that I am not a whit behind <sup>9</sup>the <sup>6</sup>very chiefest apostles. But though I be rude in speech, yet am I not in knowledge; nay, in everything we have made it manifest among all men to you-ward.

7 Or did I commit a sin in abusing myself that ye might be exalted, because I preached to you the gospel of God for nought? I robbed other churches, taking wages of them that I might minister unto you; and when I was present with you and was in want, I was not a burden on any man; for the brethren, when they came from Macedonia, supplied the measure of my want; and in everything I kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself.

10 As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this glorying in the 11 regions of Achaia. Wherefore? because I love you not? God knoweth. But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off <sup>10</sup>occasion from them which desire an occasion; that wherein they glory, 13 they may be found even as we. For such men are false apostles, deceitful workers, fashioning themselves into apostles of Christ. And no marvel; for even Satan fashioneth himself into an angel of light. It is no great thing therefore if his ministers also fashion themselves as ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.

16 I say again, Let no man think me foolish; but if ye do, yet as foolish receive 17 me, that I also may glory a little. That which I speak, I speak not after the Lord, but as in foolishness, in this confidence of glorying. Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also.

19 For ye bear with the foolish gladly, 20 being wise yourselves. For ye bear with a man, if he bringeth you into bondage, if he devoureth you, if he taketh you captive, if he exalteth himself, if he smiteth you on the face. I speak by way of disparagement, as though we had been weak. Yet whereinsoever any is bold (I speak in foolishness), I am bold also.

22 Are they Hebrews? so am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I. Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as one beside himself) I more; in labours more abundantly, in prisons more abundantly, in stripes above measure, in deaths oft.

24 Of the Jews five times received I 25 forty stripes save one. Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day have I been in the deep; in journeyings often, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, in perils from my <sup>11</sup>countrymen, in perils from the Gentiles, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false

27 brethren; in labour and travail, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.

28<sup>1</sup> Beside those things that are without, there is that which presseth upon me

29 daily, anxiety for all the churches. Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is made to stumble, and I burn not? If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things that concern my weakness. The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, he who is blessed<sup>2</sup> for evermore, knoweth that I lie not. In Damascus the governor under Aretas the king guarded the city of the Damascenes, in order to take me: and through a window was I let down in a basket by the wall, and escaped his hands.

12<sup>3</sup> I must needs glory, though it is not expedient; but I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord. I know a man in Christ, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I know not; or whether out of the body, I know not; God knoweth), such a one caught up even to the third heaven. And I know such a man (whether in the body, or apart from the body, I know not; God knoweth), how that he was caught up into Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. On behalf of such a one will I glory: but on mine own behalf I will not glory, save in my weaknesses. For if I should desire to glory, I shall not be foolish; for I shall speak the truth: but I forbear, lest any man should account of me above that which he seeth me to be, or heareth from me. And by reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations—wherefore, that I should not be exalted overmuch, there was given to me a<sup>4</sup> thorn in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to buffet me, that I should not be exalted overmuch. Concerning this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me. And he hath said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my power is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my weaknesses, that the strength of Christ may<sup>5</sup> rest upon me. Wherefore I take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I am become foolish: ye compelled me; for I ought to have been commended of you: for in nothing was I behind<sup>6</sup> the very chiefest apostles, though I am nothing. Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, by signs and wonders and mighty works. For what is there wherein ye were made inferior to the rest of the churches, except it be that I myself was not a burden to you? forgive me this wrong.

14 Behold, this is the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be a burden to you: for I seek not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children. And I will most gladly spend and be<sup>8</sup> spent for your souls. If I love you more abundantly, am I loved the less? But be it so, I did not myself burden you; but, being crafty, I caught you with guile. Did I take advantage of you by any one of them whom I have sent unto you? I exhorted Titus, and I sent the brother with him. Did Titus take any advantage of you? walked we not by the same Spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

19<sup>9</sup> Ye think all this time that we are excusing ourselves unto you. In the sight of God speak we in Christ. But all things, beloved, are for your edifying.

20 For I fear, lest by any means, when I come, I should find you not such as I would, and should myself be found of you such as ye would not; lest by any means there should be strife, jealousy, wraths, factions, backbitings, whisperings, swellings,<sup>10</sup> tumults; lest, when I come again, my God should humble me before you, and I should mourn for many of them that have sinned heretofore, and repented not of the uncleanness and fornication and lasciviousness which they committed.

13 This is the third time I am coming to you. At the mouth of two witnesses or three shall every word be established.

2 I have said<sup>11</sup> beforehand, and I do say<sup>11</sup> beforehand,<sup>12</sup> as when I was present the second time, so now, being absent, to them that have sinned heretofore, and to all the rest, that, if I come again, I will not spare; seeing that ye seek a proof of Christ that speaketh in me; who to you-ward is not weak, but is powerful in you: for he was crucified through weakness, yet he liveth through the power of God. For we also are weak<sup>13</sup> in him, but we shall live with him through the power of God toward you.

5 Try your own selves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Or know ye not as to your own selves, that Jesus Christ is in you? unless indeed ye be reprobate. But I hope that ye shall know that we are not reprobate.

7 Now we pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do that which is honourable,<sup>14</sup> though we be as reprobate. For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth. For we rejoice, when we are weak, and ye are strong: this we also pray for, even your perfecting. For this cause I write these things while absent, that I may not when present deal sharply, according to the authority which the Lord gave me for building up, and not for casting down.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE GALATIANS.

1 Or, a man

1 PAUL, an apostle (not from men, neither through <sup>1</sup>man, but through Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who <sup>2</sup>raised him from the dead), and all the brethren which are with me, unto the <sup>3</sup>churches of Galatia: Grace to you and peace <sup>2</sup>from God the Father, and our <sup>4</sup>Lord Jesus Christ, who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us out of this present evil <sup>3</sup>world, according to the will of our God and Father: <sup>5</sup>to whom be the glory <sup>4</sup>for ever and ever. Amen.

6 I marvel that ye are so quickly removing from him that called you in the grace of Christ unto a different <sup>7</sup>gospel; which is not another gospel: only there are some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 But though we, or an angel from heaven, should preach <sup>5</sup>unto you any gospel <sup>6</sup>other than that which we preached unto you, let him be anathema.

9 As we have said before, so say I now again, If any man preacheth unto you any gospel other than that which ye <sup>10</sup>received, let him be anathema. For am I now persuading men, or God? or am I seeking to please men? if I were still pleasing men, I should not be a <sup>7</sup>servant of Christ.

11 For I make known to you, brethren, as touching the gospel which was preached <sup>12</sup>by me, that it is not after man. For neither did I receive it from <sup>1</sup>man, nor was I taught it, but it came to me through revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye have heard of my manner of life in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and made havoc of it:

14 and I advanced in the Jews' religion beyond many of mine own age <sup>8</sup>among my countrymen, being more exceedingly zealous for the traditions of my <sup>15</sup>fathers. But when it was the good pleasure of God, who separated me, even from my mother's womb, and

16 called me through his grace, to reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the Gentiles; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood: <sup>17</sup>neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but I went away into Arabia; and again I returned unto Damascus.

18 Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to <sup>9</sup>visit Cephas, and tarried <sup>19</sup>with him fifteen days. But other of the apostles saw I none, <sup>10</sup>save James the <sup>20</sup>Lord's brother. Now touching the things which I write unto you, behold, <sup>21</sup>before God, I lie not. Then I came into <sup>22</sup>the regions of Syria and Cilicia. And I was still unknown by face unto the churches of Judæa which were in <sup>23</sup>Christ: but they only heard say, He that once persecuted us now preacheth the faith of which he once made havoc; <sup>24</sup>and they glorified God in me.

2 Then <sup>11</sup>after the space of fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus also with <sup>2</sup>me. And I went up by revelation; and I laid before them the gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but privately before them who <sup>12</sup>were of repute, lest by any means I should be

3 running, or had run, in vain. But not even Titus who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised: <sup>13</sup>and that because of the false brethren privily brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they <sup>5</sup>might bring us into bondage: to whom we gave place in the way of subjection, no, not for an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 But from those who <sup>12</sup>were reputed to be somewhat (<sup>14</sup>whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth not man's person)—they, I say, who were of repute imparted nothing to me:

7 but contrariwise, when they saw that I had been intrusted with the gospel of the uncircumcision, even as Peter with <sup>8</sup>the gospel of the circumcision (for he that wrought for Peter unto the apostleship of the circumcision wrought for me <sup>9</sup>also unto the Gentiles); and when they perceived the grace that was given unto me, James and Cephas and John, they who <sup>12</sup>were reputed to be pillars, gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should go unto the Gentiles, and they unto

10 the circumcision; only they would that we should remember the poor; which very thing I was also zealous to do.

11 But when Cephas came to Antioch,

I resisted him to the face, because he stood condemned. For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they came, he drew back and separated himself, fearing them that were of the circumcision. And the rest of the Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that even Barnabas was carried away with their dissimulation. But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Cephas before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest as do the Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, how compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews? We being Jews by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles, yet knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, save through faith in Jesus Christ, even we believed on Christ Jesus, that we might be justified by faith in Christ, and not by the works of the law: because by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

But if, while we sought to be justified in Christ, we ourselves also were found sinners, is Christ a minister of sin? God forbid. For if I build up again those things which I destroyed, I prove myself a transgressor. For I through the law died unto the law, that I might live unto God. I have been crucified with Christ; yet I live; and yet no longer I, but Christ liveth in me: and that life which I now live in the flesh I live in faith, the faith which is in the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself up for me. I do not make void the grace of God: for if righteousness is through the law, then Christ died for nought.

O foolish Galatians, who did bewitch you, before whose eyes Jesus Christ was openly set forth crucified? This only would I learn from you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith? Are ye so foolish? having begun in the Spirit, are ye now perfected in the flesh? Did ye suffer so many things in vain? if it be indeed in vain. He therefore that supplieth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith? Even as Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. Know therefore that they which be of faith, the same are sons of Abraham. And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all the nations be blessed. So then they which be of faith are blessed with the faithful Abraham.

For as many as are of the works of the law are under a curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one which continueth not in all things that are written in the book of the law, to do them. Now that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, is evident: for, The righteous shall live by faith; and the law is not of faith; but, He that doeth them shall live in them. Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree: that upon the Gentiles might come the blessing of Abraham in Christ Jesus; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

Brethren, I speak after the manner of men: Though it be but a man's covenant, yet when it hath been confirmed, no one maketh it void, or addeth thereto. Now to Abraham were the promises spoken, and to his seed. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ. Now this I say; A covenant confirmed beforehand by God, the law, which came four hundred and thirty years after, doth not disannul, so as to make the promise of none effect. For if the inheritance is of the law, it is no more of promise: but God hath granted it to Abraham by promise. What then is the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise hath been made; and it was ordained through angels by the hand of a mediator. Now a mediator is not a mediator of one; but God is one. Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could make alive, verily righteousness would have been of the law. Howbeit the scripture hath shut up all things under sin, that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

But before faith came, we were kept in ward under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed. So that the law hath been our tutor to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith. But now that faith is come, we are no longer under a tutor. For ye are all sons of God, through faith, in Christ Jesus.

For as many of you as were baptized into Christ did put on Christ. There can be neither Jew nor Greek, there can be neither bond nor free, there can be no male and female: for ye all are one in Christ Jesus. And if ye are Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, heirs according to promise.

But I say that so long as the heir is a child, he differeth nothing from a bondservant, though he is lord of all; but is under guardians and stewards until the term appointed of the father. So we also, when we were children, were held in bondage under the rudiments of the world:

4 but when the fulness of the time came, God sent forth his Son, born of a woman, 5 born under the law, that he might redeem them which were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of 6 sons. And because ye are sons, God sent forth the Spirit of his Son into our 7 hearts, crying, Abba, Father. So that thou art no longer a bondservant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir through God.

8 Howbeit at that time, not knowing God, ye were in bondage to them which 9 by nature are no gods: but now that ye have come to know God, or rather to be known of God, how turn ye back again to the weak and beggarly <sup>1</sup>rudiments, wherunto ye desire to be in bondage 10 over again? Ye observe days, and 11 months, and seasons, and years. I am afraid of you, lest by any means I have bestowed labour upon you in vain.

12 I beseech you, brethren, be as I am, for I am as ye are. Ye did me no wrong: 13 but ye know that because of an infirmity of the flesh I preached the 14 gospel unto you the <sup>2</sup>first time: and that which was a temptation to you in my flesh ye despised not, nor <sup>3</sup>rejected; but ye received me as an angel of God, 15 even as Christ Jesus. Where then is that gratulation <sup>4</sup>of yourselves? for I bear you witness, that, if possible, ye would have plucked out your eyes and 16 given them to me. So then am I become your enemy, because I <sup>5</sup>tell you the 17 truth? They zealously seek you in no good way; nay, they desire to shut you 18 out, that ye may seek them. But it is good to be zealously sought in a good matter at all times, and not only when 19 I am present with you. My little children, of whom I am again in travail 20 until Christ be formed in you, yea, I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for I am perplexed about you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the 22 law, do ye not hear the law? For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, one by the handmaid, and one by the 23 freewoman. Howbeit the son by the handmaid is born after the flesh; but the son by the freewoman is born through 24 promise. Which things contain an allegory; for these women are two covenants; one from mount Sinai, bearing children unto bondage, which is Hagar. 25 <sup>6</sup>Now this Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to the Jerusalem that now is: for she is in bondage 26 with her children. But the Jerusalem that is above is free, which is our mother. For it is written,

Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not;

Break forth and cry, thou that travailest not:

For more are the children of the desolate than of her which hath the husband.

28 Now <sup>7</sup>we, brethren, as Isaac was, are 29 children of promise. But as then he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even 30 so it is now. Howbeit what saith the scripture? Cast out the handmaid and her son: for the son of the handmaid shall not inherit with the son of the 31 freewoman. Wherefore, brethren, we are not children of a handmaid, but of 5 the freewoman. <sup>8</sup>With freedom did Christ set us free: stand fast therefore, and be not entangled again in a yoke of bondage.

2 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that, if ye receive circumcision, Christ will 3 profit you nothing. Yea, I testify again to every man that receiveth circumcision, that he is a debtor to do 4 the whole law. Ye are <sup>9</sup>severed from Christ, ye who would be justified by the law; ye are fallen away from grace. 5 For we through the Spirit by faith wait for the hope of righteousness. 6 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision; but faith <sup>10</sup>working through 7 love. Ye were running well; who did hinder you that ye should not obey the 8 truth? This persuasion came not of 9 him that calleth you. A little leaven 10 leaveneth the whole lump. I have confidence to you-ward in the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but he that troubleth you shall bear 11 his judgement, whosoever he be. But I, brethren, if I still preach circumcision, why am I still persecuted? then hath the stumblingblock of the cross 12 been done away. I would that they which unsettle you would even <sup>11</sup>cut themselves off.

13 For ye, brethren, were called for freedom; only use not your freedom for an occasion to the flesh, but through 14 love be servants one to another. For the whole law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16 But I say, Walk by the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. 17 For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary the one to the other; that ye may not do the things 18 that ye would. But if ye are led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

19 Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, sorcery, enmities, strife, jealousies, wraths, factions, divisions, <sup>12</sup>heresies, envyings, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I <sup>13</sup>forewarn you, even as I did <sup>13</sup>forewarn you, that the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faith-23 fulness, meekness, <sup>1</sup>temperance: a-24 gainst such there is no law. And they that are of Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with the passions and the lusts thereof.

25 If we live by the Spirit, by the Spirit
 26 let us also walk. Let us not be vain-glorious, provoking one another, envying one another.

6 Brethren, even if a man be overtaken in any trespass, ye which are spiritual, restore such a one in a spirit of meekness; looking to thyself, lest thou also 2 be tempted. Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.

3 For if a man thinketh himself to be something, when he is nothing, he de-4 ceiveth himself. But let each man prove his own work, and then shall he have his glorying in regard of himself alone, and not of <sup>2</sup>his neighbour.

5 For each man shall bear his own <sup>3</sup>burden.

6 But let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in 7 all good things. Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man 8 soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth unto his own flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth unto the Spirit shall of the 9 Spirit reap eternal life. And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

10 So then, as we have opportunity, let us work that which is good toward all men, and especially toward them that are of the household of the faith.

11 See with how large letters I <sup>4</sup>have written unto you with mine own hand.

12 As many as desire to make a fair show in the flesh, they compel you to be circumcised; only that they may not be persecuted <sup>5</sup>for the cross of Christ.

13 For not even they who <sup>6</sup>receive circumcision do themselves keep <sup>7</sup>the law; but they desire to have you circumcised, 14 that they may glory in your flesh. But far be it from me to glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through <sup>8</sup>which the world hath been crucified 15 unto me, and I unto the world. For neither is circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new <sup>9</sup>creature.

16 And as many as shall walk by this rule, peace be upon them, and mercy,
 and upon the Israel of God.

17 From henceforth let no man trouble

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, to the saints which are <sup>1</sup>at Ephesus, and the faithful 2 in Christ Jesus: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the 4 heavenly places in Christ: even as he chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blemish before <sup>2</sup>him in 5 love: having foreordained us unto adoption as sons through Jesus Christ unto himself, according to the good 6 pleasure of his will, to the praise of the glory of his grace, <sup>3</sup>which he freely 7 bestowed on us in the Beloved: in whom we have our redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of his 8 grace, <sup>4</sup>which he made to abound toward us in all wisdom and prudence, 9 having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he purposed in him 10 unto a dispensation of the fulness of the <sup>5</sup>times, to sum up all things in Christ, the things <sup>6</sup>in the heavens, and the 11 things upon the earth; in him, I say,

 in whom also we were made a heritage, having been foreordained according to the purpose of him who worketh all 12 things after the counsel of his will; to the end that we should be unto the praise of his glory, we who <sup>7</sup>had behaving heard the word of the truth, the 14 with the Holy Spirit of promise, which is an earnest of our inheritance, un-

15 For this cause I also, having heard

God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the 18 knowledge of him; having the eyes of your heart enlightened, that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, and what the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to that working of the strength of his might 20 which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and made him to sit at his right hand in the 21 heavenly places, far above all rule, and authority, and power, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this <sup>1</sup> world, but also in that which 22 is to come: and he put all things in subjection under his feet, and gave him to be head over all things to the 23 church, which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.

2 And you did he quicken, when ye were dead through your trespasses and sins, 2 wherein aforetime ye walked according to the <sup>2</sup> course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, of the spirit that now worketh in the 3 sons of disobedience; among whom we also all once lived in the lusts of our flesh, doing the desires of the flesh and of the <sup>3</sup> mind, and were by nature children of wrath, even as the rest:—but God, being rich in mercy, for his great 5 love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead through our trespasses, quickened us together <sup>4</sup> with Christ (by 6 grace have ye been saved), and raised us up with him, and made us to sit with him in the heavenly places, in 7 Christ Jesus: that in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace in kindness toward us in 8 Christ Jesus: for by grace have ye been saved through faith; and that not 9 of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, that no man should glory.
 10 For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God afore prepared that we should walk in them.

11 Wherefore remember, that aforetime ye, the Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Circumcision by that which is called Circumcision, in the flesh, made 12 by hands; that ye were at that time separate from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of the promise, having no hope and without 13 God in the world. But now in Christ Jesus ye that once were far off are 14 made nigh in the blood of Christ. For he is our peace, who made both one, and brake down the middle wall of 15 partition, having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; that he might create in himself of the twain 16 one new man, so making peace; and might reconcile them both in one body unto God through the cross, having 17 slain the enmity thereby: and he came and <sup>5</sup> preached peace to you that were far off, and peace to them that were 18 nigh: for through him we both have our access in one Spirit unto the Father. So then ye are no more strangers and sojourners, but ye are fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the 20 household of God, being built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the 21 chief corner stone; in whom <sup>6</sup> each several building, fitly framed together, groweth into a holy <sup>7</sup> temple in the 22 Lord; in whom ye also are builded together <sup>8</sup> for a habitation of God in the Spirit.

3 For this cause I Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus in behalf of you Gentiles,— 2 if so be that ye have heard of the <sup>9</sup> dispensation of that grace of God which 3 was given me to you-ward; how that by revelation was made known unto me the mystery, as I wrote afore in few words, 4 whereby, when ye read, ye can perceive my understanding in the mystery of 5 Christ; which in other generations was not made known unto the sons of men, as it hath now been revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit; 6 to wit, that the Gentiles are fellow-heirs, and fellow-members of the body, and fellow-partakers of the promise in Christ 7 Jesus through the gospel, whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of that grace of God which was given me according to the working of his power.
 8 Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, was this grace given, to preach unto the Gentiles the unsearchable 9 riches of Christ; and to <sup>10</sup> make all men see what is the <sup>9</sup> dispensation of the mystery which from all ages hath been 10 hid in God who created all things; to the intent that now unto the principalities and the powers in the heavenly places might be made known through the church the manifold wisdom of 11 God, according to the <sup>11</sup> eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our 12 Lord: in whom we have boldness and access in confidence through <sup>12</sup> our faith 13 in him. Wherefore I ask that <sup>13</sup> ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which <sup>14</sup> are your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the 15 Father, from whom every <sup>15</sup> family in 16 heaven and on earth is named, that he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, that ye may be strengthened with power through his 17 Spirit in the inward man; that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; to the end that ye, being rooted 18 and grounded in love, may be strong to apprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled unto all the fulness of God.

20 Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto him be the glory in the church and in Christ Jesus unto <sup>1</sup> all generations for ever and ever. Amen.

4 I therefore, the prisoner in the Lord, beseech you to walk worthily of the <sup>2</sup> calling wherewith ye were called, with all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in <sup>3</sup> love; giving diligence to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body, and one Spirit, even as also ye were called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is over all, and through all, and in all. 7 But unto each one of us was the grace given according to the measure of the <sup>8</sup> gift of Christ. Wherefore he saith,

When he ascended on high, he led captivity captive,
And gave gifts unto men.

