13 Thus saith the Lord GOD: [l] I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause the [7] images to cease from [m] Noph; and [n] there shall be no more a prince out of the land of Egypt: and [o] I will put a fear in the land of Egypt. 14 And I will make [p] Pathros desolate, [b] and will set a fire in [q] Zoan, [r] and will execute judgements in [s] No. 15 And I will pour my fury upon Sin, the strong hold of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude of [s] No. 16 And [b] I will set a fire in Egypt; Sin shall be in great anguish, and [s] No shall be broken up: and [m] Noph shall have adversaries [8] in the daytime. 17 The young men of Aven and of Pi-beseth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity. 18 At [t] Tehaphnehes also [u] the day shall [9] withdraw itself, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt, and [v] the pride of her power shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity. 19 Thus [w] will I execute judgements in Egypt: [x] and they shall know that I am the LORD.

eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 21 [z] Son of man, [a] I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and, lo, [b] it hath not been bound up to apply healing medicines, to put a roller to bind it, that it be strong to hold the sword. 22 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, [c] I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and [a] will break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand. 23 [d] And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. 24 And [e] I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put [f] my sword in his hand: but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he shall groan before him with [g] the groanings of a deadly wounded man. 25 And [e] I will hold up the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; [x] and they shall know that I am the LORD, [h] when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt. 26 [d] And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; [x] and they shall know that I am the LORD.

31 1 And it came to pass [i] in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 [j] Son of man, say unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to [k] his multitude; [l] Whom art thou like in thy greatness? 3 Behold, [m] the Assyrian was [n] a cedar in [o] Lebanon with fair branches, and [p] with a shadowing shroud, and [q] of an high stature; and his top was among [r] the [1] thick boughs. 4 The waters nourished him, the deep made him to grow: [s] her rivers ran round about her plantation; and she sent out her channels unto all the trees of the field. 5 Therefore [t] his stature was exalted above all the trees of the field; and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long by reason of [2] [u] many waters, when he shot them forth. 6 [v] All the fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations. 7 Thus was he [w] fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: [u] for his root was by [2] many waters. 8 [x] The cedars [y] in the garden of God could not hide him: the fir trees were not like his boughs, and the plane trees were not as his branches; nor was any tree [y] in the garden of God like unto him in his beauty. 9 I made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that [y] all the trees of [z] Eden, that were [y] in the garden of God, envied him.

10 Therefore thus [3] said the Lord GOD: Because [a] thou art exalted in stature, and he hath set his top among the [1] thick boughs, and [b] his heart is lifted up in his height; 11 I will even deliver him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his wickedness. 12 And [c] strangers, [c] the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: [d] upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all [e] the watercourses of the land; and [f] all the peoples of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him. 13 [g] Upon his ruin all the fowls of the heaven shall dwell, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches: 14 [h] to the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, neither set their top among the thick boughs, nor that their mighty ones stand up in their height, even all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death, [i] to the [j] nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the day when [k] he went down to [4] hell I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the rivers thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused [l] Lebanon [5] to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him. 16 [m] I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, [k] when I cast him down to [4] hell with them that descend into the pit: [n] and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of [l] Lebanon, all that drink water, [o] were comforted in the nether parts of the earth. 17 They also went down into [1] hell with him [p] unto them that be slain by the sword; yea, [q] they that were his arm, [r] that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the nations.

18 [s] To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness [n] among the trees of Eden? 32 1 And it came to pass [v] in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 [w] Son of man, [x] take up a lamentation for [y] Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou wast likened unto [z] a young lion of the nations: yet art thou as [a] a dragon [b] in the seas; and [c] thou brakest forth [2] with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and fouledst their rivers. 3 Thus saith the Lord GOD: [d] I will spread out my net over thee with a company of [e] many peoples; and [f] they shall bring thee up in my net. 4 And [g] I will leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to settle upon thee, and I will satisfy the beasts of the whole earth with thee. 5 And I will lay thy flesh [h] upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy [3] height. 6 I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimmest, even to the mountains; and the watercourses shall be full of thee. 7 And [i] when I shall extinguish thee, [j] I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof [4] dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light. 8 All the bright lights of heaven will I make [4] dark over thee, and [k] set darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord GOD. 9 I will also vex the hearts of many peoples, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known. 10 Yea, [l] I will make many peoples amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when [m] I shall brandish my sword before them; and [n] they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall. 11 For thus saith the Lord GOD: [o] The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee. 12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause [p] thy multitude to fall; [q] the terrible of the nations are they all: and [r] they shall spoil the pride of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed. 13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside [5] many waters; [s] neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them. 14 Then [t] will I [6] make their waters clear, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord GOD. 15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate and waste, a land [u] destitute of [7] that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then [v] shall they know that I am the LORD. 16 [w] This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament; [x] the daughters of the nations shall lament therewith: for Egypt, and for [y] all her multitude, shall they lament therewith, saith the Lord GOD.

17 It came to pass also [z] in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 18 [a] Son of man, [b] wail for [y] the multitude of Egypt, and [c] cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, [d] unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit. 19 [e] Whom dost thou pass in beauty? go down, and [f] be thou laid with the uncircumcised. 20 They shall fall in the midst of them [p] that are slain by the sword: [8] she is delivered to the sword: draw her away and [y] all her multitudes. 21 The strong among the mighty [h] shall speak to him out of the midst of [1] hell [i] with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie still, even [j] the uncircumcised, [g] slain by the sword. 22 [h] Asshur is there and all her company; [i] his graves are round about him: all of them slain, [g] fallen by the sword: 23 whose graves are set in [m] the uttermost parts of the pit, and her company is round about her grave: all of them slain, [g] fallen by the sword, [n] which caused terror [o] in the land of the living. 24 [p] There is [q] Elam and all her multitude round about her grave: all of them [r] slain, [g] fallen by the sword, which are gone down [s] uncircumcised into [t] the nether parts of the earth, [u] which caused their terror [o] in the land of the living, and [t] have borne their shame [x] with them that go down to the pit. 25 [u] They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude; [v] her graves are round about her: all of them [s] uncircumcised, [r] slain by the sword; [u] for their terror was caused [o] in the land of the living, and [t] they have borne their shame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that be slain. 26 [v] There is [w] Meshech, [w] Tubal, and all her multitude; [v] her graves are round about her: all of them [s] uncircumcised, [r] slain by the sword; [u] for they caused their terror [o] in the land of the living. 27 [1] And [x] they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to [2] hell [y] with their weapons of war, and have laid their swords under their heads, and their iniquities are upon their bones; [z] for they were the terror of the mighty [o] in the land of the living. 28 But thou shalt be broken [z] in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them [r] that are slain by the sword. 29 [a] There is [b] Edom, her kings and all her princes, which [c] in their might are laid with them that are [r] slain by the sword: [z] they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit. 30 [a] There be the princes [c] of the north, all of them, and all the [d] Zidonians, which are gone down with the slain; [d e] in the terror which they caused by their might they are ashamed; and they lie [s] uncircumcised with them that are [r] slain by the sword, and [f] bear their shame with them that go down to the pit. 31 Pharaoh shall see them, and [g] shall be comforted over [h] all his multitude: [5] even Pharaoh and all his army, [r] slain by the sword, saith the Lord GOD. 32 [i] For I have put [6] [j] his terror [k] in the land of the living: and he shall be laid in the midst of [l] the uncircumcised, with them [r] that are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and [h] all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

33 1 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 [m] Son of man, speak to [n] the children of thy people, and say unto them, When [o] I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their [p] watchman: 3 if, when he seeth the sword come upon the land, [q] he blow the trumpet, and warn the people; 4 then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning, if the sword come, and take him away, [r] his blood shall be upon his own head. 5 [s] He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall be upon him: whereas if he had taken warning he should have delivered his soul. 6 [t] But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned, and the sword come, and take any person from among them; [t] he is taken away [7] in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand. 7 [u] So thou, [m] son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel; [u] therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. 8 [v] When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die, [v] and thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way; [v] that wicked man shall die [7] in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thine hand. 9 [w] Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, and he turn not from his way; [w] he shall die [7] in his iniquity, [x] but thou hast delivered thy soul.

pine away [1]in them; [a]how then should we live? 11 Say unto them, [b]As I live, saith the Lord GOD, [c]I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: [d]turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; [d]for why will ye die, O house of Israel? 12 And thou, [y]son of man, say unto [e]the children of thy people, [f]The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; [g]and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness: [f]neither shall he that is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sinneth. 13 When I say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; [f]if he trust to his righteousness, and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but [1]in his iniquity that he hath committed, [2]therein shall he die. 14 Again, [h]when I say unto the wicked, [i]Thou shalt surely die; [j]if he turn from his sin, and do [3]that which is lawful and right; 15 if the wicked [k]restore the pledge, [l]give again that he had taken by robbery, walk [m]in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die. 16 [n]None of his sins that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live. 17 Yet [e]the children of thy people say, [o]The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal. 18 [p]When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die [4]therein. 19 And [q]when the wicked turneth from his wickedness, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby. 20 Yet ye say, [o]The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, [r]I will judge you every one after his ways.

21 And it came to pass [s]in the twelfth year [t]of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that [u]one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, [v]The city is smitten. 22 [w]Now [x]the hand of the LORD had been upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and he had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb. 23 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 24 [y]Son of man, they that inhabit those [z]waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, [a]Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but [b]we are many; the land is given us for inheritance. 25 Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: [c]Ye eat with the blood, and [d]lift up your eyes unto your idols, and [e]shed blood: and shall ye possess the land? 26 [f]Ye stand upon your sword, [g]ye work abomination, and [g]ye defile every one his neighbour's wife: and shall ye possess the land? 27 Thus shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: [h]As I live, surely they that are in [z]the waste places shall fall by [i]the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to [i]the beasts to be devoured, and they that be in [j]the strong holds and in the caves shall die of [i]the pestilence. 28 [k]And I will make the land a desolation and an astonishment, and [l]the pride of her power shall cease; and [m]the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through. 29 [n]Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment, because of all their abominations which they have committed. 30 And as for thee, [y]son of man, [o]the children of thy people talk of thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the LORD. 31 [p]And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but do them not: for [q]with their mouth they shew much love, but [r]their heart goeth after their gain. 32 And, lo, thou art unto them as [5]a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and [s]can play well on an instrument: for [t]they hear thy words, but they do them not. 33 And [u]when this cometh to pass, (behold, it cometh,) [v]then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

34 1 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 [w] Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, even to the shepherds, Thus saith the Lord GOD: [x] Woe unto the shepherds of Israel [y] that do feed themselves! [z] should not the shepherds feed the sheep? 3 [a] Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, [b] ye kill the fatlings; but ye feed not the sheep. 4 [c] The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, [a] neither have ye bound up that which was broken, [a] neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, [d] neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force and [e] with rigour have ye ruled over them. 5 [f] And they were scattered, because there was no shepherd: and [g] they became meat to all the beasts of the field, and were scattered. 6 My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my sheep were scattered upon all the face of the earth; [h] and there was none that did search or seek after them. 7 Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: 8 [i] As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely forasmuch as [j] my sheep became a prey, [g] and my sheep became meat to all the beasts of the field, because there was no shepherd, [h] neither did my shepherds search for my sheep, but [y] the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my sheep; 9 therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD; 10 Thus saith the Lord GOD: [k] Behold, I am against the shepherds; and [l] I will require my sheep at their hand, and [m] cause them to cease from feeding the sheep; [n] neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; [o] and I will deliver my sheep from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them. 11 For thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, [p] I myself, even I, [q] will search for my sheep, and will seek them out. 12 As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered abroad, so will I seek out my sheep; and I will deliver them out of all places whither they have been scattered in [1] [r] the cloudy and [s] dark day. 13 And I will bring them out from the peoples, [t] and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them upon [u] the mountains of Israel, by the watercourses, and in all the inhabited places of the country. 14 [v] I will feed them with good pasture, and upon the mountains of the height of Israel shall their fold be: [w] there shall they lie down in a good fold, and on fat pasture shall they feed upon [u] the mountains of Israel. 15 [x] I myself will feed my sheep, [w] and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord GOD. 16 [y] I will seek that which was lost, [z] and will bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: and [a] the fat and the strong I will destroy; I will feed them in judgement. 17 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, [b] I judge [c] between cattle and cattle, as well the rams as [d] the he-goats. 18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have fed upon the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pasture? and to have drunk of [e] the clear waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet? 19 And as for my sheep, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD unto them: Behold, [b] I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle and the lean cattle. 21 Because ye thrust with side and with shoulder, and [f] push [g] all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad; 22 therefore will I save my flock, and [h] they shall no more be a prey; [b] and I will judge between cattle and cattle. 23 And [i] I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even [j] my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. 24 And [k] I the LORD will be their God, and [j] my servant David prince among them; [l] I the LORD have spoken it. 25 And [m] I will make with them a covenant of peace, and [n] will cause evil beasts to cease out of the land: [o] and they shall dwell securely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. 26 And I will make them and the places round about my hill [p]a blessing; and [q]I will cause the shower to come down in its season; there shall be [r]showers of blessing. 27 [s]And the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, [o]and they shall be secure in their land; and [t]they shall know that I am the LORD, when [u]I have broken the bars of their yoke, and [u]have delivered them out of the hand of those that [1]served themselves of them. 28 And [h]they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, [n]neither shall the beast of the earth devour them; but [o]they shall dwell securely, and none shall make them afraid. 29 And I will raise up unto them [v]a [2]plantation for renown, and [w]they shall be no more [3]consumed with famine in the land, neither [x]bear the shame of the heathen any more. 30 And they shall know that [k]I the LORD their God am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord GOD. 31 And ye my sheep, [y]the sheep of my pasture, are men, [k]and I am your God, saith the Lord GOD.

35 1 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 [z]Son of man, [a]set thy face [b]against [c]mount Seir, and prophesy against it, 3 and say unto it, Thus saith the Lord GOD: [d]Behold, I am against thee, O mount Seir, and [e]I will stretch out mine hand against thee, [f]and I will make thee a desolation and an astonishment. 4 [g]I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD. 5 Because [h]thou hast had a perpetual enmity, and hast given over the children of Israel to the power of the sword [i]in the time of their calamity, [j]in the time of the [4]iniquity of the end: 6 therefore, [k]as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: [l]sith thou hast not hated blood, therefore blood shall pursue thee. 7 [f]Thus will I make mount Seir an astonishment [g]and a desolation; and I will cut off from it [m]him that passeth through and him that returneth. 8 And I will fill [n]his mountains with his slain: in thy hills and in thy valleys and in all [n]thy watercourses shall they fall [o]that are slain with the sword. 9 [f]I will make thee perpetual desolations, and [g]thy cities shall not [5]be inhabited: and [p]ye shall know that I am the LORD. 10 Because thou hast said, [q]These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and [r]we will possess it; [6]whereas [s]the LORD was there: 11 therefore, [k]as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will do [t]according to thine anger, and [t]according to thine envy which thou hast shewed out of thy hatred against them; and [u]I will make myself known among them, [7]when I shall judge thee. 12 And thou shalt know [8]that [v]I the LORD have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, [9]They are laid desolate, [w]they are given us to devour. 13 And [v]ye have magnified yourselves against me [x]with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard it. 14 Thus saith the Lord GOD: [y]When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate. 15 As [z]thou didst rejoice over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O [a]mount Seir, and all Edom, even all of it: and [b]they shall know that I am the LORD.

36 1 And thou, [c]son of man, prophesy unto [d]the mountains of Israel, and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD. 2 Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because [e]the enemy hath said against you, [f]Aha! and, The ancient [g]high places are ours in possession: 3 therefore prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because, even because [h]they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the nations, and [i]ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and the evil report of the people: 4 therefore, ye mountains of Israel, hear the

my spirit within you, [c] and cause you to walk in my statutes, and [c] ye shall keep my judgements, and do them. 28 And [f] ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and [g] ye shall be my people, and I will be your God. 29 And [h] I will save you from all your uncleannesses: and [i] I will call for the corn, and will multiply it, and [j] lay no famine upon you. 30 And [k] I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, [l] that ye shall receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations. 31 Then [l] shall ye remember your evil ways, and your doings that were not good; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. 32 [s] Not for your sake [1] do I this, saith the Lord GOD, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your ways, O house of Israel. 33 Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the day that [m] I cleanse you from all your iniquities, [n] I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded. 34 And [n] the land that was desolate shall be tilled, whereas it was a desolation in the sight of all that passed by. 35 And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become [o] like the garden of Eden; [n] and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are fenced and inhabited. 36 Then [p] the nations that are left round about you shall know that I the LORD have builded the ruined places, and [q] planted that which was desolate: [r] I the LORD have spoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord GOD: For this moreover [s] will I be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them; [t] I will increase them with men like [u] a flock. 38 As the [2] flock for sacrifice, [v] as the flock of Jerusalem in her appointed feasts; so [t] shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men: [w] and they shall know that I am the LORD.

37 1 [x] The hand of the LORD was upon me, and [y] he carried me out in the spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of [z] the valley; and it was full of bones; 2 and he caused me to pass by them round about: and behold, there were very many [3] in the open valley; and lo, they were very dry. 3 And he said unto me, [a] Son of man, [b] can these bones live? And [c] I answered, O Lord GOD, thou knowest. 4 Again he said unto me, [d] Prophesy over these bones, and say unto them, [e] O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD. 5 Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones: Behold, [f] I will cause [4] [g] breath to enter into you, and ye shall live. 6 [h] And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and [h] cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; [i] and ye shall know that I am the LORD. 7 So I prophesied [j] as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a [5] noise, and behold [k] an earthquake, and the bones came together, bone to his bone. 8 And I beheld, and lo, there were sinews upon them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them above: but [l] there was no breath in them. 9 Then said he unto me, [d] Prophesy unto the [6] wind, prophesy, [a] son of man, and say to the [6] wind, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Come from [m] the four winds, O [7] breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live. 10 So I prophesied [j] as he commanded me, and [n] the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army. 11 Then he said unto me, [a] Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried up, and [o] our hope is lost; [p] we are clean cut off. 12 Therefore [d] prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, [q] I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, O my people; and [r] I will bring you into the land of Israel. 13 And [s] ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, and caused you to come up out of your graves, O my people. 14 And [t] I will put my [8] spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and ye shall know that [u] I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD.

again unto me, saying, 16 And thou, [v] son of man, [w] take thee one stick, and write upon it, For [x] Judah, and for [y] the children of Israel his companions: then take another stick, and write upon it, For [x] Joseph, the stick of [z] Ephraim, and [1] for all the house of Israel his companions: 17 and [a] join them for thee one to another into one stick, that [b] they may become [c] one in thine hand. 18 And when [d] the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, [e] Wilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these? 19 say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will take [f] the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his companions; and I will put them [2] with it, even with [f] the stick of Judah, and [g] make them one stick, [c] and they shall be one in mine hand. 20 And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thine hand [h] before their eyes. 21 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, [i] I will take the children of Israel from among the nations, whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and [i] bring them into their own land: 22 and [j] I will make them one nation in the land, upon [k] the mountains of Israel; and [l] one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more [m] two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all: 23 [n] neither shall they [o] defile themselves any more [p] with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions: but [q] I will save them [3] out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so [r] shall they be my people, and I will be their God. 24 And my servant [s] David [t] shall be king over them; and they all shall have [u] one shepherd: [v] they shall also walk in my judgements, and observe my statutes, and do them. 25 And [w] they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, they, and their children, and their children's children, [x] for ever: and [s] David my servant shall be their prince [y] for ever. 26 Moreover [z] I will make a covenant of peace with them: it shall be [a] an everlasting covenant with them: and I will [4] place them, and [b] multiply them, and [c] will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore. 27 [d] My tabernacle also shall be [5] with them; [r] and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 28 And [e] the nations shall know that [6] I am the LORD that sanctify Israel, when [c] my sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for evermore.

38 1 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 [g] Son of man, [h] set thy face toward [i] Gog, of the land of [j] Magog, the [7] prince of [k] Rosh, [l] Meshech, and [l] Tubal, and [m] prophesy against him, 3 and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, [n] I am against thee, [i] O Gog, [7] prince of [k] Rosh, [l] Meshech, and [l] Tubal: 4 [o] and I will turn thee about, and [p] put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and [q] all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed in full armour, a great company with buckler and shield, all of them handling swords: 5 [r] Persia, [s] Cush, and [r] Put with them; all of them with shield and helmet: 6 [t] Gomer, and all his [u] hordes; [v] the house of Togarmah in [w] the uttermost parts of the north, and all his hordes: even [q] many peoples with thee. 7 [x] Be thou prepared, yea, prepare thyself, thou, and all thy companies that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a [8] guard unto them. 8 [y] After many days thou shalt be visited: [z] in the latter years thou shalt come into [z] the land that is [9] brought back from the sword, that is [a] gathered out of many peoples, upon [b] the mountains of Israel, which have been a continual waste: but it is brought forth out of the peoples, and [c] they shall dwell securely, all of them. 9 And thou shalt ascend, thou shalt come [d] like a storm, thou shalt be [e] like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy [u] hordes, and many peoples with thee. 10 Thus saith the Lord GOD: It shall come to pass in that day, that [f] things shall come into thy mind, and thou shalt devise an evil device: 11 and thou shalt say, I will go up to [1] the land of unwalled villages; I will go to them that are at quiet, that dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates: 12 to take the spoil and to take the prey; to turn thine hand against the waste places that are now inhabited, and against the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the [2] middle of the earth. 13 Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take the spoil? hast thou assembled thy company to take the prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take great spoil?

14 Therefore, son of man, prophesy, and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord GOD: In that day when my people Israel dwelleth securely, shalt thou not know it? 15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of the uttermost parts of the north, thou, and many peoples with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company and a mighty army: 16 and thou shalt come up against my people Israel, as a cloud to cover the land; it shall come to pass in the latter days, that I will bring thee against my land, that the nations may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes. 17 Thus saith the Lord GOD: Art thou he of whom I spake in old time by my servants the prophets of Israel, which prophesied in those days for many years that I would bring thee against them? 18 And it shall come to pass in that day, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, that my fury shall come up into my nostrils. 19 For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; so that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground. 21 And I will call for a sword against him unto all my mountains, saith the Lord GOD: every man's sword shall be against his brother. 22 And I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood; and I will rain upon him, and upon his hordes, and upon the many peoples that are with him, an overflowing shower, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone. 23 And I will magnify myself, and sanctify myself, and I will make myself known in the eyes of many nations; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

1 And thou, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, [3] prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal: 2 and I will turn thee about, and will lead thee on, and will cause thee to come up from the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel: 3 and I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand. 4 Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy hordes, and the peoples that are with thee: I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts of the field to be devoured. 5 Thou shalt fall upon the open field: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD. 6 And I will send a fire on Magog, and on them that dwell securely in the [4] isles: and they shall know that I am the LORD. 7 And my holy name will I make known in the midst of my people Israel; neither will I suffer my holy name to be profaned any more: and the nations shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Israel. 8 Behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord GOD; this is the day whereof I have spoken. 9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall make fires of the weapons and burn them, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the handstaves, and the spears, and they shall make fires of them seven years: 10 so that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests; for [o] they shall make fires of the weapons: and [q] they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord GOD.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto [r] Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of them that pass through [1] on the east of the sea: and it shall stop them that pass through: and there shall they bury [r] Gog and all his multitude: and they shall call it The valley of [2] [s] Hamon-gog. 12 And [t] seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that [u] they may cleanse the land. 13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them a renown, in the day that [v] I shall be glorified, saith the Lord GOD. 14 And they shall sever out men of continual employment, that shall pass through the land to bury [3] them [4] that pass through, that remain upon the face of the land, [w] to cleanse it: after the end of [w] seven months shall they search. 15 And they that pass through the land shall pass through; and when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he [5] set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of [x] Hamon-gog. 16 And [6] Hamonah shall also be the name of a city. [w] Thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou, [y] son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD: [z] Speak unto [a] the birds of every sort, and to [a] every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to [b] my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh and drink blood. 18 [c] Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them [d] fatlings of Bashan. 19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of [b] my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you. 20 And ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord GOD.

21 And [e] I will set my glory among the nations, and all the nations shall see [f] my judgement that I have executed, and [f] my hand that I have laid upon them. 22 [g] So the house of Israel shall know that I am the LORD their God, from that day and forward. 23 And [h] the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity; because they trespassed against me, and [i] I hid my face from them: [j] so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they fell all of them by the sword. 24 [k] According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions did I unto them; and [i] I hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Now [l] will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon [m] the whole house of Israel; and [n] I will be jealous for my holy name. 26 And they shall [o] bear their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed against me, when [p] they shall dwell securely in their land, and [q] none shall make them afraid; 27 [r] when I have brought them again from the peoples, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, [s] and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations. 28 And [g] they shall know that I am the LORD their God, in that I caused them to go into captivity among the nations, and have gathered them unto their own land; and I will leave none of them any more there; 29 [t] neither will I hide my face any more from them: for [u] I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord GOD.

40 1 [v] In the five and twentieth year [w] of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, [x] in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the selfsame day, [y] the hand of the LORD was upon me, and he brought me thither. 2 In the [z] visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me down upon [a] a very high mountain, whereon was as it were the frame of a city on the south. 3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was [b] a man, whose appearance was [c] like the appearance of brass, with [d] a line of flax in his hand, and [e] a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. 4 And the man said unto me, [f] Son of man, [g] behold with thine eyes, and [g] hear with thine ears, and [h] set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee art thou brought hither: [i] declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel.

5 And behold, [j] a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand [e] a measuring reed of six cubits long, [k] of a cubit and an handbreadth each: so he measured the thickness of the building, one reed; and the height, one reed. 6 Then came he unto [l] the gate which looketh toward the east, and [m] went up the steps thereof; and he measured the threshold of the gate, one reed broad: [1] and the other threshold, one reed broad. 7 And every [2] [n] lodge was one reed long, and one reed broad; and the space between the lodges was five cubits; and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate toward the house was one reed. 8 [3] He measured also the porch of the gate toward the house, one reed. 9 Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; [o] and the [4] posts thereof, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was toward the house. 10 And the [n] lodges of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; [p] they three were of one measure: and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side. 11 And he measured the breadth of the opening of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits; 12 and a border before the lodges, one cubit on this side, and a border, one cubit on that side; and the [n] lodges, six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side. 13 And he measured the gate from the roof of the one [n] lodge to the roof of the other, a breadth of five and twenty cubits; door against door. 14 He made also [q] posts, threescore cubits; and the court reached unto the post, the gate being round about. 15 And from the forefront of the gate at the entrance unto the forefront of the [5] inner porch of the gate were fifty cubits. 16 And there were [r] closed windows to the [n] lodges, and to their [s] posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the [6] arches: and windows were round about inward: and upon each post were [t] palm trees.

17 Then brought he me into [u] the outer court, and, lo, there were [v] chambers and a [w] pavement, made for the court round about: [x] thirty chambers were upon the pavement. 18 And the pavement was by the [7] side of the gates, answerable unto the length of the gates, even the lower pavement. 19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate unto the forefront of the inner court without, an hundred cubits, both on the east and on the north. 20 And [y] the gate of [u] the outer court whose prospect is toward the north, he measured the length thereof and the breadth thereof. 21 And the [n] lodges thereof were three on this side and three on that side; and the posts thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of [z] the first gate: the length thereof was [a] fifty cubits, and the breadth [b] five and twenty cubits. 22 And [c] the windows thereof, and the arches thereof, and [c] the palm trees thereof, were after the measure of the gate whose prospect is toward the east; and [d] they went up unto it by seven steps; and the arches thereof were before them. 23 And there was a gate to [e] the inner court over against the other gate, both on the north and on the east; and [f] he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits. 24 And he led me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south: and [g] he measured the posts thereof and the arches thereof according to these measures. 25 And [h] there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: [g] the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. 26 And [h] there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them: and it had [i] palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side, upon the posts thereof. 27 And there was a gate to [j] the inner court toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south an hundred cubits.

28 Then he brought me to [j] the inner court by the south gate: and [k] he measured the south gate according to these measures; 29 and [l] the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and [m] there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: [m] it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. 30 And there were arches round about, five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad. 31 And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and [t] palm trees were upon the posts thereof: and [n] the going up to it had eight steps. 32 And he brought me into [j] the inner court toward the east: and [o] he measured the gate according to these measures; 33 and [l] the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows therein and in the arches thereof round about: [o] it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. 34 And [p] the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and [t] palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps. 35 And he brought me to [q] the north gate: and [r] he measured it according to these measures; 36 [l] the lodges thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof; and there were windows therein round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. 37 And the posts thereof were toward the outer court; and [t] palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.

38 And [s] a chamber with the door thereof was by the posts at the gates; [t] there they washed the burnt offering. 39 And [1] in the porch of the gate were two [u] tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the [v] burnt offering and the [w] sin offering and the [x] guilt offering. 40 And on the one side without, [2] as one goeth up to the entry of the gate toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side, which belonged to the porch of the gate, were two tables. 41 [y] Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, [z] whereupon they slew the sacrifices. 42 And there were four tables for the burnt offering, [a] of hewn stone, a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the [v] burnt offering and the sacrifice. 43 And the [3] hooks, an handbreadth long, were fastened [4] within round about: and upon the tables was the flesh of the oblation. 44 [5] And without the inner gate were [b] chambers for [c] the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was toward the south: one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward the north. 45 And he said unto me, This [b] chamber, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, [d] the keepers of the charge of the house. 46 And the [b] chamber whose prospect is toward the north is for the priests, [e] the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are [f] the sons of Zadok, which from among the sons of Levi come [g] near to the LORD to minister unto him. 47 And he measured the court, [h] an hundred cubits long, and [h] an hundred cubits broad, foursquare; and [i] the altar was before the house.

48 Then he brought me to [j] the porch of the house, and measured each [k] post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side. 49 [l] The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; [6] even by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were [m] pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

41 1 And he brought me to [a] the temple, and measured the [o] posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the [1] tabernacle. 2 And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the [2] sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, [p] forty cubits, and the breadth, [q] twenty cubits. 3 Then went he [r] inward, and measured each [o] post of the entrance, two cubits: and the entrance, six cubits; and the breadth of the entrance, seven cubits. 4 And he measured [s] the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the [t] temple: and he said unto me, This is [u] the most holy place. 5 Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every [v] side-chamber, four cubits, [w] round about the house on every side. 6 And [v] the side-chambers were in three stories, one over another, and [w] thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which belonged to the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might have hold therein, [x] and not have hold in the wall of the house. 7 And [3] [y] the side-chambers were broader as they encompassed the house higher and higher; for the encompassing of the house went higher and higher round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house continued upward; and [z] so one went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middle chamber. 8 I saw also [4] that the house had [5] a raised basement round about: the foundations of [v] the side-chambers were a full reed [6] of [a] six great cubits. 9 The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-chambers, on the outside, was five cubits: [7] and [b] that which was left was the place of the side-chambers that belonged to the house. 10 And between [c] the chambers was a breadth of [d] twenty cubits round about the house on every side. 11 And the doors of the [e] side-chambers were toward [f] the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of [f] the place that was left was five cubits round about. 12 And the building that was before [g] the separate place at the side toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits. 13 So he measured the house, [h] an hundred cubits long; and [g] the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, [h] an hundred cubits long; 14 also the breadth of the face of the house, and of [g] the separate place toward the east, [h] an hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of [i] the building before [g] the separate place which was at the back thereof, and [j] the galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, [h] an hundred cubits; and the inner temple, and the porches of the court; 16 [k] the thresholds, and [l] the closed windows, and [j] the galleries round about on [m] their three stories, over against the threshold, cieled with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows; now the windows were covered; 17 to the space above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, [8] by measure. 18 And it was made with [n] cherubim and [o] palm trees; and a palm tree was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub had two faces; 19 so that there was [p] the face of a man toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about. 20 From the ground unto above the door were [n] cherubim and [o] palm trees made: [9] thus was the wall of the temple. 21 As for [q] the temple, the door posts were squared; and as for the face of [r] the sanctuary, the appearance thereof was [10] as the appearance of the temple. 22 [s] The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and

[1] the corners thereof, and the [2] length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood: and he said unto me, This is [t] the table that is before the LORD.
23 And [q] the temple and [r] the sanctuary had [u] two doors. 24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, [v] two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other. 25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, [n] cherubim and [o] palm trees, [w] like as were made upon the walls; and there were [x] thick beams of wood [3] upon the face of [y] the porch without. 26 And there were [l] closed windows and [o] palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of [y] the porch: thus were [z] the side-chambers of the house, and the [x] thick beams.

42 1 Then he brought me forth into [a] the outer court, [b] the way toward the north: and he brought me into [a] the chamber that was over against [c] the separate place, and which was over against [d] the building toward the north. 2 Before the length of [e] an hundred cubits was the north door, and [f] the breadth was fifty cubits. 3 Over against [g] the twenty cubits which belonged to the inner court, and over against [h] the pavement which belonged to the outer court, was [i] gallery against gallery [4] in the third story. 4 And [j] before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, [k] a way of [5] one cubit; and [j] their doors were toward the north. 5 Now the upper chambers were shorter: for [i] the galleries took away from these, more than from the lower and the middlemost, in the building. 6 For they were in three stories, and they had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the uppermost was straitened more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground. 7 And [l] the [6] wall that was without by the side of the chambers, toward the outer court before the chambers, [m] the length thereof was fifty cubits. 8 For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits: and, lo, before [n] the temple were [o] an hundred cubits. 9 And from under these chambers was [p] the entry on the east side, as one goeth into them from the outer court. 10 In the thickness of [q] the [6] wall of the court toward the east, before [r] the separate place, and before [r] the building, there were [s] chambers. 11 And [t] the way before them was like the appearance of the way of the chambers which were toward the north; [7] according to their length so was their breadth: and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to [t] their doors. 12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before [q] the [6] wall toward the east, as one entereth into them. 13 Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before [r] the separate place, they be the holy chambers, [u] where the priests that are near unto the LORD [v] shall eat [w] the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and [w] the meal offering, and [x] the sin offering, and [x] the guilt offering; for the place is holy. 14 When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there [y] they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy: and [y] they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which pertaineth to the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth by the way of [z] the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about. 16 He measured on the east [8] side with [a] the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. 17 He measured on the north [8] side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. 18 He measured on the south [8] side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed. 19 He turned about to the west [8] side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. 20 He measured it [9] on the four sides: it had [b] a wall round about, [c] the length five hundred, and [c] the breadth five hundred, [d] to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was common.

43 1 Afterward he brought me to [c] the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east: 2 and behold, [f] the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and [g] his voice was like the sound of many waters: and [h] the earth shined with his glory. 3 And [i] it was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw [j] when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like [k] the vision that I saw [l] by the river Chebar: and [m] I fell upon my face. 4 And [f] the glory of the LORD [n] came into the house by the way of [c] the gate whose prospect is toward the east. 5 And [o] the spirit took me up, and brought me into [p] the inner court; and behold, [q] the glory of the LORD filled the house. 6 [r] And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house; and [s] a man stood by me. 7 And he said unto me, [t] Son of man, this is [u] the place of my throne, and [v] the place of the soles of my feet, [w] where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever: and the house of Israel shall no more [x] defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, and by the carcases of their kings [1] in their high places; 8 in their setting of their threshold by my threshold, and their door post beside my door post, and [y] there was but the wall between me and them; and they have [z] defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger. 9 Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcases of their kings, far from me, [w] and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 Thou, [t] son of man, [a] shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them measure the [2] pattern. 11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, [a] make known unto them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and [b] the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the laws thereof, and write it [c] in their sight: that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them. 12 This is the law of the house: upon the top of [d] the mountain [e] the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

13 And these are the measures of [f] the altar by cubits: (the cubit is [g] a cubit and an handbreadth:) the [3] bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about a span: and this shall be the [4] base of the altar. 14 And from the bottom [5] upon the ground to the lower [6] [h] settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser settle to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth a cubit. 15 And the [7] upper altar shall be four cubits; and from the [8] altar hearth and upward there shall be [i] four horns. 16 And the altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve broad, [j] square in the four sides thereof. 17 And [k] the settle shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen broad in the four sides thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about; and [k] the steps thereof shall look toward the east.

18 And he said unto me, [t] Son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and [m] to sprinkle blood thereon. 19 Thou shalt give to [n] the priests the Levites [o] that be of the seed of Zadok, which are near unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord GOD, [p] a young bullock for a sin offering. 20 And [q] thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on [r] the four horns of it, and on the four corners of [k] the settle, and upon [r] the border round about: [s] thus shalt thou cleanse it and make atonement for it. 21 Thou shalt also take [p] the bullock of the sin offering, and [t] he shall burn it in the appointed place of the house, without the sanctuary. 22 And on the second day thou shalt offer a he-goat without blemish for a sin offering; and [s] they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock. 23 When thou hast made an end [s] of cleansing it, thou shalt offer [p] a young bullock without blemish, and [q] a ram out of the flock without blemish. 24 And thou shalt bring them near before the LORD, and the priests [v] shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto the LORD. 25 [w] Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish. 26 [w] Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it; so shall they [1] consecrate it. 27 And when they have accomplished the days, it shall be that [x] upon the eighth day, and forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your [y] peace offerings; and [z] I will accept you, saith the Lord GOD.

44 1 Then he brought me [a] back the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, [b] which looketh toward the east; and it was shut. 2 And the LORD said unto me, This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it, for [c] the LORD, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it; therefore it shall be shut. 3 As for [d] the prince, he shall sit therein as prince [e] to eat bread before the LORD; [f] he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the same. 4 Then he brought me the way of [g] the north gate before the house; and I looked, and behold, [h] the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD: and [i] I fell upon my face. 5 And the LORD said unto me, [j] Son of man, [2] mark well, and [k] behold with thine eyes, [k] and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning [l] all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the laws thereof; and [2] mark well [l] the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary. 6 And thou shalt say to [m] the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD: O ye house of Israel, [n] let it suffice you of all your abominations, 7 in that [o] ye have brought in aliens, [p] uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, [q] to profane it, even my house, when ye offer [r] my bread, the fat and the blood, and [s] they have broken my covenant, [t] to add unto all your abominations. 8 And [s] ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have set keepers of my charge in my sanctuary for yourselves. 9 Thus saith the Lord GOD, [t] No alien, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any alien that is among the children of Israel. 10 But [u] the Levites that went far from me, [v] when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idols; [w] they shall bear their iniquity. 11 Yet they shall be [x] ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight [y] at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and [z] they shall stand before them to minister unto them. 12 Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and became [a] a stumblingblock of iniquity unto the house of Israel; therefore have I [b] lifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord GOD, and [w] they shall bear their iniquity. 13 And [c] they shall not come near unto me, to execute the office of priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, unto the things that are most holy: but [d] they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed. 14 Yet will I make them keepers of [e] the charge of the house, [f] for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 But [g] the priests the Levites, [g] the sons of Zadok, that kept [e] the charge of my sanctuary [v] when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me [h] to minister unto me; and they shall stand before me to offer unto me [i] the fat and the blood, saith the Lord GOD: 16 they shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to [j] my table, [h] to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge. 17 And it shall be that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed [k] with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, whiles they minister in the gates of the inner court, and [l] within. 18 They shall have linen tires upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves with any thing that causeth sweat. 19 And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they minister, [l] and lay them in the holy chambers, and [m] they shall put on other garments, [n] that they sanctify not the people with their garments. 20 [o] Neither shall they shave their heads, nor [p] suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll their heads. 21 [q] Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner court. 22 [r] Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away: but they shall take virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that is the widow of a priest. 23 And [s] they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and the common, and [s] cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean. 24 And [t] in a controversy they shall stand to judge; according to my judgements shall they judge it: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts; and [u] they shall hallow my sabbaths. 25 [v] And they shall come at no dead person to defile themselves: but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister that hath had no husband, they may defile themselves. 26 [w] And after he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days. 27 And in the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, [x] into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, [y] he shall offer his sin offering, saith the Lord GOD. 28 [z] And they shall have an inheritance: I am their inheritance: and [a] ye shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession. 29 [b] They shall eat the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the guilt offering; and [c] every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs. 30 [d] And the first of all the first-fruits of every thing, and every [2] oblation of every thing, of all your oblations, shall be for the priests: [e] ye shall also give unto the priest the first of your [3] dough, [f] to cause a blessing to rest on thine house. 31 [g] The priests shall not eat of [4] any thing that dieth of itself, or is torn, whether it be fowl or beast.

45 1 Moreover, when [i] ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, [j] ye shall offer an oblation unto the LORD, [4] an holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be [5] ten thousand: it shall be holy in all the border thereof round about. 2 [k] Of this there shall be for the holy place five hundred in length by five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits for [l] the [6] suburbs thereof round about. 3 And [m] of this measure shalt thou measure, a length of five and twenty thousand, and a breadth of ten thousand: and [n] in it shall be the sanctuary, [o] which is most holy. 4 [p] It is an holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, which come near to minister unto the LORD; and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the sanctuary. 5 [q] And five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth, shall be unto the Levites, the ministers of the house, for a possession unto themselves, for [7] twenty chambers. 6 [r] And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, side by side with the oblation of the holy portion: [s] it shall be for the whole house of Israel. 7 [t] And whatsoever is for [u] the prince shall be on the one side and on the other side of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy oblation and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward: and in length answerable unto one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border. 8 [8] In the land it shall be to him for a possession in Israel: and [v] my princes shall no more oppress my people; but [w] they shall give the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord GOD: [x] Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel: remove violence and spoil, and execute judgement and justice; take away [y] your [1] exactions from my people, saith the Lord GOD. 10 [z] Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath. 11 The ephah and the bath shall be [a] of one measure, [b] that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer. 12 And [c] the shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your maneh. 13 [d] This is the oblation that ye shall offer; the sixth part of an ephah from an homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an ephah from an homer of barley: 14 and the set portion of oil, of the bath of oil, shall be the tenth part of a bath out of [e] the cor, which is ten baths, even an homer; for [f] ten baths are an homer: 15 and one lamb of the flock, out of two hundred, from the [2] fat pastures of Israel; for a meal offering, and for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, [g] to make atonement for them, saith the Lord GOD. 16 All the people of the land [h] shall give unto [i] this oblation for the prince in Israel. 17 [k] And it shall be the prince's part to give the burnt offerings, and the meal offerings, and the drink offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the sabbaths, in all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin offering, and the meal offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings, [g] to make atonement for the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the first month, [l] in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish; and [j] thou shalt cleanse the sanctuary. 19 And [k] the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it [l] upon the door posts of the house, and upon the four corners of [m] the [4] settle of the altar, and [l] upon the posts of [n] the gate of the inner court. 20 And so thou shalt do [5] on the seventh day of the month for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple: [g] so shall ye make atonement for the house. 21 [o] In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten. 22 And upon that day [p] shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock for a sin offering. 23 And [q] the seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the LORD, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; and [r] a he-goat daily for a sin offering. 24 And [s] he shall prepare [t] a meal offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an hin of oil to an ephah. 25 [u] In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; [v] according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meal offering, and according to the oil.

46 1 Thus saith the Lord GOD: [w] The gate of [x] the inner court that looketh toward the east shall be shut the six working days; but on the sabbath day it shall be opened, and [y] in the day of the new moon it shall be opened. 2 And [z] the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate without, and shall stand by [a] the post of the gate, and [b] the priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at [c] the threshold of the gate; then he shall go forth: but the gate shall not be shut until the evening. 3 And [d] the people of the land shall worship at the door of that gate before the LORD in the sabbaths [y] and in the new moons. 4 And [e] the burnt offering that the prince shall offer unto the LORD shall be [f] in the sabbath day six lambs without blemish and a ram without blemish; 5 and [g] the meal offering shall be an ephah for the ram, and the meal offering for the lambs [h] as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah. 6 And [y] in the day of the new moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish; and six lambs, and a ram; they shall be without blemish: 7 and he shall prepare [g] a meal offering, an ephah for the bullock, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs [i] according as [1] he is able, and an hin of oil to an ephah. 8 And [j] when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of the gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof. 9 But [k] when the people of the land [l] shall come before the LORD in the appointed feasts, he that entereth by the way of the north gate to worship shall go forth by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth straight before him. 10 And [m] the prince, when they go in, shall go in in the midst of them; and when they go forth, [2] they shall go forth together. 11 And in the feasts and in the [3] solemnities [o] the meal offering shall be an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs [i] as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah. 12 And when the prince shall prepare [n] a freewill offering, a burnt offering or peace offerings as a freewill offering unto the LORD, one shall open for him [o] the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, [p] as he doth on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate. 13 And [q] thou shalt prepare a lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering unto the LORD daily: morning by morning shalt thou prepare it. 14 And [r] thou shalt prepare a meal offering with it morning by morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to [4] moisten the fine flour; a meal offering unto the LORD continually by a perpetual ordinance. 15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meal offering, and the oil, morning by morning, for [s] a continual burnt offering.

16 Thus saith the Lord GOD: If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, it is his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons; it is their possession by inheritance. 17 But if he give [t] of his inheritance a gift to one of his servants, it shall be his to [u] the year of liberty; then it shall return to the prince; but as for his inheritance, it shall be for his sons. 18 Moreover [v] the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance, [w] to [5] thrust them out of their possession; he shall give inheritance to his sons out of his own possession: that my people be not [x] scattered every man from his possession.

19 Then he brought me through the entry, which was [y] at the side of the gate, into [z] the holy chambers for the priests, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the hinder part westward. 20 And he said unto me, This is the place where the priests [a] shall boil the guilt offering and the sin offering, where [b] they shall bake the meal offering; that they bring them not forth into the outer court, [c] to sanctify the people. 21 Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court. 22 In the four corners of the court there were courts [6] inclosed, forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four in the corners were of one measure. 23 And there was a row of building round about in them, round about the four, and it was made with boiling places under the rows round about. 24 Then said he unto me, These are the boiling houses, where [d] the ministers of the house [a] shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

47 1 And he brought me back unto [e] the door of the house; and behold, [f] waters issued out from under [g] the threshold of the house eastward, for the forefront of the house was toward the east: and the waters came down from under, from the right side of the house, on the south of [h] the altar. 2 Then brought he me out by the way of [i] the gate northward, and led me round by the way without unto [j] the outer gate, by the way of the gate that looketh toward the cast; and behold, f there [1] ran out waters on the right side. 3 When k the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. 4 Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the loins. 5 Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through: for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through. 6 And he said unto me, l Son of man, m hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the bank of the river. 7 Now when I had returned, behold, upon the bank of the river were n very many trees on the one side and on the other. 8 Then said he unto me, These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into o the Arabah: and they shall go toward the sea; into p the sea shall the waters go which were made to issue forth; and the waters shall be healed. 9 And it shall come to pass, that q every living creature which swarmeth, in every place whither the [2] rivers come, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish: for these waters are come thither, [3] and the waters of the sea shall be healed, and every thing shall live whithersoever the river cometh. 10 And it shall come to pass, that fishers shall stand by it: from r En-gedi even unto s En-eglaim shall be a place for the spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their kinds, as the fish of t the great sea, exceeding many. 11 But the miry places thereof, and the marishes thereof, shall not be healed; they shall be [4] given up to salt. 12 And by the river upon the bank thereof, u on this side and on that side, shall grow v every tree for meat, w whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall the fruit thereof fail: x it shall bring forth [5] new fruit every month, because the waters thereof issue out of the sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and x the leaf thereof for healing.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD: This shall be the border, whereby y ye shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: z Joseph shall have [6] portions. 14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another; [7] concerning the which a I lifted up mine hand b to give it unto your fathers: and c this land shall fall unto you for inheritance. 15 And this shall be the border of the land: on the north side, from d the great sea, by d the way of Hethlon, unto the entering in of e Zedad; 16 d Hamath, f Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of g Damascus and the border of d Hamath; [8] Hazer-hatticon, which is by the border of Hauran. 17 And the border from the sea shall be h Hazar-enon at the border of g Damascus, and on the north northward is the border of d Hamath. This is the north side. 18 And the east side, between Hauran and g Damascus and i Gilead, and the land of Israel, shall be Jordan; from the north border unto j the east sea shall ye measure. This is the east side. 19 And the south side southward shall be from k Tamar as far as l the waters of Meriboth-kadesh, to m the brook of Egypt, unto t the great sea. This is the south side southward. 20 And the west side shall be t the great sea, from the south border as far as over against d the entering in of Hamath. This is the west side. 21 n So shall ye divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Israel. 22 And it shall come to pass, that o ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you and p to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you; and q they shall be unto you as the homeborn among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. 23 And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord GOD.

48 1 Now these are the names of the tribes: from the north end, beside r the way of Heth-had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: 12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, [v]ten days; and let them give us [1]pulse to eat, and water to drink. 13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the youths that eat of [k]the king's meat; and as thou seest, deal with thy servants. 14 So he hearkened unto them in this matter, and proved them ten days. 15 And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer, and they were fatter in flesh, than all the youths which did eat of [k]the king's meat. 16 [w]So [2]the steward took away their meat, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them [x]pulse. 17 Now as for these four youths, [y]God gave them knowledge and [z]skill in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had [a]understanding in all visions and dreams. 18 And at the end of [b]the days which the king had [3]appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. 19 And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore [c]stood they before the king. 20 And in every matter of wisdom and understanding, concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all [d]the magicians and [e]enchanters that were in all his realm. 21 And Daniel [f]continued even unto the first year of [g]king Cyrus.

2 1 And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams; and [h]his spirit was troubled, and [i]his sleep brake from him. 2 Then the king commanded to call [d]the magicians, and [e]the enchanters, and the [j]sorcerers, and [k]the Chaldeans, for to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and [l]stood before the king. 3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and [h]my spirit is troubled to know the dream. 4 Then spake [k]the Chaldeans to the king [4]in the Syrian language, [5][m]O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. 5 The king answered and said to [k]the Chaldeans, [6]The thing is gone from me: if ye make not known unto me the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall be [n]cut in pieces, [n]and your [o]houses shall be made a dunghill. 6 But if ye shew the dream and the interpretation thereof, [p]ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour: [q]therefore shew me the dream and the interpretation thereof. 7 They answered the second time and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. 8 The king answered and said, I know of a certainty that ye would [7][r]gain time, because ye see [8]the thing is gone from me. 9 But if ye make not known unto me the dream, [s]there is but one law for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till [t]the time be changed: [u]therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof. 10 [v]The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter: forasmuch as no king, [9]lord, nor ruler, hath asked such a thing of any magician, or enchanter, or [v]Chaldean. 11 And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except [w]the gods, [x]whose dwelling is not with flesh. 12 For this cause the king was angry and [y]very furious, and [z]commanded to destroy all [a]the wise men of Babylon. 13 So the decree went forth, and the wise men were to be slain; and they sought [b]Daniel and his companions to be slain. 14 Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to [c]Arioch the [d]captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon; 15 he answered and said to [c]Arioch the king's captain, Wherefore is the decree [e]so urgent from the king? Then [c]Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. 16 And Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would [10]appoint him a time, [11]and he would shew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to f Hananiah, f Mishael, and f Azariah, his companions: 18 g that they would desire mercies of the h God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his companions should not i perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. 19 Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in j a vision of the night. Then Daniel k blessed the h God of heaven. 20 Daniel answered and said, l Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: m for wisdom and might are his: 21 and n he changeth the times and the seasons: o he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: p he giveth wisdom unto the wise, p and knowledge to them that know understanding: 22 q he revealeth the deep and secret things: q he knoweth what is in the darkness, r and the light dwelleth with him. 23 s I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou t God of my fathers, u who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast now made known unto me what v we desired of thee: for thou hast made known unto us the king's matter. 24 Therefore Daniel went in unto w Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus unto him; Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then w Arioch brought in Daniel before the king x in haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man y of the children of the captivity of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation. 26 The king answered and said to Daniel, z whose name was Belteshazzar, a Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof? 27 Daniel answered before the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded can neither wise men, b enchanters, b magicians, nor c soothsayers, shew unto the king; 28 but d there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and he hath made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar e what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and f the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these: 29 as for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: g and he that revealeth secrets hath made known to thee what shall come to pass. 30 But h as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that i thou mayest know the thoughts of thy heart. 31 Thou, O king, sawest, and behold a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the aspect thereof was terrible. 32 As for this image, j his head was of fine gold, k his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and k his thighs of brass, 33 l his legs of iron, his feet part of iron, and part of clay. 34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out m without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and n brake them in pieces. 35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, n broken in pieces together, and became o like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, that p no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became q a great [1] mountain, r and filled the whole earth. 36 This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king. 37 Thou, O king, art s king of kings, unto whom t the God of heaven u hath given the kingdom, the power, and the strength, and the glory; 38 and wheresoever the children of men dwell, v the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee to rule over them all: thou art w the head of gold. 39 And after thee shall arise x another kingdom inferior to thee; and another third kingdom w of brass, y which shall bear rule over all the earth. 40 And z the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron a breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that crusheth all these, shall it a break in pieces and crush. 41 And whereas thou sawest b the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it of the [e] the God of heaven set up [d] a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed, nor shall the sovereignty thereof be left to another people; but [e] it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and [d] it shall stand for ever. 45 Forasmuch as [f] thou sawest that [g] a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that [e] it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the [h] great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure. 46 Then the king Nebuchadnezzar [i] fell upon his face, and [j] worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should [k] offer an oblation and [l] sweet odours unto him. 47 The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth your [m] God is the God of gods, and [n] the Lord of kings, and [o] a revealer of secrets, seeing thou hast been able to reveal this secret. 48 Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great [p] gifts, and made him to rule over the whole [q] province of Babylon, and to be [r] chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. 49 And Daniel requested of the king, and he [s] appointed [t] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of [q] the province of Babylon: but Daniel was [4] in [u] the gate of the king.

3 1 Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in [v] the plain of Dura, in [w] the province of Babylon. 2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together [x] the satraps, the deputies, and [y] the governors, the [5] judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the [6] sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 3 Then [x] the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the [5] judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the [6] sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. 4 Then the herald [z] cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O [a] peoples, nations, and languages, 5 that at what time ye hear the [b] sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, [7] dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye [c] fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up: 6 and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour [d] be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 7 Therefore at that time, when all the peoples heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all [e] the peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 8 Wherefore at that time certain [e] Chaldeans [f] came near, and brought accusation against the Jews. 9 They answered and said to Nebuchadnezzar the king, [g] O king, live for ever. 10 Thou, O king, [h] hast made a decree, that every man that shall [i] hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, [i] shall fall down and worship the golden image: 11 and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, [d] shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast [j] appointed over the affairs of [w] the province of Babylon, [k] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego; these men, O king, [l] have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up. 13 Then Nebuchadnezzar [m] in his rage and fury commanded to bring [k] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then they brought these men before the king. 14 Nebuchadnezzar answered and said unto them, Is it of purpose, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, that ye serve not my god, nor worship the golden image which I have set up? 15 Now if ye be ready that at what time [a] ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, [d] ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and [o] who is that god that shall deliver you out of my hands? 16 [k] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, [1] we have no need to answer thee in this matter. 17 [2] If it be so, [p] our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king. 18 But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up. 19 Then was Nebuchadnezzar [q] full of fury, and the form of his visage [r] was changed against [k] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was wont to be heated. 20 And he commanded certain mighty men that were in his army [s] to bind [k] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. 21 Then these men were [s] bound in their hosen, their [3] tunics, and their mantles, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. 22 Therefore because the king's commandment was [t] urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire [u] slew those men that took up [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. 23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down [s] bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. 24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was [w] astonied, and rose up [x] in haste: he spake and said unto his [y] counsellors, Did not we cast three men [z] bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king. 25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, [a] walking in the midst of the fire, and they [b] have no hurt; and the aspect of the fourth is like [c] a son of the gods. 26 Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the [4] mouth of the burning fiery furnace: he spake and said, [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the [d] Most High God, come forth, and come hither. Then [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, [e] came forth out of the midst of the fire. 27 And the [f] satraps, the deputies, and the governors, and [y] the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, that [g] the fire had no power upon their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their [h] hosen changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them. 28 Nebuchadnezzar spake and said, Blessed be the God of [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who [i] hath sent his angel, and [j] delivered his servants that [k] trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not [l] serve nor worship any god, except their own God. 29 Therefore [m] I make a decree, that every [n] people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amiss against the God of [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, [o] shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill: because there is no other god that is able to deliver after this sort. 30 Then the king promoted [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, in [p] the province of Babylon.

4 1 Nebuchadnezzar the king, unto all the [q] peoples, nations, and languages, [r] that dwell in all the earth; [s] peace be multiplied unto you. 2 It hath seemed good unto me to shew the [t] signs and wonders that the [u] Most High God hath wrought toward me. 3 How great are [t] his signs! and how mighty are his [t] wonders! [v] his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, [v] and his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace. 5 I saw a dream which made me afraid; and the [1]thoughts upon my bed and [w]the visions of my head troubled me. 6 Therefore [x]made I a decree to bring in [y]all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream. 7 Then came in [z]the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them; but [a]they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof. 8 But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was [b]Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is [c]the spirit of the holy gods: and I told the dream before him, saying, 9 O Belteshazzar, [d]master of the magicians, because I know that [c]the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no [e]secret troubleth thee, tell me [w]the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof. 10 Thus were [w]the visions of my head upon my bed: I saw, and [f]behold a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great. 11 [g]The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth. 12 [h]The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: [i]the beasts of the field had [j]shadow under it, and [i]the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the branches thereof, and all flesh was fed of it. 13 I saw in [w]the visions of my head upon my bed, and, behold, [k]a watcher and [l]an holy one came down from heaven. 14 He [m]cried aloud, and said thus, [n]Hew down the tree, and [o]cut off his branches, [o]shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit: [o]let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches. 15 Nevertheless leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth: 16 let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; [p]and let seven times [q]pass over him. 17 The sentence is by the decree of [k]the watchers, and the [2]demand by the word of [l]the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know that the Most High [r]ruleth in the kingdom of men, [s]and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and [t]setteth up over it the lowest of men. 18 This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen: and thou, O [b]Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, forasmuch as [u]all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able, for [v]the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was [b]Belteshazzar, was [w]astonied for a while, and [x]his thoughts troubled him. The king answered and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, [y]the dream be to them that hate thee, [y]and the interpretation thereof to thine adversaries. 20 [z]The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth; 21 [a]whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation: 22 [b]it is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong: [c]for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, [c]and thy dominion to the end of the earth. 23 And whereas the king saw [d]a watcher and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, [e]Hew down the tree, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till [f]seven times pass over him; 24 this is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king: 25 [g]that thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and thou shalt be made [h]to eat grass as oxen, and shalt be wet with the dew of heaven, and [f]seven times shall pass over thee; till [i]thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. 26 And whereas they commanded j to leave the stump of the tree roots; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule. 27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and [1] break off thy sins by k righteousness, l and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor; m if there may be [2] a lengthening of thy tranquillity. 28 All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar. 29 At the end of twelve months he was walking [3] in the royal palace of Babylon. 30 The king spake and said, n Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for the royal dwelling place, by o the might of my power and for o the glory of my majesty? 31 p While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken: the kingdom is departed from thee. 32 q And thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee; q until thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. 33 The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and q he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hair was grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws. 34 And r at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and s mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured t him that liveth for ever; u for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and u his kingdom from generation to generation: 35 v and all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and w he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: x and none can [4] stay his hand, or y say unto him, What doest thou? 36 At the same time z mine understanding returned unto me; and for a the glory of my kingdom, a my majesty and brightness returned unto me; and b my counsellors and c my lords sought unto me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent greatness was d added unto me. 37 Now I Nebuchadnezzar e praise and extol and honour the f King of heaven; g for all his works are truth, and his ways judgement: and h those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

5 1 i Belshazzar the king j made a great feast to a thousand of his k lords, and drank wine before the thousand. 2 i Belshazzar, whiles he tasted the wine, [5] commanded to bring l the golden and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, might drink therein. 3 Then they brought l the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, drank in them. 4 They drank wine, and m praised the n gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone. 5 o In the same hour came forth p the fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaister of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw q the part of the hand that wrote. 6 r Then the king's [6] countenance was changed in him, s and his thoughts troubled him; and the joints of t his loins were loosed, and u his knees smote one against another. 7 v The king cried aloud to bring in v the enchanters, the w Chaldeans, and x the soothsayers. The king spake and said to the wise men of Babylon, y Whosoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and z shall b be the third ruler in the kingdom. 8 Then came in all the king's wise men: but a they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation. 9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly b troubled, r and his countenance was changed in him, and his received the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

6 1 It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom [u] an hundred and twenty [v] satraps, which should be throughout the whole kingdom; 2 and over them [w] three presidents, of whom Daniel was one; that these [v] satraps might give account unto them, and that the king should have no damage. 3 Then this Daniel was [x] distinguished above [w] the presidents and [v] the satraps, because [y] an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought [z] to set him over the whole realm. 4 Then [w] the presidents and [v] the satraps [a] sought to find occasion against Daniel as touching the kingdom; [b] but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, [b] neither was there any error or fault found in him. 5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God. 6 Then these [w] presidents and [v] satraps [1] assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, [c] King Darius, live for ever. 7 All the [w] presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the satraps, the [d] counsellors and the governors, have consulted together [2] to establish a royal statute, and to make a strong [e] interdict, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. 8 Now, O king, establish [e] the interdict, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to [f] the law of [g] the Medes and Persians, [h] which [3] altereth not. 9 Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and [e] the interdict. 10 And when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; ([i] now his windows were open in his chamber [j] toward Jerusalem;) and he kneeled upon his knees [k] three times a day, and prayed, and [l] gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime. 11 Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. 12 Then they [m] came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's interdict; Hast thou not signed [n] an interdict, that every man that shall make petition unto any god or man within thirty days, save unto thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of [g] the Medes and Persians, [h] which [3] altereth not. 13 Then answered they and said before the king, That [o] Daniel, which is [p] of the children of the captivity [o] of Judah, [q] regardeth not thee, O king, nor [n] the interdict that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition [k] three times a day. 14 Then [r] the king, when he heard these words, [r] was sore displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to rescue him. 15 Then these men assembled together unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no [n] interdict nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed. 16 [s] Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, [t] Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee. 17 [u] And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; [v] and the king sealed it [w] with his own signet, and with the signet of his [x] lords; [4] that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. 18 Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: [y] neither were [5] instruments of music brought before him: and [z] his sleep fled from him. 19 Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. 20 And when he came near unto the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice: the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of [a] the living God, [t] is thy God, whom thou servest continually, [b] able to deliver thee from the lions? 21 Then said Daniel unto the king, [c] O king, live for ever. 22 My God [d] hath sent his angel, [e] and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me: forasmuch as [f] before him innocency was found in me; [f] and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt. 23 Then was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and [g] no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted in his God. 24 And the king commanded, and [h] they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces, or ever they came at the bottom of the den.

25 Then king Darius wrote unto all [i] the peoples, nations, and languages, [j] that dwell in all the earth; [k] Peace be multiplied unto you. 26 [l] I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom [m] men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: for [n] he is [o] the living God, and stedfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, [o] and his dominion shall be even [p] unto the end: 27 he delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh [q] signs and wonders in heaven and in earth; who hath [r] delivered Daniel from the power of the lions. 28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in [s] the reign of [t] Cyrus the Persian.

7 1 In the first year of [u] Belshazzar king of Babylon [v] Daniel [1] had a dream and [w] visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream and told the sum of the matters. 2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, [x] the four winds of the heaven brake forth upon the great sea. 3 And four great beasts [y] came up from the sea, diverse one from another. 4 The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand upon two feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it. 5 And behold [z] another beast, a second, like to a bear, and [2] it was raised up on one side, and three ribs were in his mouth between his teeth: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. 6 After this I beheld, and lo another, like a [a] leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and [b] dominion was given to it. 7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold [c] a fourth beast, [d] terrible and [3] powerful, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: [d] it devoured and brake in pieces, [d] and stamped the residue with his feet: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and [e] it had ten horns. 8 I considered the horns, and, behold, [f] there came up among them another horn, a little one, [f] before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and [g] a mouth speaking great things. 9 I beheld till [h] thrones were [4] placed, and one that was [i] ancient of days did sit: [j] his raiment was white as snow, and [k] the hair of his head like pure wool; his throne was fiery flames, and [l] the wheels thereof burning fire. 10 [m] A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: [n] thousand thousands [o] ministered unto him, [n] and ten thousand times ten thousand [p] stood before him: the [q] judgement was set, and [r] the books were opened. 11 I beheld at that time because of the voice of [g] the great words which the horn spake; I beheld even till [s] the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, [s] and he was given [5] to be burned with fire. 12 And as for the rest of the beasts, [t] their dominion was taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. 13 I saw in the night visions, and, [u] behold, there came with the clouds of heaven one like unto a son of man, and he came even to the [i] ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. 14 [v] And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all [w] the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him: [x] his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

15 As for me Daniel, my spirit was grieved in the midst of [6] my body, and [y] the visions of my head troubled me. 16 I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

17 These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth. 18 But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.
19 Then I desired to know the truth concerning the fourth beast, which was diverse from all of them, exceeding terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet; 20 and concerning the ten horns that were on his head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell; even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.
21 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; 22 until the ancient of days came, and judgement was given [1] to the saints of the Most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.
23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall [2] tread it down, and break it in pieces. 24 And as for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise: and another shall arise after them; and he shall be diverse from the former, and he shall put down three kings.
25 And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High: and he shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time. 26 But the judgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end.
27 And the kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High: his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him.
28 Here is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my thoughts much troubled me, and my [4] countenance was changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

8 1 In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first. 2 And I saw in the vision; now it was so, that when I saw, I was in Shushan the [5] palace, which is in the province of Elam; and I saw in the vision, and I was by the river Ulai.
3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last.
4 I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; and no beasts could stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; but he did according to his will, and magnified himself. 5 And as I was considering, behold, an he-goat came from the west over the face of the whole earth, and [6] touched not the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes. 6 And he came to the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and ran upon him in the fury of his power. 7 And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to stand before him: but he cast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him; and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand. 8 And the he-goat magnified himself exceedingly: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four notable horns toward the four winds of heaven. 9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the glorious land.
10 And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and some of the host and of the stars it cast down to the ground, and trampled upon them. 11 Yea, it magnified itself, even to the prince of the host; [x] and [1] it took away from him the continual burnt offering, [y] and the place of his sanctuary was cast down. 12 And [2] the host was given over to it together with the continual burnt offering through transgression; and it cast down truth to the ground, and [z] it did its pleasure and prospered. 13 Then I heard [a] a holy one speaking; and another holy one said unto that certain one which spake, [b] How long shall be the vision concerning the continual burnt offering, and [c] the transgression that maketh desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot? 14 And he said [3] unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred [d] evenings and mornings; [e] then shall the sanctuary be [4] cleansed.

15 And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, that I [f] sought [5] to understand it; and, behold, there stood before me as [g] the appearance of a man. 16 [h] And I heard a man's voice [h] between the banks of [i] Ulai, which called, and said, [j] Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision. 17 So he came near where I stood; and when he came, [k] I was affrighted, [l] and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, [m] O son of man; for the vision belongeth [n] to the time of the end. 18 Now as he was speaking with me, [o] I fell into a deep sleep with my face toward the ground: but [p] he touched me, and set me [6] upright. 19 And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the latter time of [q] the indignation: for it belongeth to [r] the appointed time of the end. 20 [s] The ram which thou sawest that had the two horns, they are the kings of [t] Media and Persia. 21 And [u] the rough he-goat is [v] the king of [7] Greece: and [w] the great horn that is between his eyes is [w] the first king. 22 [x] And as for that which was broken, in the place whereof four stood up, [y] four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, [z] but not with his power. 23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, [a] when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up. 24 And his power shall be mighty, [b] but not [8] by his own power; and he shall [9] destroy wonderfully, [c] and shall prosper and do his pleasure: [d] and he shall [9] destroy the mighty ones [e] and [10] the holy people. 25 [f] And through his policy he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and [g] he shall magnify himself in his heart, and [h] in their security shall he [9] destroy many: he [g] shall also stand up against the prince of princes; [i] but he shall be broken [j] without hand. 26 And the vision of [k] the evenings and mornings which hath been told [l] is true: but [m] shut thou up the vision; [n] for it belongeth to many days to come. 27 And [o] I Daniel fainted, and was sick certain days; then I rose up, and did the king's business: and I was astonished at the vision, [11] [p] but none understood it.

1 [q] In the first year of [r] Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the [s] Medes, which was made king over the realm of the [t] Chaldeans; 2 in the first year of his reign I Daniel understood by the books the number of the years, whereof [u] the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet, for the accomplishing of the desolations of Jerusalem, even seventy years. 3 And I set my face unto the Lord God, [12] to seek by [v] prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes. 4 And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and [w] made confession, and said, [x] O Lord, the [x] great and dreadful God, which [y] keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments; 5 [z] we have sinned, and have dealt perversely, and have done wickedly, [a] and have rebelled, even turning aside from thy precepts and from thy judgements: 6 [b] neither have we hearkened unto [c] thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to [d] our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. 7 [e] O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, f that are near, f and that are far off, through g all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of h their trespass that they have trespassed against thee. 8 i O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, i to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because z we have sinned against thee. 9 j To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses; l for we have rebelled against him; 10 b neither have we obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by c his servants the prophets. 11 Yea, k all Israel have transgressed thy law, even turning aside, l that they should not obey thy voice: m therefore hath the curse been poured out upon us, and the oath n that is written in the law of o Moses the servant of God; for z we have sinned against him. 12 And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against p our judges that judged us, by q bringing upon us a great evil: r for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem. 13 n As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: s yet have we not intreated the favour of the LORD our God, t that we should turn from our iniquities, and 2 have discernment in thy truth. 14 u Therefore hath the LORD watched over the evil, and brought it upon us: v for the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth, and w we have not obeyed his voice. 15 And now, x O Lord our God, z that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt y with a mighty hand, and z hast gotten thee renown, as at this day; a we have sinned, we have done wickedly. 16 O Lord, b according to all thy 3 righteousness, c let thine anger and thy fury, I pray thee, be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, d thy holy mountain: e because for our sins, and for f the iniquities of our fathers, g Jerusalem and thy people are become h a reproach to all that are round about us. 17 Now therefore, O our God, hearken unto the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplications, and i cause thy face to shine upon j thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. 18 k O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold l our desolations, and m the city which is called by thy name: n for we do not 4 present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies. 19 O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; o defer not; p for thine own sake, O my God, because m thy city and q thy people are called by thy name.

20 r And whiles I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for s the holy mountain of my God; 21 yea, whiles I was speaking in prayer, the man t Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, 5 being caused to fly swiftly, 6 u touched me about v the time of the evening oblation. 22 And w he 7 instructed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to make thee z skilful of understanding. 23 y At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment went forth, z and I am come to tell thee; for a thou art 8 greatly beloved: therefore consider the matter, b and understand the vision. 24 c Seventy weeks are decreed upon thy people and upon d thy holy city, 9 to finish 10 e transgression, and 11 to make an end of sins, f and to 12 make reconciliation for iniquity, and g to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up vision and 13 prophecy, and h to anoint 14 the most holy. 25 i Know therefore and discern, that j from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to k build Jerusalem unto 15 l the anointed one, m the prince, shall be 16 seven weeks: and threescore and two weeks, it shall be built again, with street and moat, n even in troublous times. 26 And o after the threescore and two weeks shall l the anointed one p be cut off, and 17 shall have nothing: and the people of the prince that shall come [q] shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; [r] and [1] his end shall be with a flood, [s] and even unto the end shall be war; [t] desolations are determined.

27 And he shall make a firm covenant with many for one week: and [2] for the half of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the [3] oblation to cease; [u] and [4] upon the wing of abominations shall come one that maketh desolate; and even unto [v] the consummation, and that determined, shall wrath be poured out upon the [5] desolator.

10 1 [w] In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a thing was revealed unto Daniel, [x] whose name was called Belteshazzar; and [y] the thing was true, even a great warfare: and [z] he understood the thing, and [z] had understanding of the vision. 2 In those days I Daniel was mourning [a] three whole weeks. 3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I [b] anoint myself at all, till [a] three whole weeks were fulfilled. 4 And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was [c] by the side of the great river, [d] which is [6] Hiddekel, 5 [e] I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold [f] a man clothed in linen, whose loins were [g] girded with pure [h] gold of Uphaz: 6 his body also was like [i] the beryl, and his face [j] as the appearance of lightning, and [k] his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and [l] his feet like in colour to burnished brass, and [l] the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.
7 [m] And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw not the vision; but a great quaking fell upon them, and they fled to hide themselves. 8 So I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and [n] there remained no strength in me: for my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, [o] and I retained no strength. 9 Yet heard I the voice of his words: [p] and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I fallen into a deep sleep on my face, [p] with my face toward the ground. 10 And, behold, [q] a hand touched me, which [7] set me upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands. 11 And he said unto me, O Daniel, [r] thou man greatly beloved, [s] understand the words that I speak unto thee, and [s] stand upright; for unto thee [t] am I now sent: and when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling. 12 Then said he unto me, [u] Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst [v] set thine heart to understand, and to [v] humble thyself before thy God, [w] thy words were heard: [x] and I am come for thy words' sake. 13 But [y] the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me [z] one and twenty days; but, lo, [a] Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me: and I [8] remained there with the kings of Persia. 14 [x] Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people [b] in the latter days: for [c] the vision is yet for many days. 15 And when he had spoken unto me according to these words, [d] I set my face toward the ground, [e] and was dumb. 16 And, behold, [f] one like the similitude of the sons of men [g] touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by reason of the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and [h] I retain no strength. 17 For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither was there breath left in me. 18 Then there [g] touched me again [f] one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me. 19 And he said, [i] O man greatly beloved, [j] fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he spake unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me. 20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the [k] prince of Persia: and when I go forth, lo, the [l] prince of [9] Greece shall come. 21 But I will tell thee that which is inscribed in [m] the writing of truth: and there is none that [10] holdeth with me [11] against these, but [n] Michael your prince. 1 And as for me, o in the first year of o Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee p the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and when he is waxed strong through his riches, [1] he shall stir up all against the realm of [2] Greece. 3 And q a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and r do according to his will. 4 And when he shall stand up, s his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided t toward the [t] four winds of heaven; but [u] not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion wherewith he ruled: for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others beside these. 5 And the king of the south [3] shall be strong, and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, v and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion. 6 And at the end of years w they shall join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make [4] an agreement: but she shall not retain the strength of her arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in those times. 7 But out of a shoot from her roots shall one stand up in his [5] place, which shall come [6] unto the army, and shall enter into the x fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail: 8 and also their gods, with their [7] molten images, and with their goodly y vessels of silver and of gold, shall he carry captive into Egypt; and he shall [8] refrain some years from the king of the north. 9 And he shall come into the realm of the king of the south, but he shall return into his own land. 10 And his sons shall war, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces, [9] which shall come on, z and overflow, and pass through: and [10] they shall return and war, even to his x fortress. 11 And the king of the south shall be a moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: b and he shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be given into his hand. 12 And the multitude shall [11] be lifted up, and his heart shall be exalted: and he shall cast down tens of thousands, but he shall not prevail. 13 And the king of the north shall return, c and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former; and he shall come on at the end of d the times, even [12] of years, with a great army and with much substance. 14 And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also the children of the violent among thy people shall lift themselves up to establish the vision; but e they shall fall. 15 So the king of the north shall come, and f cast up a mount, and take [13] a well fenced city: and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand. 16 But he that cometh against him shall g do according to his own will, and h none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in i the glorious land, and in his hand shall be destruction. 17 And he shall j set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, [14] and [4] upright ones with him; and he shall do his pleasure: and he shall give him the daughter of women, [15] to corrupt her; but [16] she shall not stand, neither be for him. 18 After this shall he turn his face unto the [17] isles, and shall take many: but a [18] prince shall cause the reproach offered by him to cease; yea, moreover, he k shall cause his reproach to turn upon him. 19 Then he shall turn his face toward the l fortresses of his own land: but he shall m stumble and fall, n and shall not be found. 20 Then shall stand up in his [5] place o one that shall cause p an exactor to pass through the glory of the kingdom: but within few days q he shall be [19] destroyed, neither in anger, nor in battle. 21 And in his [5] place shall stand up r a contemptible person, to whom they had not given the honour of the kingdom: [s] but he shall come in time of security, [t] and shall obtain the kingdom [u] by flatteries. 22 And with the arms of [v] a flood shall they be swept away from before him, and shall be broken; yea, also the prince of [1] the covenant. 23 And after the league made with him [w] he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and shall become strong, with a small people. 24 [x] In time of security shall he come even upon [y] the fattest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers; [z] he shall scatter among them prey, and spoil, and substance: yea, he shall devise his devices against the strong holds, even for a time. 25 [a] And he shall stir up his power and his courage against [b] the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall war in battle with an exceeding great and mighty army: but he shall not stand, for they shall devise devices against him. 26 Yea, they that eat of his [2] meat shall [3] destroy him, and his army shall [c] overflow: [d] and many shall fall down slain. 27 And as for both these kings, their hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table: but it shall not prosper; for yet [e] the end shall be at the time appointed. 28 Then shall he return into his land [f] with great substance; and [g] his heart shall be against the holy covenant; [h] and he shall do his pleasure, and return to his own land. 29 At the time appointed he shall return, [i] and come into the south; but it shall not be in the latter time as it was in the former. 30 For ships of [j] Kittim shall come against him; therefore he shall be grieved, and shall return, and [k] have indignation against the holy covenant, and [k] shall do his pleasure: he shall even return, and [l] have regard unto them that [m] forsake the holy covenant. 31 And arms shall stand on his part, and [n] they shall profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and [o] shall take away the continual burnt offering, and [p] they shall set up the abomination that maketh desolate. 32 [q] And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he [4] pervert by flatteries: but the people that know their God [r] shall be strong, and do exploits. 33 [s] And [5] they that be wise among the people shall instruct many: [t] yet they shall fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by spoil, many days. 34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with [u] a little help: but many shall join themselves unto them with flatteries. 35 And some of [6] them that be wise shall fall, [v] to refine them, [w] and to purify, and [x] to make them white, even to [y] the time of the end: [y] because it is yet for the time appointed. 36 And the king shall [z] do according to his will; and [a] he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, [b] and shall speak marvellous things against [c] the God of gods: and [d] he shall prosper [e] till the indignation be accomplished: for [f] that which is determined shall be done. 37 Neither shall he regard the gods of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for [a] he shall magnify himself above all. 38 But in his [7] place shall he honour the god of fortresses: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour [g] with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things. 39 And he shall deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a strange god; [8] whosoever acknowledgeth him he will increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and [h] shall divide the land for a price. 40 [i] And at the time of the end shall the king of the south [9] contend with him: and the king of the north shall come against him [j] like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and [k] shall overflow and pass through. 41 He shall enter also into [l] the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall be delivered out of his hand, [m] Edom, and [m] Moab, and the chief of the children of [m] Ammon. 42 [n] He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape. 43 [o] But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the

HOSEA.

1 THE word of the LORD that came unto Hosea the son of Beeri, a in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of b Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

2 When the LORD spake at the first [6] by Hosea, the LORD said unto Hosea, c Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredom and d children of whoredom: for e the land doth commit great whoredom, departing from the LORD. 3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived, and bare him a son. 4 And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and f I will [7] avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and g will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease. 5 And it shall come to pass at that day, that h I will break the bow of Israel i in the valley of Jezreel. 6 And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And the LORD said unto him, j Call her name [8] Lo-ruhamah: for k I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel, that I should in any wise pardon them. 7 But [l] I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and [m] will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and bare a son. 9 And the LORD said, [n] Call his name [1] Lo-ammi: for [o] ye are not my people, and I will not be [2] your God.

10 Yet [p] the number of the children of Israel shall be [q] as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and [r] it shall come to pass that, [s] [3] in the place where it was said unto them, [o] Ye are not my people, it shall be said unto them, [t] Ye are the sons of [u] the living God.
11 And [v] the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and [w] they shall appoint themselves one head, and shall go up from the land: for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

2 1 Say ye unto your brethren, [4x] Ammi; and to your sisters, [5y] Ruhamah.
2 Plead with your mother, plead; for [z] she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: and let her put away [a] her whoredoms from her face, and her adulteries from between her breasts; 3 lest [b] I strip her naked, and set her as [c] in the day that she was born, and [d] make her as a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with thirst; 4 yea, [e] upon her children will I have no mercy; [f] for they be children of whoredom.
5 For [g] their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for [h] she said, I will go after my lovers, that [i] give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my [6] drink. 6 Therefore, behold, [j] I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and [k] I will make a fence against her, that she shall not find her paths.
7 And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them: and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: [l] then shall she say, I will go and return to [m] my first husband; [l] for then was it better with me than now. 8 For [n] she did not know that [o] I gave her [p] the corn, and the wine, and the oil, and multiplied unto [q] her silver and gold, [r] which they [7] used for Baal.
9 Therefore [s] will I [8] take back my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and [s] will pluck away my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness. 10 And now [t] will I discover her [9] lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand. 11 [u] I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feasts, her [v] new moons, and her [v] sabbaths, and all her [10 w] solemn assemblies. 12 And [x] I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees, [y] whereof she hath said, These are [z] my hire that my lovers have given me: and [x] I will make them a forest, [a] and the beasts of the field shall eat them.
13 And [b] I will visit upon her [c] the days of the Baalim, [11] unto which she burned incense; when [d] she decked herself with her [12] earrings and her jewels, and went after her lovers, and forgat me, saith the LORD. 14 Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and [e] bring her into the wilderness, and [f] speak [13] comfortably unto her. 15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of [14] Achor for a door of hope: and she shall [15] make answer there, [g] as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt. 16 And it shall be [h] at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me [16] Ishi; and shalt call me no more [17] Baali.
17 For [i] I will take away the names of the Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be [18] mentioned by their name. 18 And in that day [j] will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and [k] I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the land, and will make them to lie down [l] safely. 19 And I will betroth thee unto me [m] for ever; yea, [n] I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgement, and in lovingkindness, and in mercies. 20 [n] I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness: and [o] thou shalt know the LORD. 21 And it shall come to pass [p] in that day, [q] I will answer, saith the LORD, I will answer the heavens, and they shall answer the earth; 22 and the earth shall answer the corn, and the wine, and the oil; and they shall answer [1r] Jezreel. 23 And [s] I will sow her unto me in the [2] earth; and [t] I [u] will have mercy upon [3] her that had not obtained mercy; and [v] I will say to [4] them which were not my people, [w] Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

3 1 And the LORD said unto me, [x] Go yet, love a woman beloved [5] of her friend and an adulteress, even as the LORD loveth the children of Israel, though they turn unto other gods, and [6] love [y] cakes of raisins. 2 So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and an [z] homer of barley, and an [7] half homer of barley: 3 and I said unto her, Thou shalt [a] abide for me many days; thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be any man's wife: so will I also be toward thee. 4 For the children of Israel [a] shall abide many days [b] without king, and without prince, and [c] without sacrifice, and [d] without [8] [e] pillar, and without [f] ephod or [g] teraphim: 5 afterward [h] shall the children of Israel return, and [i] seek the LORD their God, and [j] David their king; [k] and shall come with fear unto the LORD and to his goodness in the [l] latter days.

4 1 [m] Hear the word of the LORD, ye children of Israel: for [n] the LORD hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, [o] nor knowledge of God in the land. 2 [p] There is nought but swearing and breaking faith, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery; they break out, and [q] blood toucheth blood. 3 Therefore [r] shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, [s] with the beasts of the field and the fowls of heaven; [t] yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away. 4 [u] Yet let no man strive, neither let any man reprove; for thy people are as [v] they that strive with the priest. 5 And thou shalt stumble in the day, and the prophet also shall stumble with thee in the night; and I will destroy [w] thy mother. 6 My people are destroyed [x] for lack of knowledge: [y] because thou hast rejected knowledge, [9] I will also reject thee, that [z] thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, [a] I also will forget thy children. 7 [b] As they were multiplied, so they sinned against me: [c] I will change their glory into shame. 8 [d] They feed on the sin of my people, and set their heart on their iniquity. 9 [e] And it shall be, like people, like priest: and I will punish them for their ways, and will reward them their doings. 10 And [f] they shall eat, and not have enough; they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase: because they have left off to take heed to the LORD. 11 Whoredom and wine and new wine [g] take away the [10] understanding. 12 My people [h] ask counsel at their stock, and their staff declareth unto them: for [i] the spirit of whoredom hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God. 13 [j] They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, [k] under oaks and poplars and terebinths, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters commit whoredom, and your [11] brides commit adultery. 14 I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your [11] brides when they commit adultery; for [l] they themselves go apart with whores, and they sacrifice with the [m] harlots: and the people [n] that doth not understand shall be overthrown. 15 Though thou, [o] Israel, play the harlot, yet let not [o] Judah [12] offend; and [p] come not ye unto [q] Gilgal, neither go ye up to [r] Bethaven, nor swear, As the LORD liveth. 16 For Israel hath behaved himself stubbornly, like a stubborn heifer: now will the LORD feed them as a lamb in a large place. 17 [s] Ephraim is joined to idols; [t] let him alone. 18 [12] Their drink is become sour: they commit whoredom continually; [1] [u] her [2] rulers dearly love shame. 19 [v] The wind hath wrapped her up in its [3] wings; and [4] they shall [w] be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

5 Hear this, O ye priests, and hearken, ye house of Israel, and give ear, O house of the king, for [5] unto you pertaineth the judgement; for [y] ye have been a snare at Mizpah, and a net spread upon [z] Tabor. 2 And [a] the revolters [b] are gone deep [6] in making slaughter; but [c] I am [7] a rebuker of them all. 3 [d] I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou hast committed whoredom, Israel is defiled. 4 [b] [e] Their doings will not suffer them to turn unto their God: for [f] the spirit of whoredom is [9] within them, and they know not the LORD. 5 And [g] the [10] pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore Israel and [h] Ephraim shall stumble in their iniquity; [h] Judah also shall stumble with them. 6 They shall go [i] with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD; [i] but they shall not find him; [j] he hath withdrawn himself from them. 7 [k] They have dealt treacherously against the LORD: for they have [11] borne strange children: now shall [12] the new moon devour them with their [13] fields.

8 [l] Blow ye the cornet in [m] Gibeah, and the trumpet in [n] Ramah: sound an alarm at [o] Beth-aven; [14] behind thee, O Benjamin. 9 Ephraim shall become a desolation in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which shall surely be. 10 The princes of Judah are like [p] them that remove the landmark: I will pour out my wrath upon them like water. 11 Ephraim is [q] oppressed, he is crushed in judgement; because he was content [r] to walk after [15] the command. 12 [16] Therefore am I unto Ephraim [s] as a moth, and to the house of Judah [s] as rottenness. 13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw [t] his wound, then went Ephraim [u] to Assyria, and sent to [17] king Jareb: [v] but he is not able to heal you, neither shall he cure you of [t] your wound. 14 For I will be unto [w] Ephraim [x] as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of [w] Judah: [y] I, even I, will tear and go away; I will carry off, and there shall be none to deliver. 15 [z] I will go and return to my place, till they [18] acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: [a] in their affliction they will seek me [19] earnestly.

6 1 Come, and let us [b] return unto the LORD: for [c] he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and [d] he will bind us up. 2 After two days [e] will he revive us: on the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live before him. 3 And [f] let us know, [f] let us follow on to know the LORD; [g] his going forth is sure as the morning: and he shall come unto us [h] as the rain, as [i] the latter rain that watereth the earth.

4 [j] O [k] Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O [k] Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for [l] your [20] goodness is [m] as a morning cloud, and [m] as the dew that goeth early away. 5 Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets; I have slain them [n] by the words of my mouth: [21] and thy judgements are as the light that goeth forth. 6 For [o] I desire [20] mercy, and not sacrifice; and [p] the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. 7 But [q] they [22] like [26] Adam [r] have transgressed the covenant: [s] there have they dealt treacherously against me. 8 [t] Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity, it is [u] stained with blood. 9 [24] And as troops of robbers [v] wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way toward [w] Shechem: yea, they have committed lewdness. 10 In the house of Israel I have seen an horrible thing: [x] there whoredom is found in Ephraim, [y] Israel is defiled. 11 Also, O [y] Judah, there is [z] an harvest appointed for thee, when [a] I bring again the captivity of my people.

7 1 [b] When I would heal Israel, then is the iniquity of Ephraim discovered, and the wickedness of [c] Samaria; for [d] they commit falsehood: and the thief entereth in, and the troop of robbers [25] spoileth without. 2 And they consider not in their hearts that [c] I remember all their wickedness: now [f] have their own doings beset them about; [g] they are before my face. 3 [h] They make [k] the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies. 4 [i] They are all adulterers; they are as an oven heated by the baker; he ceaseth to stir the fire, from the kneading of the dough until it be leavened. 5 On the day of [j] our king the princes [1] made [2] themselves sick with the heat of wine; he stretched out his hand with scorners. 6 For they have [3] made ready their heart like an oven, whiles [k] they lie in wait: [4] their baker sleepeth all the night; in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire. 7 They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges; all [l] their kings [m] are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me. 8 Ephraim, he [n] mixeth himself among the peoples; Ephraim is a cake not turned. 9 [o] Strangers have devoured his strength, and [p] he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are [5] here and there upon him, and [p] he knoweth it not. 10 And [q] the [6] pride of Israel doth testify to his face: [r] yet they have not returned unto the LORD their God, nor sought him, for all this. 11 And Ephraim is like a silly dove, [s] without [7] understanding: they call unto [t] Egypt, they go to [u] Assyria. 12 When they shall go, [v] I will spread my net upon them; I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven: [w] I will chastise them, [8] [x] as their congregation hath heard. 13 [y] Woe unto them! for they have wandered from me; destruction unto them! for they have trespassed against me: [z] though I would redeem them, yet [a] they have spoken lies against me. 14 And [b] they have not cried unto me with their heart, but [c] they howl upon their beds: [9] they assemble themselves for corn and wine, they rebel against me. 15 Though [d] I have [10] taught and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagine mischief against me. 16 They [e] return, but not to him that is on high; they are [f] like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword for [g] the rage of their tongue: this shall be their derision [h] in the land of Egypt.

8 1 [11] Set [i] the trumpet to thy mouth. [j] As an eagle he cometh against the house of the LORD: because [k] they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law. 2 They shall cry unto me, [l] My God, we Israel know thee. 3 Israel hath cast off that which is good: the enemy shall pursue him. 4 [m] They have set up kings, [n] but not by me; [12] [o] they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off. 5 [p] He hath cast off thy calf, O Samaria; mine anger is kindled against them: [q] how long will it be ere they attain to innocency? 6 For from Israel is even this; the workman made it, and it is no God: yea, [p] the calf of Samaria [r] shall be broken in pieces. 7 For [s] they sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: [13] he hath no standing corn; the blade shall yield no meal; if so be it yield, [t] strangers shall swallow it up. 8 [u] Israel is swallowed up: now are they among the nations as [v] a vessel wherein is no pleasure. 9 For [w] they are gone up to Assyria, [x] like a wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim hath hired [14] lovers. 10 Yea, though they hire among the nations, now will I gather them; and [y] they [15] begin to be minished by reason of the burden of the [16] [z] king of princes. 11 Because Ephraim [a] hath multiplied altars to sin, altars have been unto him to sin. 12 [17] Though [b] I write for him my law in ten thousand precepts, they are counted as a strange thing. 13 As for the sacrifices of mine offerings, [c] they sacrifice flesh and eat it; but the LORD accepteth them not: [d] now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins; [e] they shall return to Egypt. 14 For [f] Israel hath forgotten [g] his Maker, and [h] builded [18] palaces; and [f] Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but [i] I will send a

9 1 Rejoice not, O Israel, [2]for joy, like the peoples; [3]j for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, k thou hast loved hire upon every cornfloor. 2 l The threshing-floor and the winepress shall not feed them, and l the new wine shall fail her. 3 They shall not dwell in m the LORD'S land; but n Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and o they shall eat unclean food in Assyria. 4 p They shall not pour out wine offerings to the LORD, [4] q neither shall they be pleasing unto him: their sacrifices shall be unto them as r the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread shall be for their appetite; s it shall not come into the house of the LORD. 5 t What will ye do in the day of solemn assembly, and in the day of the feast of the LORD? 6 For, lo, they are gone away from destruction, yet u Egypt shall gather them up, v Memphis shall bury them: w their pleasant things of silver, nettles shall possess them: x thorns shall be in their tents. 7 y The days of visitation are come, the days of recompence are come; Israel shall know it: z the prophet is a fool, the man that hath the spirit is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and because the enmity is great. 8 Ephraim a [5]was a a watchman with my God: as for the prophet, b a fowler's snare is in all his ways, and enmity in the house of his God. 9 c They have deeply corrupted themselves, as d in the days of Gibeah: c he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins. 10 e I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the firstripe in the fig tree at her first season: but f they came to Baal-peor, and [6] g consecrated themselves unto the [7]shameful thing, and h became abominable like that which they loved. 11 As for Ephraim, i their glory shall fly away like a bird: j there shall be no birth, and none with child, and no conception. 12 k Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, that there be not a man left:

10 1 w Israel is a luxuriant vine, which putteth forth his fruit: according to the multitude of his fruit x he hath multiplied his altars; according to the [9] goodness of his land they have made goodly [10] y pillars. 2 [11] Their heart is [12] divided; now shall they be found guilty: z he shall smite their altars, he shall spoil their [10] pillars. 3 Surely now shall they say, a We have no king: for we fear not the LORD; and the king, what can he do for us? 4 They speak b [13]vain words, [13] swearing falsely in making covenants: therefore c judgement [14] springeth up as [15] hemlock d in the furrows of the field. 5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall be in terror for e the calves of f Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and [16] the priests thereof that rejoiced over it, for g the glory thereof, because it is departed from it. 6 h It also shall be carried unto Assyria for a present to i king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed j of his own counsel. 7 [17] As for Samaria, k her king is cut off, as [18] foam upon the water. 8 The high places also of f Aven, l the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed: m the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; and n they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall on us. 9 O Israel, thou hast sinned [1] from [o] the days of Gibeah: [2] there they stood; [3] that the battle against the children of iniquity should not overtake them in Gibeah. 10 [p] When it is my desire, [q] I will chastise them; and the peoples shall be gathered against them, when they are [4] bound [5] to [r] their two transgressions. 11 And Ephraim is [s] an heifer that is taught, that [t] loveth to tread out the corn; but I have passed over upon her fair neck: I will set a rider on [u] Ephraim; [u] Judah shall plow, Jacob shall break his clods. 12 [v] Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap according to mercy; [w] break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and [6] [x] rain righteousness upon you. 13 [y] Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of [7] lies: for thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men. 14 Therefore [z] shall a tumult arise [8] among thy [9] people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as [a] Shalman spoiled Beth-arbel in the day of battle: [b] the mother was dashed in pieces with her children. 15 [10] So shall [c] Beth-el do unto you because of your great wickedness: at daybreak [k] shall the king of Israel be utterly cut off.

11 1 [d] When Israel was a child, then [e] I loved him, and [f] called [g] my son out of Egypt. 2 [h] As they called them, so they went from them: [i] they sacrificed unto the Baalim, and burned incense to graven images. 3 Yet [j] I taught Ephraim to go; [11] I took them on my arms; but they knew not that [k] I healed them. 4 [l] I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love; and [m] I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and [n] I laid meat before them. 5 [o] He shall not return into the land of Egypt; but [p] the Assyrian shall be his king, [q] because [r] they refused to return. 6 [s] And the sword shall [12] fall upon his cities, and shall consume his bars, and devour them, [t] because of their own counsels. 7 And my people are bent [u] to backsliding from me: though [v] they call them to him that is on high, none at all will [13] exalt him. 8 How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? [w] how shall I make thee [x] as Admah? how shall I set thee [x] as Zeboim? [y] mine heart is turned within me, my compassions are kindled together. 9 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: [z] for I am God, and not man; [a] the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not [14] enter into the city. 10 [b] They shall walk after the LORD, [c] who shall roar like a lion: for he shall roar, and the children shall come trembling [d] from the west. 11 They shall come trembling as a bird [e] out of Egypt, and [f] as a dove [g] out of the land of Assyria: and I will make them to dwell in their houses, saith the LORD.

12 [h] Ephraim [i] compasseth me about with falsehood, and the house of Israel with deceit: [15] [j] but [h] Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful with the Holy One. 1 Ephraim 12 feedeth on wind, and followeth after [k] the east wind: he continually multiplieth [l] lies and desolation; and [l] they make a covenant with Assyria, and [m] oil is carried into Egypt. 2 [n] The LORD hath also a controversy with Judah, and will [16] punish Jacob according to his ways; according to his doings will he recompense him. 3 [o] In the womb he took his brother by the heel; and in his [17] manhood [p] he [18] had power with God: 4 yea, [p] he had power over the angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made supplication unto him: [q] he found him at Beth-el, and there he spake with us; 5 [19] even the LORD, the God of hosts; [r] the LORD is his memorial. 6 Therefore [s] turn thou to thy God: [t] keep mercy and judgement, and wait on thy God continually.

7 [20] He is [21] a trafficker, [u] the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth [v] to [22] oppress. 8 And Ephraim said, Surely [w] I am become rich, I have found me wealth: in all my labours [x] they shall find in me none iniquity that were sin. 9 But [y] I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt; I will yet again make thee [z] to dwell in tents, as in the days of the solemn feast. 10 [a] I have also spoken unto the prophets, and I have multiplied [b] visions; and [1] by the ministry of the prophets have I used similitudes. 11 [c] Is Gilead iniquity? they are altogether vanity; [d] in Gilgal they sacrifice bullocks: yea, [e] their altars [2] are as heaps [f] in the furrows of the field. 12 And [g] Jacob fled into the field of [h] Aram, and Israel [i] served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep. 13 And by [j] a prophet [k] the LORD brought Israel up out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he [3] preserved. 14 [l] Ephraim hath provoked to anger most bitterly: therefore shall [m] his blood be left upon him, [n] and his reproach shall his Lord return unto him.

13 1 When Ephraim [4] spake, there was trembling; [o] he exalted himself in Israel: but when he [5] offended [p] in Baal, he died. 2 And now they sin more and more, and [q] have made them molten images of their silver, even idols according to their own understanding, [r] all of them the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let [6] the men that sacrifice [s] kiss the calves. 3 Therefore they shall be [t] as the morning cloud, and [t] as the dew that passeth early away, [u] as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the threshing-floor, and [v] as the smoke out of the chimney. 4 Yet [w] I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt; and [x] thou [7] shalt know no god but me, and [y] beside me there is no saviour. 5 [z] I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of great drought. 6 [a] According to their pasture, so were they filled; [b] they were filled, and their heart was exalted: [a] therefore have they forgotten me. 7 Therefore [c] am I unto them as a lion: [d] as a leopard will I watch by the way: 8 I will meet them [e] as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rend the caul of their heart: and there will I devour them like a lion; [f] the wild beast shall tear them. 9 [g] It is thy destruction, O Israel, [9] that thou art against me, against [g] thy help. 10 [h] Where now is thy king, that he may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges, of whom [i] thou saidst, Give me a king and princes? 11 [j] I have given thee a king in mine anger, and [k] have taken him away in my wrath. 12 The iniquity of Ephraim is [l] bound up; his sin is [l] laid up in store. 13 [m] The sorrows of a travailing woman shall come upon him: he is an unwise son; [10] for it is time he should not tarry [n] in the place of the breaking forth of children. 14 [o] I will ransom them from the [11] power of [12] the grave; [o] I will redeem them from death: [p] O [q] death, [13] where are thy plagues? [p] O [12] [q] grave, [13] where is thy destruction? [r] repentance shall be hid from mine eyes. 15 Though [s] he be fruitful among his brethren, [t] an east wind shall come, the [14] breath of the LORD coming up from the wilderness, [u] and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up: [15] he shall spoil [v] the treasure of all pleasant vessels. 16 Samaria [w] shall [16] bear her guilt; for [x] she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword: [y] their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and [z] their women with child shall be ripped up.

14 1 O Israel, [a] return unto the LORD thy God; for [b] thou hast fallen by thine iniquity. 2 Take with you words, and return unto the LORD: say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and [17] accept [c] that which is good: so will we render [18] as bullocks [d] the offering of our lips. 3 [e] Asshur shall not save us; [f] we will not ride upon horses: [g] neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: for [h] in thee the fatherless findeth mercy. 4 I [i] will heal [j] their backsliding, [k] I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him. 5 [l] I will be as the dew unto Israel: [m] he shall blossom as the lily, and cast forth his roots [n] as Lebanon. 6 His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be [o] as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon. 7 They

JOEL.

1 THE word of the LORD that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

2 [a] Hear this, [b] ye old men, and give ear, [b] all ye inhabitants of the land. [c] Hath this been in your days, or in the days of your fathers? 3 [d] Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation. 4 That which [3] [e] the palmerworm hath left hath [3] [f] the locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left hath [3] [g] the cankerworm eaten; and that which the cankerworm hath left hath [3] [h] the caterpiller eaten. 5 Awake, ye drunkards, and weep; and [i] howl, all ye drinkers of wine, because of [j] the sweet wine; for it is cut off from your mouth. 6 For [k] a nation is come up upon my land, [k] strong, and without number; [l] his teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the jaw teeth of a great lion. 7 He hath laid my vine waste, and [4] barked my [m] fig tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it [5] away; the branches thereof are made white. 8 Lament like a virgin [n] girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth. 9 [o] The meal offering and the drink offering is cut off from the house of the LORD; [p] the priests, [p] the LORD'S ministers, mourn. 10 The field is wasted, [q] the land mourneth; for [r] the corn is wasted, [r] the new wine is [6] dried up, the oil languisheth. 11 [7] [s] Be ashamed, O ye husbandmen, howl, O ye vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley; [t] for the harvest of the field is perished. 12 The vine is [6] withered, [u] and the fig tree languisheth; the pomegranate tree, the palm tree also, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: for [v] joy is [6] withered away from the sons of men. 13 [w] Gird yourselves with sackcloth, and lament, [p] ye priests; [x] howl, ye ministers of the altar; come, [w] lie all night in sackcloth, [p] ye ministers of my God: [y] for the meal offering and the drink offering is withholden from the house of your God. 14 [z] Sanctify a fast, [c] call a solemn assembly, gather [a] the [8] old men and [a] all the inhabitants of the land unto the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD. 15 Alas for the day! [b] for the day of the LORD is at hand, and as destruction from [9] the Almighty shall it come. 16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, [c] joy and gladness from the house of our God? 17 [d] The seeds [10] rot under their clods; the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for [e] the corn is [6] withered. 18 How do [f] the beasts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep [11] are made desolate. 19 [g] O LORD, to thee do I cry: [h] for the fire hath devoured the [12] pastures of the wilderness, [h] and the flame hath burned all the trees of the field. 20 Yea, [f] the beasts of the field [i] pant unto thee: for the water brooks are dried up, [h] and the fire hath devoured the [12] pastures of the wilderness.

2 1 [j] Blow ye the trumpet in [k] Zion, and sound an alarm in [k] my holy mountain; let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for [l] the day of the LORD cometh, for it is nigh at hand; 2 [m] a day of darkness and gloominess, m a day of clouds and thick darkness, as the dawn spread upon the mountains; n a great people and a strong, o there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after them, even to the years of many generations.

3 p A fire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as q the garden of Eden before them, and r behind them a desolate wilderness; yea, and none hath escaped them. 4 s The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses; and as [1] horsemen, so do they run. 5 t Like the noise of chariots on the tops of the mountains do they leap, like the noise of u a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, v as a strong people set in battle array. 6 At their presence the peoples are in anguish: w all faces are waxed pale. 7 They run like mighty men; they climb the wall like men of war; and they march every one on his ways, and they break not their ranks. 8 Neither doth one thrust another; w they march every one in his path: and [2] they burst through the weapons, and [3] break not off their course. 9 x They leap upon the city; they run upon the wall; y they climb up into the houses; y they enter in at the windows z like a thief. 10 a The earth quaketh before them; the heavens tremble: b the sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining: 11 and c the LORD uttereth his voice before d his army; for his camp is very great; e for he is strong that executeth his word: f for the day of the LORD is g great and very terrible; h and who can abide it? 12 Yet even now, saith the LORD, i turn ye unto me with all your heart, and j with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning: 13 and k rend your heart, and not l your garments, and i turn unto the LORD your God: m for he is gracious and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, n and repenteth him of the evil. 14 o Who knoweth whether he will not turn and repent, and p leave a blessing behind him, even q a meal offering and a drink offering unto the LORD your God?
15 r Blow the trumpet in Zion, s sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly: 16 gather the people, t sanctify the congregation, assemble the u old men, v gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: v let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.
17 Let w the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep x between the y porch and the z altar, and let them say, a Spare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the nations should b rule over them: b wherefore should they say among the peoples, Where is their God?
18 c Then was the LORD jealous for his land, and d had pity on his people. 19 And the LORD answered and said unto his people, Behold, e I will send you corn, and wine, and oil, e and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations: 20 but I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, [6] his forepart [7] into f the eastern sea, and his hinder part [7] into g the western sea; and h his stink shall come up, and his ill savour shall come up, because he hath done great things.
21 Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoice; for i the LORD hath done great things. 22 Be not afraid, j ye beasts of the field; for k the pastures of the wilderness do spring, l for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig tree and l the vine do yield their strength.
23 m Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and m rejoice in the LORD your God: for he giveth you n the former rain [8] in just measure, and he causeth to come down for you the rain, n the former rain and o the latter rain, p in the first month. 24 And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the fats shall overflow with wine and oil.
25 And I will restore to you the years that p the locust hath eaten, p the canker worm, and p the caterpiller, and p the palmerworm, q my great army which I sent among you.
26 And r ye shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, and shall praise the name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people s shall never be ashamed. 27 t And ye shall know that I am u in the midst of Israel, and that [v] I am the LORD your God, [w] and there is none else: and my people [s] shall never be ashamed.

28 [x] And it shall come to pass afterward, that [y] I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and [z] your sons and [a] your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions: 29 and [b] also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit. 30 And I will shew [c] wonders in the heavens [c] and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke. 31 [d] The sun shall be turned into darkness, [e] and the moon into blood, [f] before the great and terrible day of the LORD come. 32 And it shall come to pass, that [g] whosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: [h] for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those that escape, as the LORD hath said, and [1] among [i] the remnant those whom the LORD doth call. 1 For, behold, [j] in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem, 2 [k] I will gather all nations, and will bring them down into [l] the valley of Jehoshaphat; and [m] I will plead with them there for my people and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land. 3 And [n] they have cast lots for my people; and have given a boy for an harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink. 4 Yea, and what are ye to me, [o] O Tyre, and Zidon, and all [p] the regions of Philistia? [2] will ye render me a recompence? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily [q] will I return your [3] recompence upon your own head. 5 Forasmuch [r] as ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things; 6 [s] the children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the sons of the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border: 7 behold, I will stir them up out of the place whither ye have sold them, and [q] will return your [3] recompence upon your own head; 8 and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the men of [t] Sheba, to a nation far off: for the LORD hath spoken it.

9 Proclaim ye this among the nations; [4] [u] prepare war: stir up the mighty men; let all the men of war draw near, let them come up. 10 [v] Beat your plowshares into swords, and [v] your pruning-hooks into spears: let the weak say, I am strong. 11 [5] [w] Haste ye, and come, all ye nations round about, and gather yourselves together: [x] thither cause thy mighty ones to come down, O LORD. 12 Let the nations bestir themselves, and come up to [y] the valley of [6] Jehoshaphat: [z] for there will I sit to judge all the nations round about. 13 [a] Put ye in the sickle, [b] for the [7] harvest is ripe: [c] come, [8] tread ye; [c] for the winepress is full, the fats overflow; for their wickedness is great. 14 [d] Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! for [e] the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision. 15 [f] The sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining. 16 [g] And the LORD shall roar from Zion, and [g] utter his voice from Jerusalem; [h] and the heavens and the earth shall shake: but the LORD will be [i] a refuge unto his people, and a strong hold to the children of Israel. 17 [j] So shall ye know that I am the LORD your God, [k] dwelling in Zion [l] my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and [m] there shall no strangers pass through her any more. 18 And it shall come to pass in that day, [n] that the mountains shall drop down sweet wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and [o] all the brooks of Judah shall flow with waters; [p] and a fountain shall come forth of the house of the LORD, and shall water [9] the valley of [q] Shittim. 19 [r] Egypt shall be a desolation, and [s] Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, [t] for the violence done to the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land. 20 [u] But Judah shall [10] abide for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation. 21 And [v] I will [11] cleanse their blood that I have not cleansed: [k] for the LORD dwelleth in Zion.

AMOS.

1 THE words of [a] Amos, who I was among the [b] herdmen of [c] Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel [d] in the days of [e] Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of [f] Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before [g] the earthquake.

2 And he said, [h] The LORD shall roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and [i] the [1] pastures of the shepherds shall mourn, and the [j] top of [k] Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the LORD: [l] For three transgressions of [m] Damascus, yea, for four, [m] I will not [2] turn away [3] the punishment thereof; because they have threshed [n] Gilead with threshing instruments of iron: 4 [o] but I will send a fire into the house of [p] Hazael, and it shall devour the palaces of [p] Ben-hadad. 5 And I will [q] break the bar of [m] Damascus, and cut off [4] the inhabitant from the valley of [b r] Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from [6] the house of [s] Eden: and the people of [t] Syria shall go into captivity unto [u] Kir, saith the LORD.

6 Thus saith the LORD: [l] For three transgressions of [v] Gaza, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because [w] they carried away captive [7] the whole people, to deliver them up to Edom: 7 but I will send a fire on the wall of [v] Gaza, and it shall devour the palaces thereof: 8 and I will cut off the inhabitant from [x] Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon; and I will turn mine hand against Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord GOD.

9 Thus saith the LORD: [y] For three transgressions of [z] Tyre, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they delivered up [7] the whole people to Edom, and remembered not [8] the brotherly covenant: 10 but I will send a fire on the wall of [z] Tyre, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saith the LORD: [y] For three transgressions of [a] Edom, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; [a] because he did pursue his brother with the sword, [b] and [9] did cast off all pity, [c] and his anger did tear perpetually, [c] and he kept his wrath for ever: 12 but I will send a fire upon [d] Teman, and it shall devour the palaces of [e] Bozrah.

13 Thus saith the LORD: [y] For three transgressions of the children of [f] Ammon, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because [g] they have ripped up the women with child of [h] Gilead, that they might enlarge their border: 14 but I will kindle a fire in the wall of [i] Rabbah, [j] and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, [j] with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind: 15 and [k] their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the LORD.

2 1 Thus saith the LORD: [y] For three transgressions of [l] Moab, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because [m] he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime: 2 but I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of [n] Kerioth; and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet: 3 and [o] I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay [o] all the princes thereof with him, saith the LORD.

4 Thus saith the LORD: [p] For three transgressions of Judah, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; [q] because they have rejected the law of the LORD, and have not kept his statutes, and [r] their lies have caused them to err, after the which their fathers did walk: 5 but [s] I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6 Thus saith the LORD: [p] For three transgressions of Israel, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because [t] they have sold the righteous for [u] silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes: 7 that pant after [v] the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and [w] turn aside the way of the meek: and [x] a man and his father will go unto the same [1] maid, to profane my holy name: 8 and they lay themselves down beside every altar upon clothes [y] taken in pledge, and in the house of their God they drink the wine of such as have been fined. 9 Yet [z] destroyed I the Amorite before them, [a] whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; yet [b] I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath. 10 [c] Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, [d] and led you forty years in the wilderness, [e] to possess the land of the Amorite. 11 And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for [e] Nazirites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith the LORD. 12 But ye gave the Nazirites [f] wine to drink; and commanded the prophets, saying, [g] Prophesy not. 13 Behold, [2] I will press you in your place, as a cart presseth that is full of sheaves. 14 [h] And [3] flight shall perish from the swift, [h] and the strong shall not strengthen his force, [i] neither shall the mighty deliver [4] himself: 15 neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; and he that is [j] swift of foot shall not deliver himself: [k] neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver [4] himself: 16 and he that is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith the LORD.

3 1 [l] Hear this word that the LORD hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against [m] the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying, 2 [n] You only have I known of all the families of the earth: [o] therefore I will visit upon you all your iniquities. 3 Shall two walk together, except they have [5] agreed? 4 Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing? 5 Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no gin is set for him? shall a snare spring up from the ground, and have taken nothing at all? 6 [p] Shall the trumpet be blown in a city, and the people not be afraid? [q] shall evil befall a city, and the LORD hath not done it? 7 Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, [r] but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets. 8 The lion hath roared, who will not fear? [s] the Lord GOD hath spoken, who can but prophesy?

9 Publish ye [6] in the palaces at [t] Ashdod, and [6] in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon [u] the mountains of Samaria, and behold what great tumults are therein, and [v] what oppressions in the midst thereof. 10 For they know not to do right, saith the LORD, [w] who store up violence and robbery in their palaces. 11 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: [x] An adversary there shall be, even round about the land; and he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and [y] thy palaces shall be spoiled. 12 Thus saith the LORD: [z] As the shepherd rescueth out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear; [a] so shall the children of Israel be rescued [b] that sit in Samaria in the corner of a couch, and [7] on the silken cushions of a bed. 13 Hear ye, [c] and testify against the house of Jacob, saith the Lord GOD, [d] the God of hosts. 14 For in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, [e] I will also visit the altars of Beth-el, and [f] the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground. 15 [g] And I will smite [h] the winter house with [i] the summer house; and [j] the houses of ivory shall perish, and [8] the great houses shall have an end, saith the LORD.

4 1 Hear this word, [k] ye kine of Bashan, that are [l] in the mountain of Samaria, [m] which oppress the poor, which crush the needy, which say unto [9] their lords, Bring, and let us drink. 2 [n] The Lord GOD hath sworn by his holiness, that, lo, the days shall come upon you, [o] that they shall take you away with hooks, [o] and your residue with fish hooks. 3 [p] And ye shall go out at the breaches, every one straight before her; [9] and ye shall cast yourselves into Harmon, saith the LORD.

4 [q] Come to Beth-el, and transgress; to [r] Gilgal, and multiply transgression; [q] and bring your [s] sacrifices every morning, and your tithes every three days; 5 and [t] offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of [t] that which is leavened, and proclaim [u] freewill offerings and publish them: [v] for this liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord GOD. 6 And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and [w] want of bread in all your places: [x] yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 7 And I also [y] have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest: [z] and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered. 8 So two or three cities [a] wandered unto one city to drink water, and were not satisfied: [x] yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 9 [b] I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: the multitude of your gardens and your vineyards and your fig trees and your olive trees hath [c] the palmerworm devoured: [x] yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 10 I have sent among you the pestilence [d] after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, [2] and [e] have carried away your horses; and [f] I have made the stink of your camp to come up even into your nostrils: [x] yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 11 I have overthrown some among you, [g] as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were [h] as a brand plucked out of the burning: [x] yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel. 13 For, lo, [i] he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and [j] declareth unto man what is his thought, [k] that maketh the morning darkness, and [l] treadeth upon the high places of the earth; [m] the LORD, the God of hosts, is his name.

5 1 Hear ye this word which I [n] take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel. 2 [o] The virgin of Israel is fallen; she shall no more rise: she [3] is cast down upon her land; there is none to raise her up. 3 For thus saith the Lord GOD: The city that went forth a thousand shall have an hundred left, and that which went forth an hundred shall have ten left, to the house of Israel. 4 For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel, [p] Seek ye me, and ye shall live: 5 but seek not [q] Beth-el, nor enter into [q] Gilgal, and pass not to [r] Beer-sheba: for [q] Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and [q] Beth-el shall [4] come to nought. 6 [p] Seek the LORD, and ye shall live; [s] lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and it devour and there be none to quench it in [q] Beth-el: 7 [t] ye who turn judgement to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth; 8 seek him that maketh the [u] Pleiades and Orion, and turneth [5] the shadow of death into the morning, and [v] maketh the day dark with night; that [w] calleth for the waters of the sea, [w] and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; [x] the LORD is his name; 9 [y] that [6] bringeth sudden destruction upon the strong, so that destruction cometh upon the fortress. 10 [z] They hate him that reproveth [a] in the gate, and they [b] abhor him that speaketh uprightly. 11 Forasmuch therefore as ye [c] trample upon the poor, and take exactions from him of wheat: [d] ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; [d] ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink the wine thereof. 12 For I know how manifold are your transgressions and how mighty are your sins; ye that afflict the just, that [e] take a bribe, and that [f] turn aside the needy [a] in the gate from their right. 13 Therefore he that is prudent shall [g] keep silence in such a time; [h] for it is an evil time. 14 [i] Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD, [j] the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye say. 15 [k] Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgement [a] in the gate: [l] it may be that the LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. 16 Therefore thus saith the LORD, [j] the God of hosts, the Lord: [m] Wailing shall be in all the broad ways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, [l] and [m] such as are skilful of lamentation to wailing. 17 And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for [n] I will pass through the midst of thee, saith the LORD. 18 Woe unto you that desire [o] the day of the LORD! wherefore would ye have the day of the LORD? [p] it is darkness, and not light. 19 [q] As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; [2] or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him. 20 [p] Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it? 21 [r] I hate, I despise your feasts, and I [3] will take no delight in your solemn assemblies. 22 [s] Yea, though ye offer me [4] your burnt offerings and meal offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the [5] peace offerings of your fat beasts. 23 Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear [t] the melody of thy viols. 24 But let judgement roll down as waters, and righteousness as a [6] mighty stream. 25 [u] Did ye bring unto me sacrifices and [7] offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel? 26 [v] Yea, [w] ye [8] have borne [9] Siccuth your king and [10] Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves. 27 [x] Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond [y] Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is [z] the God of hosts.

6 1 [a] Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, and to them that are secure in [a] the mountain of Samaria, [b] the notable men of [c] the chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come! 2 Pass ye unto [d] Calneh, and see; and from thence go ye to [e] Hamath the great: then go down to [f] Gath of the Philistines: [g] be they better than these kingdoms? or is their border greater than your border? 3 [h] Ye that put far away the evil day, [i] and cause the [11] seat of violence to come near; 4 [j] that lie upon [k] beds of ivory, [l] and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, [l] and the calves out of the midst of the stall; 5 [m] that sing idle songs to the sound of the viol; [m] that devise for themselves instruments of music, [12] like David; 6 [n] that drink [13] wine in bowls, and [o] anoint themselves with the chief ointments; but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph. 7 [p] Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the revelry of them that stretched themselves shall pass away. 8 [q] The Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD, the God of hosts: I abhor [r] the [14] excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: [s] therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein. 9 And it shall come to pass, [t] if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die. 10 And when a man's [15] uncle shall take him up, [u] even he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is in the innermost parts of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No; then shall he say, [v] Hold thy peace; for we may not make mention of the name of the LORD. 11 For, behold, the LORD commandeth, and [16] [w] the great house shall be smitten with breaches, and the little house with clefts. 12 Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? [x] that ye have turned judgement into [y] gall, [x] and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood: 13 ye which rejoice in a thing of nought, which say, [z] Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength? 14 For, behold, [a] I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the LORD, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the [b] entering in of Hamath unto the brook of [c] the Arabah.

7 1 [d] Thus the Lord GOD shewed me: and, behold, [e] he formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth: and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings. 2 And it came to pass that when they made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech thee: [f] how shall Jacob stand? for he is small. 3 [g] The LORD repented concerning this: It shall not be, saith the LORD.

4 [d] Thus the Lord GOD shewed me: and, behold, the Lord GOD called [h] to contend by fire; and it devoured the great deep, and would have eaten up the [1] land. 5 Then said I, O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee: [f] how shall Jacob stand? for he is small. 6 [g] The LORD repented concerning this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord GOD.

7 [d] Thus he shewed me: and, behold, the Lord stood [2] beside a wall made by [i] a plumbline, with a plumbline in his hand. 8 And the LORD said unto me, [j] Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumbline. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set [i] a plumbline in the midst of my people Israel; [j] I will not again pass by them any more: 9 and [k] the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will rise against [l] the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 Then Amaziah [m] the priest of Beth-el sent to [n] Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath [o] conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words. 11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and [p] Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land. 12 Also Amaziah said unto Amos, [q] O thou seer, go, flee thee away [r] into the land of Judah, and there [s] eat bread, and prophesy there: 13 but [t] prophesy not again any more at Beth-el: for [u] it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a royal house. 14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, [v] I [3] was no prophet, neither [3] was I [4] a prophet's son; but [w] I [3] was an herdman, and a dresser of sycomore trees: 15 [x] and the LORD took me from following the flock, and the LORD said unto me, Go, [y] prophesy unto my people Israel. 16 [z] Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD: Thou sayest, [f] Prophesy not against Israel, and [a] drop not thy word against the house of [b] Isaac; 17 [c] therefore thus saith the LORD: Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land [d] shall be divided by line; and thou thyself shalt die in a land that is unclean, and [p] Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.

8 1 [e] Thus the Lord GOD shewed me: and behold, a basket of summer fruit. 2 And he said, [f] Amos, what seest thou? And I said, [g] A basket of summer fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, [h] The end is come upon my people Israel; [f] I will not again pass by them any more. 3 [i] And the songs of the [5] temple [j] shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord GOD: [k] the dead bodies shall be many; in every place [6] shall they cast them forth [7] with silence. 4 Hear this, [m] O ye that would swallow up the needy, and cause the poor of the land to fail, 5 saying, When will [n] the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and [o] the sabbath, that we may [7] set forth wheat? making [p] the ephah small, and the shekel great, and dealing falsely with [q] balances of deceit; 6 that we may buy the poor for [r] silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell the refuse of the wheat. 7 The LORD hath sworn by [s] the excellency of Jacob, Surely [t] I will never forget any of their works. 8 [u] Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? [v] yea, it shall rise up wholly like the River; and it shall be troubled [w] and sink again, like the River of Egypt. 9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord GOD, that [x] I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day. 10 [y] And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; [z] and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, [a] and baldness upon every head; [a] and I will make it as the mourning for an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day. 11 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord GOD, that [b] I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, [c] but of hearing the words of the LORD. 12 [d] And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, [c] and shall not find it. 13 [e] In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men [f] faint for thirst. 14 They that swear by [g] the sin of Samaria, and say, As thy God, O Dan, liveth; and, As [h] the [1] way of [i] Beersheba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

9 I saw the Lord standing [2] beside the altar: and he said, [j] Smite the chapiters, that [j] the thresholds may [k] shake: [l] and break them in pieces on the head of all of them; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: [3] [m] there shall not one of them flee away, and there shall not one of them escape. 2 [n] Though they dig into [4] hell, thence shall mine hand take them; [n] and though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down. 3 And though they hide themselves in [o] the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence; and [p] though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them. 4 [q] And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: [r] and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good. 5 For the Lord, the GOD of hosts, is he that toucheth the land and [s] it melteth, and all that dwell therein shall mourn; [t] and it shall rise up wholly like the River; [t] and shall sink again, like the River of Egypt; 6 [u] it is he that buildeth his chambers in the heaven, and hath founded his vault upon the earth; [v] he that calleth for the waters of the sea and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; [w] the LORD is his name. 7 Are ye not as the children of [x] the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith the LORD. [y] Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, and [z] the Philistines from [a] Caphtor, and the Syrians from [b] Kir? 8 Behold, [c] the eyes of the Lord GOD are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; [d] saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the LORD. 9 For, lo, I will command, [e] and I will [5] sift the house of Israel among all the nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth. 10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, [f] The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us.

11 In that day [g] will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old; 12 [h] that they may possess the remnant of Edom, [i] and all the nations, which [6] are called by my name, saith the LORD that doeth this. 13 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, [j] that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; [k] and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt. 14 And [l] I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel, and [m] they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; [n] and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them. 15 [o] And I will plant them upon their land, [p] and they shall no more be plucked up out of their land [q] which I have given them, saith the LORD thy God.

OBADIAH.

1 THE vision of Obadiah.

Thus saith the Lord GOD [a] concerning Edom: [b] We have heard tidings from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle. 2 Behold, I have made thee small among the nations: thou art greatly despised. 3 [c] The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of [1] the rock, whose habitation is high; [d] that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground? 4 Though thou mount on high as the eagle, and though thy nest be set among the stars, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD. 5 If [e] thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not steal till they had enough? if [e] grapegatherers came to thee, would they not leave some gleaning grapes? 6 [f] How are [2] the things of Esau searched out! how are his hidden treasures sought up! 7 All the men of thy confederacy have [3] brought thee on thy way, even to the border: the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee; [4] [g] they that eat thy bread lay a [5] snare under thee: [h] there is none understanding [6] in him. 8 [i] Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of [j] the mount of Esau? 9 And thy mighty men, [k] O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one may be cut off from [j] the mount of Esau by slaughter. 10 [l] For the violence done to thy brother Jacob shame shall cover thee, [m] and thou shalt be cut off for ever. 11 [n] In the day that thou stoodest [7] on the other side, [o] in the day that strangers carried away his [8] substance, and foreigners entered into his gates, [p] and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them. 12 [q] But look not thou on the day of thy brother in [9] the day of his disaster, [r] and rejoice not over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction; [s] neither speak proudly in the day of distress. 13 [t] Enter not into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity; [t] yea, look not thou on their affliction in the day of their calamity, [u] neither lay ye hands on their substance in the day of their calamity. 14 [v] And stand thou not in the crossway, to cut off those of his that escape; and deliver not up those of his that remain in the day of distress. 15 For [w] the day of the LORD is near upon all the nations: [x] as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee; thy [10] dealing shall return upon thine own head. 16 [y] For as ye have drunk upon [z] my holy mountain, so shall all the nations drink continually, yea, they shall drink, and [11] swallow down, [a] and shall be as though they had not been. 17 [b] But in mount Zion there shall be those that escape, and it shall be holy; [c] and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions. 18 [d] And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for [e] stubble, and they shall burn among them, and devour them: [f] and there shall not be any remaining to the house of Esau; for the LORD hath spoken it. 19 And they of [g] the South [c] shall possess [h] the mount of Esau; and they of [i] the lowland the Philistines: and they shall possess the field of Ephraim, and the field of [j] Samaria: and Benjamin shall possess Gilead. 20 And the captivity of this [12] host of the children of Israel, [12] which are among the Canaanites, shall possess even unto [k] Zarephath; and the captivity of Jerusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the South. 21 [l] And saviours shall come up on mount Zion to judge [h] the mount of Esau; and [m] the kingdom shall be the LORD'S.

mighty tempest in the sea, so that j 1 Kin. 22. 48. Ps. 48. 7. the ship was like [j] to be broken.
5 Then the mariners were afraid, k Cp. Ps. 107. 28. and [k] cried every man unto his god;
l Cp. Acts 27. 18, 19, 38. and [l] they cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to was gone down into the innermost parts of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep. 6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper?

be that God will think upon us, that we perish not. 7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah. 8 Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy am an Hebrew; and I fear [o] the 10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, What is this that thou hast done? For the men knew that [h] he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them. 11 Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea grew more and more tempestuous. 12 And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea that for my sake this great tempest is upon you. 13 Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not:

for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. 14 Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for 4 1 But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and [c] he was angry. 2 And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? [d] Therefore I [5] [b] hasted to flee unto Tarshish: for I knew that [e] thou art a gracious God, and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, [e] and repentest thee of the evil. 3 [f] Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; [g] for it is better for me to die than to live. 4 And the LORD said, [6] [h] Doest thou well to be angry? 5 Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there [i] made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city. 6 And the LORD God prepared a [7] gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his evil case. So Jonah was exceeding glad because of the gourd. 7 But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered. 8 And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry [j] east wind; [k] and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he [l] fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, [g] It is better for me to die than to live. 9 And God said to Jonah, [m] Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry even unto death. 10 And the LORD said, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night: 11 and should not I have pity on [n] Nineveh, that great city; wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much [o] cattle?

and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw [d] concerning [e] Samaria and Jerusalem.

