<sup>7</sup> we have acted very corruptly against Thee, and have not kept the commands, and the statutes, and the judgments, that Thou didst command Moses Thy servant.

<sup>9</sup> and ye have turned back unto Me, and kept My commands, and done them — if your outcast is in the end of the heavens, thence I gather them, and have brought them in unto the place that I have chosen to cause My name to tabernacle there.

<sup>11</sup> 'I beseech Thee, O Lord, let, I pray Thee, Thine ear be attentive unto the prayer of Thy servant, and unto the prayer of Thy servants, those delighting to fear Thy Name; and give prosperity, I pray Thee, to Thy servant to-day, and give him for mercies before this man;' and I have been butler to the king.

<sup>2</sup> and the king saith to me, 'Wherefore [is] thy face sad, and thou not sick? this is nothing except sadness of heart;' and I fear very much,

<sup>3</sup> and say to the king, 'Let the king to the age live! wherefore should not my face be sad, when the city, the place of the graves of my fathers, [is] a waste, and its gates have been consumed with fire?'

<sup>4</sup> And the king saith to me, 'For what art thou seeking?' and I pray unto the God of the heavens,

<sup>6</sup> And the king saith to me (and the queen is sitting near him), 'How long is thy journey? and when dost thou return?' and it is good before the king, and he sendeth me away, and I set to him a time.

<sup>7</sup> And I say to the king, 'If to the king [it be] good, letters let be given to me for the governors beyond the River, that they let me pass over till that I come in unto Judah:

<sup>8</sup> and a letter unto Asaph, keeper of the paradise that the king hath, that he give to me trees for beams [for] the gates of the palace that the house hath, and for the wall of the city, and for the house into which I enter;' and the king giveth to me, according to the good hand of my God upon me.

<sup>9</sup> And I come in unto the governors beyond the River, and give to them the letters of the king; and the king sendeth with me heads of a force, and horsemen;

<sup>10</sup> and Sanballat the Horonite heareth, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, and it is evil to them — a great evil — that a man hath come in to seek good for the sons of Israel.

<sup>11</sup> And I come in unto Jerusalem, and I am there three days,

<sup>12</sup> and I rise by night, I and a few men with me, and have not declared to a man what my God is giving unto my heart to do for Jerusalem, and there is no beast with me except the beast on which I am riding.

<sup>13</sup> And I go out through the gate of the valley by night, and unto the front of the fountain of the dragon, and unto the gate of the dunghill, and I am measuring about the walls of Jerusalem, that are broken down, and its gates consumed with fire.

<sup>14</sup> And I pass over unto the gate of the fountain, and unto the pool of the king, and there is no place for the beast under me to pass over,

<sup>15</sup> and I am going up through the brook by night, and am measuring about the wall, and turn back, and come in through the gate of the valley, and turn back.

<sup>16</sup> And the prefects have not known whither I have gone, and what I am doing; and to the Jews, and to the priests, and to the freemen, and to the prefects, and to the rest of those doing the work, hitherto I have not declared [it];

<sup>17</sup> and I say unto them, 'Ye are seeing the evil that we are in, in that Jerusalem [is] waste, and its gates have been burnt with fire; come and we build the wall of Jerusalem, and we are not any more a reproach.'

<sup>18</sup> And I declare to them the hand of my God that is good upon me, and also the words of the king that he said to me, and they say, 'Let us rise, and we have built;' and they strengthen their hands for good.

<sup>19</sup> And Sanballat the Horonite heareth, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian, and they mock at us, and despise us, and say, 'What [is] this thing that ye are doing? against the king are ye rebelling?'

<sup>20</sup> And I return them word, and say to them, 'The God of the heavens — He doth give prosperity to us, and we His servants rise and have built; and to you there is no portion, and right, and memorial in Jerusalem.'

<sup>1</sup> And Eliashib the high priest riseth, and his brethren the priests, and they build the sheep-gate; they have sanctified it, and set up its doors, even unto the tower of Meah they have sanctified it, unto the tower of Hananeel;

<sup>2</sup> and by his hand have men of Jericho built; and by their hand hath Zaccur son of Imri built;

<sup>3</sup> and the fish-gate have sons of Hassenaah built, they have walled it, and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars.

<sup>4</sup> And by their hand hath Merimoth son of Urijah, son of Koz, strengthened; and by his hand hath Meshullam son of Berechiah, son of Meshezabeel, strengthened; and by his hand hath Zadok son of Baana strengthened;

<sup>5</sup> and by his hand have the Tekoites strengthened, and their honourable ones have not brought in their neck to the service of their Lord.

<sup>6</sup> And the old gate have Jehoiada son of Paseah, and Meshullam son of Besodeiah, strengthened; they have walled it, and set up its doors, and its locks, and its bars.

<sup>13</sup> The gate of the valley hath Hanun strengthened, and the inhabitants of Zanoah; they have built it, and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars, and a thousand cubits in the wall unto the dung-gate.

<sup>14</sup> And the dung-gate hath Malchijah son of Rechab, head of the district of Beth-Haccerem, strengthened; he doth build it, and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars.

<sup>32</sup> And between the ascent of the corner and the sheep-gate, have the refiners and the merchants strengthened.

<sup>1</sup> And it cometh to pass, when Sanballat hath heard that we are building the wall, that it is displeasing to him, and he is very angry and mocketh at the Jews,

<sup>3</sup> And Tobiah the Ammonite [is] by him and saith, 'Also, that which they are building — if a fox doth go up, then it hath broken down their stone wall.'

<sup>6</sup> And we build the wall, and all the wall is joined — unto its half, and the people have a heart to work.

<sup>7</sup> And it cometh to pass, when Sanballat hath heard, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites, that lengthening hath gone up to the walls of Jerusalem, that the breeches have begun to be stopped, then it is very displeasing to them,

<sup>8</sup> and they conspire, all of them together, to come in to fight against Jerusalem, and to do to it injury.

<sup>9</sup> And we pray unto our God, and appoint a watch against them, by day and by night, because of them.

<sup>10</sup> And Judah saith, 'The power of the burden-bearers hath become feeble, and the rubbish [is] abundant, and we are not able to build on the wall.'

<sup>11</sup> And our adversaries say, 'They do not know, nor see, till that we come in to their midst, and have slain them, and caused the work to cease.'

<sup>12</sup> And it cometh to pass, when the Jews have come who are dwelling near them, that they say to us ten times from all the places whither ye return — [they are] against us.

<sup>14</sup> And I see, and rise up, and say unto the freemen, and unto the prefects, and unto the rest of the people, 'Be not afraid of them; the Lord, the great and the fearful, remember ye, and fight for your brethren, your sons, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.'

<sup>15</sup> And it cometh to pass, when our enemies have heard that it hath been known to us, and God doth frustrate their counsel, and we turn back, all of us, unto the wall, each unto his work;

<sup>16</sup> yea, it cometh to pass, from that day, half of my servants are working in the business, and half of them are keeping hold of both the spears, the shields, and the bows, and the coats of mail; and the heads [are] behind all the house of Judah.

<sup>19</sup> And I say unto the freemen, and unto the prefects, and unto the rest of the people, 'The work is abundant, and large, and we are separated on the wall, far off one from another;

<sup>21</sup> And we are working in the business, and half of them are keeping hold of the spears, from the going up of the dawn till the coming forth of the stars.

<sup>22</sup> Also, at that time I said to the people, 'Let each with his servant lodge in the midst of Jerusalem, and they have been to us by night a guard, and by day [for] the work:'

<sup>23</sup> and there are none — I and my brethren and my servants, the men of the guard who [are] after me — there are none of us putting off our garments, each [hath] his vessel of water.

<sup>1</sup> And there is a great cry of the people and their wives, concerning their brethren the Jews,

<sup>2</sup> yea, there are who are saying, 'Our sons, and our daughters, we — are many, and we receive corn, and eat, and live.'

<sup>3</sup> And there are who are saying, 'Our fields, and our vineyards, and our houses, we are pledging, and we receive corn for the famine.'

<sup>4</sup> And there are who are saying, 'We have borrowed money for the tribute of the king, [on] our fields, and our vineyards;

<sup>5</sup> and now, as the flesh of our brethren [is] our flesh, as their sons [are] our sons, and lo, we are subduing our sons and our daughters for servants, and there are of our daughters subdued, and our hand hath no might, and our fields and our vineyards [are] to others.'

<sup>6</sup> And it is very displeasing to me when I have heard their cry and these words,

<sup>7</sup> and my heart reigneth over me, and I strive with the freemen, and with the prefects, and say to them, 'Usury one upon another ye are exacting;' and I set against them a great assembly,

<sup>8</sup> and say to them, 'We have acquired our brethren the Jews, those sold to the nations, according to the ability that [is] in us, and ye also sell your brethren, and they have been sold to us!' and they are silent, and have not found a word.

<sup>9</sup> And I say, 'Not good [is] the thing that ye are doing; in the fear of our God do ye not walk, because of the reproach of the nations our enemies?

<sup>10</sup> And also, I, my brethren, and my servants, are exacting of them silver and corn; let us leave off, I pray you, this usury.

<sup>11</sup> Give back, I pray you, to them, as to-day, their fields, their vineyards, their olive-yards, and their houses, and the hundredth [part] of the money, and of the corn, of the new wine, and of the oil, that ye are exacting of them.'

<sup>12</sup> And they say, 'We give back, and of them we seek nothing; so we do as thou art saying.' And I call the priests, and cause them to swear to do according to this thing;

<sup>13</sup> also, my lap I have shaken, and I say, 'Thus doth God shake out every man, who doth not perform this thing, from his house, and from his labour; yea, thus is he shaken out and empty;' and all the assembly say, 'Amen,' and praise Jehovah; and the people do according to this thing.

<sup>14</sup> Also, from the day that he appointed me to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year even unto the thirty and second year of Artaxerxes the king — twelve years — I, and my brethren, the bread of the governor have not eaten:

<sup>15</sup> the former governors who [are] before me have made themselves heavy on the people, and take of them in bread and wine, besides in silver forty shekels; also, their servants have ruled over the people — and I have not done so, because of the fear of God.

<sup>16</sup> And also, in the work of this wall I have done mightily, even a field we have not bought, and all my servants are gathered there for the work;

<sup>17</sup> and of the Jews, and of the prefects, a hundred and fifty men, and those coming in unto us of the nations that [are] round about us, [are] at my table;

<sup>18</sup> and that which hath been prepared for one day [is] one ox, six fat sheep, also fowls have been prepared for me, and once in ten days of all wines abundantly, and with this, the bread of the governor I have not sought, for heavy is the service on this people.

<sup>1</sup> And it cometh to pass, when it hath been heard by Sanballat, and Tobiah, and by Geshem the Arabian, and by the rest of our enemies, that I have builded the wall, and there hath not been left in it a breach, (also, till that time the doors I had not set up in the gates,)

<sup>2</sup> that Sanballat sendeth, also Geshem, unto me, saying, 'Come and we meet together in the villages, in the valley of Ono;' and they are thinking to do to me evil.

<sup>3</sup> And I send unto them messengers, saying, 'A great work I am doing, and I am not able to come down; why doth the work cease when I let it alone, and have come down unto you?'

<sup>4</sup> and they send unto me, according to this word, four times, and I return them [word] according to this word.

<sup>5</sup> And Sanballat sendeth unto me, according to this word, a fifth time, his servant, and an open letter in his hand;

<sup>6</sup> it is written in it, 'Among the nations it hath been heard, and Gashmu is saying: Thou and the Jews are thinking to rebel, therefore thou art building the wall, and thou hast been to them for a king — according to these words!'

<sup>7</sup> And also, prophets thou hast appointed to call for thee in Jerusalem, saying, A king [is] in Judah, and now it is heard by the king according to these words; and now come, and we take counsel together.'

<sup>8</sup> And I send unto him, saying, 'It hath not been according to these words that thou art saying, for from thine own heart thou art devising them;'

<sup>9</sup> for all of them are making us afraid, saying, 'Their hands are too feeble for the work, and it is not done;' and now, strengthen Thou my hands.

<sup>10</sup> And I have entered the house of Shemaiah son of Delaiah, son of Mehetabeel — and he is restrained — and he saith, 'Let us meet at the house of God, at the inside of the temple, and we shut the doors of the temple, for they are coming in to slay thee — yea, by night they are coming in to slay thee.'

<sup>11</sup> And I say, 'A man such as I — doth he flee? and who as I, that doth go in unto the temple, and live? — I do not go in.'

<sup>12</sup> And I discern, and lo, God hath not sent him, for in the prophecy he hath spoken unto me both Tobiah and Sanballat hired him,

<sup>13</sup> so that he [is] an hireling, that I may fear and do so, and I had sinned, and it had been to them for an evil name that they may reproach me.

<sup>14</sup> Be mindful, O my God, of Tobiah, and of Sanballat, according to these his works, and also, of Noadiah the prophetess, and of the rest of the prophets who have been making me afraid.

<sup>16</sup> and it cometh to pass, when all our enemies have heard, and all the nations who are round about us see, that they fall greatly in their own eyes, and know that by our God hath this work been done.

<sup>17</sup> Also, in those days the freemen of Judah are multiplying their letters going unto Tobiah, and those of Tobiah are coming in unto them;

<sup>18</sup> for many in Judah are sworn to him, for he [is] son-in-law to Shechaniah son of Arah, and Jehohanan his son hath taken the daughter of Meshullam son of Berechiah;

<sup>19</sup> also, his good deeds they have been saying before me, and my words they have been taking out to him; letters hath Tobiah sent to make me afraid.

<sup>3</sup> and I say to them, 'Let not the gates of Jerusalem be opened till the heat of the sun, and while they are standing by let them shut the doors, and fasten, and appoint guards of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, each in his guard, and each over-against his house.'

<sup>4</sup> And the city [is] broad on both sides, and great, and the people [are] few in its midst, and there are no houses builded;

<sup>5</sup> and my God putteth it unto my heart, and I gather the freeman, and the prefects, and the people, for the genealogy, and I find a book of the genealogy of those coming up at the beginning, and I find written in it: —

bowls fifty, priests' coats thirty and five hundred.

<sup>71</sup> And of the heads of the fathers they have given to the treasure of the work, of gold, drams two myriads, and of silver, pounds two thousand and two hundred.

<sup>72</sup> And that which the rest of the people have given [is] of gold, drams two myriads, and of silver, pounds two thousand, and of priests coats, sixty and seven.

<sup>73</sup> And they dwell — the priests, and the Levites, and the gatekeepers, and the singers, and [some] of the people, and the Nethinim, and all Israel — in their cities, and the seventh month cometh, and the sons of Israel [are] in their cities.

<sup>1</sup> And all the people are gathered as one man unto the broad place that [is] before the water-gate, and they say to Ezra the scribe to bring the book of the law of Moses, that Jehovah commanded Israel.

<sup>2</sup> And Ezra the priest bringeth the law before the assembly, both of men and women, and every one intelligent to hear, on the first day of the seventh month,

<sup>3</sup> and he readeth in it before the broad place that [is] before the water-gate, from the light till the middle of the day, over-against the men, and the women, and those intelligent, and the ears of all the people [are] unto the book of the law.

<sup>5</sup> And Ezra openeth the book before the eyes of all the people — for above all the people he hath been — and at his opening [it] all the people have stood up,

<sup>6</sup> and Ezra blesseth Jehovah, the great God, and all the people answer, 'Amen, Amen,' with lifting up of their hands, and they bow and do obeisance to Jehovah — faces to the earth.

<sup>7</sup> And Jeshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodi-jah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites, giving the people understanding in the law, and the people, [are] on their station, <sup>8</sup> and they read in the book, in the law of God, explaining — so as to give the meaning, and they give understanding to the convocation.

<sup>9</sup> And Nehemiah — he [is] the Tirshatha — saith (and Ezra the priest, the scribe, and the Levites who are instructing the people) to all the people, 'To-day is holy to Jehovah your God, do not mourn, nor weep:' for all the people are weeping at their hearing the words of the law.

<sup>10</sup> And he saith to them, 'Go, eat fat things, and drink sweet things, and sent portions to him for whom nothing is prepared, for to-day [is] holy to our Lord, and be not grieved, for the joy of Jehovah is your strength.'

<sup>12</sup> And all the people go to eat, and to drink, and to send portions, and to make great joy, because they have understood concerning the words that they made known to them.

<sup>13</sup> And on the second day have been gathered heads of the fathers of all the people, the priests, and the Levites, unto Ezra the scribe, even to act wisely concerning the words of the law.

<sup>14</sup> And they find written in the law that Jehovah commanded by the hand of Moses, that the sons of Israel dwell in booths in the feast, in the seventh month,

<sup>15</sup> and that they proclaim and cause to pass over all their cities, (and in Jerusalem,) saying, 'Go ye out to the mount, and bring leaves of the olive, and leaves of the oil tree, and leaves of the myrtle, and leaves of the palms, and leaves of thick trees, to make booths as it is written.'

<sup>16</sup> And the people go out, and bring in, and make for themselves booths, each on his roof, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the broad place of the water-gate, and in the broad place of the gate of Ephraim.

<sup>17</sup> And they make — all the assembly of the captives of the captivity — booths, and they sit in booths; for the sons of Israel had not done, from the days of Jeshua son of Nun, so unto that day, and there is very great joy.

<sup>18</sup> And he readeth in the book of the law of God day by day, from the first day till the last day, and they make a feast seven days, and on the eighth day a restraint, according to the ordinance.

<sup>1</sup> And in the twenty and fourth day of this month have the sons of Israel been gathered, with fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth upon them;

<sup>5</sup> And the Levites say, [even] Jeshua, and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, Pethahiah, 'Rise, bless Jehovah your God, from the age unto the age, and they bless the name of Thine honour that [is] exalted above all blessing and praise.

<sup>6</sup> Thou [art] He, O Jehovah, Thyself — Thou hast made the heavens, the heavens of the heavens, and all their host, the earth and all that [are] on it, the seas and all that [are] in them, and Thou art keeping all of them alive, and the host of the heavens to Thee are bowing themselves.

<sup>7</sup> 'Thou [art] He, O Jehovah God, who didst fix on Abraham, and didst bring him out from Ur of the Chaldeans, and didst make his name Abraham,

<sup>8</sup> and didst find his heart stedfast before Thee, so as to make with him the covenant, to give the land of the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Amorite, and the Perizzite, and the Jebusite, and the Girgashite, to give [it] to his seed. 'And Thou dost establish Thy words, for Thou [art] righteous,

<sup>10</sup> and dost give signs and wonders on Pharaoh, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land, for Thou hast known that they have acted proudly against them, and Thou makest to Thee a name as [at] this day.

<sup>11</sup> And the sea Thou hast cleaved before them, and they pass over into the midst of the sea on the dry land, and their pursuers Thou hast cast into the depths, as a stone, into the strong waters.

<sup>12</sup> And by a pillar of cloud Thou hast led them by day, and by a pillar of fire by night, to lighten to them the way in which they go.

<sup>13</sup> 'And on mount Sinai Thou hast come down, even to speak with them from the heavens, and Thou dost give to them right judgments, and true laws, good statutes and commands.

<sup>14</sup> And Thy holy sabbath Thou hast made known to them, and commands, and statutes, and law, Thou hast commanded for them, by the hand of Moses Thy servant;

<sup>15</sup> and bread from the heavens Thou hast given to them for their hunger, and water from a rock hast brought out to them for their thirst, and dost say to them to go in to possess the land that Thou hast lifted up Thy hand to give to them.

<sup>16</sup> 'And they and our fathers have acted proudly, and harden their neck, and have not hearkened unto Thy commands,

<sup>17</sup> yea, they refuse to hearken, and have not remembered Thy wonders that Thou hast done with them, and harden their neck and appoint a head, to turn back to their service, in their rebellion; and Thou [art] a God of pardons, gracious, and merciful, long-suffering, and abundant in kindness, and hast not forsaken them.

<sup>18</sup> 'Also, when they have made to themselves a molten calf, and say, this [is] thy god that brought thee up out of Egypt, and do great despisings,

<sup>19</sup> and Thou, in Thine abundant mercies, hast not forsaken them in the wilderness — the pillar of the cloud hath not turned aside from off them by day, to lead them in the way, and the pillar of the fire by night, to give light to them and the way in which they go.

<sup>21</sup> and forty years Thou hast nourished them in a wilderness; they have not lacked; their garments have not worn out, and their feet have not swelled.

<sup>22</sup> 'And Thou givest to them kingdoms, and peoples, and dost apportion them to the corner, and they possess the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan.

<sup>23</sup> And their sons Thou hast multiplied as the stars of the heavens, and bringest them in unto the land that Thou hast said to their fathers to go in to possess.

<sup>24</sup> 'And the sons come in, and possess the land, and Thou humblest before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and givest them into their hand, and their kings, and the peoples of the land, to do with them according to their pleasure.

<sup>26</sup> 'And they are disobedient, and rebel against Thee, and cast Thy law behind their back, and Thy prophets they have slain, who testified against them, to bring them back unto Thee, and they do great despisings, from the heavens, dost hear, and, according to Thine abundant mercies, dost give to them saviours, and they save them out of the hand of their adversaries.

<sup>27</sup> and Thou givest them into the hand of their adversaries, and they distress them, and in the time of their distress they cry unto Thee, and Thou,

<sup>28</sup>'And when they have rest, they turn back to do evil before Thee, and Thou dost leave them in the hand of their enemies, and they rule over them; and they turn back, and call Thee, and Thou from the heavens dost hear, and dost deliver them, according to Thy mercies, many times,

<sup>29</sup>and dost testify against them, to bring them back unto Thy law; and they – they have acted proudly, and have not hearkened to Thy commands, and against Thy judgments have sinned, – which man doth and hath lived in them – and they give a refractory shoulder, and their neck have hardened, and have not hearkened.

<sup>30</sup>'And Thou drawest over them many years, and testifiest against them by Thy Spirit, by the hand of Thy prophets, and they have not given ear, and Thou dost give them into the hand of peoples of the lands,

<sup>32</sup>'And now, O our God – God, the great, the mighty, and the fearful, keeping the covenant and the kindness – let not all the travail that hath found us be little before Thee, for our kings, for our heads, and for our priests, and for our prophets, and for our fathers, and for all Thy people, from the days of the kings of Asshur unto this day;

<sup>34</sup>and our kings, our heads, our priests, and our fathers, have not done Thy law, nor attended unto Thy commands, and to Thy testimonies, that Thou hast testified against them;

<sup>35</sup>and they, in their kingdom, and in Thine abundant goodness, that Thou hast given to them, and in the land, the large and the fat, that Thou hast set before them, have not served Thee, nor turned back from their evil doings.

<sup>36</sup>'Lo, we – to-day – [are] servants, and the land that Thou hast given to our fathers, to eat its fruit and its good – lo, we [are] servants on it,

<sup>37</sup>and its increase it is multiplying to the kings whom Thou hast set over us in our sins; and over our bodies they are ruling, and over our cattle, according to their pleasure, and we [are] in great distress.

<sup>38</sup>And for all this we are making a stedfast covenant, and are writing, and over him who is sealed [are] our heads, our Levites, our priests.'

10

<sup>28</sup> And the rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the Nethinim, and every one who hath been separated from the peoples of the lands unto the law of God, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, every knowing intelligent one,

<sup>29</sup> are laying hold on their brethren, their honourable ones, and coming in to an execration, and in to an oath, to walk in the law of God, that was given by the hand of Moses, servant of God, and to observe and to do all the commands of Jehovah our Lord, and His judgments, and His statutes;

<sup>30</sup> and that we give not our daughters to the peoples of the land, and their daughters we take not to our sons;

<sup>31</sup> and the peoples of the land who are bringing in the wares and any corn on the sabbath-day to sell, we receive not of them on the sabbath, and on a holy day, and we leave the seventh year, and usury on every hand.

<sup>32</sup> And we have appointed for ourselves commands, to put on ourselves the third of a shekel in a year, for the service of the house of our God,

<sup>33</sup> for bread of the arrangement, and the continual present, and the continual burnt-offering of the sabbaths, of the new moons, for appointed seasons, and for holy things, and for sin-offerings, to make atonement for Israel, even all the work of the house of our God.

<sup>34</sup> And the lots we have caused to fall for the offering of wood, [among] the priests, the Levites, and the people, to bring in to the house of our God, by the house of our fathers, at times appointed, year by year, to burn on the altar of Jehovah our God, as it is written in the law,

<sup>35</sup> and to bring in the first fruits of our ground, and the first fruits of all fruit of every tree, year by year, to the house of Jehovah,

<sup>36</sup> and the firstlings of our sons, and of our cattle, as it is written in the law, and the firstlings of our herds and our flocks, to bring in to the house of our God, to the priests who are ministering in the house of our God.

<sup>37</sup> And the beginning of our dough, and our heave-offerings, and the fruit of every tree, of new wine, and of oil, we bring in to the priests, unto the chambers of the house of our God, and the tithe of our ground to the Levites; and they – the Levites – have the tithes in all the cities of our tillage;

<sup>38</sup> and the priest, son of Aaron, hath been with the Levites in the tithing of the Levites, and the Levites bring up the tithe of the tithe to the house of our God unto the chambers, to the treasure-house;

<sup>39</sup> for unto the chambers do they bring in — the sons of Israel and the sons of Levi — the heave-offering of the corn, the new wine, and the oil, and there [are] vessels of the sanctuary, and the priests, those ministering, and the gatekeepers, and the singers, and we do not forsake the house of our God.

11

<sup>1</sup> And the heads of the people dwell in Jerusalem, and the rest of the people have caused to fall lots to bring in one out of ten to dwell in Jerusalem the holy city, and nine parts in the cities,

<sup>2</sup> and the people give a blessing to all the men who are offering themselves willingly to dwell in Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> And these [are] heads of the province who have dwelt in Jerusalem, and in cities of Judah, they have dwelt each in his possession in their cities; Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the Nethinim, and the sons of the servants of Solomon.

<sup>4</sup> And in Jerusalem have dwelt of the sons of Judah, and of the sons of Benjamin. Of the sons of Judah: Athaiah son of Uziah, son of Zechariah, son of Amariah, son of Shephatiah, son of Mahalaleel, of the sons of Perez;

<sup>5</sup> and Masseiah son of Baruch, son of Col-Hozeh, son of Hazaiah, son of Adaiah, son of Joiarib, son of Zechariah, son of Shiloni;

<sup>7</sup> And these [are] sons of Benjamin: Sallu son of Meshullam, son of Joed, son of Pedaiiah, son of Kolaiah, son of Maaseiah, son of Ithiel, son of Jesaiah;

<sup>11</sup> Seraiah son of Hilkiyah, son of Meshullam, son of Zadok, son of Meraioth, son of Ahitub, leader of the house of God,

<sup>12</sup> and their brethren doing the work of the house [are] eight hundred twenty and two; and Adaiah son of Jeroham, son of Pelaliah, son of Amzi, son of Zechariah, son of Pashhur, son of Malchiah,

<sup>16</sup> and Shabbethai, and Jozabad, [are] over the outward work of the house of God, of the heads of the Levites,

<sup>17</sup> and Mattaniah son of Micha, son of Zabdi, son of Asaph, [is] head — at the commencement he giveth thanks in prayer; and Bakbukiah [is] second among his brethren, and Abda son of Shammua, son of Galal, son of Jeduthun.

<sup>22</sup> And the overseer of the Levites in Jerusalem [is] Uzzi son of Bani, son of Hashabiah, son of Mattaniah, son of Micha: of the sons of Asaph, the singers [are] over-against the work of the house of God,

<sup>25</sup> And at the villages with their fields, of the sons of Judah there have dwelt, in Kirjath-Arba and its small towns, and in Dibon and its small towns, and in Jekabzeel and its villages,

12

<sup>26</sup> These [are] in the days of Joiakim son of Jeshua, son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the priest, the scribe.

<sup>27</sup> And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them in to Jerusalem, to make the dedication even with gladness, and with thanksgivings, and with singing, [with] cymbals, psalteries, and with harps;

<sup>30</sup> and the priests and the Levites are cleansed, and they cleanse the people, and the gates, and the wall.

<sup>35</sup> and of the sons of the priests with trumpets, Zechariah son of Jonathan, son of Shemaiah, son of Mattaniah, son of Michaiah, son of Zaccur, son of Asaph,

<sup>37</sup> and by the gate of the fountain and over-against them, they have gone up by the steps of the city of David, at the going up of the wall beyond the house of David, and unto the water-gate eastward.

<sup>38</sup> And the second thanksgiving company that is going over-against, and I after it, and half of the people on the wall from beyond the tower of the furnaces and unto the broad wall,

<sup>40</sup> And the two thanksgiving companies stand in the house of God, and I and half of the prefects with me,

<sup>42</sup> and Masseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer, and the singers sound, and Jezrahiah the inspector;

<sup>43</sup> and they sacrifice on that day great sacrifices and rejoice, for God hath made them rejoice [with] great joy, and also, the women and the children have rejoiced, and the joy of Jerusalem is heard — unto a distance.

<sup>44</sup> And certain are appointed on that day over the chambers for treasures, for heave-offerings, for first-fruits, and for tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities the portions of the law for priests, and for Levites, for the joy of Judah [is] over the priests, and over the Levites, who are standing up.

<sup>45</sup> And the singers and the gatekeepers keep the charge of their God, even the charge of the cleansing — according to the command of David [and] Solomon his son,

<sup>47</sup> And all Israel in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, are giving the portions of the singers, and of the gatekeepers, the matter of a day in its day, and are sanctifying to the Levites, and the Levites are sanctifying to the sons of Aaron.

13

<sup>1</sup> On that day there was read in the book of Moses, in the ears of the people, and it hath been found written in it that an Ammonite and Moabite doth not come into the assembly of God — unto the age,

<sup>2</sup> because they have not come before the sons of Israel with bread and with water, and hire against them Balaam to revile them, and our God turneth the reviling into a blessing.

<sup>5</sup> and he maketh for him a great chamber, and there they were formerly putting the present, the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithe of the corn, the new wine, and the oil — the commanded thing of the Levites, and the singers, and the gatekeepers — and the heave-offering of the priests.

<sup>6</sup> And during all this I was not in Jerusalem, for in the thirty and second year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon did I come unto the king, and at the end of days I have asked of the king,

<sup>7</sup> and I come in to Jerusalem, and understand concerning the evil that Eliashib hath done for Tobiah, to make to him a chamber in the courts of the house of God,

<sup>8</sup> and it is very displeasing to me, and I cast all the vessels of the house of Tobiah without, out of the chamber,

<sup>9</sup> and I speak, and they cleanse the chambers, and I bring back thither the vessels of the house of God with the present and the frankincense.

<sup>10</sup> And I know that the portions of the Levites have not been given, and they flee each to his field — the Levites and the singers, doing the work.

<sup>13</sup> And I appoint treasurers over the treasuries, Shelemiah the priest, and Zadok the scribe, and Pedaiah of the Levites; and by their hand [is] Hanan son of Zaccur, son of Mattaniah, for stedfast they have been reckoned, and on them [it is] to give a portion to their brethren.

<sup>14</sup> Be mindful of me, O my God, for this, and do not blot out my kind acts that I have done, for the house of my God, and for its charges.

<sup>15</sup> In those days I have seen in Judah those treading wine-vats on sabbath, and bringing in the sheaves, and lading on the asses, and also, wine, grapes, and figs, and every burden, yea, they are bringing in to Jerusalem on the sabbath-day, and I testify in the day of their selling provision.

<sup>16</sup> And the Tyrians have dwelt in it, bringing in fish, and every ware, and selling on sabbath to the sons of Judah and in Jerusalem.

<sup>17</sup> And I strive with the freemen of Judah, and say to them, 'What [is] this evil thing that ye are doing, and polluting the sabbath-day?

<sup>18</sup> Thus did not your fathers do? and our God bringeth in on us all this evil, and on this city, and ye are adding fierceness on Israel, to pollute the sabbath.'

<sup>19</sup> And it cometh to pass, when the gates of Jerusalem have been dark before the sabbath, that I speak, and the doors are shut, and I say, that they do not open them till after the sabbath; and of my servants I have stationed at the gates; there doth not come in a burden on the sabbath-day.

<sup>20</sup> And they lodge — the merchants and sellers of all ware — at the outside of Jerusalem, once or twice,

<sup>21</sup> and I testify against them, and say unto them, 'Wherefore are ye lodging over-against the wall? if ye repeat [it], a hand I put forth upon you;' from that time they have not come in on the sabbath.

<sup>22</sup> And I say to the Levites, that they be cleansed, and, coming in, keeping the gates, to sanctify the sabbath-day. Also, this, remember for me, O my God, and have pity on me, according to the abundance of Thy kindness.

<sup>24</sup> And of their sons, half are speaking Ashdoditish — and are not knowing to speak Jewish — and according to the language of people and people.

<sup>25</sup> And I strive with them, and declare them vile, and smite certain of them, and pluck off their hair, and cause them to swear by God, 'Ye do not give your daughters to their sons, nor do ye take of their daughters to your sons, and to yourselves.

<sup>26</sup> 'By these did not Solomon king of Israel sin? and among the many nations there was no king like him, and beloved by his God he was, and God maketh him king over all Israel — even him did the strange women cause to sin.

<sup>27</sup> And to you do we hearken to do all this great evil, to trespass against our God, to settle strange women?'

<sup>28</sup> And [one] of the sons of Joiada son of Eliashib the high priest, [is] son-in-law to Sanballat the Horonite, and I cause him to flee from off me.

<sup>30</sup> And I have cleansed them from every stranger, and appoint charges to priests and to Levites, each in his work, <sup>31</sup> and for the wood-offering at appointed times, and for first-fruits. Be mindful of me, O my God, for good.

The Book of Esther

<sup>7</sup> and the giving of drink in vessels of gold, and the vessels [are] divers vessels, and the royal wine [is] abundant, as a memorial of the king.

<sup>8</sup> And the drinking [is] according to law, none is pressing, for so hath the king appointed for every chief one of his house, to do according to the pleasure of man and man.

<sup>10</sup> On the seventh day, as the heart of the king is glad with wine, he hath said to Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seven eunuchs who are ministering in the presence of the king Ahasuerus,

<sup>18</sup> yea, this day do princesses of Persia and Media, who have heard the word of the queen, say [so] to all heads of the king, even according to the sufficiency of contempt and wrath.

<sup>19</sup> 'If to the king [it be] good, there goeth forth a royal word from before him, and it is written with the laws of Persia and Media, and doth not pass away, that Vashti doth not come in before the king Ahasuerus, and her royalty doth the king give to her companion who [is] better than she;

<sup>21</sup> And the thing is good in the eyes of the king, and of the princes, and the king doth according to the word of Memucan,

<sup>22</sup> and sendeth letters unto all provinces of the king, unto province and province according to its writing, and unto people and people according to its tongue, for every man being head in his own house — and speaking according to the language of his people.

<sup>4</sup> and the young woman who is good in the eyes of the king doth reign instead of Vashti;' and the thing is good in the eyes of the king, and he doth so.

<sup>8</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the word of the king, even his law, being heard, and in many young women being gathered unto Shushan the palace, unto the hand of Hegai, that Esther is taken unto the house of the king, unto the hand of Hegai, keeper of the women,

<sup>9</sup> and the young woman is good in his eyes, and she receiveth kindness before him, and he hasteneth her purifications and her portions — to give to her, and the seven young women who are provided — to give to her, from the house of the king, and he changeth her and her young women to a good [place in] the house of the women.

<sup>12</sup> And in the drawing nigh of the turn of each young woman to come in unto the king Ahasuerus, at the end of there being to her — according to the law of the women — twelve months, for so they fulfil the days of their purifications; six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with spices, and with the purifications of women,

<sup>13</sup> and with this the young woman hath come in unto the king, all that she saith is given to her, to go in with her, out of the house of the women, unto the house of the king;

<sup>14</sup> in the evening she hath gone in, and in the morning she hath turned back unto the second house of the women, unto the hand of Shaashgaz eunuch of the king, keeper of the concubines; she cometh not in any more unto the king except the king hath delighted in her, and she hath been called by name.

<sup>18</sup> and the king maketh a great banquet to all his heads and his servants — the banquet of Esther — and a release to the provinces hath made, and giveth gifts as a memorial of the king.

<sup>22</sup> and the thing is known to Mordecai, and he declareth [it] to Esther the queen, and Esther speaketh to the king in the name of Mordecai, <sup>23</sup> and the thing is sought out, and found, and they are hanged both of them on a tree, and it is written in the book of the Chronicles before the king.

<sup>4</sup> And it cometh to pass, in their speaking unto him, day by day, and he hath not hearkened unto them, that they declare [it] to Haman, to see whether the words of Mordecai do stand, for he hath declared to them that he [is] a Jew.

<sup>5</sup> And Haman seeth that Mordecai is not bowing and doing obeisance to him, and Haman is full of fury,

<sup>6</sup> and it is contemptible in his eyes to put forth a hand on Mordecai by himself, for they have declared to him the people of Mordecai, and Haman seeketh to destroy all the Jews who [are] in all the kingdom of Ahasuerus — the people of Mordecai.

<sup>7</sup> In the first month — it [is] the month of Nisan — in the twelfth year of the king Ahasuerus, hath one caused to fall Pur (that [is] the lot) before Haman, from day to day, and from month to month, [to] the twelfth, it [is] the month of Adar.

<sup>8</sup> And Haman saith to the king Ahasuerus, 'There is one people scattered and separated among the peoples, in all provinces of thy kingdom, and their laws [are] diverse from all people, and the laws of the king they are not doing, and for the king it is not profitable to suffer them;

<sup>9</sup> if to the king [it be] good, let it be written to destroy them, and ten thousand talents of silver I weigh into the hands of those doing the work, to bring [it] in unto the treasuries of the king.'

<sup>11</sup> and the king saith to Haman, 'The silver is given to thee, and the people, to do with it as [it is] good in thine eyes.'

<sup>12</sup> And scribes of the king are called, on the first month, on the thirteenth day of it, and it is written according to all that Haman hath commanded, unto lieutenants of the king, and unto the governors who [are] over province and province, and unto the heads of people and people, province and province, according to its writing, and people and people according to its tongue, in the name of the king Ahasuerus it hath been written and sealed with the signet of the king,

<sup>13</sup> and letters to be sent by the hand of the runners unto all provinces of the king, to cut off, to slay, and to destroy all the Jews, from young even unto old, infant and women, on one day, on the thirteenth of the twelfth month — it [is] the month of Adar — and their spoil to seize,

<sup>14</sup> a copy of the writing to be made law in every province and province is revealed to all the peoples, to be ready for this day.

<sup>15</sup> The runners have gone forth, hastened by the word of the king, and the law hath been given in Shushan the palace, and the king and Haman have sat down to drink, and the city Shushan is perplexed.

<sup>2</sup> and he cometh in unto the front of the gate of the king, but none is to come in unto the gate of the king with a sackcloth-garment.

<sup>3</sup> And in every province and province, the place where the word of the king, even his law, is coming, a great mourning have the Jews, and fasting, and weeping, and lamenting: sackcloth and ashes are spread for many.

<sup>4</sup> And young women of Esther come in and her eunuchs, and declare [it] to her, and the queen is exceedingly pained, and sendeth garments to clothe Mordecai, and to turn aside his sackcloth from off him, and he hath not received [them].

<sup>7</sup> and Mordecai declareth to him all that hath met him, and the explanation of the money that Haman said to weigh to the treasuries of the king for the Jews, to destroy them,

<sup>8</sup> and the copy of the writing of the law that had been given in Shushan to destroy them he hath given to him, to shew Esther, and to declare [it] to her, and to lay a charge on her to go in unto the king, to make supplication to him, and to seek from before him, for her people.

<sup>11</sup> 'All servants of the king, and people of the provinces of the king, do know that any man and woman, who cometh in unto the king, unto the inner court, who is not called — one law [of] his [is] to put [them] to death, apart from him to whom the king holdeth out the golden sceptre, then he hath lived; and I — I have not been called to come in unto the king these thirty days.'

<sup>13</sup> and Mordecai speaketh to send back unto Esther: 'Do not think in thy soul to be delivered [in] the house of the king, more than all the Jews,

<sup>14</sup> but if thou keep entirely silent at this time, respite and deliverance remaineth to the Jews from another place, and thou and the house of thy fathers are destroyed; and who knoweth whether for a time like this thou hast come to the kingdom?'

<sup>16</sup> 'Go, gather all the Jews who are found in Shushan, and fast for me, and do not eat nor drink three days, by night and by day; also I and my young women do fast likewise, and so I go in unto the king, that [is] not according to law, and when I have perished — I have perished.'

<sup>3</sup> And the king saith to her, 'What — to thee Esther, O queen? and what thy request? unto the half of the kingdom — and it is given to thee.'

<sup>4</sup> And Esther saith, 'If unto the king [it be] good, the king doth come in, and Haman, to-day, unto the banquet that I have made for him;'

<sup>6</sup> And the king saith to Esther, during the banquet of wine, 'What [is] thy petition? and it is given to thee; and what thy request? unto the half of the kingdom — and it is done.'

<sup>8</sup> if I have found grace in the eyes of the king, and if unto the king [it be] good, to give my petition, and to perform my request, the king doth come, and Haman, unto the banquet that I make for them, and to-morrow I do according to the word of the king.'

<sup>9</sup> And Haman goeth forth on that day rejoicing and glad in heart, and at Haman's seeing Mordecai in the gate of the king, and he hath not risen nor moved for him, then is Haman full of fury against Mordecai.

<sup>11</sup> and Haman recounteth to them the glory of his wealth, and the abundance of his sons, and all that with which the king made him great, and with which he lifted him up above the heads and servants of the king.

<sup>12</sup> And Haman saith, 'Yea, Esther the queen brought none in with the king, unto the feast that she made, except myself, and also for to-morrow I am called to her, with the king,

<sup>13</sup> and all this is not profitable to me, during all the time that I am seeing Mordecai the Jew sitting in the gate of the king.'

<sup>14</sup> And Zeresh his wife saith to him, and all his friends, 'Let them prepare a tree, in height fifty cubits, and in the morning speak to the king, and they hang Mordecai on it, and go thou in with the king unto the banquet rejoicing;' and the thing is good before Haman, and he prepareth the tree.

<sup>4</sup> And the king saith, 'Who [is] in the court?' — and Haman hath come in to the outer court of the house of the king, to say to the king to hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him —

<sup>5</sup> and the servants of the king say unto him, 'Lo, Haman is standing in the court;' and the king saith, 'Let him come in.'

<sup>8</sup> let them bring in royal clothing that the king hath put on himself, and a horse on which the king hath ridden, and that the royal crown be put on his head,

<sup>9</sup> and to give the clothing and the horse into the hand of a man of the heads of the king, the chiefs, and they have clothed the man in whose honour the king hath delighted, and caused him to ride on the horse in a broad place of the city, and called before him: Thus it is done to the man in whose honour the king hath delighted.'

<sup>10</sup> And the king saith to Haman, 'Haste, take the clothing and the horse, as thou hast spoken, and do so to Mordecai the Jew, who is sitting in the gate of the king; there doth not fall a thing of all that thou hast spoken.'

<sup>11</sup> And Haman taketh the clothing, and the horse, and clothed Mordecai, and causeth him to ride in a broad place of the city, and calleth before him, 'Thus it is done to the man in whose honour the king hath delighted.'

<sup>13</sup> and Haman recounteth to Zeresh his wife, and to all his friends, all that hath met him, and his wise men say to him, and Zeresh his wife, 'If Mordecai [is] of the seed of the Jews, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou art not able for him, but dost certainly fall before him.'

<sup>14</sup> They are yet speaking with him, and eunuchs of the king have come, and haste to bring in Haman unto the banquet that Esther hath made.

<sup>2</sup> and the king saith to Esther also on the second day, during the banquet of wine, 'What [is] thy petition, Esther, O queen? and it is given to thee; and what thy request? unto the half of the kingdom — and it is done.'

<sup>3</sup> And Esther the queen answereth and saith, 'If I have found grace in thine eyes, O king, and if to the king [it be] good, let my life be given to me at my petition, and my people at my request;

<sup>4</sup> for we have been sold, I and my people, to cut off, to slay, and to destroy; and if for men-servants and for maid-servants we had been sold I had kept silent — but the adversity is not equal to the loss of the king.'

<sup>8</sup> And the king hath turned back out of the garden of the house unto the house of the banquet of wine, and Haman is falling on the couch on which Esther [is], and the king saith, 'Also to subdue the queen with me in the house?' the word hath gone out from the mouth of the king, and the face of Haman they have covered.

<sup>10</sup> And they hang Haman upon the tree that he had prepared for Mordecai, and the fury of the king hath lain down.

<sup>2</sup> and the king turneth aside his signet, that he hath caused to pass away from Haman, and giveth it to Mordecai, and Esther setteth Mordecai over the house of Haman.

<sup>3</sup> And Esther addeth, and speaketh before the king, and falleth before his feet, and weepeth, and maketh supplication to him, to cause the evil of Haman the Agagite to pass away, and his device that he had devised against the Jews;

<sup>5</sup> and saith, 'If to the king [it be] good, and if I have found grace before him, and the thing hath been right before the king, and I [be] good in his eyes, let it be written to bring back the letters – a device of Haman son of Hammedatha the Agagite – that he wrote to destroy the Jews who [are] in all provinces of the king,

<sup>6</sup> for how do I endure when I have looked on the evil that doth find my people? and how do I endure when I have looked on the destruction of my kindred?'

<sup>7</sup> And the king Ahasuerus saith to Esther the queen, and to Mordecai the Jew, 'Lo, the house of Haman I have given to Esther, and him they have hanged on the tree, because that he put forth his hand on the Jews,

<sup>8</sup> and ye, write ye for the Jews, as [it is] good in your eyes, in the name of the king, and seal with the signet of the king – for the writing that is written in the name of the king, and sealed with the signet of the king, there is none to turn back.'

<sup>9</sup> And the scribes of the king are called, at that time, in the third month – it [is] the month of Sivan – in the three and twentieth of it, and it is written, according to all that Mordecai hath commanded, unto the Jews, and unto the lieutenants, and the governors, and the heads of the provinces, that [are] from Hodu even unto Cush, seven and twenty and a hundred provinces – province and province according to its writing, and people and people according to its tongue, and unto the Jews according to their writing, and according to their tongue.

<sup>11</sup> that the king hath given to the Jews who [are] in every city and city, to be assembled, and to stand for their life, to cut off, to slay, and to destroy the whole force of the people and province who are distressing them, infants and women, and their spoil to seize.

<sup>13</sup> a copy of the writing to be made law in every province and province is revealed to all the peoples, and for the Jews being ready at this day to be avenged of their enemies.

<sup>17</sup> and in every province and province, and in every city and city, the place where the word of the king, even his law, is coming, gladness and joy [are] to the Jews, a banquet, and a good day; and many of the peoples of the land are becoming Jews, for a fear of the Jews hath fallen upon them.

<sup>1</sup> And in the twelfth month — it [is] the month of Adar — on the thirteenth day of it, in which the word of the king, even his law, hath come to be done, in the day that the enemies of the Jews had hoped to rule over them, and it is turned that the Jews rule over those hating them —

<sup>3</sup> And all heads of the provinces, and the lieutenants, and the governors, and those doing the work that the king hath, are lifting up the Jews, for a fear of Mordecai hath fallen upon them;

<sup>5</sup> And the Jews smite among all their enemies — a smiting of the sword, and slaughter, and destruction — and do with those hating them according to their pleasure,

<sup>12</sup> and the king saith to Esther the queen, 'In Shushan the palace have the Jews slain and destroyed five hundred men, and the ten sons of Haman; in the rest of the provinces of the king what have they done? and what [is] thy petition? and it is given to thee; and what thy request again? and it is done.'

<sup>13</sup> And Esther saith, 'If to the king [it be] good, let it be given also to-morrow, to the Jews who [are] in Shushan, to do according to the law of to-day; and the ten sons of Haman they hang on the tree.'

<sup>14</sup> And the king saith — 'to be done so;' and a law is given in Shushan, and the ten sons of Haman they have hanged.

<sup>15</sup> And the Jews who [are] in Shushan are assembled also on the fourteenth day of the month of Adar, and they slay in Shushan three hundred men, and on the prey they have not put forth their hand.

<sup>16</sup> And the rest of the Jews, who [are] in the provinces of the king, have been assembled, even to stand for their life, and to rest from their enemies, and to slay among those hating them five and seventy thousand, and on the prey they have not put forth their hand;

<sup>17</sup> on the thirteenth day of the month of Adar, even to rest on the fourteenth of it, and to make it a day of banquet and of joy.

<sup>18</sup> And the Jews who [are] in Shushan have been assembled, on the thirteenth day of it, and on the fourteenth of it, even to rest on the fifteenth of it, and to make it a day of banquet and of joy.

<sup>19</sup> Therefore the Jews of the villages, who are dwelling in cities of the villages, are making the fourteenth day of the month of Adar — joy and banquet, and a good day, and of sending portions one to another.

<sup>20</sup> And Mordecai writeth these things, and sendeth letters unto all the Jews who [are] in all provinces of the king Ahasuerus, who are near and who are far off,

<sup>21</sup> to establish on them, to be keeping the fourteenth day of the month of Adar, and the fifteenth day of it, in every year and year;

<sup>22</sup> as days on which the Jews have rested from their enemies, and the month that hath been turned to them from sorrow to joy, and from mourning to a good day, to make them days of banquet and of joy, and of sending portions one to another, and gifts to the needy.

<sup>23</sup> And the Jews have received that which they had begun to do, and that which Mordecai hath written unto them,

<sup>24</sup> because Haman son of Hammedatha the Agagite, adversary of all the Jews, had devised concerning the Jews to destroy them, and had caused to fall Pur — that [is] the lot — to crush them and to destroy them;

<sup>25</sup> and in her coming in before the king, he said with the letter, 'Let his evil device that he devised against the Jews turn back upon his own head,' and they have hanged him and his sons on the tree,

<sup>26</sup> therefore they have called these days Purim — by the name of the lot — therefore, because of all the words of this letter, and what they have seen concerning this, and what hath come unto them,

<sup>27</sup> the Jews have established and received upon them, and upon their seed, and upon all those joined unto them, and it doth not pass away, to be keeping these two days according to their writing, and according to their season, in every year and year;

<sup>28</sup> and these days are remembered and kept in every generation and generation, family and family, province and province, and city and city, and these days of Purim do not pass away from the midst of the Jews, and their memorial is not ended from their seed.

The Book of Job

<sup>2</sup> And there are borne to him seven sons and three daughters, <sup>3</sup> and his substance is seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred pairs of oxen, and five hundred she-asses, and a service very abundant; and that man is greater than any of the sons of the east.

<sup>4</sup> And his sons have gone and made a banquet — the house of each [in] his day — and have sent and called to their three sisters to eat and to drink with them;

<sup>5</sup> and it cometh to pass, when they have gone round the days of the banquet, that Job doth send and sanctify them, and hath risen early in the morning, and caused to ascend burnt-offerings — the number of them all — for Job said, 'Perhaps my sons have sinned, yet blessed God in their heart.' Thus doth Job all the days.

<sup>6</sup> And the day is, that sons of God come in to station themselves by Jehovah, and there doth come also the Adversary in their midst.

<sup>8</sup> And Jehovah saith unto the Adversary, 'Hast thou set thy heart against My servant Job because there is none like him in the land, a man perfect and upright, fearing God, and turning aside from evil?'

<sup>10</sup> Hast not Thou made a hedge for him, and for his house, and for all that he hath — round about?

<sup>11</sup> The work of his hands Thou hast blessed, and his substance hath spread in the land, and yet, put forth, I pray Thee, Thy hand, and strike against anything that he hath — if not: to Thy face he doth bless Thee!'

<sup>14</sup> And a messenger hath come in unto Job and saith, 'The oxen have been plowing, and the she-asses feeding by their sides,

<sup>15</sup> and Sheba doth fall, and take them, and the young men they have smitten by the mouth of the sword, and I am escaped — only I alone — to declare [it] to thee.'

<sup>16</sup> While this [one] is speaking another also hath come and saith, 'Fire of God hath fallen from the heavens, and burneth among the flock, and among the young men, and consumeth them, and I am escaped — only I alone — to declare [it] to thee.'

<sup>17</sup> While this [one] is speaking another also hath come and saith, 'Chaldeans made three heads, and rush on the camels, and take them, and the young men they have smitten by the mouth of the sword, and I am escaped — only I alone — to declare [it] to thee.'

<sup>19</sup> And lo, a great wind hath come from over the wilderness, and striketh against the four corners of the house, and it falleth on the young men, and they are dead, and I am escaped — only I alone — to declare [it] to thee.'

<sup>3</sup> And Jehovah saith unto the Adversary, 'Hast thou set thy heart unto My servant Job because there is none like him in the land, a man perfect and upright, fearing God and turning aside from evil? and still he is keeping hold on his integrity, and thou dost move Me against him to swallow him up for nought!'

<sup>11</sup> And three of the friends of Job hear of all this evil that hath come upon him, and they come in each from his place — Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite — and they are met together to come in to bemoan him, and to comfort him;

<sup>12</sup> and they lift up their eyes from afar and have not discerned him, and they lift up their voice and weep, and rend each his robe, and sprinkle dust on their heads — heavenward.

<sup>13</sup> And they sit with him on the earth seven days and seven nights, and there is none speaking unto him a word when they have seen that the pain hath been very great.

- <sup>2</sup> And Job answereth and saith: —
<sup>3</sup> Let the day perish in which I am born, And the night that hath said: 'A man-child hath been conceived.'
<sup>4</sup> That day — let it be darkness, Let not God require it from above, Nor let light shine upon it.
<sup>6</sup> That night — let thick darkness take it, Let it not be united to days of the year, Into the number of months let it not come.
<sup>9</sup> Let the stars of its twilight be dark, Let it wait for light, and there is none, And let it not look on the eyelids of the dawn.
<sup>10</sup> Because it hath not shut the doors Of the womb that was mine! And hide misery from mine eyes.
<sup>13</sup> For now, I have lain down, and am quiet, I have slept — then there is rest to me,
<sup>25</sup> For a fear I feared and it meeteth me, And what I was afraid of doth come to me.

4

- <sup>1</sup> And Eliphaz the Temanite answereth and saith: —

<sup>8</sup> Yet I — I inquire for God, And for God I give my word,

<sup>17</sup> Lo, the happiness of mortal man, God doth reprove him: And the chastisement of the Mighty despise not,
<sup>25</sup> And hast known that numerous [is] Thy seed, And thine offspring as the herb of the earth;
<sup>26</sup> Thou comest in full age unto the grave, As the going up of a stalk in its season.

<sup>2</sup> O that my provocation were thoroughly weighed, And my calamity in balances They would lift up together!
<sup>8</sup> O that my request may come, That God may grant my hope!
<sup>9</sup> That God would please — and bruise me, Loose His hand and cut me off!
<sup>10</sup> And yet it is my comfort, (And I exult in pain — He doth not spare,) That I have not hidden The sayings of the Holy One.
<sup>11</sup> What [is] my power that I should hope? And what mine end That I should prolong my life?
<sup>12</sup> Is my strength the strength of stones? Is my flesh brazen?

<sup>4</sup> If I lay down then I said, 'When do I rise!' And evening hath been measured, And I have been full of tossings till dawn.

<sup>9</sup> Consumed hath been a cloud, and it goeth, So he who is going down to Sheol cometh not up.

<sup>11</sup> Also I — I withhold not my mouth — I speak in the distress of my spirit, I talk in the bitterness of my soul.

<sup>12</sup> A sea -[monster] am I, or a dragon, That thou settest over me a guard?

<sup>20</sup> I have sinned, what do I to Thee, O watcher of man? Why hast Thou set me for a mark to Thee, And I am for a burden to myself — and what?

<sup>21</sup> Thou dost not take away my transgression, And cause to pass away mine iniquity, Because now, for dust I lie down: And Thou hast sought me — and I am not!

- <sup>6</sup> Who is shaking earth from its place, And its pillars move themselves.
<sup>8</sup> Stretching out the heavens by Himself, And treading on the heights of the sea,
<sup>10</sup> Doing great things till there is no searching, And wonderful, till there is no numbering.
<sup>11</sup> Lo, He goeth over by me, and I see not, And He passeth on, and I attend not to it.
<sup>14</sup> How much less do I – I answer Him? Choose out my words with Him?
<sup>15</sup> Whom, though I were righteous, I answer not, For my judgment I make supplication.
<sup>16</sup> Though I had called and He answereth me, I do not believe that He giveth ear [to] my voice.
<sup>20</sup> If I be righteous, Mine mouth doth declare me wicked, Perfect I am! – it declareth me perverse.
<sup>21</sup> Perfect I am! – I know not my soul, I despise my life.
<sup>22</sup> It is the same thing, therefore I said, 'The perfect and the wicked He is consuming.'
<sup>24</sup> Earth hath been given Into the hand of the wicked one. The face of its judges he covereth, If not – where, who [is] he?
<sup>25</sup> My days have been swifter than a runner, They have fled, they have not seen good,
<sup>26</sup> They have passed on with ships of reed, As an eagle darteth on food.
<sup>27</sup> Though I say, 'I forget my talking, I forsake my corner, and I brighten up!'
<sup>28</sup> I have been afraid of all my griefs, I have known that Thou dost not acquit me.
<sup>30</sup> If I have washed myself with snow-water, And purified with soap my hands,
<sup>31</sup> Then in corruption Thou dost dip me, And my garments have abominated me.
<sup>32</sup> But if a man like myself – I answer him, We come together into judgment.
<sup>33</sup> If there were between us an umpire, He doth place his hand on us both.

10

- <sup>1</sup> My soul hath been weary of my life, I leave off my talking to myself, I speak in the bitterness of my soul.

<sup>8</sup> Thy hands have taken pains about me, And they make me together round about, And Thou swallowest me up!

<sup>15</sup> If I have done wickedly — woe to me, And righteously — I lift not up my head, Full of shame — then see my affliction,

<sup>19</sup> As I had not been, I am, From the belly to the grave I am brought,

11

- <sup>10</sup> If He pass on, and shut up, and assemble, Who then dost reverse it?
<sup>13</sup> If thou — thou hast prepared thy heart, And hast spread out unto Him thy hands,
<sup>14</sup> If iniquity [is] in thy hand, put it far off, And let not perverseness dwell in thy tents.
<sup>15</sup> For then thou liftest up thy face from blemish, And thou hast been firm, and fearest not.
<sup>18</sup> And thou hast trusted because there is hope, And searched — in confidence thou liest down,
<sup>19</sup> And thou hast rested, And none is causing trembling, And many have entreated thy face;
<sup>20</sup> And the eyes of the wicked are consumed, And refuge hath perished from them, And their hope [is] a breathing out of soul!

12

<sup>3</sup> I also have a heart like you, I am not fallen more than you, And with whom is there not like these?
<sup>4</sup> A laughter to his friend I am: 'He calleth to God, and He answereth him,' A laughter [is] the perfect righteous one.
<sup>5</sup> A torch — despised in the thoughts of the secure Is prepared for those sliding with the feet.
<sup>6</sup> At peace are the tents of spoilers, And those provoking God have confidence, He into whose hand God hath brought.
<sup>7</sup> And yet, ask, I pray thee, [One of] the beasts, and it doth shew thee, And a fowl of the heavens, And it doth declare to thee.
<sup>8</sup> Or talk to the earth, and it sheweth thee, And fishes of the sea recount to thee:
<sup>9</sup> 'Who hath not known in all these, That the hand of Jehovah hath done this?
<sup>10</sup> In whose hand [is] the breath of every living thing, And the spirit of all flesh of man.'
<sup>11</sup> Doth not the ear try words? And the palate taste food for itself?
<sup>12</sup> With the very aged [is] wisdom, And [with] length of days understanding.
<sup>13</sup> With Him [are] wisdom and might, To him [are] counsel and understanding.
<sup>14</sup> Lo, He breaketh down, and it is not built up, He shutteth against a man, And it is not opened.
<sup>15</sup> Lo, He keepeth in the waters, and they are dried up, And he sendeth them forth, And they overturn the land.

<sup>27</sup>And puttest in the stocks my feet, And observest all my paths, On the roots of my feet Thou settest a print,

- <sup>1</sup> Man, born of woman! Of few days, and full of trouble!
<sup>2</sup> As a flower he hath gone forth, and is cut off, And he fleeth as a shadow and standeth not.
<sup>7</sup> For there is of a tree hope, if it be cut down, That again it doth change, That its tender branch doth not cease.
<sup>8</sup> If its root becometh old in the earth, And its stem doth die in the dust,
<sup>10</sup> And a man dieth, and becometh weak, And man expireth, and where [is] he?
<sup>13</sup> O that in Sheol Thou wouldest conceal me, Hide me till the turning of Thine anger, Set for me a limit, and remember me.
<sup>14</sup> If a man dieth — doth he revive? All days of my warfare I wait, till my change come.
<sup>15</sup> Thou dost call, and I — I answer Thee; To the work of Thy hands Thou hast desire.
<sup>20</sup> Thou prevailest [over] him for ever, and he goeth, He is changing his countenance, And Thou sendest him away.
<sup>21</sup> Honoured are his sons, and he knoweth not; And they are little, and he attendeth not to them.

<sup>10</sup> Both the gray-headed And the very aged [are] among us — Greater than thy father [in] days.

<sup>4</sup> I also, like you, might speak, If your soul were in my soul's stead. I might join against you with words, And nod at you with my head.

<sup>12</sup> At ease I have been, and he breaketh me, And he hath laid hold on my neck, And he breaketh me in pieces, And he raiseth me to him for a mark.

<sup>15</sup> Sojourners of my house and my maids, For a stranger reckon me: An alien I have been in their eyes.

<sup>16</sup> To my servant I have called, And he doth not answer, With my mouth I make supplication to him.

<sup>23</sup> Who doth grant now, That my words may be written? Who doth grant that in a book they may be graven?

<sup>26</sup> And after my skin hath compassed this [body], Then from my flesh I see God:

<sup>27</sup> Whom I — I see on my side, And mine eyes have beheld, and not a stranger, Consumed have been my reins in my bosom.

<sup>29</sup> Be ye afraid because of the sword, For furious [are] the punishments of the sword, That ye may know that [there is] a judgment.

21

<sup>14</sup> And they say to God, 'Turn aside from us, And the knowledge of Thy ways We have not desired.

<sup>29</sup> For they have made low, And thou sayest, 'Lift up.' And the bowed down of eyes he saveth.

<sup>2</sup> Also — to-day [is] my complaint bitter, My hand hath been heavy because of my sighing.
<sup>3</sup> O that I had known — and I find Him, I come in unto His seat,
<sup>5</sup> I know the words He doth answer me, And understand what He saith to me.
<sup>6</sup> In the abundance of power doth He strive with me? No! surely He putteth [it] in me.
<sup>7</sup> There the upright doth reason with Him, And I escape for ever from my judge.
<sup>8</sup> Lo, forward I go — and He is not, And backward — and I perceive him not.
<sup>13</sup> And He [is] in one [mind], And who doth turn Him back? And His soul hath desired — and He doth [it].
<sup>14</sup> For He doth complete my portion, And many such things [are] with Him.
<sup>15</sup> Therefore, from His presence I am troubled, I consider, and am afraid of Him.
<sup>16</sup> And God hath made my heart soft, And the Mighty hath troubled me.

<sup>7</sup> The naked they cause to lodge Without clothing. And there is no covering in the cold.

And God doth not give praise.

His ways, Nor abode in His paths.

in the night he is as a thief.

doth behold me.' And he putteth the face in secret.

They have not known light.

the terrors of death shade.

He turneth not the way of vineyards.

sinned.

is he remembered, And broken as a tree is wickedness.

no good,

<sup>22</sup> And hath drawn the mighty by his power, He riseth, and none believeth in life.

<sup>23</sup> He giveth to him confidence, and he is supported, And his eyes [are] on their ways.

<sup>24</sup> High they were [for] a little, and they are not, And they have been brought low. As all [others] they are shut up, And as the head of an ear of corn cut off.

word?

woman?

<sup>5</sup> Lo — unto the moon, and it shineth not, And stars have not been pure in His eyes.

26

abundance made known.

from thee?

tion.

ing,

27

<sup>5</sup> Pollution to me — if I justify you, Till I expire I turn not aside mine integrity from me.

<sup>6</sup> On my righteousness I have laid hold, And I do not let it go, My heart doth not reproach me while I live.

28

<sup>14</sup> The deep hath said, 'It [is] not in me,' And the sea hath said, 'It is not with me.'

<sup>27</sup> Then He hath seen and declareth it, He hath prepared it, and also searched it out,

29

<sup>13</sup> The blessing of the perishing cometh on me, And the heart of the widow I cause to sing.
<sup>14</sup> Righteousness I have put on, and it clotheth me, As a robe and a diadem my justice.
<sup>16</sup> A father I [am] to the needy, And the cause I have not known I search out.
<sup>18</sup> And I say, 'With my nest I expire, And as the sand I multiply days.'
<sup>20</sup> My honour [is] fresh with me, And my bow in my hand is renewed.
<sup>21</sup> To me they have hearkened, Yea, they wait, and are silent for my counsel.
<sup>22</sup> After my word they change not, And on them doth my speech drop,
<sup>23</sup> And they wait as [for] rain for me, And their mouth they have opened wide [As] for the latter rain.
<sup>24</sup> I laugh unto them — they give no credence, And the light of my face cause not to fall.

30

<sup>2</sup> Also — the power of their hands, why [is it] to me? On them hath old age perished.
<sup>10</sup> They have abominated me, They have kept far from me, And from before me have not spared to spit.
<sup>11</sup> Because His cord He loosed and afflicteth me, And the bridle from before me, They have cast away.

<sup>15</sup> He hath turned against me terrors, It pursueth as the wind mine abundance, And as a thick cloud, Hath my safety passed away.

31

<sup>7</sup> If my step doth turn aside from the way, And after mine eyes hath my heart gone, And to my hands cleaved hath blemish,

<sup>13</sup> If I despise the cause of my man-servant, And of my handmaid, In their contending with me,

<sup>14</sup> Then what do I do when God ariseth? And when He doth inspect, What do I answer Him?

<sup>18</sup> (But from my youth He grew up with me as [with] a father, And from the belly of my mother I am led.)

<sup>19</sup> If I see [any] perishing without clothing, And there is no covering to the needy,

<sup>20</sup> If his loins have not blessed me, And from the fleece of my sheep He doth not warm himself,

<sup>31</sup> If not — say ye, O men of my tent, 'O that we had of his flesh, we are not satisfied.'

<sup>34</sup> Because I fear a great multitude, And the contempt of families doth affright me, Then I am silent, I go not out of the opening.

<sup>39</sup> If its strength I consumed without money, And the life of its possessors, I have caused to breathe out,

32

<sup>6</sup> And Elihu son of Barachel the Buzite answereth and saith: — Young I [am] in days, and ye [are] age Therefore I have feared, And am afraid of shewing you my opinion.

<sup>12</sup> And unto you I attend, And lo, there is no reasoner for Job, [Or] answerer of his sayings among you.

<sup>15</sup> (They have broken down, They have not answered again, They removed from themselves words.

<sup>16</sup> And I have waited, but they do not speak, For they have stood still, They have not answered any more.)

<sup>21</sup> Let me not, I pray you, accept the face of any, Nor unto man give flattering titles,

33

<sup>6</sup> Lo, I [am], according to thy word, for God, From the clay I — I also, have been formed.

<sup>8</sup> Surely — thou hast said in mine ears, And the sounds of words I hear:

<sup>28</sup> He hath ransomed my soul From going over into the pit, And my life on the light looketh.'

<sup>32</sup> If there are words — answer me, Speak, for I have a desire to justify thee.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore, O men of heart, hearken to me; Far be it from God to do wickedness, And [from] the Mighty to do perverseness:

<sup>29</sup> And He giveth rest, and who maketh wrong? And hideth the face, and who beholdeth it? And in reference to a nation and to a man, [It is] the same.

35

37

38

39

40

- <sup>16</sup> One unto another they draw nigh, And air doth not enter between them.
<sup>31</sup> He causeth to boil as a pot the deep, The sea he maketh as a pot of ointment.

42

- <sup>1</sup> And Job answereth Jehovah and saith: —
<sup>2</sup> Thou hast known that [for] all things Thou art able, And not withheld from Thee is [any] device:
<sup>3</sup> 'Who [is] this, hiding counsel without knowledge?' Therefore, I have declared, and understand not, Too wonderful for me, and I know not.
<sup>4</sup> 'Hear, I pray thee, and I — I do speak, I ask thee, and cause thou me to know.'
<sup>7</sup> And it cometh to pass after Jehovah's speaking these words unto Job, that Jehovah saith unto Eliphaz the Temanite, 'Burned hath Mine anger against thee, and against thy two friends, because ye have not spoken concerning Me rightly, like My servant Job.
<sup>8</sup> And now, take to you seven bullocks and seven rams, and go ye unto My servant Job, and ye have caused a burnt-offering to ascend for you; and Job My servant doth pray for you, for surely his face I accept, so as not to do with you folly, because ye have not spoken concerning Me rightly, like My servant Job.
<sup>11</sup> And come unto him do all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all his former acquaintances, and they eat bread with him in his house, and bemoan him, and comfort him concerning all the evil that Jehovah had brought upon him, and they gave to him each one kesitah, and each one ring of gold.

<sup>14</sup> and he calleth the name of the one Jemima, and the name of the second Kezia, and the name of the third Keren-Happuch.

The Book of Psalms

1

<sup>2</sup> But — in the law of Jehovah [is] his delight, And in His law he doth meditate by day and by night:

<sup>3</sup> And he hath been as a tree, Planted by rivulets of water, That giveth its fruit in its season, And its leaf doth not wither, And all that he doth he causeth to prosper.

<sup>8</sup> In peace together I lie down and sleep, For Thou, O Jehovah, alone, In confidence dost cause me to dwell!

5

<sup>2</sup> Favour me, O Jehovah, for I [am] weak, Heal me, O Jehovah, For troubled have been my bones,

<sup>6</sup> I have been weary with my sighing, I meditate through all the night [on] my bed, With my tear my couch I waste.

<sup>1</sup> 'The Erring One,' by David, that he sung to Jehovah concerning the words of Cush a Benjamite. O Jehovah, my God, in Thee I have trusted, Save me from all my pursuers, and deliver me.
<sup>2</sup> Lest he tear as a lion my soul, Rending, and there is no deliverer.
<sup>3</sup> O Jehovah, my God, if I have done this, If there is iniquity in my hands,
<sup>4</sup> If I have done my well-wisher evil, And draw mine adversary without cause,
<sup>5</sup> An enemy pursueth my soul, and overtaketh, And treadeth down to the earth my life, And my honour placeth in the dust. Selah.
<sup>6</sup> Rise, O Jehovah, in Thine anger, Be lifted up at the wrath of mine adversaries, And awake Thou for me: Judgment Thou hast commanded:
<sup>8</sup> Jehovah doth judge the peoples; Judge me, O Jehovah, According to my righteousness, And according to mine integrity on me,
<sup>9</sup> Let, I pray Thee be ended the evil of the wicked, And establish Thou the righteous, And a trier of hearts and reins is the righteous God.

<sup>6</sup> He hath said in his heart, 'I am not moved,' To generation and generation not in evil.

11

12

13

<sup>2</sup> Till when do I set counsels in my soul? Sorrow in my heart daily? Till when is mine enemy exalted over me?

14

<sup>4</sup> Have all working iniquity not known? Those consuming my people have eaten bread, Jehovah they have not called.

15

16

<sup>3</sup> For the holy ones who [are] in the land, And the honourable, all my delight [is] in them.
<sup>4</sup> Multiplied are their griefs, [Who] have hastened backward; I pour not out their libations of blood, Nor do I take up their names on my lips.
<sup>5</sup> Jehovah [is] the portion of my share, and of my cup, Thou — Thou dost uphold my lot.
<sup>7</sup> I bless Jehovah who hath counselled me; Also [in] the nights my reins instruct me.
<sup>8</sup> I did place Jehovah before me continually, Because — at my right hand I am not moved.
<sup>9</sup> Therefore hath my heart been glad, And my honour doth rejoice, Also my flesh dwelleth confidently:

17

<sup>6</sup> I — I called Thee, for Thou dost answer me, O God, incline Thine ear to me, hear my speech.

18

<sup>1</sup> To the Overseer. — By a servant of Jehovah, by David, who hath spoken to Jehovah the words of this song in the day Jehovah delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul, and he saith: — I love Thee, O Jehovah, my strength.

<sup>2</sup> Jehovah [is] my rock, and my bulwark, And my deliverer, My God [is] my rock, I trust in Him: My shield, and a horn of my salvation, My high tower.

<sup>17</sup> He delivereth me from my strong enemy, And from those hating me, For they have been stronger than I.

<sup>19</sup> And He bringeth me forth to a large place, He draweth me out, because He delighted in me.

<sup>20</sup> Jehovah doth recompense me According to my righteousness, According to the cleanness of my hands, He doth return to me.

<sup>40</sup> As to mine enemies — Thou hast given to me the neck, As to those hating me — I cut them off.

19

<sup>13</sup> Also — from presumptuous ones keep back Thy servant, Let them not rule over me, Then am I perfect, And declared innocent of much transgression, <sup>14</sup> Let the sayings of my mouth, And the meditation of my heart, Be for a pleasing thing before Thee, O Jehovah, my rock, and my redeemer!

20

22

<sup>1</sup> To the Overseer, on 'The Hind of the Morning.' — A Psalm of David. My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me? Far from my salvation, The words of my roaring?

<sup>2</sup> My God, I call by day, and Thou answerest not, And by night, and there is no silence to me.

<sup>15</sup> Dried up as an earthen vessel is my power, And my tongue is cleaving to my jaws.

<sup>16</sup> And to the dust of death thou appointest me, For surrounded me have dogs, A company of evil doers have compassed me, Piercing my hands and my feet.

<sup>29</sup> And the fat ones of earth have eaten, And they bow themselves, Before Him bow do all going down to dust, And he [who] hath not revived his soul.

23

<sup>4</sup> Also — when I walk in a valley of death-shade, I fear no evil, for Thou [art] with me, Thy rod and Thy staff — they comfort me.

24

25

<sup>5</sup> Cause me to tread in Thy truth, and teach me, For Thou [art] the God of my salvation, Near Thee I have waited all the day.

26

27

<sup>1</sup> By David. Jehovah [is] my light and my salvation, Whom do I fear? Jehovah [is] the strength of my life, Of whom am I afraid?

<sup>2</sup> When evil doers come near to me to eat my flesh, My adversaries and mine enemies to me, They have stumbled and fallen.

<sup>3</sup> Though a host doth encamp against me, My heart doth not fear, Though war riseth up against me, In this I [am] confident.

<sup>4</sup> One [thing] I asked of Jehovah — it I seek. My dwelling in the house of Jehovah, All the days of my life, To look on the pleasantness of Jehovah, And to inquire in His temple.

<sup>5</sup> For He hideth me in a tabernacle in the day of evil, He hideth me in a secret place of His tent, On a rock he raiseth me up.

<sup>8</sup> To Thee said my heart 'They sought my face, Thy face, O Jehovah, I seek.'

<sup>10</sup> When my father and my mother Have forsaken me, then doth Jehovah gather me.

<sup>11</sup> Shew me, O Jehovah, Thy way, And lead me in a path of uprightness, For the sake of my beholders.

<sup>12</sup> Give me not to the will of my adversaries, For risen against me have false witnesses, And they breathe out violence to me.

28

<sup>1</sup> By David. Unto Thee, O Jehovah, I call, My rock, be not silent to me! Lest Thou be silent to me, And I have been compared With those going down to the pit.

<sup>4</sup> Give to them according to their acting, And according to the evil of their doings. According to the work of their hands give to them. Return their deed to them.

<sup>7</sup> Jehovah [is] my strength, and my shield, In Him my heart trusted, and I have been helped. And my heart exulteth, And with my song I thank Him.

29

30

<sup>12</sup> So that honour doth praise Thee, and is not silent, O Jehovah, my God, to the age I thank Thee!

31

<sup>8</sup> And Thou hast not shut me up, Into the hand of an enemy, Thou hast caused my feet to stand in a broad place.

<sup>9</sup> Favour me, O Jehovah, for distress [is] to me, Mine eye, my soul, and my body Have become old by provocation.

<sup>10</sup> For my life hath been consumed in sorrow And my years in sighing. Feeble because of mine iniquity hath been my strength, And my bones have become old.

<sup>11</sup> Among all mine adversaries I have been a reproach, And to my neighbours exceedingly, And a fear to mine acquaintances, Those seeing me without — fled from me.

<sup>13</sup> For I have heard an evil account of many, Fear [is] round about. In their being united against me, To take my life they have devised,

<sup>14</sup> And I on Thee — I have trusted, O Jehovah, I have said, 'Thou [art] my God.'

<sup>15</sup> In Thy hand [are] my times, Deliver me from the hand of my enemies, And from my pursuers.

<sup>22</sup> And I — I have said in my haste, 'I have been cut off from before Thine eyes,' But Thou hast heard the voice of my supplications, In my crying unto Thee.

32

<sup>4</sup> When by day and by night Thy hand is heavy upon me, My moisture hath been changed Into the drougths of summer. Selah.

<sup>5</sup> My sin I cause Thee to know, And mine iniquity I have not covered. I have said, 'I confess concerning My transgressions to Jehovah,' And Thou — Thou hast taken away, The iniquity of my sin. Selah.

33

34

35

<sup>13</sup> And I — in their sickness my clothing [is] sackcloth, I have humbled with fastings my soul, And my prayer unto my bosom returneth.

<sup>14</sup> As [if] a friend, as [if] my brother, I walked habitually, As a mourner for a mother, Mourning I have bowed down.

<sup>15</sup> And — in my halting they have rejoiced, And have been gathered together, Gathered against me were the smiters, And I have not known, They have rent, and they have not ceased;

<sup>24</sup> Judge me according to Thy righteousness, O Jehovah my God, And they do not rejoice over me.

36

<sup>12</sup> There have workers of iniquity fallen, They have been overthrown, And have not been able to arise!

37

To the age they have been kept, And the seed of the wicked is cut off.

38

<sup>10</sup> My heart [is] panting, my power hath forsaken me, And the light of mine eyes, Even they are not with me.

39

<sup>1</sup> To the Overseer, to Jeduthun. — A Psalm of David. I have said, 'I observe my ways, Against sinning with my tongue, I keep for my mouth a curb, while the wicked [is] before me.'

<sup>3</sup> Hot [is] my heart within me, In my meditating doth the fire burn, I have spoken with my tongue.

<sup>4</sup> 'Cause me to know, O Jehovah, mine end, And the measure of my days — what it [is], I know how frail I [am].

<sup>12</sup> Hear my prayer, O Jehovah, And [to] my cry give ear, Unto my tear be not silent, For a sojourner I [am] with Thee, A settler like all my fathers.

40

<sup>2</sup> And He doth cause me to come up From a pit of desolation — from mire of mud, And He raiseth up on a rock my feet, He is establishing my steps.

<sup>3</sup> And He putteth in my mouth a new song, 'Praise to our God.' Many do see and fear, and trust in Jehovah.

<sup>5</sup> Much hast Thou done, Jehovah my God; Thy wonders and Thy thoughts toward us, There is none to arrange unto Thee, I declare and speak: They have been more than to be numbered.

<sup>6</sup> Sacrifice and present Thou hast not desired, Ears Thou hast prepared for me, Burnt and sin-offering Thou hast not asked.

<sup>7</sup> Then said I, 'Lo, I have come,' In the roll of the book it is written of me, <sup>8</sup> To do Thy pleasure, my God, I have delighted, And Thy law [is] within my heart.

<sup>10</sup> Thy righteousness I have not concealed In the midst of my heart, Thy faithfulness and Thy salvation I have told, I have not hidden Thy kindness and Thy truth, To the great assembly.

<sup>12</sup> For compassed me have evils innumerable, Overtaken me have mine iniquities, And I have not been able to see; They have been more than the hairs of my head, And my heart hath forsaken me.

<sup>14</sup> They are ashamed and confounded together, Who are seeking my soul to destroy it, They are turned backward, And are ashamed, who are desiring my evil.

<sup>17</sup> And I [am] poor and needy, The Lord doth devise for me. My help and my deliverer [art] Thou, O my God, tarry Thou not.

41

<sup>8</sup> A thing of Belial is poured out on him, And because he lay down he riseth not again.

<sup>9</sup> Even mine ally, in whom I trusted, One eating my bread, made great the heel against me,

<sup>11</sup> By this I have known, That Thou hast delighted in me, Because my enemy shouteth not over me.

<sup>12</sup> As to me, in mine integrity, Thou hast taken hold upon me, And causest me to stand before Thee to the age.

42

<sup>2</sup> My soul thirsted for God, for the living God, When do I enter and see the face of God?

<sup>3</sup> My tear hath been to me bread day and night, In their saying unto me all the day, 'Where [is] thy God?'

<sup>4</sup> These I remember, and pour out my soul in me, For I pass over into the booth, I go softly with them unto the house of God, With the voice of singing and confession, The multitude keeping feast!

<sup>5</sup> What! bowest thou thyself, O my soul? Yea, art thou troubled within me? Wait for God, for still I confess Him: The salvation of my countenance — My God!

<sup>8</sup> By day Jehovah commandeth His kindness, And by night a song [is] with me, A prayer to the God of my life.

<sup>9</sup> I say to God my rock, 'Why hast Thou forgotten me? Why go I mourning in the oppression of an enemy?'

<sup>10</sup> With a sword in my bones Have mine adversaries reproached me, In their saying unto me all the day, 'Where [is] thy God?'

<sup>11</sup> What! bowest thou thyself, O my soul? And what! art thou troubled within me? Wait for God, for still I confess Him, The salvation of my countenance, and my God!

43

<sup>3</sup> Send forth Thy light and Thy truth, They — they lead me, they bring me in, Unto Thy holy hill, and unto Thy tabernacles.

<sup>4</sup> And I go in unto the altar of God, Unto God, the joy of my rejoicing. And I thank Thee with a harp, O God, my God.

<sup>5</sup> What! bowest thou thyself, O my soul? And what! art thou troubled within me? Wait for God, for still I confess Him, The salvation of my countenance, and my God!

44

<sup>8</sup> In God we have boasted all the day, And Thy name to the age we thank. Selah.

<sup>20</sup> If we have forgotten the name of our God, And spread our hands to a strange God,

45

46

<sup>9</sup> Causing wars to cease, Unto the end of the earth, the bow he shivereth, And the spear He hath cut asunder, Chariots he doth burn with fire.

<sup>10</sup> Desist, and know that I [am] God, I am exalted among nations, I am exalted in the earth.

47

<sup>9</sup> Nobles of peoples have been gathered, [With] the people of the God of Abraham, For to God [are] the shields of earth, Greatly hath He been exalted!

<sup>8</sup> As we have heard, so we have seen, In the city of Jehovah of hosts, In the city of our God, God doth establish her — to the age. Selah.

<sup>13</sup> Set your heart to her bulwark, Consider her high places, So that ye recount to a later generation, <sup>14</sup> That this God [is] our God — To the age and for ever, He — he doth lead us over death!

50

<sup>7</sup> Hear, O My people, and I speak, O Israel, and I testify against thee, God, thy God [am] I.

<sup>16</sup> And to the wicked hath God said: What to thee — to recount My statutes? That thou liftest up My covenant on thy mouth?

<sup>22</sup> Understand this, I pray you, Ye who are forgetting God, Lest I tear, and there is no deliverer.

<sup>23</sup> He who is sacrificing praise honoureth Me, As to him who maketh a way, I cause him to look on the salvation of God!

51

<sup>1</sup> To the Overseer. — A Psalm of David, in the coming in unto him of Nathan the prophet, when he hath gone in unto Bath-Sheba. Favour me, O God, according to Thy kindness, According to the abundance of Thy mercies, Blot out my transgressions.

52

<sup>8</sup> And I, as a green olive in the house of God, I have trusted in the kindness of God, To the age and for ever, <sup>9</sup> I thank Thee to the age, because Thou hast done [it], And I wait [on] Thy name for [it is] good before Thy saints!

53

<sup>1</sup> To the Overseer. — 'On a disease.' — An instruction, by David. A fool said in his heart, 'There is no God.' They have done corruptly, Yea, they have done abominable iniquity, There is none doing good.

<sup>2</sup> God from the heavens looked on the sons of men, To see if there be an understanding one, [One] seeking God.

<sup>3</sup> Every one went back, together they became filthy, There is none doing good — not even one.

<sup>4</sup> Have not workers of iniquity known, Those eating my people have eaten bread, God they have not called.

<sup>5</sup> There they feared a fear — there was no fear, For God hath scattered the bones of him Who is encamping against thee, Thou hast put to shame, For God hath despised them.

54

<sup>3</sup> For strangers have risen up against me And terrible ones have sought my soul, They have not set God before them. Selah.

<sup>6</sup> With a free will-offering I sacrifice to Thee, I thank Thy name, O Jehovah, for [it is] good,

55

<sup>2</sup> Attend to me, and answer me, I mourn in my meditation, and make a noise, <sup>3</sup> Because of the voice of an enemy, Because of the oppression of the wicked, For they cause sorrow to move against me, And in anger they hate me.

<sup>4</sup> My heart is pained within me, And terrors of death have fallen on me.

<sup>12</sup> For an enemy reproacheth me not, or I bear [it], He who is hating me Hath not magnified himself against me, Or I hide from him.

<sup>17</sup> Evening, and morning, and noon, I meditate, and make a noise, and He heareth my voice,

<sup>18</sup> He hath ransomed in peace my soul From him who is near to me, For with the multitude they were with me.

<sup>22</sup> Cast on Jehovah that which He hath given thee, And He doth sustain thee, He doth not suffer for ever the moving of the righteous.

<sup>23</sup> And Thou, O God, dost bring them down To a pit of destruction, Men of blood and deceit reach not to half their days, And I — I do trust in Thee!

56

<sup>12</sup> On me, O God, [are] Thy vows, I repay thank-offerings to Thee.

<sup>13</sup> For Thou hast delivered my soul from death, Dost Thou not my feet from falling? To walk habitually before God in the light of the living!

57

<sup>2</sup> I call to God Most High, To God [who] is perfecting for me.

<sup>6</sup> A net they have prepared for my steps, Bowed down hath my soul, They have digged before me a pit, They have fallen into its midst. Selah.

58

<sup>9</sup> O my Strength, unto Thee I take heed, For God [is] my tower — the God of my kindness.

<sup>13</sup> Consume in fury, consume and they are not, And they know that God is ruling in Jacob, To the ends of the earth. Selah.

<sup>14</sup> And they turn back at evening, They make a noise like a dog, And they go round about the city.

<sup>15</sup> They — they wander for food, If they are not satisfied — then they murmur.

<sup>16</sup> And I — I sing [of] Thy strength, And I sing at morn [of] Thy kindness, For thou hast been a tower to me, And a refuge for me in a day of adversity.

<sup>17</sup> O my Strength, unto Thee I sing praise, For God [is] my tower, the God of my kindness!

60

<sup>8</sup> Moab [is] my pot for washing, over Edom I cast my shoe, Shout, concerning me, O Philistia.

61

Selah.

62

<sup>7</sup> On God [is] my salvation, and my honour, The rock of my strength, my refuge [is] in God.

<sup>8</sup> Trust in Him at all times, O people, Pour forth before Him your heart, God [is] a refuge for us. Selah.

<sup>10</sup> Trust not in oppression, And in robbery become not vain, Wealth – when it increaseth – set not the heart.

63

<sup>10</sup> They cause him to run on the edge of the sword, A portion for foxes they are.

<sup>9</sup> And all men fear, and declare the work of God, And His deed they have considered wisely.

<sup>9</sup> Thou hast inspected the earth, and waterest it, Thou makest it very rich, the rivulet of God [is] full of water, Thou preparest their corn, When thus Thou dost prepare it,

<sup>14</sup> For opened were my lips, And my mouth spake in my distress:

67

68

<sup>8</sup> The earth hath shaken, Yea, the heavens have dropped before God, This Sinai — before God, the God of Israel.

69

<sup>3</sup> I have been wearied with my calling, Burnt hath been my throat, Consumed have been mine eyes, waiting for my God.

<sup>4</sup> Those hating me without cause Have been more than the hairs of my head, Mighty have been my destroyers, My lying enemies, That which I took not away — I bring back.

<sup>5</sup> O God, Thou — Thou hast known Concerning my overturn, And my desolations from Thee have not been hid.

<sup>6</sup> Let not those waiting on Thee be ashamed because of me, O Lord, Jehovah of Hosts, Let not those seeking Thee Blush because of me, O God of Israel.

<sup>9</sup> For zeal for Thy house hath consumed me, And the reproaches of Thy reproachers Have fallen upon me.

<sup>13</sup> And I — my prayer [is] to Thee, O Jehovah, A time of good pleasure, O God, In the abundance of Thy kindness, Answer me in the truth of Thy salvation.

<sup>20</sup> Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am sick, And I look for a bemoaner, and there is none, And for comforters, and I have found none.

<sup>35</sup> For God doth save Zion, And doth build the cities of Judah, And they have dwelt there, and possess it.

70

<sup>5</sup> And I [am] poor and needy, O God, haste to me, My help and my deliverer [art] Thou, O Jehovah, tarry Thou not!

71

<sup>18</sup> And also unto old age and grey hairs, O God, forsake me not, Till I declare Thy strength to a generation, To every one that cometh Thy might.

<sup>20</sup> Because Thou hast showed me many and sad distresses, Thou turnest back — Thou revivest me, And from the depths of the earth, Thou turnest back — Thou bringest me up.

<sup>22</sup> I also thank Thee with a vessel of psaltery, Thy truth, O my God, I sing to Thee with a harp, O Holy One of Israel,

<sup>23</sup> My lips cry aloud when I sing praise to Thee, And my soul that Thou hast redeemed,

72

<sup>13</sup> He hath pity on the poor and needy, And the souls of the needy he saveth,

<sup>15</sup> And he liveth, and giveth to him of the gold of Sheba, And prayeth for him continually, All the day he doth bless him.

<sup>16</sup> There is a handful of corn in the earth, On the top of mountains, Shake like Lebanon doth its fruit, And they flourish out of the city as the herb of the earth.

73

<sup>1</sup> A Psalm of Asaph. Only — good to Israel [is] God, to the clean of heart. And I — as a little thing, My feet have been turned aside,

<sup>13</sup> Only — a vain thing! I have purified my heart, And I wash in innocence my hands,

<sup>15</sup> If I have said, 'I recount thus,' Lo, a generation of Thy sons I have deceived.

<sup>26</sup> Consumed hath been my flesh and my heart, The rock of my heart and my portion [is] God to the age.

<sup>7</sup> They have sent into fire Thy sanctuary, to the earth they polluted the tabernacle of Thy name,

<sup>8</sup> They said in their hearts, 'Let us oppress them together,' They did burn all the meeting-places of God in the land.

<sup>8</sup> For a cup [is] in the hand of Jehovah, And the wine hath foamed, It is full of mixture, and He poureth out of it, Only its dregs wring out, and drink, Do all the wicked of the earth, <sup>9</sup> And I — I declare [it] to the age, I sing praise to the God of Jacob.

76

77

<sup>1</sup> To the Overseer, for Jeduthun. — A Psalm of Asaph. My voice [is] to God, and I cry, my voice [is] to God, And He hath given ear unto me.

<sup>2</sup> In a day of my distress the Lord I sought, My hand by night hath been spread out, And it doth not cease, My soul hath refused to be comforted.

- <sup>11</sup> I mention the doings of Jah, For I remember of old Thy wonders, <sup>12</sup> And I have meditated on all Thy working, And I talk concerning Thy doings.
<sup>13</sup> O God, in holiness [is] Thy way, Who [is] a great god like God?
<sup>14</sup> Thou [art] the God doing wonders. Thou hast made known among the peoples Thy strength,
<sup>18</sup> The voice of Thy thunder [is] in the spheres, Lightnings have lightened the world, The earth hath trembled, yea, it shaketh.

78

- <sup>1</sup> An Instruction of Asaph. Give ear, O my people, to my law, Incline your ear to sayings of my mouth.
<sup>3</sup> That we have heard and do know, And our fathers have recounted to us.
<sup>4</sup> We do not hide from their sons, To a later generation recounting praises of Jehovah, And His strength, and His wonders that He hath done.
<sup>5</sup> And He raiseth up a testimony in Jacob, And a law hath placed in Israel, That He commanded our fathers, To make them known to their sons.
<sup>6</sup> So that a later generation doth know, Sons who are born, do rise and recount to their sons,
<sup>7</sup> And place in God their confidence, And forget not the doings of God, But keep His commands.
<sup>8</sup> And they are not like their fathers, A generation apostate and rebellious, A generation! it hath not prepared its heart, Nor stedfast with God [is] its spirit.
<sup>9</sup> Sons of Ephraim — armed bearers of bow, Have turned in a day of conflict.
<sup>10</sup> They have not kept the covenant of God, And in His law they have refused to walk,
<sup>19</sup> And they speak against God — they said: 'Is God able to array a table in a wilderness?'

<sup>21</sup> Therefore hath Jehovah heard, And He sheweth Himself wroth, And fire hath been kindled against Jacob, And anger also hath gone up against Israel,

79

<sup>2</sup> They gave the dead bodies of Thy servants Food for the fowls of the heavens, The flesh of Thy saints For the wild beast of the earth.

<sup>13</sup> And we, Thy people, and the flock of Thy pasture, We give thanks to Thee to the age, To all generations we recount Thy praise!

80

<sup>18</sup> And we do not go back from Thee, Thou dost revive us, and in Thy name we call.

81

<sup>8</sup> Hear, O My people, and I testify to thee, O Israel, if thou dost hearken to me:

<sup>9</sup> There is not in thee a strange god, And thou bowest not thyself to a strange god.

<sup>10</sup> I [am] Jehovah thy God, Who bringeth thee up out of the land of Egypt. Enlarge thy mouth, and I fill it.

<sup>11</sup> But, My people hearkened not to My voice, And Israel hath not consented to Me.

82

83

<sup>4</sup> They have said, 'Come, And we cut them off from [being] a nation, And the name of Israel is not remembered any more.'

84

<sup>2</sup> My soul desired, yea, it hath also been consumed, For the courts of Jehovah, My heart and my flesh cry aloud unto the living God,

<sup>2</sup> Keep my soul, for I [am] pious, Save Thy servant — who is trusting to Thee, O Thou, my God.

<sup>12</sup> I confess Thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart, And I honour Thy name to the age.

<sup>13</sup> For Thy kindness [is] great toward me, And Thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest Sheol.

<sup>14</sup> O God, the proud have risen up against me, And a company of the terrible sought my soul, And have not placed Thee before them,

<sup>15</sup> And Thou, O Lord, [art] God, merciful and gracious, Slow to anger, and abundant in kindness and truth.

<sup>16</sup> Look unto me, and favour me, Give Thy strength to Thy servant, And give salvation to a son of Thine handmaid.

<sup>17</sup> Do with me a sign for good, And those hating me see and are ashamed,
For Thou, O Jehovah, hast helped me, Yea, Thou hast comforted me!

87

<sup>5</sup> And of Zion it is said: Each one was born in her, And He, the Most High, doth establish her.

88

<sup>17</sup> They have surrounded me as waters all the day, They have gone round against me together,

89

<sup>5</sup> and the heavens confess Thy wonders, O Jehovah, Thy faithfulness also [is] in an assembly of holy ones.

<sup>34</sup> I profane not My covenant, And that which is going forth from My lips I change not.

<sup>6</sup> In the morning it flourisheth, and hath changed, At evening it is cut down, and hath withered.

<sup>10</sup>Days of our years, in them [are] seventy years, And if, by reason of might, eighty years, Yet [is] their enlargement labour and vanity, For it hath been cut off hastily, and we fly away.

<sup>17</sup>And let the pleasantness of Jehovah our God be upon us, And the work of our hands establish on us, Yea, the work of our hands establish it!

91

<sup>14</sup>Because in Me he hath delighted, I also deliver him — I set him on high, Because he hath known My name.

<sup>15</sup>He doth call Me, and I answer him, I [am] with him in distress, I deliver him, and honour him.

<sup>16</sup>With length of days I satisfy him, And I cause him to look on My salvation!

92

93

94

<sup>15</sup> For to righteousness judgment turneth back, And after it all the upright of heart,
<sup>16</sup> Who riseth up for me with evil doers? Who stationeth himself for me with workers of iniquity?
<sup>17</sup> Unless Jehovah [were] a help to me, My soul had almost inhabited silence.
<sup>18</sup> If I have said, 'My foot hath slipped,' Thy kindness, O Jehovah, supporteth me.
<sup>22</sup> And Jehovah is for a high place to me, And my God [is] for a rock — my refuge, <sup>23</sup> And turneth back on them their iniquity, And in their wickedness cutteth them off; Jehovah our God doth cut them off!

95

<sup>5</sup> Whose is the sea, and He made it, And His hands formed the dry land.
<sup>6</sup> Come in, we bow ourselves, and we bend, We kneel before Jehovah our Maker.
<sup>7</sup> For He [is] our God, and we the people of His pasture, And the flock of His hand, To-day, if to His voice ye hearken,
<sup>8</sup> Harden not your heart as [in] Meribah, As [in] the day of Massah in the wilderness,
<sup>9</sup> Where your fathers have tried Me, Have proved Me, yea, have seen My work.
<sup>10</sup> Forty years I am weary of the generation, And I say, 'A people erring in heart — they! And they have not known My ways:'

96

<sup>12</sup> The field exulteth, and all that [is] in it, Then sing do all trees of the forest,

<sup>13</sup> Before Jehovah, for He hath come, For He hath come to judge the earth. He judgeth the world in righteousness, And the peoples in His faithfulness!

97

98

<sup>9</sup> Before Jehovah, For He hath come to judge the earth, He judgeth the world in righteousness, And the people in uprightness!

99

100

101

<sup>2</sup> I act wisely in a perfect way, When dost Thou come in unto me? I walk habitually in the integrity of my heart, In the midst of my house.

<sup>3</sup> I set not before mine eyes a worthless thing, The work of those turning aside I have hated, It adhereth not to me.

<sup>8</sup> At morning I cut off all the wicked of the land, To cut off from the city of Jehovah All the workers of iniquity!

102

<sup>3</sup> For consumed in smoke have been my days, And my bones as a fire-brand have burned.

<sup>10</sup> From Thine indignation and Thy wrath, For Thou hast lifted me up, And dost cast me down.

<sup>26</sup> They — They perish, and Thou remainest, And all of them as a garment become old, As clothing Thou changest them, And they are changed.

103

<sup>10</sup> Not according to our sins hath He done to us, Nor according to our iniquities Hath He conferred benefits upon us.

<sup>16</sup> For a wind hath passed over it, and it is not, And its place doth not discern it any more.

104

105

106

<sup>10</sup> And He saveth them from the hand Of him who is hating, And redeemeth them from the hand of the enemy.

<sup>32</sup> And they cause wrath by the waters of Meribah, And it is evil to Moses for their sakes,

<sup>48</sup> Blessed [is] Jehovah, God of Israel, From the age even unto the age. And all the people said, 'Amen, praise Jah!'

107

108

<sup>8</sup> Mine [is] Gilead, mine [is] Manasseh, And Ephraim [is] the strength of my head, Judah [is] my lawgiver, <sup>9</sup> Moab [is] a pot for my washing, Upon Edom I cast my shoe, Over Philistia I shout habitually.

109

<sup>2</sup> For the mouth of wickedness, and the mouth of deceit, Against me they have opened, They have spoken with me — A tongue of falsehood, and words of hatred!

<sup>16</sup> Because that he hath not remembered to do kindness, And pursueth the poor man and needy, And the smitten of heart — to slay, <sup>17</sup> And he loveth reviling, and it meeteth him, And he hath not delighted in blessing, And it is far from him.

<sup>18</sup> And he putteth on reviling as his robe, And it cometh in as water into his midst, And as oil into his bones.

<sup>19</sup> It is to him as apparel — he covereth himself, And for a continual girdle he girdeth it on.

110

<sup>6</sup> He doth judge among the nations, He hath completed the carcasses, Hath smitten the head over the mighty earth.

111

<sup>9</sup> Redemption He hath sent to His people, He hath appointed to the age His covenant, Holy and fearful [is] His name.

112

113

114

115

<sup>5</sup> A mouth they have, and they speak not, Eyes they have, and they see not,

<sup>6</sup> Ears they have, and they hear not, A nose they have, and they smell not,

116

<sup>4</sup> And in the name of Jehovah I call: I pray Thee, O Jehovah, deliver my soul,

<sup>8</sup> For Thou hast delivered my soul from death, My eyes from tears, my feet from overthrowing.

<sup>16</sup> Cause [it] to come, O Jehovah, for I [am] Thy servant. I [am] Thy servant, son of Thy handmaid, Thou hast opened my bonds.

<sup>2</sup> For mighty to us hath been His kindness, And the truth of Jehovah [is] to the age. Praise ye Jah!

<sup>2</sup> I pray you, let Israel say, That, to the age [is] His kindness.
<sup>4</sup> I pray you, let those fearing Jehovah say, That, to the age [is] His kindness.
<sup>5</sup> From the straitness I called Jah, Jah answered me in a broad place.
<sup>6</sup> Jehovah [is] for me, I do not fear what man doth to me.
<sup>7</sup> Jehovah [is] for me among my helpers, And I — I look on those hating me.
<sup>8</sup> Better to take refuge in Jehovah than to trust in man, <sup>9</sup> Better to take refuge in Jehovah, Than to trust in princes.
<sup>10</sup> All nations have compassed me about, In the name of Jehovah I surely cut them off.
<sup>11</sup> They have compassed me about, Yea, they have compassed me about, In the name of Jehovah I surely cut them off.
<sup>12</sup> They compassed me about as bees, They have been extinguished as a fire of thorns, In the name of Jehovah I surely cut them off.
<sup>13</sup> Thou hast sorely thrust me to fall, And Jehovah hath helped me.
<sup>18</sup> Jah hath sorely chastened me, And to death hath not given me up.
<sup>19</sup> Open ye to me gates of righteousness, I enter into them — I thank Jah.
<sup>21</sup> I thank Thee, for Thou hast answered me, And art to me for salvation.
<sup>24</sup> This [is] the day Jehovah hath made, We rejoice and are glad in it.
<sup>25</sup> I beseech Thee, O Jehovah, save, I pray Thee, I beseech Thee, O Jehovah, prosper, I pray Thee.
<sup>26</sup> Blessed [is] he who is coming In the name of Jehovah, We blessed you from the house of Jehovah,
<sup>27</sup> God [is] Jehovah, and He giveth to us light, Direct ye the festal-sacrifice with cords, Unto the horns of the altar.
<sup>28</sup> My God Thou [art], and I confess Thee, My God, I exalt Thee.

<sup>1</sup> [Aleph.] O the happiness of those perfect in the way, They are walking in the law of Jehovah,
<sup>2</sup> O the happiness of those keeping His testimonies, With the whole heart they seek Him.
<sup>3</sup> Yea, they have not done iniquity, In His ways they have walked.
<sup>4</sup> Thou hast commanded us Thy precepts to keep diligently,
<sup>5</sup> O that my ways were prepared to keep Thy statutes,

- <sup>6</sup> Then I am not ashamed In my looking unto all Thy commands.
<sup>7</sup> I confess Thee with uprightness of heart, In my learning the judgments of Thy righteousness.
<sup>10</sup> With all my heart I have sought Thee, Let me not err from Thy commands.
<sup>11</sup> In my heart I have hid Thy saying, That I sin not before Thee.
<sup>23</sup> Princes also sat — against me they spoke, Thy servant doth meditate in Thy statutes,
<sup>25</sup> [Daleth.] Cleaved to the dust hath my soul, Quicken me according to Thy word.
<sup>26</sup> My ways I have recounted, And Thou answerest me, teach me Thy statutes, <sup>27</sup> The way of Thy precepts cause me to understand, And I meditate in Thy wonders.
<sup>28</sup> My soul hath dropped from affliction, Establish me according to Thy word.
<sup>29</sup> The way of falsehood turn aside from me And with Thy law favour me.
<sup>32</sup> The way of Thy commands I run, For Thou dost enlarge my heart!
<sup>33</sup> [He.] Show me, O Jehovah, the way of Thy statutes, And I keep it — [to] the end.
<sup>34</sup> Cause me to understand, and I keep Thy law, And observe it with the whole heart.
<sup>40</sup> Lo, I have longed for Thy precepts, In Thy righteousness quicken Thou me, <sup>41</sup> [Waw.] And meet me doth Thy kindness, O Jehovah, Thy salvation according to Thy saying.
<sup>42</sup> And I answer him who is reproaching me a word, For I have trusted in Thy word.

<sup>43</sup> And Thou takest not utterly away From my mouth the word of truth, Because for Thy judgment I have hoped.

<sup>48</sup> And I lift up my hands unto Thy commands, That I have loved, And I do meditate on Thy statutes!

me to hope.

<sup>50</sup> This [is] my comfort in mine affliction, That Thy saying hath quickened me.

<sup>51</sup> The proud have utterly scorned me, From Thy law I have not turned aside.

law.

<sup>57</sup> [Cheth.] My portion [is] Jehovah; I have said — to keep Thy words,

<sup>58</sup> I appeased Thy face with the whole heart, Favour me according to Thy saying.

<sup>59</sup> I have reckoned my ways, And turn back my feet unto Thy testimonies.

righteousness.

<sup>63</sup> A companion I [am] to all who fear Thee, And to those keeping Thy precepts.

word.

<sup>66</sup> The goodness of reason and knowledge teach me, For in Thy commands
I have believed.

<sup>67</sup> Before I am afflicted, I — I am erring, And now Thy saying I have kept.

Thy precepts.

<sup>72</sup> Better to me [is] the law of Thy mouth Than thousands of gold and silver!

<sup>73</sup> [Yod.] Thy hands made me and establish me, Cause me to understand, and I learn Thy commands.

<sup>74</sup> Those fearing Thee see me and rejoice, Because for Thy word I have hoped.

<sup>75</sup> I have known, O Jehovah, That righteous [are] Thy judgments, And [in] faithfulness Thou hast afflicted me.

<sup>76</sup> Let, I pray Thee, Thy kindness be to comfort me, According to Thy saying to Thy servant.

<sup>77</sup> Meet me do Thy mercies, and I live, For Thy law [is] my delight.

<sup>86</sup> All Thy commands [are] faithfulness, [With] falsehood they have pursued me, Help Thou me.

<sup>88</sup> According to Thy kindness quicken Thou me, And I keep the testimony of Thy mouth!

<sup>108</sup> Free-will-offerings of my mouth, Accept, I pray Thee, O Jehovah, And Thy judgments teach Thou me.

<sup>116</sup> Sustain me according to Thy saying, And I live, and Thou puttest me not to shame Because of my hope.

120

<sup>7</sup> I [am] peace, and when I speak they [are] for war!

121

122

<sup>8</sup> For the sake of my brethren and my companions, Let me speak, I pray thee, 'Peace [be] in thee.'

123

<sup>2</sup> Lo, as eyes of men-servants [Are] unto the hand of their masters, As eyes of a maid-servant [Are] unto the hand of her mistress, So [are] our eyes unto Jehovah our God, Till that He doth favour us.

<sup>3</sup> Favour us, O Jehovah, favour us, For greatly have we been filled with contempt, <sup>4</sup> Greatly hath our soul been filled With the scorning of the easy ones, With the contempt of the arrogant!

<sup>4</sup> Then the waters had overflowed us, The stream passed over our soul,

<sup>7</sup> Our soul as a bird hath escaped from a snare of fowlers, The snare was broken, and we have escaped.

129

<sup>7</sup> That hath not filled the hand of a reaper, And the bosom of a binder of sheaves.

<sup>8</sup> And the passers by have not said, 'The blessing of Jehovah [is] on you, We blessed you in the Name of Jehovah!'

130

131

<sup>1</sup> A Song of the Ascents, by David. Jehovah, my heart hath not been haughty, Nor have mine eyes been high, Nor have I walked in great things, And in things too wonderful for me.

<sup>2</sup> Have I not compared, and kept silent my soul, As a weaned one by its mother? As a weaned one by me [is] my soul.

132

<sup>3</sup> 'If I enter into the tent of my house, If I go up on the couch of my bed,

<sup>6</sup> 'Lo, we have heard it in Ephratah, We have found it in the fields of the forest.

- <sup>8</sup> Arise, O Jehovah, to Thy rest, Thou, and the ark of Thy strength,
<sup>11</sup> Jehovah hath sworn truth to David, He turneth not back from it: Of the fruit of thy body, I set on the throne for thee.
<sup>12</sup> If thy sons keep My covenant, And My testimonies that I teach them, Their sons also for ever and ever, Do sit on the throne for thee.
<sup>13</sup> For Jehovah hath fixed on Zion, He hath desired [it] for a seat to Himself, <sup>14</sup> This [is] My rest for ever and ever, Here do I sit, for I have desired it.
<sup>17</sup> There I cause to spring up a horn for David, I have arranged a lamp for Mine anointed.

133

- <sup>1</sup> A Song of the Ascents, by David. Lo, how good and how pleasant The dwelling of brethren — even together!
<sup>2</sup> As the good oil on the head, Coming down on the beard, the beard of Aaron, That cometh down on the skirt of his robes,
<sup>3</sup> As dew of Hermon — That cometh down on hills of Zion, For there Jehovah commanded the blessing — Life unto the age!

134

- <sup>1</sup> A Song of the Ascents. Lo, bless Jehovah, all servants of Jehovah, Who are standing in the house of Jehovah by night.

135

- <sup>1</sup> Praise ye Jah! Praise ye the name of Jehovah, Praise, ye servants of Jehovah,
<sup>6</sup> All that Jehovah pleased He hath done, In the heavens and in earth, In the seas and all deep places,
<sup>7</sup> Causing vapours to ascend from the end of the earth, Lightnings for the rain He hath made, Bringing forth wind from His treasures.
<sup>9</sup> He sent tokens and wonders into thy midst, O Egypt, On Pharaoh and on all his servants.

<sup>16</sup> A mouth they have, and they speak not, Eyes they have, and they see not,

<sup>17</sup> Ears they have, and they give not ear, Nose — there is no breath in their mouth!

136

<sup>14</sup> And caused Israel to pass through its midst, For to the age [is] His kindness,

<sup>1</sup> By rivers of Babylon — There we did sit, Yea, we wept when we remembered Zion.

<sup>7</sup> Remember, Jehovah, for the sons of Edom, The day of Jerusalem, Those saying, 'Rase, rase to its foundation!'

<sup>3</sup> In the day I called, when Thou dost answer me, Thou dost strengthen me in my soul [with] strength.

<sup>4</sup> O Jehovah, all kings of earth confess Thee, When they have heard the sayings of Thy mouth.

<sup>2</sup> Thou — Thou hast known my sitting down, And my rising up, Thou hast attended to my thoughts from afar.

<sup>8</sup> If I ascend the heavens — there Thou [art], And spread out a couch in Sheol, lo, Thee!

<sup>9</sup> I take the wings of morning, I dwell in the uttermost part of the sea,

- <sup>10</sup> Also there Thy hand doth lead me, And Thy right hand doth hold me.
<sup>11</sup> And I say, 'Surely darkness bruise me, Then night [is] light to me.
<sup>12</sup> Also darkness hideth not from Thee, And night as day shineth, as [is] darkness so [is] light.
<sup>13</sup> For Thou — Thou hast possessed my reins, Thou dost cover me in my mother's belly.
<sup>14</sup> I confess Thee, because that [with] wonders I have been distinguished. Wonderful [are] Thy works, And my soul is knowing [it] well.
<sup>15</sup> My substance was not hid from Thee, When I was made in secret, Curiously wrought in the lower part of earth.
<sup>16</sup> Mine unformed substance Thine eyes saw, And on Thy book all of them are written, The days they were formed — And not one among them.
<sup>17</sup> And to me how precious have been Thy thoughts, O God, how great hath been their sum!
<sup>18</sup> I recount them! than the sand they are more, I have waked, and I am still with Thee.
<sup>19</sup> Dost Thou slay, O God, the wicked? Then, men of blood, turn aside from me!
<sup>23</sup> Search me, O God, and know my heart, Try me, and know my thoughts, <sup>24</sup> And see if a grievous way be in me, And lead me in a way age-during!

- <sup>1</sup> To the Overseer. — A Psalm of David. Deliver me, O Jehovah, from an evil man, From one of violence Thou keepest me.
<sup>4</sup> Preserve me, Jehovah, from the hands of the wicked, From one of violence Thou keepest me, Who have devised to overthrow my steps.
<sup>5</sup> The proud hid a snare for me — and cords, They spread a net by the side of the path, Snares they have set for me. Selah.
<sup>6</sup> I have said to Jehovah, 'My God [art] Thou, Hear, Jehovah, the voice of my supplications.'
<sup>7</sup> O Jehovah, my Lord, strength of my salvation, Thou hast covered my head in the day of armour.
<sup>8</sup> Grant not, O Jehovah, the desires of the wicked, His wicked device bring not forth, They are high. Selah.
<sup>10</sup> They cause to fall on themselves burning coals, Into fire He doth cast them, Into deep pits — they arise not.

<sup>1</sup> A Psalm, by David. O Jehovah, I have called Thee, haste to me, Give ear [to] my voice when I call to Thee.

<sup>2</sup> My prayer is prepared — incense before Thee, The lifting up of my hands — the evening present.

<sup>5</sup> The righteous doth beat me [in] kindness. And doth reprove me, Oil of the head my head disalloweth not, For still my prayer [is] about their vexations.

<sup>6</sup> Their judges have been released by the sides of a rock, And they have heard my sayings, For they have been pleasant.

<sup>8</sup> But to Thee, O Jehovah, my Lord, [are] mine eyes, In Thee I have trusted, Make not bare my soul.

<sup>9</sup> Keep me from the gin they laid for me, Even snares of workers of iniquity.

<sup>3</sup> When my spirit hath been feeble in me, Then Thou hast known my path; In the way [in] which I walk, They have hid a snare for me.

<sup>4</sup> Looking on the right hand — and seeing, And I have none recognizing; Perished hath refuge from me, There is none inquiring for my soul.

<sup>5</sup> I have cried unto thee, O Jehovah, I have said, 'Thou [art] my refuge, My portion in the land of the living.'

<sup>6</sup> Attend Thou unto my loud cry, For I have become very low, Deliver Thou me from my pursuers, For they have been stronger than I.

<sup>7</sup> Bring forth from prison my soul to confess Thy name, The righteous do compass me about, When Thou conferrest benefits upon me!

<sup>3</sup> For an enemy hath pursued my soul, He hath bruised to the earth my life, He hath caused me to dwell in dark places, As the dead of old.

<sup>4</sup> And my spirit in me is become feeble, Within me is my heart become desolate.

<sup>5</sup> I have remembered days of old, I have meditated on all Thine acts, On the work of Thy hand I muse.

<sup>6</sup> I have spread forth my hands unto Thee, My soul [is] as a weary land for Thee. Selah.

<sup>7</sup> Haste, answer me, O Jehovah, My spirit hath been consumed, Hide not Thou Thy face from me, Or I have been compared with those going down [to] the pit.

<sup>8</sup> Cause me to hear in the morning Thy kindness, For in Thee I have trusted, Cause me to know the way that I go, For unto Thee I have lifted up my soul.

<sup>11</sup> For Thy name's sake O Jehovah, Thou dost quicken me, In Thy righteousness, Thou bringest out from distress my soul, <sup>12</sup> And in Thy kindness cuttest off mine enemies, And hast destroyed all the adversaries of my soul, For I [am] Thy servant!

144

<sup>1</sup> By David. Blessed [is] Jehovah my rock, who is teaching My hands for war, my fingers for battle.

<sup>2</sup> My kind one, and my bulwark, My tower, and my deliverer, My shield, and in whom I have trusted, Who is subduing my people under me!

<sup>12</sup> Because our sons [are] as plants, Becoming great in their youth, Our daughters as hewn stones, Polished — the likeness of a palace,

<sup>13</sup> Our garners [are] full, bringing out from kind to kind, Our flocks are bringing forth thousands, Ten thousands in our out-places,

<sup>14</sup> Our oxen are carrying, there is no breach, And there is no outgoing, And there is no crying in our broad places.

<sup>15</sup> O the happiness of the people that is thus, O the happiness of the people whose God [is] Jehovah!

145

<sup>1</sup> Praise by David. I exalt Thee, my God, O king, And bless Thy name to the age and for ever.

<sup>15</sup> The eyes of all unto Thee do look, And Thou art giving to them their food in its season,

146

<sup>6</sup> Making the heavens and earth, The sea and all that [is] in them, Who is keeping truth to the age,

<sup>9</sup> Jehovah is preserving the strangers, The fatherless and widow He causeth to stand, And the way of the wicked He turneth upside down.

<sup>10</sup> Jehovah doth reign to the age, Thy God, O Zion, to generation and generation, Praise ye Jah!

147

<sup>8</sup> Who is covering the heavens with clouds, Who is preparing for the earth rain, Who is causing grass to spring up [on] mountains,

<sup>20</sup> He hath not done so to any nation, As to judgments, they have not known them. Praise ye Jah!

148

<sup>13</sup> They praise the name of Jehovah, For His name alone hath been set on high, His honour [is] above earth and heavens.

149

150

The Proverbs

- <sup>1</sup> Proverbs of Solomon, son of David, king of Israel:
<sup>8</sup> Hear, my son, the instruction of thy father, And leave not the law of thy mother,
<sup>9</sup> For a graceful wreath [are] they to thy head, And chains to thy neck.
<sup>10</sup> My son, if sinners entice thee be not willing.
<sup>11</sup> If they say, 'Come with us, we lay wait for blood, We watch secretly for the innocent without cause,
<sup>12</sup> We swallow them as Sheol — alive, And whole — as those going down [to] the pit,
<sup>13</sup> Every precious substance we find, We fill our houses [with] spoil,
<sup>14</sup> Thy lot thou dost cast among us, One purse is — to all of us.'
<sup>15</sup> My son! go not in the way with them, Withhold thy foot from their path,
<sup>19</sup> So [are] the paths of every gainer of dishonest gain, The life of its owners it taketh.
<sup>20</sup> Wisdom in an out-place crieth aloud, In broad places she giveth forth her voice,
<sup>22</sup> 'Till when, ye simple, do ye love simplicity? And have scorers their scorning desired? And do fools hate knowledge?
<sup>23</sup> Turn back at my reproof, lo, I pour forth to you my spirit, I make known my words with you.
<sup>24</sup> Because I have called, and ye refuse, I stretched out my hand, and none is attending,
<sup>25</sup> And ye slight all my counsel, And my reproof ye have not desired.
<sup>26</sup> I also in your calamity do laugh, I deride when your fear cometh,
<sup>27</sup> When your fear cometh as destruction, And your calamity as a hurricane doth come, When on you come adversity and distress.
<sup>28</sup> Then they call me, and I do not answer, They seek me earnestly, and find me not.
<sup>29</sup> Because that they have hated knowledge, And the fear of Jehovah have not chosen.

<sup>30</sup> They have not consented to my counsel, They have despised all my reproof,

<sup>32</sup> For the turning of the simple slayeth them, And the security of the foolish destroyeth them.

<sup>2</sup> To cause thine ear to attend to wisdom, Thou inclinest thy heart to understanding,

<sup>3</sup> For, if for intelligence thou callest, For understanding givest forth thy voice,

3

<sup>2</sup> For length of days and years, Life and peace they do add to thee.

<sup>3</sup> Let not kindness and truth forsake thee, Bind them on thy neck, Write them on the tablet of thy heart,

- <sup>6</sup> In all thy ways know thou Him, And He doth make straight thy paths.
<sup>13</sup> O the happiness of a man [who] hath found wisdom, And of a man [who] bringeth forth understanding.
<sup>21</sup> My son! let them not turn from thine eyes, Keep thou wisdom and thoughtfulness,
<sup>22</sup> And they are life to thy soul, and grace to thy neck.
<sup>28</sup> Say not thou to thy friend, 'Go, and return, and to-morrow I give,' And substance with thee.

4

- <sup>1</sup> Hear, ye sons, the instruction of a father, And give attention to know understanding.

<sup>4</sup> And he directeth me, and he saith to me: 'Let thy heart retain my words, Keep my commands, and live.

<sup>10</sup> Hear, my son, and receive my sayings, And years of life [are] multiplied to thee.

<sup>11</sup> In a way of wisdom I have directed thee, I have caused thee to tread in paths of uprightness.

<sup>18</sup> And the path of the righteous [is] as a shining light, Going and brightening till the day is established,

<sup>20</sup> My son, to my words give attention, To my sayings incline thine ear,

<sup>7</sup> And now, ye sons, hearken to me, And turn not from sayings of my mouth.
<sup>8</sup> Keep far from off her thy way, And come not near unto the opening of her house,
<sup>9</sup> Lest thou give to others thy honour, And thy years to the fierce,
<sup>11</sup> And thou hast howled in thy latter end, In the consumption of thy flesh and thy food,
<sup>12</sup> And hast said, 'How have I hated instruction, And reproof hath my heart despised,
<sup>13</sup> And I have not hearkened to the voice of my directors, And to my teachers have not inclined mine ear.
<sup>14</sup> As a little thing I have been all evil, In the midst of an assembly and a company.
<sup>18</sup> Let thy fountain be blessed, And rejoice because of the wife of thy youth,
<sup>19</sup> A hind of loves, and a roe of grace! Let her loves satisfy thee at all times, In her love magnify thyself continually.
<sup>20</sup> And why dost thou magnify thyself, My son, with a stranger? And embrace the bosom of a strange woman?
<sup>21</sup> For over-against the eyes of Jehovah are the ways of each, And all his paths He is pondering.

<sup>3</sup> Do this now, my son, and be delivered, For thou hast come into the hand of thy friend. Go, trample on thyself, and strengthen thy friend,
<sup>4</sup> Give not sleep to thine eyes, And slumber to thine eyelids,
<sup>5</sup> Be delivered as a roe from the hand, And as a bird from the hand of a fowler.

<sup>23</sup> For a lamp [is] the command, And the law a light, And a way of life [are] reproofs of instruction,

<sup>7</sup> And I do see among the simple ones, I discern among the sons, A young man lacking understanding,

<sup>8</sup> Passing on in the street, near her corner, And the way [to] her house he doth step,

<sup>9</sup> In the twilight — in the evening of day, In the darkness of night and blackness.

<sup>10</sup> And, lo, a woman to meet him — (A harlot's dress, and watchful of heart,

<sup>12</sup> Now in an out-place, now in broad places, And near every corner she lieth in wait) —

<sup>13</sup> And she laid hold on him, and kissed him, She hath hardened her face, and saith to him,

<sup>14</sup> 'Sacrifices of peace-offerings [are] by me, To-day I have completed my vows.

<sup>22</sup> He is going after her straightway, As an ox unto the slaughter he cometh, And as a fetter unto the chastisement of a fool,

8

<sup>7</sup> For truth doth my mouth utter, And an abomination to my lips [is] wickedness.

<sup>29</sup> In His setting for the sea its limit, And the waters transgress not His command, In His decreeing the foundations of earth,

<sup>30</sup> Then I am near Him, a workman, And I am a delight — day by day. Rejoicing before Him at all times, <sup>31</sup> Rejoicing in the habitable part of His earth, And my delights [are] with the sons of men.

<sup>9</sup> Give to the wise, and he is wiser still, Make known to the righteous, And he increaseth learning.

<sup>11</sup> For by me do thy days multiply, And added to thee are years of life.

<sup>14</sup> And she hath sat at the opening of her house, On a throne — the high places of the city,

<sup>16</sup> 'Who [is] simple? let him turn aside hither.' And whoso lacketh heart — she said to him,

10

<sup>25</sup> As the passing by of a hurricane, So the wicked is not, And the righteous is a foundation age-during.

<sup>26</sup> As vinegar to the teeth, And as smoke to the eyes, So [is] the slothful to those sending him.

<sup>27</sup> The fear of Jehovah addeth days, And the years of the wicked are shortened.

11

<sup>26</sup> Whoso is withholding corn, the people execrate him, And a blessing [is] for the head of him who is selling.

12

<sup>9</sup> Better [is] the lightly esteemed who hath a servant, Than the self-honoured who lacketh bread.

13

14

<sup>8</sup> The wisdom of the prudent [is] to understand his way, And the folly of fools [is] deceit.

- <sup>9</sup> Fools mock at a guilt-offering, And among the upright – a pleasing thing.
- <sup>10</sup> The heart knoweth its own bitterness, And with its joy a stranger doth not intermeddle.
- <sup>11</sup> The house of the wicked is destroyed, And the tent of the upright flourisheth.
- <sup>12</sup> There is a way – right before a man, And its latter end [are] ways of death.
- <sup>13</sup> Even in laughter is the heart pained, And the latter end of joy [is] affliction.
- <sup>14</sup> From his ways is the backslider in heart filled, And a good man – from his fruits.
- <sup>15</sup> The simple giveth credence to everything, And the prudent attendeth to his step.
- <sup>16</sup> The wise is fearing and turning from evil, And a fool is transgressing and is confident.
- <sup>17</sup> Whoso is short of temper doth folly, And a man of wicked devices is hated.
- <sup>18</sup> The simple have inherited folly, And the prudent are crowned [with] knowledge.
- <sup>19</sup> The evil have bowed down before the good, And the wicked at the gates of the righteous.
- <sup>20</sup> Even of his neighbour is the poor hated, And those loving the rich [are] many.
- <sup>21</sup> Whoso is despising his neighbour sinneth, Whoso is favouring the humble, O his happiness.
- <sup>22</sup> Do not they err who are devising evil? And kindness and truth [are] to those devising good,
- <sup>23</sup> In all labour there is advantage, And a thing of the lips [is] only to want.
- <sup>24</sup> The crown of the wise is their wealth, The folly of fools [is] folly.
- <sup>25</sup> A true witness is delivering souls, And a deceitful one breatheth out lies.
- <sup>26</sup> In the fear of Jehovah [is] strong confidence, And to His sons there is a refuge.
- <sup>27</sup> The fear of Jehovah [is] a fountain of life, To turn aside from snares of death.
- <sup>28</sup> In the multitude of a people [is] the honour of a king, And in lack of people the ruin of a prince.
- <sup>29</sup> Whoso is slow to anger [is] of great understanding, And whoso is short in temper is exalting folly.
- <sup>30</sup> A healed heart [is] life to the flesh, And rottenness to the bones [is] envy.
- <sup>31</sup> An oppressor of the poor reproacheth his Maker, And whoso is honouring Him Is favouring the needy.
- <sup>32</sup> In his wickedness is the wicked driven away, And trustful in his death [is] the righteous.
- <sup>33</sup> In the heart of the intelligent wisdom doth rest. And in the midst of fools it is known.
- <sup>34</sup> Righteousness exalteth a nation, And the goodliness of peoples [is] a sin-offering.
- <sup>35</sup> The favour of a king [is] to a wise servant, And an object of his wrath is one causing shame!

- <sup>1</sup> A soft answer turneth back fury, And a grievous word raiseth up anger.

<sup>17</sup> Better [is] an allowance of green herbs and love there, Than a fatted ox, and hatred with it.

17

<sup>16</sup> Why [is] this — a price in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom, And a heart there is none?

<sup>27</sup> One acquainted with knowledge is sparing his words, And the cool of temper [is] a man of understanding.

18

<sup>9</sup> He also that is remiss in his work, A brother he [is] to a destroyer.

<sup>10</sup> A tower of strength [is] the name of Jehovah, Into it the righteous runneth, and is set on high.

<sup>18</sup> Chastise thy son, for there is hope, And to put him to death lift not up thy soul.

<sup>19</sup> A man of great wrath is bearing punishment, For, if thou dost deliver, yet again thou dost add.

20

<sup>10</sup> A stone and a stone, an ephah and an ephah, Even both of them [are] an abomination to Jehovah.

21

<sup>9</sup> Better to sit on a corner of the roof, Than [with] a woman of contentions and a house of company.

22

<sup>13</sup> The slothful hath said, 'A lion [is] without, In the midst of the broad places I am slain.'

<sup>15</sup> Folly is bound up in the heart of a youth, The rod of chastisement putteth it far from him.

<sup>17</sup> Incline thine ear, and hear words of the wise, And thy heart set to my knowledge, <sup>18</sup> For they are pleasant when thou dost keep them in thy heart, They are prepared together for thy lips.

<sup>21</sup> To cause thee to know the certainty of sayings of truth, To return sayings of truth to those sending thee.

<sup>7</sup> For as he hath thought in his soul, so [is] he, 'Eat and drink,' saith he to thee, And his heart [is] not with thee.

<sup>8</sup> Thy morsel thou hast eaten thou dost vomit up, And hast marred thy words that [are] sweet.

<sup>26</sup> Give, my son, thy heart to me, And let thine eyes watch my ways.

<sup>34</sup> And thou hast been as one lying down in the heart of the sea, And as one lying down on the top of a mast.

<sup>35</sup> 'They smote me, I have not been sick, They beat me, I have not known. When I awake — I seek it yet again!'

24

<sup>12</sup> When thou sayest, 'Lo, we knew not this.' Is not the Ponderer of hearts He who understandeth? And the Keeper of thy soul He who knoweth? And He hath rendered to man according to his work.

<sup>22</sup> For suddenly doth their calamity rise, And the ruin of them both — who knoweth!
<sup>26</sup> Lips he kisseth who is returning straightforward words.
<sup>27</sup> Prepare in an out-place thy work, And make it ready in the field — go afterwards, Then thou hast built thy house.
<sup>29</sup> Say not, 'As he did to me, so I do to him, I render to each according to his work.'
<sup>30</sup> Near the field of a slothful man I passed by, And near the vineyard of a man lacking heart.
<sup>31</sup> And lo, it hath gone up — all of it — thorns! Covered its face have nettles, And its stone wall hath been broken down.
<sup>32</sup> And I see — I — I do set my heart, I have seen — I have received instruction,

<sup>2</sup> The honour of God [is] to hide a thing, And the honour of kings to search out a matter.
<sup>3</sup> The heavens for height, and the earth for depth, And the heart of kings — [are] unsearchable.
<sup>7</sup> For better [that] he hath said to thee, 'Come thou up hither,' Than [that] he humble thee before a noble, Whom thine eyes have seen.
<sup>8</sup> Go not forth to strive, haste, turn, What dost thou in its latter end, When thy neighbour causeth thee to blush?
<sup>9</sup> Thy cause plead with thy neighbour, And the secret counsel of another reveal not,
<sup>10</sup> Lest the hearer put thee to shame, And thine evil report turn not back.
<sup>12</sup> A ring of gold, and an ornament of pure gold, [Is] the wise reprover to an attentive ear.
<sup>13</sup> As a vessel of snow in a day of harvest, [So is] a faithful ambassador to those sending him, And the soul of his masters he refresheth.

<sup>20</sup> Whoso is taking away a garment in a cold day, [Is as] vinegar on nitre, And a singer of songs on a sad heart.

26

<sup>6</sup> He is cutting off feet, he is drinking injury, Who is sending things by the hand of a fool.

<sup>8</sup> As one who is binding a stone in a sling, So [is] he who is giving honour to a fool.

<sup>9</sup> A thorn hath gone up into the hand of a drunkard, And a parable in the mouth of fools.

<sup>20</sup> Without wood is fire going out, And without a tale-bearer, contention ceaseth,

<sup>27</sup> Whoso is digging a pit falleth into it, And the roller of a stone, to him it turneth.

27

<sup>11</sup> Be wise, my son, and rejoice my heart. And I return my reproacher a word.

<sup>12</sup> The prudent hath seen the evil, he is hidden, The simple have passed on, they are punished.

<sup>21</sup> A refining pot [is] for silver, and a furnace for gold, And a man according to his praise.

<sup>27</sup> And a sufficiency of goats' milk [is] for thy bread, For bread to thy house, and life to thy damsels!

28

<sup>1</sup> The wicked have fled and there is no pursuer. And the righteous as a young lion is confident.

<sup>27</sup> Whoso is giving to the poor hath no lack, And whoso is hiding his eyes multiplied curses.

29

30

<sup>1</sup> Words of a Gatherer, son of an obedient one, the declaration, an affirmation of the man: — I have wearied myself [for] God, I have wearied myself [for] God, and am consumed.

<sup>2</sup> For I am more brutish than any one, And have not the understanding of a man.

<sup>3</sup> Nor have I learned wisdom, Yet the knowledge of Holy Ones I know.

<sup>4</sup> Who went up to heaven, and cometh down? Who hath gathered the wind in his fists? Who hath bound waters in a garment? Who established all ends of the earth? What [is] His name? and what His son's name? Surely thou knowest!

<sup>5</sup> Every saying of God [is] tried, A shield He [is] to those trusting in Him.

<sup>8</sup> Vanity and a lying word put far from me, Poverty or wealth give not to me, Cause me to eat the bread of my portion,

<sup>9</sup> Lest I become satiated, and have denied, And have said, 'Who [is] Jehovah?' And lest I be poor, and have stolen, And have laid hold of the name of my God.

<sup>16</sup> Sheol, and a restrained womb, Earth — it [is] not satisfied [with] water, And fire — it hath not said, 'Sufficiency,'

<sup>18</sup> Three things have been too wonderful for me, Yea, four that I have not known:

<sup>20</sup> So — the way of an adulterous woman, She hath eaten and hath wiped her mouth, And hath said, 'I have not done iniquity.'

<sup>22</sup> For a servant when he reigneth, And a fool when he is satisfied with bread,

<sup>27</sup> A king there is not to the locust, And it goeth out — each one shouting,

<sup>32</sup> If thou hast been foolish in lifting up thyself, And if thou hast devised evil — hand to mouth!

<sup>33</sup> For the churning of milk bringeth out butter, And the wringing of the nose bringeth out blood, And the forcing of anger bringeth out strife!

31

<sup>15</sup> Yea, she riseth while yet night, And giveth food to her household, And a portion to her damsels.

Ecclesiastes or, the Preacher

<sup>5</sup> Also, the sun hath risen, and the sun hath gone in, and unto its place panting it is rising there.

<sup>7</sup> All the streams are going unto the sea, and the sea is not full; unto a place whither the streams are going, thither they are turning back to go.

<sup>8</sup> All these things are wearying; a man is not able to speak, the eye is not satisfied by seeing, nor filled is the ear from hearing.

<sup>9</sup> What [is] that which hath been? it [is] that which is, and what [is] that which hath been done? it [is] that which is done, and there is not an entirely new thing under the sun.

<sup>10</sup> There is a thing of which [one] saith: 'See this, it [is] new!' already it hath been in the ages that were before us!

<sup>11</sup> There is not a remembrance of former [generations]; and also of the latter that are, there is no remembrance of them with those that are at the last.

<sup>13</sup> And I have given my heart to seek and to search out by wisdom concerning all that hath been done under the heavens. It [is] a sad travail God hath given to the sons of man to be humbled by it.

<sup>14</sup> I have seen all the works that have been done under the sun, and lo, the whole [is] vanity and vexation of spirit!

<sup>15</sup> A crooked thing [one] is not able to make straight, and a lacking thing is not able to be numbered.

<sup>16</sup> I — I spake with my heart, saying, 'I, lo, I have magnified and added wisdom above every one who hath been before me at Jerusalem, and my heart hath seen abundantly wisdom and knowledge.

<sup>17</sup> And I give my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly: I have known that even this [is] vexation of spirit;

<sup>18</sup> for, in abundance of wisdom [is] abundance of sadness, and he who addeth knowledge addeth pain.'

<sup>2</sup> Of laughter I said, 'Foolish!' and of mirth, 'What [is] this it is doing?'

<sup>3</sup> I have sought in my heart to draw out with wine my appetite, (and my heart leading in wisdom), and to take hold on folly till that I see where [is] this — the good to the sons of man of that which they do under the heavens, the number of the days of their lives.

<sup>4</sup> I made great my works, I builded for me houses, I planted for me vineyards.

<sup>5</sup> I made for me gardens and paradises, and I planted in them trees of every fruit.

<sup>6</sup> I made for me pools of water, to water from them a forest shooting forth trees.

<sup>7</sup> I got men-servants, and maid-servants, and sons of the house were to me; also, I had much substance — herd and flock — above all who had been before me in Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup> I gathered for me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces. I prepared for me men-singers and women-singers, and the luxuries of the sons of man — a wife and wives.

<sup>9</sup> And I became great, and increased above every one who had been before me in Jerusalem; also, my wisdom stood with me.

<sup>10</sup> And all that mine eyes asked I kept not back from them; I withheld not my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced because of all my labour, and this hath been my portion, from all my labour,

<sup>11</sup> and I have looked on all my works that my hands have done, and on the labour that I have laboured to do, and lo, the whole [is] vanity and vexation of spirit, and there is no advantage under the sun!

<sup>12</sup> And I turned to see wisdom, and madness, and folly, but what [is] the man who cometh after the king? that which [is] already — they have done it!

<sup>13</sup> And I saw that there is an advantage to wisdom above folly, like the advantage of the light above the darkness.

<sup>14</sup> The wise! — his eyes [are] in his head, and the fool in darkness is walking, and I also knew that one event happeneth with them all;

<sup>15</sup> and I said in my heart, 'As it happeneth with the fool, it happeneth also with me, and why am I then more wise?' And I spake in my heart, that also this [is] vanity:

<sup>16</sup> That there is no remembrance to the wise — with the fool — to the age, for that which [is] already, [in] the days that are coming is all forgotten, and how dieth the wise? with the fool!

<sup>17</sup> And I have hated life, for sad to me [is] the work that hath been done under the sun, for the whole [is] vanity and vexation of spirit.

<sup>18</sup> And I have hated all my labour that I labour at under the sun, because I leave it to a man who is after me.

<sup>19</sup> And who knoweth whether he is wise or foolish? yet he doth rule over all my labour that I have laboured at, and that I have done wisely under the sun! this also [is] vanity.

<sup>20</sup> And I turned round to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labour that I laboured at under the sun.

<sup>21</sup> For there is a man whose labour [is] in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equity, and to a man who hath not laboured therein he giveth it — his portion! Even this [is] vanity and a great evil.

<sup>22</sup> For what hath been to a man by all his labour, and by the thought of his heart that he laboured at under the sun?

<sup>24</sup> There is nothing good in a man who eateth, and hath drunk, and hath shewn his soul good in his labour. This also I have seen that it [is] from the hand of God.

<sup>26</sup> For to a man who [is] good before Him, He hath given wisdom, and knowledge, and joy; and to a sinner He hath given travail, to gather and to heap up, to give to the good before God. Even this [is] vanity and vexation of spirit.

3

<sup>3</sup> A time to slay, And a time to heal, A time to break down, And a time to build up.

<sup>4</sup> A time to weep, And a time to laugh. A time to mourn, And a time to skip.

<sup>5</sup> A time to cast away stones, And a time to heap up stones. A time to embrace, And a time to be far from embracing.

<sup>6</sup> A time to seek, And a time to destroy. A time to keep, And a time to cast away.

<sup>7</sup> A time to rend, And a time to sew. A time to be silent, And a time to speak.

<sup>8</sup> A time to love, And a time to hate. A time of war, And a time of peace.

<sup>11</sup> The whole He hath made beautiful in its season; also, that knowledge He hath put in their heart without which man findeth not out the work that God hath done from the beginning even unto the end.

<sup>12</sup> I have known that there is no good for them except to rejoice and to do good during their life,

<sup>13</sup> yea, even every man who eateth and hath drunk and seen good by all his labour, it [is] a gift of God.

<sup>14</sup> I have known that all that God doth is to the age, to it nothing is to be added, and from it nothing is to be withdrawn; and God hath wrought that they do fear before Him.

<sup>15</sup> What is that which hath been? already it is, and that which [is] to be hath already been, and God requireth that which is pursued.

<sup>16</sup> And again, I have seen under the sun the place of judgment — there [is] the wicked; and the place of righteousness — there [is] the wicked.

<sup>17</sup> I said in my heart, 'The righteous and the wicked doth God judge, for a time [is] to every matter and for every work there.'

<sup>18</sup> I said in my heart concerning the matter of the sons of man that God might cleanse them, so as to see that they themselves [are] beasts.

<sup>19</sup> For an event [is to] the sons of man, and an event [is to] the beasts, even one event [is] to them; as the death of this, so [is] the death of that; and one spirit [is] to all, and the advantage of man above the beast is nothing, for the whole [is] vanity.

<sup>20</sup> The whole are going unto one place, the whole have been from the dust, and the whole are turning back unto the dust.

<sup>21</sup> Who knoweth the spirit of the sons of man that is going up on high, and the spirit of the beast that is going down below to the earth?

<sup>22</sup> And I have seen that there is nothing better than that man rejoice in his works, for it [is] his portion; for who doth bring him in to look on that which is after him?

4

<sup>2</sup> And I am praising the dead who have already died above the living who are yet alive.

<sup>3</sup> And better than both of them [is] he who hath not yet been, in that he hath not seen the evil work that hath been done under the sun.

<sup>8</sup> There is one, and there is not a second; even son or brother he hath not, and there is no end to all his labour! His eye also is not satisfied with riches, and [he saith not], 'For whom am I labouring and bereaving my soul of good?' This also is vanity, it is a sad travail.

<sup>9</sup> The two [are] better than the one, in that they have a good reward by their labour.

<sup>10</sup> For if they fall, the one raiseth up his companion, but woe to the one who falleth and there is not a second to raise him up!

<sup>11</sup> Also, if two lie down, then they have heat, but how hath one heat?

<sup>12</sup> And if the one strengthen himself, the two stand against him; and the threefold cord is not hastily broken.

<sup>16</sup> there is no end to all the people, to all who were before them; also, the latter rejoice not in him. Surely this also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

5

<sup>1</sup> Keep thy feet when thou goest unto a house of God, and draw near to hear rather than to give of fools the sacrifice, for they do not know they do evil.

<sup>2</sup> Cause not thy mouth to hasten, and let not thy heart hasten to bring out a word before God, for God is in the heavens, and thou on the earth, therefore let thy words be few.

<sup>3</sup> For the dream hath come by abundance of business, and the voice of a fool by abundance of words.

<sup>4</sup> When thou vowest a vow to God, delay not to complete it, for there is no pleasure in fools; that which thou vowest — complete.

<sup>5</sup> Better that thou do not vow, than that thou dost vow and dost not complete.

<sup>7</sup> For, in the abundance of dreams both vanities and words abound; but fear thou God.

<sup>10</sup> Whoso is loving silver is not satisfied [with] silver, nor he who is in love with stores [with] increase. Even this [is] vanity.

<sup>15</sup> As he came out from the belly of his mother, naked he turneth back to go as he came, and he taketh not away anything of his labour, that doth go in his hand.

<sup>16</sup> And this also [is] a painful evil, just as he came, so he goeth, and what advantage [is] to him who laboreth for wind?

<sup>17</sup> Also all his days in darkness he consumeth, and sadness, and wrath, and sickness abound.

<sup>18</sup> Lo, that which I have seen: [It is] good, because beautiful, to eat, and to drink, and to see good in all one's labour that he laboreth at under the sun, the number of the days of his life that God hath given to him, for it [is] his portion.

<sup>19</sup> Every man also to whom God hath given wealth and riches, and hath given him power to eat of it, and to accept his portion, and to rejoice in his labour, this is a gift of God.

<sup>20</sup> For he doth not much remember the days of his life, for God is answering through the joy of his heart.

6

<sup>1</sup> There is an evil that I have seen under the sun, and it [is] great on man:

<sup>2</sup> A man to whom God giveth wealth, and riches, and honour, and there is no lack to his soul of all that he desireth, and God giveth him not power to eat of it, but a stranger eateth it; this [is] vanity, and it [is] an evil disease.

<sup>3</sup> If a man doth beget a hundred, and live many years, and is great, because they are the days of his years, and his soul is not satisfied from the goodness, and also he hath not had a grave, I have said, 'Better than he [is] the untimely birth.'

<sup>4</sup> For in vanity he came in, and in darkness he goeth, and in darkness his name is covered,

<sup>9</sup> Better [is] the sight of the eyes than the going of the soul. This also [is] vanity and vexation of spirit.

<sup>10</sup> What [is] that which hath been? already is its name called, and it is known that it [is] man, and he is not able to contend with him who is stronger than he.

<sup>12</sup> For who knoweth what [is] good for a man in life, the number of the days of the life of his vanity, and he maketh them as a shadow? for who declareth to man what is after him under the sun?

<sup>2</sup> Better to go unto a house of mourning, Than to go unto a house of banqueting, For that is the end of all men, And the living layeth [it] unto his heart.

<sup>9</sup> Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry, For anger in the bosom of fools resteth.

<sup>10</sup> Say not thou, 'What was it, That the former days were better than these?' For thou hast not asked wisely of this.

<sup>11</sup> Wisdom [is] good with an inheritance, And an advantage [it is] to those beholding the sun.

<sup>12</sup> For wisdom [is] a defense, money [is] a defence, And the advantage of the knowledge of wisdom [is], She reviveth her possessors.

<sup>13</sup> See the work of God, For who is able to make straight that which He made crooked?

<sup>14</sup> In a day of prosperity be in gladness, And in a day of evil consider. Also this over-against that hath God made, To the intent that man doth not find anything after him.

<sup>15</sup> The whole I have considered in the days of my vanity. There is a righteous one perishing in his righteousness, and there is a wrong-doer prolonging [himself] in his wrong.

<sup>18</sup> [It is] good that thou dost lay hold on this, and also, from that withdrawest not thy hand, for whoso is fearing God goeth out with them all.

<sup>19</sup> The wisdom giveth strength to a wise man, more than wealth the rulers who have been in a city.

<sup>21</sup> Also to all the words that they speak give not thy heart, that thou hear not thy servant reviling thee.

<sup>22</sup> For many times also hath thy heart known that thou thyself also hast reviled others.

<sup>23</sup> All this I have tried by wisdom; I have said, 'I am wise,' and it [is] far from me.

<sup>24</sup> Far off [is] that which hath been, and deep, deep, who doth find it?

<sup>25</sup> I have turned round, also my heart, to know and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and reason, and to know the wrong of folly, and of foolishness the madness.

<sup>27</sup> See, this I have found, said the Preacher, one to one, to find out the reason

<sup>28</sup> (that still my soul had sought, and I had not found), One man, a teacher, I have found, and a woman among all these I have not found.

<sup>29</sup> See, this alone I have found, that God made man upright, and they — they have sought out many devices.

8

<sup>2</sup> I pray thee, the commandment of a king keep, even for the sake of the oath of God.

<sup>6</sup> For to every delight there is a time and a judgment, for the misfortune of man is great upon him.

<sup>7</sup> For he knoweth not that which shall be, for when it shall be who declareth to him?

<sup>8</sup> There is no man ruling over the spirit to restrain the spirit, and there is no authority over the day of death, and there is no discharge in battle, and wickedness delivereth not its possessors.

<sup>9</sup> All this I have seen so as to give my heart to every work that hath been done under the sun; a time that man hath ruled over man to his own evil.

<sup>10</sup> And so I have seen the wicked buried, and they went in, even from the Holy Place they go, and they are forgotten in the city whether they had so done. This also [is] vanity.

<sup>11</sup> Because sentence hath not been done [on] an evil work speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of man is full within them to do evil.

<sup>12</sup> Though a sinner is doing evil a hundred [times], and prolonging [himself] for it, surely also I know that there is good to those fearing God, who fear before Him.

<sup>13</sup> And good is not to the wicked, and he doth not prolong days as a shadow, because he is not fearing before God.

<sup>14</sup> There is a vanity that hath been done upon the earth, that there are righteous ones unto whom it is coming according to the work of the wicked, and there are wicked ones unto whom it is coming according to the work of the righteous. I have said that this also [is] vanity.

<sup>15</sup> And I have praised mirth because there is no good to man under the sun except to eat and to drink, and to rejoice, and it remaineth with him of his labour the days of his life that God hath given to him under the sun.

<sup>16</sup> When I gave my heart to know wisdom and to see the business that hath been done on the earth, (for there is also a spectator in whose eyes sleep is not by day and by night),

<sup>17</sup> then I considered all the work of God, that man is not able to find out the work that hath been done under the sun, because though man labour to seek, yet he doth not find; and even though the wise man speak of knowing he is not able to find.

9

<sup>1</sup> But all this I have laid unto my heart, so as to clear up the whole of this, that the righteous and the wise, and their works, [are] in the hand of God, neither love nor hatred doth man know, the whole [is] before them.

<sup>2</sup> The whole [is] as to the whole; one event is to the righteous and to the wicked, to the good, and to the clean, and to the unclean, and to him who is sacrificing, and to him who is not sacrificing; as [is] the good, so [is] the sinner, he who is swearing as he who is fearing an oath.

<sup>3</sup> This [is] an evil among all that hath been done under the sun, that one event [is] to all, and also the heart of the sons of man is full of evil, and madness [is] in their heart during their life, and after it – unto the dead.

<sup>4</sup> But [to] him who is joined unto all the living there is confidence, for to a living dog it [is] better than to the dead lion.

<sup>5</sup> For the living know that they die, and the dead know not anything, and there is no more to them a reward, for their remembrance hath been forgotten.

<sup>6</sup> Their love also, their hatred also, their envy also, hath already perished, and they have no more a portion to the age in all that hath been done under the sun.

<sup>8</sup> At all times let thy garments be white, and let not perfume be lacking on thy head.

<sup>9</sup> See life with the wife whom thou hast loved, all the days of the life of thy vanity, that He hath given to thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity, for it [is] thy portion in life, even of thy labour that thou art labouring at under the sun.

<sup>10</sup> All that thy hand findeth to do, with thy power do, for there is no work, and device, and knowledge, and wisdom in Sheol whither thou art going.

<sup>11</sup> I have turned so as to see under the sun, that not to the swift [is] the race, nor to the mighty the battle, nor even to the wise bread, nor even to the intelligent wealth, nor even to the skilful grace, for time and chance happen with them all.

<sup>13</sup> This also I have seen: wisdom under the sun, and it is great to me.

<sup>14</sup> A little city, and few men in it, and a great king hath come unto it, and hath surrounded it, and hath built against it great bulwarks;

<sup>15</sup> and there hath been found in it a poor wise man, and he hath delivered the city by his wisdom, and men have not remembered that poor man!

<sup>16</sup> And I said, 'Better [is] wisdom than might, and the wisdom of the poor is despised, and his words are not heard.' —

<sup>17</sup> The words of the wise in quiet are heard, More than the cry of a ruler over fools.

10

<sup>3</sup> And also, when he that is a fool Is walking in the way, his heart is lacking, And he hath said to every one, 'He [is] a fool.'

<sup>6</sup> He hath set the fool in many high places, And the rich in a low place do sit.

<sup>8</sup> Whoso is digging a pit falleth into it, And whoso is breaking a hedge, a serpent biteth him.

<sup>11</sup> If the serpent biteth without enchantment, Then there is no advantage to a master of the tongue.

<sup>14</sup> And the fool multiplieth words: 'Man knoweth not that which is, And that which is after him, who doth declare to him?'

<sup>18</sup> By slothfulness is the wall brought low, And by idleness of the hands doth the house drop.

<sup>19</sup> For mirth they are making a feast, And wine maketh life joyful, And the silver answereth with all.

11

<sup>2</sup> Give a portion to seven, and even to eight, For thou knowest not what evil is on the earth.

<sup>3</sup> If the thick clouds are full of rain, On the earth they empty [themselves]; And if a tree doth fall in the south or to the north, The place where the tree falleth, there it is.

<sup>4</sup> Whoso is observing the wind soweth not, And whoso is looking on the thick clouds reapeth not.

<sup>5</sup> As thou knowest not what [is] the way of the spirit, How — bones in the womb of the full one, So thou knowest not the work of God who maketh the whole.

<sup>6</sup> In the morning sow thy seed, And at even withdraw not thy hand, For thou knowest not which is right, this or that, Or whether both of them alike [are] good.

<sup>7</sup> Sweet also [is] the light, And good for the eyes to see the sun.

<sup>8</sup> But, if man liveth many years, In all of them let him rejoice, And remember the days of darkness, For they are many! all that is coming [is] vanity.

<sup>9</sup> Rejoice, O young man, in thy childhood, And let thy heart gladden thee in days of thy youth, And walk in the ways of thy heart, And in the sight of thine eyes, And know thou that for all these, Doth God bring thee into judgment.

<sup>10</sup> And turn aside anger from thy heart, And cause evil to pass from thy flesh, For the childhood and the age [are] vanity!

12

<sup>2</sup> While that the sun is not darkened, and the light, And the moon, and the stars, And the thick clouds returned after the rain.

<sup>3</sup> In the day that keepers of the house tremble, And men of strength have bowed themselves, And grinders have ceased, because they have become few. And those looking out at the windows have become dim,

<sup>4</sup> And doors have been shut in the street. When the noise of the grinding is low, And [one] riseth at the voice of the bird, And all daughters of song are bowed down.

<sup>5</sup> Also of that which is high they are afraid, And of the low places in the way, And the almond-tree is despised, And the grasshopper is become a burden, And want is increased, For man is going unto his home age-during, And the mourners have gone round through the street.

<sup>7</sup> And the dust returneth to the earth as it was, And the spirit returneth to God who gave it.

<sup>8</sup> Vanity of vanities, said the preacher, the whole [is] vanity.

<sup>10</sup> The preacher sought to find out pleasing words, and, written [by] the upright, words of truth.

<sup>11</sup> Words of the wise [are] as goads, and as fences planted [by] the masters of collections, they have been given by one shepherd.

<sup>14</sup> For every work doth God bring into judgment, with every hidden thing, whether good or bad.'

The Song of Solomon

- <sup>1</sup> The Song of Songs, that [is] Solomon's.
- <sup>2</sup> Let him kiss me with kisses of his mouth, For better [are] thy loves than wine.
- <sup>3</sup> For fragrance [are] thy perfumes good. Perfume emptied out — thy name, Therefore have virgins loved thee!
- <sup>4</sup> Draw me: after thee we run, The king hath brought me into his inner chambers, We do joy and rejoice in thee, We mention thy loves more than wine, Uprightly they have loved thee!
- <sup>5</sup> Dark [am] I, and comely, daughters of Jerusalem, As tents of Kedar, as curtains of Solomon.
- <sup>6</sup> Fear me not, because I [am] very dark, Because the sun hath scorched me, The sons of my mother were angry with me, They made me keeper of the vineyards, My vineyard — my own — I have not kept.
- <sup>7</sup> Declare to me, thou whom my soul hath loved, Where thou delightest, Where thou liest down at noon, For why am I as one veiled, By the ranks of thy companions?
- <sup>8</sup> If thou knowest not, O fair among women, Get thee forth by the traces of the flock, And feed thy kids by the shepherds' dwellings!
- <sup>9</sup> To my joyous one in chariots of Pharaoh, I have compared thee, my friend,
- <sup>10</sup> Comely have been thy cheeks with garlands, Thy neck with chains.
- <sup>11</sup> Garlands of gold we do make for thee, With studs of silver!
- <sup>12</sup> While the king [is] in his circle, My spikenard hath given its fragrance.
- <sup>13</sup> A bundle of myrrh [is] my beloved to me, Between my breasts it lodgeth.
- <sup>14</sup> A cluster of cypress [is] my beloved to me, In the vineyards of En-Gedi!
- <sup>15</sup> Lo, thou [art] fair, my friend, Lo, thou [art] fair, thine eyes [are] doves!
- <sup>16</sup> Lo, thou [art] fair, my love, yea, pleasant, Yea, our couch [is] green,
- <sup>17</sup> The beams of our houses [are] cedars, Our rafters [are] firs, I [am] a rose of Sharon, a lily of the valleys!

- <sup>1</sup> As a lily among the thorns,
- <sup>2</sup> So [is] my friend among the daughters!
- <sup>3</sup> As a citron among trees of the forest, So [is] my beloved among the sons, In his shade I delighted, and sat down, And his fruit [is] sweet to my palate.
- <sup>4</sup> He hath brought me in unto a house of wine, And his banner over me [is] love,
- <sup>5</sup> Sustain me with grape-cakes, Support me with citrons, for I [am] sick with love.
- <sup>6</sup> His left hand [is] under my head, And his right doth embrace me.
- <sup>7</sup> I have adjured you, daughters of Jerusalem, By the roes or by the hinds of the field, Stir not up nor wake the love till she please!
- <sup>8</sup> The voice of my beloved! lo, this — he is coming, Leaping on the mountains, skipping on the hills.
- <sup>9</sup> My beloved [is] like to a roe, Or to a young one of the harts. Lo, this — he is standing behind our wall, Looking from the windows, Blooming from the lattice.
- <sup>10</sup> My beloved hath answered and said to me, 'Rise up, my friend, my fair one, and come away,

<sup>12</sup> The flowers have appeared in the earth, The time of the singing hath come, And the voice of the turtle was heard in our land,

<sup>14</sup> My dove, in clefts of the rock, In a secret place of the ascent, Cause me to see thine appearance, Cause me to hear thy voice, For thy voice [is] sweet, and thy appearance comely.

<sup>16</sup> My beloved [is] mine, and I [am] his, Who is delighting among the lilies,

3

<sup>1</sup> On my couch by night, I sought him whom my soul hath loved; I sought him, and I found him not!

<sup>2</sup> — Pray, let me rise, and go round the city, In the streets and in the broad places, I seek him whom my soul hath loved! — I sought him, and I found him not.

<sup>3</sup> The watchmen have found me, (Who are going round about the city), 'Him whom my soul have loved saw ye?'

<sup>4</sup> But a little I passed on from them, Till I found him whom my soul hath loved! I seized him, and let him not go, Till I brought him in unto the house of my mother — And the chamber of her that conceived me.

<sup>5</sup> I have adjured you, daughters of Jerusalem, By the roes or by the hinds of the field, Stir not up nor wake the love till she please!

<sup>6</sup> Till the day doth break forth, And the shadows have fled away, I will get me unto the mountain of myrrh, And unto the hill of frankincense.

<sup>10</sup> How wonderful have been thy loves, my sister-spouse, How much better have been thy loves than wine, And the fragrance of thy perfumes than all spices.

<sup>16</sup> Awake, O north wind, and come, O south, Cause my garden to breathe forth, its spices let flow, Let my beloved come to his garden, And eat its pleasant fruits!

5

<sup>1</sup> I have come in to my garden, my sister-spouse, I have plucked my myrrh with my spice, I have eaten my comb with my honey, I have drunk my wine with my milk. Eat, O friends, drink, Yea, drink abundantly, O beloved ones!

<sup>2</sup> I am sleeping, but my heart waketh: The sound of my beloved knocking! 'Open to me, my sister, my friend, My dove, my perfect one, For my head is filled [with] dew, My locks [with] drops of the night.'

<sup>3</sup> I have put off my coat, how do I put it on? I have washed my feet, how do I defile them?

<sup>4</sup> My beloved sent his hand from the net-work, And my bowels were moved for him.

<sup>5</sup> I rose to open to my beloved, And my hands dropped myrrh, Yea, my fingers flowing myrrh, On the handles of the lock.

<sup>6</sup> I opened to my beloved, But my beloved withdrew — he passed on, My soul went forth when he spake, I sought him, and found him not. I called him, and he answered me not.

<sup>7</sup> The watchmen who go round about the city, Found me, smote me, wounded me, Keepers of the walls lifted up my veil from off me.

<sup>8</sup> I have adjured you, daughters of Jerusalem, If ye find my beloved — What do ye tell him? that I [am] sick with love!

<sup>16</sup> His mouth is sweetness — and all of him desirable, This [is] my beloved, and this my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem!

<sup>2</sup> My beloved went down to his garden, To the beds of the spice, To delight himself in the gardens, and to gather lilies.
<sup>3</sup> I [am] my beloved's, and my beloved [is] mine, Who is delighting himself among the lilies.
<sup>4</sup> Fair [art] thou, my friend, as Tirzah, Comely as Jerusalem, Awe-inspiring as bannered hosts.
<sup>5</sup> Turn round thine eyes from before me, Because they have made me proud. Thy hair [is] as a row of the goats, That have shone from Gilead,
<sup>10</sup> 'Who [is] this that is looking forth as morning, Fair as the moon — clear as the sun, Awe-inspiring as bannered hosts?'
<sup>11</sup> Unto a garden of nuts I went down, To look on the buds of the valley, To see whither the vine had flourished, The pomegranates had blossomed —
<sup>12</sup> I knew not my soul, It made me — chariots of my people Nadib.

<sup>2</sup> Thy waist [is] a basin of roundness, It lacketh not the mixture, Thy body a heap of wheat, fenced with lilies,
<sup>3</sup> Thy two breasts as two young ones, twins of a roe,

<sup>8</sup> I said, 'Let me go up on the palm, Let me lay hold on its boughs, Yea, let thy breasts be, I pray thee, as clusters of the vine, And the fragrance of thy face as citrons, <sup>9</sup> And thy palate as the good wine — 'Flowing to my beloved in uprightness, Strengthening the lips of the aged!

<sup>12</sup> We lodge in the villages, we go early to the vineyards, We see if the vine hath flourished, The sweet smelling-flower hath opened. The pomegranates have blossomed, There do I give to thee my loves;

<sup>13</sup> The mandrakes have given fragrance, And at our openings all pleasant things, New, yea, old, my beloved, I laid up for thee!

8

<sup>1</sup> Who doth make thee as a brother to me, Sucking the breasts of my mother? I find thee without, I kiss thee, Yea, they do not despise me,

<sup>2</sup> I lead thee, I bring thee in unto my mother's house, She doth teach me, I cause thee to drink of the perfumed wine, Of the juice of my pomegranate,

<sup>4</sup> I have adjured you, daughters of Jerusalem, How ye stir up, And how ye wake the love till she please!

<sup>5</sup> Who [is] this coming from the wilderness, Hasting herself for her beloved? Under the citron-tree I have waked thee, There did thy mother pledge thee, There she gave a pledge [that] bare thee.

<sup>6</sup> Set me as a seal on thy heart, as a seal on thine arm, For strong as death is love, Sharp as Sheol is jealousy, Its burnings [are] burnings of fire, a flame of Jah!

<sup>8</sup> We have a little sister, and breasts she hath not, What do we do for our sister, In the day that it is told of her?

<sup>9</sup> If she is a wall, we build by her a palace of silver. And if she is a door, We fashion by her board-work of cedar.

<sup>10</sup> I [am] a wall, and my breasts as towers, Then I have been in his eyes as one finding peace.

<sup>12</sup> My vineyard — my own — is before me, The thousand [is] for thee, O Solomon. And the two hundred for those keeping its fruit. O dweller in gardens!

<sup>13</sup> The companions are attending to thy voice, Cause me to hear. Flee, my beloved, and be like to a roe,

The Book of the Prophet Isaiah

<sup>8</sup> And left hath been the daughter of Zion, As a booth in a vineyard, As a lodge in a place of cucumbers — as a city besieged.

<sup>10</sup> Hear the word of Jehovah, ye rulers of Sodom, Give ear to the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah,

<sup>11</sup> 'Why to Me the abundance of your sacrifices? saith Jehovah, I have been satiated [with] burnt-offerings of rams, And fat of fatlings; And blood of bullocks, and lambs, And he-goats I have not desired.

<sup>12</sup> When ye come in to appear before Me, Who hath required this of your hand, To trample My courts?

<sup>13</sup> Add not to bring in a vain present, Incense — an abomination it [is] to Me, New moon, and sabbath, calling of convocation! Rendure not iniquity — and a restraint!

<sup>14</sup> Your new moons and your set seasons hath My soul hated, They have been upon me for a burden, I have been weary of bearing.

<sup>15</sup> And in your spreading forth your hands, I hide mine eyes from you, Also when ye increase prayer, I do not hear, Your hands of blood have been full.

<sup>18</sup> Come, I pray you, and we reason, saith Jehovah, If your sins are as scarlet, as snow they shall be white, If they are red as crimson, as wool they shall be!

<sup>24</sup> Therefore — the affirmation of the Lord — Jehovah of Hosts, the Mighty One of Israel: Ah, I am eased of Mine adversaries, And I am avenged of Mine enemies,

<sup>25</sup> And I turn back My hand upon thee, And I refine as purity thy dross, And I turn aside all thy tin,

<sup>30</sup> For ye are as an oak whose leaf is fading, And as a garden that hath no water.

<sup>31</sup> And the strong hath been for tow, And his work for a spark, And burned have both of them together, And there is none quenching!

<sup>3</sup> And gone have many peoples and said, 'Come, and we go up unto the mount of Jehovah, Unto the house of the God of Jacob, And He doth teach us of His ways, And we walk in His paths, For from Zion goeth forth a law, And a word of Jehovah from Jerusalem.

<sup>4</sup> And He hath judged between the nations, And hath given a decision to many peoples, And they have beat their swords to ploughshares, And their spears to pruning-hooks, Nation doth not lift up sword unto nation, Nor do they learn any more — war.

<sup>7</sup> And its land is full of silver and gold, And there is no end to its treasures, And its land is full of horses, And there is no end to its chariots,

<sup>8</sup> And its land is full of idols, To the work of its hands it boweth itself, To that which its fingers have made,

<sup>9</sup> And the low boweth down, and the high is humbled, And Thou acceptest them not.

<sup>11</sup> The haughty eyes of man have been humbled, And bowed down hath been the loftiness of men, And set on high hath Jehovah alone been in that day.

<sup>12</sup> For a day [is] to Jehovah of Hosts, For every proud and high one, And for every lifted up and low one,

<sup>13</sup> And for all cedars of Lebanon, The high and the exalted ones, And for all oaks of Bashan,

<sup>19</sup> And [men] have entered into caverns of rocks, And into caves of dust, Because of the fear of Jehovah, And because of the honour of His excellency, In His rising to terrify the earth.

<sup>20</sup> In that day doth man cast his idols of silver, And his idols of gold, That they have made for him to worship, To moles, and to bats,

<sup>21</sup> To enter into cavities of the rocks, And into clefts of the high places, Because of the fear of Jehovah, And because of the honour of His excellency, In His rising to terrify the earth.

<sup>22</sup> Cease for you from man, Whose breath [is] in his nostrils, For — in what is he esteemed?

3

<sup>7</sup> He lifteth up, in that day, saying: 'I am not a binder up, And in my house is neither bread nor garment, Ye do not make me a ruler of the people.'

<sup>9</sup> The appearance of their faces witnessed against them, And their sin, as Sodom, they declared, They have not hidden! Woe to their soul, For they have done to themselves evil.

<sup>10</sup> Say ye to the righteous, that [it is] good, Because the fruit of their doings they eat.

<sup>12</sup> My people — its exactors [are] sucklings, And women have ruled over it. My people — thy eulogists are causing to err, And the way of thy paths swallowed up.

<sup>13</sup> Jehovah hath stood up to plead, And He is standing to judge the peoples.

<sup>19</sup> Of the drops, and the bracelets, and the mufflers,

<sup>20</sup> Of the bonnets, and the ornaments of the legs, And of the bands, And of the perfume boxes, and the amulets,

<sup>23</sup> Of the mirrors, and of the linen garments, And of the hoods, and of the veils,

<sup>24</sup> And it hath been, instead of spice is muck, And instead of a girdle, a rope, And instead of curled work, baldness, And instead of a stomacher a girdle of sackcloth.

4

<sup>1</sup> And taken hold have seven women on one man, In that day, saying, 'Our own bread we do eat, And our own raiment we put on, Only, let thy name be called over us, Remove thou our reproach.'

<sup>2</sup> In that day is the Shoot of Jehovah for desire and for honour, And the fruit of the earth For excellence and for beauty to the escaped of Israel.

<sup>3</sup> And it hath been, he who is left in Zion, And he who is remaining in Jerusalem, 'Holy' is said of him, Of every one who is written for life in Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup> Then hath Jehovah prepared Over every fixed place of Mount Zion, And over her convocations, A cloud by day, and smoke, And the shining of a flaming fire by night, That, over all honour a safe-guard, <sup>6</sup> And a covering may be, For a shadow by day from drought, And for a refuge, and for a hiding place, From inundation and from rain!

5

<sup>1</sup> Let me sing, I pray you, for my beloved, A song of my beloved as to his vineyard: My beloved hath a vineyard in a fruitful hill,

<sup>2</sup> And he fenceth it, and casteth out its stones, And planteth it [with] a choice vine, And buildeth a tower in its midst, And also a wine press hath hewn out in it, And he waiteth for the yielding of grapes, And it yieldeth bad ones!

<sup>3</sup> And now, O inhabitant of Jerusalem, and man of Judah, Judge, I pray you, between me and my vineyard.

<sup>4</sup> What — to do still to my vineyard, That I have not done in it! Wherefore, I waited to the yielding of grapes, And it yieldeth bad ones!

<sup>5</sup> And now, pray, let me cause you to know, That which I am doing to my vineyard, To turn aside its hedge, And it hath been for consumption, To break down its wall, And it hath been for a treading-place.

<sup>6</sup> And I make it a waste, It is not pruned, nor arranged, And gone up have brier and thorn, And on the thick clouds I lay a charge, From raining upon it rain.

<sup>7</sup> Because the vineyard of Jehovah of Hosts [Is] the house of Israel, And the man of Judah His pleasant plant, And He waiteth for judgment, and lo, oppression, For righteousness, and lo, a cry.

<sup>8</sup> Woe [to] those joining house to house, Field to field they bring near, till there is no place, And ye have been settled by yourselves In the midst of the land!

<sup>12</sup> And harp, and psaltery, tabret, and pipe, And wine, have been their banquets, And the work of Jehovah they behold not, Yea, the work of His hands they have not seen.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore my people removed without knowledge, And its honourable ones are famished, And its multitude dried up of thirst.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore hath Sheol enlarged herself, And hath opened her mouth without limit. And gone down hath its honour, and its multitude, And its noise, and its exulting one — into her.

<sup>15</sup> And bowed down is the low, and humbled the high, And the eyes of the haughty become low,

<sup>16</sup> And Jehovah of Hosts is high in judgment, And the Holy God sanctified in righteousness,

<sup>17</sup> And fed have lambs according to their leading, And waste places of the fat ones Do sojourners consume.

<sup>18</sup> Woe [to] those drawing out iniquity with cords of vanity, And as [with] thick ropes of the cart — sin.

<sup>19</sup> Who are saying, 'Let Him hurry, Let Him hasten His work, that we may see, And let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel Draw near and come, and we know.'

<sup>24</sup> Therefore, as a tongue of fire devoureth stubble, And flaming hay falleth, Their root is as muck, And their flower as dust goeth up. Because they have rejected the law of Jehovah of Hosts, And the saying of the Holy One of Israel despised.

<sup>25</sup> Therefore hath the anger of Jehovah burned among His people, And He stretcheth out His hand against it, And smiteth it, and the mountains tremble,

And their carcase is as filth in the midst of the out-places. With all this His anger did not turn back, And still His hand is stretched out!

<sup>26</sup> And He lifted up an ensign to nations afar off, And hissed to it from the end of the earth, And lo, with haste, swift it cometh.

<sup>27</sup> There is none weary, nor stumbling in it, It doth not slumber, nor sleep, Nor opened hath been the girdle of its loins, Nor drawn away the latchet of its sandals.

<sup>28</sup> Whose arrows [are] sharp, and all its bows bent, Hoofs of its horses as flint have been reckoned, And its wheels as a hurricane!

<sup>29</sup> Its roaring [is] like a lioness, It roareth like young lions, And it howleth, and seizeth prey, And carrieth away safely, and there is none delivering.

<sup>30</sup> And it howleth against it in that day as the howling of a sea, And it hath looked attentively to the land, And lo, darkness — distress, And light hath been darkened by its abundance!

6

<sup>1</sup> In the year of the death of king Uzziah — I see the Lord, sitting on a throne, high and lifted up, and His train is filling the temple.

<sup>3</sup> And this one hath called unto that, and hath said: 'Holy, Holy, Holy, [is] Jehovah of Hosts, The fulness of all the earth [is] His glory.'

<sup>4</sup> And the posts of the thresholds are moved by the voice of him who is calling, and the house is full of smoke.

<sup>5</sup> And I say, 'Woe to me, for I have been silent, For a man — unclean of lips [am] I, And in midst of a people unclean of lips I am dwelling, Because the King, Jehovah of Hosts, have my eyes seen.'

<sup>6</sup> And flee unto me doth one of the seraphs, and in his hand a burning coal, (with tongs he hath taken [it] from off the altar,)

<sup>7</sup> and he striketh against my mouth, and saith: 'Lo, this hath stricken against thy lips, And turned aside is thine iniquity, And thy sin is covered.'

<sup>8</sup> And I hear the voice of the Lord, saying: 'Whom do I send? and who doth go for Us?' And I say, 'Here [am] I, send me.'

<sup>9</sup> And He saith, 'Go, and thou hast said to this people, Hear ye — to hear, and ye do not understand, And see ye — to see, and ye do not know.'

<sup>10</sup> Declare fat the heart of this people, And its ears declare heavy, And its eyes declare dazzled, Lest it see with its eyes, And with its ears hear, and its heart consider, And it hath turned back, and hath health.'

<sup>11</sup> And I say, 'Till when, O Lord?' And He saith, 'Surely till cities have been wasted without inhabitant, And houses without man, And the ground be wasted — a desolation, <sup>12</sup> And Jehovah hath put man far off, And great [is] the forsaken part in the heart of the land.

<sup>13</sup> And yet in it a tenth, and it hath turned, And hath been for a burning, As a teil-tree, and as an oak, that in falling, Have substance in them, The holy seed [is] its substance!'

7

<sup>2</sup> And it is declared to the house of David, saying, 'Aram hath been led towards Ephraim,' And his heart and the heart of his people is moved, like the moving of trees of a forest by the presence of wind.

<sup>3</sup> And Jehovah saith unto Isaiah, 'Go forth, I pray thee, to meet Ahaz, thou, and Shear-Jashub thy son, unto the end of the conduit of the upper pool, unto the highway of the fuller's field, <sup>4</sup> and thou hast said unto him: 'Take heed, and be quiet, fear not, And let not thy heart be timid, Because of these two tails of smoking brands, For the fierceness of the anger of Rezin and Aram, And the son of Remaliah.

<sup>5</sup> Because that Aram counselled against thee evil, Ephraim and the son of Remaliah, saying:

<sup>6</sup> We go up into Judah, and we vex it, And we rend it unto ourselves, And we cause a king to reign in its midst — The son of Tabeal.

<sup>8</sup> For the head of Aram [is] Damascus, And the head of Damascus [is] Rezin, And within sixty and five years Is Ephraim broken from [being] a people.

<sup>11</sup> 'Ask for thee a sign from Jehovah thy God, Make deep the request, or make [it] high upwards.'

<sup>13</sup> And he saith, 'Hear, I pray you, O house of David, Is it a little thing for you to weary men, That ye weary also my God?

<sup>14</sup> Therefore the Lord Himself giveth to you a sign, Lo, the Virgin is conceiving, And is bringing forth a son, And hath called his name Immanuel, <sup>15</sup> Butter and honey he doth eat, When he knoweth to refuse evil, and to fix on good.

<sup>16</sup> For before the youth doth know To refuse evil, and to fix on good, Forsaken is the land thou art vexed with, because of her two kings.

<sup>17</sup> Jehovah bringeth on thee, and on thy people, And on the house of thy father, Days that have not come, Even from the day of the turning aside of Ephraim from Judah, By the king of Asshur.

<sup>18</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, Jehovah doth hiss for a fly that [is] in the extremity of the brooks of Egypt, And for a bee that [is] in the land of Asshur.

<sup>19</sup> And they have come, and rested all of them in the desolate valleys, And in holes of the rocks, and on all the thorns, And on all the commendable things.

<sup>20</sup> In that day doth the Lord shave, By a razor that is hired beyond the river, By the king of Asshur, The head, and the hair of the feet, Yea, also the beard it consumeth.

<sup>21</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, A man keepeth alive a heifer of the herd, And two of the flock,

<sup>22</sup> And it hath come to pass, From the abundance of the yielding of milk he eateth butter, For butter and honey doth every one eat Who is left in the heart of the land.

<sup>23</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, Every place where there are a thousand vines, At a thousand silverlings, Is for briers and for thorns.

And for the treading of sheep!'

8

<sup>1</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me, 'Take to thee a great tablet, and write upon it with a graving tool of man, To haste spoil, enjoy prey.'

<sup>2</sup> And I cause faithful witnesses to testify to me, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah son of Jeberechiah.

<sup>3</sup> And I draw near unto the prophetess, and she conceiveth, and beareth a son; and Jehovah saith unto me, 'Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz,

<sup>4</sup> for before the youth doth know to cry, My father, and My mother, one taketh away the wealth of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria, before the king of Asshur.'

<sup>5</sup> And Jehovah addeth to speak unto me again, saying:

<sup>6</sup> 'Because that this people hath refused The waters of Shiloah that go softly, And is rejoicing with Rezin and the son of Remaliah,

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, lo, the Lord is bringing up on them, The waters of the river, the mighty and the great, (The king of Asshur, and all his glory,) And it hath gone up over all its streams, And hath gone on over all its banks.

<sup>8</sup> And it hath passed on into Judah, It hath overflowed and passed over, Unto the neck it cometh, And the stretching out of its wings Hath been the fulness of the breadth of thy land, O Emmanu-El!

<sup>10</sup> Take counsel, and it is broken, Speak a word, and it doth not stand, Because of Emmanu-El!

<sup>11</sup> For thus hath Jehovah spoken unto me with strength of hand, and instructeth me against walking in the way of this people, saying,

<sup>13</sup> Jehovah of Hosts — Him ye do sanctify, And He [is] your Fear, and He your Dread, <sup>14</sup> And He hath been for a sanctuary, And for a stone of stumbling, and for a rock of falling, To the two houses of Israel, For a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

<sup>15</sup> And many among them have stumbled and fallen, And been broken, and snared, and captured.

<sup>17</sup> And I have waited for Jehovah, Who is hiding His face from the house of Jacob, And I have looked for Him.

<sup>18</sup> Lo, I, and the children whom Jehovah hath given to me, [Are] for signs and for wonders in Israel, From Jehovah of Hosts, who is dwelling in Mount Zion.

<sup>19</sup> And when they say unto you, 'Seek unto those having familiar spirits, And unto wizards, who chatter and mutter, Doth not a people seek unto its God? — For the living unto the dead!

<sup>20</sup> To the law and to the testimony! If not, let them say after this manner, 'That there is no dawn to it.'

<sup>21</sup> — And it hath passed over into it, hardened and hungry, And it hath come to pass, That it is hungry, and hath been wroth, And made light of its king, and of its God, And hath looked upwards.

<sup>22</sup> And unto the land it looketh attentively, And lo, adversity and darkness! — Dimness, distress, and thick darkness is driven away, But not the dimness for which she is in distress!

9

<sup>2</sup> The people who are walking in darkness Have seen a great light, Dwellers in a land of death-shade, Light hath shone upon them.

<sup>5</sup> For every battle of a warrior [is] with rushing, and raiment rolled in blood, And it hath been for burning — fuel of fire.

<sup>6</sup> For a Child hath been born to us, A Son hath been given to us, And the princely power is on his shoulder, And He doth call his name Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, Father of Eternity, Prince of Peace.

<sup>7</sup> To the increase of the princely power, And of peace, there is no end, On the throne of David, and on his kingdom, To establish it, and to support it, In judgment and in righteousness, Henceforth, even unto the age, The zeal of Jehovah of Hosts doth this.

<sup>8</sup> A word hath the Lord sent into Jacob, And it hath fallen in Israel.

<sup>9</sup> And the people have known — all of it, Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, In pride and in greatness of heart, saying,

<sup>10</sup> 'Bricks have fallen, and hewn work we build, Sycamores have been cut down, and cedars we renew.'

<sup>13</sup> And the people hath not turned back unto Him who is smiting it, And Jehovah of Hosts they have not sought.

<sup>14</sup> And Jehovah cutteth off from Israel head and tail, Branch and reed — the same day, <sup>15</sup> Elder, and accepted of face, he [is] the head, Prophet, teacher of falsehood, he [is] the tail.

<sup>16</sup> And the eulogists of this people are causing to err, And its eulogised ones are consumed.

<sup>17</sup> Therefore, over its young men the Lord rejoiceth not, And its orphans, and its widows He pitieth not, For every one [is] profane, and an evil doer, And every mouth is speaking folly. With all this not turned back hath His anger, And still His hand is stretched out.

<sup>18</sup> For burned as a fire hath wickedness, Brier and thorn it devoureth, And it kindleth in thickets of the forest, And they lift themselves up, an exaltation of smoke!

10

<sup>6</sup> Against a profane nation I send him, And concerning a people of My wrath I charge him, To spoil spoil, and to seize prey, And to make it a treading-place as the clay of out places.

<sup>7</sup> And he — he thinketh not so, And his heart reckoneth not so, For — to destroy [is] in his heart, And to cut off nations not a few.

<sup>10</sup> As my hand hath got to the kingdoms of a worthless thing, and their graven images, [Greater] than Jerusalem and than Samaria, <sup>11</sup> Do I not — as I have done to Samaria, And to her worthless things, So do to Jerusalem and to her grievous things?

<sup>12</sup> And it hath come to pass, When the Lord doth fulfil all His work In mount Zion and in Jerusalem, I see concerning the fruit of the greatness Of the heart of the king of Asshur. And concerning the glory of the height of his eyes.

<sup>13</sup> For he hath said, 'By the power of my hand I have wrought, And by my wisdom, for I have been intelligent, And I remove borders of the peoples, And their chief ones I have spoiled, And I put down as a mighty one the inhabitants,

<sup>14</sup> And my hand as to a nest Getteth to the wealth of the peoples, And as a gathering of forsaken eggs All the earth I — I have gathered, And there hath not been one moving wing, Or opening mouth, or whispering.'

<sup>20</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, The remnant of Israel, And the escaped of the house of Jacob, Do not add any more to lean on its smiter, And have leant on Jehovah, The Holy One of Israel, in truth.

<sup>25</sup> For yet a very little, And the indignation hath been completed, And Mine anger by their wearing out.

<sup>27</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, Turned is his burden from off thy shoulder, And his yoke from off thy neck, And destroyed hath been the yoke, because of prosperity.

<sup>28</sup> He hath come in against Aiath, He hath passed over into Migron, At Michmash he looketh after his vessels.

<sup>33</sup> Lo, the Lord, Jehovah of Hosts, Is lopping a branch with violence, And the high of stature are cut down, And the lofty are become low,

11

<sup>2</sup> Rested on him hath the Spirit of Jehovah, The spirit of wisdom and understanding, The spirit of counsel and might, The spirit of knowledge and fear of Jehovah.

<sup>4</sup> And he hath judged in righteousness the poor, And decided in uprightness for the humble of earth, And hath smitten earth with the rod of his mouth, And with the breath of his lips he putteth the wicked to death.

<sup>8</sup> And played hath a suckling by the hole of an asp, And on the den of a cockatrice Hath the weaned one put his hand.

<sup>9</sup> Evil they do not, nor destroy in all My holy mountain, For full hath been the earth with the knowledge of Jehovah, As the waters are covering the sea.

<sup>10</sup> And there hath been, in that day, A root of Jesse that is standing for an ensign of peoples, Unto him do nations seek, And his rest hath been — honour!

<sup>11</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, The Lord addeth a second time his power, To get the remnant of His people that is left, From Asshur, and from Egypt, And from Pathros, and from Cush, And from Elam, and from Shinar, And from Hamath, and from isles of the sea,

<sup>12</sup> And He hath lifted up an ensign to nations, And gathereth the driven away of Israel, And the scattered of Judah He assembleth, From the four wings of the earth.

<sup>16</sup> And there hath been a highway, For the remnant of His people that is left, from Asshur, As there was for Israel in the day of his coming up out of the land of Egypt!

12

<sup>1</sup> And thou hast said in that day: 'I thank thee, O Jehovah, Though Thou hast been angry with me, Turn back doth Thine anger, And Thou dost comfort me.

<sup>2</sup> Lo, God [is] my salvation, I trust, and fear not, For my strength and song [is] Jah Jehovah, And He is to me for salvation.

<sup>3</sup> And ye have drawn waters with joy Out of the fountains of salvation,

<sup>4</sup> And ye have said in that day, Give ye praise to Jehovah, call in His name. Make known among the peoples His acts. Make mention that set on high is His name.

13

<sup>3</sup> I have given charge to My sanctified ones, Also I have called My mighty ones for Mine anger, Those rejoicing at Mine excellency.'

<sup>8</sup> And they have been troubled, Pains and pangs they take, As a travailing woman they are pained, A man at his friend they marvel, The appearance of flames — their faces!

<sup>9</sup> Lo, the day of Jehovah doth come, Fierce, with wrath, and heat of anger, To make the land become a desolation, Yea, its sinning ones He destroyeth from it.

<sup>11</sup> And I have appointed on the world evil, And on the wicked their iniquity, And have caused to cease the excellency of the proud, And the excellency of the terrible I make low.

<sup>12</sup> I make man more rare than fine gold, And a common man than pure gold of Ophir.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore the heavens I cause to tremble, And the earth doth shake from its place, In the wrath of Jehovah of Hosts, And in a day of the heat of his anger.

<sup>14</sup> And it hath been, as a roe driven away, And as a flock that hath no gatherer, Each unto his people — they turn, And each unto his land — they flee.

<sup>15</sup> Every one who is found is thrust through, And every one who is added falleth by sword.

<sup>18</sup> And bows dash young men to pieces, And the fruit of the womb they pity not, On sons their eye hath no pity.

<sup>20</sup> She doth not sit for ever, Nor continueth unto many generations, Nor doth Arab pitch tent there, And shepherds lie not down there.

<sup>21</sup> And Ziim have lain down there, And full have been their houses of howlings, And dwelt there have daughters of an ostrich, And goats do skip there.

<sup>22</sup> And Aiim have responded in his forsaken habitations, And dragons in palaces of delight, And near to come [is] her time, And her days are not drawn out!

14

<sup>1</sup> Because Jehovah loveth Jacob, And hath fixed again on Israel, And given them rest on their own land, And joined hath been the sojourner to them, And they have been admitted to the house of Jacob.

<sup>2</sup> And peoples have taken them, And have brought them in unto their place, And the house of Israel have inherited them, On the land of Jehovah, For men-servants and for maid-servants, And they have been captors of their captors, And have ruled over their exactors.

<sup>3</sup> And it hath come to pass, In the day of Jehovah's giving rest to thee, From thy grief, and from thy trouble, And from the sharp bondage, That hath been served upon thee,

<sup>4</sup> That thou hast taken up this simile Concerning the king of Babylon, and said, How hath the exactor ceased,

<sup>10</sup> All of them answer and say unto thee, Even thou hast become weak like us! Unto us thou hast become like!

<sup>12</sup> How hast thou fallen from the heavens, O shining one, son of the dawn! Thou hast been cut down to earth, O weakener of nations.

<sup>18</sup> All kings of nations — all of them, Have lain down in honour, each in his house,

<sup>19</sup> And — thou hast been cast out of thy grave, As an abominable branch, raiment of the slain, Thrust through ones of the sword, Going down unto the sons of the pit, As a carcase trodden down.

<sup>20</sup> Thou art not united with them in burial, For thy land thou hast destroyed, Thy people thou hast slain, Not named to the age is the seed of evil doers.

<sup>22</sup> And I have risen up against them, (The affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts,) And have cut off, in reference to Babylon, Name and remnant, and continuator and successor, The affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>26</sup> This [is] the counsel that is counselled for all the earth, And this [is] the hand that is stretched out for all the nations.

<sup>28</sup> In the year of the death of king Ahaz was this burden:

<sup>29</sup> Rejoice not thou, Philistia, all of thee, That broken hath been the rod of thy smiter, For from the root of a serpent cometh out a viper, And its fruit [is] a flying saraph.

<sup>30</sup> And delighted have the first-born of the poor, And the needy in confidence lie down, And I have put to death with famine thy root, And thy remnant it slayeth.

<sup>31</sup> Howl, O gate; cry, O city, Melted art thou, Philistia, all of thee, For from the north smoke hath come, And there is none alone in his set places.

<sup>32</sup> And what doth one answer the messengers of a nation? 'That Jehovah hath founded Zion, And in it do the poor of His people trust!'

15

<sup>3</sup> In its out-places they girded on sackcloth, On its pinnacles, and in its broad places, Every one howleth — going down with weeping.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore the abundance he made, and their store, Unto the brook of the willows they carry.

<sup>8</sup> For gone round hath the cry the border of Moab, Unto Eglaim [is] its howling, And to Beer-Elim [is] its howling.

<sup>9</sup> For the waters of Dimon have been full of blood, For I set on Dimon additions, For the escaped of Moab a lion, And for the remnant of Adamah!

16

<sup>7</sup> Therefore howl doth Moab for Moab, all of it doth howl, For the grape-cakes of Kir-Hareseth it meditateth, Surely they are smitten.

<sup>8</sup> Because fields of Heshbon languish, The vine of Sibmah, Lords of nations did beat her choice vines, Unto Jazer they have come, They have wandered in a wilderness, Her plants have spread themselves, They have passed over a sea.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore I weep with the weeping of Jazer, The vine of Sibmah, I water thee [with] my tear, O Heshbon and Elealeh, For — for thy summer fruits, and for thy harvest, The shouting hath fallen.

<sup>12</sup> And it hath come to pass, when it hath been seen, That weary hath been Moab on the high place, And he hath come unto his sanctuary to pray, And is not able.

<sup>14</sup> And now hath Jehovah spoken, saying, 'In three years, as years of an hireling, Lightly esteemed is the honour of Moab, With all the great multitude, And the remnant [is] little, small, not mighty!'

17

<sup>2</sup> Forsaken are the cities of Aroer, For droves they are, and they have lain down, And there is none troubling.

<sup>4</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, Wax poor doth the honour of Jacob, And the fatness of his flesh doth wax lean.

<sup>5</sup> And it hath come to pass, As the gathering by the reaper of the standing corn, And his arm the ears reapeth, And it hath come to pass, As the gathering of the ears in the valley of Rephaim,

<sup>6</sup> And left in him have been gleanings, As the compassing of an olive, Two — three berries on the top of a branch, Four — five on the fruitful boughs, The affirmation of Jehovah, God of Israel!

<sup>8</sup> And he looketh not unto the altars. The work of his own hands, And that which his own fingers made He seeth not — the shrines and the images.

<sup>9</sup> In that day are the cities of his strength As the forsaken thing of the forest, And the branch that they have left, Because of the sons of Israel, It also hath been a desolation.

<sup>10</sup> Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, And the rock of thy strength hast not remembered, Therefore thou plantest plants of pleasantness, And with a strange slip sowest it,

<sup>12</sup> Woe [to] the multitude of many peoples, As the sounding of seas they sound; And [to] the wasting of nations, As the wasting of mighty waters they are wasted.

<sup>14</sup> At even-time, lo, terror, before morning it is not, This [is] the portion of our spoilers, And the lot of our plunderers!

<sup>4</sup> For thus said Jehovah unto me, 'I rest, and I look on My settled place, As a clear heat on an herb. As a thick cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.

<sup>5</sup> For before harvest, when the flower is perfect, And the blossom is producing unripe fruit, Then hath [one] cut the sprigs with pruning hooks, And the branches he hath turned aside, cut down.

<sup>7</sup> At that time brought is a present to Jehovah of Hosts, A nation drawn out and peeled. Even of a people fearful from the beginning hitherto, A nation meting out by line, and treading down, Whose land floods have spoiled, Unto the place of the name of Jehovah of Hosts — mount Zion!

19

<sup>3</sup> And emptied out hath been in its midst the spirit of Egypt. And its counsel I swallow up, And they have sought unto the idols, And unto the charmers, And unto those having familiar spirits, And unto the wizards.

<sup>5</sup> And failed have waters from the sea, And a river is wasted and dried up.

<sup>6</sup> And they have turned away the flowings, Weak and dried up have been brooks of the bulwark, Reed and flag have withered.

<sup>8</sup> And lamented have the fishers, And mourned have all casting angle into a brook, And those spreading nets on the face of the waters have languished.

<sup>13</sup> Foolish have been princes of Zoan, Lifted up have been princes of Noph, And they have caused Egypt to err, The chief of her tribes.

<sup>14</sup> Jehovah hath mingled in her midst A spirit of perverseness, And they have caused Egypt to err in all its work, As a drunkard erreth in his vomit.

<sup>15</sup> And there is no work to Egypt, That head or tail, branch or reed, may do.

<sup>16</sup> In that day is Egypt like women, And it hath mourned, and been afraid, Because of the waving of the hand of Jehovah of Hosts, That He is waving over it.

<sup>17</sup> And the land of Judah hath been to Egypt for a cause of staggering, Every one who doth mention it, for himself feareth, Because of the counsel of Jehovah of Hosts, That He is counselling against it.

<sup>18</sup> In that day there are five cities in the land of Egypt, Speaking the lip of Canaan, And swearing to Jehovah of Hosts, 'The city of destruction,' is said of one.

<sup>19</sup> In that day there is an altar to Jehovah In the midst of the land of Egypt, And a standing pillar near its border to Jehovah, <sup>20</sup> And it hath been for a sign and for a testimony, To Jehovah of Hosts in the land of Egypt, For they cry unto Jehovah from the face of oppressors, And He sendeth to them a saviour, Even a great one, and hath delivered them.

<sup>21</sup> And known hath been Jehovah to Egypt, And the Egyptians have known Jehovah in that day, And done sacrifice and present, And vowed a vow to Jehovah, and completed [it].

<sup>22</sup> And Jehovah hath smitten Egypt, smiting and healing, And they have turned back unto Jehovah, And He hath been entreated of them, And hath healed them.

<sup>23</sup> In that day is a highway out of Egypt to Asshur, And come in have the Assyrians to Egypt, And the Egyptians into Asshur, And the Egyptians have served with the Assyrians.

<sup>24</sup> In that day is Israel third, After Egypt, and after Asshur, A blessing in the heart of the earth.

<sup>25</sup> In that Jehovah of Hosts did bless it, saying, 'Blessed [is] My people — Egypt, And the work of My hands — Asshur, And Mine inheritance — Israel!'

20

<sup>3</sup> And Jehovah saith, 'As My servant Isaiah hath gone naked and barefoot three years, a sign and a wonder for Egypt and for Cush,

<sup>4</sup> so doth the king of Asshur lead the captivity of Egypt, and the removal of Cush, young and old, naked and barefoot, with seat uncovered — the nakedness of Egypt;

<sup>5</sup> and they have been affrighted and ashamed of Cush their confidence, and of Egypt their beauty,

<sup>6</sup> and the inhabitant of this isle hath said in that day — Lo, thus [is] our trust, Whither we have fled for help, To be delivered from the king of Asshur, And how do we escape — we?’

21

<sup>3</sup> Therefore filled have been my loins [with] great pain, Pangs have seized me as pangs of a travailing woman, I have been bent down by hearing, I have been troubled by seeing.

<sup>4</sup> Wandered hath my heart, trembling hath terrified me, The twilight of my desire He hath made a fear to me,

<sup>6</sup> For thus said the Lord unto me: 'Go, station the watchman, That which he seeth let him declare.'

<sup>8</sup> And he crieth — a lion, 'On a watch-tower my lord, I am standing continually by day, And on my ward I am stationed whole nights.

<sup>9</sup> And lo, this, the chariot of a man is coming, A couple of horsemen.' And he answereth and saith: 'Fallen, fallen hath Babylon, And all the graven images of her gods He hath broken to the earth.

<sup>10</sup> O my threshing, and the son of my floor, That which I heard from Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, I have declared to you!

<sup>12</sup> The watchman hath said, 'Come hath morning, and also night, If ye inquire, inquire ye, turn back, come.'

<sup>14</sup> To meet the thirsty brought water have Inhabitants of the land of Tema, With his bread they came before a fugitive.

<sup>16</sup> For thus said the Lord unto me: 'Within a year, as years of a hireling, Consumed hath been all the honour of Kedar.

<sup>17</sup> And the remnant of the number of bow-men, The mighty of the sons of Kedar are few, For Jehovah, God of Israel, hath spoken!'

22

<sup>3</sup> All thy rulers fled together from the bow, Bound have been all found of thee, They have been kept bound together, Afar off they have fled.

<sup>4</sup> Therefore I said, 'Look ye from me, I am bitter in my weeping, Haste not to comfort me, For the destruction of the daughter of my people.'

<sup>7</sup> And it cometh to pass, The choice of thy valleys have been full of chariots, And the horsemen place themselves diligently at the gate.

<sup>8</sup> And one removeth the covering of Judah, And thou lookest in that day Unto the armour of the house of the forest,

<sup>10</sup> And the houses of Jerusalem ye did number, And ye break down the houses to fence the wall.

<sup>11</sup> And a ditch ye made between the two walls, For the waters of the old pool, And ye have not looked unto its Maker, And its Framers of old ye have not seen.

<sup>12</sup> And call doth the Lord, Jehovah of Hosts, In that day, to weeping and to lamentation, And to baldness and to girding on of sackcloth,

<sup>14</sup> And revealed it hath been in mine ears, [By] Jehovah of Hosts: Not pardoned is this iniquity to you, Till ye die, said the Lord, Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>15</sup> Thus said the Lord, Jehovah of Hosts: 'Go, enter in unto this steward, Unto Shebna, who [is] over the house:

<sup>17</sup> Lo, Jehovah is casting thee up and down, A casting up and down, O mighty one,

<sup>20</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, That I have called to my servant, To Eliakim son of Hilkiyah.

<sup>21</sup> And I have clothed him with thy coat, And with thy girdle I strengthen him, And thy garment I give into his hand, And he hath been for a father to the inhabitant of Jerusalem, And to the house of Judah.

<sup>22</sup> And I have placed the key Of the house of David on his shoulder, And he hath opened, and none is shutting, And hath shut, and none is opening.

<sup>24</sup> And they have hanged on him All the honour of the house of his father, The offspring and the issue, All vessels of small quality, From vessels of basins to all vessels of flagons.

<sup>25</sup> In that day — an affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, Moved is the nail that is fixed In a stedfast place, Yea, it hath been cut down, and hath fallen, And cut off hath been the burden that [is] on it, For Jehovah hath spoken!

23

revealed to them.

<sup>4</sup> Be ashamed, O Zidon; for the sea spake, The strength of the sea, saying: 'I have not been pained, nor have I brought forth, Nor have I nourished young men, [nor] brought up virgins.'

<sup>11</sup> His hand He hath stretched out over the sea, He hath caused kingdoms to tremble, Jehovah hath charged concerning the merchant one, To destroy her strong places.

<sup>12</sup> And He saith, 'Thou dost not add any more to exult, O oppressed one, virgin daughter of Zidon, To Chittim arise, pass over, Even there — there is no rest for thee.'

<sup>15</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, That forgotten is Tyre seventy years, According to the days of one king. At the end of seventy years there is to Tyre as the song of the harlot.

<sup>17</sup> And it hath come to pass, At the end of seventy years Jehovah inspecteth Tyre, And she hath repented of her gift, That she committed fornication With all kingdoms of the earth on the face of the ground.

<sup>18</sup> And her merchandise and her gift have been holy to Jehovah, Not treasured up nor stored, For to those sitting before Jehovah is her merchandise, To eat to satiety, and for a lasting covering!

24

<sup>1</sup> Lo, Jehovah is emptying the land, And is making it waste, And hath overturned [it on] its face, And hath scattered its inhabitants.

<sup>2</sup> And it hath been — as a people so a priest, As the servant so his master, As the maid-servant so her mistress, As the buyer so the seller, As the lender so the borrower, As the usurer so he who is lifting [it] on himself.

<sup>4</sup> Mourned, faded hath the land, Languished, faded hath the world, Languished have they — the high place of the people of the land.

<sup>5</sup> And the land hath been defiled under its inhabitants, Because they have transgressed laws, They have changed a statute, They have made void a covenant age-during.

<sup>14</sup> They — they lift up their voice, They sing of the excellency of Jehovah, They have cried aloud from the sea.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore in prosperity honour ye Jehovah, In isles of the sea, the name of Jehovah, God of Israel.

<sup>16</sup> From the skirt of the earth we heard songs, The desire of the righteous. And I say, 'Leanness [is] to me, Leanness [is] to me, woe [is] to me.' Treacherous dealers dealt treacherously, Yea, treachery, treacherous dealers dealt treacherously.

<sup>18</sup> And it hath come to pass, He who is fleeing from the noise of the fear Doth fall into the snare, And he who is coming up from the midst of the snare, Is captured by the gin, For windows on high have been opened, And shaken are foundations of the land.

<sup>19</sup> Utterly broken down hath been the land, Utterly broken hath been the land, Utterly moved hath been the land.

<sup>20</sup> Stagger greatly doth the land as a drunkard, And it hath been moved as a lodge, And heavy on it hath been its transgression, And it hath fallen, and addeth not to rise.

<sup>21</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, Jehovah layeth a charge on the host of the high place in the high place, And on the kings of the land on the land.

<sup>22</sup> And they have been gathered — A gathering of bound ones in a pit, And shut up they have been in a prison, And after a multitude of days are inspected.

<sup>23</sup> And confounded hath been the moon, And ashamed hath been the sun, For reigned hath Jehovah of Hosts In mount Zion, and in Jerusalem, And over-against His elders — honour!

25

<sup>7</sup> And swallowed up hath He in this mountain The face of the wrapping that is wrapped over all the peoples, And of the covering that is spread over all the nations.

<sup>8</sup> He hath swallowed up death in victory, And wiped hath the Lord Jehovah, The tear from off all faces, And the reproach of His people He turneth aside from off all the earth, For Jehovah hath spoken.

<sup>9</sup> And [one] hath said in that day, 'Lo, this [is] our God, We waited for Him, and He saveth us, This [is] Jehovah, we have waited for Him, We joy and rejoice in His salvation.'

<sup>11</sup> And he spread out his hands in its midst, As spread out doth the swimmer to swim; And He hath humbled his excellency With the machinations of his hands.

<sup>12</sup> And the fortress of the high place of thy walls He hath bowed down — He hath made low, He hath caused [it] to come to the earth, — unto dust.

26

<sup>5</sup> For He bowed down the dwellers on high, A city set on high He maketh low, He maketh it low unto the earth, He causeth it to come unto the dust,

<sup>8</sup> Also, [in] the path of Thy judgments, O Jehovah, we have waited [for] Thee, To Thy name and to Thy remembrance [Is] the desire of the soul.