9 (Now this, He ascended, what is it but that he also descended <sup>2</sup> into the lower parts of the earth? He that descended is the same also that ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all <sup>11</sup> things.) And he gave some to be apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and <sup>12</sup> teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, unto the work of ministering, unto the <sup>13</sup> building up of the body of Christ: till we all attain unto the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a fullgrown man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness

14 of Christ: that we may be no longer children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, in craftiness, after <sup>15</sup> the wiles of error; but <sup>3</sup> speaking truth in love, may grow up in all things into him, which is the head, even Christ; <sup>16</sup> from whom all the body fitly framed and knit together <sup>4</sup> through that which every joint supplieth, according to the working in due measure of each several part, maketh the increase of the body unto the building up of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye no longer walk as the Gentiles also walk, in the vanity of their mind, being darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardening of their heart; who being past feeling gave themselves up to lasciviousness, <sup>5</sup> to work all uncleanness with <sup>6</sup> greediness. But ye did not so learn Christ;

21 if so be that ye heard him, and were taught in him, even as truth is in <sup>22</sup> Jesus: that ye put away, as concerning your former manner of life, the old man, which waxeth corrupt after the lusts of <sup>23</sup> deceit; and that ye be renewed in <sup>24</sup> the spirit of your mind, and put on the new man, <sup>7</sup> which after God hath been created in righteousness and holiness of truth.

25 Wherefore, putting away falsehood, speak ye truth each one with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

26 Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the <sup>27</sup> sun go down upon your <sup>8</sup> wrath: neither <sup>28</sup> give place to the devil. Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing that is good, that he may have whereof <sup>29</sup> to give to him that hath need. Let no corrupt speech proceed out of your mouth, but such as is good for <sup>9</sup> edifying as the need may be, that it may give grace <sup>30</sup> to them that hear. And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, in whom ye were <sup>31</sup> sealed unto the day of redemption. Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and railing, be put away from <sup>32</sup> you, with all malice: and be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave <sup>10</sup> you.

5 Be ye therefore imitators of God, as <sup>2</sup> beloved children; and walk in love, even as Christ also loved you, and gave himself up for <sup>11</sup> us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for an odour of a sweet smell.

3 But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not even be named <sup>4</sup> among you, as becometh saints; nor filthiness, nor foolish talking, or jesting, which are not befitting; but rather <sup>5</sup> giving of thanks. For this ye know of a surety, that no fornicator, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, which is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ <sup>6</sup> and God. Let no man deceive you with empty words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the sons of disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore partakers with <sup>8</sup> them; for ye were once darkness, but are now light in the Lord: walk as <sup>9</sup> children of light (for the fruit of the light is in all goodness and righteousness <sup>10</sup> and truth), proving what is well-pleasing unto the Lord; and have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather even <sup>12</sup> reprove them in secret it is a shame even to <sup>13</sup> speak of. But all things when they are <sup>13</sup> reprovèd are made manifest by the light: for everything that is <sup>14</sup> made manifest is light. Wherefore he saith, Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall shine upon thee.

15 Look therefore carefully how ye walk,
16 not as unwise, but as wise; <sup>1</sup>redeeming the time, because the days are evil.
17 Wherefore be ye not foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is. And be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled <sup>2</sup>with the Spirit;
19 speaking <sup>3</sup>one to another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody with your heart to the 20 Lord; giving thanks always for all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to <sup>4</sup>God, even the Father;
21 subjecting yourselves one to another in the fear of Christ.
22 Wives, be in subjection unto your own
23 husbands, as unto the Lord. For the husband is the head of the wife, as Christ also is the head of the church, being himself the saviour of the body.
24 But as the church is subject to Christ, <sup>5</sup>so let the wives also be to their 25 husbands in everything. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself up
26 for it; that he might sanctify it, having cleansed it by the <sup>6</sup>washing of water
27 with the word, that he might present the church to himself a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be holy 28 and without blemish. Even so ought husbands also to love their own wives as their own bodies. He that loveth 29 his own wife loveth himself: for no man ever hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even 30 as Christ also the church; because we 31 are members of his body. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and the twain shall become one flesh.
32 This mystery is great: but I speak in regard of Christ and of the church.
33 Nevertheless do ye also severally love each one his own wife even as himself; and let the wife see that she fear her husband.
6 Children, obey your parents in the 2 Lord: for this is right. Honour thy father and mother (which is the first
3 commandment with promise), that it may be well with thee, and thou
4 <sup>7</sup>mayest live long on the <sup>8</sup>earth. And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but nurture them in the chastening and admonition of the Lord.
5 <sup>9</sup>Servants, be obedient unto them that according to the flesh are your 10 masters, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto

6 Christ; not in the way of eyeservice, as men-pleasers; but as <sup>9</sup>servants of Christ, doing the will of God from 7 the <sup>11</sup>heart; with good will doing service, as unto the Lord, and not unto 8 men: knowing that whatsoever good thing each one doeth, the same shall he receive again from the Lord, whether 9 he be bond or free. And, ye <sup>10</sup>masters, do the same things unto them, and forbear threatening: knowing that both their Master and yours is in heaven, and there is no respect of persons with him.

10 <sup>12</sup>Finally, <sup>13</sup>be strong in the Lord, and in the strength of his might.
11 Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against 12 the wiles of the devil. For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against the principalities, against the powers, against the world-rulers of this darkness, against the spiritual 13 hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places. Wherefore take up the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and,
14 having done all, to stand. Stand therefore, having girded your loins with truth, and having put on the breast-15 plate of righteousness, and having shod your feet with the preparation of the 16 gospel of peace; withal taking up the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of 17 the evil one. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God:
18 with all prayer and supplication praying at all seasons in the Spirit, and watching thereunto in all perseverance and supplication for all the 19 saints, and on my behalf, that utterance may be given unto me <sup>14</sup>in opening my mouth, to make known with bold-
20 ness the mystery of the gospel, for which I am an ambassador in <sup>15</sup>chains; that in it I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

21 But that ye also may know my affairs, how I do, Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall 22 make known to you all things: whom I have sent unto you for this very purpose, that ye may know our state, and that he may comfort your hearts.
23 Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith, from God the Father and the

1 PAUL and Timothy, <sup>1</sup>servants of Christ Jesus, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the <sup>2</sup>bishops and deacons: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 I thank my God upon all my remembrance of you, always in every supplication of mine on behalf of you all making my supplication with joy, 4 for your fellowship in furtherance of the gospel from the first day until 6 now; being confident of this very thing, that he which began a good work in you will perfect it until the day of 7 Jesus Christ: even as it is right for me to be thus minded on behalf of you all, because <sup>3</sup>I have you in my heart, inasmuch as, both in my bonds and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers with me 8 of grace. For God is my witness, how I long after you all in the tender 9 mercies of Christ Jesus. And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and all 10 discernment; so that ye may <sup>4</sup>approve the things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and void of offence 11 unto the day of Christ; being filled with the <sup>5</sup>fruits of righteousness, which are through Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

12 Now I would have you know, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto 13 the progress of the gospel; so that my bonds became manifest in Christ <sup>6</sup>throughout the whole prætorian guard, and to all the rest; and that most of the brethren in the Lord, <sup>7</sup>being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak 15 the word of God without fear. Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good 16 will: the one do it of love, knowing that I am set for the defence 17 of the gospel: but the other proclaim Christ of faction, not sincerely, thinking to raise up affliction for me in my 18 bonds. What then? only that in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is proclaimed; and therein I 19 rejoice, yea, and will rejoice. For I know that this shall turn to my salvation, through your supplication and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus 20 Christ, according to my earnest expectation and hope, that in nothing shall I be put to shame, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether by life, or by death. 21 For to me to live is Christ, and to 22 die is gain. <sup>8</sup>But if to live in the flesh,—if this is the fruit of my work, then <sup>9</sup>what I shall choose <sup>10</sup>I wot not.

23 But I am in a strait betwixt the two, having the desire to depart and be with Christ; for it is very far better: 24 yet to abide in the flesh is more needful 25 for your sake. And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide, yea, and abide with you all, for your progress and joy <sup>11</sup>in the faith; that your glorying may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence with you 27 again. Only <sup>12</sup>let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ: that, whether I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of your state, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one soul striving <sup>13</sup>for the faith of the 28 gospel; and in nothing affrighted by the adversaries: which is for them an evident token of perdition, but of your salvation, and that from God; because to you it hath been granted in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer in his behalf: 30 having the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

2 If there is therefore any comfort in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any tender 2 mercies and compassions, fulfil ye my joy, that ye be of the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, <sup>14</sup>of 3 one mind; doing nothing through faction or through vainglory, but in lowliness of mind each counting other 4 better than himself; not looking each of you to his own things, but each of 5 you also to the things of others. Have this mind in you, which was also in 6 Christ Jesus: who, <sup>15</sup>being in the form of God, counted it not <sup>16</sup>a prize to be 7 on an equality with God, but emptied himself, taking the form of a <sup>17</sup>servant, <sup>18</sup>being made in the likeness of men; 8 and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, becoming obedient even unto death, yea, the death of the 9 cross. Wherefore also God highly exalted him, and gave unto him the name 10 which is above every name; that in the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven and things on earth 11 and <sup>19</sup>things under the earth, and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

<sup>8</sup> Or, But if to live in the flesh be my lot, this is the fruit of my work: and what I shall choose I wot not.

12 So then, my beloved, even as ye have always obeyed, not <sup>1</sup>as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation
13 with fear and trembling; for it is God which worketh in you both to will and 14 to work, for his good pleasure. Do all things without murmurings and dis-
15 putings; that ye may be blameless and harmless, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom ye are 16 seen as <sup>2</sup>lights in the world, holding forth the word of life; that I may have whereof to glory in the day of Christ, that I did not run in vain neither labour
17 in vain. Yea, and if I am <sup>3</sup>offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I 18 joy, and rejoice with you all: and in the same manner do ye also joy, and rejoice with me.

19 But I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know 20 your state. For I have no man like-minded, who will care <sup>4</sup>truly for your 21 state. For they all seek their own, not 22 the things of Jesus Christ. But ye know the proof of him, that, as a child
serveth a father, so he served with me in 23 furtherance of the gospel. Him therefore I hope to send forthwith, so soon as 24 I shall see how it will go with me: but I trust in the Lord that I myself also 25 shall come shortly. But I counted it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-worker and fellow-soldier, and your <sup>5</sup>messenger and 26 minister to my need; since he longed
<sup>6</sup>after you all, and was sore troubled, because ye had heard that he was sick:
27 for indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, that I might 28 not have sorrow upon sorrow. I have sent him therefore the more diligently, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. Receive him therefore in the 29 Lord with all joy; and hold such in 30 honour: because for the work of <sup>7</sup>Christ he came nigh unto death, hazarding his life to supply that which was lacking in your service toward me.

3 Finally, my brethren, <sup>8</sup>rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not irksome, but for you
2 it is safe. Beware of the dogs, beware of the evil workers, beware of the concision: for we are the circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God, and glory in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence 4 in the flesh: though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh: if any other man <sup>9</sup>thinketh to have confidence in the flesh, I yet more: circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; as touching the law, 6 a Pharisee; as touching zeal, persecuting the church; as touching the righteousness which is in the law, found 7 blameless. Howbeit what things were <sup>10</sup>gain to me, these have I counted loss

8 for Christ. Yea verily, and I count all things to be loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but <sup>11</sup>dung, 9 that I may gain Christ, and be found in him, <sup>12</sup>not having a righteousness of mine own, even that which is of the law, but that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness which is of 10 God <sup>13</sup>by faith: that I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, becoming conformed unto his death; if by any means I may attain unto the resurrection from the dead. Not that I have already obtained, or am already made perfect: but I press on, if so be that I may <sup>14</sup>apprehend that for which also I was 13 apprehended by Christ Jesus. Brethren, I count not myself <sup>15</sup>yet to have apprehended: but one thing I do, forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which 14 are before, I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the <sup>16</sup>high calling of 15 God in Christ Jesus. Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in anything ye are otherwise minded, even this shall God reveal unto 16 you: only, whereunto we have already attained, by that same rule let us walk.
17 Brethren, be ye imitators together of me, and mark them which so walk even 18 as ye have us for an ensample. For many walk, of whom I told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of 19 Christ: whose end is perdition, whose god is the belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things.
20 For our <sup>17</sup>citizenship is in heaven; from whence also we wait for a Saviour, the 21 Lord Jesus Christ: who shall fashion anew the body of our humiliation, that it may be conformed to the body of his glory, according to the working whereby he is able even to subject all things unto himself.

4 Wherefore, my brethren beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my beloved.

2 I exhort Euodia, and I exhort Syntyche, to be of the same mind in the 3 Lord. Yea, I beseech thee also, true yokefellow, help these women, for they laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow-workers, whose names are in the book of life.

Not that I seek for the gift; but I seek for the fruit that <sup>18</sup> increaseth to your account. But I have all things, and abound: I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things that came from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, <sup>19</sup> well-pleasing to God. ## THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE COLOSSIANS.

1 Or, the brother.
2 Or, to those that are at Colosse, holy and faithful brethren in Christ

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy <sup>2</sup> our brother, <sup>2</sup> to the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace to you and peace from God our Father.

3 We give thanks to God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always <sup>4</sup> for you, having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye <sup>5</sup> have toward all the saints, because of the hope which is laid up for you in the heavens, whereof ye heard before in the <sup>6</sup> word of the truth of the gospel, which is come unto you; even as it is also in all the world bearing fruit and increasing, as it doth in you also, since the day ye heard and knew the grace of God in <sup>7</sup> truth; even as ye learned of Epaphras our beloved fellow-servant, who is a faithful minister of Christ on <sup>8</sup> our behalf, who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray and make request for you, that ye may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, <sup>10</sup> to walk worthily of the Lord <sup>4</sup> unto all pleasing, bearing fruit in every good work, and increasing <sup>5</sup> in the knowledge of God; <sup>6</sup> strengthened <sup>7</sup> with all power, according to the might of his glory, unto all patience and longsuffering with joy; giving thanks unto the Father, who made <sup>8</sup> us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light; <sup>13</sup> who delivered us out of the power of darkness, and translated us into the <sup>14</sup> kingdom of the Son of his love; in whom we have, our redemption, the forgiveness of our sins: who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all <sup>16</sup> creation; for in him were all things created, in the heavens and upon the earth, things visible and things invisible, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers; all things have been created through him, and <sup>17</sup> unto him; and he is before all things, <sup>18</sup> and in him all things <sup>9</sup> consist. And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; <sup>10</sup> that in all things he might have the pre-<sup>19</sup>eminence. <sup>11</sup> For it was the good pleasure of the Father that in him <sup>20</sup> should all the fulness dwell; and through him to reconcile all things <sup>1</sup>unto <sup>2</sup>himself, having made peace through the blood of his cross; through him, I say, whether things upon the earth, or things in the heavens. And you, being in time past alienated and enemies in your mind in your evil works, yet now <sup>3</sup>hath he reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and without blemish and un-reprovable before him: if so be that ye continue in the faith, grounded and steadfast, and not moved away from the hope of the gospel which ye heard, which was preached in all creation under heaven; whereof I Paul was made a minister.

24 Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and fill up on my part that which is lacking of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church; whereof I was made a minister, according to the <sup>4</sup>dispensation of God which was given me to you-ward, to fulfil the word of God, even the mystery which hath been hid <sup>5</sup>from all ages and generations: but now hath it been manifested to his saints, to whom God was pleased to make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory: whom we proclaim, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ; whereunto I labour also, striving according to his working, which worketh in me <sup>6</sup>mightily.

2 For I would have you know how greatly I strive for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh; that their hearts may be comforted, they being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the <sup>7</sup>full assurance of understanding, that they may know the mystery of God, <sup>8</sup>even Christ, in whom are all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge hidden. 4 This I say, that no one may delude you with persuasiveness of speech. For though I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 As therefore ye received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in him, rooted and builded up in him, and established <sup>9</sup>in your faith, even as ye were taught, abounding <sup>10</sup>in thanksgiving.

8 <sup>11</sup>Take heed lest there shall be any one that maketh spoil of you through his philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the <sup>12</sup>rudiments of the world, and not after Christ: for in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily, and in him ye are made full, who is the head of all principality and power: in whom ye were also circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in the putting off of the body of the flesh, in the circumcision of Christ; having been buried with him in baptism, wherein ye were also raised with him through faith in the working of God, who raised him from the dead.

13 And you, being dead through your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, you, I say, did he quicken together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses; having blotted out <sup>13</sup>the bond written in ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us; and he hath taken it out of the way, nailing it to the cross; <sup>14</sup>having put off from himself the principalities and the powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

16 Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of a feast day or a new moon or a sabbath day: which are a shadow of the things to come; but the body is Christ's. Let no man rob you of your prize <sup>15</sup>by a voluntary humility and worshipping of the angels, <sup>16</sup>dwelling in the things which he hath <sup>17</sup>seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, and not holding fast the Head, from whom all the body, being supplied and knit together through the joints and bands, increaseth with the increase of God.

20 If ye died with Christ from the <sup>18</sup>rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, do ye subject yourselves to ordinances, Handle not, nor taste, nor touch (all which things are to perish with the using), after the precepts and doctrines of men? Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in will-worship, and humility, and severity to the body; but are not of any <sup>18</sup>value against the indulgence of the flesh.

3 If then ye were raised together with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated on the right hand of God. Set your mind on the things that are above, not on the things that are upon the earth. For ye died, and your life is hid with Christ in God. 4 When Christ, who is <sup>19</sup>our life, shall be manifested, then shall ye also with him be manifested in glory.

5 <sup>20</sup>Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, the which is idolatry; for which things' sake cometh the wrath of God <sup>21</sup>upon the sons of disobedience; <sup>22</sup>in the which ye also walked aforetime, when ye lived in these things. 8 But now put ye also away all these; anger, wrath, malice, railing, shameful speaking out of your mouth: lie not one to another; seeing that ye have put off the old man with his 10 doings, and have put on the new

12 Put on therefore, as God's elect, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, long-13 suffering; forbearing one another, and forgiving each other, if any man have a complaint against any; even as <sup>1</sup>the Lord forgave you, so also do ye: and above all these things put on love, which is the bond of perfectness. And let the peace of Christ <sup>2</sup>rule in your hearts, to the which also ye were called in one body; and be ye thankful. Let the word of <sup>3</sup>Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing <sup>4</sup>one another with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in 17 your hearts unto God. And whatsoever ye do, in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

18 Wives, be in subjection to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord. Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them. Children, obey your parents in all things, for this is well-21 pleasing in the Lord. Fathers, provoke not your children, that they be not discouraged. <sup>5</sup>Servants, obey in all things them that are your <sup>6</sup>masters according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as men-pleasers, but in singleness 23 of heart, fearing the Lord: whatsoever ye do, work <sup>7</sup>heartily, as unto the Lord, and not unto men; knowing that from the Lord ye shall receive the recompense of the inheritance: ye serve the 25 Lord Christ. For he that doeth wrong shall <sup>8</sup>receive again for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons. <sup>9</sup>Masters, render unto your <sup>5</sup>servants that which is just and <sup>9</sup>equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2 Continue stedfastly in prayer, watching therein with thanksgiving; withal praying for us also, that God may open unto us a door for the word, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am 4 also in bonds; that I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak. Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, 6 <sup>10</sup>redeeming the time. Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer each one.

7 All my affairs shall Tychicus make known unto you, the beloved brother and faithful minister and fellow-servant 8 in the Lord: whom I have sent unto you for this very purpose, that ye may know our estate, and that he may comfort your hearts; together with Onesimus, the faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things that are done here.

10 Aristarchus my fellow-prisoner saluteth you, and Mark, the cousin of Barnabas (touching whom ye received commandments; if he come unto you, 11 receive him), and Jesus, which is called Justus, who are of the circumcision: these only are my fellow-workers unto the kingdom of God, men that have 12 been a comfort unto me. Epaphras, who is one of you, a <sup>11</sup>servant of Christ Jesus, saluteth you, always striving for you in his prayers, that ye may stand perfect and fully assured in all the will 13 of God. For I hear him witness, that he hath much labour for you, and for them in Laodicea, and for them in 14 Hierapolis. Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas salute you. Salute the brethren that are in Laodicea, and <sup>12</sup>Nymphas, and the church that is in 16 <sup>13</sup>their house. And when <sup>14</sup>this epistle hath been read among you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans; and that ye also read 17 the epistle from Laodicea. And say to Archippus, Take heed to the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS.

1 PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace.

2 We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our 3 prayers; remembering without ceasing your work of faith and labour of love and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, before our God and Father; 4 knowing, brethren beloved of God, 5 your election, <sup>1</sup>how that our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the <sup>2</sup>Holy Ghost, and in much <sup>3</sup>assurance; even as ye know what manner of men we shewed ourselves toward you for your 6 sake. And ye became imitators of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the 7 <sup>1</sup>Holy Ghost; so that ye became an ensample to all that believe in Macedonia 8 and in Achaia. For from you hath sounded forth the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but in every place your faith to God-ward is gone forth; so that we need not to speak 9 anything. For they themselves report concerning us what manner of entering in we had unto you; and how ye turned unto God from idols, to serve a living 10 and true God, and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivereth us from the wrath to come.

2 For yourselves, brethren, know our entering in unto you, that it hath not been 2 found vain: but having suffered before, and been shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we waxed bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God 3 in much conflict. For our exhortation is not of error, nor of uncleanness, nor 4 in guile: but even as we have been approved of God to be intrusted with the gospel, so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God which proveth our hearts.

5 For neither at any time were we found using words of flattery, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness, God is witness; nor seeking glory of men, neither from you, nor from others, when we might have <sup>2</sup>been burdensome, as apostles of Christ. But we were <sup>3</sup>gentle in the midst of you, as when a nurse 8 cherisheth her own children: even so, being affectionately desirous of you, we were well pleased to impart unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were become very 9 dear to us. For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: working night and day, that we might not burden any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God. Ye are witnesses, and God 10 also, how holily and righteously and unblameably we behaved ourselves toward you that believe: as ye know how we dealt with each one of you, as a father with his own children, exhorting you, and encouraging you, 12 and testifying, to the end that ye should walk worthily of God, who <sup>4</sup>calleth you into his own kingdom and glory.