2 [f] Hear, ye peoples, all of you;
[g] hearken, O earth, and [1] all that therein is: and [h] let the Lord GOD be witness [2] against you, [i] the Lord from his holy temple. 3 For, behold, [j] the LORD cometh forth out of [k] his place, and will come down, and [l] tread upon the high places of the earth. 4 And [m] the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, as waters that are poured down a steep place. 5 For [n] the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. [o] What is the transgression of Jacob? is it not [e] Samaria? and what are [p] the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem? 6 Therefore I will make [e] Samaria [q] as an heap of the field, and as the plantings of a vineyard:
and I will pour down the stones thereof [r] into the valley, and I will [s] discover the foundations thereof.
7 And [t] all her graven images shall be beaten to pieces, and [u] all her hires shall be burned with fire, and all her idols will I lay desolate: for of [u] the hire of an harlot hath she gathered them, and unto the hire of an harlot shall they return. 8 [v] For this will I wail and howl, I will go [w] stripped and naked: I will make a wailing [x] like the jackals, and a mourning [y] like the ostriches.
9 [z] For her wounds are incurable:
for it is come even unto Judah; it reacheth unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem. 10 [a] Tell it not in [b] Gath, weep not at all: at [3] Beth-le-Aphrah [4] [c] have I rolled myself in the dust. 11 Pass ye away, O [5] inhabitant of Shaphir, [d] in nakedness and shame: the [5] inhabitant of Zaanan is not come forth; the wailing of Beth-ezel shall take from you the [6] stay thereof.
12 For the [5] inhabitant of Maroth [7] waiteth anxiously for good: because evil is come down [e] from the LORD unto the gate of Jerusalem.
13 Bind the chariot to the swift steed, O [5] inhabitant of [f] Lachish:
she was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion; for [g] the transgressions of Israel were found in thee. 14 Therefore shalt thou give a parting gift to [h] Moresheth-gath:
the houses of [i] Achzib shall be [8] a deceitful thing unto the kings of Israel. 15 I will yet bring unto thee, O [5] inhabitant of [i] Mareshah, [j] him that shall possess thee: the glory of Israel shall come even unto [k] Adullam. 16 [l] Make thee bald, and poll thee for the children of thy delight: [l] enlarge thy baldness as the [9] eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

2 1 [m] Woe to them that devise iniquity and work evil [n] upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand. 2 And they covet fields, and [o] seize them;
and houses, and take them away:
and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage.
3 Therefore thus saith the LORD:
Behold, against [p] this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks, [q] neither shall ye walk haughtily; [r] for it is an evil time. 4 In that day [s] shall they take up a parable against you, and lament [10] with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: [t] he changeth the portion of my people: [t] how doth he [11] remove it from me! [u] to the rebellious he divideth our fields. 5 Therefore thou shalt have none [v] that shall cast the line by lot in the congregation of the LORD. 6 [12] [w] Prophesy ye not, thus they prophesy. [x] They shall not prophesy [13] to these: [y] re-proaches shall not depart. 7 [14] Shall it be said, O house of Jacob, [x] Is the spirit of the LORD [15] straitened? are these his doings? Do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly? 8 But [16] of late [z] my people is risen up as an enemy: ye strip the robe from off the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war. 9 The women of my people ye cast out from their pleasant houses; from their young children ye take away my glory for ever. 10 [a] Arise ye, and depart; for this is not [b] your rest: because of [c] uncleanness [1] that destroyeth, even with a grievous destruction. 11 If a man walking [2] in [d] wind and falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee [e] of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; [f] I will surely gather [g] the remnant of Israel; I will put them together as the sheep of [h] Bozrah: [i] as a flock in the midst of their pasture, they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men. 13 [j] The breaker is gone up before them: they have broken forth and passed on to the gate, [k] and are gone out thereat: and their king is passed on before them, and [l] the LORD at the head of them.

1 And I said, [m] Hear, I pray you, ye heads of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel: [n] is it not for you to know judgement? 2 [o] who hate the good, and love the evil; [p] who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones; 3 [q] who also eat the flesh of my people; and they flay their skin from off them, and break their bones: yea, they chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron. 4 [r] Then shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not answer them: yea, [s] he will hide his face from them at that time, according as they have wrought evil in their doings. 5 Thus saith the LORD concerning [t] the prophets that make my people to err; that bite with their teeth [u] and cry, Peace; and whoso putteth not into their mouths, they even [3] [v] prepare war against him: 6 Therefore [w] it shall be night unto you, that ye shall have no vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine; and [x] the sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be black over them. 7 [y] And the seers shall be ashamed, and the diviners confounded; [z] yea, they shall all cover their lips: for [a] there is no answer of God. 8 But [b] I truly am full of power [4] by the spirit of the LORD, and of judgement, and of might, to declare unto Jacob [c] his transgression, and to Israel his sin. 9 [d] Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, [e] that abhor judgement, and pervert all equity. 10 [f] They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. 11 [g] The heads thereof judge for reward, and [h] the priests thereof teach for hire, and [i] the prophets thereof divine for money: [j] yet will they lean upon the LORD, and [k] say, Is not the LORD in the midst of us? [l] no evil shall come upon us. 12 Therefore [m] shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem [n] shall become heaps, and [o] the mountain of the house [p] as the high places of a forest.

1 [q] But in the latter days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the LORD'S house shall be established [5] in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and peoples shall flow unto it. 2 And many nations shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth [6] the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. 3 And he shall judge [7] between [8] many peoples, and shall [9] reprove strong nations afar off; and they shall [r] beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. 4 [s] But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; [t] and none shall make them afraid: [u] for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it. 5 For [v] all the peoples [10] will walk every one in the name of his god, and [w] we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 [x] In that day, saith the LORD, [y] will I assemble her [z] that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven away, and her that I have afflicted;

7 and I will make her that halted [a] a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and [b] the LORD shall reign over them [c] in mount Zion from henceforth even for ever. 8 And thou, O tower of [1] the flock, [2] the hill of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come; yea, the former dominion shall come, the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem. 9 Now why dost thou cry out aloud? [d] Is there no king in thee, [e] is thy counsellor perished, that [f] pangs have taken hold of thee as of a woman in travail? 10 [g] Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for [h] now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and shalt dwell in the field, and [i] shalt come even unto Babylon; there shalt thou be rescued; [j] there shall the LORD redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies. 11 And now [k] many nations are assembled against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and [l] let our eye [3] see its desire upon Zion. 12 But [m] they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsel: for [n] he hath gathered them as the sheaves to the threshing-floor. 13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many peoples: and [4] [o] thou shalt devote [p] their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto [q] the Lord of the whole earth. 1 Now shalt thou gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: [r] they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.

2 [s] But thou, Beth-lehem Ephrathah, which art little to be among the [5] thousands of [t] Judah, out of thee shall one come forth unto me that is to be [u] ruler in Israel; [v] whose goings forth are [w] from of old, [6] from everlasting. 3 Therefore will he give them up, [x] until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then [y] the residue of his brethren shall return [7] unto the children of Israel. 4 And he shall stand, [z] and shall feed his flock [a] in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God: and they shall abide; for now [b] shall he be great unto the ends of the earth. 5 And this man shall be [c] our peace: [d] when the Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven [e] shepherds, and eight [8] principal men. 6 And they shall [9] waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of [f] Nimrod in the entrances thereof: and he shall deliver us from the Assyrian, [d] when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our border. 7 And [g] the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples as dew from the LORD, as showers upon the grass; that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men. 8 And [g] the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, [g] as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: [h] who, if he go through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and there is none to deliver. 9 Let thine hand [i] be lifted up above thine adversaries, and let all thine enemies be cut off.

10 And it shall come to pass [j] in that day, saith the LORD, that [k] I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and will destroy thy chariots: 11 [l] and I will cut off the cities of thy land, and will throw down all thy strong holds: 12 and I will cut off [m] witchcrafts out of thine hand; and [n] thou shalt have no more soothsayers: 13 and [o] I will cut off thy graven images and [p] thy [10] pillars out of the midst of thee; [q] and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands. 14 And I will pluck up thine [r] Asherim out of the midst of thee: [l] and I will destroy thy [11] cities. 15 And [s] I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the nations [12] which hearkened not.

6 1 [t] Hear ye now what the LORD saith: Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice. 2 [u] Hear, O ye mountains, [v] the LORD'S controversy, and ye enduring foundations of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel. 3 O my people, [w] what have I done unto thee? and [x] wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me. 4 For [y] I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and [z] redeemed thee out of the house of bondage; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and [a] Miriam. 5 O my people, remember now [b] what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him; remember from [c] Shittim unto [d] Gilgal, that ye may know [e] the righteous acts of the LORD. 6 Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before [g] the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? 7 [h] Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? [i] shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? 8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and [j] what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to [k] walk humbly with thy God?

9 The voice of the LORD crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom will [l] see [l] thy name: hear ye [m] the rod, and who hath appointed it. 10 Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant [2] measure that is abominable? 11 Shall I be pure [n] with wicked balances, and with a bag of deceitful weights? 12 For the rich men thereof are [o] full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof [p] have spoken lies, and [q] their tongue is deceitful in their mouth. 13 Therefore I also have smitten thee with a grievous wound; [r] I have made thee desolate because of thy sins. 14 [s] Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy [3] humiliation shall be in the midst of thee: and thou shalt remove, but shalt not carry away safe; and that which thou carriest away will I give up to the sword. 15 [t] Thou shalt sow, but shalt not reap: thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not anoint thee with oil; and the vintage, but shalt not drink the wine. 16 For the statutes of [u] Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of [v] Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels: that I should make thee [4] [w] a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof [w] an hissing; and ye shall bear [x] the reproach of my people.

7 1 Woe is me! for I am [y] as when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat; [5] my soul desireth [z] the firstripe fig. 2 [a] The godly man is perished out of the earth, and [b] there is none upright among men: [c] they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt [d] every man his brother with a net. 3 [6] [e] Their hands are upon that which is evil to do it diligently; [f] the prince asketh, and [g] the judge is ready for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth the mischief of his soul: thus they weave it together. 4 The best of them is [h] as a brier: [i] the most upright is worse than a thorn hedge: the day of [i] thy watchmen, even thy visitation, is come; [j] now shall be their perplexity. 5 [k] Trust ye not in a friend, [l] put ye not confidence in a [8] guide: keep [m] the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom. 6 For [n] the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law; [o] a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

7 But as for me, [9] I will look unto the LORD; [p] I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me. 8 [q] Rejoice not against me, O [r] mine enemy: [s] when I fall, I shall arise; [t] when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me. 9 [u] I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him; until [v] he plead my cause, and execute judgement for me: [w] he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. 10 Then [x] mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her; which [y] said unto me, Where is the LORD thy God? [z] mine eyes shall behold her; now shall she be trodden down [a] as the mire of the streets. 11 [10] [b] A day for building thy walls! in that day shall [c] the 14 [8 h] Feed thy people [i] with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage, which dwell solitarily, in the forest [j] in the midst of [k] Carmel: [j] let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old. 15 [l] As in the days of thy coming forth out of the land of Egypt will I shew unto him marvellous things. 16 [m] The nations shall see and be ashamed of all their might: [n] they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears shall be deaf. 17 [o] They shall lick the dust like a serpent; like crawling things of the earth [p] they shall come trembling out of their close places: [q] they shall come with fear unto the LORD our God, and shall be afraid because of thee. 18 [r] Who is a God like unto thee, [s] that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression [3] of the remnant of his heritage? [t] he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy. 19 He will [u] turn again and have compassion upon us; [v] he will [4] tread our iniquities under foot: and [w] thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea. 20 [5 x] Thou wilt [6] perform the truth to Jacob, and the mercy to Abraham, [y] which thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the days of old.

NAHUM.

1 [a] THE [7] burden of [b] Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

2 [c] The LORD is a jealous God and avengeth; the LORD avengeth and is full of wrath; [d] the LORD taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and [e] he reserveth wrath for his enemies. 3 [f] The LORD is slow to anger, and [g] great in power, and [h] will by no means clear the guilty: the LORD [i] hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet. 4 [j] He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: [k] Bashan languisheth, and [l] Carmel, and the flower of [k] Lebanon languisheth. 5 [m] The mountains quake at him, and [n] the hills melt; and the earth is upheaved at his presence, yea, [o] the world, and all that dwell therein. 6 [p] Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury [q] is poured out like fire, and [r] the rocks are broken asunder by him. 7 [s] The LORD is good, [t] a strong hold in the day of trouble; and [u] he knoweth them that put their trust in him. 8 But [v] with an overrunning flood he will make a full end of the place thereof, and [w] will pursue his enemies into darkness. 9 What [x] do ye imagine against the LORD? [y] he will make a full end: affliction shall not rise up the second time. 10 For though they be [z] like tangled thorns, and be drenched as it were in their drink, [a] they shall be devoured [8] utterly as dry stubble. 11 There is one gone forth out of thee, [b] that imagineth evil against the LORD, [9] that counselleth [10] wickedness. 12 Thus saith the LORD: Though they be in full strength, and likewise many, [c] even so shall they be cut down, and he shall pass away. 11 [d] Though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more. 13 And now [e] will I break his yoke from off thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder. 14 And the LORD hath given commandment concerning thee, [f] that no more of thy name be sown: out of [g] the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image and the molten image; [h] I will make thy grave; [i] for thou art vile. 15 [j] Behold, upon the mountains [k] the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! [l] Keep thy feasts, O Judah, [m] perform thy vows: [n] for [1] the wicked one shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off.

2 1 [o] He that dasheth in pieces is come up before thy face: [p] keep the munition, watch the way, make thy loins strong, fortify thy power mightily. 2 For [q] the LORD bringeth again the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and [r] marred their vine branches. 3 The shield of his mighty men is made red, [s] the valiant men are in scarlet: the chariots [2] flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and the [3] spears are shaken terribly. 4 [t] The chariots rage in the streets, they justle one against another in the broad ways: the appearance of them is like torches, they run like the lightnings. 5 He remembereth [u] his worthies: [v] they stumble in their march; they make haste to the wall thereof, and the mantelet is prepared. 6 [w] The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace is [x] dissolved. 7 [4] And Huzzab is [y] uncovered, she is carried away, and her handmaids [5] [z] mourn as with the voice of doves, [a] tabering upon their [6] breasts. 8 But [b] Nineveh hath been [7] from of old like a pool of water: yet they flee away; Stand, stand, they cry; but [c] none [8] looketh back. 9 Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: for there is none end of the store, the [9] glory of all pleasant furniture. 10 [d] She is empty, and void, and waste: and [e] the heart melteth, and [f] the knees smite together, and [g] anguish is in all loins, and [h] the faces of them all are waxed pale. 11 Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of [i] the young lions, where the lion [10] and the lioness walked, the lion's whelp, and [j] none made them afraid? 12 [k] The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his caves [l] with prey, and his dens with ravin. 13 [m] Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and [n] I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and [o] the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

3 1 Woe to [p] the bloody city! it is all full of lies and rapine; [q] the prey departeth not. 2 The noise of the whip, and the noise of [r] the rattling of wheels; and [s] prancing horses, and [t] jumping chariots; 3 the horseman [11] mounting, and the flashing sword, and [u] the glittering spear; [v] and a multitude of slain, and a great heap of carcases: and there is none end of the corpses; they stumble upon their corpses: 4 because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the well favoured [w] harlot, [x] the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts. 5 [m] Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and [y] I will discover thy skirts [12] upon thy face; and I will shew the nations [z] thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame. 6 And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and [a] make thee vile, and will set thee as [b] a gazingstock. 7 And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee [c] shall flee from thee, and say, [d] Nineveh is laid waste: [e] who will bemoan her? [f] whence shall I seek comforters for thee? 8 [g] Art thou better than [h] No-amon, that was situate [i] among the [13] rivers, that had the waters round about her; whose rampart was [14] the sea, and her wall [15] was of the sea? 9 [j] Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was infinite; [k] Put and [l] Lubim were thy helpers. 10 [m] Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: [n] her young children also were dashed in pieces at the top of all the streets: and [o] they cast lots for her honourable men, [p] and all her great men were bound in chains. 11 [q] Thou also shalt be drunken, thou shalt be hid; [r] thou also shalt seek [16] a strong hold because of the enemy. 12 All thy fortresses shall be [s] like fig trees

HABAKKUK.

1 [a] THE [5] burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see.

2 O LORD, [b] how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? I cry out unto thee [c] of violence, and thou wilt not save. 3 [d] Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and [6] look upon perverseness? for spoiling [c] and violence are before me: and there is strife, and contention riseth up. 4 [e] Therefore the law is slacked, and judgement [7] doth never go forth: [f] for the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore judgement goeth forth perverted. 5 [g] Behold ye among the nations, and regard, and wonder marvellously: [h] for [8] I work a work in your days, which ye will not believe though it be told you. 6 For, lo, [i] I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation; [j] which march through the breadth of the earth, [k] to possess dwelling places that are not theirs. 7 [9] They are terrible and dreadful: [l] their judgement and their dignity proceed from themselves. 8 [m] Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than [n] the evening wolves; and their horsemen [10] spread themselves: yea, their horsemen come from far; [o] they fly as an eagle that hasteth to devour. 9 They come all of them [p] for violence; [11] their faces are set eagerly [12] as [q] the east wind; and they gather captives [r] as the sand. 10 [13] Yea, he scoffeth at kings, and princes are a derision unto him: [s] he derideth every strong hold; for [t] he heapeth up dust, and taketh it. 11 [14] Then shall he sweep by as a wind, and shall [15] pass over, and [u] be guilty: even he [v] whose might is his god. 12 Art not thou [w] from everlasting, O LORD my God, mine Holy One? [16] [x] we shall not die. O LORD, [y] thou hast ordained him for judgement; and thou, O [z] Rock, hast established him for correction. 13 Thou that art [a] of purer eyes than to behold evil, and that canst not look on perverseness, [b] wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and [c] holdest thy peace when the wicked swalloweth up the man that is more righteous than he; 14 and makest men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things, that have no ruler over them? 15 [d] He taketh up all of them [e] with the angle, he catcheth them in his net, and gathereth them in his drag: therefore he rejoiceth and is glad. 16 [f] Therefore he sacrificeth unto his net, and burneth incense unto his drag; because by g Cp. ch. 2. 10.

2 I will [h] stand upon my watch, and set me upon the [2] tower, and will [i] look forth to see [j] what he will speak [3] with me, and what I shall answer concerning my complaint. 2 And the LORD answered me, and said, [k] Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it. 3 For [l] the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it [4] hasteth toward the end, and shall not lie: though it tarry, [m] wait for it; because [n] it will surely come, it will not delay. 4 Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not [5] upright in him: but [o] the just shall live [6] by his faith. 5 [7] Yea, moreover, wine is [p] a treacherous dealer, a haughty man, and [8] that keepeth not at home; who enlargeth his desire [q] as [9] hell, and he is as death, [r] and cannot be satisfied, but [s] gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all peoples. 6 Shall not all these [t] take up a parable against him, and a taunting [10] proverb against him, and say, [u] Woe to him [v] that increaseth that which is not his! [w] how long? and [x] that ladeth himself with pledges! 7 [y] Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall [11] bite thee, and awake that shall [12] vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them? 8 [z] Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the peoples shall spoil thee; [a] because of men's blood, and [a] for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

He had [1] rays coming forth [2] from his hand:
And there was the hiding of his power.
5 [h] Before him went the pestilence,
[i] And [3] fiery bolts went forth [j] at his feet.
6 He stood, [k] and [4] measured the earth;
He beheld, and drove asunder the nations:
And the [l] eternal mountains [m] were scattered,
The everlasting hills did bow;
[5] His goings were [n] as of old.
7 I saw the tents of [o] Cushan in affliction:
[p] The curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.
8 [q] Was the LORD displeased against the rivers?
Was thine anger against the rivers,
[q] Or thy wrath against the sea,
[r] That thou didst ride upon thine horses,
[r] Upon thy chariots of salvation?
9 Thy bow was made quite bare;
[6] [s] The oaths to the tribes were a sure word. [Selah
[t] Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers.
10 [u] The mountains saw thee, and [7] were afraid;
The tempest of waters passed by:
[v] The deep uttered his voice,
[w] And lifted up his hands on high.
11 [x] The sun and moon stood still in their habitation;
[y] At the light of thine arrows as they went,
At the shining of thy glittering spear.
12 [z] Thou didst march through the land in indignation,
[a] Thou didst thresh the nations in anger.
13 [z] Thou [8] wentest forth for the salvation of thy people,
[9] For the salvation of [b] thine anointed;
[10] [c] Thou [11] woundedst the head out of the house of the wicked,
Laying bare the foundation even unto the neck. [Selah
14 Thou [12] didst pierce with his own staves the head of his [13] warriors:
They came as a whirlwind to scatter me:
Their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.
15 [d] Thou [14] didst tread the sea with thine horses,
The [15] heap of mighty waters.
16 [e] I heard, and [f] my belly trembled,
My lips quivered at the voice;
[g] Rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in my place:
That [h] I should rest [16] in the day of trouble, [17] When it cometh up against the people [18] which invadeth him in troops.
17 For though the fig tree shall not blossom,
Neither shall fruit be in the vines;
The labour of the olive shall fail,
And the fields shall yield no meat;
The flock shall be cut off from the fold,
And there shall be no herd in the stalls:
18 [i] Yet I will rejoice in the LORD,
[j] I will joy in the God of my salvation.
19 Jehovah, the Lord, is my strength,

ZEPHANIAH.

1 THE word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, [a] in the days of [b] Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.

2 [c] I will utterly consume all things from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. 3 I will consume [d] man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and [d] the fishes of the sea, and [e] the stumblingblocks with the wicked; and I will [f] cut off man from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. 4 And I will stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; [g] and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the [h] Chemarim with the priests; 5 and [i] them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; and [j] them that worship, which swear to the LORD and swear by [1] [k] Malcam; 6 and [l] them that are turned back from following the LORD; and [m] those that have not sought the LORD, nor inquired after him.

7 [n] Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord GOD: for [o] the day of the LORD is at hand: for [p] the LORD hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath [q] sanctified his guests. 8 And it shall come to pass in the day of the LORD's sacrifice, that [r] I will [2] punish the princes, and the king's sons, and [s] all such as are clothed with foreign apparel. 9 And in that day I will [2] punish all those [t] that leap over the threshold, which fill their master's house with violence and deceit. 10 And in that day, saith the LORD, there shall be the noise of a cry from [u] the fish gate, and [v] an howling from [w] the [3] second quarter, and a great crashing from the hills. 11 [x] Howl, ye inhabitants of [4] Maktesh, for all [5] [y] the people of Canaan are undone: all they that were laden with silver are cut off. 12 And it shall come to pass at that time, that [z] I will search Jerusalem [a] with [6] candles; and I will [2] punish the men [b] that are [7] settled on their lees, [c] that say in their heart, The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evil. 13 And their wealth shall become [d] a spoil, and their houses a desolation: yea, [e] they shall build houses, but shall not inhabit them; and [f] they shall plant vineyards, but shall not drink the wine thereof. 14 [g] The great day of the LORD is near, it is near and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the LORD; [h] the mighty man crieth there bitterly. 15 That day is [i] a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of [j] wasteness and desolation, [k] a day of darkness and gloominess, [k] a day of clouds and thick darkness, 16 [l] a day of the trumpet and alarm, [m] against the fenced cities, and against the high [8] [n] battlements. 17 And [o] I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk [p] like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD: and [q] their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh [r] as dung. 18 [s] Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in [t] the day of the LORD's wrath; but [t] the whole land shall be devoured by [u] the fire of his jealousy: [v] for he shall make an end, yea, a [9] terrible end, of all them that dwell in the land.

2 1 Gather yourselves together, yea, gather together, O nation [w] that hath no [10] shame; 2 [x] before the decree bring forth, [11] before the day pass [y] as the chaff, [z] before the fierce anger of the LORD come upon you, before the day of the LORD's anger come upon you. 3 [a] Seek ye the LORD, [b] all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgement; [c] seek righteousness, seek meekness: [c] it may be [d] ye shall be hid in the day of the LORD's anger. 4 [e] For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation: they shall drive out Ashdod at the noonday, and Ekron shall be rooted up. 5 Woe unto [f] the inhabitants of [12] the sea coast, the nation of [g] the Cherethites! [h] The word of the LORD is against you, [i] O Canaan, the land of the Philistines; I will destroy thee, [j] that there shall be no inhabitant. 6 [k] And the sea coast [l] shall be pastures, with [1] cottages for shepherds and folds for flocks. 7 [m] And the coast shall be for [n] the remnant of the house of Judah; [l] they shall feed their flocks thereupon: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening; for the LORD their God [o] shall visit them, and [p] bring again their captivity. 8 I have heard [q] the reproach of Moab, and [r] the revilings of the children of Ammon, wherewith they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves [s] against their border. 9 Therefore [t] as I live, saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall be [u] as Sodom, and the children of Ammon [u] as Gomorrah, a possession of [2] nettles, and saltpits, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my nation shall inherit them. 10 This shall they have [v] for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of hosts. 11 The LORD will be terrible unto them: [w] for he will famish all the gods of the earth; and [x] men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all [y] the [3] isles of the nations. 12 [z] Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall be slain by my sword. 13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north, [a] and destroy Assyria; and [b] will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like the wilderness. 14 [c] And herds shall lie down in the midst of her, [4] all the beasts of the nations: [d] both the pelican and the porcupine shall lodge in the chapiters thereof: their voice shall sing in the windows; [5] desolation shall be in the thresholds: for he hath laid bare [e] the cedar work. 15 This is the joyous city [f] that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none else beside me: how is she become a desolation, [g] a place for beasts to lie down in! [h] every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and [i] wag his hand.

3 Woe to her that is rebellious and polluted, to [j] the oppressing city! 2 She obeyed not the voice; [k] she received not [6] correction; [l] she trusted not in the LORD; she drew not near to her God. 3 [m] Her princes in the midst of her are roaring lions; her judges are [n] evening wolves; they [7] leave nothing till the morrow. 4 [o] Her prophets are light and treacherous persons: [o] her priests [p] have profaned the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law. 5 The LORD in the midst of her [q] is righteous; he will not do iniquity; [8] [r] every morning doth he bring his judgement to light, he faileth not; but [s] the unjust knoweth no shame. 6 [t] I have cut off nations, their [9] battlements are desolate; I have made their streets waste, [u] that none passeth by: their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant. 7 [v] I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, [w] thou wilt receive [6] correction; so her dwelling should not be cut off, [10] according to all that I have appointed concerning her: but [x] they rose early and corrupted all their doings. 8 Therefore [y] wait ye for me, saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my [11] determination is [z] to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger; for [a] all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. 9 For then will I turn to the peoples [b] a pure [12] language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve him with one [13] consent. 10 [c] From beyond the rivers [d] of Ethiopia [14] my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering. 11 [e] In that day [f] shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then [g] I will take away out of the midst of thee [15] thy proudly exulting ones, and [h] thou shalt no more be haughty in my holy mountain. 12 But I will leave in the midst of thee [i] an afflicted and poor people, and [j] they shall trust in the name of the LORD. 13 [k] The remnant of Israel [l] shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; [m] neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: [n] for they shall feed and lie

1 [a] IN the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet unto [b] Zerubbabel the son of [c] Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to [d] Joshua the son of [e] Jehozadak, the high priest, saying, 2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, [3] It is not the time for us to come, the time for the LORD'S house to be built. 3 Then came the word of the LORD [f] by Haggai the prophet, saying, 4 [g] Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your cieled houses, while [h] this house lieth waste? 5 Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: [9] [i] Consider your ways. 6 [j] Ye have sown much, and bring in little; [k] ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that [l] earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes. 7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [9] [i] Consider your ways. 8 Go up to the [10] mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and [m] I will take pleasure in it, and [n] I will be glorified, saith the LORD. 9 [j] Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, [o] I did [11] blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house [h] that lieth waste, while ye run every man to his own house. 10 Therefore [12] [p] for your sake the heaven is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit. 11 And [q] I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon [r] the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and [s] upon all the labour of the hands.

12 [t] Then [u] Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and [u] Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all [v] the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people did fear before the LORD. 13 Then spake Haggai [w] the LORD'S messenger in the LORD'S message unto the people, saying, [x] I am with you, saith the LORD. 14 And [y] the LORD stirred up the spirit of [u] Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of [u] Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all [v] the remnant of the people; and they came and [z] did work in the house of the LORD of hosts, their God, 15 [a] in the four and twentieth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

1 [b] In the seventh month, in 2 the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, 2 Speak now to [c] Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to [c] Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying, 3 [d] Who is left among you that saw this house [e] in its former glory? and how do ye see it now? [f] is it not in your eyes as nothing? 4 Yet now [g] be strong, O [c] Zerubbabel, saith the LORD; and [g] be strong, O [c] Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and [g] be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and [h] work: for [i] I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts, 5 [1][j] according to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, and [k] my spirit [2] abode among you: [l] fear ye not. 6 For thus saith the LORD of hosts: [m] Yet once, it is a little while, and [n] I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land; 7 [o] and I will shake all nations, and [3][p] the desirable things of all nations shall come, and [q] I will fill this house with glory, saith the LORD of hosts. 8 [r] The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the LORD of hosts. 9 [s] The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and [t] in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of hosts.

10 [u] In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, [v] in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, 11 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [w] Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying, 12 If one bear [x] holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it become holy? And the priests answered and said, [y] No. 13 Then said Haggai, [z] If one that is unclean by a dead body [a] touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean. 14 Then answered Haggai and said, [b] So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD; and so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean. 15 And now, I pray you, [c] consider from this day and upward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the LORD: 16 [4] through all that time, [d] when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten; when one came to the winefat for to draw out fifty vessels, there were but twenty. 17 [e] I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail in all the work of your hands; [f] yet ye turned not to me, saith the LORD. 18 [c] Consider, I pray you, from this day and upward, [g] from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, since [h] the day that the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid, [c] consider it. 19 [i] Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree hath not brought forth; from this day [j] will I bless you.

20 And the word of the LORD came the second time unto Haggai [g] in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying, 21 Speak to [k] Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, [l] I will shake the heavens and the earth: 22 and [m] I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations; [n] and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, [o] every one by the sword of his brother. 23 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O [k] Zerubbabel, [p] my servant, the son of [q] Shealtiel, saith the LORD, and will make thee [r] as a signet: [p] for I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

ZECHARIAH.

1 In the eighth month, [a] in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto [b] Zechariah the son of [c] Berechiah, the son of [d] Iddo, the prophet, saying, 2 [e] The LORD hath been sore displeased with your fathers. 3 Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [f] Return unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and [g] I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. 4 [h] Be ye not as your fathers, [i] unto whom the former prophets cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, [f] Return ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but [j] they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD. 5 [k] Your fathers, where are they? and [l] the prophets, do they live for ever? 6 [m] But my words and my statutes, which I commanded [n] my servants the prophets, did they not [o] overtake your fathers? and they turned and said, [p] Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to [q] our ways, and according to [q] our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month [r] Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto [b] Zechariah the son of [c] Berechiah, the son of [d] Iddo, the prophet, saying, 8 I saw in the night, and behold [s] a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the [1] bottom; and behind him there were [t] horses, red, sorrel, and white. 9 Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And [u] the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these be. 10 And [s] the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, [v] These are they whom the LORD hath sent to [w] walk to and fro through the earth. 11 And they answered [u] the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, [w] We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth sitteth still, and [x] is at rest. 12 Then [u] the angel of the LORD answered and said, [y] O LORD of hosts, [y] how long wilt thou not [z] have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these [a] threescore and ten years? 13 And the LORD answered [u] the angel that talked with me with [b] good words, even comfortable words. 14 So [u] the angel that talked with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [c] I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy. 15 [d] And I am very sore displeased with the nations that are [e] at ease: [f] for I was but a little displeased, [g] and they [2] helped forward the affliction. 16 Therefore thus saith the LORD: [h] I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies; [i] my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and [j] a line shall be stretched forth over Jerusalem. 17 Cry yet again, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [k] My cities [3] through prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; [l] and the LORD shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet [m] choose Jerusalem.

18 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold [n] four horns. 19 And I said unto [u] the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, [n] These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem. 20 And the LORD shewed me four smiths. 21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he spake, saying, [n] These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come [o] to fray them, to cast down the horns of the nations, [p] which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

2 1 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold [q] a man with a measuring line in his hand. 2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, [r] To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof. 3 And, behold, [s] the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him, 4 and said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, [t]Jerusalem shall [1] be inhabited [u]as villages without walls, by reason of [v]the multitude of men and cattle therein. 5 For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her [w]a wall of fire round about, and I will be the glory in the midst of her. 6 Ho, ho, [x]flee from the land of the north, saith the LORD: for I have [y]spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the LORD. 7 [z]Ho Zion, escape, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon. 8 For thus saith the LORD of hosts: [2] After glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: [a]for he that toucheth you toucheth [b]the apple of his eye. 9 For, behold, [c]I will shake mine hand over them, [d]and they shall be a spoil to those that served them: and [e]ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me. 10 [f]Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion: for, [g]lo, I come, [h]and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the LORD. 11 [i]And many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people: [h]and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and [e]thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto thee. 12 [j]And the LORD shall inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and shall yet [k]choose Jerusalem. 13 [l]Be silent, all flesh, before the LORD: for he is waked up out of his holy habitation.

3 1 And he shewed me [m]Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, [n]and [3]Satan standing at his right hand to be his adversary. 2 And the LORD said unto Satan, [o]The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan; yea, the LORD that hath [p]chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee: is not this [q]a brand plucked out of the fire? 3 Now [m]Joshua was [r]clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the angel. 4 And he answered and spake unto [s]those that stood before him, saying, [t]Take the filthy garments from off him. And unto him he said, Behold, [u]I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and [v]I will clothe thee with rich apparel. 5 And [4]I said, [w]Let them set a fair [5]mitre upon his head. So they set a fair [5]mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments; and the angel of the LORD stood by. 6 And the angel of the LORD protested unto [m]Joshua, saying, 7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt [x]keep my charge, then thou also shalt [y]judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee [6]a place of access among [z]these that stand by. 8 Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee; for [a]they are men which are a [7]sign: for, behold, I will bring forth [b]my servant [c]the [8]Branch. 9 For behold, [d]the stone that I have set before Joshua; upon one stone are [e]seven eyes: behold, I will [f]engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and [g]I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. 10 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour [h]under the vine and under the fig tree.

4 1 And [i]the angel that talked with me came again, [j]and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep. 2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have seen, and behold, [k]a candlestick all of gold, with its bowl upon the top of it, and its [l]seven lamps thereon; [9]there are seven pipes to each of the lamps, which are upon the top thereof: 3 and [m]two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof. 4 And I answered and spake to [i]the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord? 5 Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, [n]Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord. 6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto [o]Zerubbabel, saying, [p]Not by [10]might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the LORD of hosts. 7 Who art thou, [q]O great mountain? before [o]Zerubbabel [r]thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth [s]the head stone with shoutings of Grace, grace, unto it. 8 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 9 [t]The hands of [o]Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also [u] finish it; [v] and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. 10 [w] For who hath despised the day of small things? for they shall rejoice, and shall see [x] the plummet in the hand of [o] Zerubbabel, even [y] these seven, [y] which are the eyes of the LORD; [z] they run to and fro through the whole earth. 11 Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these [m] two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof? 12 And I answered the second time, and said unto him, What be these [m] two olive branches, [1] which are beside the two golden spouts, that empty [2] the golden oil out of themselves? 13 And he answered me and said, [a] Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord. 14 Then said he, [b] These are the two sons of oil, that stand by [c] the Lord of the whole earth.

5 1 Then again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, a flying [d] roll. 2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying [d] roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits. 3 Then said he unto me, This is [e] the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole land: for every one that [f] stealeth shall be purged out [3] on the one side according to it; and every one that [g] sweareth shall be purged out [3] on the other side according to it. 4 I will cause it to go forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of [h] him that sweareth falsely by my name: and [i] it shall abide in the midst of his house, and [j] shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.

5 [k] Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, [l] Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth. 6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is [m] the ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their [4] resemblance in all the land: 7 (and behold, there was lifted up a [5] talent of lead:) and this is a woman sitting in the midst of the ephah. 8 And he said, This is Wickedness; and he cast her down into the midst of the ephah: and he cast [m] the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof. 9 Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came forth two women, and [n] the wind was in their wings; now they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven. 10 Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah? 11 And he said unto me, To build her an house in the [o] land of Shinar: and when it is [6] prepared, she shall be set there [7] in her own place.

6 1 And again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came four chariots out from between [8] two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of [p] brass. 2 In the first chariot were [q] red horses; and in the second chariot [r] black horses; 3 and in the third chariot [s] white horses; and in the fourth chariot grisled [9] bay horses. 4 Then I answered and said unto [t] the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord? 5 And the angel answered and said unto me, [u] These are the four [10] winds of heaven, which go forth from [11] [v] standing before [w] the Lord of all the earth. 6 The chariot wherein are the black horses goeth forth toward [x] the north country; and the white went forth after them; and the grisled went forth toward [y] the south country. 7 And the [12] bay went forth, and sought to go that they might [z] walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get you hence, [z] walk to and fro through the earth. [z] So they walked to and fro through the earth. 8 Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, they that go toward [x] the north country have quieted my spirit in [x] the north country.

9 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 10 Take of them of the captivity, even of [a] Heldai, of Tobijah, and of [b] Jedaiah; and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of [c] Zephaniah, whither they are come from Babylon; 11 yea, take of them silver and gold, and make [13] crowns, [d] and set them upon the head of [e] Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest; 12 and speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold, the man [1] whose name is [f] the [2] Branch; and he shall [3] grow up out of his place, and [g] he shall build the temple of the LORD: 13 [g] even he shall build the temple of the LORD; [h] and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne; [i] and [4] he shall be a priest upon his throne: [j] and the counsel of peace shall be between them both. 14 And the [5] [k] crowns shall be to [l] Helem, and to [m] Tobijah, and to [6] Jedaiah, and to Hen [m] the son of Zephaniah, for [n] a memorial in the temple of the LORD. 15 [o] And they that are far off shall come and [p] build in the temple of the LORD, [q] and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. [r] And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.

7 1 And it came to pass in [s] the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in [t] Chislev. 2 [7] Now they of Beth-el had sent Sharezer and Regem-melech, and their men, [u] to intreat the favour of the LORD, 3 and [v] to speak unto the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts, and to [w] the prophets, saying, Should I weep in [x] the fifth month, [y] separating myself, as I have done these so many years? 4 Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me, saying, 5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in [x] the fifth and in [yy] the seventh month, even these [z] seventy years, [a] did ye at all fast [a] unto me, even to me? 6 [b] And when ye eat, and when ye drink, [8] do not ye eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves? 7 [c] Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried [d] by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, [e] and the cities thereof round about her, and the [e] South and the [e] lowland were inhabited?

8 And the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah, saying, 9 Thus hath the LORD of hosts spoken, saying, [f] Execute true judgement, and shew mercy and compassion every man to his brother: 10 and [g] oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, [h] nor the poor; and [i] let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart. 11 But [j] they refused to hearken, [k] and [9] pulled away the shoulder, and [10] stopped their ears, that they should not hear. 12 Yea, [l] they made their hearts as an adamant stone, [m] lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent [m] by his spirit by the hand of [n] the former prophets: [o] therefore came there great wrath from the LORD of hosts. 13 [p] And it came to pass that, as he cried, and they would not hear; [p] so they shall cry, and I will not hear, said the LORD of hosts; 14 [q] but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all [r] the nations whom they have not known. [s] Thus the land was desolate after them, [t] that no man passed through nor returned: [u] for they laid the [11] pleasant land desolate.

8 1 And the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying, 2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [v] I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great fury. 3 Thus saith the LORD: [w] I am returned unto Zion, and [x] will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: [y] and Jerusalem shall be called The city of truth; [z] and the mountain of the LORD of hosts The holy mountain. 4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: There shall yet [a] old men and old women [12] dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in his hand [13] for very age. 5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof. 6 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [b] If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, [c] should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts. 7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, [d] I will save my people [e] from the east country, and from the west country: 8 and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; f and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, g in truth and in righteousness.

9 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: h Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words from the mouth of i the prophets, which were in j the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, even the temple, that it might be built. 10 For before those days k there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the adversary: for I set all men every one against his neighbour. 11 But now I will not be unto the remnant of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts. 12 l For there shall be the seed of peace; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, m and the heavens shall give their dew; n and I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit all these things. 13 And it shall come to pass that, as o ye were a curse among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, d so will I save you, and p ye shall be a blessing: q fear not, but h let your hands be strong. 14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts: r As I thought to do evil unto you, when your fathers s provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I t repented not; 15 so again have I thought in these days to do good unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah: q fear ye not. 16 These are the things that ye shall do; u Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbour; [1] v execute the judgement of w truth and peace in your gates: 17 and x let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and y love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.

18 And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying, 19 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The fast of the z fourth month, and the fast of the a fifth, and the fast of the b seventh, and the fast of the c tenth, shall be to the house of Judah d joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts; therefore love e truth and peace.

20 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come peoples, and the inhabitants of [2] many cities: 21 and the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, f Let us go speedily g to intreat the favour of the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also. 22 Yea, f many peoples and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and g to intreat the favour of the LORD. 23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: In those days it shall come to pass, that h ten men shall take hold, i out of all the languages of the nations, shall even take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you, for j we have heard that God is with you.

9 1 The [3] burden of the word of the LORD upon the land of Hadrach, and k Damascus shall be its resting place: for [4] the eye of man and of all the tribes of Israel is toward the LORD: 2 and l Hamath also which bordereth thereon: m Tyre and m Zidon, [5] because n she is very wise. 3 And Tyre did build herself o a strong hold, and p heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets. 4 Behold, the Lord will dispossess her, and he will smite [6] q her power in the sea; and r she shall be devoured with fire. 5 s Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gaza also, and shall be sore pained; and Ekron, for her expectation shall be ashamed: and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited. 6 And [7] t a bastard shall [8] dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines. 7 And I will take away u his blood out of his mouth, and v his abominations from between his teeth; and w he also shall be a remnant for our God: and he shall be as x a chieftain in Judah, and y Ekron as a Jebusite. 8 And z I will encamp about mine house [9] against the army, a that none pass through or return: and b no [10] oppressor shall pass through them any more: c for now have I seen with mine eyes.

unto thee: he is just, and [1]having [2]salvation; [g] lowly, and riding upon an ass, even upon a colt the foal of an ass. 10 And [h] I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and [i] the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle bow shall be cut off; and [j] he shall speak peace unto the nations: and [k] his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from [l] the River to the ends of the earth. 11 As for thee also, because of [m] the blood of thy covenant [n] I have sent forth thy prisoners out of [o] the pit wherein is no water. 12 [3] Turn you to the strong hold, ye [p] prisoners of hope: even to-day do I declare that [q] I will render double unto thee. 13 For [r] I have bent Judah for me, I have filled the bow with Ephraim; and I will stir up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, [s] O [4] Greece, and will make thee as the sword of a mighty man. 14 And the LORD shall be seen over them, and [t] his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and [u] the Lord GOD shall blow the trumpet, and shall go with [v] whirlwinds [w] of the south. 15 The LORD of hosts [x] shall defend them; and [y] they shall devour, [z] and shall tread down the sling stones; and [a] they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine: and they shall be filled like bowls, [b] like the corners of the altar. 16 And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as [c] the flock of his people: for they shall be [d] as the stones of a crown, [5] lifted on high over his land. 17 [e] For how great is [6] his [7] goodness, and how great is [6] his beauty! [f] corn shall make the young men flourish, and new wine the maids.

10 1 Ask ye [g] of the LORD rain in the time of [h] the latter rain, even of the LORD [i] that maketh lightnings; and [j] he shall give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field. 2 For [k] the teraphim [l] have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie; and [8] [m] they have told false dreams, they comfort in vain: therefore [n] they go their way like sheep, they are afflicted, because there is no shepherd. 3 [o] Mine anger is kindled against the shepherds, and [p] I will punish the he-goats: for [q] the LORD of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and shall make them as his goodly horse in the battle. 4 From him shall come forth [r] the corner stone, from him [s] the nail, from him the battle bow, from him every [9] [t] exactor together. 5 And they shall be as mighty men, [u] treading down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle; and they shall fight, because the LORD is with them: [v] and the riders on horses shall be confounded. 6 And [w] I will strengthen the house of Judah, and [x] I will save the house of Joseph, and [y] I will [10] bring them again, [z] for I have mercy upon them; and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for [a] I am the LORD their God, and I will hear them. 7 And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and [b] their heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and rejoice; their heart shall be glad in the LORD. 8 [c] I will hiss for them, and [d] gather them; for I have redeemed them: and [e] they shall increase as they have increased. 9 [11] [f] And I will sow them among the peoples; and [g] they shall remember me in far countries; and they shall live with their children, and shall return. 10 [h] I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and [i] I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and [j] place shall not be found for them. 11 And [k] he shall pass through the sea of affliction, and shall smite [12] the waves in the sea, [l] and all the depths of the Nile shall dry up: and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and [m] the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away. 12 And [n] I will strengthen them in the LORD; and [o] they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the LORD.

11 1 Open thy doors, [p] O Lebanon, that the fire may devour thy cedars. 2 Howl, O fir tree, for the cedar is fallen, because the [13] goodly ones are spoiled: howl, [p] O ye oaks of Bashan, for the [14] strong forest is come down. 3 A voice of [q] the howling of [q] the shepherds! for their glory is spoiled: a voice of the roaring of [r] young lions! pride of Jordan is spoiled. 4 Thus said the LORD my God: [t]Feed the flock of slaughter; 5 [u]whose [1]possessors slay them, and hold themselves not guilty; and they that sell them say, Blessed be the LORD, for [v]I am rich: and [2]their own shepherds pity them not. 6 For [w]I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD: but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them. 7 [x]So I fed the flock of slaughter, verily [3][y]the poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves; the one I called [4][z]Beauty, and the other I called [5][a]Bands; [x]and I fed the flock. 8 And [b]I cut off the three shepherds in one month; for my soul was weary of them, and their soul also loathed me. 9 Then said I, I will not feed you: [c]that that dieth, let it die; and [6]that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let them which are left eat every one the flesh of another. 10 And I took [d]my staff Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples. 11 And it was broken in that day: and [7]thus [8][y]the poor of the flock that gave heed unto me knew that it was the word of the LORD. 12 And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my hire; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my hire [e]thirty pieces of silver. 13 And the LORD said unto me, Cast it [8]unto the potter, [f]the goodly price that I was prised at of them. And I took the [e]thirty pieces of silver, and cast them [8]unto the potter, in the house of the LORD. 14 Then I cut asunder [g]mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 And the LORD said unto me, Take unto thee yet again the instruments of [h]a foolish shepherd. 16 For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, [i]which shall not [9]visit those that be [10]cut off, neither shall seek [11]those that be scattered, nor heal that that is broken; neither shall he feed that which [12]is sound, but [j]he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and shall tear their hoofs in pieces. 17 [k]Woe to the worthless shepherd [l]that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and [m]upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

12 1 [n][12]The burden of the word of the LORD concerning Israel.

Thus saith the LORD, [o]which stretcheth forth the heavens, and [p]layeth the foundation of the earth, and [o]formeth the spirit of man within him: 2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem [q]a cup of reeling unto [r]all the peoples round about, and [14][s]upon Judah also [15]shall it be in the siege against Jerusalem. 3 And it shall come to pass [t]in that day, that I will make Jerusalem [u]a burdensome stone for all the peoples; [v]all that burden themselves with it shall be sore wounded; and [r]all the nations of the earth shall be gathered together against it. 4 [t]In that day, saith the LORD, [w]I will smite every horse [x]with astonishment, and his rider [x]with madness: and [y]I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the peoples [x]with blindness. 5 And the chieftains of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in the LORD of hosts their God. 6 [t]In that day will I make the chieftains of Judah [z]like a pan of fire among wood, and like a torch of fire among sheaves; and [a]they shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left: and [b]Jerusalem shall yet again dwell in her own place, even in Jerusalem. 7 The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not magnified above Judah. 8 [t]In that day [c]shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and [d]he [16]that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, [e]as the angel of the LORD before them. 9 And it shall come to pass [t]in that day, that [f]I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem. 10 And [g]I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and [g] of supplication; and [h] they shall look unto [1] me whom they have pierced: and [i] they shall mourn for him, [j] as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn. 11 [k] In that day [l] shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, [l] as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of [m] Megiddon. 12 And the land shall mourn, [n] every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of [o] Nathan apart, and their wives apart; 13 the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of [p] the Shimeites apart, and their wives apart; 14 all the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

13 1 [q] In that day there shall be [r] a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. 2 And it shall come to pass [q] in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that [s] I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and [t] they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause [u] the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land. 3 And it shall come to pass that, when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, [v] Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth. 4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that [w] the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he prophesieth; neither shall they wear [x] a hairy mantle to deceive: 5 but he shall say, [y] I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondman from my youth. 6 And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds between thine [2] arms? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my [3] friends.

7 Awake, O sword, against [z] my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the LORD of hosts: [a] smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered; and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones. 8 And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; [b] but the third shall be left therein. 9 And [c] I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: [d] they shall call on my name, and [e] I will hear them: [f] I will say, It is my people; and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

14 1 Behold, [g] a day of the LORD cometh, when thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee. 2 For [h] I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and [i] the city shall be taken, [j] and the houses rifled, [k] and the women ravished: and [l] half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city. 3 [m] Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle. 4 And his feet shall stand [n] in that day [o] upon [p] the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and [p] the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, [q] and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south. 5 And [4] ye shall flee [5] by the valley of [6] my mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azel: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before [r] the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and [s] the LORD my God shall come, and all the holy ones with thee. 6 And it shall come to pass [n] in that day, [t] that [7] the light shall not be [8] with brightness and [t] with gloom: 7 [u] but it shall be one day [v] which is known unto the LORD; not day, and not night: but it shall come to pass, [w] that [u] at evening time there shall be light. 8 And it shall come to pass [n] in that day, that [x] living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward [y] the eastern sea, and half of them toward [y] the western sea:

MALACHI.

1 [a] THE [1] burden of the word of the LORD to Israel by [2] [b] Malachi.

2 [c] I have loved you, saith the LORD. [d] Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? [3] Was not Esau [c] Jacob's brother? saith the LORD: yet [f] I loved Jacob; 3 but Esau I hated, and [g] made his mountains a desolation, and gave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness. 4 [4] Whereas Edom saith, We are [5] beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places; thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down: and men shall call them The border of wickedness, and The people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever. 5 And [h] your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The LORD [6] be magnified [7] beyond the border of Israel.

6 [i] A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be [j] a father, where is mine honour? and if I be [k] a master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, [l] O priests, that despise my name. [d] And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name? 7 [m] Ye offer polluted [n] bread upon mine altar. [d] And ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, [o] The table of the LORD is contemptible. 8 [p] And when ye offer the blind for sacrifice, it is no evil! and when ye offer the lame and sick, it is no evil! Present it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee? or will he accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts. 9 And now, I pray you, [q] intreat the favour of God, that he may be gracious unto us: this hath been [8] by your means: [r] will he [9] accept any of your persons? saith the LORD of hosts. 10 [s] Oh that there were one among you that would shut the doors, that ye might not kindle fire on mine altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, [t] neither will I accept an offering at your hand. 11 For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same [u] my name [10] [v] is great among the Gentiles; and in every place [11] incense is offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for [u] my name [10] [v] is great among the Gentiles, saith the LORD of hosts. 12 But ye profane it, in that ye say, [w] The table of the LORD is polluted, and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible. 13 Ye say also, Behold, [x] what a weariness is it! and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts; and [y] ye have brought that which was taken by violence, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye bring the offering: should I accept this of your hand? saith the LORD. 14 But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock [z] a male, and [a] voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a blemished thing: for [b] I am a great king, saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is [c] terrible among the Gentiles.

2 1 And now, [d] O ye priests, [e] this commandment is for you. 2 [f] If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, then will I send [g] the curse upon you, and I will curse [h] your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart. 3 Behold, [i] I will rebuke [12] the seed for your sake, and [j] will spread dung upon your faces, even [k] the dung of your [13] sacrifices; and ye shall be taken away [14] with it. 4 And ye shall know that I have sent [l] this commandment unto you, that [m] my covenant might be with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts. 5 My covenant was with him of life and [n] peace; and I gave them to him [o] that he might fear, and he feared me, and stood in awe of my name. 6 [p] The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and uprightness, and did [q] turn many away from iniquity. 7 For [r] the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is [s] the messenger of the LORD of hosts. 8 But ye are turned aside out of the way; [f]ye have caused many to stumble in the law; ye have corrupted [g]the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts. 9 Therefore [h] have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but [i] have had respect of persons in the law.

10 Have we not all [k] one father? hath not [l] one God created us? why do we [m]deal treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the covenant of our fathers? 11 Judah [n] hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for [o]Judah hath profaned the [1]holiness of the LORD which he loveth, and hath married the daughter of a strange god. 12 The LORD will cut off to the man that doeth this him that waketh and him that answereth, out of the tents of Jacob, [p] and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts. 13 And this [2]again ye do: [q]ye cover the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, neither receiveth it with good will at your hand. 14 [r] Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD [s]hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, [t]against whom [u]thou hast dealt treacherously, though she is thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant. 15 [3] And [v]did he not make one, although he had the residue of the spirit? And wherefore one? He sought [w]a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none [x]deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. 16 For [4] [y] I hate putting away, saith the LORD, the God of Israel, and him that covereth his garment with violence, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye [x]deal not treacherously.

17 [z] Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. [r] Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? In that [a] ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or [b] where is the God of judgement?

3 1 [c] Behold, I send [d] my messenger, and [e] he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, [f] whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple; [5] and [g] the [6] messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in, behold, he cometh, saith the LORD of hosts. 2 But [h] who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for [i] he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap: 3 and he shall sit [k] as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver; and they shall offer unto the LORD [l] offerings in righteousness. 4 [m] Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in ancient years. 5 And I will come near to you to judgement; and I will be [n] a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers; and against those [o] that oppress the hireling in his wages, [p] the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts. 6 For [q] I the LORD change not; [r] therefore ye, O sons of Jacob, are not consumed.

7 [s] From the days of your fathers ye have turned aside from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. [t] Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. [u] But ye say, Wherein shall we return? 8 Will a man rob God? yet ye rob me. [u] But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? [v] In tithes and [7] offerings. 9 [w] Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob me, even this whole nation. 10 [x] Bring ye the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and [y] prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you [z] the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. 11 And I will rebuke [a] the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts. 12 And [b] all nations shall call you happy: for ye shall be [l]a delightsome land, saith the LORD of hosts.

13 [m]Your words have been stout against me, saith the LORD. [n]Yet ye say, Wherein have we spoken against thee? 14 Ye have said, [o]It is vain to serve God: and [p]what profit is it that we have kept his charge, and that we have walked [1]mournfully before the LORD of hosts? 15 And now we call [q]the proud happy; yea, [q]they that work wickedness are built up; yea, [r]they tempt God, and are delivered. 16 Then they that feared the LORD [s]spake one with another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard, and [t]a book of remembrance was written before him, for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name. 17 And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, [u]in the day [2]that I [3]do make, [v]even a peculiar treasure; and [w]I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. 18 Then shall ye return and [x]discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not. 1 For, behold, [y]the day cometh, [z]it burneth as a furnace; and [a]all the proud, and [a]all that work wickedness, [b]shall be stubble: and the day that cometh [b]shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that [c]it shall leave them neither root nor branch. 2 But unto you [d]that fear my name shall [e]the sun [f]of righteousness arise [g]with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and [h]gambol as calves of the stall. 3 And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet [i]in the day that I [3]do make, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 [j]Remember ye [k]the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him [l]in Horeb for all Israel, even statutes and judgements. 5 [m]Behold, I will send you [n]Elijah the prophet [o]before the great and terrible day of the LORD come. 6 And he shall [p]turn the heart of the fathers [4]to the children, and the heart of the children [4]to their fathers; lest I come and [q]smite the [5]earth with a [6]curse.

APPENDIX.

The American Old Testament Revision Company, while recognizing the cordial acceptance given to many of their suggestions, present the following instances in which they differ from the English Company, as of sufficient importance to be appended to the Revision in accordance with the original agreement.

CLASSES OF PASSAGES.

I. Substitute the Divine name "Jehovah" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for "the LORD" and "GOD" and omit the marg. to "the LORD" at Gen. ii. 4, and "Heb. Jehovah" from the marg. at Ex. iii. 15; also substitute "Jehovah" for "the LORD" or "Jah" wherever the latter occurs in the Hebrew text, and retain or insert "Heb. Jah" in the marg.; where "Jehovah" immediately follows, viz. in Is. xii. 2, xxvi. 4, read "Jehovah, even Jehovah" and omit "Jehovah" from the marg.

II. Substitute "Sheol" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for the renderings "the grave" "the pit" and "hell" and omit these renderings from the marg.

III. Substitute "a" for "an", "my" for "mine" and "thy" for "thine" wherever followed by "h" aspirated.

IV. Substitute "who" or "that" for "which" when used of persons.

V. Substitute "are" for "be" in the present indicative, and omit "for" before infinitives.

VI. Omit from the margin all renderings from the LXX., Vulgate, and other ancient Versions or "authorities"

VII. The following substitutions are preferred, with the necessary inflectional variations:

"adder" for "basilisk".

"annul" for "disannul"

"ascent" for "going up" when used as a noun.

"astonished" for "astonied"

"a year old" for "of the first year"

"base man" for "man of Belial" or "son of B."; "base woman" for "daughter of Belial"; "base men" for "men of Belial" "sons of B." or "children of B."

"before" for "afore"; also for "or ever" except in Ps. xc. 2; Eccl. xii. 1, 2, 6.

"blow the trumpet" for "blow with (or, "blow up") the trumpet"

"boil" "boiled" for "seethe" "sod" "sodden"

"bonds" for "bands" in Job xxxix. 5, and elsewhere uniformly for the same Hebrew word.

"capital" for "chapiter"

"chiefs" for "dukes"

"contend" for "plead" in Judg. vi. 31 (three times) and so wherever the latter rendering represents the same Hebrew verb unless followed by "cause", except in Is. i. 17. But substitute "enter into judgment" for "plead" in Jer. xxv. 31; Ezek. xvii. 20; xx. 35, 36 (twice).

"courses" for "rows" of timber or stone.

"devise" for "imagine" in Ps. x. 2; xxi. 11; cxl. 2; Hos. vii. 15; Nah. i. 9, 11; Zech. vii. 10; viii. 17.

"diminish" for "minish"

"encamp" for "camp"; also, for "pitch" when used intransitively.

"far be it from me" ("thee" etc.) for "God forbid", except in 1 Sam. xiv. 45; xx. 2, where substitute "Far from it"

"find favour" for "find grace"

"food" for "meat"

"fortified" for "fenced" and "defenced"

"put to shame" for "ashamed"

"refine" for "fine" (metal). So "refiner" for "finer"

"scoffer" for "scorner" and "scoffing" for "scornful" and "scorning"

"settings" for "ouches"

"since" for "sith"

"sitteth above" (the cherubim) for "sitteth upon" with marg. Or, is enthroned

"skill" for "cunning" (noun) and "skilful" for "cunning" (adj.) when either relates to workman or work.

"stench" for "stink", when used as a noun.

"stronghold" for "hold", when used as a noun.

"take refuge" for "trust" (Deut. xxxii. 37) for "put . . . trust" (Ps. ii. 12), and so uniformly as the rendering of the same Hebrew verb.

"therewith" for "withal" in Ex. xxv. 29; xxx. 4; xxxvii. 16; Lev. xi. 21.

"trespass offering" for "guilt offering"

"uncover" for "discover" except in 1 Sam. xiv. 8, 11, and xxii. 6.

"wail" for "howl" where it is used of persons.

"wait for" for "wait on" in Ps. xxv. 3, and so uniformly as the rendering of the same Hebrew verb, except in Ps. lii. 9.

"which" for "the which"

"winnow" for "fan" (the verb)

"wrath" for "fury" when it is attributed to God, except in Is. xlii. 25; lxvi. 15, and "wrathful" for "furious"

PREFACE.

THE Version of the Apocrypha which is here presented to the Reader forms the last portion of the Revision of the Authorised Version of 1611.

The present work, owing to various circumstances, has been somewhat long delayed. It will be found, however, to have been executed carefully and faithfully, though it was of necessity intrusted to small Committees formed out of the two Companies of Revisers.

The Revision of the Authorised Version of the Apocrypha was included in the arrangement between the Companies and the Representatives of the Presses of Oxford and Cambridge, and was to be proceeded with as soon as the other and greater portions of the work were concluded. No division of labour in regard to the Apocrypha was formally made between the two Companies, but as it appeared clearly desirable that there should be no unnecessary delay in the revision, there was an understanding between the Companies that the New Testament Company should commence the work as soon as the Revision of the Authorised Version of the New Testament was completed and published. For this, preparation was made by the New Testament Company as their work was drawing to its close, and in the following manner.

It was resolved (March 21, 1879) that, after the conclusion of the Revision of the Authorised Version of the New Testament, the Company should be divided into three Committees, to be called the London, Westminster, and Cambridge Committees, for the purpose of beginning the Revision of the Apocrypha.

The London Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol (Dr. Ellicott), the Bishop of Salisbury (Dr. Moberly), the Bishop of St. Andrews (Dr. Wordsworth), the Dean of Rochester (Dr. Scott), the Dean of Lichfield (Dr. Bickersteth), the Master of the Temple (Dr. Vaughan), Rev. Principal Angus, and Rev. Prebendary Humphry. This Committee was to take the Book of Ecclesiasticus.

The Westminster Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Archbishop of Dublin (Dr. Trench), the Dean of Westminster (Dr. Stanley), the Archdeacon of Dublin (Dr. Lee), the Archdeacon of Oxford (Dr. Palmer), Rev. Dr. Scrivener, Rev. Principal Brown, Rev. Principal Newth, and Rev. Dr. Vance Smith. This Committee was to take the First Book of Maccabees. The Books of Tobit and Judith were afterwards, by special arrangement with the Old Testament Company, undertaken by this Committee.

The Cambridge Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Bishop of Durham (Dr. Lightfoot), the Dean of Lincoln (Mr. Blakesley), Rev. Professor Hort, Rev. Professor Kennedy, Rev. Professor Westcott, Rev. Dr. Milligan, Rev. Dr. Moulton, and Rev. Dr. Roberts. This Committee was to take the Book of Wisdom and the Second Book of Maccabees.

In connexion with the foregoing resolution it was resolved at the final meeting of the Company, on Thursday, November 11, 1880:—(1) that the decisions be arrived at by simple majorities; (2) that the successive portions of the work when printed be forwarded to the members of the other two Committees. A third resolution was passed constituting the Rev. Dr. Troutbeck the General Secretary of the three Committees, and, as such, responsible for the printing of the portions of the work as they were finished; but the latter part of this resolution was modified, and the whole of the printing was carried on at the University Press, Oxford.

The London Committee, to which the Revision of the Authorised Version of the Book of Ecclesiasticus was intrusted, commenced their labours on May 11, 1881, and completed their first revision of the Version on July 20, 1882, and their second and final revision on May 25, 1883. The breaking up of the text of the Version into parallelisms was undertaken at a later period. Of the members of the Committee, two, the Bishops of Salisbury and St. Andrews, found themselves unable through age and distance from London to attend the meetings. The attendance of the remainder was such that there were rarely less than four present. Whenever the number fell below this, all debateable points were reserved for fuller meetings. Considerable attention was paid to the text; but the materials available for correcting it were but scanty. In regard to the revision of the Version, especial care was taken to preserve the general tone of the Authorised Version, and to maintain the somewhat greater freedom of rendering which characterizes the translation of the Apocrypha when compared with the translation of the Old or of the New Testament.

The Westminster Committee completed their first revision of the First Book of Maccabees on July 5, their second revision on November 3, 1881. Their first revision of the Books of Judith and Tobit was completed on July 6, their second revision on October 11, 1882. With regard to the Greek text they derived great assistance from Dr. Scrivener, but the number of places in which it was thought right to abandon readings that seemed to be represented in the Authorised Version was not large. The English Version was found to require much care. In the First Book of Maccabees, for example, a well-known peculiarity of the writer had been obliterated by the repeated introduction, with or without the use of italics, of the words 'God' and 'the Lord,' which never occur in the best Greek text. Archbishop Trench worked with the Committee until they were close to the end of the First Book of Maccabees. Dean Stanley also attended up to about the same time: Principal Brown did not take any part in the work.

Of the members of the Cambridge Committee the Bishop of Durham (Dr. Lightfoot), the Dean of Lincoln (Mr. Blakesley), and Professor Kennedy were compelled for various reasons to withdraw from the work of revision. Dr. Roberts supplied notes on various parts of the two books. Dr. Hort, Dr. Moulton and Dr. Westcott conducted the revision with this assistance at weekly meetings during term time from March 3, 1881 to the spring of 1890, when Dr. Westcott was removed to Durham. In the remainder of the work Dr. Westcott took part by correspondence. The first revision of 2 Maccabees was completed on May 20, 1885, and the final revision December 7, 1889. The first revision of Wisdom was completed between May 20, 1885 and June 20, 1888; and the second revision between November 23, 1889 and November 21, 1891. The singular difficulty and importance of the Book of Wisdom led the revisers to review the version a third time. The whole revision of the two books was substantially completed before the summer of 1892. A few questions were reserved for later decision. These were considered by Dr. Hort in the summer of that year, and, with the help of his notes, finally determined by Dr. Westcott and Dr. Moulton.

After the revision of the Old Testament had been completed the Old Testament Company (July 9, 1884) passed the following resolution:—

Digitized by Google

'That the Dean of Peterborough (Dr. Perowne), Professor Lumby, Professor Robertson Smith, Mr. Bensly, Mr. Cheyne, and the Secretary (Mr. Aldis Wright) be a Committee to translate the remaining books of the Apocrypha, and

That Dr. Field be invited to assist in the formation of the text.'

The Dean of Peterborough (Dr. Perowne), now Bishop of Worcester, and Mr. (now Professor) Cheyne, found themselves unable to take part in the work, and the Committee were deprived of the assistance of Dr. Field by his death in April, 1885.

The Books of the Apocrypha which were left for them to revise were 1 and 2 Esdras, the additions to Esther, Baruch, the Song of the Three Holy Children, the History of Susanna, Bel and the Dragon, and the Prayer of Manasses.

For the text of these portions, with the exception of 2 Esdras, they were entirely dependent upon the inadequate materials already existing, and did not therefore attempt any complete revision. But as the late Professor Bensly had reconstructed the text of the Latin version of 2 Esdras from a full collation of all the independent MSS. at present known, the Committee fully availed themselves of the results which he generously placed at their disposal. They were thus able to incorporate the missing fragment, vii. 36–105, which was edited by Professor Bensly with elaborate care, and published by the Cambridge University Press (1875), and to make use of many improved readings which he proposed to adopt in his critical edition. It is satisfactory to know that this work has been left in a sufficiently forward state to admit of its being easily completed.

In regard to the language of the Revised Version the Committee followed the general principles which were observed by the Old Testament Revision Company.

In the case of Proper Names it has not been found possible to secure uniformity of plan in the work of the four Committees. In some Books these names appear in their familiar Old Testament forms, after the Hebrew; whilst in others, the forms of the Authorised Version are usually retained, or are but slightly altered, in accordance with the Greek. Lists of the Greek readings—or, in 2 Esdras, the Latin readings—adopted by the Committees will shortly be published*.

Such is a brief account of the circumstances under which the present work was executed. The Revisers conclude with the hope and the belief that it will be found helpful to the student, and acceptable to the general reader of the Apocrypha.

January, 1895.

* The preparation of these lists was undertaken by Dr. Moulton. As however the work was still far from complete at the time of his death in February 1898, the publication of the readings has now been abandoned.

July, 1898.

I. ESDRAS.

1 [a] And Josias [b] held the passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the first month; [2] having set the priests according to their [c] daily courses, being arrayed in their vestments, in the temple of the Lord. 3 And he spake unto the Levites, [1] [d] the temple-servants of Israel, that they should hallow themselves unto the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord [e] in the house that king Solomon the son of David had built: 4 and said, [f] Ye shall no more have need to bear it upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your fathers' houses and kindreds, 5 [g] according to the writing of David king of Israel, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son: and standing in the holy place [h] according to the several divisions of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel, 6 offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passover [i] according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Moses. 7 And unto the people which were present Josias gave thirty thousand lambs and kids, and three thousand calves: these things were given of the king's substance, according as he promised, to the people, and to the priests and Levites. 8 And Helkias, and Zacharias, and [2] Esyelus, the rulers of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves. 9 And Jeconias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochielus, and Joram, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the passover five thousand sheep, and [j] seven hundred calves. 10 And when these things were done, the priests and Levites, having the unleavened bread, stood in comely order according to the kindreds, 11 and [k] according to the several divisions by fathers' houses, before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses: and thus did they in the morning. 12 [k] And they roasted the passover with fire, as appertaineth: and the sacrifices they sod in the brasen vessels and caldrons with a good savour, 13 and set them before all the people: and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron. 14 For the priests offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron. 15 The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, [l] and Eddinus, who [3] was of the king's retinue. 16 Moreover [m] the porters were at every gate; none had need to depart from his [c] daily course: for their brethren the Levites prepared for them. 17 Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, in holding the passover, 18 and offering sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, [n] according to the commandment of king Josias. 19 So the children of Israel which were present at that time held the passover, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days. 20 And [o] such a passover was not held in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel. 21 Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were present in their dwelling place at Jerusalem. 22 [p] In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this passover held. 23 [q] And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord with a heart full of godliness. 24 [r] Moreover the things that came to pass in his days have been written in times past, concerning those that sinned, and did wickedly against the Lord above every people and kingdom, and how they grieved him [4] exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord were confirmed against Israel.

25 [s] Now after all these acts of Josias it came to pass, [t] that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to raise war at Carchemish upon Euphrates: and Josias went out against him. 26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Judæa? 27 I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee; for my war is upon Euphrates: and now the Lord is with me, yea, the Lord is with me hasting me forward: depart from me, and [u] be not against the Lord. 28 Howbeit Josias did not turn back [5] unto his chariot, but undertook to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremy spoken by the mouth of the Lord: 29 but joined battle with him in the plain of Megiddo, and the princes came down against king Josias. 30 Then said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battle; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants carried him away out of the host. 31 Then gat he up upon his second chariot; and being brought back to Jerusalem he died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his fathers. 32 And in all Jewry they mourned for Josias; [v] and Jeremy the prophet lamented for Josias, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him, unto this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel. 33 These things are written in the book of the histories of the kings of Judæa, and every one of the acts that Josias did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

34 [w] And the people took [1] Joachaz the son of Josias, and made him king instead of Josias his father, when he was twenty and three years old. 35 And he reigned in [2] Judah and in Jerusalem three months: and then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem. 36 And he set a tax upon the people of a hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold. 37 The king of Egypt also made king Joakim his brother king of Judæa and Jerusalem. 38 And Joakim bound the nobles: but Zarakes his brother he apprehended, and brought him up out of Egypt.

39 [a] Five and twenty years old was Joakim when he began to reign in Judæa and Jerusalem; and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord. 40 And against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him unto Babylon. 41 Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them up [y] in his own temple at Babylon. 42 But those things that are reported of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings.

43 And Joakim his son reigned in his stead: [z] for when he was made king he was [3a] eighteen years old; 44 and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem; and did that which was evil before the Lord.

45 So after a year Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought unto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord; 46 and made Sedekias king of Judæa and Jerusalem, [b] when he was one and twenty years old; and he reigned eleven years: 47 [b] and he also did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and [c] cared not for the words that were spoken by Jeremy the prophet from the mouth of the Lord. 48 And after that king Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he forswore himself, and rebelled; and hardening his neck, and his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Lord, the God of Israel. 49 Moreover the governors of the people and of the priests did many things wickedly, [4] and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem. 50 And the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he had compassion on them and on his dwelling place. 51 But they mocked his messengers; and in the day when the Lord spake unto them, they scoffed at his prophets: 52 so far forth, that he, being wroth with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded to bring up the kings of the Chaldeans against them; 53 who slew their young men with the sword, round about their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child; but he delivered all into their hands. 54 [d] And they took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with [5] the vessels of the ark of the Lord, and the king's treasures, and carried them away unto Babylon. 55 [e] And they burnt the house of the Lord, [f] and brake down the walls of Jerusalem, and burnt the towers thereof with fire: 56 and as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had brought them all to nought: and the people that were not slain with the sword he carried unto Babylon: 57 and they were servants unto him and to his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfil [g] the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy: 58 Until [h] the land hath enjoyed her sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she keep sabbath, to fulfil threescore and ten years.

2 [i] In the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy might be accomplished, [2] the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he made proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing, 3 saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians; The Lord of Israel, the Most High Lord, hath made me king of the whole world. 4 and commanded me to build him a house at Jerusalem that is in Judæa. 5 If therefore there be any of you that are of his people, [6] let the Lord, even his Lord, be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem that is in Judæa, and build the house of the Lord of Israel: he is the Lord that dwelleth in Jerusalem. 6 Of such therefore as dwell in divers places, let them that are in his own place help each one with gold, and with silver, 7 with gifts, with horses also and cattle, beside the other things which have been added by vow for the temple of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

8 Then the chief of the families of Judah and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up; the priests also, and the Levites, and all they whose spirit the Lord had stirred to go up, to build the house for the Lord which is in Jerusalem. 9 And they that dwelt round about them helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with very many gifts that were vowed of a great number whose minds were stirred up thereto. 10 King Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels of the Lord, which [j] Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of idols. 11 Now when Cyrus king of the Persians had brought them forth, he delivered them to Mithradates his treasurer, 12 and by him they were delivered to [1][k] Sanabassar the governor of Judæa. 13 And this was the number of them: A thousand golden cups, a thousand cups of silver, [l] censers of silver twenty nine, vials of gold thirty, and of silver [m] two thousand four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand. 14 So all the vessels of gold and of silver were brought up, even [n] five thousand four hundred threescore and nine, 15 and were carried back by Sanabassar, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

16 [o] But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians Belemus, and Mithradates, and Tabellius, and [2][p] Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, and [3][p] Samellius the scribe, with the others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwelt in Judæa and Jerusalem the letter following: 17 To king Artaxerxes our lord, Thy servants, Rathumus the [4] storywriter, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges that are in [q] Cœlesyria and Phœnicia. 18 Be it now known to our lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come unto Jerusalem, do build that rebellious and wicked city, and do repair the marketplaces and the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of a temple. 19 Now if this city be builded and the walls thereof be finished, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but will even stand up against kings. 20 And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter, 21 but to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be thy pleasure, search may be made in the books of thy fathers: 22 and thou shalt find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities: 23 and that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein of old time; for the which cause even this city was laid waste. 24 Wherefore now we do declare unto thee, O lord the king, that if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from henceforth have no passage into [q] Cœlesyria and Phœnicia. 25 Then the king wrote back again to [p] Rathumus the storywriter, and Beeltethmus, and [p] Samellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwelt in Samaria and Syria and Phœnicia, after this manner: 26 I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me: therefore I commanded to make search, and it hath been found that that city of old time hath made insurrection against kings; 27 and the men were given to rebellion and war therein: and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tribute in [q] Cœlesyria and Phœnicia. 28 Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be nothing done contrary to this order; 29 and that those wicked doings proceed no further to the annoyance of kings. 30 Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste unto Jerusalem with horsemen and a multitude of people in battle array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the [r] second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

3 1 Now king Darius made a great feast unto all his subjects, and unto all that were born in his house, [s] and unto all the princes of Media and of Persia, [2] and to all the satraps and captains and governors that were under him, [t] from India unto Ethiopia, in the hundred twenty and seven provinces. 3 [u] And when they had eaten and drunken, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the king went into his bedchamber, and slept, and awaked out of his sleep.

4 Then the three young men of the body-guard, that kept the king's person, spake one to another: 5 Let every one of us say one thing which shall be strongest: and he whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall Darius the king give great gifts, and great honours in token of victory: 6 as, [v] to be clothed in purple, [w] to drink in gold, and [a]to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and a head-tire of fine linen, and [b]a chain about his neck: 7 and he shall sit next to Darius because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius [c]his cousin. 8 And then they wrote every one his sentence, and set to their seals, and laid the writing under king Darius his pillow, 9 and said, When the king is risen, some shall give him the writing; and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as it is written. 10 The first wrote, Wine is the strongest. 11 The second wrote, The king is strongest. 12 The third wrote, Women are strongest: but above all things Truth beareth away the victory.

13 Now when the king was risen up, they took the writing, and gave it unto him, and so he read it: 14 and sending forth he called all the princes of Persia and of Media, [d]and the satraps, and the captains, and the governors, and the chief officers; 15 and sat him down in the royal seat of judgement; and the writing was read before them. 16 And he said, Call the young men, and they shall explain their own sentences. So they were called, and came in. 17 And they said unto them, Declare unto us your mind concerning the things ye have written.

Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine, 18 and said thus, O sirs, how exceeding strong is wine! [e]it causeth all men to err that drink it: 19 it maketh the mind of the king and of the fatherless child to be all one; of the bondman and of the freeman, of the poor man and of the rich: 20 [f]it turneth also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembereth neither sorrow nor debt: 21 and it maketh every heart rich, so that a man remembereth neither king nor satrap; and it maketh to speak all things by talents: 22 [g]and when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw their swords: 23 but when they awake from their wine, [h]they remember not what they have done. 24 O sirs, is not wine the strongest, seeing that it enforceth to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

4 [1] Then the second, that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say, 2 O sirs, do not men excel in strength, [i]that bear rule over the sea and land, and all things in them? 3 But yet is the king stronger: and he is their lord, and hath dominion over them; and in whatsoever he commandeth them they obey him. 4 If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it: and if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and overcome mountains, walls, and towers. 5 They slay and are slain, and transgress not the king's commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else. 6 [j]Likewise for those that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel one another to pay tribute unto the king. 7 And he is [1]but one man: [k]if he command to kill, they kill; if he command to spare, they spare; 8 if he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build; 9 if he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant. 10 So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he lieth down, he eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest: 11 and these keep watch round about him, neither may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey they him in anything. 12 O sirs, how should not the king be strongest, seeing that in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his peace.

13 Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of truth, (this was [l]Zorobabel) began to speak. 14 O sirs, is not the king great, and men are many, and wine is strong? who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them? are they not women? 15 Women have borne the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land. 16 Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards, from whence the wine cometh. 17 [m]These also make garments for men; these bring glory unto men; and without women cannot men be. 18 Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver and every other goodly thing, [2]and see a woman which is comely in favour and beauty, 19 they let all those things go, and [n]gape after her, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her; and [o]have all more desire unto her than unto gold or silver, or any goodly thing whatsoever. 20 [p]A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife. 21 And with his wife he endeth his days, and remembereth neither father, nor mother, nor country. 22 By this also ye must know that women have dominion over you: do ye not labour and toil, and give and bring all to women? 23 Yea, a man taketh his sword, and goeth forth to make outroads, and to rob and to steal, and to sail upon the sea and upon rivers; 24 [q]and looketh upon a lion, and [r]walketh in the darkness; and when he hath stolen, spoiled, and robbed, he bringeth it to his love. 25 p Wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother. 26 Yea, many there be that have run out of their wits for women, and q become bondmen for their sakes. 27 r Many also have perished, have stumbled, and sinned, for women. 28 And now do ye not believe me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear to touch him? 29 Yet did I see him and Apame the king's concubine, the daughter of the illustrious Bartacus, sitting s at the right hand of the king, 30 and taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head; yea, she struck the king with her left hand: 31 t and therewithal the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took any displeasure at him, he was fain to flatter, that she might be reconciled to him again. 32 O sirs, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?

33 Then the king and the nobles looked one upon another: so he began to speak concerning truth. 34 O sirs, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, u swift is the sun in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course again to his own place in one day. 35 v Is he not great that maketh these things? therefore great is w truth, and stronger than all things. 36 All the earth calleth upon truth, and the heaven blesseth her: all works shake and tremble, but with [1] her is no unrighteous thing. 37 Wine is unrighteous, the king is unrighteous, women are unrighteous, x all the children of men are unrighteous, and unrighteous are all such their works; and y there is no truth in them; in their unrighteousness also they shall perish. 38 But truth abideth, and is strong for ever; she liveth and conquereth for evermore. 39 With her there is z no accepting of persons or rewards; but she doeth the things that are just, and refraineth from all unrighteous and wicked things; and all men do well like of her works. 40 Neither in her judgement is any unrighteousness; and she is a the strength, and the kingdom, and the power, and the majesty, of all ages. Blessed be the b God of truth. 41 And with that he held his tongue. And all the people then shouted, and said, Great is truth, and strong above all things.

42 Then said the king unto him, Ask what thou wilt more c than is appointed in writing, and we will give it thee, inasmuch as thou art found wisest; and thou d shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my cousin. 43 Then said he unto the king, Remember thy vow, which thou didst vow to build Jerusalem, in the day when thou camest to thy kingdom, 44 and to send away all the vessels that were taken out of Jerusalem, e which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and vowed to send them again thither. 45 Thou didst also vow to build up the temple, which f the Edomites burned when Judæa was made desolate by the Chaldeans. 46 And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberality g that shall proceed from thee: I pray therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof thou hast vowed to h the King of heaven with thine own mouth.

47 Then Darius the king stood up, and kissed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treasurers and governors and captains and satraps, that they should safely bring on their way both him, and all those that should go up with him to build Jerusalem. 48 He wrote letters also unto all the governors that were in i Cœlesyria and Phœnicia, and unto them in j Libanus, that they should bring k cedar wood from j Libanus unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him. 49 Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that should go out of his realm up into Jewry, concerning their freedom, that no officer, no governor, no satrap, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors; 50 and that all the country which they occupied should be free to them without tribute; and that l the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which then they held: 51 and that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it were built; 52 and other ten talents yearly, for burnt offerings to be presented upon the altar m every day, as they had a commandment to offer seventeen: 53 and that all they that should come from Babylonia to build the city should have their freedom, as well they as their posterity, and all the priests that came. 54 He wrote also to give them their charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister; 55 and for the Levites he wrote that their charges should be given them until the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem builded up. 56 And he commanded to give to all that kept the city lands and wages. 57 He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon, n that Cyrus had set apart; and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.

58 Now when this o young man was gone forth, he lifted up his face to heaven [p] toward Jerusalem, and praised [q] the King of heaven, 59 and said, From thee cometh [r] victory, from thee cometh [s] wisdom, and thine is the [t] glory, and I am thy servant. 60 Blessed art thou, [u] who hast given me wisdom: and to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers. 61 And so he took the letters, and went out, and came unto Babylon, and told it all his brethren. 62 And they praised the God of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and liberty 63 to go up, and to build Jerusalem, and the temple [v] which is called by his name: and they feasted with [w] instruments of music and gladness seven days.

5 [x] After this were the chiefs of fathers' houses chosen to go up according to their tribes, with their wives and sons and daughters, with their menservants and maidservants, and their cattle. 2 And Darius sent with them a thousand horsemen, till they had brought them back to Jerusalem [1] safely, and with musical instruments, tabrets and flutes. 3 And all their brethren played, and he made them go up together with them.

4 And these are the names of the men which went up, according to their families amongst their tribes, [z] after their several divisions. 5 [y] The priests, the sons of Phinees, the sons of Aaron: [a] Jesus the son of Josedek, the son of Saraias, and [a] Joakim the son of [b] Zorobabel, the son of Salathiel, of the house of David, of the lineage of Phares, of the tribe of Judah; 6 [c] who spake wise sentences before Darius the king of Persia [d] in the second year of his reign, in the month Nisan, which is the first month. 7 [e] And these are they of Jewry that came up from the captivity, where they dwelt as strangers, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had carried away unto Babylon. 8 And they returned unto Jerusalem, and to the other parts of Jewry, every man to his own city, who came with Zorobabel, with Jesus, Nehemias, and [2] Zaraias, Reesaias, [3] Eneneus, Mardocheus, Beelsarus, [4] Aspharasus, [5] Reelias, Roimus, and Baana, their leaders. 9 The number of them of the nation, and their leaders: the sons of [6] Phoros, two thousand a hundred seventy and two: the sons of [7] Saphat, four hundred seventy and two: 10 the sons of [8] Ares, seven hundred fifty and six: 11 the sons of [9] Phaath Moab, of the sons of Jesus and Joab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve: 12 the sons of Elam, a thousand two hundred fifty and four: the sons of [10] Zathui, nine hundred forty and five: the sons of [11] Chorbe, seven hundred and five: the sons of Bani, six hundred forty and eight: 13 the sons of Bebai, six hundred twenty and three: the sons of [12] Astad, [13] a thousand three hundred twenty and two: 14 the sons of Adonikam, six hundred sixty and seven: the sons of [14] Bagoi, two thousand sixty and six: the sons of [15] Adinu, four hundred fifty and four: 15 the sons of [16] Ater, of Ezekias, ninety and two: the sons of Kilan and Azetas, threescore and seven: the sons of [17] Azaru, four hundred thirty and two: 16 the sons of [18] Annis, a hundred and one: the sons of Arom: the sons of [19] Bassai, three hundred twenty and three: the sons of Arsiphurith, a hundred and twelve: 17 the sons of Baiterus, three thousand and five: the sons of [20] Bethlomon, a hundred twenty and three: 18 they of Netophas, fifty and five: they of [f] Anathoth, a hundred fifty and eight: they of [21] Bethasmoth, forty and two: 19 they of [22] Kariathiarius, twenty and five: they of [g] Caphira and Beroth, seven hundred forty and three: 20 the Chadiassi and Ammidioi, four hundred twenty and two: they of [23] Kirama and [24] Gabbe, six hundred twenty and one: 21 they of [25] Macalon, a hundred twenty and two: they of [26] Betolion, fifty and two: the sons of [27] Niphis, a hundred fifty and six: 22 the sons of [28] Calamolalus and [29] Onus, seven hundred twenty and five: the sons of [30] Jerechu, [31] three hundred forty and five: 23 the sons of [32] Sanaas, three thousand three hundred and [33] thirty. 24 The priests: the sons of [34] Jeddu, the son of Jesus, among the sons of Sanasib, [35] nine hundred seventy and two: the sons of [36] Emmeruth, [37] a thousand fifty and two: 25 the sons of [38] Phassurus, a thousand two hundred forty and seven: the sons of [39] Charme, [37] a thousand and seventeen. 26 The Levites: the sons of Jesus, and Kadmiel, and Bannas, and Sudias, seventy and four. 27 The holy singers: the sons of Asaph, a hundred [40] twenty and eight. 28 The porters: the sons of [41] Salum, the sons of [42] Atar, the sons of Tolman, the sons of [43] Dacubi, the sons of [44] Ateta, the sons of [45] Sabi, in all a hundred thirty and nine. 29 The temple-servants: the sons of [46] Esau, the sons of [47] Asipha, the sons of Tabaoth, the sons of [48] Keras, the sons of [49] Sua, the sons of [50] Phaleas, the sons of Labana, the sons of [51] Aggaba, 30 the sons of [52] Acud, the sons of Uta, the sons of Ketab, the sons of [1]Accaba, the sons of [2]Subai, the sons of [3]Anan, the sons of [4]Cathua, the sons of [5]Geddur, [31] the sons of [6]Jairus, the sons of [7]Daisan, the sons of [8]Noeba, the sons of Chaseba, the sons of [9]Gazera, the sons of [10]Ozias, the sons of [11]Phinoe, the sons of Asara, the sons of [12]Basthai, the sons of [13]Asana, the sons of [14]Maani, the sons of [15]Naphisi, the sons of [16]Acub, the sons of [17]Achipha, the sons of [18]Asur, the sons of Pharakim, the sons of [19]Basaloth, [32] the sons of [20]Meedda, the sons of Cutha, the sons of [21]Charea, the sons of [22]Barchus, the sons of [23]Serar, the sons of [24]Thomei, the sons of [25]Nasi, the sons of Atipha. 33 The sons of the servants of Solomon: the sons of [26]Assaphioth, the sons of [27]Pharida, the sons of [28]Jeeli, the sons of [29]Lozon, the sons of [30]Isdael, the sons of [31]Saphuthi, 34 the sons of [32]Agia, the sons of [33]Phacareth, the sons of Sabie, the sons of Sarothie, the sons of [34]Masias, the sons of Gas, the sons of Addus, the sons of Subas, the sons of Apherra, the sons of Barodis, the sons of Saphat, the sons of Allon. 35 All [h]the temple-servants, and the sons of [i]the servants of Solomon, were three hundred seventy and two. 36 These came up from [35]Thermeleth, and [36]Thelersas, [37]Charsathalan leading them, and Allar; 37 and they could not shew their families, nor their stock, how they were of Israel: the sons of [38]Dalan the son of [39]Ban, the sons of [40]Nekodan, six hundred fifty and two. 38 And of the priests, they that usurped the office of the priesthood and were not found: the sons of [41]Obdia, the sons of [42]Akkos, the sons of Jaddus, who married Augia one of the daughters of [43]Zorzelleus, and was called after his name. 39 And when the description of the kindred of these men was sought in the register, and was not found, they were removed from executing the office of the priesthood: 40 for unto them said Nehemias and [j]Attharias, that they should not be partakers of the holy things, till there arose up a high priest wearing [44][k]Urim and Thummim. 41 So all they of Israel, from twelve years old and upward, beside menservants and womenservants, were in number forty and two thousand three hundred and sixty. 42 Their menservants and handmaids were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: the minstrels and singers, two hundred forty and five: 43 four hundred thirty and five camels, seven [45]thousand thirty and six horses, two hundred forty and five mules, five thousand five hundred twenty and five beasts of burden. 44 And certain of the chief men of their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Jerusalem, vowed to set up the house again in its own place according to their ability, 45 and to give into the holy treasury of the works a thousand pounds of gold, five thousand of silver, and a hundred priestly vestments. 46 [l]And the priests and the Levites and they that were of the people dwelt in Jerusalem and the country; the holy singers also and the porters and all Israel in their villages.

47 [m]But when [n]the seventh month was at hand, and when the children of Israel were every man in his own place, they came all together with one consent into [o]the broad place before the first porch which is toward the east. 48 Then stood up [p]Jesus the son of Josedek, and his brethren the priests, and [p]Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and his brethren, and made ready the altar of the God of Israel, 49 to offer burnt sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of Moses the man of God. 50 And [q]certain were gathered unto them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon its own place, because all the nations of the land were at enmity with them, and oppressed them; [r]and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt offerings to the Lord both morning and evening. 51 Also they held the feast of tabernacles, [s]as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as was meet: 52 and after that, the continual oblations, and the sacrifices of the sabbaths, and of the new moons, and of all the consecrated feasts. 53 And all they that had made any vow to God began to offer sacrifices to God from the new moon of [n]the [46]seventh month, although the temple of God was not yet built. 54 And they gave money unto the masons and carpenters; and meat and drink, 55 and cars unto them of Sidon and Tyre, that they should bring [t]cedar trees from [u]Libanus, [v]and convey them in floats to the haven of [w]Joppa, according to the commandment which was written for them by Cyrus king of the Persians. 56 [x]And in the second year after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedek, and their brethren, and the priests the Levites, and all they that were come unto Jerusalem out of the captivity: 57 and they laid the foundation of the temple of God on the new moon of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Jewry and Jerusalem.

58 [y] And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old over the works of the Lord. Then stood up [z] Jesus, and his sons and brethren, and Kadmiel his brother, and the sons of Jesus, Emadabun, and the sons of Joda the son of Iliadun, and their sons and brethren, all the Levites, with one accord setters forward of the business, labouring to advance the works in the house of God. So the builders builded the temple of the Lord.
59 And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments [a] with musical instruments and trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph with their cymbals, 60 singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, after the order of David king of Israel. 61 And they sang aloud, praising the Lord in songs of thanksgiving, because his goodness and his glory are for ever in all Israel. 62 And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voice, singing songs of thanksgiving unto the Lord for the rearing up of the house of the Lord.
63 [b] Also of the priests the Levites, and of the heads of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house came to the building of this with lamentation and great weeping. 64 But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice, 65 insomuch that the people heard not the trumpets for the weeping of the people: for the multitude sounded marvellously, so that it was heard afar off.
66 [c] Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean. 67 And they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord, the God of Israel. 68 So they went to Zorobabel and [z] Jesus, and to the chief men of the families, and said unto them, We will build together with you. 69 For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of [1d] Asbasareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither.
70 Then Zorobabel and Jesus and the chief men of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not [2] for you to build the house unto the Lord our God.
71 We ourselves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded us. 72 But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judæa, and [3] holding them strait, hindered their building; 73 and [4] by their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that king Cyrus lived: so they were hindered from building for the space of two years, until the reign of Darius.

6 1 Now [e] in the second year of the reign of Darius, [f] Aggæus and Zacharias the son of [5] Addo, the prophets, prophesied unto the Jews in Jewry and Jerusalem; in the name of the Lord, the God of Israel, prophesied they unto them. 2 Then stood up Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedek, and began to build the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, the prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them. 3 [g] At the same time came unto them [6] Sisinnes the governor of [h] Syria and Phœnicia, with [7] Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said unto them, 4 By whose appointment do ye build this house and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the builders that perform these things?
5 Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favour, because the Lord had [i] visited the captivity; 6 and they were not hindered from building, until such time as communication was made unto Darius concerning them, and his answer signified.
7 The copy of the letter which Sisinnes, governor of [h] Syria and Phœnicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, the rulers in [h] Syria and Phœnicia, wrote and sent unto Darius; 8 To king Darius, [j] greeting: Let all things be known unto our lord the king, that being come into the country of Judæa, and entered into the city of Jerusalem, we found in the city of Jerusalem the elders of the Jews that were of the captivity 9 building a house unto the Lord, great and new, of hewn and costly stones, with timber laid in the walls. 10 And those works are done with great speed, and the work goeth on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence is it accomplished. 11 Then asked we these elders, saying, By whose commandment build ye this house, and lay the foundations of these works?
12 Therefore, to the intent that we might give knowledge unto thee by writing who were the chief doers, we questioned them, and we required of them the names in writing of their principal men. 13 So they gave us this answer, We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth.
14 And as for this house, it was builded many years ago by a king of Israel great and strong, and was finished.
15 But when our fathers sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, and [k] provoked him unto wrath, he gave them over into the hands of Nabuchodonosor king of the Chaldeans; 16 l and they pulled down the house, and burned it, and carried away the people captives unto Babylon.

17 m But in the first year that Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, king Cyrus wrote to build up this house.
18 n And the holy vessels of gold and of silver, that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set up in his own temple, o those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple in Babylonia, and they were delivered to Zorobabel and to [1] p Sanabassarus the governor,
19 with commandment that he should carry away [2] all these vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem; and that the temple of the Lord should be built in its place. 20 Then p Sanabassarus, being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem; and from that time to this being still a building, it is not yet fully ended. 21 Now therefore, if it seem good, O king, let search be made among the royal archives of our lord the king that are in Babylon: 22 and if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem hath been done with the consent of king Cyrus, and it seem good unto our lord the king, let him signify unto us thereof.

23 q Then commanded king Darius to seek among the archives that were laid up at Babylon: and so at r Ecbatana the palace, which is in the country of Media, there was found a [3] roll wherein these things were recorded. 24 In the first year of the reign of Cyrus king Cyrus commanded to build up the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem, where they do sacrifice with s continual fire:
25 whose height shall be sixty cubits, and the breadth sixty cubits, with three rows of hewn stones, and one row of new wood of that country; and the expenses thereof to be given out of the house of king Cyrus: 26 and that n the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both of gold and silver, that Nabuchodonosor took out of the house at Jerusalem, and carried away to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Jerusalem, and be set in the place where they were before.
27 And also he commanded that Sisinnes the governor of t Syria and Phœnicia, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those which were appointed rulers in Syria and Phœnicia, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but suffer Zorobabel, the servant of the Lord, and governor of Judæa, and the elders of the Jews, to build that house of the Lord in its place.
28 And I also do command to have it built up whole again; and that they look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of Judæa, till the house of the Lord be finished: 29 and that out of the tribute of u Cœlesyria and Phœnicia a portion be carefully given these men for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zorobabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and lambs; 30 and also corn, salt, wine, and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall signify to be daily spent:
31 that drink offerings may be made to the v Most High God for the king and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives. 32 And that commandment be given that whosoever shall transgress, yea, or neglect anything [4] herein written, out of his own house shall a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the king. 33 The Lord therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that shall stretch out his hand to hinder or endamage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem. 34 I Darius the king have ordained that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

7 1 w Then Sisinnes the governor of u Cœlesyria and Phœnicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, following the commandments of king Darius, 2 did very carefully oversee the holy works, assisting the elders of the Jews and rulers of the temple. 3 And so the holy works prospered, while Aggæus and Zacharias the prophets prophesied. 4 And they finished these things by the commandment of the Lord, the God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of the Persians. 5 And thus was [5] the house finished by the x three and twentieth day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of king Darius.
6 And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the other that were of the captivity, that were added unto them, did according to the things written in the book of Moses. 7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord they offered a hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs;
8 and twelve he-goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the twelve [6] princes of the tribes of Israel.
9 The priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their kindreds, for the services of the Lord, y the God of Israel, according to the book of Moses: and the porters at every gate.

10 And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity held the passover the fourteenth day of the first month, when the priests and the Levites were sanctified together, 11 [1]and all they that were of the captivity; for they were sanctified. For the Levites were all sanctified together, 12 and they offered the passover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves. 13 And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the heathen of the land, and sought the Lord. 14 And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, making merry before the Lord, 15 for that he had turned the counsel of [z]the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord, [y]the God of Israel.

8 1 [a]And after these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reigned, came [b]Esdras the son of Azaraias, the son of Zechrias, the son of Helkias, the son of Salem, 2 the son of Sadduk, the son of Ahitob, the son of Amarias, the son of Ozias, 3 the son of Memeroth, the son of Zaraias, the son of Savias, the son of Boccas, the son of Abisue, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest. 3 This Esdras went up from Babylon, as being a ready scribe in the law of Moses, that was given by [y]the God of Israel. 4 And the king did him honour: for he found grace in his sight in all his requests. 5 There went up with him also certain of the children of Israel, and of the priests, and Levites, and holy singers, and porters, and [3][c]temple-servants, unto Jerusalem, 6 in the seventh year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the fifth month, this was the king's seventh year; for they went from Babylon on the new moon of the first month, and came to Jerusalem, according to the [d]prosperous journey which the Lord gave them [4]for his sake. 7 For Esdras had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the law and commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the ordinances and judgements.

8 Now the commission, which was written from Artaxerxes the king, came to Esdras the priest and [e]reader of the law of the Lord, whereof this that followeth is a copy; 9 King Artaxerxes unto Esdras the priest and [e]reader of the law of the Lord, [f]greeting: 10 Having determined to deal graciously, I have given order, that such of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests and Levites, [5]and of those within our realm, as are willing and desirous, should go with thee unto Jerusalem. 11 As many therefore as have a mind thereunto, let them depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me and [g]my seven friends the counsellors; 12 that they may look unto the affairs of Judæa and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Lord, 13 and carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed; and that all the gold and silver that can be found in the country of Babylonia for the Lord in Jerusalem, 14 with that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Lord their God that is at Jerusalem, be collected: even the gold and silver for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining; 15 to the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord upon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem. 16 And whatsoever thou and thy brethren are minded to do with gold and silver, that perform, according to the will of thy God. 17 And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are given thee for the use of the temple of thy God, which is in Jerusalem: 18 and whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it out of the king's treasury. 19 And I king Artaxerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in [h]Syria and Phœnicia, that whatsoever Esdras the priest and [e]reader of the law of the [i]Most High God shall send for, they should give it him with all diligence, 20 to the sum of a hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to a hundred [6]measures, and a hundred [j]firkins of wine, and [7]salt in abundance. 21 Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently unto the [i]Most High God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons. 22 I command you also, that no tax, nor any other imposition, be laid on any of the priests, or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or [k]temple-servants, or any that have employment in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose anything upon them. 23 And thou, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all [h]Syria and Phœnicia all those that know the law of thy God; and those that know it not thou shalt teach. 24 And whosoever shall transgress the law of thy God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by [8]imprisonment.

25 Then said Esdras the scribe, Blessed be the only Lord, the God of my fathers, who hath put these things into the heart of the king, to glorify his house that is in Jerusalem: 26 and hath honoured me in the sight of the king, and his counsellors, and all his friends and nobles. 27 Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together out of Israel men to go up with me. 28 [l] And these are the chief according to their families and the several divisions thereof, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of king Artaxerxes: 29 of the sons of Phinees, Gerson: of the sons of Ithamar, Gamael: of the sons of David, [1] Attus [2] the son of Sechenias: 30 of the sons of Phoros, Zacharias; and with him were counted a hundred and fifty men: 31 of the sons of Phaath Moab, Elisonias the son of [3] Zaraias, and with him two hundred men: 32 [4] of the sons of Zathoes, Sechenias the son of Jezelus, and with him [5] three hundred men: of the sons of Adin, Obeth the son of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fifty men: 33 of the sons of Elam, Jesias son of [6] Gotholias, and with him seventy men: 34 of the sons of Saphatias, [7] Zaraias son of Michael, and with him threescore and ten men: 35 of the sons of Joab, [8] Abadias son of [9] Jezelus, and with him two hundred and twelve men: 36 [10] of the sons of Banias, Salimoth son of Josaphias, and with him a hundred and threescore men: 37 of the sons of Babi, Zacharias son of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men: 38 of the sons of [11] Astath, Joannes son of [12] Akatan, and with him a hundred and ten men: 39 of the sons of Adonikam, the last, and these are the names of them, Eliphalat, Jeuel, and [13] Samaias, and with them seventy men: 40 of the sons of [14] Bago, Uthi the son of Istalcurus, and with him seventy men.

41 And I gathered them together to the river called [m] Theras; and there we pitched our tents three days, and I surveyed them. 42 But when I had found there none of the priests and Levites, 43 then sent I unto Eleazar, and [15] Iduel, and [16] Maasmas, 44 and Elnathan, and Samaias, and [17] Joribus, Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharias, and Mosollamus, principal men and men of understanding. 45 And I bade them that they should go unto [18] Loddeus the captain, who was in the place of [19] the treasury: 46 and commanded them that they should speak unto Loddeus, and to his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priests' office in the house of our Lord. 47 And by the mighty hand of our Lord they brought unto us [20] men of understanding of the sons of [21] Mooli the son of Levi, the son of Israel, 48 Asebebias, and his sons, and his brethren, who were eighteen, 49 and Asebias, and Annuus, and Osaias his brother, of the sons of Chanuneus, and their sons were twenty men; 50 and of [n] the temple-servants whom David and the principal men had appointed for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty temple-servants, the catalogue of all their names was shewed. 51 And there I vowed a fast for the young men before our Lord, to desire of him a [o] prosperous journey both for us and for our children and cattle that were with us: 52 for I was ashamed to ask of the king footmen, and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversaries. 53 For we had said unto the king, that the power of our Lord would be with them that seek him, to support them in all ways. 54 And again we besought our Lord as touching these things, and found him favourable unto us. 54 Then I separated twelve men of the chiefs of the priests, [24] Escrebias, and Assamias, and ten men of their brethren with them: 55 and I [p] weighed them the silver, and the gold, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his counsellors, and the nobles, and all Israel, had given. 56 And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, and a hundred talents of gold, 57 and twenty golden vessels, and [q] twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold. 58 And I said unto them, Both ye are holy unto the Lord, [25] and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver are a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers. 59 Watch ye, and keep them till ye deliver them to the chiefs of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel, in Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of our Lord. 60 So the priests and the Levites, who received the silver and the gold and the vessels which were in Jerusalem, brought them into the temple of the Lord.

61 And from the river [r] Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, until we came to Jerusalem, by the mighty hand of our Lord which was upon us: and the Lord delivered us from assault by the way, from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem. 62 And when we had been there three days, the silver and gold was [p] weighed and delivered in the house of our Lord on the fourth day unto [26] Marmoth the priest the son of [27] Urias. 63 And with him was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and with them were Josabdus the son of Jesus and [1]Moeth the son of Sabannus, the Levites: all was delivered them by number and weight. 64 And all the weight of them was written up the same hour. 65 Moreover they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifices unto the Lord, [s]the God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, fourscore and sixteen rams, 66 [t]threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace offering, twelve; all of them a sacrifice to the Lord. 67 And they delivered the king's commandments unto the king's stewards, and to the governors of [u]Cœlesyria and Phœnicia; and they honoured the people and the temple of the Lord.

68 [v]Now when these things were done, the principal men came unto me, and said, 69 The nation of Israel, and the princes, and the priests and the Levites, have not put away from them the strange people of the land, [2]nor the uncleannesses of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Pherezites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and [w]Edomites. 70 For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the nobles have been partakers of this iniquity. 71 And as soon as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and my holy garment, and plucked the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad and full of heaviness. 72 So all they that were moved at the word of the Lord, [s]the God of Israel, assembled unto me, whilst I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heaviness until the evening sacrifice. 73 Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and my holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands unto the Lord, 74 I said, O Lord, I am ashamed and confounded before thy face; 75 for our sins are multiplied above our heads, and our errors have reached up unto heaven, 76 ever since the time of our fathers; and we are in great sin, even unto this day. 77 And for our sins and our fathers' we with our brethren and our kings and our priests were given up unto the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and [x]for a prey with shame, unto this day. 78 And now in some measure hath mercy been shewed unto us from thee, O Lord, that there should be left us [y]a root and a name in the place of thy sanctuary; 79 and to discover unto us a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us [z]food in the time of our servitude. 80 Yea, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken of our Lord; but he made us gracious before the kings of Persia, so that they gave us [z]food, 81 and glorified the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Sion, to give us a sure abiding in Jewry and Jerusalem. 82 And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed thy commandments, which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying, 83 That the land, which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness. 84 Therefore now shall ye not join your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons. 85 Neither shall ye seek to have peace with them for ever, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave it for an inheritance unto your children for evermore. 86 And all that is befallen is done unto us for our wicked works and great sins: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sins light, 87 and didst give unto us such [y]a root: but we have turned back again to transgress thy law, in mingling ourselves with the uncleanness of the heathen of the land. 88 [3]Thou wast not angry with us to destroy us, till thou [a]hadst left us neither [y]root, seed, nor name. 89 O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for we are left [y]a root this day. 90 Behold, now are we before thee in our iniquities, for we cannot stand any longer before thee by reason of these things.

91 [b]And as Esdras in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and lying flat upon the ground before the temple, there gathered unto him from Jerusalem a very great throng of men and women and children: for there was great weeping among the multitude. 92 Then Jechonias the son of Jeelus, one of the sons of Israel, called out, and said, O Esdras, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married strange women of the heathen of the land, and now is all Israel [4]aloft. 93 Let us make an oath unto the Lord herein, that we will put away all our wives, which we have taken of the strangers, with their children, 94 like as seemeth good unto thee, and to as many as do obey the law of the Lord. 95 Arise, and put in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertain, and we will be with thee to do valiantly. 96 So Esdras arose, and took an oath of the chief of the priests and Levites of all Israel to do after these things; and so they sware.

9 1 [c]Then Esdras rising from the court of the temple went to the chamber of Jonas the son of Eliasib, 2 and lodged there, and did eat no bread nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude. 3 And there was made proclamation in all Jewry and Jerusalem to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Jerusalem: 4 and that whosoever met not there within two or three days, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattle should be seized to the use of the temple, and himself cast out from the multitude of them that were of the captivity.

5 [d] And in three days were all they of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem: this was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month. 6 And all the multitude sat together trembling [e] in the broad place before the temple because of the present foul weather. 7 So Esdras arose up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed the law and married strange wives, thereby to increase the sins of Israel. 8 And now make confession and [f] give glory unto the Lord, the God of our fathers, 9 and do his will, and separate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women. 10 Then cried the whole multitude, and said with a loud voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we do. 11 But forasmuch as the multitude is great, and it is foul weather, so that we cannot stand without, and this is not a work of one day or two, seeing our sin in these things is spread far: 12 therefore let the rulers of the multitude stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives come at the time appointed, 13 and with them the rulers and judges of every place, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us for this matter. 14 Then Jonathan the son of Azael and [1] Ezekias the son of Thocanus accordingly took the matter upon them: and Mosollamus and Levis and Sabbateus were assessors to them. 15 And they that were of the captivity did according to all these things.

the temple from morning unto midday, before both men and women; and [1]all the multitude gave heed unto the law. 42 And Esdras the priest and [m]reader of the law stood up upon the pulpit of wood, which was made for that purpose. 43 And there stood up by him Mattathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, [2]Ezekias, [3]Baalsamus, upon the right hand: 44 and upon his left hand, [4]Phaldeus, Misael, Melchias, [5]Lothasubus, Nabarias, Zacharias. 45 Then took Esdras the book of the law before the multitude, and sat honourably in the first place before all. 46 And when he opened the law, they stood all straight up. So Esdras blessed the Lord God [p]Most High, [q]the God of hosts, Almighty. 47 And all the people answered, Amen; and lifting up their hands they fell to the ground, and worshipped the Lord. 48 Also Jesus, Annus, Sarabias, Iadinus, Jacubus, Sabateus, [6]Auteas, Maiannas, and Calitas, Azarias, and Jozabdus, and Ananias, Phalias, the Levites, taught the law of the Lord, 7and read to the multitude the law of the Lord, making them withal [r]to understand it. 49 Then said [s]Attharates unto Esdras [t]the chief priest and [m]reader, and to the Levites that taught the multitude, even to all, 50 This day is holy unto the Lord; (now they all wept when they heard the law:) 51 go then, and eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions [u]to them that have nothing; 52 for the day is holy unto the Lord: and be not sorrowful; for the Lord will bring you to honour. 53 So the Levites published all things to the people, saying, This day is holy; be not sorrowful. 54 Then went they their way, every one to eat and drink, and make merry, and to give portions [u]to them that had nothing, and to make great cheer; 55 because [v]they [8]understood the words wherein they were instructed, and for the which they had been assembled.

1 THE second book of the prophet [a]Esdras, the son of Saraias, the son of Azarias, the son of Helkias, the son of Salemas, the son of Sadoc, the son of Ahitob, 2 the son of Achias, the son of Phinees, the son of Heli, the son of Amarias, the son of Aziel, the son of Marimoth, the son of Arna, the son of Ozias, the son of Borith, the son of Abissei, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, 3 the son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi; which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.

4 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 5 Go thy way, and [b]shew my people their sinful deeds, and their children their wickedness which they have done against me; that they may tell their children's children: 6 because the sins of their fathers are increased in them: for they have forgotten me, and [c]have done sacrifice unto strange gods. 7 Did not I [d]bring them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage? but they have provoked me unto wrath, and despised my counsels. 8 [e]Shake thou then the hair of thy head, and cast all evils upon them, for they have not been obedient unto my law, [f]but it is a rebellious people. 9 [g]How long shall I forbear them, unto whom I have done so much good? 10 [h]Many kings have I overthrown for their sakes; [i]Pharaoh with his servants and all his host have I smitten down. 11 [j]All the nations have I destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of [k]Tyre and [l]Sidon, and have slain all their adversaries. 12 Speak thou therefore unto them, saying, were thirsty, did I not [y] cleave the rock, and waters flowed out to your fill? for the heat I covered you [z] with the leaves of the trees. 21 I divided among you fruitful lands; I cast out the [a] Canaanites, the Pherezites, [b] and the Philistines, before you: [c] what shall I yet do more for you? saith the Lord.

22 Thus saith the Lord Almighty, When ye were in the wilderness, at [d] the bitter river, being athirst, and blaspheming my name, 23 I gave you not fire for your blasphemies, but [e] cast a tree in the water, and made the river sweet. 24 What shall I do unto thee, O Jacob? [f] thou, Judah, wouldest not obey me: [g] I will turn me to other nations, and unto them will I give my name, that they may keep my statutes. 25 [h] Seeing ye have forsaken me, I also will forsake you; when ye ask me to be merciful unto you, I will have no mercy upon you. 26 [i] Whensoever ye shall call upon me, I will not hear you: for ye have defiled your hands with blood, [j] and your feet are swift to commit manslaughter. 27 Ye have not as it were forsaken me, but your own selves, saith the Lord.

28 Thus saith the Lord Almighty, Have I not prayed you as a father his sons, as a mother her daughters, and [k] a nurse her young babes, 29 that [l] ye would be my people, and I should be your God; that ye would be my children, and I should be your father? 30 [m] I gathered you together, as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings: but now, what shall I do unto you? I will cast you out from my presence. 31 [n] When ye offer oblations unto me, I will turn my face from you: for your solemn feast days, your new moons, and your circumcisions of the flesh, have I rejected. 32 [o] I sent unto you my servants the prophets, whom ye have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, [p] whose blood I will require of your hands, saith the Lord.

33 Thus saith the Lord Almighty, [q] Your house is desolate, I will cast you out [r] as the wind doth stubble. 34 And [s] your children shall not be fruitful; for they have neglected my commandment [1] unto you, and done that which is evil before me. 35 Your houses will I give to a people that shall come; [t] which not having heard of me yet believe me; they to whom I have shewed no signs shall do that which I have commanded. 36 They have seen no prophets, yet they shall call their former estate to remembrance. 37 I take to witness the grace of the people that shall come, whose little ones rejoice with gladness: [u] and though they see me not with bodily eyes, yet in spirit they shall believe the thing that I say.

38 And now, O father, behold with glory; and [v] see the people that come from the east: 39 unto whom I will give for leaders, [w] Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, [x] Oseas, Amos, and Micheas, Joel, Abdias, and Jonas, 40 Nahum, and Abacuc, Sophonias, Aggæus, Zachary, and Malachy, [y] which is called also the angel of the Lord.

2 1 Thus saith the Lord, [z] I brought this people out of bondage, and I gave them my commandments by my servants the prophets; [a] whom they would not hear, but set my counsels at nought. 2 [b] The mother that bare them saith unto them, [c] Go your way, O my children; [d] for I am a widow and forsaken. 3 [e] I brought you up with gladness, and with sorrow and heaviness have I lost you: for ye have sinned before the Lord God, and done that which is evil before me. 4 [f] But what shall I now do unto you? [g] for I am a widow and forsaken: [g] go your way, O my children, and ask mercy of the Lord. 5 As for me, O father, I call upon thee for a witness over the mother of these children, because they would not keep my covenant, 6 that thou bring them to confusion, [h] and their mother to a spoil, that [i] there may be no offspring of them. 7 [j] Let them be scattered abroad among the heathen, let their names be blotted out of the earth: for they have despised my [2] covenant. 8 Woe unto thee, Assur, [k] thou that hidest the unrighteous with thee! O thou wicked nation, remember [l] what I did unto Sodom and Gomorrah; 9 whose land lieth in clods of pitch and heaps of ashes: even so also will I do unto them that have not hearkened unto me, saith the Lord Almighty.

10 Thus saith the Lord unto Esdras, Tell my people that I will give them the kingdom of Jerusalem, which I would have given unto Israel. 11 Their glory also will I take unto me, and give these [m] the everlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for them. 12 They shall have [n] the tree of life for an ointment of sweet savour; they shall neither labour, nor be weary. 13 [o] Ask, and ye shall receive: pray for few days unto you, [p] that they may be shortened: [q] the kingdom is already prepared for you: [r] watch. 14 [s] Take heaven and earth to witness, take them to witness; for I have given up the evil, and created the good: for I live, saith the Lord.

15 [t] Mother, embrace thy children; I will bring them out with gladness [u] like a dove; [v] stablish their feet; [w] for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord. 16 And [x] those that be dead will I raise up again from their places, and bring them out of the tombs: for I [4] have known my name in them. 17 Fear not, [t] thou mother of the children: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord. 18 For thy help will I send my servants Esaias and [y] Jeremy, after whose counsel I have sanctified and prepared for thee [z] twelve trees laden with divers fruits, 19 and as many fountains flowing with milk and honey, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with joy. 20 [a] Do right to the widow, judge the fatherless, give to the poor, defend the orphan, [b] clothe the naked, [c] heal the broken and the weak, laugh not a lame man to scorn, defend the maimed, and let the blind man come unto the sight of my glory. 22 Keep the old and young within thy walls. 23 [d] Wheresoever thou findest the dead, set a sign upon them and commit them to the grave, and [e] I will give thee the first place in my resurrection. 24 [f] Abide still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietness shall come. 25 Nourish thy children, O thou good nurse, and [g] stablish their feet. 26 As for the servants whom I have given thee, there shall not one of them perish; for I will require them from among thy number. 27 Be not careful overmuch: for when the day of tribulation and anguish cometh, [h] others shall weep and be sorrowful, but thou shalt be merry and have abundance. 28 The nations shall envy thee, but they shall be able to do nothing against thee, saith the Lord. 29 [i] My hands shall cover thee, so that thy children see not [1] hell. 30 Be joyful, [k] O thou mother, with thy children; for I will deliver thee, saith the Lord. 31 [l] Remember thy children that sleep, for I shall bring them out of the secret places of the earth, and shew mercy unto them: for I am merciful, saith the Lord Almighty. 32 Embrace thy children until I come, and proclaim mercy unto them: for my wells run over, and my grace shall not fail.

33 I Esdras received a charge from the Lord upon [m] the mount Horeb, that I should go unto Israel; but when I came unto them, they would none of me, and rejected the commandment of the Lord. 34 And therefore I say unto you, O ye nations, that hear and understand, look for [n] your shepherd, he shall give you everlasting [o] rest; [p] for he is nigh at hand, [q] that shall come in the end of the world. 35 Be ready to [r] the rewards of the kingdom, for [s] the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore. 36 Flee [t] the shadow of this world, receive the joyfulness of [u] your glory: I call to witness my saviour openly. 37 O receive that which is given you of the Lord, and be joyful, giving thanks unto him [v] that hath called you to heavenly kingdoms. 38 Arise up and stand, and behold [w] the number of [x] those that be sealed [y] in the feast of the Lord; 39 they that withdrew them from [z] the shadow of the world have received [aa] glorious garments of the Lord. 40 [b] Look upon thy number, O Sion, and make up the reckoning of those of thine that are [cc] clothed in white, which have fulfilled the law of the Lord. 41 [dd] The number of thy children, whom thou longedst for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people, which have been called from the beginning, may be hallowed.

42 I Esdras saw upon [e] the mount Sion [f] a great multitude, whom I could not number, and they all praised the Lord with songs. 43 And in the midst of them there was a young man of a high stature, taller than all the rest, and upon every one of their heads [g] he set crowns, and was more exalted; whereat I marvelled greatly. 44 So I asked the angel, and said, [h] What are these, my Lord? 45 He answered and said unto me, These be they that have put off [i] the mortal clothing, and put on the immortal, and have confessed the name of God: now are they crowned, and [k] receive palms. 46 Then said I unto the angel, What young man is he that setteth crowns upon them, and giveth them palms in their hands? 47 So he answered and said unto me, It is the Son of God, [l] whom they have confessed in the world. Then began I greatly to commend them that stood so stiffly for the name of the Lord. 48 Then the angel said unto me, Go thy way, and tell my people what manner of things, and how great wonders of the Lord God thou hast seen.

3 1 [m] In the thirtieth year after [n] the ruin of the city, I Salathiel (the same is Esdras) was in Babylon, and [o] lay troubled upon my bed, and my thoughts came up over my heart: 2 for I saw the desolation of Sion, and [p] the wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon. 3 And my spirit was sore moved, so that I began to speak words full of fear to the Most High, and said, 4 [q] O Lord that bearest rule, didst thou not speak at the beginning, when thou didst fashion the earth, and that thyself alone, and [r] commandedst the [3] dust, 5 and [s] it [4] gave thee Adam, a body without a soul? yet it was the workmanship of thine hands, and [t] thou didst breathe into him the breath of life, and he was made living before thee. 6 [u] And thou leddest him into paradise, which thy right hand did plant, before ever the earth came forward. 7 And unto him thou gavest [x] thy one commandment: [y] which he transgressed, and [z] immediately thou appointedst death for him and in his generations; and there were born of him nations and tribes, peoples and kindreds, out of number. 8 And every nation walked after their own will, and did ungodly things before thee, and despised thy commandments, and thou didst not forbid them. 9 Nevertheless again in process of time thou broughtest the flood upon those that dwelt in the world, and destroyedst them. 10 And it came to pass that the same hap befell them; like as death was to Adam, so was the flood to these. 11 Nevertheless one of them thou leftest, Noah with his household, even all the righteous men that came of him. 12 And it came to pass, that when they that dwelt upon the earth began to multiply, they multiplied also children, and peoples, and many nations, and began again to be more ungodly than the first. 13 And it came to pass, when they did wickedly before thee, thou didst choose thee one from among them, whose name was Abraham; 14 and him thou lovedst, and unto him only thou shewedst the end of the times secretly by night: 15 and madest an everlasting covenant with him, promising him that thou wouldest never forsake his seed. 16 And unto him thou gavest Isaac, and unto Isaac thou gavest Jacob and Esau. And thou didst set apart Jacob for thyself, but didst put by Esau: and Jacob became a great multitude. 17 And it came to pass, that when thou leddest his seed out of Egypt, thou broughtest them up to the mount Sinai. 18 Thou bowedst the heavens also, and didst shake the earth, and movedst the whole world, and troubledst the depths to tremble, and madest the sparks to tremble, and troubledst the course of that age. 19 And thy glory went through four gates, of fire, and of earthquake, and of wind, and of cold; that thou mightest give the law unto the seed of Jacob, and the commandment unto the generation of Israel. 20 Yet and yet tookest thou not away from them their wicked heart, that thy law might bring forth fruit in them. 21 For the first Adam bearing a wicked heart transgressed, and was overcome; and not he only, but all they also that are born of him. 22 Thus disease was made permanent; and the law was in the heart of the people along with the wickedness of the root; so the good departed away, and that which was wicked abode still. 23 So the times passed away, and the years were brought to an end: then didst thou raise thee up a servant, called David, 24 whom thou commandedst to build a city unto thy name, and to offer oblations unto thee therein of thine own. 25 When this was done many years, then they that inhabited the city did evil, 26 in all things doing even as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also bare a wicked heart; 27 and so thou gavest thy city over into the hands of thine enemies. 28 And I said then in mine heart, Are their deeds any better that inhabit Babylon? and hath she therefore dominion over Sion? 29 For it came to pass when I came hither, that I saw also impieties without number, and my soul saw many evil-doers in this thirtieth year, so that my heart failed me. 30 For I have seen how thou sufferest them sinning, and hast spared the ungodly doers, and hast destroyed thy people, and hast preserved thine enemies; and thou hast not signified 31 unto any how thy way may be comprehended. Are the deeds of Babylon better than those of Sion? 32 Or is there any other nation that knoweth thee beside Israel? or what tribes have so believed thy covenants as these tribes of Jacob? 33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruit: for I have gone hither and thither through the nations, and I see that they abound in wealth, and think not upon thy commandments. 34 Weigh thou therefore our iniquities now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world; and so shall it be found which way the scale incline th. 35 Or when was it that they which dwell upon the earth have not sinned in thy sight? or what nation hath so kept thy commandments? 36 Thou shalt find that men who may be reckoned by name have kept thy precepts; but nations thou shalt not find.

4 1 And the angel that was sent unto me, whose name was Uriel, gave me an answer, 2 and said to me, Thy heart hath utterly failed thee in regarding this world, and thinkest thou to comprehend the way of the Most High?

3 Then said I, Yea, my Lord.

And he answered me, and said, I am sent to shew thee three ways, and to set forth three similitudes before thee: 4 whereof if thou canst declare me one, I also will shew thee the way that thou desirest to see, and I will teach thee wherefore the heart is wicked.

5 And I said, Say on, my Lord.

Then said he unto me, Go to, weigh me a weight of fire, or measure me a measure of wind, or call me again the day that is past.

6 Then answered I and said, Who of the sons of men is able to do this, that thou shouldest ask me of such things?

7 And he said unto me, If I had asked thee, saying, How many dwellings are there in the heart of the sea? or how many springs are there at the fountain head of the deep? or how many ways are above the firmament? or which are the outgoings [1]of hell? or which are the paths of [a]paradise? [8]peradventure thou wouldest say unto me, [b]I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever climb up into heaven. 9 [c]Nevertheless now have I asked thee but only of the fire and wind, and of the day, things wherethrough thou hast passed, and [2]without which thou canst not be, and yet hast thou given me no answer of them.

10 He said moreover unto me, Thine own things, that are grown up with thee, canst thou not know; 11 how then can [d]thy vessel [e]comprehend the way of the Most High? and how can he that is already worn out with the corrupted world understand [3]incorruption?

12 [4]And when I heard these things [f]I fell upon my face, and said unto him, [g]It were better that we were not here at all, than that we should come hither and live in the midst of ungodliness, and suffer, and not know wherefore.

13 He answered me, and said, [5]The woods of the trees of the field went forth, and took counsel together, 14 and said, Come, let us go and make war against the sea, that it may depart away before us, and that we may make us more woods. 15 The waves of the sea also in like manner took counsel together, and said, Come, let us go up and subdue the wood of the plain, that there also we may make us another country. 16 The counsel of the wood was in vain, for [h]the fire came and consumed it: 17 likewise also the counsel of the waves of the sea, for [i]the sand stood up and stopped them. 18 If thou wert judge now betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou justify, or whom condemn?

19 I answered and said, It is a foolish counsel that they both have taken, for the ground is given unto the wood, and [j]the place of the sea is given to bear his waves.

20 Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast given a right judgement, and why judgest thou not in thine own case? 21 For like as the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea to his waves, [k]even so they that dwell upon the earth may understand nothing but that which is upon the earth: and he only that dwelleth above the heavens may understand the things that are above the height of the heavens.

22 Then answered I and said, I beseech thee, O Lord, [6]wherefore is the power of understanding given unto me? 23 For it was not my mind to be curious of the ways above, but of such things as pass by us daily; [l]because Israel is given up as a reproach to the heathen, and the people whom thou hast loved [m]is given over unto ungodly nations, and the law of our forefathers is made of none effect, and the written covenants are nowhere regarded, 24 and we pass away out of the world [n]as grasshoppers, and [o]our life is as a [7]vapour, neither are we worthy to obtain mercy. 25 [p]What will he then do for his name [q]whereby we are called? Of these things have I asked.

26 Then answered he me, and said, If thou be alive, thou shalt see, and if thou livest [8]long, thou shalt marvel; [r]for the world hasteth fast to pass away. 27 For it is not able to bear the things that are promised to the righteous in the times to come: [s]for this world is full of sadness and infirmities. 28 For the evil [9]whereof thou askest me is sown, but the gathering thereof is not yet come. 29 If therefore that which is sown be not reaped, and if the place where the evil is sown pass not away, there cannot come the field where the good is sown. 30 [t]For a grain of evil seed was sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much wickedness hath it brought forth unto this time! and how much shall it yet bring forth [u]until the [10]time of threshing come! 31 Ponder now by thyself, how great fruit of wickedness a grain of evil seed hath brought forth. 32 When the ears which are without number shall be sown, how great a floor shall they fill!

33 Then I answered and said, [11][v]How long? and when shall these things come to pass? wherefore are our years [w]few and evil?

34 And he answered me, and said, [x]Thou dost not hasten more than the Most High: for thy haste is [12]for thine own self, but he that is above hasteneth on behalf of many. 35 [y]Did not the souls of the righteous ask question of these things in their [z]chambers, saying, How long [13]are we here? when cometh the fruit of the [10]threshing time of our reward? 36 And unto them Jeremiel the archangel gave answer, and said, [a]Even when the number is fulfilled of them that are like unto you. [b]For he hath weighed the world in the balance; 37 [c]and by measure hath he measured the times, and by number hath he numbered the seasons; and he shall not [14]move nor stir them, until the said measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I and said, [d]O Lord that bearest rule, [e]yet even we all are full of impiety: 39 [f]and for our sakes peradventure it is that the [1]threshing time of the righteous is kept back, because of the sins of them that dwell upon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, Go thy way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she hath fulfilled her nine months, if her womb may keep the birth any longer within her.

41 Then said I, No, Lord, that can it not.

And he said unto me, In the grave [g]the chambers of souls are like the womb: 42 for like as a woman that travaileth maketh haste to escape the anguish of the travail: even so do these places haste to deliver those things that are committed unto them from the beginning. 43 Then shall it be shewed thee concerning those things which thou desirest to see.

44 Then answered I and said, [h]If I have found favour in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meet therefore, 45 shew me this also, [i]whether there be more to come than is past, or whether the more part is gone over us. 46 For what is gone I know, but what is for to come I know not.

47 And he said unto me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude unto thee.

48 So I stood, and saw, and, behold, a hot burning oven passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by I looked, and, behold, the smoke remained still. 49 After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm; and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained therein still.

50 Then said he unto me, Consider with thyself; as the rain is more than the drops, and as the fire is greater than the smoke, [j]so the quantity which is past did more exceed; but the drops and the smoke remained still.

51 Then I prayed, and said, May I live, thinkest thou, until that time? or who shall be in those days?

52 He answered me, and said, [k]As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tell thee of them in part: but as touching thy life, I am not sent to shew thee; for I do not know it.

5 1 Nevertheless as concerning [k]the tokens, behold, [l]the days shall come, that they which dwell upon earth shall be taken [2]with great amazement, [m]and the way of truth shall be hidden, and the land [n]shall be barren of faith. 2 [o]But iniquity shall be increased above that which now thou seest, or that thou hast heard long ago. 3 And the land, that thou seest now to have rule, shall be waste and [2]untrodden, and men shall see it desolate. 4 But if the Most High grant thee to live, thou shalt see [p]that which is after the third kingdom to be troubled; and the sun shall suddenly shine forth in the night, and the moon in the day: 5 and blood shall drop out of wood, and [q]the stone shall give his voice, and the peoples shall be troubled; and [3]their goings shall be changed: 6 and he shall rule, whom they that dwell upon the earth look not for, and the fowls shall take their flight away together: 7 and the Sodomitish sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known: but all shall hear the voice thereof. 8 There shall be chaos also in many places, and the fire shall be oft sent out, and the wild beasts shall change their places, and women shall bring forth monsters: 9 and [r]salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and [s]all friends shall destroy one another; [t]then shall wit hide itself, and understanding withdraw itself into its chamber; 10 and it shall be sought of many, and shall not be found: and [u]unrighteousness and incontinency shall be multiplied upon earth. 11 One land also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness, is a man that doeth righteousness, gone through thee? And it shall say, No. 12 And it shall come to pass at that time that men shall hope, but shall not obtain: they shall labour, but their ways shall not prosper. 13 [v]To shew thee such tokens I have leave; and if thou wilt pray again, and weep as now, and [w]fast seven days, thou shalt hear yet greater things than these.

14 Then I awaked, and an extreme trembling went through my body, and my mind was troubled, [x]so that it fainted. 15 So the angel that was come to talk with me held me, [y]comforted me, and set me up upon my feet. 16 And in the second night it came to pass, that [4]Phaltiel the captain of the people came unto me, saying, Where hast thou been? and [z]why is thy countenance sad? 17 or knowest thou not that Israel is committed unto thee in the land of their captivity? 18 Up then, and eat some bread, and forsake us not, [a]as the shepherd that leaveth his flock in the hands of cruel wolves. 19 Then said I unto him, Go thy ways from me, and come not nigh me for [w]seven days, and then shalt thou come unto me. And he heard what I said, and went from me.