<sup>9</sup> [With] my soul I desired Thee in the night, Also, [with] my spirit within me I seek Thee earnestly, For when Thy judgments [are] on the earth, The inhabitants of the world have learned righteousness.

<sup>11</sup> O Jehovah, high [is] Thy hand — they see not, They see the zeal of the people, and are ashamed, Also, the fire — Thine adversaries, consumeth them.

<sup>12</sup> O Jehovah, Thou appointest peace to us, For, all our works also Thou hast wrought for us.

<sup>13</sup> O Jehovah our God, lords have ruled us besides Thee, Only, by Thee we make mention of Thy name.

<sup>17</sup> When a pregnant woman cometh near to the birth, She is pained — she crieth in her pangs, So we have been from Thy face, O Jehovah.

<sup>18</sup> We have conceived, we have been pained. We have brought forth as it were wind, Salvation we do not work in the earth, Nor do the inhabitants of the world fall.

<sup>20</sup> Come, My people, enter into thy inner chambers, And shut thy doors behind thee, Hide thyself shortly a moment till the indignation pass over.

<sup>21</sup> For, lo, Jehovah is coming out of His place, To charge the iniquity of the inhabitant of the earth upon him, And revealed hath the earth her blood, Nor doth she cover any more her slain!"

27

<sup>4</sup> Fury is not in Me; Who giveth Me a brier — a thorn in battle? I step into it, I burn it at once.

<sup>5</sup> Or — he doth take hold on My strength, He doth make peace with Me, Peace he doth make with Me.

<sup>7</sup> As the smiting of his smiter hath He smitten him? As the slaying of his slain doth He slay?

<sup>10</sup> For the fenced city [is] alone, A habitation cast out and forsaken as a wilderness, There doth the calf delight, And there it lieth down, And hath consumed its branches.

<sup>11</sup> In the withering of its branch it is broken off, Women are coming in setting it on fire, For it [is] not a people of understanding, Therefore pity it not doth its Maker, And its Former doth not favour it.

<sup>12</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, Beat out doth Jehovah from the branch of the river, Unto the stream of Egypt, And ye are gathered one by one, O sons of Israel.

<sup>13</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, It is blown with a great trumpet, And come in have those perishing in the land of Asshur, And those cast out in the land of Egypt, And have bowed themselves to Jehovah, In the holy mount — in Jerusalem!

28

<sup>4</sup> And the fading flower of the beauty of his glory That [is] on the head of the fat valley, Hath been as its first-fruit before summer, That its beholder seeth, While it [is] yet in his hand he swalloweth it.

<sup>5</sup> In that day is Jehovah of Hosts For a crown of beauty, and for a diadem of glory, To the remnant of His people.

<sup>6</sup> And for a spirit of judgment To him who is sitting in the judgment, And for might [to] those turning back the battle to the gate.

<sup>7</sup> And even these through wine have erred, And through strong drink have wandered, Priest and prophet erred through strong drink, They have been swallowed up of the wine, They wandered because of the strong drink, They have erred in seeing, They have stumbled judicially.

<sup>9</sup> By whom doth He teach knowledge? And by whom doth He cause to understand the report? The weaned from milk, the removed from breasts,

<sup>10</sup> For rule [is] on rule, rule on rule, line on line, line on line, A little here, a little there,

<sup>12</sup> Unto whom He hath said, 'This [is] the rest, give ye rest to the weary, And this — the refreshing:' And they have not been willing to hear,

<sup>13</sup> And to whom a word of Jehovah hath been, Rule on rule, rule on rule, line on line, line on line, A little here, a little there, So that they go and have stumbled backward, And been broken, and snared, and captured.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, hear a word of Jehovah, ye men of scorning, Ruling this people that [is] in Jerusalem.

<sup>15</sup> Because ye have said: 'We have made a covenant with death, And with Sheol we have made a provision, An overflowing scourge, when it passeth over, Doth not meet us, Though we have made a lie our refuge, And in falsehood have been hidden.'

<sup>16</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: 'Lo, I am laying a foundation in Zion, A stone — a tried stone, a corner stone precious, a settled foundation, He who is believing doth not make haste.

<sup>18</sup> And disannulled hath been your covenant with death, And your provision with Sheol doth not stand, An overflowing scourge, when it passeth over, Then ye have been to it for a treading-place.

<sup>19</sup> From the fulness of its passing over it taketh you, For morning by morning it passeth over, By day and by night, And it hath been only a trembling to consider the report.

<sup>23</sup> Give ear, and hear my voice, Attend, and hear my saying:

<sup>25</sup> Hath he not, if he have made level its face, Then scattered fitches, and cummin sprinkle, And hath placed the principal wheat, And the appointed barley, And the rie [in] its own border?

<sup>29</sup> Even this from Jehovah of Hosts hath gone out, He hath made counsel wonderful, He hath made wisdom great!

29

<sup>5</sup> And as small dust hath been The multitude of those scattering thee, And as chaff passing on the multitude of the terrible, And it hath been at an instant — suddenly.

<sup>6</sup> By Jehovah of Hosts thou art inspected, With thunder, and with an earthquake, And great noise, hurricane, and whirlwind, And flame of devouring fire.

<sup>7</sup> And as a dream, a vision of night, hath been The multitude of all the nations Who are warring against Ariel, And all its warriors, and its bulwark, Even of those distressing her.

<sup>8</sup> And it hath been, as when the hungry dreameth, And lo, he is eating, And he hath waked, and empty [is] his soul, And as when the thirsty dreameth, And lo, he is drinking, and he hath waked, And lo, he is weary, and his soul is longing, So is the multitude of all the nations Who are warring against mount Zion.

<sup>10</sup>For poured out on you hath Jehovah a spirit of deep sleep, And He closeth your eyes — the prophets, And your heads — the seers — He covered.

<sup>11</sup>And the vision of the whole is to you, As words of the sealed book, That they give unto one knowing books, Saying, 'Read this, we pray thee,' And he hath said, 'I am not able, for it [is] sealed;'

<sup>12</sup>And the book is given to him who hath not known books, Saying, 'Read this, we pray thee,' And he hath said, 'I have not known books.'

<sup>13</sup>And the Lord saith: Because drawn near hath this people, with its mouth, And with its lips they have honoured Me, And its heart it hath put far off from Me, And their fear of Me is — A precept of men is taught!

<sup>14</sup>Therefore, lo, I am adding to do wonderfully with this people, A wonder, and a marvel, And perished hath the wisdom of its wise ones, And the understanding of its intelligent ones hideth itself.'

<sup>15</sup>Woe [to] those going deep from Jehovah to hide counsel, And whose works have been in darkness. And they say, 'Who is seeing us? And who is knowing us?'

<sup>16</sup>Your perversion! as clay is the potter esteemed? That the work saith of its maker, 'He hath not made me?' And the framed thing said of its framer, 'He did not understand?'

<sup>17</sup>Is it not yet a very little, And turned hath Lebanon to a fruitful field, And the fruitful field for a forest is reckoned?

<sup>18</sup>And heard in that day have the deaf the words of a book, And out of thick darkness, and out of darkness, The eyes of the blind do see.

<sup>19</sup>And the humble have added joy in Jehovah, And the poor among men In the Holy One of Israel rejoice.

<sup>20</sup>For ceased hath the terrible one, And consumed hath been the scorner, And cut off have been all watching for iniquity, <sup>21</sup>Causing men to sin in word, And for a reprover in the gate lay a snare, And turn aside into emptiness the righteous.

<sup>22</sup>Therefore, thus said Jehovah, Who ransomed Abraham, Concerning the house of Jacob: 'Not now ashamed is Jacob, Nor now doth his face become pale, <sup>23</sup>For in his seeing his children, The work of My hand, in his midst, They sanctify My name, And have sanctified the Holy One of Jacob, And the God of Israel they declare fearful.

30

<sup>1</sup>Woe [to] apostate sons, The affirmation of Jehovah! To do counsel, and not from Me, And to spread out a covering, and not of My spirit, So as to add sin to sin.

<sup>2</sup>Who are walking to go down to Egypt, And My mouth have not asked, To be strong in the strength of Pharaoh, And to trust in the shadow of Egypt.

<sup>3</sup>And the strength of Pharaoh Hath been to you for shame, And the trust in the shadow of Egypt confusion,

<sup>5</sup>All he made ashamed of a people that profit not, Neither for help, not for profit, But for shame, and also for reproach!

carry on the shoulder of asses their wealth, And on the hump of camels their treasures, Unto a people not profitable.

<sup>7</sup> Yea, Egyptians [are] vanity, and in vain do help, Therefore I have cried concerning this: 'Their strength [is] to sit still.'

<sup>9</sup> That a rebellious people [is] this, sons — liars, Sons not willing to hear the law of Jehovah.

<sup>10</sup> Who have said to seers, 'Ye do not see,' And to prophets, 'Ye do not prophesy to us Straightforward things, Speak to us smooth things, prophesy deceits,

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, thus said the Holy One of Israel, Because of your kicking against this word, And ye trust in oppression, And perverseness, and rely on it,

<sup>13</sup> Therefore is this iniquity to you as a breach falling, Swelled out in a wall set on high, Whose destruction suddenly, at an instant cometh.

<sup>14</sup> And He hath broken it As the breaking of the potters' bottle, Beaten down — He doth not spare, Nor is there found, in its beating down, A potsherd to take fire from the burning, And to draw out waters from a ditch.

<sup>15</sup> For thus said the Lord Jehovah, The Holy One of Israel: 'In returning and rest ye are saved, In keeping quiet and in confidence is your might, And ye have not been willing.

<sup>18</sup> And therefore doth wait Jehovah to favour you, And therefore He is exalted to pity you, For a God of judgment [is] Jehovah, O the blessedness of all waiting for Him.

<sup>19</sup> For the people in Zion dwell in Jerusalem, Weep thou not, weeping, Pitying, He pitieth thee at the voice of thy cry, When He heareth He answereth thee.

<sup>20</sup> And the Lord hath given to you bread of adversity, And water of oppression. And thy directors remove no more, And thine eyes have seen thy directors,

<sup>23</sup> And He hath given rain [for] thy seed, With which thou dost sow the ground, And bread, the increase of the ground, And it hath been fat and plenteous, Enjoy do thy cattle in that day an enlarged pasture.

<sup>24</sup> And the oxen and the young asses serving the ground, Fermented provender do eat, That one is winnowing with shovel and fan.

<sup>25</sup> And there hath been on every high mount, And on every exalted hill, Rivulets — streams of waters, In a day of much slaughter, in the falling of towers.

<sup>26</sup> And the light of the moon hath been as the light of the sun, And the light of the sun is sevenfold, As the light of seven days, In the day of Jehovah's binding up the breach of His people, When the stroke of its wound He healeth.

<sup>29</sup> Singing is to you as in a night sanctified for a festival, And joy of heart as he who is going with a pipe, To go in to the mountain of Jehovah, Unto the rock of Israel.

<sup>30</sup> And caused to be heard hath Jehovah The honour of His voice, And the coming down of His arm He doth shew with the raging of anger, And the flame of a consuming fire, Scattering, and inundation, and hailstone.

<sup>32</sup> And every passage of the settled staff, That Jehovah causeth to rest on him, Hath been with tabrets, and with harps, And in battles of shaking he hath fought with it.

<sup>33</sup> For, arranged from former time is Tophet, Even it for the king is prepared, He hath made deep, He hath made large, Its pile [is] fire and much wood, The breath of Jehovah, As a stream of brim stone, is burning in it!

31

<sup>1</sup> Woe [to] those going down to Egypt for help, And on horses lean, And trust on chariots, because many, And on horsemen, because very strong, And have not looked on the Holy One of Israel, And Jehovah have not sought.

<sup>2</sup> And He also [is] wise, and bringeth in evil, And His words He hath not turned aside, And He hath risen against a house of evil doers, And against the help of workers of iniquity.

<sup>3</sup> And the Egyptians [are men], and not God, And their horses [are] flesh, and not spirit, And Jehovah stretcheth out His hand, And stumbled hath the helper, And fallen hath the helped one, And together all of them are consumed.

<sup>4</sup> For thus said Jehovah unto me: 'As growl doth the lion and the young lion over his prey, Called against whom is a multitude of shepherds, From their voice he is not affrighted, And from their noise he is not humbled; So come down doth Jehovah of Hosts To war on mount Zion, and on her height.

<sup>5</sup> As birds flying, so doth Jehovah of Hosts Cover over Jerusalem, covering and delivering, Passing over, and causing to escape.'

<sup>7</sup> For in that day despise doth each His idols of silver, and his idols of gold, That your hands made to you — a sin.

<sup>9</sup> And [to] his rock from fear he passeth on, And affrighted by the ensign have been his princes — an affirmation of Jehovah, Who hath a light in Zion, And who hath a furnace in Jerusalem!

32

<sup>3</sup> And not dazzled are the eyes of beholders, And the ears of hearers do attend.

<sup>4</sup> And the heart of those hastened Understandeth to know, And the tongue of stammerers hasteth to speak clearly.

<sup>5</sup> A fool is no more called 'noble,' And to a miser it is not said, 'rich;'

<sup>8</sup> And the noble counselled noble things, And he for noble things riseth up.

<sup>9</sup> Women, easy ones, rise, hear my voice, Daughters, confident ones, give ear [to] my saying,

<sup>11</sup> Tremble ye women, ye easy ones, Be troubled, ye confident ones, Strip and make bare, with a girdle on the loins,

<sup>13</sup> Over the ground of my people thorn — brier goeth up, Surely over all houses of joy of the exulting city,

<sup>19</sup> And it hath hailed in the going down of the forest, And in the valley is the city low.

33

<sup>5</sup> Set on high is Jehovah, for He is dwelling on high, He filled Zion [with] judgment and righteousness,

<sup>18</sup> Thy heart doth meditate terror, Where [is] he who is counting? Where [is] he who is weighing? Where [is] he who is counting the towers?

<sup>24</sup> Nor doth an inhabitant say, 'I was sick,' The people that is dwelling in it, is forgiven of iniquity!

34

<sup>1</sup> Come near, ye nations, to hear, And ye peoples, give attention, Hear doth the earth and its fulness, The world, and all its productions.

<sup>3</sup> And their wounded are cast out, And their carcasses cause their stench to ascend, And melted have been mountains from their blood.

<sup>5</sup> For soaked in the heavens was My sword, Lo, on Edom it cometh down, On the people of My curse for judgment.

<sup>9</sup> And turned have been her streams to pitch, And her dust to brimstone, And her land hath become burning pitch.

<sup>10</sup> By night and by day she is not quenched, To the age go up doth her smoke, From generation to generation she is waste, For ever and ever, none is passing into her.

<sup>12</sup> [To] the kingdom her freemen they call, But there are none there, And all her princes are at an end.

<sup>14</sup> And met have Ziim with Aiim, And the goat for its companion calleth, Only there rested hath the night-owl, And hath found for herself a place of rest.

<sup>16</sup> Seek out of the book of Jehovah, and read, One of these hath not been lacking, None hath missed its companion, For My mouth — it hath commanded, And His spirit — He hath gathered them.

<sup>17</sup> And He hath cast for them a lot, And His hand hath apportioned [it] to them by line, Unto the age they possess it, To all generations they dwell in it!

35

<sup>1</sup> They joy from the wilderness and dry place, And rejoice doth the desert, and flourish as the rose,

<sup>2</sup> Flourishing it doth flourish, and rejoice, Yea, [with] joy and singing, The honour of Lebanon hath been given to it, The beauty of Carmel and Sharon, They — they see the honour of Jehovah, The majesty of our God.

<sup>4</sup> Say to the hastened of heart, 'Be strong, Fear not, lo, your God; vengeance cometh, The recompence of God, He Himself doth come and save you.'

<sup>6</sup> Then leap as a hart doth the lame, And sing doth the tongue of the dumb, For broken up in a wilderness have been waters, And streams in a desert.

<sup>7</sup> And the mirage hath become a pond, And the thirsty land fountains of waters, In the habitation of dragons, Its place of couching down, a court for reed and rush.

<sup>8</sup> And a highway hath been there, and a way, And the 'way of holiness' is called to it, Not pass over it doth the unclean, And He Himself [is] by them, Whoso is going in the way — even fools err not.

<sup>9</sup> No lion is there, yea, a destructive beast Ascendeth it not, it is not found there, And walked have the redeemed,

<sup>10</sup> And the ransomed of Jehovah return, And have entered Zion with singing. And joy age-during on their head, Joy and gladness they attain, And fled away have sorrow and sighing!

36

<sup>3</sup> and go forth unto him doth Eliakim son of Hilkiah, who [is] over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah son of Asaph, the remembrancer.

<sup>4</sup> And Rabshakeh saith unto them, 'Say ye, I pray you, unto Hezekiah, 'Thus said the great king, the king of Asshur, What [is] this confidence in which thou hast confided?

<sup>5</sup> I have said: Only, a word of the lips! counsel and might [are] for battle: now, on whom hast thou trusted, that thou hast rebelled against me?

<sup>6</sup> 'Lo, thou hast trusted on the staff of this broken reed — on Egypt — which a man leaneth on, and it hath gone into his hand, and pierced it — so [is] Pharaoh king of Egypt to all those trusting on him.

<sup>7</sup> 'And dost thou say unto me, Unto Jehovah our God we have trusted? is it not He, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath turned aside, and saith to Judah and to Jerusalem, Before this altar ye do bow yourselves?

<sup>8</sup> 'And now, negotiate, I pray thee, with my lord the king of Asshur; and I give to thee two thousand horses, if thou art able to put for thee riders on them.

<sup>9</sup> And how dost thou turn back the face of one captain of the least of the servants of my lord, and dost trust for thee on Egypt, for chariot and for horsemen?

<sup>10</sup> And now, without Jehovah have I come up against this land to destroy it? Jehovah said unto me, Go up unto this land, and thou hast destroyed it.'

<sup>11</sup> And Eliakim saith — and Shebna and Joah — unto Rabshakeh, 'Speak, we pray thee, unto thy servants [in] Aramaean, for we are understanding; and do not speak unto us [in] Jewish, in the ears of the people who [are] on the wall.'

<sup>12</sup> And Rabshakeh saith, 'Unto thy lord, and unto thee, hath my lord sent me to speak these words? is it not for the men — those sitting on the wall to eat their own dung and to drink their own water with you?'

<sup>14</sup> Thus said the king, Let not Hezekiah lift you up, for he is not able to deliver you;

<sup>16</sup> 'Do not hearken unto Hezekiah, for thus said the king of Asshur, Make ye with me a blessing, and come out unto me, and eat ye each of his vine, and each of his fig-tree, and drink ye each the waters of his own well,

<sup>17</sup> till my coming in, and I have taken you unto a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards;

<sup>19</sup> Where [are] the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where the gods of Sepharvaim, that they have delivered Samaria out of my hand?

<sup>20</sup> Who among all the gods of these lands [are] they who have delivered their land out of my hand, that Jehovah doth deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

<sup>21</sup> And they keep silent, and have not answered him a word, for a command of the king is, saying, 'Do not answer him.'

<sup>22</sup> And Eliakim son of Hilkiah, who [is] over the house, cometh in, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah son of Asaph, the remembrancer, unto Hezekiah with rent garments, and they declare to him the words of Rabshakeh.

37

<sup>1</sup> And it cometh to pass, at the king Hezekiah's hearing, that he rendeth his garments, and covereth himself with sackcloth, and entereth the house of Jehovah,

<sup>2</sup> and sendeth Eliakim, who [is] over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covering themselves with sackcloth, unto Isaiah son of Amoz the prophet,

<sup>3</sup> and they say unto him, 'Thus said Hezekiah, A day of distress, and rebuke, and despising, [is] this day; for come have sons unto the birth, and power there is not to bear.

<sup>4</sup> 'It may be Jehovah thy God doth hear the words of Rabshakeh with which the king of Asshur his lord hath sent him to reproach the living God, and hath decided concerning the words that Jehovah thy God hath heard, and thou hast lifted up prayer for the remnant that is found.'

<sup>6</sup> and Isaiah saith unto them, 'Thus do ye say unto your lord, Thus said Jehovah, Be not afraid because of the words that thou hast heard, with which the servants of the king of Asshur have reviled Me.

<sup>7</sup> Lo, I am giving in him a spirit, and he hath heard a report, and hath turned back unto his land, and I have caused him to fall by the sword in his land.'

<sup>9</sup> And he heareth concerning Tirhakah king of Cush, saying, 'He hath come out to fight with thee;' and he heareth, and sendeth messengers unto Hezekiah, saying,

<sup>11</sup> Lo, thou hast heard that which the kings of Asshur have done to all the lands — to devote them — and thou art delivered!

<sup>12</sup> Did the gods of the nations deliver them whom my fathers destroyed — Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the sons of Eden, who [are] in Telassar?

<sup>16</sup> 'Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, inhabiting the cherubs, Thou [art] God Himself — Thyself alone — to all kingdoms of the earth, Thou hast made the heavens and the earth.

<sup>17</sup> Incline, O Jehovah, Thine ear, and hear; open, O Jehovah, Thine eyes and see; and hear Thou all the words of Sennacherib that he hath sent to reproach the living God.

<sup>18</sup> 'Truly, O Jehovah, kings of Asshur have laid waste all the lands and their land, <sup>19</sup> so as to put their gods into fire — for they [are] no gods, but work of the hands of man, wood and stone — and they destroy them.

<sup>21</sup> And Isaiah son of Amoz sendeth unto Hezekiah, saying, 'Thus said Jehovah, God of Israel, That which thou hast prayed unto me concerning Sennacherib king of Asshur —

<sup>24</sup> By the hand of thy servants Thou hast reviled the Lord, and sayest: In the multitude of my chariots I have come up to a high place of hills, The sides of Lebanon, And I cut down the height of its cedars, The choice of its firs, And I enter the high place of its extremity, The forest of its Carmel.

<sup>25</sup> I — I have dug and drunk waters, And I dry up with the sole of my steps All floods of a bulwark.

<sup>26</sup> Hast thou not heard from afar? — it I did, From days of old — that I formed it. Now, I have brought it in, And it is to make desolate, Ruinous heaps — fenced cities, <sup>27</sup> And their inhabitants are feeble-handed, They were broken down, and are dried up. They have been the herb of the field, And the greenness of the tender grass, Grass of the roofs, And blasted corn, before it hath risen up.

<sup>28</sup> And thy sitting down, and thy going out, And thy coming in, I have known, And thy anger towards Me.

<sup>29</sup> Because of thy anger towards Me, And thy noise — it came up into Mine ears, I have put My hook in thy nose, And My bridle in thy lips, And I have caused thee to turn back In the way in which thou camest.

<sup>30</sup> — And this to thee [is] the sign, Food of the year [is] self-sown grain, And in the second year the spontaneous growth, And in the third year, sow ye and reap, And plant vineyards, and eat their fruit.

<sup>34</sup> In the way that he came, in it he turneth back, And unto this city he doth not come in, An affirmation of Jehovah,

<sup>35</sup> And I have covered over this city, To save it, for Mine own sake, And for the sake of David My servant.'

<sup>36</sup> And a messenger of Jehovah goeth out, and smiteth in the camp of Asshur a hundred and eighty and five thousand; and [men] rise early in the morning, and lo, all of them [are] dead corpses.

<sup>37</sup> And journey, and go, and turn back doth Sennacherib king of Asshur, and dwelleth in Nineveh.

<sup>38</sup> And it cometh to pass, he is bowing himself in the house of Nisroch his god, and Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons have smitten him with the sword, and they have escaped to the land of Ararat, and Esar-Haddon his son reigneth in his stead.

38

<sup>3</sup> and saith, 'I pray thee, O Jehovah, remember, I pray Thee, how I have walked habitually before Thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and that which [is] good in thine eyes I have done;' and Hezekiah weepeth — a great weeping.

<sup>5</sup> Go, and thou hast said to Hezekiah, Thus said Jehovah, God of David thy father, 'I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tear, lo, I am adding to thy days fifteen years,

<sup>6</sup> and out of the hand of the king of Asshur I deliver thee and this city, and have covered over this city.

<sup>7</sup> And this [is] to thee the sign from Jehovah, that Jehovah doth this thing that He hath spoken.

<sup>8</sup> Lo, I am bringing back the shadow of the degrees that it hath gone down on the degrees of Ahaz, by the sun, backward ten degrees:' and the sun turneth back ten degrees in the degrees that it had gone down.

<sup>9</sup> A writing of Hezekiah king of Judah concerning his being sick, when he reviveth from his sickness:

<sup>10</sup> 'I — I said in the cutting off of my days, I go in to the gates of Sheol, I have numbered the remnant of mine years.

<sup>11</sup> I said, I do not see Jah — Jah! In the land of the living, I do not behold man any more, With the inhabitants of the world.

<sup>12</sup> My sojourning hath departed, And been removed from me as a shepherd's tent, I have drawn together, as a weaver, my life, By weakness it cutteth me off, From day unto night Thou dost end me.

<sup>13</sup> I have set [Him] till morning as a lion, So doth He break all my bones, From day unto night Thou dost end me.

<sup>14</sup> As a crane — a swallow — so I chatter, I mourn as a dove, Drawn up have been mine eyes on high, O Jehovah, oppression [is] on me, be my surety.

<sup>15</sup> — What do I say? seeing He said to me, And He Himself hath wrought, I go softly all my years for the bitterness of my soul.

<sup>16</sup> Lord, by these do [men] live, And by all in them [is] the life of my spirit, And Thou savest me, make me also to live, <sup>17</sup> Lo, to peace He changed for me bitterness, And Thou hast delighted in my soul without corruption, For Thou hast cast behind Thy back all my sins.

<sup>20</sup> Like myself to-day — a father to sons Doth make known of Thy faithfulness, O Jehovah — to save me: And my songs we sing all days of our lives In the house of Jehovah.'

<sup>21</sup> And Isaiah saith, 'Let them take a bunch of figs, and plaster over the ulcer, and he liveth.'

<sup>22</sup> And Hezekiah saith, 'What [is] the sign that I go up to the house of Jehovah!'

<sup>2</sup> And Hezekiah rejoiceth over them, and sheweth them the house of his spices, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the good ointment, and all the house of his vessels, and all that hath been found in his treasures; there hath not been a thing in his house, and in all his dominion, that Hezekiah hath not shewed them.

<sup>3</sup> And Isaiah the prophet cometh in unto king Hezekiah, and saith unto him, 'What said these men? and whence come they unto thee?' And Hezekiah saith, 'From a land afar off they have come unto me — from Babylon.'

<sup>4</sup> And he saith, 'What saw they in thy house?' and Hezekiah saith, 'All that [is] in my house they saw; there hath not been a thing that I have not shewed them among my treasures.'

<sup>7</sup> and of thy sons who come forth from thee, whom thou begettest, they take, and they have been eunuchs in a palace of the king of Babylon.'

<sup>8</sup> And Hezekiah saith unto Isaiah, 'Good [is] the word of Jehovah that thou hast spoken;' and he saith, 'Because there is peace and truth in my days.'

40

<sup>2</sup> Speak to the heart of Jerusalem, and call to her, That her warfare hath been completed, That accepted hath been her punishment, That she hath received from the hand of Jehovah Double for all her sins.

<sup>6</sup> A voice is saying, 'Call,' And he said, 'What do I call?' All flesh [is] grass, and all its goodness [is] As a flower of the field:

<sup>7</sup> Withered hath grass, faded the flower, For the Spirit of Jehovah blew upon it, Surely the people [is] grass;

<sup>8</sup> Withered hath grass, faded the flower, But a word of our God riseth for ever.

<sup>11</sup> As a shepherd His flock He feedeth, With His arm He gathereth lambs, And in His bosom He carrieth [them]: Suckling ones He leadeth.

<sup>12</sup> Who hath measured in the hollow of his hand the waters? And the heavens by a span hath meted out, And comprehended in a measure the dust of the earth, And hath weighed in scales the mountains, And the hills in a balance?

<sup>14</sup> With whom consulted He, That he causeth Him to understand? And teacheth Him in the path of judgment, And teacheth Him knowledge? And the way of understanding causeth Him to know?

<sup>19</sup> The graven image poured out hath a artisan, And a refiner with gold spreadeth it over, And chains of silver he is refining.

<sup>20</sup> He who is poor [by] heave-offerings, A tree not rotten doth choose, A skilful artisan he seeketh for it, To establish a graven image — not moved.

<sup>21</sup> Do ye not know — do ye not hear? Hath it not been declared from the first to you? Have ye not understood [From] the foundations of the earth?

<sup>22</sup> He who is sitting on the circle of the earth, And its inhabitants [are] as grasshoppers, He who is stretching out as a thin thing the heavens, And spreadeth them as a tent to dwell in.

<sup>23</sup> He who is making princes become nothing, Judges of earth as emptiness hath made;

<sup>24</sup> Yea, they have not been planted, Yea, they have not been sown, Yea, not taking root in the earth is their stock, And also He hath blown upon them, and they wither, And a whirlwind as stubble taketh them away.

<sup>25</sup> And unto whom do ye liken Me, And [am] I equal? saith the Holy One.

<sup>26</sup> Lift up on high your eyes, And see — who hath prepared these? He who is bringing out by number their host, To all of them by name He calleth, By abundance of strength (And [he is] strong in power) not one is lacking.

<sup>27</sup> Why sayest thou, O Jacob? and speakest thou, O Israel? 'My way hath been hid from Jehovah, And from my God my judgment passeth over.'

<sup>28</sup> Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard? The God of the age — Jehovah, Preparer of the ends of the earth, Is not wearied nor fatigued, There is no searching of His understanding.

<sup>29</sup> He is giving power to the weary, And to those not strong He increaseth might.

<sup>30</sup> Even youths are wearied and fatigued, And young men utterly stumble, <sup>31</sup> But those expecting Jehovah pass [to] power, They raise up the pinion as eagles, They run and are not fatigued, They go on and do not faint!

41

<sup>3</sup> He pursueth them, he passeth over in safety A path with his feet he entereth not.

<sup>5</sup> Seen have isles and fear, ends of the earth tremble, They have drawn near, yea, they come.

<sup>7</sup> And strengthen doth an artisan the refiner, A smoother [with] a hammer, Him who is beating [on] an anvil, Saying, 'For joining it [is] good,' And he strengtheneth it with nails, it is not moved!

<sup>8</sup> — And thou, O Israel, My servant, Jacob, whom I have chosen, Seed of Abraham, My lover, <sup>9</sup> Whom I have taken hold of, from the ends of the earth, And from its near places I have called thee, And I say to thee, My servant Thou [art], I have chosen thee, and not rejected thee.

<sup>10</sup> Be not afraid, for with thee I [am], Look not around, for I [am] thy God, I have strengthened thee, Yea, I have helped thee, yea, I upheld thee, With the right hand of My righteousness.

<sup>12</sup> Thou seekest them, and findest them not, The men who debate with thee, They are as nothing, yea, as nothing, The men who war with thee.

<sup>17</sup> The poor and the needy are seeking water, And there is none, Their tongue with thirst hath failed, I, Jehovah do answer them, The God of Israel — I forsake them not.

<sup>18</sup> I open on high places rivers, And in midst of valleys fountains, I make a wilderness become a pond of water, And a dry land become springs of water.

<sup>19</sup> I give in a wilderness the cedar, Shittah, and myrtle, and oil-tree, I set in a desert the fir-pine and box-wood together.

<sup>22</sup> They bring nigh, and declare to us that which doth happen, The first things — what they [are] declare ye, And we set our heart, and know their latter end, Or the coming things cause us to hear.

<sup>23</sup> Declare the things that are coming hereafter, And we know that ye [are] gods, Yea, ye may do good or do evil, And we look around and see [it] together.

<sup>24</sup> Lo, ye [are] of nothing, and your work of nought, An abomination — it fixeth on you.

<sup>25</sup> I have stirred up [one] from the north, And he cometh, From the rising of the sun he calleth in My name, And he cometh in [on] prefects as [on] clay, And as a potter treadeth down mire.

<sup>26</sup> Who hath declared from the first, and we know? And beforetime, and we say, 'Righteous?' yea, there is none declaring, Yea, there is none proclaiming, Yea, there is none hearing your sayings.

<sup>27</sup> First to Zion, Behold, behold them, And to Jerusalem one proclaiming tidings I give,

<sup>28</sup> And I see that there is no man, Yea, of these that there is no counsellor, And I ask them, and they return word:

42

<sup>4</sup> He doth not become weak nor bruised, Till he setteth judgment in the earth, And for his law isles wait with hope.

<sup>5</sup> Thus said God, Jehovah, preparing The heavens, and stretching them out, Spreading out the earth and its productions, Giving breath to the people on it, And spirit to those walking in it.

<sup>6</sup> I, Jehovah, did call thee in righteousness, And I lay hold on thy hand, and keep thee, And I give thee for a covenant of a people, And a light of nations.

<sup>8</sup> I [am] Jehovah, this [is] My name, And Mine honour to another I give not, Nor My praise to graven images.

<sup>9</sup> The former things, lo, have come, And new things I am declaring, Before they spring up I cause you to hear.

<sup>14</sup> I have kept silent from of old, I keep silent, I refrain myself, As a travailing woman I cry out, I desolate and swallow up together.

<sup>15</sup> I make waste mountains and hills, And all their herbs I dry up, And I have made rivers become isles, And ponds I dry up.

<sup>16</sup> And I have caused the blind to go, In a way they have not known, In paths they have not known I cause them to tread, I make a dark place before them become light, And unlevelled places become a plain, These [are] the things I have done to them, And I have not forsaken them.

<sup>19</sup> Who [is] blind but My servant? And deaf as My messenger I send? Who [is] blind as he who is at peace, Yea, blind, as the servant of Jehovah?

<sup>22</sup> And this [is] a people seized and spoiled, Snared in holes — all of them, And in houses of restraint they were hidden, They have been for a prey, And there is no deliverer, A spoil, and none is saying, 'Restore.'

<sup>24</sup> Who hath given Jacob for a spoil, And Israel to the spoilers? Is it not Jehovah — He against whom we sinned? Yea, they have not been willing in His ways to walk, Nor have they hearkened to His law.

<sup>25</sup> And He poureth on him fury, His anger, and the strength of battle, And it setteth him on fire round about, And he hath not known, And it burneth against him, and he layeth it not to heart!

43

<sup>3</sup> For I — Jehovah thy God, The Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour, I have appointed Egypt thine atonement, Cush and Seba in thy stead.

<sup>5</sup> Be not afraid, for I [am] with thee, From the east I bring in thy seed, And from the west I gather thee.

<sup>6</sup> I am saying to the north, 'Give up,' And to the south, 'Restrain not.' Bring in My sons from afar, And My daughters from the end of the earth.

<sup>7</sup> Every one who is called by My name, Even for My honour I have created him, I have formed him, yea, I have made him.

<sup>8</sup> He brought out a blind people who have eyes, And deaf ones who have ears.

<sup>9</sup> All the nations have been gathered together, And the peoples are assembled, Who among them declareth this, And former things causeth us to hear? They give their witnesses, And they are declared righteous, And they hear and say, 'Truth.'

<sup>10</sup> Ye [are] My witnesses, an affirmation of Jehovah, And My servant whom I have chosen, So that ye know and give credence to Me, And understand that I [am] He, Before Me there was no God formed, And after Me there is none.

<sup>11</sup> I — I [am] Jehovah, And besides Me there is no saviour.

<sup>12</sup> I — I declared, and saved, and proclaimed, And there is no stranger with you, And ye [are] My witnesses, an affirmation of Jehovah, And I [am] God.

<sup>13</sup> Even from the day I [am] He, And there is no deliverer from My hand, I work, and who doth turn it back?

<sup>14</sup> Thus said Jehovah, your Redeemer, The Holy One of Israel: 'For your sake I have sent to Babylon, And caused bars to descend — all of them, And the Chaldeans, whose song [is] in the ships.

<sup>15</sup> I [am] Jehovah, your Holy One, Creator of Israel, your King.'

<sup>17</sup> Who is bringing forth chariot and horse, A force, even a strong one: 'Together they lie down — they rise not, They have been extinguished, As flax they have been quenched.'

<sup>25</sup> I — I [am] He who is blotting out Thy transgressions for Mine own sake, And thy sins I do not remember.

<sup>26</sup> Cause me to remember — we are judged together, Declare thou that thou mayest be justified.

<sup>27</sup> Thy first father sinned, And thine interpreters transgressed against me,

<sup>28</sup> And I pollute princes of the sanctuary, And I give Jacob to destruction, and Israel to revilings!

44

<sup>1</sup> And now, hear, O Jacob, My servant, And Israel, whom I have fixed on:

<sup>2</sup> Thus said Jehovah, thy Maker, and thy Former, From the womb He doth help thee; Fear not, my servant Jacob, And Jeshurun, whom I have fixed on.

<sup>3</sup> For I pour waters on a thirsty one, And floods on a dry land, I pour My Spirit on thy seed, And My blessing on thine offspring.

<sup>4</sup> And they have sprung up as among grass, As willows by streams of water.

<sup>5</sup> This [one] saith, For Jehovah I [am], And this calleth [himself] by the name of Jacob, And this [one] writeth [with] his hand, 'For Jehovah,' and by the name of Israel surnameth himself.

<sup>6</sup> Thus said Jehovah, king of Israel, And his Redeemer, Jehovah of Hosts: 'I [am] the first, and I the last, And besides Me there is no God.

<sup>7</sup> And who as I, doth call and declare it, And arrange it for Me, Since My placing the people of antiquity, And things that are coming, And those that do come, declare they to them?

<sup>8</sup> Fear not, nor be afraid, Have I not from that time caused thee to hear, and declared? And ye [are] My witnesses, Is there a God besides Me? yea, there is none, A Rock I have not known.

<sup>11</sup> Lo, all his companions are ashamed, As to artisans – they [are] of men, All of them gather together, they stand up, They fear, they are ashamed together.

<sup>12</sup> He hath wrought iron [with] an axe, And hath wrought with coals, And with hammers doth form it, And doth work it by his powerful arm, Yea, he is hungry, and there is no power, He doth not drink water, and he is wearied.

<sup>13</sup> He hath wrought [with] wood, He hath stretched out a rule, He doth mark it out with a line, He maketh it with carving tools, And with a compass he marketh it out, And maketh it according to the form of a man, According to the beauty of a man, To remain in the house.

<sup>14</sup> Cutting down to himself cedars, He taketh also a cypress, and an oak, And he strengtheneth [it] for himself Among the trees of a forest, He hath planted an ash, and the shower doth nourish [it].

<sup>15</sup> And it hath been for man to burn, And he taketh of them, and becometh warm, Yea, he kindleth [it], and hath baked bread, Yea, he maketh a god, and boweth himself, He hath made it a graven image, And he falleth down to it.

<sup>16</sup> Half of it he hath burnt in the fire, By [this] half of it he eateth flesh, He roasteth a roasting, and is satisfied, Yea, he is warm, and saith: 'Aha, I have become warm, I have enjoyed the light.'

<sup>17</sup> And its remnant for a god he hath made – For his graven image, He falleth down to it, and worshippeth, And prayeth unto it, and he saith, 'Deliver me, for my god thou [art].'

<sup>18</sup> They have not known, nor do they understand, For He hath daubed their eyes from seeing, Their heart from acting wisely.

<sup>19</sup> And none doth turn [it] back unto his heart, Nor hath knowledge nor understanding to say, 'Half of it I have burned in the fire, Yea, also, I have baked bread over its coals, I roast flesh and I eat, And its remnant for an abomination I make, To the stock of a tree I fall down.'

<sup>20</sup> Feeding on ashes, the heart is deceived, It hath turned him aside, And he delivereth not his soul, nor saith: 'Is there not a lie in my right hand?'

<sup>21</sup> Remember these, O Jacob, and Israel, For My servant thou [art], I formed thee, a servant to Me thou [art], O Israel, thou dost not forget Me.

<sup>23</sup> Sing, O heavens, for Jehovah hath wrought, Shout, O lower parts of earth, Break forth, O mountains, with singing, Forest, and every tree in it, For Jehovah hath redeemed Jacob, And in Israel He doth beautify Himself.

<sup>24</sup> Thus said Jehovah, thy redeemer, And thy framer from the womb: 'I [am] Jehovah, doing all things, Stretching out the heavens by Myself, Spreading out the earth – who [is] with Me?'

<sup>27</sup> Who is saying to the deep, Be dry, and thy rivers I cause to dry up,

<sup>28</sup> Who is saying of Cyrus, My shepherd, And all my delight He doth perfect, So as to say of Jerusalem, Thou art built, And of the temple, Thou art founded.

45

<sup>2</sup> 'I go before thee, and crooked places make straight, Two-leaved doors of brass I shiver, And bars of iron I cut asunder,

<sup>3</sup> And have given to thee treasures of darkness, Even treasures of secret places, So that thou knowest that I, Jehovah, Who am calling on thy name — [am] the God of Israel.

<sup>4</sup> For the sake of my servant Jacob, And of Israel My chosen, I call also thee by thy name, I surname thee, And thou hast not known Me.

<sup>5</sup> I [am] Jehovah, and there is none else, Except Me there is no God, I gird thee, and thou hast not known Me.

<sup>6</sup> So that they know from the rising of the sun, And from the west, that there is none besides Me, I [am] Jehovah, and there is none else,

<sup>7</sup> Forming light, and preparing darkness, Making peace, and preparing evil, I [am] Jehovah, doing all these things.'

<sup>11</sup> Thus said Jehovah, The Holy One of Israel, and his Former: Ask Me of the things coming concerning My sons, Yea, concerning the work of My hands, ye command Me.'

<sup>12</sup> I made earth, and man on it prepared, I — My hands stretched out the heavens, And all their host I have commanded.

<sup>13</sup> I have stirred him up in righteousness, And all his ways I make straight, He doth build My city, and My captivity doth send out, Not for price, nor for bribe, said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>14</sup> Thus said Jehovah, 'The labour of Egypt, And the merchandise of Cush, And of the Sebam — men of measure, Unto thee pass over, and thine they are, After thee they go, in fetters they pass over, And unto thee they bow themselves, Unto thee they pray: Only in thee [is] God, And there is none else, no [other] God.

<sup>16</sup> They have been ashamed, And they have even blushed — all of them, Together gone in confusion have those carving images.

<sup>18</sup> For thus said Jehovah, Creator of heaven, He is God, Former of earth, and its Maker, He established it — not empty He prepared it, For inhabiting He formed it: 'I [am] Jehovah, and there is none else.

<sup>19</sup> Not in secret have I spoken, in a dark place of the earth, I have not said to the seed of Jacob, In vain seek ye Me, I [am] Jehovah, speaking righteousness, Declaring uprightness.

<sup>20</sup> Be gathered, and come in, Come nigh together, ye escaped of the nations, They have not known, Who are lifting up the wood of their graven image, And praying unto a god [that] saveth not.

<sup>21</sup> Declare ye, and bring near, Yea, they take counsel together, Who hath proclaimed this from of old? From that time hath declared it? Is it not I — Jehovah? And there is no other god besides Me, A God righteous and saving, there is none save Me.

<sup>22</sup> Turn to Me, and be saved, all ends of the earth, For I [am] God, and there is none else.

<sup>23</sup> By Myself I have sworn, Gone out from my mouth in righteousness hath a word, And it turneth not back, That to Me, bow doth every knee, every tongue swear.

<sup>24</sup> Only in Jehovah, said hath one, Have I righteousness and strength, Unto Him he cometh in, And ashamed are all those displeased with Him.

46

<sup>2</sup> They have stooped, they have bowed together, They have not been able to deliver the burden, And themselves into captivity have gone.

<sup>3</sup> Hearken unto Me, O house of Jacob, And all the remnant of Israel, Who are borne from the belly, Who are carried from the womb, <sup>4</sup> Even to old age I [am] He, and to grey hairs I carry, I made, and I bear, yea, I carry and deliver.

<sup>5</sup> To whom do ye liken Me, and make equal? And compare Me, that we may be like?

<sup>6</sup> — They are pouring out gold from a bag, And silver on the beam they weigh, They hire a refiner, and he maketh it a god, They fall down, yea, they bow themselves.

<sup>7</sup> They lift him up on the shoulder, They carry him, and cause him to rest in his place, And he standeth, from his place he moveth not, Yea, one crieth unto him, and he answereth not, From his adversity he saveth him not.

<sup>8</sup> Remember this, and shew yourselves men, Turn [it] back, O transgressors, to the heart.

<sup>9</sup> Remember former things of old, For I [am] Mighty, and there is none else, God — and there is none like Me.

<sup>10</sup> Declaring from the beginning the latter end, And from of old that which hath not been done, Saying, 'My counsel doth stand, And all My delight I do.'

<sup>13</sup> I have brought near My righteousness, It is not far off, And My salvation — it doth not tarry, And I have given in Zion salvation, To Israel My glory!

47

<sup>6</sup> I have been wroth against My people, I have polluted Mine inheritance And I give them into thy hand, Thou hast not appointed for them mercies, On the aged thou hast made thy yoke very heavy,

<sup>7</sup> And thou sayest, 'To the age I am mistress,' While thou hast not laid these things to thy heart, Thou hast not remembered the latter end of it.

<sup>8</sup> And now, hear this, O luxurious one, Who is sitting confidently — Who is saying in her heart, 'I [am], and none else, I sit not a widow, nor know bereavement.'

<sup>9</sup> And come in to thee do these two things, In a moment, in one day, childlessness and widowhood, According to their perfection they have come upon thee, In the multitude of thy sorceries, In the exceeding might of thy charms.

<sup>10</sup> And thou art confident in thy wickedness, Thou hast said, 'There is none seeing me,' Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, It is turning thee back, And thou sayest in thy heart, 'I [am], and none else.'

<sup>11</sup> And come in on thee hath evil, Thou knowest not its rising, And fall on thee doth mischief, Thou art not able to pacify it, And come on thee suddenly doth desolation, Thou knowest not.

<sup>12</sup> Stand, I pray thee, in thy charms, And in the multitude of thy sorceries, In which thou hast laboured from thy youth, It may be thou art able to profit, It may be thou dost terrify!

<sup>13</sup> Thou hast been wearied in the multitude of thy counsels, Stand up, I pray thee, and save thee, Let the charmers of the heavens, Those looking on the stars, Those teaching concerning the months, From those things that come on thee!

<sup>14</sup> Lo, they have been as stubble! Fire hath burned them, They deliver not themselves from the power of the flame, There is not a coal to warm them, a light to sit before it.

<sup>15</sup> So have they been to thee with whom thou hast laboured, Thy merchants from thy youth, Each to his passage they have wandered, Thy saviour is not!

48

<sup>1</sup> Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, Who are called by the name of Israel, And from the waters of Judah came out, Who are swearing by the name of Jehovah, And of the God of Israel make mention, Not in truth nor in righteousness.

<sup>2</sup> For from the Holy City they have been called, And on the God of Israel been supported, Jehovah of Hosts [is] His name.

<sup>3</sup> The former things from that time I declared, And from my mouth they have gone forth, And I proclaim them, Suddenly I have done, and it cometh.

<sup>4</sup> From my knowing that thou art obstinate, And a sinew of iron thy neck,
And thy forehead brass,

<sup>5</sup> And I declare to thee from that time, Before it cometh I have caused thee to hear, Lest thou say, 'Mine idol hath done them, And my graven image, And my molten image did command them.

<sup>6</sup> Thou hast heard, see the whole of it, And ye, do ye not declare? I have caused thee to hear new things from this time, And things reserved that ye knew not.

<sup>7</sup> Now they have been produced and not from that time, Yea, before the day, and thou hast not heard them, Lest thou say, 'Lo, I have known them.'

<sup>8</sup> Yea, thou hast not heard, Yea, thou hast not known, Yea, from that time not opened hath thine ear, For I have known thou dealest treacherously, And
'Transgressor from the belly,' One is crying to thee.

<sup>9</sup> For My name's sake I defer Mine anger, And My praise I restrain for thee,
So as not to cut thee off.

<sup>10</sup> Lo, I have refined thee, and not with silver, I have chosen thee in a furnace of affliction.

<sup>11</sup> For My sake, for Mine own sake, I do [it], For how is it polluted? And Mine honour to another I give not.

<sup>12</sup> Hearken to me, O Jacob, and Israel, My called one, I [am] He, I [am] first, and I [am] last;

<sup>13</sup> Also, My hand hath founded earth, And My right hand stretched out the heavens, I am calling unto them, they stand together.

<sup>14</sup> Be gathered all of you, and hear, Who among them did declare these things? Jehovah hath loved him, He doth His pleasure on Babylon, And His arm [is on] the Chaldeans.

<sup>15</sup> I — I have spoken, yea, I have called him, I have brought him in, And he hath made prosperous his way.

<sup>16</sup> Come ye near unto me, hear this, Not from the beginning in secret spake
I, From the time of its being, there [am] I, And now the Lord Jehovah hath sent me, and His Spirit.

<sup>17</sup> Thus said Jehovah, thy redeemer, The Holy One of Israel, 'I [am] Jehovah thy God, teaching thee to profit, Causing thee to tread in the way thou goest.

<sup>18</sup> O that thou hadst attended to My commands, Then as a river is thy peace,
And thy righteousness as billows of the sea,

<sup>19</sup> And as sand is thy seed, And the offspring of thy bowels as its gravel, Not cut off nor destroyed his name before Me.

declare, Cause ye this to be heard, Bring it forth unto the end of the earth, Say, Redeemed hath Jehovah His servant Jacob.

<sup>21</sup> And they have not thirsted in waste places, He hath caused them to go on, Waters from a rock he hath caused to flow to them, Yea, he cleaveth a rock, and flow do waters.

49

from the womb hath called me, From the bowels of my mother He hath made mention of my name.

<sup>2</sup> And he maketh my mouth as a sharp sword, In the shadow of His hand
He hath hid me, And He maketh me for a clear arrow, In His quiver He hath hid me.

<sup>3</sup> And He saith to me, 'My servant Thou art, O Israel, In whom I beautify Myself.'

<sup>4</sup> And I said, 'For a vain thing I laboured, For emptiness and vanity my power I consumed, But my judgment [is] with Jehovah, And my wage with my God.'

<sup>5</sup> And now, said Jehovah, who is forming me from the belly for a servant to Him, To bring back Jacob unto Him, (Though Israel is not gathered, Yet I am honoured in the eyes of Jehovah, And my God hath been my strength.)

<sup>6</sup> And He saith, 'It hath been a light thing That thou art to Me for a servant To raise up the tribes of Jacob, And the preserved of Israel to bring back, And I have given thee for a light of nations, To be My salvation unto the end of the earth.'

<sup>7</sup> Thus said Jehovah, Redeemer of Israel, His Holy One, To the despised in soul, To the abominated of a nation, To the servant of rulers: 'Kings see, and have risen, princes, and worship, For the sake of Jehovah, who is faithful, The Holy of Israel, and He chooseth thee.'

<sup>8</sup> Thus said Jehovah: 'In a time of good pleasure I answered thee, And in a day of salvation I helped thee, And I keep thee, and give thee, For a covenant of the people, To establish the earth, To cause to inherit desolate inheritances.'

<sup>9</sup> To say to the bound, Go out, To those in darkness, Be uncovered. On the ways they feed, And in all high places is their pasture.

<sup>10</sup> They do not hunger, nor thirst, Nor smite them doth mirage and sun, For He who is pitying them doth lead them, And by fountains of waters doth tend them.

<sup>11</sup> And I have made all My mountains for a way, And My highways are lifted up.

<sup>17</sup> Hastened have those building thee, Those destroying thee, and laying thee waste, go out from thee.

<sup>18</sup> Lift up round about thine eyes and see, All of them have been gathered, They have come to thee. I live, an affirmation of Jehovah! Surely all of them as an ornament thou puttest on, And thou bindest them on like a bride.

<sup>19</sup> Because thy wastes, and thy desolate places, And the land of thy ruins, Surely now are straitened because of inhabitants, And far off have been those consuming thee.

<sup>20</sup> Again do the sons of thy bereavement say in thine ears: 'The place is too strait for me, Come nigh to me — and I dwell.'

<sup>21</sup> And thou hast said in thy heart: 'Who hath begotten for me — these? And I bereaved and gloomy, A captive, and turned aside, And these — who hath nourished? Lo, I — I was left by myself, these — whence [are] they?'

<sup>22</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: 'Lo, I lift up unto nations My hand, And unto peoples I raise up Mine ensign, And they have brought thy sons in the bosom, And thy daughters on the shoulder are carried.

<sup>23</sup> And kings have been thy nursing fathers, And their princesses thy nursing mothers; Face to the earth — they bow down to thee, And the dust of thy feet they lick up, And thou hast known that I [am] Jehovah, That those expecting Me are not ashamed.

<sup>25</sup> For thus said Jehovah: Even the captive of the mighty is taken, And the prey of the terrible is delivered, And with thy striver I strive, and thy sons I save.

<sup>26</sup> And I have caused thine oppressors to eat their own flesh, And as new wine they drink their own blood, And known have all flesh that I, Jehovah, Thy saviour, and thy redeemer, [Am] the Mighty One of Jacob!

50

<sup>1</sup> Thus said Jehovah: 'Where [is] this — the bill of your mother's divorce, Whom I sent away? Or to which of My creditors have I sold you? Lo, for your iniquities ye have been sold, And for your transgressions Hath your mother been sent away.

<sup>2</sup> Wherefore have I come, and there is no one? I called, and there is none answering, Hath My hand been at all short of redemption? And is there not in me power to deliver? Lo, by My rebuke I dry up a sea, I make rivers a wilderness, Their fish stinketh, for there is no water, And dieth with thirst.

<sup>4</sup> The Lord Jehovah hath given to me The tongue of taught ones, To know to aid the weary [by] a word, He waketh morning by morning, He waketh for me an ear to hear as taught ones.

<sup>5</sup> The Lord Jehovah opened for me the ear, And I rebelled not — backward I moved not.

<sup>6</sup> My back I have given to those smiting, And my cheeks to those plucking out, My face I hid not from shame and spitting.

<sup>7</sup> And the Lord Jehovah giveth help to me, Therefore I have not been ashamed, Therefore I have set my face as a flint, And I know that I am not ashamed.

<sup>8</sup> Near [is] He who is justifying me, Who doth contend with me? We stand together, who [is] mine opponent? Let him come nigh unto me.

<sup>9</sup> Lo, the Lord Jehovah giveth help to me, Who [is] he that declareth me wicked? Lo, all of them as a garment wear out, A moth doth eat them.

<sup>10</sup> Who [is] among you, fearing Jehovah, Harkening to the voice of His servant, That hath walked in dark places, And there is no brightness for him? Let him trust in the name of Jehovah, And lean upon his God.

<sup>11</sup> Lo, all ye kindling a fire, girding on sparks, Walk ye in the light of your fire, And in the sparks ye have caused to burn, From my hand hath this been to you, In grief ye lie down!

51

<sup>2</sup> Look attentively unto Abraham your father, And unto Sarah — she bringeth you forth, For — one — I have called him, And I bless him, and multiply him.

<sup>4</sup> Attend unto Me, O My people, And, O My nation, unto Me give ear. For a law from Me goeth out, And My judgment to the light, Peoples I do cause to rest.

<sup>5</sup> Near [is] My righteousness, Gone out hath My salvation and Mine arms, Peoples they judge, on Me isles do wait, Yea, on Mine arm they do wait with hope.

<sup>6</sup> Lift ye up to the heavens your eyes, And look attentively unto the earth beneath, For the heavens as smoke have vanished, And the earth as a garment weareth out, And its inhabitants as gnats do die, And My salvation is to the age, And My righteousness is not broken.

<sup>7</sup> Hearken unto Me, ye who know righteousness, A people, in whose heart [is] My law, Fear ye not the reproach of men, And for their reviling be not affrighted, <sup>8</sup> For as a garment eat them doth a moth, And as wool eat them doth a worm, And My righteousness is to the age, And My salvation to all generations.

<sup>10</sup> Art not Thou it that is drying up a sea, Waters of a great deep? That hath made deep places of a sea A way for the passing of the redeemed?

<sup>11</sup> And the ransomed of Jehovah turn back, And they have come to Zion with singing, And joy age-during [is] on their head, Gladness and joy they attain, Fled away have sorrow and sighing, <sup>12</sup> I — I [am] He — your comforter, Who [art] thou — and thou art afraid of man? he dieth! And of the son of man — grass he is made!

<sup>13</sup> And thou dost forget Jehovah thy maker, Who is stretching out the heavens, and founding earth, And thou dost fear continually all the day, Because of the fury of the oppressor, As he hath prepared to destroy. And where [is] the fury of the oppressor?

<sup>14</sup> Hastened hath a wanderer to be loosed, And he doth not die at the pit, And his bread is not lacking.

<sup>15</sup> And I [am] Jehovah thy God, Quieting the sea, when its billows roar, Jehovah of Hosts [is] His name.

<sup>16</sup> And I put My words in thy mouth, And with the shadow of My hand have covered thee, To plant the heavens, and to found earth, And to say to Zion, 'My people [art] thou.'

<sup>18</sup> There is not a leader to her Out of all the sons she hath borne, And there is none laying hold on her hand Out of all the sons she hath nourished.

<sup>19</sup> These two are meeting thee, who is moved for thee? Spoiling and destruction — Famine and sword, who — I comfort thee?

<sup>20</sup> Thy sons have been wrapped up, they have lain down, At the head of all out places, as a wild ox [in] a net, They are full of the fury of Jehovah, The rebuke of Thy God.

<sup>21</sup> Therefore, hear, I pray thee, this, O afflicted and drunken one, and not with wine,

<sup>22</sup> Thus said thy Lord Jehovah, and thy God, He pleadeth [for] his people: 'Lo, I have taken out of thy hand the cup of trembling, The goblet, the cup of My fury, Thou dost not add to drink it any more.

<sup>23</sup> And I have put it into the hand of those afflicting thee, Who have said to thy soul, Bow down, and we pass over, And thou makest as the earth thy body, And as the street to those passing by!'

52

<sup>4</sup> For thus said the Lord Jehovah: 'To Egypt My people went down at first to sojourn there, And Asshur — for nought he hath oppressed it.

<sup>5</sup> And now, what — to Me here, An affirmation of Jehovah, That taken is My people for nought? Its rulers cause howling, — an affirmation of Jehovah, And continually all the day My name is despised.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore doth My people know My name, Therefore, in that day, Surely I [am] He who is speaking, behold Me.'

<sup>10</sup> Jehovah hath made bare His holy arm Before the eyes of all the nations, And seen have all the ends of the earth, The salvation of our God.

<sup>13</sup> Lo, My servant doth act wisely, He is high, and hath been lifted up, And hath been very high.

<sup>14</sup> As astonished at thee have been many, (So marred by man his appearance, And his form by sons of men.)

<sup>15</sup> So doth he sprinkle many nations. Concerning him kings shut their mouth, For that which was not recounted to them they have seen, And that which they had not heard they have understood!

53

<sup>1</sup> Who hath given credence to that which we heard? And the arm of Jehovah, On whom hath it been revealed?

<sup>2</sup> Yea, he cometh up as a tender plant before Him, And as a root out of a dry land, He hath no form, nor honour, when we observe him, Nor appearance, when we desire him.

<sup>3</sup> He is despised, and left of men, A man of pains, and acquainted with sickness, And as one hiding the face from us, He is despised, and we esteemed him not.

<sup>4</sup> Surely our sicknesses he hath borne, And our pains — he hath carried them, And we — we have esteemed him plagued, Smitten of God, and afflicted.

<sup>5</sup> And he is pierced for our transgressions, Bruised for our iniquities, The chastisement of our peace [is] on him, And by his bruise there is healing to us.

<sup>6</sup> All of us like sheep have wandered, Each to his own way we have turned, And Jehovah hath caused to meet on him, The punishment of us all.

<sup>7</sup> It hath been exacted, and he hath answered, And he openeth not his mouth, As a lamb to the slaughter he is brought, And as a sheep before its shearers is dumb, And he openeth not his mouth.

<sup>8</sup> By restraint and by judgment he hath been taken, And of his generation who doth meditate, That he hath been cut off from the land of the living? By the transgression of My people he is plagued,

<sup>9</sup> And it appointeth with the wicked his grave, And with the rich [are] his high places, Because he hath done no violence, Nor [is] deceit in his mouth.

<sup>10</sup> And Jehovah hath delighted to bruise him, He hath made him sick, If his soul doth make an offering for guilt, He seeth seed — he longeth days, And the pleasure of Jehovah in his hand doth prosper.

<sup>11</sup> Of the labour of his soul he seeth — he is satisfied, Through his knowledge give righteousness Doth the righteous one, My servant, to many, And their iniquities he doth bear.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore I give a portion to him among the many, And with the mighty he apportioneth spoil, Because that he exposed to death his soul, And with transgressors he was numbered, And he the sin of many hath borne, And for transgressors he intercedeth.

54

<sup>6</sup> For, as a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit, Called thee hath Jehovah, Even a youthful wife when she is refused, said thy God.

<sup>7</sup> In a small moment I have forsaken thee, And in great mercies I do gather thee,

<sup>8</sup> In overflowing wrath I hid my face [for] a moment from thee, And in kindness age-during I have loved thee, Said thy Redeemer — Jehovah!

<sup>9</sup> For, the waters of Noah [is] this to Me, In that I have sworn — the waters of Noah Do not pass again over the earth — So I have sworn, Wrath is not upon thee, Nor rebuke against thee.

<sup>10</sup> For the mountains depart, and the hills remove, And My kindness from thee departeth not, And the covenant of My peace removeth not, Said hath thy loving one — Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> And have made of agate thy pinnacles, And thy gates of carbuncle stones, And all thy border of stones of delight,

<sup>15</sup> Lo, he doth diligently assemble without My desire, Who hath assembled near thee? By thee he falleth!

55

<sup>2</sup> Why do ye weigh money for that which is not bread? And your labour for that which is not for satiety? Hearken diligently unto me, and eat good, And your soul doth delight itself in fatness.

<sup>3</sup> Incline your ear, and come unto me, Hear, and your soul doth live, And I make for you a covenant age-during, The kind acts of David — that are steadfast.

<sup>7</sup> Forsake doth the wicked his way, And the man of iniquity his thoughts, And he returneth to Jehovah, and He pitieth him, And unto our God for He multiplieth to pardon.

<sup>8</sup> For not My thoughts [are] your thoughts, Nor your ways My ways, — an affirmation of Jehovah, <sup>9</sup> For high have the heavens been above the earth, So high have been My ways above your ways, And My thoughts above your thoughts.

<sup>10</sup> For, as come down doth the shower, And the snow from the heavens, And thither returneth not, But hath watered the earth, And hath caused it to yield, and to spring up, And hath given seed to the sower, and bread to the eater, <sup>11</sup> So is My word that goeth out of My mouth, It turneth not back unto Me empty, But hath done that which I desired, And prosperously effected that [for] which I sent it.

<sup>13</sup> Instead of the thorn come up doth fir, Instead of the brier come up doth myrtle, And it hath been to Jehovah for a name, For a sign age-during — it is not cut off!

56

<sup>2</sup> O the happiness of a man who doth this, And of a son of man who keepeth hold on it, Keeping the sabbath from polluting it, And keeping his hand from doing any evil.

<sup>3</sup> Nor speak let a son of the stranger, Who is joined unto Jehovah, saying: 'Jehovah doth certainly separate me from His people.' Nor say let the eunuch, 'Lo, I am a tree dried up,'

<sup>4</sup> For thus said Jehovah of the eunuchs, Who do keep My sabbaths, And have fixed on that which I desired, And are keeping hold on My covenant:

<sup>5</sup> I have given to them in My house, And within My walls a station and a name, Better than sons and than daughters, A name age-during I give to him That is not cut off.

<sup>6</sup> And sons of the stranger, who are joined to Jehovah, To serve Him, and to love the name of Jehovah, To be to Him for servants, Every keeper of the sabbath from polluting it, And those keeping hold on My covenant.

<sup>7</sup> I have brought them unto My holy mountain, And caused them to rejoice in My house of prayer, Their burnt-offerings and their sacrifices [Are] for a pleasing thing on Mine altar, For My house, 'A house of prayer,' Is called for all the peoples.

<sup>10</sup> Blind [are] his watchmen — all of them, They have not known, All of them [are] dumb dogs, they are not able to bark, Dozing, lying down, loving to slumber.

<sup>11</sup> And the dogs [are] strong of desire, They have not known sufficiency, And they [are] shepherds! They have not known understanding, All of them to their own way they did turn, Each to his dishonest gain from his quarter:

<sup>12</sup> 'Come ye, I take wine, And we drink, quaff strong drink, And as this day hath been to-morrow, Great — exceeding abundant!'

57

<sup>6</sup> Among the smooth things of a brook [is] thy portion, They — they [are] thy lot, Also to them thou hast poured out an oblation, Thou hast caused a present to ascend, For these things am I comforted?

<sup>10</sup> In the greatness of thy way thou hast laboured, Thou hast not said, 'It is desperate.' The life of thy hand thou hast found, Therefore thou hast not been sick.

<sup>11</sup> And of whom hast thou been afraid, and fearest, That thou liest, and Me hast not remembered? Thou hast not laid [it] to thy heart, Am not I silent, even from of old? And Me thou fearest not?

<sup>13</sup> When thou criest, let thy gatherings deliver thee, And all of them carry away doth wind, Take away doth vanity, And whoso is trusting in Me inheriteth the land, And doth possess My holy mountain.

<sup>14</sup> And he hath said, 'Raise up, raise up, prepare a way, Lift a stumbling-block out of the way of My people.'

<sup>15</sup> For thus said the high and exalted One, Inhabiting eternity, and holy [is] His name: 'In the high and holy place I dwell, And with the bruised and humble of spirit, To revive the spirit of the humble, And to revive the heart of bruised ones,'

<sup>16</sup> For, not to the age do I strive, nor for ever am I wroth, For the spirit from before Me is feeble, And the souls I have made.

<sup>17</sup> For the iniquity of his dishonest gain, I have been wroth, and I smite him, Hiding — and am wroth, And he goeth on turning back in the way of his heart.

<sup>18</sup> His ways I have seen, and I heal him, yea, I lead him, And recompense comforts to him and to his mourning ones.

<sup>19</sup> Producing the fruit of the lips, 'Peace, peace,' to the far off, and to the near, And I have healed him, said Jehovah.

<sup>20</sup> And the wicked [are] as the driven out sea, For to rest it is not able, And its waters cast out filth and mire.

<sup>21</sup> There is no peace, said my God, to the wicked!

58

<sup>1</sup> Call with the throat, restrain not, As a trumpet lift up thy voice, And declare to My people their transgression, And to the house of Jacob their sins;

<sup>2</sup> Seeing — Me day by day they seek, And the knowledge of My ways they desire, As a nation that righteousness hath done, And the judgment of its God hath not forsaken, They ask of me judgments of righteousness, The drawing near of God they desire:

<sup>3</sup> 'Why have we fasted, and Thou hast not seen? We have afflicted our soul, and Thou knowest not.' Lo, in the day of your fast ye find pleasure, And all your labours ye exact.

<sup>4</sup> Lo, for strife and debate ye fast, And to smite with the fist of wickedness, Ye fast not as [to] -day, To sound in the high place your voice.

<sup>6</sup> Is not this the fast that I chose — To loose the bands of wickedness, To shake off the burdens of the yoke, And to send out the oppressed free, And every yoke ye draw off?

<sup>7</sup> Is it not to deal to the hungry thy bread, And the mourning poor bring home, That thou seest the naked and cover him, And from thine own flesh hide not thyself?

<sup>9</sup> Then thou callest, and Jehovah answereth, Thou criest, and He saith, 'Behold Me.' If thou turn aside from thy midst the yoke, The sending forth of the finger, And the speaking of vanity, <sup>10</sup> And dost bring out to the hungry thy soul, And the afflicted soul dost satisfy, Then risen in the darkness hath thy light, And thy thick darkness [is] as noon.

<sup>11</sup> And Jehovah doth lead thee continually, And hath satisfied in drought thy soul, And thy bones He armeth, And thou hast been as a watered garden, And as an outlet of waters, whose waters lie not.

<sup>13</sup> If thou dost turn from the sabbath thy foot, Doing thine own pleasure on My holy day, And hast cried to the sabbath, 'A delight,' To the holy of Jehovah, 'Honoured,' And hast honoured it, without doing thine own ways, Without finding thine own pleasure, And speaking a word.

<sup>14</sup> Then dost thou delight thyself on Jehovah, And I have caused thee to ride on high places of earth, And have caused thee to eat the inheritance of Jacob thy father, For the mouth of Jehovah hath spoken!

59

<sup>2</sup> But your iniquities have been separating Between you and your God, And your sins have hidden The Presence from you — from hearing.

<sup>3</sup> For your hands have been polluted with blood, And your fingers with iniquity, Your lips have spoken falsehood, Your tongue perverseness doth mutter.

<sup>4</sup> There is none calling in righteousness, And there is none pleading in faithfulness, Trusting on emptiness, and speaking falsehood, Conceiving perverseness, and bearing iniquity.

<sup>8</sup> A way of peace they have not known, And there is no judgment in their paths, Their paths they have made perverse for themselves, No treader in it hath known peace.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore hath judgment been far from us, And righteousness reacheth us not, We wait for light, and lo, darkness, For brightness — in thick darkness we go, <sup>10</sup> We feel like the blind [for] the wall, Yea, as without eyes we feel, We have stumbled at noon as at twilight, In desolate places as the dead.

<sup>11</sup> We make a noise as bears — all of us, And as doves we coo sorely; We wait for judgment, and there is none, For salvation — it hath been far from us.

<sup>12</sup> For our transgressions have been multiplied before Thee, And our sins have testified against us, For our transgressions [are] with us, And our iniquities — we have known them.

<sup>14</sup> And removed backward is judgment, And righteousness afar off standeth, For truth hath been feeble in the street, And straightforwardness is not able to enter,

<sup>15</sup> And the truth is lacking, And whoso is turning aside from evil, Is making himself a spoil. And Jehovah seeth, and it is evil in His eyes, That there is no judgment.

<sup>16</sup> And He seeth that there is no man, And is astonished that there is no intercessor, And His own arm giveth salvation to Him, And His righteousness — it sustained Him.

<sup>17</sup> And He putteth on righteousness as a breastplate, And an helmet of salvation on His head, And He putteth on garments of vengeance [for] clothing, And is covered, as [with] an upper-robe, [with] zeal.

<sup>20</sup> And come to Zion hath a redeemer, Even to captives of transgression in Jacob, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>21</sup> And I — this [is] My covenant with them, said Jehovah, My Spirit that [is] on thee, And My words that I have put in thy mouth, Depart not from thy mouth, And from the mouth of thy seed, And from the mouth of thy seed's seed, said Jehovah, From henceforth unto the age!

60

<sup>4</sup> Lift up round about thine eyes and see, All of them have been gathered, they have come to thee, Thy sons from afar do come, And thy daughters on the side are supported.

<sup>5</sup> Then thou seest, and hast become bright, And thine heart hath been afraid and enlarged, For turn unto thee doth the multitude of the sea, The forces of nations do come to thee.

<sup>7</sup> All the flock of Kedar are gathered to thee, The rams of Nebaioth do serve thee, They ascend for acceptance Mine altar, And the house of My beauty I beautify.

<sup>8</sup> Who [are] these — as a thick cloud they fly, And as doves unto their windows?

<sup>9</sup> Surely for Me isles do wait, And ships of Tarshish first, To bring thy sons from afar, Their silver and their gold with them, To the name of Jehovah thy God, And to the Holy One of Israel, Because He hath beautified thee.

<sup>10</sup> And sons of a stranger have built thy walls, And their kings do serve thee, For in My wrath I have smitten thee, And in My good pleasure I have pitied thee.

<sup>11</sup> And opened have thy gates continually, By day and by night they are not shut, To bring unto thee the force of nations, Even their kings are led.

<sup>12</sup> For the nation and the kingdom that do not serve thee perish, Yea, the nations are utterly wasted.

<sup>13</sup> The honour of Lebanon unto thee doth come, Fir, pine, and box together, To beautify the place of My sanctuary, And the place of My feet I make honourable.

<sup>14</sup> And come unto thee, bowing down, Have sons of those afflicting thee, And bowed themselves to the soles of thy feet Have all despising thee, And they have cried to thee: 'City of Jehovah, Zion of the Holy One of Israel.'

<sup>15</sup> Instead of thy being forsaken and hated, And none passing through, I have made thee for an excellency age-during, A joy of generation and generation.

<sup>17</sup> Instead of the brass I bring in gold, And instead of the iron I bring in silver, And instead of the wood brass, And instead of the stone iron, And I have made thy inspection peace, And thy exactors righteousness.

<sup>21</sup> And thy people [are] all of them righteous, To the age they possess the earth, A branch of My planting, A work of My hands, to be beautified.

<sup>22</sup> The little one doth become a chief, And the small one a mighty nation, I, Jehovah, in its own time do hasten it!

61

<sup>1</sup> The Spirit of the Lord Jehovah [is] on me, Because Jehovah did anoint me To proclaim tidings to the humble, He sent me to bind the broken of heart, To proclaim to captives liberty, And to bound ones an opening of bands.

<sup>2</sup> To proclaim the year of the good pleasure of Jehovah, And the day of vengeance of our God, To comfort all mourners.

<sup>3</sup> To appoint to mourners in Zion, To give to them beauty instead of ashes, The oil of joy instead of mourning, A covering of praise for a spirit of weakness, And He is calling to them, 'Trees of righteousness, The planting of Jehovah – to be beautified.'

<sup>4</sup> And they have built the wastes of old, The desolations of the ancients they raise up, And they have renewed waste cities, The desolations of generation and generation.

<sup>5</sup> And strangers have stood and fed your flock, Sons of a foreigner [are] your husbandmen, And your vine-dressers.

<sup>6</sup> And ye are called 'Priests of Jehovah,' 'Ministers of our God,' is said of you, The strength of nations ye consume, And in their honour ye do boast yourselves.

<sup>10</sup> I greatly rejoice in Jehovah, Joy doth my soul in my God, For He clothed me with garments of salvation, With a robe of righteousness covereth Me, As a bridegroom prepareth ornaments, And as a bride putteth on her jewels.

62

<sup>2</sup> And nations have seen thy righteousness, And all kings thine honour, And He is giving to thee a new name, That the mouth of Jehovah doth define.

<sup>3</sup> And thou hast been a crown of beauty in the hand of Jehovah, And a diadem of royalty in the hand of thy God, <sup>4</sup> It is not said of thee any more, 'Forsaken!' And of thy land it is not said any more, 'Desolate,' For to thee is cried, 'My delight [is] in her,' And to thy land, 'Married,' For Jehovah hath delighted in thee, And thy land is married.

<sup>6</sup> 'On thy walls, O Jerusalem, I have appointed watchmen, All the day, and all the night, Continually, they are not silent.' O ye remembrancers of Jehovah, Keep not silence for yourselves, <sup>7</sup> And give not silence to Him, Till He establish, and till He make Jerusalem A praise in the earth.

<sup>12</sup> And they have cried to them, 'People of the Holy One, Redeemed of Jehovah,' Yea, to thee is called, 'Sought out one, a city not forsaken!'

63

<sup>3</sup> — 'A wine-press I have trodden by myself, And of the peoples there is no one with me, And I tread them in mine anger, And I trample them in my fury, Sprinkled is their strength on my garments, And all my clothing I have polluted.

<sup>4</sup> For the day of vengeance [is] in my heart, And the year of my redeemed hath come.

<sup>5</sup> And I look attentively, and there is none helping, And I am astonished that there is none supporting, And give salvation to me doth mine own arm. And my wrath — it hath supported me.

<sup>6</sup> And I tread down peoples in mine anger, And I make them drunk in my fury, And I bring down to earth their strength.

<sup>7</sup> The kind acts of Jehovah I make mention of, The praises of Jehovah, According to all that Jehovah hath done for us, And the abundance of the goodness to the house of Israel, That He hath done for them, According to His mercies, And according to the abundance of His kind acts.

<sup>8</sup> And He saith, Only My people they [are], Sons — they lie not, and He is to them for a saviour.

<sup>9</sup> In all their distress [He is] no adversary, And the messenger of His presence saved them, In His love and in His pity He redeemed them, And He doth lift them up, And beareth them all the days of old.

<sup>10</sup> And they have rebelled and grieved His Holy Spirit, And He turneth to them for an enemy, He Himself hath fought against them.

<sup>11</sup> And He remembereth the days of old, Moses — his people. Where [is] He who is bringing them up from the sea, The shepherd of his flock? Where [is] He who is putting in its midst His Holy Spirit?

<sup>14</sup> As a beast into a valley goeth down, The Spirit of Jehovah causeth him to rest, So hast Thou led Thy people, To make to Thyself a glorious name.

<sup>16</sup> For Thou [art] our Father, For Abraham hath not known us, And Israel doth not acknowledge us, Thou, O Jehovah, [art] our Father, Our redeemer from the age, [is] Thy name.

64

<sup>4</sup> Even from antiquity [men] have not heard, They have not given ear, Eye hath not seen a God save Thee, He doth work for those waiting for Him.

<sup>5</sup> Thou hast met with the rejoicer And the doer of righteousness, In Thy ways they remember Thee, Lo, Thou hast been wroth when we sin, By them [is] continuance, and we are saved.

<sup>6</sup> And we are as unclean — all of us, And as a garment passing away, all our righteous acts; And we fade as a leaf — all of us. And our iniquities as wind do take us away.

<sup>7</sup> And there is none calling in Thy name, Stirring up himself to lay hold on Thee, For Thou hast hid Thy face from us, And thou meltest us away by our iniquities.

<sup>8</sup> And now, O Jehovah, thou [art] our Father, We [are] the clay, and Thou our Framer, And the work of Thy hand — all of us.

<sup>10</sup> Thy holy cities have been a wilderness, Zion a wilderness hath been, Jerusalem a desolation.

65

<sup>1</sup> I have been inquired of by those who asked not, I have been found by those who sought Me not, I have said, 'Behold Me, behold Me,' Unto a nation not calling in My name.

<sup>2</sup> I have spread out My hands all the day Unto an apostate people, Who are going in the way not good after their own thoughts.

<sup>4</sup> Who are dwelling among sepulchres, And lodge in reserved places, Who are eating flesh of the sow, And a piece of abominable things — their vessels.

<sup>5</sup> Who are saying, 'Keep to thyself, come not nigh to me, For I have declared thee unholy.' These [are] a smoke in Mine anger, A fire burning all the day.

<sup>6</sup> Lo, it is written before Me: 'I am not silent, but have recompensed; And I have recompensed into their bosom,

<sup>7</sup> Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, said Jehovah, Who have made perfume on the mountains, And on the heights have reproached Me, And I have measured their former work into their bosom.'

<sup>8</sup> Thus said Jehovah: As the new wine is found in the cluster, And one hath said, 'Destroy it not for a blessing [is] in it,' So I do for My servants' sake, not to destroy the whole.

<sup>9</sup> And I have brought out from Jacob a seed, And from Judah a possessor of My mount, And possess it do My chosen ones, And My servants do dwell there.

<sup>10</sup> And Sharon hath been for the habitation of a flock, And the valley of Achor for the lying down of a herd, For My people who have sought Me.

<sup>11</sup> And ye [are] those forsaking Jehovah, Who are forgetting My holy mountain, Who are setting in array for Gad a table, And who are filling for Meni a mixture.

<sup>12</sup> And I have numbered you for the sword, And all of you for slaughter bow down, Because I called, and ye have not answered, I have spoken, and ye have not hearkened, And ye do the evil thing in Mine eyes, And on that which I desired not — fixed.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, My servants do eat, and ye do hunger, Lo, My servants do drink, and ye do thirst, Lo, My servants rejoice, and ye are ashamed, <sup>14</sup> Lo, My servants sing from joy of heart, And ye cry from pain of heart, And from breaking of spirit ye do howl.

<sup>15</sup> And ye have left your name For an oath for My chosen ones, And the Lord Jehovah hath put thee to death, And to His servants He giveth another name.

<sup>16</sup> So that he who is blessing himself in the earth, Doth bless himself In the God of faithfulness, And he who is swearing in the earth, Doth swear by the God of faithfulness, Because the former distresses have been forgotten, And because they have been hid from Mine eyes.

<sup>17</sup> For, lo, I am creating new heavens, and a new earth, And the former things are not remembered, Nor do they ascend on the heart.

<sup>18</sup> But joy ye, and rejoice for ever, that I [am] Creator, For, lo, I am creating Jerusalem a rejoicing, And her people a joy.

<sup>19</sup> And I have rejoiced in Jerusalem, And have joyed in My people, And not heard in her any more Is the voice of weeping, and the voice of crying.

<sup>20</sup> There is not thence any more a suckling of days, And an aged man who doth not complete his days, For the youth a hundred years old dieth, And the sinner, a hundred years old, is lightly esteemed.

<sup>21</sup> And they have built houses, and inhabited, And planted vineyards, and eaten their fruit.

<sup>23</sup> They labour not for a vain thing, Nor do they bring forth for trouble, For the seed of the blessed of Jehovah [are] they, And their offspring with them.

<sup>24</sup> And it hath come to pass, They do not yet call, and I answer, They are yet speaking, and I hear.

<sup>25</sup> Wolf and lamb do feed as one, And a lion as an ox eateth straw, As to the serpent — dust [is] its food, They do no evil, nor destroy, In all My holy mountain, said Jehovah!

66

<sup>1</sup> Thus said Jehovah: The heavens [are] My throne, And the earth My footstool, Where [is] this — the house that ye build for Me? And where [is] this — the place — My rest?

<sup>2</sup> And all these My hand hath made, And all these things are, An affirmation of Jehovah! And unto this one I look attentively, Unto the humble and bruised in spirit, And who is trembling at My word.

<sup>3</sup> Whoso slaughtereth the ox smiteth a man, Whoso sacrificeth the lamb beheadeth a dog, Whoso is bringing up a present — The blood of a sow, Whoso is making mention of frankincense, Is blessing iniquity. Yea, they have fixed on their own ways, And in their abominations their soul hath delighted.

<sup>4</sup> I also — I fix on their vexations, And their fears I bring in to them, Because I have called, and there is none answering, I spake, and they have not hearkened, And they do the evil things in Mine eyes, And on that which I desired not — fixed.

<sup>5</sup> Hear a word of Jehovah, Ye who are trembling unto His word, Said have your brethren who are hating you, Who are driving you out, for My name's sake: 'Honoured is Jehovah, and we look on your joy,' But they are ashamed.

<sup>8</sup> Who hath heard anything like this? Who hath seen anything like these? Is earth caused to bring forth in one day? Born is a nation at once? For she hath been pained, Zion also hath borne her sons.

<sup>9</sup> 'Do I bring to the birth, And not cause to bring forth?' saith Jehovah, 'Am not I He who is causing to beget? I have also restrained,' said thy God.

<sup>11</sup> So that ye suck, and have been satisfied, From the breast of her consolations, So that ye wring out, and have delighted yourselves From the abundance of her honour.

<sup>12</sup> For thus said Jehovah: 'Lo, I am stretching out to her peace as a river, And as an overflowing stream the honour of nations, And ye have sucked, on the side ye are carried, And on the knees ye are dandled.

<sup>13</sup> As one whom his mother comforteth, so do I comfort you, Yea, in Jerusalem ye are comforted.

<sup>18</sup> And I — their works and their thoughts, I come to gather all the nations and tongues, And they have come and seen My honour.

<sup>19</sup> And I have set among them a sign, And have sent out of them those escaping unto the nations, (Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, drawing bow, Tubal and Javan, the isles that are far off,) Who have not heard My fame, nor seen Mine honour, And they have declared Mine honour among nations.

<sup>20</sup> And they have brought all your brethren out of all the nations, A present to Jehovah, On horses, and on chariot, and on litters, And on mules, and on dromedaries, Unto My holy mountain Jerusalem, said Jehovah, As the sons of Israel bring the present in a clean vessel, Into the house of Jehovah.

<sup>21</sup> And also of them I take for priests, For Levites, said Jehovah.

<sup>22</sup> For, as the new heavens and the new earth that I am making, Are standing before Me, An affirmation of Jehovah! So remain doth your seed and your name.

<sup>23</sup> And it hath been from month to month, And from sabbath to sabbath, Come do all flesh to bow themselves before Me, Said Jehovah.

<sup>24</sup> And they have gone forth, And looked on the carcasses of the men Who are transgressing against me, For their worm dieth not, And their fire is not quenched, And they have been an abhorrence to all flesh!

The Book of the Prophet Jeremiah

<sup>1</sup> Words of Jeremiah son of Hilkiah, of the priests who [are] in Anathoth, in the land of Benjamin,

<sup>2</sup> unto whom the word of Jehovah hath been in the days of Josiah son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign,

<sup>3</sup> and it is in the days of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah, till the completion of the eleventh year of Zedekiah son of Josiah, king of Judah, till the removal of Jerusalem in the fifth month.

<sup>4</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,

<sup>5</sup> 'Before I form thee in the belly, I have known thee; and before thou comest forth from the womb I have separated thee, a prophet to nations I have made thee.'

<sup>6</sup> And I say, 'Ah, Lord Jehovah! lo, I have not known — to speak, for I [am] a youth.'

<sup>7</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me, 'Do not say, I [am] a youth, for to all to whom I send thee thou goest, and all that I command thee thou speakest.

<sup>8</sup> Be not afraid of their faces, for with thee [am] I to deliver thee, — an affirmation of Jehovah.'

<sup>9</sup> And Jehovah putteth forth His hand, and striketh against my mouth, and Jehovah saith unto me, 'Lo, I have put my words in thy mouth.

<sup>10</sup> See, I have charged thee this day concerning the nations, and concerning the kingdoms, to pluck up, and to break down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant.'

<sup>12</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me, 'Thou hast well seen: for I am watching over My word to do it.'

<sup>13</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me a second time, saying, 'What art thou seeing?' And I say, 'A blown pot I am seeing, and its face [is] from the north.'

<sup>14</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me, 'From the north is the evil loosed against all inhabitants of the land.

<sup>15</sup> For, lo, I am calling for all families of the kingdoms of the north, — an affirmation of Jehovah — and they have come, and put each his throne at the opening of the gates of Jerusalem, and by its walls round about, and by all cities of Judah.

<sup>16</sup> And I have spoken My judgments with them concerning all their evil, in that they have forsaken Me, and make perfume to other gods, and bow themselves to the works of their own hands.

<sup>17</sup> 'And thou, thou dost gird up thy loins, and hast arisen, and spoken unto them all that I command thee: be not affrighted because of them, lest I affright thee before them.

<sup>18</sup> And I, lo, I have given thee this day for a fenced city, and for an iron pillar, and for brazen walls over all the land, to the kings of Judah, to its heads, to its priests, and to the people of the land;

<sup>19</sup> and they have fought against thee, and they prevail not against thee; for with thee [am] I, — an affirmation of Jehovah — to deliver thee.

<sup>2</sup> 'Go, and thou hast called in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus said Jehovah: I have remembered for thee The kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, Thy going after Me in a wilderness, in a land not sown.

<sup>4</sup> Hear a word of Jehovah, O house of Jacob, And all ye families of the house of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> Thus said Jehovah: What — have your fathers found in Me perversity, That they have gone far off from Me, And go after the vanity, and become vain,

<sup>6</sup> And have not said, Where [is] Jehovah, Who bringeth us up out of the land of Egypt, Who leadeth us in a wilderness, In a land of deserts and pits, In a dry land, and of death-shade, In a land — none hath passed through it, Nor dwelt hath man there?'

<sup>7</sup> Yea, I bring you in to a land of fruitful fields, To eat its fruit and its goodness, And ye come in and defile My land, And Mine inheritance have made an abomination.

<sup>8</sup> The priests have not said, 'Where [is] Jehovah?' And those handling the law have not known Me. And the shepherds transgressed against Me, And the prophets have prophesied by Baal, And after those who profit not have gone.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore, yet I plead with you, An affirmation of Jehovah, And with your sons' sons I plead.

<sup>10</sup> For, pass to the isles of Chittim, and see, And to Kedar send, and consider well, And see if there hath been like this:

<sup>18</sup> And now, what — to thee in the way of Egypt, To drink the waters of Sihor? And what — to thee in the way of Asshur, To drink the waters of the River?

<sup>19</sup> Instruct thee doth thy wickedness, And thy backslidings reprove thee, Know and see that an evil and a bitter thing [Is] thy forsaking Jehovah thy God, And My fear not being on thee, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>21</sup> And I planted thee a choice vine, wholly a true seed, And how hast thou been turned to Me, To the degenerate shoots of a strange vine?

<sup>26</sup> As the shame of a thief when he is found, So put to shame have been the house of Israel, They, their kings, their heads, And their priests, and their prophets,

<sup>27</sup> Saying to wood, 'My father [art] thou!' And to a stone, 'Thou hast brought me forth,' For they turned unto me the back and not the face, And in the time of their vexation, They say, 'Arise Thou, and save us.'

<sup>28</sup> And where [are] thy gods, that thou hast made to thyself? Let them arise, if they may save thee, In the time of thy vexation, For — the number of thy cities have been thy gods, O Judah, <sup>29</sup> Why do ye strive with Me? All of you have transgressed against Me, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>30</sup> In vain I have smitten your sons, Instruction they have not accepted, Devoured hath your sword your prophets, As a destroying lion.

<sup>31</sup> O generation, see ye the word of Jehovah: A wilderness have I been to Israel? A land of thick darkness? Wherefore have My people said, 'We mourned, We come not in again unto Thee.'

<sup>33</sup> What — dost thou make pleasing thy ways to seek love? Therefore even the wicked thou hast taught thy ways.

3

<sup>1</sup> Saying, 'Lo, one sendeth away his wife, And she hath gone from him, And she hath been to another man, Doth he turn back unto her again? Greatly defiled is not that land? And thou hast committed whoredom with many lovers, And turn again to Me, an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>2</sup> Lift thine eyes to the high places, and see, Where hast thou not been lain with? On the ways thou hast sat for them, As an Arab in a wilderness, And thou defilest the land, By thy fornications, and by thy wickedness.

<sup>4</sup> Hast thou not henceforth called to Me, 'My father, Thou [art] the leader of my youth?

<sup>5</sup> Doth He keep to the age? watch for ever?' Lo, these things thou hast spoken, And thou dost the evil things, and prevailest.

<sup>6</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me, in the days of Josiah the king, 'Hast thou seen that which backsliding Israel hath done? She is going on every high mountain, and unto the place of every green tree, and committeth fornication there.

<sup>7</sup> And I say, after her doing all these, Unto Me thou dost turn back, and she hath not turned back, and see [it] doth her treacherous sister Judah.

<sup>8</sup> And I see when (for all the causes whereby backsliding Israel committed adultery) I have sent her away, and I give the bill of her divorce unto her, that treacherous Judah her sister hath not feared, and goeth and committeth fornication — she also.

<sup>9</sup> And it hath come to pass, from the vileness of her fornication, that the land is defiled, and she committeth fornication with stone and with wood.

<sup>12</sup> Go, and thou hast proclaimed these words toward the north, and hast said, Turn back, O backsliding Israel, An affirmation of Jehovah! I cause not Mine anger to fall upon you, For I [am] kind, an affirmation of Jehovah, I watch not to the age.

<sup>13</sup> Only, know thine iniquity, For against Jehovah thy God thou hast transgressed, And thou dost scatter thy ways to strangers, Under every green tree, And to My voice thou hast not hearkened, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>14</sup> Turn back, O backsliding sons, An affirmation of Jehovah. For I have ruled over you, And taken you one of a city, and two of a family, And have brought you to Zion, <sup>15</sup> And I have given to you shepherds According to Mine own heart, And they have fed you with knowledge and understanding.

<sup>16</sup> And it hath come to pass, when ye are multiplied, And have been fruitful in the land, In those days — an affirmation of Jehovah, They say not any more, 'The ark of the covenant of Jehovah,' Nor doth it go up on the heart, Nor do they remember concerning it, Nor do they inspect, nor is it made again.

<sup>17</sup> At that time they cry to Jerusalem, 'O throne of Jehovah,' And gathered unto her hath been all the nations, For the name of Jehovah, to Jerusalem, Nor do they go any more after the stubbornness of their evil heart.

<sup>18</sup> In those days do the house of Judah Go unto the house of Israel, And they come together from the land of the south, unto the land That I caused your fathers to inherit.

<sup>19</sup> And I have said, How do I put thee among the sons, And give to thee a desirable land, A beauteous inheritance of the hosts of nations, And I say, My father — ye do call to Me, And from after Me ye do not turn back.

<sup>21</sup> A voice on high places is heard — weeping, Supplications of the sons of Israel, For they have made perverse their way, They have forgotten Jehovah their God.

<sup>22</sup> Turn back, O backsliding sons, I cause your backslidings to cease. — Behold us, we have come to Thee, For Thou [art] Jehovah our God.

<sup>23</sup> Surely in vain from the heights, The multitude of mountains — Surely in Jehovah our God [is] the salvation of Israel.

<sup>24</sup> And the shameful thing hath devoured The labour of our fathers from our youth, Their flock and their herd, Their sons and their daughters.

<sup>25</sup> We have lain down in our shame, and cover us doth our confusion, For against Jehovah our God we have sinned, We, and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day, Nor have we hearkened to the voice of Jehovah our God!

4

<sup>2</sup> And thou hast sworn — Jehovah liveth, In truth, in judgment, and in righteousness, And blessed themselves in Him have nations, And in Him they boast themselves.

<sup>3</sup> For thus said Jehovah, To the man of Judah, and to Jerusalem: Till for yourselves tillage, And do not sow unto the thorns.

<sup>4</sup> Be circumcised to Jehovah, And turn aside the foreskins of your heart, O man of Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem, Lest My fury go out as fire, and hath burned, And there is none quenching, Because of the evil of your doings.

<sup>6</sup> Lift up an ensign Zionward, Strengthen yourselves, stand not still, For evil I am bringing in from the north, And a great destruction.

<sup>8</sup> For this, gird on sackcloth, lament and howl, For the fierce anger of Jehovah hath not turned back from us.

<sup>9</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, An affirmation of Jehovah: 'Perish doth the heart of the king, And the heart of the princes, And astonished have been the priests, And the prophets do wonder.'

<sup>10</sup> And I say, 'Ah, Lord Jehovah, Surely thou hast entirely forgotten this people and Jerusalem, saying, Peace is for you, And struck hath a sword unto the soul!'

<sup>11</sup> At that time it is said of this people, And of Jerusalem: 'A dry wind of high places in the wilderness,' The way of the daughter of My people, (Not for winnowing, nor for cleansing,)

<sup>12</sup> A full wind from these doth come for Me, Now, also, I speak judgments with them.

<sup>13</sup> Lo, as clouds he cometh up, And as a hurricane his chariots, Lighter than eagles have been his horses, Woe to us, for we have been spoiled.

<sup>18</sup> Thy way and thy doings have done these to thee, This [is] thy vexation, for [it is] bitter, For it hath struck unto thy heart.

<sup>19</sup> My bowels, my bowels! I am pained [at] the walls of my heart, Make a noise for me doth My heart, I am not silent, For the voice of a trumpet I have heard, O my soul — a shout of battle!

<sup>22</sup> For my people [are] foolish, me they have not known, Foolish sons [are] they, yea, they [are] not intelligent, Wise [are] they to do evil, And to do good they have not known.

<sup>23</sup> I looked [to] the land, and lo, waste and void, And unto the heavens, and their light is not.

<sup>24</sup> I have looked [to] the mountains, And lo, they are trembling. And all the hills moved themselves lightly.

<sup>26</sup> I have looked, and lo, The fruitful place [is] a wilderness, And all its cities have been broken down, Because of Jehovah, Because of the fierceness of His anger.

<sup>27</sup> For thus said Jehovah: All the land is a desolation, but a completion I make not.

<sup>28</sup> For this doth the land mourn, And black have been the heavens above, because I have spoken — I have purposed, And I have not repented, Nor do I turn back from it.

<sup>29</sup> From the voice of the horseman, And of him shooting with the bow, all the city is fleeing, They have come into thickets, And on cliffs they have gone up, All the city is forsaken, And there is no one dwelling in them.

<sup>31</sup> For a voice as of a sick woman I have heard, Distress, as of one bringing forth a first-born, The voice of the daughter of Zion, She bewaileth herself, she spreadeth out her hands, 'Woe to me now, for weary is my soul of slayers!'

5

<sup>1</sup> Go to and fro in streets of Jerusalem, And see, I pray you, and know, And seek in her broad places, if ye find a man, If there be one doing judgment, seeking stedfastness — Then am I propitious to her.

<sup>3</sup> Jehovah, Thine eyes, are they not on stedfastness? Thou hast smitten them, and they have not grieved, Thou hast consumed them, They have refused to receive instruction, They made their faces harder than a rock, They have refused to turn back.

<sup>4</sup> And I — I said, 'Surely these [are] poor, They have been foolish, For they have not known the way of Jehovah, The judgment of their God.

<sup>5</sup> I get me to the great, and I speak with them, For they have known the way of Jehovah, The judgment of their God.' Surely they together have broken the yoke, They have drawn away the bands.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore smitten them hath a lion out of the forest, A wolf of the deserts doth spoil them, A leopard is watching over their cities, Every one who is going out of them is torn, For many have been their transgressions, Mighty have been their backslidings.

<sup>7</sup> For this I am not propitious to thee, Thy sons have forsaken Me, And are satisfied by that which is not god, I satisfy them, and they commit adultery, And at the house of a harlot They gather themselves together.

<sup>11</sup> For dealt treacherously against Me have the house of Israel, And the house of Judah, an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> They have lied against Jehovah, And they say, '[It is] not He, Nor come in against us doth evil, Yea, sword and famine we do not see.

<sup>13</sup> And the prophets become wind, And the word is not in them,' — thus it is done by them.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah, God of Hosts, Because of your speaking this word, Lo, I am making My words in thy mouth become fire, And this people wood, and it hath devoured them.

<sup>19</sup> And it hath come to pass, when ye say, 'For what hath Jehovah our God done to us all these?' That thou hast said unto them, 'As ye have forsaken Me, And serve the gods of a foreigner in your land, So do ye serve strangers in a land not yours.

<sup>20</sup> Declare ye this in the house of Jacob, And sound ye it in Judah, saying,

<sup>21</sup> Hear ye, I pray you, this, O people, foolish and without heart, Eyes they have, and they see not, Ears they have, and they hear not.

<sup>22</sup> Me do ye not fear, an affirmation of Jehovah? From My presence are ye not pained? Who hath made sand the border of the sea, A limit age-during, and it passeth not over it, They shake themselves, and they are not able, Yea, sounded have its billows, and they pass not over.

<sup>23</sup> And this people hath an apostate and rebellious heart, They have turned aside, and they go on.

<sup>24</sup> And they have not said in their heart, 'Let us fear, we pray you, Jehovah our God, who is giving rain, The sprinkling and the gathered, in its season, The appointed weeks of harvest He keepeth for us.'

<sup>26</sup> For the wicked have been found among My people. It looketh about the covering of snares, They have set up a trap — men they capture.

<sup>27</sup> As a cage full of fowls, So their houses are full of deceit, Therefore they have been great, and are rich.

<sup>28</sup> They have been fat, they have shone, Yea, they have overpassed the acts of the evil, Judgment they have not judged, The judgment of the fatherless — and they prosper, And the judgment of the needy they have not judged.

<sup>31</sup> The prophets have prophesied falsely, And the priests bear rule by their means, And My people have loved [it] so, And what do they at its latter end?

<sup>5</sup> 'Rise, and we go up by night, And we destroy her palaces.'

<sup>8</sup> Be instructed, O Jerusalem, Lest My soul be alienated from thee, Lest I make thee a desolation, a land not inhabited.

<sup>9</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: They surely glean, as a vine, the remnant of Israel, Put back thy hand, as a gatherer to the baskets.

<sup>10</sup> To whom do I speak, and testify, and they hear? Lo, their ear [is] uncircumcised, And they are not able to attend. Lo, a word of Jehovah hath been to them for a reproach, They delight not in it.

<sup>13</sup> For from their least unto their greatest, Every one is gaining dishonest gain, And from prophet even unto priest, Every one is dealing falsely,

<sup>14</sup> And they heal the breach of the daughter of my people slightly, Saying, 'Peace, peace!' and there is no peace.

<sup>15</sup> They were ashamed when they did abomination! Yea, they are not at all ashamed, Yea, blushing they have not known, Therefore they do fall among those falling, In the time I have inspected them, They stumble, said Jehovah.

<sup>19</sup> Hear, O earth, lo, I am bringing evil on this people, The fruit of their devices, For to My words they gave no attention, And My law — they kick against it.

<sup>24</sup> 'We have heard its sound, feeble have been our hands, Distress hath seized us, pain as of a travailing woman.

<sup>25</sup> Go not forth to the field, And in the way walk not, For a sword hath the enemy, fear [is] round about.

<sup>27</sup> A watch-tower I have given thee, Among My people a fortress, And thou knowest, and hast tried their way.

<sup>28</sup> All of them are turned aside by apostates, Walking slanderously — brass and iron, All of them are corrupters.

<sup>29</sup> The bellows have been burnt, By fire hath the lead been consumed, In vain hath a refiner refined, And the wicked have not been drawn away.

<sup>2</sup> Stand in the gate of the house of Jehovah, and thou hast proclaimed there this word, and hast said, Hear a word of Jehovah, all ye of Judah, who are coming in at these gates, to bow before Jehovah:

<sup>3</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, Amend your ways, and your doings, And I cause you to dwell in this place.

<sup>4</sup> Do not trust for yourselves Unto the words of falsehood, saying, The temple of Jehovah, the temple of Jehovah, The temple of Jehovah [are] they!

<sup>5</sup> For, if ye do thoroughly amend your ways and your doings, If ye do judgment thoroughly Between a man and his neighbour,

<sup>7</sup> Then I have caused you to dwell in this place, In the land that I gave to your fathers, From age even unto age.

<sup>8</sup> Lo, ye are trusting for yourselves On the words of falsehood, so as not to profit.

<sup>9</sup> Stealing, murdering, and committing adultery, And swearing to falsehood, and giving perfume to Baal, And going after other gods whom ye knew not.

<sup>10</sup> And ye have come in and stood before Me, In this house on which My name is called, And have said, 'We have been delivered,' In order to do all these abominations.

<sup>11</sup> A den of burglars hath this house, On which My name is called, been in your eyes? Even I, lo, I have seen, an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> But go ye, I pray you, Unto My place that [is] in Shiloh, Where I caused My name to dwell at first, And see that which I have done to it, For the wickedness of My people Israel.

<sup>13</sup> And now, because of your doing all these works, An affirmation of Jehovah, And I speak unto you, rising early and speaking, And ye have not hearkened, And I call you, and ye have not answered,

<sup>14</sup> I also to the house on which My name is called, In which ye are trusting, And to the place that I gave to you, and to your fathers, Have done, as I have done to Shiloh.

<sup>15</sup> And I have cast you from before My face, As I have cast out all your brethren, The whole seed of Ephraim.

<sup>16</sup> And thou dost not pray for this people, Nor lift up for them crying and prayer, Nor intercede with Me, for I hear thee not.

<sup>17</sup> Art thou not seeing what they are doing In cities of Judah, and in streets of Jerusalem?

<sup>18</sup> The sons are gathering wood, And the fathers are causing the fire to burn, And the women are kneading dough, To make cakes to the queen of the heavens, And to pour out libations to other gods, So as to provoke Me to anger.

<sup>19</sup> Me are they provoking to anger? an affirmation of Jehovah, Is it not themselves, For the shame of their own faces?

<sup>20</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah, Lo, Mine anger and My fury is poured out on this place, On man, and beast, and on tree of the field, And on fruit of the ground, And it hath burned, and it is not quenched.

<sup>21</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, Your burnt-offerings add to your sacrifices, And eat ye flesh.

<sup>22</sup> For I did not speak with your fathers, Nor did I command them in the day of My bringing them out of the land of Egypt, Concerning the matters of burnt-offering and sacrifice,

<sup>23</sup> But this thing I commanded them, saying: Hearken to My voice, And I have been to you for God, And ye — ye are to Me for a people, And have walked in all the way that I command you, So that it is well for you.

<sup>24</sup> And they have not hearkened, nor inclined their ear, And they walk in the counsels, In the stubbornness, of their evil heart, And are for backward, and not for forward.

<sup>25</sup> Even from the day when your fathers Went out of the land of Egypt till this day, I send to you all my servants the prophets, Daily rising early and sending, <sup>26</sup> And they have not hearkened unto Me, Nor inclined their ear, and harden their neck, They have done evil above their fathers.

<sup>27</sup> And thou hast spoken unto them all these words, And they do not hearken to thee, And thou hast called unto them, And they do not answer thee.

<sup>28</sup> And thou hast said unto them: This [is] the nation that hath not hearkened, To the voice of Jehovah its God, Nor have they accepted instruction, Perished hath steadfastness, Yea, it hath been cut off from their mouth.

<sup>29</sup> Cut off thy crown, and cast [it] away, And lift up on high places lamentation, For Jehovah hath rejected, And He leaveth the generation of His wrath.

<sup>30</sup> For the sons of Judah Have done the evil thing in Mine eyes, An affirmation of Jehovah, They have set their abominations in the house On which My name is called – to defile it,

<sup>31</sup> And have built the high places of Tophet, That [are] in the valley of the son of Hinnom, To burn their sons and their daughters with fire, Which I did not command, Nor did it come up on My heart.

<sup>32</sup> Therefore, lo, days are coming, An affirmation of Jehovah, And it is not said any more, 'The Tophet,' And 'Valley of the son of Hinnom,' But 'Valley of the slaughter,' And they have buried in Tophet – without place.

<sup>33</sup> And the carcase of this people hath been for food To a fowl of the heavens, and to a beast of the earth, And there is none troubling.

8

<sup>1</sup> At that time, an affirmation of Jehovah, They bring the bones of the kings of Judah, And the bones of its princes, And the bones of the priests, And the bones of the prophets, And the bones of inhabitants of Jerusalem, Out of their graves,

<sup>2</sup> And have spread them to sun, and to moon, And to all the host of the heavens, that they have loved, And that they have served, And that they have walked after, And that they have sought, And to which they have bowed themselves, They are not gathered, nor buried, They are for dung on the face of the ground.

<sup>7</sup> Even a stork in the heavens hath known her seasons, And turtle, and swallow, and crane, Have watched the time of their coming, And – My people have not known the judgment of Jehovah.

<sup>8</sup> How do ye say, We [are] wise, And the law of Jehovah [is] with us? Surely, lo, falsely it hath wrought, The false pen of scribes.

<sup>9</sup> Ashamed have been the wise, They have been affrighted, and are captured, Lo, against a word of Jehovah they kicked, And the wisdom of what – have they?

<sup>11</sup> And they heal the breach of the daughter of my people slightly, Saying, Peace, peace! and there is no peace.

<sup>12</sup> They were ashamed when they did abomination! Yea, they are not at all ashamed, And blushing they have not known, Therefore, they do fall among falling ones, In the time of their inspection they stumble, said Jehovah.

<sup>13</sup> I utterly consume them, an affirmation of Jehovah, There are no grapes in the vine, Yea, there are no figs in the fig-tree, And the leaf hath faded, And the strength they have passeth from them.

<sup>14</sup> Wherefore are we sitting still? Be gathered, and we go in to the fenced cities, And we are silent there, For Jehovah our God hath made us silent, Yea, He causeth us to drink water of gall, For we have sinned against Jehovah.

<sup>17</sup> For, lo, I am sending among you serpents, Vipers that have no charmer, And they have bitten you, an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>21</sup> For a breach of the daughter of my people have I been broken, I have been black, astonishment hath seized me.

<sup>22</sup> Is there no balm in Gilead? Is there no physician there? For wherefore hath not the health of the daughter of my people gone up?

9

<sup>2</sup> Who doth give me in a wilderness A lodging-place of travellers? And I leave my people, and go from them, For all of them [are] adulterers, An assembly of treacherous ones.

<sup>3</sup> And they bend their tongue, their bow [is] a lie, And not for steadfastness have they been mighty in the land, For from evil unto evil they have gone forth, And Me they have not known, An affirmation of Jehovah!

<sup>4</sup> Each of his friend – beware ye, And on any brother, do not trust, For every brother doth utterly supplant, For every friend slanderously doth walk, <sup>5</sup> And each at his friend they mock, And truth they do not speak, They taught their tongue to speak falsehood, To commit iniquity they have laboured.

<sup>6</sup> thy dwelling [is] in the midst of deceit, Through deceit they refused to know Me, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Lo, I am refining them, and have tried them, For how do I do because of the daughter of My people?

<sup>8</sup> A slaughtering arrow [is] their tongue, Deceit it hath spoken in its mouth, Peace with its neighbour it speaketh, And in its heart it layeth its ambush,

<sup>9</sup> For these things do not I see after them? An affirmation of Jehovah, Against a nation such as this doth not My soul avenge itself?

<sup>10</sup> For the mountains I lift up weeping and wailing, And for the habitations of the wilderness a lamentation, For they have been burnt up without any passing over, Nor have they heard the voice of cattle, From the fowl of the heavens unto the beast they have fled, they have gone.

<sup>11</sup> And I make Jerusalem become heaps, A habitation of dragons, And the cities of Judah I make a desolation, Without inhabitant.

<sup>12</sup> Who [is] the wise man? and he understandeth this, And he to whom the mouth of Jehovah spake? And he doth declare it, For what hath the land perished? It hath been burnt up as a wilderness, Without any passing through.

<sup>13</sup> And Jehovah saith: Because of their forsaking My law that I set before them, And they have not hearkened to My voice nor walked in it,

<sup>14</sup> And they walk after the stubbornness of their heart, And after the Baalim, that their fathers taught them,

<sup>15</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: Lo, I am causing them — this people — to eat wormwood, And I have caused them to drink water of gall,

<sup>16</sup> And I have scattered them among nations Which they knew not, they and their fathers, And have sent after them the sword, Till I have consumed them.

<sup>17</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Consider ye, and call for mourning women, And they come, And to the wise women send, and they come,

<sup>18</sup> And they hasten, and lift up for us a wailing. And run down our eyes do tears, And from our eyelids do waters flow.

<sup>19</sup> For — a voice of wailing is heard from Zion: How have we been spoiled! We have been greatly ashamed, Because we have forsaken the land, Because they have cast down our tabernacles.

<sup>21</sup> For death hath come up into our windows, It hath come into our palaces, To cut off the suckling from without, Young men from the broad places.

<sup>22</sup> Speak thus — an affirmation of Jehovah, And fallen hath the carcase of man, As dung on the face of the field, And as a handful after the reaper, And there is none gathering.

<sup>23</sup> Thus said Jehovah: Let not the wise boast himself in his wisdom, Nor let the mighty boast himself in his might, Let not the rich boast himself in his riches,

<sup>24</sup> But — in this let the boaster boast himself, In understanding and knowing Me, For I [am] Jehovah, doing kindness, Judgment, and righteousness, in the earth, For in these I have delighted, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>25</sup> Lo, days are coming — an affirmation of Jehovah, And I have laid a charge on all circumcised in the foreskin, <sup>26</sup> On Egypt, and on Judah, and on Edom, And on the sons of Ammon, and on Moab, And on all cutting the corner [of the beard], Who are dwelling in the wilderness, For all the nations [are] uncircumcised, And all the house of Israel [are] uncircumcised in heart!

10

<sup>4</sup> With silver and with gold they beautify it, With nails and with hammers they fix it, And it doth not stumble.

<sup>5</sup> As a palm they [are] stiff, and they speak not, They are surely borne, for they step not, Be not afraid of them, for they do no evil, Yea, also to do good is not in them.

<sup>8</sup> And in one they are brutish and foolish, An instruction of vanities [is] the tree itself.

<sup>11</sup> Thus do ye say to them, The gods Who the heavens and earth have not made, They do perish from the earth, And from under these heavens.

<sup>18</sup> For thus said Jehovah: Lo, I am slinging out the inhabitants of the land at this time, And have been an adversary to them, So that they are found out.

<sup>19</sup> Woe to me for my breaking, Grievous hath been my smiting, And I said, Only, this [is] my sickness, and I bear it.

<sup>20</sup> My tent hath been spoiled, And all my cords have been broken, My sons have gone out from me, and they are not, There is none stretching out any more my tent, And raising up my curtains.

<sup>21</sup> For the shepherds have become brutish, And Jehovah they have not sought, Therefore they have not acted wisely, And all their flock is scattered.

<sup>25</sup> Pour out Thy fury on the nations that have not known Thee, And on the families that have not called in Thy name, For they have eaten up Jacob, Yea, they have eaten him up, yea, they consume him, And his habitation they have made desolate!

11

<sup>2</sup> 'Hear ye the words of this covenant, and ye have spoken unto the men of Judah, and unto the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

<sup>3</sup> and thou hast said unto them, Thus said Jehovah God of Israel: Cursed [is] the man who doth not obey the words of this covenant,

<sup>4</sup> That I commanded your fathers, In the day of My bringing them out from the land of Egypt, Out of the iron furnace, saying, Hearken to My voice, and ye have done them, According to all that I command you, And ye have been to Me for a people, And I am to you for God,

<sup>5</sup> In order to establish the oath that I have sworn to your fathers, To give to them a land flowing with milk and honey, as this day. And I answer and say, 'Amen, O Jehovah.'

<sup>6</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me, 'Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying: Hear ye the words of this covenant, And ye have done them.

<sup>7</sup> For I certainly testified against your fathers, In the day of My bringing them up out of the land of Egypt — till this day, Rising early and testifying, saying, Hearken to My voice,

<sup>8</sup> And they have not hearkened nor inclined their ear, And they walk each in the stubbornness of their evil heart, And I bring on them all the words of this covenant, That I commanded to do, and they did not.'

<sup>9</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me: 'A conspiracy is found in the men of Judah, And in the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup> They have turned back to the iniquities of their first fathers, Who refused to hear My words, And they have gone after other gods to serve them, The house of Israel, and the house of Judah, Have made void My covenant, that I made with their fathers.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore thus said Jehovah: Lo, I am bringing in unto them evil, That they are not able to go out from, And they have cried unto Me, And I do not hearken unto them.

<sup>12</sup> And the cities of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem have gone, And they have cried unto the gods, To whom they are making perfume, And they give no deliverance at all to them, In the time of their vexation.

<sup>13</sup> For — the number of thy cities have been thy gods, O Judah, And — the number of the streets of Jerusalem Ye have placed altars to a shameful thing, Altars to make perfume to Baal.

<sup>14</sup> And thou, thou dost not pray for this people, Nor dost thou lift up for them cry and prayer, For I do not hearken in the time of their calling unto Me for their vexation.

<sup>15</sup> What — to My beloved in My house, Her doing wickedness with many, And the holy flesh do pass over from thee? When thou dost evil, then thou exultest.

<sup>17</sup> And Jehovah of Hosts, who is planting thee, Hath spoken evil concerning thee, For the evil of the house of Israel, and of the house of Judah, That they have done to themselves, To provoke Me to anger, to make perfume to Baal.

<sup>18</sup> And, O Jehovah, cause me to know, and I know, Then Thou hast showed me their doings.

<sup>19</sup> And I [am] as a trained lamb brought to slaughter, And I have not known That against me they have devised devices: We destroy the tree with its food, and cut him off From the land of the living, And his name is not remembered again.

<sup>22</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah of Hosts: 'Lo, I am seeing after them, The chosen ones die by sword, Their sons and their daughters die by famine,

<sup>23</sup> And they have no remnant, For I bring evil unto the men of Anathoth, The year of their inspection!'

12

<sup>3</sup> And Thou, O Jehovah, Thou hast known me, Thou seest me, and hast tried my heart with Thee, Draw them away as sheep to slaughter, And separate them for a day of slaughter.

<sup>4</sup> Till when doth the earth mourn, And the herb of the whole field wither? For the wickedness of those dwelling in it, Consumed have been beast and fowl, Because they said, 'He doth not see our latter end.'

<sup>5</sup> For — with footmen thou hast run, And they weary thee, And how dost thou fret thyself with horses! Even in the land of peace, [In which] thou art confident — And how dost thou in the rising of Jordan!

<sup>6</sup> For even thy brethren and the house of thy father, Even they dealt treacherously against thee, Even they — they called after thee fully, Trust not in them, when they speak to thee good things.

<sup>9</sup> A speckled fowl [is] Mine inheritance to Me? Is the fowl round about against her? Come, assemble, every beast of the field, Come ye for food.

<sup>10</sup> Many shepherds did destroy My vineyard, They have trodden down My portion, They have made My desirable portion Become a wilderness — a desolation.

<sup>11</sup> He hath made it become a desolation, The desolation hath mourned unto Me, Desolated hath been all the land, But there is no one laying it to heart.

<sup>12</sup> On all high places in the plain have spoilers come in, For the sword of Jehovah is consuming, From the end of the land even unto the end of the land, There is no peace to any flesh.

<sup>13</sup> They sowed wheat, and have thorns reaped, They have become sick — they profit not, And they have been ashamed of your increases, Because of the fierceness of the anger of Jehovah.

<sup>14</sup> Thus said Jehovah concerning all my evil neighbours, who are striking against the inheritance that I caused my people — Israel — to inherit: 'Lo, I am plucking them from off their ground, And the house of Judah I pluck out of their midst.

<sup>15</sup> And it hath been, after My plucking them out, I turn back, and have pitied them, And I have brought them back, Each to his inheritance, and each to his land.

<sup>16</sup> And it hath come to pass, If they learn well the ways of My people, To swear by My name, 'Jehovah liveth,' As they taught My people to swear by Baal, Then they have been built up in the midst of My people.

<sup>17</sup> And if they do not hearken, Then I have plucked up that nation, Plucking up and destroying, An affirmation of Jehovah!

13

<sup>2</sup> and I get the girdle, according to the word of Jehovah, and I place [it] on my loins.

<sup>3</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me a second time, saying,

<sup>4</sup> 'Take the girdle that thou hast got, that [is] on thy loins, and rise, go to Phrat, and hide it there in a hole of the rock;

<sup>5</sup> and I go and hide it by Phrat, as Jehovah commanded me.

<sup>6</sup> And it cometh to pass, at the end of many days, that Jehovah saith unto me, 'Rise, go to Phrat, and take thence the girdle, that I commanded thee to hide there;'

<sup>7</sup> and I go to Phrat, and dig, and take the girdle from the place where I had hid it; and lo, the girdle hath been marred, it is not profitable for anything.

<sup>8</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying, 'Thus said Jehovah:

<sup>10</sup> This evil people, who refuse to hear My words, Who walk in the stubbornness of their heart, And go after other gods to serve them, And to bow themselves to them, Yea it is — as this girdle, that is not profitable for anything.

<sup>11</sup> For, as the girdle cleaveth unto the loins of a man, So I caused to cleave unto Me The whole house of Israel, And the whole house of Judah, an affirmation of Jehovah, To be to Me for a people, and for a name, And for praise, and for beauty, And they have not hearkened.

<sup>12</sup> And thou hast said unto them this word, Thus said Jehovah, God of Israel, 'Every bottle is full of wine,' And they have said unto thee: 'Do we not certainly know that every bottle is full of wine?'

<sup>13</sup> And thou hast said unto them, 'Thus said Jehovah: Lo, I am filling all the inhabitants of this land, And the kings who sit for David on his throne, And the priests, and the prophets, And all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, [With] drunkenness, <sup>14</sup> And have dashed them one against another, And the fathers and the sons together, An affirmation of Jehovah, I do not pity, nor spare, nor have I mercy, So as not to destroy them.

<sup>16</sup> Give ye to Jehovah your God honour, Before He doth cause darkness, And before your feet stumble on dark mountains, And ye have waited for light, And He hath made it for death-shade, And hath appointed [it] for thick darkness.

<sup>18</sup> Say to the king and to the mistress: Make yourselves low — sit still, For come down have your principalities, The crown of your beauty.

<sup>20</sup> Lift up your eyes, and see those coming in from the north, Where [is] the drove given to thee, thy beautiful flock?

<sup>21</sup> What dost thou say, when He looketh after thee? And thou — thou hast taught them [to be] over thee — leaders for head? Do not pangs seize thee as a travailing woman?

<sup>22</sup> And when thou dost say in thy heart, 'Wherefore have these met me?' For the abundance of thine iniquity Have thy skirts been uncovered, Have thy heels suffered violence.

14

<sup>2</sup> Mourned hath Judah, and her gates have languished, They have mourned to the earth, And the cry of Jerusalem hath gone up.

<sup>3</sup> And their honourable ones have sent their little ones to the water, They have come unto ditches, They have not found water, They have turned back — their vessels empty! They have been ashamed, And have blushed and covered their head.

<sup>5</sup> For even the hind in the field hath brought forth — to forsake [it!] For there hath been no grass.

<sup>6</sup> And wild asses have stood on high places, They have swallowed up wind like dragons, Consumed have been their eyes, for there is no herb.

<sup>7</sup> Surely our iniquities have testified against us, O Jehovah, work for Thy name's sake, For many have been our backslidings, Against Thee we have sinned.

<sup>8</sup> O Hope of Israel — its saviour in time of trouble, Why art Thou as a sojourner in the land? And as a traveller turned aside to lodge?

<sup>9</sup> Why art Thou as one dumb? As a mighty one not able to save? And Thou [art] in our midst, O Jehovah, And Thy name over us is called, leave us not.

<sup>10</sup> Thus said Jehovah concerning this people: Well they have loved to wander, Their feet they have not restrained, And Jehovah hath not accepted them, Now doth He remember their iniquity, And inspect their sin.

<sup>11</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me: Thou dost not pray for this people for good,

<sup>12</sup> When they fast, I hearken not unto their cry, And when they cause to ascend burnt-offering and present, I accept them not, For by sword, and by famine, And by pestilence, I am consuming them.

<sup>13</sup> And I say, 'Ah, Lord Jehovah, Lo, the prophets are saying to them: Ye do not see a sword, yea, famine is not to you, For true peace I give to you in this place.'

<sup>14</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me: Falsehood the prophets are prophesying in My name, I did not send them, nor command them, Nor have I spoken unto them: A false vision, and divination, and vanity, And the deceit of their own heart, they are prophesying to you.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah concerning the prophets who are prophesying in My name, and I have not sent them, and they are saying, Sword and famine is not in this land: By sword and by famine are these prophets consumed.

<sup>16</sup> And the people to whom they are prophesying, Are cast into out-places of Jerusalem, Because of the famine, and of the sword, And they have none burying them, Them, their wives, and their sons, and their daughters, And I have poured out upon them this evil.

<sup>17</sup> And thou hast said unto them this word: Tears come down mine eyes night and day, And they do not cease, For, [with] a great breach, Broken hath been the virgin daughter of my people, A very grievous stroke.

<sup>18</sup> If I have gone forth to the field, Then, lo, the pierced of the sword! And if I have entered the city, Then, lo, the diseased of famine! For both prophet and priest have gone up and down Unto a land that they knew not.

<sup>19</sup> Hast Thou utterly rejected Judah? Zion hath Thy soul loathed? Wherefore hast Thou smitten us, And there is no healing to us? Looking for peace, and there is no good, And for a time of healing, and lo, terror.

<sup>20</sup> We have known, O Jehovah, our wickedness, The iniquity of our fathers, For we have sinned against Thee.

<sup>22</sup> Are there among the vanities of the nations any causing rain? And do the heavens give showers? Art not Thou He, O Jehovah our God? And we wait for thee, for Thou — Thou hast done all these!

15

<sup>2</sup> And it hath come to pass, when they say to thee, Whither do we go out? that thou hast said unto them, Thus said Jehovah: Those who [are] for death — to death, And those who are for the sword, to the sword, And those who are for famine, to famine, And those who are for captivity, to captivity.

<sup>3</sup> And I have appointed over them four kinds, an affirmation of Jehovah, The sword to slay, and the dogs to drag, And the fowl of the heavens, And the beast of the earth, to consume and to devour.

<sup>4</sup> And I have given them for a trembling To all kingdoms of the earth, Because of Manasseh son of Hezekiah king of Judah, For that which he did in Jerusalem.

<sup>5</sup> For who hath pity on thee, O Jerusalem? And who doth bemoan for thee? And who turneth aside to ask of thy welfare?

<sup>7</sup> And I scatter them with a fan, in the gates the land, I bereaved, I have destroyed My people, From their ways they turned not back.

<sup>8</sup> Its widows have been more to Me than the sand of the seas, I brought in to them — against the mother — A young man — a spoiler — at noon. I caused to fall upon her suddenly, wrath and trouble.

<sup>10</sup> Woe to me, my mother, For thou hast borne me a man of strife, And a man of contention to all the land, I have not lent on usury, Nor have they lent on usury to me — All of them are reviling me.

<sup>11</sup> Jehovah said, Did I not direct thee for good? Did not I intercede for thee in a time of evil, And in a time of adversity, with the enemy?

<sup>14</sup> And I have caused thine enemies To pass over into the land — Thou hast not known, For a fire hath been kindled in Mine anger, Against you it doth burn.

<sup>15</sup> Thou, Thou hast known, O Jehovah, Remember me, and inspect me, And take vengeance for me of my pursuers, In Thy long-suffering take me not away, Know — I have borne for Thee reproach.

<sup>16</sup> Thy words have been found, and I eat them, And Thy word is to me for a joy, And for the rejoicing of my heart, For Thy name is called on me, O Jehovah, God of Hosts.

<sup>17</sup> I have not sat in an assembly of deriders, Nor do I exult, because of thy hand, — Alone I have sat, For [with] indignation Thou hast filled me.

<sup>18</sup> Why hath my pain been perpetual? And my wound incurable? It hath refused to be healed, Thou art surely to me as a failing stream, Waters not steadfast.

<sup>19</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah: If thou turnest back, then I bring thee back, Before Me thou dost stand, And if thou bringest out the precious from the vile, As My mouth thou art! They — they turn back unto thee, And thou dost not turn back unto them.

<sup>20</sup> And I have made thee to this people For a wall — brazen — fenced, And they have fought against thee, And they do not prevail against thee, For with thee [am] I to save thee, And to deliver thee — an affirmation of Jehovah, <sup>21</sup> And I have delivered thee from the hand of evil doers, And I have ransomed thee From the hand of the terrible!

16

<sup>3</sup>For thus said Jehovah, Of the sons and of the daughters who are born in this place, And of their mothers — those bearing them, And of their fathers — those begetting them in this land:

<sup>4</sup>Of painful deaths they die, They are not lamented, nor are they buried, For dung on the face of the ground they are, And by sword and by famine are consumed, And their carcase hath been for food To the fowl of the heavens, And to the beast of the earth.

<sup>5</sup>For thus said Jehovah: Do not enter the house of a mourning-feast, Nor go to lament nor bemoan for them, For I have removed My peace from this people, An affirmation of Jehovah, The kindness and the mercies.

<sup>6</sup>And died have great and small in this land, They are not buried, and none lament for them, Nor doth any cut himself, nor become bald for them.

<sup>7</sup>Nor do they deal out to them for mourning, To comfort him concerning the dead, Nor cause them to drink a cup of consolations For his father and for his mother.

<sup>8</sup>A house of banqueting thou dost not enter, To sit with them, to eat and to drink,

<sup>9</sup>For thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: Lo, I am causing to cease from this place, Before your eyes, and in your days, The voice of joy, and the voice of rejoicing, The voice of bridegroom and voice of bride.

<sup>10</sup>And it hath come to pass when thou declarest to this people all these words, and they have said unto thee, 'For what hath Jehovah spoken against us all this great evil? yea, what [is] our iniquity, and what our sin, that we have sinned against Jehovah our God?'

<sup>11</sup>Then thou hast said unto them: Because that your fathers have forsaken Me, An affirmation of Jehovah, And go after other gods, and serve them, And they bow themselves to them, And Me have forsaken, and My law not kept,

<sup>12</sup>Ye also have done evil above your fathers, And lo, ye are walking each after the stubbornness of his evil heart, So as not to hearken unto Me.

<sup>13</sup>And I have cast you from off this land, On to a land that ye have not known, Ye and your fathers, And ye have served there other gods by day and by night, Where I do not give to you grace.

<sup>14</sup>Therefore, lo, days are coming, An affirmation of Jehovah, And it is not said any more: 'Jehovah liveth, who brought up The sons of Israel out of the land of Egypt,'

<sup>15</sup>But, 'Jehovah liveth, who brought up The sons of Israel out of the land of the north, And out of all the lands whither He drove them,' And I have brought them back to their land, That I gave to their fathers.

<sup>16</sup>Lo, I am sending for many fishers, An affirmation of Jehovah, And they have fished them, And after this I send for many hunters, And they have hunted them from off every mountain, And from off every hill, and from holes of the rocks.

<sup>18</sup>And I have recompensed a first — A second time — their iniquity and their sin, Because of their polluting My land, With the carcase of their detestable things, Yea, their abominable things have filled Mine inheritance.

<sup>19</sup>O Jehovah, my strength, and my fortress, And my refuge in a day of adversity, Unto Thee nations do come from the ends of earth, And say, Only falsehood did our fathers inherit, Vanity, and none among them is profitable.

<sup>21</sup> Therefore, lo, I am causing them to know at this time, I cause them to know My hand and My might, And they have known that My name [is] Jehovah!

17

<sup>4</sup> And thou hast let go – even through thyself, Of thine inheritance that I gave to thee, And I have caused thee to serve thine enemies, In a land that thou hast not known, For a fire ye have kindled in Mine anger, Unto the age it doth burn.

<sup>5</sup> Thus said Jehovah: Cursed [is] the man who doth trust in man, And hath made flesh his arm, And from Jehovah whose heart turneth.

<sup>8</sup> And hath been as a tree planted by waters, And by a rivulet he sendeth forth his roots, And he doth not see when heat cometh, And his leaf hath been green, And in a year of dearth he is not sorrowful, Nor doth he cease from making fruit.

<sup>10</sup> I Jehovah do search the heart, try the reins, Even to give to each according to his way, According to the fruit of his doings.

<sup>12</sup> A throne of honour on high from the beginning, The place of our sanctuary,

<sup>13</sup> The hope of Israel [is] Jehovah, All forsaking Thee are ashamed, And 'My apostates' in the earth are written, For they have forsaken Jehovah, A fountain of living waters.

<sup>14</sup> Heal me, O Jehovah, and I am healed, Save me, and I am saved, for my praise [art] Thou.

<sup>15</sup> Lo, they are saying unto me: 'Where [is] the word of Jehovah? pray, let it come.'

<sup>17</sup> Be not Thou to me for a terror, My hope [art] Thou in a day of evil.

<sup>18</sup> Let my pursuers be ashamed, and let not me be ashamed – me! Let them be affrighted, and let not me be affrighted – me! Bring in on them a day of evil, And a second time [with] destruction destroy them.

<sup>19</sup> Thus said Jehovah unto me: 'Go, and thou hast stood in the gate of the sons of the people, by which kings of Judah come in, and by which they go out, and in all gates of Jerusalem,

<sup>20</sup> and thou hast said unto them: Hear a word of Jehovah, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all inhabitants of Jerusalem, who are coming in by these gates,

<sup>21</sup> Thus said Jehovah, Take ye heed to yourselves, And ye bear not a burden on the day of rest, Nor have ye brought [it] in by the gates of Jerusalem.

<sup>23</sup> And they have not hearkened nor inclined their ear, And they stiffen their neck not to hear, And not to receive instruction.

<sup>24</sup> And it hath been, if ye certainly hearken unto Me, An affirmation of Jehovah, So as not to bring in a burden By the gates of this city on the day of rest, And to sanctify the day of rest, So as not to do in it any work —

<sup>25</sup> Then entered by the gates of this city have kings and princes, Sitting on the throne of David, Riding in a chariot, and on horses, They, and their princes, the man of Judah, And inhabitants of Jerusalem, And this city hath remained to the age.

<sup>26</sup> And they have come in from cities of Judah, And from suburbs of Jerusalem, And from the land of Benjamin, And from the low country, And from the hill-country, and from the south, Bringing in burnt-offering, and sacrifice, And present, and frankincense, And bringing praise [to] the house of Jehovah.

<sup>27</sup> And if ye do not hearken unto me to sanctify the day of rest, And so as not to bear a burden, And to come in at the gates of Jerusalem on the day of rest, Then I have kindled a fire in its gates, And it hath consumed the high places of Jerusalem, And it is not quenched!"

18

<sup>2</sup> Rise, and thou hast gone down [to] the potter's house, and there I cause thee to hear My words;

<sup>3</sup> and I go down [to] the potter's house, and lo, he is doing a work on the stones,

<sup>4</sup> and marred is the vessel that he is making, as clay in the hand of the potter, and he hath turned and he maketh it another vessel, as it was right in the eyes of the potter to make.

<sup>5</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah to me, saying:

<sup>6</sup> As this potter am I not able to do to you? O house of Israel, an affirmation of Jehovah. Lo, as clay in the hand of the potter, So [are] ye in My hand, O house of Israel.

<sup>7</sup> The moment I speak concerning a nation, And concerning a kingdom, To pluck up and to break down, and to destroy,

<sup>8</sup> And that nation hath turned from its evil, Because I have spoken against it, Then I have repented of the evil that I thought to do to it.

<sup>9</sup> And the moment I speak concerning a nation, And concerning a kingdom, to build, and to plant,

<sup>10</sup> And it hath done the evil thing in Mine eyes, So as not to hearken to My voice, Then I have repented of the good That I have spoken of doing to it.

<sup>11</sup> And now, speak, I pray thee, unto men of Judah, And against inhabitants of Jerusalem, Saying: Thus said Jehovah: Lo, I am framing against you evil, And devising against you a device, Turn back, I pray you, each from his evil way And amen your ways and your doings.

<sup>12</sup> And they have said, It is incurable, For after our own devices we do go,
And each the stubbornness of his evil heart we do.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah: Ask, I pray you, among the nations, Who hath heard like these? A very horrible thing hath the virgin of Israel done.

cold strange waters that flow?

<sup>15</sup> But My people have forgotten Me, to a vain thing they make perfume,
And they cause them to stumble in their ways — paths of old, To walk in paths
— a way not raised up,

<sup>16</sup> To make their land become a desolation, A hissing age-during, Every passer by it is astonished, And bemoaneth with his head.

<sup>17</sup> As an east wind I scatter them before an enemy, The neck, and not the face, I shew them, In the day of their calamity.'

<sup>18</sup> And they say, Come, And we devise against Jeremiah devices, For law doth not perish from the priest, Nor counsel from the wise, Nor the word from the prophet, Come, and we smite him with the tongue, And we do not attend to any of his words.

<sup>19</sup> Give attention, O Jehovah, unto me, And hearken to the voice of those contending with me.

<sup>20</sup> Is evil recompensed instead of good, That they have dug a pit for my soul?
Remember my standing before Thee to speak good of them, To turn back Thy wrath from them.

<sup>21</sup> Therefore, give up their sons to famine, And cause them to run on the sides of the sword, And their wives are bereaved and widows, And their men are slain by death, Their young men smitten by sword in battle,

<sup>22</sup> A cry is heard from their houses, For Thou bringest against them suddenly a troop, For they dug a pit to capture me, And snares they have hidden for my feet.

<sup>23</sup> And Thou, O Jehovah, Thou hast known, All their counsel against me [is] for death, Thou dost not cover over their iniquity, Nor their sin from before Thee blottest out, And they are made to stumble before Thee, In the time of Thine anger work against them!

19

<sup>1</sup> Thus said Jehovah, 'Go, and thou hast got a potter's earthen vessel, and of the elders of the people, and of the elders of the priests,

<sup>2</sup> and thou hast gone forth unto the valley of the son of Hinnom, that [is] at the opening of the gate of the pottery, and hast proclaimed there the words that I speak unto thee,

<sup>3</sup> and hast said, Hear a word of Jehovah, ye kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: 'Lo, I am bringing in evil on this place, at which the ears of every one who is hearing it do tingle,

<sup>4</sup> because that they have forsaken Me, and make known this place, and make perfume in it to other gods, that they knew not, they and their fathers, and the kings of Judah, and they have filled this place [with] innocent blood,

<sup>5</sup> and have built the high places of Baal to burn their sons with fire, burnt-offerings to Baal, that I commanded not, nor spake of, nor did it come up on My heart.

<sup>6</sup> 'Therefore, lo, days are coming — an affirmation of Jehovah — and this place is not called any more, Tophet, and Valley of the son of Hinnom, but,
Valley of slaughter.

<sup>7</sup> And I have made void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place, and have caused them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of those seeking their life, and I have given their carcase for food to the fowl of the heavens, and to the beast of the earth,

<sup>8</sup> and I have made this city for a desolation, and for a hissing, every passer by it is astonished, and doth hiss for all its plagues.

<sup>10</sup> 'And thou hast broken the bottle before the eyes of the men who are going with thee,

<sup>11</sup> and hast said unto them: Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, Thus do I break this people and this city, as one breaketh the potter's vessel, that is not able to be repaired again, and in Tophet they bury – without place to bury;

<sup>12</sup> so I do to this place – an affirmation of Jehovah – and to its inhabitants, so as to make this city as Tophet;

<sup>13</sup> and the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, have been – as the place of Tophet – defiled, even all the houses on whose roofs they have made perfume to all the host of the heavens, so as to pour out oblations to other gods.'

<sup>14</sup> And Jeremiah cometh in from Tophet, whither Jehovah had sent him to prophesy, and he standeth in the court of the house of Jehovah, and he saith unto all the people:

<sup>15</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: Lo, I am bringing in unto this city, and on all its cities, all the evil that I have spoken against it, for they have hardened their neck – not to hear My words!'

20

<sup>3</sup> and it cometh to pass on the morrow, that Pashhur bringeth out Jeremiah from the stocks, and Jeremiah saith unto him, 'Not Pashhur hath Jehovah called thy name, but – Magor-Missabib.

<sup>4</sup> For thus said Jehovah: Lo, I am making thee for a fear to thyself, And to all loving thee, And they have fallen by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes are beholding, And all Judah I give into the hand of the king of Babylon, And he hath removed them to Babylon, And he hath smitten them with the sword.

<sup>5</sup> And I have given all the strength of this city, And all its labour, and all its precious things, Yea, all the treasures of the kings of Judah I do give into the hand of their enemies, And they have spoiled them, and taken them, And have brought them into Babylon.

<sup>6</sup> And thou, Pashhur, and all dwelling in thy house, Do go into captivity. and Babylon thou dost enter, And there thou diest, and there thou art buried, Thou and all loving thee, To whom thou hast prophesied falsely.'

<sup>7</sup> Thou hast persuaded me, O Jehovah, and I am persuaded; Thou hast hardened me, and dost prevail, I have been for a laughter all the day, Every one is mocking at me,

<sup>8</sup> Because from the time I speak I cry out, 'Violence and destruction,' I cry, For the word of Jehovah hath been to me For reproach and for derision all the day.

<sup>9</sup> And I said, 'I do not mention Him, Nor do I speak any more in His name,' And it hath been in my heart As a burning fire shut up in my bones, And I have been weary of containing, And I am not able.

<sup>10</sup> For I have heard the evil report of many, Fear [is] round about: 'Declare, and we declare it,' All mine allies are watching [for] my halting, 'Perhaps he is enticed, and we prevail over him, And we take our vengeance out of him.'

<sup>11</sup> And Jehovah [is] with me, as a terrible mighty one, Therefore my persecutors stumble and prevail not, They have been exceedingly ashamed, For they have not acted wisely, Confusion age-during is not forgotten.

<sup>12</sup> And, O Jehovah of Hosts, trier of the righteous, Beholder of reins and heart, I do see Thy vengeance out of them, For unto Thee I have revealed my cause.

<sup>14</sup> Cursed [is] the day in which I was born, The day that my mother bare me, Let it not be blessed!

<sup>15</sup> Cursed [is] the man who bore tidings [to] my father, saying, 'Born to thee hath been a child — a male,' Making him very glad!

<sup>16</sup> Then hath that man been as the cities, That Jehovah overthrew, and repented not, And he hath heard a cry at morning, And a shout at time of noon.

<sup>18</sup> Why [is] this? from the womb I have come out, To see labour and sorrow, Yea, consumed in shame are my days!

21

<sup>4</sup> Thus said Jehovah, God of Israel: Lo, I am turning round the weapons of battle That [are] in your hand, With which ye do fight the king of Babylon, And the Chaldeans, who are laying siege against you, At the outside of the wall, And I have gathered them into the midst of this city,

<sup>5</sup> And I — I have fought against you, With a stretched-out hand, and with a strong arm, And in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath, <sup>6</sup> And I have smitten the inhabitants of this city, Both man and beast, By a great pestilence do they die.

<sup>7</sup> And after this — an affirmation of Jehovah, I give Zedekiah king of Judah, And his servants, and the people, And those left in this city, From the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, Into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, And into the hand of their enemies, And into the hand of those seeking their life, And he hath smitten them by the mouth of the sword, He hath no pity on them, Nor doth he spare, nor hath he mercy.

<sup>8</sup> And unto this people thou dost say, Thus said Jehovah: Lo, I am setting before you the way of life, And the way of death!

<sup>10</sup> For I have set My face against this city for evil, And not for good — an affirmation of Jehovah. Into the hand of the king of Babylon it is given, And he hath burned it with fire.

<sup>11</sup> And as to the house of the king of Judah, Hear ye a word of Jehovah;

<sup>12</sup> O house of David, thus said Jehovah: Decide ye judgment at morning, And deliver the plundered from the hand of the oppressor, Lest My fury go forth as fire, And hath burned, and none is quenching, Because of the evil of your doings.

<sup>13</sup> Lo, I [am] against thee — an affirmation of Jehovah, O inhabitant of the valley, rock of the plain, Who are saying, Who cometh down against us? And who cometh into our habitations?

<sup>14</sup> And I have laid a charge against you, According to the fruit of your doings, An affirmation of Jehovah, And I have kindled a fire in its forest, And it hath consumed — all its suburbs!

22

<sup>5</sup> And if ye do not hear these words, By myself I have sworn — an affirmation of Jehovah, That this house is for a desolation.

<sup>6</sup> For thus said Jehovah, Concerning the house of the king of Judah: Gilead [art] thou to Me — head of Lebanon, If not — I make thee a wilderness, Cities not inhabited.

<sup>7</sup> And I have separated for thee destroyers, Each with his weapons, And they have cut down the choice of thy cedars, And have cast them on the fire.

<sup>8</sup> And many nations have passed by this city, And they have said, each to his neighbour, For what hath Jehovah done thus to this great city?

<sup>9</sup> And they have said, 'Because that they have forsaken The covenant of Jehovah their God, And bow themselves to other gods, and serve them.'

<sup>11</sup> For thus said Jehovah concerning Shallum son of Josiah king of Judah, who is reigning instead of Josiah his father, who hath gone forth from this place: He doth not turn back hither again;

<sup>12</sup> For in the place whither they have removed him he dieth, And this land he doth not see again.

<sup>14</sup> Who is saying, 'I build for myself a large house, And airy upper chambers,' And he hath cut out for himself its windows, Ceiled with cedar, and painted with vermillion.

<sup>15</sup> Dost thou reign, because thou art fretting thyself in cedar? Thy father — did he not eat and drink? Yea, he did judgment and righteousness, Then [it is] well with him.

<sup>16</sup> He decided the cause of the poor and needy, Then [it is] well — is it not to know Me? An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>17</sup> But thine eyes and thy heart are not, Except on thy dishonest gain, And on shedding of innocent blood, And on oppression, and on doing of violence.

<sup>19</sup> The burial of an ass — he is buried, Dragged and cast out thence to the gates of Jerusalem.

<sup>20</sup> Go up to Lebanon, and cry, And in Bashan give forth thy voice, And cry from Abarim, For destroyed have been all loving thee.

<sup>22</sup> All thy friends consume doth wind, And thy lovers into captivity do go, Surely then thou art ashamed, And hast blushed for all thy wickedness.

<sup>23</sup> O dweller in Lebanon, making a nest among cedars, How gracious hast thou been when pangs come to thee, Pain — as of a travailing woman.

<sup>24</sup> I live — an affirmation of Jehovah, Though Coniah son of Jehoiakim king of Judah Were a seal on My right hand, Surely thence I draw thee away,

<sup>26</sup> And I have cast thee, And thy mother who bore thee, unto another country, Where ye were not born, and there do ye die.

<sup>27</sup> And to the land whither they are lifting up their soul to return, Thither they do not return.

<sup>28</sup> A grief — a despised broken thing — is this man Coniah? A vessel in which there is no pleasure? Wherefore have they been cast up and down, He and his seed, Yea, they were cast on to a land that they knew not?

<sup>29</sup> Earth, earth, earth, hear a word of Jehovah,

<sup>30</sup> Thus said Jehovah: Write ye this man childless, A man — he doth not prosper in his days, For none of his seed doth prosper, Sitting on the throne of David, And ruling again in Judah!

23

<sup>2</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah, God of Israel, Against the shepherds who feed My people, Ye have scattered My flock, and drive them away, And have not inspected them, Lo, I am charging on you the evil of your doings, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>3</sup> And I do gather the remnant of My flock Out of all the lands whither I drove them, And have brought them back unto their fold, And they have been fruitful, and multiplied.

<sup>4</sup> And I have raised for them shepherds, And they have fed them, And they fear no more, nor are affrighted, Nor are they lacking – an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>6</sup> In his days is Judah saved, and Israel dwelleth confidently, And this his name that Jehovah proclaimeth him, 'Our Righteousness.'

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, lo, days are coming, An affirmation of Jehovah, And they do not say any more, Jehovah liveth who brought up The sons of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

<sup>8</sup> But – Jehovah liveth, who brought up, And who brought in, the seed of the house of Israel, From the land of the north, And from all the lands whither I drove them, And they have dwelt on their own ground!

<sup>9</sup> In reference to the prophets: Broken hath been my heart in my midst, Fluttered have all my bones, I have been as a man – a drunkard, And as a man – wine hath passed over him, Because of Jehovah, and of His holy words.

<sup>11</sup> For both prophet and priest have been profane, Yea, in My house I found their wickedness, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore is their way to them as slippery places, Into thick darkness they are driven, And they have fallen in it, For I bring in against them evil, The year of their inspection, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>13</sup> And in prophets of Samaria I have seen folly, They have prophesied by Baal, And cause my people – Israel – to err.

<sup>14</sup> And in prophets of Jerusalem I have seen a horrible thing, Committing adultery, and walking falsely, Yea, they strengthened the hands of evil doers, So that they have not turned back Each from his wickedness, They have been to me – all of them – as Sodom, And its inhabitants as Gomorrah.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah of Hosts, concerning the prophets: Lo, I am causing them to eat wormwood, And have caused them to drink water of gall, For, from prophets of Jerusalem Hath profanity gone forth to all the land.

<sup>16</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Ye do not hearken unto the words Of the prophets who are prophesying to you, They are making you vain things, A vision of their own heart they speak, Not from the mouth of Jehovah.

<sup>17</sup> Saying diligently to those despising The word of Jehovah: Peace is for you, And [to] every one walking in the stubbornness of his heart they have said: Evil doth not come in unto you.

<sup>19</sup> Lo, a whirlwind of Jehovah – Fury hath gone out, even a piercing whirlwind, On the head of the wicked it stayeth.

<sup>21</sup> I have not sent the prophets, and they have run, I have not spoken unto them, and they have prophesied.

<sup>22</sup> But — if they stood in My counsel, Then they cause My people to hear My words, And they turn them back from their evil way, And from the evil of their doings.

<sup>23</sup> A God near [am] I — an affirmation of Jehovah, And not a God afar off?

<sup>24</sup> Is any one hidden in secret places, And I see him not? an affirmation of Jehovah, Do not I fill the heavens and the earth? An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>25</sup> I have heard that which the prophets said, Who prophesy in My name falsehood, saying, 'I have dreamed, I have dreamed.'

<sup>27</sup> Who are devising to cause My people To forget My name by their dreams, That they recount each to his neighbour, As their fathers forgot my name for Baal.

<sup>28</sup> The prophet with whom [is] a dream, Let him recount the dream, And he with whom [is] My word, Let him truly speak My word. What — to the straw with the corn? An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>31</sup> Lo, I [am] against the prophets, An affirmation of Jehovah, Who are making smooth their tongue, And they affirm — an affirmation.

<sup>32</sup> Lo, I [am] against the prophets of false dreams, An affirmation of Jehovah, And they recount them, and cause my people to err, By their falsehoods, and by their instability, And I — I have not sent them, Nor have I commanded them, And they are not at all profitable to this people, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>33</sup> And when this people, or the prophet, Or a priest, doth ask thee, saying, What [is] the burden of Jehovah? Then thou hast said unto them: Ye [are] the burden, and I have left you, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>34</sup> And the prophet, and the priest, and the people, That saith, The burden of Jehovah, I have seen after that man, and after his house.

<sup>36</sup> And the burden of Jehovah ye do not mention any more, For the burden to each is — His word, And ye have overturned the words of the living God, Jehovah of Hosts, our God.

<sup>38</sup> And if the burden of Jehovah ye say, Therefore thus said Jehovah: Because of your saying this word, The burden of Jehovah, And I do send unto you, saying, Ye do not say, The burden of Jehovah.

<sup>39</sup> Therefore, lo, I — I have taken you utterly away, And I have sent you out, And the city that I gave to you, And to your fathers, from before My face,

temple of Jehovah, — after the removing by Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, of Jeconiah, son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the heads of Judah, and the artisan, and the smith, from Jerusalem, when he bringeth them into Babylon

<sup>2</sup> In the one basket [are] figs very good, like the first-ripe figs, and in the other basket [are] figs very bad, that are not eaten for badness.

<sup>3</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me, 'What art thou seeing, Jeremiah?' and I say, 'Figs, the good figs [are] very good, and the bad [are] very bad, that are not eaten for badness.'

<sup>4</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying:

<sup>5</sup> Thus said Jehovah, God of Israel, Like these good figs so do I acknowledge The removed of Judah — that I sent from this place, [To] the land of the Chaldeans — for good.

<sup>6</sup> And I have set Mine eyes on them for good, And have brought them back to this land, And built them up, and I throw not down, And have planted them, and pluck not up.

<sup>7</sup> And have given to them a heart to know Me, For I [am] Jehovah, And they have been to Me for a people, And I am to them for God, For they turned back unto Me with all their heart.

<sup>8</sup> And like the bad figs, that are not eaten for badness, Surely thus said Jehovah: So do I make Zedekiah king of Judah, And his heads, and the remnant of Jerusalem, Who are left in this land, And who are dwelling in the land of Egypt,

<sup>9</sup> And I have given them for a trembling, For evil — to all kingdoms of the earth, For a reproach, and for a simile, For a byword, and for a reviling, In all the places whither I drive them.

<sup>10</sup> And I have sent against them the sword, The famine and the pestilence, Till their consumption from off the ground, That I gave to them and to their fathers!

25

<sup>2</sup> Which Jeremiah the prophet hath spoken concerning all the people of Judah, even unto all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying:

<sup>3</sup> 'From the thirteenth year of Josiah son of Amon king of Judah, and unto this day — this three and twentieth year — hath the word of Jehovah been unto me, and I speak unto you, rising early and speaking, and ye have not hearkened;

<sup>4</sup> And Jehovah hath sent unto you all His servants, the prophets, rising early and sending, and ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your ear to hear, saying:

<sup>5</sup> 'Turn back, I pray you, each from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell on the ground that Jehovah hath given to you and to your fathers from age unto age,

<sup>6</sup> And ye do not go after other gods to serve them, and to bow yourselves to them, nor do ye provoke Me to anger with the work of your hands, and I do no evil to you;

<sup>7</sup> And ye have not hearkened unto Me — an affirmation of Jehovah — so as to provoke Me to anger with the work of your hands for evil to you.

<sup>8</sup> 'Therefore thus said Jehovah of Hosts, Because that ye have not obeyed My words,

<sup>9</sup> Lo, I am sending, and have taken all the families of the north — an affirmation of Jehovah — even unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, My servant, and have brought them in against this land, and against its inhabitants, and against all these nations round about, and have devoted them, and appointed them for an astonishment, and for a hissing, and for wastes age-during.

<sup>11</sup> And all this land hath been for a waste, for an astonishment, and these nations have served the king of Babylon seventy years.

<sup>12</sup> 'And it hath come to pass, at the fulness of seventy years, I charge against the king of Babylon, and against that nation — an affirmation of Jehovah — their iniquity, and against the land of the Chaldeans, and have appointed it for desolations age-during.

<sup>13</sup> And I have brought in on that land all My words that I have spoken against it, all that is written in this book, that Jeremiah hath prophesied concerning all the nations.

<sup>14</sup> For laid service on them — also them — have many nations and great kings, and I have given recompence to them according to their doing, and according to the work of their hands.

<sup>15</sup> 'For thus said Jehovah God of Israel unto me, Take the wine cup of this fury out of My hand, and thou hast caused all the nations to drink it unto whom I am sending thee;

<sup>16</sup> And they have drunk, and shaken themselves and shewn themselves foolish, because of the sword that I am sending among them.

<sup>17</sup> 'And I take the cup out of the hand of Jehovah, and cause all the nations to drink unto whom Jehovah sent me:

<sup>18</sup> Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, And its kings, its heads, To give them to waste, to astonishment, To hissing, and to reviling, as [at] this day.

<sup>20</sup> And all the mixed people, And all the kings of the land of Uz, And all the kings of the land of the Philistines, And Ashkelon, and Gazzah, and Ekron, And the remnant of Ashdod,

<sup>22</sup> And all the kings of Tyre, And all the kings of Zidon, And the kings of the isle that [is] beyond the sea,

<sup>24</sup> And all the kings of Arabia, And all the kings of the mixed people, Who are dwelling in the wilderness,

<sup>25</sup> And all the kings of Zimri, And all the kings of Elam, And all the kings of Media,

<sup>26</sup> And all the kings of the north, The near and the far off, one unto another, And all the kingdoms of the earth, That [are] on the face of the ground, And king Sheshach drinketh after them.

<sup>27</sup> And thou hast said unto them: Thus said Jehovah of Hosts God of Israel, Drink ye, yea drink abundantly, And vomit, and fall, and rise not, Because of the sword that I am sending among you.

<sup>28</sup> And it hath come to pass, When they refuse to receive the cup out of thy hand to drink, That thou hast said unto them: Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, Ye do certainly drink.

<sup>29</sup> For lo, in the city over which My name is called, I am beginning to do evil, And ye — ye are entirely acquitted! Ye are not acquitted, for a sword I am proclaiming, For all inhabitants of the land, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>30</sup> And thou, thou dost prophesy unto them all these words, and hast said unto them: Jehovah from the high place doth roar, And from His holy habitation giveth forth His voice, He surely roareth for His habitation, A shout as of treaders down, God answereth all the inhabitants of the land,

<sup>32</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Lo, evil is going out from nation to nation, And a great whirlwind is stirred up from the sides of the earth.

<sup>33</sup> And the pierced of Jehovah have been in that day, From the end of the earth even unto the end of the earth, They are not lamented, nor gathered, nor buried, For dung on the face of the ground they are.

<sup>37</sup> And the peaceable habitations have been cut down, Because of the fierceness of the anger of Jehovah.

26

<sup>2</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah, Stand thou in the court of the house of Jehovah, and thou hast spoken unto all [those of] the cities of Judah who are coming in to bow themselves in the house of Jehovah, all the words that I have commanded thee to speak unto them, thou dost not diminish a word.

<sup>3</sup> If so be they hearken, and turn back each from his evil way, then I have repented concerning the evil that I am thinking of doing to them, because of the evil of their doings.

<sup>4</sup> 'And thou hast said unto them: Thus said Jehovah, If ye do not hearken unto Me, to walk in My law, that I set before you,

<sup>5</sup> To hearken to the words of My servants the prophets, whom I am sending unto you, yea, rising early and sending, and ye have not hearkened,

<sup>6</sup> Then I have given up this house as Shiloh, and this city I give up for a reviling to all nations of the earth.'

<sup>7</sup> And the priests, and the prophets, and all the people, hear Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of Jehovah,

<sup>8</sup> And it cometh to pass, at the completion of Jeremiah's speaking all that Jehovah hath commanded him to speak unto all the people, that the priests, and the prophets, and all the people catch him, saying, Thou dost surely die,

<sup>9</sup> Wherefore hast thou prophesied in the name of Jehovah, saying, 'As Shiloh this house shall be, and this city is wasted, without inhabitant?' and all the people are assembled unto Jeremiah in the house of Jehovah.

<sup>10</sup> And the heads of Judah hear these things, and they go up from the house of the king [to] the house of Jehovah, and sit in the opening of the new gate of Jehovah.

<sup>11</sup> And the priests and the prophets speak unto the heads, and unto all the people, saying, 'Judgment of death [is] for this man, for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.'

<sup>12</sup> And Jeremiah speaketh unto all the heads, and unto all the people, saying, 'Jehovah sent me to prophesy concerning this house, and concerning this city, all the words that ye have heard;

<sup>13</sup> And now, amend your ways, and your doings, and hearken to the voice of Jehovah your God, and Jehovah doth repent concerning the evil that He hath spoken against you.

<sup>14</sup> 'And I, lo, I [am] in your hand, do to me as is good and as is right in your eyes;

<sup>15</sup> Only, know ye certainly, that if ye are putting me to death, surely innocent blood ye are putting on yourselves, and on this city, and on its inhabitants; for truly hath Jehovah sent me unto you to speak in your ears all these words.'

<sup>16</sup> And the heads and all the people say unto the priests and unto the prophets, 'There is not for this man a judgment of death, for in the name of Jehovah our God he hath spoken unto us.'

<sup>17</sup> And certain of the elders of the land rise up, and speak unto all the assembly of the people, saying,

<sup>18</sup> 'Micah the Morashtite hath been prophesying in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and he saith unto all the people of Judah, saying: Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Zion is a plowed field, and Jerusalem is heaps, And the mountain of the house is for high places of a forest.

<sup>19</sup> 'Put him at all to death did Hezekiah king of Judah, and all Judah? Did he not fear Jehovah? yea, he appeaseth the face of Jehovah, and Jehovah repenteth concerning the evil that He spake against them; and we are doing great evil against our souls.

<sup>20</sup> 'And also there hath been a man prophesying in the name of Jehovah, Urijah son of Shemaiah, of Kirjath-Jearim, and he prophesieth against this city, and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah, <sup>21</sup> And the king Jehoiakim, and all his mighty ones, and all the heads, hear his words, and the king seeketh to put him to death, and Urijah heareth, and feareth, and fleeth, and goeth in to Egypt.

<sup>22</sup> And the king Jehoiakim sendeth men to Egypt — Elnathan son of Achbor, and men with him unto Egypt —

<sup>23</sup> And they bring out Urijah from Egypt, and bring him in unto the king Jehoiakim, and he smiteth him with a sword, and casteth his corpse unto the graves of the sons of the people.'

<sup>24</sup> Only, the hand of Ahikam son of Shaphan hath been with Jeremiah so as not to give him up into the hand of the people to put him to death.

27

<sup>3</sup> And thou hast put them on thy neck, and hast sent them unto the king of Edom, and unto the king of Moab, and unto the king of the sons of Ammon, and unto the king of Tyre, and unto the king of Zidon, by the hand of messengers who are coming in to Jerusalem, unto Zedekiah king of Judah;

<sup>4</sup> And thou hast commanded them for their lords, saying, Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel,

<sup>5</sup> Thus do ye say unto your lords, I — I have made the earth with man, and the cattle that [are] on the face of the earth, by My great power, and by My stretched-out arm, and I have given it to whom it hath been right in Mine eyes.

<sup>6</sup> 'And now, I — I have given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, My servant, and also the beast of the field I have given to him to serve him;

<sup>7</sup> And served him have all the nations, and his son, and his son's son, till the coming in of the time of his land, also it; and done service for him have many nations and great kings.

<sup>8</sup> And it hath come to pass, the nation and the kingdom that do not serve him — Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon — and that which putteth not its neck into the yoke of the king of Babylon, with sword, and with famine, and with pestilence, I lay a charge on that nation — an affirmation of Jehovah — till I consume them by his hand.

<sup>9</sup> 'And ye, ye do not hearken unto your prophets, and unto your diviners, and unto your dreamers, and unto your observers of clouds, and unto your sorcerers who are speaking unto you, saying, Ye do not serve the king of Babylon, —

<sup>10</sup> For falsehood they are prophesying to you, so as to remove you far from off your ground, and I have driven you out, and ye have perished.

<sup>11</sup> And the nation that causeth its neck to enter into the yoke of the king of Babylon, and hath served him — I have left it on its ground — an affirmation of Jehovah — and it hath tilled it, and dwelt in it.'

<sup>12</sup> And unto Zedekiah king of Judah I have spoken according to all these words, saying, 'Cause your necks to enter into the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live.

<sup>13</sup> Why do ye die, thou and thy people, by sword, by famine, and by pestilence, as Jehovah hath spoken concerning the nation that doth not serve the king of Babylon?

<sup>14</sup> 'And ye do not hearken unto the words of the prophets who are speaking unto you, saying, Ye do not serve the king of Babylon, — for falsehood they are prophesying to you.

<sup>15</sup> For I have not sent them — an affirmation of Jehovah — and they are prophesying in My name falsely, so as to drive you out, and ye have perished, ye, and the prophets who are prophesying to you.'

<sup>16</sup> And unto the priests, and unto all this people, I have spoken, saying, 'Thus said Jehovah, Ye do not hearken unto the words of your prophets, who are prophesying to you, saying, Lo, the vessels of the house of Jehovah are brought back from Babylon now in haste, for falsehood they are prophesying to you.

<sup>18</sup> 'And, if they be prophets, and if a word of Jehovah be with them, let them intercede, I pray you, with Jehovah of Hosts, so that the vessels that are left in the house of Jehovah, and [in] the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem, have not gone into Babylon.

<sup>21</sup> Surely thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, concerning the vessels that are left of the house of Jehovah, and of the house of the king of Judah, and [in] Jerusalem:

<sup>22</sup> To Babylon they are brought, and there they are till the day of My inspecting them – an affirmation of Jehovah; then I have brought them up, and have brought them back unto this place.'

28

<sup>1</sup> And it cometh to pass, in that year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month, spoken unto me hath Hananiah son of Azur the prophet, who [is] of Gibeon, in the house of Jehovah, before the eyes of the priests, and all the people, saying,

<sup>3</sup> Within two years of days I am bringing back unto this place all the vessels of the house of Jehovah that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon hath taken from this place, and doth carry to Babylon,

<sup>4</sup> And Jeconiah son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and all the removed of Judah, who are entering Babylon, I am bringing back unto this place – an affirmation of Jehovah; for I do break the yoke of the king of Babylon.'

<sup>5</sup> And Jeremiah the prophet saith unto Hananiah the prophet, before the eyes of the priests, and before the eyes of all the people who are standing in the house of Jehovah,

<sup>6</sup> Yea, Jeremiah the prophet saith, 'Amen! so may Jehovah do; Jehovah establish thy words that thou hast prophesied, to bring back the vessels of the house of Jehovah and all the removal from Babylon, unto this place.

<sup>7</sup> 'Only, hear, I pray thee, this word that I am speaking in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people.

<sup>9</sup> The prophet who doth prophesy of peace – by the coming in of the word of the prophet, known is the prophet that Jehovah hath truly sent him.'

<sup>10</sup> And Hananiah the prophet taketh the yoke from off the neck of Jeremiah the prophet, and breaketh it,

<sup>11</sup> And Hananiah speaketh before the eyes of all the people, saying, 'Thus said Jehovah, Thus I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, within two years of days, from off the neck of all the nations;' and Jeremiah the prophet goeth on his way.

<sup>12</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto Jeremiah after the breaking, by Hananiah the prophet, of the yoke from off the neck of Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

<sup>13</sup> 'Go, and thou hast spoken unto Hananiah, saying, Thus said Jehovah, Yokes of wood thou hast broken, and I have made instead of them yokes of iron;

<sup>14</sup> For thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, A yoke of iron I have put on the neck of all these nations to serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and they have served him, and also the beast of the field I have given to him.'

<sup>15</sup> And Jeremiah the prophet saith unto Hananiah the prophet, 'Hear, I pray thee, O Hananiah; Jehovah hath not sent thee, and thou hast caused this people to trust on falsehood.

<sup>16</sup> Therefore thus said Jehovah, Lo, I am casting thee from off the face of the ground; this year thou diest, for apostasy thou hast spoken concerning Jehovah.'

29

<sup>1</sup> And these [are] words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the remnant of the elders of the removal, and unto the priests, and unto the prophets, and unto all the people — whom Nebuchadnezzar removed from Jerusalem to Babylon,

<sup>2</sup> After the going forth of Jeconiah the king, and the mistress, and the officers, heads of Judah and Jerusalem, and the artificer, and the smith, from Jerusalem —

<sup>3</sup> By the hand of Eleasah son of Shaphan, and Gemariah son of Hilkijah, whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent unto Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon — to Babylon, saying,

<sup>4</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, to all the removal that I removed from Jerusalem to Babylon,

<sup>6</sup> Take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take for your sons wives, and your daughters give to husbands, and they bear sons and daughters; and multiply there, and ye are not few;

<sup>7</sup> And seek the peace of the city whither I have removed you, and pray for it unto Jehovah, for in its peace ye have peace.

<sup>8</sup> 'For thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, Let not your prophets who [are] in your midst, and your diviners, lift you up, nor hearken ye unto their dreams, that ye are causing [them] to dream;

<sup>9</sup> For with falsehood they are prophesying to you in My name; I have not sent them, an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>10</sup> 'For thus said Jehovah, Surely at the fulness of Babylon — seventy years — I inspect you, and have established towards you My good word, to bring you back unto this place.

<sup>11</sup> For I have known the thoughts that I am thinking towards you — an affirmation of Jehovah; thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give to you posterity and hope.

<sup>12</sup> 'And ye have called Me, and have gone, and have prayed unto Me, and I have hearkened unto you,

<sup>13</sup> And ye have sought Me, and have found, for ye seek Me with all your heart;

<sup>14</sup> And I have been found of you — an affirmation of Jehovah; and I have turned back [to] your captivity, and have gathered you out of all the nations, and out of all the places whither I have driven you — an affirmation of Jehovah — and I have brought you back unto the place whence I removed you.

<sup>15</sup> 'Because ye have said, Jehovah hath raised up to us prophets in Babylon,

<sup>16</sup> Surely thus said Jehovah concerning the king who is sitting on the throne of David, and concerning all the people that is dwelling in this city, your brethren who went not forth with you in the removal;

<sup>17</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, Lo, I am sending among them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and I have given them up as figs that [are] vile, that are not eaten for badness.

<sup>18</sup> And I have pursued after them with sword, with famine, and with pestilence, and have given them for a trembling to all kingdoms of the earth, for a curse and for an astonishment, and for a hissing, and for a reproach among all the nations whither I have driven them,

<sup>19</sup> Because that they have not hearkened unto My words — an affirmation of Jehovah — that I sent unto them by My servants the prophets, rising early and sending, and ye hearkened not — an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>20</sup> 'And ye, hear ye a word of Jehovah, all ye of the captivity that I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon,

<sup>21</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, concerning Ahab son of Kolaiah, and concerning Zedekiah son of Maaseiah, who are prophesying to you in My name falsehood: Lo, I am giving them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he hath smitten them before your eyes,

<sup>22</sup> And taken from them hath been a reviling by all the removed of Judah that [are] in Babylon, saying, Jehovah doth set thee as Zedekiah, and as Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted with fire;

<sup>23</sup> Because that they have done folly in Israel, and commit adultery with the wives of their neighbours, and speak a word in My name falsely that I have not commanded them, and I [am] He who knoweth and a witness — an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>25</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, saying, Because that thou hast sent in thy name letters unto all the people who [are] in Jerusalem, and unto Zephaniah son of Maaseiah the priest, and unto all the priests, saying,

<sup>26</sup> Jehovah hath made thee priest instead of Jehoiada the priest, for there being inspectors of the house of Jehovah, for every one mad and making himself a prophet, and thou hast put him unto the torture and unto the stocks.

<sup>27</sup> And now, why hast thou not pushed against Jeremiah of Anathoth, who is making himself a prophet to you?

<sup>31</sup> 'Send unto all the removal, saying, Thus said Jehovah concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah prophesied to you, and I — I have not sent him, and he doth cause you to trust on falsehood,

<sup>32</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah, Lo, I am seeing after Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and after his seed, he hath none dwelling in the midst of this people, nor doth he look on the good that I am doing to My people — an affirmation of Jehovah — for apostasy he hath spoken against Jehovah.'

30

<sup>2</sup> 'Thus spake Jehovah, God of Israel, saying, Write for thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee on a book.

<sup>3</sup> For, lo, days are coming — an affirmation of Jehovah — and I have turned back [to] the captivity of My people Israel and Judah, said Jehovah, and I have caused them to turn back unto the land that I gave to their fathers, and they do possess it.'

<sup>4</sup> And these [are] the words that Jehovah hath spoken concerning Israel and concerning Judah:

<sup>5</sup> Surely thus said Jehovah: A voice of trembling we have heard, Fear — and there is no peace.

<sup>6</sup> Ask, I pray you, and see, is a male bringing forth? Wherefore have I seen every man, His hands on his loins, as a travailing woman, And all faces have been turned to paleness?

<sup>7</sup> Woe! for great [is] that day, without any like it, Yea, a time of adversity it [is] to Jacob, Yet out of it he is saved.

<sup>8</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, I break his yoke from off thy neck, And thy bands I draw away, And lay no more service on him do strangers.

<sup>9</sup> And they have served Jehovah their God, And David their king whom I raise up to them.

<sup>10</sup> And thou, be not afraid, My servant Jacob, An affirmation of Jehovah, Nor be affrighted, O Israel, For, lo, I am saving thee from afar, And thy seed from the land of their captivity, And Jacob hath turned back and rested, And is quiet, and there is none troubling.

<sup>11</sup> For with thee [am] I, An affirmation of Jehovah — to save thee, For I make an end of all the nations Whither I have scattered thee, Only, of thee I do not make an end, And I have chastised thee in judgment, And do not entirely acquit thee.

<sup>16</sup> Therefore all consuming thee are consumed, And all thine adversaries — all of them — Into captivity do go, And thy spoilers have been for a spoil, And all thy plunderers I give up to plunder.

<sup>17</sup> For I increase health to thee, And from thy strokes I do heal thee, An affirmation of Jehovah, For 'Outcast' they have called to thee, 'Zion it [is], there is none seeking for her.'

<sup>18</sup> Thus said Jehovah: Lo, I turn back [to] the captivity of the tents of Jacob, And his dwelling places I pity, And the city hath been built on its heap, And the palace according to its ordinance remaineth.

<sup>19</sup> And gone forth from them hath thanksgiving, And the voice of playful ones, And I have multiplied them and they are not few, And made them honourable, and they are not small.

<sup>20</sup> And his sons have been as aforetime, And his company before Me is established, And I have seen after all his oppressors.

<sup>21</sup> And his honourable one hath been of himself, And his ruler from his midst goeth forth, And I have caused him to draw near, And he hath drawn nigh unto Me, For who [is] he who hath pledged his heart To draw nigh unto Me? An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>22</sup> And ye have been to Me for a people, And I am to you for God.

31

<sup>1</sup> At that time, an affirmation of Jehovah, I am for God to all families of Israel, And they — they are to Me for a people.

<sup>3</sup> From afar Jehovah hath appeared to me, With love age-during I have loved thee, Therefore I have drawn thee [with] kindness.

<sup>6</sup> For there is a day, Cried have watchmen on mount Ephraim, 'Rise, and we go up to Zion, unto Jehovah our God;

<sup>8</sup> Lo, I am bringing them in from the north country, And have gathered them from the sides of the earth, Among them [are] blind and lame, Conceiving and travailing one — together, A great assembly — they turn back hither.

<sup>9</sup> With weeping they come in, And with supplications I bring them, I cause them to go unto streams of waters, In a right way — they stumble not in it, For I have been to Israel for a father, And Ephraim — My first-born [is] he.

<sup>12</sup> And they have come in, And have sung in the high place of Zion, And flowed unto the goodness of Jehovah, For wheat, and for new wine, and for oil, And for the young of the flock and herd, And their soul hath been as a watered garden, And they add not to grieve any more.

<sup>15</sup> Thus said Jehovah, A voice in Ramah is heard, wailing, weeping most bitter, Rachel is weeping for her sons, She hath refused to be comforted for her sons, because they are not.

<sup>16</sup> Thus said Jehovah: Withhold thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears, For there is a reward for thy work, An affirmation of Jehovah, And they have turned back from the land of the enemy.

<sup>17</sup> And there is hope for thy latter end, An affirmation of Jehovah, And the sons have turned back [to] their border.

<sup>18</sup> I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself, 'Thou hast chastised me, And I am chastised, as a heifer not taught, Turn me back, and I turn back, For thou [art] Jehovah my God.

<sup>19</sup> For after my turning back I repented, And after my being instructed I struck on the thigh, I have been ashamed, I have also blushed, For I have borne the reproach of my youth.

<sup>20</sup> A precious son is Ephraim to Me? A child of delights? For since My speaking against him, I do thoroughly remember him still, Therefore have My bowels been moved for him, I do greatly love him, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>21</sup> Set up for thee signs, make for thee heaps, Set thy heart to the highway, the way thou wentest, Turn back, O virgin of Israel, Turn back unto these thy cities.

<sup>23</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, Still they say this word in the land of Judah, And in its cities, In My turning back [to] their captivity, Jehovah doth bless thee, habitation of righteousness, Mountain of holiness.

<sup>24</sup> And dwelt in Judah have husbandmen, and in all its cities together, And they have journeyed in order.

<sup>25</sup> For I have satiated the weary soul, And every grieved soul I have filled.'

<sup>26</sup> On this I have awaked, and I behold, and my sleep hath been sweet to me.

<sup>27</sup> Lo, days are coming, an affirmation of Jehovah, And I have sown the house of Israel, And the house of Judah, With seed of man, and seed of beast.

<sup>28</sup> And it hath been, as I watched over them to pluck up, And to break down, and to throw down, And to destroy, and to afflict; So do I watch over them to build, and to plant, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>29</sup> In those days they do not say any more: Fathers have eaten unripe fruit, And the sons' teeth are blunted.

<sup>30</sup> But — each for his own iniquity doth die, Every man who is eating the unripe fruit, Blunted are his teeth.

<sup>31</sup> Lo, days are coming, an affirmation of Jehovah, And I have made with the house of Israel And with the house of Judah a new covenant,

<sup>32</sup> Not like the covenant that I made with their fathers, In the day of My laying hold on their hand, To bring them out of the land of Egypt, In that they made void My covenant, And I ruled over them — an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>33</sup> For this [is] the covenant that I make, With the house of Israel, after those days, An affirmation of Jehovah, I have given My law in their inward part,

And on their heart I do write it, And I have been to them for God, And they are to me for a people.

<sup>34</sup> And they do not teach any more Each his neighbour, and each his brother, Saying, Know ye Jehovah, For they all know Me, from their least unto their greatest, An affirmation of Jehovah; For I pardon their iniquity, And of their sin I make mention no more.

<sup>35</sup> Thus said Jehovah, Who is giving the sun for a light by day, The statutes of moon and stars for a light by night, Quieting the sea when its billows roar, Jehovah of Hosts [is] His name:

<sup>36</sup> If these statutes depart from before Me, An affirmation of Jehovah, Even the seed of Israel doth cease From being a nation before Me all the days.

<sup>37</sup> Thus said Jehovah: If the heavens above be measured, And the foundations of earth below searched, Even I kick against all the seed of Israel, For all that they have done, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>39</sup> And gone out again hath the measuring line Over-against it, unto the height of Gareb, And it hath compassed to Goah.

<sup>40</sup> And all the valley of the carcases and of the ashes, And all the fields unto the brook Kidron, Unto the corner of the horse-gate eastward, [Are] holy to Jehovah, it is not plucked up, Nor is it thrown down any more to the age!

32

<sup>2</sup> And then the forces of the king of Babylon are laying siege against Jerusalem, and Jeremiah the prophet hath been shut up in the court of the prison that [is] in the house of the king of Judah,

<sup>3</sup> Where Zedekiah king of Judah hath shut him up, saying, 'Wherefore art thou prophesying, saying, Thus said Jehovah, Lo, I am giving this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he hath captured it;

<sup>4</sup> And Zedekiah king of Judah doth not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but is certainly given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and his mouth hath spoken with his mouth, and his eyes see his eyes,

<sup>5</sup> And [to] Babylon he leadeth Zedekiah, and there he is till My inspecting him, — an affirmation of Jehovah — because ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye do not prosper.'

<sup>7</sup> Lo, Hanameel son of Shallum, thine uncle, is coming unto thee, saying, Buy for thee my field that [is] in Anathoth, for thine [is] the right of redemption — to buy.

<sup>8</sup> And Hanameel, my uncle's son, cometh in unto me, according to the word of Jehovah, unto the court of the prison, and saith unto me, 'Buy, I pray thee, my field that [is] in Anathoth, that [is] in the land of Benjamin, for thine [is] the right of possession, and thine of redemption — buy for thee.' And I know that it [is] the word of Jehovah, <sup>9</sup> And I buy the field, that [is] in Anathoth, from Hanameel, my uncle's son, and I weigh to him the money — seventeen shekels of silver.

<sup>10</sup> And I write in a book, and seal, and cause witnesses to testify, and weigh the silver in balances;

<sup>11</sup> And I take the purchase-book, the sealed one, according to law and custom, and the open one.

<sup>12</sup> And I give the purchase-book unto Baruch son of Neriah, son of Maaseiah, before the eyes of Hanameel, my uncle's son, and before the eyes of the witnesses, those writing in the purchase-book, before the eyes of all the Jews who are sitting in the court of the prison.

<sup>14</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, Take these books, this purchase-book, both the sealed one and the open one, and thou hast put them in an earthen vessel, that they may remain many days;

<sup>16</sup> And I pray unto Jehovah — after my giving the purchase-book unto Baruch son of Neriah — saying,

<sup>17</sup> 'Ah, Lord Jehovah, lo, Thou hast made the heavens and the earth by Thy great power, and by Thy stretched-out arm; there is nothing too wonderful for Thee:

<sup>18</sup> Doing kindness to thousands, and recompensing iniquity of fathers into the bosom of their sons after them; God, the great, the mighty, Jehovah of Hosts [is] His name,

<sup>19</sup> Great in counsel, and mighty in act, in that Thine eyes are open on all the ways of the sons of Adam, to give to each according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings:

<sup>20</sup> In that thou hast done signs and wonders in the land of Egypt unto this day, and in Israel, and among men, and Thou dost make for Thee a name as [at] this day.

<sup>22</sup> And thou givest to them this land that thou didst swear to their fathers to give to them, a land flowing with milk and honey,

<sup>23</sup> And they come in, and possess it, and they have not hearkened to Thy voice, and in Thy law have not walked, all that which Thou didst lay a charge on them to do they have not done, and Thou dost proclaim [to] them all this evil.

<sup>24</sup> 'Lo, the mounts — they have come in to the city to capture it, and the city hath been given into the hand of the Chaldeans who are fighting against it, because of the sword, and the famine, and the pestilence; and that which Thou hast spoken hath come to pass, and lo, Thou art seeing;

<sup>28</sup> 'Therefore, thus said Jehovah, Lo, I am giving this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he hath captured it;

<sup>29</sup> And come in have the Chaldeans who are fighting against this city, and they have set this city on fire, and have burned it, and the houses on whose roofs they made perfume to Baal, and poured out libations to other gods, so as to provoke Me to anger.

<sup>30</sup> For the sons of Israel and the sons of Judah have been only doing evil in Mine eyes, from their youth; for the sons of Israel are only provoking Me with the work of their hands — an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>31</sup> 'For a cause of Mine anger, and a cause of My fury, hath this city been to Me, even from the day that they built it, and unto this day – to turn it aside from before My face, <sup>32</sup> Because of all the evil of the sons of Israel, and of the sons of Judah that they have done, so as to provoke Me – they, their kings, their heads, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

<sup>33</sup> And they turn unto Me the neck, and not the face, and teaching them, rising early and teaching, and they are not hearkening to accept instruction.

<sup>34</sup> 'And they set their abominations in the house over which My name is called, so as to defile it;

<sup>35</sup> And they build the high places of Baal, that [are] in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through to Molech, which I did not command them, nor did it come up on my heart to do this abomination, so as to cause Judah to sin.

<sup>36</sup> 'And now, therefore, thus said Jehovah, God of Israel, concerning this city, of which ye are saying, It hath been given into the hand of the king of Babylon by sword, and by famine, and by pestilence,

<sup>37</sup> Lo, I am gathering them out of all the lands whither I have driven them in Mine anger, and in My fury, and in great wrath, and I have brought them back unto this place, and have caused them to dwell confidently;

<sup>38</sup> and they have been to Me for a people, and I am to them for God;

<sup>39</sup> and I have given to them one heart, and one way, to fear Me all the days, for good to them, and to their sons after them:

<sup>40</sup> and I have made for them a covenant age-during, in that I turn not back from after them for My doing them good, and My fear I put in their heart, so as not to turn aside from me;

<sup>41</sup> and I have rejoiced over them to do them good, and have planted them in this land in truth, with all my heart, and with all My soul.

<sup>42</sup> 'For thus said Jehovah: As I brought in unto this people all this great evil, so I am bringing in on them all the good that I am speaking concerning them;

<sup>43</sup> and bought hath been the field in this land of which ye are saying, A desolation it [is], without man and beast, it hath been given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

<sup>44</sup> Fields with money they buy, so as to write in a book, and to seal, and to cause witnesses to testify, in the land of Benjamin, and in suburbs of Jerusalem, and in cities of Judah, and in cities of the hill-country, and in cities of the low country, and in cities of the south, for I turn back their captivity – an affirmation of Jehovah.'

33

<sup>3</sup> Call unto Me, and I do answer thee, yea, I declare to thee great and fenced things – thou hast not known them.

<sup>4</sup> For thus said Jehovah, God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, that are broken down for the mounts, and for the tool;

<sup>5</sup> they are coming in to fight with the Chaldeans, and to fill them with the carcasses of men, whom I have smitten in Mine anger, and in My fury, and [for] whom I have hidden My face from this city, because of all their evil:

<sup>6</sup> Lo, I am increasing to it health and cure, And have healed them, and revealed to them The abundance of peace and truth.

<sup>7</sup> And I have turned back the captivity of Judah, And the captivity of Israel, And I have built them as at the first,

<sup>8</sup> And cleansed them from all their iniquity, That they have sinned against Me, And I have pardoned all their iniquities, That they have sinned against Me, And that they transgressed against Me.

<sup>9</sup> And it hath been to Me for a name of joy, For praise, and for beauty, to all nations of the earth, Who hear of all the good that I am doing them, And they have feared, And they have trembled for all the good, And for all the peace, that I am doing to it.

<sup>10</sup> Thus said Jehovah: Again heard in this place of which ye are saying, Waste it [is], without man and without beast, In cities of Judah, and in streets of Jerusalem, That are desolated, without man, And without inhabitant, and without beast, <sup>11</sup> Is a voice of joy and a voice of gladness, Voice of bridegroom, and voice of bride, The voice of those saying, Thank Jehovah of Hosts, for Jehovah [is] good, For His kindness [is] to the age, Who are bringing in thanksgiving to the house of Jehovah, For I turn back the captivity of the land, As at the first, said Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Again there is in this place — that is waste, Without man and beast, And in all its cities — a habitation of shepherds, Causing the flock to lie down.

<sup>13</sup> In the cities of the hill-country, In the cities of the low country, And in the cities of the south, And in the land of Benjamin, And in the suburbs of Jerusalem, And in the cities of Judah, Again doth the flock pass by under the hands of the numberer, said Jehovah.

<sup>14</sup> Lo, days are coming, an affirmation of Jehovah, And I have established the good word That I spake unto the house of Israel, And concerning the house of Judah.

<sup>15</sup> In those days, and at that time, I cause to shoot up to David a shoot of righteousness, And he hath done judgment and righteousness in the earth.

<sup>20</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah: If ye do break My covenant of the day, And My covenant of the night, So that they are not daily and nightly in their season,

<sup>21</sup> Also My covenant is broken with David My servant, So that he hath not a son reigning on his throne, And with the Levites the priests, My ministers.

<sup>22</sup> As the host of the heavens is not numbered, Nor the sand of the sea measured, So I multiply the seed of David My servant, And the Levites My ministers.'

<sup>24</sup>'Hast thou not considered what this people have spoken, saying: The two families on which Jehovah fixed, He doth reject them, And my people they despise — So that they are no more a people before them!

<sup>25</sup>Thus said Jehovah: If My covenant [is] not daily and nightly, The statutes of heaven and earth I have not appointed —

<sup>26</sup>Also the seed of Jacob, and David My servant, I reject, Against taking from his seed rulers For the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, For I turn back [to] their captivity, and have pitied them.'

34

<sup>2</sup>'Thus said Jehovah, God of Israel: Go, and thou hast spoken unto Zedekiah king of Judah, and hast said unto him, Thus said Jehovah: Lo, I am giving this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he hath burned it with fire,

<sup>4</sup>'Only, hear a word of Jehovah, O Zedekiah king of Judah, Thus said Jehovah unto thee: Thou dost not die by sword,

<sup>5</sup>in peace thou diest, and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings who have been before thee, so they make a burning for thee; and Ah, lord, they lament for thee, for the word I have spoken — an affirmation of Jehovah.'

<sup>9</sup>to send out each his man-servant, and each his maid-servant — the Hebrew and the Hebrewess — free, so as not to lay service on them, any on a Jew his brother;

<sup>10</sup>and hearken do all the heads, and all the people who have come in to the covenant to send forth each his man-servant and each his maid-servant free, so as not to lay service on them any more, yea, they hearken, and send them away;

<sup>11</sup>and they turn afterwards, and cause the men-servants and the maid-servants to return, whom they had sent forth free, and they subdue them for men-servants and for maid-servants.

<sup>13</sup>'Thus said Jehovah, God of Israel, I — I made a covenant with your fathers in the day of My bringing them forth from the land of Egypt, from a house of servants, saying,

<sup>14</sup>At the end of seven years ye do send forth each his brother, the Hebrew, who is sold to thee, and hath served thee six years, yea, thou hast sent him forth free from thee: and your fathers hearkened not unto Me, nor inclined their ear.

<sup>15</sup> 'And ye turn back, ye to-day, and ye do that which is right in Mine eyes, to proclaim liberty each to his neighbour, and ye make a covenant before Me in the house over which My name is called.

<sup>16</sup> And — ye turn back, and pollute My name, and ye cause each his man-servant and each his maid-servant, whom he had sent forth free, (at their pleasure,) to return, and ye subdue them to be to you for men-servants and for maid-servants.

<sup>17</sup> 'Therefore, thus said Jehovah: Ye have not hearkened unto Me to proclaim freedom, each to his brother, and each to his neighbour; lo, I am proclaiming to you liberty — an affirmation of Jehovah — unto the sword, unto the pestilence, and unto the famine, and I have given you for a trembling to all kingdoms of the earth.

<sup>18</sup> 'And I have given the men who are transgressing My covenant, who have not established the words of the covenant that they have made before Me, by the calf, that they have cut in two, and pass through between its pieces —

<sup>19</sup> heads of Judah, and heads of Jerusalem, the officers, and the priests, and all the people of the land those passing through between the pieces of the calf —

<sup>20</sup> yea, I have given them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those seeking their soul, and their carcase hath been for food to the fowl of the heavens, and to the beast of the earth.

<sup>21</sup> 'And Zedekiah king of Judah, and his heads, I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those seeking their soul, and into the hand of the forces of the king of Babylon, that are going up from off you.

<sup>22</sup> Lo, I am commanding — an affirmation of Jehovah — and have brought them back unto this city, and they have fought against it, and captured it, and burned it with fire, and the cities of Judah I do make a desolation — without inhabitant.'

35

<sup>3</sup> And I take Jaazaniah son of Jeremiah, son of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and all the house of the Rechabites,

<sup>4</sup> and bring them into the house of Jehovah, unto the chamber of the sons of Hanan son of Igdaliah, a man of God, that [is] near to the chamber of the princes, that [is] above the chamber of Maaseiah son of Shallum, keeper of the threshold;

<sup>5</sup> and I put before the sons of the house of the Rechabites goblets full of wine, and cups, and I say unto them, Drink ye wine.

<sup>6</sup> And they say, 'We do not drink wine: for Jonadab son of Rechab, our father, charged us, saying, Ye do not drink wine, ye and your sons — unto the age;

<sup>7</sup> and a house ye do not build, and seed ye do not sow, and a vineyard ye do not plant, nor have ye any; for in tents do ye dwell all your days, that ye may live many days on the face of the ground whither ye are sojourning.

<sup>8</sup> 'And we hearken to the voice of Jonadab son of Rechab, our father, to all that he commanded us, not to drink wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, and our daughters;

<sup>9</sup> nor to build houses for our dwelling; and vineyard, and field, and seed, we have none;

<sup>10</sup> and we dwell in tents, and we hearken, and we do according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us;

<sup>11</sup> and it cometh to pass, in the coming up of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon unto the land, that we say, Come, and we enter Jerusalem, because of the force of the Chaldeans, and because of the force of Aram — and we dwell in Jerusalem.'

<sup>12</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto Jeremiah, saying: 'Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel:

<sup>13</sup> 'Go, and thou hast said to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem: Do ye not receive instruction? — to hearken unto My words — an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>14</sup> Performed have been the words of Jonadab son of Rechab, when he commanded his sons not to drink wine, and they have not drunk unto this day, for they have obeyed the command of their father; and I — I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking, and ye have not hearkened unto Me.

<sup>15</sup> And I send unto you all My servants the prophets, rising early and sending, saying: Turn back, I pray you, each from his evil way, and amend your doings, yea, ye do not walk after other gods, to serve them, and dwell ye on the ground that I have given to you and to your fathers; and ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto Me.

<sup>16</sup> 'Because the sons of Jonadab son of Rechab have performed the command of their father, that he commanded them, and this people have not hearkened unto Me,

<sup>17</sup> therefore thus said Jehovah, God of Hosts, God of Israel: Lo, I am bringing in unto Judah, and unto all inhabitants of Jerusalem, all the evil that I have spoken against them, because I have spoken unto them, and they have not hearkened, yea, I call to them, and they have not answered.'

<sup>18</sup> And to the house of the Rechabites said Jeremiah: 'Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, Because that ye have hearkened unto the command of Jonadab your father, and ye observe all his commands, and do according to all that he commanded you;

<sup>19</sup> therefore, thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, Of Jonadab son of Rechab one standing before me is not cut off all the days.'

36

<sup>2</sup> 'Take to thee a roll of a book, and thou hast written on it all the words that I have spoken unto thee concerning Israel, and concerning Judah, and concerning all the nations, from the day I spake unto thee, from the days of Josiah, even unto this day;

<sup>3</sup> if so be the house of Israel do hear all the evil that I am thinking of doing to them, so that they turn back each from his evil way, and I have been propitious to their iniquity, and to their sin.'

<sup>4</sup> And Jeremiah calleth Baruch son of Neriah, and Baruch writeth from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of Jehovah, that He hath spoken unto him, on a roll of a book.

<sup>5</sup> And Jeremiah commandeth Baruch, saying, 'I am restrained, I am not able to enter the house of Jehovah;

<sup>6</sup> but thou hast entered — and thou hast read in the roll that thou hast written from my mouth, the words of Jehovah, in the ears of the people, in the house of Jehovah, in the day of the fast, and also in the ears of all Judah who are coming in from their cities thou dost read them;

<sup>7</sup> if so be their supplication doth fall before Jehovah, and they turn back each from his evil way, for great [is] the anger and the fury that Jehovah hath spoken concerning this people.'

<sup>8</sup> And Baruch son of Neriah doth according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, to read in the book the words of Jehovah in the house of Jehovah.

<sup>9</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the fifth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah, in the ninth month, proclaimed a fast before Jehovah have all the people in Jerusalem, and all the people who are coming in from cities of Judah to Jerusalem;

<sup>10</sup> and Baruch readeth in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of Jehovah, in the chamber of Gemariah son of Shaphan the scribe, in the higher court, at the opening of the new gate of the house of Jehovah, in the ears of all the people.

<sup>11</sup> And Michaiah son of Gemariah, son of Shaphan, heareth all the words of Jehovah from off the book, <sup>12</sup> and he goeth down [to] the house of the king, unto the chamber of the scribe, and lo, there are all the heads sitting: Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan son of Achor, and Gemariah son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah son of Hananiah, and all the heads.

<sup>13</sup> And declare to them doth Micaiah all the words that he hath heard, when Baruch readeth in the book in the ears of the people;

<sup>14</sup> and all the heads send unto Baruch, Jehudi son of Nethaniah, son of Shelemiah, son of Cushi, saying, 'The roll in which thou hast read in the ears of the people take in thy hand, and come.' And Baruch son of Neriah taketh the roll in his hand and cometh in unto them,

<sup>15</sup> and they say unto him, 'Sit down, we pray thee, and read it in our ears,' and Baruch readeth in their ears,

<sup>16</sup> and it cometh to pass, when they hear all the words, they have been afraid one at another, and say unto Baruch, 'We do surely declare to the king all these words.'

<sup>19</sup> And the heads say unto Baruch, 'Go, be hidden, thou and Jeremiah, and let no one know where ye [are].'

<sup>20</sup> And they go in unto the king, to the court, and the roll they have laid up in the chamber of Elishama the scribe, and they declare in the ears of the king all the words.

<sup>21</sup> And the king sendeth Jehudi to take the roll, and he taketh it out of the chamber of Elishama the scribe, and Jehudi readeth it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the heads who are standing by the king;

<sup>22</sup> and the king is sitting in the winter-house, in the ninth month, and the stove before him is burning,

<sup>23</sup> and it cometh to pass, when Jehudi readeth three or four leaves, he cutteth it out with the scribe's knife, and hath cast unto the fire, that [is] on the stove, till the consumption of all the roll by the fire that [is] on the stove.

<sup>24</sup> And the king and all his servants who are hearing all these words have not been afraid, nor rent their garments.

<sup>25</sup> And also Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah have interceded with the king not to burn the roll, and he hath not hearkened unto them.

<sup>26</sup> And the king commandeth Jerahmeel son of Hammelek, and Seraiah son of Azriel, and Shelemiah son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Jehovah doth hide them.

<sup>27</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto Jeremiah — after the king's burning the roll, even the words that Baruch hath written from the mouth of Jeremiah — saying:

<sup>28</sup> 'Turn, take to thee another roll, and write on it all the former words that were on the first roll, that Jehoiakim king of Judah burnt,

<sup>29</sup> and unto Jehoiakim king of Judah thou dost say: Thus said Jehovah, Thou hast burnt this roll, saying, Wherefore hast thou written on it, saying, The king of Babylon surely cometh in, and hath destroyed this land, and caused to cease from it man and beast?

<sup>30</sup> 'Therefore, thus said Jehovah, concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: He hath none sitting on the throne of David, and his carcase is cast out to heat by day, and to cold by night;

<sup>31</sup> and I have charged on him, and on his seed, and on his servants, their iniquity; and I have brought in on them, and on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto the men of Judah, all the evil that I have spoken unto them, and they hearkened not.'

<sup>32</sup> And Jeremiah hath taken another roll, and giveth it unto Baruch son of Neriah the scribe, and he writeth on it from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book that Jehoiakim king of Judah hath burnt in the fire; and again there were added unto them many words like these.

37

<sup>1</sup> And reign doth king Zedekiah son of Josiah instead of Coniah son of Jehoiakim whom Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had caused to reign in the land of Judah,

<sup>2</sup> and he hath not hearkened, he, and his servants, and the people of the land, unto the words of Jehovah, that He spake by the hand of Jeremiah the prophet.

<sup>3</sup> And Zedekiah the king sendeth Jehucal son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah son of Maaseiah the priest, unto Jeremiah the prophet, saying, 'Pray, we beseech thee, for us unto Jehovah our God.'

<sup>4</sup> And Jeremiah is coming in and going out in the midst of the people, (and they have not put him in the prison-house),

<sup>5</sup> and the force of Pharaoh hath come out of Egypt, and the Chaldeans, who are laying siege against Jerusalem, hear their report, and go up from off Jerusalem.

<sup>7</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah, God of Israel, Thus do ye say unto the king of Judah, who is sending you unto Me, to seek Me: Lo, the force of Pharaoh that is coming out to you for help hath turned back to its land, to Egypt,

<sup>8</sup> and the Chaldeans have turned back, and fought against this city, and captured it, and burnt it with fire.

<sup>9</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah: Lift not up your souls saying, The Chaldeans surely go from off us, for they do not go;

<sup>12</sup> that Jeremiah goeth out from Jerusalem to go [to] the land of Benjamin, to receive a portion thence in the midst of the people.

<sup>13</sup> And it cometh to pass, he is at the gate of Benjamin, and there [is] a master of the ward — and his name is Irijah son of Shelemiah, son of Hananiah — and he catcheth Jeremiah the prophet, saying, 'Unto the Chaldeans thou art falling.'

<sup>14</sup> And Jeremiah saith, 'Falsehood — I am not falling unto the Chaldeans;' and he hath not hearkened unto him, and Irijah layeth hold on Jeremiah, and bringeth him in unto the heads, <sup>15</sup> and the heads are wroth against Jeremiah, and have smitten him, and put him in the prison-house — the house of Jonathan the scribe, for it they had made for a prison-house.

<sup>16</sup> When Jeremiah hath entered into the house of the dungeon, and unto the cells, then Jeremiah dwelleth there many days,

<sup>17</sup> and the king Zedekiah sendeth, and taketh him, and the king asketh him in his house in secret, and saith, 'Is there a word from Jehovah?' And Jeremiah saith, 'There is,' and he saith, 'Into the hand of the king of Babylon thou art given.'

<sup>18</sup> And Jeremiah saith unto the king Zedekiah, 'What have I sinned against thee, and against thy servants, and against this people, that ye have given me unto a prison-house?

<sup>19</sup> And where [are] your prophets who prophesied to you, saying, The king of Babylon doth not come in against you, and against this land?

<sup>20</sup> And now, hearken, I pray thee, my lord, O king, let my supplication fall, I pray thee, before thee, and cause me not to return [to] the house of Jonathan the scribe, that I die not there.'

<sup>21</sup> And the king Zedekiah commandeth, and they commit Jeremiah into the court of the prison, also to give to him a cake of bread daily from the bakers' street, till the consumption of all the bread of the city, and Jeremiah dwelleth in the court of the prison.

38

<sup>1</sup> And Shephatiah son of Mattan, and Gedaliah son of Pashhur, and Jucal son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur son of Malchiah, hear the words that Jeremiah is speaking unto all the people, saying,

<sup>2</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah: He who is remaining in this city dieth, by sword, by famine, and by pestilence, and he who is going forth unto the Chaldeans liveth, and his soul hath been to him for a prey, and he liveth.

<sup>3</sup> Thus said Jehovah: This city is certainly given into the hand of the force of the king of Babylon, and he hath captured it.'

<sup>4</sup> And the heads say unto the king, 'Let, we pray thee, this man be put to death, because that he is making feeble the hands of the men of war, who are left in this city, and the hands of all the people, by speaking unto them according to these words, for this man is not seeking for the peace of this people, but for its evil.'

<sup>6</sup> And they take Jeremiah, and cast him into the pit of Malchiah son of the king, that [is] in the court of the prison, and they send down Jeremiah with cords; and in the pit there is no water, but mire, and Jeremiah sinketh in the mire.

<sup>8</sup> and Ebed-Melech goeth forth from the king's house, and speaketh unto the king, saying,

<sup>9</sup> 'My lord, O king, these men have done evil [in] all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the pit, and he dieth in his place because of the famine, for there is no more bread in the city.'

<sup>13</sup> and they draw out Jeremiah with cords, and bring him up out of the pit, and Jeremiah dwelleth in the court of the prison.

<sup>14</sup> And the king Zedekiah sendeth, and taketh Jeremiah the prophet unto him, unto the third entrance that [is] in the house of Jehovah, and the king saith unto Jeremiah, 'I am asking thee a thing, do not hide from me anything.'

<sup>15</sup> And Jeremiah saith unto Zedekiah, 'When I declare to thee, dost thou not surely put me to death? and when I counsel thee, thou dost not hearken unto me.'

<sup>16</sup> And the king Zedekiah sweareth unto Jeremiah in secret, saying, 'Jehovah liveth, He who made for us this soul, I do not put thee to death, nor give thee unto the hand of these men who are seeking thy soul.'

<sup>17</sup> And Jeremiah saith unto Zedekiah, 'Thus said Jehovah, God of Hosts, God of Israel: If thou dost certainly go forth unto the heads of the king of Babylon, then hath thy soul lived, and this city is not burned with fire, yea, thou hast lived, thou and thy house.

<sup>18</sup> And if thou dost not go forth unto the heads of the king of Babylon, then hath this city been given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they have burnt it with fire, and thou dost not escape from their hand.'

<sup>19</sup> And the king Zedekiah saith unto Jeremiah, 'I am fearing the Jews who have fallen unto the Chaldeans, lest they give me into their hand, and they have insulted me.'

<sup>20</sup> And Jeremiah saith, 'They do not give thee up; hearken, I pray thee, to the voice of Jehovah, to that which I am speaking unto thee, and it is well for thee, and thy soul doth live.

<sup>21</sup> 'And if thou art refusing to go forth, this [is] the thing that Jehovah hath shewn me:

<sup>22</sup> That, lo, all the women who have been left in the house of the king of Judah are brought forth unto the heads of the king of Babylon, and lo, they are saying: Persuaded thee, and prevailed against thee, Have thine allies, Sunk into mire have thy feet, They have been turned backward.

<sup>25</sup> and when the heads hear that I have spoken with thee, and they have come in unto thee, and have said unto thee, Declare to us, we pray thee, what thou didst speak unto the king, do not hide [it] from us, and we do not put thee to death, and what the king spake unto thee,

<sup>26</sup> then thou hast said unto them, I am causing my supplication to fall before the king, not to cause me to return to the house of Jonathan, to die there.'

<sup>27</sup> And all the heads come in unto Jeremiah, and ask him, and he declareth to them according to all these words that the king commanded, and they keep silent from him, for the matter was not heard;

<sup>28</sup> and Jeremiah dwelleth in the court of the prison till the day that Jerusalem hath been captured, and he was [there] when Jerusalem was captured.

39

<sup>2</sup> in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, in the ninth of the month, hath the city been broken up;

<sup>4</sup> And it cometh to pass, when Zedekiah king of Judah, and all the men of war, have seen them, that they flee and go forth by night from the city, the way of the king's garden, through the gate between the two walls, and he goeth forth the way of the plain.