13 And for this cause we also thank God without ceasing, that, when ye received from us <sup>5</sup>the word of the message, even the word of God, ye accepted it not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, which also worketh 14 in you that believe. For ye, brethren, became imitators of the churches of God which are in Judaea in Christ Jesus: for ye also suffered the same things of your own countrymen, even 15 as they did of the Jews; who both killed the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and drove out us, and please not God, 16 and are contrary to all men; forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved; to fill up their sins away: but the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being bereaved of you for <sup>6</sup>a short season, in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more exceedingly to see your face with great desire: because we would fain have come unto you, I Paul once and again; and 19 Satan hindered us. For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of glorying? Are not even ye, before our Lord Jesus at 20 his <sup>7</sup>coming? For ye are our glory and our joy.

3 Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left 2 behind at Athens alone; and sent Timothy, our brother and <sup>8</sup>God's minister in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your 3 faith; that no man be moved by these afflictions; for yourselves know that 4 hereunto we are appointed. For verily, when we were with you, we told you <sup>9</sup>beforehand that we are to suffer affliction; even as it came to pass, and ye 5 know. For this cause I also, when I could no longer forbear, sent that I might know your faith, lest by any means the tempter had tempted you, 6 and our labour should be in vain. But when Timothy came even now unto us from you, and brought us glad tidings of your faith and love, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, longing to see us, even as we also to see 7 you; for this cause, brethren, we were comforted over you in all our distress 8 and affliction through your faith: for now we live, if ye stand fast in the 9 Lord. For what thanksgiving can we render again unto God for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your 10 sakes before our God; night and day praying exceedingly that we may see your face, and may perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now may our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, direct our 12 way unto you: and the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, 13 even as we also do toward you; to the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before our God and Father, at the <sup>7</sup>coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints.<sup>10</sup>

4 Finally then, brethren, we beseech and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that, as ye received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, even as ye do walk,—that ye abound 2 more and more. For ye know what

For this is the will of God, even your sanctification; that ye abstain from fornication; that each one of you know how to possess himself of his own vessel in sanctification and <sup>5</sup> honour, not in the passion of lust, even as the Gentiles which know not <sup>6</sup> God; that no man <sup>2</sup> transgress, and wrong his brother in the matter: because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as also we <sup>3</sup> forewarned you and testified. For God called us not for uncleanness, but in sanctification. Therefore he that rejecteth, rejecteth not man, but God, who giveth his Holy Spirit unto you.

<sup>9</sup> But concerning love of the brethren ye have no need that one write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of <sup>10</sup> God to love one another; for indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia. But we exhort you, brethren, that ye abound more <sup>11</sup> and more; and that ye <sup>4</sup> study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your hands, even as <sup>12</sup> we charged you; that ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and may have need of nothing.

<sup>13</sup> But we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that fall asleep; that ye sorrow not, even as <sup>14</sup> the rest, which have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also that are fallen asleep <sup>5</sup> in Jesus will God bring <sup>15</sup> with him. For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we that are alive, that are left unto the <sup>6</sup> coming of the Lord, shall in no wise precede them that are fallen asleep. For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven, with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall <sup>17</sup> rise first: then we that are alive, that are left, shall together with them be caught up in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever <sup>18</sup> be with the Lord. Wherefore <sup>7</sup> comfort one another with these words.

<sup>5</sup> But concerning the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that aught be written unto you. For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a <sup>3</sup> thief in the night. When they are saying, Peace and safety, then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and <sup>4</sup> they shall in no wise escape. But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you <sup>8</sup> as a thief: for ye are all sons of light, and sons of the day: we are not of the <sup>6</sup> night, nor of darkness; so then let us not sleep, as do the rest, but let us <sup>7</sup> watch and be sober. For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken are drunken in the night. <sup>8</sup> But let us, since we are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for a helmet, the <sup>9</sup> hope of salvation. For God appointed us not unto wrath, but unto the obtaining of salvation through our Lord Jesus <sup>10</sup> Christ, who died for us, that, whether we <sup>9</sup> wake or sleep, we should live together with him. Wherefore <sup>10</sup> exhort one another, and build each other up, even as also ye do.

<sup>12</sup> But we beseech you, brethren, to know them that labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you; and to esteem them exceeding highly in love for their work's sake. Be at peace among yourselves. <sup>14</sup> And we exhort you, brethren, admonish the disorderly, encourage the fainthearted, support the weak, be <sup>15</sup> longsuffering toward all. See that none render unto any one evil for evil; but always follow after that which is good, <sup>16</sup> one toward another, and toward all. Rejoice always; pray without ceasing; <sup>18</sup> in everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus to you-

<sup>23</sup> And the God of peace himself sanctify you wholly; and may your spirit and soul and body be preserved entire, without blame at the <sup>6</sup> coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is he that calleth you, who will also do it.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE THESSALONIANS.

1 PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We are bound to give thanks to God always for you, brethren, even as it is meet, for that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all toward one another aboundeth; 4 so that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions which ye endure; which is a manifest token of the righteous judgement of God; to the end that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer: if so be that it is a righteous thing with God to recompense affliction to them that afflict you, and to you that are afflicted rest with us, at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven with the angels of his power in flaming fire, rendering vengeance to them that know not God, and to them that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus: who shall suffer punishment, even eternal destruction from the face of the Lord and from the glory of his might, when he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be marvelled at in all them that believed (because our testimony unto you was believed) in that day. To which end we also pray always for you, that our God may count you worthy of your calling, and fulfil every <sup>1</sup>desire of goodness and every work of faith, with 12 power; that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Now we beseech you, brethren, <sup>2</sup>touching the <sup>3</sup>coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and our gathering together unto him; 2 to the end that ye be not quickly shaken from your mind, nor yet be troubled, either by spirit, or by word, or by epistle as from us, as that the day of the Lord is now present; let no man beguile you in any wise: for it will not be, except the falling away come first, and the man of <sup>4</sup>sin be revealed, 4 the son of perdition, he that opposeth and exalteth himself against all that is called God or <sup>5</sup>that is worshipped; so that he sitteth in the <sup>6</sup>temple of God, setting himself forth as God.

5 Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things? 6 And now ye know that which restraineth, to the end that he may be revealed in his own season. For the mystery of lawlessness doth already work: <sup>7</sup>only there is one that restraineth now, until he be taken out of the way. And then shall be revealed the lawless one, whom the Lord <sup>8</sup>Jesus shall <sup>9</sup>slay with the breath of his mouth, and bring to nought by the manifestation of his <sup>3</sup>coming; even he, whose <sup>3</sup>coming is according to the working of Satan with all <sup>10</sup>power and signs and lying wonders, and with all deceit of unrighteousness for them that are perishing; because they received not the love of the truth, that <sup>11</sup>they might be saved. And for this cause God sendeth them a working of error, that they should believe a lie: 12 that they all might be judged who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

13 But we are bound to give thanks to God always for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, for that God chose you <sup>11</sup>from the beginning unto salvation in sanctification of the Spirit and <sup>12</sup>belief of the truth: wherunto he called you through our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. So then, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye were taught, whether by word, or by epistle of ours.

16 Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father which loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good hope through grace, comfort your hearts and establish them in every good work and word.

3 Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run and be glorified, even as also it is with you; 2 and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men; for all have 3 not <sup>13</sup>faith. But the Lord is faithful, who shall establish you, and guard you 4 from <sup>14</sup>the evil one. And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the 5 things which we command. And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patience of Christ.

6 Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition

9 burden any of you: not because we have not the right, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you, that 10 ye should imitate us. For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, If any will not work, neither let 11 him eat. For we hear of some that walk among you disorderly, that work 12 not at all, but are busybodies. Now them that are such we command and exhort in the Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their 13 own bread. But ye, brethren, be not 14 weary in well-doing. And if any man obeyeth not our word by this epistle, note that man, that ye have no company with him, to the end that he 15 may be ashamed. And yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

16 Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace at all times in all ways. The Lord be with you all.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO TIMOTHY.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus according to the commandment of God our Saviour, and Christ Jesus our hope;
2 unto Timothy, my true child in faith: Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.
3 As I exhorted thee to tarry at Ephesus, when I was going into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge certain men
4 not to teach a different doctrine, neither to give heed to fables and endless genealogies, the which minister questionings, rather than a <sup>1</sup>dispensation of God
5 which is in faith; so do I now. But the end of the charge is love out of a pure heart and a good conscience and 6 faith unfeigned: from which things some having <sup>2</sup>swerved have turned 7 aside unto vain talking; desiring to be teachers of the law, though they understand neither what they say, nor where-
8 of they confidently affirm. But we know that the law is good, if a man use it
9 lawfully, as knowing this, that law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and unruly, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for <sup>3</sup>murderers of fathers and <sup>3</sup>murderers of mothers, for manslaughterers,
10 for fornicators, for abusers of themselves with men, for men-stealers, for liars, for false swearers, and if there be any other thing contrary to the 11 <sup>4</sup>sound <sup>5</sup>doctrine; according to the gospel of the glory of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.
12 I thank him that <sup>6</sup>enabled me, even Christ Jesus our Lord, for that he counted me faithful, appointing me 13 to his service; though I was before a blasphemers, and a persecutor, and injurious; howbeit I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief;

14 and the grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly with faith and love which 15 is in Christ Jesus. Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to 16 save sinners; of whom I am chief: howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me as chief might Jesus Christ shew forth all his longsuffering, for an ensample of them which should hereafter believe on him unto eternal life.
17 Now unto the King <sup>7</sup>eternal, incorruptible, invisible, the only God, be honour and glory <sup>8</sup>for ever and ever. Amen.
18 This charge I commit unto thee, my child Timothy, according to the prophecies which <sup>9</sup>went before on thee, that by them thou mayest war the good 19 warfare; holding faith and a good conscience; which some having thrust from them made shipwreck concerning the faith: of whom is Hymeneus and Alexander; of whom I delivered unto Satan, that they might be taught not to blaspheme.

2 I exhort therefore, first of all, <sup>10</sup>that supplications, prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings, be made for all men;
2 for kings and all that are in high place; that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and gravity.
3 This is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; who will eth that all men should be saved, and come to the knowledge of the truth.
4 For there is one God, one mediator also between God and men, himself
5 man, Christ Jesus, who gave himself a ransom for all; the testimony to 6 be borne in its own times; whereunto I was appointed a <sup>11</sup>preacher and an apostle (I speak the truth, I lie not), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

8 I desire therefore that the men pray in every place, lifting up holy hands,

9 without wrath and <sup>1</sup>disputing. In like manner, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefastness and sobriety; not with braided hair, and gold or pearls or costly raiment;

10 but (which becometh women professing

11 godliness) through good works. Let a woman learn in quietness with all sub-

12 jection. But I permit not a woman to teach, nor to have dominion over a man,

13 but to be in quietness. For Adam was 14 first formed, then Eve; and Adam was not beguiled, but the woman being beguiled hath fallen into transgression:

15 but she shall be saved through <sup>2</sup>the childbearing, if they continue in faith and love and sanctification with sobriety.

3 <sup>3</sup>Faithful is the saying, If a man seeketh the office of a <sup>4</sup>bishop, he desireth

2 a good work. The <sup>4</sup>bishop therefore must be without reproach, the husband of one wife, temperate, soberminded, orderly, given to hospitality, apt to

3 teach; <sup>5</sup>no brawler, no striker; but gentle, not contentious, no lover of

4 money; one that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection

5 with all gravity; (but if a man knoweth not how to rule his own house, how shall

6 he take care of the church of God?) not a novice, lest being puffed up he fall into

7 the <sup>6</sup>condemnation of the devil.

8 Moreover he must have good testimony from them that are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.

9 Deacons in like manner must be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much

10 wine, not greedy of filthy lucre; holding the mystery of the faith in a pure con-

11 science. And let these also first be proved; then let them serve as deacons,

12 if they be blameless. Women in like manner must be grave, not slanderers,

13 their children and their own houses well. For they that have served well as deacons gain to themselves a good standing, and great boldness in the 14 faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping

15 to come unto thee shortly; but if I tarry long, that thou mayest know <sup>7</sup>how men ought to behave themselves in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and <sup>8</sup>ground of 16 the truth. And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness; <sup>9</sup>He who was manifested in the flesh, justified in the spirit, seen of angels, preached among the nations, believed on in the world, received up in glory.

4 But the Spirit saith expressly, that in later times some shall fall away from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits

2 and doctrines of <sup>10</sup>devils, through the hypocrisy of men that speak lies,

11 branded in their own conscience as

3 with a hot iron; forbidding to marry,

and commanding to abstain from meats,

which God created to be received with thanksgiving by them that believe and 4 know the truth. For every creature of God is good, and nothing is to be rejected, if it be received with thanksgiving:

5 for it is sanctified through the word of God and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in mind of these things, thou shalt be a good minist-

12 ter of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith, and of the good doctrine which thou hast followed until

7 now: but refuse profane and old wives'

8 fables. And exercise thyself unto god-

9 liness: for bodily exercise is profitable

12 for a little; but godliness is profitable for all things, having promise of the life which now is, and of that which 9 is to come. Faithful is the saying, and 10 worthy of all acceptation. For to this end we labour and strive, because we have our hope set on the living God,

who is the Saviour of all men, specially

11 of them that believe. These things

12 command and teach. Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example to them that believe, in word,

in manner of life, in love, in faith, in 13 purity. Till I come, give heed to reading, to exhortation, to teaching.

14 Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presby-

15 tery. Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy pro-

16 gress may be manifest unto all. Take heed to thyself, and to thy teaching.

Continue in these things; for in doing this thou shalt save both thyself and them that hear thee.

5 Rebuke not an elder, but exhort him

as a father; the younger men as bre-

2 thren: the elder women as mothers;

the younger as sisters, in all purity.

3 Honour widows that are widows indeed.

4 But if any widow hath children or grandchildren, let them learn first to shew piety towards their own family, and to requite their parents: for this is ac-

5 ceptable in the sight of God. Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate,

hath her hope set on God, and continu-

eth in supplications and prayers night

6 and day. But she that giveth herself to pleasure is dead while she liveth.

7 These things also command, that they

8 may be without reproach. But if any provideth not for his own, and specially his own household, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an a widow under threescore years old, <sup>10</sup>having been the wife of one man, well reported of for good works; if she hath brought up children, if she hath used hospitality to strangers, if she hath washed the saints' feet, if she hath relieved the afflicted, if she hath diligently followed every good work. But younger widows refuse: for when they have waxed wanton against Christ, they desire to marry; having condemnation, because they have rejected their first faith. And withal they learn also to be idle, going about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not. I desire therefore that the younger <sup>1</sup>widows marry, bear children, rule the household, give none occasion to the adversary for reviling: for already some are turned aside after Satan.

If any woman that believeth hath widows, let her relieve them, and let not the church be burdened; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.

Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially those who labour in the word and in teaching. For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. And, The labourer is worthy of his hire. Against an elder receive not an accusation, except at the <sup>20</sup>mouth of two or three witnesses. Them that sin reprove in the sight of all, that the rest also may be in fear. I charge thee in the sight of God, and Christ Jesus, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without <sup>2</sup>prejudice, doing nothing by partiality. Lay hands hastily on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins; keep thyself pure. Be no longer a drinker of water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities. Some men's sins are evident, going before unto judgement; and some men also they follow after. In like manner also <sup>3</sup>there are good works that are evident; and such as are otherwise cannot be hid.

Let as many as are <sup>4</sup>servants under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and the doctrine be not blasphemed.

And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but let them serve them the rather, because they that <sup>5</sup>partake of the benefit are believing and beloved. These things teach and exhort.

If any man teacheth a different doctrine, and consenteth not to <sup>6</sup>sound words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness; he is puffed up, knowing nothing, but <sup>7</sup>doting about questionings and disputes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, wranglings of men corrupted in mind and bereft of the truth, supposing that godliness is a way of gain. But godliness with contentment is great gain: for we brought nothing into the world, for neither can we carry anything out; but having food and covering <sup>8</sup>we shall be therewith content.

But they that desire to be rich fall into a temptation and a snare and many foolish and hurtful lusts, such as drown men in destruction and perdition. For the love of money is a root of all <sup>9</sup>kinds of evil: which some reaching after have been led astray from the faith, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

Thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness. Fight the good fight of the faith, lay hold on the life eternal, whereunto thou wast called, and didst confess the good confession in the sight of many witnesses. I charge thee in the sight of God, who <sup>10</sup>quickeneth all things, and of Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed the good confession; that thou keep the commandment, without spot, without reproach, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ: in <sup>11</sup>which is <sup>11</sup>his own times he shall shew, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of <sup>12</sup>kings, and Lord of <sup>13</sup>lords; who only hath immortality, dwelling in light unapproachable; whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and power eternal. Amen.

Charge them that are rich in this present <sup>14</sup>world, that they be not high-minded, nor have their hope set on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; that they do good, that they be rich in good works, that they be ready to distribute, <sup>15</sup>willing to communicate; laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on the life which is life indeed.

O Timothy, guard <sup>16</sup>that which is committed unto thee, turning away from the profane babblings and oppositions of the knowledge which is falsely so called; which some professing have <sup>17</sup>erred concerning the faith.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO TIMOTHY.

1 Gr. through.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus <sup>1</sup> by the will of God, according to the promise of the life which is in Christ Jesus, 2 to Timothy, my beloved child: Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers in a pure conscience, how unceasing is my remembrance of thee 4 in my supplications, night and day longing to see thee, remembering thy tears, 5 that I may be filled with <sup>2</sup>joy; having been reminded of the unfeigned faith that is in thee; which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and, I am persuaded, in thee 6 also. For the which cause I put thee in remembrance that thou <sup>3</sup>stir up the gift of God, which is in thee through the

2 Gr. Joy in being reminded

3 Gr. stir into flame.

7 laying on of my hands. For God gave us not a spirit of fearfulness; but of 8 power and love and <sup>4</sup>discipline. Be not ashamed therefore of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but suffer hardship with the gospel according to the power of God; who saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before 10 times eternal, but hath now been manifested by the appearing of our Saviour Christ Jesus, who abolished death, and brought life and incorruption to light 11 through the gospel, whereunto I was appointed a <sup>5</sup>preacher, and an apostle, 12 and a teacher. For the which cause I suffer also these things: yet I am not ashamed; for I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard <sup>6</sup>that which I have committed unto him against that day.

4 Gr. sobering.

13 Hold the pattern of <sup>7</sup>sound words which thou hast heard from me, in faith and 14 love which is in Christ Jesus. <sup>8</sup>That good thing which was committed unto thee guard through the <sup>9</sup>Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that all that are in Asia turned away from me; of whom 16 are Phygelus and Hermogenes. The Lord grant mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed me, 17 and was not ashamed of my chain; but, when he was in Rome, he sought me 18 diligently, and found me (the Lord grant unto him to find mercy of the Lord in that day); and in how many things he ministered at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

2 Thou therefore, my child, be strengthened in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. 2 And the things which thou hast heard from me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.

3 <sup>10</sup>Suffer hardship with me, as a good 4 soldier of Christ Jesus. No soldier on service entangleth himself in the affairs of this life; that he may please him who 5 enrolled him as a soldier. And if also a man contend in the games, he is not crowned, except he have contended law- 6 fully. The husbandman that laboureth must be the first to partake of the fruit.

10 Or, Take thy part in suffering hardship, as &c.

7 Consider what I say; for the Lord shall give thee understanding in all things. 8 Remember Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, of the seed of David, according to 9 my gospel: wherin I suffer hardship unto bonds, as a malefactor; but the 10 word of God is not bound. Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sake, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal 11 glory. Faithful is the <sup>11</sup>saying: For if we died with him, we shall also live 12 with him: if we endure, we shall also reign with him: if we shall deny him, 13 he also will deny us: if we are faithless, he abideth faithful; for he cannot deny himself.

11 Or, saying; for if &c.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them in the sight of <sup>12</sup>the Lord, that they strive not about words, to no profit, to the subverting 15 of them that hear. Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, <sup>13</sup>handling aright the word of truth.

12 Many ancient authorities read God.

16 But shun profane babblings; for they 17 will proceed further in ungodliness, and their word will <sup>14</sup>eat as doth a gangrene: of whom is Hymeneus and Philetus; 18 men who concerning the truth have <sup>15</sup>erred, saying that <sup>16</sup>the resurrection is past already, and overthrow the faith 19 of some. Howbeit the firm foundation of God standeth, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his: and, Let every one that nameth the name of the Lord depart from unrighteousness.

13 Or, holding a straight course in the word of truth
Or, rightly dividing the word of truth

20 Now in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and some unto honour, and some unto 15 Gr. misused the mark.

16 Some ancient authorities read a resurrection.

21 dishonour. If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, meet for the master's use, prepared unto every good work. But flee youthful lusts, and follow after righteousness, faith, love, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart. But foolish and ignorant questionings refuse, knowing that they gender strifes. And the Lord's <sup>1</sup>servant must not strive, but be gentle towards all, apt to teach, forbearing, in meekness <sup>2</sup>correcting them that oppose themselves; if peradventure God may give them repentance unto the knowledge of the truth, and they may <sup>3</sup>recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, having been <sup>4</sup>taken captive <sup>5</sup>by the Lord's servant unto the will of God.

3 But know this, that in the last days grievous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, haughty, railers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affection, implacable, slanderers, without self-control, fierce, no lovers of good, traitors, headstrong, puffed up, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God; holding a form of godliness, but having denied the power thereof: from these also turn away. For of these are they that creep into houses, and take captive silly women laden with sins, led away by divers lusts, ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. And like as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also withstand the truth; men corrupted in mind, 9 reprobate concerning the faith. But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be evident unto all men, as theirs also came to be. But thou didst follow my teaching, conduct, purpose, 11 faith, longsuffering, love, patience, persecutions, sufferings; what things befell me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: and out of them all the Lord delivered 12 me. Yea, and all that would live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution. 13 But evil men and impostors shall wax worse and worse, deceiving and being 14 deceived. But abide thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of <sup>6</sup>whom thou 15 hast learned them; and that from a babe thou hast known the sacred writings which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is 16 in Christ Jesus. <sup>7</sup>Every scripture inspired of God is also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for <sup>8</sup>instruction which is in righteousness:

17 that the man of God may be complete, furnished completely unto every good work.