20 And so I [w]fasted seven days, mourning and weeping, like as [b]Uriel the angel commanded me. 21 And after seven days so it was, [c]that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous unto me again, 22 and my soul [d]recovered the spirit of understanding, and I began to speak words before the Most High again, 23 and said,

[c] See ch. 4. 26.

[d] O Lord that bearest rule, of all the woods of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee [e] one vine: [24] and [f] of all the lands of the world thou hast chosen thee one [1] country: and of all the flowers of the world thou hast chosen thee one [g] lily: [25] and of all the depths of the sea thou hast filled thee [h] one river: and of all builded cities [i] thou hast hallowed Sion unto thyself: [26] and of all the fowls that are created thou hast named thee [k] one dove: and of all the cattle that are made thou hast provided thee one [l] sheep: [27] and among all the multitudes of peoples thou hast gotten thee one people: and unto this people, [m] whom thou lovedst, thou gavest a law that is approved of all. [28] And now, O Lord, why hast [n] thou given this one people over unto many, and [2] hast dishonoured the one root above others, [o] and hast scattered thine only one among many? [29] And they which did gainsay thy promises have trodden them down that believed thy covenants. [30] If thou dost so much hate thy people, [p] they should be punished with thine own hands.

[31] Now when I had spoken these words, [q] the angel that came to me the night afore was sent unto me, [32] and said unto me, Hear me, and I will instruct thee; hearken unto me, and I shall tell thee more.

33 And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he unto me, Thou art sore troubled in mind for Israel's sake: [r] lovest thou that people better than he that made them?

34 And I said, No, Lord: but of very grief have I spoken: for my reins torment me every hour, while I labour [s] to comprehend the way of the Most High, and to seek out part of his judgement.

35 And he said unto me, Thou canst not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord, or whereunto was I born? or [t] why was not my mother's womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travail of Jacob, and the wearisome toil of the stock of Israel?

[36] And he said unto me, [u] Number me them that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered, 37 open me [v] the chambers that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, or shew me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to thee the travail that thou askest to see.

[38] And I said, [w] O Lord that bearest rule, who may know these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men? [39] [x] As for me, I am unwise: how may I then speak of these things whereof thou askest me?

40 Then said he unto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so canst thou not find out my judgement, or [y] the end of the love that I have promised unto my people.

[41] And I said, But, lo, O Lord, thou hast made the promise unto them that be in the end: and what shall they do that have been before us, or we that be now, or they that shall come after us?

[42] And he said unto me, I will liken my judgement unto a ring: [z] like as there is no slackness of them that be last, even so there is no swiftness of them that be first.

43 So I answered and said, Couldest thou not make them to be at once that have been made, and that be now, and that are for to come; [a] that thou mightest shew thy judgement the sooner?

44 Then answered he me, and said, [b] The creature may not haste above the creator; neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.

45 And I said, How hast thou said unto thy servant, that [3] thou wilt surely make alive at once the creature that thou hast created? [4] If therefore they shall be alive at once, and the creature shall sustain them: even so it might now also support them to be present at once.

[46] And he said unto me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say unto her, If thou bringest forth ten children, why dost thou it at several times? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

47 And I said, She cannot: but must do it by distance of time.

[48] Then said he unto me, Even so have I given [c] the womb of the earth to those that be sown therein in their several times. 49 For like as a young child may not bring forth, neither [d] she that is grown old bring forth any more, even so have I disposed the world which I created.

[50] And I asked, and said, Seeing thou hast now shewed me the way, I will speak before thee: Is our mother, [e] of whom thou hast told me, still young? or doth she now draw nigh unto age?

[51] He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that beareth children, and she shall tell thee. [52] Say unto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast now brought forth like those that were before, but less of stature? 53 And she also shall answer thee, They that be born in the strength of youth are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of age, when the womb faileth, are otherwise. 54 Consider therefore thou also, how that [f] ye are less of stature than those that were before you. 55 And so are they that come after you less than ye, as born of the creature which now beginneth to be old, and is past the strength of youth.

56 Then said I, Lord, I beseech thee, [o] if I have found favour in thy sight, shew thy servant by whom [h] thou visitest thy creature.

6 1 And he said unto me, [i] In the beginning, when the earth was made, before the outgoings of the world were fixed, or ever the gatherings of the winds blew, 2 before the voices of the thunder sounded and before the flashes of the lightning shone, or ever the foundations of [j] paradise were laid, 3 before [k] the fair flowers were seen, or ever the powers of the earthquake were established, before [l] the innumerable hosts of angels were gathered together, 4 or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of [m] the firmament were named, or ever [n] the footstool of Sion [1] was established, 5 and ere the present years were sought out, and or ever the imaginations of them that now sin were estranged, before [o] they were sealed that have gathered faith for [p] a treasure: 6 then did I consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: as by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I and said, What shall be the parting asunder of the times? or when shall be the end of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

8 And he said unto me, From [2] [q] Abraham unto [3] Abraham, inasmuch as Jacob and Esau were born of him, [r] for Jacob's hand held the heel of Esau from the beginning. 9 For Esau is the end of this world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth. 10 [4] The beginning of a man is his hand, and the end of a man is his heel; between the heel and the hand seek thou nought else, Esdras.

11 I answered then and said, [s] O Lord that bearest rule, [t] if I have found favour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee, shew thy servant the end of thy tokens, [u] whereof thou shewedst me part the last night.

13 So he answered and said unto me, [w] Stand up upon thy feet, and thou shalt hear [x] a mighty sounding voice; 14 [w] and if the place whereon thou standest be greatly moved, 15 when it speaketh be not thou afraid: for the word is of the end, and the foundations of the earth shall understand, 16 that the speech is of them: [x] they shall tremble and be moved: for they know that their end must be changed.

17 And it happened, that when I had heard it [y] I stood up upon my feet, and hearkened, and, behold, [z] there was a voice that spake, and the sound of it was [a] like the sound of many waters. 18 And it said, Behold, the days come, and it shall be that when I draw nigh [b] to visit them that dwell upon the earth, 19 and when I shall make inquisition of them that have done hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and [c] when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled, 20 and when the seal shall be set upon [d] the world that is to pass away, then will I shew these tokens: [e] the books shall be opened before the firmament, and all shall see together: 21 and the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth untimely children at three or four months, and they shall live, and dance. 22 And suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty: 23 and [f] the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid. 24 At that time [g] shall friends make war one against another like enemies, and [h] the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountains shall stand still, so that for three hours they shall not run. 25 And it shall be that [i] whosoever remaineth after all these things that I have told thee of, he shall be saved, [k] and shall see my salvation, and the end of my world. 26 And they shall see the men [l] that have been taken up, who [m] have not tasted death from their birth: [n] and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning. 27 For evil shall be blotted out, and deceit shall be quenched; 28 [o] and faith shall flourish, and corruption shall be overcome, [p] and the truth, which hath been so long without fruit, shall be declared.

29 And when he talked with me, behold, by little and little [q] the place whereon I stood [5] rocked to and fro. 30 And he said unto me, These things came I to shew thee [6] this night. 31 If therefore thou wilt pray yet again, [r] and fast seven days more, [s] I shall yet [7] tell thee greater things than these. 32 For thy voice hath surely been heard before the Most High: [t] for the Mighty hath seen thy righteous dealing, he hath seen aforetime also thy chastity, which thou hast had ever since thy youth. 33 [u] And therefore hath he sent [x] me to shew thee all these things, and to say unto thee, Be of good comfort, and fear not. 34 [y] And be not hasty in regard of the former times, to think vain things, that thou mayest not hasten in the latter times.

35 And it came to pass after this, that

[a] I wept again, [b] and fasted seven days in like manner, that I might fulfil the three weeks which he told me. 36 And in the eighth night [b] was my heart vexed within me again, and I began to speak before the Most High. 37 [b] For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress. 38 And I said, O Lord, of a truth thou spakest at the beginning of the creation, upon the first day, and saidst thus; [w] Let heaven and earth be made; [x] and thy word perfected the work. 39 And then was [y] the spirit hovering, and darkness and [z] silence were on every side; the sound of man's voice was not yet [1]. 40 [a] Then commandedst thou a ray of light to be brought forth of [b] thy treasures, that then thy works might appear. 41 [c] Upon the second day again thou madest the spirit of the firmament and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a division betwixt the waters, that the one part might go up, and the other remain beneath. 42 [d] Upon the third day thou didst command that the waters should be gathered together [e] in the seventh part of the earth: six parts didst thou dry up, and keep them, to the intent that of these some being both planted and tilled might serve before thee. 43 [f] For as soon as thy word went forth the work was done. 44 For immediately [g] there came forth great and innumerable fruit, and manifold pleasures for the taste, and [h] flowers of inimitable colour, and odours of most exquisite smell: and this was done the third day. 45 [i] Upon the fourth day thou commandedst that the sun should shine, and the moon give her light, and the stars should be in their order: 46 and gavest them a charge to do service unto man, that was to be made. 47 [j] Upon the fifth day thou saidst unto [c] the seventh part, where the water was gathered together, that it should bring forth living creatures, fowls and fishes: and so it came to pass, 48 that the dumb water and without life brought forth living things as it was bidden, that the peoples might therefore praise thy wondrous works. 49 Then didst thou preserve two living creatures, the one thou calledst [k] Behemoth, and the other thou calledst [l] Leviathan: 50 and thou didst separate the one from the other: for [m] the seventh part, namely, where the water was gathered together, might not hold them both. 51 Unto [k] Behemoth thou gavest one part, which was dried up on [m] the third day, that he should dwell in the same, [n] wherein are a thousand hills: 52 but unto [l] Leviathan thou gavest [m] the seventh part, namely, the moist; and thou hast kept them to be devoured of whom thou wilt, and when. 53 [o] But upon the sixth day thou gavest commandment unto the earth, that it should bring forth before thee cattle, beasts, and creeping things: 54 and [p] over these Adam, whom thou ordainedst lord over all the works that thou hast made: of him come we all, the people whom thou hast chosen. 55 All this have I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou hast said that [q] for our sakes thou madest [2] this world. 56 As for the other nations, which also come of Adam, thou hast said that [r] they are nothing, and are like unto spittle: and thou hast likened the abundance of them unto [s] a drop that falleth from a vessel. 57 And now, O Lord, behold, these nations, [r] which are reputed as nothing, [t] be lords over us, and devour us. 58 But we thy people, [u] whom thou hast called thy firstborn, thy only begotten, and thy fervent lover, are given into their hands. 59 If the world now be made [q] for our sakes, why do we not possess for an inheritance our world? [v] how long shall this endure?

7 [1] And when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent unto me [w] the angel which had been sent unto me the nights afore: [2] and he said unto me, Up, Esdras, and hear the words that I am come to tell thee. 3 And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he unto me, There is a sea set in a wide place, that it might be [3] broad and vast. 4 But the entrance thereof shall be set in a narrow place so as to be like a river; 5 whoso then should desire to go into the sea to look upon it, or to rule it, [x] if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into the broad? 6 Another thing also: There is a city builded and set in a plain country, and full of all good things; 7 [y] but the entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, [y] having a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water: 8 and there is one only path between them both, even between the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once. 9 If this city now be given unto a man for an inheritance, if the heir pass not the danger set before him, how shall he receive his inheritance? 10 And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he unto me, Even so also is Israel's portion. 11 [z] Because for their sakes I made the world: and [a] when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was decreed that now is done. 12 Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, [b] and sorrowful and toilsome: they are but [c] few and evil, full of perils, and charged with great toils. 13 For the entrances of the greater world are wide and sure, and bring forth fruit of immortality. 14 If then they that live enter not these strait and vain things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them. 15 [d] Now therefore why disquietest thou thyself, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? and why art thou moved, whereas thou art but mortal? 16 and why hast thou not considered in thy mind that which is to come, rather than that which is present? 17 Then answered I and said, [e] O Lord that bearest rule, lo, thou hast ordained [f] in thy law, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perish. 18 [g] The righteous therefore shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: but they that have done wickedly [1] have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide. 19 And he said unto me, 2 [h] Thou art not a judge above God, neither hast thou understanding above the Most High. 20 Yea, rather let many that now be perish, than that the law of God which is set before them be despised. 21 For God straitly commanded such as came, even as they came, [i] what they should do to live, and what they should observe to avoid punishment. 22 Nevertheless they were not obedient unto him; but spake against him, and [j] imagined for themselves vain things; 23 and framed cunning devices of wickedness; and [k] said moreover of the Most High, that he is not; and knew not his ways: 24 but they despised his law, and denied his covenants; they have not been faithful to his statutes, and have not performed his works. 25 Therefore, Esdras, [l] for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things. 26 For behold, the time shall come, and it shall be, [m] when these tokens, of which I told thee before, shall come to pass, that [n] the bride shall appear, even the city coming forth, and she shall be seen, that now is withdrawn from the earth. 27 [o] And whosoever is delivered from the foresaid evils, the same shall see my wonders. 28 For [p] my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and shall rejoice them that remain four hundred years. 29 [q] After these years shall my son Christ die, and all that have the breath of 3 life. 30 And the world shall be turned into [r] the old silence seven days, like as in the first beginning: so that no man shall remain. 31 And after seven days the world, that yet awaketh not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corruptible. 32 [s] And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the [4] secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed unto them. 33 [t] And the Most High shall be revealed upon the seat of judgement [5], and [u] compassion shall pass away, and longsuffering shall be withdrawn: 34 but judgement only shall remain, [v] truth shall stand, and [w] faith shall wax strong: 35 and [x] the work shall follow, and [y] the reward shall be shewed, [z] and good deeds shall awake, and wicked deeds shall not sleep. 6 [36] And [a] the [7] pit of torment shall appear, and over against it shall be the place of rest: [b] and the furnace of [8] hell shall be shewed, [c] and over against it [d] the paradise of delight. [37] And then shall the Most High say to the nations that are raised from the dead, See ye and understand whom ye have denied, or whom ye have not served, or whose commandments ye have despised. [38] [e] Look on this side and on that: here is delight and rest, and there fire and torments. Thus [9] shall he speak unto them in the day of judgement: [39] [f] This is a day that hath neither sun, nor moon, nor stars, [40] neither cloud, nor thunder, nor lightning, neither wind, nor water, nor air, neither darkness, nor evening, nor morning, [41] neither summer, nor spring, nor heat, nor [10] winter, neither frost, nor cold, nor hail, nor rain, nor dew, [42] neither noon, nor night, nor dawn, neither shining, nor brightness, nor light, [g] save only the splendour of the glory of the Most High, whereby all shall see the things that are set before them: [43] for it shall endure as it were a week of years. [44] This is my judgement and the ordinance thereof; [h] but to thee only have I shewed these things.

[45] And I answered, I said even then, O Lord, and I say now: Blessed are they that be now alive [i] and keep the statutes ordained of thee. [46] But as touching them [j] for whom my prayer was made, what shall I say? [k] for who is there of them that be alive that hath not sinned, and who of the sons of men that hath not transgressed thy covenant? [47] And now I see, [l] that the world to come shall bring delight to few, but torments unto many. [48] [m] For an evil heart hath grown up in us, which hath led us astray from these statutes, and hath brought us into corruption and into the ways of death, hath shewed us the paths of perdition and removed us far from life; and that, not a few only, but well nigh all that have been created.

[49] And he answered me, and said, Hearken unto me, and I will instruct thee; and I will admonish thee yet again: [50] for this cause the Most High [n] hath not made one world, but two. [51] For whereas thou hast said that the just are not many, but few, and the ungodly abound, hear the answer thereunto. [52] If thou have choice stones exceeding few, [l] wilt thou set for thee over against them according to their number things of lead and clay?

[53] And I said, Lord, how shall this be?

[54] And he said unto me, Not only this, [l] but ask the earth, and she shall tell thee; intreat her, and she shall declare unto thee. [55] For thou shalt say unto her, [m] Thou bringest forth gold and silver and brass, and iron also and lead and clay: [56] but silver is more abundant than gold, and brass than silver, and iron than brass, lead than iron, and clay than lead. [57] Judge thou therefore which things are precious and to be desired, whatso is abundant or what is rare.

[58] And I said, [n] O Lord that bearest rule, that which is plentiful is of less worth, for that which is more rare is more precious.

[59] And he answered me, and said, [1] Weigh within thyself the things that thou hast thought, for he that hath what is hard to get rejoiceth over him that hath what is plentiful. [60] So also is the [1] judgement which I have promised: [o] for I will rejoice over the few that shall be saved, inasmuch as [p] these are they that have made my glory now to prevail, and of whom my name is now named. [61] [q] And I will not grieve over the multitude of them that perish; for these are they that are now like unto vapour, and are become as flame and smoke; they are set on fire and burn hotly, and are quenched.

[62] And I answered and said, O thou earth, wherefore hast thou brought forth, if the mind is made out of dust, like as all other created things? [63] [r] For it were better that the dust itself had been unborn, so that the mind might not have been made therefrom. [64] But now the mind groweth with us, and by reason of this we are tormented, because we perish and know it. [65] Let the race of men lament and the beasts of the field be glad; let all that are born lament, but let the fourfooted beasts and the cattle rejoice. [66] For it is far better with them than with us; for they look not for judgement, neither do they know of torments or of salvation promised unto them after death. [67] For what doth it profit us, that we shall be preserved alive, but yet be afflicted with torment? [68] For all that are born are [1] defiled with iniquities, and are full of sins and laden with offences: [69] and [s] if after death we were not to come into judgement, peradventure it had been better for us.

[70] And he answered me, and said, When the Most High made the world, and Adam and all them that came of him, he first [t] prepared the judgement and the things that pertain unto the judgement. [71] And now understand from thine own words, [u] for thou hast said that the mind groweth with us. [72] They therefore that dwell upon the earth shall be tormented for this reason, [v] that having understanding they have wrought iniquity, and receiving commandments have not kept them, and having obtained a law they dealt unfaithfully with that which they received. [73] What then will they have to say in the judgement, or how will they answer in the last times? [74] [w] For how great a time hath the Most High been long-suffering with them that inhabit the world, and not for their sakes, but because of the times which he hath foreordained!

[75] And I answered and said, If I have found grace in thy sight, O Lord, shew this also unto thy servant, whether after death, even now when every one of us giveth up his soul, we shall be kept in rest until those times come, [x] in which thou shalt renew the creation, or whether we shall be tormented forthwith.

[76] And he answered me, and said, I will shew thee this also; but join not thyself with them that are scorners, nor number thyself with them that are tormented. [77] For thou hast [y] a treasure of good works laid up with the Most High, but it shall not be shewed thee until the last times. [78] For concerning death the teaching is: When the determinate sentence hath gone forth from the Most High that a man should die, as the spirit leaveth the body [z] to return again to him who gave it, [a] it adoreth the glory of the Most High first of all. [79] And if it be one of those that have been scorners and have not kept the way of the Most High, and that have despised his law, and that hate them that fear [2] God, [80] these spirits shall not enter [b] into habitations, but shall wander and be in torments forthwith, ever grieving and sad, in seven ways. [81] The first way, because they have despised the law of the Most High. [82] The second way, [c] because they cannot now make a good returning that they may live. [83] The third way, [d] they shall see the reward laid up for them that have believed the covenants of the Most High. [84] The fourth way, they shall consider the torment laid up for themselves in the last days. [85] The fifth way, they shall see [e] the dwelling places of the others guarded by angels, with great quietness. [86] The sixth way, they shall see [3] how forthwith some of them shall pass into torment. [87] The seventh way, which is [4] more grievous than all the aforesaid ways, because they shall pine away in confusion and be consumed with [1]shame, and shall be withered up by fears, seeing the glory of the Most High before whom they have sinned whilst living, and before whom they shall be judged in the last times. [88] Now this is the order of those who have kept the ways of the Most High, when they shall be separated from the corruptible [f] vessel. [89] In the time [1]that they dwelt therein they painfully served the Most High, and [g] were in jeopardy every hour, that they might keep the law of [h] the lawgiver perfectly. [90] Wherefore this is the teaching concerning them: [91] [i] First of all they shall see with great joy the glory of him who taketh them up, for they shall have rest in seven orders. [92] The first order, because they have striven with great labour to overcome [j] the evil thought which was fashioned together with them, that it might not lead them astray from life into death. [93] The second order, because they see the perplexity in which the souls of the ungodly wander, and [k] the punishment that awaiteth them. [94] The third order, they see [l] the witness which he that fashioned them beareth concerning them, that while they lived they kept the law [m] which was given them in trust. [95] The fourth order, they understand the rest which, being gathered [n] in their chambers, they now enjoy with great quietness, guarded by angels, and the glory that awaiteth them in the last days. [96] The fifth order, they rejoice, seeing how they have now escaped from [o] that which is corruptible, and how they shall inherit that which is to come, while they see moreover [p] the straitness and the [1]painfulness from which they have been delivered, and the large room which they shall receive with joy and immortality. [97] The sixth order, when it is shewed unto them [q] how their face shall shine as the sun, and how [r] they shall be made like unto the light of the stars, being henceforth incorruptible. [98] The seventh order, which is greater than all the aforesaid orders, because they shall rejoice with confidence, and because they shall be bold without confusion, and shall be glad without fear, for they hasten [s] to behold the face of him whom in their lifetime they served, and from whom [t] they shall receive their reward in glory. [99] This is the order of the souls of the just, as from henceforth [1]is announced unto them, and aforesaid are the ways of torture which they that would not give heed shall suffer from henceforth. [100] And I answered and said, Shall time therefore be given unto the souls after they are separated from the bodies, that they may see that whereof thou hast spoken unto me? [101] And he said, Their freedom shall be for seven days, that for seven days they may see the things whereof thou hast been told, and afterwards they shall be gathered together [u] in their habitations. [102] And I answered and said, [v] If I have found favour in thy sight, shew further unto me thy servant whether in the day of judgement the just will be able to intercede for the ungodly or to intreat the Most High for them, [103] whether fathers for children, or children for parents, or brethren for brethren, or kinsfolk for their next of kin, or [2]friends for them that are most dear. [104] And he answered me, and said, Since thou hast found favour in my sight, [w] I will shew thee this also: The day of judgement is [3]a day of [x] decision, and displayeth unto all the seal of truth; even as now a father sendeth not his son, or a son his father, or a master his slave, or a [2]friend him that is most dear, that in his stead he may [4]be sick, or sleep, or eat, or be healed: [105] [y] so never shall any one pray for another [5]in that day, neither shall one lay a burden on another, [z] for then shall all bear every one his own righteousness or unrighteousness.

36 [106] And I answered and said, How do we now find that first [a] Abraham prayed for the people of Sodom, and [b] Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness: 37 [107] and [c] Joshua after him for Israel in the days of [6]Achar: 38 [108] and [d] Samuel [7]in the days of Saul; and [e] David for the plague: and [f] Solomon for them that should worship in the sanctuary: 39 [109] and [g] Elijah for those that received rain; and [h] for the dead, that he might live: 40 [110] and [i] Hezekiah for the people in the days of Sennacherib: and many for many? 41 [111] If therefore now, when corruption is grown up, and unrighteousness increased, the righteous have prayed for the ungodly, wherefore shall it not be so then also?

42 [112] He answered me, and said, This present world is not the end; the full glory abideth [8]not therein: therefore have they who were able prayed for the weak. 43 [113] But the day of judgement shall be the end of this time, [8]and the beginning [j] of the immortality for to come, [k] wherein corruption is passed away, 44 [114] intemperance is at an end, [l] infidelity is cut off, but righteousness is grown, and truth is sprung up. 45 [115] Then shall no man be able to have mercy on him that is cast in judgement, nor to thrust down [m] him that hath gotten the victory.

46 [116] I answered then and said, This is my first and last saying, [n] that it had been better that the earth had not [o] given thee Adam: or else, when it had given him, to have restrained him from sinning. 47 [117] [p] For what profit is it for all that are in this present time to live in heaviness, and after death to look for punishment? 48 [118] O thou Adam, what hast thou done? for though it was thou that sinned, [q] the evil is not fallen on thee alone, but upon all of us that come of thee. 49 [119] For what profit is it unto us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas [r] we have done the works that bring death? 50 [120] And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas ourselves most miserably are become vain? 51 [121] And that there are reserved habitations of health and safety, whereas we have lived wickedly? 52 [122] And that the glory of the Most High shall defend them which have led a pure life, whereas we have walked in the most wicked ways of all? 53 [123] And that there shall be shewed [s] a paradise, whose fruit endureth without decay, [t] wherein is abundance and healing, but we shall not enter into it, 54 [124] for we have walked in unpleasant places? 55 [125] And that the faces of them which have used abstinence [u] shall shine above the stars, whereas [v] our faces shall be blacker than darkness? 56 [126] For while we lived and committed iniquity, we considered not what we should have to suffer after death.

57 [127] Then he answered and said, This is the [1] condition of [w] the battle, which man that is born upon the earth shall fight; 58 [128] that, if he be overcome, he shall suffer as thou hast said: but if he get the victory, he shall receive the thing that I say. 59 [129] For this is the way whereof Moses spake unto the people while he lived, saying, [x] Choose thee life, that thou mayest live. 60 [130] Nevertheless they believed not him, [y] nor yet the prophets after him, no, nor me which have spoken unto them; 61 [131] [z] so that there shall not be such heaviness in their destruction, as [a] there shall be joy over them that are persuaded to salvation.

62 [132] I answered then and said, I know, Lord, that the Most High is now called merciful, in that he hath mercy upon them which are not yet come into the world; 63 [133] and compassionate, in that he hath compassion upon those that turn to his law; 64 [134] and [b] longsuffering, for that he long suffereth those that have sinned, [c] as his creatures; 65 [135] and bountiful, for that he is ready to give rather than to exact; 66 [136] and of great mercy, for that he multiplieth more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to come; 67 [137] (for if he multiplied not his mercies, [d] the world would not continue with them that dwell therein;) 68 [138] and one that forgiveth, [e] for if he did not forgive of his goodness, that they which have committed iniquities might be eased of them, the ten thousandth part of men would not remain living; 69 [139] and a judge, for if he did not pardon them that were created by his word, and [f] blot out the multitude of [2] offences, 70 [140] there would peradventure be very few left in an innumerable multitude.

8 [1] And he answered me, and said, The Most High hath made this world for many, [g] but the world to come for few. [2] I will tell thee now a similitude, Esdras; [h] As when thou askest the earth, it shall say unto thee, that it giveth very much mould whereof earthen vessels are made, and little dust that gold cometh of: even so is the course of the present world. 3 [3] There be many created, but few shall be saved.

4 And I answered and said, Swallow down understanding then, O my soul, and let my heart devour wisdom. 5 For thou [4] art come hither without thy will, and departest when thou wouldest not: for there is given thee no longer space than only to live a short time. 6 O Lord, that art over us, suffer thy servant, that we may pray before thee, and [i] give us seed unto our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it, whereby every one shall live that is corrupt, who beareth the [4] likeness of a man. 7 For thou art alone, and [j] we all one workmanship of thine hands, like as thou hast said. 8 [k] For as much as thou quickenest the body that is fashioned now in the womb, and givest it members, thy creature is preserved [l] in fire and water, and nine months doth thy workmanship endure thy creature which is created in her. 9 But that which keepeth and that which is kept shall both be kept [5] by thy keeping: and when the womb giveth up again that which hath grown in it, [10] thou hast commanded that out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, be given milk, which is the fruit of the breasts, [11] that the thing which is fashioned may be nourished for a time, and afterwards thou shalt order it in thy mercy. [12] Yea, thou hast brought it up in thy righteousness, and nurtured it in thy law, and corrected it with thy judgement. [13] [m] And thou shalt mortify it as thy creature, and [n] quicken it as thy work. [14] [o] If therefore thou shalt [3] lightly and suddenly destroy him which with so great labour was fashioned by thy commandment, [p] to what purpose was he made? [15] Now therefore I will speak; touching man in general, thou knowest best; but touching thy people will I speak, for whose sake I am sorry; 16 and for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourn; and for Israel, for whom I am heavy; and for the seed of Jacob, for whose sake I am troubled; 17 [q] therefore will I begin to pray before thee for myself and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land; 18 but I have heard [r] the swiftness of the judgement which is to come. 19 Therefore hear my voice, and understand my saying, and I will speak before thee.

The beginning of the words of Esdras, [s] before he was taken up. And he said, 20 O Lord, thou [t] that [1] abidest for ever, whose eyes are exalted, and [u] whose chambers are in the air; 21 whose throne is inestimable; whose glory may not be comprehended; before whom the hosts of angels stand with trembling, 22 [2] at whose bidding [v] they are changed to wind and fire; whose word is sure, and sayings constant; whose ordinance is strong, and commandment fearful; 23 whose look [w] drieth up the depths, [x] and whose indignation maketh the mountains to melt away, and whose truth beareth witness: 24 hear, O Lord, the prayer of thy servant, and give ear to the petition of thy handywork; 25 attend unto my words, for so long as I live I will speak, and so long as I have understanding I will answer. 26 O look not upon the sins of thy people; but on them that have served thee in truth. 27 [y] Regard not the doings of them that deal wickedly, but of them that have kept thy covenants in affliction. 28 Think not upon those that have walked feignedly before thee; but remember them which have willingly known thy fear. 29 Let it not be thy will to destroy them 30 [z] which have lived like cattle; but look upon them that have [3] clearly taught thy law. 30 Take thou no indignation at them which are deemed worse than beasts; but love them that have alway put their trust in thy glory. 31 For we and our fathers [a] have [4] passed our lives in [5] ways that bring death: but thou because of us sinners [6] art called merciful. 32 For if thou hast a desire to have mercy upon us, [b] then shalt thou be called merciful, to us, namely, that have no works of righteousness. 33 For the just, [c] which have many good works laid up with thee, shall for their own deeds receive reward. 34 For what is man, that thou shouldest take displeasure at him? or what is a corruptible race, that thou shouldest be so bitter toward it? 35 [d] For in truth there is no man among them that be born, but he hath dealt wickedly; and among them [7] that have lived there is none which hath not done amiss. 36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness and thy goodness shall be declared, if thou be merciful unto them which have no store of good works.

37 Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according unto thy words so shall it come to pass. 38 For indeed I will not think on the fashioning of them which have sinned, or their death, their judgement, or their destruction: 39 [e] but I will rejoice over the framing of the righteous, [f] their pilgrimage also, and the salvation, [g] and the reward, that they shall have. 40 Like therefore as I have spoken, so shall it be. 41 For as the husbandman soweth much seed upon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet not all that is sown shall [8] come up in due season, neither shall all that is planted take root: even so they that are sown in the world [h] shall not all be saved.

42 I answered then and said, [i] If I have found favour, let me speak before thee. 43 Forasmuch as the husbandman's seed, if it come not up, seeing that it hath not received thy rain in due season, or if it be corrupted through too much rain, [9] so perisheth; 44 likewise man, which is formed with thy hands, and [j] is called thine own image, because he is made like unto thee, [k] for whose sake thou hast formed all things, even him hast thou made like unto the husbandman's seed. 45 Be not wroth with us, but [l] spare thy people, and have mercy upon thine inheritance; for thou hast mercy upon thine own creation.

46 Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for them that now be, and things to come for such as shall be hereafter. 47 [m] For thou comest far short that thou shouldest be able to love my creature more than I. But thou hast brought thyself full nigh unto the unrighteous. Let this never be. 48 Yet in this shalt thou be admirable before the Most High; 49 in that thou hast humbled thyself, as it becometh thee, and hast not judged thyself worthy to be among the righteous, so as to be much glorified. 50 [n] For many grievous miseries shall befall them that in the last times dwell in the world, because they have walked in great pride. 51 But understand thou for thyself, and of such as be [o] like thee seek out the glory. 52 For unto you is [p] paradise opened, [q] the tree of life is planted, [r] the time to come is prepared, plenteousness is made ready, [s] a city is builded, [t] and rest is [10] allowed, goodness is perfected, wisdom being perfect aforehand. 53 The root of evil is sealed up from you, weakness is done away from you, and [1] [death] is hidden; [u] hell and corruption are fled into forgetfulness: 54 [v] sorrows are passed away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortality. 55 Therefore ask thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish. 56 [w] For when they had received liberty, they despised the Most High, thought scorn of his law, and forsook his ways. 57 Moreover they have trodden down his righteous, 58 and [x] said in their heart, that there is no God; yea, and that knowing they must die. 59 For as the things aforesaid shall receive you, [y] so thirst and pain which are prepared shall receive them: [z] for the Most High willed not that men should come to nought: 60 but they which be created have themselves defiled the name of him that made them, and were [a] unthankful unto him which prepared life for them. 61 [b] And therefore is my judgement now at hand, 62 which I have not shewed unto all men, [c] but unto thee, [d] and a few like thee.

Then answered I and said, 63 Behold, O Lord, [e] now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders, which thou wilt do in the last times: but at what time, thou hast not shewed me.

9 1 And he answered me, and said, Measure thou diligently within thyself: and when thou seest that a certain part of the signs are past, which have been told thee beforehand, 2 [f] then shalt thou understand, that it is the very time, wherein the Most High [g] will visit the world which was made by him. 3 And when there shall be seen in the world [h] earthquakes, disquietude of peoples, devices of nations, wavering of leaders, disquietude of princes, 4 [i] then shalt thou understand, that the Most High spake of these things from the days that were aforetime from the beginning. 5 For like as of all that is made in the world, the beginning [2] is evident, and the end manifest; 6 so also are the times of the Most High: the beginnings are manifest in wonders and mighty works, and the end in effects and signs. 7 And every one that shall be saved, and [i] shall be able to escape by his works, [j] or by faith, whereby he hath believed, 8 shall be preserved from the said perils, [k] and shall see my salvation in my land, and [l] within my borders, which I have sanctified for me from the beginning. 9 [m] Then shall they be amazed, which now have abused my ways: and they that have cast them away despitefully shall dwell in torments. 10 [n] For as many as in their life have received benefits, and yet have not known me; 11 [o] and as many as have scorned my law, while they had yet liberty, and, when as yet place of repentance was open unto them, understood not, but despised [3] it; 12 the same must know [3] it after death by torment. 13 And therefore be thou no longer curious how the ungodly shall be punished; but inquire how the righteous shall be saved, [4] they [p] whose the world is, and [q] for whom the world was created.

14 And I answered and said, [5] I have said before, and now do speak, and will speak it also hereafter, that [r] there be more of them which perish, than of them which shall be saved: 16 like as a wave is greater than a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed; and as the flowers be, such are the colours also; and [s] such as the work is, such also is the [6] judgement thereon; and as is the husbandman, so is his threshing-floor also. For there was a time in the world, 18 even then when I was preparing for them that now live, before the world was made for them to dwell in; and then no man spake against me, 19 for [6] there was not any: but now they which are created in this world that is prepared, both [6] with [t] a table that faileth not, and a law which is [u] unsearchable, are created in their manners. 20 [v] So I considered my world, and, lo, it was destroyed, and my earth, and, lo, it was in peril, because of the devices that were come into it. 21 And I saw, and spared them, but not greatly, and saved me a grape out of a cluster, and [w] a plant out of [7] a great forest. 22 Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain; and let my grape be saved, and my plant; for with great labour have I made them perfect. 23 Nevertheless if thou will cease yet [x] seven days more, (howbeit thou shalt not fast in them, 24 [y] but shalt go into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and [z] eat only of the flowers of the field; and thou shalt taste no flesh, and shalt drink no wine, but shalt eat flowers only;) 25 and pray unto the Most High continually, then will I come and talk with thee.

26 So I went my way, like as he commanded me, into the field which is called [8] Ardat; and there I sat among the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me. 27 And it came to pass after seven days that I lay upon the grass, [a] and my heart was vexed again, [b] like as before: 28 [c] and my mouth was opened, and I began to speak before the Most High, and said, 29 O Lord, [d] thou didst shew thyself among us, unto our fathers in the wilderness, when they went forth out of Egypt, and when they came into the wilderness, [e] where no man treadeth and that beareth no fruit; 30 and thou didst say, Hear me, thou Israel; and mark my words, O seed of Jacob. 31 For, behold, [f] I sow my law in you, and it shall bring forth fruit in you, and ye shall be glorified in it for ever. 32 [g] But our fathers, [h] which received the law, kept it not, and observed not the statutes: and [i] the fruit of the law did not perish, neither could it, for it was thine; 33 yet they that received it perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them. 34 And, lo, it is a custom, that when the ground hath received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, and when it cometh to pass that that which is sown, or that which is launched, 35 or the things which have been received, should come to an end, these come to an end, but the receptacles remain: yet with us it hath not happened so. 36 For we that have received the law shall perish by sin, and our heart also which received it. 37 [j] Notwithstanding the law perisheth not, but remaineth in its honour.

38 And when I spake these things in my heart, I looked about me with mine eyes, and upon the right side I saw [k] a woman, and, behold, she mourned and wept with a loud voice, and was much grieved in mind, and [l] her clothes were rent, [m] 39 [n] and she had ashes upon her head. Then let I my thoughts go wherein I was occupied, and turned me unto her, 40 and said unto her, Wherefore weepest thou? and why art thou grieved in thy mind?

41 And she said unto me, Let me alone, my lord, that I may bewail myself, and add unto my sorrow, for I am sore vexed in my mind, and brought very low.

42 And I said unto her, What aileth thee? tell me. 43 She said unto me, I thy servant was barren, and had no child, though I had a husband [o] thirty years. 44 And every hour and every day these thirty years did I [p] make my prayer to the Most High day and night. 45 And it came to pass after thirty years that God heard me thine handmaid, and [q] looked upon my low estate, and considered my trouble, and gave me a son: and I rejoiced in him greatly, I and my husband, and [r] all my [1] neighbours: and we gave great honour unto the Mighty. 46 And I nourished him with great travail. 47 So when he grew up, and I came to take him a wife, [s] I made

10 a feast day. 1 And it so came to pass, that when my son was entered into his wedding chamber, he fell down, and died. 2 Then we all overthrew the lights, and [t] all my [1] neighbours rose up to comfort me: and I remained quiet unto the second day at night. 3 And it came to pass, when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet, then rose I up by night, and fled, and came hither into this field, as thou seest. 4 And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, and neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn and to fast until I die.

5 [u] Then left I the meditations wherein I was, and answered her in anger, and said, 6 Thou foolish woman above all other, seest thou not our mourning, and what hath happened unto us? 7 how that Sion [v] the mother of us all is full of sorrow, and much humbled. 8 [2] It is right now to mourn very sore, seeing we all mourn, and to be sorrowful, seeing we are all in sorrow, but thou sorrowest for one son. 9 [w] For ask the earth, and she shall tell thee, that it is she which ought to mourn for so many that grow upon her. 10 For [x] out of her all had their beginnings, and others shall come; and, behold, they walk [y] almost all into destruction, and the multitude of them is utterly rooted out. 11 Who then should make more mourning, [z] she, that hath lost so great a multitude, or thou, which art grieved but for one? 12 But if thou sayest unto me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, for I have lost the fruit of my womb, [a] which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows: 13 but it is with the earth after the manner of the earth; the multitude present in it is gone, as it came: 14 then say I unto thee, [a] Like as thou hast brought forth with sorrow; even so the earth also hath given her fruit, namely, man, ever since the beginning unto him that made her. 15 Now therefore keep thy sorrow to thyself, and bear with a good courage the adversities which have befallen thee. 16 For [c] if thou shalt acknowledge the decree of God to be just, thou shalt both receive thy son in time, and shalt be praised among women. 17 Go thy way then into the city to thine husband.

18 And she said unto me, That will I not do: I will not go into the city, but here will I die.

19 So I proceeded to speak further unto her, and said, [3] Do not so, but suffer thyself to be prevailed on by reason of the adversities of Sion; and be comforted by reason of the sorrow of Jerusalem. 21 For thou seest that [b] our sanctuary is laid waste, our altar broken down, our temple destroyed; 22 [c] our psaltery is brought low, our song is put to silence, our rejoicing is at an end; [d] the light of our candlestick is put out, the ark of our covenant is spoiled, our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called upon us is profaned; our freemen are despitefully treated, our priests are burnt, our Levites are gone into captivity, [c] our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished; our righteous men carried away, our little ones betrayed, [f] our young men are brought into bondage, and our strong men are become weak; 23 and, what is more than all, [g] the seal of Sion—for she hath now lost the seal of her honour, [h] and is delivered into the hands of them that hate us. 24 Thou therefore shake off thy great heaviness, and put away from thee the multitude of sorrows, that the Mighty may be merciful unto thee again, and the Most High may give thee rest, even ease from thy travails.

25 And it came to pass, while I was talking with her, behold, her face upon a sudden shined exceedingly, and her countenance glistered like lightning, so that I was sore afraid [1] of her, and mused what this might be; 26 and, behold, suddenly she made a great cry very fearful; so that the earth shook at the noise. 27 And I looked, and, behold, the woman appeared unto me no more, but [i] there was a city builded, and a place shewed itself from large foundations: then was I afraid, and cried with a loud voice, and said, 28 Where is [j] Uriel the angel, who came unto me at the first? for he hath caused me to fall into this great trance, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke. 29 [k] And as I was speaking these words, behold, the angel who had come unto me at the first came unto me, and he looked upon me: 30 [l] and, lo, I lay as one that had been dead, [m] and mine understanding was taken from me; and he took me by the right hand, [n] and comforted me, and set me upon my feet, and said unto me, 31 What aileth thee? and why art thou so disquieted? and why is thine understanding troubled, and the thoughts of thine heart? 32 And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me: yet I did according to thy words, [o] and went into the field, and, lo, I have seen, and yet see, that which I am not able to express. 33 And he said unto me, [p] Stand up like a man, and I will advise thee. 34 Then said I, Speak on, my Lord; only forsake me not, lest I die frustrate of my hope. 35 For I have seen that I knew not, and hear that I do not know. 36 [q] Or is my sense deceived, or my soul in a dream? 37 Now therefore I beseech thee to shew thy servant concerning this trance.

38 And he answered me, and said, Hear me, and I shall inform thee, and tell thee concerning the things whereof thou art afraid: [r] for the Most High hath revealed many secret things unto thee. 39 [s] He hath seen that thy way is right: for that thou sorrowest continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion. 40 This therefore is the meaning of the vision. 41 [t] The woman which appeared unto thee a little while ago, whom thou sawest mourning, and beganest to comfort her: 42 but now seest thou the likeness of the woman no more, [u] but there appeared unto thee a city in building: 43 and whereas she told thee of the death of her son, this is the solution: 44 [t] This woman, whom thou sawest, is [2] Sion, [2] whom thou [u] now seest as a city builded; 45 and whereas [v] she said unto thee, that she hath been thirty years barren, it is, because there were three [2] thousand years in the world wherein there was no offering as yet offered in her. 46 And it came to pass after three [2] thousand years that Solomon builded the city, and [w] offered offerings: then it was that the barren bare a son. 47 And whereas she told thee that she nourished him with travail: that was the dwelling in Jerusalem. 48 [x] And whereas she said unto thee, My son coming into his marriage chamber died, and that misfortune befell her: this was the destruction that came to Jerusalem. 49 And, behold, thou sawest her likeness, how she mourned for her son, and thou beganest to comfort her for what hath befallen her; [3] these were the things to be opened unto thee. 50 For now the Most High, seeing that thou art grieved unfeignedly, and sufferest from thy whole heart for her, hath shewed thee [y] the brightness of her glory, and the comeliness of her beauty: 51 and therefore [z] I bade thee remain in the field where no house was builded: 52 for I knew that the Most High would shew this unto thee. 53 Therefore [z] I commanded thee to come into the field, where no foundation of any building was. 54 For in the place wherein the city of the Most High was to be shewed, the work of no man's building could stand. 55 Therefore fear thou not, nor let thine heart be affrighted, but go thy way in, and [a] see the beauty and greatness of the building, as much as thine eyes be able to see: 56 and then shalt thou hear as much as thine ears may comprehend. 57 [b] For thou art blessed above many, and with the Most High art called by name, like as but few. 58 But to-morrow at night thou shalt remain here; 59 and [c] so shall the Most High shew thee those visions in dreams, of what the Most High will do unto them that dwell upon earth in the last days. So I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

II 1 And it came to pass the second night that I saw a dream, and, behold, there came up [d] from the sea

[c]an eagle, which had [f]twelve feathered wings, and three heads. 2 And I saw, and, behold, she spread her wings over all the earth, and [g]all the winds of heaven blew on her, [1]and the clouds were gathered together against her. 3 And I beheld, and out of her wings there grew other wings [h]over against them; [i]and they became little wings and small. 4 [j]But her heads were at rest: the head in the midst was greater than the other heads, yet rested it with them. 5 Moreover I beheld, and, lo, the eagle flew with her wings, to reign over the earth, and over them that dwell therein. 6 And I beheld how that all things under heaven were subject unto her, and no man spake against her, no, not one creature upon earth. 7 And I beheld, and, lo, the eagle rose upon her talons, and uttered her voice to her wings, saying, 8 Watch not all at once: sleep every one in his own place, and watch by course: 9 but let the heads be preserved for the last. 10 And I beheld, [k]and, lo, the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her body. 11 And I numbered [2][l]her wings that were over against the other, and, behold, there were eight of them. 12 And I beheld, and, lo, [m]on the right side there arose one wing, and reigned over all the earth; 13 and so it was, that when it reigned, the end of it came, and it appeared not, so that the place thereof appeared no more: and the next following rose up, and reigned, and it bare rule a great time; 14 and it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, so that it appeared no more, like as the first. 15 And, lo, there came a voice unto it, and said, 16 Hear thou that hast borne rule over the earth all this time: this I proclaim unto thee, before thou shalt appear no more, 17 [n]There shall none after thee attain unto thy time, neither unto the half thereof. 18 Then arose the third, and had the rule as the others before, and it also appeared no more. 19 So went it with all the wings one after another, as that every one bare rule, and then appeared no more. 20 And I beheld, and, lo, in process of time the [3]wings that followed were set up [o]upon the [4]right side, that they might rule also; and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more: 21 some also of them were set up, but ruled not. 22 After this I beheld, and, lo, [p]the twelve wings appeared no more, nor [q]two of the little wings: 23 and there was no more left upon the eagle's body, [r]but the three heads that rested, and [q]six little wings. 24 And I beheld, and, lo, [s]two little wings divided themselves from the six, and remained under the head that was upon the right side: but four remained in their place. 25 And I beheld, and, lo, these [3]under wings thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule. 26 And I beheld, and, lo, there was one set up, but within a while it appeared no more. 27 A second also, and it was sooner away than the first. 28 And I beheld, and, lo, the two that remained thought also in themselves to reign: 29 and while they so thought, behold, there awaked [t]one of the heads that were at rest, namely, it that was in the midst; for that was greater than the two other heads. 30 And I beheld how that it joined [u]the two other heads with it. 31 And, behold, the head was turned with them that were with it, and did eat up the two [3]under wings that thought to have reigned. 32 But this head held the whole earth in possession, and bare rule over those that dwell therein [v]with much oppression; and it had the governance of the world more than all the wings that had been. 33 [w]And after this I beheld, and, lo, the head also that was in the midst suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings. 34 But there remained the two heads, [x]which also in like sort reigned over the earth, and over those that dwell therein. 35 [y]And I beheld, and, lo, the head upon the right side devoured it that was upon the left side.

36 Then I heard a voice, which said unto me, Look before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest. 37 And I beheld, and, lo, as it were [z]a lion roused out of the wood roaring: and I heard how that he sent out a man's voice unto the eagle, and spake, saying, 38 Hear thou, I will talk with thee, and the Most High shall say unto thee, 39 Art not thou it that remainest of [a]the four beasts, whom I made to reign in my world, that the end of my times might come through them? 40 And [b]the fourth came, and overcame all the beasts that were past, and held the world in governance with great trembling, and the whole compass of the earth [v]with grievous oppression; and so long time dwelt he upon the earth with deceit. 41 And thou hast judged the earth, but not with truth. 42 For thou hast afflicted the meek, thou hast hurt the peaceable, thou hast hated them that speak truth, thou hast loved liars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and hast cast down the walls of such as did thee no harm. 43 Therefore is thy insolent dealing come up unto the Most High, and thy pride unto the Mighty. 44 The Most High also hath looked upon his times, and, behold, they are ended, and his ages are fulfilled. 45 And therefore appear no more, thou eagle, nor [p]thy horrible wings, nor [l]thy evil little wings, nor [r] thy cruel heads, nor thy hurtful talons, nor all thy vain body: 45 [c] that all the earth may be refreshed, and be eased, being delivered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the judgement and mercy of him that made her.

12 [z] And it came to pass, whiles the lion spake these words unto the eagle, I beheld, [a] and, lo, [d] the head that remained appeared no more, and [1] the [e] two wings which went over unto it arose and set themselves up to reign, and [f] their kingdom was small, and full of uproar. 3 And I beheld, and, lo, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great fear: then awaked I by reason of great ecstasy of mind, and from great fear, and said unto my spirit, 4 Lo, this hast thou done unto me, in that [g] thou searchest out the ways of the Most High. 5 Lo, I am yet weary in my mind, and very weak in my spirit; nor is there the least strength in me, [h] for the great fear wherewith I was affrighted this night. 6 Therefore will I now beseech the Most High, that he will strengthen me unto the end. 7 And I said, [i] O Lord that bearest rule, [j] if I have found favour in thy sight, [k] and if I am justified with thee above many others, and if my prayer indeed be come up before thy face; 8 strengthen me then, and shew me thy servant the interpretation and plain meaning of this fearful vision, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soul. 9 [l] For thou hast judged me worthy to shew me the end of time and the last times.

10 And he said unto me, This is the interpretation of this vision which thou sawest: 11 [m] The eagle, whom thou sawest come up from the sea, is [n] the fourth kingdom [o] which appeared in vision to thy brother Daniel. 12 But it was not expounded unto him, as I now expound it unto thee or have expounded it. 13 Behold, the days come, that there shall rise up a kingdom upon earth, and it shall be feared above all the kingdoms that were before it. 14 In the same shall twelve kings reign, one after another: 15 whereof the second shall begin to reign, and [p] shall have a longer time than any of the twelve. 16 This is the interpretation of the [q] twelve wings, which thou sawest. 17 And whereas [r] thou heardest a voice which spake, not going out from the heads, but from the midst of the body thereof, this is the interpretation: 18 That [2] after the time of that kingdom there shall arise no small contentions, and it shall stand in peril of falling: nevertheless it shall not then fall, but shall be restored again to its first estate. 19 And whereas thou sawest [s] the eight under wings sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation: 20 That in it there shall arise eight kings, whose times shall be but small, and their years swift. 21 And [t] two of them shall perish, when the middle time approacheth: four shall be kept for a while until the time of the ending thereof shall approach: [u] but two shall be kept unto the end. 22 And whereas thou sawest [v] three heads resting, this is the interpretation: 23 [w] In the last days thereof shall the Most High raise up three [3] kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall bear rule over the earth, 24 and over those that dwell therein, [x] with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle. 25 For these are they that shall accomplish her wickedness, and that shall finish her last end. 26 And whereas thou sawest that [y] the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die upon his bed, and yet with pain. 27 But for the two that remained, the sword shall devour them. 28 [z] For the sword of the one shall devour him that was with him: but he also shall fall by the sword in the last days. 29 And whereas thou sawest [a] two under wings passing [4] over unto the head that is on the right side, 30 this is the interpretation: These are they, whom the Most High hath kept unto his end: [b] this is the small kingdom and full of trouble, as thou sawest. 31 [c] And the lion, whom thou sawest rising up out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the eagle, and rebuking her for her unrighteousness, and all her words which thou hast heard; 32 this is [d] the anointed one, whom the Most High hath kept unto the end [5] [of days, who shall spring up out of the seed of David, and he shall come and speak] unto them and [e] reprove them for their wickedness and their unrighteousness, and shall [6] heap up before them their contemptuous dealings. 33 For at the first he shall set them alive in his judgement, and when he hath reproved them, he shall destroy them. 34 For the rest of my people shall he deliver with mercy, those that have been preserved [f] throughout my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the end, even the day of judgement, [g] whereof I have spoken unto thee from the beginning. 35 This is the dream that thou sawest, and this is the interpretation thereof: 36 [h] and thou only hast been meet to know this secret of the Most High. 37 Therefore [i] write all these things that thou hast seen in a book, and put them in a secret place: 38 [j] and thou shalt teach them to the wise of thy people, whose hearts thou knowest are able to comprehend and keep these secrets. 39 But wait thou here thyself yet [h] seven days more, that there may be shewed unto thee whatsoever it pleaseth the Most High to shew thee. And he departed from me.

40 [i] And it came to pass, when all the people [1] saw that the seven days were past, and I not come again into the city, they gathered them all together, from the least unto the greatest, and came unto me, and spake to me, saying, 41 [k] What have we offended thee? and what evil have we done against thee, that thou hast utterly forsaken us, and sittest in this place? 42 For of all [m] the prophets thou only art left us, as [n] a cluster of the vintage, and [o] as a lamp in a dark place, and as a [p] haven for a ship saved from the tempest. 43 Are not the evils which are come to us sufficient? 44 If thou shalt forsake us, [q] how much better had it been for us, if we also had been consumed [r] in the burning of Sion! 45 [s] For we are not better than they that died there. And they wept with a loud voice. And I answered them, and said, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel; and be not sorrowful, thou house of Jacob: 47 for the Most High hath you in remembrance, and the Mighty hath not forgotten you [2] for ever. 48 As for me, I have not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for [t] the desolation of Sion, and that I might seek mercy for [u] the low estate of your sanctuary. 49 And now go your way every man to his own house, and after these days will I come unto you. 50 So the people went their way into the city, like as I said unto them: 51 but I sat in the field seven days, [v] as the angel commanded me; and in those days [w] I did eat only of the flowers of the field, and had my meat of the herbs.

13 1 And it came to pass [x] after seven days, I dreamed a dream by night: [a] and, lo, [y] there arose a wind from the sea, that it moved all the waves thereof. 3 And I beheld, and, lo, [3] [this wind caused [z] to come up from the midst of the sea as it were the likeness of a man, and I beheld, and, lo,] that man [4] flew [a] with the clouds of heaven: and [b] when he turned his countenance to look, all things trembled that were seen under him. 4 And whensoever the voice went out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voice, like as the [5] wax melteth when it feeleth the fire. 5 [c] And after this I beheld, and, lo, there was gathered together a multitude of men, out of number, from the four winds of heaven, to make war against [z] the man that came out of the sea. 6 And I beheld, and, lo, he graved himself [d] a great mountain, and flew up upon it. 7 But I sought to see the region or place whereout the mountain was graven, and I could not. 8 And after this I beheld, and, lo, all they which were gathered together to fight against him were sore afraid, and yet durst fight. 9 And, lo, as he saw the assault of the multitude that came, he neither lifted up his hand, nor held spear, nor any instrument of war: 10 [e] but only I saw how that he sent out of his mouth as it had been a flood of fire, and out of his lips a flaming breath, and out of his tongue he cast forth sparks [6] of the storm. 11 And these were all mingled together; the flood of fire, the flaming breath, and the great storm; and fell upon the assault of the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burned them up every one, so that upon a sudden of an innumerable multitude nothing was to be perceived, but only [f] dust of ashes and smell of smoke: when I saw this I was amazed. 12 Afterward I beheld the same man come down from the mountain, and call unto him [g] another multitude which was peaceable. 13 And there came [7] much people unto him, whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some [h] brought of them that were offered: then through great fear I awaked, and prayed unto the Most High, and said, 14 Thou hast shewed thy servant these wonders from the beginning, [i] and hast counted me worthy that thou shouldest receive my prayer: 15 and now shew me moreover the interpretation of this dream. 16 For as I conceive in mine understanding, woe unto [j] them that shall be left in those days! and much more woe unto them that are not left! 17 for they that were not left shall be in heaviness, 18 understanding the things that are laid up in the latter days, but not attaining unto them. 19 But woe unto [j] them also that are left, for this cause; for they shall see great perils and many necessities, like as these dreams declare. 20 Yet is it [8] better for one to be in peril and to come into [2] these things, than [k] to pass away as a cloud out of the world, and not to see the things that [2] shall happen in the last days.

And he answered unto me, and said, 21 The interpretation of the vision shall I tell thee, and I will also open unto thee the things whereof thou hast made mention. 22 [l] Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation: 23 He that shall [2] endure the peril in that time [m] shall keep them that be fallen into danger, even [n] such as have works, [o] and faith toward the Almighty. 24 Know therefore, that they which be left behind are more blessed than they that be dead. 25 These are the interpretations of the vision: Whereas [p] thou sawest a man coming up from the midst of the sea, 26 the same is he whom the Most High hath kept a great season, which by [q] his own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them that are left behind. 27 And [r] whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came wind, and fire, and storm; 28 and whereas he held neither spear, nor any instrument of war, but destroyed the assault of that multitude which came to fight against him; this is the interpretation: 29 Behold, the days come, when the Most High will begin [s] to deliver them that are upon the earth. 30 [t] And there shall come astonishment of mind upon them that dwell on the earth. 31 [u] And one shall think to war against another, city against city, place against place, people against people, and kingdom against kingdom. 32 And it shall be, when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen [v] which I shewed thee before, then shall [w] my Son be revealed, [p] whom thou sawest as a man ascending. 33 And it shall be, when all the nations hear his voice, every man shall leave his own land and the battle they have one against another. 34 [x] And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as thou sawest, desiring to come, and to fight against him. 35 [y] But he shall stand upon the top of the mount Sion. 36 [z] And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest [a] the mountain [b] graven without hands. 37 And this [w] my Son [c] shall rebuke the nations which are come for their wickedness, with plagues that are like unto [d] a tempest; 38 and shall taunt them to their face with their evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall be tormented, [d] which are likened unto a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law, which is likened unto fire. 39 And whereas thou sawest that he gathered unto him [e] another multitude that was peaceable; 40 these are the ten tribes, which were led away out of their own land in the time of Osea the king, [f] whom Salmanasar the king of the Assyrians led away captive, and he carried them beyond the River, and they were carried into another land. 41 But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt, 42 that they might there keep their statutes, which they had not kept in their own land. 43 And they entered by the narrow passages of [g] the river Euphrates. 44 For the Most High then wrought signs for them, [h] and stayed the springs of the River, till they were passed over. 45 For through that country there was a great way to go, namely, of a year and a half: and the same region is called [1] Arzareth. 46 Then dwelt they there until the latter time; and now when they begin to come again, 47 the Most High [i] stayeth the springs of the River again, that they may go through: therefore sawest thou the multitude gathered together with peace. 48 But those that be left behind of thy people are they that are found [j] within my holy border. 49 It shall be therefore when he shall destroy the multitudes of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend the people that remain. 50 And then shall he shew them very many wonders.

51 Then said I, [k] O Lord that bearest rule, shew me this: wherefore I have seen [l] the man coming up from the midst of the sea. 52 And he said unto me, Like as one can neither seek out nor know what is in the deep of the sea, even so can no man upon earth see [m] my Son, or those that be with him, but [n] in the time of [2] his day. 53 This is the interpretation of the dream which thou sawest, and [o] for this thou only art enlightened herein. 54 [p] For thou hast forsaken thine own ways, and applied thy diligence unto mine, and hast sought out my law. 55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdom, and [q] hast called understanding thy mother. 56 [o] And therefore have I shewed thee this; [r] for there is a reward laid up with the Most High: and it shall be, [s] after other three days I will speak other things unto thee, and declare unto thee mighty and wondrous things. 57 Then went I forth and passed into the field, giving praise and thanks greatly unto the Most High because of his wonders, which he did from time to time; 58 and [t] because he governeth the time, and such things as fall in their seasons. And there I sat [s] three days.

14 1 And it came to pass upon [u] the third day, I sat under an oak, and, behold, there came a voice out of a bush over against me, and said, Esdras, Esdras. 2 And I said, Here am I, Lord. [v] And I stood up upon my feet. 3 Then said he unto me, [w] In the bush I did manifestly reveal myself, and talked with Moses, when my people were in bondage in Egypt: 4 and I sent him, and [2] he led my people out of Egypt; and I brought him up to the mount of Sinai, [x] where I held him by me for many days; 5 and told him many wondrous things, and shewed him the secrets of the times, and the end of the seasons; and commanded him, saying, 6 These words shalt thou publish openly, and these shalt thou hide. 7 And now I say unto thee, 8 Lay up in thy heart the signs that I have shewed, and the dreams that thou hast seen, and the interpretations which thou hast heard: 9 for [y] thou shalt be taken away from men, and from henceforth thou shalt remain with [z] my Son, and with [a] such as be like thee, until the times be ended. 10 [b] For the world hath lost its youth, and the times begin to wax old. 11 [1] For the world is divided into twelve parts, [c] and ten parts of it are gone already, [2] even the half of the tenth part: 12 [2] and there remain of it two parts after the middle of the tenth part. 13 Now therefore [d] set thine house in order, and [e] reprove thy people, comfort the lowly among them, [3] and instruct such of them as be wise, and now renounce the life that is corruptible, 14 and let go from thee mortal thoughts, [f] cast away from thee the burdens of man, put off now thy weak nature, 15 and lay aside the thoughts that are most grievous unto thee, and haste thee to remove from these times. 16 [g] For yet worse evils than those which thou hast seen happen shall be done hereafter. 17 For look, how much the world shall be weaker through age, so much the more shall evils increase upon them that dwell therein. 18 [h] For the truth shall withdraw itself further off, and leasing be hard at hand: for now hasteth [4] the eagle to come, [i] which thou sawest in vision.

19 Then answered I and said, [5] I will speak before thee, O Lord. 20 Behold, I will go, [j] as thou hast commanded me, and reprove the people that now be: but they that shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? for the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light. 22 [k] For thy law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the works that shall be done. 23 [l] But if I have found favour before thee, [m] send the Holy Spirit into me, and I shall write all that hath been done in the world since the beginning, even the things that were written in thy law, that men may be able to find the path, and that they which would live in the latter days may live. 23 And he answered me and said, Go thy way, gather the people together, and say unto them, [n] that they seek thee not for forty days. 24 But look thou prepare thee many tablets, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ethanus, and Asiel, these five, which are [o] ready to write swiftly; 25 and come hither, and I shall light [p] a lamp of understanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be ended which thou shalt write. 26 And when thou hast done, some things shalt thou publish openly, and [q] some things shalt thou deliver in secret to the wise: to-morrow this hour shalt thou begin to write.

27 Then went I forth, as he commanded me, and gathered all the people together, and said, 28 [r] Hear these words, O Israel. 29 [s] Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, and they were delivered from thence, 30 [t] and received the law of life, which they kept not, which ye also have transgressed after them. 31 Then was [6] the land, even the land of Sion, given you for a possession: but ye yourselves, and your fathers, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Most High commanded you. 32 And forasmuch as [u] he is a righteous judge, he took from you for a while the thing that he had given you. 33 And now ye are here, and your brethren are among you. 34 Therefore if so be that ye will rule over your own understanding, and instruct your hearts, ye shall be kept alive, and after death ye shall obtain mercy. 35 For [v] after death shall the judgement come, [w] when we shall live again: and [x] then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and [y] the works of the ungodly shall be declared. 36 Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek after me [z] these forty days. 37 [a] So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went forth into the field, and remained there. 38 And it came to pass on the morrow that, lo, a voice called me, saying, Esdras, [b] open thy mouth, and drink that I give thee to drink. 39 Then opened I my mouth, and, behold, there was reached unto me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire. 40 And I took it, and drank: and when I had drunk of it, my heart uttered understanding, and wisdom grew in my breast, for my spirit retained its memory: 41 [c] and my mouth was opened, and shut no more. 42 The Most High gave understanding unto [a] the five men, and they wrote by course the things that were told them, in [4] characters which they knew not, and they sat forty days: now they wrote in the day-time, and at night they ate bread. 43 As for me, I spake in the day, and by night I held not my tongue. 44 So in [d] forty days were written [7] fourscore and fourteen books. 45 And it came to pass, when [d] the forty days were fulfilled, that the Most High spake unto me, saying, The first that thou hast written publish openly, and let the worthy and unworthy read it: 46 but keep the seventy last, that thou mayest deliver them to such as be wise among thy people: 47 for in them is the spring of understanding, [c] the fountain of wisdom, and [f] the stream of knowledge. 48 And I did so.

15 1 Behold, speak thou in the ears of my people the words of prophecy, [g] which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord: 2 and cause thou them to be written [h] in paper: for [i] they are faithful and true. 3 Fear not their imaginations against thee, let not the unbelief of them that speak against thee trouble thee. 4 [j] For all the unbelievers shall die in their unbelief.

5 Behold, saith the Lord, I bring evils upon the whole earth; [k] sword and famine, and death and destruction. 6 For wickedness hath prevailed over every land, and their hurtful works [l] are come to the full. 7 Therefore saith the Lord, 8 I will hold my peace no more as touching their wickedness, which they profanely commit, neither will I suffer them in these things, which they wickedly practise: behold, [m] the innocent and righteous blood crieth unto me, and the souls of the righteous cry out continually. 9 I will surely avenge them, saith the Lord, and will receive unto me all the innocent blood from among them. 10 Behold, [n] my people is led as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now [o] to dwell in the land of Egypt: 11 but [p] I will bring them out with a mighty hand and with a high arm, and will smite Egypt with plagues, as aforetime, and will destroy all the land thereof. 12 [q] Let Egypt mourn, and the foundations thereof, for the plague of the chastisement and the punishment that God shall bring upon it. 13 Let the husbandmen that till the ground mourn: for their seeds shall fail and their trees shall be laid waste through the blasting and hail, and [r] a terrible star. 14 [s] Woe to the world and them that dwell therein! 15 for the sword and their destruction draweth nigh, and [t] nation shall rise up against nation to battle with weapons in their hands. 16 [u] For there shall be sedition among men; and waxing strong one against another, they shall not regard their king nor the chief of their great ones, in their might. 17 For a man shall desire to go into a city, and shall not be able. 18 For because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be destroyed, and men shall be afraid. 19 [v] A man shall have no pity upon his neighbour, but shall make an assault on their houses with the sword, and spoil their goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation.

20 Behold, saith God, I call together all the kings of the earth, to stir up them that are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; [w] to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things that they have done to them. 21 Like as they do yet this day unto my chosen, so will I do also, and [x] recompense in their bosom. Thus saith the Lord God: 22 My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and [y] my sword shall not cease over them that shed innocent blood upon the earth. 23 [z] And a fire is gone forth from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners, like the straw that is kindled. 24 Woe to them that sin, and keep not my commandments! saith the Lord. 25 I will not spare them: go your way, ye rebellious children, defile not my sanctuary. 26 For the Lord knoweth all them that trespass against him, therefore hath he delivered them unto death and destruction. 27 For now are the evils come upon the whole earth, and ye shall remain in them: for God shall not deliver you, because ye have sinned against him.

28 Behold, a vision horrible, and the appearance thereof from the east! 29 And the nations of the [a] dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and from the day that they set forth the hissing of them is carried over the earth, so that all they which shall hear them may fear also and tremble. 30 Also the Carmonians raging in wrath shall go forth [b] as the wild boars of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and join battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians with their teeth. 31 And then shall the dragons have the upper hand, remembering their [1] nature; and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in great power to persecute them, 32 then these shall be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall turn and flee. 33 And from the land of the Assyrians shall the lier in wait besiege them, and consume one of them, and upon their host shall be fear and trembling, and [c] sedition against their kings. 34 Behold, [d] clouds from the east and from the north unto the south, and they are very horrible to look upon, full of wrath and storm. 35 They shall dash one against another, and they shall pour out a plentiful [2] storm upon the earth, [e] even their own star; and [f] there shall be blood from the sword unto the horse's belly, 36 and to the thigh of man, and to the camel's hough. 37 And there shall be fearfulness and great trembling upon earth: and they that see that wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall take hold upon them.

38 And after this shall there be stirred up [g] great storms from the south, and from the north, and another part from the west. 39 And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall shut it up, even the cloud which he raised in wrath; and [h] the star that was to cause destruction by the east wind shall be violently driven toward the south and west. 40 [i] And great clouds and mighty and full of wrath shall be lifted up, [j] and the star, that they may destroy all the earth, and them that dwell therein; and they shall pour out over every high and eminent one [k] a terrible star, 41 fire, and hail, and flying swords, and many waters, that all plains may be full, and all rivers, with the abundance of those waters. 42 And they shall break down the cities and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the meadows, and their corn. 43 [k] And they shall go on stedfastly unto Babylon, [l] and destroy her. 44 They shall come unto her, and compass her about; the star and all wrath shall they pour out upon her: [m] then shall the dust and smoke go up unto the heaven, [n] and all they that be about her shall bewail her. 45 And they that remain shall do service unto them that have put her in fear.
46 And thou, [o] Asia, that art partaker in [p] the beauty of Babylon, and in the glory of her person: 47 woe unto thee, thou wretch, because thou hast made thyself like unto her; [q] thou hast decked thy daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in thy lovers, which have alway desired thee to commit whoredom withal! 48 Thou hast followed her that is hateful in all her works and inventions: therefore saith God, 49 I will send evils upon thee; [r] widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste thy houses unto destruction and death. 50 And the glory of thy power shall be dried up [s] as a flower, when the heat shall arise that is sent over thee. 51 Thou shalt be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastised with wounds, so that thy mighty ones and thy lovers thou shalt not be able to receive. 52 Would I [t] with jealousy have so proceeded against thee, saith the Lord, 53 if thou hadst not always slain my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine hands, and saying over their [1] dead, [u] when thou wast drunken, 54 [v] Set forth the beauty of thy countenance? 55 [w] The reward of a harlot shall be in thy bosom, therefore shalt thou receive recompense. 56 Like as thou shalt do unto my chosen, saith the Lord, even so shall God do unto thee, and shall deliver thee into mischief. 57 And thy children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall by the sword: and thy cities shall be broken down, and all thine shall perish by the sword in the field. 58 And they that be in the mountains shall die of hunger, and [x] eat their own flesh, and drink their own blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water. 59 Thou unhappy above all shalt come and shalt again receive evils. 60 And in the passage they shall rush on [y] the [2] idle city, and shall destroy some portion of thy land, and mar part of thy glory, and shall return again to Babylon [z] that was destroyed. 61 And thou shalt be cast down by them [a] as stubble, and they shall be unto thee as fire; 62 [a] and shall devour thee, and thy cities, thy land, and thy mountains; all thy woods and thy fruitful trees shall they burn up with fire. 63 They shall carry thy children away captive, and shall spoil thy wealth, and mar the glory of thy face.

16 [1] Woe unto thee, Babylon, and [b] Asia! woe unto thee, [c] Egypt, and Syria! [2] [d] Gird up yourselves with sackcloth and garments [e] of hair, and bewail your children, and lament; for your destruction is at hand. 3 A sword is sent upon you, and who is he that may turn it back? 4 [f] A fire is sent upon you, and who is he that may quench it? 5 Evils are sent upon you, and who is he that may drive them away? 6 May one drive away [g] a hungry lion in the wood? [h] or may one quench the fire in stubble, when it hath once begun to burn? 7 May one turn again [i] the arrow that is shot of a strong archer? 8 The Lord God sendeth the evils, and who shall drive them away? 9 [j] A fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that may quench it? 10 [k] He shall cast lightning, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not tremble? 11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly broken in pieces at his presence? 12 [l] The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof; the sea ariseth up with waves from the deep, and the waves of it shall be troubled, and [m] the fishes thereof also, at the presence of the Lord, [n] and before the glory of his power: 13 for strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrows that he shooteth are [o] sharp, and [p] shall not miss, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world. 14 Behold, the evils are sent forth, and shall not return again, until they come upon the earth. 15 [j] The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth. 16 Like as [i] an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer returneth not backward, even so the evils that are sent forth upon earth shall not return again.

17 Woe is me! woe is me! who will deliver me in those days?

18 [q] The beginning of sorrows, and there shall be great mournings; the beginning of famine, and many shall perish; the beginning of wars, and the powers shall stand in fear; the beginning of evils, and all shall tremble! what shall they do in all this when the evils shall come? 19 Behold, famine and plague, [r] tribulation and anguish! [s] they are sent as scourges for amendment. 20 But for all these things they shall not turn them from their wickedness, nor be alway mindful of the scourges. 21 Behold, victuals shall be so good cheap upon earth, that [t] they shall think themselves to be in good case, and even then shall evils grow upon earth, sword, famine, and great confusion. 22 For many of them that dwell upon earth shall perish of famine; and the other, that escape the famine, shall the sword destroy. 23 And the dead [u] shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be left desolate, and the cities thereof shall be cast down. 24 There shall be no husbandman left to till the earth, and to sow it. 25 The trees shall give fruit, and who shall gather them? 26 The grapes shall ripen, and [v] who shall tread them? for in all places there shall be a great forsaking: 27 for one man shall desire to see another, or to hear his voice. 28 [w] For of a city there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which have hidden themselves in the thick groves, and [x] in the clefts of the rocks. 29 [y] As in an orchard of olives upon every tree there be left three or four olives, 30 or as when a vineyard is gathered there be some clusters left by them that diligently seek through the vineyard; 31 even so in those days there shall be three or four left by them that search their houses with the sword. 32 And the earth shall be left desolate, and the fields thereof shall be for [z] briers, and her ways and all her paths shall bring forth thorns, because no sheep shall pass therethrough. 33 [a] The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms; the women shall mourn, having no husbands; their daughters shall mourn, having no helpers. 34 In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine.

35 Hear now these things, and understand them, ye servants of the Lord. 36 Behold, the word of the Lord, receive it: disbelieve not the things whereof the Lord speaketh. 37 Behold, the evils draw nigh, and are not slack. 38 [b] Like as a woman with child in the ninth month, when the hour of her delivery draweth near, within two or three hours doleful pains compass her womb, and when the child cometh forth from the womb, there shall be no tarrying for a moment: 39 even so shall not the evils be slack to come upon the earth, and the world shall groan, and sorrows shall take hold of it on every side. 40 O my people, hear my word: make you ready to [c] the battle, and in those evils be even [d] as pilgrims upon the earth. 41 [e] He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth away: and he that buyeth, as one that will lose: 42 he that [f] occupieth merchandise, as he that hath no profit by it: and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein: 43 he that soweth, as if he should not reap: so also he that pruneth the vines, as he that shall not gather the grapes: 44 they that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as the widowed. 45 Inasmuch as they that labour labour in vain; 46 [g] for strangers shall reap their fruits, and spoil their goods, overthrow their houses, and take their children captive, for in captivity and famine shall they beget their children: 47 and they that traffick traffick to become a spoil: the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their own persons, 48 the more will I hate them for their sins, saith the Lord. 49 Like as a right honest and virtuous woman hateth a harlot, 50 so shall righteousness hate iniquity, [h] when she decketh herself, and shall accuse her to her face, when he cometh that shall defend him that diligently searcheth out every sin upon earth.

51 Therefore be ye not like thereunto, nor to the works thereof. 52 For [i] yet a little while, and iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousness shall reign over us. 53 [j] Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned: for he shall burn [k] coals of fire upon his head, which saith, I have not sinned before God and his glory. 54 Behold, the Lord knoweth all the works of men, their imaginations, [l] their thoughts, [m] and their hearts. 55 [n] Who said, Let the earth be made; and it was made: Let the heaven be made; and it was made. 56 And at his word were the stars established, and [o] he knoweth the number of the stars. 57 Who searcheth the deep, and the treasures thereof; [p] he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth. 58 [q] Who hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word hath [r] he hanged the earth upon the waters. 59 [s] Who spreadeth out the heaven like a vault; upon the waters hath he founded it. 60 [t] Who hath made in the desert springs of water, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, to send forth rivers from the height to water the earth. 61 [u] Who framed man, and put a heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life, and understanding, 62 yea, the spirit of God Almighty. places, 63 surely he knoweth your imagination, [m] and what ye think in your hearts. [v] Woe to them that sin, and would fain hide their sin! 64 Forasmuch as the Lord will exactly search out all your works, and he will put you all to shame. 65 [w] And when your sins are brought forth before men, ye shall be ashamed, and [x] your own iniquities shall stand as your accusers in that day. 66 What will ye do? or how will ye hide your sins [y] before God and his angels? 67 Behold, God is the judge, fear him: leave off from your sins, and forget your iniquities, to meddle no more with them for ever: so shall God lead you forth, [z] and deliver you from all tribulation.

68 For, behold, the burning wrath of a great multitude is kindled over you, and they shall take away certain of you, and [a] feed you with that which is slain unto idols. 69 And they that consent unto them shall be had in derision and in reproach, and be trodden under foot of them. 70 For there shall be [1] in divers places, and in the next cities, a great insurrection upon those that fear the Lord. 71 They shall be like mad men, sparing none, but spoiling and destroying them that still fear the Lord. 72 For they shall waste and take away their goods, and cast them out of their houses. 73 Then shall be manifest the trial of mine elect; [b] even as the gold that is tried in the fire. 74 Hear, O ye mine elect, saith the Lord: behold, the days of tribulation are at hand, [c] and I will deliver you from them. 75 Be ye not afraid, neither doubt; [d] for God is your guide: 76 and ye who keep my commandments and precepts, saith the Lord God, [e] let not your sins weigh you down, and let not your iniquities lift up themselves. 77 Woe unto them that are fast bound with their sins, and covered with their iniquities, [f] like as a field is fast bound with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thorns, that no man may travel through! 78 [2] It is even shut off, and [g] given up to be consumed of fire.

TOBIT.

I [1] THE book of the words of Tobit, the son of Tobiel, the son of Ananiel, the son of Aduel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Asiel, of the tribe of Naphtali; 2 who in the days of [3] Enemessar king of the Assyrians was carried away captive out of [a] Thisbe, which is on the right hand of [b] Kedesh Naphtali in Galilee above Asher.

3 I Tobit walked in the ways of truth and righteousness all the days of my life, and I did [c] many almsdeeds to my brethren and my nation, who went with me into the land of the Assyrians, to Nineveh. 4 And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, while I was yet young, [d] all the tribe of Naphtali my father fell away from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, and the temple of the habitation of the Most High was hallowed and built therein for all ages. 5 And all the tribes which fell away together [e] sacrificed to [f] the heifer Baal, and so did the house of Naphtali my father. 6 And I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, [g] as it hath been ordained unto all Israel by an everlasting decree, [h] having the firstfruits and the tenths of mine increase, and [i] that which was first shorn; and I gave them at the altar to the priests the sons of Aaron. 7 [j] The tenth part of all mine increase I gave to the sons of Levi, who ministered at Jerusalem: and [k] the second tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it each year at Jerusalem: 8 and [l] the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, as Deborah my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father. 9 And when I became a man, I took to wife [m] Anna of the seed [n] of our own family, and of her I begat Tobias. 10 And when I was carried away captive to Nineveh, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat of [o] the bread of the Gentiles: 11 [p] but I kept myself from eating, 12 because I remembered God with all my soul. 13 And the Most High gave me grace and [4] favour in the sight of [q] Enemessar, and I was his purveyor. 14 [r] And I went into Media, and left in trust with [s] Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, at [t] Rages of Media, ten talents of silver.

15 And when [q] Enemessar was dead, [u] Sennacherib his son reigned in his stead; and [5] in his time the highways were troubled, and I could no more go into Media. 16 And in the days of q Enemessar I did c many almsdeeds to my brethren: v I gave my bread to the hungry, 17 and my garments to the naked: and if I saw any of my race dead, and cast forth [1] on the wall of Nineveh, w I buried him. 18 And if x Sennacherib the king slew any, when he came y fleeing from Judæa, w I buried them privily; for in his wrath he slew many; and the bodies were sought for by the king, and were not found. 19 But one of the Ninevites went and shewed to the king concerning me, how that I buried them, and hid myself; and when I knew that I was sought for to be put to death, I withdrew myself for fear. 20 y And all my goods were forcibly taken away, and there was nothing left unto me, save my wife m Anna and my son Tobias. 21 And there passed not five and fifty days, before z two of his sons slew him, and they fled into the mountains of a Ararat. And [2] Sarchedonus his son reigned in his stead; and he appointed over all the accounts of his kingdom, and over all his affairs, b Achiacharus my brother Anael's son. 22 And b Achiacharus made request for me, and I came to Nineveh. Now b Achiacharus was c cupbearer, and d keeper of the signet, and steward, and overseer of the accounts: and Sarchedonus appointed him e next unto himself: but he was my brother's son.

2 1 Now when I was come home again, and my wife f Anna was restored unto me, and my son Tobias, in the feast of g Pentecost, which is h the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, and I sat down to eat. 2 And I saw abundance of meat, and I said to my son, Go and bring what poor man soever thou shalt find of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord; and, lo, I tarry for thee. 3 And he came, and said, Father, one of our race is strangled, and is cast out in the marketplace. 4 And before I had tasted aught, I sprang up, and took him up into a chamber until the sun was set. 5 And I returned, and washed myself, and ate my bread in heaviness, 6 and remembered the prophecy of Amos, as he said, i Your feasts shall be turned into mourning,

And all your mirth into lamentation.

7 And I wept: and when the sun was set, I went and made a grave, j and buried him. 8 And my neighbours mocked me, and said, He is no longer afraid to be put to death for this matter: and yet k he fled away: and, lo, j he burieth the dead again. 9 And the same night I returned from burying him, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, l being polluted; and my face was uncovered: 10 and I knew not that there were sparrows in the wall; and, mine eyes being open, the sparrows muted warm dung into mine eyes, and white films came in mine eyes; and I went to the physicians, and they helped me not: but m Achiacharus did nourish me, n until I went into o Elymais.

11 And my wife f Anna did spin in the women's chambers, 12 and did send the work back to the owners. And they on their part paid her wages, and gave her also besides a kid. 13 But when it came to my house, it began to cry, and I said unto her, From whence is this kid? is it stolen? render it to the owners; p for it is not lawful to eat anything that is stolen. 14 But she said, It hath been given me for a gift more than the wages. And I did not believe her, and I bade her render it to the owners; and I was abashed at her. But q she answered and said unto me, Where are r thine alms and thy righteous deeds? behold, s thou and all thy works are known.

3 1 And I was grieved and wept, and prayed in sorrow, saying,

2 O Lord, t thou art righteous, and all thy works and u all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou judgest true and righteous judgement for ever. 3 Remember me, and look on me; take not vengeance on me for v my sins and mine ignorances, and the sins of my fathers, which sinned before thee: 4 for they disobeyed thy commandments; and thou gavest us for a spoil, and for captivity, and for death, and for w a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed. 5 And now many are thy judgements, true are they; that thou shouldest deal with me according to my sins and the sins of my fathers: because we did not keep thy commandments, for we walked not in truth before thee. 6 And now deal with me according to that which is pleasing in thy sight, x command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be released, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I w have heard false reproaches, and there is much sorrow in me: command that I be now released from my distress, and go to the everlasting place: turn not thy face away from me.

7 The same day it happened unto y Sarah the daughter of Raguel in z Ecbatana of Media, that she also was reproached by her father's maidservants; 8 because that she had been given to seven husbands, and [3] Asmodæus a the evil [4] spirit slew them, before they had lain with her. And they said unto her, Dost thou not know that thou strangles thy husbands? thou hast had already seven husbands, and thou hast had no profit of any one of them. 9 Wherefore dost thou scourge us? if they be dead, go thy ways with them; let us never see of thee either son or daughter. 10 When she heard these things, she was grieved exceedingly, so that she thought to have hanged herself: and she said, I am the only daughter of my father; if I do this, it shall be a reproach unto him, and [b] I shall bring down his old age with sorrow to [1] the grave. 11 And she prayed [c] by the window, and said, [d] Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and blessed is thy holy and honourable name for ever: [e] let all thy works praise thee for ever. 12 And now, Lord, [f] I have set mine eyes and my face toward thee: 13 command that I be released from the earth, and that I no more hear reproach. 14 Thou knowest, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man, 15 and that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father, in the land of my captivity: I am the only daughter of my father, and he hath no child that shall be his heir, nor brother near him, nor son belonging to him, that I should keep myself for a wife unto him: seven husbands of mine are dead already; why should I live? And if it pleaseth thee not to slay me, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, and that I hear no more reproach.

16 And the prayer of both was heard before the glory of the great God. 17 [g] Raphael also was sent to heal them both, [h] to scale away the white films from Tobit's eyes, and to give Sarah the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the son of Tobit; and to bind [i] Asmodæus [a] the evil [2] spirit; [j] because it belonged to Tobias that he should inherit her. The selfsame time did Tobit return and enter into his house, and Sarah the daughter of Raguel came down from her upper chamber.

4 1 In that day Tobit remembered [k] concerning the money which he had left in trust with Gabael in [l] Rages of Media, 2 and he said in himself, I have asked for death; why do I not call my son Tobias, that I may shew to him of the money before I die? 3 And he called him, and said,

My child, [2] when I die, bury me: and [m] despise not thy mother; [n] honour her all the days of thy life, and do that which is pleasing unto her, and grieve her not. 4 [o] Remember, my child, that she hath seen many dangers for thee, when thou wast in her womb. When she is dead, bury her by me in one grave. 5 My child, [p] be mindful of the Lord our God all thy days, and let not thy will be set to sin and to transgress his commandments: do righteousness all the days of thy life, and follow not the ways of unrighteousness. 6 For if thou doest the truth, thy doings shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all them that do righteousness. 7 [q] Give alms of thy substance; and [r] when thou givest alms, [s] let not thine eye be envious: [t] turn not away thy face from any poor man, and the face of God shall not be turned away from thee. 8 [u] As thy substance is, give alms of it according to thine abundance: if thou have little, be not afraid to give alms according to that little: 9 [v] for thou layest up a good treasure for thyself against the day of necessity: 10 [w] because alms delivereth from death, and suffereth not to come into darkness. 11 Alms is a good gift in the sight of the Most High for all that give it. 12 [x] Beware, my child, of all whoredom, and take first a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and [y] take not a strange wife, which is not of thy father's tribe: for we are the sons of the prophets. Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, our fathers of old time, remember, my child, that they all took wives of their brethren, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land. 13 And now, my child, love thy brethren, and scorn not in thy heart thy brethren, and the sons and the daughters of thy people, to take a wife of them: for in scornfulness is destruction and much trouble, and in naughtiness is decay and great want: for naughtiness is the mother of famine. 14 [z] Let not the wages of any man, which shall work for thee, tarry with thee, but render it unto him out of hand: and if thou serve God, recompense shall be made unto thee. Take heed to thyself, my child, in all thy works, and be discreet in all thy behaviour. 15 [a] And what thou thyself hatest, do to no man. [b] Drink not wine unto drunkenness, and let not drunkenness go with thee on thy way. 16 [c] Give of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked: [d] of all thine abundance give alms; [e] and let not thine eye be envious when thou givest alms. 17 [f] Pour out thy bread on the [4] burial of the just, [g] and give nothing to sinners. 18 [h] Ask counsel of every man that is wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable. 19 And bless the Lord thy God at all times, and ask of him that thy ways may be made straight, and that all thy paths and counsels may prosper: for every nation hath not counsel; but [i] the Lord himself giveth all good things, and he humbleth whom he will, as he will. And now, my child, remember my commandments, and let them not be blotted out of thy mind. 20 And now I shew thee of the ten talents of silver, which I left in trust with [j] Gabael the son of Gabrias at [k] Rages of Media. 21 And fear not, my child, because [l] we are made poor: [m] thou hast much wealth, if thou fear

God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

5 1 And Tobias answered and said unto him, Father, I will do all things, whatsoever thou hast commanded me: 2 but how shall I be able to receive the money, seeing I know him not? 3 And he gave him [m] the handwriting, and said unto him, Seek thee a man which shall go with thee, and I will give him wages, whiles I yet live: and go and receive the money. 4 And he went to seek a man, and found [n] Raphael which was an angel; 5 and he knew it not; and he said unto him, Can I go with thee to [o] Rages of Media? and knowest thou the places well? 6 And the angel said unto him, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: and I have lodged with our brother Gabael. 7 And Tobias said unto him, Wait for me, and I will tell my father. 8 And he said unto him, Go, and tarry not. And he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. But he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with thee.

9 And he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another. 10 And Tobit said unto him, Brother, of what tribe and of what family art thou? Shew me. 11 And he said unto him, Seekest thou a tribe and a family, or a hired man which shall go with thy son? And Tobit said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and thy name. 12 And he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, of thy brethren. 13 And he said unto him, [p] Welcome, brother; and be not angry with me, because I sought to know thy tribe and family: and thou art my brother, [q] of an honest and good lineage: for I knew Ananias and Jathan, the sons of Shemaiah the great, [r] when we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the firstborn, and the tenths of our increase; and they went not astray [s] in the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a great stock. 14 But tell me, [t] what wages shall I give thee? a drachma a day, and those things that be necessary for thee, as unto my son? 15 And moreover, if ye return safe and sound, I will add something to thy wages. 16 And so they consented. And he said to Tobias, Prepare thyself for the journey, and God prosper you. And his son prepared what was needful for the journey, and his father said unto him, Go thou with this man; but God, which dwelleth in heaven, shall prosper your journey; and [u] may his angel go with you. And they both went forth to depart, and the young man's [v] dog with them.

17 But [w] Anna his mother [x] wept, and said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our child? is he not the staff of our hand, [y] in going in and out before us? 18 Be not greedy to add money to money: but let it be as refuse in respect of our child. 19 For as the Lord hath given us to live, so doth it suffice us. 20 And Tobit said to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return safe and sound, and thine eyes shall see him. 21 For [z] a good angel shall go with him, and his journey shall be prospered, and he shall return safe and sound. 22 And she made an end of weeping.

6 1 Now as they went on their journey, they came at eventide to the river [a] Tigris, and they lodged there. 2 But the young man went down to wash himself, and a fish leaped out of the river, and would have swallowed up the young man. 3 But the angel said unto him, Take hold on the fish. And the young man caught hold of the fish, and cast it up on the land. 4 And the angel said unto him, Cut the fish open, and take the heart and the liver and the gall, and put them up safely. 5 And the young man did as the angel commanded him; but they roasted the fish, and ate it. And they both went on their way, till they drew near to [b] Ecbatana. 6 And the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the gall of the fish? 7 And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a [1] devil or an evil spirit trouble any, [c] we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed. 8 But as for the gall, [d] it is good to anoint a man that hath white films in his eyes, and he shall be healed.

9 But when they drew nigh unto [e] Rages, 10 the angel said to the young man, Brother, to-day we shall lodge with [f] Raguel, and he is thy kinsman; and he hath an only daughter, [g] named Sarah. I will speak for her, that she should be given thee for a wife. 11 [h] For to thee doth the inheritance of her appertain, and thou only art of her kindred: 12 and the maid is fair and wise. And now hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from [i] Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that [k] Raguel may in no wise marry her to another [l] according to the law of Moses, or else [m] he shall be liable to death, [n] because it appertaineth unto thee to take the inheritance, rather than any other. 13 Then the young man said unto the angel, Brother Azarias, I have heard that this maid hath been given to seven men, [o] and that they all perished in the bride-chamber. 14 And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest I go in and die, even as those before me: for a [1]devil loveth her, which hurteth no man, but those which come unto her: and now I fear lest I die, and [k]bring my father's and my mother's life to the grave with sorrow because of me: and they have no other son to bury them. 15 But the angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the words which thy father commanded thee, [l]that thou shouldest take a wife of thine own kindred? and now hear me, brother; for she shall be thy wife; and make thou no reckoning of the devil; for this night shall she be given thee to wife. 16 And [2]when thou shalt come into the bride-chamber, thou shalt take the ashes of incense, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, [b]and shalt make a smoke therewith: 17 and the devil [m]shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more. But when thou goest nigh unto her, rise up both of you, and cry to God which is merciful, and he shall save you, and have mercy on you. Fear not, for she was prepared for thee from the beginning; and thou shalt save her, and she shall go with thee. And I suppose that thou shalt have children of her. And when Tobias heard these things, he loved her, and his soul clave to her exceedingly.

7 1 And they came to [n]Ecbatana, and arrived at the house of [n]Raguel. But Sarah met them; and she saluted them, and they her; and she brought them into the house. 2 And he said to Edna his wife, [o]How like is the young man to Tobit my cousin. 3 And Raguel asked them, From whence are ye, brethren? And they said unto him, We are of [p]the sons of Naphtali, which are captives in Nineveh. 4 And he said unto them, Know ye Tobit our brother? But they said, We know him. And he said unto them, [q]Is he in good health? 5 But they said, He is both alive, and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father. 6 And [n]Raguel sprang up, and kissed him, and wept, 7 and blessed him, and said unto him, [r]Thou art the son of an honest and good man. And when he had heard that Tobit had lost his sight, he was grieved, and wept; 8 and Edna his wife and Sarah his daughter wept. And they received them gladly; and they killed a ram of the flock, and set store of meat before them.

But Tobias said to [s]Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let the matter be finished. 9 And he communicated the thing to [n]Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry: 10 [t]for it appertaineth unto thee to take my child. Howbeit I will shew thee the truth. 11 I have given my child to seven men, and whensoever they came in unto her, they died in the night. But for the present be merry. And Tobias said, [u]I will taste nothing here, until ye make covenant and enter into covenant with me. 12 And Raguel said, Take her to thyself from henceforth according to the manner: thou art her brother, and she is thine: but the merciful God shall give all good success to you. 13 And he called his daughter Sarah, and took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, and said, Behold, take her to thyself [v]after the law of Moses, and [w]lead her away to thy father. And he blessed them; 14 and he called Edna his wife, and took a book, and wrote an instrument, and sealed it. 15 And they began to eat.

16 And Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare the other chamber, and bring her in thither. 17 And she did as he bade her, and brought her in thither: and she wept, and she received the tears of her daughter, and said unto her, 18 Be of good comfort, my child; the Lord of heaven and earth give thee [3]favour for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

8 1 And when they had finished their supper, they brought Tobias in unto her. 2 But as he went, he remembered [x]the words of [y]Raphael, and took the ashes of the incense, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoke therewith. 3 But when [z]the [4]devil smelled the smell, he fled into the uppermost parts of Egypt, and the angel [a]bound him. 4 But after they were both shut in together, Tobias rose up from the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that the Lord may have mercy on us. 5 And Tobias began to say, [b]Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy creatures. 6 [c]Thou madest Adam, [d]and gavest him Eve his wife [e]for a helper and a stay: of them came the seed of men: thou didst say, It is not good that the man should be alone; let us make him a helper like unto him. 7 And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but in truth: command that I may find mercy and grow old with her. 8 And she said with him, Amen. 9 And they slept both that night.

And [f]Raguel arose, and went and digged a grave, 10 saying, Lest he also should die. 11 And Raguel came into his house, 12 and said to Edna his wife,

Send one of the maidservants, and let them see whether he be alive: but if not, [g] that we may bury him, and no man know it. 13 So the maidservant opened the door, and went in, and found them both sleeping, 14 and came forth, and told them that he was alive. 15 And Raguel blessed God, saying,

[h] Blessed art thou, O God, with all pure and holy blessing; and [i] let thy saints bless thee, and all thy creatures; and let [k] all thine angels and thine elect bless thee for ever. 16 Blessed art thou, because thou hast made me glad; and it hath not befallen me as I suspected; but thou hast dealt with us according to thy great mercy. 17 Blessed art thou, because thou hast had mercy on two that were the only begotten children of their parents: shew them mercy, O Lord; accomplish their life in health with gladness and mercy.

18 But he commanded his servants to fill the grave. 19 And he kept [l] the wedding feast for them [m] fourteen days. 20 And before the days of [l] the wedding feast were finished, Raguel sware unto him, that he should not depart till [m] the fourteen days of the wedding feast were fulfilled; 21 and that then he should take [n] the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and the rest, said he, [o] when I and my wife shall die.

9 1 And Tobias called [p] Raphael, and said unto him, 2 Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant, and two camels, and go to [q] Rages of Media to Gabael, and receive [r] the money for me, and bring him to the wedding feast: 3 because Raguel hath sworn that I shall not depart; 4 and my father [s] counteth the days; and if I tarry long, he will be sorely grieved. 5 And [p] Raphael went on his way, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him [r] the handwriting: but he brought forth the bags with their seals, and gave them to him. 6 And they rose up early in the morning together, and came to the wedding feast: and Tobias blessed his wife.

10 1 And Tobit his father made [s] his count every day: and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came not, 2 he said, [1] Is he perchance detained? or is Gabael perchance dead, and there is no man to give him the money? 3 And he was sorely grieved. 4 But his wife said unto him, The child hath perished, seeing he tarrieth long; and she began to bewail him, and said, 5 [2] I care for nothing, my child, since I have let thee go, [t] the light of mine eyes. 6 And Tobit saith unto her, Hold thy peace, take no care; he is in good health. 7 And she said unto him, Hold thy peace, deceive me not; my child hath perished. And she went out every day into the way by which they went, and did eat no bread in the day-time, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until [u] the fourteen days of the wedding feast were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there.

But Tobias said unto Raguel, Send me away, for my father and my mother look no more to see me. 8 But his father in law said unto him, Abide with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee. 9 And Tobias saith, No; but send me away to my father. 10 But Raguel arose, and gave him Sarah his wife, and [v] half his goods, servants and cattle and money; 11 and he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, [w] The God of heaven shall prosper you, my children, before I die. 12 And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law; they are now thy parents; let me hear a good report of thee. And he kissed her. And Edna said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, dear brother, and grant to me that I may see thy children of my daughter Sarah, that I may rejoice before the Lord: and, behold, I commit my daughter unto thee in special trust: vex her not.

11 1 After these things Tobias also went his way, blessing God because he had prospered his journey; and he blessed Raguel and Edna his wife. And he went on his way till they drew near unto Nineveh. 2 And [x] Raphael said to Tobias, Knowest thou not, brother, how thou didst leave thy father? 3 Let us run forward before thy wife, and prepare the house. 4 But take in thy hand [y] the gall of the fish. And they went their way, and [z] the dog went after them. 5 And Anna sat looking about toward the way for her son. 6 And she espied him coming, and said to his father, Behold, thy son cometh, and the man that went with him. 7 And [x] Raphael said, I know, Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes. 8 Do thou therefore anoint his eyes with [y] the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and shall make the white films to fall away, and he shall see thee.

9 And Anna ran unto him, and [a] fell upon the neck of her son, and said unto him, I have seen thee, my child; [b] from henceforth I will die. And they wept both. 10 And Tobit went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his son ran unto him, 11 and took hold of his father: and he strake the gall on his father's eyes, saying, Be of good cheer, my father. 12 But when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them; 13 [c] and the white films scaled away from the corners of his eyes; and he saw his son, and fell upon his neck. 14 And he wept, and said, [d] Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever, and blessed are all thy holy angels; 15 [e] for thou didst scourge, and didst have mercy on me: behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

16 And Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law at the gate of Nineveh, rejoicing, and blessing God: and they which saw him go marvelled, because he had received his sight. 17 And Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had shewed mercy on him. And when Tobit came near to Sarah his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, [f] Welcome, daughter: blessed is God which hath brought thee unto us, and blessed are thy father and thy mother. And there was joy to all his brethren which were at Nineveh. 18 And [g] Achiacharus, and Nasbas his brother's son, came: 19 and Tobias' wedding feast was kept [h] seven days with great gladness.

12 1 And Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, See, my child, that the man which went with thee have [i] his wages, and thou must give him more. 2 And he said unto him, Father, it is no harm to me to give him the half of [j] those things which I have brought: 3 for he hath led me for thee in safety, and he cured my wife, and brought my money, and likewise cured thee. 4 And the old man said, It is due unto him. 5 And he called the angel, and said unto him, Take the half of all that ye have brought. 6 Then he called them both privily, and said unto them, Bless God, and give him thanks, and magnify him, and give him thanks in the sight of all that live, for the things which he hath done with you. [k] It is good to bless God and exalt his name, shewing forth with honour the works of God; and be not slack to give him thanks. 7 [l] It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. [m] Do good, and evil shall not find you. 8 [n] Good is prayer with fasting and alms and righteousness. [o] A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. [p] It is better to give alms than to lay up gold: 9 [q] alms doth deliver from death, and it shall purge away all sin. They that do alms and righteousness shall be filled with life; 10 but [r] they that sin are enemies to their own life. 11 Surely I will keep close nothing from you. I have said, [s] It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. 12 And now, [t] when thou didst pray, and [u] Sarah thy daughter in law, I did bring [v] the memorial of your prayer before the Holy One: and [w] when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise. 13 [x] And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner, that thou mightest go [y] and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but I was with thee. 14 And now God did send me to heal thee and Sarah thy daughter in law. 15 I am [z] Raphael, one of the [a] seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and go in before the glory of the Holy One.

16 And they were both troubled, and [b] fell upon their faces; for they were afraid. 17 And he said unto them, Be not afraid, ye shall have peace; but bless God for ever. 18 For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of your God I came; wherefore bless him for ever. 19 All these days did I appear unto you; and I did neither eat nor drink, but ye saw a vision. 20 And now give God thanks: because [c] I ascend to him that sent me: and write in a book all the things which have been done. 21 And they rose up, and saw him no more. 22 And they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

13 1 And Tobit wrote a prayer for rejoicing, and said,

Blessed is God that liveth for ever,
And blessed is his kingdom.
2 [d] For he scourgeth, and sheweth mercy:
He leadeth down to [1] the grave, and bringeth up again:
And there is none that shall escape his hand.
3 Give thanks unto him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel:
[e] For he hath scattered us among them.
4 There declare his greatness,
And extol him before all the living:
Because he is our Lord,
And God is our Father for ever.
5 [d] And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will again shew mercy,
[f] And will gather us out of all the nations among whom ye are scattered.
6 If ye turn to him with your whole heart and with your whole soul,
To do truth before him,
Then will he turn unto you,
And will not hide his face from you.
And see what he will do with you,
And give him thanks with your whole mouth,
And bless the Lord of righteousness,
And exalt [g] the everlasting King.
I [c] in the land of my captivity give him thanks,
And shew his strength and majesty to a nation of sinners.

Turn, ye sinners, and do righteousness before him:
[h] Who can tell if he will accept you and have mercy on you?
7 I exalt my God,
And my soul doth exalt [i] the King of heaven,
And it shall rejoice in his greatness.
8 Let all men speak, and let them give him thanks [j] in Jerusalem.
9 O Jerusalem, [k] the holy city,
He will scourge thee for the works of thy sons,
And will again have mercy [l] on the sons of the righteous.
10 Give thanks to the Lord with goodness,
And bless [g] the everlasting King,
That his tabernacle may be builded in thee again with joy,
And that he may make glad in thee those that are captives,
And love in thee for ever those that are miserable.
11 [m] Many nations shall come from far to the name of the Lord God
[n] With gifts in their hands, even gifts to [i] the King of heaven;
Generations of generations shall praise thee,
And sing songs of rejoicing.
12 [o] Cursed are all they that hate thee;
[p] Blessed shall be all they that love thee for ever.
13 Rejoice and be exceeding glad for [q] the sons of the righteous:
For they shall be gathered together and shall bless the Lord of the righteous.
14 O [p] blessed are they that love thee;
They shall rejoice for thy peace:
[r] Blessed are all they that sorrowed for all thy scourges:
Because they shall rejoice for thee,
When they have seen all thy glory;
And they shall be made glad for ever.
15 Let my soul bless God [s] the great King.
16 [t] For Jerusalem shall be builded with sapphires and emeralds and precious stones;
Thy walls and towers and battlements with pure gold.
17 And the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beryl and carbuncle and stones of [u] Ophir.
18 [v] And all her streets shall say, Hallelujah, and give praise,
Saying, Blessed is God, which hath exalted thee for ever.

14 [x] And Tobit made an end of giving thanks. 2 And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight; and after eight years he received it again: and he gave alms, and he feared the Lord God more and more, and gave thanks unto him.
3 Now he grew very old; and he called his son, and the six sons of his son, and said unto him,

My child, take thy sons: behold, I am grown old, and am ready to depart out of this life. 4 [w] Go into Media, my child, for I surely believe all the things which [x] Jonah the prophet spake of Nineveh, that it shall be overthrown, but in Media there shall rather be peace for a season; and [y] that our brethren shall be scattered in the earth from the good land; and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned up, and shall be desolate for a time; 5 and God shall again have mercy on them, and bring them back into the land, [z] and they shall build the house, but [a] not like to the former house, until the times of that age be fulfilled; and [b] afterward they shall return from the places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem with honour, and the house of God shall be built in it for ever with a glorious building, even as the prophets spake concerning it. 6 And [c] all the nations shall turn to fear the Lord God truly, [d] and shall bury their idols. 7 And all the nations shall bless the Lord, and his people shall give thanks unto God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all they that love the Lord God in truth and righteousness shall rejoice, shewing mercy to our brethren. 8 And now, my child, depart from Nineveh, because those things which [x] the prophet Jonah spake shall surely come to pass. 9 But keep thou the law and the ordinances, and shew thyself merciful and righteous, [e] that it may be well with thee. 10 [f] And bury me decently, and thy mother with me; and dwell ye no longer at Nineveh. See, my child, what Aman did to [g] Achiacharus that nourished him, how [h] out of light he brought him into darkness, and all the recompense that he made him: and [g] Achiacharus was saved, but the other had his recompense, and he went down into darkness. [i] Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snare of death which he set for him: but Aman fell into the snare, and perished. 11 And now, my children, [i] consider what alms doeth, and how righteousness doth deliver.
And while he was saying these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed; but he was a hundred and eight and fifty years old; and [j] he buried him magnificently. 12 And when Anna died, [j] he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and his sons to [k] Ecbatana unto Raguel his father in law, 13 and he grew old in honour, and he buried his father and mother in law magnificently, and he inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's. 14 And he died at [k] Ecbatana of Media, being a hundred and seven and twenty years old. 15 And before he died he heard of [l] the destruction of Nineveh, [m] which Nebuchadnezzar and Ahasuerus took captive; and before his death he rejoiced over Nineveh.

JUDITH.

1 In the twelfth year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, [a] who reigned over the Assyrians in Nineveh, [b] the great city; in the days of [c] Arphaxad, who reigned over [d] the Medes in [e] Ecbatana, 2 and built at [e] Ecbatana and round about it walls of hewn stones three cubits broad and six cubits long, and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits; 3 and set the towers thereof at the gates thereof, a hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation threescore cubits; 4 and made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty hosts, and the setting in array of his footmen: 5 even in those days king Nebuchadnezzar made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain; this plain is in the borders of [f] Ragau. 6 And there came to meet him all that dwelt in the hill country, and all that dwelt by Euphrates, and [g] Tigris, and Hydaspes, and in the plain of Arioch the king of the [h] Elymæans; and many nations of the sons of Chelod assembled themselves to the battle.

7 And Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians sent unto all [i] that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt westward, to those that dwelt in [j] Cilicia and [k] Damascus and [l] Libanus and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt over against the sea coast, 8 and to those among the nations that were of [m] Carmel and [n] Gilead, and to the higher [o] Galilee and the great plain of [p] Esdraelon, 9 and to all that were in [q] Samaria and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalem, and Betane, and [r] Chellus, and [s] Kadesh, and [t] the river of Egypt, and [u] Tahpanhes, and [v] Rameses, and all [w] the land of Goshen, 10 until thou comest above Tanis and [x] Memphis, and to all that dwelt in Egypt, until thou comest to the borders of Ethiopia. 11 And all they that dwelt in all the land [y] made light of the commandment of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, and went not with him to the war; for they were not afraid of him, but he was before them as one man; and they turned away his messengers from their presence without effect, and with disgrace.

12 And Nebuchadnezzar was exceeding wroth with all this land, and he sware by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all the coasts of [j] Cilicia and [k] Damascus and Syria, that he would slay with his sword all the inhabitants of the land of [z] Moab, and the children of [a] Ammon, and all Judæa, and all that were in Egypt, until thou comest to the borders of [b] the two seas. 13 And he set the battle in array with his host against king [c] Arphaxad in the seventeenth year; and he prevailed in his battle, and turned to flight all the host of [c] Arphaxad, and all his horse, and all his chariots; 14 and he became master of his cities, and he came even unto [d] Ecbatana, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and [e] turned the beauty thereof into shame. 15 And he took [c] Arphaxad in the mountains of [f] Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly, unto this day. 16 And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and [g] all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host, a hundred and twenty days.

2 1 And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, that he should be avenged on all the land, [h] even as he spake. 2 And he called together all his servants, and all his great men, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and [i] concluded the afflicting of all the land out of his own mouth. 3 And they decreed to destroy all flesh [j] which followed not the word of his mouth. 4 And it came to pass, when he had ended his counsel, Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians called Holofernes the chief captain of his host, [k] which was next after himself, and said unto him,

5 Thus saith [l] the great king, [m] the lord of all the earth, Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their strength, unto [n] a hundred and twenty thousand footmen; and the number of horses with their riders twelve thousand: 6 and thou shalt go forth against all the west country, [j] because they disobeyed the commandment of my mouth. 7 And thou shalt declare unto them, that they prepare earth and water; because I will go forth in my wrath against them, and [o] will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of my host, and I will give them for a spoil unto them: 8 [p] and their slain shall fill their valleys and brooks, and the river shall be filled with their dead, till it overflow: 9 and I will lead them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth. 10 But thou shalt go forth, and take beforehand for me all their coasts; and [1] if they shall yield themselves unto thee, then shalt thou reserve them for me till the day of their reproof. 11 But as for them that are disobedient, [q] thine eye shall not spare; but thou shalt give them up to be slain and to be spoiled in all thy land. 12 For [r] as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, I have spoken, and I will do this with my hand. 13 And thou, moreover, shalt not transgress aught of the commandments of thy lord, but thou shalt surely accomplish them, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt not defer to do them.

14 And Holofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the governors and the captains and officers of the host of Asshur; 15 and he numbered chosen men for the battle, [s] as his lord had commanded him, unto a hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horseback; 16 and he ranged them, as a great multitude is ordered for the war. 17 And he took camels and asses and mules for their [t] baggage, an exceeding great multitude; and sheep and oxen and goats without number for their provision; 18 and great store of victual for every man, and exceeding much gold and silver out of the king's house. 19 And he went forth, he and all his host, on their journey, to go before king Nebuchadnezzar, and [o] to cover all the face of the earth westward with their chariots and horsemen and chosen footmen. 20 [u] And a great company of sundry nations went forth with them [v] like locusts, and [w] like the sand of the earth: for they could not be numbered by reason of their multitude.

21 And they departed out of Nineveh three days' journey toward the plain of Bectileth, and encamped from Bectileth near the mountain which is at the left hand of the upper [x] Cilicia. 22 And he took all his host, his footmen and horsemen and chariots, and went away from thence into the hill country, 23 and destroyed [y] Put and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rasses, and the children of Ishmael, [z] which were over against the wilderness to the south of the land of the [a] Chellians. 24 And he went over Euphrates, and went through [b] Mesopotamia, and brake down all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, until thou comest to the sea. 25 And he took possession of the borders of [x] Cilicia, and slew all that resisted him, and came unto [c] the borders of Japheth, which were toward the south, over against Arabia. 26 And he compassed about all the children of [d] Midian, and set on fire their tents, and spoiled their sheepcotes. 27 And he went down into the plain of Damascus [e] in the days of wheat harvest, and set on fire all their fields, and utterly destroyed their flocks and herds, and spoiled their cities, and laid their plains waste, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

28 And the fear and the dread of him fell upon them that dwelt on [f] the sea coast, upon them that were in Sidon and Tyre, and them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Jemnaan; and they that dwelt in [g] Azotus and [h] Ascalon feared him exceedingly.

3 1 And they sent unto him messengers with words of peace, saying, 2 Behold, we the servants of Nebuchadnezzar [i] the great king lie before thee: use us as it is pleasing in thy sight. 3 Behold, our dwellings, and all our country, [e] and all our fields of wheat, and our flocks and herds, and all the sheepcotes of our tents, lie before thy face: use them as it may please thee. 4 Behold, even our cities and they that dwell in them are thy servants: [j] come and deal with them as it is good in thine eyes. 5 And the men came to Holofernes, and declared unto him according to these words.

6 And he came down toward [k] the sea coast, he and his host, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for allies. 7 And they received him, they and all the country round about them, [l] with garlands and dances [m] and timbrels. 8 And he cast down all their borders, and cut down their groves: and it had been given unto him to destroy all the gods of the land, [n] that all the nations should worship Nebuchadnezzar only, and that all their tongues and their tribes should call upon him as god. 9 And he came towards [o] Esdraelon nigh unto Dotæa, which is over against the great ridge of Judæa. 10 And he encamped between [p] Geba and [q] Scythopolis, and he was there a whole month, that he might gather together all [r] the baggage of his host.

4 1 And the children of Israel [s] that dwelt in Judæa heard all that Holofernes the chief captain of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and destroyed them utterly. 2 And they were exceedingly afraid before him, and were troubled for Jerusalem, and for the temple of the Lord their God: 3 [t] because they were newly come up from the captivity, and all the people of Judæa were lately gathered together; and the vessels, and the altar, and the house, were sanctified after the profanation.

4 And they sent into every coast of [u] Samaria, and to Konæ, and to [v] Bethhoron, and Belmaim, and Jericho, and to [w] Chobai, and Æsora, and to the valley of Salem; 5 [x] and they possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victual for the provision of war: [y] for their fields were newly reaped. 6 And [z] Joakim the high priest, which was in those days at Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in [a] Bethulia, and [b] Betomesthaim, which is over against [c] Esdraelon toward the plain that is nigh unto [d] Dothaim, 7 charging them to seize upon [e] the ascents of the hill country; because by them was the entrance into Judæa, and it was easy to stop them from approaching, inasmuch as the approach was narrow, with space for two men at the most. 8 And the children of Israel did as [z] Joakim the high priest had commanded them, and [f] the senate of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

9 And every man of Israel cried to God with great earnestness, and with great earnestness did they humble their souls. 10 They, and their wives, and [g] their babes, and [h] their cattle, and every sojourner and hireling and servant bought with their money, [i] put sackcloth upon their loins. 11 And every man and woman of Israel, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, [j] fell before the temple, and [k] cast ashes upon their heads, and [l] spread out their sackcloth before the Lord; and they put sackcloth about the altar: 12 and they cried to the God of Israel earnestly with one consent, that he would not give their babes for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, for the nations to rejoice at. 13 And the Lord heard their voice, and [m] looked upon their affliction: and the people continued fasting many days in all Judæa and Jerusalem [n] before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty. 14 And [z] Joakim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they that ministered unto the Lord, [i] had their loins girt about with sackcloth, and offered [o] the continual burnt offering, and the vows and the free gifts of the people; 15 and [k] they had ashes on their [p] mitres: and they cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel for good.

5 1 And it was told Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, that the children of Israel had prepared for war, [q] and had shut up the passages of the hill country, and [r] had fortified all the tops of the high hills, and had laid impediments in the plains: 2 and he was exceeding wroth, and he called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of [s] Ammon, and all the governors of [t] the sea coast, 3 and he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Canaan, who is this people, that dwelleth in the hill country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their host, and wherein is their power and their strength, and what king is set over them, to be the leader of their army; 4 and why have they turned their backs, that they should not come and meet me, more than all that dwell in the west.

5 And [u] Achior, the leader of all the children of Ammon, said unto him,

Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will tell thee the truth concerning this people, which dwelleth in this hill country, nigh unto the place where thou dwellest: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy servant. 6 This people are descended [v] of the Chaldeans: 7 and they sojourned heretofore in [w] Mesopotamia, [x] because they were not minded to follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land [v] of the Chaldeans. 8 And they departed from the way of their parents, and worshipped [y] the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: and they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into [w] Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days. 9 [z] And their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Canaan: and they dwelt there, and [a] were increased with gold and silver, and with exceeding much cattle. 10 [b] And they went down into Egypt, [c] for a famine covered all the land of Canaan; and there they sojourned, until they were grown up; [d] and they became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation. 11 [e] And the king of Egypt rose up against them, and [f] dealt subtilly with them, [1] and brought them low, [g] making them to labour in brick, and made them slaves. 12 [h] And [k] they cried unto their God, and [i] he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: [j] and the Egyptians cast them out of their sight. 13 [k] And God dried up the Red sea before them, 14 and [l] brought them into the way of Sinai, and [m] Kadesh-Barnea, and they cast out all that dwelt in the wilderness. 15 [n] And they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Heshbon, and [o] passing over Jordan [p] they possessed all the hill country. 16 [q] And they cast out before them the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Shechemite, and all the Girgashites, and they dwelt in that country many days. 17 And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because God that hateth iniquity was with them. 18 [r] But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and [s] were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by their adversaries. 19 And now they are returned to their God, and are [t] come up from [u] the dispersion where they were dispersed, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill country: for it was desolate. 20 And now, my lord and master, if there is any error in this people, and they sin against their God, we will consider what this thing is wherein they stumble, and we will go up and overcome them. 21 [v] But if there is no lawlessness in their nation, let my lord now pass by, [w] lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we shall be a reproach before all the earth.

22 And it came to pass, when [x] Achior had finished speaking these words, all the people that compassed the tent and stood round about it murmured; and the great men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt [y] by the sea side, and in [z] Moab, spake that he should kill him. 23 For, said they, we will not be afraid of the children of Israel: [a] for, lo, it is a people that hath no power nor might to make the battle strong. 24 Wherefore now we will go up, and [b] they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thine army, lord Holofernes.

6 1 And when the tumult of the men that were about the council was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain of the host of Asshur said unto [c] Achior and to all the children of [1] [s] Moab before all the people of the aliens,

2 And who art thou, [c] Achior, and [d] the hirelings of [1] Ephraim, that thou hast prophesied among us as to-day, and hast said, that we should not make war with the race of Israel, [e] because their God will defend them? [f] And who is God but Nebuchadnezzar? 3 He shall send forth his might, and shall destroy them from the face of the earth, and [g] their God shall not deliver them: but we his servants shall smite them [h] as one man; and they shall not sustain [i] the might of our horses. 4 For with them we shall burn them up, and their mountains [j] shall be drunken with their blood, and their plains [k] shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not stand before us, but they shall surely perish, saith king Nebuchadnezzar, [l] lord of all the earth: for he said, The words that [2] I have spoken shall not be in vain. 5 But thou, [c] Achior, [m] hireling of Ammon, which hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, until I shall be avenged of the race of those that came out of Egypt. 6 And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, [n] when I shall return. 7 And my servants shall bring thee back into the hill country, and shall set thee in one of the cities [o] of the ascents: 8 and thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them. 9 And if thou hopest in thy heart that they shall not be taken, let not [p] thy countenance fall. I have spoken it, and none of my words [q] shall fall to the ground.

10 And Holofernes commanded his servants, that waited in his tent, to take [c] Achior, and bring him back to [r] Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Israel. 11 And his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they removed from the midst of the plain country into the hill country, and came unto [s] the fountains that were under [r] Bethulia. 12 And when the men of the city saw them on the top of the hill, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city against them to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling kept them from coming up, and cast stones against them. 13 And they gat them privily under the hill, and bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and went away unto their lord. 14 But the children of Israel descended from their city, and came upon him, and loosed him, and led him away into [r] Bethulia, and presented him to the rulers of their city; 15 [t] which were in those days [u] Ozias the son of Micah, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothoniel, and Charmis the son of Melchiel. 16 And they called together all [v] the elders of the city; and all their young men ran together, and their women, to the assembly; and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. And Ozias asked him of that which had happened: 17 and he answered and declared unto them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of the children of Asshur, [w] and all the great words that Holofernes had spoken against the house of Israel. 18 And the people fell down and worshipped God, and cried, saying, 19 O Lord [x] God of heaven, behold their arrogance, and pity the low estate of our race, and look upon the face of those [y] that are sanctified unto thee this day. 20 And they comforted Achior, and praised him exceedingly. 21 [z] And Ozias took him out of the assembly into his house, and made a feast to the elders; and they called on the God of Israel for help all that night.

7 1 But the next day Holofernes gave command to all his army, and to all his people which were come to be his allies, [a] that they should remove their camp toward [r] Bethulia, and take aforehand [b] the ascents of the hill country, and make war against the children of Israel. 2 And every mighty man of them removed that day, and the host of their men of war was [c] a hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, beside the baggage, and the men that were afoot among them, an exceeding great multitude. 3 And they encamped in the valley near unto [r] Bethulia, [d] by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over [e] Dothaim even to Belmaim, and in length from [r] Bethulia unto Cyamon, which is over against [f] Esdraelon.

4 But the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were troubled exceedingly, and said every one to his neighbour, Now shall these men [g] lick up the face of all the earth; and neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills, shall be able to bear their weight. 5 And every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But on the second day Holofernes led out all his horse in the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethulia, 7 and viewed the ascents to their city, and searched out [d] the fountains of the waters, and seized upon them, and set garrisons of men of war over them, and himself departed to his people.

8 And there came unto him all the rulers of [h] the children of Esau, and [i] all the leaders of the people of [j] Moab, and the captains of [k] the sea coast, and said,

9 Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in thy host. 10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but [l] in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, for it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains. 11 And now, my lord, fight not against them as men fight who join battle, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish. 12 Remain in thy camp, and keep safe every man of thy host, and let thy servants get possession of [d] the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain: 13 because all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; and thirst shall kill them, and they shall give up their city: and we and our people will go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will encamp upon them, to watch that not one man go out of the city. 14 And they shall be consumed with famine, they and their wives and their children, and before the sword come against them they shall be laid low in the streets where they dwell. 15 And thou shalt render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not thy face in peace.

16 And their words were pleasing in the sight of Holofernes and in the sight of all his servants; and he appointed to do as they had spoken. 17 And the army of the children of [m] Ammon removed, and with them five thousand of the children of Asshur, and they encamped in the valley, and seized upon the waters and [d] the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel. 18 And [h] the children of Esau went up with the children of [m] Ammon, and encamped in the hill country over against [e] Dothaim: and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east, over against Ekrebel, which is near unto Chusi, that is upon the brook Mochmur; and the rest of the army of the Assyrians encamped in the plain, and [n] covered all the face of the land; and their tents and [o] baggage were pitched upon it in a great crowd, and they were an exceeding great multitude.

19 And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, for their spirit fainted; for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them. 20 And all the army of Asshur remained about them, their footmen and their chariots and their horsemen, four and thirty days; and all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of [p] Bethulia. 21 And the cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day: [q] for they gave them drink by measure. 22 And [r] their young children were out of heart, [s] and the women and the young men fainted for thirst, and they fell down in the streets of the city, and in the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them. 23 And all the people were gathered together against [t] Ozias, and against the rulers of the city, the young men and the women and the children, and they cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders, 24 [u] God be judge between you and us: because ye have done us great wrong, in that ye have not spoken words of peace with the children of Asshur. 25 And now we have no helper: but God [v] hath sold us into their hands, that we should be laid low before them with thirst and great destruction. 26 And now call them unto you, and deliver up the whole city [w] for a prey to the people of Holofernes, and to all his host. 27 For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them: for we shall be servants, and [x] our souls shall live, and we shall not see the death of our babes before our eyes, and our wives and our children fainting in death.

28 [y] We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our God and the Lord of our fathers, which punisheth us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.

29 And there was great weeping of all with one consent in the midst of the assembly; and they cried unto the Lord God with a loud voice. 30 And [z] Ozias said to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure [a] five days, in the which space the Lord our God shall turn his mercy toward us; for he will not forsake us utterly. 31 [b] But if these days pass, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to your words. 32 And he dispersed the people, every man to his own camp; and they went away unto the walls and towers of their city; and he sent the women and children into their houses: and they were brought very low in the city.

8 1 And in those days Judith heard thereof, [b] the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elkiah, the son of Ananias, tho son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Ahitub, the son of Elihu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of Salamiel, the son of Salasadai, [c] the son of Israel. 2 And her husband was Manasses, [d] of her tribe and of her family, and he died [e] in the days of barley harvest. 3 For he stood over them that bound sheaves in the field, and [f] the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in his city [g] Bethulia: and they buried him with his fathers in the field which is between [h] Dothaim and Balamon. 4 And Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months. 5 And she made her a tent [i] upon the roof of her house, and [j] put on sackcloth upon her loins; and [k] the garments of her widowhood were upon her. 6 [l] And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and [m] the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts and joyful days of the house of Israel. 7 And she was of a goodly countenance, and exceeding beautiful to behold: [n] and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and menservants, and maidservants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon them. 8 And there was none that gave her an evil word; for she feared God exceedingly.

11 And they came unto her, and she said unto them,

Hear me now, O ye rulers of the inhabitants of [g] Bethulia: for your word that ye have spoken before the people this day is not right, and ye have set the oath which ye have pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn to help you. 12 And now who are ye that have [u] tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of men? 13 And now try the Lord Almighty, and ye shall never know anything. 14 [v] For ye shall not find the depth of the heart of man, and ye shall not perceive the things that he thinketh: and [w] how shall ye search out God, which hath made all these things, and know his mind, and comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, [x] provoke not the Lord our God to anger. 15 For if he be not minded to help us [y] within these five days, he hath power to defend us in such time as he will, or to destroy us before the face of our enemies. 16 But do not ye pledge the counsels of the Lord our God: [z] for God is not as man, that he should be threatened; neither as the son of man, that he should be turned by intreaty. 17 [a] Wherefore let us wait for the salvation that cometh from him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, [b] if it please him. 18 For there arose none in our age, neither is there any of us to-day, tribe, or kindred, or family, or city, which worship [c] gods made with hands, [d] as it was in the former days; 19 for the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and fell with a great fall before our enemies. 20 But we know none other god beside him, wherefore we hope that he will not despise us, nor any of our race. 21 For if we be taken so, all Judæa shall sit upon the ground, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled; and of our blood shall he require the profanation thereof. 22 And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the land, and the desolation of our inheritance, [e] shall he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoever we shall be in bondage; and we shall be an offence and a reproach before them that take us for a possession. 23 For our bondage shall not be ordered to favour: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonour. 24 And now, brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their soul hangeth upon us, and the sanctuary and the house and the altar rest upon us. 25 Besides all this let us give thanks to the Lord our God, [f] which trieth us, even as he did our fathers also. 26 Remember all the things [g] which he did to Abraham, and all the things [h] in which he tried Isaac, and all the things [i] which happened to Jacob in f Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother. 27 h For he hath not tried us in the fire, as he did them, to search out their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us; i but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him, to admonish them.

28 And m Ozias said to her, All that thou hast spoken hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that shall gainsay thy words. 29 For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thine understanding, because the disposition of thy heart is good. 30 n But the people were exceeding thirsty, and compelled us to do as we spake to them, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break. 31 And now pray thou for us, o because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord shall send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more. 32 And Judith said unto them, Hear me, p and I will do a thing, which shall go down to all generations among the children of our race. 33 q Ye shall stand at the gate this night, and I will go forth r with my maid: and, within the days after which ye said that ye would deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord shall visit Israel by my hand. 34 But ye shall not inquire of mine act: for I will not declare it unto you, till the things be finished that I do. 35 And m Ozias and the rulers said unto her, s Go in peace, and t the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies. 36 And they returned from the tent, and went to their stations.

9 1 But Judith fell upon her face, and u put ashes upon her head, and uncovered v the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed; and w the incense of that evening was now being offered at Jerusalem in the house of God, and Judith cried unto the Lord with a loud voice, and said,

2 O Lord God of x my father Simeon, y into whose hand thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a virgin to defile her, and uncovered the thigh to her shame, and profaned the womb to her reproach; z for thou saidst, It shall not be so; and they did so: 3 wherefore thou gavest their rulers to be slain, and their bed, [1] which was ashamed for her that was deceived, to be dyed in blood, and smotest the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones; 4 a and gavest their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among thy dear children; which were moved with zeal for thee, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon thee for aid: O God, O my God, hear me also that am a widow. 5 b For thou wroughtest the things that were before those things, and those things, and such as ensued after; and thou didst devise the things which are now, and the things which are to come: and the things which thou didst devise came to pass; 6 yea, the things which thou didst determine stood before thee, and said, Lo, we are here: c for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgement is with foreknowledge. 7 For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power; d they are exalted with horse and rider; they have gloried in the [2] strength of their footmen; e they have trusted in shield and spear and bow and sling; and they know not that thou art f the Lord that breaketh the battles: the Lord is thy name. 8 Dash thou down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath: for they have purposed to profane thy sanctuary, and to defile the tabernacle where thy glorious name resteth, and to cast down with the sword g the horn of thine altar. 9 Look upon their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into my hand, which am a widow, the might that I have conceived. 10 Smite by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with his servant: break down their stateliness h by the hand of a woman. 11 i For thy power standeth not in multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou art a God of the afflicted, thou art a helper of the [3] oppressed, an upholder of the weak, j a protector of the forlorn, k a saviour of them that are without hope. 12 Yea, yea, God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and of the earth, Creator of the waters, King [4] of every creature, hear thou my prayer: 13 and make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, l who have purposed hard things against thy covenant, and thy hallowed house, and the top of Sion, and the house of the possession of thy children. 14 And make every nation and tribe of thine to know that thou art God, m the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the race of Israel but thou.

10 1 And it came to pass, when she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words, 2 that she rose up n where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, o in the which she was wont to abide on the sabbath days and on her feast days, 3 and pulled off the sackcloth which she had put on, and put off p the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and [q] anointed herself with rich ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put a tire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, wherewith she was wont to be clad in the days of the life of Manasses her husband. 4 And she took [r] sandals for her feet, and put her chains about her, and her bracelets, and her rings, and her earrings, and all her ornaments, and decked herself bravely, to beguile the eyes of all men that should see her. 5 And she gave her maid a leathern bottle of wine, and a cruse of oil, and filled [s] a bag with parched corn and lumps of figs and [1] fine bread; and she packed all her vessels together, and laid them upon her.