<sup>5</sup> And the forces of the Chaldeans pursue after them, and overtake Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho, and they take him, and bring him up unto Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, to Riblah, in the land of Hamath, and he speaketh with him — judgments.

<sup>7</sup> And the eyes of Zedekiah he hath blinded, and he bindeth him with brazen fetters, to bring him in to Babylon.

<sup>8</sup> And the house of the king, and the house of the people, have the Chaldeans burnt with fire, and the walls of Jerusalem they have broken down.

<sup>12</sup> 'Take him, and place thine eyes upon him, and do no evil thing to him, but as he speaketh unto thee, so do with him.'

<sup>14</sup> yea, they send and take Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and give him unto Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, to carry him home, and he dwelleth in the midst of the people.

<sup>15</sup> And unto Jeremiah hath a word of Jehovah been – in his being detained in the court of the prison – saying:

<sup>16</sup> 'Go, and thou hast spoken to Ebed-Melech the Cushite, saying: Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: Lo, I am bringing in My words unto this city for evil, and not for good, and they have been before thee in that day.

<sup>17</sup> And I have delivered thee in that day – an affirmation of Jehovah – and thou art not given into the hand of the men of whose face thou art afraid,

<sup>18</sup> for I do certainly deliver thee, and by sword thou fallest not, and thy life hath been to thee for a spoil, for thou hast trusted in Me – an affirmation of Jehovah.'

40

<sup>2</sup> And the chief of the executioners taketh Jeremiah, and saith unto him, 'Jehovah thy God hath spoken this evil concerning this place, <sup>3</sup> and Jehovah bringeth [it] in, and doth as He spake, because ye have sinned against Jehovah, and have not hearkened to His voice, even this thing hath been to you.

<sup>4</sup> 'And now, lo, I have loosed thee to-day from the chains that [are] on thy hand; if good in thine eyes to come with me [to] Babylon, come, and I keep mine eye upon thee: and if evil in thine eyes to come with me to Babylon, forbear; see, all the land [is] before thee, whither [it be] good, and whither [it be] right in thine eyes to go – go.' –

<sup>5</sup> and while he doth not reply – 'Or turn back unto Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath appointed over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him in the midst of the people, or whithersoever it is right in thine eyes to go – go.' And the chief of the executioners giveth to him for the way, and a gift, and sendeth him away,

<sup>7</sup> And all the heads of the forces that [are] in the field hear, they and their men, that the king of Babylon hath appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam over the land, and that he hath charged him [with] men, and women, and infants, and of the poor of the land, of those who have not been removed to Babylon;

<sup>8</sup> and they come in unto Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan sons of Kareah, and Seraiah son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah son of the Maachathite, they and their men.

<sup>9</sup> And swear to them doth Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, and to their men, saying, 'Be not afraid of serving the Chaldeans, abide in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it is well for you;

<sup>10</sup> and I, lo, I am dwelling in Mizpah, to stand before the Chaldeans who are come in unto us, and ye, gather ye wine, and summer fruit, and oil, and put in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.'

<sup>11</sup> And also all the Jews who [are] in Moab, and among the sons of Ammon, and in Edom, and who [are] in all the lands, have heard that the king of Babylon hath given a remnant to Judah, and that he hath appointed over them Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan,

<sup>12</sup> and all the Jews from all the places whither they have been driven, turn back and enter the land of Judah, unto Gedaliah, to Mizpah, and they gather wine and summer fruit – very much.

<sup>13</sup> And Johanan son of Kareah, and all the heads of the forces that [are] in the field, have come in unto Gedaliah to Mizpah,

<sup>14</sup> and they say unto him, 'Dost thou really know that Baalis king of the sons of Ammon hath sent Ishmael son of Nethaniah to smite thy soul?' And Gedaliah son of Ahikam hath not given to them credence.

<sup>15</sup> And Johanan son of Kareah hath spoken unto Gedaliah in secret, in Mizpah, saying, 'Let me go, I pray thee, and I smite Ishmael son of Nethaniah, and no one doth know; why doth he smite thy soul? and scattered have been all Judah who are gathered unto thee, and perished hath the remnant of Judah.'

41

<sup>1</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the seventh month, come hath Ishmael son of Nethaniah, son of Elishama, of the seed royal, and of the chiefs of the king, and ten men with him, unto Gedaliah son of Ahikam, to Mizpah, and they eat there bread together in Mizpah.

<sup>2</sup> And Ishmael son of Nethaniah riseth, and the ten men who have been with him, and they smite Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, with the sword, and he putteth him to death whom the king of Babylon hath appointed over the land.

<sup>3</sup> And all the Jews who have been with him, with Gedaliah, in Mizpah, and the Chaldeans who have been found there – the men of war – hath Ishmael smitten.

<sup>4</sup> And it cometh to pass, on the second day of the putting of Gedaliah to death, (and no one hath known,)

<sup>5</sup> that men come in from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria – eighty men – with shaven beards, and rent garments, and cutting themselves, and an offering and frankincense in their hand, to bring in to the house of Jehovah.

<sup>6</sup> And Ishmael son of Nethaniah goeth forth to meet them, from Mizpah, going on and weeping, and it cometh to pass, at meeting them, that he saith unto them, 'Come in unto Gedaliah son of Ahikam.'

<sup>7</sup> And it cometh to pass, at their coming in unto the midst of the city, that Ishmael son of Nethaniah doth slaughter them, at the midst of the pit, he and the men who [are] with him.

<sup>8</sup> And ten men have been found among them, and they say unto Ishmael, 'Do not put us to death, for we have things hidden in the field — wheat, and barley, and oil, and honey.' And he forbearereth, and hath not put them to death in the midst of their brethren.

<sup>9</sup> And the pit whither Ishmael hath cast all the carcases of the men whom he hath smitten along with Gedaliah, is that which the king Asa made because of Baasha king of Israel — it hath Ishmael son of Nethaniah filled with the pierced.

<sup>10</sup> And Ishmael taketh captive all the remnant of the people who [are] in Mizpah, the daughters of the king, and all the people who are left in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-Adan, chief of the executioners, hath committed [to] Gedaliah son of Ahikam, and Ishmael son of Nethaniah taketh them captive, and goeth to pass over unto the sons of Ammon.

<sup>11</sup> And hear doth Johanan son of Kareah, and all the heads of the forces that [are] with him, of all the evil that Ishmael son of Nethaniah hath done,

<sup>12</sup> and they take all the men, and go to fight with Ishmael son of Nethaniah, and they find him at the great waters that [are] in Gibeon.

<sup>13</sup> And it cometh to pass, when all the people who [are] with Ishmael see Johanan son of Kareah, and all the heads of the forces who [are] with him, that they rejoice.

<sup>14</sup> And all the people whom Ishmael hath taken captive from Mizpah turn round, yea, they turn back, and go unto Johanan son of Kareah.

<sup>15</sup> And Ishmael son of Nethaniah hath escaped, with eight men, from the presence of Johanan, and he goeth unto the sons of Ammon.

<sup>16</sup> And Johanan son of Kareah, and all the heads of the forces who [are] with him, take all the remnant of the people whom he hath brought back from Ishmael son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah — after he had smitten Gedaliah son of Ahikam — mighty ones, men of war, and women, and infants, and eunuchs, whom he had brought back from Gibeon,

<sup>17</sup> and they go and abide in the habitations of Chimham, that [are] near Beth-Lehem, to go to enter Egypt, <sup>18</sup> from the presence of the Chaldeans, for they have been afraid of them, for Ishmael son of Nethaniah had smitten Gedaliah son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had appointed over the land.

42

<sup>1</sup> And they come nigh — all the heads of the forces, and Johanan son of Kareah, and Jezaniah son of Hoshai, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest —

<sup>2</sup> and they say unto Jeremiah the prophet, 'Let, we pray thee, our supplication fall before thee, and pray for us unto Jehovah thy God, for all this remnant; for we have been left a few out of many, as thine eyes do see us;

<sup>3</sup> and Jehovah thy God doth declare to us the way in which we walk, and the thing that we do.'

<sup>4</sup> And Jeremiah the prophet saith unto them, 'I have heard: lo, I am praying unto Jehovah your God according to your words, and it hath come to pass, the whole word that Jehovah answereth you, I declare to you — I do not withhold from you a word.'

<sup>5</sup> And they have said to Jeremiah, 'Jehovah is against us for a witness true and faithful, if — according to all the word with which Jehovah thy God doth send thee unto us — we do not so.

<sup>6</sup> Whether good or evil, to the voice of Jehovah our God, to whom we are sending thee, we do hearken; because it is good for us when we hearken to the voice of Jehovah our God.'

<sup>7</sup> And it cometh to pass, at the end of ten days, that there is a word of Jehovah unto Jeremiah,

<sup>8</sup> and he calleth unto Johanan son of Kareah, and unto all the heads of the forces that [are] with him, and to all the people, from the least even unto the greatest,

<sup>9</sup> and he saith unto them, 'Thus said Jehovah, God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me, to cause your supplication to fall before Him:

<sup>10</sup> 'If ye do certainly dwell in this land, then I have builded you up, and I throw not down; and I have planted you, and I pluck not up; for I have repented concerning the evil that I have done to you.

<sup>11</sup> Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, whom ye are afraid of; be not afraid of him — an affirmation of Jehovah — for with you [am] I, to save you, and to deliver you from his hand.

<sup>12</sup> And I give to you mercies, and he hath pitied you, and caused you to turn back unto your own ground.

<sup>13</sup> 'And if ye are saying, We do not dwell in this land — not to hearken to the voice of Jehovah your God,

<sup>14</sup> saying, No; but the land of Egypt we enter, that we see no war, and the sound of a trumpet do not hear, and for bread be not hungry; and there do we dwell.

<sup>15</sup> And now, therefore, hear ye a word of Jehovah, O remnant of Judah: Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: If ye really set your faces to enter Egypt, and have gone in to sojourn there,

<sup>16</sup> then it hath come to pass, the sword that ye are afraid of, doth there overtake you, in the land of Egypt; and the hunger, because of which ye are sorrowful, doth there cleave after you in Egypt, and there ye die.

<sup>17</sup> 'Thus are all the men who have set their faces to enter Egypt to sojourn there; they die — by sword, by hunger, and by pestilence, and there is not to them a remnant and an escaped one, because of the evil that I am bringing in upon them;

<sup>18</sup> for thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: As poured out hath been Mine anger and My fury on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so poured out is My fury upon you in your entering Egypt, and ye have been for an execration, and for an astonishment, and for a reviling, and for a reproach, and ye do not see any more this place.

<sup>19</sup> 'Jehovah hath spoken against you, O remnant of Judah, do not enter Egypt: know certainly that I have testified against you to-day;

<sup>20</sup> for ye have shewed yourselves perverse in your souls, for ye sent me unto Jehovah your God, saying, Pray for us unto Jehovah our God, and according to all that Jehovah our God saith, so declare to us, and we have done [it];

<sup>21</sup> and I declare to you to-day, and ye have not hearkened to the voice of Jehovah your God, and to anything with which He hath sent me unto you.

<sup>22</sup> And now, know ye certainly that by sword, by famine, and by pestilence ye die, in the place that ye have desired to go in to sojourn there.'

43

<sup>1</sup> And it cometh to pass, when Jeremiah doth finish to speak unto all the people all the words of Jehovah their God, with which Jehovah their God hath sent him unto them — all these words —

<sup>2</sup> that Azariah son of Hoshaiiah, and Johanan son of Kareah, and all the proud men, speak unto Jeremiah, saying, 'Falsehood thou art speaking; Jehovah our God hath not sent thee to say, Do not enter Egypt to sojourn there;

<sup>3</sup> for Baruch son of Neriah is moving thee against us, in order to give us up into the hand of the Chaldeans, to put us to death, and to remove us to Babylon.'

<sup>4</sup> And Johanan son of Kareah, and all the heads of the forces, and all the people, have not hearkened to the voice of Jehovah, to dwell in the land of Judah;

<sup>5</sup> and Johanan son of Kareah, and all the heads of the forces, take all the remnant of Judah who have turned from all the nations whither they were driven to sojourn in the land of Judah,

<sup>6</sup> the men, and the women, and the infant, and the daughters of the king, and every person that Nebuzar-Adan, chief of the executioners, had left with Gedaliah son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch son of Neriah,

<sup>7</sup> and they enter the land of Egypt, for they have not hearkened to the voice of Jehovah, and they enter unto Tahpanhes.

<sup>8</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

<sup>10</sup> and thou hast said unto them: Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: 'Lo, I am sending, and I have taken Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, My servant, and I have set his throne above these stones that I have hid, and he hath stretched out his pavilion over them,

<sup>11</sup> and he hath come, and smitten the land of Egypt — those who [are] for death to death, and those who [are] for captivity to captivity, and those who [are] for the sword to the sword.

<sup>12</sup> And I have kindled a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and it hath burned them, and he hath taken them captive, and covered himself with the land of Egypt, as cover himself doth the shepherd with his garment, and he hath gone forth thence in peace;

<sup>13</sup> and he hath broken the standing pillars of the house of the sun, that [is] in the land of Egypt, and the houses of the gods of Egypt he doth burn with fire.'

44

<sup>1</sup> The word that hath been unto Jeremiah concerning all the Jews who are dwelling in the land of Egypt — who are dwelling in Migdol, and in Tahpanhes, and in Noph, and in the land of Pathros — saying,

<sup>2</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: Ye — ye have seen all the evil that I have brought in on Jerusalem, and on all the cities of Judah, and lo, they [are] a waste this day, and there is none dwelling in them,

<sup>3</sup> because of their wickedness that they have done, by provoking Me to anger, by going to make perfume, by serving other gods, that they knew not, they, ye, and your fathers.

<sup>4</sup> 'And I send unto you all my servants, the prophets, rising early and sending, saying: I pray you, do not this abomination that I have hated —

<sup>5</sup> and they have not hearkened nor inclined their ear, to turn back from their wickedness, not to make perfume to other gods,

<sup>6</sup> and poured out is My fury, and Mine anger, and it burneth in cities of Judah, and in streets of Jerusalem, and they are for a waste, for a desolation, as [at] this day.

<sup>7</sup> 'And, now, thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: Why are ye doing great evil unto your own souls, to cut off to you man and woman, infant and suckling, from the midst of Judah, so as not to leave to you a remnant:

<sup>8</sup> by provoking Me to anger by the works of your hands, by making perfume to other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye are going in to sojourn, so as to cut yourselves off, and so as to your being for a reviling and for a reproach among all nations of the earth?

<sup>9</sup> 'Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, that they have done in the land of Judah, and in streets of Jerusalem?

<sup>10</sup> They have not been humbled unto this day, nor have they been afraid, nor have they walked in My law, and in My statutes, that I have set before you and before your fathers.

<sup>11</sup> 'Therefore, thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: Lo, I am setting my face against you for evil, even to cut off all Judah,

<sup>12</sup> and I have taken the remnant of Judah, who have set their faces to enter the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they have all been consumed in the land of Egypt; they fall by sword, by famine they are consumed, from the least even unto the greatest, by sword and by famine they die, and they have been for an execration, for an astonishment, and for a reviling, and for a reproach.

<sup>13</sup> 'And I have seen after those dwelling in the land of Egypt, as I saw after Jerusalem, with sword, with famine, and with pestilence,

<sup>14</sup> and there is not an escaped and remaining one of the remnant of Judah, who are entering into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, even to turn back to the land of Judah, whither they are lifting up their soul to return to dwell, for they do not turn back, except those escaping.'

<sup>15</sup> And they answer Jeremiah — all the men who are knowing that their wives are making perfume to other gods, and all the women who are remaining, a great assembly, even all the people who are dwelling in the land of Egypt, in Pathros — saying:

<sup>16</sup> 'The word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of Jehovah — we are not hearkening unto thee;

<sup>17</sup> for we certainly do everything that hath gone out of our mouth, to make perfume to the queen of the heavens, and to pour out to her libations, as we have done, we, and our fathers, our kings, and our heads, in cities of Judah, and in streets of Jerusalem, and — we are satisfied with bread, and we are well, and evil we have not seen.

<sup>18</sup> 'And from the time we have ceased to make perfume to the queen of the heavens, and to pour out to her libations, we have lacked all, and by sword and by famine we have been consumed,

<sup>19</sup> and when we are making perfume to the queen of the heavens, and pouring out to her libations — without our husbands have we made for her cakes to idolize her, and to pour out to her libations?'

<sup>20</sup> And Jeremiah saith unto all the people, concerning the men and concerning the women, and concerning all the people who are answering him, saying:

<sup>21</sup> 'The perfume that ye made in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye, and your fathers, your kings, and your heads, and the people of the land, hath not Jehovah remembered it? yea, it cometh up on His heart.

<sup>22</sup> And Jehovah is not able any more to accept [you], because of the evil of your doings, because of the abominations that ye have done, and your land is for a waste, and for an astonishment, and for a reviling, without inhabitant, as [at] this day.

<sup>23</sup> 'Because that ye have made perfume, and because ye have sinned against Jehovah, and have not hearkened to the voice of Jehovah, and in His law, and in His statutes, and in His testimonies ye have not walked, therefore hath this evil met you as [at] this day.'

<sup>24</sup> And Jeremiah saith unto all the people, and unto all the women, 'Hear ye a word of Jehovah, all Judah who [are] in the land of Egypt,

<sup>25</sup> Thus spake Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, saying: Ye and your wives both speak with your mouth, and with your hands have fulfilled, saying: We certainly execute our vows that we have vowed, to make perfume to the queen of the heavens, and to pour out to her libations, ye do certainly establish your vows, and certainly execute your vows.

<sup>26</sup> 'Therefore, hear ye a word of Jehovah, all Judah who are dwelling in the land of Egypt: Lo, I — I have sworn by My great name, said Jehovah, My name is no more proclaimed by the mouth of any man of Judah, saying, Live doth the Lord Jehovah — in all the land of Egypt.

<sup>27</sup> Lo, I am watching over them for evil, and not for good, and consumed have been all the men of Judah who [are] in the land of Egypt, by sword and by famine, till their consumption.

<sup>28</sup> 'And the escaped of the sword turn back out of the land of Egypt to the land of Judah, few in number, and known have all the remnant of Judah who are coming into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, whose word is established, Mine or theirs.

<sup>29</sup> 'And this [is] to you the sign — an affirmation of Jehovah — that I am seeing after you in this place, so that ye know that My words are certainly established against you for evil;

<sup>30</sup> Thus said Jehovah, Lo, I am giving Pharaoh-Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of those seeking his life, as I have given Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, his enemy, and who is seeking his life.'

45

<sup>3</sup> 'Thou hast said, Woe to me, now, for Jehovah hath added sorrow to my pain, I have been wearied with my sighing, and rest I have not found.

<sup>4</sup> Thus dost thou say unto him: Thus said Jehovah: Lo, that which I have built I am throwing down, and that which I have planted I am plucking up, even the whole land itself.

<sup>5</sup> And thou — thou seekest for thee great things — do not seek, for lo, I am bringing in evil on all flesh — an affirmation of Jehovah — and I have given to thee thy life for a spoil, in all places whither thou goest.'

46

<sup>5</sup> Wherefore have I seen them dismayed — They are turned backward, And their mighty ones are beaten down, And [to] a refuge they have fled, and not turned the face? Fear [is] round about — an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>8</sup> Egypt, as a flood cometh up, And as rivers the waters shake themselves. And he saith, I go up; I cover the land, I destroy the city and the inhabitants in it.

<sup>10</sup> And that day [is] to the Lord Jehovah of Hosts A day of vengeance, To be avenged of His adversaries, And the sword hath devoured, and been satisfied, And it hath been watered from their blood, For a sacrifice [is] to the Lord Jehovah of Hosts, In the land of the north, by the river Phrat.

<sup>11</sup> Go up to Gilead, and take balm, O virgin daughter of Egypt, In vain thou hast multiplied medicines, Healing there is none for thee.

<sup>12</sup> Nations have heard of thy shame, And thy cry hath filled the land, For the mighty on the mighty did stumble, Together they have fallen — both of them!

<sup>16</sup> He hath multiplied the stumbling, Yea one hath fallen upon his neighbour, And they say: Rise, and we turn back to our people, And unto the land of our birth, Because of the oppressing sword.

<sup>17</sup> They have cried there: Pharaoh king of Egypt [is] a desolation, Passed by hath the appointed time.

<sup>18</sup> I live — an affirmation of the King, Jehovah of Hosts [is] His name, Surely as Tabor [is] among mountains, And as Carmel by the sea — he cometh in,

<sup>21</sup> Even her hired ones in her midst [are] as calves of the stall, For even they have turned, They have fled together, they have not stood, For the day of their calamity hath come on them, The time of their inspection.

<sup>23</sup> They have cut down her forest, An affirmation of Jehovah — for it is not searched, For they have been more than the grasshopper, And they have no numbering.

<sup>24</sup> Ashamed hath been the daughter of Egypt, She hath been given into the hand of the people of the north.

<sup>25</sup> Said hath Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: Lo, I am seeing after Amon of No, And after Pharaoh, and after Egypt, And after her gods, and after her kings, And after Pharaoh, and after those trusting in him,

<sup>26</sup> And I have given them into the hand of those seeking their life, And into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, And into the hand of his servants, And afterwards it is inhabited, As [in] days of old — an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>27</sup> And thou, thou dost not fear, my servant Jacob, Nor [art] thou dismayed, O Israel, For lo, I am saving thee from afar, And thy seed from the land of their captivity, And Jacob hath turned back, And hath been at rest, and been at ease, And there is none disturbing.

<sup>28</sup> Thou, thou dost not fear, My servant Jacob, An affirmation of Jehovah — for with thee I [am], For I make an end of all the nations Whither I have driven thee, And of thee I do not make an end, And I have reproved thee in judgment, And do not entirely acquit thee!

47

<sup>2</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah: Lo, waters are coming up from the north, And have been for an overflowing stream, And they overflow the land and its fulness, The city, and the inhabitants in it, And men have cried out, And howled hath every inhabitant of the land.

<sup>7</sup> How shall it be quiet, And Jehovah hath given a charge to it, Against Ashkelon, and against the sea shore? There hath He appointed it!

48

<sup>8</sup> And come in doth a spoiler unto every city, And no city doth escape, And perished hath the valley, And destroyed been the plain, as Jehovah said.

<sup>9</sup> Give wings to Moab, for she utterly goeth out, And her cities are for a desolation, Without an inhabitant in them.

<sup>11</sup> Secure is Moab from his youth, And at rest [is] he for his preserved things, And he hath not been emptied out from vessel unto vessel, And into captivity he hath not gone, Therefore hath his taste remained in him, And his fragrance hath not been changed.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, lo, days are coming, An affirmation of Jehovah, And I have sent to him wanderers, And they have caused him to wander, And his vessels they empty out, And his bottles they dash in pieces.

<sup>21</sup> And judgment hath come in unto the land of the plain — unto Holon, And unto Jahazah, and on Mephaath,

<sup>30</sup> I — I have known, an affirmation of Jehovah, His wrath, and [it is] not right, His devices — not right they have done.

<sup>31</sup> Therefore for Moab I howl, even for Moab — all of it, I cry for men of Kir-Heres, it doth mourn,

<sup>32</sup> With the weeping of Jazer, I weep for thee, O vine of Sibmah, Thy branches have passed over a sea, Unto the sea of Jazer they have come, On thy summer fruits, and on thy harvest, A spoiler hath fallen.

<sup>35</sup> And I have caused to cease to Moab, An affirmation of Jehovah, Him who is offering in a high place, And him who is making perfume to his god.

<sup>36</sup> Therefore my heart for Moab as pipes doth sound, And my heart for men of Kir-Heres As pipes doth sound, Therefore the abundance he made did perish.

<sup>37</sup> For every head [is] bald, and every beard diminished, On all hands cuttings, and on the loins — sackcloth.

<sup>38</sup> On all roofs of Moab, and in her broad-places, All of it — [is] lamentation, For I have broken Moab as a vessel in which there is no pleasure, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>40</sup> For thus said Jehovah: Lo, as an eagle he doth flee, And hath spread his wings unto Moab.

<sup>41</sup> Captured have been the cities, And the strongholds are caught, And the heart of the mighty of Moab Hath been in that day as the heart of a distressed woman.

<sup>43</sup> Fear, and a snare, and a gin, [are] for thee, O inhabitant of Moab — an affirmation of Jehovah,

<sup>46</sup> Woe to thee, O Moab, Perished hath the people of Chemosh, For thy sons were taken with the captives, And thy daughters with the captivity.

<sup>47</sup> And I have turned back [to] the captivity of Moab, In the latter end of the days, An affirmation of Jehovah! Hitherto [is] the judgment of Moab.

49

<sup>2</sup> Therefore, lo, days are coming, An affirmation of Jehovah, And I have sounded unto Rabbah of the sons of Ammon a shout of battle, And it hath been for a heap — a desolation, And her daughters with fire are burnt, And Israel hath succeeded its heirs, Said hath Jehovah.

<sup>4</sup> What — dost thou boast thyself in valleys? Flowed hath thy valley, O backsliding daughter, Who is trusting in her treasures: Who doth come in unto me?

<sup>5</sup> Lo, I am bringing in upon thee a fear, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah of Hosts, From all round about thee, And ye have been driven out each before it, And there is no gatherer of the wandering.

<sup>6</sup> And after this I turn back the captivity of the sons of Ammon, An affirmation of Jehovah.'

<sup>8</sup> Flee, turn, go deep to dwell, ye inhabitants of Dedan, For the calamity of Esau I brought in upon him, The time I inspected him.

<sup>9</sup> If gatherers have come in to thee, They do not leave gleanings, If thieves in the night, They have destroyed their sufficiency!

<sup>10</sup> For I — I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, And to be hidden he is not able, Spoiled [is] his seed, and his brethren, And his neighbours, and he is not.

<sup>11</sup> Leave thine orphans — I do keep alive, And thy widows — on Me trust ye,

<sup>17</sup> And Edom hath been for a desolation, Every passer by her is astonished, And doth hiss because of all her plagues.

<sup>18</sup> As the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, And its neighbours, said Jehovah, No one doth dwell there, Nor sojourn in her doth a son of man.

<sup>19</sup> Lo, as a lion he cometh up, Because of the rising of the Jordan, Unto the enduring habitation, But I cause to rest, I cause him to run from off her, And who is chosen? concerning her I lay a charge, For who is like Me? and who conveneth Me? And who [is] this shepherd who standeth before Me?

<sup>22</sup> Lo, as an eagle he cometh up, and flieth, And he spreadeth his wings over Bozrah, And the heart of the mighty of Edom hath been in that day, As the heart of a distressed woman!

<sup>23</sup> Concerning Damascus: Ashamed hath been Hamath and Arpad, For an evil report they have heard, They have been melted, in the sea [is] sorrow, To be quiet it is not able.

<sup>32</sup> And their camels have been for a prey, And the multitude of their cattle for a spoil, And I have scattered them to every wind, Who cut off the corner [of the beard], And from all its passages I bring in their calamity, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>35</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Lo, I am breaking the bow of Elam, The beginning of their might.

<sup>36</sup> And I have brought in to Elam four winds, From the four ends of the heavens, And have scattered them to all these winds, And there is no nation whither outcasts of Elam come not in.

<sup>37</sup> And I have affrighted Elam before their enemies, And before those seeking their life, And I have brought in against them evil, The heat of Mine anger, An affirmation of Jehovah, And I have sent after them the sword, Till I have consumed them;

<sup>38</sup> And I have set My throne in Elam, And I have destroyed thence King and princes — an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>39</sup> And it hath come to pass, in the latter end of the days, I turn back [to] the captivity of Elam, An affirmation of Jehovah!

50

<sup>3</sup> For come up against her hath a nation from the north, It maketh her land become a desolation, And there is not an inhabitant in it. From man even unto beast, They have moved, they have gone.

<sup>4</sup> In those days, and at that time, An affirmation of Jehovah, Come in do sons of Israel, They and sons of Judah together, Going on and weeping they go, And Jehovah their God they seek.

<sup>5</sup> [To] Zion they ask the way, Thitherward [are] their faces: Come in, and we are joined unto Jehovah, A covenant age-during – not forgotten.

<sup>6</sup> A perishing flock hath My people been, Their shepherds have caused them to err, [To] the mountains causing them to go back, From mountain unto hill they have gone, They have forgotten their crouching-place.

<sup>7</sup> All finding them have devoured them, And their adversaries have said: We are not guilty, Because that they sinned against Jehovah, The habitation of righteousness, And the hope of their fathers – Jehovah.

<sup>8</sup> Move ye from the midst of Babylon, And from the land of the Chaldeans go out. And be as he-goats before a flock.

<sup>9</sup> For, lo, I am stirring up, And am causing to come up against Babylon, An assembly of great nations from a land of the north, And they have set in array against her, From thence she is captured, Its arrow – as a skilful hero – returneth not empty,

<sup>13</sup> Because of the wrath of Jehovah it is not inhabited, And it hath been a desolation – all of it. Every passer by at Babylon is astonished, And doth hiss because of all her plagues.

<sup>18</sup> Therefore thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel: Lo, I am seeing after the king of Babylon, And after his land, As I have seen after the king of Asshur;

<sup>19</sup> And I have brought back Israel unto his habitation, And he hath fed on Carmel, and on Bashan. And in mount Ephraim, and on Gilead is his soul satisfied.

<sup>20</sup> In those days, and at that time, An affirmation of Jehovah, Sought is the iniquity of Israel, and it is not, And the sin of Judah, and it is not found, For I am propitious to those whom I leave!

<sup>29</sup> Summon unto Babylon archers, all treading the bow, Encamp against her round about, Let [her] have no escape; Recompense to her according to her work, According to all that she did — do to her, For unto Jehovah she hath been proud, Unto the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>30</sup> Therefore fall do her young men in her broad places, And all her men of war are cut off in that day, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>32</sup> And stumbled hath pride, And he hath fallen, and hath no raiser up, And I have kindled a fire in his cities, And it hath devoured all round about him.

<sup>33</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Oppressed are the sons of Israel, And the sons of Judah together, And all their captors have kept hold on them, They have refused to send them away.

<sup>36</sup> A sword [is] on the princes, And they have become foolish; A sword [is] on her mighty ones, And they have been broken down;

<sup>38</sup> A sword [is] on her waters, and they have been dried up, For it [is] a land of graven images, And in idols they do boast themselves.

<sup>41</sup> Lo, a people hath come from the north, Even a great nation, And many kings are stirred up from the sides of the earth.

<sup>43</sup> Heard hath the king of Babylon their report, And feeble have been his hands, Distress hath seized him; pain as a travailing woman.

<sup>44</sup> Lo, as a lion he cometh up, Because of the rising of the Jordan, Unto the enduring habitation, But I cause to rest, I cause them to run from off her. And who is chosen? on her I lay a charge, For who [is] like Me? And who doth convene Me? And who [is] this shepherd who standeth before Me?

<sup>45</sup> Therefore, hear ye the counsel of Jehovah, That He counselled concerning Babylon, And His devices that He hath devised Concerning the land of the Chaldeans; Drag them out do not little ones of the flock, Doth He not make desolate over them the habitation?

51

<sup>1</sup> Thus said Jehovah: Lo, I am stirring up against Babylon, And the inhabitants of Leb — My withstanders, A destroying wind,

<sup>2</sup> And I have sent to Babylon fanners, And they have fanned it, and they empty its land, For they have been against it, Round about — in the day of evil.

<sup>4</sup> And fallen have the wounded in the land of the Chaldeans, And the pierced-through in her streets.

<sup>8</sup> Suddenly hath Babylon fallen, Yea, it is broken, howl ye for it, Take balm for her pain, if so be it may be healed.

<sup>9</sup> We healed Babylon, and she was not healed, Forsake her, and we go, each to his land, For come unto the heavens hath its judgment, And it hath been lifted up unto the clouds.

<sup>10</sup> Jehovah hath brought forth our righteousnesses, Come, and we recount in Zion the work of Jehovah our God.

<sup>13</sup> O dweller on many waters, abundant in treasures, Come in hath thine end, the measure of thy dishonest gain.

<sup>14</sup> Sworn hath Jehovah of Hosts by Himself, That, Surely I have filled thee [with] men as the cankerworm, And they have cried against thee – shouting.

<sup>15</sup> The maker of earth by His power, The establisher of the world by His wisdom, Who by His understanding stretched out the heavens,

<sup>20</sup> An axe [art] thou to me – weapons of war, And I have broken in pieces by thee nations, And I have destroyed by thee kingdoms,

<sup>21</sup> And I have broken in pieces by thee horse and its rider, And I have broken in pieces by thee chariot and its charioteer,

<sup>22</sup> And I have broken in pieces by thee man and woman, And I have broken in pieces by thee old and young, And I have broken in pieces by thee young man and virgin,

<sup>23</sup> And I have broken in pieces by thee shepherd and his drove, And I have broken in pieces by thee husbandman and his team, And I have broken in pieces by thee governors and prefects.

<sup>24</sup> And I have recompensed to Babylon, And to all inhabitants of Chaldea, All the evil that they have done in Zion, Before your eyes – an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>25</sup> Lo, I [am] against thee, O destroying mount, An affirmation of Jehovah, That is destroying all the earth, And I have stretched out My hand against thee, And I have rolled thee from the rocks, And given thee for a burnt mountain.

<sup>28</sup> Sanctify against it the nations with the kings of Media, Its governors and all its prefects, And all the land of its dominion.

<sup>29</sup> And shake doth the land, and it is pained, For stood against Babylon have the purposes of Jehovah, To make the land of Babylon a desolation without inhabitant.

<sup>30</sup> Ceased have the mighty of Babylon to fight, They have remained in strongholds, Failed hath their might, they have become woman, They have burnt her tabernacles, Broken have been her bars.

<sup>31</sup> Runner to meet runner doth run, And announcer to meet announcer, To announce to the king of Babylon, For, captured hath been his city – at the extremity.

<sup>32</sup> And the passages have been captured, And the reeds they have burnt with fire, And the men of war have been troubled.

<sup>33</sup> For thus said Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, The daughter of Babylon [is] as a threshing-floor, The time of her threshing — yet a little, And come hath the time of her harvest.

<sup>34</sup> Devoured us, crushed us, hath Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, He hath set us [as] an empty vessel, He hath swallowed us as a dragon, He hath filled his belly with my dainties, He hath driven us away.

<sup>35</sup> My wrong, and [that of] my flesh [is] on Babylon, Say doth the inhabitant of Zion, And my blood [is] on the inhabitants of Chaldea, Say doth Jerusalem.

<sup>36</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah: Lo, I am pleading thy cause, And I have avenged thy vengeance, And dried up its sea, and made its fountains dry.

<sup>39</sup> In their heat I make their banquets, And I have caused them to drink, so that they exult, And have slept a sleep age-during, And awake not — an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>41</sup> How hath Sheshach been captured, Yea, caught is the praise of the whole earth, How hath Babylon been for an astonishment among nations.

<sup>42</sup> Come up against Babylon hath the sea, With a multitude of its billows it hath been covered.

<sup>45</sup> Go forth from its midst, O My people, And deliver ye, each his soul, Because of the fierceness of the anger of Jehovah,

<sup>46</sup> And lest your heart be tender, And ye be afraid of the report that is heard in the land, And come in a year hath the report, And after it in a year the report, And violence [is] in the land, ruler against ruler;

<sup>48</sup> And cried aloud against Babylon Have heavens and earth, and all that [is] in them, For, from the north come to it do the spoilers, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>51</sup> We have been ashamed, for we heard reproach, Covered hath shame our faces, For come in have strangers, against the sanctuaries of the house of Jehovah.

<sup>52</sup> Therefore, lo, days are coming, An affirmation of Jehovah, And I have seen after its graven images, And in all its land groan doth the wounded.

<sup>53</sup> Because Babylon goeth up to the heavens, And because it fenceth the high place of its strength, From Me come into it do spoilers, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>56</sup> For come in against it — against Babylon — hath a spoiler, And captured have been its mighty ones, Broken have been their bows, For the God of recompences — Jehovah — doth certainly repay.

<sup>57</sup> And I have caused its princes to drink, And its wise men, its governors, And its prefects, and its mighty ones, And they have slept a sleep age-during, And they awake not — an affirmation of the king, Jehovah of Hosts [is] His name.

<sup>60</sup> and Jeremiah writeth all the evil that cometh unto Babylon on one book — all these words that are written concerning Babylon.

<sup>61</sup> And Jeremiah saith unto Seraiah, 'When thou dost enter Babylon, then thou hast seen, and hast read all these words, <sup>62</sup> and hast said: Jehovah, Thou, Thou hast spoken concerning this place, to cut it off, that there is none dwelling in it, from man even unto cattle, for it is a desolation age-during.

<sup>63</sup> And it hath come to pass, when thou dost finish reading this book, thou dost bind to it a stone, and hast cast it into the midst of Phrat,

<sup>64</sup> and said, Thus sink doth Babylon, and it doth not arise, because of the evil that I am bringing in against it, and they have been weary.' Hitherto [are] words of Jeremiah.

52

<sup>2</sup> and he doth the evil thing in the eyes of Jehovah, according to all that Jehoiakim hath done,

<sup>3</sup> for, because of the anger of Jehovah, it hath been in Jerusalem and Judah till He hath cast them from before His face, and Zedekiah doth rebel against the king of Babylon.

<sup>4</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth of the month, come hath Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon — he and all his force — against Jerusalem, and they encamp against it, and build against it a fortification round about;

<sup>6</sup> In the fourth month, in the ninth of the month, when the famine is severe in the city, and there hath been no bread for the people of the land,

<sup>7</sup> then is the city broken up, and all the men of war flee, and go forth from the city by night, the way of the gate between the two walls, that [is] by the king's garden — and the Chaldeans [are] by the city round about — and they go the way of the plain.

<sup>8</sup> And the forces of the Chaldeans pursue after the king, and overtake Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho, and all his forces have been scattered from him, <sup>9</sup> and they capture the king, and bring him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah, in the land of Hamath, and he speaketh with him — judgments.

<sup>10</sup> And the king of Babylon slaughtereth the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and also all the princes of Judah hath he slaughtered in Riblah;

<sup>11</sup> and the eyes of Zedekiah he hath blinded, and he bindeth him in brazen fetters, and the king of Babylon bringeth him to Babylon, and putteth him in the house of inspection unto the day of his death.

<sup>12</sup> And in the fifth month, in the tenth of the month — it [is] the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon — come hath Nebuzar-Adan, chief of the executioners; he hath stood before the king of Babylon in Jerusalem,

<sup>13</sup> and he burneth the house of Jehovah, and the house of the king, and all the houses of Jerusalem, even every great house he hath burned with fire,

<sup>17</sup> And the pillars of brass that [are] to the house of Jehovah, and the bases, and the brasen sea that [is] in the house of Jehovah, have the Chaldeans broken, and they bear away all the brass of them to Babylon;

<sup>18</sup> and the pots, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the bowls, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass with which they minister, they have taken away;

<sup>19</sup> and the basins, and the fire-pans, and the bowls, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the cups, the gold of that which [is] gold, and the silver of that which [is] silver, hath the chief of the executioners taken.

<sup>20</sup> The two pillars, the one sea, and the twelve brazen oxen that [are] beneath the bases, that king Solomon made for the house of Jehovah, there was no weighing of the brass of all these vessels.

<sup>21</sup> As to the pillars, eighteen cubits [is] the height of the one pillar, and a cord of twelve cubits doth compass it, and its thickness [is] four fingers hollow.

<sup>22</sup> And the chapter upon it [is] of brass, and the height of the one chapter [is] five cubits, and net-work and pomegranates [are] on the chapter round about, the whole [is] of brass; and like these have the second pillar, and pomegranates.

<sup>23</sup> And the pomegranates are ninety and six on a side, all the pomegranates [are] a hundred on the net-work round about.

<sup>24</sup> And the chief of the executioners taketh Seraiah the head priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the threshold,

<sup>25</sup> and out of the city he hath taken a certain eunuch, who hath been inspector over the men of war, and seven men of those seeing the king's face, who have been found in the city, and the head scribe of the host, who mustereth the people of the land, and sixty men of the people of the land, who are found in the midst of the city;

<sup>26</sup> and Nebuzar-Adan, chief of the executioners, taketh them, and bringeth them unto the king of Babylon to Riblah,

<sup>27</sup> and the king of Babylon smiteth them, and putteth them to death in Riblah, in the land of Hamath, and he removeth Judah from off its own ground.

<sup>28</sup> This [is] the people whom Nebuchadrezzar hath removed: in the seventh year, of Jews, three thousand and twenty and three;

<sup>29</sup> in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar — from Jerusalem, souls, eight hundred thirty and two;

<sup>30</sup> in the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadrezzar, hath Nebuzar-Adan chief of the guard removed of Jewish souls, seven hundred forty and five; all the souls [are] four thousand and six hundred.

<sup>31</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the thirty and seventh year of the removal of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the twenty and fifth of the month, hath Evil-Merodach king of Babylon lifted up, in the year of his reign, the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and bringeth him out from the house of restraint,

<sup>32</sup> and speaketh with him good things, and setteth his throne above the throne of the kings who [are] with him in Babylon,

<sup>33</sup> and he hath changed his prison garments, and he hath eaten bread before him continually, all the days of his life.

The Lamentations of Jeremiah

<sup>11</sup> All her people are sighing — seeking bread, They have given their desirable things For food to refresh the body; See, O Jehovah, and behold attentively, For I have been lightly esteemed.

<sup>12</sup> [Is it] nothing to you, all ye passing by the way? Look attentively, and see, If there is any pain like my pain, That He is rolling to me? Whom Jehovah hath afflicted In the day of the fierceness of His anger.

<sup>13</sup> From above He hath sent fire into my bone, And it subdueth it, He hath spread a net for my feet, He hath turned me backward, He hath made me desolate — all the day sick.

<sup>14</sup> Bound hath been the yoke of my transgressions by His hand, They are wrapped together, They have gone up on my neck, He hath caused my power to stumble, The Lord hath given me into hands, I am not able to rise.

<sup>15</sup> Trodden down all my mighty ones hath the Lord in my midst, He proclaimed against me an appointed time, To destroy my young men, A wine-press hath the Lord trodden, To the virgin daughter of Judah.

<sup>16</sup> For these I am weeping, My eye, my eye, is running down with waters, For, far from me hath been a comforter, Refreshing my soul, My sons have been desolate, For mighty hath been an enemy.

<sup>18</sup> Righteous is Jehovah, For His mouth I have provoked. Hear, I pray you, all ye peoples, and see my pain, My virgins and my young men have gone into captivity.

<sup>19</sup> I called for my lovers, they — they have deceived me, My priests and my elders in the city have expired; When they have sought food for themselves, Then they give back their soul.

<sup>20</sup> See, O Jehovah, for distress [is] to me, My bowels have been troubled, Turned hath been my heart in my midst, For I have greatly provoked, From without bereaved hath the sword, In the house [it is] as death.

<sup>21</sup> They have heard that I have sighed, There is no comforter for me, All my enemies have heard of my calamity, They have rejoiced that Thou hast done [it], Thou hast brought in the day Thou hast called, And they are like to me.

<sup>22</sup> Come in doth all their evil before Thee, And one is doing to them as Thou hast done to me, For all my transgressions, For many [are] my sighs, and my heart [is] sick!

2

<sup>2</sup> Swallowed up hath the Lord, He hath not pitied any of the pleasant places of Jacob, He hath broken down in His wrath The fortresses of the daughter of Judah, He hath caused to come to the earth, He polluted the kingdom and its princes.

<sup>5</sup> The Lord hath been as an enemy, He hath swallowed up Israel, He hath swallowed up all her palaces, He hath destroyed His fortresses, And He multiplieth in the daughter of Judah Mourning and moaning.

<sup>6</sup> And He shaketh as a garden His tabernacle, He hath destroyed His appointed place, Jehovah hath forgotten in Zion the appointed time and sabbath, And despiseth, in the indignation of His anger, king and priest.

<sup>7</sup> The Lord hath cast off His altar, He hath rejected His sanctuary, He hath shut up into the hand of the enemy The walls of her palaces, A noise they have made in the house of Jehovah Like a day of appointment.

<sup>9</sup> Sunk into the earth have her gates, He hath destroyed and broken her bars, Her king and her princes [are] among the nations, There is no law, also her prophets Have not found vision from Jehovah.

<sup>10</sup> Sit on the earth — keep silent do the elders of the daughter of Zion, They have caused dust to go up on their head, They have girded on sackcloth, Put down to the earth their head have the virgins of Jerusalem.

<sup>11</sup> Consumed by tears have been my eyes, Troubled have been my bowels, Poured out to the earth hath been my liver, For the breach of the daughter of my people; In infant and suckling being feeble, In the broad places of the city,

<sup>13</sup> What do I testify [to] thee, what do I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? What do I equal to thee, and I comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? For great as a sea [is] thy breach, Who doth give healing to thee?

<sup>14</sup> Thy prophets have seen for thee a false and insipid thing, And have not revealed concerning thine iniquity, To turn back thy captivity, And they see for thee false burdens and causes of expulsion.

<sup>15</sup> Clapped hands at thee have all passing by the way, They have hissed — and they shake the head At the daughter of Jerusalem: 'Is this the city of which they said: The perfection of beauty, a joy to all the land?'

<sup>16</sup> Opened against thee their mouth have all thine enemies, They have hissed, yea, they gnash the teeth, They have said: 'We have swallowed [her] up, Surely this [is] the day that we looked for, We have found — we have seen.'

<sup>17</sup> Jehovah hath done that which He devised, He hath fulfilled His saying That He commanded from the days of old, He hath broken down and hath not pitied, And causeth an enemy to rejoice over thee, He lifted up the horn of thine adversaries.

<sup>21</sup> Lain on the earth [in] out-places have young and old, My virgins and my young men have fallen by the sword, Thou hast slain in a day of Thine anger, Thou hast slaughtered — Thou hast not pitied.

<sup>22</sup> Thou dost call as [at] a day of appointment, My fears from round about, And there hath not been in the day of the anger of Jehovah, An escaped and remaining one, They whom I stretched out and nourished, My enemy hath consumed!

<sup>7</sup> He hath hedged me about, and I go not out, He hath made heavy my fetter.

<sup>8</sup> Also when I call and cry out, He hath shut out my prayer.
<sup>9</sup> He hath hedged my ways with hewn work, My paths He hath made crooked.
<sup>10</sup> A bear lying in wait He [is] to me, A lion in secret hiding-places.
<sup>11</sup> My ways He is turning aside, and He pulleth me in pieces, He hath made me a desolation.
<sup>12</sup> He hath trodden His bow, And setteth me up as a mark for an arrow.
<sup>14</sup> I have been a derision to all my people, Their song all the day.
<sup>15</sup> He hath filled me with bitter things, He hath filled me [with] wormwood.
<sup>17</sup> And Thou castest off from peace my soul, I have forgotten prosperity.
<sup>18</sup> And I say, Perished hath my strength and my hope from Jehovah.
<sup>19</sup> Remember my affliction and my mourning, Wormwood and gall!
<sup>20</sup> Remember well, and bow down doth my soul in me.
<sup>24</sup> My portion [is] Jehovah, hath my soul said, Therefore I hope for Him.
<sup>35</sup> To turn aside the judgment of a man, Over-against the face of the Most High,
<sup>37</sup> Who [is] this – he hath said, and it is, [And] the Lord hath not commanded [it]?
<sup>41</sup> We lift up our heart on the hands unto God in the heavens.
<sup>42</sup> We – we have transgressed and rebelled, Thou – Thou hast not forgiven.

<sup>51</sup> My eye affecteth my soul, Because of all the daughters of my city.
<sup>52</sup> Hunted me sore as a bird have my enemies without cause.
<sup>53</sup> They have cut off in a pit my life, And they cast a stone against me.

<sup>4</sup> Cleaved hath the tongue of a suckling unto his palate with thirst, Infants asked bread, a dealer out they have none.
<sup>5</sup> Those eating of dainties have been desolate in out-places, Those supported on scarlet have embraced dunghills.
<sup>6</sup> And greater is the iniquity of the daughter of my people, Than the sin of Sodom, That was overturned as [in] a moment, And no hands were stayed on her.
<sup>7</sup> Purer were her Nazarites than snow, Whiter than milk, ruddier of body than rubies, Of sapphire their form.
<sup>9</sup> Better have been the pierced of a sword Than the pierced of famine, For these flow away, pierced through, Without the increase of the field.
<sup>10</sup> The hands of merciful women have boiled their own children, They have been for food to them, In the destruction of the daughter of my people.

<sup>12</sup> Believe not did the kings of earth, And any of the inhabitants of the world, That come would an adversary and enemy Into the gates of Jerusalem.

<sup>13</sup> Because of the sins of her prophets, The iniquities of her priests, Who are shedding in her midst the blood of the righteous,

<sup>14</sup> They have wandered naked in out-places, They have been polluted with blood, Without [any] being able to touch their clothing,

<sup>15</sup> 'Turn aside – unclean,' they called to them, 'Turn aside, turn aside, touch not,' For they fled – yea, they have wandered, They have said among nations: 'They do not add to sojourn.'

<sup>16</sup> The face of Jehovah hath divided them, He doth not add to behold them, The face of priests they have not lifted up, Elders they have not favoured.

<sup>17</sup> While we exist – consumed are our eyes for our vain help, In our watch-tower we have watched for a nation [that] saveth not.

<sup>18</sup> They have hunted our steps from going in our broad-places, Near hath been our end, fulfilled our days, For come hath our end.

<sup>19</sup> Swifter have been our pursuers, Than the eagles of the heavens, On the mountains they have burned [after] us, In the wilderness they have laid wait for us.

<sup>20</sup> The breath of our nostrils – the anointed of Jehovah, Hath been captured in their pits, of whom we said: 'In his shadow we do live among nations.'

<sup>5</sup> For our neck we have been pursued, We have laboured – there hath been no rest for us.

<sup>6</sup> [To] Egypt we have given a hand, [To] Asshur, to be satisfied with bread.

The Book of the Prophet Ezekiel

<sup>1</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the thirtieth year, in the fourth [month], in the fifth of the month, and I [am] in the midst of the Removed by the river Chebar, the heavens have been opened, and I see visions of God.

<sup>2</sup> In the fifth of the month — it is the fifth year of the removal of the king Jehoiachin —

<sup>3</sup> hath the word of Jehovah certainly been unto Ezekiel son of Buzi the priest, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chebar, and there is on him there a hand of Jehovah.

<sup>5</sup> And out of its midst [is] a likeness of four living creatures, and this [is] their appearance; a likeness of man [is] to them,

<sup>6</sup> and four faces [are] to each, and four wings [are] to each of them,

<sup>7</sup> and their feet [are] straight feet, and the sole of their feet [is] as a sole of a calf's foot, and they are sparkling as the colour of bright brass;

<sup>8</sup> and hands of man under their wings — on their four sides, and their faces and their wings — [are] to them four;

<sup>9</sup> joining one unto another [are] their wings, they turn not round in their going, each straight forward they go.

<sup>11</sup> And their faces and their wings are separate from above, to each [are] two joining together, and two are covering their bodies.

<sup>12</sup> And each straight forward they go, whither the spirit is to go, they go, they turn not round in their going.

<sup>13</sup> As to the likeness of the living creatures, their appearances [are] as coals of fire — burning as the appearance of lamps; it is going up and down between the living creatures, and brightness [is] to the fire, and out of the fire is going forth lightning.

<sup>14</sup> And the living creatures are running, and turning back, as the appearance of the flash.

<sup>15</sup> And I see the living creatures, and lo, one wheel [is] in the earth, near the living creatures, at its four faces.

<sup>19</sup> And in the going of the living creatures, the wheels go beside them, and in the living creatures being lifted up from off the earth, lifted up are the wheels.

<sup>23</sup> And under the expanse their wings [are] straight, one toward the other, to each are two covering on this side, and to each are two covering on that side — their bodies.

<sup>27</sup> And I see as the colour of copper, as the appearance of fire within it round about, from the appearance of his loins and upward, and from the appearance of his loins and downward, I have seen as the appearance of fire, and brightness [is] to it round about.

<sup>28</sup> As the appearance of the bow that is in a cloud in a day of rain, so [is] the appearance of the brightness round about.

<sup>1</sup> It [is] the appearance of the likeness of the honour of Jehovah, and I see, and fall on my face, and I hear a voice speaking, and He saith unto me, 'Son of man, stand on thy feet, and I speak with thee.'

<sup>2</sup> And there doth come into me a spirit, when He hath spoken unto me, and it causeth me to stand on my feet, and I hear Him who is speaking unto me.

<sup>3</sup> And He saith unto Me, 'Son of man, I am sending thee unto the sons of Israel, unto nations who are rebels, who have rebelled against Me; they and their fathers have transgressed against Me, unto this self-same day.

<sup>4</sup> And the sons [are] brazen-faced and hard-hearted to whom I am sending thee, and thou hast said unto them: Thus said the Lord Jehovah:

<sup>5</sup> and they — whether they hear, or whether they forbear, for a rebellious house they [are] — have known that a prophet hath been in their midst.

<sup>6</sup> 'And thou, son of man, thou art not afraid of them, yea, of their words thou art not afraid, for briers and thorns are with thee, and near scorpions thou art dwelling, of their words thou art not afraid, and of their faces thou art not affrighted, for they [are] a rebellious house,

<sup>7</sup> And thou hast spoken My words unto them, whether they hear or whether they forbear, for they [are] rebellious.

<sup>8</sup> 'And thou, son of man, hear that which I am speaking unto thee: Thou art not rebellious like the rebellious house, open thy mouth, and eat that which I am giving unto thee.'

<sup>9</sup> And I look, and lo, a hand [is] sent forth unto me, and lo, in it a roll of a book, <sup>10</sup> and He spreadeth it before me, and it is written in front and behind, and written on it [are] lamentations, and mourning, and woe!

3

<sup>3</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Son of man, thy belly thou dost feed, and thy bowels thou dost fill with this roll that I am giving unto thee;' and I eat it, and it is in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

<sup>4</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Son of man, go, enter in unto the house of Israel, and thou hast spoken with My words unto them.

<sup>5</sup> For, not unto a people deep of lip and heavy of tongue [art] thou sent — unto the house of Israel;

<sup>6</sup> not unto many peoples, deep of lip and heavy of tongue, whose words thou dost not understand. If I had not sent thee unto them — they, they do hearken unto thee,

<sup>7</sup> but the house of Israel are not willing to hearken unto thee, for they are not willing to hearken unto Me, for all the house of Israel are brazen-faced and strong-hearted.

<sup>9</sup> As an adamant harder than a rock I have made thy forehead; thou dost not fear them, nor art thou affrighted before them, for a rebellious house [are] they.'

<sup>10</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Son of man, all My words, that I speak unto thee, receive with thy heart, and with thine ears hear;

<sup>11</sup> and go, enter in unto the Removed, unto the sons of thy people, and thou hast spoken unto them, and hast said unto them: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: whether they hear, or whether they forbear.'

<sup>12</sup> And lift me up doth a spirit, and I hear behind me a noise, a great rushing — 'Blessed [is] the honour of Jehovah from His place!' —

<sup>13</sup> even a noise of the wings of the living creatures touching one another, and a noise of the wheels over-against them, even a noise of a great rushing.

<sup>14</sup> And a spirit hath lifted me up, and doth take me away, and I go bitterly, in the heat of my spirit, and the hand of Jehovah on me [is] strong.

<sup>17</sup> that there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying, 'Son of man, a watchman I have given thee to the house of Israel, and thou hast heard from My mouth a word, and hast warned them from Me.

<sup>18</sup> In My saying to the wicked: Thou dost surely die; and thou hast not warned him, nor hast spoken to warn the wicked from his wicked way, so that he doth live; he — the wicked — in his iniquity dieth, and his blood from thy hand I require.

<sup>19</sup> And thou, because thou hast warned the wicked, and he hath not turned back from his wickedness, and from his wicked way, he in his iniquity dieth, and thou thy soul hast delivered.

<sup>20</sup> 'And in the turning back of the righteous from his righteousness, and he hath done perversity, and I have put a stumbling-block before him, he dieth; because thou hast not warned him, in his sin he dieth, and not remembered is his righteousness that he hath done, and his blood from thy hand I require.

<sup>21</sup> And thou, because thou hast warned him — the righteous — that the righteous sin not, and he hath not sinned, he surely liveth, because he hath been warned; and thou thy soul hast delivered.'

<sup>22</sup> And there is on me there a hand of Jehovah, and He saith to me, 'Rise, go forth to the valley, and there I do speak with thee.'

<sup>23</sup> And I rise and go forth unto the valley, and lo, there the honour of Jehovah is standing as the honour that I had seen by the river Chebar, and I fall on my face.

<sup>24</sup> And come into me doth a spirit, and causeth me to stand on my feet, and He speaketh with me, and saith unto me, 'Go in, be shut up in the midst of thy house.

<sup>25</sup> 'And thou, son of man, lo, they have put on thee thick bands, and have bound thee with them, and thou goest not forth in their midst;

<sup>26</sup> and thy tongue I cause to cleave unto thy palate, and thou hast been dumb, and art not to them for a reprover, for a rebellious house [are] they.

<sup>27</sup> And in My speaking with thee, I do open thy mouth, and thou hast said unto them: Thus said the Lord Jehovah; the hearer doth hear, and the forbearer doth forbear; for a rebellious house [are] they.

4

<sup>1</sup> 'And thou, son of man, take to thee a brick, and thou hast put it before thee, and hast graven on it a city — Jerusalem,

<sup>2</sup> and hast placed against it a siege, and builded against it a fortification, and poured out against it a mount, and placed against it camps, yea, set thou against it battering-rams round about.

<sup>3</sup> And thou, take to thee an iron pan, and thou hast made it a wall of iron between thee and the city; and thou hast prepared thy face against it, and it hath been in a siege, yea, thou hast laid siege against it. A sign it [is] to the house of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> And I — I have laid on thee the years of their iniquity, the number of days, three hundred and ninety days; and thou hast borne the iniquity of the house of Israel.

<sup>7</sup> 'And unto the siege of Jerusalem thou dost prepare thy face, and thine arm [is] uncovered, and thou hast prophesied concerning it.

<sup>8</sup> And lo, I have put on thee thick bands, and thou dost not turn from side to side till thy completing the days of thy siege.

<sup>9</sup> 'And thou, take to thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and spelt, and thou hast put them in one vessel, and made them to thee for bread; the number of the days that thou art lying on thy side — three hundred and ninety days — thou dost eat it.

<sup>14</sup> And I say, 'Ah, Lord Jehovah, lo, my soul is not defiled, and carcase, and torn thing, I have not eaten from my youth, even till now; nor come into my mouth hath abominable flesh.'

<sup>15</sup> And He saith unto me, 'See, I have given to thee bullock's dung instead of man's dung, and thou hast made thy bread by it.'

<sup>16</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Son of man, lo, I am breaking the staff of bread in Jerusalem, and they have eaten bread by weight and with fear; and water by measure and with astonishment, they do drink;

<sup>17</sup> so that they lack bread and water, and have been astonished one with another, and been consumed in their iniquity.

5

<sup>1</sup> 'And thou, son of man, take to thee a sharp weapon, the barber's razor thou dost take to thee, and thou hast caused [it] to pass over thy head, and over thy beard, and thou hast taken to thee weighing scales, and apportioned them.

<sup>3</sup> And thou hast taken thence a few in number — and hast bound them in thy skirts;

<sup>4</sup> and of them thou dost take again, and hast cast them unto the midst of the fire, and hast burned them in the fire — out of it cometh forth a fire unto all the house of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: this [is] Jerusalem, In the midst of the nations I have set her; And round about her [are] the lands.

<sup>6</sup> And she changeth My judgments into wickedness more than the nations, And My statutes more than the lands that [are] round about her, For against My judgments they have kicked, And My statutes — they have not walked in them.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because of your multiplying above the nations that [are] around you, In My statutes ye have not walked, And My judgments ye have not done, According to the judgments of the nations That [are] round about you ye have not done.

<sup>8</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I [am] against thee, even I, And I have done in thy midst judgments, Before the eyes of the nations.

<sup>9</sup> And I have done in thee that which I have not done, And that which I do not its like again, Because of all thine abominations.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore, I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah: Because My sanctuary thou hast defiled, With all thy detestable things, And with all thine abominations, Mine eye pitieth not, and I also spare not. Do not even I also diminish?

<sup>12</sup> Thy third part — by pestilence they die, And by famine are consumed in thy midst, And the third part, by sword they fall round about thee, And the third part, to every wind I scatter, And a sword I draw out after them.

<sup>13</sup> And completed hath been Mine anger, And I have caused My fury to rest on them, And I have been comforted, And they have known that I, Jehovah, have spoken in My zeal, In My completing My fury on them.

<sup>14</sup> And I give thee for a waste, And for a reproach among nations that [are] round about thee, Before the eyes of every passer by.

<sup>15</sup> And it hath been a reproach and a reviling, An instruction and an astonishment, To nations that [are] round about thee, In My doing in thee judgments, In anger and fury, and in furious reproofs, I, Jehovah, have spoken.

<sup>16</sup> In My sending the evil arrows of famine among them, That have been for destruction, That I send to destroy you, And famine I am adding upon you, And I have broken to you the staff of bread.

<sup>17</sup> And I have sent on you famine and evil beasts, And they have bereaved thee, And pestilence and blood pass over on thee, And a sword I do bring in against thee, I, Jehovah, have spoken!

<sup>3</sup> And thou hast said: Mountains of Israel, Hear ye a word of the Lord Jehovah: Thus said the Lord Jehovah To the mountains, and to the hills, To the streams, and to the valleys, Lo, I, I am bringing in against you a sword, And I have destroyed your high places.

<sup>6</sup> In all your dwellings the cities are laid waste, And the high places are desolate, So that waste and desolate are your altars, And broken and ceased have your idols, And cut down have been your images, And blotted out have been your works.

<sup>8</sup> And I have caused [some] to remain, In their being to you the escaped of the sword among nations, In your being scattered through lands.

<sup>9</sup> And remembered Me have your escaped among nations, Whither they have been taken captive, Because I have been broken with their heart that is going a-whoring, That hath turned aside from off Me, And with their eyes they are going a-whoring after their idols, And they have been loathsome in their own faces, For the evils that they have done — all their abominations.

<sup>10</sup> And they have known that I [am] Jehovah, Not for nought have I spoken to do to them this evil.

<sup>13</sup> And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah, In their wounded being in the midst of their idols, Round about their altars, On every high hill, on all tops of mountains, And under every green tree, and under every thick oak, The place where they gave sweet fragrance to all their idols.

<sup>14</sup> And I have stretched out my hand against them, And have made the land a desolation, Even a desolation from the wilderness to Diblath, In all their dwellings, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah!

7

<sup>1</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying, 'And thou, son of man, Thus said the Lord Jehovah to the ground of Israel:

<sup>3</sup> Now [is] the end unto thee, And I have sent Mine anger upon thee, And judged thee according to thy ways, And set against thee all thine abominations.

<sup>4</sup> And no pity on thee hath Mine eye, nor do I spare, For thy ways against thee I do set, And thine abominations are in thy midst, And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>6</sup> An end hath come, come hath the end, It hath waked for thee, lo, it hath come.

<sup>7</sup> Come hath the morning unto thee, O inhabitant of the land! Come hath the time, near [is] a day of trouble, And not the shouting of mountains.

<sup>8</sup> Now, shortly I pour out My fury on thee, And have completed Mine anger against thee, And judged thee according to thy ways, And set against thee all thine abominations.

<sup>9</sup> And not pity doth Mine eye, nor do I spare, According to thy ways unto thee I give, And thine abominations are in thy midst, And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah the smiter.

<sup>10</sup> Lo, the day, lo, it hath come, Gone forth hath the morning, Blossomed hath the rod, flourished the pride.

<sup>12</sup> Come hath the time, arrived hath the day, The buyer doth not rejoice, And the seller doth not become a mourner, For wrath [is] unto all its multitude.

<sup>14</sup> They have blown with a trumpet to prepare the whole, And none is going to battle, For My wrath [is] unto all its multitude.

<sup>15</sup> The sword [is] without, And the pestilence and the famine within, He who is in a field by sword dieth, And he who is in a city, Famine and pestilence devour him.

<sup>16</sup> And escaped away have their fugitives, And they have been on the mountains As doves of the valleys, All of them make a noising — each for his iniquity.

<sup>20</sup> As to the beauty of his ornament, For excellency He set it, And the images of their abominations, Their detestable things — they made in it, Therefore I have given it to them for impurity, <sup>21</sup> And I have given it into the hand of the strangers for a prey, And to the wicked of the land for a spoil, And they have polluted it.

<sup>22</sup> And I have turned My face from them, And they have polluted My hidden place, Yea, come into it have destroyers, and polluted it.

<sup>23</sup> Make the chain; for the land Hath been full of bloody judgments, And the city hath been full of violence.

<sup>24</sup> And I have brought in the wicked of the nations, And they have possessed their houses, And I have caused to cease the excellency of the strong, And polluted have been those sanctifying them.

<sup>25</sup> Destruction hath come, And they have sought peace, and there is none.

<sup>26</sup> Mischief on mischief cometh, and report is on report, And they have sought a vision from a prophet, And law doth perish from the priest, And counsel from the elders,

<sup>27</sup> The king doth become a mourner, And a prince putteth on desolation, And the hands of the people of the land are troubled, From their own way I deal with them, And with their own judgments I judge them, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah!

8

<sup>1</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the sixth year, in the sixth [month], in the fifth of the month, I am sitting in my house, and elders of Judah are sitting before me, and fall on me there doth a hand of the Lord Jehovah,

<sup>2</sup> and I look, and lo, a likeness as the appearance of fire, from the appearance of His loins and downward — fire, and from His loins and upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the colour of copper.

<sup>3</sup> And He putteth forth a form of a hand, and taketh me by a lock of my head, and lift me up doth a spirit between the earth and the heavens, and it bringeth me in to Jerusalem in visions of God, unto the opening of the inner gate that is facing the north, where [is] the seat of the figure of jealousy that is making jealous,

<sup>4</sup> and lo, there the honour of the God of Israel, as the appearance that I saw in the valley.

<sup>5</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Son of man, lift up, I pray thee, thine eyes the way of the north.' And I lift up mine eyes the way of the north, and lo, on the north of the gate of the altar this figure of jealousy, at the entrance.

<sup>6</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Son of man, art thou seeing what they are doing? the great abominations that the house of Israel are doing here, to keep far off from My sanctuary; and again thou dost turn, thou dost see great abominations.'

<sup>7</sup> And He bringeth me in unto an opening of the court, and I look, and lo, a hole in the wall;

<sup>8</sup> and He saith unto me, 'Son of man, dig, I pray thee, through the wall;' and I dig through the wall, and lo, an opening.

<sup>9</sup> And He saith to me, 'Go in, and see the evil abominations that they are doing here.'

<sup>10</sup> And I go in, and look, and lo, every form of creeping thing, and detestable beast — and all the Idols of the house of Israel — graved on the wall, all round about,

<sup>11</sup> and seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel — and Jaazaniah son of Shaphan standing in their midst — are standing before them, and each his censer in his hand, and the abundance of the cloud of perfume is going up.

<sup>12</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Hast thou seen, son of man, that which elders of the house of Israel are doing in darkness, each in the inner chambers of his imagery, for they are saying, Jehovah is not seeing us, Jehovah hath forsaken the land?'

<sup>13</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Again thou dost turn, thou dost see great abominations that they are doing.'

<sup>15</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Hast thou seen, son of man? again thou dost turn, thou dost see greater abominations than these.'

<sup>16</sup> And He bringeth me in unto the inner court of the house of Jehovah, and lo, at the opening of the temple of Jehovah, between the porch and the altar, about twenty-five men, their backs toward the temple of Jehovah, and their faces eastward, and they are bowing themselves eastward to the sun.

<sup>17</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Hast thou seen, son of man? hath it been a light thing to the house of Judah to do the abomination that they have done here, that they have filled the land with violence, and turn back to provoke Me to anger? and lo, they are putting forth the branch unto their nose!'

<sup>18</sup> And I also deal in fury, Mine eye doth not pity, nor do I spare, and they have cried in Mine ears — a loud voice — and I do not hear them.'

9

<sup>1</sup> And He crieth in mine ears — a loud voice — saying, 'Drawn near have inspectors of the city, and each his destroying weapon in his hand.'

<sup>3</sup> And the honour of the God of Israel hath gone up from off the cherub, on which it hath been, unto the threshold of the house.

<sup>5</sup> And to the others he said in mine ears, 'Pass on into the city after him, and smite; your eye doth not pity, nor do ye spare;

<sup>6</sup> aged, young man, and virgin, and infant, and women, ye do slay — to destruction; and against any man on whom [is] the mark ye do not go nigh, and from My sanctuary ye begin.'

<sup>7</sup> And they begin among the aged men who [are] before the house, and He saith unto them, 'Defile the house, and fill the courts with the wounded, go forth.' And they have gone forth and have smitten in the city.

<sup>8</sup> And it cometh to pass, as they are smiting, and I — I am left — that I fall on my face, and cry, and say, 'Ah, Lord Jehovah, art Thou destroying all the remnant of Israel, in Thy pouring out Thy wrath on Jerusalem?'

<sup>9</sup> And He saith unto me, 'The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah [is] very very great, and the land is full of blood, and the city hath been full of perverseness, for they have said: Jehovah hath forsaken the land, and Jehovah is not seeing.

<sup>10</sup> And I also, Mine eye doth not pity, nor do I spare; their way on their own head I have put.'

10

<sup>2</sup> And He speaketh unto the man clothed with linen, and saith, 'Go in unto the midst of the wheel, unto the place of the cherub, and fill thy hands with coals of fire from between the cherubs, and scatter over the city.' And he goeth in before mine eyes.

<sup>6</sup> And it cometh to pass, in His commanding the man clothed with linen, saying, 'Take fire from between the wheel, from between the cherubs,' and he goeth in and standeth near the wheel, <sup>7</sup> that the [one] cherub putteth forth his hand from between the cherubs unto the fire that [is] between the cherubs, and lifteth up, and giveth into the hands of him who is clothed with linen, and he receiveth, and cometh forth.

<sup>8</sup> And there appeareth in the cherubs the form of a hand of man under their wings,

<sup>9</sup> and I look, and lo, four wheels near the cherubs, one wheel near the one cherub, and another wheel near the other cherub, and the appearance of the wheels [is] as the colour of a beryl stone.

<sup>10</sup> As to their appearances, one likeness [is] to them four, as it were the wheel in the midst of the wheel.

<sup>12</sup> And all their flesh, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, are full of eyes round about; to them four [are] their wheels.

<sup>14</sup> And four faces [are] to each; the face of the one [is] the face of the cherub, and the face of the second the face of man, and of the third the face of a lion, and of the fourth the face of an eagle.

<sup>15</sup> And the cherubs are lifted up, it [is] the living creature that I saw by the river Chebar.

<sup>19</sup> and the cherubs lift up their wings, and are lifted up from the earth before mine eyes; in their going forth, the wheels also [are] over-against them, and he standeth at the opening of the east gate of the house of Jehovah, and the honour of the God of Israel [is] over them from above.

<sup>20</sup> It [is] the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar, and I know that they are cherubs.

<sup>21</sup> Four faces [are] to each, and four wings to each, and the likeness of the hands of man [is] under their wings.

<sup>22</sup> As to the likeness of their faces, they [are] the faces that I saw by the river Chebar, their appearances and themselves; each straight forward they go.

11

<sup>1</sup> And lift me up doth a spirit, and it bringeth me in unto the east gate of the house of Jehovah, that is facing the east, and lo, at the opening of the gate twenty and five men, and I see in their midst Jaazaniah son of Azzur, and Pelatiah son of Benaiah, heads of the people.

<sup>2</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Son of man, these [are] the men who are devising iniquity, and who are giving evil counsel in this city;

<sup>3</sup> who are saying, It [is] not near – to build houses, it [is] the pot, and we the flesh.

<sup>5</sup> And fall upon me doth the Spirit of Jehovah, and He saith unto me, 'Say: Thus said Jehovah: Rightly ye have said, O house of Israel, And the steps of your spirit I have known.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Your wounded whom ye placed in its midst, They [are] the flesh, and it [is] the pot, And you he hath brought out from its midst.

<sup>8</sup> A sword ye have feared, And a sword I bring in against you, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>9</sup> And I have brought you out of its midst, And given you into the hand of strangers, And I have done among you judgments.

<sup>10</sup> By the sword ye do fall, On the border of Israel I do judge you, And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>11</sup> It is not to you for a pot, Nor are ye in its midst for flesh, At the border of Israel I do judge you.

<sup>12</sup> And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah, For in My statutes ye have not walked, And My Judgments ye have not done, And according to the judgments of the nations Who are round about you – ye have done!'

<sup>13</sup> And it cometh to pass, at my prophesying, that Pelatiah son of Benaiah is dying, and I fall on my face, and cry – a loud voice – and say, 'Ah, Lord Jehovah, an end Thou art making of the remnant of Israel.'

<sup>14</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,

<sup>15</sup> 'Son of man, thy brethren, thy brethren, men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel – all of it, [are] they to whom inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Keep far off from Jehovah;

<sup>16</sup> it [is] ours, the land hath been given for an inheritance; therefore say: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because I put them afar off among nations,

And because I scattered them through lands, I also am to them for a little sanctuary, In lands whither they have gone in.

<sup>17</sup> Therefore say: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: And I have assembled you from the peoples, And I have gathered you from the lands, Into which ye have been scattered, And I have given to you the ground of Israel.

<sup>18</sup> And they have gone in thither. And turned aside all its detestable things, And all its abominations — out of it.

<sup>19</sup> And I have given to them one heart, And a new spirit I do give in your midst, And I have turned the heart of stone out of their flesh, And I have given to them a heart of flesh.

<sup>20</sup> So that in My statutes they walk, And My judgments they keep, and have done them, And they have been to me for a people, And I am to them for God.

<sup>23</sup> And the honour of Jehovah goeth up from off the midst of the city, and standeth on the mountain, that [is] on the east of the city.

<sup>24</sup> And a spirit hath lifted me up, and bringeth me in to Chaldea, unto the Removed, in a vision, by the Spirit of God, and go up from off me doth the vision that I have seen;

<sup>25</sup> and I speak unto the Removed all the matters of Jehovah that He hath shewed me.

12

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, in the midst of the rebellious house thou art dwelling, that have eyes to see, and they have not seen; ears they have to hear, and they have not heard; for a rebellious house [are] they.

<sup>3</sup> And thou, son of man, make to thee vessels of removal, and remove by day before their eyes, and thou hast removed from thy place unto another place before their eyes, it may be they consider, for a rebellious house they [are].

<sup>6</sup> Before their eyes on the shoulder thou dost bear, in the darkness thou dost bring forth, thy face thou dost cover, and thou dost not see the earth, for a type I have given thee to the house of Israel.'

<sup>7</sup> And I do so, as I have been commanded; my vessels I have brought forth as vessels of removal by day, and at even I have dug for me through the wall with the hand; in the darkness I have brought forth, on the shoulder I have borne away, before their eyes.

<sup>8</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, in the morning, saying,

<sup>9</sup> 'Son of man, have they not said unto thee — the house of Israel — the rebellious house — What art thou doing?

<sup>10</sup> say unto them, Thus said the Lord Jehovah: 'The prince [is] this burden in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel who are in their midst.

<sup>11</sup> Say: I [am] your type; as I have done so it is done to them, into a removal, into a captivity, they do go.

<sup>12</sup> As to the prince who [is] in their midst, on the shoulder he beareth in the darkness, and he goeth forth, through the wall they dig to bring forth by it, his face he covereth, that he may not look on the very surface of the land.

<sup>13</sup> And I have spread My net for him, and he hath been caught in My snare, and I have brought him in to Babylon, the land of the Chaldeans, and it he doth not see — and there doth he die.

<sup>14</sup> 'And all who are round about him to help him, and all his bands, I do scatter to every wind, and a sword I draw out after them.

<sup>15</sup> And they have known that I [am] Jehovah, in My scattering them among nations, and I have spread them through lands;

<sup>16</sup> and I have left of them, a few in number, from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, so that they recount all their abominations among the nations whither they have come, and they have known that I [am] Jehovah.'

<sup>18</sup> 'Son of man, thy bread in haste thou dost eat, and thy water with trembling and with fear thou dost drink;

<sup>19</sup> and thou hast said unto the people of the land, Thus said the Lord Jehovah concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem, concerning the land of Israel: Their bread with fear they do eat, and their water with astonishment drink, because its land is desolate, because of its fulness, because of the violence of all who are dwelling in it.

<sup>20</sup> And the cities that are inhabited are laid waste, and the land is a desolation, and ye have known that I [am] Jehovah.'

<sup>21</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,

<sup>22</sup> 'Son of man, what [is] this simile to you, concerning the land of Israel, saying, Prolonged are the days, and perished hath every vision?

<sup>23</sup> therefore say unto them: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: I have caused this simile to cease, And they use it not as a simile again in Israel, But speak to them: Drawn near have the days, And spoken hath every vision.

<sup>24</sup> For there is no more any vain vision, and flattering divination, In the midst of the house of Israel.

<sup>25</sup> For I [am] Jehovah, I speak, The word that I speak — it is done, It is not prolonged any more, For, in your days, O rebellious house, I speak a word, and I have done it, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.'

<sup>26</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying:

<sup>27</sup> 'Son of man, lo, the house of Israel are saying, The vision that he is seeing [is] for many days, and of times far off he is prophesying,

<sup>28</sup> therefore say unto them: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: None of my words are prolonged any more, When I speak a word — it is done, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah!'

13

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, prophesy concerning the prophets of Israel who are prophesying, and thou hast said to those prophesying from their own heart: Hear ye a word of Jehovah:

<sup>6</sup> They have seen vanity, and lying divination, Who are saying: An affirmation of Jehovah, And Jehovah hath not sent them, And they have hoped to establish a word.

<sup>7</sup> A vain vision have ye not seen, And a lying divination spoken, When ye say: An affirmation of Jehovah, And I have not spoken?

<sup>8</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen a lie, Therefore, lo, I [am] against you, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>9</sup> And My hand hath been on the prophets, Who are seeing vanity, and who are divining a lie, In the assembly of My people they are not, And in the writing of the house of Israel they are not written, And unto the ground of Israel they come not, And ye have known that I [am] the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>10</sup> Because, even because, they did cause My people to err, Saying, Peace! and there is no peace, And that one is building a wall, And lo, they are daubing it with chalk.

<sup>12</sup> And lo, fallen hath the wall! Doth not one say unto you, Where [is] the daubing that ye daubed?

<sup>13</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: I have rent with a tempestuous wind in My fury, And an overflowing shower is in Mine anger, And hailstones in My fury — to consume.

<sup>14</sup> And I have broken down the wall that ye daubed with chalk, And have caused it to come unto the earth, And revealed hath been its foundation, And it hath fallen, And ye have been consumed in its midst, And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>15</sup> And I have completed My wrath on the wall, And on those daubing it with chalk, And I say to you: The wall is not, And those daubing it are not;

<sup>17</sup> And thou, son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, who are prophesying out of their own heart, and prophesy concerning them,

<sup>18</sup> And thou hast said: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Woe to those sowing pillows for all joints of the arm, And to those making the kerchiefs For the head of every stature — to hunt souls, The souls do ye hunt of My people? And the souls ye have do ye keep alive?

<sup>19</sup> Yea, ye pierce Me concerning My people, For handfuls of barley, And for pieces of bread, to put to death Souls that should not die, And to keep alive souls that should not live, By your lying to My people — hearkening to lies.

<sup>20</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I [am] against your pillows, With which ye are hunting there the souls of the flourishing, And I have rent them from off your arms, And have sent away the souls that ye are hunting, The souls of the flourishing.

<sup>21</sup> And I have torn your kerchiefs, And delivered My people out of your hand, And they are no more in your hand for a prey, And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah.

not pained it, And strengthening the hands of the wicked, So as not to turn back from his evil way, To keep him alive, <sup>23</sup> Therefore, vanity ye do not see, And divination ye do not divine again, And I have delivered My people out of your hand, And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah!

14

<sup>1</sup> And come in unto me do certain of the elders of Israel, and sit before me.

<sup>3</sup> 'Son of man, these men have caused their idols to go up on their heart, and the stumbling-block of their iniquity they have put over-against their faces; am I inquired of at all by them?

<sup>4</sup> 'Therefore, speak with them, and thou hast said unto them: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Every one of the house of Israel who causeth his idols to go up unto his heart, and the stumbling-block of his iniquity setteth over-against his face, and hath gone in unto the prophet — I Jehovah have given an answer to him for this, for the abundance of his idols,

<sup>5</sup> in order to catch the house of Israel by their heart, in that they have become estranged from off me by their idols — all of them.

<sup>6</sup> 'Therefore say unto the house of Israel: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Turn ye back, yea, turn ye back from your idols, and from all your abominations turn back your faces,

<sup>7</sup> for every one of the house of Israel, and of the sojourners who doth sojourn in Israel, who is separated from after Me, and doth cause his idols to go up unto his heart, and the stumbling-block of his iniquity setteth over-against his face, and hath come in unto the prophet to inquire of him concerning Me, I, Jehovah, have answered him for Myself;

<sup>8</sup> and I have set My face against that man, and made him for a sign, and for similes, and I have cut him off from the midst of My people, and ye have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>9</sup> 'And the prophet, when he is enticed, and hath spoken a word — I, Jehovah, I have enticed that prophet, and have stretched out My hand against him, and have destroyed him from the midst of My people Israel.

<sup>10</sup> And they have borne their iniquity: as the iniquity of the inquirer, so is the iniquity of the prophet;

<sup>11</sup> so that the house of Israel do not wander any more from after Me, nor are defiled any more with all their transgressions, and they have been to Me for a people, and I am to them for God — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.'

<sup>12</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,

<sup>13</sup> 'Son of man, the land — when it sinneth against Me to commit a trespass, and I have stretched out My hand against it, and broken for it the staff of bread, and sent into it famine, and cut off from it man and beast —

<sup>14</sup> and these three men have been in its midst, Noah, Daniel, and Job — they by their righteousness deliver their own soul — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>15</sup> 'If an evil beast I cause to pass through the land, and it hath bereaved, and it hath been a desolation, without any passing through because of the beast —

<sup>16</sup> these three men in its midst: I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah — neither sons nor daughters do they deliver; they alone are delivered, and the land is a desolation.

<sup>17</sup> 'Or — a sword I bring in against that land, and I have said: Sword, thou dost pass over through the land, and I have cut off from it man and beast —

<sup>18</sup> and these three men in its midst: I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah — they deliver not sons and daughters, for they alone are delivered.

<sup>19</sup> 'Or — pestilence I send unto that land, and I have poured out My fury against it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast —

<sup>20</sup> and Noah, Daniel, and Job, in its midst: I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah — neither son nor daughter do they deliver; they, by their righteousness, deliver their own soul.

<sup>21</sup> 'For thus said the Lord Jehovah: Although My four sore judgments — sword, and famine, and wild beast, and pestilence — I have sent unto Jerusalem, to cut off from it man and beast, <sup>22</sup> yet, lo, there hath been left in it an escape, who are brought forth, sons and daughters, lo, they are coming forth unto you, and ye have seen their way, and their doings, and have been comforted concerning the evil that I have brought in against Jerusalem, all that which I have brought in against it.

<sup>23</sup> And they have comforted you, for ye see their way and their doings, and ye have known that not for nought have I done all that which I have done in her — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.'

15

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, What is the vine-tree more than any tree? The vine-branch that hath been, Among trees of the forest?

<sup>3</sup> Is wood taken from it to use for work? Do they take of it a pin to hang any vessel on it?

<sup>5</sup> Lo, in its being perfect it is not used for work, How much less, when fire hath eaten of it, And it is scorched, Hath it been used yet for work?

<sup>6</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: As the vine-tree among trees of the forest, That I have given to the fire for fuel, So I have given the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

<sup>7</sup> And I have set My face against them, From the fire they have gone forth, And the fire doth consume them, And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah, In My setting My face against them.

<sup>8</sup> And I have made the land a desolation, Because they have committed a trespass, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah!'

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations, and thou hast said:

<sup>3</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah to Jerusalem: Thy birth and thy nativity [Are] of the land of the Canaanite, Thy father the Amorite, and thy mother a Hittite.

<sup>4</sup> As to thy nativity, in the day thou wast born, Thou — thy navel hath not been cut, And in water thou wast not washed for ease, And thou hast not been salted at all, And thou hast not been swaddled at all.

<sup>5</sup> No eye hath had pity on thee, to do to thee any of these, To have compassion on thee, And thou art cast on the face of the field, With loathing of thy person. In the day thou hast been born — thou!

<sup>6</sup> And I do pass over by thee, And I see thee trodden down in thy blood, And I say to thee in thy blood, Live, And I say to thee in thy blood, Live.

<sup>7</sup> A myriad — as the shoot of the field I have made thee, And thou art multiplied, and art great, And comest in with an excellent adornment, Breasts have been formed, and thy hair hath grown — And thou, naked and bare!

<sup>8</sup> And I pass over by thee, and I see thee, And lo, thy time [is] a time of loves, And I spread My skirt over thee, And I cover thy nakedness, And I swear to thee, and come in to a covenant with thee, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, And thou dost become Mine.

<sup>9</sup> And I do wash thee with water, And I wash away thy blood from off thee, And I anoint thee with perfume.

<sup>10</sup> And I clothe thee with embroidery, And I shoe thee with badger's skin, And I gird thee with fine linen, And I cover thee with figured silk.

<sup>11</sup> And I adorn thee with adornments, And I give bracelets for thy hands, And a chain for thy neck.

<sup>12</sup> And I give a ring for thy nose, And rings for thine ears, And a crown of beauty on thy head.

<sup>13</sup> And thou dost put on gold and silver, And thy clothing [is] fine linen, And figured silk and embroidery, Fine flour, and honey, and oil thou hast eaten, And thou art very very beautiful, And dost go prosperously to the kingdom.

<sup>14</sup> And go forth doth thy name among nations, Because of thy beauty — for it [is] complete, In My honour that I have set upon thee, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>15</sup> And thou dost trust in thy beauty, And goest a-whoring because of thy renown, And dost pour out thy whoredoms On every passer by — to him it is.

<sup>16</sup> And thou dost take of thy garments, And dost make to thee spotted high-places, And dost go a-whoring upon them, They are not coming in — nor shall it be!

<sup>17</sup> And thou dost take thy beauteous vessels Of My gold and My silver that I gave to thee, And dost make to thee images of a male, And dost go a-whoring with them, <sup>18</sup> And dost take the garments of thy embroidery, And thou dost cover them, And My oil and My perfume thou hast set before them.

<sup>19</sup> And My bread, that I gave to thee, Fine flour, and oil, and honey, that I caused thee to eat. Thou hast even set it before them, For a sweet fragrance — thus it is, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>20</sup> And thou dost take thy sons and thy daughters Whom thou hast born to Me, And dost sacrifice them to them for food. Is it a little thing because of thy whoredoms, <sup>21</sup> That thou dost slaughter My sons, And dost give them up in causing them to pass over to them?

<sup>23</sup> And it cometh to pass, after all thy wickedness, (Woe, woe, to thee — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah),

<sup>24</sup> That thou dost build to thee an arch, And dost make to thee a high place in every broad place.

<sup>26</sup> And dost go a-whoring unto sons of Egypt, Thy neighbours — great of appetite! And thou dost multiply thy whoredoms, To provoke Me to anger.

<sup>27</sup> And lo, I have stretched out My hand against thee, And I diminish thy portion, And give thee to the desire of those hating thee, The daughters of the Philistines, Who are ashamed of thy wicked way.

<sup>36</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because of thy brass being poured forth, And thy nakedness is revealed in thy whoredoms near thy lovers, And near all the idols of thy abominations, And according to the blood of thy sons, Whom thou hast given to them;

<sup>37</sup> Therefore, lo, I am assembling all thy lovers, To whom thou hast been sweet, And all whom thou hast loved, Besides all whom thou hast hated; And I have assembled them by thee round about, And have revealed thy nakedness to them, And they have seen all thy nakedness.

<sup>38</sup> And I have judged thee — judgments of adulteresses, And of women shedding blood, And have given thee blood, fury, and jealousy.

<sup>39</sup> And I have given thee into their hand, And they have thrown down thine arch, And they have broken down thy high places, And they have stript thee of thy garments, And they have taken thy beauteous vessels, And they have left thee naked and bare.

<sup>41</sup> And burnt thy houses with fire, And done in thee judgments before the eyes of many women, And I have caused thee to cease from going a-whoring, And also a gift thou givest no more.

<sup>42</sup> And I have caused My fury against thee to rest, And My jealousy hath turned aside from thee, And I have been quiet, and I am not angry any more.

<sup>43</sup> Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, And dost give trouble to Me in all these, Lo, even I also thy way at first gave up, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, And I did not this thought for all thine abominations.

And thy sisters' sister thou [art], Who loathed their husbands and their sons,
Your mother [is] a Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

<sup>49</sup> Lo, this hath been the iniquity of Sodom thy sister, Arrogancy, fulness of bread, and quiet ease, Have been to her and to her daughters, And the hand of the afflicted and needy She hath not strengthened.

<sup>50</sup> And they are haughty and do abomination before Me, And I turn them aside when I have seen.

<sup>51</sup> As to Samaria, as the half of thy sins — she hath not sinned, And thou dost multiply thine abominations more than they, And dost justify thy sisters by all thy abominations that thou hast done.

<sup>52</sup> Thou also — bear thy shame, That thou hast adjudged to thy sisters, Because of thy sins that thou hast done more abominably than they, They are more righteous than thou, And thou, also, be ashamed and bear thy shame, In thy justifying thy sisters.

<sup>54</sup> So that thou dost bear thy shame, And hast been ashamed of all that thou hast done, In thy comforting them.

<sup>56</sup> And thy sister Sodom hath not been for a report in thy mouth, In the day of thine arrogancy,

<sup>62</sup> And I — I have established My covenant with thee, And thou hast known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>63</sup> So that thou dost remember, And thou hast been ashamed, And there is not to thee any more an opening of the mouth because of thy shame, In My receiving atonement for thee, For all that thou hast done, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah!

- <sup>1</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,
<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, put forth a riddle, and use a simile unto the house of Israel,
<sup>3</sup> and thou hast said: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: The great eagle, great-winged, long-pinioned, Full of feathers, that hath diverse colours, Hath come in unto Lebanon, And it taketh the foliage of the cedar,
<sup>4</sup> The top of its tender twigs it hath cropped, And it bringeth it in to the land of Canaan. In a city of merchants it hath placed it.
<sup>5</sup> And it taketh of the seed of the land, And doth put it in a field of seed, To take by many waters, In a conspicuous place it hath set it.
<sup>6</sup> And it springeth up, and becometh a spreading vine, humble of stature, To turn its thin shoots toward itself, And its roots are under it, And it becometh a vine, and maketh boughs, And sendeth forth beauteous branches.
<sup>7</sup> And there is another great eagle, Great-winged, and abounding with feathers, And lo, this vine hath bent its roots toward him, And its thin shoots it hath sent out toward him, To water it from the furrows of its planting,
<sup>8</sup> On a good field, by many waters, it is planted, To make branches, and to bear fruit, To be for an goodly vine.
<sup>9</sup> Say: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: It prospereth — its roots doth he not draw out, And its fruit cut off, and it is withered? [In] all the leaves of its springing it withereth, And not by great strength, and by a numerous people, To lift it up by its roots.
<sup>10</sup> And lo, the planted thing — doth it prosper? When come against it doth the east wind, Doth it not utterly wither? On the furrows of its springing it withereth.'
<sup>11</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying:
<sup>12</sup> 'Say, I pray thee, to the rebellious house, Have ye not known what these [are]? Say, Lo, come hath the king of Babylon to Jerusalem, And he taketh its king, and its princes, And bringeth them to himself to Babylon.
<sup>13</sup> And he taketh of the seed of the kingdom, And maketh with him a covenant, And bringeth him in to an oath, And the mighty of the land he hath taken,
<sup>14</sup> That the kingdom may be humble, That it may not lift itself up, To keep his covenant — that it may stand.
<sup>15</sup> And he rebelleth against him, To send his messengers to Egypt, To give to him horses, and much people, Doth he prosper? doth he escape who is doing these things? And hath he broken covenant and escaped?
<sup>16</sup> I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, Doth he not — in the place of the king who is causing him to reign, Whose oath he hath despised, And whose covenant he hath broken, With him — in the midst of Babylon — die?
<sup>18</sup> And he despised the oath — to break covenant, And lo, he hath given his hand, And all these he hath done, he escapeth not.
<sup>19</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: I live — Mine oath that he hath despised, And My covenant that he hath broken, Have I not put it on his head?
<sup>20</sup> And I have spread out for him My snare, And he hath been caught in My net, And I have brought him in to Babylon, And pleaded with him there his trespass, That he hath trespassed against Me.

<sup>21</sup> And all his fugitives, with all his bands, By sword do fall, and those remaining, To every wind they are spread out, And ye have known that I, Jehovah, have spoken.

<sup>22</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: I have taken of the foliage of the high cedar, And I have set [it], From the top of its tender shoots a tender one I crop, And I — I have planted [it] on a mountain high and lofty.

<sup>23</sup> In a mountain — the high place of Israel, I plant it, And it hath borne boughs, and yielded fruit, And become a goodly cedar, And dwelt under it have all birds of every wing, In the shade of its thin shoots they dwell.

<sup>24</sup> And known have all trees of the field That I, Jehovah, have made low the high tree, I have set on high the low tree, I have dried up the moist tree, And I have caused the dry tree to flourish, I, Jehovah, have spoken, and have done [it]!

<sup>2</sup> 'What — to you, ye — using this simile Concerning the ground of Israel, saying: Fathers do eat unripe fruit, And the sons' teeth are blunted?

<sup>3</sup> I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, Ye have no more the use of this simile in Israel.

<sup>4</sup> Lo, all the souls are Mine, As the soul of the father, So also the soul of the son — they are Mine, The soul that is sinning — it doth die.

<sup>5</sup> And a man, when he is righteous, And hath done judgment and righteousness,

<sup>7</sup> A man — he doth not oppress, His pledge to the debtor he doth return, Plunder he doth not take away, His bread to the hungry he doth give, And the naked doth cover with a garment,

<sup>8</sup> In usury he doth not give, and increase taketh not, From perversity he turneth back his hand, True judgment he doth between man and man.

<sup>9</sup> In My statutes he doth walk, And My judgments he hath kept — to deal truly, Righteous [is] he, he surely liveth, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>10</sup> And — he hath begotten a son, A burglar — a shedder of blood, And he hath made a brother of one of these,

<sup>11</sup> And he all those hath not done, For even on the mountains he hath eaten, And the wife of his neighbour he hath defiled,

<sup>12</sup> The afflicted and needy he hath oppressed, Plunder he hath taken violently away, A pledge he doth not return, And unto the idols he hath lifted up his eyes, Abomination he hath done!

<sup>13</sup> In usury he hath given, and increase taken, And he liveth: he doth not live, All these abominations he hath done, He doth surely die, his blood is on him.

<sup>14</sup> And — lo, he hath begotten a son, And he seeth all the sins of his father, That he hath done, and he feareth, And doth not do like them,

<sup>15</sup> On the mountains he hath not eaten, And his eyes he hath not lifted up Unto idols of the house of Israel, The wife of his neighbour he hath not defiled,

<sup>16</sup> A man — he hath not oppressed, A pledge he hath not bound, And plunder he hath not taken away, His bread to the hungry he hath given, And the naked he covered with a garment,

<sup>17</sup> From the afflicted he hath turned back his hand, Usury and increase he hath not taken, My judgments he hath done, In My statutes he hath walked, He doth not die for the iniquity of his father, He doth surely live.

<sup>18</sup> His father — because he used oppression, Did violently Plunder a brother, And that which [is] not good did in the midst of his people, And lo, he is dying in his iniquity.

<sup>19</sup> And ye have said, Wherefore hath not the son, Borne of the iniquity of the father? And — the son judgment and righteousness hath done, All My statutes he hath kept, And he doeth them, he surely liveth.

<sup>20</sup> The soul that doth sin — it doth die. A son doth not bear of the iniquity of the father, And a father doth not bear of the iniquity of the son, The righteousness of the righteous is on him, And the wickedness of the wicked is on him.

<sup>21</sup> And the wicked — when he turneth back From all his sins that he hath done, And he hath kept all My statutes, And hath done judgment and righteousness, He doth surely live, he doth not die.

<sup>22</sup> All his transgressions that he hath done Are not remembered to him, In his righteousness that he hath done he liveth.

<sup>23</sup> Do I at all desire the death of the wicked? An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, Is it not in his turning back from his way — And he hath lived?

<sup>24</sup> And in the turning back of the righteous from his righteousness, And he hath done perversity, According to all the abominations That the wicked hath done, he doth — thus he liveth, All his righteousnesses that he hath done are not remembered, For his trespass that he hath trespassed, And for his sin that he hath sinned, For them he doth die.

<sup>25</sup> And ye have said, Not pondered is the way of the Lord. Hear, I pray you, O house of Israel, My way — is it not pondered? Are not your ways unpondered?

<sup>26</sup> In the turning back of the righteous from his righteousness, And he hath done perversity, And he is dying by them, for his perversity That he hath done he dieth.

<sup>27</sup> And in the turning back of the wicked From his wickedness that he hath done, And he doth judgment and righteousness, He his soul doth keep alive.

<sup>28</sup> And he seeth and turneth back, From all his transgressions that he hath done, He doth surely live, he doth not die,

<sup>29</sup> And the house of Israel have said, Not pondered is the way of the Lord, My ways — are they not pondered? O house of Israel — are not your ways unpondered?

<sup>30</sup> Therefore, each according to his ways I judge you, O house of Israel? An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, Turn ye back, yea, turn yourselves back, From all your transgressions, And iniquity is not to you for a stumbling-block, <sup>31</sup> Cast from off you all your transgressions, By which ye have transgressed, And make to you a new heart, and a new spirit, And why do ye die, O house of Israel?

<sup>3</sup> And she bringeth up one of her whelps, A young lion it hath been, And it learneth to tear prey, man it hath devoured.

<sup>5</sup> And she seeth, that stayed — perished hath her hope, And she taketh one of her whelps, A young lion she hath made it.

<sup>8</sup> And set against it do nations Round about from the provinces. And they spread out for it their net, In their pit it hath been caught.

<sup>9</sup> And they put it in prison — in chains, And they bring it unto the king of Babylon, They bring it in unto bulwarks, So that its voice is not heard any more On mountains of Israel.

<sup>10</sup> Thy mother [is] as a vine in thy blood by waters planted, Fruitful and full of boughs it hath been, Because of many waters.

<sup>11</sup> And it hath strong rods for sceptres of rulers, And high is its stature above thick branches, And it appeareth in its height In the multitude of its thin shoots.

<sup>12</sup> And it is plucked up in fury, To the earth it hath been cast, And the east wind hath dried up its fruit, Broken and withered hath been the rod of its strength, Fire hath consumed it.

<sup>13</sup> And now — it is planted in a wilderness, In a land dry and thirsty.

<sup>14</sup> And go forth doth fire from a rod of its boughs, Its fruit it hath devoured, And it hath no rod of strength — a sceptre to rule, Lamentation it [is] — and it is for a lamentation!'

20

<sup>1</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the seventh year, in the fifth [month], in the tenth of the month, come in have certain of the elders of Israel to seek Jehovah, and they sit before me;

<sup>3</sup> 'Son of man, speak with the elders of Israel, and thou hast said unto them, Thus said the Lord Jehovah: To seek Me are ye coming in? I live — I am not sought by you — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>4</sup> Dost thou judge them? Dost thou judge, son of man? The abominations of their fathers cause them to know,

<sup>5</sup> and thou hast said unto them: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: In the day of My fixing on Israel, I lift up My hand, To the seed of the house of Jacob, And am known to them in the land of Egypt, And I lift up My hand to them, Saying, I [am] Jehovah your God.

<sup>6</sup> In that day I did lift up My hand to them, To bring them forth from the land of Egypt, Unto a land that I spied out for them, Flowing with milk and honey, A beauty it [is] to all the lands, <sup>7</sup> And I say unto them, Let each cast away the detestable things of his eyes, And with the idols of Egypt be not defiled, I [am] Jehovah your God.

<sup>8</sup> And — they rebel against Me, And have not been willing to hearken to Me, Each, the detestable things of their eyes, They have not cast away, And the idols of Egypt have not forsaken, And I say — to pour out My fury on them, To complete Mine anger against them, In the midst of the land of Egypt.

<sup>9</sup> And I do [it] for My name's sake, Not to pollute [it] before the eyes of the nations, In whose midst they [are], Before whose eyes I became known to them, To bring them out from the land of Egypt.

<sup>10</sup> And I bring them out of the land of Egypt, And I bring them in unto the wilderness, <sup>11</sup> And I give to them My statutes, And my judgments I caused them to know, Which the man who doth — liveth by them.

<sup>12</sup> And also My sabbaths I have given to them, To be for a sign between Me and them, To know that I [am] Jehovah their sanctifier.

<sup>13</sup> And — rebel against me do the house of Israel in the wilderness, In My statutes they have not walked, And My judgments they have despised, Which the man who doth — liveth by them. And My sabbaths they have greatly polluted, And I say to pour out My fury on them in the wilderness, to consume them.

<sup>14</sup> And I do [it] for My name's sake, Not to pollute [it] before the eyes of the nations, Before whose eyes I brought them forth.

<sup>15</sup> And also, I, I have lifted up My hand to them in the wilderness, Not to bring them in to the land that I had given, Flowing with milk and honey, A beauty it [is] to all the lands, <sup>16</sup> Because against My judgments they did kick, And in My statutes they have not walked, And My sabbaths they have polluted, For after their idols their heart is going.

<sup>17</sup> And Mine eye hath pity on them — against destroying them, And I have not made of them an end in the wilderness.

<sup>19</sup> I [am] Jehovah your God, in My statutes walk, And My judgments observe, and do them, <sup>20</sup> And My sabbaths sanctify, And they have been for a sign between Me and you, To know that I, Jehovah, [am] your God.

<sup>21</sup> And — the sons rebel against Me, In My statutes they have not walked, And My judgments they have not observed — to do them, Which the man who doth — liveth by them. My sabbaths they have polluted, And I say to pour out My fury upon them, To complete Mine anger against them in the wilderness.

<sup>22</sup> And I have turned back My hand, And I do [it] for My name's sake, Not to pollute [it] before the eyes of the nations, Before whose eyes I brought them out.

<sup>23</sup> I also, I have lifted up My hand to them in the wilderness, To scatter them among nations, And to spread them through lands.

<sup>24</sup> Because My judgments they have not done, And My statutes they have despised, And My sabbaths they have polluted, And after idols of their fathers have their eyes been.

<sup>25</sup> And I also, I have given to them statutes not good, And judgments by which they do not live.

<sup>26</sup> And I defile them by their own gifts, By causing to pass away every opener of a womb, So that I make them desolate, So that they know that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>27</sup> Therefore, speak unto the house of Israel, son of man, and thou hast said unto them, Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Still in this have your fathers reviled Me, In their committing against Me a trespass.

<sup>28</sup> And I bring them in unto the land, That I did lift up My hand to give to them, And they see every high hill, and every thick tree, And they sacrifice there their sacrifices, And give there the provocation of their offering, And make there their sweet fragrance, And they pour out there their libations.

<sup>29</sup> And I say unto them: What [is] the high place whither ye are going in? And its name is called 'high place' to this day.

<sup>30</sup> Therefore, say unto the house of Israel: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: In the way of your fathers are ye defiled? And after their detestable things go a-whoring?

<sup>31</sup> And in the offering of your gifts, In causing your sons to pass through fire, Ye are defiled by all your idols to this day, And I am sought by you, O house of Israel! I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, I am not sought by you.

<sup>32</sup> And that which is going up on your mind, It is not at all — in that ye are saying: We will be as the nations, as the families of the lands, To serve wood and stone.

<sup>33</sup> I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, Do not I, with a strong hand, And with a stretched-out arm, And with fury poured out — rule over you?

<sup>35</sup> And I have brought you in unto the wilderness of the peoples, And have been judged with you there face to face.

<sup>36</sup> As I was judged with your fathers, In the wilderness of the land of Egypt, So I am judged with you, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>37</sup> And I have caused you to pass under the rod, And brought you into the bond of the covenant,

<sup>38</sup> And cleared out from you the rebels, And them transgressing against Me, From the land of their sojournings I bring them out, And unto the land of Israel they come not, And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>39</sup> And ye, O house of Israel, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Each his idols — go — serve ye, And, afterwards, if ye are not hearkening to me, And My holy name ye do not pollute any more by your gifts, and by your idols.

<sup>40</sup> For, in My holy mountain, In the mountain of the height of Israel, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, There serve Me do all the house of Israel, All of it, in the land — there I accept them, And there I do seek your heavenly offerings, And with the first-fruit of your gifts, With all your holy things.

<sup>41</sup> With sweet fragrance I do accept you, In My bringing you out from the peoples, And I have assembled you from the lands In which ye have been scattered, And I have been sanctified in you Before the eyes of the nations.

<sup>42</sup> And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah, In My bringing you to the ground of Israel, Unto the land that I did lift up My hand To give it to your fathers, <sup>43</sup> And ye have remembered there your ways, And all your doings, In which ye have been defiled, And ye have been loathsome in your own faces, For all your evils that ye have done.

<sup>44</sup> And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah, In My dealing with you for My name's sake, Not according to your evil ways, And according to your corrupt doings, O house of Israel, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.'

<sup>46</sup> Son of man, set thy face the way of Teman, and prophesy unto the south, and prophesy unto the forest of the field — the south;

<sup>47</sup> and thou hast said to the forest of the south: Hear a word of Jehovah: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am kindling in thee a fire, And it hath devoured in thee every moist tree, and every dry tree, Not quenched is the glowing flames, And burnt by it have been all faces from south to north.

<sup>48</sup> And seen have all flesh, that I, Jehovah, have kindled it — it is not quenched.'

21

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, set thy face unto Jerusalem, and prophesy unto the holy places, and prophesy unto the ground of Israel;

<sup>3</sup> and thou hast said unto the ground of Israel: Thus said Jehovah: Lo, I [am] against thee, And have brought out My sword from its scabbard, And have cut off from thee righteous and wicked.

<sup>5</sup> And known have all flesh that I, Jehovah, Have brought out My sword from its scabbard, It doth not turn back any more.

<sup>6</sup> And thou, son of man, sigh with breaking of loins, yea, with bitterness thou dost sigh before their eyes,

<sup>7</sup> and it hath come to pass, when they say unto thee, For what art thou sighing? that thou hast said: Because of the report, for it is coming, And melted hath every heart, And feeble hath been all hands, And weak is every spirit, And all knees go — waters, Lo, it is coming, yea, it hath been, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.'

<sup>8</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,

<sup>9</sup> 'Son of man, prophesy, and thou hast said, Thus said Jehovah, say: A sword, a sword is sharpened, and also polished.

<sup>10</sup> So as to slaughter a slaughter it is sharpened. So as to have brightness it is polished, Desire hath rejoiced the sceptre of my son, It is despising every tree.

<sup>11</sup> And he giveth it for polishing, For laying hold of by the hand. It is sharpened — the sword — and polished, To give it into the hand of a slayer.

<sup>12</sup> Cry and howl, son of man, For it hath been among My people, It [is] among all the princes of Israel, Cast unto the sword have been My people. Therefore strike on thy thigh, <sup>13</sup> Because [it is] a trier, And what if even the sceptre it is despising? It shall not be, an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>14</sup> And thou, son of man, prophesy, And smite hand on hand, And bent is the sword a third time, The sword of the wounded! It [is] the sword of the wounded — the great one, That is entering the inner chamber to them.

<sup>15</sup> To melt the heart, and to multiply the ruins, By all their gates I have set the point of a sword. Ah, it is made for brightness, Wrapped up for slaughter.

<sup>17</sup> And I also, I smite My hand on my hand, And have caused My fury to rest; I, Jehovah, have spoken.'

<sup>18</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,

<sup>23</sup> And it hath been to them as a false divination in their eyes, Who have sworn oaths to them, And he is causing iniquity to be remembered to be caught.

<sup>24</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because of your causing your iniquity to be remembered, In your transgressions being revealed, For your sins being seen, in all your doings, Because of your being remembered, By the hand ye are caught.

<sup>25</sup> And thou, wounded, wicked one, Prince of Israel, whose day hath come, In the time of the iniquity of the end!

<sup>26</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Turn aside the mitre, and bear away the crown, This — not this — the low make high, And the high make low.

<sup>27</sup> An overturn, overturn, overturn, I make it, Also this hath not been till the coming of Him, Whose [is] the judgment, and I have given it.

<sup>28</sup> And thou, son of man, prophesy, and thou hast said: Thus said the Lord Jehovah concerning the sons of Ammon, and concerning their reproach: and thou hast said: A sword, a sword, open for slaughter, Polished to the utmost for brightness!

<sup>31</sup> And I have poured on thee Mine indignation, With fire of My wrath I blow against thee, And have given thee into the hand of brutish men — artificers of destruction.

22

<sup>2</sup> 'And thou, son of man, dost thou judge? dost thou judge the city of blood? then thou hast caused it to know all its abominations,

<sup>3</sup> and thou hast said: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: The city is shedding blood in its midst, For the coming in of its time, And it hath made idols on it for defilement.

<sup>4</sup> By thy blood that thou hast shed thou hast been guilty, And by thine idols that thou hast made thou hast been defiled, And thou causest thy days to draw near, And art come in unto thine years, Therefore I have given thee a reproach to nations, And a derision to all the lands.

<sup>5</sup> The near and the far-off from thee scoff at thee, O defiled of name — abounding in trouble.

<sup>9</sup> Men of slander have been in thee to shed blood, And on the mountains they have eaten in thee, Wickedness they have done in thy midst.

<sup>10</sup> The nakedness of a father hath one uncovered in thee, The defiled of impurity they humbled in thee.

<sup>15</sup> And I have scattered thee among nations, And have spread thee out among lands, And consumed thy uncleanness out of thee.

<sup>18</sup> The house of Israel hath been to Me for dross, All of them [are] brass, and tin, and iron, and lead, In the midst of a furnace — dross hath silver been,

<sup>19</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because of your all becoming dross, Therefore, lo, I am gathering you unto the midst of Jerusalem,

<sup>20</sup> A gathering of silver, and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin, Unto the midst of a furnace — to blow on it fire, to melt it, So do I gather in Mine anger and in My fury, And I have let rest, and have melted you.

<sup>21</sup> And I have heaped you up, And blown on you in the fire of My wrath, And ye have been melted in its midst.

<sup>22</sup> As the melting of silver in the midst of a furnace, So are ye melted in its midst, And ye have known that I, Jehovah, I have poured out My fury upon you.'

<sup>24</sup> 'Son of man, say to it, Thou [art] a land, It [is] not cleansed nor rained on in a day of indignation.

<sup>25</sup> A conspiracy of its prophets [is] in its midst, as a roaring lion tearing prey; The soul they have devoured, Wealth and glory they have taken, Its widows have multiplied in its midst.

<sup>26</sup> Its priests have wronged My law, And they pollute My holy things, Between holy and common they have not made separation, And between the unclean and the clean they have not made known, And from my sabbaths they have hidden their eyes, And I am pierced in their midst.

<sup>27</sup> Its princes in its midst [are] as wolves, Tearing prey, to shed blood, to destroy souls, For the sake of gaining dishonest gain.

<sup>28</sup> And its prophets have daubed for them with chalk, Seeing a vain thing, and divining for them a lie, Saying, 'Thus said the Lord Jehovah:' And Jehovah hath not spoken.

<sup>29</sup> The people of the land have used oppression, And have taken plunder violently away, And humble and needy have oppressed, And the sojourner oppressed — without judgment.

<sup>30</sup> And I seek of them a man making a fence, And standing in the breach before Me, In behalf of the land — not to destroy it, And I have not found.

<sup>31</sup> And I pour out on them mine indignation, By fire of My wrath I have consumed them, Their way on their own head I have put, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah!'

23

<sup>3</sup> And they go a-whoring in Egypt, In their youth they have gone a-whoring, There they have bruised their breasts, And there they have dealt with the loves of their virginity.

<sup>5</sup> And go a-whoring doth Aholah under Me, And she doteth on her lovers, On the neighbouring Assyrians,

<sup>6</sup> Clothed with blue — governors and prefects, Desirable young men all of them, Horsemen, riding on horses,

<sup>7</sup> And she giveth her whoredoms on them, The choice of the sons of Asshur, All of them — even all on whom she doted, By all their idols she hath been defiled.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore I have given her into the hand of her lovers, Into the hand of sons of Asshur on whom she doted.

<sup>13</sup> And I see that she hath been defiled, One way [is] to them both.

<sup>16</sup> And she doteth on them at the sight of her eyes, And sendeth messengers to them, to Chaldea.

<sup>20</sup> And she doteth on their paramours, Whose flesh [is] the flesh of asses, And the issue of horses – their issue.

<sup>21</sup> Thou lookest after the wickedness of thy youth, In dealing out of Egypt thy loves, For the sake of the breasts of thy youth.

<sup>22</sup> Therefore, O Aholibah, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am stirring up thy lovers against thee, From whom thy soul hath been alienated, And have brought them in against thee from round about.

<sup>23</sup> Sons of Babylon, and of all Chaldea, Pekod, and Shoa, and Koa, All the sons of Asshur with them, Desirable young men, governors and prefects, All of them – rulers and proclaimed ones, Riding on horses, all of them.

<sup>24</sup> And they have come in against thee, With arms, rider, and wheel, And with an assembly of peoples; Target, and shield, and helmet, They do set against thee round about, And I have set before them judgment, They have judged thee in their Judgments.

<sup>25</sup> And I have set My jealousy against thee, And they have dealt with thee in fury, Thy nose and thine ears they turn aside, And thy posterity by sword falleth, They, thy sons and thy daughters do take away, And thy posterity is devoured by fire.

<sup>26</sup> And they have stripped thee of thy garments, And have taken thy beauteous jewels.

<sup>27</sup> And I have caused thy wickedness to cease from thee, And thy whoredoms out of the land of Egypt, And thou liftest not up thine eyes unto them, And Egypt thou dost not remember again.

<sup>28</sup> For thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am giving thee into a hand that thou hast hated, Into a hand from which thou wast alienated.

<sup>29</sup> And they have dealt with thee in hatred, And they have taken all thy labour, And they have left thee naked and bare, And revealed hath been the nakedness of thy whoredoms, And the wickedness of thy whoredoms.

<sup>30</sup> To do these things to thee, In thy going a-whoring after nations, Because thou hast been defiled with their idols,

<sup>32</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: The cup of thy sister thou dost drink, The deep and the wide one, (Thou art for laughter and for scorn,) Abundant to contain.

<sup>34</sup> And thou hast drunk it, and hast drained [it], And its earthen ware thou dost gnaw, And thine own breasts thou pluckest off, For I have spoken, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah,

<sup>35</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because thou hast forgotten Me, And thou dost cast Me behind thy back, Even thou also bear thy wickedness and thy whoredoms.'

<sup>37</sup> For they have committed adultery, And blood [is] in their hands, With their idols they committed adultery, And also their sons whom they bore to Me, They caused to pass over to them for food.

<sup>38</sup> Again, this they have done to Me, They defiled My sanctuary in that day, And My sabbaths they have polluted.

<sup>39</sup> And in their slaughtering their sons to their idols They also come in unto My sanctuary in that day to pollute it, And lo, thus they have done in the midst of My house,

<sup>40</sup> And also that they send to men coming from afar, Unto whom a messenger is sent, And lo, they have come in for whom thou hast washed, Painted thine eyes, and put on adornment.

<sup>43</sup> And I say of the worn-out one in adulteries, Now they commit her whoredoms — she also!

<sup>44</sup> And they come in unto her, As the coming in unto a whorish woman, So they have come in unto Aholah, And unto Aholibah — the wicked women.

<sup>46</sup> For thus said the Lord Jehovah: Bring up against them an assembly, And give them to trembling and to spoiling.

<sup>48</sup> And I have caused wickedness to cease from the land, And instructed have been all the women, And they do not according to your wickedness.

<sup>49</sup> And they have put your wickedness on you, And the sins of your idols ye bear, And ye have known that I [am] the Lord Jehovah!

24

<sup>1</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth of the month, saying,

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, write for thee the name of the day — this self-same day leaned hath the king of Babylon toward Jerusalem in this self-same day —

<sup>3</sup> and use unto the rebellious house a simile, and thou hast said unto them: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: To set on the pot, to set [it] on, and also to pour into it water,

<sup>5</sup> The choice of the flock to take, And also to pile of the bones under it, Boil it thoroughly, yea, cook its bones in its midst.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Woe [to] the city of blood, A pot whose scum [is] in it, And its scum hath not come out of it, By piece of it, by piece of it bring it out, Not fallen on it hath a lot.

<sup>8</sup> To cause fury to come up to take vengeance, I have put her blood on a clear place of a rock — not to be covered.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Woe [to] the city of blood, yea, I — I make great the pile.

<sup>12</sup> [With] sorrows she hath wearied herself, And the abundance of her scum goeth not out of her; In the fire [is] her scum.

<sup>13</sup> In thine uncleanness [is] wickedness, Because I have cleansed thee, And thou hast not been cleansed, From thine uncleanness thou art not cleansed again, Till I have caused My fury to rest on thee.

<sup>14</sup> I, Jehovah, hath spoken, It hath come, and I have done [it], I do not free, nor do I spare, nor do I repent, According to thy ways, and according to thine acts, they have judged thee, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.'

<sup>15</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,

<sup>16</sup> 'Son of man, lo, I am taking from thee the desire of thine eyes by a stroke, and thou dost not mourn, nor weep, nor let thy tear come.

<sup>17</sup> Cease to groan, [for] the dead thou dost make no mourning, thy bonnet bind on thee, and thy shoes thou dost put on thy feet, and thou dost not cover over the upper lip, and bread of men thou dost not eat.'

<sup>18</sup> And I speak unto the people in the morning, and my wife dieth in the evening, and I do in the morning as I have been commanded.

<sup>19</sup> And the people say unto me, 'Dost thou not declare to us what these [are] to us, that thou art doing?'

<sup>21</sup> Say to the house of Israel: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am polluting My sanctuary, The excellency of your strength, The desire of your eyes, and the pitied of your soul, And your sons and your daughters whom ye have left, by sword they do fall.

<sup>22</sup> And ye have done as I have done, On the upper lip ye are not covered, And bread of men ye do not eat.

<sup>23</sup> And your bonnets [are] on your heads, And your shoes [are] on your feet, Ye do not mourn nor do ye weep, And ye have wasted away for your iniquities, And ye have howled one unto another.

<sup>24</sup> And Ezekiel hath been to you for a type, According to all that he hath done ye do; In its coming in — ye have known that I [am] the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>26</sup> In that day come doth the escaped one to thee. To cause the ears to hear.

<sup>27</sup> In that day opened is thy mouth with the escaped, And thou speakest, and art not silent any more, And thou hast been to them for a type. And they have known that I [am] Jehovah.'

25

<sup>3</sup> and thou hast said to the sons of Ammon: Hear ye a word of the Lord Jehovah: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because of thy saying, Aha, to My sanctuary, Because it hath been polluted, And unto the ground of Israel, Because it hath been desolate, And unto the house of Judah, Because they have gone into a removal:

<sup>4</sup> Therefore, lo, I am giving thee to sons of the east for a possession, And they set their towers in thee, And have placed in thee their tabernacles. They eat thy fruit, and they drink thy milk,

<sup>5</sup> And I have given Rabbah for a habitation of camels, And the sons of Ammon for the crouching of a flock, And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>6</sup> For thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because of thy clapping the hand, And of thy stamping with the foot, And thou rejoicest with all thy despite in soul Against the ground of Israel,

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, lo, I — I have stretched out My hand against thee, And have given thee for a portion to nations, And I have cut thee off from the peoples, And caused thee to perish from the lands; I destroy thee, and thou hast known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>8</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because of the saying of Moab and Seir: Lo, as all the nations [is] the house of Judah;

<sup>9</sup> Therefore, lo, I am opening the shoulder of Moab — From the cities — from his cities — from his frontier, The beauty of the land, Beth-Jeshimoth, Baal-Meon, and Kiriathaim, <sup>10</sup> To the sons of the east, with the sons of Ammon, And I have given it for a possession, So that the sons of Ammon are not remembered among nations.

<sup>11</sup> And in Moab I do judgments, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because of the doings of Edom, In taking vengeance on the house of Judah, Yea, they are very guilty, And they have taken vengeance on them.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: I have stretched out My hand against Edom, And I have cut off from it man and beast, And given it up — a waste, from Teman even to Dedan, By sword they do fall.

<sup>14</sup> And I have given My vengeance on Edom, By the hand of My people Israel, And they have done in Edom, According to My anger, and according to My fury, And they have known My vengeance, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>15</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because of the doings of the Philistines in vengeance, And they take vengeance with despite in soul, To destroy — the enmity age-during!

<sup>16</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am stretching out My hand against the Philistines, And I have cut off the Cherethim, And destroyed the remnant of the haven of the sea, <sup>17</sup> And done upon them great vengeance with furious reproofs, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah, In My giving out My vengeance on them!

26

<sup>1</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the eleventh year, in the first of the month, there hath been a word of Jehovah unto me, saying: 'Son of man,

<sup>2</sup> Because that Tyre hath said of Jerusalem: Aha, she hath been broken, the doors of the peoples, She hath turned round unto me, I am filled — she hath been laid waste, <sup>3</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I [am] against thee, O Tyre, And have caused to come up against thee many nations, As the sea causeth its billows to come up.

<sup>4</sup> And they have destroyed the walls of Tyre, And they have broken down her towers, And I have scraped her dust from her, And made her for a clear place of a rock.

<sup>6</sup> And her daughters who [are] in the field, by sword they are slain, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah,

<sup>9</sup> And a battering-ram before him he placeth against thy walls, And thy towers he breaketh by his weapons.

<sup>11</sup> With hoofs of his horses he treadeth all thine out-places, Thy people by sword he doth slay, And the pillars of thy strength to the earth come down.

<sup>12</sup> And they have spoiled thy wealth, And they have plundered thy merchandise, And they have thrown down thy walls, And thy desirable houses they break down, And thy stones, and thy wood, and thy dust, In the midst of the waters they place.

<sup>13</sup> And I have caused the noise of thy songs to cease, And the voice of thy harps is heard no more.

<sup>14</sup> And I have given thee up for a clear place of a rock, A spreading-place of nets thou art, Thou art not built up any more, For I, Jehovah, I have spoken, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>15</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah to Tyre: Do not — from the noise of thy fall, In the groaning of the wounded, In the slaying of the slaughter in thy midst, The isles shake?

<sup>16</sup> And come down from off their thrones have all princes of the sea, And they have turned aside their robes, And their embroidered garments strip off, Trembling they put on, on the earth they sit, And they have trembled every moment, And they have been astonished at thee,

<sup>17</sup> And have lifted up for thee a lamentation, And said to thee: How hast thou perished, That art inhabited from the seas, The praised city, that was strong in the sea, She and her inhabitants, Who put their terror on all her inhabitants!

<sup>18</sup> Now they tremble, is it not the day of thy fall? Troubled have been the isles that [are] in the sea, at thine outgoing.

<sup>19</sup> For thus said the Lord Jehovah: In my making thee a city wasted, Like cities that have not been inhabited, In bringing up against thee the deep, Then covered thee have the great waters.

<sup>20</sup> And I have caused thee to go down, With those going down to the pit, Unto the people of old, And I have caused thee to dwell in the land, The lower parts — in wastes of old, With those going down to the pit, So that thou art not inhabited, And I have given beauty in the land of the living.

<sup>21</sup> Wastes I do make thee, and thou art not, And thou art sought, and art not found any more — to the age, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah!

27

<sup>2</sup> 'And thou, son of man, lift up concerning Tyre a lamentation, and thou hast said to Tyre:

<sup>3</sup> O dweller on the entrances of the sea, Merchant of the peoples unto many isles, Thus said the Lord Jehovah: O Tyre, thou — thou hast said: I [am] the perfection of beauty.

<sup>5</sup> Of firs of Senir they have built to thee all thy double-boarded ships, Of cedars of Lebanon they have taken to make a mast for thee,

<sup>9</sup> Elders of Gebal and its wise men have been in thee, Strengthening thy breach; All ships of the sea and their mariners, Have been in thee, to trade [with] thy merchandise.

<sup>10</sup> Persian and Lud and Phut Have been in thy forces — thy men of war. Shield and helmet they hung up in thee, They — they have given out thine honour.

<sup>11</sup> The sons of Arvad, and thy force, [Are] on thy walls round about, And short swordsmen in thy towers have been, Their shields they have hung up on thy walls round about, They — they have perfected thy beauty.

<sup>13</sup> Javan, Tubal, and Meshech — they [are] thy merchants, For persons of men, and vessels of brass, They have given out thy merchandise.

<sup>15</sup> Sons of Dedan [are] thy merchants, Many isles [are] the mart of thy hand, Horns of ivory and ebony they sent back thy reward.

<sup>16</sup> Aram [is] thy merchant, Because of the abundance of thy works, For emerald, purple, and embroidery, And fine linen, and coral, and agate, They have given out thy remnants.

<sup>17</sup> Judah and the land of Israel — they [are] thy merchants, For wheat of Minnith, and Pannag, And honey, and oil, and balm, They have given out thy merchandise.

<sup>26</sup> Into great waters have they brought thee, Those rowing thee, The east wind hath broken thee in the heart of the seas.

<sup>27</sup> Thy wealth and thy remnants, Thy merchandise, thy mariners, And thy pilots, strengtheners of thy breach, And the traders of thy merchandise, And all thy men of war, who [are] in thee, And in all thine assembly that [is] in thy midst, Fall into the heart of the seas in the day of thy fall,

<sup>29</sup> And come down from their ships have all handling an oar, Mariners, all the pilots of the sea, on the land they stand,

<sup>30</sup> And have sounded for thee with their voice, And cry bitterly, and cause dust to go up on their heads, In ashes they do roll themselves.

<sup>31</sup> And they have made for thee baldness, And they have girded on sackcloth, And they have wept for thee, In bitterness of soul – a bitter mourning.

<sup>34</sup> The time of [thy] being broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, Thy merchandise and all thy assembly in thy midst have fallen.

<sup>36</sup> Merchants among the peoples have shrieked for thee, Wastes thou hast been, and thou art not – to the age!

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, say to the leader of Tyre: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because thy heart hath been high, And thou dost say: A god I [am], The habitation of God I have inhabited, In the heart of the seas, And thou [art] man, and not God, And thou givest out thy heart as the heart of God,

<sup>5</sup> By the abundance of thy wisdom, Through thy merchandise, Thou hast multiplied thy wealth, And high is thy heart through thy wealth.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because of thy giving out thy heart as the heart of God, <sup>7</sup> Therefore, lo, I am bringing in against thee strangers, The terrible of the nations, And they have drawn out their swords Against the beauty of thy wisdom, And they have pierced thy brightness.

<sup>8</sup> To destruction they bring thee down, Thou diest by the deaths of the wounded, in the heart of the seas.

<sup>9</sup> Dost thou really say, 'I [am] God,' Before him who is slaying thee? And thou [art] man, and not God, In the hand of him who is piercing thee.

<sup>10</sup> The deaths of the uncircumcised thou diest, By the hand of strangers, for I have spoken, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.'

<sup>12</sup> 'Son of man, lift up a lamentation for the king of Tyre, And thou hast said to him: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Thou art sealing up a measurement, Full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.

<sup>13</sup> In Eden, the garden of God, thou hast been, Every precious stone thy covering, Ruby, topaz, and diamond, beryl, onyx, and jasper, Sapphire, emerald, and carbuncle, and gold, The workmanship of thy tabrets, and of thy pipes, In thee in the day of thy being produced, have been prepared.

<sup>14</sup> Thou [art] an anointed cherub who is covering, And I have set thee in the holy mount, God thou hast been, In the midst of stones of fire thou hast walked up and down.

<sup>16</sup> By the abundance of thy merchandise They have filled thy midst with violence, And thou dost sin, And I thrust thee from the mount of God, And I destroy thee, O covering cherub, From the midst of the stones of fire.

<sup>17</sup> High hath been thy heart, because of thy beauty, Thou hast corrupted thy wisdom because of thy brightness, On the earth I have cast thee, Before kings I have set thee, to look on thee,

<sup>18</sup> From the abundance of thy iniquity, By the perversity of thy traffic, Thou hast polluted thy sanctuaries, And I bring forth fire from thy midst, It hath devoured thee, And I make thee become ashes on the earth, Before the eyes of all beholding thee.

<sup>19</sup> All knowing thee among the peoples Have been astonished at thee, Wastes thou hast been, and thou art not – to the age.'

<sup>22</sup> and thou hast said: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I [am] against thee, O Zidon, And I have been honoured in thy midst, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah, In My doing in her judgments, And I have been sanctified in her.

<sup>23</sup> And I have sent into her pestilence, And blood into her out-places, The wounded hath been judged in her midst, By the sword upon her round about, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>24</sup> And there is no more to the house of Israel A pricking brier, and paining thorn, Of all round about them – despising them, And they have known that I [am] the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>25</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: In My gathering the house of Israel, Out of the peoples among whom they were scattered, I have been sanctified in them, Before the eyes of the nations, And they have dwelt on their ground, That I gave to My servant, to Jacob, <sup>26</sup> And they have dwelt on it confidently, And builded houses, and planted vineyards, And dwelt confidently – in My doing judgments, On all those despising them round about, And they have known that I, Jehovah, [am] their God!

29

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy concerning him, and concerning Egypt – all of it.

<sup>3</sup> Speak, and thou hast said: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I [am] against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt! The great dragon that is crouching in the midst of his floods, Who hath said, My flood [is] my own, And I — I have made it [for] myself.

<sup>4</sup> And I have put hooks in thy jaws, And I have caused the fish of thy floods to cleave to thy scales, And I have caused thee to come up from the midst of thy floods, And every fish of thy floods to thy scales doth cleave.

<sup>6</sup> And known have all inhabitants of Egypt That I [am] Jehovah, Because of their being a staff of reed to the house of Israel.

<sup>8</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am bringing in against thee a sword, And have cut off from thee man and beast.

<sup>9</sup> And the land of Egypt hath been for a desolation and a waste, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah. Because he said: The flood [is] mine, and I made [it].

<sup>10</sup> Therefore, lo, I [am] against thee, and against thy floods, And have given the land of Egypt for wastes, A waste, a desolation, from Migdol to Syene, And unto the border of Cush.

<sup>11</sup> Not pass over into it doth a foot of man, Yea, the foot of beast doth not pass into it, Nor is it inhabited forty years.

<sup>12</sup> And I have made the land of Egypt a desolation, In the midst of desolate lands, And its cities, in the midst of waste cities, Are a desolation forty years, And I have scattered the Egyptians among nations, And I have dispersed them through lands.

<sup>13</sup> But thus said the Lord Jehovah: At the end of forty years I gather the Egyptians Out of the peoples whither they have been scattered, <sup>14</sup> And I have turned back [to] the captivity of Egypt, And I have brought them back [To] the land of Pathros, to the land of their birth, And they have been there a low kingdom.

<sup>15</sup> Of the kingdoms it is lowest, And it lifteth not up itself any more above the nations, And I have made them few, So as not to rule among nations.

<sup>16</sup> And it is no more to the house of Israel for a confidence, Bringing iniquity to remembrance, By their turning after them, And they have known that I [am] the Lord Jehovah.'

<sup>17</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the twenty and seventh year, in the first [month], in the first of the month, hath a word of Jehovah been unto me, saying:

<sup>18</sup> 'Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, Hath caused his force to serve a great service against Tyre, Every head [is] bald — every shoulder peeled, And reward he had none, nor his force, out of Tyre, For the service that he served against it.

<sup>19</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah, Lo, I am giving to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon the land of Egypt, And he hath taken away its store, And hath taken its spoil, and taken its prey, And it hath been a reward to his force.

<sup>20</sup> His wage for which he laboured I have given to him, The land of Egypt — in that they wrought for Me, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>21</sup> In that day I cause to shoot up a horn to the house of Israel, And to thee I give an opening of the mouth in their midst, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah!'

30

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, prophesy, and thou hast said: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Howl ye, ha! for the day!

<sup>4</sup> And come in hath a sword to Egypt, And there hath been great pain in Cush, In the falling of the wounded in Egypt, And they have taken its store, And broken down have been its foundations.

<sup>5</sup> Cush, and Phut, and Lud, and all the mixture, and Chub, And the sons of the land of the covenant with them by sword do fall, <sup>6</sup> Thus said Jehovah: And — fallen have supporters of Egypt, And come down hath the arrogance of her strength, From Migdol to Syene, by sword they fall in her, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>7</sup> And they have been desolated in the midst of desolate lands, And its cities are in the midst of wasted cities.

<sup>8</sup> And they have known that I [am] Jehovah, In My giving fire against Egypt, And broken have been all her helpers.

<sup>9</sup> In that day go forth do messengers from before Me in ships, To trouble confident Cush, And there hath been great pain among them, As the day of Egypt, for lo, it hath come.

<sup>10</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: I have caused the multitude of Egypt to cease, By the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, <sup>11</sup> He and his people with him — the terrible of nations, Are brought in to destroy the land, And they have drawn their swords against Egypt, And have filled the land [with] the wounded.

<sup>12</sup> And I have made floods a dry place, And I have sold the land into the hand of evil doers, And I have made desolate the land, And its fulness, by the hand of strangers, I, Jehovah, have spoken.

<sup>13</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: And — I have destroyed idols, And caused vain things to cease from Noph, And a prince of the land of Egypt there is no more, And I give fear in the land of Egypt.

<sup>14</sup> And I have made Pathros desolate, And I have given fire against Zoan, And I have done judgments in No,

<sup>15</sup> And I have poured out My fury on Sin, the stronghold of Egypt, And I have cut off the multitude of No.

<sup>19</sup> And I have done judgments in Egypt, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah.'

<sup>20</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the eleventh year, in the first [month], in the seventh of the month, hath a word of Jehovah been unto me, saying: 'Son of man,

<sup>21</sup> The arm of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, I have broken, And lo, it hath not been bound up to give healing, To put a bandage to bind it, To strengthen it — to lay hold on the sword.

<sup>22</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I [am] against Pharaoh, king of Egypt, And I have broken his arms, The strong one and the broken one, And have caused the sword to fall out of his hand,

<sup>24</sup> And strengthened the arms of the king of Babylon, And I have given My sword into his hand, And I have broken the arms of Pharaoh, And he hath groaned the groans of a pierced one — before him.

<sup>25</sup> And I have strengthened the arms of the king of Babylon, And the arms of Pharaoh do fall down, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah, In My giving My sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, And he hath stretched it out toward the land of Egypt.

<sup>26</sup> And I have scattered the Egyptians among nations, And I have spread them through lands, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah!"

31

<sup>1</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the eleventh year, in the third [month], in the first of the month, hath a word of Jehovah been unto me, saying:

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, say unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and unto his multitude: To whom hast thou been like in thy greatness?

<sup>3</sup> Lo, Asshur, a cedar in Lebanon, Fair in branch, and shading bough, and high in stature, And between thickets hath its foliage been.

<sup>8</sup> Cedars have not hid him in the garden of God, Firs have not been like unto his boughs, And chesnut-trees have not been as his branches, No tree in the garden of God hath been like unto him in his beauty, <sup>9</sup> Fair I have made him in the multitude of his thin shoots, And envy him do all trees of Eden that [are] in the garden of God.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because that thou hast been high in stature, And he yieldeth his foliage between thickets, And high is his heart in his haughtiness, <sup>11</sup> I give him into the hand of a god of nations, He dealeth sorely with him, In his wickedness I have cast him out.

<sup>12</sup> And cut him off do strangers, The terrible of nations, and they leave him, On the mountains and in all valleys have his thin shoots fallen, And broken are his boughs at all streams of the land, And go down from his shade do all peoples of the land, and they leave him.

<sup>13</sup> On his ruin dwell do all fowls of the heavens, And on his boughs have been all the beasts of the field,

<sup>14</sup> In order that none of the trees of the waters May become haughty because of their stature, Nor give their foliage between thickets, Nor any drinking waters stand up unto them in their haughtiness, For all of them are given up to death, Unto the earth — the lower part, In the midst of the sons of men, Unto those going down to the pit.

<sup>15</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: In the day of his going down to sheol I have caused mourning, I have covered for him the deep, and diminish its flowings, And restrained are many waters, And I make Lebanon black for him, And all trees of the field have been covered for him.

<sup>16</sup> From the sound of his fall I have caused nations to shake, In My causing him to go down to sheol, With those going down to the pit, And comforted in the earth — the lower part, are all trees of Eden, The choice and the good of Lebanon, All drinking waters.

<sup>17</sup> Also they with him have gone down to sheol, Unto the pierced of the sword, And — his arm — they dwelt in his shade in the midst of nations.

<sup>18</sup> Unto whom hast thou been thus like, In honour and in greatness among the trees of Eden, And thou hast been brought down with the trees of Eden, Unto the earth — the lower part, In the midst of the uncircumcised thou liest, With the pierced of the sword? It [is] Pharaoh, and all his multitude, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah!"

32

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, lift up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and thou hast said unto him: A young lion of nations thou hast been like, And thou [art] as a dragon in the seas, And thou comest forth with thy flowings, And dost trouble the waters with thy feet, And thou dost foul their flowings.

<sup>3</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: And — I have spread out for thee My net, With an assembly of many peoples, And they have brought thee up in My net.

<sup>8</sup> All luminaries of light in the heavens, I make black over thee, And I have given darkness over thy land, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, <sup>9</sup> And I have vexed the heart of many peoples, In My bringing in thy destruction among nations, Unto lands that thou hast not known.

<sup>11</sup> For thus said the Lord Jehovah: A sword of the king of Babylon entereth thee,

<sup>13</sup> And I have destroyed all her beasts, From beside many waters, And trouble them not doth a foot of man any more, Yea, the hoofs of beasts trouble them not.

<sup>14</sup> Then do I cause their waters to sink, And their rivers as oil I cause to go, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>15</sup> In My making the land of Egypt a desolation, And desolated hath been the land of its fulness, In My smiting all the inhabitants in it, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>17</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth of the month, hath a word of Jehovah been unto me, saying,

<sup>18</sup> 'Son of man, Wail for the multitude of Egypt, And cause it to go down, It — and the daughters of honourable nations, Unto the earth — the lower parts, With those going down to the pit.

<sup>20</sup> In the midst of the pierced of the sword they fall, [To] the sword she hath been given, They drew her out, and all her multitude.

<sup>24</sup> There [is] Elam, and all her multitude, Round about [is] her grave, All of them wounded, who are falling by sword, Who have gone down uncircumcised unto the earth — the lower parts, Because they gave their terror in the land of the living, And they bear their shame with those going down to the pit.

<sup>28</sup> And thou, in the midst of the uncircumcised art broken, And dost lie with the pierced of the sword.

<sup>29</sup> There [is] Edom, her kings, and all her princes, Who have been given up in their might, With the pierced of the sword, They with the uncircumcised do lie, And with those going down to the pit.

<sup>30</sup> There [are] princes of the north, All of them, and every Zidonian, Who have gone down with the pierced in their terror, Of their might they are ashamed, And they lie uncircumcised with the pierced of the sword, And they bear their shame with those going down to the pit.

<sup>31</sup> Then doth Pharaoh see, And he hath been comforted for all his multitude, The pierced of the sword — Pharaoh and all his force, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>32</sup> For I have given his terror in the land of the living, And he hath been laid down in the midst of the uncircumcised, With the pierced of the sword — Pharaoh, and all his multitude, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah!

33

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, speak unto the sons of thy people, and thou hast said unto them: A land — when I bring in against it a sword, And the people of the land have taken one man out of their borders, And made him to them for a watchman.

<sup>3</sup> And he hath seen the sword coming against the land, And hath blown with a trumpet, and hath warned the people,

<sup>5</sup> The voice of the trumpet he heard, And he hath not taken warning, his blood is on him, And he who took warning his soul hath delivered.

<sup>6</sup> And the watchman, when he seeth the sword coming in, And he hath not blown with a trumpet, And the people hath not been warned, And come in doth a sword, And taketh away of them — a soul, He in his iniquity is taken away, And his blood from the hand of the watchman I require.

<sup>7</sup> And thou, son of man, A watchman I gave thee to the house of Israel, And thou hast heard from My mouth a word, And thou hast warned them from Me.

<sup>8</sup> In My saying to the wicked, O wicked one — thou dost surely die, And thou hast not spoken to warn the wicked from his way, He — the wicked — in his iniquity doth die, And his blood from thy hand I require.

<sup>9</sup> And thou, when thou hast warned the wicked of his way, to turn back from it, And he hath not turned back from his way, He in his iniquity doth die, And thou thy soul hast delivered.

<sup>10</sup> And thou, son of man, say unto the house of Israel: Rightly ye have spoken, saying: Surely our transgressions and our sins [are] on us, And in them we are wasting away, How, then, do we live?

<sup>11</sup> Say unto them, I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, I delight not in the death of the wicked, But — in the turning of the wicked from his way, And he hath lived, Turn back, turn back, from your evil ways, Yea, why do ye die, O house of Israel?

<sup>12</sup> And thou, son of man, say unto the sons of thy people: The righteousness of the righteous doth not deliver him in the day of his transgression, And the wickedness of the wicked, He doth not stumble for it in the day of his turning from his wickedness, And the righteous is not able to live in it in the day of his sinning.

<sup>13</sup> In My saying of the righteous: He surely liveth, And — he hath trusted on his righteousness, And he hath done perversity, All his righteous acts are not remembered, And for his perversity that he hath done, For it he doth die.

<sup>14</sup> And in My saying to the wicked: Thou surely diest, And — he hath turned back from his sin, And hath done judgment and righteousness,

<sup>15</sup> (The pledge the wicked restoreth, plunder he repayeth,) In the statutes of life he hath walked, So as not to do perversity, He surely liveth — he doth not die.

<sup>16</sup> None of his sin that he hath sinned is remembered to him, Judgment and righteousness he hath done, He doth surely live.

<sup>17</sup> And the sons of thy people have said: The way of the Lord is not pondered, As to them — their way is not pondered.

<sup>18</sup> In the turning back of the righteous from his righteousness, And he hath done perversity — he dieth for it.

<sup>19</sup> And in the turning back of the wicked from his wickedness, And he hath done judgment and righteousness, by them he liveth.

<sup>20</sup> And ye have said: The way of the Lord is not pondered, Each according to his ways do I judge you, O house of Israel.'

<sup>21</sup> And it cometh to pass, in the twelfth year — in the tenth [month], in the fifth of the month — of our removal, come in unto me doth one who is escaped from Jerusalem, saying, 'The city hath been smitten.'

<sup>22</sup> And the hand of Jehovah hath been unto me in the evening, before the coming in of the escaped one, and He openeth my mouth till the coming in unto me in the morning, and opened is my mouth, and I have not been silent again.

<sup>23</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,

<sup>24</sup> 'Son of man, the inhabitants of these wastes on the ground of Israel are speaking, saying: Alone hath been Abraham — and he possesseth the land, and we [are] many — to us hath the land been given for a possession.

<sup>25</sup> Therefore say unto them: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: With the blood ye do eat, And your eyes ye lift up unto your idols, And blood ye shed, and the land ye inherit!

<sup>26</sup> Ye have stood on your sword, Ye have done abomination, Each the wife of his neighbour ye have defiled, And the land ye possess!

<sup>27</sup> Thus dost thou say unto them: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: I live — do not they who [are] in the wastes by the sword fall? And they who [are] on the face of the field, To the beast I have given for food, And they who are in strongholds and in caves by pestilence die.

<sup>28</sup> And I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment, And ceased hath the excellency of its strength, And desolated have been mountains of Israel, Without any one passing through.

<sup>29</sup> And they have known that I [am] Jehovah, In My making the land a desolation and an astonishment, For all their abominations that they have done.

<sup>30</sup> And thou, son of man, the sons of thy people who are speaking about thee, By the walls, and in openings of the houses, Have spoken one with another, each with his brother, Saying: Come in, I pray you, And hear what [is] the word that cometh out from Jehovah.

<sup>31</sup> And they come in unto thee as the coming in of a people, And they sit before thee — My people, And have heard thy words, and they do them not, For doting loves with their mouth they are making, After their dishonest gain their heart is going.

<sup>32</sup> And lo, thou [art] to them as a singer of doting loves, A pleasant voice, and playing well on an instrument, And they have heard thy words, and they are not doing them.

<sup>33</sup> And in its coming in — lo, it hath come, And they have known that a prophet hath been in their midst!

34

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, prophesy concerning shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and thou hast said unto them: To the shepherds, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Woe [to] the shepherds of Israel, Who have been feeding themselves! The flock do not the shepherds feed?

<sup>4</sup> The weak ye have not strengthened, And the sick one ye have not healed, And the broken ye have not bound up, And the driven away have not brought back, And the lost ye have not sought, And with might ye have ruled them and with rigour.

<sup>5</sup> And they are scattered from want of a shepherd, And are for food to every beast of the field, Yea, they are scattered.

<sup>6</sup> Go astray do My flock on all the mountains, And on every high hill, And on all the face of the land have My flock been scattered, And there is none inquiring, and none seeking.

<sup>8</sup> I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, If not, because of My flock being for a prey, Yea, My flock is for food to every beast of the field, Because there is no shepherd, And My shepherds have not sought My flock, And the shepherds do feed themselves, And My flock they have not fed.

<sup>10</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I [am] against the shepherds, And have required My flock from their hand, And caused them to cease from feeding the flock, And no more do the shepherds feed themselves, And I have delivered My flock from their mouth, And they are not to them for food.

<sup>11</sup> For thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I — even I, have required My flock, And I have sought it out.

<sup>12</sup> As a shepherd's searching of his drove, In the day of his being in the midst of his scattered flock, so I do seek My flock, And have delivered them out of all places, Whither they have been scattered, In a day of cloud and thick darkness.

<sup>13</sup> And brought them out from the peoples, And have gathered them from the lands, And brought them unto their own ground, And have fed them on mountains of Israel, By streams, and by all dwellings of the land.

<sup>15</sup> I feed My flock, and cause them to lie down, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>16</sup> The lost I seek, and the driven away bring back, And the broken I bind up, and the sick I strengthen, And the fat and the strong I destroy, I feed it with judgment.

<sup>17</sup> And you, My flock, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am judging between sheep and sheep, Between rams and he-goats.

<sup>19</sup> And My flock the trodden thing of your feet consumeth, And the trampled thing of your feet drinketh?

<sup>20</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah to them: Lo, I — even I, have judged between fat sheep and lean sheep.

<sup>21</sup> Because with side and with shoulder ye thrust away, And with your horns push all the diseased, Till ye have scattered them to the out-place, <sup>22</sup> And I have given safety to My flock, And they are not any more for prey, And I have judged between sheep and sheep.

<sup>23</sup> And have raised up over them one shepherd, And he hath fed them — my servant David, He doth feed them, and he is their shepherd, <sup>24</sup> And I, Jehovah, I am their God, And My servant David prince in their midst, I, Jehovah, have spoken.

<sup>25</sup> And I have made for them a covenant of peace, And caused evil beasts to cease out of the land, And they have dwelt in a wilderness confidently, And they have slept in forests.

<sup>26</sup> And I have given them, and the suburbs of my hill, a blessing, And caused the shower to come down in its season, Showers of blessing they are.

<sup>27</sup> And given hath the tree of the field its fruit, And the land doth give her increase, And they have been on their land confident, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah, In My breaking the bands of their yoke, And I have delivered them from the hand of those laying service on them.

<sup>28</sup> And they are no more a prey to nations, And the beast of the earth devoureth them not, And they have dwelt confidently, And there is none troubling.

<sup>29</sup> And I have raised for them a plant for renown, And they are no more consumed by hunger in the land, And they bear no more the shame of the nations.

<sup>30</sup> And they have known that I, Jehovah, their God, [am] with them, And they — the house of Israel — My people, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>31</sup> And ye, My flock, the flock of My pasture, Men ye [are] — I [am] your God, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah!"

35

<sup>3</sup> and thou hast said to it: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I [am] against thee, O mount Seir, And have stretched out My hand against thee, And made thee a desolation and an astonishment.

<sup>4</sup> Thy cities a waste I make, and thou art a desolation, And thou hast known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore, I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, Surely for blood I do appoint thee, And blood doth pursue thee, If blood thou hast not hated, Blood also doth pursue thee.

<sup>7</sup> And I have given mount Seir for a desolation and an astonishment, And have cut off from it him who is passing over and him who is returning,

<sup>8</sup> And filled his mountains with his wounded, Thy hills, and thy valleys, and all thy streams, The pierced of the sword fall into them.

<sup>9</sup> Desolations age-during I make thee, And thy cities do not return, And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>10</sup> Because of thy saying: The two nations and the two lands are mine, and we have possessed it, And Jehovah hath been there;

<sup>11</sup> Therefore, I live — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, And I have done according to thine anger, And according to thine envy, With which thou hast wrought, Because of thy hatred against them, And I have been known among them when I judge thee.

<sup>12</sup> And thou hast known that I — Jehovah, I have heard all thy despisings that thou hast spoken Against mountains of Israel, saying: A desolation, to us they were given for food.

<sup>13</sup> And ye magnify yourselves against Me with your mouth, And have made abundant against Me your words, I — I have heard.

<sup>14</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: According to the rejoicing of the whole land, A desolation I make of thee.

<sup>15</sup> According to thy joy at the inheritance of the house of Israel because of desolation, So I do to thee — a desolation thou art, O mount Seir, and all Edom — all of it, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah!

36

<sup>1</sup> And thou, son of man, prophesy unto mountains of Israel, and thou hast said, O mountains of Israel, hear a word of Jehovah.

<sup>2</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because the enemy said against you, Aha, and the high places of old for a possession have been to us,

<sup>3</sup> therefore, prophesy, and thou hast said: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Because, even because, of desolating, And of swallowing you up from round about, For your being a possession to the remnant of the nations, And ye are taken up on the tip of the tongue, And [are] an evil report of the people.

<sup>4</sup> Therefore, O mountains of Israel, Hear a word of the Lord Jehovah: Thus said the Lord Jehovah, to mountains, and to hills, To streams, and to valleys, And to wastes that [are] desolate, And to cities that are forsaken, That have been for a prey, And for a scorn, to the remnant of the nations who [are] round about.

<sup>5</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Have I not, in the fire of My jealousy, Spoken against the remnant of the nations, And against Edom — all of it, Who gave My land to themselves for a possession, With the joy of the whole heart — with despite of soul, For the sake of casting it out for a prey?

<sup>6</sup> Therefore, prophesy concerning the ground of Israel, And thou hast said to mountains, and to hills, To streams, and to valleys, Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I, in My jealousy, and in My fury, I have spoken, Because the shame of nations ye have borne.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: I — I have lifted up My hand, Do not — the nations who [are] with you from round about — they their own shame bear?

<sup>8</sup> And ye, O mountains of Israel, Your branch ye give out, and your fruits ye bear for My people Israel, For they have drawn near to come.

<sup>9</sup> For, lo, I [am] for you, and have turned to you, And ye have been tilled and sown.

<sup>10</sup> And I have multiplied on you men, All the house of Israel — all of it, And the cities have been inhabited, And the wastes are built.

<sup>11</sup> And I have multiplied on you man and beast, And they have multiplied and been fruitful, And I have caused you to dwell according to your former states, And I have done better than at your beginnings, And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> And I have caused man to walk over you, — My people Israel, And they possess thee, and thou hast been to them for an inheritance, And thou dost add no more to bereave them.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, man thou devourest no more, And thy nations thou causest not to stumble any more, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>15</sup> And I proclaim not unto thee any more the shame of the nations, And the reproach of peoples thou bearest no more, And thy nations stumble not any more, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.'

<sup>16</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,

<sup>17</sup> 'Son of man, The house of Israel are dwelling on their land, And they defile it by their way and by their doings, As the uncleanness of a separated one hath their way been before Me.

<sup>18</sup> And I do pour out My fury upon them For the blood that they shed on the land, And with their idols they have defiled it.

<sup>19</sup> And I scatter them among nations, And they are spread through lands, According to their way, and according to their doings, I have judged them.

<sup>20</sup> And one goeth in unto the nations whither they have gone, And they pollute My holy name by saying to them, The people of Jehovah [are] these, And from His land they have gone forth.

<sup>21</sup> And I have pity on My holy name, That the house of Israel have polluted among nations whither they have gone in.

<sup>22</sup> Therefore, say to the house of Israel, Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Not for your sake am I working, O house of Israel, But — for My holy name, That ye have polluted among nations whither ye have gone in.

<sup>23</sup> And I have sanctified My great name, That is profaned among nations, That ye have polluted in your midst, And known have the nations that I [am] Jehovah, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, In My being sanctified in you before your eyes.

<sup>24</sup> And I have taken you out of the nations, And have gathered you out of all the lands, And I have brought you in unto your land, <sup>25</sup> And I have sprinkled over you clean water, And ye have been clean; From all your uncleannesses, and from all your idols, I do cleanse you.

<sup>26</sup> And I have given to you a new heart, And a new spirit I give in your midst, And I have turned aside the heart of stone out of your flesh, And I have given to you a heart of flesh.

<sup>27</sup> And My Spirit I give in your midst, And I have done this, so that in My statutes ye walk, And My judgments ye keep, and have done them.

<sup>28</sup> And ye have dwelt in the land that I have given to your fathers, And ye have been to Me for a people, And I — I am to you for God.

<sup>29</sup> And I have saved you from all your uncleannesses, And I have called unto the corn, and multiplied it, And I have put no famine upon you.

<sup>30</sup> And I have multiplied the fruit of the tree, And the increase of the field, So that ye receive not any more a reproach of famine among nations.

<sup>31</sup> And ye have remembered your ways that [are] evil, And your doings that [are] not good, And have been loathsome in your own faces, For your iniquities, and for your abominations.

<sup>32</sup> Not for your sake am I working, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, Be it known to you, Be ashamed and confounded, because of your ways, O house of Israel.

<sup>33</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: In the day of My cleansing you from all your iniquities, I have caused the cities to be inhabited, And the wastes have been built,

<sup>34</sup> And the desolate land is tilled, Instead of which it was a desolation before the eyes of every passer by,

<sup>35</sup> And they have said: This land, that was desolated, Hath been as the garden of Eden, And the cities — the wasted, And the desolated, and the broken down, Fenced places have remained.

<sup>36</sup> And known have the nations who are left round about you, That I Jehovah have built the thrown down, I have planted the desolated: I Jehovah have spoken, and I have done [it].

<sup>37</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Yet this I am required, By the house of Israel to do to them, I multiply them as a flock of men, <sup>38</sup> As a flock of holy ones, as a flock of Jerusalem, In her appointed seasons, So are the waste cities full of flocks of men, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah!

37

<sup>1</sup> There hath been upon me a hand of Jehovah, and He taketh me forth in the Spirit of Jehovah, and doth place me in the midst of the valley, and it is full of bones,

<sup>2</sup> and He causeth me to pass over by them, all round about, and lo, very many [are] on the face of the valley, and lo, very dry.

<sup>4</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Prophecy concerning these bones, and thou hast said unto them: O dry bones, hear a word of Jehovah:

<sup>5</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah to these bones: Lo, I am bringing into you a spirit, and ye have lived,

<sup>6</sup> and I have given on you sinews, and cause flesh to come up upon you, and covered you over with skin, and given in you a spirit, and ye have lived, and ye have known that I [am] Jehovah.'

<sup>7</sup> And I have prophesied as I have been commanded, and there is a noise, as I am prophesying, and lo, a rushing, and draw near do the bones, bone unto its bone.

<sup>8</sup> And I beheld, and lo, on them [are] sinews, and flesh hath come up, and cover them doth skin over above — and spirit there is none in them.

<sup>9</sup> And He saith unto me: 'Prophecy unto the Spirit, prophecy, son of man, and thou hast said unto the Spirit: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: From the four winds come in, O Spirit, and breathe on these slain, and they do live.'

<sup>10</sup> And I have prophesied as He commanded me, and the Spirit cometh into them, and they live, and stand on their feet — a very very great force.

<sup>11</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel; lo, they are saying: Dried up have our bones, And perished hath our hope, We have been cut off by ourselves.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, prophecy, and thou hast said unto them, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am opening your graves, And have brought you up out of your graves, O My people, And brought you in unto the land of Israel.

<sup>13</sup> And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah, In My opening your graves, And in My bringing you up out of your graves, O My people.

<sup>14</sup> And I have given My Spirit in you, and ye have lived, And I have caused you to rest on your land, And ye have known that I Jehovah, I have spoken, and I have done [it], An affirmation of Jehovah.'

<sup>15</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,

<sup>16</sup> 'And thou, son of man, take to thee one stick, and write on it, For Judah, and for the sons of Israel, his companions; and take another stick, and write on it, For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and all the house of Israel, his companions, <sup>17</sup> and bring them near one unto another, to thee, for one stick, and they have become one in thy hand.

<sup>18</sup> 'And when sons of thy people speak unto thee, saying, Dost thou not declare to us what these [are] to thee?

<sup>19</sup> Speak unto them, Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am taking the stick of Joseph, that [is] in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his companions, and have given them unto him, with the stick of Judah, and have made them become one stick, and they have been one in My hand.

<sup>20</sup> And the sticks on which thou writest have been in thy hand before thine eyes, <sup>21</sup> and speak thou unto them: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I am taking the sons of Israel, From among the nations whither they have gone, And have gathered them from round about, And I have brought them in unto their land.

<sup>22</sup> And I have made them become one nation in the land, on mountains of Israel, And one king is to them all for king, And they are no more as two nations, Nor are they divided any more into two kingdoms again.

<sup>23</sup> Nor are they defiled any more with their idols, And with their abominations, And with any of their transgressions, And I have saved them out of all their dwellings, In which they have sinned, And I have cleansed them, And they have been to Me for a people, And I — I am to them for God.

<sup>24</sup> And My servant David [is] king over them, And one shepherd have they all, And in My judgments they go, And My statutes they keep, and have done them.

<sup>25</sup> And they have dwelt on the land that I gave to My servant, to Jacob, In which your fathers have dwelt, And they have dwelt on it, they and their sons, And their son's sons — unto the age, And David My servant [is] their prince — to the age.

<sup>26</sup> And I have made to them a covenant of peace, A covenant age-during it is with them, And I have placed them, and multiplied them, And placed My sanctuary in their midst — to the age.

<sup>27</sup> And My tabernacle hath been over them, And I have been to them for God, And they have been to Me for a people.

<sup>28</sup> And known have the nations that I Jehovah am sanctifying Israel, In My sanctuary being in their midst — to the age!'

38

<sup>2</sup> 'Son of man, set thy face unto Gog, of the land of Magog, prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal, and prophesy concerning him,

<sup>3</sup> and thou hast said: Thus saith the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I [am] against thee, O Gog, Prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal, <sup>4</sup> And I have turned thee back, And I have put hooks in thy jaws, And have brought thee out, and all thy force, Horses and horsemen, Clothed in perfection all of them, A numerous assembly, [with] buckler and shield, Handling swords — all of them.

<sup>7</sup> Be prepared, yea, prepare for thee, Thou and all thine assemblies who are assembled unto thee, And thou hast been to them for a guard.

<sup>8</sup> After many days thou art appointed, In the latter end of the years thou comest in unto a land brought back from sword, [A people] gathered out of many peoples, Upon mountains of Israel, That have been for a perpetual waste, And it from the peoples hath been brought out, And dwelt safely have all of them.

<sup>9</sup> And thou hast gone up — as wasting thou comest in, As a cloud to cover the land art thou, Thou and all thy bands, and many peoples with thee.

<sup>10</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: And it hath come to pass in that day, Come up do things on thy heart, And thou hast thought an evil thought,

<sup>11</sup> And thou hast said: I go up against a land of unwallled villages, I go in to those at rest, dwelling confidently, All of them are dwelling without walls, And bar and doors they have not.

<sup>12</sup> To take a spoil, and to take a prey, To turn back thy hand on inhabited wastes, And on a people gathered out of nations, Making cattle and substance, Dwelling on a high part of the land.

<sup>13</sup> Sheba, and Dedan, and merchants of Tarshish, And all its young lions say to thee: To take a spoil art thou come in? To take a prey assembled thine assembly? To bear away silver and gold? To take away cattle and substance? To take a great spoil?

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, prophesy, son of man, and thou hast said to Gog: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: In that day, in the dwelling of My people Israel safely, Dost thou not know?

<sup>15</sup> And thou hast come in out of thy place, From the sides of the north, Thou and many peoples with thee, Riding on horses — all of them, A great assembly, and a numerous force.

<sup>16</sup> And thou hast come up against My people Israel, As a cloud to cover the land, In the latter end of the days it is, And I have brought thee in against My land, In order that the nations may know Me, In My being sanctified in thee before their eyes, O Gog.

<sup>17</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Art thou he of whom I spake in former days, By the hand of My servants, prophets of Israel, Who are prophesying in those days — years, To bring thee in against them?

<sup>18</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, In the day of the coming in of Gog against the land of Israel, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, Come up doth My fury in My face, <sup>19</sup> And in My zeal, in the fire of My wrath, I have spoken: Is there not in that day a great rushing on the land of Israel?

<sup>20</sup> And rushed from My presence have fishes of the sea, And the fowl of the heavens, And the beast of the field, And every creeping thing that is creeping on the ground, And all men who [are] on the face of the ground, And thrown down have been the mountains, And fallen have the ascents, And every wall to the earth falleth.

<sup>22</sup> And I have been judged with him, With pestilence and with blood, And an overflowing rain and hailstones, Fire and brimstone I rain on him, and on his bands, And on many peoples who [are] with him.

<sup>23</sup> And I have magnified Myself, and sanctified Myself, And I have been known before the eyes of many nations, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah!

39

<sup>1</sup> And thou, son of man, prophesy concerning Gog, and thou hast said: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Lo, I [am] against thee, O Gog, Prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal,

<sup>2</sup> And have turned thee back, and enticed thee, And caused thee to come up from the sides of the north, And brought thee in against mountains of Israel,

<sup>6</sup> And I have sent a fire against Magog, And against the confident inhabitants of the isles, And they have known that I [am] Jehovah.

<sup>7</sup> And My holy name I make known in the midst of My people Israel, And I pollute not My holy name any more, And known have the nations that I, Jehovah, the Holy One, [am] in Israel.

<sup>8</sup> Lo, it hath come, and it hath been done, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, It [is] the day of which I spake.

<sup>9</sup> And gone out have the inhabitants of cities of Israel, And they have burned and kindled [a fire], With armour, and shield, and buckler, With bow, and with arrows, And with hand-staves, and with javelins, And they have caused a fire to burn with them seven years,

<sup>10</sup> And they do not take wood out of the field, Nor do they hew out of the forests, For with armour they cause the fire to burn, And they have spoiled their spoilers, And they have plundered their plunderers, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>11</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, I give to Gog a place there — a grave in Israel, the valley of those passing by, east of the sea, and it is stopping those passing by, and they have buried there Gog, and all his multitude, and have cried, O valley of the multitude of Gog!

<sup>12</sup> And the house of Israel have buried them — in order to cleanse the land — seven months.

<sup>13</sup> Yea, all the people of the land have buried them, and it hath been to them for a name — the day of My being honoured — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>15</sup> And those passing by have passed through the land, and seen a bone of man, and one hath constructed near it a sign till those burying have buried it in the valley of the multitude of Gog.

<sup>16</sup> And also the name of the city [is] The multitude; and they have cleansed the land.

<sup>17</sup> And thou, son of man, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Say to the bird — every wing, and to every beast of the field: Be assembled and come in, Be gathered from round about, For My sacrifice that I am sacrificing for you, A great sacrifice on mountains of Israel, And ye have eaten flesh, and drunk blood.

<sup>19</sup> And ye have eaten fat to satiety, And ye have drunk blood — to drunkenness, Of My sacrifice that I sacrificed for you.

<sup>20</sup> And ye have been satisfied at My table with horse and rider, Mighty man, and every man of war, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>21</sup> And I have given My honour among nations, And seen have all the nations My Judgment that I have done, And My hand that I have laid on them.

<sup>22</sup> And known have the house of Israel that I [am] Jehovah their God, From that day and henceforth.

<sup>23</sup> And known have the nations that for their iniquity, Removed have the house of Israel, Because they have trespassed against Me, And I do hide My face from them, And give them into the hand of their adversaries, And they fall by sword — all of them.

<sup>24</sup> According to their uncleanness, And according to their transgressions, I have done with them, And I do hide My face from them.

<sup>25</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: Now do I bring back the captivity of Jacob, And I have pitied all the house of Israel, And have been zealous for My holy name.

<sup>26</sup> And they have forgotten their shame, And all their trespass that they trespassed against Me, In their dwelling on their land confidently and none troubling.

<sup>27</sup> In My bringing them back from the peoples, I have assembled them from the lands of their enemies, And I have been sanctified in them before the eyes of the many nations,

<sup>28</sup> And they have known that I [am] Jehovah their God, In My removing them unto the nations, And I have gathered them unto their land, And I leave none of them any more there.

<sup>29</sup> And I hide not any more My face from them, In that I have poured out My spirit on the house of Israel, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah!

40

<sup>1</sup> In the twenty and fifth year of our removal, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in this self-same day hath a hand of Jehovah been upon me, and He bringeth me in thither;

<sup>2</sup> in visions of God He hath brought me in unto the land of Israel, and causeth me to rest on a very high mountain, and upon it [is] as the frame of a city on the south.

<sup>3</sup> And He bringeth me in thither, and lo, a man, his appearance as the appearance of brass, and a thread of flax in his hand, and a measuring-reed, and he is standing at the gate,

<sup>4</sup> and the man speaketh unto me: 'Son of man, see with thine eyes, And with thine ears hear, And set thy heart to all that I am shewing thee, For, in order to shew [it] thee, Thou hast been brought in hither, Declare all that thou art seeing to the house of Israel.'

<sup>5</sup> And lo, a wall on the outside of the house all round about, and in the hand of the man a measuring-reed, six cubits by a cubit and a handbreadth, and he measureth the breadth of the building one reed, and the height one reed.

<sup>6</sup> And he cometh in unto the gate whose front [is] eastward, and he goeth up by its steps, and he measureth the threshold of the gate one reed broad, even the one threshold one reed broad,

<sup>7</sup> and the little chamber one reed long and one reed broad, and between the little chambers five cubits, and the threshold of the gate, from the side of the porch of the gate from within, one reed.

<sup>8</sup> And he measureth the porch of the gate from within one reed,

<sup>9</sup> and he measureth the porch of the gate eight cubits, and its posts two cubits, and the porch of the gates from within,

<sup>10</sup> and the little chambers of the gate eastward, three on this side, and three on that side; one measure [is] to them three, and one measure [is] to the posts, on this side and on that side.

<sup>11</sup> And he measureth the breadth of the opening of the gate ten cubits, the length of the gate thirteen cubits;

<sup>12</sup> and a border before the little chambers, one cubit, and one cubit [is] the border on this side, and the little chamber [is] six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.

<sup>14</sup> And he maketh the posts of sixty cubits, even unto the post of the court, the gate all round about;

<sup>15</sup> and by the front of the gate of the entrance, by the front of the porch of the inner gate, fifty cubits;

<sup>17</sup> And he bringeth me in unto the outer court, and lo, chambers and a pavement made for the court all round about – thirty chambers on the pavement –

<sup>18</sup> and the pavement unto the side of the gates over-against the length of the gates [is] the lower pavement;

<sup>19</sup> and he measureth the breadth from before the lower gate, to the front of the inner court, on the outside, a hundred cubits, eastward and northward.

<sup>20</sup> As to the gate of the outer court whose front [is] northward, he hath measured its length and its breadth;

<sup>21</sup> and its little chambers, three on this side, and three on that side, and its posts and its arches have been according to the measure of the first gate, fifty cubits its length, and the breadth five and twenty by the cubit;

<sup>22</sup> and its windows, and its arches, and its palm-trees [are] according to the measure of the gate whose face [is] eastward, and by seven steps they go up on it, and its arches [are] before them.

<sup>24</sup> And he causeth me to go southward, and lo, a gate southward, and he hath measured its posts and its arches according to these measures;

<sup>25</sup> and windows [are] to it and to its arches all round about, like these windows, fifty cubits the length, and the breadth five and twenty cubits;

<sup>26</sup> and seven steps [are] its ascent, and its arches [are] before them, and palm-trees [are] to it, one on this side, and one on that side, at its posts;

<sup>27</sup> and the gate of the inner court [is] southward, and he measureth from gate unto gate southward, a hundred cubits.

<sup>28</sup> And he bringeth me in unto the inner court by the south gate, and he measureth the south gate according to these measures;

<sup>29</sup> and its little chambers, and its posts, and its arches [are] according to these measures, and windows [are] to it and to its arches all round about; fifty cubits the length, and the breadth twenty and five cubits.

<sup>30</sup> As to the arches all round about, the length [is] five and twenty cubits, and the breadth five cubits;

<sup>31</sup> and its arches [are] unto the outer court, and palm-trees [are] unto its posts, and eight steps [are] its ascent.

<sup>32</sup> And he bringeth me in unto the inner court eastward, and he measureth the gate according to these measures;

<sup>33</sup> and its little chambers, and its posts, and its arches [are] according to these measures: and windows [are] to it and to its arches all round about, the length fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits;

<sup>34</sup> and its arches [are] toward the outer court, and palm-trees [are] toward its posts, on this side and on that side, and eight steps [are] its ascent.

<sup>35</sup> And he bringeth me in unto the north gate, and hath measured according to these measures;

<sup>36</sup> its little chambers, its posts, and its arches; and windows [are] to it all round about: the length fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits;

<sup>37</sup> and its posts [are] to the outer court, and palm-trees [are] unto its posts, on this side and on that side, and eight steps [are] its ascent.

<sup>38</sup> And the chamber and its opening [is] by the posts of the gates, there they purge the burnt-offering.

<sup>39</sup> And in the porch of the gate [are] two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slaughter on them the burnt-offering, and the sin-offering, and the guilt-offering;

<sup>40</sup> and at the side without, at the going up to the opening of the north gate, [are] two tables; and at the other side that [is] at the porch of the gate, [are] two tables;

<sup>41</sup> four tables [are] on this side, and four tables on that side, at the side of the gate, eight tables on which they slaughter.

<sup>42</sup> And the four tables for burnt-offering [are] of hewn stone: the length one cubit and a half, and the breadth one cubit and a half, and the height one cubit: on them they place the instruments with which they slaughter the burnt-offering and the sacrifice.

<sup>45</sup> And he speaketh unto me: 'This chamber, whose front [is] southward, [is] for priests keeping charge of the house;

<sup>47</sup> And he measureth the court: the length a hundred cubits, and the breadth a hundred cubits, square, and the altar [is] before the house.

<sup>48</sup> And he bringeth me in unto the porch of the house, and he measureth the post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side, and the breadth of the gate, three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side;

<sup>49</sup> the length of the porch twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; and by the steps whereby they go up unto it: and pillars [are] at the posts, one on this side, and one on that side.

41

<sup>1</sup> And he bringeth me in unto the temple, and he measureth the posts, six cubits the breadth on this side, and six cubits the breadth on that side — the breadth of the tent.

<sup>2</sup> And the breadth of the opening [is] ten cubits; and the sides of the opening [are] five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side; and he measureth its length forty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

<sup>3</sup> And he hath gone inward, and measureth the post of the opening two cubits, and the opening six cubits, and the breadth of the opening seven cubits.

<sup>4</sup> And he measureth its length twenty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits, unto the front of the temple, and he saith unto me, 'This [is] the holy of holies.'

<sup>6</sup> And the side-chambers [are] side-chamber by side-chamber, three and thirty times; and they are entering into the wall — which the house hath for the side-chambers all round about — to be taken hold of, and they are not taken hold of by the wall of the house.

<sup>7</sup> And a broad place and a turning place still upwards [are] to the side-chambers, for the turning round of the house [is] still upwards all round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house [is] upwards, and so the lower one goeth up unto the higher by the midst.

<sup>8</sup> And I have looked at the house, the height all round about: the foundations of the side-chambers [are] the fulness of the reed, six cubits by the joining.

<sup>10</sup> And between the chambers [is] a breadth of twenty cubits round about the house, all round about.

<sup>13</sup> And he hath measured the house, the length [is] a hundred cubits; and the separate place, and the building, and its walls, the length [is] a hundred cubits;

<sup>14</sup> and the breadth of the front of the house, and of the separate place eastward, a hundred cubits.

<sup>15</sup> And he hath measured the length of the building unto the front of the separate place that [is] at its hinder part, and its galleries on this side and on that side, a hundred cubits, and the inner temple and the porches of the court,

<sup>16</sup> the thresholds, and the narrow windows, and the galleries round about them three, over-against the threshold, a ceiling of wood all round about, and the ground unto the windows and the covered windows,

<sup>17</sup> over above the opening, and unto the inner-house, and at the outside, and by all the wall all round about within and without [by] measure.

<sup>18</sup> And it is made [with] cherubs and palm-trees, and a palm-tree [is] between cherub and cherub, and two faces [are] to the cherub;

<sup>19</sup> and the face of man [is] unto the palm-tree on this side, and the face of a young lion unto the palm-tree on that side; it is made unto all the house all round about.

<sup>20</sup> from the earth unto above the opening [are] the cherubs and the palm-trees made, and [on] the wall of the temple.

<sup>21</sup> Of the temple the side post [is] square, and of the front of the sanctuary, the appearance [is] as the appearance.

<sup>22</sup> Of the altar, the wood [is] three cubits in height, and its length two cubits; and its corners [are] to it, and its length, and its walls [are] of wood, and he speaketh unto me, 'This [is] the table that [is] before Jehovah.'

<sup>23</sup> And two doors [are] to the temple and to the sanctuary;

<sup>24</sup> and two leaves [are] to the doors, two turning leaves [are] to the doors, two to the one door, and two leaves to the other.

<sup>26</sup> And narrow windows and palm-trees [are] on this side, and on that side, at the sides of the porch, and the side-chambers of the house, and the thick places.

42

<sup>3</sup> Over-against the twenty [cubits] that are to the inner court, and over-against the pavement that [is] to the outer court, [is] gallery over-against gallery, in the three [storeys].

<sup>5</sup> And the upper chambers [are] short, for the galleries contain more than these, than the lower, and than the middle one, of the building;

<sup>6</sup> for they [are] threefold, and they have no pillars as the pillars of the court, therefore it hath been kept back – more than the lower and than the middle one – from the ground.

<sup>8</sup> for the length of the chambers that [are] to the outer court [is] fifty cubits, and of those on the front of the temple a hundred cubits.

<sup>9</sup> And under these chambers [is] the entrance from the east, in one's going into them from the outer court.

<sup>10</sup> In the breadth of the wall of the court eastward, unto the front of the separate place, and unto the front of the building, [are] chambers.

<sup>11</sup> And the way before them [is] as the appearance of the chambers that [are] northward, according to their length so [is] their breadth, and all their outlets, and according to their fashions, and according to their openings.

<sup>13</sup> And he saith unto me, 'The north chambers, the south chambers, that [are] at the front of the separate place, they [are] holy chambers, where the priests (who [are] near to Jehovah) eat the most holy things, there they place the most holy things, and the present, and the sin-offering, and the guilt-offering, for the place [is] holy.

<sup>14</sup> In the priests' going in, they come not out from the sanctuary unto the outer court, and there they place their garments with which they minister, for they [are] holy, and have put on other garments, and have drawn near unto that which [is] for the people.'

<sup>16</sup> He hath measured the east side with the measuring-reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring-reed round about.

<sup>19</sup> He hath turned round unto the west side, he hath measured five hundred reeds with the measuring-reed.

<sup>20</sup> At the four sides he hath measured it, a wall [is] to it all round about, the length five hundred, and the breadth five hundred, to separate between the holy and the profane place.

43

<sup>2</sup> And lo, the honour of the God of Israel hath come from the way of the east, and His voice [is] as the noise of many waters, and the earth hath shone from His honour.

<sup>3</sup> And according to the appearance [is] the appearance that I saw, as the appearance that I saw in my coming in to destroy the city, and the appearances [are] as the appearance that I saw at the river Chebar, and I fall on my face.

<sup>4</sup> And the honour of Jehovah hath come in unto the house, the way of the gate whose face [is] eastward.

<sup>5</sup> And take me up doth the Spirit, and bringeth me in unto the inner court, and lo, the honour of Jehovah hath filled the house.

<sup>6</sup> And I hear one speaking unto me from the house, and a man hath been standing near me,

<sup>7</sup> and He saith unto me: 'Son of man, the place of My throne, And the place of the soles of My feet, Where I dwell in the midst of the sons of Israel to the age, Defile no more do the house of Israel My holy name, They, and their kings, by their whoredom, And by the carcasses of their kings — their high places.

<sup>8</sup> In their putting their threshold with My threshold, And their door-post near My door-post, And the wall between Me and them, And they have defiled My holy name, By their abominations that they have done, And I consume them in Mine anger.

<sup>9</sup> Now do they put far off their whoredom, And the carcases of their kings – from Me, And I have dwelt in their midst to the age.

<sup>10</sup> Thou, son of man, Shew the house of Israel the house, And they are ashamed of their iniquities, And they have measured the measurement.

<sup>11</sup> And since they have been ashamed of all that they have done, The form of the house, and its measurement, And its outlets, and its inlets, and all its forms, And all its statutes, even all its forms, And all its laws cause them to know, And write [it] before their eyes, And they observe all its forms, And all its statutes, and have done them.

<sup>15</sup> 'And the altar [is] four cubits, and from the altar and upward [are] four horns.

<sup>16</sup> And the altar [is] twelve long by twelve broad, square in its four squares.

<sup>17</sup> And the border [is] fourteen long by fourteen broad, at its four squares, and the border round about it [is] half a cubit, and the centre to it [is] a cubit round about, and its steps are looking eastward.'

<sup>18</sup> And He saith unto me, 'Son of man, Thus said the Lord Jehovah: These [are] statutes of the altar in the day of its being made to cause burnt-offering to go up on it, and to sprinkle on it blood.

<sup>19</sup> And thou hast given unto the priests, the Levites, who [are] of the seed of Zadok – who are near unto Me, an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, to serve Me – a calf from the herd, for a sin-offering.

<sup>22</sup> And on the second day thou dost bring near a kid of the goats, a perfect one, for a sin-offering, and they have cleansed the altar, as they cleansed [it] for the bullock.

<sup>23</sup> In thy finishing cleansing, thou dost bring near a calf, a son of the herd, a perfect one, and a ram out of the flock, a perfect one.

<sup>24</sup> And thou hast brought them near before Jehovah, and the priests have cast upon them salt, and have caused them to go up, a burnt-offering to Jehovah.

<sup>26</sup> Seven days they purify the altar, and have cleansed it, and filled their hand.

<sup>27</sup> And the days are completed, and it hath come to pass on the eighth day, and henceforth, the priests prepare on the altar your burnt-offerings and your peace-offerings, and I have accepted you — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.'

44

<sup>1</sup> And he causeth me to turn back the way of the gate of the outer sanctuary that is looking eastward, and it is shut.

<sup>2</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me, 'This gate is shut, it is not opened, and none doth go in by it, for Jehovah, God of Israel, hath come in by it, and it hath been shut.

<sup>3</sup> The prince, who [is] prince, he sitteth by it to eat bread before Jehovah, by the way of the porch of the gate he cometh in, and by its way he goeth out.'

<sup>4</sup> And he bringeth me in the way of the north gate unto the front of the house, and I look, and lo, filled hath the honour of Jehovah the house of Jehovah, and I fall on my face.

<sup>5</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me, 'Son of man, set thy heart, and see with thine eyes, and with thine ears hear; all that I am speaking with thee, of all the statutes of the house of Jehovah, and of all its laws; and thou hast set thy heart to the entrance of the house, with all the outlets of the sanctuary,

<sup>6</sup> and hast said unto the rebellious, unto the house of Israel: Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Enough to you — of all your abominations, O house of Israel.

<sup>7</sup> In your bringing in sons of a stranger, uncircumcised of heart, and uncircumcised of flesh, to be in My sanctuary, to pollute it, even My house, in your bringing near My bread, fat, and blood, and they break My covenant by all your abominations,

<sup>8</sup> and ye have not kept the charge of My holy things, and ye set [them] for keepers of My charge in My sanctuary for you.

<sup>9</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: No son of a stranger, uncircumcised of heart, and uncircumcised of flesh, cometh in unto My sanctuary, even any son of a stranger, who [is] in the midst of the sons of Israel,

<sup>10</sup> but — the Levites who have gone far off from me, in the wandering of Israel when they went astray from Me after their idols, and they have borne their iniquity.

<sup>11</sup> And they have been in My sanctuary ministrants, overseers at the gates of the house, and ministrants at the house; they slay the burnt-offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they stand before them to serve them.

<sup>12</sup> Because that they serve them before their idols, and have been to the house of Israel for a stumbling-block of iniquity, therefore I have lifted up my hand against them — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah — and they have borne their iniquity.

<sup>13</sup> And they draw not nigh unto Me to act as My priest, and to draw nigh unto any of My holy things, unto the holy of holies, and they have borne their shame and their abominations that they have done,

<sup>14</sup> and I made them keepers of the charge of the house, for all its service and for all that is done in it.

<sup>15</sup> And the priests, the Levites, sons of Zadok, who have kept the charge of My sanctuary in the wandering of the sons of Israel from off Me, they draw near unto Me to serve Me, and have stood before Me, to bring near to Me fat and blood — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah:

<sup>16</sup> they come in unto My sanctuary, and they draw near unto My table to serve Me, and they have kept My charge.

<sup>18</sup> Linen bonnets are on their head, and linen trousers are on their loins, they are not restrained with sweat.

<sup>19</sup> And in their going forth unto the outer court – unto the outer court unto the people – they strip off their garments, in which they are ministering, and have placed them in the holy chambers, and have put on other garments; and they do not sanctify the people in their own garments.

<sup>22</sup> And a widow and divorced woman they do not take to them for wives: but – virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, and the widow who is widow of a priest, do they take.

<sup>23</sup> 'And My people they direct between holy and common, and between unclean and clean they cause them to discern.

<sup>24</sup> And concerning controversy, they stand up for judgment; with My judgments they judge it; and My law and My statutes in all My appointed places they keep; and My sabbaths they sanctify.

<sup>25</sup> And unto any dead man they come not for uncleanness, but for father, and for mother, and for son, and for daughter, for brother, for sister who hath not been to a man, they defile themselves.

<sup>27</sup> And in the day of his coming in unto the sanctuary, unto the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he bringeth near his sin-offering – an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>28</sup> And it hath been to them for an inheritance; I [am] their inheritance: and a possession ye do not give to them in Israel; I [am] their possession.

<sup>29</sup> The present, and the sin-offering, and the guilt-offering, they do eat, and every devoted thing in Israel is theirs.

<sup>30</sup> And the first of all the first-fruits of all, and every heave-offering of all, of all your heave-offerings, are the priests': and the first of your dough ye give to the priest, to cause a blessing to rest on thy house.

45

<sup>1</sup> And in your causing the land to fall in inheritance, ye lift up a heave-offering to Jehovah, a holy [portion] of the land: the length – five and twenty thousand [is] the length, and the breadth ten thousand; it [is] holy in all its border round about.

<sup>2</sup> There is of this for the sanctuary five hundred by five hundred, square, round about; and fifty cubits of suburb [is] to it round about.

<sup>3</sup> And by this measure thou dost measure: the length [is] five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand: and in it is the sanctuary, the holy of holies.

<sup>4</sup> The holy [portion] of the land it [is]; for priests, ministrants of the sanctuary, it is, who are drawing near to serve Jehovah; and it hath been to them a place for houses, and a holy place for a sanctuary.

<sup>5</sup> 'And of the five and twenty thousand of length, and of the ten thousand of breadth, there is to the Levites, ministrants of the house, for them — for a possession — twenty chambers.

<sup>6</sup> 'And of the possession of the city ye give five thousand of breadth, and of length five and twenty thousand, over-against the heave-offering of the holy [portion]: to all the house of Israel it is.

<sup>8</sup> of the land there is to him for a possession in Israel, and My princes do not oppress any more My people, and the land they give to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

<sup>9</sup> 'Thus said the Lord Jehovah: Enough to you — princes of Israel; violence and spoil turn aside, and judgment and righteousness do; lift up your exactions from off My people — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> And, the shekel [is] twenty gerah: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels — is your maneh.

<sup>14</sup> and the portion of oil, the bath of oil, a tenth part of the bath out of the cor, a homer of ten baths — for ten baths [are] a homer;

<sup>15</sup> and one lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the watered country of Israel, for a present, and for a burnt-offering, and for peace-offerings, to make atonement by them — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>16</sup> All the people of the land are at this heave-offering for the prince in Israel.

<sup>17</sup> And on the prince are the burnt-offerings, and the present, and the libation, in feasts, and in new moons, and in sabbaths, in all appointed times of the house of Israel: he doth make the sin-offering, and the present, and the burnt-offering, and the peace-offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel.

<sup>18</sup> 'Thus said the Lord Jehovah: In the first [month], in the first of the month, thou dost take a bullock, a son of the herd, a perfect one, and hast cleansed the sanctuary:

<sup>19</sup> and the priest hath taken of the blood of the sin offering, and hath put on the door-post of the house, and on the four corners of the border of the altar, and on the post of the gate of the inner court.

<sup>20</sup> And so thou dost do on the seventh of the month, because of each erring one, and because of the simple one — and ye have purified the house.

<sup>21</sup> 'In the first [month], in the fourteenth day of the month, ye have the passover, a feast of seven days, unleavened food is eaten.

<sup>22</sup> And the prince hath prepared on that day, for himself, and for all the people of the land, a bullock, a sin-offering.

<sup>23</sup> And the seven days of the feast he prepareth a burnt-offering to Jehovah, seven bullocks, and seven rams, perfect ones, daily seven days, and a sin-offering, a kid of the goats, daily.

<sup>24</sup> And a present of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, he doth prepare, and of oil a hin for an ephah.

<sup>25</sup> In the seventh [month], in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, he doth according to these things seven days; as the sin-offering so the burnt-offering, and as the present so also the oil.

46

<sup>1</sup> 'Thus said the Lord Jehovah: The gate of the inner court that is looking eastward is shut the six days of work, and on the day of rest it is opened, and in the day of the new moon it is opened;

<sup>2</sup> and come in hath the prince the way of the porch of the gate at the outside, and he hath stood by the post of the gate, and the priests have made his burnt-offering, and his peace-offerings, and he hath bowed himself by the opening of the gate, and hath gone forth, and the gate is not shut till the evening.

<sup>4</sup> 'And the burnt-offering that the prince bringeth near to Jehovah on the day of rest [is] six lambs, perfect ones, and a ram, a perfect one.

<sup>8</sup> 'And in the coming in of the prince, the way of the porch of the gate he cometh in, and by its way he goeth out.

<sup>9</sup> And in the coming in of the people of the land before Jehovah at appointed times, he who hath come in the way of the north gate to bow himself, goeth out the way of the south gate, and he who hath come in the way of the south gate, goeth out by the way of the north gate: he doth not turn back the way of the gate by which he came in, but over-against it he goeth out.

<sup>11</sup> 'And in feasts, and in appointed times, the present is an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for lambs the gift of his hand, and of oil a hin for an ephah.

<sup>12</sup> And when the prince maketh a free-will burnt-offering, or free-will peace-offerings, to Jehovah, then he hath opened for himself the gate that is looking eastward, and he hath made his burnt-offering and his peace-offerings as he doth in the day of rest, and he hath gone out, and he hath shut the gate after his going out.

<sup>15</sup> and prepare ye the lamb, and the present, and the oil, morning by morning, a continual burnt-offering.

<sup>16</sup> 'Thus said the Lord Jehovah: When the prince giveth a gift to any of his sons, his inheritance it [is], to his sons it [is]; their possession it [is] by inheritance.

<sup>17</sup> And when he giveth a gift out of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it hath been to him till the year of freedom, and it hath turned back to the prince, only the inheritance of his sons is theirs.

<sup>18</sup> And the prince doth not take of the inheritance of the people to oppress them, out of their possession, out of his own possession he doth cause his sons to inherit, so that My people are not scattered each from his possession.'

<sup>19</sup> And he bringeth me in through the entrance that [is] by the side of the gate, unto the holy chambers, unto the priests, that are looking northward, and lo, there [is] a place in their two sides westward.

<sup>20</sup> And he saith unto me, 'This [is] the place where the priests do boil the guilt-offering and the sin-offering, where they bake the present, so as not to bring [it] out unto the outer court, to sanctify the people.'

<sup>21</sup> And he bringeth me out unto the outer court, and causeth me to pass over unto the four corners of the court, and lo, a court in a corner of the court, a court in a corner of the corner.

<sup>24</sup> And he saith unto me, 'These [are] the houses of those boiling where the ministrants of the house boil the sacrifice of the people.'

47

<sup>2</sup> And he causeth me to go out the way of the gate northward, and causeth me to turn round the way without, unto the gate that [is] without, the way that is looking eastward, and lo, water is coming forth from the right side.

<sup>3</sup> In the going out of the man eastward, and a line in his hand, then he measureth a thousand by the cubit, and he causeth me to pass over into water — water to the ankles.

<sup>4</sup> And he measureth a thousand, and causeth me to pass over into water — water to the knees. And he measureth a thousand, and causeth me to pass over — water to the loins.

<sup>5</sup> And he measureth a thousand — a stream that I am not able to pass over; for risen have the waters — waters to swim in — a stream that is not passed over.

<sup>7</sup> In my turning back, then, lo, at the edge of the stream [are] very many trees, on this side and on that side.

<sup>8</sup> And he saith unto me, 'These waters are going forth unto the east circuit, and have gone down unto the desert, and have entered the sea; unto the sea they are brought forth, and the waters have been healed.

<sup>9</sup> And it hath come to pass, every living creature that teemeth, whithersoever the streams come, doth live: and there hath been great abundance of fish, for these waters have come thither, and they are healed; and every thing whither the stream cometh hath lived.

<sup>10</sup> And it hath come to pass, fishers do stand by it, from En-Gedi even unto En-Eglaim; a spreading place of nets they are; according to their own kind is their fish, as the fish of the great sea, very many.

<sup>11</sup> Its miry and its marshy places — they are not healed; to salt they have been given up.

<sup>12</sup> And by the stream there cometh up on its edge, on this side and on that side, every [kind of] fruit-tree whose leaf fadeth not, and not consumed is its fruit, according to its months it yieldeth first-fruits, because its waters from the sanctuary are coming forth; and its fruits hath been for food, and its leaf for medicine.

<sup>13</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah: This [is] the border whereby ye inherit the land, according to the twelve tribes of Israel; Joseph [hath] portions.

<sup>14</sup> And ye have inherited it, one as well as another, in that I have lifted up My hand to give it to your fathers; and this land hath fallen to you in inheritance.

<sup>18</sup> And the east quarter [is] from between Havran, and Damascus, and Gilead, and the land of Israel, [to] the Jordan; from the border over-against the eastern sea ye measure: and [this is] the east quarter.

<sup>19</sup> And the south quarter southward [is] from Tamar unto the waters of Meriboth-Kadesh, the stream unto the great sea: and [this is] the south quarter southward.

<sup>20</sup> And the west quarter [is] the great sea, from the border till over-against the coming in to Hamath: this [is] the west quarter.

<sup>21</sup> And ye have divided this land to you, according to the tribes of Israel;

<sup>22</sup> and it hath come to pass, ye separate it for an inheritance to yourselves, and to the sojourners who are sojourning in your midst, who have begotten sons in your midst, and they have been to you as native, with the sons of Israel, with you they are separated for an inheritance in the midst of the tribes of Israel.

48

<sup>9</sup> The heave-offering that ye lift up to Jehovah [is] five and twenty thousand long, and broad ten thousand.

<sup>10</sup> And of these is the holy heave-offering for the priests, northward five and twenty thousand, and westward [in] breadth ten thousand, and eastward [in] breadth ten thousand, and southward [in] length five and twenty thousand: and the sanctuary of Jehovah hath been in its midst.

<sup>11</sup> For the priests who are sanctified of the sons of Zadok, who have kept My charge, who erred not in the erring of the sons of Israel, as the Levites erred, <sup>12</sup> even the heave-offering hath been to them, out of the heave-offering of the land, most holy, by the border of the Levites.

<sup>13</sup> 'And [to] the Levites over-against the border of the priests [are] five and twenty thousand [in] length, and [in] breadth ten thousand, all the length [is] five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

<sup>14</sup> And they do not sell of it, nor exchange, nor cause to pass away the first-fruit of the land: for [it is] holy to Jehovah.

<sup>15</sup> And the five thousand that is left in the breadth, on the front of the five and twenty thousand, is common — for the city, for dwelling, and for suburb, and the city hath been in its midst.

<sup>16</sup> And these [are] its measures: the north side five hundred, and four thousand, and the south side five hundred, and four thousand, and on the east side five hundred, and four thousand, and the west side five hundred, and four thousand.

<sup>17</sup> And the suburb to the city hath been northward, fifty and two hundred, and southward, fifty and two hundred, and eastward, fifty and two hundred, and westward, fifty and two hundred.

<sup>18</sup> 'And the residue in length over-against the heave-offering of the holy [portion is] ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward, and it hath been over-against the heave-offering of the holy [portion], and its increase hath been for food to the servants of the city,

<sup>19</sup> even [to] him who is serving the city, they serve it out of all the tribes of Israel.

<sup>20</sup> All the heave-offering [is] five and twenty thousand by five and twenty thousand, square do ye lift up the heave-offering of the holy [portion] with the possession of the city.

<sup>21</sup> 'And the residue [is] for the prince, on this side and on that side of the heave-offering of the holy [portion], and of the possession of the city, on the front of the five and twenty thousand of the heave-offering unto the east border, and westward, on the front of the five and twenty thousand on the west border, over-against the portions of the prince; and the heave-offering of the holy [portion], and the sanctuary of the house, hath been in its midst.

<sup>29</sup> This [is] the land that ye separate by inheritance to the tribes of Israel, and these [are] their portions — an affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>30</sup> 'And these [are] the outgoings of the city on the north side, five hundred, and four thousand measures.

<sup>33</sup> And the south side five hundred, and four thousand measures, and three gates: the gate of Simeon one, the gate of Issachar one, the gate of Zebulun one.

<sup>34</sup> The west side five hundred, and four thousand, their gates three: the gate of Gad one, the gate of Asher one, the gate of Naphtali one.

<sup>35</sup> Round about [is] eighteen thousand, and the renown of the city [is] from the day Jehovah [is] there.'

The Book of Daniel

<sup>1</sup> In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, come hath Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to Jerusalem, and layeth siege against it;

<sup>2</sup> and the Lord giveth into his hand Jehoiakim king of Judah, and some of the vessels of the house of God, and he bringeth them in [to] the land of Shinar, [to] the house of his god, and the vessels he hath brought in [to] the treasure-house of his god.

<sup>3</sup> And the king saith, to Ashpenaz master of his eunuchs, to bring in out of the sons of Israel, (even of the royal seed, and of the chiefs,)

<sup>4</sup> lads in whom there is no blemish, and of good appearance, and skilful in all wisdom, and possessing knowledge, and teaching thought, and who have ability to stand in the palace of the king, and to teach them the literature and language of the Chaldeans.

<sup>5</sup> And the king doth appoint for them a rate, day by day, of the king's portion of food, and of the wine of his drinking, so as to nourish them three years, that at the end thereof they may stand before the king.

<sup>6</sup> And there are among them out of the sons of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, <sup>7</sup> and the chief of the eunuchs setteth names on them, and he setteth on Daniel, Belteshazzar; and on Hananiah, Shadrach; and on Mishael, Meshach; and on Azariah, Abed-Nego.

<sup>8</sup> And Daniel purposeth in his heart that he will not pollute himself with the king's portion of food, and with the wine of his drinking, and he seeketh of the chief of the eunuchs that he may not pollute himself.

<sup>9</sup> And God giveth Daniel for kindness and for mercies before the chief of the eunuchs;

<sup>10</sup> and the chief of the eunuchs saith to Daniel, 'I am fearing my lord the king, who hath appointed your food and your drink, for why doth he see your faces sadder than [those of] the lads which [are] of your circle? then ye have made my head indebted to the king,'

<sup>12</sup> 'Try, I pray thee, thy servants, ten days; and they give to us of the vegetables, and we eat, and water, and we drink;

<sup>13</sup> and our appearance is seen before thee, and the appearance of the lads who are eating the king's portion of food, and as thou seest — deal with thy servants.'

<sup>16</sup> And the Meltzar is taking away their portion of food, and the wine of their drink, and is giving to them vegetables.

<sup>17</sup> As to these four lads, God hath given to them knowledge and understanding in every [kind of] literature, and wisdom; and Daniel hath given instruction about every [kind of] vision and dreams.

<sup>18</sup> And at the end of the days that the king had said to bring them in, bring them in doth the chief of the eunuchs before Nebuchadnezzar.

<sup>19</sup> And the king speaketh with them, and there hath none been found among them all like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, and they stand before the king;

<sup>20</sup> and [in] any matter of wisdom [and] understanding that the king hath sought of them, he findeth them ten hands above all the scribes, the enchanters, who [are] in all his kingdom.

<sup>3</sup> and the king saith to them, 'A dream I have dreamed, and moved is my spirit to know the dream.'

<sup>4</sup> And the Chaldeans speak to the king [in] Aramaean, 'O king, to the ages live, tell the dream to thy servants, and the interpretation we do shew.'

<sup>5</sup> The king hath answered and said to the Chaldeans, 'The thing from me is gone; if ye do not cause me to know the dream and its interpretation, pieces ye are made, and your houses are made dunghills;

<sup>6</sup> and if the dream and its interpretation ye do shew, gifts, and fee, and great glory ye receive from before me, therefore the dream and its interpretation shew ye me.'

<sup>7</sup> They have answered a second time, and are saying, 'Let the king tell the dream to his servants, and the interpretation we do shew.'

<sup>8</sup> The king hath answered and said, 'Of a truth I know that time ye are gaining, because that ye have seen that the thing is gone from me,

<sup>9</sup> [so] that, if the dream ye do not cause me to know – one is your sentence, seeing a word lying and corrupt ye have prepared to speak before me, till that the time is changed, therefore the dream tell ye to me, then do I know that its interpretation ye do shew me.'

<sup>10</sup> The Chaldeans have answered before the king, and are saying, 'There is not a man on the earth who is able to shew the king's matter; therefore, no king, chief, and ruler, hath asked such a thing as this of any scribe, and enchanter, and Chaldean;

<sup>11</sup> and the thing that the king is asking [is] precious, and others are there not that do shew it before the king, save the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.'

<sup>12</sup> Therefore the king hath been angry and very wroth, and hath said to destroy all the wise men of Babylon;

<sup>13</sup> And the sentence hath gone forth, and the wise men are being slain, and they have sought Daniel and his companions to be slain.

<sup>14</sup> Then Daniel hath replied [with] counsel and discretion to Arioch chief of the executioners of the king, who hath gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon.

<sup>15</sup> He hath answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, 'Wherefore [is] the sentence so urgent from before the king?' Then Arioch hath made the thing known to Daniel, <sup>16</sup> and Daniel hath gone up, and sought of the king that he would give him time to shew the interpretation to the king.

<sup>17</sup> Then Daniel to his house hath gone, and to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions, he hath made the thing known,

<sup>19</sup> Then to Daniel, in a vision of the night, the secret hath been revealed. Then hath Daniel blessed the God of the heavens.

<sup>20</sup> Daniel hath answered and said, 'Let the name of God be blessed from age even unto age, for wisdom and might – for they are His.

<sup>21</sup> And He is changing times and seasons, He is causing kings to pass away, and He is raising up kings; He is giving wisdom to the wise, and knowledge to those possessing understanding.

<sup>22</sup> He is revealing deep and hidden things; He hath known what [is] in darkness, and light with Him hath dwelt.

<sup>23</sup> Thee, O God of my fathers, I am thanking and praising, for wisdom and might Thou hast given to me; and now, Thou hast caused me to know that which we have sought from Thee, for the king's matter Thou hast caused us to know.'

<sup>26</sup> The king hath answered and said to Daniel, whose name [is] Belteshazzar, 'Art thou able to cause me to know the dream that I have seen, and its interpretation?'

<sup>27</sup> Daniel hath answered before the king and said, 'The secret that the king is asking, the wise men, the enchanters, the scribes, the soothsayers, are not able to shew to the king;

<sup>28</sup> but there is a God in the heavens, a revealer of secrets, and He hath made known to king Nebuchadnezzar that which [is] to be in the latter end of the days. 'Thy dream and the visions of thy head on thy bed are these:

<sup>29</sup> Thou, O king, thy thoughts on thy bed have come up [concerning] that which [is] to be after this, and the Revealer of secrets hath caused thee to know that which [is] to be.

<sup>30</sup> As to me – not for [any] wisdom that is in me above any living hath this secret been revealed to me; but for the intent that the interpretation to the king they make known, and the thoughts of thy heart thou dost know.

<sup>32</sup> This image! its head [is] of good gold, its breasts and its arms of silver, its belly and its thighs of brass;

<sup>34</sup> Thou wast looking till that a stone hath been cut out without hands, and it hath smitten the image on its feet, that [are] of iron and of clay, and it hath broken them small;

<sup>35</sup> then broken small together have been the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, and they have been as chaff from the summer threshing-floor, and carried them away hath the wind, and no place hath been found for them: and the stone that smote the image hath become a great mountain, and hath filled all the land.

<sup>36</sup> This [is] the dream, and its interpretation we do tell before the king.

<sup>39</sup> And after thee doth rise up another kingdom lower than those, and another third kingdom of brass, that doth rule overall the earth.

<sup>40</sup> And the fourth kingdom is strong as iron, because that iron is breaking small, and making feeble, all [things], even as iron that is breaking all these, it beateth small and breaketh.