4 <sup>9</sup>I charge thee in the sight of God, and of Christ Jesus, who shall judge the quick and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom; preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; <sup>10</sup>reprove, rebuke, exhort, with all 3 longsuffering and teaching. For the time will come when they will not endure the <sup>11</sup>sound <sup>12</sup>doctrine; but, having itching ears, will hearken to themselves teachers after their own lusts; 4 and will turn away their ears from the 5 truth, and turn aside unto fables. But be thou sober in all things, suffer hardship, do the work of an evangelist, 6 fulfil thy ministry. For I am already being <sup>13</sup>offered, and the time of my 7 departure is come. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, 8 I have kept the faith: henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give to me at that day: and not only to me, but also to all them that have loved his appearing.

9 Do thy diligence to come shortly unto 10 me: for Demas forsook me, having loved this present <sup>14</sup>world, and went to Thessalonica; Crescens to <sup>15</sup>Galatia. 11 Titus to Dalmatia. Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is useful to me for ministering. But Tychicus I sent to Ephesus. 13 The cloke that I left at Troas with Carpus, bring when thou comest, and the books, especially the parchments. 14 Alexander the coppersmith <sup>16</sup>did me much evil: the Lord will render to him 15 according to his works: of whom be thou ware also; for he greatly withstood our words. At my first defence no one took my part, but all forsook me: may it not be laid to their account. But the Lord stood by me, and <sup>17</sup>strengthened me; that through me the <sup>18</sup>message might be fully proclaimed, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the 18 mouth of the lion. The Lord will deliver me from every evil work, and will save me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be the glory <sup>19</sup>for ever and ever. Amen.

10 For there are many unruly men, vain talkers and deceivers, specially they of 11 the circumcision, whose mouths must be stopped; men who overthrow whole houses, teaching things which they 12 ought not, for filthy lucre's sake. One of themselves, a prophet of their own, said, Cretans are always liars, evil 13 beasts, idle <sup>8</sup>gluttons. This testimony is true. For which cause reprove them sharply, that they may be <sup>9</sup>sound in the 14 faith, not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men who turn 15 away from the truth. To the pure all things are pure: but to them that are defiled and unbelieving nothing is pure; but both their mind and their 16 conscience are defiled. They profess that they know God; but by their works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

the young women to love their husbands, to love their children, to be soberminded, chaste, workers at home, kind, being in subjection to their own husbands, that the word of God be 6 not blasphemed: the younger men 7 likewise exhort to be soberminded: in all things shewing thyself an ensample of good works; in thy doctrine shewing 8 uncorruptness, gravity, sound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say 9 of us. Exhort <sup>10</sup>servants to be in subjection to their own masters, and to be well-pleasing to them in all things; 10 not gainsaying; not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our 11 Saviour in all things. For the grace of God <sup>12</sup>hath appeared, bringing salvation to all men, instructing us, to the intent that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly and righteously and godly in this 13 present <sup>12</sup>world; looking for the blessed hope and appearing of the glory <sup>13</sup>of our great God and Saviour Jesus 14 Christ; who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a people for his own possession, zealous of good works.

3 Put them in mind to be in subjection to rulers, to authorities, to be obedient, to be ready unto every good 2 work, to speak evil of no man, not to be contentious, to be gentle, shewing all meekness toward all men. For we also were aforetime foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, 4 hateful, hating one another. But when the kindness of God our Saviour, and 5 his love toward man, appeared, not by works done in righteousness, which we did ourselves, but according to his mercy he saved us, through the <sup>15</sup>washing of regeneration <sup>16</sup>and renewing of the <sup>17</sup>Holy Ghost, which he poured out upon us richly, through 7 Jesus Christ our Saviour; that, being justified by his grace, we might be made <sup>18</sup>heirs according to the hope of 8 eternal life. ## THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON.

1 PAUL, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy <sup>1</sup>our brother, to Philemon 2 our beloved and fellow-worker, and to Apphia <sup>2</sup>our sister, and to Archippus
 our fellow-soldier, and to the church
 3 in thy house: Grace to you and peace
 from God our Father and the Lord
 Jesus Christ.
 4 I thank my God always, making men-5 tion of thee in my prayers, hearing of <sup>3</sup>thy love, and of the faith which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, 6 and toward all the saints; that the fellowship of thy faith may become effectual, in the knowledge of every good thing which is in <sup>4</sup>you, unto 7 Christ. For I had much joy and comfort in thy love, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through thee, brother.
 8 Wherefore, though I have all boldness in Christ to enjoin thee that which 9 is befitting, yet for love's sake I rather beseech, being such a one as Paul <sup>5</sup>the aged, and now a prisoner also of Christ 10 Jesus: I beseech thee for my child, whom I have begotten in my bonds, 11 <sup>6</sup>Onesimus, who was aforetime unprofitable to thee, but now is profitable 12 to thee and to me: whom I have sent back to thee in his own person, that 13 is, my very heart: whom I would fain

he might minister unto me in the bonds 14 of the gospel: but without thy mind I would do nothing; that thy goodness should not be as of necessity, but of 15 free will. For perhaps he was therefore parted from thee for a season, that thou 16 shouldest have him for ever; no longer as a <sup>7</sup>servant, but more than a <sup>7</sup>servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much rather to thee, both in the 17 flesh and in the Lord. If then thou countest me a partner, receive him as 18 myself. But if he hath wronged thee at all, or oweth thee aught, put that to 19 mine account; I Paul write it with mine own hand, I will repay it: that I say not unto thee how that thou owest to me even thine own self besides.
 20 Yea, brother, let me have <sup>8</sup>joy of thee
 in the Lord: refresh my heart in Christ.
 21 Having confidence in thine obedience
 I write unto thee, knowing that thou 22 wilt do even beyond what I say. But withal prepare me also a lodging: for I hope that through your prayers I shall be granted unto you.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE HEBREWS.

1 God, having of old time spoken unto the fathers in the prophets by divers 2 portions and in divers manners, hath at the end of these days spoken unto us in <sup>1</sup>his Son, whom he appointed heir of all things, through whom also he made 3 the <sup>2</sup>worlds; who being under the effulgence

<sup>2</sup> Gr.
ages.

of his glory, and <sup>3</sup>the very image of his substance, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had made purification of sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high; 4 having become by so much better than the angels, as he hath inherited a more

<sup>3</sup> Or,
the im- press of his sub- stance

5 excellent name than they. For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, This day have I begotten thee?

and again,

I will be to him a Father, And he shall be to me a Son?

6<sup>1</sup> And when he again <sup>2</sup>bringeth in the firstborn into <sup>3</sup>the world he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him.

7 And of the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels <sup>4</sup>winds, And his ministers a flame of fire:

8 But of the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever;

And the sceptre of uprightness is the sceptre of <sup>5</sup>thy kingdom.

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; Therefore God, thy God, hath appointed thee

With the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And,

Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth, And the heavens are the works of thy hands:

11 They shall perish; but thou continuest: And they all shall wax old as doth a garment;

12 And as a mantle shalt thou roll them up, As a garment, and they shall be changed:

But thou art the same, And thy years shall not fail.

13 But of which of the angels hath he said at any time,

Sit thou on my right hand, Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to do service for the sake of them that shall inherit salvation?

2 Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things that were heard, lest haply we drift away from

2 them. For if the word spoken through angels proved steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a

3 just recompense of reward; how shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation? which having at the first been spoken through the Lord, was confirmed

4 unto us by them that heard; God also bearing witness with them, both by signs and wonders, and by manifold powers, and by <sup>6</sup>gifts of the <sup>7</sup>Holy Ghost, according to his own will.

5 For not unto angels did he subject <sup>8</sup>the world to come, whereof we speak. But one hath somewhere testified, saying,

What is man, that thou art mindful of him?

Or the son of man, that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him <sup>8</sup>a little lower than the angels;

Thou crownedst him with glory and honour,

<sup>9</sup>And didst set him over the works of thy hands:

8 Thou didst put all things in subjection under his feet.

For in that he subjected all things unto him, he left nothing that is not subject to him. But now we see not <sup>9</sup>yet all things subjected to him. But we behold him who hath been made

<sup>8</sup>a little lower than the angels, even Jesus, because of the suffering of death crowned with glory and honour, that by the grace of God he should taste death

10 for every man. For it became him, for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, <sup>10</sup>in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the <sup>11</sup>author of their salvation perfect through suffer-

11 ings. For both he that sanctifieth and they that are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to 12 call them brethren, saying,

I will declare thy name unto my brethren,

In the midst of the <sup>12</sup>congregation will I sing thy praise.

13 And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold, I and the children

14 which God hath given me. Since then the children are sharers in <sup>13</sup>flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner partook of the same; that through death he <sup>14</sup>might bring to nought him that <sup>15</sup>had the power of death, that is, the devil; and <sup>14</sup>might deliver all them who through fear of death were all <sup>16</sup>their lifetime subject to bondage. For verily not of angels doth he take hold, 17 but he taketh hold of the seed of Abraham. Wherefore it behoved him in all things to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation for the sins of the 18 people. <sup>16</sup>For <sup>17</sup>in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

3 Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, even Jesus; who was faithful to him that <sup>18</sup>appointed him, as also was

3 Moses in all <sup>19</sup>his house. For he hath been counted worthy of more glory than Moses, by so much as he that <sup>20</sup>built the house hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is <sup>20</sup>built by some one; but he that <sup>20</sup>built all things is

5 God. And Moses indeed was faithful in all <sup>19</sup>his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were afterward to be spoken; but Christ as a son, over <sup>19</sup>his house; whose house are we, if we hold fast our boldness and the glorying of our hope firm

7 unto the end. Wherefore, even as the Holy Ghost saith,

To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation,

Like as in the day of the temptation in the wilderness,

9 <sup>1</sup>Wherewith your fathers tempted me by proving me,
And saw my works forty years.

10 Wherefore I was displeased with this generation,
And said, They do alway err in their heart:

But they did not know my ways;

11 As I sware in my wrath,

12 Take heed, brethren, lest haply there shall be in any one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in falling away from the

13 living God: but exhort one another day by day, so long as it is called To-day; lest any one of you be hardened by the

14 deceitfulness of sin: for we are become partakers <sup>3</sup>of Christ, if we hold fast the beginning of our confidence firm unto the end: while it is said,

To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 For who, when they heard, did provoke? nay, did not all they that came

17 out of Egypt by Moses? And with whom was he displeased forty years? was it not with them that sinned, whose 18 <sup>4</sup>carcasses fell in the wilderness? And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that

19 were disobedient? And we see that they were not able to enter in because of unbelief.

4 Let us fear therefore, lest haply, a promise being left of entering into his rest, any one of you should seem to have

2 come short of it. For indeed we have had <sup>5</sup>good tidings preached unto us, even as also they: but the word of hearing did not profit them, because <sup>6</sup>they were not united by faith with them

3 that heard. <sup>7</sup>For we which have believed do enter into that rest; even as he hath said,

As I sware in my wrath,

although the works were finished from the foundation of the world. For he hath said somewhere of the seventh day on this wise, And God rested on the seventh day from all his works;

5 and in this place again,

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some should enter therinto, and they to whom <sup>8</sup>the good tidings were before preached failed to enter in because

7 of disobedience, he again defineth a certain day, <sup>9</sup>saying in David, after so long a time, To-day, as it hath been before said,

To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
Harden not your hearts.

8 For if <sup>10</sup>Joshua had given them rest, he would not have spoken afterward of 9 another day. There remaineth therefore a sabbath rest for the people of God.

10 For he that is entered into his rest hath himself also rested from his works,

11 as God did from his. Let us therefore give diligence to enter into that rest, that no man fall <sup>11</sup>after the same example of disobedience. For the word of God is living, and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the 13 heart. And there is no creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and laid open before the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Having then a great high priest, who hath passed through the heavens, Jesus

the Son of God, let us hold fast our 15 confession. For we have not a high priest that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but one that hath been in all points tempted like as 16 we are, yet without sin. Let us therefore draw near with boldness unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace to help us in time of need.

5 For every high priest, being taken from among men, is appointed for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for

2 sins: who can bear gently with the ignorant and erring, for that he himself

3 also is compassed with infirmity; and by reason thereof is bound, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for 4 sins. And no man taketh the honour unto himself, but when he is called of 5 God, even as was Aaron. So Christ also glorified not himself to be made a high priest, but he that spake unto him,

Thou art my Son,

This day have I begotten thee:

6 as he saith also in another place,

Thou art a priest for ever

After the order of Melchizedek.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, having offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him <sup>12</sup>from death,

and having been heard for his godly

8 fear, though he was a Son, yet learned obedience by the things which he suffered; and having been made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the <sup>13</sup>author of eternal salvation;

10 named of God a high priest after the order of Melchizedek.

have need again <sup>1</sup> that some one teach you the rudiments of the <sup>2</sup> first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and <sup>3</sup> not of solid food. For every one that partaketh of milk is without experience of the word of righteousness: for he is <sup>4</sup> a babe. But solid food is for <sup>5</sup> fullgrown men, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern good and evil.

6 Wherefore let us <sup>4</sup> cease to speak of the first principles of Christ, and press on unto <sup>5</sup> perfection; not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead <sup>2</sup> works, and of faith toward God, <sup>6</sup> of the teaching of <sup>7</sup> baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment. 3 And this will we do, if God permit. 4 For as touching those who were once enlightened <sup>8</sup> and tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the <sup>5</sup> Holy Ghost, and <sup>9</sup> tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the age to come, and then fell away, it is impossible to renew them again unto repentance; <sup>10</sup> seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put <sup>7</sup> him to an open shame. For the land which hath drunk the rain that cometh off upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them for whose sake it is also <sup>8</sup> tilled, receiveth blessing from God: but if it beareth thorns and thistles, it is rejected and nigh unto a curse; whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that <sup>11</sup> accompany salvation, though we thus speak: 10 for God is not unrighteous to forget your work and the love which ye shewed toward his name, in that ye ministered unto the saints, and still do minister.

11 And we desire that each one of you may shew the same diligence unto the <sup>12</sup> fullness of hope even to the end: that ye be not sluggish, but imitators of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, since he could swear by none greater, he swore by himself, saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and <sup>15</sup> multiplying I will multiply thee. And thus, having patiently endured, he obtained the promise. For men swear by the greater: and in every dispute of theirs the oath is final for confirmation.

17 Wherein God, being minded to shew more abundantly unto the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, <sup>13</sup> interposed with an oath: that by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to lay hold of the <sup>19</sup> hope set before us; which we have as an anchor of the soul, a hope both sure and stedfast and entering into 20 that which is within the veil; whither as a forerunner Jesus entered for us, having become a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

7 For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of God Most High, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter 2 of the kings, and blessed him, to whom also Abraham divided a tenth part of all (being first, by interpretation, King of righteousness, and then also King of Salem, which is, King of peace; 3 without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like unto the Son of God), abideth a priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom Abraham, the patriarch, gave a tenth out of the chief <sup>5</sup> spoils. And they indeed of the sons of Levi that receive the priest's office have commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though these have come 6 out of the loins of Abraham: but he whose genealogy is not counted from them hath taken tithes of Abraham, and hath blessed him that hath the <sup>7</sup> promises. But without any dispute the <sup>8</sup> less is blessed of the better. And here men that die receive tithes; but there one, of whom it is witnessed that he <sup>9</sup> liveth. And, so to say, through Abraham even Levi, who receiveth tithes, 10 hath paid tithes; for he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchizedek met him.

11 Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it hath the people received the law), what further need was there that another priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be reckoned after 12 the order of Aaron? For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also <sup>14</sup> of the law. For he of whom these things are said <sup>15</sup> belongeth to another tribe, from which no man 14 hath given attendance at the altar. For it is evident that our Lord hath sprung out of Judah; as to which tribe Moses <sup>15</sup> spake nothing concerning priests. And what we say is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek 16 there ariseth another priest, who hath been made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an 17 <sup>16</sup> endless life: for it is witnessed of him, Thou art a priest for ever After the order of Melchizedek.

18 For there is a disannulling of a foregoing commandment because of its 19 weakness and unprofitableness (for the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in thereupon of a better hope, through which we draw 20 nigh unto God. And inasmuch as it is not without the taking of an oath 21 (for they indeed have been made priests without an oath; but he with an oath <sup>1</sup> by him that saith <sup>2</sup> of him,

The Lord sware and will not repent
himself,

Thou art a priest for ever);

22 by so much also hath Jesus become 23 the surety of a better <sup>3</sup> covenant. And they indeed have been made priests
many in number, because that by death 24 they are hindered from continuing: but he, because he abideth for ever, <sup>4</sup> hath 25 his priesthood <sup>5</sup> unchangeable. Wherefore also he is able to save <sup>6</sup> to the utmost them that draw near unto God through him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26 For such a high priest became us, holy, guileless, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made higher than the 27 heavens; who needeth not daily, like those high priests, to offer up sacrifices, first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people: for this he did once 28 for all, when he offered up himself. For the law appointeth men high priests, having infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was after the law, ap-pointeth a Son, perfected for evermore.

8 <sup>7</sup> Now <sup>8</sup> in the things which we are saying the chief point is this: We have such a high priest, who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty 2 in the heavens, a minister of <sup>9</sup> the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which 3 the Lord pitched, not man. For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is necessary that this high priest also have 4 somewhat to offer. Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are those who offer the 5 gifts according to the law; who serve that which is a copy and shadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses is warned of God when he is about to 10 make the tabernacle: for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern that was shewed thee in 6 the mount. But now hath he obtained a ministry the more excellent, by how much also he is the mediator of a better
3 covenant, which hath been enacted
7 upon better promises. For if that first covenant had been faultless, then would no place have been sought for a second.

8 For finding fault with them, he saith,
Behold, the days come, saith the Lord,
That I will <sup>11</sup> make a new <sup>3</sup> covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah;

9 Not according to the <sup>3</sup> covenant that I made with their fathers
In the day that I took them by the hand to lead them forth out of the land of Egypt;
For they continued not in my <sup>3</sup> covenant,

And I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the <sup>3</sup> covenant that <sup>12</sup> I will make with the house of Israel
After those days, saith the Lord;
I will put my laws into their mind,
And on their heart also will I write
them:

And I will be to them a God,
And they shall be to me a people:

11 And they shall not teach every man
his fellow-citizen,
And every man his brother, saying,
Know the Lord:

For all shall know me,
From the least to the greatest of them.

12 For I will be merciful to their iniquities,
And their sins will I remember no more.

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. But that which is becoming old and waxeth aged is nigh unto vanishing away.

9 Now even the first covenant had ordinances of divine service, and its sanctuary, a sanctuary of this world.

2 For there was a tabernacle prepared,
the first, wherein <sup>13</sup> were the candlestick,
and the table, and <sup>14</sup> the shewbread; 3 which is called the Holy place. And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holy of holies;

4 having a golden <sup>15</sup> censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein <sup>16</sup> was a golden pot holding the manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the cove-

5 nant; and above it cherubim of glory overshadowing <sup>17</sup> the mercy-seat; of which things we cannot now speak

6 severally. Now these things having been thus prepared, the priests go in continually into the first tabernacle, 7 accomplishing the services; but into the second the high priest alone, once in the year, not without blood, which he offereth for himself, and for the 8 <sup>18</sup> errors of the people: the Holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the holy place hath not yet been made manifest, while as the first tabernacle

9 is yet standing; which is a parable for the time now present; according to which are offered both gifts and sacrifices that cannot, as touching the conscience, make the worshipper per-

10 fect, being only (with meats and drinks and divers washings) carnal ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.

11 But Christ having come a high priest of <sup>19</sup> the good things to come, through the greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, nor yet through the blood of goats and calves, but through his own blood, entered in once for all into the holy place, having obtain-

13 ed eternal redemption. For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling them that have been defiled, sanctify unto the cleanness of 14 the flesh: how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish unto God, cleanse <sup>1</sup> your conscience from dead works to serve the 15 living God? And for this cause he is the mediator of a new <sup>2</sup> covenant, that a death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first <sup>2</sup> covenant, they that have been called may receive the 16 promise of the eternal inheritance. For where a <sup>2</sup> testament is, there must of necessity <sup>3</sup> be the death of him that made it. For a <sup>2</sup> testament is of force <sup>4</sup> where there hath been death: <sup>5</sup> for doth it ever avail while he that made 18 it liveth? Wherefore even the first covenant hath not been dedicated without blood. For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses unto all the people according to the law, he took the blood of the calves and the goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book 20 itself, and all the people, saying, This is the blood of the <sup>2</sup> covenant which 21 God commanded to you-ward. Moreover the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry he sprinkled in like 22 manner with the blood. And according to the law, I may almost say, all things are cleansed with blood, and apart from shedding of blood there is no remission. 23 It was necessary therefore that the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better 24 sacrifices than these. For Christ entered not into a holy place made with hands, like in pattern to the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear before 25 the face of God for us: nor yet that he should offer himself often; as the high priest entereth into the holy place year 26 by year with blood not his own; else must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once at the <sup>6</sup> end of the ages hath he been manifested to put away sin <sup>7</sup> by the 27 sacrifice of himself. And inasmuch as it is <sup>8</sup> appointed unto men once to die, 28 and after this cometh judgement; so Christ also, having been once offered to bear the sins of many, shall appear a second time, apart from sin, to them that wait for him, unto salvation. 10 For the law having a shadow of the good things to come, not the very image of the things, <sup>9</sup> they can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make perfect 2 them that draw nigh. Else would they not have ceased to be offered, because the worshippers, having been once cleansed, would have had no more conscience of sins? But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance made of sins 4 year by year. For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take 5 away sins. Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith,

Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not,

But a body didst thou prepare for me;

6 In whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hadst no pleasure:

7 Then said I, Lo, I am come

(In the roll of the book it is written of me)

To do thy will, O God.

8 Saying above, Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein (the which are 9 offered according to the law), then hath he said, Lo, I am come to do thy will.