6 And they went forth to the gate of the city of [t] Bethulia, and found [u] standing thereby [v] Ozias, and the elders of the city, Chabris and Charmis. 7 But when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, [w] they wondered at her beauty very exceedingly, and said unto her, 8 The God of our fathers give thee favour, and accomplish thy purposes to the glory of the children of Israel, [x] and to the exaltation of Jerusalem. And she worshipped God, 9 and said unto them, Command that they open unto me the gate of the city, and I will go forth to accomplish the things [y] whereof ye spake with me. And they commanded the young men to open unto her, as she had spoken: 10 and they did so.

And Judith went out, she, and her handmaid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, until she had passed the valley, and they could see her no more. 11 And they went straight onward in the valley: and [z] the watch of the Assyrians met her; 12 and they took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a daughter of the Hebrews, and I flee away from their presence; [a] because they are about to be given you to be consumed: 13 and I am coming into the presence of Holofernes the chief captain of your host, to declare words of truth; and I will shew before him a way, whereby he shall go, and win all the hill country, and there shall not be lacking of his men one person, nor one life. 14 Now when the men heard her words, and considered her countenance, [b] the beauty thereof was exceeding marvellous in their eyes, and they said unto her, 15 Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hasted to come down to the presence of our lord: and now come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they shall deliver thee into his hands. 16 But [2] when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart, but declare unto him according to thy words; and he shall entreat thee well. 17 And they chose out of them a hundred men, and appointed them to accompany her and her maid; and they brought them to the tent of Holofernes.

18 And there was a concourse throughout all the camp, for her coming was noised among the tents; and they came and compassed her about, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, until they told him of her. 19 [b] And they marvelled at her beauty, and marvelled at the children of Israel because of her, and each one said to his neighbour, Who shall despise this people, that have among them such women? for it is not good that one man of them be left, seeing that, if they are let go, they shall be able to deceive the whole earth. 20 And they that lay near Holofernes, and all his servants, went forth [c] and brought her into the tent. 21 And Holofernes was resting upon his bed [d] under the canopy, [e] which was woven with purple and gold and emeralds and precious stones. 22 And they told him of her; and he came forth into the space before his tent, with silver lamps going before him. 23 But when Judith was come before him and his servants, they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; and [f] she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants raised her up.

11 1 And Holofernes said unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thy heart: for I never hurt any that hath chosen to serve Nebuchadnezzar, [g] the king of all the earth. 2 And now, if thy people that dwelleth in the hill country [h] had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves. 3 And now tell me wherefore thou didst flee from them, and camest unto us: for thou art come to save thyself; be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter: 4 for there is none that shall wrong thee, but all shall entreat thee well, as is done unto the servants of king Nebuchadnezzar my lord. 5 And Judith said unto him,

Receive the words of thy servant, and let thy handmaid speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie unto my lord this night. 6 And if thou shalt follow the words of thy handmaid, God shall bring the thing to pass perfectly with thee; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes. 7 [i] As Nebuchadnezzar [g] king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the preservation of every living thing, not only do men serve him by thee, [j] but also the beasts of the field and the cattle and the birds of the heaven shall live through thy strength, in the time of Nebuchadnezzar and of all his house. 8 For we have heard of thy wisdom and the subtil devices of thy soul, and it hath been reported in all the earth, that thou only art brave in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war. 9 And now as concerning the matter, which [k] Achior did speak in thy council, we have heard his words: for the men of [l] Bethulia saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken before thee. 10 Wherefore, O lord and master, neglect not [m] his word; but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true: for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God. 11 And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, and that death may fall upon them, their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they shall [n] provoke their God to anger, whensoever they shall do wickedness. 12 Since their victuals failed them, [o] and all their water was scant, [p] they took counsel to lay hands upon their cattle, and determined to consume all those things, which God charged them by his laws that they should not eat: 13 and they are resolved to spend [q] the firstfruits of the corn, and the tenths of the wine and the oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that stand before the face of our God in Jerusalem; the which things it is not fitting for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands. 14 And they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done this thing, to bring them a licence from [r] the senate. 15 And it shall be, when one shall bring them word, and they shall do it, they shall be given thee to be destroyed the same day. 16 Wherefore I thy servant, knowing all this, fled away from their presence; and God sent me to work things with thee, whereat all the earth shall be astonished, even as many as shall hear it. 17 For thy servant is religious, and serveth [s] the God of heaven [t] day and night: and now, my lord, I will abide with thee, and thy servant will go forth by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he shall tell me when they have committed their sins: 18 and I will come and shew it also unto thee; and thou shalt go forth with all thy host, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee. 19 And I will lead thee through the midst of Judæa, until thou comest over against Jerusalem; and I will set thy seat in the midst thereof; and thou shalt drive them [u] as sheep that have no shepherd, and [v] a dog shall not so much as open his mouth before thee: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and were declared unto me, and I was sent to tell thee.

20 And her words were pleasing in the sight of Holofernes and of all his servants; and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said, 21 There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, for beauty of face, and wisdom of words. 22 And Holofernes said unto her, God did well to send thee before the people, that might should be in our hands, and destruction among them that [w] lightly regarded my lord. 23 And now thou art beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: for if thou shalt do as thou hast spoken, [x] thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of king Nebuchadnezzar, and shalt be renowned through the whole earth.

12 1 And he commanded to bring her in where [y] his silver vessels were set, and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine. 2 And Judith said, [z] I will not eat thereof, lest there be an occasion of stumbling: but provision shall be made for me [a] of the things that are come with me. 3 And Holofernes said unto her, But if the things that be with thee should fail, whence shall we be able to give thee the like? for there is none of thy race with us. 4 And Judith said unto him, [b] As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy servant shall not spend those things that be with me, [c] until the Lord work by my hand the things that he hath determined. 5 And the servants of Holofernes [d] brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she rose up toward the morning watch, 6 and sent to Holofernes, saying, Let my lord now command that they suffer thy servant to go forth [e] unto prayer. 7 And Holofernes commanded his guards that they should not stay her: and she abode in the camp three days, and went out every night into the valley of [f] Bethulia, and washed herself [g] at the fountain of water in the camp. 8 And when she came up, she besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way [h] to the raising up of the children of his people. 9 And she came in clean, and remained in the tent, until she took her meat toward evening.

10 And it came to pass [i] on the fourth day, Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet. 11 And he said to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us. 12 For, lo, it is a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not unto us, she shall laugh us to scorn. 13 And Bagoas went from the presence of Holofernes, and came in to her, and said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and to drink wine and be merry with us, and to be made this day as one of the daughters of the children of Asshur, which wait in the house of Nebuchadnezzar. 14 And Judith said unto him, And who am I, that I should gainsay my lord? for whatsoever shall be pleasing in his eyes I will do speedily, and this shall be my joy unto the day of my death. 15 And she arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her woman's attire; and her servant went and laid fleeces on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them. 16 And Judith came in and sat down, and [j] Holofernes' heart was ravished with her, and his soul was moved, and he desired exceedingly her company: and he was watching for a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her. 17 And Holofernes said unto her, Drink now, and be merry with us. 18 And Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. 19 And she took and ate and drank before him [k] what her servant had prepared. 20 And Holofernes took great delight in her, [l] and drank exceeding much wine, more than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

13 1 But when the evening was come, [m] his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut the tent without, and dismissed them that waited from the presence of his lord; [n] and they went away to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long. 2 But Judith was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed: [o] for he was overflown with wine. 3 And Judith had said to her servant that she should stand without her bedchamber, and wait for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth [p] to her prayer; and she spake to Bagoas according to the same words. 4 And all went away from her presence, and none was left in the bedchamber, neither small nor great. And Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God [q] of all power, look in this hour upon the works of my hands [r] for the exaltation of Jerusalem. 5 For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to do [s] the thing that I have purposed to the destruction of the enemies which are risen up against us. 6 And she came to the rail of the bed, which was at Holofernes' head, and took down [t] his scimitar from thence; 7 and she drew near unto the bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day. 8 And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and [u] took away his head from him, 9 and tumbled his body down from the bed, and took down [v] the canopy from the pillars; and after a little while she went forth, and gave Holofernes' head to her maid; 10 and she put it in [w] her bag of victuals: and they twain went forth together unto prayer, according to their custom: and they passed through the camp, and compassed that valley, and went up to the mountain of [x] Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

11 And Judith said afar off to the watchmen at the gates, Open, open now the gate: God is with us, even our God, to shew his power yet in Israel, and his might against the enemy, as he hath done even this day. 12 And it came to pass, when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called together [y] the elders of the city. 13 And they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: and they opened the gate, and received them, making a fire to give light, and compassed them round about. 14 And she said to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise him: praise God, [z] who hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hand this night. 15 And she took forth the head out of [w] the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, Behold, the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, and behold, [v] the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord smote him [a] by the hand of a woman. 16 And [b] as the Lord liveth, who preserved me in my way that I went, my countenance deceived him to his destruction, and he did not commit sin with me, to defile and shame me. 17 And all the people were exceedingly amazed, and [c] bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed art thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people. 18 And Ozias said unto her, [d] Blessed art thou, daughter, in the sight of the Most High God, above all the women upon the earth; and blessed is the Lord God, who created the heavens and the earth, who directed thee to the smiting of the head of the prince of our enemies. 19 [e] For thy hope shall not depart from the heart of men that remember the strength of God for ever. 20 And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee with good things, because thou didst not spare thy life by reason of the affliction of our race, but didst avenge our fall, walking a straight way before our God. [f] And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

14 1 And Judith said unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and [g] hang it upon the battlement of your wall. 2 And it

And Judith declared unto him in the midst of the people all the things that she had done, from the day that she went forth until the time that she spake unto them. 9 But when she left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city. 10 But when Achior saw all the things that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God exceedingly, exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel, thou art the great rejoicing of our race: 10 thou hast done all these things by thy hand: thou hast done with Israel the things that are good, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou with the Almighty Lord for evermore. And all the people said, So be it. 11 And the people spoiled the camp for the space of thirty days: and they gave unto Judith Holofernes' tent, and all his silver cups, and his beds, and his vessels, and all his furniture: and she took them, and placed them on her mule, and made ready her wagons, and heaped them thereon.

12 And all the women of Israel ran together to see her; and they blessed her, and made a dance among them for her; and she took branches in her hand, and gave to the women that were with her. 13 And they made themselves garlands of olive, she and they that were with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with garlands, and with songs in their mouths.

16 1 And Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang with loud voices this song of praise. 2 And Judith said,

Begin unto my God with timbrels,
Sing unto my Lord with cymbals:
Tune unto him psalm and praise:
Exalt him, and call upon his name.

3 For the Lord is the God that breaketh the battles:
For in his armies in the midst of the people
He delivered me out of the hand of them that persecuted me.

4 Asshur came out of the mountains from the north,
He came with ten thousands of his host,
The multitude whereof stopped the torrents,
And their horsemen covered the hills.

5 He said that he would burn up my borders,
And kill my young men with the sword,
And throw my sucking children to the ground,
And give mine infants for a prey,
And make my virgins a spoil.

6 The Almighty Lord brought them to nought by the hand of a woman.

7 For their mighty one did not fall by young men,
Neither did sons of the Titans smite him,
Nor did high giants set upon him:
But Judith the daughter of Merari made him weak with the beauty of her countenance.

8 For she put off the apparel of her widowhood
For the exaltation of those that were distressed in Israel,
She anointed her face with ointment,
And bound her hair in a tire,
And took a linen garment to deceive him.

9 Her sandal ravished his eye,
And her beauty took his soul prisoner:
The scimitar passed through his neck.

10 The Persians quaked at her daring,
And the Medes were daunted at her boldness.

11 Then my lowly ones shouted aloud,
And my weak ones were terrified and crouched for fear:
They lifted up their voice, and they were turned to flight.

12 The sons of damsels pierced them through,
And wounded them as runagates' children;
They perished by the battle of my Lord.

13 I will sing unto my God a new song:
O Lord, thou art great and glorious,
Marvellous in strength, invincible.

14 Let all thy creation serve thee:
For thou spakest, and they were made,
Thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it builded them,
And there is none that shall resist thy voice.

15 For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters,
And the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence:
But thou art yet merciful to them that fear thee.

16 For all sacrifice is little for a sweet savour,
And all the fat is very little for a whole burnt offering to thee:
But he that feareth the Lord is great continually.

17 Woe to the nations that rise up against my race:
The Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgement,
To put fire and worms in their flesh;
And they shall weep and feel their pain for ever.

18 Now when they came to Jerusalem, they worshipped God; and when the people were purified, they offered their whole burnt offerings, and their freewill offerings, and their gifts. 19 And Judith dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken for herself out of his bedchamber, for a gift unto the Lord. 20 And the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for the space of three months, and Judith remained with them. 21 But after these days every one departed to his own inheritance, and Judith

10 4 Then Mardocheus said, These things are of God. 5 For I remember the dream [a] which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed. 6 As for the little fountain that became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water, the river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen: 7 and the two dragons are I and Aman: 8 and the nations are those that were assembled [b] to destroy the name of the Jews: 9 and my nation, this is Israel, which cried to God, and were saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all these evils, and [c] God hath wrought signs and great wonders, which have not been done among the nations. 10 [d] Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the nations. 11 And these two lots came at the hour, and time, and day of judgement, before God among all the nations. 12 So God remembered his people, and justified his inheritance. 13 [e] Therefore these days shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before God, throughout the generations for ever among his people Israel.

11 1 In the fourth year of the reign of [f] Ptolemy and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemy his son, brought [g] the epistle of Phrurai here set forth, which they said was the same, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemy, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.

21 In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great, in the first day of [h] the month Nisan, [i] Mardocheus the son of Jairus, the son of Semeias, the son of Kiseus, of the tribe of Benjamin, [j] had a dream; 3 who was a Jew, and dwelt in the city of [k] Susa, a great man, being a servitor in the king's court; 4 [l] and he was of the captivity, which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon carried from Jerusalem with Jechonias king of Judæa; and this was his dream: 5 Behold, [2] noise and tumult, thunderings and earthquake, and uproar upon the earth: 6 and, behold, [m] two great dragons came forth, both of them ready to fight, and their cry was great. 7 And at their cry all nations were ready to battle, that they might fight against [n] the righteous nation. 8 And, lo, [o] a day of darkness and gloominess, tribulation and anguish, affliction and great uproar upon the earth. 9 And [n] the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing [3] the evils that should befall them, and were ready to perish. 10 Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, there came a great [p] river, even much water. 11 The light and the sun rose up, and [q] the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious. 12 Now when [i] Mardocheus, who had seen this dream, and what God had determined to do, was awake, he bare it in mind, and until night by all means was desirous to know it. 1 And [i] Mardocheus took his rest in the court with [r] Gabatha and [r] Tharra, the two eunuchs of the king, that were keepers of the court. 2 And he heard their communings, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king; [g] and he certified the king of them. 3 [h] Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were led to execution. 4 [i] And the king wrote these things for a memorial; [k] Mardocheus also wrote concerning these things. 5 So the king commanded Mardocheus to serve in the court, and for this he gave him gifts. 6 Howbeit Aman the son of Amadathus, [m] a Bugean, who was in great honour with the king, [n] sought to molest Mardocheus and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king.

13 1 [1] Now this is the copy of the letter: [o] The great king Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes of [p] a hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and to the governors that are set under them. 2 After that I became lord over many nations, and [q] had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying myself alway with equity and mildness, [r] I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost coasts, to renew peace, which is desired of all men. 3 Now when I asked my counsellors how this might be brought to pass, Aman, that excelled in wisdom among us, and was approved for his constant good will and stedfast fidelity, and [s] had the honour of the second place in the kingdom, 4 declared unto us, that in all nations throughout the world [t] there was scattered a certain malignant people, that had laws contrary to all nations, and continually set aside the commandments of kings, so as the uniting of our kingdoms, honourably intended by us, cannot go forward. 5 Seeing then we understand that this nation is alone continually in opposition unto all men, following perversely a life which is strange to our laws, and evil affected to our state, working all the mischief they can, that our kingdom may not be firmly stablished: 6 therefore have we commanded, that they that are signified in writing unto you by Aman, who is ordained over the affairs, [u] and is a second father unto us, shall all, with their wives and children, be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies, without all mercy and pity, [v] the fourteenth day of the twelfth month Adar of this present year: 7 that they, who of old and now also are malicious, may in one day with violence go down to [2] the grave, and so ever hereafter cause our affairs to be well settled, and without trouble.

8 [3] Then Mardocheus made his prayer unto the Lord, calling to remembrance all the works of the Lord, 9 and said, O Lord, Lord, thou King Almighty: [w] for the whole world is in thy power, and if it be thy will to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee: 10 [x] for thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things that are beneath the heaven; 11 and thou art Lord of all, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord. 12 [y] Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that [z] I did not bow down to proud Aman. 13 [a] For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel to kiss the soles of his feet. 14 But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God: neither will I bow down unto any but to thee, which art my Lord, neither will I do it in pride. 15 And now, O Lord, thou God and King, [b] the God of Abraham, [c] spare thy people: for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought, and they desire to destroy [d] the heritage, that hath been thine from the beginning. 16 [e] Despise not thy portion, which thou didst redeem out of the land of Egypt for thine own self. 17 Hear my prayer, and be merciful unto thine inheritance: [f] and turn our mourning into feasting, that we may live, O Lord, and sing praises to thy name: and destroy not [g] the mouth of them that praise thee, O Lord.

18 And all Israel cried out mightily, because their death was before their eyes.

14 1 Queen Esther also, being seized as it were with the agony of death, resorted unto the Lord: 2 and laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of anguish and mourning: and instead of the most excellent ointments, [h] she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she humbled her body greatly, and all the places of the ornaments of her joy she covered with her tangled hair. 3 And she prayed unto the Lord, the God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou only art our King: help me that am desolate and have no other helper but thee: 4 [i] for my danger is in mine hand. 5 From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family, that thou, O Lord, [k] tookest Israel from among all the nations, and [l] our fathers from all their progenitors, for a perpetual inheritance, and didst perform for them whatsoever thou didst promise. 6 And now we have sinned before thee, [m] and thou hast given us into the hands of our enemies, 7 because we glorified their gods: [n] O Lord, thou art righteous. 8 Nevertheless it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity: but [o] they have stricken hands with their idols, 9 that they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordained, and destroy thine inheritance, and stop [w] the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of thy house, and thine altar, 10 and open the mouths of the heathen to set forth the virtues of [1] idols, and [x] that a fleshly king shall be magnified for ever. 11 O Lord, give not thy sceptre unto them [y] that be nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall; [z] but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begun this against us. 12 Remember, O Lord, make thyself known in the time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O [a] King of the gods, and holder of all dominion. 13 Give me eloquent speech in my mouth [b] before the lion: and turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that there may be an end of him, and of them that are likeminded with him: 14 but deliver us with thine hand, and help me that am desolate and have no other helper but thee, O Lord. 15 [c] Thou hast knowledge of all things; and thou knowest that I hate the glory of the wicked, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of every alien. 16 Thou knowest my necessity: that I abhor the sign of my high estate, [d] which is upon mine head in the days wherein I shew myself. I abhor it [e] as a menstruous rag, and I wear it not when I am private by myself. 17 And thine handmaid [f] hath not eaten at Aman's table, neither have I honoured the king's feast, nor [g] drunk the wine of the drink offerings. 18 Neither had thine handmaid any joy since the day that I was brought hither to this present, but in thee, O Lord, thou God of Abraham. 19 O God, that art mighty above all, [h] hear the voice of the forlorn, and deliver us out of the hands of the mischievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

15 [i] And [i] upon the third day, when she had ended her prayer, she laid away [j] her garments of service, and put on her glorious apparel. 2 And being majestically adorned, after she had called upon [k] the all-seeing God and [l] saviour, she took her two maids with her: 3 and upon the one she leaned, as carrying herself delicately; 4 and the other followed, bearing up her train. 5 And she was ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerful and right amiable: but her heart was in anguish for fear. 6 Then having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king, who sat upon his royal throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones; and he was very dreadful. 7 Then lifting up his countenance that was flushed with glory, he looked upon her in fierce anger: [m] and the queen fell down, and turned pale, and fainted, and she bowed herself upon the head of the maid that went before. 8 [n] Then God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who in an agony leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with soothing words, and said unto her, 9 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer: 10 thou shalt not die, for [2] our commandment is for our subjects: come near. 11 [o] So he held up his golden sceptre, and laid it upon her neck, 12 and embraced her, and said, Speak unto me. 13 Then said she unto him, I saw thee, my lord, [p] as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy glory. 14 For wonderful art thou, my lord, and thy countenance is full of grace. 15 And as she was speaking, she fell down for faintness. 16 Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her. [3]

16 1 [4] [q] The great king Artaxerxes unto the governors of countries in a hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and unto them that are well affected to our state, [r] greeting. 2 Many, the more often they are honoured with the great bounty of their [s] benefactors, the more proud they are waxen, 3 and endeavour to hurt not our subjects only, but not being able to bear abundance, do take in hand to practise also against those that do them good: 4 and take not only thankfulness away from among men, but also lifted up with the boastful words of them that were never good, they think to escape the evil-hating justice of God, [t] who alway seeth all things. 5 Oftentimes also fair speech of those that are put in trust to manage their friends' affairs, hath caused many that are in authority to be [u] partakers of innocent blood, and hath enwrapped them in remediless calamities: 6 beguiling with the false deceit of their lewd disposition the innocent good will of princes. 7 Now ye may see this, as we have declared, not so much by more ancient histories, as ye may, if ye search what hath been wickedly done of late through the pestilent behaviour of them that are unworthily placed in authority. 8 [v] And we must take care for the time to come, to render our kingdom quiet and peaceable for all men, 9 both by changing our purposes, and always judging things that come before our eyes with more equal proceeding. 10 For Aman, [w] a Macedonian, the son of Amadathus, an alien in truth from the Persian blood, and far distant from our goodness, being as a guest received of us, 11 had so far forth obtained the favour that we shew toward every nation, as that he was called [x]our father, and was continually honoured of all men, [y]as the next person unto the royal throne. 12 But he, not bearing his high estate, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and our life; 13 having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction, as well of Mardocheus, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of Esther the blameless partaker of our kingdom, together with their whole nation. 14 For by these means he thought, finding us destitute of friends, to have translated the kingdom of the Persians to the Macedonians. 15 But we find that the Jews, whom this most ungracious wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evil-doers, but live by most just laws: 16 and that they be children of [z]the most high and most mighty [a]living God, who hath ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner. 17 Wherefore ye shall do well not to put in execution the letters [b]sent unto you by Aman the son of Amadathus. 18 For he, that was the worker of these things, [c]is hanged at the gates of [d]Susa [e]with all his family: God, who ruleth all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts. 19 [f]Therefore ye shall publish openly the copy of this letter in all places, and let the Jews live after their own laws, 20 and [g]ye shall aid them, that even the same day, [h]being the thirteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may defend themselves against those who set upon them in the time of their affliction. 21 For Almighty God hath made this day to be a joy unto them, instead of the destruction of the chosen people. 22 [i]And ye shall therefore among your commemorative feasts keep it a high day with all feasting: 23 that both now and hereafter there may be safety to us, and the well affected Persians; but to those which do conspire against us a memorial of destruction. 24 [j]Therefore every city or country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be utterly destroyed without mercy with [1]fire and sword; it shall be made not only unpassable for men, [k]but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls for ever.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

I 1 [a]Love righteousness, ye that be judges of the earth,
Think ye of the Lord [2]with a good mind,
And in singleness of heart seek ye him;
2 Because he is found of them that tempt him not,
And [b]is manifested to them that do not distrust him.
3 [c]For crooked thoughts separate from God;
And the supreme Power, when it is brought to the proof, [3]putteth to confusion the foolish:
4 [d]Because wisdom will not enter into a soul that deviseth evil,
Nor dwell in a body that is held in pledge by sin.
5 For a holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit,
And will start away [e]from thoughts that are without understanding,
And will be [4]put to confusion when unrighteousness hath come in.
6 For [5]wisdom is a spirit [f]that loveth man,
And she will not hold a [6]blasphemer guiltless for his lips;
Because [g]God beareth witness of his reins,
And is a true overseer of his heart,
And [h]a hearer of his tongue:
7 Because [i]the spirit of the Lord hath filled [7]the world,
And that [j]which holdeth all things together hath knowledge of every voice.
8 Therefore no man that uttereth unrighteous things shall be unseen;
[8]Neither shall Justice, when it convicteth, pass him by.
9 For in the midst of his counsels the ungodly shall be searched out;
And the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord
To bring to conviction his lawless deeds:
10 Because there is an ear of [k]jealousy that listeneth to all things,

And the noise of murmurings is not hid.

11 [l] Beware then of unprofitable murmuring,
And [m] refrain your tongue from backbiting;
Because no secret utterance [n] shall go on its way void,
And [o] a mouth that belieth destroyeth a soul.

12 Court not death in the error of your life;
Neither draw upon yourselves destruction by the works of your hands:

13 [p] Because God made not death;
[q] Neither delighteth he when the living perish:

14 For he created all things that they might have being:
[r] And [1] the generative powers of the world are healthsome,
And there is no poison of destruction in them:
Nor hath Hades [2] royal dominion upon earth,

15 [s] For righteousness is immortal:

16 But ungodly men by their hands and their words called [3] death unto them:
Deeming him a friend they [4] consumed away,
[t] And they made a covenant with him,
Because they are worthy to be [u] of his portion.

2 1 For they said [5] within themselves, reasoning not aright,
[v] Short and sorrowful is our life;
[w] And there is no healing when a man cometh to his end,
And [x] none was ever known that [6] gave release from Hades.

2 Because by mere chance were we born,
And [y] hereafter we shall be as though we had never been:
[z] Because the breath in our nostrils is smoke,
And [7] while our heart beateth reason is a spark,

3 Which being extinguished, [a] the body shall be turned into ashes,
And the spirit shall be dispersed as thin air;

4 [b] And our name shall be forgotten in time,
And no man shall remember our works;
And our life shall pass away [c] as the traces of a cloud,
And [d] shall be scattered as is a mist,
When it is chased by the beams of the sun,
And [8] overcome by the heat thereof.

5 For our allotted time is [e] the passing of a shadow,
And [9] our end retreateth not;
Because it is fast sealed, and none [10] turneth it back.

6 [f] Come therefore and let us enjoy the good things [11] that now are;
And let us use the creation [12] with all our soul [13] [g] as youth's possession.

7 [h] Let us fill ourselves with costly wine and perfumes;
And let no flower of [14] spring pass us by:

8 [i] Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds, before they be withered:

9 Let none of us go without his share in our proud revelry:
Everywhere let us leave tokens of our mirth:
[j] Because this is our portion, and our lot is this.

10 [k] Let us oppress the righteous poor;
Let us not spare the widow,
Nor reverence the hairs of the old man gray for length of years.

11 But let our strength be to us a law of righteousness;
For that which is weak is [15] found to be of no service.

12 But [l] let us lie in wait for the righteous man,
Because he is of disservice to us,
And is contrary to our works,
And upbraideth us with sins against [16] the law,
And layeth to our charge sins against our discipline.

13 [m] He professeth to have knowledge of God,
And nameth himself [17] servant of the Lord.

14 [n] He became to us a reproof of our thoughts.

15 [o] He is grievous unto us even to behold,
Because his life is unlike other men's,
And his paths are of strange fashion.

16 We were accounted of him [p] as base metal,
And he abstaineth from our ways as from uncleannesses.
[q] The latter end of the righteous he calleth happy;
And he vaunteth [r] that God is his father.

17 [s] Let us see if his words be true,
And let us try what shall befall in the ending of his life.

18 [t] For if the righteous man is God's son, he will uphold him,
And he will deliver him out of the hand of his adversaries.

19 [u] With outrage and torture let us put him to the test,

That we may learn his gentleness,
And may prove his patience under wrong.

20 [v]Let us condemn him to a shameful death;
[w]For [1]he shall be visited according to his words.

21 Thus reasoned they, and they were led astray;
For [x]their [2]wickedness blinded them,
22 And they knew not [y]the mysteries of God,
Neither hoped they for wages of holiness,
Nor did they judge that there is a prize for blameless souls.
23 [z]Because God created man for [a]incorruption,
And made him [b]an image of his own [3]proper being;
24 [c]But by the envy of the devil death entered into the world,
And [d]they that are of his portion make trial thereof.

3 1 But the souls of the righteous [e]are in the hand of God,
And no torment shall touch them.
2 [f]In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died;
And their departure was accounted to be their hurt,
3 And their journeying away from us to be their ruin:
But [g]they are in peace.
4 For even if in the sight of men they be punished,
[h]Their hope is full of immortality;
5 [i]And having borne a little chastening, they shall receive great good;
Because God made trial of them,
and found them worthy of himself.
6 [j]As gold in the furnace he proved them,
And [k]as a whole burnt offering he accepted them.
7 And in the time of their visitation [l]they shall shine forth,
And [m]as sparks among stubble they shall run to and fro.
8 [n]They shall judge nations, and have dominion over peoples;
And the Lord shall reign over them for evermore.
9 [o]They that trust on him shall understand truth,
[p]And [4]the faithful shall abide with him in love;
Because [q]grace and mercy are to his chosen.

10 [r]But the ungodly shall be requited even as they reasoned,
They which lightly regarded [5]the righteous man, and revolted from the Lord;
11 (For he that setteth at nought wisdom and discipline is miserable;)
And void is their hope and their toils unprofitable,
And useless are their works:
12 Their wives are foolish, and [s]wicked are their children;
13 [t]Accursed is their begetting.
Because happy is [u]the barren that is undefiled,
She who hath not conceived in transgression;
She shall have fruit when God visiteth souls.
14 And happy is [v]the eunuch which hath wrought no lawless deed with his hands,
Nor imagined wicked things against the Lord;
For there shall be given him for his faithfulness [6]a peculiar favour,
And a lot in the sanctuary of the Lord more delightsome than wife or children.
15 For good labours have fruit of great renown;
And [w]the root of understanding cannot fail.
16 But children of adulterers [x]shall not come to maturity,
And the seed of an unlawful bed shall vanish away.
17 For if they live long, they shall be held in no account,
And at the last their old age shall be without honour.
18 And if they die quickly, [y]they [7]shall have no hope,
Nor [z]in the day of decision shall they have consolation.
19 For [8]the end of an unrighteous generation is alway grievous.

4 1 [a]Better than this is childlessness with virtue;
For [b]in the memory [9]of virtue is immortality:
Because it is recognised both before God and before men.
2 When it is present, men imitate it;
And they long after it when it is departed:
And [10]throughout all time it marcheth [c]crowned in triumph,
Victorious in the strife for the prizes that are undefiled.
3 But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall be of no profit,
And [11]with bastard [12]slips [d]they shall not strike deep root,
Nor shall they establish a sure hold.
4 For even if these [12]put forth boughs and [e]flourish for a season,

[1] Gr. there shall be a visitation of him out of his words. [2] Or, malice [3] Some authorities read everlastingness. [4] Or, they that are faithful through love shall abide with him [5] Or, that which is righteous [6] Or, the grace of God's chosen Gr. a chosen grace. [7] Some authorities read have. [8] Gr. the ends . . . are grievous. [9] Gr. of it. [10] Gr. in the age. [11] Gr. from. [12] Or, offshoots [12] Gr. in boughs flourish.

Yet, standing unsure, they shall be shaken by the wind,
And by the violence of winds [f] they shall be rooted out.
5 [g] Their branches shall be broken off before they come to maturity,
And [f] their fruit shall be useless,
Never ripe to eat, and fit for nothing.
6 For children unlawfully begotten are witnesses of wickedness
Against parents when God searcheth them out.

7 But [h] a righteous man, though he die before his time, shall be at rest.
8 (For honourable old age is not that which standeth in length of time,
Nor is its measure given by number of years:
9 But understanding is gray hairs unto men,
And an unspotted life is ripe old age.)
10 [i] Being found well-pleasing unto God he was beloved of him,
And while living among sinners he was translated:
11 [j] He was caught away, lest [1] wickedness should change his understanding,
Or guile deceive his soul.
12 (For the bewitching of naughtiness [k] bedimmeth the things which are good,
And the giddy whirl of desire perverteth an innocent mind.)
13 Being made perfect in a little while, he fulfilled long [2] years;
14 For his soul was pleasing unto the Lord:
Therefore [3] hasted he out of the midst of wickedness.
15 But as for the peoples, [l] seeing and understanding not,
Neither laying [4] this to heart,
[m] That grace and mercy are with his chosen,
And that [5] he visiteth his holy ones:—
16 But a righteous man that is dead shall condemn the ungodly that are living,
And [n] youth that is quickly perfected the many years of an unrighteous man's old age;
17 [o] For the ungodly shall see a wise man's end,
And shall not understand what the Lord purposed concerning him,
And for what he safely kept him:—
18 They shall see, and they shall despise;
But them [p] the Lord shall laugh to scorn.
And after this [q] they shall become a dishonoured carcase,
And [6] a reproach among the dead for ever:
19 Because he shall dash them speechless to the ground,
And shall shake them from the foundations,
And they shall [7] lie utterly waste, and they shall be in anguish,
And [r] their memory shall perish.

20 They shall come, [8] when their sins are reckoned up, with coward fear;
And [s] their lawless deeds shall convict them to their face.

5 1 Then shall the righteous man stand in great boldness
Before the face of them that afflicted him,
And them that make his labours of no account.
2 When they see [9] it, [t] they shall be troubled with terrible fear,
And shall be amazed at the marvel of God's salvation.
3 They shall say [10] within themselves repenting,
And for distress of spirit shall they groan,
This was he whom aforetime we had in derision,
And made [u] a parable of [11] reproach:
4 We fools accounted his life [v] madness,
[w] And his end without honour:
5 [x] How was he numbered among sons of God?
And how is his lot among saints?
6 Verily we went astray from the way of truth,
And [y] the light of righteousness shined not for us,
And the sun rose not for us.
7 We [z] took our fill of the paths of lawlessness and destruction,
And we journeyed [a] through trackless deserts,
But the way of the Lord we knew not.
8 What did our arrogancy profit us?
And what good have riches [12] and vaunting brought us?
9 Those things all passed away [b] as a shadow,
And [c] as a message that runneth by:
10 [d] As a ship passing through the billowy water,
Whereof, when it is gone by, there is no trace to be found,
Neither pathway of its keel in the billows:
11 [d] Or as when a bird flieth through the air,
No token of her passage is found,
But the light wind, lashed with the stroke of her pinions,
And rent asunder [13] with the violent rush of the moving wings, is passed through,

And afterwards no sign of her coming is found therein:
Or as when an arrow is shot at a mark,
The air disparted closeth up again immediately,
So that men know not where it passed through:
So we also, as soon as we were born, [1]ceased to be;
And of virtue we had no sign to shew,
But in our wickedness we were utterly consumed.
[e] Because [e]the hope of the ungodly man is [f]as chaff carried by the wind,
And [2]as [3]foam vanishing before a tempest;
And is scattered [g]as smoke is scattered by the wind,
And passeth by [h]as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.
But the righteous live for ever,
And [i]in the Lord is their reward,
And the care for them with the Most High.
Therefore shall they receive [j]the crown of royal dignity
And [k]the diadem of beauty from the Lord's hand;
Because [l]with his right hand shall he cover them,
And with his arm shall he shield them.
He shall take his [m]jealousy as complete armour,
[n]And shall make the whole creation his weapons [4]for vengeance on his enemies:
[o]He shall put on righteousness as a breastplate,
[p]And shall array himself with judgement unfeigned as with a helmet;
[q]He shall take holiness as an invincible shield,
[r]And he shall sharpen stern wrath for a sword:
[s]And the world shall go forth with him to fight against his insensate foes.
[t]Shafts of lightning shall fly with true aim,

[t]And as from an engine of war shall be hurled hailstones full of wrath;
[u]The water of the sea shall be angered against them,
[v]And rivers shall sternly overwhelm them;
[w]A mighty blast shall encounter them,
And as a tempest shall it winnow them away:

And so shall lawlessness make all the land desolate,
And their evil-doing shall overturn the thrones of princes.

6 [1] [x]Hear therefore, ye kings, and understand;
Learn, ye judges of the ends of the earth:
Give ear, ye that have dominion over much people,
And make your boast [5]in multitudes of nations.
[y]Because your dominion was given you from the Lord,
And your sovereignty from the Most High;
Who shall search out your works,
And shall make inquisition of your counsels:
Because being officers of his kingdom [z]ye did not judge aright,
Neither kept ye [6]law, nor walked after the counsel of God.
Awfully and swiftly shall he come upon you;
Because a stern judgement befalleth them that be in high place:
[a]For the man of low estate may be pardoned in mercy,
But mighty men shall be [7]searched out mightily.
For the Sovereign Lord of all will not refrain himself [b]for any man's person,
Neither will he reverence greatness;
[c]Because it is he that made both small and great,
[d]And alike he taketh thought for all;
But [8]strict is the scrutiny that cometh upon the powerful.
[e]Unto you therefore, O princes, are my words,
That ye may learn wisdom and [9]fall not from the right way.
[f]For they that have kept holily the things that are holy shall themselves be [10]hallowed;
And [g]they that have been taught them shall find what to answer;
Set your desire therefore on my words;
Long for them, and ye shall be [11]trained by their discipline.
Wisdom [h]is radiant and fadeth not away;
And [i]easily is she beheld of them that love her,
And found of them that seek her.
[k]She forestalleth them that desire to know her, making herself first known.
[l]He that riseth up early to seek her shall have no toil,

For he shall find her sitting at his gates.
15 For to think upon her is perfectness of understanding,
And he that watcheth for her sake shall quickly be [m]free from care.
16 Because she goeth about, herself seeking them that are worthy of her,
And in their paths she appeareth unto them graciously,
And in every purpose she meeteth them.
17 For [1]her [2]true beginning is desire of [n]discipline;
And the care for discipline is love of her;
18 And [o]love of her is observance of her laws;
And to give heed to her laws confirmeth [p]incorruption;
19 And incorruption [3]bringeth near unto God;
20 So then desire of wisdom [q]promoteth to a kingdom.
21 If therefore ye delight in thrones and sceptres, ye princes of peoples, Honour wisdom, that ye [q]may reign for ever.
22 But what wisdom is, and how she came into being, I will declare,
And I will not hide mysteries from you;
But I will trace her out [4]from [r]the beginning of creation,
And bring the knowledge of her into clear light,
And I will not pass by the truth;
23 Neither indeed [s]will I take [5]pining envy for my companion in the way,
[t]Because [6]envy shall have no fellowship with wisdom.
24 But [u]a multitude of wise men is salvation to the world,
And an understanding king is tranquillity to his people.
25 Wherefore be disciplined by my words, and thereby shall ye profit.

7 [1] I myself also am [7]mortal, like to all,
And am sprung from one [v]born of the earth, [w]the man first formed,
2 And in the womb of a mother was I moulded into flesh in the time of ten months,
Being [x]compacted in blood of the seed of man and pleasure that came with sleep.
3 And I also, when I was born, drew in the common air,
And fell upon [y]the [8]kindred earth,
Uttering, like all, for my first voice, the selfsame wail:
4 In swaddling clothes was I nursed, and [9]with watchful cares.
5 For no king had any other first beginning;
6 But [z]all men have one entrance into life, and a like departure.
7 [a]For this cause I prayed, and understanding was given me:
I called upon God, and there came to me a spirit of wisdom.
8 I preferred her before sceptres and thrones,
[b]And riches I esteemed nothing in comparison of her.
9 Neither did I liken to her any priceless gem,
[c]Because all the gold of the earth in her presence is a little sand,
And silver shall be accounted as clay before her.
10 [d]Above health and comeliness I loved her,
And I chose to have her rather than light,
[e]Because her bright shining is never laid to sleep.
11 But [f]with her there came to me all good things together,
And in her hands innumerable riches:
12 And I rejoiced over them all because wisdom leadeth them;
Though I knew not that she was the [10]mother of them.
13 As I learned without guile, I impart [g]without grudging;
[h]I do not hide her riches.
14 For she is unto men a treasure that faileth not,
And [i]they that use it [11]obtain friendship with God,
Commended to him [12]by the gifts which they through [j]discipline present to him.
15 [k]But to me may God give to speak [13]with judgement,
And to conceive thoughts worthy of what [14]hath been given me;
Because himself is one that guideth even wisdom and that correcteth the wise.
16 For in his hand are both we and [l]our words;
[m]All understanding, and all acquaintance with divers crafts.
17 [n]For himself gave me an unerring knowledge of the things that are,
To know the constitution of the world, and the operation of the elements;
18 The beginning and end and middle of times,
The alternations of the solstices and the changes of seasons,

19 The circuits of years and the [1]o positions of stars;
20 [p] The natures of living creatures and the ragings of wild beasts,
The violences of [2]winds and the thoughts of men,
[p] The diversities of plants and the virtues of roots:
21 All things that are either secret or manifest I learned,
22 For she that is [q] the artificer of all things taught me, even wisdom.

For there is in her a spirit quick of understanding, holy,
[3]Alone in kind, [r] manifold,
Subtil, [s] freely moving,
[t] Clear in utterance, [u] unpolluted,
Distinct, unharmed,
Loving what is good, [v] keen, unhindered,
[w] Beneficent, [23x] loving toward man,
Stedfast, sure, [y] free from care,
All-powerful, all-surveying,
And penetrating through all spirits
That are quick of understanding, pure, most subtil:
24 [z] For wisdom is more mobile than any motion;
Yea, [a] she pervadeth and penetrateth all things by reason of her pureness.
25 For she is [b] a [4]breath of the power of God,
And a clear effluence of the glory of the Almighty;
Therefore can [c] nothing defiled find entrance into her.
26 For she is an [d] effulgence from everlasting light,
And an unspotted mirror of the working of God,
And an [e] image of his goodness.
27 And she, being one, [f] hath power to do all things;
And remaining in herself, [g] reneweth all things:
And from generation to generation passing into holy souls
She maketh men [h] friends of God and prophets.
28 For nothing doth God love save him that dwelleth with wisdom.
29 For she is fairer than the sun,
And above [5]all [i] the constellations of the stars:
Being compared with light, she is found to be before it;
30 For [6]to the light of day succeedeth night,
But against wisdom evil doth not prevail;

8 [1] But [k] she [7]reacheth from one end of the world to the other with full strength,
And ordereth all things [8]graciously.

a [l] Her I loved and sought out from my youth,
And [k] I sought to take her for my bride,
And I became enamoured of her beauty.
3 She glorifieth her noble birth in that it is given her to live with God,
And [l] the Sovereign Lord of all loved her.
4 For she is initiated into the knowledge of God,
And she [9]chooseth out for him his works.
5 But if riches are a desired possession in life,
[m] What is richer than wisdom, [n] which worketh all things?
6 [10]And if understanding worketh,
Who more than [11]wisdom is [n] an artificer of the things that are?
7 And if a man loveth righteousness,
[12]The fruits of wisdom's labour are virtues,
For she teacheth soberness and understanding, righteousness and courage;
And there is nothing in life for men more profitable than these.
8 And if a man longeth even for [o] much experience,
She knoweth [13]the things of old, and [14]divineth the things to come:
[p] She understandeth subtilties of speeches and interpretations of dark sayings:
She foreseeth [q] signs and wonders, and the issues of seasons and times.
9 [r] I determined therefore to take her unto me to live with me,
Knowing that she is one who would [15]give me good thoughts for counsel,
And [16]encourage me in cares and grief.
10 Because of her I shall have glory [s] among multitudes,
And honour in the sight of elders, [t] though I be young.
11 I shall be found of a quick conceit [u] when I give judgement,
And in the presence of [17]princes I shall be admired.
12 [v] When I am silent, they shall wait for me;
And when I open my lips, they shall give heed unto me;
And if I continue speaking, [w] they shall lay their hand upon their mouth.
13 Because of her [x] I shall have immortality,
And leave behind an eternal memory to them that come after me.

14 [y] I shall govern peoples,
And nations shall be subjected to me.
15 Dread princes shall fear me when they hear of me:
Among my [1]people I shall shew myself a good ruler, and in war courageous.
16 When I am come into my house, I shall find rest with her;
For converse with her hath no bitterness,
[z] And to live with her hath no pain, but gladness and joy.
17 When I considered these things in myself,
And took thought in my heart how that [a] in kinship unto wisdom is immortality,
18 [b] And in her friendship is good delight,
And in the labours of her hands is [c] wealth that faileth not,
And in [2]assiduous communing with her is understanding,
And great renown in having fellowship with her words,
[d] I went about seeking how to take her unto myself.
19 Now I was [3]a child of parts, and a good soul fell to my lot;
20 Nay rather, being good, I came into a body undefiled.
21 But perceiving that I could not otherwise [4]possess wisdom [e] except God gave her me
(Yea and to know [5]by whom the grace is given, this too came of understanding),
[f] I pleaded with the Lord and besought him,
And [g] with my whole heart I said,

9 1 O God of the fathers, and [6]Lord who keepest thy mercy,
[h] Who madest all things [7]by thy word;
2 And by thy wisdom thou formedst man,
[i] That he should have dominion over the creatures that were made by thee,
3 And rule the world in holiness and righteousness,
And execute judgement in uprightness of soul;
4 Give me wisdom, [j] her that sitteth by thee [k] on thy [8]throne;
And reject me not from among thy [9]servants:
5 Because [l] I am thy bondman and the son of thy handmaid,
A man weak and short-lived,
And [m] of small power to understand judgement and laws.
6 For even if a man be perfect among the sons of men,
Yet if the wisdom that cometh from thee be not with him, he shall be held in no account.
7 [n] Thou didst choose me before my brethren to be king of thy people,
And to do judgement for thy sons and daughters.
8 [o] Thou gavest command to build a sanctuary in thy holy mountain,
And [10]an altar in the city of thy [11]habitation,
[p] A copy of the holy tabernacle which thou preparedst aforehand from the beginning.
9 And [q] with thee is wisdom, which knoweth thy works,
[r] And was present when thou wast making the world,
And which understandeth what is pleasing in thine eyes,
And what is right [12]according to thy commandments.
10 Send her forth [s] out of the holy heavens,
And [t] from the throne of thy glory bid her come,
That being present with me she may toil with me,
And that I may learn what is well-pleasing before thee.
11 For [u] she knoweth all things and hath understanding thereof,
And in my doings she shall guide me in ways of soberness,
And she shall guard me in her glory.
12 And so shall my works be acceptable,
And I shall judge thy people righteously,
And I shall be worthy of my father's [8]throne.
13 [v] For what man shall know the counsel of God?
Or who shall conceive what the Lord willeth?
14 For the thoughts of mortals are [13]timorous,
And our devices are prone to fail.
15 [w] For a corruptible body weigheth down the soul,
And the earthy frame lieth heavy on a mind that [14]is full of cares.
16 [x] And hardly do we [15]divine the things that are on earth,
And the things that are close at hand we find with labour;
But the things that are in the heavens who ever yet traced out?
17 And who ever gained knowledge of thy counsel, [y] except thou [16]gavest wisdom,
And sentest thy holy spirit [17]from on high?

18 And it was thus that the ways of them which are on earth were corrected,
[a] And men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee;
And [a] through wisdom were they saved.

[a] Baruch 4. 4.
[a] Cp. ch. 10. 4.

10 1 [1] Wisdom guarded to the end [b] the first formed father of the world, [c] that was created alone,
And delivered him out of his own transgression,
2 And [d] gave him strength to get dominion over all things.
3 But [e] when an unrighteous man fell away from her in his anger,
He perished himself in the rage wherewith he slew his brother.
4 And when for his cause [f] the earth was drowning with a flood,
[g] Wisdom again saved it,
Guiding [h] the righteous man's course [i] by a poor piece of wood.

5 Moreover, [j] when nations consenting together in wickedness had been confounded,
[1] Wisdom [k] knew the righteous man, and preserved him blameless unto God,
And [l] kept him strong when his heart yearned toward his child.

6 While [m] the ungodly were perishing,
[1] wisdom delivered [n] a righteous man,
When he fled from the fire that descended out of heaven [o] on [2] Pentapolis.
7 To whose wickedness a smoking waste still witnesseth,
And plants bearing fair fruit that cometh not to ripeness;
I'ea and a [3] disbelieving soul hath a memorial there, [p] a pillar of salt still standing.
8 For having passed wisdom by,
Not only were they disabled from recognising the things which are good,
But they also left behind them [4] for human life a monument of their folly;
To the end that [5] where they [6] went astray they might fail even to be unseen:
9 But wisdom delivered out of troubles those that waited on her.

10 [q] When a righteous man was a fugitive from a brother's wrath,
[1] wisdom guided him in straight paths;
[r] She shewed him God's kingdom, and gave him knowledge of holy things;
[s] She prospered him in his toils, and multiplied the fruits of his labour;
11 [t] When in their covetousness men dealt hardly with him,
She stood by him and made him rich;
12 [u] She guarded him from enemies,
And from those that lay in wait she kept him safe,
And [v] over his sore conflict she watched as judge,
That he might know that godliness is more powerful than [7] all.
13 [w] When a righteous man was sold,
[1] wisdom forsook him not,
[x] But [8] from sin she delivered him;
[y] She went down with him into a dungeon,
14 [z] And in bonds she left him not,
Till she brought him the sceptre of a kingdom,
And authority over those that dealt tyrannously with him;
She shewed them also to be false that had mockingly accused him,
And gave him eternal glory.

15 [1] Wisdom [a] delivered [b] a holy people and a blameless seed [c] from a nation of oppressors.
16 [d] She entered into the soul of [c] a servant of the Lord,
And [f] withstood terrible kings [g] in wonders and signs.
17 She rendered unto holy men [h] a reward of their toils;
She guided them along a marvellous way,
[i] And became unto them a covering in the day-time,
And a flame of stars through the night.
18 [j] She brought them over the Red sea,
And led them through much water;
19 [k] But their enemies she drowned,
And out of the bottom of the deep she cast them up.
20 [l] Therefore the righteous spoiled the ungodly;
[m] And they sang praise to thy holy name, O Lord,
And extolled with one accord thy hand that fought for them:
21 Because wisdom opened [n] the mouth of the dumb,
And made [o] the tongues of babes [p] to speak clearly.

11 [1] She prospered their works in the hand of a holy [q]prophet.

2 [r]They journeyed through a desert without inhabitant,
And in trackless regions they pitched their tents.
3 [s]They withstood enemies, and [1]repelled foes.
4 They thirsted, and they called upon thee,
And [t]there was given them water out of [2]the [u]flinty rock,
And healing of their thirst out of the hard stone.
5 For by what things their foes were punished,
By these they in their need were benefited.
6 [x]When the enemy were troubled [y]with clotted blood instead of a river's ever-flowing fountain,
7 To rebuke [w]the decree for the slaying of babes,
Thou gavest them abundant water beyond all hope,
8 Having shewn them by [4]the thirst which they had suffered [z]how thou didst punish the adversaries.
9 [y]For when they were tried, albeit but in mercy chastened,
They learned how the ungodly were tormented, being judged with wrath:
10 For these, [z]as a father, [a]admonishing them, thou didst prove;
But those, as a stern king, condemning them, thou didst search out.
11 Yea and whether they were far off from the righteous or near them, they were alike distressed;
12 For a double grief took hold on them,
And a groaning at the remembrance of things past.
13 For when they heard that through their own punishments the others [5]had been benefited,
[b]They felt the presence of the Lord;
14 For him who long before [c]was [6]cast forth and exposed they left off mocking:
In the last issue of what came to pass [7]they marvelled,
Having thirsted in another manner than the righteous.
15 But in requital of [d]the senseless imaginings of their unrighteousness,
[e]Wherein they were led astray to worship irrational reptiles and wretched vermin,
[f]Thou didst send upon them a multitude of irrational creatures for vengeance;
16 [g]That they might learn, that by what things a man sinneth, by these he is punished.
17 For thine all-powerful hand,
That created the world out of [h]formless matter,
[i]Lacked not means to send upon them [j]a multitude of bears, or fierce lions,
18 Or [8]new-created wild beasts, [k]full of rage, of unknown kind,
Either breathing out a blast of fiery breath,
[l]Or blowing forth from their nostrils noisome smoke,
Or flashing dreadful sparkles from their eyes;
19 Which had power not only to consume them by their [9]violence,
But to destroy them even by the terror of their sight.
20 Yea and without these might they have fallen by a single breath,
Being pursued by [m]Justice, and scattered abroad by the breath of thy power.
[n]But by measure and number and weight thou didst order all things.
21 For to be greatly strong is thine at all times;
And [o]the might of thine arm who shall withstand?
22 Because the whole world before thee is [p]as [10]a grain [11]in a balance,
And [q]as a drop of dew that at morning cometh down upon the earth.
23 But [r]thou hast mercy on all men, because thou hast power to do all things,
And [s]thou overlookest the sins of men [t]to the end they may repent.
24 For [u]thou lovest all things that are,
And abhorrest none of the things which thou didst make;
For never wouldest thou have formed anything if thou didst hate it.
25 And how would anything have endured, except thou hadst willed it?
Or that which was not [v]called by thee, how would it have been preserved?
26 But [w]thou sparest all things, because they are thine,
O Sovereign Lord, [x]thou lover of men's [12]lives;

12 [1] For thine incorruptible spirit [y]is in all things.
2 Wherefore thou convictest [z]by little and little them that [13a]fall from the right way,

[1] Or, took vengeance on foes [2] Or, the steep rock [3] The text of this verse is perhaps corrupt. And, putting them in remembrance
[b] by the very things wherein they sin, dost thou admonish them,
That escaping from their wickedness they may believe on thee, O Lord.

3 For verily the old inhabitants of thy [c] holy land,
4 [d] Hating them because they practised detestable works of enchantments and unholy rites
5 ([1] Merciless [e] slaughters of children,
And sacrificial banquets of men's flesh and of blood),
6 Confederates in an impious fellowship,
[e] And murderers of their own helpless babes,
[f] It was thy counsel to destroy by the hands of our fathers;
7 That the land [g] which in thy sight is most precious of all lands
Might receive a worthy colony of God's [2] servants.
8 Nevertheless even these [h] thou didst spare as being men,
And [i] thou sentest [3] hornets as forerunners of thy host,
To cause them to perish [j] by little and little;
9 Not that thou wast unable to subdue the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battle,
[k] Or by terrible beasts or [l] by one stern word to make away with them at once;
10 But judging them [j] by little and little thou gavest them a place of repentance,
Not being ignorant that [m] their nature by birth was evil, and their wickedness inborn,
And that their manner of thought would in no wise ever be changed,
11 For they were a seed [n] accursed from the beginning:
Neither was it through fear of any that thou didst leave them then unpunished for their sins.

12 [o] For who shall say, What hast thou done?
Or who shall withstand thy judgement?
And who shall accuse thee for the perishing of nations which thou didst make?
Or who shall come and stand before thee as an avenger for unrighteous men?
13 For neither is there [p] any God beside thee [q] that careth for all,
That thou mightest shew unto him that thou didst not judge unrighteously:
14 Neither shall king or prince be able to look thee in the face to plead for those whom thou hast punished.
15 But being righteous thou rulest all things righteously,
[r] Deeming it a thing alien from thy power
To condemn one that doth not himself deserve to be punished.
16 For thy strength is the beginning of righteousness,
And [s] thy sovereignty over all maketh thee to forbear all.
17 For [t] when men believe not that thou art perfect in power, thou shewest thy strength,
[4] And [5] in dealing with them that know it thou puttest their boldness to confusion.
18 [u] But thou, being sovereign over thy strength, judgest in gentleness,
And with great forbearance dost thou govern us;
[x] For the power is thine whensoever thou hast the will.

19 [v] But thou didst teach thy people by such works as these,
How that the righteous must be a lover of men;
And thou didst make thy sons to be of good hope,
Because thou givest repentance when men have sinned.
20 For if [w] on them that were enemies of thy [2] servants and due to death
Thou didst take vengeance with so great heedfulness and indulgence,
Giving them times and place whereby they might escape from their wickedness;
21 With how great carefulness didst thou judge thy sons,
[x] To whose fathers thou gavest oaths and covenants of good promises!
22 While therefore thou dost chasten us, thou scourgest our enemies ten thousand times more,
To the intent that we may ponder thy goodness [y] when we judge,
And when we are judged may look for mercy.
23 Wherefore also the unrighteous that lived in folly of life
[z] Thou didst torment through [a] their own abominations.
24 For verily they went astray very far [6] in the ways of error,
[b] Taking as gods those [7] animals which even among their enemies were held in dishonour, Deceived like foolish babes.
25 Therefore, as unto unreasoning children, thou didst send thy judgement to mock them.

26 But they that would not be admonished [1]by a mocking correction as of children
Shall have experience of a judgement worthy of God.
27 For through the sufferings whereat they were indignant,
[2]Being punished in these creatures which they supposed to be gods,
[c]They saw, and recognised as the true God him whom [d]before they [3]refused to know:
[e]Wherefore also the last end of condemnation came upon them.

13 [1] For verily all men by nature [3]were but [f]vain who had no perception of God,
And [g]from the good things that are seen they gained not power to know [h]him that is,
Neither by giving heed to the works did they recognise the artificer;
2 But either fire, or wind, or swift air,
Or [4]circling [i]stars, or raging water, or [5]luminaries of heaven,
They thought to be gods that rule the world.
3 And if it was through delight in their [j]beauty that they took them to be gods,
Let them know how much better than these is their Sovereign Lord;
For the first author of beauty created them:
4 But if it was through astonishment at their power and [6]influence, [k]Let them understand from them how much more powerful is he that formed them;
5 For from the [7]greatness of the beauty [8]even of created things
[9]In like proportion [10]does man form the image of their first maker.
6 But yet for these [11]men there is but small blame,
For they too peradventure do but go astray
[l]While they are seeking God and desiring to find him.
7 For [12]living among his works they make diligent search,
And they [13]yield themselves up to sight, because the things that they look upon are beautiful.
8 But again even [m]they are not to be excused.
9 For if they had power to know so much,
That they should be able to explore [14]the course of things,
How is it that they did not sooner find the Sovereign Lord of these his works?

10 But miserable [3]were they, and [15]in [n]dead things [3]were their hopes,
Who called them gods which are [o]works of men's hands,
Gold and silver, [p]wrought with careful art, and [q]likenesses of animals,
Or a useless stone, the work of an ancient hand.
11 Yea and if [r]some [16]woodcutter, having sawn down a [17]tree that is easily moved,
Skilfully strippeth away all its bark,
And fashioning it in comely form maketh [s]a vessel useful for the service of life;
12 [t]And burning the refuse of his handywork to dress his food, eateth his fill;
13 And taking the very refuse thereof which served to no use,
A crooked piece of wood and full of knots,
Carveth it with the diligence of his idleness,
And shapeth it by the skill of his [18]indolence;
[19]Then he giveth it the semblance of the image of a man,
14 Or maketh it like some [u]paltry animal,
[v]Smearing it with vermilion, and with [20]paint colouring it red,
And smearing over every stain that is therein;
15 And having made for it a chamber worthy of it,
[w]He setteth it in a wall, making it fast with iron.
16 While then he taketh thought for it [x]that it may not fall down,
[y]Knowing that it is unable to help itself;
(For verily it is an image, and hath need of help;)
17 [z]When he maketh his prayer concerning goods and his marriage and children,
He is not ashamed to speak to that which hath no life;
18 Yea for health he calleth upon that which is weak,
And for life he beseecheth [a]that which is dead,
And for aid he supplicateth that which hath least experience,
And for a good journey [a]that which cannot so much as move a step,
19 And for gaining and [21]getting and good success of his hands

He asketh ability of that which with its hands is most unable.

14 [1] Again, one preparing to sail, and about to journey over raging waves,
[b] Calleth upon a piece of wood more rotten than the vessel that carrieth him;
2 For that vessel the hunger for gains devised,
And an [c] artificer, even wisdom, built it;
3 And thy providence, O Father, guideth it along,
[d] Because even in the sea thou gavest a way,
And in the waves a sure path,
4 Shewing that thou canst save out of every danger,
That so even without art a man may put to sea;
5 And it is thy will that the works of thy wisdom should not be idle;
Therefore also do men intrust their lives to [e] a little piece of wood,
And passing through the surge [1] on a raft are brought safe to land.
6 For [2] in the old time also, when [f] proud giants were perishing,
The hope of the world, [g] taking refuge on a raft,
Left to [3] the race of men a seed of generations to come,
[h] Thy hand guiding the helm.
7 For blessed [4] hath been wood through which cometh righteousness:
8 But the idol made with hands is accursed, itself and [i] he that made it;
Because his was the working, and [f] the corruptible thing was named a god:
9 [k] For both the ungodly doer and his ungodliness are alike hateful to God;
10 For verily the deed shall be punished together with him that committed it.
11 [l] Therefore also [5] among the idols of the nations shall there be a visitation,
Because, though formed of things which God created, they were made [m] an abomination,
And stumblingblocks to the souls of men,
[n] And a snare to the feet of the foolish.
12 For [o] the devising of idols was the beginning of fornication,
And [p] the invention of them the corruption of life:
13 For neither were they from the beginning, [q] neither shall they be for ever;
14 For by the vaingloriousness of men they entered into the world,
And therefore was a speedy end devised for them.
15 For a father worn with untimely grief,
Making an image of the child quickly taken away,
Now honoured him as a god which was then a dead man,
And delivered to those that were under him [r] mysteries and solemn rites.
16 Afterward the ungodly custom, in process of time grown strong, was kept as a law,
And [s] by the commandments of princes the graven images received worship.
17 And when men could not honour them in presence because they dwelt far off,
Imagining the likeness from afar,
They made a visible image of the king whom they honoured,
That by their zeal they might flatter the absent as if present.
18 But unto a yet higher pitch was worship raised even by them that knew him not,
Urged forward by the ambition of the artificer:
19 For he, wishing peradventure to please one in authority,
[t] Used his art to force the likeness toward a greater beauty;
20 [u] And the multitude, allured by reason of the grace of his handywork,
[v] Now accounted as an object of devotion him that a little before was honoured as a man.
21 And [w] this became [6] [x] a hidden danger unto life,
Because men, in bondage either [y] to calamity or [z] to tyranny,
Invested stones and stocks [a] with the incommunicable Name.
22 Afterward it was not enough for them to go astray as touching the knowledge of God;
But also, while they live [7] in [8] sore conflict through ignorance of him,
[b] That multitude of evils they call peace.
23 For either [c] slaughtering children in solemn rites, or [d] celebrating secret mysteries,
Or [e] holding frantic revels of strange ordinances,
24 No longer do they [9] guard either life or purity of marriage,
But one brings upon another either death by treachery, or anguish by adulterate offspring.

25 [f] And all things confusedly are filled with blood and murder, theft and deceit,
Corruption, faithlessness, tumult, perjury, 26 [1] turmoil,
[g] Ingratitude for benefits received,
Defiling of souls, [h] confusion of [2] sex,
Disorder in marriage, adultery and wantonness.
27 For the worship of [3] those [i] nameless idols
[j] Is a beginning and cause and end of every evil.
28 For their worshippers either make merry unto madness, or prophesy lies,
Or live unrighteously, or lightly forswear themselves.
29 For putting their trust in lifeless idols,
[k] When they have sworn a wicked oath, they expect not to suffer harm.
30 But for both sins shall the just doom pursue them,
Because they had evil thoughts of God by giving heed to idols,
And [l] swore unrighteously in deceit through contempt for holiness.
31 For it is not the power of them by whom men swear,
But it is [4] that [m] Justice which hath regard to them that sin,
That visiteth always the transgression of the unrighteous.

15 1 [n] But thou, our God, art gracious and true,
Longsuffering, and in mercy ordering all things.
2 For even if we sin, [o] we are thine, knowing thy dominion;
But we shall not sin, knowing that we have been accounted thine:
3 For [p] to be acquainted with thee is [5] perfect righteousness,
And to know thy dominion is [q] the root of immortality.
4 [r] For neither were we led astray by any evil device of men's art,
Nor yet by [s] painters' fruitless labour,
A form stained with varied colours;
5 [t] The sight whereof leadeth fools into [6] lust:
Their desire is for the [u] breathless form of a [v] dead image.
6 Lovers of evil things, and worthy of such hopes as these,
Are [w] both they that do, and they that desire, and they that worship.

7 [x] For a potter, kneading soft earth,
Laboriously mouldeth each several vessel for our service:
Nay, [x] out of the same clay doth he fashion
Both [y] the vessels that minister to clean uses, and those of a contrary sort,
All in like manner;
But what shall be the use of each vessel of either sort,
The [7] craftsman himself is the judge.
8 And also, labouring to an evil end, he mouldeth a vain god out of the same clay,
He who, having but a little before been made of earth,
After a short space [z] goeth his way to the earth out of which he was taken,
When he is [a] required to render back the [8] soul [b] which was lent him.
9 Howbeit he hath anxious care,
Not because his powers must fail,
Nor because his span of life is short;
But he matcheth himself against goldsmiths and [9] [c] silversmiths,
And he imitateth moulders in [10] brass,
And esteemeth it glory that he mouldeth counterfeits.
10 His heart is ashes,
And his hope of less value than earth,
And his life of less honour than clay:
11 Because he was ignorant of him that moulded him,
And of him that inspired into him [11] an active [8] soul,
And [d] breathed into him a vital spirit.
12 But [12] he accounted our very life to be a [13] plaything,
And our [14] lifetime [e] a gainful [15] fair;
For, saith he, one must get gain whence one can, though it be by evil.
13 For this man beyond all others knoweth that he sinneth,
[f] Out of earthy matter making brittle vessels and graven images.
14 But most foolish [16] were they all, and [17] of feebler soul than a babe,
The enemies of thy people, who oppressed them;
15 Because they even accounted all the idols of the nations to be gods;
[g] Which have neither the use of eyes for seeing,
Nor nostrils [h] for drawing breath,
Nor ears to hear,
Nor fingers for handling,
And [i] their feet are helpless for walking.
16 For a man made them,
And one [j] whose own spirit is borrowed moulded them;
For no one hath power, being a man, to mould a god like unto himself,

17 But, being mortal, he maketh [h] a dead thing by the work of lawless hands;
For he is better than the objects of his worship,
[1] Forasmuch as he indeed had life, but [i] they never.

18 Yea, and [m] the creatures that are most hateful do they worship,
[2] For, being compared as to want of sense, these are worse than all others;

19 Neither, as seen beside other creatures, are they beautiful, so that one should desire them,
But [n] they have escaped both the praise of God and his blessing.

16 [1] For this cause were these men [o] worthily punished through creatures like those which they worship,
And tormented through a multitude of vermin.

2 Instead of which punishment, thou, bestowing benefits on thy people,
[p] Preparedst quails for food,
Food of [3] rare taste, to satisfy the desire of their appetite;

3 To the end that [4] thine enemies, desiring food,
Might for the hideousness of the creatures sent among them
[q] Loathe even the necessary appetite;
But these, thy people, [r] having for a short space suffered want,
Might even partake of food of [3] rare taste.

4 For it was needful that upon those should come inexorable want in their tyrannous dealing,
But that [s] to these it should only be shewed how their enemies were tormented.

5 For even [t] when terrible raging of wild beasts came upon [5] thy people,
And they were [u] perishing by the bites of crooked serpents,
Thy wrath continued not to the uttermost;

6 But [v] for admonition were they troubled for a short space,
Having [w] a token of salvation,
To put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law:

7 For he that turned toward it was not saved [x] because of that which was beheld,
But because of thee, [y] the Saviour of all.

8 Yea, and in this didst thou [z] persuade our enemies,
That thou art he that delivereth out of every evil.

9 For them verily the bites of [a] locusts and [b] flies did slay,
And there was not found a healing for their life,
Because they were worthy to be punished by such as these;

10 But thy sons not [c] the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame,
For thy mercy passed by where they were, and [d] healed them.

11 For they were [6] bitten, [e] to put them in remembrance of thine [d] oracles;
And were quickly saved, lest, falling into deep forgetfulness,
They should become [7] unable to be [8] roused by thy beneficence:

12 For of a truth it was neither herb nor [c] mollifying plaister that cured them,
But thy word, O Lord, [f] which healeth all things;

13 [g] For thou hast authority over life and death,
And thou leadest down to the gates of Hades, and leadest up again.

14 But though a man may slay by his [9] wickedness,
[h] Yet the spirit that is gone forth he turneth not again,
Neither giveth release to the soul that Hades hath received.

15 But thy hand it is not possible to escape;

16 For ungodly men, [10] [i] refusing to know thee, were scourged [j] in the strength of thine arm,
[k] Pursued with strange rains and hails and showers inexorable,
And utterly consumed with fire;

17 For, what was most marvellous of all,
In the water which quencheth all things [l] the fire wrought yet more mightily;
[m] For the world fighteth for the righteous.

18 For at one time the flame lost its fierceness,
[n] That it might not burn up the creatures sent against the ungodly,
[o] But that these themselves as they looked might [11] see that they were chased through the judgement of God:

19 [l] And at another time even in the midst of water it burneth above the power of fire,
[p] That it may destroy the [12] fruits of an unrighteous land.

20 Instead whereof [q] thou gavest thy people [r] angels' food to eat,
And bread ready for their use didst thou provide for them from heaven without their toil,
Bread having the virtue of [s] every pleasant savour,
And agreeing to every taste;

21 For [1]thy [2]nature manifested [t]thy sweetness toward thy children;
While that bread, ministering to the desire of the eater,
Tempered itself according to every man's choice.
22 [u]But snow and ice endured fire, and melted not,
[v]That men might know that fire was destroying the fruits of the enemies,
Burning in the hail and flashing in the rains;
23 And [3]that this element again, in order that righteous men may be nourished,
Hath even forgotten its own power.
24 [w]For the creation, ministering to thee its maker,
Straineth its force against the unrighteous, for punishment,
And slackeneth it in behalf of them that trust in thee, for beneficence.
25 Therefore at that time also, [x]converting itself into all forms,
It ministered to thine all-nourishing bounty,
According to the desire of them that [4]made supplication;
26 That thy sons, [y]whom thou lovedst, O Lord, might learn [z]That it is not the [5]growth of the earth's fruits that nourisheth a man,
But that thy word preserveth them that trust thee.
27 For that which was [a]not marred by fire,
[b]When it was simply warmed by a faint sunbeam melted away;
28 That it might be known that [c]we must rise before the sun to give thee thanks,
[d]And must plead with thee at the dawning of the light:
29 For the hope of [e]the unthankful shall melt as the winter's hoar frost,
And shall flow away as water that hath no use.

17 [1] For [f]great are thy judgements, [g]and hard to [6]interpret;
Therefore souls [h]undisciplined went astray.
2 For when lawless men had supposed that they held a holy nation in their power,
[i]They themselves, prisoners of darkness, and bound in the fetters of a long night,
Close kept beneath their roofs,
Lay exiled from the eternal providence.
3 For [j]while they thought that they were unseen in their secret sins,
They were [7]sundered one from another by a dark curtain of forgetfulness,
Stricken with terrible awe, and sore troubled by [k]spectral forms.
4 For neither did [8]the dark recesses that held them guard them from fears,
But [l]sounds [9]rushing down rang around them,
And [k]phantoms appeared, cheerless with unsmiling faces.
5 And no force of fire prevailed to give them light,
[m]Neither were the brightest flames of the stars strong enough to illumine that gloomy night:
6 [n]But only there appeared to them the glimmering of a fire self-kindled, full of fear;
And in terror they deemed the things which they saw
To be worse than that sight, on which they could not gaze.
7 [10]And they lay helpless, [o]made the sport of magic art,
And [p]a shameful rebuke of their vaunts of understanding:
8 For they that promised to drive away terrors and troublings from a sick soul,
These were themselves sick with a ludicrous fearfulness:
9 For even if no troublous thing affrighted them,
Yet, [q]scared with the creepings of vermin and hissings of serpents, [10]they perished [11]for very trembling,
Refusing even to look on the air, which could on no side be escaped.
11 [12]For wickedness, [r]condemned by a witness within, [s]is a coward thing,
And, [t]being pressed hard by conscience, [u]always [12]forecasteth the worst lot:
12 For fear is nothing else but [v]a surrender of the succours which reason offereth;
13 And from within the heart the expectation of them being less Maketh of greater account the ignorance of the cause that bringeth the torment.
14 But they, all through the night which was powerless indeed,
And which came upon them out of the recesses of powerless Hades,
All sleeping the same sleep,
15 Now were haunted by [w]monstrous apparitions,
And now were paralysed by their soul's [x]surrendering;
For fear sudden and unlooked for [14]came upon them.

[1] Some authorities read the substance thereof. [2] Or, creation Gr. substance. [3] Some authorities omit that. [4] Or, had need [5] Gr. generations. [6] Or, set forth [7] Gr. scattered by. [8] Gr. the recess. [9] Some authorities read troubling them sore. [10] Some authorities read And the mockeries of magic art lay low, and shameful was the rebuke &c. [11] Or, trembling, and refusing to [12] This is the probable sense: the Greek text is perhaps slightly corrupt. [13] Most authorities read hath added. [14] Some authorities read was poured upon them.

16 So then every man, whosoever it might be, sinking down [1] y in his place,
Was kept in ward shut up in that prison which was barred not with iron:
17 For whether he were a husbandman, or a shepherd,
Or a labourer whose toils were in the wilderness,
He was overtaken, and endured that inevitable necessity,
[2] z For with one chain of darkness were they all bound.
18 a Whether there were b a whistling wind,
Or a melodious noise of birds among the spreading branches,
Or a measured fall of water running violently,
19 Or a harsh crashing of rocks hurled down,
Or the swift course of animals bounding along unseen,
Or the voice of wild beasts harshly roaring,
Or an echo rebounding from [3] the hollows of the mountains,
c All these things paralysed them with terror.
20 d For the whole world beside was enlightened with clear light,
And was occupied with unhindered works;
21 e While over them alone was spread a heavy night,
An image of the darkness f that should afterward receive them;
But yet heavier than darkness were they g unto themselves.

18 1 But for h thy holy ones d there was great light;
And the Egyptians, hearing their voice but seeing not their form,
Counted it a happy thing that they too had suffered,
2 i Yet for that they do not hurt them now, though wronged by them before, they are thankful;
And because they had been at variance with them, they made supplication to them.
3 Whereas j thou didst provide for thy people a burning pillar of fire,
To be a guide for their unknown journey,
And withal a [4] kindly sun for their [5] proud exile.
4 For well did [6] the Egyptians deserve to be deprived of light and k imprisoned by darkness,
They who had kept l in close ward thy sons,
m Through whom the incorruptible [7] light of the law was to be given o to [8] the race of men.
5 After p they had taken counsel to slay the babes of h the holy ones,
And q when a single child had been cast forth and saved [9] to convict them of their sin,
r Thou tookest away from them their multitude of children,
And [10] destroyedst all their host together in a mighty flood.
6 t Of that night were our fathers made aware beforehand,
That, having sure knowledge, they might be cheered by [11] the oaths which they had trusted:
7 v So by thy people was expected salvation of the righteous and destruction of the enemies;
8 For as thou didst take vengeance on the adversaries,
[12] By the same means, calling us unto thyself, thou didst glorify us.
9 w For holy children [13] of good men offered sacrifice in secret,
And with one consent they took upon themselves the covenant of the [14] divine law,
That [15] they would partake alike in the same good things and the same perils;
x The fathers already leading the sacred songs of praise.
10 But there sounded back in discord y the cry of the enemies,
[16] And a piteous voice of lamentation for children was borne abroad.
11 [17] z And servant along with master punished with a like just doom,
And commoner suffering the same as king,
12 Yea, all the people together, under one form of death,
Had with them corpses without number;
For the living were not sufficient even a to bury them,
Since at a single [18] stroke b their [19] nobler offspring was consumed.
13 For while they were disbelieving all things c by reason of the enchantments,
Upon the destruction of the firstborn they confessed the people to be d God's son.
14 For while peaceful silence enwrapped all things,
And night in her own swiftness was e in mid course, 15 f Thine all-powerful word leaped from heaven out of [20] the royal [21] throne, g A stern warrior, into the midst of the [22] doomed land, 16 Bearing h as a sharp sword thine unfeigned commandment;

And standing it filled all things with death;
And [t]while it touched the heaven it trode upon the earth.
17 Then forthwith [u]apparitions in dreams terribly troubled them,
And fears came upon them unlooked for:
18 And each, one thrown here half dead, another there,
Made manifest wherefore he was dying:
19 For the dreams, perturbing them, did foreshew this,
That they might not perish without knowing why they were afflicted.

20 But it [1]befell the righteous also [k]to make trial of death,
And [l]a multitude were stricken in the wilderness:
Howbeit the wrath endured not for long.
21 [m]For a blameless man hasted to be their champion:
Bringing the weapon of his own ministry,
Even prayer and the propitiation of incense,
He withstood the indignation, and set an end to the calamity,
Shewing that [n]he was thy servant.
22 And he overcame the [2]anger,
Not by strength of body, not by efficacy of weapons;
But [3]by word did he subdue [4]the minister of punishment,
[o]By bringing to remembrance oaths and covenants made with the fathers.
23 For when the dead were already fallen in heaps one upon another,
[p]Standing between he stopped the advancing wrath,
And [5]cut off the way to the living.
24 For upon his [q]long high-priestly robe was the whole world,
And the glories of the fathers were upon the graving of [r]the four rows of [6]precious stones,
And thy majesty was upon [s]the diadem of his head.
25 To these [t]the destroyer gave place, and these [7]the people feared;
For it was enough only [u]to make trial of the wrath.

19 [1] But upon the ungodly there came unto the end indignation without mercy;
[v]For their future also God foreknew,
2 How that, having changed their minds to let thy people go,
And [w]having speeded them eagerly on their way,
[x]They would repent themselves and pursue them.
3 For while they were yet in the midst of their mourning,
And [y]making lamentation at the graves of the dead,
They drew upon themselves another counsel of folly,
And pursued as fugitives those whom [z]with intreaties they had cast out.
4 For [8]the doom which they deserved was drawing them [9]unto this end,
And it made them forget the things that had befallen them,
That they might [a]fill up the punishment which was yet wanting to their torments,
5 And [b]that thy people might [10]journey on by a marvellous road,
But they themselves might find a strange death.

6 [c]For the whole creation, each part in its several kind, was fashioned again anew,
[d]Ministering to thy several commandments,
That thy [11]servants might be guarded free from hurt.
7 [e]Then was beheld the cloud that shadowed the camp,
And [f]dry land rising up out of what before was water,
Out of the Red sea an unhindered highway,
And a grassy plain out of the violent surge;
8 [12]By which they passed over with all their hosts,
[g]These that were covered with thy hand,
Having beheld strange marvels.
9 For [h]like horses they roamed at large,
[i]And they skipped about [j]like lambs,
[k]Praising thee, O Lord, who wast their deliverer.
10 For they still remembered the things that came to pass in the time of their sojourning,
How that instead of [13]bearing [14]cattle
[l]the land brought forth [15]lice,
And instead of [16]fish the river cast up [m]a multitude of frogs.
11 [n]But afterwards they saw also a new [17]race of birds,
When, led on by desire, they asked for luxurious dainties;
12 For, to solace them, [n]there came up for them quails from the sea.

13 And upon the sinners came the punishments

[o] Not without the tokens that were given [1] beforehand by the force of the thunders;
For justly did they suffer through their own wickednesses,
[p] For [2] grievous indeed was the hatred which they practised toward guests.
14 [s] For whereas the men of Sodom
[q] received not [4] the strangers when they came among them;
[s r] The Egyptians made slaves of guests who were their benefactors.
15 And not only so, but God shall [6] visit [7] the men of Sodom after another sort,
[q] Since they received as enemies them that were aliens;
16 [s] Whereas these first welcomed with feastings,
And then afflicted with dreadful toils,
Them that had already shared with them in the same rights.
17 And moreover [t] they were stricken with loss of sight
(Even as were [u] those others at [v] the righteous man's doors),
When, [w] being compassed about with yawning darkness,
They sought every one the passage through his own door.
18 For as the notes of a [x] psaltery vary the character of the rhythm,
Even so did the elements, [y] changing their order one with another,
Continuing always the same, each in its several sound;
As may clearly be [8] divined from the sight of the things that are come to pass.
19 For creatures of the dry land were turned into creatures of the waters,
And creatures that swim trode now upon the earth:
20 [z] Fire kept the mastery of its own power in the midst of water,
And water forgat its quenching nature:
21 [a] Contrariwise, flames wasted not the flesh of perishable creatures that walked among them;
[b] Neither [9] melted they the [10] ice-like grains of ambrosial food, that were of nature apt to melt.
22 For in all things, O Lord, thou didst magnify thy people,
And thou didst glorify them and not lightly regard them;
Standing by their side in every time and place.

THE WISDOM OF JESUS THE SON OF SIRACH,

OR

ECCLESIASTICUS.

The Prologue of the Wisdom of Jesus the Son of Sirach.

WHEREAS many and great things have been delivered unto us by [a] the law and the prophets, and by the others that have followed in their steps, for the which things we must give Israel the praise of instruction and wisdom; and since not only the readers must needs become skilful themselves, but also they that love learning must be able to profit them which are without, both by speaking and writing; my grandfather Jesus, having much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and the other books of our fathers, and having gained great familiarity therein, was drawn on also himself to write somewhat pertaining to instruction and wisdom; in order that those who love learning, and are addicted to these things, might make progress much more by living according to the law. Ye are intreated therefore to read with favour and attention, and to pardon us, if in any parts of what we have laboured to interpret, we may seem to fail in some of the phrases. For things originally spoken [b] in Hebrew have not the same force in them, when they are translated into another tongue: and not only these, but [a] the law itself, and the prophecies, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their original language. For having come into Egypt in the eight and thirtieth year of Euergetes the king, and having continued there some time, I found [11] a copy affording no small instruction. I thought it therefore most necessary for me to apply some diligence and travail to interpret this book; applying indeed much watchfulness and skill in that space of time to bring the book to an end, and set it forth for them also, who in the land of their sojourning are desirous to learn, fashioning their manners beforehand, so as to live according to the law.

1 1 [c]ALL wisdom cometh from the Lord,
And [d]is with him for ever.
2 The [e]sand of the seas, and the [f]drops of rain,
And the days of eternity, who shall number?
3 [g]The height of the heaven, and the breadth of the earth,
And the deep, and wisdom, who shall search them out?
4 [h]Wisdom hath been created before all things,
And the understanding of prudence from everlasting.[1]
6 [i]To whom hath the root of wisdom been revealed?
And who hath known her shrewd counsels?[1]
8 There is [j]one wise, greatly to be feared,
The Lord sitting upon his throne:
9 He created her,
[k]And saw, and numbered her,
And poured her out [l]upon all his works.
10 [m]She is with all flesh according to his gift;
And he gave her freely [n]to them that love him.
11 [o]The fear of the Lord is glory, and exultation,
And gladness, and [p]a crown of rejoicing.
12 The fear of the Lord shall delight the heart,
And shall give gladness, and joy, and [q]length of days.
13 Whoso feareth the Lord, [r]it shall go well with him at the last,
And in the day of his death he shall be blessed.
14 [s]To fear the Lord is the beginning of wisdom;
And it was created together with the faithful in the womb.
15 [t]With men she [2]laid an eternal foundation;
And with their seed shall she be had in trust.
16 [u]To fear the Lord is the fulness of wisdom;
And she [3]satiateth men with [v]her fruits.
17 She shall fill all her house with desirable things,
And her garners with her produce.
18 The fear of the Lord is the crown of wisdom,
Making peace and [3]perfect health to flourish.[4]
19 [w]He both saw and numbered her;
He rained down skill and knowledge of understanding,
And [x]exalted the honour of them that hold her fast.
20 [y]To fear the Lord is [z]the root of wisdom;
And her branches are [q]length of days.[5]
22 [a]Unjust wrath can [4]never be justified;
For the sway of his wrath is his downfall.
23 [b]A man that is longsuffering will [6]bear [7]for a season,
And afterward gladness shall spring up unto him;
24 [c]He will hide his words [7]for a season,
And the lips of many shall tell forth his understanding.
25 [d]A parable of knowledge is in the treasures of wisdom;
But godliness is an abomination to a sinner.
26 [e]If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments,
And the Lord shall give her unto thee freely:
27 [f]For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction;
And in faith [g]and meekness is his good pleasure.
28 Disobey not the fear of the Lord[8];
And come not unto him [9]with a double heart.
29 Be not a hypocrite in the mouths of men;
[h]And take good heed to thy lips.
30 [i]Exalt not thyself, lest thou fall,
And bring dishonour upon thy soul;
And so the Lord shall reveal thy secrets,
And shall cast thee down [j]in the midst of the congregation;
Because thou camest not unto the fear of the Lord,
And thy heart was full of deceit.

2 1 My son, [k]if thou comest to serve the Lord,
Prepare thy soul for temptation.
2 Set thy heart aright, and constantly endure,
And [l]make not haste in time of calamity.
3 Cleave unto him, and depart not,
That thou mayest be increased [5]at thy latter end.
4 Accept whatsoever is brought upon thee,
And be longsuffering [6]when thou passest into humiliation.

5 [m] For gold is tried in the fire,
And [n] acceptable men in the furnace of humiliation.
6 [o] Put thy trust in him, and he will help thee:
Order thy ways aright, and set thy hope on him.

7 Ye that fear the Lord, [p] wait for his mercy;
And turn not aside, lest ye fall.
8 Ye that fear the Lord, put your trust in him;
[q] And your reward shall not fail.
9 Ye that fear the Lord, hope for good things,
And for eternal gladness and mercy.
10 Look at the generations of old, and see:
[r] Who did ever put his trust in the Lord, and was ashamed?
Or who did abide in his fear, and was forsaken?
[s] Or who did call upon him, and he despised him?
11 [t] For the Lord is full of compassion and mercy;
And he forgiveth sins, [u] and saveth in time of affliction.

12 Woe unto [v] fearful hearts, and to faint hands,
And to the sinner that [w] goeth two ways!
13 Woe unto the faint heart! for it believeth not;
Therefore shall it not be defended.
14 Woe unto you that have [x] lost your patience!
And what will ye do when the Lord shall visit you?
15 They that fear the Lord will not disobey his words;
And [y] they that love him will keep his ways.
16 They that fear the Lord will seek his good pleasure;
And they that love him shall be [z] filled with the law.
17 They that fear the Lord will prepare their hearts,
And will humble their souls in his sight, [18] saying,
[a] We will fall into the hands of the Lord,
And not into the hands of men:
[b] For as his majesty is,
So also is his mercy.

3 [1] Hear me your father, O my children,
And do thereafter, that ye may be saved.
2 For the Lord hath given the father [c] glory as touching the children,
And hath confirmed the judgement of the mother as touching the sons.

3 [d] He that honoureth his father shall make atonement for sins:
4 And he that giveth glory to his mother is as one [e] that layeth up treasure.
5 Whoso honoureth his father shall have joy of his children;
And in the day of his prayer he shall be heard.
6 He that giveth glory to his father [f] shall have length of days;
And he that hearkeneth unto the Lord shall bring rest unto his mother,
7 [1] And [g] will do service under his parents, as unto masters.
8 [c] In deed and word honour thy father,
That a blessing may come upon thee from him.
9 [h] For the blessing of the father establisheth the houses of children;
But the curse of the mother rooteth out the foundations.

10 Glorify not thyself in the dishonour of thy father;
For thy father's dishonour is no glory unto thee.
11 [i] For the glory of a man is from the honour of his father;
And a mother in dishonour is a reproach to her children.
12 My son, [j] help thy father in his old age;
And grieve him not as long as he liveth.
13 And if he fail in understanding, have patience with him;
And dishonour him not while thou art in thy full strength.
14 For the relieving of thy father shall not be forgotten:
[k] And instead of sins it shall be added [l] to build thee up.
15 In the day of thine affliction it shall remember thee;
As fair weather upon ice,
So shall thy sins also melt away.
16 He that forsaketh his father is as a blasphemer;
And [m] he that provoketh his mother is cursed of the Lord.

17 My son, go on with thy business in meekness;
So shalt thou be beloved of an [n] acceptable man.
18 [o] The greater thou art, humble thyself the more,
And thou shalt find favour before the Lord.[2]
20 For great is the potency of the Lord,
And he is glorified of them that are lowly.
21 [p] Seek not things that are too hard for thee,
And search not out things that are above thy strength.

22 q The things that have been commanded thee, think thereupon;
For thou hast no need of the things that are secret.
23 Be not r over busy in thy superfluous works:
For more things are shewed unto thee than men can understand.
24 s For the conceit of many hath led them astray;
And evil surmising hath caused their judgement to slip.[1] 26 t A stubborn heart shall fare ill at the last;
And he that loveth danger shall perish therein.
27 t A stubborn heart shall be laden with troubles;
And the sinner shall heap u sin upon [2]sin.
28 v The calamity of the proud is no healing;
For a plant of wickedness hath taken root in him.
29 w The heart of the prudent will understand a parable;
And the ear of a listener is the desire of a wise man.
30 Water will quench a flaming fire;
And x almsgiving will make atonement for sins.
31 He that requiteth good turns is mindful of that which cometh afterward;
And in the time of his falling he shall find a support.

4 1 My son, y deprive not the poor of his living,
And make not the needy eyes to wait long.
2 Make not a hungry soul sorrowful;
Neither provoke a man in his distress.
3 To a heart that is provoked add not more trouble;
And z defer not to give to him that is in need.
4 Reject not a suppliant in his affliction;
And a turn not away thy face from a poor man.
5 Turn not away thine eye from one that asketh of thee,
b And give none occasion to a man to curse thee:
6 For c if he curse thee in the bitterness of his soul,
d He that made him will hear his supplication.
7 Get thyself the love of the congregation;
And to a great man bow thy head.
8 Incline thine ear to a poor man,
And answer him with peaceable words in meekness.
9 e Deliver him that is wronged from the hand of him that wrongeth him;
And be not fainthearted in giving judgement.
10 f Be as a father unto the fatherless,
And instead of a husband unto their mother:
So shalt thou be as g a son of the Most High,
And he shall love thee h more than thy mother doth.
11 i Wisdom exalteth her sons,
j And taketh hold of them that seek her.
12 k He that loveth her loveth life;
And l they that seek to her early shall be filled with gladness.
13 He that holdeth her fast m shall inherit glory;
And where [3]he entereth, the Lord will bless.
14 They that do her service shall minister to the Holy One;
And them that love her the Lord doth love.
15 He that giveth ear unto her n shall judge the nations;
And he that giveth heed unto her shall dwell securely.
16 If he trust her, he shall inherit her;
And his generations shall have her in possession.
17 o For at the first she will walk with him in crooked ways,
And will bring fear and dread upon him,
And torment him with her discipline,
Until she may trust his soul, and try him by her judgements:
18 Then will she return again the straight way unto him, p And will gladden him, and q reveal to him her secrets.
19 If he go astray, she will forsake him,
And give him over [4]to his fall.
20 r Observe the opportunity, and beware of [5]evil;
And s be not ashamed concerning thy soul.
21 For t there is a shame that bringeth sin;
And u there is a shame that is glory and grace.
22 v Accept not the person of any against thy soul;
And [6]reverence no man unto thy falling.
23 w Refrain not speech, [7]when it tendeth to safety;
[8]And hide not thy wisdom for the sake of fair-seeming.
24 For by speech wisdom shall be known;
And instruction by the word of the tongue.

25 Speak not against the truth;
And be abashed for thine ignorance.
26 [x] Be not ashamed to make confession of thy sins;
And force not the current of the river.
27 Lay not thyself down for a fool to tread upon;
And [y] accept not the person of one that is mighty.
28 Strive for the truth unto death, and the Lord God shall fight for thee.

29 [z] Be not [1] hasty in thy tongue,
And in thy deeds slack and remiss.
30 Be not [a] as a lion in thy house,
[b] Nor fanciful among thy servants.
31 [c] Let not thine hand be stretched out to receive, and [2] closed when thou shouldest repay.

5 1 [d] Set not thy heart upon thy goods;
And say not, [e] They are sufficient for me.
2 [f] Follow not thine own mind and thy strength,
To walk in the desires of thy heart;
3 And say not, [g] Who shall have dominion over me?
For the Lord will surely take vengeance on thee.

4 [h] Say not, I sinned, and what happened unto me?
[i] For the Lord is longsuffering.[3]
5 Concerning atonement, be not without fear,
[j] To add sin upon sins:
6 And say not, His compassion is great;
He will be pacified for the multitude of my sins:
[k] For mercy and wrath are with him,
And his indignation will rest upon sinners.
7 [l] Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord;
And put not off from day to day:
[m] For suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord come forth;[4]
And thou shalt perish in the time of vengeance.

8 [n] Set not thine heart upon unrighteous gains:
[o] For thou shalt profit nothing in the day of calamity.
9 Winnow not with every wind,
And walk not in every path:
Thus doeth the sinner [p] that hath a double tongue.
10 Be stedfast in thy understanding;
And let thy word be one.

11 [q] Be swift to hear;[5]
And [r] with patience make thine answer.
12 [s] If thou hast understanding, answer thy neighbour;
And if not, [t] let thy hand be upon thy mouth.
13 [u] Glory and dishonour is in talk:
And the tongue of a man is his fall.
14 Be not called [v] a whisperer;
And lie not in wait with thy tongue:
For upon the thief there is shame,
And an evil condemnation upon him [p] that hath a double tongue.
15 In a great matter and in a small, be not ignorant;

6 1 And instead of a friend become not an enemy;
For an evil name shall inherit shame and reproach:
Even so shall the sinner [p] that hath a double tongue.

2 [w] Exalt not thyself in the counsel of thy soul;
That thy soul be not torn in pieces as a bull:
3 Thou shalt eat up thy leaves, and destroy thy fruits,
And leave thyself [x] as a dry tree.
4 A wicked soul shall destroy him that hath gotten it,
And shall make him [6] [y] a laughing-stock to his enemies.

5 [7] [z] Sweet words will multiply [8] a man's friends;
And a fair-speaking tongue will multiply courtesies.
6 Let those that are at peace with thee be many;
But thy counsellors [a] one of a thousand.
7 [b] If thou wouldest get thee a friend, get him [9] by proving,
And be not in haste to trust him.
8 For there is a friend that is so for his own occasion;
And [c] he will not continue in the day of thy affliction.
9 And there is a friend that turneth to enmity;
And he will discover strife to thy reproach.
10 And [d] there is a friend that is a companion at the table;
And [c] he will not continue in the day of thy affliction.
11 And in thy prosperity he will be as thyself,
And will be bold over thy servants:
12 If thou shalt be brought low, he will be against thee,
And will hide himself from thy face.
13 Separate thyself from thine enemies;
And beware of thy friends.

And he that hath found him hath found a treasure.
15 There is nothing that can be taken in exchange for a faithful friend;
And his excellency is beyond [1]price.
16 A faithful friend is a medicine of life;
And they that fear the Lord shall find him.
17 He that feareth the Lord directeth his friendship aright;
[f]For as he is, so is his neighbour also.
18 My son, gather instruction from thy youth up:
And even unto hoar hairs thou shalt find wisdom.
19 Come unto her as one that ploweth and soweth,
And [g]wait for her good fruits;
[h]For thy toil shall be little in the tillage of her,
And thou shalt eat of her fruits right soon.
20 [i]How exceeding harsh is she to the unlearned!
And he that is without understanding will not abide in her.
21 As [j]a mighty stone of trial shall she rest upon him;
And [k]he will not delay to cast her from him.
22 For wisdom is according to her name; and she is not manifest unto many.
23 [l]Give ear, my son, and accept my judgement,
And refuse not my counsel,
24 And bring thy feet into her fetters,
And thy neck into [m]her chain.
25 [n]Put thy shoulder under her, and bear her,
And be not grieved with her bonds.
26 Come unto her with all thy soul,
And keep her ways with thy whole power.
27 [o]Search, and seek, and she shall be made known unto thee;
And when thou hast got hold of her, [p]let her not go.
28 For at the last [q]thou shalt find her rest;
[q]And [2]she shall be turned for thee into gladness.
29 And her fetters shall be to thee for a covering of strength,
And [r]her chains for a robe of glory.
30 For there is a golden ornament upon her,
And her bands are [s]a riband of blue.
31 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of glory,
And shalt array thee with her as [t]a crown of rejoicing.
32 My son, if thou wilt, thou shalt be instructed;
And if thou wilt yield thy soul, thou shalt be [3]prudent.
33 If thou love to hear, thou shalt receive;
And if thou incline thine ear, thou shalt be wise.
34 [u]Stand thou in the multitude of the elders;
And whoso is wise, cleave thou unto him.
35 Be willing to listen to every godly discourse;
And let not [v]the proverbs of understanding escape thee.
36 [w]If thou seest a man of understanding, get thee betimes unto him,
[x]And let thy foot wear out the steps of his doors.
37 Let thy mind dwell upon the ordinances of the Lord,
And [y]meditate continually in his commandments:
[z]He shall establish thine heart,
And thy desire of wisdom shall be given unto thee.

7 1 Do no evil, [a]so shall no evil overtake thee.
2 Depart from wrong, and it shall turn aside from thee.
3 My son, [b]sow not upon the furrows of unrighteousness,
And thou shalt not reap them [c]sevenfold.
4 Seek not of the Lord preeminence,
Neither of the king the seat of honour.
5 [d]Justify not thyself in the presence of the Lord;
And display not thy wisdom before the king.
6 Seek not to be a judge,
Lest thou be not able to take away iniquities;
[e]Lest haply thou fear the person of a mighty man,
And lay a stumblingblock in the way of thy uprightness.
7 [f]Sin not against the multitude of the city,
And cast not thyself down in the crowd.
8 Bind not up [g]sin twice;
For in one sin thou shalt not be unpunished.
9 [h]Say not, He will look upon the multitude of my gifts,
And when I offer to the Most High God, he will accept [4]it.
10 [i]Be not fainthearted in thy prayer;
And [j]neglect not to give alms.
11 [k]Laugh not a man to scorn when he is in the bitterness of his soul;
For [l]there is one who humbleth and exalteth.

Neither do the like to a friend.

13 Love not to make any manner of lie;
For the custom thereof is not for good.
14 Prate not in the multitude of elders;
And [m] repeat not thy words in thy prayer.

15 Hate not laborious work;
Neither [n] husbandry, which the Most High hath [1] ordained.
16 Number not thyself among the multitude of sinners:
Remember that wrath will not tarry.
17 [o] Humble thy soul greatly;
For the punishment of the ungodly man is [p] fire and the worm.

18 Change not a friend for [q] a thing indifferent;
Neither a true brother for the gold [r] of Ophir.
19 [s] Forgo not a wise and good wife;
[t] For her grace is above gold.
20 [u] Entreat not evil a servant that worketh truly,
[v] Nor a hireling that giveth thee his [2] life.
21 Let thy soul love a wise servant;
[w] Defraud him not of liberty.

22 [x] Hast thou cattle? have an eye to them;
And if they are profitable to thee, let them stay by thee.
23 Hast thou children? [y] correct them,
And bow down their neck from their youth.
24 [z] Hast thou daughters? give heed to their body,
And make not thy face cheerful toward them.
25 Give thy daughter in marriage, and thou shalt have accomplished a great matter:
And give her to a man of understanding.

26 Hast thou a wife after thy mind? cast her not out:
[3] But trust not thyself to one that is [4] hateful.
27 [a] Give glory to thy father with thy whole heart;
And [b] forget not the pangs of thy mother.
28 Remember that of them thou wast born:
And what wilt thou recompense them for the things that they have done for thee?

29 Fear the Lord with all thy soul;
And reverence his priests.
30 [c] With all thy strength love him that made thee;
And [d] forsake not his ministers.
31 Fear the Lord, and glorify the priest;
[e] And give him his portion, even as it is commanded thee;
[f] The firstfruits, and [g] the trespass offering, and [h] the gift of the shoulders,
And [i] the sacrifice of sanctification, and the firstfruits of holy things.

32 [j] Also to the poor man stretch out thy hand,
That thy blessing may be perfected.
33 A gift hath grace in the sight of every man living;
And [k] for a dead man keep not back grace.
34 Be not wanting to them that weep;
[l] And mourn with them that mourn.
35 [m] Be not slow to visit a sick man;
For by such things thou shalt gain love.
36 In all thy [5] matters [n] remember thy last end,
And thou shalt never do amiss.

8 1 [o] Contend not with a mighty man,
Lest haply thou fall into his hands.
2 [p] Strive not with a rich man, lest haply he overweigh thee:
[q] For gold hath destroyed many,
And turned aside the hearts of kings.
3 Contend not with a man that is [r] full of tongue,
[s] And heap not wood upon his fire.

4 Jest not with a rude man,
Lest thine ancestors be dishonoured.
5 Reproach not a man [t] when he turneth from sin:
Remember that we are all worthy of punishment.
6 [u] Dishonour not a man in his old age;
For some of us also are waxing old.
7 Rejoice not over one that is dead:
Remember that we die all.

8 [v] Neglect not the discourse of the wise,
And be conversant with [w] their proverbs;
For of them thou shalt learn instruction,
And how to minister to great men.
9 [x] Miss not the discourse of the aged;
For they also learned of their fathers:
Because from them thou shalt learn understanding,
And [y] to give answer in time of need.

10 [z] Kindle not the coals of a sinner,
Lest thou be burned with the [6] flame of his fire.
11 Rise not up from the presence of an insolent man,
Lest he lie in wait as [a] an ambush for thy mouth.
12 Lend not to a man that is mightier than thyself;

[a] And if thou lend, be as one that hath lost.
13 Be not surety above thy power:
[b] And if thou be surety, take thought as one that will have to pay.

14 Go not to law with a judge;
For according to his honour will they give judgement for him.
15 Go not in the way with a rash man,
Lest he be aggrieved with thee;
For he will do according to his own will,
And thou shalt perish with his folly.
16 [c] Fight not with a wrathful man,
[d] And travel not with him through the desert:
For blood is as nothing in his sight;
And where there is no help, he will overthrow thee.
17 [e] Take not counsel with a fool;
[f] For he will not be able to conceal the matter.
18 Do no secret thing before a stranger;
For thou knowest not what [1] he will bring forth.
19 Open not thine heart to every man;
And let him not return thee a favour.

9 1 Be not jealous over [g] the wife of thy bosom,
And teach her not an evil lesson against thyself.
2 [h] Give not thy soul unto a woman,
That she should set her foot upon thy strength.
3 [i] Go not to meet a woman that playeth the harlot,
Lest haply thou fall into her snares.
4 Use not the company of a woman that is a singer,
Lest haply thou be caught by her attempts.
5 [j] Gaze not on a maid, lest haply thou be trapped [k] in her penalties.
6 Give not thy soul unto harlots,
[l] That thou lose not thine inheritance.
7 Look not round about thee [m] in the streets of the city,
Neither wander thou in the solitary places thereof.
8 [n] Turn away thine eye from a comely woman,
And gaze not on another's beauty:
[o] By the beauty of a woman many have been led astray;
[p] And herewith love is kindled as a fire.
9 [q] Sit not at all with a woman that hath a husband; [2]
And revel not with her at the wine;
Lest haply thy soul turn aside unto her,
And with thy spirit thou slide into destruction.

10 [r] Forsake not an old friend;
For the new is not comparable to him:
As new wine, so is a new friend;
[s] If it become old, thou shalt drink it with gladness.

11 [t] Envy not the glory of a sinner;
For thou knowest not what shall be his overthrow.
12 Delight not in the delights of the ungodly:
Remember [u] they shall not go unpunished unto [3] the grave.

13 Keep thee far from the man that hath [4] power to kill,
And thou shalt have no suspicion of the fear of death:
And if thou come unto him, commit no fault,
Lest he take away thy life:
Know surely that thou goest about in the midst of snares,
And walkest upon the battlements of a city.

14 As well as thou canst, guess at thy neighbours;
And [v] take counsel with the wise.
15 [w] Let thy converse be with men of understanding;
And let all thy discourse be [x] in the law of the Most High.
16 Let just men be the companions of thy board;
And let [y] thy glorying be in the fear of the Lord.

17 For the hand of the artificers a work shall be commended:
And he that ruleth the people shall be counted wise for his speech.
18 A man [z] full of tongue is dangerous in his city;
And [a] he that is headlong in his speech shall be hated.

10 1 A wise judge will instruct his people;
And the government of a man of understanding shall be well ordered.
2 [b] As is the judge of his people, so are his ministers;
And as is the ruler of the city, such are all they that dwell therein.
3 [c] An uninstructed king will destroy his people;
And a city will be established through the understanding of the powerful.
4 [d] In the hand of the Lord is the authority of the earth;
And in due time he will raise up over it one that is profitable.
5 [e] In the hand of the Lord is the prosperity of a man;

And [f] upon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.

6 [g] Be not wroth with thy neighbour for every wrong;
And do nothing by works of violence.
7 [h] Pride is hateful before the Lord and before men;
And in the judgement of both will unrighteousness err.
8 [i] Sovereignty is transferred from nation to nation,
Because of iniquities, and deeds of violence, and greed of money.

[k] Because in his life he hath cast away his bowels.
10 It is a long disease; the physician mocketh:
[l] And he is a king to-day, and to-morrow he shall die.
11 For when a man is dead,
He shall inherit [m] creeping things, and beasts, and worms.
12 [n] It is the beginning of pride when a man departeth from the Lord;
And his heart is departed from him that made him.
13 For the beginning of pride is sin;
And he that keepeth it will pour forth abomination.
For this cause the Lord brought upon them strange calamities,
And overthrew them utterly.
14 [o] The Lord cast down the thrones of rulers,
And set the meek in their stead.
15 The Lord plucked up the roots of nations,
And planted the lowly in their stead.
16 [p] The Lord overthrew the lands of nations,
And destroyed them unto the foundations of the earth.
17 He took some of them away, and destroyed them,
And [q] made their memorial to cease from the earth.
18 [r] Pride hath not been created for men,
Nor wrathful anger for the offspring of women.

19 [s] What manner of seed hath honour?
[s] the seed of man.
What manner of seed hath honour?
[t] they that fear the Lord.
What manner of seed hath no honour?
[u] the seed of man.
What manner of seed hath no honour?
[t] they that transgress the commandments.
20 In the midst of brethren he that ruleth them hath honour;
And in the eyes of the Lord they that fear him. [4]
21 The rich man, and the honourable, and the poor,
[v] Their glorying is the fear of the Lord.
22 [w] It is not right to dishonour a poor man that hath understanding;
And it is not fitting to glorify a man that is a sinner.
23 The great man, and the judge, and the mighty man, shall be glorified;
And [x] there is not one of them greater than he that feareth the Lord.
24 [y] Free men shall minister unto a wise servant;
And a man that hath knowledge will not murmur thereat.

25 Be not over wise in doing thy work;
And glorify not thyself in the time of thy distress.
26 [z] [5] Better is he that laboureth, and aboundeth in all things,
Than he that glorifieth himself, and lacketh bread.
27 My son, glorify thy soul in meekness,
And [a] give it honour according to the worthiness thereof.
28 Who will justify him that [b] sinneth against his own soul?
[c] And who will glorify him that dishonoureth his own life?

29 A poor man is glorified for his knowledge;
And a rich man is glorified for his riches.
30 But he that is glorified in poverty, how much more in riches?
And he that is inglorious in riches, how much more in poverty?

II 1 The wisdom of the lowly shall lift up his head,
And [d] make him to sit in the midst of great men.

2 [e] Commend not a man for his beauty;
And abhor not a man for his outward appearance.
3 The bee is little among such as fly;
And [f] her fruit is the chief of sweetmeats.
4 Glory not in the putting on of raiment,
And [g] exalt not thyself in the day of honour;
[h] For the works of the Lord are wonderful,
And his works are hidden among men.
5 Many [6] kings have sat down upon the ground;
And [i] one that was never thought of hath worn a diadem.
6 [j] Many mighty men have been greatly disgraced;
And men of renown have been delivered into other men's hands.

7 [k] Blame not before thou hast examined:

[4] Verse 21 is omitted by the best authorities. [5] The Greek text of this verse is uncertain. [6] Gr. tyrants.

Understand first, and then rebuke.
8 [t] Answer not before thou hast heard;
And interrupt not in the midst of speech.
9 Strive not in a matter that concerneth thee not;
And where sinners judge, sit not thou with them.

10 My son, be not busy about many matters:
For [u] if thou meddle much, thou shalt not be unpunished;
And if thou pursue, thou shalt not overtake;
And thou shalt not escape by fleeing.
11 [x] There is one that toileth, and labourreth, and maketh haste,
And is so much the more behind.
12 There is one that is sluggish, and hath need of help,
Lacking in strength, and that aboundeth in poverty;
And [y] the eyes of the Lord looked upon him for good,
And he set him up from his low estate,
13 And lifted up his head;
And many marvelled at him.

14 [z] Good things and evil, life and death,
Poverty and riches, are from the Lord.[1]
17 The gift of the Lord remaineth with the godly,
And his good pleasure shall prosper for ever.
18 [a] There is that waxeth rich by his wariness and pinching,
And this is the portion of his reward:
19 When he saith, [b] I have found rest,
And now will I eat of my goods;
Yet he knoweth not what time shall pass,
And [c] he shall leave them to others, and die.
20 Be stedfast in thy covenant, and be conversant therein,
And wax old in thy work.

21 [d] Marvel not at the works of a sinner;
But trust the Lord, and abide in thy labour:
For it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord swiftly on the sudden to make a poor man rich.
22 The blessing of the Lord is in the reward of the godly;
And in an hour that cometh swiftly he maketh his blessing to flourish.
23 [e] Say not, What use is there of me?
And what from henceforth shall my good things be?
24 [f] Say not, I have sufficient,
And from henceforth what harm shall happen unto me?

25 [g] In the day of good things there is a forgetfulness of evil things;
And in the day of evil things a man will not remember things that are good.
26 For it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord
[h] To reward a man in the day of death according to his ways.
27 The affliction of an hour causeth forgetfulness of delight;
And [i] in the last end of a man is the revelation of his deeds.
28 Call no man blessed before his death;
And [k] a man shall be known in his children.

29 Bring not every man into thine house;
For many are the plots of the deceitful man.
30 [l] As a decoy partridge in a cage, so is the heart of a proud man;
And as one that is a spy, he looketh upon thy falling.
31 For he lieth in wait to turn [m] things that are good into evil;
And in things that are praiseworthy he will lay blame.
32 [n] From a spark of fire a heap of many coals is kindled;
And [o] a sinful man lieth in wait for blood.
33 [p] Take heed of an evil-doer, for he contriveth wicked things;
Lest haply he bring upon thee blame for ever.
34 Receive a stranger into thine house, and he will distract thee with brawls,
And estrange thee from thine own.

12 1 If thou do good, [q] know to whom thou doest it;
And thy good deeds shall have thanks.
2 [r] Do good to a godly man, and thou shalt find a recompense;
[s] And if not from him, yet from the Most High.
3 There shall no good come to him that continueth to do evil,
[t] Nor to him that giveth no alms.
4 Give to the godly man,
And [u] help not the sinner.
5 Do good to one that is lowly,
And give not to an ungodly man:
Keep back his bread, and give it not to him,
Lest he overmaster thee thereby:
For thou shalt receive twice as much evil
For all the good thou shalt have done unto him.
6 [x] For the Most High also hateth sinners,
And will repay vengeance unto the ungodly.[2]

7 Give to the good man,
And [f] help not the sinner.

[f] Cp. ch. 6. 7.

8 A man's friend will not [1] be [1] fully tried in prosperity;
And his enemy will not be hidden in adversity.

9 In a man's prosperity his enemies are grieved;
And [m] in his adversity even his friend will be separated from him.

[m] Prov. 19. 4, 7.

10 Never trust thine enemy:
For like as the brass rusteth, so is his wickedness.

11 Though [n] he humble himself, [o] and go crouching,
Yet take good heed, and beware of him,
And thou shalt be unto him as one that hath wiped a mirror,
And thou shalt know that [2] he hath not utterly rusted it.

[n] Cp. ch. 19. 23.
[o] Cp. Ps. 10. 10.

12 Set him not by thee,
Lest he overthrow thee and stand in thy place;
Let him not sit on thy right hand,
Lest he seek to take thy seat,
And at the last thou acknowledge my words,
And be [p] pricked with my sayings.

[p] ch. 14. 1. Cp. Acts 2. 37.

13 Who will pity [q] a charmer that is bitten with a serpent,
Or any that come nigh wild beasts?

[q] Cp. Ps. 58. 5 & Eccles. 10. 11 & Jer. 8. 17.

14 [r] Even so who will pity him that goeth to a sinner,
And is mingled with him in his sins?

[r] Cp. ch. 21. 2.

15 For a while he will abide with thee,
And if thou give way, he will not hold out.

16 And [s] the enemy will speak sweetly with his lips,
And in his heart take counsel how to overthrow thee into a pit:
[t] The enemy will weep with his eyes,
And if he find opportunity, he will not be satiated with blood.

[t] Cp. Jer. 41. 6, 7.

17 If adversity meet thee, thou shalt find him there before thee;
And as though he would help thee, [u] he will trip up thy heel.

[u] Cp. Ps. 41. 9.

18 [v] He will shake his head, and clap his hands,
And whisper much, and [w] change his countenance.

[v] ch. 13. 7.
[w] ch. 13. 25.

13 1 [x] He that toucheth pitch shall be defiled;
And he that hath fellowship with a proud man shall become like unto him.

[x] Cp. Isai. 52. 11.

2 Take not up a burden above thy strength;
And have no fellowship with one that is mightier and richer than thyself.
What fellowship shall the earthen pot have with the kettle?
This shall smite, and that shall be dashed in pieces.

3 [y] The rich man doeth a wrong, and he threateneth withal:
[z] The poor is wronged, and he shall intreat withal.

[y] Cp. Prov. 18. 23.
[z] Cp. Prov. 19. 7.

4 If thou be profitable, he will make merchandise of thee;
And if thou be in want, he will forsake thee.

5 If thou have substance, he will live with thee;
And he will make thee bare, and will not be sorry.

6 Hath he had need of thee? then he will deceive thee,
And smile upon thee, and give thee hope:
He will speak thee fair, and say,
What needest thou?

7 And [a] he will shame thee by his meats,
Until he have made thee bare twice or thrice,
And at the last he will laugh thee to scorn:
Afterward will he see thee, and will forsake thee,
And [b] shake his head at thee.

[a] Cp. Prov. 23. 3.
[b] ch. 12. 18.

8 Beware that thou be not deceived, and brought low in thy mirth.

9 If a mighty man invite thee, be retiring,
And so much the more will he invite thee.

10 [c] Press not upon him, lest thou be thrust back;
And stand not far off, lest thou be forgotten.

[c] Cp. Prov. 25. 6, 7.

11 Affect not to speak with him [d] as an equal,
And believe not his many words:
For with much talk will he try thee,
And in a smiling manner will search thee out.

[d] Cp. ch. 32. 2.

12 He that keepeth not to himself words spoken is unmerciful;
And he will not spare to hurt and to bind.

13 Keep them to thyself, and take earnest heed,
For thou walkest [3] in peril of thy falling.[4]

15 [e] Every living creature loveth his like,
[f] And every man loveth his neighbour.

[e] Cp. ch. 27. 9.
[f] Cp. ch. 18. 13.

16 All flesh consorteth according to kind,
And a man will cleave to his like.

17 What fellowship shall the wolf have with the lamb?
[g] So is the sinner unto the godly.

[g] Cp. Prov. 29. 27 & 2 Cor. 6. 14, 15.

18 What peace is there between the hyena and the dog?
And what peace between the rich man and the poor?

[h] Cp. Jer. 2. 24.

19 [h] Wild asses are the prey of lions in the wilderness;
So poor men are [i] pasture for the rich.

20 Lowliness is an abomination to a proud man;
So a poor man is an abomination to the rich.

21 [j] A rich man when he is shaken is held up of his friends;
But [k] one of low degree being down is thrust away also by his friends.

22 When a rich man is fallen, there are many helpers;
He speaketh [1] things not to be spoken, and men justify him:
A man of low degree falleth, and men rebuke him withal;
[l] He uttereth wisdom, and no place is allowed him.

23 [m] A rich man speaketh, and all keep silence;
And what he saith they extol to the clouds:
A poor man speaketh, and they say, Who is this?
And if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.

24 [n] Riches are good that have no sin;
And poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.

25 The heart of a man [o] changeth his countenance,
Whether it be for good or for evil.[2]

26 [p] A cheerful countenance is a token of a heart that is in prosperity;
And the finding out of parables is [q] a weariness of thinking.

14 1 [r] Blessed is the man that hath not slipped with his mouth,
And is not [s] pricked with sorrow for sins.

2 [t] Blessed is he whose soul doth not condemn him,
And who is not fallen from his hope.

3 [u] Riches are not comely for a niggard;
And what should an envious man do with money?

4 He that gathereth by taking from his own soul [v] gathereth for others;
And others shall revel in his goods.

5 He that is evil to himself, to whom will he be good?
And he shall not rejoice in his possessions.

6 There is none more evil than he that envieth himself;
And this is a recompense of his wickedness.

7 Even if he doeth good, he doeth it in forgetfulness;
And at the last he sheweth forth his wickedness.

8 Evil is he [w] that envieth with his eye,
Turning away the face, and despising the souls of men.

9 [x] A covetous man's eye is not satisfied with his portion;
And wicked injustice drieth up his soul.

10 [y] An evil eye is grudging of bread,
And he is miserly at his table.

11 My son, according as thou hast, do well unto thyself,
And [z] bring offerings unto the Lord worthily.

12 Remember that death will not tarry,
And that the covenant of [3] the grave is not shewed unto thee.

13 Do well unto thy friend before thou die;
And according to thy ability stretch out thy hand and give to him.

14 [a] Defraud not thyself of a good day;
And let not the portion of a good desire pass thee by.

15 [b] Shalt thou not leave thy labours unto another?
And thy toils to be divided by lot?

16 Give, and take, and beguile thy soul;
For there is no seeking of luxury in [3] the grave.

17 [c] All flesh [d] waxeth old as a garment;
For the covenant from the beginning is, [e] Thou shalt die the death.

18 As of the leaves flourishing on a thick tree,
Some it sheddeth, and some it maketh to grow;
So also of the generations of flesh and blood,
[f] One cometh to an end, and another is born.

19 Every work rotteth and falleth away,
And the worker thereof shall depart with it.

20 [g] Blessed is the man that shall [4] meditate in wisdom,
And that shall discourse by his understanding.

21 He that considereth her ways in his heart
Shall also have knowledge [h] in her secrets.

22 Go forth after her as one that tracketh,
And lie in wait in her ways.

23 He that prieth in at her windows
[i] Shall also hearken at her doors.

24 He that lodgeth close to her house
Shall also fasten [j] a nail in her walls.

25 He shall pitch his tent nigh at hand to her,
And shall lodge in a lodging where good things are.

26 He shall set his children under her shelter,
And shall rest under her branches.

27 By her he shall be [k] covered from heat,
And shall lodge in her glory.

15 1 He that feareth the Lord will do this;
And he that hath possession of the law shall obtain her.
2 And [l] as a mother shall she meet him,
And receive him [m] as a wife married in her virginity.
3 With bread of understanding shall she feed him,
And give him [n] water of wisdom to drink.
4 He shall be stayed upon her, and shall not be moved;
And shall rely upon her, and shall not be confounded.
5 [o] And she shall exalt him above his neighbours;
And in the midst of the congregation shall she open his mouth.
6 He shall inherit joy, and [p] a crown of gladness,
And an everlasting name.
7 [q] Foolish men shall not obtain her;
And sinners shall not see her.
8 She is far from pride;
And liars shall not remember her.
9 [r] Praise is not comely in the mouth of a sinner;
For it was not sent him from the Lord.
10 For praise shall be spoken in wisdom;
And the Lord will prosper it.
11 [s] Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I fell away;
For thou shalt not do the things that he hateth.
12 Say not thou, It is he that caused me to err;
[t] For he hath no need of a sinful man.
13 The Lord hateth every abomination;
And they that fear him love it not.
14 He himself [u] made man from the beginning,
And [v] left him in the hand of his own counsel.
15 If thou wilt, thou shalt keep the commandments;
And to perform faithfulness is of thine own good pleasure.
16 He hath set fire and water before thee:
Thou shalt stretch forth thy hand unto whichsoever thou wilt.
17 [w] Before man is life and death;
And whichsoever he liketh, it shall be given him.
18 [x] For great is the wisdom of the Lord:
He is mighty in power, and beholdeth all things;
19 And [y] his eyes are upon them that fear him;
And [z] he will take knowledge of every work of man.
20 [a] He hath not commanded any man to be ungodly;
And he hath not given any man licence to sin.

16 1 Desire not a multitude of unprofitable children,
Neither delight in ungodly sons.
2 If they multiply, delight not in them,
Except the fear of the Lord be with them.
3 Trust not thou in their life,
Neither rely on their condition:
For one is better than a thousand;
And [b] to die childless than to have ungodly children.
4 For from one that hath understanding shall a city be peopled;
[c] But a race of wicked men shall be made desolate.
5 Many such things have I seen with mine eyes;
And mine ear hath heard mightier things than these.
6 [d] In the congregation of sinners shall a fire be kindled;
And in a disobedient nation wrath is kindled.
7 He was not pacified toward [e] the giants of old time,
Who revolted in their strength.
8 [f] He spared not those with whom Lot sojourned,
[g] Whom he abhorred for their pride.
9 He pitied not the people of perdition,
Who were taken away in their sins.
10 [h] And in like manner [i] the six hundred thousand footmen,
Who were gathered together in the hardness of their hearts.
11 Even if there be one stiffnecked person,
It is marvel if he shall be unpunished:
[j] For mercy and wrath are with him;
He is mighty to forgive, and he poureth out wrath.
12 As his mercy is great, so is his correction also:
[k] He judgeth a man according to his works.
13 The sinner shall not escape with his plunder;
And the patience of the godly shall not be frustrate.
14 He will make room for every work of mercy;
[k] Each man shall find according to his works.[1]
17 Say not thou, [l] I shall be hidden from the Lord;
And who shall remember me from on high?
I shall not be known among so many people;
For what is my soul in a boundless creation?
18 [m] Behold, [n] the heaven, and the heaven of heavens,

The deep, and the earth, shall be moved when he shall visit.
19 [o] The mountains and [p] the foundations of the earth together
Are shaken with trembling, when he looketh upon them.
20 And no heart shall think upon these things:
And [q] who shall conceive his ways?
21 And [r] there is a tempest which no man shall see;
[s] Yea, the more part of his works are [1] hid.
22 Who shall declare the works of his righteousness?
Or who shall endure them?
For his covenant is afar off.[2]
23 He that is wanting in [3] understanding thinketh upon these things;
And an unwise and erring man thinketh follies.
24 [t] My son, hearken unto me, and learn knowledge,
And give heed to my words with thy heart.
25 I will shew forth instruction [u] by weight,
And declare knowledge exactly.
26 In the judgement of the Lord are his works from the beginning;
And from the making of them he disposed the parts thereof.
27 [v] He garnished his works for ever,
And the beginnings of them unto their generations:
They neither hunger, nor are weary,
And they cease not from their works.
28 No one thrusteth aside his neighbour;
[w] And they shall never disobey his word.
29 After this also [x] the Lord looked upon the earth,
And filled it with his blessings.
30 [4] [5] All manner of [y] living things covered the face thereof;
And [z] into it is their return.

17 1 [a] The Lord created man of the earth,
And [b] turned him back unto it again.
2 [c] He gave them days by number, and a set time,
[d] And gave them authority over the things that are thereon.
3 He endued them with strength proper to them;
And [e] made them according to his own image.
4 [f] He put the fear of [6] man upon all flesh,
And [d] gave him to have dominion over beasts and fowls.[7]
6 Counsel, and tongue, and eyes,
Ears, and heart, gave he them to understand withal.
7 [g] He filled them with the knowledge of wisdom,
And shewed them good and evil.
8 He set his eye upon their hearts,
To shew them the majesty of his works.[8]
10 And [h] they shall praise the name of his holiness,
[9] That they may declare the majesty of his works.
11 He added unto them knowledge,
And gave them a law [i] of life for a heritage.
12 [j] He made an everlasting covenant with them,
And [k] shewed them his judgements.
13 Their eyes saw the majesty of his glory;
[l] And their ear heard the glory of [10] his voice.
14 And he said unto them, Beware of all unrighteousness;
And [m] he gave them commandment, each man concerning his neighbour.

15 [n] Their ways are ever before him;
They shall not be hid from his eyes.[11]
17 [12] For every nation [o] he appointed a ruler;
And [p] Israel is the Lord's portion.[11]
19 All their works are as the sun before him;
[n] And his eyes are continually upon their ways.
20 Their iniquities are not hid from him;
And all their sins are before the Lord.[11]
22 [q] With him the alms of a man is [r] as a signet;
And he will keep the bounty of a man [s] as the apple of the eye.[2]
23 [t] Afterwards he will rise up and recompense them,
And [u] render their recompense upon their head.
24 [v] Howbeit unto them that repent he granteth a return;
And he comforteth them that are losing patience.

25 [w] Return unto the Lord, and forsake sins:
Make thy prayer before his face, and lessen the offence.
26 Turn again to the Most High, and turn away from iniquity;[13]
And greatly hate the abominable thing.
27 [x] Who shall give praise to the Most High in [14] the grave,
Instead of them which live and return thanks?

28 Thanksgiving perisheth from the dead, as from one that is not:
[y] He that is in life and health shall praise the Lord.
29 [z] How great is the mercy of the Lord,
And his forgiveness unto them that turn unto him!
30 For all things cannot be in men,
Because the son of man is not immortal.
31 [a] What is brighter than the sun? yet this faileth:
And an evil man will think on flesh and blood.
32 He looketh upon the power of the height of heaven:
And [b] all men are earth and ashes.

18 1 He that liveth for ever [c] created all things in common.
2 [d] The Lord alone shall be justified.[1]
4 [e] To none hath he given power to declare his works:
And [f] who shall trace out his mighty deeds?
5 [g] Who shall number the strength of his majesty?
And who shall also tell out his mercies?
6 [h] As for the wondrous works of the Lord, it is not possible to take from them nor add to them,
[i] Neither is it possible to track them out.
7 When a man hath finished, then he is but at the beginning;
And when he ceaseth, then shall he be in perplexity.
8 [j] What is man, and whereto serveth he?
What is his good, and what is his evil?
9 [k] The number of man's days at the most are a hundred years.
10 [l] As a drop of water from the sea, and a pebble from the sand;
[m] So are a few years in the day of eternity.
11 For this cause [n] the Lord was long-suffering over them,
And poured out his mercy upon them.
12 [o] He saw and perceived their end, that it is evil;
Therefore he multiplied his forgiveness.
13 [p] The mercy of a man is upon his neighbour;
[q] But the mercy of the Lord is upon all flesh;
Reproving, and chastening, and teaching,
And bringing again, [r] as a shepherd doth his flock.
14 He hath mercy on them [s] that accept chastening,
And that diligently seek after his judgements.
15 My son, [t] to thy good deeds add no blemish;
And no grief of words in any of thy giving.
16 [u] Shall not the dew assuage the scorching heat?
So is a word better than a gift.
17 Lo, is not a word better than a gift?
And both are with a gracious man.
18 [v] A fool will upbraid ungraciously;
And the gift of an envious man consumeth the eyes.
19 [w] Learn before thou speak;
And have a care of thy health or ever thou be sick.
20 [x] Before judgement examine thyself;
And in the hour of visitation thou shalt find forgiveness.
21 [y] Humble thyself before thou be sick;
And in the time of sins shew repentance.
22 [z] Let nothing hinder thee to pay thy vow in due time;
And wait not until death [a] to be justified.
23 [b] Before thou makest a vow, prepare thyself;
And be not as a man that tempteth the Lord.
24 [c] Think upon the wrath that shall be in the days of the end,
And the time of vengeance, when he turneth away his face.
25 [d] In the days of fulness remember the time of hunger,
And poverty and want in the days of wealth.
26 From morning until evening the time changeth;
And all things [e] are speedy before the Lord.
27 [f] A wise man will fear in everything;
And in days of sinning he will beware of offence.[2]
28 Every man of understanding knoweth wisdom;
And he will give thanks unto him that found her.
29 They that were of understanding in sayings became also wise themselves,
[g] And poured forth apt proverbs.
30 [h] Go not after thy lusts;
And refrain thyself from thine appetites.
31 If thou give fully to thy soul the delight of her desire,
She [i] will make thee [3] the laughing-stock of thine enemies.
32 [j] Make not merry in much luxury;
Neither be tied to the expense thereof.

33 Be not made a beggar by banqueting upon borrowing,
When thou hast nothing in thy purse.[1]

19 1 [k]A workman that is a drunkard shall not become rich:
He that despiseth small things shall fall by little and little.
2 [l]Wine and women will make men of understanding to fall away:
[m]And he that cleaveth to harlots will be the more reckless.
3 [n]Moths and worms shall have him to heritage;
And a reckless soul shall be taken away.
4 [o]He that is hasty to trust is light-minded;
And [p]he that sinneth shall offend against his own soul.
5 He that maketh merry in his heart shall be condemned:[1]
6 [2]And [q]he that hateth talk hath the less wickedness.
7 [r]Never repeat what is told thee,
And thou shalt fare never the worse.
8 Whether it be of friend or foe, tell it not;
And unless it is a sin to thee, reveal it not.
9 For he hath heard thee, and observed thee,
And when the time cometh he will hate thee.
10 Hast thou heard a word? let it die with thee:
Be of good courage, it will not [s]burst thee.
11 [t]A fool will travail in pain with a word,
As a woman in labour with a child.
12 As an arrow that sticketh in the [3]flesh of the thigh,
[u]So is a word in a fool's belly.
13 [v]Reprove a friend; it may be he did it not:
And if he did something, that he may do it no more.
14 [v]Reprove thy neighbour; it may be he said it not:
And if he hath said it, that he may not say it again.
15 [v]Reprove a friend; for many times there is slander:
And [w]trust not every word.
16 [x]There is one that slippeth, and not from the heart:
And who is he that hath not sinned with his tongue?
17 [v]Reprove thy neighbour before thou threaten him;
And give place to the law of the Most High.[4]
18 [y]All wisdom is the fear of the Lord;
And in all wisdom is the doing of the law.[5]
22 [z]And the knowledge of wickedness is not wisdom;
And the prudence of sinners is not counsel.
23 There is a wickedness, and the same is abomination;
And there is a fool wanting in wisdom.
24 [a]Better is one that hath small understanding, and feareth,
Than one that hath much prudence, and transgresseth the law.
25 There is an exquisite subtilty, and the same is unjust;
And there is one that perverteth favour [6]to gain a judgement.[1]
26 There is one that doeth wickedly,
[b]that hangeth down his head with mourning;
But inwardly he is full of deceit,
27 Bowing down his face, and making as if he were deaf of one ear:
Where he is not known, he will be beforehand with thee.
28 And if for want of power he be hindered from sinning,
If he find opportunity, he will do mischief.
29 [c]A man shall be known by his look,
And one that hath understanding shall be known by his face, when thou meetest him.
30 A man's attire, and [7]grinning [d]laughter,
And [e]gait, shew what he is.