<sup>43</sup> Because thou hast seen iron mixed with miry clay, they are mixing themselves with the seed of men: and they are not adhering one with another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

<sup>44</sup> 'And in the days of these kings raise up doth the God of the heavens a kingdom that is not destroyed – to the age, and its kingdom to another people is not left: it beateth small and endeth all these kingdoms, and it standeth to the age.

<sup>45</sup> Because that thou hast seen that out of the mountain cut hath been a stone without hands, and it hath beaten small the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king that which [is] to be after this; and the dream [is] true, and its interpretation stedfast.

<sup>46</sup> Then hath king Nebuchadnezzar fallen on his face, and to Daniel he hath done obeisance, and present, and sweet things, he hath said to pour out to him.

<sup>47</sup> The king hath answered Daniel and said, 'Of a truth [it is] that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, since thou hast been able to reveal this secret.'

3

<sup>2</sup> and Nebuchadnezzar the king hath sent to gather the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the honourable judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the province, to come to the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath raised up.

<sup>3</sup> Then are gathered the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the honourable judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the province, to the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath raised up: and they are standing before the image that Nebuchadnezzar hath raised up.

<sup>6</sup> and whoso doth not fall down and do obeisance, in that hour he is cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.'

<sup>8</sup> Therefore at that time drawn near have certain Chaldeans, and accused the Jews;

<sup>9</sup> they have answered, yea, they are saying to Nebuchadnezzar the king, 'O king, to the ages live!

<sup>10</sup> Thou, O king, hast made a decree that every man who doth hear the voice of the cornet, the flute, the harp, the sackbut, the psaltery, and the symphony, and all kinds of music, doth fall down and do obeisance to the golden image;

<sup>11</sup> and whoso doth not fall down and do obeisance, is cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

<sup>12</sup> There are certain Jews whom thou hast appointed over the work of the province of Babylon — Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, these men have not made of thee, O king, [any] regard; thy gods they are not serving, and to the golden image thou hast raised up — are not making obeisance.'

<sup>13</sup> Then Nebuchadnezzar, in anger and fury, hath said to bring in Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego. Then these men have been brought in before the king.

<sup>14</sup> Nebuchadnezzar hath answered and said to them, 'Is [it] a laid plan, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego — my gods ye are not serving, and to the golden image that I have raised up ye are not doing obeisance?

<sup>15</sup> Now, lo, ye are ready, so that at the time that ye hear the voice of the cornet, the flute, the harp, the sackbut, the psaltery, and the symphony, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and do obeisance to the image that I have made! — and lo, ye do no obeisance — in that hour ye are cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; who is that God who doth deliver you out of my hands?'

<sup>17</sup> Lo, it is; our God whom we are serving, is able to deliver us from a burning fiery furnace; and from thy hand, O king, He doth deliver.

<sup>18</sup> And lo — not! be it known to thee, O king, that thy gods we are not serving, and to the golden image thou hast raised up we do no obeisance.'

<sup>19</sup> Then Nebuchadnezzar hath been full of fury, and the expression of his face hath been changed concerning Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego; he answered and said to heat the furnace seven times above that which it is seen to be heated;

<sup>20</sup> and to certain mighty men who [are] in his force he hath said to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, to cast into the burning fiery furnace.

<sup>23</sup> And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, have fallen down in the midst of the burning fiery furnace — bound.

<sup>24</sup> Then Nebuchadnezzar the king hath been astonished, and hath risen in haste; he hath answered and said to his counsellors, 'Have we not cast three men into the midst of the fire — bound?' They have answered and are saying to the king, 'Certainly, O king.'

<sup>25</sup> He answered and hath said, 'Lo, I am seeing four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the appearance of the fourth [is] like to a son of the gods.'

<sup>26</sup> Then Nebuchadnezzar hath drawn near to the gate of the burning fiery furnace; he hath answered and said, 'Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, servants of God Most High come forth, yea, come;' then come forth do Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, from the midst of the fire;

<sup>27</sup> and gathered together, the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, and the counsellors of the king, are seeing these men, that the fire hath no power over their bodies, and the hair of their head hath not been singed, and their coats have not changed, and the smell of fire hath not passed on them.

<sup>28</sup> Nebuchadnezzar hath answered and hath said, 'Blessed [is] the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, who hath sent His messenger, and hath delivered His servants who trusted on Him, and the word of the king changed, and gave up their bodies that they might not serve nor do obeisance to any god except to their own God.'

<sup>29</sup> And by me a decree is made, that any people, nation, and language, that doth speak erroneously concerning the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, pieces he is made, and its house is made a dunghill, because that there is no other god who is able thus to deliver.'

<sup>4</sup> 'I, Nebuchadnezzar, have been at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace:

<sup>5</sup> a dream I have seen, and it maketh me afraid, and the conceptions on my bed, and the visions of my head, do trouble me.

<sup>6</sup> And by me a decree is made, to cause all the wise men of Babylon to come up before me, that the interpretation of the dream they may cause me to know.

<sup>7</sup> Then coming up are the scribes, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers, and the dream I have told before them, and its interpretation they are not making known to me.

<sup>8</sup> And at last come up before me hath Daniel, whose name [is] Belteshazzar — according to the name of my god — and in whom [is] the spirit of the holy gods, and the dream before him I have told:

<sup>9</sup> 'O Belteshazzar, master of the scribes, as I have known that the spirit of the holy gods [is] in thee, and no secret doth press thee, the visions of my dream that I have seen, and its interpretation, tell.

<sup>10</sup> As to the visions of my head on my bed, I was looking, and lo, a tree in the midst of the earth, and its height [is] great:

<sup>11</sup> become great hath the tree, yea, strong, and its height doth reach to the heavens, and its vision to the end of the whole land;

<sup>12</sup> its leaves [are] fair, and its budding great, and food for all [is] in it: under it take shade doth the beast of the field, and in its boughs dwell do the birds of the heavens, and of it fed are all flesh.

<sup>13</sup> 'I was looking, in the visions of my head on my bed, and lo, a sifter, even a holy one, from the heavens is coming down.

<sup>14</sup> He is calling mightily, and thus hath said, Cut down the tree, and cut off its branches, shake off its leaves, and scatter its budding, move away let the beast from under it, and the birds from off its branches;

<sup>15</sup> but the stump of its roots leave in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field, and with the dew of the heavens is it wet, and with the beasts [is] his portion in the herb of the earth;

<sup>16</sup> his heart from man's is changed, and the heart of a beast is given to him, and seven times pass over him;

<sup>17</sup> by the decree of the sifters [is] the sentence, and by the saying of the holy ones the requirement, to the intent that the living may know that the Most High is ruler in the kingdom of men, and to whom He willeth He giveth it, and the lowest of men He doth raise up over it.

<sup>18</sup> 'This dream I have seen, I king Nebuchadnezzar; and thou, O Belteshazzar, the interpretation tell, because that all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to cause me to know the interpretation, and thou [art] able, for the spirit of the holy gods [is] in thee.

<sup>19</sup> 'Then Daniel, whose name [is] Belteshazzar, hath been astonished about one hour, and his thoughts do trouble him; the king hath answered and said, O Belteshazzar, let not the dream and its interpretation trouble thee. Belteshazzar hath answered and said, My lord, the dream — to those hating thee, and its interpretation — to thine enemies!

<sup>20</sup> The tree that thou hast seen, that hath become great and strong, and its height doth reach to the heavens, and its vision to all the land,

<sup>21</sup> and its leaves [are] fair, and its budding great, and food for all [is] in it, under it dwell doth the beast of the field, and on its boughs sit do the birds of the heavens.

<sup>22</sup> 'Thou it [is], O king, for thou hast become great and mighty, and thy greatness hath become great, and hath reached to the heavens, and thy dominion to the end of the earth;

<sup>23</sup> and that which the king hath seen — a sifter, even a holy one, coming down from the heavens, and he hath said, Cut down the tree, and destroy it; but the stump of its roots leave in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field, and with the dew of the heavens it is wet, and with the beast of the field [is] his portion, till that seven times pass over him.

<sup>24</sup> 'This [is] the interpretation, O king, and the decree of the Most High it [is] that hath come against my lord the king:

<sup>25</sup> and they are driving thee away from men, and with the beast of the field is thy dwelling, and the herb as oxen they do cause thee to eat, and by the dew of the heavens they are wetting thee, and seven times do pass over thee, till that thou knowest that the Most High is ruler in the kingdom of men, and to whom He willeth He giveth it.

<sup>26</sup> And that which they said – to leave the stump of the roots of the tree; thy kingdom for thee abideth, after that thou knowest that the heavens are ruling.

<sup>30</sup> the king hath answered and said, Is not this that great Babylon that I have built, for the house of the kingdom, in the might of my strength, and for the glory of mine honour?

<sup>31</sup> 'While the word is [in] the king's mouth a voice from the heavens hath fallen: To thee they are saying: O Nebuchadnezzar the king, the kingdom hath passed from thee,

<sup>32</sup> and from men they are driving thee away, and with the beast of the field [is] thy dwelling, the herb as oxen they do cause thee to eat, and seven times do pass over thee, till that thou knowest that the Most High is ruler in the kingdom of men, and to whom He willeth He giveth it.

<sup>33</sup> 'In that hour the thing hath been fulfilled on Nebuchadnezzar, and from men he is driven, and the herb as oxen he eateth, and by the dew of the heavens his body is wet, till that his hair as eagles' hath become great, and his nails as birds.'

<sup>34</sup> 'And at the end of the days I, Nebuchadnezzar, mine eyes to the heavens have lifted up, and mine understanding unto me returneth, and the Most High I have blessed, and the Age-during Living One I have praised and honoured, whose dominion [is] a dominion age-during, and His kingdom with generation and generation;

<sup>35</sup> and all who are dwelling on the earth as nothing are reckoned, and according to his will He is doing among the forces of the heavens and those dwelling on the earth, and there is none that doth clap with his hand, and saith to Him, What hast Thou done?

<sup>36</sup> 'At that time my understanding doth return unto me, and for the glory of my kingdom, my honour and my brightness doth return unto me, and to me my counsellors and my great men do seek, and over my kingdom I have been made right, and abundant greatness hath been added to me.

5

<sup>2</sup> Belshazzar hath said — while tasting the wine — to bring in the vessels of gold and of silver that Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken from the temple that [is] in Jerusalem, that drink with them may the king, and his great men, his wives, and his concubines.

<sup>3</sup> Then they have brought in the vessels of gold that had been taken out of the temple of the house of God that [is] in Jerusalem, and drunk with them have the king and his great men, his wives and his concubines;

<sup>4</sup> they have drunk wine, and have praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

<sup>5</sup> In that hour come forth have fingers of a man's hand, and they are writing over-against the candlestick, on the plaster of the wall of the king's palace: and the king is seeing the extremity of the hand that is writing;

<sup>6</sup> then the king's countenance hath changed, and his thoughts do trouble him, and the joints of his loins are loosed, and his knees are smiting one against another.

<sup>7</sup> Call doth the king mightily, to bring up the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. Answered hath the king, and said to the wise men of Babylon, that, 'Any man who doth read this writing, and its interpretation doth shew me, purple he putteth on, and a bracelet of gold [is] on his neck, and third in the kingdom he doth rule.'

<sup>8</sup> Then coming up are all the wise men of the king, and they are not able to read the writing, and the interpretation to make known to the king;

<sup>9</sup> then the king Belshazzar is greatly troubled, and his countenance is changing in him, and his great men are perplexed.

<sup>10</sup> The queen, on account of the words of the king and his great men, to the banquet-house hath come up. Answered hath the queen, and said, 'O king, to the ages live; let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor thy countenance be changed:

<sup>11</sup> there is a man in thy kingdom in whom [is] the spirit of the holy gods: and, in the days of thy father, light, and understanding, and wisdom — as the wisdom of the gods — was found in him; and king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, chief of the scribes, enchanters, Chaldeans, soothsayers, established him — thy father, O king —

<sup>12</sup> because that an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and showing of enigmas, and loosing of knots was found in him, in Daniel, whose name the king made Belteshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and the interpretation he doth show.'

<sup>13</sup> Then Daniel hath been caused to come up before the king; answered hath the king, and said to Daniel, 'Thou art that Daniel who [art] of the sons of the Removed of Judah, whom the king my father brought in out of Judah?

<sup>14</sup> And I have heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods [is] in thee, and light, and understanding, and excellent wisdom have been found in thee.

<sup>15</sup> 'And now, caused to come up before me have been the wise men, the enchanters, that this writing they may read, and its interpretation to cause me to know: and they are not able to shew the interpretation of the thing:

<sup>16</sup> and I — I have heard of thee, that thou art able to give interpretations, and to loose knots: now, lo — thou art able to read the writing, and its interpretation to cause me to know — purple thou dost put on, and a bracelet of gold [is] on thy neck, and third in the kingdom thou dost rule.'

<sup>17</sup> Then hath Daniel answered and said before the king, 'Thy gifts be to thyself, and thy fee to another give; nevertheless, the writing I do read to the king, and the interpretation I cause him to know;

<sup>18</sup> thou, O king, God Most High, a kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and honour, gave to Nebuchadnezzar thy father:

<sup>19</sup> and because of the greatness that He gave to him, all peoples, nations, and languages were trembling and fearing before him: whom he willed he was slaying, and whom he willed he was keeping alive, and whom he willed he was raising up, and whom he willed he was making low;

<sup>20</sup> and when his heart was high, and his spirit was strong to act proudly, he hath been caused to come down from the throne of his kingdom, and his glory they have caused to pass away from him,

<sup>21</sup> and from the sons of men he is driven, and his heart with the beasts hath been like, and with the wild asses [is] his dwelling; the herb like oxen they cause him to eat, and by the dew of the heavens is his body wet, till that he hath known that God Most High is ruler in the kingdom of men, and whom He willeth He raiseth up over it.

<sup>22</sup> 'And thou, his son, Belshazzar, hast not humbled thy heart, though all this thou hast known;

<sup>23</sup> and against the Lord of the heavens thou hast lifted up thyself; and the vessels of His house they have brought in before thee, and thou, and thy great men, thy wives, and thy concubines, are drinking wine with them, and gods of silver, and of gold, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone, that are not seeing, nor hearing, nor knowing, thou hast praised: and the God in whose hand [is] thy breath, and all thy ways, Him thou hast not honoured.

<sup>24</sup> 'Then from before Him sent is the extremity of the hand, and the writing is noted down;

<sup>29</sup> Then hath Belshazzar said, and they have clothed Daniel with purple, and a bracelet of gold [is] on his neck, and they have proclaimed concerning him that he is the third ruler in the kingdom.

6

<sup>1</sup> It hath been good before Darius, and he hath established over the kingdom satraps – a hundred and twenty – that they may be throughout the whole kingdom,

<sup>2</sup> and higher than they three presidents, of whom Daniel [is] first, that these satraps may give to them an account, and the king have no loss.

<sup>3</sup> Then this Daniel hath been overseer over the presidents and satraps, because that an excellent spirit [is] in him, and the king hath thought to establish him over the whole kingdom.

<sup>4</sup> Then the presidents and satraps have been seeking to find a cause of complaint against Daniel concerning the kingdom, and any cause of complaint and corruption they are not able to find, because that he [is] faithful, and any error and corruption have not been found in him.

<sup>5</sup> Then these men are saying, 'We do not find against this Daniel any cause of complaint, except we have found [it] against him in the law of his God.'

<sup>6</sup> Then these presidents and satraps have assembled near the king, and thus they are saying to him: 'O king Darius, to the ages live!

<sup>7</sup> Taken counsel have all the presidents of the kingdom, the prefects, and the satraps, the counsellors, and the governors, to establish a royal statute, and to strengthen an interdict, that any who seeketh a petition from any god and man until thirty days, save of thee, O king, is cast into a den of lions.

<sup>8</sup> Now, O king, thou dost establish the interdict, and sign the writing, that it is not to be changed, as a law of Media and Persia, that doth not pass away.'

<sup>10</sup> And Daniel, when he hath known that the writing is signed, hath gone up to his house, and the window being opened for him, in his upper chamber, over-against Jerusalem, three times in a day he is kneeling on his knees, and praying, and confessing before his God, because that he was doing [it] before this.

<sup>12</sup> then they have come near, yea, they are saying before the king concerning the king's interdict: 'Hast thou not signed an interdict, that any man who seeketh from any god and man until thirty days, save of thee, O king, is cast into a den of lions?' Answered hath the king, and said, 'The thing [is] certain as a law of Media and Persia, that doth not pass away.'

<sup>13</sup> Then they have answered, yea, they are saying before the king, that, 'Daniel, who [is] of the sons of the Removed of Judah, hath not placed on thee, O king, [any] regard, nor on the interdict that thou hast signed, and three times in a day he is seeking his petition.'

<sup>14</sup> Then the king, when he hath heard the matter, is greatly displeased at himself, and on Daniel he hath set the heart to deliver him, and till the going up of the sun he was arranging to deliver him.

<sup>15</sup> Then these men have assembled near the king, and are saying to the king, 'know, O king, that the law of Media and Persia [is]: That any interdict and statute that the king doth establish is not to be changed.'

<sup>16</sup> Then the king hath said, and they have brought Daniel, and have cast [him] into a den of lions. The king hath answered and said to Daniel, 'Thy God, whom thou art serving continually, Himself doth deliver thee.'

<sup>19</sup> Then doth the king rise in the early morning, at the light, and in haste to the den of lions he hath gone;

<sup>20</sup> and at his coming near to the den, to Daniel, with a grieved voice, he crieth. The king hath answered and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, thy God, whom thou art serving continually, is He able to deliver thee from the lions?'

<sup>22</sup> my God hath sent His messenger, and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not injured me: because that before Him purity hath been found in me; and also before thee, O king, injury I have not done.'

<sup>23</sup> Then was the king very glad for him, and he hath commanded Daniel to be taken up out of the den, and Daniel hath been taken up out of the den, and no injury hath been found in him, because he hath believed in his God.

<sup>24</sup> And the king hath said, and they have brought those men who had accused Daniel, and to the den of lions they have cast them, they, their sons, and their wives; and they have not come to the lower part of the den till that the lions have power over them, and all their bones they have broken small.

<sup>25</sup> Then Darius the king hath written to all the peoples, nations, and languages, who are dwelling in all the land: 'Your peace be great!

<sup>26</sup> From before me is made a decree, that in every dominion of my kingdom they are trembling and fearing before the God of Daniel, for He [is] the living God, and abiding to the ages, and His kingdom that which [is] not destroyed, and His dominion [is] unto the end.

<sup>27</sup> A deliverer, and rescuer, and doer of signs and wonders in the heavens and in earth [is] He who hath delivered Daniel from the paw of the lions.'

7

<sup>2</sup> Answered hath Daniel and said, 'I was seeing in my vision by night, and lo, the four winds of the heavens are coming forth to the great sea;

<sup>4</sup> The first [is] like a lion, and it hath an eagle's wings. I was seeing till that its wings have been plucked, and it hath been lifted up from the earth, and on feet as a man it hath been caused to stand, and a heart of man is given to it.

<sup>5</sup> And lo, another beast, a second, like to a bear, and to the same authority it hath been raised, and three ribs [are] in its mouth, between its teeth, and thus they are saying to it, Rise, consume much flesh.

<sup>6</sup> 'After this I was seeing, and lo, another like a leopard, and it hath four wings of a fowl on its back, and four heads hath the beast, and dominion is given to it.

<sup>7</sup> 'After this I was seeing in the visions of the night, and lo, a fourth beast, terrible and fearful, and exceedingly strong; and it hath iron teeth very great, it hath consumed, yea, it doth break small, and the remnant with its feet it hath trampled; and it [is] diverse from all the beasts that [are] before it; and it hath ten horns.

<sup>8</sup> 'I was considering about the horns, and lo, another horn, a little one, hath come up between them, and three of the first horns have been eradicated from before it, and lo, eyes as the eyes of man [are] in this horn, and a mouth speaking great things.

<sup>11</sup> 'I was seeing, then, because of the voice of the great words that the horn is speaking, I was seeing till that the beast is slain, and his body hath been destroyed, and given to the burning fire;

<sup>12</sup> and the rest of the beasts have caused their dominion to pass away, and a prolongation in life is given to them, till a season and a time.

<sup>13</sup> 'I was seeing in the visions of the night, and lo, with the clouds of the heavens as a son of man was [one] coming, and unto the Ancient of Days he hath come, and before Him they have brought him near.

<sup>14</sup> And to him is given dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, and all peoples, nations, and languages do serve him, his dominion [is] a dominion age-during, that passeth not away, and his kingdom that which is not destroyed.

<sup>15</sup> 'Pierced hath been my spirit — I, Daniel — in the midst of the sheath, and the visions of my head trouble me;

<sup>16</sup> I have drawn near unto one of those standing, and the certainty I seek from him of all this; and he hath said to me, yea, the interpretation of the things he hath caused me to know:

<sup>17</sup> 'These great beasts, that [are] four, [are] four kings, they rise up from the earth;

<sup>18</sup> and receive the kingdom do the saints of the Most High, and they strengthen the kingdom unto the age, even unto the age of the ages.

<sup>19</sup> 'Then I wished for certainty concerning the fourth beast, that was diverse from them all, fearful exceedingly; its teeth of iron, and its nails of brass, it hath devoured, it doth break small, and the remnant with its feet it hath trampled;

<sup>20</sup> and concerning the ten horns that [are] in its heads, and of the other that came up, and before which three have fallen, even of that horn that hath eyes, and a mouth speaking great things, and whose appearance [is] great above its companions.

<sup>21</sup> 'I was seeing, and this horn is making war with the saints, and hath prevailed over them,

<sup>22</sup> till that the Ancient of Days hath come, and judgment is given to the saints of the Most High, and the time hath come, and the saints have strengthened the kingdom.

<sup>23</sup> 'Thus he said: The fourth beast is the fourth kingdom in the earth, that is diverse from all kingdoms, and it consumeth all the earth, and treadeth it down, and breaketh it small.

<sup>24</sup> And the ten horns out of the kingdom [are] ten kings, they rise, and another doth rise after them, and it is diverse from the former, and three kings it humbleth;

<sup>25</sup> and words as an adversary of the Most High it doth speak, and the saints of the Most High it doth wear out, and it hopeth to change seasons and law; and they are given into its hand, till a time, and times, and a division of a time.

<sup>26</sup> 'And the Judge is seated, and its dominion they cause to pass away, to cut off, and to destroy — unto the end;

<sup>27</sup> and the kingdom, and the dominion, even the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heavens, is given to the people — the saints of the Most High, His kingdom [is] a kingdom age-during, and all dominions do serve and obey Him.

<sup>28</sup> 'Hitherto [is] the end of the matter. I, Daniel, greatly do my thoughts trouble me, and my countenance is changed on me, and the matter in my heart I have kept.

8

<sup>1</sup> 'In the third year of the reign of Belshazzar the king, a vision hath appeared unto me — I Daniel — after that which had appeared unto me at the beginning.

<sup>2</sup> And I see in a vision, and it cometh to pass, in my seeing, and I [am] in Shushan the palace that [is] in Elam the province, and I see in a vision, and I have been by the stream Ulai.

<sup>3</sup> And I lift up mine eyes, and look, and lo, a certain ram is standing before the stream, and it hath two horns, and the two horns [are] high; and the one [is] higher than the other, and the high one is coming up last.

<sup>4</sup> I have seen the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward, and no living creatures do stand before it, and there is none delivering out of its hand, and it hath done according to its pleasure, and hath exerted itself.

<sup>5</sup> 'And I have been considering, and lo, a young he-goat hath come from the west, over the face of the whole earth, whom none is touching in the earth; as to the young he-goat, a conspicuous horn [is] between its eyes.

<sup>6</sup> And it cometh unto the ram possessing the two horns, that I had seen standing before the stream, and runneth unto it in the fury of its power.

<sup>7</sup> And I have seen it coming near the ram, and it becometh embittered at it, and smiteth the ram, and breaketh its two horns, and there hath been no power in the ram to stand before it, and it casteth it to the earth, and trampleth it down, and there hath been no deliverer to the ram out of its power.

<sup>8</sup> 'And the young he-goat hath exerted itself very much, and when it is strong, broken hath been the great horn; and come up doth a vision of four in its place, at the four winds of the heavens.

<sup>9</sup> And from the one of them come forth hath a little horn, and it exerteth itself greatly toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the beauteous [land];

<sup>10</sup> yea, it exerteth unto the host of the heavens, and causeth to fall to the earth of the host, and of the stars, and trampleth them down.

<sup>11</sup> And unto the prince of the host it exerteth itself, and by it taken away hath been the continual [sacrifice], and thrown down the base of his sanctuary.

<sup>12</sup> And the host is given up, with the continual [sacrifice], through transgression, and it throweth down truth to the earth, and it hath worked, and prospered.

<sup>13</sup> 'And I hear a certain holy one speaking, and a certain holy one saith to the wonderful numberer who is speaking: Till when [is] the vision of the continual [sacrifice], and of the transgression, an astonishment, to make both sanctuary and host a treading down?

<sup>14</sup> And he saith unto me, Till evening — morning two thousand and three hundred, then is the holy place declared right.

<sup>15</sup> 'And it cometh to pass in my seeing — I, Daniel — the vision, that I require understanding, and lo, standing over-against me [is] as the appearance of a mighty one.

<sup>16</sup> And I hear a voice of man between [the banks of] Ulai, and he calleth and saith: Gabriel, cause this [one] to understand the appearance.

<sup>17</sup> And he cometh in near my station, and at his coming in I have been afraid, and I fall on my face, and he saith unto me: Understand, son of man, for at the time of the end [is] the vision.

<sup>18</sup> And in his speaking with me, I have been in a trance on my face, on the earth; and he cometh against me, and causeth me to stand on my station,

<sup>19</sup> and saith: Lo, I — I am causing thee to know that which is in the latter end of the indignation; for, at the appointed time [is] the end.

<sup>21</sup> And the young he-goat, the hairy one, [is] the king of Javan; and the great horn that [is] between its eyes is the first king;

<sup>22</sup> and that being broken, stand up do four in its place, four kingdoms from the nation do stand up, and not in its power.

<sup>23</sup> 'And in the latter end of their kingdom, about the perfecting of the transgressors, stand up doth a king, fierce of face, and understanding hidden things;

<sup>24</sup> and his power hath been mighty, and not by his own power; and wonderful things he destroyeth, and he hath prospered, and wrought, and destroyed mighty ones, and the people of the Holy Ones.

<sup>25</sup> 'And by his understanding he hath also caused deceit to prosper in his hand, and in his heart he exerteth himself, and by ease he destroyeth many; and against the prince of princes he standeth — and without hand he is broken.

<sup>26</sup> And the appearance of the evening and of the morning, that is told, is true; and thou, hide thou the vision, for [it is] after many days.'

<sup>27</sup> And I, Daniel, have been, yea, I became sick [for] days, and I rise, and do the king's work, and am astonished at the appearance, and there is none understanding.

9

<sup>1</sup> In the first year of Darius, son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, who hath been made king over the kingdom of the Chaldeans,

<sup>2</sup> in the first year of his reign, I, Daniel, have understood by books the number of the years, (in that a word of Jehovah hath been unto Jeremiah the prophet,) concerning the fulfilling of the wastes of Jerusalem — seventy years;

<sup>3</sup> and I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek [by] prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes.

<sup>4</sup> And I pray to Jehovah my God, and confess, and say: 'I beseech Thee, O Lord God, the great and the fearful, keeping the covenant and the kindness to those loving Him, and to those keeping His commands;

<sup>5</sup> we have sinned, and done perversely, and done wickedly, and rebelled, to turn aside from Thy commands, and from Thy judgments:

<sup>6</sup> and we have not hearkened unto Thy servants, the prophets, who have spoken in Thy name unto our kings, our heads, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

<sup>7</sup> 'To Thee, O Lord, [is] the righteousness, and to us the shame of face, as [at] this day, to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, who are near, and who are far off, in all the lands whither Thou hast driven them, in their trespass that they have trespassed against Thee.

<sup>8</sup> 'O Lord, to us [is] the shame of face, to our kings, to our heads, and to our fathers, in that we have sinned against Thee.

<sup>9</sup> 'To the Lord our God [are] the mercies and the forgivenesses, for we have rebelled against Him,

<sup>10</sup> and have not hearkened to the voice of Jehovah our God, to walk in His laws, that He hath set before us by the hand of His servants the prophets;

<sup>11</sup> and all Israel have transgressed Thy law, to turn aside so as not to hearken to Thy voice; and poured on us is the execration, and the oath, that is written in the law of Moses, servant of God, because we have sinned against Him.

<sup>12</sup> 'And He confirmeth His words that He hath spoken against us, and against our judges who have judged us, to bring in upon us great evil, in that it hath not been done under the whole heavens as it hath been done in Jerusalem,

<sup>13</sup> as it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil hath come upon us, and we have not appeased the face of Jehovah our God to turn back from our iniquities, and to act wisely in Thy truth.

<sup>14</sup> And Jehovah doth watch for the evil, and bringeth it upon us, for righteous [is] Jehovah our God concerning all His works that He hath done, and we have not hearkened to His voice.

<sup>15</sup> And now, O Lord our God, who hast brought forth Thy people from the land of Egypt by a strong hand, and dost make for Thee a name as at this day, we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

<sup>16</sup> 'O Lord, according to all Thy righteous acts, let turn back, I pray Thee, Thine anger and Thy fury from Thy city Jerusalem, Thy holy mount, for by our sins, and by the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and Thy people [are] for a reproach to all our neighbours;

<sup>17</sup> and now, hearken, O our God, unto the prayer of Thy servant, and unto his supplication, and cause Thy face to shine on Thy sanctuary that [is] desolate, for the Lord's sake.

<sup>18</sup> 'Incline, O my God, Thine ear, and hear, open Thine eyes and see our desolations, and the city on which Thy name is called; for not for our righteous acts are we causing our supplications to fall before Thee, but for Thy mercies that [are] many.

<sup>19</sup> O lord, hear, O Lord, forgive; O Lord, attend and do; do not delay, for Thine own sake, O my God, for Thy name is called on Thy city, and on Thy people.'

<sup>20</sup> And while I am speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin, and the sin of my people Israel, and causing my supplication to fall before Jehovah my God, for the holy mount of my God,

<sup>21</sup> yea, while I am speaking in prayer, then that one Gabriel, whom I had seen in vision at the commencement, being caused to fly swiftly, is coming unto me at the time of the evening present.

<sup>22</sup> And he giveth understanding, and speaketh with me, and saith, 'O Daniel, now I have come forth to cause thee to consider understanding wisely;

<sup>23</sup> at the commencement of thy supplications hath the word come forth, and I have come to declare [it], for thou [art] greatly desired, and understand thou concerning the matter, and consider concerning the appearance.

<sup>24</sup> 'Seventy weeks are determined for thy people, and for thy holy city, to shut up the transgression, and to seal up sins, and to cover iniquity, and to bring in righteousness age-during, and to seal up vision and prophet, and to anoint the holy of holies.

<sup>25</sup> And thou dost know, and dost consider wisely, from the going forth of the word to restore and to build Jerusalem till Messiah the Leader [is] seven weeks, and sixty and two weeks: the broad place hath been built again, and the rampart, even in the distress of the times.

<sup>26</sup> And after the sixty and two weeks, cut off is Messiah, and the city and the holy place are not his, the Leader who hath come doth destroy the people; and its end [is] with a flood, and till the end [is] war, determined [are] desolations.

<sup>27</sup> And he hath strengthened a covenant with many – one week, and [in] the midst of the week he causeth sacrifice and present to cease, and by the wing of abominations he is making desolate, even till the consummation, and that which is determined is poured on the desolate one.'

10

<sup>1</sup> In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia, a thing is revealed to Daniel, whose name is called Belteshazzar, and the thing [is] true, and the warfare [is] great: and he hath understood the thing, and hath understanding about the appearance.

<sup>2</sup> 'In those days, I, Daniel, have been mourning three weeks of days;

<sup>3</sup> desirable bread I have not eaten, and flesh and wine hath not come in unto my mouth, and I have not anointed myself at all, till the completion of three weeks of days.

<sup>4</sup> 'And in the twenty and fourth day of the first month, I have been by the side of the great river, that [is] Hiddekel:

<sup>6</sup> and his body as a beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet as the aspect of bright brass, and the voice of his words as the voice of a multitude.

<sup>7</sup> 'And I have seen – I, Daniel, by myself – the appearance: and the men who have been with me have not seen the appearance, but a great trembling hath fallen on them, and they flee to be hidden;

<sup>8</sup> and I have been left by myself, and I see this great appearance, and there hath been no power left in me, and my honour hath been turned in me to corruption, yea, I have not retained power.

<sup>9</sup> 'And I hear the voice of his words, and when I hear the voice of his words, then I have been in a trance on my face, and my face [is] to the earth;

<sup>10</sup> and lo, a hand hath come against me, and shaketh me on my knees and the palms of my hands.

<sup>11</sup> 'And he saith unto me: Daniel, man greatly desired, attend to the words that I am speaking unto thee, and stand on thy station, for now I have been sent unto thee. 'And when he speaketh with me this word, I have stood trembling.

<sup>12</sup> And he saith unto me: Do not fear, Daniel, for from the first day that thou didst give thy heart to understand, and to humble thyself before thy God, thy words have been heard, and I have come because of thy words.

<sup>13</sup> 'And the head of the kingdom of Persia is standing over-against me twenty and one days, and lo, Michael, first of the chief heads, hath come in to help me, and I have remained there near the kings of Persia;

<sup>14</sup> and I have come to cause thee to understand that which doth happen to thy people in the latter end of the days, for yet the vision [is] after days.

<sup>15</sup> 'And when he speaketh with me about these things, I have set my face toward the earth, and have been silent;

<sup>16</sup> and lo, as the manner of the sons of men, he is striking against my lips, and I open my mouth, and I speak, and say unto him who is standing over-against me: My lord, by the appearance turned have been my pangs against me, and I have retained no power.

<sup>17</sup> And how is the servant of this my lord able to speak with this my lord? as for me, henceforth there remaineth in me no power, yea, breath hath not been left in me.

<sup>18</sup> 'And he addeth, and striketh against me, as the appearance of a man, and strengtheneth me,

<sup>19</sup> and he saith: Do not fear, O man greatly desired, peace to thee, be strong, yea, be strong; and when he speaketh with me, I have strengthened myself, and I say, Let my lord speak, for thou hast strengthened me.

<sup>20</sup> And he saith, Hast thou known why I have come unto thee? and now I turn back to fight with the head of Persia; yea, I am going forth, and lo, the head of Javan hath come;

<sup>21</sup> but I declare to thee that which is noted down in the Writing of Truth, and there is not one strengthening himself with me, concerning these, except Michael your head.

11

<sup>1</sup> 'And I, in the first year of Darius the Mede, my standing [is] for a strengthener, and for a stronghold to him;

<sup>2</sup> and, now, truth I declare to thee, Lo, yet three kings are standing for Persia, and the fourth doth become far richer than all, and according to his strength by his riches he stirreth up the whole, with the kingdom of Javan.

<sup>3</sup> And a mighty king hath stood, and he hath ruled a great dominion, and hath done according to his will;

<sup>4</sup> and according to his standing is his kingdom broken, and divided to the four winds of the heavens, and not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion that he ruled, for his kingdom is plucked up – and for others apart from these.

<sup>6</sup> 'And at the end of years they do join themselves together, and a daughter of the king of the south doth come in unto the king of the north to do upright things; and she doth not retain the power of the arm; and he doth not stand, nor his arm; and she is given up, she, and those bringing her in, and her child, and he who is strengthening her in [these] times.

<sup>9</sup> 'And the king of the south hath come into the kingdom, and turned back unto his own land;

<sup>10</sup> and his sons stir themselves up, and have gathered a multitude of great forces, and he hath certainly come in, and overflowed, and passed through, and he turneth back, and they stir themselves up unto his stronghold.

<sup>12</sup> and he hath carried away the multitude, his heart is high, and he hath caused myriads to fall, and he doth not become strong.

<sup>13</sup> 'And the king of the north hath turned back, and hath caused a multitude to stand, greater than the first, and at the end of the times a second time he doth certainly come in with a great force, and with much substance;

<sup>14</sup> and in those times many do stand up against the king of the south, and sons of the destroyers of thy people do lift themselves up to establish the vision — and they have stumbled.

<sup>16</sup> And he who is coming unto him doth according to his will, and there is none standing before him; and he standeth in the desirable land, and [it is] wholly in his hand.

<sup>17</sup> And he setteth his face to go in with the strength of his whole kingdom, and upright ones with him; and he hath wrought, and the daughter of women he giveth to him, to corrupt her; and she doth not stand, nor is for him.

<sup>19</sup> And he turneth back his face to the strongholds of his land, and hath stumbled and fallen, and is not found.

<sup>20</sup> 'And stood up on his station hath [one] causing an exactor to pass over the honour of the kingdom, and in a few days he is destroyed, and not in anger, nor in battle.

<sup>22</sup> And the arms of the flood are overflowed from before him, and are broken; and also the leader of the covenant.

<sup>23</sup> And after they join themselves unto him, he worketh deceit, and hath increased, and hath been strong by a few of the nation.

<sup>24</sup> Peaceably even into the fertile places of the province He cometh, and he hath done that which his fathers did not, nor his fathers' fathers; prey, and spoil, and substance, to them he scattereth, and against fenced places he deviseth his devices, even for a time.

<sup>25</sup> 'And he stirreth up his power and his heart against the king of the south with a great force, and the king of the south stirreth himself up to battle with a very great and mighty force, and standeth not, for they devise devices against him,

<sup>26</sup> and those eating his portion of food destroy him, and his force overfloweth, and fallen have many wounded.

<sup>27</sup> 'And both of the kings' hearts [are] to do evil, and at one table they speak lies, and it doth not prosper, for yet the end [is] at a time appointed.

<sup>28</sup> And he turneth back [to] his land with great substance, and his heart [is] against the holy covenant, and he hath wrought, and turned back to his land.

<sup>29</sup> At the appointed time he turneth back, and hath come against the south, and it is not as the former, and as the latter.

<sup>30</sup> And ships of Chittim have come in against him, and he hath been pained, and hath turned back, and hath been insolent toward the holy covenant, and hath wrought, and turned back, and he understandeth concerning those forsaking the holy covenant.

<sup>31</sup> And strong ones out of him stand up, and have polluted the sanctuary, the stronghold, and have turned aside the continual [sacrifice], and appointed the desolating abomination.

<sup>32</sup> And those acting wickedly [against] the covenant, he defileth by flatteries; and the people knowing their God are strong, and have wrought.

<sup>33</sup> And the teachers of the people give understanding to many; and they have stumbled by sword, and by flame, by captivity, and by spoil — days.

<sup>35</sup> And some of the teachers do stumble for refining by them, and for purifying, and for making white — till the end of the time, for [it is] yet for a time appointed.

<sup>36</sup> 'And the king hath done according to his will, and exalteth himself, and magnifieth himself against every god, and against the God of gods he speaketh wonderful things, and hath prospered till the indignation hath been completed, for that which is determined hath been done.

<sup>37</sup> And unto the God of his fathers he doth not attend, nor to the desire of women, yea, to any god he doth not attend, for against all he magnifieth himself.

<sup>38</sup> And to the god of strongholds, on his station, he giveth honour; yea, to a god whom his fathers knew not he giveth honour, with gold, and with silver, and with precious stone, and with desirable things.

<sup>39</sup> And he hath dealt in the fortresses of the strongholds with a strange god whom he hath acknowledged; he multiplieth honour, and hath caused them to rule over many, and the ground he apportioneth at a price.

<sup>40</sup> 'And at the time of the end, push himself forward with him doth a king of the south, and storm against him doth a king of the north, with chariot, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he hath come in to the lands, and hath overflowed, and passed over,

<sup>42</sup> 'And he sendeth forth his hand upon the lands, and the land of Egypt is not for an escape;

<sup>43</sup> and he hath ruled over treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the desirable things of Egypt, and Lubim and Cushim [are] at his steps.

<sup>44</sup> 'And reports trouble him out of the east and out of the north, and he hath gone forth in great fury to destroy, and to devote many to destruction;

<sup>45</sup> and he planteth the tents of his palace between the seas and the holy desirable mountain, and hath come unto his end, and there is no helper to him.

12

<sup>1</sup> 'And at that time stand up doth Michael, the great head, who is standing up for the sons of thy people, and there hath been a time of distress, such as hath not been since there hath been a nation till that time, and at that time do thy people escape, every one who is found written in the book.

<sup>2</sup> 'And the multitude of those sleeping in the dust of the ground do awake, some to life age-during, and some to reproaches — to abhorrence age-during.

<sup>3</sup> And those teaching do shine as the brightness of the expanse, and those justifying the multitude as stars to the age and for ever.

<sup>4</sup> And thou, O Daniel, hide the things, and seal the book till the time of the end, many do go to and fro, and knowledge is multiplied.'

<sup>6</sup> and he saith to the one clothed in linen, who [is] upon the waters of the flood, 'Till when [is] the end of these wonders?'

<sup>8</sup> And I have heard, and I do not understand, and I say, 'O my lord, what [is] the latter end of these?'

<sup>9</sup> And he saith, 'Go, Daniel; for hidden and sealed [are] the things till the time of the end;

<sup>10</sup> Purify themselves, yea, make themselves white, yea, refined are many: and the wicked have done wickedly, and none of the wicked understand, and those acting wisely do understand;

<sup>11</sup> and from the time of the turning aside of the perpetual [sacrifice], and to the giving out of the desolating abomination, [are] days a thousand, two hundred, and ninety.

<sup>13</sup> And thou, go on to the end, then thou dost rest, and dost stand in thy lot at the end of the days.'

Hosea

<sup>3</sup> And he goeth and taketh Gomer daughter of Diblaim, and she conceiveth and beareth to him a son;

<sup>4</sup> and Jehovah saith unto him, 'Call his name Jezreel, for yet a little, and I have charged the blood of Jezreel on the house of Jehu, and have caused to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel;

<sup>5</sup> and it hath come to pass in that day that I have broken the bow of Israel, in the valley of Jezreel.'

<sup>6</sup> And she conceiveth again, and beareth a daughter, and He saith to him, 'Call her name Lo-Ruhamah, for I add no more to pity the house of Israel, for I do utterly take them away;

<sup>7</sup> and the house of Judah I pity, and have saved them by Jehovah their God, and do not save them by bow, and by sword, and by battle, by horses, and by horsemen.'

<sup>8</sup> And she weaneth Lo-Ruhamah, and conceiveth, and beareth a son;

<sup>9</sup> and He saith, 'Call his name Lo-Ammi, for ye [are] not My people, and I am not for you;

<sup>10</sup> and the number of the sons of Israel hath been as the sand of the sea, that is not measured nor numbered, and it hath come to pass in the place where it is said to them, Ye [are] not My people, it is said to them, Sons of the Living God;

<sup>11</sup> and gathered have been the sons of Judah and the sons of Israel together, and they have appointed to themselves one head, and have gone up from the land, for great [is] the day of Jezreel.

<sup>3</sup> Lest I strip her naked. And have set her up as [in] the day of her birth, And have made her as a wilderness, And have set her as a dry land, And have put her to death with thirst.

<sup>5</sup> For gone a-whoring hath their mother, Acted shamefully hath their conceiver, For she hath said, I go after my lovers, Those giving my bread and my water, My wool and my flax, my oil and my drink.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore, lo, I am hedging up thy way with thorns, And I have made for her a wall, And her paths she doth not find.

<sup>7</sup> And she hath pursued her lovers, And she doth not overtake them, And hath sought them, and doth not find, And she hath said: I go, and I turn back unto My first husband, For — better to me than now.

<sup>8</sup> And she knew not that I had given to her, The corn, and the new wine, and the oil. Yea, silver I did multiply to her, And the gold they prepared for Baal.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore do I turn back, And I have taken My corn in its season, And My new wine in its appointed time, And I have taken away My wool and My flax, covering her nakedness.

<sup>11</sup> And I have caused to cease all her joy, Her festival, her new moon, and her sabbath, Even all her appointed times,

<sup>12</sup> And made desolate her vine and her fig-tree, Of which she said, A gift they [are] to me, That my lovers have given to me, And I have made them for a forest, And consumed them hath a beast of the field.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, lo, I am enticing her, And have caused her to go to the wilderness, And I have spoken unto her heart,

<sup>15</sup> And given to her her vineyards from thence, And the valley of Achor for an opening of hope, And she hath responded there as in the days of her youth, And as in the day of her coming up out of the land of Egypt.

<sup>16</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, An affirmation of Jehovah, Thou dost call Me — My husband, And dost not call Me any more — My lord.

<sup>17</sup> And I have turned aside the names of the lords from her mouth, And they are not remembered any more by their name.

<sup>18</sup> And I have made to them a covenant in that day, with the beast of the field, And with the fowl of the heavens, And the creeping thing of the ground, And bow, and sword, and war I break from off the land, And have caused them to lie down confidently.

<sup>19</sup> And I have betrothed thee to Me to the age, And betrothed thee to Me in righteousness, And in judgment, and kindness, and mercies,

<sup>21</sup> And it hath come to pass in that day, I answer — an affirmation of Jehovah, I answer the heavens, and they answer the earth.

<sup>22</sup> And the earth doth answer the corn, And the new wine, and the oil, And they answer Jezreel.

<sup>23</sup> And I have sowed her to Me in the land, And I have pitied Lo-Ruhamah, And I have said to Lo-Ammi, My people thou [art], and it saith, My God!

3

<sup>1</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me: 'Again, go, love a woman, loved of a friend, and an adulteress, like the loved of Jehovah, the sons of Israel, and they are turning unto other gods, and are lovers of grape-cakes.'

<sup>2</sup> And I buy her to me for fifteen silverlings, and a homer and a letech of barley;

<sup>3</sup> and I say unto her, 'Many days thou dost remain for Me, thou dost not go a-whoring, nor become any one's; and I also [am] for thee.'

<sup>4</sup> For many days remain do the sons of Israel without a king, and there is no prince, and there is no sacrifice, and there is no standing pillar, and there is no ephod and teraphim.

<sup>1</sup> 'Hear a word of Jehovah, sons of Israel, For a strife [is] to Jehovah with inhabitants of the land, For there is no truth, nor kindness, Nor knowledge of God, in the land,

<sup>2</sup> Swearing, and lying, and murdering, And stealing, and committing adultery — have increased, And blood against blood hath touched.

<sup>4</sup> Only, let no one strive, nor reprove a man, And thy people [are] as those striving with a priest.

<sup>5</sup> And thou hast stumbled in the day, And stumbled hath also a prophet with thee in the night, And I have cut off thy mother.

<sup>6</sup> Cut off have been My people for lack of knowledge, Because thou knowledge hast rejected, I reject thee from being priest to Me, And thou forgettest the law of thy God, I forget thy sons, I also!

<sup>7</sup> According to their abundance so they sinned against Me, Their honour into shame I change.

<sup>9</sup> And it hath been, like people, like priest, And I have charged on it its ways, And its habitual doings I return to it.

<sup>11</sup> Whoredom, and wine, and new wine, take the heart,

<sup>12</sup> My people at its staff asketh and its rod declareth to it, For a spirit of whoredoms hath caused to err, And they go a-whoring from under their God.

<sup>13</sup> On tops of the mountains they do sacrifice, And on the hills they make perfume, Under oak, and poplar, and terebinth, For good [is] its shade.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore commit whoredom do your daughters, And your spouses commit adultery, I do not see after your daughters when they commit whoredom, And after your spouses when they commit adultery, For they with the harlots are separated, And with the whores they do sacrifice, A people that doth not understand kicketh.

<sup>2</sup> And to slaughter sinners have gone deep, And I [am] a fetter to them all.

<sup>9</sup> Ephraim is for a desolation in a day of reproof, Among the tribes of Israel I have made known a sure thing.

<sup>10</sup> Princes of Judah have been as those removing a border, On them I do pour out as water My wrath.

<sup>12</sup> And I [am] as a moth to Ephraim, And as a rotten thing to the house of Judah.

<sup>13</sup> And see doth Ephraim his sickness, and Judah his wound, And Ephraim goeth unto Asshur, And sendeth unto a warlike king, And he is not able to give healing to you, Nor doth he remove from you a scar.

<sup>14</sup> For I [am] as a lion to Ephraim, And as a young lion to the house of Judah, I — I tear and go, I bear away, and there is no deliverer.

<sup>15</sup> I go — I turn back unto My place, Till that they are desolate, and have sought My face. In their distress they do seek Me speedily!

6

<sup>1</sup> 'Come, and we turn back unto Jehovah, For He hath torn, and He doth heal us, He doth smite, and He bindeth us up.

<sup>2</sup> He doth revive us after two days, In the third day He doth raise us up, And we live before Him.

<sup>3</sup> And we know — we pursue to know Jehovah, As the dawn prepared is His going forth, And He cometh in as a shower to us, As gathered rain — sprinkling earth.'

<sup>5</sup> Therefore I have hewed by prophets, I have slain them by sayings of My mouth, And My judgments to the light goeth forth.

<sup>11</sup> Also, O Judah, appointed is a harvest to thee, In My turning back [to] the captivity of My people!

7

<sup>1</sup> 'When I give healing to Israel, Then revealed is the iniquity of Ephraim, And the wickedness of Samaria, For they have wrought falsehood, And a thief doth come in, Stript off hath a troop in the street,

<sup>6</sup> For they have drawn near, As an oven [is] their heart, In their lying in wait all the night sleep doth their baker, Morning! he is burning as a flaming fire.

<sup>7</sup> All of them are warm as an oven, And they have devoured their judges, All their kings have fallen, There is none calling unto Me among them.

<sup>9</sup> Devoured have strangers his power, And he hath not known, Also old age hath sprinkled [itself] on him, And he hath not known.

<sup>10</sup> And humbled hath been the excellency of Israel to his face, And they have not turned back unto Jehovah their God, Nor have they sought Him for all this.

<sup>11</sup> And Ephraim is as a simple dove without heart, Egypt they called on — [to] Asshur they have gone.

<sup>12</sup> When they go I spread over them My net, As the fowl of the heavens I bring them down, I chastise them as their company hath heard.

<sup>13</sup> Woe to them, for they wandered from Me, Destruction to them, for they transgressed against Me, And I — I ransom them, and they have spoken lies against Me, <sup>14</sup> And have not cried unto Me with their heart, but howl on their beds, For corn and new wine they assemble themselves, They turn aside against Me.

<sup>15</sup> And I instructed — I strengthened their arms, And concerning Me they think evil!

<sup>16</sup> They turn back — not to the Most High, They have been as a deceitful bow, Fall by sword do their princes, From the insolence of their tongue, This [is] their derision in the land of Egypt!

8

<sup>1</sup> 'Unto thy mouth — a trumpet, As an eagle against the house of Jehovah, Because they transgressed My covenant, And against My law they have rebelled.

<sup>2</sup> To Me they cry, 'My God, we — Israel — have known Thee.'

<sup>4</sup> They have made kings, and not by Me, They have made princes, and I have not known, Their silver and their gold they have made to them idols, So that they are cut off.

<sup>6</sup> For even it [is] of Israel; an artificer made it, And it [is] not God, For the calf of Samaria is fragments!

<sup>7</sup> For wind they sow, and a hurricane they reap, Stalk it hath none — a shoot not yielding grain, If so be it yield — strangers do swallow it up.

<sup>8</sup> Israel hath been swallowed up, Now they have been among nations, As a vessel in which is no delight.

<sup>9</sup> For they – they have gone up [to] Asshur, A wild ass alone by himself [is] Ephraim, They have hired lovers!

<sup>11</sup> Because Ephraim did multiply altars to sin, They have been to him altars to sin.

<sup>12</sup> I write for him numerous things of My law, As a strange thing they have been reckoned.

9

<sup>3</sup> They do not abide in the land of Jehovah, And turned back hath Ephraim [to] Egypt, And in Asshur an unclean thing they eat.

<sup>4</sup> They pour not out wine to Jehovah, Nor are they sweet to Him, Their sacrifices [are] as bread of mourners to them, All eating it are unclean: For their bread [is] for themselves, It doth not come into the house of Jehovah.

<sup>7</sup> Come in have the days of inspection, Come in have the days of recompence, Israel doth know! a fool [is] the prophet, Mad [is] the man of the Spirit, Because of the abundance of thine iniquity, And great [is] the hatred.

<sup>8</sup> Ephraim is looking [away] from My God, The prophet! a snare of a fowler [is] over all his ways, Hatred [is] in the house of his God.

<sup>9</sup> They have gone deep – have done corruptly, As [in] the days of Gibeah, He doth remember their iniquity, He doth inspect their sins.

<sup>10</sup> As grapes in a wilderness I found Israel, As the first-fruit in a fig-tree, at its beginning, I have seen your fathers, They – they have gone in [to] Baal-Peor, And are separated to a shameful thing, And are become abominable like their love.

<sup>11</sup> Ephraim [is] as a fowl, Fly away doth their honour, without birth, And without womb, and without conception.

<sup>12</sup> For though they nourish their sons, I have made them childless – without man, Surely also, woe to them, when I turn aside from them.

<sup>15</sup> All their evil [is] in Gilgal, Surely there I have hated them, Because of the evil of their doings, Out of My house I do drive them, I add not to love them, all their heads [are] apostates.

<sup>17</sup> Reject them doth my God, Because they have not hearkened to Him, And they are wanderers among nations!

10

<sup>3</sup> For now they say: We have no king, Because we have not feared Jehovah, And the king — what doth he for us?

<sup>4</sup> They have spoken words, To swear falsehood in making a covenant, And flourished as a poisonous herb hath judgment, on the furrows of a field.

<sup>5</sup> For the calves of Beth-Aven fear do inhabitants of Samaria, Surely mourned on account of it hath its people, And its priests on account of it leap about, Because of its honour, for it hath removed from it,

<sup>8</sup> And destroyed have been high places of Aven, the sin of Israel. Thorn and bramble go up on their altars, And they have said to hills, Cover us, And to heights, Fall upon us.

<sup>9</sup> From the days of Gibeah thou hast sinned, O Israel, There they have stood, Not overtake them in Gibeah doth battle, Because of sons of perverseness.

<sup>10</sup> When I desire, then I do bind them, And gathered against them have peoples, When they bind themselves to their two iniquities.

<sup>11</sup> And Ephraim [is] a trained heifer — loving to thresh, And I — I have passed over on the goodness of its neck, I cause [one] to ride Ephraim, Plough doth Judah, harrow for him doth Jacob.

<sup>12</sup> Sow for yourselves in righteousness, Reap according to loving-kindness, Till for yourselves tillage of knowledge, To seek Jehovah, Till he come and shew righteousness to you.

<sup>15</sup> Thus hath Beth-El done to you, Because of the evil of your wickedness, In the dawn cut off utterly is a king of Israel!

11

<sup>1</sup> Because Israel [is] a youth, and I love him, Out of Egypt I have called for My Son.

<sup>2</sup> They have called to them rightly, They have gone from before them, To lords they do sacrifice, And to graven images they make perfume.

<sup>3</sup> And I have caused Ephraim to go on foot, Taking them by their arms, And they have not known that I strengthened them.

<sup>4</sup> With cords of man I do draw them, With thick cords of love, And I am to them as a raiser up of a yoke on their jaws, And I incline unto him — I feed [him].

<sup>5</sup> He turneth not back unto the land of Egypt, And Asshur — he [is] his king, For they have refused to return.

<sup>7</sup> And My people are hanging in suspense, about My returning, And unto the Most High they do call, Together they exalt not.

<sup>8</sup> How do I give thee up, O Ephraim? Do I deliver thee up, O Israel? How do I make thee as Admah? Do I set thee as Zeboim? Turned in Me is My heart, kindled together have been My repentings.

<sup>9</sup> I do not the fierceness of My anger, I turn not back to destroy Ephraim, For God I [am], and not a man. In thy midst the Holy One, and I enter not in enmity, <sup>10</sup> After Jehovah they go — as a lion He roareth, When He doth roar, then tremble do the sons from the west.

<sup>11</sup> They tremble as a sparrow out of Egypt, And as a dove out of the land of Asshur, And I have caused them to dwell in their own houses, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> Compassed Me with feigning hath Ephraim, And with deceit the house of Israel. And Judah again is ruling with God, And with the Holy Ones [is] faithful!

12

<sup>3</sup> In the womb he took his brother by the heel, And by his strength he was a prince with God,

<sup>4</sup> Yea, he is a prince unto the Messenger, And he overcometh [by] weeping, And he maketh supplication to Him, At Bethel He doth find him, And there He doth speak with us,

<sup>6</sup> And thou, through thy God, dost turn, Kindness and judgment keep thou, And wait on thy God continually.

<sup>8</sup> And Ephraim saith: 'Surely I have become rich, I have found wealth for myself, All my labours — they find not against me iniquity that [is] sin.'

<sup>9</sup> And I — Jehovah thy God from the land of Egypt, Again do I turn thee back into tents, As in the days of the appointed time.

<sup>10</sup> And I have spoken unto the prophets, And I have multiplied vision, And by the hand of the prophets I use similes.

<sup>11</sup> Surely Gilead [is] iniquity, Only, vanity they have been, In Gilead bullocks they have sacrificed, Also their altars [are] as heaps, on the furrows of a field.

<sup>13</sup> And by a prophet hath Jehovah brought up Israel out of Egypt, And by a prophet it hath been watched.

13

<sup>2</sup> And now do they add to sin, And make to them a molten image of their silver, By their own understanding — idols, A work of artisans — all of it, Of them they say, who [are] sacrificers among men, 'The calves let them kiss.'

<sup>3</sup> Therefore they are as a cloud of the morning, And as dew, rising early, going away, As chaff tossed about out of a floor, And as smoke out of a window.

<sup>4</sup> And I [am] Jehovah thy God from the land of Egypt, And a God besides Me thou dost not know, And a Saviour — there is none save Me.

<sup>6</sup> According to their feedings they are satiated, They have been satiated, And their heart is lifted up, Therefore they have forgotten Me, <sup>7</sup> And I am to them as a lion, As a leopard by the way I look out.

<sup>8</sup> I do meet them as a bereaved bear, And I rend the enclosure of their heart.

<sup>9</sup> And I consume them there as a lioness, A beast of the field doth rend them.

<sup>10</sup> Thou hast destroyed thyself, O Israel, But in Me [is] thy help, Where [is] thy king now — And he doth save thee in all thy cities? And thy judges of whom thou didst say, 'Give to me a king and heads?'

<sup>11</sup> I give to thee a king in Mine anger, And I take away in My wrath.

14

<sup>2</sup> Take with you words, and turn to Jehovah, Say ye unto Him: 'Take away all iniquity, and give good, And we do render the fruit of our lips.

<sup>3</sup> Asshur doth not save us, on a horse we ride not, Nor do we say any more, Our God, to the work of our hands, For in Thee find mercy doth the fatherless.'

<sup>5</sup> I am as dew to Israel, he flourisheth as a lily, And he striketh forth his roots as Lebanon.

<sup>7</sup> Return do the dwellers under his shadow, They revive [as] corn, and flourish as a vine, His memorial [is] as wine of Lebanon.

<sup>8</sup> O Ephraim, what to Me any more with idols? I — I afflicted, and I cause him to sing: 'I [am] as a green fir-tree,' From Me is thy fruit found.

<sup>9</sup> Who [is] wise, and doth understand these? Prudent, and knoweth them? For upright are the ways of Jehovah, And the righteous go on in them, And the transgressors stumble therein!

Joel

- <sup>1</sup> A word of Jehovah that hath been unto Joel, son of Pethuel:
<sup>3</sup> Concerning it to your sons talk ye, And your sons to their sons, And their sons to another generation.
<sup>5</sup> Awake, ye drunkards, and weep, And howl all drinking wine, because of the juice, For it hath been cut off from your mouth.
<sup>6</sup> For a nation hath come up on my land, Strong, and there is no number, Its teeth [are] the teeth of a lion, And it hath the jaw-teeth of a lioness.
<sup>7</sup> It hath made my vine become a desolation, And my fig-tree become a chip, It hath made it thoroughly bare, and hath cast down, Made white have been its branches.
<sup>9</sup> Cut off hath been present and libation from the house of Jehovah, Mourned have the priests, ministrants of Jehovah.
<sup>10</sup> Spoiled is the field, mourned hath the ground, For spoiled is the corn, Dried up hath been new wine, languish doth oil.
<sup>11</sup> Be ashamed, ye husbandmen, Howl, vine-dressers, for wheat and for barley, For perished hath the harvest of the field.
<sup>12</sup> The vine hath been dried up, And the fig-tree doth languish, Pomegranate, also palm, and apple-tree, All trees of the field have withered, For dried up hath been joy from the sons of men.
<sup>13</sup> Gird, and lament, ye priests, Howl, ye ministrants of the altar, Come in, lodge in sackcloth, ministrants of my God, For withheld from the house of your God hath been present and libation.
<sup>14</sup> Sanctify a fast, proclaim a restraint, Gather the elders — all the inhabitants of the land, [Into] the house of Jehovah your God,
<sup>15</sup> And cry unto Jehovah, 'Alas for the day! For near [is] a day of Jehovah, And as destruction from the mighty it cometh.
<sup>16</sup> Is not before our eyes food cut off? From the house of our God joy and rejoicing?
<sup>17</sup> Rotted have scattered things under their clods, Desolated have been storehouses, Broken down have been granaries, For withered hath the corn.
<sup>18</sup> How have cattle sighed! Perplexed have been droves of oxen, For there is no pasture for them, Also droves of sheep have been desolated.
<sup>20</sup> Also the cattle of the field long for Thee, For dried up have been streams of water, And fire hath consumed comely places of a wilderness!'

2

- <sup>1</sup> Blow ye a trumpet in Zion, And shout ye in My holy hill, Tremble do all inhabitants of the earth, For coming is the day of Jehovah, for [it is] near!
<sup>2</sup> A day of darkness and thick darkness, A day of cloud and thick darkness, As darkness spread on the mountains, A people numerous and mighty, Like it there hath not been from of old, And after it there is not again – till the years of generation and generation.

<sup>3</sup> Before it consumed hath fire, And after it burn doth a flame, As the garden of Eden [is] the land before it, And after it a wilderness – a desolation! And also an escape there hath not been to it,

<sup>8</sup> And each his brother they press not, Each in his way they go on, If by the missile they fall, they are not cut off.

<sup>9</sup> In the city they run to and fro, On the wall they run, Into houses they go up by the windows, They go in as a thief.

<sup>10</sup> At their face trembled hath the earth, Shaken have the heavens, Sun and moon have been black, And stars have gathered up their shining.

<sup>12</sup> And also now – an affirmation of Jehovah, Turn ye back unto Me with all your heart, And with fasting, and with weeping, And with lamentation.

<sup>13</sup> And rend your heart, and not your garments, And turn back unto Jehovah your God, For gracious and merciful [is] He, Slow to anger, and abundant in kindness, And He hath repented concerning the evil.

<sup>17</sup> Between the porch and the altar weep let the priests, ministrants of Jehovah, And let them say: 'Have pity, O Jehovah, on Thy people, And give not Thy inheritance to reproach, To the ruling over them of nations, Why do they say among peoples, Where [is] their God?'

<sup>19</sup> Let Jehovah answer and say to His people, 'Lo, I am sending to you the corn, And the new wine, and the oil, And ye have been satisfied with it, And I make you no more a reproach among nations, <sup>20</sup> And the northern I put far off from you, And have driven him unto a land dry and desolate, With his face unto the eastern sea, And his rear unto the western sea, And come up hath his stink, And come up doth his stench, For he hath exerted himself to work.

<sup>22</sup> Do not fear, O cattle of the field! For sprung forth have pastures of a wilderness, For the tree hath borne its fruit, Fig-tree and vine have given their strength!

<sup>23</sup> And ye sons of Zion, joy and rejoice, In Jehovah your God, For He hath given to you the Teacher for righteousness, And causeth to come down to you a shower, Sprinkling and gathered – in the beginning.

<sup>24</sup> And full have been the floors [with] pure corn, And overflown have the presses [with] new wine and oil.

<sup>25</sup> And I have recompensed to you the years That consume did the locust, the cankerworm, And the caterpillar, and the palmer-worm, My great force that I did send against you.

<sup>26</sup> And ye have eaten, eating and being satisfied, And have praised the name of Jehovah your God, Who hath dealt with you wonderfully, And not ashamed are My people to the age.

<sup>27</sup> And ye have known that in the midst of Israel [am] I, And I [am] Jehovah your God, and there is none else, And not ashamed are My people to the age.

<sup>28</sup> And it hath come to pass afterwards, I do pour out My Spirit on all flesh, And prophesied have your sons and your daughters, Your old men do dream dreams, Your young men do see visions.

<sup>29</sup> And also on the men-servants, and on the maid-servants, In those days I do pour out My Spirit.

<sup>30</sup> And I have given wonders in the heavens, and in the earth, Blood and fire, and columns of smoke.

<sup>31</sup> The sun is turned to darkness, and the moon to blood, Before the coming of the day of Jehovah, The great and the fearful.

<sup>32</sup> And it hath come to pass, Every one who calleth in the name of Jehovah is delivered, For in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there is an escape, As Jehovah hath said, And among the remnants whom Jehovah is calling!

3

<sup>1</sup> For lo, in those days, and in that time, When I turn back [to] the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem,

<sup>2</sup> Then I have gathered all the nations, And caused them to go down unto the valley of Jehoshaphat, And I have been judged with them there, Concerning My people and Mine inheritance – Israel, Whom they scattered among nations, And My land they have apportioned.

<sup>3</sup> And for My people they do cast a lot, And they give the young man for an harlot, And the young woman have sold for wine, That they may drink.

<sup>4</sup> And also, what [are] ye to Me, O Tyre and Zidon, And all circuits of Philistia? Recompence are ye rendering unto Me? And if ye are giving recompence to Me, Swiftly, hastily, I turn back your recompence on your head.

<sup>5</sup> In that My silver and My gold ye took, And My desirable things that are good, Ye have brought in to your temples.

<sup>6</sup> And sons of Judah, and sons of Jerusalem, Ye have sold to the sons of Javan, To put them far off from their border.

<sup>7</sup> Lo, I am stirring them up out of the place Whither ye have sold them, And I have turned back your recompence on your head, <sup>8</sup> And have sold your sons and your daughters Into the hand of the sons of Judah, And they have sold them to Shabeans, Unto a nation far off, for Jehovah hath spoken.

<sup>9</sup> Proclaim ye this among nations, Sanctify a war, stir up the mighty ones, Come nigh, come up, let all the men of war.

<sup>10</sup> Beat your ploughshares to swords, And your pruning-hooks to javelins, Let the weak say, 'I [am] mighty.'

<sup>14</sup> Multitudes, multitudes [are] in the valley of decision, For near [is] the day of Jehovah in the valley of decision.

<sup>16</sup> And Jehovah from Zion doth roar, And from Jerusalem giveth forth His voice, And shaken have the heavens and earth, And Jehovah [is] a refuge to his people, And a stronghold to sons of Israel.

<sup>17</sup> And ye have known that I [am] Jehovah your God, Dwelling in Zion, My holy mountain, And Jerusalem hath been holy, And strangers do not pass over into it again.

<sup>18</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, Drop down do the mountains juice, And the hills do flow [with] milk, And all streams of Judah do go [with] water, And a fountain from the house of Jehovah goeth forth, And hath watered the valley of Shittim.

<sup>21</sup> And I have declared their blood innocent, [That] I did not declare innocent, And Jehovah is dwelling in Zion!

Amos

<sup>3</sup> And thus said Jehovah: For three transgressions of Damascus, And for four, I do not reverse it, Because of their threshing Gilead with sharp-pointed irons, <sup>4</sup> And I have sent a fire against the house of Hazael, And it hath consumed the palaces of Ben-Hadad.

<sup>5</sup> And I have broken the bar of Damascus, And cut off the inhabitant from Bikat-Aven, And a holder of a sceptre from Beth-Eden, And removed have been the people of Aram to Kir, said Jehovah.

<sup>6</sup> Thus said Jehovah: For three transgressions of Gaza, And for four, I do not reverse it, Because of their removing a complete captivity, To deliver up to Edom,

<sup>7</sup> And I have sent a fire against the wall of Gaza, And it hath consumed her palaces;

<sup>8</sup> And I have cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, And a holder of a sceptre from Ashkelon, And have turned back My hand against Ekron, And perished have the remnant of the Philistines, Said the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>9</sup> Thus said Jehovah: For three transgressions of Tyre, And for four, I do not reverse it, Because of their delivering up a complete captivity to Edom, And they remembered not the brotherly covenant,

<sup>11</sup> Thus said Jehovah: For three transgressions of Edom, And for four, I do not reverse it, Because of his pursuing with a sword his brother, And he hath destroyed his mercies, And tear perpetually doth his anger, And his wrath — he hath kept it for ever,

2

<sup>3</sup> And I have cut off a judge from her midst, And all its heads I slay with him, said Jehovah.

<sup>4</sup> Thus said Jehovah: For three transgressions of Judah, And for four, I do not reserve it, Because of their loathing the law of Jehovah, And His statutes they have not kept, And their lies do cause them to err, After which their fathers did walk,

<sup>5</sup> And I have sent a fire against Judah, And it hath consumed palaces of Jerusalem.

<sup>6</sup> Thus said Jehovah: For three transgressions of Israel, And for four, I do not reverse it, Because of their selling for silver the righteous, And the needy for a pair of sandals.

<sup>7</sup> Who are panting for the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, And the way of the humble they turn aside, And a man and his father go unto the damsel, So as to pollute My holy name.

<sup>8</sup> And on pledged garments they stretch themselves near every altar, And the wine of fined ones they drink [in] the house of their gods.

<sup>9</sup> And I — I have destroyed the Amorite from before them, Whose height [is] as the height of cedars, And strong he [is] as the oaks, And I destroy his fruit from above, And his roots from beneath.

<sup>10</sup> And I — I have brought you up from the land of Egypt, And cause you to go in a wilderness forty years, To possess the land of the Amorite.

<sup>11</sup> And I raise of your sons for prophets, And of your choice ones for Nazarites, Is not this true, O sons of Israel? An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> And ye cause the Nazarites to drink wine, And on the prophets ye have laid a charge, Saying, 'Do not prophecy!'

<sup>14</sup> And perished hath refuge from the swift, And the strong strengtheneth not his power, And the mighty delivereth not his soul.

<sup>15</sup> And the handler of the bow standeth not, And the swift with his feet delivereth not [himself], And the rider of the horse delivereth not his soul.

<sup>16</sup> And the courageous of heart among the mighty, Naked doth flee in that day, An affirmation of Jehovah!

3

<sup>2</sup> Only you I have known of all families of the land, Therefore I charge on you all your iniquities.

<sup>3</sup> Do two walk together if they have not met?

<sup>10</sup> And they have not known to act straightforwardly, An affirmation of Jehovah, Who are treasuring up violence and spoil in their palaces.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore, thus said the Lord Jehovah: An adversary – and surrounding the land, And he hath brought down from thee thy strength, And spoiled have been thy palaces.

<sup>12</sup> Thus said Jehovah: As the shepherd delivereth from the lion's mouth Two legs, or a piece of an ear, So delivered are the sons of Israel, Who are sitting in Samaria on the corner of a bed, And in Damascus [on that of] a couch.

<sup>13</sup> Hear ye and testify to the house of Jacob, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, God of Hosts.

<sup>14</sup> For in the day of My charging the transgressions of Israel on him, I have laid a charge on the altars of Beth-El, And cut off have been the horns of the altar, And they have fallen to the earth.

<sup>15</sup> And I have smitten the winter-house with the summer-house, And perished have houses of ivory, And consumed have been many houses, An affirmation of Jehovah!

4

<sup>5</sup> And perfume with leaven a thank-offering, And proclaim willing gifts, sound ye! For so ye have loved, O sons of Israel, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah.

<sup>6</sup> And I also – I have given to you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, And lack of bread in all your places, And ye have not turned back unto Me, an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>7</sup> And I also – I have withheld from you the rain. While yet three months to harvest, And I have sent rain on one city, And on another city I do not send rain, One portion is rained on, And the portion on which it raineth not withereth.

<sup>8</sup> And wandered have two or three cities, Unto the same city to drink water, And they are not satisfied, And ye have not turned back unto Me, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>9</sup> I have smitten you with blasting and with mildew, The abundance of your gardens and of your vineyards, And of your figs, and of your olives, Eat doth the palmer-worm, And ye have not turned back unto Me, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>10</sup> I have sent among you pestilence by the way of Egypt, I have slain by sword your choice ones, With your captive horses, And I cause the stink of your camps to come up — even into your nostrils, And ye have not turned back unto Me, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>11</sup> I have overturned among you, Like the overturn by God of Sodom and Gomorrah, And ye are as a brand delivered from a burning, And ye have not turned back unto Me, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, thus I do to thee, O Israel, at last, Because this I do to thee, Prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.

<sup>13</sup> For, lo, the former of mountains, and creator of wind, And the declarer to man what [is] His thought, He is making dawn obscurity, And is treading on high places of earth, Jehovah, God of Hosts, [is] His name!

5

<sup>3</sup> For thus said the Lord Jehovah: The city that is going out a thousand, Doth leave an hundred, And that which is going out an hundred, Doth leave ten to the house of Israel.

<sup>4</sup> For thus said Jehovah to the house of Israel: Seek ye Me, and live, <sup>5</sup> And seek not Beth-El, and Gilgal enter not, And Beer-Sheba pass not through, For Gilgal doth utterly remove, And Beth-El doth become vanity.

<sup>6</sup> Seek ye Jehovah, and live, Lest He prosper as fire [against] the house of Joseph, And it hath consumed, And there is no quencher for Beth-El.

<sup>7</sup> Ye who are turning to wormwood judgment, And righteousness to the earth have put down,

<sup>8</sup> The maker of Kimah and Kesil, And the turner to morning of death-shade, And day [as] night He hath made dark, Who is calling to the waters of the sea, And poureth them on the face of the earth, Jehovah [is] His name;

<sup>13</sup> Therefore is the wise at that time silent, For an evil time it [is].

<sup>14</sup> Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live, And it is so; Jehovah, God of Hosts, [is] with you, as ye said.

<sup>15</sup> Hate evil, and love good, And set up judgment in the gate, It may be Jehovah, God of Hosts, doth pity the remnant of Joseph.

<sup>16</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah, God of Hosts, the Lord, In all broad places [is] lamentation, And in all out-places they say, 'Alas, alas,' And called the husbandman to mourning, And to lamentation the skilful of wailing.

<sup>17</sup> And in all vineyards [is] lamentation, For I pass into thy midst, said Jehovah.

<sup>18</sup> Ho, ye who are desiring the day of Jehovah, Why [is] this to you — the day of Jehovah? It is darkness, and not light, <sup>19</sup> As [when] one fleeth from the face of the lion, And the bear hath met him, And he hath come in to the house, And hath leant his hand on the wall, And the serpent hath bitten him.

<sup>20</sup> Is not the day of Jehovah darkness and not light, Even thick darkness that hath no brightness?

<sup>21</sup> I have hated — I have loathed your festivals, And I am not refreshed by your restraints.

<sup>22</sup> For though ye cause burnt-offerings and your presents to ascend to Me, I am not pleased, And the peace-offering of your fatlings I behold not.

<sup>23</sup> Turn aside from Me the noise of thy songs, Yea, the praise of thy psaltery I hear not.

<sup>25</sup> Sacrifices and offering did ye bring nigh to Me, In a wilderness forty years, O house of Israel?

<sup>26</sup> And ye bare Succoth your king, and Chiun your images, The star of your god, that ye made for yourselves.

6

<sup>1</sup> Woe [to] those secure in Zion, And those confident in the mount of Samaria, The marked of the chief of the nations, And come to them have the house of Israel.

<sup>3</sup> Who are putting away the day of evil, And ye bring nigh the seat of violence,

<sup>5</sup> Who are taking part according to the psaltery, Like David they invented for themselves instruments of music;

<sup>7</sup> Therefore now they remove at the head of the captives, And turned aside is the mourning-feast of stretched-out ones.

<sup>8</sup> Sworn hath the Lord Jehovah by Himself, An affirmation of Jehovah, God of Hosts: I am abominating the excellency of Jacob, And his high places I have hated, And I have delivered up the city and its fulness.

<sup>9</sup> And if there are left ten persons in one house, It hath come to pass — that they have died.

<sup>10</sup> And lifted him up hath his loved one, even his burner, To bring forth the bones from the house, And he said to him who [is] in the sides of the house, 'Is there yet with thee?' And he said, 'None,' then he said, 'Hush! Save to make mention of the name of Jehovah.'

<sup>11</sup> For lo, Jehovah is commanding, And He hath smitten the great house [with] breaches, And the little house [with] clefts.

<sup>13</sup> O ye who are rejoicing at nothing, Who are saying, 'Have we not by our strength taken to ourselves horns?'

<sup>14</sup> Surely, lo, I am raising against you a nation, O house of Israel, An affirmation of Jehovah, God of Hosts, And they have oppressed you from the coming in to Hamath, Unto the stream of the desert.

7

<sup>2</sup> and it hath come to pass, when it hath finished to consume the herb of the land, that I say: 'Lord Jehovah, forgive, I pray Thee, How doth Jacob arise — for he [is] small?'

<sup>4</sup> Thus hath the Lord Jehovah shewed me, and lo, the Lord Jehovah is calling to contend by fire, and it consumeth the great deep, yea, it hath consumed the portion, and I say:

<sup>7</sup> Thus hath He shewed me, and lo, the Lord is standing by a wall [made according to] a plumb-line, and in His hand a plumb-line;

<sup>8</sup> and Jehovah saith unto me, 'What art thou seeing, Amos?' And I say, 'A plumb-line;' and the Lord saith: 'Lo, I am setting a plumb-line in the midst of My people Israel, I do not add any more to pass over to it.'

<sup>9</sup> And desolated have been high places of Isaac, And sanctuaries of Israel are wasted, And I have risen against the house of Jeroboam with a sword.'

<sup>10</sup> And Amaziah priest of Beth-El sendeth unto Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, 'Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel; the land is not able to bear all his words,

<sup>11</sup> for thus said Amos: By sword die doth Jeroboam, And Israel certainly removeth from off its land.'

<sup>13</sup> and [at] Beth-El do not add to prophesy any more, for it [is] the king's sanctuary, and it [is] the royal house.'

<sup>14</sup> And Amos answereth and saith unto Amaziah, 'I [am] no prophet, nor a prophet's son [am] I, but a herdsman I [am], and a cultivator of sycamores,

<sup>15</sup> and Jehovah taketh me from after the flock, and Jehovah saith unto me, Go, prophesy unto My people Israel.'

<sup>16</sup> And now, hear a word of Jehovah: thou art saying, Do not prophesy against Israel, nor drop [any thing] against the house of Isaac,

<sup>17</sup> therefore thus said Jehovah: Thy wife in the city doth go a-whoring, And thy sons and thy daughters by sword do fall, And thy land by line is apportioned, And thou on an unclean land diest, And Israel certainly removeth from off its land.'

8

<sup>2</sup> And He saith, 'What art thou seeing, Amos?' and I say, 'A basket of summer-fruit.' And Jehovah saith unto me: 'The end hath come unto My people Israel, I do not add any more to pass over to it.'

<sup>3</sup> And howled have songstresses of a palace in that day, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, Many [are] the carcasses, into any place throw — hush!

<sup>4</sup> Hear this, ye who are swallowing up the needy, To cause to cease the poor of the land,

<sup>5</sup> Saying, When doth the new moon pass, And we sell ground corn? And the sabbath, and we open out pure corn? To make little the ephah, And to make great the shekel, And to use perversely balances of deceit.

<sup>6</sup> To purchase with money the poor, And the needy for a pair of sandals, Yea, the refuse of the pure corn we sell.

<sup>8</sup> For this doth not the land tremble, And mourned hath every dweller in it? And come up as a flood hath all of it. And it hath been cast out, and hath sunk, Like the flood of Egypt.

<sup>9</sup> And it hath come to pass in that day, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, I have caused the sun to go in at noon, And caused darkness on the land in a day of light, <sup>10</sup> And have turned your festivals to mourning, And all your songs to lamentation, And caused sackcloth to come up on all loins, And on every head — baldness, And made it as a mourning [of] an only one, And its latter end as a day of bitterness.

<sup>11</sup> Lo, days are coming, An affirmation of the Lord Jehovah, And I have sent a famine into the land, Not a famine of bread, nor a thirst of water But of hearing the words of Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> And they have wandered from sea unto sea, And from north even unto east, They go to and fro to seek the word of Jehovah, And they do not find.

<sup>13</sup> In that day faint do the fair virgins, And the young men, with thirst.

<sup>14</sup> Those swearing by the guilt of Samaria, And have said, Live doth thy god, O Dan, And, Live doth the way of Beer-Sheba, And they have fallen — and rise not again!

9

<sup>2</sup> If they dig through into sheol, From thence doth My hand take them, And if they go up the heavens, From thence I cause them to come down.

<sup>3</sup> And if they be hid in the top of Carmel, From thence I search out, and have taken them, And if they be hid from Mine eyes in the bottom of the sea, From thence I command the serpent, And it hath bitten them.

<sup>4</sup> And if they go into captivity before their enemies, From thence I command the sword, And it hath slain them, And I have set Mine eye on them for evil, And not for good.

<sup>5</sup> And [it is] the Lord, Jehovah of Hosts, Who is striking against the land, and it melteth, And mourned have all the inhabitants in it, And come up as a flood hath all of it, And it hath sunk — like the flood of Egypt.

<sup>6</sup> Who is building in the heavens His upper chambers; As to His troop, Upon earth He hath founded it, Who is calling for the waters of the sea, And poureth them out on the face of the land, Jehovah [is] His name.

<sup>7</sup> As sons of Cushim are ye not to Me? O sons of Israel — an affirmation of Jehovah. Israel did I not bring up out of the land of Egypt? And the Philistines from Caphtor, and Aram from Kir?

<sup>8</sup> Lo, the eyes of the Lord Jehovah [are] on the sinful kingdom, And I have destroyed it from off the face of the ground, Only, I destroy not utterly the house of Jacob, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>9</sup> For lo, I am commanding, And I have shaken among all the nations the house of Israel, As [one] doth shake with a sieve, And there falleth not a grain [to] the earth.

<sup>10</sup> By sword die do all sinners of My people, Who are saying, 'Not overtake, or go before, For our sakes, doth evil.'

<sup>11</sup> In that day I raise the tabernacle of David, that is fallen, And I have repaired their breaches, And its ruins I do raise up, And I have built it up as in days of old.

<sup>12</sup> So that they possess the remnant of Edom, And all the nations on whom My name is called, An affirmation of Jehovah — doer of this.

<sup>13</sup> Lo, days are coming — an affirmation of Jehovah, And come nigh hath the ploughman to the reaper, And the treader of grapes to the scatterer of seed, And the mountains have dropped juice, And all the hills do melt.

<sup>14</sup> And I have turned back [to] the captivity of My people Israel, And they have built desolate cities, and inhabited, And have planted vineyards, and drunk their wine, And made gardens, and eaten their fruit.

<sup>15</sup> And I have planted them on their own ground, And they are not plucked up any more from off their own ground, That I have given to them, said Jehovah thy God!

Obadiah

<sup>1</sup> Thus said the Lord Jehovah to Edom, A report we have heard from Jehovah, And an ambassador among nations was sent, 'Rise, yea, let us rise against her for battle.'

<sup>3</sup> The pride of thy heart hath lifted thee up, O dweller in clifts of a rock, (A high place [is] his habitation, He is saying in his heart, 'Who doth bring me down [to] earth?')

<sup>4</sup> If thou dost go up high as an eagle, And if between stars thou dost set thy nest, From thence I bring thee down, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>5</sup> If thieves have come in to thee, If spoilers of the night, How hast thou been cut off! Do they not steal their sufficiency? If gatherers have come in to thee, Do they not leave gleanings?

<sup>7</sup> Unto the border sent thee have all thine allies, Forgotten thee, prevailed over thee, have thy friends, Thy bread they make a snare under thee, There is no understanding in him!

<sup>8</sup> Is it not in that day – an affirmation of Jehovah, That I have destroyed the wise out of Edom, And understanding out of the mount of Esau?

<sup>15</sup> For near [is] the day of Jehovah, on all the nations, As thou hast done, it is done to thee, Thy deed doth turn back on thine own head.

<sup>16</sup> For – as ye have drunk on My holy mount, Drink do all the nations continually, And they have drunk and have swallowed, And they have been as they have not been.

<sup>17</sup> And in mount Zion there is an escape, And it hath been holy, And the house of Jacob have possessed their possessions.

<sup>18</sup> And the house of Jacob hath been a fire, And the house of Joseph a flame, And the house of Esau for stubble, And they have burned among them, And they have consumed them, And there is not a remnant to the house of Esau, For Jehovah hath spoken.

<sup>19</sup> And they have possessed the south with the mount of Esau, And the low country with the Philistines, And they have possessed the field of Ephraim, And the field of Samaria, And Benjamin with Gilead.

<sup>20</sup> And the removed of this force of the sons of Israel, That [is with] the Canaanites unto Zarephat, And the removed of Jerusalem that [is] with the Sepharad, Possess the cities of the south.

<sup>21</sup> And gone up have saviours on mount Zion, To judge the mount of Esau, And the kingdom hath been to Jehovah!

Jonah

- <sup>1</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto Jonah son of Amittai, saying:
- <sup>2</sup> 'Rise, go unto Nineveh, the great city, and proclaim against it that their wickedness hath come up before Me.'
- <sup>3</sup> And Jonah riseth to flee to Tarshish from the face of Jehovah, and goeth down [to] Joppa, and findeth a ship going [to] Tarshish, and he giveth its fare, and goeth down into it, to go with them to Tarshish from the face of Jehovah.
- <sup>4</sup> And Jehovah hath cast a great wind on the sea, and there is a great tempest in the sea, and the ship hath reckoned to be broken;
- <sup>5</sup> and the mariners are afraid, and cry each unto his god, and cast the goods that [are] in the ship into the sea, to make [it] light of them; and Jonah hath gone down unto the sides of the vessel, and he lieth down, and is fast asleep.
- <sup>6</sup> And the chief of the company draweth near to him, and saith to him, 'What — to thee, O sleeper? rise, call unto thy God, it may be God doth bethink himself of us, and we do not perish.'
- <sup>7</sup> And they say each unto his neighbour, 'Come, and we cast lots, and we know on whose account this evil [is] on us.' And they cast lots, and the lot falleth on Jonah.
- <sup>8</sup> And they say unto him, 'Declare to us, we pray thee, on what account this evil [is] on us? what [is] thine occupation, and whence comest thou? what [is] thy country, seeing thou art not of this people?'
- <sup>9</sup> And he saith unto them, 'A Hebrew I [am], and Jehovah, God of the heavens, I am reverencing, who made the sea and the dry land.'
- <sup>10</sup> And the men fear a great fear, and say unto him, 'What [is] this thou hast done!' for the men have known that from the face of Jehovah he is fleeing, for he hath told them.
- <sup>11</sup> And they say unto him, 'What do we do to thee that the sea may cease from us, for the sea is more and more tempestuous?'
- <sup>12</sup> And he saith unto them, 'Lift me up, and cast me into the sea, and the sea doth cease from you; for I know that on my account this great tempest [is] upon you.'
- <sup>13</sup> And the men row to turn back unto the dry land, and are not able, for the sea is more and more tempestuous against them.
- <sup>14</sup> And they cry unto Jehovah, and say, 'We pray Thee, O Jehovah, let us not, we pray Thee, perish for this man's life, and do not lay on us innocent blood, for Thou, Jehovah, as Thou hast pleased, Thou hast done.'
- <sup>15</sup> And they lift up Jonah, and cast him into the sea, and the sea ceaseth from its raging;
- <sup>16</sup> and the men fear Jehovah — a great fear, and sacrifice a sacrifice to Jehovah, and vow vows.
- <sup>17</sup> And Jehovah appointeth a great fish to swallow up Jonah, and Jonah is in the bowels of the fish three days and three nights.

- <sup>1</sup> And Jonah prayeth unto Jehovah his God from the bowels of the fish.
- <sup>2</sup> And he saith: I called, because of my distress, to Jehovah, And He doth answer me, From the belly of sheol I have cried, Thou hast heard my voice.

<sup>3</sup> When Thou dost cast me [into] the deep, Into the heart of the seas, Then the flood doth compass me, All Thy breakers and Thy billows have passed over me.

<sup>4</sup> And I — I said: I have been cast out from before Thine eyes, (Yet I add to look unto Thy holy temple!)

<sup>5</sup> Compassed me have waters unto the soul, The deep doth compass me, The weed is bound to my head.

<sup>6</sup> To the cuttings of mountains I have come down, The earth, her bars [are] behind me to the age. And Thou bringest up from the pit my life, O Jehovah my God.

<sup>7</sup> In the feebleness within me of my soul Jehovah I have remembered, And come in unto Thee doth my prayer, Unto Thy holy temple.

3

<sup>4</sup> And Jonah beginneth to go in to the city a journey of one day, and proclaimeth, and saith, 'Yet forty days — and Nineveh is overturned.'

<sup>7</sup> and he crieth and saith in Nineveh by a decree of the king and his great ones, saying, 'Man and beast, herd and flock — let them not taste anything, let them not feed, even water let them not drink;

<sup>8</sup> and cover themselves [with] sackcloth let man and beast, and let them call unto God mightily, and let them turn back each from his evil way, and from the violence that [is] in their hands.

<sup>9</sup> Who knoweth? He doth turn back, and God hath repented, and hath turned back from the heat of His anger, and we do not perish.'

<sup>10</sup> And God seeth their works, that they have turned back from their evil way, and God repenteth of the evil that He spake of doing to them, and he hath not done [it].

<sup>2</sup> and he prayeth unto Jehovah, and he saith, 'I pray Thee, O Jehovah, is not this my word while I was in mine own land — therefore I was beforehand to flee to Tarshish — that I have known that Thou [art] a God, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in kindness, and repenting of evil?

<sup>3</sup> And now, O Jehovah, take, I pray Thee, my soul from me, for better [is] my death than my life.'

<sup>5</sup> And Jonah goeth forth from the city, and sitteth on the east of the city, and maketh to himself there a booth, and sitteth under it in the shade, till that he seeth what is in the city.

<sup>7</sup> And God appointeth a worm at the going up of the dawn on the morrow, and it smiteth the gourd, and it drieth up.

<sup>8</sup> And it cometh to pass, about the rising of the sun, that God appointeth a cutting east wind, and the sun smiteth on the head of Jonah, and he wrappeth himself up, and asketh his soul to die, and saith, 'Better [is] my death than my life.'

<sup>9</sup> And God saith unto Jonah: 'Is doing good displeasing to thee, because of the gourd?' and he saith, 'To do good is displeasing to me – unto death.'

<sup>10</sup> And Jehovah saith, 'Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for which thou didst not labour, neither didst thou nourish it, which a son of a night was, and a son of a night perished,

Micah

<sup>4</sup> Melted have been the mountains under Him, And the valleys do rend themselves, As wax from the presence of fire, As waters cast down by a slope.

<sup>5</sup> For the transgression of Jacob [is] all this, And for the sins of the house of Israel. What [is] the transgression of Jacob? Is it not Samaria? And what the high places of Judah? Is it not Jerusalem?

<sup>7</sup> And all her graven images are beaten down, And all her gifts are burnt with fire, And all her idols I make a desolation, For, from the hire of a harlot she gathered, and unto the hire of a harlot they return.

<sup>8</sup> For this I lament and howl, I go spoiled and naked, I make a lamentation like dragons, And a mourning like daughters of an ostrich.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore thou givest presents to Moresheth-Gath, The houses of Achzib become a lying thing to the kings of Israel.

<sup>15</sup> Yet the possessor I do bring in to thee, O inhabitant of Mareshah, To Adullam come in doth the honour of Israel.

<sup>16</sup> Make bald and shave, for thy delightful sons, Enlarge thy baldness as an eagle, For they have removed from thee!

2

<sup>1</sup> Woe [to] those devising iniquity, And working evil on their beds, In the light of the morning they do it, For their hand is — to God.

<sup>2</sup> And they have desired fields, And they have taken violently, And houses, and they have taken away, And have oppressed a man and his house, Even a man and his inheritance.

<sup>3</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah: Lo, I am devising against this family evil, From which ye do not remove your necks, Nor walk loftily, for a time of evil it [is].

<sup>4</sup> In that day doth [one] take up for you a simile, And he hath wailed a wailing of woe, He hath said, We have been utterly spoiled, The portion of my people He doth change, How doth He move toward me! To the backslider our fields He apportioneth.

<sup>7</sup> Doth the house of Jacob say, 'Hath the Spirit of Jehovah been shortened? Are these His doings?' Do not My words benefit the people that is walking uprightly?

<sup>10</sup> Rise and go, for this [is] not the rest, Because of uncleanness it doth corrupt, And corruption is powerful.

<sup>11</sup> If one is going [with] the wind, And [with] falsehood hath lied: 'I prophesy to thee of wine, and of strong drink,' He hath been the prophet of this people!

<sup>12</sup> I do surely gather thee, O Jacob, all of thee, I surely bring together the remnant of Israel, Together I do set it as the flock of Bozrah, As a drove in the midst of its pasture, It maketh a noise because of man.

3

<sup>3</sup> And who have eaten the flesh of My people, And their skin from off them have stript, And their bones they have broken, And they have spread [them] out as in a pot, And as flesh in the midst of a caldron.

<sup>4</sup> Then do they cry unto Jehovah, And He doth not answer them, And hideth His face from them at that time, As they have made evil their doings.

<sup>5</sup> Thus said Jehovah concerning the prophets Who are causing My people to err, Who are biting with their teeth, And have cried 'Peace,' And he who doth not give unto their mouth, They have sanctified against him war.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore a night ye have without vision, And darkness ye have without divination, And gone in hath the sun on the prophets, And black over them hath been the day.

<sup>7</sup> And ashamed have been the seers, And confounded have been the diviners, And covered their lip have all of them, For their is no answer, O God.

<sup>8</sup> And yet I have been full of power by the Spirit of Jehovah, And of judgment, and of might, To declare to Jacob his transgression, And to Israel his sin.

<sup>9</sup> Hear this, I pray you, heads of the house of Jacob, And ye judges of the house of Israel, Who are making judgment abominable, And all uprightness do pervert.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, for your sake, Zion is ploughed a field, and Jerusalem is heaps, And the mount of the house [is] for high places of a forest!

4

<sup>2</sup> And gone have many nations and said, Come and we go up to the mount of Jehovah, And unto the house of the God of Jacob, And He doth teach us of His ways, And we do walk in His paths, For from Zion doth go forth a law, And a word of Jehovah from Jerusalem.

<sup>4</sup> And they have sat each under his vine, And under his fig-tree, And there is none troubling, For the mouth of Jehovah of Hosts hath spoken.

<sup>5</sup> For all the peoples do walk, Each in the name of its god — and we, We do walk in the name of Jehovah our God, To the age and for ever.

<sup>6</sup> In that day — an affirmation of Jehovah, I do gather the halting one, And the driven away one I bring together, And she whom I have afflicted.

<sup>7</sup> And I have set the halting for a remnant, And the far-off for a mighty nation, And reigned hath Jehovah over them in mount Zion, From henceforth, and unto the age.

<sup>9</sup> Now, why dost thou shout aloud? A king — is there none in thee? Hath thy counsellor perished, That taken hold of thee hath pain as a travailing woman?

<sup>10</sup> Be pained, and bring forth, O daughter of Zion, As a travailing woman, For now, thou goest forth from the city, And thou hast dwelt in the field, And thou hast gone unto Babylon, There thou art delivered, There redeem thee doth Jehovah from the hand of thine enemies.

<sup>11</sup> And now, gathered against thee have been many nations, who are saying: 'Let her be defiled, and our eyes look on Zion.'

<sup>12</sup> They have not known the thoughts of Jehovah, Nor have they understood His counsel, For He hath gathered them as a sheaf [into] a threshing-floor.

<sup>13</sup> Arise, and thresh, O daughter of Zion, For thy horn I make iron, And thy hoofs I make brass, And thou hast beaten small many peoples, And I have devoted to Jehovah their gain, And their wealth to the Lord of the whole earth!

5

<sup>3</sup> Therefore he doth give them out till the time She who bringeth forth hath brought forth, And the remnant of his brethren return to the sons of Israel.

<sup>4</sup> And he hath stood and delighted in the strength of Jehovah, In the excellency of the name of Jehovah his God, And they have remained, For now he is great unto the ends of earth.

<sup>5</sup> And this [one] hath been peace, Asshur! when he doth come into our land, And when he doth tread in our palaces, We have raised against him seven shepherds, And eight anointed of man.

<sup>6</sup> And they have afflicted the land of Asshur with the sword, And the land of Nimrod at its openings, And he hath delivered from Asshur when he doth come into our land, And when he treadeth in our borders.

<sup>7</sup> And the remnant of Jacob hath been in the midst of many peoples, As dew from Jehovah — as showers on the herb, That waiteth not for man, nor stayeth for the sons of men.

<sup>8</sup> Yea, the remnant of Jacob hath been among nations, In the midst of many peoples, As a lion among beasts of a forest, As a young lion among ranks of a flock, Which if it hath passed through, Hath both trodden down and hath torn, And there is no deliverer.

<sup>10</sup> And it hath come to pass in that day, An affirmation of Jehovah, I have cut off thy horses from thy midst, And I have destroyed thy chariots,

<sup>11</sup> And I have cut off the cities of thy land, And I have thrown down all thy fortresses,

<sup>12</sup> And have cut off sorcerers out of thy hand, And observers of clouds thou hast none.

<sup>13</sup> And I have cut off thy graven images, And thy standing-pillars out of thy midst, And thou dost not bow thyself any more To the work of thy hands.

<sup>14</sup> And I have plucked up thy shrines out of thy midst, And I have destroyed thine enemies.

<sup>15</sup> And I have done vengeance in anger and in fury, With the nations who have not hearkened!

6

<sup>3</sup> O My people, what have I done to thee? And what — have I wearied thee? Testify against Me.

<sup>4</sup> For I brought thee up from the land of Egypt, And from the house of servants I have ransomed thee, And I send before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

<sup>5</sup> O My people, remember, I pray you, What counsel did Balak king of Moab, What answer him did Balaam son of Beor, (From Shittim unto Gilgal,) In order to know the righteous acts of Jehovah.'

<sup>6</sup> With what do I come before Jehovah? Do I bow to God Most High? Do I come before Him with burnt-offerings? With calves — sons of a year?

<sup>7</sup> Is Jehovah pleased with thousands of rams? With myriads of streams of oil? Do I give my first-born [for] my transgression? The fruit of my body [for] the sin of my soul?

<sup>8</sup> He hath declared to thee, O man, what [is] good; Yea, what is Jehovah requiring of thee, Except — to do judgment, and love kindness, And lowly to walk with thy God?

<sup>10</sup> Are there yet [in] the house of the wicked Treasures of wickedness, And the abhorred scanty ephah?

<sup>13</sup> And I also, I have begun to smite thee, To make desolate, because of thy sins.

<sup>14</sup> Thou — thou eatest, and thou art not satisfied, And thy pit [is] in thy midst, And thou removest, and dost not deliver, And that which thou deliverest, to a sword I give.

<sup>15</sup> Thou — thou sowest, and thou dost not reap, Thou — thou treadest the olive, And thou pourest not out oil, And new wine — and thou drinkest not wine.

<sup>16</sup> And kept habitually are the statutes of Omri, And all the work of the house of Ahab, And ye do walk in their counsels, For My giving thee for a desolation, And its inhabitants for a hissing, And the reproach of My people ye do bear!

7

<sup>1</sup> My woe [is] to me, for I have been As gatherings of summer-fruit, As gleanings of harvest, There is no cluster to eat, The first-ripe fruit desired hath my soul.

<sup>2</sup> Perished hath the kind out of the land, And upright among men — there are none, All of them for blood lie in wait, Each his brother they hunt [with] a net.

<sup>3</sup> On the evil [are] both hands to do [it] well, The prince is asking — also the judge — for recompence, And the great — he is speaking the mischief of his soul, And they wrap it up.

<sup>5</sup> Believe not in a friend, trust not in a leader, From her who is lying in thy bosom keep the openings of thy mouth.

<sup>7</sup> And I — in Jehovah I do watch, I do wait for the God of my salvation, Hear me doth my God.

<sup>8</sup> Thou dost not rejoice over me, O mine enemy, When I have fallen, I have risen, When I sit in darkness Jehovah is a light to me.

<sup>9</sup> The indignation of Jehovah I do bear, For I have sinned against Him, Till that He doth plead my cause, And hath executed my judgment, He doth bring me forth to the light, I look on His righteousness.

<sup>12</sup> That day — even unto thee it doth come in, From Asshur and the cities of the fortress, And from the fortress even unto the river, And from sea to sea, and mount to mount.

<sup>13</sup> And the land hath been for a desolation, Because of its inhabitants, Because of the fruit of their doings.

<sup>15</sup> According to the days of thy coming forth out of the land of Egypt, I do shew it wonderful things.

<sup>16</sup> See do nations, and they are ashamed of all their might, They lay a hand on the mouth, their ears are deaf.

<sup>17</sup> They lick dust as a serpent, as fearful things of earth, They tremble from their enclosures, Of Jehovah our God they are afraid, Yea, they are afraid of Thee.

<sup>19</sup> He doth turn back, He pitieth us, He doth subdue our iniquities, And Thou castest into the depths of the sea all their sins.

<sup>20</sup> Thou givest truth to Jacob, kindness to Abraham, That thou hast sworn to our fathers, from the days of antiquity!

Nahum

<sup>4</sup> He is pushing against a sea, and drieth it up, Yea, all the floods He hath made dry, Languishing [are] Bashan and Carmel, Yea, the flower of Lebanon [is] languishing.

<sup>5</sup> Mountains have shaken because of Him, And the hills have been melted; And lifted up [is] the earth at His presence, And the world and all dwelling in it.

<sup>12</sup> Thus said Jehovah: Though complete, and thus many, Yet thus they have been cut off, And he hath passed away. And I afflicted thee, I afflict thee no more.

<sup>15</sup> Lo, on the mountains the feet of one proclaiming tidings, sounding peace! Celebrate, O Judah, thy festivals, complete thy vows, For add no more to pass over into thee doth the worthless, He hath been completely cut off!

2

<sup>5</sup> He doth remember his honourable ones, They stumble in their goings, They hasten [to] its wall, and prepared is the covering.

<sup>9</sup> Seize ye silver, seize ye gold, And there is no end to the prepared things, [To] the abundance of all desirable vessels.

<sup>10</sup> She is empty, yea, emptiness and waste, And the heart hath melted, And the knees have smitten together, And great pain [is] in all loins, And the faces of all of them have gathered paleness.

<sup>12</sup> The lion is tearing parts [for] his whelps, And is strangling for his lionesses, And he doth fill [with] prey his holes, And his habitations [with] rapine.

<sup>13</sup> Lo, I [am] against thee, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, And I have burned in smoke its chariot, And thy young lions consume doth a sword, And I have cut off from the land thy prey, And not heard any more is the voice of thy messengers!

3

<sup>3</sup> And the flame of a sword, and the lightning of a spear, And the abundance of the wounded, And the weight of carcasses, Yea, there is no end to the bodies, They stumble over their bodies.

<sup>5</sup> Lo, I [am] against thee, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, And have removed thy skirts before thy face, And have shewed nations thy nakedness, And kingdoms thy shame, <sup>6</sup> And I have cast upon thee abominations, And dishonoured thee, and made thee as a sight.

<sup>7</sup> And it hath come to pass, Each of thy beholders fleeth from thee, And hath said: 'Spoiled is Nineveh, Who doth bemoan for her?' Whence do I seek comforters for thee?

<sup>11</sup> Even thou art drunken, thou art hidden, Even thou dost seek a strong place, because of an enemy.

<sup>12</sup> All thy fortresses [are] fig-trees with first-fruits, If they are shaken, They have fallen into the mouth of the eater.

<sup>14</sup> Waters of a siege draw for thyself, Strengthen thy fortresses, Enter into mire, and tread on clay, Make strong a brick-kiln.

<sup>15</sup> There consume thee doth a fire, Cut thee off doth a sword, It doth consume thee as a cankerworm! Make thyself heavy as the cankerworm, Make thyself heavy as the locust.

<sup>17</sup> Thy crowned ones [are] as a locust, And thy princes as great grasshoppers, That encamp in hedges in a day of cold, The sun hath risen, and it doth flee away, And not known is its place where they are.

<sup>19</sup> There is no weakening of thy destruction, Grievous [is] thy smiting, All hearing thy fame have clapped the hand at thee, For over whom did not thy wickedness pass continually?

Habakkuk

- <sup>1</sup> The burden that Habakkuk the prophet hath seen:
- <sup>2</sup> Till when, O Jehovah, have I cried, And Thou dost not hear? I cry unto Thee — 'Violence,' and Thou dost not save.
- <sup>3</sup> Why dost Thou shew me iniquity, And perversity dost cause to behold? And spoiling and violence [are] before me, And there is strife, and contention doth lift [itself] up,
- <sup>4</sup> Therefore doth law cease, And judgment doth not go forth for ever, For the wicked is compassing the righteous, Therefore wrong judgment goeth forth.
- <sup>5</sup> Look ye on nations, and behold and marvel greatly. For a work He is working in your days, Ye do not believe though it is declared.
- <sup>6</sup> For, lo, I am raising up the Chaldeans, The bitter and hasty nation, That is going to the broad places of earth, To occupy tabernacles not its own.
- <sup>7</sup> Terrible and fearful it [is], From itself its judgment and its excellency go forth.
- <sup>8</sup> Swifter than leopards have been its horses, And sharper than evening wolves, And increased have its horsemen, Even its horsemen from afar come in, They fly as an eagle, hasting to consume.
- <sup>9</sup> Wholly for violence it doth come in, Their faces swallowing up the east wind, And it doth gather as the sand a captivity.
- <sup>10</sup> And at kings it doth scoff, And princes [are] a laughter to it, At every fenced place it doth laugh, And it heapeth up dust, and captureth it.
- <sup>11</sup> Then passed on hath the spirit, Yea, he doth transgress, And doth ascribe this his power to his god.
- <sup>12</sup> Art not Thou of old, O Jehovah, my God, my Holy One? We do not die, O Jehovah, For judgment Thou hast appointed it, And, O Rock, for reproof Thou hast founded it.
- <sup>13</sup> Purer of eyes than to behold evil, To look on perverseness Thou art not able, Why dost Thou behold the treacherous? Thou keepest silent when the wicked Doth swallow the more righteous than he,
- <sup>14</sup> And Thou makest man as fishes of the sea, As a creeping thing — none ruling over him.
- <sup>15</sup> Each of them with a hook he hath brought up, He doth catch it in his net, and gathereth it in his drag, Therefore he doth joy and rejoice.
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore he doth sacrifice to his net, And doth make perfume to his drag, For by them [is] his portion fertile, and his food fat.
- <sup>17</sup> Doth he therefore empty his net, And continually to slay nations spare not?

- <sup>1</sup> On my charge I stand, and I station myself on a bulwark, and I watch to see what He doth speak against me, and what I do reply to my reproof.
- <sup>2</sup> And Jehovah answereth me and saith: 'Write a vision, and explain on the tables, That he may run who is reading it.
- <sup>3</sup> For yet the vision [is] for a season, And it breatheth for the end, and doth not lie, If it tarry, wait for it, For surely it cometh, it is not late.
- <sup>4</sup> Lo, a presumptuous one! Not upright is his soul within him, And the righteous by his steadfastness liveth.
- <sup>5</sup> And also, because the wine [is] treacherous, A man is haughty, and remaineth not at home, Who hath enlarged as sheol his soul, And is as death that is not satisfied, And doth gather unto itself all the nations, And doth assemble unto itself all the peoples, <sup>6</sup> Do not these — all of them — against him a simile taken up, And a moral of acute sayings for him, And say, Woe [to] him who is multiplying [what is] not his? Till when also is he multiplying to himself heavy pledges?

<sup>7</sup> Do not thy usurers instantly rise up, And those shaking thee awake up, And thou hast been for a spoil to them?

<sup>17</sup> For violence [to] Lebanon doth cover thee, And spoil of beasts doth affright them, Because of man's blood, and of violence [to] the land, [To] the city, and [to] all dwelling in it.

<sup>19</sup> Woe [to] him who is saying to wood, 'Awake,' 'Stir up,' to a dumb stone, It a teacher! lo, it is overlaid — gold and silver, And there is no spirit in its midst.

<sup>16</sup> I have heard, and my belly trembleth, At the noise have my lips quivered, Rottenness doth come into my bones, And in my place I do tremble, That I rest for a day of distress, At the coming up of the people, he overcometh it.

<sup>17</sup> Though the fig-tree doth not flourish, And there is no produce among vines, Failed hath the work of the olive, And fields have not yielded food, Cut off from the fold hath been the flock, And there is no herd in the stalls.

<sup>18</sup> Yet I, in Jehovah I exult, I do joy in the God of my salvation.

<sup>19</sup> Jehovah the Lord [is] my strength, And He doth make my feet like hinds, And on my high-places causeth me to tread. To the overseer with my stringed instruments!

Zephaniah

<sup>3</sup> I consume man and beast, I consume fowl of the heavens, and fishes of the sea, And the stumbling-blocks — the wicked, And I have cut off man from the face of the ground, An affirmation of Jehovah,

<sup>5</sup> And those bowing themselves On the roofs to the host of the heavens, And those bowing themselves, Swearing to Jehovah, and swearing by Malcham, <sup>6</sup> And those removing from after Jehovah, And who have not sought Jehovah, nor besought Him.

<sup>8</sup> And it hath come to pass, In the day of the sacrifice of Jehovah, That I have laid a charge on the heads, And on sons of the king, And on all putting on strange clothing.

<sup>9</sup> And I have laid a charge on every one Who is leaping over the threshold in that day, Who are filling the house of their masters [With] violence and deceit.

<sup>11</sup> Howl, ye inhabitants of the hollow place, For cut off hath been all the merchant people, Cut off have been all bearing silver.

<sup>12</sup> And it hath come to pass, at that time, I search Jerusalem with lights, And I have laid a charge on the men Who are hardened on their preserved things, Who are saying in their heart: Jehovah doth no good, nor doth He evil.

<sup>13</sup> And their wealth hath been for a spoil, And their houses for desolation, And they have built houses, and do not inhabit, And they have planted vineyards, And they do not drink their wine.

<sup>17</sup> And I have sent distress to men, And they have walked as the blind, For against Jehovah they have sinned, And poured out is their blood as dust, And their flesh [is] as dung.

<sup>18</sup> Even their silver, even their gold, Is not able to deliver them in a day of the wrath of Jehovah, And in the fire of His jealousy consumed is the whole land, For only a hastened end doth He make Of all the inhabitants of the land!

<sup>2</sup> Before the bringing forth of a statute, As chaff hath the day passed on,
While yet not come in upon you doth the heat of the anger of Jehovah, While yet not come in upon you doth a day of the anger of Jehovah,

<sup>3</sup> Seek Jehovah, all ye humble of the land, Who His judgment have done, Seek ye righteousness, seek humility, It may be ye are hidden in a day of the anger of Jehovah.

<sup>4</sup> For Gaza is forsaken, And Ashkelon [is] for a desolation, Ashdod! at noon
they do cast her forth, And Ekron is rooted up.

of Jehovah [is] against you, Canaan, land of the Philistines, And I have destroyed thee without an inhabitant.

<sup>6</sup> And the sea-coast hath been habitations, Cottages [for] shepherds, and folds [for] a flock.

<sup>7</sup> And the coast hath been for the remnant of the house of Judah, By them they have pleasure, In houses of Ashkelon at even they lie down, For inspect them doth Jehovah their God, And He hath turned back [to] their captivity.

<sup>8</sup> I have heard the reproach of Moab, And the revilings of the sons of Ammon, Wherewith they reproached My people, And magnify [themselves] against their border.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore, I live, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, God of Israel, Surely, Moab is as Sodom, And the sons of Ammon as Gomorrah, An overrunning of nettles and salt-pits, And a desolation — unto the age. A residue of My people do seize them, And a remnant of My nation inherit them.

<sup>10</sup> This [is] to them for their arrogancy, Because they have reproached, And they magnify [themselves] against the people of Jehovah of Hosts.

And bow themselves to Him, each from his place, Do all islanders of the nations.

And he setteth Nineveh for a desolation, A dry land like a wilderness.

<sup>14</sup> And crouched in her midst have droves, Every beast of the nation, Both pelican and hedge-hog in her knobs lodge, A voice doth sing at the window,
'Destruction [is] at the threshold, For the cedar-work is exposed.'

<sup>15</sup> This [is] the exulting city that is dwelling confidently, That is saying in her heart, 'I [am], and beside me there is none,' How hath she been for a desolation, A crouching-place for beasts, Every one passing by her doth hiss,
He doth shake his hand!

In Jehovah she hath not trusted, Unto her God she hath not drawn near.

<sup>3</sup> Her heads in her midst [are] roaring lions, Her judges [are] evening wolves, They have not gnawn the bone in the morning.

sanctuary, They have violated the law.

<sup>5</sup> Jehovah [is] righteous in her midst, He doth not do perverseness, Morning by morning His judgment he giveth to the light, It hath not been lacking, And the perverse doth not know shame.

<sup>6</sup> I have cut off nations, Desolated have been their chief ones, I have laid waste their out-places without any passing by, Destroyed have been their cities, Without man, without inhabitant.

<sup>7</sup> I have said: Only, ye do fear Me, Ye do accept instruction, And her habitation is not cut off, All that I have appointed for her, But they have risen early, They have corrupted all their doings.

<sup>8</sup> Therefore, wait for Me — an affirmation of Jehovah, For the day of My rising for prey, For My judgment [is] to gather nations, To assemble kingdoms, To pour out on them Mine indignation, All the heat of Mine anger, For by the fire of My jealousy consumed is all the earth.

<sup>9</sup> For then do I turn unto peoples a pure lip, To call all of them by the name of Jehovah, To serve Him [with] one shoulder.

<sup>10</sup> From beyond the rivers of Cush, my supplicants, The daughter of My scattered ones, Do bring My present.

<sup>11</sup> In that day thou art not ashamed because of any of thine actions, Wherewith thou hast transgressed against Me, For then do I turn aside from thy midst The exulting ones of thine excellency, And thou dost add no more to be haughty, In My holy mountain.

<sup>13</sup> The remnant of Israel do no perversity, nor speak lies, Nor found in their mouth is a deceitful tongue, For they have delight, and have lain down, And there is none troubling.

<sup>14</sup> Cry aloud, O daughter of Zion, shout, O Israel, Rejoice and exult with the whole heart, O daughter of Jerusalem.

<sup>18</sup> Mine afflicted from the appointed place I have gathered, from thee they have been, Bearing for her sake reproach.

<sup>19</sup> Lo, I am dealing with all afflicting thee at that time, And I have saved the halting one, And the driven out ones I do gather, And have set them for a praise and for a name, In all the land of their shame.

<sup>20</sup> At that time I bring you in, Even at the time of My assembling you, For I give you for a name, and for a praise, Among all peoples of the land, In My turning back [to] your captivity before your eyes, said Jehovah!

Haggai

<sup>1</sup> In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, hath a word of Jehovah been by the hand of Haggai the prophet, unto Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and unto Joshua son of Josedech, the high priest, saying:

<sup>2</sup> Thus spake Jehovah of Hosts, saying: This people! — they have said, 'The time hath not come, The time the house of Jehovah [is] to be built.'

<sup>3</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah by the hand of Haggai the prophet, saying:

<sup>4</sup> Is it time for you — you! To dwell in your covered houses, And this house to lie waste?

<sup>5</sup> And now, thus said Jehovah of Hosts, Set your heart to your ways.

<sup>6</sup> Ye have sown much, and brought in little, To eat, and not to satiety, To drink, and not to drunkenness, To clothe, and none hath heat, And he who is hiring himself out, Is hiring himself for a bag pierced through.

<sup>8</sup> Go up the mountain, and ye have brought in wood, And build the house, and I am pleased with it. And I am honoured, said Jehovah.

<sup>9</sup> Looking for much, and lo, little, And ye brought [it] home, and I blew on it, Wherefore? — an affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, Because of My house that is waste, And ye are running — each to his house, <sup>10</sup> Therefore, over you refrained have the heavens from dew, And the land hath refrained its increase.

<sup>11</sup> And I proclaim draught on the land, And on the mountains, and on the corn, And on the new wine, and on the oil, And on what the ground doth bring forth, And on man, and on beast, And on all labour of the hands.'

<sup>12</sup> And Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, and Joshua son of Josedech, the high priest, and all the remnant of the people, do hearken to the voice of Jehovah their God, and unto the words of Haggai the prophet, as Jehovah their God had sent him, and the people are afraid of the face of Jehovah.

<sup>13</sup> And Haggai, messenger of Jehovah, in messages of Jehovah, speaketh to the people, saying: 'I [am] with you, an affirmation of Jehovah.'

<sup>14</sup> And Jehovah doth stir up the spirit of Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua son of Josedech, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they come in, and do work in the house of Jehovah of Hosts their God, <sup>15</sup> in the twenty and fourth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

<sup>1</sup> In the seventh [month], in the twenty and first of the month, hath a word of Jehovah been by the hand of Haggai the prophet, saying:

<sup>2</sup> 'Speak, I pray thee, unto Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and unto Joshua, son of Josedech, the high priest, and unto the remnant of the people, saying:

<sup>3</sup> Who among you hath been left that saw this house in its former honour? And what are ye seeing it now? Is it not, compared with it, as nothing in your eyes?

<sup>4</sup> And now, be strong, O Zerubbabel, An affirmation of Jehovah, And be strong, O Joshua, son of Josedech, the high priest, And be strong, all ye people of the land, An affirmation of Jehovah, And do ye — (for I [am] with you, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts) —

<sup>5</sup> The thing that I covenanted with you, In your coming forth from Egypt, And My Spirit is remaining in your midst, fear not.

<sup>6</sup> For thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Yet once more — it [is] a little, And I am shaking the heavens and the earth, And the sea, and the dry land, <sup>7</sup> And I have shaken all the nations, And they have come [to] the desire of all the nations, And I have filled this house [with] honour, Said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>8</sup> Mine [is] the silver, and Mine the gold, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>9</sup> Greater is the honour of this latter house, Than of the former, said Jehovah of Hosts, And in this place do I give peace, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts.'

<sup>11</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: 'Ask, I pray thee, the priests [of] the law, saying:

<sup>12</sup> Lo, one doth carry holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and he hath come with his skirt against the bread, or against the pottage, or against the wine, or against the oil, or against any food — is it holy?' And the priests answer and say, 'No.'

<sup>13</sup> And Haggai saith, 'If the unclean of body doth come against any of these, is it unclean?' And the priests answer and say, 'It is unclean.'

<sup>14</sup> And Haggai answereth and saith, 'So [is] this people, and so [is] this nation before Me — an affirmation of Jehovah — and so [is] every work of their hands, and that which they bring near there — it is unclean.

<sup>15</sup> And now, lay [it], I pray you, to your heart, From this day, and onwards, Before the laying of stone to stone in the temple of Jehovah.

<sup>16</sup> From that time [one] hath come to a heap of twenty, And it hath been ten, He hath come unto the wine-fat to draw out fifty purahs, And it hath been twenty.

<sup>17</sup> I have smitten you with blasting, And with mildew, and with hail — All the work of your hands, And there is none of you with Me, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>18</sup> Set [it], I pray you, to your heart, from this day and onwards, from the twenty and fourth day of the ninth [month], even from the day that the temple of Jehovah hath been founded, set [it] to your heart.

<sup>19</sup> Is the seed yet in the barn? And hitherto the vine and the fig, And the pomegranate, and the olive-tree, Have not borne — from this day I bless.'

<sup>20</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah a second time unto Haggai, on the twenty and fourth of the month, saying:

<sup>21</sup> 'Speak unto Zerubbabel governor of Judah, saying: I am shaking the heavens and the earth,

<sup>22</sup> And have overturned the throne of kingdoms, And I have destroyed the strength of kingdoms of the nations, And overturned chariot and its charioteers, And come down have horses and their riders, Each by the sword of his brother.

<sup>23</sup> In that day — an affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, I take thee, Zerubbabel, son of Shealtiel, My servant — an affirmation of Jehovah, And have set thee as a signet, for on thee I have fixed, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts!

Zechariah

<sup>3</sup> And thou hast said unto them, Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, turn back unto Me, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, And I turn back unto you, said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>4</sup> Ye shall not be as your fathers, To whom the former prophets called, saying: Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, Turn back I pray you, From your evil ways and from your evil doings, And they did not hearken, Nor attend to Me – an affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>5</sup> Your fathers – where [are] they? And the prophets – to the age do they live?

<sup>6</sup> Only, My words, and My statutes, That I commanded My servants the prophets, Have they not overtaken your fathers, And they turn back and say: As Jehovah of Hosts designed to do to us, According to our ways, and according to our doings, So He hath done to us?'

<sup>7</sup> On the twenty and fourth day of the eleventh month, (it [is] the month of Sebat,) in the second year of Darius, hath a word of Jehovah been unto Zechariah, son of Berechiah, son of Iddo, the prophet, saying:

<sup>8</sup> I have seen by night, and lo, one riding on a red horse, and he is standing between the myrtles that [are] in the shade, and behind him [are] horses, red, bay, and white.

<sup>9</sup> And I say, 'What [are] these, my lord?' And the messenger who is speaking with me saith unto me, 'I – I do shew thee what these [are].'

<sup>10</sup> And the one who is standing between the myrtles doth answer and say, 'These [are] they whom Jehovah hath sent to walk up and down in the land.'

<sup>11</sup> And they answer the messenger of Jehovah who is standing between the myrtles, and say, 'We have walked up and down in the land, and lo, all the land is sitting still, and at rest.'

<sup>12</sup> And the messenger of Jehovah answereth and saith, 'Jehovah of Hosts! till when dost Thou not pity Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, that Thou hast abhorred these seventy years?'

<sup>13</sup> And Jehovah answereth the messenger, who is speaking with me, good words, comfortable words.

<sup>14</sup> And the messenger who is speaking with me, saith unto me, 'Call, saying: Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: I have been zealous for Jerusalem, and for Zion [with] great zeal.

<sup>15</sup> And [with] great wrath I am wroth against the nations who are at ease, For I was a little wroth, and they assisted – for evil.

<sup>16</sup> Therefore, thus said Jehovah: I have turned to Jerusalem with mercies, My house is built in it, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, And a line is stretched over Jerusalem.

<sup>17</sup> Again call, saying: Thus said Jehovah of Hosts, Again do my cities overflow from good, And Jehovah hath again comforted Zion, And He hath fixed again on Jerusalem.'

<sup>19</sup> And I say unto the messenger who is speaking with me, 'What [are] these?' And he saith unto me, 'These [are] the horns that have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.'

<sup>21</sup> And I say, 'What [are] these coming in to do?' And He speaketh, saying: 'These [are] the horns that have scattered Judah, so that no one hath lifted up his head, and these come in to trouble them, to cast down the horns of the nations who are lifting up a horn against the land of Judah — to scatter it.'

2

<sup>2</sup> And I say, 'Whither are thou going?' And he saith unto me, 'To measure Jerusalem, to see how much [is] its breadth, and how much its length.'

<sup>3</sup> And lo, the messenger who is speaking with me is going out, and another messenger is going out to meet him,

<sup>5</sup> And I — I am to her — an affirmation of Jehovah, A wall of fire round about, And for honour I am in her midst.

<sup>8</sup> For thus said Jehovah of Hosts: After honour He hath sent me unto the nations who are spoiling you, For he who is coming against you, Is coming against the daughter of His eye.

<sup>9</sup> For lo, I am waving my hand against them, And they have been a spoil to their servants. And ye have known that Jehovah of Hosts hath sent me.

<sup>10</sup> Singe, and rejoice, O daughter of Zion, For lo, I am coming, and have dwelt in thy midst, An affirmation of Jehovah.

<sup>11</sup> And joined have been many nations unto Jehovah in that day, And they have been to Me for a people, And I have dwelt in thy midst, And thou hast known that Jehovah of Hosts hath sent me unto thee.

<sup>12</sup> And Jehovah hath inherited Judah, His portion on the holy ground, And He hath fixed again on Jerusalem.

3

<sup>4</sup> And he answereth and speaketh unto those standing before him, saying: 'Turn aside the filthy garments from off him.' And he saith unto him, 'See, I have caused thine iniquity to pass away from off thee, so as to clothe thee with costly apparel.'

<sup>5</sup> He also said, 'Let them set a pure diadem on his head. And they set the pure diadem on his head, and clothe him with garments. And the messenger of Jehovah is standing,

<sup>7</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: If in My ways thou dost walk, And if My charge thou dost keep, Then also thou dost judge My house, And also thou dost keep My courts, And I have given to thee conductors among these standing by.

<sup>8</sup> Hear, I pray thee, Joshua, the high priest, Thou and thy companions sitting before thee, (For men of type [are] they,) For lo, I am bringing in My servant — a Shoot.

<sup>9</sup> For lo, the stone that I put before Joshua, On one stone [are] seven eyes, Lo, I am gravestones, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, And I have removed the iniquity of that land in one day.

<sup>10</sup> In that day — an affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, Ye do call, each unto his neighbour, Unto the place of the vine, And unto the place of the fig-tree!

4

<sup>1</sup> And the messenger who is speaking with me doth turn back, and stir me up as one who is stirred up out of his sleep,

<sup>2</sup> and he saith unto me, 'What art thou seeing?' And I say, 'I have looked, and lo, a candlestick of gold — all of it, and its bowl [is] on its top, and its seven lamps [are] upon it, and twice seven pipes [are] to the lights that [are] on its top,

<sup>5</sup> And the messenger who is speaking with me answereth and saith unto me, 'Hast thou not known what these [are]?' And I say, 'No, my lord.'

<sup>6</sup> And he answereth and speaketh unto me, saying: 'This [is] a word of Jehovah unto Zerubbabel, saying: Not by a force, nor by power, But — by My Spirit, said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>8</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah to me, saying,

<sup>9</sup> Hands of Zerubbabel did found this house, And his hands do finish it, And thou hast known that Jehovah of Hosts Hath sent me unto you.

<sup>10</sup> For who trampled on the day of small things, They have rejoiced, And seen the tin weight in the hand of Zerubbabel, These seven [are] the eyes of Jehovah, They are going to and fro in all the land.'

<sup>12</sup> And I answer a second time, and say unto him, 'What [are] the two branches of the olive trees that, by means of the two golden pipes, are emptying out of themselves the oil?'

<sup>13</sup> And he speaketh unto me, saying, 'Hast thou not known what these [are]?' And I say, 'No, my lord.'

<sup>14</sup> And he saith, 'These [are] the two sons of the oil, who are standing by the Lord of the whole earth.'

5

<sup>2</sup> And he saith unto me, 'What art thou seeing?' And I say, 'I am seeing a flying roll, its length twenty by the cubit, and its breadth ten by the cubit.'

<sup>3</sup> And he saith unto me, 'This [is] the execration that is going forth over the face of all the land, for every one who is stealing, on the one side, according to it, hath been declared innocent, and every one who hath sworn, on the other side, according to it, hath been declared innocent.'

<sup>4</sup> 'I have brought it out — an affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts — and it hath come in unto the house of the thief, and unto the house of him who hath sworn in My name to a falsehood, and it hath remained in the midst of his house, and hath consumed it, both its wood and its stones.'

<sup>5</sup> And the messenger who is speaking with me goeth forth, and saith unto me, 'Lift up, I pray thee, thine eyes, and see what [is] this that is coming forth?'

<sup>6</sup> And I say, 'What [is] it?' And he saith, 'This — the ephah that is coming forth.' And he saith, 'This [is] their aspect in all the land.'

<sup>7</sup> And lo, a cake of lead lifted up; and this [is] a woman sitting in the midst of the ephah.'

<sup>8</sup> And he saith, 'This [is] the wicked woman.' And he casteth her unto the midst of the ephah, and casteth the weight of lead on its mouth.

<sup>9</sup> And I lift up mine eyes, and see, and lo, two women are coming forth, and wind in their wings; and they have wings like wings of the stork, and they lift up the ephah between the earth and the heavens.

<sup>10</sup> And I say unto the messenger who is speaking with me, 'Whither [are] they causing the ephah to go?'

<sup>11</sup> And he saith unto me, 'To build to it a house in the land of Shinar.' And it hath been prepared and hath been placed there on its base.

6

<sup>3</sup> and in the third chariot white horses, and in the fourth chariot strong grisled horses.

<sup>4</sup> And I answer and say unto the messenger who is speaking with me, 'What [are] these, my lord?'

<sup>5</sup> And the messenger answereth and saith unto me, 'These [are] four spirits of the heavens coming forth from presenting themselves before the Lord of the whole earth.'

<sup>6</sup> The brown horses that [are] therein, are coming forth unto the land of the north; and the white have come forth unto their hinder part; and the grisled have come forth unto the land of the south;

<sup>7</sup> and the strong ones have come forth, and they seek to go to walk up and down in the earth;' and he saith, 'Go, walk up and down in the earth;' and they walk up and down in the earth.

<sup>8</sup> And he calleth me, and speaketh unto me, saying, 'See, those coming forth unto the land of the north have caused My Spirit to rest in the land of the north.'

<sup>9</sup> And there is a word of Jehovah unto me, saying,

<sup>10</sup> to take of the captivity (who came from Babylon) from Heldai, from Tobijah, and from Jedaiah, 'and thou hast come in — thou, in that day, yea, thou hast come into the house of Josiah son of Zephaniah,

<sup>11</sup> and thou hast taken silver and gold, and hast made a crown, and hast placed on the head of Joshua son of Josedech, the high priest,

<sup>13</sup> Yea, he doth build the temple of Jehovah, And he doth bear away honour, And he hath sat and ruled on His throne, And hath been a priest on His throne, And a counsel of peace is between both.

<sup>14</sup> And the crown is to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of Jehovah.

<sup>15</sup> And the far-off come in, and they have built in the temple of Jehovah, and ye have known that Jehovah of Hosts hath sent me unto you, yea, it hath come to pass, if ye do certainly hearken to the voice of Jehovah your God.'

7

<sup>2</sup> And Beth-El sendeth Sherezzer and Regem-Melech, and its men, to appease the face of Jehovah,

<sup>3</sup> speaking unto the priests who [are] at the house of Jehovah of Hosts, and unto the prophets, saying, 'Do I weep in the fifth month — being separated — as I have done these so many years?'

<sup>5</sup> 'Speak unto all the people of the land, and unto the priests, saying:

<sup>6</sup> When ye fasted with mourning in the fifth and in the seventh [months] — even these seventy years — did ye keep the fast [to] Me — Me? And when ye eat, and when ye drink, is it not ye who are eating, and ye who are drinking?

<sup>7</sup> 'Are not [these] the words that Jehovah proclaimed by the hand of the former prophets, in Jerusalem's being inhabited, and [in] safety, and its cities round about it, and the south and the plain — abiding?'

<sup>9</sup> 'Thus spake Jehovah of Hosts, saying: True judgment judge ye, And kindness and mercy do one with another.

<sup>10</sup> And widow, and fatherless, Sojourner, and poor, ye do not oppress, And the calamity of one another ye do not devise in your heart.

<sup>11</sup> And they refuse to attend, And they give a refractory shoulder, And their ears have made heavy against hearing.

<sup>12</sup> And their heart they have made adamant, Against hearing the law, and the words, That Jehovah of Hosts sent by His Spirit, By the hand of the former prophets, And their is great wrath from Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>13</sup> And it cometh to pass, as He called, And they have not hearkened, So do they call, and I do not hearken, Said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>14</sup> And I toss them on all the nations, That they have not known, The land hath been desolate behind them, Of any passing by and turning back, And they set a desirable land for a desolation!

<sup>3</sup> Thus said Jehovah: I have turned back unto Zion, And I have dwelt in the midst of Jerusalem, And Jerusalem hath been called 'The city of truth,' And the mountain of Jehovah of Hosts, 'The holy mountain.'

<sup>5</sup> And broad places of the city are full of boys and girls, Playing in its broad places.

<sup>6</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Surely it is wonderful in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, Also in Mine eyes it is wonderful, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>7</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Lo, I am saving My people from the land of the rising, And from the land of the going in, of the sun, <sup>8</sup> And I have brought them in, They have dwelt in the midst of Jerusalem, And they have been to Me for a people, And I am to them for God, In truth and in righteousness.

<sup>9</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Let your hands be strong, Ye who are hearing in these days these words from the mouth of the prophets, That in the day the house of Jehovah of Hosts Hath been founded, the temple [is] to be built.

<sup>10</sup> For, before those days there hath been no hiring of man, Yea, a hiring of beasts there is none; And to him who is going out, And to him who is coming in, There is no peace because of the adversary, And I send all men — each against his neighbour.

<sup>11</sup> And now, not as [in] the former days [am] I to the remnant of this people, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>12</sup> Because of the sowing of peace, The vine doth give her fruit, And the earth doth give her increase, And the heavens do give their dew, And I have caused the remnant of this people To inherit all these.

<sup>13</sup> And it hath come to pass, As ye have been a reviling among nations, O house of Judah, and house of Israel, So I save you, and ye have been a blessing, Do not fear, let your hands be strong.

<sup>14</sup> For, thus said Jehovah of Hosts, As I did purpose to do evil to you, When your fathers made Me wroth, Said Jehovah of Hosts, and I did not repent, <sup>15</sup> So I have turned back, I have purposed, in these days, To do good with Jerusalem, And with the house of Judah — fear not!

<sup>16</sup> These [are] the things that ye do: Speak ye truth each with his neighbour, Truth and peaceful judgment judge in your gates,

<sup>19</sup> 'Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: The fast of the fourth, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth [months], are to the house of Judah for joy and for rejoicing, and for pleasant appointed seasons, and the truth and the peace they have loved.

<sup>20</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: Yet come do peoples, and inhabitants of many cities,

<sup>22</sup> Yea, come in have many peoples, and mighty nations, To seek Jehovah of Hosts in Jerusalem, And to appease the face of Jehovah.

<sup>23</sup> Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: In those days take hold do ten men of all languages of the nations, Yea, they have taken hold on the skirt of a man, a Jew, saying: We go with you, for we heard God [is] with you!

9

<sup>3</sup> And Tyre doth build a bulwark to herself, And doth heap silver as dust, And gold as mire of out-places.

<sup>6</sup> And dwelt hath a foreigner in Ashdod, And I have cut off the excellency of the Philistines.

<sup>7</sup> And turned aside his blood from his mouth, His abominations from between his teeth, And he hath remained, even he, to our God, And he hath been as a leader in Judah, And Ekron as a Jebusite.

<sup>8</sup> And I have pitched for My house a camp, Because of the passer through, and of the returner, And pass not through against them again doth an exactor, For, now, I have seen with My eyes.

<sup>9</sup> Rejoice exceedingly, O daughter of Zion, Shout, O daughter of Jerusalem, Lo, thy King doth come to thee, Righteous — and saved is He, Afflicted — and riding on an ass, And on a colt — a son of she-asses.

<sup>10</sup> And I have cut off the chariot from Ephraim, And the horse from Jerusalem, Yea, cut off hath been the bow of battle, And he hath spoken peace to nations, And his rule [is] from sea unto sea, And from the river unto the ends of earth.

<sup>12</sup> Turn back to a fenced place, Ye prisoners of the hope, Even to-day a second announcer I restore to thee.

<sup>13</sup> For I have trodden for Me Judah, A bow I have filled [with] Ephraim, And I have stirred up thy sons, O Zion, Against thy sons, O Javan, And I have set thee as the sword of a hero.

<sup>14</sup> And Jehovah doth appear for them, And gone forth as lightning hath His arrow, And the Lord Jehovah with a trumpet bloweth, And He hath gone with whirlwinds of the south.

<sup>15</sup> Jehovah of Hosts doth cover them over, And they consumed, and subdued sling-stones, Yea, they have drunk, They have made a noise as wine, And they have been full as a bowl, As corners of an altar.

10

<sup>1</sup> They asked of Jehovah rain in a time of latter rain, Jehovah is making lightnings, And rain [in] showers He doth give to them. To each — the herb in the field.

<sup>2</sup> Because the teraphim did speak iniquity, And the diviners have seen a falsehood, And dreams of the vanity they speak, [With] vanity they give comfort, Therefore they have journeyed as a flock, They are afflicted, for there is no shepherd.

<sup>5</sup> And they have been as heroes, Treading in mire of out-places in battle, And they have fought, for Jehovah [is] with them, And have put to shame riders of horses.

<sup>6</sup> And I have made mighty the house of Judah, And the house of Joseph I do save, And I have caused them to dwell, for I have loved them, And they have been as [if] I had not cast them off, For I [am] Jehovah their God, And I answer them.

<sup>7</sup> And Ephraim hath been as a hero, And rejoiced hath their heart as wine, And their sons see, and they have rejoiced, Rejoice doth their heart in Jehovah.

<sup>8</sup> I hitherto for them, and I gather them, For I have redeemed them, And they have multiplied as they did multiply.

<sup>9</sup> And I sow them among peoples, And in far-off places they remember Me, And they have lived with their sons, And they have turned back.

<sup>10</sup> And I have brought them back from the land of Egypt, And from Asshur I do gather them, And unto the land of Gilead and Lebanon I do bring them in, And there is not found for them [space].

<sup>11</sup> And He hath passed over through the sea, And hath pressed and smitten billows in the sea, And dried up have been all depths of a flood, And brought down hath been the excellency of Asshur, And the rod of Egypt doth turn aside.

<sup>12</sup> And I have made them mighty in Jehovah, And in His name they walk up and down, An affirmation of Jehovah!

11

<sup>5</sup> Whose buyers slay them, and are not guilty, And their sellers say, Blessed [is] Jehovah, And I am rich, And their shepherds have no pity on them.

<sup>6</sup> For I have pity no more on inhabitants of the land, An affirmation of Jehovah, And lo, I am causing man to come forth, Each into the hand of his neighbour, And into the hand of his king, And they have beaten down the land, And I do not deliver out of their hand.'

<sup>7</sup> And I feed the flock of slaughter, even you, ye afflicted of the flock; and I take to me two staves, the one I have called Pleasantness, and the other I have called Bands, and I feed the flock.

<sup>8</sup> And I cut off the three shepherds in one month, and my soul is grieved with them, and also their soul hath abhorred me.

<sup>9</sup> And I say, 'I do not feed you, the dying, let die; and the cut off, let be cut off; and the remaining ones, let each eat the flesh of its neighbour.'

<sup>10</sup> And I take My staff Pleasantness, and cut it asunder, to make void My covenant that I had made with all the peoples:

<sup>11</sup> and it is broken in that day, and know well do the afflicted of the flock who are observing me, that it [is] a word of Jehovah.

<sup>12</sup> And I say unto them: 'If good in your eyes, give my hire, and if not, forbear;' and they weigh out my hire — thirty silverlings.

<sup>13</sup> And Jehovah saith unto me, 'Cast it unto the potter;' the goodly price that I have been prized at by them, and I take the thirty silverlings, and cast them [to] the house of Jehovah, unto the potter.

<sup>16</sup> For lo, I am raising up a shepherd in the land, The cut off he doth not inspect, The shaken off he doth not seek, And the broken he doth not heal, The standing he doth not sustain, And the flesh of the fat he doth eat, And their hoofs he doth break off.

12

<sup>2</sup> Lo, I am making Jerusalem a cup of reeling To all the peoples round about, And also against Judah it is, In the siege against Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone to all the peoples, All loading it are completely pressed down, And gathered against it have been all nations of the earth.

<sup>4</sup> In that day — an affirmation of Jehovah, I do smite every horse with astonishment, And its rider with madness, And on the house of Judah I open My eyes, And every horse of the peoples I smite with blindness.

<sup>5</sup> And leaders of Judah have said in their heart, 'Strength to me [are] the inhabitants of Jerusalem, In Jehovah of Hosts their God.'

<sup>7</sup> And saved hath Jehovah the tents of Judah first, So that become not great against Judah Doth the beauty of the house of David, And the beauty of the inhabitant of Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup> In that day cover over doth Jehovah the inhabitant of Jerusalem, And the stumbling among them hath been in that day as David, And the house of David as God — As a messenger of Jehovah — before them.

<sup>9</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, I seek to destroy all the nations Who are coming in against Jerusalem,

<sup>10</sup> And I have poured on the house of David, And on the inhabitant of Jerusalem, A spirit of grace and supplications, And they have looked unto Me whom they pierced, And they have mourned over it, Like a mourning over the only one, And they have been in bitterness for it, Like a bitterness over the first-born.

<sup>11</sup> In that day, great is the mourning of Jerusalem, As the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon,

13

<sup>1</sup> In that day there is a fountain opened To the house of David And to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, For sin and for impurity.

<sup>2</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts, I cut off the names of the idols from the land, And they are not remembered any more, And also the prophets and the spirit of uncleanness I cause to pass away from the land.

<sup>3</sup> And it hath been, when one prophesieth again, That said unto him have his father and his mother, his parents, 'Thou dost not live, For falsehood thou hast spoken in the name of Jehovah,' And pierced him through have his father and his mother, his parents, in his prophesying.

<sup>4</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, Ashamed are the prophets, each of his vision, in his prophesying, And they put not on a hairy robe to deceive.

<sup>5</sup> And [one] hath said, 'I am not a prophet, A man, a tiller of ground I am, For ground [is] my possession from my youth.'

<sup>6</sup> And [one] hath said unto him, 'What [are] these wounds in thy hands?' And he hath said, 'Because I was smitten [at] home by my lovers.'

<sup>7</sup> Sword, awake against My shepherd, And against a hero — My fellow, An affirmation of Jehovah of Hosts. Smite the shepherd, and scattered is the flock, And I have put back My hand on the little ones.

<sup>8</sup> And it hath come to pass, In all the land, an affirmation of Jehovah, Two parts in it are cut off — they expire, And the third is left in it.

<sup>9</sup> And I have brought the third into fire, And refined them like a refining of silver, And have tried them like a trying of gold, It doth call in My name, and I answer it, I have said, 'My people it [is],' And it saith, 'Jehovah [is] my God!'

<sup>2</sup> And I have gathered all the nations unto Jerusalem to battle, And captured hath been the city, And spoiled have been the houses, And the women are lain with, Gone forth hath half the city in a removal, And the remnant of the people are not cut off from the city.

<sup>4</sup> And stood have His feet, in that day, On the mount of Olives, That [is] before Jerusalem eastward, And cleft hath been the mount of Olives at its midst, To the east, and to the west, a very great valley, And removed hath the half of the mount towards the north. And its half towards the south.

<sup>5</sup> And ye have fled [to] the valley of My mountains, For join doth the valley of the mountains to Azal, And ye have fled as ye fled before the shaking, In the days of Uzziah king of Judah, And come in hath Jehovah my God, All holy ones [are] with Thee.

<sup>6</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, The precious light is not, it is dense darkness,

<sup>7</sup> And there hath been one day, It is known to Jehovah, not day nor night, And it hath been at evening-time — there is light.

<sup>8</sup> And it hath come to pass, in that day, Go forth do living waters from Jerusalem, Half of them unto the eastern sea, And half of them unto the western sea, In summer and in winter it is.

<sup>9</sup> And Jehovah hath become king over all the land, In that day there is one Jehovah, and His name one.

<sup>10</sup> Changed is all the land as a plain, From Gebo to Rimmon, south of Jerusalem, And she hath been high, and hath dwelt in her place, Even from the gate of Benjamin To the place of the first gate, unto the front gate, And from the tower of Hananeel, Unto the wine-vats of the king.

<sup>11</sup> And they have dwelt in her, And destruction is no more, And Jerusalem hath dwelt confidently.

<sup>12</sup> And this is the plague with which Jehovah Doth plague all the peoples who have warred against Jerusalem, He hath consumed away its flesh, And it is standing on its feet, And its eyes are consumed in their holes, And its tongue is consumed in their mouth.

<sup>15</sup> And so is the plague of the horse, of the mule, Of the camel, and of the ass, And of all the cattle that are in these camps, As this plague.

<sup>16</sup> And it hath come to pass, Every one who hath been left of all the nations, Who are coming in against Jerusalem, They have also gone up from year to year, To bow themselves to the King, Jehovah of Hosts, And to celebrate the feast of the booths.

<sup>17</sup> And it hath come to pass, That he who doth not go up of the families of the land unto Jerusalem, To bow himself to the King, Jehovah of Hosts, Even on them there is no shower.

<sup>18</sup> And if the family of Egypt go not up, nor come in, Then not on them is the plague With which Jehovah doth plague the nations That go not up to celebrate the feast of booths.

<sup>19</sup> This is the punishment of the sin of Egypt, And the punishment of the sin of all the nations, That go not up to celebrate the feast of booths.

<sup>20</sup> In that day there is on bells of the horse, 'Holy to Jehovah,' And the pots in the house of Jehovah Have been as bowls before the altar.

<sup>21</sup> And every pot in Jerusalem, and in Judah, Have been holy to Jehovah of Hosts, And all those sacrificing have come in, And have taken of them, and boiled in them, And there is no merchant any more in the house of Jehovah of Hosts in that day!

Malachi

- <sup>1</sup> The burden of a word of Jehovah unto Israel by the hand of Malachi:
<sup>2</sup> I have loved you, said Jehovah, And ye have said, 'In what hast Thou loved us?'
<sup>3</sup> Is not Esau Jacob's brother? — an affirmation of Jehovah, And I love Jacob, and Esau I have hated, And I make his mountains a desolation, And his inheritance for dragons of a wilderness.
<sup>4</sup> Because Edom saith, 'We have been made poor, And we turn back and we build the wastes,' Thus said Jehovah of Hosts: They do build, and I do destroy, And [men] have called to them, 'O region of wickedness,' 'O people whom Jehovah defied to the age.'
<sup>5</sup> And your eyes do see, and ye say, 'Magnified is Jehovah beyond the border of Israel,
<sup>6</sup> A son honoureth a father, and a servant his master. And if I [am] a father, where [is] Mine honour? And if I [am] a master, where [is] My fear? Said Jehovah of Hosts to you, O priests, despising My name! And ye have said: 'In what have we despised Thy name?'
<sup>7</sup> Ye are bringing nigh on Mine altar polluted bread, And ye have said: 'In what have we polluted Thee?' In your saying: 'The table of Jehovah — it [is] despicable,'
<sup>8</sup> And when ye bring nigh the blind for sacrifice, 'There is no evil,' And when ye bring nigh the lame and sick, 'There is no evil;' Bring it near, I pray thee, to thy governor — Doth he accept thee? or doth he lift up thy face? Said Jehovah of Hosts.
<sup>9</sup> And now, appease, I pray thee, the face of God, And He doth favour us; From your own hand hath this been, Doth He accept of you appearances? Said Jehovah of Hosts.
<sup>10</sup> Who [is] even among you, And he shutteth the two-leaved doors? Yea, ye do not kindle Mine altar for nought, I have no pleasure in you, said Jehovah of Hosts, And a present I do not accept of your hand.
<sup>11</sup> For, from the rising of the sun to its going in, Great [is] My name among nations, And in every place perfume is brought nigh to My name, and a pure present, For great [is] My name among nations, Said Jehovah of Hosts.
<sup>12</sup> And ye are polluting it in your saying, 'The table of Jehovah — it is polluted, As to its fruit — despicable is its food.'
<sup>13</sup> And ye have said, 'Lo, what a weariness,' And ye have puffed at it, said Jehovah of Hosts, And ye have brought in plunder, And the lame and the sick, And ye have brought in the present! Do I accept it from your hand? said Jehovah.
<sup>14</sup> And cursed [is] a deceiver, who hath in his drove a male, And is vowing, and is sacrificing a marred thing to the Lord, For a great king [am] I, said Jehovah of Hosts, And My name [is] revered among nations!

- <sup>1</sup> And now, to you [is] this charge, O priests,
<sup>2</sup> If ye hearken not, and if ye lay [it] not to heart, To give honour to My name, said Jehovah of Hosts, I have sent against you the curse, And I have cursed your blessings, Yea, I have also cursed it, Because ye are not laying [it] to heart.

<sup>3</sup> Lo, I am pushing away before you the seed, And have scattered dung before your faces, Dung of your festivals, And it hath taken you away with it.

<sup>4</sup> And ye have known that I have sent unto you this charge, For My covenant being with Levi, Said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>5</sup> My covenant hath been with him of life and of peace, And I make them to him a fear, and he doth fear Me, And because of My name he hath been affrighted.

<sup>6</sup> The law of truth hath been in his mouth, And perverseness hath not been found in his lips, In peace and in uprightness he walked with Me, And many he brought back from iniquity.

<sup>7</sup> For the lips of a priest preserve knowledge, And law they do seek from his mouth, For a messenger of Jehovah of Hosts he [is].

<sup>8</sup> And ye, ye have turned from the way, Ye have caused many to stumble in the law, Ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, Said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>9</sup> And I also, I have made you despised and low before all the people, Because ye are not keeping My ways, And are accepting persons in the law.

<sup>10</sup> Have we not all one father? Hath not our God prepared us? Wherefore do we deal treacherously, Each against his brother, To pollute the covenant of our fathers?

<sup>11</sup> Dealt treacherously hath Judah, And abomination hath been done in Israel, and in Jerusalem, For polluted hath Judah the holy thing of Jehovah, That He hath loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

<sup>12</sup> Cut off doth Jehovah the man who doth it, Tempter and tempted — from the tents of Jacob, Even he who is bringing nigh a present to Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>14</sup> And ye have said, 'Wherefore?' Because Jehovah hath testified between thee And the wife of thy youth, That thou hast dealt treacherously against her, And she thy companion, and thy covenant-wife.

<sup>15</sup> And He did not make one [only], And He hath the remnant of the Spirit. And what [is] the one [alone]! He is seeking a godly seed. And ye have been watchful over your spirit, And with the wife of thy youth, None doth deal treacherously.

<sup>16</sup> For [I] hate sending away, said Jehovah, God of Israel, And He [who] hath covered violence with his clothing, said Jehovah of Hosts, And ye have been watchful over your spirit, And ye do not deal treacherously.

<sup>17</sup> Ye have wearied Jehovah with your words, And ye have said: 'In what have we wearied Him?' In your saying: 'Every evil-doer [is] good in the eyes of Jehovah, And in them He is delighting,' Or, 'Where [is] the God of judgment?'

3

<sup>1</sup> Lo, I am sending My messenger, And he hath prepared a way before Me, And suddenly come in unto his temple Doth the Lord whom ye are seeking, Even the messenger of the covenant, Whom ye are desiring, Lo, he is coming, said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>3</sup> And he hath sat, a refiner and purifier of silver, And he hath purified the sons of Levi, And hath refined them as gold and as silver, And they have been to Jehovah bringing nigh a present in righteousness.

<sup>4</sup> And sweet to Jehovah hath been the present of Judah and Jerusalem, As in days of old, and as in former years.

<sup>5</sup> And I have drawn near to you for judgment, And I have been a witness, Making haste against sorcerers, And against adulterers, And against swearers to a falsehood, And against oppressors of the hire of an hireling, Of a widow, and of a fatherless one, And those turning aside a sojourner, And who fear Me not, said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>6</sup> For I [am] Jehovah, I have not changed, And ye, the sons of Jacob, Ye have not been consumed.

<sup>7</sup> Even from the days of your fathers Ye have turned aside from My statutes, And ye have not taken heed. Turn back unto Me, and I turn back to you, Said Jehovah of Hosts. And ye have said, 'In what do we turn back?'

<sup>8</sup> Doth man deceive God? but ye are deceiving Me, And ye have said: 'In what have we deceived Thee?' The tithe and the heave-offering!

<sup>10</sup> Bring in all the tithe unto the treasure-house, And there is food in My house; When ye have tried Me, now, with this, Said Jehovah of Hosts, Do not I open to you the windows of heaven? Yea, I have emptied on you a blessing till there is no space.

<sup>11</sup> And I have pushed for you against the consumer, And He doth not destroy to you the fruit of the ground, Nor miscarry to you doth the vine in the field, Said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>12</sup> And declared you happy have all the nations, For ye are a delightful land, said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>13</sup> Hard against Me have been your words, Said Jehovah, and ye have said: 'What have we spoken against Thee?'

<sup>14</sup> Ye have said, 'A vain thing to serve God! And what gain when we kept His charge? And when we have gone in black, Because of Jehovah of Hosts?'

<sup>15</sup> And now, we are declaring the proud happy, Yea, built up have been those doing wickedness, Yea they have tempted God, and escape.'

<sup>16</sup> Then have those fearing Jehovah spoken one to another, And Jehovah doth attend and hear, And written is a book of memorial before Him Of those fearing Jehovah, And of those esteeming His name.

<sup>17</sup> And they have been to Me, said Jehovah of Hosts, In the day that I am appointing — a peculiar treasure, And I have had pity on them, As one hath pity on his son who is serving him.

<sup>18</sup> And ye have turned back and considered, Between the righteous and the wicked, Between the servant of God and him who is not His servant.

4

<sup>1</sup> For, lo, the day hath come, burning as a furnace, And all the proud, and every wicked doer, have been stubble, And burnt them hath the day that came, Said Jehovah of Hosts, That there is not left to them root or branch,

<sup>2</sup> And risen to you, ye who fear My name, Hath the sun of righteousness — and healing in its wings, And ye have gone forth, and have increased as calves of a stall.

<sup>3</sup> And ye have trodden down the wicked, For they are ashes under the soles of your feet, In the day that I am appointing, Said Jehovah of Hosts.

<sup>4</sup> Remember ye the law of Moses My servant, That I did command him in Horeb, For all Israel — statutes and judgments.

<sup>5</sup> Lo, I am sending to you Elijah the prophet, Before the coming of the day of Jehovah, The great and the fearful.

<sup>6</sup> And he hath turned back the heart of fathers to sons, And the heart of sons to their fathers, Before I come and have utterly smitten the land!

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. MATTHEW

<sup>16</sup> and Jacob begat Joseph, the husband of Mary, of whom was begotten Jesus, who is named Christ.

<sup>18</sup> And of Jesus Christ, the birth was thus: For his mother Mary having been betrothed to Joseph, before their coming together she was found to have conceived from the Holy Spirit, <sup>19</sup> and Joseph her husband being righteous, and not willing to make her an example, did wish privately to send her away.

<sup>20</sup> And on his thinking of these things, lo, a messenger of the Lord in a dream appeared to him, saying, 'Joseph, son of David, thou mayest not fear to receive Mary thy wife, for that which in her was begotten [is] of the Holy Spirit,

<sup>21</sup> and she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins.'

<sup>22</sup> And all this hath come to pass, that it may be fulfilled that was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,

<sup>23</sup> 'Lo, the virgin shall conceive, and she shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel,' which is, being interpreted 'With us [he is] God.'

<sup>25</sup> and did not know her till she brought forth her son — the first-born, and he called his name Jesus.

<sup>1</sup> And Jesus having been born in Beth-Lehem of Judea, in the days of Herod the king, lo, mages from the east came to Jerusalem,

<sup>2</sup> saying, 'Where is he who was born king of the Jews? for we saw his star in the east, and we came to bow to him.'

<sup>3</sup> And Herod the king having heard, was stirred, and all Jerusalem with him,

<sup>4</sup> and having gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he was inquiring from them where the Christ is born.

<sup>5</sup> And they said to him, 'In Beth-Lehem of Judea, for thus it hath been written through the prophet,

<sup>6</sup> And thou, Beth-Lehem, the land of Judah, thou art by no means the least among the leaders of Judah, for out of thee shall come one leading, who shall feed My people Israel.'

<sup>7</sup> Then Herod, privately having called the mages, did inquire exactly from them the time of the appearing star,

<sup>8</sup> and having sent them to Beth-Lehem, he said, 'Having gone — inquire ye exactly for the child, and whenever ye may have found, bring me back word, that I also having come may bow to him.'

<sup>9</sup> And they, having heard the king, departed, and lo, the star, that they did see in the east, did go before them, till, having come, it stood over where the child was.

<sup>11</sup> and having come to the house, they found the child with Mary his mother, and having fallen down they bowed to him, and having opened their treasures, they presented to him gifts, gold, and frankincense, and myrrh,

<sup>12</sup> and having been divinely warned in a dream not to turn back unto Herod, through another way they withdrew to their own region.

<sup>13</sup> And on their having withdrawn, lo, a messenger of the Lord doth appear in a dream to Joseph, saying, 'Having risen, take the child and his mother, and flee to Egypt, and be thou there till I may speak to thee, for Herod is about to seek the child to destroy him.'

<sup>14</sup> And he, having risen, took the child and his mother by night, and withdrew to Egypt,

<sup>15</sup> and he was there till the death of Herod, that it might be fulfilled that was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, 'Out of Egypt I did call My Son.'

<sup>16</sup> Then Herod, having seen that he was deceived by the mages, was very wroth, and having sent forth, he slew all the male children in Beth-Lehem, and in all its borders, from two years and under, according to the time that he inquired exactly from the mages.

<sup>17</sup> Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

<sup>18</sup> 'A voice in Ramah was heard — lamentation and weeping and much mourning — Rachel weeping [for] her children, and she would not be comforted because they are not.'

<sup>19</sup> And Herod having died, lo, a messenger of the Lord in a dream doth appear to Joseph in Egypt,

<sup>20</sup> saying, 'Having risen, take the child and his mother, and be going to the land of Israel, for they have died — those seeking the life of the child.'

<sup>21</sup> And he, having risen, took the child and his mother, and came to the land of Israel,

<sup>22</sup> and having heard that Archelaus doth reign over Judea instead of Herod his father, he was afraid to go thither, and having been divinely warned in a dream, he withdrew to the parts of Galilee,

<sup>23</sup> and coming, he dwelt in a city named Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled that was spoken through the prophets, that 'A Nazarene he shall be called.'

3

<sup>5</sup> Then were going forth unto him Jerusalem, and all Judea, and all the region round about the Jordan, <sup>6</sup> and they were baptized in the Jordan by him, confessing their sins.

<sup>7</sup> And having seen many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming about his baptism, he said to them, 'Brood of vipers! who did shew you to flee from the coming wrath?

<sup>9</sup> and do not think to say in yourselves, A father we have — Abraham, for I say to you, that God is able out of these stones to raise children to Abraham, <sup>10</sup> and now also, the axe unto the root of the trees is laid, every tree therefore not bearing good fruit is hewn down, and to fire is cast.

<sup>11</sup> 'I indeed do baptize you with water to reformation, but he who after me is coming is mightier than I, of whom I am not worthy to bear the sandals, he shall baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire,

<sup>12</sup> whose fan [is] in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his floor, and will gather his wheat to the storehouse, but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable.'

<sup>14</sup> but John was forbidding him, saying, 'I have need by thee to be baptized — and thou dost come unto me!'

<sup>15</sup> But Jesus answering said to him, 'Suffer now, for thus it is becoming to us to fulfil all righteousness,' then he doth suffer him.

<sup>16</sup> And having been baptized, Jesus went up immediately from the water, and lo, opened to him were the heavens, and he saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon him,

<sup>17</sup> and lo, a voice out of the heavens, saying, 'This is My Son — the Beloved, in whom I did delight.'

4

<sup>3</sup> And the Tempter having come to him said, 'If Son thou art of God — speak that these stones may become loaves.'

<sup>4</sup> But he answering said, 'It hath been written, Not upon bread alone doth man live, but upon every word coming forth from the mouth of God.'

<sup>5</sup> Then doth the Devil take him to the [holy] city, and doth set him on the pinnacle of the temple,

<sup>6</sup> and saith to him, 'If Son thou art of God — cast thyself down, for it hath been written, that, His messengers He shall charge concerning thee, and on hands they shall bear thee up, that thou mayest not dash on a stone thy foot.'

<sup>7</sup> Jesus said to him again, 'It hath been written, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.'

<sup>8</sup> Again doth the Devil take him to a very high mount, and doth shew to him all the kingdoms of the world and the glory of them,

<sup>9</sup> and saith to him, 'All these to thee I will give, if falling down thou mayest bow to me.'

<sup>10</sup> Then saith Jesus to him, 'Go — Adversary, for it hath been written, The Lord thy God thou shalt bow to, and Him only thou shalt serve.'

<sup>12</sup> And Jesus having heard that John was delivered up, did withdraw to Galilee,

<sup>13</sup> and having left Nazareth, having come, he dwelt at Capernaum that is by the sea, in the borders of Zebulun and Naphtalim,

<sup>14</sup> that it might be fulfilled that was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying,

<sup>15</sup> 'Land of Zebulun and land of Naphtali, way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations! —

<sup>16</sup> the people that is sitting in darkness saw a great light, and to those sitting in a region and shadow of death — light arose to them.'

<sup>18</sup> And Jesus, walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brothers, Simon named Peter and Andrew his brother, casting a drag into the sea — for they were fishers —

<sup>19</sup> and he saith to them, 'Come ye after me, and I will make you fishers of men,'

<sup>23</sup> And Jesus was going about all Galilee teaching in their synagogues, and proclaiming the good news of the reign, and healing every disease, and every malady among the people,

<sup>24</sup> and his fame went forth to all Syria, and they brought to him all having ailments, pressed with manifold sicknesses and pains, and demoniacs, and lunatics, and paralytics, and he healed them.

5

<sup>1</sup> And having seen the multitudes, he went up to the mount, and he having sat down, his disciples came to him,

<sup>11</sup> 'Happy are ye whenever they may reproach you, and may persecute, and may say any evil thing against you falsely for my sake —

<sup>12</sup> rejoice ye and be glad, because your reward [is] great in the heavens, for thus did they persecute the prophets who were before you.

<sup>13</sup> 'Ye are the salt of the land, but if the salt may lose savour, in what shall it be salted? for nothing is it good henceforth, except to be cast without, and to be trodden down by men.

<sup>14</sup> 'Ye are the light of the world, a city set upon a mount is not able to be hid;

<sup>15</sup> nor do they light a lamp, and put it under the measure, but on the lamp-stand, and it shineth to all those in the house;

<sup>16</sup> so let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and may glorify your Father who [is] in the heavens.

<sup>17</sup> 'Do not suppose that I came to throw down the law or the prophets — I did not come to throw down, but to fulfil;

<sup>18</sup> for, verily I say to you, till that the heaven and the earth may pass away, one iota or one tittle may not pass away from the law, till that all may come to pass.

<sup>19</sup> 'Whoever therefore may loose one of these commands — the least — and may teach men so, least he shall be called in the reign of the heavens, but whoever may do and may teach [them], he shall be called great in the reign of the heavens.

<sup>20</sup> 'For I say to you, that if your righteousness may not abound above that of the scribes and Pharisees, ye may not enter to the reign of the heavens.

<sup>21</sup> 'Ye heard that it was said to the ancients: Thou shalt not kill, and whoever may kill shall be in danger of the judgment;

<sup>22</sup> but I — I say to you, that every one who is angry at his brother without cause, shall be in danger of the judgment, and whoever may say to his brother, Empty fellow! shall be in danger of the sanhedrim, and whoever may say, Rebel! shall be in danger of the gehenna of the fire.

<sup>23</sup> 'If, therefore, thou mayest bring thy gift to the altar, and there mayest remember that thy brother hath anything against thee,

<sup>24</sup> leave there thy gift before the altar, and go — first be reconciled to thy brother, and then having come bring thy gift.

<sup>25</sup> 'Be agreeing with thy opponent quickly, while thou art in the way with him, that the opponent may not deliver thee to the judge, and the judge may deliver thee to the officer, and to prison thou mayest be cast, <sup>26</sup> verily I say to thee, thou mayest not come forth thence till that thou mayest pay the last farthing.

<sup>27</sup> 'Ye heard that it was said to the ancients: Thou shalt not commit adultery;

<sup>28</sup> but I — I say to you, that every one who is looking on a woman to desire her, did already commit adultery with her in his heart.

<sup>29</sup> 'But, if thy right eye doth cause thee to stumble, pluck it out and cast from thee, for it is good to thee that one of thy members may perish, and not thy whole body be cast to gehenna.

<sup>31</sup> 'And it was said, That whoever may put away his wife, let him give to her a writing of divorce;

<sup>32</sup> but I — I say to you, that whoever may put away his wife, save for the matter of whoredom, doth make her to commit adultery; and whoever may marry her who hath been put away doth commit adultery.

<sup>33</sup> 'Again, ye heard that it was said to the ancients: Thou shalt not swear falsely, but thou shalt pay to the Lord thine oaths;

<sup>34</sup> but I — I say to you, not to swear at all; neither by the heaven, because it is the throne of God,

<sup>35</sup> nor by the earth, because it is His footstool, nor by Jerusalem, because it is a city of a great king,

<sup>36</sup> nor by thy head mayest thou swear, because thou art not able one hair to make white or black;

<sup>37</sup> but let your word be, Yes, Yes, No, No, and that which is more than these is of the evil.

<sup>38</sup> 'Ye heard that it was said: Eye for eye, and tooth for tooth;

<sup>39</sup> but I — I say to you, not to resist the evil, but whoever shall slap thee on thy right cheek, turn to him also the other;

<sup>40</sup> and whoever is willing to take thee to law, and thy coat to take — suffer to him also the cloak.

<sup>42</sup> to him who is asking of thee be giving, and him who is willing to borrow from thee thou mayest not turn away.

<sup>43</sup> 'Ye heard that it was said: Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and shalt hate thine enemy;

<sup>44</sup> but I — I say to you, Love your enemies, bless those cursing you, do good to those hating you, and pray for those accusing you falsely, and persecuting you,

<sup>45</sup> that ye may be sons of your Father in the heavens, because His sun He doth cause to rise on evil and good, and He doth send rain on righteous and unrighteous.

<sup>46</sup> 'For, if ye may love those loving you, what reward have ye? do not also the tax-gatherers the same?

<sup>47</sup> and if ye may salute your brethren only, what do ye abundant? do not also the tax-gatherers so?

<sup>1</sup> 'Take heed your kindness not to do before men, to be seen by them, and if not — reward ye have not from your Father who [is] in the heavens;

<sup>2</sup> whenever, therefore, thou mayest do kindness, thou mayest not sound a trumpet before thee as the hypocrites do, in the synagogues, and in the streets, that they may have glory from men; verily I say to you — they have their reward!

<sup>4</sup> that thy kindness may be in secret, and thy Father who is seeing in secret Himself shall reward thee manifestly.

<sup>5</sup> 'And when thou mayest pray, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites, because they love in the synagogues, and in the corners of the broad places — standing — to pray, that they may be seen of men; verily I say to you, that they have their reward.

<sup>6</sup> 'But thou, when thou mayest pray, go into thy chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father who [is] in secret, and thy Father who is seeing in secret, shall reward thee manifestly.

<sup>7</sup> 'And — praying — ye may not use vain repetitions like the nations, for they think that in their much speaking they shall be heard,

<sup>8</sup> be ye not therefore like to them, for your Father doth know those things that ye have need of before your asking him;

<sup>10</sup> 'Thy reign come: Thy will come to pass, as in heaven also on the earth.

<sup>13</sup> 'And mayest Thou not lead us to temptation, but deliver us from the evil, because Thine is the reign, and the power, and the glory — to the ages. Amen.

<sup>14</sup> 'For, if ye may forgive men their trespasses He also will forgive you — your Father who [is] in the heavens;

<sup>15</sup> but if ye may not forgive men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

<sup>16</sup> 'And when ye may fast, be ye not as the hypocrites, of sour countenances, for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear to men fasting; verily I say to you, that they have their reward.

<sup>19</sup> 'Treasure not up to yourselves treasures on the earth, where moth and rust disfigure, and where thieves break through and steal,

<sup>20</sup> but treasure up to yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth disfigure, and where thieves do not break through nor steal,

<sup>21</sup> for where your treasure is, there will be also your heart.

<sup>23</sup> but if thine eye may be evil, all thy body shall be dark; if, therefore, the light that [is] in thee is darkness — the darkness, how great!

<sup>24</sup> 'None is able to serve two lords, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will hold to the one, and despise the other; ye are not able to serve God and Mammon.

<sup>25</sup> 'Because of this I say to you, be not anxious for your life, what ye may eat, and what ye may drink, nor for your body, what ye may put on. Is not the life more than the nourishment, and the body than the clothing?

<sup>27</sup> 'And who of you, being anxious, is able to add to his age one cubit?

<sup>28</sup> and about clothing why are ye anxious? consider well the lilies of the field; how do they grow? they do not labour, nor do they spin;

<sup>29</sup> and I say to you, that not even Solomon in all his glory was arrayed as one of these.

<sup>30</sup> 'And if the herb of the field, that to-day is, and to-morrow is cast to the furnace, God doth so clothe — not much more you, O ye of little faith?

<sup>31</sup> therefore ye may not be anxious, saying, What may we eat? or, What may we drink? or, What may we put round?

<sup>32</sup> for all these do the nations seek for, for your heavenly Father doth know that ye have need of all these;

<sup>33</sup> but seek ye first the reign of God and His righteousness, and all these shall be added to you.

<sup>2</sup> for in what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged, and in what measure ye measure, it shall be measured to you.

<sup>5</sup> Hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then thou shalt see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

<sup>6</sup> 'Ye may not give that which is [holy] to the dogs, nor cast your pearls before the swine, that they may not trample them among their feet, and having turned — may rend you.

<sup>7</sup> 'Ask, and it shall be given to you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened to you;

<sup>8</sup> for every one who is asking doth receive, and he who is seeking doth find, and to him who is knocking it shall be opened.

<sup>9</sup> 'Or what man is of you, of whom, if his son may ask a loaf — a stone will he present to him?

<sup>10</sup> and if a fish he may ask — a serpent will he present to him?

<sup>11</sup> if, therefore, ye being evil, have known good gifts to give to your children, how much more shall your Father who [is] in the heavens give good things to those asking him?

<sup>12</sup> 'All things, therefore, whatever ye may will that men may be doing to you, so also do to them, for this is the law and the prophets.

<sup>13</sup> 'Go ye in through the strait gate, because wide [is] the gate, and broad the way that is leading to the destruction, and many are those going in through it;

<sup>14</sup> how strait [is] the gate, and compressed the way that is leading to the life, and few are those finding it!

<sup>21</sup> 'Not every one who is saying to me Lord, lord, shall come into the reign of the heavens; but he who is doing the will of my Father who is in the heavens.

<sup>22</sup> Many will say to me in that day, Lord, lord, have we not in thy name prophesied? and in thy name cast out demons? and in thy name done many mighty things?

<sup>23</sup> and then I will acknowledge to them, that — I never knew you, depart from me ye who are working lawlessness.

<sup>24</sup> 'Therefore, every one who doth hear of me these words, and doth do them, I will liken him to a wise man who built his house upon the rock;

<sup>25</sup> and the rain did descend, and the streams came, and the winds blew, and they beat on that house, and it fell not, for it had been founded on the rock.

<sup>26</sup> 'And every one who is hearing of me these words, and is not doing them, shall be likened to a foolish man who built his house upon the sand;

<sup>27</sup> and the rain did descend, and the streams came, and the winds blew, and they beat on that house, and it fell, and its fall was great.'

<sup>28</sup> And it came to pass, when Jesus ended these words, the multitudes were astonished at his teaching, <sup>29</sup> for he was teaching them as having authority, and not as the scribes.

8

<sup>3</sup> and having stretched forth the hand, Jesus touched him, saying, 'I will, be thou cleansed,' and immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

<sup>4</sup> And Jesus saith to him, 'See, thou mayest tell no one, but go, thyself shew to the priest, and bring the gift that Moses commanded for a testimony to them.'

<sup>5</sup> And Jesus having entered into Capernaum, there came to him a centurion calling upon him,

<sup>6</sup> and saying, 'Sir, my young man hath been laid in the house a paralytic, fearfully afflicted,'

<sup>8</sup> And the centurion answering said, 'Sir, I am not worthy that thou mayest enter under my roof, but only say a word, and my servant shall be healed;

<sup>9</sup> for I also am a man under authority, having under myself soldiers, and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth, and to another, Be coming, and he cometh, and to my servant, Do this, and he doth [it].'

<sup>10</sup> And Jesus having heard, did wonder, and said to those following, 'Verily I say to you, not even in Israel so great faith have I found;

<sup>11</sup> and I say to you, that many from east and west shall come and recline (at meat) with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the reign of the heavens,

<sup>12</sup> but the sons of the reign shall be cast forth to the outer darkness — there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth.'

<sup>13</sup> And Jesus said to the centurion, 'Go, and as thou didst believe let it be to thee;' and his young man was healed in that hour.

<sup>14</sup> And Jesus having come into the house of Peter, saw his mother-in-law laid, and fevered, <sup>15</sup> and he touched her hand, and the fever left her, and she arose, and was ministering to them.

<sup>16</sup> And evening having come, they brought to him many demoniacs, and he did cast out the spirits with a word, and did heal all who were ill,

<sup>17</sup> that it might be fulfilled that was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying, 'Himself took our infirmities, and the sicknesses he did bear.'

<sup>18</sup> And Jesus having seen great multitudes about him, did command to depart to the other side;

<sup>19</sup> and a certain scribe having come, said to him, 'Teacher, I will follow thee wherever thou mayest go;'

<sup>20</sup> and Jesus saith to him, 'The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven places of rest, but the Son of Man hath not where he may lay the head.'

<sup>21</sup> And another of his disciples said to him, 'Sir, permit me first to depart and to bury my father;'

<sup>22</sup> and Jesus said to him, 'Follow me, and suffer the dead to bury their own dead.'

<sup>23</sup> And when he entered into the boat his disciples did follow him,

<sup>24</sup> and lo, a great tempest arose in the sea, so that the boat was being covered by the waves, but he was sleeping,

<sup>25</sup> and his disciples having come to him, awoke him, saying, 'Sir, save us; we are perishing.'

<sup>26</sup> And he saith to them, 'Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith?' Then having risen, he rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm;

<sup>27</sup> and the men wondered, saying, 'What kind — is this, that even the wind and the sea do obey him?'

<sup>28</sup> And he having come to the other side, to the region of the Gergesenes, there met him two demoniacs, coming forth out of the tombs, very fierce, so that no one was able to pass over by that way,

<sup>29</sup> and lo, they cried out, saying, 'What — to us and to thee, Jesus, Son of God? didst thou come hither, before the time, to afflict us?'

<sup>30</sup> And there was far off from them a herd of many swine feeding,

<sup>31</sup> and the demons were calling on him, saying, 'If thou dost cast us forth, permit us to go away to the herd of the swine;'

<sup>32</sup> and he saith to them, 'Go.' And having come forth, they went to the herd of the swine, and lo, the whole herd of the swine rushed down the steep, to the sea, and died in the waters, <sup>33</sup> and those feeding did flee, and, having gone to the city, they declared all, and the matter of the demoniacs.

<sup>34</sup> And lo, all the city came forth to meet Jesus, and having seen him, they called on [him] that he might depart from their borders.

9

<sup>1</sup> And having gone to the boat, he passed over, and came to his own city,

<sup>5</sup> for which is easier? to say, The sins have been forgiven to thee; or to say, Rise, and walk?

<sup>6</sup> 'But, that ye may know that the Son of Man hath power upon the earth to forgive sins – (then saith he to the paralytic) – having risen, take up thy couch, and go to thy house.'

<sup>7</sup> And he, having risen, went to his house,

<sup>8</sup> and the multitudes having seen, wondered, and glorified God, who did give such power to men.

<sup>9</sup> And Jesus passing by thence, saw a man sitting at the tax-office, named Matthew, and saith to him, 'Be following me,' and he, having risen, did follow him.

<sup>10</sup> And it came to pass, he reclining (at meat) in the house, that lo, many tax-gatherers and sinners having come, were lying (at meat) with Jesus and his disciples,

<sup>11</sup> and the Pharisees having seen, said to his disciples, 'Wherefore with the tax-gatherers and sinners doth your teacher eat?'

<sup>12</sup> And Jesus having heard, said to them, 'They who are whole have no need of a physician, but they who are ill;

<sup>13</sup> but having gone, learn ye what is, Kindness I will, and not sacrifice, for I did not come to call righteous men, but sinners, to reformation.'

<sup>14</sup> Then come to him do the disciples of John, saying, 'Wherefore do we and the Pharisees fast much, and thy disciples fast not?'

<sup>15</sup> And Jesus said to them, 'Can the sons of the bride-chamber mourn, so long as the bridegroom is with them? but days shall come when the bridegroom may be taken from them, and then they shall fast.

<sup>16</sup> 'And no one doth put a patch of undressed cloth on an old garment, for its filling up doth take from the garment, and a worse rent is made.

<sup>17</sup> 'Nor do they put new wine into old skins, and if not – the skins burst, and the wine doth run out, and the skins are destroyed, but they put new wine into new skins, and both are preserved together.'

<sup>18</sup> While he is speaking these things to them, lo, a ruler having come, was bowing to him, saying that 'My daughter just now died, but, having come, lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.'

<sup>19</sup> And Jesus having risen, did follow him, also his disciples,

<sup>20</sup> and lo, a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, having come to him behind, did touch the fringe of his garments,

<sup>21</sup> for she said within herself, 'If only I may touch his garment, I shall be saved.'

<sup>23</sup> And Jesus having come to the house of the ruler, and having seen the minstrels and the multitude making tumult,

<sup>24</sup> he saith to them, 'Withdraw, for the damsel did not die, but doth sleep,' and they were deriding him;

<sup>25</sup> but, when the multitude was put forth, having gone in, he took hold of her hand, and the damsel arose,

<sup>26</sup> and the fame of this went forth to all the land.

<sup>27</sup> And Jesus passing on thence, two blind men followed him, calling and saying, 'Deal kindly with us, Son of David.'

<sup>28</sup> And he having come to the house, the blind men came to him, and Jesus saith to them, 'Believe ye that I am able to do this?' They say to him, 'Yes, sir.'

<sup>29</sup> Then touched he their eyes, saying, 'According to your faith let it be to you,'

<sup>30</sup> and their eyes were opened, and Jesus strictly charged them, saying, 'See, let no one know;'

<sup>31</sup> but they, having gone forth, did spread his fame in all that land.

<sup>32</sup> And as they are coming forth, lo, they brought to him a man dumb, a demoniac,

<sup>33</sup> and the demon having been cast out, the dumb spake, and the multitude did wonder, saying that 'It was never so seen in Israel.'

<sup>35</sup> And Jesus was going up and down all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and proclaiming the good news of the reign, and healing every sickness and every malady among the people.

<sup>36</sup> And having seen the multitudes, he was moved with compassion for them, that they were faint and cast aside, as sheep not having a shepherd,

<sup>38</sup> beseech ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he may put forth workmen to His harvest.'

10

<sup>1</sup> And having called to him his twelve disciples, he gave to them power over unclean spirits, so as to be casting them out, and to be healing every sickness, and every malady.

<sup>4</sup> Simon the Cananite, and Judas Iscariot, who did also deliver him up.

<sup>5</sup> These twelve did Jesus send forth, having given command to them, saying, 'To the way of the nations go not away, and into a city of the Samaritans go not in,

<sup>6</sup> and be going rather unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

<sup>7</sup> 'And, going on, proclaim saying that, the reign of the heavens hath come nigh;

<sup>8</sup> infirm ones be healing, lepers be cleansing, dead be raising, demons be casting out — freely ye did receive, freely give.

<sup>10</sup> nor scrip for the way, nor two coats, nor sandals, nor staff — for the workman is worthy of his nourishment.

<sup>12</sup> And coming to the house salute it,

<sup>13</sup> and if indeed the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it; and if it be not worthy, let your peace turn back to you.

<sup>14</sup> 'And whoever may not receive you nor hear your words, coming forth from that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet,

<sup>15</sup> verily I say to you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment than for that city.

<sup>16</sup> 'Lo, I do send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves, be ye therefore wise as the serpents, and simple as the doves.

<sup>17</sup> And, take ye heed of men, for they will give you up to sanhedrims, and in their synagogues they will scourge you,

<sup>18</sup> and before governors and kings ye shall be brought for my sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations.

<sup>19</sup> 'And whenever they may deliver you up, be not anxious how or what ye may speak, for it shall be given you in that hour what ye shall speak;

<sup>20</sup> for ye are not the speakers, but the Spirit of your Father that is speaking in you.

<sup>21</sup> 'And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and father child, and children shall rise up against parents, and shall put them to death,

<sup>22</sup> and ye shall be hated by all because of my name, but he who hath endured to the end, he shall be saved.

<sup>23</sup> 'And whenever they may persecute you in this city, flee to the other, for verily I say to you, ye may not have completed the cities of Israel till the Son of Man may come.

<sup>25</sup> sufficient to the disciple that he may be as his teacher, and the servant as his lord; if the master of the house they did call Beelzeboul, how much more those of his household?

<sup>26</sup> 'Ye may not, therefore, fear them, for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed, and hid, that shall not be known;

<sup>27</sup> that which I tell you in the darkness, speak in the light, and that which you hear at the ear, proclaim on the house-tops.

<sup>28</sup> 'And be not afraid of those killing the body, and are not able to kill the soul, but fear rather Him who is able both soul and body to destroy in gehenna.

<sup>29</sup> 'Are not two sparrows sold for an assar? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father;

<sup>30</sup> and of you – even the hairs of the head are all numbered;

<sup>32</sup> 'Every one, therefore, who shall confess in me before men, I also will confess in him before my Father who is in the heavens;

<sup>33</sup> and whoever shall deny me before men, I also will deny him before my Father who is in the heavens.

<sup>34</sup> 'Ye may not suppose that I came to put peace on the earth; I did not come to put peace, but a sword;

<sup>35</sup> for I came to set a man at variance against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law,

<sup>37</sup> 'He who is loving father or mother above me, is not worthy of me, and he who is loving son or daughter above me, is not worthy of me, <sup>38</sup> and whoever doth not receive his cross and follow after me, is not worthy of me.

<sup>40</sup> 'He who is receiving you doth receive me, and he who is receiving me doth receive Him who sent me,

<sup>41</sup> he who is receiving a prophet in the name of a prophet, shall receive a prophet's reward, and he who is receiving a righteous man in the name of a righteous man, shall receive a righteous man's reward,

<sup>42</sup> and whoever may give to drink to one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say to you, he may not lose his reward.'

11

<sup>2</sup> And John having heard in the prison the works of the Christ, having sent two of his disciples,

<sup>3</sup> said to him, 'Art thou He who is coming, or for another do we look?'

<sup>4</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'Having gone, declare to John the things that ye hear and see,

<sup>5</sup> blind receive sight, and lame walk, lepers are cleansed, and deaf hear, dead are raised, and poor have good news proclaimed,

<sup>6</sup> and happy is he who may not be stumbled in me.'

<sup>7</sup> And as they are going, Jesus began to say to the multitudes concerning John, 'What went ye out to the wilderness to view? — a reed shaken by the wind?

<sup>9</sup> 'But what went ye out to see? — a prophet? yes, I say to you, and more than a prophet,

<sup>10</sup> for this is he of whom it hath been written, Lo, I do send My messenger before thy face, who shall prepare thy way before thee.

<sup>11</sup> Verily I say to you, there hath not risen, among those born of women, a greater than John the Baptist, but he who is least in the reign of the heavens is greater than he.

<sup>12</sup> 'And, from the days of John the Baptist till now, the reign of the heavens doth suffer violence, and violent men do take it by force,

<sup>13</sup> for all the prophets and the law till John did prophesy,

<sup>14</sup> and if ye are willing to receive [it], he is Elijah who was about to come;

<sup>15</sup> he who is having ears to hear — let him hear.

<sup>16</sup> 'And to what shall I liken this generation? it is like little children in market-places, sitting and calling to their comrades,

<sup>17</sup> and saying, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance, we lamented to you, and ye did not smite the breast.

<sup>18</sup> 'For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a demon;

<sup>20</sup> Then began he to reproach the cities in which were done most of his mighty works, because they did not reform.

<sup>21</sup> 'Woe to thee, Chorazin! woe to thee, Bethsaida! because, if in Tyre and Sidon had been done the mighty works that were done in you, long ago in sackcloth and ashes they had reformed;

<sup>22</sup> but I say to you, to Tyre and Sidon it shall be more tolerable in a day of judgment than for you.

<sup>23</sup> 'And thou, Capernaum, which unto the heaven wast exalted, unto hades shalt be brought down, because if in Sodom had been done the mighty works that were done in thee, it had remained unto this day;

<sup>24</sup> but I say to you, to the land of Sodom it shall be more tolerable in a day of judgment than to thee.'

<sup>25</sup> At that time Jesus answering said, 'I do confess to Thee, Father, Lord of the heavens and of the earth, that thou didst hide these things from wise and understanding ones, and didst reveal them to babes.

<sup>27</sup> 'All things were delivered to me by my Father, and none doth know the Son, except the Father, nor doth any know the Father, except the Son, and he to whom the Son may wish to reveal [Him].

<sup>28</sup> 'Come unto me, all ye labouring and burdened ones, and I will give you rest,

<sup>29</sup> take up my yoke upon you, and learn from me, because I am meek and humble in heart, and ye shall find rest to your souls,

<sup>30</sup> for my yoke [is] easy, and my burden is light.'

12

<sup>1</sup> At that time did Jesus go on the sabbaths through the corn, and his disciples were hungry, and they began to pluck ears, and to eat,

<sup>2</sup> and the Pharisees having seen, said to him, 'Lo, thy disciples do that which it is not lawful to do on a sabbath.'

<sup>3</sup> And he said to them, 'Did ye not read what David did, when he was hungry, himself and those with him —

<sup>4</sup> how he went into the house of God, and the loaves of the presentation did eat, which it is not lawful to him to eat, nor to those with him, except to the priests alone?

<sup>5</sup> 'Or did ye not read in the Law, that on the sabbaths the priests in the temple do profane the sabbath, and are blameless?

<sup>6</sup> and I say to you, that a greater than the temple is here;

<sup>7</sup> and if ye had known what is: Kindness I will, and not sacrifice — ye had not condemned the blameless,

<sup>8</sup> for the son of man is lord even of the sabbath.'

<sup>10</sup> and lo, there was a man having the hand withered, and they questioned him, saying, 'Is it lawful to heal on the sabbaths?' that they might accuse him.

<sup>11</sup> And he said to them, 'What man shall be of you, who shall have one sheep, and if this may fall on the sabbaths into a ditch, will not lay hold on it and raise [it]?

<sup>12</sup> How much better, therefore, is a man than a sheep? — so that it is lawful on the sabbaths to do good.'

<sup>13</sup> Then saith he to the man, 'Stretch forth thy hand,' and he stretched [it] forth, and it was restored whole as the other.

<sup>14</sup> And the Pharisees having gone forth, held a consultation against him, how they might destroy him,

<sup>15</sup> and Jesus having known, withdrew thence, and there followed him great multitudes, and he healed them all,

<sup>16</sup> and did charge them that they might not make him manifest,

<sup>17</sup> that it might be fulfilled that was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying,

<sup>18</sup> 'Lo, My servant, whom I did choose, My beloved, in whom My soul did delight, I will put My Spirit upon him, and judgment to the nations he shall declare,

<sup>19</sup> he shall not strive nor cry, nor shall any hear in the broad places his voice,

<sup>20</sup> a bruised reed he shall not break, and smoking flax he shall not quench, till he may put forth judgment to victory,

<sup>22</sup> Then was brought to him a demoniac, blind and dumb, and he healed him, so that the blind and dumb both spake and saw.

<sup>23</sup> And all the multitudes were amazed, and said, 'Is this the Son of David?'

<sup>26</sup> and if the Adversary doth cast out the Adversary, against himself he was divided, how then doth his kingdom stand?

<sup>27</sup> 'And if I, by Beelzeboul, do cast out the demons, your sons — by whom do they cast out? because of this they — they shall be your judges.

<sup>28</sup> 'But if I, by the Spirit of God, do cast out the demons, then come already unto you did the reign of God.

<sup>29</sup> 'Or how is one able to go into the house of the strong man, and to plunder his goods, if first he may not bind the strong man? and then his house he will plunder.

<sup>30</sup> 'He who is not with me is against me, and he who is not gathering with me, doth scatter.

<sup>31</sup> Because of this I say to you, all sin and evil speaking shall be forgiven to men, but the evil speaking of the Spirit shall not be forgiven to men.

<sup>32</sup> And whoever may speak a word against the Son of Man it shall be forgiven to him, but whoever may speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this age, nor in that which is coming.

<sup>33</sup> 'Either make the tree good, and its fruit good, or make the tree bad, and its fruit bad, for from the fruit is the tree known.

<sup>36</sup> 'And I say to you, that every idle word that men may speak, they shall give for it a reckoning in a day of judgment;

<sup>37</sup> for from thy words thou shalt be declared righteous, and from thy words thou shalt be declared unrighteous.'

<sup>38</sup> Then answered certain of the scribes and Pharisees, saying, 'Teacher, we will to see a sign from thee.'

<sup>39</sup> And he answering said to them, 'A generation, evil and adulterous, doth seek a sign, and a sign shall not be given to it, except the sign of Jonah the prophet;

<sup>40</sup> for, as Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights, so shall the Son of Man be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights.

<sup>43</sup> 'And, when the unclean spirit may go forth from the man, it doth walk through dry places seeking rest, and doth not find;

<sup>44</sup> then it saith, I will turn back to my house whence I came forth; and having come, it findeth [it] unoccupied, swept, and adorned:

<sup>45</sup> then doth it go, and take with itself seven other spirits more evil than itself, and having gone in they dwell there, and the last of that man doth become worse than the first; so shall it be also to this evil generation.'

<sup>46</sup> And while he was yet speaking to the multitudes, lo, his mother and brethren had stood without, seeking to speak to him,

<sup>47</sup> and one said to him, 'Lo, thy mother and thy brethren do stand without, seeking to speak to thee.'

<sup>48</sup> And he answering said to him who spake to him, 'Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?'

<sup>49</sup> And having stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, he said, 'Lo, my mother and my brethren!

<sup>50</sup> for whoever may do the will of my Father who is in the heavens, he is my brother, and sister, and mother.'

13

<sup>1</sup> And in that day Jesus, having gone forth from the house, was sitting by the sea,

<sup>2</sup> and gathered together unto him were many multitudes, so that he having gone into the boat did sit down, and all the multitude on the beach did stand,

<sup>3</sup> and he spake to them many things in similes, saying: 'Lo, the sower went forth to sow,

<sup>4</sup> and in his sowing, some indeed fell by the way, and the fowls did come and devour them,

<sup>5</sup> and others fell upon the rocky places, where they had not much earth, and immediately they sprang forth, through not having depth of earth,

<sup>6</sup> and the sun having risen they were scorched, and through not having root, they withered,

<sup>7</sup> and others fell upon the thorns, and the thorns did come up and choke them,

<sup>8</sup> and others fell upon the good ground, and were giving fruit, some indeed a hundredfold, and some sixty, and some thirty.

<sup>10</sup> And the disciples having come near, said to him, 'Wherefore in similes dost thou speak to them?'

<sup>11</sup> And he answering said to them that — 'To you it hath been given to know the secrets of the reign of the heavens, and to these it hath not been given,

<sup>12</sup> for whoever hath, it shall be given to him, and he shall have overabundance, and whoever hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken from him.

<sup>13</sup> 'Because of this, in similes do I speak to them, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear, nor understand,

<sup>14</sup> and fulfilled on them is the prophecy of Isaiah, that saith, With hearing ye shall hear, and ye shall not understand, and seeing ye shall see, and ye shall not perceive,

<sup>15</sup> for made gross was the heart of this people, and with the ears they heard heavily, and their eyes they did close, lest they might see with the eyes, and with the ears might hear, and with the heart understand, and turn back, and I might heal them.

<sup>16</sup> 'And happy are your eyes because they see, and your ears because they hear,

<sup>17</sup> for verily I say to you, that many prophets and righteous men did desire to see that which ye look on, and they did not see, and to hear that which ye hear, and they did not hear.

<sup>19</sup> Every one hearing the word of the reign, and not understanding — the evil one doth come, and doth catch that which hath been sown in his heart; this is that sown by the way.

<sup>20</sup> 'And that sown on the rocky places, this is he who is hearing the word, and immediately with joy is receiving it,

<sup>21</sup> and he hath not root in himself, but is temporary, and persecution or tribulation having happened because of the word, immediately he is stumbled.

<sup>22</sup> 'And that sown toward the thorns, this is he who is hearing the word, and the anxiety of this age, and the deceitfulness of the riches, do choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

<sup>25</sup> and, while men are sleeping, his enemy came and sowed darnel in the midst of the wheat, and went away,

<sup>26</sup> and when the herb sprang up, and yielded fruit, then appeared also the darnel.

<sup>27</sup> 'And the servants of the householder, having come near, said to him, Sir, good seed didst thou not sow in thy field? whence then hath it the darnel?

<sup>28</sup> And he saith to them, A man, an enemy, did this; and the servants said to him, Wilt thou, then, [that] having gone away we may gather it up?

<sup>29</sup> 'And he said, No, lest — gathering up the darnel — ye root up with it the wheat,

<sup>30</sup> suffer both to grow together till the harvest, and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather up first the darnel, and bind it in bundles, to burn it, and the wheat gather up into my storehouse.'

<sup>32</sup> which less, indeed, is than all the seeds, but when it may be grown, is greatest of the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven do come and rest in its branches.'

<sup>34</sup> All these things spake Jesus in similes to the multitudes, and without a simile he was not speaking to them,

<sup>35</sup> that it might be fulfilled that was spoken through the prophet, saying, 'I will open in similes my mouth, I will utter things having been hidden from the foundation of the world.'

<sup>36</sup> Then having let away the multitudes, Jesus came to the house, and his disciples came near to him, saying, 'Explain to us the simile of the darnel of the field.'

<sup>37</sup> And he answering said to them, 'He who is sowing the good seed is the Son of Man,

<sup>38</sup> and the field is the world, and the good seed, these are the sons of the reign, and the darnel are the sons of the evil one,

<sup>39</sup> and the enemy who sowed them is the devil, and the harvest is a full end of the age, and the reapers are messengers.

<sup>40</sup> 'As, then, the darnel is gathered up, and is burned with fire, so shall it be in the full end of this age,

<sup>42</sup> and shall cast them to the furnace of the fire; there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth.

<sup>43</sup> 'Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the reign of their Father. He who is having ears to hear — let him hear.

<sup>44</sup> 'Again, the reign of the heavens is like to treasure hid in the field, which a man having found did hide, and from his joy goeth, and all, as much as he hath, he selleth, and buyeth that field.

<sup>45</sup> 'Again, the reign of the heavens is like to a man, a merchant, seeking goodly pearls, <sup>46</sup> who having found one pearl of great price, having gone away, hath sold all, as much as he had, and bought it.

<sup>47</sup> 'Again, the reign of the heavens is like to a net that was cast into the sea, and did gather together of every kind,

<sup>48</sup> which, when it was filled, having drawn up again upon the beach, and having sat down, they gathered the good into vessels, and the bad they did cast out,

<sup>49</sup> so shall it be in the full end of the age, the messengers shall come forth and separate the evil out of the midst of the righteous,

<sup>50</sup> and shall cast them to the furnace of the fire, there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth.'

<sup>52</sup> And he said to them, 'Because of this every scribe having been discipled in regard to the reign of the heavens, is like to a man, a householder, who doth bring forth out of his treasure things new and old.'

<sup>53</sup> And it came to pass, when Jesus finished these similes, he removed thence,

<sup>54</sup> and having come to his own country, he was teaching them in their synagogue, so that they were astonished, and were saying, 'Whence to this one this wisdom and the mighty works?

<sup>55</sup> is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary, and his brethren James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?

<sup>56</sup> and his sisters — are they not all with us? whence, then, to this one all these?

<sup>57</sup> and they were stumbled at him. And Jesus said to them, 'A prophet is not without honour except in his own country, and in his own house.'

<sup>58</sup> and he did not there many mighty works, because of their unbelief.

<sup>2</sup> and said to his servants, 'This is John the Baptist, he did rise from the dead, and because of this the mighty energies are working in him.'

<sup>4</sup> for John was saying to him, 'It is not lawful to thee to have her;'

<sup>5</sup> and, willing to kill him, he feared the multitude, because as a prophet they were holding him.

<sup>6</sup> But the birthday of Herod being kept, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst, and did please Herod,

<sup>9</sup> and the king was grieved, but because of the oaths and of those reclining with him, he commanded [it] to be given;

<sup>10</sup> and having sent, he beheaded John in the prison,

<sup>11</sup> and his head was brought upon a plate, and was given to the damsel, and she brought [it] nigh to her mother.

<sup>12</sup> And his disciples having come, took up the body, and buried it, and having come, they told Jesus, <sup>13</sup> and Jesus having heard, withdrew thence in a boat to a desolate place by himself, and the multitudes having heard did follow him on land from the cities.

<sup>14</sup> And Jesus having come forth, saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion upon them, and did heal their infirm;

<sup>15</sup> and evening having come, his disciples came to him, saying, 'The place is desolate, and the hour hath now past, let away the multitudes that, having gone to the villages, they may buy to themselves food.'

<sup>16</sup> And Jesus said to them, 'They have no need to go away — give ye them to eat.'

<sup>17</sup> And they say to him, 'We have not here except five loaves, and two fishes.'

<sup>18</sup> And he said, 'Bring ye them to me hither.'

<sup>19</sup> And having commanded the multitudes to recline upon the grass, and having taken the five loaves and the two fishes, having looked up to the heaven, he did bless, and having broken, he gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes,

<sup>20</sup> and they did all eat, and were filled, and they took up what was over of the broken pieces twelve hand-baskets full;

<sup>21</sup> and those eating were about five thousand men, apart from women and children.

<sup>22</sup> And immediately Jesus constrained his disciples to go into the boat, and to go before him to the other side, till he might let away the multitudes;

<sup>23</sup> and having let away the multitudes, he went up to the mountain by himself to pray, and evening having come, he was there alone,

<sup>24</sup> and the boat was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the waves, for the wind was contrary.

<sup>25</sup> And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went away to them, walking upon the sea,

<sup>26</sup> and the disciples having seen him walking upon the sea, were troubled saying — 'It is an apparition,' and from the fear they cried out;

<sup>27</sup> and immediately Jesus spake to them, saying, 'Be of good courage, I am [he], be not afraid.'

<sup>28</sup> And Peter answering him said, 'Sir, if it is thou, bid me come to thee upon the waters;'

<sup>29</sup> and he said, 'Come;' and having gone down from the boat, Peter walked upon the waters to come unto Jesus,

<sup>30</sup> but seeing the wind vehement, he was afraid, and having begun to sink, he cried out, saying, 'Sir, save me.'

<sup>31</sup> And immediately Jesus, having stretched forth the hand, laid hold of him, and saith to him, 'Little faith! for what didst thou waver?'

<sup>32</sup> and they having gone to the boat the wind lulled,

<sup>33</sup> and those in the boat having come, did bow to him, saying, 'Truly — God's Son art thou.'

<sup>34</sup> And having passed over, they came to the land of Gennesaret,

<sup>35</sup> and having recognized him, the men of that place sent forth to all that region round about, and they brought to him all who were ill, <sup>36</sup> and were calling on him that they might only touch the fringe of his garment, and as many as did touch were saved.

15

<sup>3</sup> And he answering said to them, 'Wherefore also do ye transgress the command of God because of your tradition?

<sup>4</sup> for God did command, saying, Honour thy father and mother; and, He who is speaking evil of father or mother — let him die the death;

<sup>5</sup> but ye say, Whoever may say to father or mother, An offering [is] whatever thou mayest be profited by me; —

<sup>6</sup> and he may not honour his father or his mother, and ye did set aside the command of God because of your tradition.

<sup>9</sup> and in vain do they worship Me, teaching teachings — commands of men.'

<sup>10</sup> And having called near the multitude, he said to them, 'Hear and understand:

<sup>11</sup> not that which is coming into the mouth doth defile the man, but that which is coming forth from the mouth, this defileth the man.'

<sup>12</sup> Then his disciples having come near, said to him, 'Hast thou known that the Pharisees, having heard the word, were stumbled?'

<sup>13</sup> And he answering said, 'Every plant that my heavenly Father did not plant shall be rooted up;

<sup>14</sup> let them alone, guides they are – blind of blind; and if blind may guide blind, both into a ditch shall fall.'

<sup>16</sup> And Jesus said, 'Are ye also yet without understanding?

<sup>17</sup> do ye not understand that all that is going into the mouth doth pass into the belly, and into the drain is cast forth?

<sup>18</sup> but the things coming forth from the mouth from the heart do come forth, and these defile the man;

<sup>19</sup> for out of the heart come forth evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, whoredoms, thefts, false witnessings, evil speakings:

<sup>20</sup> these are the things defiling the man; but to eat with unwashen hands doth not defile the man.'

<sup>22</sup> and lo, a woman, a Canaanitess, from those borders having come forth, did call to him, saying, 'Deal kindly with me, Sir – Son of David; my daughter is miserably demonized.'

<sup>23</sup> And he did not answer her a word; and his disciples having come to him, were asking him, saying – 'Let her away, because she crieth after us;'

<sup>24</sup> and he answering said, 'I was not sent except to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.'

<sup>25</sup> And having come, she was bowing to him, saying, 'Sir, help me;'

<sup>26</sup> and he answering said, 'It is not good to take the children's bread, and to cast to the little dogs.'

<sup>27</sup> And she said, 'Yes, sir, for even the little dogs do eat of the crumbs that are falling from their lords' table;'

<sup>28</sup> then answering, Jesus said to her, 'O woman, great [is] thy faith, let it be to thee as thou wilt; and her daughter was healed from that hour.

<sup>29</sup> And Jesus having passed thence, came nigh unto the sea of Galilee, and having gone up to the mountain, he was sitting there,

<sup>30</sup> and there came to him great multitudes, having with them lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and they did cast them at the feet of Jesus, and he healed them,

<sup>31</sup> so that the multitudes did wonder, seeing dumb ones speaking, maimed whole, lame walking, and blind seeing; and they glorified the God of Israel.

<sup>32</sup> And Jesus having called near his disciples, said, 'I have compassion upon the multitude, because now three days they continue with me, and they have not what they may eat; and to let them away fasting I will not, lest they faint in the way.'

<sup>33</sup> And his disciples say to him, 'Whence to us, in a wilderness, so many loaves, as to fill so great a multitude?'

<sup>34</sup> And Jesus saith to them, 'How many loaves have ye?' and they said, 'Seven, and a few little fishes.'