He taketh away the first, that he may

10 establish the second. <sup>10</sup> By which will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ

11 once for all. And every <sup>11</sup> priest indeed standeth day by day ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, the which can never take away sins:

12 but he, when he had offered one sacrifice for <sup>12</sup> sins for ever, sat down on the

13 right hand of God; from henceforth expecting till his enemies be made the 14 footstool of his feet. For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that 15 are sanctified. And the Holy Ghost also beareth witness to us: for after he hath said,

16 This is the <sup>13</sup> covenant that <sup>14</sup> I will make with them

After those days, saith the Lord;

I will put my laws on their heart,

And upon their mind also will I write them;

then saith he,

17 And their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holy place by the 20 blood of Jesus, by the way which he dedicated for us, a new and living way, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh;

21 and having a great priest over the house

22 of God; let us draw near with a true heart in <sup>15</sup> fullness of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil <sup>16</sup> conscience, and our body washed with pure

23 water: let us hold fast the confession of our hope that it waver not; for he

24 is faithful that promised: and let us consider one another to provoke unto

25 love and good works; not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the custom of some is, but exhorting

one another; and so much the more, as ye see the day drawing nigh.

26 For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more a sacrifice for sins, but a certain fearful expectation of judgement, and a <sup>1</sup> fierceness of fire which shall devour the <sup>2</sup> adversaries. A man that hath set at nought Moses' law dieth without compassion on the word of two or three <sup>3</sup> witnesses: of how much sorer punishment, think ye, shall he be judged worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, <sup>4</sup> an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of <sup>5</sup> grace? For we know him that said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense. And again, The Lord shall <sup>6</sup> judge his people. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were enlightened, ye endured a great conflict of <sup>7</sup> sufferings; partly, being made a gazing-stock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, becoming partakers with <sup>8</sup> them that were so used. For ye both had compassion on them that were in bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your possessions, knowing <sup>9</sup> that <sup>10</sup> ye yourselves have a better possession and <sup>11</sup> an abiding one. Cast not away therefore your boldness, which hath great <sup>12</sup> recompense of reward. For ye have need of patience, that, having done the will of God, ye may receive the promise.

37 For yet a very little while, He that cometh shall come, and shall not tarry.

38 But <sup>13</sup> my righteous one shall live by faith: And if he shrink back, my soul hath no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not <sup>14</sup> of them that shrink back unto perdition; but of them that have faith unto the <sup>15</sup> saving of the soul.

11 Now faith is <sup>16</sup> the assurance of things hoped for, the <sup>17</sup> proving of things not seen. For therein the elders had <sup>18</sup> witness borne to them. By faith we understand that the <sup>19</sup> worlds have been framed by the word of God, so that what is seen hath not been made out of things which do appear. By faith <sup>20</sup> Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he had witness borne to him that he was righteous, <sup>21</sup> God bearing witness <sup>22</sup> in respect of his gifts: and through it he <sup>23</sup> being dead yet speaketh. By faith <sup>24</sup> Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and he was not found, because God translated him: for before his translation he hath had witness borne to him that he had been well-pleasing unto God: and without faith <sup>25</sup> it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seek after him.

7 By faith Noah, being warned of God concerning things not seen as yet, moved with godly fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; through which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is according to faith. By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place which he was to receive for an inheritance; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. By faith he became a sojourner in the land of promise, as in a <sup>1</sup> land not his own, <sup>2</sup> dwelling in tents, with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise: for he looked for the city which hath the foundations, whose <sup>3</sup> builder and maker is God. By faith even Sarah herself received power to conceive seed when she was past age, since she counted him faithful who <sup>4</sup> had promised: wherefore also there sprang of one, and him as good as dead, so many as the stars of heaven in multitude, and as the sand, which is by the sea shore, innumerable.

13 These all died <sup>5</sup> in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them and greeted them from afar, and having confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. For they that say such things make it manifest that they are seeking after a <sup>6</sup> country of their own. And if indeed they had been mindful of that country from which they went out, they would <sup>7</sup> have had opportunity to return. But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed of them, to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith Abraham, being tried, <sup>8</sup> offered up Isaac: yea, he that had gladly received the promises was offering up <sup>9</sup> his only begotten son; even he <sup>10</sup> to whom it was said, In Isaac shall thy seed be called: accounting that God is able to raise up, even from the dead; from whence he did also in a parable <sup>11</sup> receive him back. By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, even concerning things to come. By faith Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph; and worshipped, <sup>12</sup> leaning upon the top of his staff. By faith Joseph, when his end was nigh, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones. By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid three months by his parents, because they saw he was a goodly child; and they were not afraid of the king's <sup>13</sup> commandment. By faith Moses, when he was grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; choosing rather to be evil entreated with the people of God, than to enjoy the 26 pleasures of sin for a season; accounting the reproach of <sup>1</sup>Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt: for he looked 27 ed unto the recompense of reward. By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as 28 seeing him who is invisible. By faith he <sup>2</sup>kept the passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the 29 firstborn should not touch them. By faith they passed through the Red sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians 30 assaying to do were swallowed up. By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after they had been compassed about for 31 seven days. By faith Rahab the harlot perished not with them that were disobedient, having received the spies with 32 peace. And what shall I more say? for the time will fail me if I tell of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah; of David and 33 Samuel and the prophets: who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped 34 the mouths of lions, quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, from weakness were made strong, waxed mighty in war, turned to flight armies 35 of aliens. Women received their dead by a resurrection: and others were <sup>3</sup>tortured, not accepting <sup>4</sup>their deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection: and others had trial of mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds 37 and imprisonment: they were stoned, they were sawn asunder, they were tempted, they were slain with the sword. they went about in sheepskins, in goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, evil 38 treated (of whom the world was not worthy), wandering in deserts and mountains and caves, and the holes of 39 the earth. And these all, having had witness borne to them through their 40 faith, received not the promise, God having <sup>5</sup>provided some better thing concerning us, that apart from us they should not be made perfect.

12 Therefore let us also, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, lay aside <sup>6</sup>every weight, and the sin which <sup>7</sup>doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that 2 is set before us, looking unto Jesus the <sup>8</sup>author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising shame, and hath sat down at the right hand of the 3 throne of God. For consider him that hath endured such gain saying of sinners against <sup>9</sup>themselves, that ye wax not 4 weary, fainting in your souls. Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving 5 against sin: and ye have forgotten the exhortation, which reasoneth with you as with sons,

My son, regard not lightly the chastening of the Lord,
Nor faint when thou art reproved

of him;

6 For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth,
And scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 <sup>10</sup> It is for chastening that ye endure; God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is there whom his father 8 chasteneth not? But if ye are without chastening, whereof all have been made partakers, then are ye bastards, 9 and not sons. Furthermore, we had the fathers of our flesh to chasten us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of <sup>11</sup>spirits, and live?

10 For they verily for a few days chastened us as seemed good to them; but he for our profit, that we may be 11 partakers of his holiness. All chastening seemeth for the present to be not joyous, but grievous: yet afterward it yieldeth peaceable fruit unto them that have been exercised thereby, even the 12 fruit of righteousness. Wherefore <sup>12</sup>lift up the hands that hang down, and the 13 palsied knees; and make straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame be not <sup>13</sup>turned out of the way, but rather be healed.

14 Follow after peace with all men, and the sanctification without which no 15 man shall see the Lord: looking carefully <sup>14</sup>lest there be any man that <sup>15</sup>fall eth short of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby the many be defiled; 16 <sup>14</sup>lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one mess 17 of meat sold his own birthright. For ye know that even when he afterward desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected (for he found no place of repentance), though he sought it diligently with tears.

18 For ye are not come unto <sup>16</sup>a mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, and unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest, and the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard intreated that no word more should be spoken unto them: 20 for they could not endure that which was enjoined, If even a beast touch the 21 mountain, it shall be stoned; and so fearful was the appearance, that Moses

22 said, I exceedingly fear and quake; but ye are come unto mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, <sup>17</sup>and to <sup>18</sup>innumerable hosts of angels, to the general assembly and church of the firstborn who are enrolled in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of 24 just men made perfect, and to Jesus the mediator of a new <sup>19</sup>covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaketh better <sup>20</sup>than that of Abel. For if they escaped not, when they refused him that warned them on earth, much more shall not we escape, who turn away from him <sup>4</sup>that warneth from heaven: whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more will I make to tremble not the earth only, but also the heaven. And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that have been made, that those things which are not shaken may remain. Wherefore, receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, let us have <sup>2</sup>grace, whereby we may offer service well-pleasing to God with <sup>3</sup>reverence and awe: for our God is a consuming fire. 13 Let love of the brethren continue. 2 Forget not to shew love unto strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares. Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; them that are evil entreated, as being yourselves also in the body. Let marriage be had in honour among all, and let the bed be undefiled: for fornicators and adulterers God will judge. 4 Be ye free from the love of money; content with such things as ye have: for himself hath said, I will in no wise fail thee, neither will I in any wise forsake thee. 6 So that with good courage we say, The Lord is my helper; I will not fear: What shall man do unto me? 7 Remember them that had the rule over you, which spake unto you the word of God; and considering the issue of their <sup>8</sup>life, imitate their faith. Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and to-day, yea and <sup>9</sup>for ever. Be not carried away by divers and strange teachings: for it is good that the heart be established by grace; not by meats, wherein they that <sup>7</sup>occupied themselves were not profited. We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle. For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the holy place <sup>8</sup>by the high priest as an offering for sin, are burned without the camp. Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people through his own blood, suffered with-12 out the gate. Let us therefore go forth unto him without the camp, bearing his reproach. For we have not here an abiding city, but we seek after the city which is to come.

15 Through him <sup>9</sup>then let us offer up a sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of lips which make confession to his name. But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased. Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit to them: for they watch in behalf of your souls, as they that shall give account; that they may do this with joy, and not with <sup>10</sup>grief: for this were unprofitable for you.
18 Pray for us: for we are persuaded that we have a good conscience, desiring to live honestly in all things.
19 And I exhort you the more exceedingly to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.
20 Now the God of peace, who brought again from the dead the great shepherd of the sheep <sup>11</sup>with the blood of the eternal covenant, even our Lord Jesus, make you perfect in every good <sup>12</sup>thing to do his will, working in <sup>13</sup>us that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be the glory <sup>14</sup>for ever and ever. Amen.
22 But I exhort you, brethren, bear with the word of exhortation: for I have written unto you in few words.
23 Know ye that our brother Timothy hath been set at liberty; with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you.
24 Salute all them that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Italy salute you.

<sup>4</sup> Or, that a doubleminded man, unstable in all his ways, shall receive anything of the Lord.

11 shall pass away. For the sun ariseth with the scorching wind, and withereth the grass; and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his goings.

12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he hath been approved, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord promised to 13 them that love him. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted <sup>1</sup> of God: for God <sup>2</sup> cannot be tempted with <sup>3</sup> evil, and he himself tempteth no man: 14 but each man is <sup>4</sup> tempted, when he is drawn away by his own lust, and enticed. Then the lust, when it hath conceived, beareth sin: and the sin, when it is fullgrown, bringeth forth 16 death. Be not deceived, my beloved 17 brethren. Every good <sup>5</sup> gift and every perfect boon is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom can be no variation, neither 18 shadow that is cast by turning. Of his own will he brought us forth by the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures.

19 <sup>6</sup>Ye know this, my beloved brethren. But let every man be swift to hear, 20 slow to speak, slow to wrath: for the wrath of man worketh not the right- 21 consensus of God. Wherefore putting away all filthiness and overflowing of <sup>7</sup> wickedness, receive with meekness the <sup>8</sup> implanted word, which is able to save 22 your souls. But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deluding your own 23 selves. For if any one is a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding <sup>9</sup> his natural face in a 24 mirror: for he beholdeth himself, and goeth away, and straightway forgetteth 25 what manner of man he was. But he that looketh into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and so continueth, being not a hearer that forgetteth, but a doer that worketh, this man shall be blessed 26 in his doing. If any man <sup>10</sup> thinketh himself to be religious, while he bridleth not his tongue but deceiveth his heart, 27 this man's religion is vain. Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

2 My brethren, <sup>11</sup>hold not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of 2 glory, with respect of persons. For if there come into your <sup>12</sup>synagogue a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, and there come in also a poor man 3 in vile clothing; and ye have regard to him that weareth the fine clothing, and say, Sit thou here in a good place; and ye say to the poor man, Stand thou there, or sit under my 4 footstool; <sup>13</sup>are ye not divided <sup>14</sup>in your own mind, and become judges

5 with evil thoughts? Hearken, my beloved brethren; did not God choose them that are poor as to the world to be rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he promised to them that 6 love him? But ye have dishonoured the poor man. Do not the rich oppress you, and themselves drag you before 7 the judgement-seats? Do not they blaspheme the honourable name <sup>15</sup>by the 8 which ye are called? Howbeit if ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well; but if ye have respect of persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, 11 he is become guilty of all. For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou dost not commit adultery, but killest, thou art become a transgressor of the law. So speak ye, and so do, as men that are to 13 be judged by a law of liberty. For judgement is without mercy to him that hath shewed no mercy: mercy glorieth against judgement.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith, but have not 15 works? can that faith save him? If a brother or sister be naked, and in lack of 16 daily food, and one of you say unto them, Go in peace, be ye warmed and filled; and yet ye give them not the things needful to the body; what doth it profit? 17 Even so faith, if it have not works, is 18 dead in itself. <sup>16</sup>Yea, a man will say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith apart from thy works, and I by my works will shew thee my faith. 19 Thou believest that <sup>17</sup>God is one; thou doest well: the <sup>18</sup>devils also believe, and 20 shudder. But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith apart from works is 21 barren? Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up 22 Isaac his son upon the altar? <sup>19</sup>Thou seest that faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect; and the scripture was fulfilled which saith, And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness; and he was called the 24 friend of God. Ye see that by works a man is justified, and not only by faith. 25 And in like manner was not also Rahab the harlot justified by works, in that she received the messengers, and 26 sent them out another way? For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

3 Be not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive <sup>20</sup>heavier judgement. For in many things we all stumble. If any stumbleth not in word, the same is a perfect man, able to bridle the

 4 whole body also. Behold, the ships also, though they are so great, and are driven by rough winds, are yet turned about by a very small rudder, whither the im-
 5 pulse of the steersman willet. So the tongue also is a little member, and boast-
 6 eth great things. Behold, <sup>1</sup>how much wood is kindled by how small a fire! And the tongue is <sup>2</sup>a fire: <sup>3</sup>the world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, which defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the wheel of <sup>4</sup>nature, <sup>7</sup>and is set on fire by hell. For every <sup>6</sup>kind of beasts and birds, of creeping things and things in the sea, is tamed, and <sup>8</sup>hath been tamed <sup>6</sup>by <sup>7</sup>mankind: but the tongue can no man tame; it is a restless evil, it is full of deadly poison.
 9 Therewith bless we the Lord and Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the likeness of 10 God: out of the same mouth cometh forth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.
 11 Doth the fountain send forth from the same opening sweet water and bitter?
 12 can a fig tree, my brethren, yield olives, or a vine figs? neither can salt water yield sweet.
 13 Who is wise and understanding among you? let him shew by his good life his 14 works in meekness of wisdom. But if ye have bitter jealousy and faction in your heart, glory not and lie not against 15 the truth. This wisdom is not a wisdom that cometh down from above, but is 16 earthly, <sup>8</sup>sensual, <sup>9</sup>devilish. For where jealousy and faction are, there is confu-
 17 sion and every vile deed. But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easy to be in- treated, full of mercy and good fruits, without <sup>10</sup>variance, without hypocrisy.
 18 And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace <sup>11</sup>for them that make peace.
 4 Whence come wars and whence come fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your pleasures that war
 2 in your members? Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and <sup>12</sup>covet, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war; ye have not, be-
 3 cause ye ask not. Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may 4 spend it in your pleasures. Ye adulter-esses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Who- soever therefore would be a friend of the world maketh himself an enemy
 5 of God. Or think ye that the scripture <sup>13</sup> speaketh in vain? <sup>14</sup>Doth the spirit which <sup>15</sup>he made to dwell in us long unto

 9 Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning,
 10 and your joy to heaviness. Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall exalt you.
 11 Speak not one against another, brethren. He that speaketh against a brother, or judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judgest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.
 12 One only is the lawgiver and judge, even he who is able to save and to destroy: but who art thou that judgest thy neighbour?
 13 Go to now, ye that say, To-day or to-morrow we will go into this city, and spend a year there, and trade, and get <sup>14</sup>gain: whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. What is your life? For ye are a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.
 15 <sup>17</sup>For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall both live, and do this or 16 that. But now ye glory in your vaunt- 17 ings: all such glorying is evil. To him therefore that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.
 5 Go to now, ye rich, weep and howl for your miseries that are coming upon
 2 you. Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten. Your gold and your silver are rusted; and their rust shall be for a testimony <sup>13</sup> against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. Ye have laid up your treasure in 4 the last days. Behold, the hire of the labourers who mowed your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth out: and the cries of them that reaped have entered into the ears of the Lord of Sa-
 5 baoth. Ye have lived delicately on the earth, and taken your pleasure; ye have nourished your hearts in a day of 6 slaughter. Ye have condemned, ye have killed the righteous one; he doth not resist you.
 7 Be patient therefore, brethren, until the <sup>19</sup>coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it, until <sup>20</sup>it receive the early and latter 8 rain. Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the <sup>19</sup>coming of the Lord is 9 at hand. Murmur not, brethren, one against another, that ye be not judged: behold, the judge standeth before the 10 doors. Take, brethren, for an example of suffering and of patience, the prophets 11 who spake in the name of the Lord. Behold, we call them blessed which en- dured: ye have heard of the <sup>21</sup>patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord, how that the Lord is full of pity, and merciful.

Is any among you sick? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, <sup>2</sup>anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord: and the prayer of faith shall save him that is sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, it shall be forgiven him. Confess therefore your sins one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The supplication of a righteous man availeth much in its working. Elijah was a man of like <sup>3</sup>passions with us, and he prayed <sup>4</sup> fervently that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth for three years and six months. And he prayed again; and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

1 PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the elect who are sojourners of the Dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, in sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace be multiplied.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to his great mercy begat us again unto a living hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, unto an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who by the power of God are guarded through faith unto a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, ye have been put to grief in manifold <sup>1</sup>temptations, that the proof of your faith, being more precious than gold that perisheth though it is proved by fire, might be found unto praise and glory and honour at the revelation of Jesus Christ: whom not having seen ye love; on whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice greatly with joy unspeakable and <sup>2</sup>full of glory: receiving the end of your faith, <sup>3</sup>even the salvation of your souls. Concerning which salvation the prophets sought and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should <sup>4</sup>come unto you: searching what time or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did point unto, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glories that should follow them. To whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto you, did they minister these things, which now have been announced unto you through them that preached the gospel unto you <sup>4</sup>by the <sup>5</sup>Holy Ghost sent forth from heaven; which things angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore girding up the loins of your mind, be sober and set your hope perfectly on the grace that <sup>6</sup>is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ; as children of obedience, not fashioning yourselves according to your former lusts in the time of your ignorance: but <sup>7</sup>like as he which called you is holy, be ye yourselves also holy in all manner of living; because it is written, Ye shall be holy; for I am holy. And if ye call on him as Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to each man's work, pass the time of your sojourning in fear: knowing that ye were redeemed, not with corruptible things, with silver or gold, from your vain manner of life handed down from your fathers; but with precious blood, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot, <sup>8</sup>even the blood of Christ: who was foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but was manifested at the end of the times for your sake, who through him are believers in God, which raised him from the dead, and gave him glory; so that your faith and hope might be in God. Seeing ye have purified your souls in your obedience to the truth unto unfeigned love of the brethren, love one another from the heart fervently: having been begotten again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of <sup>9</sup>God, which liveth and abideth.

<sup>7</sup> Or, like the Holy One which called you

<sup>9</sup> Or, God who liveth

24 For,
All flesh is as grass,
And all the glory thereof as the flower of grass.
The grass withereth, and the flower
falleth:

25 But the <sup>1</sup>word of the Lord abideth for ever.

And this is the <sup>1</sup>word of good tidings which was preached unto you.

2 Putting away therefore all <sup>2</sup>wickedness, and all guile, and hypocrisies, 2 and envies, and all evil speakings, as newborn babes, long for the <sup>3</sup>spiritual milk which is without guile, that ye 3 may grow thereby unto salvation; if ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious:
4 unto whom coming, a living stone, rejected indeed of men, but with God 5 elect, <sup>4</sup>precious, ye also, as living stones, are built up <sup>5</sup>a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God through 6 Jesus Christ. Because it is contained in <sup>6</sup>scripture,

Behold, I lay in Zion a chief corner stone, elect, <sup>4</sup>precious:

And he that believeth on <sup>7</sup>him shall not be put to shame.

7 <sup>8</sup>For you therefore which believe is the <sup>9</sup>preciousness: but for such as disbelieve,

The stone which the builders rejected,
The same was made the head of the corner;

8 and,

A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence;

10 for they <sup>11</sup>stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were 9 appointed. But ye are an elect race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for God's own possession, that ye may shew forth the excellencies of him who called you out of darkness into his 10 marvellous light: which in time past were no people, but now are the people of God: which had not obtained mercy,
but now have obtained mercy.

11 Beloved, I beseech you as sojourners and pilgrims, to abstain from fleshly 12 lusts, which war against the soul; having your behaviour seemly among the Gentiles; that, wherein they speak against you as evil-doers, they may by your good works, which they behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

13 Be subject to every <sup>12</sup>ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the 14 king, as supreme; or unto governors, as sent <sup>13</sup>by him for vengeance on evil-doers and for praise to them that do 15 well. For so is the will of God, that by well-doing ye should put to silence the 16 ignorance of foolish men: as free, and not <sup>14</sup>using your freedom for a cloke of <sup>2</sup>wickedness, but as bondservants of 17 God. Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.