20 1 [f]There is a reproof that is not comely;
[g]And there is a man that keepeth silence, and he is wise.
2 How good is it to reprove, rather than to be wroth;
And [h]he that maketh confession shall be kept back from hurt.[8]
4 As is [i]the lust of an eunuch to deflower a virgin;
So is he that executeth judgements with violence.
5 [j]There is one that keepeth silence, and is found wise;
[k]And there is one that is hated for his much talk.
6 There is one that keepeth silence, for he hath no answer to make;
And there is that keepeth silence, [f]as knowing his time.
7 [l]A wise man will be silent till his time come;
But the braggart and fool will overpass his time.
8 [k]He that useth many words shall be abhorred;
And he that taketh to himself authority therein shall be hated.

9 There is a prosperity that a man findeth in misfortunes;
And [m] there is a gain that turneth to loss.
10 There is a gift that shall not profit thee;
And there is a gift whose recompense is double.
11 [n] There is an abasement because of glory;
And there is that hath lifted up his head from a low estate.
12 There is that buyeth much for a little,
And payeth for it again sevenfold.
13 [o] He that is wise in words shall make himself beloved;
[p] But the pleasantries of fools shall be wasted.
14 [q] The gift of a fool shall not profit thee[1];
For his eyes are many instead of one.
15 He will give little, and [q] upbraid much;
And [r] he will open his mouth like a crier:
To-day he will lend, and to-morrow he will ask it again:
Such an one is a hateful man.
16 The fool will say, I have no friend,
And I have no thanks for my good deeds;
They that eat my bread are of evil tongue.
17 How oft, and of how many, shall he be laughed to scorn![2]
18 A slip on a pavement is better than a slip with the tongue;
[s] So the fall of the wicked shall come speedily.
19 A man without grace is as [t] a tale out of season:
It will be continually in the mouth of the ignorant.
20 A [3] wise sentence from a fool's mouth will be rejected;
[u] For he will not speak it in its season.
21 [v] There is that is hindered from sinning through want;
And when he taketh rest, he shall not be troubled.
22 [w] There is that destroyeth his soul through bashfulness;
And by a foolish countenance he will destroy it.
23 There is that for bashfulness promiseth to his friend;
And he maketh him his enemy for nothing.
24 [x] A lie is a foul blot in a man:
It will be continually in the mouth of the ignorant.
25 A thief is better than a man that is continually lying:
But they both shall inherit destruction.
26 The disposition of a liar is dishonour;
And his shame is with him continually.
27 [y] He that is wise in words shall advance himself;
And one that is prudent will please great men.
28 [z] He that tilleth his land shall raise his heap high;
And he that pleaseth great men shall get pardon for iniquity.
29 [a] Presents and gifts blind the eyes of the wise,
And as a muzzle on the mouth, turn away reproofs.
30 [b] Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is out of sight,
What profit is in them both?
31 [c] Better is a man that hideth his folly
Than a man that hideth his wisdom.[4]

21 1 My son, hast thou sinned? [d] add no more thereto;
And make supplication for thy former sins.
2 Flee from sin as from the face of [e] a serpent;
For if thou draw nigh it will bite thee:
The teeth thereof are the teeth of a lion,
Slaying the souls of men.
3 All iniquity is as a two-edged sword;
Its stroke hath no healing.
4 Terror and violence will lay waste riches;
So the house of a haughty man shall be laid waste.
5 [f] Supplication from a poor man's mouth reacheth to the ears of [5] God,
And his judgement cometh speedily.
6 [g] One that hateth reproof is in the path of the sinner;
And he that feareth the Lord will turn again in his heart.
7 He that is mighty in tongue is known afar off:
But the man of understanding knoweth when he slippeth.
8 [h] He that buildeth his house with other men's money
Is like one that gathereth himself stones against winter.
9 The congregation of wicked men is [i] as tow wrapped together;
And [j] the end of them is a flame of fire.
10 The way of sinners is made smooth with stones;

And at the last end thereof is [k]the pit of Hades.

11 [l]He that keepeth the law becometh master of the intent thereof;
And [m]the end of the fear of the Lord is wisdom.

12 [n]He that is not clever will not be instructed;
And there is [o]a cleverness which maketh bitterness to abound.

13 [p]The knowledge of a wise man shall be made to abound as a flood;
And [q]his counsel as a fountain of life.

14 [r]The inward parts of a fool are [s]like a broken vessel;
And he will hold no knowledge.

15 If a man of knowledge hear a wise word,
He will commend it, and [t]add unto it:
The dissolute man heareth it, and it displeaseth him,
And he putteth it away behind his back.

16 [u]The discourse of a fool is like [v]a burden in the way;
[w]But grace shall be found on the lips of the wise.

17 The mouth of the prudent man shall be sought for in the congregation;
And they will ponder his words in their heart.

18 As a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool;
And the knowledge of an unwise man is [x]as [1]talk without sense.

19 Instruction is as fetters on the feet of an unwise man,
And as manacles on the right hand.

20 [y]A fool lifteth up his voice with laughter;
But [z]a clever man will scarce smile quietly.

21 Instruction is to a prudent man as an ornament of gold,
And as a bracelet upon his right arm.

22 [a]The foot of a fool is soon in another man's house;
But [b]a man of experience will be ashamed of entering.

23 A foolish man peepeth in from the door of another man's house;
But a man that is instructed will stand without.

24 It is a want of instruction in a man to listen at the door;
But the prudent man will be grieved with the disgrace.

25 [2]The lips of strangers will be grieved at these things;
But the words of prudent men [c]will be weighed in the balance.

26 [d]The heart of fools is in their mouth;
But the mouth of wise men is their heart.

27 When the ungodly curseth [e]Satan,
[f]He curseth his own soul.

28 [g]A whisperer defileth his own soul,
And shall be hated wheresoever he sojourneth.

22 1 A slothful man is compared to a stone that is defiled;
And every one will hiss him out in his disgrace.

2 A slothful man is compared to the filth of a dunghill:
Every man that taketh it up will shake out his hand.

3 [h]A father hath shame in having begotten an uninstructed son;
And a foolish daughter is born to his loss.

4 A prudent daughter shall inherit a husband of her own;
[i]And she that bringeth shame is the grief of him that begat her.

5 [j]She that is bold bringeth shame upon father and husband;
And she shall be despised of them both.

6 [k]Unseasonable discourse is [l]as music in mourning;
But [m]stripes and correction are wisdom at every season.

7 He that teacheth a fool is as one that glueth a potsherd together;
Even as one that waketh a sleeper out of a deep sleep.

8 He that discourseth to a fool is as one discoursing to a man that slumbereth;
And at the end he will say, What is it?[3]

11 [n]Weep for the dead, for light hath failed him;
And weep for a fool, for understanding hath failed him:
[n]Weep more sweetly for the dead, because he hath found rest;
But the life of the fool is worse than death.

12 [o]Seven days are the days of mourning for the dead;
But for a fool and an ungodly man, all the days of his life.

13 Talk not much with a foolish man,
And go not to one that hath no understanding:
Beware of him, lest thou have trouble;
And so thou shalt not be [4]defiled in his onslaught:
Turn aside from him, and thou shalt find rest;
And so thou shalt not be wearied [p]in his madness.

And what is the name thereof, but a fool?
15 [q] Sand, and salt, and a mass of iron, [r] is easier to bear,
Than a man without understanding.
16 Timber girt and bound into a building shall not be loosed with shaking:
So [s] a heart established in due season on well advised counsel shall not be afraid.
17 A heart settled upon a thoughtful understanding
Is as an ornament of plaister on a polished wall.
18 Pales set on a high place will not stand against the wind:
So [t] a fearful heart in the imagination of a fool will not stand against any fear.
19 He that pricketh the eye will make tears to fall;
And he that pricketh the heart maketh it to shew feeling.
20 Whoso casteth a stone at birds [u] frayeth them away;
And [v] he that upbraideth a friend will dissolve friendship.
21 If thou hast drawn a sword against a friend, despair not;
For there may be a returning.
22 [w] If thou hast opened thy mouth against a friend, fear not;
For there may be a reconciling;
Except it be for [v] upbraiding, and arrogance, and [x] disclosing of a secret, and a treacherous blow:
For these things every friend will flee.
23 Gain trust with thy neighbour in his poverty,
That in his prosperity thou mayest have gladness:
[y] Abide stedfast unto him in the time of his affliction,
That thou mayest be heir with him in his inheritance.[1]
24 [z] Before fire is the vapour and smoke of a furnace;
So revilings before bloodshed.
25 I will not be ashamed to shelter a friend;
And I will not hide myself from his face:
26 And if any evil happen unto me because of him,
Every one that heareth it will beware of him.
27 [a] Who shall set a watch over my mouth,
And a seal of shrewdness upon my lips,
That I fall not from it, and that my tongue destroy me not?

23 1 [b] O Lord, Father and Master of my life,
Abandon me not to their counsel:
Suffer me not to fall by them.
2 Who will set scourges over my thought,
And a discipline of wisdom over mine heart?
That they spare me not for [c] mine ignorances,
And my heart pass not by their sins:
3 That [c] mine ignorances be not multiplied,
And my sins abound not;
And I shall fall before mine adversaries,
And [d] mine enemy rejoice over me.[1]
4 [e] O Lord, Father and God of my life,
Give me not [f] a [2] proud look,[1]
5 And turn away concupiscence from me.[1]
6 [g] Let not [3] greediness and chambering overtake me;
And give me not over to a shameless mind.
7 Hear ye, my children, the discipline of the mouth;
And he that keepeth it shall not be taken.
8 [h] The sinner shall be [4] overtaken in his lips;
And the reviler and the proud man shall stumble therein.
9 [i] Accustom not thy mouth to an oath;
And be not accustomed to [j] the naming of the Holy One.
10 For as a servant that is continually scourged [k] shall not lack a bruise,
[l] So he also that sweareth and nameth God continually shall not be cleansed from sin.
11 A man of many oaths shall be filled with iniquity;
And the scourge [l] shall not depart from his house:
[m] If he shall offend, his sin shall be upon him;
And [n] if he disregard it, he hath sinned doubly;
And if he hath sworn in vain, [o] he shall not be justified;
For his house shall be filled with calamities.
12 [p] There is a manner of speech that is clothed about with death:
Let it not be found in the heritage of Jacob;
For all these things shall be far from the godly,
And they shall not [q] wallow in sins.
13 Accustom not thy mouth to gross rudeness,
For therein is the word of sin.

14 [r]Remember thy father and thy mother,
For thou sittest in the midst of great men;
That thou be not forgetful before them,
And become a fool by thy custom;
So shalt thou wish [s]that thou hadst not been born,
And curse the day of thy nativity.
15 A man that is accustomed to words of reproach
Will not be corrected all the days of his life.

16 [t]Two sorts of men multiply sins,
And [u]the third will bring wrath:
A hot mind, as a burning fire, will not be quenched till it be consumed:
A fornicator in the body of his flesh will never cease till he hath [1]burned out the fire.
17 All [v]bread is sweet to a fornicator:
He will not leave off till he die.
18 A man that goeth astray from his own bed,
Saying in his heart, [w]Who seeth me?
[x]Darkness is round about me, and the walls hide me,
And no man seeth me; of whom am I afraid?
The Most High will not remember my sins;
19 —And the eyes of men are his terror,
And he knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter than the sun,
[y]Beholding all the ways of men,
And looking into secret places.
20 All things were known unto him or ever they were created;
And [z]in like manner also after they were perfected.
21 [a]This man shall be punished in the streets of the city;
And where he suspected not he shall be taken.
22 So also a wife that leaveth her husband,
And bringeth in an heir by a stranger.
23 For first, [b]she was disobedient in the law of the Most High;
And secondly, she trespassed against her own husband;
And thirdly, she played the adulteress in whoredom,
And brought in children by a stranger.
24 [c]She shall be brought out into the congregation;
And upon her children shall there [d]be visitation.
25 [e]Her children shall not spread into roots,
And her branches shall bear no fruit.
26 She shall leave her memory for a curse;
And her reproach shall not be blotted out.
27 And they that are left behind shall know that [f]there is nothing better than the fear of the Lord,
And [g]nothing sweeter than to take heed unto the commandments of the Lord.[2]

24 1 [h]Wisdom shall praise [3]herself,
And shall glory in the midst of her people.
2 In the congregation of the Most High shall she open her mouth,
And glory in the presence of his power.
3 [i]I came forth from the mouth of the Most High,
And covered the earth as a mist.
4 I dwelt in high places,
[j]And my throne is in the pillar of the cloud.
5 Alone I [k]compassed the circuit of heaven,
And walked in the depth of the abyss.
6 In the waves of the sea, and in all the earth,
And [l]in every people and nation, I got a possession.
7 With all these I sought rest;
And in whose inheritance shall I lodge?
8 Then the Creator of all things gave me a commandment;
And he that created me made my tabernacle to rest,
And said, [m]Let thy tabernacle be in Jacob,
And thine inheritance in Israel.
9 [n]He created me from the beginning before the world;
And to the end I shall not fail.
10 [o]In the holy tabernacle I ministered before him;
[p]And so was I established in Sion.
11 In [q]the beloved city likewise he gave me rest;
And in Jerusalem was my authority.
12 And I took root in a people that was glorified,
Even [r]in the portion of the Lord's own inheritance.
13 [s]I was exalted like [t]a cedar in Libanus,
And as [u]a cypress tree on the mountains of [v]Hermon.
14 [s]I was exalted like a palm tree on the sea shore,
And as [w]rose plants in Jericho,
And as a fair [u]olive tree in the plain;
And I was exalted as a plane tree.
15 As [x]cinnamon and aspalathus, I have given a scent of perfumes;
And as choice [y]myrrh, I spread abroad a pleasant odour;
As [z]galbanum, and onyx, and stacte,
And as the fume of frankincense [a]in the tabernacle.

26 As [b] the terebinth I stretched out my branches;
And my branches are branches of glory and grace.
27 As [c] the vine I put forth grace;
And [d] my flowers are the fruit of glory and riches.[1]
29 [e] Come unto me, ye that are desirous of me,
And be ye filled with my produce.
20 For my memorial is [f] sweeter than honey,
And mine inheritance than the honeycomb.
21 They that eat me shall yet be hungry;
And they that drink me shall yet be thirsty.
22 He that obeyeth me shall not be ashamed;
And they that work in me shall not do amiss.

23 All these things are the book of the covenant of the Most High God,
Even [g] the law which Moses commanded us for a heritage unto the assemblies of Jacob.[2]
25 It is he that [h] maketh wisdom abundant, as [i] Pishon,
And as [j] Tigris in the days of new fruits;
26 That maketh understanding full as [k] Euphrates,
And as [l] Jordan in the days of harvest;
27 That maketh instruction to shine forth as the light,
As [m] Gihon in the days of vintage.
28 The first man knew her not perfectly;
And in like manner the last hath not traced her out.
29 For her thoughts are filled from the sea,
And her counsels from the great deep.

30 And I came out as a [n] stream from a river,
And as a conduit into a garden.
31 I said, I will water my garden,
And will water abundantly my garden bed;
And, lo, [o] my stream became a river,
And my river became a sea.
32 I will yet bring instruction to light as the morning,
And will make [p] these things to shine forth afar off.
33 [q] I will yet pour out doctrine as prophecy,
And leave it unto generations of ages.
34 Behold that [r] I have not laboured for myself only,
But for all them that diligently seek her.

25 1 [s] In three things I was beautified,
And stood up beautiful before the Lord and men:
[t] The concord of brethren, and [u] friendship of neighbours,
And [v] a woman and her husband that walk together in agreement.
2 [w] But three sorts of men my soul hateth,
And I am greatly offended at their life:
A poor man that is haughty, and a rich man [x] that is a liar,
And an old man that is an adulterer lacking understanding.

3 [y] In thy youth thou hast not gathered.
And how shouldest thou find in thine old age?
4 [z] How beautiful a thing is judgement for gray hairs,
And for elders to know counsel!
5 How beautiful is the wisdom of old men,
And thought and counsel to men that are in honour!
6 [a] Much experience is the crown of old men;
And [b] their glorying is the fear of the Lord.

7 There be nine things that I have thought of, and in mine heart counted happy;
And the tenth I will utter with my tongue:
[c] A man that hath joy of his children;
[d] A man that liveth and looketh upon the fall of his enemies:
8 Happy is he that dwelleth with a wife of understanding;
And [e] he that hath not slipped with his tongue;
And he that hath not served a man that is unworthy of him:
9 [f] Happy is he that hath found prudence;
And he that discourseth in the ears of them that listen.
10 [g] How great is he that hath found wisdom!
[h] Yet is there none above him that feareth the Lord.
11 [i] The fear of the Lord passeth all things:
He that holdeth it, to whom shall he be likened?[3]

13 [j] Give me any plague but the plague of the heart;
And any wickedness but [k] the wickedness of a woman;
14 Any calamity, but a calamity [l] from them that hate me;
And any vengeance, but the vengeance of enemies.

15 There is no head above the head of a serpent;
And there is no wrath above the wrath of an enemy.

16 [j] I will rather dwell with a lion and a dragon,
Than keep house with a wicked woman.

17 [k] The wickedness of a woman changeth her look,
And darkeneth her countenance as [k] a bear doth.

18 Her husband shall sit at meat among his neighbours,
And when he heareth it he sigheth bitterly.

19 [l] All malice is but little to the malice of a woman:
Let the portion of a sinner fall on her.

20 [m] As the going up a sandy way is to the feet of the aged,
So is a wife full of words to a quiet man.

21 [n] Throw not thyself upon the beauty of a woman;
And desire not a woman for her beauty.

22 There is anger, and impudence, and great reproach,
If a woman maintain her husband.

23 A wicked woman is abasement of heart,
And sadness of countenance, and a wounded heart:
A woman that will not make her husband happy
Is [o] as hands that hang down, and palsied knees.

24 [p] From a woman was the beginning of sin;
And because of her [q] we all die.

25 [r] Give not water an outlet;
Neither to a wicked woman freedom of speech.

26 [s] If she go not [1] as thou wouldest have her,
Cut her off from thy flesh.[2]

26 1 [t] Happy is the husband of a good wife;
And the number of his days shall be twofold.

2 [u] A brave woman rejoiceth her husband;
And he shall fulfil his years in peace.

3 [v] A good wife is a good portion:
She shall be given in the portion of such as fear the Lord.

4 Whether a man be rich or poor,
[w] A good heart maketh at all times a cheerful countenance.

5 [x] Of three things my heart was afraid;
And concerning the fourth [3] kind I made supplication:
The slander of a city, and the assembly of a multitude, and a false accusation:
All these are more grievous than death.

6 A grief of heart and sorrow is a woman [y] that is jealous of another woman,
And the scourge of a tongue communicating to all.

7 A wicked woman is as a yoke of oxen shaken to and fro:
He that taketh hold of her is as one that graspeth a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman causeth great wrath;
And she will not cover her own shame.

9 The whoredom of a woman is in the lifting up of her eyes;
And it shall be known [z] by her eyelids.

10 [a] Keep strict watch on a headstrong daughter,
Lest she find liberty for herself, and use it.

11 Look well after an impudent eye;
And marvel not if it trespass against thee.

12 She will open her mouth, as a thirsty traveller,
And [b] drink of every water that is near:
At every post [c] will she sit down,
And open her quiver against any arrow.

13 [d] The grace of a wife will delight her husband;
And her knowledge will [e] fatten his bones.

14 A silent woman is a gift of the Lord;
And there is nothing so much worth as a well-instructed soul.

15 A shamefast woman is grace upon grace;
And there is no [4] price worthy of a continent soul.

16 As the sun when it ariseth in the highest places of the Lord,
So is the beauty of a good wife [f] in the ordering of [5] a man's house.

17 As [g] the lamp that shineth upon the holy candlestick,
So is the beauty of the face in ripe age.

18 As the golden pillars are upon a base of silver,
So are beautiful feet with the breasts of one that is stedfast.[6]

28 [h] For two things my heart is grieved;
And for the third anger cometh upon me:
A man of war that suffereth for poverty;

And [i]men of understanding that are counted as refuse:
[j]One that turneth back from righteousness to sin;
The Lord shall prepare him for the sword.

29 [k]A merchant shall hardly keep himself from wrong doing;
And a huckster shall not be acquitted of sin.

27 1 [l]Many have sinned for a thing indifferent;
And [m]he that seeketh to multiply gain will turn his eye away.
2 A nail will stick fast between the joinings of stones;
[n]And sin will [1]thrust itself in between buying and selling.
3 [o]Unless a man hold on diligently in the fear of the Lord,
His house shall soon be overthrown.

4 In the shaking of a sieve, the refuse remaineth;
So the filth of man in his reasoning.
5 [p]The furnace will prove the potter's vessels;
And the trial of a man is in his reasoning.
6 [q]The fruit of a tree declareth the husbandry thereof;
[r]So is the utterance of the thought of the heart of a man.
7 Praise no man before thou hearest him reason;
For this is the trial of men.

8 If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt obtain her,
And [s]put her on, as [t]a long robe of glory.
9 [u]Birds will resort unto their like;
And truth will return unto them that practise her.
10 [v]The lion lieth in wait for prey;
So doth sin for them that work iniquity.

11 The discourse of a godly man is always wisdom:
But the foolish man changeth as the moon.
12 Among men void of understanding [w]observe the opportunity;
But stay continually among the thoughtful.
13 The discourse of fools is an offence;
And [x]their laughter is in the wantonness of sin.
14 [y]The talk of a man of many oaths will make the hair stand upright;
And their strife maketh one stop his ears.
15 The strife of the proud is a shedding of blood;
And their reviling of each other is a grievous thing to hear.

16 [z]He that revealeth secrets destroyeth credit,
And shall not find a friend to his mind.
17 Love a friend, and keep faith with him:
[z]But if thou reveal his secrets,
Thou shalt not pursue after him;
18 For as a man hath destroyed his enemy,
So hast thou destroyed the friendship of thy neighbour.
19 [a]And as a bird which thou hast loosed out of thy hand,
So hast thou let thy neighbour go, and thou wilt not catch him again:
20 Pursue him not, for he is gone far away,
And hath escaped [b]as a gazelle out of the snare.
21 For a wound may be bound up, [c]and after reviling there may be a reconcilement;
But he that revealeth secrets hath lost hope.

22 [d]One that winketh with the eye contriveth evil things;
And no man will remove him from it.
23 When thou art present, [e]he will speak sweetly,
And will admire thy words;
But afterward he will writhe his mouth,
And set a trap for thee in thy words.
24 I have hated many things, but nothing like him;
And [f]the Lord will hate him.

25 One that casteth a stone on high casteth it on his own head;
And a deceitful stroke will open wounds.
26 [g]He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it;
And [h]he that setteth a snare shall be taken therein.
27 He that doeth evil things, they shall roll upon him,
And he shall not know whence they have come to him.
28 Mockery and reproach are from the haughty;
And vengeance, [i]as a lion, shall lie in wait for him.
29 They that rejoice at the fall of the godly shall be taken in a snare;
And [j]anguish shall consume them before they die.

30 Wrath and anger, these also are abominations;
And a sinful man shall possess them.

28 1 [k]He that taketh vengeance shall find vengeance from the Lord;
And he will surely [l]make firm his sins.

2 [m] Forgive thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done thee;
And then thy sins shall be pardoned when thou prayest.
3 [n] Man cherisheth anger against man;
And doth he seek healing from the Lord?
4 Upon a man like himself he hath no mercy;
And doth he make supplication for his own sins?
5 He being himself flesh nourisheth wrath:
Who shall make atonement for his sins?
6 [o] Remember thy last end, and cease from enmity:
Remember corruption and death, and abide in the commandments.
7 [p] Remember the commandments, and be not wroth with thy neighbour;
And remember the covenant of the Highest, and [q] wink at ignorance.
8 Abstain from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sins:
[r] For a passionate man will kindle strife;
9 And a man that is a sinner [s] will trouble friends,
And will make debate among them that be at peace.
10 [1] [t] As is the fuel of the fire, so will it burn;
And as the stoutness of the strife is, so will it burn:
[u] As is the strength of the man, so will be his wrath;
And as is his wealth, so will he exalt his anger.
11 A contention begun in haste kindleth a fire;
And a hasty fighting sheddeth blood.
12 If thou blow a spark, it shall burn;
And if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched:
And [v] both these shall come out of thy mouth.
13 Curse [w] the whisperer and double-tongued:
For he hath destroyed many that were at peace.
14 A third person's tongue hath shaken many,
And dispersed them from nation to nation;
And it hath pulled down strong cities,
And overthrown the houses of great men.
15 A third person's tongue hath cast out [x] brave women,
And deprived them of their labours.
16 He that hearkeneth unto it shall not find rest,
Nor shall he dwell quietly.
17 [y] The stroke of a whip maketh a mark in the flesh;
But the stroke of a tongue will break bones.
18 Many have fallen by the edge of the sword:
[z] Yet not so many as they that have fallen because of the tongue.
19 Happy is he that is sheltered from it,
That hath not passed through [a] the wrath thereof;
That hath not drawn its yoke,
And hath not been bound with its bands.
20 [b] For the yoke thereof is a yoke of iron,
And the bands thereof are bands of brass.
21 The death thereof is an evil death;
And Hades were better than it.
22 It shall not have rule over godly men;
[c] And they shall not be burned in its flame.
23 They that forsake the Lord shall fall into it;
And it shall burn among them, and shall not be quenched:
It shall be sent forth upon them [d] as a lion;
And [e] as a leopard it shall destroy them.
24 [f] Look that thou hedge thy possession about with thorns;
Bind up thy silver and thy gold;
25 And [g] make a balance and a weight for thy words;
And [h] make a door and a bar for thy mouth.
26 Take heed lest thou slip therein;
Lest thou fall before one that lieth in wait.

29 1 [i] He that sheweth mercy will lend unto his neighbour;
And he that strengtheneth him with his hand [j] keepeth the commandments.
2 [k] Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need;
And [l] pay thou thy neighbour again in due season.
3 Confirm thy word, and keep faith with him;
And at all seasons thou shalt find what thou needest.
4 [m] Many have reckoned a loan [n] as a windfall,
And have given trouble to those that helped them.
5 Till he hath received, he will kiss a man's hands;
And for his neighbour's money he will speak submissly:
And when payment is due, he will prolong the time,
And return words of heaviness, and complain of [2] the times.
6 If he prevail, he shall hardly receive the half;

o ver. 4.

And he will count it o as a windfall:
If not, he hath deprived him of his money,
And he hath gotten him for an enemy without cause:
He will pay him with cursings and railings;
And for honour he will pay him disgrace.

7 [1] Many on account of men's ill-dealing have turned away;
They have feared to be defrauded for nought.

p Cp. Prov. 19. 17.

8 p Howbeit with a man in poor estate be longsuffering;
And let him not wait for thine alms.

q See Deut. 15. 8.

9 Help a poor man q for the commandment's sake;
And according to his need send him not empty away.

10 Lose thy money for a brother and a friend;

r Cp. ch. 20. 30.

And r let it not rust under the stone to be lost.

s Dan. 4. 27. See Tobit 4. 7.

t ver. 1.

u Cp. Matt. 19. 21. See 1 Tim. 6. 17—19.

v ch. 40. 24. Tobit 4. 9.

11 s Bestow thy treasure t according to the commandments of the Most High;
And u it shall profit thee more than gold.

12 Shut up alms in thy store-chambers;
And v it shall deliver thee out of all affliction:

13 It shall fight for thee against thine enemy
Better than a mighty shield and a ponderous spear.

14 A good man will be surety for his neighbour;
And he that hath lost shame will fail him.

15 Forget not the good offices of thy surety;
For he hath given his life for thee.

16 A sinner will overthrow the good estate of his surety;

17 And he that is of an unthankful mind will fail him that delivered him.

w Prov. 6. 1, 2 & 11. 15. Cp. ch. 8. 13.

18 w Suretiship hath undone many that were prospering,
And shaken them as a wave of the sea:
Mighty men hath it driven from their homes;
And they wandered among strange nations.

19 A sinner that falleth into suretiship,
And undertaketh contracts for work, shall fall into lawsuits.

20 Help thy neighbour according to thy power,
And take heed to thyself that thou fall not to the same.

x Cp. ch. 39. 26.

21 x The chief thing for life is water, and bread,
And a garment, and a house to cover shame.

22 Better is the life of a poor man under a shelter of logs,
Than y sumptuous fare in another man's house.

y Cp. ch. 40. 29.

23 z With little or with much, be well satisfied.[2]

z Cp. 1 Tim. 6. 6, 8.

24 a It is a miserable life to go from house to house:
And where thou art a sojourner, thou shalt not dare to open thy mouth.

a Cp. ch. 26. 23.

25 Thou shalt entertain, and give to drink, and have no thanks:
And besides this thou shalt hear bitter words.

26 Come hither, thou sojourner, furnish a table,
And if thou hast aught in thy hand, feed me with it.

27 b Go forth, thou sojourner, from the face of honour;
My brother is come to be my guest;
I have need of my house.

b Cp. Luke 14. 9.

c Cp. ch. 31. 31 & Prov. 22. 7.

28 These things are grievous to a man of understanding;
The upbraiding of house-room, and c the reproaching of the money-lender.

30 1 d He that loveth his son will continue to lay stripes upon him, e That he may have joy of him in the end.

d Prov. 13. 24. Cp. ch. 42. 5.

e Prov. 29. 17.

2 He that chastiseth his son shall have profit of him,
And shall glory of him among his acquaintance.

3 f He that teacheth his son shall provoke his enemy to jealousy;
And before friends he shall rejoice of him.

f See Deut. 4. 9.

4 His father dieth, and is as though he had not died;
g For he hath left one behind him like himself.

g Cp. 1 Kin. 1. 48.

5 In his life, he saw and rejoiced in him;
And when he died, he sorrowed not:

6 h He left behind him an avenger against his enemies,
And i one to requite kindness to his friends.

h Cp. 1 Kin. 2. 5, 8.

i Cp. 1 Kin. 2. 7.

7 He that maketh too much of his son shall bind up his wounds;
And his heart will be troubled at every cry.

8 An unbroken horse becometh stubborn;
And j a son left at large becometh headstrong.

j Cp. Prov. 29. 15.

9 Cocker thy child, and he shall make thee afraid:
Play with him, and he will grieve thee.

10 Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him;
And thou shalt gnash thy teeth in the end.

[1] Some ancient authorities read Many therefore.

11 Give him no liberty in his youth,
[1] And [k] wink not at his follies.
12 [l] Bow down his neck in his youth,
And beat him on the sides while he is a child,
Lest he wax stubborn, and be disobedient unto thee;
[1] And [m] there shall be sorrow to thy soul.
13 Chastise thy son, and [n] take pains with him,
Lest his shameless behaviour be an offence unto thee.

14 [o] Better is a poor man, being sound and strong of constitution,
Than a rich man that is plagued in his body.
15 Health and a good constitution are better than all gold;
And a strong body than wealth without measure.
16 There is no riches better than health of body;
And there is no gladness above the joy of the heart.
17 [p] Death is better than a bitter life,
[2] And [3] eternal rest than a continual sickness.
18 Good things poured out upon a mouth that is closed
Are as [q] messes of meat laid upon a grave.
19 What doth an offering profit an idol?
For neither shall it [r] eat nor [s] smell:
So is he that is afflicted of the Lord,
20 Seeing with his eyes and groaning,
[t] As an eunuch embracing a virgin and groaning.

21 [u] Give not over thy soul to sorrow;
And afflict not thyself in thine own counsel.
22 [v] Gladness of heart is the life of a man;
And the joyfulness of a man is length of days.
23 Love thine own soul, and comfort thy heart:
And remove sorrow far from thee;
[w] For sorrow hath destroyed many,
And there is no profit therein.
24 [x] Envy and wrath shorten a man's days;
And care bringeth old age before the time.
25 [y] A cheerful and good heart
Will have a care of his meat and diet.

31 1 [z] Wakefulness that cometh of riches consumeth the flesh,
And the anxiety thereof putteth away sleep.
2 Wakeful anxiety will crave slumber;
And [4] in a sore disease sleep will be broken.

3 [a] A rich man toileth in gathering money together;
And [b] when he resteth, he is filled with his good things.
4 [c] A poor man toileth in lack of substance;
And when he resteth, he becometh needy.
5 [d] He that loveth gold [e] shall not be justified;
And he that followeth destruction shall himself have his fill of it.
6 [f] Many have been given over to ruin for the sake of gold;
And their perdition [5] meeteth them face to face.
7 It is a stumblingblock unto them that [g] sacrifice unto it;
And every fool shall be taken therewith.
8 Blessed is the rich that is found without blemish,
And [h] that goeth not after gold.
9 Who is he? and we will call him blessed:
For wonderful things hath he done among his people.
10 Who hath been tried thereby, and found perfect?
Then let him glory.
Who hath had the power to transgress, and hath not transgressed?
And to do evil, and hath not done it?
11 His goods shall be made sure,
And [i] the congregation shall declare his alms.
12 Sittest thou at a great table? [6] [j] be not greedy upon it,
And say not, Many are the things upon it.
13 Remember that [k] an evil eye is a wicked thing:
What hath been created more evil than an eye?
Therefore it sheddeth tears from every face.
14 [l] Stretch not thine hand whithersoever it looketh,
And thrust not thyself with it into the dish.
15 [m] Consider thy neighbour's liking by thine own;
And be discreet in every point.
16 [n] Eat, as becometh a man, those things which are set before thee;
And [7] eat not greedily, lest thou be hated.
17 Be first to leave off for manners' sake;
And be not insatiable, lest thou offend.
18 And if thou sittest among many,
[o] Reach not out thy hand before them.
19 How sufficient to a well-mannered man is a very little,
And he doth not breathe hard upon his bed.

20 [p] Healthy sleep cometh of moderate eating;
He riseth early, and his wits are with him:
[q] The pain of wakefulness, and colic.
And griping, are with an insatiable man.
21 And if thou hast been forced to eat,
Rise up in the midst thereof, and thou shalt have rest.
22 Hear me, my son, and despise me not.
And at the last thou shalt find my words true:
[r] In all thy works be quick,
And no disease shall come unto thee.

23 [s] Him that is liberal of his meat the lips shall bless;
And the testimony of his excellence shall be believed.
24 Him that is [t] a niggard of his meat the city shall murmur at;
And the testimony of his niggardness shall be sure.

25 [u] Shew not thyself valiant in wine;
[v] For wine hath destroyed many.
26 The furnace proveth the temper of steel by dipping;
[w] So doth wine prove hearts in the quarrelling of the proud.
27 [x] Wine is as good as life to men,
If thou drink it in its measure:
What life is there to a man that is without wine?
And [y] it hath been created to make men glad.
28 Wine [z] drunk in season and to satisfy
Is joy of heart, and gladness of soul:
29 [a] Wine drunk largely is bitterness of soul,
With provocation and conflict.
30 [b] Drunkenness increaseth the rage of a fool unto his hurt;
It diminisheth strength, and addeth wounds.

31 Rebuke not thy neighbour at a banquet of wine,
Neither set him at nought in his mirth:
Speak not unto him a word of reproach,
And press not upon him [c] by asking back a debt.

32 1 Have they made thee [d] ruler of a feast?
Be not lifted up,
Be thou among them as one of them;
[e] Take thought for them, and so sit down.
2 And when thou hast done all thy office, take thy place,
That thou mayest be gladdened on their account,
And receive [f] a crown for thy well ordering.

3 [g] Speak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound knowledge;
And hinder not music.
4 Pour not out talk where there is a performance of music.
And [h] display not thy wisdom out of season.
5 As a signet of carbuncle in a setting of gold,
[i] So is a concert of music in a banquet of wine.
6 As a signet of emerald in a work of gold.
So is a strain of music with pleasant wine.

7 [j] Speak, young man, if there be need of thee;
Yet scarcely if thou be twice asked.
8 [k] Sum up thy speech, many things in few words;
Be as one that knoweth and yet holdeth his tongue.
9 [l] If thou be among great men, [m] behave not as their equal;
And when another is speaking, make not much babbling.
10 Before thunder goeth lightning;
And before a shamefast man favour shall go forth.
11 Rise up betimes, and be not the last;
Get thee home quickly and loiter not:
12 There take thy pastime, and do what is in thy heart;
And sin not by proud speech:
13 And [n] for these things bless him that made thee,
And giveth thee to drink freely of his good things.

14 He that feareth the Lord [o] will receive his discipline;
And [p] they that seek him early shall find favour.
15 He that seeketh the law shall be filled therewith:
But [q] the hypocrite shall stumble thereat.
16 They that fear the Lord shall find judgement,
And shall [r] kindle righteous acts as a light.
17 A sinful man shunneth reproof,
And [s] will find a judgement according to his will.

18 A man of counsel will not neglect a thought;
A strange and proud man will not crouch in fear,
Even [t] after he hath done a thing by himself without counsel.
19 [u] Do nothing without counsel;
And when thou hast once done, repent not.
20 [v] Go not in a way of conflict;
And stumble not in stony places.
21 Be not confident in a [1] [w] smooth way.

22 And [w] beware of thine own children.
23 [x] In every work trust thine own soul;
For this is [y] the keeping of the commandments.

24 [z] He that believeth the law giveth heed to the commandment;
And [a] he that trusteth in the Lord shall suffer no loss.

33 1 [b] There shall no evil happen unto him that feareth the Lord;
But [c] in temptation once and again will he deliver him.
2 A wise man will not hate the law;
[d] But he that is a hypocrite therein is as a ship in a storm.
3 A man of understanding will put his trust in the law;
And the law is faithful unto him, as when one asketh [e] at the oracle.

4 Prepare thy speech, and so shalt thou be heard;
Bind up instruction, and make thine answer.
5 [f] The heart of a fool is as a cart-wheel;
And his thoughts like a rolling axle-tree.
6 A stallion horse is as a mocking friend;
He neigheth under every one that sitteth upon him.

7 [g] Why doth one day excel another,
When all the light of every day in the year is of the sun?
8 [h] By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished;
And [i] he varied seasons and feasts:
9 Some of them he exalted and [j] hallowed,
And some of them hath he made ordinary days.
10 And [k] all men are from the ground,
And [l] Adam was created of earth.
11 In the abundance of his knowledge the Lord [m] distinguished them,
And made their ways various:
12 Some of them he blessed and exalted,
And some of them he hallowed and [n] brought nigh to himself:
Some of them he cursed and brought low,
And overthrew them from their place.
13 [o] As the clay of the potter in his hand,
All his ways are according to his good pleasure;
So men are in the hand of him that made them,
To render unto them according to his judgement.

14 [p] Good is set over against evil,
And life over against death:
So is [1] the sinner over against the godly.
15 And thus look upon all the works of the Most High;
[q] Two and two, one against another.

16 And I awaked up last,
[r] As one that gleaneth after the grape-gatherers:
By the blessing of the Lord I got before them,
And filled [s] my winepress as one that gathereth grapes.
17 [t] Consider that I laboured not for myself alone,
But for all them that seek instruction.
18 Hear me, ye great men of the people,
And hearken with your ears, ye rulers of the congregation.

19 [u] To son and wife, to brother and friend,
Give not power over thee while thou livest;
And give not thy goods to another,
Lest thou repent and make supplication for them again.
20 Whilst thou yet livest, and breath is in thee,
Give not thyself over to anybody.
21 For better it is that thy children should supplicate thee,
Than that thou shouldest look to the hand of thy sons.
22 In all thy works keep the upper hand;
Bring not a stain on thine honour.
23 [v] In the day that thou endest the days of thy life,
And in the time of death, distribute thine inheritance.

24 [w] Fodder, a stick, and burdens, for an ass;
Bread, and discipline, and work, for a servant.
25 Set thy servant to work, and thou shalt find rest:
Leave his hands idle, and he will seek liberty.
26 Yoke and thong will bow the neck:
And [x] for an evil servant there are racks and tortures.
27 Send him to labour, that he be not idle;
[y] For idleness teacheth much mischief.
28 Set him to work, as is fit for him;
And [z] if he obey not, make his fetters heavy.
29 And [a] be not excessive toward any;
And without judgement do nothing.

30 [b] If thou hast a servant, let him be as thyself,
Because thou hast bought him with blood.

31 [b] If thou hast a servant, treat him as thyself;
[1] For as thine own soul wilt thou have need of him:
If thou treat him ill, and he depart and run away,
Which way wilt thou go to seek him?

34 1 Vain and false hopes are for a man void of understanding;
And dreams give wings to fools.
2 [c] As one that catcheth at a shadow, and followeth after the wind,
So is he that setteth his mind on dreams.
3 The vision of dreams is as this thing against that,
[d] The likeness of a face over against a face.
4 [e] Of an unclean thing what shall be cleansed?
And of that which is false what shall be true?
5 [f] Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain:
And the heart fancieth, as a woman's in travail.
6 [g] If they be not sent from the Most High in thy visitation,
Give not thy heart unto them.
7 For dreams have led many astray:
And they have failed by putting their hope in them.
8 Without lying shall the law be accomplished;
And wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.
9 A well-instructed man knoweth many things;
And [h] he that hath much experience will declare understanding.
10 He that hath no experience knoweth few things:
But [i] he that hath wandered shall increase his skill.
11 [j] In my wandering I have seen many things;
And more than my words is my understanding.
12 [k] Ofttimes was I in danger even unto death;
And I was preserved because of these things.
13 [l] The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live;
For their hope is upon him that saveth them.
14 [m] Whoso feareth the Lord shall not be afraid, and shall not play the coward;
For [n] he is his hope.
15 Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord:
To whom doth he give heed? and who is his stay?
16 [o] The eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him,
[p] A mighty protection and strong stay,
[q] A cover from the hot blast, and a cover from the noonday,
[r] A guard from stumbling, and a succour from falling.
17 He raiseth up the soul, and [s] enlighteneth the eyes:
He giveth healing, life, and blessing.
18 [t] He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is made in mockery;
And the mockeries of wicked men are not well-pleasing.
19 [u] The Most High hath no pleasure in the offerings of the ungodly;
[v] Neither is he pacified for sins by the multitude of sacrifices.
20 As one that killeth the son before his father's eyes
Is [w] he that bringeth a sacrifice from the goods of the poor.
21 The bread of the needy is the life of the poor:
He that depriveth him thereof is a man of blood.
22 As one that slayeth his neighbour is [x] he that taketh away his living;
And [y] as a shedder of blood is he that depriveth a hireling of his hire.
23 One building, and another pulling down,
What profit have they had but toil?
24 One praying, and another cursing,
Whose voice will the Lord listen to?
25 [z] He that washeth himself after touching a dead body, and toucheth it again,
What profit hath he in his washing?
26 Even so a man [a] fasting for his sins,
[b] And going again, and doing the same;
Who will listen to his prayer?
And what profit hath he in his humiliation?

35 1 [c] He that keepeth the law multiplieth offerings;
He that taketh heed to the commandments sacrificeth [d] a peace offering.
2 He that requiteth a good turn offereth [e] fine flour;
And he that giveth alms sacrificeth a thank offering.
3 [f] To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord;
And to depart from unrighteousness is a propitiation.
4 [g] See that thou appear not in the presence of the Lord empty.
5 For all these things are to be done because of the commandment.
6 The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat;
And the [h] sweet savour thereof is before the Most High.

7 [i]The sacrifice of a righteous man is acceptable;
[j]And the memorial thereof shall not be forgotten.
8 Glorify the Lord [k]with a good eye,
And [l]stint not the firstfruits of thine hands.
9 [m]In every gift shew a cheerful countenance,
And dedicate thy tithe with gladness.
10 [n]Give unto the Most High according as he hath given;
And as thy hand hath found, give [o]with a good eye.
11 [p]For the Lord recompenseth,
And he will recompense thee sevenfold.
12 Think not to corrupt with gifts; for he will not receive them:
And set not thy mind on an unrighteous sacrifice;
For [q]the Lord is judge,
And [r]with him is no respect of persons.
13 He will not accept any person against a poor man;
And [s]he will listen to the prayer of him that is wronged.
14 [t]He will in no wise despise the supplication of the fatherless;
Nor the widow, [1]when she poureth out her tale.
15 Do not the tears of the widow run down her cheek?
And is not her cry against him that hath caused them to fall?
16 He that serveth God according to his good pleasure shall be accepted,
And his supplication shall reach unto the clouds.
17 The prayer of the humble [u]pierceth the clouds;
And till it come nigh, he will not be comforted;
And [v]he will not depart, till the Most High shall visit;
And he shall judge [2]righteously, and execute judgement.
18 And the Lord [w]will not be slack,
[x]neither will he be longsuffering toward them,
Till he have [y]crushed the loins of the unmerciful;
And he shall repay vengeance to the heathen;
Till he have taken away the multitude of the haughty,
And [z]broken in pieces the sceptres of the unrighteous;
19 [a]Till he have rendered to every man according to his doings,
And to the works of men according to their devices;
Till he have judged the cause of his people;
And he shall make them to rejoice in his mercy.
20 [b]Mercy is seasonable in the time of his afflicting them,
[c]As clouds of rain in the time of drought.

36 1 Have mercy upon us, O Lord the God of all, and behold;
2 And send thy fear upon all the nations:[3]
3 [d]Lift up thy hand against the strange nations;
And let them see thy mighty power.
4 As thou wast [e]sanctified in us before them,
So be thou magnified in them before us.
5 And [f]let them know thee, as we also have known thee,
That there is no God but only thou, O God.
6 Shew new signs, and work divers wonders;
Glorify thy hand and thy right arm.[3]
7 [d]Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath;
Take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy.
8 [g]Hasten the time, and [h]remember the oath;
And let them declare thy mighty works.
9 Let him that escapeth be devoured by the rage of fire;
And may they that harm thy people find destruction.
10 [i]Crush the heads of the rulers of the enemies,
That say, There is none but we.
11 [j]Gather all the tribes of Jacob together,
And [4]take them for thine inheritance, as from the beginning.
12 [k]O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy name,
And upon Israel, [l]whom thou didst liken unto a firstborn.
13 Have compassion upon the city of thy sanctuary,
Jerusalem, [m]the place of thy rest.
14 Fill Sion; exalt thine [n]oracles,
And fill thy people with thy glory.
15 Give testimony unto those that were thy creatures in the beginning,
And raise up [o]the prophecies that have been in thy name.
16 Give reward unto [p]them that wait for thee:
And men shall put their trust in thy prophets.
17 Hearken, O Lord, to the prayer of thy suppliants,
[q]According to the blessing of Aaron concerning thy people;
And [r]all they that are on the earth shall know

That thou art the Lord, [a] the [1] eternal God.

18 The belly will eat any meat;
Yet is one meat better than another.
19 [f] The [2] mouth tasteth meats taken in hunting:
So doth an understanding heart false speeches.
20 A froward heart will cause heaviness:
[u] And a man of experience will recompense him.
21 A woman will receive any man;
But one daughter is better than another.
22 The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance;
And [v] a man desireth nothing so much.
23 If there is [w] on her tongue mercy and meekness,
Her husband is not like the sons of men.
24 [x] He that getteth a wife entereth upon a possession;
[y] A help meet for him, and a pillar of rest.
25 [z] Where no hedge is, the possession will be laid waste:
And he that hath no wife will mourn as he wandereth up and down.
26 For who will trust a nimble robber, that skippeth from city to city?
Even so who shall trust a man [a] that hath no nest, and lodgeth wheresoever he findeth himself at nightfall?

37 1 [b] Every friend will say, I also am his friend:
But there is a friend, which is only a friend in name.
2 [c] Is there not a grief in it even unto death,
When a companion and friend is turned to enmity?
3 O wicked imagination, whence camest thou rolling in
To cover the dry land with deceitfulness?
4 There is a companion, which rejoiceth in the gladness of a friend,
But [d] in time of affliction will be against him.
5 [e] There is a companion, which for the belly's sake laboureth with his friend,
In the face of battle will take up the buckler.
6 [f] Forget not a friend in thy soul;
And be not unmindful of him in thy riches.

7 Every counsellor extolleth counsel;
But there is that counselleth for himself.
8 [g] Let thy soul beware of a counsellor,
And know thou before what is his interest
(For he will take counsel for himself);
Lest he [h] cast the lot upon thee,
9 And [i] say unto thee, Thy way is good:
And he will stand over against thee, to see what shall befall thee.
10 Take not counsel with one that looketh askance at thee;
And hide thy counsel from such as are jealous of thee.
11 [j] Take not counsel with a woman about her rival;
Neither with a coward about war;
[k] Nor with a merchant about exchange;
[l] Nor with a buyer about selling;
Nor with an envious man about thankfulness;
Nor with an unmerciful man about kindliness;
[m] Nor with a sluggard about any kind of work;
Nor with a hireling in thy house about finishing his work;
Nor with an idle servant about much business:
Give not heed to these in any matter of counsel.
12 But rather [n] be continually with a godly man,
Whom thou shalt have known to be a keeper of the commandments,
Who in his soul is as thine own soul,
[o] And who will grieve with thee, if thou shalt miscarry.
13 And [p] make the counsel of thy heart to stand;
For there is none more faithful unto thee than it.
14 For a man's soul is sometime wont to bring him tidings,
More than seven [q] watchmen that sit on high on a watch-tower.
15 And above all this intreat the Most High,
That he may direct thy way in truth.

16 [r] Let reason be the beginning of every work,
And let counsel go before every action.
17 As a token of the changing of the heart,
[18] four manner of things do rise up,
[s] Good and evil, life and death;
And [t] that which ruleth over them continually is the tongue.
19 There is one that is shrewd and the instructor of many,
And [u] yet is unprofitable to his own soul.
20 There is one that is subtil in words, and is hated;
He shall be destitute of all food:
21 For grace was not given him from the Lord;
Because he is deprived of all wisdom.
22 There is one that is wise to his own soul;
And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy in the mouth.

23 [v] A wise man will instruct his own people;
And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy.
24 A wise man shall be filled with blessing;
And all they that see him shall call him happy.
25 [w] The life of man is numbered by days;
And [x] the days of Israel are innumerable.
26 The wise man [y] shall inherit confidence among his people,
And his name shall live for ever.

27 My son, prove thy soul in thy life,
And see what is evil for it, and give not that unto it.
28 For [z] all things are not profitable for all men,
Neither hath every soul pleasure in every thing.
29 [a] Be not insatiable in any luxury,
And [b] be not greedy on the things that thou eatest.
30 [c] For in multitude of meats there shall be disease,
And surfeiting shall come nigh unto colic.
31 Because of surfeiting have many perished;
But he that taketh heed shall prolong his life.

38 [1] Honour a physician according to thy need of him with [d] the honours due unto him:
[e] For verily the Lord hath created him.
2 For from the Most High cometh healing;
And from the king he shall receive a gift.
3 The skill of the physician shall lift up his head;
And in the sight of great men he shall be admired.
4 The Lord created [f] medicines out of the earth;
And a prudent man will have no disgust at them.
5 [g] Was not water made sweet with wood,
That the virtue thereof might be known?
6 And he gave men skill,
That [1] they might be glorified in his marvellous works.
7 [h] With them doth he heal a man,
And taketh away his pain.
8 With these will the apothecary make a confection;
And his works shall not be brought to an end;
And from him is peace upon the face of the earth.
9 My son, in thy sickness be not negligent;
But [i] pray unto the Lord, and he shall heal thee.
10 [j] Put away wrong doing, and order thine hands aright,
[k] And cleanse thy heart from all manner of sin.
11 Give [l] a sweet savour, and a memorial of [m] fine flour;
And make fat thine offering, as one that is not.
12 Then give place to the physician, for verily [n] the Lord hath created him;
And let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him.
13 There is a time when in their very hands is the issue for good.
14 For they also shall beseech the Lord,
That he may prosper them in giving relief and in healing for the maintenance of life.
15 [o] He that sinneth before his Maker,
Let him fall into the hands of the physician.

16 [p] My son, let thy tears fall over the dead,
And as one that suffereth grievously begin lamentation;
[q] And wind up his body according to his due,
And neglect not his burial.
17 [r] Make bitter weeping, and make passionate wailing,
And let thy mourning be according to his desert,
For one day or two, lest thou be evil spoken of:
And so be comforted for thy sorrow.
18 [s] For of sorrow cometh death,
And [t] sorrow of heart will bow down the strength.
19 In calamity sorrow also remaineth:
And the poor man's life is [2] grievous to the heart.
20 Give not thy heart unto sorrow:
Put it away, [u] remembering the last end:
21 Forget it not, for [v] there is no returning again:
Him thou shalt not profit, and thou wilt hurt thyself.
22 [w] Remember the sentence upon him; for so also shall thine be;
Yesterday for me, and to-day for thee.
23 [x] When the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest;
And be comforted for him, when his spirit departeth from him.

24 [y] The wisdom of the scribe cometh by opportunity of leisure;
And [3] he that hath little business shall become wise.
25 How shall he become wise that holdeth the plough,
That glorieth in the shaft of the goad,

[1] Or, he

That driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labours,
And whose discourse is of the stock of bulls?
26 He will set his heart upon turning his furrows;
And his wakefulness is to give his heifers their fodder.
27 So is every artificer and workmaster,
That passeth his time by night as by day;
They that cut gravings of signets,
And his diligence is to make great variety;
[z] He will set his heart to preserve likeness in his portraiture,
And will be wakeful to finish his work.
28 [a] So is the smith sitting by the anvil,
And considering the unwrought iron:
The vapour of the fire will waste his flesh;
And in the heat of the furnace will he wrestle with his work:
The noise of the hammer will [1] be ever in his ear,
And his eyes are upon the pattern of the vessel;
He will set his heart upon perfecting his works,
And he will be wakeful to adorn them perfectly.
29 [b] So is the potter sitting at his work,
And turning the wheel about with his feet,
Who is alway anxiously set at his work,
And all his handywork is by number;
30 He will fashion the clay with his arm,
And will bend its strength in front of his feet;
He will apply his heart to finish the glazing;
And he will be wakeful to make clean the furnace.

31 All these put their trust in their hands;
And each becometh wise in his own work.
32 Without these shall not a city be inhabited,
And men shall not sojourn nor walk up and down therein.
33 [2] They shall not be sought for in the council of the people,
And in the assembly they shall not mount on high;
They shall not sit on the seat of the judge,
And they shall not understand the covenant of judgement:
Neither shall they declare instruction and judgement;
And [c] where parables are they shall not be found.

34 But they will maintain the fabric of the [3] world;
And in the handywork of their craft is their prayer.

39 1 [4] Not so he that hath applied his soul,
And [d] meditateth in the law of the Most High;
[e] He will seek out the wisdom of all the ancients,
And will be occupied [f] in prophecies.
2 He will keep the discourse of the men of renown,
[g] And will enter in amidst the subtilties of parables.
3 [h] He will seek out the hidden meaning of proverbs,
And be conversant in [i] the dark sayings of parables.
4 [j] He will serve among great men,
And appear before him that ruleth:
[k] He will travel through the land of strange nations;
For [l] he hath tried good things and evil among men.
5 [m] He will apply his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him,
And will make supplication before the Most High,
And will open his mouth in prayer,
And will make supplication for his sins.

6 [n] If the great Lord will,
He shall be filled with the spirit of understanding:
He shall [o] pour forth the words of his wisdom,
And in prayer give thanks unto the Lord.
7 He shall direct his counsel and knowledge,
And [p] in his secrets shall he meditate.
8 He shall shew forth the instruction which he hath been taught,
And [q] shall glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.
9 [r] Many shall commend his understanding;
And so long as the world endureth,
[s] it shall not be blotted out:
[t] His memorial shall not depart,
And his name shall live from generation to generation.
10 [u] Nations shall declare his wisdom,
And the congregation shall tell out his praise.
11 If he continue, he shall leave a greater name than a thousand:
And if he [5] die, he addeth thereto.

12 Yet more will I utter, [v] which I have thought upon;
And I am filled as the moon at the full.

13 Hearken unto me, ye holy children,
And bud forth as [w] a rose growing by a brook of water:
14 And give ye a sweet savour as frankincense,
And put forth flowers [x] as a lily,
Spread abroad a sweet smell, and sing a song of praise;
Bless ye the Lord for all his works.
15 Magnify his name,
And give utterance to his praise
[y] With the songs of your lips, and with harps;
And thus shall ye say when ye utter his praise:

16 [z] All the works of the Lord are exceeding good,
And [a] every command shall be accomplished in his season.
17 [b] None can say, What is this? wherefore is that?
For in his season they shall all be sought out.
At his word [c] the waters stood as a heap,
And the receptacles of waters at the word of his mouth.
18 [d] At his command is all his good pleasure done;
And there is none that shall hinder his salvation.
19 [e] The works of all flesh are before him;
And it is not possible to be hid from his eyes.
20 He beholdeth from everlasting to everlasting;
And there is nothing wonderful before him.
21 [b] None can say, What is this? wherefore is that?
For all things are created for their uses.

22 His blessing covered the dry land as a river,
And saturated it as a flood.
23 As he hath turned the waters into saltness;
So shall the heathen inherit his wrath.
24 [f] His ways are plain unto the holy;
So are they stumblingblocks unto the wicked.
25 Good things are created from the beginning for the good;
[g] So are evil things for sinners.
26 [h] The chief of all things necessary for the life of man
Are water, and fire, and iron, and salt,
And flour of wheat, and honey, and milk,
[i] The blood of the grape, and oil, and clothing.
27 [j] All these things are for good to the godly;
[k] So to the sinners they shall be turned into evil.

28 [l] There be winds that are created for vengeance,
And in their fury lay on their scourges heavily;
In the time of consummation they pour out their strength,
And shall appease the wrath of him that made them.
29 [l] Fire, and hail, and [m] famine, and death,
All these are created for vengeance;
30 [n] Teeth of wild beasts, [o] and scorpions and adders,
And a sword punishing the ungodly unto destruction.
31 [p] They shall rejoice in his commandment,
And shall be made ready upon earth, when need is;
And in their seasons they shall not transgress his word.

32 Therefore from the beginning I was resolved,
[q] And I thought this, and left it in writing;
33 [r] All the works of the Lord are good:
And he will supply every need in its season.
34 [s] And none can say, This is worse than that:
For they shall all be well approved in their season.
35 And now with all your heart and mouth sing ye praises,
And bless the name of the Lord.

40 1 [t] Great travail is created for every man,
And a heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam,
From the day of their coming forth from their mother's womb,
Until the day for their burial [u] in the mother of all things.
2 [v] The expectation of things to come, and the day of death,
[1] Trouble their thoughts, and cause fear of heart;
3 [w] From him that sitteth on a throne of glory,
Even unto him that is humbled in earth and ashes;
4 From him that weareth purple and a crown,
Even unto him that is clothed with a hempen frock.
5 There is wrath, and jealousy, and trouble, and disquiet,
And fear of death, and anger, and strife;
And in the time of rest upon his bed
His night sleep doth change his knowledge.
6 A little or nothing is his resting,
[x] And afterward in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch,

He is troubled in the vision of his heart,
As one that hath escaped from the front of battle.
7 In the very time of his deliverance [v] he awaketh,
And marvelleth that the fear is nought.

8 It is thus with all flesh, from man to beast,
And upon sinners sevenfold more.
9 Death, and bloodshed, and strife, and sword,
Calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge;
10 [w] All these things were created for the wicked,
And because of them came [a] the flood.
11 [b] All things that are of the earth turn to the earth again:
And [c] all things that are of the waters return into the sea.

12 All bribery and injustice shall be blotted out;
And good faith shall stand for ever.
13 The goods of the unjust shall be dried up [d] like a river,
And like a great thunder in rain [e] shall go off in noise.
14 In opening his hands a man shall be made glad:
So shall transgressors utterly fail.
15 [f] The children of the ungodly shall not put forth many branches;
And are as unclean roots upon a sheer rock.
16 [g] The sedge that groweth upon every water and bank of a river
[h] Shall be plucked up before all grass.
17 Bounty is as [i] a garden [1] of blessings,
And [j] almsgiving endureth for ever.

18 [k] The life of one that laboureth, [l] and is contented, shall be made sweet;
And he that findeth a treasure is above both.
19 Children and the building of a city establish a man's name;
And [m] a blameless wife is counted above both.
20 [n] Wine and music rejoice the heart;
And the love of wisdom is above both.
21 The pipe [o] and the psaltery make pleasant melody;
And [p] a pleasant tongue is above both.
22 Thine eye shall desire grace and beauty;
And above both the green blade of corn.
23 A friend and a companion never meet amiss;
And [q] a wife with her husband is above both.

24 [r] Brethren and succour are for a time of affliction;
And [s] almsgiving is a deliverer above both.
25 Gold and silver will make the foot stand sure;
And counsel is esteemed above them both.
26 [t] Riches and strength will lift up the heart;
And the fear of the Lord is above both:
[u] There is nothing wanting in the fear of the Lord,
And there is no need to seek help therein.
27 The fear of the Lord is as [v] a garden of blessing,
And covereth [2] a man above all glory.

28 My son, lead not a beggar's life;
[w] Better it is to die than to beg.
29 [x] A man that looketh unto the table of another,
His life is not to be counted for a life;
He will pollute his soul with another man's meats:
But a man wise and well-instructed will beware thereof.
30 In the mouth of the shameless begging will be sweet;
And in his belly a fire shall be kindled.

41 1 O death, [y] how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that is at peace in his possessions,
Unto the man that hath nothing to distract him, and hath prosperity in all things,
And that still hath strength to receive meat!
2 O death, [z] acceptable is thy sentence unto a man that is needy, and that faileth in strength,
[a] That is in extreme old age, and is distracted about all things,
And is perverse, and [b] hath lost patience!
3 Fear not the sentence of death;
Remember them that have been before thee, and that come after:
[c] This is the sentence from the Lord over all flesh.
4 And why dost thou refuse, when it is the good pleasure of the Most High?
Whether it be ten, or a hundred, or a thousand years,
There is no inquisition of life in [3] the grave.

5 The children of sinners are abominable children,
And they frequent the dwellings of the ungodly.

6 [d]The inheritance of sinners' children shall perish,
And with their posterity shall be a perpetual reproach.
7 Children will complain of an ungodly father,
Because they shall be reproached for his sake.
8 Woe unto you, ungodly men,
Which have forsaken the law of the Most High God! [1]
9 [e]If ye be born, ye shall be born to a curse;
If ye die, a curse shall be your portion.
10 [f]All things that are of the earth shall go back to the earth:
So the ungodly shall go from a curse unto perdition.
11 The mourning of men is about their bodies:
But [g]the name of sinners being evil shall be blotted out.
12 [h]Have regard to thy name;
For it continueth with thee longer than a thousand great treasures of gold.
13 A good life hath its number of days;
And [i]a good name continueth for ever.
14 My children, keep instruction in peace:
[j]But wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seen,
What profit is in them both?
15 [k]Better is a man that hideth his foolishness
Than a man that hideth his wisdom.
16 Wherefore shew reverence to my word:
[l]For it is not good to retain every kind of shame;
And not all things are approved by all in good faith.
17 Be ashamed of whoredom before father and mother:
And of a lie before a prince and a mighty man;
18 Of an offence before a judge and ruler;
Of iniquity before the congregation and the people;
Of unjust dealing before a partner and friend;
19 And of theft in regard of the place where thou sojournest,
And in regard of the truth of God [m]and his covenant;
And of leaning with thine elbow at meat;
And of scurrility in the matter of giving and taking;
20 And of silence before them that salute thee;
And of looking upon a woman that is a harlot;
21 And [n]of turning away [2]thy face from a kinsman;
Of taking away a portion or a gift;
[o]And of gazing upon a woman that hath a husband;
22 Of being over busy with his maid;
and come not near her bed;
[p]Of upbraiding speeches before friends;
[q]And after thou hast given, upbraid not;
23 [r]Of repeating and speaking what thou hast heard;
And [s]of revealing of secrets.
24 So shalt thou be truly [t]shamefast,
And find favour in the sight of every man.

42 1 [u]Of these things be not ashamed,
And [v]accept no man's person to sin thereby:
2 Of the law of the Most High, [w]and his covenant;
And of judgement to do justice to the ungodly;
3 Of reckoning with a partner and with travellers;
And of a gift from the heritage of friends;
4 [x]Of exactness of balance and weights;
And of getting much or little;
5 Of indifferent selling of merchants;
And [y]of much correction of children;
And [z]of making the side of an evil servant to bleed.
6 [3]Sure keeping is good, where an evil wife is;
And where many hands are, shut thou close.
7 Whatsoever thou handest over, let it be by number and weight;
[a]And in giving and receiving let all be in writing.
8 Be not ashamed to instruct the unwise and foolish,
[b]And one of extreme old age that contendeth with those that are young;
And so shalt thou be well instructed indeed,
And approved in the sight of every man living.
9 [c]A daughter is a secret cause of wakefulness to a father;
And the care for her putteth away sleep;
In her youth, [d]lest she pass the flower of her age;
And when she is married, lest she should be hated:
10 [e]In her virginity, lest she should be defiled
And be with child in her father's house;
And when she hath a husband, lest she should transgress;

And when she is married, lest she should be barren.
11 f Keep a strict watch over a headstrong daughter,
Lest she make thee [1]a laughingstock to thine enemies,
A byword in the city and [2]notorious among the people,
And shame thee before the multitude.
12 g Look not upon every body in regard of beauty,
And sit not in the midst of women;
13 For from garments cometh a moth,
And from a woman h a woman's wickedness.
14 Better is the wickedness of a man than i a pleasant-dealing woman,
And a woman which putteth thee to shameful reproach.

15 I will make mention now of the works of the Lord,
And will declare the things that I have seen:
j In the words of the Lord are his works.
16 The sun that giveth light looketh upon all things;
And the work of the Lord is full of his glory.
17 k The Lord hath not given power to the saints to declare all his marvellous works;
Which the Almighty Lord firmly settled,
That whatsoever is might be established in his glory.
18 l He searcheth out the deep, and the heart,
And he hath understanding of their cunning devices:
For the Most High knoweth all knowledge,
And he looketh into m the [3]signs of the world,
19 n Declaring the things that are past, and the things that shall be,
And revealing the traces of hidden things.
20 o No thought escapeth him;
p There is not a word hid from him.
21 q The mighty works of his wisdom he hath ordered,
Who is from everlasting to everlasting:
r Nothing hath been added unto them, nor diminished from them;
And s he had no need of any counsellor.
22 t How desirable are all his works!
One may behold this even unto a spark.
23 All these things live and remain for ever in all manner of uses,
And u they are all obedient.
24 v All things are double one against another:
And he hath made nothing imperfect.
25 One thing establisheth the good things of another:
And who shall be filled with beholding his glory?

43 1 The pride of the height is the firmament w [4]in its clearness,
The appearance of heaven, in the spectacle of its glory.
2 x The sun when he appeareth, bringing tidings as he goeth forth,
Is a marvellous instrument, the work of the Most High:
3 y At his noon he drieth up the country,
And who shall stand against [5]his burning heat?
4 A man blowing a furnace is in works of heat,
But the sun three times more, burning up the mountains:
Breathing out fiery vapours,
And a sending forth bright beams, he dimmeth the eyes.
5 Great is the Lord that made him;
And at his word b he hasteneth his course.
6 c The moon also is in all things for her season,
For a declaration of times, and d a sign of the world.
7 e From the moon is the sign of the feast day;
A light that waneth when she is come to the full.
8 The month is called after her name,
Increasing wonderfully in her changing;
An instrument of the hosts on high,
Shining forth in the firmament of heaven;
9 f The beauty of heaven, the glory of the stars,
An ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.
10 g At the word of the Holy One they will stand in [5]due order,
And they will not faint in their watches.
11 h Look upon the rainbow, and praise him that made it;
Exceeding beautiful in the brightness thereof.
12 It compasseth the heaven round about with a circle of glory;
The hands of the Most High have stretched it.
13 i By his commandment he maketh the snow to fall space,
And sendeth swiftly j the lightnings of his judgement.
14 By reason thereof k the treasure-houses are opened;
And clouds fly forth as fowls.
15 By his mighty power he maketh strong the clouds,
And the hailstones are broken small:

16 And [l] at his appearing the mountains will be shaken,
And at his will [m] the south wind will blow.
17 [n] The voice of his thunder maketh the earth to travail;
[o] So doth the northern storm and the whirlwind:
As birds flying down he sprinkleth the snow;
And [p] as the lighting of the locust is the falling down thereof:
18 The eye will marvel at the beauty of its whiteness,
And the heart will be astonished at the raining of it.
19 [q] The hoar frost also he poureth on the earth as salt;
And when it is congealed, it is as points of thorns.
20 The cold north wind shall blow,
And the ice shall be congealed on the water:
It shall lodge upon every gathering together of water,
And the water shall put on as it were a breastplate.
21 It shall devour the mountains, and burn up the wilderness,
And consume the green herb as fire.
22 A mist coming speedily is the healing of all things;
[r] A dew coming after heat shall bring cheerfulness.
23 By his counsel [s] he hath stilled the deep,
And [1] planted islands therein.
24 [t] They that sail on the sea tell of the danger thereof;
And when we hear it with our ears, we marvel.
25 [u] Therein be also those strange and wondrous works,
Variety of all that hath life, the [2] race of [v] sea-monsters.
26 By reason of him his end hath success,
And [w] by his word all things consist.
27 [x] We may say many things, yet shall we not attain;
And the sum of our words is, He is all.
28 How shall we have strength to glorify him?
For he is himself the great one [y] above all his works.
29 [z] The Lord is terrible and exceeding great;
And marvellous is his power.
30 When ye glorify the Lord, exalt him as much as ye can;
For even yet will he exceed:
And when ye exalt him, put forth your full strength:
Be not weary; for ye will never attain.
31 [a] Who hath seen him, [b] that he may declare him?
And who shall magnify him as he is?
32 [c] Many things are hidden greater than these;
For we have seen but a few of his works.
33 [d] For the Lord made all things;
And to the godly gave he wisdom.

44 1 Let us now praise famous men,
And our fathers that begat us.
2 The Lord [3] manifested in them great glory,
Even his mighty power from the beginning.
3 Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms,
And were men renowned for their power,
[4] Giving counsel by their understanding,
Such as have brought tidings [e] in prophecies:
4 Leaders of the people by their counsels,
And by their understanding [5] men of learning for the people;
Wise were their words in their instruction:
5 [f] Such as sought out musical tunes,
And set forth verses in writing:
6 Rich men furnished with ability,
Living peaceably in their habitations:
7 All these were honoured in their generations,
And were a glory in their days.
8 There be of them, that have left a name behind them,
To declare their praises.
9 And some there be, which have no memorial;
Who are perished as though they had not been,
[g] And are become as though they had not been born;
And their children after them.
10 But these were men of mercy,
Whose righteous deeds have not been forgotten.
11 [h] With their seed shall remain continually a good inheritance;
Their children are [6] within the covenants.
12 Their seed standeth fast,
And their children for their sakes.
13 Their seed shall remain for ever,
And their glory shall [i] not be blotted out.
14 [j] Their bodies were buried in peace,
And their name liveth to all generations.
15 [k] Peoples will declare their wisdom,
And the congregation telleth out their praise.

16 [t]Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated,
Being an example of repentance to all generations.
17 [u]Noah was found perfect and righteous;
In the season of wrath he was taken in exchange for the world;
[v]Therefore was there left a remnant unto the earth,
When the flood came.
18 [o]Everlasting covenants were made with him,
That all flesh should no more be blotted out by a flood.
19 [p]Abraham was a great father of a multitude of nations;
And there was none found like him in glory;
20 Who kept the law of the Most High,
And was taken into covenant with him:
[q]In his flesh he established the covenant;
And [r]when he was proved, he was found faithful.
21 [s]Therefore he assured him by an oath,
That the nations should be blessed in his seed;
That he would multiply him [t]as the dust of the earth,
And exalt his seed [u]as the stars,
And cause them to inherit from sea to sea,
And [v]from the River unto the utmost part of the earth.
22 [w]In Isaac also did he establish likewise, for Abraham his father's sake,
The blessing of all men, and the covenant:
23 And [x]he made it rest upon the head of Jacob;
He acknowledged him in his blessings,
And gave to him by inheritance,
And divided his portions;
[y]Among twelve tribes did he part them.

45 1 And he brought out of him a man of mercy,
[z]Which found favour in the sight of all flesh;
A man beloved of God and men, even Moses,
[a]Whose memorial is blessed.
2 He made him like to the glory of the saints,
And magnified him in the fears of his enemies.
3 [b]By his words he caused the wonders to cease;
He glorified him in the sight of kings;
[c]He gave him commandment for his people,
And [d]shewed him part of his glory.
4 He sanctified him in his faithfulness and [e]meekness;
He chose him out of all flesh.
5 He made him to hear his voice,
And led him [f]into the thick darkness,
And gave him commandments [g]face to face,
Even the law of life and knowledge,
That he might teach Jacob the covenant,
And Israel his judgements.
6 [h]He exalted Aaron, a holy man like unto him,
Even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.
7 He established for him an everlasting covenant,
And [i]gave him the priesthood of the people;
He [1]beautified him with comely ornaments,
[j]And girded him about with a robe of glory.
8 He clothed him with the perfection of exultation;
And strengthened him with apparel of [2]honour,
[k]The linen breeches, [l]the long robe, and [l]the ephod.
9 And he compassed him [m]with pomegranates of gold,
And with many bells round about,
[n]To send forth a sound as he went,
To make a sound that might be heard in the temple,
For a memorial to the children of his people;
10 With a holy garment, with gold and blue and purple, the work of the embroiderer,
[o]With an oracle of judgement, [p]even with the Urim and Thummim;
11 With twisted scarlet, the work of the craftsman;
[q]With precious stones graven like a signet, in a setting of gold, the work of the jeweller,
For a memorial engraved in writing, after the number of the tribes of Israel;
12 [r]With a crown of gold upon the mitre, [3]having graven on it, as on a signet, [s]HOLINESS,
An ornament of honour, a work of might,
The desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.
13 Before him there never have been any such;
No stranger put them on, [t]but his sons only, and his offspring perpetually.
14 His sacrifices shall be wholly consumed
[u]Every day twice continually.

And anointed him with holy oil:
It was unto him for an everlasting covenant,
And to his seed, [w] all the days of heaven,
To minister unto him, and to execute also the priest's office,
And [x] bless his people in his name.
16 [y] He chose him out of all living
To offer sacrifice to the Lord,
Incense, and a sweet savour, for a memorial,
To make reconciliation for thy people.
17 [z] He gave unto him in his commandments,
Yea, authority in the covenants of judgements,
[a] To teach Jacob the testimonies,
And to enlighten Israel in his law.
18 [b] Strangers gathered themselves together against him,
And envied him in the wilderness,
Even Dathan and Abiram with their company,
And the congregation of Korah, with wrath and anger.
19 [c] The Lord saw it, and it displeased him;
And in the wrath of his anger they were destroyed:
He did wonders upon them,
To consume them with flaming fire.
20 And [d] he added glory to Aaron,
And gave him a heritage:
[e] He divided unto him the firstfruits of the increase;
And first did he prepare bread in abundance:
21 [f] For they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord,
Which he gave unto him and to his seed.
22 [g] Howbeit in the land of the people he shall have no inheritance,
And he hath no portion among the people:
For he himself is thy portion and inheritance.
23 And [h] Phinehas the son of Eleazar is the third in glory,
In that he was zealous in the fear of the Lord,
And stood fast in the good forwardness of his soul when the people turned away,
And he made reconciliation for Israel.
24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace established for him,
That he should be leader of the [1] saints and of his people;
That he and his seed
Should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever.
25 [i] Also he made a covenant with David the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah;
The inheritance of the king is his alone from son to son;
So the inheritance of Aaron is also unto his seed.
26 God give you wisdom in your heart
To judge his people in righteousness,
That their good things be not abolished,
And that their glory endure for all their generations.

46 1 [j] Joshua the son of [2] Nun was valiant in war,
And was the successor of Moses [k] in prophecies:
Who according to his name was made great [l] For the saving of [3] [m] God's elect,
To take vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them,
[n] That he might give Israel their inheritance.
2 [o] How was he glorified in the lifting up his hands,
And in stretching out his sword against the cities!
3 Who before him so stood fast?
For the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.
4 [p] Did not the sun go back by his hand?
And did not one day become as two?
5 He called upon the Most High and Mighty One,
When his foes pressed him round about;
And the great Lord heard him.
6 [q] With hailstones of mighty power
He caused war to break violently upon the nation,
And [q] in the going down he destroyed them that resisted;
That the nations might know his [4] armour,
How that he fought in the sight of the Lord;
For he followed after the Mighty One.
7 Also in the time of Moses he did a work of mercy,
[r] He and Caleb the son of Jephunneh,
In that they withstood the adversary,
Hindered the people from sin,
And stilled the murmuring of wickedness.
8 And of [s] six hundred thousand people on foot, [t] they two alone were preserved
To bring them into the heritage,
Even into a land [u] flowing with milk and honey.
9 [v] Also the Lord gave strength unto Caleb,
And it remained with him unto his old age;
So that he entered upon the height of the land,
And his seed obtained it for a heritage:

10 That all the children of Israel might see
That it is good [w]to walk after the Lord.

11 Also the judges, every one by his name,
[x]All whose hearts went not a whoring,
And who turned not away from the Lord,
[y]May their memorial be blessed.

12 [z]May their bones flourish again out of their place,
And may the name of them that have been honoured be renewed upon their children.

13 Samuel, [a]the prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord,
Established a kingdom, and [b]anointed princes over his people.

14 By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation,
And the Lord visited Jacob.

15 [c]By his faithfulness he was proved to be a prophet,
And by his words he was known to be faithful in vision.

16 [d]Also when his enemies pressed him round about [e]He called upon the Lord, the Mighty One,
With the offering of the sucking lamb.

17 And the Lord thundered from heaven,
And with a mighty sound made his voice to be heard.

18 And he utterly destroyed the rulers [f]of the Tyrians,
And all the princes of the Philistines.

19 Also before the time of his [1]long sleep
[g]He made protestations in the sight of the Lord and his anointed,
I have not taken any man's goods, so much as a shoe:
And no man did accuse him.

20 [h]And after he fell asleep he prophesied,
And shewed the king his end,
And lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy,
To blot out the wickedness of the people.

47 1 And after him rose up [i]Nathan
To prophesy in the days of David.

2 As is [j]the fat when it is separated from the peace offering,
[k]So was David separated from the children of Israel.

3 He played [l]with lions as with kids,
And with bears as with lambs of the flock.

4 [m]In his youth did he not slay a giant,
And take away reproach from the people,
When he lifted up his hand with a sling stone,
And beat down the boasting of Goliath?

5 For he called upon the Most High Lord;
And he gave him strength in his right hand,
To slay a man mighty in war,
To exalt [n]the horn of his people.

6 [o]So they glorified him for his ten thousands,
And praised him for the blessings of the Lord,
In that there was given him a diadem of glory.

7 [p]For he destroyed the enemies on every side,
And [q]brought to nought the Philistines his adversaries,
Brake [n]their horn in pieces unto this day.

8 In every work of his he gave thanks to the Holy One Most High with words of glory;
[r]With his whole heart he sang praise,
And loved him that made him.

9 [s]Also he set singers before the altar,
And to make sweet melody by their music.[2]

10 He gave comeliness to the feasts,
And set in order the seasons to perfection,
While they praised his holy name,
And the sanctuary sounded from early morning.

11 [t]The Lord took away his sins,
And exalted [n]his horn for ever;
And [u]gave him a covenant of kings,
And a throne of glory in Israel.

12 After him rose up a son, a man of understanding;
And for his sake he dwelt at large.

13 [v]Solomon reigned in days of peace;
And to him God gave rest round about,
[w]That he might set up a house for his name,
And prepare a sanctuary for ever.

14 [x]How wise wast thou made in thy youth,
And filled [y]as a river with understanding!

15 Thy soul covered the earth,
And thou filledst it with [3][z]dark parables.

16 [a]Thy name reached unto the isles afar off;
And for thy peace thou wast beloved.

17 [b]For thy songs and proverbs and parables,
And for thine interpretations, the countries marvelled at thee.

18 By the name of the Lord God,
Which is called the God of Israel,
[c] Thou didst gather gold as tin,
And didst multiply silver as lead.
19 [d] Thou didst bow thy loins unto women,
And in thy body thou wast brought into subjection.
20 Thou didst blemish thine honour,
And profane thy seed,
To bring wrath upon thy children;
And I was grieved for thy folly:
21 [e] So that the sovereignty was divided,
[f] And out of Ephraim ruled a disobedient kingdom.
22 [g] But the Lord will never forsake his mercy;
And he will not destroy any of his works,
Nor blot out the posterity of his elect;
And the seed of him that loved him he will not take away;
And he gave a remnant unto Jacob,
And unto David a root out of him.

23 And so rested Solomon with his fathers;
And [h] of his seed he left behind him Rehoboam,
Even the foolishness of the people, and one that lacked understanding,
[i] Who made the people to revolt by his counsel.
Also Jeroboam the son of Nebat,
[j] Who made Israel to sin,
And gave unto Ephraim a way of sin.
24 And their sins were multiplied exceedingly,
[k] To remove them from their land.
25 For they sought out all manner of wickedness,
Till vengeance should come upon them.

48 1 Also there arose [l] Elijah the prophet as fire,
And his word burned like a torch:
2 Who brought a famine upon them,
And by his zeal made them few in number.
3 [m] By the word of the Lord he shut up the heaven:
[n] Thrice did he thus bring down fire.
4 How wast thou glorified, O Elijah, in thy wondrous deeds!
And who shall glory like unto thee?
5 [o] Who did raise up a dead man from death,
And from [1] the place of the dead, by the word of the Most High:
6 [p] Who brought down kings to destruction,
[q] And honourable men from their bed:
7 [r] Who heard rebuke in Sinai,
And judgements of vengeance in Horeb:
8 [s] Who anointed kings for retribution,
And prophets to succeed after him:
9 [t] Who was taken up in a tempest of fire,
In a chariot of fiery horses:
10 Who was recorded for reproofs in their seasons,
To pacify anger, before it brake forth into wrath;
[u] To turn the heart of the father unto the son,
[v] And to restore the tribes of Jacob.
11 Blessed are they that saw thee,
And they that have been beautified with love;
For we also shall surely live.

12 Elijah it was, [t] who was wrapped in a tempest:
And [w] Elisha was filled with his spirit;
And in all his days [x] he was not moved by the fear of any ruler,
And no one brought him into subjection.
13 [2] Nothing was too high for him;
[y] And when he was laid on sleep his body prophesied.
14 As in his life he did wonders,
So in death were his works marvellous.
15 For all this the people repented not,
And they departed not from their sins,
[z] Till they were carried away as a spoil from their land,
[a] And were scattered through all the earth;
[b] And the people was left very few in number,
And a ruler was left in the house of David.
16 Some of them did that which was pleasing to God,
And some multiplied sins.

17 Hezekiah [c] fortified his city,
And [d] brought in [3] water into the midst of them:
He digged the sheer rock with iron,
And builded up wells for waters.
18 [e] In his days Sennacherib came up,
And sent Rabshakeh, and departed;
And he lifted up his hand against Sion,
[f] And boasted great things in his arrogancy.
19 Then were their hearts and their hands shaken,
And they were in pain, as women in travail;
20 [g] And they called upon the Lord which is merciful,
Spreading forth their hands unto him:
And the Holy One heard them speedily out of heaven,
And delivered them by the hand of Isaiah.

21 [h] He smote the camp of the Assyrians,
And his angel utterly destroyed them.
22 [i] For Hezekiah did that which was pleasing to the Lord,
And was strong in the ways of David his father,
Which Isaiah the prophet commanded,
Who was great and faithful in his vision.
23 [j] In his days the sun went backward;
And he added life to the king.
24 He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last;
And [k] he comforted them that mourned in Sion.
25 [l] He shewed the things that should be to the end of time,
And the hidden things or ever they came.

49 1 The memorial of [m] Josiah is like
[n] the composition of incense
Prepared by the work of the apothecary:
[o] It shall be sweet as honey in every mouth,
And [p] as music at a banquet of wine.
2 He behaved himself uprightly in the conversion of the people,
And [q] took away the abominations of iniquity.
3 [r] He set his heart right toward the Lord;
In the days of wicked men he made godliness to prevail.

4 Except [s] David and [t] Hezekiah and [u] Josiah,
All committed trespass:
For they forsook the law of the Most High;
The kings of Judah failed.
5 For [v] they gave their [1w] power unto others,
And their glory to a strange nation.
6 [x] They set on fire the chosen city of the sanctuary,
And made her streets desolate, y as it was written by the hand of Jeremiah.
7 [z] For they entreated him evil;
And yet [a] he was sanctified in the womb to be a prophet,
[b] To root out, and to afflict, and to destroy;
And in like manner to build and to plant.
8 [c] It was Ezekiel who saw the vision of glory,
Which God shewed him upon the chariot of the cherubim.
9 For verily he remembered [d] the enemies in [2] storm,
And to do good to them that directed their ways aright.
10 Also of [e] the twelve prophets [3]
[f] May the bones flourish again out of their place.
And he comforted Jacob,
And delivered them by confidence of hope.

11 How shall we magnify [g] Zerubbabel?
And he was [h] as a signet on the right hand:
12 So was [i] Jesus the son of Josedek:
[j] Who in their days builded the house,
And exalted a [4] people holy to the Lord,
Prepared for everlasting glory.
13 Also of [k] Nehemiah the memorial is great;
[l] Who raised up for us the walls that were fallen,
And set up the gates and bars,
And raised up our homes again.

14 No man was created upon the earth such as was [m] Enoch;
For he was taken up from the earth.
15 [n] Neither was there a man born like unto Joseph,
[o] A governor of his brethren, [p] a stay of the people:
[q] Yea, his bones were visited.
16 [r] Shem and [s] Seth were glorified among men;
And [t] above every living thing in the creation is Adam.

50 1 It was Simon, the son of Onias, the [5] great priest,
Who in his life repaired the house,
And in his days strengthened the temple:
2 And by him was built from the foundation the height of the double wall,
The lofty underworks of the inclosure of the temple:
3 In his days [u] the cistern of waters was [6] diminished,
The brasen vessel in compass as the sea.
4 It was he that took thought for his people that they should not fall,
And fortified the city [7] against besieging:
5 How glorious was he when the people gathered round him
At his coming forth out of the [8v] sanctuary!
6 [w] As the morning star in the midst of a cloud,
As the moon at the full:
7 [x] As the sun shining forth upon the temple of the Most High,
And as [y] the rainbow giving light in clouds of glory:
8 As the flower of [z] roses in the days of new fruits,
As [a] lilies at the waterspring,
As the shoot of the frankincense tree in the time of summer:

9 [b]As fire and incense in the censer,
As a vessel all of beaten gold
Adorned with all manner of precious stones:
10 [c]As an olive tree budding forth fruits,
And [d]as a cypress growing high among the clouds.
11 When he took up [e]the robe of glory,
And put on the perfection of exultation,
In the ascent of the holy altar,
He made glorious the precinct of the sanctuary.
12 And when he received the portions out of the priests' hands,
Himself also standing by the hearth of the altar,
His brethren as a garland round about him,
He was as a young [f]cedar in Libanus;
And as stems of [f]palm trees compassed they him round about,
13 And all the sons of Aaron in their glory,
And the Lord's offering in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.
14 And finishing the service at the altars,
That he might adorn the offering of the Most High, the Almighty,
15 He stretched out his hand to the [1]cup,
And poured of [g]the blood of the grape;
He poured out at the foot of the altar
[h]A sweet-smelling savour unto the Most High, the King of all.
16 Then shouted the sons of Aaron,
[i]They sounded the trumpets [f]of beaten work,
They made a great noise to be heard,
For a remembrance before the Most High.
17 Then all the people together hasted,
And fell down upon the earth on their faces
To worship their Lord, the Almighty, God Most High.
18 [k]The singers also praised him with their voices;
In the whole house was there made sweet melody.
19 And the people besought the Lord Most High,
In prayer before him that is merciful,
Till the [2]worship of the Lord should be ended;
And so they accomplished his service.
20 Then he went down, and lifted up his hands
Over the whole congregation of the children of Israel,
To give blessing unto the Lord with his lips,
And to glory in his name.
21 And he bowed himself down in worship the second time,
[l]To declare the blessing from the Most High.

22 And now bless ye the God of all,
[m]Which everywhere doeth great things,
[n]Which exalteth our days from the womb,
And dealeth with us according to his mercy.
23 May he grant us joyfulness of heart,
And that peace may be in our days in Israel for the days of eternity:
24 To intrust his mercy with us;
And let him deliver us in his time!

25 With two nations is my soul vexed,
And the third is no nation:
26 [o]They that sit upon the mountain of [3]Samaria, and [p]the Philistines,
And that foolish people that dwelleth in [q]Sichem.

27 I have [4]written in this book the instruction of understanding and knowledge,
I Jesus, the son of Sirach Eleazar, of Jerusalem,
[r]Who out of his heart poured forth wisdom.
28 [s]Blessed is he that shall be exercised in these things;
And he that layeth them up in his heart shall become wise.
29 For if he do them, he shall be strong to all things:
For [t]the light of the Lord is his [5]guide.[6]

A Prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

51 1 [u]I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord, O King,
[v]And will praise thee, God my Saviour:
I do give thanks unto thy name:
2 For thou wast my protector and helper,
And didst deliver my body out of destruction,
And [w]out of the snare of a slanderous tongue,
From lips that forge lies,
And wast my helper before them that stood by;
3 And didst deliver me, [x]according to the abundance of thy mercy, and greatness of thy name,
[y]From the gnashings of teeth ready to devour,
Out of the hand of such as sought my life,
Out of the manifold afflictions which I had;

4 [z] From the choking of a fire on every side,
And out of the midst of fire which I kindled not;
5 Out of the depth [a] of the belly of [1] the grave,
And [w] from an unclean tongue,
And from lying words,
6 The slander of an unrighteous tongue unto the king.
My soul drew near even unto death,
And [b] my life was near to [1] the grave beneath.
7 [c] They compassed me on every side,
[d] And there was none to help me.
I was looking for the succour of men,
And it was not.
8 And I remembered thy mercy, O Lord,
And thy working which hath been from everlasting,
How thou deliverest [e] them that wait for thee,
And savest them out of the hand of the enemies.
9 And I lifted up my supplication from the earth,
And prayed for deliverance from death.
10 I called upon the Lord, [f] the Father of my Lord,
That he would not forsake me in the days of affliction,
In the time when there was no help against the proud.
11 I will praise thy name continually,
And will sing praise with thanksgiving;
And my supplication was heard:
12 For thou savedst me from destruction,
And [g] deliveredst me from the evil time:
Therefore will I give thanks and praise unto thee,
And bless the name of the Lord.

13 When I was yet young,
[h] Or ever I went abroad,
[i] I sought wisdom openly in my prayer.
14 [j] Before the temple I asked for her,
And I will seek her out even to the end.
15 From her flower as from the ripening grape my heart delighted in her:
My foot trod in uprightness,
From my youth I tracked her out.
16 I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her,
And found for myself much instruction.
17 I profited in her:
Unto him that giveth me wisdom I will give glory.
18 For I purposed to practise her,
And I was zealous for that which is good;
And I shall never be put to shame.
19 My soul hath wrestled in her,
And in my doing I was exact:
I spread forth my hands to the heaven above,
And bewailed my ignorances of her.
20 I set my soul aright unto her,
And in pureness I found her.
I gat me a heart joined with her from the beginning:
[k] Therefore shall I not be forsaken.
21 My inward part also was troubled to seek her:
Therefore have I gotten a good possession.
22 The Lord [l] gave me a tongue for my reward;
And I will praise him therewith.

23 [m] Draw near unto me, ye unlearned,
And lodge in the house of instruction.
24 Say, wherefore are ye lacking in these things,
And your souls are very thirsty?
25 I opened my mouth, and spake,
Get her for yourselves [n] without money.
26 Put your neck [o] under the yoke,
And let your soul receive instruction:
[p] She is hard at hand to find.
27 Behold with your eyes,
How that [q] I laboured but a little,
And found for myself much rest.
28 [r] Get you instruction with a great sum of silver,
And [s] gain much gold by her.
29 May your soul rejoice in his mercy,
And may ye not be put to shame in praising him.
30 [t] Work your work before the time cometh,
[u] And in his time he will give you your reward.

BARUCH.

[a] Jer. 32. 12 & 36. 4 & 45. 2.
[b] Jer. 51. 59.

1 And these are the words of the book, which [a] Baruch the son of [b] Nerias, the son of Maaseas, the son of Sedekias, the son of Asadias, the son of Helkias, wrote in Babylon, 2 in the fifth year, and in the [c] seventh day of the month, [d] what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, [e] and burnt it with fire. 3 [f] And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of [g] Jechonias the son of Joakim king of Judah, and in the hearing of all the people that came to hear the book, 4 and in the hearing of the mighty men, and of the kings' sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and in the hearing of all the people, [h] from the least unto the greatest, even of all them that dwelt at Babylon by the river Sud. 5 And they wept, and fasted, [1] and prayed before the Lord; 6 [i] they made also a collection of money [j] according to every man's power: 7 and they sent it to Jerusalem unto Joakim the high priest, the son of [k] Helkias, the son of [k] Salom, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem, 8 at the same time when he took [l] the vessels of the house of the Lord, that had been carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Judah, the tenth day of the month [m] Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which [n] Sedekias the son of Josias king of Judah had made, 9 after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away [o] Jechonias, and the princes, and the captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land, from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon. 10 And they said, [o] Behold, we have sent you money; buy you therefore with the money [p] burnt offerings, and sin offerings, and incense, and prepare [q] an oblation, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God; 11 and [r] pray for the life of [s] Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of [t] Baltasar his son, that their days may be [u] as the days of heaven above the earth: 12 [2] and the Lord will give us strength, and [v] lighten our eyes, and we shall live [w] under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and under the shadow of [t] Baltasar his son, and we shall serve them many days, and find favour in their sight. 13 Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God; and unto this day the wrath of the Lord and his indignation is not turned from us. 14 And ye shall read [x] this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon [y] the day of the feast and on the days of the solemn assembly.

15 And ye shall say, [z] To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness, but unto us [a] confusion of face, as at this day, unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, 16 and to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers: 17 [b] for that we have sinned before the Lord, 18 and disobeyed him, and [c] have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us: 19 [d] since the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have dealt unadvisedly in not hearkening unto his voice. 20 [e] Wherefore the plagues clave unto us, [f] and the curse, which the Lord commanded Moses his servant to pronounce in the day that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land [g] that floweth with milk and honey, as at this day. 21 Nevertheless we hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, [h] whom he sent unto us: 22 but we walked every man in the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do that which is evil in the sight of the Lord our God. 1 [i] Therefore the 2 Lord hath made good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Judah, 2 [e] to bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, [2] as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that are written in the law of Moses; 3 [j] that we should eat every man the flesh of his own son, and every man the flesh of his own daughter. 4 Moreover he hath given them to be in subjection to [k] all the kingdoms that are round about us, to be [l] a reproach and [m] a desolation among all the people round about, where the Lord hath scattered them. 5 [n] Thus were they cast down, and not exalted, because we sinned against the Lord our God, in not hearkening unto his voice. 6 [o] To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness:

but unto us and to our fathers [p] confusion of face, as at this day. 7 [q] For all these plagues are come upon us, which the Lord hath pronounced against us. 8 [r] Yet have we not intreated the favour of the Lord, in turning every one from the thoughts of his wicked heart. 9 [s] Therefore hath the Lord kept watch over the plagues, and the Lord hath brought them upon us; [t] for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us. 10 [c] Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us.

11 [u] And now, O Lord, thou God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and with a high arm, and [v] hast gotten thyself a name, as at this day: 12 O Lord our God, [w] we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all thine ordinances. 13 [x] Let thy wrath turn from us: [y] for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered us. 14 [z] Hear our prayer, O Lord, and our petition, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us away captive: 15 that all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because Israel and his posterity is called by thy name. 16 [a] O Lord, look down from thine holy house, and consider us: [b] incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear: 17 open thine eyes, and behold: [c] for the dead that are in [1] the grave, whose breath is taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither glory nor righteousness: 18 [d] but the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will give thee glory and righteousness, O Lord. 19 [e] For we do not present our supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings. 20 For thou hast sent thy wrath and thine indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying, 21 [f] Thus saith the Lord, Bow your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon, and remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers. 22 [g] But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the king of Babylon, 23 [h] I will cause to cease out of the cities of Judah, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: [i] and the whole land shall be desolate without inhabitant. 24 But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good thy words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, [j] that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their places. 25 And, lo, [k] they are cast out to the heat by day, and to the frost by night, and they died in great miseries [l] by famine, by sword, and by pestilence. 26 And the house [m] which is called by thy name hast thou laid waste, as at this day, for the wickedness of the house of Israel and the house of Judah. 27 Yet, O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy kindness, and according to all that great mercy of thine, 28 as thou spakest by thy servant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying, 29 [n] If ye will not hear my voice, surely this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them. 30 For I know that they will not hear me, [o] because it is a stiffnecked people: [p] but in the land of their captivity they shall lay it to heart, 31 and shall know that I am the Lord their God: [q] and I will give them a heart, and ears to hear: 32 and they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and think upon my name, 33 and shall return from their stiff neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord. 34 [r] And I will bring them again into the land which I sware unto their fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished. 35 [s] And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: [t] and I will no more remove my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

3 1 O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, [u] the soul in anguish, the troubled spirit, crieth unto thee. 2 Hear, O Lord, and have mercy; for thou art a merciful God: yea, have mercy upon us, because we have sinned before thee. 3 For [v] thou sittest as king for ever, and we perish evermore. 4 O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, hear now the prayer of [2] the [w] dead Israelites, and of the children of them which were sinners before thee, that hearkened not unto the voice of thee their God: [x] for the which cause these plagues clave unto us. 5 Remember not the iniquities of our fathers: but remember thy power and thy name now at this time. 6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise. 7 For for this cause thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, [3] to the intent that we should call upon thy name: and we will praise thee in our captivity, [y] for we have [4] called to mind all the iniquity of our fathers, that sinned before thee. 8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered us, [z] for a reproach and a curse, and to be subject to penalty, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.

9 Hear, O Israel, the commandments of life: give ear to understand wisdom. 10 How happeneth it, O Israel, that thou art in thine enemies' land, that thou art waxen old in a strange country, [a] that thou art defiled with the dead, 11 that thou art counted [b] with them that go down into [1] the grave? 12 Thou hast forsaken [c] the fountain of wisdom. 13 [d] For if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldest have dwelled in peace for ever. 14 Learn where is [2] wisdom, where is strength, where is understanding; that thou mayest know also where is [e] length of days, and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace. 15 [f] Who hath found out her place? and who hath come into her treasuries? 16 Where are the princes of the heathen, and such as [g] ruled the beasts that are upon the earth; 17 they that had [h] their pastime with the fowls of the air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold, wherein men trust; and of whose getting there is no end? 18 For they that [3] wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are past finding out, 19 they are vanished and [b] gone down to [1] the grave, and others are come up in their steads. 20 Younger men have seen the light, and dwelt upon the earth: but [i] the way of knowledge have they not known, 21 neither understood they the paths thereof: neither have their children laid hold of it: they are far off from [4] their way. 22 It hath not been heard of in Canaan, neither hath it been seen in [j] Teman. 23 The [k] sons also of Agar that seek understanding, which are in the land, the merchants of [l] Merran and [j] Teman, and the authors of fables, and the searchers out of understanding; none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remembered her paths. 24 O Israel, how great is the house of God! and how large is the place of his possession! 25 great, and hath none end; high, and unmeasurable. 26 There were [m] the giants born that were famous of old, great of stature, and expert in war. 27 These did not God choose, neither gave he [i] the way of knowledge unto them: 28 so they perished, because they had no [2] wisdom, they perished through their own foolishness. 29 [n] Who hath gone up into heaven, and taken her, and [o] brought her down from the clouds? 30 Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and will bring her [p] for choice gold? 31 There is none that knoweth her way, nor any that comprehendeth her path. 32 [q] But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, he found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore hath filled it with fourfooted beasts: 33 he that sendeth forth the light, and it goeth; he called it, and it obeyed him with fear: 34 and the stars shined [r] in their watches, and were glad: when [s] he called them, they said, Here we be; they shined with gladness unto him that made them. 35 This is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of him. 36 [t] He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and [t] hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel that is beloved of him. 37 Afterward did she appear upon earth, and [u] was conversant with men.

4 [1] This is the book of the commandments of God, and the law that endureth for ever: [v] all they that hold it fast are appointed to life; but such as leave it shall die. [2] Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it: [w] walk towards her shining in the presence of the light thereof. 3 Give not thy glory to another, nor the things that are profitable unto thee to a strange nation. 4 [x] O Israel, happy are we: [y] for the things that are pleasing to God are made known unto us. 5 Be of good cheer, my people, the memorial of Israel. 6 [z] Ye were sold to the nations, but not for destruction: because ye moved God to wrath, ye were delivered unto your adversaries. 7 For ye provoked him that made you [a] by sacrificing unto demons, and not to God. 8 Ye forgat the everlasting God, that brought you up; ye grieved also Jerusalem, that nursed you. 9 For she saw the wrath that is come upon you from God, and said, Hearken, [b] ye women that dwell about Sion: for God hath brought upon me great mourning; 10 for I have seen the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them. 11 [c] For with joy did I nourish them; [d] but sent them away with weeping and mourning. 12 Let no man rejoice over me, [e] a widow, and forsaken of many: for the sins of my children am I left desolate; [f] because they turned aside from the law of God, 13 and had no regard to his statutes, neither walked they in the ways of God's commandments, nor trod in the paths of discipline in his righteousness. 14 [g] Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them. 15 [h] For he hath brought a nation upon them from far, a shameless nation, and of a strange language, [i] who neither reverenced old man, nor pitied child. 16 And they have carried away the dear beloved sons of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate of her daughters. 17 j But I, what can I help you? 18 For he that brought k these plagues upon you will deliver you from the hand of your enemies. 19 l Go your way, O my children, go your way: for I am left desolate. 20 m I have put off the garment of peace, and put upon me the sackcloth of my petition: n I will cry unto the Everlasting as long as I live. 21 o Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto God, and he shall deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies. 22 For I have trusted in the Everlasting, that he will save you; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you [1] from the Everlasting your Saviour. 23 p For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: q but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness for ever. 24 r For like as now they that dwell about Sion have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your salvation from [2] our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting. 25 My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee; but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread s upon their necks. 26 My delicate ones have gone rough ways; they were taken away as a flock carried off by the enemies. 27 t Be of good cheer, O my children, and cry unto God: for ye shall be remembered of him that hath brought these things upon you. 28 For as it was your mind to go astray from God: so, return and seek him ten times more. 29 For he that brought k these plagues upon you shall bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation. 30 Be of good cheer, O Jerusalem: for he that u called thee by name will comfort thee. 31 Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy fall. 32 Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she that received thy sons. 33 For as she rejoiced at thy fall, and was glad of thy ruin: so shall she be grieved for her own desolation. 34 v And I will take away her exultation in her great multitude, and her boasting shall be turned into mourning. 35 For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure; and she shall be inhabited of [3] devils for a great time.

36 O Jerusalem, w look about thee toward the east, and behold the joy that cometh unto thee from God. 37 Lo, x thy sons come, whom thou sentest away, they come y gathered together from the east to the west at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing in the glory of God.

5 1 Put off, O Jerusalem, a the garment of thy mourning and affliction, and a put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God for ever. 2 a Cast about thee b the robe of the righteousness which cometh from God; c set a diadem on thine head of the glory of the Everlasting. 3 For God will shew thy brightness unto every region under heaven. 4 d For thy name shall be called of God for ever e The peace of righteousness, and The glory of godliness. 5 Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand upon the height, and f look about thee toward the east, and behold thy children y gathered from the going down of the sun unto the rising thereof at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing that God hath remembered them. 6 For they went from thee on foot, being led away of their enemies: g but God bringeth them in unto thee borne on high with glory, [4] h as on a royal throne. 7 i For God hath appointed that every high mountain, and the everlasting hills, should be made low, and the valleys filled up, to make plain the ground, that Israel may go safely in the glory of God. 8 j Moreover the woods and every sweet-smelling tree have overshadowed Israel by the commandment of God. 9 For God shall lead Israel with joy in the light of his glory with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

THE EPISTLE OF JEREMY.

6 1 A copy of an epistle, which Jeremy sent unto them which were to be led captives into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certify them, as it was commanded him of God.

2 k Because of the sins which ye have committed before God, ye shall be led away captives into Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians. 3 So when ye be come unto Babylon, ye shall remain there many years, and for a long season, even for seven generations: and after that I will bring you out peaceably from thence. 4 But now shall ye see in Babylon l gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, m borne upon shoulders, which cause the nations to fear. 5 n Beware therefore that ye in no wise become like unto the strangers, neither let fear take hold upon you because of them, when ye see the multitude before them and behind them, worshipping them. 6 But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee. 7 o For mine angel is with you, [5] and I myself do care for your [6] souls. 8 For their tongue is polished by the workman, and they themselves are p overlaid with gold and with silver; yet are they but false, and q cannot speak. 9 And taking gold, as it were for a virgin that loveth to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods: 10 and sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves; 11 and will even give thereof to [r] the common harlots: [s] and they deck them as men with garments, even [t] the gods of silver, and gods of gold, and of wood. 12 Yet cannot these gods save themselves from [t] rust and moths, though they be covered [u] with purple raiment. 13 They wipe their faces because of [v] the dust of the temple, which is thick upon them. 14 And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth against him holdeth a sceptre, as though he were judge of a country. 15 He hath also a dagger in his right hand, and an axe: but cannot deliver himself from war and [w] robbers. 16 [x] Whereby they are known not to be gods: therefore fear them not. 17 For like as a vessel that a man useth is nothing worth when it is broken; even so it is with their gods: when they be set up in the temples their eyes be full of [y] dust through the feet of them that come in. 18 And as the courts are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death; even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, [z] lest they be carried off by robbers. 19 They light them candles, yea, more than for themselves, whereof [a] they cannot see one. 20 They are [b] as one of the beams of the temple; and men say their hearts are eaten out, when things creeping out of the earth devour both them and their raiment: they feel it not 21 when their faces are blacked through the smoke that cometh out of the temple: 22 upon their bodies and heads alight bats, swallows, and birds; and in like manner the cats also. 23 [c] Whereby ye may know that they are no gods: therefore fear them not. 24 Notwithstanding the gold [d] wherewith they are beset to make them beautiful, except one wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for not even when they were molten did they feel it. 25 Things [e] wherein there is no breath are bought at any cost. 26 Having no feet, [f] they are borne upon shoulders, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth. 27 They also that serve them are ashamed: for [g] if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither, if they be set awry, can they make themselves straight: [h] but the offerings are set before them, as if they were dead men. 28 And the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and spend; and in like manner their wives also lay up part thereof in salt; [i] but unto the poor and to the impotent will they give nothing thereof. 29 The menstruous woman and [j] the woman in childbed touch their sacrifices: [c] knowing therefore by these things that they are no gods, fear them not. 30 For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before [t] the gods of silver, gold, and wood. 31 And in their temples the priests [1] sit on seats, [k] having their clothes rent, and [l] their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads. 32 They roar and cry before their gods, as men do [h] at the feast when one is dead. 33 The priests also take off [m] garments from them, and clothe their wives and children withal. 34 Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither [n] set up a king, nor put him down. 35 In like manner, they can neither give riches nor money: [o] though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will never exact it. 36 They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty. 37 [p] They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor deliver any that is in distress. 38 [q] They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless. 39 [r] They are like the stones that be hewn out of the mountain, these gods of wood, and that are [s] overlaid with gold and with silver: [t] they that minister unto them shall be confounded. 40 How should a man then think or say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them? 41 Who if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they bring him, and intreat him to call upon [u] Bel, as though he were able to understand. 42 Yet they cannot perceive this themselves, and forsake them: for they have no understanding. 43 [v] The women also with cords about them sit in the ways, [w] burning bran for incense: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, nor her cord broken. 44 Whatsoever is done among them is false: how should a man then think or say that they are gods? 45 [x] They are fashioned by carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen will have them to be. 46 And they themselves that fashioned them can never continue long; how then should the things that are fashioned by them? 47 For they have left [y] lies and [z] reproaches to them that come after. 48 For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them. 49 How then cannot men understand that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war, nor from plague? 50 For seeing they be but of wood, and [a] overlaid with gold and with silver, it shall be known hereafter that they are false: 51 and it shall be manifest to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but [b] the works of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them. 52 Who then may not know that they are no gods? 53 For neither can they [c] set up a king in a land, nor [d] give rain unto men. 54 [e] Neither can they judge their own cause, nor [1] redress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crows between heaven and earth. 55 For even when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or [a] overlaid with gold or with silver, their priests will flee away, and escape, but they themselves shall be burnt asunder [f] like beams. 56 Moreover they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how should a man then allow or think that they be gods? 57 Neither are those gods of wood, and [a] overlaid with silver or with gold, [g] able to escape either from thieves or robbers. 58 Whose gold, and silver, and [h] garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong will take from them, and go away withal: [i] neither shall they be able to help themselves. 59 Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his manhood, or else [j] a vessel in a house profitable for that whereof the owner shall have need, than such false gods; or even a door in a house, to keep the things safe that be therein, than such false gods; or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods. 60 For sun, and moon, and stars, being bright and sent to do their offices, [k] are obedient. 61 Likewise also the lightning when it glittereth is fair to see; and [l] after the same manner the wind also bloweth in every country. 62 And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are bidden. 63 And [l] the fire sent from above to consume mountains and woods doeth as it is commanded: but these are to be likened unto them neither in shew nor power. 64 Wherefore a man should neither think nor say that they are gods, [m] seeing they are able neither to judge causes, [n] nor to do good unto men. 65 [o] Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not. 66 For [p] they can neither curse nor bless kings: 67 neither can they shew [q] signs in the heavens among the nations, nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon. 68 The beasts are better than they: for they can get under a covert, and help themselves. 69 [o] In no wise then is it manifest unto us that they are gods: therefore fear them not. 70 For as a scarecrow [r] in a garden of cucumbers that keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and [a] overlaid with gold and with silver. 71 Likewise also their gods of wood, and [a] overlaid with gold and with silver, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that every bird sitteth upon; as also to a dead body, that is cast forth into the dark. 72 [o] And ye shall know them to be no gods by the [2] bright [s] purple that rotteth upon them: and they themselves afterward shall be consumed, and shall be [t] a reproach in the country. 73 Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

THE SONG OF THE

THREE HOLY CHILDREN,

Which followeth in the third Chapter of DANIEL after this place,—fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.—Verse 23. That which followeth is not in the Hebrew, to wit, And they walked—unto these words, Then Nebuchadnezzar—verse 24.

1 AND they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord. 2 Then [a] Azarias stood, and prayed on this manner; and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire said, 3 [b] Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers, [3] and worthy to be praised; and thy name is glorified for evermore: 4 [c] for thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done: yea, [d] true are all thy works, and thy ways are right, and all thy judgements truth. 5 In all the things that thou hast brought upon us, and upon [e] the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgements: for according to truth and justice hast thou brought all these things upon us because of our sins. 6 [f] For we have sinned and committed iniquity, in departing from thee. 7 In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, [g] that it might go well with us. 8 [c] Wherefore all that thou hast brought upon us, and everything that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgement. 9 And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, and most hateful forsakers of God, and to [h] an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world. 10 And now [i] we cannot open our mouth; [j] shame and reproach have befallen thy servants, and them that worship thee. 11 [k] Deliver us not up utterly, for thy name's sake, neither disannul thou thy covenant: 12 and cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for the sake of Abraham [1] that is beloved of thee, and for the sake of Isaac thy servant, and Israel thy holy one; 13 to whom thou didst promise, [m] that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that is upon the sea shore. 14 For we, O Lord, [n] are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our sins. 15 [o] Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to offer before thee, and to find mercy. 16 [p] Nevertheless in a contrite heart and a humble spirit let us be accepted; 17 [q] like as in the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs; so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee, [r] for they shall not be ashamed that put their trust in thee. 18 And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face. 19 Put us not to shame: but [s] deal with us after thy kindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercy. 20 Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and [t] give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do thy servants hurt be confounded; 21 and let them be ashamed of all their [1] power and might, and let their strength be broken; 22 [u] and let them know that thou art the Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world.

23 And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the furnace hot with naphtha, pitch, tow, and small wood; 24 so that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits. 25 And it spread, and [v] burned those Chaldeans whom it found about the furnace. 26 But [w] the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace together with [x] Azarias and his fellows, and he smote the flame of the fire out of the furnace; 27 and made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist [y] whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither [w] hurt nor troubled them.

28 Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, and glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying, 29 [z] Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. 30 And blessed is thy glorious and holy name: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. 31 Blessed art thou [a] in the temple of thine holy glory: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever. 32 Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and [b] sittest upon the cherubim: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. 33 Blessed art thou on the throne of thy kingdom: and to be praised and [2] extolled above all for ever. 34 [c] Blessed art thou in the firmament of heaven: and to be praised and glorified for ever.

35 [d] O all ye works of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 36 [e] O ye heavens, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 37 [f] O ye angels of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 38 [g] O all ye waters that be above the heaven, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 39 [h] O all [3] ye powers of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 40 [h] O ye sun and moon, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 41 [h] O ye stars of heaven, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 42 O every [i] shower and dew, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 43 [j] O all ye winds, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 44 [j] O ye fire and heat, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.[4] 47 [5] O ye nights and days, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 48 [k] O ye light and darkness, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. O ye cold and heat, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 50 [6] [l] O ye frost and snow, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 51 O ye lightnings and clouds, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 52 O let the earth bless the Lord: let it praise and exalt him above all for ever. 53 [m] O ye mountains and hills, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 54 [m] O all ye things that grow on the earth, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 55 [7] O sea and rivers, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 55 O ye fountains, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 57 [n] O ye whales, and all that move in the waters, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. 58 [o] O all ye fowls of the air, bless ye the

THE HISTORY OF SUSANNA,

Set apart from the beginning of DANIEL, because it is not in the Hebrew, as neither the Narration of Bel and the Dragon.

1 THERE dwelt a man in Babylon, and his name was Joakim: 2 and he took a wife, whose name was [a] Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, [b] a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord. 3 Her parents also were [c] righteous, and taught their daughter [d] according to the law of Moses. 4 Now Joakim was a great rich man, and had a [e] fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews; because he was more honourable than all others. 5 And the same year there were appointed [f] two of the ancients of the people to be judges, [g] such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who were accounted to govern the people. 6 These kept much at Joakim's house: and [h] all that had any suits in law came unto them. 7 Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk. 8 And the two elders beheld her going in every day, and walking; and they were inflamed with love for her. 9 And [i] they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgements. 10 And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief. 11 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her. 12 Yet they watched jealously from day to day to see her. 13 And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner time. 14 So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place; and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: and then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone. 15 And it fell out, as they watched a fit day, she went in as aforetime with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in [j] the garden: for it was hot. 16 And there was nobody there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, and watched her. 17 Then she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing balls, and shut the garden doors, that I may wash me. 18 And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at the side doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: and they saw not the elders, because they were hid. 19 Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying, 20 Behold, the garden doors are shut, [k] that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee; therefore consent unto us, and lie with us. 21 If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee. 22 Then Susanna sighed, and said, [l] I am straitened on every side: for if I do this thing, [m] it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands. 23 It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than [n] to sin in the sight of the Lord. 24 With that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried out against her. 25 Then ran the one, and opened the garden doors. 26 So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the side door, to see what had befallen her. 27 But when the elders had told their tale, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there was never such a report made of Susanna. 28 And it came to pass on the morrow, [o] when the people assembled to her husband Joakim, the two elders came full of their wicked intent against Susanna to put her to death; 29 and said before the people, Send for Susanna, [p] the daughter of Helkias, Joakim's wife. So they sent; 30 and she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred. 31 Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and [p] beauteous to behold. 32 And these wicked men commanded her [q] to be unveiled, (for she was veiled) that they might be filled with her beauty. 33 Therefore her friends and all that saw her wept. 34 Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and [r] laid their hands upon her head. 35 And she weeping looked up toward heaven: [s] for her heart trusted in the Lord. 36 And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away. 37 Then a young man, who there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her. 38 And we, being in a corner of the garden, saw this wickedness, and ran unto them. 39 And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold: for he was stronger than we, and opened the doors, and leaped out. 40 But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: these things do we testify. 41 Then the assembly believed them, as [t] those that were elders of the people and judges: so [u] they condemned her to death. 42 Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, O everlasting God, [v] that knowest the secrets, that knowest all things before they be: 43 thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me, and, behold, I must die; whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me. 44 And the Lord heard her voice. 45 Therefore when she was led away [u] to be put to death, God [w] raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel: 46 and he cried with a loud voice, [x] I am clear from the blood of this woman. 47 Then all the people turned them toward him, and said, What mean these words that thou hast spoken? 48 So he standing in the midst of them said, Are ye such fools, ye sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth ye have condemned [y] a daughter of Israel? 49 Return again to the place of judgement: for these have borne false witness against her. 50 Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder. 51 Then said Daniel unto them, Put them asunder one far from another, and I will examine them. 52 So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, [z] now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforetime, 53 [a] in pronouncing unjust judgement, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, [b] The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. 54 Now then, if thou sawest her, tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Under a mastick tree. 55 And Daniel said, Right well hast thou lied against thine own head; for even now the angel of God hath received the sentence of God and [c] shall cut thee in two. 56 So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou [d] seed of Canaan, and not of Judah, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust [e] hath perverted thine heart. 57 Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companied with you: but [f] the daughter of Judah would not abide your wickedness. 58 Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered, Under a holm tree. 59 Then said Daniel unto him, Right well hast thou also lied against thine own head: for the angel of God waiteth with the sword [g] to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you. 60 With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and blessed God, who saveth them [h] that hope in him. 61 And they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness out of their own mouth: 62 and [i] according to the law of Moses they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour: and they put them to death, and the innocent blood was saved the same day. 63 Therefore [j] Helkias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joakim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her. 64 And from that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

BEL AND THE DRAGON.

1 And king Astyages was gathered to [a] his fathers, and [a] Cyrus the Persian received his kingdom. 2 And Daniel lived with the king, and was honoured above all his friends. 3 Now the Babylonians [b] had an idol, called [b] Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve great measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six firkins of wine. 4 And the king did honour to it, and went daily to [c] worship it: [c] but Daniel worshipped his own God. And the king said unto him, Why dost thou not worship Bel? 5 And he said, Because I may not do honour [d] to idols [d] made with hands, but to [e] the living God, who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath sovereignty over all flesh. 6 Then said the king unto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living god? or seest thou not how much he [f] eateth and drinketh every day? 7 Then Daniel [f] laughed, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within,
[g] and brass without, and did never [g] eat or drink anything. 8 So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who [h] this is that devoureth [h] these expenses, ye shall die. 9 But if ye can shew me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, Let it be according to thy word.
10 Now the priests of Bel were three-score and ten, beside their wives and children. And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel. 11 So Bel's priests said, Lo, we will get us out: but thou, O king, set on the meat, and mingle the wine and set it forth,
[i] and shut the door fast, and [i] seal it with thine own signet; 12 and when thou comest in the morning, if thou find not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death: or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely against us. 13 And they little regarded it: for under the table they had made a privy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed those things. 14 And it came to pass, when they were gone forth, the king set the meat before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and they strewed all the temple with them in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the door, and [i] sealed it with the king's signet, and so departed. 15 Now in the night came the priests with their wives and children, as they were wont to do, and did eat and drink up all.
16 In the morning betime the king arose, and Daniel with him. 17 And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole.
18 And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all. 19 Then [f] laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in,
and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these. 20 And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children.
And then the king was angry, 21 and took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him [k] the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table. 22 [l] Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power,
who overthrew him and his temple.
23 And in that same place there was a great [1] dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped. 24 And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say [m] that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, and eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship him.
25 Then said Daniel, [n] I will worship the Lord my God: for he is [e] a living God.
26 But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff.
The king said, I give thee leave. 27 Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, so the dragon did eat and burst in sunder: and Daniel said,
Lo, these are the gods ye worship.
28 When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he [o] hath pulled down Bel, and slain the dragon, and [o] put the priests to the sword. 29 So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thine house. 30 Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, the king delivered Daniel unto them: 31 [p] who cast him into the lions' den: where he was six days.
32 And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day two carcases, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel.

33 Now there was in Jewry [q] the prophet [1] Habakkuk, who had made pottage, and had broken bread into a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers. 34 But the angel of the Lord said unto Habakkuk, Go carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, in the lions' den. 35 And Habakkuk said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know where the den is. 36 Then the angel of the Lord [r] took him by the crown, and lifted him up by the hair of his head, and with the blast of his breath set him in Babylon over the den. 37 And Habakkuk cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, [s] take the dinner which God hath sent thee. 38 And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: [t] neither hast thou forsaken them that love thee. 39 So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of God set Habakkuk in his own place again immediately. 40 Upon the seventh day [u] the king came to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and, behold, Daniel was sitting. 41 Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord, thou [v] God of Daniel, and there is none other beside thee. 42 And he drew him out, and [w] cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

THE

PRAYER OF MANASSES

KING OF JUDAH,

WHEN HE WAS HOLDEN CAPTIVE IN BABYLON.

O Lord Almighty, [a] that art in heaven, [b] thou God of our fathers, of Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and of [c] their righteous seed; who hast made heaven and earth, with all the [2] ornament thereof; [d] who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; whom all things fear, yea, tremble before thy power; for the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and the anger of thy threatening toward sinners is importable: thy merciful promise is unmeasurable and [e] unsearchable; for thou art the Lord Most High, [f] of great compassion, longsuffering and abundant in mercy, and repentest [3] of bringing evils upon men. [4] Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance unto sinners, [g] that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee; but [h] thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned [i] above the number of the sands of the sea. [j] My transgressions are multiplied, [5] O Lord: my transgressions are multiplied, and [k] I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed down [l] with many iron bands, that [k] I cannot lift up mine head [6] by reason of my sins, neither have I any respite: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done that which is evil before thee: [7] I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: [m] I have set up abominations, and have multiplied [8] detestable things. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and [n] I acknowledge mine iniquities: but, I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me into [o] the lower parts of the earth. For thou, [9] O Lord, art the God of them that repent; and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. And I will praise thee for ever all the days of my life: [p] for all the host of heaven doth sing thy praise, and [q] thine is the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

THE FIRST BOOK

OF THE

MACCABEES.

1 AND it came to pass, after that [a] Alexander the Macedonian, the son of Philip, who came out of the land of [b] Chittim, and smote Darius king of the Persians and Medes, it came to pass, after he had smitten him, that he reigned in his stead, in former time, over [1] Greece. 2 And he fought many battles, and won many strongholds, and slew the kings of the earth, 3 and went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of a multitude of nations. And [c] the earth was quiet before him, and he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up, 4 and he gathered together an exceeding strong host, and ruled over countries and nations and principalities, and they became tributary unto him. 5 And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he should die. 6 And he called his servants, which were honourable, which had been brought up with him from his youth, and he divided unto them his kingdom, while he was yet alive. 7 And Alexander reigned twelve years, and he died. 8 And his servants bare rule, each one in his place. 9 And they did all put [d] diadems upon themselves after that he was dead, and so did their sons after them many [e] years: and they multiplied evils in the earth.

10 And there came forth out of them a [e] sinful root, [f] Antiochus Epiphanes, son of Antiochus the king, who had been a hostage at Rome, and he reigned in [2] the hundred and thirty and seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks.

11 In those days [g] came there forth out of Israel [h] transgressors of the law, and persuaded many, saying, [i] Let us go and make a covenant with the [3] Gentiles that are round about us; for since we were parted from them many evils have befallen us. 12 And the saying was good in their eyes. 13 And certain of the people were forward herein and [j] went to the king, and he gave them licence to do after the ordinances of the [3] Gentiles. 14 And [k] they built a place of exercise in Jerusalem according to the laws of the [3] Gentiles; 15 and [l] they made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joined themselves to the [3] Gentiles, and [m] sold themselves to do evil.

16 And the kingdom was well ordered in the sight of Antiochus, and he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might reign over the two kingdoms. 17 And [n] he entered into Egypt with a [4] great multitude, with chariots, and [o] with elephants, and with horsemen, and with a great [5] navy; 18 and he made war against [p] Ptolemy king of Egypt; and Ptolemy was put to shame before him, and fled; [q] and many fell wounded to death. 19 And they got possession of the strong cities in the land of Egypt; and he took the spoils of Egypt.

20 And Antiochus, after that he had smitten Egypt, [r] returned in [6] the hundred and forty and third year, and went up against Israel and Jerusalem with a [5] great multitude, 21 and entered presumptuously into the sanctuary, and took [s] the golden altar, and [t] the candlestick of the light, and all that pertained thereto, 22 and [u] the table of the shewbread, and [v] the cups to pour withal, and the bowls, and the golden censers, and [w] the veil, and [x] the crowns, and the adorning of gold which was on the face of the temple, and he scaled it all off. 23 [y] And he took the silver and the gold and the precious vessels; and he took the hidden treasures which he found. 24 And when he had taken all, he went away into his own land, and [z] he made a great slaughter, and spake very presumptuously. 25 And there came great mourning upon Israel, in every place where they were; 26 and the rulers and elders groaned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty of the women was changed. 27 [a] Every bridegroom took up lamentation, she that sat in the marriage chamber was in heaviness. 28 And the land was moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was clothed with shame.

29 And after [7] two full years [b] the king sent a chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Judah, and he came unto Jerusalem with a [4] great multitude. 30 [c] And he spake words of peace unto them in subtilty, and they gave him credence: and he fell upon the city suddenly, and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people out of Israel. 31 And he took the spoils of the city, and set it on fire, and pulled down the houses thereof and the walls thereof on every side. 32 And they led captive the women and the children, and the cattle they took in possession. 33 And they builded the city of David with a great and strong wall, with strong towers, and it became unto them [d] a citadel. 34 And they put there [e] a sinful nation, [f] transgressors of the law, and they strengthened themselves therein. 35 And they stored up arms and victuals, and gathering together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and they became a sore snare: 36 and it became a place to lie in wait in against the sanctuary, and [g] an evil adversary to Israel continually. 37 And [h] they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled the sanctuary. 38 And the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them; and she became a habitation of strangers, and she became strange to them that were born in her, and her children forsook her. 39 [i] Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, [j] her feasts were turned into mourning, her sabbaths into reproach, her honour into contempt. 40 According to her glory, so was her dishonour multiplied, and her high estate was turned into mourning.

41 And king Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all should be one people, 42 [k] and that each should forsake his own laws. [l] And all the nations agreed according to the word of the king; 43 and many of Israel consented to his worship, and sacrificed to the idols, and profaned the sabbath. 44 And the king sent letters by the hand of messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, [k] that they should follow laws strange to the land, 45 [m] and should forbid whole burnt offerings and sacrifice and drink offerings in the sanctuary; and should [n] profane the sabbaths and feasts, 46 [o] and pollute the sanctuary and them that were holy; 47 that they should build altars, and temples, and shrines for idols, and [p] should sacrifice swine's flesh and unclean beasts: 48 and that they should leave their sons uncircumcised, that they should make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation; 49 so that they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances. 50 [q] And whosoever shall not do according to the word of the king, he shall die. 51 According to all these words wrote he to his whole kingdom; and [r] he appointed overseers over all the people, and he commanded the cities of Judah to sacrifice, city by city. 52 And from the people were gathered together unto them many, every one that had forsaken the law; and they did evil things in the land; 53 and they made Israel [s] to hide themselves in every place of refuge which they had.

54 And on the fifteenth day of [t] Chislev, in [1] the hundred and forty and fifth year, they builded [u] an abomination of desolation upon the [2] altar, and in the cities of Judah on every side [v] they builded idol [2] altars. 55 And at the doors of the houses and in the streets they burnt incense. 56 And they rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, and set them on fire. 57 And wheresoever was found with any a book of the covenant, and if any consented to the law, the king's sentence delivered him to death. 58 Thus did they in their might unto Israel, to those that were found month by month in the cities. 59 And [w] on the five and twentieth day of the month [v] they sacrificed upon the idol [2] altar, which was upon the [2] altar of God. 60 And [x] the women that had circumcised their children they put to death according to the commandment. 61 And they hanged their babes about their necks, and destroyed their houses, and them that had circumcised them. 62 And many in Israel were fully resolved and confirmed in themselves not to eat unclean things. 63 And [y] they chose to die, that they might not be defiled with the meats, and that they might not profane the holy covenant: and they died. 64 And there came exceeding great wrath upon Israel.