<sup>35</sup> And he commanded the multitudes to sit down upon the ground,

<sup>36</sup> and having taken the seven loaves and the fishes, having given thanks, he did break, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

16

<sup>2</sup> and he answering said to them, 'Evening having come, ye say, Fair weather, for the heaven is red,

<sup>5</sup> And his disciples having come to the other side, forgot to take loaves,

<sup>6</sup> and Jesus said to them, 'Beware, and take heed of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees;'

<sup>7</sup> and they were reasoning in themselves, saying, 'Because we took no loaves.'

<sup>9</sup> do ye not yet understand, nor remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many hand-baskets ye took up?

<sup>10</sup> nor the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

<sup>11</sup> how do ye not understand that I did not speak to you of bread — to take heed of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees?'

<sup>12</sup> Then they understood that he did not say to take heed of the leaven of the bread, but of the teaching, of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

<sup>13</sup> And Jesus, having come to the parts of Caesarea Philippi, was asking his disciples, saying, 'Who do men say me to be — the Son of Man?'

<sup>14</sup> and they said, 'Some, John the Baptist, and others, Elijah, and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets.'

<sup>15</sup> He saith to them, 'And ye — who do ye say me to be?'

<sup>16</sup> and Simon Peter answering said, 'Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.'

<sup>17</sup> And Jesus answering said to him, 'Happy art thou, Simon Bar-Jona, because flesh and blood did not reveal [it] to thee, but my Father who is in the heavens.

<sup>18</sup> 'And I also say to thee, that thou art a rock, and upon this rock I will build my assembly, and gates of Hades shall not prevail against it;

<sup>19</sup> and I will give to thee the keys of the reign of the heavens, and whatever thou mayest bind upon the earth shall be having been bound in the heavens, and whatever thou mayest loose upon the earth shall be having been loosed in the heavens.'

<sup>20</sup> Then did he charge his disciples that they may say to no one that he is Jesus the Christ.

<sup>21</sup> From that time began Jesus to shew to his disciples that it is necessary for him to go away to Jerusalem, and to suffer many things from the elders, and chief priests, and scribes, and to be put to death, and the third day to rise.

<sup>22</sup> And having taken him aside, Peter began to rebuke him, saying, 'Be kind to thyself, sir; this shall not be to thee;'

<sup>23</sup> and he having turned, said to Peter, 'Get thee behind me, adversary! thou art a stumbling-block to me, for thou dost not mind the things of God, but the things of men.'

<sup>24</sup> Then said Jesus to his disciples, 'If any one doth will to come after me, let him disown himself, and take up his cross, and follow me,

<sup>25</sup> for whoever may will to save his life, shall lose it, and whoever may lose his life for my sake shall find it,

<sup>26</sup> for what is a man profited if he may gain the whole world, but of his life suffer loss? or what shall a man give as an exchange for his life?

<sup>27</sup> 'For, the Son of Man is about to come in the glory of his Father, with his messengers, and then he will reward each, according to his work.

<sup>28</sup> Verily I say to you, there are certain of those standing here who shall not taste of death till they may see the Son of Man coming in his reign.'

17

<sup>2</sup> and he was transfigured before them, and his face shone as the sun, and his garments did become white as the light,

<sup>3</sup> and lo, appear to them did Moses and Elijah, talking together with him.

<sup>4</sup> And Peter answering said to Jesus, 'Sir, it is good to us to be here; if thou wilt, we may make here three booths — for thee one, and for Moses one, and one for Elijah.'

<sup>5</sup> While he is yet speaking, lo, a bright cloud overshadowed them, and lo, a voice out of the cloud, saying, 'This is My Son, — the Beloved, in whom I did delight; hear him.'

<sup>6</sup> And the disciples having heard, did fall upon their face, and were exceedingly afraid,

<sup>7</sup> and Jesus having come near, touched them, and said, 'Rise, be not afraid,'

<sup>8</sup> and having lifted up their eyes, they saw no one, except Jesus only.

<sup>9</sup> And as they are coming down from the mount, Jesus charged them, saying, 'Say to no one the vision, till the Son of Man out of the dead may rise.'

<sup>11</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'Elijah doth indeed come first, and shall restore all things,

<sup>12</sup> and I say to you — Elijah did already come, and they did not know him, but did with him whatever they would, so also the Son of Man is about to suffer by them.'

<sup>13</sup> Then understood the disciples that concerning John the Baptist he spake to them.

<sup>14</sup> And when they came unto the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling down to him,

<sup>15</sup> and saying, 'Sir, deal kindly with my son, for he is lunatic, and doth suffer miserably, for often he doth fall into the fire, and often into the water,

<sup>16</sup> and I brought him near to thy disciples, and they were not able to heal him.'

<sup>17</sup> And Jesus answering said, 'O generation, unstedfast and perverse, till when shall I be with you? till when shall I bear you? bring him to me hither;'

<sup>18</sup> and Jesus rebuked him, and the demon went out of him, and the lad was healed from that hour.

<sup>19</sup> Then the disciples having come to Jesus by himself, said, 'Wherefore were we not able to cast him out?'

<sup>20</sup> And Jesus said to them, 'Through your want of faith; for verily I say to you, if ye may have faith as a grain of mustard, ye shall say to this mount,

Remove hence to yonder place, and it shall remove, and nothing shall be impossible to you,

<sup>21</sup> and this kind doth not go forth except in prayer and fasting.'

<sup>22</sup> And while they are living in Galilee, Jesus said to them, 'The Son of Man is about to be delivered up to the hands of men, <sup>23</sup> and they shall kill him, and the third day he shall rise,' and they were exceeding sorry.

<sup>24</sup> And they having come to Capernaum, those receiving the didrachms came near to Peter, and said, 'Your teacher — doth he not pay the didrachms?' He saith, 'Yes.'

<sup>25</sup> And when he came into the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, 'What thinkest thou, Simon? the kings of the earth — from whom do they receive custom or poll-tax? from their sons or from the strangers?'

<sup>26</sup> Peter saith to him, 'From the strangers.' Jesus said to him, 'Then are the sons free;

<sup>27</sup> but, that we may not cause them to stumble, having gone to the sea, cast a hook, and the fish that hath come up first take thou up, and having opened its mouth, thou shalt find a stater, that having taken, give to them for me and thee.'

18

<sup>1</sup> At that hour came the disciples near to Jesus, saying, 'Who, now, is greater in the reign of the heavens?'

<sup>3</sup> and said, 'Verily I say to you, if ye may not be turned and become as the children, ye may not enter into the reign of the heavens;

<sup>4</sup> whoever then may humble himself as this child, he is the greater in the reign of the heavens.

<sup>5</sup> 'And he who may receive one such child in my name, doth receive me,

<sup>6</sup> and whoever may cause to stumble one of those little ones who are believing in me, it is better for him that a weighty millstone may be hanged upon his neck, and he may be sunk in the depth of the sea.

<sup>7</sup> 'Woe to the world from the stumbling-blocks! for there is a necessity for the stumbling-blocks to come, but woe to that man through whom the stumbling-block doth come!

<sup>8</sup> 'And if thy hand or thy foot doth cause thee to stumble, cut them off and cast from thee; it is good for thee to enter into the life lame or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet, to be cast to the fire the age-during.

<sup>9</sup> 'And if thine eye doth cause thee to stumble, pluck it out and cast from thee; it is good for thee one-eyed to enter into the life, rather than having two eyes to be cast to the gehenna of the fire.

<sup>10</sup> 'Beware! — ye may not despise one of these little ones, for I say to you, that their messengers in the heavens do always behold the face of my Father who is in the heavens,

<sup>12</sup> 'What think ye? if a man may have an hundred sheep, and there may go astray one of them, doth he not — having left the ninety-nine, having gone on the mountains — seek that which is gone astray?

<sup>13</sup> and if it may come to pass that he doth find it, verily I say to you, that he doth rejoice over it more than over the ninety-nine that have not gone astray;

<sup>14</sup> so it is not will in presence of your Father who is in the heavens, that one of these little ones may perish.

<sup>15</sup> 'And if thy brother may sin against thee, go and show him his fault between thee and him alone, if he may hear thee, thou didst gain thy brother;

<sup>16</sup> and if he may not hear, take with thee yet one or two, that by the mouth of two witnesses or three every word may stand.

<sup>17</sup> 'And if he may not hear them, say [it] to the assembly, and if also the assembly he may not hear, let him be to thee as the heathen man and the tax-gatherer.

<sup>18</sup> 'Verily I say to you, Whatever things ye may bind upon the earth shall be having been bound in the heavens, and whatever things ye may loose on the earth shall be having been loosed in the heavens.

<sup>19</sup> 'Again, I say to you, that, if two of you may agree on the earth concerning anything, whatever they may ask – it shall be done to them from my Father who is in the heavens,

<sup>20</sup> for where there are two or three gathered together – to my name, there am I in the midst of them.'

<sup>21</sup> Then Peter having come near to him, said, 'Sir, how often shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him – till seven times?'

<sup>22</sup> Jesus saith to him, 'I do not say to thee till seven times, but till seventy times seven.

<sup>23</sup> 'Because of this was the reign of the heavens likened to a man, a king, who did will to take reckoning with his servants,

<sup>24</sup> and he having begun to take account, there was brought near to him one debtor of a myriad of talents,

<sup>25</sup> and he having nothing to pay, his lord did command him to be sold, and his wife, and the children, and all, whatever he had, and payment to be made.

<sup>26</sup> The servant then, having fallen down, was bowing to him, saying, Sir, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all;

<sup>27</sup> and the lord of that servant having been moved with compassion did release him, and the debt he forgave him.

<sup>28</sup> 'And, that servant having come forth, found one of his fellow-servants who was owing him an hundred denaries, and having laid hold, he took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that which thou owest.

<sup>29</sup> His fellow-servant then, having fallen down at his feet, was calling on him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all;

<sup>30</sup> and he would not, but having gone away, he cast him into prison, till he might pay that which was owing.

<sup>31</sup> 'And his fellow-servants having seen the things that were done, were grieved exceedingly, and having come, shewed fully to their lord all the things that were done;

<sup>32</sup> then having called him, his lord saith to him, Evil servant! all that debt I did forgive thee, seeing thou didst call upon me,

<sup>33</sup> did it not behove also thee to have dealt kindly with thy fellow-servant, as I also dealt kindly with thee?

<sup>34</sup> 'And having been wroth, his lord delivered him to the inquisitors, till he might pay all that was owing to him;

<sup>35</sup> so also my heavenly Father will do to you, if ye may not forgive each one his brother from your hearts their trespasses.'

19

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, when Jesus finished these words, he removed from Galilee, and did come to the borders of Judea, beyond the Jordan,

<sup>3</sup> And the Pharisees came near to him, tempting him, and saying to him, 'Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?'

<sup>4</sup> And he answering said to them, 'Did ye not read, that He who made [them], from the beginning a male and a female made them,

<sup>5</sup> and said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and cleave to his wife, and they shall be — the two — for one flesh?

<sup>6</sup> so that they are no more two, but one flesh; what therefore God did join together, let no man put asunder.'

<sup>7</sup> They say to him, 'Why then did Moses command to give a roll of divorce, and to put her away?'

<sup>8</sup> He saith to them — 'Moses for your stiffness of heart did suffer you to put away your wives, but from the beginning it hath not been so.

<sup>9</sup> 'And I say to you, that, whoever may put away his wife, if not for whoredom, and may marry another, doth commit adultery; and he who did marry her that hath been put away, doth commit adultery.'

<sup>11</sup> And he said to them, 'All do not receive this word, but those to whom it hath been given;

<sup>12</sup> for there are eunuchs who from the mother's womb were so born; and there are eunuchs who were made eunuchs by men; and there are eunuchs who kept themselves eunuchs because of the reign of the heavens: he who is able to receive [it] — let him receive.'

<sup>13</sup> Then were brought near to him children that he might put hands on them and pray, and the disciples rebuked them.

<sup>14</sup> But Jesus said, 'Suffer the children, and forbid them not, to come unto me, for of such is the reign of the heavens;'

<sup>16</sup> And lo, one having come near, said to him, 'Good teacher, what good thing shall I do, that I may have life age-during?'

<sup>17</sup> And he said to him, 'Why me dost thou call good? no one [is] good except One — God; but if thou dost will to enter into the life, keep the commands.'

<sup>18</sup> He saith to him, 'What kind?' And Jesus said, 'Thou shalt not kill, thou shalt not commit adultery, thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not bear false witness,

<sup>19</sup> honour thy father and mother, and, thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.'

<sup>20</sup> The young man saith to him, 'All these did I keep from my youth; what yet do I lack?'

<sup>21</sup> Jesus said to him, 'If thou dost will to be perfect, go away, sell what thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come, follow me.'

<sup>22</sup> And the young man, having heard the word, went away sorrowful, for he had many possessions;

<sup>23</sup> and Jesus said to his disciples, 'Verily I say to you, that hardly shall a rich man enter into the reign of the heavens;

<sup>24</sup> and again I say to you, it is easier for a camel through the eye of a needle to go, than for a rich man to enter into the reign of God.'

<sup>25</sup> And his disciples having heard, were amazed exceedingly, saying, 'Who, then, is able to be saved?'

<sup>26</sup> And Jesus having earnestly beheld, said to them, 'With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.'

<sup>27</sup> Then Peter answering said to him, 'Lo, we did leave all, and follow thee, what then shall we have?'

<sup>28</sup> And Jesus said to them, 'Verily I say to you, that ye who did follow me, in the regeneration, when the Son of Man may sit upon a throne of his glory, shall sit — ye also — upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel;

<sup>29</sup> and every one who left houses, or brothers, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or fields, for my name's sake, an hundredfold shall receive, and life age-during shall inherit;

<sup>30</sup> and many first shall be last, and last first.

20

<sup>3</sup> 'And having gone forth about the third hour, he saw others standing in the market-place idle,

<sup>4</sup> and to these he said, Go ye — also ye — to the vineyard, and whatever may be righteous I will give you;

<sup>5</sup> and they went away. 'Again, having gone forth about the sixth and the ninth hour, he did in like manner.

<sup>6</sup> And about the eleventh hour, having gone forth, he found others standing idle, and saith to them, Why here have ye stood all the day idle?

<sup>7</sup> they say to him, Because no one did hire us; he saith to them, Go ye — ye also — to the vineyard, and whatever may be righteous ye shall receive.

<sup>8</sup> 'And evening having come, the lord of the vineyard saith to his steward, Call the workmen, and pay them the reward, having begun from the last — unto the first.

<sup>9</sup> And they of about the eleventh hour having come, did receive each a denary.

<sup>10</sup> 'And the first having come, did suppose that they shall receive more, and they received, they also, each a denary,

<sup>11</sup> and having received [it], they were murmuring against the householder, saying,

<sup>12</sup> that These, the last, wrought one hour, and thou didst make them equal to us, who were bearing the burden of the day — and the heat.

<sup>13</sup> 'And he answering said to one of them, Comrade, I do no unrighteousness to thee; for a denary didst not thou agree with me?

<sup>14</sup> take that which is thine, and go; and I will to give to this, the last, also as to thee;

<sup>15</sup> is it not lawful to me to do what I will in mine own? is thine eye evil because I am good?

<sup>16</sup> So the last shall be first, and the first last, for many are called, and few chosen.'

<sup>17</sup> And Jesus going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples by themselves in the way, and said to them,

<sup>18</sup> 'Lo, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man shall be delivered to the chief priests and scribes,

<sup>19</sup> and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the nations to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify, and the third day he will rise again.'

<sup>20</sup> Then came near to him the mother of the sons of Zebedee, with her sons, bowing and asking something from him,

<sup>21</sup> and he said to her, 'What wilt thou?' She saith to him, 'Say, that they may sit — these my two sons — one on thy right hand, and one on the left, in thy reign.'

<sup>22</sup> And Jesus answering said, 'Ye have not known what ye ask for yourselves; are ye able to drink of the cup that I am about to drink? and with the baptism that I am baptized with, to be baptized?' They say to him, 'We are able.'

<sup>23</sup> And he saith to them, 'Of my cup indeed ye shall drink, and with the baptism that I am baptized with ye shall be baptized; but to sit on my right hand and on my left is not mine to give, but — to those for whom it hath been prepared by my father.'

<sup>24</sup> And the ten having heard, were much displeased with the two brothers,

<sup>25</sup> and Jesus having called them near, said, 'Ye have known that the rulers of the nations do exercise lordship over them, and those great do exercise authority over them,

<sup>26</sup> but not so shall it be among you, but whoever may will among you to become great, let him be your ministrant;

<sup>27</sup> and whoever may will among you to be first, let him be your servant;

<sup>28</sup> even as the Son of Man did not come to be ministered to, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.'

<sup>29</sup> And they going forth from Jericho, there followed him a great multitude,

<sup>30</sup> and lo, two blind men sitting by the way, having heard that Jesus doth pass by, cried, saying, 'Deal kindly with us, sir — Son of David.'

<sup>31</sup> And the multitude charged them that they might be silent, and they cried out the more, saying, 'Deal kindly with us sir — Son of David.'

<sup>32</sup> And having stood, Jesus called them, and said, 'What will ye [that] I may do to you?'

<sup>33</sup> they say to him, 'Sir, that our eyes may be opened;'

<sup>34</sup> and having been moved with compassion, Jesus touched their eyes, and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

21

<sup>2</sup> saying to them, 'Go on to the village over-against you, and immediately ye shall find an ass bound, and a colt with her — having loosed, bring ye to me;

<sup>3</sup> and if any one may say anything to you, ye shall say, that the lord hath need of them, and immediately he will send them.'

<sup>4</sup> And all this came to pass, that it might be fulfilled that was spoken through the prophet, saying,

<sup>6</sup> And the disciples having gone and having done as Jesus commanded them,

<sup>7</sup> brought the ass and the colt, and did put on them their garments, and set [him] upon them;

<sup>8</sup> and the very great multitude spread their own garments in the way, and others were cutting branches from the trees, and were strewing in the way,

<sup>9</sup> and the multitudes who were going before, and who were following, were crying, saying, 'Hosanna to the Son of David, blessed is he who is coming in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest.'

<sup>10</sup> And he having entered into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, 'Who is this?'

<sup>11</sup> And the multitudes said, 'This is Jesus the prophet, who [is] from Nazareth of Galilee.'

<sup>12</sup> And Jesus entered into the temple of God, and did cast forth all those selling and buying in the temple, and the tables of the money-changers he overturned, and the seats of those selling the doves,

<sup>13</sup> and he saith to them, 'It hath been written, My house a house of prayer shall be called, but ye did make it a den of robbers.'

<sup>14</sup> And there came to him blind and lame men in the temple, and he healed them,

<sup>15</sup> and the chief priests and the scribes having seen the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, 'Hosanna to the Son of David,' were much displeased;

<sup>16</sup> and they said to him, 'Hearest thou what these say?' And Jesus saith to them, 'Yes, did ye never read, that, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings Thou didst prepare praise?'

<sup>17</sup> And having left them, he went forth out of the city to Bethany, and did lodge there,

<sup>18</sup> and in the morning turning back to the city, he hungered,

<sup>19</sup> and having seen a certain fig-tree on the way, he came to it, and found nothing in it except leaves only, and he saith to it, 'No more from thee may fruit be — to the age;' and forthwith the fig-tree withered.

<sup>21</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'Verily I say to you, If ye may have faith, and may not doubt, not only this of the fig-tree shall ye do, but even if to this mount ye may say, Be lifted up and be cast into the sea, it shall come to pass;

<sup>22</sup> and all — as much as ye may ask in the prayer, believing, ye shall receive.'

<sup>23</sup> And he having come to the temple, there came to him when teaching the chief priests and the elders of the people, saying, 'By what authority dost thou do these things? and who gave thee this authority?'

<sup>24</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'I will ask you — I also — one word, which if ye may tell me, I also will tell you by what authority I do these things;

<sup>25</sup> the baptism of John, whence was it? — from heaven, or from men?' And they were reasoning with themselves, saying, 'If we should say, From heaven; he will say to us, Wherefore, then, did ye not believe him?

<sup>26</sup> and if we should say, From men, we fear the multitude, for all hold John as a prophet.'

<sup>27</sup> And answering Jesus they said, 'We have not known.' He said to them — he also — 'Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

<sup>28</sup> 'And what think ye? A man had two children, and having come to the first, he said, Child, go, to-day be working in my vineyard.'

<sup>29</sup> And he answering said, 'I will not,' but at last, having repented, he went.

<sup>30</sup> 'And having come to the second, he said in the same manner, and he answering said, I [go], sir, and went not;

<sup>31</sup> which of the two did the will of the father?' They say to him, 'The first.' Jesus saith to them, 'Verily I say to you, that the tax-gatherers and the harlots do go before you into the reign of God,

<sup>32</sup> for John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye did not believe him, and the tax-gatherers and the harlots did believe him, and ye, having seen, repented not at last — to believe him.

<sup>33</sup> 'Hear ye another simile: There was a certain man, a householder, who planted a vineyard, and did put a hedge round it, and digged in it a wine-press, and built a tower, and gave it out to husbandmen, and went abroad.

<sup>34</sup> 'And when the season of the fruits came nigh, he sent his servants unto the husbandmen, to receive the fruits of it,

<sup>35</sup> and the husbandmen having taken his servants, one they scourged, and one they killed, and one they stoned.

<sup>36</sup> 'Again he sent other servants more than the first, and they did to them in the same manner.

<sup>37</sup> 'And at last he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son;

<sup>38</sup> and the husbandmen having seen the son, said among themselves, This is the heir, come, we may kill him, and may possess his inheritance;

<sup>39</sup> and having taken him, they cast [him] out of the vineyard, and killed him;

<sup>40</sup> whenever therefore the lord of the vineyard may come, what will he do to these husbandmen?'

<sup>41</sup> They say to him, 'Evil men — he will evilly destroy them, and the vineyard will give out to other husbandmen, who will give back to him the fruits in their seasons.'

<sup>42</sup> Jesus saith to them, 'Did ye never read in the Writings, A stone that the builders disallowed, it became head of a corner; from the Lord hath this come to pass, and it is wonderful in our eyes.

<sup>43</sup> 'Because of this I say to you, that the reign of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth its fruit;

<sup>44</sup> and he who is falling on this stone shall be broken, and on whomsoever it may fall it will crush him to pieces.'

<sup>46</sup> and seeking to lay hold on him, they feared the multitudes, seeing they were holding him as a prophet.

22

<sup>2</sup> 'The reign of the heavens was likened to a man, a king, who made marriage-feasts for his son,

<sup>3</sup> and he sent forth his servants to call those having been called to the marriage-feasts, and they were not willing to come.

<sup>4</sup> 'Again he sent forth other servants, saying, Say to those who have been called: Lo, my dinner I prepared, my oxen and the fatlings have been killed, and all things [are] ready, come ye to the marriage-feasts;

<sup>5</sup> and they, having disregarded [it], went away, the one to his own field, and the other to his merchandise;

<sup>7</sup> 'And the king having heard, was wroth, and having sent forth his soldiers, he destroyed those murderers, and their city he set on fire;

<sup>8</sup> then saith he to his servants, The marriage-feast indeed is ready, and those called were not worthy,

<sup>9</sup> be going, then, on to the cross-ways, and as many as ye may find, call ye to the marriage-feasts.

<sup>10</sup> 'And those servants, having gone forth to the ways, did gather all, as many as they found, both bad and good, and the marriage-feast apartment was filled with those reclining.

<sup>11</sup> 'And the king having come in to view those reclining, saw there a man not clothed with clothing of the marriage-feast,

<sup>12</sup> and he saith to him, Comrade, how didst thou come in hither, not having clothing of the marriage-feast? and he was speechless.

<sup>13</sup> 'Then said the king to the ministrants, Having bound his feet and hands, take him up and cast forth to the outer darkness, there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth;

<sup>16</sup> and they send to him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, 'Teacher, we have known that thou art true, and the way of God in truth thou dost teach, and thou art not caring for any one, for thou dost not look to the face of men;

<sup>17</sup> tell us, therefore, what dost thou think? is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar or not?'

<sup>19</sup> show me the tribute-coin?' and they brought to him a denary;

<sup>21</sup> they say to him, 'Caesar's;' then saith he to them, 'Render therefore the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God;'

<sup>23</sup> In that day there came near to him Sadducees, who are saying there is not a rising again, and they questioned him, saying,

<sup>24</sup> 'Teacher, Moses said, If any one may die not having children, his brother shall marry his wife, and shall raise up seed to his brother.

<sup>26</sup> in like manner also the second, and the third, unto the seventh,

<sup>27</sup> and last of all died also the woman;

<sup>28</sup> therefore in the rising again, of which of the seven shall she be wife — for all had her?'

<sup>29</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'Ye go astray, not knowing the Writings, nor the power of God;

<sup>30</sup> for in the rising again they do not marry, nor are they given in marriage, but are as messengers of God in heaven.

<sup>31</sup> 'And concerning the rising again of the dead, did ye not read that which was spoken to you by God, saying,

<sup>32</sup> I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not a God of dead men, but of living.'

<sup>35</sup> and one of them, a lawyer, did question, tempting him, and saying,

<sup>37</sup> And Jesus said to him, 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thine understanding —
<sup>40</sup> on these — the two commands — all the law and the prophets do hang.'
<sup>42</sup> saying, 'What do ye think concerning the Christ? of whom is he son?' They say to him, 'Of David.'
<sup>43</sup> He saith to them, 'How then doth David in the Spirit call him lord, saying,
<sup>44</sup> The Lord said to my lord, Sit at my right hand, till I may make thine enemies thy footstool?
<sup>45</sup> If then David doth call him lord, how is he his son?'
<sup>46</sup> And no one was able to answer him a word, nor durst any from that day question him any more.

23

<sup>2</sup> saying, 'On the seat of Moses sat down the scribes and the Pharisees;
<sup>3</sup> all, then, as much as they may say to you to observe, observe and do, but according to their works do not, for they say, and do not;
<sup>4</sup> for they bind together burdens heavy and grievous to be borne, and lay upon the shoulders of men, but with their finger they will not move them.
<sup>5</sup> 'And all their works they do to be seen by men, and they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the fringes of their garments,
<sup>6</sup> they love also the chief couches in the supper, and the chief seats in the synagogues,
<sup>7</sup> and the salutations in the market-places, and to be called by men, Rabbi, Rabbi.
<sup>8</sup> 'And ye — ye may not be called Rabbi, for one is your director — the Christ, and all ye are brethren;
<sup>9</sup> and ye may not call [any] your father on the earth, for one is your Father, who is in the heavens,
<sup>10</sup> nor may ye be called directors, for one is your director — the Christ.
<sup>11</sup> And the greater of you shall be your ministrant,
<sup>12</sup> and whoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled, and whoever shall humble himself shall be exalted.
<sup>14</sup> 'Woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye eat up the houses of the widows, and for a pretence make long prayers, because of this ye shall receive more abundant judgment.
<sup>15</sup> 'Woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye go round the sea and the dry land to make one proselyte, and whenever it may happen — ye make him a son of gehenna twofold more than yourselves.
<sup>16</sup> 'Woe to you, blind guides, who are saying, Whoever may swear by the sanctuary, it is nothing, but whoever may swear by the gold of the sanctuary — is debtor!
<sup>17</sup> Fools and blind! for which [is] greater, the gold, or the sanctuary that is sanctifying the gold?

<sup>18</sup> 'And, whoever may swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whoever may swear by the gift that is upon it — is debtor!

<sup>19</sup> Fools and blind! for which [is] greater, the gift, or the altar that is sanctifying the gift?

<sup>20</sup> 'He therefore who did swear by the altar, doth swear by it, and by all things on it;

<sup>21</sup> and he who did swear by the sanctuary, doth swear by it, and by Him who is dwelling in it;

<sup>22</sup> and he who did swear by the heaven, doth swear by the throne of God, and by Him who is sitting upon it.

<sup>23</sup> 'Woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye give tithe of the mint, and the dill, and the cumin, and did neglect the weightier things of the Law — the judgment, and the kindness, and the faith; these it behoved [you] to do, and those not to neglect.

<sup>25</sup> 'Woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye make clean the outside of the cup and the plate, and within they are full of rapine and incontinence.

<sup>26</sup> 'Blind Pharisee! cleanse first the inside of the cup and the plate, that the outside of them also may become clean.

<sup>28</sup> so also ye outwardly indeed do appear to men righteous, and within ye are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.

<sup>29</sup> 'Woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and adorn the tombs of the righteous, <sup>30</sup> and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.

<sup>31</sup> So that ye testify to yourselves, that ye are sons of them who did murder the prophets;

<sup>34</sup> 'Because of this, lo, I send to you prophets, and wise men, and scribes, and of them ye will kill and crucify, and of them ye will scourge in your synagogues, and will pursue from city to city;

<sup>35</sup> that on you may come all the righteous blood being poured out on the earth from the blood of Abel the righteous, unto the blood of Zacharias son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the sanctuary and the altar:

<sup>36</sup> verily I say to you, all these things shall come upon this generation.

<sup>39</sup> for I say to you, ye may not see me henceforth, till ye may say, Blessed [is] he who is coming in the name of the Lord.'

24

came near to show him the buildings of the temple,

<sup>2</sup> and Jesus said to them, 'Do ye not see all these? verily I say to you, There may not be left here a stone upon a stone, that shall not be thrown down.'

<sup>3</sup> And when he is sitting on the mount of the Olives, the disciples came near to him by himself, saying, 'Tell us, when shall these be? and what [is] the sign of thy presence, and of the full end of the age?'

<sup>4</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'Take heed that no one may lead you astray,

<sup>5</sup> for many shall come in my name, saying, I am the Christ, and they shall lead many astray,

<sup>6</sup> and ye shall begin to hear of wars, and reports of wars; see, be not troubled, for it behoveth all [these] to come to pass, but the end is not yet.

<sup>8</sup> and all these [are] the beginning of sorrows;

<sup>9</sup> then they shall deliver you up to tribulation, and shall kill you, and ye shall be hated by all the nations because of my name;

<sup>10</sup> and then shall many be stumbled, and they shall deliver up one another, and shall hate one another.

<sup>12</sup> and because of the abounding of the lawlessness, the love of the many shall become cold;

<sup>13</sup> but he who did endure to the end, he shall be saved;

<sup>14</sup> and this good news of the reign shall be proclaimed in all the world, for a testimony to all the nations; and then shall the end arrive.

<sup>15</sup> 'Whenever, therefore, ye may see the abomination of the desolation, that was spoken of through Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place (whoever is reading let him observe)

<sup>16</sup> then those in Judea — let them flee to the mounts;

<sup>17</sup> he on the house-top — let him not come down to take up any thing out of his house;

<sup>18</sup> and he in the field — let him not turn back to take his garments.

<sup>20</sup> and pray ye that your flight may not be in winter, nor on a sabbath;

<sup>21</sup> for there shall be then great tribulation, such as was not from the beginning of the world till now, no, nor may be.

<sup>22</sup> And if those days were not shortened, no flesh would have been saved; but because of the chosen, shall those days be shortened.

<sup>23</sup> 'Then if any one may say to you, Lo, here [is] the Christ! or here! ye may not believe;

<sup>24</sup> for there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and they shall give great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, also the chosen.

<sup>26</sup> 'If therefore they may say to you, Lo, in the wilderness he is, ye may not go forth; lo, in the inner chambers, ye may not believe;

<sup>27</sup> for as the lightning doth come forth from the east, and doth appear unto the west, so shall be also the presence of the Son of Man;

<sup>29</sup> 'And immediately after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from the heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken;

<sup>30</sup> and then shall appear the sign of the Son of Man in the heaven; and then shall all the tribes of the earth smite the breast, and they shall see the Son of Man coming upon the clouds of the heaven, with power and much glory;

<sup>31</sup> and he shall send his messengers with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his chosen from the four winds, from the ends of the heavens unto the ends thereof.

<sup>32</sup> 'And from the fig-tree learn ye the simile: When already its branch may have become tender, and the leaves it may put forth, ye know that summer [is] nigh, <sup>33</sup> so also ye, when ye may see all these, ye know that it is nigh — at the doors.

<sup>34</sup> Verily I say to you, this generation may not pass away till all these may come to pass.

<sup>35</sup> The heaven and the earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

<sup>37</sup> and as the days of Noah — so shall be also the presence of the Son of Man;

<sup>38</sup> for as they were, in the days before the flood, eating, and drinking, marrying, and giving in marriage, till the day Noah entered into the ark,

<sup>39</sup> and they did not know till the flood came and took all away; so shall be also the presence of the Son of Man.

<sup>40</sup> Then two men shall be in the field, the one is received, and the one is left;

<sup>43</sup> and this know, that if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief doth come, he had watched, and not suffered his house to be broken through;

<sup>44</sup> because of this also ye, become ye ready, because in what hour ye do not think, the Son of Man doth come.

<sup>47</sup> verily I say to you, that over all his substance he will set him.

<sup>48</sup> 'And, if that evil servant may say in his heart, My Lord doth delay to come,

<sup>49</sup> and may begin to beat the fellow-servants, and to eat and to drink with the drunken,

<sup>50</sup> the lord of that servant will arrive in a day when he doth not expect, and in an hour of which he doth not know, <sup>51</sup> and will cut him off, and his portion with the hypocrites will appoint; there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth.

25

<sup>1</sup> 'Then shall the reign of the heavens be likened to ten virgins, who, having taken their lamps, went forth to meet the bridegroom;

<sup>6</sup> and in the middle of the night a cry was made, Lo, the bridegroom doth come; go ye forth to meet him.

- <sup>7</sup> 'Then rose all those virgins, and trimmed their lamps,
<sup>8</sup> and the foolish said to the prudent, Give us of your oil, because our lamps are going out;
<sup>9</sup> and the prudent answered, saying — Lest there may not be sufficient for us and you, go ye rather unto those selling, and buy for yourselves.
<sup>10</sup> 'And while they are going away to buy, the bridegroom came, and those ready went in with him to the marriage-feasts, and the door was shut;
<sup>11</sup> and afterwards come also do the rest of the virgins, saying, Sir, sir, open to us;
<sup>12</sup> and he answering said, Verily I say to you, I have not known you.
<sup>13</sup> 'Watch therefore, for ye have not known the day nor the hour in which the Son of Man doth come.
<sup>14</sup> 'For — as a man going abroad did call his own servants, and did deliver to them his substance,
<sup>15</sup> and to one he gave five talents, and to another two, and to another one, to each according to his several ability, went abroad immediately.
<sup>16</sup> 'And he who did receive the five talents, having gone, wrought with them, and made other five talents;
<sup>17</sup> in like manner also he who [received] the two, he gained, also he, other two;
<sup>18</sup> and he who did receive the one, having gone away, digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.
<sup>19</sup> 'And after a long time cometh the lord of those servants, and taketh reckoning with them;
<sup>20</sup> and he who did receive the five talents having come, brought other five talents, saying, 'Sir, five talents thou didst deliver to me; lo, other five talents did I gain besides them.
<sup>21</sup> 'And his lord said to him, Well done, servant, good and faithful, over a few things thou wast faithful, over many things I will set thee; enter into the joy of thy lord.
<sup>22</sup> 'And he who also did receive the two talents having come, said, Sir, two talents thou didst deliver to me; lo, other two talents I did gain besides them.
<sup>23</sup> 'His lord said to him, Well done, servant, good and faithful, over a few things thou wast faithful, over many things I will set thee; enter into the joy of thy lord.
<sup>24</sup> 'And he also who hath received the one talent having come, said, Sir, I knew thee, that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou didst not sow, and gathering from whence thou didst not scatter;
<sup>25</sup> and having been afraid, having gone away, I hid thy talent in the earth; lo, thou hast thine own!
<sup>26</sup> 'And his lord answering said to him, Evil servant, and slothful, thou hadst known that I reap where I did not sow, and I gather whence I did not scatter!
<sup>27</sup> it behoved thee then to put my money to the money-lenders, and having come I had received mine own with increase.
<sup>28</sup> 'Take therefore from him the talent, and give to him having the ten talents,
<sup>29</sup> for to every one having shall be given, and he shall have overabundance, and from him who is not having, even that which he hath shall be taken from him;
<sup>30</sup> and the unprofitable servant cast ye forth to the outer darkness; there shall be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth.

<sup>31</sup> 'And whenever the Son of Man may come in his glory, and all the holy messengers with him, then he shall sit upon a throne of his glory;

<sup>32</sup> and gathered together before him shall be all the nations, and he shall separate them from one another, as the shepherd doth separate the sheep from the goats,

<sup>34</sup> 'Then shall the king say to those on his right hand, Come ye, the blessed of my Father, inherit the reign that hath been prepared for you from the foundation of the world;

<sup>35</sup> for I did hunger, and ye gave me to eat; I did thirst, and ye gave me to drink; I was a stranger, and ye received me;

<sup>36</sup> naked, and ye put around me; I was infirm, and ye looked after me; in prison I was, and ye came unto me.

<sup>37</sup> 'Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when did we see thee hungering, and we nourished? or thirsting, and we gave to drink?

<sup>38</sup> and when did we see thee a stranger, and we received? or naked, and we put around?

<sup>39</sup> and when did we see thee infirm, or in prison, and we came unto thee?

<sup>40</sup> 'And the king answering, shall say to them, Verily I say to you, Inasmuch as ye did [it] to one of these my brethren — the least — to me ye did [it].

<sup>42</sup> for I did hunger, and ye gave me not to eat; I did thirst, and ye gave me not to drink;

<sup>43</sup> a stranger I was, and ye did not receive me; naked, and ye put not around me; infirm, and in prison, and ye did not look after me.

<sup>44</sup> 'Then shall they answer, they also, saying, Lord, when did we see thee hungering, or thirsting, or a stranger, or naked, or infirm, or in prison, and we did not minister to thee?

<sup>45</sup> 'Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say to you, Inasmuch as ye did [it] not to one of these, the least, ye did [it] not to me.

26

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, when Jesus finished all these words, he said to his disciples,

<sup>2</sup> 'Ye have known that after two days the passover cometh, and the Son of Man is delivered up to be crucified.'

<sup>3</sup> Then were gathered together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, to the court of the chief priest who was called Caiaphas;

<sup>4</sup> and they consulted together that they might take Jesus by guile, and kill [him],

<sup>5</sup> and they said, 'Not in the feast, that there may not be a tumult among the people.'

<sup>9</sup> for this ointment could have been sold for much, and given to the poor.'

<sup>10</sup> And Jesus having known, said to them, 'Why do ye give trouble to the woman? for a good work she wrought for me;

<sup>11</sup> for the poor always ye have with you, and me ye have not always;

<sup>12</sup> for she having put this ointment on my body – for my burial she did [it].

<sup>13</sup> Verily I say to you, Wherever this good news may be proclaimed in the whole world, what this [one] did shall also be spoken of – for a memorial of her.'

<sup>14</sup> Then one of the twelve, who is called Judas Iscariot, having gone unto the chief priests, said,

<sup>15</sup> 'What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver him up to you?' and they weighed out to him thirty silverlings, <sup>16</sup> and from that time he was seeking a convenient season to deliver him up.

<sup>17</sup> And on the first [day] of the unleavened food came the disciples near to Jesus, saying to him, 'Where wilt thou [that] we may prepare for thee to eat the passover?'

<sup>18</sup> and he said, 'Go away to the city, unto such a one, and say to him, The Teacher saith, My time is nigh; near thee I keep the passover, with my disciples;'

<sup>19</sup> and the disciples did as Jesus appointed them, and prepared the passover.

<sup>20</sup> And evening having come, he was reclining (at meat) with the twelve,

<sup>21</sup> and while they are eating, he said, 'Verily I say to you, that one of you shall deliver me up.'

<sup>22</sup> And being grieved exceedingly, they began to say to him, each of them, 'Is it I, Sir?'

<sup>23</sup> And he answering said, 'He who did dip with me the hand in the dish, he will deliver me up;

<sup>24</sup> the Son of Man doth indeed go, as it hath been written concerning him, but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is delivered up! good it were for him if that man had not been born.'

<sup>25</sup> And Judas – he who delivered him up – answering said, 'Is it I, Rabbi?' He saith to him, 'Thou hast said.'

<sup>26</sup> And while they were eating, Jesus having taken the bread, and having blessed, did brake, and was giving to the disciples, and said, 'Take, eat, this is my body;'

<sup>27</sup> and having taken the cup, and having given thanks, he gave to them, saying, 'Drink ye of it – all;

<sup>28</sup> for this is my blood of the new covenant, that for many is being poured out – to remission of sins;

<sup>29</sup> and I say to you, that I may not drink henceforth on this produce of the vine, till that day when I may drink it with you new in the reign of my Father.'

<sup>30</sup> And having sung a hymn, they went forth to the mount of the Olives;

<sup>31</sup> then saith Jesus to them, 'All ye shall be stumbled at me this night; for it hath been written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad;

<sup>32</sup> but, after my having risen, I will go before you to Galilee.'

<sup>33</sup> And Peter answering said to him, 'Even if all shall be stumbled at thee, I will never be stumbled.'

<sup>34</sup> Jesus said to him, 'Verily I say to thee, that, this night, before cock-crowing, thrice thou wilt deny me.'

<sup>35</sup> Peter saith to him, 'Even if it may be necessary for me to die with thee, I will not deny thee;' in like manner also said all the disciples.

<sup>36</sup> Then come with them doth Jesus to a place called Gethsemane, and he saith to the disciples, 'Sit ye here, till having gone away, I shall pray yonder.'

<sup>37</sup> And having taken Peter, and the two sons of Zebedee, he began to be sorrowful, and to be very heavy;

<sup>38</sup> then saith he to them, 'Exceedingly sorrowful is my soul — unto death; abide ye here, and watch with me.'

<sup>39</sup> And having gone forward a little, he fell on his face, praying, and saying, 'My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as Thou.'

<sup>40</sup> And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them sleeping, and he saith to Peter, 'So! ye were not able one hour to watch with me!

<sup>41</sup> watch, and pray, that ye may not enter into temptation: the spirit indeed is forward, but the flesh weak.'

<sup>42</sup> Again, a second time, having gone away, he prayed, saying, 'My Father, if this cup cannot pass away from me except I drink it, Thy will be done;'

<sup>43</sup> and having come, he findeth them again sleeping, for their eyes were heavy.

<sup>45</sup> then cometh he unto his disciples, and saith to them, 'Sleep on henceforth, and rest! lo, the hour hath come nigh, and the Son of Man is delivered up to the hands of sinners.

<sup>46</sup> Rise, let us go; lo, he hath come nigh who is delivering me up.'

<sup>47</sup> And while he is yet speaking, lo, Judas, one of the twelve did come, and with him a great multitude, with swords and sticks, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

<sup>48</sup> And he who did deliver him up did give them a sign, saying, 'Whomsoever I will kiss, it is he: lay hold on him;'

<sup>49</sup> and immediately, having come to Jesus, he said, 'Hail, Rabbi,' and kissed him;

<sup>50</sup> and Jesus said to him, 'Comrade, for what art thou present?' Then having come near, they laid hands on Jesus, and took hold on him.

<sup>51</sup> And lo, one of those with Jesus, having stretched forth the hand, drew his sword, and having struck the servant of the chief priest, he took off his ear.

<sup>52</sup> Then saith Jesus to him, 'Turn back thy sword to its place; for all who did take the sword, by the sword shall perish;

<sup>53</sup> dost thou think that I am not able now to call upon my Father, and He will place beside me more than twelve legions of messengers?

<sup>54</sup> how then may the Writings be fulfilled, that thus it behoveth to happen?'

<sup>55</sup> In that hour said Jesus to the multitudes, 'As against a robber ye did come forth, with swords and sticks, to take me! daily with you I was sitting teaching in the temple, and ye did not lay hold on me;

<sup>56</sup> but all this hath come to pass, that the Writings of the prophets may be fulfilled;' then all the disciples, having left him, fled.

<sup>57</sup> And those laying hold on Jesus led [him] away unto Caiaphas the chief priest, where the scribes and the elders were gathered together, <sup>58</sup> and Peter was following him afar off, unto the court of the chief priest, and having gone in within, he was sitting with the officers, to see the end.

<sup>59</sup> And the chief priests, and the elders, and all the council, were seeking false witness against Jesus, that they might put him to death,

<sup>60</sup> and they did not find; and many false witnesses having come near, they did not find; and at last two false witnesses having come near,

<sup>61</sup> said, 'This one said, I am able to throw down the sanctuary of God, and after three days to build it.'

<sup>62</sup> And the chief priest having stood up, said to him, 'Nothing thou dost answer! what do these witness against thee?

<sup>63</sup> and Jesus was silent. And the chief priest answering said to him, 'I adjure thee, by the living God, that thou mayest say to us, if thou art the Christ — the Son of God.'

<sup>64</sup> Jesus saith to him, 'Thou hast said; nevertheless I say to you, hereafter ye shall see the Son of Man sitting on the right hand of the power, and coming upon the clouds, of the heaven.'

<sup>66</sup> what think ye?' and they answering said, 'He is worthy of death.'

<sup>68</sup> saying, 'Declare to us, O Christ, who he is that struck thee?'

<sup>69</sup> And Peter without was sitting in the court, and there came near to him a certain maid, saying, 'And thou wast with Jesus of Galilee!'

<sup>71</sup> And he having gone forth to the porch, another female saw him, and saith to those there, 'And this one was with Jesus of Nazareth;'

<sup>72</sup> and again did he deny with an oath — 'I have not known the man.'

<sup>73</sup> And after a little those standing near having come, said to Peter, 'Truly thou also art of them, for even thy speech doth make thee manifest.'

<sup>74</sup> Then began he to anathematise, and to swear — 'I have not known the man;' and immediately did a cock crow,

<sup>75</sup> and Peter remembered the saying of Jesus, he having said to him — 'Before cock-crowing, thrice thou wilt deny me;' and having gone without, he did weep bitterly.

27

<sup>1</sup> And morning having come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus, so as to put him to death;

<sup>2</sup> and having bound him, they did lead away, and delivered him up to Pontius Pilate, the governor.

<sup>3</sup> Then Judas — he who delivered him up — having seen that he was condemned, having repented, brought back the thirty silverlings to the chief priests, and to the elders, saying,

<sup>4</sup> 'I did sin, having delivered up innocent blood;' and they said, 'What — to us? thou shalt see!'

<sup>5</sup> and having cast down the silverlings in the sanctuary, he departed, and having gone away, he did strangle himself.

<sup>6</sup> And the chief priests having taken the silverlings, said, 'It is not lawful to put them to the treasury, seeing it is the price of blood;'

<sup>7</sup> and having taken counsel, they bought with them the field of the potter, for the burial of strangers;

<sup>9</sup> Then was fulfilled that spoken through Jeremiah the prophet, saying, 'And I took the thirty silverlings, the price of him who hath been priced, whom they of the sons of Israel did price,

<sup>10</sup> and gave them for the field of the potter, as the Lord did appoint to me.'

<sup>11</sup> And Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor did question him, saying, 'Art thou the king of the Jews?' And Jesus said to him, 'Thou sayest.'

<sup>12</sup> And in his being accused by the chief priests and the elders, he did not answer any thing,

<sup>13</sup> then saith Pilate to him, 'Dost thou not hear how many things they witness against thee?'

<sup>14</sup> And he did not answer him, not even to one word, so that the governor did wonder greatly.

<sup>15</sup> And at the feast the governor had been accustomed to release one to the multitude, a prisoner, whom they willed,

<sup>16</sup> and they had then a noted prisoner, called Barabbas,

<sup>17</sup> they therefore having been gathered together, Pilate said to them, 'Whom will ye I shall release to you? Barabbas or Jesus who is called Christ?'

<sup>18</sup> for he had known that because of envy they had delivered him up.

<sup>19</sup> And as he is sitting on the tribunal, his wife sent unto him, saying, 'Nothing – to thee and to that righteous one, for many things did I suffer to-day in a dream because of him.'

<sup>20</sup> And the chief priests and the elders did persuade the multitudes that they might ask for themselves Barabbas, and might destroy Jesus;

<sup>21</sup> and the governor answering said to them, 'Which of the two will ye [that] I shall release to you?' And they said, 'Barabbas.'

<sup>22</sup> Pilate saith to them, 'What then shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ?' They all say to him, 'Let be crucified!'

<sup>23</sup> And the governor said, 'Why, what evil did he?' and they were crying out the more, saying, 'Let be crucified.'

<sup>25</sup> and all the people answering said, 'His blood [is] upon us, and upon our children!'

<sup>26</sup> Then did he release to them Barabbas, and having scourged Jesus, he delivered [him] up that he may be crucified;

<sup>27</sup> then the soldiers of the governor having taken Jesus to the Praetorium, did gather to him all the band;

<sup>31</sup> and when they had mocked him, they took off from him the cloak, and put on him his own garments, and led him away to crucify [him].

<sup>33</sup> and having come to a place called Golgotha, that is called Place of a Skull, <sup>34</sup> they gave him to drink vinegar mixed with gall, and having tasted, he would not drink.

<sup>35</sup> And having crucified him, they divided his garments, casting a lot, that it might be fulfilled that was spoken by the prophet, 'They divided my garments to themselves, and over my vesture they cast a lot;'

<sup>36</sup> and sitting down, they were watching him there,

<sup>37</sup> and they put up over his head, his accusation written, 'This is Jesus, the king of the Jews.'

<sup>40</sup> and saying, 'Thou that art throwing down the sanctuary, and in three days building [it], save thyself; if Son thou art of God, come down from the cross.'

<sup>41</sup> And in like manner also the chief priests mocking, with the scribes and elders, said,

<sup>42</sup> 'Others he saved; himself he is not able to save! If he be King of Israel, let him come down now from the cross, and we will believe him;

<sup>43</sup> he hath trusted on God, let Him now deliver him, if He wish him, because he said — Son of God I am;'

<sup>44</sup> with the same also the robbers, who were crucified with him, were reproaching him.

<sup>45</sup> And from the sixth hour darkness came over all the land unto the ninth hour,

<sup>47</sup> And certain of those standing there having heard, said — 'Elijah he doth call;'

<sup>48</sup> and immediately, one of them having run, and having taken a sponge, having filled [it] with vinegar, and having put [it] on a reed, was giving him to drink,

<sup>49</sup> but the rest said, 'Let alone, let us see if Elijah doth come — about to save him.'

<sup>51</sup> and lo, the vail of the sanctuary was rent in two from top unto bottom, and the earth did quake, and the rocks were rent,

<sup>52</sup> and the tombs were opened, and many bodies of the saints who have fallen asleep, arose,

<sup>53</sup> and having come forth out of the tombs after his rising, they went into the holy city, and appeared to many.

<sup>54</sup> And the centurion, and those with him watching Jesus, having seen the earthquake, and the things that were done, were exceedingly afraid, saying, 'Truly this was God's Son.'

<sup>55</sup> And there were there many women beholding from afar, who did follow Jesus from Galilee, ministering to him,

<sup>56</sup> among whom was Mary the Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and of Joses, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

<sup>57</sup> And evening having come, there came a rich man, from Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was discipled to Jesus, <sup>58</sup> he having gone near to Pilate, asked for himself the body of Jesus; then Pilate commanded the body to be given back.

<sup>59</sup> And having taken the body, Joseph wrapped it in clean linen,

<sup>60</sup> and laid it in his new tomb, that he hewed in the rock, and having rolled a great stone to the door of the tomb, he went away;

<sup>61</sup> and there were there Mary the Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over-against the sepulchre.

<sup>62</sup> And on the morrow that is after the preparation, were gathered together the chief priests, and the Pharisees, unto Pilate,

<sup>63</sup> saying, 'Sir, we have remembered that that deceiver said while yet living, After three days I do rise;

<sup>64</sup> command, then, the sepulchre to be made secure till the third day, lest his disciples, having come by night, may steal him away, and may say to the people, He rose from the dead, and the last deceit shall be worse than the first.'

<sup>65</sup> And Pilate said to them, 'Ye have a watch, go away, make secure — as ye have known;'

<sup>66</sup> and they, having gone, did make the sepulchre secure, having sealed the stone, together with the watch.

28

<sup>1</sup> And on the eve of the sabbaths, at the dawn, toward the first of the sabbaths, came Mary the Magdalene, and the other Mary, to see the sepulchre,

<sup>2</sup> and lo, there came a great earthquake, for a messenger of the Lord, having come down out of heaven, having come, did roll away the stone from the door, and was sitting upon it,

<sup>3</sup> and his countenance was as lightning, and his clothing white as snow,

<sup>4</sup> and from the fear of him did the keepers shake, and they became as dead men.

<sup>5</sup> And the messenger answering said to the women, 'Fear not ye, for I have known that Jesus, who hath been crucified, ye seek;

<sup>6</sup> he is not here, for he rose, as he said; come, see the place where the Lord was lying;

<sup>7</sup> and having gone quickly, say ye to his disciples, that he rose from the dead; and lo, he doth go before you to Galilee, there ye shall see him; lo, I have told you.'

<sup>8</sup> And having gone forth quickly from the tomb, with fear and great joy, they ran to tell to his disciples;

<sup>9</sup> and as they were going to tell to his disciples, then lo, Jesus met them, saying, 'Hail!' and they having come near, laid hold of his feet, and did bow to him.

<sup>10</sup> Then saith Jesus to them, 'Fear ye not, go away, tell to my brethren that they may go away to Galilee, and there they shall see me.'

<sup>11</sup> And while they are going on, lo, certain of the watch having come to the city, told to the chief priests all the things that happened,

<sup>12</sup> and having been gathered together with the elders, counsel also having taken, they gave much money to the soldiers,

<sup>13</sup> saying, 'Say ye, that his disciples having come by night, stole him — we being asleep;

<sup>14</sup> and if this be heard by the governor, we will persuade him, and you keep free from anxiety.'

<sup>15</sup> And they, having received the money, did as they were taught, and this account was spread abroad among Jews till this day.

<sup>16</sup> And the eleven disciples went to Galilee, to the mount where Jesus appointed them, <sup>17</sup> and having seen him, they bowed to him, but some did waver.

<sup>18</sup> And having come near, Jesus spake to them, saying, 'Given to me was all authority in heaven and on earth;

<sup>19</sup> having gone, then, disciple all the nations, (baptizing them — to the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, <sup>20</sup> teaching them to observe all, whatever I did command you,) and lo, I am with you all the days — till the full end of the age.'

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. MARK

<sup>4</sup> John came baptizing in the wilderness, and proclaiming a baptism of reformation — to remission of sins,

<sup>5</sup> and there were going forth to him all the region of Judea, and they of Jerusalem, and they were all baptized by him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins.

<sup>6</sup> And John was clothed with camel's hair, and a girdle of skin around his loins, and eating locusts and honey of the field,

<sup>7</sup> and he proclaimed, saying, 'He doth come — who is mightier than I — after me, of whom I am not worthy — having stooped down — to loose the latchet of his sandals;

<sup>8</sup> I indeed did baptize you with water, but he shall baptize you with the Holy Spirit.'

<sup>10</sup> and immediately coming up from the water, he saw the heavens dividing, and the Spirit as a dove coming down upon him;

<sup>11</sup> and a voice came out of the heavens, 'Thou art My Son — the Beloved, in whom I did delight.'

<sup>12</sup> And immediately doth the Spirit put him forth to the wilderness,

<sup>13</sup> and he was there in the wilderness forty days, being tempted by the Adversary, and he was with the beasts, and the messengers were ministering to him.

<sup>14</sup> And after the delivering up of John, Jesus came to Galilee, proclaiming the good news of the reign of God,

<sup>15</sup> and saying — 'Fulfilled hath been the time, and the reign of God hath come nigh, reform ye, and believe in the good news.'

<sup>16</sup> And, walking by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting a drag into the sea, for they were fishers,

<sup>17</sup> and Jesus said to them, 'Come ye after me, and I shall make you to become fishers of men;'

<sup>20</sup> and immediately he called them, and, having left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, they went away after him.

<sup>21</sup> And they go on to Capernaum, and immediately, on the sabbaths, having gone into the synagogue, he was teaching, <sup>22</sup> and they were astonished at his teaching, for he was teaching them as having authority, and not as the scribes.

<sup>23</sup> And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit, and he cried out,

<sup>24</sup> saying, 'Away! what — to us and to thee, Jesus the Nazarene? thou didst come to destroy us; I have known thee who thou art — the Holy One of God.'

<sup>25</sup> And Jesus rebuked him, saying, 'Be silenced, and come forth out of him,' <sup>26</sup> and the unclean spirit having torn him, and having cried with a great voice, came forth out of him,
<sup>27</sup> and they were all amazed, so as to reason among themselves, saying, 'What is this? what new teaching [is] this? that with authority also the unclean spirits he commandeth, and they obey him!'
<sup>28</sup> And the fame of him went forth immediately to all the region, round about, of Galilee.
<sup>29</sup> And immediately, having come forth out of the synagogue, they went to the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John,
<sup>30</sup> and the mother-in-law of Simon was lying fevered, and immediately they tell him about her,
<sup>31</sup> and having come near, he raised her up, having laid hold of her hand, and the fever left her immediately, and she was ministering to them.
<sup>32</sup> And evening having come, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all who were ill, and who were demoniacs,
<sup>33</sup> and the whole city was gathered together near the door,
<sup>34</sup> and he healed many who were ill of manifold diseases, and many demons he cast forth, and was not suffering the demons to speak, because they knew him.
<sup>35</sup> And very early, it being yet night, having risen, he went forth, and went away to a desert place, and was there praying;
<sup>36</sup> and Simon and those with him went in quest of him,
<sup>37</sup> and having found him, they say to him, — 'All do seek thee;'
<sup>38</sup> and he saith to them, 'We may go to the next towns, that there also I may preach, for for this I came forth.'
<sup>39</sup> And he was preaching in their synagogues, in all Galilee, and is casting out the demons,
<sup>40</sup> and there doth come to him a leper, calling on him, and kneeling to him, and saying to him — 'If thou mayest will, thou art able to cleanse me.'
<sup>41</sup> And Jesus having been moved with compassion, having stretched forth the hand, touched him, and saith to him, 'I will; be thou cleansed;'
<sup>42</sup> and he having spoken, immediately the leprosy went away from him, and he was cleansed.
<sup>43</sup> And having sternly charged him, immediately he put him forth,
<sup>44</sup> and saith to him, 'See thou mayest say nothing to any one, but go away, thyself shew to the priest, and bring near for thy cleansing the things Moses directed, for a testimony to them.'
<sup>45</sup> And he, having gone forth, began to proclaim much, and to spread abroad the thing, so that no more he was able openly to enter into the city, but he was without in desert places, and they were coming unto him from every quarter.

2

<sup>1</sup> And again he entered into Capernaum, after [some] days, and it was heard that he is in the house,
<sup>2</sup> and immediately many were gathered together, so that there was no more room, not even at the door, and he was speaking to them the word.
<sup>4</sup> and not being able to come near to him because of the multitude, they uncovered the roof where he was, and, having broken [it] up, they let down the couch on which the paralytic was lying,

<sup>5</sup> and Jesus having seen their faith, saith to the paralytic, 'Child, thy sins have been forgiven thee.'

<sup>6</sup> And there were certain of the scribes there sitting, and reasoning in their hearts,

<sup>7</sup> 'Why doth this one thus speak evil words? who is able to forgive sins except one — God?'

<sup>8</sup> And immediately Jesus, having known in his spirit that they thus reason in themselves, said to them, 'Why these things reason ye in your hearts?

<sup>9</sup> which is easier, to say to the paralytic, The sins have been forgiven to thee? or to say, Rise, and take up thy couch, and walk?

<sup>10</sup> 'And, that ye may know that the Son of Man hath authority on the earth to forgive sins — (he saith to the paralytic) —

<sup>11</sup> I say to thee, Rise, and take up thy couch, and go away to thy house;'

<sup>12</sup> and he rose immediately, and having taken up the couch, he went forth before all, so that all were astonished, and do glorify God, saying — 'Never thus did we see.'

<sup>13</sup> And he went forth again by the sea, and all the multitude was coming unto him, and he was teaching them,

<sup>14</sup> and passing by, he saw Levi of Alphaeus sitting at the tax-office, and saith to him, 'Be following me,' and he, having risen, did follow him.

<sup>15</sup> And it came to pass, in his reclining (at meat) in his house, that many tax-gatherers and sinners were reclining (at meat) with Jesus and his disciples, for there were many, and they followed him.

<sup>16</sup> And the scribes and the Pharisees, having seen him eating with the tax-gatherers and sinners, said to his disciples, 'Why — that with the tax-gatherers and sinners he doth eat and drink?'

<sup>17</sup> And Jesus, having heard, saith to them, 'They who are strong have no need of a physician, but they who are ill; I came not to call righteous men, but sinners to reformation.'

<sup>18</sup> And the disciples of John and those of the Pharisees were fasting, and they come and say to him, 'Wherefore do the disciples of John and those of the Pharisees fast, and thy disciples do not fast?'

<sup>19</sup> And Jesus said to them, 'Are the sons of the bride-chamber able, while the bridegroom is with them, to fast? so long time as they have the bridegroom with them they are not able to fast;

<sup>20</sup> but days shall come when the bridegroom may be taken from them, and then they shall fast — in those days.

<sup>21</sup> 'And no one a patch of undressed cloth doth sew on an old garment, and if not — the new filling it up doth take from the old and the rent doth become worse;

<sup>22</sup> and no one doth put new wine into old skins, and if not — the new wine doth burst the skins, and the wine is poured out, and the skins will be destroyed; but new wine into new skins is to be put.'

<sup>23</sup> And it came to pass — he is going along on the sabbaths through the corn-fields — and his disciples began to make a way, plucking the ears,

<sup>24</sup> and the Pharisees said to him, 'Lo, why do they on the sabbaths that which is not lawful?'

<sup>25</sup> And he said to them, 'Did ye never read what David did, when he had need and was hungry, he and those with him?

<sup>26</sup> how he went into the house of God, (at 'Abiathar the chief priest,') and the loaves of the presentation did eat, which it is not lawful to eat, except to the priests, and he gave also to those who were with him?'

<sup>27</sup> And he said to them, 'The sabbath for man was made, not man for the sabbath,

<sup>28</sup> so that the son of man is lord also of the sabbath.'

3

<sup>1</sup> And he entered again into the synagogue, and there was there a man having the hand withered,

<sup>2</sup> and they were watching him, whether on the sabbaths he will heal him, that they might accuse him.

<sup>3</sup> And he saith to the man having the hand withered, 'Rise up in the midst.'

<sup>4</sup> And he saith to them, 'Is it lawful on the sabbaths to do good, or to do evil? life to save, or to kill?' but they were silent.

<sup>5</sup> And having looked round upon them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their heart, he saith to the man, 'Stretch forth thy hand;' and he stretched forth, and his hand was restored whole as the other;

<sup>6</sup> and the Pharisees having gone forth, immediately, with the Herodians, were taking counsel against him how they might destroy him.

<sup>7</sup> And Jesus withdrew with his disciples unto the sea, and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Judea,

<sup>8</sup> and from Jerusalem, and from Idumea and beyond the Jordan; and they about Tyre and Sidon — a great multitude — having heard how great things he was doing, came unto him.

<sup>9</sup> And he said to his disciples that a little boat may wait on him, because of the multitude, that they may not press upon him,

<sup>10</sup> for he did heal many, so that they threw themselves on him, in order to touch him — as many as had plagues;

<sup>11</sup> and the unclean spirits, when they were seeing him, were falling down before him, and were crying, saying — 'Thou art the Son of God;'

<sup>12</sup> and many times he was charging them that they might not make him manifest.

<sup>13</sup> And he goeth up to the mountain, and doth call near whom he willed, and they went away to him;

<sup>14</sup> and he appointed twelve, that they may be with him, and that he may send them forth to preach, <sup>15</sup> and to have power to heal the sicknesses, and to cast out the demons.

<sup>18</sup> and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James of Alpheus, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Cananite, <sup>19</sup> and Judas Iscariot, who did also deliver him up; and they come into a house.

<sup>20</sup> And come together again doth a multitude, so that they are not able even to eat bread;

<sup>21</sup> and his friends having heard, went forth to lay hold on him, for they said that he was beside himself,

<sup>22</sup> and the scribes who [are] from Jerusalem having come down, said — 'He hath Beelzeboul,' and — 'By the ruler of the demons he doth cast out the demons.'

<sup>23</sup> And, having called them near, in similes he said to them, 'How is the Adversary able to cast out the Adversary?'

<sup>24</sup> and if a kingdom against itself be divided, that kingdom cannot be made to stand;

<sup>25</sup> and if a house against itself be divided, that house cannot be made to stand;

<sup>26</sup> and if the Adversary did rise against himself, and hath been divided, he cannot be made to stand, but hath an end.

<sup>27</sup> 'No one is able the vessels of the strong man — having entered into his house — to spoil, if first he may not bind the strong man, and then his house he will spoil.

<sup>28</sup> 'Verily I say to you, that all the sins shall be forgiven to the sons of men, and evil speakings with which they might speak evil,

<sup>29</sup> but whoever may speak evil in regard to the Holy Spirit hath not forgiveness — to the age, but is in danger of age-during judgment;'

<sup>30</sup> because they said, 'He hath an unclean spirit.'

<sup>31</sup> Then come do his brethren and mother, and standing without, they sent unto him, calling him,

<sup>32</sup> and a multitude was sitting about him, and they said to him, 'Lo, thy mother and thy brethren without do seek thee.'

<sup>33</sup> And he answered them, saying, 'Who is my mother, or my brethren?'

<sup>34</sup> And having looked round in a circle to those sitting about him, he saith, 'Lo, my mother and my brethren!

<sup>35</sup> for whoever may do the will of God, he is my brother, and my sister, and mother.'

4

<sup>1</sup> And again he began to teach by the sea, and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he, having gone into the boat, sat in the sea, and all the multitude was near the sea, on the land,

<sup>2</sup> and he taught them many things in similes, and he said to them in his teaching:

<sup>4</sup> and it came to pass, in the sowing, some fell by the way, and the fowls of the heaven did come and devour it;

<sup>5</sup> and other fell upon the rocky ground, where it had not much earth, and immediately it sprang forth, because of not having depth of earth,

<sup>6</sup> and the sun having risen, it was scorched, and because of not having root it did wither;

<sup>7</sup> and other fell toward the thorns, and the thorns did come up, and choke it, and fruit it gave not;

<sup>8</sup> and other fell to the good ground, and was giving fruit, coming up and increasing, and it bare, one thirty-fold, and one sixty, and one an hundred.'

<sup>9</sup> And he said to them, 'He who is having ears to hear — let him hear.'

<sup>10</sup> And when he was alone, those about him, with the twelve, did ask him of the simile,

<sup>11</sup> and he said to them, 'To you it hath been given to know the secret of the reign of God, but to those who are without, in similes are all the things done;

<sup>12</sup> that seeing they may see and not perceive, and hearing they may hear and not understand, lest they may turn, and the sins may be forgiven them.'

<sup>13</sup> And he saith to them, 'Have ye not known this simile? and how shall ye know all the similes?

<sup>14</sup> He who is sowing doth sow the word;

<sup>15</sup> and these are they by the way where the word is sown: and whenever they may hear, immediately cometh the Adversary, and he taketh away the word that hath been sown in their hearts.

<sup>16</sup> 'And these are they, in like manner, who on the rocky ground are sown: who, whenever they may hear the word, immediately with joy do receive it,

<sup>17</sup> and have not root in themselves, but are temporary; afterward tribulation or persecution having come because of the word, immediately they are stumbled.

<sup>18</sup> 'And these are they who toward the thorns are sown: these are they who are hearing the word, <sup>19</sup> and the anxieties of this age, and the deceitfulness of the riches, and the desires concerning the other things, entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

<sup>20</sup> 'And these are they who on the good ground have been sown: who do hear the word, and receive, and do bear fruit, one thirty-fold, and one sixty, and one an hundred.'

<sup>21</sup> And he said to them, 'Doth the lamp come that under the measure it may be put, or under the couch — not that it may be put on the lamp-stand?

<sup>22</sup> for there is not anything hid that may not be manifested, nor was anything kept hid but that it may come to light.

<sup>24</sup> And he said to them, 'Take heed what ye hear; in what measure ye measure, it shall be measured to you; and to you who hear it shall be added;

<sup>25</sup> for whoever may have, there shall be given to him, and whoever hath not, also that which he hath shall be taken from him.'

<sup>26</sup> And he said, 'Thus is the reign of God: as if a man may cast the seed on the earth,

<sup>27</sup> and may sleep, and may rise night and day, and the seed spring up and grow, he hath not known how;

<sup>28</sup> for of itself doth the earth bear fruit, first a blade, afterwards an ear, afterwards full corn in the ear;

<sup>29</sup> and whenever the fruit may yield itself, immediately he doth send forth the sickle, because the harvest hath come.'

<sup>30</sup> And he said, 'To what may we liken the reign of God, or in what simile may we compare it?

<sup>31</sup> As a grain of mustard, which, whenever it may be sown on the earth, is less than any of the seeds that are on the earth;

<sup>32</sup> and whenever it may be sown, it cometh up, and doth become greater than any of the herbs, and doth make great branches, so that under its shade the fowls of the heaven are able to rest.'

<sup>33</sup> And with many such similes he was speaking to them the word, as they were able to hear,

<sup>34</sup> and without a simile he was not speaking to them, and by themselves, to his disciples he was expounding all.

<sup>35</sup> And he saith to them on that day, evening having come, 'We may pass over to the other side;'

<sup>36</sup> and having let away the multitude, they take him up as he was in the boat, and other little boats also were with him.

<sup>37</sup> And there cometh a great storm of wind, and the waves were beating on the boat, so that it is now being filled,

<sup>38</sup> and he himself was upon the stern, upon the pillow sleeping, and they wake him up, and say to him, 'Teacher, art thou not caring that we perish?'

<sup>39</sup> And having waked up, he rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, 'Peace, be stilled;' and the wind did lull, and there was a great calm:

<sup>40</sup> and he said to them, 'Why are ye so fearful? how have ye not faith?'

<sup>41</sup> and they feared a great fear, and said one to another, 'Who, then, is this, that even the wind and the sea do obey him?'

5

<sup>1</sup> And they came to the other side of the sea, to the region of the Gadarenes,
<sup>2</sup> and he having come forth out of the boat, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,

<sup>3</sup> who had his dwelling in the tombs, and not even with chains was any one able to bind him,

<sup>4</sup> because that he many times with fetters and chains had been bound, and pulled in pieces by him had been the chains, and the fetters broken in pieces, and none was able to tame him,

<sup>5</sup> and always, night and day, in the mountains, and in the tombs he was, crying and cutting himself with stones.

<sup>6</sup> And, having seen Jesus from afar, he ran and bowed before him,

<sup>7</sup> and having called with a loud voice, he said, 'What — to me and to thee, Jesus, Son of God the Most High? I adjure thee by God, mayest thou not afflict me!'

<sup>8</sup> (for he said to him, 'Come forth, spirit unclean, out of the man,')

<sup>9</sup> and he was questioning him, 'What [is] thy name?' and he answered, saying, 'Legion [is] my name, because we are many;'

<sup>10</sup> and he was calling on him much, that he may not send them out of the region.

<sup>11</sup> And there was there, near the mountains, a great herd of swine feeding,

<sup>12</sup> and all the demons did call upon him, saying, 'Send us to the swine, that into them we may enter;'

<sup>13</sup> and immediately Jesus gave them leave, and having come forth, the unclean spirits did enter into the swine, and the herd did rush down the steep place to the sea — and they were about two thousand — and they were choked in the sea.

<sup>14</sup> And those feeding the swine did flee, and told in the city, and in the fields, and they came forth to see what it is that hath been done;

<sup>15</sup> and they come unto Jesus, and see the demoniac, sitting, and clothed, and right-minded — him having had the legion — and they were afraid;

<sup>16</sup> and those having seen [it], declared to them how it had come to pass to the demoniac, and about the swine;

<sup>17</sup> and they began to call upon him to go away from their borders.

<sup>18</sup> And he having gone into the boat, the demoniac was calling on him that he may be with him,

<sup>19</sup> and Jesus did not suffer him, but saith to him, 'Go away to thy house, unto thine own [friends], and tell them how great things the Lord did to thee, and dealt kindly with thee;

<sup>20</sup> and he went away, and began to proclaim in the Decapolis how great things Jesus did to him, and all were wondering.

<sup>21</sup> And Jesus having passed over in the boat again to the other side, there was gathered a great multitude to him, and he was near the sea,

<sup>22</sup> and lo, there doth come one of the chiefs of the synagogue, by name Jairus, and having seen him, he doth fall at his feet,

<sup>23</sup> and he was calling upon him much, saying — 'My little daughter is at the last extremity — that having come, thou mayest lay on her [thy] hands, so that she may be saved, and she shall live;'

<sup>24</sup> and he went away with him. And there was following him a great multitude, and they were thronging him,

<sup>26</sup> and many things having suffered under many physicians, and having spent all that she had, and having profited nothing, but rather having come to the worse,

<sup>27</sup> having heard about Jesus, having come in the multitude behind, she touched his garment,

<sup>28</sup> for she said — 'If even his garments I may touch, I shall be saved;'

<sup>29</sup> and immediately was the fountain of her blood dried up, and she knew in the body that she hath been healed of the plague.

<sup>30</sup> And immediately Jesus having known in himself that out of him power had gone forth, having turned about in the multitude, said, 'Who did touch my garments?'

<sup>32</sup> And he was looking round to see her who did this,

<sup>33</sup> and the woman, having been afraid, and trembling, knowing what was done on her, came, and fell down before him, and told him all the truth,

<sup>34</sup> and he said to her, 'Daughter, thy faith hath saved thee; go away in peace, and be whole from thy plague.'

<sup>35</sup> As he is yet speaking, there come from the chief of the synagogue's [house, certain], saying — 'Thy daughter did die, why still dost thou harass the Teacher?'

<sup>36</sup> And Jesus immediately, having heard the word that is spoken, saith to the chief of the synagogue, 'Be not afraid, only believe.'

<sup>37</sup> And he did not suffer any one to follow with him, except Peter, and James, and John the brother of James;

<sup>38</sup> and he cometh to the house of the chief of the synagogue, and seeth a tumult, much weeping and wailing;

<sup>39</sup> and having gone in he saith to them, 'Why do ye make a tumult, and weep? the child did not die, but doth sleep;

<sup>40</sup> and they were laughing at him. And he, having put all forth, doth take the father of the child, and the mother, and those with him, and goeth in where the child is lying,

<sup>41</sup> and, having taken the hand of the child, he saith to her, 'Talitha cumi;' which is, being interpreted, 'Damsel (I say to thee), arise.'

<sup>42</sup> And immediately the damsel arose, and was walking, for she was twelve years [old]; and they were amazed with a great amazement,

<sup>43</sup> and he charged them much, that no one may know this thing, and he said that there be given to her to eat.

6

<sup>1</sup> And he went forth thence, and came to his own country, and his disciples do follow him,

<sup>2</sup> and sabbath having come, he began in the synagogue to teach, and many hearing were astonished, saying, 'Whence hath this one these things? and what the wisdom that was given to him, that also such mighty works through his hands are done?'

<sup>3</sup> Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, and brother of James, and Joses, and Judas, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us?' — and they were being stumbled at him.

<sup>4</sup> And Jesus said to them — 'A prophet is not without honour, except in his own country, and among his kindred, and in his own house;'

<sup>5</sup> and he was not able there any mighty work to do, except on a few infirm people having put hands he did heal [them];

<sup>6</sup> and he wondered because of their unbelief. And he was going round the villages, in a circle, teaching,

<sup>7</sup> and he doth call near the twelve, and he began to send them forth two by two, and he was giving them power over the unclean spirits,

<sup>8</sup> and he commanded them that they may take nothing for the way, except a staff only — no scrip, no bread, no brass in the girdle,

<sup>9</sup> but having been shod with sandals, and ye may not put on two coats.

<sup>10</sup> And he said to them, 'Whenever ye may enter into a house, there remain till ye may depart thence,

<sup>11</sup> and as many as may not receive you, nor hear you, going out thence, shake off the dust that is under your feet for a testimony to them; verily I say to you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom or Gomorrah in a day of judgment than for that city.'

<sup>12</sup> And having gone forth they were preaching that [men] might reform,

<sup>13</sup> and many demons they were casting out, and they were anointing with oil many infirm, and they were healing [them].

<sup>14</sup> And the king Herod heard, (for his name became public,) and he said — 'John the Baptist out of the dead was raised, and because of this the mighty powers are working in him.'

<sup>15</sup> Others said — 'It is Elijah,' and others said — 'It is a prophet, or as one of the prophets.'

<sup>16</sup> And Herod having heard, said — 'He whom I did behead — John — this is he; he was raised out of the dead.'

<sup>18</sup> for John said to Herod — 'It is not lawful to thee to have the wife of thy brother;'

<sup>19</sup> and Herodias was having a quarrel with him, and was willing to kill him, and was not able,

<sup>20</sup> for Herod was fearing John, knowing him a man righteous and holy, and was keeping watch over him, and having heard him, was doing many things, and hearing him gladly.

<sup>21</sup> And a seasonable day having come, when Herod on his birthday was making a supper to his great men, and to the chiefs of thousands, and to the first men of Galilee,

<sup>22</sup> and the daughter of that Herodias having come in, and having danced, and having pleased Herod and those reclining (at meat) with him, the king said to the damsel, 'Ask of me whatever thou wilt, and I will give to thee,'

<sup>23</sup> and he sware to her — 'Whatever thou mayest ask me, I will give to thee — unto the half of my kingdom.'

<sup>24</sup> And she, having gone forth, said to her mother, 'What shall I ask for myself?' and she said, 'The head of John the Baptist;'

<sup>25</sup> and having come in immediately with haste unto the king, she asked, saying, 'I will that thou mayest give me presently, upon a plate, the head of John the Baptist.'

<sup>26</sup> And the king — made very sorrowful — because of the oaths and of those reclining (at meat) with him, would not put her away,

<sup>27</sup> and immediately the king having sent a guardsman, did command his head to be brought,

<sup>28</sup> and he having gone, beheaded him in the prison, and brought his head upon a plate, and did give it to the damsel, and the damsel did give it to her mother;

<sup>29</sup> and having heard, his disciples came and took up his corpse, and laid it in the tomb.

<sup>30</sup> And the apostles are gathered together unto Jesus, and they told him all, and how many things they did, and how many things they taught,

<sup>31</sup> and he said to them, 'Come ye yourselves apart to a desert place, and rest a little,' for those coming and those going were many, and not even to eat had they opportunity, <sup>32</sup> and they went away to a desert place, in the boat, by themselves.

<sup>33</sup> And the multitudes saw them going away, and many recognised him, and by land from all the cities they ran thither, and went before them, and came together to him,

<sup>34</sup> and having come forth, Jesus saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion on them, that they were as sheep not having a shepherd, and he began to teach many things.

<sup>35</sup> And now the hour being advanced, his disciples having come near to him, say, — 'The place is desolate, and the hour is now advanced,

<sup>36</sup> let them away, that, having gone away to the surrounding fields and villages, they may buy to themselves loaves, for what they may eat they have not.'

<sup>37</sup> And he answering said to them, 'Give ye them to eat,' and they say to him, 'Having gone away, may we buy two hundred denaries' worth of loaves, and give to them to eat?'

<sup>38</sup> And he saith to them, 'How many loaves have ye? go and see;' and having known, they say, 'Five, and two fishes.'

<sup>39</sup> And he commanded them to make all recline in companies upon the green grass, <sup>40</sup> and they sat down in squares, by hundreds, and by fifties.

<sup>41</sup> And having taken the five loaves and the two fishes, having looked up to the heaven, he blessed, and brake the loaves, and was giving to his disciples, that they may set before them, and the two fishes divided he to all,

<sup>42</sup> and they did all eat, and were filled,

<sup>43</sup> and they took up of broken pieces twelve hand-baskets full, and of the fishes,

<sup>44</sup> and those eating of the loaves were about five thousand men.

<sup>45</sup> And immediately he constrained his disciples to go into the boat, and to go before to the other side, unto Bethsaida, till he may let the multitude away, <sup>46</sup> and having taken leave of them, he went away to the mountain to pray.

<sup>47</sup> And evening having come, the boat was in the midst of the sea, and he alone upon the land;

<sup>48</sup> and he saw them harassed in the rowing, for the wind was against them, and about the fourth watch of the night he doth come to them walking on the sea, and wished to pass by them.

<sup>49</sup> And they having seen him walking on the sea, thought [it] to be an apparition, and cried out,

<sup>50</sup> for they all saw him, and were troubled, and immediately he spake with them, and saith to them, 'Take courage, I am [he], be not afraid.'

<sup>51</sup> And he went up unto them to the boat, and the wind lulled, and greatly out of measure were they amazed in themselves, and were wondering,

<sup>53</sup> And having passed over, they came upon the land of Gennesaret, and drew to the shore,

<sup>54</sup> and they having come forth out of the boat, immediately having recognised him,

<sup>55</sup> having run about through all that region round about, they began upon the couches to carry about those ill, where they were hearing that he is,

<sup>56</sup> and wherever he was going, to villages, or cities, or fields, in the market-places they were laying the infirm, and were calling upon him, that they may touch if it were but the fringe of his garment, and as many as were touching him were saved.

7

<sup>3</sup> for the Pharisees, and all the Jews, if they do not wash the hands to the wrist, do not eat, holding the tradition of the elders,

<sup>4</sup> and, [coming] from the market-place, if they do not baptize themselves, they do not eat; and many other things there are that they received to hold, baptisms of cups, and pots, and brazen vessels, and couches.

<sup>5</sup> Then question him do the Pharisees and the scribes, 'Wherefore do thy disciples not walk according to the tradition of the elders, but with unwashed hands do eat the bread?'

<sup>6</sup> and he answering said to them — 'Well did Isaiah prophesy concerning you, hypocrites, as it hath been written, This people with the lips doth honour Me, and their heart is far from Me;

<sup>7</sup> and in vain do they worship Me, teaching teachings, commands of men;

<sup>8</sup> for, having put away the command of God, ye hold the tradition of men, baptisms of pots and cups; and many other such like things ye do.'

<sup>9</sup> And he said to them, 'Well do ye put away the command of God that your tradition ye may keep;

<sup>10</sup> for Moses said, Honour thy father and thy mother; and, He who is speaking evil of father or mother — let him die the death;

<sup>11</sup> and ye say, If a man may say to father or to mother, Korban (that is, a gift), [is] whatever thou mayest be profited out of mine,

<sup>12</sup> and no more do ye suffer him to do anything for his father or for his mother,

<sup>13</sup> setting aside the word of God for your tradition that ye delivered; and many such like things ye do.'

<sup>14</sup> And having called near all the multitude, he said to them, 'Hearken to me, ye all, and understand;

<sup>15</sup> there is nothing from without the man entering into him that is able to defile him, but the things coming out from him, those are the things defiling the man.

<sup>16</sup> If any hath ears to hear — let him hear.'

<sup>17</sup> And when he entered into a house from the multitude, his disciples were questioning him about the simile,

<sup>18</sup> and he saith to them, 'So also ye are without understanding! Do ye not perceive that nothing from without entering into the man is able to defile him?

<sup>19</sup> because it doth not enter into his heart, but into the belly, and into the drain it doth go out, purifying all the meats.'

<sup>21</sup> for from within, out of the heart of men, the evil reasonings do come forth, adulteries, whoredoms, murders,

<sup>24</sup> And from thence having risen, he went away to the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and having entered into the house, he wished none to know, and he was not able to be hid,

<sup>25</sup> for a woman having heard about him, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having come, fell at his feet, —

<sup>26</sup> and the woman was a Greek, a Syro-Phenician by nation — and was asking him, that the demon he may cast forth out of her daughter.

<sup>27</sup> And Jesus said to her, 'Suffer first the children to be filled, for it is not good to take the children's bread, and to cast [it] to the little dogs.'

<sup>28</sup> And she answered and saith to him, 'Yes, sir; for the little dogs also under the table do eat of the children's crumbs.'

<sup>29</sup> And he said to her, 'Because of this word go; the demon hath gone forth out of thy daughter;'

<sup>30</sup> and having come away to her house, she found the demon gone forth, and the daughter laid upon the couch.

<sup>31</sup> And again, having gone forth from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis, <sup>32</sup> and they bring to him a deaf, stuttering man, and they call on him that he may put the hand on him.

<sup>33</sup> And having taken him away from the multitude by himself, he put his fingers to his ears, and having spit, he touched his tongue,

<sup>34</sup> and having looked to the heaven, he sighed, and saith to him, 'Eph-phatha,' that is, 'Be thou opened;'

<sup>35</sup> and immediately were his ears opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he was speaking plain.

<sup>36</sup> And he charged them that they may tell no one, but the more he was charging them, the more abundantly they were proclaiming [it],

<sup>37</sup> and they were being beyond measure astonished, saying, 'Well hath he done all things; both the deaf he doth make to hear, and the dumb to speak.'

<sup>1</sup> In those days the multitude being very great, and not having what they may eat, Jesus having called near his disciples, saith to them,

<sup>2</sup> 'I have compassion upon the multitude, because now three days they do continue with me, and they have not what they may eat;

<sup>4</sup> And his disciples answered him, 'Whence shall any one be able these here to feed with bread in a wilderness?'

<sup>5</sup> And he was questioning them, 'How many loaves have ye?' and they said, 'Seven.'

<sup>6</sup> And he commanded the multitude to sit down upon the ground, and having taken the seven loaves, having given thanks, he brake, and was giving to his disciples that they may set before [them]; and they did set before the multitude.

<sup>7</sup> And they had a few small fishes, and having blessed, he said to set them also before [them];

<sup>8</sup> and they did eat and were filled, and they took up that which was over of broken pieces — seven baskets;

<sup>9</sup> and those eating were about four thousand. And he let them away,

<sup>10</sup> and immediately having entered into the boat with his disciples, he came to the parts of Dalmanutha,

<sup>11</sup> and the Pharisees came forth, and began to dispute with him, seeking from him a sign from the heaven, tempting him;

<sup>12</sup> and having sighed deeply in his spirit, he saith, 'Why doth this generation seek after a sign? Verily I say to you, no sign shall be given to this generation.'

<sup>13</sup> And having left them, having entered again into the boat, he went away to the other side;

<sup>14</sup> and they forgot to take loaves, and except one loaf they had nothing with them in the boat,

<sup>16</sup> and they were reasoning with one another, saying — 'Because we have no loaves.'

<sup>17</sup> And Jesus having known, saith to them, 'Why do ye reason, because ye have no loaves? do ye not yet perceive, nor understand, yet have ye your heart hardened?

<sup>18</sup> Having eyes, do ye not see? and having ears, do ye not hear? and do ye not remember?

<sup>19</sup> When the five loaves I did brake to the five thousand, how many hand-baskets full of broken pieces took ye up?' they say to him, 'Twelve.'

<sup>21</sup> And he said to them, 'How do ye not understand?'

<sup>22</sup> And he cometh to Bethsaida, and they bring to him one blind, and call upon him that he may touch him,

<sup>23</sup> and having taken the hand of the blind man, he led him forth without the village, and having spit on his eyes, having put [his] hands on him, he was questioning him if he doth behold anything:

<sup>24</sup> and he, having looked up, said, 'I behold men, as I see trees, walking.'

<sup>25</sup> Afterwards again he put [his] hands on his eyes, and made him look up, and he was restored, and discerned all things clearly,

<sup>26</sup> and he sent him away to his house, saying, 'Neither to the village mayest thou go, nor tell [it] to any in the village.'

<sup>27</sup> And Jesus went forth, and his disciples, to the villages of Caesarea Philippi, and in the way he was questioning his disciples, saying to them, 'Who do men say me to be?'

<sup>29</sup> And he saith to them, 'And ye — who do ye say me to be?' and Peter answering saith to him, 'Thou art the Christ.'

<sup>30</sup> And he strictly charged them that they may tell no one about it,

<sup>31</sup> and began to teach them, that it behoveth the Son of Man to suffer many things, and to be rejected by the elders, and chief priests, and scribes, and to be killed, and after three days to rise again;

<sup>32</sup> and openly he was speaking the word. And Peter having taken him aside, began to rebuke him,

<sup>33</sup> and he, having turned, and having looked on his disciples, rebuked Peter, saying, 'Get behind me, Adversary, because thou dost not mind the things of God, but the things of men.'

<sup>34</sup> And having called near the multitude, with his disciples, he said to them, 'Whoever doth will to come after me — let him disown himself, and take up his cross, and follow me;

<sup>35</sup> for whoever may will to save his life shall lose it; and whoever may lose his life for my sake and for the good news' sake, he shall save it;

<sup>36</sup> for what shall it profit a man, if he may gain the whole world, and forfeit his life?

<sup>37</sup> Or what shall a man give as an exchange for his life?

<sup>38</sup> for whoever may be ashamed of me, and of my words, in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of Man also shall be ashamed of him, when he may come in the glory of his Father, with the holy messengers.'

9

<sup>1</sup> And he said to them, 'Verily I say to you, That there are certain of those standing here, who may not taste of death till they see the reign of God having come in power.'

<sup>2</sup> And after six days doth Jesus take Peter, and James, and John, and bringeth them up to a high mount by themselves, alone, and he was transfigured before them, <sup>3</sup> and his garments became glittering, white exceedingly, as snow, so as a fuller upon the earth is not able to whiten [them].

<sup>4</sup> And there appeared to them Elijah with Moses, and they were talking with Jesus.

<sup>5</sup> And Peter answering saith to Jesus, 'Rabbi, it is good to us to be here; and we may make three booths, for thee one, and for Moses one, and for Elijah one:'

<sup>6</sup> for he was not knowing what he might say, for they were greatly afraid.

<sup>7</sup> And there came a cloud overshadowing them, and there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, 'This is My Son — the Beloved, hear ye him;'

<sup>8</sup> and suddenly, having looked around, they saw no one any more, but Jesus only with themselves.

<sup>9</sup> And as they are coming down from the mount, he charged them that they may declare to no one the things that they saw, except when the Son of Man may rise out of the dead;

<sup>10</sup> and the thing they kept to themselves, questioning together what the rising out of the dead is.

<sup>11</sup> And they were questioning him, saying, that the scribes say that Elijah it behoveth to come first.

<sup>12</sup> And he answering said to them, 'Elijah indeed, having come first, doth restore all things; and how hath it been written concerning the Son of Man, that many things he may suffer, and be set at nought?

<sup>13</sup> But I say to you, That also Elijah hath come, and they did to him what they willed, as it hath been written of him.'

<sup>14</sup> And having come unto the disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and scribes questioning with them,

<sup>15</sup> and immediately, all the multitude having seen him, were amazed, and running near, were saluting him.

<sup>17</sup> and one out of the multitude answering said, 'Teacher, I brought my son unto thee, having a dumb spirit;

<sup>18</sup> and wherever it doth seize him, it doth tear him, and he foameth, and gnasheth his teeth, and pineth away; and I spake to thy disciples that they may cast it out, and they were not able.'

<sup>19</sup> And he answering him, said, 'O generation unbelieving, till when shall I be with you? till when shall I suffer you? bring him unto me;'

<sup>20</sup> and they brought him unto him, and he having seen him, immediately the spirit tare him, and he, having fallen upon the earth, was wallowing — foaming.

<sup>21</sup> And he questioned his father, 'How long time is it since this came to him?' and he said, 'From childhood,

<sup>22</sup> and many times also it cast him into fire, and into water, that it might destroy him; but if thou art able to do anything, help us, having compassion on us.'

<sup>23</sup> And Jesus said to him, 'If thou art able to believe! all things are possible to the one that is believing;'

<sup>24</sup> and immediately the father of the child, having cried out, with tears said, 'I believe, sir; be helping mine unbelief.'

<sup>25</sup> Jesus having seen that a multitude doth run together, rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it, 'Spirit — dumb and deaf — I charge thee, come forth out of him, and no more thou mayest enter into him;'

<sup>26</sup> and having cried, and rent him much, it came forth, and he became as dead, so that many said that he was dead,

<sup>27</sup> but Jesus, having taken him by the hand, lifted him up, and he arose.

<sup>28</sup> And he having come into the house, his disciples were questioning him by himself — 'Why were we not able to cast it forth?'

<sup>29</sup> And he said to them, 'This kind is able to come forth with nothing except with prayer and fasting.'

<sup>30</sup> And having gone forth thence, they were passing through Galilee, and he did not wish that any may know,

<sup>31</sup> for he was teaching his disciples, and he said to them, 'The Son of Man is being delivered to the hands of men, and they shall kill him, and having been killed the third day he shall rise,'

<sup>32</sup> but they were not understanding the saying, and they were afraid to question him.

<sup>33</sup> And he came to Capernaum, and being in the house, he was questioning them, 'What were ye reasoning in the way among yourselves?'

<sup>34</sup> and they were silent, for with one another they did reason in the way who is greater;

<sup>35</sup> and having sat down he called the twelve, and he saith to them, 'If any doth will to be first, he shall be last of all, and minister of all.'

<sup>36</sup> And having taken a child, he set him in the midst of them, and having taken him in his arms, said to them,

<sup>37</sup> 'Whoever may receive one of such children in my name, doth receive me, and whoever may receive me, doth not receive me, but Him who sent me.'

<sup>38</sup> And John did answer him, saying, 'Teacher, we saw a certain one in thy name casting out demons, who doth not follow us, and we forbade him, because he doth not follow us.'

<sup>39</sup> And Jesus said, 'Forbid him not, for there is no one who shall do a mighty work in my name, and shall be able readily to speak evil of me:

<sup>40</sup> for he who is not against us is for us;

<sup>41</sup> for whoever may give you to drink a cup of water in my name, because ye are Christ's, verily I say to you, he may not lose his reward;

<sup>42</sup> and whoever may cause to stumble one of the little ones believing in me, better is it for him if a millstone is hanged about his neck, and he hath been cast into the sea.

<sup>43</sup> 'And if thy hand may cause thee to stumble, cut it off; it is better for thee maimed to enter into the life, than having the two hands, to go away to the gehenna, to the fire — the unquenchable —

<sup>45</sup> 'And if thy foot may cause thee to stumble, cut it off; it is better for thee to enter into the life lame, than having the two feet to be cast to the gehenna, to the fire — the unquenchable —

<sup>47</sup> And if thine eye may cause thee to stumble, cast it out; it is better for thee one-eyed to enter into the reign of God, than having two eyes, to be cast to the gehenna of the fire —

<sup>50</sup> The salt [is] good, but if the salt may become saltless, in what will ye season [it]? Have in yourselves salt, and have peace in one another.'

10

<sup>1</sup> And having risen thence, he doth come to the coasts of Judea, through the other side of the Jordan, and again do multitudes come together unto him, and, as he had been accustomed, again he was teaching them.

<sup>2</sup> And the Pharisees, having come near, questioned him, if it is lawful for a husband to put away a wife, tempting him,

<sup>3</sup> and he answering said to them, 'What did Moses command you?'

<sup>4</sup> and they said, 'Moses suffered to write a bill of divorce, and to put away.'

<sup>5</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'For the stiffness of your heart he wrote you this command,

<sup>6</sup> but from the beginning of the creation, a male and a female God did make them;

<sup>7</sup> on this account shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave unto his wife,

<sup>8</sup> and they shall be — the two — for one flesh; so that they are no more two, but one flesh;

- <sup>10</sup> And in the house again his disciples of the same thing questioned him,
<sup>11</sup> and he saith to them, 'Whoever may put away his wife, and may marry another, doth commit adultery against her;
<sup>12</sup> and if a woman may put away her husband, and is married to another, she committeth adultery.'
- <sup>13</sup> And they were bringing to him children, that he might touch them, and the disciples were rebuking those bringing them,
<sup>14</sup> and Jesus having seen, was much displeased, and he said to them, 'Suffer the children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the reign of God;
<sup>15</sup> verily I say to you, whoever may not receive the reign of God, as a child – he may not enter into it;'
<sup>16</sup> and having taken them in his arms, having put [his] hands upon them, he was blessing them.
- <sup>17</sup> And as he is going forth into the way, one having run and having kneeled to him, was questioning him, 'Good teacher, what may I do, that life age-during I may inherit?'
- <sup>18</sup> And Jesus said to him, 'Why me dost thou call good? no one [is] good except One – God;
- <sup>20</sup> And he answering said to him, 'Teacher, all these did I keep from my youth.'
- <sup>21</sup> And Jesus having looked upon him, did love him, and said to him, 'One thing thou dost lack; go away, whatever thou hast – sell, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come, be following me, having taken up the cross.'
- <sup>22</sup> And he – gloomy at the word – went away sorrowing, for he was having many possessions.
- <sup>23</sup> And Jesus having looked round, saith to his disciples, 'How hardly shall they who have riches enter into the reign of God!'
- <sup>24</sup> And the disciples were astonished at his words, and Jesus again answering saith to them, 'Children, how hard is it to those trusting on the riches to enter into the reign of God!
<sup>25</sup> It is easier for a camel through the eye of the needle to enter, than for a rich man to enter into the reign of God.'
- <sup>26</sup> And they were astonished beyond measure, saying unto themselves, 'And who is able to be saved?'
- <sup>27</sup> And Jesus, having looked upon them, saith, 'With men it is impossible, but not with God; for all things are possible with God.'
- <sup>28</sup> And Peter began to say to him, 'Lo, we left all, and we followed thee.'
- <sup>29</sup> And Jesus answering said, 'Verily I say to you, there is no one who left house, or brothers, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or fields, for my sake, and for the good news', <sup>30</sup> who may not receive an hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brothers, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and fields, with persecutions, and in the age that is coming, life age-during;
<sup>31</sup> and many first shall be last, and the last first.'
- <sup>32</sup> And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus was going before them, and they were amazed, and following they were afraid. And having again taken the twelve, he began to tell them the things about to happen to him,

<sup>33</sup> — 'Lo, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man shall be delivered to the chief priests, and to the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the nations,

<sup>34</sup> and they shall mock him, and scourge him, and spit on him, and kill him, and the third day he shall rise again.'

<sup>35</sup> And there come near to him James and John, the sons of Zebedee, saying, 'Teacher, we wish that whatever we may ask for ourselves, thou mayest do for us;'

<sup>36</sup> and he said to them, 'What do ye wish me to do for you?'

<sup>37</sup> and they said to him, 'Grant to us that, one on thy right hand and one on thy left, we may sit in thy glory;'

<sup>38</sup> and Jesus said to them, 'Ye have not known what ye ask; are ye able to drink of the cup that I drink of, and with the baptism that I am baptized with — to be baptized?'

<sup>39</sup> And they said to him, 'We are able;' and Jesus said to them, 'Of the cup indeed that I drink of, ye shall drink, and with the baptism that I am baptized with, ye shall be baptized;

<sup>40</sup> but to sit on my right and on my left, is not mine to give, but — to those for whom it hath been prepared.'

<sup>41</sup> And the ten having heard, began to be much displeased at James and John,

<sup>42</sup> but Jesus having called them near, saith to them, 'Ye have known that they who are considered to rule the nations do exercise lordship over them, and their great ones do exercise authority upon them;

<sup>43</sup> but not so shall it be among you; but whoever may will to become great among you, he shall be your minister,

<sup>44</sup> and whoever of you may will to become first, he shall be servant of all;

<sup>45</sup> for even the Son of Man came not to be ministered to, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.'

<sup>46</sup> And they come to Jericho, and as he is going forth from Jericho, with his disciples and a great multitude, a son of Timaeus — Bartimaeus the blind — was sitting beside the way begging,

<sup>47</sup> and having heard that it is Jesus the Nazarene, he began to cry out, and to say, 'The Son of David — Jesus! deal kindly with me;'

<sup>48</sup> and many were rebuking him, that he might keep silent, but the more abundantly he cried out, 'Son of David, deal kindly with me.'

<sup>49</sup> And Jesus having stood, he commanded him to be called, and they call the blind man, saying to him, 'Take courage, rise, he doth call thee;'

<sup>50</sup> and he, having cast away his garment, having risen, did come unto Jesus.

<sup>51</sup> And answering, Jesus saith to him, 'What wilt thou I may do to thee?' and the blind man said to him, 'Rabboni, that I may see again;'

<sup>52</sup> and Jesus said to him, 'Go, thy faith hath saved thee:' and immediately he saw again, and was following Jesus in the way.

11

<sup>2</sup> and saith to them, 'Go away to the village that is over-against you, and immediately, entering into it, ye shall find a colt tied, on which no one of men hath sat, having loosed it, bring [it]:'

<sup>3</sup> and if any one may say to you, Why do ye this? say ye that the lord hath need of it, and immediately he will send it hither.'

<sup>4</sup> And they went away, and found the colt tied at the door without, by the two ways, and they loose it,

<sup>5</sup> and certain of those standing there said to them, 'What do ye — loosing the colt?'

<sup>6</sup> and they said to them as Jesus commanded, and they suffered them.

<sup>7</sup> And they brought the colt unto Jesus, and did cast upon it their garments, and he sat upon it, <sup>8</sup> and many did spread their garments in the way, and others were cutting down branches from the trees, and were strewing in the way.

<sup>9</sup> And those going before and those following were crying out, saying, 'Hosanna! blessed [is] he who is coming in the name of the Lord;

<sup>10</sup> blessed is the coming reign, in the name of the Lord, of our father David; Hosanna in the highest.'

<sup>11</sup> And Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple, and having looked round on all things, it being now evening, he went forth to Bethany with the twelve.

<sup>12</sup> And on the morrow, they having come forth from Bethany, he hungered,

<sup>13</sup> and having seen a fig-tree afar off having leaves, he came, if perhaps he shall find anything in it, and having come to it, he found nothing except leaves, for it was not a time of figs,

<sup>14</sup> and Jesus answering said to it, 'No more from thee — to the age — may any eat fruit;' and his disciples were hearing.

<sup>15</sup> And they come to Jerusalem, and Jesus having gone into the temple, began to cast forth those selling and buying in the temple, and the tables of the money-changers and the seats of those selling the doves, he overthrew,

<sup>16</sup> and he did not suffer that any might bear a vessel through the temple,

<sup>17</sup> and he was teaching, saying to them, 'Hath it not been written — My house a house of prayer shall be called for all the nations, and ye did make it a den of robbers?'

<sup>18</sup> And the scribes and the chief priests heard, and they were seeking how they shall destroy him, for they were afraid of him, because all the multitude was astonished at his teaching;

<sup>19</sup> and when evening came, he was going forth without the city.

<sup>20</sup> And in the morning, passing by, they saw the fig-tree having been dried up from the roots,

<sup>22</sup> And Jesus answering saith to them, 'Have faith of God;

<sup>23</sup> for verily I say to you, that whoever may say to this mount, Be taken up, and be cast into the sea, and may not doubt in his heart, but may believe that the things that he saith do come to pass, it shall be to him whatever he may say.

<sup>24</sup> Because of this I say to you, all whatever — praying — ye do ask, believe that ye receive, and it shall be to you.

<sup>25</sup> 'And whenever ye may stand praying, forgive, if ye have anything against any one, that your Father also who is in the heavens may forgive you your trespasses;

<sup>26</sup> and, if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father who is in the heavens forgive your trespasses.'

<sup>27</sup> And they come again to Jerusalem, and in the temple, as he is walking, there come unto him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders,

<sup>28</sup> and they say to him, 'By what authority dost thou these things? and who gave thee this authority that these things thou mayest do?'

<sup>29</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'I will question you — I also — one word; and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things;

<sup>30</sup> the baptism of John — from heaven was it? or from men? answer me.'

<sup>31</sup> And they were reasoning with themselves, saying, 'If we may say, From heaven, he will say, Wherefore, then, did ye not believe him?'

<sup>32</sup> But if we may say, From men,' — they were fearing the people, for all were holding John that he was indeed a prophet;

<sup>33</sup> and answering they say to Jesus, 'We have not known;' and Jesus answering saith to them, 'Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.'

12

<sup>1</sup> And he began to speak to them in similes: 'A man planted a vineyard, and put a hedge around, and digged an under-wine-vat, and built a tower, and gave it out to husbandmen, and went abroad;

<sup>2</sup> and he sent unto the husbandmen at the due time a servant, that from the husbandmen he may receive from the fruit of the vineyard,

<sup>3</sup> and they, having taken him, did severely beat [him], and did send him away empty.

<sup>4</sup> And again he sent unto them another servant, and at that one having cast stones, they wounded [him] in the head, and sent away — dishonoured.

<sup>5</sup> And again he sent another, and that one they killed; and many others, some beating, and some killing.

<sup>6</sup> Having yet therefore one son — his beloved — he sent also him unto them last, saying — They will reverence my son;

<sup>7</sup> and those husbandmen said among themselves — This is the heir, come, we may kill him, and ours shall be the inheritance;

<sup>8</sup> and having taken him, they did kill, and cast [him] forth without the vineyard.

<sup>9</sup> What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard to others.

<sup>10</sup> And this Writing did ye not read: A stone that the builders rejected, it did become the head of a corner:

<sup>11</sup> from the Lord was this, and it is wonderful in our eyes.'

<sup>12</sup> And they were seeking to lay hold on him, and they feared the multitude, for they knew that against them he spake the simile, and having left him, they went away;

<sup>13</sup> and they send unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, that they may ensnare him in discourse,

<sup>14</sup> and they having come, say to him, 'Teacher, we have known that thou art true, and thou art not caring for any one, for thou dost not look to the face of men, but in truth the way of God dost teach; is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar or not? may we give, or may we not give?'

<sup>15</sup> And he, knowing their hypocrisy, said to them, 'Why me do ye tempt? bring me a denary, that I may see;'

<sup>16</sup> and they brought, and he saith to them, 'Whose [is] this image, and the inscription?' and they said to him, 'Caesar's;'

<sup>17</sup> and Jesus answering said to them, 'Give back the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God;' and they did wonder at him.

<sup>18</sup> And the Sadducees come unto him, who say there is not a rising again, and they questioned him, saying,

<sup>19</sup> 'Teacher, Moses wrote to us, that if any one's brother may die, and may leave a wife, and may leave no children, that his brother may take his wife, and raise up seed to his brother.

<sup>20</sup> 'There were then seven brothers, and the first took a wife, and dying, he left no seed;

<sup>21</sup> and the second took her, and died, neither left he seed, and the third in like manner,

<sup>22</sup> and the seven took her, and left no seed, last of all died also the woman;

<sup>23</sup> in the rising again, then, whenever they may rise, of which of them shall she be wife — for the seven had her as wife?'

<sup>24</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'Do ye not because of this go astray, not knowing the Writings, nor the power of God?

<sup>25</sup> for when they may rise out of the dead, they neither marry nor are they given in marriage, but are as messengers who are in the heavens.

<sup>26</sup> 'And concerning the dead, that they rise: have ye not read in the Book of Moses (at The Bush), how God spake to him, saying, I [am] the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob;

<sup>27</sup> he is not the God of dead men, but a God of living men; ye then go greatly astray.'

<sup>28</sup> And one of the scribes having come near, having heard them disputing, knowing that he answered them well, questioned him, 'Which is the first command of all?'

<sup>29</sup> and Jesus answered him — 'The first of all the commands [is], Hear, O Israel, the Lord is our God, the Lord is one;

<sup>30</sup> and thou shalt love the Lord thy God out of all thy heart, and out of thy soul, and out of all thine understanding, and out of all thy strength — this [is] the first command;

<sup>31</sup> and the second [is] like [it], this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself; — greater than these there is no other command.'

<sup>32</sup> And the scribe said to him, 'Well, Teacher, in truth thou hast spoken that there is one God, and there is none other but He;

<sup>33</sup> and to love Him out of all the heart, and out of all the understanding, and out of all the soul, and out of all the strength, and to love one's neighbour as one's self, is more than all the whole burnt-offerings and the sacrifices.'

<sup>34</sup> And Jesus, having seen him that he answered with understanding, said to him, 'Thou art not far from the reign of God;' and no one any more durst question him.

<sup>35</sup> And Jesus answering said, teaching in the temple, 'How say the scribes that the Christ is son of David?

<sup>36</sup> for David himself said in the Holy Spirit, The Lord said to my lord, Sit thou on My right hand, till I place thine enemies — thy footstool;

<sup>37</sup> therefore David himself saith of him Lord, and whence is he his son?' And the great multitude were hearing him gladly,

<sup>38</sup> and he was saying to them in his teaching, 'Beware of the scribes, who will in long robes to walk, and love salutations in the market-places,

<sup>39</sup> and first seats in the synagogues, and first couches in suppers,

<sup>40</sup> who are devouring the widows' houses, and for a pretence are making long prayers; these shall receive more abundant judgment.'

<sup>41</sup> And Jesus having sat down over-against the treasury, was beholding how the multitude do put brass into the treasury, and many rich were putting in much,

<sup>42</sup> and having come, a poor widow did put in two mites, which are a farthing.

<sup>43</sup> And having called near his disciples, he saith to them, 'Verily I say to you, that this poor widow hath put in more than all those putting into the treasury;

<sup>44</sup> for all, out of their abundance, put in, but she, out of her want, all that she had put in — all her living.'

<sup>2</sup> and Jesus answering said to him, 'Seest thou these great buildings? there may not be left a stone upon a stone, that may not be thrown down.'

<sup>3</sup> And as he is sitting at the mount of the Olives, over-against the temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, were questioning him by himself,

<sup>4</sup> 'Tell us when these things shall be? and what [is] the sign when all these may be about to be fulfilled?'

<sup>5</sup> And Jesus answering them, began to say, 'Take heed lest any one may lead you astray,

<sup>6</sup> for many shall come in my name, saying — I am [he], and many they shall lead astray;

<sup>7</sup> and when ye may hear of wars and reports of wars, be not troubled, for these behove to be, but the end [is] not yet;

<sup>8</sup> for nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles; beginnings of sorrows [are] these.

<sup>9</sup> 'And take ye heed to yourselves, for they shall deliver you up to sanhedrims, and to synagogues, ye shall be beaten, and before governors and kings ye shall be set for my sake, for a testimony to them;

<sup>10</sup> and to all the nations it behoveth first that the good news be proclaimed.

<sup>11</sup> 'And when they may lead you, delivering up, be not anxious beforehand what ye may speak, nor premeditate, but whatever may be given to you in that hour, that speak ye, for it is not ye who are speaking, but the Holy Spirit.

<sup>12</sup> 'And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and father child, and children shall rise up against parents, and shall put them to death,

<sup>13</sup> and ye shall be hated by all because of my name, but he who hath endured to the end — he shall be saved.

<sup>14</sup> 'And when ye may see the abomination of the desolation, that was spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (whoever is reading let him understand), then those in Judea, let them flee to the mountains;

<sup>15</sup> and he upon the house-top, let him not come down to the house, nor come in to take anything out of his house;

<sup>16</sup> and he who is in the field, let him not turn to the things behind, to take up his garment.

<sup>17</sup> 'And woe to those with child, and to those giving suck, in those days;

<sup>18</sup> and pray ye that your flight may not be in winter,

<sup>19</sup> for those days shall be tribulation, such as hath not been from the beginning of the creation that God created, till now, and may not be;

<sup>20</sup> and if the Lord did not shorten the days, no flesh had been saved; but because of the chosen, whom He did choose to Himself, He did shorten the days.

<sup>21</sup> 'And then, if any may say to you, Lo, here [is] the Christ, or, Lo, there, ye may not believe;

<sup>22</sup> for there shall rise false Christs and false prophets, and they shall give signs and wonders, to seduce, if possible, also the chosen;

<sup>23</sup> and ye, take heed; lo, I have foretold you all things.

<sup>24</sup> 'But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, <sup>25</sup> and the stars of the heaven shall be falling, and the powers that are in the heavens shall be shaken.

<sup>26</sup> 'And then they shall see the Son of Man coming in clouds with much power and glory, <sup>27</sup> and then he shall send his messengers, and gather together his chosen from the four winds, from the end of the earth unto the end of heaven.

<sup>28</sup> 'And from the fig-tree learn ye the simile: when the branch may already become tender, and may put forth the leaves, ye know that nigh is the summer;

<sup>29</sup> so ye, also, when these ye may see coming to pass, ye know that it is nigh, at the doors.

<sup>30</sup> Verily I say to you, that this generation may not pass away till all these things may come to pass;

<sup>31</sup> the heaven and the earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

<sup>32</sup> 'And concerning that day and the hour no one hath known — not even the messengers who are in the heaven, not even the Son — except the Father.

<sup>33</sup> Take heed, watch and pray, for ye have not known when the time is;

<sup>34</sup> as a man who is gone abroad, having left his house, and given to his servants the authority, and to each one his work, did command also the porter that he may watch;

<sup>35</sup> watch ye, therefore, for ye have not known when the lord of the house doth come, at even, or at midnight, or at cock-crowing, or at the morning;

<sup>36</sup> lest, having come suddenly, he may find you sleeping;

14

<sup>1</sup> And the passover and the unleavened food were after two days, and the chief priests and the scribes were seeking how, by guile, having taken hold of him, they might kill him;

<sup>2</sup> and they said, 'Not in the feast, lest there shall be a tumult of the people.'

<sup>4</sup> and there were certain much displeased within themselves, and saying, 'For what hath this waste of the ointment been made?

<sup>5</sup> for this could have been sold for more than three hundred denaries, and given to the poor;' and they were murmuring at her.

<sup>6</sup> And Jesus said, 'Let her alone; why are ye giving her trouble? a good work she wrought on me;

<sup>7</sup> for the poor always ye have with you, and whenever ye may will ye are able to do them good, but me ye have not always;

<sup>8</sup> what she could she did, she anticipated to anoint my body for the embalming.

<sup>9</sup> Verily I say to you, wherever this good news may be proclaimed in the whole world, what also this woman did shall be spoken of — for a memorial of her.'

<sup>11</sup> and having heard, they were glad, and promised to give him money, and he was seeking how, conveniently, he might deliver him up.

<sup>12</sup> And the first day of the unleavened food, when they were killing the passover, his disciples say to him, 'Where wilt thou, [that,] having gone, we may prepare, that thou mayest eat the passover?'

<sup>13</sup> And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith to them, 'Go ye away to the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water, follow him;

<sup>14</sup> and wherever he may go in, say ye to the master of the house — The Teacher saith, Where is the guest-chamber, where the passover, with my disciples, I may eat?

<sup>15</sup> and he will shew you a large upper room, furnished, prepared — there make ready for us.'

<sup>16</sup> And his disciples went forth, and came to the city, and found as he said to them, and they made ready the passover.

<sup>17</sup> And evening having come, he cometh with the twelve,

<sup>18</sup> and as they are reclining, and eating, Jesus said, 'Verily I say to you — one of you, who is eating with me — shall deliver me up.'

<sup>19</sup> And they began to be sorrowful, and to say to him, one by one, 'Is it I?' and another, 'Is it I?'

<sup>20</sup> And he answering said to them, 'One of the twelve who is dipping with me in the dish;

<sup>21</sup> the Son of Man doth indeed go, as it hath been written concerning him, but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is delivered up; good were it to him if that man had not been born.'

<sup>22</sup> And as they are eating, Jesus having taken bread, having blessed, brake, and gave to them, and said, 'Take, eat; this is my body.'

<sup>23</sup> And having taken the cup, having given thanks, he gave to them, and they drank of it — all;

<sup>24</sup> and he said to them, 'This is my blood of the new covenant, which for many is being poured out;

<sup>25</sup> verily I say to you, that no more may I drink of the produce of the vine till that day when I may drink it new in the reign of God.'

<sup>26</sup> And having sung an hymn, they went forth to the mount of the Olives,

<sup>27</sup> and Jesus saith to them — 'All ye shall be stumbled at me this night, because it hath been written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered abroad,

<sup>28</sup> but after my having risen I will go before you to Galilee.'

<sup>29</sup> And Peter said to him, 'And if all shall be stumbled, yet not I;'

<sup>30</sup> And Jesus said to him, 'Verily I say to thee, that to-day, this night, before a cock shall crow twice, thrice thou shalt deny me.'

<sup>31</sup> And he spake the more vehemently, 'If it may be necessary for me to die with thee — I will in no wise deny thee;' and in like manner also said they all.

<sup>32</sup> And they come to a spot, the name of which [is] Gethsemane, and he saith to his disciples, 'Sit ye here till I may pray;'

<sup>33</sup> and he taketh Peter, and James, and John with him, and began to be amazed, and to be very heavy,

<sup>34</sup> and he saith to them, 'Exceeding sorrowful is my soul — to death; remain here, and watch.'

<sup>35</sup> And having gone forward a little, he fell upon the earth, and was praying, that, if it be possible the hour may pass from him,

<sup>36</sup> and he said, 'Abba, Father; all things are possible to Thee; make this cup pass from me; but, not what I will, but what Thou.'

<sup>37</sup> And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith to Peter, 'Simon, thou dost sleep! thou wast not able to watch one hour!

<sup>39</sup> And again having gone away, he prayed, the same word saying;

<sup>40</sup> and having returned, he found them again sleeping, for their eyes were heavy, and they had not known what they might answer him.

<sup>41</sup> And he cometh the third time, and saith to them, 'Sleep on henceforth, and rest — it is over; the hour did come; lo, the Son of Man is delivered up to the hands of the sinful;

<sup>42</sup> rise, we may go, lo, he who is delivering me up hath come nigh.'

<sup>43</sup> And immediately — while he is yet speaking — cometh near Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude, with swords and sticks, from the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders;

<sup>44</sup> and he who is delivering him up had given a token to them, saying, 'Whomsoever I shall kiss, he it is, lay hold on him, and lead him away safely,'

<sup>45</sup> and having come, immediately, having gone near him, he saith, 'Rabbi, Rabbi,' and kissed him.

<sup>46</sup> And they laid on him their hands, and kept hold on him;

<sup>48</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'As against a robber ye came out, with swords and sticks, to take me!

<sup>49</sup> daily I was with you in the temple teaching, and ye did not lay hold on me — but that the Writings may be fulfilled.'

<sup>53</sup> And they led away Jesus unto the chief priest, and come together to him do all the chief priests, and the elders, and the scribes;

<sup>54</sup> and Peter afar off did follow him, to the inside of the hall of the chief priest, and he was sitting with the officers, and warming himself near the fire.

<sup>55</sup> And the chief priests and all the sanhedrim were seeking against Jesus testimony — to put him to death, and they were not finding, <sup>56</sup> for many were bearing false testimony against him, and their testimonies were not alike.

<sup>57</sup> And certain having risen up, were bearing false testimony against him, saying —

<sup>58</sup> 'We heard him saying — I will throw down this sanctuary made with hands, and by three days, another made without hands I will build;'

<sup>61</sup> and he was keeping silent, and did not answer anything. Again the chief priest was questioning him, and saith to him, 'Art thou the Christ — the Son of the Blessed?'

<sup>62</sup> and Jesus said, 'I am; and ye shall see the Son of Man sitting on the right hand of the power, and coming with the clouds, of the heaven.'

<sup>63</sup> And the chief priest, having rent his garments, saith, 'What need have we yet of witnesses?'

<sup>64</sup> Ye heard the evil speaking, what appeareth to you?' and they all condemned him to be worthy of death,

<sup>65</sup> and certain began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say to him, 'Prophecy;' and the officers were striking him with their palms.

<sup>66</sup> And Peter being in the hall beneath, there doth come one of the maids of the chief priest,

<sup>67</sup> and having seen Peter warming himself, having looked on him, she said, 'And thou wast with Jesus of Nazareth!'

<sup>68</sup> and he denied, saying, 'I have not known [him], neither do I understand what thou sayest;' and he went forth without to the porch, and a cock crew.

<sup>69</sup> And the maid having seen him again, began to say to those standing near — 'This is of them;'

<sup>70</sup> and he was again denying. And after a little again, those standing near said to Peter, 'Truly thou art of them, for thou also art a Galilean, and thy speech is alike;'

<sup>71</sup> and he began to anathematize, and to swear — 'I have not known this man of whom ye speak;'

<sup>72</sup> and a second time a cock crew, and Peter remembered the saying that Jesus said to him — 'Before a cock crow twice, thou mayest deny me thrice;' and having thought thereon — he was weeping.

15

<sup>1</sup> And immediately, in the morning, the chief priests having made a consultation, with the elders, and scribes, and the whole sanhedrim, having bound Jesus, did lead away, and delivered [him] to Pilate;

<sup>6</sup> And at every feast he was releasing to them one prisoner, whomsoever they were asking;

<sup>7</sup> and there was [one] named Barabbas, bound with those making insurrection with him, who had in the insurrection committed murder.

<sup>8</sup> And the multitude having cried out, began to ask for themselves as he was always doing to them,

<sup>9</sup> and Pilate answered them, saying, 'Will ye [that] I shall release to you the king of the Jews?'

<sup>10</sup> for he knew that because of envy the chief priests had delivered him up;

<sup>11</sup> and the chief priests did move the multitude, that he might rather release Barabbas to them.

<sup>12</sup> And Pilate answering, again said to them, 'What, then, will ye [that] I shall do to him whom ye call king of the Jews?'

<sup>14</sup> And Pilate said to them, 'Why – what evil did he?' and they cried out the more vehemently, 'Crucify him;'

<sup>15</sup> and Pilate, wishing to content the multitude, released to them Barabbas, and delivered up Jesus – having scourged [him] – that he might be crucified.

<sup>16</sup> And the soldiers led him away into the hall, which is Praetorium, and call together the whole band,

<sup>17</sup> and clothe him with purple, and having plaited a crown of thorns, they put [it] on him,

<sup>19</sup> And they were smiting him on the head with a reed, and were spitting on him, and having bent the knee, were bowing to him,

<sup>20</sup> and when they [had] mocked him, they took the purple from off him, and clothed him in his own garments, and they led him forth, that they may crucify him.

<sup>21</sup> And they impress a certain one passing by – Simon, a Cyrenian, coming from the field, the father of Alexander and Rufus – that he may bear his cross,

<sup>22</sup> and they bring him to the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, 'Place of a skull;'

<sup>23</sup> and they were giving him to drink wine mingled with myrrh, and he did not receive.

<sup>24</sup> And having crucified him, they were dividing his garments, casting a lot upon them, what each may take;

<sup>25</sup> and it was the third hour, and they crucified him;

<sup>28</sup> and the Writing was fulfilled that is saying, 'And with lawless ones he was numbered.'

<sup>29</sup> And those passing by were speaking evil of him, shaking their heads, and saying, 'Ah, the thrower down of the sanctuary, and in three days the builder!

<sup>31</sup> And in like manner also the chief priests, mocking with one another, with the scribes, said, 'Others he saved; himself he is not able to save.'

<sup>32</sup> The Christ! the king of Israel – let him come down now from the cross, that we may see and believe;' and those crucified with him were reproaching him.

<sup>33</sup> And the sixth hour having come, darkness came over the whole land till the ninth hour,

<sup>34</sup> and at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a great voice, saying, 'Eloi, Eloi, lamma sabachthani?' which is, being interpreted, 'My God, my God, why didst Thou forsake me?'

<sup>35</sup> And certain of those standing by, having heard, said, 'Lo, Elijah he doth call;'

<sup>36</sup> and one having run, and having filled a sponge with vinegar, having put [it] also on a reed, was giving him to drink, saying, 'Let alone, let us see if Elijah doth come to take him down.'

<sup>38</sup> and the veil of the sanctuary was rent in two, from top to bottom,
<sup>39</sup> and the centurion who was standing over-against him, having seen that, having so cried out, he yielded the spirit, said, 'Truly this man was Son of God.'
<sup>40</sup> And there were also women afar off beholding, among whom was also Mary the Magdalene, and Mary of James the less, and of Joses, and Salome,
<sup>41</sup> (who also, when he was in Galilee, were following him, and were ministering to him,) and many other women who came up with him to Jerusalem.
<sup>42</sup> And now evening having come, seeing it was the preparation, that is, the fore-sabbath,
<sup>43</sup> Joseph of Arimathea, an honourable counsellor, who also himself was waiting for the reign of God, came, boldly entered in unto Pilate, and asked the body of Jesus.
<sup>44</sup> And Pilate wondered if he were already dead, and having called near the centurion, did question him if he were long dead,
<sup>45</sup> and having known [it] from the centurion, he granted the body to Joseph.
<sup>46</sup> And he, having brought fine linen, and having taken him down, wrapped him in the linen, and laid him in a sepulchre that had been hewn out of a rock, and he rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulchre,
<sup>47</sup> and Mary the Magdalene, and Mary of Joses, were beholding where he is laid.

16

<sup>1</sup> And the sabbath having past, Mary the Magdalene, and Mary of James, and Salome, bought spices, that having come, they may anoint him,
<sup>2</sup> and early in the morning of the first of the sabbaths, they come unto the sepulchre, at the rising of the sun,
<sup>3</sup> and they said among themselves, 'Who shall roll away for us the stone out of the door of the sepulchre?'
<sup>4</sup> And having looked, they see that the stone hath been rolled away — for it was very great,
<sup>5</sup> and having entered into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right hand, arrayed in a long white robe, and they were amazed.
<sup>6</sup> And he saith to them, 'Be not amazed, ye seek Jesus the Nazarene, the crucified: he did rise — he is not here; lo, the place where they laid him!
<sup>7</sup> and go, say to his disciples, and Peter, that he doth go before you to Galilee; there ye shall see him, as he said to you.'
<sup>8</sup> And, having come forth quickly, they fled from the sepulchre, and trembling and amazement had seized them, and to no one said they anything, for they were afraid.
<sup>9</sup> And he, having risen in the morning of the first of the sabbaths, did appear first to Mary the Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven demons;
<sup>10</sup> she having gone, told those who had been with him, mourning and weeping;
<sup>11</sup> and they, having heard that he is alive, and was seen by her, did not believe.
<sup>12</sup> And after these things, to two of them, as they are going into a field, walking, he was manifested in another form, <sup>13</sup> and they having gone, told to the rest; not even them did they believe.

<sup>14</sup> Afterwards, as they are reclining (at meat), he was manifested to the eleven, and did reproach their unbelief and stiffness of heart, because they believed not those having seen him being raised;

<sup>15</sup> and he said to them, 'Having gone to all the world, proclaim the good news to all the creation;

<sup>16</sup> he who hath believed, and hath been baptized, shall be saved; and he who hath not believed, shall be condemned.

<sup>17</sup> 'And signs shall accompany those believing these things; in my name demons they shall cast out; with new tongues they shall speak;

<sup>18</sup> serpents they shall take up; and if any deadly thing they may drink, it shall not hurt them; on the ailing they shall lay hands, and they shall be well.'

<sup>19</sup> The Lord, then, indeed, after speaking to them, was received up to the heaven, and sat on the right hand of God;

<sup>20</sup> and they, having gone forth, did preach everywhere, the Lord working with [them], and confirming the word, through the signs following. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. LUKE

<sup>1</sup> Seeing that many did take in hand to set in order a narration of the matters that have been fully assured among us,

<sup>2</sup> as they did deliver to us, who from the beginning became eye-witnesses, and officers of the Word, —

<sup>3</sup> it seemed good also to me, having followed from the first after all things exactly, to write to thee in order, most noble Theophilus,

<sup>6</sup> and they were both righteous before God, going on in all the commands and righteousnesses of the Lord blameless,

<sup>7</sup> and they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and both were advanced in their days.

<sup>8</sup> And it came to pass, in his acting as priest, in the order of his course before God,

<sup>9</sup> according to the custom of the priesthood, his lot was to make perfume, having gone into the sanctuary of the Lord,

<sup>10</sup> and all the multitude of the people were praying without, at the hour of the perfume.

<sup>11</sup> And there appeared to him a messenger of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of the perfume,

<sup>12</sup> and Zacharias, having seen, was troubled, and fear fell on him;

<sup>13</sup> and the messenger said unto him, 'Fear not, Zacharias, for thy supplication was heard, and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear a son to thee, and thou shalt call his name John,

<sup>14</sup> and there shall be joy to thee, and gladness, and many at his birth shall joy,

<sup>15</sup> for he shall be great before the Lord, and wine and strong drink he may not drink, and of the Holy Spirit he shall be full, even from his mother's womb;

<sup>16</sup> and many of the sons of Israel he shall turn to the Lord their God,

<sup>17</sup> and he shall go before Him, in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn hearts of fathers unto children, and disobedient ones to the wisdom of righteous ones, to make ready for the Lord, a people prepared.'

<sup>18</sup> And Zacharias said unto the messenger, 'Whereby shall I know this? for I am aged, and my wife is advanced in her days?'

<sup>19</sup> And the messenger answering said to him, 'I am Gabriel, who have been standing near before God, and I was sent to speak unto thee, and to proclaim these good news to thee,

<sup>20</sup> and lo, thou shalt be silent, and not able to speak, till the day that these things shall come to pass, because thou didst not believe my words, that shall be fulfilled in their season.'

<sup>21</sup> And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and wondering at his tarrying in the sanctuary,

<sup>22</sup> and having come out, he was not able to speak to them, and they perceived that a vision he had seen in the sanctuary, and he was beckoning to them, and did remain dumb.

<sup>23</sup> And it came to pass, when the days of his service were fulfilled, he went away to his house,

<sup>24</sup> and after those days, his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying —

<sup>25</sup> 'Thus hath the Lord done to me, in days in which He looked upon [me], to take away my reproach among men.'

<sup>26</sup> And in the sixth month was the messenger Gabriel sent by God, to a city of Galilee, the name of which [is] Nazareth,

<sup>27</sup> to a virgin, betrothed to a man, whose name [is] Joseph, of the house of David, and the name of the virgin [is] Mary.

<sup>29</sup> and she, having seen, was troubled at his word, and was reasoning of what kind this salutation may be.

<sup>31</sup> and lo, thou shalt conceive in the womb, and shalt bring forth a son, and call his name Jesus;

<sup>32</sup> he shall be great, and Son of the Highest he shall be called, and the Lord God shall give him the throne of David his father,

<sup>33</sup> and he shall reign over the house of Jacob to the ages; and of his reign there shall be no end.'

<sup>35</sup> And the messenger answering said to her, 'The Holy Spirit shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee, therefore also the holy-begotten thing shall be called Son of God;

<sup>36</sup> and lo, Elisabeth, thy kinswoman, she also hath conceived a son in her old age, and this is the sixth month to her who was called barren;

<sup>38</sup> And Mary said, 'Lo, the maid-servant of the Lord; let it be to me according to thy saying,' and the messenger went away from her.

<sup>39</sup> And Mary having arisen in those days, went to the hill-country, with haste, to a city of Judea,

<sup>41</sup> And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe did leap in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit,

<sup>43</sup> and whence [is] this to me, that the mother of my Lord might come unto me?

<sup>44</sup> for, lo, when the voice of thy salutation came to my ears, leap in gladness did the babe in my womb;

<sup>46</sup> And Mary said, 'My soul doth magnify the Lord,

<sup>48</sup> Because He looked on the lowliness of His maid-servant, For, lo, henceforth call me happy shall all the generations,

49 For He who is mighty did to me great things, And holy [is] His name,
50 And His kindness [is] to generations of generations, To those fearing Him,
51 He did powerfully with His arm, He scattered abroad the proud in the thought of their heart,
52 He brought down the mighty from thrones, And He exalted the lowly,
53 The hungry He did fill with good, And the rich He sent away empty,
54 He received again Israel His servant, To remember kindness,
55 As He spake unto our fathers, To Abraham and to his seed – to the age.'
56 And Mary remained with her about three months, and turned back to her house.
57 And to Elisabeth was the time fulfilled for her bringing forth, and she bare a son,
58 and the neighbours and her kindred heard that the Lord was making His kindness great with her, and they were rejoicing with her.
59 And it came to pass, on the eighth day, they came to circumcise the child, and they were calling him by the name of his father, Zacharias,
60 and his mother answering said, 'No, but he shall be called John.'
61 And they said unto her – 'There is none among thy kindred who is called by this name,' 62 and they were making signs to his father, what he would wish him to be called,
63 and having asked for a tablet, he wrote, saying, 'John is his name;' and they did all wonder;
64 and his mouth was opened presently, and his tongue, and he was speaking, praising God.
65 And fear came upon all those dwelling around them, and in all the hill-country of Judea were all these sayings spoken of,
66 and all who heard did lay them up in their hearts, saying, 'What then shall this child be?' and the hand of the Lord was with him.
67 And Zacharias his father was filled with the Holy Spirit, and did prophesy, saying,
68 'Blessed [is] the Lord, the God of Israel, Because He did look upon, And wrought redemption for His people,
69 And did raise an horn of salvation to us, In the house of David His servant,
70 As He spake by the mouth of His holy prophets, Which have been from the age;
71 Salvation from our enemies, And out of the hand of all hating us,
72 To do kindness with our fathers, And to be mindful of His holy covenant,
73 An oath that He sware to Abraham our father,
74 To give to us, without fear, Out of the hand of our enemies having been delivered,
75 To serve Him, in holiness and righteousness Before Him, all the days of our life.
76 And thou, child, Prophet of the Highest Shalt thou be called; For thou shalt go before the face of the Lord, To prepare His ways.
77 To give knowledge of salvation to His people In remission of their sins,
78 Through the tender mercies of our God, In which the rising from on high did look upon us,
79 To give light to those sitting in darkness and death-shade, To guide our feet to a way of peace.'

<sup>80</sup> And the child grew, and was strengthened in spirit, and he was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass in those days, there went forth a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world be enrolled —

<sup>3</sup> and all were going to be enrolled, each to his proper city,

<sup>4</sup> and Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, to Judea, to the city of David, that is called Bethlehem, because of his being of the house and family of David,

<sup>6</sup> And it came to pass, in their being there, the days were fulfilled for her bringing forth, <sup>7</sup> and she brought forth her son — the first-born, and wrapped him up, and laid him down in the manger, because there was not for them a place in the guest-chamber.

<sup>8</sup> And there were shepherds in the same region, lodging in the field, and keeping the night-watches over their flock,

<sup>9</sup> and lo, a messenger of the Lord stood over them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they feared a great fear.

<sup>10</sup> And the messenger said to them, 'Fear not, for lo, I bring you good news of great joy, that shall be to all the people —

<sup>11</sup> because there was born to you to-day a Saviour — who is Christ the Lord — in the city of David,

<sup>12</sup> and this [is] to you the sign: Ye shall find a babe wrapped up, lying in the manger.'

<sup>13</sup> And suddenly there came with the messenger a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying,

<sup>14</sup> 'Glory in the highest to God, and upon earth peace, among men — good will.'

<sup>15</sup> And it came to pass, when the messengers were gone away from them to the heavens, that the men, the shepherds, said unto one another, 'We may go over indeed unto Bethlehem, and see this thing that hath come to pass, that the Lord did make known to us.'

<sup>16</sup> And they came, having hasted, and found both Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger, <sup>17</sup> and having seen, they made known abroad concerning the saying spoken to them concerning the child.

<sup>18</sup> And all who heard, did wonder concerning the things spoken by the shepherds unto them;

<sup>19</sup> and Mary was preserving all these things, pondering in her heart;

<sup>20</sup> and the shepherds turned back, glorifying and praising God, for all those things they heard and saw, as it was spoken unto them.

<sup>21</sup> And when eight days were fulfilled to circumcise the child, then was his name called Jesus, having been so called by the messenger before his being conceived in the womb.

<sup>22</sup> And when the days of their purification were fulfilled, according to the law of Moses, they brought him up to Jerusalem, to present to the Lord,

<sup>23</sup> as it hath been written in the Law of the Lord, — 'Every male opening a womb shall be called holy to the Lord,'

<sup>24</sup> and to give a sacrifice, according to that said in the Law of the Lord, 'A pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons.'

<sup>25</sup> And lo, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name [is] Simeon, and this man is righteous and devout, looking for the comforting of Israel, and the Holy Spirit was upon him,

<sup>26</sup> and it hath been divinely told him by the Holy Spirit — not to see death before he may see the Christ of the Lord.

<sup>27</sup> And he came in the Spirit to the temple, and in the parents bringing in the child Jesus, for their doing according to the custom of the law regarding him,

<sup>28</sup> then he took him in his arms, and blessed God, and he said,

<sup>29</sup> 'Now Thou dost send away Thy servant, Lord, according to Thy word, in peace,

<sup>34</sup> and Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, 'Lo, this [one] is set for the falling and rising again of many in Israel, and for a sign spoken against —

<sup>35</sup> (and also thine own soul shall a sword pass through) — that the reasonings of many hearts may be revealed.'

<sup>36</sup> And there was Anna, a prophetess, daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher, she was much advanced in days, having lived with an husband seven years from her virginity,

<sup>37</sup> and she [is] a widow of about eighty-four years, who did depart not from the temple, with fasts and supplications serving, night and day,

<sup>38</sup> and she, at that hour, having come in, was confessing, likewise, to the Lord, and was speaking concerning him, to all those looking for redemption in Jerusalem.

<sup>39</sup> And when they finished all things, according to the Law of the Lord, they turned back to Galilee, to their city Nazareth;

<sup>40</sup> and the child grew and was strengthened in spirit, being filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was upon him.

<sup>41</sup> And his parents were going yearly to Jerusalem, at the feast of the passover,

<sup>42</sup> and when he became twelve years old, they having gone up to Jerusalem, according to the custom of the feast,

<sup>43</sup> and having finished the days, in their returning the child Jesus remained behind in Jerusalem, and Joseph and his mother did not know,

<sup>44</sup> and, having supposed him to be in the company, they went a day's journey, and were seeking him among the kindred and among the acquaintances,

<sup>45</sup> and not having found him, they turned back to Jerusalem seeking him.

<sup>46</sup> And it came to pass, after three days, they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them and questioning them,

<sup>47</sup> and all those hearing him were astonished at his understanding and answers.

<sup>48</sup> And, having seen him, they were amazed, and his mother said unto him, 'Child, why didst thou thus to us? lo, thy father and I, sorrowing, were seeking thee.'

<sup>49</sup> And he said unto them, 'Why [is it] that ye were seeking me? did ye not know that in the things of my Father it behoveth me to be?'

<sup>50</sup> and they did not understand the saying that he spake to them,

<sup>51</sup> and he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and he was subject to them, and his mother was keeping all these sayings in her heart,

<sup>52</sup> and Jesus was advancing in wisdom, and in stature, and in favour with God and men.

3

<sup>3</sup> and he came to all the region round the Jordan, proclaiming a baptism of reformation — to remission of sins,

<sup>5</sup> every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be made low, and the crooked shall become straightness, and the rough become smooth ways;

<sup>7</sup> Then said he to the multitudes coming forth to be baptised by him, 'Brood of vipers! who did prompt you to flee from the coming wrath?

<sup>8</sup> make, therefore, fruits worthy of the reformation, and begin not to say within yourselves, We have a father — Abraham; for I say to you, that God is able out of these stones to raise children to Abraham;

<sup>9</sup> and already also the axe unto the root of the trees is laid, every tree, therefore, not making good fruit is cut down, and to fire it is cast.'

<sup>10</sup> And the multitudes were questioning him, saying, 'What, then, shall we do?'

<sup>11</sup> and he answering saith to them, 'He having two coats — let him impart to him having none, and he having victuals — in like manner let him do.'

<sup>12</sup> And there came also tax-gatherers to be baptised, and they said unto him, 'Teacher, what shall we do?'

<sup>13</sup> and he said unto them, 'Exact no more than that directed you.'

<sup>14</sup> And questioning him also were those warring, saying, 'And we, what shall we do?' and he said unto them, 'Do violence to no one, nor accuse falsely, and be content with your wages.'

<sup>15</sup> And the people are looking forward, and all are reasoning in their hearts concerning John, whether or not he may be the Christ;

<sup>16</sup> John answered, saying to all, 'I indeed with water do baptise you, but he cometh who is mightier than I, of whom I am not worthy to loose the latchet of his sandals — he shall baptise you with the Holy Spirit and with fire;

<sup>17</sup> whose winnowing shovel [is] in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his floor, and will gather the wheat to his storehouse, and the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable.'

<sup>18</sup> And, therefore, indeed with many other things, exhorting, he was proclaiming good news to the people,

<sup>19</sup> and Herod the tetrarch, being reprov'd by him concerning Herodias the wife of Philip his brother, and concerning all the evils that Herod did,

<sup>20</sup> added also this to all, that he shut up John in the prison.

<sup>21</sup> And it came to pass, in all the people being baptised, Jesus also being baptised, and praying, the heaven was opened,

<sup>22</sup> and the Holy Spirit came down in a bodily appearance, as if a dove, upon him, and a voice came out of heaven, saying, 'Thou art My Son — the Beloved, in thee I did delight.'

<sup>23</sup> And Jesus himself was beginning to be about thirty years of age, being, as was supposed, son of Joseph,

<sup>24</sup> the [son] of Eli, the [son] of Matthat, the [son] of Levi, the [son] of Melchi, the [son] of Janna, the [son] of Joseph,

<sup>25</sup> the [son] of Mattathias, the [son] of Amos, the [son] of Naum, the [son] of Esli,

<sup>26</sup> the [son] of Naggai, the [son] of Maath, the [son] of Mattathias, the [son] of Semei, the [son] of Joseph, the [son] of Juda,

<sup>27</sup> the [son] of Joanna, the [son] of Rhesa, the [son] of Zerubbabel, the [son] of Shealtiel,

<sup>28</sup> the [son] of Neri, the [son] of Melchi, the [son] of Addi, the [son] of Cosam, the [son] of Elmodam, the [son] of Er,

<sup>29</sup> the [son] of Jose, the [son] of Eliezer, the [son] of Jorim, the [son] of Matthat,

<sup>30</sup> the [son] of Levi, the [son] of Simeon, the [son] of Juda, the [son] of Joseph, the [son] of Jonan, the [son] of Eliakim,

<sup>31</sup> the [son] of Melea, the [son] of Mainan, the [son] of Mattatha, the [son] of Nathan,

<sup>32</sup> the [son] of David, the [son] of Jesse, the [son] of Obed, the [son] of Booz, the [son] of Salmon, the [son] of Nahshon,

<sup>33</sup> the [son] of Amminadab, the [son] of Aram, the [son] of Esrom, the [son] of Pharez,

<sup>34</sup> the [son] of Judah, the [son] of Jacob, the [son] of Isaac, the [son] of Abraham, the [son] of Terah, the [son] of Nahor,

<sup>35</sup> the [son] of Serug, the [son] of Reu, the [son] of Peleg, the [son] of Eber,

<sup>36</sup> the [son] of Salah, the [son] of Cainan, the [son] of Arphaxad, the [son] of Shem, the [son] of Noah, the [son] of Lamech,

<sup>37</sup> the [son] of Methuselah, the [son] of Enoch, the [son] of Jared, the [son] of Mahalaleel, <sup>38</sup> the [son] of Cainan, the [son] of Enos, the [son] of Seth, the [son] of Adam, the [son] of God.

4

<sup>1</sup> And Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, turned back from the Jordan, and was brought in the Spirit to the wilderness,

<sup>2</sup> forty days being tempted by the Devil, and he did not eat anything in those days, and they having been ended, he afterward hungered,

<sup>3</sup> and the Devil said to him, 'If Son thou art of God, speak to this stone that it may become bread.'

<sup>4</sup> And Jesus answered him, saying, 'It hath been written, that, not on bread only shall man live, but on every saying of God.'

<sup>5</sup> And the Devil having brought him up to an high mountain, shewed to him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time,

<sup>6</sup> and the Devil said to him, 'To thee I will give all this authority, and their glory, because to me it hath been delivered, and to whomsoever I will, I do give it;

<sup>7</sup> thou, then, if thou mayest bow before me — all shall be thine.'

<sup>8</sup> And Jesus answering him said, 'Get thee behind me, Adversary, for it hath been written, Thou shalt bow before the Lord thy God, and Him only thou shalt serve.'

<sup>9</sup> And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on the pinnacle of the temple, and said to him, 'If the Son thou art of God, cast thyself down hence,

<sup>10</sup> for it hath been written — To His messengers He will give charge concerning thee, to guard over thee,

<sup>11</sup> and — On hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou mayest dash against a stone thy foot.'

<sup>12</sup> And Jesus answering said to him — 'It hath been said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.'

<sup>14</sup> And Jesus turned back in the power of the Spirit to Galilee, and a fame went forth through all the region round about concerning him, <sup>15</sup> and he was teaching in their synagogues, being glorified by all.

<sup>16</sup> And he came to Nazareth, where he hath been brought up, and he went in, according to his custom, on the sabbath-day, to the synagogue, and stood up to read;

<sup>17</sup> and there was given over to him a roll of Isaiah the prophet, and having unfolded the roll, he found the place where it hath been written:

<sup>18</sup> 'The Spirit of the Lord [is] upon me, Because He did anoint me; To proclaim good news to the poor, Sent me to heal the broken of heart, To proclaim to captives deliverance, And to blind receiving of sight, To send away the bruised with deliverance,

<sup>20</sup> And having folded the roll, having given [it] back to the officer, he sat down, and the eyes of all in the synagogue were gazing on him.

<sup>21</sup> And he began to say unto them — 'To-day hath this writing been fulfilled in your ears;'

<sup>22</sup> and all were bearing testimony to him, and were wondering at the gracious words that are coming forth out of his mouth, and they said, 'Is not this the son of Joseph?'

<sup>23</sup> And he said unto them, 'Certainly ye will say to me this simile, Physician, heal thyself; as great things as we heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country;'

<sup>24</sup> and he said, 'Verily I say to you — No prophet is accepted in his own country;

<sup>25</sup> and of a truth I say to you, Many widows were in the days of Elijah, in Israel, when the heaven was shut for three years and six months, when great famine came on all the land,

<sup>26</sup> and unto none of them was Elijah sent, but — to Sarepta of Sidon, unto a woman, a widow;

<sup>27</sup> and many lepers were in the time of Elisha the prophet, in Israel, and none of them was cleansed, but — Naaman the Syrian.'

<sup>28</sup> And all in the synagogue were filled with wrath, hearing these things,

<sup>29</sup> and having risen, they put him forth without the city, and brought him unto the brow of the hill on which their city had been built — to cast him down headlong,

<sup>30</sup> and he, having gone through the midst of them, went away.

<sup>31</sup> And he came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and was teaching them on the sabbaths, <sup>32</sup> and they were astonished at his teaching, because his word was with authority.

<sup>33</sup> And in the synagogue was a man, having a spirit of an unclean demon, and he cried out with a great voice,

<sup>34</sup> saying, 'Away, what — to us and to thee, Jesus, O Nazarene? thou didst come to destroy us; I have known thee who thou art — the Holy One of God.'

<sup>35</sup> And Jesus did rebuke him, saying, 'Be silenced, and come forth out of him;' and the demon having cast him into the midst, came forth from him, having hurt him nought;

<sup>36</sup> and amazement came upon all, and they were speaking together, with one another, saying, 'What [is] this word, that with authority and power he doth command the unclean spirits, and they come forth?'

<sup>37</sup> and there was going forth a fame concerning him to every place of the region round about.

<sup>38</sup> And having risen out of the synagogue, he entered into the house of Simon, and the mother-in-law of Simon was pressed with a great fever, and they did ask him about her,

<sup>39</sup> and having stood over her, he rebuked the fever, and it left her, and presently, having risen, she was ministering to them.

<sup>40</sup> And at the setting of the sun, all, as many as had any ailing with manifold sicknesses, brought them unto him, and he on each one of them [his] hands having put, did heal them.

<sup>41</sup> And demons also were coming forth from many, crying out and saying — 'Thou art the Christ, the Son of God;' and rebuking, he did not suffer them to speak, because they knew him to be the Christ.

<sup>42</sup> And day having come, having gone forth, he went on to a desert place, and the multitudes were seeking him, and they came unto him, and were staying him — not to go on from them,

<sup>43</sup> and he said unto them — 'Also to the other cities it behoveth me to proclaim good news of the reign of God, because for this I have been sent;'

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, in the multitude pressing on him to hear the word of God, that he was standing beside the lake of Gennesaret,

<sup>2</sup> and he saw two boats standing beside the lake, and the fishers, having gone away from them, were washing the nets,

<sup>3</sup> and having entered into one of the boats, that was Simon's, he asked him to put back a little from the land, and having sat down, was teaching the multitudes out of the boat.

<sup>4</sup> And when he left off speaking, he said unto Simon, 'Put back to the deep, and let down your nets for a draught;'

<sup>5</sup> and Simon answering said to him, 'Master, through the whole night, having laboured, we have taken nothing, but at thy saying I will let down the net.'

<sup>6</sup> And having done this, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes, and their net was breaking,

<sup>7</sup> and they beckoned to the partners, who [are] in the other boat, having come, to help them; and they came, and filled both the boats, so that they were sinking.

<sup>9</sup> for astonishment seized him, and all those with him, at the draught of the fishes that they took,

<sup>10</sup> and in like manner also James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon; and Jesus said unto Simon, 'Fear not, henceforth thou shalt be catching men;'

<sup>12</sup> And it came to pass, in his being in one of the cities, that lo, a man full of leprosy, and having seen Jesus, having fallen on [his] face, he besought him, saying, 'Sir, if thou mayest will, thou art able to cleanse me;'

<sup>13</sup> and having stretched forth [his] hand, he touched him, having said, 'I will; be thou cleansed;' and immediately the leprosy went away from him.

<sup>14</sup> And he charged him to tell no one, 'But, having gone away, shew thyself to the priest, and bring near for thy cleansing according as Moses directed, for a testimony to them;'

<sup>15</sup> but the more was the report going abroad concerning him, and great multitudes were coming together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities,

<sup>16</sup> and he was withdrawing himself in the desert places and was praying.

<sup>17</sup> And it came to pass, on one of the days, that he was teaching, and there were sitting by Pharisees and teachers of the Law, who were come out of every village of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem, and the power of the Lord was — to heal them.

<sup>18</sup> And lo, men bearing upon a couch a man, who hath been struck with palsy, and they were seeking to bring him in, and to place before him,

<sup>19</sup> and not having found by what way they may bring him in because of the multitude, having gone up on the house-top, through the tiles they let him down, with the little couch, into the midst before Jesus,

<sup>20</sup> and he having seen their faith, said to him, 'Man, thy sins have been forgiven thee.'

<sup>21</sup> And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, 'Who is this that doth speak evil words? who is able to forgive sins, except God only?'

<sup>22</sup> And Jesus having known their reasonings, answering, said unto them, 'What reason ye in your hearts?'

<sup>24</sup> 'And that ye may know that the Son of Man hath authority upon the earth to forgive sins — (he said to the one struck with palsy) — I say to thee, Arise, and having taken up thy little couch, be going on to thy house.'

<sup>25</sup> And presently having risen before them, having taken up [that] on which he was lying, he went away to his house, glorifying God,

<sup>26</sup> and astonishment took all, and they were glorifying God, and were filled with fear, saying — 'We saw strange things to-day.'

<sup>27</sup> And after these things he went forth, and beheld a tax-gatherer, by name Levi, sitting at the tax-office, and said to him, 'Be following me;'

<sup>29</sup> And Levi made a great entertainment to him in his house, and there was a great multitude of tax-gatherers and others who were with them reclining (at meat),

<sup>31</sup> And Jesus answering said unto them, 'They who are well have no need of a physician, but they that are ill:

<sup>32</sup> I came not to call righteous men, but sinners, to reformation.'

<sup>33</sup> And they said unto him, 'Wherefore do the disciples of John fast often, and make supplications — in like manner also those of the Pharisees — but thine do eat and drink?'

<sup>34</sup> And he said unto them, 'Are ye able to make the sons of the bride-chamber — in the bridegroom being with them — to fast?

<sup>35</sup> but days will come, and, when the bridegroom may be taken away from them, then they shall fast in those days.'

<sup>36</sup> And he spake also a simile unto them — 'No one a patch of new clothing doth put on old clothing, and if otherwise, the new also doth make a rent, and with the old the patch doth not agree, that [is] from the new.

<sup>37</sup> 'And no one doth put new wine into old skins, and if otherwise, the new wine will burst the skins, and itself will be poured out, and the skins will be destroyed;

<sup>38</sup> but new wine into new skins is to be put, and both are preserved together;

<sup>39</sup> and no one having drunk old [wine], doth immediately wish new, for he saith, The old is better.'

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, on the second-first sabbath, as he is going through the corn fields, that his disciples were plucking the ears, and were eating, rubbing with the hands,

<sup>2</sup> and certain of the Pharisees said to them, 'Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the sabbaths?'

<sup>3</sup> And Jesus answering said unto them, 'Did ye not read even this that David did, when he hungered, himself and those who are with him,

<sup>4</sup> how he went into the house of God, and the loaves of the presentation did take, and did eat, and gave also to those with him, which it is not lawful to eat, except only to the priests?'

<sup>5</sup> and he said to them, — 'The Son of Man is lord also of the sabbath.'

<sup>6</sup> And it came to pass also, on another sabbath, that he goeth into the synagogue, and teacheth, and there was there a man, and his right hand was withered,

<sup>7</sup> and the scribes and the Pharisees were watching him, if on the sabbath he will heal, that they might find an accusation against him.

<sup>8</sup> And he himself had known their reasonings, and said to the man having the withered hand, 'Rise, and stand in the midst;' and he having risen, stood.

<sup>9</sup> Then said Jesus unto them, 'I will question you something: Is it lawful on the sabbaths to do good, or to do evil? life to save or to kill?'

<sup>10</sup> And having looked round on them all, he said to the man, 'Stretch forth thy hand;' and he did so, and his hand was restored whole as the other;

<sup>11</sup> and they were filled with madness, and were speaking with one another what they might do to Jesus.

<sup>12</sup> And it came to pass in those days, he went forth to the mountain to pray, and was passing the night in the prayer of God,

<sup>13</sup> and when it became day, he called near his disciples, and having chosen from them twelve, whom also he named apostles,

<sup>14</sup> (Simon, whom also he named Peter, and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew,

<sup>17</sup> and having come down with them, he stood upon a level spot, and a crowd of his disciples, and a great multitude of the people from all Judea, and Jerusalem, and the maritime Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear him, and to be healed of their sicknesses,

<sup>18</sup> and those harassed by unclean spirits, and they were healed,

<sup>19</sup> and all the multitude were seeking to touch him, because power from him was going forth, and he was healing all.

<sup>20</sup> And he, having lifted up his eyes to his disciples, said: 'Happy the poor — because yours is the reign of God.

<sup>22</sup> 'Happy are ye when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you, and shall reproach, and shall cast forth your name as evil, for the Son of Man's sake —

<sup>23</sup> rejoice in that day, and leap, for lo, your reward [is] great in the heaven, for according to these things were their fathers doing to the prophets.

<sup>24</sup> 'But woe to you — the rich, because ye have got your comfort.

<sup>25</sup> 'Woe to you who have been filled — because ye shall hunger. 'Woe to you who are laughing now — because ye shall mourn and weep.

<sup>26</sup> 'Woe to you when all men shall speak well of you — for according to these things were their fathers doing to false prophets.

<sup>27</sup> 'But I say to you who are hearing, Love your enemies, do good to those hating you,

<sup>28</sup> bless those cursing you, and pray for those accusing you falsely;

<sup>29</sup> and to him smiting thee upon the cheek, give also the other, and from him taking away from thee the mantle, also the coat thou mayest not keep back.

<sup>30</sup> 'And to every one who is asking of thee, be giving; and from him who is taking away thy goods, be not asking again;

<sup>31</sup> and as ye wish that men may do to you, do ye also to them in like manner;

<sup>32</sup> and — if ye love those loving you, what grace have ye? for also the sinful love those loving them;

<sup>33</sup> and if ye do good to those doing good to you, what grace have ye? for also the sinful do the same;

<sup>34</sup> and if ye lend [to those] of whom ye hope to receive back, what grace have ye? for also the sinful lend to sinners — that they may receive again as much.

<sup>35</sup> 'But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again, and your reward will be great, and ye shall be sons of the Highest, because He is kind unto the ungracious and evil;

<sup>36</sup> be ye therefore merciful, as also your Father is merciful.

<sup>37</sup> 'And judge not, and ye may not be judged; condemn not, and ye may not be condemned; release, and ye shall be released.

<sup>38</sup> 'Give, and it shall be given to you; good measure, pressed, and shaken, and running over, they shall give into your bosom; for with that measure with which ye measure, it shall be measured to you again.'

<sup>42</sup> or how art thou able to say to thy brother, Brother, suffer, I may take out the mote that [is] in thine eye — thyself the beam in thine own eye not beholding? Hypocrite, take first the beam out of thine own eye, and then thou shalt see clearly to take out the mote that [is] in thy brother's eye.

<sup>43</sup> 'For there is not a good tree making bad fruit, nor a bad tree making good fruit;

<sup>47</sup> Every one who is coming unto me, and is hearing my words, and is doing them, I will shew you to whom he is like;

<sup>48</sup> he is like to a man building a house, who did dig, and deepen, and laid a foundation upon the rock, and a flood having come, the stream broke forth on that house, and was not able to shake it, for it had been founded upon the rock.

<sup>49</sup> 'And he who heard and did not, is like to a man having builded a house upon the earth, without a foundation, against which the stream brake forth, and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house became great.'

7

<sup>1</sup> And when he completed all his sayings in the ears of the people, he went into Capernaum;

<sup>2</sup> and a certain centurion's servant being ill, was about to die, who was much valued by him,

<sup>3</sup> and having heard about Jesus, he sent unto him elders of the Jews, beseeching him, that having come he might thoroughly save his servant.

<sup>4</sup> And they, having come near unto Jesus, were calling upon him earnestly, saying — 'He is worthy to whom thou shalt do this,

<sup>5</sup> for he doth love our nation, and the synagogue he did build to us.'

<sup>6</sup> And Jesus was going on with them, and now when he is not far distant from the house the centurion sent unto him friends, saying to him, 'Sir, be not troubled, for I am not worthy that under my roof thou mayest enter;

<sup>7</sup> wherefore not even myself thought I worthy to come unto thee, but say in a word, and my lad shall be healed;

<sup>8</sup> for I also am a man placed under authority, having under myself soldiers, and I say to this [one], Go, and he goeth; and to another, Be coming, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doth [it].'

<sup>9</sup> And having heard these things Jesus wondered at him, and having turned to the multitude following him, he said, 'I say to you, not even in Israel so much faith did I find;'

<sup>10</sup> and those sent, having turned back to the house, found the ailing servant in health.

<sup>11</sup> And it came to pass, on the morrow, he was going on to a city called Nain, and there were going with him many of his disciples, and a great multitude,

<sup>12</sup> and as he came nigh to the gate of the city, then, lo, one dead was being carried forth, an only son of his mother, and she a widow, and a great multitude of the city was with her.

<sup>13</sup> And the Lord having seen her, was moved with compassion towards her, and said to her, 'Be not weeping;'

<sup>14</sup> and having come near, he touched the bier, and those bearing [it] stood still, and he said, 'Young man, to thee I say, Arise;'

<sup>15</sup> and the dead sat up, and began to speak, and he gave him to his mother;

<sup>16</sup> and fear took hold of all, and they were glorifying God, saying — 'A great prophet hath risen among us,' and — 'God did look upon His people.'

<sup>17</sup> And the account of this went forth in all Judea about him, and in all the region around.

<sup>18</sup> And the disciples of John told him about all these things,

<sup>19</sup> and John having called near a certain two of his disciples, sent unto Jesus, saying, 'Art thou he who is coming, or for another do we look?'

<sup>20</sup> And having come near to him, the men said, 'John the Baptist sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he who is coming, or for another do we look?'

<sup>21</sup> And in that hour he cured many from sicknesses, and plagues, and evil spirits, and to many blind he granted sight.

<sup>22</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'Having gone on, report to John what ye saw and heard, that blind men do see again, lame do walk, lepers are cleansed, deaf do hear, dead are raised, poor have good news proclaimed;

<sup>23</sup> and happy is he whoever may not be stumbled in me.'

<sup>25</sup> but what have ye gone forth to see? a man in soft garments clothed? lo, they in splendid apparellings, and living in luxury, are in the houses of kings!

<sup>26</sup> 'But what have ye gone forth to see? a prophet? Yes, I say to you, and much more than a prophet:

<sup>27</sup> this is he concerning whom it hath been written, Lo, I send my messenger before thy face, who shall prepare thy way before thee;

<sup>28</sup> for I say to you, a greater prophet, among those born of women, than John the Baptist there is not; but the least in the reign of God is greater than he.'

<sup>29</sup> And all the people having heard, and the tax-gatherers, declared God righteous, having been baptized with the baptism of John,

<sup>30</sup> but the Pharisees, and the lawyers, the counsel of God did put away for themselves, not having been baptized by him.

<sup>31</sup> And the Lord said, 'To what, then, shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?

<sup>32</sup> they are like to children, to those sitting in a market-place, and calling one to another, and saying, We piped to you, and ye did not dance, we mourned to you, and ye did not weep!

<sup>33</sup> 'For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and ye say, He hath a demon;

<sup>37</sup> and lo, a woman in the city, who was a sinner, having known that he reclineth (at meat) in the house of the Pharisee, having provided an alabaster box of ointment,

<sup>38</sup> and having stood behind, beside his feet, weeping, she began to wet his feet with the tears, and with the hairs of her head she was wiping, and was kissing his feet, and was anointing with the ointment.

<sup>39</sup> And the Pharisee who did call him, having seen, spake within himself, saying, 'This one, if he were a prophet, would have known who and of what kind [is] the woman who doth touch him, that she is a sinner.'

<sup>40</sup> And Jesus answering said unto him, 'Simon, I have something to say to thee;' and he saith, 'Teacher, say on.'

<sup>41</sup> 'Two debtors were to a certain creditor; the one was owing five hundred denaries, and the other fifty;

<sup>42</sup> and they not having [wherewith] to give back, he forgave both; which then of them, say thou, will love him more?'

<sup>43</sup> And Simon answering said, 'I suppose that to whom he forgave the more;' and he said to him, 'Rightly thou didst judge.'

<sup>44</sup> And having turned unto the woman, he said to Simon, 'Seest thou this woman? I entered into thy house; water for my feet thou didst not give, but this woman with tears did wet my feet, and with the hairs of her head did wipe;

<sup>45</sup> a kiss to me thou didst not give, but this woman, from what [time] I came in, did not cease kissing my feet;

<sup>46</sup> with oil my head thou didst not anoint, but this woman with ointment did anoint my feet;

<sup>47</sup> therefore I say to thee, her many sins have been forgiven, because she did love much; but to whom little is forgiven, little he doth love.'

<sup>48</sup> And he said to her, 'Thy sins have been forgiven;'

<sup>49</sup> and those reclining with him (at meat) began to say within themselves, 'Who is this, who also doth forgive sins?'

<sup>50</sup> and he said unto the woman, 'Thy faith have saved thee, be going on to peace.'

8

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass thereafter, that he was going through every city and village, preaching and proclaiming good news of the reign of God, and the twelve [are] with him,

<sup>2</sup> and certain women, who were healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary who is called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone forth,

<sup>3</sup> and Joanna wife of Chuza, steward of Herod, and Susanna, and many others, who were ministering to him from their substance.

<sup>4</sup> And a great multitude having gathered, and those who from city and city were coming unto him, he spake by a simile:

<sup>5</sup> 'The sower went forth to sow his seed, and in his sowing some indeed fell beside the way, and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the heaven did devour it.

<sup>6</sup> 'And other fell upon the rock, and having sprung up, it did wither, through not having moisture.

<sup>7</sup> 'And other fell amidst the thorns, and the thorns having sprung up with it, did choke it.

<sup>8</sup> 'And other fell upon the good ground, and having sprung up, it made fruit an hundred fold.' These things saying, he was calling, 'He having ears to hear – let him hear.'

<sup>10</sup> And he said, 'To you it hath been given to know the secrets of the reign of God, and to the rest in similes; that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand.

<sup>11</sup> 'And this is the simile: The seed is the word of God, <sup>12</sup> and those beside the way are those hearing, then cometh the Devil, and taketh up the word from their heart, lest having believed, they may be saved.

<sup>13</sup> 'And those upon the rock: They who, when they may hear, with joy do receive the word, and these have no root, who for a time believe, and in time of temptation fall away.

<sup>14</sup> 'And that which fell to the thorns: These are they who have heard, and going forth, through anxieties, and riches, and pleasures of life, are choked, and bear not to completion.

<sup>15</sup> 'And that in the good ground: These are they, who in an upright and good heart, having heard the word, do retain [it], and bear fruit in continuance.

<sup>16</sup> 'And no one having lighted a lamp doth cover it with a vessel, or under a couch doth put [it]; but upon a lamp-stand he doth put [it], that those coming in may see the light,

<sup>17</sup> for nothing is secret, that shall not become manifest, nor hid, that shall not be known, and become manifest.

<sup>18</sup> 'See, therefore, how ye hear, for whoever may have, there shall be given to him, and whoever may not have, also what he seemeth to have, shall be taken from him.'

<sup>19</sup> And there came unto him his mother and brethren, and they were not able to get to him because of the multitude,

<sup>20</sup> and it was told him, saying, 'Thy mother and thy brethren do stand without, wishing to see thee;'

<sup>21</sup> and he answering said unto them, 'My mother and my brethren! they are those who the word of God are hearing, and doing.'

<sup>22</sup> And it came to pass, on one of the days, that he himself went into a boat with his disciples, and he said unto them, 'We may go over to the other side of the lake;' and they set forth,

<sup>23</sup> and as they are sailing he fell deeply asleep, and there came down a storm of wind to the lake, and they were filling, and were in peril.

<sup>24</sup> And having come near, they awoke him, saying, 'Master, master, we perish;' and he, having arisen, rebuked the wind and the raging of the water, and they ceased, and there came a calm,

<sup>25</sup> and he said to them, 'Where is your faith?' and they being afraid did wonder, saying unto one another, 'Who, then, is this, that even the winds he doth command, and the water, and they obey him?'

<sup>26</sup> And they sailed down to the region of the Gadarenes, that is over-against Galilee,

<sup>27</sup> and he having gone forth upon the land, there met him a certain man, out of the city, who had demons for a long time, and with a garment was not clothed, and in a house was not abiding, but in the tombs,

<sup>28</sup> and having seen Jesus, and having cried out, he fell before him, and with a loud voice, said, 'What — to me and to thee, Jesus, Son of God Most High? I beseech thee, mayest thou not afflict me!'

<sup>29</sup> For he commanded the unclean spirit to come forth from the man, for many times it had caught him, and he was being bound with chains and fetters — guarded, and breaking asunder the bonds he was driven by the demons to the deserts.

<sup>30</sup> And Jesus questioned him, saying, 'What is thy name?' and he said, 'Legion,' (because many demons were entered into him,)

<sup>31</sup> and he was calling on him, that he may not command them to go away to the abyss,

<sup>32</sup> and there was there a herd of many swine feeding in the mountain, and they were calling on him, that he might suffer them to enter into these, and he suffered them,

<sup>33</sup> and the demons having gone forth from the man, did enter into the swine, and the herd rushed down the steep to the lake, and were choked.

<sup>34</sup> And those feeding [them], having seen what was come to pass, fled, and having gone, told [it] to the city, and to the fields;

<sup>35</sup> and they came forth to see what was come to pass, and they came unto Jesus, and found the man sitting, out of whom the demons had gone forth, clothed, and right-minded, at the feet of Jesus, and they were afraid;

<sup>36</sup> and those also having seen [it], told them how the demoniac was saved.

<sup>37</sup> And the whole multitude of the region of the Gadarenes round about asked him to go away from them, because with great fear they were pressed, and he having entered into the boat, did turn back.

<sup>38</sup> And the man from whom the demons had gone forth was beseeching of him to be with him, and Jesus sent him away, saying,

<sup>39</sup> 'Turn back to thy house, and tell how great things God did to thee;' and he went away through all the city proclaiming how great things Jesus did to him.

<sup>40</sup> And it came to pass, in the turning back of Jesus, the multitude received him, for they were all looking for him,

<sup>41</sup> and lo, there came a man, whose name [is] Jairus, and he was a chief of the synagogue, and having fallen at the feet of Jesus, was calling on him to come to his house;

<sup>42</sup> because he had an only daughter about twelve years [old], and she was dying. And in his going away, the multitudes were thronging him,

<sup>43</sup> and a woman, having an issue of blood for twelve years, who, having spent on physicians all her living, was not able to be healed by any,

<sup>44</sup> having come near behind, touched the fringe of his garment, and presently the issue of her blood stood.

<sup>45</sup> And Jesus said, 'Who [is] it that touched me?' and all denying, Peter and those with him said, 'Master, the multitudes press thee, and throng [thee], and thou dost say, Who [is] it that touched me!'

<sup>46</sup> And Jesus said, 'Some one did touch me, for I knew power having gone forth from me.'

<sup>47</sup> And the woman, having seen that she was not hid, trembling, came, and having fallen before him, for what cause she touched him declared to him before all the people, and how she was healed presently;

<sup>48</sup> and he said to her, 'Take courage, daughter, thy faith hath saved thee, be going on to peace.'

<sup>49</sup> While he is yet speaking, there doth come a certain one from the chief of the synagogue's [house], saying to him — 'Thy daughter hath died, harass not the Teacher;'

<sup>50</sup> and Jesus having heard, answered him, saying, 'Be not afraid, only believe, and she shall be saved.'

<sup>51</sup> And having come to the house, he suffered no one to go in, except Peter, and James, and John, and the father of the child, and the mother;

<sup>52</sup> and they were all weeping, and beating themselves for her, and he said, 'Weep not, she did not die, but doth sleep;

<sup>53</sup> and they were deriding him, knowing that she did die;

<sup>54</sup> and he having put all forth without, and having taken hold of her hand, called, saying, 'Child, arise;'

<sup>55</sup> and her spirit came back, and she arose presently, and he directed that there be given to her to eat;

<sup>56</sup> and her parents were amazed, but he charged them to say to no one what was come to pass.

9

<sup>1</sup> And having called together his twelve disciples, he gave them power and authority over all the demons, and to cure sicknesses,

<sup>2</sup> and he sent them to proclaim the reign of God, and to heal the ailing.

<sup>3</sup> And he said unto them, 'Take nothing for the way, neither staff, nor scrip, nor bread, nor money; neither have two coats each;

<sup>4</sup> and into whatever house ye may enter, there remain, and thence depart;

<sup>7</sup> And Herod the tetrarch heard of all the things being done by him, and was perplexed, because it was said by certain, that John hath been raised out of the dead;

<sup>8</sup> and by certain, that Elijah did appear, and by others, that a prophet, one of the ancients, was risen;

<sup>9</sup> and Herod said, 'John I did behead, but who is this concerning whom I hear such things?' and he was seeking to see him.

<sup>10</sup> And the apostles having turned back, declared to him how great things they did, and having taken them, he withdrew by himself to a desert place of a city called Bethsaida,

<sup>11</sup> and the multitudes having known did follow him, and having received them, he was speaking to them concerning the reign of God, and those having need of service he cured.

<sup>12</sup> And the day began to decline, and the twelve having come near, said to him, 'Let away the multitude, that having gone to the villages and the fields round about, they may lodge and may find provision, because here we are in a desert place.'

<sup>13</sup> And he said unto them, 'Give ye them to eat;' and they said, 'We have no more than five loaves, and two fishes: except, having gone, we may buy for all this people victuals;'

<sup>14</sup> for they were about five thousand men. And he said unto his disciples, 'Cause them to recline in companies, in each fifty;'

<sup>15</sup> and they did so, and made all to recline;

<sup>16</sup> and having taken the five loaves, and the two fishes, having looked up to the heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and was giving to the disciples to set before the multitude;

<sup>17</sup> and they did eat, and were all filled, and there was taken up what was over to them of broken pieces, twelve baskets.

<sup>18</sup> And it came to pass, as he is praying alone, the disciples were with him, and he questioned them, saying, 'Who do the multitudes say me to be?'

<sup>19</sup> And they answering said, 'John the Baptist; and others, Elijah; and others, that a prophet, one of the ancients, was risen;'

<sup>20</sup> and he said to them, 'And ye — who do ye say me to be?' and Peter answering said, 'The Christ of God.'

<sup>21</sup> And having charged them, he commanded [them] to say this to no one,

<sup>22</sup> saying — 'It behoveth the Son of Man to suffer many things, and to be rejected by the elders, and chief priests, and scribes, and to be killed, and the third day to be raised.'

<sup>23</sup> And he said unto all, 'If any one doth will to come after me, let him disown himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me;

<sup>24</sup> for whoever may will to save his life, shall lose it, and whoever may lose his life for my sake, he shall save it;

<sup>25</sup> for what is a man profited, having gained the whole world, and having lost or having forfeited himself?

<sup>26</sup> 'For whoever may be ashamed of me, and of my words, of this one shall the Son of Man be ashamed, when he may come in his glory, and the Father's, and the holy messengers';

<sup>27</sup> and I say to you, truly, there are certain of those here standing, who shall not taste of death till they may see the reign of God.'

<sup>28</sup> And it came to pass, after these words, as it were eight days, that having taken Peter, and John, and James, he went up to the mountain to pray, <sup>29</sup> and it came to pass, in his praying, the appearance of his face became altered, and his garment white — sparkling.

<sup>30</sup> And lo, two men were speaking together with him, who were Moses and Elijah,

<sup>31</sup> who having appeared in glory, spake of his outgoing that he was about to fulfil in Jerusalem,

<sup>32</sup> but Peter and those with him were heavy with sleep, and having waked, they saw his glory, and the two men standing with him.

<sup>33</sup> And it came to pass, in their parting from him, Peter said unto Jesus, 'Master, it is good to us to be here; and we may make three booths, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah,' not knowing what he saith:

<sup>34</sup> and as he was speaking these things, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them, and they feared in their entering into the cloud,

<sup>35</sup> and a voice came out of the cloud saying, 'This is My Son — the Beloved; hear ye him;'

<sup>36</sup> and when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone; and they were silent, and declared to no one in those days anything of what they have seen.

<sup>37</sup> And it came to pass on the next day, they having come down from the mount, there met him a great multitude,

<sup>38</sup> and lo, a man from the multitude cried out, saying, 'Teacher, I beseech thee, look upon my son, because he is my only begotten;

<sup>39</sup> and lo, a spirit doth take him, and suddenly he doth cry out, and it teareth him, with foaming, and it hardly departeth from him, bruising him,

<sup>40</sup> and I besought thy disciples that they might cast it out, and they were not able.'

<sup>41</sup> And Jesus answering said, 'O generation, unstedfast and perverse, till when shall I be with you, and suffer you? bring near hither thy son;'

<sup>42</sup> and as he is yet coming near, the demon rent him, and tore [him] sore, and Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the youth, and gave him back to his father.

<sup>43</sup> And they were all amazed at the greatness of God, and while all are wondering at all things that Jesus did, he said unto his disciples,

<sup>44</sup> 'Lay ye to your ears these words, for the Son of Man is about to be delivered up to the hands of men.'

<sup>45</sup> And they were not knowing this saying, and it was veiled from them, that they might not perceive it, and they were afraid to ask him about this saying.

<sup>46</sup> And there entered a reasoning among them, this, Who may be greater of them?

<sup>47</sup> and Jesus having seen the reasoning of their heart, having taken hold of a child, set him beside himself,

<sup>48</sup> and said to them, 'Whoever may receive this child in my name, doth receive me, and whoever may receive me, doth receive Him who sent me, for he who is least among you all — he shall be great.'

<sup>49</sup> And John answering said, 'Master, we saw a certain one in thy name casting forth the demons, and we forbade him, because he doth not follow with us;'

<sup>50</sup> and Jesus said unto him, 'Forbid not, for he who is not against us, is for us.'

<sup>52</sup> and he sent messengers before his face, and having gone on, they went into a village of Samaritans, to make ready for him,

<sup>53</sup> and they did not receive him, because his face was going on to Jerusalem.

<sup>54</sup> And his disciples James and John having seen, said, 'Sir, wilt thou [that] we may command fire to come down from the heaven, and to consume them, as also Elijah did?'

<sup>55</sup> and having turned, he rebuked them, and said, 'Ye have not known of what spirit ye are;

<sup>56</sup> for the Son of Man did not come to destroy men's lives, but to save;' and they went on to another village.

<sup>57</sup> And it came to pass, as they are going on in the way, a certain one said unto him, 'I will follow thee wherever thou mayest go, sir;'

<sup>58</sup> and Jesus said to him, 'The foxes have holes, and the fowls of the heaven places of rest, but the Son of Man hath not where he may recline the head.'

<sup>59</sup> And he said unto another, 'Be following me;' and he said, 'Sir, permit me, having gone away, first to bury my father;'

<sup>60</sup> and Jesus said to him, 'Suffer the dead to bury their own dead, and thou, having gone away, publish the reign of God.'

<sup>61</sup> And another also said, 'I will follow thee, sir, but first permit me to take leave of those in my house;'

<sup>62</sup> and Jesus said unto him, 'No one having put his hand on a plough, and looking back, is fit for the reign of God.'

10

<sup>1</sup> And after these things, the Lord did appoint also other seventy, and sent them by twos before his face, to every city and place whither he himself was about to come,

<sup>2</sup> then said he unto them, 'The harvest indeed [is] abundant, but the workmen few; beseech ye then the Lord of the harvest, that He may put forth workmen to His harvest.

<sup>3</sup> 'Go away; lo, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves;

<sup>6</sup> and if indeed there may be there the son of peace, rest on it shall your peace; and if not so, upon you it shall turn back.

<sup>7</sup> 'And in that house remain, eating and drinking the things they have, for worthy [is] the workman of his hire; go not from house to house,

<sup>8</sup> and into whatever city ye enter, and they may receive you, eat the things set before you,

<sup>9</sup> and heal the ailing in it, and say to them, The reign of God hath come nigh to you.

<sup>10</sup> 'And into whatever city ye do enter, and they may not receive you, having gone forth to its broad places, say,

<sup>11</sup> And the dust that hath cleaved to us, from your city, we do wipe off against you, but this know ye, that the reign of God hath come nigh to you;

<sup>12</sup> and I say to you, that for Sodom in that day it shall be more tolerable than for that city.

<sup>13</sup> 'Woe to thee, Chorazin; woe to thee, Bethsaida; for if in Tyre and Sidon had been done the mighty works that were done in you, long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes, they had reformed;

<sup>14</sup> but for Tyre and Sidon it shall be more tolerable in the judgment than for you.

<sup>15</sup> 'And thou, Capernaum, which unto the heaven wast exalted, unto hades thou shalt be brought down.

<sup>16</sup> 'He who is hearing you, doth hear me; and he who is putting you away, doth put me away; and he who is putting me away, doth put away Him who sent me.'

<sup>17</sup> And the seventy turned back with joy, saying, 'Sir, and the demons are being subjected to us in thy name;'

<sup>18</sup> and he said to them, 'I was beholding the Adversary, as lightning from the heaven having fallen;

<sup>19</sup> lo, I give to you the authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and on all the power of the enemy, and nothing by any means shall hurt you;

<sup>20</sup> but, in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subjected to you, but rejoice rather that your names were written in the heavens.'

<sup>21</sup> In that hour was Jesus glad in the Spirit, and said, 'I do confess to thee, Father, Lord of the heaven and of the earth, that Thou didst hide these things from wise men and understanding, and didst reveal them to babes; yes, Father, because so it became good pleasure before Thee.

<sup>22</sup> 'All things were delivered up to me by my Father, and no one doth know who the Son is, except the Father, and who the Father is, except the Son, and he to whom the Son may wish to reveal [Him].'

<sup>23</sup> And having turned unto the disciples, he said, by themselves, 'Happy the eyes that are perceiving what ye perceive;

<sup>24</sup> for I say to you, that many prophets and kings did wish to see what ye perceive, and did not see, and to hear what ye hear, and did not hear.'

<sup>26</sup> And he said unto him, 'In the law what hath been written? how dost thou read?'

<sup>27</sup> And he answering said, 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God out of all thy heart, and out of all thy soul, and out of all thy strength, and out of all thy understanding, and thy neighbour as thyself.'

<sup>28</sup> And he said to him, 'Rightly thou didst answer; this do, and thou shalt live.'

<sup>29</sup> And he, willing to declare himself righteous, said unto Jesus, 'And who is my neighbour?'

<sup>30</sup> and Jesus having taken up [the word], said, 'A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among robbers, and having stripped him and inflicted blows, they went away, leaving [him] half dead.'

<sup>31</sup> 'And by a coincidence a certain priest was going down in that way, and having seen him, he passed over on the opposite side;

<sup>32</sup> and in like manner also, a Levite, having been about the place, having come and seen, passed over on the opposite side.

<sup>33</sup> 'But a certain Samaritan, journeying, came along him, and having seen him, he was moved with compassion,

<sup>34</sup> and having come near, he bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine, and having lifted him up on his own beast, he brought him to an inn, and was careful of him;

<sup>35</sup> and on the morrow, going forth, taking out two denaries, he gave to the innkeeper, and said to him, 'Be careful of him, and whatever thou mayest spend more, I, in my coming again, will give back to thee.'

<sup>36</sup> 'Who, then, of these three, seemeth to thee to have become neighbour of him who fell among the robbers?'

<sup>37</sup> and he said, 'He who did the kindness with him,' then Jesus said to him, 'Be going on, and thou be doing in like manner.'

<sup>38</sup> And it came to pass, in their going on, that he entered into a certain village, and a certain woman, by name Martha, did receive him into her house,

<sup>39</sup> and she had also a sister, called Mary, who also, having seated herself beside the feet of Jesus, was hearing the word,

<sup>40</sup> and Martha was distracted about much serving, and having stood by him, she said, 'Sir, dost thou not care that my sister left me alone to serve? say then to her, that she may partake along with me.'

<sup>41</sup> And Jesus answering said to her, 'Martha, Martha, thou art anxious and disquieted about many things,

<sup>42</sup> but of one thing there is need, and Mary the good part did choose, that shall not be taken away from her.'

11

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, in his being in a certain place praying, as he ceased, a certain one of his disciples said unto him, 'Sir, teach us to pray, as also John taught his disciples.'

<sup>2</sup> And he said to them, 'When ye may pray, say ye: Our Father who art in the heavens; hallowed be Thy name: Thy reign come; Thy will come to pass, as in heaven also on earth;

- <sup>3</sup> our appointed bread be giving us daily;
<sup>4</sup> and forgive us our sins, for also we ourselves forgive every one indebted to us; and mayest Thou not bring us into temptation; but do Thou deliver us from the evil.'
- <sup>5</sup> And he said unto them, 'Who of you shall have a friend, and shall go on unto him at midnight, and may say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves,
<sup>6</sup> seeing a friend of mine came out of the way unto me, and I have not what I shall set before him,
<sup>7</sup> and he from within answering may say, Do not give me trouble, already the door hath been shut, and my children with me are in the bed, I am not able, having risen, to give to thee.
<sup>8</sup> 'I say to you, even if he will not give to him, having risen, because of his being his friend, yet because of his importunity, having risen, he will give him as many as he doth need;
<sup>9</sup> and I say to you, Ask, and it shall be given to you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened to you;
<sup>10</sup> for every one who is asking doth receive; and he who is seeking doth find; and to him who is knocking it shall be opened.
<sup>11</sup> 'And of which of you – the father – if the son shall ask a loaf, a stone will he present to him? and if a fish, will he instead of a fish, a serpent present to him?
<sup>12</sup> and if he may ask an egg, will he present to him a scorpion?
<sup>13</sup> If, then, ye, being evil, have known good gifts to be giving to your children, how much more shall the Father who is from heaven give the Holy Spirit to those asking Him!'
<sup>14</sup> And he was casting forth a demon, and it was dumb, and it came to pass, the demon having gone forth, the dumb man spake, and the multitudes wondered,
<sup>15</sup> and certain of them said, 'By Beelzeboul, ruler of the demons, he doth cast forth the demons;'
<sup>16</sup> and others, tempting, a sign out of heaven from him were asking.
<sup>17</sup> And he, knowing their thoughts, said to them, 'Every kingdom having been divided against itself is desolated; and house against house doth fall;
<sup>18</sup> and if also the Adversary against himself was divided, how shall his kingdom be made to stand? for ye say, by Beelzeboul is my casting forth the demons.
<sup>19</sup> 'But if I by Beelzeboul cast forth the demons – your sons, by whom do they cast forth? because of this your judges they shall be;
<sup>20</sup> but if by the finger of God I cast forth the demons, then come unawares upon you did the reign of God.
<sup>21</sup> 'When the strong man armed may keep his hall, in peace are his goods;
<sup>22</sup> but when the stronger than he, having come upon [him], may overcome him, his whole-armour he doth take away in which he had trusted, and his spoils he distributeth;
<sup>23</sup> he who is not with me is against me, and he who is not gathering with me doth scatter.
<sup>24</sup> 'When the unclean spirit may go forth from the man it walketh through waterless places seeking rest, and not finding, it saith, I will turn back to my house whence I came forth;
<sup>25</sup> and having come, it findeth [it] swept and adorned;
<sup>26</sup> then doth it go, and take to it seven other spirits more evil than itself, and having entered, they dwell there, and the last of that man becometh worst than the first.'

<sup>27</sup> And it came to pass, in his saying these things, a certain woman having lifted up the voice out of the multitude, said to him, 'Happy the womb that carried thee, and the paps that thou didst suck!'

<sup>28</sup> And he said, 'Yea, rather, happy those hearing the word of God, and keeping [it]!'

<sup>29</sup> And the multitudes crowding together upon him, he began to say, 'This generation is evil, a sign it doth seek after, and a sign shall not be given to it, except the sign of Jonah the prophet,

<sup>30</sup> for as Jonah became a sign to the Ninevites, so also shall the Son of Man be to this generation.

<sup>33</sup> 'And no one having lighted a lamp, doth put [it] in a secret place, nor under the measure, but on the lamp-stand, that those coming in may behold the light.

<sup>34</sup> 'The lamp of the body is the eye, when then thine eye may be simple, thy whole body also is lightened; and when it may be evil, thy body also is darkened;

<sup>35</sup> take heed, then, lest the light that [is] in thee be darkness;

<sup>36</sup> if then thy whole body is lightened, not having any part darkened, the whole shall be lightened, as when the lamp by the brightness may give thee light.'

<sup>37</sup> And in [his] speaking, a certain Pharisee was asking him that he might dine with him, and having gone in, he reclined (at meat),

<sup>38</sup> and the Pharisee having seen, did wonder that he did not first baptize himself before the dinner.

<sup>39</sup> And the Lord said unto him, 'Now do ye, the Pharisees, the outside of the cup and of the plate make clean, but your inward part is full of rapine and wickedness;

<sup>40</sup> unthinking! did not He who made the outside also the inside make?

<sup>41</sup> But what ye have give ye [as] alms, and, lo, all things are clean to you.

<sup>42</sup> 'But woe to you, the Pharisees, because ye tithe the mint, and the rue, and every herb, and ye pass by the judgment, and the love of God; these things it behoveth to do, and those not to be neglecting.

<sup>43</sup> 'Woe to you, the Pharisees, because ye love the first seats in the synagogues, and the salutations in the market-places.

<sup>44</sup> 'Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because ye are as the unseen tombs, and the men walking above have not known.'

<sup>46</sup> and he said, 'And to you, the lawyers, woe! because ye burden men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves with one of your fingers do not touch the burdens.

<sup>48</sup> Then do ye testify, and are well pleased with the works of your fathers, because they indeed killed them, and ye do build their tombs;

<sup>49</sup> because of this also the wisdom of God said: I will send to them prophets, and apostles, and some of them they shall kill and persecute,

<sup>50</sup> that the blood of all the prophets, that is being poured forth from the foundation of the world, may be required from this generation;

<sup>51</sup> from the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, who perished between the altar and the house; yes, I say to you, It shall be required from this generation.

<sup>52</sup> 'Woe to you, the lawyers, because ye took away the key of the knowledge; yourselves ye did not enter; and those coming in, ye did hinder.'

<sup>53</sup> And in his speaking these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began fearfully to urge and to press him to speak about many things, <sup>54</sup> laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

12

<sup>2</sup> and there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known;

<sup>3</sup> because whatever in the darkness ye said, in the light shall be heard: and what to the ear ye spake in the inner-chambers, shall be proclaimed upon the house-tops.

<sup>4</sup> 'And I say to you, my friends, be not afraid of those killing the body, and after these things are not having anything over to do;

<sup>5</sup> but I will show to you, whom ye may fear; Fear him who, after the killing, is having authority to cast to the gehenna; yes, I say to you, Fear ye Him.

<sup>6</sup> 'Are not five sparrows sold for two assars? and one of them is not forgotten before God, <sup>7</sup> but even the hairs of your head have been all numbered; therefore fear ye not, than many sparrows ye are of more value.

<sup>8</sup> 'And I say to you, Every one — whoever may confess with me before men, the Son of Man also shall confess with him before the messengers of God,

<sup>9</sup> and he who hath denied me before men, shall be denied before the messengers of God,

<sup>10</sup> and every one whoever shall say a word to the Son of Man, it shall be forgiven to him, but to him who to the Holy Spirit did speak evil, it shall not be forgiven.

<sup>11</sup> 'And when they bring you before the synagogues, and the rulers, and the authorities, be not anxious how or what ye may reply, or what ye may say,

<sup>12</sup> for the Holy Spirit shall teach you in that hour what it behoveth [you] to say.'

<sup>13</sup> And a certain one said to him, out of the multitude, 'Teacher, say to my brother to divide with me the inheritance.'

<sup>14</sup> And he said to him, 'Man, who set me a judge or a divider over you?'

<sup>15</sup> And he said unto them, 'Observe, and beware of the covetousness, because not in the abundance of one's goods is his life.'

<sup>16</sup> And he spake a simile unto them, saying, 'Of a certain rich man the field brought forth well;

<sup>17</sup> and he was reasoning within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have not where I shall gather together my fruits?

<sup>18</sup> and he said, This I will do, I will take down my storehouses, and greater ones I will build, and I will gather together there all my products and my good things, <sup>19</sup> and I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast many good things laid up for many years, be resting, eat, drink, be merry.

<sup>20</sup> 'And God said to him, Unthinking one! this night thy soul they shall require from thee, and what things thou didst prepare – to whom shall they be?

<sup>21</sup> so [is] he who is treasuring up to himself, and is not rich toward God.'

<sup>22</sup> And he said unto his disciples, 'Because of this, to you I say, Be not anxious for your life, what ye may eat; nor for the body, what ye may put on;

<sup>23</sup> the life is more than the nourishment, and the body than the clothing.

<sup>24</sup> 'Consider the ravens, that they sow not, nor reap, to which there is no barn nor storehouse, and God doth nourish them; how much better are ye than the fowls?

<sup>25</sup> and who of you, being anxious, is able to add to his age one cubit?

<sup>26</sup> If, then, ye are not able for the least – why for the rest are ye anxious?

<sup>27</sup> 'Consider the lilies, how do they grow? they labour not, nor do they spin, and I say to you, not even Solomon in all his glory was arrayed as one of these;

<sup>28</sup> and if the herbage in the field, that to-day is, and to-morrow into an oven is cast, God doth so clothe, how much more you – ye of little faith?

<sup>29</sup> 'And ye – seek not what ye may eat, or what ye may drink, and be not in suspense,

<sup>30</sup> for all these things do the nations of the world seek after, and your Father hath known that ye have need of these things;

<sup>31</sup> but, seek ye the reign of God, and all these things shall be added to you.

<sup>32</sup> 'Fear not, little flock, because your Father did delight to give you the reign;

<sup>33</sup> sell your goods, and give alms, make to yourselves bags that become not old, a treasure unfailing in the heavens, where thief doth not come near, nor moth destroy;

<sup>34</sup> for where your treasure is, there also your heart will be.

<sup>36</sup> and ye like to men waiting for their lord, when he shall return out of the wedding feasts, that he having come and knocked, immediately they may open to him.

<sup>37</sup> 'Happy those servants, whom the lord, having come, shall find watching; verily I say to you, that he will gird himself, and will cause them to recline (at meat), and having come near, will minister to them;

<sup>38</sup> and if he may come in the second watch, and in the third watch he may come, and may find [it] so, happy are those servants.

<sup>39</sup> 'And this know, that if the master of the house had known what hour the thief doth come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken through;

<sup>40</sup> and ye, then, become ye ready, because at the hour ye think not, the Son of Man doth come.'

<sup>41</sup> And Peter said to him, 'Sir, unto us this simile dost thou speak, or also unto all?'

<sup>42</sup> And the Lord said, 'Who, then, is the faithful and prudent steward whom the lord shall set over his household, to give in season the wheat measure?

<sup>43</sup> Happy that servant, whom his lord, having come, shall find doing so;

<sup>44</sup> truly I say to you, that over all his goods he will set him.

<sup>45</sup> 'And if that servant may say in his heart, My lord doth delay to come, and may begin to beat the men-servants and the maid-servants, to eat also, and to drink, and to be drunken;

<sup>46</sup> the lord of that servant will come in a day in which he doth not look for [him], and in an hour that he doth not know, and will cut him off, and his portion with the unfaithful he will appoint.

<sup>47</sup> 'And that servant, who having known his lord's will, and not having prepared, nor having gone according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes,

<sup>48</sup> and he who, not having known, and having done things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few; and to every one to whom much was given, much shall be required from him; and to whom they did commit much, more abundantly they will ask of him.

<sup>49</sup> 'Fire I came to cast to the earth, and what will I if already it was kindled?

<sup>50</sup> but I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how am I pressed till it may be completed!

<sup>51</sup> 'Think ye that peace I came to give in the earth? no, I say to you, but rather division;

<sup>52</sup> for there shall be henceforth five in one house divided — three against two, and two against three;

<sup>53</sup> a father shall be divided against a son, and a son against a father, a mother against a daughter, and a daughter against a mother, a mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.'

<sup>54</sup> And he said also to the multitudes, 'When ye may see the cloud rising from the west, immediately ye say, A shower doth come, and it is so;

<sup>55</sup> and when — a south wind blowing, ye say, that there will be heat, and it is;

<sup>56</sup> hypocrites! the face of the earth and of the heaven ye have known to make proof of, but this time — how do ye not make proof of [it]?

<sup>57</sup> 'And why, also, of yourselves, judge ye not what is righteous?

<sup>58</sup> for, as thou art going away with thy opponent to the ruler, in the way give diligence to be released from him, lest he may drag thee unto the judge, and the judge may deliver thee to the officer, and the officer may cast thee into prison;

13

<sup>1</sup> And there were present certain at that time, telling him about the Galileans, whose blood Pilate did mingle with their sacrifices;

<sup>2</sup> and Jesus answering said to them, 'Think ye that these Galileans became sinners beyond all the Galileans, because they have suffered such things?

<sup>3</sup> No — I say to you, but, if ye may not reform, all ye even so shall perish.

<sup>4</sup> 'Or those eighteen, on whom the tower in Siloam fell, and killed them; think ye that these became debtors beyond all men who are dwelling in Jerusalem?

<sup>5</sup> No — I say to you, but, if ye may not reform, all ye in like manner shall perish.'

<sup>6</sup> And he spake this simile: 'A certain one had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit in it, and he did not find;

<sup>7</sup> and he said unto the vine-dresser, Lo, three years I come seeking fruit in this fig-tree, and do not find, cut it off, why also the ground doth it render useless?

<sup>8</sup> 'And he answering saith to him, Sir, suffer it also this year, till that I may dig about it, and cast in dung;

<sup>9</sup> and if indeed it may bear fruit – ;and if not so, thereafter thou shalt cut it off.'

<sup>10</sup> And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath,

<sup>11</sup> and lo, there was a woman having a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and she was bowed together, and not able to bend back at all,

<sup>12</sup> and Jesus having seen her, did call [her] near, and said to her, 'Woman, thou hast been loosed from thy infirmity;'

<sup>13</sup> and he laid on her [his] hands, and presently she was set upright, and was glorifying God.

<sup>14</sup> And the chief of the synagogue answering – much displeased that on the sabbath Jesus healed – said to the multitude, 'Six days there are in which it behoveth [us] to be working; in these, then, coming, be healed, and not on the sabbath-day.'

<sup>15</sup> Then the Lord answered him and said, 'Hypocrite, doth not each of you on the sabbath loose his ox or ass from the stall, and having led away, doth water [it]?

<sup>16</sup> and this one, being a daughter of Abraham, whom the Adversary bound, lo, eighteen years, did it not behove to be loosed from this bond on the sabbath-day?'

<sup>17</sup> And he saying these things, all who were opposed to him were being ashamed, and all the multitude were rejoicing over all the glorious things that are being done by him.

<sup>18</sup> And he said, 'To what is the reign of God like? and to what shall I liken it?

<sup>19</sup> It is like to a grain of mustard, which a man having taken, did cast into his garden, and it increased, and came to a great tree, and the fowls of the heavens did rest in its branches.'

<sup>20</sup> And again he said, 'To what shall I liken the reign of God?

<sup>21</sup> It is like leaven, which a woman, having taken, did hide in three measures of meal, till that all was leavened.'

<sup>22</sup> And he was going through cities and villages, teaching, and making progress toward Jerusalem;

<sup>23</sup> and a certain one said to him, 'Sir, are those saved few?' and he said unto them,

<sup>24</sup> 'Be striving to go in through the straight gate, because many, I say to you, will seek to go in, and shall not be able;

<sup>25</sup> from the time the master of the house may have risen up, and may have shut the door, and ye may begin without to stand, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, lord, open to us, and he answering shall say to you, I have not known you whence ye are,

<sup>26</sup> then ye may begin to say, We did eat before thee, and did drink, and in our broad places thou didst teach;

<sup>27</sup> and he shall say, I say to you, I have not known you whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of the unrighteousness.

<sup>28</sup> 'There shall be there the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth, when ye may see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the reign of God, and yourselves being cast out without;

<sup>29</sup> and they shall come from east and west, and from north and south, and shall recline in the reign of God,

<sup>30</sup> and lo, there are last who shall be first, and there are first who shall be last.'

<sup>31</sup> On that day there came near certain Pharisees, saying to him, 'Go forth, and be going on hence, for Herod doth wish to kill thee;'

<sup>32</sup> and he said to them, 'Having gone, say to this fox, Lo, I cast forth demons, and perfect cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third [day] I am being perfected;

<sup>33</sup> but it behoveth me to-day, and to-morrow, and the [day] following, to go on, because it is not possible for a prophet to perish out of Jerusalem.

<sup>35</sup> 'Lo, your house is being left to you desolate, and verily I say to you — ye may not see me, till it may come, when ye may say, Blessed [is] he who is coming in the name of the Lord.'

14

<sup>2</sup> and lo, there was a certain dropsical man before him;

<sup>3</sup> and Jesus answering spake to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, 'Is it lawful on the sabbath-day to heal?'

<sup>4</sup> and they were silent, and having taken hold of [him], he healed him, and let [him] go;

<sup>5</sup> and answering them he said, 'Of which of you shall an ass or ox fall into a pit, and he will not immediately draw it up on the sabbath-day?'

<sup>6</sup> and they were not able to answer him again unto these things.

<sup>7</sup> And he spake a simile unto those called, marking how they were choosing out the first couches, saying unto them,

<sup>8</sup> 'When thou mayest be called by any one to marriage-feasts, thou mayest not recline on the first couch, lest a more honourable than thou may have been called by him,

<sup>9</sup> and he who did call thee and him having come shall say to thee, Give to this one place, and then thou mayest begin with shame to occupy the last place.

<sup>10</sup> 'But, when thou mayest be called, having gone on, recline in the last place, that when he who called thee may come, he may say to thee, Friend, come up higher; then thou shalt have glory before those reclining with thee;

<sup>11</sup> because every one who is exalting himself shall be humbled, and he who is humbling himself shall be exalted.'

<sup>12</sup> And he said also to him who did call him, 'When thou mayest make a dinner or a supper, be not calling thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kindred, nor rich neighbours, lest they may also call thee again, and a recompense may come to thee;

<sup>13</sup> but when thou mayest make a feast, be calling poor, maimed, lame, blind,

<sup>14</sup> and happy thou shalt be, because they have not to recompense thee, for it shall be recompensed to thee in the rising again of the righteous.'

<sup>15</sup> And one of those reclining with him, having heard these things, said to him, 'Happy [is] he who shall eat bread in the reign of God;'

<sup>16</sup> and he said to him, 'A certain man made a great supper, and called many,
<sup>17</sup> and he sent his servant at the hour of the supper to say to those having been called, Be coming, because now are all things ready.

<sup>18</sup> 'And they began with one consent all to excuse themselves: The first said to him, A field I bought, and I have need to go forth and see it; I beg of thee, have me excused.

<sup>19</sup> 'And another said, Five yoke of oxen I bought, and I go on to prove them; I beg of thee, have me excused:

<sup>20</sup> and another said, A wife I married, and because of this I am not able to come.

<sup>21</sup> 'And that servant having come, told to his lord these things, then the master of the house, having been angry, said to his servant, Go forth quickly to the broad places and lanes of the city, and the poor, and maimed, and lame, and blind, bring in hither.

<sup>22</sup> 'And the servant said, Sir, it hath been done as thou didst command, and still there is room.

<sup>23</sup> 'And the lord said unto the servant, Go forth to the ways and hedges, and constrain to come in, that my house may be filled;

<sup>24</sup> for I say to you, that none of those men who have been called shall taste of my supper.'

<sup>25</sup> And there were going on with him great multitudes, and having turned, he said unto them,

<sup>26</sup> 'If any one doth come unto me, and doth not hate his own father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brothers, and sisters, and yet even his own life, he is not able to be my disciple;

<sup>27</sup> and whoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, is not able to be my disciple.

<sup>29</sup> lest that he having laid a foundation, and not being able to finish, all who are beholding may begin to mock him,

<sup>31</sup> 'Or what king going on to engage with another king in war, doth not, having sat down, first consult if he be able with ten thousand to meet him who with twenty thousand is coming against him?

<sup>32</sup> and if not so — he being yet a long way off — having sent an embassy, he doth ask the things for peace.

<sup>33</sup> 'So, then, every one of you who doth not take leave of all that he himself hath, is not able to be my disciple.

<sup>34</sup> 'The salt [is] good, but if the salt doth become tasteless, with what shall it be seasoned?

<sup>35</sup> neither for land nor for manure is it fit — they cast it without. He who is having ears to hear — let him hear.'

15

<sup>1</sup> And all the tax-gatherers and the sinners were coming nigh to him, to hear him,

<sup>2</sup> and the Pharisees and the scribes were murmuring, saying — This one doth receive sinners, and doth eat with them.'

<sup>4</sup> 'What man of you having a hundred sheep, and having lost one out of them, doth not leave behind the ninety-nine in the wilderness, and go on after the lost one, till he may find it?