18 <sup>15</sup>Servants, be in subjection to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the fro-ward. For this is <sup>16</sup>acceptable, if for conscience <sup>17</sup>toward God a man endureth

20 eth griefs, suffering wrongfully. For what glory is it, if, when ye sin, and are buffeted for it, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye shall take it patiently, this is <sup>16</sup>acceptable with God.

21 For hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, that ye should follow his <sup>22</sup>steps: who did no sin, neither was

<sup>23</sup>guile found in his mouth: who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, threatened not; but committed <sup>18</sup>himself to him that judgeth

24 righteously: who his own self <sup>19</sup>bare our sins in his body upon the tree, that we, having died unto sins, might live unto righteousness; by whose 25 <sup>20</sup>stripes ye were healed. For ye were going astray like sheep; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and <sup>21</sup>Bishop of your souls.

3 In like manner, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, even if any obey not the word, they may without the word be gained by

2 the <sup>22</sup>behaviour of their wives; beholding your chaste <sup>23</sup>behaviour coupled

3 with fear. Whose adorning let it not be the outward adorning of plaiting
the hair, and of wearing jewels of gold,

4 or of putting on apparel; but let it be the hidden man of the heart, in the incorruptible apparel of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of 5 great price. For after this manner aforetime the holy women also, who hoped in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own <sup>23</sup>hus-

6 bands: as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose children ye now are, if ye do well, and are not <sup>24</sup>put in fear by any terror.

7 Ye husbands, in like manner, dwell with your wives according to knowledge, giving honour <sup>25</sup>unto the woman, as unto the weaker vessel, as being also joint-heirs of the grace of life; to the end that your prayers be not hindered.

8 Finally, be ye all likeminded, <sup>26</sup>compassionate, loving as brethren, tender-9 hearted, humbleminded: not rendering evil for evil, or reviling for reviling; but contrariwise blessing; for hereunto were ye called, that ye should inherit a 10 blessing. For,

He that would love life,
And see good days,

Let him refrain his tongue from evil,

And his lips that they speak no guile:

and do good;

12 For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous,
And his ears unto their supplication:

But the face of the Lord is upon them that do evil.

13 And who is he that will harm you, if ye be zealous of that which is good?

14 But and if ye should suffer for righteousness' sake, blessed are ye: and fear not their fear, neither be troubled;

15 but sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord: being ready always to give answer to every man that asketh you a reason concerning the hope that is in

16 you, yet with meekness and fear: having a good conscience; that, wherein ye are spoken against, they may be put to shame who revile your good manner of

17 life in Christ. For it is better, if the will of God should so will, that ye suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing.

18 Because Christ also <sup>1</sup>suffered for sins once, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God; being put to death in the flesh, but quickened

19 in the spirit; in which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison,

20 which aforetime were disobedient, when the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, <sup>2</sup>wherein few, that is, eight

21 souls, were saved through water: which also <sup>3</sup>after a true likeness doth now save you, even baptism, not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the <sup>4</sup>interrogation of a good conscience toward God, through the resurrection

22 of Jesus Christ; who is on the right hand of God, having gone into heaven; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

4 Forasmuch then as Christ suffered in the flesh, arm ye yourselves also with the same <sup>5</sup>mind; for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased <sup>6</sup>from sin;

2 that <sup>7</sup>ye no longer should live the rest of your time in the flesh to the lusts of

3 men, but to the will of God. For the time past may suffice to have wrought the desire of the Gentiles, and to have walked in lasciviousness, lusts, wine-bibbings, revellings, carousings, and

4 abominable idolatries: wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them into the same <sup>8</sup>excess of riot,

5 speaking evil of you: who shall give account to him that is ready to judge

6 the quick and the dead. For unto this end <sup>9</sup>was the gospel preached even to the dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore of sound mind, and be

8 sober unto <sup>10</sup>prayer: above all things being fervent in your love among yourselves; for love covereth a multitude of

9 sins: using hospitality one to another

10 without murmuring: according as each hath received a gift, ministering it among yourselves, as good stewards

11 of the manifold grace of God; if any man speaketh, speaking as it were oracles of God; if any man ministereth, ministering as of the strength which God supplieth: that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, whose is the glory and the dominion <sup>11</sup>for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial among you, which cometh upon you to prove you, as though a strange thing happened unto

13 you: but inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice; that at the revelation of his glory also ye may 14 rejoice with exceeding joy. If ye are reproached <sup>12</sup>for the name of Christ, blessed are ye; because the Spirit of glory and the Spirit of God resteth upon

15 you. For let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil-doer, or as a meddler in other men's matters:

16 but if a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify

17 God in this name. For the time is come for judgement to begin at the house of God: and if it begin first at us, what

18 shall be the end of them that obey not the gospel of God? And if the righteous is scarcely saved, where shall the 19 ungodly and sinner appear? Wherefore let them also that suffer according to the will of God commit their souls in well-doing unto a faithful Creator.

5 The elders therefore among you I exhort, who am a fellow-elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, who am also a partaker of the glory that shall be

2 revealed: Tend the flock of God which is among you, <sup>13</sup>exercising the oversight, not of constraint, but willingly,

<sup>14</sup>according unto God; nor yet for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; neither as lording it over the charge allotted to you, but making yourselves ensamples

4 to the flock. And when the chief Shepherd shall be manifested, ye shall receive the crown of glory that fadeth not

5 away. <sup>15</sup>Likewise, ye younger, be subject unto the elder. Yea, all of you guard yourselves with humility, to serve one another: for God resisteth the proud,

6 but giveth grace to the humble. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may

7 exalt you in due time; casting all your anxiety upon him, because

8 he careth for you. Be sober, be watchful: your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking

9 whom he may devour: whom withstand stedfast in <sup>16</sup>your faith, knowing that the same sufferings are <sup>17</sup>accomplished in your <sup>18</sup>brethren who

1 <sup>1</sup> SIMON Peter, a <sup>2</sup> servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained <sup>3</sup> a like precious faith with us in the righteousness of <sup>4</sup> our God and <sup>2</sup> Saviour Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace be multiplied in the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord; <sup>3</sup> seeing that his divine power hath granted unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that called us <sup>5</sup> by his own <sup>4</sup> glory and virtue; whereby he hath granted unto us his precious and exceeding great promises; that through these ye may become partakers of <sup>6</sup> the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world by lust.
 5 Yea, and for this very cause adding on your part all diligence, in your faith your virtue; and in your virtue <sup>6</sup> knowledge; and in your knowledge <sup>7</sup> temperance; and in your temperance patience; and in your patience godliness; and in your godliness love of the brethren; and in your love of the brethren love. For if these things are yours and abound, they make you to be not idle nor unfruitful unto the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.
 9 For he that lacketh these things is blind, <sup>8</sup> seeing only what is near, having forgotten the cleansing from his <sup>10</sup> old sins. Wherefore, brethren, give the more diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never stumble:
 11 for thus shall be richly supplied unto you the entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.
 12 Wherefore I shall be ready always to put you in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and are established in the truth which is with <sup>13</sup> you. And I think it right, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance;
 14 knowing that the putting off of my tabernacle cometh swiftly, even as our Lord Jesus Christ signified unto me.

16 For we did not follow cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and <sup>10</sup> coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. For he <sup>11</sup> received from God the Father honour and glory, when there <sup>12</sup> came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am <sup>13</sup> well pleased: and this voice we ourselves heard <sup>13</sup> come out of heaven, when we were with him in the holy <sup>19</sup> mount. And we have the word of prophecy made more sure; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a lamp shining in a <sup>14</sup> dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise <sup>20</sup> in your hearts: knowing this first, that no prophecy of scripture is of <sup>21</sup> private interpretation. For no prophecy ever <sup>16</sup> came by the will of man: but men spake from God, being moved by the <sup>17</sup> Holy Ghost.

2 But there arose false prophets also among the people, as among you also there shall be false teachers, who shall privily bring in <sup>18</sup> destructive heresies, denying even the Master that bought them, bringing upon themselves swift <sup>2</sup> destruction. And many shall follow their lascivious doings; by reason of whom the way of the truth shall <sup>3</sup> be evil spoken of. And in covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose sentence now from of old lingereth not, and their destruction slumbereth not.
 4 For if God spared not angels when they sinned, but <sup>19</sup> cast them down to <sup>20</sup> hell, and committed them to <sup>21</sup> pits of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment; and spared not the ancient world, but preserved Noah with seven others, <sup>22</sup> a preacher of righteousness, when he brought a flood upon the <sup>6</sup> world of the ungodly; and turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, having made them an example unto those that should live ungodly;

among them, in seeing and hearing, <sup>1</sup>vexed his righteous soul from day to 9 day with their lawless deeds): the Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment unto the day of judgement; but chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement, and despise dominion. Daring, selfwilled, they tremble not to rail at <sup>11</sup><sup>2</sup>dignities: whereas angels, though greater in might and power, bring not a railing judgement against them before <sup>12</sup>the Lord. But these, as creatures without reason, born <sup>3</sup>mere animals <sup>4</sup>to be taken and destroyed, railing in matters whereof they are ignorant, shall in their <sup>5</sup>destroying surely be destroyed, <sup>13</sup>suffering wrong as the hire of wrongdoing; men that count it pleasure to revel in the day-time, spots and blemishes, revelling in their <sup>6</sup>love-feasts <sup>14</sup>while they feast with you; having eyes full of <sup>7</sup>adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; enticing unstedfast souls; having a heart exercised in covetousness; children of cursing; forsaking the right way, they went astray, having followed the way of Balaam the son of <sup>8</sup>Beor, who loved the hire of wrongdoing; but he was rebuked for his own transgression: a dumb ass spake with man's voice and stayed the madness of <sup>17</sup>the prophet. These are springs without water, and mists driven by a storm; for whom the blackness of darkness hath <sup>18</sup>been reserved. For, uttering great swelling words of vanity, they entice in the lusts of the flesh, by lasciviousness, those who are just escaping from them <sup>19</sup>that live in error; promising them liberty, while they themselves are bondservants of corruption; for of <sup>9</sup>whom a man is overcome, of the same is he also <sup>20</sup>brought into bondage. For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of <sup>10</sup>the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, the last state is become worse with <sup>21</sup>them than the first. For it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from the holy commandment delivered unto <sup>22</sup>them. It has happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog turning to his own vomit again, and the sow that had washed to wallowing in the mire.

<sup>3</sup> This is now, beloved, the second epistle that I write unto you; and in both of them I stir up your sincere mind by putting you in remembrance; <sup>2</sup>that ye should remember the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and the commandment of the Lord and Saviour through your <sup>3</sup>apostles; knowing this first, that <sup>11</sup>in the last days mockers shall come with mockery, walking after their own lusts, <sup>4</sup>and saying, Where is the promise of his <sup>12</sup>coming? for, from the day that the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning <sup>5</sup>of the creation. For this they wilfully forget, that there were heavens from of old, and an earth compacted out of water and <sup>13</sup>amidst water, by the word <sup>6</sup>of God; by which means the world that then was, being overflowed with <sup>7</sup>water, perished: but the heavens that now are, and the earth, by the same word have been <sup>14</sup>stored up for fire, being reserved against the day of judgement and destruction of ungodly men.

<sup>8</sup> But forget not this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as <sup>9</sup>one day. The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some count slackness; but is longsuffering to you-ward, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should come to re- <sup>10</sup>pentance. But the day of the Lord will come as a thief; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the <sup>15</sup>elements shall be dissolved with fervent heat, and the earth and the works that are therein shall be <sup>11</sup><sup>16</sup>burned up. Seeing that these things are thus all to be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy <sup>12</sup>living and godliness, looking for and <sup>17</sup>earnestly desiring the <sup>12</sup>coming of the day of God, by reason of which the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the <sup>15</sup>elements shall melt with fervent <sup>13</sup>heat? But, according to his promise, we look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

<sup>14</sup> Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for these things, give diligence that ye may be found in peace, without spot and <sup>15</sup>blameless in his sight. And account that the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given to <sup>16</sup>him, wrote unto you; as also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; wherein are some things hard to be understood, which the ignorant and unstedfast wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own <sup>17</sup>destruction. Ye therefore, beloved, knowing these things beforehand, beware lest, being carried away with the error of the wicked, ye fall from your <sup>18</sup>own steadfastness. But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and <sup>18</sup>for ever. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF JOHN.

1 THAT which was from the beginning, that which we have heard, that which we have seen with our eyes, that which we beheld, and our hands handled, concerning the <sup>1</sup> Word of life (and the life was manifested, and we have seen, and bear witness, and declare unto you the life, the eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto 3 us); that which we have seen and heard declare we unto you also, that ye also may have fellowship with us: yea, and our fellowship is with the Father, and 4 with his Son Jesus Christ: and these things we write, that <sup>2</sup> our joy may be fulfilled.

5 And this is the message which we have heard from him, and announce unto you, that God is light, and in him is no 6 darkness at all. If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in the darkness, we lie, and do not the truth: 7 but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus his Son 8 cleanseth us from all sin. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

2 My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye may not sin. And if any man sin, we have an <sup>3</sup> Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: and he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but 3 also for the whole world. And hereby know we that we know him, if we keep 4 his commandments. He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is 5 not in him: but whoso keepeth his word, in him verily hath the love of God been perfected. Hereby know we that we 6 are in him: he that saith he abideth in him ought himself also to walk even as he walked.

7 Beloved, no new commandment write I unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning: the old commandment is the word 8 which ye heard. Again, a new commandment write I unto you, which thing is true in him and in you; because the darkness is passing away, and the true 9 light already shineth. He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in the darkness even until now.

10 He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion 11 of stumbling in him. But he that hateth his brother is in the darkness, and walketh in the darkness, and knoweth not whether he goeth, because the darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write unto you, my little children, because your sins are forgiven you for 13 his name's sake. I write unto you, fathers, because ye know him which is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the evil one. <sup>4</sup> I have written unto you, little children, because ye know the 14 Father. <sup>4</sup> I have written unto you, fathers, because ye know him which is from the beginning. <sup>4</sup> I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the evil 15 one. Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the 16 Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the vaingloriousness of life, is not of the Father, but is of 17 the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18 Little children, it is the last hour: and as ye heard that antichrist cometh, even now have there arisen many antichrists; whereby we know that it 19 is the last hour. They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest <sup>5</sup> how 20 that they all are not of us. And ye have an anointing from the Holy One, 21 <sup>6</sup> and ye know all things. I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and 22 <sup>7</sup> because no lie is of the truth. Who is the liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, even he that denieth the Father 23 and the Son. Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: he that confesseth the Son hath the Father 24 also. As for you, let that abide in you which ye heard from the beginning. If that which ye heard from the beginning abide in you, ye also shall abide in the Son, and in the 25 Father. And this is the promise which he promised <sup>8</sup> us, even the life eternal.

<sup>8</sup> Some ancient authorities read you.

26 These things have I written unto you concerning them that would lead you
 27 astray. And as for you, the anointing which ye received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any one teach you; but as his anointing teacheth you concerning all things, <sup>1</sup> and is true, and is no lie, and even as it
 28 taught you, <sup>2</sup> ye abide in him. And now, my little children, abide in him; that, if he shall be manifested, we may have boldness, and not be ashamed <sup>3</sup> before him at his <sup>4</sup> coming. If ye know that he is righteous, <sup>5</sup> ye know that every one also that doeth righteousness is begotten of him.

3 Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called children of God: and such we are. For this cause the world knoweth us not, because it knew
 2 him not. Beloved, now are we children of God, and it is not yet made manifest what we shall be. We know that, if <sup>6</sup> he shall be manifested, we shall be like him; for we shall see him even as he is.

3 And every one that hath this hope <sup>set</sup> on him purifieth himself, even as he is <sup>4</sup> pure. Every one that doeth sin doeth also lawlessness: and sin is lawlessness. And ye know that he was manifested to <sup>7</sup> take away sins; and in him
 6 is no sin. Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not 7 seen him, neither <sup>8</sup> knoweth him. My little children, let no man lead you astray: he that doeth righteousness is 8 righteous, even as he is righteous: he that doeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. To this end was the Son of God manifested, that he might destroy the works of the 9 devil. Whosoever is begotten of God doeth no sin, because his seed abideth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is 10 begotten of God. In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth 11 not his brother. For this is the message which ye heard from the beginning, that 12 we should love one another: not as Cain was of the evil one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 Marvel not, brethren, if the world
 14 hateth you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth
 15 not abideth in death. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life
 16 abiding in him. Hereby know we love, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives 17 for the brethren. But whoso hath the world's goods, and beholdeth his brother in need, and shutteth up his compassion from him, how doth the 18 love of God abide in him? My little children, let us not love in word, neither with the tongue; but in deed and 19 truth. Hereby shall we know that we are of the truth, and shall <sup>9</sup> assure our 20 heart before him, whereinsoever our heart condemn us; because God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all 21 things. Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, we have boldness toward God;

 22 and whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do the things that are pleas-
 23 ing in his sight. And this is his commandment, that we should <sup>10</sup> believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, even as he gave us 24 commandment. And he that keepeth his commandments abideth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he gave us.

4 Beloved, believe not every spirit, but prove the spirits, whether they are of God: because many false prophets
 2 are gone out into the world. Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: every spirit which confesseth that Jesus Christ is
 3 come in the flesh is of God: and every spirit which <sup>11</sup> confesseth not Jesus is not of God: and this is the spirit of the antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it cometh; and now it is in the world
 4 already. Ye are of God, my little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you than he that 5 is in the world. They are of the world: therefore speak they as of the world, and the world heareth them. We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he who is not of God heareth us not. By this we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is begotten of God, and knoweth God.
 8 He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love. Herein was the love of God manifested <sup>12</sup> in us, that God hath sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.
 10 Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to 11 be the propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought 12 to love one another. No man hath beheld God at any time: if we love one another, God abideth in us, and his 13 love is perfected in us: hereby know we that we abide in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.
 14 And we have beheld and bear witness that the Father hath sent the Son to be 15 the Saviour of the world. Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abideth in him, and he in God.
 16 And we know and have believed the love which God hath <sup>12</sup> in us. God is

17 Herein is love made perfect with us, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement; because as he is, even so

18 are we in this world. There is no fear in love: but perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment; and he that feareth is not made perfect

19 in love. We love, because he first loved

20 us. If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, <sup>1</sup> cannot love God whom he hath 21 not seen. And this commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also.

5 Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is begotten of God: and whosoever loveth him that begat loveth him

2 also that is begotten of him. Hereby we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and do his

3 commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not griev-

4 ous. For whatsoever is begotten of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that hath overcome the world,

5 even our faith. And who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth

6 that Jesus is the Son of God? This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not <sup>2</sup> with the water only, but <sup>2</sup> with the water and <sup>2</sup> with the

7 blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is the 8 truth. For there are three who bear witness, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood: and the three agree in one.

9 If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for the witness of God is this, that he hath borne

10 witness concerning his Son. He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in him: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he hath not believed in the witness that God hath borne concerning his Son.

11 And the witness is this, that God gave unto us eternal life, and this life is 12 in his Son. He that hath the Son hath the life; he that hath not the Son of God hath not the life.

13 These things have I written unto you, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, even unto you that believe

14 on the name of the Son of God. And this is the boldness which we have toward him, that, if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us:

15 and if we know that he heareth us whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of 16 him. If any man see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, <sup>3</sup> he shall ask, and God will give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is <sup>4</sup> a sin unto death: not concerning this do I say that he should make 17 request. All unrighteousness is sin: and there is <sup>4</sup> a sin not unto death.

18 We know that whosoever is begotten of God sinneth not; but he that was begotten of God keepeth <sup>5</sup> him, and the

19 evil one toucheth him not. We know that we are of God, and the whole

20 world lieth in the evil one. And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This

21 is the true God, and eternal life. My little children, guard yourselves from idols.

1 THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, whom I love in truth; and not I only, but also all they that know the

2 truth; for the truth's sake which abideth in us, and it shall be with us for ever:

3 Grace, mercy, peace shall bewith us, from God the Father, and from Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

4 I rejoice greatly that I have found certain of thy children walking in truth, even as we received commandment

5 from the Father. And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote to thee a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning,

6 that we love one another. And this is love, that we should walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, even as ye heard from the beginning, that ye should walk in it.

7 For many deceivers are gone forth into the world, even they that confess not that Jesus Christ cometh in the flesh. This is the deceiver and the

8 antichrist. Look to yourselves, that ye <sup>1</sup> lose not the things which <sup>2</sup> we have wrought, but that ye receive a full reward. Whosoever <sup>3</sup> goeth onward and abideth not in the teaching of Christ, hath not God: he that abideth in the teaching, the same hath both the 9 Father and the Son. If any one cometh unto you, and bringeth not this teaching, receive him not into your house, and

<sup>3</sup> Or, taketh the lead

11 give him no greeting: for he that giveth him greeting partaketh in his evil works.
12 Having many things to write unto you, I would not write them with paper and ink: but I hope to come unto you, and to speak face to face, that your 13 joy may be fulfilled. The children of thine elect sister salute thee.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF ## JOHN.

1 THE elder unto Gaius the beloved, whom I love in truth.
2 Beloved, I pray that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health, even 3 as thy soul prospereth. For I <sup>1</sup>rejoiced greatly, when brethren came and bare witness unto thy truth, even as thou 4 walkest in truth. Greater <sup>2</sup>joy have I none than <sup>3</sup>this, to hear of my children walking in the truth.
5 Beloved, thou doest a faithful work in whatsoever thou doest toward them that are brethren and strangers withal; 6 who bare witness to thy love before the church: whom thou wilt do well to set forward on their journey worthily 7 of God: because that for the sake of the Name they went forth, taking no- 8 thing of the Gentiles. We therefore ought to welcome such, that we may be fellow-workers with the truth.
9 I wrote somewhat unto the church: but Diotrefes, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiv- 10 eth us not. Therefore, if I come, I will bring to remembrance his works which he doeth, prating against us with wicked words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and them that would he forbiddeh, and casteth them out of 11 the church. Beloved, imitate not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: he that 12 doeth evil hath not seen God. Demetrius hath the witness of all men, and of the truth itself: yea, we also bear witness; and thou knowest that our witness is true.