2 [z] In those days rose up Mattathias the son of John, the son of Simeon, a priest of the sons of [a] Joarib, from Jerusalem; and he dwelt at [a] Modin. 2 And he had five sons, 2 [b] John, who was surnamed Gaddis; 3 [c] Simon, who was called Thassi; 4 [d] Judas, who was called Maccabæus; 5 [e] Eleazar, [f] who was called Avaran; [g] Jonathan, who was called Apphus.

6 And he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Judah and in Jerusalem, 7 and he said,

Woe is me! wherefore was I born to see the destruction of my people, and the destruction of [h] the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was given into the hand of the enemy, the sanctuary into the hand of aliens? 8 Her temple is become as a man [i] that was glorious: 9 [j] her vessels of glory are carried away into captivity, [j] her infants are slain in her streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy. 10 What nation hath not inherited her palaces, and gotten possession of her spoils? 11 her adorning is all taken away; instead of a [k] free woman she is become a bond woman: 12 and, behold, our holy things

[l] and our beauty and our glory are laid waste, and [m] the Gentiles have profaned them. 13 Wherefore should we live any longer?

14 And Mattathias and his sons [n] rent their clothes, [o] and put on sackcloth, and mourned exceedingly.

15 And the king's officers, that were enforcing the apostasy, came into the city [a] Modin to sacrifice. 16 And many of Israel came unto them, and Mattathias and his sons were gathered together. 17 And the king's officers answered and spake to Mattathias, saying, Thou art a ruler and an honourable and great man in this city, and strengthened with sons and brethren: 18 now therefore come thou first and do the commandment of the king, [p] as all the nations have done, and the men of Judah, and they that remain in Jerusalem: and thou and thy house shall be in the number of the king's [q] Friends, and thou and thy sons shall be honoured with silver and gold and many gifts. 19 And Mattathias answered and said with a loud voice, If all the nations that are in the house of the king's dominion hearken unto him, [r] to fall away each one from the worship of his fathers, and have made choice to follow his commandments, 20 [s] yet will I and my sons and my brethren walk in the covenant of our fathers. 21 [1] Heaven forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances. 22 We will not hearken to the king's words, to go aside from our worship, [t] on the right hand, or on the left.

23 And when he had left speaking these words, there came a Jew in the sight of all to sacrifice on the altar which was at [a] Modin, according to the king's commandment. 24 And Mattathias saw it, and his zeal was kindled, and [u] his reins trembled, and he shewed forth his wrath [v] according to judgement, and ran, and slew him upon the altar. 25 And the king's officer, who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and pulled down the altar. 26 And he was zealous for the law, [w] even as Phinehas did unto Zimri the son of Salu. 27 And Mattathias cried out in the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous for the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him come forth after me. 28 [x] And he and his sons fled into the mountains, and forsook all that they had in the city.

29 Then many that sought after justice and judgement went down into the wilderness, to dwell there, 30 they, [y] and their sons, and their wives, and their cattle; because evils were multiplied upon them. 31 And it was told the king's officers, and [z] the forces that were in Jerusalem, the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, were gone down into [a] the secret places in the wilderness; 32 and many pursued after them, and having overtaken them, they encamped against them, and set the battle in array against them on the sabbath day. 33 And they said unto them, Thus far. Come forth, and do according to the word of the king, and ye shall live. 34 And they said, We will not come forth, neither will we do the word of the king, [b] to profane the sabbath day. 35 And they hasted to give them battle. 36 And they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped up [a] the secret places, 37 saying, Let us die all in our innocency: heaven and earth witness over us, that ye put us to death without trial. 38 [c] And they rose up against them in battle on the sabbath, and they died, they [d] and their wives and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand [2] souls.

39 And Mattathias and his friends knew it, and they mourned over them exceedingly. 40 And one said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not against the Gentiles for our lives and our ordinances, they will now quickly destroy us from off the earth. 41 And they took counsel on that day, saying, Whosoever shall come against us to battle on the sabbath day, [e] let us fight against him, and we shall in no wise all die, as our brethren died in [a] the secret places. 42 Then were gathered together unto them a company of [3] [f] Hasidæans, mighty men of Israel, every one that offered himself willingly for the law. 43 And all they that fled from the evils were added to them, and became a stay unto them. 44 And they mustered a host, and smote [g] sinners in their anger, and lawless men in their wrath: and the rest fled to the Gentiles for safety. 45 And Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down the altars; 46 and they circumcised by force the children that were uncircumcised, as many as they found in the coasts of Israel. 47 And they pursued after the sons of pride, and the work prospered in their hand. 48 And they rescued the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of the kings, neither [4] [h] suffered they the sinner to triumph.

49 And the days of Mattathias drew near that he should die, and he said unto his sons,

Now have pride and rebuke gotten strength, and a season of overthrow, and wrath of indignation. 50 And now, my children, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers. 51 And call to remembrance the deeds of our fathers which they did in their generations; and receive great glory [i] and an everlasting name. 52 Was not Abraham [j] found faithful in temptation, and [k] it was reckoned unto him for righteousness? 53 [l] Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment, [m] and became lord of Egypt. 54 [n] Phinehas our father, for that he was zealous exceedingly, [o] obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood. 55 [p] Joshua for fulfilling the word became a judge in Israel. 56 [q] Caleb for bearing witness in the congregation [r] obtained a heritage in the land. 57 David [s] for being merciful [t] inherited the throne of a kingdom for ever and ever. 58 Elijah, for that he was [u] exceeding zealous for the law, [v] was taken up into heaven. 59 [w] Hananiah, Azariah, Mishael, [x] believed, and were saved out of the flame. 60 [y] Daniel for his innocency was delivered from the mouth of lions. 61 And thus consider ye from generation to generation, that none [z] that put their trust in him shall want for strength. 62 And [a] be not afraid of the words of a sinful man; for his glory shall be dung and worms. 63 To-day he shall be lifted up, and to-morrow he shall in no wise be found, because he is returned unto his dust, and his thought is perished. 64 And ye, my children, [b] be strong, and shew yourselves men in behalf of the law; for therein shall ye obtain glory. 65 And, behold, [c] Simon your brother, I know that he is a man of counsel; give ear unto him alway: he shall be a father unto you. 66 And [d] Judas Maccabæus, he hath been strong and mighty from his youth: he shall be your captain, and [1] shall fight the battle of the people. 67 And take ye unto you all the doers of the law, and avenge the wrong of your people. 68 Render a recompense to the Gentiles, and take heed to the commandments of the law.

69 And he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers. 70 And he died in [2] the hundred and forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchres of his fathers at [e] Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

3 1 [f] And his son Judas, who was called Maccabæus, rose up in his stead. 2 And all his brethren helped him, and so did [g] all they that clave unto his father, and they fought with gladness the battle of Israel. 3 And he gat his people great glory, and put on a breastplate as a giant, and girt his warlike harness about him, and set battles in array, protecting the army with his sword. 4 [h] And he was like a lion in his deeds, and as [i] a lion's whelp roaring for prey. 5 And he pursued the lawless, seeking them out, and he [j] burnt up those that troubled his people. 6 And the lawless shrunk for fear of him, and all the workers of lawlessness were sore troubled, [k] and salvation prospered in his hand. 7 And he angered many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and [l] his memorial is blessed for ever. 8 And he went about among the cities of Judah, and destroyed the ungodly [3] out of the land, and [m] turned away wrath from Israel: 9 and he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he gathered together such as were ready to perish.

10 And [n] Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host from [o] Samaria, to fight against Israel. 11 And Judas perceived it, and he went forth to meet him, and smote him, and slew him: and many fell wounded to death, and the rest fled. 12 And they took their spoils, and Judas took the sword of [n] Apollonius, and therewith he fought all his days.

13 And Seron, the commander of the host of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered a gathering and a congregation of faithful men with him, and of such as went out to war; 14 and he said, I will make myself a name and get me glory in the kingdom; and I will fight against Judas and them that are with him, that set at nought the word of the king. 15 And there went up with him also a mighty army of the ungodly to help him, to take vengeance on the children of Israel.

16 And he came near unto [p] the going up of Bethhoron, and Judas went forth to meet him with a small company. 17 But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said unto Judas, What? shall we be able, being a small company, to fight against so great and strong a multitude? and we for our part are faint, having tasted no food this day. 18 And Judas said, It is an easy thing for many [q] to be shut up in the hands of a few; [r] and with [4] heaven it is all one, to save by many or by few: 19 [s] for victory in battle standeth not in the multitude of a host; but strength is from heaven. 20 They come unto us in fulness of insolence and lawlessness, to destroy us and our wives and our children, for to spoil us: 21 but we fight for our lives and [t] our laws. 22 And he himself will discomfit them before our face: but as for you, be ye not afraid of them.

23 Now when he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly upon them, and Seron and his army were discomfited before him. 24 And they pursued them in [u] the going down of Bethhoron unto the plain, and there fell of them about eight

27 But when king [w]Antiochus heard these words, he was full of indignation: and he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, an exceeding strong army. 28 And he opened his treasury, and gave his forces pay for a year, and commanded them to be ready for every need. 29 And he saw that the money failed from his treasures, and that the tributes of the country were small, because of the dissension and plague which he had brought upon the land, to the end that he might take away the laws which had been from the first days; 30 and he feared that he should not have enough as at other times for the charges and the gifts which he gave aforetime with a liberal hand, and [x]he abounded above the kings that were before him. 31 And he was exceedingly perplexed in his mind, and he determined to go into [y]Persia, and to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much money. 32 And he left [z]Lysias, an honourable man, and one of the seed royal, to be over the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto the borders of Egypt, 33 and to bring up his son [a]Antiochus, until he came again. 34 And he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and [b]the elephants, and gave him charge of all the things that he would have done, and concerning them that dwelt in Judæa and in Jerusalem, 35 that he should send a host against them, to root out and destroy the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and [c]to take away their memorial from the place; 36 and that he should make strangers to dwell in all their coasts, and should divide their land to them by lot. 37 And the king took the half that remained of the forces, and removed from [d]Antioch, from his royal city, [1]the hundred and forty and seventh year; and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went through [e]the upper countries.

42 And Judas and his brethren saw that evils were multiplied, and that the forces were encamping in their borders; and they took knowledge of the king's words which he had commanded, to destroy the people and make an end of them; 43 and they said each man to his neighbour, Let us raise up the ruin of our people, and let us fight for our people and the holy place. 44 And the congregation was gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask for mercy and compassion. 45 [m] And Jerusalem was without inhabitant as a wilderness, there was none of her offspring that went in or went out; and the sanctuary was trodden down, and [n]the sons of strangers were in the citadel, the Gentiles lodged therein; and joy was taken away from Jacob, and the pipe and the harp ceased. 46 And they gathered themselves together, and came to Mizpeh, over against Jerusalem; for [o]in Mizpeh was there a place of prayer aforetime for Israel. 47 And they fasted that day, and [p]put on sackcloth, and [q]put ashes upon their heads, and [r]rent their clothes, 48 and laid open the book of the law, concerning which the Gentiles were wont to inquire, seeking the likenesses of their idols. 49 And they brought [s]the priests' garments, [t]and the firstfruits, and [u]the tithes: and they stirred up [v]the Nazirites, who had accomplished their days. 50 And they cried aloud [w]toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these men, and whither shall we carry them away? 51 And [x]thy holy place is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness and brought low. 52 And, behold, the Gentiles are assembled together against us to destroy us: thou knowest what things they imagine against us. 53 How shall we be able to stand before them, except thou be our help? 54 [y] And they sounded with the trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these Gentiles, that are assembled together against us to destroy us, and our holy place: 59 for it is better for us to die in battle, than to look upon the evils of our nation and the holy place. 60 d Nevertheless, as may be the will e in heaven, so shall he do.

4 1 And f Gorgias took five thousand footmen, and a thousand chosen horse, and the army removed by night, 2 that it might fall upon the army of the Jews and smite them suddenly: and g the men of the citadel were his guides. 3 And Judas heard thereof, and removed, he and the valiant men, that he might smite the king's host which was at h Emmaus, 4 while as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp. 5 And Gorgias came into the camp of Judas by night, and found no man; and he sought them in the mountains; for he said, These men flee from us. 6 And as soon as it was day, Judas appeared in the plain with three thousand men: howbeit they had not armour nor swords to their minds. 7 And they saw the camp of the Gentiles strong and fortified, and horsemen compassing it round about; and these were expert in war. 8 i And Judas said to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their onset. 9 Remember how our fathers j were saved in the Red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with a host. 10 And now let us cry k unto heaven, if he will have us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this army before our face to-day: 11 and l all the Gentiles shall know that there is one who redeemeth and saveth Israel. 12 And the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming over against them: 13 and they went out of the camp to battle. And they that were with Judas m sounded their trumpets, 14 and joined battle, and the Gentiles were discomfited, and fled into the plain. 15 But all the hindmost fell by the sword: and they pursued them unto [1] n Gazara, and unto the plains of Idumæa and o Azotus and p Jamnia, and there fell of them about three thousand men. 16 And Judas and his host returned from pursuing after them, 17 and he said unto the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, inasmuch as there is a battle before us; 18 and Gorgias and his host are nigh unto us in the mountain. But stand ye now against our enemies, and fight against them, and afterwards take the spoils with boldness. 19 While Judas was yet making an end of these words, there appeared a part of them looking out from the mountain: 20 and they saw that their host had been put to flight, and that the Jews were burning the camp; for the smoke that was seen declared what was done. 21 But when they perceived these things, they were sore afraid; and perceiving also the army of Judas in the plain ready for battle, 22 they fled all of them into q the land of the [2] Philistines. 23 And Judas returned to spoil the camp, and they got much gold, and silver, and blue, and sea purple, and great riches. 24 And they returned home, and sang a song of thanksgiving, and gave praise [3] unto heaven; r because his mercy is good, because his mercy endureth for ever. 25 And Israel had a great deliverance that day.

26 But the strangers, as many as had escaped, came and told s Lysias all the things that had happened: 27 but when he heard thereof, he was confounded and discouraged, because neither had such things as he would been done unto Israel, nor had such things as the king commanded him come to pass.

28 And in the next year he gathered together threescore thousand chosen footmen, and five thousand horse, that he might subdue them. 29 And they came into Idumæa, and encamped at t Bethsura; and Judas met them with ten thousand men. 30 And he saw that the army was strong, and he prayed and said,

Blessed art thou, O Saviour of Israel, who didst quell the onset of the mighty man u by the hand of thy servant David, and didst deliver the army of the [2] Philistines v into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and of his armourbearer: 31 w shut up this army in the hand of thy people Israel, and let them be ashamed for their host and their horsemen: 32 give them faintness of heart, and cause the boldness of their strength to melt away, and let them quake at their destruction: 33 cast them down with the sword of them that love thee, and let all that know thy name praise thee with thanksgiving.

34 And they joined battle; and there fell of the army of [2] Lysias about five thousand men, and they fell down over against them. 35 But when Lysias saw that his array was put to flight, and the boldness that had come upon them that were with Judas, and how they were ready either to live or to die nobly, he removed to [3] y Antioch, and gathered together hired soldiers, that he might come again into Judæa with even a greater company.

36 But Judas and his brethren said, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let us go up to [3] z cleanse the holy place, and to dedicate it afresh. 37 a And all the army was gathered together, and they went up unto mount Sion. 38 b And they saw the sanctuary laid desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burned up, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest or as on one of the mountains, and the priests' chambers pulled down; 39 and they [c] rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and [c] put ashes upon their heads, 40 and fell on their faces to the ground, and blew with [d] the [1] solemn trumpets, and cried [e] toward heaven. 41 Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against [f] those that were in the citadel, until he should have cleansed the holy place.

42 And he chose blameless priests, such as had pleasure in the law: 43 [g] and they cleansed the holy place, and bare out the stones of defilement into an unclean place. 44 And they took counsel concerning the altar of burnt offerings, [h] which had been profaned, what they should do with it: 45 and there came into their mind a good counsel, that they should pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it: and they pulled down the altar, 46 and laid up the stones in the mountain of the house in a convenient place, [i] until there should come a prophet to give an answer concerning them. 47 And they took [j] whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar after the fashion of the former; 48 and they built the holy place, and the inner parts of the house; [g] and they hallowed the courts. 49 And they made the holy vessels new, and they brought [k] the candlestick, and [l] the altar of burnt offerings and [m] of incense, and [n] the table, into the temple. 50 And [o] they burned incense upon the altar, [p] and they lighted [q] the lamps that were upon the candlestick, and they gave light in the temple. 51 [p] And they set loaves upon the table, and spread out [r] the veils, and finished all the works which they made.

52 And they rose up early in the morning, [s] on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is the month [t] Chislev, in [2] the hundred and forty and eighth year, 53 and offered sacrifice [u] according to the law upon the new altar of burnt offerings [v] which they had made. 54 [s] At what time and on what day the Gentiles had profaned it, even on that day was it dedicated afresh, [w] with songs [x] and harps and lutes, and with cymbals. 55 And all the people fell upon their faces, and worshipped, and [3] gave praise [y] unto heaven, which had given them good success. 56 And they kept the dedication of the altar [z] eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and [a] sacrificed a sacrifice of deliverance and praise. 57 And they decked the forefront of the temple with [b] crowns of gold and small shields, and dedicated afresh [c] the gates and the priests' chambers, and made doors for them. 58 And there was exceeding great gladness among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away. 59 And Judas and his brethren and the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of [d] the dedication of the altar should be kept in their seasons from year to year by the space of [z] eight days, from [s] the five and twentieth day of the month [t] Chislev, with gladness and joy. 60 And at that season they builded up the mount Sion [e] with high walls and strong towers round about, lest haply the Gentiles should come and tread them down, [f] as they had done aforetime. 61 And he set there a force to keep it, and they fortified [g] Bethsura to keep it; that the people might have a stronghold over against [h] Idumæa.

5 1 And it came to pass, when the Gentiles round about heard that [i] the altar was built, and [j] the sanctuary dedicated as aforetime, they were exceeding wroth. 2 And they took counsel to destroy the race of Jacob that was in the midst of them, and they began to slay and destroy among the people. 3 [k] And Judas fought against [l] the children of Esau in Idumæa at [m] Akrabattine, because they besieged Israel: and he smote them with a great slaughter, and brought down their pride, and took their spoils. 4 And he remembered [n] the wickedness of the children of Bean, who were unto the people a snare and a stumblingblock, lying in wait for them in the ways. 5 And they were shut up by him in the towers; and he encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, [o] and burned with fire the towers of the place, with all that were therein. 6 And he passed over to [p] the children of Ammon, and found a mighty band, and much people, with [q] Timotheus for their leader. 7 And he fought many battles with them, and they were discomfited before his face; and he smote them, 8 and gat possession of [r] Jazer, and [s] the [4] villages thereof, and returned again into Judæa.

9 And the Gentiles that were in [t] Gilead gathered themselves together against the Israelites that were on their borders, to destroy them. And they fled to [u] the stronghold of Dathema, 10 and sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, saying, The Gentiles that are round about us are gathered together against us to destroy us: 11 and they are preparing to come and get possession of the stronghold whereunto we are fled for refuge, and Timotheus is the leader of their host. 12 Now therefore come and deliver us from their hand, for many of us are fallen. 13 And all our brethren that were in the land of [v] Tubias have been put to death; and they have carried into captivity their wives and their children and their stuff; and they destroyed there about a thousand men. 14 While the letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee [w] with their clothes rent, bringing a report after this wise, 15 saying, That there were gathered together against them those of [x] Ptolemais, and of [y] Tyre, and of Sidon, and all [z] Galilee of the [1] Gentiles, to consume them.

16 Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled together a great congregation, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in tribulation, and were assaulted of them. 17 And Judas said unto [a] Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in [z] Galilee, but I and [b] Jonathan my brother will go into the land of [c] Gilead. 18 And he left [d] Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, as leaders of the people, with the remnant of the host, in Judæa, for to keep it. 19 And he gave commandment unto them, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and [e] fight no battle with the Gentiles until that we come again. 20 And unto [a] Simon were divided three thousand men to go into [z] Galilee, but unto Judas eight thousand men to go into the land of [c] Gilead.

21 And [a] Simon went into [z] Galilee, and fought many battles with the Gentiles, and the Gentiles were discomfited before him. 22 And he pursued them unto the gate of [x] Ptolemais; and there fell of the Gentiles about three thousand men, and he took their spoils. 23 And they took to them those that were in [z] Galilee, and in Arbatta, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Judæa with great gladness.

24 And Judas Maccabæus and [b] his brother Jonathan [f] passed over Jordan, and went three days' journey in the wilderness; 25 and they met with the [g] Nabathæans, and these met them in a peaceable manner, and told them all things that had befallen their brethren in the land of Gilead: 26 and how that many of them were shut up in [h] Bosora, and [i] Bosor, and Alema, [j] Casphor, Maked, and [k] Carnaim; all these cities are strong and great: 27 and how that they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the land of Gilead, and that to-morrow they have appointed to encamp against the strongholds, and to take them, and to destroy all these men in one day. 28 And Judas and his army turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness unto [h] Bosora; and he took the city, and slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burned the city with fire. 29 And he removed from thence by night, and went till he came to [l] the stronghold. 30 And the morning came, and they lifted up their eyes, and, behold, much people which could not be numbered, bearing ladders and engines of war, to take the stronghold; and they were fighting against them. 31 And Judas saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets and a great sound, 32 and he said unto the men of his host, [m] Fight this day for your brethren. 33 And he went forth behind them [n] in three companies, [o] and they sounded with their trumpets, and cried out in prayer. 34 And the army of Timotheus perceived that it was Maccabæus, and they fled from before him: and he smote them with a great slaughter; and there fell of them on that day about eight thousand men. 35 And he turned aside to [p] Mizpeh and fought against it, and took it, and slew all the males thereof, and took the spoils thereof, and burned it with fire. 36 From thence he removed, and took [q] Casphor, Maked, Bosor, and the other cities of the land of Gilead.

37 Now after these things [r] Timotheus gathered another army, and encamped over against Raphon beyond the brook. 38 And Judas sent men to espy the army; and they brought him word, saying, All the Gentiles that be round about us are gathered together unto them, an exceeding great host. 39 And they have hired [s] Arabians to help them, and are encamping beyond the brook, ready to come against thee to battle. And Judas went to meet them. 40 And Timotheus said unto the captains of his host, when Judas and his army drew nigh unto the brook of water, If he pass over first unto us, we shall not be able to withstand him; for he will mightily prevail against us: 41 but if he be afraid, and encamp beyond the river, we will cross over unto him, and prevail against him. 42 Now when Judas came nigh unto the brook of water, he caused [t] the scribes of the people to remain by the brook, and gave commandment unto them, saying, Suffer no man to encamp, but let all come to the battle. 43 And he crossed over the first against them, and all the people after him: and [u] all the Gentiles were discomfited before his face, and cast away their arms, and fled unto the temple at [q] Carnaim. 44 And [v] they took the city, and burned the temple with fire, together with all that were therein. And [q] Carnaim was subdued, neither could they stand any longer before the face of Judas.

45 And Judas gathered together all Israel, them that were in the land of Gilead, from the least unto the greatest, and their wives, and their children, and their stuff, an exceeding great army, that they might come into the land of Judah. 46 And they came as far as Ephron, and this same city was great, and it was in the way as they should go, exceeding strong: they could not turn aside from it on the right hand or on the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it. 47 And they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones. 48 And Judas sent unto them with words of peace, saying, We will pass through thy land to go into our own land, and none shall do you any hurt, we will only pass by on our feet. And they would not open unto him. 49 And Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the army, that each man should encamp in the place where he was. 50 And the men of the host encamped, and fought against the city all that day and all that night, and the city was delivered into his hands; 51 and he destroyed all the males with the edge of the sword, and rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were slain. 52 And they went over Jordan into the great plain over against Bethshan. 53 And Judas gathered together those that lagged behind, and encouraged the people all the way through, until he came into the land of Judah. 54 And they went up to mount Sion with gladness and joy, and offered whole burnt offerings, because not so much as one of them was slain until they returned in peace.

55 And in the days when Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Gilead, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemais, 56 Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, rulers of the host, heard of their exploits and of the war, what things they had done; 57 and they said, Let us also get us a name, and let us go fight against the Gentiles that are round about us. 58 And they gave charge unto the men of the host that was with them, and went toward Jamnia. 59 And Gorgias and his men came out of the city to meet them in battle. 60 And Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and were pursued unto the borders of Judæa; and there fell on that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men. 61 And there was a great overthrow among the people, because they hearkened not unto Judas and his brethren, thinking to do some exploit. 62 But they were not of the seed of those men, by whose hand deliverance was given unto Israel.

63 And the man Judas and his brethren were glorified exceedingly in the sight of all Israel, and of all the Gentiles, wheresoever their name was heard of; 64 and men gathered together unto them, acclaiming them.

65 And Judas and his brethren went forth, and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the south; and he smote Hebron and the [1] villages thereof, and pulled down the strongholds thereof, and burned the towers thereof round about. 66 And he removed to go into the land of the [2] Philistines, and he went through Samaria. 67 In that day certain priests, desiring to do exploits there, were slain in battle, when as [4] he went out to battle unadvisedly. 68 And Judas turned aside to Azotus, to the land of the [2] Philistines, and pulled down their altars, and burned the carved images of their gods with fire, and took the spoil of their cities, and returned into the land of Judah.

6 1 And king Antiochus was journeying through the upper countries; and he heard say, that in Elymais in Persia there was a city renowned for riches, for silver and gold; 2 and that the temple which was in it was rich exceedingly, and that therein were golden shields, and breastplates, and arms, which Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Greeks, left behind there. 3 And he came and sought to take the city, and to pillage it; and he was not able, because the thing was known to them of the city, 4 and they rose up against him to battle: and he fled, and removed thence with great heaviness, to return unto Babylon.

5 And there came one bringing him tidings into Persia, that the armies, which went against the land of Judah, had been put to flight; 6 and that Lysias went first with a strong host, and was put to shame before them; and that they had waxed strong by reason of arms and power, and with store of spoils, which they took from the armies that they had cut off; 7 and that they had pulled down the abomination which he had built upon the altar that was in Jerusalem; and that they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls, as before, and Bethsura, his city. 8 And it came to pass, when the king heard these words, he was astonished and moved exceedingly: and he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not befallen him as he looked for. 9 And he was there many days, because great grief was renewed upon him, and he made account that he should die. 10 And he called for all his Friends, and said unto them, Sleep departeth from mine eyes, and my heart faileth for care. 11 And I said in my heart, Unto what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood is it, wherein I now am! for I was gracious and beloved in my power. 12 But now I remember the evils which I did at Jerusalem, and that [b] I took all the vessels of silver and gold that were therein, and [c] sent forth to destroy the inhabitants of Judah without a cause. 13 I perceive that on this account these evils are come upon me, and, behold, I perish through great grief in a strange land. 14 And he called for [d] Philip, one of his [a] Friends, and set him over all his kingdom, 15 and gave him his [e] diadem, and his robe, and his [f] signet-ring, to the end he should bring Antiochus his son, and nourish him up that he might be king. 16 [g] And king Antiochus died there in [1] the hundred and forty and ninth year. 17 And [h] Lysias knew that the king was dead, and he set up Antiochus his son to reign, [i] whom he had nourished up being young, and he called his name [j] Eupator.

18 And they [k] that were in the citadel shut up Israel round about the sanctuary, and sought always their hurt, and the strengthening of the Gentiles. 19 And Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them. 20 And they were gathered together, and besieged them [l] in [2] the hundred and fiftieth year, and he made [m] mounds to shoot from, and engines of war. 21 And there came forth some of them that were shut up, and there were joined unto them [n] certain ungodly men of Israel. 22 And they went unto the king, and said, How long wilt thou not execute judgement, and avenge our brethren? 23 We were willing to serve thy father, and to walk after his words, and to follow [o] his commandments; 24 and for this cause the children of our people besieged [3] the citadel, and were alienated from us; but as many of us as they could light on [p] they slew, and spoiled our inheritances. 25 And not against us only did they stretch out their hand, but also against all their borders. 26 And, behold, they are encamped this day against the citadel at Jerusalem, to take it: [q] and the sanctuary and [r] Bethsura have they fortified. 27 And if ye are not beforehand with them quickly, they will do greater things than these, and thou shalt not be able to control them.

28 And [s] when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his [t] Friends, even the rulers of his host, and them that were over the horse. 29 And there came unto him from other kingdoms, and [u] from isles of the sea, bands of hired soldiers. 30 [v] And the number of his forces was a hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty elephants trained for war. 31 And they went through Idumæa, [w] and encamped against [r] Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war; and they of Bethsura came out, and burned them with fire, and fought valiantly. 32 And Judas removed from the citadel, and encamped at Bethzacharias, over against the king's camp. 33 And the king rose early in the morning, and removed his army [4] at full speed along the road to Bethzacharias, and his forces made them ready to battle, and sounded with the trumpets. 34 And they shewed the elephants [x] the blood of grapes and mulberries, that they might prepare them for the battle. 35 And they divided the beasts among the phalanxes, and they set by each elephant a thousand men armed with coats of mail, and helmets of brass on their heads; and for each beast were appointed five hundred chosen horsemen. 36 These were ready beforehand, wheresoever the beast was; and whithersoever the beast went, they went with him; they departed not from him. 37 And towers of wood were upon them, strong and covered, one upon each beast, girt fast upon him with cunning contrivances; and upon each beast were two and thirty valiant men that fought upon them, beside his Indian 38 (and the residue of the horsemen he set on this side and that side at the two parts of the army), striking terror into the enemy, and protected by the [y] phalanxes. 39 Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains shone therewith, and blazed like torches of fire. 40 And a part of the king's army was spread upon the high mountains, and some on the low ground, and they went on firmly and in order. 41 And all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the multitude, and the rattling of the arms, did quake: for the army was exceeding great and strong. 42 And Judas and his army drew near for battle, and there fell of the king's army six hundred men. 43 And Eleazar, [z] who was called Avaran, saw one of the beasts armed with royal breastplates, and he was higher than all the beasts, and the king seemed to be upon him; 44 and he gave himself to deliver his people, and to get him [a] an everlasting name; 45 and he ran upon him courageously into the midst of the [y] phalanx, and slew on the right hand and on the left, and they parted asunder from him on this side and on that. 46 And he crept under the elephant, and thrust him from beneath, and slew him; and the elephant fell to the earth upon him, and he died there. 47 And they saw the strength of the kingdom, and the fierce onset of the hosts, and turned away from them.

48 But they of the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king encamped toward Judæa, and toward mount Sion. 49 [b] And he made peace with them of [c] Bethsura; and he came out of the city, because they had no food there to endure the siege, because it was [d] a sabbath to the land. 50 And the king took [c] Bethsura, and appointed a garrison there to keep it. 51 And he encamped against the sanctuary many days; and set there [e] mounds to shoot from, and engines of war, and instruments for casting fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts, and slings. 52 And they also made engines against their engines, and fought for many days. 53 But there were no victuals in the sanctuary, because it was [f] the seventh year, and they that fled for safety into Judæa from among the Gentiles had eaten up the residue of the store; 54 and there were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine prevailed against them, and they were scattered, each man to his own place.

55 And [g] Lysias heard say, that [h] Philip, whom Antiochus the king, whiles he was yet alive, appointed to nourish up his son Antiochus, that he might be king, 56 was returned from [i] Persia and Media, and with him the forces that went with the king, and that he was seeking to take unto him the government. 57 And he made haste, and gave consent to depart; and he said to the king and the leaders of the host and to the men, We decay daily, and our food is scant, and the place where we encamp is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us: 58 now therefore let us [j] give the right hand to these men, and make peace with them and with all their nation, 59 and covenant with them, that they shall walk after their own laws, as aforetime: for because of their laws which we abolished they were angered, and did all these things. 60 [k] And the saying pleased the king and the princes, and he sent unto them to make peace; and they accepted thereof. 61 And the king and the princes sware unto them: thereupon they came forth from the stronghold. 62 And the king entered into mount Sion; and he saw the strength of the place, and set at nought the oath which he had sworn, and gave commandment to pull down [l] the wall round about. 63 And he removed in haste, and [m] returned unto [n] Antioch, and found [h] Philip master of the city; and he fought against him, and took the city by force.

7 1 [o] In [1] the hundred and one and fiftieth year [p] Demetrius the son of Seleucus came forth from [q] Rome, and went up with a few men unto a city by the sea, and reigned there. 2 And it came to pass, when he would go into the house of the kingdom of his fathers, that the army [r] laid hands on Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them unto him. 3 And the thing was known to him, and he said, Shew me not their faces. 4 And the army slew them. And Demetrius sat upon the throne of his kingdom. 5 And there came unto him all [s] the lawless and ungodly men of Israel; and [t] Alcimus was their leader, desiring to be high priest; 6 and they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have destroyed all thy friends, and have scattered us from our own land. 7 Now therefore send a man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see all the havock which he hath made of us, and of the king's country, and how he hath punished them and all that helped them. 8 And the king chose [u] Bacchides, one of the king's [v] Friends, who was ruler in the country beyond [w] the river, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful to the king. 9 And he sent him, and that ungodly [t] Alcimus, [x] and made sure to him the high priesthood, and he commanded him to take vengeance upon the children of Israel.

10 And they removed, and came with a great host into the land of Judah, and he sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with words of peace deceitfully. 11 And they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they were come with a great host. 12 And there were gathered together unto [t] Alcimus and [u] Bacchides a company of scribes, to seek for justice. 13 And the [2] [y] Hasidæans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them; 14 for they said, One [z] that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with the forces, and he will do us no wrong. 15 And he spake with them words of peace, and sware unto them, saying, We will seek the hurt neither of you nor your friends. 16 And they gave him credence: and he laid hands on threescore men of them, and slew them in one day, according to the word which the psalmist wrote,

17 [a] The flesh of thy saints did they cast out,
And their blood did they shed round about Jerusalem;
And there was no man to bury them.

18 And [b] the fear and the dread of them fell upon all the people, for they said, There is neither truth nor judgement in them; for they have broken the covenant and the oath which they sware. 19 And [u] Bacchides removed from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bezeth; and he sent and took many of the deserters that were with him, and certain of the people, and he slew them, and [c] cast them into the great pit. 20 And he made sure the country to Alcimus, and left with 21 And [d] Alcimus strove for his high priesthood. 22 And there were gathered unto him all they that troubled their people, and they got the mastery of the land of Judah, and did great hurt in Israel. 23 And Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the children of Israel, even above the Gentiles, 24 and he went out into all the coasts of Judæa round about, and took vengeance on the men that had deserted from him, and they were restrained from going forth into the country. 25 But when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company waxed strong, and knew that he was not able to withstand them, he returned to the king, and brought evil accusations against them.

And the enemies were ready [h] to take away Judas by violence. 30 And the thing was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, and he was sore afraid of him, and would see his face no more. 31 And Nicanor knew that his counsel was discovered; and he went out to meet Judas in battle beside Capharsalama; 32 and there fell of Nicanor's side about [1] five hundred men, and they fled into [i] the city of David.

battle, and conquered them: 6 Antiochus also, the great king of [c] Asia, who came against them to battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horse, and chariots, and an exceeding great host, and he was discomfited by them, 7 and they took him alive, and appointed that both he and such as reigned after him should give them a great tribute, and should give [f] hostages, and a parcel of land, to wit, 8 the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest of their countries; and they took them from him, and gave them to king Eumenes: 9 and how they of Greece took counsel to come and destroy them; 10 and the thing was known to them, and they sent against them a captain, and fought against them, and many of them fell down wounded to death, and they made captive their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and conquered their land, and pulled down their strongholds, and spoiled them, and brought them into bondage unto this day: 11 and the residue of the kingdoms and of the isles, as many as rose up against them at any time, they destroyed and made them to be their servants; 12 but with their friends and such as relied upon them they kept amity; and they conquered the kingdoms that were nigh and those that were far off, and all that heard of their fame were afraid of them: 13 moreover, whomsoever they will to succour and to make kings, these do they make kings; and whomsoever they will, do they depose; and they are exalted exceedingly: 14 and for all this none of them did ever put on a diadem, neither did they clothe themselves with purple, to be magnified thereby: 15 and how they had made for themselves [g] a senate house, and day by day three hundred and twenty men sat in council, consulting alway for the people, to the end they might be well ordered: 16 and how they commit their government to [h] one man year by year, that he should rule over them, and be lord over all their country, and all are obedient to that one, and there is neither envy nor emulation among them.

17 And Judas chose [i] Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and confederacy with them, 18 and that they should take [j] the yoke from them; for they saw that [k] the kingdom of the Greeks did keep Israel in bondage. 19 And they went to Rome (and the way was exceeding long), and they entered into the senate house, and answered and said, 20 Judas, [l] who is also called Maccabæus, and his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.

21 And the thing was well-pleasing in their sight. 22 And this is the copy of the writing which they wrote back again [m] on tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that it might be with them there for a memorial of peace and confederacy:

23 Good success be to the Romans, and to the nation of the Jews, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and the enemy be far from them. 24 But if war arise for Rome first, or any of their confederates in all their dominion, 25 the nation of the Jews shall help them as confederates, as the occasion shall prescribe to them, with all their heart: 26 and unto them that make war upon them they shall not give, neither supply, food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome, and they shall keep their ordinances without taking anything therefore. 27 In the same manner, moreover, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them as confederates with all their soul, as the occasion shall prescribe to them: 28 and to them that are confederates with their foes there shall not be given food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome; and they shall keep these ordinances, and that without deceit. 29 According to these words have the Romans made a covenant thus with the people of the Jews. 30 But if hereafter the one party and the other shall take counsel to add or diminish anything, they shall do it at their pleasure, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be established. 31 And as touching the evils which king [n] Demetrius doeth unto them, we have written to him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made [o] thy yoke heavy upon [p] our friends and confederates the Jews? 32 If therefore they plead any more against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

9 1 And [q] Demetrius heard [r] that Nicanor was fallen with his forces in battle, and he sent [s] Bacchides and [t] Alcimus again into the land of Judah a second time, and the right wing of his army with them: 2 and they went by the way that leadeth to Gilgal, and encamped against Mesaloth, which is in Arbela, and gat possession of it, and destroyed much people. 3 And the first month of [1] the hundred and fifty and second year they encamped against Jerusalem: 4 and they removed, and went to Berea, with twenty thousand footmen and two thousand horse. 5 And Judas was encamped at Elasa, and three thousand chosen men with him: 6 and they saw the multitude of the forces, that they were many, and they feared exceedingly: and many slipped away out of the army; there were not left of them more than eight hundred men. 7 And Judas saw that his army slipped away, and that the battle pressed upon him, and he was sore troubled in heart, for that he had no time to gather them together, and he waxed faint. 8 And he said to them that were left, Let us arise and go up against our adversaries, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them. 9 And they would have dissuaded him, saying, We shall in no wise be able: but let us rather save our lives now: let us return again, we and our brethren, and fight against them: but we are few. 10 And Judas said, Let it not be so that I should do this thing, [u] to flee from them: and if our time is come, let us die manfully for our brethren's sake, and not leave a cause of reproach against our glory. 11 And the host removed from the camp, and stood to encounter them, and the horse was parted into two companies, and the slingers and the archers went before the host, and all the mighty men that fought in the front of the battle. 12 But Bacchides was in the right wing; and the phalanx drew near on the two parts, and they blew with their trumpets. 13 And the men of Judas' side, even they [v] sounded with their trumpets, and the earth shook with the shout of the armies, and the battle was joined, and continued from morning until evening. 14 And Judas saw that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, and there went with him all that were brave in heart, 15 and the right wing was discomfited by them, and he pursued after them unto the mount Azotus. 16 And they that were on the left wing saw that the right wing was discomfited, and they turned and followed upon the footsteps of Judas and of those that were with him: 17 and the battle waxed sore, and many on both parts fell wounded to death. 18 And Judas fell, and the rest fled. 19 And [w] Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers at [x] Modin. 20 And they bewailed him, and [y] all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many days, and said, 21 [z] How is the mighty fallen, the saviour of Israel! 22 [a] And the rest of the acts of Judas, and his wars, and the valiant deeds which he did, and his greatness, they are not written; for they were exceeding many.

23 And it came to pass after the death of Judas, that [b] the lawless put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and all they that wrought iniquity rose up 24 (in those days was there an exceeding great famine), and the country went over with them. 25 And Bacchides chose out [b] the ungodly men, and made them lords of the country. 26 And they sought out and searched for the friends of Judas, and brought them unto Bacchides, and he took vengeance on them, and used them despitefully. 27 And there was great tribulation in Israel, such as was not [c] since the time that no prophet appeared unto them. 28 And [d] all the friends of Judas were gathered together, and they said unto Jonathan, 29 Since thy brother Judas hath died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies and Bacchides, and among [e] them of our nation that hate us. 30 Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince and leader in his stead, that thou mayest fight our battles. 31 And Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and [f] rose up in the stead of his brother Judas.

32 And Bacchides knew it, and he sought to slay him. 33 And [g] Jonathan, and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, knew it; and they fled into [h] the wilderness of [i] Tekoah, and encamped by the water of the pool Asphar. 34 And Bacchides knew it [j] on the sabbath day, and came, he and all his army, over Jordan. 35 And Jonathan sent his brother, a leader of the multitude, and besought his friends [k] the Nabathæans, that they might leave with them their baggage, which was much. 36 And the children of Jambri came out of [l] Medaba, and took John, and all that he had, and went their way with it.

37 But after these things they brought word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri were making a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from Nadabath with a great train, a daughter of one of the great nobles of [m] Canaan. 38 And they remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain: 39 and they lifted up their eyes, and saw, and, behold, a great ado and much baggage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and his brethren, to meet them with timbrels, and minstrels, and many weapons. 40 And they rose up against them [n] from their ambush, and slew them, and many fell wounded to death, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their spoils. 41 And the marriage was turned into mourning, and the voice of their minstrels into lamentation. 42 And they avenged fully the blood of their brother, and turned back to [o] the marsh of Jordan.

43 And Bacchides heard it, and he came [p] on the sabbath day unto the banks of Jordan with a great host. 44 And Jonathan said to his company, [q] Let us stand up now and fight for our lives, for it is not with us to-day, as yesterday and the day before. 45 For, behold, the battle is before us and behind us; moreover the water of the Jordan is on this side and on that side, and [o]marsh and wood; and there is no place to turn aside. 46 Now therefore cry unto [r]heaven, that ye may be delivered out of the hand of your enemies. 47 And the battle was joined, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, and he turned away back from him. 48 And Jonathan and they that were with him leapt into the Jordan, and swam over to the other side: and they did not pass over Jordan against them. 49 And there fell of Bacchides' company that day about a thousand men; 50 and he returned to Jerusalem. And they builded strong cities in Judæa, the stronghold that was in [s]Jericho, and [t]Emmaus, and [u]Bethhoron, and [v]Bethel, and [w]Timnath, [x]Pharathon, and [y]Tephon, [z]with high walls and gates and bars. 51 And in them he set a garrison, to vex Israel. 52 And he fortified the city [a]Bethsura, and [b]Gazara, and [c]the citadel, and put forces in them, and store of victuals. 53 And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, [d]and put them in ward in the citadel at Jerusalem.

54 And in [1]the hundred and fifty and third year, in the second month, [e]Alcimus commanded to pull down [f]the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary; he pulled down also [g]the works of the prophets; 55 and he began to pull down. At that time was Alcimus stricken, and his works were hindered; and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, and he could no more speak anything and give order concerning his house. 56 And Alcimus died at that time with great torment. 57 And [h]Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, and he returned to the king: and the land of Judah [i]had rest two years.

58 And all [j]the lawless men took counsel, saying, Behold, Jonathan and they of his part are dwelling at ease, and in security: now therefore we will bring Bacchides, and he shall lay hands on them all in one night. 59 And they went and consulted with him. 60 And he removed, and came with a great host, and sent letters privily to all his confederates that were in Judæa, that they should lay hands on Jonathan and those that were with him: and they could not, because their counsel was known unto them. 61 And they that were of Jonathan's part laid hands on about fifty of the men of the country, that were authors of the wickedness, and he slew them. 62 And Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, gat them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and he built up that which had been pulled down thereof, and they made it strong. 63 And Bacchides knew it, and he gathered together all his multitude, and sent word to them that were of Judæa. 64 And he went and encamped against Bethbasi, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war. 65 And Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the country, and he went with a few men. 66 And he smote Odomera and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent. 67 And they began to smite them, and to go up with their forces. And Simon and they that were with him went out of the city, and set on fire the engines of war, 68 and fought against Bacchides, and he was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore; for his counsel was in vain, and his inroad. 69 And they were very wroth with the lawless men [k]that gave him counsel to come into the country, and they slew many of them. And he took counsel to depart into his own land. 70 And Jonathan had knowledge thereof, and sent ambassadors unto him, [l]to the end that they should make peace with him, and that he should restore unto them the captives. 71 And he accepted the thing, and did according to his words, and sware unto him that he would not seek his hurt all the days of his life. 72 [m]And he restored unto him the captives which he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judah, and he returned and departed into his own land, and came not any more into their borders. 73 And the sword ceased from Israel. And Jonathan dwelt at [n]Michmash; and Jonathan began to judge the people; and he destroyed the ungodly out of Israel.

10 1 And in [2]the hundred and sixtieth year Alexander Epiphanes, the son of Antiochus, went up and took possession of [o]Ptolemais: and they received him, and he reigned there. 2 And [p]king Demetrius heard thereof, and he gathered together exceeding great forces, and went forth to meet him in battle.

3 And Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with words of peace, so as to magnify him. 4 For he said, Let us be beforehand [q]to make peace with them, [r]ere he make peace with Alexander against us: 5 for he will remember [s]all the evils that we have done against him, and unto his brethren and unto his nation. 6 And he gave him authority to gather together forces, and to provide arms, and that he should be his confederate: and he commanded that they should deliver up to him [t]the hostages that were in [u]the citadel.

7 And Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in [u] the citadel: 8 and they were sore afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together a host. 9 And they of the citadel delivered up the hostages unto Jonathan, and he restored them unto their parents. 10 And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem, and began to build and renew the city. 11 And he commanded them that did the work [v] to build the walls and the mount Sion round about with [1] square stones for defence; and they did so. 12 And the strangers, that were in [w] the strongholds which Bacchides had built, fled away; 13 and each man left his place, and departed into his own land. 14 Only at [x] Bethsura were there left certain of those [y] that had forsaken the law and the commandments; for it was a place of refuge unto them.

15 And king Alexander heard all the promises which Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: and they told him of the battles and the valiant deeds which he and his brethren had done, and of the toils which they had endured; 16 and he said, Shall we find such another man? and now we will make him our [z] Friend and confederate. 17 And he wrote letters, and sent them unto him, according to these words, saying,

18 King Alexander to [a] his brother Jonathan, greeting: 19 We have heard of thee, that thou art a mighty man of valour, and meet to be our [z] Friend. 20 [b] And now we have appointed thee this day to be high priest of thy nation, and to be called the king's [z] Friend (and he sent unto him [c] a purple robe and a crown of gold), and to take our part, and to keep friendship with us.

21 And Jonathan put on [d] the holy garments in [e] the seventh month of [2] the hundred and sixtieth year, at the feast of tabernacles, and he gathered together forces, and provided arms in abundance.

22 And Demetrius heard these things, and he was grieved, and said, 23 What is this that we have done, that Alexander [f] hath been beforehand with us in establishing friendship with the Jews, to strengthen himself? 24 I also will write unto them words of encouragement and of honour and of gifts, that they may be with me to aid me. 25 And he sent unto them according to these words:

King Demetrius unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: 26 Forasmuch as ye have kept your covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, and have not joined yourselves to our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad. 27 And now continue ye still to keep faith with us, and we will recompense unto you good things in return for your dealings with us, 28 and [g] will grant you many immunities, and give you gifts. 29 And now do I free you, and release all the Jews, from the tributes, [h] and from the customs of salt, and [i] from the crowns. 30 And instead of the third part of the seed, and instead of the half of the fruit of the trees, which falleth to me to receive, I release it from this day and henceforth, so that I will not take it from the land of Judah, and from [j] the three governments which are added thereunto from the country of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth and for all time. 31 And [k] let Jerusalem be holy and free, and her borders; [l] the tenths and the tolls also. 32 I yield up also my authority over [m] the citadel which is at Jerusalem, and give it to the high priest, that he may appoint in it such men as he shall choose to keep it. 33 [n] And every soul of the Jews, that hath been carried captive from the land of Judah into any part of my kingdom, I set at liberty without price; and let all remit the tributes of their cattle also. 34 And all the feasts, and the sabbaths, [o] and new moons, and appointed days, and three days before a feast, and three days after a feast, let them all be [p] days of immunity and release for all the Jews that are in my kingdom. 35 And no man shall have authority to exact from any of them, or to trouble them concerning any matter. 36 [q] And let there be enrolled among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, and pay shall be given unto them, as belongeth to all the king's forces. 37 And of them some shall be placed in the king's great strongholds, and some of them shall be placed over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust: and let those that are over them, and their rulers, be of themselves, and let them walk after their own laws, even as the king hath commanded in the land of Judah. 38 And [j] the three governments that have been added to Judæa from the country of Samaria, let them be added to Judæa, that they may be reckoned to be under one, that they may not obey other authority than the high priest's. 39 As for [r] Ptolemais, and the land pertaining thereto, I have given it as a gift to the sanctuary that is at Jerusalem, for the expenses that befit the sanctuary. 40 And I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver from the king's revenues from the places that are convenient. 41 And all the overplus, which they that manage the king's affairs paid not in as in the first years, they shall give from henceforth toward the works of the house. 42 And beside this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they received from the uses of the sanctuary from the revenue year by year, this also is released, because it appertaineth to the priests that minister. 43 And whosoever shall flee unto the temple that is at Jerusalem, and be found within all the borders thereof, whether one owe moneys to the king, or any other matter, let them go free, and all that they have in my kingdom. 44 And for the building and renewing of the works of the sanctuary the expense shall be given also out of the king's revenue. 45 And [s] for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, shall the expense be given also out of the king's revenue, and for the building of the walls in Judæa.

46 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credence unto them, nor received them, [t] because they remembered the great evil which he had done in Israel, and that he had afflicted them very sore. 47 And they were well pleased with Alexander, because he was the first that spake words of peace unto them, and they were confederate with him always. 48 And king Alexander gathered together great forces, and encamped over against Demetrius. 49 And the two kings joined battle, and the army of Alexander fled; and Demetrius followed after him, and prevailed against them. 50 And he strengthened the battle exceedingly until the sun went down: and Demetrius fell that day.

51 And Alexander sent ambassadors to [u] Ptolemy king of Egypt according to these words, saying, 52 Forasmuch as I am returned to my kingdom, and am set on the throne of my fathers, and have gotten the dominion, and have overthrown Demetrius, and have gotten possession of our country; 53 yea, I joined battle with him, and he and his army were discomfited by us, and we sat upon the throne of his kingdom: 54 now also let us establish amity one with the other, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will make affinity with thee, and will give both thee and her gifts worthy of thee. 55 And Ptolemy the king answered, saying, Happy is the day wherein thou didst return into the land of thy fathers, and didst sit on the throne of their kingdom. 56 And now will I do to thee, as thou hast written: but meet me at [r] Ptolemais, that we may see one another; and I will make affinity with thee, even as thou hast said. 57 And Ptolemy went out of Egypt, himself and Cleopatra his daughter, and came unto Ptolemais in [1] the hundred and threescore and second year: 58 and king Alexander met him, [v] and he bestowed on him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great pomp, as the manner of kings is.

59 And king Alexander wrote unto Jonathan, that he should come to meet him. 60 And he went with pomp to Ptolemais, and met the two kings, and gave them and their [w] friends silver and gold, and many gifts, and found favour in their sight. 61 And there were gathered together against him [x] certain pestilent fellows out of Israel, [y] men that were transgressors of the law, to complain against him: and the king gave no heed to them. 62 And the king commanded, and they took off Jonathan's garments, and [z] clothed him in purple: and thus they did. 63 And the king made him sit with him, and said unto his princes, [a] Go forth with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and let no man trouble him for any manner of cause. 64 And it came to pass, when they that complained against him saw his glory according as the herald made proclamation, and saw him [z] clothed in purple, they all fled away. 65 And the king gave him honour, and wrote him among his [b] Chief Friends, and made him a captain, and governor of a province. 66 And Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

67 And in [2] the hundred and threescore and fifth year came [c] Demetrius, son of [d] Demetrius, out of Crete into the land of his fathers: 68 and king Alexander heard thereof, and he was grieved exceedingly, and returned unto [e] Antioch. 69 And Demetrius appointed [f] Apollonius, who was over [g] Cœlesyria, and he gathered together a great host, and encamped in [h] Jamnia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying,

70 Thou alone liftest up thyself against us, but I am had in derision and in reproach because of thee. And [i] why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains? 71 Now therefore, if thou trustest in thy forces, come down to us into the plain, and there let us try the matter together; for with me is the power of the cities. 72 Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that help us; and they say, Your foot cannot stand before our face; for thy fathers have been [j] twice put to flight in their own land. 73 And now thou shalt not be able to abide the horse and such a host as this in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.

74 Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and he chose out ten thousand men, and went forth from Jerusalem, and [k] Simon his brother met him for to help him. 75 And he encamped against [l] Joppa: and they of the city shut him out, because Apollonius had a garrison in Joppa: 76 and they fought against it. And they of the city were afraid, and opened unto him: and Jonathan became master of Joppa. 77 And Apollonius heard, and he gathered an army of three thousand horse, and a great host, and went to [m] Azotus as though he were on a journey, and therewithal drew onward into the plain, because he had a multitude of horse, and trusted therein. 78 And he pursued after him to [m] Azotus, and the armies joined battle[1]. 79 And Apollonius had left a thousand horse behind them privily. 80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him. And they compassed round his army, and cast their darts at the people, from morning until evening: 81 but the people stood still, as Jonathan commanded them: and their horses were wearied. 82 And Simon drew forth his host, and joined battle with [n] the phalanx (for the horsemen were spent), and they were discomfited by him, and fled. 83 And the horsemen were scattered in the plain, and they fled to [m] Azotus, and entered into [o] Beth-dagon, their idol's temple, to save themselves. 84 [p] And Jonathan burned Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils; and the temple of [o] Dagon, and them that fled into it, [q] he burned with fire. 85 And they that had fallen by the sword, with them that were burned, were about eight thousand men. 86 And from thence Jonathan removed, and encamped against [r] Ascalon, and they of the city came forth to meet him with great pomp. 87 And Jonathan, with them that were on his side, returned unto Jerusalem, having many spoils. 88 And it came to pass, when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Jonathan yet more; 89 and he sent unto him [s] a buckle of gold, as the use is to give to such as are of the kindred of the kings: and he gave him [t] Ekron and all the coasts thereof for a possession.

II 1 And [u] the king of Egypt gathered together great forces, [v] as the sand which is by the sea shore, and many ships, and sought to make himself master of Alexander's kingdom by deceit, and to add it to his own kingdom. 2 And he went forth into Syria with words of peace, and they of the cities opened unto him, and met him; for king Alexander's commandment was that they should meet him, because he was his father in law. 3 Now as he entered into the cities of [w] Ptolemais, he set his forces for a garrison in each city. 4 But when he came near to [x] Azotus, they shewed him the temple of [y] Dagon [z] burned with fire, and [x] Azotus and the suburbs thereof pulled down, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that had been burned, whom he burned in the war, for they had made heaps of them in his way. 5 And they told the king what things Jonathan had done, that they might cast blame on him: and the king held his peace. 6 And Jonathan met the king with pomp at [a] Joppa, and they saluted one another, and they slept there. 7 And Jonathan went with the king as far as the river that is called [b] Eleutherus, and returned to Jerusalem. 8 But [u] king Ptolemy became master of the cities upon the sea coast, unto [c] Selencia which is by the sea, and he devised evil devices concerning Alexander. 9 And he sent ambassadors unto king [d] Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a covenant with one another, and I will give thee my daughter [e] whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reign over thy father's kingdom; 10 for I have repented that I gave my daughter unto him, for he sought to slay me. 11 And he cast blame on him, because he coveted his kingdom. 12 And taking his daughter from him, he gave her to Demetrius, and was estranged from Alexander, and their enmity was openly seen. 13 And Ptolemy entered into [f] Antioch, and put on himself the diadem of [g] Asia; and he put two diadems upon his head, the diadem of Egypt and that of Asia. 14 But king Alexander was in [h] Cilicia at that season, because they of those parts were in revolt. 15 And Alexander heard of it, and he came against him in war: and Ptolemy led forth his host, and met him with a strong force, and put him to flight. 16 And Alexander fled into Arabia, that he might be sheltered there; but king Ptolemy was exalted. 17 And [i] Zabdiel the Arabian took off Alexander's head, and sent it to Ptolemy. 18 And king Ptolemy died the third day after, and they that were in his strongholds were slain by them that were in the strongholds. 19 [j] And Demetrius reigned in [2] the hundred and threescore and seventh year.

20 In those days [k] Jonathan gathered together them of Judæa, to take [l] the citadel that was at Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it. 21 And certain that hated their own nation, [m] men that transgressed the law, went unto the king, and reported to him that Jonathan was besieging the citadel. 22 And he heard, and was angered; but when he heard it, he set forth immediately, and came to [n] Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not besiege it, and that he should meet him and speak with him at [n] Ptolemais with all speed. 23 But when Jonathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel and of the priests, and put himself in peril, 24 and [o] taking silver and gold and raiment and divers presents besides, went to [n] Ptolemais unto the king. And he found favour in his sight. 25 And [m] certain lawless men of them that were of the nation made complaints against him, 26 and the king did unto him even as his predecessors had done unto him, and exalted him in the sight of all his [p] Friends, [27] and [q] confirmed to him the high priesthood, and all the other honours that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his [r] Chief Friends. [28] And Jonathan requested of the king, that he would make Judæa [s] free from tribute, and [t] the three [1] provinces, and the country of Samaria; and promised him three hundred talents. [29] And the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan concerning all these things after this manner:

[30] King Demetrius unto [u] his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: [31] The copy of the letter which we wrote unto Lasthenes our kinsman concerning you, we have written also unto you, that ye may see it. [32] King Demetrius unto Lasthenes [v] his father, greeting: [33] We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews, who are our friends, and observe what is just toward us, because of their good will toward us. [34] We have confirmed therefore unto them the borders of Judæa, and also [t] the three governments of Aphærema and [w] Lydda and [x] Ramathaim (these were added unto Judæa from the country of Samaria), and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the king's dues which the king received of them yearly aforetime [y] from the produce of the earth and the fruits of trees. [35] And as for the other things that pertain unto us from henceforth, of [z] the tenths and the tolls that pertain unto us, and [a] the saltpits, and [a] the crowns that pertain unto us, all these we will bestow upon them. [36] And not one of these things shall be annulled from this time forth and for ever. [37] Now therefore be careful to make a copy of these things, and let it be given unto Jonathan, and let it be set up on the holy mount in a meet and conspicuous place.

[38] And king Demetrius saw that [b] the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made to him, and he sent away all his forces, each man to his own place, except [c] the foreign forces, [d] which he had raised from [e] the isles of the Gentiles: and all the forces of his fathers hated him. [39] Now [f] Tryphon was of those who aforetime had been of Alexander's part, and he saw that all the forces murmured against Demetrius, and he went to Imalcue [g] the Arabian, who was nourishing up [h] Antiochus the young child of Alexander, [40] and pressed sore upon him that he should deliver him unto him, that he might reign in his father's stead: and he told him all that Demetrius had done, and the hatred wherewith his forces hated him; and [i] he abode there many days.

[41] And Jonathan sent unto king Demetrius, that he should cast out of Jerusalem [j] them of the citadel, and them [k] that were in the strongholds; for they fought against Israel continually. [42] And Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy nation, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if I find fair occasion. [43] Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men who shall fight for me; [l] for all my forces are revolted. [44] And Jonathan sent him three thousand valiant men unto [m] Antioch: and they came to the king, and the king was glad at their coming. [45] And they of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and they were minded to slay the king. [46] And the king fled into the court of the palace, and they of the city seized the passages of the city, and began to fight. [47] And the king called the Jews to help him, and they were gathered together unto him all at once, and they dispersed themselves in the city, and slew that day to the number of a hundred thousand. [48] And they set the city on fire, and gat many spoils that day, and saved the king. [49] And they of the city saw that the Jews had made themselves masters of the city as they would, and they waxed faint in their hearts, and they cried out to the king with supplication, saying, [50] [n] Give us thy right hand, and let the Jews cease from fighting against us and the city. [51] And they cast away their arms, and made peace; and the Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and before all that were in his kingdom; and they returned to Jerusalem, having many spoils. [52] And king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and [o] the land was quiet before him. [53] And he lied in all that he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, and recompensed him not according to the benefits with which he had recompensed him, and afflicted him exceedingly.

[54] Now after this [f] Tryphon [p] returned, and with him [q] the young child Antiochus; and he reigned, and put on a diadem. [55] And there were gathered unto him all the forces which Demetrius had sent away with disgrace, and they fought against him, and he fled and was put to the rout. [56] And [f] Tryphon took the elephants, and became master of [m] Antioch. [57] And the young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, [r] I confirm unto thee the high priesthood, and appoint thee over [s] the four governments, and to be one of the king's [t] Friends. [58] And he sent unto him golden vessels and furniture for the table, and gave him leave [u] to drink in golden vessels, and [v] to be clothed in purple, and to have [w] a golden buckle. 59 And his brother [x] Simon he made captain from the Ladder of [y] Tyre unto the borders of Egypt. 60 And Jonathan went forth, and took his journey beyond the river and through the cities; and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to be his confederates. And he came to [z] Ascalon, and they of the city met him honourably. 61 And he departed thence to [a] Gaza, and they of Gaza shut him out; and he laid siege unto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them. 62 And they of [a] Gaza made request unto Jonathan, and he [b] gave them his right hand, and took the sons of their princes for hostages, and sent them away to Jerusalem; and he passed through the country as far as [c] Damascus.

63 And [d] Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to [e] Kedesh, which is in Galilee, with a great host, purposing to remove him from his office; 64 and he went to meet them, but Simon his brother he left in the country. 65 And Simon encamped against [f] Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and shut it up: 66 and they made request to him that he would [b] give them his right hand, and he gave it to them; and he put them out from thence, and [g] took possession of the city, and set a garrison over it. 67 And Jonathan and his army encamped at the water of [h] Gennesareth, and early in the morning they gat them to the plain of [i] Hazor. 68 And, behold, an army of [j] strangers met him in the plain, and [k] they laid an ambush for him in the mountains, but themselves met him face to face. 69 But they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joined battle; and all they that were of Jonathan's side fled: 70 not one of them was left, except Mattathias the son of [l] Absalom, and Judas the son of Chalphi, captains of the forces. 71 And Jonathan [m] rent his clothes, and [n] put earth upon his head, and prayed. 72 And he turned again unto them in battle, and put them to the rout, and they fled. 73 And they of his side that fled saw it, and returned unto him, and pursued with him unto [e] Kedesh unto their camp, and they encamped there. 74 And there fell of [j] the strangers on that day about three thousand men: and Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

12 1 And Jonathan saw that the time served him, and [o] he chose men, and sent them to Rome, to confirm and renew [p] the friendship that they had with them. 2 And to the [q] Spartans, and to other places, he sent letters after the same manner. 3 And they went unto Rome, and entered into [r] the senate house, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the nation of the Jews, have sent us, to renew for them the friendship and the confederacy, [p] as in former time. 4 And they gave them letters unto the men in every place, that they should bring them on their way to the land of Judah in peace. 5 And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans:

6 Jonathan the high priest, and [s] the senate of the nation, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews, unto [t] their brethren the Spartans, greeting: 7 Even before this time were letters sent unto [u] Onias the high priest from [1] Arius, who was reigning among you, to signify that ye are [t] our brethren, as the copy [v] here underwritten sheweth. 8 And [u] Onias entreated honourably the man that was sent, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of confederacy and friendship. 9 Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, having [w] for our encouragement the holy books which are in our hands, 10 have assayed to send that we might renew our brotherhood and friendship with you, to the end that we should not become estranged from you altogether: for long time is passed since ye sent unto us. 11 We therefore at all times [x] without ceasing, both in our feasts, and on the other convenient days, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as it is right and meet to be mindful of brethren: 12 and moreover are glad for your glory. 13 But as for ourselves, many afflictions and many wars have encompassed us, and the kings that are round about us have fought against us. 14 We were not minded therefore to be troublesome unto you, and to the rest of our confederates and friends, in these wars; 15 for [y] we have the help which is from heaven to help us, and we have been delivered from our enemies, and our enemies have been brought low. 16 [z] We chose therefore [a] Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and have sent them unto the Romans, to renew the friendship that we had with them, and the former confederacy. 17 We commanded them therefore to go also unto you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of friendship and our brotherhood. 18 And now ye shall do well if ye give us an answer thereto.

19 And this is the copy of the letters which they sent to [u] Onias:

20 Arius king of the [q] Spartans to Onias the chief priest, greeting: 21 It hath been found in writing, concerning the [q] Spartans and the Jews, that they are [b] brethren, and that they are of the stock of Abraham: 22 and now, since this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well to write unto us of your [1]prosperity. 23 And we moreover do write on our part to you, [c]that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore that they make report unto you on this wise.

24 And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were returned to fight against him [d]with a greater host than afore. 25 and he removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the country of [e]Hamath; for he gave them no respite to set foot in his country. 26 And he sent spies into his camp, and they came again, and reported to him that they were appointed in such and such a way to fall upon them in the night season. 27 But so soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready for battle: and he put forth sentinels round about the camp. 28 And the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, and they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camps. 29 But Jonathan and his men knew it not till the morning; for they saw the lights burning. 30 And Jonathan pursued after them, and overtook them not; for they were gone over [f]the river Eleutherus. 31 And Jonathan turned aside to the Arabians, who are called Zabadæans, and smote them, and took their spoils. 32 And he set out from thence, and came to [g]Damascus, and took his journey through all the country. 33 And [h]Simon went forth, and took his journey as far as [i]Ascalon, and the strongholds that were near unto it. And he turned aside to [j]Joppa, and took possession of it; 34 for he had heard that they were minded to deliver the stronghold unto the [k]men of Demetrius; and he set a garrison there to keep it.

35 And Jonathan returned, and called the elders of the people together; and he took counsel with them to build [l]strongholds in Judæa, 36 and to [m]make the walls of Jerusalem higher, and to raise a great mound between the citadel and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be all alone, [n]that men might neither buy nor sell. 37 And they were gathered together to build the city, and there fell down part of the wall of the brook that is on the east side, and he repaired that which is called Chaphenatha. 38 And Simon also built Adida [o]in the [3]plain country, and made it strong, [p]and set up gates and bars.

39 And [q]Tryphon sought to reign over [r]Asia and to put on himself the diadem, and [s]to stretch forth his hand against Antiochus the king. 40 And he was afraid lest haply Jonathan should not suffer him, and lest he should fight against him; and he sought a way how to take him, that he might destroy him. And he removed, and came to [t]Bethshan. 41 And Jonathan came forth to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for battle, and came to [t]Bethshan. 42 And [q]Tryphon saw that he came with a great host, and he was afraid to stretch forth his hand against him: 43 and he received him honourably, and commended him unto all his [u]Friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his forces to be obedient unto him, as unto himself. 44 And he said unto Jonathan, Why hast thou put all this people to trouble, seeing there is no war betwixt us? 45 And now send them away to their homes, but choose for thyself a few men who shall be with thee, and come thou with me to [v]Ptolemais, and I will give it up to thee, and the rest of the strongholds and the rest of the forces, and all the king's officers: and I will return and depart; for this is the cause of my coming. 46 And he put trust in him, and did even as he said, and sent away his forces, and they departed into the land of Judah. 47 But he reserved to himself three thousand men, of whom he left two thousand in Galilee, but one thousand went with him. 48 [w]Now as soon as Jonathan entered into [v]Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and laid hands on him; and all them that came in with him they slew with the sword. 49 And [q]Tryphon sent forces and horsemen into Galilee, and into [x]the great plain, to destroy all Jonathan's men. 50 And they perceived that [y]he was taken and had perished, and they that were with him; and they encouraged one another, and went on their way close together, prepared to fight. 51 And they that followed upon them saw that they were ready to fight for their lives, and turned back again. 52 And they all came in peace into the land of Judah, and [z]they mourned for Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid; and all Israel mourned with a great mourning. 53 [a]And all the Gentiles that were round about them sought to destroy them utterly: for they said, They have no ruler, nor any to help them: now therefore let us fight against them, and [b]take away their memorial from among men.

13 1 And [c]Simon heard that [d]Tryphon had gathered together a mighty host to come into the land of Judah, and [e]destroy it utterly. 2 And he saw that the people trembled and was in great fear; and he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together; 3 and he encouraged them, and said unto them, Ye yourselves know all the things that I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, and the battles and the distresses which we have seen: 4 by reason hereof f all my brethren have perished for Israel's sake, and I am left alone. 5 And now be it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of affliction; g for I am not better than my brethren. 6 Howbeit I will take vengeance for my nation, and for the sanctuary, and for our wives and children; because h all the Gentiles are gathered to destroy us of very hatred. 7 And the spirit of the people revived, as soon as they heard these words. 8 And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou art our leader instead of i Judas and j Jonathan thy brother. 9 Fight thou our battles, and all that thou shalt say unto us, that will we do. 10 And he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste k to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about. 11 And he sent Jonathan the son of l Absalom, and with him a great host, to m Joppa: and he cast out them that were therein, and abode there in it.

12 And d Tryphon removed from n Ptolemais with a mighty host to enter into the land of Judah, and o Jonathan was with him in ward. 13 But Simon encamped at Adida, p over against the plain. 14 And d Tryphon knew that Simon was risen up instead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to join battle with him, and he sent ambassadors unto him, saying, 15 It is for money which Jonathan thy brother owed unto the king's treasure, by reason of the offices which he had, that we hold him fast. 16 And now send a hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for hostages, that when he is set at liberty he may not revolt from us, and we will set him at liberty. 17 And Simon knew that they spake unto him deceitfully; and he sendeth the money and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himself great hatred of the people, 18 and they should say, Because I sent him not the money and the children, he perished. 19 And he sent the children and the hundred talents. And he dealt falsely, and did not set Jonathan at liberty. 20 And after this Tryphon came to invade the land, and destroy it, and he went round about by the way that leadeth unto q Adora: and Simon and his army marched over against him to every place, wheresoever he went. 21 Now r they of the citadel sent unto Tryphon ambassadors, hastening him to come unto them through the wilderness, and to send them victuals. 22 And Tryphon made ready all his horse to come: and on that night there fell a very great snow, and he came not by reason of the snow. And he removed, and came into the country of s Gilead. 23 But when he came near to Bascama, he slew Jonathan, and he was buried there. 24 And Tryphon returned, and went away into his own land.

25 And Simon sent, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried him at t Modin, the city of his fathers. 26 u And all Israel made great lamentation over him, and mourned for him many days. 27 And Simon built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the sight, with polished stone behind and before. 28 And he set up seven pyramids, one over against another, for his father, and his mother, and his four brethren. 29 And for these he made cunning devices, setting about them great pillars, and upon the pillars he fashioned [1] all manner of arms for a perpetual memory, and beside the [1] arms ships carved, that they should be seen of v all that sail on the sea. 30 This is the sepulchre which he made at t Modin, and it is there unto this day.

31 Now Tryphon w dealt deceitfully with the young king Antiochus, and slew him, 32 and reigned in his stead, and put on himself the diadem of x Asia, and brought a great calamity upon the land. 33 And Simon y built the strongholds of Judæa, and fenced them about with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and bars; z and he laid up victuals in the strongholds. 34 And Simon chose men, and sent to king Demetrius, to the end he should give the country an immunity, a because all that Tryphon did was to plunder. 35 And king Demetrius sent unto him according to these words, and answered him, and wrote a letter unto him, after this manner:

36 King Demetrius unto Simon b the high priest and c Friend of kings, and unto the elders and nation of the Jews, greeting: 37 d The golden crown, and the palm branch, which ye sent, we have received: and we are ready to make a [2] stedfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our officers, e to grant immunities unto you. 38 And f whatsoever things we confirmed unto you, they are confirmed; and g the strongholds, which ye have builded, let them be your own. 39 As for any oversights and faults committed unto this day, we forgive them, and h the crown which ye owed us: and if there were any other toll exacted in Jerusalem, let it be exacted no longer. 40 i And if there be any among you meet to be enrolled in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace betwixt us.

41 In [3] the hundred and seventieth year was the yoke of the heathen taken away from Israel. 42 And the people j began to write in their instruments and contracts, k In the first year of Simon b the great high priest and captain and leader of the Jews.

43 In those days he encamped against [1]Gazara, and compassed it round about with armies; and he made an engine of siege, and brought it up to the city, and smote a tower, and took it. 44 And they that were in the engine leaped forth into the city; and there was a great uproar in the city: 45 and they of the city [i]rent their clothes, and went up on the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, making request to Simon to [m]give them [2]his right hand. 46 And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickednesses, but according to thy mercy. 47 And Simon was reconciled unto them, and did not fight against them: and he put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein [n]the idols were, and so entered into it with singing and giving praise. 48 And he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed in it such men as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein [o]a dwelling place for himself.

49 But [p]they of the citadel in Jerusalem were hindered from going forth, and from going into the country, and [q]from buying and selling; and they hungered exceedingly, and a great number of them perished through famine. 50 And they cried out to Simon, that he should [m]give them his right hand; and he gave it to them: and he put them out from thence, and he [r]cleansed the citadel from its pollutions. 51 And he entered into it on the three and twentieth day of the second month, in [s]the hundred and seventy and first year, with praise and [t]palm branches, and [u]with harps, and with cymbals, and with viols, and with hymns, and with songs: [v]because a great enemy was destroyed out of Israel. 52 And he ordained that they should keep that day every year with gladness. [w]And the hill of the temple that was by the citadel he made stronger than before, and there he dwelt, himself and his men. 53 And Simon saw that [w]John his son was a valiant man, and he made him leader of all his forces: and [w]he dwelt in [x]Gazara.

14 [1]And in [4]the hundred and seventy and second year [y]king Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into [z]Media, to get him help, that he might fight against Tryphon. 2 And [a]Arsaces, the king of [b]Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was come into his borders, and he sent one of his princes to take him alive: 3 and he went and smote the army of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to [a]Arsaces; and he put him in ward.

4 And the land [c]had rest all the days of Simon: and he sought the good of his nation; and his authority and his glory was well-pleasing to them all his days. 5 And amid all his glory he took [d]Joppa for a haven, and made it an entrance for the isles of the sea; 6 and he enlarged the borders of his nation, and gat possession of the country; 7 and he gathered together a great number of captives, and gat the dominion of [e]Gazara, and [f]Bethsura, and the citadel, and [g]he took away from it its uncleannesses; and there was none that resisted him. 8 And they tilled their land in peace, and [h]the land gave her increase, and the trees of the plains their fruit. 9 The ancient men sat in the streets, they communed all of them together of good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike apparel. 10 [i]He provided victuals for the cities, and furnished them with [5]all manner of munition, until the name of his glory was named [j]unto the end of the earth. 11 He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy: 12 and [k]they sat each man under his vine and his fig tree, and there was none to make them afraid: 13 and there ceased in the land any that fought against them: and the kings were discomfited in those days. 14 And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every lawless and wicked person he took away. 15 He glorified the sanctuary, and the vessels of the temple he multiplied.

16 And it was heard at [l]Rome that Jonathan was dead, and even unto [m]Sparta, and they were exceeding sorry. 17 But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made [n]high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein, 18 they wrote unto him [o]on tables of brass, to renew with him the friendship and the confederacy which they had confirmed with [p]Judas and [q]Jonathan his brethren; 19 and they were read before the congregation at Jerusalem. 20 And this is the copy of the letters which the Spartans sent:

The rulers of the Spartans, and the city, unto Simon [n]the high priest, and unto the elders, and the priests, and the residue of the people of the Jews, [r]our brethren, greeting: 21 The ambassadors that were sent unto our people made report to us of your glory and honour: and we were glad for their coming, 22 and we did register the things that were spoken by them in the [3]public records after this manner: [s]Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us. 23 And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their words in the [1]public records, to the end that the people of [t]the Spartans might have a memorial thereof: moreover they wrote a copy of these things unto Simon [u]the high priest.

24 After this Simon sent [x]Numenius to Rome with a great shield [w]of gold of a thousand pound weight, in order to confirm the confederacy with them.

25 But when the people heard these things, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and [v]his sons? 26 for he and his brethren and the house of his father have made themselves strong, and have chased away in fight the enemies of Israel from them, and confirmed liberty to [2]Israel. 27 And they wrote [y]on tables of brass, and set them upon pillars in mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing:

On the eighteenth day of [w]Elul, in [3]the hundred and seventy and second year, and this is [z]the third year of Simon the high priest, 28 [4]in Asaramel, in a great congregation of priests and people and princes of the nation, and of the elders of the country, [5]was it notified unto us: 29 Forasmuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, but Simon the son of Mattathias, the son of [v]the sons of Joarib, and his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and withstood the enemies of their nation, that their sanctuary and the law might be established, and glorified their nation with great glory: 30 and Jonathan assembled their nation together, and [a]became their high priest, and [b]was gathered to his people: 31 and their enemies purposed to invade their country, [c]that they might destroy their country utterly, and stretch forth their hands against their sanctuary: 32 then rose up Simon, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gave them wages: 33 and [d]he fortified the cities of Judæa, and [e]Bethsura that lieth upon the borders of Judæa, where the arms of the enemies were aforetime, and set there a garrison of Jews: 34 and he fortified [f]Joppa which is upon the sea, and Gazara which is upon the borders of [g]Azotus, wherein the enemies dwelt aforetime, and placed Jews there, and set therein all things convenient for the reparation thereof: 35 and the people saw the [6]faith of Simon, and the glory which he thought to bring unto his nation, and they made him their leader and [h]high priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and the faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means to exalt his people: 36 and in his days things [i]prospered in his hands, [k]so that the Gentiles were taken away out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David, [l]they that were in Jerusalem, [m]who had made themselves a citadel, out of which they issued, and polluted all things round about the sanctuary, and did great hurt unto its purity; 37 and he placed Jews therein, [n]and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and [o]made high the walls of Jerusalem: 38 and king Demetrius [p]confirmed to him the high priesthood according to these things, 39 and made him one of his [q]Friends, and honoured him with great honour; 40 for he had heard say, that the Jews had been called by the Romans [r]friends and confederates and brethren, and that they had met the ambassadors of Simon honourably; 41 and that the Jews and the priests were well pleased that Simon should be their leader and high priest for ever, [s]until there should arise a faithful prophet; 42 and that he should be captain over them, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the arms, and over the strongholds; and that he should take charge of the sanctuary, 43 and that he should be obeyed by all, and that [7]all instruments in the country should be written in his name, and that [t]he should be clothed in purple, and wear gold; 44 and that it should not be lawful for any of the people or of the priests to set at nought any of these things, or to gainsay the words that he should speak, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear [u]a buckle of gold; 45 but whosoever should do otherwise, or set at nought any of these things, he should be liable to punishment. 46 All the people consented to ordain for Simon that he should do according to these words; 47 and Simon accepted hereof, and consented to be [v]high priest, and to be captain and [8]governor of the Jews and of the priests, and to be protector of all.

48 And they commanded to put this writing on [w]tables of brass, and to set them up within the precinct of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place; 49 and moreover to put the copies thereof [x]in the treasury, to the end that Simon and his sons might have them.

15 1 And Antiochus son of [y]Demetrius the king sent letters from [z]the isles of the sea unto Simon [a]the priest and [9]governor of the Jews, and to all the nation; 2 and the contents thereof were after this manner:

King Antiochus to Simon [a]the chief priest and [9]governor, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting: 3 Forasmuch as [y] certain pestilent fellows [z] have made themselves masters of the kingdom of our fathers, but my purpose is to claim the kingdom, that I may restore it as it was before; and moreover I have raised a multitude of foreign soldiers, and have prepared ships of war; 4 moreover I am minded to land in the country, that I may punish [a] them that have destroyed our country, and them that have made many cities in the kingdom desolate: 5 Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the exactions [b] which the kings that were before me remitted unto thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they remitted unto thee: 6 and I give thee leave to coin money for thy country with thine own stamp, 7 but [c] that Jerusalem and the sanctuary should be free: and all the arms that thou hast prepared, and [d] the strongholds that thou hast built, which thou hast in thy possession, let them remain unto thee: 8 and everything owing to the king, and the things that shall be owing to the king from henceforth and for evermore, let them be remitted unto thee: 9 moreover, when we shall have established our kingdom, we will glorify thee and thy nation and the temple with great glory, so that your glory shall be made manifest in all the earth.

10 In [1] the hundred and seventy and fourth year went Antiochus forth into the land of his fathers; and all the forces came together unto him, so that there were few men with [e] Tryphon. 11 And king Antiochus pursued him, and [2] he came, as he fled, unto [f] Dor, which is by the sea: 12 for he knew that troubles were come upon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him. 13 And Antiochus encamped against [f] Dor, and with him a hundred and twenty thousand men of war, and eight thousand horse. 14 And he compassed the city round about, and the ships joined in the attack from the sea; and he vexed the city by land and sea, [g] and suffered no man to go out or in.

15 And [h] Numenius and his company came from Rome, having letters [i] to the kings and to the countries, wherein were written these things:

16 Lucius, [j] consul of the Romans, unto [k] king Ptolemy, greeting: 17 The Jews' ambassadors came unto us as [l] our friends and confederates, to renew [m] the old friendship and confederacy, being sent from Simon [n] the high priest, and from the people of the Jews: 18 moreover they brought [o] a shield of gold of a thousand pound. 19 It pleased us therefore to write [p] unto the kings and unto the countries, that they should not seek their hurt, nor fight against them, and their cities, and their country, nor be confederates with such as fight against them. 20 Moreover it seemed good to us to receive the shield of them. 21 If therefore any [y] pestilent fellows have fled from their country unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may take vengeance on them according to their law.

22 And the same things wrote he to [o] Demetrius the king, and to Attalus, and to Arathes, and to [p] Arsaces, 23 and unto all the countries, and to [3] Sampsames, and to [q] the Spartans, and unto Delos, and unto Myndos, and unto Sicyon, and unto Caria, and unto [r] Samos, and unto [s] Pamphylia, and unto [t] Lycia, and unto Halicarnassus, and unto [u] Rhodes, and unto Phaselis, and unto [w] Cos, and unto Side, and unto Aradus, and Gortyna, and [v] Cnidus, and [w] Cyprus, and [x] Cyrene. 24 But the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

25 [y] But Antiochus the king encamped against [y] Dor the second day, bringing his forces up to it continually, and making engines of war, [z] and he shut up Tryphon from going in or out. 26 And Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to fight on his side; and silver, and gold, and instruments of war in abundance. 27 And he would not receive them, but set at nought [a] all the covenants which he had made with him aforetime, and was estranged from him. 28 And he sent unto him Athenobius, one of his [b] Friends, to commune with him, saying,

Ye hold possession of [c] Joppa and [d] Gazara, and [e] the citadel that is in Jerusalem, cities of my kingdom. 29 The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and [f] got the dominion of many places in my kingdom. 30 Now therefore deliver up the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof ye have gotten dominion without the borders of Judæa: 31 [g] or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that ye have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: or else we will come and subdue you.

32 And Athenobius the king's [b] Friend came to Jerusalem; and he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver vessels, and [h] his great attendance, and he was amazed; and he reported to him the king's words. 33 And Simon answered, and said unto him,

We have neither taken other men's land, nor have we possession of that which appertaineth to others, but of [i] the inheritance of our fathers; howbeit, it

16 1 And [p]John went up from [d]Gazara, and told Simon his father what [q]Cendebæus was doing. 2 And Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and [p]John, and said unto them, [r]I and my brethren and my father's house have fought the battles of Israel from our youth, even unto this day; [s]and things have prospered in our hands, that we should deliver Israel oftentimes. 3 But now I am old, and ye moreover, by his mercy, are of a sufficient age: be ye instead of me and [t]my brother, and go forth and fight for our nation; but let the help which is from heaven be with you. 4 And he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war and horsemen, and they went against [q]Cendebæus, and slept at [u]Modin. 5 And rising up in the morning, they went into the plain, and, behold, a great host came to meet them, of footmen and horsemen: and there was a brook betwixt them. 6 And he encamped over against them, he and his people: and he saw that the people were afraid to pass over the brook, and he passed over first, and the men saw him, and passed over after him. 7 And he divided the people, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: but the enemies' horsemen were exceeding many. 8 And [v]they sounded with the trumpets; and [q]Cendebæus and his army were put to the rout, [w]and there fell of them many wounded to death, but they that were left fled to the stronghold: 9 at that time was Judas John's brother wounded: but John pursued after them, till he came unto [x]Kidron, which Cendebæus had built; 10 and they fled unto the towers that are in the fields of [y]Azotus; and [z]he burned it with fire; and there fell of them about two thousand men. And he returned into Judæa in peace.

11 And Ptolemy the son of Abubus had been appointed captain for [a]the plain of Jericho, and [b]he had much silver and gold; 12 for he was the high priest's son in law. 13 And [c]his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to make away with them. 14 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to [d]Jericho, himself and Mattathias and Judas his sons, in [1]the hundred and seventy and seventh year, in the eleventh month, the same is the month [e]Sebat: 15 and the son of Abubus received them deceitfully into the little stronghold that is called Dok, which he had built, and made them a great banquet, and hid men there. 16 And when Simon and his sons [f]had drunk freely, Ptolemy and his men rose up, and took their arms, and came in upon Simon into the banqueting place, and slew him, and [g]his two sons, and certain of his servants. 17 And he committed a great iniquity, and recompensed evil for good. 18 And Ptolemy wrote these things, and sent to [h]the king, that he should send him forces to aid him, and should deliver him their country and the cities. 19 And he sent others to [i]Gazara to make away with John: and unto [j]the captains of thousands he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them [k]silver and gold and gifts. 20 And others he sent to take possession of Jerusalem, and the mount of the temple. 21 And one ran before to [i]Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were perished, and he hath sent to slay thee also. 22 And when he heard, he was sore amazed; and he laid hands on the men that came to destroy him, and slew them; for he perceived that they were seeking to destroy him.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

1 THE brethren, the Jews that are in Jerusalem and they that are in the country of Judæa, send greeting to the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, and wish them good peace: 2 and may God do good unto you, and [a] remember his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, his faithful servants; 3 and give you all a heart to worship him and do his [1] pleasure with a great heart and a willing soul; 4 and [b] open your heart in his law and in his statutes, and make peace, 5 and hearken to your supplications, and [c] be reconciled with you, and not forsake you in an evil time. 6 And now we here are praying for you. 7 In the reign of [d] Demetrius, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews have already written unto you in the tribulation and in the extremity that hath come upon us in these years, from the time that [e] Jason and his company revolted from [f] the holy land and the kingdom, 8 and set [g] the [2] gate on fire, and shed innocent blood: and we besought the Lord, and were heard; and [h] we offered sacrifice and meal offering, and we lighted the lamps, and we set forth the [3] shewbread. 9 And now see that ye keep the days of [i] the feast of tabernacles of the month [j] Chislev. 10 Written in the hundred fourscore and eighth year.

THEY that are in Jerusalem and they that are in Judæa and [k] the senate and Judas, unto Aristobulus, [l] king Ptolemy's teacher, who is also of the stock of the [m] anointed priests, and unto the Jews that are in Egypt, send greeting and health. 11 Having been saved by God out of great perils, as men arrayed against [n] a king, we thank him greatly. 12 For himself cast forth into [o] Persia them that arrayed themselves [4] against us in [p] the holy city. 13 [q] For when the prince was come there, and the army with him that seemed irresistible, they were cut to pieces in the temple of Nanæa by the treachery of Nanæa's priests. 14 For [s] Antiochus, on the pretence that he would marry her, came into the place, he and his [r] Friends that were with him, that they might take a great part of the treasures in name of a dowry. 15 And when the priests of Nanæa's temple had set [5] the treasures forth, and he was come there with a small company within the wall of the precincts, they shut to the temple when Antiochus was come in: 16 and opening the secret door of the panelled cieling, they threw stones and [6] struck down the prince, and they hewed [7] him and his company in pieces, and smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were without. 17 Blessed be our God in all things, who gave for a prey them that had committed impiety.

18 Whereas we are now about to keep [t] the purification of the temple in the month [j] Chislev, on the five and twentieth day, we thought it necessary to certify you thereof, that [u] ye also may keep [i] a feast of tabernacles, and a memorial of the fire which was given when Nehemiah offered sacrifices, after that he had builded both the temple and the altar. 19 For indeed when our fathers were about to be led into the land of Persia, [w] the godly priests of that time took of the fire of the altar, and hid it privily in the hollow of a well that was without water, wherein they made it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men. 20 Now after many years, when it pleased God, Nehemiah, [y] having received a charge from the king of Persia, sent in quest of the fire the descendants of the priests that hid it. When they declared to us that they had found no fire, but thick water, 21 he commanded them to draw out thereof and bring to him: and when [z] the sacrifices had been offered on the altar, Nehemiah commanded the priests [a] to sprinkle with the water both the wood and the things laid thereupon. 22 And when it was done, and some time had passed, and the sun shone out, which before was hid with clouds, there was kindled a great blaze, so that all men marvelled. 23 And the priests made a prayer while the sacrifice was consuming, both the priests and all others, [c] Jonathan leading and the rest answering, as Nehemiah did. 24 And the prayer was after this manner:

O Lord, Lord God, [y] the Creator of all things, who art terrible and strong and righteous and merciful, who alone art King and gracious, 25 who alone [a] supplest every need, who [a] alone art righteous and almighty and eternal, thou that savest Israel out of all evil, who madest the fathers thy chosen, and didst sanctify them: 26 accept the sacrifice for all thy people Israel, and guard [b] thine own portion, and consecrate it. 27 Gather together our [c] Dispersion, [d] set at liberty them that are in bondage among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and [e] let the heathen know that thou art our God. 28 Torment them that oppress us and in arrogancy shamefully entreat us. 29 Plant thy people in [f] thy holy place, even [g] as Moses said.

30 And thereupon the priests sang the hymns. 31 And as soon as the sacrifice was consumed, then Nehemiah commanded [1] to pour on great stones the water that was left. 32 And when this was done, a flame was kindled; [2] but when the light from the altar [3] shone over against it, all was consumed. 33 And when the matter became known, and it was told the king of the Persians, that, in the place where the priests that were led away had hid the fire, there appeared the water, wherewith also Nehemiah and they that were with him purified the sacrifice, 34 then the king, inclosing the place, made it sacred, after he had proved the matter. 35 And when the king would shew favour to any, he would take from them many presents and give them some of this water. 36 And Nehemiah and they that were with him called this thing Nephthar, which is by interpretation, Cleansing; but most men call it Nephthai.

2 1 It is also found in the records, that Jeremiah the prophet commanded them that were carried away to take of the fire, [h] as hath been signified above: 2 and how that the prophet charged them that were carried away, having given them the law, that they should not forget the statutes of the Lord, neither [i] be led astray in their minds, when they saw images of gold and silver, and the adornment thereof. 3 And with other such words exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their heart. 4 And it was contained in the writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should follow with him, [4] when he went forth into the mountain [j] where Moses went up and beheld the heritage of God. 5 And [k] Jeremiah came and found [5] a chamber in the rock, and there he brought in the tabernacle, and [l] the ark, and the altar of incense; and he made fast the door. 6 And some of those that followed with him came there that they might mark the way, and could not find it. 7 But when [k] Jeremiah perceived it, he blamed them, saying, Yea and the place shall be unknown [m] until God [6] gather the people again together, and mercy come: 8 and then shall the Lord disclose these things, and [n] the glory of the Lord shall be seen, [o] and the [7] cloud.

As also it was shewed with Moses; as also Solomon [p] besought that the place might be consecrated greatly, 9 and it was also declared that he, having wisdom, [q] offered a sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple; so we would have it now. 10 As Moses prayed unto the Lord, and fire came down out of heaven and consumed the sacrifice, even so prayed Solomon also, and [r] the fire came down and consumed the burnt offerings; 11 [s] and Moses said, Because the sin offering had not been eaten, it was consumed in like manner with the rest;) 12 and [t] Solomon kept the eight days.

13 And the same things were related [8] both in the public archives [u] and in [9] the records that concern Nehemiah; and how he, founding a library, gathered together the books about the kings and prophets, and the books of David, and letters of kings [v] about sacred gifts. 14 And in like manner Judas also gathered together for us all those writings that had been scattered by reason of the war that befell, and they are still with us. 15 If therefore ye have need thereof, send some to fetch them unto you.

16 Seeing then that we [w] are about to keep the purification, we write unto you; ye will therefore do well if ye keep the days. 17 Now God, who saved all his people, and restored the heritage to all, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and [x] the hallowing, 18 [y] even as he promised through the law,—in God have we hope, that he will quickly have mercy upon us, [z] and gather us together out of [10] all the earth into [a] the holy place: for he delivered us out of great evils, and [x] purified the place.

19 Now the things concerning [b] Judas Maccabæus and his brethren, and [a] the purification of the [1] great temple, and the dedication of the altar, 20 and further the wars against [c] Antiochus Epiphanes, and [d] Eupator his son, 21 and [e] the manifestations that came from heaven unto those that vied with one another in manful deeds for the religion of the Jews; so that, being but a few, they [2] rescued the whole country, and chased the barbarous multitudes, 22 and [f] recovered again the temple [g] renowned all the world over, and freed the city, and restored the laws which were like to be overthrown, seeing the Lord became [3] gracious unto them with all forbearance: 23 these things, I say, which have been declared by Jason of [h] Cyrene in five books, we will assay to abridge in one work. 24 For having in view the confused mass of the numbers, and the [4] difficulty which awaiteth them that would enter into the narratives of the history, by reason of the abundance of the matter, 25 we were careful that they who choose to read may be attracted, and that they who wish well to our cause may find it easy to recall [5] what we have written, and that all readers may have profit. 26 And although to us, who have taken upon us the painful labour of the abridgement, the task is not easy, but a matter of sweat and watching 27 (even as it is no light thing unto him [i] that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others); yet for the sake of the gratitude of the many we will gladly endure the painful labour, 28 leaving to the historian the exact handling of every particular, and again [6] having no strength to [7] fill in the outlines of our abridgement. 29 [j] For as the masterbuilder of a new house must care for the whole [8] structure, and again he that undertaketh to [9] decorate and paint it must seek out the things fit for the adorning thereof; even so I think it is also with us. 30 To occupy the ground, and to [10] indulge in long discussions, and to be curious in particulars, becometh the first author of the history: 31 but to strive after brevity of expression, and to avoid a laboured fulness in the treatment, is to be granted to him that would bring a writing into a new form. 32 [k] Here then let us begin the narration, only adding thus much to that which hath been already [11] said; for it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue to the history, and to abridge the history itself.

3 1 WHEN [l] the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of [m] Onias the high priest, and his hatred of wickedness, 2 it came to pass that even the kings themselves did honour the place, and glorify the temple with the noblest presents; 3 insomuch that even [n] Seleucus the king of Asia of his own revenues [o] bare all the costs belonging to the services of the sacrifices. 4 But one [p] Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, having been made guardian of the temple, fell out with the high priest about the [12] ruling of the market in the city. 5 And when he could not overcome [m] Onias, he gat him to [q] Apollonius the son of [13] Thrasæus, who at that time was governor of [r] Cœlesyria and Phœnicia: 6 and he brought him word how that [s] the treasury in Jerusalem was full of untold sums of money, so that the multitude of the funds was innumerable, and that they did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices, but that it was possible that these should fall under the king's power. 7 And when [q] Apollonius met the king, he informed him of the money whereof he had been told; and the king appointed Heliodorus, who was his chancellor, and sent him with a commandment to accomplish the removal of the aforesaid money. 8 So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of [r] Cœlesyria and Phœnicia, but in fact to execute the king's purpose. 9 And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received by the high priest [14] of the city, he laid before [15] them an account of the information which had been given him, and declared wherefore he was come; and he inquired if in truth these things were so. 10 And the high priest explained to him that there were in the treasury deposits [t] of widows and orphans, 11 and moreover some money belonging to Hyrcanus the son of Tobias, a man in very high place, [16] and that the case was not as that impious [p] Simon falsely alleged; and that in all there were four hundred talents of silver and two hundred of gold; 12 and that it was altogether impossible that wrong should be done unto them that had put trust in the holiness of the place, and in the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, [u] honoured over all the world. 13 But [17] Heliodorus, because of the king's commandments given him, said that in any case this money must be confiscated for the king's treasury.

14 So having appointed a day, he entered in to direct the inquiry concerning these matters; and there was no small distress throughout the whole city. 15 And the priests, prostrating themselves before the altar [v] in their priestly garments, and looking toward heaven, called upon him [w] that gave the law concerning deposits, that he should preserve these treasures safe for those that had deposited them. 16 And whosoever saw the mien of the high priest was wounded in mind; for his countenance and the change of his colour betrayed the distress of his soul. 17 For a terror and a shuddering of the body had come over the man, whereby the pain that was in his heart was plainly shewn [x] to them that looked upon him. 18 And they that were in the houses rushed flocking out to make a universal supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt. 19 And the women, [x] girt with sackcloth under their breasts, thronged the streets, and the virgins that were kept in ward ran together, some [y] to the [1] gates, others to the walls, and some looked out through the windows. 20 And all, [z] stretching forth their hands toward heaven, made their solemn supplication. 21 Then it would have pitied a man to see the multitude prostrating themselves all mingled together, and the expectation of the high priest in his sore distress.

22 While therefore they called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things intrusted to them [2] safe and sure for [a] those that had intrusted them, 23 Heliodorus went on to execute that which had been decreed. 24 But when he was already present there with his guards over against [b] the treasury, [c] the Sovereign of spirits and of all authority caused [d] a great [3] apparition, so that all that had presumed to come in with him, stricken with dismay at the power of God, fainted and were sore afraid. 25 For there was seen by them a horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with [e] beautiful trappings, and he rushed fiercely and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse had [e] complete armour of gold. 26 Two other also appeared unto him, young men notable in their strength, and beautiful in their glory, and splendid in their apparel, who stood by him on either side, and [f] scourged him unceasingly, inflicting on him many sore stripes. 27 And [g] when he had fallen suddenly unto the ground, and great darkness had come over him, his guards caught him up and put him [h] into a litter, 28 and carried him, [i] him that had just now entered with a great train and all his guard into [b] the aforesaid treasury, himself now brought to utter helplessness, manifestly made to recognise the sovereignty of God. 29 And so, while he, through the working of God, speechless and bereft of all hope and deliverance, lay prostrate, 30 they blessed the Lord, that made marvellous his own place; and the temple, which a little afore was full of terror and alarm, was filled with joy and gladness after the Almighty Lord appeared.

31 But quickly certain of Heliodorus's familiar friends besought [j] Onias [k] to call upon the Most High, and grant life to him who lay quite at the last gasp. 32 And the high priest, secretly [l] fearing lest the king might come to think that some treachery toward Heliodorus had been perpetrated by the Jews, brought a sacrifice for the deliverance of the man. 33 But as the high priest was making the propitiation, [m] the same young men appeared again to Heliodorus, arrayed in the same garments; and they stood and said, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, for [k] for his sake the Lord hath granted thee life; 34 and do thou, since thou hast been scourged from heaven, publish unto all men the sovereign majesty of God. And when they had spoken these words, they vanished out of sight. 35 So Heliodorus, having offered a sacrifice unto the Lord and vowed [4] great vows unto him that had saved his life, and having graciously received Onias, returned with his host to the king. 36 And he testified to all men the works of the [4] great God which he had beheld with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, what manner of man was fit to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, he said, 38 If thou hast any enemy or [n] conspirator against the state, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him back well scourged, if he even escape with his life; because of a truth there is about the place a power of God. 39 For he [o] that hath his dwelling in heaven himself hath his eyes upon that place, and helpeth it; and them that come to hurt it he smiteth and destroyeth.

40 And such was the history of Heliodorus and the keeping of [p] the treasury.

4 1 But [q] the aforesaid Simon, he who had given information of the money, and had betrayed his country, slandered Onias, [r] saying that it was he who had incited Heliodorus, and made himself the author of these evils. 2 And him that was [s] the benefactor of the city, and the guardian of his fellow-countrymen, and a zealot for the laws, he dared to call [t] a conspirator against the state. 3 But when the growing enmity between them waxed so great, that even murders were perpetrated through one of [5] [q] Simon's trusted followers,

4 Onias, seeing the [1]danger of the contention, and that [2]u Apollonius the son of Menestheus, the governor of Cœlesyria and Phœnicia, was increasing [q] Simon's malice, [5] betook himself to the king, [v] not to be an accuser of his fellow-citizens, but looking to the good of all the [3]people, both public and private; [6] for he saw that without the king's providence it was impossible for the state to obtain peace any more, and that Simon would not cease from his madness.

7 But when [w] Seleucus was deceased, and [x] Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes, succeeded to the kingdom, [y] Jason the brother of Onias supplanted his brother in the high priesthood, [8] having promised unto the king at an audience three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and out of another fund eighty talents; 9 and beside this, he undertook to assign a hundred and fifty more, if it might be allowed him [4] through the king's authority to set him up [z] a Greek place of exercise and form a body of youths to be trained therein, and to register the inhabitants of Jerusalem [a] as citizens of Antioch. 10 And when the king [b] had given assent, and he had gotten possession of the office, he forthwith brought over them of his own race to the Greek fashion. 11 And setting aside the royal ordinances of special favour to the Jews, granted by the means of John the father of [c] Eupolemus, who went on the ambassage to the Romans for friendship and alliance, and seeking to overthrow the lawful modes of life, he brought in new customs forbidden by the law: 12 for he eagerly established [z] a Greek place of exercise under [d] the citadel itself; and caused the noblest of the young men to wear the Greek cap. 13 And thus there was an extreme of Greek fashions, [e] and an advance of an alien religion, by reason of the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly man and no high priest; 14 so that the priests had no more any zeal for the services of the altar: but despising the sanctuary, and neglecting the sacrifices, they hastened to [5] enjoy that which was unlawfully provided in the palæstra, after the summons [6] of the discus; 15 making of no account the honours of their fathers, and thinking the glories of the Greeks best of all. 16 By reason whereof sore calamity beset them; and the men whose ways of living they earnestly followed, and unto whom they desired to be made like in all things, these they had to be their enemies and to punish them.

17 For it is not a light thing to do impiously against the laws of God: [f] but [7] these things the time following shall declare.

18 Now when certain games that came every fifth year were kept at [g] Tyre, and the king was present, 19 the vile Jason sent sacred envoys, [h] as being Antiochians of Jerusalem, bearing three hundred [i] drachmas of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought not right to use for any sacrifice, because it was not fit, but to [8] expend on another charge. 20 And though in the purpose of the sender this money was for the sacrifice of Hercules, yet on account of [9] present circumstances it went to the equipment of the galleys.

21 Now when [j] Apollonius the son of Menestheus was sent into Egypt for the [10] enthronement of [k] Ptolemy Philometor as king, Antiochus, learning that Ptolemy had shewn himself ill affected toward his state, took thought for the security of his realm; wherefore, going by sea to [l] Joppa, he travelled on to Jerusalem. 22 And being magnificently received by Jason and the city, he was brought in with torches and shoutings. This done, he afterward led his army down into Phœnicia.

23 Now after a space of three years Jason sent [m] Menelaus, [n] the aforesaid Simon's brother, to bear [o] the money unto the king, and to [11] make reports concerning some necessary matters. 24 But he being commended to the king, and [12] having glorified [13] himself [14] by the display of his authority, got the high priesthood for himself, [p] outbidding Jason by three hundred talents of silver. 25 And having received the royal mandates he came to Jerusalem, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the passion of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast. 26 And whereas Jason, [q] who had supplanted his own brother, was supplanted by another and driven as a fugitive into the country of the [r] Ammonites, 27 [m] Menelaus had possession of the office: but of the money that had been promised to the king nothing [15] was duly paid, and that though Sostratus the governor of [s] the citadel demanded it 28 (for unto him appertained the gathering of the revenues); for which cause they were both called by the king to his presence. 29 And Menelaus left his own brother [t] Lysimachus for his [16] deputy in the high priesthood; and Sostratus left Crates, who was over the [u] Cyprians.

things, it came to pass that they of [v]Tarsus and Mallus made insurrection, because they were to be given as a present to Antiochis, the king's concubine. 31 The king therefore came to [w]Cilicia in all haste to settle matters, leaving for his [1]deputy Andronicus, a man of high rank. 32 And Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a favourable opportunity, [x]presented to Andronicus certain vessels of gold belonging to the temple, which he had stolen: other vessels also he had already sold into [y]Tyre and the cities round about. 33 And when Onias had sure knowledge of this, he sharply reproved him, having withdrawn himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by [z]Antioch. 34 Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him [2]to kill Onias. And coming to Onias, and [3]being persuaded to use treachery, and being received as a friend, Andronicus gave him his right hand with oaths of fidelity, and, though he was suspected by him, so persuaded him to come forth of the sanctuary; and forthwith he [4]despatched him without regard of justice. 35 For the which cause not only Jews, but many also of the other nations, had indignation and displeasure at the unjust murder of the man. 36 And when the king was come back again [a]from the places in [w]Cilicia, the Jews that were [5]in the city pleaded before him against Andronicus (the Greeks also joining with them in hatred of the wickedness), urging that Onias had been wrongfully slain. 37 Antiochus therefore was heartily sorry, and was moved to pity, and wept, because of [b]the sober and well ordered life of him that was dead; 38 and being inflamed with passion, forthwith he stripped off Andronicus's [c]purple robe, and [6]rent off his under garments, and when he had led him round through the whole city unto that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there he put the murderer out of the way, the Lord [d]rendering to him the punishment he had deserved.

39 Now when many sacrileges had been committed in the city by [e]Lysimachus with the consent of Menelaus, and when the bruit thereof was spread abroad outside, the people gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, [f]after many vessels of gold had been already dispersed. 40 And when the multitudes were rising against him, and were filled with anger, [e]Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and with unrighteous violence began the conflict, one Hauran, a man far gone in years and no less also in madness, leading the attack. 41 But when they perceived the assault of [e]Lysimachus, some caught up stones, others logs of wood, and some took handfuls of the ashes that lay near, and they flung them all pell-mell upon [e]Lysimachus and them that were with him; 42 by reason of which they wounded many of them, and some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee, but the author of the sacrilege himself they killed beside [g]the treasury.

43 But touching these matters there was an accusation laid against Menelaus. 44 And when the king was come to [h]Tyre, the three men that were sent by [i]the senate pleaded the cause before him. 45 But Menelaus, seeing himself now defeated, promised much money to [j]Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, that he might win over the king. 46 Whereupon Ptolemy taking the king aside into a cloister, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another mind: 47 and him that was the cause of all the evil, Menelaus, he discharged from the accusations; but those hapless men, who, if they had pleaded even before [k]Scythians, would have been discharged uncondemned, them he sentenced to death. 48 Soon then did they that were [l]spokesmen for the city and the families of Israel and the holy vessels suffer that unrighteous penalty. 49 For which cause even certain Tyrians, moved with hatred of the wickedness, provided magnificently for their burial. 50 But [m]Menelaus through the covetous dealings of them that were in power [m]remained still in his office, [7]cleaving to wickedness, [8]as [n]a great conspirator against his fellow-citizens.

5 [1]Now about this time Antiochus made his [o]second inroad into Egypt. 2 And it so befell that throughout all the city, for the space of almost forty days, there appeared [p]in the midst of the sky horsemen in swift motion, wearing robes inwrought with gold and carrying spears, equipped in troops for battle; 3 and drawing of swords; and on the other side squadrons of horse in array; and encounters and [9]pursuits of both armies; and shaking of shields, and multitudes of lances, and casting of darts, [q]and flashing of golden trappings, and girding on of all sorts of armour. 4 Wherefore all men besought that [r]the [10]vision might have been given for good.

5 But when a false rumour had arisen that Antiochus was deceased, [s]Jason took not less than a thousand men, and suddenly [11]made an assault upon the city; and they that were upon the wall being routed, and the city being now at length well nigh taken, [t]Menelaus took refuge in [u]the citadel. 6 But [s]Jason slaughtered his own citizens without mercy, not considering that good success against kinsmen is the greatest ill success, but supposing himself to be setting up trophies over enemies, and not over fellow-countrymen. 7 The office however he did not get, but, receiving shame as the end of his conspiracy, he passed [v] again a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites. 8 At the last therefore he met with a miserable end: having been [1] shut up at the court of [w] Aretas the prince of the [x] Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated [y] as an apostate from the laws, and held in abomination as the butcher of his country and his fellow-citizens, he was cast forth into Egypt; 9 and he that had driven many from their own country into strange lands perished himself in a strange land, having crossed the sea to [z] the Lacedæmonians, as thinking to find shelter there because they were [a] near of kin; 10 and he that had cast out a multitude unburied [b] had none to mourn for him, nor had he any funeral at all, or place in the sepulchre of his fathers.

11 Now when tidings came to the king concerning that which was done, he thought that Judæa was in revolt; whereupon setting out [c] from Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms, 12 and [d] commanded his soldiers to cut down without mercy such as came in their way, and to slay such as went up upon the houses; 13 and there was [e] killing of young and old, making away of boys, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants. 14 And in all the three days of the slaughter there were destroyed fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in close combat, and no fewer were sold than slain. 15 But not content with this [f] he presumed to enter into [g] the most holy temple of all the earth, having Menelaus for his guide (him that had proved himself [h] a traitor both to the laws and to his country), 16 even [f] taking the sacred vessels with his polluted hands, and dragging down with his profane hands [i] the offerings that had been dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory and honour of the place. 17 And Antiochus [j] was lifted up in mind, not seeing that because of the sins of them that dwelt in the city [k] the Sovereign Lord had been provoked to anger [l] a little while, and therefore his eye was then [m] turned away from the place. 18 But had it not so been that they were already holden by many sins, this man, even [n] as Heliodorus who was sent by [o] Seleucus the king to view [p] the treasury, would, so soon as he pressed forward, have been scourged and turned back from his daring deed. 19 Howbeit the Lord did not choose the nation for the place's sake, [q] but the place for the nation's sake. 20 Wherefore also the place itself, having partaken in the calamities that befell the nation, did afterward share in its benefits; [r] and the place which was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty was, at [s] the reconciliation of [k] the great Sovereign, restored again with all glory.

21 As for Antiochus, when [t] he had carried away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste unto [u] Antioch, weening in his arrogancy to make the land navigable and the sea passable by foot, because [j] his heart was lifted up. 22 And moreover [v] he left governors to afflict the race: at Jerusalem, [w] Philip, by race a Phrygian, and in character more barbarous than him that set him there; 23 and at [x] Gerizim, Andronicus; and besides these, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest exalted himself against his fellow-citizens. And having a malicious mind [2] toward the Jews [y] whom he had made his citizens, 24 [z] he sent that [3] lord of pollutions [a] Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were of full age, and to sell the women and the younger men. 25 And he coming to Jerusalem, and playing the man of peace, waited till the holy day of the sabbath, and finding the Jews at rest from work, he commanded his men to parade in arms. 26 And he put to the sword all them that came forth to the spectacle; and running into the city with the armed men he slew great multitudes. 27 But Judas, [b] who is also called Maccabæus, with nine others or thereabout, withdrew himself, and with his company kept himself alive [c] in the mountains after the manner of wild beasts; and they continued feeding on [4] such poor herbs as grew there, that they might not be partakers of the threatened pollution.

6 1 And not long after this the king sent forth [5] an old man of [d] Athens to compel the Jews [e] to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God; 2 [f] and also to pollute the sanctuary in Jerusalem, and to call it by the name of [6] Jupiter Olympius, and to call the sanctuary in [g] Gerizim by the name of [6] Jupiter the Protector of strangers, even as they [7] were that dwelt in the place. 3 But sore and utterly grievous was the visitation of this evil. 4 [h] For the temple was filled with riot and revellings by the heathen, who [8] dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the sacred precincts, and moreover brought inside things that were not befitting; 5 [i] and [9] the place of sacrifice was filled with those abominable things which had been prohibited by the laws. 6 [j] And a man could neither keep the sabbath, nor observe the feasts of the fathers, nor [k] so much as confess himself to be a Jew. 7 And on the day of the king's birth every month they were led along with bitter constraint [l] to eat of the sacrifices; and when the [1] feast of [m] Bacchus came, they were compelled to go in procession in honour of [2 m] Bacchus, wearing wreaths of ivy. 8 And there went out a decree [n] to the neighbouring Greek cities, by the suggestion of [o] Ptolemy, that they should observe the same conduct against the Jews, and should make them eat of the sacrifices; 9 and that they should [p] slay such as did not choose to go over to [q] the Greek rites. So the present misery was for all to see: 10 [r] for two women were brought up for having circumcised their children; and these, when they had led them publicly round about the city, with the babes hung from their breasts, they cast down headlong from the wall. 11 And others, [s] that had run together into the caves near by to keep the seventh day secretly, being betrayed to [t] Philip were all burnt together, [u] because they scrupled to defend themselves, from regard to the honour of that most solemn day.

12 I beseech therefore those that read this book, that they be not discouraged because of the calamities, but account that these punishments were not for the destruction, [v] but for the chastening of our race. 13 For indeed that those who act impiously be not let alone any long time, but straightway meet with retribution, is a sign of great beneficence. 14 For in the case of the other nations [w] the Sovereign Lord doth with long-suffering forbear, until that he punish them when [x] they have attained unto the full measure of their sins; but not so judged he as touching us, 15 that he may not take vengeance on us afterward, [3] when we be come unto the [4] height of our sins. 16 Wherefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us; but [y] though he chasteneth with calamity, yet doth he not forsake his own people. 17 Howbeit let this that we have spoken suffice to put you in remembrance; [z] but after these few words we must come to the narrative.

18 Eleazar, one of the principal scribes, a man already well stricken in years, and of a noble countenance, was compelled to open his mouth [a] to eat swine's flesh. 19 But he, [b] welcoming death with renown rather than life with pollution, advanced of his own accord to the instrument of torture, but first spat forth the flesh, 20 coming forward as men ought to come that are resolute to repel such things as not even for the natural love of life is it lawful to taste. 21 But they that had the charge of that forbidden [c] sacrificial feast took the man aside, for the acquaintance which of old times they had with him, and privately besought him to bring flesh of his own providing, such as was befitting for him to use, and to make as if he did eat of the flesh from the sacrifice, as had been commanded by the king; 22 that by so doing he might be delivered from death, and for his ancient friendship with them [d] might be treated kindly. 23 But he, having formed a high resolve, and one that became his years, and the dignity of old age, and [e] the gray hairs [5] which he had reached with honour, and his excellent [6] education from a child, [7] or rather that became the holy [8] laws of God's ordaining, declared his mind accordingly, bidding them quickly send him unto Hades. 24 For it becometh not our years to dissemble, said he, that through this many of the young should suppose that Eleazar, the man of fourscore years and ten, had gone over unto [f] an alien religion; 25 and so they, by reason of my dissimulation, and for the sake of this brief and momentary life, should be led astray because of me, [9] and thus I get to myself a pollution and a stain of mine old age. 26 For even if for the present time I shall remove from me the punishment of men, yet shall I [g] not escape the hands of the Almighty, either living or dead. 27 Wherefore, by manfully parting with my life now, I will shew myself worthy of mine old age, 28 and [10] leave behind [h] a noble ensample to the young to die willingly and nobly a glorious death for the reverend and holy laws. And when he had said these words, he went straightway to the instrument of torture. 29 [11] And when they changed the good will they bare him a little before into ill will, because [12] these words of his were, as they thought, [i] sheer madness, 30 and when he was at the point to die [j] with the [13] stripes, he groaned aloud and said, To the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, it is manifest that, [k] whereas I might have been delivered from death, I endure sore pains in my body [l] by being scourged; but in soul I gladly suffer these things for my fear of him. 31 So this man also died after this manner, [l] leaving his death for an ensample of nobleness and a memorial of virtue, not only to the young but also to the great body of his nation.

7 1 And it came to pass that seven brethren also with their mother were at the king's command taken and shamefully handled with scourges and cords, to compel them to taste of [m] the abominable swine's flesh. 2 But one of them made himself [n] the spokesman and said, What wouldest thou ask and learn of us? [o] for we are ready to die rather than transgress the laws of our fathers.

3 [p] And the king fell into a rage, and commanded to heat pans and caldrons:
4 and when these forthwith were heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had been their spokesman, and to scalp him, and to cut off his extremities, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on. 5 And when he was utterly [1] maimed, the king commanded to bring him to the fire, being yet alive, and to fry him in the pan. And as the vapour of the pan spread far, they and their mother also exhorted one another to die nobly, saying thus: 6 The Lord God beholdeth, and in truth is [2] intreated for us, as Moses declared in [q] his song, which witnesseth against the people to their faces, saying, And he shall be [2] intreated for his servants.
7 And when the first had died after this manner, they brought the second to [r] the mocking; and they pulled off the skin of his head with the hair and asked him, Wilt thou eat, before thy body be punished in every limb? 8 But he answered [s] in the language of his fathers and said to them, No. Wherefore he also underwent the next torture in succession, as the first had done. 9 And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou, miscreant, dost release us out of this present life, but the King of the world [t] shall raise up us, who have died for his laws, unto an eternal renewal of life.
10 And after him was the third made a mockingstock. And when he was required, he quickly put out his tongue, and stretched forth his hands courageously, 11 and nobly said, From heaven I possess these; and for his laws' sake I contemn these; and from him I hope [t] to receive these back again: 12 insomuch that the king himself and they that were with him were astonished at the young man's soul, for that he nothing regarded the pains.
13 And when he too was dead, they shamefully handled and tortured the fourth in like manner. 14 And being come near unto death he said thus: It is good to die at the hands of men and look for the hopes which are given by God, [t] that we shall be raised up again by him; for as for thee, [u] thou shalt have no resurrection unto life.
15 And next after him they brought the fifth, and shamefully handled him.
16 But he looked toward [3] the king and said, Because thou hast authority among men, though thou art thyself corruptible, thou doest what thou wilt; yet think not that our race hath been forsaken of God; 17 but hold thou on thy way, and behold his sovereign majesty, [v] how it will torture thee and thy seed.
18 And after him they brought the sixth. And when he was at the point to die he said, Be not vainly deceived, [w] for we suffer these things for our own doings, as sinning against our own God: marvellous things are come to pass;
19 but think not thou [v] that thou shalt be unpunished, having assayed [x] to fight against God.
20 But above all was the mother marvellous and worthy of honourable memory; for when she looked on seven sons perishing within the space of one day, she bare the sight with a good courage for the hopes that she had set on the Lord. 21 And she exhorted each one of them [s] in the language of their fathers, filled with a noble temper and stirring up her womanish thought with manly passion, saying unto them, 22 [y] I know not how ye came into my womb, neither was it I that bestowed on you your [4] spirit and your life, and it was not I that brought into order the first elements of each one of you. 23 Therefore [z] the Creator of the world, who fashioned the [5] generation of man and devised the [5] generation of all things, in mercy [a] giveth back to you again both your [4] spirit and your life, as ye now contemn your own selves for his laws' sake.
24 But Antiochus, thinking himself to be despised, [b] and suspecting the reproachful voice, whilst the youngest was yet alive did not only make his appeal to him by words, but also at the same time promised with oaths that [c] he would enrich him and [6] raise him to high estate, if he would turn from the customs of his fathers, and that he would take him for his [d] Friend and intrust him with affairs.
25 But when the young man would in no wise give heed, the king called unto him his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the lad to save himself.
26 And when he had exhorted her with many words, she undertook to persuade her son. 27 But bending toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, she spake thus [s] in the language of her fathers: My son, have pity upon me that carried thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished and brought thee up unto this age, and sustained thee. 28 I beseech thee, my child, to lift thine eyes unto the heaven and the earth, and to see all things that are therein, and thus to recognise that God [e] made them not of things that were, and that the race of men in this wise cometh into being.
29 Fear not this butcher, but, proving thyself worthy of thy brethren, accept thy death, that in the mercy of God [f] I may receive thee again with thy brethren.

30 But before she had yet ended speaking, the young man said, Whom wait ye for? I obey not the commandment of the king, but I hearken to the commandment of the law that was given to our fathers through Moses. 31 But thou, that hast devised all manner of evil against [g] the Hebrews, [h] shalt in no wise escape the hands of God. 32 [i] For we are suffering because of our own sins; 33 and if for rebuke and chastening our living Lord hath been angered [j] a little while, yet shall he again be [k] reconciled with his own servants. 34 But thou, O unholy man and of all most vile, [l] be not vainly lifted up in thy wild pride with uncertain hopes, raising thy hand against the heavenly children; 35 [h] for not yet hast thou escaped the judgement of the Almighty God [m] that seeth all things. 36 For these our brethren, [n] having endured a [1] short pain that bringeth everlasting life, have now [2] died under God's covenant; but thou, through the judgement of God, [o] shalt receive in just measure the penalties of thine arrogancy. 37 But I, as my brethren, give up both body and soul for the laws of our fathers, calling upon God that he may speedily become [3] gracious to the nation; and that thou amidst trials and plagues [p] mayest confess that he alone is God; 38 and that in me and my brethren [4] thou mayest stay the wrath of the Almighty, [q] which hath been justly brought upon our whole race. 39 [r] But the king, falling into a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, being exasperated at his mocking. 40 So he also died pure from pollution, putting his whole trust in the Lord.

41 And last of all after her sons the mother died.

42 Let it then suffice to have said thus much concerning the enforcement of sacrificial feasts and the king's exceeding barbarities.

8 1 [s] But [t] Judas, who is also called Maccabæus, and they that were with him, making their way privily into the villages, called unto them their kinsfolk; and taking unto them such as had continued in the Jews' religion, gathered together as many as six thousand. 2 And they called upon the Lord, beseeching him to look upon the people that was oppressed by all; and to have compassion on [u] the sanctuary also that had been profaned by the ungodly men; 3 and to have pity on the city also that was suffering ruin and ready to be made even with the ground; and to hearken to the blood [v] that cried unto him; 4 and to remember also [w] the lawless [5] slaughter of the innocent infants, and [6] the blasphemies that had been committed against his name; and to shew his hatred of wickedness. 5 And when Maccabæus had trained his men for service, the heathen at once found him irresistible, [x] for that the wrath of the Lord was turned into pity. 6 [7] And coming unawares [y] he set fire to cities and villages. And in winning back the most important positions, putting to flight no small number of the enemies, 7 he specially [z] took advantage of the nights for such assaults. And his courage was loudly talked of everywhere.

8 But when [a] Philip saw the man gaining ground by little and little, and increasing more and more in his prosperity, he wrote unto [b] Ptolemy, the governor of Cœlesyria and Phœnicia, that he should support the king's cause. 9 And Ptolemy quickly appointed [c] Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of the king's [d] Chief Friends, and sent him, in command of no fewer than [e] twenty thousand of all nations, to destroy the whole race of Judæa; and with him he joined [f] Gorgias also, a captain and one that had experience in matters of war. 10 And [c] Nicanor [8] [g] undertook by the sale of the captive Jews to make up for the king the tribute of two thousand talents which he was to pay to the Romans. 11 And immediately he sent unto the cities upon the sea coast, [h] inviting them to buy Jewish [9] slaves, promising to allow fourscore and ten [9] slaves for a talent, not expecting the judgement that was to follow upon him from the Almighty.

12 But tidings came to Judas [i] concerning the inroad of [c] Nicanor; and when he communicated to them that were with him the presence of the army, 13 [j] they that were cowardly and distrustful of the judgement of God [10] ran away and left the country. 14 And others sold all that was left over to them, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them that had been sold as slaves by the impious [c] Nicanor or ever he met them; 15 and this, if not for their own sakes, yet for the [k] covenants made with their fathers, and because [l] he had called them by his reverend and glorious name. 16 And Maccabæus gathered his men together, six thousand in number, [m] and exhorted them not to be stricken with dismay at the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen who came wrongfully against them; but to contend nobly, 17 setting before their eyes the outrage that had been lawlessly perpetrated upon [n] the holy place, and the shameful handling of the city that had been turned to mockery, and further the overthrow of the mode of life received from their ancestors. [18] [o] For they, said he, trust to arms, and withal to deeds of daring; but [p] we trust on the Almighty God, since he is able at a beck to cast down them that are coming against us, and even the whole world. [19] And moreover he recounted unto them the help given from time to time in the days of their ancestors, both [q] the help given in the days of Sennacherib, how that a hundred fourscore and five thousand perished, [20] and the help given in the land of Babylon, even the battle that was fought against [r] the [1] Gauls, how that they came to the engagement eight thousand in all, with four thousand Macedonians, and how that, the Macedonians being hard pressed, the [2] six thousand destroyed the hundred and twenty thousand, because of the succour which they had from heaven, and took great booty. [21] And when he had with these words made them of good courage, and ready to die [s] for the laws and their country, he divided his army into four parts; [22] [3] appointing his brethren to be with himself leaders of the several bands, to wit, [t] Simon and [u] Joseph and [v] Jonathan, giving each the command of fifteen hundred men, [23] and moreover [v] Eleazar also: then, having read aloud the sacred book, and [w] having given as watchword, THE HELP OF GOD, leading the first band himself, [x] he joined battle with Nicanor. [24] And, since the Almighty fought on their side, they slew of the enemy above nine thousand, and wounded and [4] disabled the more part of Nicanor's army, and compelled all to flee; [25] and they took the money of [y] those that had come there to buy them. And after they had pursued them for some [5] distance, they returned, being constrained by the time of the day; [26] for it was the day before the sabbath, and for this cause they made no effort to chase them far. [27] [6] And [z] when they had gathered [7] the arms of the enemy together, and had stripped off [a] their spoils, [b] they occupied themselves about the sabbath, blessing and thanking the Lord exceedingly, who had saved them unto this day, for that he had caused a beginning of mercy to distil upon them. [28] And after the sabbath, when they had given of [c] the spoils to the [8] maimed, and to [c] the widows and orphans, the residue they distributed among themselves and their children. [29] And when they had accomplished these things, and had made a common supplication, they besought [d] the merciful Lord to be wholly [e] reconciled with his servants.

[30] And having had an encounter with the forces of [f] Timotheus and [g] Bacchides, they killed above twenty thousand of them, and made themselves masters of strongholds exceeding high, and divided very much plunder, giving the [8] maimed and [9] orphans and widows, and moreover the aged also, an equal share with themselves. [31] [6] And [z] when they had gathered the arms [9] of the enemy together, they stored them all up carefully in the most important positions, and the residue of the spoils they carried to Jerusalem. [32] And they killed the [10] phylarch of Timotheus's forces, a most unholy man, and one who had done the Jews much hurt. [33] [11] And as they kept the feast of victory in the [12] city of their fathers, they burned those that had [h] set the sacred [13] gates on fire, and among them Callisthenes, who had fled into [14] an outhouse; and so they received [i] the meet reward of their impiety.

[34] And [j] the thrice-accursed Nicanor, who had brought the thousand merchants [k] to buy the Jews for slaves, [35] being [l] through the help of the Lord humbled by them who in his eyes were held to be of least account, put off his glorious apparel, and passing through the midland, [15] shunning all company like a fugitive slave, arrived at [m] Antioch, [16] having, as he thought, had the greatest possible good fortune, though his host was destroyed. [36] And he that had taken upon him [n] to make tribute sure for the Romans by the captivity of the men of Jerusalem [o] published abroad that the Jews had One who fought for them, and that [17] because this was so the Jews were invulnerable, because they followed the laws ordained by him.

9 [1] Now about that time [p] it befell that Antiochus had returned [18] in disorder from the region of Persia. [2] [q] For he had entered into the city called Persepolis, and he assayed to rob [19] a temple and to hold down the city. Whereupon there was an onset of the multitudes, and [20] Antiochus and his men turned to make defence with arms; and it came to pass that Antiochus was put to flight by the people of the country and broke up his camp with disgrace. [3] And while he was at [r] Ecbatana, [s] news was brought him what had happened unto [t] Nicanor and the forces of Timotheus. 4 And being lifted up [1] by his passion he thought to make the Jews suffer even for the evil-doing of those that had put him to rout. Wherefore, the judgement from heaven even now accompanying him, he gave order to his charioteer to drive without ceasing and despatch the journey; for thus he arrogantly spake: I will make Jerusalem a common graveyard of Jews, when I come there. 5 But the All-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, smote him with a [2] fatal and invisible stroke; and as soon as he had ceased speaking this word, an incurable pain of the bowels seized him, and bitter torments of the inner parts; 6 and that most justly, for he had tormented other men's bowels with many and strange sufferings. 7 But he in no wise ceased from his rude insolence; nay, still more was he filled with arrogancy, breathing fire in his passion against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey. But it came to pass moreover that he fell from his chariot as it rushed along, and having a grievous fall was racked in all the members of his body. 8 And he that but now supposed himself to have the waves of the sea at his bidding, so vainglorious was he beyond the condition of a man, and that thought to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, was now brought to the ground and carried in a litter, [3] shewing unto all that the power was manifestly God's; 9 so that out of the body of the impious man worms swarmed, and while he was still living in anguish and pains, his flesh fell off, and by reason of the stench all the army turned with loathing from his corruption. 10 And the man that a little afore supposed himself to touch the stars of heaven, no one could endure to carry for his intolerable stench. 11 Hereupon therefore he began in great part to cease from his arrogancy, being broken in spirit, and to come to knowledge under the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment. 12 And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words: It is right to be subject unto God, and that one who is mortal should not [4] be minded arrogantly. 13 And the vile man vowed unto the Sovereign Lord, who now no more would have pity upon him, saying on this wise: 14 that the holy city, to the which he was going in haste, to lay it even with the ground and to [5] make it a common graveyard, he would declare free; 15 and as touching the Jews, whom he had decided not even to count worthy of burial, but to cast them out to the beasts with their infants, for the birds to devour, he would make them all equal to citizens of Athens; 16 and the holy sanctuary, which before he had spoiled, he would adorn with goodliest offerings, and would restore all the sacred vessels many times multiplied, and out of his own revenues would defray the charges that were required for the sacrifices; 17 and, beside all this, that he would become a Jew, and would visit every inhabited place, publishing abroad the might of God. 18 But when his sufferings did in no wise cease, for the judgement of God had come upon him in righteousness, having given up all hope of himself, he wrote unto the Jews the letter written below, having the nature of a supplication, to this effect:

19 To the worthy Jews, his fellow-citizens, Antiochus, king and general, wisheth much joy and health and prosperity. 20 [6] May ye and your children fare well; and your affairs shall be to your mind. Having my hope in heaven, 21 I remembered with affection your honour and good will toward me. Returning out of the region of Persia, and being taken with a noisome sickness, I deemed it necessary to take thought for the common safety of all, 22 not despairing of myself, but having great hope to escape from the sickness. 23 But considering that my father also, at what time he led an army into the upper country, appointed his successor, 24 to the end that, if anything fell out contrary to expectation, or if any unwelcome tidings were brought, they that remained in the country, knowing to whom the state had been left, might not be troubled; 25 and, beside all this, observing how that the princes that are borderers and neighbours unto my kingdom watch opportunities, and look for the future event, I have appointed my son Antiochus to be king, whom I often committed and commended to most of you, when I was hastening unto the upper provinces; and I have written to him what is written below. 26 I exhort you therefore and beseech you, having in your remembrance the benefits done to you in common and severally, to preserve each of you your present good will toward me and my son. 27 For I am persuaded that he in gentleness and kindness will follow my purpose and treat you with indulgence.