<sup>6</sup> and having come to the house, he doth call together the friends and the neighbours, saying to them, Rejoice with me, because I found my sheep — the lost one.

<sup>7</sup> 'I say to you, that so joy shall be in the heaven over one sinner reforming, rather than over ninety-nine righteous men, who have no need of reformation.

<sup>8</sup> 'Or what woman having ten drachms, if she may lose one drachm, doth not light a lamp, and sweep the house, and seek carefully till that she may find?

<sup>9</sup> and having found, she doth call together the female friends and the neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me, for I found the drachm that I lost.

<sup>10</sup> 'So I say to you, joy doth come before the messengers of God over one sinner reforming.'

<sup>11</sup> And he said, 'A certain man had two sons,

<sup>12</sup> and the younger of them said to the father, Father, give me the portion of the substance falling to [me], and he divided to them the living.

<sup>13</sup> 'And not many days after, having gathered all together, the younger son went abroad to a far country, and there he scattered his substance, living riotously;

<sup>14</sup> and he having spent all, there came a mighty famine on that country, and himself began to be in want;

<sup>15</sup> and having gone on, he joined himself to one of the citizens of that country, and he sent him to the fields to feed swine,

<sup>16</sup> and he was desirous to fill his belly from the husks that the swine were eating, and no one was giving to him.

<sup>17</sup> 'And having come to himself, he said, How many hirelings of my father have a superabundance of bread, and I here with hunger am perishing!

<sup>18</sup> having risen, I will go on unto my father, and will say to him, Father, I did sin — to the heaven, and before thee,

<sup>19</sup> and no more am I worthy to be called thy son; make me as one of thy hirelings.

<sup>20</sup> 'And having risen, he went unto his own father, and he being yet far distant, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and having ran he fell upon his neck and kissed him;

<sup>21</sup> and the son said to him, Father, I did sin — to the heaven, and before thee, and no more am I worthy to be called thy son.

<sup>22</sup> 'And the father said unto his servants, Bring forth the first robe, and clothe him, and give a ring for his hand, and sandals for the feet;

<sup>23</sup> and having brought the fatted calf, kill [it], and having eaten, we may be merry,

<sup>24</sup> because this my son was dead, and did live again, and he was lost, and was found; and they began to be merry.

<sup>25</sup> 'And his elder son was in a field, and as, coming, he drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing,

<sup>26</sup> and having called near one of the young men, he was inquiring what these things might be,

<sup>27</sup> and he said to him — Thy brother is arrived, and thy father did kill the fatted calf, because in health he did receive him back.

<sup>28</sup> 'And he was angry, and would not go in, therefore his father, having come forth, was entreating him;

<sup>29</sup> and he answering said to the father, Lo, so many years I do serve thee, and never thy command did I transgress, and to me thou didst never give a kid, that with my friends I might make merry;

<sup>30</sup> but when thy son — this one who did devour thy living with harlots — came, thou didst kill to him the fatted calf.

<sup>31</sup> 'And he said to him, Child, thou art always with me, and all my things are thine;

<sup>32</sup> but to be merry, and to be glad, it was needful, because this thy brother was dead, and did live again, he was lost, and was found.'

16

<sup>1</sup> And he said also unto his disciples, 'A certain man was rich, who had a steward, and he was accused to him as scattering his goods;

<sup>2</sup> and having called him, he said to him, What [is] this I hear about thee? render the account of thy stewardship, for thou mayest not any longer be steward.

<sup>3</sup> 'And the steward said in himself, What shall I do, because my lord doth take away the stewardship from me? to dig I am not able, to beg I am ashamed: —

<sup>4</sup> I have known what I shall do, that, when I may be removed from the stewardship, they may receive me to their houses.

<sup>5</sup> 'And having called near each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How much dost thou owe to my lord?

<sup>6</sup> and he said, A hundred baths of oil; and he said to him, Take thy bill, and having sat down write fifty.

<sup>7</sup> 'Afterward to another he said, And thou, how much dost thou owe? and he said, A hundred cors of wheat; and he saith to him, Take thy bill, and write eighty.

<sup>8</sup> 'And the lord commended the unrighteous steward that he did prudently, because the sons of this age are more prudent than the sons of the light, in respect to their generation.

<sup>9</sup> and I say to you, Make to yourselves friends out of the mammon of unrighteousness, that when ye may fail, they may receive you to the age-during tabernacles.

<sup>10</sup> 'He who is faithful in the least, [is] also faithful in much; and he who in the least [is] unrighteous, is also unrighteous in much;

<sup>11</sup> if, then, in the unrighteous mammon ye became not faithful — the true who will entrust to you?

<sup>12</sup> and if in the other's ye became not faithful — your own, who shall give to you?

<sup>13</sup> 'No domestic is able to serve two lords, for either the one he will hate, and the other he will love; or one he will hold to, and of the other he will be heedless; ye are not able to serve God and mammon.'

<sup>14</sup> And also the Pharisees, being lovers of money, were hearing all these things, and were deriding him,

<sup>15</sup> and he said to them, 'Ye are those declaring yourselves righteous before men, but God doth know your hearts; because that which among men is high, [is] abomination before God;

<sup>16</sup> the law and the prophets [are] till John; since then the reign of God is proclaimed good news, and every one doth press into it;

<sup>17</sup> and it is easier to the heaven and the earth to pass away, than of the law one tittle to fall.

<sup>19</sup> 'And — a certain man was rich, and was clothed in purple and fine linen, making merry sumptuously every day,

<sup>20</sup> and there was a certain poor man, by name Lazarus, who was laid at his porch, full of sores,

<sup>21</sup> and desiring to be filled from the crumbs that are falling from the table of the rich man; yea, also the dogs, coming, were licking his sores.

<sup>22</sup> 'And it came to pass, that the poor man died, and that he was carried away by the messengers to the bosom of Abraham — and the rich man also died, and was buried;

<sup>23</sup> and in the hades having lifted up his eyes, being in torments, he doth see Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom,

<sup>24</sup> and having cried, he said, Father Abraham, deal kindly with me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and may cool my tongue, because I am distressed in this flame.

<sup>25</sup> 'And Abraham said, Child, remember that thou did receive — thou — thy good things in thy life, and Lazarus in like manner the evil things, and now he is comforted, and thou art distressed;

<sup>26</sup> and besides all these things, between us and you a great chasm is fixed, so that they who are willing to go over from hence unto you are not able, nor do they from thence to us pass through.

<sup>27</sup> 'And he said, I pray thee, then, father, that thou mayest send him to the house of my father, <sup>28</sup> for I have five brothers, so that he may thoroughly testify to them, that they also may not come to this place of torment.

<sup>29</sup> 'Abraham saith to him, They have Moses and the prophets, let them hear them;

<sup>30</sup> and he said, No, father Abraham, but if any one from the dead may go unto them, they will reform.

<sup>31</sup> And he said to him, If Moses and the prophets they do not hear, neither if one may rise out of the dead will they be persuaded.'

17

<sup>1</sup> And he said unto the disciples, 'It is impossible for the stumbling blocks not to come, but woe [to him] through whom they come;

<sup>2</sup> it is more profitable to him if a weighty millstone is put round about his neck, and he hath been cast into the sea, than that he may cause one of these little ones to stumble.

<sup>3</sup> 'Take heed to yourselves, and, if thy brother may sin in regard to thee, rebuke him, and if he may reform, forgive him,

<sup>4</sup> and if seven times in the day he may sin against thee, and seven times in the day may turn back to thee, saying, I reform; thou shalt forgive him.'

<sup>6</sup> and the Lord said, 'If ye had faith as a grain of mustard, ye would have said to this sycamine, Be uprooted, and be planted in the sea, and it would have obeyed you.

<sup>7</sup> 'But, who is he of you — having a servant ploughing or feeding — who, to him having come in out of the field, will say, Having come near, recline at meat?

<sup>8</sup> but will not [rather] say to him, Prepare what I may sup, and having girded thyself about, minister to me, till I eat and drink, and after these things thou shalt eat and drink?

<sup>9</sup> Hath he favour to that servant because he did the things directed? I think not.

<sup>10</sup> 'So also ye, when ye may have done all the things directed you, say — We are unprofitable servants, because that which we owed to do — we have done.'

<sup>11</sup> And it came to pass, in his going on to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee,

<sup>12</sup> and he entering into a certain village, there met him ten leprous men, who stood afar off,

<sup>14</sup> and having seen [them], he said to them, 'Having gone on, shew yourselves to the priests;' and it came to pass, in their going, they were cleansed,

<sup>15</sup> and one of them having seen that he was healed did turn back, with a loud voice glorifying God,

<sup>16</sup> and he fell upon [his] face at his feet, giving thanks to him, and he was a Samaritan.

<sup>17</sup> And Jesus answering said, 'Were not the ten cleansed, and the nine — where?'

<sup>19</sup> and he said to him, 'Having risen, be going on, thy faith hath saved thee.'

<sup>20</sup> And having been questioned by the Pharisees, when the reign of God doth come, he answered them, and said, 'The reign of God doth not come with observation;

<sup>21</sup> nor shall they say, Lo, here; or lo, there; for lo, the reign of God is within you.'

<sup>22</sup> And he said unto his disciples, 'Days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of Man, and ye shall not behold [it];'

<sup>23</sup> and they shall say to you, Lo, here; or lo, there; ye may not go away, nor follow;

<sup>24</sup> for as the lightning that is lightening out of the one [part] under heaven, to the other part under heaven doth shine, so shall be also the Son of Man in his day;

<sup>25</sup> and first it behoveth him to suffer many things, and to be rejected by this generation.

<sup>26</sup> 'And, as it came to pass in the days of Noah, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of Man;

<sup>27</sup> they were eating, they were drinking, they were marrying, they were given in marriage, till the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the deluge came, and destroyed all;

<sup>28</sup> in like manner also, as it came to pass in the days of Lot; they were eating, they were drinking, they were buying, they were selling, they were planting, they were building;

<sup>29</sup> and on the day Lot went forth from Sodom, He rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed all.

<sup>30</sup> 'According to these things it shall be, in the day the Son of Man is revealed;

<sup>31</sup> in that day, he who shall be on the house top, and his vessels in the house, let him not come down to take them away; and he in the field, in like manner, let him not turn backward;

<sup>33</sup> Whoever may seek to save his life, shall lose it; and whoever may lose it, shall preserve it.

<sup>34</sup> 'I say to you, In that night, there shall be two men on one couch, the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left;

<sup>37</sup> And they answering say to him, 'Where, sir?' and he said to them, 'Where the body [is], there will the eagles be gathered together.'

18

<sup>1</sup> And he spake also a simile to them, that it behoveth [us] always to pray, and not to faint,

<sup>2</sup> saying, 'A certain judge was in a certain city — God he is not fearing, and man he is not regarding —

<sup>3</sup> and a widow was in that city, and she was coming unto him, saying, Do me justice on my opponent,

<sup>4</sup> and he would not for a time, but after these things he said in himself, Even if God I do not fear, and man do not regard,

<sup>7</sup> and shall not God execute the justice to His choice ones, who are crying unto Him day and night — bearing long in regard to them?

<sup>8</sup> I say to you, that He will execute the justice to them quickly; but the Son of Man having come, shall he find the faith upon the earth?'

<sup>9</sup> And he spake also unto certain who have been trusting in themselves that they were righteous, and have been despising the rest, this simile:

<sup>10</sup> 'Two men went up to the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee, and the other a tax-gatherer;

<sup>11</sup> the Pharisee having stood by himself, thus prayed: God, I thank Thee that I am not as the rest of men, rapacious, unrighteous, adulterers, or even as this tax-gatherer;

<sup>12</sup> I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all things — as many as I possess.

<sup>13</sup> 'And the tax-gatherer, having stood afar off, would not even the eyes lift up to the heaven, but was smiting on his breast, saying, God be propitious to me — the sinner!

<sup>14</sup> I say to you, this one went down declared righteous, to his house, rather than that one: for every one who is exalting himself shall be humbled, and he who is humbling himself shall be exalted.'

<sup>15</sup> And they were bringing near also the babes, that he may touch them, and the disciples having seen did rebuke them,

<sup>16</sup> and Jesus having called them near, said, 'Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the reign of God;

<sup>17</sup> verily I say to you, Whoever may not receive the reign of God as a little child, may not enter into it.'

<sup>18</sup> And a certain ruler questioned him, saying, 'Good teacher, what having done — shall I inherit life age-during?'

<sup>19</sup> And Jesus said to him, 'Why me dost thou call good? no one [is] good, except One — God;

<sup>21</sup> And he said, 'All these I did keep from my youth;'

<sup>22</sup> and having heard these things, Jesus said to him, 'Yet one thing to thee is lacking; all things — as many as thou hast — sell, and distribute to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come, be following me;'

<sup>23</sup> and he, having heard these things, became very sorrowful, for he was exceeding rich.

<sup>24</sup> And Jesus having seen him become very sorrowful, said, 'How hardly shall those having riches enter into the reign of God!

<sup>25</sup> for it is easier for a camel through the eye of a needle to enter, than for a rich man into the reign of God to enter.'

<sup>26</sup> And those who heard, said, 'And who is able to be saved?'

<sup>27</sup> and he said, 'The things impossible with men are possible with God.'

<sup>29</sup> and he said to them, 'Verily I say to you, that there is not one who left house, or parents, or brothers, or wife, or children, for the sake of the reign of God,

<sup>30</sup> who may not receive back manifold more in this time, and in the coming age, life age-during.'

<sup>31</sup> And having taken the twelve aside, he said unto them, 'Lo, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things shall be completed — that have been written through the prophets — to the Son of Man,

<sup>32</sup> for he shall be delivered up to the nations, and shall be mocked, and insulted, and spit upon,

<sup>33</sup> and having scourged they shall put him to death, and on the third day he shall rise again.'

<sup>34</sup> And they none of these things understood, and this saying was hid from them, and they were not knowing the things said.

<sup>35</sup> And it came to pass, in his coming nigh to Jericho, a certain blind man was sitting beside the way begging,

<sup>36</sup> and having heard a multitude going by, he was inquiring what this may be,

<sup>37</sup> and they brought him word that Jesus the Nazarene doth pass by,

<sup>38</sup> and he cried out, saying, 'Jesus, Son of David, deal kindly with me;'

<sup>39</sup> and those going before were rebuking him, that he might be silent, but he was much more crying out, 'Son of David, deal kindly with me.'

<sup>40</sup> And Jesus having stood, commanded him to be brought unto him, and he having come nigh, he questioned him,

<sup>41</sup> saying, 'What wilt thou I shall do to thee?' and he said, 'Sir, that I may receive sight.'

<sup>42</sup> And Jesus said to him, 'Receive thy sight; thy faith hath saved thee;'

<sup>43</sup> and presently he did receive sight, and was following him, glorifying God; and all the people, having seen, did give praise to God.

19

<sup>2</sup> and lo, a man, by name called Zaccheus, and he was a chief tax-gatherer, and he was rich,

<sup>3</sup> and he was seeking to see Jesus, who he is, and was not able for the multitude, because in stature he was small,

<sup>4</sup> and having run forward before, he went up on a sycamore, that he may see him, because through that [way] he was about to pass by.

<sup>5</sup> And as Jesus came up to the place, having looked up, he saw him, and said unto him, 'Zaccheus, having hastened, come down, for to-day in thy house it behoveth me to remain;'

<sup>6</sup> and he having hastened did come down, and did receive him rejoicing;

<sup>7</sup> and having seen [it], they were all murmuring, saying — 'With a sinful man he went in to lodge!'

<sup>8</sup> And Zaccheus having stood, said unto the Lord, 'Lo, the half of my goods, sir, I give to the poor, and if of any one anything I did take by false accusation, I give back fourfold.'

<sup>9</sup> And Jesus said unto him — 'To-day salvation did come to this house, inasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham;

<sup>10</sup> for the Son of Man came to seek and to save the lost.'

<sup>11</sup> And while they are hearing these things, having added he spake a simile, because of his being nigh to Jerusalem, and of their thinking that the reign of God is about presently to be made manifest.

<sup>12</sup> He said therefore, 'A certain man of birth went on to a far country, to take to himself a kingdom, and to return,

<sup>13</sup> and having called ten servants of his own, he gave to them ten pounds, and said unto them, Do business — till I come;

<sup>14</sup> and his citizens were hating him, and did send an embassy after him, saying, We do not wish this one to reign over us.

<sup>15</sup> 'And it came to pass, on his coming back, having taken the kingdom, that he commanded these servants to be called to him, to whom he gave the money, that he might know what any one had done in business.

<sup>16</sup> 'And the first came near, saying, Sir, thy pound did gain ten pounds;

<sup>17</sup> and he said to him, Well done, good servant, because in a very little thou didst become faithful, be having authority over ten cities.

<sup>18</sup> 'And the second came, saying, Sir, thy pound made five pounds;

<sup>19</sup> and he said also to this one, And thou, become thou over five cities.

<sup>20</sup> 'And another came, saying, Sir, lo, thy pound, that I had lying away in a napkin;

<sup>21</sup> for I was afraid of thee, because thou art an austere man; thou takest up what thou didst not lay down, and reapest what thou didst not sow.

<sup>22</sup> 'And he saith to him, Out of thy mouth I will judge thee, evil servant: thou knewest that I am an austere man, taking up what I did not lay down, and reaping what I did not sow!

<sup>23</sup> and wherefore didst thou not give my money to the bank, and I, having come, with interest might have received it?

<sup>24</sup> 'And to those standing by he said, Take from him the pound, and give to him having the ten pounds —

<sup>25</sup> (and they said to him, Sir, he hath ten pounds) —

<sup>26</sup> for I say to you, that to every one having shall be given, and from him not having, also what he hath shall be taken from him,

<sup>27</sup> but those my enemies, who did not wish me to reign over them, bring hither and slay before me.'

<sup>29</sup> And it came to pass, as he came nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, unto the mount called of the Olives, he sent two of his disciples,

<sup>32</sup> And those sent, having gone away, found according as he said to them,

<sup>33</sup> and while they are loosing the colt, its owners said unto them, 'Why loose ye the colt?'

<sup>35</sup> and they brought it unto Jesus, and having cast their garments upon the colt, they did set Jesus upon it.

<sup>36</sup> And as he is going, they were spreading their garments in the way,

<sup>38</sup> saying, 'blessed [is] he who is coming, a king in the name of the Lord; peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.'

<sup>39</sup> And certain of the Pharisees from the multitude said unto him, 'Teacher, rebuke thy disciples;'

<sup>40</sup> and he answering said to them, 'I say to you, that, if these shall be silent, the stones will cry out!'

<sup>41</sup> And when he came nigh, having seen the city, he wept over it,

<sup>42</sup> saying — 'If thou didst know, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things for thy peace; but now they were hid from thine eyes.

<sup>44</sup> and lay thee low, and thy children within thee, and they shall not leave in thee a stone upon a stone, because thou didst not know the time of thy inspection.'

<sup>45</sup> And having entered into the temple, he began to cast forth those selling in it, and those buying,

<sup>46</sup> saying to them, 'It hath been written, My house is a house of prayer — but ye made it a den of robbers.'

<sup>47</sup> And he was teaching daily in the temple, but the chief priests and the scribes were seeking to destroy him — also the chiefs of the people —

<sup>48</sup> and they were not finding what they shall do, for all the people were hanging on him, hearing him.

20

<sup>2</sup> and spake unto him, saying, 'Tell us by what authority thou dost these things? or who is he that gave to thee this authority?'

<sup>3</sup> And he answering said unto them, 'I will question you — I also — one thing, and tell me:

<sup>5</sup> And they reasoned with themselves, saying — 'If we may say, From heaven, he will say, Wherefore, then, did ye not believe him?

<sup>6</sup> and if we may say, From men, all the people will stone us, for they are having been persuaded John to be a prophet.'

<sup>7</sup> And they answered, that they knew not whence [it was],

<sup>8</sup> and Jesus said to them, 'Neither do I say to you by what authority I do these things.'

<sup>9</sup> And he began to speak unto the people this simile: 'A certain man planted a vineyard, and gave it out to husbandmen, and went abroad for a long time,

<sup>10</sup> and at the season he sent unto the husbandmen a servant, that from the fruit of the vineyard they may give to him, but the husbandmen having beat him, did send [him] away empty.

<sup>11</sup> 'And he added to send another servant, and they that one also having beaten and dishonoured, did send away empty;

<sup>12</sup> and he added to send a third, and this one also, having wounded, they did cast out.

<sup>13</sup> 'And the owner of the vineyard said, What shall I do? I will send my son — the beloved, perhaps having seen this one, they will do reverence;

<sup>14</sup> and having seen him, the husbandmen reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir; come, we may kill him, that the inheritance may become ours;

<sup>15</sup> and having cast him outside of the vineyard, they killed [him]; what, then, shall the owner of the vineyard do to them?

<sup>16</sup> He will come, and destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard to others.' And having heard, they said, 'Let it not be!'

<sup>17</sup> and he, having looked upon them, said, 'What, then, is this that hath been written: A stone that the builders rejected — this became head of a corner?

<sup>18</sup> every one who hath fallen on that stone shall be broken, and on whom it may fall, it will crush him to pieces.'

<sup>19</sup> And the chief priests and the scribes sought to lay hands on him in that hour, and they feared the people, for they knew that against them he spake this simile.

<sup>21</sup> and they questioned him, saying, 'Teacher, we have known that thou dost say and teach rightly, and dost not accept a person, but in truth the way of God dost teach;

<sup>22</sup> Is it lawful to us to give tribute to Caesar or not?'

<sup>23</sup> And he, having perceived their craftiness, said unto them, 'Why me do ye tempt?

<sup>24</sup> shew me a denary; of whom hath it an image and superscription?' and they answering said, 'Of Caesar:'

<sup>25</sup> and he said to them, 'Give back, therefore, the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God;'

<sup>26</sup> and they were not able to take hold on his saying before the people, and having wondered at his answer, they were silent.

<sup>27</sup> And certain of the Sadducees, who are denying that there is a rising again, having come near, questioned him,

<sup>28</sup> saying, 'Teacher, Moses wrote to us, If any one's brother may die, having a wife, and he may die childless — that his brother may take the wife, and may raise up seed to his brother.

<sup>29</sup> 'There were, then, seven brothers, and the first having taken a wife, died childless,

<sup>30</sup> and the second took the wife, and he died childless,

<sup>31</sup> and the third took her, and in like manner also the seven — they left not children, and they died;

<sup>32</sup> and last of all died also the woman:
<sup>33</sup> in the rising again, then, of which of them doth she become wife? — for the seven had her as wife.'
<sup>34</sup> And Jesus answering said to them, 'The sons of this age do marry and are given in marriage,
<sup>35</sup> but those accounted worthy to obtain that age, and the rising again that is out of the dead, neither marry, nor are they given in marriage;
<sup>36</sup> for neither are they able to die any more — for they are like messengers — and they are sons of God, being sons of the rising again.
<sup>37</sup> 'And that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the Bush, since he doth call the Lord, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob;
<sup>38</sup> and He is not a God of dead men, but of living, for all live to Him.'
<sup>39</sup> And certain of the scribes answering said, 'Teacher, thou didst say well,' <sup>40</sup> and no more durst they question him anything.
<sup>41</sup> And he said unto them, 'How do they say the Christ to be son of David,
<sup>42</sup> and David himself saith in the Book of Psalms, The Lord said to my lord, Sit thou on my right hand,
<sup>43</sup> till I shall make thine enemies thy footstool;
<sup>44</sup> David, then, doth call him lord, and how is he his son?'
<sup>45</sup> And, all the people hearing, he said to his disciples,
<sup>46</sup> 'Take heed of the scribes, who are wishing to walk in long robes, and are loving salutations in the markets, and first seats in the synagogues, and first couches in the suppers,
<sup>47</sup> who devour the houses of the widows, and for a pretence make long prayers, these shall receive more abundant judgment.'

21

<sup>1</sup> And having looked up, he saw those who did cast their gifts to the treasury — rich men,
<sup>2</sup> and he saw also a certain poor widow casting there two mites,
<sup>3</sup> and he said, 'Truly I say to you, that this poor widow did cast in more than all;
<sup>4</sup> for all these out of their superabundance did cast into the gifts to God, but this one out of her want, all the living that she had, did cast in.'
<sup>5</sup> And certain saying about the temple, that with goodly stones and devoted things it hath been adorned, he said,
<sup>6</sup> 'These things that ye behold — days will come, in which there shall not be left a stone upon a stone, that shall not be thrown down.'
<sup>7</sup> And they questioned him, saying, 'Teacher, when, then, shall these things be? and what [is] the sign when these things may be about to happen?'
<sup>8</sup> And he said, 'See — ye may not be led astray, for many shall come in my name, saying — I am [he], and the time hath come nigh; go not on then after them;
<sup>9</sup> and when ye may hear of wars and uprisings, be not terrified, for it behoveth these things to happen first, but the end [is] not immediately.'
<sup>10</sup> Then said he to them, 'Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom,
<sup>11</sup> great shakings also in every place, and famines, and pestilences, there shall be; fearful things also, and great signs from heaven there shall be;

<sup>12</sup> and before all these, they shall lay on you their hands, and persecute, delivering up to synagogues and prisons, being brought before kings and governors for my name's sake;

<sup>13</sup> and it shall become to you for a testimony.

<sup>14</sup> 'Settle, then, to your hearts, not to meditate beforehand to reply,

<sup>15</sup> for I will give to you a mouth and wisdom that all your opposers shall not be able to refute or resist.

<sup>16</sup> 'And ye shall be delivered up also by parents, and brothers, and kindred, and friends, and they shall put of you to death;

<sup>20</sup> 'And when ye may see Jerusalem surrounded by encampments, then know that come nigh did her desolation;

<sup>21</sup> then those in Judea, let them flee to the mountains; and those in her midst, let them depart out; and those in the countries, let them not come in to her;

<sup>22</sup> because these are days of vengeance, to fulfil all things that have been written.

<sup>23</sup> 'And woe to those with child, and to those giving suck, in those days; for there shall be great distress on the land, and wrath on this people;

<sup>25</sup> 'And there shall be signs in sun, and moon, and stars, and on the land [is] distress of nations with perplexity, sea and billow roaring;

<sup>26</sup> men fainting at heart from fear, and expectation of the things coming on the world, for the powers of the heavens shall be shaken.

<sup>27</sup> 'And then they shall see the Son of Man, coming in a cloud, with power and much glory;

<sup>28</sup> and these things beginning to happen bend yourselves back, and lift up your heads, because your redemption doth draw nigh.'

<sup>29</sup> And he spake a simile to them: 'See the fig-tree, and all the trees,

<sup>30</sup> when they may now cast forth, having seen, of yourselves ye know that now is the summer nigh;

<sup>31</sup> so also ye, when ye may see these things happening, ye know that near is the reign of God;

<sup>32</sup> verily I say to you — This generation may not pass away till all may have come to pass;

<sup>33</sup> the heaven and the earth shall pass away, but my words may not pass away.

<sup>34</sup> 'And take heed to yourselves, lest your hearts may be weighed down with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and anxieties of life, and suddenly that day may come on you,

<sup>35</sup> for as a snare it shall come on all those dwelling on the face of all the land,

<sup>36</sup> watch ye, then, in every season, praying that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that are about to come to pass, and to stand before the Son of Man.'

<sup>38</sup> and all the people were coming early unto him in the temple to hear him.

22

<sup>2</sup> and the chief priests and the scribes were seeking how they may take him up, for they were afraid of the people.

<sup>3</sup> And the Adversary entered into Judas, who is surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve,

<sup>4</sup> and he, having gone away, spake with the chief priests and the magistrates, how he might deliver him up to them,

<sup>6</sup> and he agreed, and was seeking a favourable season to deliver him up to them without tumult.

<sup>7</sup> And the day of the unleavened food came, in which it was behoving the passover to be sacrificed,

<sup>8</sup> and he sent Peter and John, saying, 'Having gone on, prepare to us the passover, that we may eat;'

<sup>9</sup> and they said to him, 'Where wilt thou that we might prepare?'

<sup>10</sup> And he said to them, 'Lo, in your entering into the city, there shall meet you a man, bearing a pitcher of water, follow him to the house where he doth go in,

<sup>11</sup> and ye shall say to the master of the house, The Teacher saith to thee, Where is the guest-chamber where the passover with my disciples I may eat?'

<sup>12</sup> and he shall show you a large upper room furnished, there make ready;'

<sup>13</sup> and they, having gone away, found as he hath said to them, and they made ready the passover.

<sup>14</sup> And when the hour come, he reclined (at meat), and the twelve apostles with him,

<sup>15</sup> and he said unto them, 'With desire I did desire to eat this passover with you before my suffering,

<sup>16</sup> for I say to you, that no more may I eat of it till it may be fulfilled in the reign of God.'

<sup>17</sup> And having taken a cup, having given thanks, he said, 'Take this and divide to yourselves,

<sup>18</sup> for I say to you that I may not drink of the produce of the vine till the reign of God may come.'

<sup>19</sup> And having taken bread, having given thanks, he brake and gave to them, saying, 'This is my body, that for you is being given, this do ye — to remembrance of me.'

<sup>20</sup> In like manner, also, the cup after the supping, saying, 'This cup [is] the new covenant in my blood, that for you is being poured forth.

<sup>21</sup> 'But, lo, the hand of him delivering me up [is] with me on the table,

<sup>22</sup> and indeed the Son of Man doth go according to what hath been determined; but woe to that man through whom he is being delivered up.'

<sup>23</sup> And they began to reason among themselves, who then of them it may be, who is about to do this thing.

<sup>24</sup> And there happened also a strife among them — who of them is accounted to be greater.

<sup>25</sup> And he said to them, 'The kings of the nations do exercise lordship over them, and those exercising authority upon them are called benefactors;

<sup>26</sup> but ye [are] not so, but he who is greater among you — let him be as the younger; and he who is leading, as he who is ministering;

<sup>27</sup> for who is greater? he who is reclining (at meat), or he who is ministering? is it not he who is reclining (at meat)? and I — I am in your midst as he who is ministering.

<sup>28</sup> 'And ye — ye are those who have remained with me in my temptations,

<sup>29</sup> and I appoint to you, as my Father did appoint to me, a kingdom,

<sup>30</sup> that ye may eat and may drink at my table, in my kingdom, and may sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.'

<sup>31</sup> And the Lord said, 'Simon, Simon, lo, the Adversary did ask you for himself to sift as the wheat,

<sup>32</sup> and I besought for thee, that thy faith may not fail; and thou, when thou didst turn, strengthen thy brethren.'

<sup>33</sup> And he said to him, 'Sir, with thee I am ready both to prison and to death to go;'

<sup>34</sup> and he said, 'I say to thee, Peter, a cock shall not crow to-day, before thrice thou mayest disown knowing me.'

<sup>35</sup> And he said to them, 'When I sent you without bag, and scrip, and sandals, did ye lack anything?' and they said, 'Nothing.'

<sup>36</sup> Then said he to them, 'But, now, he who is having a bag, let him take [it] up, and in like manner also a scrip; and he who is not having, let him sell his garment, and buy a sword,

<sup>37</sup> for I say to you, that yet this that hath been written it behoveth to be fulfilled in me: And with lawless ones he was reckoned, for also the things concerning me have an end.'

<sup>38</sup> And they said, 'Sir, lo, here [are] two swords;' and he said to them, 'It is sufficient.'

<sup>39</sup> And having gone forth, he went on, according to custom, to the mount of the Olives, and his disciples also followed him,

<sup>40</sup> and having come to the place, he said to them, 'Pray ye not to enter into temptation.'

<sup>41</sup> And he was withdrawn from them, as it were a stone's cast, and having fallen on the knees he was praying,

<sup>42</sup> saying, 'Father, if Thou be counselling to make this cup pass from me — ;but, not my will, but Thine be done.' —

<sup>43</sup> And there appeared to him a messenger from heaven strengthening him;

<sup>44</sup> and having been in agony, he was more earnestly praying, and his sweat became, as it were, great drops of blood falling upon the ground.

<sup>45</sup> And having risen up from the prayer, having come unto the disciples, he found them sleeping from the sorrow,

<sup>46</sup> and he said to them, 'Why do ye sleep? having risen, pray that ye may not enter into temptation.'

<sup>47</sup> And while he is speaking, lo, a multitude, and he who is called Judas, one of the twelve, was coming before them, and he came nigh to Jesus to kiss him,

<sup>48</sup> and Jesus said to him, 'Judas, with a kiss the Son of Man dost thou deliver up?'

<sup>49</sup> And those about him, having seen what was about to be, said to him, 'Sir, shall we smite with a sword?'

<sup>52</sup> And Jesus said to those having come upon him — chief priests, and magistrates of the temple, and elders — 'As upon a robber have ye come forth, with swords and sticks?

<sup>53</sup> while daily I was with you in the temple, ye did stretch forth no hands against me; but this is your hour and the power of the darkness.'

<sup>56</sup> and a certain maid having seen him sitting at the light, and having earnestly looked at him, she said, 'And this one was with him!'

<sup>58</sup> And after a little, another having seen him, said, 'And thou art of them!' and Peter said, 'Man, I am not.'

<sup>59</sup> And one hour, as it were, having intervened, a certain other was confidently affirming, saying, 'Of a truth this one also was with him, for he is also a Galilean;'

<sup>60</sup> and Peter said, 'Man, I have not known what thou sayest;' and presently, while he is speaking, a cock crew.

<sup>61</sup> And the Lord having turned did look on Peter, and Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he said to him — 'Before a cock shall crow, thou mayest disown me thrice;'

<sup>63</sup> And the men who were holding Jesus were mocking him, beating [him];

<sup>64</sup> and having blindfolded him, they were striking him on the face, and were questioning him, saying, 'Prophecy who he is who smote thee?'

<sup>65</sup> and many other things, speaking evilly, they spake in regard to him.

<sup>66</sup> And when it became day there was gathered together the eldership of the people, chief priests also, and scribes, and they led him up to their own sanhedrim,

<sup>67</sup> saying, 'If thou be the Christ, tell us.' And he said to them, 'If I may tell you, ye will not believe;

<sup>68</sup> and if I also question [you], ye will not answer me or send me away;

<sup>69</sup> henceforth, there shall be the Son of Man sitting on the right hand of the power of God.'

<sup>70</sup> And they all said, 'Thou, then, art the Son of God?' and he said unto them, 'Ye say [it], because I am;'

<sup>71</sup> and they said, 'What need yet have we of testimony? for we ourselves did hear [it] from his mouth.'

23

<sup>1</sup> And having risen, the whole multitude of them did lead him to Pilate,

<sup>2</sup> and began to accuse him, saying, 'This one we found perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, saying himself to be Christ a king.'

<sup>5</sup> and they were the more urgent, saying — 'He doth stir up the people, teaching throughout the whole of Judea — having begun from Galilee — unto this place.'

<sup>7</sup> and having known that he is from the jurisdiction of Herod, he sent him back unto Herod, he being also in Jerusalem in those days.

<sup>8</sup> And Herod having seen Jesus did rejoice exceedingly, for he was wishing for a long [time] to see him, because of hearing many things about him, and he was hoping some sign to see done by him, <sup>9</sup> and was questioning him in many words, and he answered him nothing.

<sup>10</sup> And the chief priests and the scribes stood vehemently accusing him,

<sup>12</sup> and both Pilate and Herod became friends on that day with one another, for they were before at enmity between themselves.

<sup>13</sup> And Pilate having called together the chief priests, and the rulers, and the people,

<sup>14</sup> said unto them, 'Ye brought to me this man as perverting the people, and lo, I before you having examined, found in this man no fault in those things ye bring forward against him;

<sup>15</sup> no, nor yet Herod, for I sent you back unto him, and lo, nothing worthy of death is having been done by him;

<sup>16</sup> having chastised, therefore, I will release him,'

<sup>17</sup> for it was necessary for him to release to them one at every feast,

<sup>18</sup> and they cried out – the whole multitude – saying, 'Away with this one, and release to us Barabbas,'

<sup>19</sup> who had been, because of a certain sedition made in the city, and murder, cast into prison.

<sup>20</sup> Pilate again then – wishing to release Jesus – called to them,

<sup>21</sup> but they were calling out, saying, 'Crucify, crucify him.'

<sup>22</sup> And he a third time said unto them, 'Why, what evil did he? no cause of death did I find in him; having chastised him, then, I will release [him].'

<sup>23</sup> And they were pressing with loud voices asking him to be crucified, and their voices, and those of the chief priests, were prevailing,

<sup>25</sup> and he released him who because of sedition and murder hath been cast into the prison, whom they were asking, and Jesus he gave up to their will.

<sup>26</sup> And as they led him away, having taken hold on Simon, a certain Cyrenian, coming from the field, they put on him the cross, to bear [it] behind Jesus.

<sup>27</sup> And there was following him a great multitude of the people, and of women, who also were beating themselves and lamenting him,

<sup>28</sup> and Jesus having turned unto them, said, 'Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but for yourselves weep ye, and for your children;

<sup>29</sup> for, lo, days do come, in which they shall say, Happy the barren, and wombs that did not bare, and paps that did not give suck;

<sup>30</sup> then they shall begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us, and to the hills, Cover us; –

<sup>31</sup> for, if in the green tree they do these things – in the dry what may happen?'

<sup>32</sup> And there were also others – two evil-doers – with him, to be put to death;

<sup>33</sup> and when they came to the place that is called Skull, there they crucified him and the evil-doers, one on the right hand and one on the left.

<sup>34</sup> And Jesus said, 'Father, forgive them, for they have not known what they do;' and parting his garments they cast a lot.

<sup>35</sup> And the people were standing, looking on, and the rulers also were sneering with them, saying, 'Others he saved, let him save himself, if this be the Christ, the choice one of God.'

<sup>36</sup> And mocking him also were the soldiers, coming near and offering vinegar to him,

<sup>39</sup> And one of the evil-doers who were hanged, was speaking evil of him, saying, 'If thou be the Christ, save thyself and us.'

<sup>40</sup> And the other answering, was rebuking him, saying, 'Dost thou not even fear God, that thou art in the same judgment?

<sup>41</sup> and we indeed righteously, for things worthy of what we did we receive back, but this one did nothing out of place;'

<sup>42</sup> and he said to Jesus, 'Remember me, lord, when thou mayest come in thy reign;'

<sup>43</sup> and Jesus said to him, 'Verily I say to thee, To-day with me thou shalt be in the paradise.'

<sup>44</sup> And it was, as it were, the sixth hour, and darkness came over all the land till the ninth hour,

<sup>45</sup> and the sun was darkened, and the vail of the sanctuary was rent in the midst,

<sup>46</sup> and having cried with a loud voice, Jesus said, 'Father, to Thy hands I commit my spirit;' and these things having said, he breathed forth the spirit.

<sup>47</sup> And the centurion having seen what was done, did glorify God, saying, 'Really this man was righteous;'

<sup>48</sup> and all the multitudes who were come together to this sight, beholding the things that came to pass, smiting their breasts did turn back;

<sup>49</sup> and all his acquaintances stood afar off, and women who did follow him from Galilee, beholding these things.

<sup>50</sup> And lo, a man, by name Joseph, being a counsellor, a man good and righteous,

<sup>51</sup> — he was not consenting to their counsel and deed — from Arimathea, a city of the Jews, who also himself was expecting the reign of God,

<sup>52</sup> he, having gone near to Pilate, asked the body of Jesus,

<sup>53</sup> and having taken it down, he wrapped it in fine linen, and placed it in a tomb hewn out, where no one was yet laid.

<sup>54</sup> And the day was a preparation, and sabbath was approaching,

<sup>55</sup> and the women also who have come with him out of Galilee having followed after, beheld the tomb, and how his body was placed,

<sup>56</sup> and having turned back, they made ready spices and ointments, and on the sabbath, indeed, they rested, according to the command.

24

<sup>2</sup> and they found the stone having been rolled away from the tomb,

<sup>4</sup> And it came to pass, while they are perplexed about this, that lo, two men stood by them in glittering apparel,

<sup>5</sup> and on their having become afraid, and having inclined the face to the earth, they said to them, 'Why do ye seek the living with the dead?

<sup>6</sup> he is not here, but was raised; remember how he spake to you, being yet in Galilee,

<sup>7</sup> saying — It behoveth the Son of Man to be delivered up to the hands of sinful men, and to be crucified, and the third day to rise again.'

<sup>8</sup> And they remembered his sayings,

<sup>9</sup> and having turned back from the tomb told all these things to the eleven, and to all the rest.

<sup>10</sup> And it was the Magdalene Mary, and Joanna, and Mary of James, and the other women with them, who told unto the apostles these things, <sup>11</sup> and their sayings appeared before them as idle talk, and they were not believing them.

<sup>12</sup> And Peter having risen, did run to the tomb, and having stooped down he seeth the linen clothes lying alone, and he went away to his own home, wondering at that which was come to pass.

<sup>13</sup> And, lo, two of them were going on during that day to a village, distant sixty furlongs from Jerusalem, the name of which [is] Emmaus, <sup>14</sup> and they were conversing with one another about all these things that have happened.

<sup>15</sup> And it came to pass in their conversing and reasoning together, that Jesus himself, having come nigh, was going on with them,

<sup>16</sup> and their eyes were holden so as not to know him,

<sup>17</sup> and he said unto them, 'What [are] these words that ye exchange with one another, walking, and ye are sad?'

<sup>18</sup> And the one, whose name was Cleopas, answering, said unto him, 'Art thou alone such a stranger in Jerusalem, that thou hast not known the things that came to pass in it in these days?'

<sup>19</sup> And he said to them, 'What things?' And they said to him, 'The things about Jesus of Nazareth, who became a man — a prophet — powerful in deed and word, before God and all the people,

<sup>20</sup> how also the chief priests and our rulers did deliver him up to a judgment of death, and crucified him;

<sup>21</sup> and we were hoping that he it is who is about to redeem Israel, and also with all these things, this third day is passing to-day, since these things happened.

<sup>22</sup> 'And certain women of ours also astonished us, coming early to the tomb,

<sup>23</sup> and not having found his body, they came, saying also to have seen an apparition of messengers, who say he is alive,

<sup>24</sup> and certain of those with us went away unto the tomb, and found as even the women said, and him they saw not.'

<sup>25</sup> And he said unto them, 'O inconsiderate and slow in heart, to believe on all that the prophets spake!

<sup>26</sup> Was it not behoving the Christ these things to suffer, and to enter into his glory?'

<sup>27</sup> and having begun from Moses, and from all the prophets, he was expounding to them in all the Writings the things about himself.

<sup>28</sup> And they came nigh to the village whither they were going, and he made an appearance of going on further,

<sup>29</sup> and they constrained him, saying, 'Remain with us, for it is toward evening,' and the day did decline, and he went in to remain with them.

<sup>30</sup> And it came to pass, in his reclining (at meat) with them, having taken the bread, he blessed, and having broken, he was giving to them,

<sup>31</sup> and their eyes were opened, and they recognized him, and he became unseen by them.

<sup>32</sup> And they said one to another, 'Was not our heart burning within us, as he was speaking to us in the way, and as he was opening up to us the Writings?'

<sup>35</sup> and they were telling the things in the way, and how he was made known to them in the breaking of the bread,

<sup>36</sup> and as they are speaking these things, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith to them, 'Peace — to you;'

<sup>37</sup> and being amazed, and becoming affrighted, they were thinking themselves to see a spirit.

<sup>38</sup> And he said to them, 'Why are ye troubled? and wherefore do reasonings come up in your hearts?'

<sup>39</sup> see my hands and my feet, that I am he; handle me and see, because a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me having.'

<sup>40</sup> And having said this, he shewed to them the hands and the feet,

<sup>41</sup> and while they are not believing from the joy, and wondering, he said to them, 'Have ye anything here to eat?'

<sup>42</sup> and they gave to him part of a broiled fish, and of an honeycomb,

<sup>44</sup> and he said to them, 'These [are] the words that I spake unto you, being yet with you, that it behoveth to be fulfilled all the things that are written in the Law of Moses, and the Prophets, and the Psalms, about me.'

<sup>45</sup> Then opened he up their understanding to understand the Writings,

<sup>46</sup> and he said to them — 'Thus it hath been written, and thus it was behoving the Christ to suffer, and to rise out of the dead the third day,

<sup>47</sup> and reformation and remission of sins to be proclaimed in his name to all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem:

<sup>49</sup> 'And, lo, I do send the promise of my Father upon you, but ye — abide ye in the city of Jerusalem till ye be clothed with power from on high.'

<sup>50</sup> And he led them forth without — unto Bethany, and having lifted up his hands he did bless them,

<sup>51</sup> and it came to pass, in his blessing them, he was parted from them, and was borne up to the heaven;

<sup>52</sup> and they, having bowed before him, did turn back to Jerusalem with great joy,

<sup>53</sup> and were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST. JOHN

<sup>3</sup> all things through him did happen, and without him happened not even one thing that hath happened.

<sup>5</sup> and the light in the darkness did shine, and the darkness did not perceive it.

<sup>7</sup> this one came for testimony, that he might testify about the Light, that all might believe through him;

<sup>8</sup> that one was not the Light, but — that he might testify about the Light.

<sup>9</sup> He was the true Light, which doth enlighten every man, coming to the world;

<sup>10</sup> in the world he was, and the world through him was made, and the world did not know him:

<sup>11</sup> to his own things he came, and his own people did not receive him;

<sup>12</sup> but as many as did receive him to them he gave authority to become sons of God — to those believing in his name,

<sup>13</sup> who — not of blood nor of a will of flesh, nor of a will of man but — of God were begotten.

<sup>14</sup> And the Word became flesh, and did tabernacle among us, and we beheld his glory, glory as of an only begotten of a father, full of grace and truth.

<sup>15</sup> John doth testify concerning him, and hath cried, saying, 'This was he of whom I said, He who after me is coming, hath come before me, for he was before me;'

<sup>16</sup> and out of his fulness did we all receive, and grace over-against grace;

<sup>17</sup> for the law through Moses was given, the grace and the truth through Jesus Christ did come;

<sup>18</sup> God no one hath ever seen; the only begotten Son, who is on the bosom of the Father — he did declare.

<sup>19</sup> And this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent out of Jerusalem priests and Levites, that they might question him, 'Who art thou?'

<sup>20</sup> and he confessed and did not deny, and confessed — 'I am not the Christ.'

<sup>21</sup> And they questioned him, 'What then? Elijah art thou?' and he saith, 'I am not.' — 'The prophet art thou?' and he answered, 'No.'

<sup>22</sup> They said then to him, 'Who art thou, that we may give an answer to those sending us? what dost thou say concerning thyself?'

<sup>23</sup> He said, 'I [am] a voice of one crying in the wilderness: Make straight the way of the Lord, as said Isaiah the prophet.'

<sup>25</sup> and they questioned him and said to him, 'Why, then, dost thou baptize, if thou art not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the prophet?'

<sup>26</sup> John answered them, saying, 'I baptize with water, but in midst of you he hath stood whom ye have not known, this one it is who is coming after me, who hath been before me,

<sup>27</sup> of whom I am not worthy that I may loose the cord of his sandal.'

<sup>29</sup> on the morrow John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, 'Lo, the Lamb of God, who is taking away the sin of the world;

<sup>30</sup> this is he concerning whom I said, After me doth come a man, who hath come before me, because he was before me:

<sup>31</sup> and I knew him not, but, that he might be manifested to Israel, because of this I came with the water baptizing.

<sup>32</sup> And John testified, saying — 'I have seen the Spirit coming down, as a dove, out of heaven, and it remained on him;

<sup>33</sup> and I did not know him, but he who sent me to baptize with water, He said to me, On whomsoever thou mayest see the Spirit coming down, and remaining on him, this is he who is baptizing with the Holy Spirit;

<sup>34</sup> and I have seen, and have testified, that this is the Son of God.'

<sup>37</sup> and the two disciples heard him speaking, and they followed Jesus.

<sup>38</sup> And Jesus having turned, and having beheld them following, saith to them, 'What seek ye?' and they said to them, 'Rabbi, (which is, being interpreted, Teacher,) where remainest thou?'

<sup>39</sup> He saith to them, 'Come and see;' they came, and saw where he doth remain, and with him they remained that day and the hour was about the tenth.

<sup>40</sup> Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was one of the two who heard from John, and followed him;

<sup>41</sup> this one doth first find his own brother Simon, and saith to him, 'We have found the Messiah,' (which is, being interpreted, The Anointed,)

<sup>42</sup> and he brought him unto Jesus: and having looked upon him, Jesus saith, 'Thou art Simon, the son of Jonas, thou shalt be called Cephas,' (which is interpreted, A rock.)

<sup>45</sup> Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith to him, 'Him of whom Moses wrote in the Law, and the prophets, we have found, Jesus the son of Joseph, who [is] from Nazareth;'

<sup>46</sup> and Nathanael said to him, 'Out of Nazareth is any good thing able to be?' Philip said to him, 'Come and see.'

<sup>48</sup> Nathanael saith to him, 'Whence me dost thou know?' Jesus answered and said to him, 'Before Philip's calling thee — thou being under the fig-tree — I saw thee.'

<sup>49</sup> Nathanael answered and saith to him, 'Rabbi, thou art the Son of God, thou art the king of Israel.'

<sup>50</sup> Jesus answered and said to him, 'Because I said to thee, I saw thee under the fig-tree, thou dost believe; greater things than these thou shalt see;'

<sup>51</sup> and he saith to him, 'Verily, verily, I say to you, henceforth ye shall see the heaven opened, and the messengers of God going up and coming down upon the Son of Man.'

<sup>1</sup> And the third day a marriage happened in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there,

<sup>2</sup> and also Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage;

<sup>3</sup> and wine having failed, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, 'Wine they have not;'

<sup>4</sup> Jesus saith to her, 'What — to me and to thee, woman? not yet is mine hour come.'

<sup>6</sup> And there were there six water-jugs of stone, placed according to the purifying of the Jews, holding each two or three measures.

<sup>7</sup> Jesus saith to them, 'Fill the water-jugs with water;' and they filled them — unto the brim;

<sup>8</sup> and he saith to them, 'Draw out, now, and bear to the director of the apartment;' and they bare.

<sup>9</sup> And as the director of the apartment tasted the water become wine, and knew not whence it is, (but the ministrants knew, who have drawn the water,) the director of the feast doth call the bridegroom,

<sup>10</sup> and saith to him, 'Every man, at first, the good wine doth set forth; and when they may have drunk freely, then the inferior; thou didst keep the good wine till now.'

<sup>11</sup> This beginning of the signs did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested his glory, and his disciples believed in him;

<sup>12</sup> after this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples; and there they remained not many days.

<sup>13</sup> And the passover of the Jews was nigh, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem,

<sup>14</sup> and he found in the temple those selling oxen, and sheep, and doves, and the money-changers sitting,

<sup>15</sup> and having made a whip of small cords, he put all forth out of the temple, also the sheep, and the oxen; and of the money-changers he poured out the coins, and the tables he overthrew,

<sup>16</sup> and to those selling the doves he said, 'Take these things hence; make not the house of my Father a house of merchandise.'

<sup>17</sup> And his disciples remembered that it is written, 'The zeal of Thy house did eat me up;'

<sup>18</sup> the Jews then answered and said to him, 'What sign dost thou shew to us — that thou dost these things?'

<sup>19</sup> Jesus answered and said to them, 'Destroy this sanctuary, and in three days I will raise it up.'

<sup>20</sup> The Jews, therefore, said, 'Forty and six years was this sanctuary building, and wilt thou in three days raise it up?'

<sup>22</sup> when, then, he was raised out of the dead, his disciples remembered that he said this to them, and they believed the Writing, and the word that Jesus said.

<sup>23</sup> And as he was in Jerusalem, in the passover, in the feast, many believed in his name, beholding his signs that he was doing;

<sup>24</sup> and Jesus himself was not trusting himself to them, because of his knowing all [men], <sup>25</sup> and because he had no need that any should testify concerning man, for he himself was knowing what was in man.

3

<sup>1</sup> And there was a man of the Pharisees, Nicodemus his name, a ruler of the Jews,

<sup>2</sup> this one came unto him by night, and said to him, 'Rabbi, we have known that from God thou hast come — a teacher, for no one these signs is able to do that thou dost, if God may not be with him.'

<sup>3</sup> Jesus answered and said to him, 'Verily, verily, I say to thee, If any one may not be born from above, he is not able to see the reign of God;'

<sup>4</sup> Nicodemus saith unto him, 'How is a man able to be born, being old? is he able into the womb of his mother a second time to enter, and to be born?'

<sup>5</sup> Jesus answered, 'Verily, verily, I say to thee, If any one may not be born of water, and the Spirit, he is not able to enter into the reign of God;

<sup>6</sup> that which hath been born of the flesh is flesh, and that which hath been born of the Spirit is spirit.

<sup>7</sup> 'Thou mayest not wonder that I said to thee, It behoveth you to be born from above;

<sup>8</sup> the Spirit where he willeth doth blow, and his voice thou dost hear, but thou hast not known whence he cometh, and whither he goeth; thus is every one who hath been born of the Spirit.'

<sup>9</sup> Nicodemus answered and said to him, 'How are these things able to happen?'

<sup>10</sup> Jesus answered and said to him, 'Thou art the teacher of Israel — and these things thou dost not know!

<sup>11</sup> 'Verily, verily, I say to thee — What we have known we speak, and what we have seen we testify, and our testimony ye do not receive;

<sup>12</sup> if the earthly things I said to you, and ye do not believe, how, if I shall say to you the heavenly things, will ye believe?

<sup>13</sup> and no one hath gone up to the heaven, except he who out of the heaven came down — the Son of Man who is in the heaven.

<sup>14</sup> 'And as Moses did lift up the serpent in the wilderness, so it behoveth the Son of Man to be lifted up,

<sup>15</sup> that every one who is believing in him may not perish, but may have life age-during,

<sup>16</sup> for God did so love the world, that His Son — the only begotten — He gave, that every one who is believing in him may not perish, but may have life age-during.

<sup>17</sup> For God did not send His Son to the world that he may judge the world, but that the world may be saved through him;

<sup>18</sup> he who is believing in him is not judged, but he who is not believing hath been judged already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

<sup>19</sup> 'And this is the judgment, that the light hath come to the world, and men did love the darkness rather than the light, for their works were evil;

<sup>20</sup> for every one who is doing wicked things hateth the light, and doth not come unto the light, that his works may not be detected;

<sup>21</sup> but he who is doing the truth doth come to the light, that his works may be manifested, that in God they are having been wrought.'

<sup>22</sup> After these things came Jesus and his disciples to the land of Judea, and there he did tarry with them, and was baptizing;

<sup>23</sup> and John was also baptizing in Aenon, nigh to Salem, because there were many waters there, and they were coming and were being baptized —

<sup>26</sup> and they came unto John, and said to him, 'Rabbi, he who was with thee beyond the Jordan, to whom thou didst testify, lo, this one is baptizing, and all are coming unto him.'

<sup>27</sup> John answered and said, 'A man is not able to receive anything, if it may not have been given him from the heaven;

<sup>28</sup> ye yourselves do testify to me that I said, I am not the Christ, but, that I am having been sent before him;

<sup>29</sup> he who is having the bride is bridegroom, and the friend of the bridegroom, who is standing and hearing him, with joy doth rejoice because of the voice of the bridegroom; this, then, my joy hath been fulfilled.

<sup>30</sup> 'Him it behoveth to increase, and me to become less;

<sup>32</sup> 'And what he hath seen and heard this he doth testify, and his testimony none receiveth;

<sup>33</sup> he who is receiving his testimony did seal that God is true;

<sup>34</sup> for he whom God sent, the sayings of God he speaketh; for not by measure doth God give the Spirit;

<sup>35</sup> the Father doth love the Son, and all things hath given into his hand;

<sup>36</sup> he who is believing in the Son, hath life age-during; and he who is not believing the Son, shall not see life, but the wrath of God doth remain upon him.'

4

<sup>5</sup> He cometh, therefore, to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near to the place that Jacob gave to Joseph his son;

<sup>6</sup> and there was there a well of Jacob. Jesus therefore having been weary from the journeying, was sitting thus on the well; it was as it were the sixth hour;

<sup>7</sup> there cometh a woman out of Samaria to draw water. Jesus saith to her, 'Give me to drink;'

<sup>8</sup> for his disciples were gone away to the city, that they may buy victuals;

<sup>9</sup> the Samaritan woman therefore saith to him, 'How dost thou, being a Jew, ask drink from me, being a Samaritan woman?' for Jews have no dealing with Samaritans.

<sup>10</sup> Jesus answered and said to her, 'If thou hadst known the gift of God, and who it is who is saying to thee, Give me to drink, thou wouldest have asked him, and he would have given thee living water.'

<sup>11</sup> The woman saith to him, 'Sir, thou hast not even a vessel to draw with, and the well is deep; whence, then, hast thou the living water?'

<sup>12</sup> Art thou greater than our father Jacob, who did give us the well, and himself out of it did drink, and his sons, and his cattle?'

<sup>13</sup> Jesus answered and said to her, 'Every one who is drinking of this water shall thirst again;

<sup>14</sup> but whoever may drink of the water that I will give him, may not thirst — to the age; and the water that I will give him shall become in him a well of water, springing up to life age-during.'

<sup>15</sup> The woman saith unto him, 'Sir, give me this water, that I may not thirst, nor come hither to draw.'

<sup>17</sup> the woman answered and said, 'I have not a husband.' Jesus saith to her, 'Well didst thou say — A husband I have not;

<sup>18</sup> for five husbands thou hast had, and, now, he whom thou hast is not thy husband; this hast thou said truly.'

<sup>20</sup> our fathers in this mountain did worship, and ye — ye say that in Jerusalem is the place where it behoveth to worship.'

<sup>21</sup> Jesus saith to her, 'Woman, believe me, that there doth come an hour, when neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, shall ye worship the Father;

<sup>22</sup> ye worship what ye have not known; we worship what we have known, because the salvation is of the Jews;

<sup>23</sup> but, there cometh an hour, and it now is, when the true worshippers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for the Father also doth seek such to worship him;

<sup>24</sup> God [is] a Spirit, and those worshipping Him, in spirit and truth it doth behove to worship.'

<sup>25</sup> The woman saith to him, 'I have known that Messiah doth come, who is called Christ, when that one may come, he will tell us all things;'

<sup>26</sup> Jesus saith to her, 'I am [he], who am speaking to thee.'

<sup>27</sup> And upon this came his disciples, and were wondering that with a woman he was speaking, no one, however, said, 'What seekest thou?' or 'Why speakest thou with her?'

<sup>28</sup> The woman then left her water-jug, and went away to the city, and saith to the men,

<sup>29</sup> 'Come, see a man, who told me all things — as many as I did; is this the Christ?'

<sup>30</sup> They went forth therefore out of the city, and were coming unto him.

<sup>31</sup> And in the meanwhile his disciples were asking him, saying, 'Rabbi, eat;'

<sup>32</sup> and he said to them, 'I have food to eat that ye have not known.'

<sup>33</sup> The disciples then said one to another, 'Did any one bring him anything to eat?'

<sup>34</sup> Jesus saith to them, 'My food is, that I may do the will of Him who sent me, and may finish His work;

<sup>35</sup> do not say that it is yet four months, and the harvest cometh; lo, I say to you, Lift up your eyes, and see the fields, that they are white unto harvest already.

<sup>36</sup> 'And he who is reaping doth receive a reward, and doth gather fruit to life age-during, that both he who is sowing and he who is reaping may rejoice together;

<sup>37</sup> for in this the saying is the true one, that one is the sower and another the reaper.

<sup>38</sup> I sent you to reap that on which ye have not laboured; others laboured, and ye into their labour have entered.

<sup>39</sup> And from that city many believed in him, of the Samaritans, because of the word of the woman testifying, — 'He told me all things — as many as I did.'

<sup>40</sup> When, then, the Samaritans came unto him, they were asking him to remain with them, and he remained there two days;

<sup>42</sup> and said to the woman — 'No more because of thy speaking do we believe; for we ourselves have heard and known that this is truly the Saviour of the world — the Christ.'

<sup>43</sup> And after the two days he went forth thence, and went away to Galilee,

<sup>44</sup> for Jesus himself testified that a prophet in his own country shall not have honour;

<sup>45</sup> when then, he came to Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all things that he did in Jerusalem in the feast — for they also went to the feast.

<sup>46</sup> Jesus came, therefore, again to Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine, and there was a certain courtier, whose son was ailing in Capernaum,

<sup>47</sup> he, having heard that Jesus is come out of Judea to Galilee, went away unto him, and was asking him that he may come down and may heal his son, for he was about to die.

<sup>48</sup> Jesus then said unto him, 'If signs and wonders ye may not see, ye will not believe.'

<sup>50</sup> Jesus saith to him, 'Be going on; thy son doth live.' And the man believed the word that Jesus said to him, and was going on,

<sup>51</sup> and he now going down, his servants met him, and told, saying — 'Thy child doth live;'

<sup>52</sup> he inquired then of them the hour in which he became better, and they said to him — 'Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him;'

<sup>53</sup> then the father knew that [it was] in that hour in which Jesus said to him — 'Thy son doth live,' and he himself believed, and his whole house;

5

<sup>2</sup> and there is in Jerusalem by the sheep -[gate] a pool that is called in Hebrew Bethesda, having five porches,

<sup>4</sup> for a messenger at a set time was going down in the pool, and was troubling the water, the first then having gone in after the troubling of the water, became whole of whatever sickness he was held.

<sup>5</sup> and there was a certain man there being in ailment thirty and eight years,

<sup>6</sup> him Jesus having seen lying, and having known that he is already a long time, he saith to him, 'Dost thou wish to become whole?'

<sup>7</sup> The ailing man answered him, 'Sir, I have no man, that, when the water may be troubled, he may put me into the pool, and while I am coming, another doth go down before me.'

<sup>8</sup> Jesus saith to him, 'Rise, take up thy couch, and be walking;'

<sup>9</sup> and immediately the man became whole, and he took up his couch, and was walking, and it was a sabbath on that day,

<sup>10</sup> the Jews then said to him that hath been healed, 'It is a sabbath; it is not lawful to thee to take up the couch.'

<sup>11</sup> He answered them, 'He who made me whole — that one said to me, Take up thy couch, and be walking;'

<sup>12</sup> they questioned him, then, 'Who is the man who is saying to thee, Take up thy couch and be walking?'

<sup>13</sup> But he that was healed had not known who he is, for Jesus did move away, a multitude being in the place.

<sup>14</sup> After these things, Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said to him, 'Lo, thou hast become whole; sin no more, lest something worse may happen to thee.'

<sup>15</sup> The man went away, and told the Jews that it is Jesus who made him whole,

<sup>16</sup> and because of this were the Jews persecuting Jesus, and seeking to kill him, because these things he was doing on a sabbath.

<sup>17</sup> And Jesus answered them, 'My Father till now doth work, and I work;'

<sup>18</sup> because of this, then, were the Jews seeking the more to kill him, because not only was he breaking the sabbath, but he also called God his own Father, making himself equal to God.

<sup>19</sup> Jesus therefore responded and said to them, 'Verily, verily, I say to you, The Son is not able to do anything of himself, if he may not see the Father doing anything; for whatever things He may do, these also the Son in like manner doth;

<sup>20</sup> for the Father doth love the Son, and doth shew to him all things that He himself doth; and greater works than these He will shew him, that ye may wonder.

<sup>21</sup> For, as the Father doth raise the dead, and doth make alive, so also the Son doth make alive whom he willeth;

<sup>22</sup> for neither doth the Father judge any one, but all the judgment He hath given to the Son,

<sup>23</sup> that all may honour the Son according as they honour the Father; he who is not honouring the Son, doth not honour the Father who sent him.

<sup>24</sup> 'Verily, verily, I say to you — He who is hearing my word, and is believing Him who sent me, hath life age-during, and to judgment he doth not come, but hath passed out of the death to the life.

<sup>25</sup> 'Verily, verily, I say to you — There cometh an hour, and it now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and those having heard shall live;

<sup>26</sup> for, as the Father hath life in himself, so He gave also to the Son to have life in himself,

<sup>27</sup> and authority He gave him also to do judgment, because he is Son of Man.

<sup>28</sup> 'Wonder not at this, because there doth come an hour in which all those in the tombs shall hear his voice,

<sup>29</sup> and they shall come forth; those who did the good things to a rising again of life, and those who practised the evil things to a rising again of judgment.

<sup>30</sup> 'I am not able of myself to do anything; according as I hear I judge, and my judgment is righteous, because I seek not my own will, but the will of the Father who sent me.

<sup>31</sup> 'If I testify concerning myself, my testimony is not true;

<sup>32</sup> another there is who is testifying concerning me, and I have known that the testimony that he doth testify concerning me is true;

<sup>33</sup> ye have sent unto John, and he hath testified to the truth.

<sup>34</sup> 'But I do not receive testimony from man, but these things I say that ye may be saved;

<sup>35</sup> he was the burning and shining lamp, and ye did will to be glad, for an hour, in his light.

<sup>36</sup> 'But I have the testimony greater than John's, for the works that the Father gave me, that I might finish them, the works themselves that I do, they testify concerning me, that the Father hath sent me.

<sup>37</sup> 'And the Father who sent me Himself hath testified concerning me; ye have neither heard His voice at any time, nor His appearance have ye seen;

<sup>38</sup> and His word ye have not remaining in you, because whom He sent, him ye do not believe.

<sup>39</sup> 'Ye search the Writings, because ye think in them to have life age-during, and these are they that are testifying concerning me;

<sup>40</sup> and ye do not will to come unto me, that ye may have life;

<sup>42</sup> but I have known you, that the love of God ye have not in yourselves.

<sup>43</sup> 'I have come in the name of my Father, and ye do not receive me; if another may come in his own name, him ye will receive;

<sup>44</sup> how are ye able — ye — to believe, glory from one another receiving, and the glory that [is] from God alone ye seek not?

<sup>45</sup> 'Do not think that I will accuse you unto the Father; there is who is accusing you, Moses — in whom ye have hoped;

<sup>46</sup> for if ye were believing Moses, ye would have been believing me, for he wrote concerning me;

<sup>47</sup> but if his writings ye believe not, how shall ye believe my sayings?'

<sup>2</sup> and there was following him a great multitude, because they were seeing his signs that he was doing on the ailing;

<sup>3</sup> and Jesus went up to the mount, and he was there sitting with his disciples,

<sup>4</sup> and the passover was nigh, the feast of the Jews.

<sup>5</sup> Jesus then having lifted up [his] eyes and having seen that a great multitude doth come to him, saith unto Philip, 'Whence shall we buy loaves, that these may eat?' —

<sup>6</sup> and this he said, trying him, for he himself had known what he was about to do.

<sup>9</sup> 'There is one little lad here who hath five barley loaves, and two fishes, but these — what are they to so many?'

<sup>10</sup> And Jesus said, 'Make the men to sit down;' and there was much grass in the place, the men then sat down, in number, as it were, five thousand,

<sup>11</sup> and Jesus took the loaves, and having given thanks he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to those reclining, in like manner, also of the little fishes as much as they wished.

<sup>12</sup> And when they were filled, he saith to his disciples, 'Gather together the broken pieces that are over, that nothing may be lost;'

<sup>13</sup> they gathered together, therefore, and filled twelve hand-baskets with broken pieces, from the five barley loaves that were over to those having eaten.

<sup>14</sup> The men, then, having seen the sign that Jesus did, said — 'This is truly the Prophet, who is coming to the world;'

<sup>15</sup> Jesus, therefore, having known that they are about to come, and to take him by force that they may make him king, retired again to the mountain himself alone.

<sup>16</sup> And when evening came, his disciples went down to the sea,

<sup>17</sup> and having entered into the boat, they were going over the sea to Capernaum, and darkness had already come, and Jesus had not come unto them,

<sup>18</sup> the sea also — a great wind blowing — was being raised,

<sup>19</sup> having pushed onwards, therefore, about twenty-five or thirty furlongs, they behold Jesus walking on the sea, and coming nigh to the boat, and they were afraid;

<sup>20</sup> and he saith to them, 'I am [he], be not afraid;'

<sup>21</sup> they were willing then to receive him into the boat, and immediately the boat came unto the land to which they were going.

<sup>22</sup> On the morrow, the multitude that was standing on the other side of the sea, having seen that there was no other little boat there except one — that into which his disciples entered — and that Jesus went not in with his disciples into the little boat, but his disciples went away alone,

<sup>23</sup> (and other little boats came from Tiberias, nigh the place where they did eat the bread, the Lord having given thanks),

<sup>24</sup> when therefore the multitude saw that Jesus is not there, nor his disciples, they also themselves did enter into the boats, and came to Capernaum seeking Jesus;

<sup>25</sup> and having found him on the other side of the sea, they said to him, 'Rabbi, when hast thou come hither?'

<sup>26</sup> Jesus answered them and said, 'Verily, verily, I say to you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw signs, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were satisfied;

<sup>27</sup> work not for the food that is perishing, but for the food that is remaining to life age-during, which the Son of Man will give to you, for him did the Father seal — [even] God.'

<sup>28</sup> They said therefore unto him, 'What may we do that we may work the works of God?'

<sup>29</sup> Jesus answered and said to them, 'This is the work of God, that ye may believe in him whom He did send.'

<sup>30</sup> They said therefore to him, 'What sign, then, dost thou, that we may see and may believe thee? what dost thou work?'

<sup>31</sup> our fathers the manna did eat in the wilderness, according as it is having been written, Bread out of the heaven He gave them to eat.'

<sup>32</sup> Jesus, therefore, said to them, 'Verily, verily, I say to you, Moses did not give you the bread out of the heaven; but my Father doth give you the true bread out of the heaven;

<sup>33</sup> for the bread of God is that which is coming down out of the heaven, and giving life to the world.'

<sup>35</sup> And Jesus said to them, 'I am the bread of the life; he who is coming unto me may not hunger, and he who is believing in me may not thirst — at any time;

<sup>36</sup> but I said to you, that ye also have seen me, and ye believe not;

<sup>37</sup> all that the Father doth give to me will come unto me; and him who is coming unto me, I may in no wise cast without,

<sup>38</sup> because I have come down out of the heaven, not that I may do my will, but the will of Him who sent me.

<sup>39</sup> 'And this is the will of the Father who sent me, that all that He hath given to me I may not lose of it, but may raise it up in the last day;

<sup>40</sup> and this is the will of Him who sent me, that every one who is beholding the Son, and is believing in him, may have life age-during, and I will raise him up in the last day.'

<sup>41</sup> The Jews, therefore, were murmuring at him, because he said, 'I am the bread that came down out of the heaven;'

<sup>42</sup> and they said, 'Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we have known? how then saith this one — Out of the heaven I have come down?'

<sup>43</sup> Jesus answered, therefore, and said to them, 'Murmur not one with another;

<sup>44</sup> no one is able to come unto me, if the Father who sent me may not draw him, and I will raise him up in the last day;

<sup>45</sup> it is having been written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God; every one therefore who heard from the Father, and learned, cometh to me;

<sup>46</sup> not that any one hath seen the Father, except he who is from God, he hath seen the Father.

<sup>47</sup> 'Verily, verily, I say to you, He who is believing in me, hath life age-during;

<sup>48</sup> I am the bread of the life;

<sup>50</sup> this is the bread that out of the heaven is coming down, that any one may eat of it, and not die.

<sup>51</sup> 'I am the living bread that came down out of the heaven; if any one may eat of this bread he shall live — to the age; and the bread also that I will give is my flesh, that I will give for the life of the world.'

<sup>52</sup> The Jews, therefore, were striving with one another, saying, 'How is this one able to give us [his] flesh to eat?'

<sup>53</sup> Jesus, therefore, said to them, 'Verily, verily, I say to you, If ye may not eat the flesh of the Son of Man, and may not drink his blood, ye have no life in yourselves;

<sup>54</sup> he who is eating my flesh, and is drinking my blood, hath life age-during, and I will raise him up in the last day;

<sup>55</sup> for my flesh truly is food, and my blood truly is drink;

<sup>56</sup> he who is eating my flesh, and is drinking my blood, doth remain in me, and I in him.

<sup>57</sup> 'According as the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, he also who is eating me, even that one shall live because of me;

<sup>58</sup> this is the bread that came down out of the heaven; not as your fathers did eat the manna, and died; he who is eating this bread shall live — to the age.'

<sup>59</sup> These things he said in a synagogue, teaching in Capernaum;

<sup>60</sup> many, therefore, of his disciples having heard, said, 'This word is hard; who is able to hear it?'

<sup>61</sup> And Jesus having known in himself that his disciples are murmuring about this, said to them, 'Doth this stumble you?

<sup>62</sup> if then ye may behold the Son of Man going up where he was before?

<sup>63</sup> the spirit it is that is giving life; the flesh doth not profit anything; the sayings that I speak to you are spirit, and they are life;

<sup>64</sup> but there are certain of you who do not believe;' for Jesus had known from the beginning who they are who are not believing, and who is he who will deliver him up,

<sup>65</sup> and he said, 'Because of this I have said to you — No one is able to come unto me, if it may not have been given him from my Father.'

<sup>66</sup> From this [time] many of his disciples went away backward, and were no more walking with him,

<sup>67</sup> Jesus, therefore, said to the twelve, 'Do ye also wish to go away?'

<sup>69</sup> and we have believed, and we have known, that thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.'

<sup>70</sup> Jesus answered them, 'Did not I choose you — the twelve? and of you — one is a devil.

7

<sup>1</sup> And Jesus was walking after these things in Galilee, for he did not wish to walk in Judea, because the Jews were seeking to kill him,

<sup>2</sup> and the feast of the Jews was nigh — that of tabernacles —

<sup>3</sup> his brethren, therefore, said unto him, 'Remove hence, and go away to Judea, that thy disciples also may behold thy works that thou dost;

<sup>4</sup> for no one in secret doth anything, and himself seeketh to be in public; if thou dost these things — manifest thyself to the world;'

<sup>5</sup> for not even were his brethren believing in him.

<sup>6</sup> Jesus, therefore, saith to them, 'My time is not yet present, but your time is always ready;

<sup>8</sup> Ye — go ye up to this feast; I do not yet go up to this feast, because my time hath not yet been fulfilled;'

<sup>9</sup> and saying these things to them, he remained in Galilee.

<sup>10</sup> And when his brethren went up, then also he himself went up to the feast, not manifestly, but as in secret;

<sup>11</sup> the Jews, therefore, were seeking him, in the feast, and said, 'Where is that one?'

<sup>12</sup> and there was much murmuring about him among the multitudes, some indeed said — 'He is good;' and others said, 'No, but he leadeth astray the multitude;'

<sup>13</sup> no one, however, was speaking freely about him, through fear of the Jews.

<sup>14</sup> And it being now the middle of the feast, Jesus went up to the temple, and he was teaching,

<sup>15</sup> and the Jews were wondering, saying, 'How hath this one known letters — not having learned?'

<sup>16</sup> Jesus answered them and said, 'My teaching is not mine, but His who sent me;

<sup>17</sup> if any one may will to do His will, he shall know concerning the teaching, whether it is of God, or — I do speak from myself.

<sup>18</sup> 'He who is speaking from himself his own glory doth seek, but he who is seeking the glory of him who sent him, this one is true, and unrighteousness is not in him;

<sup>19</sup> hath not Moses given you the law? and none of you doth the law; why me do ye seek to kill?

<sup>20</sup> The multitude answered and said, 'Thou hast a demon, who doth seek to kill thee?'

<sup>21</sup> Jesus answered and said to them, 'One work I did, and ye all wonder,

<sup>22</sup> because of this, Moses hath given you the circumcision — not that it is of Moses, but of the fathers — and on a sabbath ye circumcise a man;

<sup>23</sup> if a man doth receive circumcision on a sabbath that the law of Moses may not be broken, are ye wroth with me that I made a man all whole on a sabbath?

<sup>24</sup> judge not according to appearance, but the righteous judgment judge.'

<sup>26</sup> and, lo, he doth speak freely, and they say nothing to him; did the rulers at all know truly that this is truly the Christ?

<sup>27</sup> but this one — we have known whence he is; and the Christ, when he doth come, no one doth know whence he is.'

<sup>28</sup> Jesus cried, therefore, in the temple, teaching and saying, 'Ye have both known me, and ye have known whence I am; and I have not come of myself, but He who sent me is true, whom ye have not known;

<sup>29</sup> and I have known Him, because I am from Him, and He did send me.'

<sup>30</sup> They were seeking, therefore, to seize him, and no one laid the hand on him, because his hour had not yet come,

<sup>31</sup> and many out of the multitude did believe in him, and said — 'The Christ — when he may come — will he do more signs than these that this one did?'

<sup>32</sup> The Pharisees heard the multitude murmuring these things concerning him, and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers that they may take him;

<sup>33</sup> Jesus, therefore, said to them, 'Yet a little time I am with you, and I go away unto Him who sent me;

<sup>34</sup> ye will seek me, and ye shall not find; and where I am, ye are not able to come.'

<sup>35</sup> The Jews, therefore, said among themselves, 'Whither is this one about to go that we shall not find him? — to the dispersion of the Greeks is he about to go? and to teach the Greeks;

<sup>36</sup> what is this word that he said, Ye will seek me, and ye shall not find? and, Where I am, ye are not able to come?'

<sup>37</sup> And in the last, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, 'If any one doth thirst, let him come unto me and drink;

<sup>38</sup> he who is believing in me, according as the Writing said, Rivers out of his belly shall flow of living water;'

<sup>39</sup> and this he said of the Spirit, which those believing in him were about to receive; for not yet was the Holy Spirit, because Jesus was not yet glorified.

<sup>40</sup> Many, therefore out of the multitude, having heard the word, said, 'This is truly the Prophet;'

<sup>41</sup> others said, 'This is the Christ; and others said, 'Why, out of Galilee doth the Christ come?

<sup>42</sup> Did not the Writing say, that out of the seed of David, and from Bethlehem — the village where David was — the Christ doth come?'

<sup>43</sup> A division, therefore, arose among the multitude because of him.

<sup>44</sup> And certain of them were willing to seize him, but no one laid hands on him;

<sup>48</sup> did any one out of the rulers believe in him? or out of the Pharisees?

<sup>51</sup> 'Doth our law judge the man, if it may not hear from him first, and know what he doth?'

<sup>52</sup> They answered and said to him, 'Art thou also out of Galilee? search and see, that a prophet out of Galilee hath not risen;'

<sup>53</sup> and each one went on to his house, but Jesus went on to the mount of the Olives.

8

<sup>2</sup> and all the people were coming unto him, and having sat down, he was teaching them;

<sup>3</sup> and the scribes and the Pharisees bring unto him a woman having been taken in adultery, and having set her in the midst,

<sup>4</sup> they say to him, 'Teacher, this woman was taken in the very crime — committing adultery,

<sup>5</sup> and in the law, Moses did command us that such be stoned; thou, therefore, what dost thou say?'

<sup>6</sup> and this they said, trying him, that they might have to accuse him. And Jesus, having stooped down, with the finger he was writing on the ground,

<sup>7</sup> and when they continued asking him, having bent himself back, he said unto them, 'The sinless of you — let him first cast the stone at her;'

<sup>8</sup> and again having stooped down, he was writing on the ground,

<sup>9</sup> and they having heard, and by the conscience being convicted, were going forth one by one, having begun from the elders — unto the last; and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

<sup>10</sup> And Jesus having bent himself back, and having seen no one but the woman, said to her, 'Woman, where are those — thine accusers? did no one pass sentence upon thee?'

<sup>11</sup> and she said, 'No one, Sir;' and Jesus said to her, 'Neither do I pass sentence on thee; be going on, and no more sin.'

<sup>12</sup> Again, therefore, Jesus spake to them, saying, 'I am the light of the world; he who is following me shall not walk in the darkness, but he shall have the light of the life.'

<sup>13</sup> The Pharisees, therefore, said to him, 'Thou of thyself dost testify, thy testimony is not true;'

<sup>14</sup> Jesus answered and said to them, 'And if I testify of myself — my testimony is true, because I have known whence I came, and whither I go, and ye — ye have not known whence I come, or whither I go.

<sup>15</sup> 'Ye according to the flesh do judge; I do not judge any one,

<sup>16</sup> and even if I do judge my judgment is true, because I am not alone, but I and the Father who sent me;

<sup>17</sup> and also in your law it hath been written, that the testimony of two men are true;

<sup>18</sup> I am [one] who is testifying of myself, and the Father who sent me doth testify of me.'

<sup>19</sup> They said, therefore, to him, 'Where is thy father?' Jesus answered, 'Ye have neither known me nor my Father: if me ye had known, my Father also ye had known.'

<sup>20</sup> These sayings spake Jesus in the treasury, teaching in the temple, and no one seized him, because his hour had not yet come;

<sup>21</sup> therefore said Jesus again to them, 'I go away, and ye will seek me, and in your sin ye shall die; whither I go away, ye are not able to come.'

<sup>22</sup> The Jews, therefore, said, 'Will he kill himself, because he saith, Whither I go away, ye are not able to come?'

<sup>23</sup> and he said to them, 'Ye are from beneath, I am from above; ye are of this world, I am not of this world;

<sup>24</sup> I said, therefore, to you, that ye shall die in your sins, for if ye may not believe that I am [he], ye shall die in your sins.'

<sup>25</sup> They said, therefore, to him, 'Thou — who art thou?' and Jesus said to them, 'Even what I did speak of to you at the beginning;

<sup>26</sup> many things I have to speak concerning you and to judge, but He who sent me is true, and I — what things I heard from Him — these I say to the world.'

<sup>27</sup> They knew not that of the Father he spake to them;

<sup>28</sup> Jesus, therefore, said to them, 'When ye may lift up the Son of Man then ye will know that I am [he]; and of myself I do nothing, but according as my Father did teach me, these things I speak;

<sup>29</sup> and He who sent me is with me; the Father did not leave me alone, because I, the things pleasing to Him, do always.'

<sup>31</sup> Jesus, therefore, said unto the Jews who believed in him, 'If ye may remain in my word, truly my disciples ye are, and ye shall know the truth,

<sup>32</sup> and the truth shall make you free.'

<sup>33</sup> They answered him, 'Seed of Abraham we are; and to no one have we been servants at any time; how dost thou say — Ye shall become free?'

<sup>35</sup> and the servant doth not remain in the house — to the age, the son doth remain — to the age;

<sup>36</sup> if then the son may make you free, in reality ye shall be free.

<sup>37</sup> 'I have known that ye are seed of Abraham, but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you;

<sup>38</sup> I — that which I have seen with my Father do speak, and ye, therefore, that which ye have seen with your father — ye do.'

<sup>39</sup> They answered and said to him, 'Our father is Abraham;' Jesus saith to them, 'If children of Abraham ye were, the works of Abraham ye were doing;

<sup>40</sup> and now, ye seek to kill me — a man who hath spoken to you the truth I heard from God; this Abraham did not;

<sup>41</sup> ye do the works of your father.' They said, therefore, to him, 'We of whoredom have not been born; one Father we have — God;'

<sup>42</sup> Jesus then said to them, 'If God were your father, ye were loving me, for I came forth from God, and am come; for neither have I come of myself, but He sent me;

<sup>43</sup> wherefore do ye not know my speech? because ye are not able to hear my word.

<sup>44</sup> 'Ye are of a father — the devil, and the desires of your father ye will to do; he was a man-slayer from the beginning, and in the truth he hath not stood, because there is no truth in him; when one may speak the falsehood, of his own he speaketh, because he is a liar — also his father.

<sup>46</sup> Who of you doth convict me of sin? and if I speak truth, wherefore do ye not believe me?

<sup>47</sup> he who is of God, the sayings of God he doth hear; because of this ye do not hear, because of God ye are not.'

<sup>48</sup> The Jews, therefore, answered and said to him, 'Do we not say well, that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a demon?'

<sup>49</sup> Jesus answered, 'I have not a demon, but I honour my Father, and ye dishonour me;

<sup>50</sup> and I do not seek my own glory; there is who is seeking and is judging;

<sup>51</sup> verily, verily, I say to you, If any one may keep my word, death he may not see — to the age.'

<sup>52</sup> The Jews, therefore, said to him, 'Now we have known that thou hast a demon; Abraham did die, and the prophets, and thou dost say, If any one may keep my word, he shall not taste of death — to the age!

<sup>53</sup> Art thou greater than our father Abraham, who died? and the prophets died; whom dost thou make thyself?'

<sup>54</sup> Jesus answered, 'If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing; it is my Father who is glorifying me, of whom ye say that He is your God;

<sup>55</sup> and ye have not known Him, and I have known Him, and if I say that I have not known Him, I shall be like you — speaking falsely; but I have known Him, and His word I keep;

<sup>56</sup> Abraham, your father, was glad that he might see my day; and he saw, and did rejoice.'

<sup>58</sup> Jesus said to them, 'Verily, verily, I say to you, Before Abraham's coming — I am;'

<sup>59</sup> they took up, therefore, stones that they may cast at him, but Jesus hid himself, and went forth out of the temple, going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

9

<sup>2</sup> and his disciples asked him, saying, 'Rabbi, who did sin, this one or his parents, that he should be born blind?'

<sup>4</sup> it behoveth me to be working the works of Him who sent me while it is day; night doth come, when no one is able to work: —

<sup>5</sup> when I am in the world, I am a light of the world.'

<sup>6</sup> These things saying, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and rubbed the clay on the eyes of the blind man, and said to him,

<sup>7</sup> 'Go away, wash at the pool of Siloam,' which is, interpreted, Sent. He went away, therefore, and did wash, and came seeing;

<sup>8</sup> the neighbours, therefore, and those seeing him before, that he was blind, said, 'Is not this he who is sitting and begging?'

<sup>9</sup> others said — 'This is he;' and others — 'He is like to him;' he himself said, — 'I am [he].'

<sup>10</sup> They said, therefore, to him, 'How were thine eyes opened?'

<sup>11</sup> he answered and said, 'A man called Jesus made clay, and rubbed my eyes, and said to me, Go away to the pool of Siloam, and wash; and having gone away and having washed, I received sight;'

<sup>12</sup> they said, therefore, to him, 'Where is that one?' he saith, 'I have not known.'

<sup>13</sup> They bring him to the Pharisees who once [was] blind,

<sup>14</sup> and it was a sabbath when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

<sup>15</sup> Again, therefore, the Pharisees also were asking him how he received sight, and he said to them, 'Clay he did put upon my eyes, and I did wash — and I see.'

<sup>16</sup> Of the Pharisees, therefore, certain said, 'This man is not from God, because the sabbath he doth not keep;' others said, 'How is a man — a sinful one — able to do such signs?' and there was a division among them.

<sup>17</sup> They said to the blind man again, 'Thou — what dost thou say of him — that he opened thine eyes?'

<sup>18</sup> and he said — 'He is a prophet.' The Jews, therefore, did not believe concerning him that he was blind and did receive sight, till that they called the parents of him who received sight,

<sup>19</sup> and they asked them, saying, 'Is your son, of whom ye say that he was born blind? how then now doth he see?'

<sup>20</sup> His parents answered them and said, 'We have known that this is our son, and that he was born blind;

<sup>21</sup> and how he now seeth, we have not known; or who opened his eyes, we have not known; himself is of age, ask him; he himself shall speak concerning himself.'

<sup>22</sup> These things said his parents, because they were afraid of the Jews, for already had the Jews agreed together, that if any one may confess him — Christ, he may be put out of the synagogue;

<sup>23</sup> because of this his parents said — 'He is of age, ask him.'

<sup>24</sup> They called, therefore, a second time the man who was blind, and they said to him, 'Give glory to God, we have known that this man is a sinner;'

<sup>25</sup> he answered, therefore, and said, 'If he be a sinner — I have not known, one thing I have known, that, being blind, now I see.'

<sup>26</sup> And they said to him again, 'What did he to thee? how did he open thine eyes?'

<sup>27</sup> He answered them, 'I told you already, and ye did not hear; why again do ye wish to hear? do ye also wish to become his disciples?'

<sup>28</sup> They reviled him, therefore, and said, 'Thou art his disciple, and we are Moses' disciples;

<sup>29</sup> we have known that God hath spoken to Moses, but this one — we have not known whence he is.'

<sup>30</sup> The man answered and said to them, 'Why, in this is a wonderful thing, that ye have not known whence he is, and he opened my eyes!

<sup>31</sup> and we have known that God doth not hear sinners, but, if any one may be a worshipper of God, and may do His will, him He doth hear;

<sup>32</sup> from the age it was not heard, that any one did open eyes of one who hath been born blind;

<sup>33</sup> if this one were not from God, he were not able to do anything.'

<sup>34</sup> They answered and said to him, 'In sins thou wast born altogether, and thou dost teach us!' and they cast him forth without.

<sup>35</sup> Jesus heard that they cast him forth without, and having found him, he said to him, 'Dost thou believe in the Son of God?'

<sup>36</sup> he answered and said, 'Who is he, sir, that I may believe in him?'

<sup>37</sup> And Jesus said to him, 'Thou hast both seen him, and he who is speaking with thee is he;'

<sup>38</sup> and he said, 'I believe, sir,' and bowed before him.

<sup>39</sup> And Jesus said, 'For judgment I to this world did come, that those not seeing may see, and those seeing may become blind.'

<sup>40</sup> And those of the Pharisees who were with him heard these things, and they said to him, 'Are we also blind?'

<sup>41</sup> Jesus said to them, 'If ye were blind, ye were not having had sin, but now ye say — We see, therefore doth your sin remain.'

10

<sup>1</sup> 'Verily, verily, I say to you, He who is not entering through the door to the fold of the sheep, but is going up from another side, that one is a thief and a robber;

<sup>2</sup> and he who is entering through the door is shepherd of the sheep;

<sup>4</sup> and when his own sheep he may put forth, before them he goeth on, and the sheep follow him, because they have known his voice;

<sup>5</sup> and a stranger they will not follow, but will flee from him, because they have not known the voice of strangers.'

<sup>6</sup> This similitude spake Jesus to them, and they knew not what the things were that he was speaking to them;

<sup>7</sup> Jesus said therefore again to them, 'Verily, verily, I say to you — I am the door of the sheep;

<sup>8</sup> all, as many as came before me, are thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not hear them;

<sup>9</sup> I am the door, through me if any one may come in, he shall be saved, and he shall come in, and go out, and find pasture.

<sup>10</sup> 'The thief doth not come, except that he may steal, and kill, and destroy; I came that they may have life, and may have [it] abundantly.

<sup>11</sup> 'I am the good shepherd; the good shepherd his life layeth down for the sheep;

<sup>12</sup> and the hireling, and not being a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, doth behold the wolf coming, and doth leave the sheep, and doth flee; and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep;

<sup>13</sup> and the hireling doth flee because he is an hireling, and is not caring for the sheep.

<sup>14</sup> 'I am the good shepherd, and I know my [sheep], and am known by mine,

<sup>15</sup> according as the Father doth know me, and I know the Father, and my life I lay down for the sheep,

<sup>16</sup> and other sheep I have that are not of this fold, these also it behoveth me to bring, and my voice they will hear, and there shall become one flock — one shepherd.

<sup>17</sup> 'Because of this doth the Father love me, because I lay down my life, that again I may take it;

<sup>18</sup> no one doth take it from me, but I lay it down of myself; authority I have to lay it down, and authority I have again to take it; this command I received from my Father.'

<sup>19</sup> Therefore, again, there came a division among the Jews, because of these words,

<sup>20</sup> and many of them said, 'He hath a demon, and is mad, why do ye hear him?'

<sup>21</sup> others said, 'These sayings are not those of a demoniac; is a demon able blind men's eyes to open?'

<sup>22</sup> And the dedication in Jerusalem came, and it was winter,

<sup>24</sup> the Jews, therefore, came round about him, and said to him, 'Till when our soul dost thou hold in suspense? if thou art the Christ, tell us freely.'

<sup>25</sup> Jesus answered them, 'I told you, and ye do not believe; the works that I do in the name of my Father, these testify concerning me;

<sup>26</sup> but ye do not believe, for ye are not of my sheep,

<sup>27</sup> according as I said to you: My sheep my voice do hear, and I know them, and they follow me,

<sup>28</sup> and life age-during I give to them, and they shall not perish – to the age, and no one shall pluck them out of my hand;

<sup>29</sup> my Father, who hath given to me, is greater than all, and no one is able to pluck out of the hand of my Father;

<sup>30</sup> I and the Father are one.'

<sup>32</sup> Jesus answered them, 'Many good works did I shew you from my Father; because of which work of them do ye stone me?'

<sup>33</sup> The Jews answered him, saying, 'For a good work we do not stone thee, but for evil speaking, and because thou, being a man, dost make thyself God.'

<sup>34</sup> Jesus answered them, 'Is it not having been written in your law: I said, ye are gods?'

<sup>35</sup> if them he did call gods unto whom the word of God came, (and the Writing is not able to be broken,)

<sup>36</sup> of him whom the Father did sanctify, and send to the world, do ye say – Thou speakest evil, because I said, Son of God I am?

<sup>37</sup> if I do not the works of my Father, do not believe me;

<sup>38</sup> and if I do, even if me ye may not believe, the works believe, that ye may know and may believe that in me [is] the Father, and I in Him.'

<sup>39</sup> Therefore were they seeking again to seize him, and he went forth out of their hand,

<sup>40</sup> and went away again to the other side of the Jordan, to the place where John was at first baptizing, and remained there,

<sup>41</sup> and many came unto him, and said – 'John, indeed, did no sign, and all things, as many as John said about this one were true;'

<sup>42</sup> and many did believe in him there.

11

<sup>3</sup> therefore sent the sisters unto him, saying, 'Sir, lo, he whom thou dost love is ailing;'

<sup>4</sup> and Jesus having heard, said, 'This ailment is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified through it.'

<sup>6</sup> when, therefore, he heard that he is ailing, then indeed he remained in the place in which he was two days,

<sup>7</sup> then after this, he saith to the disciples, 'We may go to Judea again;'

<sup>8</sup> the disciples say to him, 'Rabbi, now were the Jews seeking to stone thee, and again thou dost go thither!'

<sup>9</sup> Jesus answered, 'Are there not twelve hours in the day? if any one may walk in the day, he doth not stumble, because the light of this world he doth see;

<sup>10</sup> and if any one may walk in the night, he stumbleth, because the light is not in him.'

<sup>11</sup> These things he said, and after this he saith to them, 'Lazarus our friend hath fallen asleep, but I go on that I may awake him;'

<sup>12</sup> therefore said his disciples, 'Sir, if he hath fallen asleep, he will be saved;'

<sup>13</sup> but Jesus had spoken about his death, but they thought that about the repose of sleep he speaketh.

<sup>14</sup> Then, therefore, Jesus said to them freely, 'Lazarus hath died;

<sup>15</sup> and I rejoice, for your sake, (that ye may believe,) that I was not there; but we may go to him;'

<sup>16</sup> therefore said Thomas, who is called Didymus, to the fellow-disciples, 'We may go — we also, that we may die with him,'

<sup>17</sup> Jesus, therefore, having come, found him having been four days already in the tomb.

<sup>19</sup> and many of the Jews had come unto Martha and Mary, that they might comfort them concerning their brother;

<sup>20</sup> Martha, therefore, when she heard that Jesus doth come, met him, and Mary kept sitting in the house.

<sup>21</sup> Martha, therefore, said unto Jesus, 'Sir, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died;

<sup>22</sup> but even now, I have known that whatever thou mayest ask of God, God will give to thee;'

<sup>24</sup> Martha saith to him, 'I have known that he will rise again, in the rising again in the last day;'

<sup>25</sup> Jesus said to her, 'I am the rising again, and the life; he who is believing in me, even if he may die, shall live;

<sup>26</sup> and every one who is living and believing in me shall not die — to the age;

<sup>27</sup> believest thou this?' she saith to him, 'Yes, sir, I have believed that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, who is coming to the world.'

<sup>28</sup> And these things having said, she went away, and called Mary her sister privately, saying, 'The Teacher is present, and doth call thee;'

<sup>29</sup> she, when she heard, riseth up quickly, and doth come to him;

<sup>30</sup> and Jesus had not yet come to the village, but was in the place where Martha met him;

<sup>31</sup> the Jews, therefore, who were with her in the house, and were comforting her, having seen Mary that she rose up quickly and went forth, followed her, saying — 'She doth go away to the tomb, that she may weep there.'

<sup>32</sup> Mary, therefore, when she came where Jesus was, having seen him, fell at his feet, saying to him, 'Sir, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died;'

<sup>33</sup> Jesus, therefore, when he saw her weeping, and the Jews who came with her weeping, did groan in the spirit, and troubled himself, and he said,

<sup>34</sup> 'Where have ye laid him?' they say to him, 'Sir, come and see;'

<sup>37</sup> and certain of them said, 'Was not this one, who did open the eyes of the blind man, able to cause that also this one might not have died?'

<sup>38</sup> Jesus, therefore, again groaning in himself, cometh to the tomb, and it was a cave, and a stone was lying upon it,

<sup>39</sup> Jesus saith, 'Take ye away the stone;' the sister of him who hath died — Martha — saith to him, 'Sir, already he stinketh, for he is four days dead;'

<sup>40</sup> Jesus saith to her, 'Said I not to thee, that if thou mayest believe, thou shalt see the glory of God?'

<sup>41</sup> They took away, therefore, the stone where the dead was laid, and Jesus lifted his eyes upwards, and said, 'Father, I thank Thee, that Thou didst hear me;

<sup>42</sup> and I knew that Thou always dost hear me, but, because of the multitude that is standing by, I said [it], that they may believe that Thou didst send me.'

<sup>45</sup> Many, therefore, of the Jews who came unto Mary, and beheld what Jesus did, believed in him;

<sup>46</sup> but certain of them went away unto the Pharisees, and told them what Jesus did;

<sup>47</sup> the chief priests, therefore, and the Pharisees, gathered together a sanhedrim, and said, 'What may we do? because this man doth many signs?'

<sup>48</sup> if we may let him alone thus, all will believe in him; and the Romans will come, and will take away both our place and nation.'

<sup>49</sup> and a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being chief priest of that year, said to them, 'Ye have not known anything,

<sup>50</sup> nor reason that it is good for us that one man may die for the people, and not the whole nation perish.'

<sup>51</sup> And this he said not of himself, but being chief priest of that year, he did prophesy that Jesus was about to die for the nation,

<sup>53</sup> From that day, therefore, they took counsel together that they may kill him;

<sup>54</sup> Jesus, therefore, was no more freely walking among the Jews, but went away thence to the region nigh the wilderness, to a city called Ephraim, and there he tarried with his disciples.

<sup>55</sup> And the passover of the Jews was nigh, and many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, that they might purify themselves;

<sup>56</sup> they were seeking, therefore, Jesus, and said one with another, standing in the temple, 'What doth appear to you — that he may not come to the feast?'

<sup>57</sup> and both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a command, that if any one may know where he is, he may shew [it], so that they may seize him.

12

<sup>1</sup> Jesus, therefore, six days before the passover, came to Bethany, where was Lazarus, who had died, whom he raised out of the dead;

<sup>6</sup> and he said this, not because he was caring for the poor, but because he was a thief, and had the bag, and what things were put in he was carrying.

<sup>7</sup> Jesus, therefore, said, 'Suffer her; for the day of my embalming she hath kept it,

<sup>8</sup> for the poor ye have always with yourselves, and me ye have not always.'

<sup>9</sup> A great multitude, therefore, of the Jews knew that he is there, and they came, not because of Jesus only, but that Lazarus also they may see, whom he raised out of the dead;

<sup>10</sup> and the chief priests took counsel, that also Lazarus they may kill,

<sup>11</sup> because on account of him many of the Jews were going away, and were believing in Jesus.

<sup>12</sup> On the morrow, a great multitude that came to the feast, having heard that Jesus doth come to Jerusalem,

<sup>13</sup> took the branches of the palms, and went forth to meet him, and were crying, 'Hosanna, blessed [is] he who is coming in the name of the Lord — the king of Israel;'

<sup>14</sup> and Jesus having found a young ass did sit upon it, according as it is written,

<sup>15</sup> 'Fear not, daughter of Sion, lo, thy king doth come, sitting on an ass' colt.'

<sup>16</sup> And these things his disciples did not know at the first, but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were having been written about him, and these things they did to him.

<sup>17</sup> The multitude, therefore, who are with him, were testifying that he called Lazarus out of the tomb, and did raise him out of the dead;

<sup>18</sup> because of this also did the multitude meet him, because they heard of his having done this sign,

<sup>19</sup> the Pharisees, therefore, said among themselves, 'Ye see that ye do not gain anything, lo, the world did go after him.'

<sup>20</sup> And there were certain Greeks out of those coming up that they may worship in the feast,

<sup>21</sup> these then came near to Philip, who [is] from Bethsaida of Galilee, and were asking him, saying, 'Sir, we wish to see Jesus;'

<sup>23</sup> And Jesus responded to them, saying, 'The hour hath come that the Son of Man may be glorified;

<sup>24</sup> verily, verily, I say to you, if the grain of the wheat, having fallen to the earth, may not die, itself remaineth alone; and if it may die, it doth bear much fruit;

<sup>25</sup> he who is loving his life shall lose it, and he who is hating his life in this world — to life age-during shall keep it;

<sup>26</sup> if any one may minister to me, let him follow me, and where I am, there also my ministrant shall be; and if any one may minister to me — honour him will the Father.

<sup>27</sup> 'Now hath my soul been troubled, and what? shall I say — Father, save me from this hour? — but because of this I came to this hour;

<sup>28</sup> Father, glorify Thy name.' There came, therefore, a voice out of the heaven, 'I both glorified, and again I will glorify [it];'

<sup>29</sup> the multitude, therefore, having stood and heard, were saying that there hath been thunder; others said, 'A messenger hath spoken to him.'

<sup>30</sup> Jesus answered and said, 'Not because of me hath this voice come, but because of you;

<sup>31</sup> now is a judgment of this world, now shall the ruler of this world be cast forth;

<sup>32</sup> and I, if I may be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto myself.'

<sup>33</sup> And this he said signifying by what death he was about to die;

<sup>34</sup> the multitude answered him, 'We heard out of the law that the Christ doth remain — to the age; and how dost thou say, That it behoveth the Son of Man to be lifted up? who is this — the Son of Man?'

<sup>35</sup> Jesus, therefore, said to them, 'Yet a little time is the light with you; walk while ye have the light, that darkness may not overtake you; and he who is walking in the darkness hath not known where he goeth;

<sup>36</sup> while ye have the light, believe in the light, that sons of light ye may become.' These things spake Jesus, and having gone away, he was hid from them,

<sup>37</sup> yet he having done so many signs before them, they were not believing in him,

<sup>38</sup> that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he said, 'Lord, who gave credence to our report? and the arm of the Lord — to whom was it revealed?'

<sup>39</sup> Because of this they were not able to believe, that again Isaiah said,

<sup>40</sup> 'He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they might not see with the eyes, and understand with the heart, and turn back, and I might heal them;'

<sup>41</sup> these things said Isaiah, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

<sup>42</sup> Still, however, also out of the rulers did many believe in him, but because of the Pharisees they were not confessing, that they might not be put out of the synagogue,

<sup>43</sup> for they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God.

<sup>44</sup> And Jesus cried and said, 'He who is believing in me, doth not believe in me, but in Him who sent me;

<sup>45</sup> and he who is beholding me, doth behold Him who sent me;

<sup>46</sup> I a light to the world have come, that every one who is believing in me — in the darkness may not remain;

<sup>47</sup> and if any one may hear my sayings, and not believe, I — I do not judge him, for I came not that I might judge the world, but that I might save the world.

<sup>48</sup> 'He who is rejecting me, and not receiving my sayings, hath one who is judging him, the word that I spake, that will judge him in the last day,
<sup>49</sup> because I spake not from myself, but the Father who sent me, He did give me a command, what I may say, and what I may speak,
<sup>50</sup> and I have known that His command is life age-during; what, therefore, I speak, according as the Father hath said to me, so I speak.'

13

<sup>1</sup> And before the feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that his hour hath come, that he may remove out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own who [are] in the world — to the end he loved them.

<sup>2</sup> And supper being come, the devil already having put [it] into the heart of Judas of Simon, Iscariot, that he may deliver him up,

<sup>3</sup> Jesus knowing that all things the Father hath given to him — into [his] hands, and that from God he came forth, and unto God he goeth,

<sup>4</sup> doth rise from the supper, and doth lay down his garments, and having taken a towel, he girded himself;

<sup>5</sup> afterward he putteth water into the basin, and began to wash the feet of his disciples, and to wipe with the towel with which he was being girded.

<sup>6</sup> He cometh, therefore, unto Simon Peter, and that one saith to him, 'Sir, thou — dost thou wash my feet?'

<sup>7</sup> Jesus answered and said to him, 'That which I do thou hast not known now, but thou shalt know after these things;'

<sup>8</sup> Peter saith to him, 'Thou mayest not wash my feet — to the age.' Jesus answered him, 'If I may not wash thee, thou hast no part with me;'

<sup>9</sup> Simon Peter saith to him, 'Sir, not my feet only, but also the hands and the head.'

<sup>10</sup> Jesus saith to him, 'He who hath been bathed hath no need save to wash his feet, but he is clean altogether; and ye are clean, but not all;'

<sup>11</sup> for he knew him who is delivering him up; because of this he said, 'Ye are not all clean.'

<sup>12</sup> When, therefore, he washed their feet, and took his garments, having reclined (at meat) again, he said to them, 'Do ye know what I have done to you?'

<sup>13</sup> ye call me, The Teacher and The Lord, and ye say well, for I am;

<sup>14</sup> if then I did wash your feet — the Lord and the Teacher — ye also ought to wash one another's feet.

<sup>15</sup> 'For an example I gave to you, that, according as I did to you, ye also may do;

<sup>16</sup> verily, verily, I say to you, a servant is not greater than his lord, nor an apostle greater than he who sent him;

<sup>17</sup> if these things ye have known, happy are ye, if ye may do them;

<sup>18</sup> not concerning you all do I speak; I have known whom I chose for myself; but that the Writing may be fulfilled: He who is eating the bread with me, did lift up against me his heel.

<sup>19</sup> 'From this time I tell you, before its coming to pass, that, when it may come to pass, ye may believe that I am [he];'

<sup>20</sup> verily, verily, I say to you, he who is receiving whomsoever I may send, doth receive me; and he who is receiving me, doth receive Him who sent me.'

<sup>21</sup> These things having said, Jesus was troubled in the spirit, and did testify, and said, 'Verily, verily, I say to you, that one of you will deliver me up;'

<sup>23</sup> And there was one of his disciples reclining (at meat) in the bosom of Jesus, whom Jesus was loving;

<sup>24</sup> Simon Peter, then, doth beckon to this one, to inquire who he may be concerning whom he speaketh,

<sup>25</sup> and that one having leant back on the breast of Jesus, respondeth to him, 'Sir, who is it?'

<sup>26</sup> Jesus answereth, 'That one it is to whom I, having dipped the morsel, shall give it;' and having dipped the morsel, he giveth [it] to Judas of Simon, Iscariot.

<sup>27</sup> And after the morsel, then the Adversary entered into that one, Jesus, therefore, saith to him, 'What thou dost — do quickly;'

<sup>28</sup> and none of those reclining at meat knew for what intent he said this to him,

<sup>29</sup> for certain were thinking, since Judas had the bag, that Jesus saith to him, 'Buy what we have need of for the feast;' or that he may give something to the poor;

<sup>30</sup> having received, therefore, the morsel, that one immediately went forth, and it was night.

<sup>31</sup> When, therefore, he went forth, Jesus saith, 'Now was the Son of Man glorified, and God was glorified in him;

<sup>32</sup> if God was glorified in him, God also will glorify him in Himself; yea, immediately He will glorify him.

<sup>33</sup> 'Little children, yet a little am I with you; ye will seek me, and, according as I said to the Jews — Whither I go away, ye are not able to come, to you also I do say [it] now.

<sup>34</sup> 'A new commandment I give to you, that ye love one another; according as I did love you, that ye also love one another;

<sup>35</sup> in this shall all know that ye are my disciples, if ye may have love one to another.'

<sup>36</sup> Simon Peter saith to him, 'Sir, whither dost thou go away?' Jesus answered him, 'Whither I go away, thou art not able now to follow me, but afterward thou shalt follow me.'

<sup>37</sup> Peter saith to him, 'Sir, wherefore am I not able to follow thee now? my life for thee I will lay down;'

<sup>38</sup> Jesus answered him, 'Thy life for me thou wilt lay down! verily, verily, I say to thee, a cock will not crow till thou mayest deny me thrice.'

14

<sup>1</sup> 'Let not your heart be troubled, believe in God, also in me believe;

<sup>2</sup> in the house of my Father are many mansions; and if not, I would have told you; I go on to prepare a place for you;

<sup>3</sup> and if I go on and prepare for you a place, again do I come, and will receive you unto myself, that where I am ye also may be;

<sup>4</sup> and whither I go away ye have known, and the way ye have known.'

<sup>5</sup> Thomas saith to him, 'Sir, we have not known whither thou goest away, and how are we able to know the way?'

<sup>6</sup> Jesus saith to him, 'I am the way, and the truth, and the life, no one doth come unto the Father, if not through me;

<sup>7</sup> if ye had known me, my Father also ye would have known, and from this time ye have known Him, and have seen Him.'

<sup>8</sup> Philip saith to him, 'Sir, shew to us the Father, and it is enough for us;'

<sup>9</sup> Jesus saith to him, 'So long time am I with you, and thou hast not known me, Philip? he who hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how dost thou say, Shew to us the Father?'

<sup>10</sup> Believest thou not that I [am] in the Father, and the Father is in me? the sayings that I speak to you, from myself I speak not, and the Father who is abiding in me, Himself doth the works;

<sup>11</sup> believe me, that I [am] in the Father, and the Father in me; and if not, because of the works themselves, believe me.

<sup>12</sup> 'Verily, verily, I say to you, he who is believing in me, the works that I do – that one also shall do, and greater than these he shall do, because I go on to my Father;

<sup>13</sup> and whatever ye may ask in my name, I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son;

<sup>14</sup> if ye ask anything in my name I will do [it].

<sup>15</sup> 'If ye love me, my commands keep,

<sup>16</sup> and I will ask the Father, and another Comforter He will give to you, that he may remain with you – to the age;

<sup>17</sup> the Spirit of truth, whom the world is not able to receive, because it doth not behold him, nor know him, and ye know him, because he doth remain with you, and shall be in you.

<sup>18</sup> 'I will not leave you bereaved, I come unto you;

<sup>19</sup> yet a little, and the world doth no more behold me, and ye behold me, because I live, and ye shall live;

<sup>20</sup> in that day ye shall know that I [am] in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you;

<sup>21</sup> he who is having my commands, and is keeping them, that one it is who is loving me, and he who is loving me shall be loved by my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.'

<sup>22</sup> Judas saith to him, (not the Iscariot), 'Sir, what hath come to pass, that to us thou are about to manifest thyself, and not to the world?'

<sup>23</sup> Jesus answered and said to him, 'If any one may love me, my word he will keep, and my Father will love him, and unto him we will come, and abode with him we will make;

<sup>24</sup> he who is not loving me, my words doth not keep; and the word that ye hear is not mine, but the Father's who sent me.

<sup>25</sup> 'These things I have spoken to you, remaining with you,

<sup>26</sup> and the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things, and remind you of all things that I said to you.

<sup>27</sup> 'Peace I leave to you; my peace I give to you, not according as the world doth give do I give to you; let not your heart be troubled, nor let it be afraid;

<sup>28</sup> ye heard that I said to you – I go away, and I come unto you; if ye did love me, ye would have rejoiced that I said – I go on to the Father, because my Father is greater than I.

<sup>29</sup> 'And now I have said [it] to you before it come to pass, that when it may come to pass, ye may believe;

<sup>30</sup> I will no more talk much with you, for the ruler of this world doth come, and in me he hath nothing;

<sup>31</sup> but that the world may know that I love the Father, and according as the Father gave me command so I do; arise, we may go hence.

15

- <sup>1</sup> 'I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman;
<sup>2</sup> every branch in me not bearing fruit, He doth take it away, and every one bearing fruit, He doth cleanse by pruning it, that it may bear more fruit;
<sup>3</sup> already ye are clean, because of the word that I have spoken to you;
<sup>4</sup> remain in me, and I in you, as the branch is not able to bear fruit of itself, if it may not remain in the vine, so neither ye, if ye may not remain in me.
<sup>5</sup> 'I am the vine, ye the branches; he who is remaining in me, and I in him, this one doth bear much fruit, because apart from me ye are not able to do anything;
<sup>6</sup> if any one may not remain in me, he was cast forth without as the branch, and was withered, and they gather them, and cast to fire, and they are burned;
<sup>7</sup> if ye may remain in me, and my sayings in you may remain, whatever ye may wish ye shall ask, and it shall be done to you.
<sup>8</sup> 'In this was my Father glorified, that ye may bear much fruit, and ye shall become my disciples.
<sup>9</sup> According as the Father did love me, I also loved you, remain in my love;
<sup>10</sup> if my commandments ye may keep, ye shall remain in my love, according as I the commands of my Father have kept, and do remain in His love;
<sup>11</sup> these things I have spoken to you, that my joy in you may remain, and your joy may be full.
<sup>12</sup> 'This is my command, that ye love one another, according as I did love you;
<sup>13</sup> greater love than this hath no one, that any one his life may lay down for his friends;
<sup>14</sup> ye are my friends, if ye may do whatever I command you;
<sup>15</sup> no more do I call you servants, because the servant hath not known what his lord doth, and you I have called friends, because all things that I heard from my Father, I did make known to you.
<sup>16</sup> 'Ye did not choose out me, but I chose out you, and did appoint you, that ye might go away, and might bear fruit, and your fruit might remain, that whatever ye may ask of the Father in my name, He may give you.
<sup>17</sup> 'These things I command you, that ye love one another;
<sup>18</sup> if the world doth hate you, ye know that it hath hated me before you;
<sup>19</sup> if of the world ye were, the world its own would have been loving, and because of the world ye are not — but I chose out of the world — because of this the world hateth you.
<sup>20</sup> 'Remember the word that I said to you, A servant is not greater than his lord; if me they did persecute, you also they will persecute; if my word they did keep, yours also they will keep;
<sup>21</sup> but all these things will they do to you, because of my name, because they have not known Him who sent me;
<sup>22</sup> if I had not come and spoken to them, they were not having sin; but now pretext they have not for their sin.
<sup>23</sup> 'He who is hating me, doth hate also my Father;
<sup>24</sup> if I did not do among them the works that no other hath done, they were not having sin, and now they have both seen and hated both me and my Father;
<sup>25</sup> but — that the word may be fulfilled that was written in their law — They hated me without a cause.

<sup>26</sup> 'And when the Comforter may come, whom I will send to you from the Father — the Spirit of truth, who from the Father doth come forth, he will testify of me;

<sup>27</sup> and ye also do testify, because from the beginning ye are with me.

16

<sup>2</sup> out of the synagogues they will put you; but an hour doth come, that every one who hath killed you, may think to offer service unto God;

<sup>3</sup> and these things they will do to you, because they did not know the Father, nor me.

<sup>4</sup> 'But these things I have spoken to you, that when the hour may come, ye may remember them, that I said [them] to you, and these things to you from the beginning I did not say, because I was with you;

<sup>5</sup> and now I go away to Him who sent me, and none of you doth ask me, Whither dost thou go?

<sup>6</sup> but because these things I have said to you, the sorrow hath filled your heart.

<sup>7</sup> 'But I tell you the truth; it is better for you that I go away, for if I may not go away, the Comforter will not come unto you, and if I go on, I will send Him unto you;

<sup>8</sup> and having come, He will convict the world concerning sin, and concerning righteousness, and concerning judgment;

<sup>10</sup> and concerning righteousness, because unto my Father I go away, and no more do ye behold me;

<sup>12</sup> 'I have yet many things to say to you, but ye are not able to bear [them] now;

<sup>13</sup> and when He may come — the Spirit of truth — He will guide you to all the truth, for He will not speak from Himself, but as many things as He will hear He will speak, and the coming things He will tell you;

<sup>14</sup> He will glorify me, because of mine He will take, and will tell to you.

<sup>15</sup> 'All things, as many as the Father hath, are mine; because of this I said, That of mine He will take, and will tell to you;

<sup>16</sup> a little while, and ye do not behold me, and again a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go away unto the Father.'

<sup>17</sup> Therefore said [some] of his disciples one to another, 'What is this that he saith to us, A little while, and ye do not behold me, and again a little while, and ye shall see me, and, Because I go away unto the Father?'

<sup>18</sup> they said then, 'What is this he saith — the little while? we have not known what he saith.'

<sup>19</sup> Jesus, therefore, knew that they were wishing to ask him, and he said to them, 'Concerning this do ye seek one with another, because I said, A little while, and you do not behold me, and again a little while, and ye shall see me?'

<sup>20</sup> verily, verily, I say to you, that ye shall weep and lament, and the world will rejoice; and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow joy will become.

<sup>21</sup> 'The woman, when she may bear, hath sorrow, because her hour did come, and when she may bear the child, no more doth she remember the anguish, because of the joy that a man was born to the world.

<sup>22</sup> 'And ye, therefore, now, indeed, have sorrow; and again I will see you, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one doth take from you,

<sup>23</sup> and in that day ye will question me nothing; verily, verily, I say to you, as many things as ye may ask of the Father in my name, He will give you;

<sup>24</sup> till now ye did ask nothing in my name; ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.

<sup>25</sup> 'These things in similitudes I have spoken to you, but there cometh an hour when no more in similitudes will I speak to you, but freely of the Father, will tell you.

<sup>26</sup> 'In that day, in my name ye will make request, and I do not say to you that I will ask the Father for you,

<sup>27</sup> for the Father himself doth love you, because me ye have loved, and ye have believed that I from God came forth;

<sup>28</sup> I came forth from the Father, and have come to the world; again I leave the world, and go on unto the Father.'

<sup>29</sup> His disciples say to him, 'Lo, now freely thou dost speak, and no similitude speakest thou;

<sup>30</sup> now we have known that thou hast known all things, and hast no need that any one do question thee; in this we believe that from God thou didst come forth.'

<sup>32</sup> and now it hath come, that ye may be scattered, each to his own things, and me ye may leave alone, and I am not alone, because the Father is with me;

<sup>33</sup> these things I have spoken to you, that in me ye may have peace, in the world ye shall have tribulation, but take courage — I have overcome the world.'

17

<sup>1</sup> These things spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to the heaven, and said — 'Father, the hour hath come, glorify Thy Son, that Thy Son also may glorify Thee,

<sup>2</sup> according as Thou didst give to him authority over all flesh, that — all that Thou hast given to him — he may give to them life age-during;

<sup>3</sup> and this is the life age-during, that they may know Thee, the only true God, and him whom Thou didst send — Jesus Christ;

<sup>4</sup> I did glorify Thee on the earth, the work I did finish that Thou hast given me, that I may do [it].

<sup>5</sup> 'And now, glorify me, Thou Father, with Thyself, with the glory that I had before the world was, with Thee;

<sup>6</sup> I did manifest Thy name to the men whom Thou hast given to me out of the world; Thine they were, and to me Thou hast given them, and Thy word they have kept;

<sup>7</sup> now they have known that all things, as many as Thou hast given to me, are from Thee,

<sup>8</sup> because the sayings that Thou hast given to me, I have given to them, and they themselves received, and have known truly, that from Thee I came forth, and they did believe that Thou didst send me.

<sup>9</sup> 'I ask in regard to them; not in regard to the world do I ask, but in regard to those whom Thou hast given to me, because Thine they are,

<sup>10</sup> and all mine are Thine, and Thine [are] mine, and I have been glorified in them;

<sup>11</sup> and no more am I in the world, and these are in the world, and I come unto Thee. Holy Father, keep them in Thy name, whom Thou hast given to me, that they may be one as we;

<sup>12</sup> when I was with them in the world, I was keeping them in Thy name; those whom Thou hast given to me I did guard, and none of them was destroyed, except the son of the destruction, that the Writing may be fulfilled.

<sup>13</sup> 'And now unto Thee I come, and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy fulfilled in themselves;

<sup>14</sup> I have given to them Thy word, and the world did hate them, because they are not of the world, as I am not of the world;

<sup>15</sup> I do not ask that Thou mayest take them out of the world, but that Thou mayest keep them out of the evil.

<sup>16</sup> 'Of the world they are not, as I of the world am not;

<sup>18</sup> as Thou didst send me to the world, I also did send them to the world;

<sup>19</sup> and for them do I sanctify myself, that they also themselves may be sanctified in truth.

<sup>20</sup> 'And not in regard to these alone do I ask, but also in regard to those who shall be believing, through their word, in me;

<sup>21</sup> that they all may be one, as Thou Father [art] in me, and I in Thee; that they also in us may be one, that the world may believe that Thou didst send me.

<sup>22</sup> 'And I, the glory that thou hast given to me, have given to them, that they may be one as we are one;

<sup>23</sup> I in them, and Thou in me, that they may be perfected into one, and that the world may know that Thou didst send me, and didst love them as Thou didst love me.

<sup>24</sup> 'Father, those whom Thou hast given to me, I will that where I am they also may be with me, that they may behold my glory that Thou didst give to me, because Thou didst love me before the foundation of the world.

<sup>25</sup> 'Righteous Father, also the world did not know Thee, and I knew Thee, and these have known that Thou didst send me,

<sup>26</sup> and I made known to them Thy name, and will make known, that the love with which Thou lovedst me in them may be, and I in them.'

18

<sup>1</sup> These things having said, Jesus went forth with his disciples beyond the brook of Kedron, where was a garden, into which he entered, himself and his disciples,

<sup>2</sup> and Judas also, who delivered him up, had known the place, because many times did Jesus assemble there with his disciples.

<sup>3</sup> Judas, therefore, having taken the band and officers out of the chief priests and Pharisees, doth come thither with torches and lamps, and weapons;

<sup>4</sup> Jesus, therefore, knowing all things that are coming upon him, having gone forth, said to them, 'Whom do ye seek?'

<sup>5</sup> they answered him, 'Jesus the Nazarene;' Jesus saith to them, 'I am [he];' — and Judas who delivered him up was standing with them; —

<sup>6</sup> when, therefore, he said to them — 'I am [he],' they went away backward, and fell to the ground.

<sup>7</sup> Again, therefore, he questioned them, 'Whom do ye seek?' and they said, 'Jesus the Nazarene;'

<sup>8</sup> Jesus answered, 'I said to you that I am [he]; if, then, me ye seek, suffer these to go away;'

<sup>9</sup> that the word might be fulfilled that he said — 'Those whom Thou hast given to me, I did not lose of them even one.'

<sup>10</sup> Simon Peter, therefore, having a sword, drew it, and struck the chief priest's servant, and cut off his right ear — and the name of the servant was Malchus —

<sup>11</sup> Jesus, therefore, said to Peter, 'Put the sword into the sheath; the cup that the Father hath given to me, may I not drink it?'

<sup>12</sup> The band, therefore, and the captain, and the officers of the Jews, took hold on Jesus, and bound him,

<sup>13</sup> and they led him away to Annas first, for he was father-in-law of Caiaphas, who was chief priest of that year, <sup>14</sup> and Caiaphas was he who gave counsel to the Jews, that it is good for one man to perish for the people.

<sup>15</sup> And following Jesus was Simon Peter, and the other disciple, and that disciple was known to the chief priest, and he entered with Jesus to the hall of the chief priest,

<sup>16</sup> and Peter was standing at the door without, therefore went forth the other disciple who was known to the chief priest, and he spake to the female keeping the door, and he brought in Peter.

<sup>17</sup> Then said the maid keeping the door to Peter, 'Art thou also of the disciples of this man?' he saith, 'I am not;'

<sup>18</sup> and the servants and the officers were standing, having made a fire of coals, because it was cold, and they were warming themselves, and Peter was standing with them, and warming himself.

<sup>20</sup> Jesus answered him, 'I spake freely to the world, I did always teach in a synagogue, and in the temple, where the Jews do always come together; and in secret I spake nothing;

<sup>21</sup> why me dost thou question? question those having heard what I spake to them; lo, these have known what I said.'

<sup>23</sup> Jesus answered him, 'If I spake ill, testify concerning the ill; and if well, why me dost thou smite?'

<sup>25</sup> And Simon Peter was standing and warming himself, they said then to him, 'Art thou also of his disciples?' he denied, and said, 'I am not.'

<sup>28</sup> They led, therefore, Jesus from Caiaphas to the praetorium, and it was early, and they themselves did not enter into the praetorium, that they might not be defiled, but that they might eat the passover;

<sup>29</sup> Pilate, therefore, went forth unto them, and said, 'What accusation do ye bring against this man?'

<sup>30</sup> they answered and said to him, 'If he were not an evil doer, we had not delivered him to thee.'

<sup>31</sup> Pilate, therefore, said to them, 'Take ye him — ye — and according to your law judge him;' the Jews, therefore, said to him, 'It is not lawful to us to put any one to death;'

<sup>32</sup> that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled which he said, signifying by what death he was about to die.

<sup>33</sup> Pilate, therefore, entered into the praetorium again, and called Jesus, and said to him, 'Thou art the King of the Jews?'

<sup>34</sup> Jesus answered him, 'From thyself dost thou say this? or did others say it to thee about me?'

<sup>36</sup> Jesus answered, 'My kingdom is not of this world; if my kingdom were of this world, my officers had struggled that I might not be delivered up to Jews; but now my kingdom is not from hence.'

<sup>37</sup> Pilate, therefore, said to him, 'Art thou then a king?' Jesus answered, 'Thou dost say [it]; because a king I am, I for this have been born, and for this I have come to the world, that I may testify to the truth; every one who is of the truth, doth hear my voice.'

<sup>38</sup> Pilate saith to him, 'What is truth?' and this having said, again he went forth unto the Jews, and saith to them, 'I do find no fault in him;'

<sup>39</sup> and ye have a custom that I shall release to you one in the passover; will ye, therefore, [that] I shall release to you the king of the Jews?'

<sup>40</sup> therefore they all cried out again, saying, 'Not this one — but Barabbas;' and Barabbas was a robber.

19

<sup>2</sup> and the soldiers having plaited a crown of thorns, did place [it] on his head, and a purple garment they put around him,

<sup>3</sup> and said, 'Hail! the king of the Jews;' and they were giving him slaps.

<sup>4</sup> Pilate, therefore, again went forth without, and saith to them, 'Lo, I do bring him to you without, that ye may know that in him I find no fault;'

<sup>5</sup> Jesus, therefore, came forth without, bearing the thorny crown and the purple garment; and he saith to them, 'Lo, the man!'

<sup>6</sup> When, therefore, the chief priests and the officers did see him, they cried out, saying, 'Crucify, crucify;' Pilate saith to them, 'Take ye him — ye, and crucify; for I find no fault in him;'

<sup>7</sup> the Jews answered him, 'We have a law, and according to our law he ought to die, for he made himself Son of God.'

<sup>8</sup> When, therefore, Pilate heard this word, he was the more afraid,

<sup>9</sup> and entered again to the praetorium, and saith to Jesus, 'Whence art thou?' and Jesus gave him no answer.

<sup>10</sup> Pilate, therefore, saith to him, 'To me dost thou not speak? hast thou not known that I have authority to crucify thee, and I have authority to release thee?'

<sup>11</sup> Jesus answered, 'Thou wouldest have no authority against me, if it were not having been given thee from above; because of this, he who is delivering me up to thee hath greater sin.'

<sup>12</sup> From this [time] was Pilate seeking to release him, and the Jews were crying out, saying, 'If this one thou mayest release, thou art not a friend of Caesar; every one making himself a king, doth speak against Caesar.'

<sup>13</sup> Pilate, therefore, having heard this word, brought Jesus without — and he sat down upon the tribunal — to a place called, 'Pavement,' and in Hebrew, Gabbatha;

<sup>14</sup> and it was the preparation of the passover, and as it were the sixth hour, and he saith to the Jews, 'Lo, your king!'

<sup>15</sup> and they cried out, 'Take away, take away, crucify him;' Pilate saith to them, 'Your king shall I crucify?' the chief priests answered, 'We have no king except Caesar.'

<sup>16</sup> Then, therefore, he delivered him up to them, that he may be crucified, and they took Jesus and led [him] away,

<sup>17</sup> and bearing his cross, he went forth to the place called [Place] of a Skull, which is called in Hebrew Golgotha;

<sup>18</sup> where they crucified him, and with him two others, on this side, and on that side, and Jesus in the midst.

<sup>19</sup> And Pilate also wrote a title, and put [it] on the cross, and it was written, 'Jesus the Nazarene, the king of the Jews;'

<sup>20</sup> this title, therefore, read many of the Jews, because the place was nigh to the city where Jesus was crucified, and it was having been written in Hebrew, in Greek, in Roman.

<sup>21</sup> The chief priests of the Jews said, therefore, to Pilate, 'Write not — The king of the Jews, but that one said, I am king of the Jews;'

<sup>23</sup> The soldiers, therefore, when they did crucify Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to each soldier a part, also the coat, and the coat was seamless, from the top woven throughout,

<sup>24</sup> they said, therefore, to one another, 'We may not rend it, but cast a lot for it, whose it shall be;' that the Writing might be fulfilled, that is saying, 'They divided my garments to themselves, and upon my raiment they did cast a lot;' the soldiers, therefore, indeed, did these things.

<sup>25</sup> And there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary of Cleopas, and Mary the Magdalene;

<sup>26</sup> Jesus, therefore, having seen [his] mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he was loving, he saith to his mother, 'Woman, lo, thy son;'

<sup>27</sup> afterward he saith to the disciple, 'Lo, thy mother;' and from that hour the disciple took her to his own [home].

<sup>28</sup> After this, Jesus knowing that all things now have been finished, that the Writing may be fulfilled, saith, 'I thirst;'

<sup>29</sup> a vessel, therefore, was placed full of vinegar, and they having filled a sponge with vinegar, and having put [it] around a hyssop stalk, did put [it] to his mouth;

<sup>30</sup> when, therefore, Jesus received the vinegar, he said, 'It hath been finished;' and having bowed the head, gave up the spirit.

<sup>31</sup> The Jews, therefore, that the bodies might not remain on the cross on the sabbath, since it was the preparation, (for that sabbath day was a great one,) asked of Pilate that their legs may be broken, and they taken away.

<sup>32</sup> The soldiers, therefore, came, and of the first indeed they did break the legs, and of the other who was crucified with him,

<sup>33</sup> and having come to Jesus, when they saw him already having been dead, they did not break his legs;

<sup>34</sup> but one of the soldiers with a spear did pierce his side, and immediately there came forth blood and water;

<sup>35</sup> and he who hath seen hath testified, and his testimony is true, and that one hath known that true things he speaketh, that ye also may believe.

<sup>36</sup> For these things came to pass, that the Writing may be fulfilled, 'A bone of him shall not be broken;'

<sup>37</sup> and again another Writing saith, 'They shall look to him whom they did pierce.'

<sup>38</sup> And after these things did Joseph of Arimathea — being a disciple of Jesus, but concealed, through the fear of the Jews — ask of Pilate, that he may take away the body of Jesus, and Pilate gave leave; he came, therefore, and took away the body of Jesus,

<sup>39</sup> and Nicodemus also came — who came unto Jesus by night at the first — bearing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, as it were, a hundred pounds.

<sup>40</sup> They took, therefore, the body of Jesus, and bound it with linen clothes with the spices, according as it was the custom of the Jews to prepare for burial;

<sup>41</sup> and there was in the place where he was crucified a garden, and in the garden a new tomb, in which no one was yet laid;

<sup>42</sup> there, therefore, because of the preparation of the Jews, because the tomb was nigh, they laid Jesus.

20

<sup>1</sup> And on the first of the sabbaths, Mary the Magdalene doth come early (there being yet darkness) to the tomb, and she seeth the stone having been taken away out of the tomb,

<sup>2</sup> she runneth, therefore, and cometh unto Simon Peter, and unto the other disciple whom Jesus was loving, and saith to them, 'They took away the Lord out of the tomb, and we have not known where they laid him.'

<sup>3</sup> Peter, therefore, went forth, and the other disciple, and they were coming to the tomb,

<sup>4</sup> and the two were running together, and the other disciple did run forward more quickly than Peter, and came first to the tomb,

<sup>5</sup> and having stooped down, seeth the linen clothes lying, yet, indeed, he entered not.

<sup>7</sup> and the napkin that was upon his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but apart, having been folded up, in one place;

<sup>8</sup> then, therefore, entered also the other disciple who came first unto the tomb, and he saw, and did believe;

<sup>9</sup> for not yet did they know the Writing, that it behoveth him out of the dead to rise again.

<sup>10</sup> The disciples therefore went away again unto their own friends,

<sup>11</sup> and Mary was standing near the tomb, weeping without; as she was weeping, then, she stooped down to the tomb, and beholdeth two messengers in white, sitting,

<sup>12</sup> one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had been laid.

<sup>13</sup> And they say to her, 'Woman, why dost thou weep?' she saith to them, 'Because they took away my Lord, and I have not known where they laid him;'

<sup>14</sup> and these things having said, she turned backward, and seeth Jesus standing, and she had not known that it is Jesus.

<sup>15</sup> Jesus saith to her, 'Woman, why dost thou weep? whom dost thou seek?' she, supposing that he is the gardener, saith to him, 'Sir, if thou didst carry him away, tell me where thou didst lay him, and I will take him away;'

<sup>16</sup> Jesus saith to her, 'Mary!' having turned, she saith to him, 'Rabbouni;' that is to say, 'Teacher.'

<sup>17</sup> Jesus saith to her, 'Be not touching me, for I have not yet ascended unto my Father; and be going on to my brethren, and say to them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father, and to my God, and to your God.'

<sup>18</sup> Mary the Magdalene cometh, telling to the disciples that she hath seen the Lord, and [that] these things he said to her.

<sup>19</sup> It being, therefore, evening, on that day, the first of the sabbaths, and the doors having been shut where the disciples were assembled, through fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and saith to them, 'Peace to you;'

<sup>20</sup> and this having said, he shewed them his hands and side; the disciples, therefore, rejoiced, having seen the Lord.

<sup>21</sup> Jesus, therefore, said to them again, 'Peace to you; according as the Father hath sent me, I also send you;'

<sup>22</sup> and this having said, he breathed on [them], and saith to them, 'Receive the Holy Spirit;

<sup>23</sup> if of any ye may loose the sins, they are loosed to them; if of any ye may retain, they have been retained.'

<sup>24</sup> And Thomas, one of the twelve, who is called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came;

<sup>25</sup> the other disciples, therefore, said to him, 'We have seen the Lord;' and he said to them, 'If I may not see in his hands the mark of the nails, and may put my finger to the mark of the nails, and may put my hand to his side, I will not believe.'

<sup>26</sup> And after eight days, again were his disciples within, and Thomas with them; Jesus cometh, the doors having been shut, and he stood in the midst, and said, 'Peace to you!'

<sup>27</sup> then he saith to Thomas, 'Bring thy finger hither, and see my hands, and bring thy hand, and put [it] to my side, and become not unbelieving, but believing.'

<sup>28</sup> And Thomas answered and said to him, 'My Lord and my God;'

<sup>29</sup> Jesus saith to him, 'Because thou hast seen me, Thomas, thou hast believed; happy those not having seen, and having believed.'

<sup>30</sup> Many indeed, therefore, other signs also did Jesus before his disciples, that are not written in this book;

<sup>31</sup> and these have been written that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye may have life in his name.'

21

<sup>2</sup> There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas who is called Didymus, and Nathanael from Cana of Galilee, and the [sons] of Zebedee, and two others of his disciples.

<sup>3</sup> Simon Peter saith to them, 'I go away to fish;' they say to him, 'We go — we also — with thee;' they went forth and entered into the boat immediately, and on that night they caught nothing.

<sup>4</sup> And morning being now come, Jesus stood at the shore, yet indeed the disciples did not know that it is Jesus;

<sup>5</sup> Jesus, therefore, saith to them, 'Lads, have ye any meat?'

<sup>6</sup> they answered him, 'No;' and he said to them, 'Cast the net at the right side of the boat, and ye shall find;' they cast, therefore, and no longer were they able to draw it, from the multitude of the fishes.

<sup>7</sup> That disciple, therefore, whom Jesus was loving saith to Peter, 'The Lord it is!' Simon Peter, therefore, having heard that it is the Lord, did gird on the outer coat, (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea;

<sup>8</sup> and the other disciples came by the little boat, for they were not far from the land, but as it were about two hundred cubits off, dragging the net of the fishes;

<sup>10</sup> Jesus saith to them, 'Bring ye from the fishes that ye caught now;'

<sup>11</sup> Simon Peter went up, and drew the net up on the land, full of great fishes, an hundred fifty and three, and though they were so many, the net was not rent.

<sup>12</sup> Jesus saith to them, 'Come ye, dine;' and none of the disciples was venturing to inquire of him, 'Who art thou?' knowing that it is the Lord;

<sup>13</sup> Jesus, therefore, doth come and take the bread and give to them, and the fish in like manner;

<sup>14</sup> this [is] now a third time Jesus was manifested to his disciples, having been raised from the dead.

<sup>15</sup> When, therefore, they dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, 'Simon, [son] of Jonas, dost thou love me more than these?' he saith to him, 'Yes, Lord; thou hast known that I dearly love thee;' he saith to him, 'Feed my lambs.'

<sup>16</sup> He saith to him again, a second time, 'Simon, [son] of Jonas, dost thou love me?' he saith to him, 'Yes, Lord; thou hast known that I dearly love thee;' he saith to him, 'Tend my sheep.'

<sup>17</sup> He saith to him the third time, 'Simon, [son] of Jonas, dost thou dearly love me?' Peter was grieved that he said to him the third time, 'Dost thou dearly love me?' and he said to him, 'Lord, thou hast known all things; thou dost know that I dearly love thee.' Jesus saith to him, 'Feed my sheep;

<sup>18</sup> verily, verily, I say to thee, When thou wast younger, thou wast girding thyself and wast walking whither thou didst will, but when thou mayest be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another will gird thee, and shall carry [thee] whither thou dost not will;'

<sup>19</sup> and this he said, signifying by what death he shall glorify God; and having said this, he saith to him, 'Be following me.'

<sup>20</sup> And Peter having turned about doth see the disciple whom Jesus was loving following, (who also reclined in the supper on his breast, and said, 'Sir, who is he who is delivering thee up?')

<sup>22</sup> Jesus saith to him, 'If him I will to remain till I come, what – to thee? be thou following me.' This word, therefore, went forth to the brethren that that disciple doth not die,

<sup>23</sup> yet Jesus did not say to him, that he doth not die, but, 'If him I will to remain till I come, what – to thee?'

<sup>24</sup> this is the disciple who is testifying concerning these things, and he wrote these things, and we have known that his testimony is true.

<sup>25</sup> And there are also many other things – as many as Jesus did – which, if they may be written one by one, not even the world itself I think to have place for the books written. Amen.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES

<sup>1</sup> The former account, indeed, I made concerning all things, O Theophilus, that Jesus began both to do and to teach,

<sup>2</sup> till the day in which, having given command, through the Holy Spirit, to the apostles whom he did choose out, he was taken up,

<sup>3</sup> to whom also he did present himself alive after his suffering, in many certain proofs, through forty days being seen by them, and speaking the things concerning the reign of God.

<sup>4</sup> And being assembled together with them, he commanded them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the promise of the Father, which, [saith he,] 'Ye did hear of me;

<sup>6</sup> They, therefore, indeed, having come together, were questioning him, saying, 'Lord, dost thou at this time restore the reign to Israel?'

<sup>7</sup> and he said unto them, 'It is not yours to know times or seasons that the Father did appoint in His own authority;

<sup>8</sup> but ye shall receive power at the coming of the Holy Spirit upon you, and ye shall be witnesses to me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and Samaria, and unto the end of the earth.'

<sup>9</sup> And these things having said — they beholding — he was taken up, and a cloud did receive him up from their sight;

<sup>10</sup> and as they were looking stedfastly to the heaven in his going on, then, lo, two men stood by them in white apparel,

<sup>11</sup> who also said, 'Men, Galileans, why do ye stand gazing into the heaven? this Jesus who was received up from you into the heaven, shall so come in what manner ye saw him going on to the heaven.'

<sup>12</sup> Then did they return to Jerusalem from the mount that is called of Olives, that is near Jerusalem, a sabbath's journey;

<sup>13</sup> and when they came in, they went up to the upper room, where were abiding both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James, of Alphaeus, and Simon the Zelotes, and Judas, of James;

<sup>14</sup> these all were continuing with one accord in prayer and supplication, with women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

<sup>15</sup> And in these days, Peter having risen up in the midst of the disciples, said, (the multitude also of the names at the same place was, as it were, an hundred and twenty,)

<sup>16</sup> 'Men, brethren, it behoved this Writing that it be fulfilled that beforehand the Holy Spirit spake through the mouth of David, concerning Judas, who became guide to those who took Jesus,

<sup>17</sup> because he was numbered among us, and did receive the share in this ministration,

<sup>19</sup> and it became known to all those dwelling in Jerusalem, insomuch that that place is called, in their proper dialect, Aceldama, that is, field of blood,

<sup>20</sup> for it hath been written in the book of Psalms: Let his lodging-place become desolate, and let no one be dwelling in it, and his oversight let another take.

<sup>21</sup> 'It behoveth, therefore, of the men who did go with us during all the time in which the Lord Jesus went in and went out among us,

<sup>23</sup> And they set two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias,

<sup>24</sup> and having prayed, they said, 'Thou, Lord, who art knowing the heart of all, shew which one thou didst choose of these two

<sup>25</sup> to receive the share of this ministration and apostleship, from which Judas, by transgression, did fall, to go on to his proper place;'

<sup>26</sup> and they gave their lots, and the lot fell upon Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

2

<sup>1</sup> And in the day of the Pentecost being fulfilled, they were all with one accord at the same place,

<sup>2</sup> and there came suddenly out of the heaven a sound as of a bearing violent breath, and it filled all the house where they were sitting,

<sup>3</sup> and there appeared to them divided tongues, as it were of fire; it sat also upon each one of them,

<sup>4</sup> and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak with other tongues, according as the Spirit was giving them to declare.

<sup>5</sup> And there were dwelling in Jerusalem Jews, devout men from every nation of those under the heaven,

<sup>6</sup> and the rumour of this having come, the multitude came together, and was confounded, because they were each one hearing them speaking in his proper dialect,

<sup>7</sup> and they were all amazed, and did wonder, saying one unto another, 'Lo, are not all these who are speaking Galileans?

<sup>8</sup> and how do we hear, each in our proper dialect, in which we were born?

<sup>9</sup> Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and those dwelling in Mesopotamia, in Judea also, and Cappadocia, Pontus, and Asia,

<sup>10</sup> Phrygia also, and Pamphylia, Egypt, and the parts of Libya, that [are] along Cyrene, and the strangers of Rome, both Jews and proselytes,

<sup>11</sup> Cretes and Arabians, we did hear them speaking in our tongues the great things of God.'

<sup>12</sup> And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one unto another, 'What would this wish to be?'

<sup>13</sup> and others mocking said, — 'They are full of sweet wine;'

<sup>14</sup> and Peter having stood up with the eleven, lifted up his voice and declared to them, 'Men, Jews! and all those dwelling in Jerusalem, let this be known to you, and harken to my sayings, <sup>15</sup> for these are not drunken, as ye take it up, for it is the third hour of the day.

<sup>16</sup> 'But this is that which hath been spoken through the prophet Joel:

<sup>17</sup> And it shall be in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of My Spirit upon all flesh, and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams;

<sup>18</sup> and also upon My men-servants, and upon My maid-servants, in those days, I will pour out of My Spirit, and they shall prophesy;

<sup>19</sup> and I will give wonders in the heaven above, and signs upon the earth beneath — blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke,

<sup>20</sup> the sun shall be turned to darkness, and the moon to blood, before the coming of the day of the Lord — the great and illustrious;

<sup>21</sup> and it shall be, every one — whoever shall call upon the name of the Lord, he shall be saved.

<sup>22</sup> 'Men, Israelites! hear these words, Jesus the Nazarene, a man approved of God among you by mighty works, and wonders, and signs, that God did through him in the midst of you, according as also ye yourselves have known;

<sup>23</sup> this one, by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, being given out, having taken by lawless hands, having crucified — ye did slay;

<sup>24</sup> whom God did raise up, having loosed the pains of the death, because it was not possible for him to be held by it,

<sup>25</sup> for David saith in regard to him: I foresaw the Lord always before me — because He is on my right hand — that I may not be moved;

<sup>26</sup> because of this was my heart cheered, and my tongue was glad, and yet — my flesh also shall rest on hope,

<sup>27</sup> because Thou wilt not leave my soul to hades, nor wilt Thou give Thy Kind One to see corruption;

<sup>28</sup> Thou didst make known to me ways of life, Thou shalt fill me with joy with Thy countenance.

<sup>29</sup> 'Men, brethren! it is permitted to speak with freedom unto you concerning the patriarch David, that he both died and was buried, and his tomb is among us unto this day;

<sup>30</sup> a prophet, therefore, being, and knowing that with an oath God did swear to him, out of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, to raise up the Christ, to sit upon his throne,

<sup>31</sup> having foreseen, he did speak concerning the rising again of the Christ, that his soul was not left to hades, nor did his flesh see corruption.

<sup>32</sup> 'This Jesus did God raise up, of which we are all witnesses;

<sup>33</sup> at the right hand then of God having been exalted — also the promise of the Holy Spirit having received from the Father — he was shedding forth this, which now ye see and hear;

<sup>36</sup> assuredly, therefore, let all the house of Israel know, that both Lord and Christ did God make him — this Jesus whom ye did crucify.'

<sup>37</sup> And having heard, they were pricked to the heart; they say also to Peter, and to the rest of the apostles, 'What shall we do, men, brethren?'

<sup>38</sup> and Peter said unto them, 'Reform, and be baptized each of you on the name of Jesus Christ, to remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit,

<sup>39</sup> for to you is the promise, and to your children, and to all those afar off, as many as the Lord our God shall call.'

<sup>40</sup> Also with many more other words he was testifying and exhorting, saying, 'Be saved from this perverse generation;'

<sup>41</sup> then those, indeed, who did gladly receive his word were baptized, and there were added on that day, as it were, three thousand souls,

<sup>42</sup> and they were continuing stedfastly in the teaching of the apostles, and the fellowship, and the breaking of the bread, and the prayers.

<sup>43</sup> And fear came on every soul, many wonders also and signs were being done through the apostles,

<sup>44</sup> and all those believing were at the same place, and had all things common,

<sup>45</sup> and the possessions and the goods they were selling, and were parting them to all, according as any one had need.

<sup>46</sup> Daily also continuing with one accord in the temple, breaking also at every house bread, they were partaking of food in gladness and simplicity of heart,

<sup>47</sup> praising God, and having favour with all the people, and the Lord was adding those being saved every day to the assembly.

3

<sup>1</sup> And Peter and John were going up at the same time to the temple, at the hour of the prayer, the ninth [hour],

<sup>2</sup> and a certain man, being lame from the womb of his mother, was being carried, whom they were laying every day at the gate of the temple, called Beautiful, to ask a kindness from those entering into the temple,

<sup>3</sup> who, having seen Peter and John about to go into the temple, was begging to receive a kindness.

<sup>5</sup> and he was giving heed to them, looking to receive something from them;

<sup>6</sup> and Peter said, 'Silver and gold I have none, but what I have, that I give to thee; in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and be walking.'

<sup>7</sup> And having seized him by the right hand, he raised [him] up, and presently his feet and ankles were strengthened,

<sup>8</sup> and springing up, he stood, and was walking, and did enter with them into the temple, walking and springing, and praising God;

<sup>9</sup> and all the people saw him walking and praising God,

<sup>10</sup> they were knowing him also that this it was who for a kindness was sitting at the Beautiful gate of the temple, and they were filled with wonder and amazement at what hath happened to him.

<sup>11</sup> And at the lame man who was healed holding Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch called Solomon's — greatly amazed, <sup>12</sup> and Peter having seen, answered unto the people, 'Men, Israelites! why wonder ye at this? or on us why look ye so earnestly, as if by our own power or piety we have made him to walk?

<sup>13</sup> 'The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, did glorify His child Jesus, whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, he having given judgment to release [him],

<sup>14</sup> and ye the Holy and Righteous One did deny, and desired a man — a murderer — to be granted to you,

<sup>15</sup> and the Prince of the life ye did kill, whom God did raise out of the dead, of which we are witnesses;

<sup>16</sup> and on the faith of his name, this one whom ye see and have known, his name made strong, even the faith that [is] through him did give to him this perfect soundness before you all.

<sup>17</sup> 'And now, brethren, I have known that through ignorance ye did [it], as also your rulers;

<sup>18</sup> and God, what things before He had declared through the mouth of all His prophets, that the Christ should suffer, He did thus fulfil;

<sup>19</sup> reform ye, therefore, and turn back, for your sins being blotted out, that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord,

<sup>20</sup> and He may send Jesus Christ who before hath been preached to you,

<sup>21</sup> whom it behoveth heaven, indeed, to receive till times of a restitution of all things, of which God spake through the mouth of all His holy prophets from the age.

<sup>22</sup> 'For Moses, indeed, unto the fathers said — A prophet to you shall the Lord your God raise up out of your brethren, like to me; him shall ye hear in all things, as many as he may speak unto you;

<sup>23</sup> and it shall be, every soul that may not hear that prophet shall be utterly destroyed out of the people;

<sup>24</sup> and also all the prophets from Samuel and those following in order, as many as spake, did also foretell of these days.

<sup>25</sup> 'Ye are sons of the prophets, and of the covenant that God made unto our fathers, saying unto Abraham: And in thy seed shall be blessed all the families of the earth;

<sup>26</sup> to you first, God, having raised up His child Jesus, did send him, blessing you, in the turning away of each one from your evil ways.'

4

<sup>1</sup> And as they are speaking unto the people, there came to them the priests, and the magistrate of the temple, and the Sadducees —

<sup>2</sup> being grieved because of their teaching the people, and preaching in Jesus the rising again out of the dead —

<sup>3</sup> and they laid hands upon them, and did put them in custody unto the morrow, for it was evening already;

<sup>4</sup> and many of those hearing the word did believe, and the number of the men became, as it were, five thousand.

<sup>5</sup> And it came to pass upon the morrow, there were gathered together of them the rulers, and elders, and scribes, to Jerusalem,

<sup>6</sup> and Annas the chief priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the chief priest,

<sup>7</sup> and having set them in the midst, they were inquiring, 'In what power, or in what name did ye do this?'

<sup>8</sup> Then Peter, having been filled with the Holy Spirit, said unto them: 'Rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,

<sup>9</sup> if we to-day are examined concerning the good deed to the ailing man, by whom he hath been saved,

<sup>10</sup> be it known to all of you, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye did crucify, whom God did raise out of the dead, in him hath this one stood by before you whole.

<sup>11</sup> 'This is the stone that was set at nought by you — the builders, that became head of a corner;

<sup>12</sup> and there is not salvation in any other, for there is no other name under the heaven that hath been given among men, in which it behoveth us to be saved.'

<sup>13</sup> And beholding the openness of Peter and John, and having perceived that they are men unlettered and plebeian, they were wondering — they were taking knowledge also of them that with Jesus they had been —

<sup>14</sup> and seeing the man standing with them who hath been healed, they had nothing to say against [it],

<sup>15</sup> and having commanded them to go away out of the sanhedrim, they took counsel with one another,

<sup>16</sup> saying, 'What shall we do to these men? because that, indeed, a notable sign hath been done through them, to all those dwelling in Jerusalem [is] manifest, and we are not able to deny [it];

<sup>17</sup> but that it may spread no further toward the people, let us strictly threaten them no more to speak in this name to any man.'

<sup>18</sup> And having called them, they charged them not to speak at all, nor to teach, in the name of Jesus,

<sup>19</sup> and Peter and John answering unto them said, 'Whether it is righteous before God to hearken to you rather than to God, judge ye;

<sup>20</sup> for we cannot but speak what we did see and hear.'

<sup>21</sup> And they having further threatened [them], let them go, finding nothing how they may punish them, because of the people, because all were glorifying God for that which hath been done, <sup>22</sup> for above forty years of age was the man upon whom had been done this sign of the healing.

<sup>23</sup> And being let go, they went unto their own friends, and declared whatever the chief priests and the elders said unto them,

<sup>24</sup> and they having heard, with one accord did lift up the voice unto God, and said, 'Lord, thou [art] God, who didst make the heaven, and the earth, and the sea, and all that [are] in them,

<sup>25</sup> who, through the mouth of David thy servant, did say, Why did nations rage, and peoples meditate vain things?

<sup>27</sup> for gathered together of a truth against Thy holy child Jesus, whom Thou didst anoint, were both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with nations and peoples of Israel,

<sup>28</sup> to do whatever Thy hand and Thy counsel did determine before to come to pass.

<sup>29</sup> 'And now, Lord, look upon their threatenings, and grant to Thy servants with all freedom to speak Thy word,

<sup>30</sup> in the stretching forth of Thy hand, for healing, and signs, and wonders, to come to pass through the name of Thy holy child Jesus.'

<sup>31</sup> And they having prayed, the place was shaken in which they were gathered together, and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and were speaking the word of God with freedom,

<sup>32</sup> and of the multitude of those who did believe the heart and the soul was one, and not one was saying that anything of the things he had was his own, but all things were to them in common.

<sup>33</sup> And with great power were the apostles giving the testimony to the rising again of the Lord Jesus, great grace also was on them all,

<sup>34</sup> for there was not any one among them who did lack, for as many as were possessors of fields, or houses, selling [them], were bringing the prices of the thing sold,

<sup>35</sup> and were laying them at the feet of the apostles, and distribution was being made to each according as any one had need.

<sup>37</sup> a field being his, having sold [it], brought the money and laid [it] at the feet of the apostles.

<sup>2</sup> and did keep back of the price — his wife also knowing — and having brought a certain part, at the feet of the apostles he laid [it].

<sup>3</sup> And Peter said, 'Ananias, wherefore did the Adversary fill thy heart, for thee to lie to the Holy Spirit, and to keep back of the price of the place?

<sup>4</sup> while it remained, did it not remain thine? and having been sold, in thy authority was it not? why [is] it that thou didst put in thy heart this thing? thou didst not lie to men, but to God;'

<sup>5</sup> and Ananias hearing these words, having fallen down, did expire, and great fear came upon all who heard these things, <sup>6</sup> and having risen, the younger men wound him up, and having carried forth, they buried [him].

<sup>7</sup> And it came to pass, about three hours after, that his wife, not knowing what hath happened, came in,

<sup>8</sup> and Peter answered her, 'Tell me if for so much ye sold the place;' and she said, 'Yes, for so much.'

<sup>9</sup> And Peter said unto her, 'How was it agreed by you, to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? lo, the feet of those who did bury thy husband [are] at the door, and they shall carry thee forth;'

<sup>10</sup> and she fell down presently at his feet, and expired, and the young men having come in, found her dead, and having carried forth, they buried [her] by her husband;

<sup>11</sup> and great fear came upon all the assembly, and upon all who heard these things.

<sup>12</sup> And through the hands of the apostles came many signs and wonders among the people, and they were with one accord all in the porch of Solomon;

<sup>13</sup> and of the rest no one was daring to join himself to them, but the people were magnifying them,

<sup>14</sup> (and the more were believers added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women,)

<sup>15</sup> so as into the broad places to bring forth the ailing, and to lay [them] upon couches and mats, that at the coming of Peter, even [his] shadow might overshadow some one of them;

<sup>16</sup> and there were coming together also the people of the cities round about to Jerusalem, bearing ailing persons, and those harassed by unclean spirits — who were all healed.

<sup>18</sup> and laid their hands upon the apostles, and did put them in a public prison;

<sup>19</sup> and a messenger of the Lord through the night opened the doors of the prison, having also brought them forth, he said,

<sup>20</sup> 'Go on, and standing, speak in the temple to the people all the sayings of this life;'

<sup>21</sup> and having heard, they did enter at the dawn into the temple, and were teaching. And the chief priest having come, and those with him, they called together the sanhedrim and all the senate of the sons of Israel, and they sent to the prison to have them brought,

<sup>22</sup> and the officers having come, did not find them in the prison, and having turned back, they told,

<sup>23</sup> saying — 'The prison indeed we found shut in all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors, and having opened — within we found no one.'

<sup>24</sup> And as the priest, and the magistrate of the temple, and the chief priests, heard these words, they were doubting concerning them to what this would come;

<sup>25</sup> and coming near, a certain one told them, saying — 'Lo, the men whom ye did put in the prison are in the temple standing and teaching the people;'

<sup>26</sup> then the magistrate having gone away with officers, brought them without violence, for they were fearing the people, lest they should be stoned;

<sup>27</sup> and having brought them, they set [them] in the sanhedrim, and the chief priest questioned them,

<sup>28</sup> saying, 'Did not we strictly command you not to teach in this name? and lo, ye have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and ye intend to bring upon us the blood of this man.'

<sup>29</sup> And Peter and the apostles answering, said, 'To obey God it behoveth, rather than men;

<sup>30</sup> and the God of our fathers did raise up Jesus, whom ye slew, having hanged upon a tree;

<sup>32</sup> and we are His witnesses of these sayings, and the Holy Spirit also, whom God gave to those obeying him.'

<sup>33</sup> And they having heard, were cut [to the heart], and were taking counsel to slay them,

<sup>35</sup> and said unto them, 'Men, Israelites, take heed to yourselves about these men, what ye are about to do,

<sup>36</sup> for before these days rose up Theudas, saying, that himself was some one, to whom a number of men did join themselves, as it were four hundred, who was slain, and all, as many as were obeying him, were scattered, and came to nought.

<sup>37</sup> 'After this one rose up, Judas the Galilean, in the days of the enrolment, and drew away much people after him, and that one perished, and all, as many as were obeying him, were scattered;

<sup>38</sup> and now I say to you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone, because if this counsel or this work may be of men, it will be overthrown,

<sup>39</sup> and if it be of God, ye are not able to overthrow it, lest perhaps also ye be found fighting against God.'

<sup>40</sup> And to him they agreed, and having called near the apostles, having beaten [them], they commanded [them] not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go;

<sup>41</sup> they, indeed, then, departed from the presence of the sanhedrim, rejoicing that for his name they were counted worthy to suffer dishonour,

<sup>42</sup> every day also in the temple, and in every house, they were not ceasing teaching and proclaiming good news — Jesus the Christ.

6

<sup>2</sup> and the twelve, having called near the multitude of the disciples, said, 'It is not pleasing that we, having left the word of God, do minister at tables;

<sup>3</sup> look out, therefore, brethren, seven men of you who are well testified of, full of the Holy Spirit and wisdom, whom we may set over this necessity,

<sup>4</sup> and we to prayer, and to the ministration of the word, will give ourselves continually.'

<sup>5</sup> And the thing was pleasing before all the multitude, and they did choose Stephen, a man full of faith and the Holy Spirit, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolaus, a proselyte of Antioch, <sup>6</sup> whom they did set before the apostles, and they, having prayed, laid on them [their] hands.

<sup>7</sup> And the word of God did increase, and the number of the disciples did multiply in Jerusalem exceedingly; a great multitude also of the priests were obedient to the faith.

<sup>8</sup> And Stephen, full of faith and power, was doing great wonders and signs among the people,

<sup>9</sup> and there arose certain of those of the synagogue, called of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of those from Cilicia, and Asia, disputing with Stephen,

<sup>10</sup> and they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit with which he was speaking;

<sup>11</sup> then they suborned men, saying — 'We have heard him speaking evil sayings in regard to Moses and God.'

<sup>12</sup> They did stir up also the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and having come upon [him], they caught him, and brought [him] to the sanhedrim;

<sup>13</sup> they set up also false witnesses, saying, 'This one doth not cease to speak evil sayings against this holy place and the law,

<sup>14</sup> for we have heard him saying, That this Jesus the Nazarean shall overthrow this place, and shall change the customs that Moses delivered to us;'

<sup>15</sup> and gazing at him, all those sitting in the sanhedrim saw his face as it were the face of a messenger.

7

<sup>2</sup> and he said, 'Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken: The God of the glory did appear to our father Abraham, being in Mesopotamia, before his dwelling in Haran, <sup>3</sup> and He said to him, Go forth out of thy land, and out of thy kindred, and come to a land that I shall shew thee.

<sup>4</sup> 'Then having come forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, he dwelt in Haran, and from thence, after the death of his father, He did remove him to this land wherein ye now dwell, <sup>5</sup> and He gave him no inheritance in it, not even a footstep, and did promise to give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him — he having no child.

<sup>6</sup> 'And God spake thus, That his seed shall be sojourning in a strange land, and they shall cause it to serve, and shall do it evil four hundred years,

<sup>7</sup> and the nation whom they shall serve I will judge, said God; and after these things they shall come forth and shall do Me service in this place.

<sup>8</sup> 'And He gave to him a covenant of circumcision, and so he begat Isaac, and did circumcise him on the eighth day, and Isaac [begat] Jacob, and Jacob — the twelve patriarchs;

<sup>9</sup> and the patriarchs, having been moved with jealousy, sold Joseph to Egypt, and God was with him,

<sup>10</sup> and did deliver him out of all his tribulations, and gave him favour and wisdom before Pharaoh king of Egypt, and he did set him — governor over Egypt and all his house.

<sup>11</sup> 'And there came a dearth upon all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great tribulation, and our fathers were not finding sustenance,

<sup>12</sup> and Jacob having heard that there was corn in Egypt, sent forth our fathers a first time;

<sup>13</sup> and at the second time was Joseph made known to his brethren, and Joseph's kindred became manifest to Pharaoh,

<sup>14</sup> and Joseph having sent, did call for his father Jacob, and all his kindred — with seventy and five souls —

<sup>15</sup> and Jacob went down to Egypt, and died, himself and our fathers,

<sup>16</sup> and they were carried over into Sychem, and were laid in the tomb that Abraham bought for a price in money from the sons of Emmor, of Sychem.

<sup>17</sup> 'And according as the time of the promise was drawing nigh, which God did swear to Abraham, the people increased and multiplied in Egypt,

<sup>19</sup> this one, having dealt subtilely with our kindred, did evil to our fathers, causing to expose their babes, that they might not live;

<sup>20</sup> in which time Moses was born, and he was fair to God, and he was brought up three months in the house of his father;

<sup>21</sup> and he having been exposed, the daughter of Pharaoh took him up, and did rear him to herself for a son;

<sup>22</sup> and Moses was taught in all wisdom of the Egyptians, and he was powerful in words and in works.

<sup>23</sup> 'And when forty years were fulfilled to him, it came upon his heart to look after his brethren, the sons of Israel;

<sup>24</sup> and having seen a certain one suffering injustice, he did defend, and did justice to the oppressed, having smitten the Egyptian;

<sup>25</sup> and he was supposing his brethren to understand that God through his hand doth give salvation; and they did not understand.

<sup>26</sup> 'On the succeeding day, also, he shewed himself to them as they are striving, and urged them to peace, saying, Men, brethren are ye, wherefore do ye injustice to one another?

<sup>27</sup> and he who is doing injustice to the neighbour, did thrust him away, saying, Who set thee a ruler and a judge over us?

<sup>29</sup> 'And Moses fled at this word, and became a sojourner in the land of Midian, where he begat two sons,

<sup>30</sup> and forty years having been fulfilled, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sinai a messenger of the Lord, in a flame of fire of a bush,

<sup>31</sup> and Moses having seen did wonder at the sight; and he drawing near to behold, there came a voice of the Lord unto him,

<sup>32</sup> I [am] the God of thy fathers; the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. 'And Moses having become terrified, durst not behold,

<sup>33</sup> and the Lord said to him, Loose the sandal of thy feet, for the place in which thou hast stood is holy ground;

<sup>34</sup> seeing I have seen the affliction of My people that [is] in Egypt, and their groaning I did hear, and came down to deliver them; and now come, I will send thee to Egypt.

<sup>35</sup> 'This Moses, whom they did refuse, saying, Who did set thee a ruler and a judge? this one God a ruler and a redeemer did send, in the hand of a messenger who appeared to him in the bush;

<sup>36</sup> this one did bring them forth, having done wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red Sea, and in the wilderness forty years;

<sup>37</sup> this is the Moses who did say to the sons of Israel: A prophet to you shall the Lord your God raise up out of your brethren, like to me, him shall ye hear.

<sup>38</sup> 'This is he who was in the assembly in the wilderness, with the messenger who is speaking to him in the mount Sinai, and with our fathers who did receive the living oracles to give to us;

<sup>39</sup> to whom our fathers did not wish to become obedient, but did thrust away, and turned back in their hearts to Egypt,

<sup>40</sup> saying to Aaron, Make to us gods who shall go on before us, for this Moses, who brought us forth out of the land of Egypt, we have not known what hath happened to him.

<sup>41</sup> 'And they made a calf in those days, and brought a sacrifice to the idol, and were rejoicing in the works of their hands,

<sup>42</sup> and God did turn, and did give them up to do service to the host of the heaven, according as it hath been written in the scroll of the prophets: Slain beasts and sacrifices did ye offer to Me forty years in the wilderness, O house of Israel?

<sup>43</sup> and ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan — the figures that ye made to bow before them, and I will remove your dwelling beyond Babylon.

<sup>44</sup> 'The tabernacle of the testimony was among our fathers in the wilderness, according as He did direct, who is speaking to Moses, to make it according to the figure that he had seen;

<sup>45</sup> which also our fathers having in succession received, did bring in with Joshua, into the possession of the nations whom God did drive out from the presence of our fathers, till the days of David,

<sup>48</sup> 'But the Most High in sanctuaries made with hands doth not dwell, according as the prophet saith:

<sup>49</sup> The heaven [is] My throne, and the earth My footstool; what house will ye build to Me? saith the Lord, or what [is] the place of My rest?

<sup>50</sup> hath not My hand made all these things?

<sup>51</sup> 'Ye stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart and in ears! ye do always the Holy Spirit resist; as your fathers — also ye;

<sup>52</sup> which of the prophets did not your fathers persecute? and they killed those who declared before about the coming of the Righteous One, of whom now ye betrayers and murderers have become,

<sup>53</sup> who received the law by arrangement of messengers, and did not keep [it].'

<sup>54</sup> And hearing these things, they were cut to the hearts, and did gnash the teeth at him;

<sup>55</sup> and being full of the Holy Spirit, having looked stedfastly to the heaven, he saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God,

<sup>56</sup> and he said, 'Lo, I see the heavens having been opened, and the Son of Man standing on the right hand of God.'

<sup>57</sup> And they, having cried out with a loud voice, stopped their ears, and did rush with one accord upon him,

<sup>58</sup> and having cast him forth outside of the city, they were stoning [him] — and the witnesses did put down their garments at the feet of a young man called Saul —

<sup>59</sup> and they were stoning Stephen, calling and saying, 'Lord Jesus, receive my spirit;'

<sup>60</sup> and having bowed the knees, he cried with a loud voice, 'Lord, mayest thou not lay to them this sin;' and this having said, he fell asleep.

8

<sup>1</sup> And Saul was assenting to his death, and there came in that day a great persecution upon the assembly in Jerusalem, all also were scattered abroad in the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles;

<sup>3</sup> and Saul was making havoc of the assembly, into every house entering, and haling men and women, was giving them up to prison;

<sup>5</sup> And Philip having gone down to a city of Samaria, was preaching to them the Christ,

<sup>6</sup> the multitudes also were giving heed to the things spoken by Philip, with one accord, in their hearing and seeing the signs that he was doing,

<sup>7</sup> for unclean spirits came forth from many who were possessed, crying with a loud voice, and many who have been paralytic and lame were healed,

<sup>8</sup> and there was great joy in that city.

<sup>9</sup> And a certain man, by name Simon, was before in the city using magic, and amazing the nation of Samaria, saying himself to be a certain great one,

<sup>10</sup> to whom they were all giving heed, from small unto great, saying, 'This one is the great power of God;'

<sup>11</sup> and they were giving heed to him, because of his having for a long time amazed them with deeds of magic.

<sup>12</sup> And when they believed Philip, proclaiming good news, the things concerning the reign of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women;

<sup>13</sup> and Simon also himself did believe, and, having been baptized, he was continuing with Philip, beholding also signs and mighty acts being done, he was amazed.

<sup>14</sup> And the apostles in Jerusalem having heard that Samaria hath received the word of God, did send unto them Peter and John,

<sup>15</sup> who having come down did pray concerning them, that they may receive the Holy Spirit, —

<sup>16</sup> for as yet he was fallen upon none of them, and only they have been baptized — to the name of the Lord Jesus;

<sup>17</sup> then were they laying hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit.

<sup>18</sup> And Simon, having beheld that through the laying on of the hands of the apostles, the Holy Spirit is given, brought before them money,

<sup>19</sup> saying, 'Give also to me this authority, that on whomsoever I may lay the hands, he may receive the Holy Spirit.'

<sup>20</sup> And Peter said unto him, 'Thy silver with thee — may it be to destruction! because the gift of God thou didst think to possess through money;

<sup>22</sup> reform, therefore, from this thy wickedness, and beseech God, if then the purpose of thy heart may be forgiven thee,

<sup>23</sup> for in the gall of bitterness, and bond of unrighteousness, I perceive thee being.'

<sup>24</sup> And Simon answering, said, 'Beseech ye for me unto the Lord, that nothing may come upon me of the things ye have spoken.'

<sup>25</sup> They indeed, therefore, having testified fully, and spoken the word of the Lord, did turn back to Jerusalem; in many villages also of the Samaritans they did proclaim good news.

<sup>26</sup> And a messenger of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, 'Arise, and go on toward the south, on the way that is going down from Jerusalem to Gaza,' — this is desert.

<sup>27</sup> And having arisen, he went on, and lo, a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch, a man of rank, of Candace the queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasure, who had come to worship to Jerusalem;

<sup>28</sup> he was also returning, and is sitting on his chariot, and he was reading the prophet Isaiah.

<sup>29</sup> And the Spirit said to Philip, 'Go near, and be joined to this chariot;'

<sup>30</sup> and Philip having run near, heard him reading the prophet Isaiah, and said, 'Dost thou then know what thou dost read?'

<sup>31</sup> and he said, 'Why, how am I able, if some one may not guide me?' he called Philip also, having come up, to sit with him.

<sup>32</sup> And the contents of the Writing that he was reading was this: 'As a sheep unto slaughter he was led, and as a lamb before his shearer dumb, so he doth not open his mouth;

<sup>34</sup> And the eunuch answering Philip said, 'I pray thee, about whom doth the prophet say this? about himself, or about some other one?'

<sup>35</sup> and Philip having opened his mouth, and having begun from this Writing, proclaimed good news to him — Jesus.

<sup>36</sup> And as they were going on the way, they came upon a certain water, and the eunuch said, 'Lo, water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?'

<sup>37</sup> [And Philip said, 'If thou dost believe out of all the heart, it is lawful;' and he answering said, 'I believe Jesus Christ to be the Son of God;']

<sup>38</sup> and he commanded the chariot to stand still, and they both went down to the water, both Philip and the eunuch, and he baptized him;

<sup>39</sup> and when they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, and the eunuch saw him no more, for he was going on his way rejoicing;

<sup>40</sup> and Philip was found at Azotus, and passing through, he was proclaiming good news to all the cities, till his coming to Caesarea.

9

<sup>1</sup> And Saul, yet breathing of threatening and slaughter to the disciples of the Lord, having gone to the chief priest,

<sup>2</sup> did ask from him letters to Damascus, unto the synagogues, that if he may find any being of the way, both men and women, he may bring them bound to Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> And in the going, he came nigh to Damascus, and suddenly there shone round about him a light from the heaven,

<sup>4</sup> and having fallen upon the earth, he heard a voice saying to him, 'Saul, Saul, why dost thou persecute?'

<sup>5</sup> And he said, 'Who art thou, Lord?' and the Lord said, 'I am Jesus whom thou dost persecute; hard for thee at the pricks to kick;'

<sup>6</sup> trembling also, and astonished, he said, 'Lord, what dost thou wish me to do?' and the Lord [said] unto him, 'Arise, and enter into the city, and it shall be told thee what it behoveth thee to do.'

<sup>7</sup> And the men who are journeying with him stood speechless, hearing indeed the voice but seeing no one,

<sup>8</sup> and Saul arose from the earth, and his eyes having been opened, he beheld no one, and leading him by the hand they brought him to Damascus, <sup>9</sup> and he was three days without seeing, and he did neither eat nor drink.

<sup>10</sup> And there was a certain disciple in Damascus, by name Ananias, and the Lord said unto him in a vision, 'Ananias;' and he said, 'Behold me, Lord;'

<sup>11</sup> and the Lord [saith] unto him, 'Having risen, go on unto the street that is called Straight, and seek in the house of Judas, [one] by name Saul of Tarsus, for, lo, he doth pray,

<sup>12</sup> and he saw in a vision a man, by name Ananias, coming in, and putting a hand on him, that he may see again.'

<sup>14</sup> and here he hath authority from the chief priests, to bind all those calling on Thy name.'

<sup>15</sup> And the Lord said unto him, 'Be going on, because a choice vessel to Me is this one, to bear My name before nations and kings – the sons also of Israel;

<sup>16</sup> for I will shew him how many things it behoveth him for My name to suffer.'

<sup>17</sup> And Ananias went away, and did enter into the house, and having put upon him [his] hands, said, 'Saul, brother, the Lord hath sent me – Jesus who did appear to thee in the way in which thou wast coming – that thou mayest see again, and mayest be filled with the Holy Spirit.'

<sup>18</sup> And immediately there fell from his eyes as it were scales, he saw again also presently, and having risen, was baptized,

<sup>19</sup> and having received nourishment, was strengthened, and Saul was with the disciples in Damascus certain days,

<sup>20</sup> and immediately in the synagogues he was preaching the Christ, that he is the Son of God.

<sup>21</sup> And all those hearing were amazed, and said, 'Is not this he who laid waist in Jerusalem those calling on this name, and hither to this intent had come, that he might bring them bound to the chief priests?'

<sup>22</sup> And Saul was still more strengthened, and he was confounding the Jews dwelling in Damascus, proving that this is the Christ.

<sup>23</sup> And when many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel together to kill him,

<sup>24</sup> and their counsel against [him] was known to Saul; they were also watching the gates both day and night, that they may kill him,

<sup>25</sup> and the disciples having taken him, by night did let him down by the wall, letting down in a basket.

<sup>26</sup> And Saul, having come to Jerusalem, did try to join himself to the disciples, and they were all afraid of him, not believing that he is a disciple,

<sup>27</sup> and Barnabas having taken him, brought [him] unto the apostles, and did declare to them how in the way he saw the Lord, and that he spake to him, and how in Damascus he was speaking boldly in the name of Jesus.

<sup>28</sup> And he was with them, coming in and going out in Jerusalem,

<sup>29</sup> and speaking boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, he was both speaking and disputing with the Hellenists, and they were taking in hand to kill him,

<sup>30</sup> and the brethren having known, brought him down to Caesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

<sup>31</sup> Then, indeed, the assemblies throughout all Judea, and Galilee, and Samaria, had peace, being built up, and, going on in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Spirit, they were multiplied.

<sup>32</sup> And it came to pass that Peter passing throughout all [quarters], came down also unto the saints who were dwelling at Lydda,

<sup>33</sup> and he found there a certain man, Aeneas by name — for eight years laid upon a couch — who was paralytic,

<sup>34</sup> and Peter said to him, 'Aeneas, heal thee doth Jesus the Christ; arise and spread for thyself;' and immediately he rose,

<sup>35</sup> and all those dwelling at Lydda, and Saron saw him, and did turn to the Lord.

<sup>36</sup> And in Joppa there was a certain female disciple, by name Tabitha, (which interpreted, is called Dorcas,) this woman was full of good works and kind acts that she was doing;

<sup>37</sup> and it came to pass in those days she, having ailed, died, and having bathed her, they laid her in an upper chamber,

<sup>38</sup> and Lydda being nigh to Joppa, the disciples having heard that Peter is in that [place], sent two men unto him, calling on him not to delay to come through unto them.

<sup>39</sup> And Peter having risen, went with them, whom having come, they brought into the upper chamber, and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing coats and garments, as many as Dorcas was making while she was with them.

<sup>40</sup> And Peter having put them all forth without, having bowed the knees, did pray, and having turned unto the body said, 'Tabitha, arise;' and she opened her eyes, and having seen Peter, she sat up,

<sup>41</sup> and having given her [his] hand, he lifted her up, and having called the saints and the widows, he presented her alive,

<sup>42</sup> and it became known throughout all Joppa, and many believed on the Lord;

<sup>43</sup> and it came to pass, that he remained many days in Joppa, with a certain one, Simon a tanner.

10

<sup>2</sup> pious, and fearing God with all his house, doing also many kind acts to the people, and beseeching God always,

<sup>3</sup> he saw in a vision manifestly, as it were the ninth hour of the day, a messenger of God coming in unto him, and saying to him, 'Cornelius;'

<sup>4</sup> and he having looked earnestly on him, and becoming afraid, said, 'What is it, Lord?' And he said to him, 'Thy prayers and thy kind acts came up for a memorial before God,

<sup>5</sup> and now send men to Joppa, and send for a certain one Simon, who is surnamed Peter,

<sup>6</sup> this one doth lodge with a certain Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea; this one shall speak to thee what it behoveth thee to do.'

<sup>7</sup> And when the messenger who is speaking to Cornelius went away, having called two of his domestics, and a pious soldier of those waiting on him continually,

<sup>8</sup> and having declared to them all things, he sent them to Joppa.

<sup>9</sup> And on the morrow, as these are proceeding on the way, and are drawing nigh to the city, Peter went up upon the house-top to pray, about the sixth hour,

<sup>10</sup> and he became very hungry, and wished to eat; and they making ready, there fell upon him a trance,

<sup>11</sup> and he doth behold the heaven opened, and descending unto him a certain vessel, as a great sheet, bound at the four corners, and let down upon the earth,

<sup>12</sup> in which were all the four-footed beasts of the earth, and the wild beasts, and the creeping things, and the fowls of the heaven,

<sup>13</sup> and there came a voice unto him: 'Having risen, Peter, slay and eat.'

<sup>14</sup> And Peter said, 'Not so, Lord; because at no time did I eat anything common or unclean;'

<sup>15</sup> and [there is] a voice again a second time unto him: 'What God did cleanse, thou, declare not thou common;'

<sup>16</sup> and this was done thrice, and again was the vessel received up to the heaven.

<sup>17</sup> And as Peter was perplexed in himself what the vision that he saw might be, then, lo, the men who have been sent from Cornelius, having made inquiry for the house of Simon, stood at the gate, <sup>18</sup> and having called, they were asking if Simon, who is surnamed Peter, doth lodge here?

<sup>19</sup> And Peter thinking about the vision, the Spirit said to him, 'Lo, three men do seek thee;

<sup>20</sup> but having risen, go down and go on with them, nothing doubting, because I have sent them;'

<sup>21</sup> and Peter having come down unto the men who have been sent from Cornelius unto him, said, 'Lo, I am he whom ye seek, what [is] the cause for which ye are present?'

<sup>22</sup> And they said, 'Cornelius, a centurion, a man righteous and fearing God, well testified to, also, by all the nation of the Jews, was divinely warned by a holy messenger to send for thee, to his house, and to hear sayings from thee.'

<sup>23</sup> Having called them in, therefore, he lodged them, and on the morrow Peter went forth with them, and certain of the brethren from Joppa went with him,

<sup>24</sup> and on the morrow they did enter into Caesarea; and Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his kindred and near friends,

<sup>25</sup> and as it came that Peter entered in, Cornelius having met him, having fallen at [his] feet, did bow before [him];

<sup>27</sup> and talking with him he went in, and doth find many having come together.

<sup>28</sup> And he said unto them, 'Ye know how it is unlawful for a man, a Jew, to keep company with, or to come unto, one of another race, but to me God did shew to call no man common or unclean;

<sup>29</sup> therefore also without gainsaying I came, having been sent for; I ask, therefore, for what matter ye did send for me?'

<sup>30</sup> And Cornelius said, 'Four days ago till this hour, I was fasting, and [at] the ninth hour praying in my house, and, lo, a man stood before me in bright clothing,

<sup>31</sup> and he said, Cornelius, thy prayer was heard, and thy kind acts were remembered before God;

<sup>32</sup> send, therefore, to Joppa, and call for Simon, who is surnamed Peter; this one doth lodge in the house of Simon a tanner, by the sea, who having come, shall speak to thee;

<sup>33</sup> at once, therefore, I sent to thee; thou also didst do well, having come; now, therefore, are we all before God present to hear all things that have been commanded thee by God.'

<sup>34</sup> And Peter having opened his mouth, said, 'Of a truth, I perceive that God is no respecter of persons,

<sup>35</sup> but in every nation he who is fearing Him, and is working righteousness, is acceptable to Him;

<sup>36</sup> the word that he sent to the sons of Israel, proclaiming good news — peace through Jesus Christ (this one is Lord of all,)

<sup>37</sup> ye — ye have known; — the word that came throughout all Judea, having begun from Galilee, after the baptism that John preached;

<sup>38</sup> Jesus who [is] from Nazareth — how God did anoint him with the Holy Spirit and power; who went through, doing good, and healing all those oppressed by the devil, because God was with him;

<sup>39</sup> and we — we are witnesses of all things that he did, both in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem, — whom they did slay, having hanged upon a tree.

<sup>40</sup> 'This one God did raise up the third day, and gave him to become manifest,

<sup>41</sup> not to all the people, but to witnesses, to those having been chosen before by God — to us who did eat with [him], and did drink with him, after his rising out of the dead;

<sup>42</sup> and he commanded us to preach to the people, and to testify fully that it is he who hath been ordained by God judge of living and dead —

<sup>43</sup> to this one do all the prophets testify, that through his name every one that is believing in him doth receive remission of sins.'

<sup>44</sup> While Peter is yet speaking these sayings, the Holy spirit fell upon all those hearing the word,

<sup>45</sup> and those of the circumcision believing were astonished — as many as came with Peter — because also upon the nations the gift of the Holy Spirit hath been poured out,

<sup>46</sup> for they were hearing them speaking with tongues and magnifying God.

<sup>47</sup> Then answered Peter, 'The water is any one able to forbid, that these may not be baptized, who the Holy Spirit did receive — even as also we?'

<sup>48</sup> he commanded them also to be baptized in the name of the Lord; then they besought him to remain certain days.

11

<sup>1</sup> And the apostles and the brethren who are in Judea heard that also the nations did receive the word of God,

<sup>2</sup> and when Peter came up to Jerusalem, those of the circumcision were contending with him,

<sup>5</sup> 'I was in the city of Joppa praying, and I saw in a trance a vision, a certain vessel coming down, as a great sheet by four corners being let down out of the heaven, and it came unto me;

<sup>6</sup> at which having looked stedfastly, I was considering, and I saw the four-footed beasts of the earth, and the wild beasts, and the creeping things, and the fowls of heaven;

<sup>7</sup> and I heard a voice saying to me, Having risen, Peter, slay and eat;

<sup>8</sup> and I said, Not so, Lord; because anything common or unclean hath at no time entered into my mouth;

<sup>9</sup> and a voice did answer me a second time out of the heaven, What God did cleanse, thou — declare not thou common.

<sup>10</sup> 'And this happened thrice, and again was all drawn up to the heaven,

<sup>11</sup> and, lo, immediately, three men stood at the house in which I was, having been sent from Caesarea unto me,

<sup>12</sup> and the Spirit said to me to go with them, nothing doubting, and these six brethren also went with me, and we did enter into the house of the man,

<sup>13</sup> he declared also to us how he saw the messenger in his house standing, and saying to him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, who is surnamed Peter;

<sup>14</sup> who shall speak sayings by which thou shalt be saved, thou and all thy house.

<sup>15</sup> 'And in my beginning to speak, the Holy Spirit did fall upon them, even as also upon us in the beginning,

<sup>16</sup> and I remembered the saying of the Lord, how he said, John indeed did baptize with water, and ye shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit;

<sup>17</sup> if then the equal gift God did give to them as also to us, having believed upon the Lord Jesus Christ, I — how was I able to withstand God?'

<sup>18</sup> And they, having heard these things, were silent, and were glorifying God, saying, 'Then, indeed, also to the nations did God give the reformation to life.'

<sup>19</sup> Those, indeed, therefore, having been scattered abroad, from the tribulation that came after Stephen, went through unto Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to none except to Jews only;

<sup>20</sup> and there were certain of them men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who having entered into Antioch, were speaking unto the Hellenists, proclaiming good news — the Lord Jesus,

<sup>21</sup> and the hand of the Lord was with them, a great number also, having believed, did turn unto the Lord.

<sup>22</sup> And the account was heard in the ears of the assembly that [is] in Jerusalem concerning them, and they sent forth Barnabas to go through unto Antioch,

<sup>23</sup> who, having come, and having seen the grace of God, was glad, and was exhorting all with purpose of heart to cleave to the Lord,

<sup>24</sup> because he was a good man, and full of the Holy Spirit, and of faith, and a great multitude was added to the Lord.

<sup>26</sup> and having found him, he brought him to Antioch, and it came to pass that they a whole year did assemble together in the assembly, and taught a great multitude, the disciples also were divinely called first in Antioch Christians.

<sup>27</sup> And in those days there came from Jerusalem prophets to Antioch,

<sup>28</sup> and one of them, by name Agabus, having stood up, did signify through the Spirit a great dearth is about to be throughout all the world — which also came to pass in the time of Claudius Caesar —

<sup>29</sup> and the disciples, according as any one was prospering, determined each of them to send for ministration to the brethren dwelling in Judea,

12

<sup>3</sup> and having seen that it is pleasing to the Jews, he added to lay hold of Peter also — and they were the days of the unleavened food —

<sup>4</sup> whom also having seized, he did put in prison, having delivered [him] to four quaternions of soldiers to guard him, intending after the passover to bring him forth to the people.

<sup>5</sup> Peter, therefore, indeed, was kept in the prison, and fervent prayer was being made by the assembly unto God for him,

<sup>6</sup> and when Herod was about to bring him forth, the same night was Peter sleeping between two soldiers, having been bound with two chains, guards also before the door were keeping the prison,

<sup>8</sup> The messenger also said to him, 'Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals;' and he did so; and he saith to him, 'Put thy garment round and be following me;'

<sup>9</sup> and having gone forth, he was following him, and he knew not that it is true that which is done through the messenger, and was thinking he saw a vision,

<sup>10</sup> and having passed through a first ward, and a second, they came unto the iron gate that is leading to the city, which of its own accord did open to them, and having gone forth, they went on through one street, and immediately the messenger departed from him.

<sup>11</sup> And Peter having come to himself, said, 'Now I have known of a truth that the Lord did send forth His messenger, and did deliver me out of the hand of Herod, and all the expectation of the people of the Jews;'

<sup>12</sup> also, having considered, he came unto the house of Mary, the mother of John, who is surnamed Mark, where there were many thronged together and praying.

<sup>13</sup> And Peter having knocked at the door of the porch, there came a damsel to hearken, by name Rhoda,

<sup>14</sup> and having known the voice of Peter, from the joy she did not open the porch, but having run in, told of the standing of Peter before the porch,

<sup>15</sup> and they said unto her, 'Thou art mad;' and she was confidently affirming [it] to be so, and they said, 'It is his messenger;'

<sup>16</sup> and Peter was continuing knocking, and having opened, they saw him, and were astonished,

<sup>17</sup> and having beckoned to them with the hand to be silent, he declared to them how the Lord brought him out of the prison, and he said, 'Declare to James and to the brethren these things;' and having gone forth, he went on to another place.

<sup>18</sup> And day having come, there was not a little stir among the soldiers what then was become of Peter,

<sup>19</sup> and Herod having sought for him, and not having found, having examined the guards, did command [them] to be led away to punishment, and having gone down from Judea to Caesarea, he was abiding [there].

<sup>20</sup> And Herod was highly displeased with the Tyrians and Sidonians, and with one accord they came unto him, and having made a friend of Blastus, who [is] over the bed-chambers of the king, they were asking peace, because of their country being nourished from the king's;

<sup>21</sup> and on a set day, Herod having arrayed himself in kingly apparel, and having sat down upon the tribunal, was making an oration unto them,

<sup>22</sup> and the populace were shouting, 'The voice of a god, and not of a man;'

<sup>23</sup> and presently there smote him a messenger of the Lord, because he did not give the glory to God, and having been eaten of worms, he expired.

<sup>24</sup> And the word of God did grow and did multiply,

<sup>25</sup> and Barnabas and Saul did turn back out of Jerusalem, having fulfilled the ministration, having taken also with [them] John, who was surnamed Mark.

13

<sup>1</sup> And there were certain in Antioch, in the assembly there, prophets and teachers; both Barnabas, and Simeon who is called Niger, and Lucius the Cyrenian, Manaen also — Herod the tetrarch's foster-brother — and Saul;

<sup>2</sup> and in their ministering to the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, 'Separate ye to me both Barnabas and Saul to the work to which I have called them,'

<sup>3</sup> then having fasted, and having prayed, and having laid the hands on them, they sent [them] away.

<sup>4</sup> These, indeed, then, having been sent forth by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleucia, thence also they sailed to Cyprus,

<sup>5</sup> and having come unto Salamis, they declared the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews, and they had also John [as] a ministrant;

<sup>7</sup> who was with the proconsul Sergius Paulus, an intelligent man; this one having called for Barnabas and Saul, did desire to hear the word of God,

<sup>8</sup> and there withstood them Elymas the magian — for so is his name interpreted — seeking to pervert the proconsul from the faith.

<sup>9</sup> And Saul — who also [is] Paul — having been filled with the Holy Spirit, and having looked stedfastly on him, <sup>10</sup> said, 'O full of all guile, and all profligacy, son of a devil, enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease perverting the right ways of the Lord?

<sup>11</sup> and now, lo, a hand of the Lord [is] upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season;' and presently there fell upon him a mist and darkness, and he, going about, was seeking some to lead [him] by the hand;

<sup>12</sup> then the proconsul having seen what hath come to pass, did believe, being astonished at the teaching of the Lord.

<sup>13</sup> And those about Paul having set sail from Paphos, came to Perga of Pamphylia, and John having departed from them, did turn back to Jerusalem,

<sup>14</sup> and they having gone through from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia, and having gone into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, they sat down,

<sup>15</sup> and after the reading of the law and of the prophets, the chief men of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, 'Men, brethren, if there be a word in you of exhortation unto the people — say on.'

<sup>16</sup> And Paul having risen, and having beckoned with the hand, said, 'Men, Israelites, and those fearing God, hearken:

<sup>17</sup> the God of this people Israel did choose our fathers, and the people He did exalt in their sojourning in the land of Egypt, and with an high arm did He bring them out of it;

<sup>18</sup> and about a period of forty years He did suffer their manners in the wilderness,

<sup>19</sup> and having destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, He did divide by lot to them their land.

<sup>20</sup> 'And after these things, about four hundred and fifty years, He gave judges — till Samuel the prophet;

<sup>21</sup> and thereafter they asked for a king, and God did give to them Saul, son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for forty years;

<sup>22</sup> and having removed him, He did raise up to them David for king, to whom also having testified, he said, I found David, the [son] of Jesse, a man according to My heart, who shall do all My will.

<sup>23</sup> 'Of this one's seed God, according to promise, did raise to Israel a Saviour — Jesus,

<sup>24</sup> John having first preached, before his coming, a baptism of reformation to all the people of Israel;

<sup>25</sup> and as John was fulfilling the course, he said, Whom me do ye suppose to be? I am not [he], but, lo, he doth come after me, of whom I am not worthy to loose the sandal of [his] feet.

<sup>26</sup> 'Men, brethren, sons of the race of Abraham, and those among you fearing God, to you was the word of this salvation sent,

<sup>27</sup> for those dwelling in Jerusalem, and their chiefs, this one not having known, also the voices of the prophets, which every sabbath are being read — having judged [him] — did fulfil,

<sup>28</sup> and no cause of death having found, they did ask of Pilate that he should be slain,

<sup>29</sup> and when they did complete all the things written about him, having taken [him] down from the tree, they laid him in a tomb;

<sup>30</sup> and God did raise him out of the dead,

<sup>31</sup> and he was seen for many days of those who did come up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses unto the people.

<sup>32</sup> 'And we to you do proclaim good news – that the promise made unto the fathers,

<sup>33</sup> God hath in full completed this to us their children, having raised up Jesus, as also in the second Psalm it hath been written, My Son thou art – I to-day have begotten thee.

<sup>34</sup> 'And that He did raise him up out of the dead, no more to return to corruption, he hath said thus – I will give to you the faithful kindnesses of David;

<sup>35</sup> wherefore also in another [place] he saith, Thou shalt not give Thy kind One to see corruption,

<sup>36</sup> for David, indeed, his own generation having served by the will of God, did fall asleep, and was added unto his fathers, and saw corruption, <sup>37</sup> but he whom God did raise up, did not see corruption.

<sup>38</sup> 'Let it therefore be known to you, men, brethren, that through this one to you is the forgiveness of sins declared,

<sup>39</sup> and from all things from which ye were not able in the law of Moses to be declared righteous, in this one every one who is believing is declared righteous;

<sup>40</sup> see, therefore, it may not come upon you that hath been spoken in the prophets:

<sup>41</sup> See, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish, because a work I – I do work in your days, a work in which ye may not believe, though any one may declare [it] to you.'

<sup>42</sup> And having gone forth out of the synagogue of the Jews, the nations were calling upon [them] that on the next sabbath these sayings may be spoken to them,

<sup>43</sup> and the synagogue having been dismissed, many of the Jews and of the devout proselytes did follow Paul and Barnabas, who, speaking to them, were persuading them to remain in the grace of God.

<sup>44</sup> And on the coming sabbath, almost all the city was gathered together to hear the word of God, <sup>45</sup> and the Jews having seen the multitudes, were filled with zeal, and did contradict the things spoken by Paul – contradicting and speaking evil.

<sup>46</sup> And speaking boldly, Paul and Barnabas said, 'To you it was necessary that first the word of God be spoken, and seeing ye do thrust it away, and do not judge yourselves worthy of the life age-during, lo, we do turn to the nations;

<sup>47</sup> for so hath the Lord commanded us: I have set thee for a light of nations – for thy being for salvation unto the end of the earth.'

<sup>48</sup> And the nations hearing were glad, and were glorifying the word of the Lord, and did believe – as many as were appointed to life age-during;

<sup>49</sup> and the word of the Lord was spread abroad through all the region.

<sup>50</sup> And the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the first men of the city, and did raise persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and did put them out from their borders;

<sup>51</sup> and they having shaken off the dust of their feet against them, came to Iconium,

14

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass in Iconium, that they did enter together into the synagogue of the Jews, and spake, so that there believed both of Jews and Greeks a great multitude;

<sup>2</sup> and the unbelieving Jews did stir up and made evil the souls of the nations against the brethren;

<sup>3</sup> long time, indeed, therefore, did they abide speaking boldly in the Lord, who is testifying to the word of His grace, and granting signs and wonders to come to pass through their hands.

<sup>4</sup> And the multitude of the city was divided, and some were with the Jews, and some with the apostles,

<sup>5</sup> and when there was a purpose both of the nations and of the Jews with their rulers to use [them] despitefully, and to stone them,

<sup>6</sup> they having become aware, did flee to the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra, and Derbe, and to the region round about,

<sup>7</sup> and there they were proclaiming good news.

<sup>8</sup> And a certain man in Lystra, impotent in the feet, was sitting, being lame from the womb of his mother — who never had walked,

<sup>9</sup> this one was hearing Paul speaking, who, having stedfastly beheld him, and having seen that he hath faith to be saved,

<sup>10</sup> said with a loud voice, 'Stand up on thy feet upright;' and he was springing and walking,

<sup>11</sup> and the multitudes having seen what Paul did, did lift up their voice, in the speech of Lycaonia, saying, 'The gods, having become like men, did come down unto us;'

<sup>12</sup> they were calling also Barnabas Zeus, and Paul Hermes, since he was the leader in speaking.

<sup>13</sup> And the priest of the Zeus that is before their city, oxen and garlands unto the porches having brought, with the multitudes did wish to sacrifice,

<sup>14</sup> and having heard, the apostles Barnabas and Paul, having rent their garments, did spring into the multitude, crying

<sup>15</sup> and saying, 'Men, why these things do ye? and we are men like-affected with you, proclaiming good news to you, from these vanities to turn unto the living God, who made the heaven, and the earth, and the sea, and all the things in them;

<sup>16</sup> who in the past generations did suffer all the nations to go on in their ways,

<sup>17</sup> though, indeed, without witness He did not leave himself, doing good — from heaven giving rains to us, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness;'

<sup>18</sup> and these things saying, scarcely did they restrain the multitudes from sacrificing to them.

<sup>19</sup> And there came thither, from Antioch and Iconium, Jews, and they having persuaded the multitudes, and having stoned Paul, drew him outside of the city, having supposed him to be dead;

<sup>20</sup> and the disciples having surrounded him, having risen he entered into the city, and on the morrow he went forth with Barnabas to Derbe.

<sup>21</sup> Having proclaimed good news also to that city, and having disciplined many, they turned back to Lystra, and Iconium, and Antioch,

<sup>22</sup> confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting to remain in the faith, and that through many tribulations it behoveth us to enter into the reign of God,

<sup>23</sup> and having appointed to them by vote elders in every assembly, having prayed with fastings, they commended them to the Lord in whom they had believed.

<sup>25</sup> and having spoken in Perga the word, they went down to Attalia,

<sup>26</sup> and thence did sail to Antioch, whence they had been given by the grace of God for the work that they fulfilled;

<sup>27</sup> and having come and gathered together the assembly, they declared as many things as God did with them, and that He did open to the nations a door of faith;

<sup>28</sup> and they abode there not a little time with the disciples.

15

<sup>1</sup> And certain having come down from Judea, were teaching the brethren — 'If ye be not circumcised after the custom of Moses, ye are not able to be saved;'

<sup>2</sup> there having been, therefore, not a little dissension and disputation to Paul and Barnabas with them, they arranged for Paul and Barnabas, and certain others of them, to go up unto the apostles and elders to Jerusalem about this question,

<sup>3</sup> they indeed, then, having been sent forward by the assembly, were passing through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the nations, and they were causing great joy to all the brethren.

<sup>4</sup> And having come to Jerusalem, they were received by the assembly, and the apostles, and the elders, they declared also as many things as God did with them;

<sup>5</sup> and there rose up certain of those of the sect of the Pharisees who believed, saying — 'It behoveth to circumcise them, to command them also to keep the law of Moses.'

<sup>6</sup> And there were gathered together the apostles and the elders, to see about this matter,

<sup>7</sup> and there having been much disputing, Peter having risen up said unto them, 'Men, brethren, ye know that from former days, God among us did make choice, through my mouth, for the nations to hear the word of the good news, and to believe;

<sup>8</sup> and the heart-knowing God did bare them testimony, having given to them the Holy Spirit, even as also to us,

<sup>9</sup> and did put no difference also between us and them, by the faith having purified their hearts;

<sup>10</sup> now, therefore, why do ye tempt God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

<sup>11</sup> but, through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, we believe to be saved, even as also they.'

<sup>12</sup> And all the multitude did keep silence, and were hearkening to Barnabas and Paul, declaring as many signs and wonders as God did among the nations through them;

<sup>13</sup> and after they are silent, James answered, saying, 'Men, brethren, hearken to me;

<sup>14</sup> Simeon did declare how at first God did look after to take out of the nations a people for His name,

<sup>15</sup> and to this agree the words of the prophets, as it hath been written:

<sup>16</sup> After these things I will turn back, and I will build again the tabernacle of David, that is fallen down, and its ruins I will build again, and will set it upright —

<sup>17</sup> that the residue of men may seek after the Lord, and all the nations, upon whom My name hath been called, saith the Lord, who is doing all these things.

<sup>19</sup> wherefore I judge: not to trouble those who from the nations do turn back to God,

<sup>20</sup> but to write to them to abstain from the pollutions of the idols, and the whoredom, and the strangled thing; and the blood;

<sup>21</sup> for Moses from former generations in every city hath those preaching him — in the synagogues every sabbath being read.'

<sup>23</sup> having written through their hand thus: 'The apostles, and the elders, and the brethren, to those in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia, brethren, who [are] of the nations, greeting;

<sup>24</sup> seeing we have heard that certain having gone forth from us did trouble you with words, subverting your souls, saying to be circumcised and to keep the law, to whom we did give no charge,

<sup>25</sup> it seemed good to us, having come together with one accord, chosen men to send unto you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul —

<sup>26</sup> men who have given up their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ

— <sup>27</sup> we have sent, therefore, Judas and Silas, and they by word are telling the same things.

<sup>28</sup> 'For it seemed good to the Holy Spirit, and to us, no more burden to lay upon you, except these necessary things:

<sup>29</sup> to abstain from things offered to idols, and blood, and a strangled thing, and whoredom; from which keeping yourselves, ye shall do well; be strong!'

<sup>30</sup> They then, indeed, having been let go, went to Antioch, and having brought the multitude together, did deliver the epistle,

<sup>32</sup> Judas also and Silas, being themselves also prophets, through much discourse did exhort the brethren, and confirm,

<sup>33</sup> and having passed some time, they were let go with peace from the brethren unto the apostles;

<sup>36</sup> and after certain days, Paul said unto Barnabas, 'Having turned back again, we may look after our brethren, in every city in which we have preached the word of the Lord — how they are.'

<sup>38</sup> and Paul was not thinking it good to take him with them who withdrew from them from Pamphylia, and did not go with them to the work;

<sup>39</sup> there came, therefore, a sharp contention, so that they were parted from one another, and Barnabas having taken Mark, did sail to Cyprus,

<sup>40</sup> and Paul having chosen Silas, went forth, having been given up to the grace of God by the brethren;

16

<sup>1</sup> And he came to Derbe and Lystra, and lo, a certain disciple was there, by name Timotheus son of a certain woman, a believing Jewess, but of a father, a Greek,

<sup>3</sup> this one did Paul wish to go forth with him, and having taken [him], he circumcised him, because of the Jews who are in those places, for they all knew his father — that he was a Greek.

<sup>4</sup> And as they were going on through the cities, they were delivering to them the decrees to keep, that have been judged by the apostles and the elders who [are] in Jerusalem,

<sup>5</sup> then, indeed, were the assemblies established in the faith, and were abounding in number every day;

<sup>6</sup> and having gone through Phrygia and the region of Galatia, having been forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia,

<sup>7</sup> having gone toward Mysia, they were trying to go on toward Bithynia, and the Spirit did not suffer them,

<sup>8</sup> and having passed by Mysia, they came down to Troas.