13 I had many things to write unto thee, but I am unwilling to write 14 them to thee with ink and pen: but I hope shortly to see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be unto thee. The friends salute thee. Salute the friends by name.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF ## JUDE.

1 JUDAS, a <sup>1</sup>servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, <sup>2</sup>to them that are called, beloved in God the Father, 2 and kept for Jesus Christ: Mercy unto you and peace and love be multiplied.
3 Beloved, while I was giving all diligence to write unto you of our common salvation, I was constrained to write unto you exhorting you to contend earnestly for the faith which was once 4 for all delivered unto the saints. For there are certain men crept in privily, even they who were of old set forth unto this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying <sup>5</sup>our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.
5 Now I desire to put you in remembrance, though ye know all things once for all, how that <sup>4</sup>the Lord, having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, <sup>5</sup>afterward destroyed them that believed not. And angels which kept not their own principality, but left their proper habitation, he hath kept in everlasting bonds under darkness unto 7 the judgement of the great day. Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them, having in like manner with these given themselves over to fornication, and gone after strange flesh, are set forth <sup>6</sup>as an example, suffering the punishment of eternal 8 fire. Yet in like manner these also in their dreamings defile the flesh, and set at nought dominion, and rail at 9 <sup>7</sup>dignities. But Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing judgement, but said, The Lord 10 rebuke thee. But these rail at whatsoever things they know not: and what they understand naturally, like the creatures without reason, in these things are they <sup>8</sup>destroyed.

11 Woe unto them! for they went in the way of Cain, and <sup>9</sup>ran riotously in the error of Balaam for hire, and perished in the gainsaying of Korah.

12 These are they who are <sup>1</sup>hidden rocks in your love-feasts when they feast with you, shepherds that without fear feed themselves; clouds without water, carried along by winds; autumn trees without fruit, twice dead, plucked up <sup>13</sup>by the roots; wild waves of the sea, foaming out their own <sup>2</sup>shame; wandering stars, for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved for ever. <sup>14</sup>And to these also Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, Behold, the Lord came with <sup>3</sup>ten thousands of <sup>15</sup>his holy ones, to execute judgement upon all, and to convict all the ungodly of all their works of ungodliness which they have ungodly wrought, and of all the hard things which ungodly sinners <sup>16</sup>have spoken against him. These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their lusts (and their mouth speaketh great swelling words), shewing respect of persons for the sake of advantage. <sup>17</sup>But ye, beloved, remember ye the words which have been spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus <sup>18</sup>Christ; how that they said to you, In the last time there shall be mockers, walking after <sup>4</sup>their own ungodly lusts. <sup>19</sup>These are they who make separations, <sup>20</sup>sensual, having not the Spirit. But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the <sup>21</sup>Holy Spirit, keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal <sup>22</sup>life. <sup>6</sup>And on some have mercy, <sup>7</sup>who <sup>23</sup>are in doubt; and some save, snatching them out of the fire; and on some have mercy with fear; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh. <sup>24</sup>Now unto him that is able to guard you from stumbling, and to set you before the presence of his glory without blemish in exceeding joy, <sup>25</sup>to the only God our Saviour, through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, majesty, dominion and power, before all time, and now, and <sup>8</sup>for evermore. Unto him that loveth us, and <sup>5</sup>loosed <sup>6</sup>us from our sins <sup>6</sup>by his blood; and he made us to be a kingdom, to be priests unto his God and Father; to him be the glory and the dominion <sup>7</sup>for ever and <sup>7</sup>ever. and <sup>4</sup>which is to come, the Almighty.

9 I John, your brother and partaker with you in the tribulation and kingdom and patience which are in Jesus, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God and the testimony of Jesus. <sup>10</sup>I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a great <sup>11</sup>voice, as of a trumpet saying, What thou seest, write in a book, and send <sup>12</sup>it to the seven churches; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamum, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, <sup>12</sup>and unto Laodicea. And I turned to see the voice which spake with me. And having turned I saw seven golden <sup>13</sup>10 candlesticks; and in the midst of the <sup>10</sup>candlesticks one like unto <sup>14</sup>a son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about at the breasts <sup>14</sup>with a golden girdle. And his head and his hair were white as white wool, white as snow; and his eyes were <sup>15</sup>as a flame of fire; and his feet like unto burnished brass, as if it had been refined in a furnace; and his voice <sup>16</sup>as the voice of many waters. And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth proceeded a sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in <sup>17</sup>his strength. And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as one dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying, Fear not; I am the first and the last, 18 and the Living one; and I <sup>1</sup> was dead, and behold, I am alive <sup>2</sup> for evermore, and I have the keys of death and of 19 Hades. Write therefore the things which thou sawest, and the things which shall 20 come to pass hereafter; the mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest <sup>3</sup> in my right hand, and the seven golden <sup>4</sup> candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven <sup>4</sup> candlesticks are seven churches. 2 To the angel of the church in Ephesus write;

These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, he that walketh in the midst of the seven golden <sup>2</sup> candlesticks: I know thy works, and thy toil and patience, and that thou canst not bear evil men, and didst try them which call themselves apostles, and they are not, and didst find them <sup>3</sup> false; and thou hast patience and didst bear for my name's sake, and hast not <sup>4</sup> grown weary. But I have this against thee, that thou didst leave thy first <sup>5</sup> love. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I come to thee, and will move thy <sup>2</sup> candlestick out of <sup>6</sup> its place, except thou repent. But this thou hast, that thou hatest the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. 7 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. To him that overcometh, to him will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the <sup>6</sup> Paradise of God.

8 And to the angel of the church in Smyrna write;

These things saith the first and the last, which <sup>1</sup> was dead, and lived again: 9 I know thy tribulation, and thy poverty (but thou art rich), and the <sup>7</sup> blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but are a synagogue of 10 Satan. Fear not the things which thou art about to suffer: behold, the devil is about to cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; <sup>8</sup> and ye shall have <sup>9</sup> tribulation ten days. Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee 11 the crown of life. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamum write;

These things saith he that hath the 13 sharp two-edged sword: I know where thou dwellest, even where Satan's throne is: and thou holdest fast my name, and didst not deny my faith, even in the days <sup>10</sup> of Antipas my witness, my faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there some that hold the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols, and to commit fornication. Is do, hast thou also some that hold the teaching of the Nicolaitans in 16 like manner. Repent therefore; or else I come to thee quickly, and I will make war against them with the sword of my 17 month. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. To him that overcometh, to him will I give of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, and upon the stone a new name written, which no one knoweth but he that receiveth it. 18 And to the angel of the church in Thyatira write;

These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like a flame of fire, and his feet are like unto burnished 19 brass: I know thy works, and thy love and faith and ministry and patience, and that thy last works are more than 20 the first. But I have this against thee, that thou sufferest <sup>11</sup> the woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess; and she teacheth and seduceth my servants to commit fornication, and to eat 21 things sacrificed to idols. And I gave her time that she should repent; and she willesh not to repent of her fornication. Behold, I do cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they 23 repent of <sup>12</sup> her works. And I will kill her children with <sup>13</sup> death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto each one of you 24 according to your works. But to you I say, to the rest that are in Thyatira, as many as have not this teaching, which know not the deep things of Satan, as they say; I cast upon you 25 none other burden. Howbeit that which 26 ye have, hold fast till I come. And he that overcometh, and he that keepeth my works unto the end, to him will 27 I give authority over the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of <sup>14</sup> iron, as the vessels of the potter are broken to shivers; as I also have received of my 28 Father: and I will give him the morning 29 star. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. 3 And to the angel of the church in Sardis write;

These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars: I know thy works, that thou hast a name 2 that thou livest, and thou art dead. Be thou watchful, and stablish the things that remain, which were ready to die: for I have <sup>15</sup> found no works of thine 3 fulfilled before my God. didst hear; and keep it, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know 4 what hour I will come upon thee. But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did not defile their garments: and they shall walk with me in white; for they 5 are worthy. He that overcometh shall thus be arrayed in white garments; and I will in no wise blot his name out of the book of life, and I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. 6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. 7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write;

These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and none shall shut, and that shutteth, and none 8 openeth: I know thy works (behold, I have <sup>1</sup> set before thee a door opened, which none can shut), that thou hast a little power, and didst keep my word, 9 and didst not deny my name. Behold, I give of the synagogue of Satan, of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved 10 thee. Because thou didst keep the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of <sup>2</sup> trial, that hour which is to come upon the whole <sup>3</sup> world, to <sup>4</sup> try them that dwell upon the earth. 11 I come quickly: hold fast that which thou hast, that no one take thy crown. 12 He that overcometh, I will make him a pillar in the <sup>5</sup> temple of my God, and he shall go out thence no more; and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God, and 13 mine own new name. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. 14 And to the angel of the church in Laodicea write;

These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning 15 of the creation of God: I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor 16 hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. So because thou art lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spew thee out of my 17 mouth. Because thou sayest, I am rich, and have gotten riches, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art the wretched one and miserable and 18 poor and blind and naked: I counsel thee to buy of me gold refined by fire, that thou mayest become rich; and white garments, that thou mayest clothe thyself, and that the shame of thy nakedness be not made manifest; and eyesalve to anoint thine eyes, that 19 thou mayest see. As many as I love, I reprove and chasten: be zealous 20 therefore, and repent. Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and 21 he with me. He that overcometh, I will give to him to sit down with me in my throne, as I also overcame, and sat down with my Father in his throne.

22 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

4 After these things I saw, and behold, a door opened in heaven, and the first voice which I heard, a voice as of a trumpet speaking with me, one saying, Come up hither, and I will shew thee the things which must <sup>6</sup> come to pass 2 hereafter. Straightway I was in the Spirit: and behold, there was a throne set in heaven, and one sitting upon the 3 throne; and he that sat was to look upon like a jasper stone and a sardius: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, like an emerald to look upon.

4 And round about the throne were four and twenty thrones: and upon the thrones I saw four and twenty elders sitting, arrayed in white garments; and on their heads crowns of gold.

5 And out of the throne proceed lightnings and voices and thunders. And there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven

6 Spirits of God; and before the throne, as it were a glassy sea like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, four living creatures

7 full of eyes before and behind. And the first creature was like a lion, and the second creature like a calf, and the third creature had a face as of a man, and the fourth creature was like a flying

8 eagle. And the four living creatures, having each one of them six wings, are full of eyes round about and within: and they have no rest day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord God, the Almighty, which was and which is and

9 <sup>7</sup> which is to come. And when the living creatures shall give glory and honour and thanks to him that sitteth on the throne, to him that liveth <sup>8</sup> for ever and

10 ever, the four and twenty elders shall fall down before him that sitteth on the throne, and shall worship him that liveth <sup>9</sup> for ever and ever, and shall cast their

11 crowns before the throne, saying, Worthy art thou, our Lord and our God, to receive the glory and the honour and the power: for thou didst create all things, and because of thy will they were, and were created.

5 And I saw <sup>9</sup> in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the back, 2 close sealed with seven seals. And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a great voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the 3 seals thereof? And no one in the heaven, or on the earth, or under the earth, was able to open the book, or to look thereon. And I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open the book, or to look thereon: and one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion that is of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, hath overcome, to open the book and the seven seals thereof. And I saw in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God, sent forth into the earth. And he came, and he taketh it out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne. And when he had taken the book, the four living creatures and the four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having each one a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. And they sing a new song, saying, Worthy art thou to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and didst purchase unto God with thy blood men of every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation, and madest them to be unto our God a kingdom and priests; and they reign upon the earth. And I saw, and I heard a voice of many angels round about the throne and the living creatures and the elders; and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands; saying with a great voice, Worthy is the Lamb that hath been slain to receive the power, and riches, and wisdom, and might, and honour, and glory, and blessing. And every created thing which is in the heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and on the sea, and all things that are in them, heard I saying, Unto him that sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb, be the blessing, and the honour, and the glory, and the dominion, for ever and ever.

And the four living creatures said, Amen. And the elders fell down and worshipped.

And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying as with a voice of thunder, Come. And I saw, and behold, a white horse, and he that sat thereon had a bow; and there was given unto him a crown: and he came forth conquering, and to conquer.

And when he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying, Come. And another horse came forth, a red horse: and to him that sat thereon it was given to take peace from the earth, and that they should slay one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

And when he opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature saying, Come. And I saw, and behold, a black horse; and he that sat thereon had a balance in his hand. And I heard as it were a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and the oil and the wine hurt thou not.

And when he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature saying, Come. And I saw, and behold, a pale horse: and he that sat upon him, his name was Death; and Hades followed with him. And there was given unto them authority over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with famine, and with death, and by the wild beasts of the earth.

And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of them that had been slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held: and they cried with a great voice, saying, How long, O Master, the holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth? And there was given them to each one a white robe; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little time, until their fellow-servants also and their brethren, which should be killed even as they were, should be fulfilled.

And I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the whole moon became as blood; and the stars of the heaven fell unto the earth, as a fig tree casteth her unripe figs, when she is shaken of a great wind. And the heaven was removed as a scroll when it is rolled up; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places. And the kings of the earth, and the princes, and the chief captains, and the rich, and the strong, and every bondman and freeman, hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains; and they say to the mountains and to the rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb: for the great day of their wrath is come; and who is able to stand?

After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that no wind should blow on the earth, or on the sea, or upon any tree. And I saw another angel ascend from the sunrising, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a great voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we shall have sealed the servants of our God on their foreheads. And I heard the num-

Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After these things I saw, and behold, a great multitude, which no man could number, out of every nation, and of all tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, arrayed in white robes, and palms in their hands; and they cry with a great voice, saying, Salvation unto our God which sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb. And all the angels were standing round about the throne, and about the elders and the four living creatures; and they fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 saying, Amen: <sup>1</sup> Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God <sup>2</sup> for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, These which are arrayed in the white robes, who are they, and 14 whence came they? And I <sup>3</sup> say unto him, My lord, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which come out of the great tribulation, and they washed their robes, and made them 15 white in the blood of the Lamb. Therefore are they before the throne of God; and they serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall spread his tabernacle over 16 them. They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the 17 sun strike upon them, nor any heat: for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall be their shepherd, and shall guide them unto fountains of waters of life: and God shall wipe away every tear from their eyes.

8 And when he opened the seventh seal, there followed a silence in heaven about 2 the space of half an hour. And I saw the seven angels which stand before

God; and there were given unto them seven trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood <sup>4</sup> over the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should <sup>5</sup> add it unto the prayers of all the saints upon the golden 4 altar which was before the throne. And the smoke of the incense, <sup>6</sup> with the prayers of the saints, went up before 5 God out of the angel's hand. And the angel <sup>7</sup> taketh the censer; and he filled it with the fire of the altar, and cast it <sup>8</sup> upon the earth: and there followed thunders, and voices, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 And the first sounded, and there followed hail and fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast <sup>8</sup> upon the earth: and the third part of the earth was burnt up, and the third part of the trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third 9 part of the sea became blood; and there died the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, even they that had life; and the third part of the ships was destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell from heaven a great star, burning as a torch, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of 11 the waters; and the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; that the third part of them should be darkened, and the day should not shine for the third part of it, and the night in like manner.

13 And I saw, and I heard <sup>9</sup> an eagle, flying in mid heaven, saying with a great voice, Woe, woe, woe, for them that dwell on the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are yet to sound.

9 And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star from heaven fallen unto the earth: and there was given to him the 2 key of the pit of the abyss. And he opened the pit of the abyss; and there went up a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason 3 of the smoke of the pit. And out of the smoke came forth locusts upon the earth; and power was given them, as the scorpions of the earth have 4 power. And it was said unto them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only such men as have not the seal of God on their foreheads. And it was given them that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when it striketh a man. And in those days men shall seek death, and shall in no wise find it; and they shall desire to die, and death fleeth from them. And the <sup>1</sup>shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared for war; and upon their heads as it were crowns like unto gold, and their faces were as men's faces. And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of lions. And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots, of many horses rushing to war. And they have tails like unto scorpions, and stings; and in their tails is their power to hurt men five months. They have over them as king the angel of the abyss: his name in Hebrew is Abaddon, and in the Greek tongue he hath the name <sup>2</sup>Apollyon.

12 The first Woe is past: behold, there come yet two Woes hereafter.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard <sup>3</sup>a voice from the horns of the golden altar which is before God, one saying to the sixth angel, which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound at the great river Euphrates. And the four angels were loosed, which had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that they should kill the third part of men.

16 And the number of the armies of the horsemen was twice ten thousand times ten thousand: I heard the number of 17 them. And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates as of fire and of hyacinth and of brimstone: and the heads of the horses are as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths proceedeth fire and smoke and brimstone. By these three plagues was the third part of men killed, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone, which proceeded out of their mouths. For the power of the horses is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails are like unto serpents, and have heads; and with them they do hurt. And the rest of mankind, which were not killed with these plagues, repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship <sup>4</sup>devils, and the idols of gold, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of wood; which can neither see, nor hear, nor walk: and they repented not of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

10 And I saw another strong angel coming down out of heaven, arrayed with a cloud; and the rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire; and he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left upon the earth; and he cried with a great voice, as a lion roareth: and when he cried, the seven thunders uttered their voices. And when the seven thunders uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying, Seal up the things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not. And the angel which I saw standing upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his right hand to heaven, and swore by him that liveth <sup>5</sup>for ever and ever, who created the heaven and the things that are therein, and the earth and the things that are therein, <sup>6</sup>and the sea and the things that are therein, that there shall be <sup>7</sup>time no longer: but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then is finished the mystery of God, according to the good tidings which he declared to his servants the prophets.

8 And the voice which I heard from heaven, I heard it again speaking with me, and saying, Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel that standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

9 And I went unto the angel, saying unto him that he should give me the little book. And he saith unto me, Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey. And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and when I had eaten it, my belly was made bitter. And they say unto me, Thou must prophesy again <sup>8</sup>over many peoples and nations and tongues and kings.

11 And there was given me a reed like unto a rod: <sup>9</sup>and one said, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein. And the court which is without the temple <sup>10</sup>leave without, and measure it not; for it hath been given unto the nations: and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty and two months. And I will give unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth. These are the two olive trees and the two <sup>11</sup>candlesticks, standing before the Lord of the earth.

their prophecy: and they have power over the waters to turn them into blood, and to smite the earth with every 7 plague, as often as they shall desire. And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that cometh up out of the abyss shall make war with them, and 8 overcome them, and kill them. And their <sup>1</sup>dead bodies lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord 9 was crucified. And from among the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations do men look upon their <sup>1</sup>dead bodies three days and a half, and suffer not their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb. 10 And they that dwell on the earth rejoice over them, and make merry; and they shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets tormented them 11 that dwell on the earth. And after the three days and a half the breath of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear 12 fell upon them which beheld them. And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. And they went up into heaven in the cloud; 13 and their enemies beheld them. And in that hour there was a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell; and there were killed in the earthquake <sup>2</sup>seven thousand persons; and the rest were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 The second Woe is past: behold, the third Woe cometh quickly.

15 And the seventh angel sounded; and there followed great voices in heaven, and <sup>1</sup>they said, The kingdom of the world is become the kingdom of our Lord, and of his Christ: and he shall reign <sup>3</sup>for 16 ever and ever. And the four and twenty elders, which sit before God on their thrones, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God, the Almighty, which art and which wast; because thou hast taken thy great power, and didst 18 reign. And the nations were wroth, and thy wrath came, and the time of the dead to be judged, and the time to give their reward to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to them that fear thy name, the small and the great; and to destroy them that destroy the earth.

19 And there was opened the temple of God that is in heaven; and there was seen in his temple the ark of his <sup>4</sup>covenant; and there followed lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and an earthquake, and great hail.

12 And a great sign was seen in heaven; a woman arrayed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head <sup>2</sup>a crown of twelve stars; and she was with child: and she crieth out, travelling in birth, and in pain to be delivered.

3 And there was seen another sign in heaven; and behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and 4 upon his heads seven diadems. And his tail draweth the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, that when she was delivered, he 5 might devour her child. And she was delivered of a son, a man child, who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto 6 God, and unto his throne. And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that there they may nourish her a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels going forth to war with the dragon; and the dragon warred and 8 his angels; and they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in 9 heaven. And the great dragon was cast down, the old serpent, he that is called the Devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole <sup>5</sup>world; he was cast down to the earth, and his angels were cast down 10 with him. And I heard a great voice in heaven, saying, <sup>6</sup>Now is come the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accuseth them 11 before our God day and night. And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb, and because of the word of their testimony; and they loved not 12 their life even unto death. Therefore rejoice, O heavens, and ye that <sup>7</sup>dwell in them. Woe for the earth and for the sea: because the devil is gone down unto you, having great wrath, knowing that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast down to the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the 14 man child. And there were given to the woman the two wings of the great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness unto her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth after the woman water as a river, that he might cause her to be carried away 16 by the stream. And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his 17 mouth. And the dragon waxed wroth with the woman, and went away to make war with the rest of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and hold the testimony of Jesus: 13 and he stood upon the sand of the sea.

And I saw a beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads, and on his horns ten diadems, and upon his heads names of blasphemy.

2 And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his throne, and great authority. And I saw one of his heads as though it had been smitten unto death; and his death-stroke was healed: and the whole earth wondered after the beast; and they worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? and who is able to war with him? and there was given to him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and there was given to him authority to continue forty and six months. And he opened his mouth for blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, even them that dwell in the heaven.

7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation. And all that dwell on the earth shall worship him, every one whose name hath not been written in the book of life of the Lamb that hath been slain from the foundation of the world. If any man hath an ear, let him hear. If any man is taken for captivity, into captivity he goeth: if any man shall kill with the sword, with the sword must he be killed. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And I saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like unto a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12 And he exerciseth all the authority of the first beast in his sight. And he maketh the earth and them that dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose death-stroke was healed. And he doeth great signs, that he should even make fire to come down out of heaven upon the earth in the sight of men. And he deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by reason of the signs which it was given him to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, who hath the stroke of the sword, and lived. And it was given unto him to give breath to it, even to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as should not worship the image of the beast should be killed. And he causeth all, the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free and the bond, that there be given them a mark on their right hand, or upon their forehead; and that no man should be able to buy or to sell, save he that hath the mark, even the name of the beast or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisdom. He that hath understanding, let him count the number of the beast; for it is the number of a man: and his number is six hundred and sixty and six.