28 So the murderer and blasphemer, having endured the sorest sufferings, even as he had dealt with other men, ended his life among the mountains by a most piteous fate in a strange land. 29 And Philip his foster-brother conveyed the body home; and then, fearing the son of Antiochus, he betook himself to Ptolemy Philometor in Egypt.

[1] Or, in his spirit [2] Gr. remediless. [3] Or, shewing manifestly unto all the power of God [4] Some authorities read be minded as if equal to God. [5] Gr. build. [6] Or, Ye fare well, and your children; and your affairs are to your mind. The Greek text in verses 20 and 21 is uncertain.

10 1 And Maccabæus and they that were with him, the Lord leading them on, [y] recovered the temple and the city; 2 and they pulled down [z] the altars that had been built in the marketplace by the aliens, and also the walls of sacred inclosures. 3 And [a] having cleansed the sanctuary [b] they made another altar of sacrifice; and [1] striking stones and taking fire out of them, they offered sacrifices, after they had ceased for two years, [c] and burned incense, and lighted lamps, and set forth the shewbread. 4 And when they had done these things, [d] they fell prostrate and besought the Lord that they might fall no more into such evils; but that, if ever they should sin, [e] they might be chastened by him with forbearance, and not be delivered unto blaspheming and barbarous heathen. 5 Now on the same day that the sanctuary was profaned by aliens, upon that very day did it come to pass that the cleansing of the sanctuary was made, even on the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is [f] Chislev. 6 [g] And they kept eight days with gladness in the manner of the feast of tabernacles, remembering how that [2] not long afore, during the feast of tabernacles, they were wandering in the mountains and in the caves after the manner of wild beasts. 7 Wherefore bearing wands wreathed with leaves, [h] and fair boughs, and [i] palms also, [j] they offered up hymns of thanksgiving to him that had prosperously brought to pass the cleansing of his own place. 8 They ordained also with a common statute and decree, for all the nation of the Jews, that they should keep these days every year.

9 [k] And [3] such was the end of [l] Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes. 10 But now will we declare what came to pass under Antiochus named [4] [m] Eupator, who proved himself a true son of that ungodly man, and will gather up briefly the [5] successive evils of the wars. 11 For this man, when he succeeded to the kingdom, appointed one [n] Lysias to be chancellor, and supreme governor of Cœlesyria and Phœnicia. 12 For [o] Ptolemy that was called Macron, setting an example of observing justice toward the Jews because of the wrong that had been done unto them, endeavoured to [6] conduct his dealings with them on peaceful terms. 13 Whereupon being accused by the king's [p] Friends before [m] Eupator, and hearing himself called traitor at every turn, because he had abandoned [q] Cyprus which [r] Philometer had intrusted to him, and had withdrawn himself unto [t] Antiochus called Epiphanes, and [7] failing to uphold the honour of his office, he took poison and made away with himself.

14 But [s] Gorgias, when he was made governor of the district, maintained a force of mercenaries, and at every turn kept up war with the Jews. 15 And together with him [t] the Idumæans also, being masters of important strongholds, harassed the Jews; and receiving unto them those that had taken refuge there from Jerusalem, they assayed to keep up war. 16 But Maccabæus and his men, having made solemn supplication and besought God to fight on their side, rushed upon the strongholds of the Idumæans; 17 and assaulting them vigorously they made themselves masters of the positions, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew those that fell in their way, and killed no fewer than twenty thousand. 18 And because no less than nine thousand were fled into two towers exceeding strong and having all things needed for a siege, 19 Maccabæus, having left [u] Simon and [u] Joseph, and Zacchæus besides and them that were with him, a force sufficient to besiege them, departed himself unto places where he was most needed. 20 But Simon and they that were with him, yielding to covetousness, were bribed by certain of those that were in the towers, and received seventy thousand [v] drachmas let some of them slip away. 21 But when word was brought to Maccabæus of what was done, he gathered the leaders of the people together, and accused those men of having sold their brethren for money, by setting their enemies free to fight against them. 22 So he slew these men for having turned traitors, and forthwith took possession of the two towers. 23 And [w] prospering with his arms in all things he took in hand, he destroyed in the two strongholds [x] more than twenty thousand.

24 [y] Now [z] Timotheus, who had been before defeated by the Jews, having gathered together foreign forces in great multitudes, and having collected the [8] horsemen which belonged to Asia, not a few, came as though he would take Judæa by force of arms. 25 But as he drew near, Maccabæus and his men [a] sprinkled earth upon their heads and [b] girded their loins with sackcloth, in supplication to God, 26 and falling down upon the step in front of the altar, besought him to become [9] gracious to them, and [c] be an enemy to their enemies and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth. 27 And rising from their prayer they took up their arms, and advanced some distance from the city; and when they had come near to their enemies they [10] halted. 28 And when the dawn was now spreading, the two armies joined battle; the one part having this, beside their virtue, for a pledge of success and victory, that they had fled unto the Lord for [d]refuge, the others making their passion their leader in the strife. 29 But when the battle waxed strong, [e]there appeared out of heaven unto their adversaries five men on horses with bridles of gold, in splendid array; [1]and two of them, [f]leading on the Jews, 30 and taking Maccabæus in the midst of them, and covering him with their own armour, guarded him from wounds, while on the adversaries they shot forth arrows and thunderbolts; by reason whereof they were blinded and thrown into confusion, and were cut to pieces, filled with bewilderment. 31 And there were slain twenty thousand and five hundred, beside six hundred horsemen.

32 But Timotheus himself fled into a stronghold called [g]Gazara, a fortress of exceeding strength, [h]Chæreas being in command there. 33 But Maccabæus and his men were glad and laid siege to the fortress four and twenty days. 34 And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and hurled forth impious words. 35 But at dawn of the five and twentieth day certain young men of the company of Maccabæus, inflamed with passion because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall with masculine force and with [2]furious passion, and cut down whosoever came in their way. 36 And others climbing up in like manner, while the besieged were distracted with them that had made their way within, set fire to the towers, and kindling fires [i]burned the blasphemers alive; while others broke open the gates, and, having given entrance to the rest of the band, occupied the city. 37 And they slew [j]Timotheus, who was hidden in a cistern, and his brother Chæreas, and Apollophanes. 38 And when they had accomplished these things, [k]they blessed the Lord [l]with hymns and thanksgivings, him who doeth great benefits unto Israel, and giveth them the victory.

II [1]Now after a very little time [m]Lysias, the king's guardian and kinsman and chancellor, being sore displeased for the things that had come to pass, 2 [n]collected about fourscore thousand footmen and all his horsemen and came against the Jews, thinking to make the city [o]a place for Greeks to dwell in, 3 and to levy tribute on the temple, as [3]on the other sacred places of the nations, and [p]to put up the high priesthood to sale every year; 4 holding in no account the might of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and his fourscore elephants. 5 And coming into Judæa and drawing near to [q]Bethsuron, which was a strong place and distant from Jerusalem about [4]five leagues, he pressed it hard. 6 But when Maccabæus and his men learned that he was besieging the strongholds, they and all the people with lamentations and tears made supplication unto the Lord [r]to send a good angel to save Israel. 7 And Maccabæus himself took up arms first, and exhorted the others to jeopard themselves together with him and succour their brethren; and they sallied forth with him right willingly. 8 And as they were there, close to Jerusalem, there appeared [s]at their head one on horseback in white apparel, brandishing [5]weapons of gold. 9 And they all together praised [t]the merciful God, and were yet more strengthened in heart: being ready to [6]assail not men only but the wildest beasts, and walls of iron, 10 they advanced in array, having him that is in heaven to fight on their side, for the Lord had mercy on them. 11 And hurling themselves [u]like lions upon the enemy, [v]they slew of them eleven thousand footmen and sixteen hundred horsemen, and forced all the rest to flee. 12 But the more part of them escaped wounded and naked; and Lysias also himself escaped by shameful flight. 13 But as he was a man not void of understanding, weighing with himself the defeat which had befallen him, and considering that [w]the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God fought on their side, he sent again unto them, 14 and persuaded them to come to terms on condition that all their rights were acknowledged, and [7]promised [x]that he would also persuade the king to become their friend. 15 And Maccabæus gave consent upon all the conditions which [m]Lysias proposed to him, being careful of the common good; for whatsoever requests Maccabæus delivered in writing unto Lysias concerning the Jews the king allowed. 16 For the letters written unto the Jews from Lysias were to this effect:

Lysias unto the [8]people of the Jews, greeting. 17 John and [y]Absalom, who were sent from you, having delivered the [9]petition written below, made request concerning the things signified therein. 18 What things soever therefore had need to be brought before the king I declared to him, and what things were possible he allowed. 19 If then ye will preserve your good will toward the state, henceforward also will I endeavour to contribute to your good. 20 [10]And on this behalf I have given order in detail, both to these men and to those that are sent from me, to confer with you.

21 [z] Fare ye well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the four and twentieth day of the month [1] Dioscorinthius.

22 And the king's letter was in these words:

King Antiochus unto his [a] brother Lysias, greeting. 23 Seeing that our father passed unto the gods having the wish that the subjects of his kingdom [2] should be undisturbed and give themselves to the care of their own affairs, 24 we, having heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's purpose [b] to turn them unto the customs of the Greeks, but choose rather their own manner of living, and make request [c] that the customs of their law be allowed unto them,—25 choosing therefore that this nation also should be free from [3] disturbance, we determine that their temple [d] be restored to them, and [c] that they live according to the customs that were in the days of their ancestors. 26 Thou wilt therefore do well to send messengers unto them and give them [e] the right hand of friendship, that they, knowing our mind, may be of good heart, and gladly occupy themselves with the conduct of their own affairs.

27 And unto the nation the king's letter was after this manner:

King Antiochus to [f] the senate of the Jews and to the other Jews, greeting. 28 If ye fare well, we have our desire: we ourselves also are in good health. 29 [g] Menelaus informed us that your desire was to return home and follow your own business. 30 They therefore that depart home up to the thirtieth day of Xanthicus shall have our [4] friendship, with full permission 31 that the Jews use their own proper meats and observe their own laws, even as heretofore; and none of them shall be in any way molested for the things that have been ignorantly done. 32 Moreover I have sent [g] Menelaus also, that he may encourage you. 33 [h] Fare ye well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus.

34 And the [i] Romans also sent unto them a letter in these words:

Quintus Memmius and Titus Manius, ambassadors of the Romans, unto the people of the Jews, greeting. 35 In regard to the things which [j] Lysias the king's kinsman granted you, we also give consent. 36 But as for the things which he judged [k] should be referred to the king, send one forthwith, after ye have advised thereof, that we may publish such decrees as befit your case; for we are on our way to [l] Antioch. 37 Wherefore send some with speed, that we also may learn what is your mind. 38 [h] Farewell. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus.

12 [1] So when these covenants had been made, [j] Lysias departed unto the king, and [m] the Jews went about their husbandry.

2 But certain of the governors of districts, [n] Timotheus and Apollonius the son of Gennæus, and Hieronymus also and Demophon, and beside them [o] Nicanor the governor of [p] Cyprus, would not suffer them to enjoy tranquillity and live in peace. 3 And men of [q] Joppa perpetrated this great impiety: they invited the Jews that dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had provided, as though they had no ill will towards them; 4 and when [6] the Jews, [7] relying on the common decree of the city, accepted the invitation, as men desiring to live in peace and suspecting nothing, they took them out to sea and drowned them, in number not less than two hundred. 5 But when Judas heard of the cruelty done unto his fellow-countrymen, giving command to the men that were with him 6 and calling upon God [r] the righteous Judge, he came against the murderers of his brethren, and set the haven on fire [s] by night, and burned the boats, and put to the sword those that had fled thither. 7 But when the town was closed against him, he withdrew, intending to come again to root out the whole community of the men of [q] Joppa. 8 But learning that the men of [t] Jamnia were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that sojourned among them, 9 he fell upon the [t] Jamnites also [s] by night, and set fire to the haven together with the fleet, so that the glare of the light was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs distant.

10 Now when they had drawn off nine furlongs from thence, as they marched against [u] Timotheus, a host of [u] Arabians attacked him, no fewer than five thousand footmen and five hundred horsemen. 11 And when a sore battle had been fought, and Judas and his company [v] by the help of God had good success, the nomads being overcome besought Judas to grant them friendship, promising to give him cattle, and to help [8] his people in all other ways. 12 So Judas, thinking that they would indeed be profitable in many things, agreed to live in peace with them; and receiving pledges of friendship they departed to their tents. 13 And he also fell upon a certain city [9] Gephyrun, strong and fenced about with walls, and inhabited by a mixed multitude of divers nations; and it was named Caspin. 14 But they that were within, trusting to the strength of the walls and to their store of provisions, behaved themselves rudely toward Judas and them that were with him, railing, and furthermore blaspheming and speaking impious words. 15 But Judas and his company, calling upon [w] the great Sovereign of the world, who without rams and cunning engines of war [x] hurled down Jericho in the times of Joshua, rushed wildly against the wall; [16] and having taken the city by the will of God, they made unspeakable slaughter, insomuch that the adjoining lake, which was two furlongs broad, appeared to be filled with the deluge of blood.

17 And when they had drawn off seven hundred and fifty furlongs from thence, they made their way to Charax, unto the Jews that are called [1] Tubieni. [18] And [y] Timotheus they found not in occupation of that district, for he had then departed from the district without accomplishing anything, but had left behind a garrison, and that a very strong one, in a certain post. 19 But Dositheus and Sosipater, who were of Maccabæus's captains, sallied forth and destroyed those that had been left by Timotheus in the stronghold, above ten thousand men. 20 And Maccabæus, ranging his own army by bands, set [2] these two over the bands, and marched in haste against Timotheus, [z] who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen and two thousand and five hundred horsemen. 21 But when Timotheus heard of the inroad of Judas, he at once sent away the women and the children and also the baggage into the fortress called [3] Carnion; for the place was hard to besiege and difficult of access by reason of the narrowness of the approaches on all sides. [22] [a] But when the band of Judas, who led the van, appeared in sight, and when terror came upon the enemy and fear, because [b] the manifestation of him who beholdeth all things came upon them, they fled amain, carried this way and that, so that they were often hurt of their own men, and pierced with the points of their swords. 23 And Judas continued the pursuit the more hotly, putting the wicked wretches to the sword, and he destroyed as many as thirty thousand men. 24 But [y] Timotheus himself, falling in with the company of Dositheus and Sosipater, besought them with much [4] crafty guile to let him go with his life, because he had in his power the parents of many of them and the brethren of some: [5] otherwise, said he, little regard will [6] be shewn to these. 25 So when he had with many words confirmed the agreement to restore them without hurt, they let him go that they might save their brethren.

26 [c] And Judas, marching against [3] Carnion and the temple of Atergatis, slew five and twenty thousand persons. 27 And after he had put these to flight and destroyed them, [d] he marched against Ephron also, a strong city, [7] wherein were multitudes of people of all nations; and stalwart young men placed [8] on the walls made a vigorous defence; and there were great stores of engines and darts there. 28 But calling upon [w] the Sovereign who with might [e] breaketh in pieces the [9] strength of [10] the enemy, [f] they got the city into their hands, and slew as many as twenty and five thousand of them that were within. 29 And setting out from thence they marched in haste against [g] Scythopolis, which is distant from Jerusalem six hundred furlongs. 30 But when the Jews that were settled there testified of the good will that the Scythopolitans had shewn toward them, and of their kindly bearing toward them in the times of their misfortune, 31 they gave thanks, and further exhorted them to remain well affected toward the race for the future; and [h] they went up to Jerusalem, [i] the feast of weeks being close at hand.

32 But after the feast called [j] Pentecost [k] they marched in haste against [l] Gorgias the governor of Idumæa: 33 and he came out with three thousand footmen and four hundred horsemen. 34 And when they had set themselves in array, it came to pass that a few of the Jews fell. 35 And a certain Dositheus, one [11] of Bacenor's company, who was on horseback and a strong man, pressed hard on Gorgias, and taking hold of his cloke drew him along by main force; and while he was minded to take the accursed man alive, one of the Thracian horsemen bore down upon him and disabled his shoulder, and so Gorgias escaped unto [m] Marisa. 36 And when they that were with Esdris had been fighting long and were wearied out, Judas called upon the Lord to shew himself, fighting on their side and leading the van of the battle; 37 and then [n] in the language of his fathers he raised the battle-cry joined with hymns, and rushing unawares upon the troops of Gorgias put them to flight.

38 And Judas gathering his army came unto the city of [12] [o] Adullam; and as the seventh day was coming on, [p] they purified themselves according to the custom, and [q] kept the sabbath there.

39 And on the day following, [1]at which time it had become necessary, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that had fallen, [2]and in company with their kinsmen to bring them back unto the sepulchres of their fathers. 40 But under the garments of each one of the dead they found [3]consecrated tokens of the idols of [r] Jamnia, [s]which the law forbids the Jews to have aught to do with; and it became clear to all that it was for this cause that they had fallen. 41 All therefore, blessing the works of the Lord, [t]the righteous Judge, [u]who maketh manifest the things that are hid, 42 betook themselves unto supplication, beseeching that the sin committed might be wholly blotted out. And the noble Judas exhorted the multitude to keep themselves from sin, forsomuch as they had seen before their eyes what things had come to pass because of the sin of them that had fallen. 43 And when he had made a collection man by man to the sum of two thousand [v]drachmas of silver, he sent unto Jerusalem to offer [w]a sacrifice for sin, doing therein right well and honourably, in that he took thought for [x]a resurrection. 44 For if he were not expecting that they that had fallen would rise again, it were superfluous and idle to pray for the dead. 45 (And if he did it looking unto an honourable memorial of gratitude laid up for them that [4]die [5]in godliness, holy and godly was the thought.) Wherefore he made [y]the propitiation for them that had died, that they might be released from their sin.

13 1 In [2]the hundred forty and ninth year tidings were brought to Judas and his company that [a]Antiochus Eupator was coming with great multitudes against Judæa, 2 and with him [a]Lysias his guardian and chancellor, [6]each having a Greek force, [b]a hundred and ten thousand footmen, and five thousand and three hundred horsemen, and two and twenty elephants, and three hundred chariots armed with scythes.

3 And [c]Menelaus also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the saving of his country, but because he thought that he would be set over the government. 4 But the [d]King of kings stirred up the [7]passion of Antiochus against the wicked wretch; and when Lysias informed him that this man was the cause of all the evils, the king commanded to bring him unto Berœa, and [8]to put him to death after the manner of that place. 5 Now there is in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had all round it a [9]gallery [10]descending sheer on every side into the ashes. 6 Here him that is [e]guilty of sacrilege, or hath attained a preeminence in any other evil deeds, they [11]all push forward into destruction. 7 By such a fate it befell the breaker of the law, [c]Menelaus, to die, without obtaining so much as a grave in the earth, and [f]that right justly; 8 for inasmuch as he had perpetrated many sins [12]against the altar, whose fire and whose ashes were holy, in ashes did he receive his death.

9 Now the king, [13]infuriated in spirit, was coming with intent to inflict on the Jews the very worst of the sufferings that had befallen them in his father's time. 10 But when Judas heard of these things, he gave charge to the multitude to call upon the Lord day and night, beseeching him, if ever at any other time, so now to succour them that were at the point to be deprived of the law and their country and the holy temple, 11 and not to suffer the people that had been but now a little while revived to fall into the hands of those profane heathen. 12 So when they had all done the same thing together, [14]beseeching [g]the merciful Lord [h]with weeping and fastings and [i]prostration for three days without ceasing, Judas exhorted them and commanded they should join him for service. 13 And having gone apart with the elders he resolved that, before the king's army should enter into Judæa and make themselves masters of the city, they should go forth and try the matter in fight [j]by the help of [15]God. 14 And committing the decision to [k]the [16]Lord of the world, and exhorting them that were with him to contend nobly even unto death [l]for laws, temple, city, country, [17]commonwealth, he pitched his camp by [m]Modin. 15 And [n]having given out to his men the watchword, VICTORY IS GOD'S, with a chosen body of the bravest young men he fell upon the camp [o]by night and penetrated to the king's [18]tent, and slew [11]of the [19]army as many as two thousand men, and [11]brought down the chiefest elephant with him that was in the [20]tower upon him. 16 And at last they filled the [19]army with terror and alarm, and departed with good success. 17 And this had been accomplished when the day was but now dawning, because of [j]the Lord's protection that gave [21]Judas help.

18 But the king, having had a taste of the exceeding boldness of the Jews, made attempts by stratagem upon their positions, 19 and upon a strong fortress of the Jews at [p]Bethsura; he advanced, [q]was turned back, failed, was defeated. 20 And Judas conveyed such things as were necessary unto them that were within. 21 But Rhodocus, from the Jewish ranks, made known to the enemy the secrets of his countrymen. He was sought out, and taken, and shut up in prison. 22 [r] The king treated with them in [p] Bethsura the second time, [q] gave his hand, took theirs, departed, attacked the forces of Judas, was put to the worse, 23 heard that [t] Philip who had been left as chancellor in [u] Antioch had become reckless, was confounded, [v] made to the Jews an overture of peace, submitted himself and sware to acknowledge all their rights, came to terms with them and offered sacrifice, honoured the sanctuary and the place, 24 shewed kindness and graciously received Maccabæus, left Hegemonides governor from [w] Ptolemais even unto the [1] Gerrenians, 25 came to Ptolemais. The men of [w] Ptolemais were displeased at the treaty, for they had exceeding great indignation against the Jews: they desired to annul the articles of the agreement. 26 [x] Lysias [2] came forward to speak, made the best defence that was possible, persuaded, pacified, made them well affected, [y] departed unto [u] Antioch. This was the issue of the inroad and departure of the king.

14 [z] Now after a space of three years tidings were brought to Judas and his company that [a] Demetrius the son of [a] Seleucus, having sailed into the haven of Tripolis with a mighty host and a fleet, [a] had gotten possession of the country, [b] having made away with Antiochus and Lysias his guardian.

3 But one [c] Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest, and had wilfully polluted himself in the times [d] when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, considering that there was no deliverance for him in any way, nor any more access unto the holy altar, 4 came to king [a] Demetrius [e] in about the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting to him [f] a chaplet of gold and a palm, and beside these some of [g] the festal olive boughs of the temple. And for that day he held his peace; 5 but having gotten opportunity to further his own madness, being called by Demetrius into a meeting of his council, and asked how the Jews stood affected and what they purposed, he answered thereunto, [6] Those of the Jews that be called [h] [h] Hasidæans, whose leader is Judas Maccabæus, keep up war, and are seditious, not suffering the kingdom to find tranquillity. 7 Wherefore, having laid aside mine [i] ancestral glory, I mean the high priesthood, I am now come [4] hither; [3] first for the unfeigned care I have for the things that concern the king, and secondly because I have regard also to mine own fellow-citizens: for, through the unadvised dealing of those of whom I spake before, our whole race is in no small misfortune. 9 But do thou, O king, having informed thyself of these things severally, take thought both for our country and for our race, which [5] is surrounded by foes, according to the gracious kindness with which thou receivest all. 10 For as long as Judas remaineth alive, it is impossible that the state should find peace. 11 And when he had spoken such words as these, at once [6] the rest of the king's [j] Friends, having ill will against Judas, inflamed Demetrius yet more. 12 And forthwith appointing [k] Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor of Judæa, he sent him forth, 13 giving him written instructions to make away with Judas himself and to scatter them that were with him and to set up [l] Alcimus as high priest of the [7] great temple. 14 And [8] those in Judæa that [m] had before driven Judas into exile thronged to Nicanor in flocks, supposing that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would be successes to themselves.

15 But when the Jews heard of Nicanor's inroad and the assault of the heathen, [n] they sprinkled earth upon their heads and made solemn supplication to him [o] who had established his own people for evermore, and who always, making manifest his presence, upholdeth them that are [p] his own portion. 26 9 And when the leader had given his commands, he straightway setteth out from thence, and joineth battle with them at a village called Lessau. 27 But [q] Simon, the brother of Judas, had encountered Nicanor, [10] yet not till late, having received a check by reason of the sudden consternation caused by his adversaries.

28 Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of them that were with Judas, and their courage in fighting for their country, shrank from bringing the matter to the decision of the sword. 29 Wherefore he sent Posidonius and Theodotus and Mattathias to give and receive pledges of friendship. 30 So when these proposals had been long considered, and the leader had made the [11] troops acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of like mind, they consented to the covenants. 31 [r] And they appointed a day on which to meet together by themselves. And a litter was borne forward from each army; they set chairs of state; 32 Judas stationed armed men ready in convenient places, [s] lest haply there should suddenly be treachery on the part of the enemy; they held such conference as was meet.

23 Nicanor tarried in Jerusalem, and did nothing to cause disturbance, but dismissed the flocks of people that had gathered together. 24 And he kept Judas always in his presence; he had gained a hearty affection for the man; 25 he urged him to marry and beget children; he married, settled quietly, took part in common life.

t ver. 3, 13. 26 But t Alcimus, perceiving the good will that was betwixt them, [1] and having got possession of the covenants that had been made, came unto u Demetrius and told him that Nicanor was ill affected toward the state, for he had appointed v that conspirator against his kingdom, Judas, to be his successor. 27 And the king, falling into a rage, and being exasperated by the calumnies of that most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was displeased at the covenants, and commanding him to send Maccabæus prisoner unto w Antioch in all haste. 28 And when this message came to Nicanor, he was confounded, and was sore troubled at the thought of annulling the articles that had been agreed upon, the man having done no wrong; 29 but because there was no dealing against the king, x he watched his time to execute this purpose by stratagem. 30 But Maccabæus, when he perceived that Nicanor was behaving more harshly in his dealings with him, and that he had become ruder in his customary bearing, understanding that this harshness came not of good, gathered together not a few of his men, and concealed himself from Nicanor.

31 But the other, [2] when he became aware that he had been bravely defeated by the stratagem of [3] Judas, came to the [4] great and holy temple, y while the priests were offering the usual sacrifices, and commanded them to deliver up the man. 32 And when they declared with oaths that they had no knowledge where the man was whom he sought, 33 z he stretched forth his right hand toward the sanctuary, and sware this oath: If ye will not deliver up to me Judas as a prisoner, I will lay this [5] temple of God even with the ground, and will break down the altar, and I will erect here a temple unto [6] a Bacchus for all to see. 34 And having said this he departed. But the priests, b stretching forth their hands toward heaven, called upon him that ever fighteth for our nation, in these words: 35 Thou, [7] O Lord [8] of the universe, who in thyself [9] hast need of nothing, wast well pleased that [c] a sanctuary of thy [8] habitation should be set among us; 36 so now, O holy Lord of all hallowing, keep undefiled for ever this house f that hath been lately cleansed.

37 Now information was given to Nicanor against one Razis, an elder of Jerusalem, [9] as being a lover of his countrymen and a man of very good report, and one called g Father of the Jews for his good will toward them. 38 For in the former times h when there was no mingling with the Gentiles he had been [i] accused of cleaving to the Jews' religion, and had jeopardied body and life with all earnestness for the religion of the Jews. 39 And Nicanor, wishing to make evident the ill will that he bare unto the Jews, sent above five hundred soldiers to take him; 40 for he thought by taking him to inflict a calamity upon them. 41 But when the [10] troops were on the point of taking the tower, and were forcing the door of the court, and bade bring fire and burn the doors, he being surrounded on every side fell upon his sword, 42 choosing rather to die nobly than to fall into the hands of the wicked wretches, and suffer outrage unworthy of his own nobleness: 43 but since he missed his stroke through the excitement of the struggle, and the crowds were now rushing within the door, he ran bravely up to the wall and cast himself down manfully among the crowds. 44 But as they quickly gave back, a space was made, and he fell on the middle of [11] his side. 45 And having yet breath within him, and being inflamed with passion, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out in streams and his wounds were grievous, he ran through the crowds, and standing upon a steep rock, 46 when as his blood was now well nigh spent, he drew forth his bowels through the wound, and taking them in both his hands he shook them at the crowds; and calling upon him who is Lord of [12] the life and the [12] spirit j to restore him [14] these again, he thus died.

15 1 k But Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in the region of [1] Samaria, resolved to set upon them with all security on the day of rest. 2 And when the Jews that were compelled to follow him said, O destroy not so savagely and barbarously, but give due glory to the day which he m that beholdeth all things n hath [15] honoured and hallowed above other days; 3 then o the thrice-accursed wretch asked if there were p a Sovereign in heaven that had commanded to keep the sabbath day. 4 And when they declared, There is the Lord, living himself

[p] a Sovereign in heaven, who bade us observe the seventh day; 5 then saith the other, I also am [q] a sovereign upon the earth, [1] who now command to take up arms and execute the king's business. Nevertheless he prevailed not to execute his [2] cruel purpose.

6 And Nicanor, [3] bearing himself haughtily in all vaingloriousness, had determined to set up a monument of complete victory over Judas and all them that were with him: 7 but Maccabæus still trusted unceasingly, with all hope that he should obtain help from the Lord. 8 And [r] he exhorted his company not to be fearful at the [4] inroad of the heathen, but, keeping in mind [s] the help which of old they had oft-times received from heaven, so now also to look for the victory which would come unto them from the Almighty; 9 and comforting them out of [t] the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the conflicts that they had maintained, he made them more eager for the battle. 10 And when he had roused their [5] spirit, he gave them his commands, at the same time pointing out the perfidiousness of the heathen and their breach of their oaths. 11 And arming each one of them, not so much with the sure defence of shields and spears as with the encouragement that lieth in good words, and moreover relating to them a dream [6] worthy to be believed, he made them all exceeding glad. 12 And the vision of that dream was this: He saw [u] Onias, him that was high priest, a noble and good man, reverend in bearing, yet gentle in manner and well-spoken, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, [v] with outstretched hands invoking blessings on the whole body of the Jews: 13 thereupon he saw a man appear, of venerable age and exceeding glory, and wonderful and most majestic was the dignity around him: 14 and Onias answered and said, This is the lover of the brethren, he who prayeth much for the people and [w] the holy city, [x] Jeremiah the prophet of God: 15 and Jeremiah stretching forth his right hand delivered to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it addressed him thus, 16 Take the holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt smite down the adversaries.

17 And being encouraged by the words of Judas, which were of a lofty strain, and able to incite unto virtue and to stir the souls of the young unto manly courage, they determined [7] not to carry on a campaign, but nobly to bear down upon the enemy, and fighting hand to hand with all courage bring the matter to an issue, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger. 18 For their fear for wives and children, and furthermore for brethren and kinsfolk, was in less account with them; [y] but greatest and first was their fear for the consecrated sanctuary. 19 And they also that were shut up in the city were in no light distress, being troubled because of the encounter in the open ground.

20 And when all were now waiting for the decision of the issue, and the enemy had already joined battle, and the army had been set in array, and the [8] elephants [9] brought back to a convenient post, and the horsemen drawn up [10] on the flank, 21 Maccabæus, perceiving the presence of the [11] troops, and the various arms with which they were equipped, and the savageness of the [8] elephants, holding up his hands unto heaven called upon the Lord [z] that worketh wonders, [a] recognising that success cometh not by arms, but that, according as the Lord shall judge, he gaineth the victory for them that are worthy. 22 And calling upon God he said after this manner: Thou, [b] O Sovereign Lord, [c] didst send thine angel in the time of Hezekiah king of Judæa, and he slew of the [12] host of Sennacherib as many as a hundred fourscore and five thousand; 23 so now also, [b] O Sovereign of the heavens, [d] send a good angel before us to bring terror and trembling: 24 through the greatness of thine arm let them be stricken with dismay that with blasphemy are come hither against [e] thy holy people. And as he ended with these words, 25 Nicanor and his company advanced with trumpets and pæans; 26 but Judas and his company joined battle with the enemy with invocation and prayers. 27 And [f] contending with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men, being made exceeding glad [g] by the manifestation of God.

28 And when the engagement was over, and they were returning again with joy, they recognised Nicanor [h] lying dead in full armour; 29 and there arose a shout and [13] tumult, and then they blessed the [b] Sovereign Lord [i] in the language of their fathers. 30 And he that in all things was in body and soul the foremost champion of his fellow-citizens, he that kept through life the good will of his youth toward his countrymen, commanded [j] to cut off Nicanor's head, and his hand with the shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem. 31 And when he had arrived there, and had called his countrymen together and set

REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

THE English Version of the New Testament here presented to the reader is a Revision of the Translation published in the year of Our Lord 1611, and commonly known by the name of the Authorised Version.

That Translation was the work of many hands and of several generations. The foundation was laid by William Tyndale. His translation of the New Testament was the true primary Version. The Versions that followed were either substantially reproductions of Tyndale's translation in its final shape, or revisions of Versions that had been themselves almost entirely based on it. Three successive stages may be recognised in this continuous work of authoritative revision: first, the publication of the Great Bible of 1539–41 in the reign of Henry VIII; next, the publication of the Bishops' Bible of 1568 and 1572 in the reign of Elizabeth; and lastly, the publication of the King's Bible of 1611 in the reign of James I. Besides these, the Genevan Version of 1560, itself founded on Tyndale's translation, must here be named; which, though not put forth by authority, was widely circulated in this country, and largely used by King James' Translators. Thus the form in which the English New Testament has now been read for 270 years was the result of various revisions made between 1525 and 1611; and the present Revision is an attempt, after a long interval, to follow the example set by a succession of honoured predecessors.

I. Of the many points of interest connected with the Translation of 1611, two require special notice; first, the Greek Text which it appears to have represented; and secondly, the character of the Translation itself.

1. With regard to the Greek Text, it would appear that, if to some extent the Translators exercised an independent judgement, it was mainly in choosing amongst readings contained in the principal editions of the Greek Text that had appeared in the sixteenth century. Wherever they seem to have followed a reading which is not found in any of those editions, their rendering may probably be traced to the Latin Vulgate. Their chief guides appear to have been the later editions of Stephanus and of Beza, and also, to a certain extent, the Complutensian Polyglott. All these were founded for the most part on manuscripts of late date, few in number, and used with little critical skill. But in those days it could hardly have been otherwise. Nearly all the more ancient of the documentary authorities have become known only within the last two centuries; some of the most important of them, indeed, within the last few years. Their publication has called forth not only improved editions of the Greek Text, but a succession of instructive discussions on the variations which have been brought to light, and on the best modes of distinguishing original readings from changes introduced in the course of transcription. While therefore it has long been the opinion of all scholars that the commonly received text needed thorough revision, it is but recently that materials have been acquired for executing such a work with even approximate completeness.

2. The character of the Translation itself will be best estimated by considering the leading rules under which it was made, and the extent to which these rules appear to have been observed.

The primary and fundamental rule was expressed in the following terms:—'The ordinary Bible read in the Church, commonly called the Bishops' Bible, to be followed, and as little altered as the truth of the Original will permit.' There was, however, this subsequent provision:—'These translations to be used, when they agree better with the text than the Bishops' Bible: Tindale's, Matthew's, Coverdale's, Whitchurch's, Geneva.' The first of these rules, which was substantially the same as that laid down at the revision of the Great Bible in the reign of Elizabeth, was strictly observed. The other rule was but partially followed. The Translators made much use of the Genevan Version. They do not however appear to have frequently returned to the renderings of the other Versions named in the rule, where those Versions differed from the Bishops' Bible. On the other hand, their work shews evident traces of the influence of a Version not specified in the rules, the Rhemish, made from the Latin Vulgate, but by scholars conversant with the Greek Original.

Another rule, on which it is stated that those in authority laid great stress, related to the rendering of words that admitted of different interpretations. It was as follows:—'When a word hath divers significations, that to be kept which hath been most commonly used by the most of the ancient fathers, being agreeable to the propriety of the place and the analogy of the faith.' With this rule was associated the following, on which equal stress appears to have been laid:—'The old ecclesiastical words to be kept, viz. the word Church not to be translated Congregation, &c.' This latter rule was for the most part carefully observed; but it may be doubted whether, in the case of words that admitted of different meanings, the instructions were at all closely followed. In dealing with the more difficult words of this class, the Translators appear to have paid much regard to traditional interpretations, and especially to the authority of the Vulgate; but, as to the large residue of words which might properly fall under the rule, they used considerable freedom. Moreover they profess in their Preface to have studiously adopted a variety of expression which would now be deemed hardly consistent with the requirements of faithful translation. They seem to have been guided by the feeling that their Version would secure for the words they used a lasting place in the language; and they express a fear lest they should 'be charged (by scoffers) with some unequal dealing towards a great number of good English words,' which, without this liberty on their part, would not have a place in the pages of the English Bible. Still it cannot be doubted that they carried this liberty too far, and that the studied avoidance of uniformity in the rendering of the same words, even when occurring in the same context, is one of the blemishes in their work.

A third leading rule was of a negative character, but was rendered necessary by the experience derived from former Versions. The words of the rule are as follows:—'No marginal notes at all to be affixed, but only for the explanation of the Hebrew or Greek words which cannot without some circumlocution so briefly and fitly be expressed in the text.' Here again the Translators used some liberty in their application of the rule. Out of more than 760 marginal notes originally appended to the Authorised Version of the New Testament, only a seventh part consists of explanations or literal renderings; the great majority of the notes being devoted to the useful and indeed necessary purpose of placing before the reader alternative renderings which it was judged that the passage or the words would fairly admit. The notes referring to variations in the Greek Text amount to about thirty-five.

Of the remaining rules it may be sufficient to notice one, which was for the most part consistently followed:—'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' The Translators had also the liberty, in 'any place of special obscurity,' to consult those who might be qualified to give an opinion.

Passing from these fundamental rules, which should be borne in mind by any one who would rightly understand the nature and character of the Authorised Version, we must call attention to the manner in which the actual work of the translation was carried on. The New Testament was assigned to two separate Companies, the one consisting of eight members, sitting at Oxford, the other consisting of seven members, sitting at Westminster. There is no reason to believe that these Companies ever sat together. They communicated to each other, and likewise to the four Companies to which the Old Testament and the Apocrypha had been committed, the results of their labours; and perhaps afterwards reconsidered them: but the fact that the New Testament was divided between two separate bodies of men involved a grave inconvenience, and was beyond all doubt the cause of many inconsistencies. These probably would have been much more serious, had it not been provided that there should be a final supervision of the whole Bible, by selected members from Oxford, Cambridge, and Westminster, the three centres at which the work had been carried on. These supervisors are said by one authority to have been six in number, and by another twelve. When it is remembered that this supervision was completed in nine months, we may wonder that the incongruities which remain are not more numerous.

The Companies appear to have been occupied in the actual business of revision about two years and three quarters.

Such, so far as can be gathered from the rules and modes of procedure, is the character of the time-honoured Version which we have been called upon to revise. We have had to study this great Version carefully and minutely, line by line; and the longer we have been engaged upon it the more we have learned to admire its simplicity, its dignity, its power, its happy turns of expression, its general accuracy, and, we must not fail to add, the music of its cadences, and the felicities of its rhythm. To render a work that had reached this high standard of excellence still more excellent, to increase its fidelity without destroying its charm, was the task committed to us. Of that task, and of the conditions under which we have attempted its fulfilment, it will now be necessary for us to speak.

II. The present Revision had its origin in action taken by the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in February 1870, and it has been conducted throughout on the plan laid down in Resolutions of both Houses of the Province, and, more particularly, in accordance with Principles and Rules drawn up by a special Committee of Convocation in the following May. Two Companies, the one for the revision of the Authorised Version of the Old Testament, and the other for the revision of the same Version of the New Testament, were formed in the manner specified in the Resolutions, and the work was commenced on the twenty-second day of June 1870. Shortly afterwards, steps were taken, under a resolution passed by both Houses of Convocation, for inviting the co-operation of American scholars; and eventually two Committees were formed in America, for the purpose of acting with the two English Companies, on the basis of the Principles and Rules drawn up by the Committee of Convocation.

The fundamental Resolutions adopted by the Convocation of Canterbury on the third and fifth days of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. That it is desirable that a revision of the Authorised Version of the Holy Scriptures be undertaken.

'2. That the revision be so conducted as to comprise both marginal renderings and such emendations as it may be found necessary to insert in the text of the Authorised Version.

'3. That in the above resolutions we do not contemplate any new translation of the Bible, or any alteration of the language, except where in the judgement of the most competent scholars such change is necessary.

'4. That in such necessary changes, the style of the language employed in the existing Version be closely followed.

'5. That it is desirable that Convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent for scholarship, to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.'

The Principles and Rules agreed to by the Committee of Convocation on the twenty-fifth day of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. To introduce as few alterations as possible into the Text of the Authorised Version consistently with faithfulness.

'2. To limit, as far as possible, the expression of such alterations to the language of the Authorised and earlier English Versions.

'3. Each Company to go twice over the portion to be revised, once provisionally, the second time finally, and on principles of voting as hereinafter is provided.

'4. That the Text to be adopted be that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating; and that when the Text so adopted differs from that from which the Authorised Version was made, the alteration be indicated in the margin.

'5. To make or retain no change in the Text on the second final revision by each Company, except two thirds of those present approve of the same, but on the first revision to decide by simple majorities.

'6. In every case of proposed alteration that may have given rise to discussion, to defer the voting thereupon till the next Meeting, whensoever the same shall be required by one third of those present at the Meeting, such intended vote to be announced in the notice for the next Meeting.

'7. To revise the headings of chapters and pages, paragraphs, italics, and punctuation.

'8. To refer, on the part of each Company, when considered desirable, to Divines, Scholars, and Literary Men, whether at home or abroad, for their opinions.'

These rules it has been our endeavour faithfully and consistently to follow. One only of them we found ourselves unable to observe in all particulars. In accordance with the seventh rule, we have carefully revised the paragraphs, italics, and punctuation. But the revision of the headings of chapters and pages would have involved so much of indirect, and indeed frequently of direct interpretation, that we judged it best to omit them altogether.

Our communications with the American Committee have been of the following nature. We transmitted to them from time to time each several portion of our First Revision, and received from them in return their criticisms and suggestions. These we considered with much care and attention during the time we were engaged on our Second Revision. We then sent over to them the various portions of the Second Revision as they were completed, and received further suggestions, which, like the former, were closely and carefully considered. Last of all, we forwarded to them the Revised Version in its final form; and a list of those passages in which they desire to place on record their preference of other readings and renderings will be found at the end of the volume. We gratefully acknowledge their care, vigilance, and accuracy; and we humbly pray that their labours and our own, thus happily united, may be permitted to bear a blessing to both countries, and to all English-speaking people throughout the world.

The whole time devoted to the work has been ten years and a half. The First Revision occupied about six years; the Second, about two years and a half. The remaining time has been spent in the consideration of the suggestions from America on the Second Revision, and of many details and reserved questions arising out of our own labours. As a rule, a session of four days has been held every month (with the exception of August and September) in each year from the commencement of the work in June 1870. The average attendance for the whole time has been sixteen each day; the whole Company consisting at first of twenty-seven, but for the greater part of the time of twenty-four members, many of them residing at great distances from London. Of the original number four have been removed from us by death.

At an early stage in our labours, we entered into an agreement with the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge for the conveyance to them of our copyright in the work. This arrangement provided for the necessary expenses of the undertaking; and procured for the Revised Version the advantage of being published by Bodies long connected with the publication of the Authorised Version.

III. We now pass onward to give a brief account of the particulars of the present work. This we propose to do under the four heads of Text, Translation, Language, and Marginal Notes.

1. A revision of the Greek Text was the necessary foundation of our work; but it did not fall within our province to construct a continuous and complete Greek Text. In many cases the English rendering was considered to represent correctly either of two competing readings in the Greek, and then the question of the text was usually not raised. A sufficiently laborious task remained in deciding between the rival claims of various readings which might properly affect the translation. When these were adjusted, our deviations from the text presumed to underlie the Authorised Version had next to be indicated, in accordance with the fourth rule; but it proved inconvenient to record them in the margin. A better mode however of giving them publicity has been found, as the University Presses have undertaken to print them in connexion with complete Greek texts of the New Testament.

In regard of the readings thus approved, it may be observed that the fourth rule, by requiring that 'the text to be adopted' should be 'that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating,' was in effect an instruction to follow the authority of documentary evidence without deference to any printed text of modern times, and therefore to employ the best resources of criticism for estimating the value of evidence. Textual criticism, as applied to the Greek New Testament, forms a special study of much intricacy and difficulty, and even now leaves room for considerable variety of opinion among competent critics. Different schools of criticism have been represented among us, and have together contributed to the final result. In the early part of the work every various reading requiring consideration was discussed and voted on by the Company. After a time the precedents thus established enabled the process to be safely shortened; but it was still at the option of every one to raise a full discussion on any particular reading, and the option was freely used. On the first revision, in accordance with the fifth rule, the decisions were arrived at by simple majorities. On the second revision, at which a majority of two thirds was required to retain or introduce a reading at variance with the reading presumed to underlie the Authorised Version, many readings previously adopted were brought again into debate, and either re-affirmed or set aside.

Many places still remain in which, for the present, it would not be safe to accept one reading to the absolute exclusion of others. In these cases we have given alternative readings in the margin, wherever they seem to be of sufficient importance or interest to deserve notice. In the introductory formula, the phrases 'many ancient authorities,' 'some ancient authorities,' are used with some latitude to denote a greater or lesser proportion of those authorities which have a distinctive right to be called ancient. These ancient authorities comprise not only Greek manuscripts, some of which were written in the fourth and fifth centuries, but versions of a still earlier date in different languages, and also quotations by Christian writers of the second and following centuries.

2. We pass now from the Text to the Translation. The character of the Revision was determined for us from the outset by the first rule, 'to introduce as few alterations as possible, consistently with faithfulness.' Our task was revision, not re-translation.

Digitized by Google

In the application however of this principle to the many and intricate details of our work, we have found ourselves constrained by faithfulness to introduce changes which might not at first sight appear to be included under the rule.

The alterations which we have made in the Authorised Version may be roughly grouped in five principal classes. First, alterations positively required by change of reading in the Greek Text. Secondly, alterations made where the Authorised Version appeared either to be incorrect, or to have chosen the less probable of two possible renderings. Thirdly, alterations of obscure or ambiguous renderings into such as are clear and express in their import. For it has been our principle not to leave any translation, or any arrangement of words, which could adapt itself to one or other of two interpretations, but rather to express as plainly as was possible that interpretation which seemed best to deserve a place in the text, and to put the other in the margin.

There remain yet two other classes of alterations which we have felt to be required by the same principle of faithfulness. These are, — Fourthly, alterations of the Authorised Version in cases where it was inconsistent with itself in the rendering of two or more passages confessedly alike or parallel. Fifthly, alterations rendered necessary by consequence, that is, arising out of changes already made, though not in themselves required by the general rule of faithfulness. Both these classes of alterations call for some further explanation.

The frequent inconsistencies in the Authorised Version have caused us much embarrassment from the fact already referred to, namely, that a studied variety of rendering, even in the same chapter and context, was a kind of principle with our predecessors, and was defended by them on grounds that have been mentioned above. The problem we had to solve was to discriminate between varieties of rendering which were compatible with fidelity to the true meaning of the text, and varieties which involved inconsistency, and were suggestive of differences that had no existence in the Greek. This problem we have solved to the best of our power, and for the most part in the following way.

Where there was a doubt as to the exact shade of meaning, we have looked to the con text for guidance. If the meaning was fairly expressed by the word or phrase that was before us in the Authorised Version, we made no change, even where rigid adherence to the rule of translating, as far as possible, the same Greek word by the same English word might have prescribed some modification.

There are however numerous passages in the Authorised Version in which, whether regard be had to the recurrence (as in the first three Gospels) of identical clauses and sentences, to the repetition of the same word in the same passage, or to the characteristic use of particular words by the same writer, the studied variety adopted by the Translators of 1611 has produced a degree of inconsistency that cannot be reconciled with the principle of faithfulness. In such cases we have not hesitated to introduce alterations, even though the sense might not seem to the general reader to be materially affected.

The last class of alterations is that which we have described as rendered necessary by consequence; that is, by reason of some foregoing alteration. The cases in which these consequential changes have been found necessary are numerous and of very different kinds. Sometimes the change has been made to avoid tautology; sometimes to obviate an unpleasing alliteration or some other infelicity of sound; sometimes, in the case of smaller words, to preserve the familiar rhythm; sometimes for a convergence of reasons which, when explained, would at once be accepted, but until so explained might never be surmised even by intelligent readers.

This may be made plain by an example. When a particular word is found to recur with characteristic frequency in any one of the Sacred Writers, it is obviously desirable to adopt for it some uniform rendering. Again, where, as in the case of the first three Evangelists, precisely the same clauses or sentences are found in more than one of the Gospels, it is no less necessary to translate them in every place in the same way. These two principles may be illustrated by reference to a word that perpetually recurs in St. Mark's Gospel, and that may be translated either 'straightway,' 'forthwith,' or 'immediately.' Let it be supposed that the first rendering is chosen, and that the word, in accordance with the first of the above principles, is in that Gospel uniformly translated 'straightway.' Let it be further supposed that one of the passages of St. Mark in which it is so translated is found, word for word, in one of the other Gospels, but that there the rendering of the Authorised Version happens to be 'forthwith' or 'immediately.' That rendering must be changed on the second of the above principles; and yet such a change would not have been made but for this concurrence of two sound principles, and the consequent necessity of making a change on grounds extraneous to the passage itself.

Digitized by Google

This is but one of many instances of consequential alterations which might at first sight appear unnecessary, but which nevertheless have been deliberately made, and are not at variance with the rule of introducing as few changes in the Authorised Version as faithfulness would allow.

There are some other points of detail which it may be here convenient to notice. One of these, and perhaps the most important, is the rendering of the Greek aorist. There are numerous cases, especially in connexion with particles ordinarily expressive of present time, in which the use of the indefinite past tense in Greek and English is altogether different; and in such instances we have not attempted to violate the idiom of our language by forms of expression which it could not bear. But we have often ventured to represent the Greek aorist by the English preterite, even where the reader may find some passing difficulty in such a rendering, because we have felt convinced that the true meaning of the original was obscured by the presence of the familiar auxiliary. A remarkable illustration may be found in the seventeenth chapter of St. John's Gospel, where the combination of the aorist and the perfect shews, beyond all reasonable doubt, that different relations of time were intended to be expressed.

Changes of translation will also be found in connexion with the aorist participle, arising from the fact that the usual periphrasis of this participle in the Vulgate, which was rendered necessary by Latin idiom, has been largely reproduced in the Authorised Version by 'when' with the past tense (as for example in the second chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel), even where the ordinary participial rendering would have been easier and more natural in English.

In reference to the perfect and the imperfect tenses but little needs to be said. The correct translation of the former has been for the most part, though with some striking exceptions, maintained in the Authorised Version: while with regard to the imperfect, clear as its meaning may be in the Greek, the power of expressing it is so limited in English, that we have been frequently compelled to leave the force of the tense to be inferred from the context. In a few instances, where faithfulness imperatively required it, and especially where, in the Greek, the significance of the imperfect tense seemed to be additionally marked by the use of the participle with the auxiliary verb, we have introduced the corresponding form in English. Still, in the great majority of cases we have been obliged to retain the English preterite, and to rely either on slight changes in the order of the words, or on prominence given to the accompanying temporal particles, for the indication of the meaning which, in the Greek, the imperfect tense was designed to convey.

On other points of grammar it may be sufficient to speak more briefly.

Many changes, as might be anticipated, have been made in the case of the definite article. Here again it was necessary to consider the peculiarities of English idiom, as well as the general tenor of each passage. Sometimes we have felt it enough to prefix the article to the first of a series of words to all of which it is prefixed in the Greek, and thus, as it were, to impart the idea of definiteness to the whole series, without running the risk of overloading the sentence. Sometimes, conversely, we have had to tolerate the presence of the definite article in our Version, when it is absent from the Greek, and perhaps not even grammatically latent; simply because English idiom would not allow the noun to stand alone, and because the introduction of the indefinite article might have introduced an idea of oneness or individuality, which was not in any degree traceable in the original. In a word, we have been careful to observe the use of the article wherever it seemed to be idiomatically possible: where it did not seem to be possible, we have yielded to necessity.

As to the pronouns and the place they occupy in the sentence, a subject often overlooked by our predecessors, we have been particularly careful; but here again we have frequently been baffled by structural or idiomatical peculiarities of the English language which precluded changes otherwise desirable.

In the case of the particles we have met with less difficulty, and have been able to maintain a reasonable amount of consistency. The particles in the Greek Testament are, as is well known, comparatively few, and they are commonly used with precision. It has therefore been the more necessary here to preserve a general uniformity of rendering, especially in the case of the particles of causality and inference, so far as English idiom would allow.

Lastly, many changes have been introduced in the rendering of the prepositions, especially where ideas of instrumentality or of mediate agency, distinctly marked in the original, had been confused or obscured in the translation. We have however borne in mind the comprehensive character of such prepositions as 'of' and 'by,' the one in reference to agency and the other in reference to means, especially in the English of the seventeenth century; and have rarely made any change where the true meaning of the original as expressed in the Authorised Version would be apparent to a reader of ordinary intelligence.

3. We now come to the subject of Language.

The second of the rules, by which the work has been governed, prescribed that the alterations to be introduced should be expressed, as far as possible, in the language of the Authorised Version or of the Versions that preceded it.

To this rule we have faithfully adhered. We have habitually consulted the earlier Versions; and in our sparing introduction of words not found in them or in the Authorised Version we have usually satisfied ourselves that such words were employed by standard writers of nearly the same date, and had also that general hue which justified their introduction into a Version which has held the highest place in the classical literature of our language. We have never removed any archaisms, whether in structure or in words, except where we were persuaded either that the meaning of the words was not generally understood, or that the nature of the expression led to some misconception of the true sense of the passage. The frequent inversions of the strict order of the words, which add much to the strength and variety of the Authorised Version, and give an archaic colour to many felicities of diction, have been seldom modified. Indeed, we have often adopted the same arrangement in our own alterations; and in this, as in other particulars, we have sought to assimilate the new work to the old.

In a few exceptional cases we have failed to find any word in the older stratum of our language that appeared to convey the precise meaning of the original. There, and there only, we have used words of a later date; but not without having first assured ourselves that they are to be found in the writings of the best authors of the period to which they belong.

In regard of Proper Names no rule was prescribed to us. In the case of names of frequent occurrence we have deemed it best to follow generally the rule laid down for our predecessors. That rule, it may be remembered, was to this effect, 'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' Some difficulty has been felt in dealing with names less familiarly known. Here our general practice has been to follow the Greek form of names, except in the case of persons and places mentioned in the Old Testament: in this case we have followed the Hebrew.

4. The subject of the Marginal Notes deserves special attention. They represent the results of a large amount of careful and elaborate discussion, and will, perhaps, by their very presence, indicate to some extent the intricacy of many of the questions that have almost daily come before us for decision. These Notes fall into four main groups: first, notes specifying such differences of reading as were judged to be of sufficient importance to require a particular notice; secondly, notes indicating the exact rendering of words to which, for the sake of English idiom, we were obliged to give a less exact rendering in the text; thirdly, notes, very few in number, affording some explanation which the original appeared to require; fourthly, alternative renderings in difficult or debateable passages. The notes of this last group are numerous, and largely in excess of those which were admitted by our predecessors. In the 270 years that have passed away since their labours were concluded, the Sacred Text has been minutely examined, discussed in every detail, and analysed with a grammatical precision unknown in the days of the last Revision. There has thus been accumulated a large amount of materials that have prepared the way for different renderings, which necessarily came under discussion. We have therefore placed before the reader in the margin other renderings than those which were adopted in the text, wherever such renderings seemed to deserve consideration. The rendering in the text, where it agrees with the Authorised Version, was supported by at least one third, and, where it differs from the Authorised Version, by at least two thirds of those who were present at the second revision of the passage in question.

A few supplementary matters have yet to be mentioned. These may be thus enumerated, — the use of Italics, the arrangement in Paragraphs, the mode of printing Quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament, the Punctuation, and, last of all, the Titles of the different Books that make up the New Testament, — all of them particulars on which it seems desirable to add a few explanatory remarks.

(a) The determination, in each place, of the words to be printed in italics has not been by any means easy; nor can we hope to be found in all cases perfectly consistent. In the earliest editions of the Authorised Version the use of a different type to indicate supplementary words not contained in the original was not very frequent, and cannot easily be reconciled with any settled principle. A review of the words so printed was made, after a lapse of some years, for the editions of the Authorised Version published at Cambridge in 1629 and 1638. Further, though slight, modifications were introduced at intervals between 1638 and the more systematic revisions undertaken respectively by Dr. Paris in the Cambridge Edition of 1762, and by Dr. Blayney in the Oxford Edition of 1769. None of them however rest on any higher authority than that of the persons who from time to time superintended the publication. The last attempt to bring the use of italics into uniformity and consistency was made by Dr. Scrivener in the Paragraph Bible published at Cambridge in 1870–73. In succeeding to these labours, we have acted on the general principle of printing in italics words which did not appear to be necessarily involved in the Greek. Our tendency has been to diminish rather than to increase the amount of italic printing; though, in the case of difference of readings, we have usually marked the absence of any words in the original which the sense might nevertheless require to be present in the Version; and again, in the case of inserted pronouns, where the reference did not appear to be perfectly certain, we have similarly had recourse to italics. Some of these cases, especially when there are slight differences of reading, are of singular intricacy, and make it impossible to maintain rigid uniformity.

(b) We have arranged the Sacred Text in paragraphs, after the precedent of the earliest English Versions, so as to assist the general reader in following the current of narrative or argument. The present arrangement will be found, we trust, to have preserved the due mean between a system of long portions which must often include several separate topics, and a system of frequent breaks which, though they may correctly indicate the separate movements of thought in the writer, often seriously impede a just perception of the true continuity of the passage. The traditional division into chapters, which the Authorised Version inherited from Latin Bibles of the later middle ages, is an illustration of the former method. These paragraphs, for such in fact they are, frequently include several distinct subjects. Moreover they sometimes, though rarely, end where there is no sufficient break in the sense. The division of chapters into verses, which was introduced into the New Testament for the first time in 1551, is an exaggeration of the latter method, with its accompanying inconveniences. The serious obstacles to the right understanding of Holy Scripture, which are interposed by minute subdivision, are often overlooked; but if any one will consider for a moment the injurious effect that would be produced by breaking up a portion of some great standard work into separate verses, he will at once perceive how necessary has been an alteration in this particular. The arrangement by chapters and verses undoubtedly affords facilities for reference: but this advantage we have been able to retain by placing the numerals on the inside margin of each page.

(c) A few words will suffice as to the mode of printing quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament. Wherever the quotation extends to two or more lines, our practice has been to recognise the parallelism of their structure by arranging the lines in a manner that appears to agree with the metrical divisions of the Hebrew original. Such an arrangement will be found helpful to the reader; not only as directing his attention to the poetical character of the quotation, but as also tending to make its force and pertinence more fully felt. We have treated in the same way the hymns in the first two chapters of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

(d) Great care has been bestowed on the punctuation. Our practice has been to maintain what is sometimes called the heavier system of stopping, or, in other words, that system which, especially for convenience in reading aloud, suggests such pauses as will best ensure a clear and intelligent setting forth of the true meaning of the words. This course has rendered necessary, especially in the Epistles, a larger use of colons and semicolons than is customary in modern English printing.

(e) We may in the last place notice one particular to which we were not expressly directed to extend our revision, namely, the titles of the Books of the New Testament. These titles are no part of the original text; and the titles found in the most ancient manuscripts are of too short a form to be convenient for use. Under these circumstances, we have deemed it best to leave unchanged the titles which are given in the Authorised Version as printed in 1611.

We now conclude, humbly commending our labours to Almighty God, and praying that His favour and blessing may be vouchsafed to that which has been done in His name. We recognised from the first the responsibility of the undertaking; and through our manifold experience of its abounding difficulties we have felt more and more, as we went onward, that such a work can never be accomplished by organised efforts of scholarship and criticism, unless assisted by Divine help.

We know full well that defects must have their place in a work so long and so arduous as this which has now come to an end. Blemishes and imperfections there are in the noble Translation which we have been called upon to revise; blemishes and imperfections will assuredly be found in our own Revision. All endeavours to translate the Holy Scriptures into another tongue must fall short of their aim, when the obligation is imposed of producing a Version that shall be alike literal and idiomatic, faithful to each thought of the original, and yet, in the expression of it, harmonious and free. While we dare to hope that in places not a few of the New Testament the introduction of slight changes has cast a new light upon much that was difficult and obscure, we cannot forget how often we have failed in expressing some finer shade of meaning which we recognised in the original, how often idiom has stood in the way of a perfect rendering, and how often the attempt to preserve a familiar form of words, or even a familiar cadence, has only added another perplexity to those which already beset us.

Thus, in the review of the work which we have been permitted to complete, our closing words must be words of mingled thanksgiving, humility, and prayer. Of thanksgiving, for the many blessings vouchsafed to us throughout the unbroken progress of our corporate labours; of humility, for our failings and imperfections in the fulfilment of our task; and of prayer to Almighty God, that the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ may be more clearly and more freshly shewn forth to all who shall be readers of this Book.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO
S. MATTHEW.

1 [1] [a] THE book of the [2] generation of Jesus Christ, [b] the son of David, [c] the son of Abraham.

2 [d] Abraham begat Isaac; and [e] Isaac begat Jacob; and [f] Jacob begat Judah and his brethren; 3 and [g] Judah begat Perez and Zerah of Tamar; and Perez begat Hezron; and Hezron begat [3] Ram; 4 and [3] Ram begat Amminadab; and Amminadab begat Nahshon; and Nahshon begat Salmon; 5 and Salmon begat Boaz of [h] Rahab; and Boaz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse; 6 and [i] Jesse begat David the king.

And [j] David begat Solomon of [k] her that had been the wife of Uriah; 7 and [l] Solomon begat Rehoboam; and Rehoboam begat Abijah; and Abijah begat [4] Asa; 8 and [4] Asa begat Jehoshaphat; and Jehoshaphat begat Joram; [m] and Joram begat Uzziah; 9 and Uzziah begat Jotham; and Jotham begat Ahaz; and Ahaz begat Hezekiah; 10 and Hezekiah begat Manasseh; and Manasseh begat [5] Amon; and [5] Amon begat Josiah; 11 and [n] Josiah begat [o] Jechoniah and his brethren, at the time of the [6] carrying away to Babylon.

12 And after the [6] carrying away to Babylon, [p] Jechoniah begat [7] [q] Shealtiel; and [7] [r] Shealtiel begat Zerubbabel; 13 and Zerubbabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor; 14 and Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat Achim; and Achim begat Eliud; 15 and Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthan; and Matthan begat Jacob; 16 and Jacob begat [s] Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham unto David are fourteen generations; and from David unto the [6] carrying away to Babylon fourteen generations; and from the [6] carrying away to Babylon unto [t] the Christ fourteen generations.

18 Now the [8] birth [9] of [u] Jesus Christ was on this wise: [v] When his mother Mary had been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together she was found with child [w] of the [10] Holy Ghost. 19 And Joseph her husband, being a righteous man, and not willing [x] to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily. 20 But when he thought on these things, behold, [y] an angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is [11] conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. 21 And she shall bring forth a son; and [z] thou shalt call his name JESUS; [a] for it is he that shall save his people from their sins. 22 [b] Now all this is come to pass, [c] that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,

23 [d] Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son,
And they shall call his name [12] [e] Immanuel;

which is, being interpreted, God [f] with us. 24 And Joseph arose from his sleep, and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took unto him his wife; 25 and knew her not till she had brought forth a son: and [g] he called his name JESUS.

2 1 Now [h] when Jesus was born in [i] Bethlehem of Judæa [j] in the days of Herod the king, behold, 2 [k] wise men from [l] the east came to Jerusalem, 2 saying, [14] Where is he that is born [m] King of the Jews? for we saw [n] his star in the east, and are come to [o] worship him. 3 And when Herod the king heard it, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. 4 And gathering together all the chief priests and 13 [l] Then cometh Jesus [m] from Galilee to the Jordan unto John; to be baptized of him. 14 But [n] John would have hindered him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me? 15 But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer [3] it now: for thus it becometh [o] us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffereth him. 16 And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway from the water: and lo, [p] the heavens were opened [4] unto him, and he [q] saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon him; 17 and lo, [r] a voice out of the heavens, saying, [5] [s] This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

4 1 [t] Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness [u] to be tempted of the devil. 2 And when he had fasted [v] forty days and forty nights, he afterward [w] hungered. 3 And [x] the tempter came and said unto him, If thou art [y] the Son of God, command that [z] these stones become [6] bread. 4 But he answered and said, [a] It is written, [b] Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. 5 [c] Then the devil taketh him into [d] the holy city; and he set him on the [7] pinnacle of the temple, 6 and saith unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written,

[e] He shall give his angels charge concerning thee:
And on their hands they shall bear thee up,
Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, Again [f] it is written, [g] Thou shalt not [h] tempt the Lord thy God. 8 [i] Again, the devil taketh him unto an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; 9 and he said unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. 10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, [j] Satan: for [k] it is written, [l] Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and [m] him only shalt thou serve. 11 Then the devil leaveth him; and behold, [n] angels came and ministered unto him.

12 Now when he heard that [o] John was delivered up, [p] he withdrew into Galilee; 13 and leaving [q] Nazareth, he came and dwelt in [r] Capernaum, which is by [s] the sea, in the borders of [t] Zebulun and Naphtali: 14 [u] that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [8] by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

15 [v] The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali,
[9] Toward the sea, beyond Jordan,
[w] Galilee of the [10] Gentiles,
16 [x] The people which sat in darkness
Saw a great light,
And to them which sat in the region and [y] shadow of death,
To them did light spring up.

17 [z] From that time [a] began Jesus to preach, and to say, [b] Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 [c] And walking by [d] the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers. 19 And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you [e] fishers of men. 20 And they straightway left the nets, and followed him. 21 And going on from thence he saw other two brethren, [11] James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them. 22 And they straightway left the boat and their father, and followed him.

23 [f] And [1] Jesus went about in all Galilee, [g] teaching in their synagogues, and [h] preaching the [2] gospel of the kingdom, and [i] healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people. 24 And the report of him went forth into all [j] Syria: and [i] they brought unto him all that were sick, holden with divers diseases and [k] torments, [3] [l] possessed with devils, and [m] epileptic, and [n] palsied; and he healed them. 25 [o] And there followed him great multitudes from Galilee and [p] Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judæa and from beyond Jordan.

5 1 And seeing the multitudes, [q] he went up into the mountain: and when he had [r] sat down, his disciples came unto him: 2 and [s] he opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

3 [t] Blessed are [u] the poor [v] in spirit: for [w] theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 [t] Blessed are [x] they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are [y] the [v] meek: for they [y] shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they that hunger and [z] thirst [a] after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are [b] the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are [c] the pure in heart: for [d] they shall see God.

9 Blessed are [e] the peacemakers: for [f] they shall be called [g] sons of God.

10 [h] Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for [w] theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 11 [i] Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, [j] for my sake. 12 [k] Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for [l] so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 Ye are the salt of the earth: [m] but if the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men. 14 [n] Ye are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid. 15 [o] Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth unto all that are in the house. 16 Even so let your light shine before men, [p] that they may see your good works, and [q] glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 [r] Think not that I came to destroy [s] the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but [t] to fulfil. 18 For verily I say unto you, [u] Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from the law, till all things be accomplished. 19 [v] Whosoever therefore shall break [w] one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least [x] in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great [x] in the kingdom of heaven. 20 For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed [y] the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye [z] shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 [a] Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, [b] Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of [c] the judgement: 22 but I say unto you, that [d] every one who is angry with his brother [5] shall be in danger of [c] the judgement; and whosoever shall say to his brother, [6] Raca, shall be in danger of [c] the council; and whosoever shall say, [7] [f] Thou fool, shall be in danger [8] of [g] the [9] hell of fire. 23 [h] If therefore [i] thou art offering thy gift at the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee, 24 leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. 25 [j] Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art with him in the way; lest haply the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge [10] deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. 26 Verily I say unto thee, [k] Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till, thou have paid the last farthing.

27 [l] Ye have heard that it was said, [m] Thou shalt not commit adultery: 28 but I say unto you, that [n] every one that looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. 29 [o] And if thy right eye [p] causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body be cast into [1] [q] hell. 30 [o] And if thy right hand [p] causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body go into [1] [q] hell. 31 [l] It was said also, [r] Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: 32 [s] but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress: and [t] whosoever shall marry her when she is put away committeth adultery.

33 Again, [l] ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, [u] Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but [v] shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths: 34 but I say unto you, [w] Swear not at all; neither by the heaven, for [x] it is the throne of God; 35 nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor [2] by Jerusalem, for it is [y] the city of the great King. 36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, for thou canst not make one hair white or black. 37 [3] But let your speech be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: and [z] whatsoever is more than these is of [4] [a] the evil one.

38 [l] Ye have heard that it was said, [b] An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: 39 but I say unto you, [c] Resist not [5] him that is evil: but [d] whosoever [e] smiteth thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. 40 And [c] if any man would go to law with thee, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloke also. 41 And whosoever shall [6] [f] compel thee to go one mile, go with him twain. 42 [g] Give to him that asketh thee, and [h] from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 [i] Ye have heard that it was said, [j] Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and [k] hate thine enemy: 44 but I say unto you, [l] Love your enemies, and [m] pray for them that persecute you; 45 [n] that ye may be sons of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and [o] sendeth rain on the just and the unjust. 46 [p] For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? do not even the [7] publicans the same? 47 And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even [q] the Gentiles the same? 48 [r] Ye therefore shall be [s] perfect, [t] as your heavenly Father is perfect.

6 1 Take heed that ye [u] do not your righteousness before men, [v] to be seen of them: else ye have no reward with your Father which is in heaven.

2 [w] When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may [x] have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have [y] received their reward. 3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: 4 that thine alms may be in secret: [z] and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

5 And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites: for they love [a] to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. [b] Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. 6 But thou, when thou prayest, [c] enter into thine inner chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, [d] and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee. 7 And in praying use not vain repetitions, as [e] the Gentiles do: for [f] they think that they shall be heard [g] for their much speaking. 8 Be not therefore like unto them: [h] for [8] your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. 9 [i] After this manner therefore pray ye: [j] Our Father which art in heaven, [k] Hallowed be [i] thy name. 10 [m] Thy kingdom come. [n] Thy will be done, [o] as in heaven, so on earth. 11 [p] Give us [q] this day [9] our daily bread. 12 And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. 13 And [r] bring us not into temptation, but [s] deliver us from [1] [t] the evil one.[2] [u] 14 [v] For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. 15 [w] But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 Moreover [x] when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may be seen of men to fast. [y] Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. 17 But thou, when thou fastest, [z] anoint thy head, and wash thy face; 18 that thou be not seen of men to fast, but of thy Father which is in secret: [a] and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall recompense thee.

19 [b] Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where [c] moth and rust doth consume, and where thieves [3] [d] break through and steal: 20 [b] but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do not [3] break through nor steal: 21 for where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. 22 [e] The lamp of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. 23 [e] But if [f] thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is the darkness! 24 [g] No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and [h] mammon. 25 [i] Therefore I say unto you, [j] Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the raiment? 26 [k] Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. [l] Are not ye of much more value than they? 27 And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit unto his [4] [m] stature? 28 And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: 29 yet I say unto you, that [n] even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 30 But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, [o] O ye of little faith? 31 Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? 32 For after all these things do [p] the Gentiles seek; [q] for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. 33 But [r] seek ye first [s] his kingdom, and his righteousness; [t] and all these things shall be added unto you. 34 [u] Be not therefore anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

7 1 [v] Judge not, that ye be not judged. 2 [w] For with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged: and [x] with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you. 3 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but [y] considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? 4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me cast out the mote out of thine eye; and lo, the beam is in thine own eye? 5 Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 [z] Give not that which is holy unto [a] the dogs, neither cast your [b] pearls before the swine, lest haply they trample them under their feet, and turn and rend you.

7 [c] Ask, [d] and it shall be given you; [e] seek, and ye shall find; [f] knock, and it shall be opened unto you: 8 for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. 9 Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for [g] a loaf, will give him [g] a stone; 10 or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent? 11 If ye then, [h] being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall [d] your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?

12 [i] All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is [j] the law and the prophets.

13 [k] Enter ye in by the narrow gate: for wide [1] is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many be they that enter in thereby. 14 [2] For narrow is the gate, and straitened [l] the way, that leadeth unto life, and [m] few be they that find it.

15 [n] Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are [o] ravening wolves. 16 [p] By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? 17 Even so [q] every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but the corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. 18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. 19 [r] Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. 20 Therefore [p] by their fruits ye shall know them. 21 [s] Not every one that [t] saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall [u] enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that [v] doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. 22 [w] Many will say to me [x] in that day, Lord, Lord, did we not [y] prophesy by thy name, and [z] by thy name cast out [3] devils, and by thy name do many [4] mighty works? 23 [w] And then will I profess unto them, I [a] never knew you; [b] depart from me, [c] ye that work iniquity. 24 [d] Every one therefore which heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto [e] a wise man, which built his house upon the rock: 25 and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for [5] it was founded upon the rock. 26 And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto [e] a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: 27 and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.

28 And it came to pass, when Jesus ended these words, [f] the multitudes were astonished at his teaching: 29 [g] for he taught them as one having authority, and not as their scribes.

8 1 And when he was come down from the mountain, [h] great multitudes followed him. 2 [i] And behold, there came to him a leper and [j] worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 3 And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway his leprosy was cleansed. 4 And Jesus saith unto him, [k] See thou tell no man; but go thy way, [l] shew thyself to the priest, and [m] offer the gift that Moses commanded, [n] for a testimony unto them.

5 And [o] when he was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, 6 and saying, Lord, my [6] servant lieth in the house sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. 7 And he saith unto him, I will come and heal him. 8 And the centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not [7] worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but [p] only say [8] the word, and my [6] servant shall be healed. 9 For I also am a man [9] under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my [9] servant, Do this, and he doeth it. 10 And when Jesus heard it, [q] he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, [10] I have not found so great [r] faith, no, not in Israel. 11 And I say unto you, that [s] many shall come from the east and the west, and shall [11] sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven: 12 [t] but the sons of the kingdom [u] shall be cast forth into the outer darkness: [v] there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 13 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; [w] as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. [x] And the [6] servant was healed in that hour.

wife's mother lying sick of a fever. 15 And he [a] touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she arose, and ministered unto him. 16 And when even was come, they brought unto him many [1 b] possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits [c] with a word, and healed all that were sick: 17 [d] that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [2] by Isaiah the prophet, saying, [e] Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases.

18 Now [f] when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, [g] he gave commandment to depart unto the other side. 19 [h] And there came [3] a scribe, and said unto him, [4] Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. 20 And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have [5] [i] nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. 21 And another of the disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. 22 But Jesus saith unto him, Follow me; and leave [j] the dead to bury their own dead.

23 [k] And when he was entered into a boat, his disciples followed him. 24 And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the boat was covered with the waves: but [l] he was asleep. 25 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, [m] Save, Lord; we perish. 26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye [n] fearful, [o] O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and [p] rebuked the winds and the sea; and [q] there was a great calm. 27 And the men [r] marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even [s] the winds and the sea obey him?

28 [t] And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gadarenes, there met him two [1 u] possessed with devils, coming forth out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man could pass by that way. 29 And behold, they [v] cried out, saying, [w] What have we to do with thee, [x] thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us [y] before the time? 30 Now there was afar off from them a herd of many swine feeding. 31 And the [6] devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, send us away into the herd of swine. 32 And he said unto them, Go. And they came out, and went into the swine: and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep into the sea, and perished in the waters. 33 And they that fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, and what was befallen to them that were [1 z] possessed with devils. 34 And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, [a] they besought him that he would depart from their borders.

1 And he entered into a boat, 9 and crossed over, and came into [b] his own city. 2 [c] And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus [d] seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy, [7] Son, [e] be of good cheer; [f] thy sins are forgiven. 3 And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, [g] This man blasphemeth. 4 And Jesus [8 h] knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? 5 For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and walk? 6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath [9] power on earth to forgive sins (then saith he to the sick of the palsy), Arise, and take up thy bed, and go unto thy house. 7 And he arose, and departed to his house. 8 But when the multitudes saw it, [i] they were afraid, and [i] glorified God, which had [j] given such [9] power unto men.

9 [k] And as Jesus passed by from thence, he saw a man, called [l] Matthew, sitting at the place of toll: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 And it came to pass, as he [10] sat at meat in the house, behold, many [m] publicans and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples. 11 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, [n] Why eateth your [4] Master with [m] the publicans and sinners? 12 But when he heard it, he said, They that are [11] whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick. 13 But go ye and learn [o] what this meaneth, [p] I desire mercy, and not sacrifice: for [q] I came not to call the righteous, [r] but sinners.

14 Then come to him [s] the disciples of John, saying, [t] Why do we and [u] the Pharisees fast [1] oft, but thy disciples fast not? 15 And Jesus said unto them, [v] Can the sons of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but [w] the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and [x] then will they fast. 16 And no man putteth a piece of undressed cloth upon an old garment; for that which should fill it up taketh from the garment, and a worse rent is made. 17 Neither do men put new wine into old [2] [y] wine-skins: else the skins burst, and the wine is spilled, and the skins perish: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins, and both are preserved.

18 [z] While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came [3] a ruler, and [a] worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. 19 And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples. 20 And behold, a woman, [b] who had an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched [c] the border of his garment: 21 for she said within herself, If I do but touch his garment, I shall be [4] made whole. 22 But Jesus turning and seeing her said, Daughter, [d] be of good cheer; thy faith hath [5] made thee whole. [e] And the woman was [4] made whole from that hour. 23 And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw [f] the flute-players, and the crowd making a tumult, 24 he said, Give place: for [g] the damsel is not dead, but [h] sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. 25 But [i] when the crowd was put forth, he entered in, and [j] took her by the hand; and the damsel arose. 26 And [6] the fame hereof went forth into all that land.

27 [k] And as Jesus passed by from thence, two blind men followed him, crying out, and saying, Have mercy on us, [l] thou son of David. 28 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They say unto him, Yea, Lord. 29 [m] Then touched he their eyes, saying, [n] According to your faith be it done unto you. 30 And their eyes were opened. And Jesus [7] strictly charged them, saying, [o] See that no man know it. 31 [p] But they went forth, and spread abroad his fame in all that land.

32 And as they went forth, behold, [q] there was brought to him a dumb man [r] possessed with a [8] devil. 33 And when the [8] devil was cast out, the dumb man spake: and the multitudes [s] marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel. 34 But the Pharisees said, [9] By the prince of the [10] devils casteth he out [10] devils.

35 [t] And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness. 36 But [u] when he saw the multitudes, [v] he was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and scattered, [w] as sheep not having a shepherd. 37 [x] Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few. 38 [y] Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he [z] send forth labourers into his harvest. 1 [a] And he called 10 unto him his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of disease and all manner of sickness.

2 [b] Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: The first, Simon, [c] who is called Peter, and [d] Andrew his brother; [d] James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; 3 Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and [e] Matthew the publican; James the son of Alphæus, and Thaddæus; 4 Simon the [11] Cananæan, and Judas Iscariot, who also [12] betrayed him. 5 [a] These twelve Jesus sent forth, and charged them, saying,

Go not into any way of the Gentiles, and enter not into any city of [f] the Samaritans: 6 [g] but go rather to [h] the lost sheep of [i] the house of Israel. 7 And as ye go, preach, saying, [j] The kingdom of heaven is at hand. 8 [k] Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out [10] devils: [l] freely ye received, freely give. 9 [m] Get you no gold, nor silver, nor brass in your [13] purses; 10 no wallet for your journey, neither two coats, nor shoes, nor staff:

for [n] the labourer is worthy of his food. 11 And into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, search out who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go forth. 12 And as ye enter into the house, [o] salute it. 13 And if the house be [p] worthy, let [o] your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let [o] your peace [q] return to you. 14 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, as ye go forth out of that house or that city, [r] shake off the dust of your feet. 15 Verily I say unto you, [s] It shall be more tolerable for [t] the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgement, than for that city.

16 [u] Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore [v] wise as serpents, and [1] [w] harmless as doves. 17 But beware of men: for [x] they will deliver you up to [y] councils, and [z] in their synagogues they will scourge you; 18 [x] yea and before governors and kings shall ye be brought for my sake, [a] for a testimony to them and to the Gentiles. 19 [b] But [x] when they deliver you up, [c] be not anxious how or what ye shall speak: for [d] it shall be given you in that hour what ye shall speak. 20 [e] For it is not ye that speak, but [f] the Spirit of your Father that speaketh in you. 21 [g] And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child: and children shall rise up against parents, and [2] cause them to be put to death. 22 [h] And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: [i] but he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. 23 But when they [j] persecute you in this city, [k] flee into the next: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone through the cities of Israel, [l] till the Son of man be come.

24 [m] A disciple is not above his [3] master, nor a [4] servant above his lord. 25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his [3] master, and the [4] servant as his lord. [n] If they have called the master of the house [5] [o] Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household! 26 Fear them not therefore: [p] for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known. 27 What I tell you in the darkness, speak ye in the light: and what ye hear in the ear, proclaim upon [q] the housetops. 28 And [r] be not afraid of them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him [s] which is able to destroy both soul and body in [6] [t] hell. 29 Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and not one of them shall fall on the ground without your Father: 30 but [u] the very hairs of your head are all numbered. 31 Fear not therefore; [v] ye are of more value than many sparrows. 32 [w] Every one therefore who shall confess [7] me before men, [8] him will I also confess before my Father which is in heaven. 33 But [x] whosoever shall deny me before men, [y] him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.

34 [z] Think not that I came to [9] send peace on the earth: [a] I came not to [9] send peace, but a sword. 35 [z] For I came [b] to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law: 36 [c] and a man's foes shall be they of his own household. 37 [d] He that loveth father or mother more than me is not [e] worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. 38 And [f] he that doth not take his cross and [g] follow after me, is not worthy of me. 39 [h] He that [10] findeth his [11] life shall lose it; and he that [12] loseth his [11] life for my sake shall find it.

40 [i] He that receiveth you receiveth me, and [j] he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. 41 [k] He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward. 42 And [l] whosoever shall give to drink unto one of [m] these little ones a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.

he departed thence to teach and preach in their cities.

2 [n] Now when John heard [o] in the prison the works of [p] the Christ, he sent by [q] his disciples, 3 and said unto him, Art thou [r] he that cometh, or [s] look we for another? 4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Go your way and tell John the things which ye do hear and see: 5 [t] the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and [u] the poor have [1] good tidings preached to them. 6 And blessed is he, whosoever shall [v] find none occasion of stumbling in me. 7 And as these went their way, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out [w] into the wilderness to behold? [x] a reed shaken with the wind? 8 But what went ye out for to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft raiment are in kings' houses. 9 [2] But wherefore went ye out? to see [y] a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. 10 This is he, of whom it is written,

> [z] Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
> Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist: yet he that is [3] but little in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he. 12 And [a] from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and men of violence take it by force. 13 [a] For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. 14 And if ye are willing to receive [4] it, this is [b] Elijah, which is to come. 15 [c] He that hath ears [5] to hear, let him hear. 16 But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the market-places, which call unto their fellows, 17 and say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did not [6] mourn. 18 For John came [d] neither eating [e] nor drinking, and they say, He hath a [7] devil. 19 The Son of man came [f] eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, [g] a friend of [h] publicans and sinners! And [i] wisdom [8] is justified by her [9] works.

20 [j] Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his [10] mighty works were done, because they repented not. 21 [k] Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the [10] mighty works had been done in [l] Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. 22 [m] Howbeit I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for [k] Tyre and Sidon in [n] the day of judgement, than for you. 23 And thou, Capernaum, [o] shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt [11] go down unto [p] Hades: for if the [10] mighty works had been done in Sodom which were done in thee, it would have remained until this day. 24 [m] Howbeit I say unto you, that [q] it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in [n] the day of judgement, than for thee.

25 [r] At that season Jesus answered and said, I [12] thank thee, O Father, [s] Lord of heaven and earth, that [t] thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst [u] reveal them unto babes: 26 yea, Father, [13] for so [v] it was well-pleasing in thy sight. 27 [w] All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth the Son, [x] save the Father; neither doth any know the Father, save the Son, and he [y] to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him. 28 [z] Come unto [a] me, all ye that labour and are [b] heavy laden, and I will give you rest. 29 Take my [c] yoke upon you, and [d] learn of me; for I am [e] meek and lowly in heart: and [f] ye shall find rest unto your souls. 30 For [g] my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

12 1 At that season [h] Jesus went on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples were an hungred, and [i] began to pluck ears of corn, and to eat. 2 But the Pharisees, when they saw it, said unto him, [j] Behold, thy disciples do [k] that which it is not lawful to do upon the sabbath. 3 But he said unto them, [l] Have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungred, and they that were with him; 4 how he entered into the house of God, and [1] did eat [m] the shewbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them that were with him, but only for the priests? 5 Or have ye not read [n] in the law, how that on the sabbath day the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are guiltless? 6 But I say unto you, [o] that [2] one greater than the temple is here. 7 But if ye had known [p] what this meaneth, [q] I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless. 8 For [r] the Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

9 And he departed thence, and [s] went into their synagogue: 10 and behold, a man having a withered hand. And they asked him, saying, [t] Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? [u] that they might accuse him. 11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be of you, that shall have one sheep, and [v] if this fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? 12 [w] How much then is a man of more value than a sheep! Wherefore [x] it is lawful to do good on the sabbath day. 13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And [y] he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, as the other. 14 But the Pharisees went out, and [z] took counsel against him, how they might destroy him. 15 And Jesus perceiving it [a] withdrew from thence: and [b] many followed him; and he healed them all, 16 and [c] charged them that they should not make him known: 17 [d] that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [3] by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

18 [e] Behold, my [f] servant whom I have chosen;
[g] My beloved in whom my soul is well pleased:
[h] I will put my Spirit upon him,
And he shall declare judgement to the Gentiles.
19 He shall not strive, nor cry aloud;
Neither shall any one hear his voice in the streets.
20 A bruised reed shall he not break,
And smoking flax shall he not quench,
Till he send forth judgement unto victory.
21 [i] And in his name shall the Gentiles hope.

22 [j] Then was brought unto him [4] one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the dumb man spake and saw. 23 [k] And all the multitudes were amazed, and said, [k] Is this the son of David? 24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This man doth not cast out [5] devils, [l] but [6] by Beelzebub the prince of the [5] devils. 25 And [m] knowing their thoughts [n] he said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand: 26 and if Satan casteth out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then shall his kingdom stand? 27 And if I [6] by Beelzebub cast out [5] devils, [6] o] by whom do [p] your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges. 28 But if I [6] q] by the Spirit of God cast out [5] devils, then is [r] the kingdom of God come upon you. 29 Or [s] how can one enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then [t] he will spoil his house. 30 [u] He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. 31 [v] Therefore I say unto you, Every sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven [7] unto men; but [w] the blasphemy against the Spirit shall not be forgiven. 32 And whosoever shall speak a word [x] against the Son of man, [y] it shall be forgiven him; but [w] whosoever shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in [z] this [8] world, nor in that which is to come. 33 [a] Either make the tree good, and its fruit good; or make the tree corrupt, and its fruit corrupt: [b] for the tree is known by its fruit. 34 [c] Ye offspring of vipers, how can ye, [d] being evil, speak good things? dance of the heart the mouth speaketh. 35 [c]The good man out of his good treasure bringeth forth good things: and the evil man out of his evil treasure bringeth forth evil things. 36 And I say unto you, that [d]every idle word that men shall speak, [e]they shall give account thereof [h]in the day of judgement. 37 For [i]by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 Then certain of the scribes and Pharisees answered him, saying, [1]Master, [j]we would see a sign from thee. 39 But he answered and said unto them, [k]An evil and [l]adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jonah the prophet: 40 for [m]as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the [2]whale; [n]so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. 41 [o]The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation, and [p]shall condemn it: for [q]they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, [3][r]a greater than Jonah is here. 42 [s]The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, [3][r]a greater than Solomon is here. 43 But [t]the unclean spirit, when [4]he is gone out of the man, passeth through [u]waterless places, seeking rest, and findeth it not. 44 Then [4]he saith, I will return into my house whence I came out; and when [4]he is come, [4]he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished. 45 Then goeth [4]he, and taketh with [5]himself seven other spirits more evil than [5]himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and [v]the last state of that man becometh worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this [w]evil generation.

46 While he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold, [x]his mother and his [y]brethren stood without, seeking to speak to him. 47 [6]And one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, seeking to speak to thee. 48 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren? 49 And he stretched forth his hand towards his disciples, and said, Behold, my mother and my brethren! 50 For [z]whosoever shall [a]do the will of my Father which is in heaven, he is my brother, and sister, and mother.

13 1 On that day went Jesus out of the house, [b]and sat by the sea side. 2 And there were gathered unto him great multitudes, [c]so that he entered into a boat, and sat; and all the multitude stood on the beach. 3 And [d]he spake to them many things in parables, saying, Behold, [e]the sower went forth to sow; 4 and as he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured them: 5 and others fell upon the rocky places, where they had not much earth: and straightway they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth: 6 and [f]when the sun was risen, they were scorched; and because they had no root, [g]they withered away. 7 And others fell upon [h]the thorns; and the thorns grew up, and choked them: 8 and others fell upon the good ground, and yielded fruit, some [i]a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. 9 [j]He that hath ears[7], let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables? 11 And he answered and said unto them, [k]Unto you it is given [l]to know [m]the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. 12 [n]For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but whosoever hath not, [o]from him shall be taken away even that which he hath. 13 Therefore speak I to them in parables; because [p]seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, [q]neither do they understand. 14 And unto them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which saith,

> [r]By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand;
> And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:
> 15 For this people's heart is waxed gross,

And their ears are s dull of hearing,
And t their eyes they have closed;
Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes,
And hear with their ears,
And u understand with their heart,
And v should turn again,
And I should heal them.

16 But w blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear. 17 w For verily I say unto you, x that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not. 18 y Hear then ye the parable of the sower. 19 When any one heareth the word of z the kingdom, and a understandeth it not, then cometh b the evil one, and snatcheth away that which hath been sown in his heart. This is he that was sown by the way side. 20 And he that was sown upon the rocky places, this is he that heareth the word, and straightway c with joy receiveth it; 21 yet hath he not root in himself, but d endureth for a while; and when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway e he stumbleth. 22 And he that was sown among the thorns, this is he that heareth the word; and f the care of g the 1 world, and h the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful. 23 And he that was sown upon the good ground, this is he that heareth the word, and a understandeth it; who verily i beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some j a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

24 Another parable set he before them, saying, k The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man that sowed good seed in his field: 25 but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed 2 tares also among the wheat, and went away. 26 But when the blade sprang up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. 27 And the 3 servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? whence then hath it tares? 28 And he said unto them, 4 An enemy hath done this. And the 3 servants say unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? 29 But he saith, l Nay; lest haply while ye gather up the tares, ye root up the wheat with them. 30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather up first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but m gather the wheat into my barn.

31 Another parable set he before them, saying, n The kingdom of heaven is like unto o a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field: 32 which indeed is less than all seeds; but when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33 Another parable spake he unto them; p The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in q three 5 measures of meal, till it was r all leavened.

34 s All these things spake Jesus in parables unto the multitudes; and without a parable spake he nothing unto them: 35 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken 6 by the prophet, saying,

t I will open my mouth in parables;
u I will utter things hidden v from the foundation 7 of the world.

36 Then he left the multitudes, and went into w the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, x Explain unto us the parable of the tares of the field. 37 And he answered and said, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; 38 and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are y the sons of the kingdom; and the tares are z the sons of the evil one; 39 and the enemy that sowed them is the devil: and a the harvest is 8 b the end of the world; and the reapers are angels. 40 As therefore the tares c are gathered up and burned with fire; so shall it be in 8 b the end of the world. 41 d The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all e things that cause stumbling, and f them that do iniquity, 42 g and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: [h] there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 43 Then shall [i] the righteous shine forth as the sun [j] in the kingdom of their Father. [k] He that hath ears, let him hear.

44 The kingdom of heaven [l] is like unto a treasure hidden in the field; which a man found, and hid; and [l] in his joy [m] he goeth and selleth all that he hath, and [n] buyeth that field.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a merchant seeking goodly pearls: 46 and having found [o] one pearl of great price, [m] he went and sold all that he had, and [n] bought it.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is [p] like unto a [2] net, that was cast into the sea, and [q] gathered of every kind: 48 which, when it was filled, [r] they drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but the bad they cast away. 49 So shall it be in [s] [3] the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and [t] sever the wicked from among the righteous, 50 [u] and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: [u] there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

51 [v] Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea. 52 And he said unto them, Therefore every [w] scribe [x] who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which [y] bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

53 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence. 54 [z] And coming into [a] his own country [b] he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that [c] they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these [4] mighty works? 55 [d] Is not this [e] the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and [f] his brethren, James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Judas? 56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things? 57 And [g] they were [5] offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, [h] A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house. 58 And he did not many [4] mighty works there [i] because of their unbelief.

14 1 [j] At that season [k] Herod the tetrarch heard the report concerning Jesus, 2 and said unto his servants, [l] This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore do [m] these powers work in him. 3 For [n] Herod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and [o] put him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife. 4 For John said unto him, [p] It is not lawful for thee to have her. 5 And when he would have put him to death, he [q] feared the multitude, because they counted him as [r] a prophet. 6 But when Herod's [s] birthday came, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst, and pleased Herod. 7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she should ask. 8 And she, being put forward by her mother, saith, Give me here in a charger the head of John the Baptist. 9 And the king was grieved; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them which sat at meat with him, he commanded it to be given; 10 and he sent, and beheaded John in the prison. 11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother. 12 And [t] his disciples came, and took up the corpse, and buried him; and they went and told Jesus.

13 Now when Jesus heard it, [u] he withdrew from thence in a boat, to a desert place apart: and when the multitudes heard thereof, they followed him [6] on foot from the cities. 14 And he came forth, and [v] saw a great multitude, and [v] he had compassion on them, and healed their sick. 15 And when even was come, the disciples came to him, saying, The place is desert, and the time is already past; [w] send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves food. 16 But Jesus said unto them, They have no need to go away; [x] give ye them to eat. 17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes. 18 And he said, Bring them hither to me. 19 And he commanded the multitudes to sit down on the grass; and he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and [y] looking up to heaven, [z] he blessed, and brake and gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes. 20 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the broken pieces, twelve baskets full. 21 And they that did eat were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

22 [a] And straightway he [b] constrained the disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side, till he should send the multitudes away. 23 And after he had sent the multitudes away, [c] he went up into the mountain apart to pray: and when [d] even was come, he was there alone. 24 But the boat [2] was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the waves; for the wind was contrary. 25 And [d] in the fourth watch of the night he came unto them, walking upon the sea. 26 And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, [e] they were troubled, saying, It is [f] an apparition; and they cried out for fear. 27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, [g] Be of good cheer; it is I; [g] be not afraid. 28 And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee upon the waters. 29 And he said, Come. And Peter went down from the boat, and [h] walked upon the waters, [3] to come to Jesus. 30 But when he saw the wind [4], he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, [i] Lord, save me. 31 And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and took hold of him, and saith unto him, [j] O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou [k] doubt? 32 And when they were gone up into the boat, [l] the wind ceased. 33 And [l] they that were in the boat [m] worshipped him, saying, [n] Of a truth thou art [o] the Son of God.

34 [p] And when they had crossed over, they came to the land, unto [q] Gennesaret. 35 And when the men of that place knew him, they sent into all that region round about, and [r] brought unto him all that were sick, 36 and they besought him that they might only touch [r] the border of his garment: and [t] as many as touched were made whole.

15 1 [u] Then there come to Jesus [v] from Jerusalem Pharisees and [v] scribes, saying, 2 [w] Why do thy disciples transgress [x] the tradition of [y] the elders? [z] for they wash not their hands when they eat bread. 3 And he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition? 4 For God said, [a] Honour thy father and thy mother: and, [b] He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him [5] die the death. 5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is given to God; 6 he shall not honour his father [6]. And ye have [c] made void the [7] word of God because of your tradition. 7 [d] Ye hypocrites, well did Isaiah prophesy of you, saying,

8 [e] This people honoureth me with their lips;
But their heart is far from me.
9 But in vain do they worship me,
Teaching as their [f] doctrines the precepts of men.

10 And he called to him the multitude, and said unto them, [g] Hear, and understand: 11 [h] Not that which entereth into the mouth defileth the man; but that which proceedeth out of the mouth, this defileth the man. 12 Then came the disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were [8] [i] offended, when they heard this saying? 13 But he answered and said, [j] Every [9] plant which my heavenly Father planted not, [k] shall be rooted up. 14 Let them alone: [l] they are blind guides. And [m] if the blind guide the blind, both shall fall into a pit. 15 And Peter answered and said unto him, [n] Declare unto us the parable. 16 And he said, [o] Are ye also even yet without understanding? 17 Perceive ye not, that [p] whatsoever goeth into the mouth passeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught? 18 But [q] the things which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of the heart; and they defile the man. 19 For out of the heart come forth [r] evil thoughts, [s] murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, [t] railings: 20 [u] these are the things which defile the man: but [v] to eat with unwashen hands defileth not the man.

21 [w] And Jesus went out thence, and withdrew into the parts of Tyre and Sidon. 22 And behold, [x] a Canaanitish woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying, [y] Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a [1] devil. 23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, [z] Send her away; for she crieth after us. 24 But he answered and said, [a] I was not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. 25 But she came and [b] worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. 26 And he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's [2] bread and [c] cast it to the dogs. 27 But she said, Yea, Lord: for even the dogs eat of [d] the crumbs which fall from their masters' table. 28 Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, [e] great is thy faith: [f] be it done unto thee even as thou wilt. [g] And her daughter was [f] healed from that hour.

29 [h] And Jesus departed thence, and came [i] nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and he [j] went up into the mountain, and sat there. 30 And there came unto him great multitudes, having with them [k] the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and they cast them down at his feet; and he healed them: 31 [l] insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb speaking, [m] the maimed whole, and the lame walking, and the blind seeing: and [n] they glorified [o] the God of Israel.

32 [p] And Jesus called unto him his disciples, and said, [q] I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat: and I would not send them away fasting, lest haply they faint in the way. 33 And the disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so many loaves in a desert place, as to fill so great a multitude? 34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, [r] Seven, and a few small fishes. 35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground; 36 and he took the seven loaves and the fishes; and he [s] gave thanks and brake, and gave to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes. 37 And [t] they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the broken pieces, seven baskets full. 38 And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children. 39 And he sent away the multitudes, and entered into the boat, and came into the borders of [u] Magadan.

16 1 [v] And the Pharisees and Sadducees came, and [w] tempting him [x] asked him to shew them [y] a sign from heaven. 2 But he answered and said unto them, 3 [z] When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the heaven is red. 3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to-day: for the heaven is red and lowring. [a] Ye know how to discern the face of the heaven; but ye cannot discern [b] the signs of the times. 4 [c] An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of Jonah. And [d] he left them, and departed.

5 And the disciples came to the other side and forgot to take [4] bread. 6 And Jesus said unto them, Take heed and [e] beware of [f] the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. 7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, [5] We took no [4] bread. 8 And [g] Jesus perceiving it said, [h] O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have no [4] bread? 9 [i] Do ye not yet perceive, neither remember [j] the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many [6] baskets ye took up? 10 Neither [k] the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many [6] baskets ye took up? 11 How is it that ye do not perceive that I spake not to you concerning [4] bread? But [e] beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. 12 [l] Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of [1] bread, but of [m] the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13 [n] Now when Jesus came into the parts of Cæsarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Who do men say [2] that the Son of man is? 14 And they said, Some say [o] John the Baptist; some, [p] Elijah: and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets. 15 He saith unto them, But who say ye that I am? 16 And Simon Peter answered and said, [q] Thou art [r] the Christ, [s] the Son of [t] the living God. 17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, [u] Blessed art thou, [v] Simon Bar-Jonah: for [w] flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, [x] but my Father which is in heaven. 18 And I also say unto thee, that [y] thou art [3] Peter, and [z] upon this [4] rock I will build my church; and [a] the gates of [b] Hades shall not prevail against it. 19 I will give unto thee [c] the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and [d] whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 20 [e] Then charged he the disciples that they should tell no man that he was the Christ.

21 [f] From that time began [5] [g] Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that [h] he must go unto Jerusalem, and [i] suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and [j] the third day be raised up. 22 And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, [6] [k] Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall never be unto thee. 23 But he turned, and said unto Peter, [l] Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art [m] a stumblingblock unto me: for thou [n] mindest not the things of God, but the things of men. 24 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man would come after me, let him [o] deny himself, and [p] take up his cross, and follow me. 25 For [p] whosoever would save his [7] life shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his [7] life for my sake shall find it. 26 For [q] what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and forfeit his [7] life? or [r] what shall a man give in exchange for his [7] life? 27 [s] For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with [t] his angels; and [u] then shall he render unto every man according to his [8] deeds. 28 Verily I say unto you, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise [v] taste of death, [w] till they see the Son of man [x] coming in his kingdom.

17 1 [y] And after six days Jesus taketh with him [z] Peter, and James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart: 2 and he was [a] transfigured before them: and [b] his face did shine as the sun, and [c] his garments became white as the light. 3 And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elijah talking with him. 4 And Peter answered, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, I will make here three [9] [d] tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. 5 While he was yet speaking, behold, [e] a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, [e] a voice out of the cloud, saying, [f] This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; [g] hear ye him. 6 And when [h] the disciples heard it, [i] they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. 7 And Jesus came and [j] touched them and said, Arise, and [k] be not afraid. 8 And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jesus only.

9 [l] And as they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, [m] Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen from the dead. 10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes [n] that Elijah must first come? 11 And he answered and said, Elijah indeed cometh, and [o] shall restore all things: 12 but I say unto you, that Elijah is come already, and they knew him not, but [p] did unto him whatsoever they listed. [q] Even so shall the Son of man also suffer of them. 13 [r] Then understood the disciples that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying, 15 Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is [t] epileptic, and suffereth grievously: for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft-times into the water. 16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and [u] they could not cure him. 17 And Jesus answered and said, O [v] faithless and [v] perverse generation, [w] how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him hither to me. 18 And Jesus [x] rebuked him; and the [1] devil went out from him: and [y] the boy was cured from that hour. 19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast it out? 20 And he saith unto them, [z] Because of your little faith: for [a] verily I say unto you, [b] If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, [c] ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and [d] nothing shall be impossible unto you.[2]

22 [e] And while they [3] abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be delivered up into the hands of men; 23 and they shall kill him, and [f] the third day he shall be raised up. And they were exceeding sorry.

24 And [g] when they were come to Capernaum, they that received [h] the [4] half-shekel came to Peter, and said, Doth not your [5] master pay the [4] half-shekel? 25 He saith, Yea. And when he came into the house, Jesus spake first to him, saying, [i] What thinkest thou, Simon? the kings of the earth, from whom do they receive [j] toll or [j] tribute? from their sons, or from strangers? 26 And when he said, From strangers, Jesus said unto him, Therefore the sons are free. 27 But, lest we [k] cause them to stumble, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a [6] shekel: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

18 1 [l] In that hour came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who then is [7] greatest in the kingdom of heaven? 2 And he called to him a little child, and set him in the midst of them, 3 and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye [m] turn, and [n] become as little children, ye [o] shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven. 4 [p] Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the [7] [o] greatest in the kingdom of heaven. 5 And [q] whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me: 6 but [r] whoso shall cause one of these little ones which believe on me to stumble, it is profitable for him that [8] a great millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be sunk in the depth of the sea. 7 Woe unto the world because of [s] occasions of stumbling! [t] for it must needs be that the occasions come; [u] but woe to that man through whom the occasion cometh! 8 [v] And if thy hand or thy foot causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed or halt, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into [w] the eternal fire. 9 [v] And if thine eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the [9] [v] hell of fire. 10 See that ye despise not [x] one of these little ones; for I say unto you, that in heaven [y] their angels do always [z] behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.[10] 12 [a] How think ye? [b] if any man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and go unto the mountains, and seek that which goeth astray? 13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety and nine which have not gone astray. 14 Even so [c] it is not [11] the will of [12] your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 [d] And if thy brother sin [13] against thee, [e] go, shew him his fault between thee and him alone: if he hear thee, thou hast [f] gained thy brother. 16 But if he hear thee not, take with thee one or two more, that [g]at the mouth of two witnesses or three every word may be established. 17 And if he refuse to hear them, [h]tell it unto the [1]church: and if he refuse to hear the [1]church also, [i]let him be unto thee as [j]the Gentile and [j]the publican. 18 Verily I say unto you, [k]What things soever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and what things soever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 19 Again I say unto you, that if two of you shall [l]agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, [m]it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven. 20 For where two or three are [n]gathered together in my name, [o]there am I in the midst of them.

21 Then came Peter, and said to him, Lord, how oft [p]shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? [q]until seven times? 22 Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, Until [2][r]seventy times seven. 23 Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would [s]make a reckoning with his [3]servants. 24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him [t]ten thousand [4][u]talents. 25 [v]But forasmuch as he had not wherewith to pay, his lord commanded him [w]to be sold, and his wife, and [x]children, and all that he had, and payment to be made. 26 The [5]servant therefore fell down and [y]worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. 27 And the lord of that [5]servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and [v]forgave him the [6]debt. 28 But that [5]servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him a hundred [7][z]pence: and he laid hold on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay what thou owest. 29 So his fellow-servant fell down and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee. 30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay that which was due. 31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were exceeding sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done. 32 Then his lord called him unto him, and saith to him, Thou wicked [5]servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou besoughtest me: 33 [a]shouldest not thou also have had mercy on thy fellow-servant, even as I had mercy on thee? 34 [b]And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, [c]till he should pay all that was due. 35 [d]So shall also my heavenly Father do unto you, if ye forgive not every one his brother [e]from your hearts.

19 1 And it came to pass when Jesus had finished these words, he departed from [f]Galilee, and [g]came [h]into the borders of Judæa beyond Jordan; 2 and [i]great multitudes followed him; and he healed them there.

3 And there came unto him [8]Pharisees, [j]tempting him, and saying, [k]Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause? 4 And he answered and said, [l]Have ye not read, that he which [9]made them from the beginning made them male and female, 5 and said, [m]For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and [n]the twain shall become one flesh? 6 So that they are no more twain, but one flesh. [o]What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. 7 They say unto him, [p]Why then did Moses command to give a bill of divorcement, and to put her away? 8 He saith unto them, Moses for your [q]hardness of heart suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it hath not been so. 9 [r]And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, [10]except for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: [11]and he that marrieth her when she is put away committeth adultery. 10 The disciples say unto him, If the case of the man is so with his wife, it is not expedient to marry. 11 But he said unto them, [s]All men cannot receive this saying, but [t]they to [u]whom it is given. 12 For there are eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are eunuchs, which were made eunuchs by men: and there are eunuchs, [v] which made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 [w] Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should lay his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples [x] rebuked them. 14 But Jesus said, [y] Suffer the little children, and [z] forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven. 15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 [a] And behold, one came to him and said, [1] [2] Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may [b] have [c] eternal life? 17 And he said unto him, [3] Why askest thou me concerning that which is good? One there is who is good: but [d] if thou wouldest enter into life, keep the commandments. 18 He saith unto him, Which? And Jesus said, [e] Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, 19 Honour thy father and thy mother: and, [f] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 20 The young man saith unto him, [g] All these things have I observed: what lack I yet? 21 Jesus said unto him, If thou wouldest be [h] perfect, go, [i] sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have [j] treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. 22 [k] But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

23 And Jesus said unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, [l] It is hard for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heaven. 24 [m] And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into [n] the kingdom of God. 25 And when the disciples heard it, they were astonished exceedingly, saying, Who then can be saved? 26 And Jesus [o] looking upon them said to them, [p] With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible. 27 Then answered Peter and said unto him, Lo, [q] we have left all, and followed thee; what then shall we have? 28 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me, in the regeneration [r] when the Son of man shall sit on the throne of his glory, [s] ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, [t] judging the twelve tribes of Israel. 29 [u] And every one that hath left houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, [4] or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive [5] a hundredfold, and shall [v] inherit eternal life. 30 But [w] many shall be last that are first; and [x] first that are last. 1 For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. 2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for [y] a [6] penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard. 3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing in the marketplace idle; 4 and to them he said, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. 5 Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour, and did likewise. 6 And [z] about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing; and he saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? 7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard. 8 And [a] when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his [b] steward, Call the labourers, and pay them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. 9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a [6] penny. 10 And when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise received every man a [6] penny. 11 And when they received it, they murmured against the householder, 12 saying, These last have spent but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden of the day and [c] the [7] scorching heat. 13 But he answered and said to one of them, [d] Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny? 14 Take up [c] that which is thine, and go thy way; it is my will to give unto this last, even as unto thee. 15 [f] Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? or [g] is thine eye evil, because I am good? 16 So [h] the last shall be first, and the first last.

17 [i] And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples apart, and in the way he said unto them, 18 Behold, [j] we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and scribes; and they shall [k] condemn him to death, 19 and shall [l] deliver him unto the Gentiles [m] to mock, and to scourge, and [n] to crucify: and [o] the third day he shall be raised up.

20 [p] Then came to him [q] the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, [r] worshipping him, and asking a certain thing of him. 21 And he said unto her, What wouldest thou? She saith unto him, Command that these my two sons [s] may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, [t] in thy kingdom. 22 But Jesus answered and said, [u] Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able [v] to drink the cup that I am about to drink? They say unto him, We are able. 23 He saith unto them, [w] My cup indeed [x] ye shall drink: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to give, [y] but it is for them for whom it hath been [z] prepared of my Father. 24 And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two brethren. 25 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, [a] Ye know that the rulers of the Gentiles [b] lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. 26 [c] Not so shall it be among you: but whosoever would become great among you shall be your [2d] minister; 27 and whosoever would be first among you shall be your [3e] servant: 28 even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but [f] to minister, and [g] to give his life a ransom for [h] many.

29 [i] And as they went out from Jericho, a great multitude followed him. 30 And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou [j] son of David. 31 And the multitude [k] rebuked them, that they should hold their peace: but they cried out the more, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou son of David. 32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I should do unto you? 33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened. 34 And Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes: and straightway they received their sight, and followed him.

21 1 [l] And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and came unto Bethphage, unto [m] the mount of Olives, then Jesus [n] sent two disciples, 2 saying unto them, Go into the village that is over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me. 3 And if any one say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them. 4 Now this is come to pass, [o] that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [4] by the prophet, saying,

5 [p] Tell ye the daughter of Zion,
Behold, thy King cometh unto thee,
[q] Meek, and riding upon an ass,
And upon a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did even as Jesus appointed them, 7 and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their garments; and he sat thereon. 8 And the most part of the multitude [r] spread their garments in the way; and others cut branches from the trees, and spread them in the way. 9 And the multitudes that went before him, and that followed, cried, saying, [s] Hosanna to [t] the son of David: [u] Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna [v] in the highest. 10 And [w] when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this? 11 And the multitudes said, This is [x] the prophet, Jesus, [y] from Nazareth of Galilee.

12 [s] And Jesus entered into the temple [1] of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of [a] the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold [b] the doves; 13 and he saith unto them, It is written, [c] My house shall be called a house of prayer: but [d] ye make it a den of robbers. 14 [e] And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple: and he healed them. 15 [f] But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children that were crying in the temple and saying, [g] Hosanna to the son of David; they were moved with indignation, 16 and said unto him, Hearest thou what these are saying? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea: [g] did ye never read, [h] Out of the mouth of [i] babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise? 17 And [j] he left them, and [k] went forth out of the city to [l] Bethany, and lodged there.

18 [m] Now in the morning as he returned to the city, [n] he hungered. 19 [o] And seeing [2] a fig tree by the way side, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only; and he saith unto it, Let there be no fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And immediately the fig tree withered away. 20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How did the fig tree immediately wither away? 21 And Jesus answered and said unto them, [p] Verily I say unto you, [q] If ye have faith, and [r] doubt not, ye shall not only do what is done to the fig tree, but even if ye shall say unto this mountain, [s] Be thou taken up and cast into the sea, it shall be done. 22 And [t] all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, [q] believing, ye shall receive.

23 [u] And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him [v] as he was teaching, and said, [w] By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority? 24 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one [3] question, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things. 25 The baptism of John, [x] whence was it? [y] from heaven or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, [z] Why then did ye not believe him? 26 But if we shall say, From men; [a] we fear the multitude; for all hold John as [b] a prophet. 27 And they answered Jesus, and said, We know not. He also said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. 28 [c] But what think ye? A man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, [4] Son, go work to-day in [d] the vineyard. 29 And he answered and said, I will not: but afterward he [e] repented himself, and went. 30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and went not. 31 Whether of the twain did the will of his father? They say, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, that [f] the publicans and [g] the harlots go into [h] the kingdom of God before you. 32 For John came unto you [i] in the way of righteousness, and [j] ye believed him not: but [k] the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye saw it, did not even [e] repent yourselves afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 [l] Hear another parable: There was a man that was a householder, which planted [m] a vineyard, [n] and set a hedge about it, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and [o] let it out to husbandmen, and [p] went into another country. 34 And when the season of the fruits drew near, he sent his [5] servants to the husbandmen, [o] to receive [6] his fruits. 35 [q] And the husbandmen took his [5] servants, and beat one, and killed another, and [r] stoned another. 36 [s] Again, he sent other [5] servants more than the first: and they did unto them in like manner. 37 But afterward he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son. 38 But the husbandmen, when they saw the son, said among themselves, [t] This is the heir; come, [u] let us kill him, and take his inheritance. 39 And they took him, and [v] cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. 40 [w] When therefore the lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do unto those husband-men? 41 They say unto him, [x] He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and [y] will let out the vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons. 42 Jesus saith unto them, [z] Did ye never read in the scriptures,

[a] The stone which the builders rejected,
The same was made the head of the corner:
This was from the Lord,
And it is marvellous in our eyes?

43 Therefore say I unto you, [x] The kingdom of God [b] shall be taken away from you, and shall be given to a nation [c] bringing forth the fruits thereof. 44 [1] And [d] he that falleth on this stone shall be broken to pieces: but [e] on whomsoever it shall fall, [f] it will scatter him as dust. 45 And when the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them. 46 And [g] when they sought to lay hold on him, [h] they feared the multitudes, because they took him for [i] a prophet.

22 1 And Jesus answered and [j] spake again in parables unto them, saying, 2 [k] The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a certain king, which made [l] a marriage feast for his son, 3 and [m] sent forth his [2] servants to call them that were bidden to the marriage feast: and they would not come. 4 [n] Again he sent forth other [2] servants, saying, Tell them that are bidden, Behold, I have made ready my [o] dinner: [p] my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come to the marriage feast. 5 But [q] they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise: 6 and the rest laid hold on his [2] servants, and [r] entreated them shamefully, and [s] killed them. 7 But the king was wroth; and he sent his armies, and [t] destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. 8 Then saith he to his [2] servants, The wedding is ready, but they that were bidden were not [u] worthy. 9 Go ye therefore unto [v] the partings of the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage feast. 10 And those [2] servants went out into the highways, and [w] gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was filled with guests. 11 But when the king came in to behold the guests, he saw there [x] a man which had not on a wedding-garment: 12 and he saith unto him, [y] Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless. 13 Then the king said to the [3] servants, Bind him hand and foot, and [z] cast him out into the outer darkness; [a] there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 14 For many are [a] called, but few [a] chosen.

15 [b] Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how [c] they might ensnare him in his talk. 16 And they send to him [d] their disciples, with [e] the Herodians, saying, [4] Master, [f] we know that thou art true, and teachest [g] the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one: for [h] thou regardest not the person of men. 17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give [i] tribute unto [j] Cæsar, or not? 18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why [k] tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? 19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a [5] penny. 20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? 21 They say unto him, Cæsar's. Then saith he unto them, [l] Render therefore unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's; and unto God the things that are God's. 22 And when they heard it, they marvelled, and [m] left him, and went their way.

23 On that day there came to him [n] Sadducees, [6] [o] which say that there is no resurrection: and they asked him, 24 saying, [4] Master, Moses said, [p] If a man die, having no children, his brother [7] shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 25 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first married and deceased, and having no seed left his wife unto his brother; 26 in like manner the second also, and the third, unto the [8] seventh. 27 And after them all the woman died. 28 In the resurrection therefore whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her. 29 But Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, [q] not knowing the scriptures, nor [r] the power of God. 30 For in the resurrection they neither [s] marry, nor [s] are given in marriage, but are as angels [1] in heaven. 31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, [t] have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying, 32 [u] I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living. 33 And when the multitudes heard it, [v] they were astonished at his teaching.

34 [w] But the Pharisees, when they heard that he had put [x] the Sadducees to silence, gathered themselves together. 35 [y] And one of them, [z] a lawyer, asked him a question, [a] tempting him, 36 [2] Master, which is the great commandment in the law? 37 And he said unto him, [b] Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. 38 This is the great and first commandment. 39 [3] And [c] a second like unto it is this, [d] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 40 [e] On these two commandments hang eth [f] the whole law, and the prophets.

41 [g] Now while the Pharisees [h] were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, 42 saying, What think ye of [i] the Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, [i] The son of David. 43 He saith unto them, How then doth David [j] in the Spirit call him Lord, saying,

44 [k] The Lord said unto my Lord,
Sit thou on my right hand,
Till I put thine enemies underneath thy feet?

45 If David then calleth him Lord, [l] how is he his son? 46 [m] And no one was able to answer him a word, [n] neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

23 1 Then [o] spake Jesus to the multitudes and to his disciples, 2 saying, [p] The scribes and the Pharisees [q] sit on Moses' seat: 3 all things therefore whatsoever they bid you, these do and observe: [r] but do not ye after their works; [s] for they say, and do not. 4 Yea, [t] they bind heavy burdens [4] and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with their finger. 5 [o] But all their works they do [u] for to be seen of men: for they make broad [v] their phylacteries, and enlarge [w] the borders of their garments, 6 and [x] love the chief place at feasts, and [y] the chief seats in the synagogues, 7 and [y] the salutations in [z] the marketplaces, and to be called of men, [a] Rabbi. 8 [b] But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your [c] teacher, and all ye are [d] brethren. 9 [e] And call no man your father on the earth: for [f] one is your Father, [5] which is in heaven. 10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your master, even [g] the Christ. 11 [h] But he that is [6] greatest among you shall be your [7] servant. 12 And [i] whosoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled; and whosoever shall humble himself shall be exalted.

13 But woe [j] unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye [k] shut the kingdom of heaven [8] against men: for ye [l] enter not in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering in to enter.[9]

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one [m] proselyte; and when he is become so, ye make him twofold more [n] a son of [10] [o] hell than yourselves.

16 Woe unto you, [p] ye [q] blind guides, which say, [r] Whosoever shall swear by the [11] temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the [11] temple, he is [12] a debtor. 17 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or [s] the [11] temple that hath sanctified the gold? 18 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by [t] the gift that is upon it, he is [12] a debtor. 19 Ye blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or [u] the altar that sanctifieth the gift? 20 He therefore that sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon. 21 And he that sweareth by the [11] temple, sweareth by it, and by [v] him that dwelleth therein. 22 And he that sweareth by [w] the heaven, sweareth by [x] the throne of God, and by [y] him that sitteth thereon.

23 [z] Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for [a] ye tithe mint and [1] anise and [b] cummin, and have left undone the weightier matters of the law, [c] judgement, and mercy, and faith: [d] but these ye ought to have done, and not to have left the other undone. 24 Ye blind guides, which strain out the gnat, and swallow [e] the camel.

25 [f] Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for [g] ye cleanse the outside of [h] the cup and of the platter, but within they are full from [i] extortion and excess. 26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first the inside of [h] the cup and of the platter, that the outside thereof may become clean also.

27 [j] Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto [k] whited sepulchres, which outwardly appear beautiful, but inwardly are full of dead men's bones, and of [l] all uncleanness. 28 Even so ye also [m] outwardly appear righteous unto men, but inwardly ye are full of [n] hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 [o] Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and garnish the tombs of the righteous, 30 and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we should not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. 31 Wherefore ye witness to yourselves, that ye are [p] sons of them that slew the prophets. 32 [q] Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers. 33 Ye serpents, [r] ye offspring of vipers, how shall ye escape the judgement of [2] [s] hell? 34 [t] Therefore, behold, [u] I send unto you [v] prophets, and wise men, and [w] scribes: [x] some of them shall ye kill and crucify; and [x] some of them shall ye [y] scourge in your synagogues, and [z] persecute from city to city: 35 that upon you may come all [a] the righteous blood shed on the earth, from the blood of [b] Abel the righteous unto the blood of [c] Zachariah son of Barachiah, [d] whom ye slew between [e] the sanctuary and [f] the altar. 36 Verily I say unto you, [g] All these things shall come upon this generation.

37 [h] O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, [i] which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! [j] how often would I have [k] gathered [l] thy children together, [m] even as a hen gathereth her chickens [n] under her wings, and [o] ye would not! 38 Behold, [p] your house is left unto you [3] desolate. 39 For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, [q] Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

24 1 [r] And Jesus went out from the temple, and was going on his way; and his disciples came to him to shew him the buildings of the temple. 2 But he answered and said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, [s] There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on [t] the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him [u] privately, saying, Tell us, [v] when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy [4] [w] coming, and of [5] [x] the end of the world? 4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, [y] Take heed that no man lead you astray. 5 For [z] many shall come in my name, saying, I am [a] the Christ; and shall lead many astray. 6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye [b] be not troubled: for these things [c] must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. 7 For [d] nation shall rise against nation, and [e] kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be [f] famines and earthquakes in divers places. 8 But all these things are the beginning of [g] travail. 9 Then [h] shall they deliver you up [i] unto tribulation, and [j] shall kill you: and [k] ye shall be hated of all the nations for my name's sake. 10 And then shall many stumble, and shall [l] deliver up one another, and shall hate one another. 11 And many [m] false prophets shall arise, [n] and shall lead many astray. 12 And because iniquity shall be multiplied, [o] the love of the many shall wax cold. 13 [p] But he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. 14 And [6] this gospel of the kingdom [q] shall be preached in the whole [7] world [r] for a testimony

[t]unto all the nations; and [t]then shall the end come.

15 When therefore ye see the abomination of desolation, [u]which was spoken of [1]by Daniel the prophet, standing in [2v] the holy place ([w]let him that readeth understand), 16 then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains: 17 [x]let him that is on [y]the housetop not go down to take out the things that are in his house: 18 and let him that is in the field not return back [z]to take his cloke. 19 But [a]woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! 20 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on a sabbath: 21 for then shall be [a]great tribulation, [b]such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be. 22 And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved: but for [c]the elect's sake those days shall be shortened. 23 [d]Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ, or, Here; believe [3]it not. 24 For there shall arise [e]false Christs, and [f]false prophets, and [g]shall shew great signs and wonders; [f]so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. 25 Behold, [h]I have told you beforehand. 26 If therefore they shall say unto you, Behold, [i]he is in the wilderness; go not forth: Behold, he is in the inner chambers; believe [4]it not. 27 [j]For as the lightning cometh forth from the east, and is seen even unto the west; so shall be the [5][k]coming of the Son of man. 28 [l]Wheresoever the carcase is, there will the [6]eagles be gathered together.

29 But immediately, after [m]the tribulation of those days, [n]the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and [o]the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: 30 and then [p]shall appear [q]the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then [r]shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and [s]they shall see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven [t]with power and great glory. 31 And [u]he shall send forth his angels [7]with [8]a great sound of [v]a trumpet, and they shall [w]gather together [x]his elect from [y]the four winds, [z]from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; 33 even so ye also, when ye see all these things, know ye that [9]he is nigh, even [a]at the doors. 34 [b]Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all these things be accomplished. 35 [c]Heaven and earth shall pass away, but [d]my words shall not pass away. 36 But of that day and hour [e]knoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven, [10][f]neither the Son, [g]but the Father only. 37 [h]And as were the days of Noah, [i]so shall be the [5]coming of the Son of man. 38 [h]For as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, [j]marrying and giving in marriage, until [k]the day that Noah entered into the ark, 39 and they knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; [i]so shall be the [5]coming of the Son of man. 40 [l]Then shall two men be in the field; one is taken, and one is left: 41 [m]two women shall be grinding [n]at the mill; one is taken, and one is left. 42 [o]Watch therefore: for ye know not on what day [p]your Lord cometh. 43 [11][q]But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch [r]the thief was coming, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be [12][s]broken through. 44 Therefore be ye also [t]ready: for in an hour that ye think not [u]the Son of man cometh. 45 Who then is [v]the faithful and [w]wise [13]servant, whom his lord hath set over his household, to give them their food in due season? 46 [x]Blessed is that [13]servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. 47 Verily I say unto you, that [y]he will set him over all that he hath. 48 But if that evil [13]servant shall say in his heart, My lord [z]tarrieth; 49 and shall begin to beat his fellow-servants, and shall eat and drink with [a]the drunken; 50 the lord of that [13]servant shall come [b]in a day when he expecteth not, and in an hour when he knoweth not, 51 and shall [1] cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the hypocrites: [c] there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

25 1 Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto [d] ten virgins, which took their [2] lamps, and went forth to meet [e] the bridegroom. 2 And five of them were foolish, and five were [w] wise. 3 For the foolish, when they took their [2] lamps, took no oil with them: 4 but the wise took oil in their vessels with their [2] lamps. 5 Now while the bridegroom [f] tarried, they all slumbered and slept. 6 But [g] at midnight there is a cry, Behold, the bridegroom! Come ye forth to meet him. 7 Then all those virgins arose, and [h] trimmed their [2] lamps. 8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our [2] lamps are going out. 9 But the wise answered, saying, Peradventure there will not be enough for us and you: go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. 10 And while they went away to buy, the bridegroom came; and [i] they that were ready went in with him to [j] the marriage feast: and [k] the door was shut. 11 Afterward come also the other virgins, saying, [l] Lord, Lord, open to us. 12 [l] But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, [m] I know you not. 13 [n] Watch therefore, for ye [o] know not the day nor the hour.

14 [p] For [q] it is as when a man, [r] going into another country, called his own [3] servants, and delivered unto them his goods. 15 And unto one he gave five [s] talents, to another two, to another one; [t] to each according to his several ability; and he [r] went on his journey. 16 Straightway he that received the five talents went and traded with them, and made other five talents. 17 In like manner he also that received the two gained other two. 18 But he that received the one went away and [u] digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money. 19 Now [v] after a long time the lord of those [3] servants cometh, and [w] maketh a reckoning with them. 20 And he that received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other five talents. 21 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and [x] faithful [4] servant: [y] thou hast been faithful over a few things, [z] I will set thee over many things: enter thou into [a] the joy of thy lord. 22 And he also that received the two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: lo, I have gained other two talents. 23 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful [4] servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. 24 And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art [b] a hard man, reaping [c] where thou didst not sow, and gathering where thou didst not scatter: 25 and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, [d] thou hast thine own. 26 But his lord answered and said unto him, Thou [e] wicked and [e] slothful [4] servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I did not scatter; 27 thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back mine own with interest. 28 Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him that hath the ten talents. 29 [f] For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away. 30 And [g] cast ye out [h] the unprofitable [4] servant into the outer darkness: [g] there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye [w] gave me drink: [x] I was a stranger, and ye took me in; 36 [v] naked, and ye clothed me: [y] I was sick, and ye [z] visited me: [a] I was in prison, and ye came unto me. 37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or athirst, and gave thee drink? 38 And when saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? 39 And when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? 40 And [b] the King shall answer and say unto them, [c] Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these [d] my brethren, even these least, ye did it unto me. 41 Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, [1 e] Depart from me, ye [f] cursed, into [g] the eternal fire which is prepared for [h] the devil and his angels: 42 for [i] I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink: 43 I was a stranger, and ye took me not in; naked, and ye clothed me not; sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not. 44 Then shall they also answer, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee? 45 Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not unto one of these least, [j] ye did it not unto me. 46 And these shall go away [k] into eternal punishment: but the righteous [k] into [l] eternal life.