<sup>9</sup> And a vision through the night appeared to Paul — a certain man of Macedonia was standing, calling upon him, and saying, 'Having passed through to Macedonia, help us;' —

<sup>10</sup> and when he saw the vision, immediately we endeavoured to go forth to Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord hath called us to preach good news to them,

<sup>11</sup> having set sail, therefore, from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, on the morrow also to Neapolis,

<sup>12</sup> thence also to Philippi, which is a principal city of the part of Macedonia — a colony. And we were in this city abiding certain days,

<sup>13</sup> on the sabbath-day also we went forth outside of the city, by a river, where there used to be prayer, and having sat down, we were speaking to the women who came together,

<sup>14</sup> and a certain woman, by name Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, worshipping God, was hearing, whose heart the Lord did open to attend to the things spoken by Paul;

<sup>15</sup> and when she was baptized, and her household, she did call upon us, saying, 'If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, having entered into my house, remain;' and she constrained us.

<sup>16</sup> And it came to pass in our going on to prayer, a certain maid, having a spirit of Python, did meet us, who brought much employment to her masters by soothsaying,

<sup>17</sup> she having followed Paul and us, was crying, saying, 'These men are servants of the Most High God, who declare to us a way of salvation;'

<sup>18</sup> and this she was doing for many days, but Paul having been grieved, and having turned, said to the spirit, 'I command thee, in the name of Jesus Christ, to come forth from her;' and it came forth the same hour.

<sup>19</sup> And her masters having seen that the hope of their employment was gone, having caught Paul and Silas, drew [them] to the market-place, unto the rulers,

<sup>20</sup> and having brought them to the magistrates, they said, 'These men do exceedingly trouble our city, being Jews;

<sup>21</sup> and they proclaim customs that are not lawful for us to receive nor to do, being Romans.'

<sup>22</sup> And the multitude rose up together against them, and the magistrates having torn their garments from them, were commanding to beat [them] with rods,

<sup>23</sup> many blows also having laid upon them, they cast them to prison, having given charge to the jailor to keep them safely,

<sup>24</sup> who such a charge having received, did put them to the inner prison, and their feet made fast in the stocks.

<sup>25</sup> And at midnight Paul and Silas praying, were singing hymns to God, and the prisoners were hearing them,

<sup>26</sup> and suddenly a great earthquake came, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken, opened also presently were all the doors, and of all — the bands were loosed;

<sup>27</sup> and the jailor having come out of sleep, and having seen the doors of the prison open, having drawn a sword, was about to kill himself, supposing the prisoners to be fled,

<sup>28</sup> and Paul cried out with a loud voice, saying, 'Thou mayest not do thyself any harm, for we are all here.'

<sup>29</sup> And, having asked for a light, he sprang in, and trembling he fell down before Paul and Silas,

<sup>30</sup> and having brought them forth, said, 'Sirs, what must I do — that I may be saved?'

<sup>31</sup> and they said, 'Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved — thou and thy house;'

<sup>32</sup> and they spake to him the word of the Lord, and to all those in his household;

<sup>33</sup> and having taken them, in that hour of the night, he did bathe [them] from the blows, and was baptized, himself and all his presently,

<sup>34</sup> having brought them also into his house, he set food before [them], and was glad with all the household, he having believed in God.

<sup>35</sup> And day having come, the magistrates sent the rod-bearers, saying, 'Let those men go;'

<sup>36</sup> and the jailor told these words unto Paul — 'The magistrates have sent, that ye may be let go; now, therefore, having gone forth go on in peace;'

<sup>37</sup> and Paul said to them, 'Having beaten us publicly uncondemned — men, Romans being — they did cast [us] to prison, and now privately do they cast us forth! why no! but having come themselves, let them bring us forth.'

<sup>38</sup> And the rod-bearers told to the magistrates these sayings, and they were afraid, having heard that they are Romans,

<sup>39</sup> and having come, they besought them, and having brought [them] forth, they were asking [them] to go forth from the city;

<sup>40</sup> and they, having gone forth out of the prison, entered into [the house of] Lydia, and having seen the brethren, they comforted them, and went forth.

17

<sup>1</sup> And having passed through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was the synagogue of the Jews,

<sup>2</sup> and according to the custom of Paul, he went in unto them, and for three sabbaths he was reasoning with them from the Writings,

<sup>3</sup> opening and alleging, 'That the Christ it behoved to suffer, and to rise again out of the dead, and that this is the Christ — Jesus whom I proclaim to you.'

<sup>4</sup> And certain of them did believe, and attached themselves to Paul and to Silas, also of the worshipping Greeks a great multitude, of the principal women also not a few.

<sup>5</sup> And the unbelieving Jews, having been moved with envy, and having taken to them of the loungers certain evil men, and having made a crowd, were setting the city in an uproar; having assailed also the house of Jason, they were seeking them to bring [them] to the populace,

<sup>6</sup> and not having found them, they drew Jason and certain brethren unto the city rulers, calling aloud — 'These, having put the world in commotion, are also here present,

<sup>7</sup> whom Jason hath received; and these all do contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying another to be king — Jesus.'

<sup>8</sup> And they troubled the multitude and the city rulers, hearing these things,

<sup>9</sup> and having taking security from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

<sup>10</sup> And the brethren immediately, through the night, sent forth both Paul and Silas to Berea, who having come, went to the synagogue of the Jews;

<sup>11</sup> and these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, they received the word with all readiness of mind, every day examining the Writings whether those things were so;

<sup>12</sup> many, indeed, therefore, of them did believe, and of the honourable Greek women and men not a few.

<sup>13</sup> And when the Jews from Thessalonica knew that also in Berea was the word of God declared by Paul, they came thither also, agitating the multitudes;

<sup>14</sup> and then immediately the brethren sent forth Paul, to go on as it were to the sea, but both Silas and Timothy were remaining there.

<sup>15</sup> And those conducting Paul, brought him unto Athens, and having received a command unto Silas and Timotheus that with all speed they may come unto him, they departed;

<sup>16</sup> and Paul waiting for them in Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, beholding the city wholly given to idolatry,

<sup>17</sup> therefore, indeed, he was reasoning in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the worshipping persons, and in the market-place every day with those who met with him.

<sup>18</sup> And certain of the Epicurean and of the Stoic philosophers, were meeting together to see him, and some were saying, 'What would this seed picker wish to say?' and others, 'Of strange demons he doth seem to be an announcer;' because Jesus and the rising again he did proclaim to them as good news,

<sup>19</sup> having also taken him, unto the Areopagus they brought [him], saying, 'Are we able to know what [is] this new teaching that is spoken by thee,

<sup>20</sup> for certain strange things thou dost bring to our ears? we wish, then, to know what these things would wish to be;'

<sup>21</sup> and all Athenians, and the strangers sojourning, for nothing else were at leisure but to say something, and to hear some newer thing.

<sup>22</sup> And Paul, having stood in the midst of the Areopagus, said, 'Men, Athenians, in all things I perceive you as over-religious;

<sup>23</sup> for passing through and contemplating your objects of worship, I found also an erection on which had been inscribed: To God — unknown; whom, therefore — not knowing — ye do worship, this One I announce to you.

<sup>24</sup> 'God, who did make the world, and all things in it, this One, of heaven and of earth being Lord, in temples made with hands doth not dwell,

<sup>25</sup> neither by the hands of men is He served — needing anything, He giving to all life, and breath, and all things;

<sup>26</sup> He made also of one blood every nation of men, to dwell upon all the face of the earth — having ordained times before appointed, and the bounds of their dwellings —

<sup>27</sup> to seek the Lord, if perhaps they did feel after Him and find, — though, indeed, He is not far from each one of us,

<sup>28</sup> for in Him we live, and move, and are; as also certain of your poets have said: For of Him also we are offspring.

<sup>29</sup> 'Being, therefore, offspring of God, we ought not to think the Godhead to be like to gold, or silver, or stone, graving of art and device of man;

<sup>30</sup> the times, indeed, therefore, of the ignorance God having overlooked, doth now command all men everywhere to reform,

<sup>31</sup> because He did set a day in which He is about to judge the world in righteousness, by a man whom He did ordain, having given assurance to all, having raised him out of the dead.'

<sup>32</sup> And having heard of a rising again of the dead, some, indeed, were mocking, but others said, 'We will hear thee again concerning this;'

<sup>34</sup> and certain men having cleaved to him, did believe, among whom [is] also Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman, by name Damaris, and others with them.

18

<sup>2</sup> and having found a certain Jew, by name Aquilas, of Pontus by birth, lately come from Italy, and Priscilla his wife — because of Claudius having directed all the Jews to depart out of Rome — he came to them,

<sup>3</sup> and because of being of the same craft, he did remain with them, and was working, for they were tent-makers as to craft;

<sup>4</sup> and he was reasoning in the synagogue every sabbath, persuading both Jews and Greeks.

<sup>5</sup> And when both Silas and Timotheus came down from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in the Spirit, testifying fully to the Jews Jesus the Christ;

<sup>6</sup> and on their resisting and speaking evil, having shaken [his] garments, he said unto them, 'Your blood [is] upon your head — I am clean; henceforth to the nations I will go on.'

<sup>7</sup> And having departed thence, he went to the house of a certain one, by name Justus, a worshipper of God, whose house was adjoining the synagogue,

<sup>8</sup> and Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue did believe in the Lord with all his house, and many of the Corinthians hearing were believing, and they were being baptized.

<sup>9</sup> And the Lord said through a vision in the night to Paul, 'Be not afraid, but be speaking and thou mayest be not silent;

<sup>10</sup> because I am with thee, and no one shall set on thee to do thee evil; because I have much people in this city;'

<sup>11</sup> and he continued a year and six months, teaching among them the word of God.

<sup>14</sup> and Paul being about to open [his] mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, 'If, indeed, then, it was anything unrighteous, or an act of wicked profligacy, O Jews, according to reason I had borne with you,

<sup>15</sup> but if it is a question concerning words and names, and of your law, look ye yourselves [to it], for a judge of these things I do not wish to be,'

<sup>17</sup> and all the Greeks having taken Sosthenes, the chief man of the synagogue, were beating [him] before the tribunal, and not even for these things was Gallio caring.

<sup>18</sup> And Paul having remained yet a good many days, having taken leave of the brethren, was sailing to Syria — and with him [are] Priscilla and Aquilas — having shorn [his] head in Cenchera, for he had a vow;

<sup>19</sup> and he came down to Ephesus, and did leave them there, and he himself having entered into the synagogue did reason with the Jews:

<sup>20</sup> and they having requested [him] to remain a longer time with them, he did not consent,

<sup>21</sup> but took leave of them, saying, 'It behoveth me by all means the coming feast to keep at Jerusalem, and again I will return unto you — God willing.' And he sailed from Ephesus, <sup>22</sup> and having come down to Caesarea, having gone up, and having saluted the assembly, he went down to Antioch.

<sup>23</sup> And having made some stay he went forth, going through in order the region of Galatia and Phrygia, strengthening all the disciples.

<sup>24</sup> And a certain Jew, Apollos by name, an Alexandrian by birth, a man of eloquence, being mighty in the Writings, came to Ephesus,

<sup>25</sup> this one was instructed in the way of the Lord, and being fervent in the Spirit, was speaking and teaching exactly the things about the Lord, knowing only the baptism of John;

<sup>26</sup> this one also began to speak boldly in the synagogue, and Aquilas and Priscilla having heard of him, took him to [them], and did more exactly expound to him the way of God,

<sup>27</sup> and he being minded to go through into Achaia, the brethren wrote to the disciples, having exhorted them to receive him, who having come, did help them much who have believed through the grace,

<sup>28</sup> for powerfully the Jews he was refuting publicly, shewing through the Writings Jesus to be the Christ.

19

through the upper parts, came to Ephesus, and having found certain disciples,

<sup>2</sup> he said unto them, 'The Holy Spirit did ye receive — having believed?' and they said unto him, 'But we did not even hear whether there is any Holy Spirit;'

<sup>3</sup> and he said unto them, 'To what, then, were ye baptized?' and they said, 'To John's baptism.'

<sup>4</sup> And Paul said, 'John, indeed, did baptize with a baptism of reformation, saying to the people that in him who is coming after him they should believe — that is, in the Christ — Jesus;'

<sup>5</sup> and they, having heard, were baptized — to the name of the Lord Jesus,

<sup>6</sup> and Paul having laid on them [his] hands, the Holy Spirit came upon them, they were speaking also with tongues, and prophesying, <sup>7</sup> and all the men were, as it were, twelve.

<sup>8</sup> And having gone into the synagogue, he was speaking boldly for three months, reasoning and persuading the things concerning the reign of God, <sup>9</sup> and when certain were hardened and were disbelieving, speaking evil of the way before the multitude, having departed from them, he did separate the disciples, every day reasoning in the school of a certain Tyrannus.

<sup>10</sup> And this happened for two years so that all those dwelling in Asia did hear the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks,

<sup>11</sup> mighty works also — not common — was God working through the hands of Paul,

<sup>12</sup> so that even unto the ailing were brought from his body handkerchiefs or aprons, and the sicknesses departed from them; the evil spirits also went forth from them.

<sup>13</sup> And certain of the wandering exorcist Jews, took upon [them] to name over those having the evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, 'We adjure you by Jesus, whom Paul doth preach;'

<sup>14</sup> and there were certain — seven sons of Sceva, a Jew, a chief priest — who are doing this thing;

<sup>15</sup> and the evil spirit, answering, said, 'Jesus I know, and Paul I am acquainted with; and ye — who are ye?'

<sup>16</sup> And the man, in whom was the evil spirit, leaping upon them, and having overcome them, prevailed against them, so that naked and wounded they did flee out of that house,

<sup>17</sup> and this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, who are dwelling at Ephesus, and fear fell upon them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was being magnified,

<sup>18</sup> many also of those who did believe were coming, confessing and declaring their acts,

<sup>19</sup> and many of those who had practised the curious arts, having brought the books together, were burning [them] before all; and they reckoned together the prices of them, and found [it] five myriads of silverlings;

<sup>20</sup> so powerfully was the word of God increasing and prevailing.

<sup>21</sup> And when these things were fulfilled, Paul purposed in the Spirit, having gone through Macedonia and Achaia, to go on to Jerusalem, saying — 'After my being there, it behoveth me also to see Rome;'

<sup>22</sup> and having sent to Macedonia two of those ministering to him — Timotheus and Erastus — he himself stayed a time in Asia.

<sup>23</sup> And there came, at that time, not a little stir about the way,

<sup>24</sup> for a certain one, Demetrius by name, a worker in silver, making silver sanctuaries of Artemis, was bringing to the artificers gain not a little,

<sup>25</sup> whom, having brought in a crowd together, and those who did work about such things, he said, 'Men, ye know that by this work we have our wealth;

<sup>26</sup> and ye see and hear, that not only at Ephesus, but almost in all Asia, this Paul, having persuaded, did turn away a great multitude, saying, that they are not gods who are made by hands;

<sup>27</sup> and not only is this department in danger for us of coming into disregard, but also, that of the great goddess Artemis the temple is to be reckoned for nothing, and also her greatness is about to be brought down, whom all Asia and the world doth worship.'

<sup>28</sup> And they having heard, and having become full of wrath, were crying out, saying, 'Great [is] the Artemis of the Ephesians!'

<sup>29</sup> and the whole city was filled with confusion, they rushed also with one accord into the theatre, having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, Macedonians, Paul's fellow-travellers.

<sup>30</sup> And on Paul's purposing to enter in unto the populace, the disciples were not suffering him,

<sup>31</sup> and certain also of the chief men of Asia, being his friends, having sent unto him, were entreating him not to venture himself into the theatre.

<sup>32</sup> Some indeed, therefore, were calling out one thing, and some another, for the assembly was confused, and the greater part did not know for what they were come together;

<sup>33</sup> and out of the multitude they put forward Alexander — the Jews thrusting him forward — and Alexander having beckoned with the hand, wished to make defence to the populace,

<sup>34</sup> and having known that he is a Jew, one voice came out of all, for about two hours, crying, 'Great [is] the Artemis of the Ephesians!'

<sup>35</sup> And the public clerk having quieted the multitude, saith, 'Men, Ephesians, why, who is the man that doth not know that the city of the Ephesians is a devotee of the great goddess Artemis, and of that which fell down from Zeus?

<sup>36</sup> these things, then, not being to be gainsaid, it is necessary for you to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

<sup>37</sup> 'For ye brought these men, who are neither temple-robbers nor speaking evil of your goddess;

<sup>38</sup> if indeed, therefore, Demetrius and the artificers with him with any one have a matter, court [days] are held, and there are proconsuls; let them accuse one another.

<sup>39</sup> 'And if ye seek after anything concerning other matters, in the legal assembly it shall be determined;

<sup>40</sup> for we are also in peril of being accused of insurrection in regard to this day, there being no occasion by which we shall be able to give an account of this concourse;'

<sup>41</sup> and these things having said, he dismissed the assembly.

20

<sup>2</sup> and having gone through those parts, and having exhorted them with many words, he came to Greece;

<sup>3</sup> having made also three months' [stay] — a counsel of the Jews having been against him — being about to set forth to Syria, there came [to him] a resolution of returning through Macedonia.

<sup>4</sup> And there were accompanying him unto Asia, Sopater of Berea, and of Thessalonians Aristarchus and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus, and of Asiatics Tychicus and Trophimus;

<sup>6</sup> and we sailed, after the days of the unleavened food, from Philippi, and came unto them to Troas in five days, where we abode seven days.

<sup>7</sup> And on the first of the week, the disciples having been gathered together to break bread, Paul was discoursing to them, about to depart on the morrow, he was also continuing the discourse till midnight,

<sup>8</sup> and there were many lamps in the upper chamber where they were gathered together,

<sup>9</sup> and there was sitting a certain youth, by name Eutychus, upon the window — being borne down by a deep sleep, Paul discoursing long — he having sunk down from the sleep, fell down from the third story, and was lifted up dead.

<sup>10</sup> And Paul, having gone down, fell upon him, and having embraced [him], said, 'Make no tumult, for his life is in him;'

<sup>11</sup> and having come up, and having broken bread, and having tasted, for a long time also having talked — till daylight, so he went forth,

<sup>12</sup> and they brought up the lad alive, and were comforted in no ordinary measure.

<sup>13</sup> And we having gone before unto the ship, did sail to Assos, thence intending to take in Paul, for so he had arranged, intending himself to go on foot;

<sup>14</sup> and when he met with us at Assos, having taken him up, we came to Mitylene,

<sup>15</sup> and thence having sailed, on the morrow we came over-against Chios, and the next day we arrived at Samos, and having remained in Trogyllium, on the following day we came to Miletus,

<sup>16</sup> for Paul decided to sail past Ephesus, that there may not be to him a loss of time in Asia, for he hasted, if it were possible for him, on the day of the Pentecost to be at Jerusalem.

<sup>17</sup> And from Miletus, having sent to Ephesus, he called for the elders of the assembly,

<sup>18</sup> and when they were come unto him, he said to them, 'Ye — ye know from the first day in which I came to Asia, how, with you at all times I was;

<sup>19</sup> serving the Lord with all humility, and many tears, and temptations, that befell me in the counsels of the Jews against [me];

<sup>20</sup> how nothing I did keep back of what things are profitable, not to declare to you, and to teach you publicly, and in every house,

<sup>21</sup> testifying fully both to Jews and Greeks, toward God reformation, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>22</sup> 'And now, lo, I — bound in the Spirit — go on to Jerusalem, the things that shall befall me in it not knowing,

<sup>23</sup> save that the Holy Spirit in every city doth testify fully, saying, that for me bonds and tribulations remain;

<sup>24</sup> but I make account of none of these, neither do I count my life precious to myself, so that I finish my course with joy, and the ministration that I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify fully the good news of the grace of God.

<sup>25</sup> 'And now, lo, I have known that no more shall ye see my face, — ye all among whom I did go preaching the reign of God;

<sup>26</sup> wherefore I take you to witness this day, that I [am] clear from the blood of all,

<sup>27</sup> for I did not keep back from declaring to you all the counsel of God.

<sup>28</sup> 'Take heed, therefore, to yourselves, and to all the flock, among which the Holy Spirit made you overseers, to feed the assembly of God that He acquired through His own blood,

<sup>29</sup> for I have known this, that there shall enter in, after my departing, grievous wolves unto you, not sparing the flock,

<sup>30</sup> and of your own selves there shall arise men, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them.

<sup>31</sup> 'Therefore, watch, remembering that three years, night and day, I did not cease with tears warning each one;

<sup>32</sup> and now, I commend you, brethren, to God, and to the word of His grace, that is able to build up, and to give you an inheritance among all those sanctified.

<sup>33</sup> 'The silver or gold or garments of no one did I covet;

<sup>34</sup> and ye yourselves know that to my necessities, and to those who were with me, minister did these hands;

<sup>35</sup> all things I did shew you, that, thus labouring, it behoveth [us] to partake with the ailing, to be mindful also of the words of the Lord Jesus, that he himself said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.'

<sup>36</sup> And these things having said, having bowed his knees, with them all, he did pray,

<sup>37</sup> and there came a great weeping to all, and having fallen upon the neck of Paul, they were kissing him, <sup>38</sup> sorrowing most of all for the word that he had said — that they are about no more to see his face; and they were accompanying him to the ship.

21

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, at our sailing, having been parted from them, having run direct, we came to Coos, and the succeeding [day] to Rhodes, and thence to Patara,

<sup>2</sup> and having found a ship passing over to Phenicia, having gone on board, we sailed,

<sup>3</sup> and having discovered Cyprus, and having left it on the left, we were sailing to Syria, and did land at Tyre, for there was the ship discharging the lading.

<sup>4</sup> And having found out the disciples, we tarried there seven days, and they said to Paul, through the Spirit, not to go up to Jerusalem;

<sup>5</sup> but when it came that we completed the days, having gone forth, we went on, all bringing us on the way, with women and children, unto the outside of the city, and having bowed the knees upon the shore, we prayed,

<sup>6</sup> and having embraced one another, we embarked in the ship, and they returned to their own friends.

<sup>7</sup> And we, having finished the course, from Tyre came down to Ptolemais, and having saluted the brethren, we remained one day with them;

<sup>8</sup> and on the morrow Paul and his company having gone forth, we came to Caesarea, and having entered into the house of Philip the evangelist — who is of the seven — we remained with him,

<sup>10</sup> And we remaining many more days, there came down a certain one from Judea, a prophet, by name Agabus,

<sup>11</sup> and he having come unto us, and having taken up the girdle of Paul, having bound also his own hands and feet, said, 'Thus saith the Holy Spirit, The man whose is this girdle — so shall the Jews in Jerusalem bind, and they shall deliver [him] up to the hands of nations.'

<sup>12</sup> And when we heard these things, we called upon [him] — both we, and those of that place — not to go up to Jerusalem,

<sup>13</sup> and Paul answered, 'What do ye — weeping, and crushing mine heart? for I, not only to be bound, but also to die at Jerusalem, am ready, for the name of the Lord Jesus;'

<sup>14</sup> and he not being persuaded, we were silent, saying, 'The will of the Lord be done.'

<sup>15</sup> And after these days, having taken [our] vessels, we were going up to Jerusalem,

<sup>16</sup> and there went also of the disciples from Caesarea with us, bringing with them him with whom we may lodge, a certain Mnason of Cyprus, an aged disciple.

<sup>17</sup> And we having come to Jerusalem, the brethren did gladly receive us,

<sup>18</sup> and on the morrow Paul was going in with us unto James, all the elders also came,

<sup>19</sup> and having saluted them, he was declaring, one by one, each of the things God did among the nations through his ministration,

<sup>20</sup> and they having heard, were glorifying the Lord. They said also to him, 'Thou seest, brother, how many myriads there are of Jews who have believed, and all are zealous of the law,

<sup>21</sup> and they are instructed concerning thee, that apostasy from Moses thou dost teach to all Jews among the nations, saying — Not to circumcise the children, nor after the customs to walk;

<sup>22</sup> what then is it? certainly the multitude it behoveth to come together, for they will hear that thou hast come.

<sup>23</sup> 'This, therefore, do that we say to thee: We have four men having a vow on themselves, <sup>24</sup> these having taken, be purified with them, and be at expence with them, that they may shave the head, and all may know that the things of which they have been instructed concerning thee are nothing, but thou dost walk — thyself also — the law keeping.

<sup>25</sup> 'And concerning those of the nations who have believed, we have written, having given judgment, that they observe no such thing, except to keep themselves both from idol-sacrifices, and blood, and a strangled thing, and whoredom.'

<sup>26</sup> Then Paul, having taken the men, on the following day, with them having purified himself, was entering into the temple, announcing the fulfilment of the days of the purification, till the offering was offered for each one of them.

<sup>27</sup> And, as the seven days were about to be fully ended, the Jews from Asia having beheld him in the temple, were stirring up all the multitude, and they laid hands upon him,

<sup>28</sup> crying out, 'Men, Israelites, help! this is the man who, against the people, and the law, and this place, all everywhere is teaching; and further, also, Greeks he brought into the temple, and hath defiled this holy place;'

<sup>29</sup> for they had seen before Trophimus, the Ephesian, in the city with him, whom they were supposing that Paul brought into the temple.

<sup>30</sup> All the city also was moved and there was a running together of the people, and having laid hold on Paul, they were drawing him out of the temple, and immediately were the doors shut,

<sup>31</sup> and they seeking to kill him, a rumour came to the chief captain of the band that all Jerusalem hath been thrown into confusion,

<sup>32</sup> who, at once, having taken soldiers and centurions, ran down upon them, and they having seen the chief captain and the soldiers, did leave off beating Paul.

<sup>33</sup> Then the chief captain, having come nigh, took him, and commanded [him] to be bound with two chains, and was inquiring who he may be, and what it is he hath been doing,

<sup>34</sup> and some were crying out one thing, and some another, among the multitude, and not being able to know the certainty because of the tumult, he commanded him to be carried to the castle,

<sup>35</sup> and when he came upon the steps, it happened he was borne by the soldiers, because of the violence of the multitude,

<sup>37</sup> And Paul being about to be led into the castle, saith to the chief captain, 'Is it permitted to me to say anything unto thee?' and he said, 'Greek dost thou know?

<sup>38</sup> art not thou, then, the Egyptian who before these days made an uprising, and did lead into the desert the four thousand men of the assassins?'

<sup>39</sup> And Paul said, 'I, indeed, am a man, a Jew, of Tarsus of Cilicia, of no mean city a citizen; and I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people.'

<sup>40</sup> And he having given him leave, Paul having stood upon the stairs, did beckon with the hand to the people, and there having been a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew dialect, saying:

22

<sup>2</sup> and they having heard that in the Hebrew dialect he was speaking to them, gave the more silence, and he saith, —

<sup>3</sup> 'I, indeed, am a man, a Jew, having been born in Tarsus of Cilicia, and brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, having been taught according to the exactitude of a law of the fathers, being zealous of God, as all ye are to-day.

<sup>4</sup> 'And this way I persecuted unto death, binding and delivering up to prisons both men and women,

<sup>5</sup> as also the chief priest doth testify to me, and all the eldership; from whom also having received letters unto the brethren, to Damascus, I was going on, to bring also those there bound to Jerusalem that they might be punished,

<sup>6</sup> and it came to pass, in my going on and coming nigh to Damascus, about noon, suddenly out of the heaven there shone a great light round about me,

<sup>7</sup> I fell also to the ground, and I heard a voice saying to me, Saul, Saul, why me dost thou persecute?

<sup>8</sup> 'And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? and he said unto me, I am Jesus the Nazarene whom thou dost persecute —

<sup>9</sup> and they who are with me the light did see, and became afraid, and the voice they heard not of him who is speaking to me —

<sup>10</sup> and I said, What shall I do, Lord? and the Lord said unto me, Having risen, go on to Damascus, and there it shall be told thee concerning all things that have been appointed for thee to do.

<sup>11</sup> 'And when I did not see from the glory of that light, being led by the hand by those who are with me, I came to Damascus,

<sup>12</sup> and a certain one, Ananias, a pious man according to the law, being testified to by all the Jews dwelling [there],

<sup>13</sup> having come unto me and stood by [me], said to me, Saul, brother, look up; and I the same hour did look up to him;

<sup>14</sup> and he said, The God of our fathers did choose thee beforehand to know His will, and to see the Righteous One, and to hear a voice out of his mouth,

<sup>16</sup> and now, why tarriest thou? having risen, baptize thyself, and wash away thy sins, calling upon the name of the Lord.

<sup>17</sup> 'And it came to pass when I returned to Jerusalem, and while I was praying in the temple, I came into a trance,

<sup>18</sup> and I saw him saying to me, Haste and go forth in haste out of Jerusalem, because they will not receive thy testimony concerning me;

<sup>19</sup> and I said, Lord, they — they know that I was imprisoning and was scourging in every synagogue those believing on thee;

<sup>20</sup> and when the blood of thy witness Stephen was being poured forth, I also was standing by and assenting to his death, and keeping the garments of those putting him to death;

<sup>21</sup> and he said unto me, Go, because to nations far off I will send thee.'

<sup>22</sup> And they were hearing him unto this word, and they lifted up their voice, saying, 'Away from the earth with such an one; for it is not fit for him to live.'

<sup>23</sup> And they crying out and casting up their garments, and throwing dust into the air,

<sup>24</sup> the chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, saying, 'By scourges let him be examined;' that he might know for what cause they were crying so against him.

<sup>25</sup> And as he was stretching him with the thongs, Paul said unto the centurion who was standing by, 'A man, a Roman, uncondemned — is it lawful to you to scourge;'

<sup>26</sup> and the centurion having heard, having gone near to the chief captain, told, saying, 'Take heed what thou art about to do, for this man is a Roman;'

<sup>27</sup> and the chief captain having come near, said to him, 'Tell me, art thou a Roman?' and he said, 'Yes;'

<sup>28</sup> and the chief captain answered, 'I, with a great sum, did obtain this citizenship;' but Paul said, 'But I have been even born [so].'

<sup>29</sup> Immediately, therefore, they departed from him who are about to examine him, and the chief captain also was afraid, having learned that he is a Roman, and because he had bound him, <sup>30</sup> and on the morrow, intending to know the certainty wherefore he is accused by the Jews, he did loose him from the bonds, and commanded the chief priests and all their sanhedrim to come, and having brought down Paul, he set [him] before them.

23

<sup>2</sup> and the chief priest Ananias commanded those standing by him to smite him on the mouth,

<sup>3</sup> then Paul said unto him, 'God is about to smite thee, thou whitewashed wall, and thou — thou dost sit judging me according to the law, and, violating law, dost order me to be smitten!'

<sup>4</sup> And those who stood by said, 'The chief priest of God dost thou revile?'

<sup>5</sup> and Paul said, 'I did not know, brethren, that he is chief priest: for it hath been written, Of the ruler of thy people thou shalt not speak evil;'

<sup>6</sup> and Paul having known that the one part are Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, cried out in the sanhedrim, 'Men, brethren, I am a Pharisee — son of a Pharisee — concerning hope and rising again of dead men I am judged.'

<sup>7</sup> And he having spoken this, there came a dissension of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees, and the crowd was divided,

<sup>8</sup> for Sadducees, indeed, say there is no rising again, nor messenger, nor spirit, but Pharisees confess both.

<sup>9</sup> And there came a great cry, and the scribes of the Pharisees' part having arisen, were striving, saying, 'No evil do we find in this man; and if a spirit spake to him, or a messenger, we may not fight against God;'

<sup>10</sup> and a great dissension having come, the chief captain having been afraid lest Paul may be pulled to pieces by them, commanded the soldiery, having gone down, to take him by force out of the midst of them, and to bring [him] to the castle.

<sup>11</sup> And on the following night, the Lord having stood by him, said, 'Take courage, Paul, for as thou didst fully testify the things concerning me at Jerusalem, so it behoveth thee also at Rome to testify.'

<sup>12</sup> And day having come, certain of the Jews having made a concourse, did anathematize themselves, saying neither to eat nor to drink till they may kill Paul;

<sup>13</sup> and they were more than forty who made this conspiracy by oath,

<sup>14</sup> who having come near to the chief priests and to the elders said, 'With an anathema we did anathematize ourselves — to taste nothing till we have killed Paul;

<sup>15</sup> now, therefore, ye, signify ye to the chief captain, with the sanhedrim, that to-morrow he may bring him down unto you, as being about to know more exactly the things concerning him; and we, before his coming nigh, are ready to put him to death.'

<sup>16</sup> And the son of Paul's sister having heard of the lying in wait, having gone and entered into the castle, told Paul,

<sup>17</sup> and Paul having called near one of the centurions, said, 'This young man lead unto the chief captain, for he hath something to tell him.'

<sup>18</sup> He indeed, then, having taken him, brought him unto the chief captain, and saith, 'The prisoner Paul, having called me near, asked [me] this young man to bring unto thee, having something to say to thee.'

<sup>19</sup> And the chief captain having taken him by the hand, and having withdrawn by themselves, inquired, 'What is that which thou hast to tell me?'

<sup>20</sup> and he said — 'The Jews agreed to request thee, that to-morrow to the sanhedrim thou mayest bring down Paul, as being about to enquire something more exactly concerning him;

<sup>21</sup> thou, therefore, mayest thou not yield to them, for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, who did anathematize themselves — not to eat nor to drink till they kill him, and now they are ready, waiting for the promise from thee.'

<sup>22</sup> The chief captain, then, indeed, let the young man go, having charged [him] to tell no one, 'that these things thou didst shew unto me;'

<sup>23</sup> and having called near a certain two of the centurions, he said, 'Make ready soldiers two hundred, that they may go on unto Caesarea, and horsemen seventy, and spearmen two hundred, from the third hour of the night;

<sup>24</sup> beasts also provide, that, having set Paul on, they may bring him safe unto Felix the governor;'

<sup>25</sup> he having written a letter after this description:

<sup>27</sup> This man having been taken by the Jews, and being about to be killed by them — having come with the soldiery, I rescued him, having learned that he is a Roman;

<sup>28</sup> and, intending to know the cause for which they were accusing him, I brought him down to their sanhedrim,

<sup>29</sup> whom I found accused concerning questions of their law, and having no accusation worthy of death or bonds;

<sup>31</sup> Then, indeed, the soldiers according to that directed them, having taken up Paul, brought him through the night to Antipatris,

<sup>32</sup> and on the morrow, having suffered the horsemen to go on with him, they returned to the castle;

<sup>33</sup> those having entered into Caesarea, and delivered the letter to the governor, did present also Paul to him.

<sup>34</sup> And the governor having read [it], and inquired of what province he is, and understood that [he is] from Cilicia;

<sup>35</sup> 'I will hear thee — said he — when thine accusers also may have come;' he also commanded him to be kept in the praetorium of Herod.

24

<sup>2</sup> and he having been called, Tertullus began to accuse [him], saying, 'Much peace enjoying through thee, and worthy deeds being done to this nation through thy forethought,

<sup>3</sup> always, also, and everywhere we receive it, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness;

<sup>4</sup> and that I may not be further tedious to thee, I pray thee to hear us concisely in thy gentleness;

<sup>5</sup> for having found this man a pestilence, and moving a dissension to all the Jews through the world — a ringleader also of the sect of the Nazarenes —

<sup>6</sup> who also the temple did try to profane, whom also we took, and according to our law did wish to judge,

<sup>7</sup> and Lysias the chief captain having come near, with much violence, out of our hands did take away,

<sup>8</sup> having commanded his accusers to come to thee, from whom thou mayest be able, thyself having examined, to know concerning all these things of which we accuse him;'

<sup>9</sup> and the Jews also agreed, professing these things to be so.

<sup>10</sup> And Paul answered – the governor having beckoned to him to speak – 'Knowing [that] for many years thou hast been a judge to this nation, the more cheerfully the things concerning myself I do answer;

<sup>11</sup> thou being able to know that it is not more than twelve days to me since I went up to worship in Jerusalem,

<sup>12</sup> and neither in the temple did they find me reasoning with any one, or making a dissension of the multitude, nor in the synagogues, nor in the city;

<sup>13</sup> nor are they able to prove against me the things concerning which they now accuse me.

<sup>14</sup> 'And I confess this to thee, that, according to the way that they call a sect, so serve I the God of the fathers, believing all things that in the law and the prophets have been written,

<sup>15</sup> having hope toward God, which they themselves also wait for, [that] there is about to be a rising again of the dead, both of righteous and unrighteous;

<sup>16</sup> and in this I do exercise myself, to have a conscience void of offence toward God and men always.

<sup>17</sup> 'And after many years I came, about to do kind acts to my nation, and offerings,

<sup>18</sup> in which certain Jews from Asia did find me purified in the temple, not with multitude, nor with tumult,

<sup>19</sup> whom it behoveth to be present before thee, and to accuse, if they had anything against me,

<sup>20</sup> or let these same say if they found any unrighteousness in me in my standing before the sanhedrim,

<sup>21</sup> except concerning this one voice, in which I cried, standing among them – Concerning a rising again of the dead I am judged to-day by you.'

<sup>22</sup> And having heard these things, Felix delayed them – having known more exactly of the things concerning the way – saying, 'When Lysias the chief captain may come down, I will know fully the things concerning you;'

<sup>23</sup> having given also a direction to the centurion to keep Paul, to let [him] also have liberty, and to forbid none of his own friends to minister or to come near to him.

<sup>24</sup> And after certain days, Felix having come with Drusilla his wife, being a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith toward Christ,

<sup>25</sup> and he reasoning concerning righteousness, and temperance, and the judgment that is about to be, Felix, having become afraid, answered, 'For the present be going, and having got time, I will call for thee;'

<sup>26</sup> and at the same time also hoping that money shall be given to him by Paul, that he may release him, therefore, also sending for him the oftener, he was conversing with him;

25

<sup>1</sup> Festus, therefore, having come into the province, after three days went up to Jerusalem from Caesarea,

<sup>2</sup> and the chief priest and the principal men of the Jews made manifest to him [the things] against Paul, and were calling on him,

<sup>3</sup> asking favour against him, that he may send for him to Jerusalem, making an ambush to put him to death in the way.

<sup>4</sup> Then, indeed, Festus answered that Paul is kept in Caesarea, and himself is about speedily to go on thither,

<sup>5</sup> 'Therefore those able among you — saith he — having come down together, if there be anything in this man — let them accuse him;'

<sup>6</sup> and having tarried among them more than ten days, having gone down to Caesarea, on the morrow having sat upon the tribunal, he commanded Paul to be brought;

<sup>7</sup> and he having come, there stood round about the Jews who have come down from Jerusalem — many and weighty charges they are bringing against Paul, which they were not able to prove,

<sup>8</sup> he making defence — 'Neither in regard to the law of the Jews, nor in regard to the temple, nor in regard to Caesar — did I commit any sin.'

<sup>9</sup> And Festus willing to lay on the Jews a favour, answering Paul, said, 'Art thou willing, to Jerusalem having gone up, there concerning these things to be judged before me?'

<sup>10</sup> and Paul said, 'At the tribunal of Caesar I am standing, where it behoveth me to be judged; to Jews I did no unrighteousness, as thou dost also very well know;

<sup>11</sup> for if indeed I am unrighteous, and anything worthy of death have done, I deprecate not to die; and if there is none of the things of which these accuse me, no one is able to make a favour of me to them; to Caesar I appeal!'

<sup>12</sup> then Festus, having communed with the council, answered, 'To Caesar thou hast appealed; to Caesar thou shalt go.'

<sup>13</sup> And certain days having passed, Agrippa the king, and Bernice, came down to Caesarea saluting Festus,

<sup>14</sup> and as they were continuing there more days, Festus submitted to the king the things concerning Paul, saying, 'There is a certain man, left by Felix, a prisoner,

<sup>15</sup> about whom, in my being at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews laid information, asking a decision against him,

<sup>16</sup> unto whom I answered, that it is not a custom of Romans to make a favour of any man to die, before that he who is accused may have the accusers face to face, and may receive place of defence in regard to the charge laid against [him].

<sup>17</sup> 'They, therefore, having come together — I, making no delay, on the succeeding [day] having sat upon the tribunal, did command the man to be brought,

<sup>18</sup> concerning whom the accusers, having stood up, were bringing against [him] no accusation of the things I was thinking of,

<sup>19</sup> but certain questions concerning their own religion they had against him, and concerning a certain Jesus who was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive;

<sup>20</sup> and I, doubting in regard to the question concerning this, said, If he would wish to go on to Jerusalem, and there to be judged concerning these things —

<sup>21</sup> but Paul having appealed to be kept to the hearing of Sebastus, I did command him to be kept till I might send him unto Caesar.'

<sup>22</sup> And Agrippa said unto Festus, 'I was wishing also myself to hear the man;' and he said, 'To-morrow thou shalt hear him;'

<sup>23</sup> on the morrow, therefore — on the coming of Agrippa and Bernice with much display, and they having entered into the audience chamber, with the chief captains also, and the principal men of the city, and Festus having ordered — Paul was brought forth.

<sup>24</sup> And Festus said, 'King Agrippa, and all men who are present with us, ye see this one, about whom all the multitude of the Jews did deal with me, both in Jerusalem and here, crying out, He ought not to live any longer;

<sup>25</sup> and I, having found him to have done nothing worthy of death, and he also himself having appealed to Sebastus, I decided to send him,

<sup>26</sup> concerning whom I have no certain thing to write to [my] lord, wherefore I brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, king Agrippa, that the examination having been made, I may have something to write;

<sup>27</sup> for it doth seem to me irrational, sending a prisoner, not also to signify the charges against him.'

26

<sup>1</sup> And Agrippa said unto Paul, 'It is permitted to thee to speak for thyself;' then Paul having stretched forth the hand, was making a defence:

<sup>2</sup> 'Concerning all things of which I am accused by Jews, king Agrippa, I have thought myself happy, being about to make a defence before thee to-day,

<sup>3</sup> especially knowing thee to be acquainted with all things — both customs and questions — among Jews; wherefore, I beseech thee, patiently to hear me.

<sup>4</sup> 'The manner of my life then, indeed, from youth — which from the beginning was among my nation, in Jerusalem — know do all the Jews,

<sup>5</sup> knowing me before from the first, (if they may be willing to testify,) that after the most exact sect of our worship, I lived a Pharisee;

<sup>6</sup> and now for the hope of the promise made to the fathers by God, I have stood judged,

<sup>7</sup> to which our twelve tribes, intently night and day serving, do hope to come, concerning which hope I am accused, king Agrippa, by the Jews;

<sup>8</sup> why is it judged incredible with you, if God doth raise the dead?

<sup>9</sup> 'I, indeed, therefore, thought with myself, that against the name of Jesus of Nazareth it behoved [me] many things to do,

<sup>10</sup> which also I did in Jerusalem, and many of the saints I in prison did shut up, from the chief priests having received the authority; they also being put to death, I gave my vote against them,

<sup>11</sup> and in every synagogue, often punishing them, I was constraining [them] to speak evil, being also exceedingly mad against them, I was also persecuting [them] even unto strange cities.

<sup>12</sup> 'In which things, also, going on to Damascus — with authority and commission from the chief priests —

<sup>13</sup> at mid-day, I saw in the way, O king, out of heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me a light — and those going on with me;

<sup>14</sup> and we all having fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew dialect, Saul, Saul, why me dost thou persecute? hard for thee against pricks to kick!

<sup>15</sup> 'And I said, Who art thou, Lord? and he said, I am Jesus whom thou dost persecute;

<sup>16</sup> but rise, and stand upon thy feet, for for this I appeared to thee, to appoint thee an officer and a witness both of the things thou didst see, and of the things [in which] I will appear to thee,

<sup>17</sup> delivering thee from the people, and the nations, to whom now I send thee,

<sup>18</sup> to open their eyes, to turn [them] from darkness to light, and [from] the authority of the Adversary unto God, for their receiving forgiveness of sins, and a lot among those having been sanctified, by faith that [is] toward me.

<sup>19</sup> 'Whereupon, king Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision,

<sup>20</sup> but to those in Damascus first, and to those in Jerusalem, to all the region also of Judea, and to the nations, I was preaching to reform, and to turn back unto God, doing works worthy of reformation;

<sup>21</sup> because of these things the Jews — having caught me in the temple — were endeavouring to kill [me].

<sup>22</sup> 'Having obtained, therefore, help from God, till this day, I have stood witnessing both to small and to great, saying nothing besides the things that both the prophets and Moses spake of as about to come,

<sup>23</sup> that the Christ is to suffer, whether first by a rising from the dead, he is about to proclaim light to the people and to the nations.'

<sup>24</sup> And, he thus making a defence, Festus with a loud voice said, 'Thou art mad, Paul; much learning doth turn thee mad;'

<sup>25</sup> and he saith, 'I am not mad, most noble Festus, but of truth and soberness the sayings I speak forth;

<sup>26</sup> for the king doth know concerning these things, before whom also I speak boldly, for none of these things, I am persuaded, are hidden from him; for this thing hath not been done in a corner;

<sup>29</sup> and Paul said, 'I would have wished to God, both in a little, and in much, not only thee, but also all those hearing me to-day, to become such as I also am — except these bonds.'

<sup>30</sup> And, he having spoken these things, the king rose up, and the governor, Bernice also, and those sitting with them,

<sup>31</sup> and having withdrawn, they were speaking unto one another, saying — 'This man doth nothing worthy of death or of bonds;'

<sup>32</sup> and Agrippa said to Festus, 'This man might have been released if he had not appealed to Caesar.'

27

<sup>1</sup> And when our sailing to Italy was determined, they were delivering up both Paul and certain others, prisoners, to a centurion, by name Julius, of the band of Sebastus,

<sup>2</sup> and having embarked in a ship of Adramyttium, we, being about to sail by the coasts of Asia, did set sail, there being with us Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica,

<sup>3</sup> on the next [day] also we touched at Sidon, and Julius, courteously treating Paul, did permit [him], having gone on unto friends, to receive [their] care.

<sup>4</sup> And thence, having set sail, we sailed under Cyprus, because of the winds being contrary,

<sup>5</sup> and having sailed over the sea over-against Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myria of Lycia,

<sup>6</sup> and there the centurion having found a ship of Alexandria, sailing to Italy, did put us into it,

<sup>7</sup> and having sailed slowly many days, and with difficulty coming over-against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under Crete, over-against Salmone,

<sup>8</sup> and hardly passing it, we came to a certain place called 'Fair Havens,' nigh to which was the city [of] Lasaea.

<sup>9</sup> And much time being spent, and the sailing being now dangerous — because of the fast also being already past — Paul was admonishing,

<sup>10</sup> saying to them, 'Men, I perceive that with hurt, and much damage, not only of the lading and of the ship, but also of our lives — the voyage is about to be;'

<sup>11</sup> but the centurion to the pilot and to the shipowner gave credence more than to the things spoken by Paul;

<sup>12</sup> and the haven being incommodious to winter in, the more part gave counsel to sail thence also, if by any means they might be able, having attained to Phenice, [there] to winter, [which is] a haven of Crete, looking to the south-west and north-west,

<sup>13</sup> and a south wind blowing softly, having thought they had obtained [their] purpose, having lifted anchor, they sailed close by Crete,

<sup>14</sup> and not long after there arose against it a tempestuous wind, that is called Euroclydon,

<sup>15</sup> and the ship being caught, and not being able to bear up against the wind, having given [her] up, we were borne on,

<sup>16</sup> and having run under a certain little isle, called Claudia, we were hardly able to become masters of the boat, <sup>17</sup> which having taken up, they were using helps, undergirding the ship, and fearing lest they may fall on the quicksand, having let down the mast — so were borne on.

<sup>18</sup> And we, being exceedingly tempest-tossed, the succeeding [day] they were making a clearing,

<sup>19</sup> and on the third [day] with our own hands the tackling of the ship we cast out,

<sup>20</sup> and neither sun nor stars appearing for more days, and not a little tempest lying upon us, thenceforth all hope was taken away of our being saved.

<sup>21</sup> And there having been long fasting, then Paul having stood in the midst of them, said, 'It behoved [you], indeed, O men — having hearkened to me — not to set sail from Crete, and to save this hurt and damage;

<sup>22</sup> and now I exhort you to be of good cheer, for there shall be no loss of life among you — but of the ship;

<sup>23</sup> for there stood by me this night a messenger of God — whose I am, and whom I serve —

<sup>24</sup> saying, Be not afraid Paul; before Caesar it behoveth thee to stand; and, lo, God hath granted to thee all those sailing with thee;

<sup>25</sup> wherefore be of good cheer, men! for I believe God, that so it shall be, even as it hath been spoken to me,

<sup>27</sup> And when the fourteenth night came — we being borne up and down in the Adria — toward the middle of the night the sailors were supposing that some country drew nigh to them;

<sup>28</sup> and having sounded they found twenty fathoms, and having gone a little farther, and again having sounded, they found fifteen fathoms,

<sup>29</sup> and fearing lest on rough places we may fall, out of the stern having cast four anchors, they were wishing day to come.

<sup>30</sup> And the sailors seeking to flee out of the ship, and having let down the boat to the sea, in pretence as [if] out of the foreship they are about to cast anchors,

<sup>31</sup> Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, 'If these do not remain in the ship — ye are not able to be saved;'

<sup>32</sup> then the soldiers did cut off the ropes of the boat, and suffered it to fall off.

<sup>33</sup> And till the day was about to be, Paul was calling upon all to partake of nourishment, saying, 'Fourteen days to-day, waiting, ye continue fasting, having taken nothing,

<sup>34</sup> wherefore I call upon you to take nourishment, for this is for your safety, for of not one of you shall a hair from the head fall;'

<sup>35</sup> and having said these things, and having taken bread, he gave thanks to God before all, and having broken [it], he began to eat;

<sup>37</sup> (and we were — all the souls in the ship — two hundred, seventy and six),

<sup>38</sup> and having eaten sufficient nourishment, they were lightening the ship, casting forth the wheat into the sea.

<sup>39</sup> And when the day came, they were not discerning the land, but a certain creek were perceiving having a beach, into which they took counsel, if possible, to thrust forward the ship,

<sup>40</sup> and the anchors having taken up, they were committing [it] to the sea, at the same time — having loosed the bands of the rudders, and having hoisted up the mainsail to the wind — they were making for the shore,

<sup>41</sup> and having fallen into a place of two seas, they ran the ship aground, and the fore-part, indeed, having stuck fast, did remain immoveable, but the hinder-part was broken by the violence of the waves.

<sup>42</sup> And the soldiers' counsel was that they should kill the prisoners, lest any one having swam out should escape,

<sup>43</sup> but the centurion, wishing to save Paul, hindered them from the counsel, and did command those able to swim, having cast themselves out first — to get unto the land, <sup>44</sup> and the rest, some indeed upon boards, and some upon certain things of the ship; and thus it came to pass that all came safe unto the land.

28

<sup>2</sup> and the foreigners were shewing us no ordinary kindness, for having kindled a fire, they received us all, because of the pressing rain, and because of the cold;

<sup>5</sup> he then, indeed, having shaken off the beast into the fire, suffered no evil,

<sup>6</sup> and they were expecting him to be about to be inflamed, or to fall down suddenly dead, and they, expecting [it] a long time, and seeing nothing uncommon happening to him, changing [their] minds, said he was a god.

<sup>7</sup> And in the neighbourhood of that place were lands of the principal man of the island, by name Publius, who, having received us, three days did courteously lodge [us];

<sup>8</sup> and it came to pass, the father of Publius with feverish heats and dysentery pressed, was laid, unto whom Paul having entered, and having prayed, having laid [his] hands on him, healed him;

<sup>9</sup> this, therefore, being done, the others also in the island having infirmities were coming and were healed;

<sup>10</sup> who also with many honours did honour us, and we setting sail — they were lading [us] with the things that were necessary.

<sup>11</sup> And after three months, we set sail in a ship (that had wintered in the isle) of Alexandria, with the sign Dioscuri,

<sup>12</sup> and having landed at Syracuse, we remained three days,

<sup>13</sup> thence having gone round, we came to Rhegium, and after one day, a south wind having sprung up, the second [day] we came to Puteoli;

<sup>14</sup> where, having found brethren, we were called upon to remain with them seven days, and thus to Rome we came;

<sup>15</sup> and thence, the brethren having heard the things concerning us, came forth to meet us, unto Appii Forum, and Three Taverns — whom Paul having seen, having given thanks to God, took courage.

<sup>16</sup> And when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered up the prisoners to the captain of the barrack, but Paul was suffered to remain by himself, with the soldier guarding him.

<sup>17</sup> And it came to pass after three days, Paul called together those who are the principal men of the Jews, and they having come together, he said unto them: 'Men, brethren, I — having done nothing contrary to the people, or to the customs of the fathers — a prisoner from Jerusalem, was delivered up to the hands of the Romans;

<sup>18</sup> who, having examined me, were wishing to release [me], because of their being no cause of death in me,

<sup>19</sup> and the Jews having spoken against [it], I was constrained to appeal unto Caesar — not as having anything to accuse my nation of;

<sup>20</sup> for this cause, therefore, I called for you to see and to speak with [you], for because of the hope of Israel with this chain I am bound.'

<sup>21</sup> And they said unto him, 'We did neither receive letters concerning thee from Judea, nor did any one who came of the brethren declare or speak any evil concerning thee,

<sup>22</sup> and we think it good from thee to hear what thou dost think, for, indeed, concerning this sect it is known to us that everywhere it is spoken against;'

<sup>23</sup> and having appointed him a day, they came, more of them unto him, to the lodging, to whom he was expounding, testifying fully the reign of God, persuading them also of the things concerning Jesus, both from the law of Moses, and the prophets, from morning till evening,

<sup>24</sup> and, some, indeed, were believing the things spoken, and some were not believing.

<sup>25</sup> And not being agreed with one another, they were going away, Paul having spoken one word — 'Well did the Holy Spirit speak through Isaiah the prophet unto our fathers,

<sup>26</sup> saying, Go on unto this people and say, With hearing ye shall hear, and ye shall not understand, and seeing ye shall see, and ye shall not perceive,

<sup>27</sup> for made gross was the heart of this people, and with the ears they heard heavily, and their eyes they did close, lest they may see with the eyes, and with the heart may understand, and be turned back, and I may heal them.

<sup>28</sup> 'Be it known, therefore, to you, that to the nations was sent the salvation of God, these also will hear it;'

<sup>29</sup> and he having said these things, the Jews went away, having much disputation among themselves;

<sup>30</sup> and Paul remained an entire two years in his own hired [house], and was receiving all those coming in unto him,

<sup>31</sup> preaching the reign of God, and teaching the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ with all boldness — unforbidden.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE ROMANS

<sup>3</sup> concerning His Son, (who is come of the seed of David according to the flesh, <sup>4</sup> who is marked out Son of God in power, according to the Spirit of sanctification, by the rising again from the dead,) Jesus Christ our Lord;

<sup>5</sup> through whom we did receive grace and apostleship, for obedience of faith among all the nations, in behalf of his name;

<sup>6</sup> among whom are also ye, the called of Jesus Christ;

<sup>7</sup> to all who are in Rome, beloved of God, called saints; Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father, and [from] the Lord Jesus Christ!

<sup>8</sup> first, indeed, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is proclaimed in the whole world;

<sup>9</sup> for God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the good news of His Son, how unceasingly I make mention of you,

<sup>10</sup> always in my prayers beseeching, if by any means now at length I shall have a prosperous journey, by the will of God, to come unto you,

<sup>11</sup> for I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift, that ye may be established;

<sup>12</sup> and that is, that I may be comforted together among you, through the faith in one another, both yours and mine.

<sup>13</sup> And I do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, that many times I did purpose to come unto you — and was hindered till the present time — that some fruit I might have also among you, even as also among the other nations.

<sup>14</sup> Both to Greeks and to foreigners, both to wise and to thoughtless, I am a debtor,

<sup>15</sup> so, as much as in me is, I am ready also to you who [are] in Rome to proclaim good news,

<sup>16</sup> for I am not ashamed of the good news of the Christ, for it is the power of God to salvation to every one who is believing, both to Jew first, and to Greek.

<sup>17</sup> For the righteousness of God in it is revealed from faith to faith, according as it hath been written, 'And the righteous one by faith shall live,'

<sup>18</sup> for revealed is the wrath of God from heaven upon all impiety and unrighteousness of men, holding down the truth in unrighteousness.

<sup>19</sup> Because that which is known of God is manifest among them, for God did manifest [it] to them,

<sup>20</sup> for the invisible things of Him from the creation of the world, by the things made being understood, are plainly seen, both His eternal power and Godhead — to their being inexcusable;

<sup>21</sup> because, having known God they did not glorify [Him] as God, nor gave thanks, but were made vain in their reasonings, and their unintelligent heart was darkened,

<sup>22</sup> professing to be wise, they were made fools,

<sup>23</sup> and changed the glory of the incorruptible God into the likeness of an image of corruptible man, and of fowls, and of quadrupeds, and of reptiles.

<sup>24</sup> Wherefore also God did give them up, in the desires of their hearts, to uncleanness, to dishonour their bodies among themselves;

<sup>25</sup> who did change the truth of God into a falsehood, and did honour and serve the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed to the ages. Amen.

<sup>26</sup> Because of this did God give them up to dishonourable affections, for even their females did change the natural use into that against nature;

<sup>28</sup> And, according as they did not approve of having God in knowledge, God gave them up to a disapproved mind, to do the things not seemly;

<sup>29</sup> having been filled with all unrighteousness, whoredom, wickedness, covetousness, malice; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, evil dispositions; whisperers,

<sup>32</sup> who the righteous judgment of God having known — that those practising such things are worthy of death — not only do them, but also have delight with those practising them.

2

<sup>1</sup> Therefore, thou art inexcusable, O man — every one who is judging — for in that in which thou dost judge the other, thyself thou dost condemn, for the same things thou dost practise who art judging,

<sup>2</sup> and we have known that the judgment of God is according to truth, upon those practising such things.

<sup>3</sup> And dost thou think this, O man, who art judging those who such things are practising, and art doing them, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?

<sup>4</sup> or the riches of His goodness, and forbearance, and long-suffering, dost thou despise? — not knowing that the goodness of God doth lead thee to reformation!

<sup>5</sup> but, according to thy hardness and impenitent heart, thou dost treasure up to thyself wrath, in a day of wrath and of the revelation of the righteous judgment of God,

<sup>7</sup> to those, indeed, who in continuance of a good work, do seek glory, and honour, and incorruptibility — life age-during;

<sup>8</sup> and to those contentious, and disobedient, indeed, to the truth, and obeying the unrighteousness — indignation and wrath,

<sup>9</sup> tribulation and distress, upon every soul of man that is working the evil, both of Jew first, and of Greek;

<sup>10</sup> and glory, and honour, and peace, to every one who is working the good, both to Jew first, and to Greek.

<sup>11</sup> For there is no acceptance of faces with God,

<sup>12</sup> for as many as without law did sin, without law also shall perish, and as many as did sin in law, through law shall be judged,

<sup>13</sup> for not the hearers of the law [are] righteous before God, but the doers of the law shall be declared righteous: —

<sup>14</sup> For, when nations that have not a law, by nature may do the things of the law, these not having a law — to themselves are a law;

<sup>15</sup> who do shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also witnessing with them, and between one another the thoughts accusing or else defending,

<sup>16</sup> in the day when God shall judge the secrets of men, according to my good news, through Jesus Christ.

<sup>17</sup> Lo, thou art named a Jew, and dost rest upon the law, and dost boast in God,

<sup>18</sup> and dost know the will, and dost approve the distinctions, being instructed out of the law,

<sup>19</sup> and hast confidence that thou thyself art a leader of blind ones, a light of those in darkness,

<sup>20</sup> an instructor of foolish ones, a teacher of babes, having the form of the knowledge and of the truth in the law.

<sup>22</sup> thou who art preaching not to steal, dost thou steal? thou who art saying not to commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou who art abhorring the idols, dost thou rob temples?

<sup>23</sup> thou who in the law dost boast, through the transgression of the law God dost thou dishonour?

<sup>24</sup> for the name of God because of you is evil spoken of among the nations, according as it hath been written.

<sup>25</sup> For circumcision, indeed, doth profit, if law thou mayest practise, but if a transgressor of law thou mayest be, thy circumcision hath become uncircumcision.

<sup>26</sup> If, therefore the uncircumcision the righteousness of the law may keep, shall not his uncircumcision for circumcision be reckoned?

<sup>27</sup> and the uncircumcision, by nature, fulfilling the law, shall judge thee who, through letter and circumcision, [art] a transgressor of law.

<sup>28</sup> For he is not a Jew who is [so] outwardly, neither [is] circumcision that which is outward in flesh;

<sup>29</sup> but a Jew [is] he who is [so] inwardly, and circumcision [is] of the heart, in spirit, not in letter, of which the praise is not of men, but of God.

3

<sup>2</sup> much in every way; for first, indeed, that they were intrusted with the oracles of God;

<sup>3</sup> for what, if certain were faithless? shall their faithlessness the faithfulness of God make useless?

<sup>4</sup> let it not be! and let God become true, and every man false, according as it hath been written, 'That Thou mayest be declared righteous in Thy words, and mayest overcome in Thy being judged.'

<sup>5</sup> And, if our unrighteousness God's righteousness doth establish, what shall we say? is God unrighteous who is inflicting the wrath? (after the manner of a man I speak)

<sup>7</sup> for if the truth of God in my falsehood did more abound to His glory, why yet am I also as a sinner judged?

<sup>8</sup> and not, as we are evil spoken of, and as certain affirm us to say — 'We may do the evil things, that the good ones may come?' whose judgment is righteous.

<sup>9</sup> What, then? are we better? not at all! for we did before charge both Jews and Greeks with being all under sin,

<sup>10</sup> according as it hath been written — 'There is none righteous, not even one;

<sup>11</sup> There is none who is understanding, there is none who is seeking after God.

<sup>19</sup> And we have known that as many things as the law saith, to those in the law it doth speak, that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may come under judgment to God;

<sup>20</sup> wherefore by works of law shall no flesh be declared righteous before Him, for through law is a knowledge of sin.

<sup>21</sup> And now apart from law hath the righteousness of God been manifested, testified to by the law and the prophets,

<sup>22</sup> and the righteousness of God [is] through the faith of Jesus Christ to all, and upon all those believing, — for there is no difference,

<sup>23</sup> for all did sin, and are come short of the glory of God —

<sup>24</sup> being declared righteous freely by His grace through the redemption that [is] in Christ Jesus,

<sup>25</sup> whom God did set forth a mercy seat, through the faith in his blood, for the shewing forth of His righteousness, because of the passing over of the bygone sins in the forbearance of God —

<sup>27</sup> Where then [is] the boasting? it was excluded; by what law? of works? no, but by a law of faith:

<sup>28</sup> therefore do we reckon a man to be declared righteous by faith, apart from works of law.

<sup>29</sup> The God of Jews only [is He], and not also of nations?

<sup>30</sup> yes, also of nations; since one [is] God who shall declare righteous the circumcision by faith, and the uncircumcision through the faith.

<sup>31</sup> Law then do we make useless through the faith? let it not be! yea, we do establish law.

4

<sup>1</sup> What, then, shall we say Abraham our father, to have found, according to flesh?

<sup>2</sup> for if Abraham by works was declared righteous, he hath to boast — but not before God;

<sup>3</sup> for what doth the writing say? 'And Abraham did believe God, and it was reckoned to him — to righteousness;'

<sup>4</sup> and to him who is working, the reward is not reckoned of grace, but of debt;

<sup>5</sup> and to him who is not working, and is believing upon Him who is declaring righteous the impious, his faith is reckoned – to righteousness:

<sup>6</sup> even as David also doth speak of the happiness of the man to whom God doth reckon righteousness apart from works:

<sup>7</sup> 'Happy they whose lawless acts were forgiven, and whose sins were covered;

<sup>8</sup> happy the man to whom the Lord may not reckon sin.'

<sup>9</sup> [Is] this happiness, then, upon the circumcision, or also upon the uncircumcision – for we say that the faith was reckoned to Abraham – to righteousness?

<sup>10</sup> how then was it reckoned? he being in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision;

<sup>11</sup> and a sign he did receive of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith in the uncircumcision, for his being father of all those believing through uncircumcision, for the righteousness also being reckoned to them,

<sup>12</sup> and father of circumcision to those not of circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of the faith, that [is] in the uncircumcision of our father Abraham.

<sup>13</sup> For not through law [is] the promise to Abraham, or to his seed, of his being heir of the world, but through the righteousness of faith;

<sup>14</sup> for if they who are of law [are] heirs, the faith hath been made void, and the promise hath been made useless;

<sup>16</sup> Because of this [it is] of faith, that [it may be] according to grace, for the promise being sure to all the seed, not to that which [is] of the law only, but also to that which [is] of the faith of Abraham,

<sup>17</sup> who is father of us all (according as it hath been written – 'A father of many nations I have set thee,') before Him whom he did believe – God, who is quickening the dead, and is calling the things that be not as being.

<sup>18</sup> Who, against hope in hope did believe, for his becoming father of many nations according to that spoken: 'So shall thy seed be;'

<sup>19</sup> and not having been weak in the faith, he did not consider his own body, already become dead, (being about a hundred years old,) and the deadness of Sarah's womb,

<sup>20</sup> and at the promise of God did not stagger in unbelief, but was strengthened in faith, having given glory to God,

<sup>21</sup> and having been fully persuaded that what He hath promised He is able also to do:

<sup>22</sup> wherefore also it was reckoned to him to righteousness.

<sup>23</sup> And it was not written on his account alone, that it was reckoned to him,

<sup>24</sup> but also on ours, to whom it is about to be reckoned – to us believing on Him who did raise up Jesus our Lord out of the dead, <sup>25</sup> who was delivered up because of our offences, and was raised up because of our being declared righteous.

5

<sup>1</sup> Having been declared righteous, then, by faith, we have peace toward God through our Lord Jesus Christ,

<sup>2</sup> through whom also we have the access by the faith into this grace in which we have stood, and we boast on the hope of the glory of God.

<sup>3</sup> And not only [so], but we also boast in the tribulations, knowing that the tribulation doth work endurance;

<sup>4</sup> and the endurance, experience; and the experience, hope;

<sup>5</sup> and the hope doth not make ashamed, because the love of God hath been poured forth in our hearts through the Holy Spirit that hath been given to us.

<sup>6</sup> For in our being still ailing, Christ in due time did die for the impious;

<sup>7</sup> for scarcely for a righteous man will any one die, for for the good man perhaps some one also doth dare to die;

<sup>8</sup> and God doth commend His own love to us, that, in our being still sinners, Christ did die for us;

<sup>9</sup> much more, then, having been declared righteous now in his blood, we shall be saved through him from the wrath;

<sup>10</sup> for if, being enemies, we have been reconciled to God through the death of His Son, much more, having been reconciled, we shall be saved in his life.

<sup>11</sup> And not only [so], but we are also boasting in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom now we did receive the reconciliation;

<sup>12</sup> because of this, even as through one man the sin did enter into the world, and through the sin the death; and thus to all men the death did pass through, for that all did sin;

<sup>13</sup> for till law sin was in the world: and sin is not reckoned when there is not law;

<sup>14</sup> but the death did reign from Adam till Moses, even upon those not having sinned in the likeness of Adam's transgression, who is a type of him who is coming.

<sup>15</sup> But, not as the offence so also [is] the free gift; for if by the offence of the one the many did die, much more did the grace of God, and the free gift in grace of the one man Jesus Christ, abound to the many;

<sup>16</sup> and not as through one who did sin [is] the free gift, for the judgment indeed [is] of one to condemnation, but the gift [is] of many offences to a declaration of 'Righteous,'

<sup>17</sup> for if by the offence of the one the death did reign through the one, much more those, who the abundance of the grace and of the free gift of the righteousness are receiving, in life shall reign through the one — Jesus Christ.

<sup>18</sup> So, then, as through one offence to all men [it is] to condemnation, so also through one declaration of 'Righteous' [it is] to all men to justification of life;

<sup>19</sup> for as through the disobedience of the one man, the many were constituted sinners: so also through the obedience of the one, shall the many be constituted righteous.

<sup>20</sup> And law came in, that the offence might abound, and where the sin did abound, the grace did overabound,

<sup>21</sup> that even as the sin did reign in the death, so also the grace may reign, through righteousness, to life age-during, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

6

<sup>1</sup> What, then, shall we say? shall we continue in the sin that the grace may abound?

<sup>2</sup> let it not be! we who died to the sin — how shall we still live in it?

<sup>3</sup> are ye ignorant that we, as many as were baptized to Christ Jesus, to his death were baptized?

<sup>4</sup> we were buried together, then, with him through the baptism to the death, that even as Christ was raised up out of the dead through the glory of the Father, so also we in newness of life might walk.

<sup>5</sup> For, if we have become planted together to the likeness of his death, [so] also we shall be of the rising again;

<sup>6</sup> this knowing, that our old man was crucified with [him], that the body of the sin may be made useless, for our no longer serving the sin;

<sup>7</sup> for he who hath died hath been set free from the sin.

<sup>8</sup> And if we died with Christ, we believe that we also shall live with him,

<sup>9</sup> knowing that Christ, having been raised up out of the dead, doth no more die, death over him hath no more lordship;

<sup>10</sup> for in that he died, to the sin he died once, and in that he liveth, he liveth to God;

<sup>11</sup> so also ye, reckon yourselves to be dead indeed to the sin, and living to God in Jesus Christ our Lord.

<sup>12</sup> Let not then the sin reign in your mortal body, to obey it in its desires;

<sup>13</sup> neither present ye your members instruments of unrighteousness to the sin, but present yourselves to God as living out of the dead, and your members instruments of righteousness to God;

<sup>14</sup> for sin over you shall not have lordship, for ye are not under law, but under grace.

<sup>15</sup> What then? shall we sin because we are not under law but under grace? let it not be!

<sup>16</sup> have ye not known that to whom ye present yourselves servants for obedience, servants ye are to him to whom ye obey, whether of sin to death, or of obedience to righteousness?

<sup>17</sup> and thanks to God, that ye were servants of the sin, and – were obedient from the heart to the form of teaching to which ye were delivered up;

<sup>18</sup> and having been freed from the sin, ye became servants to the righteousness.

<sup>19</sup> In the manner of men I speak, because of the weakness of your flesh, for even as ye did present your members servants to the uncleanness and to the lawlessness – to the lawlessness, so now present your members servants to the righteousness – to sanctification,

<sup>20</sup> for when ye were servants of the sin, ye were free from the righteousness,

<sup>21</sup> what fruit, therefore, were ye having then, in the things of which ye are now ashamed? for the end of those [is] death.

<sup>22</sup> And now, having been freed from the sin, and having become servants to God, ye have your fruit – to sanctification, and the end life age-during;

<sup>23</sup> for the wages of the sin [is] death, and the gift of God [is] life age-during in Christ Jesus our Lord.

7

<sup>1</sup> Are ye ignorant, brethren – for to those knowing law I speak – that the law hath lordship over the man as long as he liveth?

<sup>2</sup> for the married woman to the living husband hath been bound by law, and if the husband may die, she hath been free from the law of the husband;

<sup>3</sup> so, then, the husband being alive, an adulteress she shall be called if she may become another man's; and if the husband may die, she is free from the law, so as not to be an adulteress, having become another man's.

<sup>4</sup> So that, my brethren, ye also were made dead to the law through the body of the Christ, for your becoming another's, who out of the dead was raised up, that we might bear fruit to God;

<sup>5</sup> for when we were in the flesh, the passions of the sins, that [are] through the law, were working in our members, to bear fruit to the death;

<sup>6</sup> and now we have ceased from the law, that being dead in which we were held, so that we may serve in newness of spirit, and not in oldness of letter.

<sup>7</sup> What, then, shall we say? the law [is] sin? let it not be! but the sin I did not know except through law, for also the covetousness I had not known if the law had not said:

<sup>8</sup> 'Thou shalt not covet;' and the sin having received an opportunity, through the command, did work in me all covetousness – for apart from law sin is dead.

<sup>9</sup> And I was alive apart from law once, and the command having come, the sin revived, and I died;

<sup>10</sup> and the command that [is] for life, this was found by me for death;

<sup>11</sup> for the sin, having received an opportunity, through the command, did deceive me, and through it did slay [me];

<sup>12</sup> so that the law, indeed, [is] holy, and the command holy, and righteous, and good.

<sup>13</sup> That which is good then, to me hath it become death? let it not be! but the sin, that it might appear sin, through the good, working death to me, that the sin might become exceeding sinful through the command,

<sup>14</sup> for we have known that the law is spiritual, and I am fleshly, sold by the sin;

<sup>15</sup> for that which I work, I do not acknowledge; for not what I will, this I practise, but what I hate, this I do.

<sup>16</sup> And if what I do not will, this I do, I consent to the law that [it is] good,

<sup>17</sup> and now it is no longer I that work it, but the sin dwelling in me,

<sup>18</sup> for I have known that there doth not dwell in me, that is, in my flesh, good: for to will is present with me, and to work that which is right I do not find,

<sup>19</sup> for the good that I will, I do not; but the evil that I do not will, this I practise.

<sup>20</sup> And if what I do not will, this I do, it is no longer I that work it, but the sin that is dwelling in me.

<sup>21</sup> I find, then, the law, that when I desire to do what is right, with me the evil is present,

<sup>22</sup> for I delight in the law of God according to the inward man, <sup>23</sup> and I behold another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of the sin that [is] in my members.

<sup>24</sup> A wretched man I [am]! who shall deliver me out of the body of this death?

<sup>25</sup> I thank God – through Jesus Christ our Lord; so then, I myself indeed with the mind do serve the law of God, and with the flesh, the law of sin.

8

<sup>1</sup> There is, then, now no condemnation to those in Christ Jesus, who walk not according to the flesh, but according to the Spirit;

<sup>2</sup> for the law of the Spirit of the life in Christ Jesus did set me free from the law of the sin and of the death;

<sup>3</sup> for what the law was not able to do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God, His own Son having sent in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, did condemn the sin in the flesh,

<sup>4</sup> that the righteousness of the law may be fulfilled in us, who do not walk according to the flesh, but according to the Spirit.

<sup>5</sup> For those who are according to the flesh, the things of the flesh do mind; and those according to the Spirit, the things of the Spirit;

<sup>6</sup> for the mind of the flesh [is] death, and the mind of the Spirit — life and peace;

<sup>7</sup> because the mind of the flesh [is] enmity to God, for to the law of God it doth not subject itself,

<sup>8</sup> for neither is it able; and those who are in the flesh are not able to please God.

<sup>9</sup> And ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if indeed the Spirit of God doth dwell in you; and if any one hath not the Spirit of Christ — this one is not His;

<sup>10</sup> and if Christ [is] in you, the body, indeed, [is] dead because of sin, and the Spirit [is] life because of righteousness,

<sup>11</sup> and if the Spirit of Him who did raise up Jesus out of the dead doth dwell in you, He who did raise up the Christ out of the dead shall quicken also your dying bodies, through His Spirit dwelling in you.

<sup>12</sup> So, then, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh;

<sup>13</sup> for if according to the flesh ye do live, ye are about to die; and if, by the Spirit, the deeds of the body ye put to death, ye shall live;

<sup>14</sup> for as many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are the sons of God;

<sup>15</sup> for ye did not receive a spirit of bondage again for fear, but ye did receive a spirit of adoption in which we cry, 'Abba — Father.'

<sup>16</sup> The Spirit himself doth testify with our spirit, that we are children of God;

<sup>17</sup> and if children, also heirs, heirs, indeed, of God, and heirs together of Christ — if, indeed, we suffer together, that we may also be glorified together.

<sup>18</sup> For I reckon that the sufferings of the present time [are] not worthy [to be compared] with the glory about to be revealed in us;

<sup>19</sup> for the earnest looking out of the creation doth expect the revelation of the sons of God;

<sup>20</sup> for to vanity was the creation made subject — not of its will, but because of Him who did subject [it] — in hope,

<sup>21</sup> that also the creation itself shall be set free from the servitude of the corruption to the liberty of the glory of the children of God;

<sup>22</sup> for we have known that all the creation doth groan together, and doth travail in pain together till now.

<sup>23</sup> And not only [so], but also we ourselves, having the first-fruit of the Spirit, we also ourselves in ourselves do groan, adoption expecting — the redemption of our body;

<sup>24</sup> for in hope we were saved, and hope beheld is not hope; for what any one doth behold, why also doth he hope for [it]?

<sup>25</sup> and if what we do not behold we hope for, through continuance we expect [it].

<sup>26</sup> And, in like manner also, the Spirit doth help our weaknesses; for, what we may pray for, as it behoveth [us], we have not known, but the Spirit himself doth make intercession for us with groanings unutterable,

<sup>27</sup> and He who is searching the hearts hath known what [is] the mind of the Spirit, because according to God he doth intercede for saints.

<sup>28</sup> And we have known that to those loving God all things do work together for good, to those who are called according to purpose;

<sup>29</sup> because whom He did foreknow, He also did fore-appoint, conformed to the image of His Son, that he might be first-born among many brethren;

<sup>30</sup> and whom He did fore-appoint, these also He did call; and whom He did call, these also He declared righteous; and whom He declared righteous, these also He did glorify.

<sup>31</sup> What, then, shall we say unto these things? if God [is] for us, who [is] against us?

<sup>32</sup> He who indeed His own Son did not spare, but for us all did deliver him up, how shall He not also with him the all things grant to us?

<sup>33</sup> Who shall lay a charge against the choice ones of God? God [is] He that is declaring righteous, <sup>34</sup> who [is] he that is condemning? Christ [is] He that died, yea, rather also, was raised up; who is also on the right hand of God — who also doth intercede for us.

<sup>35</sup> Who shall separate us from the love of the Christ? tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?

<sup>36</sup> (according as it hath been written — 'For Thy sake we are put to death all the day long, we were reckoned as sheep of slaughter;')

<sup>37</sup> but in all these we more than conquer, through him who loved us;

<sup>38</sup> for I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor messengers, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, <sup>39</sup> nor things about to be, nor height, nor depth, nor any other created thing, shall be able to separate us from the love of god, that [is] in Christ Jesus our Lord.

9

<sup>1</sup> Truth I say in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing testimony with me in the Holy Spirit,

<sup>3</sup> for I was wishing, I myself, to be anathema from the Christ — for my brethren, my kindred, according to the flesh,

<sup>4</sup> who are Israelites, whose [is] the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the lawgiving, and the service, and the promises,

<sup>5</sup> whose [are] the fathers, and of whom [is] the Christ, according to the flesh, who is over all, God blessed to the ages. Amen.

<sup>6</sup> And it is not possible that the word of God hath failed; for not all who [are] of Israel are these Israel;

<sup>7</sup> nor because they are seed of Abraham [are] all children, but — 'in Isaac shall a seed be called to thee;'

<sup>8</sup> that is, the children of the flesh — these [are] not children of God; but the children of the promise are reckoned for seed;

<sup>9</sup> for the word of promise [is] this; 'According to this time I will come, and there shall be to Sarah a son.'

<sup>10</sup> And not only [so], but also Rebecca, having conceived by one — Isaac our father —

<sup>11</sup> (for they being not yet born, neither having done anything good or evil, that the purpose of God, according to choice, might remain; not of works, but of Him who is calling,) it was said to her —

- <sup>12</sup> 'The greater shall serve the less;'
<sup>13</sup> according as it hath been written, 'Jacob I did love, and Esau I did hate.'
<sup>14</sup> What, then, shall we say? unrighteousness [is] with God? let it not be!
<sup>15</sup> for to Moses He saith, 'I will do kindness to whom I do kindness, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion;'
<sup>16</sup> so, then — not of him who is willing, nor of him who is running, but of God who is doing kindness:
<sup>17</sup> for the Writing saith to Pharaoh — 'For this very thing I did raise thee up, that I might shew in thee My power, and that My name might be declared in all the land;'
<sup>18</sup> so, then, to whom He willeth, He doth kindness, and to whom He willeth, He doth harden.
<sup>19</sup> Thou wilt say, then, to me, 'Why yet doth He find fault? for His counsel who hath resisted?'
<sup>20</sup> nay, but, O man, who art thou that art answering again to God? shall the thing formed say to Him who did form [it], Why me didst thou make thus?
<sup>21</sup> hath not the potter authority over the clay, out of the same lump to make the one vessel to honour, and the one to dishonour?
<sup>22</sup> And if God, willing to shew the wrath and to make known His power, did endure, in much long suffering, vessels of wrath fitted for destruction,
<sup>23</sup> and that He might make known the riches of His glory on vessels of kindness, that He before prepared for glory, whom also He did call — us —
<sup>24</sup> not only out of Jews, but also out of nations,
<sup>25</sup> as also in Hosea He saith, 'I will call what [is] not My people — My people; and her not beloved — Beloved,
<sup>26</sup> and it shall be — in the place where it was said to them, Ye [are] not My people; there they shall be called sons of the living God.'
<sup>27</sup> And Isaiah doth cry concerning Israel, 'If the number of the sons of Israel may be as the sand of the sea, the remnant shall be saved;
<sup>28</sup> for a matter He is finishing, and is cutting short in righteousness, because a matter cut short will the Lord do upon the land.
<sup>29</sup> and according as Isaiah saith before, 'Except the Lord of Sabaoth did leave to us a seed, as Sodom we had become, and as Gomorrah we had been made like.'
<sup>30</sup> What, then, shall we say? that nations who are not pursuing righteousness did attain to righteousness, and righteousness that [is] of faith,
<sup>31</sup> and Israel, pursuing a law of righteousness, at a law of righteousness did not arrive;
<sup>32</sup> wherefore? because — not by faith, but as by works of law; for they did stumble at the stone of stumbling,
<sup>33</sup> according as it hath been written, 'Lo, I place in Sion a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence; and every one who is believing thereon shall not be ashamed.'

10

- <sup>1</sup> Brethren, the pleasure indeed of my heart, and my supplication that [is] to God for Israel, is — for salvation;
<sup>2</sup> for I bear them testimony that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge,
<sup>3</sup> for not knowing the righteousness of God, and their own righteousness seeking to establish, to the righteousness of God they did not submit.
<sup>4</sup> For Christ is an end of law for righteousness to every one who is believing,

<sup>5</sup> for Moses doth describe the righteousness that [is] of the law, that, 'The man who did them shall live in them,'

<sup>6</sup> and the righteousness of faith doth thus speak: 'Thou mayest not say in thine heart, Who shall go up to the heaven,' that is, Christ to bring down?

<sup>7</sup> or, 'Who shall go down to the abyss,' that is, Christ out of the dead to bring up.

<sup>8</sup> But what doth it say? 'Nigh thee is the saying — in thy mouth, and in thy heart:' that is, the saying of the faith, that we preach;

<sup>9</sup> that if thou mayest confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and mayest believe in thy heart that God did raise him out of the dead, thou shalt be saved,

<sup>10</sup> for with the heart doth [one] believe to righteousness, and with the mouth is confession made to salvation;

<sup>11</sup> for the Writing saith, 'Every one who is believing on him shall not be ashamed,'

<sup>12</sup> for there is no difference between Jew and Greek, for the same Lord of all [is] rich to all those calling upon Him,

<sup>13</sup> for every one — whoever shall call upon the name of the Lord, he shall be saved.'

<sup>14</sup> How then shall they call upon [him] in whom they did not believe? and how shall they believe [on him] of whom they did not hear? and how shall they hear apart from one preaching?

<sup>15</sup> and how shall they preach, if they may not be sent? according as it hath been written, 'How beautiful the feet of those proclaiming good tidings of peace, of those proclaiming good tidings of the good things!'

<sup>16</sup> But they were not all obedient to the good tidings, for Isaiah saith, 'Lord, who did give credence to our report?'

<sup>17</sup> so then the faith [is] by a report, and the report through a saying of God,

<sup>18</sup> but I say, Did they not hear? yes, indeed — 'to all the earth their voice went forth, and to the ends of the habitable world their sayings.'

<sup>19</sup> But I say, Did not Israel know? first Moses saith, 'I will provoke you to jealousy by [that which is] not a nation; by an unintelligent nation I will anger you,'

<sup>20</sup> and Isaiah is very bold, and saith, 'I was found by those not seeking Me; I became manifest to those not inquiring after Me;'

<sup>21</sup> and unto Israel He saith, 'All the day I did stretch out My hands unto a people unbelieving and gainsaying.'

11

<sup>1</sup> I say, then, Did God cast away His people? let it not be! for I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin:

<sup>2</sup> God did not cast away His people whom He knew before; have ye not known — in Elijah — what the Writing saith? how he doth plead with God concerning Israel, saying,

<sup>3</sup> 'Lord, Thy prophets they did kill, and Thy altars they dug down, and I was left alone, and they seek my life;'

<sup>4</sup> but what saith the divine answer to him? 'I left to Myself seven thousand men, who did not bow a knee to Baal.'

<sup>5</sup> So then also in the present time a remnant according to the choice of grace there hath been;

<sup>6</sup> and if by grace, no more of works, otherwise the grace becometh no more grace; and if of works, it is no more grace, otherwise the work is no more work.

<sup>7</sup> What then? What Israel doth seek after, this it did not obtain, and the chosen did obtain, and the rest were hardened,

<sup>8</sup> according as it hath been written, 'God gave to them a spirit of deep sleep, eyes not to see, and ears not to hear,' — unto this very day,

<sup>9</sup> and David saith, 'Let their table become for a snare, and for a trap, and for a stumbling-block, and for a recompense to them;

<sup>10</sup> let their eyes be darkened — not to behold, and their back do Thou always bow down.'

<sup>11</sup> I say, then, Did they stumble that they might fall? let it not be! but by their fall the salvation [is] to the nations, to arouse them to jealousy;

<sup>12</sup> and if the fall of them [is] the riches of a world, and the diminution of them the riches of nations, how much more the fulness of them?

<sup>13</sup> For to you I speak — to the nations — inasmuch as I am indeed an apostle of nations, my ministration I do glorify;

<sup>14</sup> if by any means I shall arouse to jealousy mine own flesh, and shall save some of them,

<sup>15</sup> for if the casting away of them [is] a reconciliation of the world, what the reception — if not life out of the dead?

<sup>16</sup> and if the first-fruit [is] holy, the lump also; and if the root [is] holy, the branches also.

<sup>17</sup> And if certain of the branches were broken off, and thou, being a wild olive tree, wast grafted in among them, and a fellow-partaker of the root and of the fatness of the olive tree didst become —

<sup>18</sup> do not boast against the branches; and if thou dost boast, thou dost not bear the root, but the root thee!

<sup>19</sup> Thou wilt say, then, 'The branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in;' right!

<sup>20</sup> by unbelief they were broken off, and thou hast stood by faith; be not high-minded, but be fearing;

<sup>21</sup> for if God the natural branches did not spare — lest perhaps He also shall not spare thee.

<sup>22</sup> Lo, then, goodness and severity of God — upon those indeed who fell, severity; and upon thee, goodness, if thou mayest remain in the goodness, otherwise, thou also shalt be cut off.

<sup>23</sup> And those also, if they may not remain in unbelief, shall be grafted in, for God is able again to graff them in;

<sup>24</sup> for if thou, out of the olive tree, wild by nature, wast cut out, and, contrary to nature, wast grafted into a good olive tree, how much rather shall they, who [are] according to nature, be grafted into their own olive tree?

<sup>25</sup> For I do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, of this secret — that ye may not be wise in your own conceits — that hardness in part to Israel hath happened till the fulness of the nations may come in;

<sup>26</sup> and so all Israel shall be saved, according as it hath been written, 'There shall come forth out of Sion he who is delivering, and he shall turn away impiety from Jacob,

<sup>27</sup> and this to them [is] the covenant from Me, when I may take away their sins.'

<sup>28</sup> As regards, indeed, the good tidings, [they are] enemies on your account; and as regards the choice — beloved on account of the fathers;

<sup>29</sup> for unrepented of [are] the gifts and the calling of God;
<sup>30</sup> for as ye also once did not believe in God, and now did find kindness by the unbelief of these:
<sup>31</sup> so also these now did not believe, that in your kindness they also may find kindness;
<sup>32</sup> for God did shut up together the whole to unbelief, that to the whole He might do kindness.
<sup>33</sup> O depth of riches, and wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable His judgments, and untraceable His ways!
<sup>34</sup> for who did know the mind of the Lord? or who did become His counsellor?
<sup>35</sup> or who did first give to Him, and it shall be given back to him again?
<sup>36</sup> because of Him, and through Him, and to Him [are] the all things; to Him [is] the glory — to the ages. Amen.

12

<sup>1</sup> I call upon you, therefore, brethren, through the compassions of God, to present your bodies a sacrifice — living, sanctified, acceptable to God — your intelligent service;
<sup>2</sup> and be not conformed to this age, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, for your proving what [is] the will of God — the good, and acceptable, and perfect.
<sup>3</sup> For I say, through the grace that was given to me, to every one who is among you, not to think above what it behoveth to think; but to think so as to think wisely, as to each God did deal a measure of faith,
<sup>4</sup> for as in one body we have many members, and all the members have not the same office,
<sup>5</sup> so we, the many, one body are in Christ, and members each one of one another.
<sup>6</sup> And having gifts, different according to the grace that was given to us; whether prophecy — 'According to the proportion of faith!'
<sup>7</sup> or ministration — 'In the ministration!' or he who is teaching — 'In the teaching!'
<sup>8</sup> or he who is exhorting — 'In the exhortation!' he who is sharing — 'In simplicity!' he who is leading — 'In diligence?' he who is doing kindness — 'In cheerfulness.'
<sup>9</sup> The love unfeigned: abhorring the evil; cleaving to the good;
<sup>10</sup> in the love of brethren, to one another kindly affectioned: in the honour going before one another;
<sup>12</sup> in the hope rejoicing; in the tribulation enduring; in the prayer persevering;
<sup>13</sup> to the necessities of the saints communicating; the hospitality pursuing.
<sup>14</sup> Bless those persecuting you; bless, and curse not;
<sup>15</sup> to rejoice with the rejoicing, and to weep with the weeping,
<sup>16</sup> of the same mind one toward another, not minding the high things, but with the lowly going along; become not wise in your own conceit;
<sup>17</sup> giving back to no one evil for evil; providing right things before all men.
<sup>18</sup> If possible — so far as in you — with all men being in peace;
<sup>19</sup> not avenging yourselves, beloved, but give place to the wrath, for it hath been written, 'Vengeance [is] Mine,

<sup>20</sup> I will recompense again, saith the Lord;' if, then, thine enemy doth hunger, feed him; if he doth thirst, give him drink; for this doing, coals of fire thou shalt heap upon his head;

<sup>21</sup> Be not overcome by the evil, but overcome, in the good, the evil.

13

<sup>1</sup> Let every soul to the higher authorities be subject, for there is no authority except from God, and the authorities existing are appointed by God,

<sup>2</sup> so that he who is setting himself against the authority, against God's ordinance hath resisted; and those resisting, to themselves shall receive judgment.

<sup>3</sup> For those ruling are not a terror to the good works, but to the evil; and dost thou wish not to be afraid of the authority? that which is good be doing, and thou shalt have praise from it,

<sup>4</sup> for of God it is a ministrant to thee for good; and if that which is evil thou mayest do, be fearing, for not in vain doth it bear the sword; for of God it is a ministrant, an avenger for wrath to him who is doing that which is evil.

<sup>5</sup> Wherefore it is necessary to be subject, not only because of the wrath, but also because of the conscience,

<sup>6</sup> for because of this also pay ye tribute; for servants of God they are, on this very thing attending continually;

<sup>7</sup> render, therefore, to all [their] dues; to whom tribute, the tribute; to whom custom, the custom; to whom fear, the fear; to whom honour, the honour.

<sup>8</sup> To no one owe anything, except to love one another; for he who is loving the other — law he hath fulfilled,

<sup>9</sup> for, 'Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false testimony, Thou shalt not covet;' and if there is any other command, in this word it is summed up, in this: 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself;'

<sup>10</sup> the love to the neighbour doth work no ill; the love, therefore, [is] the fulness of law.

<sup>11</sup> And this, knowing the time, that for us, the hour already [is] to be aroused out of sleep, for now nearer [is] our salvation than when we did believe;

<sup>12</sup> the night did advance, and the day came nigh; let us lay aside, therefore, the works of the darkness, and let us put on the armour of the light;

<sup>13</sup> as in day-time, let us walk becomingly; not in revellings and drunkennesses, not in chamberings and lasciviousnesses, not in strife and emulation;

<sup>14</sup> but put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and for the flesh take no forethought — for desires.

14

<sup>2</sup> one doth believe that he may eat all things — and he who is weak doth eat herbs;

<sup>3</sup> let not him who is eating despise him who is not eating: and let not him who is not eating judge him who is eating, for God did receive him.

<sup>4</sup> Thou — who art thou that art judging another's domestic? to his own master he doth stand or fall; and he shall be made to stand, for God is able to make him stand.

<sup>5</sup> One doth judge one day above another, and another doth judge every day [alike]; let each in his own mind be fully assured.

<sup>6</sup> He who is regarding the day, to the Lord he doth regard [it], and he who is not regarding the day, to the Lord he doth not regard [it]. He who is eating, to the Lord he doth eat, for he doth give thanks to God; and he who is not eating, to the Lord he doth not eat, and doth give thanks to God.

<sup>7</sup> For none of us to himself doth live, and none to himself doth die;

<sup>8</sup> for both, if we may live, to the Lord we live; if also we may die, to the Lord we die; both then if we may live, also if we may die, we are the Lord's;

<sup>9</sup> for because of this Christ both died and rose again, and lived again, that both of dead and of living he may be Lord.

<sup>10</sup> And thou, why dost thou judge thy brother? or again, thou, why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand at the tribunal of the Christ;

<sup>11</sup> for it hath been written, 'I live! saith the Lord — to Me bow shall every knee, and every tongue shall confess to God;'

<sup>12</sup> so, then, each of us concerning himself shall give reckoning to God;

<sup>13</sup> no longer, therefore, may we judge one another; but this judge ye rather, not to put a stumbling-stone before the brother, or an offence.

<sup>14</sup> I have known, and am persuaded, in the Lord Jesus, that nothing [is] unclean of itself, except to him who is reckoning anything to be unclean — to that one [it is] unclean;

<sup>15</sup> and if through victuals thy brother is grieved, no more dost thou walk according to love; do not with thy victuals destroy that one for whom Christ died.

<sup>17</sup> for the reign of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Spirit;

<sup>18</sup> for he who in these things is serving the Christ, [is] acceptable to God and approved of men.

<sup>19</sup> So, then, the things of peace may we pursue, and the things of building up one another;

<sup>20</sup> for the sake of victuals cast not down the work of God; all things, indeed, [are] pure, but evil [is] to the man who is eating through stumbling.

<sup>21</sup> Right [it is] not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to [do anything] in which thy brother doth stumble, or is made to fall, or is weak.

<sup>22</sup> Thou hast faith! to thyself have [it] before God; happy is he who is not judging himself in what he doth approve,

<sup>23</sup> and he who is making a difference, if he may eat, hath been condemned, because [it is] not of faith; and all that [is] not of faith is sin.

15

<sup>1</sup> And we ought — we who are strong — to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves;

<sup>3</sup> for even the Christ did not please himself, but, according as it hath been written, 'The reproaches of those reproaching Thee fell upon me;'

<sup>4</sup> for, as many things as were written before, for our instruction were written before, that through the endurance, and the exhortation of the Writings, we might have the hope.

<sup>5</sup> And may the God of the endurance, and of the exhortation, give to you to have the same mind toward one another, according to Christ Jesus;

<sup>6</sup> that with one accord — with one mouth — ye may glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ;

<sup>7</sup> wherefore receive ye one another, according as also the Christ did receive us, to the glory of God.

<sup>8</sup> And I say Jesus Christ to have become a ministrant of circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises to the fathers,

<sup>9</sup> and the nations for kindness to glorify God, according as it hath been written, 'Because of this I will confess to Thee among nations, and to Thy name I will sing praise,'

<sup>12</sup> and again, Isaiah saith, 'There shall be the root of Jesse, and he who is rising to rule nations — upon him shall nations hope;'

<sup>13</sup> and the God of the hope shall fill you with all joy and peace in the believing, for your abounding in the hope in power of the Holy Spirit.

<sup>14</sup> And I am persuaded, my brethren — I myself also — concerning you, that ye yourselves also are full of goodness, having been filled with all knowledge, able also one another to admonish;

<sup>15</sup> and the more boldly I did write to you, brethren, in part, as putting you in mind, because of the grace that is given to me by God,

<sup>16</sup> for my being a servant of Jesus Christ to the nations, acting as priest in the good news of God, that the offering up of the nations may become acceptable, sanctified by the Holy Spirit.

<sup>17</sup> I have, then, a boasting in Christ Jesus, in the things pertaining to God,

<sup>18</sup> for I will not dare to speak anything of the things that Christ did not work through me, to obedience of nations, by word and deed,

<sup>19</sup> in power of signs and wonders, in power of the Spirit of God; so that I, from Jerusalem, and in a circle as far as Illyricum, have fully preached the good news of the Christ;

<sup>20</sup> and so counting it honour to proclaim good news, not where Christ was named — that upon another's foundation I might not build —

<sup>21</sup> but according as it hath been written, 'To whom it was not told concerning him, they shall see; and they who have not heard, shall understand.'

<sup>22</sup> Wherefore, also, I was hindered many times from coming unto you,

<sup>23</sup> and now, no longer having place in these parts, and having a longing to come unto you for many years,

<sup>24</sup> when I may go on to Spain I will come unto you, for I hope in going through, to see you, and by you to be set forward thither, if of you first, in part, I shall be filled.

<sup>25</sup> And, now, I go on to Jerusalem, ministering to the saints;

<sup>26</sup> for it pleased Macedonia and Achaia well to make a certain contribution for the poor of the saints who [are] in Jerusalem;

<sup>27</sup> for it pleased well, and their debtors they are, for if in their spiritual things the nations did participate, they ought also, in the fleshly things, to minister to them.

<sup>28</sup> This, then, having finished, and having sealed to them this fruit, I will return through you, to Spain;

<sup>29</sup> and I have known that coming unto you — in the fulness of the blessing of the good news of Christ I shall come.

<sup>30</sup> And I call upon you, brethren, through our Lord Jesus Christ, and through the love of the Spirit, to strive together with me in the prayers for me unto God,

<sup>31</sup> that I may be delivered from those not believing in Judea, and that my ministration, that [is] for Jerusalem, may become acceptable to the saints;

<sup>32</sup> that in joy I may come unto you, through the will of God, and may be refreshed with you,

<sup>33</sup> and the God of the peace [be] with you all. Amen.

16

<sup>1</sup> And I commend you to Phebe our sister — being a ministrant of the assembly that [is] in Cenchrea —

<sup>2</sup> that ye may receive her in the Lord, as doth become saints, and may assist her in whatever matter she may have need of you — for she also became a leader of many, and of myself.

<sup>4</sup> who for my life their own neck did lay down, to whom not only I give thanks, but also all the assemblies of the nations —

<sup>5</sup> and the assembly at their house; salute Epaenetus, my beloved, who is first-fruit of Achaia to Christ.

<sup>6</sup> Salute Mary, who did labour much for us;

<sup>7</sup> salute Andronicus and Junias, my kindred, and my fellow-captives, who are of note among the apostles, who also have been in Christ before me.

<sup>8</sup> Salute Amplias, my beloved in the Lord;

<sup>10</sup> salute Apelles, the approved in Christ; salute those of the [household] of Aristobulus;

<sup>11</sup> salute Herodion, my kinsman; salute those of the [household] of Narcissus, who are in the Lord;

<sup>16</sup> salute one another in a holy kiss; the assemblies of Christ do salute you.

<sup>17</sup> And I call upon you, brethren, to mark those who the divisions and the stumbling-blocks, contrary to the teaching that ye did learn, are causing, and turn ye away from them;

<sup>18</sup> for such our Lord Jesus Christ do not serve, but their own belly; and through the good word and fair speech they deceive the hearts of the harmless,

<sup>19</sup> for your obedience did reach to all; I rejoice, therefore, as regards you, and I wish you to be wise, indeed, as to the good, and harmless as to the evil;

<sup>20</sup> and the God of the peace shall bruise the Adversary under your feet quickly; the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [be] with you. Amen!

<sup>21</sup> Salute you do Timotheus, my fellow-workman, and Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater, my kindred;

<sup>22</sup> I Tertius salute you (who wrote the letter) in the Lord;

<sup>23</sup> salute you doth Gaius, my host, and of the whole assembly; salute you doth Erastus, the steward of the city, and Quartus the brother,

<sup>24</sup> the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [be] with you all. Amen.

<sup>25</sup> And to Him who is able to establish you, according to my good news, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the secret, in the times of the ages having been kept silent,

<sup>26</sup> and now having been made manifest, also, through prophetic writings, according to a command of the age-during God, having been made known to all the nations for obedience of faith —

<sup>27</sup> to the only wise God, through Jesus Christ, to him [be] glory to the ages. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS

<sup>1</sup> Paul, a called apostle of Jesus Christ, through the will of God, and Sosthenes the brother,

<sup>2</sup> to the assembly of God that is in Corinth, to those sanctified in Christ Jesus, called saints, with all those calling upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place — both theirs and ours:

<sup>3</sup> Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ!

<sup>4</sup> I give thanks to my God always concerning you for the grace of God that was given to you in Christ Jesus,

<sup>5</sup> that in every thing ye were enriched in him, in all discourse and all knowledge,

<sup>6</sup> according as the testimony of the Christ was confirmed in you,

<sup>7</sup> so that ye are not behind in any gift, waiting for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ,

<sup>8</sup> who also shall confirm you unto the end — unblamable in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ;

<sup>9</sup> faithful [is] God, through whom ye were called to the fellowship of His Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

<sup>10</sup> And I call upon you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that the same thing ye may all say, and there may not be divisions among you, and ye may be perfected in the same mind, and in the same judgment,

<sup>11</sup> for it was signified to me concerning you, my brethren, by those of Chloe, that contentions are among you;

<sup>12</sup> and I say this, that each one of you saith, 'I, indeed, am of Paul' — 'and I of Apollos,' — 'and I of Cephas,' — 'and I of Christ.'

<sup>13</sup> Hath the Christ been divided? was Paul crucified for you? or to the name of Paul were ye baptized;

<sup>14</sup> I give thanks to God that no one of you did I baptize, except Crispus and Gaius —

<sup>15</sup> that no one may say that to my own name I did baptize;

<sup>16</sup> and I did baptize also Stephanas' household — further, I have not known if I did baptize any other.

<sup>17</sup> For Christ did not send me to baptize, but — to proclaim good news; not in wisdom of discourse, that the cross of the Christ may not be made of none effect;

<sup>18</sup> for the word of the cross to those indeed perishing is foolishness, and to us — those being saved — it is the power of God,

<sup>19</sup> for it hath been written, 'I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and the intelligence of the intelligent I will bring to nought;'

<sup>20</sup> where [is] the wise? where the scribe? where a disputer of this age? did not God make foolish the wisdom of this world?

<sup>21</sup> for, seeing in the wisdom of God the world through the wisdom knew not God, it did please God through the foolishness of the preaching to save those believing.

<sup>22</sup> Since also Jews ask a sign, and Greeks seek wisdom,

<sup>23</sup> also we — we preach Christ crucified, to Jews, indeed, a stumbling-block, and to Greeks foolishness,

<sup>24</sup> and to those called — both Jews and Greeks — Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God,
<sup>25</sup> because the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men;
<sup>26</sup> for see your calling, brethren, that not many [are] wise according to the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble;
<sup>27</sup> but the foolish things of the world did God choose, that the wise He may put to shame; and the weak things of the world did God choose that He may put to shame the strong;
<sup>28</sup> and the base things of the world, and the things despised did God choose, and the things that are not, that the things that are He may make useless —
<sup>29</sup> that no flesh may glory before Him;
<sup>30</sup> and of Him ye — ye are in Christ Jesus, who became to us from God wisdom, righteousness also, and sanctification, and redemption,
<sup>31</sup> that, according as it hath been written, 'He who is glorying — in the Lord let him glory.'

2

<sup>1</sup> And I, having come unto you, brethren, came — not in superiority of discourse or wisdom — declaring to you the testimony of God,
<sup>2</sup> for I decided not to know any thing among you, except Jesus Christ, and him crucified;
<sup>3</sup> and I, in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling, was with you;
<sup>4</sup> and my word and my preaching was not in persuasive words of human wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power —
<sup>5</sup> that your faith may not be in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.
<sup>6</sup> And wisdom we speak among the perfect, and wisdom not of this age, nor of the rulers of this age — of those becoming useless,
<sup>7</sup> but we speak the hidden wisdom of God in a secret, that God foreordained before the ages to our glory,
<sup>8</sup> which no one of the rulers of this age did know, for if they had known, the Lord of the glory they would not have crucified;
<sup>9</sup> but, according as it hath been written, 'What eye did not see, and ear did not hear, and upon the heart of man came not up, what God did prepare for those loving Him — '
<sup>10</sup> but to us did God reveal [them] through His Spirit, for the Spirit all things doth search, even the depths of God,
<sup>11</sup> for who of men hath known the things of the man, except the spirit of the man that [is] in him? so also the things of God no one hath known, except the Spirit of God.
<sup>12</sup> And we the spirit of the world did not receive, but the Spirit that [is] of God, that we may know the things conferred by God on us,
<sup>13</sup> which things also we speak, not in words taught by human wisdom, but in those taught by the Holy Spirit, with spiritual things spiritual things comparing,
<sup>14</sup> and the natural man doth not receive the things of the Spirit of God, for to him they are foolishness, and he is not able to know [them], because spiritually they are discerned;
<sup>15</sup> and he who is spiritual, doth discern indeed all things, and he himself is by no one discerned;
<sup>16</sup> for who did know the mind of the Lord that he shall instruct Him? and we — we have the mind of Christ.

3

<sup>1</sup> And I, brethren, was not able to speak to you as to spiritual, but as to fleshly — as to babes in Christ;

<sup>2</sup> with milk I fed you, and not with meat, for ye were not yet able, but not even yet are ye now able,

<sup>3</sup> for yet ye are fleshly, for where [there is] among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not fleshly, and in the manner of men do walk?

<sup>4</sup> for when one may say, 'I, indeed, am of Paul;' and another, 'I — of Apollos;' are ye not fleshly?

<sup>5</sup> Who, then, is Paul, and who Apollos, but ministrants through whom ye did believe, and to each as the Lord gave?

<sup>6</sup> I planted, Apollos watered, but God was giving growth;

<sup>7</sup> so that neither is he who is planting anything, nor he who is watering, but He who is giving growth — God;

<sup>8</sup> and he who is planting and he who is watering are one, and each his own reward shall receive, according to his own labour,

<sup>9</sup> for of God we are fellow-workmen; God's tillage, God's building ye are.

<sup>10</sup> According to the grace of God that was given to me, as a wise master-builder, a foundation I have laid, and another doth build on [it],

<sup>11</sup> for other foundation no one is able to lay except that which is laid, which is Jesus the Christ;

<sup>12</sup> and if any one doth build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw —

<sup>13</sup> of each the work shall become manifest, for the day shall declare [it], because in fire it is revealed, and the work of each, what kind it is, the fire shall prove;

<sup>14</sup> if of any one the work doth remain that he built on [it], a wage he shall receive;

<sup>15</sup> if of any the work is burned up, he shall suffer loss; and himself shall be saved, but so as through fire.

<sup>16</sup> have ye not known that ye are a sanctuary of God, and the Spirit of God doth dwell in you?

<sup>17</sup> if any one the sanctuary of God doth waste, him shall God waste; for the sanctuary of God is holy, the which ye are.

<sup>18</sup> Let no one deceive himself; if any one doth seem to be wise among you in this age — let him become a fool, that he may become wise,

<sup>19</sup> for the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God, for it hath been written, 'Who is taking the wise in their craftiness;'

<sup>20</sup> and again, 'The Lord doth know the reasonings of the wise, that they are vain.'

<sup>21</sup> So then, let no one glory in men, for all things are yours,

<sup>22</sup> whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things about to be — all are yours,

<sup>1</sup> Let a man so reckon us as officers of Christ, and stewards of the secrets of God,

<sup>2</sup> and as to the rest, it is required in the stewards that one may be found faithful,

<sup>3</sup> and to me it is for a very little thing that by you I may be judged, or by man's day, but not even myself do I judge,

<sup>4</sup> for of nothing to myself have I been conscious, but not in this have I been declared right — and he who is discerning me is the Lord:

<sup>5</sup> so, then, nothing before the time judge ye, till the Lord may come, who will both bring to light the hidden things of the darkness, and will manifest the counsels of the hearts, and then the praise shall come to each from God.

<sup>6</sup> And these things, brethren, I did transfer to myself and to Apollos because of you, that in us ye may learn not to think above that which hath been written, that ye may not be puffed up one for one against the other,

<sup>7</sup> for who doth make thee to differ? and what hast thou, that thou didst not receive? and if thou didst also receive, why dost thou glory as not having received?

<sup>8</sup> Already ye are having been filled, already ye were rich, apart from us ye did reign, and I would also ye did reign, that we also with you may reign together,

<sup>9</sup> for I think that God did set forth us the apostles last — as appointed to death, because a spectacle we became to the world, and messengers, and men;

<sup>10</sup> we [are] fools because of Christ, and ye wise in Christ; we [are] ailing, and ye strong; ye glorious, and we dishonoured;

<sup>11</sup> unto the present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and wander about,

<sup>12</sup> and labour, working with [our] own hands; being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer;

<sup>13</sup> being spoken evil of, we entreat; as filth of the world we did become — of all things an offscouring — till now.

<sup>14</sup> Not [as] putting you to shame do I write these things, but as my beloved children I do admonish,

<sup>15</sup> for if a myriad of child-conductors ye may have in Christ, yet not many fathers; for in Christ Jesus, through the good news, I — I did beget you;

<sup>16</sup> I call upon you, therefore, become ye followers of me;

<sup>17</sup> because of this I sent to you Timotheus, who is my child, beloved and faithful in the Lord, who shall remind you of my ways in Christ, according as everywhere in every assembly I teach.

<sup>18</sup> And as if I were not coming unto you certain were puffed up;

<sup>19</sup> but I will come quickly unto you, if the Lord may will, and I will know not the word of those puffed up, but the power;

<sup>20</sup> for not in word is the reign of God, but in power?

<sup>21</sup> what do ye wish? with a rod shall I come unto you, or in love, with a spirit also of meekness?

5

<sup>1</sup> Whoredom is actually heard of among you, and such whoredom as is not even named among the nations — as that one hath the wife of the father! —

<sup>2</sup> and ye are having been puffed up, and did not rather mourn, that he may be removed out of the midst of you who did this work,

<sup>3</sup> for I indeed, as being absent as to the body, and present as to the spirit, have already judged, as being present, him who so wrought this thing:

<sup>4</sup> in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ — ye being gathered together, also my spirit — with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,

<sup>5</sup> to deliver up such a one to the Adversary for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

<sup>6</sup> Not good [is] your glorying; have ye not known that a little leaven the whole lump doth leaven?

<sup>7</sup> cleanse out, therefore, the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, according as ye are unleavened, for also our passover for us was sacrificed — Christ,

<sup>8</sup> so that we may keep the feast, not with old leaven, nor with the leaven of evil and wickedness, but with unleavened food of sincerity and truth.

<sup>9</sup> I did write to you in the epistle, not to keep company with whoremongers —

<sup>10</sup> and not certainly with the whoremongers of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or idolaters, seeing ye ought then to go forth out of the world —

<sup>11</sup> and now, I did write to you not to keep company with [him], if any one, being named a brother, may be a whoremonger, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner — with such a one not even to eat together;

<sup>12</sup> for what have I also those without to judge? those within do ye not judge?

<sup>13</sup> and those without God doth judge; and put ye away the evil from among yourselves.

6

<sup>1</sup> Dare any one of you, having a matter with the other, go to be judged before the unrighteous, and not before the saints?

<sup>2</sup> have ye not known that the saints shall judge the world? and if by you the world is judged, are ye unworthy of the smaller judgments?

<sup>3</sup> have ye not known that we shall judge messengers? why not then the things of life?

<sup>4</sup> of the things of life, indeed, then, if ye may have judgment, those despised in the assembly — these cause ye to sit;

<sup>5</sup> unto your shame I speak: so there is not among you one wise man, not even one, who shall be able to discern in the midst of his brethren!

<sup>7</sup> Already, indeed, then, there is altogether a fault among you, that ye have judgments with one another; wherefore do ye not rather suffer injustice? wherefore be ye not rather defrauded?

<sup>9</sup> have ye not known that the unrighteous the reign of God shall not inherit? be not led astray; neither whoremongers, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor sodomites,

<sup>10</sup> nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, the reign of God shall inherit.

<sup>11</sup> And certain of you were these! but ye were washed, but ye were sanctified, but ye were declared righteous, in the name of the Lord Jesus, and in the Spirit of our God.

<sup>12</sup> All things are lawful to me, but all things are not profitable; all things are lawful to me, but I — I will not be under authority by any;

<sup>13</sup> the meats [are] for the belly, and the belly for the meats. And God both this and these shall make useless; and the body [is] not for whoredom, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body;

<sup>14</sup> and God both the Lord did raise, and us will raise up through His power.

<sup>15</sup> Have ye not known that your bodies are members of Christ? having taken, then, the members of the Christ, shall I make [them] members of an harlot? let it be not!

<sup>16</sup> have ye not known that he who is joined to the harlot is one body? 'for they shall be — saith He — the two for one flesh.'

<sup>18</sup> flee the whoredom; every sin — whatever a man may commit — is without the body, and he who is committing whoredom, against his own body doth sin.

<sup>19</sup> Have ye not known that your body is a sanctuary of the Holy Spirit in you, which ye have from God? and ye are not your own,

<sup>20</sup> for ye were bought with a price; glorify, then, God in your body and in your spirit, which are God's.

7

<sup>1</sup> And concerning the things of which ye wrote to me: good [it is] for a man not to touch a woman,

<sup>2</sup> and because of the whoredom let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her proper husband;

<sup>3</sup> to the wife let the husband the due benevolence render, and in like manner also the wife to the husband;

<sup>4</sup> the wife over her own body hath not authority, but the husband; and, in like manner also, the husband over his own body hath not authority, but the wife.

<sup>5</sup> Defraud not one another, except by consent for a time, that ye may be free for fasting and prayer, and again may come together, that the Adversary may not tempt you because of your incontinence;

<sup>6</sup> and this I say by way of concurrence — not of command,

<sup>7</sup> for I wish all men to be even as I myself [am]; but each his own gift hath of God, one indeed thus, and one thus.

<sup>8</sup> And I say to the unmarried and to the widows: it is good for them if they may remain even as I [am];

<sup>9</sup> and if they have not continence — let them marry, for it is better to marry than to burn;

<sup>10</sup> and to the married I announce — not I, but the Lord — let not a wife separate from a husband:

<sup>11</sup> but and if she may separate, let her remain unmarried, or to the husband let her be reconciled, and let not a husband send away a wife.

<sup>12</sup> And to the rest I speak — not the Lord — if any brother hath a wife unbelieving, and she is pleased to dwell with him, let him not send her away;

<sup>13</sup> and a woman who hath a husband unbelieving, and he is pleased to dwell with her, let her not send him away;

<sup>14</sup> for the unbelieving husband hath been sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife hath been sanctified in the husband; otherwise your children are unclean, but now they are holy.

<sup>15</sup> And, if the unbelieving doth separate himself — let him separate himself: the brother or the sister is not under servitude in such [cases], and in peace hath God called us;

<sup>16</sup> for what, hast thou known, O wife, whether the husband thou shalt save? or what, hast thou known, O husband, whether the wife thou shalt save?

<sup>17</sup> if not, as God did distribute to each, as the Lord hath called each — so let him walk; and thus in all the assemblies do I direct:

<sup>18</sup> being circumcised — was any one called? let him not become uncircumcised; in uncircumcision was any one called? let him not be circumcised;

<sup>19</sup> the circumcision is nothing, and the uncircumcision is nothing — but a keeping of the commands of God.

<sup>20</sup> Each in the calling in which he was called — in this let him remain;

<sup>21</sup> a servant — wast thou called? be not anxious; but if also thou art able to become free — use [it] rather;

<sup>22</sup> for he who [is] in the Lord — having been called a servant — is the Lord's freedman: in like manner also he the freeman, having been called, is servant of Christ:

<sup>24</sup> each, in that in which he was called, brethren, in this let him remain with God.

<sup>25</sup> And concerning the virgins, a command of the Lord I have not; and I give judgment as having obtained kindness from the Lord to be faithful:

<sup>26</sup> I suppose, therefore, this to be good because of the present necessity, that [it is] good for a man that the matter be thus: —

<sup>28</sup> But and if thou mayest marry, thou didst not sin; and if the virgin may marry, she did not sin; and such shall have tribulation in the flesh: and I spare you.

<sup>29</sup> And this I say, brethren, the time henceforth is having been shortened — that both those having wives may be as not having;

<sup>30</sup> and those weeping, as not weeping; and those rejoicing, as not rejoicing; and those buying, as not possessing;

<sup>31</sup> and those using this world, as not using [it] up; for passing away is the fashion of this world.

<sup>32</sup> And I wish you to be without anxiety; the unmarried is anxious for the things of the Lord, how he shall please the Lord;

<sup>33</sup> and the married is anxious for the things of the world, how he shall please the wife.

<sup>34</sup> The wife and the virgin have been distinguished: the unmarried is anxious for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit, and the married is anxious for the things of the world, how she shall please the husband.

<sup>35</sup> And this for your own profit I say: not that I may cast a noose upon you, but for the seemliness and devotedness to the Lord, undistractedly, <sup>36</sup> and if any one doth think [it] to be unseemly to his virgin, if she may be beyond the bloom of age, and it ought so to be, what he willeth let him do; he doth not sin — let him marry.

<sup>37</sup> And he who hath stood stedfast in the heart — not having necessity — and hath authority over his own will, and this he hath determined in his heart — to keep his own virgin — doth well;

<sup>38</sup> so that both he who is giving in marriage doth well, and he who is not giving in marriage doth better.

<sup>39</sup> A wife hath been bound by law as long time as her husband may live, and if her husband may sleep, she is free to be married to whom she will — only in the Lord;

<sup>40</sup> and she is happier if she may so remain — according to my judgment; and I think I also have the Spirit of God.

8

<sup>1</sup> And concerning the things sacrificed to idols, we have known that we all have knowledge: knowledge puffeth up, but love buildeth up;

<sup>2</sup> and if any one doth think to know anything, he hath not yet known anything according as it behoveth [him] to know;

<sup>3</sup> and if any one doth love God, this one hath been known by Him.

<sup>4</sup> Concerning the eating then of the things sacrificed to idols, we have known that an idol [is] nothing in the world, and that there is no other God except one;

<sup>5</sup> for even if there are those called gods, whether in heaven, whether upon earth — as there are gods many and lords many —

<sup>6</sup> yet to us [is] one God, the Father, of whom [are] the all things, and we to Him; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom [are] the all things, and we through Him;

<sup>7</sup> but not in all men [is] the knowledge, and certain with conscience of the idol, till now, as a thing sacrificed to an idol do eat [it], and their conscience, being weak, is defiled.

<sup>8</sup> But victuals do not commend us to God, for neither if we may eat are we in advance; nor if we may not eat, are we behind;

<sup>9</sup> but see, lest this privilege of yours may become a stumbling-block to the infirm,

<sup>10</sup> for if any one may see thee that hast knowledge in an idol's temple reclining at meat — shall not his conscience — he being infirm — be emboldened to eat the things sacrificed to idols,

<sup>11</sup> and the brother who is infirm shall perish by thy knowledge, because of whom Christ died?

<sup>12</sup> and thus sinning in regard to the brethren, and smiting their weak conscience — in regard to Christ ye sin;

<sup>13</sup> wherefore, if victuals cause my brother to stumble, I may eat no flesh — to the age — that my brother I may not cause to stumble.

9

<sup>1</sup> Am not I an apostle? am not I free? Jesus Christ our Lord have I not seen? my work are not ye in the Lord?

<sup>2</sup> if to others I am not an apostle — yet doubtless to you I am; for the seal of my apostleship are ye in the Lord.

<sup>3</sup> My defence to those who examine me in this;

<sup>4</sup> have we not authority to eat and to drink?

<sup>5</sup> have we not authority a sister — a wife — to lead about, as also the other apostles, and the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

<sup>6</sup> or only I and Barnabas, have we not authority — not to work?

<sup>7</sup> who doth serve as a soldier at his own charges at any time? who doth plant a vineyard, and of its fruit doth not eat? or who doth feed a flock, and of the milk of the flock doth not eat?

<sup>8</sup> According to man do I speak these things? or doth not also the law say these things?

<sup>9</sup> for in the law of Moses it hath been written, 'thou shalt not muzzle an ox treading out corn;' for the oxen doth God care?

<sup>10</sup> or because of us by all means doth He say [it]? yes, because of us it was written, because in hope ought the plower to plow, and he who is treading [ought] of his hope to partake in hope.

<sup>11</sup> If we to you the spiritual things did sow — great [is it] if we your fleshly things do reap?

<sup>12</sup> if others do partake of the authority over you — not we more? but we did not use this authority, but all things we bear, that we may give no hindrance to the good news of the Christ.

<sup>13</sup> Have ye not known that those working about the things of the temple — of the temple do eat, and those waiting at the altar — with the altar are partakers?

<sup>14</sup> so also did the Lord direct to those proclaiming the good news: of the good news to live.

<sup>15</sup> And I have used none of these things; neither did I write these things that it may be so done in my case, for [it is] good for me rather to die, than that any one may make my glorying void;

<sup>16</sup> for if I may proclaim good news, it is no glorying for me, for necessity is laid upon me, and woe is to me if I may not proclaim good news;

<sup>17</sup> for if willing I do this, I have a reward; and if unwillingly — with a stewardship I have been entrusted!

<sup>18</sup> What, then, is my reward? — that proclaiming good news, without charge I shall make the good news of the Christ, not to abuse my authority in the good news;

<sup>19</sup> for being free from all men, to all men I made myself servant, that the more I might gain;

<sup>20</sup> and I became to the Jews as a Jew, that Jews I might gain; to those under law as under law, that those under law I might gain;

<sup>21</sup> to those without law, as without law — (not being without law to God, but within law to Christ) — that I might gain those without law;

<sup>22</sup> I became to the infirm as infirm, that the infirm I might gain; to all men I have become all things, that by all means I may save some.

<sup>23</sup> And this I do because of the good news, that a fellow-partaker of it I may become;

<sup>24</sup> have ye not known that those running in a race — all indeed run, but one doth receive the prize? so run ye, that ye may obtain;

<sup>25</sup> and every one who is striving, is in all things temperate; these, indeed, then, that a corruptible crown they may receive, but we an incorruptible;

<sup>26</sup> I, therefore, thus run, not as uncertainly, thus I fight, as not beating air;

<sup>27</sup> but I chastise my body, and bring [it] into servitude, lest by any means, having preached to others — I myself may become disapproved.

10

<sup>1</sup> And I do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea,

<sup>2</sup> and all to Moses were baptized in the cloud, and in the sea;

<sup>3</sup> and all the same spiritual food did eat,

<sup>4</sup> and all the same spiritual drink did drink, for they were drinking of a spiritual rock following them, and the rock was the Christ;

<sup>5</sup> but in the most of them God was not well pleased, for they were strewn in the wilderness,

<sup>6</sup> and those things became types of us, for our not passionately desiring evil things, as also these did desire.

<sup>7</sup> Neither become ye idolaters, as certain of them, as it hath been written, 'The people sat down to eat and to drink, and stood up to play;'

<sup>8</sup> neither may we commit whoredom, as certain of them did commit whoredom, and there fell in one day twenty-three thousand;

<sup>9</sup> neither may we tempt the Christ, as also certain of them did tempt, and by the serpents did perish;

<sup>10</sup> neither murmur ye, as also some of them did murmur, and did perish by the destroyer.

<sup>11</sup> And all these things as types did happen to those persons, and they were written for our admonition, to whom the end of the ages did come,

<sup>12</sup> so that he who is thinking to stand – let him observe, lest he fall.

<sup>13</sup> No temptation hath taken you – except human; and God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above what ye are able, but He will make, with the temptation, also the outlet, for your being able to bear [it].

<sup>14</sup> Wherefore, my beloved, flee from the idolatry;

<sup>15</sup> as to wise men I speak – judge ye what I say:

<sup>16</sup> The cup of the blessing that we bless – is it not the fellowship of the blood of the Christ? the bread that we break – is it not the fellowship of the body of the Christ?

<sup>17</sup> because one bread, one body, are we the many – for we all of the one bread do partake.

<sup>18</sup> See Israel according to the flesh! are not those eating the sacrifices in the fellowship of the altar?

<sup>19</sup> what then do I say? that an idol is anything? or that a sacrifice offered to an idol is anything? –

<sup>20</sup> [no,] but that the things that the nations sacrifice – they sacrifice to demons and not to God; and I do not wish you to come into the fellowship of the demons.

<sup>21</sup> Ye are not able the cup of the Lord to drink, and the cup of demons; ye are not able of the table of the Lord to partake, and of the table of demons;

<sup>22</sup> do we arouse the Lord to jealousy? are we stronger than He?

<sup>23</sup> All things to me are lawful, but all things are not profitable; all things to me are lawful, but all things do not build up;

<sup>26</sup> for the Lord's [is] the earth, and its fulness;

<sup>27</sup> and if any one of the unbelieving do call you, and ye wish to go, all that is set before you eat, nothing inquiring, because of the conscience;

<sup>28</sup> and if any one may say to you, 'This is a thing sacrificed to an idol,' – do not eat, because of that one who shewed [it], and of the conscience, for the Lord's [is] the earth and its fulness:

<sup>29</sup> and conscience, I say, not of thyself, but of the other, for why [is it] that my liberty is judged by another's conscience?

<sup>30</sup> and if I thankfully do partake, why am I evil spoken of, for that for which I give thanks?

<sup>31</sup> Whether, then, ye eat, or drink, or do anything, do all to the glory of God;

<sup>32</sup> become offenceless, both to Jews and Greeks, and to the assembly of God;

<sup>33</sup> as I also in all things do please all, not seeking my own profit, but that of many – that they may be saved.

11

<sup>1</sup> Followers of me become ye, as I also [am] of Christ.

<sup>2</sup> And I praise you, brethren, that in all things ye remember me, and according as I did deliver to you, the deliverances ye keep,

<sup>3</sup> and I wish you to know that of every man the head is the Christ, and the head of a woman is the husband, and the head of Christ is God.

<sup>5</sup> and every woman praying or prophesying with the head uncovered, doth dishonour her own head, for it is one and the same thing with her being shaven,

<sup>6</sup> for if a woman is not covered — then let her be shorn, and if [it is] a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven — let her be covered;

<sup>7</sup> for a man, indeed, ought not to cover the head, being the image and glory of God, and a woman is the glory of a man,

<sup>8</sup> for a man is not of a woman, but a woman [is] of a man,

<sup>9</sup> for a man also was not created because of the woman, but a woman because of the man;

<sup>10</sup> because of this the woman ought to have [a token of] authority upon the head, because of the messengers;

<sup>12</sup> for as the woman [is] of the man, so also the man [is] through the woman, and the all things [are] of God.

<sup>13</sup> In your own selves judge ye; is it seemly for a woman uncovered to pray to God?

<sup>14</sup> doth not even nature itself teach you, that if a man indeed have long hair, a dishonour it is to him?

<sup>15</sup> and a woman, if she have long hair, a glory it is to her, because the hair instead of a covering hath been given to her;

<sup>16</sup> and if any one doth think to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the assemblies of God.

<sup>17</sup> And this declaring, I give no praise, because not for the better, but for the worse ye come together;

<sup>18</sup> for first, indeed, ye coming together in an assembly, I hear of divisions being among you, and partly I believe [it],

<sup>19</sup> for it behoveth sects also to be among you, that those approved may become manifest among you;

<sup>20</sup> ye, then, coming together at the same place — it is not to eat the Lord's supper;

<sup>21</sup> for each his own supper doth take before in the eating, and one is hungry, and another is drunk;

<sup>22</sup> why, have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or the assembly of God do ye despise, and shame those not having? what may I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I do not praise!

<sup>23</sup> For I — I received from the Lord that which also I did deliver to you, that the Lord Jesus in the night in which he was delivered up, took bread,

<sup>24</sup> and having given thanks, he brake, and said, 'Take ye, eat ye, this is my body, that for you is being broken; this do ye — to the remembrance of me.'

<sup>25</sup> In like manner also the cup after the supping, saying, 'This cup is the new covenant in my blood; this do ye, as often as ye may drink [it] — to the remembrance of me;'

<sup>26</sup> for as often as ye may eat this bread, and this cup may drink, the death of the Lord ye do shew forth — till he may come;

<sup>27</sup> so that whoever may eat this bread or may drink the cup of the Lord unworthily, guilty he shall be of the body and blood of the Lord:

<sup>28</sup> and let a man be proving himself, and so of the bread let him eat, and of the cup let him drink;

<sup>29</sup> for he who is eating and drinking unworthily, judgment to himself he doth eat and drink — not discerning the body of the Lord.

<sup>30</sup> Because of this, among you many [are] weak and sickly, and sleep do many;

<sup>31</sup> for if ourselves we were discerning, we would not be being judged,

<sup>32</sup> and being judged by the Lord, we are chastened, that with the world we may not be condemned;

<sup>33</sup> so then, my brethren, coming together to eat, for one another wait ye;

<sup>34</sup> and if any one is hungry, at home let him eat, that to judgment ye may not come together; and the rest, whenever I may come, I shall arrange.

12

<sup>2</sup> ye have known that ye were nations, unto the dumb idols — as ye were led — being carried away;

<sup>3</sup> wherefore, I give you to understand that no one, in the Spirit of God speaking, saith Jesus [is] anathema, and no one is able to say Jesus [is] Lord, except in the Holy Spirit.

<sup>4</sup> And there are diversities of gifts, and the same Spirit;

<sup>5</sup> and there are diversities of ministrations, and the same Lord;

<sup>6</sup> and there are diversities of workings, and it is the same God — who is working the all in all.

<sup>7</sup> And to each hath been given the manifestation of the Spirit for profit;

<sup>8</sup> for to one through the Spirit hath been given a word of wisdom, and to another a word of knowledge, according to the same Spirit;

<sup>9</sup> and to another faith in the same Spirit, and to another gifts of healings in the same Spirit;

<sup>10</sup> and to another in-workings of mighty deeds; and to another prophecy; and to another discernings of spirits; and to another [divers] kinds of tongues; and to another interpretation of tongues:

<sup>11</sup> and all these doth work the one and the same Spirit, dividing to each severally as he intendeth.

<sup>12</sup> For, even as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the one body, being many, are one body, so also [is] the Christ,

<sup>13</sup> for also in one Spirit we all to one body were baptized, whether Jews or Greeks, whether servants or freemen, and all into one Spirit were made to drink,

<sup>14</sup> for also the body is not one member, but many;

<sup>15</sup> if the foot may say, 'Because I am not a hand, I am not of the body;' it is not, because of this, not of the body;

<sup>16</sup> and if the ear may say, 'Because I am not an eye, I am not of the body;' it is not, because of this, not of the body?

<sup>17</sup> If the whole body [were] an eye, where the hearing? if the whole hearing, where the smelling?

<sup>18</sup> and now, God did set the members each one of them in the body, according as He willed, <sup>19</sup> and if all were one member, where the body?

<sup>21</sup> and an eye is not able to say to the hand, 'I have no need of thee;' nor again the head to the feet, 'I have no need of you.'

<sup>22</sup> But much more the members of the body which seem to be more infirm are necessary,

<sup>23</sup> and those that we think to be less honourable of the body, around these we put more abundant honour, and our unseemly things have seemliness more abundant,

<sup>24</sup> and our seemly things have no need; but God did temper the body together, to the lacking part having given more abundant honour,

<sup>25</sup> that there may be no division in the body, but that the members may have the same anxiety for one another,

<sup>26</sup> and whether one member doth suffer, suffer with [it] do all the members, or one member is glorified, rejoice with [it] do all the members;

<sup>27</sup> and ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular.

<sup>28</sup> And some, indeed, did God set in the assembly, first apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers, afterwards powers, afterwards gifts of healings, helpings, governings, divers kinds of tongues;

<sup>29</sup> [are] all apostles? [are] all prophets? [are] all teachers? [are] all powers?

<sup>30</sup> have all gifts of healings? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

<sup>31</sup> and desire earnestly the better gifts; and yet a far excelling way do I shew to you:

13

<sup>1</sup> If with the tongues of men and of messengers I speak, and have not love, I have become brass sounding, or a cymbal tinkling;

<sup>2</sup> and if I have prophecy, and know all the secrets, and all the knowledge, and if I have all the faith, so as to remove mountains, and have not love, I am nothing;

<sup>3</sup> and if I give away to feed others all my goods, and if I give up my body that I may be burned, and have not love, I am profited nothing.

<sup>4</sup> The love is long-suffering, it is kind, the love doth not envy, the love doth not vaunt itself, is not puffed up,

<sup>8</sup> The love doth never fail; and whether [there be] prophecies, they shall become useless; whether tongues, they shall cease; whether knowledge, it shall become useless;

<sup>9</sup> for in part we know, and in part we prophecy;

<sup>10</sup> and when that which is perfect may come, then that which [is] in part shall become useless.

<sup>11</sup> When I was a babe, as a babe I was speaking, as a babe I was thinking, as a babe I was reasoning, and when I have become a man, I have made useless the things of the babe;

<sup>12</sup> for we see now through a mirror obscurely, and then face to face; now I know in part, and then I shall fully know, as also I was known;

<sup>13</sup> and now there doth remain faith, hope, love — these three; and the greatest of these [is] love.

14

<sup>1</sup> Pursue the love, and seek earnestly the spiritual things, and rather that ye may prophecy,

<sup>2</sup> for he who is speaking in an [unknown] tongue — to men he doth not speak, but to God, for no one doth hearken, and in spirit he doth speak secrets;

<sup>3</sup> and he who is prophesying to men doth speak edification, and exhortation, and comfort;

<sup>4</sup> he who is speaking in an [unknown] tongue, himself doth edify, and he who is prophesying, an assembly doth edify;

<sup>5</sup> and I wish you all to speak with tongues, and more that ye may prophecy, for greater is he who is prophesying than he who is speaking with tongues, except one may interpret, that the assembly may receive edification.

<sup>6</sup> And now, brethren, if I may come unto you speaking tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either in revelation, or in knowledge, or in prophesying, or in teaching?

<sup>7</sup> yet the things without life giving sound — whether pipe or harp — if a difference in the sounds they may not give, how shall be known that which is piped or that which is harped?

<sup>8</sup> for if also an uncertain sound a trumpet may give, who shall prepare himself for battle?

<sup>9</sup> so also ye, if through the tongue, speech easily understood ye may not give — how shall that which is spoken be known? for ye shall be speaking to air.

<sup>10</sup> There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is unmeaning,

<sup>11</sup> if, then, I do not know the power of the voice, I shall be to him who is speaking a foreigner, and he who is speaking, is to me a foreigner;

<sup>12</sup> so also ye, since ye are earnestly desirous of spiritual gifts, for the building up of the assembly seek that ye may abound;

<sup>13</sup> wherefore he who is speaking in an [unknown] tongue — let him pray that he may interpret;

<sup>14</sup> for if I pray in an [unknown] tongue, my spirit doth pray, and my understanding is unfruitful.

<sup>15</sup> What then is it? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray also with the understanding; I will sing psalms with the spirit, and I will sing psalms also with the understanding;

<sup>16</sup> since, if thou mayest bless with the spirit, he who is filling the place of the unlearned, how shall he say the Amen at thy giving of thanks, since what thou dost say he hath not known?

<sup>17</sup> for thou, indeed, dost give thanks well, but the other is not built up!

<sup>18</sup> I give thanks to my God — more than you all with tongues speaking —

<sup>19</sup> but in an assembly I wish to speak five words through my understanding, that others also I may instruct, rather than myriads of words in an [unknown] tongue.

<sup>20</sup> Brethren, become not children in the understanding, but in the evil be ye babes, and in the understanding become ye perfect;

<sup>21</sup> in the law it hath been written, that, 'With other tongues and with other lips I will speak to this people, and not even so will they hear Me, saith the Lord;'

<sup>22</sup> so that the tongues are for a sign, not to the believing, but to the unbelieving; and the prophesy [is] not for the unbelieving, but for the believing,

<sup>23</sup> If, therefore, the whole assembly may come together, to the same place, and all may speak with tongues, and there may come in unlearned or unbelievers, will they not say that ye are mad?

<sup>24</sup> and if all may prophecy, and any one may come in, an unbeliever or unlearned, he is convicted by all, he is discerned by all,

<sup>25</sup> and so the secrets of his heart become manifest, and so having fallen upon [his] face, he will bow before God, declaring that God really is among you.

<sup>26</sup> What then is it, brethren? whenever ye may come together, each of you hath a psalm, hath a teaching, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation? let all things be for building up;

<sup>27</sup> if an [unknown] tongue any one do speak, by two, or at the most, by three, and in turn, and let one interpret;

<sup>28</sup> and if there may be no interpreter, let him be silent in an assembly, and to himself let him speak, and to God.

<sup>29</sup> And prophets — let two or three speak, and let the others discern,

<sup>30</sup> and if to another sitting [anything] may be revealed, let the first be silent;

<sup>31</sup> for ye are able, one by one, all to prophesy, that all may learn, and all may be exhorted,

<sup>32</sup> and the spiritual gift of prophets to prophets are subject,

<sup>33</sup> for God is not [a God] of tumult, but of peace, as in all the assemblies of the saints.

<sup>34</sup> Your women in the assemblies let them be silent, for it hath not been permitted to them to speak, but to be subject, as also the law saith;

<sup>35</sup> and if they wish to learn anything, at home their own husbands let them question, for it is a shame to women to speak in an assembly.

<sup>36</sup> From you did the word of God come forth? or to you alone did it come?

<sup>37</sup> if any one doth think to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge the things that I write to you — that of the Lord they are commands;

<sup>38</sup> and if any one is ignorant — let him be ignorant;

<sup>39</sup> so that, brethren, earnestly desire to prophesy, and to speak with tongues do not forbid;

<sup>40</sup> let all things be done decently and in order.

15

<sup>1</sup> And I make known to you, brethren, the good news that I proclaimed to you, which also ye did receive, in which also ye have stood,

<sup>2</sup> through which also ye are being saved, in what words I proclaimed good news to you, if ye hold fast, except ye did believe in vain,

<sup>3</sup> for I delivered to you first, what also I did receive, that Christ died for our sins, according to the Writings,

<sup>4</sup> and that he was buried, and that he hath risen on the third day, according to the Writings,

<sup>5</sup> and that he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve,

<sup>6</sup> afterwards he appeared to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain till now, and certain also did fall asleep;

<sup>7</sup> afterwards he appeared to James, then to all the apostles.

<sup>8</sup> And last of all — as to the untimely birth — he appeared also to me,

<sup>9</sup> for I am the least of the apostles, who am not worthy to be called an apostle, because I did persecute the assembly of God,

<sup>10</sup> and by the grace of God I am what I am, and His grace that [is] towards me came not in vain, but more abundantly than they all did I labour, yet not I, but the grace of God that [is] with me;

<sup>11</sup> whether, then, I or they, so we preach, and so ye did believe.

<sup>12</sup> And if Christ is preached, that out of the dead he hath risen, how say certain among you, that there is no rising again of dead persons?

<sup>13</sup> and if there be no rising again of dead persons, neither hath Christ risen;

<sup>14</sup> and if Christ hath not risen, then void [is] our preaching, and void also your faith,

<sup>15</sup> and we also are found false witnesses of God, because we did testify of God that He raised up the Christ, whom He did not raise if then dead persons do not rise;

<sup>16</sup> for if dead persons do not rise, neither hath Christ risen,

<sup>17</sup> and if Christ hath not risen, vain is your faith, ye are yet in your sins;

<sup>18</sup> then, also, those having fallen asleep in Christ did perish;

<sup>19</sup> if in this life we have hope in Christ only, of all men we are most to be pitied.

<sup>20</sup> And now, Christ hath risen out of the dead — the first-fruits of those sleeping he became,

<sup>21</sup> for since through man [is] the death, also through man [is] a rising again of the dead,

<sup>22</sup> for even as in Adam all die, so also in the Christ all shall be made alive,

<sup>23</sup> and each in his proper order, a first-fruit Christ, afterwards those who are the Christ's, in his presence,

<sup>24</sup> then — the end, when he may deliver up the reign to God, even the Father, when he may have made useless all rule, and all authority and power —

<sup>25</sup> for it behoveth him to reign till he may have put all the enemies under his feet —

<sup>27</sup> for all things He did put under his feet, and, when one may say that all things have been subjected, [it is] evident that He is excepted who did subject the all things to him,

<sup>28</sup> and when the all things may be subjected to him, then the Son also himself shall be subject to Him, who did subject to him the all things, that God may be the all in all.

<sup>29</sup> Seeing what shall they do who are baptized for the dead, if the dead do not rise at all? why also are they baptized for the dead?

<sup>31</sup> Every day do I die, by the glorying of you that I have in Christ Jesus our Lord:

<sup>32</sup> if after the manner of a man with wild beasts I fought in Ephesus, what the advantage to me if the dead do not rise? let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die!

<sup>34</sup> awake up, as is right, and sin not; for certain have an ignorance of God; for shame to you I say [it].

<sup>37</sup> and that which thou dost sow, not the body that shall be dost thou sow, but bare grain, it may be of wheat, or of some one of the others,

<sup>38</sup> and God doth give to it a body according as He willed, and to each of the seeds its proper body.

<sup>39</sup> All flesh [is] not the same flesh, but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another of fishes, and another of birds;

<sup>40</sup> and [there are] heavenly bodies, and earthly bodies; but one [is] the glory of the heavenly, and another that of the earthly;

<sup>41</sup> one glory of sun, and another glory of moon, and another glory of stars, for star from star doth differ in glory.

<sup>42</sup> So also [is] the rising again of the dead: it is sown in corruption, it is raised in incorruption;

<sup>43</sup> it is sown in dishonour, it is raised in glory; it is sown in weakness, it is raised in power;

<sup>44</sup> it is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body; there is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body;

<sup>45</sup> so also it hath been written, 'The first man Adam became a living creature,' the last Adam [is] for a life-giving spirit, <sup>46</sup> but that which is spiritual [is] not first, but that which [was] natural, afterwards that which [is] spiritual.

<sup>47</sup> The first man [is] out of the earth, earthy; the second man [is] the Lord out of heaven;

<sup>48</sup> as [is] the earthy, such [are] also the earthy; and as [is] the heavenly, such [are] also the heavenly;

<sup>49</sup> and, according as we did bear the image of the earthy, we shall bear also the image of the heavenly.

<sup>50</sup> And this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood the reign of God is not able to inherit, nor doth the corruption inherit the incorruption;

<sup>51</sup> lo, I tell you a secret; we indeed shall not all sleep, and we all shall be changed;

<sup>52</sup> in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, in the last trumpet, for it shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we — we shall be changed:

<sup>53</sup> for it behoveth this corruptible to put on incorruption, and this mortal to put on immortality;

<sup>54</sup> and when this corruptible may have put on incorruption, and this mortal may have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the word that hath been written, 'The Death was swallowed up — to victory;

<sup>56</sup> and the sting of the death [is] the sin, and the power of the sin the law;

<sup>57</sup> and to God — thanks, to Him who is giving us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ;

<sup>58</sup> so that, my brethren beloved, become ye steadfast, unmovable, abounding in the work of the Lord at all times, knowing that your labour is not vain in the Lord.

16

<sup>1</sup> And concerning the collection that [is] for the saints, as I directed to the assemblies of Galatia, so also ye — do ye;

<sup>2</sup> on every first [day] of the week, let each one of you lay by him, treasuring up whatever he may have prospered, that when I may come then collections may not be made;

<sup>3</sup> and whenever I may come, whomsoever ye may approve, through letters, these I will send to carry your favour to Jerusalem;

<sup>4</sup> and if it be meet for me also to go, with me they shall go.

<sup>5</sup> And I will come unto you, when I pass through Macedonia — for Macedonia I do pass through —

<sup>6</sup> and with you, it may be, I will abide, or even winter, that ye may send me forward whithersoever I go,

<sup>7</sup> for I do not wish to see you now in the passing, but I hope to remain a certain time with you, if the Lord may permit;

<sup>8</sup> and I will remain in Ephesus till the Pentecost,

<sup>9</sup> for a door to me hath been opened — great and effectual — and withstanders [are] many.

<sup>10</sup> And if Timotheus may come, see that he may become without fear with you, for the work of the Lord he doth work, even as I,

<sup>11</sup> no one, then, may despise him; and send ye him forward in peace, that he may come to me, for I expect him with the brethren;

<sup>12</sup> and concerning Apollos our brother, much I did entreat him that he may come unto you with the brethren, and it was not at all [his] will that he may come now, and he will come when he may find convenient.

<sup>15</sup> And I entreat you, brethren, ye have known the household of Stephanas, that it is the first-fruit of Achaia, and to the ministration to the saints they did set themselves —

<sup>16</sup> that ye also be subject to such, and to every one who is working with [us] and labouring;

<sup>17</sup> and I rejoice over the presence of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, because the lack of you did these fill up;

<sup>18</sup> for they did refresh my spirit and yours; acknowledge ye, therefore, those who [are] such.

<sup>19</sup> Salute you do the assemblies of Asia; salute you much in the Lord do Aquilas and Priscilla, with the assembly in their house;

<sup>22</sup> if any one doth not love the Lord Jesus Christ — let him be anathema! The Lord hath come!

<sup>23</sup> The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ [is] with you;

<sup>24</sup> my love [is] with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS

<sup>1</sup> Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ, through the will of God, and Timotheus the brother, to the assembly of God that is in Corinth, with all the saints who are in all Achaia:

<sup>2</sup> Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ!

<sup>3</sup> Blessed [is] God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of the mercies, and God of all comfort,

<sup>4</sup> who is comforting us in all our tribulation, for our being able to comfort those in any tribulation through the comfort with which we are comforted ourselves by God;

<sup>5</sup> because, as the sufferings of the Christ do abound to us, so through the Christ doth abound also our comfort;

<sup>6</sup> and whether we be in tribulation, [it is] for your comfort and salvation, that is wrought in the enduring of the same sufferings that we also suffer; whether we are comforted, [it is] for your comfort and salvation;

<sup>7</sup> and our hope [is] stedfast for you, knowing that even as ye are partakers of the sufferings — so also of the comfort.

<sup>8</sup> For we do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, of our tribulation that happened to us in Asia, that we were exceedingly burdened above [our] power, so that we despaired even of life;

<sup>9</sup> but we ourselves in ourselves the sentence of the death have had, that we may not be trusting on ourselves, but on God, who is raising the dead,

<sup>10</sup> who out of so great a death did deliver us, and doth deliver, in whom we have hoped that even yet He will deliver;

<sup>11</sup> ye working together also for us by your supplication, that the gift through many persons to us, through many may be thankfully acknowledged for us.

<sup>12</sup> For our glorying is this: the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and sincerity of God, not in fleshly wisdom, but in the grace of God, we did conduct ourselves in the world, and more abundantly toward you;

<sup>13</sup> for no other things do we write to you, but what ye either do read or also acknowledge, and I hope that also unto the end ye shall acknowledge,

<sup>14</sup> according as also ye did acknowledge us in part, that your glory we are, even as also ye [are] ours, in the day of the Lord Jesus;

<sup>15</sup> and in this confidence I was purposing to come unto you before, that a second favour ye might have,

<sup>16</sup> and through you to pass to Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come unto you, and by you to be sent forward to Judea.

<sup>17</sup> This, therefore, counselling, did I then use the lightness; or the things that I counsel, according to the flesh do I counsel, that it may be with me Yes, yes, and No, no?

<sup>18</sup> and God [is] faithful, that our word unto you became not Yes and No,

<sup>19</sup> for the Son of God, Jesus Christ, among you through us having been preached — through me and Silvanus and Timotheus — did not become Yes and No, but in him it hath become Yes;

<sup>20</sup> for as many as [are] promises of God, in him [are] the Yes, and in him the Amen, for glory to God through us;

<sup>21</sup> and He who is confirming you with us into Christ, and did anoint us, [is] God, <sup>22</sup> who also sealed us, and gave the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

<sup>23</sup> And I for a witness on God do call upon my soul, that sparing you, I came not yet to Corinth;

<sup>24</sup> not that we are lords over your faith, but we are workers together with your joy, for by the faith ye stand.

2

<sup>1</sup> And I decided this to myself, not again to come in sorrow unto you,

<sup>2</sup> for if I make you sorry, then who is he who is making me glad, except he who is made sorry by me?

<sup>3</sup> and I wrote to you this same thing, that having come, I may not have sorrow from them of whom it behoved me to have joy, having confidence in you all, that my joy is of you all,

<sup>4</sup> for out of much tribulation and pressure of heart I wrote to you through many tears, not that ye might be made sorry, but that ye might know the love that I have more abundantly toward you.

<sup>5</sup> And if any one hath caused sorrow, he hath not caused sorrow to me, but in part, that I may not burden you all;

<sup>6</sup> sufficient to such a one is this punishment, that [is] by the more part,

<sup>7</sup> so that, on the contrary, [it is] rather for you to forgive and to comfort, lest by over abundant sorrow such a one may be swallowed up;

<sup>8</sup> wherefore, I call upon you to confirm love to him,

<sup>9</sup> for, for this also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether in regard to all things ye are obedient.

<sup>10</sup> And to whom ye forgive anything — I also; for I also, if I have forgiven anything, to whom I have forgiven [it], because of you — in the person of Christ — [I forgive it,]

<sup>11</sup> that we may not be over-reached by the Adversary, for of his devices we are not ignorant.

<sup>12</sup> And having come to Troas for the good news of the Christ, and a door to me having been opened in the Lord,

<sup>13</sup> I have not had rest to my spirit, on my not finding Titus my brother, but having taken leave of them, I went forth to Macedonia;

<sup>14</sup> and to God [are] thanks, who at all times is leading us in triumph in the Christ, and the fragrance of His knowledge He is manifesting through us in every place,

<sup>15</sup> because of Christ a sweet fragrance we are to God, in those being saved, and in those being lost;

<sup>16</sup> to the one, indeed, a fragrance of death to death, and to the other, a fragrance of life to life; and for these things who is sufficient?

<sup>17</sup> for we are not as the many, adulterating the word of God, but as of sincerity — but as of God; in the presence of God, in Christ we do speak.

3

<sup>1</sup> Do we begin again to recommend ourselves, except we need, as some, letters of recommendation unto you, or from you?

<sup>2</sup> our letter ye are, having been written in our hearts, known and read by all men,

<sup>3</sup> manifested that ye are a letter of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God, not in the tablets of stone, but in fleshy tablets of the heart,

<sup>4</sup> and such trust we have through the Christ toward God,

<sup>5</sup> not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think anything, as of ourselves, but our sufficiency [is] of God,

<sup>6</sup> who also made us sufficient [to be] ministrants of a new covenant, not of letter; but of spirit; for the letter doth kill, and the spirit doth make alive.

<sup>7</sup> and if the ministration of the death, in letters, engraved in stones, came in glory, so that the sons of Israel were not able to look stedfastly to the face of Moses, because of the glory of his face – which was being made useless,

<sup>8</sup> how shall the ministration of the Spirit not be more in glory?

<sup>9</sup> for if the ministration of the condemnation [is] glory, much more doth the ministration of the righteousness abound in glory;

<sup>10</sup> for also even that which hath been glorious, hath not been glorious – in this respect, because of the superior glory;

<sup>11</sup> for if that which is being made useless [is] through glory, much more that which is remaining [is] in glory.

<sup>12</sup> Having, then, such hope, we use much freedom of speech,

<sup>13</sup> and [are] not as Moses, who was putting a vail upon his own face, for the sons of Israel not stedfastly to look to the end of that which is being made useless,

<sup>14</sup> but their minds were hardened, for unto this day the same vail at the reading of the Old Covenant doth remain unwithdrawn – which in Christ is being made useless –

<sup>15</sup> but till to-day, when Moses is read, a vail upon their heart doth lie,

<sup>16</sup> and whenever they may turn unto the Lord, the vail is taken away.

<sup>17</sup> And the Lord is the Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord [is], there [is] liberty;

<sup>18</sup> and we all, with unvailed face, the glory of the Lord beholding in a mirror, to the same image are being transformed, from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

4

<sup>1</sup> Because of this, having this ministration, according as we did receive kindness, we do not faint,

<sup>2</sup> but did renounce for ourselves the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor deceitfully using the word of God, but by the manifestation of the truth recommending ourselves unto every conscience of men, before God;

<sup>3</sup> and if also our good news is veiled, in those perishing it is veiled,

<sup>4</sup> in whom the god of this age did blind the minds of the unbelieving, that there doth not shine forth to them the enlightening of the good news of the glory of the Christ, who is the image of God;

<sup>5</sup> for not ourselves do we preach, but Christ Jesus – Lord, and ourselves your servants because of Jesus;

<sup>6</sup> because [it is] God who said, Out of darkness light [is] to shine, who did shine in our hearts, for the enlightening of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

<sup>7</sup> And we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us;

<sup>8</sup> on every side being in tribulation, but not straitened; perplexed, but not in despair;

<sup>9</sup> persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;

<sup>10</sup> at all times the dying of the Lord Jesus bearing about in the body, that the life also of Jesus in our body may be manifested,

<sup>11</sup> for always are we who are living delivered up to death because of Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our dying flesh, <sup>12</sup> so that, the death indeed in us doth work, and the life in you.

<sup>13</sup> And having the same spirit of the faith, according to that which hath been written, 'I believed, therefore I did speak;' we also do believe, therefore also do we speak;

<sup>14</sup> knowing that He who did raise up the Lord Jesus, us also through Jesus shall raise up, and shall present with you,

<sup>15</sup> for the all things [are] because of you, that the grace having been multiplied, because of the thanksgiving of the more, may abound to the glory of God;

<sup>16</sup> wherefore, we faint not, but if also our outward man doth decay, yet the inward is renewed day by day;

<sup>17</sup> for the momentary light matter of our tribulation, more and more exceedingly an age-during weight of glory doth work out for us —

<sup>18</sup> we not looking to the things seen, but to the things not seen; for the things seen [are] temporary, but the things not seen [are] age-during.

<sup>1</sup> For we have known that if our earthly house of the tabernacle may be thrown down, a building from God we have, an house not made with hands — age-during — in the heavens,

<sup>2</sup> for also in this we groan, with our dwelling that is from heaven earnestly desiring to clothe ourselves,

<sup>3</sup> if so be that, having clothed ourselves, we shall not be found naked,

<sup>4</sup> for we also who are in the tabernacle do groan, being burdened, seeing we wish not to unclothe ourselves, but to clothe ourselves, that the mortal may be swallowed up of the life.

<sup>5</sup> And He who did work us to this self-same thing [is] God, who also did give to us the earnest of the Spirit;

<sup>6</sup> having courage, then, at all times, and knowing that being at home in the body, we are away from home from the Lord, —

<sup>8</sup> we have courage, and are well pleased rather to be away from the home of the body, and to be at home with the Lord.

<sup>9</sup> Wherefore also we are ambitious, whether at home or away from home, to be well pleasing to him,

<sup>10</sup> for all of us it behoveth to be manifested before the tribunal of the Christ, that each one may receive the things [done] through the body, in reference to the things that he did, whether good or evil;

<sup>11</sup> having known, therefore, the fear of the Lord, we persuade men, and to God we are manifested, and I hope also in your consciences to have been manifested;

<sup>12</sup> for not again ourselves do we recommend to you, but we are giving occasion to you of glorifying in our behalf, that ye may have [something] in reference to those glorifying in face and not in heart;

<sup>13</sup> for whether we were beside ourselves, [it was] to God; whether we be of sound mind — [it is] to you,

<sup>14</sup> for the love of the Christ doth constrain us, having judged thus: that if one for all died, then the whole died,

<sup>15</sup> and for all he died, that those living, no more to themselves may live, but to him who died for them, and was raised again.

<sup>16</sup> So that we henceforth have known no one according to the flesh, and even if we have known Christ according to the flesh, yet now we know him no more;

<sup>17</sup> so that if any one [is] in Christ — [he is] a new creature; the old things did pass away, lo, become new have the all things.

<sup>18</sup> And the all things [are] of God, who reconciled us to Himself through Jesus Christ, and did give to us the ministration of the reconciliation,

<sup>19</sup> how that God was in Christ — a world reconciling to Himself, not reckoning to them their trespasses; and having put in us the word of the reconciliation,

<sup>20</sup> in behalf of Christ, then, we are ambassadors, as if God were calling through us, we beseech, in behalf of Christ, 'Be ye reconciled to God;'

<sup>21</sup> for him who did not know sin, in our behalf He did make sin, that we may become the righteousness of God in him.

6

<sup>1</sup> And working together also we call upon [you] that ye receive not in vain the grace of God —

<sup>2</sup> for He saith, 'In an acceptable time I did hear thee, and in a day of salvation I did help thee, lo, now [is] a well-accepted time; lo, now, a day of salvation,' —

<sup>3</sup> in nothing giving any cause of offence, that the ministration may be not blamed,

<sup>4</sup> but in everything recommending ourselves as God's ministrants; in much patience, in tribulations, in necessities, in distresses,

<sup>5</sup> in stripes, in imprisonments, in insurrections, in labours, in watchings, in fastings,

<sup>6</sup> in pureness, in knowledge, in long-suffering, in kindness, in the Holy Spirit, in love unfeigned,

<sup>8</sup> through glory and dishonour, through evil report and good report, as leading astray, and true;

<sup>9</sup> as unknown, and recognized; as dying, and lo, we live; as chastened, and not put to death;

<sup>10</sup> as sorrowful, and always rejoicing; as poor, and making many rich; as having nothing, and possessing all things.

<sup>12</sup> ye are not straitened in us, and ye are straitened in your [own] bowels,

<sup>13</sup> and [as] a recompense of the same kind, (as to children I say [it],) be ye enlarged — also ye!

<sup>14</sup> Become not yoked with others — unbelievers, for what partaking [is there] to righteousness and lawlessness?

<sup>15</sup> and what fellowship to light with darkness? and what concord to Christ with Belial? or what part to a believer with an unbeliever?

<sup>16</sup> and what agreement to the sanctuary of God with idols? for ye are a sanctuary of the living God, according as God said — 'I will dwell in them, and will walk among [them], and I will be their God, and they shall be My people,

<sup>17</sup> wherefore, come ye forth out of the midst of them, and be separated, saith the Lord, and an unclean thing do not touch, and I — I will receive you,

<sup>18</sup> and I will be to you for a Father, and ye — ye shall be to Me for sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.'

7

<sup>1</sup> Having, then, these promises, beloved, may we cleanse ourselves from every pollution of flesh and spirit, perfecting sanctification in the fear of God;

<sup>2</sup> receive us; no one did we wrong; no one did we waste; no one did we defraud;

<sup>3</sup> not to condemn you do I say [it], for I have said before that in our hearts ye are to die with and to live with;

<sup>4</sup> great [is] my freedom of speech unto you, great my glory on your behalf; I have been filled with the comfort, I overabound with the joy on all our tribulation,

<sup>5</sup> for also we, having come to Macedonia, no relaxation hath our flesh had, but on every side we are in tribulation, without [are] fightings, within — fears;

<sup>6</sup> but He who is comforting the cast-down — God — He did comfort us in the presence of Titus;

<sup>7</sup> and not only in his presence, but also in the comfort with which he was comforted over you, declaring to us your longing desire, your lamentation, your zeal for me, so that the more I did rejoice,

<sup>8</sup> because even if I made you sorry in the letter, I do not repent — if even I did repent — for I perceive that the letter, even if for an hour, did make you sorry.

<sup>9</sup> I now do rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye were made sorry to reformation, for ye were made sorry toward God, that in nothing ye might receive damage from us;

<sup>10</sup> for the sorrow toward God reformation to salvation not to be repented of doth work, and the sorrow of the world doth work death,

<sup>11</sup> for, lo, this same thing — your being made sorry toward God — how much diligence it doth work in you! but defence, but displeasure, but fear, but longing desire, but zeal, but revenge; in every thing ye did approve yourselves to be pure in the matter.

<sup>12</sup> If, then, I also wrote to you — not for his cause who did wrong, nor for his cause who did suffer wrong, but for our diligence in your behalf being manifested unto you before God —

<sup>13</sup> because of this we have been comforted in your comfort, and more abundantly the more did we rejoice in the joy of Titus, that his spirit hath been refreshed from you all;

<sup>14</sup> because if anything to him in your behalf I have boasted, I was not put to shame; but as all things in truth we did speak to you, so also our boasting before Titus became truth,

<sup>15</sup> and his tender affection is more abundantly toward you, remembering the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye did receive him;

<sup>16</sup> I rejoice, therefore, that in everything I have courage in you.

8

<sup>1</sup> And we make known to you, brethren, the grace of God, that hath been given in the assemblies of Macedonia,

<sup>2</sup> because in much trial of tribulation the abundance of their joy, and their deep poverty, did abound to the riches of their liberality;

<sup>3</sup> because, according to [their] power, I testify, and above [their] power, they were willing of themselves,

<sup>4</sup> with much entreaty calling on us to receive the favour and the fellowship of the ministration to the saints,

<sup>5</sup> and not according as we expected, but themselves they did give first to the Lord, and to us, through the will of God,

<sup>6</sup> so that we exhorted Titus, that, according as he did begin before, so also he may finish to you also this favour,

<sup>7</sup> but even as in every thing ye do abound, in faith, and word, and knowledge, and all diligence, and in your love to us, that also in this grace ye may abound;

<sup>8</sup> not according to command do I speak, but because of the diligence of others, and of your love proving the genuineness,

<sup>9</sup> for ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that because of you he became poor — being rich, that ye by that poverty may become rich.

<sup>10</sup> and an opinion in this do I give: for this to you [is] expedient, who not only to do, but also to will, did begin before — a year ago,

<sup>11</sup> and now also finish doing [it], that even as [there is] the readiness of the will, so also the finishing, out of that which ye have,

<sup>12</sup> for if the willing mind is present, according to that which any one may have it is well-accepted, not according to that which he hath not;

<sup>13</sup> for not that for others release, and ye pressured, [do I speak,]

<sup>14</sup> but by equality, at the present time your abundance — for their want, that also their abundance may be for your want, that there may be equality,

<sup>15</sup> according as it hath been written, 'He who [did gather] much, had nothing over; and he who [did gather] little, had no lack.'

<sup>16</sup> And thanks to God, who is putting the same diligence for you in the heart of Titus,

<sup>17</sup> because indeed the exhortation he accepted, and being more diligent, of his own accord he went forth unto you,

<sup>18</sup> and we sent with him the brother, whose praise in the good news [is] through all the assemblies,

<sup>19</sup> and not only so, but who was also appointed by vote by the assemblies, our fellow-traveller, with this favour that is ministered by us, unto the glory of the same Lord, and your willing mind;

<sup>20</sup> avoiding this, lest any one may blame us in this abundance that is ministered by us,

<sup>22</sup> and we sent with them our brother, whom we proved in many things many times being diligent, and now much more diligent, by the great confidence that is toward you,

<sup>23</sup> whether — about Titus — my partner and towards you fellow-worker, whether — our brethren, apostles of assemblies — glory of Christ;

<sup>24</sup> the shewing therefore of your love, and of our boasting on your behalf, to them shew ye, even in the face of the assemblies.

9

<sup>1</sup> For, indeed, concerning the ministration that [is] for the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you,

<sup>2</sup> for I have known your readiness of mind, which in your behalf I boast of to Macedonians, that Achaia hath been prepared a year ago, and the zeal of you did stir up the more part,

<sup>3</sup> and I sent the brethren, that our boasting on your behalf may not be made vain in this respect; that, according as I said, ye may be ready,

<sup>4</sup> lest if Macedonians may come with me, and find you unprepared, we — we may be put to shame (that we say not — ye) in this same confidence of boasting.

<sup>5</sup> Necessary, therefore, I thought [it] to exhort the brethren, that they may go before to you, and may make up before your formerly announced blessing, that this be ready, as a blessing, and not as covetousness.

<sup>6</sup> And this: He who is sowing sparingly, sparingly also shall reap; and he who is sowing in blessings, in blessings also shall reap;

<sup>7</sup> each one, according as he doth purpose in heart, not out of sorrow or out of necessity, for a cheerful giver doth God love,

<sup>8</sup> and God [is] able all grace to cause to abound to you, that in every thing always all sufficiency having, ye may abound to every good work,

<sup>9</sup> (according as it hath been written, 'He dispersed abroad, he gave to the poor, his righteousness doth remain to the age,')

<sup>10</sup> and may He who is supplying seed to the sower, and bread for food, supply and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness,

<sup>11</sup> in every thing being enriched to all liberality, which doth work through us thanksgiving to God,

<sup>12</sup> because the ministration of this service not only is supplying the wants of the saints, but is also abounding through many thanksgivings to God,

<sup>13</sup> through the proof of this ministration glorifying God for the subjection of your confession to the good news of the Christ, and [for] the liberality of the fellowship to them and to all,

<sup>14</sup> and by their supplication in your behalf, longing after you because of the exceeding grace of God upon you;

<sup>15</sup> thanks also to God for His unspeakable gift!

10

<sup>1</sup> And I, Paul, myself, do call upon you — through the meekness and gentleness of the Christ — who in presence, indeed [am] humble among you, and being absent, have courage toward you,

<sup>2</sup> and I beseech [you], that, being present, I may not have courage, with the confidence with which I reckon to be bold against certain reckoning us as walking according to the flesh;

<sup>3</sup> for walking in the flesh, not according to the flesh do we war,

<sup>4</sup> for the weapons of our warfare [are] not fleshly, but powerful to God for bringing down of strongholds,

<sup>5</sup> reasonings bringing down, and every high thing lifted up against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of the Christ, <sup>6</sup> and being in readiness to avenge every disobedience, whenever your obedience may be fulfilled.

<sup>7</sup> The things in presence do ye see? if any one hath trusted in himself to be Christ's, this let him reckon again from himself, that according as he is Christ's, so also we [are] Christ's;

<sup>8</sup> for even if also anything more abundantly I shall boast concerning our authority, that the Lord gave us for building up, and not for casting you down, I shall not be ashamed;

<sup>9</sup> that I may not seem as if I would terrify you through the letters,

<sup>10</sup> 'because the letters indeed — saith one — [are] weighty and strong, and the bodily presence weak, and the speech despicable.'

<sup>11</sup> This one — let him reckon thus: that such as we are in word, through letters, being absent, such also, being present, [we are] in deed.

<sup>12</sup> For we do not make bold to rank or to compare ourselves with certain of those commending themselves, but they, among themselves measuring themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are not wise,

<sup>13</sup> and we in regard to the unmeasured things will not boast ourselves, but after the measure of the line that the God of measure did appoint to us — to reach even unto you;

<sup>14</sup> for not as not reaching to you do we stretch ourselves overmuch, for even unto you did we come in the good news of the Christ,

<sup>15</sup> not boasting of the things not measured, in other men's labours, and having hope — your faith increasing — in you to be enlarged, according to our line — into abundance,

<sup>16</sup> in the [places] beyond you to proclaim good news, not in another's line in regard to the things made ready, to boast;

<sup>17</sup> and he who is boasting — in the Lord let him boast;

<sup>18</sup> for not he who is commending himself is approved, but he whom the Lord doth commend.

11

<sup>1</sup> O that ye were bearing with me a little of the folly, but ye also do bear with me:

<sup>2</sup> for I am zealous for you with zeal of God, for I did betroth you to one husband, a pure virgin, to present to Christ,

<sup>3</sup> and I fear, lest, as the serpent did beguile Eve in his subtilty, so your minds may be corrupted from the simplicity that [is] in the Christ;

<sup>4</sup> for if, indeed, he who is coming doth preach another Jesus whom we did not preach, or another Spirit ye receive which ye did not receive, or other good news which ye did not accept — well were ye bearing [it],

<sup>5</sup> for I reckon that I have been nothing behind the very chiefest apostles,

<sup>6</sup> and even if unlearned in word — yet not in knowledge, but in every thing we were made manifest in all things to you.

<sup>7</sup> The sin did I do — myself humbling that ye might be exalted, because freely the good news of God I did proclaim to you?

<sup>8</sup> other assemblies I did rob, having taken wages, for your ministration;

<sup>9</sup> and being present with you, and having been in want, I was chargeable to no one, for my lack did the brethren supply — having come from Macedonia — and in everything burdenless to you I did keep myself, and will keep.

<sup>10</sup> The truth of Christ is in me, because this boasting shall not be stopped in regard to me in the regions of Achaia;

<sup>12</sup> and what I do, I also will do, that I may cut off the occasion of those wishing an occasion, that in that which they boast they may be found according as we also;

<sup>13</sup> for those such [are] false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into apostles of Christ,

<sup>14</sup> and no wonder — for even the Adversary doth transform himself into a messenger of light;

<sup>15</sup> no great thing, then, if also his ministrants do transform themselves as ministrants of righteousness — whose end shall be according to their works.

<sup>16</sup> Again I say, may no one think me to be a fool; and if otherwise, even as a fool receive me, that I also a little may boast.

<sup>17</sup> That which I speak, I speak not according to the Lord, but as in foolishness, in this the confidence of boasting;

<sup>18</sup> since many boast according to the flesh, I also will boast:

<sup>19</sup> for gladly do ye bear with the fools — being wise,

<sup>20</sup> for ye bear, if any one is bringing you under bondage, if any one doth devour, if any one doth take away, if any one doth exalt himself, if any one on the face doth smite you;

<sup>21</sup> in reference to dishonour I speak, how that we were weak, and in whatever any one is bold — in foolishness I say [it] — I also am bold.

<sup>22</sup> Hebrews are they? I also! Israelites are they? I also! seed of Abraham are they? I also!

<sup>23</sup> ministrants of Christ are they? — as beside myself I speak — I more; in labours more abundantly, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequently, in deaths many times;

<sup>25</sup> thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice was I shipwrecked, a night and a day in the deep I have passed;

<sup>27</sup> in labouriousness and painfulness, in watchings many times, in hunger and thirst, in fastings many times, in cold and nakedness;

<sup>28</sup> apart from the things without — the crowding upon me that is daily — the care of all the assemblies.

<sup>29</sup> Who is infirm, and I am not infirm? who is stumbled, and I am not fired;

<sup>30</sup> if to boast it behoveth [me], of the things of my infirmity I will boast;

<sup>31</sup> the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ — who is blessed to the ages — hath known that I do not lie! —

<sup>32</sup> In Damascus the ethnarch of Aretas the king was watching the city of the Damascenes, wishing to seize me, <sup>33</sup> and through a window in a rope basket I was let down, through the wall, and fled out of his hands.

12

<sup>1</sup> To boast, really, is not profitable for me, for I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.

<sup>2</sup> I have known a man in Christ, fourteen years ago — whether in the body I have not known, whether out of the body I have not known, God hath known — such an one being caught away unto the third heaven;

<sup>3</sup> and I have known such a man — whether in the body, whether out of the body, I have not known, God hath known, —

<sup>4</sup> that he was caught away to the paradise, and heard unutterable sayings, that it is not possible for man to speak.

<sup>5</sup> Of such an one I will boast, and of myself I will not boast, except in my infirmities,

<sup>6</sup> for if I may wish to boast, I shall not be a fool, for truth I will say; but I forebear, lest any one in regard to me may think anything above what he doth see me, or doth hear anything of me;

<sup>7</sup> and that by the exceeding greatness of the revelations I might not be exalted overmuch, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, a messenger of the Adversary, that he might buffet me, that I might not be exalted overmuch.

<sup>8</sup> Concerning this thing thrice the Lord did I call upon, that it might depart from me,

<sup>9</sup> and He said to me, 'Sufficient for thee is My grace, for My power in infirmity is perfected;' most gladly, therefore, will I rather boast in my infirmities, that the power of the Christ may rest on me:

<sup>10</sup> wherefore I am well pleased in infirmities, in damages, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses — for Christ; for whenever I am infirm, then I am powerful;

<sup>11</sup> I have become a fool — boasting; ye — ye did compel me; for I ought by you to have been commended, for in nothing was I behind the very chiefest apostles — even if I am nothing.

<sup>12</sup> The signs, indeed, of the apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds,

<sup>13</sup> for what is there in which ye were inferior to the rest of the assemblies, except that I myself was not a burden to you? forgive me this injustice!

<sup>14</sup> Lo, a third time I am ready to come unto you, and I will not be a burden to you, for I seek not yours, but you, for the children ought not for the parents to lay up, but the parents for the children,

<sup>15</sup> and I most gladly will spend and be entirely spent for your souls, even if, more abundantly loving you, less I am loved.

<sup>16</sup> And be it [so], I — I did not burden you, but being crafty, with guile I did take you;

<sup>17</sup> any one of those whom I have sent unto you — by him did I take advantage of you?

<sup>18</sup> I entreated Titus, and did send with [him] the brother; did Titus take advantage of you? in the same spirit did we not walk? — did we not in the same steps?

<sup>19</sup> Again, think ye that to you we are making defence? before God in Christ do we speak; and the all things, beloved, [are] for your up-building,

<sup>20</sup> for I fear lest, having come, not such as I wish I may find you, and I — I may be found by you such as ye do not wish, lest there be strifes, envyings, wraths, revelries, evil-speakings, whisperings, puffings up, insurrections,

<sup>21</sup> lest again having come, my God may humble me in regard to you, and I may bewail many of those having sinned before, and not having reformed concerning the uncleanness, and whoredom, and lasciviousness, that they did practise.

13

<sup>1</sup> This third time do I come unto you; on the mouth of two witnesses or three shall every saying be established;

<sup>2</sup> I have said before, and I say [it] before, as being present, the second time, and being absent, now, do I write to those having sinned before, and to all the rest, that if I come again, I will not spare,

<sup>3</sup> since a proof ye seek of the Christ speaking in me, who to you is not infirm, but is powerful in you,

<sup>4</sup> for even if he was crucified from infirmity, yet he doth live from the power of God; for we also are weak in him, but we shall live with him from the power of God toward you.

<sup>5</sup> Your own selves try ye, if ye are in the faith; your own selves prove ye; do ye not know your own selves, that Jesus Christ is in you, if ye be not in some respect disapproved of?

<sup>6</sup> and I hope that ye shall know that we – we are not disapproved of;

<sup>7</sup> and I pray before God that ye do no evil, not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do that which is right, and we may be as disapproved;

<sup>8</sup> for we are not able to do anything against the truth, but for the truth;

<sup>9</sup> for we rejoice when we may be infirm, and ye may be powerful; and this also we pray for – your perfection!

<sup>10</sup> because of this, these things – being absent – I write, that being present, I may not treat [any] sharply, according to the authority that the Lord did give me for building up, and not for casting down.

<sup>11</sup> Henceforth, brethren, rejoice; be made perfect, be comforted, be of the same mind, be at peace, and the God of the love and peace shall be with you;

<sup>12</sup> salute one another in an holy kiss;

<sup>14</sup> the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, [is] with you all! Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE GALATIANS

<sup>1</sup> Paul, an apostle — not from men, nor through man, but through Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who did raise him out of the dead —

<sup>3</sup> Grace to you, and peace from God the Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ,

<sup>4</sup> who did give himself for our sins, that he might deliver us out of the present evil age, according to the will of God even our Father,

<sup>5</sup> to whom [is] the glory to the ages of the ages. Amen.

<sup>6</sup> I wonder that ye are so quickly removed from Him who did call you in the grace of Christ to another good news;

<sup>7</sup> that is not another, except there be certain who are troubling you, and wishing to pervert the good news of the Christ;

<sup>8</sup> but even if we or a messenger out of heaven may proclaim good news to you different from what we did proclaim to you — anathema let him be!

<sup>9</sup> as we have said before, and now say again, If any one to you may proclaim good news different from what ye did receive — anathema let him be!

<sup>10</sup> for now men do I persuade, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if yet men I did please — Christ's servant I should not be.

<sup>11</sup> And I make known to you, brethren, the good news that were proclaimed by me, that it is not according to man,

<sup>12</sup> for neither did I from man receive it, nor was I taught [it], but through a revelation of Jesus Christ,

<sup>13</sup> for ye did hear of my behaviour once in Judaism, that exceedingly I was persecuting the assembly of God, and wasting it,

<sup>14</sup> and I was advancing in Judaism above many equals in age in mine own race, being more abundantly zealous of my fathers' deliverances,

<sup>15</sup> and when God was well pleased — having separated me from the womb of my mother, and having called [me] through His grace —

<sup>16</sup> to reveal His Son in me, that I might proclaim him good news among the nations, immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood,

<sup>17</sup> nor did I go up to Jerusalem unto those who were apostles before me, but I went away to Arabia, and again returned to Damascus,

<sup>18</sup> then, after three years I went up to Jerusalem to enquire about Peter, and remained with him fifteen days,

<sup>19</sup> and other of the apostles I did not see, except James, the brother of the Lord.

<sup>20</sup> And the things that I write to you, lo, before God — I lie not;

<sup>21</sup> then I came to the regions of Syria and of Cilicia,

<sup>22</sup> and was unknown by face to the assemblies of Judea, that [are] in Christ,

<sup>23</sup> and only they were hearing, that 'he who is persecuting us then, doth now proclaim good news — the faith that then he was wasting;'

<sup>24</sup> and they were glorifying God in me.

2

<sup>1</sup> Then, after fourteen years again I went up to Jerusalem with Barnabas, having taken with me also Titus;

<sup>2</sup> and I went up by revelation, and did submit to them the good news that I preach among the nations, and privately to those esteemed, lest in vain I might run or did run;

<sup>3</sup> but not even Titus, who [is] with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised —

<sup>4</sup> and [that] because of the false brethren brought in unawares, who did come in privily to spy out our liberty that we have in Christ Jesus, that us they might bring under bondage,

<sup>5</sup> to whom not even for an hour we gave place by subjection, that the truth of the good news might remain to you.

<sup>6</sup> And from those who were esteemed to be something — whatever they were then, it maketh no difference to me — the face of man God accepteth not, for — to me those esteemed did add nothing,

<sup>7</sup> but, on the contrary, having seen that I have been entrusted with the good news of the uncircumcision, as Peter with [that] of the circumcision,

<sup>8</sup> for He who did work with Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, did work also in me in regard to the nations,

<sup>9</sup> and having known the grace that was given to me, James, and Cephas, and John, who were esteemed to be pillars, a right hand of fellowship they did give to me, and to Barnabas, that we to the nations, and they to the circumcision [may go],

<sup>10</sup> only, of the poor that we should be mindful, which also I was diligent — this very thing — to do.

<sup>11</sup> And when Peter came to Antioch, to the face I stood up against him, because he was blameworthy,

<sup>12</sup> for before the coming of certain from James, with the nations he was eating, and when they came, he was withdrawing and separating himself, fearing those of the circumcision,

<sup>13</sup> and dissemble with him also did the other Jews, so that also Barnabas was carried away by their dissimulation.

<sup>14</sup> But when I saw that they are not walking uprightly to the truth of the good news, I said to Peter before all, 'If thou, being a Jew, in the manner of the nations dost live, and not in the manner of the Jews, how the nations dost thou compel to Judaize?

<sup>15</sup> we by nature Jews, and not sinners of the nations,

<sup>16</sup> having known also that a man is not declared righteous by works of law, if not through the faith of Jesus Christ, also we in Christ Jesus did believe, that we might be declared righteous by the faith of Christ, and not by works of law, wherefore declared righteous by works of law shall be no flesh.'

<sup>17</sup> And if, seeking to be declared righteous in Christ, we ourselves also were found sinners, [is] then Christ a ministrant of sin? let it not be!

<sup>18</sup> for if the things I threw down, these again I build up, a transgressor I set myself forth;

<sup>19</sup> for I through law, did die, that to God I may live;

<sup>20</sup> with Christ I have been crucified, and live no more do I, and Christ doth live in me; and that which I now live in the flesh — in the faith I live of the Son of God, who did love me and did give himself for me;

<sup>21</sup> I do not make void the grace of God, for if righteousness [be] through law — then Christ died in vain.

<sup>1</sup> O thoughtless Galatians, who did bewitch you, not to obey the truth —

before whose eyes Jesus Christ was described before among you crucified?

<sup>2</sup> this only do I wish to learn from you — by works of law the Spirit did ye receive, or by the hearing of faith?

<sup>3</sup> so thoughtless are ye! having begun in the Spirit, now in the flesh do ye end?

<sup>5</sup> He, therefore, who is supplying to you the Spirit, and working mighty acts among you — by works of law or by the hearing of faith [is it]?

<sup>6</sup> according as Abraham did believe God, and it was reckoned to him — to righteousness;

<sup>7</sup> know ye, then, that those of faith — these are sons of Abraham,

<sup>8</sup> and the Writing having foreseen that by faith God doth declare righteous the nations did proclaim before the good news to Abraham —

<sup>9</sup> 'Blessed in thee shall be all the nations;' so that those of faith are blessed with the faithful Abraham,

<sup>10</sup> for as many as are of works of law are under a curse, for it hath been written, 'Cursed [is] every one who is not remaining in all things that have been written in the Book of the Law — to do them,'

<sup>11</sup> and that in law no one is declared righteous with God, is evident, because 'The righteous by faith shall live;'

<sup>12</sup> and the law is not by faith, but — 'The man who did them shall live in them.'

<sup>13</sup> Christ did redeem us from the curse of the law, having become for us a curse, for it hath been written, 'Cursed is every one who is hanging on a tree,'

<sup>14</sup> that to the nations the blessing of Abraham may come in Christ Jesus, that the promise of the Spirit we may receive through the faith.

<sup>15</sup> Brethren, as a man I say [it], even of man a confirmed covenant no one doth make void or doth add to,

<sup>16</sup> and to Abraham were the promises spoken, and to his seed; He doth not say, 'And to seeds,' as of many, but as of one, 'And to thy seed,' which is Christ;

<sup>17</sup> and this I say, A covenant confirmed before by God to Christ, the law, that came four hundred and thirty years after, doth not set aside, to make void the promise,

<sup>18</sup> for if by law [be] the inheritance, [it is] no more by promise, but to Abraham through promise did God grant [it].

<sup>19</sup> Why, then, the law? on account of the transgressions it was added, till the seed might come to which the promise hath been made, having been set in order through messengers in the hand of a mediator —

<sup>21</sup> the law, then, [is] against the promises of God? — let it not be! for if a law was given that was able to make alive, truly by law there would have been the righteousness,

<sup>22</sup> but the Writing did shut up the whole under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ may be given to those believing.

<sup>23</sup> And before the coming of the faith, under law we were being kept, shut up to the faith about to be revealed,

<sup>24</sup> so that the law became our child-conductor — to Christ, that by faith we may be declared righteous,

<sup>25</sup> and the faith having come, no more under a child-conductor are we,

<sup>26</sup> for ye are all sons of God through the faith in Christ Jesus,

<sup>27</sup> for as many as to Christ were baptized did put on Christ;

<sup>28</sup> there is not here Jew or Greek, there is not here servant nor freeman, there is not here male and female, for all ye are one in Christ Jesus;

<sup>29</sup> and if ye [are] of Christ then of Abraham ye are seed, and according to promise — heirs.

4

<sup>1</sup> And I say, so long time as the heir is a babe, he differeth nothing from a servant — being lord of all,

<sup>2</sup> but is under tutors and stewards till the time appointed of the father,

<sup>3</sup> so also we, when we were babes, under the elements of the world were in servitude,

<sup>4</sup> and when the fulness of time did come, God sent forth His Son, come of a woman, come under law,

<sup>5</sup> that those under law he may redeem, that the adoption of sons we may receive;

<sup>6</sup> and because ye are sons, God did send forth the spirit of His Son into your hearts, crying, 'Abba, Father!'

<sup>7</sup> so that thou art no more a servant, but a son, and if a son, also an heir of God through Christ.

<sup>8</sup> But then, indeed, not having known God, ye were in servitude to those not by nature gods,

<sup>9</sup> and now, having known God — and rather being known by God — how turn ye again unto the weak and poor elements to which anew ye desire to be in servitude?

<sup>10</sup> days ye observe, and months, and times, and years!

<sup>11</sup> I am afraid of you, lest in vain I did labour toward you.

<sup>12</sup> Become as I [am] — because I also [am] as ye brethren, I beseech you; to me ye did no hurt,

<sup>13</sup> and ye have known that through infirmity of the flesh I did proclaim good news to you at the first,

<sup>14</sup> and my trial that [is] in my flesh ye did not despise nor reject, but as a messenger of God ye did receive me — as Christ Jesus;

<sup>15</sup> what then was your happiness? for I testify to you, that if possible, your eyes having plucked out, ye would have given to me;

<sup>16</sup> so that your enemy have I become, being true to you?

<sup>17</sup> they are zealous for you — [yet] not well, but they wish to shut us out, that for them ye may be zealous;

<sup>18</sup> and [it is] good to be zealously regarded, in what is good, at all times, and not only in my being present with you;

<sup>19</sup> my little children, of whom again I travail in birth, till Christ may be formed in you,

<sup>20</sup> and I was wishing to be present with you now, and to change my voice, because I am in doubt about you.

<sup>21</sup> Tell me, ye who are willing to be under law, the law do ye not hear?

<sup>22</sup> for it hath been written, that Abraham had two sons, one by the maid-servant, and one by the free-woman,

<sup>23</sup> but he who [is] of the maid-servant, according to flesh hath been, and he who [is] of the free-woman, through the promise;

<sup>25</sup> for this Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and doth correspond to the Jerusalem that now [is], and is in servitude with her children,

<sup>26</sup> and the Jerusalem above is the free-woman, which is mother of us all,
<sup>27</sup> for it hath been written, 'Rejoice, O barren, who art not bearing; break forth and cry, thou who art not travailing, because many [are] the children of the desolate — more than of her having the husband.'
<sup>28</sup> And we, brethren, as Isaac, are children of promise,
<sup>29</sup> but as then he who was born according to the flesh did persecute him according to the spirit, so also now;
<sup>30</sup> but what saith the Writing? 'Cast forth the maid-servant and her son, for the son of the maid-servant may not be heir with the son of the free-woman;'
<sup>31</sup> then, brethren, we are not a maid-servant's children, but the free-woman's.

5

<sup>1</sup> In the freedom, then, with which Christ did make you free — stand ye, and be not held fast again by a yoke of servitude;
<sup>2</sup> lo, I Paul do say to you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing;
<sup>3</sup> and I testify again to every man circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole law;
<sup>4</sup> ye were freed from the Christ, ye who in law are declared righteous; from the grace ye fell away;
<sup>5</sup> for we by the Spirit, by faith, a hope of righteousness do wait for,
<sup>6</sup> for in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision, but faith through love working.
<sup>7</sup> Ye were running well; who did hinder you — not to obey the truth?
<sup>8</sup> the obedience [is] not of him who is calling you!
<sup>9</sup> a little leaven the whole lump doth leaven;
<sup>10</sup> I have confidence in regard to you in the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded; and he who is troubling you shall bear the judgment, whoever he may be.
<sup>11</sup> And I, brethren, if uncircumcision I yet preach, why yet am I persecuted? then hath the stumbling-block of the cross been done away;
<sup>12</sup> O that even they would cut themselves off who are unsettling you!
<sup>13</sup> For ye — to freedom ye were called, brethren, only not the freedom for an occasion to the flesh, but through the love serve ye one another,
<sup>14</sup> for all the law in one word is fulfilled — in this: 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself;'
<sup>15</sup> and if one another ye do bite and devour, see — that ye may not by one another be consumed.
<sup>16</sup> And I say: In the Spirit walk ye, and the desire of the flesh ye may not complete;
<sup>17</sup> for the flesh doth desire contrary to the Spirit, and the Spirit contrary to the flesh, and these are opposed one to another, that the things that ye may will — these ye may not do;
<sup>18</sup> and if by the Spirit ye are led, ye are not under law.
<sup>19</sup> And manifest also are the works of the flesh, which are: Adultery, whoredom, uncleanness, lasciviousness,
<sup>21</sup> envyings, murders, drunkennesses, revellings, and such like, of which I tell you before, as I also said before, that those doing such things the reign of God shall not inherit.

<sup>22</sup> And the fruit of the Spirit is: Love, joy, peace, long-suffering, kindness, goodness, faith,
<sup>23</sup> meekness, temperance: against such there is no law;
<sup>24</sup> and those who are Christ's, the flesh did crucify with the affections, and the desires;
<sup>25</sup> if we may live in the Spirit, in the Spirit also we may walk;
<sup>26</sup> let us not become vain-glorious – one another provoking, one another envying!

<sup>1</sup> Brethren, if a man also may be overtaken in any trespass, ye who [are] spiritual restore such a one in a spirit of meekness, considering thyself – lest thou also may be tempted;
<sup>2</sup> of one another the burdens bear ye, and so fill up the law of the Christ,
<sup>3</sup> for if any one doth think [himself] to be something – being nothing – himself he doth deceive;
<sup>4</sup> and his own work let each one prove, and then in regard to himself alone the glorying he shall have, and not in regard to the other;
<sup>6</sup> And let him who is instructed in the word share with him who is instructing – in all good things.
<sup>7</sup> Be not led astray; God is not mocked; for what a man may sow – that also he shall reap,
<sup>8</sup> because he who is sowing to his own flesh, of the flesh shall reap corruption; and he who is sowing to the Spirit, of the Spirit shall reap life age-during;
<sup>9</sup> and in the doing good we may not be faint-hearted, for at the proper time we shall reap – not desponding;
<sup>10</sup> therefore, then, as we have opportunity, may we work the good to all, and especially unto those of the household of the faith.
<sup>11</sup> Ye see in how large letters I have written to you with my own hand;
<sup>12</sup> as many as are willing to make a good appearance in the flesh, these constrain you to be circumcised – only that for the cross of the Christ they may not be persecuted,
<sup>13</sup> for neither do those circumcised themselves keep the law, but they wish you to be circumcised, that in your flesh they may glory.
<sup>14</sup> And for me, let it not be – to glory, except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through which to me the world hath been crucified, and I to the world;
<sup>15</sup> for in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creation;
<sup>16</sup> and as many as by this rule do walk – peace upon them, and kindness, and on the Israel of God!
<sup>17</sup> Henceforth, let no one give me trouble, for I the scars of the Lord Jesus in my body do bear.
<sup>18</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [is] with your spirit, brethren! Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE EPHESIANS

<sup>1</sup> Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, to the saints who are in Ephesus, and to the faithful in Christ Jesus:

<sup>2</sup> Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ!

<sup>3</sup> Blessed [is] the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who did bless us in every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places in Christ,

<sup>4</sup> according as He did choose us in him before the foundation of the world, for our being holy and unblemished before Him, in love,

<sup>5</sup> having foreordained us to the adoption of sons through Jesus Christ to Himself, according to the good pleasure of His will,

<sup>6</sup> to the praise of the glory of His grace, in which He did make us accepted in the beloved,

<sup>7</sup> in whom we have the redemption through his blood, the remission of the trespasses, according to the riches of His grace,

<sup>8</sup> in which He did abound toward us in all wisdom and prudence,

<sup>9</sup> having made known to us the secret of His will, according to His good pleasure, that He purposed in Himself,

<sup>10</sup> in regard to the dispensation of the fulness of the times, to bring into one the whole in the Christ, both the things in the heavens, and the things upon the earth — in him;

<sup>11</sup> in whom also we did obtain an inheritance, being foreordained according to the purpose of Him who the all things is working according to the counsel of His will,

<sup>12</sup> for our being to the praise of His glory, [even] those who did first hope in the Christ,

<sup>13</sup> in whom ye also, having heard the word of the truth — the good news of your salvation — in whom also having believed, ye were sealed with the Holy Spirit of the promise,

<sup>14</sup> which is an earnest of our inheritance, to the redemption of the acquired possession, to the praise of His glory.

<sup>15</sup> Because of this I also, having heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and the love to all the saints,

<sup>16</sup> do not cease giving thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

<sup>17</sup> that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of the glory, may give to you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the recognition of him,

<sup>18</sup> the eyes of your understanding being enlightened, for your knowing what is the hope of His calling, and what the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints,

<sup>19</sup> and what the exceeding greatness of His power to us who are believing, according to the working of the power of His might,

<sup>20</sup> which He wrought in the Christ, having raised him out of the dead, and did set [him] at His right hand in the heavenly [places],

<sup>21</sup> far above all principality, and authority, and might, and lordship, and every name named, not only in this age, but also in the coming one;

<sup>22</sup> and all things He did put under his feet, and did give him — head over all things to the assembly,

<sup>23</sup> which is his body, the fulness of Him who is filling the all in all,

2

- <sup>1</sup> Also you — being dead in the trespasses and the sins,
<sup>2</sup> in which once ye did walk according to the age of this world, according to the ruler of the authority of the air, of the spirit that is now working in the sons of disobedience,
<sup>3</sup> among whom also we all did walk once in the desires of our flesh, doing the wishes of the flesh and of the thoughts, and were by nature children of wrath — as also the others,
<sup>4</sup> and God, being rich in kindness, because of His great love with which He loved us,
<sup>5</sup> even being dead in the trespasses, did make us to live together with the Christ, (by grace ye are having been saved,)
<sup>6</sup> and did raise [us] up together, and did seat [us] together in the heavenly [places] in Christ Jesus,
<sup>7</sup> that He might show, in the ages that are coming, the exceeding riches of His grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus,
<sup>8</sup> for by grace ye are having been saved, through faith, and this not of you — of God the gift,
<sup>9</sup> not of works, that no one may boast;
<sup>10</sup> for of Him we are workmanship, created in Christ Jesus to good works, which God did before prepare, that in them we may walk.
<sup>11</sup> Wherefore, remember, that ye [were] once the nations in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that called Circumcision in the flesh made by hands,
<sup>12</sup> that ye were at that time apart from Christ, having been alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers to the covenants of the promise, having no hope, and without God, in the world;
<sup>13</sup> and now, in Christ Jesus, ye being once afar off became nigh in the blood of the Christ,
<sup>14</sup> for he is our peace, who did make both one, and the middle wall of the enclosure did break down,
<sup>15</sup> the enmity in his flesh, the law of the commands in ordinances having done away, that the two he might create in himself into one new man, making peace,
<sup>16</sup> and might reconcile both in one body to God through the cross, having slain the enmity in it,
<sup>17</sup> and having come, he did proclaim good news — peace to you — the far-off and the nigh,
<sup>18</sup> because through him we have the access — we both — in one Spirit unto the Father.
<sup>19</sup> Then, therefore, ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens of the saints, and of the household of God,
<sup>20</sup> being built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being chief corner -[stone],
<sup>21</sup> in whom all the building fitly framed together doth increase to an holy sanctuary in the Lord,
<sup>22</sup> in whom also ye are builded together, for a habitation of God in the Spirit.

3

- <sup>1</sup> For this cause, I Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus for you the nations,
<sup>2</sup> if, indeed, ye did hear of the dispensation of the grace of God that was given to me in regard to you,

<sup>3</sup> that by revelation He made known to me the secret, according as I wrote before in few [words] —

<sup>4</sup> in regard to which ye are able, reading [it], to understand my knowledge in the secret of the Christ,

<sup>5</sup> which in other generations was not made known to the sons of men, as it was now revealed to His holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit —

<sup>6</sup> that the nations be fellow-heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of His promise in the Christ, through the good news,

<sup>7</sup> of which I became a ministrant, according to the gift of the grace of God that was given to me, according to the working of His power;

<sup>8</sup> to me — the less than the least of all the saints — was given this grace, among the nations to proclaim good news — the untraceable riches of the Christ,

<sup>9</sup> and to cause all to see what [is] the fellowship of the secret that hath been hid from the ages in God, who the all things did create by Jesus Christ,

<sup>10</sup> that there might be made known now to the principalities and the authorities in the heavenly [places], through the assembly, the manifold wisdom of God,

<sup>11</sup> according to a purpose of the ages, which He made in Christ Jesus our Lord,

<sup>12</sup> in whom we have the freedom and the access in confidence through the faith of him,

<sup>13</sup> wherefore, I ask [you] not to faint in my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

<sup>14</sup> For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,

<sup>15</sup> of whom the whole family in the heavens and on earth is named,

<sup>16</sup> that He may give to you, according to the riches of His glory, with might to be strengthened through His Spirit, in regard to the inner man,

<sup>17</sup> that the Christ may dwell through the faith in your hearts, in love having been rooted and founded,

<sup>18</sup> that ye may be in strength to comprehend, with all the saints, what [is] the breadth, and length, and depth, and height,

<sup>19</sup> to know also the love of the Christ that is exceeding the knowledge, that ye may be filled — to all the fulness of God;

<sup>20</sup> and to Him who is able above all things to do exceeding abundantly what we ask or think, according to the power that is working in us,

<sup>21</sup> to Him [is] the glory in the assembly in Christ Jesus, to all the generations of the age of the ages. Amen.

<sup>1</sup> Call upon you, then, do I — the prisoner of the Lord — to walk worthily of the calling with which ye were called,

<sup>3</sup> being diligent to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of the peace;

<sup>4</sup> one body and one Spirit, according as also ye were called in one hope of your calling;

<sup>6</sup> one God and Father of all, who [is] over all, and through all, and in you all,

<sup>7</sup> and to each one of you was given the grace, according to the measure of the gift of Christ,

<sup>8</sup> wherefore, he saith, 'Having gone up on high he led captive captivity, and gave gifts to men,' —

<sup>9</sup> and that, he went up, what is it except that he also went down first to the lower parts of the earth?

<sup>10</sup> he who went down is the same also who went up far above all the heavens, that He may fill all things —

<sup>11</sup> and He gave some [as] apostles, and some [as] prophets, and some [as] proclaimers of good news, and some [as] shepherds and teachers,

<sup>12</sup> unto the perfecting of the saints, for a work of ministration, for a building up of the body of the Christ,

<sup>13</sup> till we may all come to the unity of the faith and of the recognition of the Son of God, to a perfect man, to a measure of stature of the fulness of the Christ,

<sup>14</sup> that we may no more be babes, tossed and borne about by every wind of the teaching, in the sleight of men, in craftiness, unto the artifice of leading astray,

<sup>15</sup> and, being true in love, we may increase to Him [in] all things, who is the head — the Christ;

<sup>16</sup> from whom the whole body, being fitly joined together and united, through the supply of every joint, according to the working in the measure of each single part, the increase of the body doth make for the building up of itself in love.

<sup>17</sup> This, then, I say, and I testify in the Lord; ye are no more to walk, as also the other nations walk, in the vanity of their mind,

<sup>18</sup> being darkened in the understanding, being alienated from the life of God, because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardness of their heart,

<sup>19</sup> who, having ceased to feel, themselves did give up to the lasciviousness, for the working of all uncleanness in greediness;

<sup>20</sup> and ye did not so learn the Christ,

<sup>21</sup> if so be ye did hear him, and in him were taught, as truth is in Jesus;

<sup>22</sup> ye are to put off concerning the former behaviour the old man, that is corrupt according to the desires of the deceit,

<sup>23</sup> and to be renewed in the spirit of your mind,

<sup>24</sup> and to put on the new man, which, according to God, was created in righteousness and kindness of the truth.

<sup>25</sup> Wherefore, putting away the lying, speak truth each with his neighbour, because we are members one of another;

<sup>26</sup> be angry and do not sin; let not the sun go down upon your wrath,

<sup>28</sup> whoso is stealing let him no more steal, but rather let him labour, working the thing that is good with the hands, that he may have to impart to him having need.

<sup>29</sup> Let no corrupt word out of your mouth go forth, but what is good unto the needful building up, that it may give grace to the hearers;

<sup>30</sup> and make not sorrowful the Holy Spirit of God, in which ye were sealed to a day of redemption.

<sup>31</sup> Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil-speaking, be put away from you, with all malice,

<sup>32</sup> and become one to another kind, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, according as also God in Christ did forgive you.

5

- <sup>1</sup> Become, then, followers of God, as children beloved,
<sup>2</sup> and walk in love, as also the Christ did love us, and did give himself for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for an odour of a sweet smell,
<sup>3</sup> and whoredom, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not even be named among you, as becometh saints;
<sup>4</sup> also filthiness, and foolish talking, or jesting, — the things not fit — but rather thanksgiving;
<sup>5</sup> for this ye know, that every whoremonger, or unclean, or covetous person, who is an idolater, hath no inheritance in the reign of the Christ and God.
<sup>6</sup> Let no one deceive you with vain words, for because of these things cometh the anger of God upon the sons of the disobedience,
<sup>7</sup> become not, then, partakers with them,
<sup>8</sup> for ye were once darkness, and now light in the Lord; as children of light walk ye,
<sup>9</sup> for the fruit of the Spirit [is] in all goodness, and righteousness, and truth,
<sup>10</sup> proving what is well-pleasing to the Lord,
<sup>11</sup> and have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of the darkness and rather even convict,
<sup>12</sup> for the things in secret done by them it is a shame even to speak of,
<sup>13</sup> and all the things reprov'd by the light are manifested, for everything that is manifested is light;
<sup>14</sup> wherefore he saith, 'Arouse thyself, thou who art sleeping, and arise out of the dead, and the Christ shall shine upon thee.'
<sup>15</sup> See, then, how exactly ye walk, not as unwise, but as wise,
<sup>16</sup> redeeming the time, because the days are evil;
<sup>17</sup> because of this become not fools, but — understanding what [is] the will of the Lord,
<sup>18</sup> and be not drunk with wine, in which is dissoluteness, but be filled in the Spirit,
<sup>19</sup> speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord,
<sup>20</sup> giving thanks always for all things, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to the God and Father;
<sup>21</sup> subjecting yourselves to one another in the fear of God.
<sup>22</sup> The wives! to your own husbands subject yourselves, as to the Lord,
<sup>23</sup> because the husband is head of the wife, as also the Christ [is] head of the assembly, and he is saviour of the body,
<sup>24</sup> but even as the assembly is subject to Christ, so also [are] the wives to their own husbands in everything.
<sup>25</sup> The husbands! love your own wives, as also the Christ did love the assembly, and did give himself for it,
<sup>26</sup> that he might sanctify it, having cleansed [it] with the bathing of the water in the saying,
<sup>27</sup> that he might present it to himself the assembly in glory, not having spot or wrinkle, or any of such things, but that it may be holy and unblemished;
<sup>28</sup> so ought the husbands to love their own wives as their own bodies: he who is loving his own wife — himself he doth love;
<sup>29</sup> for no one ever his own flesh did hate, but doth nourish and cherish it, as also the Lord — the assembly,
<sup>30</sup> because members we are of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones;

<sup>31</sup> 'for this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined to his wife, and they shall be — the two — for one flesh;'

<sup>32</sup> this secret is great, and I speak in regard to Christ and to the assembly;

<sup>33</sup> but ye also, every one in particular — let each his own wife so love as himself, and the wife — that she may reverence the husband.