14 And I saw, and behold, the Lamb standing on the mount Zion, and with him a hundred and forty and four thousand, having his name, and the name of his Father, written on their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and the voice which I heard was as the voice of harpers harping with their harps: and they sing as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders: and no man could learn the song save the hundred and forty and four thousand, even they that had been purchased out of the earth. These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were purchased from among men, to be the firstfruits unto God and unto the Lamb. And in their mouth was found no lie: they are without blemish.

6 And I saw another angel flying in mid heaven, having an eternal gospel to proclaim unto them that dwell on the earth, and unto every nation and tribe and tongue and people; and he saith with a great voice, Fear God, and give him glory; for the hour of his judgement is come: and worship him that made the heaven and the earth and sea and fountains of waters.

8 And another, a second angel, followed, saying, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, which hath made all the nations to drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a great voice, If any man worshippeth the beast and his image, and receiveth a mark on his forehead, or upon his hand, he also shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is prepared unmixed in the cup of his anger; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb: and the smoke of their torment goeth up for ever and ever; and they have no rest day and night, they that worship the beast and his image, and whose receiveth the mark of his name. Here is the patience of the saints, they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

which die <sup>1</sup> in the Lord from henceforth: yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; for their works follow with them.

14 And I saw, and behold, a white cloud; and on the cloud I saw one sitting like unto <sup>2</sup> a son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle. And another angel came out from the temple, crying with a great voice to him that sat on the cloud, Send forth thy sickle, and reap: for the hour to reap is come; for the harvest of the earth is <sup>3</sup> over-ripe. And he that sat on the cloud cast his sickle upon the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out from the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. And another angel came out from the altar, he that hath power over fire; and he called with a great voice to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Send forth thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are <sup>19</sup> fully ripe. And the angel cast his sickle into the earth, and gathered the <sup>4</sup> vintage of the earth, and cast it into the winepress, the great winepress, of the <sup>20</sup> wrath of God. And the winepress was trodden without the city, and there came out blood from the winepress, even unto the bridles of the horses, as far as a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

15 And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having seven plagues, which are the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a glassy sea mingled with fire; and them that come victorious from the beast, and from his image, and from the number of his name, standing <sup>5</sup> by the glassy sea, having harps of God. And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty; righteous and true are thy ways, thou King of the <sup>6</sup> ages.

4 Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy; for all the nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy righteous acts have been made manifest.

5 And after these things I saw, and the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened: and there came out from the temple the seven angels that had the seven plagues, arrayed <sup>7</sup> with precious stone, pure and bright, and girt about their breasts with <sup>7</sup> golden girdles. And one of the four living creatures gave unto the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who liveth <sup>8</sup> for ever and ever. And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and none was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels should be finished.

16 And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go ye, and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of God into the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his bowl into the earth; and <sup>9</sup> it became a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and which worshipped his image.

3 And the second poured out his bowl into the sea; and <sup>9</sup> it became blood as of a dead man; and every <sup>10</sup> living soul died, even the things that were in the sea.

4 And the third poured out his bowl into the rivers and the fountains of the <sup>5</sup> waters; <sup>11</sup> and <sup>9</sup> it became blood. And I heard the angel of the waters saying, Righteous art thou, which art and which wast, thou Holy One, because thou didst

<sup>6</sup> thus <sup>12</sup> judge: for they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and blood hast thou given them to drink: they are <sup>7</sup> worthy. And I heard the altar saying, Yea, O Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgements.

8 And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given unto <sup>9</sup> <sup>13</sup> it to scorch men with fire. And men were scorched with great heat: and they blasphemed the name of the God which hath the power over these plagues; and they repented not to give him glory.

10 And the fifth poured out his bowl upon the throne of the beast; and his kingdom was darkened; and they <sup>11</sup> gnawed their tongues for pain, and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores; and they repented not of their works.

12 And the sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river, the river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way might be made ready for the kings that come from the sunrise.

13 And I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, <sup>14</sup> as it were frogs: for they are spirits of <sup>14</sup> devils, working signs; which go forth and voices, and thunders; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since<sup>1</sup> there were men upon the earth, 19 so great an earthquake, so mighty. And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and Babylon the great was remembered in the sight of God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his 20 wrath. And every island fled away, and 21 the mountains were not found. And great hail, every stone about the weight of a talent, cometh down out of heaven upon men: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof is exceeding great.

<sup>15</sup> unto the kings of the whole <sup>16</sup> world, to gather them together unto the war of the great day of God, the Almighty.

15 (Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they <sup>16</sup> see his shame.) And they gathered them together into the place which is called in Hebrew Har-Magedon.

17 And there came one of the seven angels that had the seven bowls, and spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the judgement of the great harlot that sitteth upon many 2 waters; with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and they that dwell in the earth were made drunken with the wine of her fornication. 3 And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness: and I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet-coloured beast, <sup>2</sup> full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and <sup>3</sup> decked with gold and precious stone and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations, <sup>4</sup> even the unclean things of her fornication, and upon her forehead a name written, <sup>5</sup> MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE HARLOTS AND OF 6 THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH. And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the <sup>6</sup> martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I wondered with a great 7 wonder. And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou wonder? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and the ten horns. 8 The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and is about to come up out of the abyss, <sup>7</sup> and to go into perdition. And they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, they whose name hath not been written <sup>8</sup> in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, how that he was, and 9 is not, and <sup>9</sup> shall come. Here is the <sup>10</sup> mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which 10 the woman sitteth: and <sup>11</sup> they are seven kings; the five are fallen, the one is, the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a little 11 while. And the beast that was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goeth into perdition. And the ten horns that thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but they receive authority as kings, with the 13 beast, for one hour. These have one mind, and they give their power and 14 authority unto the beast. These shall war against the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them, for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings; and they also shall overcome that are with him, called 15 and chosen and faithful. And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and 16 tongues. And the ten horns which thou sawest, and the beast, these shall hate the harlot, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and 17 shall burn her utterly with fire. For God did put in their hearts to do his mind, and to come to one mind, and to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God should be accomplished. 18 ed. And the woman whom thou sawest is the great city, which <sup>12</sup> reigneth over the kings of the earth.

18 After these things I saw another angel coming down out of heaven, having great authority; and the earth was lightened with his glory. And he cried with a mighty voice, saying, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and is become a habitation of <sup>13</sup> devils, and a <sup>14</sup> hold of every unclean spirit, and a <sup>15</sup> hold of every 3 unclean and hateful bird. For <sup>15</sup> by <sup>16</sup> the wine of the wrath of her fornication all the nations are fallen; and the kings of the earth committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth waxed rich by the power of her <sup>17</sup> wantonness.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come forth, my people, out of her, that ye have no fellowship with her sins, and that ye receive not of her 5 plagues: for her sins <sup>18</sup> have reached even unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities. Render unto her even as she rendered, and double unto her the double according to her works: in the cup which she mingled, mingle 7 unto her double. How much soever she glorified herself, and waxed <sup>19</sup> wanton, so much give her of torment and mourning: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall in 8 no wise see mourning. Therefore in one day shall her plagues come, death, and mourning, and famine; and she shall be utterly burned with fire; for strong is <sup>20</sup> the Lord God which judged 9 her. And the kings of the earth, who committed fornication and lived <sup>21</sup> wantonly with her, shall weep and wail over her, when they look upon the 10 smoke of her burning, standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, Babylon, the strong city! for in one hour is thy 11 judgement come. And the merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no man buyeth their <sup>22</sup> merchandise

14 and <sup>5</sup>pearl! for in one hour so great riches is made desolate. And every shipmaster, and every one that saileth any whither, and mariners, and as many as <sup>6</sup>gain their living by sea, stood afar off, and cried out as they looked upon the smoke of her burning, saying, What city is like 15 the great city? And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and mourning, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, wherein were made rich all that had their ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for in one hour is she made desolate. Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye saints, and ye apostles, and ye prophets; for God hath judged your judgement on her.
16 And <sup>7</sup>a strong angel took up a stone as it were a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus with a mighty fall shall Babylon, the great city, be cast down, and shall be found no more at all.
17 And the voice of harpers and minstrels and flute-players and trumpeters shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, <sup>8</sup>of whatsoever craft, shall be found any more at all in thee; and the voice of a millstone shall be heard no
18 more at all in thee; and the light of a lamp shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the princes of the earth; for with thy sorcery were all the nations deceived.
19 And in her was found the blood of prophets and of saints, and of all that have been slain upon the earth.
20 After these things I heard as it were a great voice of a great multitude in heaven, saying, Hallelujah; Salvation, and glory, and power, belong to our God:
21 for true and righteous are his judgements; for he hath judged the great harlot, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and he hath avenged the blood of his servants

2 at her hand. And a second time they <sup>9</sup>say, Hallelujah. And her smoke goeth
3 up <sup>10</sup>for ever and ever. And the four and twenty elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshipped God that sitteth on the throne, 4 saying, Amen; Hallelujah. And a voice came forth from the throne, saying, Give praise to our God, all ye his servants, ye that fear him, the small and the great.
5 And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunders, saying, Hallelujah: for the Lord our God, the Almighty, reigneth.
6 Let us rejoice and be exceeding glad, and let us give the glory unto him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.
7 And it was given unto her that she should array herself in fine linen, bright and pure: for the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints. And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are bidden to the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me,
8 These are true words of God. And I fell down before his feet to worship him. And he saith unto me, See thou do it not: I am a fellow-servant with thee and with thy brethren that hold the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.
9 And I saw the heaven opened; and behold, a white horse, and he that sat thereon, <sup>11</sup>called Faithful and True; and in righteousness he doth judge and 10 make war. And his eyes are a flame of fire, and upon his head are many diadems; and he hath a name written, which no one knoweth but he himself.
11 And he is arrayed in a garment <sup>12</sup>sprinkled with blood: and his name is called 12 The Word of God. And the armies which are in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine
13 linen, white and pure. And out of his mouth proceedeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the <sup>13</sup>winepress of the fierceness of the wrath of Almighty God. And he hath on his garment and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.
14 And I saw <sup>7</sup>an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the birds that fly in mid heaven, Come and be gathered together unto the great supper of God;
15 that ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of <sup>14</sup>captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses and of them that sit thereon, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, and small and great.

kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat upon the horse, and against his army. And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought the signs in his sight, wherewith he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image: they twain were cast alive into the lake of fire that burneth with brimstone: and the rest were killed with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, even the sword which came forth out of his mouth: and all the birds were filled with their flesh.

20 And I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, having the key of the abyss and a great chain <sup>1</sup>in his hand. And he laid hold on the dragon, the old serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years, and cast him into the abyss, and shut it, and sealed it over him, that he should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years should be finished: after this he must be loosed for a little time.

4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them: and I saw the souls of them that had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and such as worshipped not the beast, neither his image, and received not the mark upon their forehead and upon their hand; and they lived, and reigned with Christ a thousand years. The rest of the dead lived not until the thousand years should be finished. This is the first resurrection. Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: over these the second death hath no <sup>2</sup>power; but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him <sup>3</sup>a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are finished, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison, and shall come forth to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to the war: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea. And they went up over the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down <sup>4</sup>out of heaven, and devoured them. And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where are also the beast and the false prophet; and they shall be tormented day and night <sup>5</sup>for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat upon it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for <sup>6</sup>them. And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne; and books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and Hades gave up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works. And death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death, even the lake of fire. And if any was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

21 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth are passed away; and the sea is no more. And I saw <sup>6</sup>the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of the throne saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall <sup>7</sup>dwell with them, and they shall be his peoples, and God himself shall be with them, <sup>8</sup>and be their God: and he shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and death shall be no more; neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more: the first things are passed away. And he that sitteth on the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he saith, <sup>9</sup>Write: for these words are faithful and true. And he said unto me, They are come to pass. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely. He that overcometh shall inherit these things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. But for the fearful, and unbelieving, and abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, their part shall be in the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone; which is the second death.

9 And there came one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls, who were laden with the seven last plagues; and he spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the wife of the Lamb. And he carried me away in the Spirit to a mountain great and high, and shewed me the holy city Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, having the glory of God: her <sup>10</sup>light was like unto a stone most precious, as it were a jasper stone, clear as crystal: having a wall great and high; having twelve <sup>11</sup>gates, and at the <sup>12</sup>gates twelve angels; and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel: on the east were three <sup>13</sup>gates; and on the north three <sup>14</sup>gates; and on the

14 three <sup>1</sup>gates. And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them twelve names of the twelve apo-15 stles of the Lamb. And he that spake with me had for a measure a golden reed to measure the city, and the <sup>1</sup>gates thereof, and the wall thereof.
16 And the city lieth foursquare, and the length thereof is as great as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs: the length and the breadth 17 and the height thereof are equal. And he measured the wall thereof, a hundred and forty and four cubits, accord- ing to the measure of a man, that is, 18 of an angel. And the building of the wall thereof was jasper: and the city was pure gold, like unto pure glass.
19 The foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, <sup>2</sup>sapphire; the third, chalcedony; the fourth, emerald; 20 the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardinus; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoptase; the eleventh, 21 <sup>3</sup>jaciuth; the twelfth, amethyst. And the twelve <sup>1</sup>gates were twelve pearls; each one of the several <sup>1</sup>gates was of one pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, <sup>4</sup>as it were trans-22 parent glass. And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God the Almighty, and the Lamb, are the temple 23 thereof. And the city hath no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine upon it: for the glory of God did lighten it, <sup>5</sup>and the lamp thereof is the 24 Lamb. And the nations shall walk <sup>6</sup>amidst the light thereof: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory 25 into it. And the <sup>1</sup>gates thereof shall in no wise be shut by day (for there 26 shall be no night there): and they shall bring the glory and the honour 27 of the nations into it: and there shall in no wise enter into it anything <sup>7</sup>unclean, or he that <sup>8</sup>maketh an abomination and a lie: but only they which are written in the Lamb's book 22 of life. And he shewed me a river of water of life, bright as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God 2 and of <sup>9</sup>the Lamb, in the midst of the street thereof. And on this side of the river and on that was <sup>10</sup>the tree of life, bearing twelve <sup>11</sup>manner of fruits, yielding its fruit every month:
and the leaves of the tree were for 3 the healing of the nations. And there shall be <sup>12</sup>no curse any more: and the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be therein: and his servants shall do face; and his name shall be on their

God of the spirits of the prophets, sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly come to pass.

prophecy of this book.

these things. And when I heard and saw, I fell down to worship before the

do it not: I am a fellow-servant with thee and with thy brethren the prophets, and with them which keep the words of this book: worship God.

words of the prophecy of this book;

11 for the time is at hand. He that is unrighteous, let him do unrighteousness made filthy <sup>14</sup>still: and he that is right-and he that is holy, let him be made 12 holy <sup>14</sup>still. Behold, I come quickly; and my <sup>15</sup>reward is with me, to render to each man according as his work is.

13 I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end.

14 Blessed are they that wash their robes, that they may have <sup>16</sup>the right to come to the tree of life, and may enter in by 15 the <sup>1</sup>gates into the city. Without are the dogs, and the sorcerers, and the fornicators, and the murderers, and the idolaters, and every one that loveth and 16 I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things <sup>17</sup>for the churches. I am the root and the off-star.

17 <sup>18</sup>And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And he that heareth, let him say, Come. And he that is athirst, let him come: he that will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 I testify unto every man that heareth
the words of the prophecy of this book,
If any man shall add <sup>19</sup>unto them, God shall add <sup>19</sup>unto him the plagues which

19 are written in this book: and if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part from the tree of life, and out of the holy city, <sup>20</sup>which are written in this book.

CLASSES OF PASSAGES.

- I. Strike out "S." (i.e. Saint) from the title of the Gospels and from the heading of the pages.
- II. Strike out "the Apostle" from the title of the Pauline Epistles, and "of Paul the Apostle" from the title of the Epistle to the Hebrews; strike out the word "General" from the title of the Epistles of James, Peter, 1 John, and Jude; and let the title of the Revelation run "The Revelation of John."
- III. For "Holy Ghost" adopt uniformly the rendering "Holy Spirit."
- IV. At the word "worship" in Matt. ii. 2, etc., add the marginal note "The Greek word denotes an act of reverence, whether paid to man (see chap. xviii. 26) or to God (see chap. iv. 10)."
- V. Put into the text uniformly the marginal rendering "through" in place of "by" when it relates to prophecy, viz. in Matt. ii. 5, 17, 23; iii. 3; iv. 14; viii. 17; xii. 17; xiii. 35; xxi. 4; xxiv. 15; xxvii. 9; Luke xviii. 31; Acts ii. 16; xxviii. 25.
- VI. For "tempt" ("temptation") substitute "try" or "make trial of" ("trial") wherever enticement to what is wrong is not evidently spoken of; viz. in the following instances: Matt. iv. 7; xvi. 1; xix. 3; xxii. 18, 35; Mark viii. 11; x. 2; xii. 15; Luke iv. 12; x. 25; xi. 16; xxii. 28; John viii. 6; Acts v. 9; xv. 10; 1 Cor. x. 9; Heb. iii. 8, 9; 1 Pet. i. 6.
- VII. Substitute modern forms of speech for the following archaisms, viz. "who" or "that" for "which" when used of persons; "are" for "be" in the present indicative; "know" "knew" for "wot" "wist"; "drag" or "drag away" for "hale."
- VIII. Substitute for "devil" ("devils") the word "demon" ("demons") wherever the latter word is given in the margin (or represents the Greek words δαίμων, δαιμόνιον); and for "possessed with a devil" (or "devils") substitute either "demoniac" or "possessed with a demon" (or "demons").
- IX. After "baptize" let the marg. "Or, in" and the text "with" exchange places.
- X. Let the word "testament" be everywhere changed to "covenant" (without an alternate in the margin), except in Heb. ix. 15-17.
- XI. Wherever "patience" occurs as the rendering of ὑπομονή add "steadfastness" as an alternate in the margin, except in 2 Cor. i. 6; James v. 11; Luke viii. 15; Heb. xii. 1.
- XII. Let ἀσσάριον (Matt. x. 29; Luke xii. 6) be translated "penny," and δηνάριον "shilling," except in Matt. xxii. 19; Mark xii. 15; Luke xx. 24, where the name of the coin, "a denarius," should be given.
- XIII. Against the expression "the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ" add the marginal rendering "Or, God and the Father" etc.; viz. in Rom. xv. 6; 2 Cor. i. 3; xi. 31; Eph. i. 3; Col. i. 3; 1 Pet. i. 3. And against the expression "our God and Father" add the marg. "Or, God and our Father"; viz. in Gal. i. 4; Phil. iv. 20; 1 Thess. i. 3; iii. 11, 13; Jas. i. 27. And against the expression "his God and Father" add the marg. "Or, God and his Father", viz. in Rev. i. 6.
- XIV. Let the use of "fulfil" be confined to those cases in which it denotes "accomplish," "bring to pass," or the like.

MATTHEW.

- III. 7 Against "to his baptism" add marg. Or, for baptism
 10 For "is the axe laid unto" read "the axe lieth at" So in Luke iii. 9.
- VI. 11 Let the marg. read Gr. our bread for the coming day, or our needful bread. So in Luke xi. 3.
 27 For "his stature" read "the measure of his life" (with marg. Or, his stature) So in Luke xii. 25.
- VIII. 4 Here and in Matt. xxvii. 65; Mark i. 44, for "go thy [your] way" read simply "go"
- IX. 6, 8 For "power" read "authority" (see marg. 16) So in Mark ii. 10; Luke v. 24.
 X. 39 "life" strike out the marg. So in xvi. 25; Mark viii. 35; Luke ix. 24; xvii. 33; John xii. 25.
- XII. 23 For "Is this the son of David?" read "Can this be the son of David?" [Comp. John iv. 29.] 31 "unto men" strike out the marg.
- XIX. 14 For "of such is" read "to such belongeth" with marg. Or, of such is So in Mark x. 14; Luke xviii. 16.
- XX. 1 For "that is" read "that was"
- XXII. 23 For marg. 7 read "Many ancient authorities read saying."
- XXIII. 9 For "Father, which is in heaven" read "Father, even he who is in heaven."
 23 For "judgement" read "justice" So in Luke xi. 42.
- XXVI. 29 For "I will not drink" read "I shall not drink" Similarly in Mark xiv. 25; Luke xxii. 16, 18.
- XXVII. 27 For "palace" read "Prætorium" with marg. Or, palace [as in Mark xv. 16] So in John xviii. 28, 33; xix. 9.

MARK.

- II. 4, 9, 11, 12 "bed" add marg. Or, pallet So in vi. 55; John v. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12; Acts v. 15; ix. 33.
- VII. 4 For "wash" read "bathe" [Comp. Luke xi. 38.]
 X. 13 For "brought" read "were bringing" So in Luke xviii. 15.
 32 "and they that followed" etc. omit the marg.
 45 For "For verily" etc. read "For the Son of man also" etc.
- XI. 24 For "have received" read "receive" with marg. Gr. received.
- XIV. 3 For "spikenard" read "pure nard" (with marg. Or, liquid nard), and omit marg. 6 So in John xii. 3.

LUKE.

- I. 35 Let the text run "wherefore also the holy thing which is begotten shall be called the Son of God" with the present text in the margin.
 70 For "since the world began" read "of old" Similarly Acts iii. 21; xv. 18.
- II. 34 For "and rising up" read "and the rising" 37 For "even for" read "even unto"
- III. 14 For "Do violence to no man" etc. read "Extort from no man by violence, neither accuse any one wrongfully" and omit marg. 5 20 For "added yet this above all" read "added this also to them all"
- IV. 1 For "by the Spirit" read "in the Spirit" and omit the marg.
- VI. 16 For "was the traitor" read "became a traitor"
- VIII. 3 For "Chuzas" read "Chuzas"
 29 For "commanded" read "was commanding"
 33 For "were choked" read "were drowned"
