

THE LETTER OF PAUL TO TITUS

¹⁰ For there are many rebellious people, full of meaningless talk and deception, especially those of the circumcision faction. ¹¹ They must be silenced, because they are ruining entire households by teaching what they ought not to teach, for the sake of sordid gain. ¹² One of their very own prophets said,

“Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, and lazy gluttons.”

¹³ This testimony is true. Therefore rebuke them sharply, so that they may become sound in the faith, ¹⁴ not paying any attention to Jewish myths or the commandments of men who turn away from the truth. ¹⁵ To the pure, all things are pure; but to those who are defiled and do not believe, nothing is pure. In fact, both their minds and their consciences are defiled. ¹⁶ They profess to know God, but by their works they deny him. They are detestable, disobedient, and proven unqualified for any good work.

to their children, ⁵ sensible, pure, *homemakers, kind, and submissive to their own husbands, so that the word of God may not be discredited. ⁶ In the same way, urge the younger men to be of sound mind. ⁷ Show yourself to be a model of good works in every way, and in your teaching show integrity, dignity, †incorruptibility, ⁸ and sound speech that is above reproach, so that any opponent may be put to shame because he has nothing bad to say about ‡us. ⁹ Slaves are to be submissive to their own masters and well-pleasing in everything, not talking back, ¹⁰ not pilfering, but showing all good faith, so that in every way they may adorn the teaching of God Sour Savior.

¹¹ For the *saving grace of God has appeared to all people, ¹² instructing us to deny ungodliness and worldly lusts and to live in a sensible, righteous, and godly manner in the present age, ¹³ as we wait for the blessed hope—the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior, †Jesus Christ. ¹⁴ He gave himself for us to redeem us from all lawlessness and to purify for himself a people for his own possession, zealous for good works. ¹⁵ Declare these things; encourage and rebuke with all authority. Let no one despise you.

¹² When I send Artemas to you, or Tychicus, make every effort to come to me at Nicopolis, for

* 3:9 disputes † any dispute PCK WH

I have decided to spend the winter there. ¹³ Do everything you can to help Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their way, and see to it that they lack nothing. ¹⁴ Our people must learn to devote themselves to good works in order to meet pressing needs, so that they will not be unfruitful.

¹⁵ All who are with me greet you. Greet those who love us in the faith.

Grace be with you all. †Amen.

Written from Nicopolis of Macedonia to Titus, who was ordained as the first overseer of the church of the Cretans.‡