26 1 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these words, he said unto his disciples, 2 [m] Ye know that after two days [n] the passover cometh, and [o] the Son of man [p] is delivered up to be crucified. 3 [q] Then were gathered together the chief priests, and the elders of the people, unto [r] the court of the high priest, who was called [s] Caiaphas; 4 [t] and they took counsel together that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him. 5 But they said, Not during the feast, [u] lest a tumult arise among the people.

6 [v] Now when Jesus was in [w] Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, 7 there came unto him a woman having [2] an alabaster cruse of exceeding precious ointment, and she poured it upon his head, as he sat at meat. 8 But when the disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste? 9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and [x] given to the poor. 10 But [y] Jesus perceiving it said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me. 11 For [z] ye have the poor always with you; but [a] me ye have not always. 12 For in that she [3] poured this ointment upon my body, she did it [b] to prepare me for burial. 13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever [4] [c] this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of [d] for a memorial of her.

14 [e] Then one of the twelve, who was called [f] Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, 15 and said, What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they [g] weighed unto him [h] thirty pieces of silver. 16 And from that time he sought opportunity [i] to deliver him unto them.

17 [j] Now on [k] the first day of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying, Where wilt thou that we make ready for thee to eat the passover? 18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, [l] The [5] Master saith, [m] My time is at hand; I keep the passover at thy house with my disciples. 19 And the disciples did as Jesus appointed them; and they made ready the passover. 20 [n] Now when even was come, he was sitting at meat with the twelve [6] disciples; 21 and as they were eating, [o] he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. 22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began to say unto him every one, Is it I, Lord? 23 And he answered and said, [p] He that dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me. 24 The Son of man goeth, [q] even as it is written of him: but [r] woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! [s] good were it [7] for that man if he had not been born. 25 And Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Is it I, [t]Rabbi? He saith unto him, [u]Thou hast said. 26 [v]And as they were eating, Jesus took [1]bread, and [w]blessed, and brake it; and he gave to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; [x]this is my body. 27 And he took [2]a cup, and [y]gave thanks, and gave to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; 28 for [x]this is my [z]blood of [3]the [4]covenant, which is shed for [a]many [b]unto remission of sins. 29 But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you [c]in my Father's kingdom.

30 [d]And when they had sung a hymn, [e]they went out unto [f]the mount of Olives.

31 Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be [5][g]offended in me this night: for it is written, I will [h]smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad. 32 But after I am raised up, [i]I will go before you into Galilee. 33 But [j]Peter answered and said unto him, If all shall be [5][g]offended in thee, I will never be [5]offended. 34 [k]Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this night, [l]before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. 35 [m]Peter saith unto him, Even if I must die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 [n]Then cometh Jesus with them [e]unto [6]a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I go yonder and pray. 37 And he took with him [o]Peter and [p]the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and sore troubled. 38 Then saith he unto them, [q]My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: abide ye here, and [r]watch with me. 39 And he went forward a little, and fell on his face, [s]and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let [t]this cup pass away from me: [u]nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. 40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, What, could ye not watch with me one hour? 41 [7][r]Watch and [v]pray, that ye [w]enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. 42 Again a second time he went away, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cannot pass away, except I drink it, [x]thy will be done. 43 And he came again and found them sleeping, for [y]their eyes were heavy. 44 And he left them again, and went away, and prayed [z]a third time, saying again the same words. 45 Then cometh he to the disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, [a]the hour is at hand, and [b]the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 46 Arise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.

47 [c]And while he yet spake, lo, [d]Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people. 48 Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he: take him. 49 And straightway he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, [e]Rabbi; and [8][f]kissed him. 50 And Jesus said unto him, [g]Friend, [h]do that for which thou art come. Then they came and laid hands on Jesus, and took him. 51 And behold, one of them that were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his [i]sword, and smote the [9]servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. 52 Then saith Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into its place: for [j]all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. 53 Or [k]thinkest thou that I cannot beseech my Father, and he shall even now send me [l]more than twelve [m]legions of angels? 54 [n]How then should the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be? 55 In that hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and staves to seize me? [o]I sat daily in the temple [p]teaching, and ye took me not. 56 But [n]all this is come to pass, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. [q]Then all the disciples left him, and fled.

57 [r]And [s]they that had taken Jesus led him away to the house of [t]Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were gathered together. 58 But [u]Peter followed him afar off, unto [t]the court of the high priest, and entered in, and sat with [v] the officers, to see the end. 59 Now the chief priests and the whole [w] council [x] sought false witness against Jesus, that they might put him to death; 60 and they found it not, [y] though many false witnesses came. But afterward came [z] two, 61 and said, This man said, [a] I am able to [b] destroy the [1] temple of God, and to build it in three days. 62 And the high priest stood up, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? 63 [c] But Jesus held his peace. [d] And the high priest said unto him, [e] I adjure thee by [f] the living God, that thou [g] tell us whether thou be [h] the Christ, [i] the Son of God. 64 Jesus saith unto him, [j] Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Henceforth [k] ye shall see the Son of man [l] sitting at the right hand of power, and [k] coming on the clouds of heaven. 65 Then the high priest [m] rent his garments, saying, [n] He hath spoken blasphemy: what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard the blasphemy: 66 what think ye? They answered and said, [o] He is [2] worthy of death. 67 Then [p] did they spit in his face and buffet him: [q] and some [r] smote him [s] with the palms of their hands, 68 saying, Prophesy unto us, thou [t] Christ: who is he that struck thee?

69 [u] Now Peter was sitting without [v] in the court: and a maid came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilæan. 70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. 71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and saith unto them that were there, This man also was with Jesus [w] the Nazarene. 72 And again he denied with an oath, I know not the man. 73 And after a little while they that stood by came and said to Peter, Of a truth thou also art one of them; for [x] thy speech bewrayeth thee. 74 Then began he to curse and to swear, I know not the man. And straightway the cock crew. 75 And Peter remembered the word which Jesus had said, [y] Before the cock crow, thou shalt [z] deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

27 1 [a] Now when morning was come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people [b] took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: 2 and they bound him, and [c] led him away, and [d] delivered him up to [e] Pilate the governor.

3 Then [f] Judas, which betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, [g] repented himself, and brought back [h] the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, 4 saying, I have sinned in that I betrayed [3] [i] innocent blood. But they said, What is that to us? [k] see thou to it. 5 And he cast down the pieces of silver into [l] the sanctuary, and departed; and [m] he went away and hanged himself. 6 And the chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, It is not lawful to put them into [4] the [5] treasury, since it is the price of blood. 7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. 8 Wherefore [n] that field was called, The field of blood, [o] unto this day. 9 [p] Then was fulfilled that which was spoken [6] by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, [q] And [7] they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was priced, [8] whom certain of the children of Israel did price; 10 and [9] they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 [r] Now Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou [s] the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, [t] Thou sayest. 12 [u] And when he was accused by the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. 13 Then saith Pilate unto him, [v] Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee? 14 And he gave him no answer, not even to one word: insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly. 15 [w] Now at [10] the feast the governor was wont to release unto the multitude one prisoner, whom they would. 16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. 17 When therefore they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or [w] Jesus which is called Christ? 18 For he knew that [x] for envy they had delivered him up. 19 And while he was sitting on [y] the judgement-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with [z] that righteous man: for I have suffered many things this day [a] in a dream because of him. 20 Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes that they should [b] ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. 21 But the governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? And they said, Barabbas. 22 Pilate saith unto them, What then shall I do unto Jesus which is called Christ? [c] They all say, Let him be crucified. 23 And he said, Why, [d] what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified. 24 So when Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that [e] a tumult was arising, he took water, and [f] washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent [1] of the blood of [g] this righteous man: [h] see ye to it. 25 And all the people answered and said, [i] His blood be on us, and [j] on our children. 26 Then released he unto them Barabbas: but Jesus he [k] scourged and delivered to be crucified.

27 [l] Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the [2 m] palace, and gathered unto him the whole [3 n] band. 28 And they [4] stripped him, and put on him [o] a scarlet robe. 29 And they plaited a crown of thorns and put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they kneeled down before him, and [p] mocked him, saying, Hail, [q] King of the Jews! 30 And [r] they spat upon him, and took the reed and smote him on the head. 31 And when they had mocked him, they took off from him the robe, and put on him his garments, and [s] led him away to crucify him.

32 [t] And [u] as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they [5 v] compelled to go with them, that he might [t] bear his cross. 33 [w] And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, The place of a skull, 34 [x] they gave him wine to drink mingled with [y] gall: and when he had tasted it, he would not drink. 35 And when they had crucified him, [z] they parted his garments among them, casting lots: 36 and they sat and [a] watched him there. 37 And they set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS [b] THE KING OF THE JEWS. 38 Then are there crucified with him two [c] robbers, [d] one on the right hand, and one on the left. 39 And [e] they that passed by [f] railed on him, [g] wagging their heads, 40 and saying, [h] Thou that destroyest the [6] temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself: [i] if thou art [j] the Son of God, come down from the cross. 41 In like manner also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, 42 [k] He saved others; [7 l] himself he cannot save. [m] He is the King of Israel; let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe on him. 43 [n] He trusteth on God; let him deliver him now, if he desireth him: for he said, I am the Son of God. 44 [o] And the robbers also that were crucified with him cast upon him the same reproach.

45 Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the [8] land until the ninth hour. 46 And about the ninth hour Jesus [p] cried with a loud voice, saying, [q] Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, my God, [9] why hast thou forsaken me? 47 And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This man calleth Elijah. 48 And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with [r] vinegar, and put it on a reed, and [s] gave him to drink. 49 And the rest said, Let be; let us see whether Elijah cometh to save him.[10] 50 And Jesus [t] cried again with a loud voice, and [u] yielded up his spirit. 51 And behold, [v] the veil of the [6] temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and [w] the earth did quake; and the rocks were rent; 52 and the tombs were opened; and many bodies of [x] the saints [y] that had fallen asleep were raised; 53 and coming forth out of the tombs after his resurrection they entered into [z] the holy city and appeared unto many. 54 [a] Now the centurion, and they that were with him [b] watching Jesus, when they saw the earthquake, and the things that were done, feared exceedingly, saying, [c] Truly this was [1] [d] the Son of God. 55 And [e] many women were there beholding [f] from afar, which had followed Jesus from Galilee, [g] ministering unto him: 56 among whom was [g] Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and [h] the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

57 [i] And when even was come, there came a rich man from Arimathæa, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple: 58 this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded it to be given up. 59 And Joseph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 and [j] laid it in his own new tomb, [k] which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled [l] a great stone to the door of the tomb, and departed. 61 And Mary Magdalene was there, and [m] the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 Now on the morrow, which is the day after [n] the Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees were gathered together unto Pilate, 63 saying, Sir, we remember that [o] that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, [p] After three days I rise again. 64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, [q] lest haply his disciples come and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last error will be worse than the first. 65 Pilate said unto them, [2] Ye have [r] a guard: go your way, [3] make it as sure as ye can. 66 So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, [s] sealing the stone, the guard being with them.

28 1 [t] Now late on the sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and [u] the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there was a great earthquake; for [v] an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it. 3 [w] His appearance was as lightning, and [x] his raiment white as snow: 4 and for fear of him the watchers did quake, and [y] became as dead men. 5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which hath been crucified. 6 He is not here; for he is risen, [z] even as he said. Come, see the place [4] where the Lord lay. 7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples, He is risen from the dead; and lo, [a] he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you. 8 And they departed quickly from the tomb [b] with fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word. 9 And behold, Jesus [c] met them, saying, All hail. And they came and [d] took hold of his feet, and [e] worshipped him. 10 Then saith Jesus unto them, Fear not: [f] go tell [g] my brethren that they depart into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 Now while they were going, behold, some of [h] the guard came into the city, and told unto the chief priests all the things that were come to pass. 12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 saying, Say ye, [i] His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept. 14 And if this [5] come to [j] the governor's ears, we will [k] persuade him, and rid you of care. 15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying was spread abroad among the Jews, and continueth [l] until this day.

16 But the eleven disciples [m] went into Galilee, unto the mountain where Jesus had appointed them. 17 And when they saw him, they [n] worshipped him: but some doubted. 18 And Jesus came to them and spake unto them, saying, [o] All authority hath been given unto me [p] in heaven and on earth. 19 [q] Go ye therefore, and [r] make disciples of [s] all the nations, [q] baptizing them [t] into [u] the name of the Father and

S. MARK.

1 THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, [3] [a] the Son of God.

2 [b] Even as it is written [4] in Isaiah the prophet,

[c] Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
Who shall prepare thy way;
3 [d] The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
[e] Make ye ready the way of the Lord,
Make his paths straight;

4 [f] John came, who baptized in [g] the wilderness and preached [h] the baptism of [i] repentance [j] unto remission of sins. 5 And there went out unto him all the country of Judæa, and all they of Jerusalem; and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, [k] confessing their sins. 6 And John was [l] clothed with camel's hair, and [l] had a leathern girdle about his loins, and did eat [m] locusts and [n] wild honey. 7 And he preached, saying, [o] There cometh after me he that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not [5] worthy to stoop down and unloose. 8 [p] I baptized you [6] with water; but [q] he shall baptize you [6] with the [7] Holy Ghost.

9 [r] And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus [s] came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John [8] in the Jordan. 10 And straightway coming up out of the water, he [t] saw [u] the heavens rent asunder, [v] and the Spirit as a dove descending upon him: 11 and [w] a voice came out of the heavens, [x] Thou art my beloved Son, in thee I am well pleased.

12 [y] And straightway the Spirit driveth him forth into the wilderness. 13 [y] And he was in the wilderness forty days [z] tempted of [a] Satan; and he was with the wild beasts; and [b] the angels ministered unto him.

14 [c] Now after that John was delivered up, Jesus [d] came into Galilee, preaching [e] the gospel of God, 15 and saying, [f] The time is fulfilled, and [g] the kingdom of God is at hand: [h] repent ye, and believe in the gospel.

16 [i] And passing along by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew the brother of Simon casting a net in the sea: for they were fishers. 17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become [j] fishers of men. 18 And straightway they left the nets, and followed him. 19 And going on a little further, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the boat mending the nets. 20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him.

21 [k] And they go into Capernaum; and straightway [l] on the sabbath day [m] he entered into the synagogue and taught. 22 And [n] they were astonished at his teaching: [n] for he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes. 23 And straightway there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, 24 saying, [o] What have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? [p] I know thee who thou art, [q] the Holy One of God. 25 And Jesus [r] rebuked [9] him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. 26 And the unclean spirit, [10] [s] tearing him and [t] crying with a loud voice, came out of him. 27 And they were all [u] amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What is this? [r] a new teaching! with authority he commandeth even the unclean spirits, and they obey him. 28 And the report of him went out straightway everywhere into all the region of Galilee round about.

29 [w] And straightway, [1] when they were come [x] out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. 30 Now [y] Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and straightway they tell him of her: 31 and he came and [z] took her by the hand, and raised her up; and the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were [2] [a] possessed with devils. 33 And all the city was gathered together at the door. 34 [b] And he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many [3] devils; and [c] he suffered not the [3] devils to speak, because they knew him [4].

35 [d] And in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and [e] there prayed. 36 And Simon and they that were with him followed after him; 37 and they found him, and say unto him, [f] All are seeking thee. 38 And he saith unto them, Let us go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also; for [g] to this end came I forth. 39 [h] And [i] he went into their synagogues throughout all Galilee, preaching and casting out [3] devils.

40 [j] And there cometh to him a leper, beseeching him, [5] and [k] kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, [l] If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 41 And being moved with compassion, he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou made clean. 42 And straightway the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean. 43 And [m] he [6] strictly charged him, and straightway sent him out, 44 and saith unto him, [n] See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, [o] shew thyself to the priest, and [p] offer for thy cleansing the things which Moses commanded, [q] for a testimony unto them. 45 [r] But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to spread abroad the [7] matter, insomuch that [8] Jesus could no more openly enter into [9] a city, but was without in [s] desert places: and [t] they came to him from every quarter.

2 1 And when he entered again into [u] Capernaum after some days, it was noised that he was [10] in the house. 2 And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room for them, no, not even about the door: and he spake the word unto them. 3 [v] And they come, bringing unto him a man sick of the palsy, borne of four. 4 And when they could not [11] come nigh unto him for the crowd, [w] they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed whereon the sick of the palsy lay. 5 And Jesus [x] seeing their faith saith unto the sick of the palsy, [12] Son, [y] thy sins are forgiven. 6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, 7 Why doth this man thus speak? [z] he blasphemeth: [a] who can forgive sins but one, even God? 8 And straightway Jesus, [b] perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, saith unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts? 9 Whether is easier, to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk? 10 But that ye may know that [c] the Son of man hath [13] power on earth to forgive sins (he saith to the sick of the palsy), 11 I say unto thee, Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thy house. 12 And he arose, and straightway took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and [d] glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

13 And he went forth again by the sea side; and [e] all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them. 14 [f] And as he passed by, he saw [g] Levi the son of Alphæus sitting at the place of toll, and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him. 15 And it came to pass, that he was sitting at meat in his house, and many

1 [h] publicans and sinners sat down with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him. 16 And [i] the scribes [2] of the Pharisees, when they saw that he was eating with the sinners and publicans, said unto his disciples, [3] [h] He eateth [4] and drinketh with publicans and sinners. 17 And when Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are [5] whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick: [j] I came not to call the righteous, [k] but sinners.

18 And [l] John's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting: and they come and say unto him, [m] Why do John's disciples and [n] the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not? 19 And Jesus said unto them, [o] Can the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast. 20 But [p] the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and [q] then will they fast in that day. 21 No man seweth a piece of undressed cloth on an old garment: else that which should fill it up taketh from it, the new from the old, and a worse rent is made. 22 And no man putteth new wine into old [6] [r] wine-skins: else the wine will burst the skins, and the wine perisheth, and the skins: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins.

23 [s] And it came to pass, that he was going on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples [7] [t] began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn. 24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, [u] why do they on the sabbath day [v] that which is not lawful? 25 And he said unto them, [w] Did ye never read [x] what David did, when he had need, and was an hungred, he, and they that were with him? 26 How he entered into the house of God [8] when [y] Abiathar was high priest, and did eat [z] the shewbread, which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests, and gave also to them that were with him? 27 And he said unto them, [a] The sabbath was made for man, and [b] not man for the sabbath: 28 so that [c] the Son of man is lord even of the sabbath.

1 [d] And [e] he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had his hand withered. 2 And [f] they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day; that they might accuse him. 3 And he saith unto the man that had his hand withered, [9] Stand forth. 4 And he saith unto them, [g] Is it lawful on the sabbath day to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or to kill? But they held their peace. 5 And when he had [h] looked round about on them with anger, being grieved at [i] the hardening of their heart, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And [j] he stretched it forth: and his hand was restored. 6 [k] And the Pharisees went out, and straightway with [l] the Herodians [k] took counsel against him, how they might destroy him.

7 [m] And Jesus with his disciples withdrew to the sea: and [n] a great multitude from Galilee followed: and from Judæa, 8 and from Jerusalem, and from [o] Idumæa, and beyond Jordan, and about [p] Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, hearing [10] what great things he did, came unto him. 9 And he spake to his disciples, that [q] a little boat should wait on him because of the crowd, lest they should [r] throng him: 10 for [s] he had healed many; insomuch that as many as had [11] [t] plagues [12] pressed upon him [u] that they might touch him. 11 [v] And the unclean spirits, whensoever they beheld him, [w] fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art [x] the Son of God. 12 And [y] he charged them much that they should not make him known.

13 [z] And he goeth up into the mountain, and calleth unto him [a] whom he himself would: and they went unto him. 14 [z] And he appointed twelve, [13] that they might be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach, 15 [z] and to have authority to cast out [14] devils: 16 [15] [b] and Simon [c] he surnamed Peter; 17 and [d] James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James; and them he surnamed Boanerges, which is, [e]Sons of thunder: 18 and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and [f]Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphæus, and Thaddæus, and Simon the [1]Cananæan, 19 and Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him.

And he cometh [2][g] into a house. 20 And the multitude cometh together again, [h]so that they could not so much as eat bread. 21 [i]And when [j]his friends heard it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He [k]is beside himself. 22 And [l]the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, [m]He hath Beelzebub, and, [3]By the prince of the [4]devils casteth he out the [4]devils. 23 [n]And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan? 24 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. 25 And if a house be divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand. 26 And if Satan hath risen up against himself, and is divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end. 27 But [o]no one can enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man; and [p]then he will spoil his house. 28 [q]Verily I say unto you, All their sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and their blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme: 29 but whosoever shall [r]blaspheme against the Holy Spirit hath never forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin: 30 because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

31 [s]And there come his mother and his [t]brethren; and, standing without, they sent unto him, calling him. 32 And a multitude was sitting about him; and they say unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee. 33 And he answereth them, and saith, Who is my mother and my brethren? 34 And [u]looking round on them which sat round about him, he saith, Behold, my mother and my brethren! 35 For [v]whosoever shall [w]do the will of God, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

4 1 And again [x]he began to teach by the sea side. And there is gathered unto him a very great multitude, [y]so that he entered into a boat, and sat in the sea; and all the multitude were by the sea on the land. 2 And [z]he taught them many things in parables, and said unto them in his teaching, 3 Hearken: Behold, [a]the sower went forth to sow: 4 and it came to pass, as he sowed, some seed fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured it. 5 And other fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth; and straightway it sprang up, because it had no deepness of earth: 6 and [b]when the sun was risen, it was scorched; and because it had no root, [c]it withered away. 7 And other fell among [d]the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit. 8 And others fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and brought forth, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and [e]a hundredfold. 9 And he said, [f]Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And [g]when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parables. 11 And he said unto them, [h]Unto you is given [i]the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto [j]them that are without, all things are done in parables: 12 [k]that [l]seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest haply they [m]should turn again, and it should be forgiven them. 13 [n]And he saith unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how shall ye know all the parables? 14 [o]The sower soweth [p]the word. 15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; and when they have heard, straightway cometh Satan, and taketh away the word which hath been sown in them. 16 And these in like manner are they that are sown upon the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, straightway receive it [q]with joy; 17 and they have no root in themselves, but [r]endure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway [s]they stumble. 18 And others are they that are sown among the thorns; these are they that have heard the word, 19 and [t]the cares of [u]the [5]world, and [v]the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful. 20 And those are they that were sown upon the good ground: such as hear the word, and accept it, and [w] bear fruit, [x] thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and a hundredfold.

21 [y] And he said unto them, [z] Is the lamp brought to be put under the bushel, or under the bed, and not to be put on the stand? 22 [a] For there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested; neither was anything made secret, but that it should come to light. 23 [b] If any man hath ears to hear, let him hear. 24 And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: [c] with what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you: and more shall be given unto you. 25 [d] For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath.

26 And he said, [e] So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed upon the earth; 27 and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up and grow, [f] he knoweth not how. 28 The earth [1] beareth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear. 29 But when the fruit [2] is ripe, straightway [g] he [3] putteth forth the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 [h] And he said, How shall we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable shall we set it forth? 31 [i] [4] It is like [i] a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown upon the earth, though it be less than all the seeds that are upon the earth, 32 yet when it is sown, groweth up, and becometh greater than all the herbs, and putteth out great branches; so that the birds of the heaven can lodge under the shadow thereof.

33 And [j] with many such parables spake he [k] the word unto them, [l] as they were able to hear it: 34 and [m] without a parable spake he not unto them: but [n] privately to his own disciples he [o] expounded all things.

35 [p] And on that day, when even was come, he saith unto them, Let us go over unto the other side. 36 And leaving the multitude, they take him with them, [q] even as he was, in the boat. And other boats were with him. 37 And there ariseth a great storm of wind, and the waves [r] beat into the boat, insomuch that the boat was now filling. 38 And he himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion: and they awake him, and say unto him, [s] Master, carest thou not that we perish? 39 And he awoke, and [t] rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and [t] there was a great calm. 40 And he said unto them, Why are ye [u] fearful? have ye not yet faith? 41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, [v] Who then is this, that even [w] the wind and the sea obey him?

5 1 [x] And they came to the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gerasenes. 2 And when he was come out of the boat, straightway there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit, 3 [y] who had his dwelling in the tombs: and no man could any more bind him, no, not with a chain; 4 because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been rent asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: and no man had strength to tame him. 5 And always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones. 6 And when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and [z] worshipped him; 7 and [a] crying out with a loud voice, he saith, [b] What have I to do with thee, Jesus, [c] thou Son of [d] the Most High God? [e] I adjure thee by God, torment me not. 8 For he said unto him, Come forth, thou unclean spirit, out of the man. 9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he saith unto him, My name is [f] Legion; for we are many. 10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country. 11 Now there was there on the mountain side a great herd of swine feeding. 12 And they besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them. 13 And he gave them leave. And the unclean spirits came out, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the sea, in number about two thousand; and they were choked in the sea. 14 And they that fed them fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they came to see what it was that had come to pass. 15 And they come to Jesus, and behold [1]him that was possessed with devils sitting, [g]clothed and in his right mind, even him that had [h]the legion: and they were afraid. 16 And they that saw it declared unto them how it befell [1]him that was possessed with devils, and concerning the swine. 17 And [i]they began to beseech him to depart from their borders. 18 And as he was entering into the boat, he that had been possessed with [2]devils besought him that he might be with him. 19 And he suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go to thy house unto thy friends, and [j]tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and how he had mercy on thee. 20 And he went his way, and began to publish in [k]Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

21 And when Jesus had crossed over again in the boat unto the other side, a great multitude was gathered unto him: and he was by the sea. 22 [l]And there cometh one of [m]the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name: and seeing him, he falleth at his feet, 23 and beseecheth him much, saying, My little daughter is at the point of death: I pray thee, that thou come and [n]lay thy hands on her, that she may be [3]made whole, and live. 24 And he went with him; and a great multitude followed him, and they [o]thronged him.

25 And a woman, [p]which had an issue of blood twelve years, 26 and had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, 27 having heard the things concerning Jesus, came in the crowd behind, and touched his garment. 28 For she said, If I touch but his garments, I shall be [3]made whole. 29 [q]And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of her [4][r]plague. 30 And straightway Jesus, perceiving in himself that [s]the power proceeding from him had gone forth, turned him about in the crowd, and said, Who touched my garments? 31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? 32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing. 33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth. 34 And he said unto her, Daughter, [t]thy faith hath [5]made thee whole; [t]go in peace, and be whole of thy [4][r]plague.

35 While he yet spake, they come from [u]the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead: why [v]troublest thou [w]the [6]Master any further? 36 But Jesus, [7]not heeding the word spoken, saith unto [u]the ruler of the synagogue, Fear not, only believe. 37 And he suffered no man to follow with him, save [x]Peter, and James, and [y]John the brother of James. 38 And they come to the house of the ruler of the synagogue; and he beholdeth a tumult, and many weeping and wailing greatly. 39 And when he was entered in, he saith unto them, [z]Why make ye a tumult, and weep? the child is not dead, but [a]sleepeth. 40 And they laughed him to scorn. But he, [b]having put them all forth, taketh the father of the child and her mother and them that were with him, and goeth in where the child was. 41 And [c]taking the child by the hand, he saith unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, [d]Arise. 42 And straightway the damsel rose up, and walked; for she was twelve years old. And they were amazed straightway with a great amazement. 43 And [e]he charged them much that no man should know this: and he commanded that something should be given her to eat.

6 1 [f]And he went out from thence; and he cometh into [g]his own country; and his disciples follow him. 2 And [h]when the sabbath was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and [8][i]many hearing him were astonished, saying, Whence hath this man these things?

and, What is the wisdom that is given unto this man, and what mean such [1]mighty works wrought by his hands? 3 [j] Is not this [k]the carpenter, the son of Mary, and [l]brother of James, and Joses, and Judas, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And [m]they were [2]offended in him. 4 And Jesus said unto them, [n]A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house. 5 And [o]he could there do no [3]mighty work, save that [p]he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them. 6 And [q]he marvelled because of their unbelief.

[r]And he went round about the villages teaching.

7 [s]And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and he gave them authority over the unclean spirits; 8 and he charged them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no bread, no wallet, no [4][t]money in their [5]purse; 9 but to go [u]shod with sandals: and, said he, put not on two coats. 10 And he said unto them, Wheresoever ye enter into a house, there abide till ye depart thence. 11 And whatsoever place shall not receive you, and they hear you not, as ye go forth thence, [v]shake off the dust that is under your feet [w]for a testimony unto them. 12 [x] And they went out, and [y]preached [z]that men should repent. 13 [y] And they cast out many [6]devils, and [a]anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.

14 [b]And king Herod heard thereof; for his name had become known: and [7]he said, [c]John [8]the Baptist is risen from the dead, and therefore do these powers work in him. 15 [c]But others said, It is Elijah. And others said, It is [d]a prophet, even as one of the prophets. 16 But Herod, when he heard thereof, said, John, whom I beheaded, he is risen. 17 [e]For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and [f]bound him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife: for he had married her. 18 [e]For John said unto Herod, [g]It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. 19 And Herodias [h]set herself against him, and desired to kill him; and she could not; 20 for Herod [i]feared John, knowing that he was a righteous man and a holy, and kept him safe. And when he heard him, he [9]was much perplexed; and he [j]heard him gladly. 21 And when a convenient day was come, that Herod [k]on his birthday [l]made a supper to his lords, and the [10]high captains, and the chief men of Galilee; 22 and when [11]the daughter of Herodias herself came in and danced, [12]she pleased Herod and them that sat at meat with him; and the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. 23 And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, [m]unto the half of my kingdom. 24 And she went out, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John [8]the Baptist. 25 And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou forthwith give me in a charger the head of John the Baptist. 26 And the king was exceeding sorry; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them that sat at meat, he would not reject her. 27 And straightway the king sent forth a soldier of his guard, and commanded to bring his head: and he went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 and brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother. 29 And when [n]his disciples heard thereof, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

30 [o]And [p]the apostles gather themselves together unto Jesus; and they told him all things, whatsoever they had done, and whatsoever they had taught. 31 And he saith unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while. For there were many coming and going, and [q]they had no leisure so much as to eat. 32 [r]And they went away in [s]the boat to a desert place apart. 33 And the people saw them going, and many [t]knew them, and they ran

God, and hold fast the tradition of men. 9 And he said unto them, Full well do ye [a] reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your tradition. 10 For Moses said, [t] Honour thy father and thy mother; and, [j] He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him [1] die the death: 11 but ye say, If a man shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is [k] Corban, that is to say, Given to God; 12 ye no longer suffer him to do aught for his father or his mother; 13 [l] making void the word of God by your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things ye do. 14 And he called to him the multitude again, and said unto them, [m] Hear me all of you, and understand: 15 [n] there is nothing from without the man, that going into him can defile him: but the things which proceed out of the man are those that defile the man. [2] 17 And when he was entered [o] into the house from the multitude, [p] his disciples asked of him the parable. 18 And he saith unto them, [q] Are ye so without understanding also? Perceive ye not, that whatsoever from without goeth into the man, it cannot defile him; 19 because it goeth not into his heart, [r] but into his belly, and goeth out into the draught? [s] This he said, making all meats clean. 20 And he said, [t] That which proceedeth out of the man, that defileth the man. 21 For from within, out of the heart of men, [3] [u] evil thoughts proceed, fornications, 22 thefts, [v] murders, adulteries, covetings, wickednesses, deceit, [w] lasciviousness, [x] an evil eye, [y] railing, [z] pride, [a] foolishness: 23 [b] all these evil things proceed from within, and defile the man.

24 And from thence he arose, and went away into the borders of Tyre [4] and Sidon. And he entered into a house, and would have no man know it: and he could not be hid. 25 But straightway a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell down at his feet. 26 [c] Now the woman was a [5] [d] Greek, [e] a Syrophœnician by race. And she besought him that he would cast forth the [6] devil out of her daughter. 27 And he said unto her, Let the children [f] first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's [7] bread and [g] cast it to the dogs. 28 But she answered and saith unto him, Yea, Lord: even the dogs under the table eat of the children's [h] crumbs. 29 And he said unto her, For this saying [i] go thy way; the [6] devil is gone out of thy daughter. 30 And she went away unto her house, and found the child laid upon the bed, and the [6] devil gone out.

31 [j] And again he went out from the borders of Tyre, and came through Sidon unto [k] the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the borders of [l] Decapolis. 32 And they bring unto him [m] one that was deaf, and [m] had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to [n] lay his hand upon him. 33 And [o] he took him aside from the multitude privately, and put his fingers into his ears, and [o] he spat, and touched his tongue: 34 and [p] looking up to heaven, [q] he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. 35 [m] And his ears were opened, and the bond of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain. 36 And [r] he charged them that they should tell no man: but [s] the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it. 37 And they were [t] beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh even the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

8 1 [u] In those days, when there was again a great multitude, and they had nothing to eat, he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, 2 [v] I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: 3 and if I send them away fasting to their home, they will faint in the way; and some of them are come from far. 4 And his disciples answered him, Whence shall one be able to fill these men with [8] bread here in a desert place? 5 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, [w] Seven. 6 And he commandeth the multitude to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and [x] having given thanks, he brake, and gave to his disciples, to set before them; and they set them before the multitude.

7 And they had a few small fishes: and [y] having blessed them, he commanded to set these also before them. 8 And [z] they did eat, and were filled: and they took up, of broken pieces that remained over, [w] seven baskets. 9 And they were about four thousand: and he sent them away. 10 And straightway he entered into [a] the boat with his disciples, and came into the parts of [b] Dalmanutha.
11 [c] And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, [d] seeking of him [e] a sign from heaven, [f] tempting him. 12 And [g] he sighed deeply [h] in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation. 13 And [i] he left them, and again entering into the boat departed to the other side.
14 And they forgot to take bread; and they had not in the boat with them more than one loaf. 15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, [j] beware of [k] the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of [l] Herod. 16 And they reasoned one with another, [1] saying, [2] We have no bread. 17 And [m] Jesus perceiving it saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? [n] do ye not yet perceive, [o] neither understand? [o] have ye your heart hardened? 18 [p] Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember? 19 When I brake [q] the five loaves among the five thousand, how many [3] baskets full of broken pieces took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve. 20 And when [r] the seven among the four thousand, how many [3] basketfuls of broken pieces took ye up? And they say unto him, Seven. 21 And he said unto them, Do ye not yet understand?
22 And they come [s] unto Bethsaida. And they bring to him a blind man, and beseech him to touch him. 23 And [t] he took hold of the blind man by the hand, and brought him out of the village; and when [t] he had [u] spit on his eyes, and [v] laid his hands upon him, he asked him, Seest thou aught? 24 And he looked up, and said, I see men; for I behold them as trees, walking. 25 Then again he laid his hands upon his eyes; and he looked stedfastly, and was restored, and saw all things clearly. 26 And he sent him away to his home, saying, [w] Do not even enter into the village.
27 [x] And Jesus went forth, and his disciples, into the villages of Cæsarea Philippi: and in the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Who do men say that I am? 28 And they told him, saying, [y] John the Baptist: and others, [z] Elijah; but others, One of the prophets. 29 And he asked them, But who say ye that I am? Peter answereth and saith unto him, [a] Thou art [b] the Christ. 30 [c] And he charged them that they should tell no man of him. 31 [d] And he began to teach them, that [e] the Son of man must [f] suffer many things, and [g] be rejected by the elders, and the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and [h] after three days rise again. 32 And he spake the saying [i] openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him. 33 But he turning about, and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, and saith, [j] Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou [k] mindest not the things of God, but the things of men. 34 And he called unto him the multitude with his disciples, and said unto them, If any man would come after me, let him [l] deny himself, and [m] take up his cross, and follow me. 35 For [m] whosoever would save his [4] life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his [4] life for my sake [n] and the gospel's shall save it. 36 [o] For what doth it profit a man, to gain the whole world, and forfeit his [4] life? 37 For [p] what should a man give in exchange for his [4] life? 38 For [q] whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this [r] adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of man also shall be ashamed of him, [s] when he cometh in the glory of his Father with [s] the holy angels. 1 And he said wise [u] taste of death, [v] till they see the kingdom of God come [w] with power.

2 [z] And after six days Jesus taketh with him [y] Peter, and James, and John, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was [z] transfigured before them: 3 and [a] his garments became glistering, exceeding white; so as no fuller on earth can whiten them. 4 And there appeared unto them Elijah with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus. 5 And Peter answereth and saith to Jesus, [b] Rabbi, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three [1] [c] tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. 6 For [d] he wist not what to answer; for they became sore afraid. 7 And there came [e] a cloud overshadowing them: and there came [e] a voice out of the cloud, [f] This is my beloved Son: [g] hear ye him. 8 And suddenly looking round about, they saw no one any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

9 [h] And as they were coming down from the mountain, [i] he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, [j] save when the Son of man should have risen again from the dead. 10 [k] And they kept the saying, [l] questioning among themselves what the rising again from the dead should mean. 11 And they asked him, saying, [2] The scribes say [m] that Elijah must first come. 12 And he said unto them, Elijah indeed cometh first, and [n] restoreth all things: and [o] how is it written of the Son of man, that he should [p] suffer many things and [q] be set at nought? 13 But I say unto you, that Elijah is come, and [r] they have also done unto him whatsoever they listed, even as it is written of him.

14 [s] And when they came to the disciples, they saw a great multitude about them, and scribes questioning with them. 15 And straightway all the multitude, when they saw him, [t] were greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him. 16 And he asked them, What question ye with them? 17 And one of the multitude answered him, [3] Master, I brought unto thee my son, which hath [u] a dumb spirit; 18 and wheresoever it taketh him, it [4] dasheth him down: and he foameth, and grindeth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast it out; and [v] they were not able. 19 And he answereth them and saith, O [w] faithless generation, [w] how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him unto me. 20 And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit [5] [x] tare him grievously; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming. 21 And he asked his father, How long time is it since this hath come unto him? And he said, From a child. 22 And oft-times it hath cast him both into the fire and into the waters, to destroy him: but [y] if thou canst do anything, have compassion on us, and help us. 23 And Jesus said unto him, [y] If thou canst! [z] All things are possible to him that believeth. 24 Straightway the father of the child cried out, and said [6], I believe; [a] help thou mine unbelief. 25 And when Jesus saw that [b] a multitude came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying unto him, [c] Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. 26 And having cried out, and [5] [x] torn him much, he came out: and the child became as one dead; insomuch that the more part said, He is dead. 27 But Jesus [d] took him by the hand, and raised him up; and he arose. 28 And when he was come [e] into the house, his disciples asked him privately, [7] saying, We could not cast it out. 29 And he said unto them, This kind can come out by nothing, save by prayer [8].

30 [f] And they went forth from thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it. 31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and when he is killed, [g] after three days he shall rise again. 32 [h] But they understood not the saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 And [i] they came to Capernaum: and when he was in the house [j] he asked them, What were ye reasoning in the way? 34 But they held their peace: for [k] they had disputed one with another in the way, who was the [1] greatest. 35 And he sat down, and called the twelve; and he saith unto them, [l] If any man would be first, he shall be last of all, and minister of all. 36 And he took a little child, and set him in the midst of them: and [m] taking him in his arms, he said unto them, 37 [n] Whosoever shall receive one of such little children in my name, receiveth me: and [n] whosoever receiveth me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

38 [o] John said unto him, [2] Master, we saw one [p] casting out [3] devils in thy name: and [q] we forbade him, because he followed not us. 39 But Jesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man which shall do a [4] mighty work in my name, and be able quickly to speak evil of me. 40 [r] For he that is not against us is for us. 41 For [s] whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink, [5] [t] because ye are Christ's, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward. 42 And [u] whosoever shall cause one of [v] these little ones that believe [6] on me to stumble, [w] it were better for him if [7] a great millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea. 43 [x] And if thy hand cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed, rather than having thy two hands to go into [8] [y] hell, into [z] the unquenchable fire.[9] 45 [a] And if thy foot cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life halt, rather than having thy two feet to be cast into [8] [y] hell. 47 [b] And if thine eye cause thee to stumble, cast it out: it is good for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into [8] [y] hell; 48 where [c] their worm dieth not, and [d] the fire is not quenched. 49 For every one shall be salted with fire[10]. 50 [e] Salt is good: [f] but if the salt have lost its saltness, wherewith will ye season it? [g] Have salt in yourselves, and [h] be at peace one with another.

10 1 [i] And he arose from thence, and cometh [j] into the borders of Judæa and beyond Jordan: and multitudes come together unto him again; and, [k] as he was wont, he taught them again. 2 And there came unto him Pharisees, and asked him, [l] Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? [m] tempting him. 3 And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you? 4 And they said, [n] Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away. 5 But Jesus said unto them, For your [o] hardness of heart he wrote you this commandment. 6 But [p] from the beginning of the creation, [q] Male and female made he them. 7 [r] For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, [11] and shall cleave to his wife; 8 and [s] the twain shall become one flesh: so that they are no more twain, but one flesh. 9 [t] What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. 10 And in the house the disciples asked him again of this matter. 11 And he saith unto them, [u] Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her: 12 and [v] if she herself shall put away her husband, and marry another, she committeth adultery.

13 [w] And they brought unto him little children, that he should touch them: and the disciples [x] rebuked them. 14 But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said unto them, [y] Suffer the little children to come unto me; [z] forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. 15 [a] Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not [b] receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein. 16 And [c] he took them in his arms, and blessed them, [d] laying his hands upon them.

17 [e] And as he was going forth [12] into the way, there ran one to him, and [f] kneeled to him, and asked him, Good [2] Master, what shall I do that I may [g] inherit eternal life? 18 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good save one, even God. 19 Thou knowest the commandments, [h] Do not not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honour thy father and mother. 20 And he said unto him, [1]Master, [i]all these things have I observed from my youth. 21 And Jesus [j]looking upon him [k]loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go, [l]sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have [m]treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. 22 [n]But his countenance fell at the saying, and he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

23 And Jesus [o]looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, [p]How hardly shall they that have riches enter into [q]the kingdom of God! 24 And the disciples [r]were amazed at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, [s]Children, [t]how hard is it [2]for them [u]that trust in riches to enter into [q]the kingdom of God! 25 It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into [q]the kingdom of God. 26 And they were astonished exceedingly, saying [3]unto him, Then who can be saved? 27 Jesus [v]looking upon them saith, [w]With men it is impossible, but not with God: for all things are possible with God. 28 Peter began to say unto him, Lo, [x]we have left all, and have followed thee. 29 Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, [y]There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or mother, or father, or children, or lands, for my sake, and [z]for the gospel's sake, 30 but he shall receive a hundredfold [a]now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, [b]with persecutions; and in [c]the [4]world to come eternal life. 31 But [d]many that are first shall be last; and the last first.

32 [e]And they were in the way, going up to Jerusalem; and [f]Jesus was going before them: and [g]they were amazed; [5]and they that followed were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them the things that were to happen unto him, 33 saying, Behold, [h]we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and the scribes; and and shall [j]deliver him unto the Gentiles: 34 and they shall [k]mock him, and shall [l]spit upon him, and shall scourge him, and shall kill him; and [m]after three days he shall rise again.

35 [n]And there come near unto him James and John, [o]the sons of Zebedee, saying unto him, [1]Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us [p]whatsoever we shall ask of thee. 36 And he said unto them, [q]What would ye that I should do for you? 37 And they said unto him, Grant unto us that we [r]may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, [s]in thy glory. 38 But Jesus said unto them, [t]Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able [u]to drink the cup that I drink? or [v]to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? 39 And they said unto him, We are able. And Jesus said unto them, [w]The cup that I drink [x]ye shall drink; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal [y]shall ye be baptized: 40 but to sit on my right hand or on my left hand is not mine to give: [z]but it is for them for whom it hath been [a]prepared. 41 And when the ten heard it, they began to be moved with indignation concerning James and John. 42 [b]And Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles [c]lord it over them; and their great ones exercise authority over them. 43 But [d]it is not so among you: but whosoever would become great among you, shall be your [6e]minister: 44 and whosoever would be first among you, shall be [7f]servant of all. 45 For verily the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but [g]to minister, and [h]to give his life a ransom for [i]many.

46 [j]And they come to Jericho: and [k]as he went out from Jericho, with his disciples and a great multitude, the son of Timæus, Bartimæus, [l]a blind beggar, was sitting by the way side. 47 And when he heard that it was [m]Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me. 48 And many [n]rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me. 49 And Jesus stood still, and said, Call ye him. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, [o] Be of good cheer: rise, he calleth thee. 50 And he, casting away his [p] garment, sprang up, and came to Jesus. 51 And Jesus answered him, and said, [q] What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And the blind man said unto him, [r] Rabboni, that I may receive my sight. 52 And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; [s] thy faith hath [1] [t] made thee whole. And straightway he received his sight, and followed him in the way.

11 1 [u] And when they draw nigh unto Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and [v] Bethany, at [w] the mount of Olives, he sendeth [x] two of his disciples, 2 and saith unto them, Go your way into the village that is over against you: and straightway as ye enter into it, ye shall find a colt tied, [y] whereon no man ever yet sat; loose him, and bring him. 3 And if any one say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye, The Lord hath need of him; and straightway he [2] will send him [3] back hither. 4 And they went away, and found a colt tied at the door without in the open street; and they loose him. 5 And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt? 6 And they said unto them even as Jesus had said: and they let them go. 7 And they bring the colt unto Jesus, and cast on him their garments; and he sat upon him. 8 And many [z] spread their garments upon the way; and others [4] branches, which they had cut from the fields. 9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, [a] Hosanna; [b] Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: 10 Blessed is [c] the kingdom that cometh, [d] the kingdom of [e] our father [c] David: [a] Hosanna [f] in the highest.

11 [g] And he entered into Jerusalem, into the temple; and when he had looked round about upon all things, it being now eventide, [h] he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

12 [i] And on the morrow, when they were come out from Bethany, [j] he hungered. 13 [k] And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find anything thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for [l] it was not the season of figs. 14 And he answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And his disciples heard it.

15 [m] And they come to Jerusalem: and he entered into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and them that bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of [n] the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold [o] the doves; 16 and he would not suffer that any man should carry a vessel through the temple. 17 And he taught, and said unto them, Is it not written, [p] My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations? but [q] ye have made it a den of robbers. 18 And the chief priests and the scribes heard it, and [r] sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, for [s] all the multitude was astonished at his teaching.

19 [t] And [5] every evening [6] he went forth out of the city.

20 [u] And as they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered away from the roots. 21 And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, [v] Rabbi, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away. 22 And Jesus answering saith unto them, [w] Have [x] faith in God. 23 [y] Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall say unto this mountain, [z] Be thou taken up and cast into the sea; and shall not [a] doubt in his heart, but shall [b] believe that what he saith cometh to pass; he shall have it. 24 Therefore I say unto you, [c] All things whatsoever ye pray and ask for, [b] believe that ye [d] have received them, and ye shall have them. 25 And whensoever [e] ye stand praying, [f] forgive, [g] if ye have aught against any one; that [h] your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.[7]

27 [i] And they come again to Jerusalem: and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders; 28 and they said unto him, [j] By what authority doest thou these things? or who gave thee this authority to do these things? 29 And Jesus said unto them, I will ask of you one [1] question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. 30 The baptism of John, was it [k] from heaven, or from men? answer me. 31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, [l] Why then did ye not believe him? 32 [2] But should we say, From men — [m] they feared the people: [3] for all verily held John to be [n] a prophet. 33 And they answered Jesus and say, We know not. And Jesus saith unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

12 1 [o] And he began to speak unto them in parables. A man planted [p] a vineyard, [q] and set a hedge about it, and digged [r] a pit for the winepress, and built a tower, and [s] let it out to husbandmen, and [t] went into another country. 2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a [4] servant, that he might [u] receive from the husbandmen of the fruits of the vineyard. 3 [v] And they took him, and beat him, and sent him away empty. 4 [w] And again [v] he sent unto them another [4] servant; and him [w] they wounded in the head, and [x] handled shamefully. 5 [w] And he sent another; and him they killed: and many others; beating some, and killing some. 6 He had yet one, [y] a beloved son: he sent him [z] last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son. 7 But those husbandmen said among themselves, [a] This is the heir; come, [b] let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours. 8 And they took him, and killed him, and [c] cast him forth out of the vineyard. 9 What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? [d] he will [e] come and destroy the husbandmen, and [f] will give the vineyard unto others. 10 [g] Have ye not read even [h] this scripture;

> [i] The stone which the builders rejected,
> The same was made the head of the corner:
> 11 This was from the Lord,
> And it is marvellous in our eyes?

12 And [j] they sought to lay hold on him; and [k] they feared the multitude; for they perceived that he spake the parable against them: and they [l] left him, and went away.

13 [m] And they send unto him certain of [n] the Pharisees and of [n] the Herodians, that they might [o] catch him in talk. 14 And when they were come, they say unto him, [5] Master, [p] we know that thou art true, and carest not for any one: for [q] thou regardest not the person of men, but of a truth teachest [r] the way of God: Is it lawful to give [s] tribute unto [t] Cæsar, or not? 15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing [u] their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why [v] tempt ye me? bring me [w] a [6] penny, that I may see it. 16 And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Cæsar's. 17 And Jesus said unto them, [x] Render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's. And they marvelled greatly at him.

18 And there come unto him [y] Sadducees, [z] which say that there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying, 19 [5] Master, Moses wrote unto us, [a] If a man's brother die, and leave a wife behind him, and leave no child, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 20 There were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed; 21 and the second took her, and died, leaving no seed behind him; and the third likewise: 22 and the seven left no seed. Last of all the woman also died. 23 In the resurrection whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife. 24 Jesus said unto them, Is it not for this cause that ye err, that [b] ye know not the scriptures, nor [c] the power of God? 25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither [d] marry, nor [d] are given in marriage; but are as angels in heaven. 26 But as touching the dead, that they are raised; [e] have ye not read in [f] the book of Moses, [g] in [h] the place concerning the Bush, how God spake unto him, saying, [i] I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? 27 He is not the God of the dead, but of the living: ye do greatly err.

28 [j] And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered them well, asked him, What commandment is the first of all? 29 Jesus answered, The first is, [k] Hear, O Israel; [1] The Lord our God, [l] the Lord is one: 30 and thou shalt love the Lord thy God [2] with all thy heart, and [2] with all thy soul, and [2] with all thy mind, and [2] with all thy strength. 31 [m] The second is this, [n] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment [o] greater than these. 32 And the scribe said unto him, Of a truth, [3] Master, thou hast well said that [l] he is one; and [p] there is none other but he: 33 and to love him with all the heart, and with all [q] the understanding, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, [r] is much more than all [s] whole burnt offerings and sacrifices. 34 And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. [t] And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 [u] And Jesus answered and said, as [v] he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that [w] the Christ is the son of David? 36 David himself said [x] in the Holy Spirit,

> [y] The Lord said unto my Lord,
> Sit thou on my right hand,
> Till I make thine enemies [4] [z] the footstool of thy feet.

37 David himself calleth him Lord; and [a] whence is he his son? And [5] the common people [b] heard him gladly.

38 [c] And in his teaching he said, Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and to have salutations in the marketplaces, 39 and chief seats in the synagogues, and [d] chief places at feasts: 40 they [e] which devour widows' houses, [6] and [f] for a pretence make long prayers; these shall receive [g] greater condemnation.

41 [h] And he sat down over against [i] the treasury, and beheld how the multitude [j] cast [7] [k] money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much. 42 And there came [8] a poor widow, and she cast in two [7] mites, which make a farthing. 43 And he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, [m] This poor widow cast in more than all they which are casting into the treasury: 44 for they all did cast in of their superfluity; but she of her [n] want did cast in all that she had, even all her [o] living.

13 1 [p] And as he went forth out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, [3] Master, behold, what manner of stones and what manner of buildings! 2 And Jesus said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? [q] there shall not be left here one stone upon another, which shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on [r] the mount of Olives over against the temple, [s] Peter and James and John and [t] Andrew asked him [u] privately, 4 Tell us, [v] when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things are all about to be accomplished? 5 And Jesus began to say unto them, [w] Take heed that no man lead you astray. 6 [x] Many shall come in my name, saying, [y] I am he; and shall lead many astray. 7 And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, [z] be not troubled: these things [a] must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. 8 For [b] nation shall rise against nation, and [c] kingdom against kingdom: there shall be [d] earthquakes in divers places; there shall be [e] famines: these things are the beginning of travail.

9 [f] But [g] take ye heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to [h] councils; and [i] in synagogues shall ye be beaten; and before [j] governors and [k] kings shall ye stand for my sake, [l] for a testimony unto them. 10 And the gospel must first be preached [m] unto all the nations. 11 And when they lead you to judgement, and deliver you up, [n] be not anxious beforehand what ye shall speak: but [o] whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: [p] for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost. 12 [q] And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child; and children shall rise up against parents, and [1] cause them to be put to death. 13 [r] And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: [s] but he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved.

14 But when ye see [t] the abomination of desolation standing where he ought not [u] (let him that readeth understand), then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains: 15 and [v] let him that is on [w] the housetop not go down, nor enter in, to take anything out of his house: 16 and let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloke. 17 But [x] woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! 18 And pray ye that it be not in the winter. 19 For those days shall be [y] tribulation, [z] such as there hath not been the like [a] from the beginning of the creation which [b] God created until now, and never shall be. 20 And except the Lord had shortened the days, no flesh would have been saved: but for [c] the elect's sake, whom [d] he chose, he shortened the days. 21 And [e] then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ; or, Lo, there; believe [2] it not: 22 for there shall arise [f] false Christs and false prophets, and [g] shall shew signs and wonders, [h] that they may lead astray, if possible, [i] the elect. 23 But [j] take ye heed: behold, [k] I have told you all things beforehand.

24 But in those days, after [l] that tribulation, [m] the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, 25 and [n] the stars shall be falling from heaven, and the powers that are in the heavens shall be shaken. 26 And then shall they see [o] the Son of man coming in clouds [p] with great power and glory. 27 And then [q] shall he send forth the angels, and shall [r] gather together [s] his elect from [t] the four winds, from [u] the uttermost part of the earth [v] to the uttermost part of heaven.

28 Now from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; 29 even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that [3] he is nigh, even [w] at the doors. 30 [x] Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, until all these things be accomplished. 31 [y] Heaven and earth shall pass away: but [z] my words shall not pass away. 32 But of that day or that hour [a] knoweth no one, not even the angels in heaven, [b] neither the Son, [c] but the Father. 33 [d] Take ye heed, [e] watch [4] and pray: for ye know not when the time is. 34 [f] It is as when a man, [g] sojourning in another country, having left his house, and given authority to his [5] servants, [h] to each one his work, commanded also [i] the porter to watch. 35 [j] Watch therefore: for ye know not when the lord of the house cometh, whether [k] at even, or [l] at midnight, or [l] at cockcrowing, or [m] in the morning; 36 lest [n] coming suddenly he [o] find you sleeping. 37 And what I say unto you I say unto all, [j] Watch.

1 [p] Now after two days was 14 the feast of [q] the passover and the unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes [r] sought how they might take him with subtilty, and kill him: 2 for they said, Not during the feast, [s] lest haply there shall be a tumult of the people.

3 [t] And while he was in [u] Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having [6] an alabaster cruse of ointment of [7] spikenard very costly; and she brake the cruse, and poured it over his head. 4 But there were some that had indignation among themselves, saying, To what purpose hath this waste of the ointment been made? 5 For this ointment might have been sold for above three hundred [8] pence, and [v] given to the poor. And they [w] murmured against her. 6 But Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me. 7 For [x] ye have the poor always with you, and whensoever [y] ye will ye can do them good: but [z] me ye have not always. 8 [a] She hath done what she could: she hath anointed my body aforehand for [b] the burying. 9 And verily I say unto you, Wheresoever [c] the gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of [d] for a memorial of her.

10 [e] And [f] Judas Iscariot, [1] he that was one of the twelve, [f] went away unto the chief priests, that he might deliver him unto them. 11 And they, when they heard it, were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently [g] deliver him unto them.

12 [h] And on [i] the first day of unleavened bread, when they [j] sacrificed the passover, his disciples say unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and make ready that thou mayest eat the passover? 13 And he sendeth [k] two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him; 14 and wheresoever he shall enter in, say to the goodman of the house, [l] The [2] Master saith, Where is my [m] guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? 15 And he will himself shew you [n] a large upper room furnished and ready: and there make ready for us. 16 And the disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

17 [o] And when it was evening he cometh with the twelve. 18 And as they [3] sat and were eating, [p] Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you shall betray me, even [q] he that eateth with me. 19 They began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? 20 And he said unto them, It is [r] one of the twelve, [q] he that dippeth with me in the dish. 21 For the Son of man goeth, [s] even as it is written of him: but [t] woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! [u] good were it [4] for that man if he had not been born.

22 [v] And as they were eating, he took [5] bread, and when he had [w] blessed, he brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take ye: [x] this is my body. 23 And he took a cup, and when he had [y] given thanks, he gave to them: and they all drank of it. 24 And he said unto them, [z] This is my [z] blood of [6] the [7] covenant, which is shed for [a] many. 25 Verily I say unto you, I will no more drink of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

26 [b] And when they had sung a hymn, [c] they went out unto [d] the mount of Olives.

27 And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be [8] [e] offended: for it is written, I will [f] smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered abroad. 28 Howbeit, after I am raised up, [g] I will go before you into Galilee. 29 But [h] Peter said unto him, Although all shall be [8] [e] offended, yet will not I. 30 And [i] Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that thou to-day, even this night, before [j] the cock crow twice, shalt deny me thrice. 31 But [k] he spake exceeding vehemently, If I must die with thee, I will not deny thee. And in like manner also said they all.

32 [l] And they come [c] unto [9] a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I pray. 33 And he taketh with him [m] Peter and James and John, and began [n] to be greatly amazed, and sore troubled. 34 And he saith unto them, [o] My soul is exceeding sorrowful even unto death: abide ye here, and [p] watch. 35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, [q] and prayed that, if it were possible, [r] the hour might pass away from him. 36 And he said, [s] Abba, Father, [t] all things are possible unto thee; remove [u] this cup from me: [v] howbeit not what I will, but what thou wilt. 37 And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest thou not watch one hour? 38 [10] [p] Watch and [w] pray, that ye [x] enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. 39 And again he went away, and prayed, [y] saying the same words. 40 And again he came, and found them sleeping, for [z] their eyes were very heavy; and [a] they wist not what to answer him. 41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: [b] it is enough; [c] the hour is come; behold, [d] the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 42 Arise, let us be going: behold, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 [e] And straightway, while he yet spake, cometh [f] Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. 44 Now he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he; take him, and lead him away safely. 45 And when he was come, straightway he came to him, and saith, [g] Rabbi; and [1] [h] kissed him. 46 And they laid hands on him, and took him. 47 But a certain one of them that stood by drew his [i] sword, and smote the [2] servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. 48 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves to seize me? 49 [j] I was daily with you in the temple [k] teaching, and ye took me not: but [l] this is done that the scriptures might be fulfilled. 50 [m] And they all left him, and fled.

51 And a certain young man followed with him, having [n] a linen cloth cast about him, over his naked body: and they lay hold on him; 52 but he left the linen cloth, and fled naked.

53 [o] And [p] they led Jesus away to the high priest: and there come together with him all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes. 54 [p] And [q] Peter had followed him afar off, [r] even within, into [s] the court of the high priest; and he was sitting with [t] the officers, and [u] warming himself in the light of the fire. 55 Now the chief priests and the whole [v] council sought witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found it not. 56 [w] For many bare false witness against him, and their witness [x] agreed not together. 57 And there stood up certain, and bare false witness against him, saying, 58 [y] We heard him say, [z] I will destroy this [3] temple [a] that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another [b] made without hands. 59 And not even so did their witness agree together. 60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? 61 But [c] he held his peace, and answered nothing. [d] Again the high priest asked him, and saith unto him, Art thou [e] the Christ, the Son of [f] the Blessed? 62 And Jesus said, I am: and [g] ye shall see the Son of man [h] sitting at the right hand of power, and [g] coming with the clouds of heaven. 63 And the high priest [i] rent his clothes, and saith, What further need have we of witnesses? 64 Ye have heard [j] the blasphemy: what think ye? And they [k] all condemned him to be [4] [l] worthy of death. 65 [m] And some began [n] to spit on him, and [o] to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophesy: and the officers received him [p] with [5] blows of their hands.

66 [q] And as Peter was beneath in [r] the court, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest; 67 and seeing Peter [r] warming himself, she looked upon him, and saith, Thou also wast with [s] the Nazarene, even Jesus. 68 But he denied, saying, [6] I neither know, nor understand what thou sayest: and he went out into the [7] porch; [8] and [t] the cock crew. 69 And the maid saw him, and began again to say to them that stood by, This is one of them. 70 But he again denied it. And after a little while again they that stood by said to Peter, Of a truth thou art one of them; for thou art a Galilæan. 71 But he began to curse, and to swear, I know not this man of whom ye speak. 72 And straightway [u] the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word, how that Jesus said unto him, [v] Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt [w] deny me thrice. [9] And when he thought thereon, he wept.

15 1 [x] And straightway in the morning the chief priests with the elders and scribes, and the whole council, [y] held a consultation, and [z] bound Jesus, and [a] carried him away, and [b] delivered him up to [c] Pilate. 2 [d] And Pilate asked him, [e] Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering saith unto him, [f] Thou sayest. 3 And the chief priests accused him of many things.

4 And Pilate again asked him, saying, [g] Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they accuse thee of. 5 But Jesus [g] no more answered anything; insomuch that Pilate marvelled.

6 [h] Now at [1] the feast he used to release unto them one prisoner, whom they asked of him. 7 And there was one called Barabbas, [i] lying bound with them that had [i] made insurrection, [j] men who in the insurrection had committed murder. 8 And the multitude went up and began to ask him to do as he was wont to do unto them. 9 And Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 10 For he perceived that [k] for envy the chief priests had delivered him up. 11 But the chief priests stirred up the multitude, that he should rather release Barabbas unto them. 12 And Pilate again answered and said unto them, What then shall I do unto him [l] whom ye call the King of the Jews? 13 And they cried out again, Crucify him. 14 And Pilate said unto them, Why, [m] what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, Crucify him. 15 And Pilate, wishing to content the multitude, released unto them Barabbas, and delivered Jesus, when he had [n] scourged him, to be crucified.

16 [o] And the soldiers led him away within [p] the court, which is [q] the [2] Prætorium; and they call together the whole [3] [r] band. 17 And they clothe him with [s] purple, and plaiting a crown of thorns, they put it on him; 18 and they began to salute him, Hail, [t] King of the Jews! 19 And they smote his head with a reed, and [u] did spit upon him, and bowing their knees [v] worshipped him. 20 And when they had [w] mocked him, they took off from him [s] the purple, and put on him his garments. And they [x] lead him out to crucify him.

21 [y] And they [4] [z] compel one passing by, Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, the father of Alexander and [a] Rufus, to go with them, that he might [y] bear his cross. 22 [b] And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull. 23 And they offered him wine mingled with [c] myrrh: but he received it not. 24 And they crucify him, and [d] part his garments among them, casting lots upon them, what each should take. 25 And [e] it was the third hour, and they crucified him. 26 And the superscription of his accusation was written over, [f] THE KING OF THE JEWS. 27 And with him they crucify two [g] robbers; [h] one on his right hand, and one on his left.[5] 29 And [i] they that passed by railed on him, [j] wagging their heads, and saying, [k] Ha! [l] thou that destroyest the [6] temple, and buildest it in three days, 30 save thyself, and come down from the cross. 31 In like manner also the chief priests mocking him among themselves with the scribes said, [m] He saved others; [7] [n] himself he cannot save. 32 Let [o] the Christ, [p] the King of Israel, now come down from the cross, that we may [q] see and believe. [r] And they that were crucified with him reproached him.

33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole [8] land until the ninth hour. 34 And at the ninth hour Jesus [s] cried with a loud voice, [t] Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, [9] why hast thou forsaken me? 35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elijah. 36 And one ran, and filling a spunge full of [u] vinegar, put it on a reed, [v] and gave him to drink, saying, Let be; let us see whether Elijah cometh to take him down. 37 And Jesus [w] uttered a loud voice, and [x] gave up the ghost. 38 And [y] the veil of the [6] temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom. 39 [z] And when the centurion, which stood by over against him, saw that he [10] so gave up the ghost, he said, [a] Truly this man was [11] [b] the Son of God. 40 And there were also [c] women beholding [d] from afar: among whom were both [e] Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James [f] the [12] less and of Joses, and [g] Salome; 41 who, when he was in Galilee, followed him, and [e] ministered unto him; and many other women which [h] came up with him unto Jerusalem.

42 [i] And when even was now come, because it was [j] the Preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath, 43 there came Joseph of Arimathæa, a councillor of [k] honourable estate, who also himself [l] was looking for the kingdom of God; and he boldly went in unto Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. 44 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him [m] the centurion, he asked him whether he [1] had been any while dead. 45 And when he learned it of [m] the centurion, he granted the corpse to Joseph. 46 And he bought [n] a linen cloth, and taking him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and [o] laid him in a tomb [p] which had been hewn out of a rock; and he rolled [q] a stone against the door of the tomb. 47 And [r] Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses beheld where he was laid.

16 1 [s] And [t] when the sabbath was past, [u] Mary Magdalene, and [u] Mary the mother of James, and [v] Salome, [v] bought spices, that they might come and anoint him. 2 And very early on the first day of the week, they come to the tomb when the sun was risen. 3 And they were saying among themselves, Who shall roll us away [w] the stone from the door of the tomb? 4 and looking up, they see that the stone is rolled back: for [x] it was exceeding great. 5 And [y] entering into the tomb, they saw [z] a young man sitting on the right side, [a] arrayed in [b] a white robe; and [c] they were amazed. 6 And he saith unto them, [c] Be not amazed: ye seek Jesus, [d] the Nazarene, which hath been crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold, the place where they laid him! 7 But go, tell his disciples and Peter, [e] He goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, [e] as he said unto you. 8 And they went out, and fled from the tomb; for trembling and astonishment had come upon them: and they said nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

9 [2] Now when he was risen early on the first day of the week, [f] he appeared first to [g] Mary Magdalene, [g] from whom he had cast out seven [3] devils. 10 [h] She went and told them that had been with him, [i] as they [j] mourned and wept. 11 And they, when they heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, [k] disbelieved.

12 [l] And after these things [m] he was manifested in [n] another form unto two of them, as they walked, on their way into the country. 13 [o] And they went away and told it unto the rest: neither believed they them.

14 And afterward [m] he was manifested [p] unto the eleven themselves as they sat at meat; and he upbraided them with their [q] unbelief and [r] hardness of heart, because [s] they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. 15 And he said unto them, [t] Go ye into all the world, and [u] preach the gospel to [v] the whole creation. 16 [w] He that believeth and [x] is baptized [y] shall be saved; but [w] he that [z] disbelieveth shall be condemned. 17 And [a] these signs shall follow them that believe: [b] in my name shall they cast out [3] devils; [c] they shall speak with [4] new tongues; 18 [d] they shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall in no wise hurt them; [e] they shall lay hands [f] on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 So then the Lord Jesus, [g] after he had spoken unto them, [h] was received up into heaven, and [i] sat down at the right hand of God. 20 And they went forth, and preached everywhere, [j] the Lord working with them, and confirming [k] the word [l] by the signs that followed. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

S. LUKE.

1 FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to draw up a narrative concerning those matters which [a] have been [1] fulfilled among us, 2 [b] even as they [c] delivered them unto us, which [d] from the beginning were [e] eyewitnesses and [f] ministers of [g] the word, 3 it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write unto thee [h] in order, [i] most excellent [j] Theophilus; 4 that thou mightest know [k] the certainty concerning the [2] things [3] wherein [l] thou wast instructed.

5 THERE was [m] in the days of Herod, king of Judæa, a certain priest named Zacharias, [n] of [o] the course of Abijah: and he had a wife of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. 6 And they were both [p] righteous before God, [q] walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord [r] blameless. 7 And they had no child, because that [s] Elisabeth was barren, and [t] they both were now [4] well stricken in years.

8 Now it came to pass, [u] while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of [v] his course, 9 according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was [w] to enter into [x] the [5] temple of the Lord and burn incense. 10 And the whole multitude of the people [y] were praying [z] without at the hour of incense. 11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of [a] the altar of incense. 12 And [b] Zacharias was troubled when he saw him, and [c] fear fell upon him. 13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: because [d] thy supplication is heard, and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and [e] thou shalt call his name John. 14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall [f] rejoice at his birth. 15 For he shall be [g] great in the sight of the Lord, and [h] he shall drink no wine nor [6] strong [i] drink; and [i] he shall be [j] filled with the [7] Holy Ghost, [k] even from his mother's womb. 16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turn unto the Lord their God. 17 And [l] he shall [8] go before his face [m] in the spirit and power of Elijah, [n] to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and [o] the disobedient to walk in the wisdom of the just; [p] to make ready for the Lord a people prepared for him. 18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, [q] Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife [9] well stricken in years. 19 And the angel answering said unto him, I am [r] Gabriel, [s] that stand in the presence of God; and I was sent to speak unto thee, and to bring thee these good tidings. 20 And behold, [t] thou shalt be silent and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall come to pass, because thou believedst not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. 21 And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and they marvelled [10] while he tarried in [u] the [5] temple. 22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in [u] the [5] temple: and [v] he continued making signs unto them, and remained dumb. 23 And it came to pass, [w] when the days of his [x] ministration were fulfilled, he departed unto his house.

24 And after these days Elisabeth his wife conceived; and she hid herself five months, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lord done unto me in the days wherein he looked upon me, to take away my reproach among men.

26 Now in the sixth month the angel [z] Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named [a] Nazareth, 27 [b] to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, [c] of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. 28 And he came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou [d] that art [1] highly favoured, [e] the Lord is with thee [2]. 29 But [f] she was greatly troubled at the saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this might be. 30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for [g] thou hast found [3] favour with God. 31 And behold, [h] thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and [i] shalt call his name JESUS. 32 He shall be great, and [j] shall be called the Son of [k] the Most High: and the Lord God [l] shall give unto him the throne of [m] his father David: 33 and he shall reign over the house of Jacob [4] [n] for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. 34 And Mary said unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? 35 And the angel answered and said unto her, [o] The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of [k] the Most High shall overshadow thee: wherefore also [k] that which [6] is to be born [7] [j] shall be called [p] holy, [q] the Son of God. 36 And behold, Elisabeth thy kinswoman, she also hath conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her [r] that [8] was called barren. 37 For [s] no word from God shall be void of power. 38 And Mary said, Behold, the [9] handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And [t] the angel departed from her.

39 And Mary arose in these days and went into [u] the hill country with haste, into a city of Judah; 40 and entered into the house of Zacharias and saluted Elisabeth. 41 And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth [v] was filled with the Holy Ghost; 42 and she lifted up her voice with a loud cry, and said, [w] Blessed art thou among women, and [x] blessed is [10] the fruit of thy womb. 43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of [y] my Lord should come unto me? 44 For behold, when the voice of thy salutation came into mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. 45 And [z] blessed is she that [10] believed: for there shall be a fulfilment of the things which have been spoken to her from the Lord. 46 And Mary said,

[a] My [d] soul doth [a] magnify the Lord,
47 [f] And my [d] spirit hath rejoiced in [g] God my Saviour.
48 For [h] he hath looked upon the low estate of his [11] handmaiden:
For behold, from henceforth all generations [i] shall call me blessed.
49 For [j] he that is mighty [k] hath done to me great things;
And [l] holy is his name.
50 And [m] his mercy is unto generations and generations
On them that fear him.
51 [n] He hath shewed strength with his arm:
[o] He hath scattered the proud [12] in the imagination of their heart.
52 [p] He hath put down princes from their thrones,
[o] And hath exalted them of low degree.
53 [q] The hungry he hath filled with good things;
And the rich [r] he hath sent empty away.
54 He hath [s] holpen [t] Israel his servant,
[u] That he might remember mercy
55 [v] (As he spake unto our fathers)
[u] Toward Abraham and his seed for ever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned unto her house.

57 Now Elisabeth's time was fulfilled that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son. 58 And her neighbours and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord [w] had magnified his mercy towards her; and they rejoiced with her. 59 And it came to pass [x] on the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him

Zacharias, after the name of his father. 60 And his mother answered and said, Not so; [y] but he shall be called John. 61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. 62a And [z] they made signs to his father, what he would have him called. 63 And he asked for [a] a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, [y] His name is John. And they marvelled all. 64 [b] And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue [c] loosed, and he spake, [d] blessing God. 65 And [e] fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all [f] the hill country of Judæa. 66 And all that heard them [g] laid them up in their heart, saying, What then shall this child be? For [h] the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 And his father Zacharias [i] was filled with the Holy Ghost, and [j] prophesied, saying,

68 [k] Blessed be the Lord, [l] the God of Israel;
For he hath [m] visited and wrought [n] redemption for his people,

69 And [o] hath raised up [p] a horn of salvation for us
[q] In the house of his servant David

70 (r As [s] he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets which have been since the world began),

71 [t] Salvation from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us;

72 [u] To shew mercy towards our fathers,
And [v] to remember his holy [w] covenant;

73 [x] The oath which he sware unto Abraham our father,

74 To grant unto us that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies
Should serve him [y] without fear,

75 [z] In holiness and righteousness before him [a] all our days.

76 Yea and thou, child, shalt be called [b] the prophet of [c] the Most High:
For [d] thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to make ready his ways;

77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people
[e] In the remission of their sins,

78 Because of the [1] [f] tender mercy of our God,
[2] Whereby [g] the dayspring [h] from on high [3] shall [i] visit us,

79 To [j] shine upon [k] them that sit in darkness and the shadow of death;
To guide our feet into [l] the way of [m] peace.

80 [n] And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was [o] in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

2 1 Now it came to pass in those days, there went out [p] a decree from [q] Cæsar Augustus, that all [4] the world should be [r] enrolled. 2 This was the first [r] enrolment made when Quirinius [s] was governor of Syria. 3 And all went to enrol themselves, every one to his own city. 4 And Joseph also went up [t] from Galilee, out of the city of [u] Nazareth, into Judæa, to [v] the city of David, which is called [w] Bethlehem, [x] because he was of the house and family of David; 5 to enrol himself with Mary, who was betrothed to him, being great with child. 6 And it came to pass, [w] while they were there, the days were fulfilled that she should be delivered. 7 And she brought forth her firstborn son; and she [y] wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and [z] laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in [a] the inn.

8 And there were shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, and keeping [5] watch by night over their flock. 9 And an angel of the Lord [b] stood by them, and [c] the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. 10 And the angel said unto them, Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all [d] the people: 11 for [e] there is born to you this day in [f] the city of David [g] a Saviour, which is [6] [h] Christ [i] the Lord. 12 And [j] this is the sign unto you; Ye shall find a babe [k] wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger. 13 And suddenly there was with the angel [l] a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

14 [m] Glory to God [n] in the highest,

[a] And on earth [1] peace [b] among [2] men in whom he is well pleased.

15 And it came to pass, when the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this [3] thing that is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. 16 And they came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the babe [c] lying in the manger. 17 And when they saw it, they made known concerning the saying which was spoken to them about this child. 18 And all that heard it wondered at the things which were spoken unto them by the shepherds. 19 But [d] Mary kept all these [4] sayings, pondering them in her heart. 20 And the shepherds returned, [e] glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, even as it was spoken unto them.

21 And [f] when eight days were fulfilled for circumcising him, [g] his name was called JESUS, which was so called by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And [h] when the days of their purification according to the law of Moses were fulfilled, they brought him up to Jerusalem, [i] to present him to the Lord 23 (as it is written in [k] the law of the Lord, [l] Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord), 24 and to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in [k] the law of the Lord, [m] A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons. 25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and this man was [n] righteous and [o] devout, [p] looking for [q] the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Spirit was upon him. 26 And it had been revealed unto him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not [r] see death, before he had seen [s] the Lord's Christ. 27 And he came [t] in the Spirit into the temple: and when [u] the parents brought in the child Jesus, that they might do concerning him after the custom of the law, 28 then he received him into his arms, and [v] blessed God, and said,

29 Now [w] lettest thou thy [5] servant depart, O [6] Lord,

[k] According to thy word, [l] in peace;

30 For [m] mine eyes have seen thy [n] salvation,

31 [o] Which thou hast prepared before the face of all peoples;

32 [p] A light for [7] [q] revelation to the Gentiles,

And [r] the glory of [s] thy people Israel.

33 And [t] his father and his mother were marvelling at the things which were spoken concerning him; 34 and Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set [u] for the falling and rising up of many in Israel; and for a sign [v] which is spoken against; 35 yea and a sword shall pierce through thine own soul; that thoughts out of many hearts may be revealed. 36 And there was one Anna, [w] a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher (she was [8] of a great age, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity, 37 and she had been a widow even for fourscore and four years), which departed not from the temple, [x] worshipping with [y] fastings and supplications night and day. 38 And coming up at that very hour she gave thanks unto God, and spake of him to all them that were [z] looking for the redemption of Jerusalem. 39 And when they had accomplished all things that were according to [a] the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city [b] Nazareth.

40 [c] And the child grew, and waxed strong, [9] filled with wisdom: and [d] the grace of God was upon him.

41 And [e] his parents went [f] every year to Jerusalem at [g] the feast of the passover. 42 And when he was twelve years old, [h] they went up after the custom of the feast; 43 and when they had fulfilled [i] the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and [e] his parents knew it not; 44 but supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought for him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance: 45 and when they found him not, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking for him. 46 And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, j sitting in the midst of k the [1] doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions: 47 and all that heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers. 48 And when they saw him, they were astonished: and his mother said unto him, [2] Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, l thy father and I sought thee sorrowing. 49 And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that m I must be [3] n in o my Father's house? 50 And p they understood not the saying which he spake unto them. 51 And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth; and he was subject unto them: and q his mother kept all these [4] sayings in her heart.

52 And Jesus r advanced in wisdom and [5] s stature, and in [6] r favour with God and men.

3 1 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of t Tiberius Cæsar, u Pontius Pilate v being governor of Judæa, and w Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Ituræa and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, 2 in x the high-priesthood of Annas and y Caiaphas, z the word of God came unto a John the son of Zacharias in b the wilderness. 3 And he came into all the region round about Jordan, preaching c the baptism of repentance d unto remission of sins; 4 as it is written in e the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet,

f The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
g Make ye ready the way of the Lord,
Make his paths straight.
5 h Every valley shall be filled,
i And every mountain and hill shall be brought low;
j And the crooked shall become straight,
And the rough ways smooth;
6 k And all flesh shall see [7] l the salvation of God.

7 He said therefore to the multitudes that went out to be baptized of him, m Ye offspring of n vipers, who warned you to flee from o the wrath to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruits p worthy of [8] repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, q We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of r these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. 9 And even now is the axe also laid unto the root of the trees: s every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. 10 And the multitudes asked him, saying, t What then must we do? 11 And he answered and said unto them, u He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath food, let him do likewise. 12 And v there came also [9] publicans to be baptized, and they said unto him, [9] Master, t what must we do? 13 And he said unto them, w Extort no more than that which is appointed you. 14 And [10] x soldiers also asked him, saying, And we, t what must we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither [11] w exact anything wrongfully; and be content with your y wages.

15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men reasoned in their hearts concerning John, z whether haply he were a the Christ; 16 b John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but c there cometh he that is mightier than I, d the latchet of whose shoes I am not [12] worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you [13] e with the Holy Ghost and with f fire: 17 whose g fan is in his hand, throughly to cleanse his threshing-floor, and to h gather the wheat into his garner; i but the chaff he will burn up with j unquenchable fire.

18 k With many other exhortations therefore preached he [14] good tidings unto the people; 19 but l Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother's wife, and for all the evil things which Herod had done, 20 added yet this above all, that m he shut up John in prison.

21 Now it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, that, n Jesus also having been baptized, and praying, o the heaven was opened, 22 and p the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily form, as a dove, upon him, and q a voice came out of heaven, r Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

4 1 [e] And Jesus, [f] full of the Holy Spirit, [g] returned from the Jordan, and was led [5 h] by the Spirit in the wilderness 2 during [i] forty days, [j] being tempted of the devil. [i] And he did eat nothing in those days: and when they were completed, [k] he hungered. 3 And the devil said unto him, If thou art [l] the Son of God, command [m] this stone that it become [6] bread. 4 And Jesus answered unto him, [n] It is written, [o] Man shall not live by bread alone. 5 [p] And he led him up, and shewed him all the kingdoms of [7] the world in a moment of time. 6 And the devil said unto him, To thee [q] will I give all this authority, and the glory of them: [q] for it hath been delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I give it. 7 If thou therefore wilt worship before me, it shall all be thine. 8 And Jesus answered and said unto him, [r] It is written, [s] Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and [t] him only shalt thou serve. 9 [u] And he led him to Jerusalem, and set him on the [8] pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou art [v] the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence: 10 for it is written,

[w] He shall give his angels charge concerning thee, to guard thee:
11 and,
[w] On their hands they shall bear thee up,
Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Jesus answering said unto him, It is said, [x] Thou shalt not [y] tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the devil had completed every temptation, he departed from him [9 z] for a season.

14 [a] And Jesus returned [b] in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and [c] a fame went out concerning him through all the region round about. 15 And [d] he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 [e] And he came to [f] Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and [g] he entered, [h] as his custom was, into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up [i] to read. 17 And there was delivered unto him [10 j] the book of the prophet Isaiah. And he opened the [11] book, and found the place where it was written,

18 [k] The Spirit of the Lord [l] is upon me,
[12] Because he anointed me to [m] preach [13] good tidings to the poor:
[n] He hath sent me to proclaim release to the captives,

19 [q] To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.
20 And he closed the [1] book, and gave it back to the attendant, and [r] sat down: and the eyes of all in the synagogue were [s] fastened on him. 21 And he began to say unto them, To-day [t] hath [u] this scripture been fulfilled in your ears. 22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at [v] the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth: and they said, [w] Is not this [x] Joseph's son? 23 And he said unto them, Doubtless ye will say unto me this parable, [y] Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done [z] at Capernaum, do also here in thine own country. 24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, [a] No prophet is acceptable in his own country. 25 But of a truth I say unto you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when [b] the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there came a great famine over all the land; 26 and unto none of them was Elijah sent, [c] but only to [2] Zarephath, in the land of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow. 27 And [d] there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, [e] but only Naaman the Syrian. 28 And they were all filled with wrath in the synagogue, as they heard these things; 29 and they rose up, and [f] cast him forth out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might throw him down headlong. 30 But he [g] passing through the midst of them went his way.

31 [h] And he [i] came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee. And [j] he was teaching them [k] on the sabbath day: 32 and [l] they were astonished at his teaching; [l] for his word was with authority. 33 And [j] in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean [3] devil; and he cried out with a loud voice, 34 [4] Ah! [m] what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? [n] I know thee who thou art, [o] the Holy One of God. 35 And Jesus [p] rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the [3] devil had thrown him down in the midst, he came out of him, having done him no hurt. 36 And [q] amazement came upon all, and they spake together, one with another, saying, What is [5] this word? [q] for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. 37 And [r] there went forth a rumour concerning him into every place of the region round about.

38 [s] And he rose up from the synagogue, and entered into the house of Simon. And [t] Simon's wife's mother was holden with a great fever; and they besought him for her. 39 And he stood over her, and [u] rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she rose up and ministered unto them.

40 And when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and [v] he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. 41 [w] And [6] devils also came out from many, [x] crying out, and saying, Thou art [y] the Son of God. And rebuking them, [w] he suffered them not to speak, because they knew that he was [z] the Christ.

42 [a] And when it was day, he came out and went [b] into a desert place: and [c] the multitudes sought after him, and came unto him, and would have stayed him, that he should not go from them. 43 But he said unto them, [d] I must [e] preach the [7] good tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also: for therefore was I sent.

44 And he was preaching [f] in the synagogues of [8] [g] Galilee.

5 1 Now it came to pass, while the multitude pressed upon him and heard the word of God, that he was standing by [h] the lake of Gennesaret; 2 [i] and he saw two boats standing by the lake: but the fishermen had gone out of them, and were [j] washing their nets. 3 And he entered into one of the boats, which was Simon's, and asked him to put out a little from the land. And [k] he sat down and taught the multitudes out of the boat. 4 And when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, [l] Put out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught. 5 And Simon answered and said, Master, [m] we toiled all night, and took nothing: but at thy word I will let down the nets. 6 And when they had this done, [n] they inclosed a great multitude of fishes; and [n] their nets were breaking; 7 and they beckoned unto [o] their partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the boats, so that they began to sink. 8 But Simon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, [p] Depart from me; for [q] I am a sinful man, O Lord. 9 For he was amazed, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken; 10 and so were also James and John, sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt [1r] catch men. 11 And when they had brought their boats to land, [s] they left all, and followed him.

12 And it came to pass, while he was in one of the cities; [t] behold, a man full of leprosy: and when he saw Jesus, he [u] fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, [v] if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 13 And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway the leprosy departed from him. 14 And he charged him [w] to tell no man: but go thy way, and shew [x] thyself to the priest, and [y] offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, [z] for a testimony unto them. 15 [a] But so much the more went abroad the report concerning him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed of their infirmities. 16 But [b] he withdrew himself in the deserts, and [b] prayed.

17 And it came to pass on one of those days, that he was teaching; and there were Pharisees and [c] doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every village of Galilee and Judæa and Jerusalem: and [d] the power of the Lord was with him [2] to heal. 18 [e] And behold, men bring [f] on a bed a man that was palsied: and they sought to bring him in, and to lay him before him. 19 And not finding by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went up to [g] the housetop, and let him down [h] through the tiles with his couch into the midst before Jesus. 20 And [i] seeing their faith, he said, Man, [j] thy sins are forgiven thee. 21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh [k] blasphemies? [l] Who can forgive sins, but God alone? 22 But Jesus [3] perceiving their reasonings, answered and said unto them, [3] What reason ye in your hearts? 23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and walk? 24 But that ye may know that [m] the Son of man hath [4] power on earth to forgive sins (he said unto him that was palsied), I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go unto thy house. 25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his house, [o] glorifying God. 26 And amazement took hold on all, and they [o] glorified God; and they were filled [o] with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

27 [p] And after these things he went forth, and beheld [q] a publican, named [r] Levi, sitting at the place of toll, and said unto him, Follow me. 28 And [s] he forsook all, and rose up and followed him. 29 And Levi made him a great feast in his house: and there was a great multitude [t] of publicans and of others that were sitting at meat with them. 30 And [5] the Pharisees and [u] their scribes murmured against his disciples, saying, [v] Why do ye eat and drink with the publicans and sinners? 31 And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole have no need of a physician; but they that are sick. 32 [w] I am not come to call the righteous [x] but sinners [y] to repentance. 33 And they said unto him, [z] The disciples of John [a] fast often, and [a] make supplications; [b] likewise also the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink. 34 And Jesus said unto them, [c] Can ye make the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? 35 But [d] the days will come; and when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, [e] then will they fast in those days.

36 And he spake also a parable unto them; No man rendeth a piece from a new garment and putteth it upon an old garment; else he will rend the new, and also the piece from the new will not agree with the old. 37 And no man putteth new wine into old [1][f] wine-skins; else the new wine will burst the skins, and itself will be spilled, and the skins will perish. 38 But new wine must be put into fresh wine-skins. 39 And no man having drunk old wine desireth new: for he saith, The old is [2] good.

6 1 [g] Now it came to pass on a [3] sabbath, that he was going through the cornfields; and his disciples [h] plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands. 2 But certain of the Pharisees said, [i] Why do ye [j] that which it is not lawful to do on the sabbath day? 3 And Jesus answering them said, [k] Have ye not read even this, [l] what David did, when he was an hungred, he, and they that were with him; 4 how he entered into the house of God, and did take and eat [m] the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; [m] which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests alone? 5 And he said unto them, [n] The Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

6 And it came to pass on another sabbath, that [o] he entered into the synagogue [p] and taught: and there was a man there, and his right hand was withered. 7 And the scribes and the Pharisees [q] watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath; [r] that they might find how to accuse him. 8 But [s] he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man that had his hand withered, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth. 9 And Jesus said unto them, I ask you, [t] Is it lawful on the sabbath to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or to destroy it? 10 And [u] he looked round about on them all, and said unto him, Stretch forth thy hand. And [v] he did so: and his hand was restored. 11 But they were filled with [4][w] madness; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to pass in these days, that [x] he went out into the mountain to pray; and he continued all night in prayer to God. 13 And when it was day, [y] he called his disciples: [z] and [a] he chose from them twelve, whom also he named [b] apostles; 14 Simon, [c] whom he also named Peter, and [d] Andrew his brother, and [d] James and John, and Philip and Bartholomew, 15 and [e] Matthew and Thomas, and James the son of Alphæus, and Simon which was called [f] the Zealot, 16 and [g] Judas the [5] son of James, and Judas Iscariot, which was the traitor; 17 and [h] he came down with them, and stood on a level place, and [i] a great multitude of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judæa and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of [j] Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases; 18 and [k] they that were troubled with unclean spirits were healed. 19 And all the multitude [l] sought to touch him: for [m] power came forth from him, and healed them all.

20 And [n] he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, [o] and said, Blessed are [p] ye poor: for [q] yours is the kingdom of God. 21 [r] Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. [s] Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh. 22 Blessed are ye, when [t] men shall hate you, and when they shall [u] separate you from their company, and [v] reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, [w] for the Son of man's sake. 23 [x] Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy: for, behold, your reward is great in heaven: for [y] in the same manner did their fathers unto the prophets. 24 [z] But woe unto you that are rich! [a] for ye [b] have received your consolation. 25 Woe unto you, ye that are full now! for [c] ye shall hunger. Woe unto you, [d] ye that laugh now! [d] for ye shall mourn and weep. 26 Woe unto you, [e] when all men shall speak well of you! for [f] in the same manner did their fathers to [g] the false prophets.

27 But I say unto you which hear, [h] Love your enemies, [i] do good to them that hate you, 28 [j] bless them that curse you, [h] pray for them that despitefully use you. 29 [k] To him that [l] smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other; and from him that taketh away thy cloke withhold not thy coat also. 30 [m] Give to every one that asketh thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again. 31 And [n] as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. 32 And [o] if ye love them that love you, what thank have ye? for even sinners love those that love them. 33 And if ye do good to them that do good to you, what thank have ye? for even sinners do the same. 34 And [p] if ye [q] lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? even sinners lend to sinners, to receive again as much. 35 But [r] love your enemies, and do them good, and lend, [1] never [s] despairing; and your reward shall be great, and [t] ye shall be sons of [u] the Most High: for [v] he is kind toward the unthankful and evil. 36 [w] Be ye merciful, even as [x] your Father is merciful. 37 [y] And [z] judge not, and ye shall not be judged: and condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: [z] release, and ye shall be released: 38 [a] give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, shall they give [b] into your bosom. For [c] with what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again.

39 And he spake also a parable unto them, [d] Can the blind guide the blind? shall they not both fall into a pit? 40 [e] The disciple is not above his [2] master: but every one when he is [f] perfected shall be as his [2] master. 41 [g] And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but [g] considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? 42 Or how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me cast out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote that is in thy brother's eye. 43 For [h] there is no good tree that bringeth forth corrupt fruit; nor again a corrupt tree that bringeth forth good fruit. 44 For [i] each tree is known by its own fruit. For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes. 45 [j] The good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and the evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth [k] that which is evil: [l] for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 And [m] why [n] call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say? 47 [o] Every one that cometh unto me, and heareth my words, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like: 48 he is like a man building a house, who digged and went deep, and laid a foundation upon the rock: and when a flood arose, the stream brake against that house, and could not shake it: [3] because it had been well builded. 49 [p] But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that built a house upon the earth without a foundation; against which the stream brake, and straightway it fell in; and [q] the ruin of that house was great.

7 1 After he had ended all his sayings in the ears of the people, [r] he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurion's [4] servant, who was [5] dear unto him, was sick and at the point of death. 3 And when he heard concerning Jesus, [s] he sent unto him elders of the Jews, asking him that he would come and save his [4] servant. 4 And they, when they came to Jesus, besought him earnestly, saying, [t] He is worthy that thou shouldest do this for him: 5 for he loveth our nation, and himself built us [u] our synagogue. 6 And Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, [v] trouble not thyself: for I am not [6] worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: 7 wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but [7] [w] say the word, and my [8] servant shall be healed. 8 For I also am a man set under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my [1]servant, Do this, and he doeth it. 9 And when Jesus heard these things, [x]he marvelled at him, and turned and said unto the multitude that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great [y]faith, no, not in Israel. 10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the [1]servant whole.

11 And it came to pass [2]soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Nain; and his disciples went with him, and a great multitude. 12 Now when he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, there was carried out one that was dead, [z]the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. 13 And when the Lord saw her, [a]he had compassion on her, and [b]said unto her, Weep not. 14 And he came nigh and touched [c]the bier: and the bearers stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, [d]Arise. 15 And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And [e]he gave him to his mother. 16 And fear took hold on all: and [f]they glorified God, saying, [g]A great prophet is arisen among us: and, [h]God hath visited his people. 17 And this report went forth concerning him in the whole of Judæa, and all the region round about.

18 [i]And [j]the disciples of John told him of all these things. 19 And John calling unto him [3]two of his disciples sent them to the Lord, saying, Art thou [k]he that cometh, or [l]look we for another? 20 And when the men were come unto him, they said, John the Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou [k]he that cometh, or [l]look we for another? 21 In that hour [m]he cured many of diseases and [4]plagues and evil spirits; and [o]on many that were blind he bestowed sight. 22 And he answered and said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; [p]the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, [q]the lepers are cleansed, and [r]the deaf hear, [s]the dead are raised up, [t]the poor have [5]good tidings preached to them. 23 And blessed is he, whosoever shall [6]find none occasion of stumbling in me.

24 And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out [v]into the wilderness to behold? [w]a reed shaken with the wind? 25 But what went ye out to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in kings' courts. 26 But what went ye out to see? [x]a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. 27 This is he of whom it is written,

> [y]Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
> Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there is none greater than John: yet he that is [7]but little in the kingdom of God is greater than he. 29 [z]And all the people when they heard, and [a]the publicans, justified God, [7][a]being baptized with [b]the baptism of John. 30 [c]But the Pharisees and [d]the lawyers [e]rejected for themselves [f]the counsel of God, [8]being not baptized of him. 31 Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation, and to what are they like? 32 They are like unto children that sit in the marketplace, and call one to another; which say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did not weep. 33 For John the Baptist is come [g]eating no bread [h]nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a [9]devil. 34 The Son of man is come [i]eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, [j]a friend of publicans and sinners! 35 And [k]wisdom [10]is justified of all her children.

36 And [l]one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he entered into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. 37 [m]And behold, a woman which was in the city, a sinner; and when she knew that he was sitting at meat in the Pharisee's house, she brought [11]an alabaster cruse of ointment, 38 and standing behind at his feet, weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears, and [n]wiped them with the hair of her head, and [1] [o] kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. 39 Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, [p] This man, if he were [2] [q] a prophet, [r] would have perceived who and what manner of woman this is which toucheth him, that she is a sinner. 40 And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, [3] Master, say on. 41 A certain lender had two debtors: the one owed five hundred [4] [s] pence, and the other fifty. 42 [t] When they had not wherewith to pay, he [u] forgave them both. Which of them therefore will love him most? 43 Simon answered and said, He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged. 44 And turning to the woman, he said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, [v] thou gavest me no water for my feet: but [w] she hath wetted my feet with her tears, and wiped them with her hair. 45 [x] Thou gavest me no kiss: but she, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to [5] [y] kiss my feet. 46 [z] My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment. 47 Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, [a] which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. 48 And he said unto her, [b] Thy sins are forgiven. 49 And they that sat at meat with him began to say [6] within themselves, [c] Who is this that even forgiveth sins? 50 And he said unto the woman, [d] Thy faith hath saved thee; [e] go in peace.

8 1 And it came to pass soon afterwards, that he went about [f] through cities and villages, preaching and [g] bringing the [7] good tidings of the kingdom of God, and with him the twelve, 2 and [h] certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, [i] Mary that was called Magdalene, [j] from whom seven [8] devils had gone out, 3 and [k] Joanna the wife of Chuza Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministered unto [9] them of their substance.

4 [l] And when a great multitude came together, and they of every city resorted unto him, he spake by a parable: 5 [m] The sower went forth to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden under foot, and the birds of the heaven devoured it. 6 And other fell on the rock; and as soon as it grew, [n] it withered away, because it had no moisture. 7 And other fell amidst [o] the thorns; and the thorns grew with it, and choked it. 8 And other fell into the good ground, and grew, and brought forth fruit [p] a hundredfold. As he said these things, he cried, [q] He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 And his disciples asked him what this parable might be. 10 And he said, [r] Unto you it is given [s] to know [t] the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to the rest in parables; [u] that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand. 11 [v] Now the parable is this: The seed is [w] the word of God. 12 And those by the way side are they that have heard; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word from their heart, that they may not [x] believe and be saved. 13 And those on the rock are they which, when they have heard, receive the word [y] with joy; and these have no root, which [z] for a while believe, and in time of temptation [a] fall away. 14 And that which fell among the thorns, these are they that have heard, and [b] as they go on their way they are choked with [c] cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection. 15 And that in the good ground, these are such as in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, hold it fast, and [d] bring forth fruit [e] with patience.

16 [f] And [g] no man, when he hath lighted a lamp, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but putteth it on a stand, that they which enter in may see the light. 17 [h] For nothing is hid, that shall not be made manifest; nor anything secret, that shall not be known and come to light. 18 [i] Take heed therefore how ye hear: [j] for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he [1]thinketh he hath.

19 [k] And there came to him his mother and [l] brethren, and they could not come at him for the crowd. 20 And it was told him, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. 21 But he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these [m] which hear the word of God, and do it.

22 [n] Now it came to pass on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples; and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of [o] the lake: and they launched forth. 23 But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on [o] the lake; and they were filling with water, and were in jeopardy. 24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. And he awoke, and [p] rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, [q] and there was a calm. 25 And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And being [r] afraid they [s] marvelled, saying one to another, Who then is this, that [t] he commandeth even the winds and the water, and they obey him?

26 [u] And they arrived at the country of the [2] Gerasenes, which is over against Galilee. 27 And when he was come forth upon the land, there met him a certain man out of the city, who had [3] devils; and for a long time he had worn no clothes, and abode not in any house, [v] but in the tombs. 28 And when he saw Jesus, he [w] cried out, and fell down before him, and [w] with a loud voice said, [x] What have I to do with thee, Jesus, [y] thou Son of [z] the Most High God? I beseech thee, torment me not. 29 For he commanded the unclean spirit to come out from the man. For [4] oftentimes it had seized him: and he was kept under guard, and bound with chains and fetters; and breaking the bands asunder, he was driven of the [5] devil [a] into the deserts. 30 And Jesus asked him, What is thy name? And he said, [b] Legion; for many [3] devils were entered into him. 31 And they intreated him that he would not command them to depart into [c] the abyss. 32 Now there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they intreated him that he would give them leave to enter into them. And he gave them leave. 33 And the [3] devils came out from the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into [d] the lake, and were choked. 34 And when they that fed them saw what had come to pass, they fled, and told it in the city and in the country. 35 And they went out to see what had come to pass; and they came to Jesus, and found the man, from whom the [3] devils were gone out, sitting, [e] clothed and in his right mind, [f] at the feet of Jesus: and they were afraid. 36 And they that saw it told them how he that was possessed with [3] devils [g] was [6] made whole. 37 And all the people of the country of the Gerasenes round about [h] asked him to depart from them; for they were holden with great fear: and he entered into a boat, and returned. 38 But the man from whom the [3] devils were gone out prayed him that he might be with him: but he sent him away, saying, 39 Return to thy house, and [i] declare how great things God hath done for thee. And he went his way, publishing throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done for him.

40 And as Jesus returned, the multitude [j] welcomed him; for they were all waiting for him. 41 [k] And behold, there came a man named Jaïrus, and he was [l] a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him to come into his house; 42 for he had [m] an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the multitudes [n] thronged him.

43 And a woman [o] having an issue of blood twelve years, which [7] had spent all her [p] living upon physicians, and could not be healed of any, 44 came behind him, and touched [q] the border of his garment: and [r] immediately the issue of her blood stanched. 45 And Jesus said, Who is it that touched me? And when all denied, Peter said, [1] and they that were with him, Master, the multitudes press thee and crush thee. 46 But Jesus said, Some one did touch me: for I perceived that [s] power had gone forth from me. 47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him declared in the presence of all the people for what cause she touched him, and how she was healed immediately. 48 And he said unto her, Daughter, [t] thy faith hath [2] made thee whole; [t] go in peace.

49 While he yet spake, there cometh one from [u] the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead; [v] trouble not [w] the [3] Master. 50 But Jesus hearing it, answered him, Fear not: only believe, and she shall be [4] made whole. 51 And when he came to the house, he suffered not any man to enter in with him, save [x] Peter, and [y] John, and James, and the father of the maiden and her mother. 52 And all were weeping, and [z] bewailing her: but he [a] said, Weep not; for [b] she is not dead, but [c] sleepeth. 53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead. 54 But he, [d] taking her by the hand, called, saying, Maiden, [e] arise. 55 And [f] her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately: and he commanded that something be given her to eat. 56 And her parents were amazed: but [g] he charged them to tell no man what had been done.

9 1 [h] And he called the twelve together, and gave them power and authority over all [5] devils, and to cure diseases. 2 [i] And he sent them forth to [j] preach the kingdom of God, and to heal [6] the sick. 3 [k] And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, [l] neither staff, nor wallet, nor bread, nor money; neither have two coats. 4 And into whatsoever house ye enter, there abide, and thence depart. 5 And as many as receive you not, when ye depart from that city, [m] shake off the dust from your feet [n] for a testimony [o] against them. 6 [p] And they departed, and went throughout the villages, preaching the gospel, and healing everywhere.

7 [q] Now [r] Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done: and he was much perplexed, because that it was said by some, that [s] John was risen from the dead; 8 and [s] by some, that Elijah had appeared; and [s] by others, that one of the old prophets was risen again. 9 And Herod said, John I beheaded: but who is this, about whom I hear such things? And [t] he sought to see him.

10 [u] And the apostles, when they were returned, declared unto him what things they had done. [v] And he took them, and withdrew apart to a city called Bethsaida. 11 But the multitudes perceiving it followed him: and he [w] welcomed them, and [x] spake to them of the kingdom of God, and [x] them that had need of healing he healed. 12 And [y] the day began to wear away; and the twelve came, and said unto him, [z] Send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place. 13 But he said unto them, [a] Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more than [b] five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy food for all this people. 14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said unto his disciples, Make them [7] sit down in companies, about fifty each. 15 And they did so, and made them all [7] sit down. 16 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and [c] looking up to heaven, [d] he blessed them, and brake; and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude. 17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up that which remained over to them of broken pieces, twelve baskets.

18 [e] And it came to pass, as he was praying alone, the disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Who do the multitudes say that I am? 19 And they answering said, [f] John the Baptist; but others say, [g] Elijah; and others, that one of the old prophets is risen again. 20 And he said unto them, But who say ye that I am? And Peter answering said, [h] The Christ of God. 21 [i] But he charged them, and commanded them to tell this to no man; 22 j saying, k The Son of man must l suffer many things, and m be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and n the third day be raised up. 23 And he said unto all, If any man would come after me, let him o deny himself, and p take up his cross q daily, and follow me. 24 For r whosoever would save his [1] life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his [1] life for my sake, the same shall save it. 25 r For what is a man profited, if he gain the whole world, and lose or forfeit his own self? 26 For s whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, t when he cometh in u his own glory, and the glory of the Father, and of v the holy angels. 27 But I tell you of a truth, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise w taste of death, x till they see the kingdom of God.

28 y And it came to pass about eight days after these sayings, he took with him z Peter and John and James, and a went up into the mountain to pray. 29 And as he was praying, the fashion of his countenance was b altered, and c his raiment became white and dazzling. 30 And behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elijah; 31 who appeared in glory, and spake of his [2] d decease which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem. 32 Now Peter and they that were with him e were heavy with sleep: but [3] when they were fully awake, f they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him. 33 And it came to pass, as they were parting from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three [4] g tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah: h not knowing what he said. 34 And while he said these things, there came i a cloud and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud. 35 And i a voice came out of the cloud, saying, j This is [5] my Son, k my chosen: l hear ye him. 36 And when the voice [6] came, Jesus was found alone. m And they held their peace, and told no man in those days any of the things which they had seen.

37 n And it came to pass, on the next day, when they were come down from the mountain, a great multitude met him. 38 And behold, a man from the multitude cried, saying, [7] Master, I beseech thee to look upon my son; for o he is mine only child: 39 and behold, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it [8] p teareth him that he foameth, and it hardly departeth from him, bruising him sorely. 40 And I besought thy disciples to cast it out; and q they could not. 41 And Jesus answered and said, O r faithless and perverse generation, s how long shall I be with you, and bear with you? bring hither thy son. 42 And as he was yet a coming, the [9] devil [10] dashed him down, and [11] p tare him grievously. But Jesus t rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the boy, and u gave him back to his father. 43 And they were all astonished at v the majesty of God.

w But while all were marvelling at all the things which he did, he said x unto his disciples, 44 Let these words sink into your ears: x for the Son of man shall be delivered up into the hands of men. 45 y But they understood not this saying, and z it was concealed from them, that they should not perceive it: and they were afraid to ask him about this saying.

46 a And there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be [12] greatest. 47 But when Jesus b saw the reasoning of their heart, he took a little child, and set him by his side, 48 and said unto them, c Whosoever shall receive this little child in my name receiveth me: and c whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for d he that is [13] least among you all, the same is great.

49 e And John answered and said, Master, we saw one f casting out [14] devils in thy name; and g we forbade him, because he followeth not with us. 50 But Jesus said unto him. Forbid him not: [h]for he that is not against you is for you.

51 And it came to pass, when the days [i]were well-nigh come that [k]he should be received up, [l]he stedfastly set his face [m]to go to Jerusalem, 52 and [n]sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of [o]the Samaritans, to make ready for him. 53 And [p]they did not receive him, because [q]his face was as though he were going to Jerusalem. 54 And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we bid [r]fire to come down from heaven, and consume them [2]even? 55 But he turned, and rebuked them [3]and [s]. 56 And they went to another village.

57 And as they went [t]in the way, [u]a certain man said unto him, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. 58 And Jesus said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have [4]nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. 59 And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. 60 But he said unto him, Leave [v]the dead to bury their own dead; but go thou and [w]publish abroad the kingdom of God. 61 And another also said, I will follow thee, Lord; [x]but first suffer me to bid farewell to them that are at my house. 62 But Jesus said unto him, [y]No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

10 1 Now after these things the Lord appointed [z]seventy [5]others, and [a]sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself was about to come. 2 [b]And he said unto them, The harvest is plenteous, but the labourers are few: [c]pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into his harvest. 3 Go your ways: [d]behold, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves. 4 [e]Carry no purse, no wallet, no shoes: and [f]salute no man on the way. 5 And into whatsoever house ye shall [6]enter, first say, [g]Peace be to this house. 6 And if [h]a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon [7]him: but if not, [8]it shall turn to you again. 7 And in that same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for [i]the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house. 8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you: 9 and heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, [k]The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. 10 But into whatsoever city ye shall enter, and they receive you not, go out into the streets thereof and say, 11 [l]Even the dust from your city, that cleaveth to our feet, we do wipe off against you: howbeit know this, that [m]the kingdom of God is come nigh. 12 [n]I say unto you, [o]It shall be more tolerable in [p]that day for Sodom, than for that city. 13 Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the [9]mighty works had been done in [q]Tyre and Sidon, which were done in you, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. 14 [r]Howbeit it shall be more tolerable for [q]Tyre and Sidon in the judgement, than for you. 15 And thou, Capernaum, [s]shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt be brought down unto [t]Hades. 16 [u]He that heareth you heareth me; and [v]he that rejecteth you rejecteth me; and [w]he that rejecteth me rejecteth him that sent me.

17 And [x]the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, [y]even the [9]devils are subject unto us in thy name. 18 And he said unto them, [z]I beheld Satan [a]fallen as lightning from heaven. 19 Behold, I have given you authority [b]to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of [c]the enemy: and [d]nothing shall in any wise hurt you. 20 [e]Howbeit in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rejoice that [f]your names are written in heaven.

joiced [1] in the Holy Spirit, and said, I [2] thank thee, O Father, j Lord of heaven and earth, that k thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst l reveal them unto babes: yea, Father; [3] for so m it was well-pleasing in thy sight. 22 n All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, n save the Father; and who the Father is, n save the Son, and he o to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him. 23 And turning to the disciples, he said privately, p Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: 24 for I say unto you, q that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

25 r And behold, a certain s lawyer stood up and t tempted him, saying, [4] Master, what shall I do to u inherit eternal life? 26 And he said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? 27 And he answering said, v Thou shalt love the Lord thy God [5] with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and w thy neighbour as thyself. 28 And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: x this do, and thou shalt live. 29 But he, y desiring to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour? 30 Jesus made answer and said, A certain man z was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, which both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead. 31 And by chance a certain a priest was going down that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. 32 And in like manner a a Levite also, when he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on the other side. 33 But a certain b Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he was moved with compassion, 34 and came to him, and c bound up his wounds, pouring on them c oil and wine; and he set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. 35 And on the morrow he took out two [6] d pence, and gave them to the host, and said, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, I, when I come back again, will repay thee. 36 Which of these three, thinkest thou, proved neighbour unto him that fell among the robbers? 37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. And Jesus said unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named e Martha f received him into her house. 39 And she had a sister called e Mary, which also g sat at the Lord's feet, and heard his word. 40 But Martha was [7] h cumbered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. 41 But the Lord answered and said unto her, [8] Martha, Martha, thou art i anxious and troubled about many things: 42 [9] j but one thing is needful: for Mary hath chosen k the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

11 1 And it came to pass, as he was praying in a certain place, that when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, l even as John also taught his disciples. 2 And he said unto them, m When ye pray, say, [10] n Father, o Hallowed be p thy name. q Thy kingdom come. [11] 3 r Give us s day by day [12] our daily bread. 4 And t forgive us our sins; for we ourselves also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And u bring us not into temptation [13].

5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves; 6 for a friend of mine is come to me from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him; 7 and he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee? 8 I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, [v] because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will arise and give him [1] as many as he needeth. 9 And I say unto you, [w] Ask, and [x] it shall be given you; [y] seek, and ye shall find; [z] knock, and it shall be opened unto you. 10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. 11 And of which of you that is a father shall his son ask [2 a] a loaf, and he give him [a] a stone? or a fish, and he for a fish give him a serpent? 12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he give him a scorpion? 13 If ye then, [b] being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father [c] give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

14 [d] And he was casting out a [3] devil which was dumb. And it came to pass, when the [3] devil was gone out, the dumb man spake; and the multitudes marvelled. 15 But some of them said, [4 e] By Beelzebub the prince of the [5] devils casteth he out [5] devils. 16 And others, [f] tempting him, sought of him [g] a sign from heaven. 17 [h] But he, [i] knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; [6] and a house divided against a house falleth. 18 And if Satan also is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out [5] devils [4] by Beelzebub. 19 And if I [4] by Beelzebub cast out [5] devils, [j] by whom do [k] your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges. 20 But if I by [l] the finger of God cast out [5] devils, then is [m] the kingdom of God come upon you. 21 When the strong man fully armed guardeth his own court, his goods are in peace: 22 [n] but when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and [o] overcome him, he taketh from him his [p] whole armour wherein he trusted, and [q] divideth his spoils. 23 [r] He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. 24 [s] The unclean spirit when [7] he is gone out of the man, passeth through [t] waterless places, seeking rest; and finding none, [7] he saith, I will turn back unto my house whence I came out. 25 And when [7] he is come, [7] he findeth it swept and garnished. 26 Then goeth [7] he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more evil than [8] himself; and they enter in and dwell there: and [u] the last state of that man becometh worse than the first.

27 And it came to pass, as he said these things, [v] a certain woman out of the multitude lifted up her voice, and said unto him, [w] Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the breasts which thou didst suck. 28 But he said, Yea rather, [x] blessed are they [y] that hear the word of God, and [z] keep it.

29 And [a] when the multitudes were gathering together unto him, he began to say, [b] This generation is an evil generation: [c] it seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jonah. 30 For even as [d] Jonah became a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation. 31 [e] The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with the men of this generation, and [f] shall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, [9 g] a greater than Solomon is here. 32 [h] The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation, and [f] shall condemn it: for [i] they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, [9 g] a greater than Jonah is here.

33 [j] No man, when he hath lighted a lamp, putteth it in a cellar, neither under the bushel, but on the stand, that they which enter in may see the light. 34 [k] The lamp of thy body is thine eye: when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when it is [l] evil, thy body also is full of darkness. 35 [k] Look therefore whether the light that is in thee be not darkness. 36 If therefore thy whole body be full of light, having no part dark, it shall be wholly full of light, [m] as when the lamp with its bright shining doth give thee light.

37 Now as he spake, [n] a Pharisee asketh him to [10 o] dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat.

38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled [p] that he had not first washed before [1 o] dinner. 39 And the Lord said unto him, [q] Now do ye Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter; but your inward part is full of [r] extortion and wickedness. 40 [s] Ye foolish ones, [q] did not he that made the outside make the inside also? 41 Howbeit [t] give for alms those things which [2] are within; and behold, [u] all things are clean unto you.

42 [v] But woe unto you Pharisees! for [w] ye tithe mint and rue and every herb, and pass over [x] judgement and [y] the love of God: [z] but these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. 43 Woe unto you Pharisees! for [a] ye love the chief seats in the synagogues, and the salutations in [b] the marketplaces. 44 Woe unto you! [c] for ye are as the tombs which appear not, and the men that walk over them know it not.

45 And one of [d] the lawyers answering saith unto him, [3] Master, in saying this thou reproachest us also. 46 And he said, Woe unto you [e] lawyers also! for [f] ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers. 47 [g] Woe unto you! for ye build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. 48 [h] So ye are witnesses and [i] consent unto the works of [j] your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build their tombs. 49 Therefore also said [k] the wisdom of God, [l] I will send unto them [m] prophets and apostles; [n] and some of them they shall [o] kill and persecute; 50 that [p] the blood of all the prophets, which was shed [q] from the foundation of the world, may be [r] required of this generation; 51 from the blood of [s] Abel unto the blood of [t] Zachariah, who perished between [u] the altar and [v] the [4] sanctuary: yea, I say unto you, it shall be [r] required of this generation. 52 Woe unto you [w] lawyers! [x] for ye took away the key of [y] knowledge: ye [z] entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

53 And when he was come out from thence, the scribes and the Pharisees began to [5 a] press upon him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of [6] many things; 54 [b] laying wait for him, [c] to catch something out of his mouth.

12 1 In the mean time, [d] when [7 e] the many thousands of the multitude were gathered together, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to [8] say unto his disciples first of all, [f] Beware ye of [g] the leaven of the Pharisees, [h] which is hypocrisy. 2 [i] But there is nothing covered up, that shall not be revealed: and hid, that shall not be known. 3 Wherefore whatsoever ye have said in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and what ye have spoken in the ear in [j] the inner chambers shall be proclaimed upon [k] the housetops. 4 And I say unto you [l] my friends, [m] Be not afraid of them which kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. 5 But I will warn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, [n] which after he hath killed hath [9] power to cast into [10 o] hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him. 6 Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings? and [p] not one of them is forgotten in the sight of God. 7 But [q] the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not: [r] ye are of more value than many sparrows. 8 And I say unto you, [s] Every one who shall confess [11] me before men, [12] him shall the Son of man also confess [t] before the angels of God: 9 but [u] he that denieth me in the presence of men [v] shall be denied [t] in the presence of the angels of God. 10 And [w] every one who shall speak a word [x] against the Son of man, [y] it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that [z] blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit it shall not be forgiven. 11 [a] And when they [b] bring you before the synagogues, and [c] the rulers, and [c] the authorities, [d] be not anxious how or what ye shall answer, or what ye shall say: 12 [e] for the Holy Spirit shall teach you in that very hour what ye ought to say.

said unto him, [1]Master, bid my brother divide the inheritance with me. 14 But he said unto him, [g]Man, [h]who made me a judge or a divider over you? 15 And he said unto them, [i]Take heed, and keep yourselves from all covetousness: [2]for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. 16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, [j]The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully: 17 and he reasoned within himself, saying, [k]What shall I do, because I have not where to bestow my fruits? 18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my [l]barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my corn and my goods. 19 And I will say to my [3]soul, [3]Soul, thou hast much goods laid up [m]for many years; take thine ease, [n]eat, drink, be merry. 20 But God said unto him, [o]Thou foolish one, [m]this night [4]is thy [3]soul required of thee; and the things which thou hast prepared, [q]whose shall they be? 21 So is he [r]that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.

22 And he said unto his disciples, [s]Therefore I say unto you, [t]Be not anxious for your [5]life, what ye shall eat; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. 23 For the [5]life is more than the food, and the body than the raiment. 24 [u]Consider the ravens, that they sow not, neither reap; which have no storechamber nor barn; and God feedeth them: [v]of how much more value are ye than the birds! 25 And which of you by being anxious can add a cubit unto his [6][w]stature? 26 If then ye are not able to do even that which is least, why are ye anxious concerning the rest? 27 Consider the lilies, how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin; yet I say unto you, [x]Even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 28 But if God doth so clothe the grass in the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how much more shall he clothe you, [y]O ye of little faith? 29 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, and what ye shall drink, neither [z]be ye of doubtful mind. 30 For all these things [a]do the nations of the world seek after: but [a]your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. 31 Howbeit [b]seek ye [7][c]his kingdom, [d]and these things shall be added unto you. 32 [e]Fear not, little [f]flock; for [g]it is your Father's good pleasure to give you [h]the kingdom. 33 [i]Sell that ye have, and [j]give alms; [k]make for yourselves purses which wax not old, [l]a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief draweth near, neither moth destroyeth. 34 [m]For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 [n]Let your loins be girded about, and [o]your lamps burning; 36 and be ye yourselves like unto men [p]looking for their lord, when he shall return from the marriage feast; that, when he cometh and [q]knocketh, they may straightway open unto him. 37 [r]Blessed are those [8]servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find [r]watching: verily I say unto you, that [s]he shall gird himself, and [t]make them sit down to meat, and shall come and serve them. 38 And if he shall come in the second watch, and if in the third, and find them so, blessed are those servants. 39 [9][u]But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what hour [v]the thief was coming, he would have watched, and not have left his house to be [10][w]broken through. 40 Be ye also [x]ready: for in an hour that ye think not [y]the Son of man cometh.

41 And Peter said, Lord, [z]speakest thou this parable unto us, or even unto all? 42 And the Lord said, Who then is [11][a]the faithful and [a]wise [b]steward, whom his lord shall set over his household, to give them their portion of food in due season? 43 [c]Blessed is that [12]servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. 44 Of a truth I say unto you, that [d]he will set him over all that he hath. 45 But if that [12]servant shall say in his heart, My lord [e]delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and the maidservants, and to eat and drink, and [f] to be drunken; 46 the lord of that [1] servant shall come [g] in a day when he expecteth not, and [g] in an hour when he knoweth not, and shall [2] cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the unfaithful. 47 [h] And that [1] servant, which [i] knew his lord's will, and [j] made not ready, [i] nor did according to his will, [k] shall be beaten with many stripes; 48 [l] but he that knew not, and did things worthy of stripes, [m] shall be beaten with few stripes. [n] And to whomsoever much is given, of him shall much be required: and to whom they commit much, of him will they ask the more.

49 [o] I came to cast fire upon the earth; and what will I, if it is already kindled? 50 But [p] I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how [q] am I straitened till it be accomplished! 51 [r] Think ye that I am come to give peace in the earth? I tell you, [r] Nay; but rather division: 52 for there shall be from henceforth five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. 53 They shall be divided, [t] father against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against her mother; mother in law against her daughter in law, and daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 And he said to the multitudes also, [u] When ye see [v] a cloud rising in the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it cometh to pass. 55 And [u] when ye see a south wind blowing, ye say, There will be [w] a [3] scorching heat; and it cometh to pass. 56 Ye hypocrites, [x] ye know how to [4] interpret the face of the earth and the heaven; but how is it that ye know not how to [4] interpret this time? 57 And why even [y] of yourselves [z] judge ye not what is right? 58 For [a] as thou art going with thine adversary before the magistrate, on the way give diligence to be quit of him; lest haply he hale thee unto the judge, and the judge shall deliver thee to the [5] officer, and the [5] officer shall cast thee into prison. 59 I say unto thee, [b] Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou have paid the very last [c] mite.

13 1 Now there were some present at that very season which told him of the Galilæans, whose blood [d] Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. 2 And he answered and said unto them, [e] Think ye that these Galilæans were sinners above all the Galilæans, because they have suffered these things? 3 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye [f] repent, ye shall all in like manner perish. 4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in [g] Siloam fell, and killed them, think ye that they were [6] [h] offenders above all the men that dwell in Jerusalem? 5 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye [f] repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 And he spake this parable; A certain man had [i] a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit thereon, and found none. 7 And he said unto the vinedresser, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: [j] cut it down; why doth it also cumber the ground? 8 And he answering saith unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it: 9 and if it bear fruit thenceforth, well; but if not, thou shalt cut it down.

10 And [k] he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath day. 11 And behold, a woman which had [l] a spirit of infirmity eighteen years; and she was bowed together, and could in no wise lift herself up. 12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. 13 And he [m] laid his hands upon her: and immediately she was made straight, and [n] glorified God. 14 And [o] the ruler of the synagogue, being moved with indignation because Jesus [p] had healed on the sabbath, answered and said to the multitude, [q] There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the day of the sabbath. 15 But the Lord answered him, and said, Ye hypocrites, [r] doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the [7] stall, and lead him away to watering? 16 And ought not this woman, [s] being a daughter of Abraham, whom [t] Satan had bound, lo, these eighteen years, to have been loosed from this bond on the day of the sabbath? 17 And as he said these things, [u] all his adversaries were put to shame: and [v] all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 [w] He said therefore, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I liken it? 19 It is like unto [x] a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his own garden; and it grew, and became a tree; and the birds of the heaven lodged in the branches thereof. 20 And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? 21 [y] It is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in [z] three [1] measures of meal, till it was [a] all leavened.

22 [b] And he went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and [c] journeying on unto Jerusalem. 23 And one said unto him, Lord, are they few [d] that be saved? And he said unto them, 24 [e] Strive [f] to enter in by the narrow door: for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be [2] able. 25 [g] When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, [h] Lord, open to us; and he shall answer and say to you, [i] I know you not whence ye are; 26 then shall ye begin to say, [j] We did eat and drink in thy presence, and thou didst teach in our streets; 27 and he shall say, I tell you, [i] I know not whence ye are; [k] depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. 28 [l] There shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see [l] Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and [l] yourselves cast forth without. 29 And [l] they shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and [m] shall [3] sit down in the kingdom of God. 30 And behold, [n] there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

31 In that very hour there came certain Pharisees, saying to him, Get thee out, and go [o] hence: for [p] Herod would fain kill thee. 32 And he said unto them, Go and say to that fox, Behold, I cast out [4] devils and perform cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day [q] I am perfected. 33 Howbeit [r] I [s] must go on my way to-day and to-morrow and the day following: for it cannot be that [t] a prophet perish out of Jerusalem. 34 [u] O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, [v] which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! [w] how often would I have [x] gathered [y] thy children together, [z] even as a hen gathereth her own brood [a] under her wings, and [b] ye would not! 35 Behold, [c] your house is left unto you desolate: and I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until ye shall say, [d] Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 1 And it came to pass, [e] when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a sabbath to eat bread, that they were [f] watching him. 2 And behold, there was before him a certain man which had the dropsy. 3 And Jesus answering spake unto [g] the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, [h] Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath, or not? 4 But they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go. 5 And he said unto them, [i] Which of you shall have [5] an ass or an ox fallen into a well, and will not straightway draw him up on a sabbath day? 6 [j] And they could not answer again unto these things.

7 And he spake a parable unto those which were bidden, when he marked [k] how they chose out the chief seats; saying unto them, 8 When thou art bidden of any man to a marriage feast, [6] sit not down in the chief seat; lest haply a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him, 9 and he that bade thee and him shall come and say to thee, Give this man place; and then thou shalt begin with shame to take the lowest place. 10 But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place; [l] that when he that hath bidden thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have glory in the presence of all that sit at meat with thee. 11 For [m] every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

12 And he said to him also that had bidden him, When thou makest [n] a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy [o] kinsmen, nor rich neighbours; [o] lest haply they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. 13 But when thou makest a feast, [p] bid [q] the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: 14 and thou shalt be blessed; because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed [r] in [s] the resurrection of the just.

15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, [t] Blessed is he that shall [u] eat bread in the kingdom of God. 16 But he said unto him, [v] A certain man [w] made a great supper; and he bade many: 17 and he [x] sent forth his [1] servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. 18 And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and I must needs go out and see it: I pray thee have me excused. 19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. 20 And another said, [y] I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. 21 And the [1] servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his [1] servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither [z] the poor and maimed and blind and lame. 22 And the [1] servant said, Lord, what thou didst command is done, and yet there is room. 23 And the lord said unto the [1] servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and [a] constrain them to come in, that my house may be filled. 24 For I say unto you, that [b] none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

25 Now there went with him great multitudes: and he turned, and said unto them, 26 [c] If any man cometh unto me, and [d] hateth not his own father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, [e] yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. 27 [f] Whosoever doth not [g] bear his own cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. 28 For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doth not [h] first sit down and count the cost, whether he have wherewith to complete it? 29 Lest haply, when he hath laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, all that behold begin to mock him, 30 saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish. 31 Or what king, as he goeth to encounter another king in war, will not [i] sit down first and take counsel whether he is able [j] with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? 32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and asketh conditions of peace. 33 [k] So therefore whosoever he be of you that [l] renounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple. 34 [m] Salt therefore is good: [n] but if even the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned? 35 It is fit neither for the land nor for the dunghill: men cast it out. [o] He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

15 1 Now all [p] the publicans and sinners were drawing near unto him for to hear him. 2 And both the Pharisees and the scribes [q] murmured, saying, [r] This man receiveth sinners, and [s] eateth with them.

3 And he spake unto them this parable, saying, 4 [t] What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and [u] having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine [v] in the wilderness, and [w] go after that which is lost, until he find it? 5 And when he hath found it, [x] he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. 6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and his neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me, for [y] I have found my sheep which was lost. 7 I say unto you, that even so there shall be joy in heaven over one sinner that [z] repenteth, more than over ninety and nine [a] righteous persons, which need no repentance.

8 Or what woman having ten [2] pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a lamp, and sweep the house, and seek diligently until she find it? 9 And when she hath found it, she calleth together

And they began to be merry. 25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing. 26 And he called to him one of the servants, and inquired what these things might be. 27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. 28 But he was angry, and would not go in: and his father came out, and intreated him. 29 But he answered and said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, and I never transgressed a commandment of thine: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might [v] make merry v ver. 33.

to yourselves friends [1] by means of [h] the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when it shall fail, they may receive you into the eternal tabernacles. 10 [i] He that is [j] faithful in a very little is faithful also in much: and he that is unrighteous in a very little is unrighteous also in much. 11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? 12 And if ye have not been faithful in [k] that which is another's, who will give you that which is [2] your own? 13 [h] No [3] servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

14 And [l] the Pharisees, who were [m] lovers of money, heard all these things; and they [n] scoffed at him. 15 And he said unto them, Ye are they that [o] justify yourselves in the sight of men; but [p] God knoweth your hearts: for that which is exalted among men [q] is an abomination in the sight of God. 16 [r] The law and the prophets were until John: from that time [s] the gospel of the kingdom of God is preached, and [t] every man entereth violently into it. 17 But [u] it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one tittle of the law to fall. 18 [v] Every one that putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth one that is put away from a husband committeth adultery.

19 Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in [w] purple and fine linen, [4] [x] faring sumptuously every day: 20 and a certain beggar named Lazarus [y] was laid at his gate, full of sores, 21 and desiring to be fed with [z] the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table; yea, even the dogs came and licked his sores. 22 And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by [a] the angels [b] into Abraham's bosom: and the rich man also died, and was buried. 23 And in [c] Hades he lifted up his eyes, [d] being in torments, and [e] seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus [b] in his bosom. 24 And he cried and said, [f] Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and [g] cool my tongue; for [h] I am in anguish in this flame. 25 But Abraham said, [5] Son, remember that [i] thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou art in anguish. 26 And [6] beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they which would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross over from thence to us. 27 And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house; 28 for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. 29 But Abraham saith, They have [j] Moses and the prophets; [k] let them hear them. 30 And he said, Nay, [l] father Abraham: but if one go to them from the dead, they will repent. 31 And he said unto him, If they hear not [j] Moses and the prophets, [m] neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.

17 1 And he said unto his disciples, [n] It is impossible but that [o] occasions of stumbling should come: but [p] woe unto him, through whom they come! 2 [q] It were well for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble. 3 Take heed to yourselves: [r] if thy brother sin, [s] rebuke him; and if he repent, [t] forgive him. 4 And if he sin against thee [u] seven times in the day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5 And [v] the apostles said unto the Lord, [w] Increase our faith. 6 And the Lord said, [x] If ye have faith as [y] a grain of mustard seed, ye would say unto this [z] sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and be thou planted in the sea; and it would have obeyed you. 7 But who is there of you, having a [7] servant plowing or keeping sheep, that will say unto him, when he is come in from the field, Come straightway and sit down to meat; 8 and will not rather say unto