<sup>3</sup> which is the first command with a promise, 'That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live a long time upon the land.'

<sup>4</sup> And the fathers! provoke not your children, but nourish them in the instruction and admonition of the Lord.

<sup>5</sup> The servants! obey the masters according to the flesh with fear and trembling, in the simplicity of your heart, as to the Christ;

<sup>6</sup> not with eye-service as men-pleasers, but as servants of the Christ, doing the will of God out of soul,

<sup>7</sup> with good-will serving, as to the Lord, and not to men,

<sup>8</sup> having known that whatever good thing each one may do, this he shall receive from the Lord, whether servant or freeman.

<sup>9</sup> And the masters! the same things do ye unto them, letting threatening alone, having known that also your Master is in the heavens, and acceptance of persons is not with him.

<sup>10</sup> As to the rest, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might;

<sup>11</sup> put on the whole armour of God, for your being able to stand against the wiles of the devil,

<sup>12</sup> because we have not the wrestling with blood and flesh, but with the principalities, with the authorities, with the world-rulers of the darkness of this age, with the spiritual things of the evil in the heavenly places;

<sup>13</sup> because of this take ye up the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to resist in the day of the evil, and all things having done — to stand.

<sup>14</sup> Stand, therefore, having your loins girt about in truth, and having put on the breastplate of the righteousness,

<sup>15</sup> and having the feet shod in the preparation of the good-news of the peace;

<sup>16</sup> above all, having taken up the shield of the faith, in which ye shall be able all the fiery darts of the evil one to quench,

<sup>17</sup> and the helmet of the salvation receive, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the saying of God,

<sup>18</sup> through all prayer and supplication praying at all times in the Spirit, and in regard to this same, watching in all perseverance and supplication for all the saints —

<sup>19</sup> and in behalf of me, that to me may be given a word in the opening of my mouth, in freedom, to make known the secret of the good news,

<sup>20</sup> for which I am an ambassador in a chain, that in it I may speak freely — as it behoveth me to speak.

<sup>21</sup> And that ye may know — ye also — the things concerning me — what I do, all things make known to you shall Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful ministrant in the Lord,

<sup>22</sup> whom I did send unto you for this very thing, that ye might know the things concerning us, and that he might comfort your hearts.

<sup>23</sup> Peace to the brethren, and love, with faith, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ!

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE PHILIPPIANS

<sup>1</sup> Paul and Timotheus, servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus who are in Philippi, with overseers and ministrants;

<sup>2</sup> Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>3</sup> I give thanks to my God upon all the remembrance of you,

<sup>4</sup> always, in every supplication of mine for you all, with joy making the supplication,

<sup>6</sup> having been confident of this very thing, that He who did begin in you a good work, will perform [it] till a day of Jesus Christ,

<sup>7</sup> according as it is righteous for me to think this in behalf of you all, because of my having you in the heart, both in my bonds, and [in] the defence and confirmation of the good news, all of you being fellow-partakers with me of grace.

<sup>8</sup> For God is my witness, how I long for you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ,

<sup>9</sup> and this I pray, that your love yet more and more may abound in full knowledge, and all judgment,

<sup>10</sup> for your proving the things that differ, that ye may be pure and offenceless — to a day of Christ,

<sup>11</sup> being filled with the fruit of righteousness, that [is] through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

<sup>12</sup> And I wish you to know, brethren, that the things concerning me, rather to an advancement of the good news have come,

<sup>13</sup> so that my bonds have become manifest in Christ in the whole praetorium, and to the other places — all,

<sup>14</sup> and the greater part of the brethren in the Lord, having confidence by my bonds, are more abundantly bold — fearlessly to speak the word.

<sup>15</sup> Certain, indeed, even through envy and contention, and certain also through good-will, do preach the Christ;

<sup>16</sup> the one, indeed, of rivalry the Christ do proclaim, not purely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds,

<sup>17</sup> and the other out of love, having known that for defence of the good news I am set:

<sup>18</sup> what then? in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is proclaimed — and in this I rejoice, yea, and shall rejoice.

<sup>19</sup> For I have known that this shall fall out to me for salvation, through your supplication, and the supply of the Spirit of Christ Jesus,

<sup>20</sup> according to my earnest expectation and hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, and in all freedom, as always, also now Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether through life or through death,

<sup>21</sup> for to me to live [is] Christ, and to die gain.

<sup>22</sup> And if to live in the flesh [is] to me a fruit of work, then what shall I choose? I know not;

<sup>23</sup> for I am pressed by the two, having the desire to depart, and to be with Christ, for it is far better,

<sup>24</sup> and to remain in the flesh is more necessary on your account,

<sup>25</sup> and of this being persuaded, I have known that I shall remain and continue with you all, to your advancement and joy of the faith,

<sup>26</sup> that your boasting may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence again to you.

<sup>27</sup> Only worthily of the good news of the Christ conduct ye yourselves, that, whether having come and seen you, whether being absent I may hear of the things concerning you, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one soul, striving together for the faith of the good news,

<sup>28</sup> and not terrified in anything by those opposing, which to them indeed is a token of destruction, and to you of salvation, and that from God;

<sup>29</sup> because to you it was granted, on behalf of Christ, not only to believe in him, but also on behalf of him to suffer;

<sup>30</sup> the same conflict having, such as ye saw in me, and now hear of in me.

2

<sup>1</sup> If, then, any exhortation [is] in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of spirit, if any bowels and mercies,

<sup>2</sup> fulfil ye my joy, that ye may mind the same thing — having the same love — of one soul — minding the one thing,

<sup>3</sup> nothing in rivalry or vain-glory, but in humility of mind one another counting more excellent than yourselves —

<sup>4</sup> each not to your own look ye, but each also to the things of others.

<sup>5</sup> For, let this mind be in you that [is] also in Christ Jesus,

<sup>6</sup> who, being in the form of God, thought [it] not robbery to be equal to God,

<sup>7</sup> but did empty himself, the form of a servant having taken, in the likeness of men having been made,

<sup>8</sup> and in fashion having been found as a man, he humbled himself, having become obedient unto death — death even of a cross,

<sup>9</sup> wherefore, also, God did highly exalt him, and gave to him a name that [is] above every name,

<sup>10</sup> that in the name of Jesus every knee may bow — of heavenlies, and earthlies, and what are under the earth —

<sup>11</sup> and every tongue may confess that Jesus Christ [is] Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

<sup>12</sup> So that, my beloved, as ye always obey, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, with fear and trembling your own salvation work out,

<sup>13</sup> for God it is who is working in you both to will and to work for His good pleasure.

<sup>15</sup> that ye may become blameless and harmless, children of God, unblemished in the midst of a generation crooked and perverse, among whom ye do appear as luminaries in the world,

<sup>16</sup> the word of life holding forth, for rejoicing to me in regard to a day of Christ, that not in vain did I run, nor in vain did I labour;

<sup>17</sup> but if also I am poured forth upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I rejoice and joy with you all,

<sup>18</sup> because of this do ye also rejoice and joy with me.

<sup>19</sup> And I hope, in the Lord Jesus, Timotheus to send quickly to you, that I also may be of good spirit, having known the things concerning you,

<sup>20</sup> for I have no one like-minded, who sincerely for the things concerning you will care,

<sup>21</sup> for the whole seek their own things, not the things of the Christ Jesus,

<sup>22</sup> and the proof of him ye know, that as a child [serveth] a father, with me he did serve in regard to the good news;

<sup>23</sup> him, indeed, therefore, I hope to send, when I may see through the things concerning me — immediately;

<sup>24</sup> and I trust in the Lord that I myself also shall quickly come.

<sup>25</sup> And I thought [it] necessary Epaphroditus — my brother, and fellow-workman, and fellow-soldier, and your apostle and servant to my need — to send unto you,

<sup>26</sup> seeing he was longing after you all, and in heaviness, because ye heard that he ailed,

<sup>27</sup> for he also ailed nigh to death, but God did deal kindly with him, and not with him only, but also with me, that sorrow upon sorrow I might not have.

<sup>28</sup> The more eagerly, therefore, I did send him, that having seen him again ye may rejoice, and I may be the less sorrowful;

<sup>29</sup> receive him, therefore, in the Lord, with all joy, and hold such in honour;

<sup>30</sup> because on account of the work of the Christ he drew near to death, having hazarded the life that he might fill up your deficiency of service unto me.

3

<sup>1</sup> As to the rest, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord; the same things to write to you to me indeed is not tiresome, and for you [is] sure;

<sup>3</sup> for we are the circumcision, who by the Spirit are serving God, and glorying in Christ Jesus, and in flesh having no trust,

<sup>4</sup> though I also have [cause of] trust in flesh. If any other one doth think to have trust in flesh, I more;

<sup>5</sup> circumcision on the eighth day! of the race of Israel! of the tribe of Benjamin! a Hebrew of Hebrews! according to law a Pharisee!

<sup>6</sup> according to zeal persecuting the assembly! according to righteousness that is in law becoming blameless!

<sup>7</sup> But what things were to me gains, these I have counted, because of the Christ, loss;

<sup>8</sup> yes, indeed, and I count all things to be loss, because of the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord, because of whom of the all things I suffered loss, and do count them to be refuse, that Christ I may gain, and be found in him,

<sup>9</sup> not having my righteousness, which [is] of law, but that which [is] through faith of Christ — the righteousness that is of God by the faith,

<sup>10</sup> to know him, and the power of his rising again, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being conformed to his death,

<sup>11</sup> if anyhow I may attain to the rising again of the dead.

<sup>12</sup> Not that I did already obtain, or have been already perfected; but I pursue, if also I may lay hold of that for which also I was laid hold of by the Christ Jesus;

<sup>13</sup> brethren, I do not reckon myself to have laid hold; and one thing — the things behind indeed forgetting, and to the things before stretching forth —

<sup>14</sup> to the mark I pursue for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

<sup>15</sup> As many, therefore, as [are] perfect — let us think this, and if [in] anything ye think otherwise, this also shall God reveal to you,

<sup>16</sup> but to what we have come — by the same rule walk, the same thing think;

<sup>17</sup> become followers together of me, brethren, and observe those thus walking, according as ye have us — a pattern;

<sup>18</sup> for many walk of whom many times I told you — and now also weeping tell — the enemies of the cross of the Christ!

<sup>19</sup> whose end [is] destruction, whose god [is] the belly, and whose glory [is] in their shame, who the things on earth are minding.

<sup>20</sup> For our citizenship is in the heavens, whence also a Saviour we await — the Lord Jesus Christ —

<sup>21</sup> who shall transform the body of our humiliation to its becoming conformed to the body of his glory, according to the working of his power, even to subject to himself the all things.

4

<sup>1</sup> So then, my brethren, beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand ye in the Lord, beloved.

<sup>2</sup> Euodia I exhort, and Syntyche I exhort, to be of the same mind in the Lord;

<sup>3</sup> and I ask also thee, genuine yoke-fellow, be assisting those women who in the good news did strive along with me, with Clement also, and the others, my fellow-workers, whose names [are] in the book of life.

<sup>4</sup> Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, rejoice;

<sup>5</sup> let your forbearance be known to all men; the Lord [is] near;

<sup>6</sup> for nothing be anxious, but in everything by prayer, and by supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God;

<sup>7</sup> and the peace of God, that is surpassing all understanding, shall guard your hearts and your thoughts in Christ Jesus.

<sup>8</sup> As to the rest, brethren, as many things as are true, as many as [are] grave, as many as [are] righteous, as many as [are] pure, as many as [are] lovely, as many as [are] of good report, if any worthiness, and if any praise, these things think upon;

<sup>9</sup> the things that also ye did learn, and receive, and hear, and saw in me, those do, and the God of the peace shall be with you.

<sup>10</sup> And I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at length ye flourished again in caring for me, for which also ye were caring, and lacked opportunity;

<sup>11</sup> not that in respect of want I say [it], for I did learn in the things in which I am — to be content;

<sup>12</sup> I have known both to be abased, and I have known to abound; in everything and in all things I have been initiated, both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to be in want.

<sup>13</sup> For all things I have strength, in Christ's strengthening me;

<sup>14</sup> but ye did well, having communicated with my tribulation;

<sup>15</sup> and ye have known, even ye Philippians, that in the beginning of the good news when I went forth from Macedonia, no assembly did communicate with me in regard to giving and receiving except ye only;

<sup>16</sup> because also in Thessalonica, both once and again to my need ye sent;

<sup>17</sup> not that I seek after the gift, but I seek after the fruit that is overflowing to your account;

<sup>18</sup> and I have all things, and abound; I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things from you — an odour of a sweet smell — a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God:

<sup>19</sup> and my God shall supply all your need, according to His riches in glory in Christ Jesus;

<sup>20</sup> and to God, even our Father, [is] the glory — to the ages of the ages. Amen.

<sup>21</sup> Salute ye every saint in Christ Jesus; there salute you the brethren with me;
<sup>22</sup> there salute you all the saints, and specially those of Caesar's house;
<sup>23</sup> the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [is] with you all. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE COLOSSIANS

<sup>1</sup> Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and Timotheus the brother,

<sup>2</sup> to the saints in Colossae, and to the faithful brethren in Christ: Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ!

<sup>3</sup> We give thanks to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, always praying for you,

<sup>4</sup> having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love that [is] to all the saints,

<sup>5</sup> because of the hope that is laid up for you in the heavens, which ye heard of before in the word of the truth of the good news,

<sup>6</sup> which is present to you, as also in all the world, and is bearing fruit, as also in you, from the day in which ye heard, and knew the grace of God in truth;

<sup>7</sup> as ye also learned from Epaphras, our beloved fellow-servant, who is for you a faithful ministrant of the Christ,

<sup>8</sup> who also did declare to us your love in the Spirit.

<sup>9</sup> Because of this, we also, from the day in which we heard, do not cease praying for you, and asking that ye may be filled with the full knowledge of His will in all wisdom and spiritual understanding,

<sup>10</sup> to your walking worthily of the Lord to all pleasing, in every good work being fruitful, and increasing to the knowledge of God,

<sup>11</sup> in all might being made mighty according to the power of His glory, to all endurance and long-suffering with joy.

<sup>12</sup> Giving thanks to the Father who did make us meet for the participation of the inheritance of the saints in the light,

<sup>13</sup> who did rescue us out of the authority of the darkness, and did translate [us] into the reign of the Son of His love,

<sup>14</sup> in whom we have the redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of the sins,

<sup>15</sup> who is the image of the invisible God, first-born of all creation,

<sup>16</sup> because in him were the all things created, those in the heavens, and those upon the earth, those visible, and those invisible, whether thrones, whether lordships, whether principalities, whether authorities; all things through him, and for him, have been created,

<sup>17</sup> and himself is before all, and the all things in him have consisted.

<sup>18</sup> And himself is the head of the body – the assembly – who is a beginning, a first-born out of the dead, that he might become in all [things] – himself – first,

<sup>19</sup> because in him it did please all the fulness to tabernacle,

<sup>20</sup> and through him to reconcile the all things to himself – having made peace through the blood of his cross – through him, whether the things upon the earth, whether the things in the heavens.

<sup>21</sup> And you – once being alienated, and enemies in the mind, in the evil works, yet now did he reconcile,

<sup>22</sup> in the body of his flesh through the death, to present you holy, and unblemished, and unblameable before himself,

<sup>23</sup> if also ye remain in the faith, being founded and settled, and not moved away from the hope of the good news, which ye heard, which was preached in all the creation that [is] under the heaven, of which I became — I Paul — a ministrant.

<sup>24</sup> I now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and do fill up the things lacking of the tribulations of the Christ in my flesh for his body, which is the assembly,

<sup>25</sup> of which I — I did become a ministrant according to the dispensation of God, that was given to me for you, to fulfil the word of God,

<sup>26</sup> the secret that hath been hid from the ages and from the generations, but now was manifested to his saints,

<sup>27</sup> to whom God did will to make known what [is] the riches of the glory of this secret among the nations — which is Christ in you, the hope of the glory,

<sup>28</sup> whom we proclaim, warning every man, and teaching every man, in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus,

<sup>29</sup> for which also I labour, striving according to his working that is working in me in power.

2

<sup>1</sup> For I wish you to know how great a conflict I have for you and those in Laodicea, and as many as have not seen my face in the flesh,

<sup>2</sup> that their hearts may be comforted, being united in love, and to all riches of the full assurance of the understanding, to the full knowledge of the secret of the God and Father, and of the Christ,

<sup>3</sup> in whom are all the treasures of the wisdom and the knowledge hid,

<sup>4</sup> and this I say, that no one may beguile you in enticing words,

<sup>5</sup> for if even in the flesh I am absent — yet in the spirit I am with you, joying and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in regard to Christ;

<sup>6</sup> as, then, ye did receive Christ Jesus the Lord, in him walk ye, <sup>7</sup> being rooted and built up in him, and confirmed in the faith, as ye were taught — abounding in it in thanksgiving.

<sup>8</sup> See that no one shall be carrying you away as spoil through the philosophy and vain deceit, according to the deliverance of men, according to the rudiments of the world, and not according to Christ,

<sup>9</sup> because in him doth tabernacle all the fulness of the Godhead bodily,

<sup>10</sup> and ye are in him made full, who is the head of all principality and authority,

<sup>11</sup> in whom also ye were circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in the putting off of the body of the sins of the flesh in the circumcision of the Christ,

<sup>12</sup> being buried with him in the baptism, in which also ye rose with [him] through the faith of the working of God, who did raise him out of the dead.

<sup>13</sup> And you — being dead in the trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh — He made alive together with him, having forgiven you all the trespasses,

<sup>14</sup> having blotted out the handwriting in the ordinances that is against us, that was contrary to us, and he hath taken it out of the way, having nailed it to the cross;

<sup>15</sup> having stripped the principalities and the authorities, he made a shew of them openly — having triumphed over them in it.

<sup>16</sup> Let no one, then, judge you in eating or in drinking, or in respect of a feast, or of a new moon, or of sabbaths,

<sup>17</sup> which are a shadow of the coming things, and the body [is] of the Christ;
<sup>18</sup> let no one beguile you of your prize, delighting in humble-mindedness and [in] worship of the messengers, intruding into the things he hath not seen, being vainly puffed up by the mind of his flesh,
<sup>19</sup> and not holding the head, from which all the body – through the joints and bands gathering supply, and being knit together – may increase with the increase of God.
<sup>20</sup> If, then, ye did die with the Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances?
<sup>22</sup> which are all for destruction with the using, after the commands and teachings of men, <sup>23</sup> which are, indeed, having a matter of wisdom in will-worship, and humble-mindedness, and neglecting of body – not in any honour, unto a satisfying of the flesh.

3

<sup>1</sup> If, then, ye were raised with the Christ, the things above seek ye, where the Christ is, on the right hand of God seated,
<sup>3</sup> for ye did die, and your life hath been hid with the Christ in God;
<sup>4</sup> when the Christ – our life – may be manifested, then also we with him shall be manifested in glory.
<sup>5</sup> Put to death, then, your members that [are] upon the earth – whoredom, uncleanness, passion, evil desire, and the covetousness, which is idolatry –
<sup>6</sup> because of which things cometh the anger of God upon the sons of the disobedience,
<sup>7</sup> in which also ye – ye did walk once, when ye lived in them;
<sup>8</sup> but now put off, even ye, the whole – anger, wrath, malice, evil-speaking, filthy talking – out of your mouth.
<sup>10</sup> and having put on the new, which is renewed in regard to knowledge, after the image of Him who did create him;
<sup>11</sup> where there is not Greek and Jew, circumcision and uncircumcision, foreigner, Scythian, servant, freeman – but the all and in all – Christ.
<sup>12</sup> Put on, therefore, as choice ones of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humble-mindedness, meekness, long-suffering,
<sup>13</sup> forbearing one another, and forgiving each other, if any one with any one may have a quarrel, as also the Christ did forgive you – so also ye;
<sup>14</sup> and above all these things, [have] love, which is a bond of the perfection,
<sup>15</sup> and let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to which also ye were called in one body, and become thankful.
<sup>16</sup> Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing each other, in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, in grace singing in your hearts to the Lord;
<sup>17</sup> and all, whatever ye may do in word or in work, [do] all things in the name of the Lord Jesus – giving thanks to the God and Father, through him.
<sup>18</sup> The wives! be subject to your own husbands, as is fit in the Lord;

<sup>22</sup> The servants! obey in all things those who are masters according to the flesh, not in eye-service as men-pleasers, but in simplicity of heart, fearing God;

<sup>23</sup> and all, whatever ye may do — out of soul work — as to the Lord, and not to men,

<sup>24</sup> having known that from the Lord ye shall receive the recompense of the inheritance — for the Lord Christ ye serve;

<sup>25</sup> and he who is doing unrighteously shall receive what he did unrighteously, and there is no acceptance of persons.

4

<sup>3</sup> praying at the same time also for us, that God may open to us a door for the word, to speak the secret of the Christ, because of which also I have been bound,

<sup>4</sup> that I may manifest it, as it behoveth me to speak;

<sup>6</sup> your word always in grace — with salt being seasoned — to know how it behoveth you to answer each one.

<sup>7</sup> All the things concerning me make known to you shall Tychicus — the beloved brother, and faithful ministrant, and fellow-servant in the Lord —

<sup>8</sup> whom I did send unto you for this very thing, that he might know the things concerning you, and might comfort your hearts,

<sup>9</sup> with Onesimus the faithful and beloved brother, who is of you; all things to you shall they make known that [are] here.

<sup>10</sup> Salute you doth Aristarchus, my fellow-captive, and Marcus, the nephew of Barnabas, (concerning whom ye did receive commands — if he may come unto you receive him,)

<sup>11</sup> and Jesus who is called Justus, who are of the circumcision: these only [are] fellow-workers for the reign of God who did become a comfort to me.

<sup>12</sup> Salute you doth Epaphras, who [is] of you, a servant of Christ, always striving for you in the prayers, that ye may stand perfect and made full in all the will of God, <sup>13</sup> for I do testify to him, that he hath much zeal for you, and those in Laodicea, and those in Hierapolis.

<sup>15</sup> salute ye those in Laodicea — brethren, and Nymphas, and the assembly in his house;

<sup>16</sup> and when the epistle may be read with you, cause that also in the assembly of the Laodiceans it may be read, and the [epistle] from Laodicea that ye also may read;

<sup>17</sup> and say to Archippus, 'See to the ministration that thou didst receive in the Lord, that thou mayest fulfil it.'

<sup>18</sup> The salutation by the hand of me, Paul; remember my bonds; the grace [is] with you. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS

<sup>1</sup> Paul, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, to the assembly of Thessalonians in God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ!

<sup>2</sup> We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers,

<sup>3</sup> unceasingly remembering of you the work of the faith, and the labour of the love, and the endurance of the hope, of our Lord Jesus Christ, in the presence of our God and Father,

<sup>4</sup> having known, brethren beloved, by God, your election,

<sup>5</sup> because our good news did not come to you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Spirit, and in much assurance, even as ye have known of what sort we became among you because of you,

<sup>6</sup> and ye — ye did become imitators of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much tribulation, with joy of the Holy Spirit,

<sup>7</sup> so that ye became patterns to all those believing in Macedonia and Achaia,

<sup>8</sup> for from you hath sounded forth the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith toward God did go forth, so that we have no need to say anything,

<sup>9</sup> for they themselves concerning us do declare what entrance we had unto you, and how ye did turn unto God from the idols, to serve a living and true God,

<sup>10</sup> and to wait for His Son from the heavens, whom He did raise out of the dead — Jesus, who is rescuing us from the anger that is coming.

<sup>1</sup> For yourselves have known, brethren, our entrance in unto you, that it did not become vain,

<sup>2</sup> but having both suffered before, and having been injuriously treated (as ye have known) in Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the good news of God in much conflict,

<sup>3</sup> for our exhortation [is] not out of deceit, nor out of uncleanness, nor in guile,

<sup>4</sup> but as we have been approved by God to be entrusted with the good news, so we speak, not as pleasing men, but God, who is proving our hearts,

<sup>5</sup> for at no time did we come with speech of flattery, (as ye have known,) nor in a pretext for covetousness, (God [is] witness!)

<sup>6</sup> nor seeking of men glory, neither from you nor from others, being able to be burdensome, as Christ's apostles.

<sup>7</sup> But we became gentle in your midst, as a nurse may cherish her own children,

<sup>8</sup> so being desirous of you, we are well-pleased to impart to you not only the good news of God, but also our own souls, because beloved ye have become to us,

<sup>9</sup> for ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail, for, night and day working not to be a burden upon any of you, we did preach to you the good news of God;

<sup>10</sup> ye [are] witnesses — God also — how kindly and righteously, and blamelessly to you who believe we became,

<sup>11</sup> even as ye have known, how each one of you, as a father his own children, we are exhorting you, and comforting, and testifying,

<sup>12</sup> for your walking worthily of God, who is calling you to His own reign and glory.

<sup>13</sup> Because of this also, we — we do give thanks to God continually, that, having received the word of hearing from us of God, ye accepted, not the word of man, but as it is truly, the word of God, who also doth work in you who believe;

<sup>14</sup> for ye became imitators, brethren, of the assemblies of God that are in Judea in Christ Jesus, because such things ye suffered, even ye, from your own countrymen, as also they from the Jews,

<sup>15</sup> who did both put to death the Lord Jesus and their own prophets, and did persecute us, and God they are not pleasing, and to all men [are] contrary, <sup>16</sup> forbidding us to speak to the nations that they might be saved, to fill up their sins always, but the anger did come upon them — to the end!

<sup>17</sup> And we, brethren, having been taken from you for the space of an hour — in presence, not in heart — did hasten the more abundantly to see your face in much desire,

<sup>18</sup> wherefore we wished to come unto you, (I indeed Paul,) both once and again, and the Adversary did hinder us;

<sup>19</sup> for what [is] our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? are not even ye before our Lord Jesus Christ in his presence?

<sup>20</sup> for ye are our glory and joy.

<sup>2</sup> and did send Timotheus — our brother, and a ministrant of God, and our fellow-workman in the good news of the Christ — to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith,

<sup>3</sup> that no one be moved in these tribulations, for yourselves have known that for this we are set,

<sup>4</sup> for even when we were with you, we said to you beforehand, that we are about to suffer tribulation, as also it did come to pass, and ye have known [it];

<sup>5</sup> because of this also, I, no longer forbearing, did send to know your faith, lest he who is tempting did tempt you, and in vain might be our labour.

<sup>6</sup> And now Timotheus having come unto us from you, and having declared good news to us of your faith and love, and that ye have a good remembrance of us always, desiring much to see us, as we also [to see] you,

<sup>7</sup> because of this we were comforted, brethren, over you, in all our tribulation and necessity, through your faith,

<sup>8</sup> because now we live, if ye may stand fast in the Lord;

<sup>9</sup> for what thanks are we able to recompense to God for you, for all the joy with which we do joy because of you in the presence of our God?

<sup>10</sup> night and day exceedingly beseeching, that we might see your face, and perfect the things lacking in your faith.

<sup>11</sup> And our God and Father Himself, and our Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way unto you,

<sup>12</sup> and you the Lord cause to increase and to abound in the love to one another, and to all, even as we also to you,

<sup>13</sup> to the establishing your hearts blameless in sanctification before our God and Father, in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ with all His saints.

4

<sup>1</sup> As to the rest, then, brethren, we request you, and call upon you in the Lord Jesus, as ye did receive from us how it behoveth you to walk and to please God, that ye may abound the more,

<sup>2</sup> for ye have known what commands we gave you through the Lord Jesus,

<sup>3</sup> for this is the will of God — your sanctification; that ye abstain from the whoredom,

<sup>4</sup> that each of you know his own vessel to possess in sanctification and honour,

<sup>5</sup> not in the affection of desire, as also the nations that were not knowing God,

<sup>6</sup> that no one go beyond and defraud in the matter his brother, because an avenger [is] the Lord of all these, as also we spake before to you and testified,

<sup>7</sup> for God did not call us on uncleanness, but in sanctification;

<sup>8</sup> he, therefore, who is despising — doth not despise man, but God, who also did give His Holy Spirit to us.

<sup>9</sup> And concerning the brotherly love, ye have no need of [my] writing to you, for ye yourselves are God-taught to love one another,

<sup>10</sup> for ye do it also to all the brethren who [are] in all Macedonia; and we call upon you, brethren, to abound still more,

<sup>11</sup> and to study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we did command you,

<sup>12</sup> that ye may walk becomingly unto those without, and may have lack of nothing.

<sup>13</sup> And I do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning those who have fallen asleep, that ye may not sorrow, as also the rest who have not hope,

<sup>14</sup> for if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, so also God those asleep through Jesus he will bring with him,

<sup>15</sup> for this to you we say in the word of the Lord, that we who are living — who do remain over to the presence of the Lord — may not precede those asleep,

<sup>16</sup> because the Lord himself, in a shout, in the voice of a chief-messenger, and in the trump of God, shall come down from heaven, and the dead in Christ shall rise first,

<sup>17</sup> then we who are living, who are remaining over, together with them shall be caught away in clouds to meet the Lord in air, and so always with the Lord we shall be;

<sup>18</sup> so, then, comfort ye one another in these words.

5

<sup>1</sup> And concerning the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need of my writing to you,

<sup>2</sup> for yourselves have known thoroughly that the day of the Lord as a thief in the night doth so come,

<sup>3</sup> for when they may say, Peace and surety, then sudden destruction doth stand by them, as the travail [doth] her who is with child, and they shall not escape;

<sup>4</sup> and ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that the day may catch you as a thief;

<sup>5</sup> all ye are sons of light, and sons of day; we are not of night, nor of darkness,

<sup>6</sup> so, then, we may not sleep as also the others, but watch and be sober,

<sup>7</sup> for those sleeping, by night do sleep, and those making themselves drunk, by night are drunken,

<sup>8</sup> and we, being of the day — let us be sober, putting on a breastplate of faith and love, and an helmet — a hope of salvation,

<sup>9</sup> because God did not appoint us to anger, but to the acquiring of salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ,

<sup>10</sup> who did die for us, that whether we wake — whether we sleep — together with him we may live;

<sup>11</sup> wherefore, comfort ye one another, and build ye up, one the one, as also ye do.

<sup>12</sup> And we ask you, brethren, to know those labouring among you, and leading you in the Lord, and admonishing you,

<sup>13</sup> and to esteem them very abundantly in love, because of their work; be at peace among yourselves;

<sup>14</sup> and we exhort you, brethren, admonish the disorderly, comfort the feeble-minded, support the infirm, be patient unto all;

<sup>15</sup> see no one evil for evil may render to any one, but always that which is good pursue ye, both to one another and to all;

<sup>18</sup> in every thing give thanks, for this [is] the will of God in Christ Jesus in regard to you.

<sup>23</sup> and the God of the peace Himself sanctify you wholly, and may your whole spirit, and soul, and body, be preserved unblameably in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ;

<sup>24</sup> stedfast is He who is calling you, who also will do [it].

<sup>25</sup> Brethren, pray for us;

<sup>26</sup> salute all the brethren in an holy kiss;

<sup>27</sup> I charge you [by] the Lord, that the letter be read to all the holy brethren;

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS

<sup>1</sup> Paul, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, to the assembly of Thessalonians in God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ:

<sup>2</sup> Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ!

<sup>3</sup> We ought to give thanks to God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because increase greatly doth your faith, and abound doth the love of each one of you all, to one another;

<sup>4</sup> so that we ourselves do glory in you in the assemblies of God, for your endurance and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye bear;

<sup>5</sup> a token of the righteous judgment of God, for your being counted worthy of the reign of God, for which also ye suffer,

<sup>6</sup> since [it is] a righteous thing with God to give back to those troubling you — trouble,

<sup>7</sup> and to you who are troubled — rest with us in the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven, with messengers of his power,

<sup>8</sup> in flaming fire, giving vengeance to those not knowing God, and to those not obeying the good news of our Lord Jesus Christ;

<sup>9</sup> who shall suffer justice — destruction age-during — from the face of the Lord, and from the glory of his strength,

<sup>10</sup> when He may come to be glorified in his saints, and to be wondered at in all those believing — because our testimony was believed among you — in that day;

<sup>11</sup> for which also we do pray always for you, that our God may count you worthy of the calling, and may fulfil all the good pleasure of goodness, and the work of the faith in power,

<sup>12</sup> that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and Lord Jesus Christ.

2

<sup>1</sup> And we ask you, brethren, in regard to the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ, and of our gathering together unto him,

<sup>2</sup> that ye be not quickly shaken in mind, nor be troubled, neither through spirit, neither through word, neither through letters as through us, as that the day of Christ hath arrived;

<sup>3</sup> let not any one deceive you in any manner, because — if the falling away may not come first, and the man of sin be revealed — the son of the destruction,

<sup>4</sup> who is opposing and is raising himself up above all called God or worshipped, so that he in the sanctuary of God as God hath sat down, shewing himself off that he is God — [the day doth not come].

<sup>5</sup> Do ye not remember that, being yet with you, these things I said to you?

<sup>6</sup> and now, what is keeping down ye have known, for his being revealed in his own time,

<sup>7</sup> for the secret of the lawlessness doth already work, only he who is keeping down now [will hinder] — till he may be out of the way,

<sup>8</sup> and then shall be revealed the Lawless One, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the manifestation of his presence,

<sup>9</sup> [him,] whose presence is according to the working of the Adversary, in all power, and signs, and lying wonders,

<sup>10</sup> and in all deceitfulness of the unrighteousness in those perishing, because the love of the truth they did not receive for their being saved,

<sup>11</sup> and because of this shall God send to them a working of delusion, for their believing the lie, <sup>12</sup> that they may be judged — all who did not believe the truth, but were well pleased in the unrighteousness.

<sup>13</sup> And we — we ought to give thanks to God always for you, brethren, beloved by the Lord, that God did choose you from the beginning to salvation, in sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth,

<sup>14</sup> to which He did call you through our good news, to the acquiring of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ;

<sup>15</sup> so, then, brethren, stand ye fast, and hold the deliverances that ye were taught, whether through word, whether through our letter;

<sup>16</sup> and may our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and our God and Father, who did love us, and did give comfort age-during, and good hope in grace, <sup>17</sup> comfort your hearts, and establish you in every good word and work.

<sup>1</sup> As to the rest, pray ye, brethren, concerning us, that the word of the Lord may run and may be glorified, as also with you,

<sup>2</sup> and that we may be delivered from the unreasonable and evil men, for the faith [is] not of all;

<sup>3</sup> and stedfast is the Lord, who shall establish you, and shall guard [you] from the evil;

<sup>4</sup> and we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that the things that we command you ye both do and will do;

<sup>5</sup> and the Lord direct your hearts to the love of God, and to the endurance of the Christ.

<sup>6</sup> And we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to withdraw yourselves from every brother disorderly walking, and not after the deliverance that ye received from us,

<sup>7</sup> for yourselves have known how it behoveth [you] to imitate us, because we did not act disorderly among you;

<sup>8</sup> nor for nought did we eat bread of any one, but in labour and in travail, night and day working, not to be chargeable to any of you;

<sup>9</sup> not because we have not authority, but that ourselves a pattern we might give to you, to imitate us;

<sup>10</sup> for even when we were with you, this we did command you, that if any one is not willing to work, neither let him eat,

<sup>11</sup> for we hear of certain walking among you disorderly, nothing working, but over working,

<sup>12</sup> and such we command and exhort through our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness working, their own bread they may eat;

<sup>13</sup> and ye, brethren, may ye not be weary doing well,

<sup>14</sup> and if any one do not obey our word through the letter, this one note ye, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed,

<sup>15</sup> and as an enemy count [him] not, but admonish ye [him] as a brother;

<sup>16</sup> and may the Lord of the peace Himself give to you the peace always in every way; the Lord [is] with you all!

<sup>17</sup> The salutation by the hand of me, Paul, which is a sign in every letter; thus I write;

<sup>18</sup> the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [is] with you all! Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO TIMOTHY

<sup>1</sup> Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to a command of God our Saviour, and of the Lord Jesus Christ our hope,

<sup>2</sup> to Timotheus — genuine child in faith: Grace, kindness, peace, from God our Father, and Christ Jesus our Lord,

<sup>3</sup> according as I did exhort thee to remain in Ephesus — I going on to Macedonia — that thou mightest charge certain not to teach any other thing,

<sup>4</sup> nor to give heed to fables and endless genealogies, that cause questions rather than the building up of God that is in faith: —

<sup>5</sup> And the end of the charge is love out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned,

<sup>6</sup> from which certain, having swerved, did turn aside to vain discourse,

<sup>7</sup> willing to be teachers of law, not understanding either the things they say, nor concerning what they asseverate,

<sup>8</sup> and we have known that the law [is] good, if any one may use it lawfully;

<sup>9</sup> having known this, that for a righteous man law is not set, but for lawless and insubordinate persons, ungodly and sinners, impious and profane, parricides and matricides, men-slayers,

<sup>10</sup> whoremongers, sodomites, men-stealers, liars, perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that to sound doctrine is adverse,

<sup>11</sup> according to the good news of the glory of the blessed God, with which I was entrusted.

<sup>12</sup> And I give thanks to him who enabled me — Christ Jesus our Lord — that he did reckon me stedfast, having put [me] to the ministration,

<sup>13</sup> who before was speaking evil, and persecuting, and insulting, but I found kindness, because, being ignorant, I did [it] in unbelief,

<sup>14</sup> and exceedingly abound did the grace of our Lord, with faith and love that [is] in Christ Jesus:

<sup>15</sup> stedfast [is] the word, and of all acceptation worthy, that Christ Jesus came to the world to save sinners — first of whom I am;

<sup>16</sup> but because of this I found kindness, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all long-suffering, for a pattern of those about to believe on him to life age-during:

<sup>17</sup> and to the King of the ages, the incorruptible, invisible, only wise God, [is] honour and glory — to the ages of the ages! Amen.

<sup>18</sup> This charge I commit to thee, child Timotheus, according to the prophecies that went before upon thee, that thou mayest war in them the good warfare,

<sup>19</sup> having faith and a good conscience, which certain having thrust away, concerning the faith did make shipwreck,

<sup>20</sup> of whom are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I did deliver to the Adversary, that they might be instructed not to speak evil.

2

<sup>1</sup> I exhort, then, first of all, there be made supplications, prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings, for all men:

<sup>2</sup> for kings, and all who are in authority, that a quiet and peaceable life we may lead in all piety and gravity,

<sup>4</sup> who doth will all men to be saved, and to come to the full knowledge of the truth;
<sup>5</sup> for one [is] God, one also [is] mediator of God and of men, the man Christ Jesus,
<sup>6</sup> who did give himself a ransom for all — the testimony in its own times —
<sup>7</sup> in regard to which I was set a preacher and apostle — truth I say in Christ, I do not lie — a teacher of nations, in faith and truth.
<sup>8</sup> I wish, therefore, that men pray in every place, lifting up kind hands, apart from anger and reasoning;
<sup>9</sup> in like manner also the women, in becoming apparel, with modesty and sobriety to adorn themselves, not in braided hair, or gold, or pearls, or garments of great price, <sup>10</sup> but — which becometh women professing godly piety — through good works.
<sup>12</sup> and a woman I do not suffer to teach, nor to rule a husband, but to be in quietness,
<sup>13</sup> for Adam was first formed, then Eve,
<sup>14</sup> and Adam was not deceived, but the woman, having been deceived, into transgression came,
<sup>15</sup> and she shall be saved through the child-bearing, if they remain in faith, and love, and sanctification, with sobriety.

<sup>2</sup> it behoveth, therefore, the overseer to be blameless, of one wife a husband, vigilant, sober, decent, a friend of strangers, apt to teach,
<sup>3</sup> not given to wine, not a striker, not given to filthy lucre, but gentle, not contentious, not a lover of money,
<sup>5</sup> (and if any one his own house [how] to lead hath not known, how an assembly of God shall he take care of?)
<sup>6</sup> not a new convert, lest having been puffed up he may fall to a judgment of the devil;
<sup>7</sup> and it behoveth him also to have a good testimony from those without, that he may not fall into reproach and a snare of the devil.
<sup>8</sup> Ministrants — in like manner grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not given to filthy lucre,
<sup>10</sup> and let these also first be proved, then let them minister, being unblameable.
<sup>13</sup> for those who did minister well a good step to themselves do acquire, and much boldness in faith that [is] in Christ Jesus.
<sup>14</sup> These things I write to thee, hoping to come unto thee soon,

<sup>15</sup> and if I delay, that thou mayest know how it behoveth [thee] to conduct thyself in the house of God, which is an assembly of the living God – a pillar and foundation of the truth,

4

<sup>1</sup> And the Spirit expressly speaketh, that in latter times shall certain fall away from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and teachings of demons,

<sup>3</sup> forbidding to marry – to abstain from meats that God created to be received with thanksgiving by those believing and acknowledging the truth,

<sup>4</sup> because every creature of God [is] good, and nothing [is] to be rejected, with thanksgiving being received,

<sup>5</sup> for it is sanctified through the word of God and intercession.

<sup>6</sup> These things placing before the brethren, thou shalt be a good ministrant of Jesus Christ, being nourished by the words of the faith, and of the good teaching, which thou didst follow after,

<sup>7</sup> and the profane and old women's fables reject thou, and exercise thyself unto piety,

<sup>8</sup> for the bodily exercise is unto little profit, and the piety is to all things profitable, a promise having of the life that now is, and of that which is coming;

<sup>9</sup> stedfast [is] the word, and of all acceptation worthy;

<sup>10</sup> for for this we both labour and are reproached, because we hope on the living God, who is Saviour of all men – especially of those believing.

<sup>12</sup> let no one despise thy youth, but a pattern become thou of those believing in word, in behaviour, in love, in spirit, in faith, in purity;

<sup>13</sup> till I come, give heed to the reading, to the exhortation, to the teaching;

<sup>14</sup> be not careless of the gift in thee, that was given thee through prophecy, with laying on of the hands of the eldership;

<sup>15</sup> of these things be careful; in these things be, that thy advancement may be manifest in all things;

<sup>16</sup> take heed to thyself, and to the teaching; remain in them, for this thing doing, both thyself thou shalt save, and those hearing thee.

5

<sup>1</sup> An aged person thou mayest not rebuke, but be entreating as a father; younger persons as brethren;

<sup>4</sup> and if any widow have children or grandchildren, let them learn first to their own house to show piety, and to give back a recompense to the parents, for this is right and acceptable before God.

<sup>5</sup> And she who is really a widow and desolate, hath hoped upon God, and doth remain in the supplications and in the prayers night and day,

<sup>6</sup> and she who is given to luxury, living – hath died;

<sup>7</sup> and these things charge, that they may be blameless;

<sup>8</sup> and if any one for his own — and especially for those of the household — doth not provide, the faith he hath denied, and than an unbeliever he is worse.

<sup>9</sup> A widow — let her not be enrolled under sixty years of age, having been a wife of one husband,

<sup>10</sup> in good works being testified to: if she brought up children, if she entertained strangers, if saints' feet she washed, if those in tribulation she relieved, if every good work she followed after;

<sup>11</sup> and younger widows be refusing, for when they may revel against the Christ, they wish to marry,

<sup>13</sup> and at the same time also, they learn [to be] idle, going about the houses; and not only idle, but also tattlers and busybodies, speaking the things they ought not;

<sup>14</sup> I wish, therefore, younger ones to marry, to bear children, to be mistress of the house, to give no occasion to the opposer to reviling;

<sup>15</sup> for already certain did turn aside after the Adversary.

<sup>16</sup> If any believing man or believing woman have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the assembly be burdened, that those really widows it may relieve.

<sup>17</sup> The well-leading elders of double honour let them be counted worthy, especially those labouring in word and teaching,

<sup>18</sup> for the Writing saith, 'An ox treading out thou shalt not muzzle,' and 'Worthy [is] the workman of his reward.'

<sup>19</sup> Against an elder an accusation receive not, except upon two or three witnesses.

<sup>20</sup> Those sinning, reprove before all, that the others also may have fear;

<sup>21</sup> I testify fully, before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the choice messengers, that these things thou mayest keep, without forejudging, doing nothing by partiality.

<sup>23</sup> no longer be drinking water, but a little wine be using, because of thy stomach and of thine often infirmities;

<sup>24</sup> of certain men the sins are manifest beforehand, leading before to judgment, and certain also they follow after;

<sup>25</sup> in like manner also the right works are manifest beforehand, and those that are otherwise are not able to be hid.

6

<sup>1</sup> As many as are servants under a yoke, their own masters worthy of all honour let them reckon, that the name of God and the teaching may not be evil spoken of;

<sup>2</sup> and those having believing masters, let them not slight [them], because they are brethren, but rather let them serve, because they are steadfast and beloved, who of the benefit are partaking. These things be teaching and exhorting;

<sup>3</sup> if any one be teaching otherwise, and do not consent to sound words — those of our Lord Jesus Christ — and to the teaching according to piety,

<sup>4</sup> he is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and word-striving, out of which doth come envy, strife, evil-speakings, evil-surmisings,

<sup>5</sup> wranglings of men wholly corrupted in mind, and destitute of the truth, supposing the piety to be gain; depart from such;

<sup>7</sup> for nothing did we bring into the world — [it is] manifest that we are able to carry nothing out;

<sup>8</sup> but having food and raiment — with these we shall suffice ourselves;

<sup>9</sup> and those wishing to be rich, do fall into temptation and a snare, and many desires, foolish and hurtful, that sink men into ruin and destruction,

<sup>10</sup> for a root of all the evils is the love of money, which certain longing for did go astray from the faith, and themselves did pierce through with many sorrows;

<sup>11</sup> and thou, O man of God, these things flee, and pursue righteousness, piety, faith, love, endurance, meekness;

<sup>13</sup> I charge thee, before God, who is making all things alive, and of Christ Jesus, who did testify before Pontius Pilate the right profession,

<sup>14</sup> that thou keep the command unspotted, unblameable, till the manifestation of our Lord Jesus Christ,

<sup>15</sup> which in His own times He shall shew — the blessed and only potentate, the King of the kings and Lord of the lords,

<sup>16</sup> who only is having immortality, dwelling in light unapproachable, whom no one of men did see, nor is able to see, to whom [is] honour and might age-during! Amen.

<sup>17</sup> Those rich in the present age charge thou not to be high-minded, nor to hope in the uncertainty of riches, but in the living God, who is giving to us all things richly for enjoyment; —

<sup>18</sup> to do good, to be rich in good works, to be ready to impart, willing to communicate,

<sup>20</sup> O Timotheus, the thing entrusted guard thou, avoiding the profane vain-words and opposition of the falsely-named knowledge, <sup>21</sup> which certain professing — concerning the faith did swerve; the grace [is] with you. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO TIMOTHY

<sup>1</sup> Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ, through the will of God, according to a promise of life that [is] in Christ Jesus,

<sup>2</sup> to Timotheus, beloved child: Grace, kindness, peace, from God the Father, and Christ Jesus our Lord!

<sup>3</sup> I am thankful to God, whom I serve from progenitors in a pure conscience, that unceasingly I have remembrance concerning thee in my supplications night and day,

<sup>4</sup> desiring greatly to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that with joy I may be filled,

<sup>5</sup> taking remembrance of the unfeigned faith that is in thee, that dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice, and I am persuaded that also in thee.

<sup>6</sup> For which cause I remind thee to stir up the gift of God that is in thee through the putting on of my hands,

<sup>7</sup> for God did not give us a spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind;

<sup>8</sup> therefore thou mayest not be ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but do thou suffer evil along with the good news according to the power of God,

<sup>9</sup> who did save us, and did call with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to His own purpose and grace, that was given to us in Christ Jesus, before the times of the ages,

<sup>10</sup> and was made manifest now through the manifestation of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who indeed did abolish death, and did enlighten life and immortality through the good news,

<sup>11</sup> to which I was placed a preacher and an apostle, and a teacher of nations,

<sup>12</sup> for which cause also these things I suffer, but I am not ashamed, for I have known in whom I have believed, and have been persuaded that he is able that which I have committed to him to guard — to that day.

<sup>13</sup> The pattern hold thou of sound words, which from me thou didst hear, in faith and love that [is] in Christ Jesus;

<sup>14</sup> the good thing committed guard thou through the Holy Spirit that is dwelling in us;

<sup>15</sup> thou hast known this, that they did turn from me — all those in Asia, of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes;

<sup>16</sup> may the Lord give kindness to the house of Onesiphorus, because many times he did refresh me, and of my chain was not ashamed,

<sup>17</sup> but being in Rome, very diligently he sought me, and found;

<sup>18</sup> may the Lord give to him to find kindness from the Lord in that day; and how many things in Ephesus he did minister thou dost very well know.

2

<sup>1</sup> Thou, therefore, my child, be strong in the grace that [is] in Christ Jesus,

<sup>2</sup> and the things that thou didst hear from me through many witnesses, these things be committing to stedfast men, who shall be sufficient also others to teach;

<sup>3</sup> thou, therefore, suffer evil as a good soldier of Jesus Christ;

<sup>4</sup> no one serving as a soldier did entangle himself with the affairs of life, that him who did enlist him he may please;

<sup>5</sup> and if also any one may strive, he is not crowned, except he may strive lawfully;

<sup>7</sup> be considering what things I say, for the Lord give to thee understanding in all things.

<sup>8</sup> Remember Jesus Christ, raised out of the dead, of the seed of David, according to my good news,

<sup>9</sup> in which I suffer evil – unto bonds, as an evil-doer, but the word of God hath not been bound;

<sup>10</sup> because of this all things do I endure, because of the choice ones, that they also salvation may obtain that [is] in Christ Jesus, with glory age-during.

<sup>11</sup> Stedfast [is] the word: For if we died together – we also shall live together;

<sup>12</sup> if we do endure together – we shall also reign together; if we deny [him], he also shall deny us;

<sup>13</sup> if we are not stedfast, he remaineth stedfast; to deny himself he is not able.

<sup>14</sup> These things remind [them] of, testifying fully before the Lord – not to strive about words to nothing profitable, but to the subversion of those hearing;

<sup>15</sup> be diligent to present thyself approved to God – a workman irreproachable, rightly dividing the word of the truth;

<sup>16</sup> and the profane vain talkings stand aloof from, for to more impiety they will advance,

<sup>17</sup> and their word as a gangrene will have pasture, of whom is Hymenaeus and Philetus,

<sup>18</sup> who concerning the truth did swerve, saying the rising again to have already been, and do overthrow the faith of some;

<sup>19</sup> sure, nevertheless, hath the foundation of God stood, having this seal, 'The Lord hath known those who are His,' and 'Let him depart from unrighteousness – every one who is naming the name of Christ.'

<sup>20</sup> And in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth, and some to honour, and some to dishonour:

<sup>21</sup> if, then, any one may cleanse himself from these, he shall be a vessel to honour, sanctified and profitable to the master – to every good work having been prepared,

<sup>22</sup> and the youthful lusts flee thou, and pursue righteousness, faith, love, peace, with those calling upon the Lord out of a pure heart;

<sup>23</sup> and the foolish and uninstructed questions be avoiding, having known that they beget strife,

<sup>24</sup> and a servant of the Lord it behoveth not to strive, but to be gentle unto all, apt to teach, patient under evil,

<sup>25</sup> in meekness instructing those opposing – if perhaps God may give to them repentance to an acknowledging of the truth,

<sup>26</sup> and they may awake out of the devil's snare, having been caught by him at his will.

3

<sup>1</sup> And this know thou, that in the last days there shall come perilous times,

<sup>5</sup> having a form of piety, and its power having denied; and from these be turning away,
<sup>6</sup> for of these there are those coming into the houses and leading captive the silly women, laden with sins, led away with desires manifold,
<sup>7</sup> always learning, and never to a knowledge of truth able to come,
<sup>8</sup> and, even as Jannes and Jambres stood against Moses, so also these do stand against the truth, men corrupted in mind, disapproved concerning the faith;
<sup>9</sup> but they shall not advance any further, for their folly shall be manifest to all, as theirs also did become.
<sup>10</sup> And thou — thou hast followed after my teaching, manner of life, purpose, faith, long-suffering, love, endurance,
<sup>11</sup> the persecutions, the afflictions, that befell me in Antioch, in Iconium, in Lystra; what persecutions I endured, and out of all the Lord did deliver me,
<sup>12</sup> and all also who will to live piously in Christ Jesus shall be persecuted,
<sup>13</sup> and evil men and impostors shall advance to the worse, leading astray and being led astray.
<sup>14</sup> And thou — be remaining in the things which thou didst learn and wast entrusted with, having known from whom thou didst learn,
<sup>15</sup> and because from a babe the Holy Writings thou hast known, which are able to make thee wise — to salvation, through faith that [is] in Christ Jesus;
<sup>16</sup> every Writing [is] God-breathed, and profitable for teaching, for conviction, for setting aright, for instruction that [is] in righteousness,
<sup>17</sup> that the man of God may be fitted — for every good work having been completed.

4

<sup>1</sup> I do fully testify, then, before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who is about to judge living and dead at his manifestation and his reign —
<sup>2</sup> preach the word; be earnest in season, out of season, convict, rebuke, exhort, in all long-suffering and teaching,
<sup>3</sup> for there shall be a season when the sound teaching they will not suffer, but according to their own desires to themselves they shall heap up teachers — itching in the hearing,
<sup>4</sup> and indeed, from the truth the hearing they shall turn away, and to the fables they shall be turned aside.
<sup>5</sup> And thou — watch in all things; suffer evil; do the work of one proclaiming good news; of thy ministration make full assurance,
<sup>6</sup> for I am already being poured out, and the time of my release hath arrived;
<sup>7</sup> the good strife I have striven, the course I have finished, the faith I have kept,
<sup>8</sup> henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of the righteousness that the Lord — the Righteous Judge — shall give to me in that day, and not only to me, but also to all those loving his manifestation.
<sup>9</sup> Be diligent to come unto me quickly,

<sup>10</sup> for Demas forsook me, having loved the present age, and went on to Thessalonica, Crescens to Galatia, Titus to Dalmatia,

<sup>11</sup> Lukas only is with me; Markus having taken, bring with thyself, for he is profitable to me for ministration;

<sup>12</sup> and Tychicus I sent to Ephesus;

<sup>13</sup> the cloak that I left in Troas with Carpus, coming, bring thou and the books — especially the parchments.

<sup>14</sup> Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil; may the Lord repay to him according to his works,

<sup>15</sup> of whom also do thou beware, for greatly hath he stood against our words;

<sup>16</sup> in my first defence no one stood with me, but all forsook me, (may it not be reckoned to them!)

<sup>17</sup> and the Lord stood by me, and did strengthen me, that through me the preaching might be fully assured, and all the nations might hear, and I was freed out of the mouth of a lion, <sup>18</sup> and the Lord shall free me from every evil work, and shall save [me] — to his heavenly kingdom; to whom [is] the glory to the ages of the ages! Amen.

<sup>22</sup> The Lord Jesus Christ [is] with thy spirit; the grace [is] with you! Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO TITUS

<sup>1</sup> Paul, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of the choice ones of God, and an acknowledging of truth that [is] according to piety,

<sup>2</sup> upon hope of life age-during, which God, who doth not lie, did promise before times of ages,

<sup>3</sup> (and He manifested in proper times His word,) in preaching, which I was entrusted with, according to a charge of God our Saviour,

<sup>4</sup> to Titus — true child according to a common faith: Grace, kindness, peace, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour!

<sup>5</sup> For this cause left I thee in Crete, that the things lacking thou mayest arrange, and mayest set down in every city elders, as I did appoint to thee;

<sup>6</sup> if any one is blameless, of one wife a husband, having children stedfast, not under accusation of riotous living or insubordinate —

<sup>7</sup> for it behoveth the overseer to be blameless, as God's steward, not self-pleased, nor irascible, not given to wine, not a striker, not given to filthy lucre;

<sup>8</sup> but a lover of strangers, a lover of good men, sober-minded, righteous, kind, self-controlled,

<sup>9</sup> holding — according to the teaching — to the stedfast word, that he may be able also to exhort in the sound teaching, and the gainsayers to convict;

<sup>10</sup> for there are many both insubordinate, vain-talkers, and mind-deceivers — especially they of the circumcision —

<sup>11</sup> whose mouth it behoveth to stop, who whole households do overturn, teaching what things it behoveth not, for filthy lucre's sake.

<sup>12</sup> A certain one of them, a prophet of their own, said — 'Cretans! always liars, evil beasts, lazy bellies!'

<sup>13</sup> this testimony is true; for which cause convict them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith,

<sup>14</sup> not giving heed to Jewish fables and commands of men, turning themselves away from the truth;

<sup>15</sup> all things, indeed, [are] pure to the pure, and to the defiled and unstedfast [is] nothing pure, but of them defiled [are] even the mind and the conscience;

<sup>16</sup> God they profess to know, and in the works they deny [Him], being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work disapproved.

<sup>3</sup> aged women, in like manner, in deportment as doth become sacred persons, not false accusers, to much wine not enslaved, of good things teachers,

<sup>4</sup> that they may make the young women sober-minded, to be lovers of [their] husbands, lovers of [their] children,

<sup>8</sup> discourse sound, irreprehensible, that he who is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having nothing evil to say concerning you.

<sup>9</sup> Servants – to their own masters [are] to be subject, in all things to be well-pleasing, not gainsaying,

<sup>10</sup> not purloining, but showing all good steadfastness, that the teaching of God our Saviour they may adorn in all things.

<sup>11</sup> For the saving grace of God was manifested to all men,

<sup>12</sup> teaching us, that denying the impiety and the worldly desires, soberly and righteously and piously we may live in the present age,

<sup>13</sup> waiting for the blessed hope and manifestation of the glory of our great God and Saviour Jesus Christ,

<sup>14</sup> who did give himself for us, that he might ransom us from all lawlessness, and might purify to himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works;

<sup>15</sup> these things be speaking, and exhorting, and convicting, with all charge; let no one despise thee!

3

<sup>1</sup> Remind them to be subject to principalities and authorities, to obey rule, unto every good work to be ready,

<sup>2</sup> of no one to speak evil, not to be quarrelsome – gentle, showing all meekness to all men,

<sup>3</sup> for we were once – also we – thoughtless, disobedient, led astray, serving desires and pleasures manifold, in malice and envy living, odious – hating one another;

<sup>4</sup> and when the kindness and the love to men of God our Saviour did appear

<sup>5</sup> (not by works that [are] in righteousness that we did but according to His kindness,) He did save us, through a bathing of regeneration, and a renewing of the Holy Spirit,

<sup>6</sup> which He poured upon us richly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour,

<sup>7</sup> that having been declared righteous by His grace, heirs we may become according to the hope of life age-during.

<sup>8</sup> Stedfast [is] the word; and concerning these things I counsel thee to affirm fully, that they may be thoughtful, to be leading in good works – who have believed God; these are the good and profitable things to men, <sup>9</sup> and foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about law, stand away from – for they are unprofitable and vain.

<sup>11</sup> having known that he hath been subverted who [is] such, and doth sin, being self-condemned.

<sup>12</sup> When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come unto me to Nicopolis, for there to winter I have determined.

<sup>13</sup> Zenas the lawyer and Apollos bring diligently on their way, that nothing to them may be lacking, <sup>14</sup> and let them learn – ours also – to be leading in good works to the necessary uses, that they may not be unfruitful.

<sup>15</sup> Salute thee do all those with me; salute those loving us in faith; the grace [is] with you all!

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO PHILEMON

<sup>1</sup> Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timotheus the brother, to Philemon our beloved and fellow-worker,

<sup>2</sup> and Apphia the beloved, and Archippus our fellow-soldier, and the assembly in thy house:

<sup>3</sup> Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ!

<sup>4</sup> I give thanks to my God, always making mention of thee in my prayers,

<sup>5</sup> hearing of thy love and faith that thou hast unto the Lord Jesus and toward all the saints,

<sup>6</sup> that the fellowship of thy faith may become working in the full knowledge of every good thing that [is] in you toward Christ Jesus;

<sup>7</sup> for we have much joy and comfort in thy love, because the bowels of the saints have been refreshed through thee, brother.

<sup>8</sup> Wherefore, having in Christ much boldness to command thee that which is fit —

<sup>9</sup> because of the love I rather entreat, being such an one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ;

<sup>10</sup> I entreat thee concerning my child — whom I did beget in my bonds — Onesimus,

<sup>11</sup> who once was to thee unprofitable, and now is profitable to me and to thee,

<sup>12</sup> whom I did send again, and thou him (that is, my own bowels) receive,

<sup>13</sup> whom I did wish to retain to myself, that in thy behalf he might minister to me in the bonds of the good news,

<sup>14</sup> and apart from thy mind I willed to do nothing, that as of necessity thy good deed may not be, but of willingness,

<sup>15</sup> for perhaps because of this he did depart for an hour, that age-duringly thou mayest have him,

<sup>16</sup> no more as a servant, but above a servant — a brother beloved, especially to me, and how much more to thee, both in the flesh and in the Lord!

<sup>17</sup> If, then, with me thou hast fellowship, receive him as me,

<sup>18</sup> and if he did hurt to thee, or doth owe anything, this to me be reckoning;

<sup>19</sup> I, Paul did write with my hand, I — I will repay; that I may not say that also thyself, besides, to me thou dost owe.

<sup>20</sup> Yes, brother, may I have profit of thee in the Lord; refresh my bowels in the Lord;

<sup>21</sup> having been confident in thy obedience I did write to thee, having known that also above what I may say thou wilt do;

<sup>22</sup> and at the same time also prepare for me a lodging, for I hope that through your prayers I shall be granted to you.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE HEBREWS

<sup>2</sup> in these last days did speak to us in a Son, whom He appointed heir of all things, through whom also He did make the ages;

<sup>3</sup> who being the brightness of the glory, and the impress of His subsistence, bearing up also the all things by the saying of his might — through himself having made a cleansing of our sins, sat down at the right hand of the greatness in the highest,

<sup>4</sup> having become so much better than the messengers, as he did inherit a more excellent name than they.

<sup>5</sup> For to which of the messengers said He ever, 'My Son thou art — I to-day have begotten thee?' and again, 'I will be to him for a father, and he shall be to Me for a son?'

<sup>6</sup> and when again He may bring in the first-born to the world, He saith, 'And let them bow before him — all messengers of God;'

<sup>7</sup> and unto the messengers, indeed, He saith, 'Who is making His messengers spirits, and His ministers a flame of fire;'

<sup>8</sup> and unto the Son: 'Thy throne, O God, [is] to the age of the age; a sceptre of righteousness [is] the sceptre of thy reign;

<sup>10</sup> and, 'Thou, at the beginning, Lord, the earth didst found, and a work of thy hands are the heavens;

<sup>11</sup> these shall perish, and Thou dost remain, and all, as a garment, shall become old,

<sup>12</sup> and as a mantle Thou shall roll them together, and they shall be changed, and Thou art the same, and Thy years shall not fail.'

<sup>13</sup> And unto which of the messengers said He ever, 'Sit at My right hand, till I may make thine enemies thy footstool?'

<sup>14</sup> are they not all spirits of service — for ministration being sent forth because of those about to inherit salvation?

2

<sup>1</sup> Because of this it behoveth [us] more abundantly to take heed to the things heard, lest we may glide aside,

<sup>2</sup> for if the word being spoken through messengers did become steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience did receive a just recompense,

<sup>3</sup> how shall we escape, having neglected so great salvation? which a beginning receiving — to be spoken through the Lord — by those having heard was confirmed to us,

<sup>4</sup> God also bearing joint-witness both with signs and wonders, and manifold powers, and distributions of the Holy Spirit, according to His will.

<sup>5</sup> For not to messengers did He subject the coming world, concerning which we speak,

<sup>6</sup> and one in a certain place did testify fully, saying, 'What is man, that Thou art mindful of him, or a son of man, that Thou dost look after him?'

<sup>7</sup> Thou didst make him some little less than messengers, with glory and honour Thou didst crown him, and didst set him over the works of Thy hands,

<sup>8</sup> all things Thou didst put in subjection under his feet,' for in the subjecting to him the all things, nothing did He leave to him unsubjected, and now not yet do we see the all things subjected to him,

<sup>9</sup> and him who was made some little less than messengers we see — Jesus — because of the suffering of the death, with glory and honour having been crowned, that by the grace of God for every one he might taste of death.

<sup>10</sup> For it was becoming to Him, because of whom [are] the all things, and through whom [are] the all things, many sons to glory bringing, the author of their salvation through sufferings to make perfect,

<sup>11</sup> for both he who is sanctifying and those sanctified [are] all of one, for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

<sup>12</sup> saying, 'I will declare Thy name to my brethren, in the midst of an assembly I will sing praise to Thee;' and again, 'I will be trusting on Him;'

<sup>13</sup> and again, 'Behold I and the children that God did give to me.'

<sup>14</sup> Seeing, then, the children have partaken of flesh and blood, he himself also in like manner did take part of the same, that through death he might destroy him having the power of death — that is, the devil —

<sup>15</sup> and might deliver those, whoever, with fear of death, throughout all their life, were subjects of bondage,

<sup>16</sup> for, doubtless, of messengers it doth not lay hold, but of seed of Abraham it layeth hold,

<sup>17</sup> wherefore it did behove him in all things to be made like to the brethren, that he might become a kind and stedfast chief-priest in the things with God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people,

<sup>18</sup> for in that he suffered, himself being tempted, he is able to help those who are tempted.

3

<sup>1</sup> Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the apostle and chief priest of our profession, Christ Jesus,

<sup>2</sup> being stedfast to Him who did appoint him, as also Moses in all his house,

<sup>3</sup> for of more glory than Moses hath this one been counted worthy, inasmuch as more honour than the house hath he who doth build it,

<sup>4</sup> for every house is builded by some one, and He who the all things did build [is] God,

<sup>5</sup> and Moses indeed [was] stedfast in all his house, as an attendant, for a testimony of those things that were to be spoken,

<sup>6</sup> and Christ, as a Son over his house, whose house are we, if the boldness and the rejoicing of the hope unto the end we hold fast.

<sup>7</sup> Wherefore, (as the Holy Spirit saith, 'To-day, if His voice ye may hear —

<sup>8</sup> ye may not harden your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of the temptation in the wilderness,

<sup>9</sup> in which tempt Me did your fathers, they did prove Me, and saw My works forty years;

<sup>10</sup> wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, Always do they go astray in heart, and these have not known My ways;

<sup>11</sup> so I swear in My anger, If they shall enter into My rest — !')

<sup>12</sup> See, brethren, lest there shall be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief in the falling away from the living God,

<sup>13</sup> but exhort ye one another every day, while the To-day is called, that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of the sin,

<sup>14</sup> for partakers we have become of the Christ, if the beginning of the confidence unto the end we may hold fast,

<sup>15</sup> in its being said, 'To-day, if His voice ye may hear, ye may not harden your hearts, as in the provocation,'

<sup>16</sup> for certain having heard did provoke, but not all who did come out of Egypt through Moses;

<sup>17</sup> but with whom was He grieved forty years? was it not with those who did sin, whose carcasses fell in the wilderness?

<sup>18</sup> and to whom did He swear that they shall not enter into His rest, except to those who did not believe? —

<sup>19</sup> and we see that they were not able to enter in because of unbelief.

4

<sup>1</sup> We may fear, then, lest a promise being left of entering into His rest, any one of you may seem to have come short,

<sup>2</sup> for we also are having good news proclaimed, even as they, but the word heard did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in those who heard,

<sup>3</sup> for we do enter into the rest — we who did believe, as He said, 'So I swear in My anger, If they shall enter into My rest — ;' and yet the works were done from the foundation of the world,

<sup>4</sup> for He spake in a certain place concerning the seventh [day] thus: 'And God did rest in the seventh day from all His works;'

<sup>5</sup> and in this [place] again, 'If they shall enter into My rest — ;'

<sup>6</sup> since then, it remaineth for certain to enter into it, and those who did first hear good news entered not in because of unbelief —

<sup>7</sup> again He doth limit a certain day, 'To-day,' (in David saying, after so long a time,) as it hath been said, 'To-day, if His voice ye may hear, ye may not harden your hearts,'

<sup>8</sup> for if Joshua had given them rest, He would not concerning another day have spoken after these things;

<sup>9</sup> there doth remain, then, a sabbatic rest to the people of God,

<sup>10</sup> for he who did enter into his rest, he also rested from his works, as God from His own.

<sup>11</sup> May we be diligent, then, to enter into that rest, that no one in the same example of the unbelief may fall,

<sup>12</sup> for the reckoning of God is living, and working, and sharp above every two-edged sword, and piercing unto the dividing asunder both of soul and spirit, of joints also and marrow, and a discernor of thoughts and intents of the heart;

<sup>13</sup> and there is not a created thing not manifest before Him, but all things [are] naked and open to His eyes — with whom is our reckoning.

<sup>14</sup> Having, then, a great chief priest passed through the heavens — Jesus the Son of God — may we hold fast the profession,

<sup>15</sup> for we have not a chief priest unable to sympathise with our infirmities, but [one] tempted in all things in like manner — apart from sin;

<sup>16</sup> we may come near, then, with freedom, to the throne of the grace, that we may receive kindness, and find grace — for seasonable help.

5

<sup>1</sup> For every chief priest — out of men taken — in behalf of men is set in things [pertaining] to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins,

<sup>2</sup> able to be gentle to those ignorant and going astray, since himself also is compassed with infirmity;

<sup>3</sup> and because of this infirmity he ought, as for the people, so also for himself to offer for sins;

<sup>4</sup> and no one to himself doth take the honour, but he who is called by God, as also Aaron:

<sup>5</sup> so also the Christ did not glorify himself to become chief priest, but He who spake unto him: 'My Son thou art, I to-day have begotten thee;'

<sup>6</sup> as also in another [place] He saith, 'Thou [art] a priest — to the age, according to the order of Melchisedek;'

<sup>7</sup> who in the days of his flesh both prayers and supplications unto Him who was able to save him from death — with strong crying and tears — having offered up, and having been heard in respect to that which he feared,

<sup>8</sup> through being a Son, did learn by the things which he suffered — the obedience,

<sup>9</sup> and having been made perfect, he did become to all those obeying him a cause of salvation age-during,

<sup>10</sup> having been addressed by God a chief priest, according to the order of Melchisedek,

<sup>11</sup> concerning whom we have much discourse and of hard explanation to say, since ye have become dull of hearing,

<sup>12</sup> for even owing to be teachers, because of the time, again ye have need that one teach you what [are] the elements of the beginning of the oracles of God, and ye have become having need of milk, and not of strong food,

<sup>13</sup> for every one who is partaking of milk [is] unskilled in the word of righteousness — for he is an infant,

<sup>14</sup> and of perfect men is the strong food, who because of the use are having the senses exercised, unto the discernment both of good and of evil.

6

<sup>2</sup> of the teaching of baptisms, of laying on also of hands, of rising again also of the dead, and of judgment age-during,

<sup>3</sup> and this we will do, if God may permit,

<sup>4</sup> for [it is] impossible for those once enlightened, having tasted also of the heavenly gift, and partakers having become of the Holy Spirit,

<sup>5</sup> and did taste the good saying of God, the powers also of the coming age,

<sup>6</sup> and having fallen away, again to renew [them] to reformation, having crucified again to themselves the Son of God, and exposed to public shame.

<sup>7</sup> For earth, that is drinking in the rain many times coming upon it, and is bringing forth herbs fit for those because of whom also it is dressed, doth partake of blessing from God,

<sup>8</sup> and that which is bearing thorns and briers [is] disapproved of, and nigh to cursing, whose end [is] for burning;

<sup>9</sup> and we are persuaded, concerning you, beloved, the things that are better, and accompanying salvation, though even thus we speak,

<sup>10</sup> for God is not unrighteous to forget your work, and the labour of the love, that ye shewed to His name, having ministered to the saints and ministering;

<sup>11</sup> and we desire each one of you the same diligence to shew, unto the full assurance of the hope unto the end,

<sup>12</sup> that ye may not become slothful, but followers of those who through faith and patient endurance are inheriting the promises.

<sup>13</sup> For to Abraham God, having made promise, seeing He was able to swear by no greater, did swear by Himself,

<sup>14</sup> saying, 'Blessing indeed I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee;'

<sup>15</sup> and so, having patiently endured, he did obtain the promise;

<sup>16</sup> for men indeed do swear by the greater, and an end of all controversy to them for confirmation [is] the oath,

<sup>17</sup> in which God, more abundantly willing to shew to the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, did interpose by an oath,

<sup>18</sup> that through two immutable things, in which [it is] impossible for God to lie, a strong comfort we may have who did flee for refuge to lay hold on the hope set before [us],

<sup>19</sup> which we have, as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and entering into that within the veil,

<sup>20</sup> whither a forerunner for us did enter — Jesus, after the order of Melchisedek chief priest having become — to the age.

7

<sup>1</sup> For this Melchisedek, king of Salem, priest of God Most High, who did meet Abraham turning back from the smiting of the kings, and did bless him,

<sup>2</sup> to whom also a tenth of all did Abraham divide, (first, indeed, being interpreted, 'King of righteousness,' and then also, King of Salem, which is, King of Peace,)

<sup>3</sup> without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, and being made like to the Son of God, doth remain a priest continually.

<sup>4</sup> And see how great this one [is], to whom also a tenth Abraham the patriarch did give out of the best of the spoils,

<sup>5</sup> and those, indeed, out of the sons of Levi receiving the priesthood, a command have to take tithes from the people according to the law, that is, their brethren, even though they came forth out of the loins of Abraham;

<sup>6</sup> and he who was not reckoned by genealogy of them, received tithes from Abraham, and him having the promises he hath blessed,

<sup>8</sup> and here, indeed, men who die do receive tithes, and there [he], who is testified to that he was living,

<sup>9</sup> and so to speak, through Abraham even Levi who is receiving tithes, hath paid tithes,

<sup>10</sup> for he was yet in the loins of the father when Melchisedek met him.

<sup>11</sup> If indeed, then, perfection were through the Levitical priesthood — for the people under it had received law — what further need, according to the order of Melchisedek, for another priest to arise, and not to be called according to the order of Aaron?

<sup>12</sup> for the priesthood being changed, of necessity also, of the law a change doth come,

<sup>13</sup> for he of whom these things are said in another tribe hath had part, of whom no one gave attendance at the altar,

<sup>14</sup> for [it is] evident that out of Judah hath arisen our Lord, in regard to which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.

<sup>15</sup> And it is yet more abundantly most evident, if according to the similitude of Melchisedek there doth arise another priest,

<sup>16</sup> who came not according to the law of a fleshly command, but according to the power of an endless life,

<sup>17</sup> for He doth testify — 'Thou [art] a priest — to the age, according to the order of Melchisedek;'

<sup>18</sup> for a disannulling indeed doth come of the command going before because of its weakness, and unprofitableness,

<sup>19</sup> (for nothing did the law perfect) and the bringing in of a better hope, through which we draw nigh to God.

<sup>20</sup> And inasmuch as [it is] not apart from oath, (for those indeed apart from oath are become priests, <sup>21</sup> and he with an oath through Him who is saying unto him, 'The Lord swear, and will not repent, Thou [art] a priest — to the age, according to the order of Melchisedek;')

<sup>22</sup> by so much of a better covenant hath Jesus become surety,

<sup>23</sup> and those indeed are many who have become priests, because by death they are hindered from remaining;

<sup>24</sup> and he, because of his remaining — to the age, hath the priesthood not transient,

<sup>25</sup> whence also he is able to save to the very end, those coming through him unto God — ever living to make intercession for them.

<sup>26</sup> For such a chief priest did become us — kind, harmless, undefiled, separate from the sinners, and become higher than the heavens,

<sup>27</sup> who hath no necessity daily, as the chief priests, first for his own sins to offer up sacrifice, then for those of the people; for this he did once, having offered up himself;

<sup>28</sup> for the law doth appoint men chief priests, having infirmity, but the word of the oath that [is] after the law [appointeth] the Son — to the age having been perfected.

8

<sup>2</sup> of the holy places a servant, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord did set up, and not man,

<sup>3</sup> for every chief priest to offer both gifts and sacrifices is appointed, whence [it is] necessary for this one to have also something that he may offer;

<sup>4</sup> for if, indeed, he were upon earth, he would not be a priest — (there being the priests who are offering according to the law, the gifts,

<sup>5</sup> who unto an example and shadow do serve of the heavenly things, as Moses hath been divinely warned, being about to construct the tabernacle, for 'See (saith He) thou mayest make all things according to the pattern that was shewn to thee in the mount;') —

<sup>6</sup> and now he hath obtained a more excellent service, how much also of a better covenant is he mediator, which on better promises hath been sanctioned,

<sup>7</sup> for if that first were faultless, a place would not have been sought for a second.

<sup>8</sup> For finding fault, He saith to them, 'Lo, days come, saith the Lord, and I will complete with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah, a new covenant,

<sup>9</sup> not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day of My taking [them] by their hand, to bring them out of the land of Egypt — because they did not remain in My covenant, and I did not regard them, saith the Lord, —

<sup>10</sup> because this [is] the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, after those days, saith the Lord, giving My laws into their mind, and upon their hearts I will write them, and I will be to them for a God, and they shall be to Me for a people;

<sup>12</sup> because I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their lawlessnesses I will remember no more;' —

<sup>13</sup> in the saying 'new,' He hath made the first old, and what doth become obsolete and is old [is] nigh disappearing.

9

<sup>1</sup> It had, indeed, then (even the first tabernacle) ordinances of service, also a worldly sanctuary,

<sup>2</sup> for a tabernacle was prepared, the first, in which was both the lamp-stand, and the table, and the bread of the presence — which is called 'Holy;'

<sup>3</sup> and after the second vail a tabernacle that is called 'Holy of holies,'

<sup>4</sup> having a golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid all round about with gold, in which [is] the golden pot having the manna, and the rod of Aaron that budded, and the tables of the covenant,

<sup>5</sup> and over it cherubim of the glory, overshadowing the mercy-seat, concerning which we are not now to speak particularly.

<sup>6</sup> And these things having been thus prepared, into the first tabernacle, indeed, at all times the priests do go in, performing the services,

<sup>7</sup> and into the second, once in the year, only the chief priest, not apart from blood, which he doth offer for himself and the errors of the people,

<sup>8</sup> the Holy Spirit this evidencing that not yet hath been manifested the way of the holy [places], the first tabernacle having yet a standing;

<sup>9</sup> which [is] a simile in regard to the present time, in which both gifts and sacrifices are offered, which are not able, in regard to conscience, to make perfect him who is serving,

<sup>10</sup> only in victuals, and drinks, and different baptisms, and fleshly ordinances — till the time of reformation imposed upon [them].

<sup>11</sup> And Christ being come, chief priest of the coming good things, through the greater and more perfect tabernacle not made with hands — that is, not of this creation —

<sup>12</sup> neither through blood of goats and calves, but through his own blood, did enter in once into the holy places, age-during redemption having obtained;

<sup>13</sup> for if the blood of bulls, and goats, and ashes of an heifer, sprinkling those defiled, doth sanctify to the purifying of the flesh,

<sup>14</sup> how much more shall the blood of the Christ (who through the age-during Spirit did offer himself unblemished to God) purify your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

<sup>15</sup> And because of this, of a new covenant he is mediator, that, death having come, for redemption of the transgressions under the first covenant, those called may receive the promise of the age-during inheritance,

<sup>16</sup> for where a covenant [is], the death of the covenant-victim to come in is necessary,

<sup>17</sup> for a covenant over dead victims [is] steadfast, since it is no force at all when the covenant-victim liveth,

<sup>19</sup> for every command having been spoken, according to law, by Moses, to all the people, having taken the blood of the calves and goats, with water, and scarlet wool, and hyssop, he both the book itself and all the people did sprinkle,

<sup>20</sup> saying, 'This [is] the blood of the covenant that God enjoined unto you,'

<sup>21</sup> and both the tabernacle and all the vessels of the service with blood in like manner he did sprinkle,

<sup>22</sup> and with blood almost all things are purified according to the law, and apart from blood-shedding forgiveness doth not come.

<sup>23</sup> [It is] necessary, therefore, the pattern indeed of the things in the heavens to be purified with these, and the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these;

<sup>24</sup> for not into holy places made with hands did the Christ enter — figures of the true — but into the heaven itself, now to be manifested in the presence of God for us;

<sup>25</sup> nor that he may many times offer himself, even as the chief priest doth enter into the holy places every year with blood of others;

<sup>26</sup> since it had behoved him many times to suffer from the foundation of the world, but now once, at the full end of the ages, for putting away of sin through his sacrifice, he hath been manifested;

<sup>27</sup> and as it is laid up to men once to die, and after this — judgment,

<sup>28</sup> so also the Christ, once having been offered to bear the sins of many, a second time, apart from a sin-offering, shall appear, to those waiting for him — to salvation!

10

<sup>2</sup> since, would they not have ceased to be offered, because of those serving having no more conscience of sins, having once been purified?

<sup>7</sup> then I said, Lo, I come, (in a volume of the book it hath been written concerning me,) to do, O God, Thy will;'

<sup>8</sup> saying above — 'Sacrifice, and offering, and burnt-offerings, and concerning sin-offering Thou didst not will, nor delight in,' — which according to the law are offered —

<sup>9</sup> then he said, 'Lo, I come to do, O God, Thy will;' he doth take away the first that the second he may establish;

<sup>10</sup> in the which will we are having been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once, <sup>11</sup> and every priest, indeed, hath stood daily serving, and the same sacrifices many times offering, that are never able to take away sins.

<sup>12</sup> And He, for sin one sacrifice having offered – to the end, did sit down on the right hand of God, –

<sup>13</sup> as to the rest, expecting till He may place his enemies [as] his footstool,

<sup>14</sup> for by one offering he hath perfected to the end those sanctified;

<sup>15</sup> and testify to us also doth the Holy Spirit, for after that He hath said before,

<sup>16</sup> 'This [is] the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, giving My laws on their hearts, and upon their minds I will write them,'

<sup>17</sup> and 'their sins and their lawlessness I will remember no more;'

<sup>18</sup> and where forgiveness of these [is], there is no more offering for sin.

<sup>19</sup> Having, therefore, brethren, boldness for the entrance into the holy places, in the blood of Jesus,

<sup>20</sup> which way he did initiate for us – new and living, through the vail, that is, his flesh –

<sup>21</sup> and a high priest over the house of God,

<sup>22</sup> may we draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having the hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and having the body bathed with pure water;

<sup>23</sup> may we hold fast the unwavering profession of the hope, (for faithful [is] He who did promise),

<sup>24</sup> and may we consider one another to provoke to love and to good works,

<sup>25</sup> not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as a custom of certain [is], but exhorting, and so much the more as ye see the day coming nigh.

<sup>26</sup> For we – wilfully sinning after the receiving the full knowledge of the truth – no more for sins doth there remain a sacrifice,

<sup>27</sup> but a certain fearful looking for of judgment, and fiery zeal, about to devour the opposers;

<sup>28</sup> any one who did set at nought a law of Moses, apart from mercies, by two or three witnesses, doth die,

<sup>29</sup> of how much sorer punishment shall he be counted worthy who the Son of God did trample on, and the blood of the covenant did count a common thing, in which he was sanctified, and to the Spirit of the grace did despise?

<sup>30</sup> for we have known Him who is saying, 'Vengeance [is] Mine, I will recompense, saith the Lord;' and again, 'The Lord shall judge His people;' –

<sup>32</sup> And call to your remembrance the former days, in which, having been enlightened, ye did endure much conflict of sufferings,

<sup>33</sup> partly both with reproaches and tribulations being made spectacles, and partly having become partners of those so living,

<sup>34</sup> for also with my bonds ye sympathised, and the robbery of your goods with joy ye did receive, knowing that ye have in yourselves a better substance in the heavens, and an enduring one.

<sup>35</sup> Ye may not cast away, then, your boldness, which hath great recompense of reward,

<sup>36</sup> for of patience ye have need, that the will of God having done, ye may receive the promise,

<sup>37</sup> for yet a very very little, He who is coming will come, and will not tarry;

<sup>38</sup> and 'the righteous by faith shall live,' and 'if he may draw back, My soul hath no pleasure in him,' <sup>39</sup> and we are not of those drawing back to destruction, but of those believing to a preserving of soul.

11

<sup>1</sup> And faith is of things hoped for a confidence, of matters not seen a conviction,

<sup>3</sup> by faith we understand the ages to have been prepared by a saying of God, in regard to the things seen not having come out of things appearing;

<sup>4</sup> by faith a better sacrifice did Abel offer to God than Cain, through which he was testified to be righteous, God testifying of his gifts, and through it, he being dead, doth yet speak.

<sup>5</sup> By faith Enoch was translated — not to see death, and was not found, because God did translate him; for before his translation he had been testified to — that he had pleased God well,

<sup>6</sup> and apart from faith it is impossible to please well, for it behoveth him who is coming to God to believe that He is, and to those seeking Him He becometh a rewarder.

<sup>7</sup> By faith Noah, having been divinely warned concerning the things not yet seen, having feared, did prepare an ark to the salvation of his house, through which he did condemn the world, and of the righteousness according to faith he became heir.

<sup>8</sup> By faith Abraham, being called, did obey, to go forth to the place that he was about to receive for an inheritance, and he went forth, not knowing whither he doth go;

<sup>9</sup> by faith he did sojourn in the land of the promise as a strange country, in tabernacles having dwelt with Isaac and Jacob, fellow-heirs of the same promise,

<sup>10</sup> for he was looking for the city having the foundations, whose artificer and constructor [is] God.

<sup>11</sup> By faith also Sarah herself did receive power to conceive seed, and she bare after the time of life, seeing she did judge Him faithful who did promise;

<sup>12</sup> wherefore, also from one were begotten — and that of one who had become dead — as the stars of the heaven in multitude, and as sand that [is] by the sea-shore — the innumerable.

<sup>13</sup> In faith died all these, not having received the promises, but from afar having seen them, and having been persuaded, and having saluted [them], and having confessed that strangers and sojourners they are upon the earth,

<sup>14</sup> for those saying such things make manifest that they seek a country;

<sup>15</sup> and if, indeed, they had been mindful of that from which they came forth, they might have had an opportunity to return,

<sup>16</sup> but now they long for a better, that is, an heavenly, wherefore God is not ashamed of them, to be called their God, for He did prepare for them a city.

<sup>17</sup> By faith Abraham hath offered up Isaac, being tried, and the only begotten he did offer up who did receive the promises,

<sup>18</sup> of whom it was said — 'In Isaac shall a seed be called to thee;'

<sup>19</sup> reckoning that even out of the dead God is able to raise up, whence also in a figure he did receive [him].

<sup>21</sup> by faith Jacob dying — each of the sons of Joseph did bless, and did bow down upon the top of his staff;

<sup>22</sup> by faith, Joseph dying, concerning the outgoing of the sons of Israel did make mention, and concerning his bones did give command.

<sup>23</sup> By faith Moses, having been born, was hid three months by his parents, because they saw the child comely, and were not afraid of the decree of the king;

<sup>24</sup> by faith Moses, having become great, did refuse to be called a son of the daughter of Pharaoh,

<sup>25</sup> having chosen rather to be afflicted with the people of God, than to have sin's pleasure for a season,

<sup>26</sup> greater wealth having reckoned the reproach of the Christ than the treasures in Egypt, for he did look to the recompense of reward;

<sup>27</sup> by faith he left Egypt behind, not having been afraid of the wrath of the king, for, as seeing the Invisible One — he endured;

<sup>28</sup> by faith he kept the passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that He who is destroying the first-born might not touch them.

<sup>29</sup> By faith they did pass through the Red Sea as through dry land, which the Egyptians having received a trial of, were swallowed up;

<sup>30</sup> by faith the walls of Jericho did fall, having been surrounded for seven days;

<sup>31</sup> by faith Rahab the harlot did not perish with those who disbelieved, having received the spies with peace.

<sup>32</sup> And what shall I yet say? for the time will fail me recounting about Gideon, Barak also, and Samson, and Jephthah, David also, and Samuel, and the prophets,

<sup>33</sup> who through faith did subdue kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped mouths of lions,

<sup>34</sup> quenched the power of fire, escaped the mouth of the sword, were made powerful out of infirmities, became strong in battle, caused to give way camps of the aliens.

<sup>35</sup> Women received by a rising again their dead, and others were tortured, not accepting the redemption, that a better rising again they might receive,

<sup>36</sup> and others of mockings and scourgings did receive trial, and yet of bonds and imprisonment;

<sup>37</sup> they were stoned, they were sawn asunder, they were tried; in the killing of the sword they died; they went about in sheepskins, in goatskins — being destitute, afflicted, injuriously treated,

<sup>38</sup> of whom the world was not worthy; in deserts wandering, and [in] mountains, and [in] caves, and [in] the holes of the earth;

<sup>39</sup> and these all, having been testified to through the faith, did not receive the promise,

<sup>40</sup> God for us something better having provided, that apart from us they might not be made perfect.

12

<sup>1</sup> Therefore, we also having so great a cloud of witnesses set around us, every weight having put off, and the closely besetting sin, through endurance may we run the contest that is set before us,

<sup>2</sup> looking to the author and perfecter of faith — Jesus, who, over-against the joy set before him — did endure a cross, shame having despised, on the right hand also of the throne of God did sit down;

<sup>3</sup> for consider again him who endured such gainsaying from the sinners to himself, that ye may not be wearied in your souls — being faint.

<sup>5</sup> and ye have forgotten the exhortation that doth speak fully with you as with sons, 'My son, be not despising chastening of the Lord, nor be faint, being reproved by Him,

<sup>6</sup> for whom the Lord doth love He doth chasten, and He scourgeth every son whom He receiveth;'

<sup>7</sup> if chastening ye endure, as to sons God beareth Himself to you, for who is a son whom a father doth not chasten?

<sup>8</sup> and if ye are apart from chastening, of which all have become partakers, then bastards are ye, and not sons.

<sup>9</sup> Then, indeed, fathers of our flesh we have had, chastising [us], and we were reverencing [them]; shall we not much rather be subject to the Father of the spirits, and live?

<sup>10</sup> for they, indeed, for a few days, according to what seemed good to them, were chastening, but He for profit, to be partakers of His separation;

<sup>11</sup> and all chastening for the present, indeed, doth not seem to be of joy, but of sorrow, yet afterward the peaceable fruit of righteousness to those exercised through it — it doth yield.

<sup>12</sup> Wherefore, the hanging-down hands and the loosened knees set ye up;

<sup>13</sup> and straight paths make for your feet, that that which is lame may not be turned aside, but rather be healed;

<sup>14</sup> peace pursue with all, and the separation, apart from which no one shall see the Lord,

<sup>15</sup> looking diligently over lest any one be failing of the grace of God, lest any root of bitterness springing up may give trouble, and through this many may be defiled;

<sup>16</sup> lest any one be a fornicator, or a profane person, as Esau, who in exchange for one morsel of food did sell his birthright,

<sup>17</sup> for ye know that also afterwards, wishing to inherit the blessing, he was disapproved of, for a place of reformation he found not, though with tears having sought it.

<sup>18</sup> For ye came not near to the mount touched and scorched with fire, and to blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

<sup>19</sup> and a sound of a trumpet, and a voice of sayings, which those having heard did entreat that a word might not be added to them,

<sup>20</sup> for they were not bearing that which is commanded, 'And if a beast may touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or with an arrow shot through,'

<sup>21</sup> and, (so terrible was the sight,) Moses said, 'I am fearful exceedingly, and trembling.'

<sup>22</sup> But, ye came to Mount Zion, and to a city of the living God, to the heavenly Jerusalem, and to myriads of messengers,

<sup>23</sup> to the company and assembly of the first-born in heaven enrolled, and to God the judge of all, and to spirits of righteous men made perfect,

<sup>24</sup> and to a mediator of a new covenant — Jesus, and to blood of sprinkling, speaking better things than that of Abel!

<sup>25</sup> See, may ye not refuse him who is speaking, for if those did not escape who refused him who upon earth was divinely speaking – much less we who do turn away from him who [speaketh] from heaven,

<sup>26</sup> whose voice the earth shook then, and now hath he promised, saying, 'Yet once – I shake not only the earth, but also the heaven;'

<sup>27</sup> and this – 'Yet once' – doth make evident the removal of the things shaken, as of things having been made, that the things not shaken may remain;

<sup>28</sup> wherefore, a kingdom that cannot be shaken receiving, may we have grace, through which we may serve God well-pleasingly, with reverence and religious fear;

<sup>29</sup> for also our God [is] a consuming fire.

13

<sup>2</sup> of the hospitality be not forgetful, for through this unawares certain did entertain messengers;

<sup>3</sup> be mindful of those in bonds, as having been bound with them, of those maltreated, as also yourselves being in the body;

<sup>4</sup> honourable [is] the marriage in all, and the bed undefiled, and whoremongers and adulterers God shall judge.

<sup>5</sup> Without covetousness the behaviour, being content with the things present, for He hath said, 'No, I will not leave, no, nor forsake thee,'

<sup>6</sup> so that we do boldly say, 'The Lord [is] to me a helper, and I will not fear what man shall do to me.'

<sup>7</sup> Be mindful of those leading you, who did speak to you the word of God, whose faith – considering the issue of the behaviour – be imitating,

<sup>8</sup> Jesus Christ yesterday and to-day the same, and to the ages;

<sup>9</sup> with teachings manifold and strange be not carried about, for [it is] good that by grace the heart be confirmed, not with meats, in which they who were occupied were not profited;

<sup>10</sup> we have an altar, of which to eat they have no authority who the tabernacle are serving,

<sup>11</sup> for of those beasts whose blood is brought for sin into the holy places through the chief priest – of these the bodies are burned without the camp.

<sup>12</sup> Wherefore, also Jesus – that he might sanctify through [his] own blood the people – without the gate did suffer;

<sup>13</sup> now, then, may we go forth unto him without the camp, his reproach bearing;

<sup>14</sup> for we have not here an abiding city, but the coming one we seek;

<sup>15</sup> through him, then, we may offer up a sacrifice of praise always to God, that is, the fruit of lips, giving thanks to His name;

<sup>16</sup> and of doing good, and of fellowship, be not forgetful, for with such sacrifices God is well-pleased.

<sup>17</sup> Be obedient to those leading you, and be subject, for these do watch for your souls, as about to give account, that with joy they may do this, and not sighing, for this [is] unprofitable to you.

<sup>18</sup> Pray for us, for we trust that we have a good conscience, in all things willing to behave well,

<sup>19</sup> and more abundantly do I call upon [you] to do this, that more quickly I may be restored to you.

<sup>20</sup> And the God of the peace, who did bring up out of the dead the great shepherd of the sheep – in the blood of an age-during covenant – our Lord Jesus,

<sup>21</sup> make you perfect in every good work to do His will, doing in you that which is well-pleasing before Him, through Jesus Christ, to whom [is] the glory – to the ages of the ages! Amen.

<sup>22</sup> And I entreat you, brethren, suffer the word of the exhortation, for also through few words I have written to you.

<sup>23</sup> Know ye that the brother Timotheus is released, with whom, if he may come more shortly, I will see you.

<sup>24</sup> Salute all those leading you, and all the saints; salute you doth those from Italy:

<sup>25</sup> the grace [is] with you all! Amen.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF JAMES

<sup>1</sup> James, of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ a servant, to the Twelve Tribes who are in the dispersion: Hail!

<sup>2</sup> All joy count [it], my brethren, when ye may fall into temptations manifold;

<sup>4</sup> and let the endurance have a perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire — in nothing lacking;

<sup>5</sup> and if any of you do lack wisdom, let him ask from God, who is giving to all liberally, and not reproaching, and it shall be given to him;

<sup>6</sup> and let him ask in faith, nothing doubting, for he who is doubting hath been like a wave of the sea, driven by wind and tossed,

<sup>7</sup> for let not that man suppose that he shall receive anything from the Lord

<sup>8</sup> a two-souled man [is] unstable in all his ways.

<sup>9</sup> And let the brother who is low rejoice in his exaltation,

<sup>10</sup> and the rich in his becoming low, because as a flower of grass he shall pass away;

<sup>11</sup> for the sun did rise with the burning heat, and did wither the grass, and the flower of it fell, and the grace of its appearance did perish, so also the rich in his way shall fade away!

<sup>12</sup> Happy the man who doth endure temptation, because, becoming approved, he shall receive the crown of the life, which the Lord did promise to those loving Him.

<sup>13</sup> Let no one say, being tempted — 'From God I am tempted,' for God is not tempted of evil, and Himself doth tempt no one,

<sup>14</sup> and each one is tempted, by his own desires being led away and enticed,

<sup>15</sup> afterward the desire having conceived, doth give birth to sin, and the sin having been perfected, doth bring forth death.

<sup>16</sup> Be not led astray, my brethren beloved;

<sup>18</sup> having counselled, He did beget us with a word of truth, for our being a certain first-fruit of His creatures.

<sup>19</sup> So then, my brethren beloved, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger,

<sup>21</sup> wherefore having put aside all filthiness and superabundance of evil, in meekness be receiving the engrafted word, that is able to save your souls;

<sup>22</sup> and become ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves,

<sup>24</sup> for he did view himself, and hath gone away, and immediately he did forget of what kind he was;

<sup>25</sup> and he who did look into the perfect law — that of liberty, and did continue there, this one — not a forgetful hearer becoming, but a doer of work — this one shall be happy in his doing.

<sup>26</sup> If any one doth think to be religious among you, not bridling his tongue, but deceiving his heart, of this one vain [is] the religion;

<sup>27</sup> religion pure and undefiled with the God and Father is this, to look after orphans and widows in their tribulation — unspotted to keep himself from the world.

2

<sup>1</sup> My brethren, hold not, in respect of persons, the faith of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ,

<sup>2</sup> for if there may come into your synagogue a man with gold ring, in gay raiment, and there may come in also a poor man in vile raiment,

<sup>3</sup> and ye may look upon him bearing the gay raiment, and may say to him, 'Thou — sit thou here well,' and to the poor man may say, 'Thou — stand thou there, or, Sit thou here under my footstool,' —

<sup>4</sup> ye did not judge fully in yourselves, and did become ill-reasoning judges.

<sup>5</sup> Harken, my brethren beloved, did not God choose the poor of this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the reign that He promised to those loving Him?

<sup>6</sup> and ye did dishonour the poor one; do not the rich oppress you and themselves draw you to judgment-seats;

<sup>7</sup> do they not themselves speak evil of the good name that was called upon you?

<sup>8</sup> If, indeed, royal law ye complete, according to the Writing, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself,' — ye do well;

<sup>9</sup> and if ye accept persons, sin ye do work, being convicted by the law as transgressors;

<sup>10</sup> for whoever the whole law shall keep, and shall stumble in one [point], he hath become guilty of all;

<sup>11</sup> for He who is saying, 'Thou mayest not commit adultery,' said also, 'Thou mayest do no murder;' and if thou shalt not commit adultery, and shalt commit murder, thou hast become a transgressor of law;

<sup>12</sup> so speak ye and so do, as about by a law of liberty to be judged,

<sup>13</sup> for the judgment without kindness [is] to him not having done kindness, and exult doth kindness over judgment.

<sup>14</sup> What [is] the profit, my brethren, if faith, any one may speak of having, and works he may not have? is that faith able to save him?

<sup>15</sup> and if a brother or sister may be naked, and may be destitute of the daily food,

<sup>16</sup> and any one of you may say to them, 'Depart ye in peace, be warmed, and be filled,' and may not give to them the things needful for the body, what [is] the profit?

<sup>17</sup> so also the faith, if it may not have works, is dead by itself.

<sup>18</sup> But say may some one, Thou hast faith, and I have works, shew me thy faith out of thy works, and I will shew thee out of my works my faith:

<sup>19</sup> thou — thou dost believe that God is one; thou dost well, and the demons believe, and they shudder!

<sup>20</sup> And dost thou wish to know, O vain man, that the faith apart from the works is dead?

<sup>21</sup> Abraham our father — was not he declared righteous out of works, having brought up Isaac his son upon the altar?

<sup>22</sup> dost thou see that the faith was working with his works, and out of the works the faith was perfected?

<sup>23</sup> and fulfilled was the Writing that is saying, 'And Abraham did believe God, and it was reckoned to him – to righteousness;' and, 'Friend of God' he was called.

<sup>24</sup> Ye see, then, that out of works is man declared righteous, and not out of faith only;

<sup>25</sup> and in like manner also Rahab the harlot – was she not out of works declared righteous, having received the messengers, and by another way having sent forth?

<sup>26</sup> for as the body apart from the spirit is dead, so also the faith apart from the works is dead.

3

<sup>2</sup> for we all make many stumbles; if any one in word doth not stumble, this one [is] a perfect man, able to bridle also the whole body;

<sup>3</sup> lo, the bits we put into the mouths of the horses for their obeying us, and their whole body we turn about;

<sup>4</sup> lo, also the ships, being so great, and by fierce winds being driven, are led about by a very small helm, whithersoever the impulse of the helmsman doth counsel,

<sup>5</sup> so also the tongue is a little member, and doth boast greatly; lo, a little fire how much wood it doth kindle!

<sup>6</sup> and the tongue [is] a fire, the world of the unrighteousness, so the tongue is set in our members, which is spotting our whole body, and is setting on fire the course of nature, and is set on fire by the gehenna.

<sup>7</sup> For every nature, both of beasts and of fowls, both of creeping things and things of the sea, is subdued, and hath been subdued, by the human nature,

<sup>8</sup> and the tongue no one of men is able to subdue, [it is] an unruly evil, full of deadly poison,

<sup>9</sup> with it we do bless the God and Father, and with it we do curse the men made according to the similitude of God;

<sup>10</sup> out of the same mouth doth come forth blessing and cursing; it doth not need, my brethren, these things so to happen;

<sup>11</sup> doth the fountain out of the same opening pour forth the sweet and the bitter?

<sup>12</sup> is a fig-tree able, my brethren, olives to make? or a vine figs? so no fountain salt and sweet water [is able] to make.

<sup>13</sup> Who [is] wise and intelligent among you? let him shew out of the good behaviour his works in meekness of wisdom,

<sup>14</sup> and if bitter zeal ye have, and rivalry in your heart, glory not, nor lie against the truth;

<sup>16</sup> for where zeal and rivalry [are], there is insurrection and every evil matter;

<sup>17</sup> and the wisdom from above, first, indeed, is pure, then peaceable, gentle, easily entreated, full of kindness and good fruits, uncontentious, and unhypocritical: –

<sup>18</sup> and the fruit of the righteousness in peace is sown to those making peace.

4

<sup>1</sup> Whence [are] wars and fightings among you? not thence — out of your passions, that are as soldiers in your members?

<sup>2</sup> ye desire, and ye have not; ye murder, and are zealous, and are not able to attain; ye fight and war, and ye have not, because of your not asking;

<sup>3</sup> ye ask, and ye receive not, because evilly ye ask, that in your pleasures ye may spend [it].

<sup>4</sup> Adulterers and adulteresses! have ye not known that friendship of the world is enmity with God? whoever, then, may counsel to be a friend of the world, an enemy of God he is set.

<sup>5</sup> Do ye think that emptily the Writing saith, 'To envy earnestly desireth the spirit that did dwell in us,'

<sup>6</sup> and greater grace he doth give, wherefore he saith, 'God against proud ones doth set Himself up, and to lowly ones He doth give grace?'

<sup>7</sup> be subject, then, to God; stand up against the devil, and he will flee from you;

<sup>8</sup> draw nigh to God, and He will draw nigh to you; cleanse hands, ye sinners! and purify hearts, ye two-souled!

<sup>9</sup> be exceeding afflicted, and mourn, and weep, let your laughter to mourning be turned, and the joy to heaviness;

<sup>10</sup> be made low before the Lord, and He shall exalt you.

<sup>11</sup> Speak not one against another, brethren; he who is speaking against a brother, and is judging his brother, doth speak against law, and doth judge law, and if law thou dost judge, thou art not a doer of law but a judge;

<sup>12</sup> one is the lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy; thou — who art thou that dost judge the other?

<sup>13</sup> Go, now, ye who are saying, 'To-day and to-morrow we will go on to such a city, and will pass there one year, and traffic, and make gain;'

<sup>14</sup> who do not know the thing of the morrow; for what is your life? for it is a vapour that is appearing for a little, and then is vanishing;

<sup>15</sup> instead of your saying, 'If the Lord may will, we shall live, and do this or that;'

<sup>16</sup> and now ye glory in your pride; all such glorying is evil;

<sup>17</sup> to him, then, knowing to do good, and not doing, sin it is to him.

5

<sup>2</sup> your riches have rotted, and your garments have become moth-eaten;

<sup>3</sup> your gold and silver have rotted, and the rust of them for a testimony shall be to you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. Ye made treasure in the last days!

<sup>4</sup> lo, the reward of the workmen, of those who in-gathered your fields, which hath been fraudulently kept back by you — doth cry out, and the exclamations of those who did reap into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth have entered;

<sup>5</sup> ye did live in luxury upon the earth, and were wanton; ye did nourish your hearts, as in a day of slaughter;

<sup>6</sup> ye did condemn — ye did murder the righteous one, he doth not resist you.

<sup>7</sup> Be patient, then, brethren, till the presence of the Lord; lo, the husbandman doth expect the precious fruit of the earth, being patient for it, till he may receive rain — early and latter;

<sup>8</sup> be patient, ye also; establish your hearts, because the presence of the Lord hath drawn nigh;

<sup>9</sup> murmur not against one another, brethren, that ye may not be condemned; lo, the Judge before the door hath stood.

<sup>10</sup> An example take ye of the suffering of evil, my brethren, and of the patience, the prophets who did speak in the name of the Lord;

<sup>11</sup> lo, we call happy those who are enduring; the endurance of Job ye heard of, and the end of the Lord ye have seen, that very compassionate is the Lord, and pitying.

<sup>12</sup> And before all things, my brethren, do not swear, neither by the heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath, and let your Yes be Yes, and the No, No; that under judgment ye may not fall.

<sup>13</sup> Doth any one suffer evil among you? let him pray; is any of good cheer? let him sing psalms;

<sup>14</sup> is any infirm among you? let him call for the elders of the assembly, and let them pray over him, having anointed him with oil, in the name of the Lord,

<sup>15</sup> and the prayer of the faith shall save the distressed one, and the Lord shall raise him up, and if sins he may have committed, they shall be forgiven to him.

<sup>16</sup> Be confessing to one another the trespasses, and be praying for one another, that ye may be healed; very strong is a working supplication of a righteous man;

<sup>17</sup> Elijah was a man like affected as we, and with prayer he did pray — not to rain, and it did not rain upon the land three years and six months;

<sup>18</sup> and again he did pray, and the heaven did give rain, and the land did bring forth her fruit.

<sup>19</sup> Brethren, if any among you may go astray from the truth, and any one may turn him back, <sup>20</sup> let him know that he who did turn back a sinner from the straying of his way shall save a soul from death, and shall cover a multitude of sins.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER

<sup>1</sup> Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the choice sojourners of the dispersion of Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

<sup>2</sup> according to a foreknowledge of God the Father, in sanctification of the Spirit, to obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace be multiplied!

<sup>3</sup> Blessed [is] the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who, according to the abundance of His kindness did beget us again to a living hope, through the rising again of Jesus Christ out of the dead,

<sup>4</sup> to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and unfading, reserved in the heavens for you,

<sup>5</sup> who, in the power of God are being guarded, through faith, unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time,

<sup>6</sup> in which ye are glad, a little now, if it be necessary, being made to sorrow in manifold trials,

<sup>7</sup> that the proof of your faith — much more precious than of gold that is perishing, and through fire being approved — may be found to praise, and honour, and glory, in the revelation of Jesus Christ,

<sup>8</sup> whom, not having seen, ye love, in whom, now not seeing and believing, ye are glad with joy unspeakable and glorified,

<sup>10</sup> concerning which salvation seek out and search out did prophets who concerning the grace toward you did prophecy,

<sup>11</sup> searching in regard to what or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ that was in them was manifesting, testifying beforehand the sufferings of Christ and the glory after these,

<sup>12</sup> to whom it was revealed, that not to themselves, but to us they were ministering these, which now were told to you (through those who did proclaim good news to you,) in the Holy Spirit sent from heaven, to which things messengers do desire to bend looking.

<sup>13</sup> Wherefore having girded up the loins of your mind, being sober, hope perfectly upon the grace that is being brought to you in the revelation of Jesus Christ,

<sup>14</sup> as obedient children, not fashioning yourselves to the former desires in your ignorance,

<sup>15</sup> but according as He who did call you [is] holy, ye also, become holy in all behaviour,

<sup>16</sup> because it hath been written, 'Become ye holy, because I am holy;'

<sup>17</sup> and if on the Father ye do call, who without acceptance of persons is judging according to the work of each, in fear the time of your sojourn pass ye,

<sup>18</sup> having known that, not with corruptible things — silver or gold — were ye redeemed from your foolish behaviour delivered by fathers,

<sup>20</sup> foreknown, indeed, before the foundation of the world, and manifested in the last times because of you,

<sup>21</sup> who through him do believe in God, who did raise out of the dead, and glory to him did give, so that your faith and hope may be in God.

<sup>22</sup> Your souls having purified in the obedience of the truth through the Spirit to brotherly love unfeigned, out of a pure heart one another love ye earnestly,

<sup>23</sup> being begotten again, not out of seed corruptible, but incorruptible, through a word of God — living and remaining — to the age;

<sup>24</sup> because all flesh [is] as grass, and all glory of man as flower of grass; wither did the grass, and the flower of it fell away,

<sup>25</sup> and the saying of the Lord doth remain — to the age; and this is the saying that was proclaimed good news to you.

2

<sup>1</sup> Having put aside, then, all evil, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envyings, and all evil speakings,

<sup>2</sup> as new-born babes the word's pure milk desire ye, that in it ye may grow,

<sup>3</sup> if so be ye did taste that the Lord [is] gracious,

<sup>4</sup> to whom coming — a living stone — by men, indeed, having been disapproved of, but with God choice, precious,

<sup>5</sup> and ye yourselves, as living stones, are built up, a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.

<sup>6</sup> Wherefore, also, it is contained in the Writing: 'Lo, I lay in Zion a chief corner-stone, choice, precious, and he who is believing on him may not be put to shame;'

<sup>7</sup> to you, then, who are believing [is] the preciousness; and to the unbelieving, a stone that the builders disapproved of, this one did become for the head of a corner,

<sup>8</sup> and a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence — who are stumbling at the word, being unbelieving, — to which also they were set;

<sup>9</sup> and ye [are] a choice race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people acquired, that the excellences ye may shew forth of Him who out of darkness did call you to His wondrous light;

<sup>10</sup> who [were] once not a people, and [are] now the people of God; who had not found kindness, and now have found kindness.

<sup>11</sup> Beloved, I call upon [you], as strangers and sojourners, to keep from the fleshly desires, that war against the soul,

<sup>12</sup> having your behaviour among the nations right, that in that which they speak against you as evil-doers, of the good works having beheld, they may glorify God in a day of inspection.

<sup>13</sup> Be subject, then, to every human creation, because of the Lord, whether to a king, as the highest,

<sup>14</sup> whether to governors, as to those sent through him, for punishment, indeed, of evil-doers, and a praise of those doing good;

<sup>15</sup> because, so is the will of God, doing good, to put to silence the ignorance of the foolish men;

<sup>16</sup> as free, and not having the freedom as the cloak of the evil, but as servants of God;

<sup>17</sup> to all give ye honour; the brotherhood love ye; God fear ye; the king honour ye.

<sup>18</sup> The domestics! be subjecting yourselves in all fear to the masters, not only to the good and gentle, but also to the cross;

<sup>19</sup> for this [is] gracious, if because of conscience toward God any one doth endure sorrows, suffering unrighteously;

<sup>20</sup> for what renown [is it], if sinning and being buffeted, ye do endure [it]? but if, doing good and suffering [for it], ye do endure, this [is] gracious with God,

<sup>21</sup> for to this ye were called, because Christ also did suffer for you, leaving to you an example, that ye may follow his steps,

<sup>22</sup> who did not commit sin, nor was guile found in his mouth,

<sup>23</sup> who being reviled – was not reviling again, suffering – was not threatening, and was committing himself to Him who is judging righteously,

<sup>24</sup> who our sins himself did bear in his body, upon the tree, that to the sins having died, to the righteousness we may live; by whose stripes ye were healed,

<sup>25</sup> for ye were as sheep going astray, but ye turned back now to the shepherd and overseer of your souls.

3

<sup>1</sup> In like manner, the wives, be ye subject to your own husbands, that even if certain are disobedient to the word, through the conversation of the wives, without the word, they may be won,

<sup>3</sup> whose adorning – let it not be that which is outward, of plaiting of hair, and of putting around of things of gold, or of putting on of garments,

<sup>4</sup> but – the hidden man of the heart, in the incorruptible thing of the meek and quiet spirit, which is, before God, of great price,

<sup>5</sup> for thus once also the holy women who did hope on God, were adorning themselves, being subject to their own husbands,

<sup>6</sup> as Sarah was obedient to Abraham, calling him 'sir,' of whom ye did become daughters, doing good, and not fearing any terror.

<sup>7</sup> The husbands, in like manner, dwelling with [them], according to knowledge, as to a weaker vessel – to the wife – imparting honour, as also being heirs together of the grace of life, that your prayers be not hindered.

<sup>8</sup> And finally, being all of one mind, having fellow-feeling, loving as brethren, compassionate, courteous,

<sup>9</sup> not giving back evil for evil, or railing for railing, and on the contrary, blessing, having known that to this ye were called, that a blessing ye may inherit;

<sup>10</sup> for 'he who is willing to love life, and to see good days, let him guard his tongue from evil, and his lips – not to speak guile;

<sup>11</sup> let him turn aside from evil, and do good, let him seek peace and pursue it;

<sup>12</sup> because the eyes of the Lord [are] upon the righteous, and His ears – to their supplication, and the face of the Lord [is] upon those doing evil;'

<sup>13</sup> and who [is] he who will be doing you evil, if of Him who is good ye may become imitators?

<sup>14</sup> but if ye also should suffer because of righteousness, happy [are ye]! and of their fear be not afraid, nor be troubled,

<sup>15</sup> and the Lord God sanctify in your hearts. And [be] ready always for defence to every one who is asking of you an account concerning the hope that [is] in you, with meekness and fear;

<sup>16</sup> having a good conscience, that in that in which they speak against you as evil-doers, they may be ashamed who are traducing your good behaviour in Christ;

<sup>17</sup> for [it is] better doing good, if the will of God will it, to suffer, than doing evil;

<sup>18</sup> because also Christ once for sin did suffer — righteous for unrighteous — that he might lead us to God, having been put to death indeed, in the flesh, and having been made alive in the spirit,

<sup>19</sup> in which also to the spirits in prison having gone he did preach,

<sup>20</sup> who sometime disbelieved, when once the long-suffering of God did wait, in days of Noah — an ark being preparing — in which few, that is, eight souls, were saved through water;

<sup>21</sup> also to which an antitype doth now save us — baptism, (not a putting away of the filth of flesh, but the question of a good conscience in regard to God,) through the rising again of Jesus Christ,

<sup>22</sup> who is at the right hand of God, having gone on to heaven — messengers, and authorities, and powers, having been subjected to him.

4

<sup>1</sup> Christ, then, having suffered for us in the flesh, ye also with the same mind arm yourselves, because he who did suffer in the flesh hath done with sin,

<sup>2</sup> no more in the desires of men, but in the will of God, to live the rest of the time in the flesh;

<sup>3</sup> for sufficient to us [is] the past time of life the will of the nations to have wrought, having walked in lasciviousnesses, desires, excesses of wines, revellings, drinking-bouts, and unlawful idolatries,

<sup>4</sup> in which they think it strange — your not running with them to the same excess of dissoluteness, speaking evil,

<sup>5</sup> who shall give an account to Him who is ready to judge living and dead,

<sup>6</sup> for for this also to dead men was good news proclaimed, that they may be judged, indeed, according to men in the flesh, and may live according to God in the spirit.

<sup>7</sup> And of all things the end hath come nigh; be sober-minded, then, and watch unto the prayers,

<sup>8</sup> and, before all things, to one another having the earnest love, because the love shall cover a multitude of sins;

<sup>10</sup> each, according as he received a gift, to one another ministering it, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God;

<sup>11</sup> if any one doth speak — 'as oracles of God;' if any one doth minister — 'as of the ability which God doth supply;' that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom is the glory and the power — to the ages of the ages. Amen.

<sup>12</sup> Beloved, think it not strange at the fiery suffering among you that is coming to try you, as if a strange thing were happening to you,

<sup>13</sup> but, according as ye have fellowship with the sufferings of the Christ, rejoice ye, that also in the revelation of his glory ye may rejoice — exulting;

<sup>14</sup> if ye be reproached in the name of Christ — happy [are ye], because the Spirit of glory and of God upon you doth rest; in regard, indeed, to them, he is evil-spoken of, and in regard to you, he is glorified;

<sup>15</sup> for let none of you suffer as a murderer, or thief, or evil-doer, or as an inspector into other men's matters;

<sup>16</sup> and if as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; and let him glorify God in this respect;

<sup>17</sup> because it is the time of the beginning of the judgment from the house of God, and if first from us, what the end of those disobedient to the good news of God?

<sup>18</sup> And if the righteous man is scarcely saved, the ungodly and sinner — where shall he appear?

<sup>19</sup> so that also those suffering according to the will of god, as to a steadfast Creator, let them commit their own souls in good doing.

5

<sup>1</sup> Elders who [are] among you, I exhort, who [am] a fellow-elder, and a witness of the sufferings of the Christ, and of the glory about to be revealed a partaker,

<sup>2</sup> feed the flock of God that [is] among you, overseeing not constrainedly, but willingly, neither for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind,

<sup>5</sup> In like manner, ye younger, be subject to elders, and all to one another subjecting yourselves; with humble-mindedness clothe yourselves, because God the proud doth resist, but to the humble He doth give grace;

<sup>6</sup> be humbled, then, under the powerful hand of God, that you He may exalt in good time,

<sup>7</sup> all your care having cast upon Him, because He careth for you.

<sup>8</sup> Be sober, vigilant, because your opponent the devil, as a roaring lion, doth walk about, seeking whom he may swallow up,

<sup>9</sup> whom resist, steadfast in the faith, having known the same sufferings to your brotherhood in the world to be accomplished.

<sup>10</sup> And the God of all grace, who did call you to His age-during glory in Christ Jesus, having suffered a little, Himself make you perfect, establish, strengthen, settle [you];

<sup>11</sup> to Him [is] the glory, and the power — to the ages and the ages! Amen.

<sup>12</sup> Through Silvanus, to you the faithful brother, as I reckon, through few [words] I did write, exhorting and testifying this to be the true grace of God in which ye have stood.

<sup>13</sup> Salute you doth the [assembly] in Babylon jointly elected, and Markus my son.

<sup>14</sup> Salute ye one another in a kiss of love; peace to you all who [are] in Christ Jesus! Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER

<sup>1</sup> Simeon Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to those who did obtain a like precious faith with us in the righteousness of our God and Saviour Jesus Christ:

<sup>2</sup> Grace to you, and peace be multiplied in the acknowledgement of God and of Jesus our Lord!

<sup>3</sup> As all things to us His divine power (the things pertaining unto life and piety) hath given, through the acknowledgement of him who did call us through glory and worthiness,

<sup>4</sup> through which to us the most great and precious promises have been given, that through these ye may become partakers of a divine nature, having escaped from the corruption in the world in desires.

<sup>5</sup> And this same also — all diligence having brought in besides, superadd in your faith the worthiness, and in the worthiness the knowledge,

<sup>6</sup> and in the knowledge the temperance, and in the temperance the endurance, and in the endurance the piety,

<sup>7</sup> and in the piety the brotherly kindness, and in the brotherly kindness the love;

<sup>8</sup> for these things being to you and abounding, do make [you] neither inert nor unfruitful in regard to the acknowledging of our Lord Jesus Christ,

<sup>9</sup> for he with whom these things are not present is blind, dim-sighted, having become forgetful of the cleansing of his old sins;

<sup>10</sup> wherefore, the rather, brethren, be diligent to make stedfast your calling and choice, for these things doing, ye may never stumble,

<sup>11</sup> for so, richly shall be superadded to you the entrance into the age-during reign of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

<sup>12</sup> Wherefore, I will not be careless always to remind you concerning these things, though, having known them, and having been established in the present truth,

<sup>13</sup> and I think right, so long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up in reminding [you],

<sup>14</sup> having known that soon is the laying aside of my tabernacle, even as also our Lord Jesus Christ did shew to me,

<sup>15</sup> and I will be diligent that also at every time ye have, after my outgoing, power to make to yourselves the remembrance of these things.

<sup>16</sup> For, skilfully devised fables not having followed out, we did make known to you the power and presence of our Lord Jesus Christ, but eye-witnesses having become of his majesty —

<sup>17</sup> for having received from God the Father honour and glory, such a voice being borne to him by the excellent glory: 'This is My Son — the beloved, in whom I was well pleased;'

<sup>18</sup> and this voice we — we did hear, out of heaven borne, being with him in the holy mount.

<sup>19</sup> And we have more firm the prophetic word, to which we do well giving heed, as to a lamp shining in a dark place, till day may dawn, and a morning star may arise — in your hearts;

<sup>20</sup> this first knowing, that no prophecy of the Writing doth come of private exposition,

<sup>21</sup> for not by will of man did ever prophecy come, but by the Holy Spirit borne on holy men of God spake.

2

<sup>1</sup> And there did come also false prophets among the people, as also among you there shall be false teachers, who shall bring in besides destructive sects, and the Master who bought them denying, bringing to themselves quick destruction,

<sup>2</sup> and many shall follow out their destructive ways, because of whom the way of the truth shall be evil spoken of,

<sup>3</sup> and in covetousness, with moulded words, of you they shall make merchandise, whose judgment of old is not idle, and their destruction doth not slumber.

<sup>4</sup> For if God messengers who sinned did not spare, but with chains of thick gloom, having cast [them] down to Tartarus, did deliver [them] to judgment, having been reserved,

<sup>5</sup> and the old world did not spare, but the eighth person, Noah, of righteousness a preacher, did keep, a flood on the world of the impious having brought,

<sup>6</sup> and the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah having turned to ashes, with an overthrow did condemn, an example to those about to be impious having set [them];

<sup>7</sup> and righteous Lot, worn down by the conduct in lasciviousness of the impious, He did rescue, <sup>8</sup> for in seeing and hearing, the righteous man, dwelling among them, day by day the righteous soul with unlawful works was harassing.

<sup>9</sup> The Lord hath known to rescue pious ones out of temptation, and unrighteous ones to a day of judgment, being punished, to keep,

<sup>10</sup> and chiefly those going behind the flesh in desire of uncleanness, and lordship despising; presumptuous, self-complacent, dignities they are not afraid to speak evil of,

<sup>11</sup> whereas messengers, in strength and power being greater, do not bear against them before the Lord an evil speaking judgment;

<sup>12</sup> and these, as irrational natural beasts, made to be caught and destroyed – in what things they are ignorant of, speaking evil – in their destruction shall be destroyed,

<sup>13</sup> about to receive a reward of unrighteousness, pleasures counting the luxury in the day, spots and blemishes, luxuriating in their deceits, feasting with you,

<sup>14</sup> having eyes full of adultery, and unable to cease from sin, enticing unstable souls, having an heart exercised in covetousnesses, children of a curse,

<sup>15</sup> having forsaken a right way, they did go astray, having followed in the way of Balaam the [son] of Bosor, who a reward of unrighteousness did love, <sup>16</sup> and had a rebuke of his own iniquity – a dumb ass, in man's voice having spoken, did forbid the madness of the prophet.

<sup>17</sup> These are wells without water, and clouds by a tempest driven, to whom the thick gloom of the darkness to the age hath been kept;

<sup>18</sup> for overswellings of vanity speaking, they do entice in desires of the flesh – lasciviousnesses, those who had truly escaped from those conducting themselves in error,

<sup>19</sup> liberty to them promising, themselves being servants of the corruption, for by whom any one hath been overcome, to this one also he hath been brought to servitude,

<sup>20</sup> for, if having escaped from the pollutions of the world, in the acknowledging of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and by these again being entangled, they have been overcome, become to them hath the last things worse than the first,

<sup>21</sup> for it were better to them not to have acknowledged the way of the righteousness, than having acknowledged [it], to turn back from the holy command delivered to them,

<sup>22</sup> and happened to them hath that of the true similitude; 'A dog did turn back upon his own vomit,' and, 'A sow having bathed herself – to rolling in mire.'

3

<sup>1</sup> This, now, beloved, a second letter to you I write, in both which I stir up your pure mind in reminding [you],

<sup>2</sup> to be mindful of the sayings said before by the holy prophets, and of the command of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour,

<sup>3</sup> this first knowing, that there shall come in the latter end of the days scoffers, according to their own desires going on,

<sup>4</sup> and saying, 'Where is the promise of his presence? for since the fathers did fall asleep, all things so remain from the beginning of the creation;'

<sup>5</sup> for this is unobserved by them willingly, that the heavens were of old, and the earth out of water and through water standing together by the word of God,

<sup>6</sup> through which the then world, by water having been deluged, was destroyed;

<sup>7</sup> and the present heavens and the earth, by the same word are treasured, for fire being kept to a day of judgment and destruction of the impious men.

<sup>8</sup> And this one thing let not be unobserved by you, beloved, that one day with the Lord [is] as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day;

<sup>9</sup> the Lord is not slow in regard to the promise, as certain count slowness, but is long-suffering to us, not counselling any to be lost but all to pass on to reformation,

<sup>10</sup> and it will come – the day of the Lord – as a thief in the night, in which the heavens with a rushing noise will pass away, and the elements with burning heat be dissolved, and earth and the works in it shall be burnt up.

<sup>11</sup> All these, then, being dissolved, what kind of persons doth it behove you to be in holy behaviours and pious acts?

<sup>12</sup> waiting for and hasting to the presence of the day of God, by which the heavens, being on fire, shall be dissolved, and the elements with burning heat shall melt;

<sup>13</sup> and for new heavens and a new earth according to His promise we do wait, in which righteousness doth dwell;

<sup>14</sup> wherefore, beloved, these things waiting for, be diligent, spotless and unblameable, by Him to be found in peace,

<sup>15</sup> and the long-suffering of our Lord count ye salvation, according as also our beloved brother Paul – according to the wisdom given to him – did write to you,

<sup>16</sup> as also in all the epistles, speaking in them concerning these things, among which things are certain hard to be understood, which the untaught and unstable do wrest, as also the other Writings, unto their own destruction.

<sup>17</sup> Ye, then, beloved, knowing before, take heed, lest, together with the error of the impious being led away, ye may fall from your own stedfastness,

<sup>18</sup> and increase ye in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; to him [is] the glory both now, and to the day of the age! Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF JOHN

<sup>1</sup> That which was from the beginning, that which we have heard, that which we have seen with our eyes, that which we did behold, and our hands did handle, concerning the Word of the Life —

<sup>2</sup> and the Life was manifested, and we have seen, and do testify, and declare to you the Life, the age-during, which was with the Father, and was manifested to us —

<sup>3</sup> that which we have seen and heard declare we to you, that ye also may have fellowship with us, and our fellowship [is] with the Father, and with His Son Jesus Christ;

<sup>4</sup> and these things we write to you, that your joy may be full.

<sup>5</sup> And this is the message that we have heard from Him, and announce to you, that God is light, and darkness in Him is not at all;

<sup>6</sup> if we may say — 'we have fellowship with Him,' and in the darkness may walk — we lie, and do not the truth;

<sup>7</sup> and if in the light we may walk, as He is in the light — we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ His Son doth cleanse us from every sin;

<sup>8</sup> if we may say — 'we have not sin,' ourselves we lead astray, and the truth is not in us;

<sup>9</sup> if we may confess our sins, steadfast He is and righteous that He may forgive us the sins, and may cleanse us from every unrighteousness;

<sup>10</sup> if we may say — 'we have not sinned,' a liar we make Him, and His word is not in us.

2

<sup>1</sup> My little children, these things I write to you, that ye may not sin: and if any one may sin, an advocate we have with the Father, Jesus Christ, a righteous one,

<sup>2</sup> and he — he is a propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the whole world,

<sup>3</sup> and in this we know that we have known him, if his commands we may keep;

<sup>4</sup> he who is saying, 'I have known him,' and his command is not keeping, a liar he is, and in him the truth is not;

<sup>5</sup> and whoever may keep his word, truly in him the love of God hath been perfected; in this we know that in him we are.

<sup>6</sup> He who is saying in him he doth remain, ought according as he walked also himself so to walk.

<sup>7</sup> Brethren, a new command I write not to you, but an old command, that ye had from the beginning — the old command is the word that ye heard from the beginning;

<sup>8</sup> again, a new command I write to you, which thing is true in him and in you, because the darkness doth pass away, and the true light doth now shine;

<sup>9</sup> he who is saying, in the light he is, and his brother is hating, in the darkness he is till now;

<sup>10</sup> he who is loving his brother, in the light he doth remain, and a stumbling-block in him there is not;

<sup>11</sup> and he who is hating his brother, in the darkness he is, and in the darkness he doth walk, and he hath not known whither he doth go, because the darkness did blind his eyes.

<sup>12</sup> I write to you, little children, because the sins have been forgiven you through his name;

<sup>13</sup> I write to you, fathers, because ye have known him who [is] from the beginning; I write to you, young men, because ye have overcome the evil. I write to you, little youths, because ye have known the Father:

<sup>14</sup> I did write to you, fathers, because ye have known him who [is] from the beginning; I did write to you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God in you doth remain, and ye have overcome the evil.

<sup>15</sup> Love not ye the world, nor the things in the world; if any one doth love the world, the love of the Father is not in him,

<sup>16</sup> because all that [is] in the world — the desire of the flesh, and the desire of the eyes, and the ostentation of the life — is not of the Father, but of the world,

<sup>17</sup> and the world doth pass away, and the desire of it, and he who is doing the will of God, he doth remain — to the age.

<sup>18</sup> Little youths, it is the last hour; and even as ye heard that the antichrist doth come, even now antichrists have become many — whence we know that it is the last hour;

<sup>19</sup> out of us they went forth, but they were not of us, for if they had been of us, they would have remained with us; but — that they might be manifested that they are not all of us.

<sup>20</sup> And ye have an anointing from the Holy One, and have known all things;

<sup>21</sup> I did not write to you because ye have not known the truth, but because ye have known it, and because no lie is of the truth.

<sup>22</sup> Who is the liar, except he who is denying that Jesus is the Christ? this one is the antichrist who is denying the Father and the Son;

<sup>23</sup> every one who is denying the Son, neither hath he the Father, [he who is confessing the Son hath the Father also.]

<sup>24</sup> Ye, then, that which ye heard from the beginning, in you let it remain; if in you may remain that which from the beginning ye did hear, ye also in the Son and in the Father shall remain, <sup>25</sup> and this is the promise that He did promise us — the life the age-during.

<sup>26</sup> These things I did write to you concerning those leading you astray;

<sup>27</sup> and you, the anointing that ye did receive from him, in you it doth remain, and ye have no need that any one may teach you, but as the same anointing doth teach you concerning all, and is true, and is not a lie, and even as was taught you, ye shall remain in him.

<sup>28</sup> And now, little children, remain in him, that when he may be manifested, we may have boldness, and may not be ashamed before him, in his presence;

<sup>29</sup> if ye know that he is righteous, know ye that every one doing the righteousness, of him hath been begotten.

3

<sup>1</sup> See ye what love the Father hath given to us, that children of God we may be called; because of this the world doth not know us, because it did not know Him;

<sup>2</sup> beloved, now, children of God are we, and it was not yet manifested what we shall be, and we have known that if he may be manifested, like him we shall be, because we shall see him as he is;

<sup>3</sup> and every one who is having this hope on him, doth purify himself, even as he is pure.

<sup>4</sup> Every one who is doing the sin, the lawlessness also he doth do, and the sin is the lawlessness,

<sup>5</sup> and ye have known that he was manifested that our sins he may take away, and sin is not in him;

<sup>6</sup> every one who is remaining in him doth not sin; every one who is sinning, hath not seen him, nor known him.

<sup>7</sup> Little children, let no one lead you astray; he who is doing the righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous,

<sup>8</sup> he who is doing the sin, of the devil he is, because from the beginning the devil doth sin; for this was the Son of God manifested, that he may break up the works of the devil;

<sup>9</sup> every one who hath been begotten of God, sin he doth not, because his seed in him doth remain, and he is not able to sin, because of God he hath been begotten.

<sup>10</sup> In this manifest are the children of God, and the children of the devil; every one who is not doing righteousness, is not of God, and he who is not loving his brother,

<sup>11</sup> because this is the message that ye did hear from the beginning, that we may love one another,

<sup>12</sup> not as Cain — of the evil one he was, and he did slay his brother, and wherefore did he slay him? because his works were evil, and those of his brother righteous.

<sup>13</sup> Do not wonder, my brethren, if the world doth hate you;

<sup>14</sup> we — we have known that we have passed out of the death to the life, because we love the brethren; he who is not loving the brother doth remain in the death.

<sup>15</sup> Every one who is hating his brother — a man-killer he is, and ye have known that no man-killer hath life age-during in him remaining,

<sup>16</sup> in this we have known the love, because he for us his life did lay down, and we ought for the brethren the lives to lay down;

<sup>17</sup> and whoever may have the goods of the world, and may view his brother having need, and may shut up his bowels from him — how doth the love of God remain in him?

<sup>18</sup> My little children, may we not love in word nor in tongue, but in word and in truth!

<sup>19</sup> and in this we know that of the truth we are, and before Him we shall assure our hearts,

<sup>20</sup> because if our heart may condemn — because greater is God than our heart, and He doth know all things.

<sup>21</sup> Beloved, if our heart may not condemn us, we have boldness toward God,

<sup>22</sup> and whatever we may ask, we receive from Him, because His commands we keep, and the things pleasing before Him we do,

<sup>23</sup> and this is His command, that we may believe in the name of His Son Jesus Christ, and may love one another, even as He did give command to us,

<sup>24</sup> and he who is keeping His commands, in Him he doth remain, and He in him; and in this we know that He doth remain in us, from the Spirit that He gave us.

4

<sup>1</sup> Beloved, every spirit believe not, but prove the spirits, if of God they are,

because many false prophets have gone forth to the world;

<sup>2</sup> in this know ye the Spirit of God; every spirit that doth confess Jesus Christ in the flesh having come, of God it is,

<sup>3</sup> and every spirit that doth not confess Jesus Christ in the flesh having come, of God it is not; and this is that of the antichrist, which ye heard that it doth come, and now in the world it is already.

<sup>4</sup> Ye — of God ye are, little children, and ye have overcome them; because greater is He who [is] in you, than he who is in the world.

<sup>5</sup> They — of the world they are; because of this from the world they speak, and the world doth hear them;

<sup>6</sup> we — of God we are; he who is knowing God doth hear us; he who is not of God, doth not hear us; from this we know the spirit of the truth, and the spirit of the error.

<sup>7</sup> Beloved, may we love one another, because the love is of God, and every one who is loving, of God he hath been begotten, and doth know God;

<sup>8</sup> he who is not loving did not know God, because God is love.

<sup>9</sup> In this was manifested the love of God in us, because His Son — the only begotten — hath God sent to the world, that we may live through him;

<sup>10</sup> in this is the love, not that we loved God, but that He did love us, and did send His Son a propitiation for our sins.

<sup>11</sup> Beloved, if thus did God love us, we also ought one another to love;

<sup>12</sup> God no one hath ever seen; if we may love one another, God in us doth remain, and His love is having been perfected in us;

<sup>13</sup> in this we know that in Him we do remain, and He in us, because of His Spirit He hath given us.

<sup>14</sup> And we — we have seen and do testify, that the Father hath sent the Son — Saviour of the world;

<sup>15</sup> whoever may confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God in him doth remain, and he in God;

<sup>16</sup> and we — we have known and believed the love, that God hath in us; God is love, and he who is remaining in the love, in God he doth remain, and God in him.

<sup>17</sup> In this made perfect hath been the love with us, that boldness we may have in the day of the judgment, because even as He is, we — we also are in this world;

<sup>18</sup> fear is not in the love, but the perfect love doth cast out the fear, because the fear hath punishment, and he who is fearing hath not been made perfect in the love;

<sup>19</sup> we — we love him, because He — He first loved us;

<sup>20</sup> if any one may say — 'I love God,' and his brother he may hate, a liar he is; for he who is not loving his brother whom he hath seen, God — whom he hath not seen — how is he able to love?

<sup>21</sup> and this [is] the command we have from Him, that he who is loving God, may also love his brother.

5

<sup>1</sup> Every one who is believing that Jesus is the Christ, of God he hath been begotten, and every one who is loving Him who did beget, doth love also him who is begotten of Him:

<sup>2</sup> in this we know that we love the children of God, when we may love God, and His commands may keep;

<sup>3</sup> for this is the love of God, that His commands we may keep, and His commands are not burdensome;

<sup>4</sup> because every one who is begotten of God doth overcome the world, and this is the victory that did overcome the world — our faith;

<sup>5</sup> who is he who is overcoming the world, if not he who is believing that Jesus is the Son of God?

<sup>6</sup> This one is he who did come through water and blood — Jesus the Christ, not in the water only, but in the water and the blood; and the Spirit it is that is testifying, because the Spirit is the truth,

<sup>7</sup> because three are who are testifying [in the heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Spirit, and these — the three — are one;

<sup>8</sup> and three are who are testifying in the earth], the Spirit, and the water, and the blood, and the three are into the one.

<sup>9</sup> If the testimony of men we receive, the testimony of God is greater, because this is the testimony of God that He hath testified concerning His Son.

<sup>10</sup> He who is believing in the Son of God, hath the testimony in himself; he who is not believing God, a liar hath made Him, because he hath not believed in the testimony that God hath testified concerning His Son;

<sup>11</sup> and this is the testimony, that life age-during did God give to us, and this — the life — is in His Son;

<sup>12</sup> he who is having the Son, hath the life; he who is not having the Son of God — the life he hath not.

<sup>13</sup> These things I did write to you who are believing in the name of the Son of God, that ye may know that life ye have age-during, and that ye may believe in the name of the Son of God.

<sup>14</sup> And this is the boldness that we have toward Him, that if anything we may ask according to his will, He doth hear us,

<sup>15</sup> and if we have known that He doth hear us, whatever we may ask, we have known that we have the requests that we have requested from Him.

<sup>16</sup> If any one may see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, he shall ask, and He shall give to him life to those sinning not unto death; there is sin to death, not concerning it do I speak that he may beseech;

<sup>17</sup> all unrighteousness is sin, and there is sin not unto death.

<sup>18</sup> We have known that every one who hath been begotten of God doth not sin, but he who was begotten of God doth keep himself, and the evil one doth not touch him;

<sup>19</sup> we have known that of God we are, and the whole world in the evil doth lie;

<sup>20</sup> and we have known that the Son of God is come, and hath given us a mind, that we may know Him who is true, and we are in Him who is true, in His Son Jesus Christ; this one is the true God and the life age-during!

<sup>21</sup> Little children, guard yourselves from the idols! Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF JOHN

<sup>1</sup> The Elder to the choice Kyria, and to her children, whom I love in truth, and not I only, but also all those having known the truth,

<sup>2</sup> because of the truth that is remaining in us, and with us shall be to the age,

<sup>3</sup> there shall be with you grace, kindness, peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

<sup>4</sup> I rejoiced exceedingly that I have found of thy children walking in truth, even as a command we did receive from the Father;

<sup>5</sup> and now I beseech thee, Kyria, not as writing to thee a new command, but which we had from the beginning, that we may love one another,

<sup>6</sup> and this is the love, that we may walk according to His commands; this is the command, even as ye did hear from the beginning, that in it ye may walk,

<sup>7</sup> because many leading astray did enter into the world, who are not confessing Jesus Christ coming in flesh; this one is he who is leading astray, and the antichrist.

<sup>8</sup> See to yourselves that ye may not lose the things that we wrought, but a full reward may receive;

<sup>9</sup> every one who is transgressing, and is not remaining in the teaching of the Christ, hath not God; he who is remaining in the teaching of the Christ, this one hath both the Father and the Son;

<sup>10</sup> if any one doth come unto you, and this teaching doth not bear, receive him not into the house, and say not to him, 'Hail!'

<sup>12</sup> Many things having to write to you, I did not intend through paper and ink, but I hope to come unto you, and speak mouth to mouth, that our joy may be full;

<sup>13</sup> salute thee do the children of thy choice sister. Amen.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN

- <sup>1</sup> The Elder to Gaius the beloved, whom I love in truth!
<sup>2</sup> beloved, concerning all things I desire thee to prosper, and to be in health, even as thy soul doth prosper,
<sup>3</sup> for I rejoiced exceedingly, brethren coming and testifying of the truth in thee, even as thou in truth dost walk;
<sup>4</sup> greater than these things I have no joy, that I may hear of my children in truth walking.
<sup>5</sup> Beloved, faithfully dost thou do whatever thou mayest work to the brethren and to the strangers,
<sup>6</sup> who did testify of thy love before an assembly, whom thou wilt do well, having sent forward worthily of God,
<sup>7</sup> because for [His] name they went forth, nothing receiving from the nations;
<sup>8</sup> we, then, ought to receive such, that fellow-workers we may become to the truth.
<sup>9</sup> I did write to the assembly, but he who is loving the first place among them — Diotrephes — doth not receive us;
<sup>10</sup> because of this, if I may come, I will cause him to remember his works that he doth, with evil words prating against us; and not content with these, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and those intending he doth forbid, and out of the assembly he doth cast.
<sup>11</sup> Beloved, be not thou following that which is evil, but that which is good; he who is doing good, of God he is, and he who is doing evil hath not seen God;
<sup>12</sup> to Demetrius testimony hath been given by all, and by the truth itself, and we also — we do testify, and ye have known that our testimony is true.
<sup>13</sup> Many things I had to write, but I do not wish through ink and pen to write to thee,
<sup>14</sup> and I hope straightway to see thee, and mouth to mouth we shall speak. Peace to thee! salute thee do the friends; be saluting the friends by name.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF JUDE

<sup>1</sup> Judas, of Jesus Christ a servant, and brother of James, to those sanctified in God the Father, and in Jesus Christ kept – called,

<sup>3</sup> Beloved, all diligence using to write to you concerning the common salvation, I had necessity to write to you, exhorting to agonize for the faith once delivered to the saints,

<sup>4</sup> for there did come in unobserved certain men, long ago having been written beforehand to this judgment, impious, the grace of our God perverting to lasciviousness, and our only Master, God, and Lord – Jesus Christ – denying,

<sup>5</sup> and to remind you I intend, you knowing once this, that the Lord, a people out of the land of Egypt having saved, again those who did not believe did destroy;

<sup>6</sup> messengers also, those who did not keep their own principality, but did leave their proper dwelling, to a judgment of a great day, in bonds everlasting, under darkness He hath kept,

<sup>7</sup> as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities around them, in like manner to these, having given themselves to whoredom, and gone after other flesh, have been set before – an example, of fire age-during, justice suffering.

<sup>8</sup> In like manner, nevertheless, those dreaming also the flesh indeed do defile, and lordship they put away, and dignities they speak evil of,

<sup>9</sup> yet Michael, the chief messenger, when, with the devil contending, he was disputing about the body of Moses, did not dare to bring up an evil-speaking judgment, but said, 'The Lord rebuke thee!'

<sup>10</sup> and these, as many things indeed as they have not known, they speak evil of; and as many things as naturally (as the irrational beasts) they understand, in these they are corrupted;

<sup>11</sup> woe to them! because in the way of Cain they did go on, and to the deceit of Balaam for reward they did rush, and in the gainsaying of Korah they did perish.

<sup>12</sup> These are in your love-feasts craggy rocks; feasting together with you, without fear shepherding themselves; clouds without water, by winds carried about; trees autumnal, without fruit, twice dead, rooted up;

<sup>13</sup> wild waves of a sea, foaming out their own shames; stars going astray, to whom the gloom of the darkness to the age hath been kept.

<sup>14</sup> And prophesy also to these did the seventh from Adam – Enoch – saying, 'Lo, the Lord did come in His saintly myriads,

<sup>15</sup> to do judgment against all, and to convict all their impious ones, concerning all their works of impiety that they did impiously, and concerning all the stiff things that speak against Him did impious sinners.'

<sup>16</sup> These are murmurers, repiners; according to their desires walking, and their mouth doth speak great swellings, giving admiration to persons for the sake of profit;

<sup>17</sup> and ye, beloved, remember ye the sayings spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ:

<sup>18</sup> that they said to you, that in the last time there shall be scoffers, after their own desires of impieties going on,

<sup>20</sup> And ye, beloved, on your most holy faith building yourselves up, in the Holy Spirit praying,

<sup>21</sup> yourselves in the love of God keep ye, waiting for the kindness of our Lord Jesus Christ – to life age-during;

<sup>22</sup> and to some be kind, judging thoroughly,

<sup>23</sup> and some in fear save ye, out of the fire snatching, hating even the coat from the flesh spotted.

<sup>24</sup> And to Him who is able to guard you not stumbling, and to set [you] in the presence of His glory unblemished, in gladness,

<sup>25</sup> to the only wise God our Saviour, [is] glory and greatness, power and authority, both now and to all the ages! Amen.

THE REVELATION OF ST. JOHN THE DIVINE

<sup>1</sup> A revelation of Jesus Christ, that God gave to him, to shew to his servants what things it behoveth to come to pass quickly; and he did signify [it], having sent through his messenger to his servant John,

<sup>2</sup> who did testify the word of God, and the testimony of Jesus Christ, as many things also as he did see.

<sup>3</sup> Happy is he who is reading, and those hearing, the words of the prophecy, and keeping the things written in it – for the time is nigh!

<sup>4</sup> John to the seven assemblies that [are] in Asia: Grace to you, and peace, from Him who is, and who was, and who is coming, and from the Seven Spirits that are before His throne,

<sup>5</sup> and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the first-born out of the dead, and the ruler of the kings of the earth; to him who did love us, and did bathe us from our sins in his blood,

<sup>6</sup> and did make us kings and priests to his God and Father, to him [is] the glory and the power to the ages of the ages! Amen.

<sup>7</sup> Lo, he doth come with the clouds, and see him shall every eye, even those who did pierce him, and wail because of him shall all the tribes of the land. Yes! Amen!

<sup>8</sup> 'I am the Alpha and the Omega, beginning and end, saith the Lord, who is, and who was, and who is coming – the Almighty.'

<sup>9</sup> I, John, who also [am] your brother, and fellow-partner in the tribulation, and in the reign and endurance, of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, because of the word of God, and because of the testimony of Jesus Christ;

<sup>10</sup> I was in the Spirit on the Lord's-day, and I heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet, saying,

<sup>11</sup> 'I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last;' and, 'What thou dost see, write in a scroll, and send to the seven assemblies that [are] in Asia; to Ephesus, and to Smyrna, and to Pergamos, and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea.'

<sup>12</sup> And I did turn to see the voice that did speak with me, and having turned, I saw seven golden lamp-stands,

<sup>13</sup> and in the midst of the seven lamp-stands, [one] like to a son of man, clothed to the foot, and girt round at the breast with a golden girdle,

<sup>14</sup> and his head and hairs white, as if white wool – as snow, and his eyes as a flame of fire;

<sup>15</sup> and his feet like to fine brass, as in a furnace having been fired, and his voice as a sound of many waters,

<sup>16</sup> and having in his right hand seven stars, and out of his mouth a sharp two-edged sword is proceeding, and his countenance [is] as the sun shining in its might.

<sup>17</sup> And when I saw him, I did fall at his feet as dead, and he placed his right hand upon me, saying to me, 'Be not afraid; I am the First and the Last,

<sup>18</sup> and he who is living, and I did become dead, and, lo, I am living to the ages of the ages. Amen! and I have the keys of the hades and of the death.

<sup>19</sup> 'Write the things that thou hast seen, and the things that are, and the things that are about to come after these things;

<sup>20</sup> the secret of the seven stars that thou hast seen upon my right hand, and the seven golden lamp-stands: the seven stars are messengers of the seven assemblies, and the seven lamp-stands that thou hast seen are seven assemblies.

2

<sup>1</sup> 'To the messenger of the Ephesian assembly write: These things saith he who is holding the seven stars in his right hand, who is walking in the midst of the seven lamp-stands — the golden:

<sup>2</sup> I have known thy works, and thy labour, and thy endurance, and that thou art not able to bear evil ones, and that thou hast tried those saying themselves to be apostles and are not, and hast found them liars,

<sup>3</sup> and thou didst bear, and hast endurance, and because of my name hast toiled, and hast not been weary.

<sup>4</sup> 'But I have against thee: That thy first love thou didst leave!

<sup>5</sup> remember, then, whence thou hast fallen, and reform, and the first works do; and if not, I come to thee quickly, and will remove thy lamp-stand from its place — if thou mayest not reform;

<sup>6</sup> but this thou hast, that thou dost hate the works of the Nicolaitans, that I also hate.

<sup>7</sup> He who is having an ear — let him hear what the Spirit saith to the assemblies: To him who is overcoming — I will give to him to eat of the tree of life that is in the midst of the paradise of God.

<sup>8</sup> 'And to the messenger of the assembly of the Smyrneans write: These things saith the First and the Last, who did become dead and did live;

<sup>9</sup> I have known thy works, and tribulation, and poverty — yet thou art rich — and the evil-speaking of those saying themselves to be Jews, and are not, but [are] a synagogue of the Adversary.

<sup>10</sup> 'Be not afraid of the things that thou art about to suffer; lo, the devil is about to cast of you to prison, that ye may be tried, and ye shall have tribulation ten days; become thou faithful unto death, and I will give to thee the crown of the life.

<sup>11</sup> He who is having an ear — let him hear what the Spirit saith to the assemblies: He who is overcoming may not be injured of the second death.

<sup>12</sup> 'And to the messenger of the assembly in Pergamos write: These things saith he who is having the sharp two-edged sword:

<sup>13</sup> I have known thy works, and where thou dost dwell — where the throne of the Adversary [is] — and thou dost hold fast my name, and thou didst not deny my faith, even in the days in which Antipas [was] my faithful witness, who was put to death beside you, where the Adversary doth dwell.

<sup>14</sup> 'But I have against thee a few things: That thou hast there those holding the teaching of Balaam, who did teach Balak to cast a stumbling-block before the sons of Israel, to eat idol-sacrifices, and to commit whoredom;

<sup>15</sup> so hast thou, even thou, those holding the teaching of the Nicolaitans — which thing I hate.

<sup>16</sup> 'Reform! and if not, I come to thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

<sup>17</sup> He who is having an ear — let him hear what the Spirit saith to the assemblies: To him who is overcoming, I will give to him to eat from the hidden manna, and will give to him a white stone, and upon the stone a new name written, that no one knew except him who is receiving [it].

<sup>18</sup> 'And to the messenger of the assembly of Thyatira write: These things saith the Son of God, who is having his eyes as a flame of fire, and his feet like to fine brass;

<sup>19</sup> I have known thy works, and love, and ministration, and faith, and thy endurance, and thy works — and the last [are] more than the first.

<sup>20</sup> 'But I have against thee a few things: That thou dost suffer the woman Jezebel, who is calling herself a prophetess, to teach, and to lead astray, my servants to commit whoredom, and idol-sacrifices to eat;

<sup>21</sup> and I did give to her a time that she might reform from her whoredom, and she did not reform;

<sup>22</sup> lo, I will cast her into a couch, and those committing adultery with her into great tribulation — if they may not repent of their works,

<sup>23</sup> and her children I will kill in death, and know shall all the assemblies that I am he who is searching reins and hearts; and I will give to you — to each — according to your works.

<sup>24</sup> 'And to you I say, and to the rest who are in Thyatira, as many as have not this teaching, and who did not know the depths of the Adversary, as they say; I will not put upon you other burden;

<sup>25</sup> but that which ye have — hold ye, till I may come;

<sup>26</sup> and he who is overcoming, and who is keeping unto the end my works, I will give to him authority over the nations,

<sup>27</sup> and he shall rule them with a rod of iron — as the vessels of the potter they shall be broken — as I also have received from my Father;

<sup>28</sup> and I will give to him the morning star.

<sup>29</sup> He who is having an ear — let him hear what the Spirit saith to the assemblies.

<sup>1</sup> And to the messenger of the assembly in Sardis write: These things saith he who is having the Seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars: I have known thy works, and that thou hast the name that thou dost live, and thou art dead;

<sup>2</sup> become watching, and strengthen the rest of the things that are about to die, for I have not found thy works fulfilled before God.

<sup>3</sup> 'Remember, then, how thou hast received, and heard, and be keeping, and reform: if, then, thou mayest not watch, I will come upon thee as a thief, and thou mayest not know what hour I will come upon thee.

<sup>4</sup> Thou hast a few names even in Sardis who did not defile their garments, and they shall walk with me in white, because they are worthy.

<sup>5</sup> He who is overcoming — this one — shall be arrayed in white garments, and I will not blot out his name from the scroll of the life, and I will confess his name before my Father, and before His messengers.

<sup>6</sup> He who is having an ear — let him hear what the Spirit saith to the assemblies.

<sup>7</sup> 'And to the messenger of the assembly in Philadelphia write: These things saith he who is holy, he who is true, he who is having the key of David, he who is opening and no one doth shut, and he shutteth and no one doth open!

<sup>8</sup> I have known thy works; lo, I have set before thee a door — opened, and no one is able to shut it, because thou hast a little power, and didst keep my word, and didst not deny my name;

<sup>9</sup> lo, I make of the synagogue of the Adversary those saying themselves to be Jews, and are not, but do lie; lo, I will make them that they may come and bow before thy feet, and may know that I loved thee.

<sup>10</sup> 'Because thou didst keep the word of my endurance, I also will keep thee from the hour of the trial that is about to come upon all the world, to try those dwelling upon the earth.

<sup>11</sup> Lo, I come quickly, be holding fast that which thou hast, that no one may receive thy crown.

<sup>12</sup> He who is overcoming – I will make him a pillar in the sanctuary of my God, and without he may not go any more, and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, that doth come down out of the heaven from my God – also my new name.

<sup>13</sup> He who is having an ear – let him hear what the Spirit saith to the assemblies.

<sup>14</sup> 'And to the messenger of the assembly of the Laodiceans write: These things saith the Amen, the witness – the faithful and true – the chief of the creation of God;

<sup>15</sup> I have known thy works, that neither cold art thou nor hot; I would thou wert cold or hot.

<sup>16</sup> So – because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I am about to vomit thee out of my mouth;

<sup>17</sup> because thou sayest – I am rich, and have grown rich, and have need of nothing, and hast not known that thou art the wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked,

<sup>18</sup> I counsel thee to buy from me gold fired by fire, that thou mayest be rich, and white garments that thou mayest be arrayed, and the shame of thy nakedness may not be manifest, and with eye-salve anoint thine eyes, that thou mayest see.

<sup>19</sup> 'As many as I love, I do convict and chasten; be zealous, then, and reform;

<sup>20</sup> lo, I have stood at the door, and I knock; if any one may hear my voice, and may open the door, I will come in unto him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

<sup>21</sup> He who is overcoming – I will give to him to sit with me in my throne, as I also did overcome and did sit down with my Father in His throne.

<sup>22</sup> He who is having an ear – let him hear what the Spirit saith to the assemblies.'

4

<sup>1</sup> After these things I saw, and lo, a door opened in the heaven, and the first voice that I heard [is] as of a trumpet speaking with me, saying, 'Come up hither, and I will shew thee what it behoveth to come to pass after these things;'

<sup>2</sup> and immediately I was in the Spirit, and lo, a throne was set in the heaven, and upon the throne is [one] sitting,

<sup>3</sup> and He who is sitting was in sight like a stone, jasper and sardine: and a rainbow was round the throne in sight like an emerald.

<sup>4</sup> And around the throne [are] thrones twenty and four, and upon the thrones I saw the twenty and four elders sitting, clothed in white garments, and they had upon their heads crowns of gold;

<sup>5</sup> and out of the throne proceed do lightnings, and thunders, and voices; and seven lamps of fire are burning before the throne, which are the Seven Spirits of God,

<sup>6</sup> and before the throne [is] a sea of glass like to crystal, and in the midst of the throne, and round the throne, [are] four living creatures, full of eyes before and behind;

<sup>7</sup> and the first living creature [is] like a lion, and the second living creature [is] like a calf, and the third living creature hath the face as a man, and the fourth living creature [is] like an eagle flying.

<sup>8</sup> And the four living creatures, each by itself severally, had six wings, around and within [are] full of eyes, and rest they have not day and night, saying, 'Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, who was, and who is, and who is coming;'

<sup>9</sup> and when the living creatures do give glory, and honour, and thanks, to Him who is sitting upon the throne, who is living to the ages of the ages,

<sup>10</sup> fall down do the twenty and four elders before Him who is sitting upon the throne, and bow before Him who is living to the ages of the ages, and they cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

<sup>11</sup> 'Worthy art Thou, O Lord, to receive the glory, and the honour, and the power, because Thou — Thou didst create the all things, and because of Thy will are they, and they were created.'

5

<sup>1</sup> And I saw upon the right hand of Him who is sitting upon the throne a scroll, written within and on the back, sealed with seven seals;

<sup>2</sup> and I saw a strong messenger crying with a great voice, 'Who is worthy to open the scroll and to loose the seals of it?'

<sup>3</sup> and no one was able in the heaven, nor upon the earth, nor under the earth, to open the scroll, nor to behold it.

<sup>4</sup> And I was weeping much, because no one was found worthy to open and to read the scroll, nor to behold it,

<sup>5</sup> and one of the elders saith to me, 'Weep not; lo, overcome did the Lion, who is of the tribe of Judah, the root of David, to open the scroll, and to loose the seven seals of it;

<sup>6</sup> and I saw, and lo, in the midst of the throne, and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb hath stood as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the Seven Spirits of God, which are sent to all the earth,

<sup>7</sup> and he came and took the scroll out of the right hand of Him who is sitting upon the throne.

<sup>8</sup> And when he took the scroll, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell before the Lamb, having each one harps and golden vials full of perfumes, which are the prayers of the saints,

<sup>9</sup> and they sing a new song, saying, 'Worthy art thou to take the scroll, and to open the seals of it, because thou wast slain, and didst redeem us to God in thy blood, out of every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation,

<sup>10</sup> and didst make us to our God kings and priests, and we shall reign upon the earth.'

<sup>11</sup> And I saw, and I heard the voice of many messengers round the throne, and the living creatures, and the elders — and the number of them was myriads of myriads, and thousands of thousands —

<sup>12</sup> saying with a great voice, 'Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive the power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing!'

<sup>13</sup> and every creature that is in the heaven, and in the earth, and under the earth, and the things that are upon the sea, and the all things in them, heard I saying, 'To Him who is sitting upon the throne, and to the Lamb, [is] the blessing, and the honour, and the glory, and the might – to the ages of the ages!

<sup>14</sup> and the four living creatures said, 'Amen!' and the twenty-four elders fell down and they bow before Him who is living to the ages of the ages.

6

<sup>1</sup> And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying, as it were a voice of thunder, 'Come and behold!'

<sup>2</sup> and I saw, and lo, a white horse, and he who is sitting upon it is having a bow, and there was given to him a crown, and he went forth overcoming, and that he may overcome.

<sup>3</sup> And when he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying, 'Come and behold!'

<sup>4</sup> and there went forth another horse – red, and to him who is sitting upon it, there was given to him to take the peace from the land, and that one another they may slay, and there was given to him a great sword.

<sup>5</sup> And when he opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature saying, 'Come and behold!' and I saw, and lo, a black horse, and he who is sitting upon it is having a balance in his hand,

<sup>6</sup> and I heard a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, 'A measure of wheat for a denary, and three measures of barley for a denary,' and 'The oil and the wine thou mayest not injure.'

<sup>7</sup> And when he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature saying, 'Come and behold!'

<sup>8</sup> and I saw, and lo, a pale horse, and he who is sitting upon him – his name is Death, and Hades doth follow with him, and there was given to them authority to kill, (over the fourth part of the land,) with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and by the beasts of the land.

<sup>9</sup> And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those slain because of the word of God, and because of the testimony that they held,

<sup>10</sup> and they were crying with a great voice, saying, 'Till when, O Master, the Holy and the True, dost Thou not judge and take vengeance of our blood from those dwelling upon the land?'

<sup>11</sup> and there was given to each one white robes, and it was said to them that they may rest themselves yet a little time, till may be fulfilled also their fellow-servants and their brethren, who are about to be killed – even as they.

<sup>12</sup> And I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and lo, a great earthquake came, and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood,

<sup>13</sup> and the stars of the heaven fell to the earth – as a fig-tree doth cast her winter figs, by a great wind being shaken –

<sup>14</sup> and heaven departed as a scroll rolled up, and every mountain and island – out of their places they were moved;

<sup>15</sup> and the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich, and the chiefs of thousands, and the mighty, and every servant, and every freeman, hid themselves in the dens, and in the rocks of the mountains,

<sup>16</sup> and they say to the mountains and to the rocks, 'Fall upon us, and hide us from the face of Him who is sitting upon the throne, and from the anger of the Lamb,'

<sup>17</sup> because come did the great day of His anger, and who is able to stand?

7

<sup>1</sup> And after these things I saw four messengers, standing upon the four corners of the land, holding the four winds of the land, that the wind may not blow upon the land, nor upon the sea, nor upon any tree;

<sup>2</sup> and I saw another messenger going up from the rising of the sun, having a seal of the living God, and he did cry with a great voice to the four messengers, to whom it was given to injure the land and the sea, saying,

<sup>3</sup> 'Do not injure the land, nor the sea, nor the trees, till we may seal the servants of our God upon their foreheads.'

<sup>4</sup> And I heard the number of those sealed, (one hundred and forty four thousands were sealed out of all the tribes of the sons of Israel):

<sup>5</sup> of the tribe of Judah twelve thousand were sealed; of the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand were sealed; of the tribe of Gad twelve thousand were sealed;

<sup>6</sup> of the tribe of Asher twelve thousand were sealed; of the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand were sealed; of the tribe of Manasseh twelve thousand were sealed;

<sup>7</sup> of the tribe of Simeon twelve thousand were sealed; of the tribe of Levi twelve thousand were sealed; of the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand were sealed;

<sup>8</sup> of the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand were sealed; of the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand were sealed; of the tribe of Benjamin twelve thousand were sealed.

<sup>9</sup> After these things I saw, and lo, a great multitude, which to number no one was able, out of all nations, and tribes, and peoples, and tongues, standing before the throne, and before the Lamb, arrayed in white robes, and palms in their hands,

<sup>10</sup> and crying with a great voice, saying, 'The salvation [is] to Him who is sitting upon the throne — to our God, and to the Lamb!'

<sup>11</sup> And all the messengers stood around the throne, and the elders and the four living creatures, and they fell upon their face, and bowed before God,

<sup>12</sup> saying, 'Amen! the blessing, and the glory, and the wisdom, and the thanksgiving, and the honour, and the power, and the strength, [are] to our God — to the ages of the ages! Amen!'

<sup>13</sup> And answer did one of the elders, saying to me, 'These, who have been arrayed with the white robes — who are they, and whence came they?'

<sup>14</sup> and I have said to him, 'Sir, thou hast known;' and he said to me, 'These are those who are coming out of the great tribulation, and they did wash their robes, and they made their robes white in the blood of the Lamb;

<sup>15</sup> because of this are they before the throne of God, and they do service to Him day and night in His sanctuary, and He who is sitting upon the throne shall tabernacle over them;

<sup>16</sup> they shall not hunger any more, nor may the sun fall upon them, nor any heat,

<sup>17</sup> because the Lamb that [is] in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters, and wipe away shall God every tear from their eyes.'

8

<sup>1</sup> And when he openeth the seventh seal, there came silence in the heaven about half-an-hour,

<sup>2</sup> and I saw the seven messengers who before God have stood, and there were given to them seven trumpets,

<sup>3</sup> and another messenger did come, and he stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given to him much perfume, that he may give [it] to the prayers of all the saints upon the golden altar that [is] before the throne,

<sup>4</sup> and go up did the smoke of the perfumes to the prayers of the saints out of the hand of the messenger, before God;

<sup>5</sup> and the messenger took the censer, and did fill it out of the fire of the altar, and did cast [it] to the earth, and there came voices, and thunders, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

<sup>6</sup> And the seven messengers who are having the seven trumpets did prepare themselves that they may sound;

<sup>7</sup> and the first messenger did sound, and there came hail and fire, mingled with blood, and it was cast to the land, and the third of the trees was burnt up, and all the green grass was burnt up.

<sup>8</sup> And the second messenger did sound, and as it were a great mountain with fire burning was cast into the sea, and the third of the sea became blood,

<sup>9</sup> and die did the third of the creatures that [are] in the sea, those having life, and the third of the ships were destroyed.

<sup>10</sup> And the third messenger did sound, and there fell out of the heaven a great star, burning as a lamp, and it did fall upon the third of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters,

<sup>11</sup> and the name of the star is called Wormwood, and the third of the waters doth become wormwood, and many of the men did die of the waters, because they were made bitter.

<sup>12</sup> And the fourth messenger did sound, and smitten was the third of the sun, and the third of the moon, and the third of the stars, that darkened may be the third of them, and that the day may not shine — the third of it, and the night in like manner.

<sup>13</sup> And I saw, and I heard one messenger, flying in the mid-heaven, saying with a great voice, 'Woe, woe, woe, to those dwelling upon the land from the rest of the voices of the trumpet of the three messengers who are about to sound.'

9

<sup>1</sup> And the fifth messenger did sound, and I saw a star out of the heaven having fallen to the earth, and there was given to it the key of the pit of the abyss,

<sup>2</sup> and he did open the pit of the abyss, and there came up a smoke out of the pit as smoke of a great furnace, and darkened was the sun and the air, from the smoke of the pit.

<sup>3</sup> And out of the smoke came forth locusts to the earth, and there was given to them authority, as scorpions of the earth have authority,

<sup>4</sup> and it was said to them that they may not injure the grass of the earth, nor any green thing, nor any tree, but — the men only who have not the seal of God upon their foreheads,

<sup>5</sup> and it was given to them that they may not kill them, but that they may be tormented five months, and their torment [is] as the torment of a scorpion, when it may strike a man;

<sup>6</sup> and in those days shall men seek the death, and they shall not find it, and they shall desire to die, and the death shall flee from them.

<sup>7</sup> And the likenesses of the locusts [are] like to horses made ready to battle, and upon their heads as crowns like gold, and their faces as faces of men,

<sup>8</sup> and they had hair as hair of women, and their teeth were as [those] of lions,

<sup>9</sup> and they had breastplates as breastplates of iron, and the noise of their wings [is] as the noise of chariots of many horses running to battle;

<sup>10</sup> and they have tails like to scorpions, and stings were in their tails; and their authority [is] to injure men five months;

<sup>11</sup> and they have over them a king – the messenger of the abyss – a name [is] to him in Hebrew, Abaddon, and in the Greek he hath a name, Apollyon.

<sup>12</sup> The first woe did go forth, lo, there come yet two woes after these things.

<sup>13</sup> And the sixth messenger did sound, and I heard a voice out of the four horns of the altar of gold that is before God,

<sup>14</sup> saying to the sixth messenger who had the trumpet, 'Loose the four messengers who are bound at the great river Euphrates;'

<sup>15</sup> and loosed were the four messengers, who have been made ready for the hour, and day, and month, and year, that they may kill the third of men;

<sup>16</sup> and the number of the forces of the horsemen [is] two myriads of myriads, and I heard the number of them.

<sup>17</sup> And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and those sitting upon them, having breastplates of fire, and jacinth, and brimstone; and the heads of the horses [are] as heads of lions, and out of their mouths proceedeth fire, and smoke, and brimstone;

<sup>18</sup> by these three were the third of men killed, from the fire, and from the smoke, and from the brimstone, that is proceeding out of their mouth,

<sup>19</sup> for their authorities are in their mouth, and in their tails, for their tails [are] like serpents, having heads, and with them they do injure;

<sup>20</sup> and the rest of men, who were not killed in these plagues, neither did reform from the works of their hands, that they may not bow before the demons, and idols, those of gold, and those of silver, and those of brass, and those of stone, and those of wood, that are neither able to see, nor to hear, nor to walk,

<sup>21</sup> yea they did not reform from their murders, nor from their sorceries, nor from their whoredoms, nor from their thefts.

10

<sup>1</sup> And I saw another strong messenger coming down out of the heaven, arrayed with a cloud, and a rainbow upon the head, and his face as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire,

<sup>2</sup> and he had in his hand a little scroll opened, and he did place his right foot upon the sea, and the left upon the land,

<sup>3</sup> and he cried with a great voice, as a lion doth roar, and when he cried, speak out did the seven thunders their voices;

<sup>4</sup> and when the seven thunders spake their voices, I was about to write, and I heard a voice out of the heaven saying to me, 'Seal the things that the seven thunders spake,' and, 'Thou mayest not write these things.'

<sup>5</sup> And the messenger whom I saw standing upon the sea, and upon the land, did lift up his hand to the heaven,

<sup>6</sup> and did swear in Him who doth live to the ages of the ages, who did create the heaven and the things in it, and the land and the things in it, and the sea and the things in it – that time shall not be yet,

<sup>7</sup> but in the days of the voice of the seventh messenger, when he may be about to sound, and the secret of God may be finished, as He did declare to His own servants, to the prophets.

<sup>8</sup> And the voice that I heard out of the heaven is again speaking with me, and saying, 'Go, take the little scroll that is open in the hand of the messenger who hath been standing upon the sea, and upon the land:'

<sup>9</sup> and I went away unto the messenger, saying to him, 'Give me the little scroll;' and he saith to me, 'Take, and eat it up, and it shall make thy belly bitter, but in thy mouth it shall be sweet – as honey.'

<sup>10</sup> And I took the little scroll out of the hand of the messenger, and did eat it up, and it was in my mouth as honey – sweet, and when I did eat it – my belly was made bitter;

<sup>11</sup> and he saith to me, 'It behoveth thee again to prophesy about peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings – many.'

11

<sup>1</sup> And there was given to me a reed like to a rod, and the messenger stood, saying, 'Rise, and measure the sanctuary of God, and the altar, and those worshipping in it;

<sup>2</sup> and the court that is without the sanctuary leave out, and thou mayest not measure it, because it was given to the nations, and the holy city they shall tread down forty-two months;

<sup>3</sup> and I will give to My two witnesses, and they shall prophesy days, a thousand, two hundred, sixty, arrayed with sackcloth;

<sup>4</sup> these are the two olive [trees], and the two lamp-stands that before the God of the earth do stand;

<sup>5</sup> and if any one may will to injure them, fire doth proceed out of their mouth, and doth devour their enemies, and if any one may will to injure them, thus it behoveth him to be killed.

<sup>6</sup> These have authority to shut the heaven, that it may not rain in the days of their prophecy, and authority they have over the waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the land with every plague, as often as they may will.

<sup>7</sup> And when they may finish their testimony, the beast that is coming up out of the abyss shall make war with them, and overcome them, and kill them,

<sup>8</sup> and their dead bodies [are] upon the broad-place of the great city (that is called spiritually Sodom, and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified,)

<sup>9</sup> and they shall behold – they of the peoples, and tribes, and tongues, and nations – their dead bodies three days and a half, and their dead bodies they shall not suffer to be put into tombs,

<sup>10</sup> and those dwelling upon the land shall rejoice over them, and shall make merry, and gifts they shall send to one another, because these – the two prophets – did torment those dwelling upon the land.'

<sup>11</sup> And after the three days and a half, a spirit of life from God did enter into them, and they stood upon their feet, and great fear fell upon those beholding them,

<sup>12</sup> and they heard a great voice out of the heaven saying to them, 'Come up hither;' and they went up to the heaven in the cloud, and their enemies beheld them;

<sup>13</sup> and in that hour came a great earthquake, and the tenth of the city did fall, and killed in the earthquake were names of men – seven thousands, and the rest became affrighted, and they gave glory to the God of the heaven.

<sup>14</sup> The second woe did go forth, lo, the third woe doth come quickly.

<sup>15</sup> And the seventh messenger did sound, and there came great voices in the heaven, saying, 'The kingdoms of the world did become [those] of our Lord and of His Christ, and he shall reign to the ages of the ages!'

<sup>16</sup> and the twenty and four elders, who before God are sitting upon their thrones, did fall upon their faces, and did bow before God,

<sup>17</sup> saying, 'We give thanks to Thee, O Lord God, the Almighty, who art, and who wast, and who art coming, because Thou hast taken Thy great power and didst reign;

<sup>18</sup> and the nations were angry, and Thine anger did come, and the time of the dead, to be judged, and to give the reward to Thy servants, to the prophets, and to the saints, and to those fearing Thy name, to the small and to the great, and to destroy those who are destroying the land.'

<sup>19</sup> And opened was the sanctuary of God in the heaven, and there was seen the ark of His covenant in His sanctuary, and there did come lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and an earthquake, and great hail.

12

<sup>1</sup> And a great sign was seen in the heaven, a woman arrayed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars,

<sup>3</sup> And there was seen another sign in the heaven, and, lo, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his head seven diadems,

<sup>4</sup> and his tail doth draw the third of the stars of the heaven, and he did cast them to the earth; and the dragon did stand before the woman who is about to bring forth, that when she may bring forth, her child he may devour;

<sup>5</sup> and she brought forth a male child, who is about to rule all the nations with a rod of iron, and caught away was her child unto God and His throne,

<sup>6</sup> and the woman did flee to the wilderness, where she hath a place made ready from God, that there they may nourish her — days a thousand, two hundred, sixty.

<sup>7</sup> And there came war in the heaven; Michael and his messengers did war against the dragon, and the dragon did war, and his messengers,

<sup>8</sup> and they did not prevail, nor was their place found any more in the heaven;

<sup>9</sup> and the great dragon was cast forth — the old serpent, who is called 'Devil,' and 'the Adversary,' who is leading astray the whole world — he was cast forth to the earth, and his messengers were cast forth with him.

<sup>10</sup> And I heard a great voice saying in the heaven, 'Now did come the salvation, and the power, and the reign, of our God, and the authority of His Christ, because cast down was the accuser of our brethren, who is accusing them before our God day and night;

<sup>11</sup> and they did overcome him because of the blood of the Lamb, and because of the word of their testimony, and they did not love their life — unto death;

<sup>12</sup> because of this be glad, ye heavens, and those in them who do tabernacle; woe to those inhabiting the land and the sea, because the Devil did go down unto you, having great wrath, having known that he hath little time.'

<sup>13</sup> And when the dragon saw that he was cast forth to the earth, he pursued the woman who did bring forth the male,

<sup>14</sup> and there were given to the woman two wings of the great eagle, that she may fly to the wilderness, to her place, where she is nourished a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent;

<sup>15</sup> and the serpent did cast forth after the woman, out of his mouth, water as a river, that he may cause her to be carried away by the river,

<sup>16</sup> and the land did help the woman, and the land did open its mouth and did swallow up the river; that the dragon did cast forth out of his mouth;

<sup>17</sup> and the dragon was angry against the woman, and went away to make war with the rest of her seed, those keeping the commands of God, and having the testimony of Jesus Christ.

13

<sup>1</sup> And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and I saw out of the sea a beast coming up, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon its horns ten diadems, and upon its heads a name of evil speaking,

<sup>2</sup> and the beast that I saw was like to a leopard, and its feet as of a bear; and its mouth as the mouth of a lion, and the dragon did give to it his power, and his throne, and great authority.

<sup>3</sup> And I saw one of its heads as slain to death, and its deadly stroke was healed, and all the earth did wonder after the beast,

<sup>4</sup> and they did bow before the dragon who did give authority to the beast, and they did bow before the beast, saying, 'Who [is] like to the beast? who is able to war with it?'

<sup>5</sup> And there was given to it a mouth speaking great things, and evil-speakings, and there was given to it authority to make war forty-two months,

<sup>6</sup> and it did open its mouth for evil-speaking toward God, to speak evil of His name, and of His tabernacle, and of those who in the heaven tabernacle,

<sup>7</sup> and there was given to it to make war with the saints, and to overcome them, and there was given to it authority over every tribe, and tongue, and nation.

<sup>8</sup> And bow before it shall all who are dwelling upon the land, whose names have not been written in the scroll of the life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world;

<sup>9</sup> if any one hath an ear — let him hear:

<sup>10</sup> if any one a captivity doth gather, into captivity he doth go away; if any one by sword doth kill, it behoveth him by sword to be killed; here is the endurance and the faith of the saints.

<sup>11</sup> And I saw another beast coming up out of the land, and it had two horns, like a lamb, and it was speaking as a dragon,

<sup>12</sup> and all the authority of the first beast doth it do before it, and it maketh the land and those dwelling in it that they shall bow before the first beast, whose deadly stroke was healed,

<sup>13</sup> and it doth great signs, that fire also it may make to come down from the heaven to the earth before men,

<sup>14</sup> and it leadeth astray those dwelling on the land, because of the signs that were given it to do before the beast, saying to those dwelling upon the land to make an image to the beast that hath the stroke of the sword and did live,

<sup>15</sup> and there was given to it to give a spirit to the image of the beast, that also the image of the beast may speak, and [that] it may cause as many as shall not bow before the image of the beast, that they may be killed.

<sup>16</sup> And it maketh all, the small, and the great, and the rich, and the poor, and the freemen, and the servants, that it may give to them a mark upon their right hand or upon their foreheads,

<sup>17</sup> and that no one may be able to buy, or to sell, except he who is having the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

<sup>18</sup> Here is the wisdom! He who is having the understanding, let him count the number of the beast, for the number of a man it is, and its number [is] six hundred and sixty six.

14

<sup>1</sup> And I saw, and lo, a Lamb having stood upon the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty-four thousands, having the name of his Father written upon their foreheads;

<sup>2</sup> and I heard a voice out of the heaven, as a voice of many waters, and as a voice of great thunder, and a voice I heard of harpers harping with their harps,

<sup>3</sup> and they sing, as it were, a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures, and the elders, and no one was able to learn the song except the hundred forty-four thousands, who have been bought from the earth;

<sup>4</sup> these are they who with women were not defiled, for they are virgin; these are they who are following the Lamb whithersoever he may go; these were bought from among men — a first-fruit to God and to the Lamb —

<sup>5</sup> and in their mouth there was not found guile, for unblemished are they before the throne of God.

<sup>6</sup> And I saw another messenger flying in mid-heaven, having good news age-during to proclaim to those dwelling upon the earth, and to every nation, and tribe, and tongue, and people,

<sup>7</sup> saying in a great voice, 'Fear ye God, and give to Him glory, because come did the hour of His judgment, and bow ye before Him who did make the heaven, and the land, and sea, and fountains of waters.'

<sup>8</sup> And another messenger did follow, saying, 'Fall, fall, did Babylon, the great city, because of the wine of the wrath of her whoredom she hath given to all nations to drink.'

<sup>9</sup> And a third messenger did follow them, saying in a great voice, 'If any one the beast doth bow before, and his image, and doth receive a mark upon his forehead, or upon his hand,

<sup>10</sup> he also shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, that hath been mingled unmixed in the cup of His anger, and he shall be tormented in fire and brimstone before the holy messengers, and before the Lamb,

<sup>11</sup> and the smoke of their torment doth go up to ages of ages; and they have no rest day and night, who are bowing before the beast and his image, also if any doth receive the mark of his name.

<sup>12</sup> Here is endurance of the saints: here [are] those keeping the commands of God, and the faith of Jesus.'

<sup>13</sup> And I heard a voice out of the heaven saying to me, 'Write: Happy are the dead who in the Lord are dying from this time!' 'Yes, (saith the Spirit,) That they may rest from their labours — and their works do follow them!'

<sup>14</sup> And I saw, and lo, a white cloud, and upon the cloud [one] sitting like to a son of man, having upon his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle;

<sup>15</sup> and another messenger did come forth out of the sanctuary crying in a great voice to him who is sitting upon the cloud, 'Send forth thy sickle and reap, because come to thee hath the hour of reaping, because ripe hath been the harvest of the earth;'

<sup>16</sup> and he who is sitting upon the cloud did put forth his sickle upon the earth, and the earth was reaped.

<sup>17</sup> And another messenger did come forth out of the sanctuary that [is] in the heaven, having — he also — a sharp sickle,

<sup>18</sup> and another messenger did come forth out from the altar, having authority over the fire, and he called with a great cry to him having the sharp

sickle, saying, 'Send forth thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, because come to perfection have her grapes;'

<sup>19</sup> and the messenger did put forth his sickle to the earth, and did gather the vine of the earth, and did cast [it] to the great wine-press of the wrath of God;

<sup>20</sup> and trodden was the wine-press outside of the city, and blood did come forth out of the wine-press — unto the bridles of the horses, a thousand, six hundred furlongs.

15

<sup>1</sup> And I saw another sign in the heaven, great and wonderful, seven messengers having the seven last plagues, because in these was completed the wrath of God,

<sup>2</sup> and I saw as a sea of glass mingled with fire, and those who do gain the victory over the beast, and his image, and his mark, [and] the number of his name, standing by the sea of the glass, having harps of God,

<sup>3</sup> and they sing the song of Moses, servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, 'Great and wonderful [are] Thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty, righteous and true [are] Thy ways, O King of saints,

<sup>4</sup> who may not fear Thee, O Lord, and glorify Thy name? because Thou alone [art] kind, because all the nations shall come and bow before Thee, because Thy righteous acts were manifested.'

<sup>5</sup> And after these things I saw, and lo, opened was the sanctuary of the tabernacle of the testimony in the heaven;

<sup>6</sup> and come forth did the seven messengers having the seven plagues, out of the sanctuary, clothed in linen, pure and shining, and girded round the breasts with golden girdles:

<sup>7</sup> and one of the four living creatures did give to the seven messengers seven golden vials, full of the wrath of God, who is living to the ages of the ages;

<sup>8</sup> and filled was the sanctuary with smoke from the glory of God, and from His power, and no one was able to enter into the sanctuary till the seven plagues of the seven messengers may be finished.

16

<sup>1</sup> And I heard a great voice out of the sanctuary saying to the seven messengers, 'Go away, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God to the earth;'

<sup>2</sup> and the first did go away, and did pour out his vial upon the land, and there came a sore — bad and grievous — to men, those having the mark of the beast, and those bowing to his image.

<sup>3</sup> And the second messenger did pour out his vial to the sea, and there came blood as of [one] dead, and every living soul died in the sea.

<sup>4</sup> And the third messenger did pour out his vial to the rivers, and to the fountains of the waters, and there came blood,

<sup>5</sup> and I heard the messenger of the waters, saying, 'righteous, O Lord, art Thou, who art, and who wast, and who shalt be, because these things Thou didst judge,

<sup>6</sup> because blood of saints and prophets they did pour out, and blood to them Thou didst give to drink, for they are worthy;'

<sup>7</sup> and I heard another out of the altar, saying, 'Yes, Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous [are] Thy judgments.'

<sup>8</sup> And the fourth messenger did pour out his vial upon the sun, and there was given to him to scorch men with fire,

<sup>9</sup> and men were scorched with great heat, and they did speak evil of the name of God, who hath authority over these plagues, and they did not reform — to give to Him glory.

<sup>10</sup> And the fifth messenger did pour out his vial upon the throne of the beast, and his kingdom did become darkened, and they were gnawing their tongues from the pain,

<sup>11</sup> and they did speak evil of the God of the heaven, from their pains, and from their sores, and they did not reform from their works.

<sup>12</sup> And the sixth messenger did pour out his vial upon the great river, the Euphrates, and dried up was its water, that the way of the kings who are from the rising of the sun may be made ready;

<sup>13</sup> and I saw [come] out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits like frogs —

<sup>14</sup> for they are spirits of demons, doing signs — which go forth unto the kings of the earth, and of the whole world, to bring them together to the battle of that great day of God the Almighty; —

<sup>15</sup> 'lo, I do come as a thief; happy [is] he who is watching, and keeping his garments, that he may not walk naked, and they may see his unseemliness,'

— <sup>16</sup> and they did bring them together to the place that is called in Hebrew Armageddon.

<sup>17</sup> And the seventh messenger did pour out his vial to the air, and there came forth a great voice from the sanctuary of the heaven, from the throne, saying, 'It hath come!'

<sup>18</sup> and there came voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and a great earthquake came, such as came not since men came upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake — so great!

<sup>19</sup> And it came — the great city — into three parts, and the cities of the nations did fall, and Babylon the great was remembered before God, to give to her the cup of the wine of the wrath of His anger,

<sup>20</sup> and every island did flee away, and mountains were not found,

<sup>21</sup> and great hail (as of talent weight) doth come down out of the heaven upon men, and men did speak evil of God because of the plague of the hail, because its plague is very great.

17

<sup>1</sup> And there came one of the seven messengers, who were having the seven vials, and he spake with me, saying to me, 'Come, I will shew to thee the judgment of the great whore, who is sitting upon the many waters,

<sup>2</sup> with whom the kings of the earth did commit whoredom; and made drunk from the wine of her whoredom were those inhabiting the earth;'

<sup>3</sup> and he carried me away to a wilderness in the Spirit, and I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet-coloured beast, full of names of evil-speaking, having seven heads and ten horns,

<sup>4</sup> and the woman was arrayed with purple and scarlet-colour, and gilded with gold, and precious stone, and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and uncleanness of her whoredom,

<sup>5</sup> and upon her forehead was a name written: 'Secret, Babylon the Great, the Mother of the Whores, and the Abominations of the earth.'

<sup>6</sup> And I saw the woman drunken from the blood of the saints, and from the blood of the witnesses of Jesus, and I did wonder — having seen her — with great wonder;

<sup>7</sup> and the messenger said to me, 'Wherefore didst thou wonder? I — I will tell thee the secret of the woman and of the beast that [is] carrying her, which hath the seven heads and the ten horns.

<sup>8</sup> 'The beast that thou didst see: it was, and it is not; and it is about to come up out of the abyss, and to go away to destruction, and wonder shall those dwelling upon the earth, whose names have not been written upon the scroll of the life from the foundation of the world, beholding the beast that was, and is not, although it is.

<sup>9</sup> 'Here [is] the mind that is having wisdom; the seven heads are seven mountains, upon which the woman doth sit,

<sup>10</sup> and there are seven kings, the five did fall, and the one is, the other did not yet come, and when he may come, it behoveth him to remain a little time;

<sup>11</sup> and the beast that was, and is not, he also is eighth, and out of the seven he is, and to destruction he doth go away.

<sup>12</sup> 'And the ten horns that thou sawest, are ten kings, who a kingdom did not yet receive, but authority as kings the same hour do receive with the beast,

<sup>13</sup> these have one mind, and their own power and authority to the beast they shall give over;

<sup>14</sup> these with the Lamb shall make war, and the Lamb shall overcome them, because Lord of lords he is, and King of kings, and those with him are called, and choice, and stedfast.'

<sup>15</sup> And he saith to me, 'The waters that thou didst see, where the whore doth sit, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues;'

<sup>16</sup> and the ten horns that thou didst see upon the beast, these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and shall burn her in fire,

<sup>17</sup> for God did give into their hearts to do its mind, and to make one mind, and to give their kingdom to the beast till the sayings of God may be complete,

<sup>18</sup> and the woman that thou didst see is the great city that is having reign over the kings of the land.'

18

<sup>1</sup> And after these things I saw another messenger coming down out of the heaven, having great authority, and the earth was lightened from his glory,

<sup>2</sup> and he did cry in might — a great voice, saying, 'Fall, fall did Babylon the great, and she became a habitation of demons, and a hold of every unclean spirit, and a hold of every unclean and hateful bird, <sup>3</sup> because of the wine of the wrath of her whoredom have all the nations drunk, and the kings of the earth with her did commit whoredom, and merchants of the earth from the power of her revel were made rich.

<sup>4</sup> And I heard another voice out of the heaven, saying, 'Come forth out of her, My people, that ye may not partake with her sins, and that ye may not receive of her plagues, <sup>5</sup> because her sins did follow — unto the heaven, and God did remember her unrighteousness.

<sup>6</sup> Render to her as also she did render to you, and double to her doubles according to her works; in the cup that she did mingle mingle to her double.

<sup>7</sup> 'As much as she did glorify herself and did revel, so much torment and sorrow give to her, because in her heart she saith, I sit a queen, and a widow I am not, and sorrow I shall not see;

<sup>8</sup> because of this, in one day, shall come her plagues, death, and sorrow, and famine; and in fire she shall be utterly burned, because strong [is] the Lord God who is judging her;

<sup>9</sup> and weep over her, and smite themselves for her, shall the kings of the earth, who with her did commit whoredom and did revel, when they may see the smoke of her burning,

<sup>11</sup> 'And the merchants of the earth shall weep and sorrow over her, because their lading no one doth buy any more;

<sup>12</sup> lading of gold, and silver, and precious stone, and pearl, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all thyine wood, and every vessel of ivory, and every vessel of most precious wood, and brass, and iron, and marble,

<sup>13</sup> and cinnamon, and odours, and ointment, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and cattle, and sheep, and of horses, and of chariots, and of bodies and souls of men.

<sup>14</sup> 'And the fruits of the desire of thy soul did go away from thee, and all things — the dainty and the bright — did go away from thee, and no more at all mayest thou find them.

<sup>15</sup> The merchants of these things, who were made rich by her, far off shall stand because of the fear of her torment, weeping, and sorrowing,

<sup>16</sup> and saying, Woe, woe, the great city, that was arrayed with fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and gilded in gold, and precious stone, and pearls — because in one hour so much riches were made waste!

<sup>17</sup> 'And every shipmaster, and all the company upon the ships, and sailors, and as many as work the sea, far off stood,

<sup>18</sup> and were crying, seeing the smoke of her burning, saying, What [city is] like to the great city?

<sup>19</sup> and they did cast dust upon their heads, and were crying out, weeping and sorrowing, saying, Woe, woe, the great city! in which were made rich all having ships in the sea, out of her costliness — for in one hour was she made waste.

<sup>20</sup> 'Be glad over her, O heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets, because God did judge your judgment of her!'

<sup>21</sup> And one strong messenger did take up a stone as a great millstone, and did cast [it] to the sea, saying, 'Thus with violence shall Babylon be cast, the great city, and may not be found any more at all;

<sup>22</sup> and voice of harpers, and musicians, and pipers, and trumpeters, may not be heard at all in thee any more; and any artisan of any art may not be found at all in thee any more; and noise of a millstone may not be heard at all in thee any more;

<sup>23</sup> and light of a lamp may not shine at all in thee any more; and voice of bridegroom and of bride may not be heard at all in thee any more; because thy merchants were the great ones of the earth, because in thy sorcery were all the nations led astray,

<sup>24</sup> and in her blood of prophets and of saints was found, and of all those who have been slain on the earth.'

19

<sup>1</sup> And after these things I heard a great voice of a great multitude in the heaven, saying, 'Alleluia! the salvation, and the glory, and the honour, and the power, [is] to the Lord our God;

<sup>2</sup> because true and righteous [are] His judgments, because He did judge the great whore who did corrupt the earth in her whoredom, and He did avenge the blood of His servants at her hand;'

<sup>3</sup> and a second time they said, 'Alleluia;' and her smoke doth come up — to the ages of the ages!

<sup>4</sup> And fall down did the elders — the twenty and four — and the four living creatures, and they did bow before God who is sitting upon the throne, saying, 'Amen, Alleluia.'

<sup>5</sup> And a voice out of the throne did come forth, saying, 'Praise our God, all ye His servants, and those fearing Him, both the small and the great;'

<sup>6</sup> and I heard as the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, 'Alleluia! because reign did the Lord God — the Almighty!'

<sup>7</sup> may we rejoice and exult, and give the glory to Him, because come did the marriage of the Lamb, and his wife did make herself ready;

<sup>8</sup> and there was given to her that she may be arrayed with fine linen, pure and shining, for the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints.'

<sup>9</sup> And he saith to me, 'Write: Happy [are] they who to the supper of the marriage of the Lamb have been called;' and he saith to me, 'These [are] the true words of God;'

<sup>10</sup> and I fell before his feet, to bow before him, and he saith to me, 'See — not! fellow servant of thee am I, and of thy brethren, those having the testimony of Jesus; bow before God, for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of the prophecy.'

<sup>11</sup> And I saw the heaven having been opened, and lo, a white horse, and he who is sitting upon it is called Faithful and True, and in righteousness doth he judge and war,

<sup>12</sup> and his eyes [are] as a flame of fire, and upon his head [are] many diadems — having a name written that no one hath known, except himself,

<sup>13</sup> and he is arrayed with a garment covered with blood, and his name is called, The Word of God.

<sup>14</sup> And the armies in the heaven were following him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen — white and pure;

<sup>15</sup> and out of his mouth doth proceed a sharp sword, that with it he may smite the nations, and he shall rule them with a rod of iron, and he doth tread the press of the wine of the wrath and the anger of God the Almighty,

<sup>16</sup> and he hath upon the garment and upon his thigh the name written, 'King of kings, and Lord of lords.'

<sup>17</sup> And I saw one messenger standing in the sun, and he cried, a great voice, saying to all the birds that are flying in mid-heaven, 'Come and be gathered together to the supper of the great God,

<sup>18</sup> that ye may eat flesh of kings, and flesh of chiefs of thousands, and flesh of strong men, and flesh of horses, and of those sitting on them, and the flesh of all — freemen and servants — both small and great.'

<sup>19</sup> And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, having been gathered together to make war with him who is sitting upon the horse, and with his army;

<sup>20</sup> and the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet who did the signs before him, in which he led astray those who did receive the mark of the beast, and those who did bow before his image; living they were cast — the two — to the lake of the fire, that is burning with brimstone;

<sup>21</sup> and the rest were killed with the sword of him who is sitting on the horse, which [sword] is proceeding out of his mouth, and all the birds were filled out of their flesh.

20

<sup>1</sup> And I saw a messenger coming down out of the heaven, having the key of the abyss, and a great chain over his hand,

<sup>2</sup> and he laid hold on the dragon, the old serpent, who is Devil and Adversary, and did bind him a thousand years,

<sup>3</sup> and he cast him to the abyss, and did shut him up, and put a seal upon him, that he may not lead astray the nations any more, till the thousand years may be finished; and after these it behoveth him to be loosed a little time.

<sup>4</sup> And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given to them, and the souls of those who have been beheaded because of the testimony of Jesus, and because of the word of God, and who did not bow before the beast, nor his image, and did not receive the mark upon their forehead and upon their hand, and they did live and reign with Christ the thousand years;

<sup>5</sup> and the rest of the dead did not live again till the thousand years may be finished; this [is] the first rising again.

<sup>6</sup> Happy and holy [is] he who is having part in the first rising again; over these the second death hath not authority, but they shall be priests of God and of the Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

<sup>7</sup> And when the thousand years may be finished, the Adversary shall be loosed out of his prison,

<sup>8</sup> and he shall go forth to lead the nations astray, that are in the four corners of the earth — Gog and Magog — to gather them together to war, of whom the number [is] as the sand of the sea;

<sup>9</sup> and they did go up over the breadth of the land, and did surround the camp of the saints, and the beloved city, and there came down fire from God out of the heaven, and devoured them;

<sup>10</sup> and the Devil, who is leading them astray, was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where [are] the beast and the false prophet, and they shall be tormented day and night — to the ages of the ages.

<sup>11</sup> And I saw a great white throne, and Him who is sitting upon it, from whose face the earth and the heaven did flee away, and place was not found for them;

<sup>12</sup> and I saw the dead, small and great, standing before God, and scrolls were opened, and another scroll was opened, which is that of the life, and the dead were judged out of the things written in the scrolls — according to their works;

<sup>13</sup> and the sea did give up those dead in it, and the death and the hades did give up the dead in them, and they were judged, each one according to their works;

<sup>14</sup> and the death and the hades were cast to the lake of the fire — this [is] the second death;

<sup>15</sup> and if any one was not found written in the scroll of the life, he was cast to the lake of the fire.

21

<sup>1</sup> And I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth did pass away, and the sea is not any more;

<sup>2</sup> and I, John, saw the holy city – new Jerusalem – coming down from God out of the heaven, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband;

<sup>3</sup> and I heard a great voice out of the heaven, saying, 'Lo, the tabernacle of God [is] with men, and He will tabernacle with them, and they shall be His peoples, and God Himself shall be with them – their God,

<sup>4</sup> and God shall wipe away every tear from their eyes, and the death shall not be any more, nor sorrow, nor crying, nor shall there be any more pain, because the first things did go away.'

<sup>5</sup> And He who is sitting upon the throne said, 'Lo, new I make all things; and He saith to me, 'Write, because these words are true and stedfast;'

<sup>6</sup> and He said to me, 'It hath been done! I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End; I, to him who is thirsting, will give of the fountain of the water of the life freely;

<sup>7</sup> he who is overcoming shall inherit all things, and I will be to him – a God, and he shall be to me – the son,

<sup>8</sup> and to fearful, and unstedfast, and abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all the liars, their part [is] in the lake that is burning with fire and brimstone, which is a second death.'

<sup>9</sup> And there came unto me one of the seven messengers, who have the seven vials that are full of the seven last plagues, and he spake with me, saying, 'Come, I will shew thee the bride of the Lamb – the wife,'

<sup>10</sup> and he carried me away in the Spirit to a mountain great and high, and did shew to me the great city, the holy Jerusalem, coming down out of the heaven from God,

<sup>11</sup> having the glory of God, and her light [is] like a stone most precious, as a jasper stone clear as crystal,

<sup>12</sup> having also a wall great and high, having twelve gates, and at the gates twelve messengers, and names written thereon, which are [those] of the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel,

<sup>14</sup> and the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

<sup>15</sup> And he who is speaking with me had a golden reed, that he may measure the city, and its gates, and its wall;

<sup>16</sup> and the city lieth square, and the length of it is as great as the breadth; and he did measure the city with the reed – furlongs twelve thousand; the length, and the breadth, and the height, of it are equal;

<sup>17</sup> and he measured its wall, an hundred forty-four cubits, the measure of a man, that is, of the messenger;

<sup>18</sup> and the building of its wall was jasper, and the city [is] pure gold – like to pure glass;

<sup>19</sup> and the foundations of the wall of the city with every precious stone have been adorned; the first foundation jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, chalcedony; the fourth, emerald;

<sup>20</sup> the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprasus; the eleventh, jacinth; the twelfth, amethyst.

<sup>21</sup> And the twelve gates [are] twelve pearls, each several one of the gates was of one pearl; and the broad-place of the city [is] pure gold — as transparent glass.

<sup>22</sup> And a sanctuary I did not see in it, for the Lord God, the Almighty, is its sanctuary, and the Lamb,

<sup>23</sup> and the city hath no need of the sun, nor of the moon, that they may shine in it; for the glory of God did lighten it, and the lamp of it [is] the Lamb;

<sup>24</sup> and the nations of the saved in its light shall walk, and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it,

<sup>25</sup> and its gates shall not at all be shut by day, for night shall not be there;

<sup>26</sup> and they shall bring the glory and the honour of the nations into it;

<sup>27</sup> and there may not at all enter into it any thing defiling and doing abomination, and a lie, but — those written in the scroll of the life of the Lamb.

22

<sup>1</sup> And he shewed me a pure river of water of life, bright as crystal, going forth out of the throne of God and of the Lamb:

<sup>2</sup> in the midst of its broad place, and of the river on this side and on that, [is] a tree of life, yielding twelve fruits, in each several month rendering its fruits, and the leaves of the tree [are] for the service of the nations;

<sup>3</sup> and any curse there shall not be any more, and the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it, and His servants shall serve Him,

<sup>5</sup> and night shall not be there, and they have no need of a lamp and light of a sun, because the Lord God doth give them light, and they shall reign — to the ages of the ages.

<sup>6</sup> And he said to me, 'These words [are] stedfast and true, and the Lord God of the holy prophets did send His messenger to shew to His servants the things that it behoveth to come quickly:

<sup>7</sup> Lo, I come quickly; happy [is] he who is keeping the words of the prophecy of this scroll.'

<sup>8</sup> And I, John, am he who is seeing these things and hearing, and when I heard and beheld, I fell down to bow before the feet of the messenger who is shewing me these things;

<sup>9</sup> and he saith to me, 'See — not; for fellow-servant of thee am I, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of those keeping the words of this scroll; before God bow.'

<sup>10</sup> And he saith to me, 'Thou mayest not seal the words of the prophecy of this scroll, because the time is nigh;

<sup>11</sup> he who is unrighteous — let him be unrighteous still, and he who is filthy — let him be filthy still, and he who is righteous — let him be declared righteous still, and he who is sanctified — let him be sanctified still:

<sup>12</sup> And lo, I come quickly, and my reward [is] with me, to render to each as his work shall be;

<sup>13</sup> I am the Alpha and the Omega — the Beginning and End — the First and the Last.

<sup>14</sup> 'Happy are those doing His commands that the authority shall be theirs unto the tree of the life, and by the gates they may enter into the city;

<sup>15</sup> and without [are] the dogs, and the sorcerers, and the whoremongers, and the murderers, and the idolaters, and every one who is loving and is doing a lie.

<sup>16</sup> 'I, Jesus did send my messenger to testify to you these things concerning the assemblies; I am the root and the offspring of David, the bright and morning star!

<sup>17</sup> And the Spirit and the Bride say, Come; and he who is hearing — let him say, Come; and he who is thirsting — let him come; and he who is willing — let him take the water of life freely.

<sup>18</sup> 'For I testify to every one hearing the words of the prophecy of this scroll, if any one may add unto these, God shall add to him the plagues that have been written in this scroll,

<sup>19</sup> and if any one may take away from the words of the scroll of this prophecy, God shall take away his part from the scroll of the life, and out of the holy city, and the things that have been written in this scroll;'

<sup>20</sup> he saith — who is testifying these things — 'Yes, I come quickly!' Amen! Yes, be coming, Lord Jesus!

<sup>21</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ [is] with you all. Amen.
